The SDN Column

A little more than three years ago Snyder experienced one of its most damaging floods in history. Perhaps it was the biggest flood ever to move down Deep Creek, but you can get into plenty of arguments about that from those who recall the flood of '39. Nevertheless, the flood of '72 and the flood of '39 both did their damage.

Almost immediately following the flood of '72, interest in flood control emerged. Now, three years later, a proposal is approaching the crucial stage. A public hearing will be held Thursday by the State Soil and Water Conservation Board to determine whether a planning project for flood control on the Deep Creek watershed is to be approved.

Three years ago, when talk of such a project first began, and while the flood of '72 was still fresh on the memories of Snyder area residents, it was indicated that it would require around eight years to get a flood control project completed—that is, providing all of some 16 separate steps were cleared without delay. Later, it appeared that there was hope that the time could be cut substantially. But to those who experienced losses and to everyone who witnessed the flood, even three years seems a long time.

Anyway, the proposal has reached the stage where working plans are needed, and these must come about if the project is to materialize. The results of the hearing here Thursday will determine whether funds for the planning are to be approved. So, if you are interested in this proposal, be at the hearing, which will begin at 11 a.m. Thursday in the district courtroom of the county courthouse.

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen the other day re-affirmed his support of an Amtrak passenger train route that would include Snyder. Some two years ago, a group of cities requested that a route from Atlanta, Ga., to the West Coast be considered. They proposed a route from Atlanta to Dallas to Abilene to Lubbock and on the Albuquerque and beyond. In the Texas segment, this route would follow the Missouri Pacific (T&P) tracks as far west as Sweetwater, and then move on the Santa Fe through Snyder to Lubbock and on to New Mexico.

The Amtrak proposal was thrust into the spotlight recently when a group of cities farther west on the Missouri Pacific announced that they hoped to get the Atlanta-West Coast train to continue on through El Paso. However, there already is Amtrak service through El Paso via the Southern Pacific.

Anyway, the route to Albuquerque was the first proposal made, and apparently it still has the bulk of support.

But there's a lot of red tape to be unraveled before such a service comes to pass, and the proposal is merely for an experimental operation. Still, there are indications every day that mass transit is going to play an increasingly important role in the lives of Americans as time goes on, and those who have it will have an advantage over those who do not. And; since Snyder is without scheduled air service, an Amtrak train could be a big help.—WACIL McNAIR.

Hearing Slated On Deep Creek Plans

A public hearing has been set for 11 a.m. Thursday in the district courtroom of the courthouse on a Deep Creek flood control project.

The hearing, to be conducted by the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board, will determine whether the state board will approve planning for the proposed project.

Interest in flood control on the Deep Creek watershed got new attention following a damaging flood on Aug. 13, 1972.

The flood problem was discussed with Soil Conservation Service representatives and eventually the city and county agreed to become local sponsors of the project.

Members of the state board, along with representatives of the Soil Conservation Service, will make a tour earlier Thursday morning of the Deep Creek watershed. They are due to visit some of the possible sites for structures that would be included in the plans.

All area residents who are interested in the flood control project have been urged to attend the hearing.

The flood of 1972 inflicted around a million dollars in damage to property in an around Snyder. If the flood control project develops, the local sponsors (the city and county) will take care of expenses involved in acquiring easements and other expenses except for actual construction work. A federal grant will finance construction work.

Feasibility of the project was established in earlier hearings held here, and approval of planning would be one of the last steps prior to the launching of actual construction work.

Members of the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board, who will conduct the hearing are Henry Turney of Dublin, chairman, Albert Roach of Paris, vice chairman; Joe Antilley, of Abilene, J. Frank Gray of Lubbock and E.W. Wehman of Pleasanton.

State board staff members due here for the hearing are Harvey Davis of Temple, executive director; G.E. "Sonny" Kretzschmar, of Temple, engineer; Mel Davis of Temple, field representative, and Willie Y. Reece of Lubbock, field representative.

Soil Conservation Service representatives scheduled to attend are Logan Crews of Temple, assistant state conservationist (water resources); Earl D. Archer of Big Spring, area conservationist, and F. Charles Baird of Big Spring, civil engineer.

Re-Make Session On SHS Pictures

Snyder High School students who failed to get class pictures made during registration will have an opportunity again Tuesday morning.

A re-make session for class pictures is set for 8:30 a.m. in the SHS auditorium.

Record Enrollment Forecast At WTC

A new enrollment record is in sight at Western Texas College for the fall semester with 700 students already signed up through pre-registration on the main campus and at extension centers.

Dr. Duane Hood, Dean of Student Services and Registrar, said he was forecasting an enrollment of about 1,300 students by the time registration ends this week. Students will register Tuesday and Wednesday on the WTC main campus and on Thursday night at extension centers in Haskell, Sweetwater, Colorado City, Post and Rotan. Approximately 100 students registered in Sweetwater last Thursday night, making it the largest of the WTC extension centers.

Sophomore students will register at WTC from 1-5 p.m. Tuesday, while freshman registration is to begin at 8 a.m. Wednesday. All students beginning registration will go first to he Museum Building, entering through the south door adjoining the parking lot. Counselors will be there to assist students in making schedules.

A special registration is planned from 6:30-9 p.m. Tuesday for evening students who cannot attend the day-time registration. All students who have not completed registration may register from 1-5 p.m. Wednesday. Classes for day and evening students begin Thursday.

All offices at the college will be closed Monday for Labor Day.

Students are invited to be the guests of WTC faculty members on Wednesday night for an ice cream supper in the Central Courtyard on the campus. An all-school assembly will be held at 9:30 a.m. Thursday in the WTC gym and the traditional Howdy Dance is set for 8:30 Thursday night in the courtyard.

Agnew's Son Put On Probation

BALTIMORE (AP) — Former Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's son has been placed on probation after being convicted of a trespass charge that stemmed from an alleged peeping tom incident.

After finding James Rand Agnew, 28, guilty on Friday, District Judge Sol Friedman ordered the verdict stricken, granting Agnew probation before judgment.

Agnew testified that he had been drinking heavily since about 4 p.m. the day before and had been driving near the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy M. Frye when he stopped to relieve himself.

Ford Pledges Every Effort To Generate Jobs

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP) — President Ford told a rain-dampened outing of union workers today that the nation's unemployment rate is way too high and he pledged "to do everything in my power to generate new jobs."

But he said the nation cannot regain its economic health unless there is a concerted effort by labor, management and government.

He declared he will continue to oppose and veto what he called stopgap congressional programs — "programs conceived in panic and partisanship, that will lead to nothing but new rounds of inflation and even worse, unemployment."

The President received polite applause at various times from the 3,000 or so persons in the more than half-empty Augusta Civic Center. They were attending a field day, held to raise $50,000 to construct a swimming pool for the Pineland Hospital and Training Center for Retarded Children.

Sponsors had expected 8,000 for the Labor Day weekend outing, but the crowd was held down by heavy rain, which also dampened outdoor activities.

Augusta was the first stop for Ford in a full day of appearances in Maine and Rhode Island. Later he was to address Republican fund-raising affairs in Portland, Maine, and Newport, R.I.

He also arranged in Newport to hold a news conference with three local television reporters.

The Republican National Committee is paying for the trip, as it has on several recent Ford travels that have included GOP fundraisers.

After criticism of this practice by Sen. Lloyd M. Bentsen Jr., D-Tex., Ford left his big presidential jet, Air Force One, in a hangar this time and flew in a smaller Jetstar. Air Force One costs $2,206 an hour to operate, the Jetstar $886.

Bentsen, a Democratic candidate for President, contends the President is making appearances on behalf of his own candidacy and that the cost should be born by his campaign treasury.

The White House answers that Ford is appearing only on behalf of the party and he does not plan to start his campaign officially until January.

In his Augusta remarks, Ford said on this Labor Day the nation should think not only of the working people but also of "the millions of our fellow citizens who are out of work through no fault of their own.

"Labor Day is no holiday for those out of work," he said. "The level of unemployment in the United States is too high by any standard."

The President said America faces a problem not only of lowering the present unemployment rate of more than 8 per cent, but by 1980 it also must create 11 million new jobs for an expanding economy.

Ford said that while there are favorable indications of an easing recession, the creation of new jobs is going to be tough.

Peru Calm After Bloodless Coup

By HENRY S. ACKERMAN
Associated Press Writer

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Peru was calm today after a bloodless "palace coup" by army commanders who placed dapper Gen. Francisco Morales Bermudez at the helm of the Socialist-oriented military regime.

Morales Bermudez immediately pledged that the Peruvian revolutionary process "shall not change an inch" in its ideological and political guidelines but that he would endeavor to develop a better understanding among Peruvians.

Only a few riot troops were placed around important government buildings, and there were no reports of large troop movements, violence or opposition to the new regime.

Veteran observers predicted the new leftist rulers would continue the mixture of state socialism and capitalism adopted by ousted President Juan Velasco Alvarado, the leader of the seven-year Peruvian "revolutionary" government who had been criticized by some recently for his crackdown on the opposition and the press.

National radio said the communique announcing the coup said the revolt was to eliminate "personality cults and detours that our institutions had suffered."

The State Department in Washington declined official comment, but some officials said privately they expected a softening of the anti-American tone which had characterized the Velasco regime.

Morales, 53, immediately gained support from Peru's army, air force, navy, police and civil guard units. He was 600 miles south in Tacna where the coup had been planned but flew to Lima late Friday and entered the presidential office building at dusk without fanfare.

