U. S. Ships Halted By Maritime Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Seaman began a strike today that could tie up the nation's 990-ship merchant fleet and hamper industry across the nation.

The walkout affected every type of U.S. commercial vessel from ocean liners to oil tankers on the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific coasts.

President Kennedy pressed for a quick settlement but there was no indication of an early agreement on a new union-management contract.

The walkout could affect transportation of oil to seaboard areas, but the petroleum industry said there was a 40-day supply on hand on the East Coast.

Industry sources said the stores consisted of 11,141,000 barrels of residual fuel oil (industrial) 30,256,000 barrels of light fuel oil (residential) 49,472,000 barrels of gasoline, and 10,876,000 barrels of kerosene, including commercial jet fuel.

Ships at sea continued on their normal course but were scheduled to tie up once they reached United States ports.

The impact on general cargo was relatively minor because United States ships handle less than 10 per cent of water-borne commerce.

About 135 American flag tankers are manned by the striking unions.

The unions also could picket American-owned vessels flying foreign flags—such as those of Panama, Liberia and Honduras.

One of the key points in the dispute over a new contract is whether American-owned foreign flag vessels whould be unionized.

More than 80,000 officers and unlicensed crewmen sailing out of East, West and Gulf Coast ports were affected.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, who was sent here Thursday by President Kennedy, planned new efforts today to settle the contract dispute between shipping companies and the seven striking unions.

The 70,000 unionists on strike include deck officers, engineer officers, radio officers, unlicensed deck and engine room crewmen and steward department workers.

Members of the striking unions man the bulk of the passenger ships, tankers, dry cargo ships and other seagoing craft flying the American flag.

Their no-contract-no-work strike began last midnight when contracts expired.

Picket lines were set up at piers in the vast Port of New York and in some other ports.

No American-flag luxury liner was docked in New York when the strike began.

None is due in until next Wednesday when the United States, and the Constitution are scheduled to arrive. The big foreign liners, along with other foreign vessels, are not affected.

A number of seagoing unions with an estimated 10,000 members were not on strike because their contracts have not expired. But many of the ships their members man were expected to be immobolized—because a nonstriking crew can't sail a ship without a captain, an engineer, a radio officer.

Ships at sea will not be affected until they reach American ports.

Joseph Curran, president of the big National Maritime Union, said support of the strike has been pledged by the International Longshoremen's Association, the Teamsters Union, union oil workers and central labor councils in 30 ports.

At Goldberg's urging, negotiations between the seven striking unions and ship company representatives continued for a while after the midnight contract expirations. The unions would not agree to contract extensions pending further talks.

No time was set for resumption of negotiations. Both sides said they would stand subject to call by Goldberg or by each other.

A major issue in the dispute is the union demand for a right to organize and represent the crews of American-owned ships that fly so-called "flags of convenience." Most of these 450 ships are tankers registered under the flags of Liberia, Panama and Honduras.

The unions call them "runaway ships," with lower pay and inferior working conditions compared to American-flag ships with union crews.

The unions generally have been willing to forego wage increases if other major demands were met. Demands include issues such as vacations, a shorter work week, more time off, subsistence improvements and severance pay.

Some of the unions reached agreement with a number of East and Gulf coast companies before the strike. But the strike tended to nullify the immediate effect of these agreements.

The striking unions are:

National Maritime Union, which claims 37,000 members, has an estimated 22,000 of them actively employed.

Seafarers International Union, which claims 70,000 members, with 23,000 working.

Masters, Mates and Pilots (deck officers)—12,000.

Marine Engineers Beneficial Association (officers)—11,000.

American Radio Association (officers)—1,000.

Radio Officers Union—500.

Staff Officers Union (pursers)—500.

The National Maritime Union and the Seafarers International Union are composed of deck and engine room crewmen, steward department workers and other unlicensed personnel.

The largest employer group in the negotiations is the American Merchant Marine Institute, which claims to represent 23 companies with 339 ships.

Scurry Area Still Soaking Up Moisture

The most prolonged wet spell of the year endured here today, as area farms and ranches soaked up from 2 to 3½ inches of new moisture.

The rains were welcomed by ranchers, but put many Scurry County farmers on a touch-and-go basis.

Hard showers damaged some farmland, some of it which had been replanted recently following hail damage earlier in the season. Now, it will be several days before tractors can be taken into the fields again, and the cotton planting deadline is just around the corner.

Snyder had 2.41 inches of rain by 7 a. m. today and a drizzle continued. From 2 inches to more than 3 inches fell over the entire county, reports today indicated.

Lake J. B. Thomas had gained 8½ inches in elevation this morning. Some runoff continued from Bull Creek, but flow from the Colorado River had slackened considerably.

Elevation of the lake was 2,255.76, or about 2¼ feet below spillway level. Rainfall totalling 2.6 inches was gauged at the Lake Thomas dam.

Light rains were continuing today over most of Texas following downpours of up to more than 6 inches yesterday.

Two persons drowned and three others died in a crash on a rain-slick highway near Graham, in North Texas.

The heavy rains halted wheat harvest in the Panhandle-Plains and washed out some cotton in central part of the state. But they revived parched ranchlands and were welcomed by ranchmen.

Rural areas around Cleburne and Stephenville were waterlogged by more than 5 inches of rain. It was nearly as heavy in parts of West Texas. Bovina, west of Amarillo, got 4½ inches. A 4.0-inch rain near Plainview halted the wheat harvest that was starting on the South Plains. One gauge northwest of Lubbock had recorded 6.2 inches.

At Big Spring, a Webb Air Force Base airman, Milton Eugene Elder, 19, drowned when he fell into a flooded ditch and was swept half a mile through a storm sewer during a 3.10-inch rain.

Johanna Elizabeth Kirby, 2, drowned in a rain-swollen creek at San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Shirley and their baby daughter died near Graham in the crash of their foreign-made car and a pickup truck on a rain-swept highway Thursday night.

Several points about the state gauged 3 inches or more of rain and there were numerous places reporting up to 2 inches.

The quick, hard downpours caused temporary flash flooding in numerous areas and covered some roads with muddy water.

A drainage ditch was turned into a raging torrent by a two-inch cloudburst at Brownwood. Chief of Police George Calder pulled four small boys from the ditch just before they were pulled into an underground sewer. Polly Wise pulled another boy to safety.

The rainfall was estimated at more than five inches along the Bosque River watershed west of Fort Worth.

A 5-inch rain gauge overflowed on Jack Stewart's dairy farm 10 miles north of Stephenville.

Stephenville fire and police departments stood ready to evacuate low-lying areas of the town should the bank-full Bosque overflow. Water ran over Highway 108 north of Stephenville and fields in the area were flooded.

Rains up to three inches fell around Waco in Central Texas, although only 1.50 inches fell at the airport on the northwest edge of the city.

Groesbeck, in Limestone County, got 2 inches.

The Big Bend Country in far West Texas got more than an inch.

The cool front that touched off the rains extended early Thursday from near Lufkin southeastward through College Station to Cotulla.

Rainfall for the 24 hours ending at 7 a.m. Friday included:

Lubbock 1.05 inches, Midland 2.12, Presidio 1.21, Austin 1.82, Waco 2.31, Abilene 1.86, San Angelo 2.45, Brownwood 2.78, Del Rio 2.67, Big Spring 3.04, Junction 2.15, College Station 1.49, Carrolton 1.20, Crandall 1.56, Rosser 1.05, Aledo 1.44, Burleson 1.02.

West 2.05, Winkler 1.38, Ennis 3.34, Frost 2.52, Evant 1.15, Crawford 2.68, Lipan 3.38, Sheffield 2.41, Worthan 2.07 and Graham 1.53.

FLOOD VICTIM—This young bobcat, along with three brothers, and-or sisters, was forced to flee a nest on the Donaldson Ranch seven miles south of Snyder yesterday when rains sent creeks and draws on a sudden rise. The kittens, apparently very young, displayed their well-developed claws at the least provocation.

CATS, BUT NO PITCHFORKS—It may have rained "cats and pitchforks" Thursday, but only the cats were found by, from left, Craig Merritt, Jane Merritt and Carroll Stone. They are holding young bobcats which apparently were forced from their den on a creek bank by high water. The youngsters found the kittens beside a bush on the Donaldson Ranch south of Snyder. The mother cat fled from the scene. (Photos by Jackson)

8-Day Crude Flow Endures

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Railroad Commission today cut the statewide July oil allowable by 47,901 barrels daily, fixing a statewide allowable of 2,629,959 barrels.

The oil regulatory agency ordered a continuation of the 8-day production pattern. This is the third straight 8-day order.

Eight of the 13 major oil companies making recommendations to the commission at its proration hearing asked for this pattern. Two companies recommended a 9-day order and three more companies suggested the flow be cut back to a 7-day pattern.

John Crutchfield, speaking for a group of Corpus Christi independents, also asked for eight days.

Chairman William Murray told the oil men that he understands that the East Texas producers are concerned at the reported inability of some to find a market for their full allowable in June.

He said the commission had received reports from Premier Oil and Refining Co. and Toronto Pipeline Co. which indicated earlier that these firms might not be able to take their full allowable. But he said Humble Oil Co. had agreed to purchase the excess.

Charles Keeble, Houston, representing Humble, said his company had made arrangements to take 800 barrels a day from Toronto and 3,700 from Premier.

Nominations by companies: Nine days, Sun and Atlantic; eight days, Sinclair, Mobile, Shell, Indiana, Cities Service, Standard of Texas, Texaco and Humble; seven days, Continental, Phillips and Gulf.

