Gemini On Schedule After Hectic Period

Prospects Good For Full Flight

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Astronauts James McDivitt and Edward White whirled into the second day of their marathon space mission today, their spirits high and their flight plan back on schedule after some hectic early hours during which White strolled in space.

The Mission Control Center said everything appeared favorable for the Gemini 4 spacecraft to complete its full 97-hour, 50-minute mission.

If there are no hitches, America's longest manned space flight will end at 11:06 a.m. Big Spring time Monday with a parachute splashdown in the Atlantic Ocean 400 miles southwest of Bermuda.

During a pass over the Houston Control Center on the 14th orbit today, White told capsule communicator Virgil Grissom a few more details about his 20-minute excursion into space during orbit No. 3 Thursday.

BLUE WATERS

White described as "vivid blue" the waters of the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean. He said he clearly saw Houston and Galveston Bay as he floated on the end of a golden lifeline more than 100 miles above the earth.

(Space stories on Page 8-B)

He said he even saw Clear Lake, about 3 miles long and 1½ miles wide, near the Houston homes of both astronauts.

White said the jet-gun maneuvering unit he used made it much easier to move about outside the capsule. When he wasn't using it, he said, he had difficulty getting around.

White also said he had walked on the equipment section of the Gemini 4 during his excursion.

"It looked like I was right on top of it," he said, "It's kinda hard to get traction."

Then Grissom passed on some news from home. He reported that the Hawks, a Pee - Wee League baseball team for which McDivitt's 8-year-old son Mike plays, defeated the Falcons, 3-2. McDivitt was asleep at the time the word was relayed.

ON SCHEDULE

John Hodge, the overnight flight director, told newsmen today that during the night McDivitt and White managed to get back on the original flight plan.

The plan had been disrupted during the first three orbits when McDivitt made a futile attempt to catch and rendezvous with another satellite — the burned-out third stage of the Titan 2 rocket that boosted them into orbit.

After expending about 40 per cent of his fuel, McDivitt abandoned the effort. The chase contributed to a one-orbit delay in White's space excursion.

Hodge said that throughout the night, the Gemini 4 was allowed to drift on its orbital path without any expenditure of fuel.

Hodge said two orbit-changing maneuvers would be dropped from the flight and there would be some curtailment of scientific experiments that require spacecraft maneuvering.

NAPS IN SPACE

He said McDivitt and White were getting used to sleeping in space after initial "tossing and turning" periods. Each slept well on their second four-hour slumber period, he reported.

"Now that we're back on a regular schedule," Hodge said, "we'll be able to start working out compatible, work, sleep and eat cycles for future long-duration flights."

This is one of the major goals of the flight, along with gathering of medical data to determine how well the astronauts withstand long exposure to the weightless world of space.

Gemini 4 began its second 24-hour period at 9:16 a.m. Big Spring time today. At 7:37 p.m. it will surpass Gordon Cooper's U.S. man-in-space record of 34 hours 20 minutes, established in May 1963.

Russian cosmonaut Valery Bykovsky holds the record of 119 hours 6 minutes.

White took over the controls of Gemini 4 shortly after 6:15 a.m. to let command pilot James McDivitt relax in his second sleep period.

ORBIT RANGE

Mission control informed the astronauts their capsule was revolving about the earth in an orbit that ranged from 101 miles at its lowest point to 179 miles at the highest.

Medical officers at the space control complex here said after the first four-hour sleep period that sleeping habits and appetites of both were disrupted by the lingering excitement from White's sensational 20-minute glide outside the capsule on the third orbit Thursday.

However, by the 10th orbit, about 11 hours later, their blood pressure, temperatures and heart beat were back to normal.

BALKY LATCH

McDivitt had one complaint early today. A balky latch on White's hatch door kept them from jettisoning the now-surplus equipment needed only for White's space walk.

"We are crowded and we have most of that junk down in the foot well," he reported this morning.

The antics of White, 34, highlighted the first-day voyage as Gemini 4 streaked around and around the earth.

Space officials indicated there was a chance President Johnson might try to call the astronauts sometime today.

20 MINUTES

White stayed alone in space for 20 minutes, double the time spent by a Soviet cosmonaut last March, and had to be coaxed back into the capsule by McDivitt, who followed pre-emptory commands barked into space from mission control in Houston.

"We've got 3½ days to go, buddy," McDivitt told White, after a sharp nudge from mission control.

"I'm coming," White said reluctantly.

As he eased back into the capsule, he added: "It's the saddest moment of my life."

NOT DISORIENTED

Dr. Charles Berry, the astronauts' physician, told a news conference White was not disoriented while outside the spacecraft, as his Soviet predecessor had been.

Wives Wait

Mrs. James McDivitt, top, and Mrs. Edward White were a happy pair as they talked with newsmen after the successful launch of their husbands' spacecraft, Gemini 4, and today were awaiting their return and looking forward to vacations. The ladies, both named Pat, visited the Manned Spacecraft Center to check on the progress of the flight. (AP WIREPHOTO)

All Marines Pulling Out Of Dominica

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The U.S. Marines said goodbye to Santo Domingo today as President Johnson ordered the rest of them out.

Helicopters were airlifting the 2,100 leathernecks to the carrier Boxer offshore.

There was no indication whether the carrier and her escort would sail for other waters once the Marines were aboard.

PERMIT PULLOUT

Johnson announced in Chicago Thursday night that Brazilian Gen. Hugo Panasco Alvim, commander of the Inter-American Force in the Dominican Republic, had advised him "that conditions in the Dominican Republic now permit further reduction of our military personnel."

"I have accordingly ordered the withdrawal of all remaining units of the United States Marine Corps totaling approximately 2,100 men," the President said.

Departure of the Marines leaves 14,200 U.S. paratroopers serving with 1,500 Latin-American troops in the Inter-American Force.

TALKS CONTINUE

Peace negotiators of the Organization of American States continued talks with rebel and junta leaders.

At U.N. headquarters in New York, Soviet Delegate Nikolai T. Fedorenko asked the Security Council to get the Inter-American Force out of the Dominican Republic and to investigate rebel charges that the junta has executed hundreds of rebel sympathizers.

U.S. Delegate Charles W. Yost replied that the council was not the place to discuss charges of violation of human rights. He said the Inter-American Force was helping the Dominicans and did not violate the U.N. Charter.

Slaying Figure Ashley Ruled Sane By Jury

WHARTON, Tex. (AP)—A district court jury ruled today that Leslie Douglas Ashley, under indictment for the 1961 slaying of a Houston man, is sane.

Mrs. Sylvia Ayres of Houston, his mother, said Thursday that her son "laughs at things that are not funny" and he is "strange and withdrawn."

Ashley, 28, a onetime female impersonator, tittered as she testified. He remains under indictment in the 1961 slaying of Fred Tones, a Houston real estate man, during what Ashley and a girl friend described as a sex party in Tones' office.

Fifteen To Vie Tonight For Beauty Crown

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Fifteen nervous beauties compare faces and figures tonight in finals for the Miss USA crown and the opportunity to represent this country in the 1965 Miss Universe Pageant.

The winner, to be crowned on a nationwide (CBS) telecast, also will receive $5,000 cash and a $5,000 year-long appearance contract.

Congress Ax Raised Over Silver Coins

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress goes to work swiftly today on President Johnson's proposal to reduce sharply the amount of silver in U.S. coins.

A House Banking Committee hearing, with Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler and Assistant Secretary Robert A. Wallace as witnesses, was scheduled less than 24 hours after Johnson's message reached Congress.

NICKEL, COPPER

Johnson's legislation would substitute nickel-copper dimes and quarters for the present silver ones and reduce the silver content of the half-dollar.

Most members of Congress who commented appeared to favor the proposal, if only because they felt the shrinking supply of silver leaves the government little choice.

Some from silver-producing states opposed the measure.

"GOOD MONEY"

Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., Banking and Currency Committee chairman, said: "We have got to do something — and this is good money. Anything the government says is good for the payment of debts and taxes is good money, even if it is made of wood. You could even pay alimony with this."

Patman said he thinks the hearings can be brief, but that spokesman for the vending-machine industry may want to be heard. One of the problems of devising a substitute coinage is to find a combination of metals that will work in machines designed for silver coins.

HEARINGS DUE

Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., chairman of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, said hearings by that group will begin next week. He said the proposal doesn't entirely please everyone, but "action should be prompt in both the Senate and House, and I anticipate it can be, because this compromise measure is temporary legislation to protect a rapidly diminishing silver supply until permanent legislation can be formulated."

List Includes Big Spring In Weather Alert Strip

By The Associated Press

The Weather Bureau issued a severe weather forecast today for the heartland of the South Plains and the Panhandle of Texas. The forecast area included Hale Center and Cotton Center, towns severely damaged Wednesday night by a tornado.

A scattering of tornadoes occurred during the night around Stinnett but no damage was reported.

The new forecast area was along and 50 miles on each side of a line from 40 miles southwest of Midland to 50 miles northeast of Amarillo.

CITIES LISTED

Cities in the area included Midland, Odessa, Big Spring, Lamesa, Andrews, Brownfield, Levelland, Lubbock, Littlefield, Plainview and Pampa.

On the fringe of the forecast area were Childress, Amarillo and Borger.

The forecast said severe thunderstorms with hail, locally damaging winds and the possibility of a tornado could be expected until 2 p.m.

Heavy rains fell at a few points and the stormy weather continued into this morning in a limited area north of Childress.

A giant cleanup job continued today in a Hale Center section five blocks long and three blocks wide. Mayor L. B. Dyer and County Judge C. L. Abernethy approximated the loss after a house to house inspection.

A Red Cross shelter housed and fed 220 victims of the disaster and emergency workers in Hale Center, which is between Plainview and Lubbock.

Still more thunderstorms were predicted tonight over Northwest Texas and the adjoining third of North Central Texas. Slightly cooler weather was promised the Panhandle but continued heat was in prospect for the rest of the state.

Extended forecasts, covering the next five days, called for weekend showers in most sections and somewhat lower temperatures the first of next week.

Jarratt Gets Baptist Post

Dr. H. M. Jarratt, Big Spring, was named today to the Christian Life Commission, one of the most important groups within the Southern Baptist Convention.

He was named at the concluding session of the convention in Dallas and is one of 32 named to the panel. He serves as the Texas representative and will hold office until the 1970 convention.

Dr. Jarratt long has been active in Baptist affairs. He and Mrs. Jarratt, who is the sister of Dr. Joseph W. Bailey, pastor of the large Columbus Avenue Baptist Church in Waco, came here during World War II when he was assigned to the bombardier school staff. They returned here after the war in order for him to establish his dental practice.

He served as president of the East Fourth Baptist Church 16 years ago, and in the intervening years he has been president of the group at Baptist Temple for half a dozen years. He also has served as associate department superintendent in the Sunday school, put in four years as District 8 Brotherhood president, and during the past three years has been on the executive board of the Texas Baptist General Convention. Dr. Jarratt has been a deacon for 16 years and is one of the founding members of Baptist Temple.

SATURDAY

Coahomans Vote On School Issue

Taxpaying voters in the Coahoma Independent School District will pass judgment Saturday on a $395,000 bond issue to finance school expansion and improvements.

Polls will open at 8 a.m. in the City Hall at Coahoma and the Baptist church at Vincent, and will close at 7 p.m. Mrs. Donald Lay is judge at Coahoma, Jim Hodnett at Vincent. Persons who hold poll tax receipts or exemptions and who have rendered property for taxes to the district are eligible to cast a ballot.

School officials are hopeful that there will be a large turnout of voters. A similar issue, but for $450,000, was defeated in January, but this time a far greater effort has gone into explaining the details of the program and the specific costs to taxpayers. Too, one item — a swimming pool—has been deleted from the original issue.

Fiscal agents of the district have calculated that the rate will need to be raised 10 cents on $100 assessed valuation in order to retire the bonds over a 22-year period. In terms of a house or property with actual value of $7,500, the increase would be $3 a year; for actual value of $10,000, the increase would be $4 a year; for actual value of property of $15,000, the increase would be $6 a year; for actual value of property of $20,000, the increase would be $8 a year.

Here is the breakdown on things contemplated under the improvement program: $25,000 for immediate remodeling of the old auditorium into five elementary classrooms; $110,000 for 12 other classrooms as needed; $5,000 for Midway School improvements; $80,000 for elementary-junior high gymnasium for physical education; $20,000 for land purchases west of the school grounds; $25,000 for band hall; $15,000 elementary kitchen extension; $35,000 for football stadium enlargement; $5,000 for track; $25,000 for high school fieldhouse; $5,000 to enlarge junior high fieldhouse; $7,000 for furniture; $15,000 for utility extensions; $4,000 for fencing, concessions and restrooms; $15,000 for architect - engineer fees; $4,000 for fiscal agent.

Unemployment Rate Drops

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced today that the unemployment rate dropped in May to the lowest level since late 1957.

Johnson, jumping the gun on a Labor Department announcement scheduled for later in the day, said the unemployment rate fell from 4.9 per cent in April to 4.6 per cent in May. He said this was the lowest rate in 91 months.

The President, addressing a group of businessmen and labor union officials who have pioneered in finding summer jobs for young people, said unemployment fell by 220,000 between April and May, to total of 3,300,000. He said the decline in the number of jobless was triple the drop that usually is recorded at this time of year.

On the employment front, Johnson said 1 1-3 million more Americans went to work in May, bringing total employment to 72.4 million.

Five Airmen Die In Crash

ROSWELL, N.M. (AP)—An Air Force jet tanker crashed in a pasture near Walker Air Force Base Thursday night, killing all five airmen aboard.

The smouldering wreckage of the KC135 was spread over a one-mile strip of the pasture.

Walker officials identified the dead as Maj. Philip I. Mahler, the pilot; Lt. Anthony Scheriff, the copilot; Maj. Kenneth Woody, the navigator; Lt. Jerry A.A. Smith, a spare navigator, and T. Sgt. Lester Allsop.

Spokesmen said Scheriff was from Escanada, Mich., and Allsop from Brooklyn, N.Y.

Home towns of the three other airmen were not available.

The base information office at Walker, a Strategic Air Command base just south of Roswell, said the four-jet, swept wing tanker was on a routine mission and was approaching Walker at the time of the crash.

The tanker was assigned to the 6th Air Refueling Squadron.

Committee Sees Lead By Russians

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Government Operations Committee reported Thursday it thinks Russia is "substantially ahead of us" in military uses of space.

Fierce Ground Battles Persist In South Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Heavy ground fighting continued across South Viet Nam today and government casualties for today and Thursday rose to at least 239 killed, missing or wounded.

Vietnamese troops were caught in two more Communist ambushes, one a followup action by the Reds to an earlier ambush near Lao Thien, about 150 miles northeast of Saigon.

