MINE OWNERS THREATEN SHERIFF WITH COIL OF ROPE

Officer Is Taken to Headquarters of The Operatives and Forced to Sign a Resignation of His Office

OFFICERS DEPOSED AND LOCKED UP

The Bull Pen for Those Who Refuse to Do the Bidding of the Mine Owners. Rioting Was Started Because Secretary of the Association in a Public Speech Told People to Run Out the Union Men=Peace Now But Trouble is Hourly Expected=Military and Vigilance Committee on Guard

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., June 7.—A posse of 300 deputy sheriffs, armed with rifles and revolvers, is now scouring the hills of the Cripple Creek district, the object being to round up every union man and idler in the camp. They will be escorted to the county lines and warned never again to return to Teller county. The union men are also well armed and say they will resist any attempt at deportation. Many of them are desperate.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., June 7.—After a night of terror, comparative peace prevails today throughout the gold camp, but conditions are still unsettled and nobody believes the trouble is yet ended.

Thirteen deaths are reported from the dynamite outrage at Independence, several injured are in critical condition and two men were killed and eight wounded in subsequent rioting in Victor. The following is a list of the dead:

ROXEY McGEE.
JOHN DAVIS.
The wounded:
J. A. Reed.
Joe Findlay.
Fire Chief Murphy.
Peter Christman.
Fred Studebauch.
Peter Calderwood.
Arthur Parker.
James McKelvel.

A thoroughly organized vigilance committee has taken charge of the government of Teller county and large squads of armed men are patrolling the district. These men are ostensibly acting under orders of Edward Bell, the new sheriff, who is a large property owner and an outspoken opponent of the miners' union. Sheriff Roberson resigned under compulsion. He was forcibly taken to the headquarters of the Mine Owners' Association and his resignation demanded. At first he refused, but when a coil of rope was placed at his feet he weakened and signed the resignation which had been provided for him.

The first act of Sheriff Bell was to take the star from Under-Sheriff Burton. Then he appointed twenty-five deputies, to which force large additions have since been made. He demanded the resignation of union officers who had been appointed by City Marshal O'Connell of Victor. Meantime O'Connell had visited the mine owners' headquarters, in which about thirty-seven men were assembled. He demanded they surrender their arms to him. He was forcibly ejected, after being deposed from office by Mayor French and placed under arrest.

Many other regularly chosen police officers in various towns of the district have also been deposed and some of them locked up.

The sentiment of the mine owners, as voiced by C. C. Hamlin, secretary of the association, is that all union miners must be driven out of camp. His declaration is that the time has come to "purge the district." This started the rioting at a mass meeting in Victor, called to discuss the dynamite outrage at Independence.

"It's up to you to drive these scoundrels out," Hamlin had declared, whereupon Alf Miller, a union man, who had been sworn in as a deputy sheriff, raised his rifle and inquired: "Whom are you referring to?" The Miller rifle was seized and shooting began, which resulted in the killing of Roxey McGee, a non-union miner, and wounding six other persons, one of whom has since died.

During the night many arrests were made at Victor, Goldfield and Independence. Union stores at Victor and Goldfield were wrecked and the stocks scattered in the streets by a mob. This is not countenanced by Sheriff Bell and others in authority.

RIOTING WHILE HOLDING A MEETING

VICTOR, Colo., June 7.—Rioting broke out in this city yesterday afternoon while a mass meeting was being held to discuss the murder of twelve non-union miners by means of an infernal machine at Independence. Forty shots were fired into the crowd in the street.

One man was killed and six persons at least injured. The dead:

R. McGEE of Victor, shot through the heart.

The injured: William Hoskins of Goldfield, shot through the body, may die; Alfred Miller of Goldfield, shot in the body, may die; J. D. Davis, skull fractured by blow from revolver, seriously injured; Peter Fleming, shot; Fred Strudevess, engineer at Independence mine; unknown man.

Secretary Clarence C. Hamlin of the Mine Owners' Association, concluding a short address, said:

"I want to hear what the boys in the mines have got to say about this trouble."

"Let us talk."

At this the crowd began to hiss Hoskins and cried, "Put him out."

A free for all fight followed and shooting began. Most of the shots were directed skyward.

Hoskins fell with a bullet in his body and the crowd scattered in every direction.

Secretary Hamlin, who had been standing on a wagon, kept talking, unmindful of the hailstorm of bullets that whizzed about his head.

After the first excitement had somewhat cleared away the injured and dying were gathered up.

R. McGee of Victor, who was instantly killed, had been standing on an embankment thirty feet above the men who had been fighting and was an innocent spectator.

Alfred Miller and J. B. Miller were carried to the Victor hospital.

An eyewitness said of the shooting:

"I saw them carry three men away, one shot through the head and another through the arm. I think more than five were shot."

A pitched battle is looked for at any moment. There are 5,000 men on the streets and union men are arming themselves and are lining up on the corner of Fourth street and Victor avenue.

Previous to the rioting Sheriff Henry M. Robertson had been summoned to a meeting of the Mine Owners' Association in Armory Hall by a committee composed of C. C. Hamlin, secretary of the association; J. S. Murphy, manager of the Findley mine, and L. E. Hill of the Thersa. At this meeting his resignation was demanded. He yielded to the demand. Edward Bell was appointed by the county commissioners to fill out Robertson's unexpired term. Robertson was a union miner before he was elected sheriff. Bell is a member of the Citizens' Alliance.

Nearly all mines in the district had been closed by order of the Mine Owners' Association and hundreds of miners flocked into town from the surrounding hills. Fully 1,200 supporters of the association gathered about the armory, where it was meeting. At the same time 1,000 men, armed with all sorts of weapons, were assembled on the vacant ground on the corner of Victor avenue and Fourth street, in response to a call for a mass meeting. Most of these were union men, who declared their intention to resist to the death any attempt to run them out of the district. City Marshal O'Connell hurriedly swore in several hundred citizens, most of them union men, as deputies and policemen, after being refused admission to the mine owners' headquarters. After a conference with Sheriff Bell and a number of mine owners, Mayor Frank D. French removed City Marshal O'Connell, who then dismissed his deputies. Then followed the rioting, in which McGee was killed and at least six persons injured. After the rioting began Sheriff Bell ordered out all the soldiers in the district. He also appointed 100 deputies. Wholesale arrests of union men will be made, it is said.

Soldiers have already arrested a trio of editors and printers of the Daily Record and City Marshal O'Connell and put them in the bull pen. All wealthy mine owners are carrying guns.

MILITARY CALLED TO QUELL RIOTING

CRIPPLE CREEK, Col., June 7.—At 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon the two companies of the National Guard stationed in the Cripple Creek district were ordered out by Acting Governor Haggott. This force, it is believe, will be sufficient to cope with anything that may arise in the direction where the explosion occurred. In spite of these precautions, there is an ugly feeling developing. It is argued by some of the hotheads that the union miners must make a stand or be wiped out of existence. That this conclusion is warranted by the conditions is not far fetched, owing to high tension of public feeling.

Since the military occupation at Crippie Creek the union men have been reduced to a minority, and those who remain in the camp have been keeping quiet. The non-union men are all good fighters, as that was part of their contract, and it would not be surprising if the authorities had more trouble restraining the strikebreakers than to watch the unionists. The latter, after a desperate fight yesterday afternoon, surrendered in a body to the militia under Captain Naylor, and are pleading for protection against the proposed lynchers who are organizing. The new men have been tolerant of conditions, but are thoroughly aroused and are likely to prove perfect demons to control. This is the second dynamite outrage where the strangers suffered great loss of life, and in spite of the protection of the military, they are disposed to take the law into their own hands.

Contrary to all expectations, the first reports did not call for the aid of the militia in the district. It was supposed that, backed by the decision of the supreme court, the acting governor would have been quick to act. However, he decided to wait for a formal call, and as soon as he was informed of the drastic measures taken by the people of the district, he concluded that they were perfectly capable of caring for themselves.

If there are any sufferers, it will be the miners affiliated with the Western Federation of Miners, now holding its annual session in Denver. All kinds of sensational reports came to the executive ears, but he refrained from an expression of opinion until late in the afternoon, when he ordered the adjutant general to authorize the calling out of two companies at Victor and Cripple Creek.

The first surprise of the day came with the sudden forced resignation of Sheriff Robertson of Teller county, who has always been an intense union sympathizer. This was followed by the resignation of Marshal Connell of Victor and the appointment of Major Naylor to the vacancy. A round-up of union men was next in order and Naylor deputized his company of infantry to act as deputies. They proceeded without delay to clean up the district, but found that they had a double duty to perform. They were placed between two fires, as the non-union men were scouring the country for the unionists whom they blame for the cowardly explosion.

Shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday the commander of the guards at Victor was informed that there was rioting on Fourth street, near Miners' Union hall. The guards fired into the hall and the fire was returned by the Miners' Union, who were there.

Dire trouble was reported on Fourth street also. General Bell sent a squad of guards to aid the police and special deputies in quelling the disturbance. Directly after the uniformed men swung into Fourth street they were fired upon from houses on both sides of the street. They returned the fire and raced on at double quick time until they were near Miners' Union hall. At that point the mob had scattered in all directions and as the soldiers halted several shots were fired at them from the windows of the hall. The doors of the building had been open and the guardsmen rushed for cover to the side of the building. A dozen of the men forced their way to the entrance and fired into the hall as fast as they could work the mechanism of their rifles. After a few volleys the order to take the place by assault was given and they lunged in the face of half dozen shots.

THERE ARE FEARS OF ANOTHER OUTBREAK

DENVER, Colo., June 7.—While early reports today from Victor and Cripple Creek, where yesterday's strife and bloodshed ruled, indicate semi-peaceful conditions prevailed, there are fears of another outbreak, which will be general.

Throughout the night squads of citizens, reinforced by details of militia, traveled over the district, making arrests until now the bull pen is filled with 200 or more prisoners. The city marshals of Anaconda, Goldfield and Independence are among the prisoners, together with the city marshal of Victor and the sheriff of Teller county. This makes a total of five officials of gold camp towns who have been deposed since the trouble of yesterday.

SAN ANGELO, Texas, June 6.—James B. Myer arrived here Saturday with his family and a valet, coming here from Central America and had come direct here from Cape Adios, Nicaragua, where he had been assistant manager of a large company formed to open up the country. He died yesterday morning of consumption and was buried here today. He was said to be wealthy. He had come here for his health.

LIVE STOCK COMES BACK TO THIS CITY

On Account of Washouts and Flood Trains Cannot Get Through to Markets

PENS HERE CROWDED

Cattlemen Complain Because of Delay, But Railways Are Unable to Remedy It

For the past few days heavy shipments of southern market cattle have been going through Fort Worth en route to St. Louis and Kansas City. Sunday night 182 cars passed through the city on the Katy. Heavy rains north of here, however, have made passage impossible and today sixty cars of stock were returned to this city from Denison, having found further passage there impossible.

As a result of this every available pen is being used, the Katy and the Texas and Pacific pens are overcrowded and both the north side and Polk stock yard pens are in commission. The cattle will be fed and watered here and put on the road again as soon as conditions permit. Some of these cattle have been on the road sixty hours, and shippers are complaining greatly.

A railroad man said this morning that conditions were very bad, and they could not tell exactly when the road would be open to traffic. These cattle must be held here until the track around Denison is in the proper shape, he said, and just now it is not known when that will be.

TERRITORY IN BAD SHAPE

DENISON, Texas, June 6.—The flood situation in the territory is a very little improved, only one train over the Katy got through. The Katy train due here this morning is tied up at Crender City, I. T., by a washout.

Tremendous rains fell in the territory and here yesterday. Red river is bank full of water and some low land farms are under.

The Choctaw cast of Denison has overflowed and submerged farming lands.

No passenger trains over the Katy are expected today. However, the rains are believed to be over.

TERRITORY TRAIN SERVICE

A message was received by Superintendent Gaines of the railway mail service from Chief Clerk Alspaugh at Oklahoma City stating the following as the train service conditions following the recent storm:

"All mail trains except those of the Parsons and Oklahoma City railway postoffice are moving on their own tracks in this district and on fair time, although all are more or less late. I have had clerks on all trains moved in the washed district.

"The Parsons and Oklahoma City is detoured over the Santa Fe to Guthrie, thence to Fallis. The line is broken north of Osage Junction with one clerk on north and two south."

THE CAPE MAY CUP IS MISSING TROPHY

A Diligent Search Has Been Made at Windsor Castle for the Prize But Is Not Found

NEW YORK, June 7.—The case of the missing Cape May cup won by his majesty's yacht, the Brittania, promises to become famous, says a Herald dispatch from London. It is reported that diligent search for the trophy has been made at Windsor Castle, but that no trace of it can be found. A careful record is kept of all the items of furniture, silver and gold ornaments at the castle, but the only trophy there is his majesty's Ascot gold cup, which Persimmon won in 1897.

The inspector at the castle believes that such a trophy would never have been sent to Windsor at all, but would have been kept at Sandringham with his majesty's other trophies, which are very numerous, and include many yachting and racing cups and prizes won at agricultural shows.

A careful search is now to be made at Sandringham.

LOCAL OPTION IS CARRIED ONE VOTE

SAN ANGELO, Texas, June 6.—The first election on the prohibition question for Tom Green county took place Saturday in justice precinct No. 5, which comprises the little town of Christoval, and the prohibitionists are elated over their success, although the election was a very close one. Local option carried by one vote, there being twenty-five votes for and twenty-four against.

FEUD BREAKS OUT AT EAGLE LAKE

W. T. Eldredge Is Shot From Ambush With a Winchester as He Walks on the Street

EAGLE LAKE, Texas, June 7.—The Dunovant-Eldredge feud has broken out anew and the latest incident is the shooting from ambush yesterday afternoon of W. T. Eldredge, general manager of the Cane Belt Railroad.

Eldredge was walking along the street when a shot was fired from the upper story of a building opposite. A Winchester was used. The bullet passed through the front part of the right lung, entering the point of the shoulder. It came out above the heart and passing through his left hand, went through a six-inch sill of the depot platform.

No one saw the man who did the shooting, but the weapon was seen when it was fired. Ed Calhoun, a brother-in-law of Captain Dunovant, was arrested. Eldredge was under indictment for killing Dunovant.

COMMITTEE IS TO DISCUSS CAMPAIGN

A meeting of the campaign committee of the county executive committee of the democratic party will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the office of Judge W. R. Parker, Fourth and Main streets.

At this meeting details for the conduct of the coming primaries will be arranged and all the candidates and other parties interested have been invited to meet with the members of the subcommittee, Senator W. A. Hanger, A. J. Baskin and Judge Parker.

It is now definitely announced that no change in the method of nominating candidates will be made, Chairman Capps having received only five requests to have a reconsideration of the former decision by the executive committee.

HAWAII DELEGATES ARE FOR HEARST

TOUGHS AND BLACKS LEAVE ARDMORE, I.T.

Boys Start War on the Colored Race and Town Is Rid of Both Elements by an Exodus

ARDMORE, I. T., June 7.—A crowd of tough boys organized Sunday night in Medill to rid the town of negroes. Colored homes were visited, shot fired and threats made. A negro woman returned the fire wounding Charles Shepherd slightly in the arm. Negroes left the town, leaving property behind. The white boys, fearing prosecution, escaped. The town is rid of both elements.

