Perhaps your appetite for politics still has not returned following an overdose during the recent presidential campaign, but if you plan to participate this year, there is some action you must take this month.

The voter registration period in Texas will end Jan. 31. Although there won't be anything as important as a presidential election, there will be some opportunities to vote during 1969. But you've got to register to become eligible for a ballot. And it doesn't matter how old you are, how many times you have voted, or where you live. You must register before you are eligible to vote. However, no poll tax fee is required under the voter registration law.

The "off" years usually attract smaller voter rolls than regular state and national election years. However, local elections, such as those for naming school trustees and city council members, are held each year. In addition there always is a chance that special elections will be held. If a bond election, or any other type of referendum, should be called any time between now and Jan. 31, 1970, you would need one of the voter registration certificates now being issued before you could demand a ballot.

Do you think the three Apollo Astronauts did a lot of traveling on their Christmas holiday space tours? Well, the Texas Highway Department reports that vehicle miles driven in Texas last year totalled 59 billion, which is the equivalent of 128,000 round trips to the moon.

The highway department's annual report also shows that about two-thirds of the Interstate Highway system in Texas was open to traffic during 1968. Texas already has as many miles of Interstate road in service as California will have when the entire system is complete.

Texas, of course, has the most Interstate mileage approved, with California the second-ranking state in total designated IH mileage.

Crew Assigned To Lunar-Landing Mission

By MIKE ROUSE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A civilian and two Air Force colonels who have walked in space will fly the Apollo 11 mission, the first scheduled attempt by the United States to land men on the the moon.

The civilian astronaut, Neil A. Armstrong, will command the spacecraft, tentatively set for launching in July, the National Aerocautics and Space Administration said Thursday, in announcing the selection of the crew.

Armstrong and Col. Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. are to descend to the moon in a Lunar Module from the main spacecraft. The main spacecraft will remain in lunar orbit, piloted by Lt. Col. Michael Collins.

Armstrong, who has survived two near disasters since becoming an astronaut in 1963, is a former test pilot for the X15 rocket plane and was a Navy combat flier during the Korean War.

In choosing the three 38-year-old space veterans for the mission, NASA passed up the Apollo 8 astronauts who made the first lunar orbital flights last month.

But two of these, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Lt. Col. William A. Anders, have been named to the Apollo 11 backup crew. The other, Air Force Col. Frank Borman, is being assigned to ground work at his own request. He will become deputy director of crew flight operations.

Rookie astronaut Fred Haise is the third man on the backup crew.

Space agency officials did not say why Anders and Lovell were not named to the Apollo 11 mission, but the NASA practice has been to spread choice assignments among astronauts qualified for them.

The Apollo 11 launch date is July 15, but when it goes depends upon the results of the Apollo 9 and 10 missions.

Apollo 9, now set for launch Feb. 28, will be an earth orbit of the lunar module of the type in which Armstrong and Aldrin are to land on the moon.

It will be the first manned test flight of the capsule, and if all goes perfectly, NASA officials say there will be no need for Apollo 10. This test, now scheduled for May 17, would be a moon orbit of the lunar module. If it is skipped, the Apollo 11 flight may be moved up to mid-June.

Armstrong, the first civilian to fly in space, was the commander of the periolous Gemini 8 flight in 1966. After he successfully linked his capsule with a rocket in orbit, the capsule spun out of control but Armstrong guided it to a safe splashdown in the Pacific.

Last year a lunar landing training craft Armstrong was testing at Ellington Air Force Base, Fla., lost power and fell. Armsrong ejected and parachuted to earth. He was slightly injured when his parachute dragged him across the ground.

Aldrin set a record for "space walking" on the Gemini 12 shot in 1966 by spending more than five hours outside his spacecraft on a four-day flight.

Collins also was an early space walker. On Gemini 10 in 1966 he walked in space for 39 minutes and stood in the hatch for another 49.

Collins, a West Point graduate, was originally scheduled to fly the Apollo 8 mission, but was temporarily sidelined because of a spinal operation. Lovell went instead.

Sweden To Establish Relations With Hanoi

STOCKHOLM (AP)—The Swedish Social Democrat government of Premier Tage Erlander announced today it will recognize the Republic of N. Vietnam and proposed establishing diplomatic relations with Hanoi.

Foreign Minister Torsten Nilsson sent a telegram and a letter to his North Vietnamese opposite, Nguyen Duy Trinh, saying that because the negotiations in Paris "will be decisive for the peace in Vietnam, it would appear that the time has come to establish diplomatic relations."

Recognition of a country can be decided by the government without the consent of Parliament, but opening an embassy in Hanoi would require parliamentary approval.

A communique from the Swedish Foreign Ministry said: "In connection with the plans for Swedish postwar assistance to Vietnam, these contacts (between Sweden and North Vietnam) have now become more concrete, thus increasing the need of establishing official relations."

Swedish contacts with Hanoi now are handled by the Swedish ambassador to Red China, Lennart Petri. The Swedish newspaper Dagens Nyheter reported in its morning edition that Petri also will be accredited in Hanoi.

Swedish diplomatic relations with South Vietnam lapsed a year ago when the Swedish ambassador moved to Bangkok. No successor has been accredited to Saigon.

U.S. Ambassador William Heath returned to his Stockholm post from the United States shortly after the Foreign Ministry announcement.

"I have just been told of this development," Heath said in an airport statement. "I hardly am prepared to comment at this time."

"You all know the U.S. objective is peace in Vietnam. Any move by any country must be assessed in the light of that objective."

Heath, who has been vacationing in the United States for the last three weeks, returned to Stockholm to clear his desk before retiring to private life.

He was appointed ambassador by President Johnson about two years ago and had a stormy tour of duty because of Sweden's anti-American stance on the Vietnam war and repeated anti-American demonstrations.

Labor Unrest Seizes Italy

By PATRICK O'KEEFE
Associated Press Writer

ROME (AP)—Much of Italy was strikebound today. Unions called tens of thousands off their jobs in textile mills, metalworking shops and other industries from Venice to Bari. A 24-hour public transport strike crippled Rome.

