Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Best wishes to Gov. John Connally and to Lt. Gov. Preston Smith as they assume their new duties which are monumental. The problems confronting them are intricate and many, but we believe that these men have the character and courage to solve them effectively.

Some of the goals mentioned by Gov. Connally were:

To provide greater support for education as the first and most important task.

To accept responsibility of the state, to prevent central government from falling under burdens of responsibility defaulted by the states.

Lt. Gov. Smith, who stands astride the executive and legislative branches as the new senate leader, said: Each elected representative has an obligation to speak out and be heard and that obligation and that right will be respected, he observed. So far so good and the best of luck to both of you in the days that lie ahead.

Some of the proposals under study in the so-called Federal tax cut may seem like the opposite to many people around here even if the base rate is lower. One is the elimination of the income tax deductions which most of us have come to expect as a right. Here are some which the Associated Press says President Kennedy may ask to be pruned:

1. Deductions for medical outlays and casualty losses.

2. Deductions for sales and excise taxes paid to state and local governments.

3. The interest on mortgage payments.

4. The privilege of married couples filing a joint return.

Can you imagine paying your income tax without any of these deductions? If this is what a tax cut means then we had better start hoping for a raise instead of a cut.

Bank deposits continue to reflect the sound economy of our area as can be seen from the story in this issue. Next week we will have the ginning figures again. Ginning is about 98 or 99 per cent finished. The total figure will come very close to that of last year.

You have a very short time in which to pay your poll tax. Better check now and see if you have that receipt in your wallet or filed in some safe place where it can be found easily. Every off year from one to a dozen things come up on which you would like to vote—city and school and bond elections, etc.

The sight of two rows planted and two left out or four rows planted and four left out is a familiar one in this area, but this year you may see a change in the pattern on some irrigated farms. This will be two rows planted and one left out. Watering will be done on the skip row and will enable the irrigation farmer to get over his entire field faster when the crops begin to hurt. This practice has the approval of the county ASCS.

For Christmas Mrs. David Rasco of Amarillo sent us the book "Texas" by Stanley Walker. I have read it through and am now on what you might call a second browsing. It is a delightful and realistic book written by a man who in the course of his newspaper career met and knew most of the state's more colorful citizens.

$25 Bond To Be Awarded

Citizens Asked to Suggest 1963 C-C Program of Work

Collingsworth residents will write their own Chamber of Commerce work program in 1963.

President Jack Sanford announced this week the C-C is asking for suggestions to be incorporated in the program of work, and an explanation as to how it can be carried out.

A $25 government savings bond will be presented to the person offering what is judged to be the most practical suggestion. The winner will be announced and the bond presented at the chamber of commerce banquet February 7.

"The Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce solicits your opinion on what we should try to accomplish in the year 1963," Sanford said. "We want to know what type of activities you believe we can add to our program of work to make it greater and more valuable to Collingsworth county."

These suggestions can be in any field—agriculture, industry, civic improvement, beautification, or others.

All suggestions, along with a discussion of how the program can be put into action, should be mailed to the Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce, Box 267, Wellington, or brought to the office at 719 West Avenue not later than Feb. 1, 1963, according to N. M. Higdon, manager.

Bare Expenses: $3,600

Cemetery Association Opens 1963 Drive

The annual finance drive of the Wellington Cemetery Association will be launched this week, with all members of the Association and other interested individuals to be contacted by letter.

Needs of the association were set out by Zook Thomas, president.

"We need $3,600 in order to pay our bills—this is the bare operating expense," Thomas said. Covered in this are labor, incidental expenses, gas and oil and mower repair.

"Any permanent improvements will have to come from money raised above this," said Thomas.

At present, the Wellington Garden Club has under way an improvement project at North Wellington Cemetery, which will include planting of shrubs and flowers and a circular plot that is to be the focal point of that cemetery.

Thomas also announced that improvement of the entrance to the West Wellington Cemetery will begin as soon as the weather improves. Work for this is to be donated and materials to be used are already on hand.

Officers and Directors of Banks Renamed

Officers and directors of Wellington's two banks were re-elected in annual stockholders meetings held since Jan. 1.

Officers of the Wellington State Bank are James Sullivan, chairman of the board; Judge Luther Gribble, president; C. T. Hubbard, executive vice president; E. M. Hunter and Paul Bell, vice presidents; Richard Bailey, cashier; and Mrs. Barney Glenn, assistant cashier.

Directors are Judge Gribble, Dee McDowell of Shamrock, Dr. J. M. Orr, John Holton, Lewis Morris, Sullivan and Hubbard.

James Doneghy was re-elected president of City State Bank; Zook Thomas, vice president; Joe Terry, cashier; and Miss Edythe Jackson, assistant cashier.

City State directors are Doneghy, Thomas, Terry, Sandown Smith and John Nash.

The annual stockholders meeting for the First State Bank at Dodson has not been held, according to Mrs. Nadine Birchfield, cashier.

Season Low of Two Below Recorded Here

The cold wind that whistled out of the north toppled mercury to two degrees below zero officially at Wellington, with readings of 6 to 8 below recorded unofficially over the county.

The official low was recorded on two successive days, Saturday and Sunday, January 12 and 13.

The readings here were by no means record lows for the county. Twenty years ago, almost to the day, 13 degrees below zero was recorded, but the current sub-zero weather is the coldest for several seasons.

The county weathered the cold well. Service station and garage employees bore the brunt of it, with the large number of cars that would not start on the two mornings.

One fire was attributed to the weather — an alfalfa hay stack on the Monty Mitchell farm at Marella, set by an electric fence.

Law enforcement officers reported no accidents due to the weather and a rather quiet week end altogether.

No livestock loss has been reported, although many ranchers had to work to free frozen windmills and break ice in tanks.

All events scheduled for the week end were carried out.

County Banks Report Assets Over 8 Million

Collingsworth county banks ended the year with combined assets around eight and one-half million dollars and total deposits approaching the seven and three-quarter million dollar mark.

This closes out a year that saw a cotton crop far exceed expectations, and one that will almost reach, if it does not match, last year's production.

Not all the cotton crop is reflected in the bank statements, however. Late gathering of much of the crop found many growers with the bulk of their crops not yet converted to cash on January 1.

Total assets this year were $8,430,471.12. This is almost a million and a quarter above the assets three years ago, although under the figure at the beginning of 1962.

