On The BEAM
By J. W. King, Sr.

I have found out there are a lot of people who have suggestions to make regarding a subject for this column. We are happy about it for we know a few people must read the column.

A lady suggested a while back that we tell the people what a progressive town we have in many ways. The bank, she said, is one of the most progressive in Texas, especially in a small town. Banks in small towns, like so many other business institutions, too many times just don't stay up with the times. Not so in Loraine. The First State Bank aside from doing a bang-up job of taking care of the financial needs of the people of the community provide the employees a pleasant place to work and the customers pleasant surroundings in which to transact their business. Every convenience is offered customers of the bank. Like the lady said you can find many banks in small towns that keep abreast of things as well as does our bank.

Stores in Loraine keep up with the times pretty well too. At least some of them do. You can't find any better stores in any small town anywhere. Many larger towns don't have any better stores than does Loraine. This lady who suggested the subject said she heard a man who has been away from Loraine for a few months say that he was glad to get back where the stores have what he wants. (He spent the time he was away from Loraine in a town just about the size of Loraine).

We could go on and name other places of business here that offer tip-top service in their line. During the years this newspaper has done a good job of telling the world about Loraine stores (in the opinion of this columnist anyway) but the patronage the paper has received from some of them through the years has been pitifully small. Some of our merchants who stay abreast of the times in other respects should know that advertising is what attracts people to other towns to trade. It would attract them here if properly used.

Perhaps we should have left the paragraph above unwritten but we like to think that our newspaper is the best paper published in a small town and we can't understand why so many of our merchants do not advertise at all or do so spasmodically. They have the responsibility of publicizing their own business. If they would use the paper to advertise their goods and services the paper would be better, their business would be better, and the community would be better.

"They know I'm here, so why aren't they buying?" That is the attitude of some merchants. They think because they have been in business here a long time everybody should know what line of business they are in. They are making the mistake of thinking customers are going to look them up and come around whenever they need anything they might have in stock. Well, some customers will. Like the man who lives around the corner or their kinfolk. But most customers can always survive another week without the things they (Loraine merchants) are selling and they are likely to unless they're reminded they have something. Other customers are reminding customers in the Loraine area that they have merchandise to sell (just like the merchandise the Loraine stores have).

The home paper is always ready and willing to boost the home town, including the stores, but it can't do the job alone—it must have the help of the merchants through their advertising.

Barbecue will Climax Farm Tour Over Mitchell County September 6

A joint committee of the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce and the Mitchell County Soil Conservation District has arranged a farm tour to take a look at many Mitchell County farms and conservation projects on Thursday, September 6, according to M. A. Dunnahoo, Chairman of the Board of the Mitchell County Soil Conservation District.

A Loraine school bus will be available for the tour and Loraine people who wish to make the tour may catch the bus here downtown at 8 o'clock Thursday morning in order to get to the Lone Wolf Co-opatorium in time to leave with other buses at 8:30 for a tour of the county.

Attendance is being encouraged by businessmen and farmers alike. Particularly invited are the women of the county who are interested in farming. Businessmen in Loraine, Colorado City and throughout the county are being urged to attend to learn more about the farmers' operations. "One of the best parts of these tours," Dunnahoo said, "is that the business men and farmers get better acquainted and more aware of each other's problems."

A thirty-minute break in the tour will be made in Loraine to give time for a little rest and relaxation. Drinks will be served those on tour by the Loraine Drug. The tour is scheduled to arrive in Loraine about 10 a.m.

Following the tour, the buses will return to the Co-opatorium for a free barbecue sponsored by Loraine and other county merchants. Reservations for the tour and barbecue must be made at the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce office before 5:00 p.m. Tuesday, September 4. Those in the Loraine area who wish to make reservations may call Mahon Feed and Seed and give them the information.

1962-63 School Term Opened With Five Less In High School

Loraine High School opened for the new 1962-63 term Monday morning with an assembly for high school students held in the gymnasium. An appropriate program featuring the high school band under direction of Buck Hughes opened the assembly.