The new wave of strikes came just a day after lawyers and judges demanding a major revamping of the country's creaky court system staged a near-riot outside the Palace of Justice.

The widespread labor unrest, coupled with continued student demonstrations and occupations, posed a serious challenge to the newly seated center-left government of Premier Mariano Rumor.

The Rumor government, formed Dec. 12 and certified by confidence votes in both houses of Parliament just before Christmas, has pledged to push for full employment across the land, better conditions for workers and reforms for universities and high schools.

Italy's Communist party and its ally, the Proletarian Socialist party, were fanning the new flames of unrest. Both parties had sought to prevent the center-left realignment, urging an "alternative" government that they left undefined.

The pro-Communist Rome newspaper Paese Sera pleaded in large headlines for all Romans to leave their cars at home today and walk to work or to shop. Otherwise, the paper warned, the city would again become a sea of unmoving autos, as happened during a transport strike Dec. 23.

Unions sponsoring the transport strike were demanding higher pay for their members.

But other labor strikes which the Communists claimed hit 17 Italian cities today were aimed primarily at eliminating the "salary zone" system in Italy. Under this system workers in mid-Italy and farther south earn less per hour doing the same work as laborers in the more prosperous north.

The Communists said the cities affected were Bergamo, Ferrara, Padua, Sondrio, Treviso, Biella, Ravenna, Udine, Arezzo, Trieste, Parma, Vicenza, Venice, Bari, Reggio Calabria, Crotone, and Ancona. All these strikes were set to last 24 hours.

On Thursday, Mantua, Palermo and a few other cities were beset by strikes.

Phone Books Nearly Ready

Delivery of new telephone directories to all Southwestern Bell customers in Snyder and Hermleigh is scheduled to begin Jan. 17.

Dan Lusby, manager for the telephone company, said approximately 8260 directories will be mailed to customers in the two towns.

The directory will include 37 pages of alphabetical listings and 88 pages of Yellow Page advertising.

The Scurry County Coliseum again will be featured on the directory cover, which will be printed in blue ink.

Voter Registration Is Now Underway

January is the last month for voters to register at the Scurry County Courthouse and become eligible to vote in the 1969 elections, according to an announcement by Don Adams, tax assessor-collector.

He reminded residents that everyone of voting age has to register, although persons who will observe their 21st birthday later in the year may register now, or later.

Registration applications can be obtained at the Courthouse and mailed in. There is no fee for registration.

WILSON SEEKS COMPROMISE

Rhodesia Crisis Unresolved

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson fought today for a policy of compromise with rebel Rhodesia's white rulers against the overwhelming hostility of Britain's 27 Commonwealth partners.

But on the fourth day of Commonwealth summit talks there seemed to be little chance of agreement on an issue that has become the powder-keg of southern Africa.

With his back to the wall, Wilson hoped to appease some of Britain's critics by meeting two of their demands:

—To reaffirm a two-year-old promise to withhold independence from Rhodesia until its four million Africans take over power. But Wilson planned to add the modifier that if Prime Minister Ian Smith's regime changes its policy of white supremacy Britain will ask to be released from that pledge.

—To continue and even strengthen the international campaign of sanctions against the breakway colony which seized independence 38 months ago.

The group of African and Asian countries, led by leftist Tanzania, which now dominates Britain's former empire, want Wilson to go further than that.

A majority of them already have called on Wilson to abandon Britain's plan for a settlement offered to Smith last fall aboard the warship Fearless off Gibraltor. This included terms already rejected by Rhodesia that disputes with racial overtones in Rhodesia be referred to Britain's Privy Council; a legislative veto for black Africans; formation of a commission on racial discrimination; speeding up education of Black Rhodesians and taking blacks into a broad-based interim government while other provisions were being implemented.

Wide Search For Students' Slayer

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas Rangers and officers of several counties searched a wide area of Central Texas today for just any clue to the mystery slayings of two prominent University of Texas students.

The nude body of Miss Keitha Morris, 20, brunette sophomore beauty, was found in Inks Lake 75 miles northwest of Austin late Thursday.

Officers said, after an autopsy, they are convinced she was thrown into the cold lake waters still alive after being strangled, beaten about the head, and her neck broken.

The discovery at Inks Lake ended a night and day search for Miss Morris after the body of her picnic date, John Albert White, 21, was found face down in the shallow waters of Bull Creek northwest of Austin Wednesday night. He had been shot and beaten about the head.

Sheriff T. O. Lang said today that his deputies and those of Burnet County along with Rangers and other state officers were trying to search the rough Hill Country along the Colorado River chain of lakes between Buchanan Dam and Austin.

Lang said there was speculation the killer may have carried Miss Morris from the scene of White's slaying along a scenic route and rambling the three miles to land the body on the spot where her body was found.

When I complain and ask her what happened to that gorgeous girl I took on my honeymoon, she says, "Well, we were staying at the lovely hotel and I had to look nice with all those other guests."

I ask you, Abby, doesn't a husband count? Or are strangers more important? Print this. It may wake her up before it's too late.

State Classrooms Said Inadequate

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas College Coordinating Board said Thursday that the state has floor space in college classrooms to cover 1,500 acres of farmland — but that's not enough.

The comparison was made when the 18-member board, completing a three-year study of Texas educational problems, gave legislative and governmental leaders an advance look at the recommendations to go before the 61st legislature opening next Tuesday.

"The average citizen has no idea of the magnitude of higher education," board Chairman John Gray of Beaumont said.

"Although higher education is already the largest industry in Texas, it promises to double in the next 12 years. Enrollment in public colleges and universities will increase by 102 per cent, and private institutions will grow by 34 per cent."

Gray said enrollment in higher education facilities will increase from 375,000 in 1969 to 707,800 in 1980.

To care for this growing mass of student population, Gray said will take by 1975, a total of $401,400,000 in federal, state and local funds for additional public facilities and about $404 million in state funds annually for educational programs.

The blueprints for progress outlined by the board used three basic points in its plan. It is designed to (1) care for the rapidly increasing growth in enrollment, while (2) providing a higher education, in (3) the rising level of excellence in most efficient and effective methods possible.

