

Six pounds of marijuana, considered to be for distribution in Sonora, was confiscated in the early morning hours Monday. City police estimate the bulk of marijuana would retail for about $1200. Six persons were arrested and placed under $7500 bond.

Nine Arrested On Marijuana Charges

Following a tip from what local police officials called a confidential source, a search warrant was executed November 7 at a trailer house located south of the intersection of Orient and Martin Streets where an undisclosed amount of marijuana was discovered along with two boxes of dynamite caps and dynamite cord. The search was executed at approximately 1 a.m.

Three suspects were arrested and charged with possession. David Villarreal was charged with felony possession of marijuana with intent to sell. The other two subjects, Edward Cerda Oliva and David Hudson Horne, were each charged with possession of a control substance (marijuana). All three remain in Sutton County jail.

Police report that their source of information advised them that Villarreal had a quantity of marijuana in individual packets in the trunk of his vehicle parked at the residence. Upon investigation, officers also uncovered a plastic bag of marijuana inside the residence along with the explosives.

Bonds were set for the three after Judge Mat Adams gave them their constitutional rights. Bonds for Villarreal was set at $3,000 with Oliva and Horne both assessed bonds of $2,000 each.

Making the arrest were City Police Officers Bill Webster, Jerry Kemp and Joe Fincher, along with Texas Highway Patrolman Larry Hill.

A joint effort of the City Police Department and the United States Border Patrol netted the arrest of six Mexican males in the early hours Monday morning. Six pounds of marijuana was found after police had held a surveillance on the group for nearly a week.

Charged with felony possession of marijuana were Leopoldo Correa, 22; Mario Huerta, 19; Jesus F. Trevino, 17; Auturo F. Huerta, 22; Raul Tovar, Jr., 20; and Jose L. Trevino, 17. All were charged before Justice of the Peace Mat Adams' court and placed under $7500 bond.

The suspects are all from Del Rio but now living in Sonora where they are employed by a local construction company.

Police officials stated that the marijuana, found under the hoods and seats of two automobiles belonging to the suspects, and on their persons, was for distribution in the area and that the arrest, they felt, has cut off one of the major sources in this area.

Assisting City Policemen Bill Webster and Joe Fincher, were Border Patrolmen Roger Spencer, Sam Stewart, Ken Kordzik and Bob Mooney.

Airport Board Plans To Obtain Radio Beacon

The newly formed Sonora Airport Board met at Joe F. Berger Memorial Airport last Thursday evening to elect officers and discuss airport matters.

The board was recently created by a city ordinance to comply with Texas Aeronautical Commission requirements regarding eligibility in seeking state technical and financial development aid.

The main topic of discussion at the Thursday meeting was the desirability of obtaining a non-directional radio beacon for the airport, under a state matching fund program. The airport board decided the beacon would be an overall asset to Sutton County, and further discussed means of obtaining outside funds to help pay the cost of the device.

Prior to the close of the meeting, Joe Lane was elected airport board chairman. Lea Allison, Sonora rancher and aviator, was elected vice chairman. The meeting ended with a motion to meet again in three weeks and assess overall airport utilization by various business concerns, sportsmen, tourists and private individuals.

BOOSTER CLUB NETS $2,360 IN CAMERA DRIVE

In the recent drive of the Bronco Booster Club to raise money for camera equipment to be used for filming athletic events, club treasurer Mrs. Mary Lawson, said the club had received $2,360 in donations. In addition to the recent list of donors printed in this newspaper, John W. McDermott, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Halbert, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morris, Gosney's Department Store, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Parker, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Neill, have also made contributions.

Unusually Heavy Rains Hamper Road Construction In Sonora Area

25 to 35 inches of rainfall in the Sonora area since August has hampered greatly the road construction projects in this area, according to spokesmen of the Texas Highway Department.

Allan Construction Company, who is in charge of the project, has been plagued with saturated roadbeds, shoulders, slopes and material stockpiles, stated resident engineer, Joe Lane.

