City Council Powers Limited By Home Rule

By Carl D. Hoyt

Rockport voters will cast ballots this coming Saturday, January 20, on the question of whether to work on a charter for the city. If the voters approve the charter question, then votes cast at the same election for charter commission members will be counted, and a 15-member commission named.

In past issues of The Pilot, several factors surrounding home rule have been covered, including flexibility, local responsibility, self government, referendum, initiative and recall, annexation and others.

Although the evidence is not sufficient to warrant a categorical statement that home rule cities are more efficiently governed than others, there is good reason to believe that this may be the case.

It is not without significance that the overwhelming majority of cities eligible for home rule have adopted charters; it is notable, too, that no city has had its citizens vote to return to general law government after a home rule charter was put into effect.

One of the principal advantages of home rule lies in the presumption in favor of the acts of the city when the city is a party to a lawsuit.

The Texas Supreme Court held in 1948 that "It was the purpose of the Home Rule Amendment . . . and the enabling statutes . . . to bestow upon accepting cities and towns of more than 5,000 population full power of self-government, that is, full authority to do anything the legislature could theretofore have authorized them to do. The result is that now it is necessary to look to the acts of the legislature not for grants of power to such cities but only for limitations on their powers."

An example of this power would be when the city council prepares to pass an ordinance on almost any subject, the aldermen, ask the city attorney whether it is permissible under the general laws. If the city had a charter, anyone could read the charter and determine whether or not the city council had the authority to pass the ordinance in question.

A question has been raised on whether the city council has the right to fix its own powers under the home rule charter. (See "Rockport Speaks Out" on the editorial page in this issue.)

At the present time the city council does not have the authority to fix its own powers and would not have it in a home rule charter. At the present time the State Legislature fixes the powers of the city council. Under a home rule charter, the residents of Rockport through the initial charter and later amendments, would fix the powers of the city council.

The only qualification upon the rights of residents to fix such powers is that no law could be passed that would be inconsistent with the state constitution and the statutes passed by the State of Texas.

Some comments have been received at The Pilot on the cost of home rule, as compared with general law now in effect. Probably the main concern voiced is that taxes will surely be raised. Under a home rule charter, taxes are still limited by the approval of citizens with even more power to keep costs in line. At the present time some tax raises are possible; under home rule, if the voters do not want taxes increased they have the tools of referendum, initiative and recall to keep matters in line.

In the concluding article in this series, to be published Wednesday, January 17, a summary of facts will be listed, along with any final questions or statements that have been brought to The Pilot's attention.

Citizens are invited and urged to take this final opportunity before the election to ask questions and make their views known, especially through the letters to the editor column or by any other means they deem suitable.

Drug Arrest Is First Action By Investigator

Through the efforts of the newly established county investigator, Jim Pridgen, the first arrest of a drug offender took place Friday, January 5, at 10:30 p.m.

Joseph Ray Everitt, 26, was charged with possession of a controlled substance, methamphetamine (speed) worth about $2,000, following the execution of a search warrant at his residence over the P J Shrimp Company on 1035 Church Street.

The arrest was made by officers of the Aransas County Sheriff's Department, the Rockport Police Department and County Attorney Jim Anderson.

The officers also found some marijuana residue and smoking pipes at the scene, along with some other pills, later determined to be penicillin.

Everitt was brought before County Judge John Wendell, where his bond was set at $10,000. He was released after posting bond on Sunday, January 7.

Shriners To Meet January 17

Aransas Pass Shrine Club will hold their regular monthly meeting on Wednesday, January 17, at the Sea Gun Restaurant (North end of Copano Causeway) starting at 6:30 p.m.

Officers will be installed by Al Amin Shrine Temple Potentate, David P. Holliday and the Divan (governing body).

All Shriners and their ladies are invited; all regular members and ladies are urged to attend. Make your plans by contacting David P. Gruber at 729-6688.