Keeble also pointed out in recommending an 8-day pattern for Humble that the total nominations from the major oil companies exceeded the average July demand by 70,000 barrels a day. Nominations totaled 2,417,424 barrels a day. His company said it wanted to buy from its own connections 32,355 barrels a day and would buy an additional 15,000 barrels a day of spot oil.

Adlai Takes Off For Peru

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson left for Peru today expressing sympathy to the families of five leftist demonstrators killed in a night of rioting in this capital.

La Paz was quiet but about 30 students, who locked themselves in a university building after battling police, were still there.

Stevenson was not directly involved in the rioting, which broke out in scattered sections of La Paz and left 26 injured.

Although there were some shouts of "Down with Yankee imperialism," the leftists apparently had timed their demonstrations mainly to embarrass President Victor Pas Estenssoro during Stevenson's visit.

Bolivian Foreign Minister Eduardo Arze Quiroga, who saw Stevenson off at the airport, said President Kennedy's personal envoy had fruitful talks with Paz Estenssoro.

Arze Quiroga added that Bolivia is in favor of postponing for a few weeks the Inter-American Economic and Social Council meeting to deal with Kennedy's alliance-for-progress program for Latin America. He gave no reason.

Kennedy In Plea For Support Of His Foreign Aid Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, appealing for support of his foreign aid program, said today he is less concerned about the dangers of spending too much too often than of spending too little too late.

Kennedy took that stand in an address prepared for the National Conference on International Economic and Social Development.

It came at a time when his aid program for other nations is up against rough going in Congress. Kennedy wants a five-year $8.8 billion program, but strong elements in Congress are balking at such a long-term basis.

The President appealed to those who want to do something about bolstering the defense of freedom, stopping the spread of communism, and exercising initiative in world affairs, to get behind the foreign aid plan.

"We do not intend," he said, "to go on indefinitely helping those who will not help themselves—those whose only claim to consideration is that they are alternatives to communism—those who are unwilling to put into effect the reforms in administration, education, taxation and social justice without which our aid will be of very little value. We intend to achieve results—to put these countries on their own feet.

"But let us at the same time recognize that this challenge will be with us for a long time—that this is both an obligation and an opportunity—and that more than self-interest and anticommunism are involved. Let it never be said that the great conflict of our time was between the unrighteous and the self-righteous.

"But let it be said instead that this generation of Americans—jealous of its rights and aware of its responsibilities, grateful for its blessings and vigilant to its dangers—met head on the grim challenge to freedom—met it with all the resources and all the wisdom at our command—and, meeting it, prevailed."

Kennedy's audience was a sympathetic one. A principal purpose of the conference is to foster the views Kennedy expounded, and the 1,200 delegates attending had heard a series of earlier speakers back long-rang foreign aid.

One such speaker was David Lilienthal who said congressional approval of Kennedy's foreign assistance program would give the United States its "greatest opportunity since the end of the war."

Closedown Threatens Two Big Refineries

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP)—Two big oil refineries in this area were threatened with a closedown today as a result of the National Maritime Union strike.

Pickets were thrown up at gates to the Texaco and Gulf Corp. plants, and members of the International Union of Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers indicated they would respect the lines.

Reports said the refineries continued in operation by night shifts remaining on the job. There are an estimated 7,500 oil union workers at the two plants.

The maratime union also threw up picket lines at five docks here and two in the mid-Jefferson County area.

Krush Statement Tough, Menacing

By ANTHONY WHITE

LONDON (AP)—Premier Khrushchev's new declaration on Berlin was viewed in Western Europe today as tough and menacing—but in the main a restatement of past Soviet demands.

There was general regret that the pronouncement seemed to extinguish faint hopes of an easing of international tension raised by President Kennedy's meeting with the Soviet premier in Vienna earlier this month.

The premier's adamant stand at Vienna already had been disclosed by the official news agency Tass June 11. Khrushchev in a TV fireside chat Thursday night to the Soviet people spelled out his position again.

At Vienna, he proposed an immediate peace conference on Germany that would leave its borders unchanged, make West Berlin a demilitarized city and end Allied occupation rights in Berlin.

If the Allies were opposed to a peace parley, Khrushchev said, West Germany and Communist East Germany should be given six months to work out a treaty that both the Soviet bloc and the West would be bound to accept.

Going over this ground in his report to the Soviets, Khrushchev summed up his position this way: "We ask everyone to understand us correctly. The conclusion of a peace treaty with Germany cannot be postponed any longer. A peaceful settlement in Europe must be accomplished this year."

Khrushchev then repeated his old threat to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany, giving that regime control over the supply lines to the Allied garrisons in West Berlin. And he said any attempt to change Germany's present borders "would mean a thermonuclear war."

To some British newspapers, the tenor of Khrushchev's remarks appeared to be a warning to the West that he at last means business over Berlin. The Daily Sketch headlined: "Berlin by Christmas, warn Mr. K. The heat's on." Its story said Khrushchev "left no doubt that he has turned the heat on the Berlin issue."

Kennedy himself, in his report to the people of the United States on June 6, declared that "our most somber talks were on the subject of Germany and Berlin."

Castro Presents His Review Of Ill-Fated Invasion Try

By LEWIS GULICK

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro says he defeated the Cuban invasion through the strength of his revolutionary movement and mistakes of the invaders.

The Cuban prime minister gave his review of the abortive April 17-19 invasion in dramatic fashion Thursday, standing at the high water mark the invaders reached before they met disaster.

He spoke to newsmen and photographers, including eight Americans, during a day-long tour which he personally led through 300 miles of Cuba. He showed the foreign newsmen both the economic projects which he touts as the backbone of his revolution, and the invasion scene in a swampy section of southwestern Cuba.

This was the first on-the-spot inspection of the invasion site by any Americans. The newsman also interviewed prisoners from the invasion.

The two invasion beaches, Playa Largo and Playa Giron, showed few after-effects. At Giron Castro pointed out a crater which he said was caused by a 500-pound bomb from an invading airplane.

Two beach-type cottages had heavy damage. A number of other buildings in the area still had bullet marks. Castro said many buildings had been repaired. Workmen were on the job.

Castro gave his analysis of the campaign at Papite, a roadside village three miles from Largo Beach. Cuban officials said this was the closest to Havana reached by ground forces.

Telling why he won, Castro said that the government "had more strength and anti-aircraft force and they (the invaders) underestimated the force of the revolution. They lacked coordination. Their plan was bad."

Castro's army also made some mistakes, he said. He figured some of his 80-plus killed—about the same number of deaths as suffered by the invaders — was due to having too many vehicles strung along the highway where they could be strafed by attacking aircraft.

The invaders numbered a reported 1,500 of which about 1,200 are now captives. A few escaped. Castro did not specify the size of his larger defending force.

Castro posed with binoculars for photographers at Caleton, near Largo Beach, where he said he himself sank one of the crippled attack ships by firing on it from a tank.

The Cuban leader took the newsmen in a fleet of limousines to a collective farm, a vacation resort for Cuban workers and other points of interest in his left wing economic program.

The final chapter was a visit to the naval hospital at Havana where Castro is keeping the invasion captives. The reporters were allowed to interview the 10 prisoners who went to the United States last month on the tractors for prisoners negotiations.

A spokesman for the group, Ulises Carbo, said the captives are being as well treated as prisoners can be and "we spend most of our time waiting for how the negotiations work out."

LICENSE REFUSED—Actress Lauren Bacall, widow of Humphrey Bogart, and actor Jason Robards Jr., are miffed at Austrian authorities because they were denied a marriage license in Vienna. Miss Bacall is 37 and Robards is 39. He has been divorced twice. (AP Wirephoto)

Marriage License Is Denied Couple

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Their marriage plans foiled, actress Lauren Bacall and actor Jason Robards Jr. huffed out of town today charging that Vienna authorities do not love a lover.

Peter Witte, their representative, read a statement to reporters saying Austrian justice authorities refused to grant a marriage license despite a personal appeal to Justice Minister Christian Broda, to forego certain legal requirements.

"It is deeply regrettable that the marriage between two well-known artists who had decided on Vienna for reasons of love and romance has been prevented," said Witte. "Apparently Vienna is not so romantic as the two artists had hoped. It seems that the authorities in Vienna have heard nothing of the American adage 'Everybody loves a lover.'"

Witte said refusal to grant a marriage license was based primarily on Robards' Mexican divorce. He said authorities asserted it can not be recognized here "as a matter of principle."

Witte said Miss Bacall had been unable to produce a death certificate for her husband, Humphrey Bogart, who died of cancer in Hollywood in January 1957. And Robards, Witte added, lacked certification of the Mexican divorce his wife, Rachel, obtained in April.

"I am afraid they are taking such things too lightly," said Dr. Viktor Hoyer, an official of the Justice Ministry. "For me, Hollywood stars are in no way different from Frau Mayer or Herr Mueller. Stars, too, have to comply with Austrian laws."

Houston Man Is Called In Stickney Case

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — James Vittitoe of Houston, identified by defense lawyer Robert Looney as having said he gave convicted murderer Howard Stickney money to flee to Canada, was in court today for Stickney's habeas corpus hearing. He had been subpoenaed as a witness.

Looney said Thursday he intended to prove there was a strong possibility another man killed Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Barnes on a Galveston beach May 24, 1958.

Stickney was convicted of Mrs. Barnes' slaying and sentenced to death. He was charged but never tried in the death of Barnes.

Vittitoe testified at a federal court hearing in Houston last August that he had never seen Mr. or Mrs. Barnes.

He told newsmen today: "I have no fear of any legal consequences, but I am being absolutely ruined by the publicity."

