COOLIDGE IS OBJECTIVE OF ENEMY DARTS

Democrat of Mississippi Accuses President of Deserting Friends

DECLINES TO HELP

Declares Chief Executive Has Real Fight on In Vermont

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(AP)—President Coolidge was the target today for the darts of Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, who declared in the senate that he had failed to stand by loyal senate supporters.

"The spokesman for the White House ,otherwise known as President Calvin Coolidge, announced some time ago that the president would take no part in republican primaries," the Mississippi senator began.

"He refused to be drawn into the Illinois primary and stood by and saw Senator McKinley, who had stood by him through storm and strife, go down in defeat. The newspapers said he opposed Senator Watson in Indiana, but he came through anyway with a handsome majority."

Emerson declared the President had not endorsed Senators Stanfield of Oregon, Shortridge of California, Cummins of Iowa and other "good and loyal supporters," but had endorsed Senator Pepper of Pennsylvania.

"Secretary Mellon, who is the other White House spokesman if there are two, in a speech in Pennsylvania, declared Senator Pepper had the endorsement of the Coolidge administration, he added.

"No wonder you senators who have ever dared to oppose the President are trembling in your boots. Senator Dale dared to oppose Coolidge when he voted for the soldiers' bonus and now he has a real fight in Vermont where he is opposed by a former governor, who is a law partner of Attorney General Sargent and announces he stands for the Coolidge policies."

PHILIPPINES PARCHED

Temperature Seaches Mark of 108 Exceeded But Twice.

MANILA, May 17.—(AP)—The Philippines are being parched with heat and drouth. The temperature today reached 100.8, which has been exceeded only twice since the American occupation began in 1898.

A long period without rain has caused an acute shortage of fresh water, threatening serious consequences. Manila has been almost without rain for five months.

THE WEATHER

Local weather conditions for the past 24 hours, as reported by the Wichita Falls Electric company bureau: Maximum temperature, 90 degrees; minimum, 58; at 5 p. m. Monday, 85; no precipitation; south at breeze; partly cloudy; average wind velocity, 9 miles per hour; maximum wind velocity, 14 miles per hour; barometer, 28.64.

OKLAHOMA and WEST TEXAS: Tuesday and Wednesday partly cloudy to cloudy.

EAST TEXAS: Tuesday and Wednesday partly cloudy, probably scattered showers; light to fresh southerly winds on the coast.

Aesthetic Dancing Is Opposed By Waco Ministers As Method Of Raising Community Chest Money

TEXAS HONORS BEAUTY QUEEN

Bevy of Fairest Daughters Are Paid Homage By Thousands

Special to The Record News.

GALVESTON, May 17.—In a brilliant flood of myriad colored incandescents, amid the flare of music and applause of a multitude of visitors gathered at the Garden of Tokio to do homage to the "Beauty Queen of the Universe," Miss Catherine Moylan of Dallas, the prizes in the first International Pageant of Pulchritude and Seventh Annual Bathing Girl Revue were awarded here tonight. The Queen was surrounded on the dias by the beauties who participated in the contest. She was presented with a check for $2,000 and a large silver plaque of a mermaid. At the same time being proclaimed the Beauty Queen of the Universe.

Holds Title For Year.

This title she will bear until a fair competitor displaces her at the pageant to be held here next year. Following the pretentious ceremonies of the coronation, dancing was enjoyed by a crowd that filled the garden of Tokio to overflowing.

Miss Frances Rutledge of Wichita Falls was captivating in her evening gown of pea green chiffon over pink silk crepe, made with pin tucks and dainty laces. She was very chic in a black swimming suit at the parade Sunday afternoon and during the judging that evening at Menard Park. Miss Frances Oden who came as "Miss Wichita County," though not a winner, attracted much admiration for her pleasing personality. She was delighted that even though she did not carry away a trophy, her city city representative and co-partner in the review did.

Friend Wins, Anyhow.

Miss Rutledge exclaimed with pleasure when told she had been numbered among those winning. She was especially pleased that her friend "Ginger," Miss Moylan, had taken first place. "Miss Wichita Falls" and "Miss Wichita County" with other of the bathing beauties will leave in the morning on a special interurban for Houston where they will be the guests of the Hotel Greeters association for the day and a public ball at the End-O-Main dance hall in the evening. The guests of the day will be accommodated at the Rice hotel.

A short automobile ride over the city will follow the luncheon. They will then be the guests of Manager Ed Bremer at the Majestic Theatre for a box party. The welcome dinner will be held in the evening at the Brazos Court, when the visitors, their chaperons and visiting newspaper representatives will be the guests of the day. From the Brazos the guests will go to the End-O-Main where an elaborate program will presented in their honor.

The girls will leave for their various homes Wednesday morning.

WACO, May 17.—(AP)—Waco community chest officials are mum on the objection raised by local pastors to a show which the chest proposes to put on Saturday night to raise an $8,000 deficit. "I don't care to be quoted in the matter, at least for the present," was the statement of A. M. Goldstein, chairman of hte community chest advisory committee. A meeting of the committee will be held Tuesday morning.

The pastors' association here objects to the show because it brings all of the institutions assisted by the community chest into a compromising attitude.

The resolution adopted by the pastors' association at its meeting Monday further stated that the "community chest is supported in the main by Christian people who do not believe in this proposed scheme, and it seems evident to us that if such shall be carried out it will be impossible for us in the future to co-operate with its work."

Aesthetic dances are advertised as the features of the proposed show, and it is to this that the local preachers object. They declared at the meeting that they were unanimously opposed to the program because of the feature. They declared themselves in favor of the community chest.

Speaker Tells Health Workers They Should Band Themselves Together

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 17. (AP)—A plea to health workers to organize themselves for health work rather than against specific disease, in one organization, instead of many, was made before 8,500 members of 15 national volunteer associations hee tonight by Dr. Lee K. Frankel, chairman of the national health council.

Addressing the opening session of the first American health congress ever held, Dr. Frankel virtually proposed that it should be the last, his speech advocating the elimination of the various health organizations befort him.

TO SURVEY TRINITY

Federal Engineers Will Investigate Flood Control

FORT WORTH, May 17.—(AP)—Success in their efforts to have a survey made of the Trinity by the government for flood control was reported today by Major John B. Hawley, consulting engineer for the Tarrant county water control and improvement association, on his return from Washington. He was accompanied by Ireland Hampton, also of Fort Worth.

Hawley's conference with the board of rivers and harbors engineers at the capital lasted less than an hour.

POLICE STILL RECOVER LOOT MONDAY NIGHT

15 Charges of Theft Filed Against Men And Women

MORE COMING TUESDAY

Additional Complaints Will Probably be Filed Today

Arrest of three more alleged members of Wichita Falls' theft and "fence" ring, recovery of an additional large amount of stolen property, and the filing of charges in the state courts naming fifteen on counts of theft and receiving and concealing stolen property constituted Monday's developments in the crusade of the city police and the constable's department against a band thought to have been responsible for much theft complaints here recently.

Property recovered by the police early Monday evening consisted of a large number of automobile casings and cigarettes. Included in the three arrested was a man who said he was acting as a special officer in the investigation of automobile thefts. He claimed to be carrying a special commission as a deputy sheriff. Charges will probably be morning, it was said Monday night by officials of the district attorney's office.

Those named in charges filed Monday are E. G. Browner, C. L. Wicks, alias C. L. Taylor: P. R. Cook; C. H. Jackson, Annie Fletcher, Rose Melburn; J. M. Blair; R. M. Taylor; Mrs. R. M. Taylor: R. O. Miller, Mrs. R. O. Miller; George Etoech; G. S. Ellis; J. B. Fletcher, and J. J. Cobb.

City police were busy throughout Monday in the conduct of investigations following which the charges were filed. An almost constant stream of visitors from Byers, Goree, Iowa Park, Electra and other surrounding towns, and from Wichita Falls itself were present throughout the day to identify goods stolen from them during the past three months. The police court room, stacked with automobile casings resembled the interior of a garage; the office of George Hodgins, chief of police, laden ceiling high with cartons of cigarets, firearms of various and sundry nature, clothes, etc., looked much like the interior of a rural general merchandise store. Much of this had been cleaned out late Monday, however.

District Attorney Ben P. Allred and his two assistants, Harry Bishop and Sam Spence, pronounced themselves well satisfied with developments late Monday. Arrests and recovery of loot have been participated in by most every momber of the city police force and the constable's department, it is stated.

A prediction that still further arrests would be made today was made late Monday by Police Chief George Hodgins, who stated that there is still other leads in the investigation to be followed.

Attorney Quits When Slayer Is Fined Small Sum

Assistant to Prosecutor Desires to Escape Blame In Sentence

ST. LOUIS, May 17.—(AP)—Assistant Circuit Attorney John F. Bowcock, who appeared for the state May 5, and recommended that William Allen Scott Rutherford, army reserve officer of Pine Bluff, Ark., be let off with a $500 fine for killing a St. Louis hotel bell boy, today tendered his resignation to Circuit Attorney Howard Sidener.

Bowcock said he had disagreed with Sidener's policy in handling the Rutherford case and desired to escape any blame arising from disposition of the case.

Circuit Judge George Mix, in whose court Rutherford was fined, said he would not ask a grand jury investigation as a result of reported statements by John Rutherford at Pine Bluff, that he had spent $14,000 to bring about his brother's release.

FREE REFUGEES ON WAR CHARGE

Indictment Alleging Foment Of Mexican Revolution Quashed

SAN ANTONIO, May 17.—(AP) Omission of one word in a federal grand jury indictment jointly charging eight Mexican political refugees with conspiracy to violate the neutrality law resulted today in a virtual quashing of the indictment.

Because the indictment failed to set forth that the defendants "knowingly" plan to set on foot a military expedition against Mexico, Federal District Judge Duval West announced that he would sustain objections of the defense counsel. The defendants' attorneys contended and the judge agreed that the word "knowingly" must preced that specification in order for the government to allege a crime.

The eight men, some of whom before their indictment on February 18, admitted membership in the "revolutionary junta of San Antonio" formed here last September, were Alfonso de La Huerta, brother of Adolfo de La Huerta, one-time president of Mexico; General Francisco Coss, who entered Mexico City with Carranza several years ago; Antonio Hernandez Ferrer, forth Mexican minister to Cuba; R. Esparaza Martinez, former secretary of the Mexican chamber of deputies; Jorge Prieto Laurens; Salvador Urias, Lorenzo Nieto and Leovigildo Garcia.

All maintained that the junta were merely a propaganda organization and that their activities were entirely peaceful and lawful.

Judge West, in addition to upholding defense contentions respecting the indictment remarked that the acts of the defendants, as alleged in that document, did not show intention to send an armed expedition into Mexico to overthrow the Calles government.

Federal District Attorney Hartman after the judge announced his decision asked an order to put the eight men under new bonds, but upon objection of defense attorneys Judge West said he would withhold his formal ruling on the motion to quash until next Monday. Meantime the district attorney may file new charges against each of the eight before the United States commissioner, but the week's time would give them opportunity to arrange new bonds.

ROBE FOR PRINCESS

Laces of King George and Prince of Wales For New Princess

LONDON, May 17.—(AP)—The new baby princess, daughter of the Duke and Duchess of York, will wear the christening robe of old lace in which the Prince of Wales and King George were christened.

The christening will take place probably some time late this month at the chapel royal, St. James, and the archbishop of Canterbury will most likely perform the ceremony. The baby's name was officially registered today as Elizabeth Alexandria Mary.

Wichita Falls Attorney Sees In Pilsudski of Poland Replica Of Italy's New Caesar, Mussolini

AUSTIN, May 17.—(AP)—Marshall Pilsudski, successful revolutionary leader of Poland, is a strong and able leader, Harwood Stacy, son of General W. H. Stacy, and an attorney of Wichita Falls, said here today.

Mr. Stacy became acquainted with Pilsudski in Warsaw in July, 1919, when the present power of Poland was a colonel of cavalry and had served with Austria in the world war. Stacy first was with the Red Cross and later in the diplomatic service in Warsaw.

Pilsudski won public favor when he posed as a Russian general and visited the several prisons where a number of Poles were in jail, held by Czar Nicholas as spies and liberated all of them, Stacy said. His exploits, as commander in chief of the forces battling the bolsheviks brought him further glory.

According to Mr. Stacy, Pilsudski, being the ranking leader and the strongest military officer in country, seized the reins at an opportune time and decided to rule or ruin. Stacy said, it will be years before Poland can set up a successful republic because the peasants are in the majority.

Pilsudski, like Mussolini, Stacy said, will rule well for a time, because, at heart he is an honest man, but it is very probable that another leader will rise and seize momentary control of the country. This will be the melting pot of Poland's transformation into a republic.

MA IS URGED TO CALL BOND ISSUE SESSION

Colorado to Gulf Highway Association Asks Validation

MEET IN BOWIE

Speakers Assert Automobiles Bringing Visitors To Cities

Special to The Record News.

BOWIE, May 17.—A resolution urging Governor Miriam Ferguson to call a special session of the legislature to validate Texas road bonds was included in several passed here this afternoon when committee activities of the Colorado-to-Gulf Highway association were started. The fourteenth annual convention of the association opened Monday morning with hundreds of delegates and visitors swarming the streets of Bowie. It was one of the largest attendances to ever turn out for such a meeting officials said.

The convention opened with a parade through the Bowie business streets, J. Allen Wykoff of Clayton, N. M., called the session to order in the auditorium of the Bowie high school where headquarters are being maintained.

Welcomed by Mayor

Addresses of welcome were given by Mayor Chancellor and Judge Paul Dogald of Bowie, while the responses were made Judge C. G. Welch of Quanah and C. H. Walker of Dalhart.

One of the first addresses of the day was that of E. E. Jackson, representing the Colorado Springs chamber of commerce, who told the delegates of some of the work his organization was doing for the promotion of tourist trade. He stated that four out of every five visitors to his city came via automobile, and that Colorado Springs this year has raised a fund of $61,000 to attract this element.

Other addresses during the day included one from Raymond Torrey of the United States National Parke bureau; V. W. St. John of Mena, Ark., and a short talk by Capt. Frye of Dalias, a member of the Texas state park board. Mr. Torrey spoke approvingly of the development of state park lands in Texas, while Mr. St. John recounted some of the hard road development being made in Arkansas.

Committees Named

The afternoon session of the convention was taken up with business discussions and appointments of committees. The latter included: Auditing, Ira Pennington, Clayton, N. M., E. E. Jackson, Colorado Springs; nominations, Ed McRae, Fort Worth; A. T. Holcomb, Clarendon; J. P. Reed, Memphis; resolutions, C. G. Welch, Quanah; A. B. Spencer, Fort Worth; C. C. Cates, Decatur; credentials, Fred Robinson, Waco; Fred Young, Bowie; Mrs. Reynolds, Raton, N. M.

Rabbit races scheduled to have been held Monday afternoon as one of the entertainment features of the convention were moved up to Tuesday when it was found all the bunnies had found a hole in their pen during Sunday night and were enjoying Montague county's wide open space. A new supply was being rounded up Tuesday afternoon.

MA WILL ANNOUNCE DECISION THIS WEEK.

AUSTIN, May 17.—(AP)—Following the conference today with the citizens validating committee which requested an immediate call for a special session of the legislature in September to validate $80,000,000 in Texas district road bonds, Governor Miriam A. Ferguson said she will make an announcement this week of her decision.

The governor said that she had not had an opportunity to complete her study of the proposed measure submitted and until she had that she would not make a decision. The bills have been submitted to disinterested attorneys for their opinion, it was learned.

J. A. Kemp of Wichita Falls, chairman of the committee said he felt sure the governor would call the special session for September, which would have the effect of stabilizing the Texas bond market.

TOO MUCH THEOLOGY

Minister Declares Students Not Learning Enough Science

CHICAGO, May 17.—(AP)—Theological students, preparing themselves for the ministry, are being taught the Bible too much to the exclusion of science, economics, sociology and similar subjects, Rev. A. Eustance Hayden, professor of comparative religion at the University of Chicago, told the western unitarian conference today.

Advocating the teaching of more modern topics in place of some of the time spent in teaching the Bible, the speaker expressed the belief that half of the time of the course is too much to be devoted solely to Bible study.

MEXICAN TRAIN WRECKED

MEXICO CITY, May 17.—(AP) The train which was wrecked near Pachuca yesterday was carrying troops, from Pachuca to Ixminquilpan, it was learned today. Ten men are reported to have been killed and thirty injured. A military relief train has been sent to the scene.

School Paper Editors Feel Censor's Hand

Entire Staff Suspended Following Publication Of 'Jokes'

PULLMAN, Wash., May 17—(AP) Seven members of the editorial staff of the Evergreen, Wash., state college tri-weekly paper were under suspension from their office today because of publication in the Pellow Jacket, a joke sheet of the local chapter of sigma delta chi, national journalistic fraternity of matter characterized by college officials as "vile and insulting."

Several jokes and criticisms of the college administration's alleged use of "stool pigeons" were cited as objectionable.

DRY MEASURE FIGHT RENEWED

Wets And Antis Begin Attack on Legislation And Changes

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(AP) The battle between the wets and the drys in the senate was renewed today with the formal reporting of the administration's new dry law enforcement bill from the judiciary committee.

In presenting the measure, Chairman Means of the sub-committee which held extended hearings on the prohibition question declared it was based upon the experience of that department in enforcing the Volstead act.

Coincident with the submission of the committee report, Senator Edge, republican, New Jersey, a leader of the wets issued a statement in which be asserted that the new measure was a direct and unmistakable "admission that the Volstead act can never be enforced."

He added that the proposed amendments to that act indirectly encouraged law violations.

Senator Means expects to call up the bill in the near future, but the wets predict that it will not be passed at this session. They plan to offer as amendments to the bill which they have introduced for modification of the Volstead law.

