Irrigation Loans Available From County FHA

Water facility irrigation loans are available to Collingsworth County farmers through the Farmers Home Administration, Arrell Cummings, supervisor for Collingsworth, Childress and Cottle counties, reminded this week.

Collingsworth is one of 44 counties included in the High Plains Irrigation District.

The loans are available to farmers who can establish that they have enough water for irrigation purposes, 500 gallons per minute, and who cannot get financing for drilling and equipping the well from private sources.

These loans draw three per cent interest. They are scheduled for repayment within the shortest period of time consistent with the ability to repay as reflected by the annual and long-time farm plans, Mr. Cummings said. No loan can be made for a period which exceeds the useful life of either the facility or the security property, and in no case will it exceed 20 years from the date of the loan.

The loan is available for drilling the well, completing the installation of the pump and other equipment, and whatever is needed to level the land. This is only in case the landowner gets water in sufficient amount to irrigate. No credit will be extended if he drills and fails to get water.

By October, 1952, enough inquiries had been made to Mr. Cummings for financial assistance that a report was submitted to the state FHA office. This report was prepared with the assistance of the Soil Conservation Service, the Extension Service and the PMA office.

The local FHA office was notified March 30, 1953, that loans could be made for pump irrigation. In the early spring, a survey was made by representatives from the state office as to the availability of water in irrigation quantities. This was centered around Wellington, to the north and northwest of town, and southeast toward Dodson. The survey did not extend north of Salt Fork River since there are no wells of sufficient depth in that area by which to judge irrigation possibilities.

Orr Injures Knee in Football Practice

Vesta Lee Orr, freshman at Southwestern State College, Weatherford, Okla., and a member of the football team, received an injured knee during football practice recently.

Although the injury is not regarded as serious, a member of the family said he will not play again this season. Doctors found the cartilage in his knee injured, and Orr will undergo an operation for this later. He is now on crutches.

Orr was here during the week end to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. K. Orr Sr. of the Shinnery community.

He is studying television and radio engineering.

Rains up to Three Inches Falls in Part of County

Rain, falling principally in the southern and eastern parts of the county, varied up to three inches Saturday, October 3, but giving the western and northern sections only showers and light rainfall.

The government rain gauge in Wellington measured 2.41 inches, according to J. H. Williams.

Approximately two and a half inches was reported at Dodson, but west of town it was even heavier, according to Floyd Teutsch of the First State Bank.

In the Loco area, two and a half and three inch measurements were also reported.

West of Wellington the rain got considerably lighter. Shelton Nunneley at Crossroads got .7, and at Quail only a shower fell, according to Mrs. Tom Crabtree.

Samnorwood measured only .3 of an inch, Mrs. Cecil Brown reported. The fall was still lighter in the Dozier area, but around Lutie, and nearer Salt Fork river, the rain grew heavier.

While this moisture is too late to help the cotton and all except possibly a small amount of late feed, it is of unestimated benefit to the wheat that has been dusted in. A surprising amount of this wheat has already come through the ground, and the rain will be ideal for the remainder already planted. It also put wheat land in the south and east part of the county in good shape for planting.

The orchestra will play popular music altogether.

The members practice each Monday, but it will be several weeks yet before the orchestra will accept engagements, Mr. Goodloe said.

School Tax Rate Cut 10¢ on $100 Valuation

The Wellington School Board in a recent meeting lowered the tax rate for the Wellington Independent School District from $1.50 to $1.40 per $100 valuation, Supt. C. T. Roberts announced Tuesday, October 6.

In the same meeting Dr. Dale Watkins was appointed to the board to take the place of Harold Drummond, who recently moved to Midland.

The Board also decided to transport by school bus children who live one and one-half miles and more from school by school bus. Previously, a child had to live at least two miles from school before he could ride the bus.

The school district valuation for taxing purposes is $6,475,881, Mr. Roberts said. The cut in the tax rate came after it was found that the $218,000 could be raised and even exceeded by $1,000 at the $1.40 cent rate.

Mr. Roberts pointed out, however, that it will take almost 100 per cent collection of taxes to maintain this new rate and keep the school from going in the red.

Only a portion of the $218,000 budget is raised by taxes paid by district property owners. This local money accounts for only $576,434. The remaining $141,566 comes almost altogether from state funds. Approximately $5,000 comes from the county's available fund and another $3,000 from the federal government for the school cafeteria fund.

Starting figures on the cost of educating Wellington district children were brought out by Mr. Roberts Tuesday.

"We have almost 1,000 students, and when you consider the $218, 000 budget, that means it is costing only $218 per pupil for the entire year. Going further, there are 180 school days, and that means it costs only $1.21 per day to educate your child, or 20 cents an hour — considerably less than the cost of a baby sitter," Mr. Roberts pointed out.

The $218,000 budget figure includes not only current expenses, but the funds required to pay interest on the bonded indebtedness, etc.

Members of the school board, in addition to Dr. Watkins, include Velman Warrick, president; Barney Glenn, secretary; and Jim Wood, Drury Lacy, Frank Campbell and Granville Clark.

Mrs. J. T. Pate, Longtime Resident, Dies Wednesday

Mrs. J. T. Pate, a resident of this county 44 years, most of it spent in the Quail community, died in St. Joseph's Hospital Wednesday night, September 30, at 11:30 o'clock. She had suffered from a heart ailment for about a year, and was seriously ill and hospitalized for a number of weeks.

Funeral services were conducted at the Kelso Funeral Chapel Friday afternoon at 2:00 p.m., with the Rev. J. F. Michael, pastor of the First Methodist Church officiating. Pall bearers were W. C. Starr, Carroll Blewins, Alex Shields, Warren Carter, Guy Bell and John Forbis.

Burial was in the family lot of the Wellington cemetery, under the direction of the Kelso Funeral Home.

Mrs. Pate was born Fannie Brown at Roanoke, Alabama, June 2, 1874, and at the time of her death she was 79 years, three months and 28 days of age.