Casualties in the first ambush of a six-vehicle convoy Thursday totaled 15 government troops killed, 15 wounded and 15 missing. Two armored cars were destroyed, two trucks damaged and two machine guns lost. Communist losses were not known.

RELIEF FORCE

A relief force sent in a few hours later was hit about seven miles northeast of the first action. The government losses in this engagement were nine killed and 14 wounded. Planes and artillery fire finally routed the guerrillas.

Another ambush occurred near Kontum, about 285 miles northeast of Saigon, where a six-truck convoy was on a food pickup mission. A military spokesman said first reports listed 12 Vietnamese killed and nine missing. There were no reports of Communist losses.

In the Mekong River delta, Vietnamese forces fought a day-long battle Thursday trying to bottle up strong guerrilla units at Cai Lay, about 50 miles southwest of Saigon.

The Viet Cong, blasting back with 50-caliber machine guns, broke out of the envelopment but suffered heavy losses, a spokesman said.

Government losses were listed as 18 killed and 52 wounded, but the figure was expected to go higher when a fuller report is received. Twenty Viet Cong bodies were found, and trails of blood indicated the enemy casualties were much higher.

REPEL ATTACK

U.S. Marines beat off an attack by an estimated 50 guerrillas in a 15-minute skirmish near Le My, a Communist-infested string of hamlets about six miles northeast of the Da Nang air base. Two Marines were wounded and three guerrillas were known killed.

The battle was described as the hottest the 2nd Marine Battalion has taken part in since it arrived in Viet Nam April 10.

One of the wounded Marines was hit in the leg and evacuated to a hospital. His condition was described as good. The other suffered a slight arm wound.

U.S. Navy and Air Force planes made seven strikes against targets in North Viet Nam, including a Communist military headquarters and communications center at Ban Ma about 90 miles southwest of Hanoi.

Navy Aircraft from the carrier Bon Homme Richard flew more than 90 sorties Thursday against Viet Cong positions in South Viet Nam, military sources said. Pilots said they dropped 68 tons of bombs and destroyed at least 142 buildings.

A U.S. military spokesman said at least six Soviet IL28 jet bombers of Korean War vintage have been spotted on the ground in North Viet Nam over the past week.

RUSSIAN PLANES

The IL28's have a speed of 500 miles an hour and a range of 1,200 miles. They are the counterpart of the U.S. B57 Canberra.

About 2,000 U.S. paratroopers testing their might against the Viet Cong and the rugged terrain completed the largest American operation of the war Thursday night.

The paratroopers killed at least three guerrillas during the four-day practical-training operation and suffered six casualties, none serious, a U.S. military spokesman said. One reliable report said two of the American injured were hit by fragments of U.S. artillery rounds that fell short.

Airmen Given Scholarships

Two airmen from Headquarters Squadron, 3560th Air Base Group, at Webb, won full semester scholarships at Howard County Junior College because they finished first and second in a touch typewriting course. Scholarships which must be used next September went to S. Sgt. Bert M. Randall and Airman 1.C. Lee Granger.

The two men were part of a class of 11 that attended the 60-hour course in basic fundamentals of touch typewriting and an introduction to military correspondence.

Jimmy Ray Smith, Webb AFB education officer, said the two men could take as little as one course or a full semester load (which would amount to 15 college hours).

The course was taught by Mrs. Dean Box.

Perry Urges Ruling For Lake Permit

The Texas Water Commission was urged today by Charles B. Perry, Odessa, president, to rule on the Colorado River Municipal Water District's application for an amended permit to impound a lake on the Colorado near Robert Lee.

In a letter to the commission, Perry said that it is imperative not only that the District secure an additional supply of water as soon as possible, but it also is necessary that the district know when such an additional supply can be secured in order to make best use of its presently available supply.

He recalled that it has been 10½ months since the District filed its application July 17, 1964, to amend its provisional permit for a lake, and it has been five months since the commission's hearing was concluded.

He cited figures to show that water demands constantly are increasing in the area, having increased by 5,500 acre feet within the past five years.

Stormy Weather Wanes In Areas

By The Associated Press

Stormy weather tapered off today after another outbreak of tornadoes and thunderstorms in scattered sections in the eastern two-thirds of the nation.

The severe weather pattern in the Great Plains has shown only minor changs in the past several days — tornadoes, thunderstorms, heavy rain, hail and strong winds.

Twisters swept areas Thursday from the Texas Panhandle to the Dakotas. The thunderstorm activity was widespread in the Great Plains and eastward to southeastern sections.

Tornadoes hit the Stinnett, Tex., Panhandle area; Colby, Kan.; about 40 miles north of Devils Lake, N.D.; Clayton, N.M., and about 50 miles southeast of Macon, Ga. No injuries were reported. Funnel clouds — tornadoes not touching ground — were reported in parts of Missouri, Kansas, Texas, Oklahoma and South Dakota.

In Kansas, severe storms buffeted the areas of Garden City, Lakin and Deerfield. Flash flooding closed a state highway at two places in the Lakin area. Heavy rain also was reported in sections of Tennessee and South Carolina.

COOL AIR

Cool air covered wide areas from the Great Lakes to New England, with temperatures dropping to the 30s and 40s. A fresh batch of cool air fanned by strong northerly winds spread into the northern Rockies and Dakotas.

Water Demand Shows Decline

May started with a thirst, but dwindled to a trickle for the Colorado River Municipal Water District in comparison with the normal pattern for the month.

What appeared, on the basis of consumptions during the first week of the month, to be a sure-billion - gallon - or - better may suddenly turned the other direction. Final figures showed production of 970,994,286 gallons, down 17.45 per cent from the 1,176,209,198 gallons for May, 1964.

Member cities showed a 27.16 per cent drop in consumption for the month in using 646,256,900 gallons. On the other hand, oil companies were up 12.35, due principally to addition of the Perkins-Prothro draw to the Sun Oil contract. However, both Lion Oil and Sharon Ridge in Scurry County showed substantial increases for the month — The companies together used 324,737,386 gallons.

Odessa consumption was 365,950,000, down 28.51 per cent; Big Spring 222,173,000, down 22.75; and Snyder 58,133,900, down 33.69 per cent. Cool and then pleasantly wet weather accounted for the sharp drop.

For the first five months of the year, the system has delivered 4,086,199,670 gallons, down 7.23 per cent for the period.

Southern Baptists Shift Attitude On Two Matters

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Breaking away from old reservations, Southern Baptists today were on the way toward closer links to other Baptist bodies and firmer commitment to racial equality.

On both issues, their convention has moved ahead to stands which it rejected only a year ago.

All told, the actions "represent a progressive clarification of the mind of the convention on contemporary issues," said the Rev. Dr. C. Emanuel Carlson, head of the Baptist Public Affairs Office in Washington, D.C.

OPINION SHIFT

"A considerable shift of opinion has taken place in a short space of time," Dr. Carlson said. Observed the Rev. Dr. J. T. Ford, of Alexandria, Va.: "It indicates the maturing of our convention."

The huge assembly, with a record 15,578 "messengers" registered, drove through some torrid debate Thursday to approve participation in a new North American Baptist Fellowship and to hit hard at racial injustice.

TO PARTICIPATE

After declining a part in the joint Baptist association last year, the convention approved it this time by a ballot vote of 4,911 to 2,401, overriding protests that it involved "ecumenical harlotry."

Four other Baptist bodies including the American Baptists (Northern) previously agreed to enter the new mutual agency.

Dr. Porter Routh, Southern Baptist executive secretary, said plans provided it would come into being when five denominations joined. This was accomplished by the Southern Baptist action.

LARGEST BODY

Altogether, there are more than 20 million Baptists in America, 10½ million of them in the Southern Convention, the nation's largest Protestant body.

Shortly before, the Rev. Dr. Robert G. Robert of Kansas City, president of the American Convention, had appealed anew for "Baptist unity" as means of greater bonds "with the larger Christian family" in accord with Christ's will that "we may all be one."

Promotion Cost On Wool Notable

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wool and lamb producers paid about $1.75 million last year to promote sale of their products. These payments were deducted from price incentive payments the Agriculture Department made under a wool and lamb stabilization program.

Surviving are two sons, Elra Kelley, Coleman, Clyde Coleman, Cross Plains; two daughters, Mrs. Rutledge, Big Spring, and Mrs. Bessie Murphy, Corpus Christi; three brothers, Vernon and Walter Sewell, Bangs, and Rev. C. G. Sewell, Sweetwater; three sisters, Mrs. Della Waldrop, Waco, Mrs. Pearl Long, Springfield, Mo., and Mrs. Grace Billings, Dallas. She also left 11 grandchildren, eight great - grandchildren, and one great-great-grandchild.

Lake Picks Up Lots Of Water

Although the Lake J. B. Thomas watershed missed out on the hard rains which visited parts of West Texas during May, the big reservoir of the Colorado River Municipal Water District did pick up 8,910 acre feet of water during the month.

This raised the lake level to 2242.45 or approximately 15½ feet below spillway level. The increase approximated 2.9 billion gallons. In terms of volume, Lake Thomas is about 55 per cent of capacity.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Dble.	2 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: King of ◇

South put the information obtained from West's activities during the auction to effective use in playing his four spade contract. In order to come home a winner, declarer found it necessary that he contrive successive end plays against his opponent.

The bidding was sound throughout. West had the classic requirements for a take-out double of one spade, for his hand will make a good dummy for any suit that partner bids. North's immediate raise to two spades is the recommended procedure with an in between holding that contains good trump support. South was certainly well within himself in proceeding merrily to game with a hand worth at least 20 points.

West opened the king of diamonds and South won with the ace. Trumps were drawn in three rounds. Declarer observed that there was little point in making any plays thru the East hand, inasmuch as West was marked with most of the missing high card strength to warrant his vulnerable take-out double.

In fact, if West were put on lead, the return should prove very satisfactory to the declarer. South accordingly exited with a diamond and the jack forced out West's queen.

West got out with a club and declarer won the trick with the jack in his hand. He cashed the ace of clubs and then led over to the king. East showed out on the third round, but this merely set the stage for another end play which applied the finishing touch to South's campaign against West.

A fourth round of clubs was led but, instead of ruffing, South discarded a heart and West was in once more for the final humiliation. If he returned a diamond, it would present the declarer with a ruff and discard, so West cashed the ace of hearts. This play, however, established South's king for the game fulfilling trick. In all, he lost one trick each in diamonds, clubs, and hearts.

Church Meet Hits Interracial Marriage Ban

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The Southwest Texas Conference of the Methodist Church has asked its members to seek repeal of laws banning interracial marriages and adoptions in the state.

A vote of 234 to 1 at the opening session of the conference's 107th annual meeting Thursday authorized this course.

HUMAN TIES

The interracial resolution was presented by the Rev. Charles Malesky, pastor of the First Methodist Church at George West, Tex., and chairman of a conference subcommittee on human relations.

Of the Texas law barring interracial marriages the resolution said: "Such a law is unjust, arbitrary and discriminatory against those of different races who desire through holy wedlock to become one."

It said that the law barring interracial adoptions is "not only...an insult to human dignity and a marring of the image of God in which all men are born, but it erects a cruel and unjust barrier to the redemptive ministry now being carried out by adoption agencies."

DEATH PENALTY

Another resolution opposed capital punishment.

The conference endorsed participation in non-violent demonstrations by its members and restated a stand for equal economic opportunities, housing, employment and political participation by all citizens.

DEAR ABBY

Birthday For Cheri

DEAR ABBY: My French poodle is going to be four years old next Sunday. I would like to give her a surprise birthday party and invite some of her little playmates. Cheri isn't just an ordinary dog. She's an aristocrat and I have the papers to prove it. What should I serve? Have you any cute original ideas for a party of this kind?
CHERI'S MADAME

DEAR MADAME: If you really want to put on the dog, make it black tie. Serve a "birthday cake" made of ground sirloin, and decorate it with crushed dog biscuits. And as for Cheri's "papers," better put them on the floor.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Mine is a tremendously serious problem which faces many women today, I'm sure. I've been married 25 years and have been a good wife and mother. There were always cookies in the cookie jar, freshly done laundry in the drawers, and I've always been home to take care of the children. I've loved every minute of it, but my youngest is 14, and nobody really needs me any more. I am weary of the home-making routine, and long to take art lessons, and have pretty clothes, new furniture and more things for the children, etc. My husband is a wonderful, kind man who provides adequately for us, but we've never had any little luxuries or trips. I want to go to work. I know I could get a good office job. I'm a college graduate. My husband is against it. He wants me to wait until the youngest is gone. I'll be 50, and who would hire me then? Isn't it unfair of him to expect me to stay home and bake cookies that nobody wants anyhow, and keep on cleaning a house over and over when I could hire someone else to do it for me? With the extra income we could have two children in college comfortably. What do you think, Abby? RARIN' TO GO

DEAR RARIN': Why does your husband object? (This is important.) I think he is wrong if he wants to keep you close to home for only selfish reasons. But the most important thing in your life is your relationship with your husband. And if you can't make him see it your way let you go to work with his sincere approval, then give up the idea.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Ever since Bud and I have been married we have invited his parents to our home every Sunday for dinner. Bud told me that next Sunday some of his business friends will be in town with their wives, and he wanted me to prepare a nice Sunday dinner for them. He asked me please to call his mother and ask her and Dad if they would come to dinner on Friday instead because we were going to entertain some business friends on Sunday. I did as Bud asked me to do, and his mother said if she and Dad weren't good enough for Bud's business friends on Sunday, they didn't care to come on Friday. Then she slammed the receiver down. I tried to call her back but she wouldn't answer the phone. Why should she be so unreasonable? She knows we have a small apartment with only six dining room chairs. I called my husband and told him what happened and he told me to forget it! How can I forget it? I don't want hard feelings with my in-laws, Abby. I'm just sick over this. What should I do? BUD'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: We all have "off days." Your mother-in-law apparently had one. Listen to your husband, dear. He knows his mother better than you do.

Dance Pairs By Computer

NEW YORK (AP)—The panty raid is replaced by the sit-in, and telephone booth stuffing by protest marches. But those old-fashioned pastimes, dating and dancing, sometimes still exert a quaint appeal for the nation's college students.

On some campuses, though, the lads don't consider lining up their own girls for a dance. They are men enough to face up to the responsibilities of life in an electronic age. They let a computer do it.

This omniscient machine matches couples who have filled out cards with questions intended to check general interests, attitudes, personal data.

REAL TRIUMPH

Sometimes the answers mesh so well that brother and sister are paired, a triumph perhaps for automation.

At the College of San Mateo in California the computer dance was sponsored by the school's Psychology Club. A local bank lent the computer and 40 questions were fed into it.

These included: Race preferance, father's occupation, how many dates in high school, interests in art, music, literature, athletics and travel, if read daily newspaper and editorial page, how many movies attended on average.

From this 350 couples were matched, and several of them are still dating.

