Afghan Moslems Being Executed

By Barry Shlachter
Associated Press Writer

NEW DELHI, India (AP) A newly-organized militia led by Afghanistan's deputy prime minister arrested and executed members of the minority Shiite Moslem sect following house-to-house searches in their neighborhoods in Kabul, Afghan and foreign sources said today.

The number of Shiites killed by Deputy Prime Minister Assadullah Sarwari's Revolutionary Guard was not known. But reports received in New Delhi from the Afghan capital cited many individual cases of one or two family members shot to death outside their houses.

One well-placed informant quoted a senior police official as saying nearly 2,000 persons have been jailed at Pul-i-Charkhi prison, east of Kabul, since last week's violent protests against the Soviet military intervention in Afghanistan and the Marxist regime of President Babrak Karmal.

The Shiites, mainly members of the Hazara and Iranian-descended Qili bash tribers, were suspected of instigating the anti-communist street demonstrations, in which at least 300 persons were reported killed and an estimated 1,000 others injured.

Kabul was tense this morning following a night of sporadic machinegun fire, travelers arriving at Delhi Airport said. Afghan and Soviet troops were placed on alert because of a possible repetition of disturbances which followed Friday prayers at the capital's mosques last week.

The Shiites may also have been singled out because of potential links with Iranian leaders Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, a Shiite, who has voiced support for the Moslem rebels in Afghanistan, observers said.

The rebels Thursday promised new anti-Soviet demonstrations today, but some Western diplomats were skeptical the guerrillas could mount another citywide offensive so soon after last week's street battles.

Friday update

Flu Deaths Decline

ATLANTA (AP) Deaths caused by influenza and pneumonia declined in the United States last week but remained at epidemic proportions for the fifth consecutive week, the national Center for Disease Control reported today.

Widespread Influenza B was reported in nine states, down from the peak of 16 states reported last week.

The CDC said 120 more flu and pneumonia deaths were reported, in addition to the 515 anticipated, in 117 cities the week ending Feb. 23. The week before, 200 more such deaths were reported than the 500 expected during that period. The figures were reported in the CDC's Morbidity and Mortality Weekly Report.

Index Suggests Recession

WASHINGTON (AP) A government index designed to forecast economic activity fell in January for the fourth consecutive month, suggesting that a recession could be in the offing.

January's drop of 0.7 percent in the Index of Leading Indicators followed declines of 0.2 percent in December, 1.9 percent in November and 1.1 percent in October, the Commerce Department reported today.

The December reading initially had been reported as unchanged, but the figure was revised downward to reflect a fall-off in liquid assets, items that can quickly be converted to cash.

Guerrillas Free 5 More

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) The guerrillas holding the Dominican Republic's embassy freed five more women hostages this morning but continued to hold at least 40 other captives, 18 of them ambassadors, including Diego C. Asencio of the United States.

Reporters watched while four automobiles, one of them riddled with bullet holes, drove the women to safety. One of those released was Costa Rican Ambassador Elena Chassoul Monge.

Prime Rate Rises Again

NEW YORK (AP) Interest rates moved another notch higher today as Citibank raised its prime lending rate on business loans to a record 16¾ percent. Several other banks promptly matched the increase.

Citibank, the nation's second-largest bank, raised its rate from 16¼ percent, a rate it set just a week ago. Many other major banks had already moved to 16½ percent.

The rapid increases reflect the Federal Reserve's attempts to stifle inflation by making it more costly for banks to extend credit. The Fed has raised its discount rate, the rate it charges on loans to member banks, from 12 percent to a record 13 percent.

James Roberts of the Andrews County News said almost a million feet of drilling went on in that county last year in the search for oil.

There were 170 drilling projects and 145 of them resulted in new oil wells, seven made gas wells and 18 were dry holes. That is a remarkable percentage, but possibly of even more significance is the fact that it happened in a county that has been producing oil for 50 years and under guidelines and policies from the Department of Energy who claim that it's a waste of time to look for additional sources of crude and gas domestically.

"A mother, after a busy day, bathing her baby."

"A doctor who has finished a difficult and dangerous operation and saved a human life."

No millionaires among these, one notices. No kings, queens, or tycoons.

Q--How long is a train allowed to block a street or road crossing?

A--Texas Motor Vehicle Laws state that a railroad official may be subject to a fine of $5 to $100 if a train is allowed to block traffic more than five minutes. Cities are allowed to enact ordinances permitting more time for passenger trains to take on and discharge passengers, but this does not apply here, now that there are no passenger trains.

No Special Session Of Legislature

AUSTIN (AP)-Gov. Bill Clements said today there definitely will not be a special legislative session in August because of Speaker Bill Clayton's involvement in an FBI sting investigation.

The governor has said previously he was considering doing away with plans for the session, where he planned to submit legislation for initiative and referendum, wire-tapping in drug control and tax relief.

"I will not call a special session," he told a news conference.

"The counsel and advice I have received is that it would be ill-advised to have such a session. I am disappointed but I also agree that it is correct because of the special circumstances of Speaker Clayton's problems."

Clayton is scheduled to appear before a Houston federal grand jury the latter part of March concerning his acknowledgement that he accepted $5,000 from two men after talking with them about an insurance contract covering state employees.

Clements said he would work "as hard as I know how" to get legislation on initiative and referendum and on wiretapping in drug control passed during the 1981 regular legislative session.

He said he also expected up to $1 billion to be available for return to voters in the form of tax relief.

He has said previously he expected $700 to $800 million available for tax relief by the planned August session.

"Now that the comptroller has raised his estimates of state revenue from the state sales tax, I think I'll go back to my $1 billion figure for tax relief," he said.

Clements said comptroller's reports show sales tax revenues through January of this year total $828.8 million, an increase of $16.5 million over a year ago.

Dollar Soaring

LONDON (AP)-Despite news of a mammoth United States trade deficit, the dollar soared in lively European trading today, hitting its highest level against the West German mark in over three months.

"The whole market ran crazy," said a Frankfurt foreign exchange dealer amid hectic dollar trading.

By mid-afternoon, the dollar had also gained 1.5 cents against the powerful Swiss franc and one cent against the British pound. It was up everywhere.

Dealers explained the rush by saying Thursday's announcement of a January trade deficit of $4.76 billion - highest in the last two years - was offset by "euphoria" over the high level of U.S. interest rates.

School Board Picks New Absentee Voting Clerk

In a special meeting, the Snyder school trustees last night appointed a new absentee ballot clerk and excused superintendent, Bill Hood, from the March board meeting.

Hood will be attending a meeting of the Texas Association of School Boards (TSTA) on March 11, the date of the next meeting. Hood said that the program, "School Planning: Facing the 1980's," appeared to have sections that would benefit the Snyder district. He is also a member of the TASA executive committee and there is a meeting of that group on Wednesday, March 12.

Also last night the board appointed Mrs. Dora White to serve as clerk for the school board absentee balloting. In the January meeting, the board appointed Ray Peveler, absentee clerk and absentee balloting was to be in the school tax office during the March 17-April 1 absentee voting period.

