

How Well Versed Are You On Duties Of Public Officials?

BY JACK ROBERTS

Snyder voters will go to the polls Saturday to elect a group of people to be their public servants for the next four years. How much do you know about the duties of the public officials to be elected?

In order to answer these questions, we have prepared a quiz to show you professional involvement in community affairs. Holding the office and possible training for the position, we revealed, you will find the answers to such questions as:

STATE SENATOR
In addition to Scurry County the state senator is elected from the 24th district will represent citizens of Dickens, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Jordan, Fisher, Jones, Shackelford, Howard, Mitchell, Nolan and Taylor counties. There are 23 senators in the Texas Senate. Bills passed first by the House of Representatives must then be passed by the Senate. However, the Senate itself can initiate any bill with the exception of those dealing with taxation.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE
The duty of the state representative is to represent the citizens of his district to the best of his ability in the Texas House of Representatives. Laws regarding taxation must be initiated in the House. Representatives are expected to keep themselves informed on current legislation, and vote according to the mandate of their constituents.

Scurry County is part of the 20th District, one of the smallest districts in Texas. This means that each voter has a larger individual representation in the laws of the state than voters in most other districts.

The salary of all legislators, including both senators and representatives was set by a constitutional amendment adopted Nov. 8, 1902. It follows: Not to exceed $4,800 per year plus $12 per day for the first 120 days of a regular session and for the first 30 days of a special session plus mileage of $12 per mile.

COUNTY JUDGE
The County Judge is the presiding officer of the Commissioner's Court which consists of $2,000 the worth of county business annually. He is the judge of the County Court which has jurisdiction over misdemeanors (that is, all crimes not punishable by confinement to the state penitentiary) and civil jurisdiction exclusively over cases in which the amount involved is from $200 to $500, and concurrent jurisdiction with the district court in cases from $500 to $1,000. The County Court also has appellate jurisdiction in civil matters brought from the Justice Court and in cases appealed from the Corporation Court.

The County Judge is the presiding judge of the juvenile court which has jurisdiction over all criminal offenses committed by persons under 17 years of age.

The County Judge is the presiding officer of the probate court which has unlimited jurisdiction over the estates of deceased persons regardless of the amount of the estate.

The County Judge prepares the budget of the county. He also approves all expenditures of the county. He acts as presiding officer when the Commissioner's Court convenes as a board of equalization to determine and set the tax valuations equally and uniformly for all taxable property in the county.

The County Judge is officially designated to call elections either at the direction of the Commissioner's court or by statute. He is an ex-officio member of the county's boards, including the airport, library, welfare and hospital boards.

The County Judge receives a salary of $8,500 per year. (Information compiled from Vernon's Statutes.)

DISTRICT CLERK

The clerk in a district court presides over the court, enters all judgments of the court, records the minutes and orders of the court, receives all fees and costs, and is responsible for the maintenance and care of the court records. He is also responsible for the collection of the court fees and costs, and for the payment of the salaries of the court officers and employees.

COUNTY SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT

The County Superintendent, under the direction of the state superintendent, has the immediate supervision of all matters pertaining to public education in his county. To start with, his duties generally are such as his title indicates. He is in truth superintendent of the county public schools. He is responsible for the maintenance and care of the school fund and in performing other duties, he is subject to the direction of the state superintendent. Though in a sense, a county officer, and though called "county superintendent" he is in fact the officer and agent of the state. With respect to school affairs he acts for the state and not for the county.

Under the statute the county superintendent is the secretary of the cooperative body composed of the county school trustees; but he is not a member of that body, nor given a voice in determining any matter that they may be called on to decide.

The County Superintendent's salary is paid by the state. He receives a base salary of $446 per month with population and experience increments. Scurry County's population increment is $70 per month. The present county superintendent receives a yearly salary of $7,056 per year. (Information from Texas Jurisprudence.)

THE COUNTY CLERK IS THE CLERK OF THE COUNTY AND ALSO OF THE COMMISSIONER'S COURT. HE IS REQUIRED TO ATTEND EACH TERM OF THE COMMISSIONER'S COURT, TO PRESERVE AND KEEP ALL BOOKS, PAPERS, RECORDS AND EFFECTS BELONGING TO THE COURT, TO ISSUE ALL PROCESS, WRITS, AND PROCESS NECESSARY FOR THE PROPER EXECUTION OF THE POWERS AND DUTIES OF THE COMMISSIONER'S COURT, AND TO PERFORM SUCH OTHER DUTIES AS ARE PRESCRIBED BY LAW. IT IS THE DUTY OF THE COUNTY CLERK TO KEEP IN SUITABLE BOOKS ALL DEEDS, MORTGAGES, AND OTHER INSTRUMENTS REQUIRED BY LAW TO BE RECORDED. HE IS TO KEEP SUCH RECORD BOOKS AND MUST KEEP THEM PROPERLY INDEXED, ARRANGED AND PRESERVED.

CONSTABLES

Only one constable has been appointed by the Commissioner's Court in Scurry County. He is at present, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Holder, Fluvanna, completed eight weeks of advanced individual training at The Field Artillery Training Center, Fort Sill, recently.

Holder was trained in the duties and responsibilities of a constable. He received instruction in the loading, firing and maintenance of artillery guns, howitzers and heavy machineguns and in artillery communications and ammunition handling and storage.

Holder entered the Army in November 1961 and received basic training at Fort Carson, Colo.

He is a 1957 graduate of Fluvanna High School and was employed by the Iverson Supply Company, Artesia, N. M., before entering the Army.

Abilene Man Is Named

HOUSTON (AP)—Bill Martin of Abilene was named director of advertising services for the Texas Daily News paper Association (TDNA) Saturday by John Murphy, executive director.

Martin will join the organization on May 1 to head an expansion of its sales and promotion program, which is directed to the selling and servicing of southwest (TDNA) advertisers in their use of the daily newspaper medium. TDNA has 75 member newspapers, which represent 95 per cent of the state's 2,900,000 daily newspaper circulation.

Sales manager for Foremost Dairies in Abilene for a year, Martin was previously national advertising manager of the Abilene Reporter-News for eight years. Prior to that he was a sales representative for General Foods. He is a graduate of Baylor University.

Martin brings to TDNA an outstanding background in marketing, merchandising and advertising. Murphy said.

Man Charged In Incident

Bond was set at $1,000 for Harold Gene Brady, manager of the Manhattan Hotel after a charge of assault with intent to murder was filed by district attorney Wayland Holt Saturday evening.

Brady had been apprehended by Snyder city police officers after he entered a local bar shop Saturday afternoon and forced the Negro attendant, Elroy Maeberry, to accompany him. According to one observer in the shop, Brady put a gun in Maeberry's ribs and took him out before anyone actually realized what was happening.

Brady told police officers he was making a "citizen's arrest" and was only trying to recover a hat which he said Maeberry had stolen.

Since the complaint which was filed against Brady was a felony complaint the suspect was turned over to the county sheriff by Snyder police.

CRMWd's Odessa Wells Are Cleared

The Colorado River Municipal Water District has checked and cleared all wells in the Odessa area for State Health Department requirements for approved public water supply.

O. H. Ivie, assistant general manager for CRMWd, made the inspection on 9 wells with Tommy Morris, director of utilities for the City of Odessa, A. L. Wright, distribution of utilities for the City of Odessa, A. L. Wright, distribution superintendent, and Mike Brennenman, filter plant superintendent.

The district operates the wells, which belong to the City of Odessa, for peaking purposes. They were rehabilitated last year to put them in condition for sound operations.

Two-Year Sentence Assessed In Case

A jury deliberated only 20 minutes before returning a verdict of guilty in the trial of T. G. Holloway in 122nd District Court.

Holloway, formerly of Scurry County but now living in Abilene as his home, was charged with the theft of a tractor from Snyder Truck and Tractor.

A two-year prison sentence was assessed. Judge Sterling Williams presided and District Attorney Wayland Holt prosecuted.

Plans Are Underway Here For Big July 4th Celebration

Plans are well underway here for the second annual Independence Day celebration in Towle Memorial Park.

James Rosser has been named general chairman for the event, and Dave Harlin will serve as concessions chairman again.