DENTIST HERE HAS MANY TEETH

"When Teddy shows his teeth," whether in joy or anger, it is said to make something of a sensation. There is a dentist in the Fort Worth National bank building who shows his teeth—not those of man, but long necklaces of teeth of tigers, wild boars and of monkeys. Dr. Guy S. King has traveled all over South America, and wherever he went gathered teeth. His father has a rubber plantation in Peru and the young man there learned to talk and walk Spanish. He crossed the Andes into Brazil, followed up the tributaries of the Amazon and has a fund of anecdotes and reminiscences which is instructive and entertaining. All interested in South America or in teeth should call on the genial young doctor and see his collection.

CAPTAIN HOSACK HERE ON HIS WAY TO BYERS

Captain J. A. H. Hosack of Cleburne, the land auctioneer who is known all over the southwest, is in the city on his way to Byers, where he will hold a big auction sale of town lots Friday, June 10. This sale should attract the presence of both investors and homeseekers. Clay county at present offers unparalleled opportunities to both.

THE WISCONSIN U. HAS NEW PRESIDENT

Inauguration of Dr. Charles R. Van Hise Occurs With Appropriate Ceremonies Today

MADISON, Wis., June .—The event of the third day of the celebration of the semi-centennial of the University of Wisconsin was the inauguration of the university's new president, Professor Charles Richard Van Hise. The inaugural ceremonies were witnessed by scores of prominent persons, including representatives of the leading institutions of learning throughout the country.

At 9 o'clock this morning the university officials, faculty, students, alumni and official guests ,atttired in caps and gowns, assembled on the university campus and marched in academic procession to the armory, where the formal exercises of installation took place.

The services at the armory opened with prayer, after which there were addresses of welcome in honor of the visitors. After the new president had taken the oath of office congratulatory speeches were delivered by President William R. Harper of the University of Chicago, who spoke on behalf of sister university; by Governor LaFollette, who spoke for the state; by Congressman John J. Esch, representing the alumni; by William F. Vilas, on behalf of the board of regents, and by representatives of the faculty, the student body and the public schools of the state.

At the conclusion of these addresses President Van Hise delivered his inaugural address, in which he reviewed at length the fifty years' history of the University of Wisconsin, its present needs, and outlined the policy of his administration.

After luncheon the visitors were taken on a tour of inspection of the various university buildings. This evening there will be a reception in their honor given by President and Mrs. Van Hise.

Charles Richard Van Hise, who has been elevated to the presidency of the University of Wisconsin, in succession of the late Charles Kendall Adams, is an American geologist of note and likewise an educator of proved and competent executive ability. He is a native of Wisconsin, 45 years old and a classmate in the state university of Governor La Follette. Immediately upon his graduation he was made a member of the teaching staff and somewhat later was appointed to the chair of geology, a post he continued to hold up to the time of his selection for the presidency. Since 1883 Professor Van Hise has had charge of the Lake Superior division of the United States geological survey. He is the author of several monographs that have won attention abroad and at home and in addition to all these scholarly attainments he has the reputation of being one of the most popular men in the university.

LAST SERVICE OF UNION TENT MEETING

The closing evangelistic service of the series held by Dr. Charles Cullen Smith, under the joint auspices of the Broadway Presbyterian church, the Cannon Avenue Cumberland Presbyterian church and the Mulkey Memorial Methodist church was held last night in the big tent on the south side.

Those conducting the meetings are more than pleased with the successful results obtained, a total of over 200 conversions having occurred during the time. Two young ladies came forward last night at the close of the services to announce their faith.

Before delivering his closing sermon, Dr. Smith extended thanks to the ministers and Christians who had co-operated so heartily in the holding of the meeting and stated that he considered the meeting a success in every sense of the word. His closing sermon dwelt upon the life of young Christians, showing their difficulties and temptations and containing advice for their guidance.

A THOUSAND CASES PULMONARY DISEASES

NEW YORK, June 7.—Although the weekly report of the board of health shows a big drop in the death rate of this city, as compared with the earlier months of the year, it announces that pulmonary diseases have reached the highest figure on record. There are now 1,000 cases under direct care of the health department and the officials have deemed it necessary to issue to the public a card of instructions in order that the spread of lung trouble may be checked. Fresh air is, according to the authorities, the best preventative.

NEW YORK LAW ON NEW OPERA HOUSES

NEW YORK, June 7.—An ordinance regulating the construction of new theaters has been signed by Mayor McClellan. Its formulation was resultant from the Iroquois theater horror and under the new conditions erecting new play houses here will be an expensive operation. No changes are provided for theaters already in existence, but hereafter it will be practically necessary to have a fourteen-foot court at both sides and in the rear of the buildings, with a seating capacity of more than 1,800. Managers declare this requirement practically is prohibition.

RUSSIANS SEND A FLEET TO GIVE THEM BATTLE

Chinese Junk Reports Firing Near Port Arthur for Over Seven Hours

NAVAL BATTLE OCCURS

Russians Moving Mines From Roadstead, Indicating Intention to Give Battle

CHEFOO, June 7, 4 p. m.—Preceding the sea attack on Port Arthur last night the Japanese apparently made a determined effort to advance on that stronghold by land. A Chinese junk which left a point three miles south of Dalny early Monday morning has arrived here. She reports having heard firing north of Port Arthur from 7 o'clock in the morning until 2 o'clock that afternoon, by which time she passed out of hearing distance. It appears the Japanese planned a land and sea attack on Port Arthur yesterday. The Russians, on seeing this, sent the fleet to give battle. The result is not known.

IMPDESSION IS THAT A NAVAL BATTLE IS ON

CHEFOO, June 7, 3 p. m.—The impression prevails here a naval battle took place last night in the gulf of Pe Cui Li. Passengers on steamers passing Liao Tien Shan promontory at the time did not hear any firing, while reports from Teng Chow of heavy firing being heard there from 11 o'clock last night until 2 o'clock this morning. Vessels from Miao Tao islands confirm this report and so do the residents of hills in the vicinity of this city, who heard firing and saw flashes out at sea during the night.

The fact the Russians were endeavoring on June 4 to clear the roadsteads off Port Arthur of mines indicates an intention upon their part to give battle outside the harbor upon the first favorable opportunity.

The Japanese, reporting from Talien Wan, say there are persistent rumors there the battleship Yashima struck a mine off that port recently and sunk. Chinese arrivals from Talienwan are unable to confirm the story.

CONFIRMATION THAT RUSSIAN WAS SUNK

TOKIO, June 7, 1:30 p. m.—Supplementary reports from the blockading forces indicate the Russian gunboat which was sunk by a torpedo off Port Arthur Saturday was of the Gremiashchi type, instead of the Giliak class. Admiral Kataoka, commander of the third squadron, reconnoitered near San Shan Tao and Taku Kao, where they poisoned the water sources. Admiral Kataoka is investigating the charge.

COSSACKS KILLING KOREANS

SEOUL, June 7.—Reliable information has been received here from Ping Yang to the effect that Cossacks between Anju and Kai Chou are reported to be killing Korean natives and looting their homes.

A STREAM IS HELD

NAGASAKI, June 7, 11 p. m.—The Norwegian steamer Aggi, which arrived here Saturday from Cardiff with coal, was arrested today by the Japanese, but reasons for the action are not stated.

ADMIRAL TOGO IS CLEARING CHANNEL

TOKIO, June 7.—Admiral Togo succeeded in clearing the channel leading into Talienwan. He began by locating mines June 3, and since he has found and exploded forty-one. Yesterday a small steamer was able to safely enter the harbor. The work of locating other mines is now continued and it is expected the vicinity will be speedily cleared.

VLADIVOSTOK SENDS PORT ARTHUR SUPPLIES

VLADIVOSTOK, Monday, June 6.—All is quiet here. It can be stated that Port Arthur is abundantly supplied with provisions and munitions of war. The bulk of the supplies now there was sent from here before communication was cut off.

Vladivostok was not weakened by sending these supplies and there is plenty of everything remaining here except sugar. Kerosene is also scarce among the civilians, but the quantity on hand is adequate for the needs of the garrison. Trade with the interior is improving. A train of ten cars

MEDICAL EXAMINER

Of the United States Treasury Recommends Pe-ru-na.

Another Prominent Physician Uses and Endorses Pe-ru-na.

DR. LLEWELLYN JORDAN, Medical Examiner of the U. S. Treasury Department, graduate of Columbia College, and who served three years at West Point, has the following to say of Peruna:

"Allow me to express my gratitude to you for the benefit derived from your wonderful remedy. One short month has brought forth a vast change and I now consider myself a well man after months of suffering. Fellow sufferers, Peruna will cure you."

A constantly increasing number of physicians prescribe Peruna in their practice. It has proven its merits so thoroughly that even the doctors have overcome their prejudice against so-called patent medicines and recommend it to their patients.

Peruna occupies a unique position in medical science. It is the only internal systemic catarrh remedy known to the medical profession to-day. Catarrh, as everyone will admit, is the cause of one-half the diseases which afflict mankind. Catarrh and catarrhal diseases afflict one-half of the people of United States.

Dr. Llewellyn Jordan, Medical Examiner United States Treasury.

Robert R. Roberts, M. D., Washington, D. C., writes:

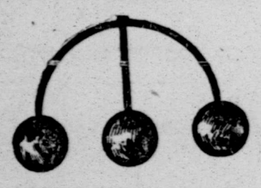

"Through my own experience as well as that of many of my friends and acquaintances who have been cured or relieved of catarrh by the use of Hartman's Peruna, I can confidently recommend it to those suffering from such disorders, and have no hesitation in prescribing it to my patients."—Robert R. Roberts.

Catarrh is a systemic disease curable only by systemic treatment. A remedy that cures catarrh must aim directly at the depressed nerve centers. This is what Peruna does.

Peruna immediately invigorates the nerve-centers which give vitality to the mucous membranes. Then catarrh disappears. Then catarrh is permanently cured.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

A TIRED FEELING SHOWS AT GAME

A score of 14 to 4 in favor of Paris was the result of yesterday's game. Fort Worth's slump in fielding was responsible rather than any special weakness at the bat.

Christman's work in the box was decidedly indifferent, but that alone would not have made the score so one-sided. "That tired feeling" was apparent on the diamond and passed to the grand stand at the end of the first inning, when Paris scooped up three hits and three runs.

Mulkey pitched a fair game and in fielding and at the bat led his team. His sprinting after foul flies was energetic and successful, and his three hits counted as run-makers.

Dunn got three hits, but none were counters. Wills, Reitz and Tullar picked off two baggers, but Tullar was the only one to travel to the plate. Reitz's tally was started with a base on balls, followed by a steal. He came in on McMurray's hit past short.

The fourth and seventh were twin Waterloos for Christman. In the fourth five hits, a base on balls and a hesitating throw to third which failed to cut off the runner produced six runs. The seventh was a collection of bases on balls, hit by pitched balls and slow or misjudged throws out of which Paris was able to cross the plate four times.

DALLAS DEFEATS DENTON

DENTON, Texas, June 7.—The locals were defeated by Dallas yesterday. The score was 4 to 1. "Home-Run" Johnson did excellent work in the box for the visitors, letting the Athletics down with one hit and one run. Dallas got one earned run, the others were given her by errors and wild throws.

Wray for the home team pitched a good game, which, had he received proper support would have won the day for the locals. The score:

BEAUMONT 5, SAN ANTONIO 1

BEAUMONT, Texas, June 7.—The locals handed out a neat defeat to the San Antonio Bronchos yesterday. Doc Jones, who was in the box for the home team, let the visitors down with only three hits and one run.

This is the first game that Jones has won this year. He has been playing in hard luck, it seems, since the season opened. Being very popular generally, every one was glad to see him win the game. The score:

GALVESTON, Texas, June 7.—The Sand Crabs turned the tables on Houston yesterday, shutting them out by a score of 4 to 0.

Gregg, in the box for the home team, was in good form and held the Lambs in subjection throughout the game. The feature was Kahpan's home run. The score:

AGED PEOPLE JOIN IN WEDLOCK ON SUNDAY LAST

Rev. W. S. May and Mrs. A. C. McDougal Were United in Marriage on Polytechnic Hill

Rev. W. S. May, a superannuated preacher of the North Texas conference, who has been making his home on Polytechnic Heights for the past year, was united in marriage with Mrs. A. C. McDougal Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. J. J. Creed of North Fort Worth officiated. The bride's former home was at Aubrey, Texas. She is the widow of Rev. A. C. McDougal of the Northwest Texas conference. Each of the contracting parties is about 70 years of age, and both have been twice married before. They first met about thirty years ago. Rev. Mr. May owns property on the hill and will for the present make this their home.

The remains of A. Steffins were interred in the Polytechnic cemetery at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon by the Sons of Hermann. He died at his residence near Polytechnic College Saturday night at 10 o'clock. The cause of death was at first attributed to heart failure, but that is not now thought to be the case. He refused all proffered aid of his family, and died in a very short time after taking sick. He leaves a wife and three children.

Ellis Nicholson, a student at Polytechnic College last year, returned yesterday from his home in Belle county, where he has been since the close of school. He will remain on the hill through the summer. President H. A. Boaz has employed Mr. Nicholson as his private secretary for the coming year.

Rivers and Harbors Committee Reaches Waco Today at Noon, Ahead of Time

WACO, Texas, June 7.—Chairman T. E. Burton of the rivers and harbors committee accompanied by about ten members of the committee reached here at noon, having changed the Texas itinerary altogether, owing to excessive rains in Kansas and the fear that Texas would be water soaked and the party would be unable to make original dates. The party originally intended reaching Waco June 13. Telegrams passed all day yesterday as to the plans of the committee and was not known till last night that they would be here today. The object of the trip is to view the rivers and harbors personally and get a better idea of needs and opportunities of the state in that line. The trip has been abridged sharply, however. The business men will give the best entertainment possible under the circumstances.

THE AGE

Nature Notices It

The younger the child that is allowed careless diet like tea, coffee, too much ture, etc., the heavier the penalty Nature exacts. Healthy children, on the other hand, never know what "nerves" are, but sometimes we hear of nervous prostration even as young as 15 or 16. There was such a case in Newark who says:

"Although I only used coffee after I was 15 and then only moderately, I had nervous prostration before I was 20. They sent me to a sanitarium, where the only treatment I got was a change of diet, in which I was not allowed coffee or tea, and after only a month of this treatment I returned home in my normal state of health.

"One morning I thought I would try just one cup of coffee, and later in the day symptoms of the old nervous trouble appeared. I said to myself that it was a mere coincidence, and after a week I tried another cup of coffee. The same result followed and, of course, this convinced me coffee was the cause of my trouble and must be let alone. I had heard so much about Postum and when I tried it I found it even better than I had heard. I was happy to think I had found such a delicious hot meal time drink I could use in place of coffee, until it occurred to me that a drink which is so excellent and so much life coffee must have some of the effects of coffee.

"So I went slow on the Postum at first until I proved that it had no bad effects like coffee, but found that I could drink all I wanted of it and the more I drank the better I was (just the opposite of coffee in every way). I know now it's because Postum is made of pure cereals that it is so healthful.

"All who taste Postum at my home are delighted with it, because I follow the directions and boil it full fifteen minutes. But I have known lots of people who try Postum once, but abandon it because it was made carelessly.

