U. S. Employment At Record In September

WASHINGTON (AP)—Employment in the United States reached $3,000,000, a record high, in September.

Unemployment dropped 450,000 to 4.1 million, but the Labor Department said the decline was mostly seasonal.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg said the total of employed was about 200,000 above the previous record, set in September 1960, and 2.6 million above the level in February, when economists say the recession hit bottom.

Oral Vaccine Is Licensed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The second of three oral polio vaccines has been licensed by the Public Health Service for manufacture by a pharmaceutical firm.

Pfizer, Ltd., will make the Type 2 Sabin oral vaccine at Sandwich, England. It also received the license for Type 1 vaccine last Aug. 17. The third type of oral vaccine is not expected to be available for several months, the health service said.

Surgeon General Luther L. Terry stressed that Salk polio vaccine—given in a series of shots—is the only vaccine available that protects against all three types of polio.

Terry said the health service is ordering 1.8 million doses—at 9 cents a dose—of the tasteless, colorless Type 2 vaccine to go in its epidemic stockpile at Atlanta, Ga.

Two Killed In Plane Crash

BOERNE, Tex. (AP)—A private plane crashed and burned on a hill 16 miles west of here early today, killing two men and injuring a third seriously.

Names of the dead were not available.

The injured man, identified as John Humphrey, 39, of Sudan, was taken to a San Antonio hospital suffering from burns cuts and a head injury.

George Eibenberger, operator of a funeral home, said he found Humphrey about 300 yards from the top of the rocky hillside where the plane crashed. Bodies of the other occupants were at the crash site, he said.

Mr. Sam Gets Best Medicine

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Ailing Sam Rayburn has probably received the best medicine there is for a long time—rest—after the president of the United States.

President Kennedy went 3,000 miles out of his way Sunday to spend 14 minutes with the 79-year-old speaker of the House who has cancer. The president originally had planned to go directly to Washington from Newport, R.I., where he had spent the weekend.

John Holton, Rayburn's administrative assistant, said: "The entire family was gratified and pleased by the graciousness of the visit. They were pleased indeed."

Holton said Rayburn told him that he and the President discussed everything from politics to world events.

Reluctant Approval Of Further Talks Expected

By ENDRÉ MARTON
WASHINGTON (AP)—France and West Germany are expected to give reluctant approval to further Washington-Moscow talks aimed at a Berlin settlement. The exchanges would be at the ambassadorial level.

However, the French and West Germans reportedly would prefer to hold off on further East-West exploratory contacts until the Western ambassadorial steering group met for its 20th anniversary night with Foy D. Kohler, assistant secretary of state.

The British, French and West German envoys and their aides have been meeting almost daily with Kohler, head of the State Department's task force for Germany.

Diplomatic sources, in discussing the French and West German views, conceded that the gap between the thinking in Washington, London, Paris and Bonn was not bridged when the Western foreign ministers met here in September.

To underline the French position, Ambassador Hervé Alphand, who attended Monday night's meeting, also saw Secretary of State Dean Rusk about Alphand and the other envoys were not available for comment after the conference.

The European allies were briefed on the recent conferences between Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and the two-hour meeting last Friday between President Kennedy and Gromyko.

U.S. officials were reported to have told the diplomats they do not share the German and French assessments of the Gromyko talks. Specifically, some Washington authorities disagree with Wilhelm Grewe, the German ambassador, who said on Sunday that the Kennedy-Gromyko meeting seemed to him "a step backward."

Thereafter, Washington believes that such an exchange should continue. Officials suggested the best approach would be to have Liwellyn Thompson, the U.S. ambassador to Moscow, keep in contact with Gromyko.

The talks with Gromyko, these officials said, represented neither progress nor regression. But they said a number of points raised by Kennedy and Rusk were left without clarification.

Castro Accuses U. S. Of Plotting Invasion

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's regime accused the United States Monday night of training invasion forces at 20 U.S. bases and nine Caribbean points for another assault on Cuban shores. It said the forces, including paratroopers and were stronger than those cut down in the abortive landings last April.

Acting Foreign Minister Carlos Olivares called in the diplomatic corps to press the charges in a 1,600-word note. He claimed the invasion training network extended from Guantanamo Bay to the Panama Canal Zone. He contended that 500 paratroopers were among the forces being readied in Panama.

Olivares asserted that a number of Central American governments were involved and that the United States was "setting the stage for invasion by trying to disrupt relations between Cuba and the other governments."

The Cuban note apparently was a preview of the policy speech Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa is to give in the U.N. General Assembly in New York this afternoon. Except for the details on training of anti-Castro exiles, most of the charges had been aired by Castro and his spokesmen for recent weeks. Cuba also has submitted a complaint to the U.N. General Assembly charging the United States is planning new aggression against the Castro regime.

Olivares' charges drew no immediate reaction from the State Department in Washington. Press officer Lincoln White declined to comment.

Olivares assembled the 32 foreign envoys before large maps of the United States and the Caribbean on which he pointed out the alleged training sites.

He pinpointed the Florida locations as West Palm Beach, Pompano, Fort Lauderdale, Hollywood, Opa-locka, Hialeah, Homestead, Tavernier, Islamorada, Big Pine, Long Key, Marathon Key, Key West, St. Petersburg, Sarasota and Dry Tortugas west of Key West.

Olivares claimed other training centers in the United States were at Fort Worth, Tex.; Norfolk, Va.; Fort Bragg, N.C. and New Orleans.

The State Department, in announcing this, said that the government of Premier Mahmoud al-Kuzbari was informed today about the U.S. diplomatic move.

The U.S. consulate general in Damascus will be raised to the status of an embassy. Prior to the appointment of an ambassador, Ridgway B. Knight, the present consul general, will act as charge d'affaires.

The Department announced that "The United States government, having taken note of the declaration of the Government of the Syrian Arab Republic that it in international relations, observes the principle of non-interference in the internal affairs of other states, has decided to extend recognition to that government."

The government of the Syrian Arab Republic has been apprised of the desire of the U.S. government to raise the status of an embassy in Damascus.

The American ambassador in Damascus and to appoint Mr. Ridgway B. Knight charge d'affaires.

U.S. officials made it clear earlier this month that the United States would recognize Syria as soon as some of the more important Arab countries recognize the new state of Syria.

The defection of Alexei Golub, 35, resulted in a clash Monday between Soviet Ambassador Ponomarev and his superior, made him give up his post at the airport to put the scientist's wife on a Moscow-bound plane. She finally decided to leave her husband, perhaps forever, and went on back to Moscow. They had come here as tourists.