The unusually large project through Sonora is 19.5 miles in length and the contractor has 425 working days to complete the work. Normally, a contractor will average 20 to 22 working days per month, but during a recent 126 calendar day period, it has rained 34 days. Under normal circumstances, a contractor will lose one or two work days each day it rains.

Construction projects are not the only work being hampered by the rains. The Highway Department will not issue over-weight, over-length, or over-width permits while it is raining in order to prevent base failures on existing highways.

The maintenance sections have altered their schedules and instead of mowing they are patching washouts and base failures.

District Engineer D. R. Watson assures the citizens of the Sonora area that the Highway Department and Allan Construction Company are concerned, and will proceed as rapidly as weather allows, to complete the project and get traffic on the new facility.

Trustees Accept Audit

The audit for the 1973-74 school year was presented and accepted by the trustees in the regular meeting of the school board November 11. The audit was presented by Cody Marshall and Bob Barber, representing the auditing firm of Jones, Hay, Sanders and Company of San Angelo.

A review of the audit showed the district received $988,784 in revenue and had expenditures totaling $874,402. New classrooms and other capital outlay items accounted for $95,265 of the expenditures. The district's total assets are $1,074,483 and the bonded debt is $420,000.

The board authorized the tax assessor to meet with city and county officials to discuss the feasibility of employing a tax consultant to assist in property appraisal.

The board approved a recommendation from Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Joe Andrews, to recognize Mrs. Tina Taylor Whitehead and Savell Lee Sharp for their contributions to the school. In 1946 Mrs. Whitehead wrote the lyrics to the school's Alma Mater. Sharp, who was band director, wrote the arrangement after obtaining permission from Texas State College for Women at Denton to use the melody of their Alma Mater.

The board named Dr. Joe David Ross, Mrs. Pedro Galindo, Jr., and Carl Hard to represent the community on a committee composed of students, teachers and administrators in the selection of goals for the school. This is part of a pilot project sponsored by Region XV Education Center and the Texas Education Agency.

Winter Weather Promises Relief From Screwworms

Some relief from massive screwworm infestations in the Texas Hill Country's livestock is promised by cooler weather conditions, according to Dr. M. E. Meadows, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Meadows is director of the Screwworm Eradication Program which is administered by the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service. Technicians in the screwworm program laboratory identified 2,418 samples taken from Texas livestock as screwworms during October. This compares to 2,254 in October of 1973.

Hill Country counties recorded 1,004 cases of the live flesh eating parasites during October with 476 or 47 percent in cattle, 353 or 35 percent in sheep, and 54 or 5 percent in goats. Of this total Sutton County recorded 87 October cases, bringing the yearly total to 150.

Sonoran Needs Blood Donation

Mrs. Bill (Nina Jennings) Lamb, who was recently dismissed from M. D. Anderson Hospital in Houston, needs three pints of blood donated to the Southwestern Blood Bank in San Angelo in her name to replace blood given her during one of her stays in the hospital. Mrs. Lamb and her husband returned to Sonora last week to pick up their infant son who has been in the care of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buster Jennings, the past two months.

According to Mrs. Jennings, Mrs. Lamb has had surgery and will re-enter the hospital November 29. The couple are now residing in Houston and will much appreciate the donations of blood.

Shoppers will be awarded profit sharing coupons at Barrow Jewelry and Sporting Goods, Gosneys, Nevilles, White's Store, Westernman Drug and C. G. Morrison Variety Store. The First National Bank is also among the local businesses participating in the profit sharing give-away.

The first drawing has been set for December 7 when two $75 prizes will be awarded.

Voter Turnout Light

Of the 1695 qualified voters in Sutton County, only 602 appeared at the polls November 5 to cast their votes in the general election.

Democratic candidates carried Sutton County with only a small amount of votes being cast for American, Raza Unida and the Socialist Workers parties.

The office of U. S. Representative of the 21st District was the most hotly contested race of interest to local voters. Both Democratic candidate Robert (Bob) Krueger and Republican Doug Harlan, have made numerous visits in Sonora. Krueger defeated Harlan statewide as well as by 124 votes in Sutton County. Ed Gallion of the American Party polled only 24 votes in that race.