State's $50,000,000 Oil Suit Continued

AUSTIN, May 17.—(AP)—The state's $50,000,000 land and oil suit against R. F. Blaffer et all late today was continued until the October term by Judge George Calhoun of the 53rd district court. The continuance was granted on application of the Texas company and the Louisiana Oil & Refining company, two of the approximately 60 defendants.

The state seeks to recover 658 acres in the heart of the Humble oil field and asks an accounting for the oil produced during the past 18 years. Mrs. Gertrude Goldmann of Houston has intervened and filed a cross bill, claiming 528 acres of the land involved. The state contends that the 658 acres is a "vacancy" and not included in any existing survey.

ROTC Camps Are To Be Consolidated

SAN ANTONIO, May 17.—(AP)—With discontinuance of R. O. T. C. encampments at forts Logan, Bliss and Crockett, more than six hundred students of the Reserve Officers Training Corps will be concentrated at Fort Sam Houston for the 1926 camp which opens July 11 and continues six weeks.

Students of the medical corps, infantry, artillery, engineers and signal corps will be trained here with units of the Second Division in the old Camp Travis area. The air service contingent will be detailed to Kelly Field and the cavalry units to Fort Clark.

CHANGE DATES

Highway Department Withholds Contracting for Paving.

AUSTIN, May 17.—(AP)—Three changes in contracting letting dates were announced today by by the highway department. Contract for grading 19 miles on highway 94 in Trinity county will be let June 14, instead of June 5; for grading and bridging five miles on highway 65 in Camp county, June 21, instead of June 12 and grading and bridging of eight-tenths of a mile on highway 65 in Titus county June 22 instead of June 12.

MOTHER ALSO INJURED WHEN CARS COLLIDE

Earl And James Miller Victims In Crash Late Monday

AT 14TH, HOLLIDAY

Family Auto Collides With Gravel Truck at Intersection

Earl Miller, aged 4, his brother, James Albert, aged 2, and his mother, Mrs. F. E. Miller, are in the Hargrave-Walker hospital, the first two believed to be in a critical condition as a result of injuries sustained at 5:30 Monday afternoon in an automobile crash at Holliday and Fourteenth. The two babies are suffering with internal injuries, possible fractures of the skull and serious cuts and bruises, while their mother, less seriously hurt, also sustained numerous cuts. The husband and father who was driving the car in which his family was riding was uninjured in the accident.

Car Damaged.

The Miller car was practically demolished in the collision with a loaded gravel truck operated by L. E. Whitham and company, paving contractors. The driver of the truck was placed under $500 bond after the accident pending a thorough investigation of the affair. It was stated Monday night at the county attorneys office that no blame has as yet been affixed for the smash-up.

Condition Undetermined.

Earl Miller is the most seriously injured of the party, it was stated last night at the hospital. The exact extent of his hurts had not been determined, but attending physicians stated his condition was extremely serious. His younger brother was also described as being badly hurt. Mrs. Miller was recovering satisfactorily, it was said.

The Miller family resides at 2200 Polk street, although they recently moved to the head of Lake Wichita where Mr. Miller is employed with the Kellogg-Davis Water company.

Pole Concentration Is Worrying Silesia

BRESLAU, Prussian Silesia, May 17.—(AP)—The continued concentration of Polish troops on the Polish-German border is agitating the German Silesian populace. Within the last few days large bodies of troops have been observed in movement, while yesterday all the officers in the Polish reserves were called out in Polish Silesia.

It is feared that within a few days the food supply of Kattowitz and other places will be cut off, as all traffic from Galicia, which is the principal food market and from little Poland has been interrupted.

Jurors Selected For Bank Bandit

SAN ANTONIO, May 17.—(AP) Five Jurors have been selected in the case of Earl Collins, harged with participation in the robbers of the San Antonio National Bank of $19,138 March 30, when the 37th district court adjourned this afternoon.

The venire of 400 men had been exhausted and 200 talesmen were ordered to report tomorrow. It was first announced that 750 veniremen would be called in the case but this was later changed to 400. Many of the veniremen were excused when they declared their conscience would not permit them to bring in a verdict inflicting the death penalty.

MINERS ARE SILENT

British Strikers Not Disposed to Accept Premier's Terms.

LONDON, May 17.—(AP)—The mine owners have not yet indicated whether they are disposed to accept Premier Baldwin's plan for the rehabilitation of the mining industry. Both miners and mine owners are still considering its bearings and discussing details, and probably little will be definitely known before Friday when the Prime Minister is expected to inform Parliament how matters stand.

"HER MAN"

--By Beatrice Burton--

READ THE FIRST:

SYLVIA STARR has been engaged to RANDALL PHELPS for a year when he asks her to free him, because he's fallen in love with her chum, FAY SHIRLEY.

Heartbroken, Sylvia gives him up, much to the satisfaction of her guardian, AUNT AGONY, who wants her to marry a wealthy bachelor, PETER WILK. Aunt Agony says that Ranny will never be faithful to any woman for very long.

She seems to be right, too, for presently he he drops Fay and marries Sylvia, after all! But their married life is not pleasant, even from the beginning. For Ranny hates to be tied down, and he falls in love with one girl after another. And he gambles and drinks so much, and gives Sylvia so little money for the house that she has to turn music teacher to make both ends meet.

When their first baby, RANNY, JUNIOR, dies of "flu," she has a nervous breakdown and refuses ever to go back to the flat where she and Ranny have lived. He has a hard time persuading her to return to him, for she is sure he doesn't love her or he wouldn't have behaved as he has! But he swears he will never look at another woman, and so Sylvia and he begin their married life anew in the Little White House. A year later their second baby, a girl, is born, and Sylvia feels that her cup of happiness is full.

Then BABS DELANO comes to visit her, and she and Ranny fall in love with each other. Sylvia finds them in each other's arms one night, and goes back to Aunt Agony's house to give Ranny time to think things over. Next day he asks for a divorce and he registers at a hotel, although sylvia cannot reach him on the telephone there. She finds that Babs Delano has left her flat, and wonders if she is with Ranny. Sylvia decides to get a lawyer and start suit at once. She calls Peter from a drug store and asks him to tell her the name of a good lawyer, but he tells her to wait at the store for him, because he must see her at once. She doesn't stay, but goes on home, feeling that she ought not to see Peter, who loves her, while she is still married to Ranny.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER LXIII

Aunt Agony had been watching for her, and she met her at the door.

The second that Sylvia laid eyes on her, she knew that some dreadful thing had happened. Even in the twilight of the gloomy old hall she could see the look of horror that was on her aunt's grim old face.

"The baby! Something's happened to my baby!" she thought. Her fear seemed to draw her heart up into her throat. She could feel herself going cold and shaky all over.

"What's wrong?" she heard her own voice asking, and it sounded if it came from a very long distance.

For once in her extremely talkative life, Aunt Agony had nothing to say. She opened her lips to speak, and then closed and opened them again. But not sound came from them.

Then the parlor door behind her opened, and Fay Carter—of all people to find in Aunt Agony's house!—stood on the threshold, holding Sylvia the second, all safe and sound and warm in her little pink wool blankets. She was making a soft little contented sound from somewhere within her wrappings. So she was all right, at any rate!

"But what's happened?" Sylvia asked again, looking at Fay. For Fay's face showed that same look of horror that was written so plainly on Aunt Agony's. As Sylvia watched her, she came forward and took the evening newspaper out of her hand.

"You haven't seen this thing yet, have you?" she asked, and stepped back out of the draughty hall, with the baby. Sylvia saw her lay the paper on the table under the lamp.

The whole scene was like a picture taken by a slow-motion camera. It seemed to take hours, and yet only a minute had passed since Sylvia had entered the old house.

As she turned now to follow Fay into the parlor, the front door bell rang sharply. Its peal seemed to bring her back to reality.

She swung around to open it.

But Aunt Agony reached it first, and opened it to let in Peter Wilk.

"You didn't wait for me," he began, as he saw Sylvia. But she had no time for him. She turned back into the firelit parlor, and before Fay could stop her she had the evening paper in her hands.

At first she couldn't believe the story that was printed there on the first page, under tall, black headlines. It seemed to her that some writer on the paper must have made it up. And yet there was Ranny's name in the list of people who had been fatally injured in a railroad wreck near Hillsboro, some forty miles east of town, at 1 o'clock that very afternoon.

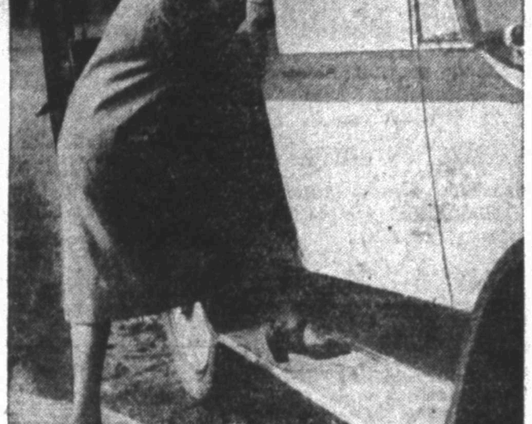

There it was! The first name on the list, "Randall Phelps."

The story must be true. Else how could Ranny's name be there?" She stared at it, fascinated. "Randall Phelps."

Then, just below it, she saw the other name.

"Miss Barbara Delano."

The whole world swayed and waved around her. The lamp seemed to be a sun in a whirling world of purple and black. From far off she heard Peter Wilk's voice saying something, and she felt him lift her into a chair. Then, cold water stung her face like electric needles.

"FATALLY INJURED—FATALLY INJURED"—THE WORDS SAID THEMSELVES OVER AND OVER IN HER FOGGED BRAIN

Gradually Peter's voice became more distinct. He was talking to Fay and Aunt Agony—telling them how he tried to make her wait for him at the drugstore so that he could break the news to her.

"But when I got there she had gone," he said.

"She found the paper on the steps when she came home, but she walked right into the house with it in her hand, and never looked at it," Aunt Agony answered. "The one Fay brought was an extra edition that she had bought down town, and I never dreamed that the story of the wreck would be in our edition! Otherwise, I'd have gone out and got the paper before Sylvia came home. Dear! Dear! They do get things into the papers these days, almost before they've happened! Now what do you suppose Randall Phelps was doing on that train with the Delano creature? Running away?"

"Running away with her? Why, of course he was!" Fay answered promptly. It's too bad this thing couldn't have happened years ago, before he had a chance to wreck Sylvia's life the way he has!"

Peter muttered something under his breath, and Aunt Agony gave a long, hoarse sigh.

"Seems like it was the hand of Fate, striking him down in his sin, doesn't it?" she observed, with relish. Aunt Agony was herself again.

Through her half-closed eyes Sylvia looked from one to another of the three faces. They were solemn and shocked and hard.

"They're upset because Ranny was running away with Babs, but they aren't sorry because he's dying. They think that he got just what he deserves'," she thought, with bitterness.

She felt bitter toward them—these three best friends of hers. She felt as far from them as if they had been the opposite side of the earth. She was as alone in her sorrow as if she were alone in the little room.

For, now that the first shock of the news was over, her sorrow came down upon her like the shadow of black wings. It seemed like the last horror of this awful day.

She sat up and put out her hand for the newspaper. With three pairs of eyes upon her, she read over the story of the wreck again.

"Why, it happened at 1 o'clock," she thought, dazedly. It seemed impossible that while she and Lolly and Mother Phelps had sat eating at the luncheon table, this thing should have happened to Ranny. And how had it happened that he was where it could happen to him, on a speeding train, when he was still registered at the Antlers hotel? And how badly was he hurt?

Through all her vagueness and her bewilderment, one thought began to shape itself in Sylvia's brain.

She was going to Ranny. No matter what he had done to her, he was hers still. And he needed her now, as he never had needed her before. And she was going to him.

She got up from her chair.

"Feel better? Fainted, didn't you? Where are you going? Aunt Agony fired the questions at her like bullets from a machine gun.

Sylvia answered only the last one. She barely heard the other two.

"To Ranny, of course, Aunt Agony," she answered quietly. "You'll take care of the baby for me, won't you?"

But Aunt Agony had no intention of taking care of the baby while Sylvia was with her runaway husband. She had no thought of letting Sylvia go to Ranny at all. Why, what was she thinking of. Had she no pride?

She placed her thin wiry body between Sylvia and the door, barring her path.

"Indeed, you're not going to do any such thing," she declared. "Your beautiful husband left you to be with another woman. He was with her when he was hurt. He had no use for you when he was alive and kicking and now that he's dying he doesn't need to have you."

Sylvia shut her eyes, as if she were in pain. "I'm going to him," she said, dully. But she had never meant anything so much in her life.

"I think if she wants to go, you'd better let her go," Peter said, unexpectedly to Aunt Agony. "There's an eastbound train at 7 o'clock. You can make it. I'll take you to the station."

Sylvia glanced at the clock. Seven o'clock was more than an hour away.

"Fay," she said, turning to her "will you come upstairs and help me throw some things into a bag. You needn't wait, Peter. I can take a cab to the station."

As soon as she and Fay were upstairs she turned to her with imploring eyes. "Fay, have you any money—lots of money? Two or three hundred dollars? I want it."

"I know I haven't." Fay answered, emptying the luxurious contents of her luxurious beaded bag onto the bed. "All I have is eleven dollars. But I'll run across the street and see if Mother has any in the house."

"While you're there, telephone for an automobile for me. I'm going to drive those forty miles," Sylvia said to her, breathlessly. "And, Fay, I'm in a hurry."

All her vagueness was gone now. She felt as clear as crystal. She knew just what she was going to do. She was going to go to go to Ranny, and if there was any way of saving his life, she was going to save it. She wondered if all people whose names were in a list of "fatally injured" really died.

The voice of Aunt Agony shattered her thoughts.

"You're insane to go to Ranny," she said, standing in the doorway and tapping the floor with an angry shoe. "Before I'd run after a man who'd spurned me! What if he is dying? What of it? Doesn't want you, or he'd have sent for you. You're dragging your banners in the dust when you go to him. That's what you're doing."

It all went in at one of Sylvia's ears and out at the other. She wasn't even listening to her aunt. The only thing she heard was the ticking of the clock on the mantel-piece, measuring off the time. How long Fay was! Ten minutes since she had run across the street to her mother's house.

Sylvia snatched up her bag and hurried down the stairs.

"Tell Fay I couldn't wait," she called back to Aunt Agony, as she ran.

Peter came out of the parlor as she reached the bottom step. Sylvia snatched his hand. "Come along, Peter! You're going to drive me to Hillsboro—where Ranny is, aren't you?" she asked him.

She knew he would before she spoke to him.

She sat beside him, silent as a ghost for the first five miles.

"Fatally injured! Fatally injured!" was all she thought, as the miles flashed by. The words said themselves over and over in her brain, with a maddening rhythm.

"Fatally injured! Fatally injured!"

(To Be Continued)

What horrible, heart-rending sight awaits Sylvia's eyes? A sight that will bring out the nobility of Peter Wilk's character and cause Sylvia to look upon him with a new regard.

Chorus of States To Feature Opening Of Sesqui-Centennial

PHILADELPHIA, May 17.—(AP)—A chorus of the States is one of the musical features planned for the Independence Day celebration in connection with the sesqui-centennial of the birth of the Republic in this city.

The Sesqui-Centennial Musical committee, made up of music-loving citizens of the city, plans to have every state in the Union represented and as many local communities as possible. States, cities and communities would select their own singers in quartettes. Communities unable to defray the expense of sending four singers, could combine with neighboring communities in making up the group—representing perhaps a county.

The chorus commimttee will issue membership cards and send the music to be used. There is to be no charge for the music.

Loeb's Sweetheart Robbed of Jewelry

CHICAGO, May 17.—(AP)—Miss Lorraine Nathan, former sweetheart of Richard Loeb and a witness in his behalf at the Lieb-Leopold trial for the Franks murder, was robbed early today as she and her sister, Rosalind, were bidding good night to their escorts in front of their homes.

Lorraine saved an $800 diamond ring by concealing it in her mouth, but the bandits obtained from the quartet a $1000 check, a $3000 motor car, $65 in currency and jewelry worth several hundred dollars.

Northern Italy Flooded By Rain

ROME, May 17.—(AP)—Vast sections of northern Italy or flooded in consequence of torrential rains which fell last night in the wake of a perior of unusually heavy downpours.

Part of the city of Vicenza, 40 miles west of Venice, and scores of towns are under water, many houses being carried away as the Adige, Po and other rivers overflowed their banks.

TWO WOMEN PRAISE SAME MEDICINE

Both Helped by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"After the birth of my little daughter I was very badly run-down. I could not think of going to a hospital, but grew steadily worse, being compelled to stay in bed two or three days each week. A friend of my sister's told of the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done her, and my sister bought me two bottles of it. I had not taken all of one bottle when I was up and able to do some work. I am truly a booster for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and you may use my testimonial."—Mrs. Mayme Lynch, 1119 Island Ave. Ext., McKee's Rocks, Pa.

Mrs. Hope L. Smith, a farmer's wife of Route 3, Floyd, Va., says she was ill for ten years with a good deal of pain in her side and so weak she could hardly work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped her so much she is telling her friends about it.

RETAIL CREDIT MEN HIT LAWS

Assert Exemption And Garnishment Restrictions Hurt Them

DALLAS, May 17.—(AP)—The Texas exemption law, forbidding garnishee of salaries and wages, was assailed here today before credit men of Texas as a breeder of extravagance, a menace to thrift, and contingent of a "tendency to undermine the character of our citizenship."

A report urging changes in the law was submitted by the legislative committee of the Associated Retail Credit Men of Texas, in joint convention here with the Texas Merchants association of Texas and the Retail Secretaries association of Texas.

The exemption law was written into the constitution 50 years ago the report says. "When the habits of the people were simple and a salary of $2,000 yearly was princely."

