Full Food Basket Is Predicted

SPECIAL REPORT ON NATIONAL SUPPLY OFFERED TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—A national food basket almost as full as last year's was predicted by agriculture department economists today.

In a special report they said:

"Although the drouth has cut sharply into the nation's feed crops, the total supply of foods in general for the 12 months ending with June, 1937, is indicated to be only about 3 per cent below that of 1935-36 and 1 per cent less than in 1934-35.

Exports To Be Less

"Since exports of many of these products probably will be less than in the previous year, the supply of food available for domestic consumption will be almost as large as last year."

Surveying the drouth's damage to livestock feed supplies in another report, the department said "the drouth situation became increasingly serious" during the first half of August.

Many farmers were reported to be feeding hay and grain they had planned to save for the winter, and there was no water for livestock on 8.8 per cent of the nation's farms August 15.

Production Higher

This very situation was cited in the food forecast as an indication that meat production in the 12 months ending next June would be slightly higher than last year. The short feed supply will cause heavier marketings of livestock, the economists said.

Increases in pork and lamb probably will more than offset decreases in beef and veal, the report said. About 2 per cent more poultry was predicted.

GREEN PASTURES ARE SAID LACKING

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27. (AP)—A lack of green pastures in the nation's interior today worried drouth relief leaders.

By this date in the drouth two years ago, rains had broken the arid spell in many parts of the country

FIVE DEAD IN TRUCK CRASH

SCORE OR MORE SAID TO BE INJURED IN ACCIDENT TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

DARLINGTON, Md., Aug. 27.—Five men were killed and approximately a score more injured early today as a truck crashed through a guard rail and plunged down a steep embankment at the Conowingo dam bridge near here.

The injured were taken to a hospital in Elkton. Five, one said to be dying, were admitted first and others were reported to be en route. Hospital attaches said they did not know how many others were being taken there.

Critically Injured

The five already there, they said, were critically injured.

The truck was reported to be loaded with laborers en route from New Jersey to Florida. Some of them were asleep when the truck careened down the 100-foot embankment.

State police and officials of Harford county were on the scene.

ALLRED TO NAME PITTS FOR POST

AUSTIN, Aug. 27. (AP)—Governor Allred said today that if press reports that District Judge Clark M. Mullican of Lubbock had resigned were verified officially he would appoint County Judge E. L. Pitts of Lubbock to the position. Pitts is the Democratic nominee for district judge. Mullican did not seek reelection.

Professor At Tech Resigns Position

Resignation of Dr. Cecilia Schuck, professor of foods and nutrition at Texas Technological college since February of 1935, has been received at the college.

Doctor Schuck, who is visiting in Colfax, Ind., will join the home economics faculty of Purdue university at Lafayette, Ind., next session. No immediate appointment of her successor is planned at Tech.

COUNTRIES OF EUROPE ARE DENOUNCED

NEUTRALITY PACT IS SAID CERTAIN TO HURT LOYALISTS

(Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press)

Spain's socialist strong man, declaring his war-torn country the "Ethiopia of Europe," burst out today in bitter denunciation of France and Great Britain.

Indalecio Prieto, who as leader of the parliamentary socialist party is the most important man behind the Madrid government, declared Spain had been deserted by the very countries which should be its allies in a fight against the spread of European fascism.

Pact To Hurt Spain

The European neutrality pact, he asserted, will hurt socialist Spain rather than help it because, he said, Germany, Italy and Portugal will sign the pact and go on supplying arms to the fascist rebels.

With Great Britain and France appealing jointly for non-intervention to countries which have not yet placed arms embargoes on shipments to Spain, Prieto charged France had broken her word by refusing to fulfill terms of an arms contract which she, herself, insisted upon.

The Franco-British neutrality appeal was directed particularly at such countries as Czechoslovakia, an important arms producer.

Prieto, former minister of public works, spoke these bitter words in the early hours of this morning at his apartment in the well-defended, sandbagged ministry of marine.

No Help Given

"What help has France and Great Britain given us in our direst hour?" he asked. "None at all, while Germany, Italy and Portugal are providing our rebel enemies with all the material they want."

Prieto holds no official position but as leader of the parliamentary socialist party is the most important man behind the government.

"The diplomats of Europe are very busy over their plan for a convention of neutrality and non-intervention," he continued.

"But what good is such a convention to us? None at all!

Will Damage Cause

Bitterly he went on:

"It will in fact damage our cause. Obviously France and Great Britain will sign it and keep their word while Germany, Italy and Portugal will sign it and go on helping the rebels as before.

"What will they say if Franco (Gen. Francisco Franco, the rebel commander-in-chief) wins and gives the Balearic islands to Italy or Germany as a reward for their aid?"

(The Balearics, off Spain's eastern coast, might affect the balance of power in the Mediterranean if they fell into the hands of a militant power).

Fighting Goes On

Fighting went on in Spain itself with the loyalists announcing a victorious counter-offensive in the Bay

YOUTH ADMITS GIRL ATTACK

ORAL CONFESSION IN SLAYING OF YOUNG GIRL IS GIVEN

(By The Associated Press)

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Aug. 27.—Sheriff George Carroll said today Joe Arddy, 21, orally confessed he ravished and fatally beat Dorothy Drain, 15, in her home at Pueblo, Colo., "just for meanness."

Arddy, arrested late yesterday as a vagrant, told the sheriff, Carroll said, he thought he had killed both Dorothy and her sister, Barbara, 12, while the girls lay asleep in their bed.

Still Unconscious

Barbara still is unconscious in a Pueblo hospital. Both were beaten with a hatchet August 15.

Arddy related, the sheriff said, that he entered the Drain home about 11 o'clock the night of August 15 after he had seen the girls' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Riley A. Drain, leave.

Carroll said the prisoner told him he criminally attacked the older girl and then struck both over the heads with a hatchet.

Two Youths Being Held In Jail Here

Two 15-year-old boys, one of them a resident of Lamesa, were arrested for petty theft at 8 o'clock last night by Don Reeder, assistant police chief.

The lads were caught in possession of three pairs of gloves, a flashlight, automobile bulbs, and screw-drivers which they had taken from automobiles parked downtown.

Police transferred the pair to county authorities, who will file charges against the boys in county juvenile court.

Secretary Dern Is Claimed By Illness

COMPLICATIONS RESULTING FROM ATTACKS OF INFLUENZA ARE FATAL TO OFFICIAL TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—George Henry Dern, secretary of war in the Roosevelt cabinet, died in Walter Reed hospital here today from heart and other complications resulting from past influenza attacks. He was 64 years old.

He died at 10:35 a. m. Eastern standard time.

Dr. Fritz Meyer, noted German heart specialist called here from Boston at the direction of President Roosevelt, was in consultation with army doctors just before the war secretary died.

Under Oxygen Tent

During the night, it was disclosed, Dern had been placed under an oxygen tent in an effort to prolong his life.

Dern's death, friends said, followed a general physical breakdown originating in a severe attack of influenza when he was governor of Utah five years ago and from which he never fully recovered.

Since then he has suffered from recurrent influenza attacks and severe colds which gradually weakened him and placed an extremely heavy strain on his heart.

Twice Governor Of Utah

Dern—twice governor of Utah before rising to the cabinet—entered Walter Reed, the big army hospital here on July 13 for "rest, treatment and a physical check" after he became ill during an inspection of army engineer projects on the Delaware river in Pennsylvania.

In April he spent six weeks in the hospital after contracting influenza on a similar inspection trip down the Atlantic intra-coastal waterway. He was brought back to the capital by plane.

Little Hope Held

President Roosevelt and high ranking army officers were cognizant of the seriousness of Secretary Dern's condition for nearly a year. Although no announcement was made it was learned immediately after Dern entered the hospital the last time that doctors entertained little hope for his recovery.

Specialists from John Hopkins hospital in Baltimore were called into consultation with the army medical center's staff in late July, but Dern had become too weakened by the long fight he had made to respond to treatment.

President Roosevelt visited the ailing cabinet officer at the hospital shortly before departing on his mid-August inspection trip through the New York and Pennsylvania flood areas, and since that time has received frequent reports on Dern's condition.

Began Work On Report

Despite his illness, Dern began work early in August on his annual report. He consulted with General Malin Craig, chief of staff, and other department officials, but was unable to continue his work.

Hospital officials reported that Dern was making progress toward recovery until in mid-August, uremia developed.

Harry H. Woodring, assistant secretary, will assume the duties of acting secretary pending an appointment by President Roosevelt.

PRESIDENT IN DROUTH AREA

CHIEF EXECUTIVE IS SEEKING TO SOLVE GRAVE PROBLEM

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

ABOARD ROOSEVELT TRAIN ENROUTE TO BISMARCK, N. D., Aug. 27.—President Roosevelt came to drouth-damaged North Dakota today for conferences with federal and state officials and his own drouth committee which he hoped would point the way to the shift in the northwest's economy he feels is essential to bulwark this region against future calamities of nature.

In denying at the start of the current dry spell that his administration would seek to depopulate areas hardest hit by recurring drouths, the president said the whole economy of this region must be changed, but with present populations kept where they are to carry on under the transformation.

Pronouncement Recalled

Presidential aides recalled this pronouncement today as his special train carried him to Bismarck for conferences with Acting Governor Walter Welford of North Dakota.

Construction Here Now Past $500,000

Two permits filed this morning at the office of city building inspector sent the construction total for the year above the $500,000 mark.

The permits were issued to M. G. Bowles, contractor for a brick and tile store building of A. M. Leftwich to be erected at 1806 Avenue H at a cost of $6,000, and to Lydick Roofing company, contractor for reroofing the residence of Mrs. E. M. Jones at 1520 Broadway at a cost of $468.

Aggregate for the year stood this morning at $506,096. August totals were $65,234 and those for this week, $24,733.

Annual Reunion Is Scheduled Friday

Former residents of Jack county now living in West Texas and eastern New Mexico are to conduct their annual reunion Friday in City park, beginning at 10 a. m. At least 500 persons are expected, said George W. Foster, president of the association of ex-residents of the county.

Mayor Ross Edwards will give the welcome address and will take his fiddle to help in presenting music during the day. Rev. Liff Sanders, Church of Christ elder, will be the principal speaker.

Basket lunches will be supplemented with barbecue and pickles.

Speeches, music, and "old-time singing" will make up the program, said Foster. J. A. Raley, jr., is vice-president of the association.

Question Of Rain Is Traffic Hazard

The question of rain today was added as a traffic hazard.

A Lubbock man with a decided accent told police he and his wife were discussing where Wednesday afternoon's rain was coming from when they over-ran a stop-sign.

He paid a $1 fine. And the rain failed to come.

TEXAS TECH'S NEW STADIUM, SEATING ABOUT 11,000 PERSONS EXPECTED TO BE COMPLETED BY SATURDAY

With nearly all of the carpenter work finished today, as well as the painting, Texas Tech's new stadium will be ready to turn over to college authorities by Saturday, said William G. McMillan, contractor.

Those who have visited the scene of activities on Tech field have been impressed with the greatly changed appearance as well as the additional comfort for game spectators.

The north end and the diagonal seats are both covered, top and bottom, to block any north winds. Seats also are solid, so that there will be no chance of wind coming up through the cracks.

Ramps have been built for the north and diagonal seats, instead of steps. This will give greater ease in handling crowds. Showers and room for the visiting teams have been built underneath the northwest corner.

Seating capacity is estimated by Mr. McMillan at around 11,000. The original stands seat approximately 4,200; the east section seats as many; while the north and other stands have a capacity of between 2,500 and 2,800.

Box seats are in the new east stand, alternating six and eight persons to a box. The east stand is the same size and height as the west and is alike, except for the solid boards, preventing wind blowing.

Seats are much easier, space below the seat being enough for a spectator to have a comfort-

KNOX SAYS PRESIDENT IS SHADOW-BOXING IN HIS CAMPAIGN

(By The Associated Press)

HAMPTON BEACH, N. H., Aug. 27.—Col. Frank Knox, Republican vice-presidential nominee, today charged President Roosevelt with "shadow-boxing" in the president's attack on "economic royalists."