She grew up in Alabama, and was married at Roanoke to J. T. Pate on November 24, 1891. In

SCOUT TROOP 32 REACTIVATED BY AMERICAN LEGION

The Frank King Post of the American Legion is taking over the sponsorship of Boy Scout Troop 31, now inactive, Paul Spillman, post commander, has announced.

Jake Leach has been named Scoutmaster; E. W. Clement and Stanley Brooks assistants. The Scout committee is composed of the Rev. Stanley Letcher, chairman, David Robinson, vice-chairman, Judge Raymond Horton and James McClellan. John Coleman, himself an Eagle Scout, will be the institutional representative.

Re-organization of this troop became necessary with increased interest in Boy Scouting, and with the success of the annual Fall Roundup, now in progress here. The boys will be enrolled at Maverick Night Thursday, October 8, Mr. Spillman said.

About 20 boys are expected to enroll at that time.

Emergency Feed Applications In PMA Office

Application forms for receiving emergency feed are now in the county PMA office, Millard Brown, secretary, said Wednesday, and applications are being taken.

The new application form is a modification of the old form, but Mr. Brown said that more strictness will be required which will eliminate some applicants.

Basic foundation herds for which feed is available are defined as cows, bulls, nursing calves and such heifers as may be kept to replace over-age and other undesirable cattle culled from herds.

A farmer or rancher will not be eligible to receive feed under this program unless it appears that he is not in a financial position to buy at prevailing market prices through the probable duration of the drought emergency period the feed necessary for his basic foundation herd and still have reasonable chance to stay in the livestock business.

The county USDA Drought Committee's personal knowledge of and general understanding of the local situation will largely determine eligibility.

Farm Bureau Members Pass Five Resolutions

Farm Bureau members, in a meeting Tuesday night, October 6, passed five resolutions concerning price controls on cattle, cotton allotments and natural resource pricing and taxing, Riley Dunson, service manager for the county unit, said Wednesday morning.

These resolutions concerned:

1. As to price controls on cattle, that a floor be placed under beef in line with other commodities.
2. That S. E. Brown be invited to the State Convention.
3. That the allotment on cotton be based on the per cent of cultivation and in non-allotted acres.
4. That there be a minimum price on natural resources.
5. Tax natural resources for the benefit of roads and teachers.

There will be a meeting of membership drive workers at Ellison Park Tuesday night, October 13, Mr. Dunson said.

Petition Asks City to Acquire Gas Property

A petition, bearing 290 signatures, asking that the City of Wellington exercise its right of eminent domain, condemn and purchase the gas distributing facilities of the Lone Star Gas Company here was presented the City Council in its meeting Tuesday night, October 6. The petition also requested that the city call an election to issue revenue bonds to pay for the property.

The "second" reading of Lone Star's request for rate increase, scheduled for this meeting, was not made, but it was pointed out by Mayor Lester Hunter that the request was not tabled. The Council asked that those submitting the new petition also submit a brief showing the legality of their request.

A number of legal angles are involved in the petition asking the city to condemn and buy the Lone Star distributing system, Paul Spillman, city attorney, said, and these are being studied this week.

While 290 names were on the petition presented, it will be necessary for the city secretary to certify as to the eligibility of the signatures on it.

The petition submitted reads as follows:

We the undersigned tax-paying gas-consuming citizens of the City of Wellington, Texas, hereby earnestly petition our Honorable City Council of Wellington, Texas, to invoke the City Right of Eminent Domain, provided for in Article 1109b of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, to condemn, purchase, and appropriate as public property the gas distribution facilities of the Lone Star Gas Company in the City of Wellington, and we hereby ask our City Council to immediately file application for condemnation, pass a resolution invoking eminent domain, appoint condemnation commissioners, serve notice of hearing on the owners of the Lone Star Gas Company, and let this petition serve as the authority for calling an election to issue revenue bonds to pay the commissioners award for all such condemned property.

"There is a question as to whether the City Council can legally do what it has been requested to do by the petitioners," Mr. Spillman said.

Both Mayor Hunter and Mr. Spillman said the council made clear Tuesday night that it will cooperate in any manner, but that any steps taken must be taken legally.

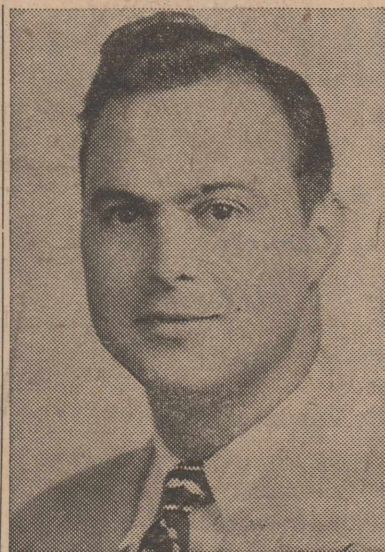

Turning to the bond election portion of the petition, Mr. Spillman pointed out that when signers of the petition asked for the condemning and purchasing of the gas property, they also asked that the city council call the Revenue Bond election. Revenue bonds, it was explained, are self liquidating and do not involve an increase in tax rate.

Mr. Spillman also said that the question was brought up as to a source of supply of gas should the city take over the operation of the property.

Representing the Lone Star Gas Company at the council meeting were Judge Fillmore of Wichita Falls, attorney for the company; Harry King of Childress, district manager; and D. C. McKinney, local manager.

City officials present were Mayor Hunter, City Manager Bura Handley, Mr. Spillman, and councilmen Luther Sullivan, Joe Terry, Jones Singley and Jack Brisbin. The other council member, Dr. Tom Hunter, is in Chicago attending the meeting of the American College of Surgeons.

Others present were J. W. Holders, Morris Wells, Judge R. L. Templeton, Alvis Derryberry and Art Bickerstaff.

Butch, accompanied him to Oklahoma City.

Rockets Meet Fighting Electra Tigers Friday

By DON SCOTT

Wellington and Electra high school football teams will meet here at Wellington Friday night in the Skyrockets' first district game of the season. The Rockets held an unbeaten record until last week when mighty Phillips defeated them 39-0. The Electra 11 also had an unbeaten season until last Friday when Jacksboro squeezed by 13-6.