However, the 1979 tax work progressed faster than Peveler projected and it seemed there

Arrival Of Panel Denied

By The Associated Press

A leading Iranian official was quoted as saying the U.N. commission arrived at the U.S. Embassy in Tehran to meet the American hostages, who began their 118th day in captivity today, but one of the militants occupying the mission said the panel has "never been here" and there were no plans for a visit.

Doctor Assistant Roles Discussed

The board of managers of D.M. Cogdell Memorial Hospital discussed last night the advisability of writing into hospital by-laws the specific duties, functions, and role obligations for physician's assistances.

Physicians' ssistances are basically doctors' helpers. Medically, they rank between a doctor and nurse. Their purpose is to assit the physician in his care of patients. Currently, two physicians' assistants are privately employed by local doctors. They have been here nearly two years.

The consensus of board members last night was that writiten rules concerning role obligations for physicians' assistants should be brought into being to clear up any "gray areas" of ambiguity concerning their role in health care.

In other discussions last night, board members authorized hospital administer Cy Miller to seek bids on a roofing project.

The only vote taken last night was to approve the administrator's financial report which shows the hospital's net worth and total liabilities to be $3,010,307 as of Jan. 31, 1980.

Board member Leon Autry was officially sworn in to his new term of office during the meeting. Autry was absent for the swearing-in ceremony last month.

Besides Autry, board members attending the meeting were A.Z. Glover, Rex Robinson, Sam Cross, Roy Kidd, and John Jarrell. Also attending were Miller and County Judge Preston Wilson.

Leap Year Babies Celebrating Today

Today, Feb. 29, is the day of the leap and an occasion for celebration by persons who are denied birthday anniversaries on an annual basis.

Most school pupils used to learn the little jingle about the length of the months, noting that February has only 28 days, "until Leap Year brings it 29."

Actually, the extra day in February is inserted in the calendar used today to compensate for time unaccounted for in the standard, 365-day year.

Our "modern" calendar was adopted in 1582 by Pope Gregory XIII. He made up for the time dangling at the end of the Julian Calendar year by inserting an extra day in years divisible by 400.

So, every four years since then February has had 29 days on the Gregorian Calendar.

England did not adopt the Gregorian Calendar until 1752 and at that time it also became the official calendar in the American Colonies, which were still subject to Mother England.

Legends have been associated with Leap Year for a long time, including the one about girls taking the initiative in proposing marriage, and this one, along with others have led to more recent events such as the Sadie Hawkins Day created by Al Capp, the cartoonist.

challenge inorder

It is general knowledge that a strong effort will be made and is, in fact, now well planned, to bring about the passage of legislation in Texas similar to the farm labor law in California.

Such a law would be in conflict with the right-to-work principle so inherently a part of the Texas way of life.

There does seem, however, a weakening toward such a law on the part of some lawmakers in the face of the growing militancy being shown by various Texas and non-Texas demonstrators.

All Texas business and industry should be alert to the actions of the lawmakers in that direction.

Of considerable interest to Texans, is a lawsuit recently filed in the California Superior Court for Imperial County, to challenge the constitutfonality of the State's farm labor law, claiming that it allows Cesar Chavez' United Farm Workers union to force four California farm workers into union membership in violation of their constitutional rights.

The lawsuit seeks to strike down provisions of the Agricultural Labor Relations act (ALRA) that legalize compulsory union membership for California's farm workers.

The plaintiff farm workers charged that section 1153 (c) of the ALRA permits unions to sign contract with growers requiring agricultural workers to be union members "in good standing" in order to work. The plaintiffs alleged that Chavez and other union officials are left free to determine which workers are "in good standing" with the union.

The suit contends that this statutory section subjects farm workers to arbitrary union control and discipline in violation of their constitutional rights to free speech and association under the United States and California constitutions.

Defendants in the suit are Chavez' UFW union and Sun Harvest Inc., the workers employer.

A separate but related charge filed with the California Agricultural Labor Relations Board states that two of the plaintiffs in the above case claim the UFW union and Sun Harvest unlawfully discharged them for crossing a union picket line last spring. The charge was filed in the ALRB's office in El Centro, Calif.

The two charge unfair labor practice and argue that the discharge was unlawful on two grounds. First, the Chavez organization and Sun Harvest cannot enforce compulsory union membership during a period when there was no contract between the employer and the UFW, which was the case, the plaintiffs' attorneys state. And second the charge also contends that the union's decision to expel them from the union and to demand their discharge lacked due process.

Commenting on the case, Thomas J. Harris, chairman of the National Right to Work Legal Defense Foundation, said: "Only California Farm farm workers, of all the employees in this country can be compelled under law to remain union members in order to work. And this subjects them to the absolute control of Chavez and his UFW union bosses, to whom they must kowtow to keep their union membership and thus their jobs."

One hopes, for freedom's sake, the lawsuit will overturn the loathsome law. Such a victory could bring freedom to California's farm workers. And, importantly here in Texas where such a law is being proposed, proponents, seeing the trend, may drop it like a hot rock. And that's the way it should be. Texas can very well do without that kind of legislation. It's right to work laws are simple and direct and should be left unchanged.

I don't expect anyone to get too choked up about this, but we are in the middle of National Letter Writing Week.

"I don't know about you, but I'm going to observe it by sitting right down and calling my friends whom I haven't written in three years.

My reluctance to write letters is based on several reasons: (a) I never have anything to report that is worth 15 cents; (b) when I read them over, I sound like a shut-in and get very depressed; (c) I never remember to mail them and find myself going through them months later, changing "The baby is walking" to "The baby is married" or "I am on a diet and must lose 15 pounds" to "I am on a diet and must lose 15 pounds over each knee."

I am intrigued by letter writers ... what prompts them to write, how much they write, and their system for replying.

My mother runs her correspondence like a railroad. Upon receipt of a letter, she will sit right down that evening and fire one back (couldn't you scream?) being careful to note on what day it was sent.

You will hear not one word from her until you write back. You never have to worry about your letters crossing one another en route.

Another friend of mine only writes when something happens. I haven't heard from her in three years and can only assume she's serving time somewhere.

There's another kind of correspondent whom I only hear from when they are in another country. Obviously, I'm on the B list and receive communications only when they're doing something they're proud of. Most are merely acquaintances and I am astounded when they share intimate details of their irregularities.

The intriguing thing about the postal system is its optimism toward its future. They not only assume they'll have one, but they're already figuring out how it will work. The letter of the future will be sent electronically via satellite.

They are studying a system that will transmit a message to a post office where it is transformed into digital data at the rate of 10 pages per second, then beamed to a domestic satellite for instant transmission to a receiving post office. There it would be reconverted into printed form, automatically folded, and inserted into an addressed envelope at the speed of four to six letters per second.

I'm not sure, but I think they've just invented the telegram.

You can call television today a lot of things but modest isn't one of them. I wonder if the first guy to label his TV the boob tube way back when had any idea how phophetic his pronouncement was.

As a single male of the species I must be the last to complain but enough is enough! That special, T's and A's must have made even Lenny Bruce blush in his grave and he coined the phrase.