Knox devoted a speech prepared for delivery at the Rockingham county Republican club's annual outing to replying to the president's acceptance address in Philadelphia.

Are Called Imaginary

Asking "who are these economic royalists?" Knox called them "imaginary," and said that the president in the acceptance address "walloped a straw man" while ignoring "money, credit, budgets, agriculture, industry, trade, labor, relief and recovery."

"With 18 million people on relief," Knox said, "he offers to go out and slaughter a big bad wolf, if he can only find the wolf."

Knox charged the New Deal had "shackled industry, put initiative in fear, and fostered monopoly," although now, he said, making a "pious repudiation" and "dashing out to fight windmills."

Little Fellows In Jail

"It put the little fellows in jail but big business wrote its own ticket," he asserted.

He asserted the administration's plans were vague, with "nothing left of the recovery program but

Germany Tells How To Face Militarism

PROSPERITY FOR REICH IS PICTURED AS THE BEST GUARANTEE FOR PEACE OVER EUROPE

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Aug. 27.—Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, nazi minister of finance, informed France today, authoritative sources said, the best way to cope with German militarism is to aid economic rehabilitation of the reich.

The German reichsbank president was represented as picturing German prosperity as the best guarantee of European peace and hinting that a prosperous Germany would be much less a menace to France than a Germany driven to desperation by economic hardships.

Several sources reported Dr. Schacht insisted Germany was pursuing her armament program, with military training periods increased from one to two years because of the necessity of absorbing unemployed.

If France opened her frontier to more German products, the argument was advanced, the reich would be enabled to divert her energy from armaments to commercial manufactures.

Some quarters said Schacht assured France that extension of the military terms was aimed not at France but was designed as a defense against Russian communism.

German belief that the French erred grievously in binding themselves to Russia with a mutual assistance pact was expressed, reliable informants stated.

THREE PERSONS DEAD WHEN HOUSE BURNS NEAR CORSICANA

(By The Associated Press)

CORSICANA, Aug. 27.—Funeral services were planned today for three persons who were fatally burned late yesterday when a farm house in the Pursley community fourteen miles southwest of Corsicana was destroyed by fire of unknown origin.

The dead: Dixie Lorene Massey, aged 23 years, invalid daughter of J. D. Massey of Pursley, and Leonard Davis, aged four years, and Johnny Davis, aged two years, sons of Mrs. Myrtle Davis of Corsicana.

Alone At House

Officers who investigated circumstances surrounding the tragedy reported that Miss Massey and the two lads were alone at the house at the time of the fire. The mother of the children, officers said, had left them at the Massey home and was en route to Corpus Christi. The mother had not been located this morning.

Funeral rites for Miss Massey were held this morning while the two children will be buried this afternoon.

First Applications Are Received Here

First applications for space reserved for county exhibits at the twenty-third annual Panhandle-South Plains fair, Sept. 28-Oct. 3, were received this morning from Hockley and Terry counties, the fair association announced.

The Hockley county space was reserved by D. W. Sherrill of the Levelland Chamber of Commerce and that for Terry county was reserved by R. N. McClain, county agent at Brownfield.

Space in the agricultural building will be taken approximately one-third each by community, vocational agricultural and county exhibits.

Prize For Play Is Awarded To Texan

ATLANTA, Aug. 27 (AP)—Mrs. Jessie Daniel Ames, director of the Association of Southern Women for the Prevention of Lynching, announced today the award of anti-lynching play prizes to a North Carolinian and a Texan.

The first prize of $100, she said, was awarded by the association to Walter S. Spearman of Chapel Hill, N. C., journalism teacher, for a play entitled "Country Sunday." Second prize of $35 was awarded to Miss Ann Seymour of Strawn, Tex., for her play "Lawd, Does You Understand?"

TRADE REPORT MADE PUBLIC

SMALLER CITIES OVER TEXAS BEST AREAS IN 1933 PERIOD

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Texas smaller cities and towns were reported in a commerce department marketing report today to have been better retail trading areas in 1933 than the state's metropolitan areas.

A survey of 1933 retail sales made public for the first time showed Henderson's per capita total to be $1,392, based on the 1930 population. Longview was a close second with $1,368.

Would Be Lower

The department pointed out, however, that the property-weighted figures for Longview and Gregg county probably would be lower since the population had increased since the 1930 census.

The state-wide 1933 retail sales per capita figure was $166 compared with a national average of $204.

Extra Session Is Declared Possible

AUSTIN, Aug. 27 (AP)—The possibility that Governor Allred may call a special session of the legislature early enough [illegible] to avoid any question as to when members elected in November take office was discussed here today.

The governor indicated he had considered the matter.

The general election will be on November 3. There has been a difference of opinion, without a court decision, as to whether a member takes office immediately, or at the start of the regular session of the legislature in January. There could be no argument if a special session was concluded before the general election, observers said.

EMPLOYES ARE MENACED BY MAN'S GUN

OFFICERS OVER AREA ARE INFORMED AND SEARCH STARTS

(Special To The Journal)

SUDAN, Aug. 27.—The First National bank was robbed of $2,200 by an unmasked, clean-shaven gunman at 10:15 o'clock this morning. He escaped southward in a 1934 Ford tudor sedan registered in Navarro county.

The gunman carried with him $1,300 in $20 bills, $500 in $5 bills, $350 in $10 bills and about 50 $1's.

TWO MEN IN CAR

Deputy Sheriff Grady Harrist telephoned the sheriff's office here early this afternoon he had received information that a second man had been hiding in the bank bandit's automobile.

A young man, whose name was not learned here, said he had seen the automobile about 10 miles southwest of Sudan and that it contained two men. He said he saw that automobile meet a black automobile, carrying two men, that the occupants of both cars talked several minutes, and then drove westward.

It was believed the automobile used in the holdup will be abandoned.

He had forced Assistant Cashier L. L. Anthony to pack the money into a grocery handbag.

Employes In Bank

Anthony and two tellers, Mrs. Mozelle Sparks and C. M. Furneaux, were in the bank when it was robbed.

The gunman, who Anthony said was very nervous, first asked for the bank's president, P. E. Boesen. Informed Boesen was not there, the bandit waited about 60 seconds before drawing a small-caliber revolver on Anthony.

Shoving the handbag into Anthony's hands, the gunman instructed the assistant cashier: "Well, go up there [illegible]."

BLUING AND EGGS HURLED AT HOUSE

A barrage of eggs and bluing was loosed against the front porch of the H. M. Gibson residence at 2012 Twenty-third street about 9:20 o'clock last night, Mrs. Gibson informed police.

A bottle filled with bluing was hurled against a bedroom window and would have damaged draperies and bedclothing had the window been open, Mrs. Gibson said.

License number of an automobile which carried girls who were believed to have been responsible was obtained, Mrs. Gibson said. She knew of no reason why anyone would throw eggs at her home.

"All I ask is that they clean up the front of the house," she said.

Daughters Society May Be Organized

If enough interest is shown, a local chapter of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas will be organized here in September, according to Mrs. Leroy T. Patton, who has been requested to look into such a possibility by Mrs. Carrie Franklin Kemp of Houston, state president of the organization.

Objects of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas are to "perpetuate the memory and spirit of the men and women who achieved and maintained the independence of Texas; to encourage historical research into earliest records of Texas, to foster the preservation of documents and relics, to encourage publication of records of the individual service of the soldiers and patriots of the Republic and other sources of material for the history of Texas, to promote the celebration of Jan. 26 (Lamar Day), March 2 (Independence day), March 6 (Heroes day), April 21 (San Jacinto day), Nov. [illegible] (Stephen F. Austin day); to secure and hallow all historic spots by erecting markers and to cherish and preserve the unity of Texas as achieved and established by the fathers and mothers of the Texas revolution."

Any woman is eligible for membership who is 18 years of age or over whose ancestors were of the "Old Three Hundred," served in a civil or military capacity, or received grants of lands as settlers before the annexation of Texas to the United States Feb. 19, 1846. Women whose fathers or mothers served or received a land grant are considered "real daughters" and are subject to no financial obligation.

Mrs. Patton's great-grandfather W. D. Irvine served in the war between the Republic of Texas and Mexico. He was on camp guard duty at the time of the Battle of San Jacinto.

Miss Jolene Simmons, 2319 Fourteenth street, has returned from a visit of six weeks to Dallas, Fort Worth and Hamilton.

Business Group Is At Al Fresco Meal

In celebration of their fifteenth anniversary, the local Business and Professional Women's club attended a picnic at City park Wednesday night.

Mrs. Lottie B. Hilton led group singing with Miss Willette Waters playing accordion accompaniment and Miss Waters played accordion solos. Miss Elsie V. Link gave a resume of each year's activity since the club was organized. Miss Gladys Sanders directed games.

Miss Ruth E. Butler was chairman of a program on health. She was assisted by Miss Lillian Waltemate, Mrs. A. C. Sanders and Mrs. W. O. Harbison.

Guests were Mesdames B. F. Maxey, Buell L. Boles, A. J. King, William Prickett, Misses Waters and Margaret Huff.

Members present were Mesdames Ann Groth, J. J. Smelser, C. F. Stubbs, Mina K. Graves, Floe Swenson, Hilton, Harbison, Sanders, Misses Jewel Barton, Myrtle Porter, Lola Mae Rozzell, Carrie Little, Sanders, Waltemate, Butler, Ruth E. Ford, Juanita Pool and Link.

Former Chairman Is Named Honoree

As a surprise to Mrs. J. R. Weiss, members of the original Lottie Moon circle of First Baptist Women's Missionary society entertained with a luncheon and handkerchief shower at her home, 1905 Twenty-seventh street, Wednesday noon. Mrs. Weiss, president of the circle for four years, retired when the unit was redistricted recently.

Attending were Mesdames J. K. Miller, F. K. Mitchell, W. E. Twitty, G. E. Knight, J. A. Barton, W. S. Clark, Minnie Fickas, Pearl Carlisle, E. L. Law, W. A. Terrell and J. E. Hamilton.

Merry Circle Party In Allen Home

Mrs. W. V. Allen was hostess to the Merry Circle club at her home, 1416 Avenue E, Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. E. B. Morman was received as a member. The group will meet with Mrs. Allen on September 9 to make a quilt.

Triple Four Club To Meet For Supper

Bridge games will follow a supper for the Triple Four club Friday night at 7:45 o'clock at Tree Top Inn.

Captain and Mrs. W. W. Legge and their children, Melvin and Marion, of 1624 Nineteenth street, have returned from a vacation trip to Houston and Biloxi, Miss. Captain Legge is commander of the state highway patrol here.

Missionary Society Planning Picnic

POSEY, Aug. 27 (Special)—Plans for a family picnic at Buffalo Springs on Friday night, September 4, were made by members of the Posey Women's Missionary society at a meeting with Mrs. J. R. Varner on Tuesday afternoon. A devotional and Bible study were conducted. Fifteen members attended. The society will meet next with Mrs. Benton Patterson.

Pythian Sisters Are In Business Hour

The Pythian Sisters Temple met for a business session Wednesday night at the Knights of Pythias hall with Mrs. Riley F. Hule, most excellent chief, presiding. Thirteen women were present.

Mrs. Olive Fluke Entertains At Tea

Honoring Miss Doris Tubbs, bride-elect of Lawrence Ivey of Abilene, and Mrs. Mattie Roberts Sinsaman, bride of a few weeks, Mrs. Olive Fluke, 2002 Seventeenth street, entertained at tea Wednesday afternoon.

A color scheme of red and white was carried out in appointments. A refreshment plate of sandwiches, nut cups, ice box cookies and tea was served.

During the afternoon Harold Gore and Oscar Adwire played violin and guitar selections.

The honorees were presented with showers that were brought in in small red wagons by Dorothy Irene Kelley and Mavis Louise Fluke. The little girls, dressed as cupids, carried bows and arrows.

Miss Tubbs is to marry here this week-end.

Rush Parties Are Planned By Club

Las Cressa club of high school girls is to give a series of rush parties this week-end. Events will be initiated with a barbecue supper at the home of Mrs. M. G. Abernathy, on the Idalou highway Friday night at 7 o'clock.