The Wellington Skyrockets will have a slight edge over the Electra Tigers in defensive play as Coach Maxey McKnight is working on a new set-up, but the Tigers, which were said to have a better offense than Jacksboro, will be rated as having the best ball-carrying team. The Rockets will be slightly handicapped because 200 pound Doolen Starkey is out of the line for the next few games with an injured knee. However, Hanes Isaacs, 166-pound replacement for Starkey, gave a good account of himself in the Phillips game. The Electra team is reported to be in top physical condition.

Wellington will use the same straight T formation as the Electra team and the Tigers will have a slightly heavier line than the Rockets, but Wellington will hold a 9-pound advantage over the Tigers in the backfield. Lonnie Woods' hard-running backfield — Dennis Holliman, Odie Hood, and Douglas Duncan, will form a powerful combination Friday night, but the Electra backs, who showed up well in the Jacksboro game, will not be idle.

Try For Another District Crown

TWENTY-FOUR ROCKETTES BEGIN PRACTICE FOR BASKETBALL YEAR

Workouts have begun for the Wellington Rockettes, girls basketball team that for the last two years has brought home the district championship.

Twenty-four girls, seven of them letter players, are working out under Miss Leatrice West, who is in charge of girls physical education at the high school.

The Rockettes had their first scrimmage Monday night, October 5, with the Quail Bobwhites. By agreement, no score was kept on the game.

"Both teams looked good," Miss West said. "We have quite a few freshmen on our team this year — more than usual, and they are doing a good job."

Letter players back are Betty Jo Cagle and Selma Lee McAlister, forwards, and Genevieve Bartlett, Betty Karnes, Sharon Elbert Gibson, Barbara Graves and Patsy Patton, guards. While this leaves the team a little off balance from the standpoint of scoring material, Miss West said that one or more of the freshmen girls give all appearances of developing into good forwards.

Girls on this year's squad include Gwen Burch, Rachel Carter, Cecilia Cartright, Carolyn Coburn, Donnie Jo Cole, Rebecca Cole, Sue Crawford, Barbara Hackler, Nell Hurst, Adell Jerman, Myra June Jones, Sally Jo Murphy, Carolyn Scott, Sandra Smith and Sonja Stall, in addition to the seven letter players.

It Was A Bad Night For the Rockets

Phillips Upsets Rocket Winning Streak 39-0

By DON SCOTT

The Wellington Skyrockets succumbed heartily to the well-advertised power of the Phillips Blackhawks in their non-conference Class AA duel in Wellington Friday evening. The score was 39-0, with the selected warriors from the 66 City on top.

Sports experts had rated Phillips sixth in the area AA clubs on a 2-0-1 record of wins, ties and losses. Wellington stood one notch higher with a 2-1-0 record.

The Blackhawks ran smoothly as a forty dollar watch, while nothing seemed to work for the Rockets. Possibly because they didn't much expect it to, against Phillips' vaunted reputation.

It was a bad night for the Rockets. With Douglas Duncan, Lonnie Wood, Dennis Holliman and Odie Hood they owned a backfield fully equal to the Meek-Bennett-Webb-Miller-Gray combination working for Phillips — except for the spark. Billy Agee, Ed Bawcom, Frank Jones, Ray Wauer, Doolen Starkey, Camal Dakil and others in the Rocket line had all the weight, experience, training and ability that the Blackhawk line displayed, but couldn't overcome the handicap of knowing that nobody expected them to win.

FIRST QUARTER

The first quarter exploded with Phillips receiving the ball on their own 10 and Jimmy Gray hauling it up to the 35. Chuck Bennett had a try at it, but Billy Agee stopped him after a yard gain. Meek went over left tackle for 13 and a first down. With Meek and Gray hitting alternately off left tackle, the Blackhawks moved on down the field, with Rocket Guard Ray Wauer making more than his share of the tackles. On the Rocket 13 the Wellington line froze and Phillips lost the ball on downs. The Rocket Fullback Douglas Duncan made several futile stabs at the Phillips line but was stopped with little or no gain every time. On the fourth down Duncan punted, but Phillips received a penalty on the play that scratched a first down for the Rockets. The Wellington backs took three more tries but couldn't go and Duncan punted to the Blackhawk 30. Wauer got there in time to stop the runner on the 45. Meek took a hand-off over right tackle and was well on his way to pay dirt when Ed Bawcom dragged him down on the Rocket 11. The Wellington line held two plays but gave way to Meek on his third try. He smashed over left guard for the remaining distance and a Phillips touchdown.

The Blackhawk kick carried to the Rocket 35 where Bawcom took the ball but was dropped in his tracks by the Phillips tacklers. Dennis Holliman tried left end and fumbled but the Rockets recovered. After three more tries at the Phillips wall, plus a penalty, Phillips took over on the Rocket 38.

SECOND QUARTER

Jimmy Gray took a pitchout around right end for 4 and Meek carried a straight handoff over left guard for 8 more to the Rocket 26. Jackie Webb made 16 yards in two straight plays. Meek crashed right guard for the necessary 8 steps and Phillips' second marker. The try for extra point failed again. Score: Phillips 12, Wellington 0.

With L. Snyder doing the kicking for the Hawks, the ball sailed to the Rocket 29 where Gary Phillips snagged it and made a driving return to his 44. Duncan ran two plays around the ends that got 3. Hood went off right guard for 6, bringing up fourth and 1. Duncan carried for first down.

The Rockets' luck played out, got a penalty and failed to gain any yardage. Duncan punted. The ball went out on the 50-yard stripe and the Blackhawks started hitting the Rocket line with power plays that picked up 18 yards. A pass to Jackie Webb was good for 32 yards for a third touchdown. Meek converted and the score stood 19-0.

