Preparations for the observance of the country's 200th birthday in 1976 has added emphasis to Independence Day Celebrations this year. Nearly everyone has heard of the Bicentennial by now, but apparently some people still are confused about plans for its observance.

John W. Warner, Administrator of the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration, says the two questions he hears most are, "When is the Bicentennial? Where will it take place?"

The Bicentennial observance already is underway across the country and will continue through the actual 200th birthday in 1976. Several thousand Bicentennial events already have taken place and over 15,000 more have been planned.

As to where it takes place, Warner calls attention to the contrast between the Centennial 100 years ago and the Bicentennial. The Centennial was celebrated in a single city—Philadelphia—while the activities commemorating the 200th birthday of the nation are taking place in communities in each of the 50 states, including Texas and in Scurry County and Snyder.

So far, 5,000 communities are authorized to fly the Bicentennial flag.

The one big focal point, of course, will be July 4, 1976. It has been designated as "Liberty Day," and in case you have not looked that far ahead on your calendar, it falls on Sunday. All Bicentennial communities will be urged to have a celebration on that day.

The July 4th celebration here this year, which will be the 15th in a row, will have most of the attractions generally associated with such events, except a "cookoff."

The cookoff is gaining popularity, so much, in fact, that the problem now is to find something to cook that has not been involved in a cookoff somewhere else.

We have just received word, for example, that the Worlds Championship Goat Barbecue Cookoff will be held Aug. 30 in Brady. And already scheduled this month is the National Chicken Cooking Contest, set for July 9 in San Antonio.

And then, of course, the chili cookoffs have spread so rapidly that they now include various local, regional and area contests as well as the international event at Terlingua.

But even older and more firmly established are some local events, such as the annual Hopkins County Stew contest, and the black-eyed pea contest at Athens. Eventually, we may have to decide upon a distinctive Scurry County product that would lend itself to a cooking contest.—WACIL McNAIR.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Tuesday, July 1, the 182nd day of 1975. There are 183 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1867, the Dominion of Canada was created by the British North America Act.

On this date:

In 1862, the U.S. Congress established the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

In 1863, the Civil War Battle of Gettysburg began.

In 1881, the American Red Cross was incorporated, with Clara Barton as president.

In 1898, Theodore Roosevelt and his Rough Riders carried out a victorious assault on San Juan Hill in Cuba in the Spanish-American War.

In 1958, construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway was completed.

In 1966, the Medicare health program for elderly Americans went into effect.

Ten years ago: President Lyndon Johnson asked Congress for $140 million to speed up development of an American supersonic airliner.

Five years ago: President Richard Nixon named a veteran diplomat, David Bruce, to head the U.S. delegation to Vietnam peace talks in Paris.

One year ago: Argentina President Juan Peron died in Buenos Aires at the age of 78.

FORD SURE US DECLINE OVER

Ultimatum To Israel Denied

By TERENCE HUNT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford says the United States has not given Israel an ultimatum to accept Egyptian terms for a Middle East settlement. And he says he is confident the economic decline at home is over.

"No ultimatum was delivered at the meeting with Ambassador Dinitz," White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said Monday. Israeli news reports say Ford told Israeli Ambassador Simcha Dinitz last Friday that unless Israel accepted certain Egyptian proposals, the United States and Israel might have to go their separate ways at a Geneva peace conference on the Middle East.

Clashing head-on with the leader of the nation's largest labor organization, Ford declared today that he is confident the economic decline is over.

But he warned that recovery must be based on sound economics — "or we stand in danger of setting off another massive rise in inflation, and even deeper recession and greater unemployment and hardship in the future."

Ford made the statements in remarks prepared for the 66th annual convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, where AFL-CIO President George Meany denounced the Ford administration's definition of recovery as "cruel and fraudulent."

In an interview with The Washington Post, Ford personally disavowed that he was trying to pressure Israel to accept Egypt's demand for full withdrawal from the Mitla and Gidi passes in the Sinai.

But Ford told The Post the United States would have no choice but to suggest a reconvening of the Geneva peace conference unless there is "a meeting of the minds" on an interim agreement. Israeli officials have expressed fears about being outnumbered and dominated at the Geneva conference by the Arab states and the Soviet Union.

Asked about Israeli reports that the United States would refuse to support Israel at a reconvened Geneva session, Ford said, "Definitely not. We would not go to Geneva supporting anything other than a comprehensive settlement we felt would be fair to all the parties."

Meanwhile, Ford signed a bill that guarantees unemployment compensation for up to 65 weeks to jobless workers under certain conditions. Without the extension, the program would have expired today and workers would have been eligible to collect benefits for only 52 weeks.

About 250,000 persons would have lost the benefits without the extension.

Ford also witnessed the swearing-in of Daniel P. Moynihan as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations and said his administration will resist any attempts to exploit the U.N. for "narrow, political interests."

He pledged "determined support" for the U.N. and said the United States will seek "a dialogue of candor, directness, understanding and respect" in the world organization.

In another White House development, Nessen said the United States still maintains its long-held policy of not using nuclear weapons in a first strike capability.

Gold Bidders To Pay $165.05

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury Department announced today the acceptance of bids for 499,500 ounces of gold at a price of $165.05 an ounce from its auction Monday.

Treasury had initially offered 500,000 ounces as an inducement to hold down imports of the precious metal, but officials said disposing of the entire 500,000 would have involved an awkward procedure of drawing lots.

The department said it received 758 bids for a total of four million ounces and accepted 70 bids from 41 bidders.

The bid prices ranged from $32.50 to $182 an ounce, but under the system used by the Treasury, all successful bidders pay the same price.

Treasury said the total revenue to the federal government from the sale will be $82,442,475.

The money from the sale goes into the U.S. Treasury where it will be used for general government expenses.

At a previous auction in January, the government sold the gold for the price bidders offered and disposed of 754,000 ounces at prices ranging from $153 to $185, even though the government had offered two million ounces.

Thomas W. Wolfe, director of Treasury's Office of Silver and Gold Operations, said he considered the latest auction to have functioned well.

Wolfe said most of the successful bidders were foreign banks and gold dealers, but that the auction would still fulfill Treasury's aim of balancing expected imports.

The price set by Treasury in the latest auction was slightly below the market prices of $166 to $167 an ounce prevailing at the time the bidding was held. The amount of gold sold represents less than one per cent of the nation's total gold stockpile of 276 million ounces.

4th Event Drawing Support

Activity is beginning to pick up around Towle Memorial Park as Independence Day nears.

The carnival has moved to the site adjacent to the Towle Park Barn and construction of booths for concessions, etc., is expected to get underway.

Response to the plea to "Give Five to Keep It Alive," launched by the sponsoring Chamber of Commerce, has increased this week. Chamber officials are urging local residents to support the annual July 4 event financially at the rate of $5 per family. The Independence Day celebration here, established in 1961, always has been supported by volunteer contributions, and this year expenses are running higher than before due to the fact that more activities and events are planned and all costs are up.

The Chamber again is selling its unofficial "tickets" at $1 each. There is no admission fee to the park, of course, but the tickets are symbolic of financial support for the celebration.

Mickey Nunley, Chamber Manager, said this morning that contributions had increased the past two days and it was hoped that it would continue.

Meanwhile, the list of prizes to be awarded was still growing. The Chamber will award a color television set and in addition there will be dozens of merchandise prizes contributed by local merchants.

Amy Nears Hurricane Strength

By The Associated Press

Tropical storm Amy was nearing hurricane strength off the coast of Virginia early today as thunderstorms rumbled across the Gulf states from Texas to Florida.

The National Hurricane Center predicted that the storm, with 70 mile per hour winds, would remain stationary about 350 miles off the coast and begin moving again tonight.

Amy, the first named storm of the 1975 Atlantic hurricane season, posed no immediate threat to land. But rough seas churned up by the storm was reportedly causing beach erosion and minor flooding in North Carolina and Virginia.

Meanwhile, the skies were clear over most of New England, the Southwest and the Ohio Valley.