Governor Dolph Briscoe lead other candidates for the office of governor by a wide majority of votes.

Susan McBee of Del Rio was the voters choice to replace State Representative Hilary B. Doran, who did not seek re-election. She polled 485 votes with only one vote cast for her Raza Unida party opponent.

State Senator W. E. (Pete) Snelson was unopposed in his race.

No races were contested locally, which accounts partially for the light turnout at the polls. District Judge Charles Sherrill of Fort Stockton got 500 votes while County Judge J. W. Elliott received 515. The office of County Attorney, sought after by C. Adam Morris III, had a total of 522 votes with 546 votes cast for Erma Lee Turner in her bid for re-election to the office of District and County Clerk.

Mrs. Metha Trainer got 527 votes with Mat Adams receiving 466 votes for the office of Justice of the Peace. Two county commissioners were also elected to serve. Bill Wade tallied 213 votes in precinct 2 and Philip Jacoby received 12 votes in his bid for commissioner of precinct 4.

Bronco and Badger Football Teams Provide Some Interesting Statistics

Statistics for the Sonora Bronco and the McCamey Badger teams after the ninth week of play in District 7-AA football were compiled November 7. Both the Broncos and the Badgers are undefeated in district play and will meet November 15 in McCamey to determine which team will proceed into bi-district play.

The Badgers met Reagan County Friday night and defeated them by a score of 47 to 0 while the Broncos had an open date. Statistics were compiled prior to the McCamey-Big Lake game.

Defensively the Badgers hold a total of 1801 total yards while the Bronco defense holds a total of 1519 yards. McCamey has five of the district's top ten rushers while the Bronco's Paul Browne and Juan Perez claim two of the other five spots. Badger quarterback Graves holds a record of 37 completed passes in 65 attempts, three being touchdown passes, and one interception. Browne has thrown 85 times for 48 completions for a total of 517 yards, four touchdowns and two interceptions.

Among the top ten receivers in the district are Curt Moon, Scooter Surber and Hector Perez. The Badgers have only one receiver in the top ten.

Sonora's Hector Perez holds an average of 33.2 yards per punt while the Badger punter's average is 38.5 yards.