The blueprint divides the higher education system in three component croups—community junior colleges, senior colleges with program expansion possibilities through first-level graduate offerings, and complex universitites with program jurisdiction over doctoral-level graduate work and post-baccalaureate education for the professions.

The board recommended creation of 53 community junior college regions, each an area where most of the community junior college students will come and where at least one junior college district is feasible during the next 20 years.

The board also recommends creation of six new senior colleges—four-year institutions in San Antonio and Houston and upper-division colleges in Midland-Odessa, Corpus Christi, Dalls, and Houston.

Other senior college recommendations call for stabilization of enrollments in existing institutions and acceptance by the University of Texas System board of regents of the Southwest Center for Advanced Studies in Dallas.

The coordinating board recommends establishment of new medical schools in Houston and Lubbock, and increased enrollments at existing facilities.

Crisis Mastered By Czech Reds

By FRANK CREPEAU
Associated Press Writer

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakia's embattled Communist leaders have mastered another political crisis by persuading the country's largest trade union not to strike on the issue of National Assembly President Josef Smrkovsky's political future.

The central committee of the million-member union announced Thursday night it would be willing to forego any general strike in the current tense situation in this Soviet-occupied country.

But the union did ask that Smrkovsky be considered along with Deputy Premier Petr Colotka in balloting later this month for the post of chairman of the new Federal Assembly.

The proposal was not a demand and it would be a stunning surprise if the assembly deputies elected Smrkovsky instead of Colotka. The ruling party central committee has recommended that Colotka get the top post and Smrkovsky serve as deputy chairman.

The recommendation is in line with decisions by both the Czech and Slovak branches of the party and Smrkovsky himself told the workers he supported the decision.

The metal workers, who ended a two-day meeting, were among the most vocal groups in demanding last month that Smrkovsky not be dropped from his leading role as a concession to the Russians.

The possibility of a strike was raised by several labor and student groups, but the shaken leadership finally moved to assure the public Smrkovsky would continue in his top party and government posts. At the same time they warned that more agitation and a strike could bring tragic consequences.

Student sources said the students were never eager to make a major issue out of Smrkovsky but would have supported worker action under solidarity agreements signed last year.

The big metal workers union was subjected to intense pressure and almost smothered with attention from the leadership during its meeting.

A final resolution from the union said members "regard the political situation as tense, especially as a result of insufficient information." But it said "the union does not intend to support any tendencies which would undermine the confidence in the leading role of the party."

In proposing that Czech Smrkovsky be considered along with Slovak Colotka, the union emphasized it did not want "to make the question of the candidacy for assembly chairman a conflict between the two nations."

"If our proposal is respected," the resolution said "and in view of the fact that the candidate of the Slovak nation is also a progressive politician, we shall regard a general strike as unjustified."

The union did demand that communications media "should bring the open words both of our representatives and of our workers," apparently registering dissatisfaction with the recent clampdown on the mass media.

During the furor over Smrkovsky and Association demands that a retreat from reform policies be halted, the party told the mass media to stop reporting dissent from the party line.

The presentation of Trophies, Distinguished Achievement Awards, and Certificates of Honorable Mention to winning cities will take place February 25 in Washington, D. C. in a ceremony climaxing the National Congress on Beautification, also sponsored by the Clean Up Bureau. The one city, regardless of size, which the judges feel demonstrates the most effective and far-reaching program and which best exemplifies the principles of community betterment, will receive the Trigg Trophy, the highest award possible in the Contest.

Mayors and citizens' delegations from across the nation have been invited to attend the Congress on Beautification. Last year approximately 700 persons representing over 300 cities and towns participated.

Judges for the 1968 National Clean Up Contest are: Richard L. Breault (Chairman), Manager of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce's Community and Regional Resource Development Group; M. Elliott Carroll, Administrator of the American Institute of Architects' Department of Public Services; Mark E. Keane, Executive Director of the International City Managers Association; Mrs. Walter Varney Magee, President of the General Federation of Women's Clubs; Peter F. McNeish, Executive Secretary of the American Bankers Association's Committee on Urban Affairs; Dr. Karl F. Munson, Program Leader, Outdoor Recreation, Federal Extension Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture; and Dr. Sal J. Prezioso, Executive Vice President of the National Recreation and Park Association.

Gifts For Year Around

Christmas has gone, but its spell lingers on, and many of us will wish for original ways to keep alive the spirit of giving.

Frankincense and myrrh, combined with rose petals and spice, can provide just this opportunity.

We often hear the words at Christmas, but seldom do we query their meaing. What ARE frankincense and myrrh? Surely they must be gifts of precious and extraordinary value if the Three Wise Men selected these and gold, among all the earth's treasures, to pay homage to the New - born infant Jesus.

Frankincense and myrrh are aromatic resins from the bark of African and Asiatic trees, valued for incense. Miraculously, it seems, they are available today — with a little patience and perserverance, that is — from your pharmacist.

Combine the two with rose petals, fixatives and spice, and you can create a sumptuous gift, a spicy potpourri that is a natural, all-year-round room freshner and an exotially lovely reminder of Christmas.

Here is the recipe from the Society of American Florists in Washington D. C. Do not pale or quake, incidentally, at the unfamiliar ingredients. Roses and spice are available at your florist and grocery store. Aromatic gums, oils and fixatives are found — albeit with a little 'urging'— at most drug stores.

SPICY POTPOURRI

2 cups dried rose petals
1 cup dried lavender
1 cup frankincense "pebbles"
¼ cup myrrh "pebbles"
½ cup crushed benzoin
1 cup sandalwood chips
¼ cup ground tonka beans
1 cup cut vetiver
½ cup coarsely-ground cinnamon sticks
½ cup powdered cinnamon
½ cup powdered cloves
¼ cup powdered nutmeg
¼ cup ground allspice
1 cup crushed orris root
1 cup granulated orris root
20 drops oil of rose
4 drops oil of vetiver
4 drops oil of patchouli

In a large bowl, mix rose petals, leaves, gums and spices. Place orris root on top. Add drops of rose, vetiver and patchouli oils. Stir through. Allow to mellow a month in a tightly-closed container, turning leaves over from time to time. Then package — splendidly — for gifts!