Total deposits amount to $7,712,927.06.

Of this, $6,529,238.01 is in the demand deposits of individuals, while the remaining million and a quarter reflects time deposits, the deposits of political subdivisions such as federal, state and local governments, water districts, school districts and deposits other banks hold in the three local institutions.

Loans and discounts this year amount to $4,636,456.74. This is slightly above the figure a year ago, and again reflects the fact that not all the cotton crop was in.

Total capital accounts amount to $658,107.70, and undivided profits, which form part of the capital accounts, are $205,607.70.

Spacemobile Due for Demonstration

The nationally famous Spacemobile, sponsored by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, will stop in Wellington Wednesday, January 23, when high school students of the county will hear the traveling space-science lecture demonstration.

The Spacemobile is sponsored here by the Wellington Classroom Teachers Association and will be at the high school from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Wellington is one of the few towns in Texas where it will stop.

The program is presented without charge and is open to the public, according to Mrs. Bernice Welch, president of the Classroom Teachers.

It will begin at 9 a.m. and will be in the high school auditorium.

Special invitations have been extended the high school students at Samnorwood, Dodson and Quail.

In charge of the Spacemobile are Jack D. Shattuck and John Nesbitt, associated with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The Spacemobile is a specially designed panel truck carrying equipment and materials which will give the viewer an insight on progress to date in space craft.

They will demonstrate their application to such current programs of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration as the Mercury orbiting manned capsule; Gemini, orbiting two-man capsule; Apollo, which it is hoped will land a three-man team on the moon; Ranger, Surveyor and Prospector, unmanned spacecraft; Mariner and Voyager, spacecraft for unmanned exploration of planets other than the moon; Tiros, Numbus, Aeros, weather satellite programs, as well as others.

Mrs. Welch, who has seen the exhibit, called its fascinating, yet simple enough that the average person can clearly understand what is being done in the space world.

"We are fortunate in having this program, since it will be an excellent visual experiment which will be easily understood by the layman and student," she said, and pointed out that there are only 11 of these units traveling over the entire United States.

The public is invited.

Min. Guy N. Wood

Guy N. Wood to Hold Meeting at Church of Christ

Min. Guy N. Wood of Memphis, Tenn., familiar to Church of Christ congregations for more than a quarter of a century, returns to Wellington to hold a gospel meeting beginning Friday, January 18.

The meeting will be at the West Avenue Church of Christ and will continue through the morning service Sunday, January 27, according to V. P. Robertson, who is helping with the plans.

Services will be at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Min. Wood was minister of the Church of Christ here approximately 25 years ago, and since leaving here he has engaged in evangelistic work throughout the United States.

Ready for the Asphalt

Complete Dirt and Base Work on New Farm-Market Roads

Laying the base on Collingsworth's two farm to market roads under construction was finished Tuesday, Jan. 15, and completion of the roads now awaits warm weather when the asphalt topping can be poured.

This program includes three miles of road beginning at a point three miles east of town of Highway 203, and 8.6 miles starting from FM Highway 338 extending east through the Kelley community, and south to again join 338 near Dodson.

The first of these is to be designated FM 2734 and the other FM 1642.

The contract is held by Cooper & Woodruff of Amarillo for $146,000.

One bridge 52 feet long was put in on the road east of town and 16 culverts were necessary on both roads, according to Grant Wooldridge of the Highway Department.

Work started Nov. 26 and has gone unusually well, with the only trouble encountered being excessive ground moisture for part of the time.

Gravel for the base on the Kelley road was brought from a pit on the Kenneth Hudson farm, and for the Midway road from a pit on the Richard Bailey farm.

The two-course surface treatment should be poured around April 15, according to the Highway Department.

Jack Scroggins, general superintendent for Cooper and Woodruff, was in charge of the project here.

Rockettes Lose, Rockets Win

Wellington Skyrockets won a close game from the Paducah Dragons Tuesday night, Jan. 8, here, but the Rockettes lost an even tighter game to the Dragonettes on the same night.

Final score in the girls game was Paducah 35 and Wellington 33.

There was never an easy moment in the game for either team. Paducah led 10 to 8 at the end of the first period, and 20 to 17 at the half. Wellington pulled ahead and at the close of the third, had 31 points to 26 for Paducah.

The final period, however,

Fire Destroys Hay Stack

Fire believed to have started from an electric fence, destroyed 300 bales of alfalfa hay for Monty Mitchell a mile east of Marella Saturday night, Jan. 12, during sub-zero weather.

Mitchell said the fence broke, igniting grass, which burned up to the hay stack before it was discovered. A pet dog of the Mitchells' raised the alarm.

About an acre of grass was destroyed.

The Wellington fire department answered the call, but could not reach the blaze in time.

Mitchell said he was able to save one bale of alfalfa.

Youths Arrested for Burglary

Two Mexican youths were arrested on complaints of burglary, and a third for possession of a prohibited weapon as an outgrowth of the entry of OK Rubber Welders Sunday night, Jan. 13, Police Chief Troy Marsh reported.

Approximately $15 in change taken from the cash register was found wrapped in a rag, under a mattress at the rooms where the boys are living.

Israel Sagredo, 17, admitted to officers that he entered the building and took the money, while the other youth, 16, stayed outside. Entry was gained through a window, according to Marsh.

Marsh and Deputy Kenneth Hodge were able to track the boys to their rooms, and with Texas Ranger Bill Baten of Pampa and Sheriff John Rainey, made the arrest Tuesday evening when they and four other youths returned, about 7 p.m.

Sagredo was arraigned before Claude McKinney, justice of the peace, and his bond set at $1,000. He is being held in jail, awaiting action of the grand jury.

The juvenile was tried before Judge C. C. Bishop Tuesday and sentenced to the state training school. He was probated to the custody of his parents, who live at Donna.

At the time these two were arrested, Candido Ybarra Jr., 19, was arrested for carrying a hand chain. He pled guilty in county court Tuesday morning and his fine set at $100 and costs of $27.50. He, also, is in jail, according to Marsh.

A hand chain was described as a short length of bicycle chain which can inflict a vicious wound if it is used with force.

Thant Backs Reds

U. N. Secretary General U Thant may have given a veiled endorsement the other day to proposals for admitting Red China to the world Organization. The New York Times quoted him as saying that he hoped the U. N. would "continue to make progress toward universality" in 1963. Thant added that "many of the problems which we face today . . . are global in character and are common to members and nonmembers of the United Nations alike."