Ponomarev lost a button off his raincoat in the brawl, and at least one Soviet diplomat and a policeman, mired injuries.

The incident brought newspaper demands that Ponomarev here after he given only a one-way ad mission to the airport en route home.

Golub, a doctor in biochemistry, was quoted by a police spokesman as saying he was leaving, saying, "I am not a Soviet citizen."

He was quoted as saying he was engaged in important research on "how to remove strontium out of the human body without affecting the vital element, calcium," but his superiors made him give up the research for other work.

Strontium is one of the elements from nuclear fallout. It concentrates in the marrow of bones and is the chief worry of scientists concerned with the effects of nuclear explosions in the atmosphere on the health of human beings.

"Climax of the day's quarrel arrived."

Four Slain By Berserk Steel Worker

GARY, Ind. (AP)—A steel worker took aim with a pistol while being transported today for being on the job and killed four men before he was shot down by a plant guard.

Archie Davis, 29, Gary, also wounded four other men in the wild rampage through several buildings of the U.S. Steel Co. plant and in mill.

Killed before the laborer died with a guard's bullet in his head were Joe Guydon, 37; Donald Moran, 48; Royal Rutt and Neal Weidman, 48.

Louis Massa, plant general laborer, thought at first to have been killed, was reported later still alive in Mercy Hospital.

Also wounded were Ben Proff, Gerald Myers, 48, and David Shaffer, 48.

Authorities said Guydon, a track gang boss, caught Davis and another worker talking when they were supposed to be working. He ordered them back to work and turned in a report reprimanding

Davis was told to report this morning to Massa's office, where he was awaited by Massa, Guydon and Moran, track gang foreman.

It was not known whether the worker said anything in the office before opening fire with a revolver, dropping all three foremen.

U. S. Navy Doubts Soviet Sub Claims

WASHINGTON (AP)—"We don't believe it" was the reaction today of a top Navy antisubmarine warfare authority to a Soviet claim that the Soviet Union has the world's largest fleet of nuclear submarines.

The authority, who did not want to be quoted by name, said the Navy thinks the Soviets have a small fleet of nuclear submarines.

But he added, "If they have a submarine up to the state of the Nautilus we'd be surprised."

The Nautilus was the first nuclear submarine. It was commissioned about seven years ago and the Navy since has evolved more advanced models.

The U.S. fleet now has 14 nuclear attack submarines. A-138 will be commissioned shortly.

Thirteen others are in various stages of construction. Also with the fleet is a nuclear submarine armed with 500-mile-range Regulus guided missiles.</

Little Violence On Racial Front

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A stink bomb tossed into a group of Negro students picketing a movie theater in Knoxville, Tenn., was the only act of violence reported on a day in which racial controversy was handled largely in the courts.

Police arrested 54 young Negroes and a white girl Monday night on disorderly conduct charges. They were picketing in front of three downtown Knoxville theaters. A stink bomb was thrown at the theaters.

The demonstrators tried to purchase tickets to the theaters. When refused, they formed circles and marched by the windows chanting "Tickets please."

Police Capt. Neal Long said the arrests were made after the demonstrators refused to move on. "The situation did not get to the point where there was a high possibility that trouble was going to erupt," he said.

At Jackson, Miss., the son-in-law of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, among 14 Episcopal ministers who pleaded innocent during an appeal hearing in connection with an attempt to desegregate a Jackson bus station during last month's "prayer pilgrimages."

The Rev. Robert L. Pierson of New York and Evanston, Ill., and the other ministers made their pleas during arraignment before Hinds County Court Judge Russell Moore on appeals from breach of peace convictions in City Court. The judge set trial dates at two a day from May 7 to May 13.

In another case, 25 Freedom Riders declined to contest their breach of peace conviction appeals in Hinds County Court and were sentenced to $200 fines and suspended jail terms.

In Washington, the U.S. Supreme Court granted a hearing to Memphis leaders who were refused service in a municipal airport restaurant at Memphis, Tenn.

The high tribunal let stand a Tennessee court order revoking the charter of Highlander Folk School, a racial integration adult education center in Tennessee.

In addition, the court rejected three more petitions by Louisiana attorneys general involving state efforts to put off public school integration in various parts of Louisiana.

In Jackson, Ala., eight of nine men charged in the burning of a rider bus in May pleaded innocent in U.S. District Court. They will be tried together the week of Oct. 30.

The ninth man was unable to appear because of injuries suffered in an accident and will be tried separately.

FORD PICKET LINE—Members of the United Auto Workers Union walk the picket line in front of the Ford Motor Co. administration building in Dearborn, Michigan. The lines were formed to bar salaried personnel from the offices. Selected maintenance persons were issued cards by the UAW Local 600 and were permitted to enter. It was the first time any interference has been made with their coming or going since the strike against Ford began. (AP Wirephoto)

Prosecutor Accused Of Vengeance

PORT ORCHARD, Wash. (AP)—Dr. Robert L. Boehme, 41, charged with trying to poison his wife, accused the prosecuting attorney Monday of seeking personal vengeance.

In a statement issued through his attorney, the physician said Prosecutor Gordon L. Walgren was trying to exact retribution because he thought L. prevented his marriage to Mary Boehme.

Mary Boehme, 38, a nurse, is a former sister-in-law of Dr. Boehme. She is free on $30,000 bond as a material witness.

Advised of Dr. Boehme's statement, Walgren said "I have no comment other than that the evidence presented has convinced me there has been a crime."

Walgren, 28, has acknowledged that he and Mary Boehme obtained a marriage license at Tacoma June 22. He said he dated the nurse as part of his investigation and learned that she and Dr. Boehme had made trips as husband and wife.

Dr. Boehme's wife, Dorothy, 34, joined in issuing the statement, which called Walgren's charges "fantastic."

The doctor's arraignment on a charge of assault with intent to kill was postponed Monday until Oct. 23.

His wife, a diabetic, has been under treatment for "hypertension" and inflammation of the liver. She left the hospital Monday and went home to the doctor and their two young sons.

The physician was arrested Saturday on a complaint charging that he administered poison to his wife Sept. 20 while pretending to take a blood sample.

31 More Districts In South Integrate

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A survey of 17 Southern and border states showed today that 31 more school districts were desegregated this fall.

Southern School News, which maintains a special correspondence in all the states, said 292 Negroes enrolled in the previously white schools 31 districts. Three Deep South states—Alabama, Mississippi and South Carolina—maintained their segregated policies.

Among those admitting Negroes for the first time were Dallas, Atlanta, and Memphis. Dallas admitted 16 Negroes, Memphis 13 and Atlanta 9.