Supt. J. B. Cushing welcomed the students back to school and urged all of them to remain in school until they graduate. He also recognized and introduced the new teachers and visitors, among them Mrs. Bruce Johnson who told of the Stop Polio Campaign in Loraine at the school on Sunday, September 16 from 12 until 6 p.m. She urged all the students and everyone in the community to take the Sabin Oral Vaccine which will be administered at that time. Everyone in the community, she said from 3 months of age up are urged to take the vaccine which will be given free of charge.

Rev. Mack Farrington, pastor of the First Baptist Church gave the invocation. The cheer leaders for the coming football season were introduced and they led the group in a few yells. Mr. Cushing spoke words of praise for the football squad this year and predicted that the team will win the district this year.

Vance Dickenson, principal of the high school, gave instructions to the students before they went to their class rooms to begin class work.

Grade school students went directly to their room and registered for classes which began immediately.

Enrolling in high school opening day were 85 students, six less than on opening day a year ago. In grade school 216 registered which gives the school a total of 301 enrolled.

Mr. Cushing announced that the Board of Trustees is again offering an award of a trophy to the boy and girl in each grade in high school who make the highest grades.

Rain Friday In Parts Of Territory

Heavy rain with some hail raked a portion of the Loraine territory North of town last Friday, the hail doing some damage to cotton. Some fields were ragged up considerably.

One to two inches of rain fell in a strip from Buford to near Wastella. The young cotton in the area will be greatly benefited by the moisture.

A smaller area South and Southeast of town also received rain ranging from .20 to 1 1/2 inches. Hail and high wind also damaged some cotton in a small area.

The entire territory needs a genuine soaker if the cotton crop is to make as much as it looked for a while like it would.

Miss Virginia Templeton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Templeton of Loraine, became the bride of William F. Martin, son of Mrs. Dorothy Martin of Pecos, at 7 o'clock in the evening Friday, August 24, at the First Methodist Church in Loraine.

Rev. Chris Dirbel, pastor of the First Christian Church in Pecos, read the double ring ceremony as the couple stood before an altar flanked by a wrought iron arch entwined with greenery. Two candelabras and two baskets of white gladiolus flanked the arch. Pews were marked with white satin pew bows.

The basque bodice came to a point in the front and back and the scalloped sabrina neckline was accented with sequins. Long fitted sleeves tapered to points over her hands. Her bouffant skirt of tulle was styled with front and back panels of Chantilly lace. The fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from the bride's crown of seed pearls which was centered by a tear drop pearl. Her bouquet of stephanotis centered with a white gamelin was mounted on a white Bible.

Sabin Oral Vaccine Will Be Given In Loraine September 16

The Stop Polio Campaign which has been in and under way in various parts of Texas has reached Mitchell County and the Loraine Community.

The date set for administering the first of three doses to people in the Loraine area is Sunday, September 16. The place Loraine High School and the hours are from 12 noon until 6 p.m.

The doses will be Sabin Oral Vaccine. This vaccine will prevent polio whereas the Salk vaccine only immunizes for paralysis. The vaccine is free and even those who have had the Salk shots are urged to take the Sabin oral vaccine. The campaign is being sponsored by the Colorado Basin Medical Society and though the vaccine is free contributions will be accepted.

Every person in the Loraine area over three months of age is urged to take the Sabin vaccine. This includes Latin Americans and Negroes as well as white persons.

Sponsors of the campaign are anxious that every person take the oral vaccine, for in doing so they will help STOP Polio by not only immunizing, but will also stop the "carriers" of the disease.

On the same day the vaccine will be given in Colorado City in the primary building, Catholic school and Wallace school. In Westbrook at the school and also at the Silver school.

BAND BOOSTERS MEET

The Band Boosters Club met in the school cafeteria Monday night with President Lynn Hamilton in charge.

Plans were made for the years work. The club is again asking for Gold Bond stamps this year. The stamps will be used to purchase an electric roaster for the concession stand. If you have stamps you would like to donate you are asked to please contact some member of the club. They also voted to sell fruit cakes and candy. Contact Mrs. Royce Mahon Dr. Johnson, Lynn Hamilton or some other member and order your Manor fruit cake.

Mr. Hughes reported to the club on his plans for the year. He told of repairs made on band instruments and others that need repairing.