The statement was part of a general appeal for greater peace and international harmony during the coming year. How Red China fits into this goal is difficult to imagine. Possibly for a neutralist, such as U. Thant, the connection is easy.

False and Misleading

The federal government has a proper police function, which it sometimes exercises well, sometimes poorly. But just as the cop on the beat has human failings as do those miscreants he must deal with, the federal government also shows traits it tries to suppress in others.

For instance, a group of foreign journalists recently accused our government of false and misleading advertising, and because this concern sometimes has been carried to rather ridiculous extremes, it might pay to look at how Uncle Sam goes about advertising when he pays for the space in the papers.

The United States Travel Service, the foreign newspapermen declare, has been luring European tourists over here under false pretenses. For example, one federal government ad told Europeans that they could travel in the U. S. for as little as $98 a week.

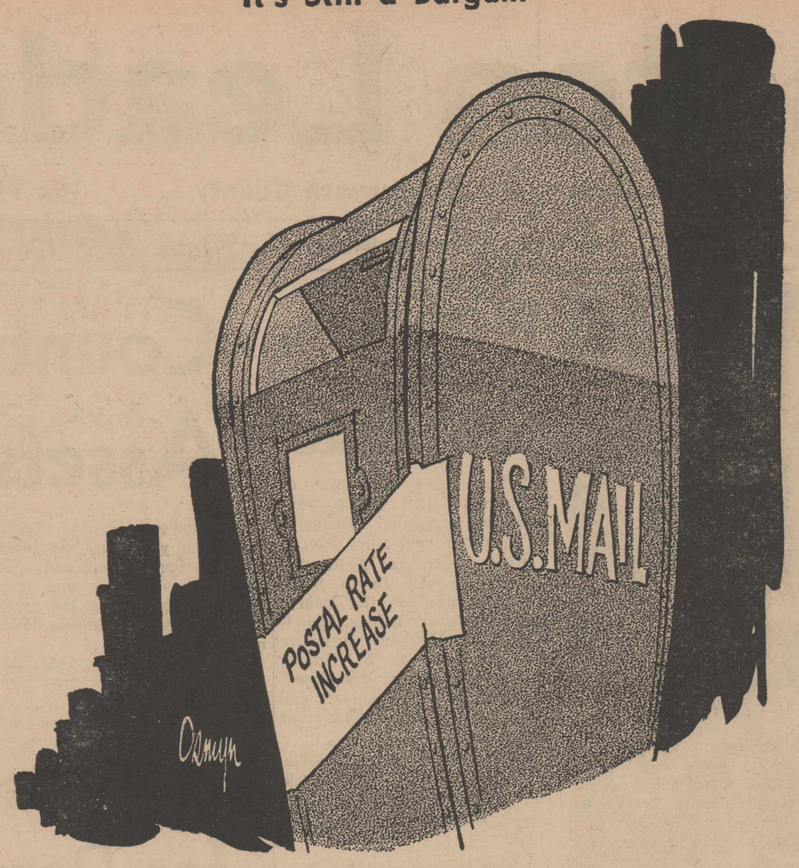

This, of course, is not false. But it is misleading. A hitch-hiker, eating exclusively at wayside stands, might be able to stay within a budget like this. But $98 a week will finance a rather deluxe vacation in Europe, and our government didn't even hint at the austerity that would be involved in this kind of travel over here.

The U. S. travel people also extolled the glories of riding a mule at dawn to the bottom of the Grand Canyon, but neglected to mention to the relatively impecunious Europeans that the only way to do this would be to spend the night at a nearby hotel where the average rate is $20 to $25 per night. This figure would stagger a European, in tourist season, on the Riviera.

The moral of all this seems to be that honesty within the federal government has as many lapses as that outside it — a lesson we should have learned through almost two centuries of scandals. Washington is not the last word on moral guidance as some federal messiahs beg us to believe these days.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where the statistics are that farmers are getting fewer and Agriculture Department employees are getting more numerous as time goes on.

A bitter newspaper writer says pretty soon the Department will have one employee to advise and watch over each farmer.

My criticallous neighbor says though, the actual need is for three government agents per farmer: One to show him how to raise more stuff, one to keep him from doing it, and one to sell his horses at public auction if he won't take orders.

I see where Washington economic theorists are real put out because American business did not grow as much last year as they figured.

They seem to feel like this shows spitefulness and stubbornness, and Mr. Kennedy may decide businessmen are really more kin to the mule than to the dog.

My broke economist neighbor says government ought to put on some pressure here, like more anti-trust suits or something, so business will get on the ball and grow faster.

My nimrod-type neighbor says it is doing wild game a big favor to kill off surplus members thereof, so the survivors will have enough food.

Which does seem like a very thoughtful and practical service in the interest of keeping supply and demand in balance.

But likely we won't ever get an open season on the wild bureacrat, so that this species can be benefitted by keeping its numerousness down in better balance with the gravy supply we can afford.

I see where a scientist making electronic brains says people don't need to be afraid that these machines will out-think man and start ruling the world.

Says they are just beasts of burden which enable a man to get more work done, like the horse, and the riding lawn mower.

But my apprehensive neighbor says this is not much comfort, as he recalls that Congressmen also used to be considered as just servants of the people, and now look who fiddles while we pay.

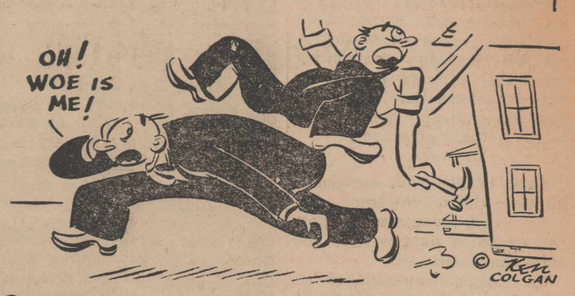

Coin Toss Picks Senate Leader

AUSTIN.—Selection of the president pro tempore of the Texas Senate was determined by the toss of a coin.

Senator Martin Dies Jr. of Lufkin won over Senator Louis Crump of San Saba when the pair decided to flip a coin for the position, rather than to oppose each other.

Customarily, the selection is made on the basis of seniority.