"And Saul lifted up his voice and wept. He said to David, 'You are more righteous than I. For you have repaid me good, whereas I have repaid you evil.'"

As one reads this story from the lives of Saul and David, the scripture in Romans 12 comes to mind: "Vengeance is mine. I will repay," says the Lord. No, if your enemy is hungry, feed him; if he is thirsty, give him to drink; for by so doing you will heap burning coals upon his head. Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good."

One wonders how long it will take this world to learn that it is not more righteous than I. Love that runs the universe and not hate. Maybe it would begin to learn this lesson if only YOU would put it into practice.

Defense Challenges Judge's Statement

BIG SPRING (AP)—The defense in the John Edward Myers murder trial demanded today that Judge Ralph Caton withdraw a statement that the case is "not ordinary."

Warren Burnett, a defense lawyer, said that if the judge did not withdraw the remark to prospective jurors that a mistrial should be declared—meaning the trial would be started again.

Burnett said the judge's statement damaged his client's interests.

Burnett claimed the judge referred to the case as "not an ordinary one" when he addressed prospective jurors.

Burnett did not rule on the motion at once.

Myers is charged with slaying a hitchhiker. Lawyers still sought to obtain a jury.

Myers, 32, of Chicago, is being tried for the shooting death of Arthur L. Dekraai, 35, of Ottumwa, Iowa. Dekraai is one of the four persons Myers and his 17-year-old girl friend, Donna Marie Stone of Chicago, are accused of killing in a crime spree that started in Illinois and ended in Texas last September.

Several defense motions, including one for continuance, were overruled Monday. A panel of 200 veniremen is being questioned. The pair was arrested in Midland, west of here, for driving a stolen car. They led officers to the body of Dekraai.

Police say the two also killed George Ballard, 47, of near Belleville, Ill., his daughter, Carole, 11, and Miss Margaret Wernicker, 29, a St. Louis department store worker.

The girl is being held in jail here. She has been indicted for murder in Illinois.

The three units have 65 F104 jet fighters, bringing to more than 300 the number of fighter planes and accompanying personnel—called by the Air Force, Eighteen Air Guard and Air Reserve units were alerted Oct. 1.

Progress Is Slow On U. N. Post Deadlock

By TOM HOGG

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States intensified negotiations with the Soviet Union today on an interim secretary-general for the United Nations after Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson reported "some progress" toward breaking the deadlock.

Stevenson conferred for an hour and 40 minutes Monday with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and told reporters he was "very hopeful some decision can be reached."

He made some progress with respect to the problem of the secretary-general, Stevenson said.

Stevenson was scheduled to see Soviet delegate Valerian A. Zorin this afternoon in what American sources described as a continuing series of talks on the problem of a successor for the late Dag Hammarskjold.

The United States and the Soviet Union are reported to agree on Ambassador U. Thant of Burma as an interim successor, but they differ on how he should function in that office.

The Soviet Union has insisted on an evenly matched group of Western-Communist and neutralist deputies with whom the secretary-general would have to consult before making any decisions.

The United States contends there should be no check on the secretary-general's authority.

U. Thant is reluctant to accept the post unless the Soviet Union and the Western powers agree on his powers.

In the assembly, Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa in a policy speech this afternoon was expected to make a slashing new attack on the United States, charging the Washington government is training a new invasion force to attack Fidel Castro's regime and is trying to torpedo Cuba's relations with other nations as an invasion preliminary.

Elsewhere in the United Nations, Soviet delegate Alexei A. Roshchin assailed the location of U.N. headquarters in New York and suggested it be transferred to Vienna, Berlin or Geneva.

In the assembly police debate, Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir challenged the Arab nations to join in a regional disarmament plan she said could serve as a pilot project for solution of the East-West arms deadlock.

Junior Editors Quiz on ANIMALS

QUESTION: When porcupines lose their quills how do they keep safe from their enemies?

ANSWER: Our funny, stupid-looking little friend the porcupine, as a most unusual way of protecting himself, the larger creatures try to eat him they find out at once that his body is covered with many specialized sharp pointed hairs, each one of which has tiny barbs very much like the barbs of a fish hook. It is not true that the porcupine shoots or throws his quills at a person or animal which attacks him. What happens is that if he has a good sized tail, also covered with quills, and he will flip this at any attacker. The quills are fastened to his tail just enough so they won't fall out, but if they hit an animal they remain in its skin. They are very painful and extremely difficult to get out. A dog, wild animal, or man who has been stuck with these quills is going to give Mr. Porcupine a wide berth from then on. The porcupine doesn't worry about losing quills because he has a whole lot more ready for the next attacker. Altogether he is said to have some 30,000 of these.

FOR YOU TO DO: Get an animal book and read more about Mr. Porcupine.

Ambassador's Successor Not Chosen

WASHINGTON (AP)—No successor to Ray Robottom Jr., as ambassador to Argentina has been chosen yet, an informed source says.

Robottom, appointed by former President Eisenhower, resigned the ambassadorial post Monday. Plans of the Kennedy administration to replace him had been rumored for some time.

An official announcement said Robottom will become a State Department administrative assistant. He will be assigned to the State War College at Newport, R.I. Date of the resignation accepted by President Kennedy has not been determined.

Robottom earlier was assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs.

Rumors were that in addition to Robottom's having been appointed by Eisenhower, the Kennedy administration wished to make a change in Argentina for other reasons.

For some time, a clique in the Argentine foreign ministry reportedly was sharp-shooting at Robottom.

Then there is a feeling that at least some Argentine officials have not been given a proper understanding of Washington's attitude toward Fidel Castro's Cuba.

There had been occasional suggestions from Buenos Aires, suggesting that the United States toward the Castro regime.

1. There should be mediation of the Cuba-U.S. problem with Argentina serving as the umpire.

2. There might be a softer attitude by the United States toward the Castro regime.

Irrated officials of the Kennedy administration said pointedly the Cuban problem is for the hemisphere, not that there is no way to negotiate with Communism in the Western Hemisphere.

Houston Negro Is New U. S. Attorney

HOUSTON (AP)—Carl Walker Jr., a Houston Negro, is a new assistant U. S. attorney in Texas Southern District. Walker, appointed by U. S. Atty. Woodrow S. Monday, is the first Negro to hold a prosecutive office in the district.

A native of Martin, Walker got his law degree from Texas Southern University here.

"I think it's a fine thing that we can hire this man," Seals said. "I remember when I was growing up in the district, you could not hire a Negro for a job like this."

Engineers are working on the utilization of heat from the fixtures in the heating installations for buildings. Another solution proposed is dissipation of the heat from lighting fixtures and cooling towers.