"In our opinion the continuation of the law will tend to undermine our credit system. Average losses and failures of the merchants of Texas, compare to our detriment with those of other states."

It was recommended that the law be changed to provide "that the wages of married men be exempt up to $125, the single man to $75 and that only 15 per cent above the stipulation exemption be subject to garnishee.

"This law would work no hardship on the poor man, but would form a basis on which the poor man, when in need of credit, would have a legal as well as a moral security acceptable to trades people and his banker," the report adds. A statewide campaign for the modification was recommended. The association official attitude on the proposal probably will be decided in resolutions to be acted on before adjournment Wednesday.

Family Jewelry Pays For Burial

OAKLAND, Cal., May 17.—(AP) Old family jewelry, forgotten in a safety deposit box and just found, will insure a proper funeral and burial for Emma F. Swain, who died apparently penniless in the Alameda county hospital April 23, 1925.

Miss Swain, who was the daughter of Captain Josiah H. Swain, one time holder of vast acreage east of Lake Merritt, was buried in a pauper's grave when no funds were found. The safety deposit box was located by Albert E. Hill, public administer, yesterday.

The family fortune had been lost through unfortunate investments.

DIES AT 110.

CLOVIS, Cal., May 17.—(AP)—Mary Poker of the Mono tribe of Indians at North Fork, near here, is dead at the age of 110 years. Her burial was celebrated with tribal ceremonies of unusual pomp, the Rev. I. Thayer, missionary to the Indians, said here today. The aged squaw, who was more than 40 years old when the civil war broke out, outlived all her children.

Irate Amazon Hurls Trunk Into Auto and Terrorizes Lodgings

DALLAS, May 17.—(AP) — An irate Amazon in search of her "meal ticket" heaved a trunk into an automobile here last night, shot up a rooming house, and today is the object of a search by police.

The woman forced her way into the house about 11 p. m. with a pistol, declaring she was seeking her "meal ticket." She fired a few shots into the wall and in less than a minute was sole possessor of the premises. She then shouldered a trunk, which she said was her husband's and departed.

The automobile into which she heaved the trunk was occupied by another man and woman. Frantic telephone calls from half a dozen roomers soon brought a wagon load of police to the house, too late to battle with the reckless lady.

Marshal Arrested Following Death

HUNTSVILLE, May 17.—(AP)—City Marshal Tillie Gaines, was under $1,000 bond today following the fatal shooting of Barney Camsler, of Pine Prairi on Main street here last Saturday night.

A fusillade of bullets preceded the killing. It was alleged the shots were fired from a car in which Camsler was riding, while Gaines was afoot. The interchange of shots, took place in the center of the business district. Many persons were in the vicinity. No one but Camsler was struck, however.

Gaines stated that he had had an altercation with Camsler earlier in the day and that Camsler had threatened him at that time. He declared that Camsler opened fire on him from the automobile.

Gaines was arrested by Sheriff Leonard and immediately made bond.

Nevada Ready To Asphyxiate Pair

RENO, Nev., May 17.—(AP)—Plans for the lethal gas execution Friday of Stanko Judich and John H. Randolph have been completed at the Nevada state prison.

Judich was convicted of slaying an Ely girl and Randolph of killing his mother. Appeals to courts and pardon board failed.

The executions will be carried out in a specially constructed death house in the prison yard at Carson City. State officials have denied they had any difficulty in obtaining the gas used for the execution.

Charleston Dancer Seeks New Thrills

KANSAS CITY, May 17.—(AP) Charleston enthusiasts here are turning to parachute jumping to obtain an added kick.

Matching her life against the luck she believed attached to her seventh flight, Teresa M. Kirshe, 18-year-old stenographer, yesterday crawled onto the wing of a plane bucking a strong wind at 2,100 feet and leaped clear. Her luck held.

Now her sister, Mary, wants to borrow the parachute.

MICA RAILROAD PERMIT SOUGHT

Promoters Would Develop Rich Deposits of West Texas Counties

HOUSTON, May 17.—(AP)—Construction is expected to start within the next 10 days on a 35-mile railroad line to be known as the Rio Grande, Micolithic and Northern railway, extending from Micolithic in Hudspeth county to a point on the Southern Pacific between Callado in Culberson county and Dalberg in Hudspeth county. Main offices of the company will be in Houston.

A charter application was made to the secretary of state Monday and application to participate in interstate business will be made to the interstate commerce commission within the next two weeks. The application to the secretary of state has been submitted to the attorney general's department for approval.

The new road would serve the territory in Hudspeth and Culberson counties where the Micolithic company is developing huge mica deposits. The territory also has good silver mining prospects. Other industrial projects, it is believed, will follow completion of the railroad line. The new line will give all the territory connection with a main line railroad to the outside world.

WHY
Was the Country Club Estates Located in the South Part of the City?

More than three years ago we decided to develop for Wichita Falls a residential subdivision which would surpass any in the Southwest. We gave very careful study of the many tracts offered the parties buying for us, before any location was decided upon. Experts in City Planning were brought here, and their advice as to location of this superior subdivision was secured before any acreage was purchased.

Then for more than a year persons representing us quietly purchased more than a section of land, in a solid block, and this at a cost of Several Hundred Thousand Dollars.

About two years ago we announced that we would soon begin the development of a residential subdivision of which all of Wichita Falls could feel justly proud. We have spent more than One Million Dollars, in addition to the cost of the land in developing this property.

Why was the 660 acres of land now being developed into the Country Club Estates selected over all other sections in and adjacent to Wichita Falls?

1st. Unequalled environment, overlooking the golf links of the Country Club and Municipal Park, close to High School and Junior College.

2nd. From one to two miles closer to the business section of the City, yet far enough away to get all the advantage of space, beauty and attractiveness of the country. Country Club Estates is the same distance from the City as the intersection of Tenth and Grant streets.

3rd. Best sandy loam soil. Where trees and shrubbery will grow luxuriantly.. Here you are out of the area generally known as "hard-pan" soil, which is so common in central and western part of the City.

4th. The best subdivisions of most cities will be found either on the South side or the North side of same.

5th. To avoid the congested traffic on Tenth Street.

6th. To avoid the heavy laden oil field trucks and other oil field traffic going out Seymour Road and out Grant Street.

7th. To avoid the wind-swept and exposed places where one must endure the fury of the cold blasts from the North in the Winter, and the hot parching winds over the dry prairies in Mid-Summer. West Texas need not fear about having enough breeze.

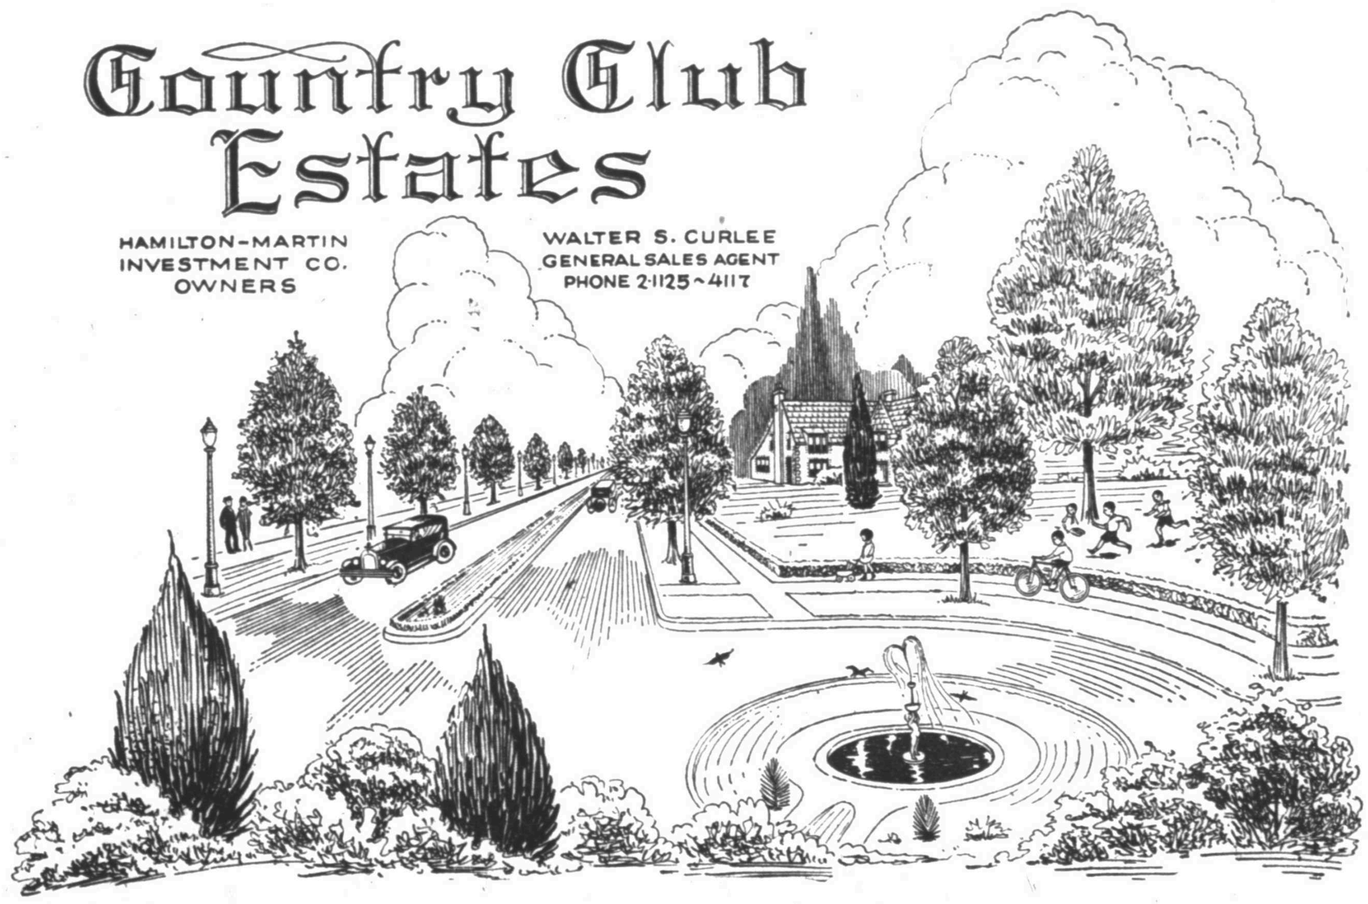

8th. Country Club Estates will be cooler in the Summer and warmer in Winter. All residences of brick construction. Irrigation water under high pressure in cast iron pipes will insure beautiful green lawns, trees and shrubbery. 100 acres in Parks in the Country Club Estates; eight miles of shade trees; large amount of trees and open space in golf links of the Country Club and Municipal Park will certainly give this section a large advantage over any other part of the City.

Select your home-site in the Country Club Estates, "Where Life is Worth Living."

KING MELLON ON THE FIRING LINE

PENNSYLVANIA republicans will name a candidate for United States senator tomorrow. George Wharton Pepper is a candidate for renomination. He has the backing of the Mellons, Andrew W. is their king. He has the backing of the republican organization which the Mellons control. He has the backing of John S. Grundy, who is the head of the manufacturers' association of Pennsylvaania and the tremendous wealth and banking power which is linked with it.

Andrew W. Mellon, since Boise Penrose passed away, has been the invisible boss of the republican party of Pennsylvania. He is the ablest financier and most successful business man that his state has known. He is the chief pillar in the temple of the Coolidge administration and his admirers liken him to a second Alexander Hamilton. Indeed, they place Mellon first and Hamilton second. Governor Gifford Pinchot is a candidate for senator. He is the stormy petrel of Pennsylvania politics, unbossed at all times. He is runing as a reformer and a dryest of dry pros.

He is a man of vast personal wealth and an ambition that is boundless. An aristocrat to his finger tips in other campaigns, ne has drawn to his standard the coal mines of Pennsylvania and the independent republican men and women of the commonwealth who fought for the policies of Theodore Roosevelt when he was in the land of the living and reveres the memory of Roosevelt now that he is in the land of the invisible.

Senator Pepper is a dry, a Mellon dry, and also an aristocrat and an ideal representative of the big business of Pennsylvania. There is another such man in the field—Congressman William S. Vare, the republican boss of Philadelphia and the former lieutenant of the mightiest of bosses, Bois Penrose. Vare is a Coolidge republican, Vare has ever been loyal to big business, but Vare is a wet and demands the repeal of the Volstead act and the right of the people of Pennsylvania to say just what shall constitute a beverage that is intoxicating.

Vare has a candidate for governor in the field, who is seeking the primary nomination. His candidate is a wet and stands for the policies of Vare when it comes to prohibition and big business. Pennsylvania is a wet state—that is, in the cities and towns—but Andrew W. Mellon and John S. Grundy, the great pillars of the Pennsylvania house of finance and manufacture are backing a dry republican, George Wharton Pepper for the senate, and a dry republican, John S. Fisher, for the republican gubernatorial nomination.

There are two drys and one wet in the senatorial race. There is one dry and one wet in the gubernatorial race, but prohibitilon cannot be considered an issue for the reason that Mellon and Grundy have a host of wet followers who have been commanded to go down the line and put Pinchot and Vare away for good and to place John S. Fisher in the high office of governor.

Now the coal miners of Pennsylvania are wet, but they love Governor Gifford Pinchot. The state federation of labor is wet by unanimous vote as shown in the of fice of governor. Will the miners desert Pinchot for Vare and light wines and beer? Will the miners desert Pinchot for light wines and beer? Pinchot, as governor, has been their friend in their darkest hours of strife and grief.

Behind Mellon is the financial wealth of Pennsylvania. Behind Mellon is the manufacturing wealth and power of Pennsylvania. Behind Mellon is the Coolidge administration and the gigantic influence of this second Alexander Hamilton. Collier's Weekly sent a special correspondent to Pennsylvana to investigate political conditions. He investigated and he predicted that Vare would win the senatorial prize and that Pinchot and Pepper would be drawn in the political ash pile.

It is a long distance from Texas to Pennsylvania, but unless the Mellon tongue has lost its cunning, the Mellon financial wand has lost its influence and the Mellon brain has lost its vision, the flag of Mellon should wave victorious in the state of big business and machine government on the night of Tuesday, May 18.

If that flag goes down in defeat, it will be a waterloo for Andrew W. Mellon and a solar plexus blow for Calvin Coolidge, titular leader of the republican party and president of the United States.

LIFE AFTER DEATH

EVER since man first began to think in a feeble and primitive way, I suppose, he has wondered about the death—wondered and feared. Death has taken from him loved ones; their bodies return to dust and he sees them no more. What is the ruthless force that robs them of motion and feeling, and where is the spirit that inhabited the now dead body and made the "me" and "thee?" It is gone, but where, and does it still exist somewhere or is it snuffed out like a candle?

All down the ages men have argued these questions. Over two thousand years ago that grand old philosopher, Socrates, spent the last day of his life cheerfully discussing with his friends death and the probability of his living after he had swallowed the hemlock and passed beyond their sight.

"And what is death but the separation of the soul from the body?" he argued. "For it is not dying to have the soul and the body released one from the other, so that each exists by itself? Is death anything else than this?

One of his friends voiced the universal doubt:

"As to everything else, Socrates," he said, "I think you have spoken truly; but in regard to the soul men are very incredulous, for the fear that after it has left the body it may no longer exist but many on the very day of death be destroyed and perish; nay, that on departing from the body it may go forth like a breath of smoke and flying away be dispersed abroad and exist no longer anywhere."

Cheerfully the doomed man answered his friend that in his estimation the soul of the philosopher that followed reason and truth—the divine and the absolute—and was sustained thereby, would, after death, "reach the abode of the which is like unto herself and of her own kin; she will be free from human ills. . . .A soul that has been thus nurtured and has followed such pursuits will not fear that, when released from the body, she may be dispersed and scattered abroad by the winds, and thus vanish in flight and cease to be.

So convinced was Socrates that death was, not a foe to be feared but a friend who was to release him from the limitations of this life into a freer, fuller one, that he regarded his fate as good fortune, likening himself to the swans, who, he said, "When they perceive that death is near, sing much more freely than they have sung all their life through, out of joy that they are about to go and dwell with the God whose servants they are. But men, from their own fear of death, affirm falsely of the swans that they are mourning their approaching death, and singing out of grief, not considering that no bird sings when it is hungry or cold or suffering in any other way . . . .To me it does not seem that they sing from sorrow; . . . . rather I think that being prophets of Apollo they can look into the unseen world; wherefore they sing about the good things to come and rejoice on that day more than any other day of their life. And I believe that I am myself consecrator to the same God; nor shall I be more reluctant than they to be set free from this life.

"And this," he says, "is why I do not grieve as might be expected, but am of good hope that there is something in store for us after death; some thing, as has been said of old, far better for the good than for the wicked."