Dist. Judge Cullen Briggs announced that reports of medical and psychiatric examinations given Stickney here this week will be given him at 2 p.m.

He said he did not know what the examinations showed.

The defense has tried to show that Stickney is an epileptic and sometimes is not responsible for his actions.

Big Spring Man Honored

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Texas truck driver who preaches what he practices has been named "driver of the year" by the American Trucking Associations, Inc.

Cited for "his exceptional safety record and lifesaving feats" was Melvin O. (Jack) Griffith, 48, of Big Spring.

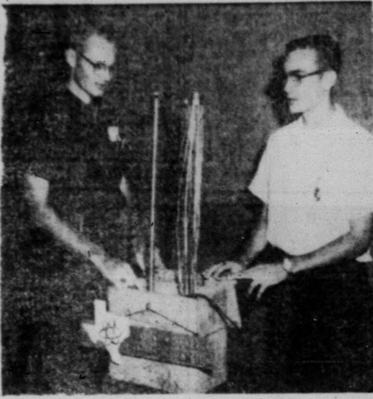
The veteran of 28 years of driving a truck has encouraged traffic safety among young people in appearances before youth groups in churches, high schools and civic organizations.

The associations noted his more than 2 million accident-free miles and his "quick thinking" in aiding victims of a two-car collision near Sterlinf, Tex., last August.

Griffith, an employe of the Eagle Transport Co., of Big Spring, was nominated for the award by the Texas Motor Transport Association. Griffith drives a tractor-trailer oil truck between Big Spring and Sterling City and other points within a 500-mile radius.

Debt Limit Hike Gets Panel Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee has swiftly approved President Kennedy's request for a temporary $5 billion increase in the national debt limit.



DONALD R. COLE, science instructor at Snyder High School, and student delegate Charles Bennett, are shown in Austin where they attended the Texas Nuclear Science Symposium this week. About 500 science students and instructors were present at the meeting sponsored by the University of Texas and the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation. Cole and Bennett were guests of Texas Electric Service Company, which is one of 11 investor-owned electric utilities in Texas that are members of the Foundation. The Foundation currently is co-sponsoring a controlled fusion research project with General Atomic Division of General Dynamics.

MISS LaVON RICHBURG, right, student at Hermleigh High School, registers at the University of Texas for the three-day nuclear science symposium sponsored this week in Austin by the university and the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation.

Expert Says Atom Is Barely Tapped

AUSTIN. — The potential of atomic science has barely been tapped and today's major challenges include peaceful uses of atomic explosions and nuclear propulsion in space, Dr. Willard F. Libby of the Univeristy of California, told a state-wide symposium of high school science students and teachers here this week.

Dr. Libby, winner of the 1960 Nobel Prize in chemistry and former member of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, said, "Atomic science is the future, the undiscovered land, the world without end, the modern Western Sea."

The symposium, which was sponsored by the University of Texas and the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation, was attended by about 500 students and teachers. Purpose of the symposium was to acquaint the students and teachers with basic information about atomic energy and to give them an opportunity to consult with internationally known nuclear scientists at special counseling sessions.

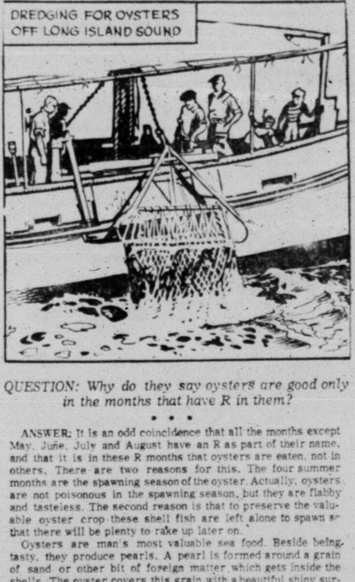
The program also included tours of the University scientific facilities and of the Balcones Research Center near Austin.

Participants in the symposium were selected by the University from cities and towns in the state that are served by the eleven investor-owned electric utilities operating in Texas that are members of the Foundation.

Other nationally known speakers on the symposium program included Dr. E. C. Creutz, vice president-research of General Atomic Division of General Dynamics Corporation and Dr. Donald W. Kerst, manager of the controlled fusion research project that is being carried on jointly by General Atomic and the Foundation.

This research project, the world's first and largest privately-financed program in the field of controlled thermonuclear research, seeks to harness the power of the hydrogen bomb for such peaceful purposes as the production of electric power.

Junior Editors Quiz on SHELL FISH



DREDGING FOR OYSTERS OFF LONG ISLAND SOUND

QUESTION: Why do they say oysters are good only in the months that have R in them?

* * *

ANSWER: It is an odd coincidence that all the months except May, June, July and August have an R as part of their name, and that it is in these R months that oysters are eaten, not in others. There are two reasons for this. The four summer months are the spawning season of the oyster. Actually, oysters are not poisonous in the spawning season, but they are flabby and tasteless. The second reason is that to preserve the valuable oyster crop these shell fish are left alone to spawn so that there will be plenty to rake up later on.

Oysters are man's most valuable sea food. Beside being tasty, they produce pearls. A pearl is formed around a grain of sand or other bit of foreign matter which gets inside the shells. The oyster covers this grain with a beautiful shiny surface in order to protect its soft body.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: Find an article about oysters and read about their strange and interesting life history. For example, an average oyster may produce 60 million eggs in a single season; yet only one baby oyster in 1,450,000 has a chance to grow up.

Husband Held In Slaying Of Woman

DEVINE, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Maria Munoz, about 35, was shot to death early today as she slept with an infant daughter cradled in her arms at a farm two miles south of here.

Her husband, Ernest Munoz, 34, was arrested as he stepped from his auto in San Antonio a little more than an hour later.

A murder warrant issued here accused Munoz of the slaying. The couple had six children.

Munoz, a Navy veterans who draws compensation for 100 per cent disability, operates a small truck farm in this South Texas agricultural area.

Pickets Are Posted Along Texas Coast

HOUSTON (AP)—Pickets were posted along the Texas Gulf Coast today but officials didn't expect the general maritime strike to hamper shipping seriously at the port of Houston—the nation's second largest.

An agreement between Houston port and union officials permitted strikers to enter the gates to picket ships involved in the dispute with the National Maritime Union.

The port's manager, Jerry P. Turner, said if pickets were posted outside the gates other workers could close the port by refusing to cross the lines. Picketing of individual ships will enable work in other parts of the port to continue.

The only picket lines established thus far at Houston were outside the Sinclair Terminal. A union spokesman, Charles Ford, said plans to picket the Hess Terminal were changed at the last minute. He did not elaborate.

Ford said any other ships without contracts with the NMU would be picketed.

Pickets carried banners outside refineries and their loading docks at Port Arthur, Nederland and and Port Neches.

Union refinery workers crossed the lines to report for the early morning shift.

E. Barnett, union agent at Port Arthur, where there are about 350 members, said the strike would continue until agreement was reached on a new contract.

One tanker left Port Arthur and four ships sailed from Corpus Christi in time to clear those ports of vessels which would have been idled by the walkout.

Pickets were assigned to the Sinclair Refinery and along the wharf at Corpus Christi. Plans were made to picket the Mormac Way, due at Corpus Christi late today.

Five ships were affected in port at Galveston, but union agent S. D. George said picket lines would not be set up unless the operators tried to work them.

George said NMU crews would remain aboard unless ordered off by owners. He said they would stand security watches but would do no work other than that required to maintain sanitary conditions aboard.

Pack Boy In Foam Rubber

CHICAGO (AP)—An infant boy, packed in foam rubber, was flown to Chicago from his home in Little Rock, Ark., Thursday night for surgery aimed to halt his brittle bones from cracking.

Peter Lollar, who has suffered 32 fractures since his birth 18 months ago, slept virtually throughout the flight, said his mother, Lani Lollar, 33.

The brittle-bone condition results from a rare disease known as osteogenesis imperfecta. Peter is to enter the Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children for examination to determine whether an operation called "rodding" would help his condition.

The operation involves the insertion of steel rods into bones to provide support and to absorb the pressures of weight and movement, Mrs. Lollar said.

Mrs. Lollar said she and her husband, Oris, an architectural draftsman, were referred to the hospital by their physician in Little Rock.

Dominican Suspect Shoots Himself

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Police said today a man they linked to dictator Rafael Leonidas Trujillo's slaying shot himself to death Thursday night.

He was Ramon Roman Fernandez, brother of ex-Defense Minister Jose Rene Roman Fernandez, who is being held in connection with Trujillo's assassination May 30.

Ramon Roman, who was about 45, is survived by his widow and a son, Jose Roman, 17.

Swings Big Racquet

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Butch Newman is a junior in tennis but he plays a man's game.

The San Antonio youngster shocked the Dixieland Tournament Thursday when he eliminated the defending champion, top-seeded Miguel Olvera.

He did it in straight sets—7-5, 6-3—to roll through the third round.

Newman was unseeded.

The Republic of Liberia, presently celebrating 114 years of independence, ranks among the world's leading maritime nations and has the world's largest tanker fleet.

"Calculated risk" seems to be a popular phrase for old-fashioned "gamble." But there's no place for either in preparing or dispensing pharmaceuticals.

Ever notice the letters U.S.P. or N.F. on a medicine label? The letters represent two official books that are recognized by federal law — the United States Pharmacopoeia and the National Formulary.

Together, they are the pharmacist's "bible." They give approved standards of the quality, purity, and potency of most medicinal agents.

CHURCH NOTES

First Baptist

The Rev. Walter A. Mitchell, pastor of First Baptist Church, will have as his sermon subject Sunday morning, "The Happy Man." The service will be broadcast over KSNY beginning at 11 a. m.