The second problem, facing the industry is one of salesmanship. Although making big sales gains in recent years, manufacturers and installers contend that many factories and offices are still well below the standards set by most of the newer buildings.

One maker of commercial and industrial lighting equipment, Day-Brite Lighting Inc., St. Louis, Mo., says many of the older fixtures introduced in the late 1930s, caught on rapidly in plants and offices in the years immediately after World War II. The society says this fixture helped create awareness of the usefulness of good lighting in work areas.

Second, the spurt in construction of office buildings and plants that started in the late 1940s opened wide markets to the lighting industry.

All this gladdens the makers of fixtures and the utilities that furnish the juice for them. But there are some major problems, too.

For one, as more light is being created so is more heat. The increased heat from the extra light systems, as architects and engineers will tell you.

RAY GRIMMETT

Grimmett Back In Uniform For Bengals

Ray Grimmer, a 5'9 1/2" senior letterman end weighing 160 pounds, is a Tiger who has been watching the action from the sidelines through the early season due to a broken ankle, but is once again back in playing shape and will take the field Friday when the Snyder eleven plays host to the Leveaux Lobos.

Grimmett got back in the "thick of things" the past week against Breckenridge, where he was utilized during the narrow 18-26 loss to the Bucks.

He is a native Snyderite, having been born and reared here. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Grimmer of 201 Thirtieth Street, he enjoys hunting in addition to competitive sports. His dad is self-employed.

Upon graduation from Snyder High, he plans to enter Texas Tech.

SWC Flick On Tap For QB Members

The Snyder Quarterback Club will hold its regular meeting this evening at 7:30 in the high school cafeteria.

Wrap-ups on the past week's state of games will be presented by all local coaches whose teams saw action, and a scouting report on the Leveaux Lobos will also be given. The Lobos, Snyder's opponent of Friday, represent the final non-district foe that the Tigers will face this season.

Also on the agenda is to be a reeling of the Snyder-Breckenridge game of the Friday past, in which the Buckaroos eked out a 26-18 victory over the Tiger eleven. As an "added attraction" of the evening, it has been announced that the color filming of Humble Oil's "Southwest Conference Highlights of 1960" will also be shown to club members.

Included in that film are the high points of the past season involving conference members.

Bud Ired At 'Kindergarten Coverage'

HOUSTON (AP)—The owner of the Houston Oilers thinks the American Broadcasting Co. is doing a poor job of televising American Football League games.

"As one of the three largest television firms in the country, ABC's better start handling AFL games like big time football instead of kindergarten stuff," K. S. "Bud" Adams said.

The oil millionaire said Monday he was upset because of what he termed mistakes made by announcers in the Oilers' San Diego game.

Yankee Waltz Gives Boost In Prestige To Champions

By JERRY LISK A Associated Press Sports Writer CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—The incredible New York Yankees with only two RBIs from their tabular M&M flailers, today had revived sagging American League prestige with an almost effortless five-game world series decision over the stunned Cincinnati Reds. True Roger Maris, the new Babe Ruth, hit a game-winning homer in Saturday's third game, but Maris and the ailing Mickey Mantle otherwise let their less-publicized but highly talented Yankees mates go about routing the Reds, four games to one.

In Monday's 13-5 clincher in sun-bathed Crosley Field, John Blackard, Hector Lopez, Bill Skowron and Cleo Boyer cannonaded the Reds into submission. In this series, which had combined a two-year domination by National League champions—Los Angeles in 1959 and Pittsburgh in 1960—the Yankees won three in a row after Cincinnati's only victory tied the series 1-1 last Thursday. Many baseball buffs regarded the Reds as a lucky array of castoffs who caught lightning in a bottle by winning the National League pennant after finishing sixth in 1960. They also thought the Reds had a fighting chance in the series after the Maris-Mantle duo, which had combined for 115 homers and 270 RBIs almost failed out of the picture. Maris in a slump and Mantle with a painfully infected right hip.

But Cincinnati's big guns never boomed—until a futile salvo in Monday's anticlimax. The Yankees and the superbly balanced Yankees won their 19th World Series, handing out the worst series thumping since 1954 when the New York Giants routed the Cleveland Indians 4-1 straight.

This turned out to be a series of unusual individual performances by the poised and timely hitting Yankees. Personable Ralph Houk became only the third manager to win a series title in his freshman year. The other two were by Bucky (Boy Wonder) Harris of Washington in 1924, and Eddie Dyer of the St. Louis Cardinals in 1946.

The Yankee RBI leader in the series was utility man Hector Lopez, a 220 regular season hitter, who drove across seven runs with three hits—including a triple and homer Monday—in 10 at-bats. Another utility man, rugged John Blanchard, finished fast as Mantle's aching hip limited him.

Bullet Billy May Warm Oiler Bench

HOUSTON (AP)—Billy Cannon, the powerful Heisman trophy winner from Louisiana State, may move to the bench this week as the Houston Oilers try to improve a miserable 13 record in the American Football League.

Cannon isn't blocking or running. Rymkus said Monday night. "If he's on the bench it will be a combination of things. I'll have to talk it over with my staff, and with Billy, before I decide."

Rymkus said Rich Michael, an all-league tackle is definitely going to be benched for Friday night's game with Boston. He said Rob Kelly, a rookie will take Michael's place and said Mike Dukes, Charley Mstead and Mark Johnston may ride the bench.

The kids just aren't blocking," he said. "They know all the defenses. Buffalo was in. We didn't see any defense we hadn't worked on. The Bills beat Houston 24-12, on the Oilers' home ground Sunday.

"Our offense didn't have the execution and we weren't hitting people," Rymkus said. Cannon carried the ball eight times Sunday for 19 yards. If he is benched Friday, Dave Smith will replace him at left halfback, the coach said.

Cannon's career was interrupted early in his first pro season last year because of a slow start, but he came back to be one of the most impressive backs in the league in late season. He looked good in Houston's first game this season, and is popular with fans.

In the 1943 Belmont Stakes Count Fleet at 1 to 20, drew only two rivals. He won by 2 1/2 lengths.

Bears Taken 'Seriously'

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The Arkansas Razorbacks aren't underestimating the Baylor Bears in the Southwest Conference football race.

Coach Frank Broyles put the Razorbacks through a brisk workout Monday and then warned them: "about the bears."

"This is the third year of that pro offense down there and it makes some pro teams envious," he said. "They got 24 first downs on us as freshmen, 25 as sophomores, and now they're all seniors."

Meanwhile the "hardnose Bears" worked in a pouring down rain with special emphasis on their running back, passing game against teammates living Arkansas defenses.