Scattered rain storms dotted much of the Northwest for the northern Rocky Mountains to the Pacific Coast.

Meat, Eggs Boost Price Of June Marketbasket

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

Consumers who had been enjoying spring's respite from grocery store increases found prices on the rise during June, with most of the boost due to higher costs for meat and eggs, according to an Associated Press marketbasket survey.

The AP drew up a random list of 15 commonly purchased food and nonfood items, checked the price on March 1, 1973, at one supermarket in each of 13 cities and has rechecked on or about the start of each succeeding month.

Among the highlights of the latest survey:

—The marketbasket bill at the checklist store went up in five cities, rising an average of 2.5 per cent; declined in seven cities, down an average of 2 per cent; and was unchanged in one. This compared with decreases in 10 cities during May and in 13 cities during April.

—Meat and eggs led the list of more costly items. The increases were generally due to higher prices paid to farmers and reflected smaller supplies coming to market. Industry experts predict supplies of beef in particular will increase later this year, but they are unable to say exactly when or how much.

The price of a pound of chopped chuck went up at the checklist store in five cities, following increases in eight cities in May. Pork chops were more expensive at the end of June at the check store in nine cities, as were all-beef frankfurters.

Eggs, which had been decreasing steadily for almost a year, went up during June in check stores in eight cities. Increases ranged up to 44 per cent in Dallas, where the price of a dozen Grade-A, medium white eggs went from 39 to 56 cents at the store checked.

—Sugar prices continued their slide, down at the checklist store in every city except Boston, where the specified size and type of sugar was unavailable at the outlet surveyed. The price of a five-pound sack of granulated sugar generally averaged about $1.30 at the end of June, contrasting with levels of about $3 at the end of last year.

The AP survey showed the marketbasket bill for the checklist store in the 13 cities covered was an average of 10 per cent higher at the end of June than it was a year earlier.

Amin To Pardon British Lecturer

KINSHASA, Zaire (AP) — President Idi Amin of Uganda announced today that he has decided to save British lecturer Denis Hills from a firing squad and pardon him.

Hills, 61 and a resident of Uganda for 11 years, was scheduled to be executed on Friday for calling Amin a village tyrant in an unpublished manuscript. Amin, who is on a 48-hour visit to the Zairean capital, made his decision known at a news conference at the end of talks with President Mobutu Sese Seko of Zaire.

The national news agency Zaire Presse said Amin changed his mind about Hills as the result of the mediation of Mobutu. The Zairean leader was one of the African heads of state who interceded with Amin.

Amin told reporters he would notify the British charge d'affaires in Kinshasa of his decision later today.

The Ugandan leader added that he had asked Mobutu to act as a mediator between himself and the British government for all British-Ugandan relations.

Amin had demanded that British Foreign Secretary James Callaghan travel to Uganda and negotiate with him to save Hills' life. Callaghan said he would not go under duress, but Queen Elizabeth II sent two military officers under whom Amin had once served in the King's African Rifles.

When the talks with the officers broke down, Amin claimed Britain was planning to invade Uganda and indicated he would make hostages of all the 700 Britons still living in Uganda, a former British colony.

Injuries Are Fatal To Man

The body of Nicolas Gamboa Del Real, about 42, who died here Monday afternoon after he was injured earlier in the day in an oilfield accident, was to be taken to Kermit today.

Funeral arrangements were to be made at Cooper Funeral Home in Kermit.

An employe of E.L. Farmer Trucking Co. in Kermit, it was reported that he was injured when he was caught between a truck and a steel ramp. He was brought to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by Galyean Ambulance Service.

Four Major Firms Hike Gas Prices

By The Associated Press

Four major oil companies announced gasoline price increases, effective today.

The Shell Oil Co. and Standard Oil of Indiana — Amoco — said they were raising wholesale gasoline prices by three cents a gallon. Atlantic Richfield Co. announced a two-cents-a-gallon increase, and Texaco Inc. said it was charging dealers 1.4-cents-a-gallon more for gas.

All the increases apply to all grades of gasoline, the companies said.

The wholesale price changes are expected to be passed on to customers by retailers. Every Shell dealer will no doubt raise his pump prices by at least 3 cents a gallon.

Beirut Fighting Rages As New Cabinet Formed

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Savage fighting raged unabated through the night and into the eighth day today as Premier Rashid Karami put together a "reconciliation cabinet" of six men.

President Suleiman Franjieh approved the lineup, in which each of Lebanon's major religious sects is represented, and the allocation of three cabinet posts to each minister. A presidential decree was issued after a night of squabbling over distribution of the ministries.

Meanwhile casualties increased to more than 210 dead and more than 1,000 wounded as armed factions battled with mortars, machine guns and rocket-launched grenades.

Terrified noncombatants stayed at home with window shutters closed. All shops and business houses were also closed, and most streets were left to the fighters and the security forces trying in vain to check the bloodshed.

Fires raged in buildings hit by rockets or dynamite.

The government radio station warned that no street in the city of 700,000 was safe. Police broadcast appeals to snipers to stop firing on ambulances and trucks.

"Corpses are scattered about streets and alleyways," reported one resident in the eastern suburbs, where Christians, Moslems, leftists, rightists and Palestinian guerrillas began fighting each other last week.

The cabinet is made up of Karami, a Sunni Moslem; former President Camille Chamoun, a Maronite Christian; Philip Takla, a Roman Catholic; Adel Osseiran, a Shiite Moslem; Majid Arslan, a Druze Moslem, and Ghassan Tueni, an Orthodox Christian.

Karami got the defense and finance ministries along with the premiership. Chamoun got the interior ministry, which controls the police; telecommunications and water and electricity.

Osseiran got justice, public works and commerce minister. Takla took the foreign ministry, education and planning. Arslan was named minister of health, agriculture and [illegible]

Unwed Mother Tells New Suitor She's 'Divorced'

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1975 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Three years ago, I had a child out of wedlock. I never married the baby's father, but we lived together as husband and wife up until six months ago. When we decided to split up, there was no big scene and no hard feelings. He quietly moved out.

I told the people at work that my "husband" and I were splitting up. Naturally, they assumed we were getting divorced.

An attractive bachelor (one of the bosses) asked me for a date. I accepted, and we hit it off wonderfully well. One date led to another, and now we are together almost every evening and weekends.

I know he is serious about me. He asked me if I had filed for divorce yet, and I avoided giving him a straight answer. Here is where I need your help.

If I confess that I had a child out of wedlock and never married the baby's father, yet lived with him for over two years, I wonder what this other guy will think of me.

I don't want to make up any lies, but if I tell him the truth, he might think I'm a tramp. How much should I tell him?

NEEDS ADVICE

DEAR NEEDS: Tell him everything. Your past doesn't necessarily make you a "tramp." Many learn and mature from past mistakes, and the fact that you don't want to lie now shows that you have both learned and matured. Level with him, and good luck.

DEAR ABBY: Why is it that most of the better apartment house owners will accept a couple with dogs or cats but won't rent to a couple with a child? The most damage our 4-year-old son could do is to crayon up the walls, whereas a dog or cat could completely ruin the place.

We are sick to death of being turned away as though we were undesirables because we have a child. I am also insulted that my son is classed lower than a dumb animal. We would be willing to put up a deposit to cover any damages our little 30-pounder might do.

Print this, please. I am sure other parents of young children share my problem.

MRS. B.

DEAR MRS. B.: I sympathize, dear. But it's not only property damage that concerns apartment owners. Children sometimes make more noise than some adults can tolerate.

DEAR ABBY: I am a waitress with a pet peeve: women who come in with escorts and refuse to speak to me.

When I ask for their order, they ignore me, turn to their escorts and tell THEM what they want. Then the man gives the order to me. This is ridiculous.

Do women think they are too good to talk to a waitress, or what? This happens all the time, and it burns me up. Maybe if you print this, it will have some effect on women who are guilty of this humiliating practice. Thanks a lot.