In her book, "A Merry Christmas Herbal," Adelma Grenier Simmons of Caprilands Farm, Coventry, Connecticut — herb grower extraordinaire and expert on potpourris — points out that fixatives, such as benzoin, tonka beans and orris root hold and intensify the fragrance of rose petals, herbs and spice.

Orris root should be granulated, not powdered, she points out, because powder would give flower petals and herbs a dusty look. Benzoin, a gum, should be crushed or ground to powder, and tonka beans should be ground. Chips of sandalwood are best for potpourris, and vetiver is supplied in either granular or oil form.

Remember that rose petals shrink when they dry, so begin with twice the quantity you think you will need.

When your potpourri is to be displayed in a glass jar or open bowl, use a few dried, scentless blossoms, miniature star straw flowers, for example — just for added color.

Tell the lucky friends who receive your incredibly fragrant gift a bit of its history. In pioneering America, potpourris were called "beau pots" and opened in the parlor on evenings when sweethearts came to call. East and West, through all the ages, who can resist the spell of perfume and flowers?

Easy Care Tips

You can keep your velvet fashions looking like new with an occasional home-steaming to perk up the lustrous nap. Hang over bathtub filled with hot water, closing doors and windows to keep steam in room. After one-half hour, brush garment softly in UPWARD strokes. Steam for approximately another half hour, and allow to dry thoroughly before touching. Always use padded hangers for velvets; never use clamps or metal skirt clips, which will mark the fabric by flattening the pile. When packing for a trip, save velvets for the last item to be packed on top of suitcase, use tissue and cardboard in the folds.

Little Girls Clothing Is Exciting

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Grown up girls may have to take a back seat to their little sisters in the fashion department this spring.

The children's wear collection which ended the fashion showing of the New York Couture Group was fresher, brighter and more exciting than the he-hum adult clothes previewed earlier in the day.

The firm of Joseph Love, celebrating its 50th anniversary this year as a maker of children's clothes, featured cleverly designed, easy-to-care-for styles for little girls from about three to 12.

The Love collection included several floppy-legged, tunic-topped pants suits—old hat in the adult lines, but adding a new style touch to children's play clothes.

Keeping in tune with the times, the Love company titled its outfits such things as "Space Rendezvous"—a white, pleated voile dress with a black and yellow border stripe; "Moon Shot" —a pink voile dress with a low flounce and a lace tiered bib and cuffs; and "Bubblegum"—a bright yellow, stretch terry cloth shirt dress with white collar.

For the romantics, there were matching costumes called "Julie Eisenhower" and "Jackie Onassis." The "Julie" outfit was for girls about 10, the "Jackie" costume for four-year-olds. The style included a pink bonded lace dress worn over pants and sashed and bowed in pink ribbon. The commentator suggested the outfits as possible bridesmaids' wear.

Earlier today, the adults got a chance. Murray Weiner, designing for Hannah Troy, featured "vestee" suits with tiny bolero tops over full skirts and contrasting blouses.

There were a few new touches in Neiman's evening wear. One costume featured a short yellow dress topping see-through pants, a reverse on the usual combination. Another, dubbed "Shades of Scheherazade," was of white sari cotton dotted with gold. A sheer halter top covered a gold bra and the floating panels of the skirt swirled to show matching pants.

Are You Related?

Although less than 10 percent of the people live on farms today, it's estimated that about 40 percent of all jobs in the United States are related somehow to agriculture.

Related fields include marketing, processing and transportation of food products plus the manufacture and distribution of equipment and services needed by farmers.

Molded Chutney

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1 cup cold water
1-3 cup sugar
1 can (1 pound) sliced peaches
½ cup lemon juice
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup coarsely shopped drained chutney

Soften gelatin in water in a saucepan. Place over low heat; stir constantly until gelatin dissolves, about 2 to 3 minutes. Remove from heat; add sugar, stir until dissolved. Drain peaches, reserving ½ cup peach syrup. Quarter peach slices; set aside. Stir lemon juice, salt and reserved peach syrup into gelatin mixture. Chill until consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Stir in peaches and chutney. Turn into a 1 quart mold. Chill until firm. Unmold. Makes 6 to 8 servings as a meat accompaniment.

Meat Muffins And Cherries With Sauce

When you want a quick main dish for lunch or supper, look to the convenience shelf in your kitchen for the main ingredients to Cherry Meat Muffins served with a sparkling sauce.

Two cans of luncheon meat mash easily with a fork, explains Reba Staggs, home economist with the National Live Stock and Meat Board. Then it's easy to prepare the sauce from canned cherries.

Cherry Meat Muffins

2 cans (12 ounces each) luncheon meat
1½ cups soft bread crumbs
2 eggs, well beaten
¼ cup brown sugar
1 tablespoon prepared mustard

Grease 12 medium-sized muffin pans. Mash the luncheon meat with a fork. Combine luncheon meat, bread crumbs, eggs, brown sugar and mustard and mix thoroughly. Pack mixture into muffin pans, filling each full. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F) 20 to 25 minutes or until lightly browned. Serve hot with Cherry Sauce. 6 to servings.

Cherry Sauce

1 can (16 ounces) red sour pitted cherries
1 tablespoon cornstarch
¼ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon red food coloring

Drain cherries and save juice. Add water to juice, if necessary, to make 1 cup. Combine cornstarch, sugar and liquid. Mix well. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thick and clear. Add cherries and red food coloring. Serve hot. Yield: 2 cups.

Sweaters Defy Shrinking

Cashmere is one fiber that is virtually shrink-proof. In recent laboratory tests, knitted cashmeres exposed to strenuous shrinkage operations in the washing process emerged with no change in size. It's perfectly safe to wash cashmere sweaters by hand, preferably in cool suds. First turn the sweater inside-out to prevent any rough action on the show-side that may create pilling. No tedious blocking is necessary. After laundering and rinsing, turn right-side out, blot out excess moisture with towels and finger-press the seams in alignment. Dry at room temperature.