The All-Church choir will sing, "O Mighty God."

At the 7:30 p. m. service, the youth of the church will be in charge of the service. The youth will sing in the choir, usher and give testimonies. Youth time is observed every third Sunday of each month.

Rev. Mitchell will have as his sermon subject, "The Changeless Christ in a Changing World" for the evening service.

The First Baptist Youth Council had a meeting recently to map plans for June, July and August. This Sunday, the Intermediate 1 and 2 Training Union will have a "pick-up" party, and on July 31-Aug. 3, the Training Union will sponsor the annual "Think-nik" or backyard workshops.

A retreat for those aged 17-24 has been planned for Aug. 12.

• • •

Calvary Baptist

The Rev. Richard Konnerup, missionary to Ethiopia, will be guest speaker Sunday morning at Calvary Baptist Church.

Sunday School will begin at 9:45 a. m. and worship service at 11 a. m.

The Rev. Cecil Wagner, pastor, will be back in the pulpit for the Sunday evening service. Rev. Wagner was guest speaker last Sunday at Grace Baptist Church in Amarillo.

The mid-week prayer service will be held at 8 p. m. Wednesday.

The intermediate department will have a weiner roast in Towle Memorial Park at 6:30 p. m. Thursday.

• • •

First Methodist

Father's Day services will be conducted at First Methodist Church on Sunday at 10:55 a. m. with the Rev. Harry Vanderpool, pastor, preaching. The Chancel Choir under the direction of Mrs. Bob Womack will sing the anthem "Thou Shalt Keep Him in Perfect Peace." Church School begins at 9:45 a.m.

Sunday night services will begin with Altar Time of Prayer at 7:30 p.m. and will feature the Vesper Voices, the junior age choir, with special music.

Youth meetings for Sunday evening include a snack supper and program for the Vesper Voices, Junior High and Senior Groups. Ice cream will be served immediately following the Evening Service by the Junior High MYF group with the proceeds being used to defray expenses for their summer camp program.

"Make Your Own Decision" will be the sermon subject of the Rev. Alan Lynch for the 10:50 a.m. worship service at First Christian here Sunday.

At the 7 p.m. service, Rev. Lynch will have as his subject, "Man's Liberty and God's Glory."

Junior Fellowship and Christian Youth Fellowship groups will meet at 6 p.m. Sunday. The mid-week service is set for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. The study for the mid-week service next week will be the third in a series on "World Outreach of Texas Christian Churches."

Colonial Hill Deacons Have Retreat Today

Deacons of Colonial Hill Baptist Church are having a retreat at Lake J. B. Thomas this evening and Saturday morning.

Supper will be served at 7 p. m. and a program will begin at 8 o'clock tonight.

Featured speaker at the retreat will be Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of First Baptist Church in Big Spring, who will speak on the subject, "Serving the Lord Christ." The program will be primarily a workshop with discussions on various responsibilities of the office of deacon, as well as the planning of a specific program of work for the coming months. The pastor, Dr. Jimmie Nelson, will bring the closing message Saturday morning.

Deacons of the church who will be charged with discussion topics are D. V. Merritt Jr., speaking on "Serving Him as a Deacon, How Long;" Kenneth Wilson, on "Serving Him Together—Deacons and Pastor;" and E. H. Williamson, "Serving Him in Prayer."

Wilson is chairman of the deacons at Colonial Hill.

Others participating in arrangements and program are H. W. Cargile, Burton Tankerlsey, M. H. Roe, and Ralph Wesson. Recreation will include fishing and swimming.

Rev. Green Due On Morning Devotions

The Rev. James Green, pastor of Morningside Baptist Church, will be the speaker on the "Morning Devotions" radio program next week. The program is presented at 9:15 a.m. daily, Monday through Friday, over KSNY.

It is scheduled by the radio committee of the Snyder Ministerial Alliance.

MISS RUTH JACKSON

Revival Set By Assembly

Northside Assembly of God will begin a revival campaign Sunday.

The revival services will be conducted by Evangelist Ruth Jackson of Fort Worth. Miss Jackson has been an evangelist since she was 16. She will present a sermon, and there will be special music and singing each night.

The service will begin at 7:45 p. m. each night, except Saturday. The revival will continue for two weeks, and the public is invited to attend all services, said the Rev. Ted Miller, pastor.

First Family Together In White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's first family was together in the White House today for the first time in three weeks.

Its complement was brought up to full strength Thursday night with the return of Mrs. Kennedy from a week's vacation in Greece.

Bronzed from her sojourn in the sunny Mediterranean, she did not return empty handed. There was a model of a Greek sailing boat for the President, a former Navy officer, and loads of gifts for the children, Caroline, 3, and John Jr., 6 months.

Among the presents were dresses and clothing—and Greek dolls for Caroline.

Mrs. Kennedy had accompanied the President on his trip to Europe for conferences with Soviet Premier Khrushchev, French President Charles de Gaulle and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Kennedy left the First Lady in London when he returned June 5 from his trip. She went on to Greece.

For the homecoming, the President, still bothered by an ailing back, motored to Washington National Airport to await arrival of his wife on the family plane "Caroline" from New York. He remained in the car.

Mrs. Kennedy had flown by commercial plane from Athens via Rome to New York and then transferred to the "Caroline."

It was shortly before midnight when the plane touched down on the Washington airport. As Mrs. Kennedy, composed and smiling, strolled down the runway, the crowd of about 200 was silent. This contrasted with the joyous outbursts that accompanied her arrivals and departures in Greece and elsewhere in Europe.

And then, suddenly, as she was about halfway to the limousine, applause and cheers erupted. The Kennedys embraced briefly inside the presidential auto, paused smilingly a moment for photographers and drove away.

Speech Is Relayed To East Germany

BERLIN (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev's televised speech was relayed directly to East Germany and other Soviet bloc countries Thursday night. The transmission was handled by Intervision, the eastern equivalent of Eurovision in the West.

West Berliners and West Germans living near the iron curtain border could see the program by switching over to the East German channel. Khrushchev's voice could be heard in the background while a running German translation was provided by an unseen interpreter.

Giant Prehistoric Skeletons Found

DAR ES-SALAAM, Tanganyika (AP)—Dr. L. S. B. Leakey, curator of Nairobi's Coryndon Museum, announced Thursday the discovery in Tanganyika's Olduvai Gorge of two giant prehistoric skeletons.

He told a news conference the almost complete skeletons were of a dinotherium, a forebear of the elephant which lived about 500,000 years ago, and a 12-foot-tall ostrich well over 600,000 years old.

More Troops Sail

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—Three Portuguese liners, Mocambique, Uige and Ana Mafalda, sailed Thursday for Angola with several thousand more troops and war material.

No Fancy Equipment For Feast

An old-fashioned corn-on-the-cob feast doesn't require any fancy equipment to be loads of fun. Just pack a big kettle in which to boil the corn at the cooking site. Bring a long-handled fork to spear the corn out of the kettle, a pan in which to melt butter, some salt and pepper shakers and a large roll of paper towels.

Paper towels can help out innumerable ways. For instance, drain the freshly boiled corn on them, then wrap each ear in fresh towels to keep the corn hot until you are ready to serve. Don't forget, too, that folded paper towels make excellent insulated holders with which to grasp those hot ears of corn.

A Western Influence

Much food is wasted on outdoor grills because of too much heat, soot and smoke. In the Western states where outdoor living originated, gas-fired grills have become very popular because they prevent this kind of overcooking. The experienced outdoor chef now demands controllable heat. Gas is more convenient because the fire does not have to be started well in advance of cooking and there is no need to cart fuel and fire starters home with groceries. Heat is available at the turn of a control and it can be adjusted to the exact temperature you need.

WOMEN

Inez Durham Is Having Great Time

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—If ever a woman is quietly proud, it's Inez Durham.

She's taking her first plane ride, making her first visit to New York and Washington, enjoying her family's first vacation trip together and all because other people share her long-held view that her husband Earl is a wonderful guy.

The public recognition came when Earl Durham was named Worker Father of the Year by the National Fathers Day Committee for his community youth work.

From the first word of his selection until the Durhams and their four children took off for the East last weekend, their five-room white frame house in Louisville, Ky., rocked with excitement.

Mrs. Durham, a slim brunette, lost five pounds she'd rather have kept, in the frantic preparations for the trip sponsored by Durham's union and the tobacco company he has worked for for 25 years.

The two older daughters, Janice Compton, 23, and Sandra, 19, do office work for the same company. Carole, 16, and Bob, 15, go to high school.

They all agree about pop: "We think he's great. We're glad he's our father."

Mrs. Durham says she's having the time of her life, on the go every minute. In addition to seeing the customary tourist attractions, the family has visited its first night club, met Yankee Manager Ralph Houk—Sports Father of the Year—at a baseball game, was interviewed on a network television show, and rode down in an elevator with TV's Bill Cullen.

Preventive Maintenance

Service contracts on air conditioning systems mean that your system will be cleaned, oiled and adjusted before trouble can start. Read your operating manual and contracts carefully. Be sure to find out how often motors should be oiled and fan belts tightened. Try to arrange for off-season visits when service men have more time available to answer your questions.

An Artist, His Integrity

THE FORGER. By Jay Williams.

An artist's bread and butter can be, and has to be, bought with coin of the realm. But who can buy an artist's integrity and his soul? Here is a novel that poses the old question of art's commercial temptations in a narrative about a contemporary painter.

He is Rufus Griffin, a young man of pretty fair promise, who makes his bread and butter doing book jackets and magazine illustrations while trying to paint Art.