Police Report

Rockport police recorded 13 accidents during December, as compared with 8 accidents in the same month a year ago, according to the monthly report filed by Police Chief James A. Craigmile at the city council meeting January 8.

The department issued a total of 40 traffic citations and issued 49 criminal charges during the month. Speeding led the list of (See POLICE on page two)

Copano Meeting On Sewers

The Copano Cove Property Owners Association will meet at 7 p.m. Thursday, January 18, at the Paws and Taws Building to discuss the possibility of fireplugs and sewers in the Cove and Ridge areas.

Jack McDavid and V.R. Sherman will be on hand to answer questions. Area residents are urged to attend. For further information call Ray Barlass at 729-1940 or Jeri Larimore at 729-5489.

Adult Probation Work Is "Challenging" Job

By Kathy Brock

Paul R. Story of Rockport says that he enjoys his work very much although the people he deals with might not have the same outlook toward it as he does. Story is the Adult Probation Officer for Aransas County; he is responsible for the supervision of 112 active probationers.

Story said that most of the people on probation are not to be termed as the "criminal type." "Most of them are good people who just happened to break the law for the first time and got caught," he says.

Adult probation is divided into two categories: felony probation and misdemeanor probation. Felony probation may last from two years up to a ten-year maximum, whereas misdemeanor probation lasts from one day up to approximately one year. In special cases, misdemeanor probation may last longer than one year, such as when the probationer has previously been on probation.

"The supervision a probationer needs depends mainly upon the individual, and what kind of supervision I feel he will need," Story stated. There are three types of supervision: minimum, medium and maximum.

If a person is under minimum supervision, they are required to report once every three months in person to the office, and can be allowed to mail a report to the office in between the face-to-face reports.

Medium supervision consists of reporting once each month in person. Story must also go out into the field and contact the probationer once every three months.

When a person is under maximum supervision, he must report once each month in person, and Story has to make a field contact with the person once each month also. Story commented that most of his heavily maximized supervision cases are usually drug abuse cases.

The ages of adult probation in Aransas County range from 17 (the minimum age under which one can be on adult probation) to 68 years of age. Currently there are more felony cases than misdemeanor cases in Aransas County. Felony probation may be terminated in one-third of the sentence or two years, whichever comes first, on "good behavior," but misdemeanor probation is not usually terminated.