"We had to work hard today," Coach John Broyles said. "We could not afford to let the rain stop us and rob us of badly-needed workout time."

The loop's top team and No. 4 in the nation, the University of Texas, may be without the services of star wingbacker Jack Collins Saturday as it tackles Oklahoma in an interconference clash at Dallas.

Coach Darrell Royal said Collins hurt a knee in Saturday's game with Washington State and that it is doubtful he will see action. David Russell is expected to fill Collins' spot.

The Oklahoma squad had to take it easy in Monday's practice as Coach Bud Wilkinson said his players were "pretty beat up" after the "Bowl State" game.

Arkansas center Johnny Tatum and tackle Tom Cox suffered sprained ankles and it was doubtful they will get to play in the Cotton Bowl Saturday.

The Texas Christian Horned Frogs spent a gloomy two hours watching movies of their 30-3 defeat at the hands of Arkansas, then moved into a cattle barn for a workout because of rain. The quaking raining of junior halfback Billy Brown, however, raised their hopes for Saturday's game at Lubbock against Texas Tech.

Tech won't have a light drill without tackle Richard Stafford who received a leg injury in the Red Raiders' six-hour Texas A&M. However Coach J. T. King said he hoped Stafford, along with halfback Dick Polson and guard Rev Herndon, would be ready for action against TCU.

Southern Methodist is idle this weekend while Texas A&M and Rice take on outside foes. The Aggies meet independent Trinity University and Rice plays undefeated Florida.

Farm Bureau Sets Session Thursday

The annual convention of the Snyder County Farm Bureau will be held Thursday at 1:30 p.m. at the District Court Room in Snyder, according to C. H. Stahl, president.

The farm leader said this will be the most important meeting of the entire year for the local organization. Resolutions, incorporating the thinking of the membership on local, state, and national issues will be passed. Those dealing with local matters become the policies of the county Farm Bureau to guide it during the coming year. Resolutions dealing with state and national issues will be forwarded as recommendations to the voting delegates of the state convention to be held Nov. 12-13 in Galveston. There they will be acted upon and either accepted, rejected or amended. Those adopted become state Farm Bureau policies for 1962 (on state matters) and recommendations (on national issues) to the voting delegates of the American Farm Bureau Federation convention to be held in December in Chicago.

Only members of the Farm Bureau can participate in the organization's policy-making process which begins with the local county convention and culminates in the annual convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation. More than 1,600,000 farm families have an opportunity to have a voice in the formulation of the national Farm Bureau policies which are developed democratically through the series of conventions. Three out of every four organized farmers belong to Farm Bureau.

After the local county FB forms its recommendations on state and national issues, it sends voting delegates along with other county Farm Bureaus to the state convention. Each county's voting strength is based on its membership. These representatives of county Farm Bureaus approve the state policies for 1962 and the recommendations to the national convention. The Texas Farm Bureau, in turn, sends delegates to attend the meeting and participate in the discussion and voting.

Mayor Candidates Slate TV Debate

By ARTHUR EVERETT
NEW YORK AP:—The two major party candidates for mayor borrow a page from last year's presidential election for a television debate tonight.

Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner and his Republican opponent, State Atty Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz, go before the cameras at WPIX, the New York Daily News television station.

Each candidate will be asked seven questions by New York City reporters. They will have two minutes to reply to each. Then the candidates will be given one minute of rebuttal on each question.

Wagner, 51, and seeking a third $40,000 a year term in City Hall, won the Democratic nomination Sept. 7 as an insurgent, beating by nearly 2-1 the regular party candidate, State Comptroller Arthur Levitt. In the process, Wagner ended the reign of Carmine DeSapio as head of Tammany Hall.

The mayor has based his campaign for reelection at the Nov. 7 election on charges that the city has been "unsuccessfully short-changed" by the Republican state administration of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in funds for education, crime prevention and housing.

Also, Wagner has continued to sound his primary battle cry against political bosses in both ranks.

Lefkowitz, 57, had no opposition in the primary for the Republican mayoralty nomination. He was second choice of the Rockefeller forces, who originally tried to get Sen. Jacob K. Javits to run.

The attorney general has seized on the long-standing contention of Wagner's political enemies that the mayor is long on promises and weak in performance. Lefkowitz has hammered at Wagner's civil rights record, school construction program, slums and housing.

The national policies are adopted. Texas, the fourth largest state Farm Bureau, has one of the largest voting blocs at the national convention.

Many important issues are confronting farm people now, and it is important for farmers to express themselves on these issues in a manner that will enable them to be heard, the county FB president said. He urged all members to attend the meeting and participate in the discussion and voting.

pital services. The GOP candidate also has pledged to put able-bodied men on relief to work, and to purge chiselers from the welfare rolls.

Lefkowitz also sought to make political capital of a Sept. 17 fund-raising dinner at which real estate interests pledged $25,000 towards Wagner's campaign. When it was brought out that many of the contributors do business with the city, Wagner said the pledges would be returned.

The city Board of Ethics said the code of ethics was not violated by the luncheon pledges, although it called them "offensive to proper ethical standards."

Wagner, meanwhile, issued a statement of his own in which he said the State Republican Committee had sold $143,000 in advertising in a Republican journal to firms doing business with the state. He said he had reason to believe the money had gone to Lefkowitz's campaign.

Lefkowitz, said the statement, the charge of a "badly frightened and desperately frantic" man and said the firms had placed "inmate advertisements"—not made campaign contributions.

Lefkowitz is seeking to become the first Republican party candidate elected mayor since the Civil War. To this end he has enlisted the aid of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who came to New York last month to campaign for Lefkowitz.

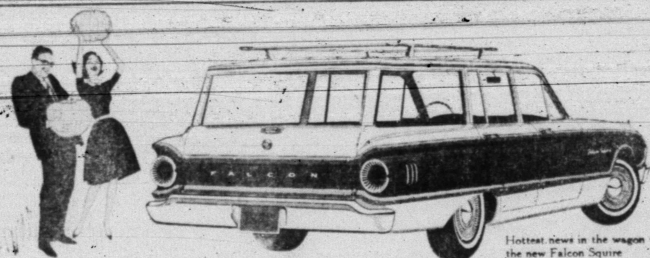

Rockefeller also is backing Lefkowitz on the theory that a GOP victory Nov. 7 in the city would enhance his chances for reelection in 1962. The governor is considered to have his eye on the Republican presidential nomination, possibly in 1964.

Another candidate for mayor is City Comptroller Lawrence E. Gerosa, a Democrat running on an independent ticket. He was sumped by the mayor when the latter was drafting his ticket before the primary.