Phillips' kick went to the Wellington 25 where Gary Phillips took it and travelled downfield to his 38 for his second good return. Duncan took the ball over right guard for 2. Holliman lost 1 on a fumble. A pass to Bawcom was incomplete and Duncan punted to the Blackhawk where the ball was allowed to die.

Ray Wauer stopped what promised to be another long run by Meek and held him to 11 yards. Webb tried left tackle, where he was stopped cold by Camal Dakil and Ed Bawcom. Jimmy Gray tried right end and lost the encounter with Billy Agee for no gain. Wellington received a 15-yard penalty which moved the ball to the 30-yard stripe. Gray took a pitchout around right end for 4 before Agee and Duncan could snag him. After attempting one pass, Quarterback Terry Miller gave the ball to Meek, who carried to the 20. On the next play, Meek again carried and barreled through left guard to put the cap on a 68-yard drive. Meek kicked the extra point for a 26-0 lead over the Rockets.

The kick was received by Duncan on his own 10 and he threaded his way back to the 25. With Quarterback Lonnie Woods working against the clock near the end of the second quarter, three pass attempts fell incomplete and Duncan kicked to the Phillips 40. Don Smith picked up the ball but made only 5 to the Blackhawk 45.

Terry Miller got it off offense clicking again and with his backs making a succession of quick short-gain plays, drove to the Rocket 10, where he and Don Smith got together and completed a pass that netted the Hawks another touchdown. Meek converted. Score 33-0.

THIRD QUARTER

Snyder kicked off for Phillips to start the second half of play. Dennis Holliman, Wellington halfback, took the ball on his 11 and carried to the 30. Holliman picked up 2 more on an end run. Duncan went through center for 4. Hood went for 3 on a quick opener and Duncan bucked the line for another yard to a first down. On the first play Duncan headed around end but dropped the ball 5 yards behind the line of scrimmage and Lonnie Woods recovered. Hood and Duncan combined forces to pick up 10 but there was still 5 to go on the fourth down, and Duncan kicked. The ball rolled dead on the Hawks' 40. Phillips suffered their first minor misfortune and received a 5-yard penalty. Meek fumbled and lost 2, putting the oval on their 33. Meek tried twice more only to be stopped by Dakil and Jones. Phillips kicked for the first time in the game, the ball going into the end zone.

Duncan charged left end from his 20 and was thrown for a 3-yard loss. Hood and Duncan made 8 yards in two more tries and Lonnie Woods ordered a kick. The ball was taken on the Blackhawk 45 by Chuck Bennett who lost 2 more in a deluge of Rocket's tacklers. Meek, going over center, regained the distance before Agee put the finger on him.

On a pitchout, Chuck Bennett went for 5 yards. Meek, over right guard, picked up 3. Jackie Webb bucked over right tackle and was stopped by Frank Jones 2 yards later after gaining a first down. Terry Miller faded back for a pass and Ray Wauer sneaked through the Blackhawk bodyguards and nailed him 10 yards behind the line. On the Phillips 45, Wauer again came trough to turn a snap-py reverse into a 1-yard loss. The Hawks kicked. The punt went out of bounds on the Rocket 11.

Hood tried left end and picked up 3. Lonnie Woods gave the ball to Duncan who fumbled and Phillips recovered.

From the Rocket 20, Jackie Webb skirted left end and picked up 11. Meek hit the line but failed to get more than a short yard. Miller faded back to pass and Ray Wauer broke through to make the tackle for no gain.

FOURTH QUARTER

The Blackhawks, now on the Rocket 8, carried to the 2 by B. Counts. Terry Miller threw a short pass to Don Smith who juggled it in the end zone but held on to give

Crossroads Report

Dear Mr. Ike:

Been reading where four congressmen have took off for Europe to study about immigration. The article I read didn't say anything about what angle of immigration they were going to study, or why studying about it in Europe is any more likely to be bringing up a solution to whatever the problem is than studying about it at home.

There wasn't even any evidence that these four was a particular high grade of students, but then I guess they will get plenty of help from the immigrants they will meet on the Queen Mary going over and coming back, and which they will run into at the embassy dinners and such places.

If the government ever runs short of congressman to send off on these studying trips, I would like to offer my services on account of I believe I could save the taxpayers some money. I could study on practically any subject while camped up alongside some good mountain trout stream here in the U. S., just as well as I could over in Europe, and in order to make the proposition more attractive to the government from a financial standpoint, I would agree to furnish my own thought stimulant.

News Letter

From Congressman WALTER ROGERS

There are several controversial matters getting quite a bit of attention in Washington at the moment. Probably the two important ones, or that it, the ones receiving the most attention, are the sales tax issue and the recent appointment of Governor Warren to the Supreme Court.

SALES TAX ISSUE: The President, at his recent news conference, appeared to be unqualifiedly opposed to a retail sales tax collectible at the retail level. I think the great majority of the Congress is in wholehearted accord with the President's position on this particular matter. However, there is a sharp difference of opinion with regard to the so-called "manufacturers tax." This is actually a sales tax under an assumed name. The only difference is in the method of collection. If a federal retail sales tax, collectible on the retail level, was enforced, it would simply mean that the tax would be collected over and above the advertised price of the product. In other words, if a loaf of bread sold for twenty cents and a retail sales tax of five per cent was in effect, the grocer would sell you the bread for twenty cents and charge you one cent sales tax before he delivered you the bread. If the tax was put on at the manufacturers level, it would simply mean that the government would figure out the tax and charge the baker who produced the loaf of bread so much for each loaf of bread that he sold. This would mean that, instead of the loaf of bread costing you twenty cents at the grocery store and your having to pay an additional one cent extra tax, you would simply pay twenty-one cents for the loaf of bread and that would be the advertised price for it. The truth is that a federal retail sales tax collected at the retail level would be utter folly. The cost of administering and policing such a program would be almost prohibitive. The most practical and the least expensive method of collecting a federal sales tax would be to levy and collect the tax at the source of the product to be taxed. This would not only save millions and millions of dollars in the administration of such a program and in the policing thereof, but it would put a stop to many, many loopholes and practices that could be indulged in by those who wanted to escape or dodge such tax. The presence of such loopholes in such a program would simply mean that the taxpayers would again get it in the neck insofar as expenses were concerned because many people would be arrested for violation and tax evasion and the costs of trying these cases and in getting them ready for trial would run into millions. State and municipal retail sales levies must be collected at the retail level, simply because many of the products sold, or we could say, most of them sold, at retail are not manufactured in the state in which they are sold. This would not be true insofar as a federal retail sales tax is concerned, because all of the particles that are sold over the counters in the United States are manufactured here with the exception of those goods that are imported. This would not create any problem, because all imports are of record anyway and such a tax could be levied and collected from the importers.