BURNED

DEAR BURNED: Sorry, but according to the etiquette book, the gentleman should order for both the lady and himself. This is practiced in the more elegant and formal restaurants. But in the interest of common sense and expedience, I think it's time that moth-eaten rule was dropped.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "IN TROUBLE IN SILVER SPRINGS, MD.": Tell your parents at once. I promise they won't kick you out of the house. In times of trouble, your parents are your best friends. Tell them today!

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20¢) envelope.

County Court Pleas Heard

Several pleas were entered in county court yesterday.

Alberto Aguirre pleaded guilty to illegal possession of marijuana. He received a $250 fine plus court costs and a 180-day jail term, probated for 180 days. He was arrested June 28 by City Police.

Salvador Aguirre Olivas pleaded guilty to driving while under the influence of drugs. He received a $100 fine plus court costs and a 30-day jail term, probated for six months. He was arrested June 28 by City Police.

Charles Neil Mize pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated. He received a $100 fine plus court costs and a 3-day jail term. He was arrested May 3 by Highway Patrolmen. He also pleaded guilty to driving while his license was suspended. He received a $25 fine plus court costs and a 72-hour jail term on this plea.

Texas Sections Flooded

By The Associated Press

Near-cloudbursts set off flash flooding in parts of South and East Texas during the night, and heavy downpours continued in some areas today as the state flipped the calendar to a new month.

Water covered some streets and roadways around Gonzales, east of San Antonio, after a 3.10-inch deluge in the 90 minutes just before midnight. College Station, farther east, measured 1.16 inches of rain in six hours.

As radar detected rainfall at rates up to 2 inches per hour in continuing thunderstorms, the National Weather Service posted flash flood warnings for parts of Walker, Grimes and Montgomery counties in East Texas.

Some of the heavier storms in early morning concentrated on localities from Stockdale to near Yorktown, between Victoria and San Antonio.

Lighter showers dotted a small part of North Central Texas, particularly around Brownwood, and there were scattered thundershowers over the Gulf of Mexico south of Galveston.

Three Arab Nations Turn To US, West

LONDON (AP) — Three Arab oil-producing countries that are short of money have bypassed richer Arab governments and turned to the United States and Western Europe for loans, diplomats report.

The three countries are Iraq, whose 1973 production of nearly 680 million barrels was the fifth largest in the Middle East and North Africa; Algeria, which ranked seventh in 1973 with 357 million barrels, and Oman, in last place with nearly 103 million barrels.

The informants said the nations are asking the West for more than $2.5 billion in loans to complete development programs they launched before hard times in the industrialized countries and high oil prices reduced the demand for their oil.

Algeria is reported seeking about $2 billion, half of it in commercial loans from American banks and the other half from the Export-Import Bank and the World Bank. The informants said Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger is anxious to help the Algerians although they have blocked his attempts to convene an international energy conference by demanding that it discuss all raw materials exported by the Third World.

Iraq, which previously has depended on the Soviet Union for economic development help as well as arms, is reported trying to borrow between $500 million and $700 million on the commercial Eurodollar market. The Iraqis are offering to repay the loans in five to seven years, the diplomats said.

Oman is seeking far less. The sultanate was said to be negotiating for a $50-million bond issue with a group of international banks.

Exiled Russian Cautions Americans About Detente

By BARTON REPPERT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Exiled Russian author Alexander Solzhenitsyn cautions that Americans are deceiving themselves unless they realize that detente means hard-headed dealing with the Soviet Union, instead of merely "smiles and verbal concessions."

Calling on the United States to strengthen its role of world leadership, Solzhenitsyn declared Monday night that the Soviets are exploiting detente and luring Western capital to help build a regime committed to "ideological warfare."

The Nobel Prize-winning author, in his first formal address in this country, also urged that Americans renew their support for Soviet dissidents.

Referring to the official Kremlin line that such backing amounts to interference in internal Soviet affairs, Solzhenitsyn asserted, "Interfere more and more, interfere as much as you can."

Solzhenitsyn, imprisoned for eight years during Stalin's era, was forcibly expelled in early 1974 by Soviet authorities enraged over publication in the West of "The Gulag Archipelago," a massive study of the Soviet penal system.

Addressing an AFL-CIO dinner given in his honor, Solzhenitsyn said any real U.S.-Soviet detente must not be "based on smiles, not on verbal concessions, but it has to be based on firm foundations.... There has to be some guarantee that it will not be broken overnight."

Among the audience of some 2,500 persons at the dinner, mostly trade union officials, were Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger, Labor Secretary John P. Dunlop and former Secretary of State William L. Rogers. Solzhenitsyn spoke in Russian, with simultaneous translation into English.

The author contended that in current negotiations leading up to a major pact on security and cooperation in Europe, the Communist side has offered only superficial concessions on freer East-West exchange of people and ideas.

And he added, "During these two years of negotiations, the pressure has increased in all the countries of Eastern Europe."

Solzhenitsyn said that while his travels around the United States in recent weeks had shown him the nation's basic strengths and resources, he had also sensed some tendency to view crucial questions of foreign policy too distantly.

He said that despite setbacks in Southeast Asia and elsewhere, Americans must recognize that "the course of history, whether you like it or not, has brought you, has made you the leaders of the world."

Negotiations On Indians In Offing

By J.D. WILSON
Associated Press Writer

PINE RIDGE, S.D. (AP) — Negotiations aimed at arranging the surrender of 16 persons sought for questioning in the shooting deaths of two FBI men on the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation may be in the offing, federal officials hint.

Acting Reservation Supt. Kendall Cumming said Monday he "had appointments with some people but indicated no definite plans had been made.

Earlier, Cumming said an attempt at negotiations with persons he termed responsible tribal leaders had been unsuccessful.

Bureau of Indian Affairs and FBI officials had arrived at a predetermined time at a small mission over the weekend, but the other individuals involved in the talks did not show up.

Cumming would not identify either group or how it might know of the persons being sought in connection with the slaying of FBI agents Ronald Williams and Jack Coler last Thursday.

The FBI says it does not have positive identifications of the 16 persons it is seeking, but a spokesman said, "We have a pretty good indication of who they are."

Williams and Coler were shot down as they attempted to serve four federal arrest warrants in connection with an alleged kidnaping.

An Indian from the Lapwai Agency at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, Joseph Bedell Stuntz, 24, was killed in shooting which erupted when federal officers moved onto the reservation in the wake of the Williams-Coler slayings.

Dennis Banks, a leader in the American Indian Movement (AIM), also had offered to negotiate the surrender of the 16 persons if federal law enforcement officials would leave the reservation.

But Cumming said, "We weren't going to contact Banks."

Meanwhile, there were reports that as many as 200 clergymen from around the nation were planning to travel to the reservation to act as impartial observers.

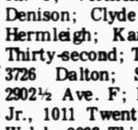

At the United Church of Christ General Synod in Minneapolis, AIM National Field Director Vernon Bellecourt said residents of the Pine Ridge reservation had asked for "monitoring of the suspension of constitutional rights and the ransacking of homes which is under way."

The FBI has denied any violation of rights or ransacking of homes.

Court Ruling Restricts Border Patrol's Authority

By The Associated Press

The chief U.S. Border Patrol inspector for part of South Texas says a Supreme Court ruling this week "will be a real bad blow to us" and will make it more difficult to stop the movement of illegal aliens and narcotics into the United States.

In unanimous rulings Monday, the nation's high court further restricted the Border Patrol's authority to stop and search automobiles near the Mexican border.

The court held:

—The government may not stop vehicles in the border area at will, but must have reason to suspect that the vehicle contains aliens who are in the country illegally.

—That it's 1973 ruling—which said that warrantless searches conducted by roving patrols who did not have probable cause to believe that aliens were present were unconstitutional—also applies to fixed check points not actually on the border or its "functional equivalent."

Under the previous rulings of the court, a check point is regarded as the functional equivalent of a border if its location is such as to give reasonable assurance that all passing vehicles had recently crossed an international boundary.