He meets with these disillusionments: One of his colleagues gives up serious painting to make a good living on comic strips. Another accepts the patronage of designing female (slightly married) and goes to Paris to "study," but is killed in an accident. Adrienne, the girl Rufus has fallen in love with, vacillates between him and a very successful magazine cover artist.

So Rufus, tempted by the prospect of a large chunk of money, fakes an Old Master for a shady character who has connections with dealers and collectors. Fortunately, with the help of an engaging art critic, he gets himself out of that mess before it is too late, and by the very act of clearing his conscience he fans the spark of his own creative genius.

The book contains a lot of background on the New York art world, which sounds fairly authentic, though the choice of Giorgione as the artist to be faked is rather a stretch of credibility. The plot resolves Rufus' romantic problem with the aid of a girl who has loved him quietly all the time, and the whole affair turns out well. It's good entertainment.

Rugged, Brainy Girls Are Creating Difficult Problem

BY INEZ ROBB

This is a world in which men are ever more constantly in need of tender, loving care.

Les girls are ceaselessly crowding them with "Anything you can do, I can do better".

I have just been reading that women inventors earn more money from their brain waves than do men inventors. Why? Because women invent simple, practical things that other women want instead of perpetual-motion machines, family planes with folding wings that can be used on land as a station wagon, or inflatable rubber dice for swimming pools.

Men invent big things like atomic reactors while les girls are patenting and marketing a combination potato peeler and eyebrow tweezer that sells like crazy in the supermarket. The betting is six, two and even that the better mouse trap was invented by a woman whose husband spent his life patenting an easy way to whittle wooden ships in glass bottles.

I'm not defending the girls; I'm not saying it's fair. It's just that this latest batch of statistics to which I am privy says that women make almost twice as much money on their inventions as men garner on theirs.

And right here on my desk is a new clipping about a woman who has just been arrested for mulcting her trusting and astounded employer of just under $500,000. My sex is making a piker of Willie Sutton.

Sometimes, I think the vote has gone to our heads. Right now is one of those times when I read that a female bullfighter has slain 88,375 pounds of bulls.

It's a great temptation to say that's a lot of bull and ask who weighed the hapless creatures—101 of them—she has killed since 1951.

Heaven is my witness that I do not approve of women taking up where Raffles left off. But if I can have my druthers, I'll take the girl with the sticky fingers every day to the female matador. As a stalwart non-aficionado of the bullring, I don't even think it is proper, honest or humane work for men. For a woman to get into the bloody business of the bullring is the ultimate argument against equal rights for mine, the tender sex.

Men are running scared of women in the second half of the 20th Century as it is, without misguided girls throwing them into sheer panic by taking up bullfighting and becoming matadors. It's not so much a question of who would wear the pants in such a case, but whether Sweetie Pie would bring her work home from the office.

A good man is especially hard to find in these trying times, if I read the lonely hearts columns aright, and I think I do. Women who take up bullfighting just make it that much harder for their sisters. Not one man in a million wants to fight a bull, and more power to his good sense. When he reads about a woman matador, he rightly judges that the opposite sex is too rugged for domestication and puts another lock on his hermitage.

The reporter who interviewed Miss Matador lost me when he asked her, "Would you want to be married to a bullfighter?"

He should have gone out and asked that question of the first 10 men he met in the street. But, really, he already has the answer. Miss Matador started fighting bulls 10 years ago at the age of 21 and she is still Miss Matador.

There is a moral here for my sex, and I hope les girls read it loud and clear.

Blind Youth Is Given Bike

CLINTONVILLE, Wis. (AP) — For most strong, athletic teen-age boys, riding a bike isn't an improbable dream. But for Brad Henschel, it was. Brad is blind.

But time and courage have a way with dreams. For his 15th birthday, the varsity wrestler and swimmer got his bike from his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gilford Henschel. But riding it takes a little cooperation from his brother Dan.

Eleven-year-old Dan is big enough to ride a bike, too, now. And the Henschels bought a bicycle built for two. Brad and Dan tried it out today, with Dan steering. The system works fine.

Medals Delivered

CIUDAD TRUJILLO (AP) — The Dominican Republic got a new supply of medals Thursday. The importation of $14,000 worth was announced but there was no indication of their country of origin. Presumably they had been ordered in the regime of Dictator Rafael L. Trujillo, who was assassinated May 30.

Dad Really Needed On Father's Day

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Mother vowed that this year Father's Day would be different.

"Every year I give dad a necktie," she told her children. "Sis, you always give him a pair of sox. And Junior, you usually give him a tie clasp—or something else he never wears and you happen to need.

"Well, this year why don't we give him a real surprise party to show how much we appreciate him? Why don't we treat him to a steak dinner at the best restaurant in town?"

So it was that on the evening of Father's Day a surprised dad was cajoled into putting on his best suit and escorted to the family bus. He was startled when Junior drove the car into the parking lot of the "Sirloin Gulch" restaurant.

"Hey," he protested. "We can't go in there. It's too expensive."

"Not tonight it isn't," said mother. "This treat is on us—and we want you to have the very best."

Well, dad was still a bit nervous when the shrimp salad arrived.

But he began to relax when the waiter uncorked a bottle of red French wine, and put four great steaks and four steaming baked potatoes on the table.

"Gee, this is really nice—but you shouldn't have done it," he mumbled, his mouth full of rich juicy sirloin.

Junior lifted his glass in a toast "To the best dad in the whole wide world."

"And the nicest," said Sis, lifting her glass.

"And the kindest and dearest and gentlest," said mother, looking over at him across many years of fondness. She didn't see a balding middle-aged man with a tubby stomach. She saw the man she had married, young and lean and full of eager dreams.

Later, after dessert, the lady at the nearby electronic organ broke into a medley of "Daddy, Dear Old Daddy" and "Oh, Papa." Dad's eyes misted. He felt mellow and sentimental and terribly afraid he might break into tears.

It was at that moment the waiter put in front of him a bill for $26.38.

Mother gaily snatched it up, handed it to Junior and said, "Pay the man."

"Me?" said Junior. "I'm stony busted, mom. I was going to borrow my share from you." He put the bill in front of Sis.

"I was too," said Sis. She put the bill in front of mother.

"Oh, dear," said mother. "I meant to cash a check at the grocery store yesterday, but I..."

Silently dad emptied his pockets, including the $20 he kept hidden in his wallet for emergencies. He finally came up with $29.13, handed it to the waiter and told him grandly, "Keep the change."

All but dad were embarrassed during the drive home.

"It was our treat," mother kept saying. "We'll pay you back tomorrow."

"Yes, indeedy," said Sis.

"You can count on it," said Junior.

Laughing inside himself, dad knew very well they wouldn't. But he was happy. They had wanted to surprise him and—well, they had. He had rarely felt more necessary.

Moral: Nothing takes the place of a dad on Father's Day.

Lubbock League Gets Franchise

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—The Lubbock NBC League, consisting of Texas teams, was franchised today by the National Baseball Congress.

This is one of a network of non-pro leagues with players of unlimited age being franchised throughout Texas in connection with qualifying teams into the annual Texas State Tournament at Alice Aug. 5.

Logan-Black Duo Cardinal Tradition

Partners, all the way.

That's the bond which has existed for several moons now between manager Buck Logan and his coach, Truman Black, whose combined talents have been pooled in the guiding of the Little League Cardinals for the greater part of the past decade.

Logan has headed up the young Redbirds every season since the inception of Little League ball in the city, and is currently in his tenth season in the managing saddle.

During that span he has missed being at the helm of his team only twice.

The first occasion was due to his being hospitalized the day of a game, a heat stroke dealing the whammy. He watched the contest that evening from his car, which was stashed away conveniently behind the Card dugout.

The second absence was for a very good reason, too, and came about when a conflict developed on the night of a Cardinal contest. That was the evening when his daughter, Jane, was married to one Jack Spikes. Spikes has since become the most famous son-in-law as ever produced by the city, gaining all-American acclaim as a fullback at Texas Christian University. He and Jane now reside in Dallas, where he is a professional gridder for the Texans of the American Football League.

Logan's righthand man through it all has been the aforementioned Black, who at present is working his eighth consecutive season. A quirk of fate led up to his procurement.

It all began when Black happened by the Cardinal practice field one day to watch his son, Phillip, as he worked out with the team. Logan was running shorthanded at the time, and recruited Black to ease the situation by belting out a few flies to his outfielders.

Black cheerfully obliged, and after the practice session was thanked graciously by Logan. He (Black) assured him that he was more than glad to help out, and that he would be happy to lend a hand again at any time.

Which was all the cue Logan needed, as the invitation of "Why not stay on and be my regular coach" was extended, Black accepting.

Every one of Black's eight years has seen at least one of his sons in a Cardinal uniform. Phillip, who was mentioned previously, will be a college sophomore this fall, having attended Texas Tech and Southern Methodist University over the past year. The second oldest—Joe—is now playing with the Phillies of the local Colt League, while still younger brother David has cast his lot with the Pony League Cats. The youngest of the quartet — Rickey is with his dad's Little League Cardinals, and will have one more year of eligibility remaining with the team at termination of the current season.

It would take a real "oldtimer" around these parts to remember when Logan and Black weren't working together in the furtherment of the Cardinals, and also to recall when one of the little Blacks wasn't a little Card.

Terry Now Yank 'Regular'

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

You have to figure Ralph Terry knew what he was talking about. Give him a chance to work every fourth day, and he can be a winning pitcher.

The young, lean right-hander wasn't beaten, but he had only a 2-0 record in his first nine starts this season for the New York Yankees.

Now, working in a regular four-day pattern, he's still unbeaten and has won three in a row—and he's pitched the Yankees into first place.