The plans were pushed forward at a recent meeting of the President's Council, a new organization embracing the presidents of various clubs and organizations in the city.

Letters have gone out to organizations urging them to make plans for participation in the celebration, and particularly to plan for concessions in the park on July 4. Harlin has asked that clubs indicate whether they wish to have a concession by May 15.

Chairmen for other phases of the celebration will be named soon.

The first Independence Day celebration last year attracted possibly the largest crowd in history to Towle Memorial Park.

Another activity which developed at the President's Council session was the compilation of a calendar of community events through the month of May. The calendar lists only events of general community interest, rather than regular meetings of the organizations.

OUR VIEW

Integrity, Constructive Program Offered By Daniel

Nobody but the people of Texas are Price Daniel's boss. That statement, which appeared recently in another newspaper, gives a pretty good clue to the character of the Texas Governor, who is seeking re-election in the Democratic primary next Saturday.

On a broader scope, a national magazine took a look at the Texas governor's race and came to the conclusion that, no matter what else anyone might say about Price Daniel, there is not even a hint of scandal in his administration.

High moral standards are important to quality public service, but there is more. Morals, when they are applied in the execution of the duties of the office, become even more important.

Briefly, Price Daniel's platform embraces these factors:

1. Stronger criminal laws and Code of Criminal Procedure plus additional curbs on narcotics and barbiturates and stronger control of lobbyists.
 2. Proper small loan regulation.
 3. Paid juvenile parole system for better supervision and rehabilitation of young offenders.
 4. Prohibition of obscene movies.
 5. Drivers license revision and a chemical test for drunk driving.
 6. Continued improvement in public schools and colleges.
 7. Adequate financing for the attraction of tourists and new and expanded industries.
 8. Continued governmental study for greater economy, better fiscal system and a balanced budget.
- In our opinion nobody has come forth with a better platform, and nobody has worked harder in behalf of his program than Price Daniel has since he first took office in 1957.
- We believe Texas needs Price Daniel's platform and we believe Texas needs Price Daniel to provide the leadership to put it into effect.

Backstage...

Nearly all candidates for political office have been "running scared" during the campaign, and as the primary election date nears, their fear mounts even higher.

They are deeply worried over the apparent apathy of the voters.

"Nobody seems to be interested," is the general observation, and that holds true from those running for the highest office in the state to those seeking the lowest precinct offices. About all they can do is keep their fingers crossed and hope that when election day arrives there will be enough interest to attract a representative crowd of voters to the polls. So far, it appears that odds are against it.

The weather was "inclement" and the crowd was sparse, but Fred Lowery's appearance here Thursday night was a nostalgic and heart-warming experience. The small attendance had no effect on the noted whistler's performance. In fact, he expressed simple and humble appreciation to those who came out despite the elements.

Lowery, a native Texan who started his climb to fame on "The Early Birds" program over radio station WFAA in Dallas back in the early thirties, has fond memories of his early days in radio.

"I was making $10 a week and putting $3 of it in the bank," he recalled. The same program was a stepping stone for Dale Evans (now Mrs. Roy Rogers) and Eddie Dunn, the MC who later became an announcer for NBC.

"Radio stations didn't have disc jockeys then. They had announcers."

Lowery also recalled Peg Foreland, the folk singer, who also was "a darned good forty-two player."

Residential Building At New Record

AUSTIN (AP)—Residential construction set a record during March, in dollar valuations, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research said Saturday. The bureau said unadjusted dollar volume for residential construction alone exceeded $73 million. The March authorizations brought residential building for the first quarter of 1962 to a record.

Dallas construction increased 22 per cent from January-March 1961. Houston increased 23 per cent. Leading gainers around the state were Tyler, 107 per cent, Austin 33, Abilene 43, Lubbock 26, Galveston-Texas City 22 and San Antonio 17.

Decreases were recorded at Wichita Falls 42 per cent, San Angelo 48, El Paso 42, Valley 21, Odessa 36, Midland 18 and Waco 4 per cent.

"Clearly all is not well in the entire state," the report said. "Some areas are undoubtedly suppressed due to an oversupply of last year's homes and lack of population growth."

BRAZIL: Reds Are Fanning Discontent

By ROBERT BERRELEZ
 RECIFE, Brazil (AP)—"Infelices!" shouts the Communist agitator. "Miserable ones!" Gaunt farmers listen, their dark eyes smoldering with anger. "When you want to eat, you unhappy ones, you must go crawling on your knees to your landlords." The peasants nod solemnly. They know nothing of politics. They know only that they labor in the cruel sun on harsh land, that the fruit of their labors goes to the landlord living in the glittering city. They know their children are near starvation.

content is boiling over into ugly rage and sporadic violence. Here President Kennedy's Alliance for Progress faces a major challenge. With U.S. help, a desperate attempt is being made to assuage the anger.

Tough School Is Selected For Britain's Young Prince

By EDDY GILMORE
 LONDON (AP)—A husband of a London aristocrat is reported to have selected a tough school for his young son, Prince Charles, now 13, to be sent to the school.

Prince Charles meant that his mother was crowned there—or at least, as some people put it, as the Prince of Wales, Charles, now 13, is heir to the throne.

Next Tuesday the boy who will be king will go to Gordonstoun boarding school where, in fact, he may come pretty close to being corrupted.

Charles is not likely to match his father's record in his early studies at Chesham School. He was pretty awful at English and mathematics. He was best in history and geography.

Sophia, Mate Face Charge Of Bigamy

ROME (AP)—Oscar-winning actress Sophia Loren and film producer Carlo Ponti have lost another round in their long fight to be legally married in Italy, the land of no divorce. They now face prosecution on bigamy charges.

Charles is very good with a shotgun. He often practiced for hours when the royal family was at Balmoral.

A Rome Catholic church tribunal has for a second time confirmed the validity of Ponti's first marriage in 1948 to Giuliana Filastro, an Italian attorney who has sought annulment of the marriage. Two children were born of the union, Giordana, now 15, and Massimo, now 12.

His manners are impeccable and he's thoroughgoing. Close friends of the royal family say he saves pocket money and insists on personally buying presents for his parents and other relatives.

That marriage went on the rocks in 1955, after Ponti had already begun guiding the glamorous Miss Loren on the path to world film stardom. Two years later, Ponti, now 46, and Miss Loren, now 27, were married by a Ciudad Juarez, Mexico, proxy ceremony. The producer had previously obtained a Mexican divorce, which is not recognized in Italy.

Charles gave a cocktail party last Christmas. He drank fruit juice, but he supervised mixing of stronger drinks and preparation of snacks. Cooking fascinates him. He can bake a cake or make a pie.

Earlier this year, on Jan. 17, Italian State Prosecutor Guido Guasco, assistant state attorney for Rome, disclosed he had formally requested that Ponti and Miss Loren be tried for bigamy.

Perhaps such unexpected interests as this convinced Prince Philip that rugged Gordonstoun is the place for his son.

The trial has not been pressed because Ponti and Miss Loren have been seeking annulment of their Mexican marriage. Miss Loren said a year ago they were seeking the annulment because of the legal difficulties that the proxy marriage caused them in Italy.

Eddy Gilmore, who often reports on the doings of the British royal family, is himself a Selma, Ala., boy. He was in the AP's Washington and Moscow bureaus before taking up work in London. He has made several lecture tours of the United States.

Students who misbehave are beaten with walking sticks. Gordonstoun was not too tough for Charles' father. Prince Philip was an above the average student and became head boy in his senior year. He also captained Recife, capital of Pernambuco State, is a hub of agitation. Pro-Castro students have made the Alliance for Progress a principal target.

From me to you A DAILY VIEW
 Rev. R. Charles Spivey

This pressure is being felt. For example, the governor of one of the poorest states, Aluisio Alves of Rio Grande do Norte, took issue with a report on the northeast situation by President Kennedy's special emissary, Merwin Bohan. Gov. Alves called the report an attempt to reduce, psychologically, the tensions among the underprivileged to win them "with dangerous solutions which, when put into practice, in no way alter the dramatic situation in which we live."

"So she ran, and went to Simon Peter and the other disciple, the one whom Jesus loved... They both ran."