He had been named to the triple post of prime minister, army chief of staff and defense minister by Velasco in February after serving twice as economy minister. Observers speculated at the time that Velasco had personally picked him as his eventual successor. Velasco has been suffering severe circulatory problems since February; his right leg was amputated in 1973.

Enrollment Is Almost 3,500

Enrollment in Snyder Public Schools was knocking at the 3,500 mark at the end of the first week, with additional students expected to enroll following the Labor Day holiday.

The over-all total had increased to 3,495 by Friday. The schools will be out for the holiday Monday, with classes to resume Tuesday morning.

The enrollment by schools at the end of the first week: Senior high school, 1,011; junior high school, 586; North Elementary, 290; Central Elementary, 385; East Elementary, 288; West Elementary, 324; Northeast Elementary, 282; Stanfield Elementary, 266; Humble-Smith, 63. Enrollment showed a slight gain here at the beginning of the term, with first day figures showing 3,483 compared to 3,431 the first day last year. The gains were in the elementary grades, mostly in kindergarten.

VIEWPOINT

Meany's Switcheroo

The concern for the consumer expressed recently by George Meany, AFL-CIO President, appears somewhat ironic. Meany fears that the sale of American wheat to Russia will result in higher prices for wheat products at home. Moreover, he wants assurance that if wheat is shipped to Russia, it will go on American ships.

On the surface these may loom as normal concerns, but in Meany's case, the attitude toward the wheat sale is a big switcheroo. He fears that the price of bread might rise, although there is no question at all now that this country has produced a huge surplus of wheat this year. And Meany has expressed no concern at all in the past as his unions have demanded higher wages which inevitably raised the prices of essential consumer goods.

At this point he might well be worrying about how farmers are going to continue to pay the ever-increasing prices for products turned out by his unions. If they can't sell surpluses from their harvest, then there's big trouble ahead for all of us.

In many cases, of course, the unions undoubtedly have been entitled to better contracts, but their impact on the consumer at the end of the line has been ignored by Meany. At least he has failed to speak out on the subject until the wheat dispute. He appears to have trouble navigating unless he is on a one-way street.

A Biting Comment

Say what you will about women's liberation, it may just possibly be instrumental in reducing the incidence of bruxism.

Eh?

It's no joke. Bruxism is the unconscious habit of clenching or grinding the teeth together. It usually happens during sleep, even to denture wearers. The result is not only wear and tear on he teeth but in many cases chronic headaches that have no biological cause.

Four out of five known bruxists are women, according to Drs. William R. Cinotti and Arthur Grider, professors of prosthodontics (dental appliances) at the College of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey. And that's where the feminist movement comes in.

"It's a matter of inner conflict," say the experts. "We're accustomed to openly aggressive behavior in men, which tends to reduce their inner conflicts, while women are expected to remain cool and composed."

Thus, they add, "liberation may permit women to vent aggressive tendencies more openly and freely, and this may reduce the incidence of bruxism."

Meeting Set On Oil Compromise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield plans to meet with congressional Democrats next week on a new compromise plan to decontrol domestic oil prices.

And a White House spokesman says President Ford agreed to delay his veto of a measure extending the controls for six months until after Mansfield reports back on the results of the meeting.

That agreement emerged from a one-hour conference Friday involving Ford, Mansfield and House Speaker Carl Albert on how to proceed with restoring price controls and government oil-allocation authority after they expire by law at midnight Sunday.

Congress has twice refused to approve administration plans for gradual removal of controls over 30 or 39 months and instead passed a simple six-month extension of controls that Ford has vowed to veto.

Press Secretary Ron Nessen said the President still would veto that extension, but would be willing to sign a shorter extension, perhaps for 30 or 60 days, if he were confident that Congress would adopt a gradual decontrol plan within a few weeks.

Mansfield said he told Ford that Congress could complete work on such a plan and related legislation within 30 days. The House and Senate return from their month-long recess on Wednesday, and the Senate leader said he would meet with congressional Democrats either that day or Thursday.

Although there would be a gap between the time controls expired and they were restored, Federal Energy Administrator Frank G. Zarb said any extension signed by Ford would be applied retroactively to Aug. 31 so there would effectively be no period in which prices were decontrolled.

Administration officials have estimated that even a sudden, permanent decontrol of oil prices, coupled with Ford's promised lifting of the $2-a-barrel fee on imported oil, would add no more than about three cents per gallon to the retail price of gas

Horse Hit By Pickup Truck

Highway Patrolmen investigated a one-vehicle mishap on U.S. 180 about 2.6 miles east of town at 6:30 a.m. Saturday.

Bodies In Cave-In Recovered

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — The bodies of five men trapped in a sewer cave-in in this resort city were recovered today, police reported.

The men had been trapped in the 700-foot long, eight-foot diameter tunnel since it collapsed and became inundated with water since about 9:30 p.m. Friday.

Police said the five men had been working on an extension of a sewer tunnel when a retaining wall broke, entirely filling the shaft with backed-up storm-drainage water.

It had rained heavily in Western New York on and off all day Friday.

The workers were employes of the D'Mambro and Majestic Construction Co. of Detroit, Mich., according to police.

A private security guard reported there had been some blasting activity in the area in the hours before the cave-in. But police discounted the report, saying it was the heavy pressure from the unusually heavy rains that caused the collapse of the wall.

More than 3½ inches fell in nearby Buffalo since the rain began Friday afternoon.

One of the victims was identified as Steven Hills, 25, a resident of this city. The identity of the other victims was not released.

Shipping Rate Talks Hit Snag

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S.-Soviet negotiations on shipping rates for American grain sold to the Russians are in suspension until Sept. 9, having hit what a White House source calls a "temporary snag."

A Federal Maritime Administration spokesman, confirming the breakoff of the talks Friday, said: "Obviously there are still significant differences between what we are demanding and what they are willing to pay."

U.S. negotiators have been pressing to obtain higher rates for U.S. ships, which receive government subsidies and bear higher labor costs than vessels of other nations.

In addition, the maritime unions have demanded that more than one-third of the 10.3 million metric tons of U.S. grain sold to the Soviets be transported in American flag vessels, thus assuring more jobs for their member seamen.

The failure thus far to obtain agreement on the shipping arrangements further complicates efforts to end the refusal by union longshoremen to load grain destined for Russia.

The unions contend that the large sales of U.S. wheat will mean higher food prices at American supermarkets.

Portugal Army Units Alerted

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Army units throughout Portugal were placed on alert Sat. following the refusal of nine anti-Communist officers to recognize ousted premier Vasco Goncalves as new armed forces chief.

The defiant nine had spearheaded the drive for Goncalves' ouster from the premiership. He was replaced as premier Friday night by Vice Adm. Jose Pinheiro de Azevedo.

But Goncalves appeared to lack effective authority in three of the nation's four military regions.

Only the commander of the northern region, Gen. Eurico Corvacho, among the four regional chiefs remained loyal to Goncalves.

Some of Corvacho's men were reported in revolt against his authority. Several northern command units placed themselves voluntarily under the orders of central area commander Gen. Carlos Charais, one of the nine officers led by Maj. Ernesto Melo Antunes.

The Antunes group claimed the Friday night session of the Revolutionary Council where Goncalves was given the military command was illegal because they were absent.

A communique signed by Melo Antunes also announced that the nine officers had secretly been readmitted to the 28-man council. They had been suspended from it because they opposed Goncalves.

The new premier, Angolan-born Vice Adm. Jose Pinheiro de Azevedo, was named after three days of almost nonstop secret negotiations by the council.

In another sign of opposition to Goncalves, President Francisco da Costa Gomes announced that the national security command of Gen. Otelo Saraiva de Carvalho will remain directly under the president, and thus excluded from Goncalves' authority.

Theft Cases Are Probed

Three men in a late model car, a white over green Chevrolet, left the L&L Gas Station at 9:56 p.m. Friday without paying for $10 worth of gas, according to City Police.

Officers also are investigating the theft of a Citizen's Band radio valued at $90 from the pickup of J.W. Tatom, 2208 Avenue L, Thursday night.

Wife's 'Peach' Wants To Stay in Tree

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1975 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.,

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a 43-year-old handsome hunk of man with a peach of a disposition. He's a TV repair man and does very well. We have two children, and I must admit he is a good father.

My complaints: He can't go to a movie because he hates to sit still for that long. He won't go to church for the same reason. He won't take me dancing because he thinks dancing is foolish. He doesn't like to go out for dinner because it's too expensive. He refuses to go to band concerts because he doesn't like that kind of music.

Camping is too rough and fishing is boring. He WILL go deer hunting, but he won't take me because "men don't take their wives." He won't go for a walk with me because he might miss his favorite TV programs.

The only place he likes to go with me is to bed, and he's very good in that department.

I'm 38 and tired of staying home all the time. Any suggestions?

HOMEBODY

DEAR HOMEBODY: Count your blessings. A man with a "peach of a disposition" who is a good father can't be all bad. Build a social life by inviting a few friends in. You don't have to go "out" to have a good time.

DEAR ABBY: My husband makes me feel like such a dummy every time I ask him a question that I've quit asking him. However, right at this moment I am sitting here puzzled and in tears, so I decided to write to you.

My basement is flooded, and I can't do my washing. My husband went on a fishing trip, and he never told me what to do if the water in the basement comes up so high it covers the sump pump.

Should I wade down there and unplug it, or will I get electrocuted?

IN TEARS IN KANKAKEE

DEAR IN: First, you are no dummy for asking. When electricity is involved with water, DO NOT TOUCH ANYTHING! Phone your power company and ask them to come out and turn off the power to your house.