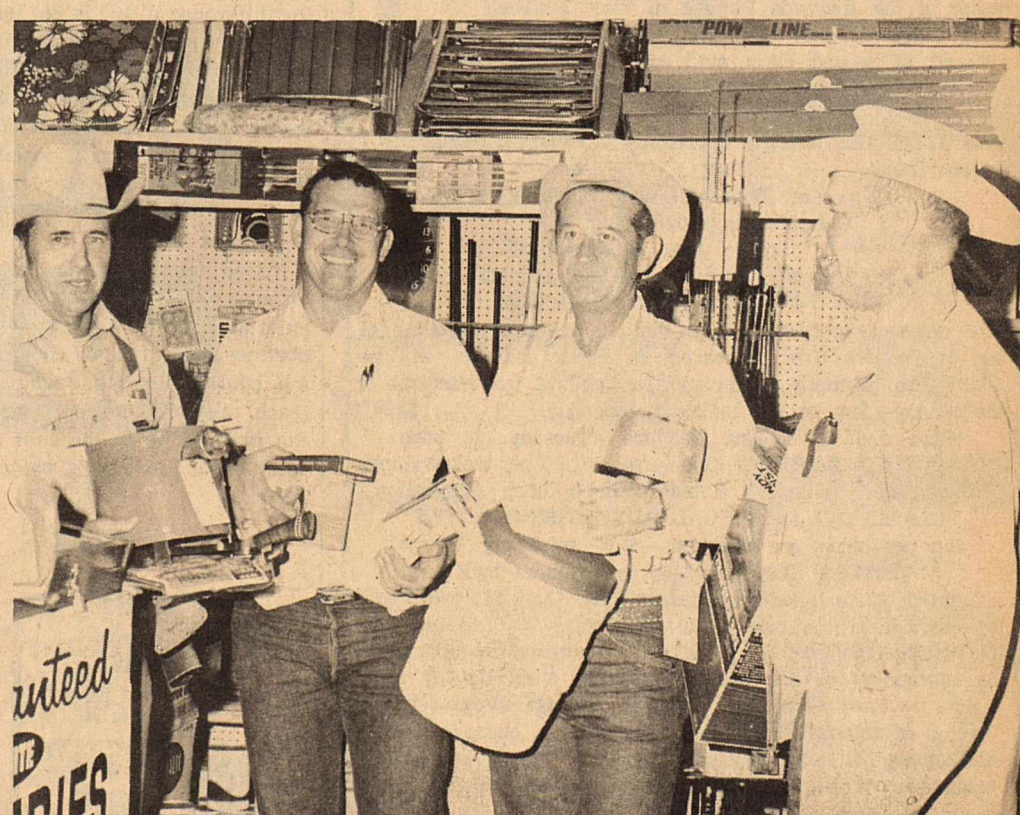

Top ten scorers of the district consist of Juan Perez and Brown and McCamey holds five of these other top ten positions.

Game time is set for 7:30 p.m.

Grassroots Opinion

New London, Iowa, Journal: "Amnesty may be fine. To forgive and forget may be all right, but I feel to grant full amnesty to those who fled our country to escape military service would be grossly unfair. If they want to come back then why should they not pay some sort of price? Maybe some sort of government service would be all right—like running the sanitary waste disposal plant! But then there are some of those who live near who didn't leave the country nor serve the country either and they are not paying any premium because they did not serve, and that is something to ponder also."

Barnsville, Minn., Record-Review: Here's one that ought to make you taxpayers burn! Amtrak will receive a $155 million federal subsidy this year to operate rail passengers service in the nation. Of that amount, $600,000 is spent to buy airplane tickets so that employees of Amtrak can make business trips, trips they could have made free on Amtrak. Maybe they don't even believe in their product."

Abilene, Kansas, Reflector Chronicle: "It's no wonder things got out of control at the White House. Inflation hit the presidential staff, which grew to 540 persons compared to 250 when Mr. Nixon took office. Too many chiefs and not enough Indians."

Frederick, S.D., Brown County News: "What do we mean when we say that first of all we seek liberty? I often wonder whether we do not rest our hopes too much upon constitutions, upon laws and upon the courts. These are false hopes; believe me, these are false hopes. Liberty lies in the hearts of men and women; when it dies there, no constitution, no law, no court can save it; no constitution, no law, no court can even do much to help it. While it lies there it needs no constitution, no law, no court, to save it."

Tunkhannock, Pa., New Age: "One indication of why costs of government and consumer products are so high can be found from a fact revealed by Senator Thomas J. McIntyre...and his sub committee probing the burdens imposed by federal paperwork. Senator McIntyre reveals that the annual cost of processing federal paperwork each year is $36 billion, divided between the government and business. The federal government's share of this expensive mountain of paper is paid by the taxpayers. The business community's share is paid by the consumers. Unfortunately, that means all of us."

Davison, Mich., Index: "You just know there are more liberals in Washington than there are conservatives when you take a look at the size of the national debt. Americans need hard-fought elections to remind us we are a democracy, just as a dog should have fleas to remind him that he is a dog."

Somerset, Ky., Commonwealth Journal: "When Australia adopted the metric system a few years ago, the changeover was not without its unexpected pitfalls. For example, one irate letter writer complained to an editor: 'Since eggs went metric they have been pale in yolk color and lacking in freshness. This clearly shows that chickens cannot adjust to laying different size eggs. We tamper with nature at our peril.'"

A Bishop Looks at Life

by Everett H. Jones, Retired Bishop of Episcopal Church

WHAT CAN WE DO ABOUT OLD AGE?

(Editor's note: This is the second in a three part series on how to think about growing older.)

A few years ago a retired teacher named Ethel Sabin Smith wrote an excellent book called "The Dynamics of Aging." In her preface she said: "In the four decades and more that I have taught young people I have often felt impelled to remind them that while still young they were daily determining the sort of old people they are going to be. Few exercises could be more salutary for the young, in their idler moments, than to observe the aged people they chance to see, and to decide which they would care to resemble when the relentless years have made them old in their turn."