The Bohan report called for

John 20:2, 4 (read verses 1-19) What strange things these were. Don't you know that those who were actual eye witnesses to the resurrection were simply amazed, overawed, and terror struck. Imagine, one that you have loved, one that has been a constant companion for several years, dies, and then suddenly, he appears before your very eyes, alive. You can see why, as the news was spread, the disciples ran. They ran to find out if it was true; they ran in flight, because it was true. And after the shock period was over, and they began to realize just what it was that had happened to them and to all the world, they began to run to tell everyone about it.

Someone has said that we are so inoculated with Christianity that we have become immune to it. And that is true. We no longer are a 2 & 4 with the story of the resurrection of Christ. It's "old stuff." We are not overwhelmed by what it means to us or to the world. And what a tragedy this is. Our worlds a sick one, and needs the healing of the good news, but we just shrug our shoulders. We must recapture the first rapture of resurrection, and the goodness of eternal life, and we must run and tell our neighbor—He is Risen.

Consumer confidence brought about by high personal income, low unemployment figures and the backlog of orders to manufacturers aided the consumer in deciding to continue to spend his money," the report said.

"No sales boom is anticipated," the report said, "but sales are expected to remain good during the second quarter of the year."

Automotive sales led the way in the durable goods with sales 27 per cent ahead of the first quarter of last year. March sales were 22 per cent ahead of March 1961.

The FAO committee on commodity problems said Ireland consumes 637 kilograms (1,401.4 lbs.) per person each year.

That puts the Irish ahead of Britain, the United States, France, Germany and Austria—each of whose citizens consumes 300 to 400 kilograms—550 to 800 lbs. of milk and milk products yearly.

Cronkite Decides To Settle Down

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — As dawn broke over Cape Canaveral on the fateful morning of Feb. 26, hundreds of reporters — newspaper, radio and television — were assembled in the forward press site, ready to cover the flight of Col. John H. Glenn Jr.

On signal, it was time for the broadcasters to start their radio and television report of the great event. One eager broadcaster was overheard to start a long day's work with a cherry salutation: "Hi there, space fans . . ."

The reporter was not Walter Cronkite, CBS anchorman who was on the air and, often before the cameras, for almost 12 hours. In a long, successful career as a reporter Cronkite has earned a reputation as a responsible, hard-headed, hard-working, unflinching with a horror of both the fluff and the cliché.

In his 12 years with CBS, Cronkite has emerged as his network's No. 1 newsman, entrusted with the most difficult, demanding assignments—the visit of Soviet Premier Khrushchev to the United States, President Kennedy to Paris, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower to the Far East, and the grueling marathon anchor man jobs at political conventions, winter Olympics in Squaw Valley, to mention a few.

"He's an example of a reporter who really does his homework," said a newspaperman who worked alongside Cronkite during the Cape Canaveral days of preparation. "He knew his subject thoroughly. He read all the material available on the subject. He attended every press briefing. He asked intelligent questions. He was so well-prepared, he never wasted air time on the obvious."

Newspapermen are well known for their keen sense of competition, but in television, where sponsors, ratings and network prestige are so important, the race to be first is also intense.

In this field, which involves an element of show business, Cronkite has achieved distinction.

Now, at 46, Cronkite has decided after more than two decades of chasing stories all over the world, to unpack his suitcase and settle down to a New York-bound TV job—reporting the day's headline news for 15 minutes, five nights a week.

When he started his new job April 16—replacing Douglas Edwards, who had the show for 14 years—his archrivals, NBC's Chet Huntley and David Brinkley, took the highly unusual step of welcoming him into their small circle. (The usual procedure in television is to ignore the competition.)

Cronkite's reason for accepting his new job is neither fatigue from tough assignments and long hours nor boredom.

"I have a growing family," he explained. "And I think it is important to be able to spend time with them, to be able to plan in advance to do things with them and know I'll be around and not a continent away on a story."

Gary Crosby Wants Hope To Ease Up

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gary Crosby wishes Bob Hope would ease up on all those jokes about Bing's wealth. It's hurting Gary's career.

"I just gotta talk to Hope's writers," bemoans Bing's eldest son. "I can't convince producers that I'm serious about a career."

"After 10 years of trying, the producers still ask: 'What do you want to work for, with all that money?'"

Gary had a brief fling with a 20th Century-Fox contract. In several pictures, he got good critical notices.

Producer Jerry Wald even admitted that the talented Gary showed some of the potential of the early Jimmy Cagney.

"But that's as far as it went," says Gary. "I got hit with Dad's wealth at every turn."

Gary, most independent of Bing's brood, never asked his father for money, doesn't now. He got an inheritance from his mother, the late Dixie Lee Crosby, but touches only the interest.

"I want to earn a living on my own," he says, "and preferably here in show business."

But there are some who say that Gary is a better rhythm singer right now than his father was at the same age—38.

Gary has made a good living in recent years from night clubs but that's not the life for the new Gary Crosby.

"I have a wonderful wife and family," he says. "I like to stay home with them. I used to be a playboy but that was because I had nothing else to do. I don't even take a drink any more."

But there's a handicap in that last bit of good resolve.

"Now that I don't drink, I worry. I worry about my career, getting some new furniture in the house. I think I'll get ulcers next."

Massey Has Own List Of Favorites

By DON THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Whether he plays Abe Lincoln, Dr. Gillespie or just Raymond Massey, he's a man of powerful opinions.

Recently he was doing all three. Massey went directly from playing the older doctor in the successful "Dr. Kildare" television series back to his old role as the Great Emancipator. He was performing in a small but important sequence for "How the West Was Won" in Cinemas.

Then he went right back to the "Dr. Kildare" series.

Massey, 46, made it clear he has great respect for television. He took issue with FCC chairman Newton Minow's much-repeated view of television's "vast wasteland."

"I think it is a misconception that has been perpetuated by television columnists," said Massey. "Television is not a wasteland. It is the greatest medium yet devised for entertainment, and it is doing a damn good job of it."

"There is no reason why education should be forced on television viewers, not in the prime-time hours, at least. They want to relax and be entertained. I certainly do, and I find a great deal of relaxation and enjoyment by watching the set, which I do a great deal."

Massey came prepared with a list of his favorites, and they may surprise you. He even termed his medical competitor "Ben Casey" "a very good show. It has its ups and downs, but so do we."

Here are some of the others: "Car 54, Where Are You?" — "delightful fun"; Walt Disney's "World of Color" — "Engrossing and educational"; "To Tell the Truth: The Defenders"; "Dick Powell Show" — "as good an anthology as we've ever had on television"; "The Untouchables" — "I don't see any harm in shooting up gangsters."

Also: "The Fred Astaire anthology"; "The Law and Mr. Jones"; "20th Century"—"As educational a show as you'd want to see"; "Meet the Press"; the joint and separate news shows of Huntley-Brinkley; Bob Newhart; Cain's Hundred; "87th Precinct"; "Jack Benny"; "Wagon Train"; "Bonanza"; "Twilight Zone."

Massey even had kind words to say for Mister Ed, What's My Line, Lassie and Tennessee Ernie Ford. "They're all entertaining, and I'm no lowbrow."

Spire Is Lowered By Helicopter

COVENTRY, England (AP) — Dangling from a helicopter, the great bronze spire of Coventry's new cathedral was gently lowered into place atop the $3.78 million building Thursday.

It took only 10 minutes to lower the ton and a half spire to its base plate in the cathedral roof. Ground crews guided it down by control ropes while a large crowd looked on.

The new cathedral is a replacement for the one blitzed in World War II.

Flood Risk Plan Is Due

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., said Saturday the White House expects to send soon to Congress recommendations about federal flood insurance.

He wrote President Kennedy on the subject as a result of property damage along the Texas Gulf Coast by Hurricane Carla and attendant flooding last fall.

Severe financial losses were incurred by property owners because no appropriate insurance program was available. Yarborough said a 1956 act of Congress authorized such protection, but did not provide means to put it into effect.

A letter he received from Lawrence O'Brien, special assistant to the President, informed Yarborough the problem is under study and the administration's views on the matter should be available to Congress shortly.

800 Entries Due In UIL Track Meet

More than 800 athletes storm the track at the annual UIL track meet. At least five overall records and many more division marks are due to fall.