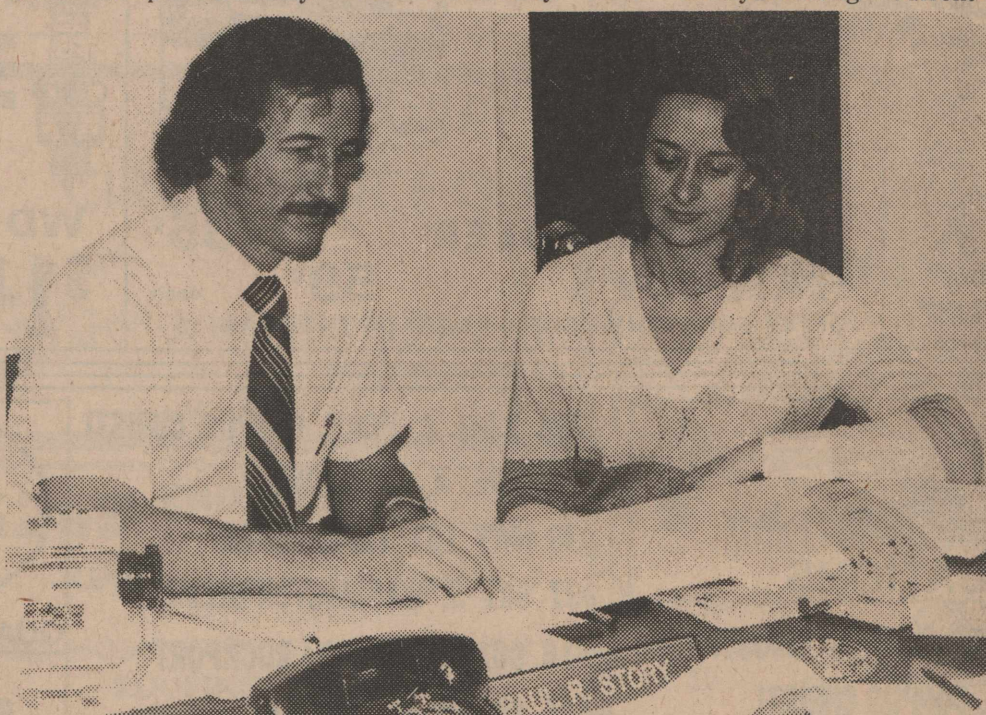

One of Story's responsibilities is to make sure that the individual understands without a doubt the steps of probation. He is required to be in court at the time of the person's trial for this purpose, and he said, "I am there to let them know what is to be expected of them."

Story said that the system used for probation cases has improved in the recent years. The Texas Adult Probation Commission came into effect in September of 1978. It was formed by the Texas legislature in order to make probation supervision more uniform. Before the commission, he said that it was "sort of every county for itself."

A graduate of Sam Houston State University in 1976 with a B.S. in Criminal Justice, Story has worked in Aransas County's probation office since July, 1977. Prior to his present occupation, he worked in the Texas Department of Corrections.

Absentee Voting

Absentee voting on the home rule election can be done through January 16 at 5 p.m., according to City Secretary Herman Johnson.

Any Rockport voter who will be out of the county or who is 65 years of age or older may vote absentee.

Absentee ballots for the January 20 election may be cast at the city hall in Rockport.

Veteran Benefits Info May Be "Hoax"

Alleged veterans' benefits was the topic of a front page story in the January 7 issue of The Pilot. According to Jimmy Hunt, Veterans Service Officer for Aransas County, no information has been found to back up the statements.

The story turned in at

The Pilot office is apparently one of a series of stories turned in annually at newspapers around Texas, according to a Veterans Service officer in Houston, Harriet Westerman. She told Hunt that there were no benefits that she knew about on the level described in the information given The Pilot.

In the event the claims could be made, it was announced that forms are available at the Live Oak State Bank, at no charge. Some area residents have filed their claims, and the outcome of these applications will be reported. However, in the absence of more information to the contrary, it appears that the information given The Pilot is misleading, or incorrect.

The Pilot news department regrets any inconvenience that area residents may have had in this matter, and urges anyone with additional factual information to bring it to the attention of The Pilot's editor. Further information will be published as it becomes available.

Boosters Discuss Upcoming Band Trips

At the Monday night meeting of the Rockport-Fulton Band Booster Club, plans were made for the band's trip to San Antonio. Two tentative dates have been discussed, one in February or one in April, but no definite date has been set. The trip has been approved by the administration.

The treasurer reported that $8,773 worth of candy was sold during the recent project, with a small amount still to be turned in. This money will help sponsor the trip to San Antonio.

The money will also be used for another band project which junior band director Roland Zapata is organizing. Since the UIL solo and ensemble contest for Junior High students has been discontinued by the state, Mr. Zapata is organizing a local contest for Rockport-Fulton junior high musicians. He feels that this type of contest benefits the individual students as well as improving the sound of the whole group. The Band Boosters' donations will help in paying the judges fees for this contest.

The names of three students who won a place in the Regional Band were announced. Beth Randow, clarinet, Mary Ballou, flute, and Belinda Cross, trumpet, achieved this honor.

The Band Boosters are very proud of these students and support the efforts of the band directors and the parents who encouraged them to be better musicians.

The next Band Boosters meeting will be on Monday, February 5, at 7:30 in the High School Band Hall.

R-F Drama Students Continue Competition

The Rockport-Fulton Drama Department will travel to their second speech tournament this year on January 19-20. It will be held at Goliad High School.

Their first meet was in Tuloso-Midway earlier this year. "The students weren't really prepared for it," commented drama director David Rice. However, three students qualified for the semifinals in record pantomime and one duet act also made the semi's. Greta Adams, a senior this year, placed third out of approximately 78 contestants.