I want it definitely understood that I am opposed to a federal retail sales tax, whether it is put on to be collected at the retail level or at the manufacturers' level. The people of Texas have long opposed sales taxes and have been successful in their fight against this type of tax, both in the Texas Legislature and in the several municipalities. Therefore, I will say that I sincerely hope that a sales tax, either under its real or an assumed name, does not pass the Congress. I shall certainly do all in my power to prevent this additional levy being placed on the backs of the American taxpayers, regardless of what it is called.

The Supreme Court Appointment: Although most of the people here feel that the appointment of Governor Warren of California as the new Chief Justice of the Supreme Court is a very fine appointment and will prove itself when the record is written, it has been very interesting to read the comments of the different columnists and the editorial writers in the papers in this section of the country. On October 1 the Washington Post printed a two-column editorial concerning the appointment. This editorial would appear to be most complimentary of Governor Warren and his appointment. However, there are two sentences in the editorial that struck me as very interesting. I quote you these sentences. "He is a man of sound judgment, with little partisanship in his make-up. His middle of the road political philosophy and his liberal attitude toward civil rights, as indicated by his successful fight to remove the detested loyalty oath required of teachers by the University of California, had a special appeal for Eisenhower."

It had been my sincere hope that the vacancy on the Supreme Court would be filled by the appointment of some outstanding jurist, wholly disconnected with politics, and of which we have many in this country. I have long deplored the appointment of political figures to the Supreme Court. This has been going on for many, many years. In fact, before the turn of the century. The three pillars or branches upon which our government rests are the legislative branch, the executive branch and the judicial branch. The judicial branch in the federal make-up is supposed to be the balance-wheel. In order to support and fulfill the responsibilities incident to such status, it has always been my philosophy that the judicial branch of the government should be above, beyond and completely apart from the other two branches. I do not criticize any of those who have received appointments to the high courts of this land because they might have been political figures, but it is well to remember that an appointment to most of the high courts is a lifetime appointment, and the removal of a judge from the bench is almost an impossibility. Governor Warren has my best wishes for a successful career that will exemplify strict adherence to the Constitution and laws of the United States of America.

Mrs. E. T. Johnson has returned to her home here after spending the summer months with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Brackett in Grand Valley, Colorado.

FIRECRACKERS TAKE LONG END OF 51-6 SCORE FROM MEMPHIS B TEAM

By DON SCOTT
The Wellington B Firecrackers took the long end of a 51-6 score from the Memphis B team on Powell field Thursday night. Wellington's Halfback Maxey Tarver made three of the eight touchdowns. Halfback Phillip Cobb scored once and Fullback Teddy Stansbury racked up one of the markers. Halfback Charles Gibson got pay dirt once, and End Bobby Davis, who scored the only time against Vernon last week, took two passes from Duggie Jameson for touchdowns. The three extra points were made on power plays. Memphis' only score was made on a long pass to a nimble end. The try for extra point was no good.

Gus Drake, Maxey Tarver and Billy Pat Swift were the main obstacles encountered by the Memphis team in getting their plays to work. Every member of the Wellington squad played liberally in the game.

The Wellington B team has played only one other game this season. The Vernon B squad — a much stronger team than Memphis fielded — took the Firecrackers to a 39-8 cleaning last week. The Memphis team has played two other games. They lost to Hollis and to Childress.

The Firecrackers will play the Childress Bobcats B string next week.

The Phillips kick-off went to the 35 yard line and Lonnie Woods was steam-rollered back to the 26 by the charging Hawks. Duncan scooted around left end for 14. Holliman picked up 1 through the middle, putting the ball on the Phillips 41. Hood, on a hand-off around right end, picked up 4 yards and Holliman went around right end for 15 to put the ball on the Hawks 30.

Duncan, on a pitchout around son. The Vernon B squad — a right end, lost 2 yards. Lonnie Woods threw a pass intended for Holliman and L. Lane of Phillips plucked it out of the air. The Hawks started rolling again, with B. Counts going for 6 before he was introduced to Wauer. A pass to L. Snyder clicked for 29 yards and the ball was on the Rocket 35. Ben White made 7 around left end and another pass to L. Snyder was good for 6 on the Rocket 22. L. Lane tried the Wellington line but got nowhere. B. Counts made 9 yards on a handoff. On the next play the Hawks fumbled on the Rocket 16 and the Wellington team recovered.

Duncan made two, and Hood went for 2 more. Lonnie Woods tried a pass which was incomplete and the Rockets had to kick from their 25 after the Hawks took a 5-yard penalty. The punt carried to the Phillips 45 where it was covered.

B. Counts took a pitchout around right end and picked up 3, then lost 1 trying the same play again. A reverse around left end got 3 before Wauer could get it figured. A 5-yard penalty forced the Hawks to punt. The ball rolled dead on the Rocket 30.

Duncan lost 5 on a pitchout and then gained 8 on the same play. Lonnie Woods tried a pass which was incomplete as the game ended. Score: Phillips 39; Wellington 0. STATISTICS reaching back six years has had an average yield of 29.1 bushels of threshed cleaned seed per acre.

In the grass breeding program, the visitors saw a new variety of switch grass, a selected strain of sand blue stem, and a selected strain of side oats gramma. They saw experiments in which workers at that station are trying to breed winter hardiness into blue panic grass, as winter-kill is one of the most serious drawbacks to that grass here.