Cranberry Pineapple Conserve

1 can (1 pound, 4½ ounces) crushed pineapple
2 cups sugar
1 pound fresh cranberries
2 oranges, grated rind of one and membrane-free pulp of both
½ cup raisins
½ cup coarsely chopped walnuts

In a strainer set over a 1-pint measure thoroughly drain pineapple; add enough water to pineapple syrup to make 2 cups; turn into a 4 or 5-quart saucepot; add sugar. Stir over moderately low heat until sugar dissolves. Add cranberries; without covering or stirring, boil until berries pop — 5 to 10 minutes. Add drained pineapple, orange rind and pulp and raisins. Boil gently, stirring often, until thick — about 15 minutes. Stir in walnuts. Ladle at once into wide-mouth sterlized jars; add lids and screw bands tight. Makes six ½-pint jars.

Fine Needle, Loose Tension

All fabrics with a surface nap such as boulevard velvet used for dresses and coats require loose tension on the machine with stitches 10-12 to the inch. Use a long, fine needle and perfectly SILK thread throughout. Stitching should be smooth and even. Visible outside stitching should be avoided. Velvet Sewing Booklet is available without charge if you send your request to American Fashion Views, 501 Madison Avenue, New York, 10022, enclosing a stamped return envelope.

WIVES AVOID THE DOGHOUSE

Boyle Jumps To Conclusions

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

Husbands often dwell in doghouses for long periods of time. Wives rarely do. Why is this? The reason is that when a man is wrong he realizes it, feels guilty and therefore thinks it only fair that he be punished. A woman, on the otter hand, rare ly admits she is totally wrong about anything and sees no reason why she should submit to being sentenced to the marital doghouse.

Looking back over their lives, most men think they reached the golden prime of manhood at the age of 25. Most women, however, feel they were at their best during their high school or college years.

The night club business in Manhattan is in the deepening doldrums. Patrons apparently have decided it is no fun being mugged on the way home after being robbed in the night club of their choice.

There appears to be no end to violence in our time. A pet shop proprietor reports that some people now are buying savage pirhana fish just for the pleasure of seeing them attack and eat alive other small fish in their home aquariums. What kind of twisted mind would find such a scene thrilling?

A generation ago marijuana was widely used by jazz musicians who felt smoking reefers speeded up their perceptions and made them play better. Most found out, however, that this practice dulled rather than helped their performance. Today most musicians think pot is a pastime for juvenile delinquents.

It is a good policy never to lend money to a guy who wears dice-shaped cufflinks.

One of the reasons a policeman's lot formerly was not a happy one was because of the corns and calluses he acquired while pounding his beat. The only cops who have foot trouble anymore are those who get fallen arches standing in one place directing traffic. The chief police occupational ailments seem to be backache and kidney problems from jouncing around for eight hours in patrol cars.

The more time a fellow spends boasting of his ancestry, the less time he has to do something that his posterity will be able to brag about.

You can bet that an executive who is so busy he carries two briefcases home from the office each night will never be board chairman of his firm. He'll be a heart attack case himself before he's old enough to be eligible for the job.

Panhandlers annoy many people but I always feel sorry for them, no matter what cheap bums they may be. I feel that if you could read between the wrinkles in the heart of any man who holds his palm out for help, you couldn't escape wanting to hand him a hundred dollars instead of the soiled quarter that makes you a two-bit philanthropist.

In the average war the farther you get away from the battle front the higher is the degree of optimism. That is what makes the war in Vietnam so unusual. Here the pessimist is deepest on the homefront, but the closer you get to the battleline the higher the morale is. It is questionable whether we as a people actually deserve the bravery of our men who are doing the fighting—and with a minimum of complaining.

The Nature Of Tourism Is Changing

By LISA CRONIN
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Americans never have had much of a reputation for sitting still, but now they're traveling more often and further than ever in a travel boom that is changing the nature of tourism.

No longer the province of the rich and leisured, travel today is mass rather than class, and tourist spots that aren't so chic any more are happy.

The Caribbean, for example, was invaded by about 3 million dollar-dropping tourists last year. In the 1800's it was the playground of English aristocracy.

The masses started moving in after World War II, first by ship and later by plane. By 1960 when jets began flying to the islands, the Caribbean was beginning the greatest boom in its history.

"If we counted on the rich to travel, we'd starve to death," said Herb Buhrman, editor of Asta Travel News. "Today a secretary takes as nice a trip as her boss."

The affluent young and the leisured older Americans are the two big groups making trips abroad. The middle aged often are too tied down with family and job responsibilities to afford the time or the money for extended travel.

Increasing numbers of Americans are exploring their own country, partly as a result of new promotions by the non profit Discover America Inc. and government agencies. President Johnson's speech last January urging Americans to curtail travel abroad may also have kept many home.

America's boom area this year was the Rocky Mountain states. But almost every major U.S. attraction — with the possible exception of Washington which was hard hit by spring riots — is reporting a record year.

In Europe, last year last year's places off the beaten path quickly disappear as the paths become pretty well beaten by an onslaught of Yankee wanderers. But new attractions spring up overnight.

"Temple fielding, author of the florid but frank guidebook, promises that Mykonos, a "dazzling white islet" in the Agean will be a future "in" spot.

Others include Lapland, "a tourist lodestone of fairy tale fascination," and Mallorca, an island near Spain.

Harold Weston, manager of foreign tours for Thos. Cook & Sons, said the Pacific is the tourist areas most likely to boom next.

The Weston travel pattern sees the Yankee tourist going to South America after the Orient, then Africa and finally the South Pacific-Australia and New Zealand.

Weston even predicts tourism to mainland China: "As soon as China opens, you can bank on people heading for Shanghai and Peking."

Has Countermeasure For Gun Control

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — A lawmaker whose ancestors were New England minutemen introduced a bill Tuesday that would require every able-bodied New Hampshireman to own a firearm and 500 rounds of ammunition or face a fine of $100 and six months in jail.