Amarillo Tascosa and San Antonio Highlands lead the charge to knock Abilene out of the championship of Class AAAA, where the eagles have taken five titles and are defending champions. This is expected to be a five-way fight with Abilene still in the running. If lightly, Houston Lamar and Dallas Jefferson also are top contenders.

John Roderick of Highland Park aims mightily at two overall records — the 14.9 in the 120-yard high hurdles and the 18.6 in the 180-yard low hurdles.

Roderick has done the high in 13.6 and the low in 18.3. Richard Romo of San Antonio Tech, who has turned the mile in 4:17.0, is expected to better the 4:17.2 record.

Randy Matson of Pampa has tossed the shot 62 feet 8 1/2 inches and the discus 186-6 1/2. The shot distance equals the state overall record and the discus throw is more than 11 feet better than the record.

Brownwood looks like the best bet for the Class AAA championship with a couple of relay teams that could grab off about 40 points. The relays count twice as many points as the individual events. And the Lions also have other point potentials.

Fort Stockton is the leading contender in Class AA with Qnanah furnishing the chief competition. Hallsville is a mile favorite in Class A and Rising Star and Booker should fight it out for the Class B crown.

The meet Thursday, Friday and Saturday will draw 103 contestants in golf and 45 in tennis. All athletic events begin Friday.

Class B track starts Friday morning with preliminaries in running events and a smattering of finals in field events. Friday afternoon there will be finals in some of the A classes field events. Friday night Class AAA and AA will be completed. Saturday afternoon there will be finals in Classes AAAA, A and B.

Chicago (AP) — Bob Sadowski's pinch double with one out in the 10th inning drove in the decisive run for a 7-6 Chicago White Sox victory over the Boston Red Sox Saturday.

Sadowski who came to Chicago from the Philadelphia chain this spring, hit a pinch homer in the second inning of Friday night's game that supported a 7-4 White Sox triumph.

His double brought home pinch hitter Bob Farley, who drew a walk from Mike Fornieles and was sacrificed to second by Camilo Carreon.

Joe Cunningham's first homer as an American Leaguer started a Chicago rally in the seventh after two outs. Mike Hershenberg's single drove in the inning's second run and gave the White Sox a 6-5 lead which Russ Kemmerer protected by checking Boston on one hit and striking out three in the last three innings.

Floyd Robinson, White Sox left fielder, collected two singles and a triple in four trips to boost his league-leading batting mark to .468.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals blended the talents of young lefty Ray Sadecki and aging firebrand Minnie Mirosa Saturday and made it two straight over Cincinnati's defending National League baseball champs, 5-4.

The 21-year-old Sadecki picked up his first victory of the season with an eight-inning and help from Lindy McDaniel in the ninth. He was a 14-game winner in his sophomore season last year.

Minoso, 36, slammed two doubles, batted in two runs and scored twice in his best day of the season. He had missed several games with a rib injury.

Cincinnati had a 2-0 lead in the fourth behind left-hander Jim O'Toole's gain on an unearned run in the second and Frank Robinson's double in the fourth scoring Vada Pinson, who had singled.

The Redbirds picked up what proved to be the winning run off relief pitcher Jim Brosnan, an old teammate, in the seventh. Cincinnati 010 100 101-4 8 1

WASHINGTON (AP) — The New York Yankees powered three more home runs into the distant points of the new D.C. Stadium in the same inning Saturday in dealing the Washington Senators their 11th consecutive defeat 10-3.

Hector Lopez hit his first over the center field wall, Cleve Boyer his fourth eighth run into the upper deck, and Roger Maris his third off the facade in right. Boyer was the longest by a right-hander in the stadium.

All were off an old pal of the Yankees, Fred Green, who was embroiled in relief roles in the '56 World Series when he was with Pittsburgh.

Ralph Terry pitched a smooth six-hitter in winning for the fourth time against one defeat.

The Senators scored one in the fourth on Bob Johnson's third home run over the center field fence, and two in the eighth on three singles and a sacrifice fly.

Senators and the Yankees took care of him with five hits and three walks in 2 1/3 innings. He was followed by Green and two others. Osteen lost for the third straight time, and twice has not lasted past the third inning. New York 013 101 400-13 0

Sir Gaylord 'Steps Out'

By KELSO STURGEON
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Sir Gaylord wiped out all doubt about his fitness for the Kentucky Derby as he scored a smashing victory over three other Derby eligibles in the Stepping Stone Purse at Churchill Downs Saturday.

The future book favorite for the May 5 running of the Derby, Sir Gaylord won by 1 1/2 lengths over Sir Ribot but was much the best. Green Hornet finished third.

Ridden by Ismael Valenzuela, the star of C. T. Chenery's Meadow Stable laid in third and fourth places through most of the 7-furlong event and didn't make his move until the turn into the stretch.

Sir Gaylord then worked out the Kentucky Derby distance of 1 1/4 miles in 2:02.25. His time for the Stepping Stone was 1:22.25, two-fifths of a second off the track record.

Sir Gaylord was the overwhelming favorite, going off at 1.5 and retaining $240 and $2.20. Because of the six-horse field, there was no show betting. Sir Ribot was $2.20 to place.

Sir Gaylord and Sir Ribot, owned by Fred Turner, locked up at the head of the stretch and battled to the final sixteenth pole, where Sir Gaylord pulled away with ease.

Doc Jockey, who with Sir Ribot and Switzerstrut set the early pace, finished fourth. Switzerstrut was fifth and Syccorax was sixth. The last two finishers are not eligible for the Derby.

Sir Gaylord's stablemate, Cicada, scored an even more impressive victory in the $15,000-added Oaks Prep. The 7-furlong race for 3-year-old fillies was a preview of next Friday's $35,000-added Kentucky Oaks.

Cicada came home four lengths in front of Dinner Partner, a 9-21 shot. Summer Sea, the early leader, finished third in the 12-horse field.

Cicada ran the distance in 1:22.15, one-fifth of a second faster than Sir Gaylord in the Stepping Stone.

Casey Hayes, who trains Sir Gaylord and Cicada, has indicated he may run the two as an entry in the Derby. Cicada's victory may go a long way in helping him make up his mind.

By HAROLD L. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

Letting him miss a short putt, Litterer had a 68 that tied him for second place with the on-rushing Doug Sanders, who swept over the 6,616-yard Oak Hills Country Club course with a 59 on Saturday.

Big Empire Lies In Tangled Wreckage At Feet Of Estes

By ROBERT E. FORD
DALLAS (AP)—Billie Sol Estes says he made his first million before he was 30.

Last year he stated he was worth $50 million.

Today his empire lies in tangled wreckage about his feet and criminal charges mount.

Estes' story of the public-faced, rocky man who gained the title of "boy wonder of West Texas agriculture."

National finance companies, the federal government and plain dirt farmers in Texas are trying to recover from a month-long series of jobs handed them by the Bible-quoting, revival-preaching Estes.

A month ago he was the world's largest distributor of anhydrous ammonia fertilizer, a liquid-gaseous product which is the life blood of high-intensity type agriculture where farmers turn a spigot and produce almost limitless crops.

Estes was one of the nation's largest grain storage operators under federal farm programs.

In all, the dapper little man who says he grew up in poverty on a Texas farm owned about 30 companies spread from the Texas Panhandle, southward to his headquarters city of Pecos, and west to El Paso and into New Mexico.

Estes reached Pecos when he was 25 after a tour in the Merchant Marine and a little dabbling in real estate.

People who knew him then say he moved into a corner of a real estate dealer's office and owned little more than a beat-up brief case.

He bought a farm on credit, then spread out on it was the biggest thing in agriculture and related fields West Texas had ever seen.

He is a friendly but intense man, walks rapidly on his short legs, is quick and alert.

He likes dark suits and red ties, wears heavy, black-rimmed spectacles. His thick black hair is impeccably groomed.

Neighbors in Pecos considered it just the oddball side of a financial genius who rode a bicycle between his home and office. Then they discovered his driver's license had been suspended for repeated violations.

The national Junior Chamber of Commerce named him one of the nation's 10 outstanding young men in 1954.

The shaky legs that supported Estes' empire wobbled badly a little more than a month ago when a group of lending companies called him to a super-secret accounting in Dallas.