ALL EYES TURN THIS WAY

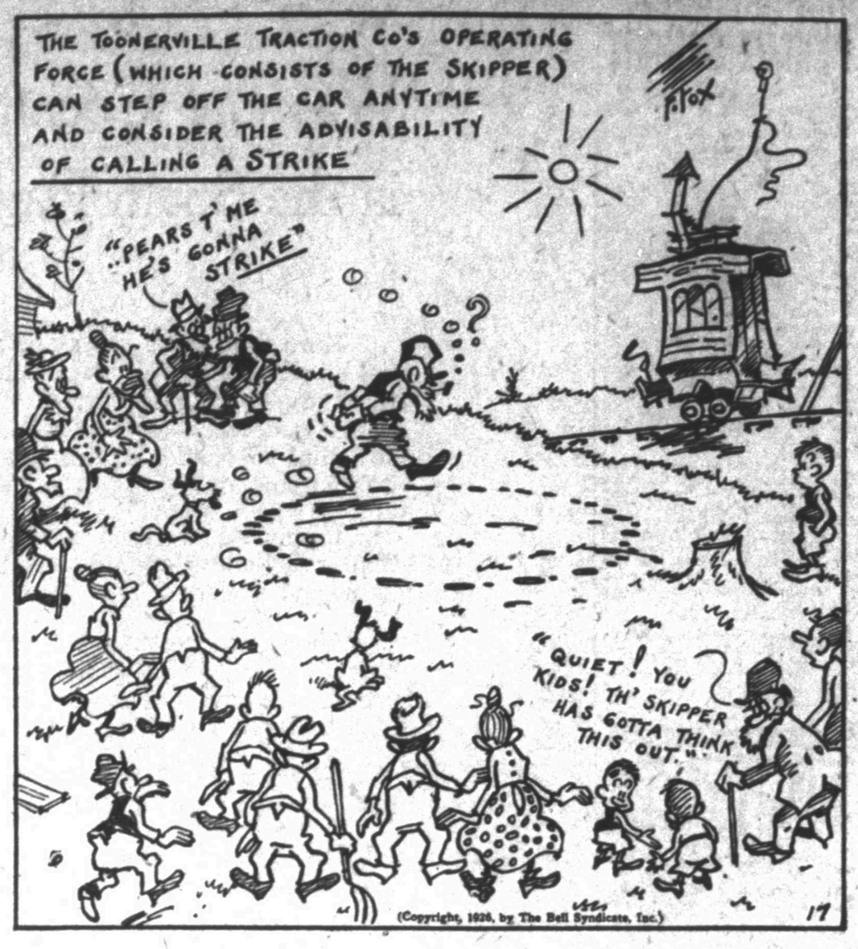

BUILDERS of Guadalupe county, 150 in number, were banqueted by the Seguin chamber of commerce. Senator A. J. Wirtz was one of the speakers. He started the fire works when he said that $2,000,000 had been tendered by Chicago bankers for the development of the Guadalupe river power project.

Senator Wirtz is the attorney for the enterprise. C. H. Donegan was another speaker. He advised the forming of a Southwest Texas chamber of commerce, and that the line be drawn not farther south than Austin and extend down to the Rio Grande and the gulf.

In concluding his remarks, he said, "Any thing which will promote Guadalupe county will promote San Antonio, Austin and all the other cities and towns of the great territory. We have learned that fact, and it is gratifying that you people have not only learned it, but have decided to put it to the test."

'All the little rivers of the territory should be harnessed. They are not assets until they have been transformed from natural resources into assets and it takes money to do the work

Questions From the World of Love Answered by a Noted Authority

WHICH MAKES THE BEST SECOND WIFE, A WIDOW OR A SPINSTER?—SHALL THE BRIDE LET HER HOMESICKNESS SPOIL HER HUSBAND'S SUCCESS?—THE ONLY CURE FOR A FAULT FINDING MOTHER-IN-LAW

Dear Miss Dix—Should a man who has lost his wife feel that he should never marry again?

I am a widower with children, and there is a widow with children whom I think a lot of, and whom I think I could marry. Also there is an unmarried woman. Which would make the best wife, the widow or the spinster?

LONESOME.

ANSWER:

Certainly there is no reason why a widower should not marry again, and every reason why he should if he can find a suitable mate.

Being married seems to unfit people for the single estate. They miss having their own homes. They miss the close companionship to which they have been accustomed. They even miss having somebody handy to fight with, and they find they are far lonelier than any old maid or bachelor. Therefore they do well to marry.

But if they have children, they are not free to marry, as they please, any one on whom their fancy falls. They have their children to consider, and they should think more of what kind of a stepmother or stepfather they are giving their children than they do about what sort of husband or wife a man or woman is likely to make.

A widow is generally a safe choice for a widower, because she also has had matrimonial experience, and understands the technique, so to speak, of matrimony. She is broken to double harness and knows how to pull her half of the load.

She has learned how to cook on her first husband, and is apt to be a good housekeeper. Her experience with her first husband has taught her not to expect too much of a man, and how to sidestep a husband's "little peculiarities. Therefore she is easy to get along with.

She is quite as likely as any other woman to make a good stepmother. Often, if she is a childless woman, she takes her stepchildren into her heart, and satisfies her mother-yearning by lavishing an affection and tenderness on them that makes them forget that they are motherless.

But the widow is only a good wife for the widower if she has no children of her own. It is madness even to think of marrying her, because she cannot keep from favoring her own to save her life.

In such a case a man finds invariably that he is toiling to give luxuries to another man's children, while his own children are pushed aside and wear the castoffs, and are the Cinderellas of the family. Two families do not mix, and if a third is added to it bedlam ensues.

As for spinisters, they are the real man-spoilers, and they generally make just stepmothers, who do their duty by their step-children and keep them up to the mark, because they are trying out on the youngsters all of their theories of child culture.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX:—I have been married only eight months. My husband's work transfers him from place to place all around the country. He has a fine position and there is advancement in it, only I get so homesick, and long so for home that I make it miserable for both of us.

Would you make him quit his job and go back home, or would you try to stick it out?

HOMESICK.

ANSWER:

I would be a good sport and stick it out. I wouldn't be such a poor, weak creature that I didn't have enough backbone to do the right thing, and the thing that would help the man I loved.

I wouldn't want to make my husband sorry he married me, and that is what you will do if you keep doing the cry-baby act, and weeping to go back home to mother and the girls. And he will curse the day he married you if you blast his prospects in life by forcing him to give up his big opportunity, and go back home and settle down into some little job that hasn't any future to it.

Love isn't everything to a man, my dear. Especially, it isn't to a real go-getter, such as you have married. There is also his career. There is his life work. There is his ambition, and his wife interferes with that at her peril. No man ever really forgives a woman who stands between him and success, and who balks him in doing the work that he set out to do.

Probably you can nag your husband into giving up this wor in which he is interested, and in which he has his big chance, and induce him to go back home. But don't deceive yourself into thinking you will be happy. You won't because he will be irritable and disconted, and he will always be reproaching you for having stood in the way of his advancement.

DICE WITH DESTINY

By MEIGS FROST

One night, when hope had almost fled, I ran into a cigar drummer from Chicago in front of the International Hotel, which I will say, while not effusively international in most ways, contained the most international assortment of insectivorous life under the blue canopy of heaven. The drummer told me that one bug flying the tricolor of France, had chased him around the bedroom, talking to him in German and biting him distinctly in a Roumanian manner and with obvious Russian ferocity.

Also the drummer was in undisputed possession of Kentucky bourbon and low in his mind, so we foregathered in his apartment, and I told him my troubles, meanwhile inoculating my self now and then with a snifter.

They told me afterward at the hotel that I became lighted until I was visible thirty miles on a misty night, and the next thing I definitely recall was my awakening in my own downy bed at the home of Jeremiah and Honorah Henks.

I must have got into my room through the rain pipe because neither Honorah nor Jeremiah knew anything about my previous condition of desuetude.

It was probably eight or nine o'clock in the morning when I opened my eyes. I immediately closed them and felt around for my head, which, strangely enough, was in its usual place on my neck. But it didn't feel that way.

You know how sunlight hurts your eyes some mornings. Not all mornings, of course, but some mornings.

It slowly dawned upon me that I felt pretty sick, and I wanted a drink of cold water about as large as Lake Michigan.

I sat up in bed with a violent effort, holding my head carefully on its pedestal, which was shaky; and as I glanced about the room I beheld in the middle of the floor a mud-turtle.

Now, while I have no personal aversion to mud-turtles, I distinctly hate to find them in my boudoir after a stormy night at sea.

I ducked under the clothes and shut my eyes. I knew perfectly well that when I looked again the mud-turtle would be gone and its place would be occupied by a striped elephant—or a pink and blue lizard wearing automobile goggles and wiggling its hairy tail.

Once before in my life I had seen a horn-tailed toad sitting on the foot of my bed waving his thirteen legs and eating flap-jacks through his eyes, and I'm against ornithology in the morning.

I looked again and the mud-turtle was still present. Then I called out in my own voice:

"Come in here somebody," I shouted attempting to make the summons casual.

Nobody answered.

'Come in here," I cried again, and the mud-turtle turned a coldly calculating eye on me. "Oh, please come in here."

A step sounded in the outer hall and I knew I was saved. Honorah Henks tapped on my door.

"Are you calling?" she asked.

"Come in here!" I said again. It seemed like I was stuck on those words. I know as much English language as anybody, but right then I couldn't think of the other words. My mental processes were clogged as it were.

"I will not go in there," Honrah answered coldly.

"Please come in," I begged her.

"I have never yet entered a man's room," Honorah went on, "and I don't propose to begin now."

"I'm sick," I yelled. "I will probably die in five or ten minutes. Please come in."

She opened my door one inch and gazed upon me.

"Will you please get me a pitcher of water," I besought her. "I am dreadfully sick, and I can't get it myself."

"You poor man," Honorah said, and then I knew I must look sick also.

She went away and returned after a while with one of these glass pitchers containing a gallon of regular water, which I inserted into my quivering insides, shaking some of it on the bedspread the while.

"You are as cold as ice," she went on. 'You must have a doctor."

"No doctor can cure what I've got," I told her. "Only time will do that. Any tank—I mean any invalid will tell you that."

So Honorah sat down on the chair beside me and took hold of my hand, which I will admit was a friendly act. There are mornings when a man needs to have his hand held, just to kind of comfort him. When you're particularly shaky, nothing will take the place of human companionship. Ask any wife whose husband doesn't belong to the Y. M. C. A.

And while Honorah wasn't all human, she was better than the mud-turtle.

"Tell me," I said after a while, "do you see anything out there on the floor?"

"Nothing at all," she answered, "except little Nettie."

"Nettie," I gasped.

"Our little family turtle," Honorah said. "She must have slipped into your room during the night. She's so friendly."

"And, while she was slipping," I answered, "she slipped me a jolt that like to killed me."

Honorah went on holding my hand.

If I had had any sense about that time I would have crept out and hid myself under a wash stand, but I was far from being a well man and my wits were gone. I was in dire peril and I didn't know it.

It seems Jeremiah Henks had gone down town on business, and Honorah and me were alone in the house.

Lyrics of Life

By Douglas Malloch

MA ON RAINY DAYS

Folks ought to try to put away,
Just as your father said,
A little for a rainy day,
For cloudy days ahead.
Your pa is just like all the men
Advisin' people now:
They tell you why, they tell you when,
But neve rtell you how.

The summer ain't so bright and fair,
The roses ain't so pink,
I haven't got as much to spare,
As Father seems to think.
Although the thought of savin' thrills,
For doctor bills to be,
Right now we have the doctor bills,
And that's what bothers me.

If rainy days were yet to come
It wouldn't be so bad;
And yet it seems to me that some
I've nearly always had.
I wish your dad would tell the way,
Speak up and tell me how
To save up for a rainy day
Right when it's raining now?

What Do You Know About It?

Daily Science Six

1. What is the origin of the word Trade, in trade winds?
2. What is the chief characteristic of the trade winds?
3. From what direction are the prevailing winds in the northern United States?
4. Where do the trade winds blow?
5. What causes winds to blow prevailing from some one direction?
6. What is a chinook wind?

Answers to these questions in tomorrow's Record News.

The Doctor Wind

In extremely hot climates near the sea suffering is experienced not only from heat and humidity but from insects and from that general feeling of depression that comes when the air is lifeless and stifling. In the region of the Trade Winds, however, these steady and gentle breezes spring up at certain times of day almost with clock-like regularity, the time of their blowing being exactly conditioned by the superheating of the land. A wind then blows in from the sea that scatters the insects and stirs the atmosphere and revives drooping spirits so much that people do not speak of it as a mere wind; they say: "Hooray, here comes the doctor."

Now what do you know about that?

Answers to Yesterday's Questions:

1. The gypsy moth is poisonous to touch.
2. Scorpions are not insects.
3. Centipedes have two pairs of legs to each body segment; millipedes have only one pair to a segment.
4. Beetles can fly, though they are usually only seen crawling.
5. Most insects have wings, even ants, which appear to have no wings, being winged as to their queens and males; there is a tropical group that is entirely wingless, but it is known with us only rarely, the silver-worms which we sometimes see in old books as minute, scurrying silvery threads.
6. June bugs are beetles.

WHAT TODAY MEANS TO YOU

Today's planetary aspects although favorably, with influence emotions more than activities. It is an occasion when customary duties alone should receive your painstaking attention, as there is nothing that presages success for any new undertaking or radical change. With such negative influences at work, it would be polite to let well alone. So far, however, as family relationship or friendly association is concerned, there will be sensed vibrations which if fostered must inevitably lead to personal enjoyment and happiness. It is an ideal opportunity for lovers, as there will not only be a prompting "to ask the question," but there will be an urge, on the other side, of responsiveness.

Children born today will cause much discouragement during infancy, as they will suffer from a variety of ailments, most of which will be dissipated by well-regulated nutrition and healthy environment. As they grow in years, they will develop along normal lines. In temperament, they will not be very amenable to influence or persuasion, but will display a marked tendency to "gang their ain gait," regardless of others' wishes, or the consequences that may be involved. They will be self-willed and dominating, but no great success can be assured for them, as they will lack well-disciplined minds.

If today is your birthday, you, without, any strong individuality of your own, are always willing to trim your sails or in other words to modify your plans or actions to suit the exigencies of the moment. This has earned for you a certain reputation for consistency and lack of steadfastness. You are an opportunist, and have very few decided convictions or idea.

Your temperament is affectionate, although you will, from time to time, be the victim—and a willing one—of infatuations, none of which will yield you enduring happiness or lasting contentment.

You have inherent ability, and are conversant with many subjects, but master or mistress of none. Your reading is done chiefly to pass time pleasantly, and not for the intellectual benefit to be derived therefrom.

In the Glow Of The Camp Fire

A group of Camp Fire Girls, composed of members who secured their two subscriptions toward the convention fund, enjoyed an overnight at Camp Noble, the Business and Professional Women's club house, Saturday. The members reached camp about $3:30 and after preparing the beds for the night, earned a camp craft honor bead from making two devices for holding a frying pan over a fire and two for holding a kettle over a fire.

Flowers near the camp were studied and a short hike enjoyed. Fay Guthrie and Marjorie Vincent prepared and served the evening meal of vegetable salad, cheese sandwiches, cocoa, and fruit salad.

After the dishes were cleared and washed, the members played games and acted out in pantomime the earning of several honor beads. One interesting honor dramatized was Camp Fire Girls taking care of babies. A contest in poncho rolling was held. Camp Fire songs were enjoyed before retiring.

Sunday morning the girls were up early and cleaned up the club house while winifred Hudgins and Betty Love Rugely prepared and served breakfast.

Preparing and serving two meals to other members in Camp Fire is one of the requirements toward second rank in Camp Fire. Other members of the party were: Dorothy Smart, Winnelle Ward, Myrtle Roberts, Thelma Bridges, Edith McClure, Edith Brown, Rose Mary Catter, Mrs. W. Roberts and Mary McIlheran, executive.

Strand "Gypsies" Prove Big Hit

A land of Gypsy romance, jazz music, Charleston and gorgeous costumes is presented by the "Gypsy Sweethearts," a five-piece orchestra of young women possessing an unusual quality of musical ability and feminine charm who are at the Strand theatre this week for four days through Thursday.

The "Sweethearts" who are from Dallas have been playing in the largest cities of the country for the past five years.

They are e nroute to Denver for a two week's engagement which will b followed by a tour of California cities.

An assortment of musical instruments and selections of the latest numbers are included in their program which is worthy of he most commendable praise for its originality and talent. A clarinet, banjo, drums, saxophones, violin, accordion, and piano are played by the five girls with an ease and art that prove their talent and that explains the demand for them which has swept the best theatres and audiences.

Danger Signals of Indigestion

The Disease That Strikes Like Lightning

Beware of indigestion—the disease that kills more people and kills them quicker than any other. This warning by physicians, is particularly applicable this season of the year, when your system needs all of its healthful vigor to withstand cold, flu and other winter ills.

What are the warnings that nature gives you of the approach of indigestion? The medical book tells us: 1. Gas, which means that your food is fermenting instead of digesting. 2. A feeling of fullness or oppression in the region of the stomach after eating. This means that the gas has ballooned your stomach and is pressing up against your heart and lungs. 3. A dull, lazy feeling, which means that you are not getting nourishment from what you are eating. 4. Restlessness, or refreshing sleep, which means that the poisons of indigestion are disturbing your brain and nerves. 5. Sometimes pain and fluttering around the heart, though this symptom may come later.

Don't take chances with indigestion—you are apt to lose. If you have had any of the symptoms mentioned above get your digestive organs to work at once with Ferraline, Nature's great stomach treatment that has given relief to thousands. Ferraline immediately aids and assists every one of your digestive organs, including your stomach, liver and bowels. Ferraline makes your digestion perfect" and complete." You feel its helpful effect from the very first dose. Get a bottle of Ferraline today at any drug store. Ferraline is so much superior to any other remedy for indigestion that the owners have instructed every druggist to refund the purchase price, One Dollar, if you do not get relief, so it costs you nothing if you are not delighted with results. Delay might be dangerous. Get Ferraline today from your druggist.—Adv.

ELECTRA

The Central Circle of the First Baptist church served a chicken-pie dinner at the noon hour and also in the afternoon on Saturday in the Motor sales rooms on North Wagoner street. The building was decorated with crepe-paper and cut flowers, while the tables were served by young ladies in white frocks. This dinner was patronized by many of the business people and the proceeds will be applied to the Baptist church building.

MISS YOUNG TO GIVE RECITAL

Miss Lucy Lee Young will present her expression pupils in recital at the high school auditorium Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, with the first part of the program being devoted to the junior pupils. This will feature a variety of selections by the best known poets and press writers, and promises a real treat to those interested in literary subjects. Miss Young has only been in the city since January 1, but has done splendid work with the pupils who were given the first part of the year's training under Miss Minta Smart with a great many other pupils who have taken up the work since the spring began.