"My husband is a physician and he and all the rest of our household use Postum regularly and think its flavor equal to the best coffee. Husband says it is entirely healthful." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Child Sleeps Thirty-six Hours in a Coffin and It Is Discovered She Is Not Dead, and Is Revived

CHICAGO, June 7.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Custer, S. D., says:

After lying thirty-six hours in her coffin, Mabel Fearing, the 5-year-old daughter of C. M. Fearing, has been revived. The child was saved through the intervention of Dr. E. S. Norton, a relative, who was at the house to attend the funeral. Dr. Norton noted the rosy cheeks and unchanged appearance of the child and refused to permit the coffin to be closed. He called other physicians, and an effort was made to revive the child. At last signs of returning animation were noted. Half an hour later the stethoscope indicated a return of strong heart action. An hour later the child was sleeping in the arms of her mother. With proper care the child will soon be in an advanced convalescent stage.

The United States Grand Jury Looked Into a Circular Which Told It Was Good Medicine

ARDMORE, I. T., June 7.—The federal grand jury for the May term of court at Ardmore made its final report today, and was discharged. As a result of the deliberations fifty-six cases have been added to the criminal docket of the Twenty-first recording district.

There was brought to the attention of the grand jury an advertising circular distributed by a whisky dealer of Gainesville, Texas, in which the dealer stated that the class of whisky he advertised, when introduced for medical purposes, was not a violation of the law. He was summoned before the body for the purpose of ascertaining from him what official gave him permission to sell whisky here for medical or any other purpose. He exonerated all the officials. The matter was only a clever scheme of the dealer to induce territory people to buy his whisky.

John Davidson of Toronto, Kan., is here prospecting for oil and gas. Mr. Davidson drilled the first oil producing well in Texas and now has ten wells in Kansas. A local company will be organized here and drilling machinery placed on the ground at once. It is the opinion of experts that Ardmore is located in the heart of the oil and gas belt of the territory and now since land tenure stands no longer as an impediment some developments will be made. The Santa Fe railway company has a large tract of land leased and has drilling machinery in operation.

United States Commissioner T. N. Robnett is holding court at Marietta this week. This is the first term of court ever held at Marietta. Commissioners court will be held there one week of each month.

ADDITIONAL RAILROAD NEWS

OFFICE IS ABOLISHED

The office of the superintendent of the Amarillo division of the Rock Island railroad company has been abolished, a circular to this effect having just been issued by Vice President and General Superintendent S. B. Hovey, who has just returned from Amarillo, where he went to make the change. Under the new change the jurisdiction of Trainmaster M. E. Sebree of this city, is extended over that division.

G. W. Barr has been appointed trainmaster of the Amarillo division, with headquarters at Amarillo, vice W. B. French, resigned.

Colonel Hovey says that this change is only temporary and that as soon as business on the Amarillo division justifies, a superintendent for that division will be named.

TO SUMMER RESORTS

R. S. Hair, general traveling passenger agent for the Manitou Steamship Company of Chicago, which runs a line of boats from Chicago to the summer resorts along Lake Michigan, is here. Mr. Hair says that he has discovered during his present trip through Texas that many people in this state will visit Michigan summer resorts during the present summer. Several hundred people go out of Texas each year to this part of the north, but this season will be an exception and instead of a few hundred, the number will be very much increased over former seasons.

DISPLAYS ARE WANTED

William Doherty, general passenger agent for the Houston and Texas Central railroad company, has addressed a letter to all station agents of the company urging them to encourage people living along the Central to send displays of fruits, vegetables, etc., to the World's Fair. Large quantities of exhibits from the Central territory have already been sent to St. Louis, but Mr. Doherty is anxious to make even a better showing than that already on the grounds. He states that the express companies have consented to carry the displays to St. Louis free of charge, and the railroad agents stand ready and willing to lend further assistance to place on exhibition Texas products.

Mr. Doherty says that as a result of the World's Fair the railroads of Texas are anticipating a rush of home-seekers to this state at the close of the exposition when they have seen with their own eyes what Texas can grow displayed at the fair. He says further that there is room in Texas for more than a million families at the present time and the opportunity is here for them to make a living, and that the Central is going to do what it can to induce new-comers to locate in this state.

FEWER CATTLE NOW COME FROM MEXICO

According to information received here by dealers in cattle the Republic of Mexico has exported fewer cattle this year than since the year 1897, when the total number was 173,921. The exports have gradually decreased from that period until the number in 1902 was only 59,541 head. The total exports of cattle from the republic since 1898 were 486,856 head, the value of which is placed at $4,550,836.

The importation of sheep into the United States from Mexico during the same period is placed at 73,171 head. Their value is placed at $101,361.

SAVING STEPS AT EXPOSITION

Inside Inn Guests Will Live Inside the Grounds and Put in Every Moment Profitably.

Costs No More Than Poorer Accommodations Outside

With all of the sights to be seen at the World's Fair—miles of streets to cover, acres of buildings to visit and thousands of exhibits to inspect—a saving of steps and an economy of time are essential to a successful visit.

A place of rest and recreation in the midst of all the wonders of the Fair, where the tired sightseer can find a refuge at any hour after the day of exploration, is hardly to be imagined possible, but such a luxury has been provided at the Inside Inn. This is a splendid hotel in the Exposition inclosure, where accommodations are to be had at rates no higher than obtainable on the outside and including the daily admittance of the guest to the privileges of the World's Fair.

In the morning when the visitor arises the great sights of the Exposition lie just without his window and at all times of the day the Inside Inn is there to afford him a homelike reception. Away from the crowds, no street cars to wait for and no delay at the gates to buy tickets, the guest at the Inside Inn has all of his time to devote to the pure pleasure of sightseeing and none of the annoying distractions.

The Intramural railway, which penetrates every part of the exposition grounds, passes the door of the Inside Inn, located on a high and sightly spot near the Plateau of States and overlooking the main picture of the World's Fair. The site is 200 feet above the level of the city. It is reached directly from the Union station by three street car lines. The inn contains 2,257 sleeping rooms, a large rotunda and office, parlors and waiting rooms, and a dining room and restaurant with a seating capacity of 2,500. There are 500 rooms at $1.50 per person, 500 at $2.00, 500 at $2.50. European plan, including admission to the fair grounds.

Chicago Girl Represented Herself as Daughter of Man of Wealth and to Him She Charged Jewels

CHICAGO, June 6.—After securing her wedding outfit by having the goods charged to two men of wealth, Rose Reifers, 18 years old, has been arrested while passing herself off as a daughter of Theodore A. Kochs.

She had ordered jewelry to the value of $350 charged to Mr. Kochs' account. The jewelry consisted of a diamond ring and shirt stud, which the young woman afterwards confessed she intended to give to George Berkley of Oak Park, to whom she is engaged.

The girl's parents are well to do, and declare their daughter had everything she wished. Mrs. Reifers was prostrated by her daughter's disgrace.

Mr. Kochs and A. Aawson Waller, both reported to a local firm, the police say, that their May bills were $100 in excess of what the families had purchased. The matter had not been cleared up when Miss Reifers entered the store and selected the ring and stud. She declared that she was Mr. Kochs' daughter and said the jewelry was to be charged.

Suspicion was aroused when she announced she would take the articles with her, and she was arrested.

Detectives were sent to the residence of Mr. Kochs, where they were informed that Miss Kochs was traveling in Europe.

When they returned with this information the young prisoner broke down and confessed. She admitted, the police say, that she had secured her wedding outfit by passing herself off as the daughter of wealthy parents.

While but two complaints have come to the notice of the police, they believe the prisoner operated more extensively.

MRS. WYNNE IN ANSWER TO THE MINISTERS

Says Concerts Are for Those Who Cannot Provide Their Own Music and She Will Not Be Deterred by Opposition

The war on the Sunday concerts at the city park which has been started by the Ministers' Association has aroused the ladies who have had the affair in charge, and they are ready to measure swords with the pastors on the subject of right and wrong.

"I do not think we are interfering with the Bible Sunday of the preachers at all," said Mrs. R. M. Wynne, who is in charge of the department which is giving the concerts, "and I am willing to have our action rest on its merits. Every time the women of the town try to do something for suffering humanity there is an effort on the part of some one who has not done something to throw cold water on it, and I am getting tired of being criticised in any such way. I have run my little feet off and have worked night and day, making denial of time and begging contributions, that we might provide these concerts for the ones who can not provide music for themselves or can not go to Handley to listen to the free concerts there. I believe that when working people labor all the week they are entitled to some pleasure and if they can not provide it from their own means and the philanthropic people of the city want to provide it, they are entitled to it. I can not see wherein there is harm in a concert Sunday afternoon. Music does not persuade people to do bad, it does not intoxicate, it does not debauch, it does not make the fingers light to lift that which belongs to others, it does not provoke a man to harsh words or profanity, it does not defame nor desecrate. On the other hand, it is soothing, it is pleasant and it is sacred. Given in the midst of one of nature's prettiest bowers, it makes man and woman appreciative of the beauties which are presented and 'to him who in the love of nature holds communion with her visible forms she speaks,' and I shall never believe that nature will speak those things which are wrong, which are profane, which are degrading. The city park belongs to the people—to the taxpayers. It is provided as a resort and it is as a resort we are using it. These taxpayers are settled people of Fort Worth, who own their homes and their business houses and are not movable with the wishes of a bishop or a conference, and I think their wishes should be consulted as much as those of the ministers who have their congregations to look after and not those things of a public nature. If these preachers object to the concerts, let them counsel the members of their congregations, but do not condemn the whole town and the people who promote and patronize them, because there are some people who do not think these things are wrong. My conscience is clear and I am willing to rest my fate with the judgment of my Creator, who knows the good intentions of these entertainments and will not condemn me for what I think is for the betterment of the condition of the people.

"The Ministers' Association may make war on the concerts, they may make war on the women who have planned and have provided for these concerts, but the women will not make war on the ministers. On the contrary, we will bid them God speed in all good works and will prayerfully leave it to the Nazarene who, when charged with desecration of the Holy Sabbath, said: 'The Sabbath was made for man, not man for the Sabbath.'

"We are comforted by the thought that we are giving pleasure and recreation to those who rarely see a minister and less often hear one preach. For some reason a large number of our good people do not attend our magnificent churches with their grand organs and prima donna singers, but nevertheless have hearts to enjoy and souls to be uplifted and it is to this class that we are catering."

Mrs. Frank Brady, president of the Woman's Department Club, is in full sympathy with the views expressed by Mrs. Wynne.

"In all centers of population," says Mrs. Brady, "Sunday concerts for those who have neither the time nor the inclination to spend their Sunday afternoons and evenings at church are regarded with favor by all classes of people. In many cities where they are given, in fact, in a large majority of places where they are given, the ministers of such places, realized that through them people of the everyday walks of life are attracted in a manner that keeps them from places more harmful, and therefore unconditional support is given the concerts. There is hardly a city as large as Fort Worth in this country that does not furnish some form of recreation for its inhabitants Sundays. Music is certainly the most uplifting in its effect of any form of amusement that can be given to this great class of citizens who, for reasons best known to themselves, do not care to spend their Sunday afternoons engaged in work entirely of a spiritual nature.

"We carefully considered every phase of the question before we undertook to raise the funds needed for the concerts. We have raised all the money that will be required to give the concerts every Sunday afternoon during the three summer months. The Woodman band, realizing the good that can be accomplished by these concerts, has made a contract with us at a figure very reasonable and we will have music at the park every Sunday afternoon when the weather permits."

A DOZEN MORE

With the city calaboose already full last night as a result of the cleaning up of the city put into effect last night, Officer Thomason this morning made a single handed raid and marched a detachment of twelve negro women into the police station on charges of vagrancy.

As a result the women's quarters of the prison present a horrible sight, the prisoners being crowded in like chickens in a crate. Old soap boxes have been pressed into service for seats and even at that some of the prisoners must stand while the others are seated.

Market Quotations

NORTH FORT WORTH, June 7.—Following Monday's heavy supply of cattle the run today was fairly liberal, something like 2,500 cattle being yarded for local trading, with a fourth of that number in on through billing. Good steers held up well and found ready sale at steady to even a little stronger prices over yesterday. The heavy supply of cows caused some depression in values in she stuff and the day's trading in this class of the offering was characterized by a bearish sentiment on the part of the packers who bought largely without competition on a 5c to 10c lower basis.

Best fed steers today of medium weight sold at $4, with one lone heavy driven-in steer of 1,100 pounds at $4.30, and the bulk of best killing kinds at $3.60@3.90.

It took the very best quality cows to bring around $2.75@3, the bulk selling at $2.40@2.65.

Calves were steady with receipts liberal, the market showing a good tone and early close. The best sold at $3.25@3.75; bulk at $2.50@3.25.

Bulls found little demand from the packers, the heavy end of the supply going to outside buyers at prices ranging between $2@2.25.

Less than 750 hogs were received today, and, although trading showed some additional activity over Monday, there was practically no change in values.

During the past week the local market has ruled in line with Kansas City, sales at times even touching a higher mark than Kansas City's tops, but today, with Kansas City strong to 5c higher and best hogs selling around $4.70@4.75, this market did not make a favorable comparison with its competitive point in the Missouri Valley.

One load of 213-pound mixed hogs sold at $4.60, with the bulk crowding $4.57½, and ranging between $4.50@4.57½. Pigs and lights were in fair demand at prices equivalent with the heavier class of stuff.

Captain John Tod and wife are up from the Laureles ranch and are guests at the Menger, says the San Antonio Express. The captain will probably attend the commencement exercises at the Agricultural and Mechanical College and take a look at the cattle now being fed. Quite a number of the laurel leaf steers are on rations up there, and, aside from his interest in the A. and M. College work, he is anxious to see how the steers are progressing. He takes quite a hopeful view for a good demand later on for southern Texas steers, and said: "With the efficient work of the department of agriculture in prosecuting a search for a remedy against the tick, it seems that the cattlemen of north Texas nor the feeders in the corn states have nothing to fear now in handling quarantine steers. It is natural to suppose that more advantageous prices can be secured by buyers when they buy direct from first hands in the greatest breeding ground in the world. It will take time, of course, to demonstrate to the mapority of buyers the superior quality of the cattle we are raising, for they know comparatively little about us, and again they have had no encouragement to investigate, as heretofore it has been impossible to handle them. Good news travels fast, however, and I do not consider it among the impossibilities that in a few years the northwestern buyers may be attracted to us."

HOGS—There was a better feeling among buyers today and the light supply of fair to good quality hogs sold on the morning market at steady prices. Kansas City's advance of 5c and strong top of $4.75 did not stimulate trading here to any extent and salesmen accepted Monday's prices for their holdings. laden with miscellaneous goods is dispatched daily. The railway is open and the traffic in ordinary freight is considerable.

Much excitement has been caused by the reported discovery of gold in the vicinity of the mouth of the Amur river. Several hundred prospectors have already gone to the locality and aothers are starting.

Mail advices from Liao Yang say the last ambulance train to arrive had on board, among other wounded, a Japanese prisoner whom General Kuropatkin took particular care to single out and compliment on the fighting qualities of his compatriots. The general told the Japanese he would personally insure the forwarding of a letter to his parents in Tokio.

A Russian soldier who was badly wounded at Turenchen has received a medal for an exploit performed by him during the fighting there. He returned to his uninjured gun, which could not be removed when the Russians withdrew and disabled it as the Japanese were coming up. He received a number of bayonet wounds but succeeded in making his escape.