Ohio State University's affair, sponsored by the campus YMCA, attracted about 1,600 dancers. Questionnaires were filled out when students bought mixer tickets and questions dealt with age, height, dancing ability, likes and dislikes n dates.

100 COUPLES

Evansville College in Indiana matched 100 couples by computer and the subsequent mixer brought this comment from Louise Land, director of the Student Union:

"I don't know how lasting any of the matches will be, but the dance was a success. I certainly recommend computer dances for a mixer."

Two Texans In Viet Dead

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Texans were among the 10 American servicemen killed in Viet Nam during the week ended Monday.

The Defense Department reported 54 Americans were wounded in action during the same period.

Texans killed were Cpl. Randolph Holder of Dallas and S. Sgt Willie Tyrone of Abilene.

The total killed in action since Jan. 1, 1961, is 398. There have been 2,262 wounded, 23 are missing and 13 have been captured.

Rookie Honored

Louis McKnight has been designated "Rookie of the Year" and will be honored at the agency meeting of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States. The annual banquet is set for Friday in the Texas Tech Student Union building, said Frank F. Fata, head of the agency which serves this area. McKnight's achievement was based in his record during the calendar year 1964.

Employes Said Abusing Leave-Of-Absence Plan

BOSTON (AP) — Some state employes are reported replacing one another at the Massachusetts State House by means of the state's leave-of-absence system.

Gov. John A. Volpe has ordered a full-scale inquiry into the situation because in some cases, according to the report, nobody is quite sure who is doing whose job — and for how long he has been doing it.

ABUSE CLAIMED

The governor issued the directive after his administration commissioner, John J. McCarthey, told him the leave-of-absence system was being abused.

He said he had discovered that in one case, a state employe took a leave of absence from one job to accept another in state service and was replaced by a temporary employe, who in turn was granted a leave of absence. Later the job changed hands two more times by the same method, McCarthy said.

20 YEARS

In one instance, he said, a leave of absence lasted 20 years.

McCarthy has charged that there are "slackers and loafers" in the state government and estimated that some 2,000 persons could be cut from the payroll.

The accusation by the Republican commissioner enraged state employes and leaders of the Democratic-controlled legislature, who demanded that he name the "loafers."

The state now is embarked upon a three-month efficiency study in which 75 private business executives are working at the State House for token state wages of $1. Their aim is to study procedures and recommend methods of improving efficiency. Their own companies are paying the executives.

There is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus. (I Timothy 2:5)

PRAYER: O God, help us each day to live up to the best we know! Grant us wisdom. Give us grace and courage to be at our noblest each moment of this day that we may lead others to Christ. In the Master's name. Amen.

Legislative Intrusion

The Texas Legislature is least impressive, as well as most improper, when it tries to meddle in what, constitutionally and logically, should be the strictly home-rule affairs of the state's cities.

Take as a classic example, that bill sponsored by Rep. Jake Johnson of Houston. It started out to be a state order to counties and cities that all open intersections have some form of traffic control devices.

The House committee that approved the bill amended the bill to require such signs or lights "where the appropriate authorities deem them necessary." That of course is the way it is now. The bill became meaningless, except as an admonition. But to compound the absurdity the committee also amended the bill to apply to intersections only where one or both streets are paved—that apparently was to relieve the small towns of this obvious safety responsibility.

The piont is that open intersections are a local responsibility, and exclusively a local responsibility in home-rule municipalites.

The same pont applies to the various bills in this closing session to regulate municipalities' personnel management and otherwise intervene in strictly local affairs. The Legislature almost always does more harm than good, no matter how sincere its intentions, when it abridges the sound principle of city home-rule written into Article XI of the Texas Constitution in 1912.

Incredible Progress

It seems incredible that within considerably less than a decade we have grown almost blase about space missions. Actually, these adventures are near miraculous, and the achievement Thursday of having one of the astronauts walk in space and return safely to the capsule staggers the imagination. True, a Russian cosmonaut had performed a similar feat, but we learned about it after it was over. Our experiment was conducted so that the ears of the world were atuned to it as it happened.

Also, Maj. Edward H. White II employed a small, portable jet propulsion system to maneuver himself about in the great void where everything is totally different and exempt from many of the basic natural laws of our world. This makes it an even more exciting and dramatic episode.

Ten years ago Sputnik had not occured, and those who talked about flying through space were given tolerant leeway for their pipe dreams. In a few short years science and technology have taken superhuman strides so that missions into space are taken almost with the same aplomb as are other major news developments. Considering this acceleration in progress, who can doubt that the moon mission will be completed before this decade is out?

Bipartisan Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON—By any test President Johnson has had broad bipartisan support for his major ventures in foreign policy. Members of Congress have come to the White House for literally dozens of briefings on the trouble spots. As the master builder of consensus Johnson hammered out a coalition that seemed until quite recently to be solid.

PRIVATELY some Republicans have been disturbed over the all-out enthusiasm for the Johnson policy. Wasn't this giving away the whole foreign policy issue which, in view of the President's amazing success in domestic legislation, might be the only lever for '66 and '68? That was the fear of those who saw the GOP becoming a "me, too" party in a sense that Barry Goldwater could never have foretold.

But partnership in foreign policy is an appetite that feeds on itself. This is especially true of right-wing Republicans who have been ardent in their support of policy in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic. Increasing indications are, however, that they will not be satisfied with halfway measures. It is possible a foreign policy issue will develop with the charge that the Johnson Administration has gone only part of the way.

HAVING TO VOTE huge sums for defense and for the prosecution of the cold war, Congress feels frustrated and in frustration the more aggressive members push into the foreign policy field and encroach on the President's prerogatives. Nowhere is this more evident than on Cuba which has been a constant goad ever since the Communist-dictatorial nature of Castro's regime became evident.

If blowups occur in any one or more of a half-dozen likely spots—Guatemala, Venezuela, Colombia, Haiti—the frustrations will grow and so will the demand for direct action. That will be a test for the President who may have to decide on balance between a broad Congressional consensus for a strong line and a decision to try to preserve a precarious peace in a manner his current admirers would denounce as "appeasement."

THE HOUSE subcommittee on inter-American affairs wrestled with the Cuban problem in a series of hearings this spring. Fretful members wanted a witness, Lt. Gen. Alva R. Fitch, deputy director of the Defense Intelligence Agency, to tell whether Cuba as a source of Communist infection had in fact been quarantined.

General Fitch had given in his initial statement an intelligence estimate said to be agreed to by the entire intelligence community: "The ultimate answer to the Communist menace in Latin America lies in the solution of major economic and social problems and the evolvement of stable, democratic regimes."

NO ONE COULD quarrel with that In their own findings at the conclusion of the hearings the committee came up with a pronouncement with a truth long apparent: "The United States has yet to develop an adequate ideological offensive as convincing to all Latin Americans that our way of life is worthy of emulation."

Patience for the long pull is, in short, the prescription. If out of the Dominican mess can come an inter-American force in being the gain will transcend the anguish of recent weeks.

Why is it that our teenagers carry switch-blade knives, smoke marijuana cigarettes, stay out all night at beer parites, and engage in sexual orgies? I simply can't understand what has happened to our young people. R. G.

Some teenagers, not all teenagers! How easy it is to generalize! Most teenagers I know go to church, drink malted milks, eat hamburgers, stay home at night doing homework, and have respect for their parents.

It might interest you to know that in a questionnaire sent out to a cross-section of hundreds of young people, when they were asked to name the ten top traits they wanted to see in young people, they were: honesty, friendliness, personality attractiveness, sincerity, courage, good manners, respect for others, intelligence, humor and kindness. Not too bad for a generation which has seen more violence, been through more world tension, and live in the most sex obsessed country in the world!

Yes, I know that some of our teenagers do the things you mention. Millions of teenagers are in rebellion. But these things are done by a minority, and they are highly publicized by the press and television. We find in our crusades that the group that responds most readily are young people from sixteen to twenty. Our youth are seeking for meaning, love, guidance and purpose. Let's give them all the encouragement we can.

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP) — Woodcarver George Hartwig showed his unique set of carvings during a hobby show and attracted no little attention.

He carves unusual shapes and colorful pieces from the limbs of the diamond willow to make floor lamps, candlesticks and planters.

"The natural colors I bring out of this limb," he said, "will be burnt orange, brown and white."

Hartwig, a retired metallurgical welder, enhances his carvings by following the natural outlines in the grain and knots of the limbs to emphasize the knarred beauty of the wood.

While on a trip to Alaska, he discovered the diamond willow which has three colors in one piece of wood.

Big Barge

SUVA, Fiji (AP)—The Public Works Department has announced plans to build a 110-foot-long landing barge, the largest vessel ever attempted in Fiji.

It will be used to carry heavy earth-moving equipment, heavy vehicles and construction materials between isinds. A ramp will enable the barge to load and unload equipment at places without wharves.

Republicans Still Wrangling Among Selves

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans, anything but united during the 1964 presidential campaign, still are wrangling among themselves as they seek a battle plan for the 1966 congressional elections.

Striving to write a record and point up issues they can aim at the Democrats next year, Republican leaders are planning a series of declarations that will spell out the GOP position.

In effect, they will overhaul the party platform adopted 11 months ago at a national convention dominated by conservative allies of Barry Goldwater.

The Republican Coordinating Committee, an outfit of party leaders including Goldwater, already has set in motion a study of major problems facing the nation.

AND NOW, a leading House Republican says there also will be a declaration of GOP principles next year from the party's members of Congress, at least those on his side of the Capitol.

Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin said it will seek to keep the platform on top of changing issues as Republicans prepare for the 1966 congressional elections.

But there is fresh evidence of GOP disagreement, not only on issues but on how best to dramatize them.

One sample came when House Republicans decided to send four of their number to Paris to seek the reasons for trouble in the Atlantic Alliance.

THAT TOOK Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen by surprise. He criticized the idea, saying foreign policy is President Johnson's affair. Later, Dirksen dropped his complaint and said he had no objection to a fact-finding mission.

Another turned up when Republicans in the House issued a report declaring they have introduced legislation to redeem 45 of the 50 pledges made in the 1964 platform.

Laird said the 140 House Republicans expect no major legislative victories, but are writing a record for 1966 with the bills they sponsor.

Rep. Ogden R. Reid of New York promptly took issue with the report, which was little more than a statistician's account of the number of the bills introduced by Republicans on subjects covered by the platform.

SPEAKING FOR himself and Rep. F. Bradford Morse of Massachusetts, Reid said he did not agree with parts of the platform, and took the same position on the report.

Reid said civil rights, aid to education and foreign affairs were three of the topics he had in mind.

Goldwater often had said much the same thing, when liberal and moderate Republicans criticized his campaign views.

Captain Loves Spartan Existence

A RICE PADDY IN VIET NAM (AP) — It is said that in wartime there is no higher glory or greater reward than being commander of a company of troops.

For a company is large enough to be important in battle but a kingdom small enough for the commander to know all his men personally.

That is the way Capt. Pat Collins, leader of recon Company D of the 3rd U.S. Marines, feels about his post.

He wouldn't trade it right now for any other job on earth.

He talked of it as he lay stretched out under a tent in a dried up rice paddy, loud with insect song.

The heat came down in an endless hammer of glare. Red and gold butterflies shimmered and skittered past and it was hard to think the enemy was only a coupl of hills away.

Chwing on a stem of grass, Pat remarked:

"Once you put the average Marine out in the field his overall outlook on life generally improves. He has a sense of achievement. He feels he is doing what he ought to be doing."

"You don't join the Marines if you are looking for a soft, cushy life."

Pat has put in 13 years. After serving as a corporal in Korea, he quit to get a degree in industrial management from Bowling Green (Ohio) State University.

But he returned to the corps in 1958. Since then he has attended nine Marine, Army and Navy schools. He has won two medals for bravery, served in Cuba, made 100 parachute jumps and qualified as a demolition expert.

"I'm lucky in the men I have" he said. "They like the excitement of running around the countryside and shooting up the enemy.

"They're young and eager. They figure the government sent them here to do a job, and they will get it done."

Collins, who can put 20 shots a minute from his M14 rifle into a target 500 yards away, has both respect and disdain for the enemy.

"He knows the countryside, and is very deceptive and elusive," Pat said. "He is a master at concealment. He has a kind of circular foxhole in which the cover serves as his hat. He stands up, fires, then stoops and is hidden again.

"But they are lousy shots, real lousy. No guy could shoot that bad and stay in the Marines."

To Your Good Health

PKU Causes Mental Retardation In Children

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Will you explain the PKU disease? — B.G.W.

Gladly. "PKU" stands for phenylketonuria, or the presence of phenylalanine in the urine.

The danger lies in the fact that this means that the body is not using up the phenylalanine derived from food.

In about 1930 a Norwegian chemist discovered that some retarded children had this excess of phenylalanine. The discovery was one of the important steps in preventing retardation.

Here is the picture. Phenylalanine is one of the amino acids, or "building blocks of the body," which we get from protein. It is essential. We have to have some. Yet when we do not properly use up this amino acid, and it accumulates in the body, it can do harm. Serious harm. It can damage the brain. And hence cause retardation.

This accumulation is the result of what is referred to as an "inborn error of metabolism." Some individuals are born with a defect in an enzyme which is vital in making use of that particular amino acid.

The child is born with normal intelligence, but as the phenylalanine builds up, the damage occurs. Once this has happened, it cannot be undone. (Even quite late in life, however, some improvement, but limited, can be brought about so far as simple activities are concerned, but such things as reasoning power and the more subtle mental processes cannot be restored.)

What, then, can be done? If the condition is discovered early in life, the child can be given a special diet which will include only small amounts of phenylalanine. The child then grows up without impairment of mental ability. It is, in short, one of the few types of mental retardation which we definitely know how to prevent!

The basic point is to feed protein from which most of the phenylalanine has been removed. This can be done, and this type of protein food is available as a special preparation for such children.

Low-protein foods (fruits and vegetables) can be eaten in normal quantities, along with generous amounts of carbohydrates and modest amounts of cereals. Vitamins and iron are added.

The diet must be continued indefinitely. If it is stopped, then the phenylalanine will build up again, and can damage the brain.

Obviously, the important point is to discover this PKU condition very early in life, certainly in the first few months. How do you know when a baby has PKU?

I'll discuss this tomorrow.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am taking epsom salt baths in an effort to lose weight, especially in my legs. What is your opinion of this? — R. C.

Such baths aren't going to reduce you by even an ounce. What goes through the mouth by way of calories and what your legs and other muscles expend as energy (exercise) affect the weight.

Around The Rim

Making History Come Alive

On a hilltop above the San Antonio River, two miles south of the little South Texas community of Goliad, the passing motorist sees some old stone walls and a mission church.

In 1749 the original Presidio la Bahia was constructed, and in the 200 years since the stone mission has passed from its original Spanish hands through those of Mexico and the Republic of Texas.