A supper at the home of Catherine Howell Saturday night at 7 o'clock will follow an afternoon theater party. An 8 o'clock dinner party at the Hilton hotel Sunday night will end the activities.

HEALTH AND THE LAUNDRY

SCIENCE PROVES That Clothes Have LONG LIFE AND ARE CLEANER When The Laundry Does Them.

Believing it to be important that the Home Managers of America know the true FACTS on the comparative ability of the home and commercial laundry washing processes to get clothes clean and protect fabric life, the American Institute of Laundering recently undertook a scientific HOME WASHING SURVEY—

THE DATA DISCLOSED by the accurate survey tests PROVE that, with the laundry using ten to twelve changes of water (to get clothes REALLY CLEAN) while homes surveyed used only three to four and had SEVEN TIMES GREATER whiteness loss—the strength loss of test fabrics washed in the laundry was actually LESS than when those same fabrics were washed at home!

When the Scott Tensile Strength Test was applied to the standard fabric test pieces washed in the laundries, and to identical test pieces washed in the survey homes, the average strength losses recorded were:

8.4% in the homes.
6.4% in the laundries.

MORE INTERESTING FACTS that have been found during this survey, will be told you next week.

FLASHES OF LIFE

Irony

BIG PRAIRIE, O. — With the mercury registering 100 degrees, Sherman Yarnell, 67, died of frozen feet.

The injury was suffered last winter during 20-below zero weather.

Weighty Problem

SARNIA, Ont. — When Mrs. E. L. McGarry of Miami, Fla., sauntered into a restaurant for a breakfast, the management gasped.

Her six-foot, 600-pound frame created a seating problem. She could not sit at the lunch counter because the chairs were too small. Her 10-foot waistline barred her from the booths.

The solution — a wooden packing crate at the end of the counter.

Veterans Now

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. — Three plumbers were about to straighten a basement water pipe in a home being remodeled. One held a "rusted iron rod" at the elbow of the bent pipe while another rapped it sharply with a hammer.

A loud explosion followed and metal pieces flew. One plumber, Tom Bryant, and the home owner, Truitt Wodson, were slightly hurt. The rusty "rod" was a souvenir one-pounder shell from the Spanish-American war.

Shooting Saw

CHICAGO — George Stevens, 64, was shot to death by a saw, Columbus hospital physicians decided.

He died of an infection which they learned developed after a circular saw with which he was cutting a piece of wood ripped out a nail and shot it into his body under one arm.

Large Field Of Golfers After Medal Honors As Tourney Opens In City

MANY ENTRIES TAKING PART IN AFFAIR

PAIRINGS FOR FIRST ROUND MATCHES TO BE GIVEN TODAY

One of the largest and best fields ever to string out over a West Texas golf course this morning will seek medal honors in Country club's fourth annual invitation golf tournament.

More than [illegible] the anticipated field of one hundred had registered last night and two dozen or more had posted qualifying scores. These scores, however, do not count in the medalist race although they are good when pairings are announced tonight.

Additional out of town entries arrived yesterday and some of them toured the new layout in practice rounds before trying for the medal today.

The [illegible] host of first, second and third flighters as well as the majority of championship flight hopefuls will be gunning for qualifying berths today.

Visitors Try Course

Local enthusiasm picked up yesterday with nearly 20 new entries, still the registration card fails to show a sufficient number of Lubbock golfers. They are expected out today, however, to swell the tournament registration.

Playing practice rounds yesterday were Billy Bob Coffey, celebrated linksman from Fort Worth who [illegible] from Houston after barely failing to nab one of the six places [illegible] Texas in the qualifying for the National amateur tournament, Obie Bristow, well known long driver and nifty putter from Big Spring, and Douglas Jones, young star from the same town; Buddy Wheeler, medalist of the San Angelo invitation, from Stamford; Bill Parker, veteran linksman from Abilene and several others.

Jimmy Rankin from Ralls and [illegible] of the Slaton delegation, [illegible] Parr[illegible], Nick Carter and Carl [illegible] were getting familiar with the new layout yesterday as were several [illegible] from Po[illegible].

[illegible] popular golfers [illegible] Worth and Abilene [illegible] for a practice round [illegible] to be gunning for the medal trophy today.

Local Stars Ready

Several outstanding players from the Greenbelt Golf association, from [illegible] Childress, Vernon, Electra, [illegible] and a few Oklahoma [illegible] are expected today along [illegible] New Mexico delegation, including Shorty Hornbuckle, Red Hardin and Blaine McNutt who have [illegible] special invitations.

[illegible] exceptional [illegible] to [illegible]. Two [illegible] Busser and Alfred [illegible] medal scores [illegible] of the medalist running. Busser, former West Texas champion, scored a 72 which is low [illegible] the qualifying and Hol[illegible] John Edmisson, Jo Dick Slaughter, Edgar Doherty, Col[illegible] other will qualify.

[illegible] tournament committee [illegible] three previous [illegible] tournament [illegible] Joe Bill [illegible] probably [illegible] H[illegible] and boss [illegible] Matson Allen [illegible] Oklahoma [illegible] Ed Do[illegible] already has set [illegible] several years. [illegible] practice [illegible] as one of the most [illegible] grass greens performers [illegible] West Texas history.

Calcutta Tonight

Tournament entrants and townsmen are invited to the Calcutta pool party and stag dinner tonight.

The party gets underway about [illegible] following the banquet. Several Calcutta tickets remain to be sold but it is thought that the bidding will be brisk and the prizes handsome as a result of the pool tonight.

Prizes offered the medalist, winners and runners up in each flight and consolation winners and runners up donated by local business firms are on display at the Terry & Childress Hardware store on Main street. Players and fans are invited to drop by and see them. Merchants have been generous in making nice prizes possible. Firms which have contributed are West Texas Gas company, Sherrod Brothers, Hilton hotel, Avalanche-Journal, Hemphill-Wells, Terry & Childress, Kuykendall Chevrolet company, Lubbock Printing company, Hub Clothiers, Texas Utilities company, Lubbock hotel and Tip-Top cafe.

LUBBOCK HIGH GRID NOTES

This fall's Westerners grid edition ran through scrimmage Wednesday, their third day out. Lineups remembered plays given in spring training and executed them with as much zest as the heat permitted. Harold Ingley showed flashes of form that should make him one of the best ball carriers in the district. He hangs around the fringe of the 10-flat crowd. Showing much promise last year, his first to try football, Ingley has speed and rapidly is learning to sidestep, cross over, pivot, etc. He is a threat from the safety position.

TACKLES BULWARKED

At defensive tackles the Westerners are well stocked with weight and size. In those roles are the two giants of the squad, Babe Ritchie and Rafe Nabors. Experienced men, both depress the scales to well over 200 pounds. Nabors goes from offensive center to the defensive tackle. Virgil Simmons, husky offensive tackle, hustling back to the line-backing position. Simmons improved rapidly in spring training and is becoming one of the best blockers on the squad. His hustle and team spirit show up in scrimmage.

KICKING SHOWS PROMISE

Kicking, an estimable weapon both on defense and on offense, promises to be better than usual. C. L. Storr, captain, signal caller and fullback, has been getting off some long and accurate punts. Earl Ince, punter for the Cowhands last year, shows capability as does Firman Williamson. Kicking off and try for point probably will be assumed by Ritchie. Babe can lift the ball to the goal line and consistently is booting the oval between the uprights.

COWHANDS SLATE GAME

Coach Ross Allen has scheduled a Sept. 11 game with Coach C. B. Hendricks' Ralls Jackrabbits, one of the strongest class B teams in the section. The Cowhands have a willing and hustling roster of youngsters who hope to open the season with a win. The game will be a test for them.

MARBERRY TURNS IN FIVE-HITTER

By the Associated Press

Big Fred Marberry, former major league hurler, again has demonstrated conclusively he is not washed up as a pitcher.

Last night he set San Antonio down with five hits as the league-leading Dallas Steers blanked the Missions, 5 to 0, to even their current Texas league series. Only one Mission reached first base.

The 18 hits Beaumont garnered off T. Paul Le Blanc, Fort Worth rookie, were not enough, and the Cats eked out an 8 to 7 victory over the Shippers.

After coming from behind to tie the score at Tulsa the Galveston Bucs lost to the Oilers 6 to 5 when Ivan (Goober) Crawford scored from second base on an infield out in the ninth inning. The victory marked the fifteenth of the season for Newell Kimball.

Ed Hall, Oklahoma City center-fielder, was the hero of the Indians' 2 to 1 triumph over the second-place Houston Buffs. With two out in the ninth, he poled out a single that scored Bilgere from second with the winning tally. In the fourth Hall knocked Bilgere home with the Tribe's other counter.

BIG QUESTION IS CAN CUBS TURN TRICK

SITUATION IS ABOUT THE SAME AS IT WAS LAST YEAR

BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Can the Cubs repeat? That's as big a question mark in the red-hot National league race today as the ability of the Giants to keep up their sizzling pace.

Back home from the most disastrous road trip of the campaign, the pennant holders are showing definite signs of snapping out of their doldrums.

Started Great Streak

The situation today is just about parallel to what it was last Sept. 4. On that date the Cubs were in third place, 2 1-2 games back of the league leading Cardinals and half a game away from the Giants. They started one of the greatest winning streaks in the book that day, took 21 straight games and nailed the pennant to their mast.

Today they're in third place, 3 1-2 games off the Giants' pace and a game back of the crippled Cardinals. They've taken four straight now, winding up with a twin win over the Phillies yesterday, 4-2 and 7-4, to give them a record of five victories in their six starts since returning to Wrigley field.

To Meet Giants

Before them are nine more games at home, including a four game series with the Giants next week.

The injury ridden Cards took their third straight beating at the hands of the Bees, losing 10-3 to the seven-hit pitching of the veteran Guy Bush.

This setback boosted the Giants' pace-setting edge to 2 1-2 games as they nosed out the Reds 6-5, with Carl Hubbell turning in his 19th pitching victory to stretch the winning streak of Bill Terry's galloping crew to 14 straight.

Tigers Are Limited

Wes (Bad Boy) Ferrell limited the Tigers to five hits for a 7-0 triumph.

The Brooklyns belted the Pittsburgh Bucs 10-3 for the second straight day.

Vernon Kennedy pitched a four-hit game as the White Sox slugged the Athletics 6-3.

The lowly St. Louis Browns again took over the job of chief baiter of the American league's leaders, the Yankees, by pushing four runs over in the fifth inning to sew up a 5-2 win.

"Singing Joe" Cascarella chalked up a five-hit pitching performance to give the Senators a 14-1 win over the second-place Cleveland Indians.

Long Count Barry Claimed By Death

CHICAGO, Aug. 27. (AP)—"Long Count" Dave Barry, who gained fame as referee of the second world's heavyweight battle between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney in Soldier field, Chicago, nine years ago, died in a hospital last night after a six weeks' illness. He was 47.

Barry, who tolled off the famous "14-count," instead of the customary ten, when Dempsey knocked Tunney sprawling in the seventh round of that memorable battle, became the object of widespread criticism for his actions. He refused to resume the count until Dempsey had gone to a neutral corner, as prescribed by the rules of the Illinois state athletic commission.

Barry early last month suffered a nervous breakdown.

SPORTOMETER

by COLLIER PARRIS

WE HOPE to get around with personal handshakes and greetings, but in the event we miss somebody, here's a rousing welcome from this department and all of Lubbock to the visiting golfers in session at Lubbock Country club this week.

You are to feel absolutely at home here, do anything you're man enough to do and get by with; call everybody by his, or her, first name, and let the rest of the world go by.

The only "don'ts" we offer for your personal welfare: Don't cross our hardboiled traffic cops, and don't pour too much lager on top of too much spirits frumenti.

If local golfers and out of town players come through as expected today, it'll be a great tournament. Some of the leading "foreigners" were on the grounds yesterday, and many more are expected today. It behooves each and all of us to extend the glad hand, make the visitors feel at home and make them want to come back.