Due to a constant saturation diet I think I'm finally becoming immune to the Dolly Parton Syndrome. It's like Archie Bunker observed when he found out his competition was going topless. "The customers will be back. Once you seen two you seen 'em all."

After the jiggle, it gets worse. What I find increasingly hard to swallow is the super human abilities these TV teasers are endowed with.

Look at "Charlies' Angels," which by virtue of simple addition is the most immodest show on television. In order to throw their lives on the line for a jerk they have never even seen, the girls are always breaking into some field overnight it takes others years to achieve success in. Kelly is a race car driver in one episode. In another, an angel joins the tennis circuit as a contender. In still another show, two angels try out and are chosen as cheerleaders for a top ranked professional football team. Will it never end?

I wonder if the public would buy it if Bosley said, "Okay, Angels, this week we've been retained by the State Department to clear up things in the middle east so the Summer Olympics can go on as scheduled.

"Kelly, you've been assigned to go along with the president when he meets with the soviet leaders in Moscow. Your job, of course, will be to convince the Kremlin to pull its troops out of Afghanistan, but you will be posing as the president's translator. Didn't you take some Russian in high school?"

"No I didn't Bosley."

"Well that's okay, your plane doesn't leave until 8 in the morning so you can study these tapes tonight."

"Chris, you are pretty good with old men. You will entertain the real Khomeini while I don my ayatollah costume and order the militants to free the hostages.

"Tiffany, to insure America's success in the Summer Olympics, Charlie has entered you in the women's shot put. Start taking these hormone shots right away."

Don't scoff. I've seen TV plots more idiotic than that. And if I know television, they are going to get worse before they get better. We can rely on that.

And speaking of "Rely," did you ever see a commercial more idiotic and immodest?

ForemanSeeks To Preach In The Streets

HOUSTON (AP)-George Foreman, the former world heavyweight boxing champion, is fighting "to make Houston a safe town."

Now the preacher at the First Church of Lord Jesus Christ, Foreman, clad in denim work coveralls, asked Wednesday that the City Council permit him to preach on Houston streets.

"The best way to save someone is to go down on the streets, where we can do some good," he said.

Foreman, 31, said some members of his church have been harassed by police while attempting to talk to people on the street.

Foreman told the council he believes he is succeeding in spreading his doctrine of love, adding that: "Just a few can become world champions but anyone can be saved." He said he is happier now than when he had a million dollars.

The council referred Foreman's request to Mayor Jim McConn and the Police Department.

The year is still young, but already it is proving a big one for political comebacks.

So far we have seen two of major proportions – Indira Gandhi in India and now Pierre Trudeau in Canada.

And disparate as these two nations are in almost every respect save their adherence to a common British-style parliamentary process, there are interesting similarities in the two situations.

Both Mrs. Gandhi in 1977 and Trudeau last year were removed from power in explosive public expressions of no confidence. They were not defeated by opponents so much as they defeated themselves.

Mrs. Gandhi, thanks to the excesses of her near-dictatorial emergency rule, succeeded in uniting a scattered political opposition having nothing in common other than opposition to her. That was, however, enough for the Indian electorate.

For the Canadian electorate in 1979, 11 years of the brilliant but difficult Trudeau were enough. Canadians preferred a virtually unknown young conservative, Joe Clark, from the prairie west to the Anglo-French intellectual from Montreal.

Both Mrs. Gandhi and Trudeau have now regained power in much the same fashion – through votes of no confidence in their successors. And in both cases, the victories appear considerably more impressive than they actually are.

Mrs. Gandhi, with some 40 percent of the popular vote, was able to win two-thirds of the Indian parliament's seats against the splintered opposition factions.

Trudeau, with 50 percent of the Canadian vote, has secured a more modest but still solid parliamentary majority. The decisive votes came, as they did last year, from Ontario, which alone returns one-third of the members to Ottawa. Ontarians, who rejected Trudeau last time, rejected Clark this time.

And in the process, they left a divided Canada even more so. Energy-consuming Quebec and Ontario are now lined up against the energy-producing west in a conflict of regional interests that may prove every bit as nationally divisive as has the traditional Anglo-French cultural split.

The situation in India is not so clear-cut. Mrs. Gandhi's strengh is more widespread throughout the country – but so is her weakness. Whether she has learned her lesson is still unclear. She has given contradictory indications during these first few weeks, both of governing with a more moderate hand and of returning to her old autocratic ways. The latter most recently in the wholesale sacking of state governments controlled by the opposition.

Trudeau has unquestionably learned at least a lesson, and acted upon it. Aware that his own personality has become a primary national political issue, he kept an exceedingly low campaign profile. And he is promising that he will carry through on his pre-election intention to retire at some point before the end of this parliament's five-year life, turning over power to an as yet undesignated successor.

Which adds another dimension to the Canadian situation. In rejecting the little-known Clark, the voters have now opted at some point not too far down the road for a complete unknown.

Call it grab-bag politics, but it's still politics. As both India and Canada have demonstrated, selection by rejection is one way to settle an election. Whether, however, it is a constructive way to choose the leadersip of countries with major problems to resolve is a question the new Indian and Canadian governments now have a chance to answer.

And should they succeed in doing so, it could prove a real boost for the comeback business.

What was that? Did someone back there mutter something about Richard Nixon?

Your Birthday

March 1, 1980

New opportunities will open up for you this coming year if you work on developing better understandings with present allies. Be prepared to make some major adjustments that will ultimately benefit all.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Your interests and those of someone else are likely to be in conflict today. However, things can easily be rectified with a little give-and-take. Romance, travel, luck, resources, possible pitfalls and career for the coming months are all discussed in your Astro-Graph Letter, which begins with your birthday. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Rather than suppress your irritation with the way another is handling a situation for you, find a diplomatic way to air your grievances openly.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) The poor taste displayed by an arrogant individual doesn't have to spoil a social situation for you today. Either ignore this person or walk away.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Take a second look at your own behavior if you feel you are being unjustly harassed today. Be sure you weren't the instigator before you erupt.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Jumping to conclusions today might be the reason you're having such a hard time seeing another person's point of view. Think before you speak.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Hidden factors may distort the true value of something you are interested in purchasing. Investigate thoroughly what you'd be getting for your money.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Support promised you by another may be withdrawn today. The best way to avoid disappointment is to depend solely on yourself.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) A thorn in your side today could come from an associate who grandstands while leaving the real work up to you. Select your coworkers wisely.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) There's someone who could throw a monkey wrench into your social plans today. Don't exclude this person from your group, just let him know the majority rules.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) By failing to give proper credit where it's due, hard feelings are likely to result today. It takes only a minute to pat the other party's back.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) It's fine to make future plans, but not so far ahead that you won't be able to see a stumbling block that could impede your progress. Move cautiously.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Excercise prudence in the management of material or financial situations today. If you make a mistake it would also affect others involved.

The unlucky expert was holding good cards and enjoying every moment. He expressed satisfaction when he saw the dummy and remarked, "Too bad February 29 only comes around once every four years. It has to be my lucky day. We have a play for seven."

Five seconds later, our friend was his usual complaining self. He had led a club to dummy's ace at trick two and at this point all he could count were 11 tricks.