IN EARLY 1836 the mission fortress earned a place in Texas history when Col. James Walker Fannin and 300 Texans were imprisoned and shot to death by Mexican forces while they were attempting a march to Victoria during the Texas Revolution.

Today as in 1749, the Catholic Church at the northwest corner is used for services.

Before the Spanish constructed the stone church, Indians had used the hilltop site as a lookout spot. Not only is the mission a Texas historical site, it is said to be the final outpost of Spansh civilization east of San Antonio.

DURING the past two years restoration of the Presidio la Bahia has been under way, financed by the Kathryn O'Conner Foundation of Corpus Christi. An expert crew of Latin American masons is carrying out the reconstruction, rebuilding stone walls to blend with those still standing.

The mission fortress contains extensions from the walls, as cannon implacements, and a sentry post as well as the chapel. Plans are for addition of a museum and landscaping of the grounds.

FOR THOSE who have walked through the beautifully-maintained grounds of the Alamo in San Antonio, where landscaping blends with reconstructed walls and original remains alike, the steps to preserve the lesser-known Presidio la Bahia are welcome as part of an increasing tendency of Texans to recognize and retain the colorful landmarks of this state's heritage. Few of us probably realize how many spots there are in Texas, such as the old U. S. Cavalry post of Fort Davis in far Southwest Texas, as one example, where one can almost step back into generations past and visualize what this land was once like, and where stories told in history books can become more real to modern generations.—PRESTON MAYNARD.

Let's All Bow To Royalty

WASHINGTON—The typical American's gag reflex is something a buzzard might envy.

No sooner has the Clay-Liston thing been ingested than news is tamely swallowed that Princess Margaret and her consort will visit this wayward colony next fall.

IN SUCH circumstances the sane man might wisely turn his attention to Scotch whiskey (the only sensible import from Britain) until the crisis passes, and Meg and Tony have returned to the post-nasal-drip capital of the world with their delicious tales of us quaint barbarians. But that would be the coward's way. The truth is that the seedy old institution of royalty is so awful that men of wit and good will are duty-bound to contend against it.

FOR 1,000 YEARS various microcephalic sovereigns enslaved whole nations of boobs with the sly gimmick of divine right. Happily for the future of mankind, it was discovered that kings perished as quickly as commoners when their heads were chopped off, divine right or not. But the king business was too good to give up without a struggle, however, so the kings and their constellations of drones made common cause with clergy and child labor tycoons to perpetuate a new fraud on the unbelievably docile proles. Constitutional monarchy was invented, and the mind reels in trying to decide whether it or alimony is the greater swindle.

KINGS AND QUEENS, princes and princesses, their outriders, ladies-in-waiting and equerries, toil not and neither do they spin. They hold their subjects in the most withering contempt, and rightly so, since the poor brutes are so easily gulled as to deserve nothing else.

It can be argued that Princess Margaret and, ugh, Lord Snowdon will do no harm in their visit. This is not true, of course.

The forthcoming visitation by royalty is pernicious for the same reason that the Clay-Liston fraud was pernicious. It proves just how eager old boobus Americanus is to be flimflammed, and this is a profoundly discouraging circumstance.

BRITISH ROYALTY is not unique in being an institutionalized affront to the rational mind. In Greece, a nation that has dwelt on the brink of starvation for centuries, the court has been a chronic disgrace. During the scandalous haggling over the allowance the government was to pay to Queen Mother Frederika, the arrogant, authoritarian widow of King Paul, it was revealed that these previous royal parasites cost the Greek peasants (and, mind you, the U. S. taxpayers) more than $800,000 a year in walking-around money alone. It was all too much even for the tame Greek press, and they raised such an outcry that Frederika rejected the $100,000 the government was offering.

IT WAS A good job when the founders of the United States cast out the vain, silly institution. It dishonors the history they created when Americans of a lesser breed swoom at the sight of the Princess and Lord Snowdon, the latter worthy's title being worth exactly as much as Huckleberry Finn's friend the Duke's was.

Unusual Race In South Carolina

COLUMBIA, South Carolina—General William Tecumseh Sherman burned this city a century ago, and the embers of sentimental memory are still smouldering in the special election of June 15 in this Second Congressional District.

ALBERT WATSON (R), the favorite, will have to overcome some prejudice that illogically clings to the name of the Grand Old Party. Preston Callison (D), the long shot, will benefit from an irrational combination which possibly could add up to political racing luck. He has going for him the granddaddy attachment to the Democratic party, the fear that a Republican win might mean federal disinheritance, the possibility that the Negroes may turn out as a bloc.

IT IS A CONTEST of conservatives. The handsome, eloquent Watson is a Goldwater backer who resigned his seat after winning as a Democrat. The tall, pleasant but unprepossessing Callison is a self-styled "old-fashioned Southern Democrat," who does not identify himself with the Great Society. The Negroes, who are freely registered here, can't call either man their choice. They have been urged by CORE to go to the polls for LBJ, but there has been no measurable response.

OVERRIDING the local prejudices and personalities is the proposition which Watson has posed. He was, when the 89th Congress met, one of a hundred-odd Southern Democrats in Washington who take the name of a party which they inwardly despise. The Democratic leadership chose to use Watson and John Bell Williams of Mississippi as examples of the short way with dissenters. Watson and Williams, both bolters from the Johnson-Humphrey ticket, were stripped of their seniority rights. Watson could have stayed on and made the best of it. He boldly resigned and went back to the people to run as a Republican.

IF HE WINS, he will have the name of a trail-blazer. He will show the way to many a Southern conservative who hesitates out of sentiment or self-interest to leave the grandfather-party which grandfather would never recognize. There is little doubt to a visitor in the Second District that Watson is regarded here as the better man. He has won two elections for Congress and two as a legislator. He is the first choice of his followers, whereas Callison won a scantily-attended primary contest after several prominent Democrats, including the popular Speaker of the South Carolina House, declined to enter against Watson. The district, as well as the state, voted for Goldwater, largely because Watson and Sen. Strom Thurman whooped him to victory.

BY REASONABLE forecast, Watson should win. But the imponderables are making the forecasters nervous. Who dares to assay the shadow of General Sherman, the dusky mystery of the Negro and the well-proved Southern appetite for federal favors?

WHAT OTHERS SAY

The income tax trial of former Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois is vivid proof that the United States needs a far-reaching reform of its disgraceful methods of political financing.

The federal government contended that Mr. Stratton should have paid income tax on $93,000 which he received and spent — in cash — during his last four years as governor. His attorneys successfully argued that this money represented contributions from political supporters and, as gifts, were not taxable. They further argued that his use of the money for such things as his wife's clothing and beauty parlor treatments and for entertainment was a legitimate "political" expenditure in his role as party leader, analogous to business expenses of a businessman.

Although this analogy has the endorsement of Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen and was persuasive to the jury, it is highly unsound public policy. We again urge that Congress drastically overhaul the Internal Revenue Code to restrict businessmen and politicians who escape their fair share of taxes by treating such luxuries as yachts and hunting lodges and night club jaunts as business expenses.

Political offices are places of public honor, not private profit.

It can be argued that tougher expense rules would further increase the advantages already possessed by incumbents and by independently wealthy candidates who can spend their own and their families' fortunes for their political ends on a year-round basis. Insofar as these arguments are valid, they underscore the need for shorter campaigns and for much more rigorous supervision of political spending during both primaries and general elections.

Officers Wives Seen In 'Designs On You'

Original fashions were modeled by members of the Officer's Wives Club at Webb AFB Thursday during the luncheon and style show entitled, "Designs On You."

Held in the John H. Lees Service Club, the luncheon was sponsored by the Maintenance and Supply Wives and opened with an invocation by Mrs. R. L. Gardner. Mrs. Gregory H. Perron was general chairman for the affair.

The welcome was extended by Mrs. Timothy L. Thomas, OWC president, and Mrs. R. J. Kasher introduced the newcomers and guests. The new members are Mrs. L. D. Eggen and Mrs. O. C. Reighn, and guests welcomed were Mrs. H. L. Jensen, Miss Beverly True, Mrs. Helen Patten, Mrs. Iris Flynn, Mrs. Rowland Wolfe, Mrs. Evelyn Butt, Mrs. Halverd Hansen, Mrs. Robert Knight, Mrs. Roberta Bloom, Barbara and Shelly Cole, Mrs. J. C. Pickle, Mrs. Albert Hohertz and Mrs. Betty Conley. The latter three served as judges for the style show.

Recognized as departing Webb were Mrs. John Williams, Mrs. William Daost, Mrs. Gary Baker, Mrs. Steven Cortright, Mrs. John Hassmann, Mrs. Earl Henderson, Mrs. John Culberson and Mrs. Thomas Clark.

The style show began with Mrs. D. M. Werking introducing Mrs. Gary L. Heartsill, narrator, and Mrs. D. R. Shaw, pianist. The show featured home-sewn garments for round-the-clock activity. Mrs. Heartsill pointed out that today's seamstress has the talents of the world's famous designers at her fingertips — merely for the price of a pattern.

First to appear, as the models paraded, were Mrs. J. H. Kiehle and her son, David. The youngster was wearing a jaunty sailor suit in navy blue which his mother had made from left-over material. Mrs. Kiehle wore a two-piece suit of raw silk with slim skirt slightly gathered at the waistline; a real all-around costume.

Mrs. J. E. Barber modeled two maternity costumes. One featured a pleated front inset and pleated edges bound with braid, and the other was of navy blue with detachable bow at the neckline.

Joy and Melanie Vale modeled easy-care garments, smartly designed by their mother, Mrs. Lewis Vale. The pique collars were easily detachable, and the easy styling would be comfortable for active little girls.

Mrs. O. T. Eubanks was glamorous in a hostess ensemble featuring a ruffled deep V neckline and gayly printed flared skirt, and Mrs. R. J. Oliverson's summer tan was shown to good effect by her bermuda outfit in a hand-screened cotton print.

The floor - length brocade gown created by Mrs. Bruce Lotzbire was complemented with a matching jacket trimmed with manmade fur, and the skirt was gored and bell-shaped, worn with a pellon slip. The next model was Mrs. F. C. Johnson in a simple but chic three piece suit with lined jacket and shawl collar. The sleeveless overblouse had a cowl neckline and the skirt and jacket were of imported Swiss Lascara.

Mrs. N. A. Sorenson's white summer suit was worn with a red polka dot shell, zipping up the back, and the jacket lining featured the matching polka dots for a costume look. An A-line dress, shown by Mrs. R. H. Grundvig, was styled with shaped yoke of white patterned cotton. The skirt portion curved upward over the bust and was of nubby-textured raw silk with a cool look for sizzling days.

A maternity fashion of soft floral brocade was shown by Mrs. V. R. Figalan, and Mrs. W. R. MacMahon modeled an unusual formal dress created from a sari. The fabric had been sewn into a dress which bared one shoulder and featured a gathered side panel.

Mrs. G. W. Young chose a black pique with full skirt and black tie belt which she showed with a hand-knit sweather of original design. The next model was Mrs. T. J. R. Preston, whose plaid dress was of cotton and dacron seersucker. She, too, wore her cool dress with a warming sweater knit from orlon yarn.

Mrs. Dick Steros showed a cover - up of cotton pique trimmed with black lace, and a swim suit with blouson top and little boy shorts.

Two models came next, Mrs. W. M. Keenan and her tiny daughter, Mary Lou, for whom she had created a green dacron dress and bonnet by using a doll dress pattern.

Practical and pretty was Mrs. J. D. Arnold in a coulotte jumpsuit with sailor collar, and later in a three-piece mohair suit.

Mrs. Heartsill, the narrator, had sewn her own Tom Jones costume. The blouse was ruffled at the cuffed sleeves, and the suit featured the new slung vest.

All models made second appearances in outfits ranging from shorts to elegant formal gowns of metallic fabrics.

Winners of gift certificates for their sewing talents were Mrs. Johnson, first; Mrs. Preston, second; and Mrs. Young, third.

The stage was gayly decorated with drapes of summer fabrics to which cards of buttons, tapes, zippers and patterns had been attached. To one side was a treadle machine, old - fashioned hat and dress, and on the other side of the stage was a portable sewing machine and dress of current style. The dining tables were centered with bouquets fabric flowers made by Mrs. J. E. Swigart, which were given as prizes.

Winning the centerpieces were Mrs. J. E. Bold, Mrs. J. E. Hassman, Mrs. R. H. Grundvig, Mrs. John Pierson, Mrs. W. E. MacMahon, Mrs. Everett Vaughn, Mrs. R. L. Turk, Mrs. A. E. Greiner, Mrs. R. D. Wolfe, Mrs D. E. King, Mrs. Charles Cole and Mrs. T. H. Normile.

The attendance prize, won by Mrs. R. S. Freidman, was the centerpiece used on the head table, and the free luncheon was won by Mrs. D. E. King.

Mrs. Perron expressed appreciation to all those who worked on the luncheon and took part by modeling. Mrs. Thomas closed the program with announcements concerning the OWC membership.

The program was arranged by Mrs. Rip Smith, who is hospitalized. In her absence, the speakers were introduced by Mrs. H. J. Morrison.

Mrs. Barron and Mrs. Blake gave instructions on reporting bad checks and stressed the importance of knowing how to identify a person at the time the check is being signed. They suggested the use of drivers licenses, service identification cards and other official documents. A question and answer period followed.

FROM HEAVEN or from men?

When the religious authority of Jesus was challenged by the Jews, He asked them a question concerning the baptism of John. Whence was it? from heaven or from men?" (Matthew 21:25.) In this the Lord taught the lesson that men should be sure of the authority back of all religious practices.
We today need to ask the same question our Savior asked concerning religious teachings and practices. Are they from heaven, or of men? Has God revealed it, or has man devised it? Did God command it, or is it the invention of men? Let us apply this principle to some common teachings of the day.
FAITH ONLY...
Is It From Heaven or of Men?
Is the doctrine of "salvation by faith alone" from heaven, or from men? Multitudes are placing their hope of heaven upon it. According to this view the sinner is saved by trusting in the Lord before he ever obeys a single command. Yet, the scripture says, "Ye see then how that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only." (James 2:24.) Hence, this teaching is from men and not from heaven.
INFANT BAPTISM...
Is It From Heaven or of Men?
We search the Bible in vain for one example of infant baptism. It was never commanded by the Lord nor practiced in the early church. Baptism was always preceded by teaching. (Matthew 28:19), believing, (Mark 16:16), and repenting (Acts 2:38). To babtize a child too young to believe is contrary to the scriptures. Hence, infant baptism is from men and not from heaven.
SPRINKLING...
Is It From Heaven or of Men?
We have no example in the Bible of people being sprinkled instead of baptized, nor is there any passage that teaches such. The practice of sprinkling came into being several centuries after the apostolic period. In order to be baptized scripturaly, we must be "buried" in water and "raised" to walk a new life. (Romans 6:3-4, Colossians 2:12).
SALVATION BEFORE BAPTISM...
Is It From Heaven or of Men?
Many believe that siners are saved before and without baptism. What does the Bible say? Jesus said, "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved." (Mark 16:16). The scriptures also teach, " . . . the like figure, whereunto, even baptism doth also now save us." (I Peter 3:21). Hence, the teaching that salvation comes before Baptism is from men and not from heaven.
Jesus said, "But in vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men." (Matthew 5:19). "Whosoever goeth onward and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ hath not God." (II John 1:9-11.)