From such observation and my own experience I have concluded there are three essential requirements for growing old successfully and happily.

We must maintain and enlarge our areas of interest. Because it is hard to develop such interests on the spur of the moment at retirement, we need to start early. It means finding the full range of our God-given talents, our varied forms of enjoyable self expression.

However, it is never too late. Grandma Moses, after a strenuous life on an upstate New York farm, discovered at age 70 that she could paint. At 100 she illustrated an edition of "Twelve the Night Before Christmas"; her "primitives" are in demand in art circles all over the world.

We need to keep involved with people and events in the world around us. It is inevitable that we change our pace as the years increase but it is a fatal mistake to withdraw from life. Each of us has some wisdom and love that others need; we can keep looking for places to invest our humanity.

Few people in our century have lived a fuller life than the late Eleanor Roosevelt. On her 77th birthday she said: "Life was meant to be lived. Curiosity must be kept alive. One must never, for whatever reason, turn his back on life." It is unthinkable in these exciting and changing times that we should allow ourselves to become detached and unaware as history is being made.

We need to keep our faith alive and at work. Most of us, if asked, would profess a belief in life after death. It makes all the difference if this is not just a pious hope but a sustaining conviction. A vital faith relieves us from the fear of death. It saves us from a vast amount of anxiety and tension. It is also the cure for that sense of futility we elders sometimes feel.

If God has this ongoing plan for me I need to prod myself to learn all I can here and now. I need to be engaged in continuing education so that when I reach the next stage of life I can perhaps be in the first or second grade instead of kindergarten.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Mittens for Pickpocket

Not long ago a man found guilty of picking pockets was granted probation on the condition that he wear mittens whenever he went out in public during the following five years.

This order suggests the wide range of possibilities that may occur to a sentencing judge when he allows a convicted person to go free on probation. The idea, of course, is to keep the culprit from getting into trouble again.

As a matter of law, the judge has considerable leeway in setting conditions. Besides the usual requirements, such as avoiding association with criminals and keeping in touch with a probation officer, special limitations have also been held lawful.

- Examples:
- 1) that a bookie should not have a telephone in his home;
 - 2) that an assaulter should not go near a certain woman; and
 - 3) that a labor "goon" should not be eligible for union office.

On the other hand, the law is leery of conditions that are too freakish (because they are hard to enforce) or too severe (because they are hard to live up to).

Also, there are constitutional limits that must not be transgressed.

In one case, a court granted a man probation on condition that he donate blood to the Red Cross. But this condition was thrown out on appeal because it called for "involving the physical person in an unwarranted manner."

Equally invalid was a condition in another case that the felon, who was a promising athlete, not play any college or professional basketball. The appellate court said that such a restriction, rather than keep him out of trouble, was more likely to get him back in.

News Letter

By O. C. Fisher

It appears that an indictment against Jake Jacobsen for misapplication of funds involving $825,000 from the First Savings and Loan Association in San Angelo is to be dismissed. If this happens it will mark a new high in contempt for the public interest.

It was a cop-out deal, evidently engineered by the office of the U. S. Attorney General, the Office of Special Prosecutor, and Jacobsen who up to that time was in plenty of trouble. He faced two possible federal charges in Washington plus the big one in Texas. By allowing Jacobsen to plead guilty to a milder case, with the likelihood of little if any punishment, Jacobsen supinely agreed to testify against John Connally regarding alleged misuse of some milk fund money, the nature of the use being highly controversial, provided Jacobsen's record would otherwise be cleared.

The deal with Jacobsen strongly smacks of bribery. If the two who wangled the deal had offered the witness $1,000 to so testify, both of them would be indictable. But they cleverly avoided criminal involvement by making it a plea bargaining operation.

Attorney General Saxbe applies, thus far, the hush-hush treatment to my request for an explanation of why his office ever agreed to such an indefensible maneuver. He has thus far refused to divulge any valid or legal justification for the swap-out that was manipulated.