His empire crashed in late afternoon three days later.

That was when he went to jail under federal fraud charges.

Swiftly came these developments: Lending companies, most of them of national stature, claimed Estes bailed them of $24 million and one of them said he owes $32 million and has assets of $20 million, leaving a gap of $12 million.

A federal court turned over all his business to a receiver.

Scores of people filed suits totaling millions, some trying to obtain money from Estes, others seeking to void contracts.

State and federal authorities sought to trace Estes contacts to Washington's official circles to see if he used improper influence.

During this furor, Estes issued no defense. Neither did he weep or try to shift the blame. He simply remained silent on the basic issues of the case.

In one of his rare interviews, shortly after he gained freedom, Estes himself said he owes $22 million and has assets of $20 million, leaving a gap of $12 million.

any anhydrous ammonia storage tanks.

The Independent and Enterprise, checking 11 West Texas counties, found mortgages on record totaling $34.5 million secured by their face of the contracts, by $3.50 million. Each tank costs about $1,000.

Only a few hundred such receivables are needed in those 11 counties, and any anhydrous ammonia dealer will lend a farmer all the tanks he needs for as long as he buys from the dealer.

Why all the tanks? That was what the reporters could not pinpoint in official records.

The first big break came with the arrest of Estes and three associates.

After that the story can be pieced together from court testimony and a few statements from officials or business sources.

Estes' need for money was bottomless.

To gain the money for these enterprises, he and his agents persuaded farmers and others to sign mortgages for huge amounts to purchase fertilizer tanks—one individual signed $5,700,000 in mortgages.

Estes agreed to lease the tanks back for enough to make the installment payments.

Most of these mortgages were made to Superior Manufacturing Co. of Amarillo, which sold them at discount to loan companies.

The FBI, in formal charges against Estes and three officials of superior manufacturing, claim the tanks do not exist.

An El Paso grand jury indicted the four—Estes, Coleman Vice Spadden of Lubbock, and Ruel Alexander and Harold Orr of Amarillo.

The same claim of non-existent tanks is made by Pacific Finance Co. of Los Angeles in a civil suit.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, a candidate for governor, later held six courts of inquiry.

One of many points in Wilson's inquiry involved the possible influence by Estes to get Agriculture Department employees to send more grain to his bins for storage. They are only 53 per cent full.

This was pursued despite testimony that only 25 per cent of Estes' storage was placed there by the government. The rest was put in his bins by farmers and later taken over by the government.

The hearings failed to prove anything conclusively about influence.

William Morris, an Agriculture Department employee, was fired by the government. He was because he failed to make himself available to department investigators. A department spokesman said Morris admitted accepting a bribe from Estes.

Morris' wife quit her $7,400, part-time job as secretary for Rep. Ed Edmondson, D-Okl. She was listed as Washington columnist for Estes' paper at $296 a month.

Reports had persisted that President Kennedy might indicate that the state's strongest Democrat, to try to support Rockefeller, a potential Republican nominee for President in 1964.

Wagner told a news conference he had discussed the matter with Kennedy but that he was "never under pressure" and that the President "knew how I felt."

The mayor, elected to a third four-year term last fall, said he could not "walk away" from his city duties.

He added, in effect, that there was no need for him to run for governor—that there are "a number of outstanding Democrats who running on a liberal forward-looking platform, can take the measure of Gov. Rockefeller."

Rockefeller, commenting on Wagner's announcement, said "The decision is up to him."

One need was for expansion of his grain storage bins.

He built his capacity to possibly 87 million bushels—the Agriculture Department cannot pinpoint the amount because his ties to some storage companies remains vague.

The government paid him nearly $4 million in storage fees in the last 12 months through 150 companies known to be Estes property.

Three others may belong to him. He wanted to freeze out small storage operators.

The second big need was for cash to make up his staggering losses during price wars he started in fertilizer sales. At one point he sold fertilizer which cost him nearly $100 a ton for $30, going in debt $5 million to his supplier, Commercial Solvents Corp. of New York, which demanded his grain storage fees as security.

Again his object was to freeze out competition.

To gain the money for these enterprises, he and his agents persuaded farmers and others to sign mortgages for huge amounts to purchase fertilizer tanks—one individual signed $5,700,000 in mortgages.

Estes agreed to lease the tanks back for enough to make the installment payments.

Most of these mortgages were made to Superior Manufacturing Co. of Amarillo, which sold them at discount to loan companies.

He added, in effect, that there was no need for him to run for governor—that there are "a number of outstanding Democrats who running on a liberal forward-looking platform, can take the measure of Gov. Rockefeller."

Rockefeller, commenting on Wagner's announcement, said "The decision is up to him."

Emery Jacobs, deputy administrator of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service, showed he paid cash for expensive clothes after being alone with Estes in a Dallas store's fitting room. Jacobs denied any wrongdoing.

Dr. James Ralph, former assistant secretary of agriculture now training as agricultural attaché to the Philippines, denied receiving "kickback" pay for Estes. Store employees said Ralph was fitted with two expensive suits and two pairs of shoes costing $36.50 a pair which were sent to Estes.

This testimony set off demands in Washington for investigations.

The Republican National Committee moved quickly to try and draw some political capital from the case. The committee said Estes was appointed to the National Cotton Advisory Committee by President Kennedy.

Loaded with political TNT, an FBI probe now under way may yet come to rest on the doorstep of the White House, said the committee's publication, "Battle Line."

Estes did claim, a witness testified, that he could telephone Vice President Lyndon Johnson of Texas and Johnson would quash an FBI investigation. Developments proved this idea false.

Sen. John McClelland, D-Ark., started a probe with his Senate Investigative Committee. The General Accounting Office began looking into the matter for the House Inter-Governmental Relations subcommittee.

Sen. John Williams, R-Del., introduced a resolution asking for investigation of cotton allotment transfers as well.

Estes, records and testimony show, obtained highly valuable cotton allotments from farmers whose land was taken out of farming because of new lakes, highways and the like.

He did this by selling land to those farmers and then leasing it from them. These allotments added about 3,000 acres to his legal ability to grow cotton.

State and county agriculture department officials approved the allotment transfers in 1961. But Washington officials cancelled these allotments for this year.

SNYDER REPRESENTATIVES TO BOY'S STATE—Candidates selected to represent Snyder County at the American Legion Boy's State to be held in Austin June 2 through 9 are pictured above. Selection of candidates was completed Friday afternoon.

Soil Test Aids In Fertilizer Pick

Large amounts of deep soil moisture may make this a good year to fertilize dryland cotton.

Farmers in the Upper Colorado Soil Conservation District are showing an interest in dryland fertilizing. Some of those interested include Fred and Nathan Campbell, Edwin Kuss and C. H. Stahl.

A soil test is the most economical way to fertilize either dryland or irrigated crops. Each soil test costs only $2 and this may lead to a fertilizer such as phosphorus is applied, it will cost over $100 on a 60-acre area. If the phosphorus is not needed this money can be saved. The soil test will show which fertilizers are needed.

In collecting samples for a soil test, a sample should be taken from a fertilizer such as phosphorus is applied, it will cost over $100 on a 60-acre area. If the phosphorus is not needed this money can be saved. The soil test will show which fertilizers are needed.

farm will show these different soil areas.

The best time to apply fertilizer is after a good rain near planting time in the spring.

There are many methods of application, but the "banding" method is usually best. Research has shown that about 20 pounds of nitrogen per acre and 40 pounds of phosphorus per acre are suitable for sandy loam soils.

Heavy soils, such as clay loams, usually require less dryland fertilizer, but a soil test will give a better guide. Soils with large amounts of surface sand may need about 20 pounds or less of potash per acre.

When too much fertilizer is applied, a burning of the leaves and plants will result. The fertilizer applied this year will leave a residue in the soil. If only part of the field is fertilized, a rotation of the fertilized area will show the benefits of the residue.

Bill Is Signed To Expand Peace Corps

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today signed a bill permitting a big expansion of the Peace Corps.

The measure authorizes him to spend $63,750,000 to put 9,970 volunteers into the Corps by the fall of 1963. It now has about 900 volunteers and expects that number to increase to 1,400 by June 30 and to 5,100 next fall.