"I guess February 29 is just like any other day to me. I played safe against five clubs in the East hand. I can always handle a 4-1 break. There was no perfect safety play and my bad luck held."

We don't want you readers weeping for our unlucky friend. There is a perfect safety play with this card combination.

It is to win the first trick in dummy and to lead the deuce of clubs and put in the 10 unless East plays the queen. Against the actual holding, the 10 forces the queen. Then, since East has shown out, South can finesse against the nine and score his four club tricks with the ace, eight, king and jack.

Note that you only score four club tricks, but that is all you need when at the small slam.

Spring FashionsTo Be ShortAnd Sweet

By Ellie Grossman

NEW YORK (NEA) - The '80s' first spring will be short and sweet, by and large.

Remember knees and thighs? With hems rising, they'll be blinking at the sun once more from under skirts that are either full, pleated, double-layered, bell or fan-shaped — or hardly shaped enough to cover what needs to be covered.

And on top, shoulders and adjacent areas are taking the air in halter jackets, strapless sweaters and little nothings of that nature.

For those who quail at the prospect of an abrupt public there's lots to remain covered up in. You can do it sweetly, for instance, in every manner of Victorian frock — collared or not, long or short-sleeved, waisted or chemise, all tucked or bowed and ruffled, occasionally festooned with jewels and appliques. In unblushing white, naturally.

Or you can exude sophistication inside suits and dresses of the '40s, very de rigueur in asymmetrical necklines and closings, in every conceivable combination of black and white — as solids or prints — and all manner of brights and navy.

You can also take your ease in baggy pants and sweatshirt tops and tees, or jump up and be active in, say, a bermuda-length jumpsuit.

All of which implies that spring will be a little brief this year.

Husband, Wife Team Assignment

HUNTINGTON, N.Y. (AP)—A husband-wife team has been assigned to the Huntington Recruiting Station of the U.S. Army Long Island District Recruiting Command.

Serving as recruiter aides are Spec. 4 Diana Kirkpatrick and her husband, Pfc. Harold Kirkpatrick. They met at the Army Hospital in Fort Reilly, Kan., where they were both stationed, and were married in July 1979.

Colonial Daughters Meet At Women's Club

Members of George Cogdell Chapter of Daughters of American Colonists met recently at Martha Ann Woman's Club in Snyder with Mrs. Ophelia Blackard as hostess. In the absence of the chapter regent, Mrs. Kenneth Whisenant, Mrs. Blackard presided for the meeting. Pledges to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Texas Flag were led by the chairman, Mrs. Douglass Hill. The opening prayer was voiced by the chapter chaplain, Mrs. Henry F. Clark.

SPEAKER-Mrs. Henry F. Clark was speaker for the program on "The Music of George Washington's Time," at the meeting of George Cogdell Chapter of Daughters of American Colonists at Martha Ann Woman's Club.

A program, "The Music of George Washington's Time," was presented by Mrs. Clark. The program was presented in narrative form giving the history of selected songs interspersed with recorded music. It was noted that typical early American music was religious. The example given was the son, "Let Us Break Bread Together," with music by Frank Waring Orchestra, and vocal by Frank Sinatra and Bing Crosby.

William Billing's "Chester," orginally written as a hymn-tune, was later a war song with different words. Other songs explained were "concert in D-Vivace" by Hayden and Handel's Messiah". The "Hallelujah" Chorus was heard with music by the Philadelphia Orchestra and the Mormon Tabernacle Choir.

An account was given of the song "Yankee Doodle" as an English composition and how it became an American song. "Hail Columbia" was noted as the most important of the patriotic music of 1798-1799.

Refreshments were served to members Mmes. Blackard, Clark, Gene L. Dulaney, Hill, Elizabeth Connell, Vera Morrow, Florine Young, Connie Tutt, and Misses Josie Baird and Delila Baird.

Britain repealed a prohibition against motor cars on public highways in 1896.

HERMLEIGH NEWS

BY ADALA DRENNEN

Mr. and Mrs. Anson Martin, of the Camp Springs community and Mr. and Mrs. Willie Martin of Rotan ate supper at the Spanish Inn last Thursday.

Thursday of last week, the Hermleigh Association met for their monthly 7 o'clock supper and business meeting at the Hermleigh community center. Approximately 30 attended. Mrs. Jerva Farr reported on the maps that are being made and should be finished within the month.

Mrs. Carol Haynes was appointed chairperson of the contest scrapbook committee.

The street sign work day was held at Hopper's Garage last Saturday. Lunch was served to those working.

A long range program was voted to continue improvement on the water system. A project was voted on to continue to try and get a signal light at the railroad crossing near the school.

The committee is investigating the possibility of securing an emergency alert system for Hermleigh.

Adala Drennan described a quilt her mother, Rachel Lassiter, is giving the Hermleigh Association for a fund raising project. David Baremore, son of the Don Baremores of Snyder drew a 4 ft. map from his flight map of the outline of Texas for a pattern to center the quilt. His mother, Mrs. Don (Elree) Baremore, Mrs. Rella Young, Mrs. Anson (Dorothy) Martin, and Adala Drennan designed patterns of footballs with each member of the football team, drill team and their sponsors names in each football. The handwriting was done by Mrs. Baremore. The Cardinal was painted by Mrs. Dorothy Martin and is placed in the area of where Hermleigh would be on the map. The members of the Needlecraft Club are doing the quilting. They are the above mentioned persons, and Mrs. Josie Maule, Mrs. Roxie Soules, Mrs. Oleta Jackson, Mrs. Mary Neal Mayo, Mrs. Vera Farr, and Mrs. Thaba McMillan. The project is truly a labor of love.

Mrs. Fuqua reminded the group of the spring bake sale, bazaar, and items of the garage sale to be held Saturday beginning at 9 a.m.

Billy Haynes showed a true film, "A Day Of The Killer Tornado," which was from Ohio through Alabama.

The quilt is to be displayed at the school until the drawing is held at the next Hermleigh Association meeting March 20. A program has been planned and all interested persons are urged to attend.

March 15 will be clean-up day and it is reported that there will be a front-end loader and a dump truck available. Those needing assistance in moving items are asked to call Billy Haynes, at 863-2472. It has been suggested that everyone place their rubbish near the street where it can be easily seen.

Public School Week is March 3-7. The school invites all parents and interested persons to visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Anson Martin visited their new grandson, Little Tanner, son of their daughter, Mrs. Linda Thurman of Clyde, last Sunday.

Mrs. Ada Lomax of Abilene visited her son, Mr. and Mrs. H.M. Lomax last week. Their dinner guests on Sunday were Mrs. Wanda Ray, her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lomax of Ira, and Mr. and Mrs. Jean Lomax and little Kyle.

Mrs. Doyle Wemken honored Doyle, Don and Lloyd Wemken with a surprise birthday dinner Feb. 24 in the Wemken home. All three had a birthday Feb. 20. Doyle and Don are twins. Those attending were Don and Katherine Wemken of Odessa, Lloyd and Cleo Wemken of Morton and granddaughters Jennifer and Cynthia Brown of Lubbock, Doyle and Dean Wemken of Hermleigh, Jimmy Wemken of Snyder and Jerry and Linda Wemken, Clay and Amy, also of Snyder.