Since the Texas case is on its face a very serious one, totally unrelated in any way to Watergate or milk funds in Washington, it looks very much like the federal officials involved were willing to pay almost any price to satisfy the ego of those who want to make some sort of a case against John Connally. What price justice!

THE DEVIL'S RIVER PHILOSOPHER SEZ.....

Human Nature Is Cropping Up In Soviet Union, Of All Places

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on the Dry Devil's River claims he has discovered something heretofore unknown, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

According to an article I read last night in a newspaper I found on the road near this bitterweed ranch and brought home to recycle the contents as I understand the energy czar wants us to do, a high Russian official, I can't remember his name and couldn't spell it if I could and neither one of us could pronounce it anyway, has been fired because he was caught building a $175,000 home out of materials he's swiped from the government.

This almost bowled me over, I didn't know they had human nature in Russia. I thought all the politicians over there worked night and day for the people and were satisfied if they got room and board and an occasional medal. All lying and cheating was done to other countries. You mean to tell me human nature is going to crop out, regardless of what form of government it's living under?

Speaking of other countries, I noticed that U. S. diplomats are always talking about improving our relations with other countries but nobody ever talks about other countries improving their relations with us. How come no other country once in a while at least isn't afraid of losing our friendship?

Changing the subject again, I understand Washington is considering adding a surcharge on incomes to get more tax money to fight inflation. Give all male government employees a week off, dress them in highway patrolmen's uniforms, and fine everybody driving over 55 miles an hour. At $20 a fine, and with about 20 million cars on the road that'd come to 400 million dollars a day, or about 3 billion a week, counting those caught more than once. If that won't quite whip inflation, lower the speed limit to 50 next week and double your take.

Remember, if at first you don't succeed, run for office.

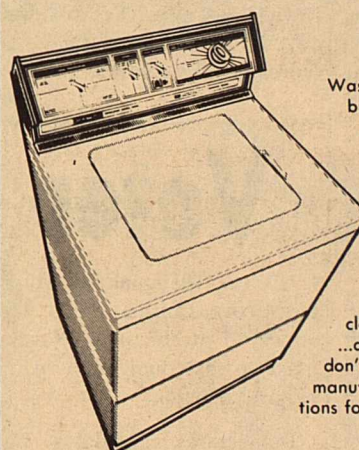

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Family Land Heritage Draws 1,000 To Fair

AUSTIN--Despite the rains that soaked the State Fair grounds in Dallas, more than 1,000 people turned up at the Texas Department of Agriculture (TDA) Food and Fiber Pavilion Oct. 14 for the first annual Family Land Heritage Day.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe officially proclaimed the day, sponsored by TDA to honor Texas farmers and ranchers whose families have worked the same land for 100 years or more.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White paid tribute to the honorees, saying they were among the families who have made Texas Agriculture the giant it is.

People began lining up outside the pavilion before the 9 a.m. kick-off. There were oldsters in wheelchairs, babies in their parents' arms and a wide spread in-between of people whose roots stretch back to the early days of farming and ranching.

One honoree arrived with 20 members of her family to observe the ceremony.

During the morning people gathered in the pavilion lounge for coffee and doughnuts and a slide show, The Family Land Heritage Album, made from old pictures belonging to Family Land honorees.

Another five-screen sound and slide show, "This Land of Texas," was shown in the main part of the pavilion.

Shortly after 1 p.m. the commissioner began giving certificates to 268 landowners and their representatives in the Pan American livestock arena.

Persons who did not attend will receive their certificates by mail. TDA is contacting individual county historical societies in an attempt to set up recognition ceremonies.

This year 562 families and individuals qualified. Family Land Heritage will be an annual event. Registration for the 1975 program will begin in the spring.

Reseachers Probing Heart Problems

Twenty four researchers at the University of Texas Health Science Center in Dallas are probing complicated mechanisms of the heart under $282,406 in grants from the American Heart Association.

The association and its Texas and Dallas affiliates annually fund promising work of scientists at the Health Science Center and many of these projects open up further areas of heart investigation. The 24 grants range from $5,000 to $22,000 each.