The legislation simply authorizes the appropriation of funds, which will have to be provided in separate legislation.

Animals are heavy fish eaters Saskatchewan, Canada. The province's 10,000 lakes yield 19 million pounds of fish a year, of which 6 1/2 million pounds go to fur farms for feed.

Stubborn Algerian Gas Fire Extinguished By 'Red' Adair

GASSI TOULI, Algeria AP—A dynamite blast Saturday snuffed out the "Devil's Cigarette Lighter" the towering column of flame above a runaway gas well in the Algerian Sahara, clearing the way for efforts to bring the well under control.

Paul "Red" Adair, a flame-haired Texan whose job is mastering difficult oil and gas fires, flashed a big victory smile and flashed a thumbs-up signal after the blaze was extinguished.

Gas continued to hiss out of the damaged well casing and spread in a blanket over the area. But the ear-splitting noise had been diminished by extinction of the flame, which had risen 100 yards into the sky.

The fire had been burning since last Nov. 13. Officials estimated enough gas had been consumed to supply the Paris area for three months.

Adair and his team of specialists had worked for months to prepare for putting out the fire. Water wells had to be dug and a reservoir built so that jets of cooling water could be sprayed over the area around the well.

This morning, long before dawn, Adair made a final inspection. The direction of the water jets was carefully adjusted to best protect the bulldozer that was to carry Adair with the dynamite charge. Doctors and first aid teams were on the alert. Two helicopters stood by to evacuate wounded in case of accident.

Finally, the charge of 550 pounds of dynamite was loaded into a metal drum placed at the end of a 56-foot extension arm built onto the bulldozer.

By 8:30, everything was ready. Adair stepped up to the controls of the bulldozer. His assistants, Coots Matthews, Boots Hansen and Charlie Tollar, crawled onto the blade of the bulldozer, where a platform protected by a metal shield had been built.

A cloud of sand trailed the bulldozer as it moved toward the fire, then disappeared behind the fire.

After long minutes, the four men reappeared, running toward a trench that had been dug 150 yards from the well.

Before Adair disappeared in the trench, he lifted his arm in warning. Spectators fell flat to the ground. The explosion, crisp but less thunderous than had been expected, came at 9:05. When the spectators looked up, the flame had disappeared. Only a small cloud of black smoke was visible.

The danger that the gas might again be ignited by static electricity is ever present so traffic has been detoured and smoking forbidden over a wide surrounding area.

Adair said he would wait two days to let the well casing cool before continuing efforts to cap the well and bring the gas under control. This job may take as long as 10 days.

Rig Count Shows Dip

A slight decline was noted last week in the number of active rotary rigs in the Permian Basin area of West Texas and Eastern New Mexico.

According to Reed Roller Bit Company's Friday survey, there were 239 rigs making hole, compared to 250 a week earlier and 238 the same time last year.

Scurry County had three rigs running, the same as last week, while Borden County and Garza County remained unchanged with two rigs in operation.

Mitchell County had two, compared to one the week before, and Fisher County's count declined from four to two.

Leon County, N. M., was the most active county, with 45 units running. Ector County had 18, Pecos 14 and Crane 12.

STOCKHOLM (AP)—A Swedish professor said today that an examination of the Stockholm Polytechnic University's seismograph showed that an earthquake occurred in the Pacific Wednesday exactly at the time of the U.S. nuclear test there.

Prof. Arne Bjerrhammar said it probably was the first time an atomic explosion and an earth quake coincided.

band in its division which was named a "sweepstakes" winner.

Cities competing at Abilene in the same class were Colorado City, Breckenridge, Newman of Sweetwater, and Snyder.

The two Junior High bands from Snyder also were in competition in Abilene. Travis Junior High rated a first division in marching, first division in concert, and second division in sight reading.

Lamar Junior High rated second division in marching, first division in concert and second division in sight reading.

Snyder High School band is directed by Melvin Montgomery assisted by Charles Shaw. The Travis band is directed by Bill Green and Lamar by Don Eiring.

What Is ...

Sol-U-Phos

LIQUID FERTILIZER

DIVISION OF GOODPASTURE GRAIN & MILLING CO., INC.
Home Office—Browfield, Texas

SOL-U-PHOS LIQUID FERTILIZERS—Sol-U-Phos is a chemical combination of plant nutrients in a balanced formula. Every Sol-U-Phos Liquid Fertilizer Formula contains one or more of the three primary plant nutrients, Nitrogen . . . Available Phosphate . . . and Potash. They also contain the usual or more trace elements that are found in other types of fertilizers.

Fertilizer is usually thought of as something which, when applied to the soil, makes plants grow better. More properly, fertilizers should be defined as a substance which contains one or more of the plant food elements, which can be absorbed by plants and which promote the growth of plants. This is true of both "organic" and "Commercial" fertilizers.

ANHYDROUS AMMONIA—is a liquid only when under pressure. It turns to gas when expended from the tank—Liquid Fertilizers are never under pressure, thus they are easier and safer to handle, and at the same time do a more uniform job of supplying plant nutrients to your crops.

PHOSPHORIC ACID—used by many by itself and with Anhydrous—is a highly corrosive acid. It has to be handled with great care because it is an acid and is harmful to a person who gets it on them. At the same time, Liquid Fertilizers are pure enough for a person to bathe in without any harmful effects.

A farmer may apply Anhydrous Ammonia and Phosphoric Acid in a supposedly balanced ratio to give a wanted formula. The question is, will they chemically combine in the soil to perform the desired function of providing adequate plant food to your crop in a balanced ratio. When applying Anhydrous and Phosphoric, you have two separate pumps, two separate metering devices and two separate chisels or opening plows to place it in the ground. Anhydrous, being, gas, must be placed deep enough in the ground to keep it from escaping. While Phosphoric is placed in the ground as a liquid and left to make its own "marriage" with Anhydrous to complete the formula giving you the desired nutrients you want to apply to your crop.

SOL-U-PHOS LIQUID FERTILIZERS—produced by Sol-U-Phos Liquid Fertilizer division of Goodpasture Grain & Milling Co. — is always a liquid and every drop of SOL-U-PHOS is the same as the next, and the next and the next, thus insuring even application and balanced delivery to your crop. When you buy SOL-U-PHOS you buy a balanced Liquid Fertilizer formula—not just one raw product. Liquid Fertilizers are never under pressure, they are not an acid, and they are harmless to a person when they come in contact with them.

WELL-FED CROPS are money makers

Ask your county agent how to take soil samples and then you will know what deficiencies exist in your soil. REMEMBER! For good profits, use the recommended amounts of fertilizers . . . for the best fertilizers—use SOL-U-PHOS LIQUID FERTILIZERS!

Prisoners Lived The 23rd Psalm

THROUGH THE VALLEY OF THE KWAI. By Ernest Gordon. The stark fact about this book is that "the valley" is a place beyond the Biblical valley of the shadow of death. It is the place of death itself.

That Gordon remains alive is no small miracle. He was in a Scottish regiment in World War II, was on his own in an attempt to escape capture by the Japanese, and was caught. He was thrown into the living hell of prison camps at Changi, Chungkai, Nakawm Paton and Kanburi, of which the principal one was Chungkai, in the valley of the Kwai.

Basically, this is a story about an agnostic who discovered Christ in the midst of the utmost human degradation, as did many of his fellow sufferers.

At Chungkai the Japanese contrived a basic international convention of war by making prisoners work for them — and driving them to death. These human hells built a 250-mile railroad through the jungle in 10 months, and a bridge over the Kwai in two months.