Terry went all the way, giving up seven hits, as the Yanks beat Cleveland 3-2 in 11 innings Thursday night and moved on top all by themselves for the first time this season. The loss dropped the Indians into a second place tie with the Detroit Tigers, who were whipped 10-1 by the Boston Red Sox.

The Yankees, who last were in first on May 3, when they were deadlocked with the Tigers, have a .005 percentage point hold on the lead going into the opener of a three-game series at Detroit tonight.

Washington tied Baltimore for fourth place by beating the Orioles 5-2, the Chicago White Sox won their seventh in a row, 3-2, over the Los Angeles Angels, and Minnesota beat Kansas City 4-3.

In the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the Chicago Cubs 6-3 in 12 innings for a half-game lead. Cincinnati defeated Pittsburgh 8-1 and kept a second place tie with the San Francisco Giants, who whipped Milwaukee 6-3. St. Louis rapped Philadelphia 6-3.

The Yankees, winning 13 of their last 15, beat the Injuns when pinch-hitter Bob Cerv took a base on balls, stole second and came in on a two-out single by pinch-hitter John Blanchard off losing relief ace Frank Funk (7-5). The Indians blew a 1-0 lead behind starter, Mudcat Grant, but tied it 2-all in the ninth on a single by Johnny Romano.

Grant had blanked the Yankees on three hits until the seventh inning. Then Mickey Mantle led off with his 19th homer, Yogi Berra was safe on a two-base error by Tito Francona and Elston Howard brought him home with a single. Terry (5-0) walked just one and struck out eight for his third straight complete game and second victory over the Indians.

A grand-slam homer by Vic Wertz capped a winning, five-run fifth inning for the Red Sox and beat Jim Bunning (5-6). Righthander Bill Monbouquette (6-6) was the winner.

The Senators backed the four-hit pitching of Ed Hobaugh (4-3) with an 11-hit attack against the Orioles. Hec Brown (6-3) was the loser.

Jose Valdivielso beat Kansas City and reliever Jerry Staley (0-4) with a ninth-inning single after the A's had tied it in their ninth. Hank Bauer hit a two-run homer for the A's, and Bob Allison swatted a three-run double for the Twins. Jack Kralick (6-4) was the winner.

The White Sox broke up a two-hit shutout by Eli Grba (5-6) with three unearned runs in the eighth. Billy Pierce (3-5), winning two in a row for the first time this year, and reliever Warran Hacker combined for a four-hitter against the Angels.

Bucs Sign Prep Star

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates today signed 18-year-old prep baseball star Bob Bailey for what may have been baseball's biggest bonus.

Rumors place it around $175,000. The Pirates and Bailey aren't saying. The previous high figure—one carefully guarded in baseball circles—was believed to be about $50,000 less.

Bailey stands a bit over six feet tall, weighs 185, and hits like the village blacksmith. He batted .475 in 19 high school games this season. He got better-than-average grades (a straight B average) and turned down several football scholarships to big-name colleges to sign with the Pirates.

They are sending him to Asheville of the Class A Sally League to play shortstop.

Morrow On Americanism

FORT WORTH (AP) — Bobby Morrow, Texas' greatest contribution to the Olympics, will become a television actor in behalf of Americanism.

The sprint champion of the 1956 Olympics will depict a history and civics teacher and high school track coach in a 30-minute dramatic program scheduled for a 26-week series. It will be titled "The Dedicated American."

The Fort Worth Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the nationwide television series and is taking a pilot film to the Junior Chamber of Commerce convention at Atlanta next week to obtain additional sponsors.

"Through this medium we plan to outline problems that confront teachers in their daily activities," said Jack Moulton, the local Jaycee vice president. "Our aim is to promote Americanism and help people realize that school teachers are on a professional level."

A minimum of 100 TV markets is necessary. Moulton said it was hoped to have the program on the air by Nov. 1.

The National Education Association has endorsed the program, which is being produced by Fidelity Film Production of Dallas.

Hogan Still Sentimental Favorite

By DAVE DILES
Associated Press Sports Writer

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP) — The intense little man in the familiar white cap socked his drive perfectly down the middle of the fairway, stuck another cigaret in his mouth and marched swiftly off the tee. A huge crowd went with him.

Golf fans are devoted to Ben Hogan, as they are to no other man who still swings a club.

He is the sentimental favorite, of course, in the U.S. Open. He always is. But the experts doubt that Hogan, at 48, can win an unprecedented fifth Open title.

"He can't putt any more," his old friends say. And the word has spread that Hogan "freezes on the green."

It was no slip when a fellow Texan and Hogan's old friend, Byron Nelson, did not mention "The Hawk" when he was naming pre-tournament favorites.

"If Ben could just get those putts in, he'd win it," said Nelson. "But you have to compete, and Ben just doesn't compete enough. Practice and preparation don't do the job on a tournament like this. You have to feel the pressure, and you have to be accustomed to putting for money."

Hogan shot a first round 71 Thursday, one over par at the course where he won the Open in 1951. That left him only two shots away from the lead, but Hogan was not proud of the round.

"This course should have played easier than 71," Hogan remarked.

Hogan, the man who has made golf a study like Ted Williams studied baseball, won the Open in 1948, 1950, 1951 and 1953. He led last year at Denver with two holes to play, but then went 4-over-par.

Hogan still has to prove that he doesn't freeze on the putts, though, and he will not be drawn into any long discussion about his work on the greens.

"Generally, I thought I putted pretty well," he said of his first round work.

Someone asked if he thought three more 71 rounds would be good enough to win.

The man who won it with 287 here a decade ago answered quickly: "A 284 might win it this time, but it shouldn't."

Rain Puts Temporary 'Damper' On Tourney

ODESSA, Tex. (AP)—Quarter-finals are scheduled today in the Women's West Texas Golf Tournament.

Rain washed them out Thursday.

Both semi-final and final matches will be played Saturday.

Players are left in the field: Sandra Palmer, Fort Worth, the defending champion; Charlotte Schulz, Wichita Falls; Mrs. Mike Baimes, El Paso; Mrs. Curtis Allen, Kermit; Mrs. Clendon Kerr, Lubbock; Mrs. W.M. Hays Jr., Abilene; Mrs. W.K. Powell, San Angelo; and Mrs. A.L. Zayrefel, Fort Worth.

'SCHMOE' BOLT UNHAPPY

Milwaukee Unknown In U. S. Open Lead

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP)—A bright newcomer pro, Bobby Brue of Milwaukee, held a one stroke lead and was just about the only happy man in the 150-player field which plunged into the second round of the 61st U.S. Open golf championship today.

Former champion Tommy Bolt, who usually just gets mad at himself, rankled over a spectator's tongue-lashing which apparently caused him to fall into a second-place deadlock at even-par 70 with Bob Goalby, another ambitious, if unheralded pro.

All except three players were over par in a temper-testing round at windswept Oakland Hills Thursday. Today's second 18-hole skirmishing will reduce the field to the top 50 and ties for Saturday's closing double-round.

Brue, 26, former University of Miami (Fla.) golf captain playing in his second Open, tamed Oakland Hills' par 35-35—70 course for the day's only sub-par round, 35-34—69.

Bolt took three bogies after a spectator called him a "schmoe"—a Jewish term roughly translated into "jerk"—on the 14th green.

Bolt had complained when a small girl ran across his line of vision on a putt. That brought the "Don't be a schmoe" crack from a spectator.

Bunched between 71 and 74 were no fewer than 46 famous and not-so-famous shooters, including six former Open champions.

Ben Hogan, seeking an unprecedented fifth Open title, was grouped with six others at 71, two strokes off the pace.

Nine players were locked at 72, including Doug Ford, Dow Finsterwald, Bob Rosburg and Dave Douglas.

Among 15 tied at 73 were 1955 U.S. Open champ Jack Fleck and Sammy Snead, who four times has been a bridesmaid, but never a winner in the Open.

The 73 crowd also included the top amateurs, Bill Hyndman of Huntingdon Valley, Pa., and Fred Mosely of Madison, Wis.

There were 15 jammed at 74, among them four former Open titlists—defending champion Arnold Palmer, Billy Casper (1959) Julius Boros (1952) and Cary Middlecoff (1949).

IT DROPPED IN—Ben Hogan picks the ball out of the cup after sinking a 45-yard uphill chip from the fairway for an eagle 3 on the second hole in the U. S. Open at Birmingham, Michigan. Playing partners Bill Casper, Jr., foreground right, and William Hyndman also move in to take a look. (AP Wirephoto)

Okla. State Felled In Final Fray

OMAHA (AP) — Southern California, with Jim Withers winning his 12th game of the season, captured the NCAA College Baseball World Series championship Thursday night on a 1-0 decision over Oklahoma State.

It was the third time Southern California has won the championship. The Trojans are the first to achieve such a distinction. They were 4-0 in the tourney.

Withers had a real battle to subdue Littleton Fowler, the Oklahoma State sophomore pitching ace who had 18 2-3 scoreless innings to his credit before the Trojans got to him for the one big run.

It was knocked in by 27-year-old Art Ersepke, a hitting star throughout for Southern California.

Fowler went home with the trophy as the outstanding player of the tourney. The Cowboy sophomore won two games, one in relief and one on a one-hitter.

The San Francisco Giants had the poorest fielding team in the National League last season. They made 166 errors, 11 more than Philadelphia.

Scots' Eyes On Morrow

TURNBERRY, Scotland (AP) —A skinny American who started hitting golf shots when he was seven years old went into the quarter-finals of the British Amateur Tournament today.

Ralph Morrow, 27-year-old airman from Oklahoma City, had the eyes of the Scots focused on him. He was the only American left.

