Letter To East Lubbock

by Kathyl Anderson

Dear East Lubbock Citizens;

There are those who are very serious about keeping Dunbar High School as a senior high school. Those of us who believe so strongly in the future worthiness of Dunbar High School have obtained an attorney to fight for Dunbar. The attorney fee will not be cheap and financial help is needed.

The community needs to realize that this is not just a Dunbar issue, it's an East Lubbock issue. Slowly, but surely, East Lubbock is being drained of businesses, homes, recreational facilities and people. Since Dunbar High School has played a vital role in many East Lubbock residents' life, we should "DRAW THE LINE" and plan to take whatever defensive measures necessary to let all know, "EAST LUBBOCK WILL NOT BE PUSHED AROUND."

The April 6, 1991 Fish Fry is the first of several fund raising events planned by the Dunbar Legal Defense Committee. The Legal Defense Committee is a part of Dunbar Alumni Association. By supporting our efforts, you will be supporting the future of East Lubbock. We have the current issue, yet, we are also preparing for any future issues that may arise. The Legal Defense Committee can be an ongoing thing, standing ready for any community court action.

"Today it's Dunbar, next it may be Estacado, or an entire block of homes (look at the mobile trailer park being cleared for the new junior high school), or Mae Simmons Park, or single member district. By "drawing the line" on the current issue, we are telling them that EAST LUBBOCK WILL STAND TOGETHER!

Job Agency Reports Influx Of Highly Skilled Workers

Employers looking for trained workers may find their best advantage at the state's local employment office, according to Texas Employment Commission officials. Thousands of individuals hoping to land reconstruction jobs in the Persian Gulf have filed applications with the Texas Employment Commission and are ready, willing and available for work.

NAACP Holds Regular Monthly Meeting

The Lubbock Branch of the NAACP will hold its regular monthly meeting Saturday, April 6, 1991, at 7:00 p. m. at the Mae Simmons Community Center.

President Rose Wilson is asking all members to please be present. The branch president will making a report on the National NAACP's Regional Convention held in Dallas, Texas March 21-23, 1991.

the wake of Kuwait's liberation have not materialized," says TEC Administrator Bill Grossenbacher. "Our information is that basic services such as a water and electricity have yet to be restored and we are not aware of any hiring activity."

TEC offices, as well as the U. S. Department of Labor and Commerce, have been deluged with telephone inquiries regarding potential jobs in the Middle East. While alerting Middle East job hopefuls to beware of companies that offer information on work in the Gulf region in exchange for a fee, the agency says it may be months before any hiring takes place. Until and unless companies are awarded contracts and have notified the Employment Service that workers are needed to relocate, TEC continues to accept applications and will place individuals in available stateside jobs.

"This may be a real gold mine for Texas employers who need to fill gaps in their labor force. It is very costly in today's market to invest personnel time to screen the volume of applications an employer receives for a job that requires specialized skills. With this new talent pool we are seeing as a result of the war, employers could have TEC handle the screening and interview only those applicants who specifically match their job requirements," according to Grossenbacher.

OBSEQUIES

Donnie Louise Wheeler

Funeral services were held for Mrs. Donnie Louise Wheeler Saturday morning, March 30, 1991 at the Rising Star Baptist Church with Rev. F. B. Bell, pastor, officiating.

Interment was held in the City of Lubbock Cemetery under the directions of Curry Funeral Home.

Mrs. Wheeler was born August 27, 1936 in Waco, Texas to Clarence and Heneritta Morris. Her father preceded her in death. She departed this life Monday, March 25, 1991 at 1:03 p. m.

She married Nathan A. Wheeler November 18, 1956 in Belton, Texas, and to this union were born: Clarence, Henry, Bryan, Nathan, Jr., and Angela. She moved to Lubbock, Texas in 1961.

Donnie was a loving and kind person to everyone, and was a mother to everyone. She was always willing to do whatever she was able to do for those in need. She was faithful, not only to her family, but to her Church until she became ill, but even in her illness, wanted to do her best for those who were in need.

She was Director of the Post Exchange at Ft. Bliss, Texas from 1955-57, Brownie Troop leader at Martin Elementary School in 1976, served on the Board of Directors of Presbyterian Medical Center from September, 1978 to January, 1981. She was a member of Rising Star Baptist Church.