Tom Ball, chief inspector at the U.S. Border Patrol area headquarters in McAllen, Tex., said the ruling "will be a real bad blow to us."

Ball said fixed check points, such as those the Border Patrol operates near Sarita, Falfurrias and Hebbronville in South Texas, are "our last line of defense against illegal aliens and narcotics."

Restrictions on these checkpoints, he said, will make it "a lot more difficult to control and stop the movement of illegal aliens."

Bell said the ruling will hinder the work of the Border Patrol, but he has seen nothing official from Washington outlining any changes in procedures. "We ought to hear something in the next few days," he added.

A Border Patrol spokesman at El Paso said he could not assess the impact of the court rulings until he had seen the official version of the decisions and until he received instructions from officials in Washington.

Monday's ruling on the power to stop vehicles resulted from the case of Felix Humberto Brigoni-Ponce, who was stopped by roving Border Patrol agents on March 11, 1973, outside San Clemente, Calif. After a search, he was arrested and later convicted of transporting illegal aliens.

A federal appeals court reversed the decision and the Supreme Court's ruling Monday upheld the appeals court.

The high court said the sole reason for stopping Brigoni-Ponce's car was that its occupants appeared to be of Mexican ancestry.

The court, in its decision Monday, spelled out rules under which vehicles may be stopped by the Border Patrol.

Justice Lewis F. Powell, writing for the court, said that "when an officer's observations lead him reasonably to suspect that a particular vehicle may contain aliens who are illegally in the country, he may stop the car briefly and investigate the circumstances that provoke suspicion.

Cher Weds Rock Star

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Singer Cher Bono was married to rock star Gregg Allman in a civil ceremony here, three days after her divorce from her former singing and television partner, Sonny Bono.

District Court Judge James Brennan said he married the couple at Caesar's Palace Monday.

It was the second marriage for Miss Bono, who is 29. Her 27-year-old husband, who is the lead singer in the Allman Brothers Band, has been married twice before.

Clara Barton, founder of the U.S. Red Cross, was a patent examiner for more than five years.

Poverty Pledged Sisters Go From Convent To Farm

LOGAN, Ohio (AP) — They slop around in the barnyard muck in their rubber boots, blue jeans and flannel shirts, doing the chores like farmers since the beginning.

But these are different farmers. They're nuns — Sister Mary and Sister Nancy of the Order of St. Francis.

Their problem in the Hocking hills isn't a lack of religious response to their mission, the rustic living in their ancient farmhouse or living in the secular world. The problem is trying to balance the scales with the people in southern Ohio.

"We find that we have received so much more from these people than we will ever be able to return," said Sister Nancy.

Some of the people around the area would argue with that. They find that the two sisters extend their religious message in many ways — a basket of fresh eggs, produce from their carefully tended garden, a cheery smile, a sympathetic word.

It's all a part of an attempt by Sister Nancy and Sister Mary to live a life closer to that of the founder of their order, St. Francis. That's why they left the convent.

"While we lived at the convent," said Sister Nancy, "all our basic needs were provided. We had all that was necessary and many things that I considered luxuries."

Pledged to poverty, the two felt they had to live closer to nature and to God to fulfill their vows. Although none of the 400 sisters in the Buffalo, N.Y., convent lived outside, their plan was accepted.

They arrived in Hocking County without a place to live. The pre-arranged housing didn't materialize. But, in three days they found the farm on which they now live.

The well had to be cleaned and repaired before the one pump could supply safe water. The ruin of the barn was salvaged for paneling to keep the elements out of the rundown house, for shelves and partitioning for upstairs. They bought stoves for heating.

The first summer was limited to establishing a garden. This year they added a flock of chickens, and two hogs. Any profit from pork and eggs will be used to increase the livestock and to buy feed.

The two sisters are self-supporting. They receive no help from the provincial headquarters of their order and half of all they earn goes back to help maintain the order.

Mornings Sister Mary works for the Gompf Greenhouse and afternoons she does the chores. Sister Nancy is a teacher at Union Furnace Elementary School, working with students needing special education.

"It's like closing your eyes and pretending you are blind," said Sister Nancy. "You know you can really see. Our living is quite the same. We know that if we get into problems we can write the Motherhouse and get bailed out.

"But, I do feel that we are better able to serve God living among His people. We do experience the same trials that they must encounter and we, therefore, are better able to be more emphathetic and understanding.

"We feel that God is with us all the way in this mission."

PUPPET SHOW—Children of the Snyder Day Care Center were honored with a party recently by ladies of First Baptist Church. The children are watching a puppet show presented by the youth group of the church.

Prepare And Serve Food Safely July 4

COLLEGE STATION—July 4th meals are fun—but make them safe, Frances Reasonover, foods and nutrition specialist, reminded this week.

"A picnic in the park or supper in the backyard can make the holiday one to remember, but prepare and serve the food safely to be sure the memory is a pleasant one," the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said.

Food poisoning bacteria thrive in temperatures between 50-120 degrees F. So consumers can start right from the grocery store to make the food safe for picnic or barbecue, she advised.

She suggested buying ground beef a day or two before the holiday unless it can be frozen for a longer time. Shop in a store that displays meat and poultry in a clean refrigerated area. Avoid packages that have been broken or have punctured wrappers, she said.

"Thaw frozen meat in the refrigerator to prevent bacterial growth. Don't allow this meat to stand out unrefrigerated for more than an hour at the most.

"And be sure to cook hamburgers and hot dogs in batches small enough to be used quickly so they don't stand, allowing bacteria to grow."

Also, cleanliness in preparing food is always important—but especially with hamburgers. Always wash hands thoroughly with soap and hot water before and after handling raw meat.

Baked beans is another dish that shouldn't be kept at room temperature for more than two hours.

"Bacteria grow well in eggs at room temperature. Leave boiled eggs out of potato salad unless it is refrigerated until serving time. Make potato salad with eggs the same day it is to be served," she said.

Turning to exact directions for avoiding food-borne illness, she said, "Keep perishable foods cold, at or below 40 degrees F. Foods in this category are cream pies, seafood and dishes made with eggs, fish, meat and poultry.

"Or keep the perishable foods, such as seafood, poultry and cooked meats, hot—about 140 degrees F. Bacteria grow best in lukewarm foods so never let these foods stand at room temperature for more than two hours," Miss Reasonover cautioned.

Consumer Food News

COLLEGE STATION—Beef prices will fluctuate during the next two weeks, and specials will be scattered, one observer predicts.

Mrs. Gwendolyne Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, advised consumers to shop carefully.

"Careful price comparisons between markets will show some good values on chuck roasts and steaks, sirloin, round steaks and beef liver," she noted.

Pork prices have risen again, she added.

"However, semi-boneless hams, liver and frankfurters are the key buys—and some markets are featuring Boston butt and quarter loins cut into chops.

"Poultry prices are higher due to a greater demand during 'barbecue season,' but there are a few specials."

Egg prices are low with best values on large and medium sizes.

At dairy counters, cheese slices are a leading feature, although there are a number of values in milk, cream cheese and cheddar cheese, Mrs. Clyatt said.

Watermelons and corn highlight produce counters with plentiful supplies, good quality and low prices, the specialist noted.

Moderately priced items include carrots, cabbage, okra, soft-shell squash, purplehull and black eye peas.

Also, cucumbers, radishes and green onions.

Fruit buys at varying prices are cantaloupe, honeydews, pineapples, peaches, plums and grapes. Also, bing cheeries, bananas and nectarines.

CONSUMER WATCHWORDS: Watermelon at peak quality will have a dull, hollow sound when gently tapped. The side that has lain on the ground will be yellowish white.

To make an ice cream Shortcake, peel the carton from a brick of vanilla ice cream, slice in half the long way and layer cling peach slices between the ice cream and over the top. Return to the freezer and remove to refrigerator about 15 minutes before serving. Slice and serve.

Irwin Wins West Open

By BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer

OAK BROOK, Ill. (AP) — Hale Irwin, an articulate, intelligent young man with a way of getting to the heart of the matter, had a simple explanation for his victory in the $200,000 Western Open Golf Tournament.