Sen. John Chandler, Jr. R-Warner, said he never owned a gun in his life. But he said in colonial New Hampshire, "every able-bodied man had a gun and it might come in handy these days."

Chandler added that his bill is a "countermeasure to anticipated gun control legislation that might be introduced" during the 1969 session of the New Hampshire Legislature.

Junior Editors Quiz on LATITUDES

QUESTION: What are the horse latitudes and how did they get that name?

* * *

ANSWER: Warm air rises from continents and oceans. Cooler air comes rushing in to replace it, these movements causing winds. But the rotation of the earth and unequal heating causes variations in strength and direction of wind. In certain ocean areas, the weather remains calm for long periods of time. Two such calm belts, which lie between more active wind areas, are called the horse latitudes (see small map). When one of the oldtime sailing ships, which depended entirely on wind for motive power, became trapped in such an area, it might lie motionless for weeks or months. Many ships carried horses to the West Indies. When such ships were caught in windless areas, there might not be enough water aboard for the animals to drink, so the horses might have to be destroyed and thrown over the side. From a number of cases of this kind, the area became known as the horse latitudes. In these latitudes, calm is produced by air sinking quietly from high up. In another belt of calms, the doldrums, the air is moving gently upward.

Ira, Fluvanna, Travis Win; Second Round Set Saturday

Ira shaded Lamar Red 1 39-35 in the closest contest in the opening round of the 7th grade basketball tournament in Travis Gym yesterday afternoon. It was the most exciting tilt of the first round since all of the other skirmishes were one-sided affairs.

Also in the opening round, Fluvanna socked Lamar Gray 1, 48-22; Travis White bombed Lamar Gray 2, 58-6; and, Travis Blue put down Lamar Red 2, 26-10.

Second round activity will get underway Saturday morning at 8:30 a.m. The Consolation finals will be held at 5 p.m. with the tilt for third place at 6:10 p.m. and the championship at 7:20 p.m.

Ira took a 9-6 lead in the opening stanza of its tilt with Lamar Red 1 with D. Sellars connecting for three baskets. K. Sterling dropped in a phenomenal 13 points in the second period as the young Bulldogs went out front 28-9 at intermission. Underwood, Norred and Talbott sparked a Red comeback in the second half as the Lamar team cut the margin to 21-32 in the third period and to only a four point spread as time ran out.

Sterling got all of his points — 13 — in that second period. D. Sellars contributed 12 for Ira. High point men for Lamar Red 1 were Underwood and Gorman with 12 and 11 points respectively.

Larry White and Steve Daugherty led Fluvanna past Lamar Gray 1 with each boy collecting 19 points. Boren was nigh for the Gray with 10. Fluvanna held a 24-5 margin after one period and never was seriously threatened.

Travis White held Lamar Gray 2 scoreless in the first period while posting 13 points. Things got worse after that as Robert Braziel went on a scoring rampage, finishing with a total of 19 points. Mickey Gonzales added 14 for the White.

Travis Blue shut out Lamar Red 2 in the first half to take a 14-0 lead. Mike Archie meshed more than half of his team's points with a total of 15.

Second round action on the winners' side of the bracket Saturday pits Ira against Fluvanna, and Travis White against Travis Blue.

The Slaton Tigers will be their hosts for the 8 p.m. affray following a clash between the "B" teams of both schools at 6:15 p.m. Here, Patrick demonstrates his style on jump shots against the hapless Levelland Lobos.

Blue Devil 9th Wins, 8th Loses

LAMESA — Travis Junior High School came out even Stephen in the basketball program here last night with the Blue Devil 9th grade defeating the Whirlwinds 49-42 while the 8th grade Travis team was losing, 26-30 to the Green Hornets.

Travis 9th led by only one point at halftime but outscored the Lamesa Freshman team 12-7 in the third period to take command of the contest.

Jackie Murray tallied 17 points for the older Blue Devils while Butch Buchanan and Mike Glasscock each hit nine points.

Marshall meshed 18 points for Lamesa to capture scoring honors.

The Travis team hit 10 of 20 from the field in the second half and preserved the victory in the fourth quarter with delaying tactics that were successful.

Playing without their regular guards, Travis 8th fell behind 12-16 at halftime and couldn't catch up. Lamesa's stalling tactics kept the score down and enabled the hosts to hold onto their lead. One of the host lads hit 20 of his team's 30 points.

Travis hit 40 per cent from the floor, but the Blue Devils didn't get many shots. Travis didn't hit a single free shot in 10 attempts.

Jerry Brooks and Gary Brooks shared scoring honors for the visitors with eight points each.

The Travis teams will host Stamford Monday. The 8th graders will get a chance to even the score with Lamesa here Jan. 20.

Attack Fatal For Promoter

DALLAS (AP) — A second heart attack claimed the life of Ed McLemore, long time wrestling promoter Thursday. Rosary was set for tonight at 8 in the Crane Funeral Chapel here.

For 30 years, McLemore promoted wrestling in Dallas, which is believed to be the longest period for any one city in the nation.

McLemore also promoted the Saturday night "Big D Jamboree," featuring country and western music. The program originated from the Sportatorium, a wrestling arena he owned.

He booked wrestling talent all over Texas and survived several wrestling wars.

A Dallas native, McLemore suffered a heart attack last February and remained away from his office for more than six months.

Famed singing and movie star Elvis Presley once credited McLemore for providing the impetus for his fame by hiring him for the "Big D Jamboree." Presley once worked for McLemore for about $75 nightly.

Funeral services were scheduled for 10 a.m. Saturday at Holy Trinity Catholic Church. Burial will follow at Calvary Hill Cemetery.

Survivors incude his widow, Rose; three daughters, Mrs. William Griffith of Midland; Mrs. Jean Bullington and Mrs. George Baum of Dallas; two brothers, Robert McLemore of Dallas and Patrick McLemore of San Antonio; and 13 grandchildren.

Sifford Takes Los Angeles Lead

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)— There had been a parade of stars and less-than-stars into the pressroom at the Los Angeles Open . . .

There was Billy Casper to describe what he called a "scroungy" round of 69. And Arnold Palmer relating his 72, one over par for the Rancho Farm Golf Club.