In this instance, Dies and Crump had equal seniority.

CHEVROLET... the Quality truck!

WALK AROUND IT. SEE THE DIFFERENCES.

Start at the rear of this Fleetside pickup. Grab the tailgate and pull hard. No give. Two wedge latches keep it tight. Now unfasten them and let down the gate. Jump up and down on it. Does it sag? Notice how the chains are wrapped in rubber so they won't rattle or mar paint.

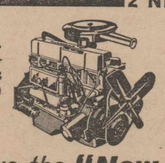

Now look at the lower side panels. Two walls. You might dent the inside one but it won't show through. The floor will never rust. It's select wood, not metal.

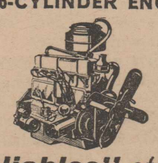

Now please sit in the cab a minute. Comfortable? It also is double walled and the roof is insulated. Let's start 'er up and look for a washboard road. Chevrolet coil-spring suspensions fight road shock better than other types, good for the truck, load and the driver.

There are other things. But you can see why this is a truck that does a job without a lot of pampering. It's built right. Which is why it's usually worth more at trade-in. When would you like us to deliver it?

"Water in the Space Age as It Pertains to Collingsworth County" was the theme of the 1954 Study Club meeting on Thursday, Jan. 10, when Mrs. Harley Hatch was hostess.

Mrs. Bill Long, president, directed the business meeting and urged members to attend the organizational meeting of the Cancer Society January 24.

They were reminded that this society will enable the county to have a depot of supplies for the use of cancer patients in the county. Mrs. John Calor of Shamrock, and Mrs. Tom Williams, area representative for the American Cancer Society, will be present for the meeting.

Mrs. Ray Peeples, program director, introduced Paul Spillman, legal advisor for the Collingsworth County Water Control and Improvement District, as the speaker.

He pointed out that a heavier than usual vote was cast in the recent election of three directors of the district.

Mr. Spillman said the present plans call for three dams to be built, one on Elm Creek, one at the Little Gyp Site on Salt Fork, which will connect with one on Buck Creek.

The connection will be made by canal, which, it is hoped, will be used also for irrigation purposes.

The speaker also noted that Collingsworth county has been designated as eligible to participate in the program of the Area Redevelopment Administration.

Designation as a "redevelopment area" makes the county eligible to participate in the accelerated public works program which went into effect in September and is designed to make possible immediate useful employment on needed public works.

Black Beans Set Senate Terms

AUSTIN.—The ordeal of the "black beans" has been repeated in the Texas Senate, although without the usual dire consequences.

Texas' Constitution requires "choice by lots" every 10 years to determine which members of the Senate shall begin a decennial with two year terms and which shall receive four year terms.

Among those whom the fate of the "black bean" drawing decreed must run again next spring, if they are to remain more than two years in the Senate, were veterans George Moffett, Dorsey Hardeman, Charles F. Herring, Frank Owen III, Bruce A. Reagan and William T. Moore.

Other returning senators with half-term assignments were Galloway Calhoun Jr., Martin Dies Jr., Abraham Kazen Jr., David Ratliff and A. R. Schwartz.

Freshman senators who got the two-year terms were H. H. Blanchard, Don Kennard, Jack Strong, and J. P. Word.

Returning senators who held onto four-year terms were A. M. Aiken Jr., Mrs. Neveille H. Colson, Tom Creighton, Grady Hazlewood, Louis Crump, Culp Krueger, George Parkhouse, William N. Patman, Andy Rogers and Franklin Spears.

New members drawing full terms were James S. Bates, Criss Cole, Ralph Hall, D. Roy Harrington, Walter Richter and Murray Watson.

However, there is a possibility that a constitutional amendment and new re-districting act may require election of all senators again next year.

Commitees Named in Texas House

AUSTIN.—Most members of the House of Representatives felt that House Speaker Byron Tunnell was "very fair" in his committee assignments.

Rep. John Allen of Longview who made the nominating speech for the new Speaker, will head the committee on state affairs; Rep. Ben Barnes of DeLeon will be in charge of hiring and firing for the House as head of the rules committee.

Other choice chairmanships include: Rep. W. S. Heatly Jr. of Paducah, appropriations;

Rep. Menton J. Murray of Harlingen, Congressional and Legislative Redistricting;

Rep. James Cotten of Weatherford, Constitutional Amendments;

Rep. Jerry Butler of Kenedy, Labor; and Rep. George Cook of Odessa, oil, gas and mining.

Being Senator Is Family Tradition

When Senator Strong took the oath of office as Senator from the second district, it marked the 40th anniversary of the day his father, James G. Strong of Carthage, was first sworn in to represent the same area.

The "elder" statesman in the Strong family and his wife were witnesses to the swearing-in ceremony for their 32-year-old son.

Mrs. Kate Pitts of Borger is visiting in the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. L. Hays and Larlu.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Riddle and children, Lisa and John David, spent several days with his aunt, Mrs. George Jones, and other relatives. The family was en route from Great Falls, Mont., where he was stationed with the Air Force, to his new assignment at Biloxi, Miss. Riddle's mother, Mrs. John Riddle, will be remembered here as Miss Juliette Aaron.

Mrs. Charles Fleming and daughter, of Duke, Okla., are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Brewer.

Air Conditioning Important New School Move

AUSTIN.— Air conditioning has become the single most important new development in the public schools of Texas, says "Texas Outlook." The magazine is published by the Texas State Teachers Association.

Besides making schools more comfortable, air conditioning is responsible for a host of innovations in school design. The goal is to improve learning.

C. Lyman Ellis, consultant in school architecture for the Texas Education Agency, is quoted as saying:

"It has given the architect freedom to plan a building to the best utilization of the site, eliminating the need for considering sun direction and other external factors."

Among the innovations is the "compact" school. An outstanding example is the Forest Park high school in the South Park Independent school district in Beaumont, reputed to be one of the first windowless, air conditioned schools in the nation.

Since the almost-square building depends entirely upon electrical power for its light and air circulation, an emergency lighting system powered by batteries is maintained in case of power failure.

Belaire Elementary school in San Angelo. built in 1955, was the first Texas school completely designed and built for air conditioning.

San Angelo has been a leader in the trend toward air-conditioned schools, and Supt. G. B. Wadzeck tells why:

"We feel that air conditioning is more economical, and provides a more efficient educational atmosphere."