Rice also said, "We're hoping to do better this time, since we have about 27 students compared to 10 in our last meet. This is the most we've had participating in quite some time, if ever."

Pirates Whip Hornets, 65-51

Title hopes for the first round were given a boost Tuesday night when the Rockport-Fulton Pirates took a 65-51 win over the Flour Bluff Hornets, making the Pirates 4-0 in district play as they encounter West Oso this weekend.

Rockport had slow going in the first period as the Hornets led 15-14 at the close of that quarter, after the Pirates had fallen as far behind as five points.

In the second period, the Rockport offensive show got on track, and by the half, the Pirates had moved ahead 34-25. Ronnie Lamb led the Pirates' attack with six first-half baskets and Jimmy Cruser added nine points to help give the Pirates a nine point bulge after two periods.

With all of the Pirates getting play time, the Pirates pulled away by a large margin after three periods, and eventually took the 14 point victory. In the second half of play, again it was Cruser who found the range for the Pirates, pumping in six buckets, plus three free throws, giving him a 24 point performance for the game. Joe Brooks added 10 points to Lamb's 12, and Mark Setterbo found the range for nine points.

With the win, the Pirates now boast a 17-3 mark going into play against the West Oso Bears. The winner of the game has the inside track to the title for the first round of district play.

Tuesday night the Pirates will host the Sinton Pirates with the game at 8:00 p.m., and the Pirates will travel to Tuloso-Midway next Friday to battle the Warriors also at 8:00 p.m.

Rockport's JV has been playing steady ball of late, improving their season's mark to 6-7 with wins over Beeville, Gregory-Portland, and Flour Bluff, while losing in district to Calallen.

The Freshmen team has compiled a record of 6-5 so far, and 2-1 in district, dropping a contest to Gregory-Portland, but beating Beeville and Calallen.

Drinking in public led the list of criminal charges, with 26 cases. There were five cases of disorderly conduct, three cases of driving while intoxicated. Two cases each were filed in: theft, criminal trespass, evading arrest, and unlawfully carrying a weapon. There was one case of each of reckless driving, hindering apprehension, warrants served, resisting arrest, possession of marijuana, aggravated assault, and alien.

Calls received and answered with no legal action taken: ambulance 5, assist county 4, family disturbances 4, funeral escort 3, emergency messages 2, fire 2, and 19 calls of a miscellaneous nature.

The four police vehicles logged a total of 11,130 miles during December, using 1,070.5 gallons of gasoline and six quarts of oil. Units averaged 10.4 miles per gallon.

The report also noted officers attending school. Officer Michael Kerr finished Basic Police School on December 8 and was second in his class. Officer Joaquin Martinez and Detective Jim Hill each completed a 40 hour course on Criminal Investigation. Sgt. Randy Jacoby completed a 24 hour course on Police Communication and Records.

The Defendant's Claim And Concluding Remarks

(Last of a series)

This is the final part of a series about a recent civil trial held in Aransas County. The first two segments were published in December before the holidays began.

In these two articles I had examined the evidence against the defendant, who had been convicted of DWI and paid a sizeable fine plus spending one night in the AC jail more than four years ago.

The lawyer for the defendant admitted in the first day of the trial that his client had been charged with DWI and paid his fine before the jurors had been selected.

During the trial, the lawyer for the insurance company and the driver of the auto at the time of the accident, made excellent use of the right to object to evidence and testimony—so much so that a somewhat confused picture of the hard facts existed in the minds of the jurors and the few trial observers.

First, when the jurors began to deliberate, they tried to pick and choose statements at random to label as truthful or not. Example: The jurors would believe the defendant when he recalled the number of beers he had drunk between Houston and Rockport and not believe his statement at the time of the accident when he admitted to being drunk.