Gerosa has based his campaign chiefly on the issue of economy in government. He said recently that he can cut city spending by $75 million in a single year without reducing public service.

A fourth candidate on the mayoralty ballot is Vito Battista, a conservative running under the banner of his own United Taxpayers Party. He has concentrated most of his fire on Lefkowitz, whom he originally threatened to oppose in the Republican primary.

Park Offered To County

A delegation of members of the Snyder chapters of the VFW and American Legion met with the Scurry County Commissioner's court at their regular meeting Monday afternoon. C. L. Robinson and Hilton Lambert, respective commanders of the groups, acted as spokesmen. The clubs were offering the properties at their Wolfe Park to the county to be used as a county park. Included is all of the property, some 31 and one third acres, the club building, the old youth center, ball park and tennis courts.

The spokesmen had not placed a firm value on the property, but did state that the cost of the club house had been $62,000, the caretaker's house, $3,500, the Boy Scout hut $1,000, and lights at the softball field, $1,400. In all, improvements were estimated at $90,000. A figure of $4,000 an acre was suggested as a starting point for negotiations.

In an informal discussion the consensus of the members of the court was that an increase in the county's park financial expense was not feasible at this time. However, more discussions will be held, and a formal answer will be given at a later date.

The present county budget calls for a park expenditure of $86,950 for the coming year. Actual expense in 1960 was $111,350.45, which included some $32,000 in construction costs. Estimated expense for 1961 is $100,960.60, of which some $10,000 will be construction expense.

In other action the commissioner's court approved the final order from the Tax Equalization Board. Total oil and industrial properties of the county are valued at $109,650,503. The total assessed value of the county including residential and non-commercial property is now slightly less than 117 million.

The court also approved the appropriations for the coming year for the County Agricultural Agent and the County Home Demonstration agent. Salary scales will remain the same as last year. The court also voted to advertise for bids for a new truck for Precinct 4.

Several Companies Cut Crude Prices

HOUSTON (AP)—Several oil companies made cuts in crude oil prices to start the week, the Houston Post said.

The Post said the heaviest blow came with cuts by the Pure Oil Co. in four areas between South Louisiana and the Rocky Mountains.

Pure said it slashed its posted price on nearly 55,000 barrels of daily production, effective at 7 a.m. Monday.

The cut drops prices 10 to 15 cents a barrel in the Denver-Julesburg basin of Colorado, Nebraska and Wyoming; the Van Field in East Texas; and in the Creole and Sweet Lake fields of South Louisiana.

The Post in today's editions said Houston marketers called the cut by Pure "a whopper that could start an industry-wide break in crude prices."

Several other companies made smaller price reductions.

Pure dropped its price in the Rocky Mountain area 15 cents a barrel to $2.75 for 40-44.9 gravity crude with a sliding scale for higher or lower gravity crude. The paper said, on Pure's daily purchase of about 40,000 barrels in the basin.

The company lowered its flat price in East Texas 15 cents from $2.93 a barrel to $2.78. The company buys about 12,600 barrels a day from that area.

Rayburn's Life Is Story Of Farm Boy's Dream Come True

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP)—The political saga of Sam Rayburn nears its tragic end today.

The end isn't likely to find the hero of the Sam Rayburn story proudly and authoritatively wielding the gavel of the highest office he ever sought. Instead, physicians have decreed for "Mr. Democrat" a less majestic fate, out a victim of cancer.

But if the end comes soon—as doctors say it must—it will find Sam Rayburn still officially holding the title of speaker of the United States House of Representatives. The House is in recess. It won't meet again until Jan. 10.

The story of Sam Rayburn is the story of a lonely little boy helping grub a living out of Texas cottonland and dreaming of a future in politics.

It is the story of a dream come true in the face of adversity and obstacles which would have discouraged a less determined man.

Sam Rayburn wasn't born to be speaker of the House. He got there on his own.

He was born to be a farmer and at farming he spent his early life, first in his native Tennessee and then in Texas, which his father adopted as a permanent home for the Rayburn family of 11 children.

As a boy, Sam Rayburn's life was one of toil and monotony.

"When I was a boy," he once said, "I would sit on a fence on Sundays and wish that somebody would ride by on a horse—just anything to relieve the monotony."

He surprised almost everyone by seeking election to the Texas House of Representatives at the politically tender age of 24.

He won, and became, at the age of 29, the youngest speaker in the history of the Texas Legislature. In 1912, at the age of 30, Rayburn achieved a burning ambition—election to the U.S. House of Representatives. He has been there ever since.

He rose to the chairmanship of the Interstate and Foreign Commerce committee and to the floor leadership of his party. Then in 1940, when the speaker'ship was vacated by the death of William Bankhead of Alabama, he won the job.

Except for four interrupted years when Republicans were in control, Rayburn has held it ever since. His tenure as speaker set a record.

If Rayburn ever aspired to higher public office, he never disclosed his aspirations. He loved the House.

He brought to the speaker'ship a mixture of the stern guidance and loving care which he said his parents gave to him. Between the two courses, he sought compromise.

Rayburn left no doubt about who was boss of the House when he held the gavel.

He believed that "if you have control over a split record, you are in serious trouble."

He never lost control. When gavel-tapping failed to produce results, gavel-banging did. Rayburn broke more gavels than did any of his predecessors.

President's addressed him as "Mr. Speaker." Without his help, they were in trouble on Capitol Hill and most of the eight under whom he served knew it. He did not hesitate to "tell them off" in plain English.

Rayburn brooked no meddling in the affairs of the House. To him it is the greatest deliberative body in the world. He was jealous of its powers and prerogatives.

He respected the Senate but often gave the impression that he considered it "bush league" compared with the House.

As speaker, Rayburn was a back-room operator. When he needed votes, he went after them. By personal persuasion, cajolery or threats if necessary, he frequently snatched victory from seeming defeat.

But he never asked a colleague to vote against personal conviction. He put loyalty to conscience, country and party in that order.

He called himself a Democrat without any ifs, ands or buts.

To the chairmanship of three Democratic National Conventions, Rayburn carried the same vigor and at times seeming arbitrariness which marked his rule over the House.

Television view will long remember the acrobatic and defiant glares with which he nipped out convention uprisings. He was the boss and he left no doubt about it.

Rayburn enjoyed few things more than a good fight. He won more than he lost.

He failed to win presidential nominations for two fellow Texans, John Nance Garner in 1932 and 1940, and Lyndon B. Johnson in 1960.

He laid his personal prestige on the line last January when he championed enlargement of the House Rules Committee. He had his way by a slim edge, but whether he actually won is debatable. The Rules Committee still doesn't jump everytime the House leaders crack the whip.