Wadzeck says janitorial personnel can maintain almost ten per cent more square footage when a building is air conditioned, which more than offsets the utility cost increase.

Another trend is toward more colorful interiors. These include planters in corridors, brightly colored lockers and bulletin boards, and floor covers chosen for beauty and interest.

Andrews high school pioneered the use of commercial carpeting in classrooms,

LOOKING AHEAD

by Dr. George S. Benson

LIGHT FOR THE FUTURE

President Kennedy surely must have disappointed many American citizens last August when he told a group of visiting students that the U.S. Constitution is not necessarily an "automatic light to the future."

Of course, the Constitution itself recognizes the need for revision through amendments and makes provision for them, whenever Congress or the states "deem it necessary." But too many modern presidents have wanted to by-pass this amendment machinery and rule by executive fiat or decree.

Perhaps most disappointing were Mr. Kennedy's inferences that the US Constitution has become outmoded.

He went on to say that despite the extraordinary nature of our founding document, men were required to make it work now in an entirely different period of the nation's history, under different conditions.

Obviously the Constitution was a human document. It was signed by men and it had to be implemented by men. Men still must be chosen to lead, and there are others who must follow with understanding.

Power for Change

The viewpoint that our Constitution was written for a day long gone is an easy way to open the door to all manner of change that will suit political convenience. The non-political principles of human rights and of justice under law are not temporary, are they?

The guarantees of freedom of speech, of press, or worship, of assembly, and of petition are not so dated as to belong to any special period. Much of our Constitution comprises the expression of principles that do not pass away either with decades or centuries.

When the President went on to say that the Constitution has "to be interpreted by man" he may have been thinking of the Supreme Court and of the appointment of Justice Goldberg, at that time current.

Although the Court has been known to apply the brakes to change-minded executives, the high tribunal actually has served in this generation as a changing force that has introduced "interpretations" of men. It has, in fact, set aside more decisions since 1932 than in the whole 143 years of its history up to that time.

New Appointees

Presidents before Mr. Kennedy have vented their wrath upon strict Constitutionalists and the change-makers generally have found methods of circumventing the letter of the Constitution.

President Roosevelt wanted the Supreme Court enlarged, or "packed" as it was called, so that radical legislation that he was able to get through Congress would not be declared un-Constitutional. Since the court-packing battle of 1937, presidents have tended more and more to put sympathetic appointees on the Supreme Court. This obviously was not the intent of the Founding Fathers.

Alexander Hamilton warned against making the power of the Supreme Court superior to that of Congress and against leaving the interpretative power of the Court outside the review of the legislative body. He apparently was aware that "interpretations" sometime could become another way to construct legislation.

Construing the laws "according to the spirit of the Constitution" would be "as unprecedented as it is dangerous," Hamilton wrote.

Preserve The "Letter"

Columnist David Lawrence recently quoted this Hamiltonian reasoning from "The Federalist" and then remarked that the whole idea of finding the "spirit" rather than the "letter" of the Constitution is undiluted Machiavellian doctrine that the end justifies the means.

And so it is. Willful men seeking power, ready to justify whatever expedient is proposed and to interpret every law to their own liking, can thus subvert and twist the "spirit" of the Constitution completely awry.

Regardless of President Kennedy's comments, the time has not yet come when we must surrender the Constitution to political expediency. We cannot afford either to squeeze or expand the Constitution to fit each political emergency.

If our presidents persist in appointing politically pre-oriented figures to the high court, Congress one day may need to seek remedies of a Constitutional nature that will help preserve the "letter" of our founding document as well as the function of Congress itself.

UNIVERSITY BRINGS $57 MILLION TO AUSTIN

More than $57,000,000 annually flows into the economy of Austin because of the University of Texas. That figure, compiled by the Austin Chamber of Commerce, is an estimate of money spent by regularly enrolled students and by visitors to University-sponsored conferences and activities; funds expended by the University for physical plant expansion and extension, and University payrolls and available endowment income.

Fin-Feather-Fur
In Collingsworth

By DANNY GARCIA

Quail season closes today and the season as a whole proved to be successful for most hunters.

Several hunting parties with which I have talked, have reported getting their limits each time they go.

Only yesterday, I was speaking with Dick Pendleton and Harold Lamb, and they said they killed 22 birds in about four hours hunting.

I think the reason we had some poor reports at the first of the season was that some hunters had not located the birds at that time. The birds were spotted and those spotted areas produced lots of birds.

Single birds continued to be a problem all year long. I've had this trouble myself, however, I had the best results with the hunting procedure I mentioned in one of my first articles.

Now is the time to buy good bird dogs. Seems that many hunters do not see it profitable to feed a dog from one season to the other. Most of these people do not have the time to be around their dogs to become attached to them, or to find out just how good a pet they make.

The 10 Commandments of Shooting Safety

1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun. This is the cardinal rule of gun safety.

2. Guns carried into camp or home muse always be unloaded, taken down, or have action open; guns always should be encased until reaching the shooting area.

3. Always be sure that the barrel and action are clean of obstructions.

4. Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble. Keep the safety on until you are ready to shoot.

5. Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger.

6. Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot.

7. Unattended guns should be unloaded; guns and ammunition should be stored safely beyond the reach of children and careless adults.

8. Never climb a tree or a fence with a loaded gun.

9. Never shoot at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water.

10. Do not mix gunpowder and alcohol.

Fishing

I have received some reports that crappie and black bass fishing is picking up at Lugert Lake. The report was that they were fishing about two inches off the bottom with minnows.

Weldon Cleveland and Weldon Jr. spent a couple of days at Lugert week before last and reported that the water was clear and they caught a few nice crappie around the bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Watts returned Monday from Dallas, after spending a week with her sister, Mrs. Bernece Lane, who is a patient in Parkland Hospital. Mrs. Lane's home is in Childress.

S. S. Coleman Uses Cow-Calf Operation

S. S. Coleman has 1,000 acres in his ranch. He is primarily engaged in a cow-calf operation on 885 acres of rangeland and cotton and grain production on 112 acres. He formerly cropped 364 acres of cropland on which he grew cotton, small grains and grain sorghums.

Due to shortage of labor, and the fact that part of his land is marginal land for crop production, he has seeded 252 acres back to grass.