GENERAL MA CONTROLS

PEKIN, June 7, 11 a. m.—The Chinese officials emphatically deny that there is the slightest reason to doubt General Ma's ability to control his troops. General Ma has been strictly ordered to prevent any outbreak and none is likely to occur. Viceroy Alexieff's Manchurian proclamation charging the villages with the duty of protecting the railway under pain of extermination, is creating a bad impression here. The government has protested unavailingly and it is currently supposed that Russia desires to provoke an outburst with the view of justifying Russian aggression.

a thing when shown, hardly. We meant just what we said when we told you a day or two ago that we would sell you any tools that you may need at the same price as you can buy them from a catalogue house. All we ask is that you bring the catalogue in order that an intelligent comparison can be made. We want every one who buys from such houses to know this, and we will prove the truthfulness of this proposition if given a chance. If you order goods after reading this, remember, you are sending money away from home than can never get back into your pocket, while if you spend it home you stand a chance of getting some of it back anyway.

COSSACKS SURPRISED BY JAPS AND ROUTED

CHINESE FIRE ON NEWSPAPER MEN

NEW CHWANG, June 7, 11 a. m.—A private telegram just received from Shan Hai Kwan says Lewis Etzel, a correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph, and Ernest B. Brindle of the London Daily Mail, were fired upon by Chinese soldiers while in a junk near Erdiko. Ezel was killed but Brindle is believed to be safe. Etzel is a native of Butler, Pa., and his father resides in the west.

NEW CHWANG, June 7, 1 p. m.—United States Consul General Miller has left here by special train for the scene of the killing of Louis Etzel of Butler, Pa., correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph. The consul will make a personal investigation.

CHARGES WAIVED AGAINST WRITERS

MUKDEN, June 7.—The authorities announce that interpretations of journalistic criticism of things Russian, written before the war or before military recognition of the press, is now waived and all charges against correspondents detained here on that account have been removed and correspondents are being allowed to proceed south, a few only at a time.

ACCOUNT ILLNESS CANCELS ENGAGEMENTS

LONDON, June 7.—Consuelo, dowager duchess of Manchester, has cancelled some of her engagements owing to illness, but there is no indication that her condition is critical as has been reported in the United States. The Duke and Duchess of Manchester left London yesterday on their way to Ireland.

SHROUDED IN MYSTERY

ST. PETERSBURG, June 7, 5:20 p. m.—While it is undoubtedly true a very active Russian force is operating on Liao Tung peninsula in the hope of impeding or possibly crippling the Japanese army commanded by General Oku, the number and character of this force is shrouded in mystery. Figures are freely bandied about, but it is impossible to ascertain the exact facts. It is doubtful if the general staff is fully advised of Gen. Kuropatkin's intentions.

During this morning a sum of money amounting to about $30 was stolen from the room of J. E. Jones, living near Thirteenth and Main streets. At 2:30 this afternoon a man answering perfectly to the description of the thief, who was seen leaving the room, was arrested by Officer Temes and is being held pending an examination.

Miss Annie May Yates of Yantis, Texas, who has been visiting Dr. Link, her uncle, left today for Austin, where she will attend a summer normal.

LABEL PRINTED BY TRADES UNION AND LABEL COUNCIL

DON'T STOP THE CONCERTS

The ministers of the city have passed resolutions against the free Sunday concerts in the city park on the ground that they tend to destroy the Bible Sabbath, making it a day of recreation rather than a day sacred to the cause of God, and begging the women of the Department Club, which has made the concerts possible, to discontinue them. The ministers of the city have a perfect right to express themselves on this subject, as has also every other citizen of the city. For our part, we want to say just as loudly as we can: Don't discontinue the concerts.

Listening to music out among the trees, where the birds join in with the melody, is not the sort of recreation that can harm anyone. That it destroys the sanctity of the Sabbath in the slightest degree we don't for a minute concede. The old idea of a long face and folded hands on the Sabbath went out along with the persecution of the "witches" and similar practices in the days of old Cotton Mather. Nowadays we have a saner idea of what constitutes reasonable relaxation on Sunday. The world has grown more cheerful and by that token better since the old days in Salem, and the fact that people have been allowed increased liberty and the right to allow their consciences to choose for themselves in these matters is responsible for it. When the Sabbath day is made a trial to one then comes its greatest desecration; when it is made a time of innocent pleasure and forgetfulness of the hard tasks and burdens of the week, it best fulfills the end for which it was created.

To the people who have little opportunity during the week to gratify a taste for music or to get out under the trees and sky, these concerts are a veritable Godsend. And others who might stray into real desecration of the day are instead led to the city park, where they pass the hours in innocent and healthful relaxation. We feel that the women of the Department Club are responsible for one of the most worthy moves ever made in Fort Worth and we hope that the Sunday concerts will be continued as long as there is a solitary person to listen to them.

THE END SEAT "HOG"

The outcry against the end seat man, the so-called "hog," and the laws that have been framed in some cities against him, are only the expression of the unthinking. The person that refuses to move along the seat in a street car may be lacking in politeness, but he is only exercising his rights. He was the first on the ground or he could not have taken the seat, and as between allowing a person to climb over you in getting to his seat and in your climbing over him to get out of yours there is not a great deal to choose. But granted that the man be somewhat impolite—when was that first established as a cause for legal enactment? The precedent would open to possibility a myriad of laws that would seriously curtail the liberty of a citizen. The end seat man is impolite only because of the outrageous greediness of the car companies. If the street cars were properly constructed, with an aisle in the center, there would be plenty of end seats, or with more space between seats placed as they are, there would be room for all to pass in and out without effort. In that case the end seat "hog" would speedily lose his individuality. The trouble is that the law-makers are shooting at the wrong mark. Don't go gunning for the man who wants a little fresh air and a sight of the things about him for his nickel, but make it possible that all shall enjoy these benefits.

NOTHING TO BRAG ABOUT

Galveston is bragging because there is more life insurance written in that city than in any other in Texas. This doesn't strike one as exactly a proper basis for self-gratulation. A city might about as well boast of the high doctor bills it pays or what its undertakers cost it annually. Here in Fort Worth there is little reason for insuring one's life. For the reason that because of the remarkable healthfulness of the city most every one lives to a ripe old age and by then, because of the advantages Fort Worth offers in industrial and commercial life, it is rare that one hasn't amassed a competence to leave to his family by the time he shuffles off this mortal coil.

Some folks care for figures, and some don't. For those that do, here they are. Estimated amount of life insurance in Galveston, $63,300,000; Dallas, $38,600,000; Houston, $24,000,000; San Antonio, $20,500,000. In the leading cities of the country, from the standpoint of life insurance payments for the year 1903, Galveston is 32d with $648,801; Dallas 45th, with $418,873; San Antonio 87th, with $253,902; Houston 83d, with $242,173; Fort Worth 104th, with $187,537; Austin 189th, with $145,934, and Waco 146th with $140,081. In Texas during 1903 the amount of life insurance claims as given were $5,219,839. Throughout the state other payments are reported by cities as follows: Austin, $18,212; Beaumont, $15,000; Beeville, $12,511; Brenham, $10,000; Brownsville, $10,000; Burleson, $10,000; Cleburne, $10,000; Denison, $16,932; Fort Worth, $54,500; Gainesville, $10,400; Galveston, $10,000; Goliad, $37,932; Houston, $15,000; Jacksboro, 37,932; Mineral Wells, $10,000; Pearsall, $10,000; San Angelo, $10,000; San Antonio, $41,804; Temple, $15,337; Waco, $15,081.

If the republicans of Pennsylvania choose H. C. Frick to succeed the late Matthew S. Quay in the United States senate, no one will be surprised. Mr. Frick is worth twenty million dollars, so it can be seen at a glance that he has all the qualifications for the position. It is getting harder for a poor man to get into the senate than it is for a camel to crawl through the eye of a needle. What kind of legislation for the common people can you in reason expect from a law-making body composed exclusively of millionaires? Their point of view is bound to be different from that of the poor man in spite of any intention they may have to be fair to all. It is simply impossible for a man of millions, with all his interests to protect, to look at public questions in the same light as a poor man.

In ending the Illinois deadlock by choosing Charles S. Deneen for governor the republicans of that state acted wisely. Richard Yates, the present governor, was chosen previously because he was the son of his father. His administration has been a combination of incapability and culpability. His size is nearer that of a township officer than of a governer. Deneen's other rival for the nomination was Frank O. Lowden, a lawyer who never achieved fame of any sort until he married Miss Florence Pullman and her father's millions. Politics was an easy step after that. Lowden made a mistake in not going after the senatorship instead of the governorship. The former can always be bought.

The University of Texas is celebrating its majority, the commencement of this year being its twenty-first. Starting in the fall of '83 with scarcely 200 students, in all its branches, and lacking equipment in all its departments, the school has grown steadily until now the members of its various graduating classes equal almost the total of students for the first year. The standard of scholarship, both for teachers and students, has kept pace with the growth in other respects, and today it is possible for a student to get as good an education in Texas as anywhere in the country, except possibly along the lines of special work.

What all the Fort Worth sports want to know is: Will Colonel McPeak's wireless telegraph bring the race track results?

It is hard to tell whether the ride the auto owners are giving the members of the city council savors most of bribery or intimidation.

It was a combination and not a key that opened the Illinois deadlock.

Good Stories of The Day

MERE CHARITY

Modern advertising can cope with the etiquette of courts. M. A. P. tells us that a young American woman wished to be presented at the court of the king of Saxony.

The high officials, having inquired into her social standing at home, objected. They represented to her that the king could scarcely receive the daughter of a retail bootmaker.

The young woman cabled home, and told her father the situation. The next morning she received his answer:

"Can't call it selling. Practically giving them away. See advertisement."

That solved the difficulty. She was presented as the daughter of an eminent philanthropist.

SOME MIXED METAPHORS

An "M. P." contributes some parliamentary bulls he heard to the London Spectator: In one debate Henry Asquith, who is rarely guilty of such lapses, said that, owing to the discussion being very strictly limited by one of the standing orders, "our tongues are tied, our hands are fettered, and we are really beating the air to no purpose."

They were not mixed metaphors, again, but the house appreciated the remarks at their full value, when Mr. John Burns, in a discussion on the children's employment bill, said, in a weary, protesting tone: "I will now repeat what I was about to say when the honorable member interrupted me;" and when an ardent supporter of the sugar convention bill declared that "the West Indies would now have a future which they had never had in the past."

Mr. Ritchie on one occasion spoke of a "thorny subject which had long been a bone of contention among us;" a member described the West African territories in the neighborhood of Lake Tchad as "a slumbering volcano which at any moment a spark might set aflame;" and a conservative member, in an eloquent speech which aroused much attention, denouncing the repeal of the corn tax, and complaining of the plight in which he was placed by being called upon first to defend and then to condemn that tax, reached the height of his denunciation in the following sentence: "The chancellor of the exchequer has denuded us of every rag of the principles which we have been proclaiming from the housetops."

But I am inclined to think that the best blunder of the session stands to the credit of another ministerialist who noticed while he was speaking that a liberal member was showing signs of dissent. "Ah!" he said, "the honorable member opposite shakes his head at that. But he can't shake mine!" One sees so well what he meant.

Elijah Dowie's departure from Adelaide, South Australia, was a strangely scared and subterranean business. Instead of going on board the Mongolia from Largs bay, like an ordinary human, he announced that his place of embarkation would be kept a dark secret. Then, while the crowd haunted the jetties of Glenleg, Semaphore, Largs and even Henley beach, he sneaked down to out-of-the-way sleepy Brighton, where a launch waited. He made the passage across in the stuffy little launch cabin and declined to come out until the crowd on the deck of the Mongolia had finished kissing its departing friends and gone ashore. At the last moment the terrified prophet fled up the Mongolia's gangway as if the devil was behind him with a stinkpot and almost broke his neck getting into the cabin out of sight. It didn't look at all like the departure of a prophet—Sydney Bulletin.

SOCIAL QUEENS SOLICIT TRADE

They Push the Articles Which Are for Sale and Get Commissions for It

DRUMMING IN SWELLDOM

Anything from a Paper of Pins to a Motor Car Brings Them a Check

LONDON, June 1.—Although something has been said in American newspapers about the way in which aristocratic London society women act as "drummers" for tradesmen on commission, it probably is not even suspected at home how far this sort of thing is being carried on in Mayfair at present.

To go from house to house with puppy dogs under the arm, to make morning calls with a packet of samples, to take afternoon tea where one is likely to meet the most probable purchasers of pianolas, motor cars, lamp shades, pedigreed sheep, etc., is how many fashionable women in London spend half their time.

Beautiful, highly, often nobly born and well-dressed, they are supposed to be living in the lap of wealth and luxury, supposed to scorn any one who has ever strayed toward the outer very outside edge of trade or commerce, but, nothwithstanding, they are about the most insistent of commercial travelers.

Naturally this "drummer" business is not done too boldly, though nearly every one in society knows about it. Fashionable folk understand when they are urged to buy this or that that it is not because of a desire that they may reap some benefit, but that the aristocratic agent may increase the sale of her goods. There is not one thing from a paper of pins to motor car or a presentation at court for which women are not taking up an agency, for society women have been so swept up into the vortex of money making that if not occupied with the fluctuations of stocks and shares they care not whether they dabble in belt buckles or automobiles, laundry recommendations or prima donnas, so long as they draw a good commission upon the results of their efforts. And, as a matter of fact, the more unlikely as a commercial traveler, from the point of view of position and popularity a woman may seem, the more assiduous is she in plying her trade.

"I absolutely must sell some of Mr. ——'s black sheep for him, for if I don't pay her something madam won't make me a gown for the races."

"Would you believe the duchess of X—— has even been able to get that awful man So-and-so into the Carlton club."

"Lady M—— lost £20 at bridge last night again, and she used to be as poor as anything till she wore So-and-so's hats for him."

That is what you hear in boudoir chats.

One of the most famous of society women—everybody in London could identify her—made £7,000 recently through selling city and suburban motors. Another makes a good thing out of recommending electric baths, and also by selling horses. And many a one creeping up into society will do all they can to get within reach of a certain duchess who is supposed to have wonderful powers to get men into clubs of high standing, women into circles hitherto barred against them, and all into a position in society that would be utterly impossible were the aspirants not burdened with untold wealth.

"NO PRESENTS, THANKS"

It is all done for hard cash. No bound books or even works of art are used to make a delicate acknowledgment of courtesies offered and accepted. A hard cash payment is demanded and given. A present might be awkward to account for, it might not be to the recipient's taste. It is money that always is wanted, and that it shall be promptly paid is the first stipulation made by the titled aristocrat, who constitutes herself the go-between, before she pledges herself to use her influence.

It is said that the general rush to be commercial travelers commenced two or three seasons ago, when the wearing of barbaric-looking bead necklaces became the greatest of fads. Then there was not a luncheon party where men and women alike were not badgered by one or another of the guest sto buy these trifles. "Don't you think they are just too delightful, Lord So-and-so? You must have one for one of your friends. I know such a nice girl who makes them herself. She is so clever at it, and makes such pretty ones. She is quite a little friend of mine." And probably the woman made them herself, charging several hundred per cent on the value of the thing.

But when one of the season's favorite brides began to receive six to a dozen of these trifles as wedding presents, mostly from men who had bought them for the sake of peace, the death blow came to this industry. But this one line of business gave quite a fillip to society's trading instincts.