Four To Leave For Boy's State

The Big Spring American Legion, which has consistently sent outstanding boy leaders to the annual Department of Texas Legion Boys' State in Austin each June, has another crop of four ex-junior students of Big Spring High School selected and ready to board the Legion 19th district chartered bus Saturday at 10 a.m. at the bus terminal.

They are Johnny Stone, Richard Good, Rodney Robey and Terry Hanson. They were chosen from the male junior students in the high school on a basis of all-round activities. High grades were a factor, Dick Pfeiffer, local chairman of the Legion committee, said, but boys with an all-round ability and a dedication to the principles of Americanism rated the grades necessary for the selection of the allowed number of representatives of the post.

Traditionally the American Business Club sponsors one of the four boys. He is so far unnamed, but Pfeiffer said he wished that facilities and manpower for the 800-boy project in Austin each summer could be expanded to allow attendance of many more worthy youths.

The small expense that the post and the ABC spends would be a fine investment for other organizations, on an expanded basis, if the Austin facilities would permit, he said. Pfeiffer cited Benny Compton, now a motor freight junior executive, as one of the boys who rated well and is an adult booster of the program.

Dr. Halvard Hanson, district Americanism chairman, has called on all posts in the 19th district to send their allowable quota of boys. His latest reports indicate a full bus load for the district and that some will go to Austin by private car. Dr. Hanson, Big Spring, headed the local post before being drafted to the district job.

Pfeiffer has invited the members of his committee and the general membership to be on hand Saturday at the bus station.

Mrs. Lawson's Rites Slated

Services will be Saturday at 2 p.m. for Mrs. Fannie Lawson, 41, who died at 11:25 a.m. Tuesday. Services will be in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel, with Rev. P. A. Mitcham, pastor of the Knott First Baptist Church, officiating.

Burial will be in City Cemetery.

Mrs. Lawson is survived by her husband, Edward L. Lawson, Big Spring; four daughters, Ramonia Lee Lawson, Mrs. Rita Ann Nichols, Linda Kay Taylor and Barbara Dee Taylor, all of Big Spring; one son, Rori Jay Lawson, Big Spring; the father, George Dee Coots; the mother, Fannie Irene Coots, both of Big Spring; and one brother, Victor Coots, with the U. S. Army in Germany.

Pallbearers will be Gene Haston, Gilbert Pachall, J. D. Kenrick, Albert Pettus, Floyd Cunningham and Cliff Cunningham.

Center Gets More Gifts

Gifts totaling $171 were reported today by the Howard County Rehabilitation Center, raising the total donations to $1,861.

The campaign drive is for equipping the new center at Third and Lancaster with therapeutic equipment. The building itself was provided by the Dora Roberts Foundation, but equipment is being provided by donations of firms, organizations and citizens.

Today's gifts include a standing stabilizer for children, valued at $50, by Mrs. Fred Hyer; a pair of quad canes for children, worth $26, by Twila Lomax; $5 donations by M. Louise Horton, Mr. and Mrs. James Coates, Mrs. J. M. Fisher, B. F. Airhart and Cassie Buchanan; $25 gifts by Ruth Beasley and Mrs. May E. Brown; and a $20 gift by Elizabeth Daniel.

Center directors have asked that specific pieces of equipment be donated as described in a booklet available at the center. However, cash gifts in any amount are welcome. Gift equipment will be permanently tagged with donors' names. Those interested in helping may call AM 3-2880 for additional information.

Heart Patient With Smile

Saba Jadue, 43, a salesman from Chile, has a smile as nurse Mrs. Betty Combousou checks his blood pressure. Jadue had a heart operation on May 2 that was televised and seen around the world via the Early Bird satellite. World-famed heart surgeon Dr. Michael E. DeBakey inserted an artificial valve into Jadue's heart. Dr. DeBakey also described the operation as he went along for doctors in Geneva. When this picture was taken, Jadue had hopes of leaving the Houston Methodist Hospital in a short time. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Jury Finds Soto Guilty, Sets Penalty At 25 Years

A jury of 10 men and two women returned a verdict of guilty, and set a penalty of 25 years in the penitentiary for Higinio Soto in 12 minutes Thursday. Soto was tried in 118th District Court on a charge of robbery by assault in connection with taking $4,960 from Mrs. Darlene Dabney, a teller at Security State Bank.

Soto and his court-appointed attorney, Norman Spencer Jr., have 10 days to either accept sentence from Judge Ralph Caton or to appeal. Neither had indicated this morning which move he would make.

The state, represented by District Attorney Wayne Burns, called five witnesses, while the defense presented only the defendant.

Mrs. Dabney, the first witness, told the court what happened last October when Soto walked into the bank and told her to hand over all the money she had, and that he had a gun he would use.

The second witness, William Dear, a taxi driver, told of taking Soto to the bank, waiting for him, and of Soto's first direction to take him to the bus station. He said Soto then told him to drive to the Big Spring State Hospital.

Harry Hubbard, Liquor Control Board officer, was next on the stand. He told the court of being near the entrance to the state hospital, on US 87 north, when the police radio alerted officers that the taxicab was headed for the hospital. He said he apprehended Soto as he left the cab, and found the money in the defendant's possession.

Deputy Sheriff A. G. Mitchell, followed Hubbard on the stand, and reported two attempts, by Soto, to escape jail after his arrest.

Detective Wayne Tollett followed with an account of searching Soto, finding the gun, and taking a written statement from the defendant.

Soto, when placed on the stand by the defense, said he could not remember anything that happened, including his going to the bank.

One other case was scheduled for trial today, and Judge Caton had called the jury panel for 10 a.m. At 10:30 a.m. no action had been taken.

Scout District Aiming At Higher Enrollment

Emphasis was put upon "Break Through for Youth" at the monthly meeting of the Lone Star Boy Scout district Thursday evening.

Earl McKeehan, Midland, Buffalo Trail Council executive, said that objectives revealed at the national council meeting in Miami, Fla., last month were:

To enroll 5.5 per cent more boys in 1965, and 6.6 per cent more in 1966; register 95 per cent of all units in 1965 and 96 per cent in 1966; organize 50 per cent more units in '65 than last year; and 60 per cent more in 1966; obtain one trained commissioner for three units; analyze the performance of all units.

"We've been taking boys in one end and losing them out the other," said McKeehan. "We've been gaining, but not at the rate population is increasing."

An example turned up for the Lone Star District which was running over 100 more boys until May registrations. About 100 boys were re-registered and 90 dropped.

Reports from committees included Dick Ream, who said the finance committee had almost completed its sustaining membership canvass; Frosty Robison, who reported 14 troops signed for Scout Ranch camp, three for out-of-council camps, and only five units not yet signed for long-term summer camp; Fred Beckham on commissioner training sessions; Paul Soldan on health and safety inspection for Camp Ed Murphy if it operates from July 19-31. Summer Cub Olympics will be held July 25 at the Roundup grounds, and the Explorer Whing Ding for the council will be held July 16-17-18 at Webb AFB.

The three-year development program is a united effort by Disciples to supply capital funds for Christian churches in Texas and their institutions.

U.S. Draft Call Biggest Since '61 Berlin Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department issued today its biggest monthly draft call since the Berlin crisis late in 1961.

It asked Selective Service to induct 17,100 men in July for the Army.

This is slightly above the June call of 17,000.

The call in November 1961, the Berlin crisis year, was for 20,000 men.

Draft quotas have been on the upgrade in large part because enlistments have fallen off.

The Defense Department is completing a year long study of the need for the draft and possible alternatives to it.

By every indication, the study will recommend that the draft continue at least to 1970. The present draft law is due to expire in 1967.

Some authorities have contended that wide publicity given to the study, announced by President Johnson, gave the impression that the draft was on the way out. This, they said, has tended to cut down on enlistments.

The study is expected to say that it would cost up to $5 billion more to convert to an all volunteer system, with much of this additional outlay going for higher military pay.

Sanity Hearing Underway For Antonio DeLeon

A jury panel was being examined at noon today in preparation for a sanity hearing for Antonio DeLeon, charged with the theft of an automobile Aug. 24, 1964. Judge Ralph Caton had called the case on the criminal docket for 10 a.m. in 118th District Court, but delays came with a change to a civil case for a sanity hearing.

DeLeon, who was arrested last August on a vagrancy charge, walked out when released, and drove off in Police Chief Jay Banks' car. He was later arrested for speeding and the theft brought to light.

DeLeon was once adjudged insane and given treatment. He was reindicted by the grand jury and the case set for this term of court.

His court-appointed attorney is John Benson.

Gorillas Like Kiddy Shows On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — Gorillas at the Bronx Zoo enjoy watching kiddy cartoons on television.

What's more, the zoo TV ratings show that the gorillas prefer action-type shows.

The TV viewers are Pili-Pili, a 6-year-old male mountain gorilla; Sumaili, a female mountain gorilla of 17; Mambo, a 15-year-old lowland male gorilla; and Oka, a 15-year-old female lowlander. All come from the Congo area.

The zoo installed a 16-inch television set outside their cages last winter to alleviate boredom while they are inside. The gorillas, their nerves on edge, had taken to bickering among themselves. They would pace their cages, yawn and stretch. The experiment was somewhat of a success.

Joseph A. Davis Jr., the zoo's curator of mammals, said: "We found that our gorillas do pay attention to it (TV), and it seems to alleviate the conditions of boredom somewhat."

Many city residents stopped their activities to watch the object as it hung high over the city for several hours during the evening.

Louisiana Presses For Extradition

BOGALUSA, La. (AP) — Louisiana pressed today for extradition of a white man charged with the terrorist murder of a Negro deputy sheriff.

And civil rights leaders called up Negro pickets for renewed store picketing on downtown sidewalks — scene of several recent racial clashes.

IN JAIL

Ernest Ray McElveen, 41, of Bogalusa, an employe of the paper mill here, was in jail at Tylertown, Miss.

Mississippi Gov. Paul Johnson, in Jackson, announced Thursday night he had granted permission for the extradition hearing — the first step in the process. No date was set.

The deputy, O'Neal Moore, was shot in the head with a high-powered rifle as he and his squad car partner, Creed Rogers, were driving along La. 21, seven miles north of Bogalusa.

OTHER WOUNDED

The bullets from a pickup truck included a buckshot blast which wounded Rogers in the shoulder. He was in good condition at a hospital.

State troopers, the FBI and local officers were deep in a massive investigation. Several men were believed involved in the killing.

Tech Slates Registration

LUBBOCK — Freshmen entering Texas Tech for the first time in September will be given an opportunity to register on campus this summer.

The comprehensive program of academic advisement, orientation and registration will be repeated in nine two-day conferences, five in July and four in August, with enrollment at each conference limited to 300 students.

The length of each conference plus the limited enrollment will assure the student of more individual attention than ordinarily would be possible during the rush of regular registration in the fall, Admissions Dean Floyd D. Boze pointed out.

Invitations are being mailed only to those students who have submitted all admission documents, Boze stipulated. These documents include the application, health data blank, high school transcript and the College Board SAT scores.

Assignments to the conference will be made in the order in which cards indicating the student's preference are returned to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions, Box 4340, Tech Station, Lubbock.

Conference dates will be July 15-16; July 19-20; July 22-23; July 26-27; July 29-30; Aug. 2-3; Aug. 5-6; Aug. 9-10; and Aug. 12-13.

Extension Service Moves Into Urban Activities

The extension service is broadening its activities in urban fields, Herb Helbig, county agent, told the Downtown Lions Club Wednesday. The reason is simple. More and more of the population is in the cities.

This splashes over even into the field of youth work, for some projects have to do with such things as pet care, which offers much of the same sense of achievement as feeding out livestock.

Homeowners are calling more frequently upon the extension service for help in various problems of horticulture, lawn care, herbicides, soil samples, fertilizers, etc. This trend will become more pronounced, he predicted.

Helbig touched on the other many facets of the extension service, dwelling mostly upon the agricultural angles and the problem of cotton surplus. The challenge facing the cotton industry is to cut production costs so as to keep the fibre competitive and yet leave the producer with an ample take-home pay.

He cited the screwworm project as an example of how research and science are helping whip big problems. Whereas the worms formerly constituted a costly drain in manpower and money, not a case has been reported in Howard County during the past two years.

Helbig dipped into the skip row problem (the United States Department of Agriculture had proposed to change part of the fallow acreage as cotton acreage) and gave as his personal opinion that some other method would be found to reduce cotton acreage. Skip row cuts would be purely selective and not nearly so fair as some across the board program, he said.

Agriculture still cuts a swath in the local and area economy, Helbig pointed out. For instance in a normal year value of Howard County agriculture is $9,500,000, of which $6,500,000 comes from cotton. The program was arranged by Ludwig Grau.

Minor Injuries In Car Crash

Tammye Buchanan, Route 1, Big Spring, was taken by Big Spring Ambulance Service to Howard County Hospital Foundation, but released after doctors examined her for possible injuries, following a two-car collision at IS 20 and SH 350 Thursday. A car she was driving collided with a car driven by Roy Tackett, Dublin, officers said.

A series of other minor mishaps were reported Thursday afternoon and evening. Locations and drivers involved were 100 E. 4th, Lillie Pollock, 1311 Colby, and Robert Vonrosenberg, 3706 Hamilton; Third and Benton, Mrs. Mildred Bell, 1100 N. Gregg, and Mrs. Barbara Moore, Sterling City Route; 1510 Gregg, Mrs. Nella Stephens, 1111 W. 2nd, and Lloyd Patterson, 1404 Settles. Three one-vehicle accidents were reported. A car driven by Anastacio Perez, 208 N. Johnson, received considerable damage when it overturned at the 1900 block of West Third.

Minor damage resulted to a car driven by Jaime Morales, 1610 Eleventh Place, when he backed into a street light pole at Third and Johnson, police reported, and to a car driven by Clarence Kesterson, 1901 Main, who backed into a fence in the alley of 2100 Scurry.

Lawmaking Duties Taken By Conferees

AUSTIN (AP)—Hotly contested floor debate in the Texas House or Senate over propositions to change the state's laws or constitution may become just a legislative mirage.

Conference committees, tight 10-man groups operating behind closed doors without public explanation, have taken over many of the legislature's lawmaking duties.

"The most productive of any session in this century," Gov. Connally told legislators on adjournment day.

Yet during that crucial final week, 24 measures finally approved came from conference committe reports, written by five senators and five representatives.