"I just didn't make as many mistakes as the other guys," Irwin said after his one-stroke triumph Monday in what he called "the most nerve-wracking experience of my life."

And that's just exactly what happened.

Irwin, who has that happy habit of winning on the game's most difficult courses, let Butler National chew up the rest of the field — he was the only one to break par for 72 holes — and won it with a closing string of 13 consecutive pars.

"Pars," observed Irwin, "are hard to beat."

George Johnson, who led most of the long, hot, muggy day, and South African Bobby Cole, the man Irwin had to beat in the end, discovered the truth of that statement.

Johnson, who once had a four-stroke lead, blew it and built it back to three, finally played his last three holes six over par. Cole lost a tie for the lead with a bogey on the last hole.

Irwin won his second title of the season with scores of 71 and 73 in the double-round windup that was forced when a violent, dangerous thunderstorm washed out Friday's round and sent three lightning-jolted players to the hospital.

One of them, Jerry Heard, returned to action when the hospital released him, put together closing rounds of 72 and 73 and claimed a tie for fourth at 288.

The other two, Lee Trevino and Bobby Nichols, went home after a two-day stay in the hospital.

Irwin, who relinquished his U.S. Open title just a few days ago, won this one with a 283 total, one under par on the 7,002-yard layout that has yielded just that one subpar total in two years of play.

Cole, the 1974 South African Open and World Cup champion still looking for his first American title, bogeyed the 72nd hole from a bunker, shot 70 and 69 and missed by one at 284.

Ed Sneed came on to take third on rounds of 69 and 73 and a 287 total. Heard, Gibby Gilbert and John Lister of New Zealand, who matched the course record with a 65 in the morning round, followed at 288. Johnson blew to a fat 79 in the last round and was tied with four others at 289.

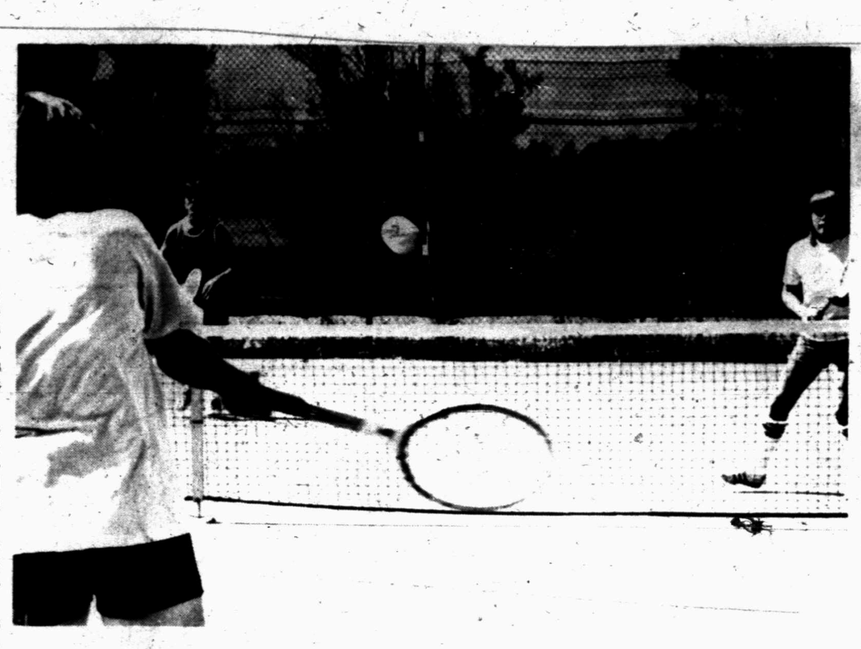

Arnold Palmer had closing rounds of 73 and 72 and was well back at 292. Tom Weiskopf missed the cut for the last two rounds after an incredible 84 in Sunday's round.

Jack Nicklaus, Johnny Miller and newly-crowned U.S. Open king Lou Graham did not compete.

All three, however, clinched spots on the American Ryder Cup team that will play Britain's best in Ligonier, Pa., Sept. 18-20. This was the last tournament in which players could gain Ryder Cup points.

King Seeks Sixth Wimbledon Crown

By JEFF BRADLEY
AP Sports Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Billie Jean King has a sore throat and a runny nose, but an attack of English hay fever has done little to stop what she insists is her final bid for a sixth Wimbledon singles title.

The 31-year-old tennis queen won her quarter-final match against Russia's Olga Morozova 6-3, 6-3 Monday to reach the semifinals without dropping a set.

Billie Jean meets the No. 1 seed, defending champion Chris Evert, Wednesday. The other semifinalists are a pair of Australians, Margaret Court and Evonne Goolagong Cawley, thus ensuring an American-Australian women's final.

The men play their quarter-finals today with 22-year-old left-hander Jimmy Connors still the odds-on favorite to retain his title.

Connors, who hasn't dropped a set, meets elegant Mexican Raul Ramirez. The other quarter-finals are: Arthur Ashe vs. Bjorn Borg of Sweden; Roscoe Tanner vs. Guillermo Vilas of Argentina, and Tom Okker of the Netherlands vs. Tony Roche of Australia.

Ms. King has never lost to Miss Evert on grass, and after Chrissie struggled to a 5-7, 7-5, 6-0 quarter-final victory Monday over unseeded Betty Stove of the Netherlands, even the players are saying that an upset is possible when the two Americans meet.

"Of course I'm the underdog," said Ms. King, sporting an afro-style hairdo and big circle earrings. "I've been the underdog for quite a while now. It's nice."

It is a change for the outspoken tennis legend to enter Wimbledon ranked No. 3, since she's been No. 1 more often than not over the past 15 years.

She will tie a Wimbledon record of 18 women's titles this week if she can win either the singles, women's doubles or mixed doubles. The record is held by Elizabeth Ryan, who built it up in the 1920's and 30's without winning one singles title.

Win or lose, Ms. King says it will be her last major singles tournament. "I want to get more involved in my television show and my magazine (Women Sport."

Dodgers Rip Rebs

The Dodgers thumped the Rebels, 11-4, in Junior Teenage action last night.

The Dodgers' Jay Hammond twirled a sparkling three-hitter, giving up only one single each to Alvin Ollison, Ricky Gambol and Dee Dow. Gambol drove in one run, and Tate Kesner was credited with an rbi.

The Dodgers collected nine hits off two different pitchers. Keith Early was the big gun in the Dodger attack with a triple and two singles. He drove in three runs. Scott Crenwelge socked two singles, driving in two tallies. John Hopkins doubled, and Keith Fields, Joe Stewart and John Simmons each hit one single. Crenwelge had two rbi's while Stewart and Simmons each had one.

Giants, Cubs Win LL Tilts

The Giants whipped the White Sox, 15-7, and the Cubs nipped the Cardinals, 11-10, in Little League action here last night.

The Giants' John Davis fired a 4-hitter, giving up two singles to Scott Warren and one each to Joe Garcia and to Gerald Hicks.

The Giants collected 11 hits. Neal Evans socked a home run and a single, John Davis put one over the fence, Neil Paige slammed a triple and a single, Mike Roemisch stroked three singles, and Brent Roemisch, Kris Seale and Charlie Bollinger each hit one single.

The Cubs and Cardinals hooked up in a pitcher's duel with the Cubs getting only one hit and the Cards only two hits. Danny Eckert and Mark Cypert worked on the hill for the Cubs while Steve Tate, Peter Valasquez and David Gutierrez shared mound duties for the Cubs.

John Overton got the Cubs only hit—a single, while James Ford and Paul Ellis each singled for the Cardinals.

Ragland Wins Net Tourney

Shawn Ragland came up with an 8-5 win over Neal Paige in the finals of the 1975 Beginners' Tennis Tournament of the summer tennis program sponsored by the Snyder Public Schools. The tournament was held at the local high school courts Monday.