Second, the jurors believed the highway patrolman was correctly testifying when he said that the defendant was not speeding at the time of the accident (although the unit was attempting to stop the vehicle for erratic driving) and then not believe the trooper when he stated the driver was under the influence of alcohol. This officer had more than a dozen years of experience plus the breathalyzer results which indicated the defendant had twice the amount of alcohol present to be "legally intoxicated."

Third, the matter of the legal action was between the Plaintiffs, who were fairly wealthy, and a middle-to-lower class dredge boat worker who had worked his way from the bottom to deck captain, and appeared to be a fairly stable family man. During the trial there were numerous recesses which made the job even more difficult.

Each of the jurors heard the same evidence and each did his best to render a fair verdict. However, the end result of the four days of listening and deliberating was that the jurors ignored the facts about the accident, in my opinion.

The Plaintiff was asking for $20,000 in actual damages and $20,000 in punitive damages, but was awarded nothing. Each of the jurors must share in the decree which found the defendant completely innocent.

I have continued to think about the trial evidence and the actions of the jurors during the deliberations. I continue to believe, from what I saw and heard, that: by the defendant's own admission, he was under the influence of alcohol; he failed to keep a proper distance between autos; he failed to turn to avoid the accident (in fact, he turned to cause it); he was exceeding the speed limit; and he did not use proper caution for road conditions, which added to his liability for damages.

In my opinion, a certain amount of juror misconduct existed. Several people drove by the scene of the accident to check the speed limit sign, in spite of the judge's instructions to the contrary. A few of the jurors decided the case before answering the several numbered questions, despite instructions by the judge against this practice.

The question which took most of the time was the "under the influence" question.

After several hours of discussion and a little help from the judge, all of the jurors, except me, found that the defendant was not drunk.

How could anyone overturn the events of that July night four years later against what I felt was overwhelming testimony by both the DPS officer and the Defendant?

Were some jurors more interested in getting home for lunch than completing the duty correctly? Could these 11 people feel that they had drunk that many beers before and did not feel that they had been drunk? Was it a question of rich against poor? I cannot answer these questions; only the jurors involved can do that.

In my opinion, we missed the mark completely, especially in view of the fact that the agreed expenses of damages to the car and medical tests could not be recovered by this innocent victim of a traffic accident.

I am perhaps as much to blame as anyone else because I should not have given up the battle so soon. But one person did not change the end result, and the damage has been done.

All that remains is this point which all of you will take the next time you sit in judgment of a court case: it is not enough to get a fair trial, the verdict must also be fair.

Justice in this community will never be any better than each of us demands that it be and nothing is more important to you and me.

Rockport Speaks Out

Rockport will be having an election Saturday, January 20 on whether a charter should be formed for the city, and "home rule" status implemented. At the same time, voters will have the chance to elect members to a charter commission, to be named if the charter question is approved.

The Pilot's inquiring reporter, Kathy Brock, asked the following question, with answers obtained at three sites: on Austin Street, near the Post Office, and at Super D:

The Question:
"How do you feel about home rule for Rockport as a means to control events locally—rather than depending on general state laws as is now the case in Rockport?"

Geysers have been spouting for centuries, periodically relieving the pent-up pressures from hot subterranean springs. For some people letting off steam at regular intervals is now a way of life.

Only when man developed the steam engine did he begin to understand what geysers were all about. Are there other secrets of Life and the Universe which we'll comprehend only when we start seriously to work with them?

The Power of God is all around us . . . evident in every wonder of creation.

Yet only when we seek that Power as the motivating force in our life, do we begin to sense its nearness, its soul-stirring effect. Then that vast, mysterious Power becomes suddenly warm and very personal.

You'll begin to know that Power when you enter the door of your church.

Tourist Association News

Despite the terrible weather conditions, over 240 people attended our covered dish supper on Wednesday, January 10. After enjoying fried chicken, courtesy of Den's Fried Chicken, everyone was entertained by the Sparkling City Sweet Adeline chorus. Their bright costumes, wonderful harmony and sparkling personalities made this an evening to remember.