On the subject of leadership, Rayburn had a homespun saying: "A man doesn't learn his job in the House until he's had his head damn near well bloodied a couple of times, but a leader may as well quit if his head is bloodied too often."

Opponents complained at times

Soviets May Have Slain U. N. Official

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate subcommittee — raising the question "Murder or suicide?" — has suggested that former U.N. official Paul Bang-Jensen may have been slain by Soviet agents.

The Senate Internal Security subcommittee, looking into the Danish diplomat's mysterious death two years ago, challenged the verdict of suicide.

"There are too many solid arguments against suicide," the subcommittee said, "too many unanswered questions, too many serious reasons for suspecting Soviet motivation and the possibility of Soviet implication."

In New York, a police spokesman said "the case is still open as far as we're concerned."

The 120-page report described the diplomat's role as secretary of the U.N. special committee investigating the 1956 Hungarian revolution, his subsequent quarrel with U.N. superiors, and finally the circumstances of his death.

"About the most that can be said on the basis of information available today," the report said, "is that it is still unclear whether it was suicide or murder."

Bang-Jensen, 50, left his home on Monday morning, Nov. 23, 1959, for his office. He was employed at that time by CARE, a charitable organization. Wednesday, Nov. 25, his body was found in a Queens park. He had been shot in the right temple with his own gun and there was a suicide note in his pocket.

There was no satisfactory explanation of what happened between Monday, when he was last seen alive, and when his body was found. Medical experts said Bang-Jensen died about 48 hours after he left his home.

The Soviets, said the report, had good reason to kidnap Bang-Jensen to pry from him what he knew about Communist infiltration in the United Nations' staff and in U.S. intelligence agencies — and how much of this knowledge he had handed on to American authorities.

Seeks Trial In Foreign Country

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Federal Judge R. E. Thomason had under advisement today a motion from Leon Bearden, charged with attempting to hijack a jet airliner Aug. 3, asking a change of venue from El Paso to a "neutral foreign country."

Bearden, 38, instructed his attorney, Robert F. Pine, to file the motion Monday. Thomason said he would make a ruling on the unusual motion at the start of the trial Monday.

Observers said the request was the first to be used in the history of U.S. jurisprudence.

Pine told the court he did not approve of the motion but his client insisted that it be filed.

Bearden and his 16-year-old son, Cody, of Coolidge, Ariz., are charged with five counts of conspiracy. The pair, according to the complaints, tried to force the crew of a Continental Airlines jet to fly the plane, crew and four passengers to Cuba.

The attempted hijacking was stopped by federal officers at the El Paso airport when the plane made a stopover.

The reasons Bearden gave for wanting the trial moved outside the United States were stated in the motion.

"On the grounds that he is an atheist and socialist who has renounced his American citizenship and couldn't obtain a fair trial in the United States."

"The defendant believes after 30 years of living among the American people that the American people are biased, prejudiced, fickle and hypocritical on a national scale."

Welch Speaks In New York

GARDEN CITY, N.Y. (AP)—Robert Welch, founder of the John Birch Society, carried his right-wing speaking campaign into the New York City metropolitan area for the first time Monday night.

Before about 1,300 persons in this Long Island commuter community, he charged communism or fellow traveling in various segments of American society.

Welch was applauded 25 times. There was no heckling during his speech for an hour and 40 minutes.

He said the Soviets are taking over the United States "rapidly and successfully by internal subversion."

He said U.S. policies have been dictated by communists or communist sympathizers since 1941. He did not mention any names in this connection.

IT'S AN ILL WIND--II--OR IS IT?

Super-Solvency And The GOP Had Seeped Into Deep South

BY INEZ ROBB

It was a bad thing for a member of the truth faith—a Democrat—to visit the Old South. There to what was once his spiritual home, he wanders lonely as a cloud.

True I was born in California and I grew up in Idaho. But all four of my grandparents stemmed from the Deep South, including the one from South Ireland. We were both Democrats, all right—those antecedents, with the exception of the grandmothers from County Kerry, came to Virginia in the 17th Century.

Uncle Charlie, who married into the family, was the only Republican. We treasured him as a beloved, rare avia that proved out broad-minded tolerance for all mankind.

But in those childish days, up to my scuppern in stories of the post-war poverty of the Old South, I longed to go below the Mason-Dixon line to rescue the old plantation and commune with my political brethren.

But such is the change in the South since I sat at my Grandmother Callaway's knee that, a Democrat feels lost and disinherited. Now that my sister lives in more frequently, and if we want to have a good political talk we have to confer with each other.

For the truth is that the South is as rich as a gourmet's feast, and getting richer by the minute. It is today a land of milk and honey. On my recent trip there I noted that the ladies are on intimate terms with the House of Dior. The white Cadillac convertible, often with blonde to match, commands the highways.

As super-solvency has seeped into the South, so have the doctrines of the Grand Old Party. In any social gathering the guests are thinking and taking Republican. It isn't quite respectable for members of any good old Southern family actually to register Republican. Registration is still in the Democratic column. But see, then the heart ignores what the hand does.

Crude Flow In Decline

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Domestic oil production dropped by 78,000 barrels per day last week, with the greatest decreases in Texas and Oklahoma, the Oil and Gas Journal reported today.

The Journal said the nation's crude oil production for the week ended Saturday averaged 7,119,060 barrels a day, compared with 7,197,150 per day the previous week.

Texas output was down 83,400 barrels a day to 2,367,960. The Journal said Oklahoma dropped 30,700 barrels a day to 494,800 and Illinois fell 2,900 barrels per day to 215,500.

Louisiana had the biggest production gain, 22,100 barrels to 1,168,125. Other gainers included New Mexico, up 7,900 to 315,900. Total U.S. production for the year through Saturday was 2,913,083,600 barrels compared with 2,972,272,800 for the same period last year.

On the other hand, Southern businessmen do seem more relaxed. They have more time for golf, hunting and fishing. In private homes the delicious food for which the South is famous is still plentiful. Only the girls and grays, the turnip greens and the home-cured ham are served on silver platters.

Diplomat Is Tired Of Hearing This

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks a junior diplomat gets tired of hearing.

Ronald, there isn't time to send your striped pants to the cleaner. You'll have to iron them again yourself.

"I hear the State Department is going to cut our embassy's liquor allowance again."

"Why not let Ronald speak for our delegation today? He's got such a bad case of laryngitis the other side won't be able to tell what he's saying anyway."

"We have to keep him. His father was a big contributor in the last election."

"I understand you've become a diplomat, Ronald. That's wonderful. What else do you do?"