First round of play saw Shawn defeating Beth Ellison, 8-1; Trey McWilliams won over Kellye Scott, 9-8; Lori Wafer defeated Mike McWilliams, 8-1; Bryan Limmer won over Britt Vincent, 9-7; and Neal Paige defeated Patti Clark, 8-0. In the second round of play Randy Hodges, who had received a bye in the first round, lost to Ragland, 8-5, Vaughnie Voss, with a first round bye, lost to Trey Harlin, with a first round bye, 8-3. Trey McWilliams won over Wafer, 8-3, and Paige defeated Limmer, 8-0. In the semi-final round, Ragland won over Harlin, 8-0, and Paige defeated McWilliams, 8-0, to get to the championship round of play.

In beginners' tournaments, boys and girls play in the same brackets since they have received the same instructions and have played the same amount of time.

On Tuesday a tournament for mixed doubles, high school and under in age, will be held for participants in the school tennis program. These tournaments are being held in preparation for the "big one" on Friday, July 4th, at the local courts.

Kruse, Key Win Tilts

The second half play got underway in Men's Softball last night with victories by Kruse and Yale E. Key. In the early game, Kruse Oil Company downed Lee 66, 6-2. The late game proved disastrous for Snyder Well Service as they fell before Yale E. Key, 11 to 0.

Kruse scored its six runs on 11 hits. Jim Sterling, Richard Daves and Wesley Key connected for two singles each. Larry Wiggins, Ronal Gladson, Perry Kruse, Tom Daves and Anderson connected for the remaining singles. Jim Sterling turned in a fine effort on the mound, striking out five batters.

Lee 66 received its two runs on seven hits. Thompson and Hayley had two hits while Wall, Stokes and Fields collected the remaining singles. Dub Myers was charged with the loss.

Yale E. Key had six hits in its winning effort. Kitching collected three of the six. Sid Perry, Posey and Loesch connected for the remaining three. Nine Key batters got on base by walks. Loesch was the winning pitcher.

Snyder Well Service could manage only four hits. Rick Williams had a single and a double. Gaylean Vaughan and Glen Coy had the other two hits. Snyder Well players committed nine errors to aid in their loss. Tommy Williams was the losing pitcher.

In action starting at 7:30 tonight, Snyder Well takes on First Baptist, and at 9:10 Wadleigh and Kruse meet.

Ali Wins In 15, To Meet Foreman

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
AP Sports Writer

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Muhammad Ali announced an end to a planned retirement, beat Joe Bugner in the heat and then attended a formal news conference to announce a third fight with Joe Frazier that could bring the heavyweight boxing champion from $4.5 million to $8 million.

Ali, as expected, announced his non-retirement about an hour before he beat Bugner on a unanimous 15-round decision here Tuesday morning. About five hours later he was jawing with Frazier at a news conference called to announced their Oct. 1 fight in Manila.

Don King, who will promote the fight with the government of the Philippines, said that both Ali and Frazier had agreed to fight for percentages. He said he believed Ali could make $8 million and Frazier $5 million. Ali has a minimum guarantee of $4.5 million and Frazier $2 million.

Attending the news conference were Luis Tabuena, director of the sport and amusement board of the Philippines government, and Thomas Oh, introduced as the fight's catalyst. Also present was Bob Arum of Top Rank Inc., of New York, who has been King's attorney.

Tabuena said the fight scheduled for Oct. 1 (Sept. 30 in the United States) would be staged in the air-conditioned, 30,000-seat Philippines Coliseum.

Ali said he was going to rest for a week and then remain in Malaysia until it is time to go to Manila.

"He'll go back (to the United States)," said Frazier. "He's just making noise."

"I don't want anybody to say that I'm afraid of Joe Frazier or George Foreman," Ali said before his victory over Bugner.

"If I quit, people will say that Joe Frazier would have whipped me," said Ali, who had announced plans to retire June 23. "They would say that Foreman and (Ken) Norton would too. So, when I retire I don't want anybody around who people might think could beat me."

"I'm ready," said Frazier, who was at ringside. "I am happy that he decided not to go out, otherwise I would have thought he was ducking me like he's been doing for the last year."

Frazier defeated Ali when neither was champion.

Frazier then joined the king of Malaysia and an announced estimated crowd of 22,000 to watch the 33-year-old champion dominate Bugner, 25, in the oven that was the ring at the outdoor Merdeka Stadium.

"The heat was bad but it was bad for both of us," said Ali, who had predicted that Bugner would be a world champion after he defeated the Briton on a 12-round decision two years ago.

"I still predict that Joe Bugner will be champion, said Ali. "He's strong, he's young."

"I should have won the world title," said Bugner, who does claim the heavyweight championship of Europe. "I think the climate beat me this time. I just couldn't find a burst of energy to maintain the pressure by the 10th and 11th rounds."

A Malaysian communications official placed the temperature in the ring at more than 100 degrees.

Ali threw bits and pieces of his rope-fighting technique and his dancing at Bugner. But the champion's main strategy was to rush Bugner, push him into the rope and gun for his head.

Ali was unable to knock down his opponent, but he came close in the final round. Late in the round, Ali backed Bugner up with a sharp right-left, right-left. He then hurt him with two lefts and a right and just before the bell had him reeling with about seven straight punches to the head."

The champion also appeared to have Bugner dazed in the 13th and 14th rounds. Ali finished the fight with a nick over his left eye suffered in the 13th round, and Bugner had a swelling under his right eye.

Referee Takeo Ugo of Japan scored it 73-67 for Ali. Judge Lt. Col. Suthee Phrom Jara of Thailand scored it 73-65 and Ken Brady of Australia 72-65 for Ali.

The Associated Press favored the champion 70-65.

Jetliner Cleared To Land Despite Pilot's Warning

NEW YORK (AP) — The Eastern Airlines jetliner that crashed last Tuesday was cleared to land in a thunderstorm despite another jet pilot's warnings of dangerous air turbulence and his strong recommendations that the affected runway be closed, tapes reveal.

The crash shortly after 4 p.m. June 24 of Eastern Flight 66 nonstop from New Orleans killed 112 persons in the nation's worst single-airplane disaster. The plane was attempting to land at Kennedy International Airport.

The tapes of the exchange between the pilot of a Flying Tiger DC8 cargo jet and the control tower, made public Monday by Federal Aviation Administration officials, include this exchange:

"I just highly recommend that you change the runways and, ah, land northwest," the pilot of the Flying Tiger DC8 cargo jet warned. "You have such a tremendous wind shear down near, ah, near the ground on the final approach."

The tower replied that its instruments showed the runway that the New Orleans jet was to use was the proper one under weather conditions at that time. "O.K. We're indicating wind right down the runway at 15 knots when you landed," the air traffic controller said.

The Flying Tiger pilot snapped: "I don't care what you're indicating. I'm just telling you that there's such a wind shear on the final on that runway, you should change it to the northwest."

A wind shear is the violent movement of two adjacent layers of air in different directions.

Seconds after the Flying Tiger pilot's warning, Eastern Airlines Flight 902, an L1011 jumbo jet, pulled up when only 100 feet off the ground rather than land in the strong winds. One report said the jet missed the approach light stanchions by no more than 20 feet.

The pilot of Flight 902 gave the tower a detailed account of the missed landing and the treacherous air currents and diverted to Newark Airport where he landed safely. Shortly after the jumbo jet went to Newark, a Finnair DC8 and a small, twin-engine propeller plane landed safely on runway 22 left. Flight 66 was still miles from the airport.

At about 4 p.m., the ill-fated Eastern flight 66, a Boeing 727 carrying 124 persons, requested landing instructions.

The controller responded, "O.K. Eastern 66. Turn left, heading 220. Did you copy that, sir?"

"That's affirmative," the Eastern pilot, Capt. John Kleven, answered.

The tower cleared the approach to Runway 22 Left.

A few seconds before 4:04 p.m., Kleven, apparently concerned about runway wetness, asked, "Got any report on braking action for 66?"

At 15 seconds after 4:04, the controller replied, "No, none. Approach end of the runway is wet and I'd say about the first half is wet but we've had no adverse reports."