Lubbock and its Country Club is proud to submit its new grass greens, situated on a new layout. We've no excuse to make for the greens nor for the condition of the fairways, etc. For first year greens, they're exceptionally good. Our fairways, we admit, are not so hot, for two reasons. The entire layout was changed, and new fairways designated. There are fairways now where roughs of the roughest sort used to be. They would have been better had the Lord smiled on us from rain clouds.

For the first time in Lubbock tournament history, visiting golfers need not feel handicapped as regards greens play. The grass carpets have been opened to the public for less than a month, and we're not used to greens here. We look for some out of town player, somebody accustomed to grass greens, to take away the championship won by Lubbock golfers for three straight years.

HAD A LOT OF FUN yesterday going around the front nine with a sixsome of popular golfers. It was fun because we didn't have to match strokes with any of them, just looked on like a gallery. They were Bill Parker of Abilene, Obie Bristow and Doug Jones of Big Spring, Buddy Wheeler of Stamford, Jo Dick Slaughter and Cliff Dean of Lubbock.

Parker, the veteran paper peddler, had forgotten his clubs and used a set of strangers, much to his trouble and disgust. Wheeler, who won the medal in the San Angelo invitational, was playing the course for the first time, as was Jones, a young swinger from Big Spring. Bristow, ex-Big Spring High football coach who turned the job of coaching over to his board of education, had toured the course previously, and he knew his way around. Jones shot the most consistent game. Slaughter was off form, shooting bogey golf consistently. There wasn't anything serious about it, and very little expert golf displayed. But it was fun.

They'll be out there today trying to qualify, and they'll get serious.

Slaughter, one of the most consistent tournament contenders in West Texas, is thinking seriously about winning this tournament. He has the game to do it, but lacks the temperament. When Jo Dick decides to shut the gates of mercy and forgets sympathy for his opponent, he'll start winning championships. But he's too considerate of the other fellow. He hasn't enough of the killer instinct, and he shoots too good a game to be thus handicapped.

Lubbock's best bets to keep the tournament championship at home are Edgar Doherty, the 1933 winner, and John Edmisson. Doherty's 64 last Sunday may make him the tournament favorite, although it is extreme-

TAHOKA SQUAD SAID READY

FIREWORKS TO FLASH AT PARRIS FIELD HERE SUNDAY

The gauntlet flung several weeks ago by Manager Skip Taylor of the Tahoka baseball club into the teeth of Lubbock's Hubbers has been thrown back, and the challenge will be accepted at Parris field Sunday afternoon.

"We're ready, hot and ready," Skip would say every time he called or wrote regarding a game. "We're a bunch of old heads here, the same bunch, practically, that has been playing together for years and we're pretty hard to get out."

All Fixed Up

So it was fixed up yesterday. Skip Taylor will bring his Tahokans here for a double header Sunday afternoon starting at 2 o'clock and the fur should fly.

Tahoka always has been known as one of the fightingest, grouchiest, hardest to please clubs on the South Plains. They've been baseball "gripers" for years and nothing suits them. So the fans can look for hot arguments, many of them, and a lot of feeling on the field when the Tahokans come to town.

It will be the first visit of the Tahoka team in two years. There used to be considerable rivalry between the towns and the baseball clubs. Right now, informs Skipper Taylor, is a fine time to get it started again.

Sled Allen, a very unpopular man in Tahoka, will be at the helm of the Hubbers again, ready to argue it out with any Tahokan who questions anything, and old-time baseball rivalry should be at its best.

Pete Edwards, who has been playing ball for Tahoka and Lamesa since shortly after the turn of the century, or something, is slated to start on the mound for Tahoka. He pitched Tahoka to a big victory over Hobbs last Sunday in the first game of a double header, then came back as an outfielder in the second game to crash a home run and give Tahoka a clean sweep of the twin bill in a 2 to 1 nightcap victory.

SAILOR IS IN NO MOOD TO PLAY EASY

TEX TOSSES CYCLONE IN TWO STRAIGHT FALLS OF BOUT

Maybe he hadda date, or something he'd et mighta give him indigestion—but Sailor Tex Watkins was in no mood for dallying last night. In straight falls, he subdued Cyclone Mackey in a main event grappling bout at the Auditorium—in less than 20 minutes.

The first fall required almost 15 minutes, the second less than five.

Most gruesome and horrifying was the manner in which Watkins put the ex-barber from Clovis away. The Cyclone, who has been itching for a good fight, carried the battle to Watkins for the first ten minutes of the main go. Watkins was taken somewhat by surprise as the smaller Cyclone struck him full force, on the jaw, in the tummy and around the legs. For a few minutes, the merciless ex-gob was fought off his feet, made to look silly.

But Mackey worked a bit too hard and too fast. He hadn't enough reserve when Watkins finally awoke to the situation, realized that there was a dummy instead of a referee holding down the job of the third man, and went to work on both of them. One of the poorest bits of refereeing in weeks was turned in by the feeble Rex O'Sullivan, who could do nothing more effective than wag a warning finger at the aggressor. Both Mackey and Watkins made a monkey of him, but Sailor made the biggest.

Grown a-weary of being wig-wagged and feebly cuffed on the neck by the undersized referee, Watkins blasted him aside with one mighty whif, laid him low in the resin, and then proceeded to work on Mackey. He had kicked Mackey off the platform four times in succession, the referee's objections being overruled by Watkins' strong arm. With O'Sullivan trying to wake up from what looked like a troubled slumber, Watkins grabbed Mackey's legs, twisted him over and fell down in a perfect Japanese crab. But there was no one around to alleviate the situation. By the time O'Sullivan came to, Mackey was rendered hors de combat, his back all but popping in two. The Sailor wouldn't turn loose. Finally he did, upon the referee's insistence.

Another Mistake

Mackey was there groveling and shaking. Watkins continued to jump up and down on his weakened back. Then offered to pick him up. Chump-like, O'Sullivan allowed this, and the result was a resounding thwack as Watkins picked Mackey up with a crotch hold and flung him to the carpet.

Few fans doubted that Mackey would return, but he did. He was no good, however. His back was still ailing and it took strenuous effort

FIRST ROUNDS IN SOFTBALL ARE HELD

LUBBOCK, OLTON AND DICKENS WINNERS AT LITTLEFIELD

LITTLEFIELD, Aug. 27, (Special)—Olton, Lubbock and Dickens softball teams won initial skirmishes here last night when six of 13 clubs saw action in opening rounds of the South Plains softball divisions of the Amateur Softball Association of America.

The tournament continues with three more first round games tonight. The Nehi team of Plainview plays the Littlefield All-Stars in the first game, beginning at 7:30 o'clock; Tulia and the Post Centennials play the second game, beginning approximately at 8:45, and Sudan meets Olton in the third game, starting around 10 o'clock.

A large crowd attended last night's three games, played under the lights of Littlefield's softball park, filling the bleachers and occupying nearly all the parking and standing room.

Three games will be played Friday night, and three Saturday. Saturday's first two games are to be played in the afternoon, with the championship frolic starting at 8 o'clock Saturday night. The winning team will represent the South Plains district in the state tournament at Fort Worth, sponsored by the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, September 3, 4 and 5. The runner-up team also is eligible for the state tournament, but must enter at its own expense. Littlefield business men have guaranteed, as first prize, an expense-paid trip for the winning team in this tournament. Winner at Fort Worth represents the state in the national and world's tournament in Chicago in September.

Bobby Has A Solid Bid For Position

CHICAGO, Aug. 27. (AP)—Bobby Wilson, welterweight All-American halfback from Southern Methodist university, had a solid bid today for the number one forward-passing job on the college all star football squad against the Detroit Lions Sept. 1.

The slender Texan, stationed at left halfback on the "varsity," gave a dazzling exhibition of accurate tossing, firing numerous short shots to his ends, Wayne Millner and Marty Peters of Notre Dame. He wound up his appearance by breaking away for several long gains around the second team ends.

In explanation of the keen sight of birds, it is said that the long rays of light produced by the yellowish-red color filter in the eyes of some birds penetrate more freely through vaporous mist and haze of the lower air layers.

"Dog Days" are Here— Beware of Biliousness!

Have you ever noticed that in very hot weather your organs of digestion and elimination seem to become torpid or lazy? Your food sours, forms gas, causes belching, heartburn, and a feeling of restlessness and irritability. Perhaps you may have sick headache, nausea and dizziness or blind spells on suddenly rising. Your tongue may be coated, your complexion bilious and your bowel actions sluggish or insufficient.

These are some of the more common symptoms of warnings of biliousness or so-called "torpid liver," so prevalent in hot climates. Don't neglect them. Take Calotabs, the improved calomel compound tablets that give you the effects of calomel and salts combined. You will be delighted with the prompt relief they afford. team of Levelland, 11 to 3, in the first game. The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal team won from the Grassland Grasshoppers of the Post city league, 18 to 13, in the second encounter, and the Kinney-Dickens club of the Dickens city league won from the Littlefield Wildcats, 6 to 5, in the third and most exciting game of opening day.

Olton	402 311 0—11	12 5
Levelland	000 111 0—3	6 4

Darden and D Hair, Hatton, Brown and Manley.

Olton took a lead in the first inning on four singles and three errors. The team scored two more runs in the third on a single, two errors, a walk and a single, the latter scoring both runs. In the fourth, D. Hair tripled, Dodson and Silcott doubled, and Eby doubled to score the third run. L. Hair doubled and scored on D. Hair's double in the fifth, and Silcott, who had doubled, scored on a play at first for the sixth inning run. Silcott, D. Hair and Dodson led the Olton hitting with two hits each, all of them doubles except D. Hair's triple.

Lubbock Team Wins

Levelland scored in the fourth on two singles and two fielder's choices, and in the fifth on an error in right field. Two singles and an error scored two runs in the sixth. Thompson led the Levelland attack with a pair of singles.

Grassland	606 002 0—13	14 6
Lubbock	503 415 x—18	16 7

W. Holland and Evans; Long, Thompson, Duval and Duval, Thompson.

Charley Duval, starting as catcher, went in to pitch the last five innings and received credit for winning this high-scoring spree for the Lubbock Avalanche Journal team.

Grassland took an early lead off Long, scoring six runs in the first inning on a home run by Holland, two singles, a homer by Evans clearing the bases. The runs came off seven safe hits.

Lubbock made 5 runs in the same inning on a walk, a single and a triple, by Schwalbe, a single by Bagwell, a double by Thompson.

Grassland went further ahead in the third on a single, a walk, a double, another single and a home run by Holland, the latter scoring four runs.

Lubbock took the lead with four runs in the fourth, after scoring three times in the third. A double by Bagwell and another by Thompson, after two were safe on a single and an error, brought in the third inning runs. A walk, a home run by Breedlove and four consecutive singles gave Lubbock four runs in the fourth. Grassland added two in the sixth on a walk, a single and a double by B. Holland. Duval hit a home run for Lubbock in the sixth to start the Lubbock scoring. He followed with another homer to score two runs ahead of him and ice the game for the Avalanche-Journal club. W. Holland tied Duval's home run mark, and Bagwell of Lubbock led the hitting with a double and two singles.

Wildcats Eliminated

Kinney-Dickens	210 210 0—6	9 2
Littlefield Cats	310 010 0—5	5 4

Godeke and Houston, Kiplinger and Moore.

This was the most interesting game of the first round so far. The Littlefield team committed three errors which, combined with a single, let in two runs for Kinney-Dickens in the first inning. Littlefield took the lead, however, with a walk, an error and two singles, followed by a triple by Wilson. Kinney-Dickens tied the count in the early part of the second when M. Lea tripled and Houston singled to score him. Littlefield regained the lead in the same inning, but lost it when Kinney-Dickens scored twice in the fourth on a double by M. Lea, an error and two singles. Each team scored in the fifth, Littlefield on two walks and an error, Kinney-Dickens on a home run by B. Street.

for him to recover a standing position once he was on his knees. He flipped Watkins with a series of head locks, then fell under the ropes. Watkins pulled him back in, grabbed his legs and sat on his kidneys for another Japanese crab, and it was over.