BOY SCOUTS

The Boy Scouts of eight troops met at the high school Friday night for their regular meeting with Scoutmaster Taylor Cash. At this meeting Mr. Cash outlined the program for the summer's work, instructing the patrol leaders, Jerome Torvie, Clarence McSpadden, Fred Gillum, Alton Herring, Allen Moore, Noble Stidham, Beecher Dees and Joseph Cramer, to take charge of their troops. To hold meetings weekly, to specialize on first aid, signaling and nature study, and work on archery during their vacation. He stressed that no swimming would be permitted on the hikes, and no over-night hikes would be allowed, because he would be out of the city until September. After the discussion of the plans by Mr. Cash, songs were sung and an official first aid race was held, with Otto Love and Langford Asbill of the Eagle patrol winning. Several other games, including "three deep," and "rooster fighting" were played and the boys dismissed to meet next Friday night at the school. The scout act was given and the boys officially dismissed. There were 64 in attendance.

SUNBEAM BAND MEETS

The Sunbeam band of the First Methodist church met in the basement of the church Saturday morning for the purpose of giving their planned program. Miss Ila Owens, the leader of the band spoke to the children on the "effects of prohibition." R. E. Owens and Lexie Goodman gave a duet, after which little Miss Pearl Garner, read several numbers to the delight of the children. After prayer the meeting was dismissed to meet again next Saturday morning. Those present were, Misses Grace Freeman, Marcella and Marjorie Adkins, Lexie Goodman, Pearl Garner, and Masters R. E. Cowans, Royace Eudaley and Billie Goodman.

TAWANKA CAMP FIRE GIRLS

The Tawanka group of Camp Fire Girls with a few of the Wetomechick group left the Camp Fire headquarters at 6:15 o'clock Saturday morning and went to "Ocean Waves," a nearby lake for a sunrise breakfast. The girls spent some time in gathering stones and wood upon arriving and a tempting breakfast of eggs and bacon was cooked on the heated stones, there being no cooking utensils taken on the trip. After the breakfast the spent sometime in wading in the water, after which their attention was attracted to fishing for crawfish with their remaining scraps of bacons some acquiring quite a lot of skill at the art of fishing in that manner. Miss Mabel Mabrey, the guardian, viewed a delightful plot of ground close by which served as a suitable location for a business meeting in which meeting the old treasurer's resignation was accepted Miss Evelyn Kilpatrick elected in her place. Many lovely wild flowers were gathered and the young ladies returned to the Camp Fire headquarters and disbanded.

Those making up the party were, Misses Rose Mary Mcgee, Odessa and Christine Stidham, Evelyn Kilpatrick, Pauline Allison, Georgia B. Clark, Hazel Rippy, Pearl Grady, Oleta Wilson, Geneva Robertson, Modena Stroud, Velma Matthews, Ethel Hamilton, Maxine Hughes, Elizabeth Cooper and the guardian, Miss Mabel Mabrey.

MISS SCOTT PRESENTS PUPILS

Miss Mary Scott presented her pupils at the high school auditorium Saturday afternoon and night, there being an especially interesting program given by the juniors from 3 to 5 o'clock in the afternon. During the junior recital little Miss Mary Margaret Hinds in a rosebud frock, played "Knee High to a Duck," which was graciously received. Doris Owens was among the larger junior girls and showed her ability as an outstanding artist. These two afternoon numbers were so pleasing that they were added to the evening program, which was given by 30 of Miss Scott's pupils. In the evening program, the pupils were allowed to express their own individuality, and showed very little mechanicalism in their work. The whole evening performance was graciously received and the concluding number by Miss Laura V. Lebo, added a fitting climax.

Beautiful decorations for the auditorium and dainty frocks worn by the young musicians were in evidence during the afternoon and evening.

ATTICUS WEBB IN DALLAS

ELECTRA, May 17.—Dr. Atticus Webb, of Dallas, a state wide representative for the Texas Anti-Saloon League was in the city over the week-end, filling the pulpit at the First Methodist church at the eleven o'clock hour Sunday, with a speaking engagement at the First christian church Sunday afternoon, in a great mass meeting which was attended by a hugh crowd, while on Sunday night, he spoke of "Prohibition From a Local Angle," at the Baptist church in the absence of Rev. E. M. Francis who is attending the State Baptist convention. At the evening service a collection was taken to aid in supporting the Anti-Saloon league.

"What Price Glory?" Stern, Rough and Vivid, Makes Tremendous Hit In First Appearance at Majestic

Production Now Running at Local Theatre Convinces Wichita Falls of Its Greatness Just as It Does All Other Parts of the Country

When Heywood Broun, famed New York Journalist, said "What Price Glory?" "this is certainly the best use which the theatre has yet made of the war, and it is entirely possible that it is the best American play about anything," he was forecasting what those of the hinterland were later to say. For the play, after an amazing New York run, was carried westward where it was accorded the same tremendous reception wherever it appeared.

And now it has come to Wichita Falls for an indefinite stay, with every indication that this city will give a reception as enthusiastic as ever it has received elsewhere.

The audiences at the first two presentations at the Majestic theatre Sunday and Monday went into veritable tantrums at the vivid, punch, the breath-taking scenes and the spectacular events it portrayed. It proved to be stern; it proved to be rough; it proved to be a brutal revelation in some cases of life as it was really lived in the trenches; but it was this very sternness, this very roughness and this very brutality that made the crowds know it was real and unusual.

"What Price Glory," of course, is a story of the great world war. Two armor-plated marines who fear no God nor man but who tremble unashamed at the femininity of a little French maid have the principal roles with this self-same young lady. The Edgar Mason players, headed by Edgar Mason himself as one of the marines, have injected a touch of artistry into the entire production and have made it one of the best theatrical productions of any kind the Majestic has ever provided. Mr. Mason, John Crowell, taking the part of the other tough guy; Miss Miami Campbell as Charmaign, the object of their affections, and several others in the supporting cast all gave superb renditions of their parts.

The play was originally scheduled to run for one week here, but in case the company meets the success its first two appearances indicate, it will continue for a longer time.

Sartin On Swing Through District

With his campaign "opener" before the Kutch-Manning Pioneer association at Newcastle Saturday safely behind him, Judge B. D. Sartin, Wichita county's candidate for congress from the 13th district, Texas, leaves today on his first big swing through the eastern portion of the district. Four addresses to take place in four cities in the district are scheduled for the next four days.

Today will speak before the Colorado to Gulf highway association meeting at Bowie; Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock the "Denton Sartin for Congressman club" has arranged a meeting to be held on the Denton court house lawn at which time he will be the principal speaker. At 3:30 Thursday afternoon he will address a gathering on the lawn at the court house at Gainesville, Cooke county, closing his week with the commencement address to be delivered before the senior class of the Jacksboro high school Friday night of this week.

BUILDING ON UPWARD CLIMB

New Permits Insured For Monday Run To $138,125

Monday's building permits eclipsed at a single bound so to speak twice the figure of the entire week just past with a total of seven permits issued for a total construction investment of $138,125.

The largest of the permits issued was for the construction of a brick and re-inforced concrete garage to be built at the corner of Sixth and Lamar streets by J. P. Barkley at a cost of $125,000. The building will occupy six months in construction and will be started at once. Reid and Costley have the contract.

After a two-day let-up to allow concrete poured on the basement floor to dry and as a result of inclemency of the weather, work on the new Medical Arts building was resumed Monday in earnest.

The frames have been built for the basement walls and work of pouring the concrete has already begun. Rain has proved the greatest hinderance to rapid progress thus far encountered it is stated.

The last two or three days have seen the walls of the sixth story to the erstwhile Morgan building, now known as the new Holt hotel, added, the tile and brick work having practically been completed. This should have been completed weeks ago, it is stated, but for an undue delay in the arrival of the steel needed for reinforcing.

Work will begin almost at once on the eighth story of the building, it is announced.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

The good ship Matrimony assumed a weighty cargo of Wichitans over the past week-end, the marriage license book at the county clerk's office shows. A total of 13 licenses were issued, deputy J. W. Meaders declaring it to be the largest number over a single week-end in several months.

The licenses were issued to: Guy Garrett and Beulah May Coy; L. T. Brock, Enid, Okla., and Miss Ruby Miller, Holliday; Frank Herbert Hurah and Mrs. Ora L. Humphries; J. T. McSpadden and Evelyn Rigsby; O. L. Knightstep and Mrs. Lillian Perry, Fort Worth; Amos Gilbreath, Holliday and Inez Bennell Wallas; Jimmie Hunter and Elias Thomas; Stanley Wymner and Letha Ralterree; Hensley Kieb, and Letha Walton, Addington; Melvin Moore, Margaret and Mary Frances Middlebrook, Vernon; James W. Moses, Memphis and Mollie Mae Brown; Dewey Mack, Vernon and Pauline Price; Woodson C. Pasley and Frances Hortense Boardman.

BAG WORMS APPEAR

A warning to spray Wichita Falls shade trees within the next day or before it is too late to insure them against depredations of the bag-worm is made by City Park Superintendent C. C. Bunnenberg. The worms are already making their appearance and will do irreparable damage to trees almost before their presence is known, Mr. Brunnenberg says.

The bag worm suspends himself in a cradle of his own spinning three or four feet below the branches of a tree, eating the leaves for food.

COWLES RE-EMPLOYED

C. R. Cowles, secretary of the Burkburnett chamber of commerce, was re-employed by the county commissioners at their meeting Monday for the collection of taxes there during the remainder of the year. Inasmuch, however, as his duties as deputy in that city have considerably diminished since the first of the year a reduction in salary was voted by the court.

SURVEY FOR GAS PIPELINE SOON TO BE COMPLETE

Lone Star's 18-inch Line To Connect With Wheeler County Field

CHILDRESS, May 17.—(AP)—Survey for the 18-inch pipeline of the Lone Star Gas company from Petrolia to Childress is expected to be completed this week, officials announced today.

The company has definitely decided on the Wheeler field, 50 miles north of Childress as its source of supply.

The 18-inch line will be one of the largest ever laid in Texas and it will be about 200 miles long, supplying gas to Dallas, Fort Worth and other north Texas cities.

This city will be headquarters for the Oklahoma Contracting company, of Oklahoma City, which is laying the line.

Including the investment of the Lone Star company, the Gulf Pipe line company and the Upham Gas company, which also are laying lines for oil and gas from Wheeler county and the Panhandle, about $10,000,000 will be spent in pipeline improvements in this section.

The three companies are to locate pumping stations near the city. The Gulf company is also to establish a tank farm here.

Magnolia Sets Price

DALLAS, May 17.—(AP)—The Magnolia Petroleum company today announced a price of $1.30 a barrel at the wells on crude oil below 28 gravity in Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas, except Texas Panhandle. The company is purchasing on gravity basis in the Panhandle.

The following additional quotations were announced for Texas:

Corsicana heavy crude $1.25; Mirando City crude $1.25; Luling crude $1.30.

Trailing Gray Coat Leads to Recovery Of Stolen Goods

DALLAS, May 17.—(AP)—Trailing a gray coat worn by a negress, 5-year-old, Dorothy Hudel, on the instant became one of the city's most accessful detectives. Today at least irty families and the police department are thanking her, while the ore room of the detective bureau isembles a dry goods store, as a re-lt of her work.

Two negroes are in jail and property estimated to be worth $5,000 as been recovered. The loot was olen from Dallas homes by the egroes, who have entered more than houses in late months.

Miss Hudel recognized a coat worn y a negress as that stolen from her om. She ran across the street in e business section and called a po-eman. The two trailed the woman ntil they caught her at a busy cor-er. At police station she gave the ames of the men who had given er the coat. Yesterday when the egroes entered a house, they fre-quented, two detectives were waiting r them. All day yesterday trucks ere carrying stolen goods from the egroes' hang-out to the detective ureau.

Noel is Granted New Lease on Life

TRENTON, N. J., May 17.—(AP) Harrison W. Noel, Montclair youth, convicted slayer of Raymond Pierce, negro taxi driver of Newark, won a new lease on life today when the court of errors and appeals set aside his conviction on a first degree murder charge and awarded him a new trial. Noel is now an inmate of the death house at the state prison.

It was alleged that Noel in Sept. 1925, killed Pierce to obtain an automobile. Subsequently, it was charged, with the car taken from Pierce, Noel kidnaped Mary Daly for ransom and discovering that she was not the child he intended to abduct murdered her. The alleged offense occurred just over the Essex county line in Passaic county.

Preceding Noel's trial in Essex an insanity hearing was held at which it was decided by the court that Noel was in a mental state to stand trial.

Mary's Schoolhouse Purchased By Ford

STERLING, Mass., May 17—(AP) Henry Ford has come into possession of the little school house that Mary Sawyer of "Mary and the Little Lamb" fame attended when the poem which has since become immortal, was written. According to terms of the transaction, Mr. Ford will build a garage to replace the school house which since 1855 has been used as a barn at the parsonage of the First Baptist church.

The original frame remains intact and Mr. Ford plans to restore its original state, to perpetuate "Mary and her little lamb."

Well, Who Is He To Rebel At Kiss From Lovely Betty?

Edmund Lowe, who plays the dashing, reckless Ricardo Madons, in "The Palace of Pleasure," Fox films screen version of the romantic life of Lola Mantez, at the Mission theatre never realized until this picture was made what a real joy acting for the screen really is.

Lowe was making a scene with Betty Compson, supposedly in the theatre dressing room of a celebrated dancer, enacted by Miss Compson. The action called for Lowe to seize Miss Compson and kiss her repeatedly and ardently, then to escape through an open window, leaving the girl breathless in her ecstasy.

The scene was shot with great realism. Director Emmett Flynn said "Fine! Now we'll take a close-up of Miss Compson."

Cameras were moved up.

"Now, Miss Compson," said Flynn, "you have just been kissed ardently by a dashing devil and you suddenly realize that you love him. Register ecstasy. You are thinking of that embrace."

Try as she would, Betty could not seem to get over the idea. Flynn thought a moment.

"Hey Eddie," he finally called to Lowe, "come here."

Lowe, his eyes still aglitter, responded.

"Kiss her again," Flynn ordered, "and get her back in the mood."

"Yes, sir," said Lowe, eagerly and he proceeded to carry out instructions, while the company looked on with eyes wide open. The succeeding close-ups were eminently successful.

In the cast with Mr. Lowe and Miss Compson are Henry Kolker, George Seigmann, Nina Ramano, Harvey Clark, Sammy Blum and Jacques Rollens.

Sunday and Monday Good for Robbers Around Houston

HOUSTON, May 17.—(AP)—Burglars and robbers cracked three safes, entered a number of homes, staged two holdups, killed one man, stole 16 automobiles and got about $900 in money besides a number of articles of merchandise Sunday and Monday morning.

Coming after several weeks of inactivity, the underworld swooped down while Houston was visiting Galveston or entertaining Southern Baptist convention delegates and pushed over a mass of wholesale crimes, which netted considerable because of the mid-month pay-day. Police admitted Monday that there had been few week-ends when such a great amount of crime was reported.

SAVE UNBORN BABE.

CHICAGO, May 17.—(AP)—Physicians at St. Joseph's hospital, Aurora, yesterday saved the life of an unborn baby boy after its mother had died. Mrs. August Weisbrook, 20, became suddenly ill and died enroute to a hospital. Seven minutes after her death physicians performed an operation. The child, weighing eight pounds and normal, probably will live.

Baptist Preacher En Route to Beach Is Robbed of $100

HOUSTON, May 17.—(AP)—Going to Galveston on the special excursion run Saturday afternoon cost Rev. O. M. Huey of Louisville, Ky., messenger to the Southern Baptist convention $100 plus the regular fare.

Rev. Huey's pockets were picked and he was robbed of $100, he reported on his return to Houston.

"I thought at first there were only Baptist ministers on the car," Rev. Huey said facetiously. But I am sure others than messengers to the convention must have been passengers. Needy as Baptist preachers often are I am sure they would never resort to that."

Dashing and Affable Sheiks of Spudderville Thrill Fair Dallas Fans

Boss Brainerd's Bombastic Bludgeoners Bump Bingles Bagging Boisterous Battle

Frenzied Femininity Filling Steer Arena Scream As Attackers Come From Behind to Win

BY BLONDY CROSS.

DALLAS, May 17.—It's "Ladies Day" in this jobbing center just like every Monday all over the Texas circuit. Our affable Spudders took advantage of the occasion and kidded the girls hilariously. They tossed a large scare into a huge horde of frenzied femininity that jammed the stands, by grabbing a three run lead on the Dallas Steers in the second inning of a hectic combat, and then gave the fair female fans an over-sized thrill by allowing the Sniper aggregation to manufacture a one-run advantage in the fifth inning, trailed the arrogant league leaders until the ninth frame. Then with the score 4-3 and two away, Boss Brainard's bombastic crew turned the sweets of victory to the bitterness of defeat by blasing five golden scoring nuggests across the platter to sew up the contest.

Russell (Rusty) Pence, swarthy Dallas starboard heaver, was in great form through eight couplets. His exotic shots baffled Brainard bludgeoners, barring the second round, until the final turn at bat. There the ancient adage, "A game is never lost until the last man is out in the ninth," proved itself conclusively for the day.

Skidded to Defeat

The Spudders, displaying a persistency that would not be balked and a fighting ire that apparently recognized no bounds throughout erupted surreptiously with a volcanic attack that sent the Steers skidding over the chasm of defeat by the topside 8-4 tabulation.

With that one-marker advantage staring them in their collective faces like a sheer, granite and almost unscalable barrier, these fighting Spudders of our tore into Pence.