At the grass breeding nursery, they saw work being done with grasses brought from all over the world. Improvement work is also under way on buffalo or mesquite grass, sand blue stem and Indian grass.

At the 4,300 acre ranch, they saw the grazing management program, where workers are trying to improve range grasses and to develop superior grazing practices. Included on the ranch was a plot of reseeded sand love grass, an area sprayed by airplane for sage control, and other areas where sage had been controlled by mowing.

The results of overgrazing, moderate grazing and light grazing were seen.

"Of ten reseeded pastures we visited, they seemed to be getting the highest gain per head in the feeding program with sand love grass," Mr. Smythes said.

Steer calves started on this grass in the fall double their weight in less than a year, or a gain of an average of 415 pounds. The gain per acre is two and one-half times as much as for steers on adjacent native range, the men reported.

This experiment was of particular interest since sand love grass is well adapted to this area.

SCOTT FARMALL TRACTORS INTERNATIONAL TRUCKS TRUCK & TRACTOR CO. Wellington, Texas

Lewis Morris has his oldest Farmall M in the shop for rejuvenation. This tractor has just finished six years without having the head off. Lewis bought a new Super M last winter.

George Creed, Jr. has a new McCormick broadcast binder bought here a couple of weeks ago. He probably could be induced to do some custom cutting.

I've got a couple of brand new McCormick grain drills, latest model with low wheels. Make me an offer. I might take it.

A. V. Cocke had us bring in his Farmall H for overhaul and tuning up the first of the week. It's an old tractor, but old Farmalls are like old farmers. Sometimes they will work harder than young ones.

Brand new International 2-ton truck, 1952 model but never licensed. Long wheelbase and 2-speed rear axle. I am getting tired of looking at it. Drive it off for $1695.

Lee Roark, G. E. Rippetoe and two or three others are still wrestling with binders. J. L. O'Hair got a twine knife for his old McCormick one-row, and that is the only part he has bought for it this year.

A practically new Model C Farmall — less than 100 hours running time on it — with brand new lister, planter and cultivator. $1300 will buy this rig so quick you will be sorry you didn't offer a little less.

Clinton Childress, A. L. Elliott several others with trucks in the shop the last few days. Wood Coleman even bought his pickup radio in for overhaul. And Buck Breeding brought his Farmall generator for checkup.

International A1 cotton strippers will do the best job on rank cotton or the small, skippy stuff. You can save plenty with any stripper, but you can save more with an International.

Don't tell International, but I am closing out of the refrigerator business. One 9-foot '52 model, and one 8½-foot 1953 model. You can take me for a few bucks on either one of these.

Norwood Seniors Pull Cotton

By MRS. NATHAN THOMPSON

Cotton pulling is the order of the day in the Samnorwood community. We are surely in need of more hands to help gather the cotton. The Samnorwood senior class pulled cotton for Raymond Ledbetter last Wednesday, making an all-day event of it.

Two of the class mothers, Mrs. Tom Cunningham and Mrs. Buck Martindale, served lunch at the noon hour.

Pulling cotton were Ray Newkirk, Kay Newkirk, Janis Oldham, Shirley Montgomery, Bob Baxter, Jerry Martindale, Tom Whitson, Troy Ledbetter, Malcolm Phipps, Sue Pritchard, George Cunningham, and Shirley Jean Brown.

Jess Davis and Bing Crosby from West Texas State at Denton were here for the week end visiting with parents and relatives.

Jannine Crawford, a freshman student at Bethany College, Bethany, Oklahoma, was home for the week end.

Fire Is A Local Problem

Fire Prevention Week is another of those worthy observances that should be extended around the entire year in the minds of every person.

Wellington is singularly fortunate in its outstanding volunteer fire department, an organization of men who donate their time and their work and their loyalty and consider it as nothing more than their civic duty. Any person has had intimate contact with fire in its destructive aspects knows how much in dollars and cents this organization of less than two dozen men, under their capable chief, Bura Handley, means to Wellington each year.

Looking at fire from a state-wide angle, some Texan loses his home in a fire every 65 minutes around the clock. By the end of 1953, about 8,000 Texans will have watched their homes go up in smoke.

These figures are based on figures the Texas Insurance Advisory Association has compiled over the last 20 years.

Unless Texans reverse the trend through more attention to fire prevention, by the year's end, some 97 Texas schools will burn, 88 churches will be fire casualties and 16 hospitals, 160 hotels, 25 theatres and 35 lumber yards will have serious fire losses.

The greatest toll, however, is homes. Three out of every four fires involves somebody's home.

As usual, matches and smoking will be the primary causes, with misuse of electricity ranking a close second. These three are responsible for almost half of all fires occurring in Texas each year, figures kept by the Association show.

Texas farmers could add as much as $5,000,000 to their annual gross income by reducing fire losses, an Austin insurance executive says.

Norris W. Parker, manager of the Texas Insurance Advisory Association, a trade association which compiles statistics on fire losses, said that fires in 1952 destroyed at least $5,000,000 worth of farm buildings and crops. The figures for 1953 may be even higher unless something is done to reduce farm fires.

Nationally, the picture is even worse. Fires across the nation last year cost farmers $100,000,000.

Three safeguards are suggested by Mr. Parker to help reduce farm fires:

1. Use care and forethought in the construction, maintenance and use of all farm property with a view to eliminating all needless fire danger;

2. Equip farm homes and outbuildings with simple fire-extinguishing equipment to enable individuals to extinguish fires before they reach the serious stage;

3. Organize farm community fire-fighting brigades equipped with more effective equipment than an individual farmer can afford to fight larger fires.

OTHER EDITORS SAY

A Note Of Realism

Samuel C. Waugh, Assistant Secretary of State for Economic Affairs, has introduced a notable change of key in the current talk about Russia.

In the midst of the somewhat effervescent chorus of opinion that the Soviet empire is bursting at the seams or "about to crack up", Mr. Waugh points out that she made a "remarkable and disheartening" economic recovery since the war.