Door prizes were won by William L. Downs of Gravois Mills, Missouri, who is staying at Sportsman's Manor; A. Orin Johnson of Spooner, Wisconsin; Adolph Seime of Boscobel, Wisconsin; and Ellis Broughton of Shenandoah, Iowa, who is staying at Harbor Lodge Motel.

On Wednesday, January 17, the entertainment following our covered dish supper will be an old time movie night. All winter visitors are welcome to these suppers and tickets can be obtained from any member of the Tourist Association.

There are still a few seats available on our next bus trip which is to San Antonio on Friday, January 19. Ticket price is $13 and the trip includes a visit to the Alamo and the Hemisfair Plaza where we will have a guided tour of the Institute of Texas Cultures. On Friday, January 26, we will be going to Laredo. The cost of the ticket for this trip is $12.50.

Many people were disappointed to find the trip to Houston this week full. We have another trip scheduled to Houston to visit the Astrodome and the NASA Space Center scheduled for February 16, but this trip is already half full so I would advise you to book your seats as soon as possible on all these trips to avoid disappointment. Tickets are available Monday through Thursday, 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. and on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays from Bay Shore Courts, on Fulton Beach Road opposite the Fulton Harbor.

Remember our Game Night each Monday evening at 7:30 p.m. Doors open at 6:30 p.m. Come early to select your favorite cards.

If you have any suggestions or comments, please call Anne Murphy, 729-2388, Monday through Thursday, 2:00 to 4:00 p.m.

Garden Club

The Allegro Garden Club will hold its next meeting Monday, January 15, in the Allegro House at 10 a.m.

A representative from Pearson's Garden Center will discuss the planting and care of hanging baskets. Members are urged to attend.

Legal Notice

NO. 6139

CHARLES A. FRANDOLIG, JR. ET AL VS. SARAH J. TEAS, ET AL
IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF ARANSAS COUNTY TEXAS 156th JUDICIAL DISTRICT

Citation By Publication
THE STATE OF TEXAS TO:

Sarah J. Teas, the unknown heirs of Sarah J. Teas, and their heirs and legal representatives; Don Teas, the unknown heirs of Don Teas, and their heirs and legal representatives, Defendants;

GREETINGS:

You are hereby commanded to appear before the Honorable District Court of Aransas County at the Courthouse thereof, in Rockport, Texas, at or before 10:00 o'clock A.M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 15th day of January, 1979, then and there to answer Plaintiffs' Petition filed in said Court on the 28th day of November, 1978, in this cause, numbered 6139 on the docket of said court and styled "Charles A. Frandolig, Jr., et al, vs. Sarah J. Teas, et al," defendants, the names of the parties thereto being Charles

A. Frandolig, Jr., Virginia Lee Frandolig, and Frank M. Frandolig, Plaintiffs, and the persons to whom this citation is directed, Defendants. A brief statement of the nature of the suit is a trespass to try title suit, whereby Plaintiffs pray for removal of Defendants' cloud on Plaintiffs' title to and sole possession of the hereinafter described property, a description of any property involved in the suit being situated in the County of Aransas, Texas, described as follows, to-wit:

Lots One (1), Two (2),

Three (3), Nine (9), Ten (10) and Eleven (11) in Block One Hundred Fifteen (115) of the DOUGHTY AND MATHIS DIVISION, City of Rockport, Aransas County, Texas, according to the official map or plat thereof.

Your interest therein being a cloud on the title thereof, and any special pleas which are relied upon in such suit being the ten year and twenty-five year statutes of limitation, as is more fully shown by plaintiffs' petition on file in this suit.

If this citation is not served within ninety days after the date of its issuance it shall be returned unserved.

The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and seal of said Court, at its office in Rockport, Texas, this the 28th day of November, 1978.