Jimmy Wemken, owner of Snyder Nursery and his mother, Mrs. Doyle Wemken made a trip to West Monroe and Forest Hills La., getting a load of shrubs and plants for the nursery. They reported it was very pretty there, especially Forest Hills, and nurseries are numerous in that area.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Osterman of Hamburg, Germany, were the guests of their cousins, Mrs. Elsie Stahl, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stirl over the weekend. Mrs. Stahl and the Stirls visited the Ostermans and other relatives in Germany last September.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis (Frances) Brackeen, their son and a friend visited their mother, Mrs. Eva Mae Brackeen, Thursday afternoon. They have a new grandson, born Feb. 26. He is the son of the Richard Earl Brackeens of Lubbock, and has been named Richard Earl Brackeen Jr.

Belgium and Luxembourg formed an economic union in 1921.

OBITUARIES

J.W. Bennett

Joe Willis Bennett died about 7:30 this morning at his 2908 25th St. home. He was 61.

Justice of the Peace Dan Callaway attributed the death to natural causes.

Mr. Bennett was born July 24, 1918 in Gail. He had lived in Snyder about a year. He moved here from Gail. He was a disabled veteran of World War II. He married Doris Melba Pearce on Nov. 25, 1942 at Lamesa. She survives.

Also surviving are one son, Kenneth P. Bennett of Waco; three sisters, Mrs. Blanche Hamilton of Lamesa, Mrs. Edith Clark of Big Spring, Mrs. Maria Elliott of Hobbs, N.M., one brother, Hilton Bennett of Fort Worth.

Services are pending at Bell Seale Funeral Home.

'Living Will' Asks for Death

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1980 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I don't get the newspaper regularly, but I heard you had something in your column about THE LIVING WILL. The way it was explained to me, that is exactly what I need to have peace of mind. I am 74 and so many of my friends (and two relatives in the last year) have died lingering deaths because nobody wanted to turn off the machines that kept them alive. There was so much suffering and needless expense for the patient and it was terribly hard on the loved ones.

Exactly what is THE LIVING WILL, and how do I get one? I happen to be Jewish. Is it against my religion? Is it euthanasia or mercy killing?

READER

DEAR READER: THE LIVING WILL is a document stating that should you fall victim to a terminal illness from which there is no hope for your recovery, you instruct your physician not to prolong your life by artificial means, such as machines, tubes, pumps, etc.

Copies of this document may be given to your physician, clergyman, lawyer and to as many family members and friends as you desire. To sign such a document, you must be 18 or older and of sound mind. (If at any time you wish to revoke the document, you are free to do so.)

The Jewish view of THE LIVING WILL is as follows: It is not euthanasia or mercy killing! There is a clear distinction between actively killing a person and "allowing him to die."

According to Jewish law, when a person suffers irreversible brain damage and can no longer recite a "bracha"—a blessing to praise God—or perform a "mitzvah"—an act to help his fellowman—he is considered a vegetable and there is nothing to save. It is thus an act of compassion to spare the family the anguish and expense of artificially prolonging the breathing and heartbeat when death is inevitable.

THE LIVING WILL does not give anyone permission to end the life of another in a mercy-killing manner. It is simply a document that one signs, stating that he (or she) does not want to have his (or her) life prolonged artificially after the physician decides that there is no hope for recovery.

I have signed such a document. You may get one by writing to CONCERN FOR DYING, 250 West 57th St., New York, N.Y. 10019. The document is free, but please send a few dollars (it's tax deductible) for the cost of printing and mailing the document to you. I sent $10 for six documents and have given one to my physician, clergyman, lawyer and members of my family.

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: All those folks who write to ask if they should report suspected infidelities among their neighbors remind me of an incident which happened here in Minneapolis.

A husband occasionally jumped the marital fence and strayed into fresh pastures. His wife was tolerant of these actions because otherwise he was a kind, thoughtful and loving husband.

One day Mrs. Blabbermouth phoned the wife and said, "I think you should know that your husband was seen coming out of his secretary's apartment!"

SCHOOL BOARD

Therefore the board appointed Mrs. White to serve as clerk. She will be assisted by Mrs. Ann Walton, Mrs. Frances Stevenson and Miss Sheila Tate as deputy clerks.

The place for balloting will be in the school administration office between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

In other business, Dr. Tom Scannicchio, assistant superintendent for instruction and John Short, high school counselor, presented reports on achievement tests given in the schools.

The tests show some improvement in the past few years although in many instances achievement is still below what the tests called normal

Dr. Scannicchio pointed out that this is occurring nationwide. He said in the instance of the Iowa tests of Educational Development (ITED) the norms were figured 10 years ago and would be brought up to date by the company next year. He said the company assured him that scores would improve when the tests were made current.

Also on hand at last night's meeting were a group representing Computer Curriculum Corporation. They presented a slide presentation on the use of computer terminals as an aid in teaching.

The terminal asks the student a question and he punches in what he believes is the correct answer. If incorrect, he has one more try before the computer gives the right answer.

The computer automatically designs a program of instruction geared to the individual's needs, making the work challenging enough to maintain interest but simple enough to prevent frustration. The computer labs can be managed by a teacher's aid, the group said.

Several terminals were on hand for demonstrations.

6 Drill Bits Recovered

Deputy sheriffs reported this morning recovering six stolen drill bits south of Snyder.

Five of the drill bits, they said, are valued at $2,715 each, while the sixth is worth $680. The bits were stolen from Smith Tool Co. in late November or early December, and recovered Wednesday.

Although the case is still under investigation, deputies said evidence from the probe will be presented to the grand jury when it convenes Monday.

Man Injured In Rig Accident

Palmer EMS picked up one man from a drilling rig accident 29 miles northwest of Snyder Thursday afternoon.

Taken from the scene to Cogdell Memorial Hospital was Cecil Bills of Sweetwater. From Cogdell he was later transferred to Rolling Plains Hospital in Sweetwater.

Ambulance attendants reported Bills appeared to sustain only bruises and abrasions. They received the call concerning the rig accident at 2 p.m.

Fire Put Out

A fire on the grounds of the Scurry County Coliseum was doused yesterday evening.

Snyder firefighters report the fire started in an electrical transformer atop a utility pole and ignited also a small grass fire underneath.

It was reported at 6:05 p.m. and put the Scurry County Coliseum in the dark. Western Texas College basketball games with South Plains College were moved to the Snyder High School Gym.

Vandalism Cases, Mishaps Reported

Two criminal mischief complaints and three minor traffic accidents were reported to police Thursday.

John Risenhover, 3606 Jacksboro, reported a tire on his pickup truck had been slashed. Damage in the incident was pegged at $70.

Delores Neal, 300 35th St., told officers children may have broken the back windshield of her 1967 Ford. That damage was estimated to be $150.

Both criminal mischief complaints were investigated by officer Joe Bob Martinez.

Officer Kerry Fritz worked the first minor traffic accident of the day. It occurred at 3700 Beaumont and involved a parked 1978 Buick owned by Danny Ubando and a 1971 Oldsmobile driver by Jabier Hermosillo. It occurred about 9:10 a.m.