DEAR ABBY: A few years ago, a niece of mine was expecting a baby. Knowing that she and her husband didn't have much, I offered them a crib and highchair I had in my attic. They seemed very happy to get these items.

Now it has come to my attention that this niece SOLD the crib and highchair to a secondhand furniture dealer!

Abby, don't you think that she should have asked me if I wanted those pieces back since she had no more use for them? Also, since she got them for nothing, don't you think any money she received from selling them rightfully belongs to me?

AUNT BESSIE

DEAR AUNT: If you LENT your niece the items, she should have returned them to you. But if you gave them to her, they were hers to sell or use, at her discretion.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "ALL FOULED UP IN BOZEMAN": If you were sick, you'd gladly pay a doctor for curing you, wouldn't you? So, why, when you have legal problems, do you try to get help from unqualified people who might involve you even more deeply in debt? Engage a lawyer and pay him for what he knows. It's the best investment you can make.

One Hurt In Mishap Here

Annice Hawkins Johnson, 43, 3100 Avenue K, sustained minor injuries in a two-car collision at Twenty-fourth Street and Avenue Q at 9:32 a.m. Friday.

She was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by Galyean Ambulance Service and released after receiving treatment.

She was driving a 1972 Model Volkswagen that was in collision with a 1964 Model Chevrolet operated by Jackqueline G. Chaney, 111 Chestunt.

Police also investigated one other mishap. It occurred at Avenue E and Twenty-fifth Street at 7:40 p.m. Involved were the 1967 Model Ford of Barry Leon Jackson, Route 1, Hermleigh, and the 1953 Model Chevrolet of Howard Edward Riggs, Route 2, Snyder.

Dr. Lamb
Infections are common problem

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Because of the numerous letters I receive asking about vaginal infections, I am devoting several columns to this problem.

Perhaps the most common vaginal infection is trichomoniasis, which is a parasite. In fact, the most successful form of treatment is also used to treat amoeba of the colon.

Trichomoniasis is really properly classified as a veneral disease, since it can be passed back and forth between sexual partners. That is why often both the woman and her male sexual partner must be treated as opposed to a temporary cure.

In a routine screening examination about 27 per cent of women has trichomoniasis organisms. When the organisms cause inflammation of the vagina the discharge is a yellow-green color or sometimes clear. It can be frothy or even watery. The discharge may be quite copius and have a bad, fetid odor. Sometimes the discharge is irritating to the skin and surrounding area.

The trichomonasis can live and multiply nicely in the acid environment of the vagina. They do not need to be confined to the vagina. Like other parasites they can be in the digestive track or bladder. That is why local treatment with vaginal suppositories is usually not adequate.

The infected man may not have any symptoms at all and still harbor the parasite. In one study of nearly 250 men with symptoms of inflammation of the urethra (urethritis) not caused by bacteria, over a third of them had trichomoniasis organisms. In another study of men whose wives had trichomoniasis, over half of them had the infection. If the woman is treated and her infected husband is not she will soon be re-infected.

If treatment of the woman is not successful, it is important that the man be examined, too, and usually he will require treatment at the same time the wife is treated. Both the man and the woman should take Flagyl for a 10-day interval. The woman may also need to increase the acidity of the vagina using a douch of two tablespoons of vinegar per quart of lukewarm water. The vinegar douch will not cure trichomoniasis. It is merely an aid. Flagyl is the important medicine to eradictate the infection in the vagine, bladder and possibly in the rectum.

Flagyl can't be used during pregnancy, because it will cross over through the placenta and can be harmful to the baby. When a person is taking it he or she should not drink alcohol as this can result in a serious, confused state. Flagyl is not an innocous medicine and must be handled with respect.

In preventing attacks of vaginitis, it is important that the woman cleanse the vulva and area daily with soap. Because the parasties can be in the rectum and surrounding area, it is better to use tampons and not a sanitary napkin to prevent vaginitis. After bowel movements, the toilet tissue should be moved from front to back, away from the vaginal area. Obiviously enema tips should never be used for douching.

With patience and attention to treating both partners when it is needed, about 90 per cent of women with trichomoniasis vaginitis can be cured and kept free of the problem.

Send your questions to Dr. Lamb in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. While Dr. Lamb cannot answer all of your questions personally, he will answer representative questions in this column.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Will you please tell me how the blood sugar is checked? I thought it was in the blood, but a nurse told me that the main test was of the urine. She said the amount of sugar we have in the urine is what is important.

How high does your blood suagr have to be before you have to take shots?

DEAR READER—The most reliable test is of the blood. When your blood sugar is too high sugar will spill into the urine. For this reason diabetics often test their urine as a daily guide to how well their diabetes is controlled.

Many normal persons may have a temporary peak of blood sugar after eating a lot of sweets, and this may cause a spill of sugar into the urine. But the blood level is only for a short duration, and these people do not have diabetes. A urine test showing sugar must always be followed up with careful blood tests to see if the person is really diabetic or not.

Opinions differ on how high the blood sugar has to be before you have to take insulin. I usually prefer to see a patient who is overweight lose weight before deciding on insulin if the elevation is not too much. After weight loss, if the person still has high blood sugar levels, then insulin may be indicated. Some doctors like to control the level of blood sugar to near normal levels; others settle for keeping the level low enough that no major amounts of sugar are lost in the urine.

For more information on testing for diabetes write to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019, send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50 cents and ask for The Health Letter number 3-11, Diabetes: Diagnosis, Prevention and Management.

DEAR DR. LAMB—When my husband was examined recently the doctor had him on the examing table and was feeling his stomcah. What I want to know is why the doctor then felt his leg and the lower part of th leg close to the foot. What connection is there between a person's stomach and the person's lower leg? Does the leg show something if the person's stomach has something wrong with it?

Also, I'd like to know if a person's weight goes up or down when they have a tumor or growth?

DEAR READER— Sounds like your husband got a good examination, and you should be pleased.

A doctor examines the abdomen to feel for any masses or tumors and if possible to feel the large artery that runs along the backbone. This is sometimes difficult in obese individuals. Sometimes the large artery is enlarged or may be partially ruptured.

In checking the circulation it is important to try to feel the abdominal artery and then to check the pulsations lower in the thigh and leg. Doctors often go from the abdomen to the leg because it is easier to do a good examination with the patient lying down. You can have disease anywhere along the arterial tract from the abdomen to the arteries in the foot. The pulsation just behind the ankle bone is sometimes feeble in people with obstruction of the arteries. The inner aspect of the thigh is also a good place to feel the arteries.

Whether a person gains or loses weight with a tumor depends on what type it is. A benign tumor is just more growth and may add to weight. A malignant tumor may affect normal body function and commonly leads to loss of weight.

SRU Evening Sign-Up Set

An evening registration for students in Sul Ross State University extension classes at Western Texas College will be held from 4-6 p.m. Tuesday in the Administration Building at WTC.

Textbooks are also to be available at the Tuesday registration.

Seven classes are to be offered for graduate level students by Sul Ross at the Western Texas College extension center this fall. Classes still open for registration are Ed. 7304, Ed. 5310, and Ed. 7305a. Classes for Ed. 5323, Ed. 7303, Ed. 7305b and P. Ed. 5301, have not reached minimum enrollment.

Persons wishing further information about the Sul Ross program amy contact Mrs. Mitzy Elledge, Sul Ross coordinator, in the WTC Administration Building or may call her at 573-7640.

Sul Ross classes will begin Sept. 8. Students may register during regular office hours until Sept. 5.

Veterans May Apply At WTC

Veterans planning to enroll at Western Texas College for the fall semester may still apply for VA educational benefits, Dan Dever, Veterans' Outreach Coordinator, said.

Veterans and other adults who have not completed high school or a GED program may be admitted to WTC by individual approval. Veterans who would like further information may contact Dever at his office in the WTC Administration Building.

Independence is the greatest gift parents can help their children obtain, according to Mrs. Illene Miller, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Ceramics Classes Planned At WTC

Ceramics courses for beginning or advanced students will be offered in day and evening classes at Western Texas College this fall.

Mike Thornton, who is beginning his fourth year as ceramics instructor at the college, uses the traditional approach in teaching ceramics students. Instruction includes both wheel-thrown and handbuilding techniques, with classes totally individualized to fill the needs of each student.

Ceramics students may take the courses either for college credit or as non-credit courses. All the equipment used is provided in the ceramics lab and the fee of $41 includes the cost of all materials used. The student keeps all the pieces he makes and there is no limit to the number of pieces he may make.

Beginning students will enroll for Art 234, an introduction to ceramic processes. Advanced students will enroll for Art 239. Both the classes are scheduled from 1-1:50 p.m. and 6:30-7:20 p.m. on Thuesdays and Thursdays. Lab hours are scheduled at the convenience of the students as long as those times do not conflict with other classes and the lab is open throughout theday. Commutingstudentsmay arrange a variable schedule to minimize the number of trips they must make.

Thornton's students turn out a variety of functional pieces—oven-proof casseroles, vases, bowls and planters for example—and students of all ages share the enjoyment of creating finished pieces from raw clay.

Registration at WTC is scheduled Sept. 2-3 with classes starting Sept. 4. A registration period is also planned from 6:30-9 p.m. on Sept. 2 for the convenience of evening students who cannot register during working hours.

Students Seek Part-Time Work

Employers seeking part-time or temporary help are invited to list job openings with the Financial Aids at Western Texas College.

"We have several students who want part-time employment to help pay their college expenses," Glenn Davis, Financial Aids Officer, said. "We will keep a list of jobs which are available for students and try to send the best qualified students to talk to the employer."

Davis or his secretary, Mrs. Xan Harris, may be contacted by telephone at WTC, 573-8511, extension 204.