The work includes investigation into how cells use genetic coding to manufacture substances which may be important in heart function; drugs which are used to control irregular heart rhythms, how the nervous system affects heart function; trying to measure accurately blood levels of a hormone involved in high blood pressure - aldosterone; proteins essential to heart contraction; analyzing the role heredity plays in electrocardiogram patterns, the substance prolactin which is thought to regulate salt in the body; using ultrasonic methods to determine heart contraction and relaxation; and

Looking at drugs which seem to help blood flow into heart muscle damaged by an attack; the abnormality of kidney hormone release in rats with high blood pressure; complex controls which regulate the amount of cholesterol in the blood; the inability of a diseased heart to function; comparison of mechanical to biochemical changes in hearts; the effects of excessive or deficient amounts of hormones on certain enzymes important in breakdown of tissue, and a method of determining the size of tissue damage in a coronary heart attack by measuring a hormone with nuclear means.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

Habla espanol? Thousands of Texans do. And for many of these citizens, Spanish is the language preferred for use in business dealings.

So it's especially unfortunate but true, that some merchants use their own facility in Spanish, or the fact that some consumers are less comfortable speaking, reading or writing in English to operate unscrupulously.

Recently, the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division, in cooperation with a West Texas district attorney, obtained a court judgment against a real estate firm that was attracting customers with advertisements in Spanish language newspapers. When contacted by an interested party, however, the firm refused or was unable to sell at the advertised price and terms.

In addition, representatives of the firm failed to deposit earnest money at title companies or banks as they represented to customers they would, and failed to return the money or apply it to real estate purchases.

The firm's representatives also advertised their services as "notarios publicos" and accepted deposits from Mexican aliens to begin processing U. S. immigration papers. Our attorneys took the position that this was a deceptive trade practice, since in Mexico, as in many Spanish-speaking countries, a "notario publico" is an attorney or a person specially trained in legal matters.

Although the persons were notaries public, we discovered they were not attorneys or otherwise qualified to practice immigration law in the U. S. and, therefore, they couldn't obtain the necessary papers for their customers.

In another case, a firm operating primarily in the Valley and directing much of their sales efforts toward Spanish speaking migrant workers, has been permanently enjoined from misrepresenting their services. The firm was selling door-to-door what is described as "aseguranza," or insurance, which salesmen assured prospective customers would cover costs involved if they had an automobile wreck in any state in the country.

In reality, what consumers were sold amounted to membership in an automobile club, for which they were charged high fees.

Since they sold their services in home solicitations, the company by law should have informed purchasers of their right to cancel any contract for more than $25 within three days by notifying the firm or its salesman in writing.

And, since their sales pitches were usually made in Spanish, any contract or receipt of sale should have included this information in Spanish. The law says contracts or receipts must be in the same language used in the transaction.

My Consumer Protection Division reports that other states have experienced the problem of magazine sales crews descending on barrios and using hard sell appeals in Spanish to obtain subscriptions.

And instances have occurred in other states where publishers of so-called minority or ethnic magazines or newspapers have used long distance appeals to businessmen in other states for advertising.

The Attorney General's Consumer Protection staff has taken several steps to assure that our Spanish speaking citizens will be able to get consumer protection assistance and information in whichever language they prefer.

First and most important, our five regional offices in San Antonio, El Paso, Lubbock, Houston and Dallas make our consumer protection services available on a more localized level. And in these offices, as in our main office in Austin, we have bilingual staff members or attorneys who can help with consumer problems.

In addition, we provide bilingual consumer complaint forms in all of our offices, and we have recently translated our Practical Primer for Texa Consumers, a brochure describing common consumer frauds, into Spanish.

So, for assistance with a consumer complaint, in English or in Spanish, consult the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division.

The Fitzroy Cocktail of the Australian "out back" consists of methylated spirits, ginger beer and one teaspoonful of boot polish!

TO THE VOTERS OF SUTTON COUNTY:

I am most appreciative of your overwhelming support in the General Election. The results could not have been any more gratifying. I look forward with enthusiasm to serving my constituents in Austin and hope you will feel free to contact me with your suggestions and opinions.