Unless they wished, these 10 men did not even have to look at the original bills passed in differing form by the 31-man Senate and the 150-man House. Often completely rewritten bills with new figures, provisions and intent appeared from the secret sessions. There are no minutes available to show why and how changes were made.

Yet when the conference committee reports were presented to the rest of the House and Senate, they could only be rejected or adopted as a package. No amendments are allowed.

Some of the session's greatest successes—and mistakes—came from conference committee action.

The appropriations bill conference committee studied the 1966-67 spending bill for six weeks and during that time added $6.4 million to $18.7 million more than either house originally proposed.

When the spending bill finally was presented it left out a page of salary schedules for state employes and had a brand new "rider" blocking construction of an expressway through a San Antonio park. A "correction" straightened out these oversights—and raised several state officials' salaries at the same time.

The 145-page criminal code revision bill went to conference committee and when it reappeared it had an entirely new section sharply restricting in detail the types of pre-trial information that could be made available to the public. The bill had to be sent back for removal of the news gag.

Duty-Free Goods Cut Bill To Be Considered

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Elgio de la Garza, D-Tex., said Thursday that Chairman Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee told him he will reconsider Monday the committee's recent approval of a bill to cut from $100 to $50 the amount of goods American tourists can bring back duty free.

The Mexican border district congressman said the proposed cut would seriously hurt trading across the Rio Grande. He predicted the committee would put the limit back up to $100 but allow customs officials to appraise the value of a commodity at American retail price levels. At present the limit is based on wholesale prices.

He said the committee is expected to let stand a provision of the bill which would reduce from one gallon to one quart the amount of liquor which could be brought in tax free.

Business Health Continues In U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—Business health continues apparently unshaken by disputes over monetary policies or government guidelines for the behavior of industry and labor unions.

Judged by the latest flow of statistics, business confidence seems little affected even by nervous twitches in the stock market over international trouble spots or comparisons of today's prosperity with the 1929 boom and bust.

Key industries report sales still strong; some records being set in production, and a steady flow of new orders that promise busy months ahead.

DEFY FORECAST

Autos and steel, the two segments where an early summer letdown has been most feared, have entered June at record, or near-record, speed.

Steel output has climbed for two straight weeks. The latest weekly tonnage is 2,727,000, just 79,000 tons below the record poured in the week ended April 24. The drop from that record in the first three weeks of May appears to have been due as much to repair work at overstrained mills as to any easing of demand.

Most mills report orders on the books will keep them going near top speed through June and July. Any inclination of steel users to live off built-up inventories may have been postponed till after the strike deadline of Sept. 1, or until a wage pact settlement is reached.

Auto production has set a monthly record for six straight months. The spurt of sales and output in the opening months of the year at the time had been thought due largely to shortages caused by last fall's strikes.

But figures for May show that Americans are still buying cars at a great rate, setting a record for that month.

Assemblies in May rose to 837,168 cars, or 15 per cent higher than the previous record for May, set last year. The first five months of 1965 saw 4,259,628 cars produced, compared with 3,654,697 in the like period of 1964.

ROSY OUTLOOK

Auto industry confidence rides high. June assemblies are expected to rise to 902,000 cars, or 16 per cent more than a year earlier. This would make the second quarter output of around 2,600,000 cars higher even than the first quarter which many had forecast would be the high for 1965 model production.

The fast pace continues in many other industries.

COLORADO CITY (SC) — The Western Riding Club closed out the first of the Tumbleweed Stampede Days Thursday with the first showing of a three night rodeo.

Debra Ruffine, 9, won the grand championship in the sidewalk surfing contest, which kicked off the three days of events. Other winners in the various age brackets included Jerry Mason, Eddie Nixon, A. O. Morris and Debra.

The Beta Sigma Phi float, with a windmill pumping real water, won first place in the parade. The Garden Club float placed second, and the 4-H Club was third.

Two more nights of rodeo performances await fans in the arena, west of Colorado City, and a two day golf tournament for those 18 years and younger will begin at the country club Saturday.

Elderly Eligible For Home Loans

Elderly people, if they live in rural areas, need not give up the idea of building, buying or repairing their homes on credit, according to Lee R. Tunnell, Farmers Home Administration county supervisor for Howard and Glasscock counties.

Tunnell said citizens who are 62 years and over, living in a rural community of 2,500 or less, may be eligible for a 33-year loan bearing four per cent interest to buy an older home or build a new one. The FHA supervisor said elderly residents may also be eligible for smaller loans for home repairs. Information may be had at the FHA offices at 608-C Johnson.

Methodists End Confab

HOUSTON (AP)—The Texas Conference of the Methodist Church ended its annual meeting today with Bishop Paul Martin reading the minister appointments.

Delegates approved the spending of $460,918 Thursday in work with Latin Americans and for the committee on higher education. The total includes $209,168 recommended by C. W. Lokey, director of Spanish speaking work and a member of the National Board of Missions.

The $170,918 for education is an increase of $10,000 over last year.

Delegates also approved the committee's request to proceed with plans to organize a Wesley Foundation and Methodist student center at Lamar Tech in Beaumont.

Webb's Safety Rating Chalked Up 'Excellent'

Webb AFB completed a "grand slam" last week when Air Training Command's Safety Survey Team rated the base excellent.

Beginning in November, the base has received an excellent rating from the ATC Inspector Team, and also won an excellent rating on standardization-evaluation.

The survey was held May 24-27, and rated excellent were flying safety, ground safety and explosive safety.

A survey team member indicated this may have been the first time an Air Training Command base rated excellent in all three areas surveyed.

Col. A. F. Taute, wing commander, said it was everyone's individual response that rated the base tops in the survey.

Chief of Webb Safety is Maj. Daniel B. Nehf. Flight safety officers are Capts. J. E. Seegers Jr., and J. E. Price. Directing ground safety and explosive safety is W. W. Brown.

Flight safety functions surveyed included T-37 pilot training squadrons, T-38 student training runway supervision units, annual flying requirements, low altitude flying (local), T-38 maintenance, T-37 flight line maintenance, liquid oxygen, aircraft refueling, airfield, hangar access, T-6 runway, auxiliary air fields, crash rescue, fire fighting and local base rescue.

Ground safety functions surveyed included command and supervision, accident prevention, program management, reporting, investigation, analysis, vehicle accident prevention, industrial safety, and education and promotion.

Explosive safety was rated excellent. In November, the base was rated excellent in standardization-evaluation, and in February the base scored excellent in the annual IG inspection.

Blum's Brother Dies In Pittsburgh

Joe Blum, 1901 Alabama, was called to Pittsburgh, Pa., due to the death of his brother, Harry Blum. Services were held there Thursday morning. He will return to Big Spring Saturday evening.

Swim Class Registration Picking Up

Business picked up Thursday for the Citywide Recreation Program learn-to-swim course next week.

Jim Gilbert, director of the program, said that 150 have now signed at the YMCA for the course, which will be held Monday through Friday at the City Park pool. The only charge is $1 to cover pool use fees.

The youngsters will be assigned to groups of 10, and each of these groups will have a regular staff member and a volunteer instructor working personally with the boys and girls for 30-minute periods.

Gilbert urged other parents to sign for their children as a means of promoting water safety, giving youngsters confidence around and respect for water, as well as learning the fundamentals of swimming.

Registrations are particularly needed on the north side of town. Only about 30 have signed so far at the Lakeview Y for the Lakeview and Bauer programs. Two staffers will be at each of these pools—Eddy Nelson and Allen Dunn at Bauer and Sam Dawson and Thurman Randle at Lakeview.

No child will be denied participation for lack of the pool fee.

Meanwhile, 227 elementary-age children have signed for the Summer Fun program.

Dentists To Visit Webb Saturday

Webb Air Force Base will host the bi-monthly meeting of the Permian Basin Dental Society tomorrow. This will be the first Big Spring session since 1961.

More than 80 members will be at Webb from Midland, Odessa, Monahans, Crane, Kermit, Pecos, Fort Stockton, Lamesa and Andrews.

The all-day meet is to include socials as well as business functions, with golf and tennis matches scheduled and a complete tour of Webb pilot training facilities.

Dr. Kenneth D. Rudd, chairman of the Department of Prosthodontics at Wilford Hall (USAF Hospital), Lackland AFB, will speak at an afternoon and an evening business session.

The dentists will be accompanied by their wives.

for our

Children's Future

Today's demands for adequate education call for adequate facilities. There is no way to provide for better scholastic training, better physical fitness, better direction of all youth programs and activities than to have a school plant to accommodate the programs and provide for future growth. Coahoma schools need the proposed improvements NOW. Coahoma children's welfare demands that they be provided NOW.

JAPANESE PASTOR AND LOCAL PASTOR
Rev. Robert F. Polk and Rev. Shuichi Matsumura in front of Tokyo Baptist Church in 1963

Rev. Matsumura Will Speak Here

The Rev. Shuichi Matsumura, pastor of the Tokewadai Baptist Church, Tokyo, Japan, will speak at the 7 p.m. worship service at the First Baptist Church here June 13. The Rev. Dub Jackson, Southern Baptist Missionary to Japan, will be his interpretor.

Rev. Matsumura is executive secretary of the Japan Baptist Convention. He was the director of the Japan Baptist New Life Movement in 1963, which resulted in thousands of Japanese turning to Christianity. Hundreds of Texas Baptist pastors and laymen assisted the Japanese churches during the New Life Movement.

The Rev. Robert F. Polk, pastor of the First Baptist Church, was one of those taking part, and met Rev. Matsumura in Tokyo in April, 1963.

Rev. Matsumura is in the United States to attend the Southern Baptist Convention in Dallas June 1-5, and the Baptist World Alliance in Miami Beach, Fla., in July.

The Japanese pastor served in the armed forces for the Japanese military for a brief time, and at the close of the war, was a member of the Communist party and active in labor organizations, before becoming a Christian. He has since been an aggressive leader for Japan Baptists, and still is the recognized man of vision of the Japan Baptist Convention.

He holds an honorary doctor's degree from Hardin - Simmons University. He is extending an invitation from the Japan Baptist Convention for the 1970 Baptist World Alliance to be held in Tokyo.

Abilene Man Is Speaker

The June meeting of the Holy Name Society at Webb AFB will feature a speaker active for many years in church activities as well as Air Force duties. He is Col. William R. Smith, USAF Retired, from Abilene, who will speak to the base Catholic men's society June 9, at 8 p.m. in the base recreation pavilion.

Col. Smith ended his Air Force career after 23 years as a rated officer and is now a representative for the Prudential Life Insurance Co. in Abilene.

His participation in church activities spans many years. He is a former president of the Holy Name Society at Dyess Air Force Base, Abilene, and is now serving as grand knight of that city's Knights of Columbus. He is married and has two children.

Father's Day, June 20, will bring a father-son breakfast sponsored by Webb's Holy Name Society. Lt. Col. Gregory Perron, president, has issued an invitation to call all Catholic fathers at Webb to attend the 9 a.m. mass in the base chapel with their sons, regardless of age, and to receive communion in a body. Breakfast will follow at 10:15 in the Officers' Open Mess.

Bible Society Uses Fad Art In Current Show

By MILES A. SMITH
Associated Press Arts Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — If some of the famous masterpieces of Michelangelo or Rembrandt can be used to illustrate the Scriptures, so can abstract art. And perhaps even Op Art.

That is the implied reasoning behind a small art show which has been running at the Park Avenue headquarters of the American Bible Society.

Through an arrangement with the East Hampton Gallery, the society has been exhibiting 11 paintings by seven representative artists of the Op school.

"Op Art" is a slang contraction for Optical Art. It is the latest fad. The society's display followed on the heels of a huge survey of this fad at the Museum of Modern Art, titled "The Responsive Eye."

Many of the paintings and constructions of the Op school resemble an optician's chart, and some of them make their eyes hurt. They shock the retina into after-images. They tease the eyes with apparent motion. They are full of tricky lines, bull's eyes, or rectangles which seem to jump or recede, and some have harshly clashing colors.

The society's title for its show is "Op Art, the Bible and the New Age." Each visitor is handed an explanatory sheet which says:

"Just as the artists of today are seeking new dimensions and a new outlook in their field, so the American Bible Society is constantly seeking bold, creative, colorful and imaginative new formats and translations to lead more and more people, many hitherto unfamiliar with the Scriptures, to search the Bible for God's word for this new age."

Disavowing any intention to become an Op Art center, the society said it does not "at the moment have any plans to use this current art form on covers of its paperback editions," but one member of the staff acknowledged that one of the paintings on display was being "considered" for possible use.

That would not be such an abrupt departure as some might think.

When the society was formed 149 years ago to translate, publish and distribute the Scriptures, it was traditional to bind the Bible in a dull black cover, and there were no illustrations.

But in recent years the society has been bringing out Bibles (in dozens of languages). Portions (at least one whole book of the Bible). Selections (at least one whole chapter of a book of the Bible) and other publications, and using all the up-to-date illustrations it can get.

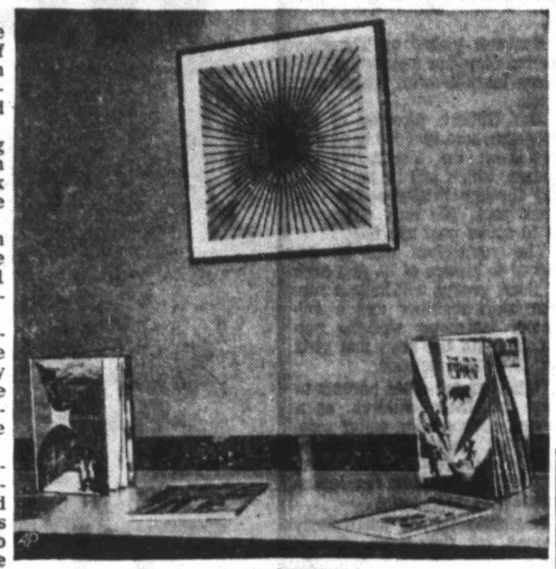

In this exhibit the paintings are accompanied by examples of the society's recent works, and they show a great variety of format, design and illustration. Drawings and photographs are used liberally. Covers are colorful. Some of the paperbacks have elements of abstract design in their covers.

Two of the artists in this show were represented — by other examples — in the recent survey at the Museum of Modern Art. They are Claude Tousignant and Hannes Beckmann.

Tousignant's painting in the society show is a huge bull's eye in shaply contrasting reds and greens. Beckmann's painting, titled "Red Center," uses receding green squares to outline a small central area of red.

Other painters in the exhibit are Marcel Barbeau, Paul Margin, Ed Seeman, John Pusey and Paul Reed.

"Is there any relevance to the Bible in these displays?" asks the explanatory sheet. "The American Bible Society is hopeful that the viewer will sense a relationship between contemporary color dynamics and the concern of the society to put attractive, easy-to-read Scriptures into every Christian home, into the hands of every new literate and into the languages of people everywhere."