At 3:15 p.m., a hit and run was reported at Cogdell Memorial Hospital. It involved a parked 1978 Buick owned by M.B. Wilson that was struck by a vehicle which left the scene. It was worked by Martinez.

Robert Harbin worked the final mishap of the day at Allsup's convenience store at 11:37 p.m. There, a parked 1976 Ford pickup owned by Edgar Kuss of Sweetwater and a 1979 Chevrolet driven by David Randal Plunket were in collision.

Snyder Gets Mention On TV Network

Snyder was mentioned this morning in a nationally televised game show.

The game show, "Cardsharks," a nationally televised show produced by NBC, was aired beginning at 9 a.m. One of the participants, Jesse Bowen, mentioned he has a 100-year-old mother who lives here.

Johnnie Molinare, 2901 Ave. Y, who is Bowen's neice, said she was waiting for the mention of Snyder this morning, having been earlier tipped off.

"Today he said he had a mother who celebrated her 100th birthday who lives in Snyder, Texas," said Mrs. Molinare.

The mother Bowen is referring to is Eula Bowen, who turned 100 last month. She lives with a daughter, Ethel Harrington, at 414 30th St., and has lived here 51 years. Her son lives in Bakersfield, Calif.

"I was real excited," said Mrs. Molinare. "My niece and I were here watching.

Byerly Will Be There...

Tigers Region Hunting Tonight

By Bill McClellan

George Byerly didn't have his hat on last night, but it didn't spoil the effect much. He still looked for all the world like the lead singer in a country western band.

The Snyder High School head basketball coach was sitting in the gymnasium, watching Western Texas' Westerners play South Plains, while trying to ride herd over a group of kids. Or maybe it was vice versa.

"Oh, I may go home before this one's over, if it goes like I think it might," he said of the junior college contest which WTC eventually won 109-97.

Just another casual observer.

"Everything set for tomorrow night, Coach?"

"Well, I guess I'll show up over there anyway," he grinned.

Don't get the wrong idea, Byerly's not taking Borger lightly, only the conversation.

Snyder's Tigers and the Borger Bulldogs meet in class AAA regional playoff action at 8 tonight and the prize is a trip to the March 6-8 State Tournament in Austin.

Tickets for the shootout, held in Wayland Baptist College Gym, are $3 adults and $2 students.

Snyder defeated the Bulldogs in regular season tournament play, 68-61, but that was over two months ago. The Tigers went on to win the tourney -- the Canyon Reef -- and Borger took consolation.

"We're confident," said Snyder Coach George Byerly earlier in the week. Asked if he expected a game similar to the bi-district one in which Snyder burned Weatherford 86-54 he replied, "You mean jumping out on them like we did? That would be great. But if you mean beating Borger by 20 or 30 points, I don't think that's realistic.

"Some people think that because we beat them (Borger) earlier, we may as well pack for Austin. Well, we haven't packed anything yet. I don't think our win over Borger means anything as far as this game is concerned. The only advantage out of it now is that we know their players a little better and they know ours. But that was a long time ago, and it was a tough ballgame even then."

Truth is, tonight's game should be rated a tossup. If state rankings are considered, Snyder might be given a slight edge. But there was a time during the season when Borger was ranked higher than the Tigers in the AAA poll, and the latest one released shows the Bulldogs ranked No. 7. The Borger 31-3 record is impressive, and includes a 73-70 win over Andrews, another team which was state-ranked most of the year.

Height could be a problem for Snyder tonight as the Bulldog's staff includes three players that stand 6-5 or better. The key big man is 6-5 Brett Smith, who averages 21 points a game. Chester Williams, 5-10 guard, is the No. 2 man.

"They have good people surrounding them, too," stressed Byerly. "We won't be able to concentrate on Smith or Williams, we'll just do the best we can. We're not going to change anything for them."

Likewise, Snyder has no real stars on the court. Byerly runs at least eight players in an out all during a game, and it is anybody's guess who might lead the Tiger scoring tallies for the night.

Favored or the underdog, you can bet Byerly will be there. And if Snyder wins, maybe we can get him to pick a tune or two.

Tracksters Set To Run Again

Snyder track and field teams go full throttle this weekend with locals attending three area meets.

Coach Winfred Shipp's varsity boys team will be in the Cub Relays at Brownfield Saturday. Prelims will begin at 10, finals at 1. A list of teams was unavailable, but Snyder, Brownfield, Lamesa and other area teams were expected to fill the field.

The varsity girls, under the direction of Patty Grimmett, begin their season Saturday at San Angelo. Field events begin at 9:30 a.m. with prelims getting underway about 10. Finals begin at 2.

A number of area schools will compete in the two-division, boys-girls meet.

Coach Jim Carson's boys freshman team also begins the 1980 track season Saturday, beginning at 9 a.m. in Big Spring with field events. Preliminaries start at 10. Finals begin at 3.

Last year Snyder varsity boys and freshmen were district champions. The varsity girls placed third in district.

Dusters Zip Around South Plains Women

Coach Joe Cushing's Dusters made it five in a row here yesterday evening, slapping South Plains' Texanettes by 40, 73-43.

The final regular season game leaves the Dusters with an impressive 26-9 record, 9-3 in conference play. Western Texas women now advance to the Region V Tournament held March 5-8 in Big Spring.

The Dusters are scheduled to take on the No. 2 Northern Conference team, Weatherford, at 4 p.m. March 6.

Western Texas led from the outset last night, pocketing tallies of 8-0, 12-2, 18-8 and 22-12 before completely breaking the game open late in the first half.

Ten Dusters got on the scoreboard, led by Linda Holubec's 20 points. Holubec, a freshman, scored 14 in the first half to guide the Dusters to a 41-20 intermission lead.

She got plenty of help from the rest of the WTC crew as Cushing emptied the bench long before the night was over. Katie Fisher and Shari Teal scored 12 points apiece, but it was Joyce Plagens who actually kept the Texanettes behind on the scoreboard in the early going. Plagens, a 5-9 sophomore from Rankin, scored nine points in the game, but pulled down a record 22 rebounds and had four steals. Fisher also had four steals and four assists.

Western Texas' dominance in the rebounding department, plus good defense which didn't allow many good shots anyway, put South Plains down in the first half and out for the count in the second.

The Texanettes managed only 28 percent field goal shooting in the first 20 minutes, while WTC hit 19 of 47 for 40 percent. South Plains upped the figure to 33 percent in the final half, the same as the Dusters.

Linda Vaughn was the only Texanette in double figures. She hit 10 points. Sharon Brown added eight and Debbie Smith had seven.

Despite the loss, South Plains too will be competing in the regional tournament. The Texanettes will play the No. 4 NJCAC team, Grayson, at 6 p.m. March 5. The winner will play No. 1 WJCAC Howard College at 8 p.m. the next day, Thursday.

Texas Survives; Mustangs Fall

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—It's not that Texas Coach Abe Lemons doesn't appreciate being in tonight's semifinals of the Southwest Conference post-season basketball tournament. He'd just rather the Longhorns were playing anybody but Arkansas.