There were Jimmy Walker, Jr., from Los Angeles, Terry Dill from Austin, Tex., and Bob "Watermelon" Murphy, the rotund one from Nichols, Fla., who were tied at the time at 67.

Then came a refreshing young man from Wichita, Kan., Grier Jones, a rookie pro and the 1968 national collegiate champion from Oklahoma State. His 66 looked like it would hold up.

But on came Dave Hill, an infrequent winner from Evergreen, Colo. to tie young Jones.

Abruptly from out on the course came a report. Charlie Sifford was eight shots under par, with one hole to go.

Impossible. Everyone agreed. Sifford was only one stroke under par at the turn of Rancho's regulation 36-35-71.

Hill was on the interview platform when 48-year-old Sifford strode in. "Charlie Sifford, gentleman. With an eight-under par 63," said his escort.

But the 63 was true. Sifford went into today's second round of play with a lead of three strokes and another bit of magic.

Sifford has been a professional more than two decades. He is the first Negro to really make a had touched a golf tournament. big go of it in golf. He has played most of the major tournaments and a lot of little ones.

His one main target is to be invited to play in the famed Masters, an invitation he has never received, however.

Sifford's back nine holes were amazing. He started with a birdie deuce on No. 12. On the 526-yard 13th he took a wedge and slammed the ball into the cup from 40 yards out.

A hot driver and wedge produced four more successive birdies as he came home in 28 strokes for his round of 35-28-63.

Sifford said he has shot 64 twice in tournaments but never a 63, a course record, here shared by Palmer and Phil Rodgers.

"If I can play this good with the flu I hope it don't leave me," said Sifford.

Supersonics Sock Royals; Coach Irate

By The Associated Press

The Cincinnati Royals, an early season threat in the National Basketball Association, have coach Ed Zucker concerned.

"I can tell you right now there are going to be some changes made" Zucker said after the Royals were beaten 119-110 by the Seattle Supersonics Friday night.

Playing without Oscar Robertson, who became ill just before the opening toss up, the Royals came apart after leading by 21 points at one time in the first half. Jucker told newsmen he has been talking trade with six ball clubs the last eight games.

In the only other NBA game, the New York Knicks beat the Phoenix Suns, 134-120. Meanwhile, in the American Basketball Association, Oakland's Oaks whipped the Denver Rockets 136-115, New Orleans Buccaneers trimmed Minnesota 129-102 and the Houston Mavericks bested Los Angeles 104-89.

Willis Reed and Cazzie Russell were the big guns for the Knicks against Phoenix. Willis tallied 34 points and Rusell 29.

The Oakland Oaks sort of frolicked with the Denver Rockets, taking a substantial lead of 11 to 2 early in the first period and remained in control thereafter.

It was Art Becker's night as Houston overpowered the Los Angeles Stars. Hitting his first five shots from the field, Becker totaled 31 points for his best single game scoring performance of the season.

Chico Vaughan was the scoring leader with 33 points, but it was a losing cause as Minnesota surrendered to the New Orleans Buccanners. The Bucs were especially strong the first three periods due mainly to sharp shooting of Jimmy Jones and Steve Jones.

Lamar 9th Overruns Post 61-19

POST — Lamar 9th grade's basketball team had little trouble in disposing of the Post Antelopes here Thursday, 61-19.

The Texans built a 19-3 lead in the first period, extended it to 26-6 at halftime and 43-15 in the third quarter to coast to victory.

All of the Texans got into the tilt with three of them hitting in twin figures. David Thompson posted 12 points while Mike Line and Scott McCaleb meshed 10 each.

Josey was high point man for Post with only 7 total.

Lamar will be at Lamesa Monday.

LAMAR 9TH (61) — Wright 2-3-7; Line 4-2-10; Thompson 4-4-12; Spears 2-0-4; Bunch 1-2-4; Brice 2-1-5; Butler 1-3-5; McCaleb 2-6-10; Yearwood 0-1-1; Kerley 1-0-2; Bullard 0-1-1; totals 19-23-61.

POST (19) — Josey 3-1-7; Rosas 1-0-2; Vargas 1-1-3; Owens 0-1-1; Branson 1-0-2; Duren 2-0-4; totals 8-3-19.

Jets Reach Heights In Super Bowl Game

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)— Larry Grantham, one of the three original members of the New York Jets, sees Sunday's Super Bowl game against the Baltimore Colt for pro football's championship as the culmination of nine years of frustration.

"The first three years were years of going no place, disorganization and often bouncing pay checks," said the 30-year-old graduate of Mississippi. In those three years the Jets were owned by the late Harry Wismer and were known as the Titans. The other two still with the club are pass catching ace Don Maynard and Bill Mathis, a running back.

"That all changed with the advent of new owners and Ewbank (coach Weeb Ewbank). We started going places. Injuries set us back last year when we were close to winning. This year we reached the top in our league and the Colts will know they have been in a ball game. Of that I am confident."

Game time for football's Blue Ribbon event in Miami's Orange Bowl is 3:05 p.m. eastern standard time. The game, matching the champions of the National and American Leagues, will be nationally televised by NBC.

The weatherman looks for perfect weather as a sellout crowd, of 75,354 sits in on the proceedings between the Colts, who go into the game with a 13-1 record, and the Jets, who topped the younger AFL, with a 11-3 performance.

"In this kind of a game anything can happen," said Grantham, a linebacker who stands six feet and weighs in the neighborhood of 210 pounds. "As I see it, it boils down to whether we can get to Morrall (quarterback Earl Morrall of the Colts) and keep them away from Joe (Namath, Jets quarterback).

"This is a good solid football club. Our defense will be geared to force the Colts into the mistakes, and then it'll be up to our offense to capitalize on them. Namath has made this club one to be feared.

"I don't know whether I am any better player than in other years, but I know that I have better men working with me on defense—men like Biggs (Vernon), Elliott (John), Rochester (Paul) and Philbin (Gerry). They form a terrific front four."