Royce (Mule) Washburn, monickered so because he packs a kick in his mighty war-club which can be likened only to that of a mule's kick, opened the attack with a cyclonic crash to center field that hit the turf in virgin territory and then Roccocheted like a rifle bullet over Metzler's dome for three bases. Howard Fitzgerald, striving nobly to raise a sacrifice hoist, to score the tying tally, popped out to short left. Wash was held to his base. Pete Turgeon, the mighty midget, was passed on four straight balls. Then Query, who caught today's game, and ultimately drove in two of the Spudder runs, aviated to port just far enough back for Washburn to tabulate after the catch. There were two down. The count knotted 4-4 and Turgeon on first. With long Jim Roberts, the sturdy flinger who let the heavy hitting Steers down with a meagre five safeties today, at bat, Pence took his windup.

Pete Scampers Away

Pete scampered for the keystone. In mid-flight, almost, Rusty whirled and flung to Paddy Bauman at second. Turgeon had the tarow beat but it was an out and out balk, so he staid up and took it easy. Bauman laid the leather on him. Umps Held, miscalling the bases for the day, ruled the Spudder out. Pete stuck to his guns. The Wichita Falls battalion rallied around him, while Bovine athletes hied themselves to the enemy dugout. Daly, also miscalling 'em for the day at the plate, was drafted into service on the runways by Held. A sharp and excited consultation was enacted at the keystone by the two astigmatized gentlemen with our noble Spudders joining in the chorus. Snipe Conley lumbered out and got in the way. As Snipe yaps it: "Each of those blankety blankety blind men told the other he didn't see the play but the hams went and changed the decision.

Regardless of whose money, both arbiters may have been tabulating when the balk occurred, it was decided to remand the decision and Pete was awarded the base.

Our humorous, but sometimes quite caustic friend, Walter Morris, the Dallas club prexy, when asked if he intended protesting the struggle, rolled a heavy scowl down from around his eyebrows and enunciated clearly and with sufficient gusto for the world almost, at large and two umpires in particular, to hear. "No! Naw, of course not. Yuh can't protest a game on an umpire's incompetency."

Jim Larrups One

As Noble Walter wound up this eloquent denunciation, the ball battle was resumed. With two strikes and no balls on him, Jim larruped a lusty single to center for the winning run. Turgeon covered the distance between second and home in less than zero. Pence ruffled and in high displeasure walked Distel. That was just too bad, for Lucy Lyman Lamb, the wee, but quite boisterious, outer gardner who has been hitting into a lot of tough luck the past several days, strode to the pan and soaked the initial chunk far into the left field bleachers for complete and unmolested circumnavigation of the runways and three more counters just by way of giving the female fans extra good measure. That's about all. The whole ball game was staged in the first half of the final round.

Jim turned 'em back in order the latter portion of the ninth. That trio of Wichita Falls counters, checked in the second, came as result of a hit batsman, Lamb being the hitee, a walk to Turgeon followed with singles by Query and Roberts.

The Spudder battery drove in five off the eight runs, Jim himself playing safe with his game, by shoving three over.

Outside of a toss to first by Distel, that pulled Wash off the bag in the fifth, and a bad catch of one of Roberts spirals by Query, Wichita Falls fielded with deadly precision. Though trailing from the fifth until that brilliant fighting rally in the ninth, Spudder spirit never ebbed and the boys worked just as if they were sure they already had the cat in the bag and only needed just a half stanza in which to prove it.

Giants Finally Stop Onslaughts Of Cincy Reds

Pinch Hitter Starts Rally In Eighth Which Wins Game

CINCINNATI, May 17.—(AP)—After winning six straight games Cincinnati dropped the fourth of its series with New York today, 7 to 4. Both teams played evenly until the Reds forged ahead in the seventh. Then the Giants started off the eighth inning with a pinch hitter and when they finished they had scored four runs. Mays pitched well except in the first and eighth innings. Score.

Cub Rally Fruitful

CHICAGO, May 17.—(AP)—Another of the Cubs' characteristic ninth inning rallies enabled Chicago to take the third straight from Philadelphia by winning today, 7 to 6. The Cubs drove Mitchell and Ulrich from the mound, the latter by the last inning slugging. The Phillies took a short lived lead in the eighth when Mokan crashed a homer with two men on. Score.

Panther String Of Victories Is Of Short Length

Atzmen Play Ragged Baseball And Sports Humble Them 12 to 5

FORT WORTH, May 17.—(AP)—The Cats' winning streak total remained at four games today when they blew up and let Shreveport walk away with a 12 to 5 victory. Jake Atz used all the pitchers he had with the exception of Walkup and North, in the effort to stem the tide of defeat, but the Cats were ragged making three errors and failing to hit in the pinches. Home runs by H. Moore and Edington went for nothing in the end.

Adkins hurled a good game for the Sports, allowing 11 hits but keeping them sufficiently well scattered, while he and his teammates were getting 16 hits off Panther pitchers. Taylor, Shreveport left fielder, got two doubles, while Woehr and Lennox each got a triple. Lindemore, new to the Cat uniform, batted once for Head, but failed to get a hit. Score:

Cubs Beat Bears

WACO, May 17.—(AP)—A long drawn out ten inning game, featured by hard hitting, the Waco Cubs took the last game of the series with San Antonio here today by a score of 9 to 8. Stormy Davis showed some of his real form of last year, when he got three singles and a double. In the tenth inning with the score tied, Davis doubled to deep left center and Cason on on attempted sacrifice, was safe when Owen threw low to first. Boggess then singled to center, his third hit of the day, to send the winning run across.

Segrist put the Bears out in front with a home run over the left field fence. Each team used four pitchers. Lopez, who replaced Cohen at short, showed up in good shape. Score:

Texas Longhorns Win State Title

AUSTIN, May 17.—(AP)—Neal Baker went on to the mound at Clark Field here this afternoon and turned the invalid Baylor Bears with the meager total of three hits, winning the game, which means another baseball championship for Texas, by the count of 3 to 2. While making base hits awful scarce, Neal issued not a single pass and in every inning except the second and eighth, when the Bruins put over their two counters, it was three up and three down. In the last inning, Baker, sensing victory and a championship, struck out two of the three hitters to come up. The other popped to the outfield. Score by innings:

ELECTRA HDW. DRUBS LIONS

Take 4 to 1 Battle As Opponents Fail to Hit Safely

ELECTRA, May 17.—The Texas Hardware aggregation captured a well-played game from the Lions club this afternoon, taking a 4 to 1 verdict in five innings. Four miscues in the field by the Hardwares failed to help the cause of their opponents who were unable to hit Jarrett. Two lonely bingles, one a two-bagger by Matheson, were the extent of the damage inflicted by Lion bats.

BELMORE, N. Y., May 17—(AP) Somebody in this town was so stirred up over the possibility of Edward W. Browning and Peaches living here, in the belief of the police that arson was committed. Mr. Browning's unoccupied cottage has been burned mysteriously.

A citizen takes out his "papers"

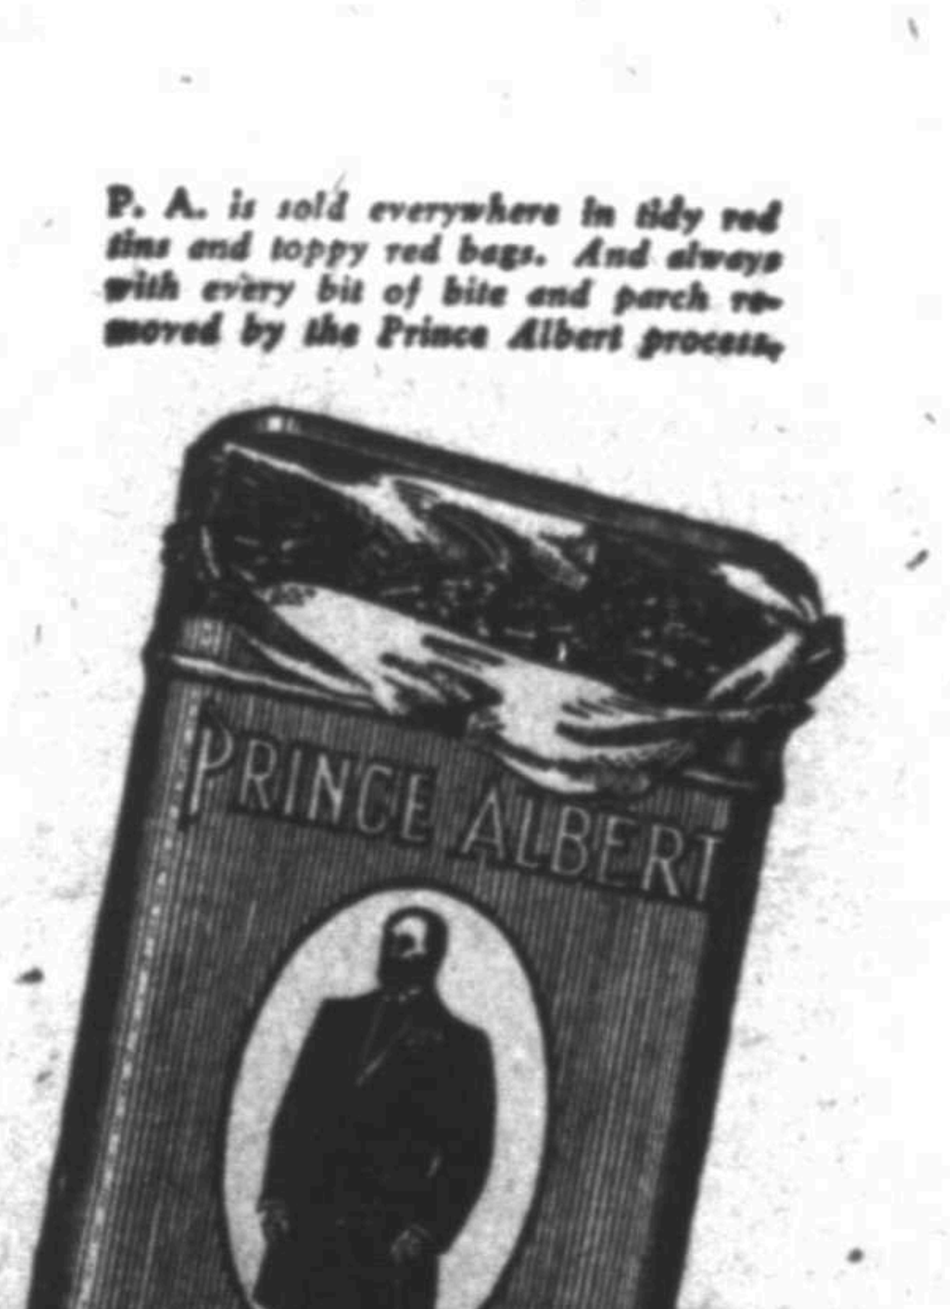

FIRST, he buys a tidy red tin or a toppy red bag of Prince Albert. Then he takes out his makin's papers and rolls the finest little cigarette he ever did roll! And then he lights up and gets the biggest thrill a roll-your-owner ever had.

A cigarette made with P. A. rolls easier. Because, P. A. is crimp-cut and stays put. Doesn't butterfly all over the place if you happen to breathe on it. It burns better for the same reason. And—how cool it smokes! Cool and sweet and fragrant!

Yes, Sir! Here's a home-rolled cigarette you can brag about. One right after the other . . . that's the way you'll roll 'em. This friendly tobacco can't bite the tongue or parch the throat. The Prince Albert process fixed that for all time. Try this better cigarette tobacco.

If you have never been able to smoke a pipe successfully, try it again . . . with P. A. You'll stick this time! Pull that cool, fragrant smoke up the pipe-stem and see what a beautiful world it is after all. Try Prince Albert—today!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins and toppy red bags. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

Eyes Of Texas Golfing World Are Turned Toward Houston

Tommy Cochran, Wichita Star, Defending Honor Play Starting Tomorrow

Cream of Mashie and Niblick Wielders of Lone Star State Show Brilliance In Practice Rounds of Course

HOUSTON, May 17.—(AP)—Golfers from all parts of Texas arrived here today to start practice for the twentieth annual championship tournament of the Texas Golf association. The event will get under way Wednesday morning when more than 200 players are expected to tee off at River Oaks in the qualifying round of play.

Play who are here include Tommy Cochran, the defending champion. The Wichita Falls star put in a couple of rounds after his arrival, taking a "hard 81" on the first 18 but coming back during the afternoon in fine fashion.

"Happy" Massingill, Fort Worth star, was another leading member of the fraternity to check in. Massingill was medalist in the 1924 tournament played at Brook Hollow, a course on a par with River Oaks when it comes to tough holes and trying golf shots.

Along with Massingill came Ed Stewart, a long hitter, a steady golfer and Fort Worth's other leading contender.

Four San Antonians were out for practice, Frank Lewis, Sr., and Jr., Lewis Levinson and T. C. Wheat. The latter pair represent the muny course and with Jack Speer and Leonard Atwell are the only public course players on hand. However, other municipal golfers are expected to arrive.

Scores Push Par.

Scores that pushed par were turned in during the practice sessions. Jack Speer, Houston municipal links star, was low for the morning round with a 75. Listed in the foursome was Burton McCashan, Houston Country club; James Harned of Dallas and Fred Golding, Houston. Harned scored a 78 for the round.

Ossie Carlton, although getting off to a bad start, came through with two under par for the last 14 holes and finished with a card of 75. Carlton was paired with Tommy Cochran playing against Jack Burke and Happy Massingill and was forced to bow before the 72 turned in by the professional.

During the afternoon Cochran and Hubby were paired against Carlton and Massingill in a best ball match. Cochran, who had missed many shots during the morning was getting his clubs to working. He turned the first nine in 36 and finished well inside the 80 mark.

Lewis Levinson, left hander from Brackenridge Park, San Antonio, public course, although failing to hit near par figures was meeting his shots in neat fashion and should get going before the qualifying day arrives.

Along with the out of town players came the word that neither Charlie Dexter, former state champion; nor Louis Jacoby, also a former king, would be here for the tournament. This pair of Dallas stars have long been regarded as contenders for the title. Dexter, who on three occasions won it, has been ill.

Twilight League Teams Play Today

Texhoma and Panhandle Clubs Expect to Furnish Fast Game

The Texhoma and Panhandle clubs hook up this afternoon on the Twilight league diamond in what is expected to be a good game. The teams have both been going strong of late and both are counted in on the final outcome of the Twilight league race.

Trout will work on the mound for the Texhoma crew and the Texhoma fans and players are confident that this old head will outguess the Panhandle crew.

McDuffy or Carrigan will work for the Panhandle. Should Texhoma win it will throw them into a tie with the Panhandle for second place. Texhoma also holds the distinction of being the only team to beat the Panhandle in the league race.

SCHILLING HOLDS SNAPPERS

MARSHALL, May 17.—(AP)—Red Schilling held the Snappers to four hits and the lowly Paris Bearcats copped the final game 6 to 2, here today. Lowrance and Sowers featured at bat with three swats each, while a running back-hand catch by Stellbauer was the fielding high light. The game played in an hour and forty minutes, was the fastest of the local season.

Remedy As Bad As Original Disease

CANYON, Texas, May 17.—(AP) The remedy was as bad as the disease in the case of Charles Stratton, who was bit by a mule and then injured by friends who tried to save him.

He fell while chasing the animal and in turn grabbed his leg. Men on the place beat the mule with branding irons and clubs and finally struck it over the head with a two-by-six plank. But the plank broke and struck Stratton in the eye, cutting a deep gash, which required six stitches. The mule was uninjured.

CONFIRMATION TONIGHT

Confirmation services for the class of Temple Israel will be held this evening at the synagogue starting promptly at 7:30 o'clock, according to Rabbi Samuel Philips yesterday. The twelve confirmants will have their pictures taken at the temple at 7:15 o'clock, it was announced.

The public is invited to attend the service.

JACK OFFERED $1,000,000

NEW YORK, May 17.—(AP)—Undiscouraged by Jack Dempsey's previous rejection of an $800,000 offer in preference to signing with Tex Rickard for a heavyweight title bout this year, Tom O'Rourke, veteran promoter, today announced on behalf of a New York syndicate an offer of $1,000,000 to the champion for a match with Harry Wills.

Motto: "RAZZ THE RAZZERS"

The Spudders fresh from conquering Dallas, proud Steers, turn their heavy guns on Waco fortifications tomorrow afternoon in the first of three assaults. Fred Fussell, the southpaw screw ball king, is Brainard's probable mound choice.

• • •

Carl Williams, the veteran right-hander, takes his turn against the Wacoans Wednesday, barring a miscarriage of events. Lester White, the youthful Long Beach flinging phenom who turned back San Antonio and Bob Couchman Friday, 2-1, in ten frames, is chosen for chunking duties Thursday. A deadly array of tossing talent, that, lined up for the south Texans to swing at.

• • •

Roberts won his fifth start today in walloping the Steers. That, considering his past performances, was expected more or less. However, unknown to the skipper and but a few of his team mates, Jim worked with the muscles in the left side of his back dealing him apparently untold misery. We were in Jim's room while he was dressing for the game. He hesitated suddenly, turned a bit pale and then stumbled to the bed and stretched out.

• • •

"What's the matter," we asked naturally.

"Oh, nothing," he replied. "My side started hurting and then everything seemed to get black all of a sudden." The big pitcher came out of it soon, finished donning his uniform and then beat the Steers almost single handed. He admitted at intervals during the contest that he had quite a few aches, but hushed up like a trap whenever Brainard or any of the rest of the club drew near. In the fifth stanza, when Dallas bunched three hits with an error and sacrifice to score three runs, Jim gave very much the appearance of a person who is suffering an acute attack of indigestion. His face was white and he walked like a man with the ague.