He goes on to predict that if the rate of increase in production of coal, steel, oil and electricity continues, Russia's economic strength very probably will surpass that of Western Europe some-times in the 1960's.

Mr. Waugh concludes that this country is comforted by a "growing potential of economic power, much of which can be devoted, as the Soviet rulers wish, to aggressive adventures."

By no means does the Assistant Secretary intend to say the outlook is hopeless. His remarks were meant to underscore the need for closer relationships between the free nations of the world, and for continuing the economic programs designed to support those relationships.

It seems hardly necessary to point out that Mr. Waugh's realistic estimate of the Soviet potential and his proposals as to how it should be met, provide for safer guidance to world peace than the temptation to relax which the forecasts of Soviet collapse promote. All of us can recall that similar forecasts dotted the history of the Hitler regime, failing to come true with dismal regularity.

Bible Comment
For October 11Bible Reflects Faith
For Atomic Age

In the world of the atomic bomb we know that a peril of dire destruction has settled down on peaceful communities that hitherto had little to fear.

Vast cities might be wiped out with little recovery or survival.

That, in a way, was precisely the situation of the man of faith who wrote the 46th Psalm.

The idea of an atomic bomb was many centuries away, but very similar, and perhaps even more real than ours, was the danger constantly besetting persons living in that little land of Palestine.

For that land was situated between the great ancient empires warring for conquest and world mastery. Again and again it was overrun, its people destroyed, dispersed or carried into exile. The Northern Kingdom was shattered beyond restoration.

It was, therefore, no merely poetical sentiment when the psalmist wrote: "God is our refuge and strength; therefore will not we fear," and went on to declare his courage of faith, though his whole world should be destroyed.

If we turn to the conclusion of Romans: 8, we find a list compiled by Paul. He lists first of all the possible experiences of trial and suffering.

Next he lists all possible powers and oracles, and Paul says that none of these things shall be able to separate us from "the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord."

This might be termed the faith of an atomic age. How can we get it? The answer to that is, perhaps, by living with those that have that faith, and, above all, by so living with the Christ of the New Testament that He becomes to us, as He did to Paul, the most secure fact of all life and time.

Castleberry Motor Company Displays New Dodge Luxury Model for 1954

DETROIT, Oct. 7 — Unveiling of a new super deluxe series known as the Royal V-8 will be the highlight of the 1954 Dodge passenger car line when it is introduced in dealers' showrooms across the nation tomorrow (Oct. 8).

As Dodge launches its 40th year with the most luxurious car ever to bear the Dodge name, it also will introduce completely new interior styling, more than a dozen body beautifications and several major engineering advancements in its entire line consisting of 20 different models.

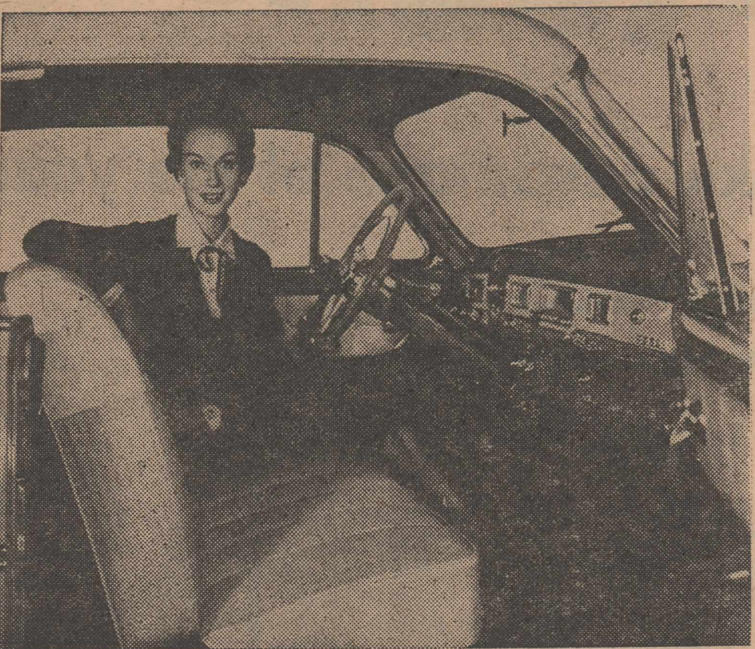

W. C. Newberg, president of Dodge Division of Chrysler Corporation, said the 20 different models are in three series — the new Royal V-8, the Coronet V-8 and Six and the Meadowbrook V-8 and Six. They are being offered in 11 new body colors and 14 two-tone combinations that are keyed to harmonize with the completely new interior styling.

Newberg announced that the 1954 Dodge line also offers such mechanical advancements as the economy-and-endurance tested Red Ram V-8 engine stepped up to 150 h.p. and a 7.5 to 1 compression ratio; PowerFlite, a new fully-automatic transmission; and a new full-time power steering unit. Meadowbrook V-8 models will continue at 140 h.p. The horsepower of the six-cylinder engines has been raised to 110 and the compression ratio to 7.25 to 1.

Although the new Royal V-8 features super deluxe appointments and fittings, Newberg pointed out that the entire 1954 Dodge line is marked by many new styling changes.

On the exterior, a new spear-like chrome moulding accents the low, sweeping lines. Combined with a four-inch increase in the overall length of four-door and club coupe

Dodge Interiors Offer 'Color Harmony'

One of the outstanding features of the new 1954 Dodge is 'color harmony.' Each of eleven different body colors and a wide variety of two-tone combinations are mated with the completely new interior trim. A new luxurious fabric—known as Jacquard—harmonizes with the instrument panel, steering wheel, deep-pile carpeting, garnish moulding and other trim items. Top of instrument panel features a grainy or leather-like finish to reduce glare. Bottom has smooth finish in same color.

models a 1/2 a five-inch increase in the sport coupe and convertible, the new exterior trim lends a smooth, modern look to the entire line.

Other major body changes include the grille design and front end. The new grille is lower, wider and has a more massive appearance. The traditional ram hood ornament has been streamlined, and a distinct, new styling has been given the V-8 crest and chrome-lined air scoop. Headlights have been redesigned and bumper guards have been modified.