Mrs. Wheeler leaves to mourn her death: her husband, Nathan A. CRAZY HORSE

by
Stephen C. McIntyre

When will the State of Texas finally do the right thing? I always thought that the government should give all the kids of this state and equal opportunity to an education. Our children would compete and the bright ones, the hard working ones, the ambitious ones would gradually rise to the top to be the next generation of leaders. Sort of a survival of the fittest. And, of course, if the rich kids were too good to get to school with our kids, then they could go to a private school.

Why do rich folks, white folks in some places, have such a problem with equality of opportunity? Why doesn't the State of Texas do the right thing?

Last week in a 5-04 decision the Reaganistas on the U. S. Supreme Court apparently opened Pandora's Box. As I understood the NPR report on KOHH-FM, it said that in trials where coerced confessions were used it would not be an automatic reversal if there was sufficient supporting evidence.

Try to guess the effect of a confession on a jury. A confession is a guaranteed conviction.

The five justices were the four Reagan and one Bush appointee on the Supreme Court. The four appointed by Kennedy, Johnson, Nixon, and Ford voted against starting down the path to a police state.

If your young son is picked up tonight, beaten by the police in Hereford or Selma, confesses to a crime, and at his trial the DA introduces some off the wall testimony from a drug addict to a plea, you can bet he will be found guilty. On the appeal, instead of being able to get a reversal because of the coerced confession, there will now be a case by case determination to decide whether the other supporting evidence was adequate to support a conviction. What the hell does all this mean?

The training our government has provided around the world, especially in Central America, is coming home. It won't happen over night but just wait to the horror stories floating through your community.

Chile, El Salvador, Argentine, South Korea, Iran here we come. Your police state was so efficient we just got to be like you.

Makes you feel like standing tall.
You got the future in your hand -
Proud to be a citizen of this land.

Making houses out of local white pine.

Standing in food-stamp lines.

Riots

by

L. Ron Hubbard

Editor's Note: For more than 60 years, noted author L. Ron Hubbard (1911-1986) conducted investigation into life and the nature of man. He has published some 63,000,000 words of fact and fiction in over a hundred periodicals and scores of books.

In 1950, he wrote the number one self-help book (Dianetics: The Modern Science of Mental Health), detailing his breakthroughs and discoveries on the human mind. He has written more than 20 books in this field alone and in 1952 founded Scientology, the science of knowing to know.

His technology offers workable solutions to the central problems of our society - from drug abuse to war, crime and insanity. Reprinted here in his 1969 article, "Riots."

Riots are not always caused by economic deprivation. The bulk of American riots are caused by injustice. Only the wealthy can afford justice. It may say there must be justice in the Constitution, but it can only be obtained in upper courts.

The little fellow doesn't have a hundred thousand dollars to fight unjust actions of those in power.

Until there is justice for the little people, not just for the rich, there will be riots. And these riots can easily swell into complete raw red revolution.

A black can be innocently standing on a street corner, can be grabbed, beaten, thrown in jail, and worked at hard labor all on some imaginary charge. It may say it can't be done in the law books, but where's his $100,000 to take it high enough for action?

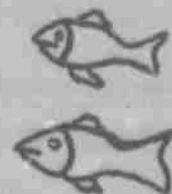

I have seen a Filipino university professor hauled in for nothing, his jaw broken held without bail, all because he was Filipino in a white US community (Port Orchard, Washington).

I have seen jails full of men who could not even say what the actual charge against them was - but they worked like dogs every day as convict labor.

As a minister, going amongst the people, I have witnessed enough injustice to overturn a state only waiting for a spark to ignite the suppressed wrath into revolution.

Until justice applies to all, until a person is really assumed innocent until proven guilty, until it no longer costs a tenth of a million to get an upper court, the government is at risk.

They may be very big, their sweat may have no odor, their arrogance may put them above all others, but the leaders of a nation who for one instant tolerate injustice to their poorest citizens today should have their heads ready for the basket. Another 1789 is boiling up, only waiting for one big spark to flash across the Western world. Injustice is not something in which any man with power should ever trade. It is not just a sin. It is suicide. (c) Copyright 1969 L. Ron Hubbard

WORDS OF LIFE

I — Our bodies are important. God is concerned with our bodies, with how we care for them and use them. Indeed, the manner in which we eat, sleep, work, play and do anything with and to our bodies reflects our respect for an important gift from God.