• • •

There are numerous semi-hot tips anent prospective player trades and shifts in the personnel of the Spudders being bandied about as this man's ball club prepares tonight for a jump to the Brazos village and three-day stand with Pratt's presumptious pelters. One outfielder is going to the Majors pronto, rumor has it. There are to be radical changes in the hurling department. This athlete and that athlete is headed for this club and that, and in short, if one would heed the lobby linguists he immediately would become inoculated with the unhappy thought, to effect, to-wit, etectera, our noble Spudders will be an entirely strang outfit seeking introduction all over again to Wichita Falls fandom upon it's return home June 1.

• • •

But after careful dissecting and digesting certain particulars of the many and varied observations made, it is discovered authentically, that there are at least two potent deals on for strengthening of both the attack and defense. It is almost a certainty, although the news did not eminate from headquarters. Spudder powers that be are dickering with a major league mag whereby one of the present Spud outer patrol would depart these environs in a swap for a right-hand flinger who proved his ability in bygone seasons and went over the top last year, along with a ring-hand throwing outfielder who takes his stance at the port side of the plate. The deal is only pending and for obvious reasons names of the three players involved are withheld.

• • •

Another tip, picked up from a fairly authentic source, has it there is to be a second change in the outer gardens. Incidentally, you need not be surprised if some day you see the name Sutherland in the box score as a fielder instead of a pitcher. Just an intimation; nothing definite.

• • •

There are other stories going the rounds, of course, any one of which may have a rock foundation. Brainard has declared at odd intervals, "There are going to be some big changes made soon if we don't start winning." But no further light on the subject has either the Spudder leader or president Gardner reflected.

• • •

The writer has come in contact the past 48 hours with scouts from three major leagues and have seen two of them in evident consultation with the Spudder management. Whether any business advances were made is a matter of conjecture. Brainard and Gardner are less talkative than tombstones when interrogated on negotiations to any of the three hunters.

• • •

Spud moguls think very much of George Distel, the wanton shortstopper. Either that, or they're prone to drive some pretty stiff bargains. A man whose varacity we never had occasion to doubt and who is very close to the center of baseball affairs in Fort Worth, advances the information that Atz and LaGrave endeavored to talk Wichita Falls into a deal that would send Distel to the Cats. Gardner is said to have seriously uttered the following: "Give us Wachtel and Walkup, but we'll have to get together on the matter of bringing another infielder to take George's place."

SPUDS PURCHASE HURLER ESTELL

Big Right-Hander, Formerly With Steers Bought From Louisville

DALLAS, May 17.—Tom Estell, a very dependable right-hander, the past several seasons with Louisville and until recently this season with Dallas, was purchased outright from Louisville today by the Spudders.

Estell won four out of five games the current season for the Steers, and upon watching him in action, Spudder Manager Brainard immediately became imbued with the conviction that the big pitcher, with Dallas only on option, could go quite a distance toward bolstering a faltering Wichita Falls mound corps.

Brainard wired Joe McCarthy, Chicago Cub pilot and former Louisville manager, for his opinion on Estell. McCarthy replied: "Buy Estell by all means. He will make you a winning pitcher."

The Dallas management turned Estell back to Louisville with the terse comment, "The price is too stiff," or words to similar effect.

To Buy Others

President Gardner and Brainard got busy and opened negotiations with Louisville immediately. The sale, figure, wathheld by Spudder Moguls, is said to be comparatively heavy. The price was acceptable, however, to Gardner, who wired agreement to terms. No confirmation late tonight had been received from Louisville.

Brainard said this evening that the Estell deal is not the only one the Spudders have on, declaring, "We're willing to buy anybody we believe can help us consistently." Gardner added "We're out to win at almost any price from a money standpoint. If there's a good player anywhere they'll sell and if he'll fit our scheme of affairs we're willing to slap the money on the barrel head."

The addition of Estell gives the Spudders a surplus of flingers, but no arrangement for disposal of any of them has been made and may not be for several days, said Brainard.

GOLF

As Champions Play It

By BILL STRACHAN
Wichita Falls Country Club Golf Professional

Would the average player seucer better results by reducing his arc with the wood clubs to a half or three-quarters swing? Why or why not?

This depends a lot on a person's build and wrists. I would advise a three-quarter swing for all erratic and wild hitters, people with very tight wrists, and also for those who are muscle bound at the shoulders.

The prettiest swing in golf is the full one, an dit is a fine thing for those who can control it, and also for those who lack distance off tee. This full swing takes much practice, however, and gets much practice, however, and gets "out of order" easier than the more restricted swings.

Yanks Confident Of Retaining Cup

LONDON, May 17.—(AP)—America's Walker cup golf team returned to London tonight with renewed confidence after defeating, six matches to four, a combination of ten former English university players who have made names of themselves on the links of Great Britain.

The American's success of yesterday on the squall-swept court at Rye when they gained four four-ball matches in five gave them a winning margin in the two day competition. Today they added two victories in the five tilts, Jesse Guilford and Frances Oumit defeating Roger Wethered and Cyril Tolley, one up, and Bobby Jones and Watts Gunn Downing, J. B. Beck and W. A. Powell, 5 to 3.

Playng with his Atlanta buddy, Gunn appeared to have regained the form which carried him to the semi-finals in the American amateur championship last year where he met defeat at the hands of Jones. He played the wind better throughout the day and the victory proved easy.

George Von Elm and Bob Gardner were defeated by T. F. Ellson and E. P. Storey, 3 to 2; C. D. Gillies and C. V. L. Hooman defeated Jess Sweetser and Roland Mackenzie, one up, and W. L. Hope and T. A. Bourn defeated C. G. Waldo, Jr., and James D. Standish, 3 to 2. Waldo and Standish are not members of the American Walker cup team.

Seven of the British players at Rye are candidates for the team that will oppose the Americans for the Walker trophy.

The American stars leave for Scotland Wednesday to practice for the British amateur and Walker cup play.

Masonic Picnic At Archer City Wednesday Night

An old fashioned barbeque with the "fixings" that guarantee a good time for everyone and a joint meeting of the Masonic lodges of Archer City, Dundee, Megargel and Wichita Falls will be held Wednesday, May 19, at Archer City. The Masonic Service association, which is a national organization, has planned this event with an invitation for the wives, families and friends of the Masons.

Following the barbeque which will begin at 4:00 o'clock, Master Masons only of the four lodges will gather for a tiled meeting. A number of special speakers for the evening meeting have been secured among which John Howearth and Wilbur Keith will make the principal addresses. Families of the Masons will be entertained during this time by members of the Eastern Star organization of Archer City.

It was announced from Faith lodge Monday that a similar meeting will be held Thursday, May 20, at the Iowa Park Methodist church from 4:00 to 9 o'clock for lodges from Burkburnett, Electra, Iowa Park and Wichita Falls, the tiled meeting taking place at 7:30.

Duke Gets 10th Round Decision In Scrap With Ryan

Both Men Put on Fast Fight In Final Chapters

Duke Trammel, Fort Worth welterweight, slapped his way through 10 rounds of milling Monday night with Dago Ryan, Dallas newsboy, and by a grand spurt at the end was awarded a decision in the American Legion card wind-up.

Both men started slow but ended up with a rush in the ninth and tenth rounds. Ryan did most of the leading in the fight and tried Tommie White's famous infighting over Duke with hopes he could invoke the jinx White holds. This failed in the end, however, and Duke won by better condition and stiffer punch.

Long ranged pokes were all going in Duke's favor and in the last round he had Ryan almost ready for the sleeper. Duke captured shades in the second, sixth, seventh and tenth. Ryan carried the fifth, eighth and ninth with all the rest even.

Battling Cossey failed to appear for the semi-final bout and this was cancelled.

Ruby Hagan from the Golden Gate city hit freely and clearly outpointed Sailor Murphy in a four-round battle.

Six Second Smith won a technical knockout over Wichita Slim in a wild and whirlwind fight that came to an end in the fourth when Slim didn't care to continue.

Trooper Carr put up a great fight with the larger and heavier Hobbs and won a clean cut decision. Carr had to telegraph the blows to the other's chin.

The flea-weights batted the four-round curtain raiser to a draw.

Santa Fe Head Creates City By Waving His Hand

SLATON, Texas, May 17.—(AP) The risibilities of W. B. Storey, president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad probably would be stirred, should he be placed in the same category as that redoubtable Russian czar, Peter the Great. Nevertheless, the czar of all the Russians and the guiding genius of the Santa Fe both created cities out of bare ground by the mere wave of a hand and, if tradition is worthy of credence, in about the same length of time.

Peter, sailing along the river that skirted his capital to be, pointed out a marsh and ordered a city to be started. Mr. Storey in 1911 dropped off the rear coach of a special train, waved his hand over the bare prairie and ordered his subordinates to lay out a division point for the Santa Fe. Although Slaton is not so densely inhabited as Petrograd, residents assert that "she ain't as old either."

Not quite 15 years old, this town has well paved streets, is the center of a prosperous farming community, and as a further source of income has a payroll of more than a million dollars annually from the Santa Fe. The geological survey shows possibilities for oil and gas and hopes are held that a well spudded in near here eventually will prove a producer.

The plains country surrounding Slaton, that in years past were supposed to be valueless except for grazing purposes, are now producng enormous quantities of feedstuffs. Some of the finest cotton in the state is grown in Slaton trade territory and melon and fruit cultivation is found highly profitable.

Women Are Taking Up Architecture

URBANA, Ill., May 17.—(AP)—The nine women enrolled in a course of straight architecture at the University of Illinois take the work because they see future possibilities in the profession.

The course is of four years and leads to a degree of Bachelor of Science. They have the same curricula as the men and are required to do the same work. Instructors in the class claim there is great opportunity for women in architecture, especially along the lines of domestic architecture.

Overturning Auto Fatal to Merchant

SAN ANTONIO, May 17.—(AP)—L. G. Coopert, 55, manager of the Texas Monument company of San Marcos was fatally injured this morning when his automobile overturned three miles north of Devine of the San Antonio highway.

He was found a few minutes after the accident by a motorist, who took him back to Devine for medical aid. Coopert lived only a few minutes after reaching Devine, according to word received in San Antonio.

Get Harem Music To Ward off Jazz

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 17.—(AP)—Harem music has been taken down from the racks to offset the invasion of jazz.

The moan of the saxophone altogether is too popular here and the kemendje, a kind of violin, and the tambour, resembling a guitar, have been dusted off and brought out into the open again after many years of repose.

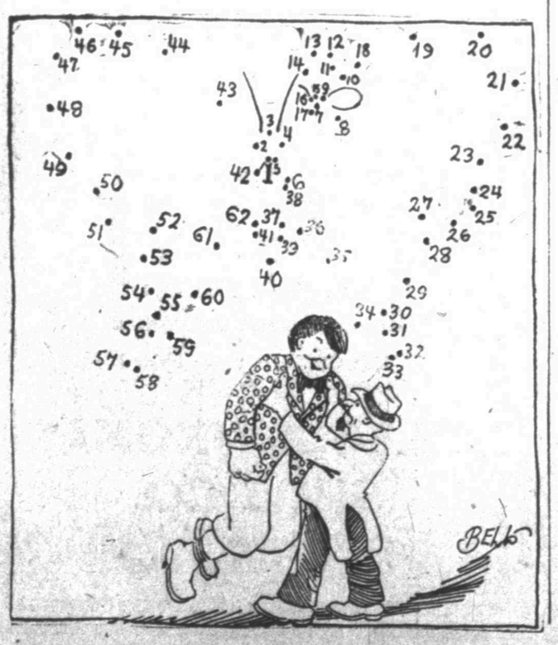

The Kanum, a zither-like lyre, is designed to take the place of the ukeelele in the endeavors to the new Turkey to rejuvenate its old music by recasting it into western modes.

Promises Splash Not To Be Unheard

DALLAS, May 17.—(AP)—Out of the great spaces of the west today came to Sheriff Schuyler Marshall of Dallas county a snow-white five-gallon hat. On its brim was endorsed the name of a noted movie star, whose cognomen begins with "M" and rimes with "fix." It came by mail, but the sheriff doesn't know why, unless it was because of his successful efforts in preventing a jail delivery a year ago.

"All I've got to say is that when I toss this hat into the ring it will make some splash," said the sheriff.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, May 17.—(AP)— The cattle trade was a slow affair in the turning of the steer supply—75 cars—and a lower affair in she stock. Calves sold steady, hogs advanced a dime or more and sheep and lambs were 25 to 50c lower.

Arrivals 6,000 grown cattle, 1,000 calves, 2,000 hogs and 9,500 sheep. Week ago 5,854 cattle, 494 calves, 1,325 hogs and 5,257 sheep.

Trading in beef cattle failed to get under way until late, and then offerings were subject to some downward revision.

She stock moved earlier, but at a downturn of 15 to 25c, weight of cut bearing on in-between class, fair butcher and decent cutters. Canners around 15c to the bad. Best beefy cows 6.00, same as sold last week at 6.25 and up. Butcher cows ranged 4.50 to 5.00, canners 3.00 and up.

On early rounds nothing in young slaughter stock sold better than 6.00, confined to small lots.

Calves fully steady, best light veals in near car loads 10.00 and desirable heavy calves around 8.25. Calf movement in strong and favorable contrast with trade in grown cattle.

Bulls steady after decline of last week, bolognas at 4.00 to 5.25. Stockers steers and particularly feeder yearling were in active demand, several buyers being active. Steers 5.85 to 6.50, three cars desirable yearlings 8.35.

Hogs active and a dime to 15c higher, top reaching 14.30 for light butchers which formed bulk of day's run. Heavy packers 14.00, packing sows 13.00 to 13.50.

Nine thousand sheep arrived, 3,000 on through billing. Market 25 to 30c lower. Best of the lambs at 14.50, wethers 8.00, shorn lambs 13.00.

Cattle receipts 7,000 including 1,000 calves; market lower; beeves 5.00 to 8.50; stocker steers 5.50@6.75; fat cows 5.00 to 6.50; cutters 3.90@4.45; canners 3.00 to 3.75; yearlings 5.50@9.00; heifers 5.00 to 9.50; bulls 3.50@5.50; calves 5.00@10.25.

Hogs receipts 2,000 including 300 directs. Market 10c higher; good to choice lights 14.30@14.15; medium lights 14.00@14.10; fair lights 12.85@13.75; good mixed 12.75@13.40; heavy packing 13.00@14.00; common 6.00@9.00; packing sows 12.00@13.50; pigs 10.00@12.50.

Sheep receipts 9,000; market 10@15c lower; slaughter lambs 13.00@14.50; feeder lambs 10.00@11.50; yearlings 8.50@12.50; wethers generally 8.00; ewes 7.00@8.00; culls 1.00@3.00; feeders 6.50@7.00; goats 1.00@3.50.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO, May 17.—(AP)—Cattle 20,000; fat steers and yearlings steady to strong, best heavy steers 10.25; yearlings 10.25; bulk 8.95@10.00; she stock steady; bulls uneven, steady to strong; heavy bolognas 6.60@6.75; vealers 25c higher; largely 10.50@12.50.

Hogs 34,000; slow, opened 10 to 20c higher; closed dull; 240 to 325 pound butchers 13.25@13.90; 200 to 225 pound weights 14.00@14.35; 180 pounds down 14.40@14.55; top 14.60; sows 12.50@12.75; pigs 14.40@14.60; estimated holdover 8,000.

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, May 17.—(AP)— The Fort Worth wheat opened fairly steady, but soon showed a weak tendency which characterized the trading throughout Monday, with prices declining to a close that was lower than Saturday.

Continued favorable weather conditions in the northwest grain belt were attributed for the decline.

Wheat, No. 1 dark hard 1.69@1.74; No. 1 ordinary hard 1.68@1.73; No. 1 red 1.73@1.77; No. 1, 75 per cent red 1.70@1.72.

CHICAGO GRAIN REVIEW

CHICAGO, May 17.—(AP)—Wheat prices turned decisively downward today at the last. Confronted with excellent crop advices from the southwest, wheat traders who had been on the buying side attempted to unload, and support for the market gave out. Closing quotations on wheat were heavy, ⅝ to 2c net lower, with corn ⅝ to 1⅝c off, oats ⅛ to 1¼c down, and provisions varying from 2c decline to a rise of 15c.

Corn and oats reflected wheat weakness. One of the sellers of corn was a leading speculator. May and July corn both touched new low prices for the season.

Fresh top values for hogs gave strength to the provision market.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, May 17.—(AP)—More favorable weather advices were reflected in moderate declines in the cotton market today. October contracts sold off to 17.39 and closed at 17.45 compared with 17.53 at the close last week. The general market closed steady at net declines of 8 to 16 points.

The opening was easy at a decline of 7 to 12 points in response to relatively easy Liverpool cables and reports of favorable weather in the south over Sunday. Some traders thought there had not been enough rain in the eastern belt and there was a little nervousness over private reports of rains or showers at San Antonio, Texas. Generally the weather was thought to be improving and the long range forecast was for a week of higher temperatures and generally fair conditions, except for showers during the middle part of the period in the southwest.

After selling off to 18.14 for July and 18.43 for December, or about 14 to 18 points net lower, the market steadied up a few points on covering while there appeared to be a little trade and commission house buying of new crop months. Demand was no more than sufficient to absorb offerings, however, and prices eased back to about the previous low levels in late trading. July was relatively easy under liquidation and at the close was 71 points over October, compared with 79 points at the close of last week.

Exports today 50,882, making 7,298,188 so far this season. Port receipts today 20,280. U. S. port stocks 905,409.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, May 17.—(AP)—The cotton market developed a moderate degree of activity today and although prices were disposed to be lower in the early trading there was a steadied tone later in the session. At the start Liverpool was lower than due and early weather news showed no rain in the belt over Sunday. By the middle of the morning active months showed declines compared with Saturday's close of 15 to 16 points. Later the market rallied somewhat on covering based on reports of rains at several Texas points and on fears of further rains developing overnight. The new crop months recovered most of the early loss but old crop positions did not rally quite as well. The close was near the highs showing net losses for the day of five points on new crop months and of nine to 12 on the old crop positions.