Texas overwhelmed Houston, 67-47, Thursday night to advance against the bench-deep, well-rested Razorbacks, who have won their last four games against Lemons' Longhorns.

"What about Arkansas?" a reporter asked Lemons after the Houston victory.

"What about them?" Lemons fired back. "They've beaten us twice already this season. How would you like to be coaching against a team that's already beaten you twice. They're deeper than anybody else in the conference."

Arkansas, 20-6 and regular season SWC champion Texas A&M, 22-7, earned byes into tonight's semifinals.

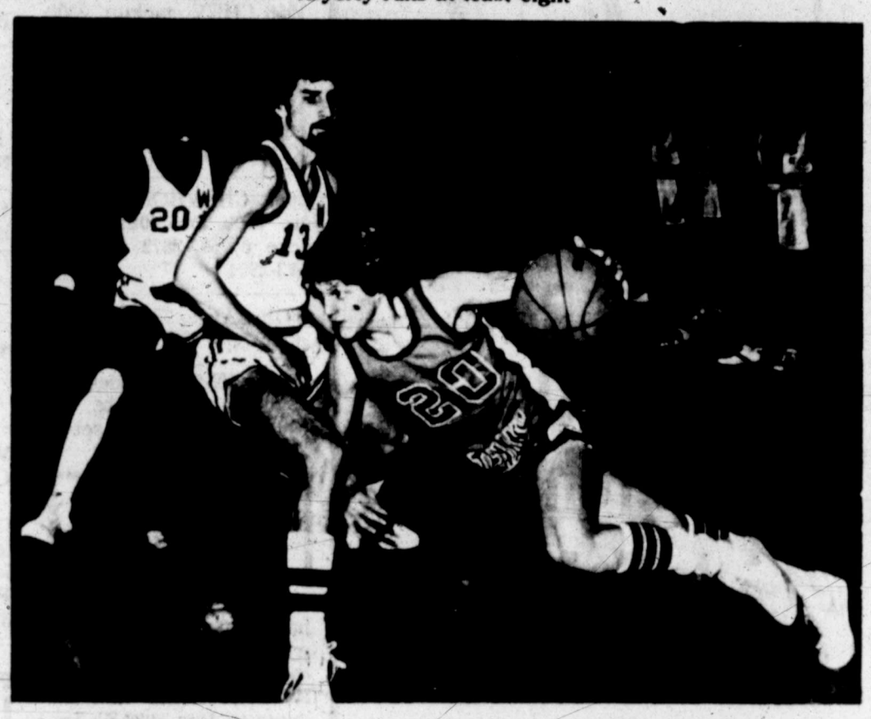

The powerful Aggies meet Texas Tech, 16-12, which ended Sonny Allen's coaching career at Southern Methodist with a 73-65 victory Thursday night. Allen had resigned under pressure last week.

Dribblers Register

A second registration for Girls Little Dribblers will be held today and tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Scurry County Boy's Club.

Girls need a parent's or guardian's signature, a birth certificate and $4 registration fee.

Dribbler officers stress that the basketball season should not interfere with girls softball this summer. Workouts during the Dribbler season will be held at local elementary schools and not at the Boys Club.

NO ROOM—Ken Dodd wants to drive the baseline on Westerner Oscar Alvarado during late action between WTC and South Plains last night. The idea didn't work. Dodd gets his arm hooked around Alvarado's leg and it spins him out of bounds for a Texan turnover. In the background is Ronald Portee. WTC won the game, its 30th in a row, and will begin Region V Tournament play next week. (SDN STAFF PHOTO)

Defeat Texans, 109-97...

Westerners Still Unbeaten

Western Texas College chalked its 30th victory of the season here last night, ripping South Plains 109-97 and setting itself up for regional tournament play.

The Westerners, who went through the regular and conference season undefeated, will be looking for post-season glory beginning Tuesday night.

The only thing special about last night's contest was its location -- and the fact that WTC's sophomores were playing their final home game. Problems with the transformer at Scurry County Coliseum left the Westerners' normal home turf in darkness, and officials were forced to move the game -- and an earlier women's tilt -- to Snyder High School Gym.

It was an overflow crowd then, that watched Coach Nolan Richardson unload his bench on the Texans of Levelland. The more compact gymnasium didn't seem to bother fans or players, who were grateful to SHS athletic director John Gary and others for making the arena available.

Paul Pressey, a potential All-American, led the charge, scoring 24 points as one of five Westerners in double figures. Freddie Davis and David Brown ripped the laces for 15 points each, while Ronald Portee hit 12 and Phil Spradling notched 11. Greg Stewart added nine.

The Westerners went in front early in the contest and never fell behind. After Western Texas built a 12 point lead for the second time in the game -- still early in the first half -- the margin never dwindled lower than 10, and the Westerners had more than a 20-point advantage on occasion.

Ronnie Butler led the Texans with a stout 27-point effort. Jackie Vaughn dropped 20 through the hoop and Jim Avery added 15, but the South Plains bunch didn't have the firepower or the depth to make a serious threat against Western Texas.

The Region V men's Tournament, held in Midland March 3-6, begins at 7 p.m. Monday as Hill County and Amarillo vie. The winner will take on Western Texas 7 p.m. Tuesday.

Western Athletic Conference teams qualifying were No. 1 WTC, No. 2 Midland, No. 3 Odessa, No. 4 Frank Phillips and No. 5 Amarillo. Amarillo made the meet by knocking off Howard County 71-65 last night. The Badgers and Hawks both have 10-8 records, but Amarillo drew the berth on a point system.

Tickets Sold For Regional

Tickets for the March 3-6 men's Region V Junior College Basketball Tournament are on sale at the Western Texas College business office and the local chamber of commerce.

The four-day tourney, held in Midland, features two games on Monday, four Tuesday and two each on Wednesday and Thursday. Pre-sale tournament passes are $7.50 here, and will be $10 at the gate.

Session tickets, priced at $3 for adults and $2 for students, will also be available. Two sessions will be held Tuesday; one each on the other tournament days.

Teams already qualifying for the tournament from the Western Athletic Conference are No. 1 seed Western Texas, Odessa, Midland, Amarillo and Frank Phillips.

From the Northern conference will be No. 1 McClennan, No. 2 Cooke County, No. 3 Ranger, No. 4 Hill Country, and No. 5 Cisco.

Western Texas will begin tournament play March 4 against a to-be-determined opponent.

Dumas Nips Waco Midway

AUSTIN (AP)—Dumas chipped away Waco Midway's 11-point lead and got to the Class 3A girls' state basketball finals by winning a 58-57 overtime of the nerves.

Bryant Gives Resignation

Don Bryant, golf pro at Snyder Country Club has announced his resignation, effective March 20.

Bryant, who has been at the club for 18 months, was selected from 17 applicants to take over the reins at San Angelo Country Club.

"It is one of the finer clubs in West Texas," said Bryant. "We feel real fortunate to have gotten the job there. There was some very fine competition for the job and a lot of people here (at Snyder Country Club) went to bat for me there. I very much appreciate them, not just for this, but for all they have done in the 18 months I've been here.