In restyling the interiors of the entire line, R. C. Somerville, Dodge vice-president, revealed that his division had contracted for all available mill capacity on a new type of upholstery fabric known as Jacquard.

"Although new to the automotive industry," Somerville said, "Jacquard is a class of exclusive fabrics previously used only for rich tapestries and expensive furniture. We have chosen Jacquard for the 1954 Dodge because it is adaptable to unusual and elaborate patterns that contribute an entirely new feeling to our interiors."

The interior fabrics, named after a special loom and weaving process invented by Joseph Marie Jacquard in 1801, is tightly woven to provide wear resistance. At the same time it enables designers to incorporate double patterns by using a raised nap. Three basic color tones — green, blue and red — are featured in the patterns designed for use on 1954 Dodge models.

As part of the interior styling on the Dodge line, all trim harmonizes with the upholstery colors. Items such as the instrument panel, garnish mouldings, deep-pile carpeting, head lining and steering wheel are finished in the same basic color as the upholstery fabric. In turn, all of the interior color schemes are in harmony with the exterior body colors.

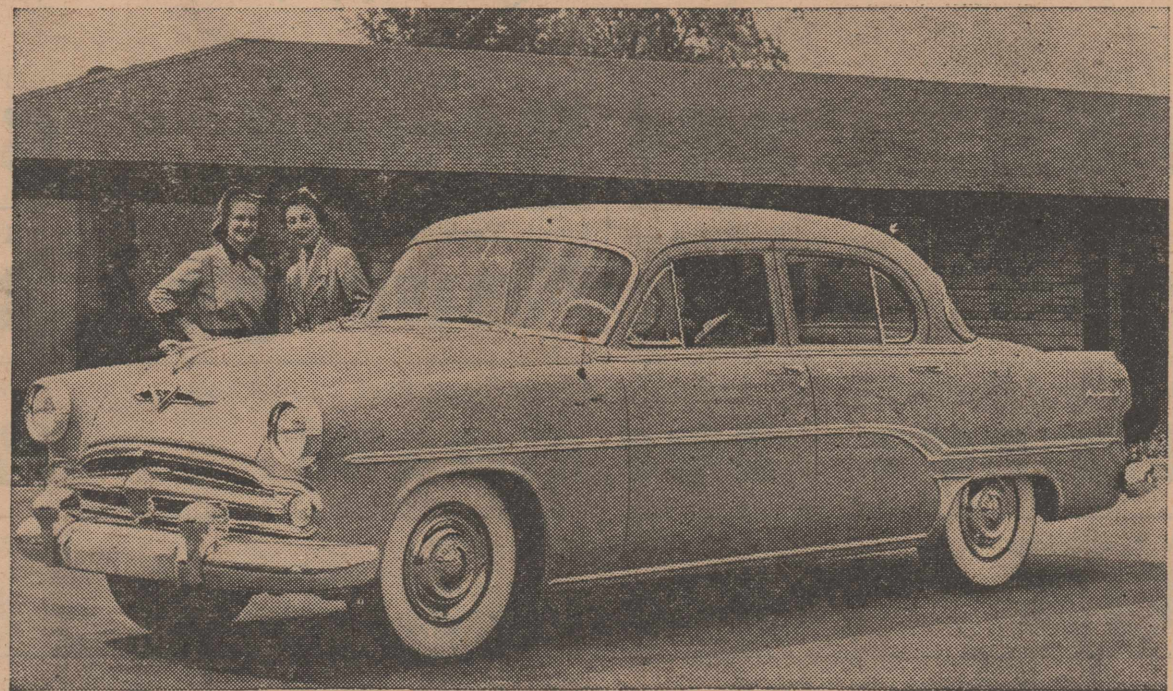

Another interior feature is the instrument panel, which not only is a matching color, but introduces a new automotive finish known as "Leathertex." The top portion of the instrument panel has a grainy or leather-type finish to reduce glare, while the bottom has a soft, smooth finish in the same color.

A new benefit to the driver was described by Somerville as "four-corner contact." He explained it as a feature that allows the average driver to maintain visual contact with all four fender lines.

THE DODGE ROYAL V-8

For 1954

We Take Great Pride in Showing the Finest Dodge in History

Dodge Launches its 40th year with this new super deluxe series.

MECHANICAL ADVANCEMENTS

Featured in the Royal V-8 is the economy-and-endurance tested Red Ram V-8 engine, stepped up to 150 horsepower and a 7.5 to 1 compression ratio. There's Powerflite, a new fully-automatic transmission, and a new full-time power steering unit. On the other models, the Meadowbrook V-8 will continue at 140 h. p., while the horsepower of the six-cylinder engines has been raised to 110 and the compression ratio to 7.25 to 1.

GREATER SAFETY

As always, Dodge stresses those features that mean added safety — for the driver, his passengers, and for other vehicles and pedestrians on the road. This year we stress "four-corner contacts," a feature that allows the average driver to maintain visual contact with all four fender lines. There is the familiar "scat" gear, when at any speed under 55 mph the driver may secure extra acceleration by pushing the accelerator pedal to the floor board, to assure quick, safe passing on the road. A low range is also provided to retain the car in low gear for road conditions such as climbing or descending mountains.

GREATER BEAUTY

The new Royal V-8 features super deluxe appointments and fittings. On the exterior, there is a new spear-like chrome moulding accenting the low, sweeping lines. Other major changes are in the grille design and front end. Beautiful new colors delight the eye. But most of all, there is the new Jacquard upholstery fabric, something new and exclusive to the automotive industry. Everywhere, there is richness of material and color, and high style in the design that is truly meant for today's living.

STRENGTH AND WEAR -- DODGE TRADITIONS

For 40 years, Dodge has been the symbol of long wear and outstanding performance — the car that can take it. Great strength and endurance are still the essential features of the new 1954 Dodge — the real reasons so many drivers return to Dodge each time they buy a new car.