One very beautiful woman in society with a lovely complexion of cream and roses, now openly confesses that for years she was paid $200 a year by a notable soap firm just to talk about their soap to her friends. Wise in their generation, the soap firm knew that a few words from her was to them of far more value than whole hoardings of posters.

NEAT LITTLE CHECKS

Other beautiful and well-known women are agents for photographers. In all kinds of gowns they pose before the camera, and have a plentiful supply of their own pictures sent them, besides neat little checks to recompense them for their trouble. Lady D——, a gloriously beautiful woman, will in her memory at least make a list of likely houses at which to call, as, armed with two of three of her latest photographs, she goes driving out in the morning. After discussing social triumphs with her hostess the photographer's traveler will rise to take her departure, saying, "I'm just going round to see Lady So-and-so to take her one of my photographs. I promised to give her one when I had some new ones done. I don't know which she will like best of these three." "Oh, do let me see them," exclaims the hostess. And then, like a postscript to her visit, the caller is induced to sit down and show what she knows is a beautiful picture, and hopes will induce her hostess to rush off to the photographer's studio and have her own photograph taken. The agent is careful enough not to be too enthusiastic, but says in a quiet way, "Oh, of course, he is the only photographer. No one would dream of going to any one else. Lady F—— thinks he takes delightful photographs." This is quite sufficient. The traveler has made her call upon a rich woman who is struggling always to be doing the thing that is done by women on the rungs of the social ladder above her. And getting to know the most vulnerable spot of her hoped for clients, the traveler lightly touches upon it. Probably in a morning of hard work this beautiful agent will be certain of commissions on several dozens of the most expensive styles of photos.

The society fashion leader who is supposed to be so attached to her dear Fido that she scarcely ever is parted from him, probably is afraid that she might miss an opportunity of selling that "just one too many" that she thinks she has, and that all her friends are most anxious to have because it is "just too sweet for anything."

But it is the motor agent who seems to have the gayest time. The firm for whom she travels places one of their very best cars at her disposal, and in this she is seen out and about everywhere. In the morning she is shopping in Bond street and the neighborhood. With the smartest of chauffeurs driving her, she does the ladies' mile in Hyde park in the afternoon, and leaves only to make a round of calls at smart houses, where she expects to meet some probable purchaser. Having met her, she contrives to find out where she is going, and curiously enough finds that their way is much the same. "Why, let me drive you. I have my car here! I shall be so pleased." And the fly, nothing loath to be seen with this particular woman of fashion, goes off for a jaunt.

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, June 6.—While in the act of burglarizing a store at Palmer Saturday night, an unknown negro was shot and killed by Chester Brown, a clerk who slept there. The negro effected an entrance by breaking the back door. The noise awakened Brown. Getting up with a revolver he fired and one shot took effect in the negro's heart.

A Quart Baby.

Now and again there is an item in the newspapers concerning the birth of a puny baby so small that a quart cup holds it comfortably. If the article told all the facts it would probably tell also of a mother who in weakness and misery had looked forward to the baby's advent with shrinking and fear.

To have fine, healthy children the mother must be healthy, and it is the common testimony of mothers that the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription not only promotes the mother's health but also gives her strength to give her child.

"Favorite Prescription" accomplishes these results by tranquilizing the nerves, promoting a healthy appetite, and giving refreshing sleep. It increases physical vigor and gives great muscular elasticity, so that the baby's advent is practically painless. It is the best of tonics for nursing mothers.

"I gladly recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. J. W. G. Stephens, of Mila, Northumberland County, Va. "Before my third little boy was born I took six bottles. He is the finest child and has been from birth, and I suffered very much less than I ever did before. I unhesitatingly advise expectant mothers to use the 'Favorite Prescription.'"

The dealer who offers a substitute for "Favorite Prescription" does so to gain the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, containing 1008 pages, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound volume, or only 21 stamps for the book in paper covers. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

WAR MEANS RICH HARVEST FOR THE POACHING SEALER

VICTORIA, B. C., June 7.—Notwithstanding the fact that the coast catch of the Victoria sealing fleet was most disappointing, many of them are being dispatched to the Asiatic side of the Pacific to pursue their perilous avocation on the Copper islands. There is a peculiar reason why the Victoria Sealing Company, which owns nearly all of the vessels which are being sent to the other side, expect an unusually big catch on these islands this year. Hitherto the operations of the sealers on the Asiastic coast have been hampered by Russian cruisers, just as the operations of the fleet in Bering sea have been curtailed by the vigilance of United States cruisers.

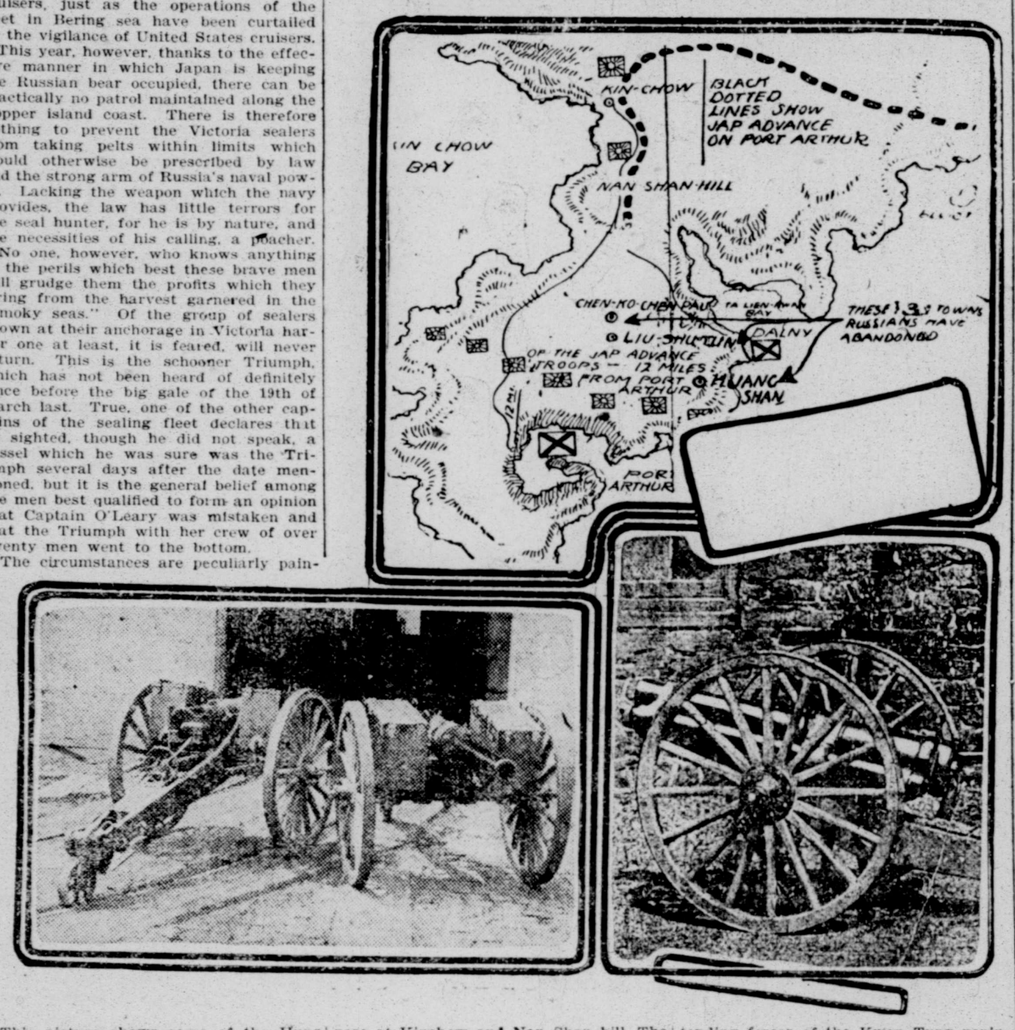

This year, however, thanks to the effective manner in which Japan is keeping the Russian bear occupied, there can be practically no patrol maintained along the Copper island coast. There is therefore nothing to prevent the Victoria sealers from taking pelts within limits which would otherwise be prescribed by law and the strong arm of Russia's naval power. Lacking the weapon which the navy provides, the law has little terrors for the seal hunter, for he is by nature, and the necessities of his calling, a poacher.

No one, however, who knows anything of the perils which best these brave men will grudge them the profits which they wring from the harvest garnered in the "smoky seas." Of the group of sealers shown at their anchorage in Victoria harbor one at least, it is feared, will never return. This is the schooner Triumph, which has not been heard of definitely since before the big gale of the 19th of March last. True, one of the other captains of the sealing fleet declares that he sighted, though he did not speak, a vessel which he was sure was the Triumph several days after the date mentioned, but it is the general belief among the men best qualified to form an opinion that Captain O'Leary was mistaken and that the Triumph with her crew of over twenty men went to the bottom.

The circumstances are peculiarly painful for the wife of her skipper, Captain Burns, whose fears for the father of her unborn child are shared by every member of the sealing company. So grave is the apprehension that on May 24, the anniversary of the birth of the late Queen Victoria, Captain Grant, manager of the company, would not permit the sailors who sought his instructions regardings the dressings of the vessels in their gala attire.

The only explanation offered for the protracted absence of the Triumph is one which is true of the ex-captains of the fleet. He had a long chat with the Triumph's skipper before the latter put to sea, and the two men were recounting their experiences in following the herds. The ex-captain spoke of the reports constaintly made by officers of steamers of the vast herds through which they passed about a thousand miles off the mouth of the Columbia river. It was the opinion of the Victoria man that these were larger seal, and that being out of the track of the regular schooners the opportunities they offered for a record catch was very alluring. This view was shared by the Triumph's skipper, and he expressed his intention of heading for these grounds.

If he has done so, and has fallen in with the big herds, his chum declares that the Triumph will come back with a catch which will make the top-liner catches of previous years look insignificant by comparison.

GETTING OUT THE WHITE ROBES NOW

Seventh Day Adventists Believe the Eastern War Means Coming of Judgment Day

SPOKANE, Wash., June 7.—Firmly believing that the end of the world is foreboded by the Russian-Japanese war, 180 Seventh Day Adventists here are preparing their "white robes" to wear when the great day of judgment comes.

"The end of the world is at hand. It has commenced and will end with the battle of Armageddon, to be fought near Jerusalem, with the head of the Russian government on one side and with the combined strength of the world on the other side. Christ will appear in a cloud as the Savior of the world and will rescue the righteous from everlasting damnation," said Rev. C. E. Ford of the Seventh Day Adventists yesterday.

"The war now in progress between Russia and Japan is the beginning of the end. All nations, notwithstanding their talk of peace, are preparing for the great battle. Scientists and the wise men of the world recognize this ,and can not help seeing that the end of the world is near at hand.

"I will not say definitely the exact time at which the event will occur, but as a lifetime at its longest period does not exceed 120 years, the end of the world will occur between 1953, which is 120 years after the date of the falling stars in 1833.

"Our people are preparing their white robes to wear when the great day comes. The robes are robes of righteousness, not of profane earthly material."

ROUNDING UP VAGS

If the lid is not found on when Chief Rea returns from the meeting of the Association of Chiefs of Police it will not be the fault of the local officers.

That there would be the slightest let-up in the purer city campaign during his absence was disproved last night when the officers rounded up all the drunks and vagrants at midnight, filling the calaboose with twelve such offenders. Together with the prisoners arrested earlier in the day there was an even score of culprits to face his honor at this morning's seance.

A BAR ROOM AFFRAY

Of the cases heard, the most interesting proved the recollections of the principals in a bar room affray. Two brothers entered the saloon and after a few rounds with everybody in a good humor, "like they get when they're drinking," one of the party transgressed the rules of bar room propriety and refused to decorate the mahogany. Discussion as to the proper decorator led to a practical illustration by the smallest of the "jolly" throng hanging a looking glass over another's head. Objection that it wasn't on straight led to a continuation of looking glass exercise, finally ending with a first-class discus performance with the spittoon. Judge Prewett anticipated the mid-week bargain days and jobbed the whole lot together for a $5 check.

AT A LOCAL THEATER

Difficulties at a local theater also caused a slight increase in the usual still atmosphere surrounding the place last night, a general mix-up of county officer and other disturbers giving the police much needed exercise. Trail of the cases against the offenders was postponed to enable a clearance of the hazy atmosphere.

THROWING STONES

Throwing stones at houses as a means of vengeance cost Albert Rodriguez $5 and also a few dollars worth of practical physical retribution, the latter, however, not being doled out by the court. Evidently it had been donated by a much more vigorous giver.

JIMMY WALSH GETS A DRAW DECISION

American Goes Very Fast Fifteen Rounds With the Englishman at Bantam Weights

NEW YORK, June 7.—At the National Sporting Club there has been a well-fought boxing contest for $1,500 between bantam weights, Jimmy Walsh of Boston and "Digger" Stanley of England, says an American dispatch from London. They boxed fifteen rounds at 112 pounds to a draw.

Despite the American's failure a month ago against the same opponent, he was favorite and much money was bet on him at 4 to 5. Walsh's weight was 111½ pounds, while Stanley tipped the beam at 110. The fight commenced at a very warm pace, with the Englishman much faster than his opponent. He took a slight lead for the first half dozen rounds, but the Bostonian improved, and at the eleventh round scored quicker than Stanley. In the twelfth round Walsh's rib punches had greater effect on the Englishman. Thenceforth te exchanges fluctuated and the referee declared it a draw.

FIRE BOYS ARE IMPROVING LAWN

There Is to be a New Fountain Installed With an Ornamental Fence About It

To see the fire hall boys as they lounge around during their leisure hours one would think that they were a rather languid bunch, but the fellows at the Central station have proven there is a real of ambition 'neath their khaki jackets.

Just now they are improving the fountain which stands in the center of the lawn north of the building. The fountain has always been a thing of pride to the firemen and now they are taking out the old one and installing great improvements.

Whereas before a small iron arrangement served the purpose, a cement one is to be put in, fifteen feet in diameter. It will also be about five feet deep. Around the fountain will be a cement walk, and outside of that an iron fence. The cement work is being done complimentary by William Bryce, the contractor, and the Texas Anchor Fence Company has promised the fence.

This change has been mainly done on account of the fish. The other fountain was becoming too small, or, rather, the fish were becoming too numerous. From now on the finny fellows will have ample room to flirt their tails and be happy, and various water plants will be put in to make their quarters appear as natural as possible. The Texas anchor fence which will surround it will be an ornament to the small park.

GROWING ONIONS IS ON INCREASE

Alexander Brothers of Laredo Say That Truck Is a Big Product in This State

A private letter was received here yesterday from R. B. Alexander, of the firm of Alexander Brothers, fruit and vegetable growers, located at Jacksonville and Laredo, Texas, to the effect that the growing of onions in this state is rapidly expanding.

Last year the Alexanders planted a tract of forty acres at Laredo. On the property is an irrigating plant. Experienced truckers were put to work and as a result of the experiment 24,000 pounds of Bermuda onions were raised to the acre, a total of 1,104,000 pounds, making a gross revenue of $28,000. The cost of raising these onions was $7,000. It required forty-five cars to transport the crop to market. The onions were marketed at New York and Boston in April and May. There were about 1,000,000 bushels in all. Mr. Alexander claims that the low price of labor, the cheap freight rate and not being compelled to pay duty in this country makes it possible for the onion grower in Texas to realize an immense profit. The opportunities are unlimited.