"Why not send him to Britain? He flunked college English, so he couldn't do us any harm there. They won't be able to understand him."

"Some department stars last an ideal floorwalker when Ronald decided to become a diplomat."

"This is a rush mission, Ronald, so don't mess it up. The ambassador came in with a hangover, and I want you to bring down to the kitchen and bring back a container of black coffee."

"He never learns. I've told him time and time again he'll never get ahead if he can't remember not to wear his Homburg like it was a baseball cap."

"If we had two more like him, they'd make a great team for us to send to Russia—and enter in a trioka race."

"Congressman Bellow is coming over here for a first-hand study of foreign economic problems. Ronald, so I want you to be sure he sees only the best night clubs. I'm afraid you'll have to pick up the tab yourself, as we have exhausted the embassy's entertainment allowance for this month."

"He looks so lonely carrying around that big new empty briefcase. Can't we give him some diagrams of the Empire State Building to put in it? That might build up his self-confidence."

"I hear the Russians are planning to bring a mind reader to our next meeting. You not really mix the guy up by letting Ronald act as our spokesman?"

"Wake up, Ronald, the conference is over."

"I've had a real stroke of genius, chief. Why not promote him three grades and send him back to Washington as a consultant?"

Effort Seen To Unseat Fulbright

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — A king-sized effort apparently is going to be made by conservatives to unseat Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., in next year's Arkansas senatorial primary.

Fulbright, who heads the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, took notice of this Monday when he announced in Little Rock that he will be a candidate for re-election "unless it is obvious the people of Arkansas no longer want me to represent them."

Fulbright added that he was aware of some dissatisfaction among state voters because of his involvement with foreign affairs. Because he is outspoken in his views, Fulbright has raised some State Department eyebrows with recent comments. His statement in London last week that the West bears heavy responsibilities for the situation in Berlin disturbed Kennedy administration leaders.

Back in this country, Fulbright called an "airline" news conference to say that his remarks were directed at the "dilatory tactics" employed by Western leaders in 1944 and 1945 and not at current talks about Berlin.

This may have left the Arkansas senator in a sort of hair-shirt classification, so far as the administration is concerned. But few politicians thought it disturbed the Arkansas voters materially.

Much more important from a state standpoint, perhaps, may have been Fulbright's memorandum to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara in which the senator complained about military sponsorship of public forums which featured "extremist speeches" about alleged Communist infiltration in schools, churches and government.

In the storm over the alleged muzzling of military leaders, Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., has won an inquiry by a special Armed Services subcommittee into the situation.

Rep. Dale Alford, D-Ark., who has aligned himself with several conservative groups, has given every sign that he intends to contest Fulbright for the nomination. In the background is Gov. Orval Faubus who might decide to go after the senatorial nomination.

Tower Cites Cuba Buildup

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., says Cuba is building up an atomic supply and Premier Fidel Castro is buying up Latin American newspapers, radio and television stations.

"We are about to have the hemisphere pulled out from under us if we're not careful," the Texan told the American Bakers Association.

Tower called Cuba "the staging ground for the communist infiltration and subversion, and perhaps invasion of Latin America."

The United States must do what is necessary to preserve the integrity of the Monroe Doctrine, Tower said.

"It is still an essential part of American foreign policy in my estimation. 'If it is not, it certainly should be'."

If punitive action against the communists is needed in this hemisphere, he said, it should be taken even if there is some backwash of world opinion.

"I do not think that we can afford to allow our foreign policy to be dictated by some nebulous thing called 'world opinion,'" he said.

"Certainly we must create a favorable image, but at the same time we must act to defend our civilization."

Irish Ready Troops For Congo Service

LONDON (AP)—The Irish Republic is readying a new battalion of troops for service in the Congo with U.N. forces. It will relieve the 1st Infantry

Group and the 35th Battalion, which figured in the recent bitter fighting at Elizabethville and Jadotville, Katanga.

Informants said the new battalion would include a number of troops who have already done Congo service and volunteered for a new tour of duty.

Sadlers Granted Hearing On Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Internal Revenue Service claim that Texas Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler and his wife owe the government $125,253 probably will be heard by a U.S. tax court judge next year in Dallas.

The IRS on July 5 issued an order declaring the Sadlers owed a total of $89,147 in income taxes for 1954 through 1957, plus penalties of $36,111.

A petition filed Sept. 29 with the tax court on behalf of the Sadlers challenges the IRS position and asks the court to schedule the case for hearing in Dallas.

A court spokesman said the request likely would be granted, but that it may be five or six months before the case is placed on the docket and possibly that much longer before it is called up.

The petition alleges 10 errors by the IRS in its computation of the claim against the Sadlers.

Sadler is described in the petition as an "attorney by profession but is heavily engaged in numerous type ventures which classify him as a promoter, financier and/or manager. The ventures in which he is engaged include oil and gas drilling and operations, cotton farming, cattle raising, oil refining, mining, real estate and others."

The commission alleges the largest tax deficiency in the years involved is $72,222 in 1956. The petition filed on behalf of the Sadlers contends that the taxes due, arising out of a large suit he had handled, actually were paid in 1957 and that the government was trying to collect twice.

The July 5 IRS statement addressed to Sadler said:

"It is determined that the attorney fees of $250,000 received by you in 1956 as compensation for your services in the Edward M. Milliken and Gertrude M. Parker suit are includable in your taxable income for the year 1956."

"Since you reported only $150,000 of these fees your taxable income is accordingly increased by the amount of $100,000 representing the difference."

"It is determined that you are entitled to $36,790 attorney fees and accounting services for the year 1956 in connection with the Edward M. Milliken and Gertrude M. Parker suit that was not claimed on your 1956 return, and your income has been decreased accordingly."

"Your taxable income is therefore increased in the amount of $104,000."

The petition also alleges the IRS erred in determining that a $19,357 loss by the Sadlers resulting from endorsement of a note was a non-business bad debt and therefore a short-term capital loss rather than an ordinary business deduction.

The Sadlers contended the $19,357 loss should have been allowed as a business deduction on their 1954 return.

No Tax Is Due On Uncollectable Debts

AUSTIN (AP)—The state comptroller says that a merchant does not have to collect or pay the state sales tax on uncollectable debts.

Comptroller Robert S. Calvert said a merchant may take a deduction on items for which he cannot collect if the tax has been paid in advance.

Calvert also ruled that the sales tax does not apply to transportation on delivery charges when delivery takes place after the sale and when the charges are listed separately from the sales price.

In a third ruling, Calvert said that packaging and wrapping materials are not subject to the sales tax so long as they are used to further the sale of an article.