At the start Liverpool was much lower than due and weather advices were favorable, the market opened nine to 15 points down and this loss was increased during the first hour until July traded at 17.61, October at 16.94 and December 16.97, or 15 to 16 points below Saturday's close. These proved to be the lows of the day.

The market rallied around mid-session and again in the afternoon on shorts covering mainly on reported rains at several points in Texas and in the late trading July rallied to 17.68, October to 17.07 and December also to 17.07, or 7 to 13 points above the lows. The market closed at the highs on old crop months.

Exports for the day were large, totaling 50,882 bales.

Financial

NEW YORK, May 17.—(AP)—Stock prices rallied briskly this afternoon after an earlier period of heaviness, both the rail and industrial averages closing higher on the day. Trading continued to be largely of a professional character, the day's sales barely exceeding 1,000,000 shares.

Chief financial interest of the day centered in the renewed weakness of French francs, which broke below 3 cents for the first time in history.

In the stock market, bear traders endeavored to unsettle the general list by hammering the motor, rubber, merchandising and motion picture shares. Several of these crumbled to new low levels for the year, but the standard industrials and rails offered good resistance to pressure and steady accumulation was noted throughout the day in the oil group, presumably in response to the recent stiffening of commodity prices.

Hudson again bore the brunt of the selling in the motor group, being depressed to a new low for the year at 55⅛. Shorts scrambled to cover during the late rally, however, the price being run up to 58. Other automotive issues to touch new low levels were American Bosch Magneto, Chandler-Cleveland preferred, Continental Motors, Dodge Brothers A and the preferred, Eaton Axle, Hayes Wheel, Jordan, Motor Wheel, Stewart Warner, Stromberg Carburetor, Studebaker and Willys-Overland common, but some of these closed at net gains of a point or more.

Further reports of backward trade probably accounted for the liquidation of the merchandising issues. Woolworth was hammered down nearly 4 points to a new low for the year at 136⅝ and then rallied to 138⅛. Montgomery Ward also touched a new low.

Failure of the directors of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey to increase the regular dividend was a disappointment to speculative cliques operating in the oil group. However, Atlantic Refining was bid up 1⅝ to 117⅝, Lago touched 21, the highest price since it was listed last week, and most of the others showed fractional improvement.

The declaration of an extra cash dividend of $4 on Dupont apparently had been discounted as trading in that issue was quiet, the stock closing 1⅝ higher at 208. Allied Chemical, American Sugar Refining, General Electric, General Motors and International Paper were among the score or so issues to close a point or more higher on the day.

Rails were rather quiet with a point gain in Erie first preferred as one of the few features. One of the interesting trade developments of the day was the report of increased inquiries for railroad equipment.

Call money held at 3¾ per cent all day despite the calling of about $10,000,000 in loans. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Foreign exchanges were irregular. Demand sterling held fairly steady around $4.86 3-16. Belgian francs broke below 3 cents in sympathy with the weakness of the French rate, but Italian lire rallied 13 points to around 3.68 cents.

Kellogg Complains About Expulsion

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(AP)—Mexico's decision to expel the Rt. Rev. George Caruana was made despite intercessions initiated both by Secretary Kellogg and Ambassador Sheffield.

On two occasions Mr. Kellogg interceded with Mexican Ambassador Tellez here while Ambassador Sheffield tendered his good offics in Mexico City.

In both negotiations, however, the American officials made it clear that they recognized Mexico's right to administer her own laws as she saw fit. It also was recognized that the fact that the Monsignor Caruana is an American citizen did not entitle him under the law to preferential treatment and under the circumstances state department officials feel they have done evrything possibl for him.

Youth Will Start Mexican Revolution

SAN ANTONIO, May 17.—(AP)—Officers here are seeking to stop a revolution in Mexico before its inception.

This they hope to do by finding 15-year-old Raymond Darwin of Hot Springs, Ark. According to word from his mother, Mrs. Clyde Young, the yout hleft home with the avowed intention of starting a revolution in Mexico if one was not in progress upon his arrival in the southern republic.

The youthful "soldier of fortune" is known to have taken a train from Little Rock for San Antonio.

Post Dispatch Asks Barring of Title

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(AP)—The right of the Houston Printing company of Houston, Texas, to use the name Post-Dispatch for its newspaper has been questioned before the supreme court by the Pulitzer Publishing company, publishers of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Havi g failed in the lower courts to obtain an injunction against the Houston company the Pulitzer company is asking the supreme court to review its contention that it is entitled to the exclusive use of the name in its territory.

PRAYERS ANSWERED

ROME, May 17.—(AP) — Little Maria Nobile's prayers have been answered. The eight-year-old daughter of the pilot of the Norge a week ago went on her knees and asked for her father's success. And now she has a platinum ring, set with diamonds and pearls, the gift of the queen.

"Now We Have a Home"

So few people are competent to judge the weathering qualities of lumber that they build or buy, and say "Now we have a home"—entirely unaware that the house that looks so well when brand new will need much repairing within a few year's time. The oldest homes in America are built almost entirely of lumber—but of the right kind of lumber for each part of the building. In addition to assisting with the financing of a home, we provide a selection of the right lumber for all parts of the structure, so that the new home will not prove a disappointment.

Expense of Strike In Britain $3,750,000

LONDON, May 17.—(AP)—Government expenses in connection with the general strike were about 750,00 pounds sterling (about $3,750,000), Chancellor of the Exchequer Churchill today informed the house of commons. The chancellor said that as yet it was not possible to estimate the expenditure accurately and that he did not think additional taxation to meet it would be necessary.

"Assuming that the coal stoppage is not generally prolonged and that there is an early return to normal conditions," he said.

Negress Fined $25 For Flaunting Law

SAN ANTONIO, May 17.—(AP) Her admitted flaunting of the "Jim Crow" law cost a negro woman $25 in corporation court today when she was arraigned before Judge John F. Onion on a charge of disturbing the peace.

The negro woman was accused by a white woman of having sat beside her in a street car. Efforts of a white man to get her to move were futile.

'ZIM' A MARTYR

NAPLES, Texas, May 17.—(AP) "Zim, the tithing evangelist," thinks it is about time some man offered himself as a martyr for the salvation of Texas. And so the Rev. C. F. Zimmerman is out for governor against Ma Ferguson, two other women and two other men.

AUTOS USED IN CRIME

CHICAGO, May 17. — (AP) — Criminal justice was devised for conditions existing before the days of the automobile, says a committee of the Illinois Bar association. Now the gangsters use automobiles with machine guns.

AUTHORIZE DAVIS

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(AP) Construction of two dams by the Neches canal company in Pine bayou, Texas, near Beaumont, was authorized today by the war department. The project includes excavation of two cut offs and the placing of three submerged pipes.

TEXAS VETERANS IN BIRMINGHAM

Quaint Ranch Costumes Of Girls Capture Heart Of Alabama

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 17.—(AP)—One of the first delegations to register for the united confederate veterans' re-union here this week was a group of 48 persons from Mexia, Texas. This party was accompanied by the municipal band of Wortham, Texas. Miss Katie Daffin of Houston, vice-president-general of the Daughters of the Confederacy, was hostess at a reception to early arrivals at the Hotel Tutwiler.

With the arrival of Mrs. St. John Allison, Lawton, Charleston, president-general of the Daughters of the Confederacy for the daughters were opened in the municipal auditorium.

General W. B. Freeman, commander-in-chief of the veterans will open his headquarters tomorrow upon his arrival from Richmond, Va.

One of the attractive groups among early arrivals was pretty Oklahoma and Texas girls dressed in typical ranch costumes, with straw sombreros.

These young women are maids of honor and sponsors for various camps.

Special trains began arriving at noon bringing the veterans sons of veterans, Daughters of the Confederacy, official ladies and visitors. First of the trains was from Texas. Others were from the east and west.

How to Write
BETTER
Classified Ads—

1. Never write hurriedly. The well written Classified Ad gets results because it is complete.

2. Put yourself into the reader's place. Tell the facts YOU would wish to know if you were buying instead of selling.

3. Omit nothing that is necessary, but do not waste words.

4. Telephone 4121 and ask for an Ad-Taker. She will glady assist in completing your copy.

Build On Higher Ground

Build On Higher Ground

Wise indeed was the honored sage who said "Lift up Thine Eyes to the Hills and Build on Higher Ground." Wiser still are those who follow such sound advice.

YOUR HOME
Rivercrest Park will BE on higher ground.

Here the elevation is 1,054 feet which affords a wonderful site for a home—a more wonderful view of the surrounding country.
The glorious sunset in the west—the beautiful winding Wichita River to the north—the shimmer of Lake Wichita to the south—below you to the east the prosperous city that Faith Built—such are the promises of beautiful Rivercrest Park (Wichita Falls Beauty Spot).

Permanent Restrictions. All Facilities Guaranteed.
These pre-development prices are bringing prompt buyers.

70 Foot to 250 Foot Frontage.
Priced $1,000 to $3,000

If you have not yet viewed the glorious sunset at Rivercrest Park we extend to you a special invitation to come out any evening at 7 o'clock.

After you have enjoyed this beauty—we are sure you'll never be satisfied until you've bought in Beautiful Rivercrest Park.

Studebaker Pledge to the Public on Used Car Sales

1 All used cars offered to the public shall be honestly represented.

If a car is suitable only for a mechanic who can rebuild it, or for some one who expects only a few months' rough usage on a camping trip, it must be sold on that basis. Each car must be sold for just what it is.

2 All Studebaker automobiles which are sold as CERTIFIED CARS have been properly reconditioned, and carry a 30-day guarantee for replacement of defective parts and free service on adjustments.

This is possible because tremendous reserve mileage has been built into every Studebaker, which it is impossible to exhaust in years.

3 Every used car is conspicuously marked with its price in plain figures, and that price, just as the price of our new cars, is rigidly maintained.

The public can deal in confidence and safety only with the dealer whose policy is "one price only—the same price to all." For to sell cars on this basis, every one of them must be honestly priced to begin with.

4 Every purchaser of a used car may drive it for five days and then, if not satisfied for any reason, turn it back and apply the money paid as a credit on the purchase of any other car in stock—new or used.

It is assumed, of course, that the car has not been smashed up by collision or other accident in the meantime.

Our fine used cars are sold at the lowest time-payment rates in the industry. Only a small down payment necessary to secure one of these attractive values. See them today!

Arthur, Thomas Bldg., Dallas, will have due consideration.

Kiwanians Dine At Day Nursery And Hear Reports

The material results of a campaign started late last spring by the Kiwanis club and Womens Federated Missionary society were evident Monday at the Kiwanis meting of the new Day Nursery, 403 Lamar, when luncheon was served the Kiwanians by members of the missionary society. The luncheon marks the completion of the nursery which will be ready for occupants in about ten days.

A report on the financial outcome of the project was given by Joe Sherril, who stated that total receipts amount to something over $29,000 with disbursements around $33,000. With various contributions from church units, the amount of nearly two-thirds of the total receipts raised by the Kiwanis club, and a number of other sources, it is found that only a debt of around $4,000 is the present standing. A great portion of this will be dissolved in the sale of the old nursery and upon receipt of pledges. Individual contributions will tak care of a part of this also.

"It was found in the starting of the building that incoporation was necessary and in face of the fact that a number of difficulties arose, the time spent in its construction has been remarkably short," Mr. Sherrill stated. "The structure shows evidences of hard work on the part of all concerned. The citizens of Wichita Falls have exhibited a most unusual public spirit in securing this home for housing the unfortunate children of the city."

Inspection of the nursery took place before the luncheon.

Members of the missionary socity committee in charge of th luncheon were: Mesdames G. D. Anderson, W. B. Jarrell, R. O. Harvey, E. F. Riley, C. E. Bailey, J. H. Nix, J. N Sherrill, C. Y. Tully, Charles Pogenpohl, Russell Eckerty, Lous Fink, J. Cohn, Harry Weeks, R. J. Goodale, W. A. Maloney, O. Juhl, and J. A. Kemp.

Mrs. Grady Fletcher is reported quite ill at the home of her parents, Judge and Mrs. J. W. Akin.

CLASS NIGHT FOR SENIORS

School Tradition to Be Passed on In Big Celebration

Seniors of 1926, Wichita Falls Junior college, will feature their annual custom of passing the traditions from the graduating class to the junior class in the "class night" exercise to be held in the college auditorium Tuesday evening at 8:15 o'clock. Evan Harris, president of the seniors, will present college traditions to Mary Tancred, president of the juniors, who will accept them for the class.

Program Planned

An interesting program has been planned for the occasion with an original skit, "College Life," arranged by Vernon McGee and Edna Prechel. Announcement will be made of the honor students, ranked as valedictorian and salutatirian. It is expected that the student making the highest grades will not be known until the announcement is made at the program outlined by the graduating class.

The numbers of the evening follow:

Announcement of the salutatorian; "A Review of the Class Activities of the Year," Evan Harris, president, who presides at the meeting; reading, Gladys Faye Johnson; piano solo, Lee Erwin; class poem, Thelma Adams; class prophecy, Agnes Martin; class will, Ellen Hooker; song, Juanita Winblood, with piano accompaniment by Marie Beaty; passing of the senior class traditions; skit, "College Life;" talk by the class sponsor, R. O. Jones; announcement of the valedictorian.

No Charge Made

No charge is made for the entertainment and friends and well-wishers of the graduating class of 1926 are invited to be present for the entertainment.

THEATRE PARTY FOR GRADUATES MONDAY

Seniors of the graduating class of Junior college were entertained Monday night in a theatre party. Other events for the week include a sunrise breakfast Tuesday morning, complimentary to the class by the sponsor, Professor R. O. Jones. The class night exercises under the direction of Agnes Morton and Elizabeth Wright will be featured this evening at the college auditorium at 8:15 o'clock.

An all-day picnic is planned for the seniors for Wednesday to be held probably at the Diversion lake. A gypsy party will be held Thursday evening; an open house will be featured in the morning, the place to be announced later.

Following the commencement exercises of the college Friday evening, a banquet will be held at the Wichita club.

The final meeting of the seniors of 1926 and disbanding of the class will be held Saturday morning at an early morning party and dance, the place to be announced during the week.

SENIORS CUT-UP AS CLASS CLOSES

Seniors of the Wichita Falls high school enjoyed Monday in the usual manner of high school students who are away from the daily grind for the first time since September. Automobile rides, movies, rest for a few catching up on sleeping and a general round of varied events marked Monday as the graduates planned for the remaining events of the week.

The ball started rolling Monday night with a dance at the Kemp hotel when Miss Estylin Allday was hostess to the class when more than a hundred boys and girls enjoyed the party.

A matinee party for the seniors and an entertainment at the Wichita club with Bernice Sauer hostess is announced for Tuesday.

2 Commissioners Granted Leaves

Two leaves of absences were granted by the city council Monday night to city commisioners, Oral Jones, finance commissioner, vice president and cashier of the City National bank, will represent that institution with his wife and son at the state bankers' convention at Galveston May 25, 26 and 27.

J. H. Patton, sanitary and park commissioner, was granted a 30-day leave of absence to visit his son in Los Angeles. He will leave Wichita Falls the latter part of the week, he stated.

G. A. Remington, general manager of the Wichita County Irrigation Improvement District, and Judge A. H. Britain, were in Seymour Monday on business.

Disbarred Attorney Now Seeks Damages

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(AP)—Walter Holland, Washington attorney, who was disbarred from practice before the bureau of internal revenue last july, today filed suit for $300,000 damages against Secretary Mellon charging libel.

Holland complained against action by a treasury department disbarment committee and approval by Secretary Mellon of its findings.

NEGRO IMPROVES

Ned Cossey, negro shot early Sunda ymorning in an affary on Huff avenue, was in a serious condition at the General hospital Monday night, although his condition had shown some improvement.

Ray Fields, another negro arrested immediately after the shooting, is now charged with assault with intent to murder.

COUNTY G.O.P. LAYING PLANS

Preliminary Meeting At Court House Monday Starts Party

Wichita county republicans will get together sometime within the next two or three weeks for the purpose of nominating men to take the places on a complete ticket for county offices to be voted on the coming July primaries, according to sentiment expressed in a preliminary meeting held Monday night in the 89th district court room. It is planned, according to discussion among the 40 or more present, to name a man for every place on the ballot.

Approximately 18 from Wichita county will attend the state republican convention to be held this week-end at Fort Worth, it developed at the meeting, although no definite announcement as to just who these would be was made afterwards.

The city's amendment to its plumbing ordinance, raising the permit fee for work within the city limits from $10 annually to $100 failed to pass on its third and final reading at Monday night's meeting of the city council. Instead an alternative ordinance suggested by Utilities Commissioner P. B. Curd, raising the initial fee from $10 to $100, and to $25 for each year after the first was presented the council and passed on its first reading, and an emergency being declared, on its second and third readings.

The passage of the ordinance was hotly contested by members of the plumbers oragnization who attended the meeting, these holding out for the original higher fee, maintaining that to allow them such would make for greater efficiency in their trade and effectively eliminate the "fly by night" craftsmen from the city.

LAND APPRAISED

An appraisal of a strip of land owned by P. P. Langford needed by the city for a right-of-way for telephone, water and electric light lines to its new sewage disposal plant at $275 was received by the city council at its meeting Monday night, and a motion made and carried to proffer Mr. Langford that figure.

ASKS FOR PAVING

A paving petition of residents on Kings' highway from Fillmore street, south and west to Talunar was presented the city council Monday night and filed to be acted upon later. The petition represents a four block project.

A petition of residents of Victory street, Duval to Harrison was acted upon similarly.

Routine business matters were taken up for discussion Monday night when the school board met in regular session, it was announced at the conclusion of the session by Dr. W. J. Cantwell, superintendent of the board.