The Alexander Brothers was the first firm in the United States to ship onions to market crated, as the usual method is to consign them in bags. As a consequence, the trade took to them in preference to the genuine imported Bermudas. Commission firms in New York and Boston sent several crates of these Texas onions to the Bermuda island growers to show what Texas can do with growing onions.

It required 110,000 onion plants to the acres, or a total of 4,400,000 plants to forty acres.

As a result of this satisfactory experiment the acreage of onions in the Laredo country will be very much increased this season.

COL. ABE HARRIS RECEIVES PENSION

Department Advises Him of Increase in the Amount Because of War Service

Colonel Abraham Harris yesterday received from Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock pension certificate No. 8,628, showing that his pension as a Mexican war veteran has been increased from $12 to $20 per month, dating from April 28, 1904. This increase of pension is the direct result of work done by Mrs. Moore Murdock, who spent several months at Washington in the interest of these old veterans. She succeeded in securing in all increased pensions for more than 200 of these Mexican war veterans, four or five of whom reside in Texas. The increase was through the passage of a special act of congress.

Colonel Abe Harris was a sergeant in company F, Eighth regular United States infantry.

How Thousands Are Made

A battery must have vitriol to act upon the other things and produce electricity.

A brain is made of Water, Fat, Albumen and Phosphate of Potash.

It must have Phosphate of Potash to act on the other things to make thinking possible.

A normal Brain shows 6 per cent of Phosphates while the brain of an insane person shows less, in one case only 2¼ per cent. This proves Brain-power and Nerve-force depend upon the quantity of Phosphate of Potash the system assimilates from food.

Certain parts of Wheat and Barley contain these elements in their most effective form, but many cannot digest enough to feed a busy Brain up to its full working capacity, nor can they digest the dead Phosphate of Potash taken from the drug store. (Note—White Flour does not contain these Phosphates, because they grow in the dark parts of wheat which the miller leaves out because of its color. This explains why white flour is useless to restore Brain and Nerves.)

In GRAPE-NUTS food these elements are presented in the most liberal proportion and in such form any one can digest and assimilate them.

Government analysis proves GRAPE-NUTS thirteen times readier for assimilation than oatmeal, and three times more digestible than the average wheat food. This proves the valuable food elements of GRAPE-NUTS are ready to change into Brain-power and Nerve-force with least delay and least tax on Liver and other organs.

Also it explains why GRAPE-NUTS is acknowledged the most scientific Brain and Nerve food in existence, which can be proved by trial.

WOMEN GIVE UP JEWELS FOR CHARM

Clairvoyant Tells Them How They Will Have Luck and Diamonds Are Lost

CHICAGO, June 6.—Jewels worth $1,000 to be made into a fetich or charm, and $500 as pay for her services were given to Martha Sabin, a clairvoyant, by Mrs. Fannie Moul and Mrs. F. J. App, according to the story they told to the police, before they realized that they had been made the victims of a swindle. Now that they are seeking to recover their property, the clairvoyant has disappeared, and the police were unable to serve warrants which were sworn out.

"The woman hypnotized me. I don't know how it was done, I do know that I was unable to resist her voice," said Mrs. Moul. Mrs. App lives in an adjoining suite in the same apartment house.

The women learned that they were being robbed, the police say, Thursday afternoon, when they called for their charm and were told it was not finished. The Twenty-second street police were notified, but when officers went to the residence of the clairvoyant they found it deserted.

According to the story told by the women they first learned of Mrs. Sabin some weeks ago. They consulted her first through curiosity. After the first visit they said they seemed to have been drawn there by some irrestible power.

The clairvoyant first read the palms of her visitors, then she told them of other and deeper mysteries of the occult science.

"If you could only have a 'fetich,' such as is worn in eastern countries, your troubles would be over," she is said to have told Mrs. Moul.

After much persuasion Miss Sabin is said to have told them that she would get one for each of the women. She then asked them if they would not like to have their favorite jewels designed into a "fetich," and the women left two diamond rings with the clairvoyant.

Visits to the clairvoyant were repeated often and the women say that on almost every visit the clairvoyant obtained either a jewel or money from one or the other of them to be used in the construction of the "fetich."

The husbands of both women are commercial traveling men and they did not tell them of the transaction with the woman who was to deliver to them a "fetich' until after they had lost their jewels.

ASSASSINS SHOOT HOUSTON PEOPLE

HOUSTON, Texas, June 6.—William Christian, a wealthy cotton factor, was shot in the head last night by an unknown masked man while answering a call to the front door of his residence. No cause is assigned for the act. He will recover.

William Sauer, a prominent young farmer, while eating ice cream with friends at the Hillendall picnic grounds last night, was shot at close range, the bullet striking the center of the forehead, but deflecting, saving his life. The would-be assassin ran from concealment and escaped. There is no clue.

SHE WEDS MAN WHO FEEDS POULTRY OF HER FATHER

Baronet's Daughter Has Been Married to Servnt Three Years—Has Two Children

LONDON, June 1.—London society no sooner had begun to exclaim over a contemplated mesalliance by one of its fair members, than another such scandal became an actual fact, and an even more astounding third has made the fashionable world gasp. A Grosvenor square girl who—though she has only $5,000 a year now, will have an annual $100,000 or so later on—started the ball rolling. Her choice fell upon her handsome chauffeur. Emma, the dowager countess of Ravensworth, has gone one better and married her coachman at St. George's Hanover square, one of the leading churches in London for fashionable marriages. And now, as if to outdo all such mesalliances, and to become herself the central figure in the whole round of comment on this most absorbing topic, the daughter of Lord Hood of Avalon has just revealed to her astonished relatives that she has not only been married for three years to the man who feeds her father's poultry at the Hood place in the country, but that besides she has two children of the marriage.

How the whole thing has been kept a secret it is quite beyond her relatives' power to conceive, and, like the rest of society, they are wondering where such mesalliances will cease. The marriage was evidently an accomplished fact before the death in November, 1901, of Lord Hood, who was an admiral, and the first and last baron of that name, he being the second son of Sir Alexander Hood, who was the second baronet. It was the third baronet's son who married Miss Elizabeth Kirkpatrick of Salt Lake City some four years ago.

Another club woman, Mrs. Haule, of Edgerton, Wis., tells how she was cured of irregularities and uterine trouble, terrible pains and backache, by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—A while ago my health began to fail because of female troubles. The doctor did not help me. I remembered that my mother had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on many occasions for irregularities and uterine troubles, and I felt sure that it could not harm me at any rate to give it a trial.

"I was certainly glad to find that within a week I felt much better, the terrible pains in the back and side were beginning to cease, and at the time of menstruation I did not have nearly as serious a time as heretofore, so I continued its use for two months, and at the end of that time I was like a new woman. I really have never felt better in my life, have not had a sick headache since, and weigh 20 pounds more than I ever did, so I unhesitatingly recommend your medicine."—MRS. MAY HAULE, Edgerton, Wis., Pres. Household Economics Club.

DOCTOR ASSERTS WHITNEY DIED APPENDICITIS

He Seeks to Set at Rest Rumors That Financier Was Killed by Angry Husband

NEW YORK, June 1.—Quickly following the death of W. C. Whitney came rumors from various sources, financial and social, that Mr. Whitney's death was not caused by appendicitis, as made public by the attending physicians, but was due to a gunshot wound inflicted by an angry husband.

Every effort to trace these rumors to a responsible source was made at the time. Close friends of Mr. Whitney were seen and talked with, and in deference to the wishes of Mr. Whitney's family and friends no mention of these rumors was made.

More recently from every state in the union letters and telegrams, reviving the original rumor of the cause of death, have been received here.

At the request of many of Mr. Whitney's friends Dr. William T. Bull, the attending surgeon, consented to make this statement regarding the cause of his death and to set at rest all the baseless rumors:

"I make this statement to set at rest for all time the baseless rumors which I am told are in circulation regarding the cause of the death of William C. Whitney.

"Mr. Whitney died of appendicitis, as stated in the certificate of death filed with the health department by Dr. James. Mr. Whitney had a similar attack a year previous to his death.

"I examined the patient's body and performed the operation for appendicitis. I state positively that there were no wounds—bullet wounds or otherwise—upon the body, except those made necessary by the surgeon's knife in performing the operation for appendicitis, and also that there was no foreign substance in the body disclosed by that operation.

"All statements attributing the cause of Mr. Whitney's death to anything except appendicitis are without any foundation in fact.

"As to the statement that the antiseptic surroundings in Mr. Whitney's room, where the operation was performed, were imperfect, I state that they were perfect and as good as could be found in any hospital.

"An X-ray machine was not used at all in Mr. Whitney's case. It was not necessary to use one to make a diagnosis for appendicitis."

The certificate of death filed by Dr. W. B. James, Mr. Whitney's family physician, gives the cause of death:

"Appendicitis—operation. Acute general peritonitis. Contributary cause—intestinal paralysis."

This certificate was filed with the health department on February 3, the day Mr. Whitney died.

MUST MARRY SOON TO WIN BEQUEST

J. Lawrence Tennis of Chicago Hotly Chases After Fair and Fanciful Damsel

HIS FATHER'S ODD WILL

Capture of "Intelligent and Refined Woman" Makes $200,000 Difference in Pile

CHICAGO, June 5.—J. Lawrence Tennis of Chicago has buckled on his matrimonial racing shoes and is determined to enter into a fiery chase after Cupid. If he does not catch the festive little god of love within six weeks he will be forced to stand and smile while a handsome inheritance slips away from the tips of his fingers. His financial happiness also depends upon whether the maiden he captures is an attractive and intelligent creature; for, according to the specifications of his father's will, the coming Mrs. Tennis must necessarily possess these two qualifications above all others.

Mr. Tennis, who has been called from Europe by his attorney to look after the interests of his family estate, finds himself in the midst of a "comic opera situation," owing to the conditions of a will made by his father, who died recently at his mines in Alaska. Unless the young man is married to an "intelligent and refined woman" and "settled down" within six months from the time of the elder Tennis' demise, he must be content to share in the estate only in a fractional way, and that, too, through the hands of an administrator on an allowance basis; whereas if he does marry he shall inherit with the balance of the children.

"I am afraid," says Mr. Tennis, "that this is the outcome of a wee bit of feeling my father had against the 'good fellow' class in general. I may not be much of a looker, but I have been a good fellow all right, and have played everything with the bridle off on both sides of the water, and I suppose he could not stand for the limit. I have a sneaking suspicion, too, that the old gentleman was putting a sort of handicap on that bequest, but I am willing to take a shot at it just to give my brothers a run for their money, especially as it will make a difference of over $200,000 in the pile that is coming to me.

"I am not much of a marrying man and have had very little experience with girls of this sort on this side. Of course I suppose I could pick up any sort of a woman for the price, but I want someone whom I could take into society without apologies, and who is old enough to have some sense (say from 23 or 24 to about 38), and who would be a good fellow with me. Some of the boys at my club suggested that I advertise, and as my time of grace is up about July 15, and I will have a whole lot of courting to do between now and then, it has occurred to me that this might be a very good idea.

"I would prefer an eastern woman. As to my 'form' and 'record' will say that I am 35 years of age, 5 feet 6 inches in height; brown eyes, brown hair, sound teeth, sound wind, and an easy pacer in all classes. I may not have much beauty, but I know how to appreciate it in a woman, and more than that, I believe in one law for the sexes, and the girl who picks me can order anything from the menu of life that she wants and there will be no question. I am willing to divide up the cash and take my chances on loving her, and after I have said this I don't think I deserve to pick a ringer."

Inasmuch as this is leap year, it appears that this matrimonially inclined Chicagoan should have little difficulty in finding favor in the eyes of some lonely lady who has the lively qualifications so much desired by the wife-seeker.

M'ADOO SENDS OUT DECOY DUCKS FOR THE HOODLUMS

Officers in Plain Clothes Ride in Touring Cars and Arrest Many for Assault

NEW YORK, June 1.—In an attempt to stop the numerous attacks upon automobilists in some sections of New York, Police Commissioner McAdoo has sent out four big cars loaded with officers in citizens dress to decoy the hoodlums into the hands of the authorities, as it had become a dangerous matter in the past few weeks for chauffeurs to reach the ferries along the East river.

The ruse by the policemen worked well. They were assailed repeatedly and several arrests made. Most of the prisoners were half grown boys.

DEAFNESS CAN NOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they can not reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

DETECTIVES TRY TO FIND OUT CLUE TO A GUN

Efforts Being Made to Clear Up Mystery of Killing of Mr. Young—His Career

NEW YORK, June 7.—Detectives at work on the shooting of Bookmaker Frank Young, which occurred in a cab here last Saturday, are slowly tracing the history of the revolver which caused the horseman's death. Around the ownership of the weapon may revolve the solution of the whole affair.

Young's friends all assert he never carried a pistol, and the intimates of "Nan" Patterson, who was with Young in the cab, declare she had a horror of weapons. A strict search of pawn shops failed to develop any information which will lead to the belief that the revolver was purchased in this city.

James Dooley, a deck hand, reported as having told a strange story regarding the sale of his revolver to a stranger in West Broadway near the scene of the shooting where Young and Mrs. Patterson passed through. He asserts the man treated him several times in a saloon and upon learning he had a weapon purchased it, saying he wanted to shoot a woman. Little credence is placed in the story.

Young was not only well known as a bookmaker and owner of a string of horses, but about a dozen years ago, as the champion amateur athlete of the United States. Born in England, he was "brought" to this country by the old Manhattan Athletic Club in 1890, to wear the Cherry Diamond and represent that club in the many bitter athletic contests with the New York Athletic Club and the Boston Athletic Club. Young got his sobriquet from the close resemblance that his profile had to that of Julius Caesar. Although at the time of his coming here, less than fourteen years ago, he was without a cent, in the short lapse of time he had accumulated a fortune variously estimated at from $500,000 to $600,000, owned a ranch at Sacramento, Cal.; a breeding farm at the same place, valuable unencumbered real estate in this city, and an interest in a race track.

In 1890, when the Manhattan Athletic Club and the New York Athletic Club had a fight for supremacy, representatives of the former club went to England to get some of the famous athletes there. They tried to get William T. Young, the champion of England, and brother of "Caeser." William, however, had gone to Australia, and "Caeser" was brought over instead.

He soon showed his worth ,and he won almost constantly the long distance and cross country races that he was entered in. He soon became amateur champion, defeating such athletes as Lon Meyers, A. B. George and Harry Fredericks. When the Manhattan Athletic Club went to pieces Young was penniless. A young woman fainted in front of the club one day and Young cared for her. The friendship started then ended in his marriage to her. She was Miss Margaret Becker, a daughter of well-to-do parents.

Young, with Lon Meyers and Harry Fredericks, went to New Haven, where a "book" on the races was made for Yale students. Following success there, the three went to the Gloucester track, and later to Guttenburg, where considerable money was made. Young then left his companions, and, with his wife, started to follow the circuit, starting at Washington Park, Chicago, and going thence to New Orleans.

In a year or two he had bought some good horses at a sacrifice, and with them went to California. At that time a race track war was on between Prince Poniatowski and "Tom" Williams, well known racing men. Young managed to buy a block of stock in the California Jockey Club. He also made money running his horses and in breeding, and by the middle of the second season had accumulated the bulk of his fortune.