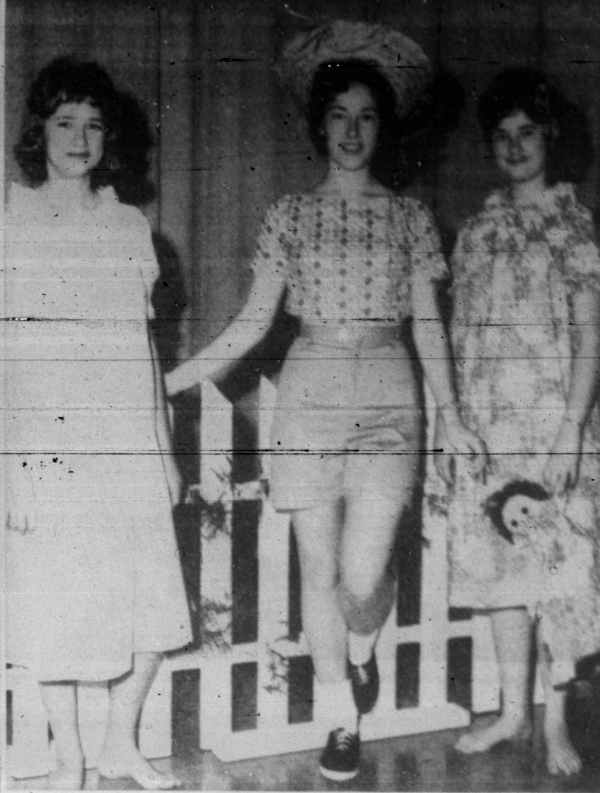

(Incidentally, Gordon asserts that Pierre Boulle's "The Bridge Over the Kwai" wrongly gives the impression that British officers took part willingly in the construction; he also makes a point that the bridge was incidental to the railroad itself.)

Gordon suffered an incredible combination of diseases as well as starvation. But at the edge of death he was able to take part in a spiritual rebirth that swept through the whole camp. It was a story of men who descended to the law of the fang and claw, then finally discovered that self-sacrifice and fellowship could transform their lives.

Gordon's own transformation might never have occurred if he had not been helped by "Dusty," who happened to be a Methodist, and by "Dinty," who happened to be a Roman Catholic. In the dread conditions of the prison camp, denominations were a small matter. Few readers can get through these pages without feeling the absolute terror of man's most hideous inhumanity to man. But it is equally true that few readers will fail to be moved by the tenacity of man's resistance to terror when he is upheld by the nobility of faith.

AP Newsfeatures

The movement of families in and out of big cities in the United States has gone through a number of cycles. For the most part, these migrations have been one way or the other at a particular time. Today, however, there is a cross-current of shifting populations, caused mainly by the twin factors of distance and economics.

As more and more families moved to the suburbs, within reasonable commuting distance of their city jobs, housing in those sections became more and more scarce. This forced middle-income families to move farther out in order to obtain adequate living quarters within their means. Metropolitan areas of big cities once were considered anything within a radius of 15 to 20 miles. This increased to 25 and 30 miles and kept on increasing until now the metropolitan areas of many large cities extend to 35 miles.

Many families, especially those whose children had married and set out on their own, began to move back toward and into the cities, mostly to apartments. This might have had a settling effect on suburbia's population problems except for one thing: luxury apartments were easy to locate, middle-income apartments were not. Some large cities already have taken steps to correct the situation, although most efforts are still in the planning stage. One of those leading the fight for more middle-income housing is Louis Sacher, who has appeared before many federal housing agencies and Congressional committees on this subject and who formerly was economic adviser on housing to New York's Mayor Robert Wagner. It is Sacher's contention that federal and local government assistance is necessary to bridge the gap in the construction of middle-income housing which builders can not cross by themselves.

"Builders and other professional investors," says Sacher, "will not put their money in middle-income housing, or any other type of construction for that matter, where the rents would bring less than a reasonable return on their investment."

is a marine plywood, which I had never heard of. Can you tell me whether this is what I should use?
ANSWER: Yes, marine plywood is more suitable. For one thing, it is less likely to split when being bent for the hull construction. Marine ply plywood has slightly different specifications than regular exterior plywood, although many of its features are the same.
QUESTION: There is an old abandoned well on our property which we would like to fill, since we have read about accidents in which people have fallen into such wells. Can you tell us how to fill it?
ANSWER: Abandoned wells, drilled or dug, should be filled with clean sand and topped with clay. The earth should be tamped. Drilled wells should be sealed with a metal cap welded to the steel casing. Old wells lined with glazed tile should be capped with a concrete slab extending approximately three feet beyond the sides of the well. In areas where there is limestone or sandstone, special extra measures must be taken. A well digger or other authority should be consulted for such individual conditions.

HOPE AND STRENGTH FOR 2000 YEARS

Texans Get Chance To Take Stand On Horse Racing Issue

By BOB ROOKER

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Texas voters will get their first chance May 8 to say how they stand on the bitterly controversial issue of legalizing horse race gambling in the state.

Both major parties will submit a referendum in the primary elections on whether pari-mutuel betting should be legalized in the state. The decision will exert powerful influence but will not be binding on the state legislature.

Opposition to betting on the ponies raged quickly and arched itself with some weapons used successfully in the past 30 years—economic evil and moral decay.

The biggest group opposing passage of the referendum calls itself "Texans against race track gambling" and is headed by the president of Texas' largest steel company and the chancellor of Baylor University, the largest senior college supported by Texas Baptists.

The organization levelled its big guns on legalized betting recently in a full page advertisement taken out in the Wall Street Journal.

"A two-dollar bet is murder," the ad says. "Gambling is the biggest single cause of such crimes as embezzlement; it also is a cause of broken marriages, neglected children, poverty and sometimes suicide."

The three D's of gambling, it says, are "debt, degradation and death."

At least two major Democratic candidates are actively campaigning against legalized betting—Gov. Price Daniel seeking a fourth term and State Rep. Tom James seeking the attorney general's post.

Generally, the opponents argue that pari-mutuel betting hurts business, that it tends to make payments risky, that it is immoral and that it brings bad elements into the state.

On the other side of the fence are several groups led by the Texas Thoroughbred Breeders Association and State Rep. V. E. Berry, a self-styled retired gambler.

Berry led an unsuccessful drive in the 1961 legislature to legalize pari-mutuel gambling and is running for re-election on the issue.

Supporters of legalizing betting argue that it helps business, aids the state with its tax problem, stimulates the breeding of high class racing stock and brings in the much sought-after tourists.

Texas legalized betting on the horses in a 1933 special session and major tracks sprung up in Houston, San Antonio and near Fort Worth and Dallas.

But in 1937, the state legislature outlawed the pari-mutuels by a one vote margin, putting the big racing enterprises out of business.

Attempts to restore betting failed in 1941, 1947, 1953, 1959 and 1961.

The other asks if the legislature should "enact a law legalizing pari-mutuel wagering on horse races with the state, and track sharing 14 per cent of the pari-mutuel pool, the home county receiving two per cent of the total pool and all other counties receiving one half of the net share on the basis of population. No racing on Sunday."

Democrats will have two choices. One proposition simply asks if the voter is for or against a constitutional amendment legalizing wagering on horse races.

The other asks if the legislature should "enact a law legalizing pari-mutuel wagering on horse races with the state, and track sharing 14 per cent of the pari-mutuel pool, the home county receiving two per cent of the total pool and all other counties receiving one half of the net share on the basis of population. No racing on Sunday."

Charleston Fire Damage Is Heavy

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP)—Fire that broke out in a fertilizer plant on the Charleston waterfront caused an estimated $1 million damage before it was brought under control Thursday night.

The fire destroyed two huge warehouses, one of the warehouses containing nitrate of soda, and for a time threatened nearby waterfront facilities including a huge oil storage area.

Several firemen were treated for smoke inhalation and minor burns but no one was hospitalized.

The bald eagle, adopted as an emblem of the United States in 1782, is waning. Fewer than 500 pairs survive south of Canada. For years they were hunted for bounty. Now federal law protects them.

Engine Malfunction Postpones Flight

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—An engine malfunction just seconds before it was to be dropped from a high flying bomber caused postponement on Thursday of an X15 test flight.

The pilot, Air Force Maj. Bob White, was scheduled to fly about 40 minutes in the nose-cone test of an auxiliary control system.

Singapore Is Vital To New Asian Nation

By HAL MCCLURE
SINGAPORE (AP)—This seething Oriental port holds the power of life or death at birth for Malaysia, the proposed new nation in Southeast Asia.

It's this simple: Malaysia has an excellent chance of succeeding if Singapore is included. The alternative means—almost certain doom.

Battling against the Malaysia proposal are Singapore's Communist elements, who look mainly to Peking for guidance. They have been agitating for months to see that the proposal is stillborn.