II — Our bodies are temples. A temple is a sacred place. It is something set apart and of special honor. Our bodies are temples, places where God's spirit moves and performs it's saving work. Is your body always kept worthy of being a residence for God's spirit?

III — Our bodies house and shelter God's life. It is God's divine breath which gives life to our bodies. Every joy that our bodies bring is a joy from and of God. Our pain draws us into the growth process, the growing pains of the universe. We revere our bodies even in death because they have been the best vessels or temples which God has had available to do His work and to show forth His glory.

Prayer Poem

Two hands have I to do this day the good;
Two lips have I to speak the things I should.
Two eyes have I to see the world around;
Two ears have I to note the joy of sound.
Two knees have I on which to kneel and pray;
Two feet have I to take me on life's way.
One mind, one heart, one will have I to raise—
All gifts of God through which to sing His praise.

—Amen

FROM THE OF
PARSON D. A. SMITH

"Why seek ye the living among the dead? He is not here, but is risen," (Luke 24:5-6) the angel charged the three women who were standing by the empty tomb. They had looked for a dead Christ when all the time He was alive.

The same mistake is made by people today and the question "Why seek ye the living among the dead?" is applicable to many. How is it that we allow such a question to be raised? We allow it when we seek Christ in a Christianity so termed which denies the resurrection. If Christ's body never left the grave, if it has somewhere mingled with the dust of the earth, then, however we may be attracted by His moral teaching, we have no ground for hoping in Him as our Redeemer for there is nothing to prove that He was the Son of God in the way He pointed out, or that He was established any new relation between earth and heaven. We also allow the question to be asked when we give the best of our thought, our heart, our enthusiasm, to systems of thoughts or modes of feeling which Christ Jesus has set aside.

"Why seek ye the living among the dead? He is not here, but is risen?" the angel said to those wonderful people who were bearing a load. And what were they carrying? What is Joanna and her servants, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, carrying? They are carrying white linens and pounds of spices, the best that money could buy. What are they going to do? They were there to embalm Jesus. "Why, he is not here, and furthermore, He is not dead, He does not want embalming. He is alive!" He has left the linen bandages, strewn in a mixture of myrrh and aloes that Joseph of Arimathea and Nicodemus had put around His body. What amazing news this is to these good women. This was also amazing news to His enemies: The scribe, the pharisee, and the priest. Their work was undone, for He is risen. This was startling news to Satan. He no doubt dreamed that he had destroyed the Savior, but He is risen! What news it was for trembling saints. "He is risen!"

The glorious hope of our own resurrection is made valid because our Savior rose from the dead. The hope for His second coming is also valid as Jesus promised: "If I go away I will come again that where I am you may be also."

We Thank God For Jesus

"Lord, You're Now My Shepherd!!"

Luke 15:11-12 -- Jesus said, a certain man had two sons: and the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me the portion of goods that falleth to me, and he divided unto them his living.

(God's like that, he gives man his work skills to satisfy his family living).

Lord, I was like that prodigal son, I wanted to be free, I wanted to do my own thing: "My life belongs to me."

Altho I was raised in a Christian home, under "The word of prayer," I'm now grown and I said I don't need the prayer, and at home I left it there."

Luke 15:13 -- And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country, and he wasted his substance with riotous living.

I went seeking for all the fun, and all this world's thrills, "I went out for all the pleasures; that the world had to be."

"The government told me: I have my rights was totally free, 'I read it in the newspapers, and its been on my TV."

Psalms 2:1-3 -- Why do the heathen rage, and the people imagine a vain thing? The Kings of the Earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the Lord, and against his anointed (Jesus), saying, let us break bands asunder, and cast away their cards from us.

 Jesus Is Lord!! *****

(My rights are the devil's wrongs: Gay Rights, Woman's Rights, White Rights, Black Rights, No School Rights, KKK Rights, Abortion Rights, Run Away Rights, Kill The Family Rights, No Death Rights, Shacking Rights, which is fornication; Suicide Rights).

Romans 6:23 -- For the wages off sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ, Our Lord.

It started out very well, good job: living high on "The Big Hill," but deep down my spirit was broken, "So tired alcohol, cigarettes, pills?" (Drugs). "While trying to keep with the Jones, it got me low, low down." "My money ran out and so did my friends: they're not around."