Fans saw one of the best wrestling exhibitions ever staged here when Dory Detton and Herb Parks fought a great draw in the semi-final.

A Crowd Pleaser

They kept it clean, so far as rules go, but they went at it fast and furiously, never wasting a minute's time, nor their own strength. They executed some of the most skillful grappling, some of the most scientific blocks, local fandom has ever seen. It was 30 minutes of fast, courageous wrestling, in which both men hurt and were hurt. They flipped each other overside, staged cunning comebacks, kept each other going from opening gong [illegible] final bell. It was a masterpiece of middleweight wrestling.

Parks gave Detton much of his own medicine, using the flying head scissors with as much effectiveness as Detton used it, and taking advantage of every opening. Detton seemed a bit baffled and surprised at first, but finally caught on and it was even-Stephen for the whole 30 minutes, and had it been a main event they might have been going yet. The crowd showed its appreciation all the way, yelling and beseeching, cheering each man and never jeering.

Danny McShain, the same who has been jailed in nearly every wrestling center of three countries and barred permanently from two of them — Mexico and Canada—was his old self last night, only better, as he started on the comeback trail in this circuit. He lambasted the dickens out of the trying Ace Abbott from Abilene, winning in nine minutes with his stomping hammerlock. He whaled Abbott around quite seriously, strutting and smirking all the while in the old McShain fashion, then grabbed a hammerlock, forced Abbott to the mat and proceeded to kick and stomp the muscles of his arm until the pain became unbearable. Abbott gave it up and McShain strutted away after slapping Referee O'Sullivan out of the ropes as a parting gesture.

McShain returned to the ring as the main eventers were introduced, and challenged "the winner or anybody else who has the guts for the main event here next week or any other time."

Had No Faith In Gly-Cas Until He Gave It A Trial

Mr. W. C. Jackson Was Practically A Well Man In Three Weeks Time, Gas, Bloating Gone, Sleeps Good, Rheumatism, Neuritis Suffering Relieved

"The new Gly-Cas medicine practically performed the impossible in my awful case," said Mr. W. C. Jackson, 214 Garden St., Corpus Christi, Tex. "When I began this new remedy I was skeptical, had no faith in it at all but a short trial soon proved its outstanding merit. Gly-Cas is a medicine worthy of the whole confidence of the people. For more than ten years constipation, indigestion and bloating had practically "wrecked" my health. I could eat nothing without suffering afterwards. My system filled with poisons, could not sleep at night for my kidneys would disturb me many times which kept my rest broken. Before I realized it rheumatism and neuritis had settled over my system and had a dreadful hold on me. My back, hips and limbs were almost crippled at times with the rheumatic pain and that dreadful sharp stabbing neuritis moved over my entire body always keeping me in constant misery. This awful condition gave me great concern during the past few years and I had about come to the conclusion I was doomed to finish life in this suffering when I began to hear so much praise for this new Gly-Cas and what it had done for so many here. Finally I decided so many people could not be entirely wrong—Gly-Cas must have merit—so I gave it a trial and found it wonderful."

W. C. JACKSON

"From the first few doses of Gly-Cas I began to show great improvement," he continued, "and today after three weeks of taking this new remedy I am practically a well man. That dreadful rheumatism and neuritis has been driven from my system and my kidneys seldom bother me at night. I sleep good, have new strength and energy and even eat and enjoy my meals without any gas or bloating afterwards. Even my headaches have been eliminated, nerves quieted and I feel so well I couldn't begin to praise Gly-Cas half enough for what it has done for me."

A cheap, poorly refined motor oil is like an overdressed wrestler. Such an oil is hampered by useless waste which should be removed by further refining. Such an oil, like the overdressed wrestler, can't do a good job!

Most 25c oils, like this wrestler, are still somewhat hampered. Some of the useless waste has been removed, but not all of it. No refiner of 25c oils could afford to carry refining further than this until Gulf perfected the Multi-sol process.

GULFLUBE MOTOR OIL, like this wrestler, is stripped for action. Stripped of all useless waste by the Multi-sol process —the finest 25c oil in America —the only 25c oil equalling premium-priced oils! For better lubrication, cleaner motor, less oil consumption—get Gulflube —at the Sign of the Orange Disc.

Wesley Read is telling this one around town.

Four animals, all with money, went to the Centennial and only three of them got in. They were a skunk, a frog, a pig and a duck.

Which one was refused admission and why?

Answer: The duck had a bill; the frog a greenback; the pig four quarters—but the skunk only had a scent.

DR. Kenneth E. Oberholtzer, superintendent of schools and president of the Rotary club, read a little paper at the club meeting yesterday and it aroused so much comment among the tired business men present that The Plainsman is reproducing it here.

The doctor clipped it from the Phi Delta Kappa magazine, publication of a teachers fraternity. It's entitled "Man And Mule."

Here goes:

"Over the hill trailed a man behind a mule pulling a plow. Said the man to the mule: 'Bill, you are just a mule, the son of a jackass, and I am a man made in the image of God. Yet here we work, hitched up together, year after year. I often wonder if you work for me or I work for you. Verily, I think it is a partnership between a mule and a fool, for surely I work as hard as you if not harder. Plowing or cultivating we cover the same distance. But you do it on four legs and I on two. I, therefore, do twice as much work as you do.

'Soon we will be preparing for a corn crop. When the crop is harvested I give one-third to the landlord for being so kind as to let me use a small speck of God's earth; one-third goes to you and the rest is mine. You consume all your portion with the exception of the cobs while I divide mine with seven children, six hens, two ducks and a banker. If we both need shoes you get 'em. Bill, you are getting the best of me, and I ask you is it fair for a mule, the son of a jackass, to swindle a man, the lord of creation, out of his substance?

'Why, you only help to plow and cultivate the ground while I alone must cut, shock and husk the corn while you look over the pasture fence and heehaw at me. All the fall and most of the winter the whole family, from baby up, picks cotton to help raise money to pay taxes and buy a new set of harness and pay the mortgage on you. And what do you care about the mortgage on your tough, ungrateful hide?

And about the only time I am your better is on election day, for I can vote and you can't. After the election, though, I realize that I was fully as big a jackass as your papa.'"

That's not such bad reasoning, is it?

That Man on Avenue Q says the only difference between a couple parked on the parlor sofa and a couple parked in a car on the roadside is two generations.

A LONG time ago some unheralded cornfield philosopher discussing the average man's reaction to disappointments and setbacks remarked:

"It all depends upon whose ox is being gored."

In other words anything that happens to the other fellow doesn't worry me but if it happens to me look out!

Mrs. Mary Belle Spencer, eccentric Chicago attorney, is the mother of two girls. One is 16 and the other a little older. All during the girls' lives they have been permitted to "do as they darn please," according to Mrs. Spencer's own words. The girls' father, Dr. Richard V. Spencer, must be peculiar, too, since he has approved of the method his wife has employed in bringing up their daughters.

Anyhow, the "do as they darn please girls" have had a good deal of publicity. They didn't please to go to school and their mother successfully fought off the truant officers and won her point. They "pleased" to swim in the winter time in the icy waters of Lake Michigan and swim they did. Those are two pretty fair examples of the Spencer method of raising daughters.

However, Mary Belle Spencer, 16, the younger of the two, "did as she darn pleased" the other day and eloped into Indiana with a 21-year old kid who hasn't much in the way of a job and can't support her. That was the last straw and Mrs. Spencer hit the ceiling. All her high falutin' ideas crumbled into dust and she began moves to have the marriage annulled—a pretty difficult job in Indiana.

MRS. Spencer learned that "chickens come home to roost" and the philosophy of "doing as we darn please" isn't such a sensible one. After all, we have to realize that there are millions of us living here together and some sort of rules are essential if we're going to get along.

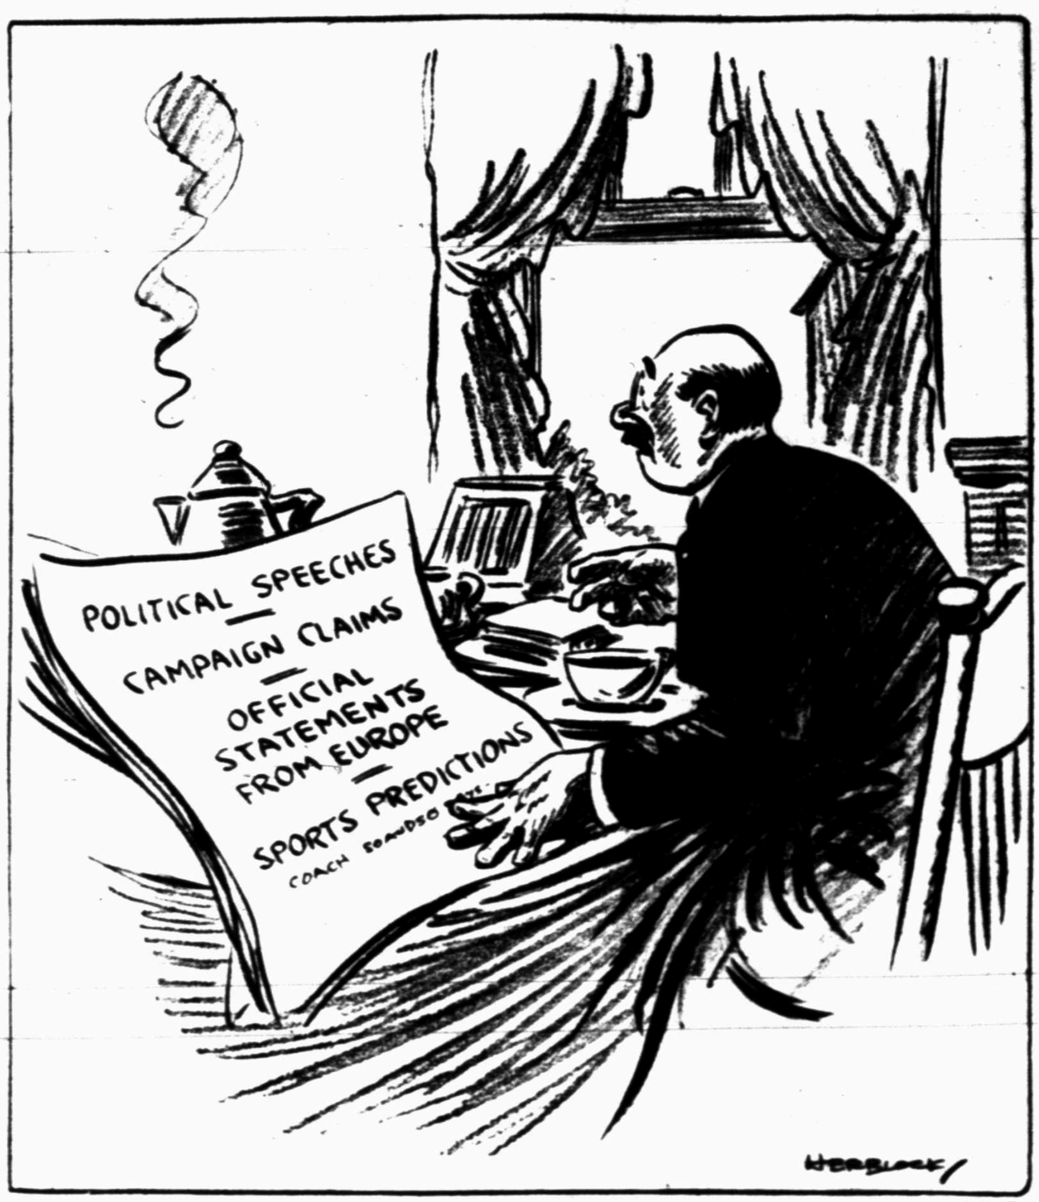
It was an old time Western gambler who once remarked:

"I don't care what happens as long as it doesn't happen to me".

The trouble with that kind of feeling, as Mrs. Spencer has learned, is that "something usually happens" to all of us and we'd better do what we can to stave it off as long as possible.

After all, whether we're raising daughters, chickens or bank accounts, there's no substitute for tradition and common sense.