"I'm really looking forward to it, but I have mixed emotions. I'll never forget Snyder Country Club because they gave me my first shot. The people here have backed me all the way. They've made it a very pleasant experince. In fact, you might say they spoiled me a little bit."

San Angelo Country Club is undergoing a $900,000 expansion project to its club house. The membership is approximately 680-700 members.

Regulations Eroding 1st Amendment Rights

FORT WORTH (AP)—First Amendment rights are being nibbled away bit by bit, an FCC decision here, a court decision there, a little White House squeeze here and a little congressional pressure there," said Wearn.

Wearn received the Vincent Wasilewki award Thursday, which is given to a broadcaster who raises the industry's image in the eyes of the public.

President Carter, who was honored in absentia, thanked the Baptists in a videotaped message for honoring him with the Christian service award. Dr. Jimmy Allen, president of the Fort Worth-based commission, presented the award to Carter at the White House Feb. 12.

Winners of the two major Abe Lincoln Awards were Mardee McKinlay Birchfield, director of public affairs for KBTV TV in Denver, and Philip E. McDonald, vice president of radio station WCKY in Cincinnati.

The two awards are given for community public service and service to the industry. Both winners were cited for projects supporting senior citizens, youth groups and various cultural activities.

Carter was recognized by the commission for his human rights stands, efforts as a peacemaker and for "taking seriously his personal responsibility to proclaim an unchanging Christ to a changing World and for establishing a spiritual commonality with people of all faiths."

Film Institute Honors Stewart

HOLLYWOOD (AP)-He called himself "a remarkably fortunate fellow," but Jimmy Stewart's friends and fellow actors had higher praise as he received the Lifetime Achievement Award of the American Film Institute.

"Thank you for all the happiness you have given us all," said Princess Grace of Monaco, who as Grace Kelly starred with Stewart in "Rear Win-

JAMES STEWART

Henry Fonda, Stewart's friend for half a century and emcee of the event, recalled how easily Stewart found acting jobs in their early careers.

The 71-year-old Stewart ackhowledged the praise, saying "This is the tying of a happy ribbon around a lifetime of work I've loved to do."

The old and the new Hollywood were represented in large numbers at the Beverly Hilton for the eighth annual AFI salute, which was taped Thursay for telecast on CBS Sunday March 16.

In the admiring audience of about 450 people were such current stars as Dustin Hoffman, Nick Nolte, and Carol Burnett as well as veterans Charlton Heston, Jack Lemmon, Walter Matthau, Fred MacMurray and Greer Garson.

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Beer is the problem

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Could you send me some information that I could pass on to two friends who have husbands with drinking problems? Both of the wives insist that their husbands are not alcoholics but having had experience with one, I'm inclined to disagree. One man is in his 30s and the other in his 50s. Both work at jobs where they can have a can of beer at hand at all times.

Neither one consumes much hard liquor but each one drinks at least 12 cans of beer every day, week in and week out. Food is secondary to the beer. Neither one seems to get intoxicated and can carry on a normal conversation. Both men apparently do their jobs satisfactorily.

At the end of the day, it's not unusual for either one to fall asleep the minute he relaxes in a chair and it's almost impossible to arouse him. Knowing what can happen to them, I'm concerned for both of the families.

DEAR READER — You're a good and true friend and you have adequate reason to be concerned. If the situation is as you describe it, both men are alcoholics. A standard can of beer contains about the same amount of alcohol as a standard cocktail mixed with one jigger of hard liquor.

Individuals who drink considerable amounts of alcohol over long periods of time develop a tolerance to it. That, in itself, is a warning sign that addiction to alcohol has occurred.

I'm sending you The Health Letter number 14-6, Alcohol Can Be Hazardous To Your Health. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

The Health Letter I'm sending you describes the effects of alcohol on the body and may be useful to your friends. And as it suggests, both of the wives might get some help by consulting the yellow pages of their telephone directory under alcoholism. Various centers are available in each community to deal with this problem and are usually listed there.

There may also be an Al-Anon organization which is for relatives of alcoholics. Both wives should consult this organization for further information and help. The organization can certainly help the women understand that their husbands are alcoholics and have a problem, and can best guide them as to what they might do.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I'm wondering if you could put my mind at ease. My daughter will be 16 in a few months but she has never had a period. She is developing normally in all other areas and is healthy and has no ailments. I'm wondering if I should take her to a doctor now or wait a few more months.

DEAR READER - If your observation is correct and she's developing normally in all other ways, I think you can safely wait a while. Figures show that approximately 5 percent of girls have their first menstrual period between 16 and 18 and 1 percent don't have their period until between age 18 and 20. A normal late onset of menstrual periods does not indicate any disease and it's just one of nature's variations.

Rev. Daniels Will Address Methodists At Snyder, Ira

Rev. Jack Daniels, administrator of the Methodist Home, Waco, will speak at the First United Methodist Church, Ira, at 9:30 a.m. and the First United Methodist Church in Snyder at the 10:55 a.m. Sunday during morning worship services.

In its 90 year history, the Methodist Home and Boy's Ranch has cared for over 16,000 children. The home is supported by Methodist Churches in Texas, and New Mexico and friends of the home, says Rev. David Robertson, pastor of the First United Methodist Church here.

Rev. Daniels graduated from Southern Methodist University in 1956. He has been administrator of the home since 1978.

Previous positions include a stint as executive director of the High Sky Girls Ranch, Inc. in Midland from 1972-1978 and executive Director of the All Church Home for Children in Fort Worth from 1971-1972.

REV. JACK DANIELS

Rev. Daniels is a past chairman of the workshop planning committee of the Southwestern Association of Executives of Homes for Children, an organization which covers an eight state area.

He is also a member of the Waco Rotary Club.

Snow In Midwest

By The Associated Press

Snow fell over much of the upper Midwest early today and more was expected as rain dampened the already sodden West Coast.

Showers were forecast for today from northern California and the Pacific Northwest across the Rockies and into Montana. Snow was expected for North Dakota, the Great Lakes and into the northern Atlantic Coast states, and rain mixed with snow was likely in South Dakota today.

County Court Sentences 4 Here Thursday

Four persons have been sentenced in county court this week.

Kevin Wayne Henderson, Rt. 1, Snyder, received a $25 fine to a guilty plea he entered to a charge of driving while his license was suspended.

The other three cases involved charges of driving while intoxicated. Named in them were Ernesto Castillo Flores, 3002 Ave. J, Joe Arellalo, General Delivery, Snyder, and Ernesto Guaharda Cerda, 2121 College Ave.

Flores drew a 30-day jail sentence that was probated two years and a $200 fine. Arellalo and Cerda each received three days in the county lockup, plus $200 fines.

There were more than 1 billion acres of land in American farms but only 370 million acres were actually listed as cropland at the beginning of 1979, according to Sperry New Holland.

Advertising Pays....

Just Ask...Fairy Eicke at the Diet Center
The staff at Snyder Daily News is easy to work with and is very helpful. I have had excellent response to my ads, especially the ones we have worked on together. Advertising with the SDN pays for itself through the increased business.