Hearings Set

HOUSTON (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge Carl O. Bue has set a hearing for Sept. 16 to determine if Harris County should be allowed to proceed with a Sept. 27 bond issue with only $15 million sought for county detention facilities.

The hearing was sought by the American Civil Liberties Union in a suit filed in behalf of county inmates contending the operation and maintenance of county detention facilities violates inmate rights.

The county agreed to a consent judgment last February to bring the existing facility and its operation up to federal and state standards. However, the ACLU questions if the $15 million sought by the county in the bond issue will be enough to meet those requirements.

Researchers Have Created Rats With "Fat" Teeth

SEATTLE (AP) — You've heard of kids developing a 'sweet' tooth? Well, Monster is a rat with a 'fat' tooth.

In research at the University of Washington's department of psychology, normal rats are being turned into huge rats that do little more than eat and waddle about their cages.

The research is aimed at manipulating the part of a rat's brain that controls bodyweight, in an effort to understand how that section of the brain works in humans.

This is done by opening up the rat's skull with a dental drill and then shooting two small doses of electricity into the brain section known as the hypothalamus.

The resulting lesion is what changes the rat's eating habits.

A day after the anesthetized operation, "the rat recovers and starts eating like crazy," says Paul Kulkosky, a psychology graduate student.

"It develops a 'fat' tooth. What it likes best is Purina Rat Chow (yes, it really exists) mixed in with Crisco," he said.

The operation is supposed to simulate a rare-type of brain damage that affects humans and is known as the Frohlich Syndrome. People thus afflicted become obese, usually weighing more than 15 per cent over their normal body weight.

Dr. Stephen Woods, who heads the program, says extremely obese persons get fat because the brain sends out signals to the body to increase its fat content.

"Nobody know why that happens," he says. "But if we find out what signal the brain is sending, then we should be able to modify it."

Monster, as one experimental rat is called, now weighs two pounds, about four times that of a normal rat.

Kulkosky sticks his right hand in a thick leather glove and takes Monster out of its cage. The rat immediately begins biting the glove.

"Sometimes they really surprise you and jump out at you, biting the moment you open up the cage," he says. "I could show you a few bite spots on my hand.

"That's why we have the 'Monster' sign on the cage, so people won't approach it."

Monster is a special case because the lesion not only made it obese but so hypersensitive it attacks at the slightest intrusion.

Woods says even researchers familiar with the experiments are leery of Monster, who, like other research rats, probably will end up decapitated so scientists can cut thin slices of the brain and embed them in glass slides for study.

WTC Assured 7 Classes At Sweetwater

Scheduling of at least seven classes at the new Sweetwater extension center of Western Texas College was assured by first night registration Thursday.

"We were well pleased with the response," Dr. Ben Brock, WTC vice president, said. "Many of those attending registration took time to express their appreciation to WTC for bringing these college opportunities to them, and we are certainly pleased to have been asked to set up an extension program in Sweetwater."

Classes which have already enrolled a sufficient number of students to be scheduled definitely are Art 232, English 131, U.S. History 131, Psychology 231, Sociology 231, Management 131 (Human Behavior and Motivation), and Management 134 (Salesmanship).

Students are still needed for classes in Economics 231, Government 231, Conversational Spanish 131 and Law Enforcement 234.

Registration at all extension centers will be continued Thursday night as classes begin.

Oil Price Controls In Spotlight Last Week

By JOSH FITZHUGH
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A plan to gradually phase out price controls on the oil industry got new life this past week.

President Ford agreed to stay a veto of a bill extending price controls for six months on the assurances of Democratic leaders that they would push Congress to adopt a phased end of oil price controls.

With present controls expiring Sunday, Ford's promised veto seemed likely to lead to an immediate end to price regulations on oil, though Congress could have overriden the veto.

The administration had estimated that immediate decontrol would increase gasoline prices initially 3½ cents a gallon.

Forces for immediate decontrol were fractured early in the week by unexpected division within the oil industry itself, highlighted by Mobil Oil Corp.'s call for a gradual phaseout.

Mobil's position, denounced by some other major oil companies, was in line with some smaller independent firms which fear that decontrol will raise their costs and hurt the economic recovery now underway.

Ironically it was a gradual phaseout of controls that both the industry and President Ford had originally sought.

Fears of decontrol's economic impact, placed as high as $30 billion a year by some economists, was diminished somewhat by the government's latest trade report and index of leading economic indicators.

For the sixth consecutive month, and despite a rise in oil imports, the country posted a trade surplus. The July figure of $977 million, though nearly half the previous month's surplus, brought the 1975 surplus to $6.41 billion, a big gain over the $614 million deficit of a year ago.

And for the fifth consecutive month, the government's leading indicators were positive, with July's index up 1.7 per cent from June. A rising index generally signals better times ahead.

Comments by Federal Reserve Board Chairman Arthur Burns that the Fed would consider moves to ease long-term interest rates pushed interest rates down and stock prices up on Wall Street.

Meanwhile New York City continued on the road to default. The big city banks rejected a state plan, which would have coupled greater state supervision of the financially ailing metropolis with new aid from the banks. At week's end city, state and business officials were huddling in closed sessions trying to find a solution, but governor Hugh Carey termed the situation "grave."

Without new aid, the city will not have the cash necessary to meet expenses beginning the end of the coming week. On Sept. 5 New York must meet a $104 million payroll and on Sept. 15 a $433 million note issue which falls due.

It was agreed on Feb. 27, 1962, by a board of inquiry that U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers had done all he could to obey his instructions from the Central Intelligence Agency.

DIVERSIFIED

BY BILLY E. ROACH
COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT

INSECT SITUATION:

We have seen a tremendous increase in boll weevil damage during the past two weeks. The checkers for the Hi-Plains Diapause Program confirmed this by their actual count.

The spray program in the Fluvanna Area began on August 25 with the first spray. Fifty of the 87 fields under observation in that area received an application. Further applications will be made as the boll weevil count indicates.

The purpose of this program is to reduce the number of weevils moving into diapause to overwinter This drastically reduces the number of weevils surviving the winter and emerging the following year.

In other areas of the county, it appears that a very high percent of young cotton forms will be damaged by the weevil.

FALLING PECANS:

We are seeing a lot of our pecans falling off the trees at this time. Some varities are worse than others.

This time of the year we expect to loose a few for various reasons. However it appears that losses may be somewhat higher than average due to scab disease.

Pecans infected with scab have small black dots or larger sunken areas on the husk. It may entirely cover the entire nut surface.

Little can be done about this disease now. This fungi overwinters on old husk, nuts and leaves and is carried to the new crop by insects, wind and rain. As temperature and weather conditions become favorable it attacks the leaves and nuts of new growth.

Control measures must be applied in the spring and summer. This year the rain and high humidity have been excellent for growth of scab fungi. For this reason we are having a pretty severe scab infestation in our pecans. Good sanitation and cleanup this fall and winter and the incorporation of a good fungicide next spring will surely aid in controlling this disease next year.

TREAT SMALL GRAIN SEED:

We are approaching planting season for small grains. Many producers saved planting seed from last year. It will be a good idea to check the condition of these seeds before planting. Good quality planting seed are a necessity for a good stand of vigorous seedlings.

If you haven't treated the seed you should do so before planting. Particularly in seed lots where some smut was observed last year.

Seed treatment for smut in oats are Polyram (80 percent W.P.), Maneb (80 percent W.P.), Dithane M-22, Manzate and Terraclor. For smut in barley use Polyram (80 percent (W.P.), Vitavax (75 percent W.P.), Arasan or Pheyl-. mercury acetate. For smut in wheat Vitavax, Terracoat LT-2, or Polyram (80 percent W .P.) may be used.

A Little About One Or Two Hundred Things

By JEAN EVERETT

With general good humor and in the festive mood of a celebration men, women and children gathered at the seat of the community's government, the county courthouse. Some were dressed in their best; others in what was more comfortable.

Amid hugs and kisses could be heard, "I haven't seen you in a hundred years" and it was almost true.

The event was colored by flags flying; ladies in long dresses and wearing an occasional hat or carrying a frilly parasol; a man in a frock-tailed coat; and pink lemonade being consumed over conversation.

A state senator and representative, county commissioners, the district and county judges, the mayor protem and city manager gave an official sanction to the ceremonies.

It was August 21—a day to be remembered in the history of Scurry County. It could have been the year 1876—but it wasn't. It was Thursday, 1975, and it was the official designation and receiving of certificates and a flag of Scurrry County's Bicentennial status.

Delbert Downing, General Chairman of the Scurry County Bicentennial and Centennial Celebrations, set the mood of the program with his friendliness and ease as he called for the Bicentennial Orchestra to entertain. With Teddy Joe McMillan at the electric piano, Dub Everett, Herman Trigg, R.E. (Pat) Patterson and M.C. Johnson struck up some oldies, one of which was "Blue Moon." Mr. Trigg announced it to be 200 years old; Downing later retorted that he recalled that "New" song when he was a boy, which led to the assumption by Senator Ray Farabee that Delbert must be 200 years or so old.

Members of the Black Community Choir favored the crowd with three songs, "Wade in the Water," Down by the Riverside," and "I'll Overcome." Rev. Uaria Hill, pastor of the New Hope Baptist Church gave introductory comments to the numbers before Sedalia Malone, Evelyn Malone, Imogene Johnson, and R.J. Nelson sang. Darriel Collins accompanied the group on the electric piano.

Other introductions followed, then Senator Ray Farabee spoke briefly, with optimism for the future. All in all, it was a day to remember.