Americans make a habit of doing well in the British championship. They've won the title seven times since the end of World War II.

Morrow is the European champion of the U.S. Air Force.

Morrow plays Geoff Dixon—23 year old English club golfer, in the quarter-finals. If Morrow gets past Dixon, he runs into the winner of the Joe Carr-Jimmy Walker match. Carr is defending champion.

Precipitated Whammy

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP)—The men's West Texas golf tournament gets a delayed start today.

The qualifying round schedule Thursday was rained out. That cut the length of the tournament from 72 holes to 54. The final round will be Sunday.

GOING HOME—Tired, beaten, hungry and ragged, the Texas Confederate returned home to beat his sword into a plowshare. The river of golden dreams turned to a sewer pit at Appomattox. The glory that was Jeff Davis' Confederacy turned to ashes. Its battle flag, along with a way of life, was no more. Reconstruction was ahead. But in 100 years, the South, at peace, would rise again. (Sketch by Dmitri Vail for The Associated Press)

TEXAS IN THE CIVIL WAR

Men Sought Action

By CLAYTON HICKERSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

The Texas Confederate was a man who wanted to fight. He wanted to fight for a variety of reasons, including an inborn desire of the youth of the time to flex his muscles and prove himself a man.

Such a type of fighter was Lt. Dick Dowling at Sabine Pass and, perhaps, Tom Green at Velverde, although Green had proved his mettle at San Jacinto.

Then there was the gentle homesteader turned warrior in defense of his home and womenfolk, who thought every Yankee an abolitionist and every Northerner a man who wanted to take away his rights.

There were the tavern and livery stable brawlers who like a fight for the fight's sake, some to become great heroes on both sides of the Civil War.

Finally, there were the professionals, all too few across Old Dixie, the dedicated men like Hood and Lee and Taylor who quit commissions in the Union Army to cast their lot with the South.

Men like these rushed to arms in Texas, ready to fight, ready to die any time, any place for a cause they thought right to their dying moment. It was men like these, 55,000 strong who came to the aid of the Confederacy, 20,000 in the first year.

No greater tribute ever was paid the Texas fighting man than one which came from Robert E. Lee. Reviewing troops one day with a visitor from Europe, Lee noticed that the visitor was aghast as a Texas outfight marched by, nearly every one with the seat worn from his trousers.

"Never mind their raggedness," the southern commander said, smiling. "The enemy never sees the backs of my Texans."

A Federal officer once said of Terry's Texas Rangers: "The Texas Rangers are as quick as lightning. They ride like Arabs, shoot like archers . . . and fight like devils."

The most [illegible] fightin'est, hell for leather outfit in the Confederate Army, perhaps, was Hood's Texas Brigade. So was its commander, Gen. John Bell Hood, the 6 foot 2 blond from Kentucky who always claimed Texas as his home.

In its first action, Hood's Brigade was ordered at Eltham's Landing on the York River in Virginia to "feel the enemy gently and fall back."

Hood's outfit drove the Federals 1½ miles back to the river and under protection of Union gunboats. Annoyed at the advance, Gen. Joseph Johnston, the Confederate area commander, asked Hood, "What would your Texans have done, sir, if I had ordered you to charge and drive back the enemy?"

"I suppose, General," smiled Hood, "they would have driven them into the river and tried to swim out and capture the gunboats."

The only major engagements missed by Hood's Texas Brigade were the first Battle of Bull Run and Chancellorsville. After one battle, Hood was asked the whereabouts of his command.

"Dead on the field," he answered. He was severely wounded at Chickamauga by a minie ball in the leg. He lost his leg and never led his beloved brigade again.

"Go ahead," he told his Texans, "and keep ahead of everything."

As he left office late in 1861 to turn it over to Francis Lubbock, Edward Clark, the state's first secessionist governor, said: "Twenty thousand Texans are now battling for the rights of our newborn but gigantic government.

"They have covered themselves with glory on the plains of New Mexico and are formed in a cordon of safety around the border of our great state."

Clark, ridiculed by Sam Houston when he took over as governor from Houston, two years later raised his own regiment and fought with valor until badly wounded.

In almost every regiment of every army of the South, Texans—proud, rough, independent and ready to fight—were there as officers and enlisted men.

A group recruited in Northeast Texas at Clarksville was a good example of what Texas contributed to the Confederacy. Terry's Texas Rangers and Hood's Brigade won more renown, but received no more satisfaction than these men who wanted to fight.

This Clarksville outfit, organized in 1861, was mainly Red River County farmers.

They elected N. C. Gould their captain and quickly rode toward Memphis. The Texans came in contact with Lt. Col. Nathan Bedford Forrest, who was organizing a cavalry battalion. Gould and his outfit became Co. D of Forrest's Mounted Rangers.

Quickly they became known as the "Texas Cowboys." They departed in early October for Ft. Henry in Kentucky, stayed there a few days, and struck out northward into the lower reaches of the Cumberland River.

Part of the company reached the Ohio, capturing a transport at Canton. Joined by the rest of the company, they all engaged the Federal gunboat Conestoga," a military action with little significance except to show the Texans' desire to fight.

The Mounted Rangers were called out of winter headquarters at Hopkinsville, Ohio, three days after Christmas in 1861 to fight off an enemy crossing of the Green River. Riding hard, the Texans reached Greenville, Ky., in a day, crossed the river and found the Federals at Sacramento, Ky. Forrest and his Texans whipped the Federal force decisively and returned to Hopkinsville highly pleased.

Six weeks later, however, Ft. Henry had fallen and Forrest's outfit was shut up at Ft. Donelson along with the rest of the CSA troops of the area. A then-unknown general—U. S. Grant—asked their unconditional surrender.

Instead, Forrest took his Mounted Rangers under cover of darkness through icy sloughs surrounding the fort and beyond the Union lines to escape to doomed Nashville. He restored order at Nashville, panic-stricken after the fall of Ft. Donelson, took what stores he could, burned the Cumberland River bridge, and joined Gen. Albert Sidney Johnston in Mississippi.

Forrest arrived in north Mississippi, added two companies to his command, became a full colonel and [illegible] to Corinth. On April 6-7, 1862, his command took part in the fateful Battle of Shiloh.

Detailed to guard the Confederate rear as they withdrew, Forrest struck Sherman's pursuing column so hard the Federal pursuit ended and the army of the South fell back to Corinth.

From Corinth, the Texas company left Forrest and returned to Texas. Gould, now a colonel, raised the 23rd Texas Cavalry, which included many of the Clarksville company, several joining as officers. Thereafter, they served with the Trans-Mississippi Department but never forgot Shiloh and Forrest.

So it went with the Texans. They improvised, they scrounged, they fought with what they had and what they could capture. Four cannon, taken by Tom Green in New Mexico, later saw service in Galveston and at Mansfield, La. They used every weapon imaginable. An ammunition factory at Waxahachie often worked day and night."

Texans voted 4 to 1 for secession, but there were few men indeed among the losing 20 per cent who refused to help the Confederacy.

Their greatest battle, reconstruction with the carpetbaggers, was ahead of them, and it was a long time before Texas—and most especially the rest of the South—rose again.

30 Diplomas Are Delayed

SAN MARINO, Calif. (AP) — When the graduating class of San Marino High School marched up to receive diplomas, 30 members of the class got blank ones.

Principal John Landrum disclosed the reason Thursday, the day after graduation.

Two weeks before commencement a caravan of students drove to the Arcadia home of Vice Principal Norman Frost. They pelted his windows, roof, garage and lawn with rotten eggs, mellow melon, grapefruit rinds and other garbage.

Frost recognized one of the students and soon the whole group was known to school officials.

Landrum added the offending students eventually will get their diplomas by mail. But first, each must write a sincere letter of apology to Frost; do 40 hours of manual labor for the school; and finally, compose a 500-word essay on the subject, "What this experience means to me."

Doctor Loses Her License

BIG SPRING, Tex. (AP)—The Texas State Medical Board Thursday revoked the license of Dr. Eileen McAvoy to practice medicine in Texas.

Dr. McAvoy, 38, Big Spring, was found guilty of obtaining narcotics by false prescriptions and also of allowing unauthorized persons to practice medicine.

The board dropped allegations that she had been intemperature in the use of narcotics and that she prescribed narcotics to known addicts.

David Scarborough, attorney for Dr. McAvoy, announced he would appeal the decision.

Dr. McAvoy, on the advice of her counsel, did not take the stand.

She is also under indictment in 118th District Court here on charges of obtaining narcotics by false prescriptions.

Robbers Discard Part Of Their Loot

WASHINGTON, Mo. (AP) — Two robbers obtained $963 in cash and $906 in checks from the stickup of a Washington wholesale store Thursday.

But $293 was recovered from a pair of coveralls one of the bandits pitched out of the getaway car.

One Lousy Word Sticks

CHARLESTON, W. VA. (AP)—Back in 1944, Gen. Anthony McAuliffe had a one-word answer to a German demand that he surrender troops surrounded at Bastogne.

"Nuts," said McAuliffe, and he quickly became a national hero. But now the old soldier, ramrod-straight at 62 and a vice president of American Cyanamid Co. in New York City, thinks he used a poor choice of words.

"My God," he muttered bitterly while here to address an organizational meeting of the United Services Organization of which he's also national chairman, "I hear it everywhere I go."

McAuliffe added: "The thing that burns me up is that we fought a very good battle. I made some fine dispositions, if I do say so myself, my soldiers fought like hell. And all anyone remembers is that one lousy word."

Three Persons Die In Lubbock Crash

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—Three persons were killed and five injured Thursday in a headon crash of two autos near here.