The club voted to pay $5.00 rent per family for band uniforms the money to be used to buy supplies for the concession stand for all home games. It was also voted that each band member must have his suit cleaned and pressed before he turns it in at the close of school. This has been a practice heretofore but somehow it has slipped the minds of some so the club took new action on it.

Mrs. Joe Terry reported the birthday calendars had been received and would go on sale immediately. The calendars are $1 each.

Those who have Gold Bond stamps should get them in as soon as possible so the band can have the roster for this year.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Leach spent Saturday in the home of their son and family Mr. and Mrs. Keith Laseter in Midland.

Today's MEDITATION

The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

Read Luke 24:36-48

Having therefore obtained help of God, I continue unto this day, witnessing both to small and great. (Acts 26:22.)

A young man who worked beside Bob Smith, an inconspicuous office worker, noticed his amazing peace and joy, especially when in most trying and difficult circumstances. He asked him the reason for it. Smith said in reply: "God is my Father, and Jesus Christ is my Savior. Whatever peace and joy I have come to me from God."

The young man was so impressed with this explanation that he changed over to the Christian way of life. Simple words of witness were the underlying cause.

Just before our Lord ascended to the Father, He appointed His disciples as His witnesses. They had known Him and experienced His power in their lives. Experience was the basis of their witness. They went forth to tell others what Christ meant to them and could mean to others.

The Lord who used their witness then to bring many to Himself is doing the same today as we say our simple words to those whom we meet.

Prayer: O God, we thank Thee for the living Christ, who has made us His witnesses. Send us forth with the inspiration that no one's witness for Christ is unimportant. To Thy name's honor and glory for our Redeemer's sake. Amen.

Thought For The Day: With the Holy Spirit to guide us, we can say the right word at the right time to some person.

Gordon Chivers (England)

WIN A SUBSCRIPTION

No one connected with The News in any way is eligible for the prize.

FAMILY REUNION

The annual Cary reunion was held Sunday at Sweetwater Park. Mrs. O. C. Lucas of Loraine, Mrs. Orlean Cook of Westbrook, Mrs. Inez Dearen of Colorado City, and Mrs. J. C. Elrod of Comanche are daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cary.

The group enjoyed visiting and swimming. A basket lunch was served at noon. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Garland Cary, Golda Cary, Don Redwine, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Lucas and Carl, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Lucas and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Phillips, Peggy and Donny, and Bob Furlow of Loraine; Mr. and Mrs. Everett Haggerton and children of China Grove; Mrs. Orlean Cook and Faye of Westbrook; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cook and Jan of Silver; Mr. and Mrs. Arlton Devaney and Cassie of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hardin and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hardin and sons of Snyder; Mr. and Mrs. Toby Dearen and children of Colorado City; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Elrod and Jean and a friend of Comanche. Earl Cook's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bostle of Pasadena, Texas, were guests.

PICTURE IDENTIFIED

Ed Small was the first to get a correct identification of the two men shown in the picture published last week and will receive a one-year subscription to The Mitchell County News. The two men are Dr. Beck and Dr. Coleman.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. McDermott, Mrs. Alva Anthony of Abilene, and Mrs. Flossie Reik of Oklahoma were guests of their daughter and niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Meadows, Thursday.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank my friends, nurses and doctors for being so nice to me while I was in the hospital. Mrs. Mae Bridges, Santa Maria, California.

AN EXPLANATION

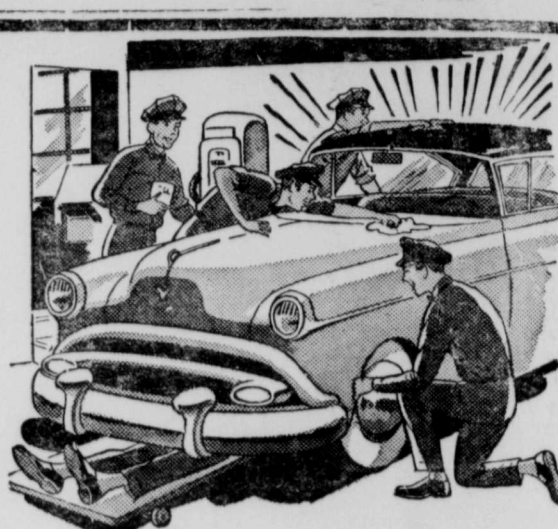

The two pictures we ran in the paper last week on which we asked you to guess as to their identification drew quite a few letters. We awarded the subscription to Ed Small who identified the two as Dr. Beck and Dr. Coleman. That was correct according to the information we had. The picture was run in the Jubilee edition in 1956 and the men were so identified then. Evidently the identification then was wrong for old timers have been telling us this week that the two men are Dr. Beck and Dr. Copeland. They say as far as they know no Dr. Coleman has ever practiced in Loraine.