Grantham, a banker in the off season in his native town of Crystal Springs, Miss., declined to compare the Jets or the Colts with such great teams of the past as the Green Bay Packers and the Chicago Bears. But he took the opportunity to put in a few nice words for Ewbank.

"You can't compare the teams with greats of the past," he said. "It is a different kind of game. Even the shape of the ball has been changed to make the kicking game more effective.

"As for Ewbank, he is master of small details. And when you put all of the small ones together, they become big and important."

While on the subject of the past, Grantham recalled when he broke into pro football.

"I signed for a salary of $10,500 and a $1,000 bonus," the likeable linebacker said. "The only hitch was that $1,000 was taken out of my pay check and it wasn't a bonus after all. It just proved to be an advance."

Texans Hold Key To South Offense

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)— An offensive backfield which could be termed a "Texas Terror" has been named to start for the South squad in Saturday's nationally televised Senior Bowl scrap.

South Coach Charley Winner of the St. Louis Cardinals and North Coach Allie Sherman of the New York Giants put their collegiate all-star teams through light, short workouts today after announcing the starting line-ups.

In the South offensive backfield it's all Texas and on the line it's the Southeast with one exception.

At quarterback will be Edd Hargett of Texas A&M, at halfback Ross Montgomery of Texas Christian, university, at fullback is Paul Gipson of Houston, and in the flanker spot is Jerry Levdas of Southern Methodist.

Operating in front of the Texas foursome are Ron Sellers of Florida State at split end and Bob Hamlett of LSU at tight end. Jim Barnes of Arkansas and Billy Rhodes of Florida State are the starting tackles, Charles Rosenfelder of Tennessee and Guy Dennis of Florida are the guards and Jim Parkes of Ole Miss fills the center spot.

The North will have a starting backfield of Bobby Douglass, Bob Campbell, Bill Enyart and Gene Washington.

Campbell is the Penn State hero of the Orange Bowl and has shown up well in practice. Enyart was the Hula Bowl's "most Valuable" and his line shattering abilities will have a big role in the North's attack.

On the North line will be Eddie Hinton of Oklahoma at split end and Ted Kwalick of Penn State at tight end. The tackles are Kansas' Keith Christensen and Penn State's Dave Bradley while Mike Montler of Colorado and John Shinners of Xavier are the guards.

John Ditlion of Oregon State is the center.

Both coaches said they were well pleased with the condition of their squads coming into Saturday's game. Neither has any serious injuries.

Hargett was named offensive captain of the South Thursday and linebacker Mike Hall of Alabama was chosen defensive captain.

Dirksen Eyes Budget, And Surtax

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen says President Johnson wants the 10 per cent income surtax extended, but "he would like some company" in recommending it to Congress.

There were indications Thursday Johnson wants President-elect Nixon to join him in the recommendation so the issue would not become the political controversy it was before Congress passed the surtax, at Johnson's request, last year.

The surtax expires June 30. It was originally imposed as an anti-inflation measure.

House Minority Leader Gerald R. Ford, said he understood Johnson was prepared to make a statement about the surtax in his State of the Union message or budget request, and that Nixon would then issue a statement of his own.

House Majority Leader Carl Albert said, however, the White House had received no word from Nixon Thursday afternoon.

Dirksen told newsmen Thursday that Johnson has drawn up a tentative budget of $195 billion for the fiscal year starting July 1, an increase of $10.6 billion over current federal spending.

But the Illinois Republican said the $195 billion was a "base figure," which could be changed, depending on whether Johnson decides in favor of recommending the surtax extension.

Dirksen said congressional leaders were told at a White House meeting revenues would total about $198 billion during the year if the surtax were extended, and Johnson's tentative budget would allow for a $3 billion surplus.

In New York, a spokesman for Nixon said the President-elect had no comment.

Tom Johnson, acting White House press secretary, said the President has not decided when or how to present his State of the Union message or when his budget will be ready for presentation to Congress.

National Geographic Accepts Treatise Of Young Scholar

NEW SHREWSBURY, N. J. (AP) — Arthur Bryan Cooper, who has led a busy life, has decided it is high time he wrote his autobiography. So what? So Arthur is only 15 years old.

The high point of Arthur's career to date came when a paper he wrote was one of 50 chosen, out of 1,300 submitted, to be read at the recent 12th General Assembly of the International Geographical Union in New Delhi.

Thinking it over on the return flight from India the Janky high school junior decided that he should produce his life story while the facts are fresh in mind.

"He told me," said the boy's father, Louis, a businessman, "that he will start the story when he was 12 years old and became a member of the National Geographic Society.

"That year he attended the society's annual convention in Washington by himself, making his own travel and hotel arrangements and spending two weeks alone in the capital."

Arthur, a bespectacled straight-A student with an IQ of 176, is basically a geography buff, but has other interests.

He plays soccer, basketball and tennis, swims expertly and has been an Eagle Scout since he was 14.

"He also corresponds with a couple of girls, although he doesn't tell us much about that," said his father.

The paper Arthur submitted to the International Geographical Union was a treatise on the contributions early religious travelers made to Western knowledge about Asia. The other scholars were astonished when a 15-year-old kid stood up to read it.

"There weren't too many questions afterwards," Arthur told a reporter, "which means that no one took objection to what I said, so I guess I was right."

The trip to New Delhi cost about $2,500. Arthur's younger brother and his older brother and sister contributed from their savings, Arthur used all of his own savings, including his bar mitzvah money, and his father borrowed the rest.

"It cost a lot of money but it may get him a college scholarship," said the senior Cooper. "A lot of the geographers at the meeting who were affiliated with colleges and universities have offered to help him."

Gadgets or God

Scientific achievements of the world in recent years could very easily detract our minds from our Creator. Wonders of the laboratory have captured the adoration of all peoples. Lest we forget, and lest we start placing our dependance for livelihood in the marvels of science, let us take a second look. "For by him were all things created that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible, whether they be thorns, or dominions, or principalities, or powers: all things were created by Him, and for Him: and He is before all things, and by Him all things consist." Col. 1:16, 17. Then let us stay with our true creator — let us serve Him. Let us attend and support His church.