And in remembering, we recall the same date in 1876 when the Texas Legislature mapped out the boundaries of 54 counties (Scurry among them) in the then scarcely populated territory of west and northwest Texas. It must have taken great foresight and faith to designate this vast area as legal Texas counties when at the time buffalo still roamed the plains, Indians raided isolated farms, coyotes and wolves howled and prairie dogs dug holes in the land.

Apparently we have come a long way since that time and it seems fitting that we as Scurry Countians celebrate two birthdays in 1976, the 200th of our nation and the 100th of our county.

As we make plans to celebrate, we must pause to recall the courage of those early pioneers because they staked out the way for us. Names like the Nunn brothers, John W. Thomas, and James H.; Pete Snyder; J. Wright and John Mooar; Mr. and Mrs. James Webb; J.I. Green; W.A. Johnson; W.D. Sims; T.J. Faught; Samuel Wilks; and Kin Elkins come to mind—others came later. The U.S. Census of 1880 enumerated only 102 persons living in the county with 32 residences; 25 families and 32 employes. Of the 102 persons, 8 were Negroes.

One of our purposes for celebrating is to give honor to those many pioneers; and in giving honor we come to appreciate and understand the heritage they have passed on to us.

From time to time this column will keep you posted of events that you may wish to participate in, and to help you be aware of our history, both local and national.

Three dates have been set for special events in 1976:

July 3-4 The Big Fourth Celebration with an added Pioneer Skills Festival, which is to be a Scurry County Centennial Celebration.

July 18-24 WESTERN PIONEER Week.

October—the week which includes Oct. 29- DUNN Community Week. More about these later.

The Brachiosaurus were the giants of all dinosaurs, the heaviest land animals that ever lived. They are known to have weighed as much as 85 tons.

GRADUATES—Andrea L. Drake, daughter of A.J. Drake, Route 1, Snyder, was one of 49 students receiving bachelor of science certificates of proficiency in physical therapy after successfully completing a 14-month professional curriculum in the Department of Physical Therapy at the University of Texas School of Allied Health and Sciences at the University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston.

Shaming, threatening or ignoring a child are forms of psychological punishment, Mrs. Ilene Miller, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, notes.

American Issues Forum Brochure Is Available

A brochure introducing the American Issues Forum, a national program for the Bicentennial Year, is now available at the Western Texas College library.

Individuals or organizations interested in a guided study of some of the issues fundamental to our American society in the Bicentennial are invited to use the material. It is available at the circulation desk of the library, located on the first floor of the Learning Resource Center.

The American Issues Forum program has been developed by the National Endowment for the Humanities with the co-sponsorship of the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration.

In its introduction, the brochure explains that the American Issues Forum invites the entire population of the country to engage in a serious exploration or some of the issues that are fundamental to our American society. "What is planned for the Bicentennial year is a nationwide dialogue about our country—what it is, how it got that way, where it is headed. . .

"The mechanics of the project are simple. The calendar for the Forum covers nine months, from September 1975 through May 1976. One major issues is presented for each of these months—an issue that has affected American life from the beginning, that affects it today, and that will surely affect it for generations to come. . ."

The Forum calendar provides a springboard for discussion or for individual study. For the week of Sept. 14-20, for example, the topic discussed is "Out of Many, One." There are three notable quotes concerning this topic, a paragraph setting forth some thoughts about the topic and a follow-up which suggests ways in which this diversity of origin has affected our history. The study might be continued by reading some of the books or plays mentioned or by reading about the people mentioned or quoted.

This material could easily be adapted for use as a brief Bicentennial study addition for club programs already planned.

The WTC library is open from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Friday and from 2-5 p.m. Sunday during regular class sessions. Library materials may be checked out by non-students who hold Scurry County Library cards or be special arrangement with L.V. Anderson, Director of Library Science.

Courses In Religion Are Set At WTC

Three courses in religion will be offered for students at Western Texas College through the Christian Student Center again this fall.

A survey of the Old Testament, Religion 133, will be available for both day and evening students. The morning section will meet from 10-10:50 a.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. The evening section will meet from 6:30 - 9:30 p.m. on Monday.

The life and teachings of Christ will be studied in Religion 231, scheduled from 11-11:50 a.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Dean Morgan, instructor for the courses, said this course has two aims: to increase the student's understanding of Jesus Christ, who He is and what He has done, and to help the student discover how this understanding is relevant to his daily life.

A study of major religions of the world is offered in Religion 131 meeting from 10:30 - 11:50 a.m. on Tuesday and Thursday. This course studys the origin, development and status of such religions as Christianity, Hinduism, Confucianism, Islam and Buddhism.

Students at Western Texas College may receive as many as 12 semester hours in Bible as elective credits toward graduation. The courses may also be taken as non-credit courses, and persons wishing to take them as non-credit courses are asked to contact Morgan at his office in the Christian Student Center or call his office at 573-8242.

Houston School Approves Raises

HOUSTON (AP) — Pay raises amounting to $167,678 to 56 top administrators in the Houston Independent School District have been approved by the Houston School Board.

The pay raises, approved Friday, were due to a move earlier this week allowing merit pay in the school system.

No administrator received more than 12.5 per cent increase in pay. Houston teachers were granted raises that averaged 15 per cent earlier this summer.

ASTRO-GRAPH

For Monday, Sept. 1, 1975

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Be careful a third party doesn't cause you unnecessary complications today in a matter that's strictly "family."

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) The little green imp of jealousy hovers about you today. You could be just a bit too possessive of one you love.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You and your spouse are not in complete accord on your family budget. One will be extravagant and perturb the other.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Have the courage of your convictions today. Don't be timid in an area where you know bold measures are called for.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You're not a very good collector of obligations owed to you. Don't be a Scrooge today, at the same time don't let one who's indebted fall behind.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) A sensitive friend will be hurt if she's not included in something you're planning with a mutual pal.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) There will be strings attached to a favor being done for you. Before accepting, be certain it's worth the price.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Another will probably profit more from your plans today than you will, though the basic ideas are yours.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23Dec. 21) You'll not find buyers today if you place a higher price on your wares than they're really worth.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) A major decision you'll make today will be correct, but after you talk with another you'll have doubts. Let time render the verdict.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Be careful in business affairs that you don't make an arrangement with one who doesn't have the authority, yet makes the commitment.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Someone who has promised you something is not going to be able to deliver, but he does not know how to tell you and yet save face.

Your Birthday

Sept. 1, 1975

Something you've hoped for but were not able to obtain will fall within your reach this coming year. You must stay on top of things once opportunity knocks.

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN)

For Sunday, Aug. 31, 1975

ARIES (March 21-April 19) If you let your head rule your heart today you'll deprive yourself of a good time. You could spoil the fun for others as well.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be careful in your conversation today, or you'll let something slip you'll have difficulty in retracting.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If you do any shopping today, count your change! There could be an oversight. You could suffer a small loss.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Your moods are subject to a sudden change today when you meet with minor frustrations. Stay loose. Take things in stride.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) A friend is going to be disappointed when she learns you've told another something she told you in the strictest confidence.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) It's not the day to find fault with a sensitive friend over a trivial issue. A few wrong words could impair the friendship.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) In your social amusements today, don't be too much of a stickler for rules. You could win the game, but hurt your image.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Stick with your original plans today. Last-minute changes won't work to your satisfaction.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Don't let yourself be drawn into business discussions or deals today if your mind is on less serious subjects.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You won't have much luck making an agreement today if you aren't willing to make a few small concessions first.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Put off till tomorrow a small task that isn't all that urgent. It will tie you up more than you think, if you try today.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You won't have all the patience you usually have with youngsters today. Let them do their thing. YOU go have fun and do yours.

Your Birthday

Aug. 31, 1975

Some unusual conditions will begin stirring this coming year to benefit you materially. The door will be initially opened by a friend with unique contacts.

Texas Building Maintains Pace

DALLAS (AP) — The Texas construction industry maintained a strong pace during the first eight months of 1975 despite one of the nation's most serious recessions in years.

The Texas Contractor reported in its monthly analysis contract awards of $1.2 billion during the period, some $500 million below the record eight months of 1974.

The magazine said this year's awards are the third best in the Texas industry's history.

Among the major contracts awarded during August were:

—To Holloway Construction Co., Wixom, Mich., $17.4 million for the Sabine River Authority's Lake Fork Dam and Reservoir.

—To Texas Bitulithic Co., a division of Ashland Oil Co., Dallas, $15.67 million for the Sterling C. Robertson Dam, owned by the Brazos River Authority.

—To Talon Construction Co., Addison, $5.38 million for the Dallas southside water treatement plant.

'No Smoking' Law Goes Into Effect On Monday

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) — A lot of cigarette-happy Texans will be watching Monday for new "No Smoking" signs.

That's the date when the new law becomes effective that makes it illegal to smoke in certain public places, such as elevators, schools, movies, hospitals and buses—provided signs are posted.

Hundreds and hundreds of other new laws or law revisions become effective Sept. 1, 90 days after the end of the 64th legislature.

The regular legislative session considered a total of 3,375 bills but the House and Senate approved 761. Those getting a two-thirds vote became effective immediately, but most become law Monday. Still others will not be effective until Jan. 1.

Immediate attention will be attracted by such measures as the "No Smoking" prohibition, or maybe the new statute that exempts the candy sold by Camp Fire Girls from the state sales tax. The state comptroller has already exempted Girl Scout cookies because he said that was "food."

However, leading the list of Sept. 1 bills as far as statewide impact will be the $12 billion general appropriations bill which will finance state governmental operations for the next two years—without new state taxes.