Coleman took advantage of the Conservation Reserve Program and the technical assistance available through the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District to help him make this conversion. He entered into the Conservation Reserve Program for five years and the SCS technicians furnished assistance through the district and helped him plan his land conversion program.

Some of the land was Class IV and VI, so Coleman decided to select permanent grasses for all of his CR land. He first seeded a dead litter cover in 1957 and then seeded blue grama on most of the land in 1958. Weeping lovegrass was seeded in another and johnson grass in another.

Coleman rented a grass drill from the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District and local technicians assisted in selection of grasses, setting of grass drill and management of the seeded area.

A portion of the blue grama did not come to a stand and this was then re-seeded to a mixture of little bluestem, sideoats grama, switchgrass, and sand bluestem. The deferment following seeding has helped it come to a stand. The Conservation Reserve contract expired at the end of 1961.

Coleman is now grazing it and never plans to put it back in crop production. He plans to seed 32 acres of Class IV land to permanent grass next year.

This will make a total of 284 acres converted from cropland. This shift will take about seven years to complete. Coleman states that his labor requirements will be less and he can now farm his 80 acres of cropland by himself. He also states that some of the marginal land was not making a profit under crop production and will now make a profit. It will also increase the size of his livestock enterprise and make it more efficient.

Quail-Norwood Split Pair

Quail and Samnorwood junior high teams split a doubleheader Monday night, Jan. 7, in the Quail gym.

Norwood girls outclassed the Quail group to win the match 61-6, Quail coach Richard Gilbreth reported.

Judy Campbell was Quail's only scorer. Susie Bentley was high for Norwood, with 18.

Quail boys won 29 to 21 in what was one of the junior high thrillers of the year.

Norwood started off with a 7 point lead before Quail ever scored. The young Quails kept hammering away and finally caught and passed the Eaglettes.

Coy Stephens scored 18 to become Quail's high pointer, and Zermino with 10 was high for Samnorwood.

The teams were evenly matched and their fouls for this game also were about even.

Archie Roberts of Beeville

Former County Man Carries Out Unique High School Plan

Can a school, already crowded, absorb 200 additional students without building one classroom and at little cost?

"No!" is the almost unanimous answer.

"Yes!" says Collingsworth-reared Archie Roberts, now superintendent of Beeville Public Schools.

In a plan recognized as unique in the nation, under Roberts' leadership Beeville schools did this, and at an overall saving that could amount to as much as $400,000.

To do this, the school day was lengthened. Classes start at 7:30 a.m. and run until 3:30 p.m. When the student is not in class, his time is his own responsibility, just as in college.

"It has been a tremendous success," Roberts declared. But back of it lies careful planning and timing, community approval and student maturity and responsibility.

Three years ago, Beeville schools faced an acute shortage of room. The longer day, time-free plan was considered and after careful study, was rejected in the belief the school was not ready for it. Ten new class rooms were added to the 5-year-old school. But the idea was not discarded.

Roberts gives glowing praises to his assistants, including a former Wellington man, Woodrow Ham, business manager.

The plan was then tried in the student council.

A year ago Beeville faced the prospect of adding another 10 rooms to the high school. The plan was brought out, presented to the students, faculty and school board.

Roberts and his assistants took it to the civic clubs and other organizations.

"We took the positive approach," Roberts said. "We didn't say, 'What do you want to do?' we said, 'Here it is. We don't know if it will work but we want to try it. We need your support.' "

School started in September 1962 under the new flexible plan.

"Every student must take a minimum of five subjects, four solids and an elective. He can take as many as seven," Roberts explained. "When he is not in class, his time is his own responsibility."

"We entered into it with the idea it would require tremendous reorientation, that the change would make for a hectic first year.

"But it was the easiest beginning of the year we ever had. The students were ready for it. If anything, they were a step ahead of the faculty."

Little is visible in the community of this student freedom.

"At first there was quite a lot of running around during their free time, but now there is very little leaving the campus," Roberts said.

There is a study hall, library and the more informal lounge, where students can study, and drink pop or eat candy.

There is one thing the community does understand— the financial impact.

"It is already a tremendous tax saving," Roberts explained.

"We figure it costs $1,000 per student to build new classrooms. There is $200,000 saved immediately. Then to finance the building, we would have had to vote bonds on a 20-year basis. To float bonds for that term, you will pay dollar for dollar in interest. That will bring the saving to $400,000.

"We did make some improvements and changes that cost around $30,000, but we figure we still saved $370,000."

Next year, 150 more students will come into the high school and the school day will be lengthened again to 4:30. There will be no new classrooms.

Beeville has experienced natural growth and it is also the site of a Naval air station. One student in seven comes from this installation.

Of the many technicalities that had to be considered, Roberts gave two as an example: The school must be large enough for multiple sections of each class. This is necessary. Students who ride school buses cannot attend the 7:30 classes, nor will they attend the 3:30-4:30 class periods.

Teachers spend no more time in the class room (each teacher has 5 classes) but administrative personnel must be on the campus for longer hours.

Very few students abuse their free-time privilege, according to the superintendent. "The most effective discipline is to campus a student, and we have had to campus only 11 from our high school student body of 970 during the first semester."

Beeville utilizes its buildings still further through its adult education work, which Roberts also directs.

"We have classes on both the high school and college level," he explained. "High school classes are non credit, but college classes are taught from Texas A&I or San Marcos."

Last week it was time to organize new classes. Forty-three men and women appeared to request a course in Russian. It will be taught through the University of Texas.

"Four nights a week you can't find parking space around the high school," he added.

"Adult education was the biggest public relations move we ever made. It brought people back to school who had not been in one for years. It completely changed their thinking about the schools," Roberts remarked.

Reared in the Houselog community, he is the son of Mrs. C. E. Roberts. He graduated from high school here in 1942, served in the Army in Europe in World War II and received his BS degree from West Texas State in 1949 and Master of Education in 1950.

Before going to Beeville six years ago, he was coach at Higgins two years; elementary principal at Panhandle one; assistant high school principal at Pampa three, and superintendent at Lefors three.

He is married to the former Idell Smith, daughter of Mrs. A. T. Smith. They have three daughters, Marilyn Sue, 14; Carolyn Canne, 10; and Katheryn Elaine, 7.

"Marilyn Sue is our guinea pig. She is a freshman in high school this year, so I hear the student side of our plan, too," says the Beeville superintendent.