"Pass The Salt, Please"



Snaps From Studios: Quins Will Be Bathing Beauties; Actresses Have Diary Jitters; Romance May Be Cooling

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 27—Short takes: Actors have to provide their own wardrobes for films but studios buy clothes for actresses. So the company that went to Canada to shoot "Reunion" with the Dionne quins took along 10 each of hats, bonnets, dresses, coats, nightgowns, sunsuits, rompers and such—the rush product of 40 seamstresses.

Also 10 bathing suits. Hollywood never wastes time getting pretty actresses into bathing suits.

NO SOAP

There was a casting call for kids to play in "Tom Sawyer" and about 2000 showed up, most of them towed by parents.

The latter had so scrubbed and dressed up their hopefuls that not a single type could be found for Huckleberry Finn!

A pall of smoke has been hanging over the town for weeks. Supposed to have been caused by all the screen players burning their diaries.

One actress is saving her diary regardless of the example of the Astor case. But she's heading each entry "Ladies and gentlemen of the jury."

Couldn't Resist Germ

Only a few months ago Robert Taylor was confessing to me that he was having a tough time keeping his balance in his rush to popularity. He hoped he could keep on living modestly and that he wouldn't "go Hollywood." . . . The other day he got a nice bonus from his studio, and rushed out and bought two fancy cars. The young man who used to share a cheap apartment with Victor Jory is also building a big house in the hills.

Anti-romance department: Charlie Chaplin and Paulette Goddard seem to be cooling for some reason. There's talk of this quarrel and that, including her flight from a yachting trip.

The George Rafts are so annoyed with each other that they're not even speaking about a divorce.

Gloomy Gathering

Dreariest job in town is working in "Winterset." Mostly in the rain. Costumes were made new, then aged mechanically to thin shabbiness.

Everyone's afraid of getting pneumonia, or a case of jitters, anyway. This is from the Maxwell Anderson play, and all about a young man's effort to clear the name of his father, who was unjustly convicted of murder. Practically everybody dies.

Helen Kane, the Boop-a-Doop Girl, is thin again and trying for a comeback.

Tallulah Bankhead, here with her play, has been seen in huddles with celluloid tycoons, and if they're going to hire her for pictures, it's about time.

A great star of the silent days, who's now a bit player when he has a job at all, was asked what he'd do if he could earn another fortune. He said he'd have the benches upholstered in all the casting offices.

Riot Of Temperament

All's quiet on the Garbo set. Most of the town's pyrotemperament is concentrated in the picture called "Ladies in Love." For there are four stars in that one—Simone Simon, Janet Gaynor, Loretta Young, and Constance Bennett—and Hollywood hath no fury like a star who figures she's being slighted.

It isn't always that way, for there are four stars in "Libeled Lady," and they're great pals. Myrna Loy and William Powell had to go on a location trip with the company. Jean Harlow and Spencer Tracy were told they wouldn't be needed for the scenes and could take a vacation. They went along with the company anyway, just for the fun of it.

Of course, too, Miss Harlow and Powell are something more than pals.

And just to make it a real party, Arthur Hornblow, Miss Loy's new husband, took his vacation there. A sort of busman's honeymoon.

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

A TIP FROM MISTER STALIN

It is interesting to note from recent news dispatches that Joseph Stalin, Russia's iron-fisted dictator, doesn't believe in the adage which says "what's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander".

Stalin and his tight little group of Moscow communist bosses, direct in most nations of the world undercover groups seeking to everthrow the governments of those nations and substitute for them a communistic rule, dictated from Russia. There is, of course, such a move in this country. The "boring from within" principle has been directed toward our government by Stalin and his aides for some years now.

But while Stalin believes it is perfectly all right for him to use agents in efforts to overthrow other governments, he doesn't like to have "borers from within" active against his own regime at home. Sixteen plotters against the Stalin rule were lined up and shot just the other day after a "trial", which we are sure was "fair and just", in which they "confessed" to conspiring against the Stalin regime.

Maybe Stalin has the right idea.

At least, his methods are thorough.

While The Journal, under present conditions, doesn't subscribe to the theory of shooting even those who seek, through violence, to overthrow our government, we do believe Uncle Sam would do well to slap a few of Stalin's agents here into cells under the criminal syndicalism laws, or deport them—or both.

That's certainly worth thinking about in the light of occurrences in various parts of the country.

Dutcher's News And Views OF WASHINGTON

(Copyright, 1936 NEA Service, Inc.)

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 — Indictments returned in Wisconsin against most of the major American oil companies and 58 of their officials and other oil men open a new chapter in the history of the anti-trust laws.

The Department of Justice will soon be prosecuting important individuals and corporations in other industries on charges of violating the Sherman act.

Meanwhile the nature of the oil cases and the background of the new trust-busting campaign have been somewhat obscured. If the government proves its charges and wins a verdict, the oil industry will be convicted of flagrant violations and its contention that it is being prosecuted for price-fixing practices previously approved by the government will be exploded.

Assistant Attorney General John Dickinson will try to show that major oil companies attempted to starve out independent jobbers and retailers by secretly buying up the gasoline of independent refiners, both raising the price to the jobbers and making it difficult for them to get supplies.

It is alleged by the government that a buying pool was formed, operated by stooges, and that independent refiners didn't know to whom they were really selling. The government will also contend that the great secrecy with which it charges operations were conducted indicated that the defendants were aware of their illegality.

G-Men Conduct Probe

It is contended that an artificial price was created and published, which about 4000 middle western jobbers, under terms of their contracts, were compelled to meet.

The indictments came after investigation by federal lawyers and "G-men." Wire-tapping was proposed at one point, but Dickinson refused to countenance it.

It required months to get behind the alleged stooges and trace the "higher-up" connections they are charged with having. Agents had to trace back through a series of meetings in hotel rooms, check telephone call records, and find out who met whom and where before they could present their findings to the grand jury, which in turn made further accusations.

Oil Men Defend System

Oil men say they're being prosecuted for practices which the government encouraged, but vigorously denied in Washington. There was a buying pool ostensibly for prevention of dumping, for a short period in 1934. Oil Administrator Ickes is said to have put a stop to it. No official is known to have condoned such practices as the government now charges.

Three years ago business men urged and were granted a suspension of anti-trust laws to stabilize competition, in return for promises of shorter work hours and higher wages. There was inevitable confusion after the Supreme court killed NRA in June, 1935, but Attorney General Cummings in the following July took Dickinson from his post as assistant secretary of commerce to head up the Department of Justice anti-trust division. Work on the oil and other cases began at once.

Charge "Slick" Evasions

Officials insist that "big business" has become so acutely aware of the anti-trust laws that most violations are well planned and very surreptitious, thus requiring many months of work by those who seek evidence. The independent jobbers have been shouting for action through the last year, but their complaints were vague and the evidence scarce.

The U. S. Supreme court, by outlawing open price agreements, has driven price-fixing business men "underground." It has held in effect that practically any price agreement between competitors is illegal.

But a single corporation can monopolize 99 or 100 per cent of the business in a single commodity without violating the law — unless the court says this was done with wicked intent. The court already has held that when a corporation runs competitors out of business, it does so not with the purpose of putting them out of business, but to build up its own business.

Rich and Reckless

BEGIN HERE TODAY

MOLLY MILFORD, rich and popular, has received proposals of marriage from three suitors, but BRENT STUART, whom she loves, has not asked her to marry him.

Bored with parties, Molly goes to "The Red Poppy", questionable night club, with another admirer, WICK ROSS. The lights go out and when they come on Molly finds herself dancing with a handsome stranger. He tells her his name is "NELSON WHITTAKER". In reality he is NELSON FERGUSON, bank robber, one of a group planning to spirit Molly away and hold her for ransom.

A few days later he asks her to have dinner with him and she agrees. Waiting for him at a downtown store, Molly encounters a girl who is her exact double. Impulsively Molly exchanges her luxurious costume for the other girl's shabby one.

Molly and "Whittaker" go to a place called "Frenchy's." Police arrive and there is shooting in which "Whittaker" is fatally injured. Molly is forced into a car and taken to a deserted farmhouse.

Brent Stuart, convinced that Molly is still alive, sets out to find her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER X

Brent sat in the office of the city's chief of detectives. "What do you know," he asked bluntly, "about 'The Red Poppy' and the man who owns it?"

Michael Donavan studied Brent thoughtfully for a moment before he replied. "Maybe more than has been in the papers. It's no place for fools and babies. As for the man who owns it — Black is his name — I'd say he has a tough heart under a soft shirt. Outwardly he keeps within limits—that is, the legal limits stretched by his smart counsel. Some day he's going to step over a little and become too confident. We're waiting for that slip, Mr. Stuart."

"I'd like the license number of his car," Brent said, "and a description of it."

Donavan turned to a file. "Glad to accommodate you. It's an ordinary black touring car, nickel-trimmed. License number . . . here. I'll write it down for you."

He handed Brent a card.

"Thank you, Chief." Brent got to his feet.

"What does Black want now? A fine new house?" the detective queried. "I didn't know he could afford one. Had an idea he needed money. At one time he could have paid for several without noticing it, I guess. Those were the days when he ran a string of gambling houses in Chicago. There were a lot of tributaries feeding money into Black's pockets, but the government located those filthy streams. Black came here and opened 'The Red Poppy'. He's tamed down, according to popular opinion, but I've always done my own thinking and I'm not convinced."

"I'm not doing a house for him," Brent said frankly.

The detective chuckled. "I would have been a mighty poor detective if I hadn't known that. Just wanted to hear you talk a little. I'm going to give you some advice, Mr. Stuart. Keep away from Black. He's dangerous and smart—which doubles the danger. By the way, Black's out of town. Has been for a couple of days. His right-hand man is Bill Patrick."

"Thank you, Chief. Black's the man I want to see." Brent smiled a little, but there was no smile in his eyes.

"Anything I can do?"

"Nothing. Thanks just the same. If I find I need help, I'll call on you."

"If you ever found you needed help, monkeying around with those fellows, I'm afraid you'd be beyond it. Well, good luck."

When Brent was gone the detective sat alone for a while, a frown between his keen, dark eyes.

The sudden notoriety that had come to "Frenchy's" resulted in a capacity crowd for the evening meal.

One garrulous person on the grounds had won an audience of sensation seekers.

"I saw that couple—the robber and the girl when they came in," he said. "She was pretty as a picture, but she looked worried and didn't seem to be eating much. She kept sending notes to the boys in the orchestra, asking them to play different pieces."

A man, who had driven up a short while before in an antiquated automobile, pressed closer while the short, baldheaded man was speaking.

"Then what happened?" the stranger asked.

"Then the police came," the baldheaded man said. "Everybody thought the place was being raided, but the police were after this bank robber and darn if they didn't draw a bead on him right over my head! My table was close to this couple, and if I hadn't ducked when the firing began I wouldn't be telling this tale."

"When the lights went on?" prompted the stranger again.

"When the lights went on, young fellow, the crowd went wild. Everybody was trying to get out of there, and you couldn't blame anybody for that. The police had a hard time handling the crowd. The girl got away.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE
Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are one of Nature's chief ways of taking acids and wastes out of the blood. A healthy person should pass about 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, waste stays in the body and may become poisonous. It may start nagging backaches, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't let it lay you up.

Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills—used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get Doan's Pills.

WOTTA MAN!
FOOZY AN' DINNY? WELL, SAY - WHERE ARE THEY, NOW?
HE DOESN'T KNOW - HE SAYS HE LEFT THEM BACK THERE SOMEWHERE
BACK THERE? GREAT HONK! MAYBE THEY'RE ALL BURNED UP BY NOW - C'MON, WE GOTTA FIND 'EM - OR, AT LEAST, WHAT'S LEFT OF 'EM!
HEY, OOP! LOOK! THERE'S A BIG DINOSAUR!
IT'S DINNY AND FOOZY!
HOTZIG! - AN', LOOK! THERE'S KING GUZZLE AN' HIS MEN WITH 'EM!