Close behind in importance is the public school financing bill that appropriates $654 million the next two years toward education equality as recommended by the courts. A big chunk of it guarantees most public school teachers an average $1,400 annual pay raise.

Also near the top in importance is the creation of a new state agency to regulate utility companies. The three members were appointed recently and will begin serving Monday although the full impact of the regulation will not come for another year.

Some of the other bills that become effective Monday will:

—Require mobile home manufacturers, dealers and salesmen to be bonded to protect buyers who find defects in mobile home products.

—Provide for a one-time presidential primary in 1976 through election of three-fourths of delegates to national political conventions by popular vote and the other fourth at state conventions.

—Begin a new voter registration system. All current voters will get re-registration applications between Nov. 5 and Dec. 15. The new law requires a purge of dead, departed and other ineligible voters every two years.

—Put political "slush funds" under state regulation with officeholders required to make annual reports on all contributions and expenditures.

—Require figuring the federal excise tax on tires and fishing equipment before calculating the state sales tax. Remove ingredients of newspapers from the sales tax. Exempt solar energy devices from the sales tax.

—Make prosecution of rape cases easier by strictly limiting the right of defense lawyers to interrogate a victim on the witness stand about his sexual history.

—Expand the Board of Pardons and Paroles by creating six new commissioners to work with the present three-member board on paroles.

—Redefine "obscenity" in line with the U.S. Supreme Court ruling that applies local community standards.

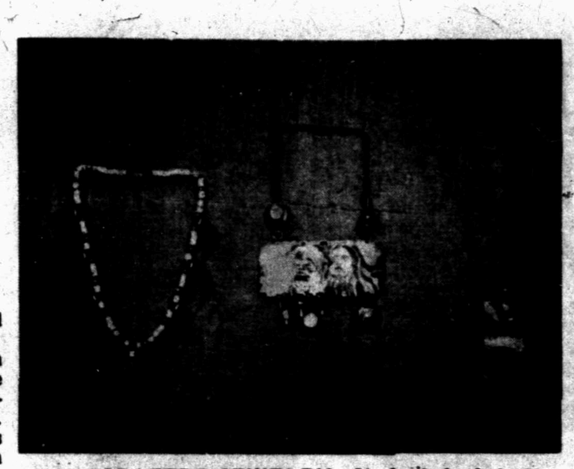

—Restore the observance of Veterans Day to Nov. 11, instead of the fourth Monday in October.

—Allow political parties to set the date of state conventions so they will not conflict with religious holidays and other important observances.

—Provide that a silhouette in the shape of Texas replace the star between the letters and numerals on auto license plates. Colors of the 1976 license tabs will be red, white and blue in honor of the bicentennial celebration.

—Eliminate the present requirement that a bartender must break each liquor bottle as soon as it is empty.

—Allow banks to operate drive-in facilities by closed circuit television.

HANDCRAFTED JEWELRY—Students in Art 235 (Jewelry) at Western Texas College will be creating rings, pendants, pins and other types of jewelry this fall. The class will meet from 10-11 o'clock on Monday and Wednesday mornings with lab hours to be arranged by the student and instructor, Mike Thornton. Students may take the course for college credit or as a non-credit course.

AG Conference Opens Thursday

AUSTIN (AP) — The 25th annual Attorney General's Law Enforcement Conference opens Thursday with about 350 state, federal and local law enforcement officials to attend.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe will give the keynote address Friday morning.

Other featured speakers include U.S. Atty. Roby Hadden of Tyler and Larry F. York, Houston lawyer and former first assistant state attorney general.

MEET JOE SENTELL

Let's make it clear right now that Joe Sentell is not an astronaut. In fact, give him three fast spins in a barber chair and he's through for the rest of the day.

As far as he's concerned, Mars is a candy bar and Venus is some Greek babe who had to give up arm wrestling.

Still, if your insurance costs have gone sky-high, you can't know a better man than Joe Sentell. Mind you, he doesn't write cheap coverage...that's a poor investment...rather, he writes top-flight coverage but so neatly tailored to your exact need that there is no waste. So, if you're in the market for insurance, talk it over with an earthbound expert. That's Joe Sentell, 2615 College, 573-3791.

Existence Of Plot Is Doubted

DALLAS (AP) — Sources close to a Secret Service investigation of an alleged plot to assassinate President Ford and Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller here say there are serious doubts about the existence of such a plot.

Secret Service agents here said they have questioned a man who telephoned The Associated Press on Friday and claimed there was a plot to kill Ford and Rockefeller.

The anonymous caller told The AP the plot was the outgrowth of the Dallas police slaying Monday of a Bishop College student from Nigeria. The caller said about 25 persons were involved in the plot against Ford and Rockefeller when they appear before the National Republican Women's convention.

Convention officials said that Rockefeller is scheduled to appear Sept. 12 and that Ford is to address the convention the next day.

J. Walter Coughlin, agent in charge of the Dallas Secret Service field office, said investigators had talked to one man who was known to local law enforcement agencies and who identified himself as the man who had called The AP.

Asked if he considered the threats serious, Coughlin said, "We are investigating. We have to do that."

The Nigerian student, Emmanuel Olajidie Olatunji, was shot Monday night when a police officer tried to question him at a gas station. Olatunji had been pointed out to the officer by two persons who said he and a friend looked like two men who had held up a grocery store earlier.

Is now the time to buy land?

Acquiring that farm might seem more practical with financing through the Federal Land Bank. Land is easier to pay off when costs are amortized over extra years with a long-term Land Bank Loan. Your total cost of borrowing, too, can be less. Ask us for help: We know land values; we will inspect the property. We will then try to make a loan that meets your exact needs.

THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS
SECTION B., AUG. 31, 1975

TIGERS ROLL—Snyder varisty quarterback Steve Green (12) hands the ball off to halfback Larry Gee (44) during the scrimmage with Midland High here Friday night. The Tigers exhibited considerable improvement over the preceding week and held a 4-3 edge over the Class AAAA team. The local lads open the 1975 football season here Friday night with Monahans providing the opposition. (Photo by Paul Gilbert).

Tigers Hold Upperhand In Midland Scrimmage

The Snyder Tigers held a slight edge over Midland High in their scrimmage here Friday night with the local lads crossing the goal four times compared to three "scores" for Midland. In a real game, the final score would have been 24-20 in favor of Snyder.

The scrimmage was highlighted by hard-hittting and good spirit by both teams.

Snyder held a 3-1 edge in the "controlled scrimmage", getting "touchdowns" on a five yard off tackle slant by halfback Larry Gee, a one yard run on a pitchout to the left by tailback Bobby Thompson, and a long pass from Kelly Ragland to Gee.

Quarterback Steve Green, Gee, fullback Mitchell Smith and tailback Tim Flynn operated as the first string backfield for the Tigers, and they saw action during most of the scrimmage. Smith set up the first goal crossing with a 15 yard run.

Fullback Ricky Beard turned in a 50 yard run to set up the second tally. Beard, Thompson and Gee operated in the alternate backfield with Kelly Ragland and Tim Falls taking turns at guiding the attack.

The offense worked smoothly most of the night, and the runners all looked good.

The Tiger defense, which had been the main concern of Coach Maurice Hodges, also turned in a creditable job and doubtless will continue to improve. They looked especially spirited in the first series in which Midland had the ball.

Midland's only goal crossing in the controlled scrimmage came on a 1-yard run that capped a 70 yard march.

Later, the varsity squads squared off in a "game-type" session with the visitors holding a 2-1 edge but Snyder with an overall 4-3 advantage. The Bulldogs crossed the goal on a four yard burst and again on a 60 yard sweep. They looked sharp on the quarterback option play and running wide.

Snyder got its final "touchdown" on a 60 yard pass and run play, Ragland to Thompson.

Although the Tigers have few lettermen returning from last year's championship team, it was evident they are going to be a good football team this year. If their spirit remains good, the Tigers will improve with seasoning especially in the fundamentals—blocking and tackling.

In addition to the usual cuts and bruises, swingman Kenny Thompson and fullback Ricky Beard turned their ankles. Doc Jones said both ankles appeared to be sprained, and X-rays revealed there was no break for either boy.

Maurice Hodges, head coach and athletic director at Snyder High School, said the "offensive timing was considerably better than the previous week. Execution has improved, and pass blocking was excellent. Our quarterbacks had more than ample time to throw the ball."

"Our defense looked better also. The tackling and timing of the defense was much improved over last week. Our secondary had a real good night in defense of the pass. Kelly Ragland and Doug Morrell both came up with interceptions."

The Tigers open the 1975 season here next Friday night. Kickoff is on tap for 8 p.m. in Tiger Stadium with Monahans providing the opposition.

Junior Varsity Coach Jackie Browndsaid he was pleased with the improvement shown by the JV in Friday's scrimmage. Neither team was able to score, but both looked good on defense.

Coach Winifred Shipp of the sophomore varsity said he was pleased with the overall performance of the Snyder team, especially on defense. Each team "scored" once.

Snyder got its "touchdown" on a 70 yard sweep by tailback Clay Peterson while Midland scored on a 2-yard plunge over tackle which was set up by a long pass.

"We looked real well on defense," said Coach Shipp. "Our boys contained them well, and the secondary did a good job except for that one completion."

The Snyder sophs drove to the 15 yard line on their first possession, and it looks like the offense is beginning to jell.

Shipp said Richard Willis, defensive tackle, and Tracey Witherspoon, linebacker, both turned in outstanding performances.

Commission Sets Duck Bag Limit

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission set a daily bag limit of up to 10 ducks and generally longer waterfowl hunting seasons Friday.