Of course the paper could have made a mistake in the Jubilee edition but no one ever called it to our attention.

Mrs. W. K. Day and daughter Marsha of Abilene spent Tuesday with her mother and grand-daughter, Mrs. Josephine Marshall and Mrs. Ruby Robertson.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Walker spent Sunday and Monday in San Angelo visiting their daughter and family. Mr. and Mrs. Troy Koga and Rusty and Chae Kogas returned with them after visiting a week in their home.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Caughfield, Barbara and Valrie, of San Antonio visited in the home of her sister, Mrs. and Mrs. W. H. Jenn, Monday and Monday night.

SALINITY TEST-DON'T GUESS
College Station, August 30—Nearly one-fourth of Texas farmland is under irrigation and thus subject to possible "salting-up," according to L-570, "Test for Water Quality and Soil Salinity" recently published by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The bulletin explains that salts put in the soil by irrigation water accumulate and can cause poor soil structure, trapping of water, and toxicity to crops. These water carried salts remain behind when the water is used by the plant or evaporates and large amounts can easily be accumulated.

Symptoms of excess salts in the soil are yellowed leaves, shedding of leaves, and stunted growth or death of the plants due to reduced intake of water into the plants. Methods recommended by the bulletin to remedy the salted conditions include leaching the soil, irrigation more often, planting salt tolerant crops and using good cropping practices.

The new bulletin also discusses the testing of water and soil salinity for irrigation farmers, a new service of the Texas A&M Soil Testing Laboratory which was begun on August 16. This service may be used in the same way that the soil testing lab is used and the information sheet necessary for the tests are available from your county agent or from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station.

"Test for Water Quality and Soil Salinity" may also be obtained from the Agricultural Information Office.

ACCIDENT HAZARDS ARE NUMEROUS AROUND GINS

College Station, August 30—How much time was lost at your gin from accidents last year? How much will be lost this ginning season? Chances are good as much or even more time will be lost unless accident hazards are removed, points out B. G. Reeves, extension cotton ginning and mechanization specialist.

Though the cotton ginning season is still young, reports of accidents are already coming in and will increase unless safety is made a regular part of the cotton ginning operation, says Reeves. Preharvest preparations should include installation of proper belt guards, guardrails for overhead platforms and walkways, guards on all shaft ends, and replacement of extended pulley bolts and set screws with proper set screws. All extension cords should be rubberized and ladders should be adequate and strong enough to get to any part of the gin.

Here are other suggestions from Reeves which could help make the upcoming ginning season safer and freer from accidents. Provide adequate grounding for electrically powered gins; protect all starter boxes with circuit breakers; cover open conveyor between gin stands; provide sturdy stairways and protect them with handrails; remove from the gin building all unneeded items of equipment before operations begin and keep floors, walkways and platforms free of oil and grease.

Reeves also suggests regular sessions with the entire gin crew on the importance of safety and the hazards that go with carelessness. Be sure that at least one member of the gin crew knows how to use the first aid kit but make sure the entire crew is safety conscious. Remember, points out Reeves, the attitude of the crew is usually a reflection of your own.

And, concludes the specialist, it is now time to give the gin plant a final check for hazards and make the needed corrections. Time saved by reducing accidents means more efficient operation of the gin plant to say nothing about financial savings, and prevention of human suffering.

"I'm not a member of an electric cooperative. I don't use their electricity. They don't serve my town. What do they mean to me?"

They mean a great deal to you my friend. Their member-owners buy one billion dollars worth of appliances every year from home town merchants like yourself. The nation's rural electric systems provide a broader industrial base for national security. They provide jobs in rural areas. They create a healthier, happier community. They make farming, ranching, dairying and other rural pursuits more efficient. In short the nation's rural electric are good for everybody.