College Test Dates Set at Clarendon

More than 500 colleges, including most of the colleges in this state, are asking that students submit scores on the American College Testing Program as a part of their applications for admission.

This test is to be given on Saturday, Feb. 23, and Saturday, April 20, and Saturday, June 22 at several centers in the state.

The nearest testing center for students of Wellington, Samnorwood, Dodson, Quail and Hedley high schools is Clarendon Junior College.

Registrations for the tests close about three weeks before each testing date. The fee for the test is $4.

Complete information on the registration procedure, as well as a complete list of all colleges asking for test results, are available in the principals' office. Seniors who are thinking about college are urged to call at their school principal's office or write direct to Alton B. Lee, co-ordinator, P.O. Box 6218, Baylor University, Waco, Texas, in order to get this information.

Rockets A and B Split Pair with Childress

Wellington Skyrockets, A and B teams, split a double header with Childress Friday night, January 11, in the Bobcats den.

The Childress A team won that contest 48 to 26, and the Rockets experienced considerable trouble hitting the basket. Thornton of Childress was game high pointer with 18, while Sanders was high for Wellington with 9.

Childress, still playing AA ball and due to step up to AAA is considered one of the better teams of the lower Panhandle and will be in competition for the 5AA championship.

The Skyrocket B team won its game 27 to 23, with Ronny Hurst as high pointer.

ROCKETTES LOSE—24 must

was the undoing of the Rockettes, for they scored only one field goal, and Paducah took the game 35 to 33.

Betty Courtney was high scorer for the game with 18 points and Jan Glenn made 9.

Tommy Latimer and Linda Gibbs tied for high for Paducah with 12 each.

Rocket-Dragon

Both the Rockets and the Dragons played hard throughout the game, but at no time was there more than a few points difference in the score.

Paducah led at the end of the first quarter 8 to 5, then the Rockets scored 15 points during the second, to end the half leading 20 to 18. Third quarter score was 30 to 29 for Paducah, then the Rockets pulled ahead again to make it 41 to 37.

Craig Bergvall was high scorer for Wellington with 18 points. Raymond Sanders made 10.

Allan Greer, with 13, was high pointer for Paducah.

Maps Tell Story of Earth's History

AUSTIN.—For the summer traveler, maps usually invoke images of roads, cities and vacation hideaways. But to the eyes of Dr. J. Hoover Macklin, geologist who joins the University of Texas faculty this fall, maps yield valuable secrets of the earth's history.

Dr. Mackin is a specialist in geomorphology—the study of the earth's physical features and their relationship to the geological structures beneath the earth's crust.

His investigations have supplied even more than estimable scholarly knowledge. They are particularly useful in hydroelectric and water conservation projects, and as a result Dr. Mackin has been a consultant to numerous agencies, ranging from the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation to the Iceland state electrical authority.

His research also has provided new evidence on the geology and origin of iron ore deposits in Utah and Nevada, origins of radioactive mineral ore deposits in Idaho and the geological sequence of the history of volcanoes in Washington and Oregon.

The opportunity to broaden his research with studies in West Texas and Northern Mexico was one of the primary reasons Dr. Mackin decided to come to the University. He has been on the University of Washington geology faculty since 1934.

Dr. Mackin is the first professor to hold the William Stamps Farish Chair in geology, established by Mrs. Libbie Rice Farish of Houston in honor of her late husband. He will teach advanced courses for both graduates and undergraduates on geological map interpretation and geomorphology.

Former County Woman Dies

Mrs. Sam H. Brown of Memphis died in Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo Saturday, Jan. 12. Mrs. Brown was a former resident of Wellington, moving to Hall county about 10 years ago.

Funeral services were conducted at the First Baptist Church in Memphis Monday, Jan. 14. Burial was in the Fairview Cemetery there.

Mrs. Brown was born June 26, 1893, near Jacksboro. She was a member of First Baptist Church. She was Ida Medra Biffle before her marriage, Feb. 2, 1912 to Sam H. Brown in Wellington.

Survivors include her husband; two daughters: Mrs. Hill Wells and Mrs. Buster Morrison, both of Memphis; seven grandchildren; two sisters: Mrs. Annie Robinson of Sun Valley, Calif., and Mrs. Katie Isbell of Wellington; and a brother, W. M. Biffle of Hedley.

Supreme Court Sets Phone Rates

A phone rate dispute, between the City of Weslaco and General Telephone Company of the Southwest, ended in Texas Supreme Court. Court upheld the city's right to set local rates and the phone company's right to set rates for long distance calls within Texas.

Controversy began three years ago when General Telephone sought an injunction to keep Weslaco's city commission from setting local rates which the firm considered too low; and to keep the city from establishing intrastate call rates on the same basis as that set by the Federal Communications Commission.

It often costs more to call someone in a city within the state than it does to call the same distance, or even farther, to someone in another state.

Supreme Court upheld a decision made by the 4th Court of Civil Appeals.

Securities Board Has Big Year

AUSTIN.— State Securities Board says Texas made significant gains as a source of public investment funds in 1962.

In its annual report to Gov. Daniel, the board said the sharp decline in the stock market was no deterrent to public investment in funds which it regulates.

During the year the board granted 695 permits for the sale of Texas securities valued at $357,340,707.

On the policing side of the board's activities, it reported that three applications for permits to sell to the public securities valued at a total of $745,000 were denied.

Report also noted that 22 applications representing $22,417,826 were withdrawn.

More than $445,000 in fees were collected during the year.

70 MPH SPEED LIMIT BEFORE LEGISLATURE

AUSTIN.—Rep. Forrest Harding of San Angelo will introduce a bill to increase the maximum speed limit on Texas highways to 70 miles per hour.

More Soil Being Tested

COLLEGE STATION.— Soil testing is being recognized by farmers, ranchmen and gardeners as the accurate way to determine the fertility needs of their land, according to a report by William F. Bennett, extension soil chemist, Texas Agricultural Experiment Service.

During the report year of September 1961 to September 1962, a record total of 17,768 soil tests were made by the three A&M College laboratories, Bennett says. This exceeds the previous record of 1959-60 by almost 2,000 tests, and is much higher than the 1960-61 number of 13,987.

The Baylor county laboratory during the year just completed, tested 1,756 samples compared with less than 1000 in 1959-60, says Bennett.