Killed were Woodson Breedlove King, 46, Petersburg, Tex.; his wife, Mrs. Dorothy King, 48; and Mrs. Vina Ross Gould, 39, Plainview, Tex. All were in the same car.

Injured were James H. Yowell, 30, Ira Pyle, 27, Johnny Tyree, 20, Billy Ran Swaim, 22, all of Plainview, and Aaron Elmer Robertson, Kress.

They were taken to a Lubbock hospital.

Woman Is Charged With Ramming Auto

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Mrs. Johnnie Bledsoe, 22, was charged Thursday with ramming her automobile into one driven by her former husband, Watson J. Bledsoe, then using pieces of broken grille to beat him over the head.

He was not seriously injured.

She also was charged with having no driver's license on her person—but she had an explanation for that. She said she was wearing only a brassiere and panties, covered by a raincoat, when the incident took place.

GRAND OPENING TOMORROW — Two new establishments, above, Phillips Quick Service and the Town House Restaurant, will have their formal opening tomorrow. They are located seven blocks north of the Snyder square on Avenue S.

Grand Opening For Phillips Quick Service, Town House

A joint grand opening of the new Town House Restaurant and Phillips Quick Service, located seven blocks north of the square on Avenue S, will be the all-day highlight of tomorrow here in Snyder.

McCormick and Sons are the owners of the establishments, the second such joint unit now operating within the city, the other being the Sixty-Six Cafe and Phillips Super Service on East Highway.

Claude McCormick, along with sons Bobby, Billy, and Claude Jr., is the owner of the new establishment. Two other sons, Beecher and Keith, are currently jobbers in Lamesa.

Construction on the service station began in November, while February saw the initial work begun on the restaurant. T. E. Shelburne and Sons of Snyder were the construction contractors.

Bill Forguson, who is in his 10th year with the McCormick organization, has the dealership for the new service station. Paul Mazy, who has worked along with Forguson for eight of those years, will continue to do so. Maze is an expert grease man, and will specialize in the servicing of vehicles.

Featured within the service station will be a complete line of automobile accessories, also.

Ann Daniels is manager of the restaurant, while the chef is Frank Miranda, who is a veteran of 35 years as a chef.

Throughout the opening of tomorrow—which, will see the formal ceremony being conducted at 11 a. m.—the restaurant will feature a special of chicken-in-a-basket with french fries and drink for just 19 cents.

The service station formal opening is to get underway prior to that of the restaurant, the time on that being 7 a. m.

Opening day attractions there include the giving away of a pair of nylon hose for each fill up while there will be balloons and candies for the youngsters and key chains for the men.

Texas Solons Reject FCC Reorganization

WASHINGTON (AP)—Eighteen Texans were among House members voting to reject President Kennedy's proposal to reorganize the Federal Communications Commission.

They were: Beckworth, Brooks, Burleson, Casey, Dowdy, Fisher, Ikard, Kilday, Mahon, Poage, Rogers, Rutherford, Teague, Thompson, Thornberry, Wright and Young.

Rep. Thomas voted against the motion.

Bruce Alger, R-Tex., was not recorded as voting.

$8,000 Bail Is Set For Texan In Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A 100,000 pesos ($8,000) bail was set for 25-year-old Dorothy Joan McCain, who last week stabbed her Mexican husband on the back.

She was cleared by Judge Rosa Maria Ponce of other charges brought by her husband's lawyers, who said she stole $1,600 from him after stabbing him with a kitchen knife.

The pretty brunette from Gainesville, Tex., said she was forced to defend herself from the attacks of Miguel Burburg Pue, her rich cattle-raiser husband, tried to kill her during an argument in their apartment over a possible divorce.

Two Bombs Touched Off

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two homemade bombs were set off in downtown Washington Thursday night and early today and an anonymous caller told police the blasts were related to the integration "Freedom Riders" in the South.

Police Pvt. John Logan, a dispatcher at headquarters, said the caller told him four more bombs were set. On that basis three would remain, since the call came soon after the first blast and the second one followed hours later.

Logan said a man's voice told him, in what the dispatcher described as a Southern accent, that the caller was in Washington with the bombs "because that's where the Freedom Riders start from."

No one was reported injured.

The first explosion occurred at 11 p.m. in a refuse can at the northeast corner of Vermont Avenue and H Street NW.

The second went off at 8.10 a.m. today in an unoccupied telephone booth at 15th Street and Massachusetts Avenue NW.

The Chaw's What Did It

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ralph Terry packed a chaw of tobacco in his mouth, picked up a new pitch and hurled the New York Yankees into undisputed possession of first place in the American League for the first time this season.

"I started chewing the last time I pitched," said the handsome 25-year-old right-hander after limiting Cleveland to seven hits in New Yorks 3-2 victory in 11 innings Thursday night. "It seems to relax me out there."

The new pitch was acquired under the tutelage of Johnny Sain, the Yanks' pitching coach. "Sain has worked with me on my curve ball," said Terry. "I guess you'd call it a faster curve. I use it instead of the slider."

Manager Ralph Houk, who is happy to be in first place—even though it is only by .006 over second-place Cleveland and Detroit—was raving about Terry (5-0).

"I've seen Terry pitch well before," said the Yankee skipper, "but this was one of the very best ever for him."

Highway Bill Has Senate Approval

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has passed the multi-billion-dollar highway financing bill after adding an extension of the billboard control bonus plan.

The measure gives President Kennedy the major share of the revenues he asked for the interstate road system.

The Senate gave its voice vote approval Thursday night after a nine-hour session. The measure now goes back to the House which has passed its own version.

One major difference between the Senate and House bills: A Senate amendment to continue for two years incentive payments to states to regulate billboards.

The bill is a landmark. This is the first time since the 41,000-mile interstate system of expressways was set up in 1956 that financing is provided to cover the entire federal share of the cost.

The federal government picks up 90 per cent of the tab. Of the system's estimated cost of $41 billion. Washington pays almost $37 billion.

Advocates of continuing the billboard control bonus plan say they have hopes the House will accept it. Rep. George H. Fallon, D-Md., chairman of the House public roads subcommittee, said he was prepared to do so.

The billboard extension proposal was adopted on a voice vote in the Senate after its supporters beat down, 55 to 38, an attempt to limit it to one year.

The bill increases the apportionments of federal funds to the states for the interstate system by $11.56 billion over the next 11 years, and provides the extra revenues to meet these allotments.

The apportionments will be stepped up starting with the one for fiscal 1963, scheduled to be made next month. It will be $2.4 billion, as compared with $2.2 billion for fiscal 1962. The apportionments are authority to the states to let contracts.

Soviet Fishermen On Grand Banks

FORTUNE, Nfld. (AP) — The Newfoundland trawler Barbara Fletcher reported Thursday a Soviet fishing fleet of 70 to 80 ships, believed the largest Soviet group ever seen in the area, is operating on the Grand Banks of Newfoundland.

Crew members said the trawlers put their catches aboard large factory ships at night, using flood lights. When Canadian trawlers approached, said the crew members, the Soviets turned out the light and scattered.

Most insect-eating plants use leaves to capture food. The "steeltrap" type claps its leaf halves shut to imprison unwary insects. The "flypaper" species mire their prey in a sticky solution. Victims of the "pitfall" plants tumble to their death in a cupped pool of water mixed with digestive fluids.

Longer Stay For OAS Panel Urged

By BEN F. MEYER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States appeared ready today to take its case for a thorough investigation of repression in the Dominican Republic to the Organization of American States.

The U.S. representative on an OAS committee sent last week to the Caribbean country claimed Thursday night he was outvoted by the other members when he pressed for a longer stay.

The committee chairman — a Panamanian—denied to reporters in a separate interview that the United States had urged an extended stay.

The committee returned to Washington Thursday night. Its mission was to determine if the Dominican Republic was ready for readmission to the American family of nations.

A few hours earlier, the State Department issued an extraordinary statement all but saying that the mission had not stayed long enough on the job and in any event should have left official representation in the Dominican Republic to continue its inquiry.

The statement called for a "close and continued study."

U.S. officials have made clear they believe there has been no real change in the Dominican government since the assassination May 30 of the country's veteran dictator Rafael L. Trujillo. They have been equally emphatic in saying the United States will not recognize a government carrying on the same policies as the Trujillo regime.

Gerald Drew, the U.S. representative on the mission, said he had presented "very firmly and emphatically" a U.S. suggestion that the committee stay longer for a thorough investigation. The United States has contended there is suppression of liberty, detention of political prisoners and terror tactics.

In addition, it has indicated that there might be reprisals against anti-government citizens in the Dominican Republic who testified to the commission.

Panama's ambassador Augusto Arango denied to reporters that the United States had urged the committee to stay on. Drew did not hear Arango's denial but told reporters in a separate interview that he had presented the U.S. viewpoint strongly and emphatically to the commission and was outvoted.

Asked by newsmen about Washington's request that the committee stay on the job Arango said "we didn't go there from the State Department" and that "we could hardly receive instructions from the State Department."

He said all four nations represented — Panama, the United States, Colombia and Uruguay — went as members of the OAS.

Three In Family Fatally Injured

GRAHAM, Tex. (AP) — Three members of a Weatherford, Tex., family were injured fatally in the collision of their small foreign-made car and a pickup truck on rain-slick state Highway 254 six miles south of here Thursday night.

Billy Ray Shirley, 25, and his daughter, about 2-years-old, were killed instantly. His wife, Beatrice, 23, died later in a hospital. Brown said the driver of the truck was Marion Edgar Smith, 54, Mineral Wells.

He was held by police without charge.