NATURAL GAS For Years To Come

With all the talk about conservation, many might believe that we have only enough natural gas for a few tomorrows. We'd like to assure our residential and other high priority customers that Lone Star has an adequate supply. Not only for the present, but for years to come.

We were actively engaged in exploration programs long before the energy crisis. And since the crisis, we're exploring even harder to insure your continued supply of natural gas.

Conservation is one way to extend the supplies we now have on hand. And they can last much longer by avoiding wasteful uses of energy. By making it last longer, more time is allowed for new forms of energy to be developed.

Of course new supplies are going to cost more. But natural gas is still the best buy for your energy dollar!

Conserve natural gas. Conservation will help keep the cost as low as possible.

Congressman-elect Bob Krueger, who will succeed the retiring O. C. Fisher, told well-wishers at a victory party, "This election is a victory for you because you are the ones who spent many working hours for a candidate you believed in." Krueger announced Monday that he plans a tour of the 32-county 21st Congressional district to thank his supporters and voters who bestowed this great honor upon him. Krueger polled 53% of the votes in the November 5 general election.

Band News

The last home game of the season will be played November 14 when the Sonora Junior Varsity hosts the Mason Junior team. Game time is 7 p.m., and the following parents are asked to have their food in the concession stands 30 minutes prior to game time: two dozen sandwiches each - Hards, Hollmigs and Villarreal; two dozen cupcakes each - Surbers, Jennings and Joys.

SATURDAY'S THE DAY... that Texas hunters have been dreaming of all year. Hunting season begins and will continue through January 1. All licensed hunters will be able to bring home the "bacon" in the form of three deer, but not to exceed over two bucks. Turkey season also begins in the state and hunters may kill two of the birds...either gobblers or hens.

Teen Scene

By Linda Behrens

Winners of the yearbook's "Ugly Contest" are Tony Mathews, president of the student council, who won grand champion, first place. Tony was dressed and acted the part of Fonsie (that could possibly be mispelled for I got that information from a certain person in the office), from the weekly television show "Happy Days."

Cheering from second place was Roy Adkins, representing the senior class. He played the part of the world's most loveable cheerleader.

Placing third was Josie Lopez, who represented the FHA, in the portrayal of a little ole' lady. Each of the winners received a gift certificate.

An added attraction to the event was Scooter Surber who came face to face with a lemon cream pie and Beverly McDonald, who got the last laugh...on Scooter.

SHS

Last week three students travelled to Ballinger to compete for places in the all-district band. All three students, Patty Merrill, Gary Wuest and Steven Terry, were selected to a place in the band.

These students will go to Stephenville December 13-15 to compete in regional competition.

SHS

Sheila Alexander has been chosen to represent SHS in the Daughters of the American Revolution competition. This title is given to the most outstanding senior girl on the merits of development of good citizenship, dependability, service, leadership and patriotism. Later on Sheila and her mother will attend a tea in San Angelo, given for the selected girls. Good luck, Sheila!

SHS

This is just a reminder to any person desiring a 1975 band calendar to contact John Butterfield. Each calendar is $1.50 with each addition of birthdays or anniversaries being 50c extra. Any assistance in helping the band is worth the price.

Blood Services Set Nov. 25 Visit

The Sonora Lions Club is sponsoring a community bloodmobile Monday, November 25. Blood Services of San Angelo will have a mobile unit set up in the Community Room at the Sonora Branch of San Angelo Savings and Loan from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

James Alexander, Lions president, urges all citizens of the community to participate in this worthwhile humanitarian project. Everyone who donates a unit of blood will receive six months blood insurance for himself and his immediate family. This means that Blood services will pay any transfusion charges incurred by the donors and their families for a six months period following the donation.

According to Wanda Lee of Blood Services, donating a unit of blood is a safe, simple process that will only take a few minutes of your time. Anyone between the ages of 17 and 65 may be eligible to donate. Blood is life, it was meant to circulate, please pass it on.

Blood Services is strictly a not-for-profit, self-supporting community service organization. They have been in operation since 1943 and service 34 hospitals in this area, including Hudspeth Memorial and must draw up to 800 units per month to meet normal demands.