In September, 1901, Young bought two mares for $2,000, one of which was Eonic, of good stock, but unknown quality. She was entered for the Burns handicap, the big event on the western coast race tracks, a handicap of $10,000.

Although Young did not think much of his entry's chances, Mrs. Young trained the mare, and she won the race.

The horse was quoted at 50 to 1, and Mrs. Young cleared $20,000 in bets, beside the stake. It was at this race, it is asserted, that Young met Miss Patterson.

Mrs. Young is said to have handled the money, and to have invested largely in apartment houses in West Eighty-fourth street.

IS CZAR PREPARING ABDICATE THRONE

He Is Building Palace at Dresden and Sending Money to England

BY W. B. SLATER.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 7.—For two years past the Grand Duke Michael, heir to the Russian throne in default of a direct male heir coming to the present czar, has been taking lessons in self-defense from Foley, the American expert in that art, and the grand duke has recently developed such extraordinary facility not only in defending himself, but in attacking, that his teacher can no longer stand up before him.

For two hours every morning the grand duke and the American are closeted together practicing in a room whose tables are strewn with pistols, cudgels and knives of all descriptions. The two walk about, talking idly, and the lesson consists in one suddenly catching up a dagger or a stick and lunging out in the hope of taking the other unawares.

To illustrate the parries, the American had to teach Michael how to attack adroitly, and now, whereas Foley can almost never get in a blow, Michael often picks off the American, who always has a hard time warding. The knives are, of course, blunted, and the cudgels padded, and the pistols harmless, but the energy of the attack sometimes causes painful physical contact, and Dr. Foley was seen coming out of his imperial pupil's palace the other day, swearing profusely and rubbing a shoulder with one hand and a hip bone with the other, while Michael issued forth not long after looking merely refreshed from pleasant physical exercise.

The professor says that if it goes on much longer he will have to take lessons from Michael; that is, if the latter has not accidentally quite finished him off in the meantime.

Under this systematic training, Michael has developed physically to an extent that has amazed and delighted his entourage. From being weak and lacking in stamina, like his elder brother the czar, Michael has become strong and resistant, as well as absolutely fearless. No enemy, Dr. Foley declares, could now assassinate Michael at close quarters, and the chances of being struck by a bullet from a distance are so slight that Michael may rest easy when the duties of a czar devolve upon him.

If the talk in certain court circles can be believed, these duties and responsibilities are not so far away from Michael as might be expected. Michael is stronger in character than was ever Nicholas, and now that he has the physical force which his brother lacks, his superiority is incontestable.

True, Michael's nature is not as pleasant as that of Nicholas, and he has not his elder brother's lofty ideals; but there are many in Russia who say that under autocratic rule a good, but weak sovereign may do more harm than a strong but personally less amiable one.

The czar, it is known, is more interested in his home life and his pacific ideals than in his cares of state, although sense of duty constrains him to attend personally to every detail, even of matters which he completely ignores.

The rumors current about his desire to abdicate are not entirely unfounded, many say who have the opportunity to be well informed; and, just as on two previous occasions it was said that he had expressed his wish to abandon the power into his brother's hands, it is now confidently expected by Michael's friends that the resolution will be carried out if the czarina's approaching confinement results in another little princess. No hope will then remain of a male heir in the direct line. The country, worked upon by revolutionary leaders who found magnificent capital in the Russian disasters, is beginning to suspect that the Little Father may not after all be the model of perfection, and that not only the steering gear is wrong, but that the hand at the wheel is unsteady. A new pilot, presented before confidence in the general system has been too profoundly shaken, might just save the dynasty; and the czar, caring little for power, might accede only too willingly.

The great difficulty would come with the czar's immediate circle of friends and courtiers. As is invariably the case, the intimates of the heir apparent are not those of the ruling monarch. Those that now surround the czar and hold posts of confidence near his person, know that they have nothing to hope from his successor, and they consequently guard Nicholas to such an extent that he is almost a prisoner in his own palace. If he wanted to abdicate it is probable that he would be allowed to put his design into execution. What is feared is that he may profit by one of his trips abroad to announce that he will never return.

The palace that he is erecting in Dresden and every detail of the building and furnishing of which the czar and czarina are carefully supervising gives anxiety to the courtiers who want to remain in power; and the vast sum which the czar has accumulated in the Bank of England, estimated by some at 15,000,000 pounds sterling, and by others at even 20,000,000, is regarded with even greater distrust.

Such are the rumors current in Petersburg today. It is most probable that the czar has merely been laying an anchor to winward in having a bank account in England and preparing a palace in Dresden, so that were a serious plot to be discovered, or were a movement for his overthrow to be started, he would take refuge abroad without fear of privation. But what he cannot forget is that, were he to attempt flight at a critical juncture, he could scarcely by any chance reach the distant frontier.

POLK GUARDED IN ANSWERS TO REPORTER

It Is Stated He Is Offered a Good Appointment—Friends Say He Is Out of Santa Fe Altogether

Colonel L. J. Polk, late vice president of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railroad Company, arrived this morning from Galveston and is registered at the Worth notel.

He was seen in regard to the unconfirmed rumor that he has been tendered the position of southwestern traffic manager of the Atchison system by President Ripley, but he refrains from confirming the appointment. If an appointment has really been made. The colonel is frank in his replies to questions regarding the rumor, but like all well-regulated railroad men, discusses matters of this kind with extreme caution.

"You can say positively that Colonel Polk has severed his connection with the Santa Fe system for good," was the statement made to The Telegram by Captain James Polk to The Telegram this morning. Other friends of Colonel Polk who were were seen, expressed similar views upon the question of Colonel Polk again casting his lot with the Santa Fe in any capacity.

On the other hand a statement was made in Fort Worth today that the position of traffic manager has been tendered Colonel Polk by President Ripley; that the report reaches Texas direct from headquarters of the company, but not in an official way.

The matter appears on the surface in a two-fold manner—that the colonel has been offered the position, and that he has not, and will not again become associated with the management of the Santa Fe road in any capacity, whatever. Which will turn out to be the case, can only be determined by the lapse of time.

The Dallas News this morning says:

"Colonel L. J. Polk, whose resignation as vice president of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railway became effective on June 1, will remain in the railroad business, and that, too, with the Atchison system. Information was received here yesterday from an authoritative source to the effect that Colonel Polk had been appointed traffic manager of the Atchison lines in the southwest.

"It was in the traffic department of the railroad service that Colonel Polk first gained his reputation as an executive official, and it was his conduct of such affairs which led to his appointment, first as general manager and then as vice president of the Santa Fe, in entire charge of the property. He was general freight agent of the San Antonio and Aransas Pass, afterward serving in a similar capacity for the Santa Fe, leaving the general freight agency of that company to become general manager and then vice president.

"Colonel Polk is recognized as an authority on traffic matters, and, with the varied conditions existing on the Atchison's many southwestern lines, he will have ample opportunity to display his talents in that direction."

ACTING PRESIDENT TALKS OF TRICK

DENVER, Colo., June 7.—The News today prints the following interview with Vice President Williams of the Western Federation of Miners, who is acting president during Mr. Moyers' imprisonment in the military bull pen at Telluride:

"The troubles at Cripple Creek and the riot and disturbances there are simply an attempt to disrupt the union and bring the strike to a close. It is my candid opinion the Citizens' Alliance is at the bottom of this attempt by a display of violence. The news dispatches contain references to a mass meeting that was in progress when the trouble originated. My opinion is that this meeting called by Mr. Hamlin of the Mine Owners' Association was ostensibly to give an opportunity for free and fair discussion of matters involved in the strike, but as a matter of fact the scabs employed in the mines were to play the part of miners, and then when a union man attempted to speak he was shot down. As for the Citizens' Alliance, its members are absolutely unfair and pay no attention to law and order. This was brought out in the Telluride strike, when miners were driven out and many forms of violence put into effect to defeat the strike."

AN OLD SETTLER CALLS ON LANHAM

He Wanted to Stand for Once by Grave of Gotch Hardeman With Head Uncovered

AUSTIN, Texas, June 7.—A venerable gentleman walked into the executive office yesterday, seated himself in a comfortable chair, saying: "I have never met Governor Lanham, but I knew his father and grandfather seventy years ago in Spartanburg, S. C., and I have just dropped in to get acquainted with him."

This old gentleman proved to be Captain Joe Johnston of Luling. Further inquiry as to the facts of his life brought out that he was born in Spartanburg, October 7, 1819, and would therefore be 85 years old his next birthday.

In 1836 he moved from South Carolina down to Georgia, where he resided for twenty years. During this time he enlisted in a company of volunteers and saw some military service in a campaign against the Indians in that state.

In 1856 Captain Johnston moved to Texas, settled near Luling and has resided continuously in that section of the country for forty-eight years.

He inquired how he could find the tomb of General W. P. Hardeman, and when told he left the governor's office for the state cemetery, saying, as he departed: "I want to stand one time by the grave of old Gotch Hardeman and uncover my head to the memory of this great and good man, who was my friend in young manhood and who was the friend of Texas for more than a half century."

SEATTLE, Wash., June 7.—That Russian half-breeds and settled tribes of Indians in Alaska are citizens of the United States is the ruling of Judge James Wickersham, of the United Stattes district court for the Yukon River district of Alaska. Advices from Valdez bring a copy of this telegram sent by Judge Wickersham from Fairbanks, May 18:

"I have just rendered an opinion, holding that all Russian half-breeds and settled tribes from the mouth of Copper river to Aleutian Islands, are citizens of the United States under the treaty with Russia."

HARVEST WORK NEAR WACO IS STOPPED

WACO, Texas, June 7.—The cutting and threshing of grain stopped on last Saturday, and from present indications it is hard to say when it will be resumed. Many think that there will be two or three weeks of the wet weather, owing to the fact that there was so little rain in the spring, and the further fact that rains have been falling north of here for several days. Corn and other things will be benefited, but those having small grain are getting restless already.

COLORADO RIVER RISES TWENTY FEET

AUSTIN, Texas, June 7.—The Colorado rose 20 feet last night at one time and rose seven feet in an hour, the highest known from natural rainfall.

REV. ABE MULKEY IS SUCCESSFUL EVANGELIST

Something of the Life Work of Man Who Is Well Known Here—A Good Record

Rev. Abe Mulkey is to commence a revival meeting in this city June 10 and among the church-going people of Fort Worth there is quite a little interest in the event.

Sam Jones has been a noted evangelist, but he turns from the work to that of a lecturer; George Stuart is successful with meetings, but he does not get here often. Abe Mulkey stays in Texas all the time and among this people he is popular. He has a remarkable record in his work, and it will be interesting reading to those who expect to attend the meeting he is to hold in this city.

Nineteen years of unremitting endeavor in the evangelistic field, 402 revivals and 42,133 persons converted to Christianity.

That for the record of one man, a man not educated for the ministry, one who left the grocery store for the pulpit, and through no other resources but his own unbounded faith and energy and enthusiasm, has been going to and fro and up and down in the Empire of Texas for not quite two score years, literally obeying the scriptural injunction to go out into the world and preach the gospel to every creature.

HAS AIDED CHURCHES

Besides, the summary just indicated does not by any means comprise all of the work this man has done for the cause in which he is laboring in the period of his evangelistic service. Among other things, he has aided in the construction of forty churches and parsonages, either by promoting their building directly or by raising the indebtedness upon them after they had been erected. And he has under way other projects for the aid of other Methodist churches and institutions, one of these at least a movement of state-wide note which in the course of this month is likely to be fully developed.

For forty-six years he has lived in Texas, and it is fair to say he knows the state as few men are acquainted with it. It can be safely said that Mr. Mulkey knows personally more people in Texas than any other man. As he himself says, the drummer meets the storekeeper, the hotel man, the bus driver, the conductor. The evangelist encounters in close personal contact people in every walk of life. In the two decades he has been conducting revivals in the state, Rev. Mulkey has met and met again people by the tens of thousand and there is not a corner of the state in which if he were dropped down suddenly he could not find some one whom he could grasp familiarly by the hand and call him by name.

Mr. Mulkey's father was a minister of the gospel for fifty years and was a part of that time missionary to the Indians in the Indian Territory. His son, Abe, however, was not educated for the ministry. He was a merchant for twenty years and went straight from the store to the pulpit. He remains today a business man, in dress and manner methods. He acknowledges this himself and says he could not be any different if he tried.

When a boy between the ages of 7 and 9, back in Nashville, Young Mulkey was a newsboy, selling papers on street corners. He still cherishes a warm place in his heart for the newsboys and buys papers freely. "I know just how they feel," he says, "and I can't help patronizing them."

TWO MULKEY BROTHERS

The lad's parents were poor. Abe used to have a bank of his own, into which he would drop his pennies and nickles. When it came time to pay rent on the family domicile, Abe's bank was emptied and left broken and barren. He tells one incident of that period that concerns his brother, George, who is now a leading merchant of Fort Worth. George was then 11 and Abe was 9.

"Abe, let's start in business," said George one night. "You sell candy and I'll sell cigars."

"All right," said Abe.

They shook the pennies out of their bank and laid in a stock. Abe bought flint candy to the extent of his capital and George bought cigars. They went out on the street next day and took up the business, but the first day's results were hardly up to the standard, they had expected.

"Abe," said George, after they had talked the situation over that night, "you can get just as much for that candy if you take an inch off each stick."

"What'll I do with the inch?" asked Abe.

"Eat it," said George.

So Abe proceeded to whack an inch off each stick of candy. The two boys ate of it to their heart's content.

Abe then pointed out that it was George's turn to treat. So George clipped off the ends of the cigars and they began to smoke.

It wasn't many minutes until the boys began to see objects that took on shapes after the fashion of those seen by the man whom Christ healed of blindness. Asked if he could see, he said yes, but he beheld men that walked as trees. George's eyes, Abe says, were green and his face was deathly pale. George said, "Abe, you are sick, and I'm going to take you in to ma." So they went into their mother, staggering. Mother caught a whiff of their breaths and that was enough. "You boys have been smoking," she said sternly. What followed is an unrevealed incident. By the time the boys recuperated, some of the other boys of the neighborhood had stolen the cigars and candy and the business of Mulkey & Mulkey was "busted."

And so, with such experiences as these still warm in his memory, Rev. Abe Mulkey's heart has never grown cold towards the boys and the children. One of the institutions of Texas in which he is most deeply interested is the Texas Methodist Orphanage at Waco. It has 120 inmates. It cost $25,000. Of this Rev. Mr. Mulkey gave $6,000, and in addition he aided in raising the rest.

A part of Mr. Mulkey's experience of twenty years as a merchant was served at Waxahachie and a part at Corsicana. He was last in business at Corsicana. It may well be imagined that when he pulled stakes and announced that he was going to become an evangelist there was wonderment in the community.

RAILROAD NEWS

Judge Baker of the district court at Albuquerque, N. M., has made permanent the temporary injunction issued on behalf of the Santa Fe Railroad Company against the officials and members of the International Order of Machinists, restraining them from interfering in any manner with the operation of the railroad company's trains or the bringing in of new employes to take the places of the strikers.

From nearly all the places along the line where temporary injunctions have been issued the courts have perpetuated them. At San Bernardino, Cal., the strikers built a high tower just outside the company's bull pen, from the top of which the strikers could look into the shops and see for themselves what was going on, but the courts there issued an injunction against the strikers using the tower.