Rates, Rules and Requirements of Classified Advertising Of The

Lubbock Evening Journal
Lubbock Morning Avalanche
Sunday Avalanche-Journal
(Sunday Morning)

All classified advertising will appear in both the Morning and Afternoon papers—both papers counting one insertion. All classified advertising is printed in the Lubbock Morning Avalanche first and the Daily Journal of the same date. No classified originating in the afternoon paper.

Classified for Sunday's issue will appear in the Avalanche-Journal counting one insertion, as this paper is sent to all subscribers of both the afternoon and morning papers.

AVALANCHE-JOURNAL
Combined Rates:

Minimum words per insertion	10
One insertion per word	4c
Two insertions per word	6c
Three insertions per word	7c
Seven insertions per word	12c
Thirty insertions per word	48c

These rates are for consecutive insertions only. Additional consecutive insertions over 30 times at 1½c per word each.

All out-of-town ads received by mail must be cash with order. No exceptions. "NO REFUNDS" on ad stopped after it has appeared in paper.

PHONE 13, 14 OR 15

Our experienced ad taker will receive your ad and help you to word it, then our collector will call the following day. These accounts are "accommodation accounts" for our patrons and for one day only.

No advertisements accepted on an "until forbid" order. A specified number of insertions must be given.

We reserve the right to place an advertisement under the proper classification and reject unclean or objectionable copy.

Obituaries and cards of thanks at regular classified advertising rates.

The publishers are not responsible for copy omissions, typographical errors, or any unintentional error that may occur further than to correct it next issue after it is brought to their attention. All advertising orders are accepted on this basis only.

Classified Advertising accepted until 5:00 p. m. on week days and 9:00 p. m. on Saturday, and all advertising received after 6:00 p. m. will be placed under "Too Late To Classify."

For classified display advertising information.

PHONE 13, 14 OR 15
TO DISCONTINUE AN AD

Notice to Discontinue an Ad must be given after 8 a. m. and before 6 p. m. to some member of the Classified Advertising Department. We cannot be responsible for notices given before or after these hours and to a member of some other department.

BENCH CAREER IS CLOSED

JUDGE MULLICAN WILL QUIT OFFICE; PLANS TO OPEN PRACTICE

Nearly 14 years as a trial judge will be ended Sept. 1 by Judge Clark M. Mullican, who Wednesday afternoon made public a letter of resignation to Gov. James V. Allred. Judge Mullican said the action was prompted by a desire to re-enter the practice of law "at the earliest practicable date."

Three suggestions for procedural reform in trial courts, based on his intimate knowledge of court problems gained in his long experience, were included in the letter to the governor.

"To aid you in selecting my successor," his letter also read, "may I advise that the Honorable E. L. Pitts, present county judge, has been elected to the 99th court bench, and the Honorable J. J. Dillard has been elected judge of Lubbock county."

Would Lend Power

Adoption of his three suggestions on court reform, Judge Mullican wrote, "would lend power to the most important arm of the government and make it a mighty bulwark between right and wrong, and go far toward regaining for the courts the honor and respect of all classes."

His suggested reforms were:

First, the removal of trial courts "from the vagaries of political campaign by some system of appointment, or of election by members of the bar who are best qualified to elect the trial judge."

Suggest Salaries Increases

Second, an increase in salaries of trial judges "commensurate with the services, in order that more able lawyers might be induced to serve on the bench."

Third, "A delegation to the Supreme Court of Texas the authority to promulgate rules and regulations of procedure consistent with the dispatch of legal business."

Twice appointed to the district judge bench and three times elected to the office, Judge Mullican said in announcing his resignation:

"Having given nearly 14 years of the best part of my life to my state in the civil service, as one of its district judges, and more than 30 years in its military service, I feel entitled while a comparatively young man to do something for myself, while at the same time yielding to others the mantle of office I have so long enjoyed. Therefore, I did not become a candidate for re-election in the July primary."

His term of office would have expired next Jan. 1.

Immediate appointment by Governor Allred of a successor is expected since the September term of the 99th court, having jurisdiction in Lubbock county, opens on the seventh.

Judge Mullican said that his reentry into the practice of law would be in Lubbock.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Aug. 27. (AP)—Wheat price fluctuations today were confined to a range of 1 3-4 cents, with the market winding up at a net fractional advance for the session. Corn, on the other hand, was independently weak, September declining 1 5-8 cents at times.

Rumors that the minimum price guaranteed Canadian wheat producers by the dominion government might be raised strengthened wheat prices in domestic markets and at Winnipeg. Minneapolis and Winnipeg wheat showed more strength than was displayed here, scoring net gains of about 1 1-2 cents at times.

Wheat closed 1-4-3-4 cent higher than yesterday's finish, September 1.11 7-8-12; December 1.10 3-4-7-8, and corn was 3-8-1 5-8 lower, Sept. 1.10 1-2-5-8, Dec. 95 1-2-3-4. Oats closed 1-8 off to 1-8 up, rye 5-8-1 1-8 higher and barley one up. Provisions lost eight to ten cents.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP)—Generally favorable business and industrial news provided stimulation for a quiet but substantial recovery in today's stock market.

After a diffident opening and a subsequent slipping movement buyers got behind the rails, steels and specialties. Many selected issues near the fourth hour were ahead fractions to 3 or more points.

Prominent share performers on the upside included Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, Northern Pacific, Great Northern, Delaware & Hudson, Lackawanna, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Crucible Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Vanadium, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Chrysler, General Motors, Douglas Aircraft, Ward Baking preferred, Mesta Machine, Du Pont, American Can and Westinghouse.

On a fairly firm foundation were United Aircraft, North American, American Water Works, McIntyre Porcupine, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Commercial Credit, General Electric, Goodyear, Anaconda, Twin City Rapid Transit, Studebaker, Warner Bros., and Pure Oil.

American Telephone was backward and U. S. Industrial Alcohol heavy.

H. J. Jarett has gone to St. Louis and New York City to purchase fall merchandise for the Cinderella shop.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 27. (AP)—Light offerings unsettled the cotton market at the opening today and prices lost a couple of points in quiet dealings.

Selling was mostly for hedge account. The trade bought, but only on a scale down and by the end of the first half hour options were around 25 cents a bale lower.

October opened at 11.39 and then dipped to 11.37, while December at 11.43 and May at 11.54 were off proportionate amounts.

Liverpool reported an irregular market, with no outside speculative support.

Early weather reports showed light showers fell in South Texas overnight and heavier rains were reported from the Atlantic coast region. Other sections were dry, with normal temperatures.

The market hovered around opening levels during the morning and activity fell off.

With bullish crop reports keeping shorts out of the market and the increased hedge selling preventing active operations by bullish interests the day's trading approached a stalemate.

Oct. sold at 11.38, Dec. at 11.44 and March at 11.53.

Most constructive advices came from cotton goods markets. Sales of 8,000,000 yards of gray goods were reported yesterday, the heaviest movement in this construction in some time. More inquiry was reported for cotton yarns.

The next government crop estimate, while still nearly two weeks away, exerted a restraining influence on dealings. The trade is looking for a sharp reduction from the August 8 estimate of 12,481,000 bales.

DEMO PLANS FOR DISTRICT MAPPED

Democratic executive committee for the 25-county 19th congressional district made organization and financial plans in a meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Pink L. Parrish, 904 Avenue R.

Tom Garrard of Tahoka, chairman, presided. Other members were Sam Richardson of Lamesa, who also is a committeeman of the 30th senatorial district; Dr. W. A. (Bill) Jackson and Parrish, both of Lubbock, and Mrs. Tillman L. Jones of Post and C. C. (Charles) Thompson of Colorado.

Quota Set At $15,000

Purpose of the gathering further extended to plans for organizing each county and each precinct of the district. The financial quota for the 25 counties has been set at approximately $15,000, or about 25 cents for each voter.

Rallies for each county seat of the district, the state and national organizations to supply speakers, will be conducted in the near future.

"Enthusiasm was generally reflected in the meeting," said Richardson, "and committeemen expressed themselves as confident the financial response will be as quick as it was when a pre-convention quota of $500 was set for the district. The district then was one of the first in the state to raise the money."

test, horse racing, riding tournament, goat roping and square dancing. There will also be a carnival here. Softball games are scheduled.

Judge G. E. Hamilton, Matador, is in charge of the dedication of two monuments, one at Tee Pee City and the other at Roaring Springs.

The site here is on the banks of the Tongue river and in the early days of settlement of West Texas, cowboys watered their horses and stock here, as did travelers. It is tradition that Quanah Parker once pitched camp here with his tribe and that Indians were frequent visitors here.

Program Is Given

Thursday's program starting at 11 a. m., includes: memorial services with Rev. A. P. Stokes; lunch; afternoon, address by Congressman Mahon, to be introduced by Alton B. Chapman, Spur; games.

Friday, music by Brown's string band; address by Judge Hamilton; other addresses.

On the Tee Pee City marker is the following: "Buffalo camp and oldest settlement west of Henrietta, south of Fort Elliott, (now Mobeetie) and north of Fort Griffin, 1875-80. Nora Cooper, first white child born here in 1882; I. O. Armstrong, early day merchant, buried near this site. J. W. Arrington, of the Ranger force, made headquarters here at intervals from 1875 to 1881."

The local monument has the following: "Favorite Indian camp headquarters for the Comanches at the time of recapture of Cynthia Ann Parker, in Foard county, by General Ross in 1860." Tradition tells that corn was ground in the holes in the sandstone immediately north of this site.

the $400 mark: Henderson, $1,392; Longview, $1,368; Tyler, $598; Floydada, $548; Haskell, $544; Paducah, $510; Stamford, $485; Bryan and Center, $440; Snyder, $433; Ballinger and Pampa, $431; Goose Creek, $427; Lampasas, $425; Clarksville, $422; Pecos, $420; Bay City, $412; Athens, $411; Vernon, $409; Lubbock, $408; Burkburnett, $407; Weatherford and Borger, $401, and Brady and Childress, $400.

Dallas topped the list of the five largest cities with a per capita total of $340. The others were: Houston, $337; Galveston, $295; San Antonio, $262 and Fort Worth, $256.

The department's survey showed that 55 counties in Texas were above the state's average of $166.

Tech Graduates On University's Staff

Appointment of several graduates of Texas Technological college as part-time instructors in chemistry at the University of Texas and of Mrs. T. L. Shepard, former Lubbock resident, as instructor in classical languages has been announced at the university.

Part-time chemistry instructors appointed include: Loy B. Cross, Tech graduate of May, 1929; Frank J. Spuhler, June, 1934; R. Vernon Jones, June, 1932; Fred M. Garland, master of arts in June this year; Stiles M. Roberts, June, 1934; Douglas D. Hinson, August, 1933. All studied chemistry at Tech.

Miss Elizabeth H. West, Tech librarian, has received information that Milburn Aldridge, June graduate of this year with a Spanish major has been appointed an assistant to the chairman of the University romance languages department.

Mrs. Shepard received a master of arts degree from Tech in August, 1929. She received her bachelor of arts degree from the university.

WASTEFUL SPENDING FLAYED BY LANDON

ABOARD LANDON TRAIN EN ROUTE TO TOPEKA, Kas., Aug. 27 (AP)—Gov. Alf M. Landon left behind him a charge of "wasteful" New Deal spending and "cockeyed" tax legislation as he swept through Illinois today on a schedule of 10 rear platform appearances and a visit to Abraham Lincoln's tomb.

The Republican nominee was speeding toward Topeka on the return leg of his first presidential campaign invasion of the east.

Heritage Of Debts

In the last of three addresses, he told a Buffalo, N. Y., audience that American youth faced "a heritage of debts and mortgages" through New Deal expenditures.

Landon demanded the immediate repeal of the law taxing corporations according to amounts of income withheld from distribution. This legislation the Kansan described as "cockeyed." He said the entire tax structure, federal and state, needed overhauling.

"We are living in a fool's paradise—far beyond our income," Landon told his Buffalo audience, arrayed in a semi-circular grandstand and on chairs blanketing the baseball diamond.

Landon said "hidden taxes," which he described as taxes on "such things as food, clothing, gasoline and cigarettes," now supply 51 cents of every dollar collected by the federal government as compared with 41 cents in 1932.