Goose season east of U.S. 81 is Nov. 1-Dec. 12 and resumes Dec. 20 until Jan. 18.

West of U.S. 81 there will be 93 continuous days of goose hunting Oct. 18-Jan. 18.

In the western third of the state, duck and coot season is a straight 83 days, Oct. 28 to Jan. 18.

Duck bag and possession limits will again be determined by a 100 point system.

Canvasback and redhead ducks count as 100 points each, except in Brazoria, Chambers, Galveston, Harris, Jefferson and Orange Counties, where the season remains closed.

The department decided there would be no change in 70-point ducks, which include mallard hens, wood ducks and hooded mergansers.

All species of teal count as10 points. Other 10-point birds are pintails, gadwalls, scaup, schovelers, and mergansers except hooded.

All other species and sexes of ducks are 25 points.

Bag and possession limits of geese east of U.S. 81 are no more than one Canada or one white-fronted goose daily, with a possession limit of five to include no more than two Canadas or two white-fronts. Daily bag and possession limit shall include not more than one Ross goose.

The season remains closed on fulvous and black-bellied three ducks and Mexican ducks.

In Zone A the lesser sandhill or little brown cranes may be hunted Oct. 25 to Jan. 25. In Zone B Nov. 29 to Jan. 25. Daily bag is three birds and possession of six.

Sandhill crane hunters must have a federal permit, issued free of charge.

The woodcock season is Nov. 15 to Jan. 18 with a bag of five, possession of 10.

Common snipe season is Nov. 15 to Jan 18, bag of eight, possession of 16.

Aggie Offense Improved

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
AP Sports Writer

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Texas A&M offensive coordinator Tom Wilson may have to guard occasionally against reminiscing this season as he calls Aggie offensive plays.

Wilson, a quarterback, and his college sidekick Donny Anderson enginnered the 1965 Texas Tech football team to an 8-3 record, including an invitation to the Gator Bowl running out of the I-formation.

When A&M Coach Emory Bellard decided after last season to expand his offense, he installed the I-formation to complement the basic wishbone attack and Wilson was the man Bellard chose to coordinate the two attacks.

'When I visited with Tom originally, I told him the things I was interested in doing," Bellard said.

Wilson, who still holds several passing records at Texas Tech, said he thinks a combination of the two offenses will improve the Aggies' 1975 offensive output.

"I'd never coached the wishbone before and after I got involved, I saw it had a lot of advantages," Wilson said "I think there are things we can do with the I-formation that will give us some added threats."

While the Aggie defensive unit ranked No. 2 in the nation behind Notre Dame in total defense last season, the offense often was stymied. Despite an 8-3 record, the Aggies ranked third in the Southwest Conference in total offense.

"I think a combination of the two will be great," Wilson said. "I'm very sold on the wishbone and we don't anticipate any problems in running both offenses."

In addition to having a triple option offense, the Aggies opened fall drills with another triple option—trying to choose a starter from among three quarterbacks, David Shipman, David Walker and Mike Jay.

Shipman, an option quarterback at Odessa Permian High School, moved into contention for the job in spring training after recovering from an injury.

"The big thing was, he stepped in and had confidence and ran the football team very positively," Wilson said.

Funeral For Britt Held

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Funeral services were held today for Bloys Britt, auto racing writer for The Associated Press. Britt died of heart failure Wednesday at age 62.

Britt, a native of Goldsboro, N.C., became The AP's first full-time auto racing writer in 1969. He had been a newswriter for 40 years, the last 28 with The AP.

He had received several sports writing awards, including the Henry McLemore Award for outstanding automotive reporting and the prestigious Old-Timers Club Award for outstanding contributions to motor racing.

He had been ill since collapsing April 11 at the Darlington, S.C. track.

Survivors include his wife, Mozelle, a daughter, Mrs. Laura Flippin and a son, Thomas Britt.

When Lou Graham shot a 71 to beat John Mahaffey's 73 in the U.S. Open golf playoff the two pros reversed their 18-hole scores of the previous day.

Cuero Top Ranked AAA Grid Team

By The Associated Press

Defending state champions Cuero in Class 3A, Grapeland in 2A and Big Sandy in B, haven't lost any stature since last season and join Bryan in 4A and Cameron in 2A as the top ranked teams in The Associated Press preseason schoolboy football poll.

Brazoswood, the defending Class 4A champion, starts this season ranked 10th and Newton, which wor the Class 2A title last year, is unranked.

The Bryan Vikings of Coach Merril Green won Dist. 14-4A last season and advanced to the second round of the playoffs by beating Conroe 21-6. The Viks lost to Plano 40-23 in the second round.

Cuero marched through the Class 3A ranks to a 15-0 record last season and defeated Gainesville, ranked fifth in the preseason poll, 19-7 in the championship game. Cuero has 16 lettermen returning for the 1975 campaign.

Cameron, which lost to eventual state champion Newton 10-7 in last year's quarterfinals, will have 16 returning offensive and defensive starters to make a run for the title in 1975.

Grapeland and Big Sandy went through their 1974 seasons unbeaten and start out the 1975 campaigns at the helm again.

The closest battle for the preseason No. 1 ranking was between Bryan and Port Neches-Groves in 4A. PN-G made it to the semifinals last year before losing to Brazoswood, 14-7.

Gregory-Portland is a strong choice as the runnerup in Class 3A with Brazosport also expected to be prime contenders for the state title.

Sun Socks Bell 58-39

ANAHEIM (AP) — Communication between Dave Williams and his quarterback has helped the Southern California Sun wide receiver set a World Football League record of four touchdown catches in one game.

"He's a very intelligent man," said Sun quarterback Pat Haden of Williams after the Sun walloped the Philadelphia Bell, 58-39, Friday night to maintain its lead in the Western Division.

"He comes back and tells me things, like what's open and what's covered."

That rapport enabled Williams to catch touchdown throws of 51, 37, 15 and 38 yards in the first half. One pass was from Anthony Davis and three from Haden as the Sun built an insurmountable 44-16 lead.

DREAM COME TRUE—Martha Ann Woman's Club was a dream come true for local club women in 1956. The $150,000 contemporary building, built to serve twenty women's educational, cultural and civic clubs, was donated by Mr. and Mrs. D.M. Cogdell, Sr.

Woman's Club Directors Invite Snyderites To Enjoy Facilities

During the Bicentennial year we would like to emphasize the importance of the Martha Ann Woman's Club to the women of Snyder.

A dream of many years came true for the club women of Snyder on September 30, 1956, when dedication ceremonies were held for the Martha Ann Woman's Club.

Through the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. D.M. Cogdell, Sr. the realization of what had been an almost impossible task took form. The finished form was a $150,000 contemporary building consisting of a long foyer, a main lounge, large auditorium with a two story ceiling, a covered patio, two club rooms, kitchen, service rooms and a office, built to serve twenty women's educational, cultural and civic clubs.

Concept of the idea for such a building was not made overnight by the Cogdells or any single person: However, Mrs. Cogdell and her daughter, Jonisue, were both active clubwomen. After much discussion, planning and dreaming, Mrs. Cogdell called for a meeting of Snyder women in 1952 and proclaimed that she and her husband would donate land and money toward the building of a woman's club building. They later decided to pay for the building if the club women would pay for the professional decorating and furnishings.

Actual work for the furnishings fund was started in 1953 by the Cosmorama Club with a Rodeo Queens race which netted $7,000 the first year. The second year other clubs joined in the Queens contest with $17,000 profit being made. In 1956 the Queens contest brought in $3,000 more. At the time of dedication only $4,750 was needed for full payment of the decorating and furnishings. Sale of Founder, Life Member and yearly memberships netted the remainder.

The clubhouse was named in memory of the Cogdell's daughter, Martha Ann, who died at the age of 13.

A Board of Directors was selected to govern the club. The members of the first Board of Directors were: Mrs. C.V. Thompson, Jr., President; Mrs. Jack Bowden, Vice President; Mrs. E.A. Brooks, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. Jack Gore, Recording secretary; and Mrs. J.R. Hicks, Treasurer.

Founder members of the club are Mmes. D.M. Cogdell, Sr., H.H.. Eiland, G.N. Heinselman, Edith McKanna, C.T. McLaughlin, C.V. Thompson, Sr., H.G. Towle, F.G. Sears, and John Keller.

The present Board of Directors of the Martha Ann Woman's Club would like to extend an invitation to the women of Snyder to visit the Woman's Club and consider becoming members and enjoying its facilities.

An individual interested in becoming a member of the Woman's Club may do so by contacting the membership chairman, Mrs. Amon Weaver. An individual membership is $12.00 a year if paid before Nov. 1st. After this time it is $15.00 a year. This is for members of a participating club. Non-members of participating clubs may become members for $25.00 a year.

Some of the privileges of membership are: Individual members may be hostess to their participating clubs and may entertain 6 times a year as space is available. They may attend all functions which are open to the membership by invitation of the Board of the Martha Ann Woman's Club.

When any woman eligible for membership has made a gift of $250.00 she is considered for Life Membership. When a woman eligible for membership has made a gift of $1000.00 she is considered for Founder Membership.

Some of the functions which may be enjoyed by the members during the 1975-76 year are: A luncheon and style show which will be presented by the Botique on October 18th; a chili supper and bazaar in December; and a luncheon honoring Life and Founder members which will be held in the spring.

Officers for 1975-76 are: President, Mrs. John Hamblen; First Vice President, Mrs. W.B. McSpadden; Second Vice President;, Mrs. Amon Weaver; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Lester Victor; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. R.C. Lunsford; Treasurer, Mrs. Tommy Davis; Assistant Treasurer, Mrs. A.L. Bethel. Caterer for the club is Mrs. George Light.