The High Plains laboratory, now in its second year of operation, handled more than 4000 samples as compared with 3772 last year, he adds. The Texas A&M College laboratory tested 11,990 samples this year, some 2000 more than the 1960-61 total.

The counties submitting the largest number of samples were Hunt 693; Fannin 650; Baylor 577. Thirteen other counties submitted more than 200 samples, while 30 sent in over 100, Bennett says. Some of the out-of-state samples sent for analysis came from Mexico 231; New Mexico 21; and Nevada 15.

These figures show that people are realizing more each year the importance of this service performed by the three laboratories in Texas, says Bennett.

WILL ASK FOR "BIG COLLEGE" VOTE

AUSTIN. — Senator W. T. Moore of Bryan says he will introduce legislation requiring a vote of the people before a four year state-supported college can be created.

Legislation Due on Insurance

AUSTIN. — Senator A. R. Schwartz hopes to find a solution to a problem made apparent by Hurricane Carla. After the record force struck Texas coast, many homeowners had difficulty collecting for water damage because they had fled the scene and didn't know how the damage occurred.

Schwartz's bill would require the State Board of Insurance to make insurance firms, instead of the homeowner, carry the burden of proof.

Another insurance bill is being drafted by Rep. Don Gladden of Fort Worth who will fight for legislation to protect persons injured in automobile accidents by uninsured motorists.

His bill calls for a special state fund to pay for personal injury costs incurred in accidents with uninsured drivers. Any car owner who couldn't prove ability to pay liability when he registered his car, would have to pay $20 into the fund.

Control Asked on Child Welfare

AUSTIN.—A House committee seeking economy in state government has recommended stricter regulation over state aid for illegitimate dependent children.

The Committee on Saving Taxes adopted a sub-committee report bearing this recommendation, after argument over whether such aid encourages illegitimacy.

HOT CHECK BILL IS PROPOSED

AUSTIN. — A bill which would help small-town merchants with the problem of bad checks has been prepared by Sen. Bruce Reagan, who wants an act authorizing justice of the peace courts to try bad check cases up to $25.

Under the present hot check law, a merchant must travel to a county seat to file charges in a county court for a $10 hat check. If Reagan's bill becomes law, the merchant could file a complaint in his local justice court.

Rep. George Richardson of Fort Worth is preparing a bill which would allow justices of the peace to try cases involving hot checks of less than $50. He feels that the peace court justices are closer to the people of their areas and can handle complaints quicker than district attorneys.

Miss Sharon Williams of Plainview visited in the home of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Richardson on Sunday.

Tractor Tune-ups Increase Power And Efficiency

COLLEGE STATION.—Tuning up your gasoline or liquified petroleum gas tractor can increase its power by 11 per cent, and fuel efficiency as much as 14 per cent, says Henry O'Neal, extension agricultural engineer, Texas A&M College. And this increased power and economy can mean savings in time as well, he contiiues.

LI' gas and gasoline engines usually require a tune-up every 250 hours of operation and if these adjustments are not made when needed the engine cannot deliver the power it was designed to give and fuel will be wasted. Improper timing and carburetor adjustment can seriously harm an engine because of over heating and oil dilution from unburned fuel O'Neal says.

Some of these simple tune-up procedures can be performed by the farmer with only a little extra equipment and the hand tools he has available in his farm shop. This equipment, a flat feeler gauge, a round spark plug gap gauge, ignition file, and a timing light cost a total of about $8, the engineer says.

According to O'Neal, the Operator's Manual which outlines the procedures and furnishes the proper specifications for the engine, is the best guide to use when performing the engine tune-up.

Texas House Has Rules Fight

AUSTIN—Election of Speaker of the House Byron Tunnell, fourth-term representative from Tyler, took place at the opening of the 58th Legislature with only token opposition — nine votes cast for Rep. John Alaniz of San Antonio.

But the rules fight that followed Tunnell's ascension to the speaker's stand was a different story.

A group led by Rep. Bob Eckhardt of Houston sought to adopt the permanent rules of the 57th Legislature as the temporary rules of the 58th—a custom that has been followed by previous sessions.

The last session operated under temporary rules until its waning days. It then adopted its amended rules as its own permanent rules. Thus if the current session had followed suit, it would have necessarily adopted the changed rules, under which no Legislature has operated, as its own.

It decided not to do so, by a vote of 108 to 39.

If Wide-Track is as hot as Pontiac says, why don't they put it in their Tempest?

They just did.

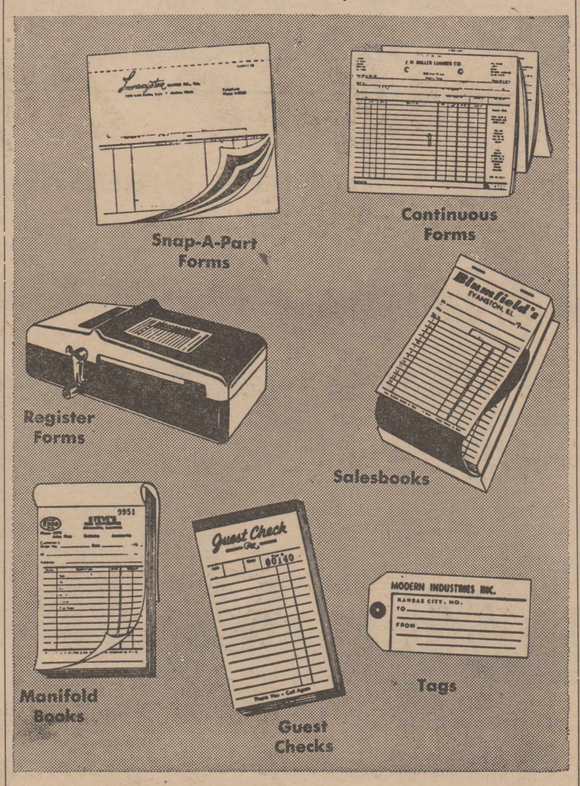

We can take a hint. When people are as happy with something as Pontiac owners are with Wide-Track, we're willing—nay, eager—to let everybody else in on it. That's why Tempest has a Wide-Track of its own this year. It's why you get to choose between a lively 4 and a 326-cu. in. V-8*, too. We aim to please—and if we do say so, we're pretty accurate. *Optional at extra cost.

Now there are two kinds of Wide-Track cars . . . Pontiac and Tempest