At 4:05 p.m., a half-mile from the runway, Eastern Flight 66 tore through several approach light stanchions, rose momentarily, hit more stanchions, flipped over and exploded in a ball of fire.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You'll be lucky today with social contacts but you could generate sparks with a business associate or on the home front.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Ideas others try to impose upon you today aren't necessarily in your best interests. Do things the way you feel they should be done.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Continue to treat your purse with respect today. Stay abreast of your current obligations. Avoid making new ones.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You'll fare better in commercial dealings today if you bar those who have no business being there. Deal only with those involved.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Though your motives will be honorable today, one who likes to make problems will try to distort your intent.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If you want others to share, you'll first have to put on the line some of what you're holding back.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You'll be involved in a venture with two friends. Each will pull in a different direction. You may end up with a giraffe instead of a horse.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) If working with unfamiliar materials, be extra-careful. Test your procedures as you go. You could be very wasteful.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Usually you can count on Lady Luck to bail you out of tight spots. Today, she isn't all that reliable.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Don't neglect important home projects. If you sweep them under the rug, they'll haunt you later at an embarrassing moment.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Be sure you're able to back any oral claims today. Someone is waiting to challenge you.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You'll still have to resist temptation to spend frivolously. Pick up that new dress later, at a better bargain.

Dr. Lamb

Is low iron the real problem?

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—I need some help for an iron deficiency or iron poor blood. Some doctors call it a low blood count when they sample blood from the finger.

I'm 35, female, 5 feet 4 inches, and weigh 140 pounds. To the best of my knowledge I am in excellent health except for iron poor blood. I have had this condition for the last 16 years. Is this something I will have to live with?

I have very little energy, stay tired and lifeless much of the time. I have nothing like the energy I should have for a woman my age. I have to push myself to do my housework.

Iron capsules help greatly, but they cause me to have an enormous appetite. If I were to continue taking them regularly I would gain several pounds which I do not want or need. I do not eat very many red meats, so-called blood builders. I do not care for meats much. Sometimes I eat red meats and take iron capsules just long enough to get to feeling well. I feel fine for about three weeks until it is time for my menstrual period, then it starts all over again.

What would cause me to have iron poor blood? Is there an organ in my body that does not function properly? What should I do to build my blood and restore the necessary iron?

DEAR READER—There are many causes for that old tired feeling and iron deficiency is only one. Before expecting too much from taking iron, you should let your doctor decide whether that is really your problem.

Iron deficiency anemia is common throughout the world, but it occurs in modern industrialized nations in women of the childbearing age, and is commonly attributed to recurrent loss of blood from menstruation, so you are in the right age group.

Persistent blood loss from any location can induce iron deficiency because of loss of iron in the red blood cells. A person bleeding from the digestive tract or persistent loss of blood from hemorrhoids may become iron deficient.

You need iron for all the cells of the body. It is necessary to form hemoglobin in the red blood cells to carry oxygen. You need the oxygen to break down your food in the cells and release food energy. Failure to do this leads to fatigue. Iron is an important part of enzymes in the cell used to accomplish the breakdown. Without adequate iron, the bone marrow slows down and quits forming enough red blood cells. Those that are formed may be lacking in adequate amounts of iron.

For more information on iron deficiency anemia and how it affects you, write to me in care of this newspaper, Radio City Station, P.O. Box 1551, New York NY 10019, and ask for The Health Letter number 4-4 on Iron and Anemia. Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50 cents for mailing and costs.

Women between the ages of 11 through the menopause need about 18 milligrams of iron in the diet each day. Even if it does stimulate your appetite, feeling better often leads to eating better.

When iron pots were commonly used for cooking, they were a major source of iron in food. Modern utensils have eliminated this important source. Liver is a good source of iron. Meat is a fair source as is fish, especially sardines. Spinach, mature beans and various cereals with added iron are good sources. Most women in the childbearing years would do well to use a daily vitamin tablet that contains iron unless they are very sure their diet includes sufficent iron to meet their needs.

Few Jews Alcoholics

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Alcoholism strikes only one-half of one per cent of U.S. Jews as compared with a rate of 7.1 per cent for all Americans, university researchers here report.

"Jews drink, there's no doubt about that, but they just don't become alcoholics," said Rabbi Rudolph Adler of Orlando, who participated in the research project.

Dr. Charles M. Unkovic, chairman of the sociology department at Florida Technological University, said the study represented the first survey of Jewish alcoholism in 20 years and "surprisingly the numbers haven't changed."

Translating the percentages into numbers, Unkovic said the study found one out every 200 Jews is an alcoholic, while the incidence of alcoholism among the general population is one in 14.

"We didn't know what we would find when we started," Unkovic said. "No studies have been done in 20 years and some Jews he interviewed said they thought it would be much higher."

The study attributed the low rate of alcoholism among Jews to the solidarity of the Jewish community, close family ties and the fact that wine is a religious symbol and is first drunk early in life.

"There is an emphasis on family life in the Jewish religion," Rabbi Adler said. "If someone has problems, he turns to another member of his family and not to the bottle."

The study also concluded that what alcoholism there is among Jews can be traced to either a breakdown in family life or religious beliefs.

Gas Rate Hike Effective Today

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Lone Star Gas Co.'s 9.8-cent rate increase went into effect today, affecting four million residential and commercial customers in 470 cities, towns and villages.

The increase ordered by the Texas Railroad Commission is for each thousand cubic feet (mcf) of natural gas.

Monthly bills are expected to go up by 78 cents for the average residential customer and $1.96 for the average commercial customer.

In addition to setting a gate rate charge of $1.0399 per mcf, the three-member commission said Monday the "public interest requires the continuation of a gas cost adjustment rule due to the rapidly spiraling cost of gas."

The order permits Lone Star to automatically pass on 85 per cent of any increase over 72.29 cents per mcf that the company must pay for natural gas. The company could adjust its prices monthly, rather than on a six-month basis as it does now.

Lone Star filed for a rate increase Jan. 20, and the commission granted a temporary 8.83-cent hike May 2, to 94.19 cents per mcf.

The commission then sought an increase to $1.21, and more than 100 cities, towns and villages in the Texas Utilities Advisory Council opposed the application, asking the commission to hold the rate at 94.19 cents.

The increase granted by the agency is 10.4 per cent above what the council had recommended and 13.8 per cent below what Lone Star had requested.

The commission order is designed to give Lone Star an 8 per cent return on a company investment of $162 million.

In addition to the new 1.0399-cent rate, the commission instructed 18 cities to pay 4 cents more per mcf so the company can recoup alleged losses it suffered when the cities refused to pay higher costs which the company had tried to pass on earlier.

The costs, the commission noted, were the result of rising prices charged Lone Star by Lo-Vaca Gas Gathering Co. for natural gas.

The cities, and the amounts they allegedly owe, include Gainesville $47,260; Saint Joe $3,665; Mexia $18,721; Bonham $25,470; Sulphur Springs $37,690; Irving $278,594; Flowe Mound $1,720; Watauga $9,531; Granbury $8,822; Burkburnett $27,145; Electra $13,538; Quanah $17,658; Vernon $44,491; Wellington $13,413; Wichita Falls $283,965; Lewisville $38,537; Richardson $178,352; and Grand Prairie $144,526.

Six To Be Sentenced July 18

DALLAS (AP) — Six men found guilty in federal court here Monday of gambling charges connected with a betting business which allegedly grossed $2,000 per day will be sentenced July 18.

John Eli Stone, 62, of Dallas, could receive a seven-year prison term and $30,000 in fines from U.S. District Court Judge Sarah Hughes. Stone was found guilty of owning part of the gambling business which operated out of a North Dallas restaurant and of making a phone call to Las Vegas in order to transmit betting odds and information.

Richard Carl Biggs, 61, of Dallas was found guilty on one count of owning and operating part of the gambling operation. He could receive five years in prison and $20,000 in fines.

Four men who were found guilty of transmitting wagering information by phone between Dallas and Las Vegas face two years in prison and $10,000 in fines, according to Asst, U.S. Atty. Robert Prather.