Malaysia is the proposed amalgamation of five already established countries, states and territories—now or once under British control.

The left-wing opposition to merger-Malaysia has been building in the past few weeks. Singapore's industry and business community has been hit by a rash of strikes—some over such assorted issues as honeymoon leave or tuberculosis benefits.

A special election on the merger proposal is expected this summer, but government sources profess no worry about it. The question will be so worded that voters will decide only how merger and Malaysia will be brought about.

Meanwhile the government and Singapore's Western community brace for trouble—before, during or after the voting.

"There will be communal riots," one government spokesman predicts. "Chinese against Malays. But we can handle them. Malaysia is a certainty."

Others are not so sure.

Singapore's vast Chinese population is the reason for this. The Malay people would be completely outnumbered if Singapore joined Malaysia—without bringing in the Malay and other races of the Borneo territories.

The total population is 10 million. It is potentially the richest nation in Southeast Asia, aside from Indonesia. Malaysia is the biggest rubber and tin producer. Brunei is a major source of crude oil. The architect of Malaysia is prime minister, Tunku (Prince) Abdul Rahman. He presumably would head a strong central government from Kuala Lumpur, the capital of Malaysia.

This frightens the Singapore Reds. Malaysia defeated the Communists in a bitter 1-year jungle war. The Reds figure they face imprisonment or banishment to Communist China if the Tunku takes on broader authority.

The Tunku has insisted that Singapore a semi-independent state, should become part of Malaysia simultaneously with the formation of Malaysia.

Junior Editors Quiz on PERFUME

QUESTION: What is perfume made from?

ANSWER: Modern perfume is made from a great number of different ingredients. First, of course, is the flower. Every flower and fruit has an oil which gives it its special odor. The perfume maker must extract this oil, by boiling, steaming, pressing, squeezing, or any number of different ways. In ancient Egypt, Greece and Rome, this used to be the end of the perfume-making process. Today perfumers go further. The oil is mixed with a synthetic version of the scent. For example, a certain combination of citral and acetone smells almost exactly like violets. A perfumist, then, whips up a great batch of citral and acetone. Then he adds a few drops of natural violet oil. This is put into some amount of alcohol. A few natural ingredients are added to make sure the perfume will not evaporate quickly. Among the ingredients sometimes used is myrrh. Often animal extracts are added so that when a customer puts a drop of perfume behind her ear, the perfume will surround her. These extracts come from a certain type of deer and from whales and beavers. After this mixture is made, it is put into a glass-lined tank to mature. Perfumes are not all made from just one scent. Often many flowers are mixed in varying proportions to give us subtle and lovely scents.

FOR YOU TO DO: Try to find out what the exact scent is in your favorite perfume. The boys are not exempt from this. Hair tonic and soap often contain slight amounts of masculine scents. See if you can find out what plant was used for your favorite scent.

(Carol Mosicoff of Houtzdale, Pa. wins $10 for this question. Send your question on a postcard to Junior Editors—In care of this newspaper.)

New Party Twists For Tasty Dips

Spring and summer are the seasons for informal entertaining. Every guest likes to "get in the act." Make life easy for your guests by placing bowls of various dips on your buffet table surrounded by potato chips and shrimp, and let them do their own dunking. (The consistency of a dip is most important. It must be thick enough not to drip off a chip; if it drips make it thicker. Always chill before serving). Here are a few recipes for some of the ever popular chip dips:

CHIVE-CHEESE DIP

Beat smooth.
2 pkgs. cream cheese (8 oz.)
1 1/2 tsp. mayonnaise
1 tsp. cream
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. grated chives
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce

For variety, instead of using a porcelain or glass bowl, put this mixture in a large hollowed-out apple. Surround with toasted potato chips.

Our County Judge Should Be A Lawyer Re-Elect Judge J. Ray Martin To A Second Term

The Constitution of the State of Texas (Art. V, Sec. 15) provides: "There shall be established in each county in this State a County Court, which shall be a court of record; and there shall be elected in each county, by the qualified voters, a County Judge, who SHALL BE WELL INFORMED IN THE LAW OF THE STATE..."

At the end of this year, 1962, Judge J. Ray Martin will complete his first term of office as Judge of our County Court. He should be elected to a second term.

Unlike Dallas County, Lubbock County, and numerous other larger counties in Texas, Scurry County does not have separate County Courts at Law, Juvenile Courts, and Probate Courts to try civil and criminal cases, condemnation suits and contested probate matters; consequently, our County Judge presides over the trial of all civil and criminal cases over which the County Court has jurisdiction, including condemnation suits instituted by the State of Texas. He exercises appellate jurisdiction over all cases, civil and criminal, appealed from the Corporation Court and all Justice of the Peace Courts in the county. As Probate Judge, the County Judge appoints administrators of estates, often valued at many thousands of dollars, and exercises supervision over these proceedings; appoints guardians of minors and persons of unsound mind; hears all applications to probate wills; and handles all proceedings for the commitment of persons mentally disturbed. Our County Judge also acts as Juvenile Judge presiding over the trial of minors charged with the commission of criminal offenses. Our County Judge is actually judge of four courts; and, in addition, he acts as the chief administrative and budget officer of the county, presiding over all meetings of the Commissioners Court.

The following are excerpts from editorial columns of leading Texas newspapers:

"No layman could possibly perform the many duties imposed upon a County Judge as well as a lawyer..."
"As has been pointed out, the very title of County Judge signifies an affiliation with the law. One who is untrained in the law, and who attempts to perform legal or judicial services, must rely upon the advice of a person with legal training. In criminal cases, it is normally the County Attorney, and in civil cases it would most likely be an attorney participating in the case. Neither of these situations can afford the court the impartiality, which is absolutely necessary for a fair trial..."

"It is inconceivable that a layman could do as good a job as County Judge as a lawyer..."

J. Ray Martin, a native-born Texan 42 years of age, is a highly qualified lawyer, having received an LL. B. degree from Columbia University in 1947. As an experienced trial lawyer he is a member of the State Bar of Texas, the Scurry County Bar Association, and the American Bar Association. He is also licensed to practice before the Tax Court of the United States and is attorney and counselor of the Federal District Courts and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the 5th Circuit. Prior to his entering upon the practice of law in Snyder in 1949, he served two years as an officer of the United States Air Force and was an instructor in the School of Business Administration at North Texas State University at Denton. He graduated from high school he had received a Bachelor of Science degree in 1942 with high honors.

Judge Martin has demonstrated his ability, competence, and honesty during his first term of office.

Traveling Spy Tries America

THE SPY WHO LOVED ME. By Ian Fleming.

This is one of the series of thrillers about the international thriller spy, James Bond. This time there is an American background for the English-based hero.

It seems there was a young woman named Vivienne Michel, who tells this story in the first person. She is running away from fate in Canada and gets as far as a motel in the Adirondacks.

There are some strange things in the motel as the tourist season is ending, but of course young Miss Michel doesn't realize this as she takes a temporary job there.

The first sign of trouble is when a couple of American gangsters show up at the motel and it appears most likely that the heroine is in for a rough time.

Fortunately for her, the international secret service agent Bond, en route to some skull-duggery in Washington, is catapulted into the scene about midway in the book, thanks to a flat tire on his automobile.

From there on we have one of those hide-and-seek, barricade-the-door affairs with plenty of sex and gunplay and there isn't time to call the cops sort of thing.

Wouldn't you know it? It ends with a letter on the dressing table and our hero off to new adventures.

But of course the whole purpose of books like this is to give the reader a lot of action and suspense. Fleming writes in a nice, peppery dish of bang-bang adventure.

About 1,250 companies manufacture drugs today, with no single company accounting for as much as 10 per cent of total sales, according to the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association.

COUNTESS—Christina Camerana Cinzano captivated an audience of women's page and food editors recently at a luncheon in New York. She discussed her favorite food recipes. The Countess is wearing beige and white tweed suit, designed for her by her dressmaker, Trinelli of Turino, Italy, an apricot color straw Breton, alligator bag and shoes, and pearls. She is the daughter-in-law of the Infanta of Spain. The Infanta's brother is Don Juan, pretender to the Spanish throne. She spent ten days in Palm Beach and New York with the Count.