ABSALOM WAS AN EARLY POLITICAL BACK SLAPPER

The first record of a political "back slapper" is presented in the International Sunday School lesson for June 6. The text, found in II Samuel 15:10-13; 18:31-33, describes Absalom's subtle plot to dethrone his father David, as king, and to take the throne himself.

Absalom resented the choice of David's second son, Solomon, to succeed as king over the Israelites, and gathered support among the "common" people. His efforts to take over the kingdom failed and he was killed.

Absalom never lost an opportunity to incur the favor of those among his people who resented the judgment handed down by the king, and sought to gain favor by telling them he would give them justice. David hated Absalom's purpose, but still loved him as a son.

David was a man of greatness, althought he was full of human weaknesses, and mourned for his son. He lived in an age characterized by barbarism, and he stood at the center of the turmoil.

The lesson teaches, among other things, to consider all factors, including the background, when judgment is passed on a man's acts.

WHO BATS FIRST ??

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Part of playing any game is to learn how to settle the inevitable arguments. In a league in which nobody has a coin to toss, this is the time-honored method for getting the game started without a squabble.

But there are other games to be played, in other leagues. Life for each of us brings many occasions for conflict. And they don't all yield to simple techniques like twirling a bat around one's shoulders with just a couple of fingers.

Earnest Christians believe that our faith can point men to the right attitude and action in times of stress.

That's why, as we face the conflicts of life, we always hope the other fellow will behave like a Christian. And he's hoping as much of us.

Why not meet him in Church next Sunday? That's where right attitudes often begin.

Mets Now Boast Top Win Skein In Loop

By The Associated Press

Who's got the longest winning streak in the National League?

Why, the New York Mets, winners of 3½ games in a row.

The Mets, unbeaten in four games including a tie with the Chicago Cubs last Monday, replaced Pittsburgh as the team with the longest current winning streak by knocking off the Pirates 8-6 Thursday night and ending their string of successes at 12.

But it was that kind of night.

Sandy Koufax started for the Los Angeles Dodgers and wound up one of nine shell-shocked pitchers as the Dodgers finally whipped St. Louis 11-10 and boosted their first-place edge to five games — longest of the season.

Meanwhile, hardly anyone was looking as the Milwaukee Braves crept into second place, downing San Francisco 10-3 despite being held hitless after the third inning.

In the only other game scheduled, Houston defeated Cincinnati 8-3.

At Pittsburgh, the Mets would have added 10 years to Casey Stengel's age if he weren't already 74.

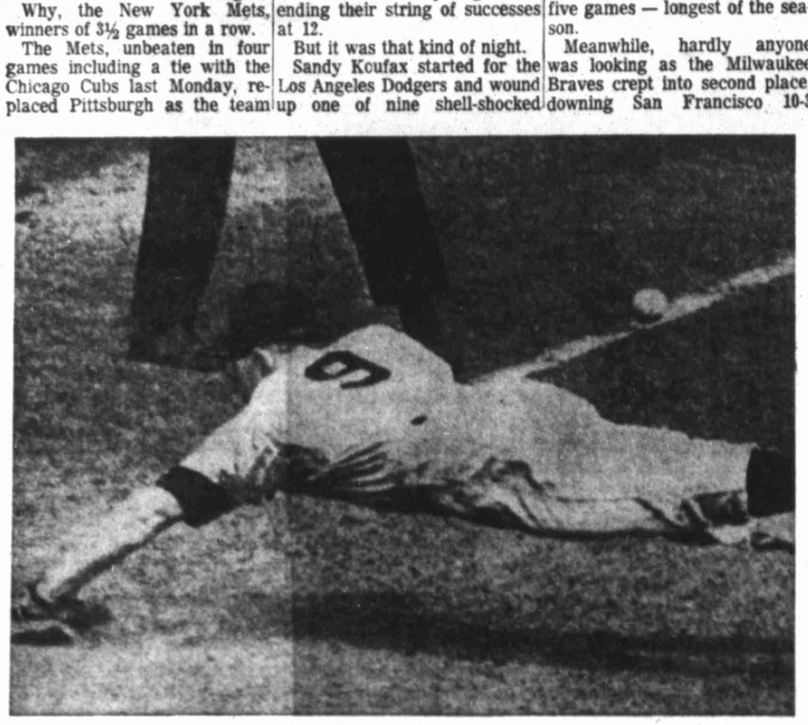

They scored two runs in the third inning, then exploded for six more in the fourth as Ed Kranepool and Joe Christopher each drove in a pair. With an 8-0 lead it looked easy, and it was until the eighth inning when Galen Cisco started to play richochet with the Pirate bats.

Roberto Clemente tripled. Willie Stargell homered. Exit Cisco. Enter Larry Miller. Three singles, another run, another Met pitcher, Tom Parsons. Parsons held Jim Pagliaroni to a sacrifice fly and Jerry Lynch to a two-run homer, the 17th pinch-hit shot of his career. Parsons got out of the six-run inning and then retired the side 1-2-3 in the ninth.

Koufax never got past the third inning at St. Louis as the Cardinals pulled out to a 7-3 lead. But there were a few hits still to come. There were 29 in all, 15 by the Dodgers.

After four innings the score was tied 7-7, but the Cardinals pulled ahead in the fifth when Bob Skinner smacked a pinch-hit two-run homer and Julian Javier followed with his first homer of the season.

The Braves jammed all their hits and runs into the first three innings, erupting for nine runs in the third — the biggest inning in the majors this season.

Dives But Misses

Rich Rollins, Minnesota Twins' third baseman, makes a head-long dive in an attempt to grab a line drive down the line hit by Felix Mantilla, Boston, in the eighth inning of an American league game in the Twin Cities Thursday. The blast scored Lenny Green. Minnesota won, 4-3, to keep their hold on first place in the standings. (AP WIREPHOTO).

Brownfield Is Legion's Foe Saturday Nite

Big Spring will inaugurate the American Legion baseball program in a game with Brownfield Saturday at 8:30 p.m. in the Hi Junior Park, just off north interstate 20, according to an announcement from Jack Pearson. Spectators are welcome.

Pearson, who has worked with Big Spring, district and division American Legion baseball since the WW II days, has announced a strong program under way in the legion's 19th district for this year. Eleven teams will be competing for the district championship and all teams have or are beginning a double round robin playoff. In the 19th district, two zones were necessary due to the number of teams and, by agreement, the two highest in each of the zones will play a two-of-three series to establish the winner, which will advance to the division playoff. Play continues until one National championship team is determined.

Chubby Moser, a graduate of the American Legion team and Big Spring High School, again heads the local program as coach. This year another outstanding "ex" of the legion team, Jackie Thomas, will assist. Moser, a Cosden employe, has handled the Big Spring team for three years and has established a fine record. A future pro, Jeff Brown, now in his third year of professional baseball, and many of his boys have made college teams.

Games of twice weekly or more will be played throughout the district until each team has played on a home and home basis with the others and all home games of the Big Spring Legion team will be played at the Sophomore Park, each beginning at 8:30 p.m., Pearson has announced.

In workouts, Moser has only partially established a team. In a workout game against the semi-pro Gage Oiler team the legion boys led by 4-2 in a few innings of unofficial play. Moser announced all positions are still open. Workouts are held each afternoon at 5:30 at the old Steer Stadium and additional boys wishing to try out are welcome.

Pro Grid Expansion Now In Full Swing

NEW YORK (AP) — Now the pro football expansion race is on.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle announced he has recommended the National Football League add two teams for a total of 16 by 1967.

Informed of the announcement by The Associated Press, Commissioner Joe Foss of the American Football League said the AFL might do it sooner, perhaps putting two new teams on the field by 1966.

Then they started ticking off potential expansion targets. Between the two of them they covered most of the major cities in the United States and Canada, including some in the rival league.

In a Thursday night news conference, Rozelle named 12 "major cities which have expressed an interest in an NFL franchise."

They are Montreal, Toronto, Boston, Miami, Atlanta, New Orleans, Cincinnati, Houston, Memphis, Phoenix, Seattle and Portland.

When it was pointed out that Boston and Houston already had teams in the rival AFL, Rozelle said:

"I have not given extensive thought to that. I have no feelings about those cities in particular."

But Foss had some particular feelings.

"There's plenty of room for both of us," said the commissioner of the five-year-old, eight-team league. "There are any number of cities that can support pro football and any number that can support two teams."

Then he ticked off his list: Chicago, Washington, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, Milwaukee, Atlanta, New Orleans, Miami, Columbus and Dayton, Ohio, Portland, Louisville, Memphis, Seattle, Montreal, Toronto and Vancouver.

Chicago, Washington, Philadelphia and Los Angeles all have teams in the 45-year-old NFL and Milwaukee supports the Green Bay Packers, some 60 miles away.

At present, only New York has a team in each league and a two-team trial in Dallas didn't work out, with the AFL team moving to Kansas City. Both leagues are now armed with millions of dollars in television money and are looking for new markets.

Odessa Bronchos Down Panthers

ODESSA—The Odessa Bronchos evened their bi-district best-of-three series with El Paso Austin by easing out a 3-2 win over the Panthers at Fly Field Thursday.

Sophomore Gilbert Vasquez' fancy four-hit pitching, combined with nine hits by his teammates, downed the Panthers. Vasquez' victory was his fifth of the season against one loss. He was in command all the way except in the fourth inning when two doubles and a walk scored two runs for the Panthers, tying the game.

But the Bronchos scored the winning run in the sixth inning off Mike Pemberton. Danny Rodriguez opened the frame with a double to left field, then moved to third on a single to left by shortstop Tris Bars, who was thrown out at second on a try for the extra base on the throw-in.

But Dee Lancaster slapped a fly to center and Rodriguez scored easily for the clincher.

The two teams meet at 2 p.m. today for the deciding game. Bronchos coach Bill Herron will send righthander Jack Green against the Panthers today, and Austin coach K. C. Brown will start southpaw Bob Arnold.

AFL Eyeing NFL Cities

DALLAS (AP)— Lamar Hunt, founder of the American Football League, said today his league is in a position to expand to 10 teams by 1966. It now has eight clubs.

Hunt, owner of the Kansas City Chiefs and member of the AFL's expansion committee, denied, however, that the move was influenced by a sudden announcement in New York that National Football League commissioner Pete Rozelle had recommended the addition of two teams to expand the league to 16.

"This certainly isn't a race on our part," said Hunt. "In the first place, some of the cities in which we are most interested already have NFL teams."

He named Chicago and Philadelphia as examples but declined to say if those were the two leading candidates for new AFL franchises.

Bob Wright 5 Strokes Back In State Amateur

MIDLAND (AP)—Randy Geiselman, the Southwest Conference champion, led the Texas amateur golf tournament into its second round today.

Geiselman shot a two-under par 70 before the high winds came Thursday to take the lead by one stroke over Raz Allen of Cleburne, the North Texas State star, who had a 71.

Defending champion Marty Fleckman of Port Arthur, the University of Houston ace, ran into strong winds that swept the 7,360-yard Midland Country Club course in the afternoon, and may have shot himself out of contention when he soared to an 80.

A 75 was required to make the top 20.

The field will be cut to 85 low scorers and ties after today's second round.

• • •

Bobby Wright is Big Spring's closest challenger in the Texas State Amateur tournament at Midland. Wright posted an opening round score of 75, which leaves him five strokes off the pace.

Other Big Spring entries and their scores include:

Robb Smith, 78; Frank Powell, 79; Jimmy Patterson, 80; Tommy Wilkerson, 83; Weldon Bryant, 84.

MONAHANS — Warren B Pruitt, head basketball coach for the last six years at Graford, has been named new mentor at Monahans High School.

Pruitt will succeed Ken Williamson, who resigned to enter business in San Angelo. In his six years at Graford, Pruitt has compiled a 172-48 won-loss record.

Roy Dodds Quits Job At Stanton

STANTON — Roy Dodds has resigned as junior varsity football coach here to accept a job as principal of the Butterfield school near Abilene.

Dodds is attending summer classes at Sul Ross, working toward his master's degree.

Fabulous Pact Offered Neely

DALLAS (AP)—Ralph Neely, the mighty Oklahoma tackle who is being fought for by both the Dallas Cowboys and the Houston Oilers, got himself quite a contract with Dallas if the Cowboys are successful.

Wes Wise of KRLD-TV said in a copyrighted story Thursday night that Neely had been offered $195,000 by the Cowboys.

This would make him among the highest paid linemen in the National Football League.

Four one-year contracts at $20,000 a year, an off-season job paying him $5,000 a year, a bonus of $25,000 and a 10-year arrangement whereby Neely will receive $7,000 over a future 10-year period starting in 1975 were revealed by Wise.

Yanks, Vets Play To Tie

The Yankees and the VFW played to a 3-3 National Little League deadlock here Thursday night. The game was stopped at the end of seven innings when the curfew rule was invoked.

The Vets got off to a two-run first inning and added the other in the fourth. The Yanks banked all their tallies in the third.

The Vets outhit the Yanks, 10-4. Tony Burkhart led the way with a double and two singles. Stewart Bunn had two singles for the Yanks, who now are 3-6-1 for the season.

Chrane Sets Loop Record

Gary Chrane struck out 19 of the 22 batters he faced and allowed but one hit as the Red Sox wallopped the Giants 9-0 in a Sophomore League baseball game Thursday.

Chrane's 19 strikeouts set a league record. The lone Giant hit, a single by losing pitcher Tom Ryan, came with two men out on strikes, and was followed by another three-swing out. Only five batters reached base against Chrane, four of them on walks; the other Giant runner got on when hit by a pitched ball.

But the Giants never threatened to score, as Chrane spread the free tickets sparsely over four innings.

Red Sox batters tagged loser Ryan for five hits and got to reliefer Benny Chebberia for three more, scoring almost at will. Both teams played errorless ball.

Jimmy Williams of Spur, who came to Big Spring to be married last weekend, is a graduate of Oklahoma Central State College who has signed a contract to play professional football with the Washington Redskins.

Judging from the early betting handles at the two tracks, Ruidoso Downs is hurting the new racing plant at Juarez more than the other way around.

Juarez was expected to cut substantially into the Ruidoso handle but that hasn't been the case to date.

Tim Smith, the local boy who has just completed his freshman year at Texas Tech, won't be carried on the Tech football roster this fall.

He could remain in the Lubbock school in hopes of becoming eligible for the 1966 season. Coaches at both North Texas State University and East Texas would like for him to transfer to their schools.

Tim did very well in Tech's spring game recently.

• • • •

Incidentally, requests for season football tickets at Tech are running well ahead of last year, when the Red Raiders set a record of 226,100 paying customers in six home games.

Price for season tickets at the Lubbock school, good for seven home games, range from $35 to $49. Checks should include a 50-cent mailing fee and be sent to the Texas Tech Athletic Office, Lubbock.