Proverbs 19:6 -- Many will entreat the favour of the Prince: and every man is a friend to him that giveth a gift.

"Lord, I'm now down on my knees: O'Lord, please help me I pray." "I'm now thinking suicide; but I remember reading in the Bible: you're the way."

John 14:6 -- Jesus said, I'm the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.

Matthew 11:28 -- Jesus said, come unto me, all that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.

Psalms 23:1-3 -- The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: he leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul: he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name sake.

God is not through with us yet. Let us pray for one another always.

Our Own Mental World

by
Annie Day

There are several things about problems that I have learned through the years. One is that everyone has them. I have come to learn too that there is no way in the world to measure or weigh problems; by that I mean that it is impossible to say that one problem or category of problems is larger or evokes more worry and emotional discomfort than another.

Each problem is unique to the person involved; and, as far as he is concerned, it is the most nerve-wracking problem in the world. The reason for this is that we seem to think we are the only person in the world. The world would be a very huge place for one person to live, it's many beautiful people in the world, and each of them have their share of bad things and good things. With God's help, if we manage to keep our minds functioning properly, we can see life as it is. Too many of us try to solve our problems in the outer - physical world. Some of us will buy things we all-ready have, or eat too much, maybe talk too much. And many times, we think we hate someone, when we really love them. For a moment, we need to direct our attention already from the outer facts and focus on our mental world, making up our minds to clean our mental house and negative thoughts or feeling about the problem circumstances.

Look around in our mind just the way we walk through our house analyzing what should be changed and what should be thrown out. There are some thoughts and feelings should have been thrown out years ago. If a person hordes hatred, resentment, and bitterness in their minds, it can contaminate the whole body. Your mind is your whole world. The place to solve any problem is in our mind, in our thinking, in our emotional reactions. Start cleaning out those things that you now make for more and greater problems, such as hatred, resentment, blaming others, self-pity, bitterness, and inward anger.

These things hurt us. They will cause the blood pressure to rise, hearts to beat faster than they should, our limbs and joints will constrict; arthritis, bursitis and neuritis will begin to show up in very odd places about the body. Take time to wake up; you've been sleeping in your own mind, and you make your own world. Your mind is like an enclosed room, for your central sense of "I" or "Me" or "Mine," there is on door through which one thought at a time is allowed, and that thought is normally centered on what I've done. What should try thinking is normally centered on what I've done. What I am. Why I've given. How I've prayed or

When I prayed; but we should try thinking of someone else sometimes. But somehow many of us become hypnotized by thoughts of guilt, or anger, and that makes us feel good by feeling sorry for ourselves, at that point paranoia begins to manifest itself.

However, this disorder often exists for years without any disturbances of consciousness. Paranoia is a mental disorder characterized by systematized delusions and the projection of personal conflicts. But always remember God is able to heal all manner of sickness or disease.

Letter to the Editor

"Look Out For The Children"

Dear Editor:

The article in the A. J. by Brenda Patterson as it relates to a previous article by Sen. John Montford concerning reorganization of the Department of Human Services (DHS).

All pretenses aside, let's get to the real problem. Brenda states, "that the agency does not make money. They give it away." In reality they don't even do a good job of that. Texas ranks near the bottom on providing services to the poor. Texas has one of the highest food stamp applicant denial rate among the Southern states, which adversely affect the most vulnerable population, its Children.

The highest segment of that population being Hispanics and Blacks when the staff and boards reflect the absence of the latter two.

Not only does this applies to DHS, but look at the staff and board of the Private Industry Council (PIC), get the picture. Let's reorganize and organize period!

All students in Dunbar's attendance zone and those wishing to attend Dunbar must not panic and be fooled into accepting or believing that Dunbar is doomed to become a junior high school. This plan by LISD HAS NOT BEEN approved by the courts for implementation! Though some school personnel will attempt to get you to transfer, you must not be misled. DUNBAR is your school, and you MUST NOT abandon your plans to attend Dunbar!

All alumni and supporters are asked to rise to the challenge NOW by contributing to the Dunbar Legal Defense Fund, any amount accepted. We can no longer sit and do nothing, and will not succumb to an administration and majority board that have totally insensitive to our history, our successes, our heritage, our future, or any burdens that we might endure. They seem to care less!!

We do hereby "draw our mark in the sand"!