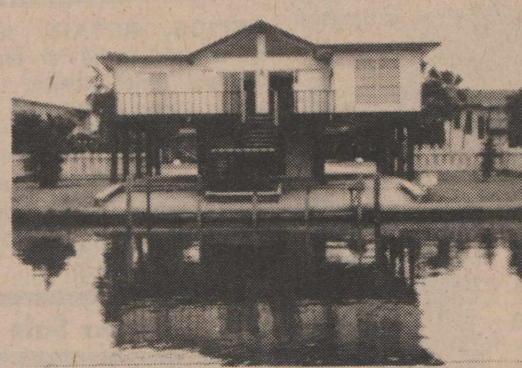

Agnes A. Harden, Clerk of the District Court of Aransas County, Texas.

CHARLESTON

In the romantic spirit reminiscent of 'Gone With the Wind,' three proud and beautiful Southern women struggle for survival against rogues and rascals in turbulent post-Civil War Charleston, S.C., in 'Charleston,' premiering on 'NBC Monday Night at the Movies,' Jan. 15.

Martha Scott and Lynne Moody (pictured) co-star with Delta Burke, Patricia Pearcy, Jordan Clarke and Richard Lawson.

Stella Farrell, a young, iron-willed Southern belle, is determined not to relinquish her aristocratic family's decaying mansion in Charleston because of high taxes levied by grasping Yankee carpetbaggers at the war's end in 1865. Unused to the new, topsy-turvy social order and harassed by lecherous Union soldiers and other scalawags, Stella, her cousin Valerie and their former slave and childhood friend Minerva try to eke out a dignified existence.

Stella is shocked to learn that her brother was Minerva's lover—and that she plans to marry him when he returns.

Ms. Scott portrays Stella's mentally-confused mother.

Willie Nelson held his first annual 'Lone Star Christmas Revue' last month at the Austin Opry House. Nelson appeared six nights with artists on his own Lone Star label opening the shows.

Willie Nelson

Kris Kristofferson

Besides the Lone Star acts, Nelson had some surprise guests. His pre-Christmas tour included such names as Leon Russell, who along with Kris Kristofferson, Rita Coolidge and Waylon Jennings are all close friends and regular visitors of the Nelson family.

Nelson is now finishing his first major motion picture, 'The Electric Horseman,' in which he co-stars with Robert Redford and Jane Fonda. Nelson's role calls for straight acting without any singing.

Jerry Wallace received a conference call from his pals in Toronto, Mel Tillis and Webb Pierce. The call is still causing a lot of conversation and a good many chuckles. It seems Mel and Webb couldn't wait to let Jerry hear a potential hit song, so they used Ma Bell to pitch it. The call took 90 minutes—87 minutes for Mel to explain the song and three minutes for the duet to sing it.

When young Jordan Herzog (Ronnie Scribner) learns from his mother (Maureen Lee) that his parents are planning to get a divorce, he feigns a serious handicap in order to keep them together, in 'Blind Man's Bluff' on NBC-TV's 'LITTLE HOUSE ON THE PRAIRIE,' Monday, Jan. 15.

SKY RIDERS

James Coburn (pictured), Robert Culp, Susannah York and Charles Aznavour star in a thrilling drama of kidnapping and rescue. 'Sky Riders,' to be presented on 'The CBS Tuesday Night Movies,' Jan. 16.

The drama is the story of a desperate gang of terrorists who kidnap the family of a wealthy businessman, Bracken (Culp), and the attempts to safely recover Bracken's wife (Miss York) and children.

The terrorists demand $25 million worth of munitions and armaments—enough weapons to start a small war. The local police chief, Nikolidis (Aznavour), is out to catch the terrorists, as are Bracken and a third "interested party," McCabe (Coburn). With the aid of an archeologist and a smuggling expert, the men deduce that the Bracken family is being held at an ancient, remote and fortress-like monastery.

But McCabe is not about to be outwitted by the terrorists. He hires his own private army of daredevil hang gliders who sail out of the darkness at the same time that Nikolidis' men are approaching the monastery from below.