Single game ducats will sell for $5, $5.50, $6 and $7, depending on the location.

• • • •

For those who have asked and those who have wondered, here is Tech's home football schedule this fall:

Sept. 18, Kansas; Oct. 2, Texas A&M; Oct. 9, TCU; Oct. 16, Oklahoma State; Oct. 30, Rice (Homecoming); Nov. 6, New Mexico State; Nov. 13, Baylor.

The games with Rice and Baylor will be afternoon contests. The others start at 7:30 p.m.

It's conservatively estimated that Cassius Clay's connections with the Black Muslims have cost him $2 million in endorsements but why should he worry, with payrolls ranging from $600,000 to $1 million coming along each year?

• • • •

It's interesting to note that Julian Pressly has taken full-time employment with Odessa College, where he will continue to serve as baseball coach.

Pressly was affiliated with the Odessa public schools as a teacher and coach but resigned from the latter job when officials demanded that he coached football or some other sport, in addition to baseball.

If Odessa College becomes a four-year school, as expected, Pressly should prosper, right along with the school. Julian, one of the state's shrewdest baseball men, gave the college its best baseball team ever the past season.

Pascual Wins 7th

By HAL BLOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Camilo Pascual, $500 poorer than he would like to be, is busy trying to make himself and his Minnesota Twins teammates several thousand dollars richer come October.

PASCUAL

Pascual, who fought off an attempted $9,000 cut in his almost annual salary squabble with Minnesota owner Cal Griffith, won his seventh straight game Thursday and vaulted the Twins 1½ games in front of Chicago in the American League race.

Minnesota's 4-3 victory over Boston was the only game played in the American League. In the National League, New York snapped Pittsburgh's 12-game winning string 8-6, Milwaukee rapped San Francisco 10-3, Houston slugged Cincinnati 8-3 and Los Angeles outlasted St. Louis 11-10.

When Pascual got his 1965 contract offer from Griffith last winter he went into a rage. "I should have asked for a raise," said the Cuban hurler who was 15-12 last year after two straight 20-victory seasons.

The pitcher finally prevailed and although he made overtures at a $500 hike, Pascual finally settled for $46,500 — the same salary he received in 1964.

The way he's pitching right now, Pascual must be thinking about some extra cash for October, like a Worlds Series share perhaps.

The Twins' ace has a 2.54 earned run average to go with his 7-0 record. He has struck out 55 in 81 innings of work.

Bob Allison's two-run homer gave him an early working gin Thursday and late-inning help from Johnny Klippstein and Mel Nelson secured the triumph.

Kincaid Gridder McMurry Bound

SNYDER—Snyder's Tom Kincaid has indicated he will attend McMurry College this fall, according to Indian coach Grant Teaff.

Kincaid lettered three years in football and track at Snyder High School, and was all-district his junior year. He intends to participate in both sports at McMurry.

Teaff, who says Kincaid is "as fine a football prospect as there is in the state," plans to use him as a tailback on offense and as a defensive halfback. "Tom has good size and speed and should develop into a top running back," Teaff said. Kincaid, a 10.0 sprinter, is 5-11, weighs 185.

Steers Record 20th Victory

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas had a 20-5 record today as it looked toward Omaha and the college world series of baseball where it will clash with Washington State next Monday.

The Longhorns beat the SMI Steelers 7-3 Thursday night to wind up the warmup schedule. It was two in a row over the Seguin semi-pros.

Gary Moore pitched a seven-hitter and Ed Denman, James Scheschuk and Minton White took care of the stick work, batting in five runs among them.

Wayne Roberson drove in both of the Steeler tallies.

Washington State will boast a 31-6 record when it faces Texas at 2 p.m. Monday at Omaha.

New Ranger At Fort Davis

A new superintendent has been named for Fort Davis National Historic Site, Franklin G. Smith, formerly staff museum curator for the Southwest Region of the National Park Service. Smith developed an audio program installed at Fort Davis which presents sounds of horses hooves, artillery pieces, calls for orders and a retreat ceremony. He will assume duties at Fort Davis Sunday.

Chit-Chat During Walk In Space

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Here is the transcript of the conversation among astronauts Edward H. White II and James A. McDivitt and capsule communicator Virgil I. Grissom while White walked in space outside the Gemini 4 spacecraft:

McDivitt: "Tell us what you think."

White: "Looks like we're coming up on the coast of California."

McDivitt: "One thing about it when Ed gets out there and starts wiggling around it sure makes the spacecraft tough to control."

Grissom: "Is he taking pictures?"

McDivitt: "Not yet."

Grissom: "Take some pictures."

White: "Okay, I'm gonna work on getting some pictures now."

McDivitt: "Okay, get out front so I can see you. I've only got about three of them."

White: "Okay."

McDivitt: "Where are you?"

"OUT FRONT"

White: "I'm out front now."

Grissom: "You've got about five minutes."

(White explained to McDivitt he was going to do something, but the transmission was garbled).

McDivitt: "Do it slowly and I'll take your picture."

McDivitt: "Just float around. Right now we're pointed just about straight down to the ground."

(White made observations that were garbled in transmission).

McDivitt: "Let me take a close-up picture here."

(A pause)

McDivitt: "You're smearing up my windshield, you dirty dog."

(A laught from both.)

McDivitt: "See how it's all smeared up there?"

White: "Yeah."

"OVER TEXAS"

McDivitt: "Looks like there's a coating on the outside and you rubbed it off. That's exactly what you've done."

McDivtt: "Ed, I don't know exactly where we are, but it looks like we're over Texas. As a matter of fact, you know, that looks like Houston down below us."

Grissom: "Gemini 4, Houston Cap-Com (Capsule Communications)."

McDivitt: "Hey, Gus, as a matter of fact it looks like we're right over Houston."

Grissom: "Gemini 4, Gemini 4, Houston."

McDivitt: "Yeah, that's Galveston Bay right there."

White: "Yeah."

McDivitt: "Hey, Ed can you see in your side of the spacecraft?"

White: "Yeah."

McDivitt: "Can you see the camera here?"

White: "Yeah."

McDivitt: "Is it pointing at you?"

White: "No, not now, no. Turn it. I'm not in the picture."

McDivitt: "Which way?"

(A garbled reply from White.)

McDivitt: "Now don't get back there where the, ah."

White (interrupting): "No, I'm not behind you, I'm out in front."

Grissom, repeatedly amid garbled McDivitt-White conversation: "Gemini 4, Houston; Gemini 4, Houston; Gemini 4, Houston."

White: "I've only shot about three or four pictures)."

McDivitt: "All right. I've taken a lot, but they're not very good. You're in too close for most of them. I finally put the focus down to about eight feet or so."

Grissom: "Gemini 4, Houston."

Ground to flight: "Flight, will you tell Gemini 4 to release the key when you're trying to talk to him?"

Grissom: "Gemini 4, Houston."

ABOUT REFERENCE

McDivitt: "You know, Ed, the thing about the reference you were talking about — it looks like you're right."

Grissom: "Gemini 4, Houston."

McDivitt: "(garbled) The flight director has got to say."

Grissom, distinctly: "The flight director says, 'Get back in.'"

McDivitt: "Got any messages for us."

Grissom, urgently: "Gemini 4, get back in."

McDivitt: "Okay. We're going to come back in now."

Grissom: "Roger, we've been trying to talk to you for a while here."

White, upon receiving order to return to the capsule: "I'm just fine."

McDivitt: "No, back in. Come on."

"NOT COMING"

White, laughingly but garbled: "I'm not coming in."

McDivitt: "We've got three and a half more days to go, Buddy."

White, reluctantly: "I'm coming."

McDivitt: "Okay."

Grissom: "You've got about four minutes to Bermuda LOS (Loss of Signal)."

McDivitt to White: "Okay, okay, don't worry about a thing. Just come on in."

McDivitt: "How you doing there?"

White: "I'm doing great."

McDivitt: "Good."

McDivitt: "Okay, let's oops, take it easy now."

White: "I'm doing .. . I'm right on top of it, right now."

McDivitt: "Can't you get a hold there, Ed?"

White: "Yeah, I'm (garbled)."

McDivitt, answering a garbled question from White: "Nope, come on in."

White again tells McDivitt something.

McDivitt, insistently, "Ed, come on in here."

White: "All right."

McDivitt: "Okay, let's not lose (garbled)."

White: "I don't quite have it."

McDivitt: "Little bit more."

White: "Got it?"

McDivitt: "Okay, I got it."

McDivitt and White exchange more garbled conversation.

"GET BACK IN"

McDivitt: "Come on, let's get back in here before it gets dark."

White: "Okay."

The two exchange more garbled conversation.

McDivitt: "Come on now."

Flight control: "Give him a call again, Gus."

Grissom: "Gemini 4, Houston."

White: "I'm fixing to come in the house."

Grissom: "Gemini 4, Houston Cap-Com."

(A delay and garbled conversation)

McDivitt: "Any messages for us, Houston?"

Grissom, sternly: "Yeah, get back in."

Grissom: "You getting him back in?"

McDivitt: "He's standing in the seat now and his legs are down below the instrument panel."

Grissom: "Okay, get him back in now. You're going to have Bermuda lost in about 20 (seconds)."

"HAVING TROUBLE"

McDivitt: "He's coming in. He's having some trouble getting back in the space cabin — looks like."

Grissom: "You got your cabin lights up bright in case you hit darkness?"

McDivitt gave a garbled reply.

Gemini Control reported signal lost in Bermuda. McDivitt returned to the network a few seconds later and talked to Grissom. It was garbled on the air.

Someone asked Grissom what McDivitt said. Grissom replied: "He said he was busy and had rather not talk to us."

As White slipped back into the capsule, he said to McDivitt: "It's the saddest moment of my life."

McDivitt laughed.

Astronauts' Wives Pay Visit To Control Center

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Young Eddie White heard about his dad taking a solo stroll in space Wednesday, then the youngster went to a Little League baseball game and struck out his first turn at bat.

Eight-year-old Mike McDivitt, son of Gemini 4 command pilot James A. McDivitt, also left the televised coverage of the space flight for baseball, but deserted the game later in favor of a snow cone. His team won anyway.

WANTS VACATION

While her husband spun around the world more than 100 miles up, Mrs. Edward H. White spoke hopefully of a vacation in the Colorado Rockies.

"I hope to go somewhere with him," Mrs. White, an attractive blonde, told newsmen. "I think they'll give him some time off. If I have my way we'll go to Colorado."

Both Mrs. White and Mrs. McDivitt went through the tight security of the Manned Space Center to visit the Mission Control Center.

Smiling, but apparently weary, Mrs. McDivitt told newsmen: "We were all having a ball and still are."

"NOT FRIGHTENED"

Mrs. White said she wasn't frightened while her husband was outside the space vehicle and said she recognized his voice when he spoke during the space plunge.

"I could hear him laughing. I wasn't worried. I knew it would work out all okay," she said.

Her children, Mrs. White said, were so proud, "they could bust; they just don't know what to do."

Mrs. White, wearing a white dress and a blue jacket, and Mrs. McDivitt, her bright blue dress contrasting her dark hair, visited the control center shortly after White became the first American to walk in space. They stayed at the center for 45 minutes, but did not talk to their husbands on the communications facilities. Afterward, they returned home.

Spending Nights In Space, Too?

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Albany Times-Union received a telephone call Thursday night from a man who asked if astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II were to remain aloft for four days.

Assured that this was correct, the anonymous caller asked:

"Yeah, well what I want to know is, are they going to stay up there at night too?"

Millions Of Europeans Follow Space Journey

LONDON (AP) — The Gemini space flight was the top news in West European newspapers today. Millions followed the American astronauts' progress on television and radio.

London papers pointed out that astronaut Edward H. White II had walked in space longer than Soviet cosmonaut Alexei Leonov. "The space walk champ," said a headline in the Sun.

CLOSELY WATCHED

Britain's top space tracker, Sir Bernard Lovell of the Jodrell Bank Observatory, said, "The American achievement, coming quickly after the Russians, demonstrates how closely matched they are for a manned lunar landing."

The Gemini flight was front-page news in Moscow also, but most papers carried an early Tass dispatch from New York stressing the failure to rendezvous with the booster rocket.

Pravda, the Soviet Communist party organ, published a brief dispatch from a Western news agency reporting that White was in space for 20 minutes. Apparently the other morning newspapers went to press before news of White's feat arrived.

"The Soviet people sincerely congratulate the two cosmonauts and the American scientists on this achievement," said Moscow radio after broadcasting word of the Gemini launching.

HUGE SUCCESS

The live television transmissions of the takeoff, relayed to Europe by the Early Bird satellite, were a huge success.

Swedish TV experts described it as "a tele-technical triumph."

Tourists packed the lounges of Norwegian hotels to watch the transmission.

The Brussels newspaper Het Laatste Niews noted that the Gemini men had failed in their attempt to rendezvous with their booster rocket but commented: "What is in favor of the American scientists is that they undertake their space flight totally in the open, so that the whole world can live success or failure with them in the very instant it takes place."

A Capsule Of Flight

By The Associated Press

Launched — 10:16 a.m. EST, June 3, from Cape Kennedy, Fla.

Flight duration — 97 hours, 50 minutes; 62 orbits.

Spacecraft — Gemini 4, second in series of manned two-man capsules; 19 feet long with blunt end diameter of 7½ feet. Boosted into orbit by Titan 2, two-stage, liquid-fueled rocket 90 feet tall with 530,000 pounds of thrust.

Astronauts — Air Force Majors James A. McDivitt, 35, command pilot; Edward H. White II, 34.

Satellite rendezvous — Abandoned 11:55 a.m., June 3, on second orbit because too much fuel used trying to get in position.

Space walk — 2:45 p.m., June 3, on third orbit White left capsule for 20 minutes to observe and take photographs.

Other flight objectives — Determine effect of prolonged weightlessness and space flight on men and equipment; provide a controlled re-entry and training for astronauts who will fly in the Apollo man-to-the-moon program; conduct certain engineering and scientific experiments.

Case Of Facial Shadow Will Mark Spacemen

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Space pioneers Edward H. White II and James A. McDivitt could come back from their four-day space journey looking like a pair of Western pioneers.

There are no razors aboard the Gemini 4, and when the two spacemen splash down in the Atlantic Ocean Monday they may have a bad case of five o'clock shadow.

"Hair is no problem," Dr. W. W. Kemmerer Jr., head of the Manned Spacecraft Center's microbiology division said. "We can't see the added weight a razor would place on the spacecraft."

To keep hands and face clean, small wet tabs placed in special plastic containers are available for use after each meal.

Contribution To Scholarship Plan

BEMIDJI, Minn. (AP) — Fred G. Troppman, 92, a storekeeper who got only through the third grade, has donated $50,000 worth of securities to Bemidji State College for use in student scholarships. Even though his own education was brief, Troppman recalled this week, "I was never spelled down once." He is still active in a general merchandise store.