It is reported that many of the strikers are leaving the Santa Fe and are going to other lines, where they are said to be getting work.

LOCOMOTIVES EXPORTED

The exports of American locomotives is gradually increasing, both in number and value. In the nine months ending March of the current year the total number of engines sent to foreign countries was 313, $3,463,016. The number of locomotives exported during the same period of 1903 was 230.

The best customers for American locomotives have been British North America. It took 134 locomotives and paid for them $1,608,204. Mexico was the next best customer, taking eighty-three, valued at $958,450. Japan was the third best customer during that period, taking twenty-three locomotives at an aggregate value of $246,273, while Cuba stands fourth in the list, with twenty. Among the smaller customers of the locomotive makers of the United States during the last nine months were Colombia, which bought two, paying $22,000; Brazil, which secured five, at $60,746; the Chinese empire got three for $9,000, while Argentine secured eight at $16,596. No American locomotives were sold to Russia during the last nine months and none at all since 1901. On the other hand, Japan is steadily increasing the number of American locomotives on its roads. It took sixty-eight in twenty-seven months and paid for them a total of $644,367, or an average of $9,400.

RAILROAD EMPLOYES' PASSES

All railroads entering directly or by connections St. Louis have issued a circular stating that no passes will be issued to employes of railroads after August 15. The presidents of these railroads have entered into an ironclad agreement in regard to this pass matter, as applying to men in the service of the roads. If employes intend visiting the fair they are notified that arrangements must be made prior to August 15. This action is taken, it is alleged, because the roads running into St. Louis expect to have all trains crowded after the above date.

TURNING OUT HEAVY RAILS

The Monterey steel works are now turning out seventy-pound steel rails, which are being used by the National Railroad to replace the old track on the Monterey and San Miguel extension of that road, which connects with the Matamoros branch running into Brownsville, Texas.

TERMINAL NOT A RAILROAD

The supreme court of Missouri refused to oust the St. Louis Railroad Terminal Association under the anti-trust law. The court held that this association is not a railroad as laid down in the laws of the state governing trunk lines, because it does a strictly terminal business.

MAY PART COMPANY

A report from California is to the effect that there is a break in the heretofore friendly relations between the Southern Pacific and the Santa Fe Railroad companies. The row is said to be over the deciduous fruit traffic, which is shipped out of that state on joint through tariffs.

Some time ago the Santa Fe established a steamer service along the Sacramento river, connecting with the Antioch and thereby making a bid for a greater portion of the fruit shipments. Following this move the Southern Pacific gave notice of the cancellation of the through rate and of all contracts of shipment under them, with a view, it is thought, of lowering the rate and driving the Santa Fe out of the field.

In consequence the relations of the two companies have been exceedingly unfriendly of late. Recently they entered into an agreement regarding the traffic in Northern California, but if the fruit row continues to spread it is liable to upset all arrangements.

ACUTE RHEUMATISM

Deep tearing or wrenching pains, occasioned by getting wet through, worse when at rest, or on first moving the limbs and in cold or damp weather, is cured quickly by Ballard's Snow Liniment. Oscar Oleson, Gibson City, Ill., writes, February 16, 1902: "A year ago I was troubled with a pain in my back. It soon got so bad I could not bend over. One bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment cured me." 25c, 50c, $1. Sold by H. T. Pangburn & Co.

CLEVER WOMAN IN A CLEVER SCHEME

She Worked the Ladies of El Paso on Worthless Stock Which She Had for Sale

Word was received by the local police department this morning to look out for a woman said by Chief of Police Wooten of El Paso to have swindled many women in that city by a clever stock scheme.

The woman, who is described as a handsome blond, cultured and dressing in faultless style, appeared in El Paso during the winter, and living in excellent style, announced that she was connected with the Chicago Board of Trade as traveling agent.

Securing introductions into prominent homes, she used her personal qualifications and magnetism to good advantage and managed within the course of a few weeks to make heavy sales of various sorts of stocks.

Working exclusively among women, she readily induced them to believe the certificates genuine and completely worked the town before suspicion was aroused on the dividends not being forthcoming at the stated times.

Fearful of the publicity of the way in which they had been duped the women remained silent for some time until one confided in her husband, who promptly put the matter in the hands of the police. The woman, however, in some way secured knowledge of this step and disappeared suddenly.

Since then similar operations are coming to light in various parts of the state, but the hesitancy of those swindled in making the matter known has thus far sheltered the adventuress, who is still at large.

Her operations have not yet been reported in this city.

SUPERB SOUVENIR OF FOREST CITY ARE THE VIEWS

Returning Visitors From the Fair Anxious to Have the Series as a Record of Trip

Returning visitors from the World's Fair at St. Louis speak in enthusiastic terms of the extent and grandeur of the exhibition, and they are also most eager to secure the "Forest City" exposition art portfolios, as a souvenir of their sojourn within the gates.

This is more expressive than volumes of description as to the worth of the series, and it also shows that the esteem in which the views are held will grow as the fair progresses and that the final demand will be enormous.

The work is a valuable souvenir and remembrance for those who see the fair and it will form a complete record and history for those who do not.

The series is doubly official, since the views are reproduced from original photographs taken by the official photographer of the exposition, and the descriptions accompanying the views are all written by Walter B. Stevens, the distinguished journalist and World's Fair secretary.

It is indeed fortunate that we were enable to arrange to place this splendid series within the reach of all our readers, and on terms which makes possession exceptionally easy.

Although the regular price of each portfolio is 25 cents, our readers are favored in that they are required to pay but 10 cents for each part; this charge being made to cover the cost of handling, wrapping, addressing and mailing.

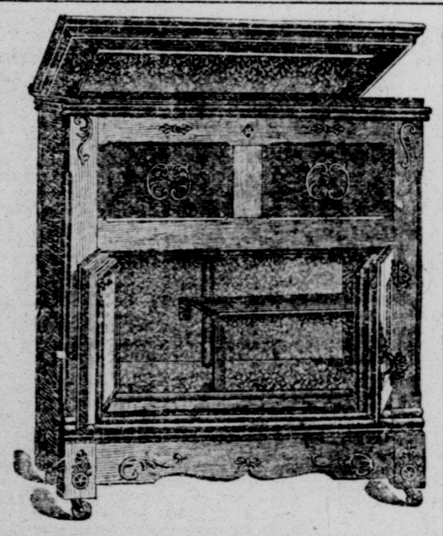

Of course, a "Forest City" coupon, clipped from our portfolio announcements, must accompany the dime; this is merely to show that you are a reader, since those who are not readers are required to pay the full price.

Those who, for any reason, have not secured the portfolios from the first should begin with Part 1, and obtain each portfolios as issue, so that their series will be complete.

ELLISON FURNITURE AND CARPET COMPANY

TRYING TO SETTLE THE CONTEST FOR THEIR CHILD

Effort to Effect an Arrangement Regarding the Babe That Was Kidnaped in New York Friday by the Father

NEW YORK, June 7.—Negotiations are understood to be under way here with a view to settling the dispute between Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence C. Phipps, which resulted last Friday in the carrying off to Denver by Mr. Phipps of the two children, who had been in the custody of their mother at a hotel here.

A protracted conference with this end in view has been held at the home of Henry Phipps, but none of those present would discuss the matter and the outcome of the meeting is not known.

It was learned from a trustworthy source that it was not at the Holland house, but, in fact, at The Netherlands that the entire plot to carry off the children was hatched and carried out.

The actual work of stealing away the children was even more sensational than has been reported. Both sides had a big force of detectives at work. Mrs. Phipps anticipated action on the part of her husband and sought to outwit him. Money prevailed against her, however.

The assertion was made that Mr. Phipps spent nearly $50,000 in effecting the capture of his children. It is known that detectives in the employ of the wife succeeded in intercepting letters to the maids in her employ who had been bought by Mr. Phipps and that one of these letters, so it is asserted, contained $8,000 in bank notes.

The men who actually did the work of carrying off the children had occupied rooms on the floor beneath that on which Mrs. Phipps was located. A 4 o'clock Friday morning they ascended to the room in which the children slept, by means of a fire escape. Mrs. Phipps was roughly seized and bound and gagged, and left helpless while her children were carried off.

Her groans awakened persons sleeping near by and a hotel clerk released her. The children in the meantime had been gathered up by the bribed nurse, who had admitted the men through the window, the eldest daughter being informed that they were going for an early morning walk.

Downstairs they were met by their father, and the entire party at once entered automobiles and were hurried away.

Mr. Phipps is the nephew of Henry Phipps. He is a favorite of Andrew Carnegie, in whose service with his father he made the bulk of the family fortune. The Phipps family stood by Carnegie during the litigation with Frick, and when the union of the warring interests were effected, Laurence Phipps was made a millionaire many times over.

After the manner of Charles M. Schwab, Mr. Phipps entered the service of the steel king at an early age and gradually worked himself up to fortune. During the trouble with Frick he held stock worth $5,000,000 in the Carnegie Steel Company, besides a personal account of $656,173.70, and in the Frick Coke Company he held $412,627.46.

In the reorganized company he took $2,707,000 in bonds of the concern. The formation of the steel trust still further swelled Mr. Phipps' fortune to between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000, with an income from dividends approximating $500,000 a year.

TWO DIVORCE SUITS

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 7.—An admission was gained from the family of Dr. R. S. Sutton tonight to the effect that they were aware that a member of the family by marriage had been the cause of separation between Laurence C. Phipps and his wife, which led to the kidnaping in New York. When asked what they would do about it a member of the family said:

"It's a pretty hard nut to crack. We have not decided what steps to take."

Two divorce proceedings are probable now that the affair has created such publicity.

It was known here for two months that Mrs. Phipps has been abroad with her cousin, and Mr. Phipps wrote her then that he would not live with her any longer and demanded a separation. It may be that he will now seek a divorce, and will make an effort to secure legal possession of the children.

Mr. Phipps was very fond of his family. He had pictures of his home and children decorating the walls of his office. He spent vast sums of money on his Pittsburg home and his house in Denver. Mr. Phipps' attorneys here admitted they were in communication with their client, and they expected to take some action when affairs quieted down.

No monetary question can possibly enter into any litigation that may follow, it is pointed out by those conversant with the situation, as Mrs. Phipps in any event will be well able to provide for her own comfort, and Mr. Phipps is said not to be the type of man to leave his wife in even remote possibility of want under any circumstances whatsoever.

HOME, SWEET HOME!

NO LANDLORDS! NO RENTAL AGENTS!

WE have exclusive control of about thirty nice new four and five-room cottages that we can sell at bargain prices and on such easy terms that any one earning moderate wages or having income enough to pay rent CAN OWN A HOME.

WHY not pay rent to yourself? Our monthly payments are about the same as rent.

DO you not owe it to your family to take the money that you are being separated from forever and put it where it will come back to you and your loved ones?

IF you wait till you can pay all cash for a home, are not the chances good that old age will find you renting, while your neighbors with small payments will have a home paid for?

IF you have not yourself done so, you doubtless know friends and acquaintances that have paid enough in the last five or ten years in rents to have paid for a nice comfortable little home.

LET us explain our terms and show you this property.

Officer Charles W. Newby arrived in the city today from Mineral Wells, where he has been spending a few weeks, trying to regain his health.

Mr. Newby is suffering from stomach trouble, and is in a very critical condition. He was carried from the train on a stretcher.

Several of his brother officers were at the station, and with loving care bore the sick man to an ambulance in which he was taken to his home.

Dr. Chambers, who, together with Officer Speight, accompanied Mr. Newby on his trip from Mineral Wells, stated that his patient bore the fatigue of the trip very well, considering his weakened condition.

ALDERMEN ARE AT MERCY OF AUTOISTS

Councilmen Are Being Taken for a Drive This Afternoon in the Gasoline Carts

This is the day set for the automobile parade, and the city council and other guests, at least those who have not been used to automobiling, have been nervous and excited all day. The procession is booked to start from the auto livery, and from there on the lives of the aldermen are at the mercy of the gasoline men. Whether they will take advantage of the opportunity to get even with the lawmakers remains to be seen. At any rate it is the determination of the machine men to give every one a "whizzing" good time and some great stunts are expected.

OUR OPPORTUNITY

Reports from the St. Louis Fair show that the Texas display of fruits, vegetables and farm products compare favorably with that of any state represented.

We have the best state in the union and we are proud of our state. We are proud of the showing we have made so far and we want to keep up the pace and get better all the time.

We raise the finest fruit and vegetables and we want the world to know it.

Today less than 15 per cent of our lands are in use; hundreds of thousands of people are looking for a location; they are going to the Fair at St. Louis and comparing the exhibits made by the states. We want those people. Texas can support a million families more than it now has easily. Every family that moves into a county increases the wealth of that county and adds to the value of every piece of property in that county.

Do you see it that way? Do you want more people in your county? If so, you can help me to bring them by seeing to it that your county is properly represented at the Fair. Every article exhibited bears the name of the producer, postoffice address and county.

Does your section produce anything good? Anything calculated to make people want to live where such things are produced?

Of course it does, and it is our opportunity to put those things before the great mass of people who are daily visiting the Texas exhibits.

The express companies of this state have generously agreed to haul exhibits free. The agents of our lines will furnish shipping tags properly marked.

SECRET ORDERS IN WACO MAKE PROTEST

WACO, Texas, June 7.—There is a disagreement between the powers that be in the municipal water plant and a number of the secret orders of the city which promises to show some rather interesting features, in fact some have already developed. In making the new rates for the city the water commission in addition to providing for payment of service in the way of sinks with hydrant and the closets in the various lodge rooms of Waco, also added on various amounts for the halls themselves. The amounts charged for the halls are substantial, aggregating nearly as much or quite as much as the amount due for sinks and closets combined. This had not been put on before, the orders claim, and there is a general protest against paying it, the position taken being that the halls proper have no water in them, and that the water used in the ante-rooms for the purposes outlined is paid for in full, while most all the members have paid for the same privilege at their homes already. In other words they claim that they are only served with closets and sinks which are paid for and that the additional charge is simply on the hall itself where no water is furnished. The water company says it is treating everybody alike and making a charge which is uniform and just, and insists on payment.

The Odd Fellows hall on South Third street has been cut off for refusing to pay the amount assessed against it on the hall proposition, so the members claim, and other secret orders are considering the matter of refusing to pay, declaring that they get nothing for the money paid out, and the situation is an interesting one, fraught with possible developments, as a tender of money is to be made for the privileges in actual use by the lodges and if this is refused it is hinted that efforts will be made to have the water turned on anyway.

WACO PEOPLE SAY MUZZLE ALL DOGS

WACO, Texas, June 7.—The anxiety caused by the incident of last week and week before, wherein four children living near Robinson were bitten by a dog, has led to much discussion in the city of the practice of allowing dogs to run at large without muzzles, and the opinion has been freely expressed that this is the wrong course for the city to pursue. There is talk of having an ordinance introduced providing for properly muzzling all dogs which are loose, and if there is already an ordinance of this kind on the books, to have it revived. There are several hundred worthless curs in the city which do no good, but make hideous noises at night, and these could be dispensed with readily. A proper dox tax, supplemented by the muzzle feature, is the plan proposed by some.

The island of Nordstrand, the only portion of once fertile North Friesland, which is as yet unreclaimed, is now to be saved from the sea by the construction of a large dyke. The island was first separated from the mainland by a terrific storm in 1634, during which over 6,000 persons were drowned.