Herve Villechaize

Herve Villechaize, who plays Tattoo in 'Fantasy Island,' got turned on to acting by watching television. He was born in Paris, France, to a French surgeon father and an English mother, and originally sought a career as an artist. After studying for three years at the Beaux-Arts School in Paris, he came to New York to continue his studies at the Art Students League.

Unable to speak a word of English, he learned the language by watching television. TV intrigued him so much that he decided to change professions and began studying acting with Julie Bovasso.

His first film, 'The Guitar,' was shot in Spain. His other film credits include 'Hollywood Blvd. No. 2,' 'Hot Tomorrow,' 'Man With the Golden Gun,' 'Crazy Joe,' 'The Gang That Couldn't Shoot Straight,' 'Seizure' and most recently, 'The One and Only' with Henry Winkler.

Herve performed on Broadway in 'Elizabeth the First' and 'Gloria Esperanza.' Off-Broadway, he appeared in 'Honest to God Schnozola,' 'The Moon Dreamers' and 'Young Master Dante.' He performed mime in the New York City Opera's production of 'Pagliacci' and also appeared in 'Ubu Roi' and 'Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead.'

He resides in Los Angeles. His three brothers, one of whom is an assistant director, and his mother live in Paris.

Live From Lincoln Center

LIVE FROM LINCOLN CENTER presents a concert by the New York Philharmonic, conducted by Music Director Zubin Mehta with violinist Itzhak Perlman as guest soloist, on Wednesday, Jan. 17 on PBS. The concert will be simulcast in stereo in many areas.

Joan Mondale, wife of Vice-President Walter Mondale, will host the live concert broadcast from Avery Fisher Hall at Lincoln Center.

The concert will include the following musical selections: Stravinsky's 'Scherzo Fantastique,' 'Fireworks' and 'Scherzo a la Russe,' Tchaikovsky's 'Violin Concerto' (performed by Itzhak Perlman); and Mussorgsky-Ravel's 'Pictures at an Exhibition.'

Zubin Mehta (pictured) joined the New York Philharmonic as music director this past September following a successful 16-year tenure as music director and conductor of the Los Angeles Philharmonic. A native of Bombay, India, he is currently in his 18th year as Music Advisor for the Israel Philharmonic.

Itzhak Perlman, who will perform as guest soloist, is one of the world's most sought-after violinists. He annually performs with America's major symphonies, as well as with such internationally renowned orchestras as the Berlin Philharmonic, Vienna Philharmonic, London Symphony, Amsterdam Concertgebouw and L'Orchestre de Paris.

LIVE FROM LINCOLN CENTER, produced by Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts, Inc. in cooperation with WNET/New York, is televised nationally on PBS as part of 'Great Performances.'

LIVE FROM LINCOLN CENTER has won three coveted Emmy Awards in the Best Classical Music Program category during its first two years on PBS. The series won Nighttime Emmys for its live telecasts of the American Ballet Theatre's productions of 'Swan Lake' and 'Giselle.' The series also won a Daytime Emmy Award for its live telecast of a solo recital by tenor Luciano Pavarotti from the Metropolitan Opera House at Lincoln Center.

Check your local PBS station for broadcast day and time.

SUPER BOWL SATURDAY NIGHT

A unique comedy-variety special with the accent on entertainment and football—hosted by NBC's triple-threat personality O.J. Simpson (pictured), who will be joined by a roster of show business headliners and pro football standouts—will be colorcast on NBC-TV, Saturday, Jan. 20.

The special, 'Super Bowl Saturday Night—An All-Star Comedy Salute to One of America's Great Sporting Events,' will be presented on the eve of Super Bowl XIII, which will be televised exclusively by NBC from the Orange Bowl in Miami, Fla.

Home base for 'Super Bowl Saturday Night' will be the new International Satellite Building of Miami Airport during the annual NFL Commissioner's Party, which takes place Jan. 19.

In addition to Miami Airport, points of origination for the special will include the Cricket Club, a popular disco in Miami, other locales in Miami, plus Los Angeles, Calif.