Supplies of home canning lids are being allocated only to those retail outlets that have normally carried home canning supplies in the past. Lids are being distributed to areas as crops come in, Frances Reasonover, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, says.

St. Clair, Adcock Wed In Garden

Miss Betty Renee' St. Clair and Jerry Lynn Adcock repeated wedding vows July 10 at 7:30 p.m. in a garden ceremony at the home of the bride's parents Bob Wills, minister of the Spur Church of Christ officiated in the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Doyle St. Clair of Spur and Mr. and Mrs. R. Adcock of Dickens.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a white floral Swiss full length gown with a full yoke that extended to a point below the waistline. The yoke, trimmed in small white lace, had short puffed sleeves and full circular skirt with a foot wide ruffle at bottom trimmed with lace. A wide brimmed floppy white hat with white ribbon streamers complimented her attire. She carried out the traditional something old by wearing a penny minted in the year of her birth. Her dress was new. She wore a cameo necklace borrowed from her great aunt and a blue garter, given to her by Cindy Brewster of Snyder.

The bride carried a bouquet of white silk rosebuds with baby's breath.

Cathy Junkins of Snyder was maid of honor. She wore a full length blue gown of knit crepe and carried a single long stemmed white carnation with white streamers.

Terry Adcock, twin brother of the groom, was best man.

Brent St. Clair, brother of the bride of Spur and Bruce Porter of Dickens ushered wedding guests.

The couple exchanged vows beneath an arch covered with English ivy and blue and white flowers. Lilac bushes stood on either side.

The groom sang "My Sweet Lady" as the bride approached the altar. Travis Williams accompanied him on the guitar. The groom's mother and sisters sang "Annies Song."

The reception was held in the home following the wedding ceremony. The three tiered blue and white wedding cake was topped with a fountain, white doves and two rings. Tyra Elkins of Snyder and Donna Dewle of Dickens presided at the bride's table.

MRS. JERRY LYNN ADCOCK

For her wedding trip the bride chose a white dress trimmed in red white and blue braid with white accessories.

The couple will reside in Spur.

The bride attended Snyder High School and is a 1975 graduate of Spur, where she was a member of the band. The bridegroom, a graduate of Alton High School is employed by the State Highway Department of Spur. Wedding guests were from Dickens, Snyder, Lubbock, Crosbyton and Midland.

Mrs. Waldrop 'First Lady' Coordinator

Governor Dolph Briscoe has appointed Ms. Sam Waldrop of Abilene as a regional volunteer coordinator for the First Lady's Volunteer Program, Office of the Governor. Mrs. Waldrop will serve the geographic area covered by the West Central Texas Council of Governments.

In making the appointment, Governor Briscoe said, "The spirit of voluntarism is growing in Texas as more and more people seek ways to improve our society and the quality of life. When people see a need, they organize to solve the problem.

"The First Lady's Volunteer Program is encouraging statewide citizen participation in both government and private sector volunteer activities. As a regional coordinator, Mrs. Waldrop will help stimulate new volunteer ideas and efforts in her community. She will also encourage the establishment of locally originated volunteer action centers to work with volunteer programs," Governor Briscoe added.

"Mrs. Briscoe and I are deeply committed to this volunteer effort and see many benefits from such neighbor helping neighbor involvement. Janey has agreed to work directly with this program in her capacity as First Lady," the Governor concluded.

In accepting the appointment Mrs. Waldrop stated, "I am excited about the potential of this volunteer program. I am anxious to work with other interested people in my region on volunteer programs and look forward to working with Texas' First Lady."

As a volunteer, Mrs. Waldrop is a member of the Board of Abilene Philharmonic Association and a sustaining member of the Junior League of Abilene. She also serves as a regent for Texas Women's University at Denton.

The First Lady's Volunteer Program, a division of the Texas Center for Volunteer Action, is working with the Texas Department of Health Resources in planning a statewide health educational program for October. Designated as Immunization Action Month, volunteers will be mobilized to make all Texans aware of the need to be periodically reimmunized against polio, measles, mumps, rubella, diptheria, tetanus, and whooping cough.

The First Lady's Volunteer Program conducted a pilot health project in the Lower Rio Grande Valley for the immunization of preschool age children. The Health Department reported more than 15,000 immunizations were given during the April, 1975, project period.

This division of the Governor's Office also is responsible for administering the national runaway hotline--Operation Peace of Mind--located in Houston. The hotline allows a runaway to call toll-free from anywhere in the United States and have a message relayed to anxious parents.

The Texas Center for Volunteer Action offices are located in Austin.

Many Americans Visit Tijuana

TIJUANA, Mexico (AP) — Tijuana, less than a half hour's drive from downtown San Diego, is visited by more Americans than any other foreign city in the world.

According to the best available count, more than 30 million U.S. citizens crossed the border at Tijuana last year to eat a Mexican meal, watch a bullfight or a jai alai game, or make purchases.

Local Girls Win Awards

Jean and Margaret Anderson, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. T.V. Anderson, recently participated in swimming events at Brownwood. Jean, 10 years old, won first place in the 25 yard backstroke and Margaret, 9 years of age won first place in the 25 yard backstroke and second place in the 25 yard free style event.

The girls also won ribbons in the summer recreation program here this summer. They didn't waste a moment of the precious summer months, when they weren't involved in outdoor recreation they kept busy reading books as members of the Scurry County Library Reading Club and it paid off. Both girls received Texas certificates after completing 12 books each.

An excellent method of preparing fish fillets is to soak them in salted milk (½ teaspoon salt to ½ cup milk for each pound of fillets). Then dip the fish in flour and pan-fry quickly in a generous amount (about ¼ inch) of hot, but not smoking, butter or oil or half butter and half oil.

Small Fry Doing Well

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP) — Rosalie Marie Allison is just over a year old and doing well, but when she was born she weighed a mere 2 pounds, 14 ounces. Today her weight is 15 pounds, 12½ ounces and climbing.

The first child of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allison, Rosalie was born two months premature. Respiratory and other medical problems kept her in an incubator for two months.

Rosalie won her battle with the help of some sophisticated and expensive hospital equipment and owing the Allisons several thousand dollars in debt. Half of the $7,000 hospital bill was paid by the Idaho Department of Health and Welfare. Allison is paying $10 a month on the remaining hospital bill and $5 a month on the doctor's bill. Donations totaling $380 were used to pay off some of the debts.

"We'll be paying on it for a while," said Mrs. Allison, "but we are lucky she's here."

The wily Mordred was really surprised when Lancelot went to five hearts over his spade preempt. He looked at his five hearts and decided a double was in order. Dinadan, sitting North considered a redouble, but was too cowardly to take such drastic action.

Mordred cashed two spades and shifted to a trump. When East showed out Lancelot announced, "Running trumps" and spread his hand.

Gawaine, sitting East, said, "It's not like you to concede down one."

"I'm not," replied Lancelot. "I'm claiming all the rest."

Lancelot was right as always. Mordred's four spade opening had marked him with seven spades. Gawaine had discarded on the first heart so that gave Mordred five cards in that suit. That left him with just one card in diamonds or clubs.

Lancelot would discard four diamonds and two clubs from dummy. Then he would lead a diamond to dummy's ace and his final trick would come from his deuce of diamonds or dummy's last club.

Ask the Jacobys

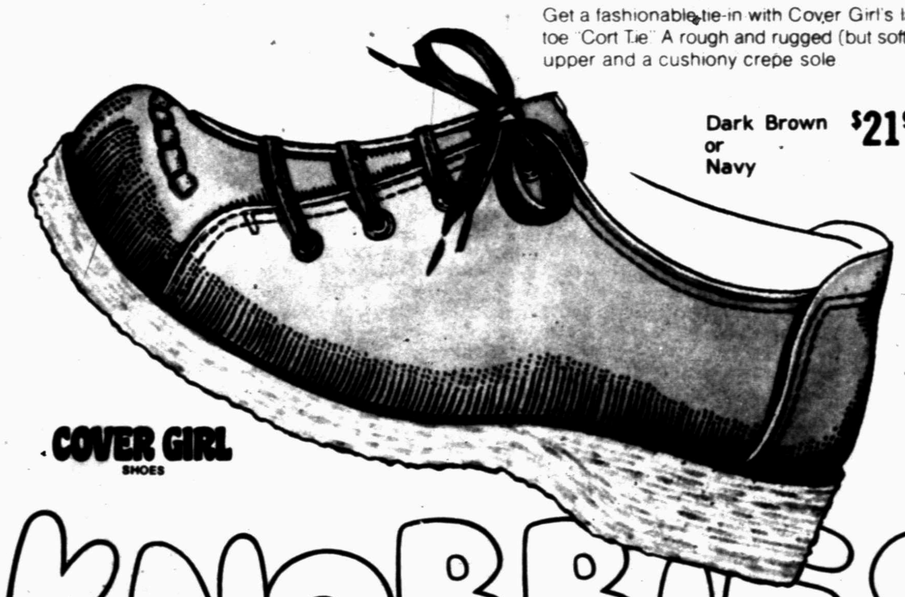

A New York reader wants to know if it pays to be an overbidder.

The answer to his question is that it pays to overbid your good hands. In other words, you should strain to bid games and slams. On the other hand, it does not pay to go overboard with bad hands. For one good sacrifice bid you are likely to find yourself with several bad ones.

Finally, it is important that both partners don't overbid. If you know your parner is an overbidder it behooves you to be cautious.