"In other words," he said, "the share of the cost of government falling mainly on those with incomes of $25 a week or less has increased 25 per cent during the three years of the present administration. They are paying far more than their rightful share of the cost of government."

The nominee set forth four principles of government finance—"the government must guard and preserve its source of income . . . must make sure it gets a dollar's worth for every dollar it spends . . . must not get in the habit of spending more than it receives . . . must prepare for the rainy day."

He was due to reach Topeka tonight.

BANK ROBBERY

about 24 years old, weighing about 150 or 160 pounds, and about 6 feet tall.

Bulk of the bank's currency, said Cashier W. H. Lyle, who was not present, was in an electrically-controlled time-locked vault. Opening of the vault would have required about 15 minutes.

Anthony said he believed the man carried a .32 caliber blue-steel revolver. He declined to take any silver with him.

Cashier Lyle gave the estimate of the amount of money taken in the robbery.

AUTO USED WAS STOLEN AT HOBBS

Automobile used in the Sudan bank robbery was stolen Tuesday in Hobbs, N. M., from J. T. Pryor, oilfield worker, formerly of Navarro county, Sheriff Tom Abel said.

A report to Lubbock police Wednesday said the stolen car was a 1935 model, instead of a 1934 model, as reported at Sudan. The license number of the automobile was the same, however.

Abel Checks Number

Sheriff Abel, using the number obtained by L. L. Anthony, assistant cashier of the Sudan bank, telephoned Austin, Waco, Corsicana, and Purdon officers before learning the automobile had been registered in Pryor's name.

As soon as they received a report of the robbery, city and county officers mobilized for a search of highways west of here and near Sudan.

Don Reeder, assistant chief of police, and Sam W. Fort, identifications officer, took off in an airplane piloted by M. F. Dagley, local flier. They planned to make an air search over a wide territory for the bandit automobile.

Others On Trail

Other officers who left by automobile were Deputy Sheriff Grady Harrist, Highway Patrol Captain W. W. Legge, Highway Patrolmen W. C. Alder and J. C. Ferguson and Policemen Lewis Kittrell and C. C. Chase.

No reports had been received at noon from members of the posse.

It was theorized that the bandit may attempt either to "hole up" near the robbery scene and escape at night or change to another automobile.

NEW STADIUM

able foot rest. Rise of the stand is slightly different, but not noticeable to the average eye.

Beneath the east section is a space for training track men, so that track men can train in wet weather for dash events. It was not possible to use a ramp for the east section, due to the brace system. There are five exits in that section, one more than in the west.

Two entrances have been built between the diagonal stands to permit trucks to come onto the field with seats, etc., for night events.

Back of the north end stands will be additional space for car parking. There will be partitions built to shut off stands so that those who buy dollar seats cannot get into the higher priced sections.

The diagonal stands are not as high as the other two. Additional seating space can be had, both below and above, to increase the space for seats when demand necessitates more room.

Concrete footings were set into the ground, with steel posts, so the timbers could be bolted onto the steel. This type of construction insures great stability, Mr. McMillan pointed out.

Reservations Made For Rooms At Tech

Reservations have been made for all rooms in the dormitories at Texas Technological college and 60 names are on the waiting list of the men's dormitory, although nearly three weeks remain before opening of the fall semester, said President Bradford Knapp.

There is no indication of lack of good rooms off the campus, he said.

Names still are being added to the waiting lists of the dormitories.

LAMESA, Aug. 27 (Special)—August court of honor for southern district Boy Scout troops 22 and 23 here and 46 at O'Donnell will be conducted tonight at the courthouse. Philip Yonge, chairman, will open the court at 7:30 o'clock.

Olen Stewart Will Open Grocery Here

Olen Stewart, former Lubbock wholesale grocery executive, who recently sold his store franchise in Big Spring, has returned to Lubbock and is opening a wholesale grocery business at 1010 Avenue G. The firm will be known as the Olen Stewart Wholesale grocery.

Mr. Stewart has been in the grocery business for about 20 years. He lived in Lubbock for 12 years and was connected with one of the larger wholesale houses here.

For the present, he explained, he is handling heavier type of groceries, flour, potatoes, sugar, canned goods, etc. Later he may add lighter merchandise, he explained. Mr. Stewart has moved his family here.

and pastures had improved after August 1, with the result that livestock feed was saved for winter needs.

An official survey of the first 15 days this month showed the opposite trend. Pasture condition of 41.6 per cent of normal on August 1 had declined to 39.6 on August 15, with further decline probable during the third week under scorching temperatures and little rainfall.

Experts at the agriculture department, noting that the "time available for a good growth of grass before winter is daily growing shorter," added that the final effect of the present drouth upon the livestock industries "cannot yet be determined."

Included in the countrywide survey was an estimate that 88 out of every 1,000 farms had no water for livestock. This compared to 72 out of 1,000 farms two years ago.

More reassuring was a survey on food supplies for human consumption for the 12 months next June. This found the nation's pantry will have "only 3 per cent" less than last season (July 1, 1935 to June 30, 1936) and one per cent less than the season that included the 1934 drouth.

Huge Ship Off On Test Flight Today

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Aug. 27 (AP)—Dick Merrill and Harry Richman took off in their monoplane "Lady Peace" from Floyd Bennett airport at 8:26 a. m. Eastern standard time today on a non-stop test flight to Newfoundland.

The plane, loaded with about [illegible] gallons of gasoline, almost as much as the pair intended to use on their proposed round-trip flight to London, was given a long run across the big airport before it rose.

ENROLLMENT HERE IS STAGED TODAY

Low freshmen students began enrolling this morning at Junior High school and seniors continued enrolling at Senior High school. Number of seniors enrolled was increased to approximately 200.

Enrollment of seniors began Wednesday, when about 150 students were enrolled.

Low freshmen also will be enrolled Friday and Monday; seventh grade, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week at Junior High school, said Carroll Thompson, principal. Hours of enrollment are from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Seniors, Juniors, Sophs Enroll

Enrollment of seniors is to continue through Friday; juniors are to be enrolled Monday and Tuesday and sophomores and high freshmen, Wednesday and Thursday of next week, at Senior High school. Enrollment will be conducted 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Several persons have requested information about entrance examinations at Senior High school, said R. W. Matthews, principal. Examinations will be conducted Sept. 3. Students should make arrangements before that date, he said.

A meeting of the pep squad has been called by Matthews for Monday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in room 21 of the Senior High school building. Selection of uniforms for the term will be discussed.

and Acting Governor Elmer E. Holt of Montana and senators and federal officials from those states.

Secretary Wallace, accompanying the president, agreed that much of the land turned into crop-damaging dust in recent weeks would be better adapted to pasture and feed crops for cattle raising.

Wallace hoped to impress upon the presidential conferees the advisability of pressing a three-way plan of attack:

1—Crop insurance, a federal-state cooperative venture favored by the National Grange.

2—The ever-normal granary, which ties in with crop insurance. In good crop years farmers would deposit grains in an insurance pool. In bad years the farmers would dip into the pool to keep supplies at normal.

3—Soil conservation.

of Biscay sector and moving in on the long-besieged rebel city of Oviedo in the northern mining country.

On the other hand, the rebels said they were about to capture the important southern seaport of Malaga.

From the western hemisphere the United States warned Madrid it will insist on the freedom of the seas for American shipping.

An American-made plane tuned up at Innsbruck, Austria—perhaps to take former King Alfonso home. Mechanics said it now awaits the king's orders, and the impression grew the former monarch might make a sudden trip to Spain.

Public Hearing On Budget Set Today

City commissioners at their meeting this afternoon in City hall beginning at [illegible] o'clock were to conduct a public hearing on the budget for the fiscal year 1936-37 submitted at their session two weeks ago and likely would pass second readings on three ordinances. No new ordinances were to be discussed, said City Attorney Durwood H. Bradley.

Ordinances up for readings include those setting the new tax levy at 55 cents on the $100 valuation, establishing new regulations for milk production and marketing, and permitting the West Texas Gas company to make special contracts with large industrial and commercial customers.

The police rushed a car to the bridge and stopped every car going back to town, but I understand they never did find her."

"Do you live on this side of the river?"

"Born on this side."

"You must know the locality pretty well."

"Every foot of it."

"I'm thinking of taking a place out here. Maybe you could tell me if there are any empty houses around."

The baldheaded man thought a moment. "There's one. Been vacant a year, but you wouldn't want it. It's not fit for rats to live in. Belonged to old man Hardison who was so miserly he let it almost tumble down on him. After he died folks said it was haunted. Claimed they saw lights in it sometimes. You couldn't get anybody to go anywhere near that house after nightfall. Guess you wouldn't want it anyhow. It's three or four miles off the highway in the woods."

"Perfect!" Brent exclaimed.

"What's that?"

"It's just the house I'm looking for. The doctor said I must live in the country." Brent added hastily. "I haven't been well recently."

"You look fit as a fiddle. But if it's air you want you'll get plenty of it through the big cracks at old man Hardison's place."

"I wonder if you could direct me to the house?"

"Sure. Drive on the highway about five miles until you find a little forked road cutting into the woods. It's so overgrown with grass now most people would think it was just a path. It's the road that leads straight to the place. It's a lonely drive. If I were you, I'd wait until morning."

"Thank you very much. Good-by."

"If I was you, and I happened to see a light in those parts, I'd sure wait until morning. Folks say old man Hardison's ghost—"

The baldheaded man's warning was lost in the sudden roar of the old car.

A short while later, Brent's searching eyes found the forked road. He turned off the highway and was soon deep in the woodland described by the elderly man. Suddenly he stopped his car. Some distance ahead was a glimmer of light.

Brent's lips set grimly. He drove deeper into the woods, got out of the car, and started cautiously on foot toward the house.

He saw, as he came closer, that, with the exception of one light, the dilapidated old house was in darkness. A car was parked close to the side of the building. Brent stooped and focused a flashlight on the license number. The number did not correspond with the one he carried in memory.

Perhaps there was another car in the garage. He straightened, and felt a heavy hand on his shoulder.

"What, my prowling friend, is the object of your call this evening? Chickens? Cars? You tell me."

Brent laughed. "I was looking for Mr. Black. This is such a queer, run-down place I thought Bill Patrick had made a mistake about it. So I was looking at the license number to make sure."

"How did you know the license number."

Brent spoke easily. "Everybody in town knows it. Black's a big fellow."

"What did you want with him?"

"I have a message for him. Bill said I wasn't to talk with anyone else. If he's here ask him to step outside, please."

"Not so fast, my friend. What do you say to stepping inside, instead?"

He was trapped! And Molly was here. Brent was certain of it.

He controlled his voice with an effort. "Just as you say."

"We came out for a rest. Black was nervous. And here Patrick sends you out. How'd it happen?"

"I was doing some work on the building," Brent lied glibly. "The roof leaked from that last rain. Bill needed somebody to take a message and he offered me $5 to make the trip. I was glad to do it, too."

"We'll see what Black thinks of your message. First I'll relieve you of your gun. Guess you wouldn't be making a lonely trip like this without carrying a gun. It wouldn't be right safe, would it?"

"I did happen to bring one. Bill—"

"Patrick told you to bring a gun!"

"Not exactly. He said it was pretty dark and deserted out here and maybe I'd be afraid to make the trip. I said I wasn't, but I thought I might be held up. You never can tell on a dark highway.'"

"I understand. Guns is sure treacherous. While you're here I'll take care of yours. You don't mind?"

Brent handed over his gun, watching the bulge in the other's pocket that was partly a mean piece of artillery and partly a hand which he knew was accustomed to using it.

"Here's Black now."

Brent turned and faced the night club owner, whose dark eyes raked him ominously—taking in the laborer's garb and tumbled hair.

"Patrick said two men were coming to 'The Red Poppy' to talk with you tonight. He said it was necessary for you to be there."

"I'm going in, but not because of your message. I have an idea you're a damn sneak. I'm taking my wife back to town. There's a job Louis and I got to no before daybreak—maybe two jobs—that might bother her. Women are funny that way."