They are James Williams Winningham, 52, of Dallas; Anthony Paul Daidone, 52, of Dallas; Ruben Goldstein, 38, of Las Vegas; and John Dayton Ritter, 69, of Oklahoma City.

Child Mauled By Pet Lion

HOUSTON (AP) — Steven Bloom, 6, remained in good condition today after being mauled by his pet lion.

Steven underwent surgery Sunday at a Houston hospital after he suffered lacerations to the face and scalp.

Adele Bloom, the child's mother, said the boy was playing with the six-month old 65-pound African lion named Sheba in the back yard of their home Sunday. She said the boy began teasing the animal and it suddenly charged, clawing the child on the face and head.

Andrew Bloom, the child's father, has been charged with violating a suburban Piney Point ordinance prohibiting wild animals, Village Police Chief Joe M. Schultea said.

The first safety matches were invented in 1844 by Gustave E. Pasch, a Swedish chemist. John Lundstrom, a Swedish manufacturer, in 1852 started making them in large quantities.

Ann Landers Getting Divorce

By CHRIS J. HARPER
Associated Press Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Syndicated columnist Ann Landers, the personal problem-solver for millions of American newspaper readers, says she and her husband of 36 years are getting a divorce.

"The lady with all the answers does not know the answer to this one," the 57-year-old Miss Landers said in today's column in her home newspaper, the Chicago Sun-Times.

The columnist, whose actual name is Esther Lederer, wrote: "The sad, incredible fact is that after 36 years of marriage Jules and I are being divorced. As I write these words, it is as if I am referring to a letter from a reader. It seems unreal that I am writing about my own marriage."

Mrs. Lederer, who writes for Field Newspapers Syndicate of Chicago, was married to her husband, Jules W. Lederer, on July 2, 1939. Until recently, Lederer was chairman of the board of Budget Rent-A-Car Corp. in Chicago.

Miss Landers did not divulge the reason for the divorce, and she asked readers not to write or call for details.

Neither she nor her husband were available for comment.

The couple has a daughter, Margo, who formerly wrote a column for several Chicago newspapers.

In the 20 years Miss Landers has written the column, several articles have centered upon the close relationship she has had with her husband. In 1969, a column celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary.

"That we are going our separate ways is one of life's strangest ironies. How did it happen that something so good for so long didn't last forever?" she asked in today's column.

She said the column was "the most difficult column I ever have written, but also it is the shortest."

About four inches of blank space followed the announcement, "as a memorial to one of the world's best marriages that didn't make it to the finish line."

More than 700 newspapers carry the column, and it has an estimated readership of 54 million persons in the United States. A recent Gallup Poll showed that Miss Landers was one of the 20 most admired women in the nation.

Ben Franklin said, "You may delay, but time will not."

Higher costs are pushing up the price of electricity.

Here's how you can hold down your air conditioning costs:

1. Set thermostat at 78 degrees—the lower the setting the more electricity the unit uses.
2. Replace disposable or clean permanent type filters as needed—clogged filters make the unit work harder and use more electricity.
3. Provide adequate attic ventilation—this helps reduce heat buildup.
4. Install proper duct, ceiling and wall insulation and weatherstrip windows and doors—keep hot air out, cool air in. This helps reduce winter heating costs too.
5. Shade the outdoor unit from the sun but keep the unit free of grass or other obstructions that might prevent proper air circulation.
6. Keep windows and fireplace dampers closed—this prevents excessive loss of cool air and infiltration of hot air.
7. Shade windows from direct sunlight with awnings, blinds or draperies—this reduces the load on the unit.

Even though it's costing more, the electricity that's helping keep you cool this summer is still a good value. While the cost of living has increased 68% in the past 10 years, the price of electricity is up only about 25%.

CARRY MAG WHEELS—Tommy Lay, an employe of Central Tire Service, 1510 Twenty-fifth Street, looks over three types of Superior Super Mag wheels that Central carries now. They fit both drum and disc brakes and have universal application. For further information call Central at 573-3567.

Central Tire Service Offers Superior Road Wheels Here

Central Tire Service, 1510 Twenty-fifth Street, is now carrying Superior Road Wheels of various types.

Included among Superior's best sellers are the Superlug Mag Wheels, Chrome Reverse Wheels and Typhoon Superlug Wheels.

Both the Superlug Mag Wheels and the Typhoon Superlug Steel Dish Wheel have several things in common. They fit both drum and disc brakes, have Universal application (Ford, G.M. and Chrysler products), do not require inserts or adaptors and conform to all applicable safety standards. The Typhoon Superlug Steel Dish Wheel is brilliantly polished and nickel chrome plated.

Superior's new and unique Superlug Aluminum Mag Wheels are precision drilled to fit three different bolt circle patterns: 4½, 4¾ and 5-inch. Superlug wheels are available for use on most all domestic and foreign models. Superlug Lug Nuts lock wheel into absolutely positive position, radially and diametrically, in one of the three multiple positions selected, without the use of additional inserts, spacers, adaptors or special alignment hardware.

The chrome reverse wheels for disc and drum brakes are available in popular sizes: 13-inch, 14-inch and 15-inch diameters, 5½ inch to 10-inch widths plus 7-inch, 8-inch and 10-inch widths for regular and wide oval tires.

Central Tire Service also carries lug nuts for these wheels.

"If we don't have the type of Superior Mag wheel you want, we can order it for you," said Tommy Lay, an employe of the firm.

Central also carries new and used tires in just about any size that you could want, and their prices are reasonable.

Need a motor tuneup before you go on vacation? Central Tire has experienced, trained mechanics who will be glad to check your car out before you go on a long trip. Central also can give your engine a Nitro 9 treatment.

Man Awarded $500,000 In Malpractice Suit

HOUSTON (AP) — A district court jury has awarded $500,000 in damages to a Louisiana man who claimed he lost his right eye due to errors by anesthesiologists during an operation here in 1972.

The jury of 10 women and two men awarded the sum to Bob D. Libby, 44, of Bossier City, La., Monday after deliberating nearly four hours. The jury heard one week of testimony in District Judge W. Ervin James' state court.

Jurors found that Dr. G. E. Cezeaux, the chief anesthesiologist during the operation, "negligently failed to administer an adequate dosage of proper anesthetic" to keep the plaintiff unconscious.

The suit alleged that Libby, an insurance company executive and a former Houston resident, woke up during the eye operation.

It alleged Libby's movements were "so violent that the retracting sutures took his eyelid from his body and he was caused to suffer a hemorrhage which contributed to the total loss of sight to his right eye."

Libby, who now wears an eye patch, testified he did not remember anything during the operation.

The jury's verdict cleared the hospital and attending surgeon and placed the responsibility with Cezeaux and 12 other partners in an association of doctors.

The suit sought $1.2 million.

EASY TO APPLY—All you have to do is brush on Johnston's No-Roach to rid your house of crawling bugs, such as cockroaches, ants, spiders and silverfish.

No-Roach Destroys Population Explosion Of Crawling Pests

Fourteen babies a day!!! Frightening, isn't it?

But that is the birth rate of a single female cockroach. It is hoped that there is no such population explosion in your home, but if you see one roach, or one ant, or one spider, beware! There are plenty of relatives nearby.

Don't spray these bugs to death, one by one. Buy the best preventative and the most effective bug killer on the market today—Johnston's No-Roach.

No-Roach is effective against all crawling insects—ants, cockroaches, spiders and silverfish and one application stays effective for months.

It is clean and easy to use. Just brush the colorless, odorless coating where you want it. No-Roach dries quickly to form an invisible film that stays effective for months. Brush Johnston's No-Roach in cabinets, on baseboards, door sills, window frames and wherever you see roaches and ants. Use No-Roach and forget about bugs for months.

In the Snyder area you can get Johnston's No-Roach at Furr's Piggly Wiggly, Safeway, Everybody's, Rainbow and all grocery stores. It is distributed by Kimbell.
