Reckless conduct, arson indictments handed down

A bizarre, related incident in Lockney Friday, October 24 led to the arrest and indictment of two men.

The chain of events started Friday at approximately 10:42 p.m. when the sheriff's office received a report of a possible burglary at 304 E. Bryant, home of Joe Cavazos.

Just before arriving at the residence, Lockney police noticed a vehicle leaving the area and made note of the license plate number. When the officer arrived at the residence he was told that the subject he had seen leaving the area was the same man seen entering the house.

As Lockney Police Officer David Hollis approached the house he noticed it was on fire and called the fire department. No one was in the house at the time of the fire and there were no injuries. One bedroom of the home suffered heavy damage and the whole house sustained extensive smoke damage.

The license plate number of the vehicle that was seen leaving the scene was checked. Lockney Police Chief Tim Thompson and DPS Trooper David Rowell then went to the address of the suspect and found the vehicle parked there. While watching the vehicle, a pick-up truck drove up and officers observed a shot fired from the truck in the direction of the suspect's home.

Officers attempted to stop the pick-up which fled the scene. After a high speed chase involving city officers, county deputies, and DPS, the chase ended 2½ miles north of Lockney and 2 miles west on 378.

Arrested at the scene was Carlos

Cavazos of Lockney. Cavazos was indicted October 30 in district court on reckless conduct charges.

Melton Gonzales, "Speedy", was arrested the next day and charged with arson. Gonzales also was true billed by the grand jury on October 30, of arson charges.

10-22 ON THAT

Brandon Gilroy is learning police talk early.

He was impatiently — very impatiently as only a 2½ month old can be — awaiting his bottle one recent evening. "Mother has your bottle almost warm," Deputy Sheriff Leonard (Lennie) Gilroy said in consoling his infant son.

"It's not quite warm...it'll be a couple of minutes," responded Brandon's mom, Alice, editor of the two Floyd County newspapers.

"That's a 10-22 on the bottle," Pop replied to his son.

For those of us not familiar with radio message lingo, 10-22 means "disregard" or something of that nature.

CHRISTIAN ATHLETE

We notice from the comments of Dallas Cowboy Herschel Walker that he gives the credit for this outstanding play to The Good Lord. He is a good Christian athlete.

In a day and time when so many athletes are in trouble for the use of drugs, cheating, poor sportsmanship, it is refreshing to see athletes like Herschel.

We really believe that most of our athletes are basically Christian and are good examples for our young people and exemplify good sportsmanship on and off the field. Let's don't judge the bushel of apples on a few rotten ones.

We attended an early morning prayer meeting at the Methodist Church Monday morning and were surprised . . . and pleased . . . to see the person giving the devotional to be a very outstanding Hornet football player.

In a very humble sort of way, he related to us that the Hornet football team believes in the Christian principles of life . . . the team prays before and after the game (and so does the coach . . . he may pray all through the game).

He went on to say, "We don't necessarily pray to win . . . we pray that we may play to the best of our ability and that none will be injured."

He also mentioned that the football team may offer "an opportunity" for some players who don't pray regularly . . . or don't pray at all.

This week The Herald salutes all local and other football players who believe in and acknowledge a Higher Being and who find strength and direction in communication with the Good Lord. —Wendell Tooley, The Tulia Herald

A DAY OFF!!!

So you want the day off? Let's take a look at what you're asking for:

There are 365 days per year available for you to work.

There are 52 weeks per year in which you already have two days off per week, leaving 261 days available for work.

Since you spend 16 hours each day away from work you have used up 170 days, leaving only 91 days available.

You spend 30 minutes each day on coffee break. That accounts for 23 days each year, leaving only 68 days available.

With a one-hour lunch period each day, you have used up another 46 days.

Ronnie Aston producer of first Lockney 1986 bale

Lockney area's first bale of 1986 cotton was produced by Ronnie Aston and was processed by D&J Gin, Inc. It was ginned at 2:40 p.m. last Wednesday.

Aston receives a $50 premium from Lockney Chamber of Commerce, which annually recognizes the producer of the first bale.

Aston harvested 3,520 pounds of seed cotton shortly after noon, arriving at the gin after 2 p.m. Ginning was completed by 2:40.

The load, hauled in via trailer, yielded 540 and 360 pound bales. This was 25.5 turnout, according to David Foster of D&J Gin, Inc.

Produced on Rozzell Sams' land, one mile south of Lockney, the Paymaster 145 variety cotton was produced under non-irrigated conditions.

TAYLOR RECEIVES PREMIUM FOR GRAIN

Another $50 premium has been paid by Lockney Chamber of Commerce to Ursel Taylor, producer of the first load of "marketable" grain sorghum produced in this area. The 33,210 pound load was produced east of South Plains and was taken at 5:44 p.m. on Sept. 11 to Lockney Cooperatives' terminal at South Plains.

Moisture content was 12.11 percent and test weight was 58.

One of the award stipulations is that the grain must test no more than 14 percent moisture content, according to J.D. Copeland, manager of the chamber.

Following a lengthy rain delay, grain sorghum harvest is in full stride. Producers are anxious to get their crops "out of the field."

Harold (Buck) Ford and Baker brought in the initial load from this year's crop to Patterson Grain Co.'s Lone Star terminal on Sept. 17. Moisture content on the 34,260 pound load was 12.6 percent.

Larry Adrian grew the first grain sorghum delivered this fall to Muncy Elevator. Arriving Sept. 18, the 13,170 pound load was produced approximately five miles south of Lockney. Its moisture content was 17 percent.

FIRST LOCKNEY BALE—Sitting atop the first bale of cotton produced at a Lockney area gin is Brittany Aston, daughter of Ronnie and Treena Aston of Lockney. Ronnie brought the first load of cotton gined in Lockney to D and J Gin, Inc. last

Salvation Army goal of $1,300 set for community

A goal of $1,300 has been set for the Lockney Salvation Army Service Unit Fund Drive which kicked off on Nov. 1, as announced by Don Vernon, service unit committee chairman.

Funds collected in the drive will be used to pay for The Salvation Army's services to the underprivileged in Lockney through the current fiscal year.

In order to hold expenses to the minimum, the service unit has decided to use a direct solicitation, through a bank statement mailing, this year. Chairman Vernon asks that the public give serious thought to this request so that this local volunteer organization can continue its worthwhile services.

The committee, composed of business and civic leaders, carries out a year-around program to help people with emergency needs. In the name of The Salvation Army whom it represents, the committee helps with such basic necessities that families or individuals may require in a temporary crisis.

The service unit also acts as liaison for The Salvation Army's state-wide program which includes summer outings for boys at Camp Hoblitzelle, care for predelinquent girls and unwed mothers, help for paroled prisoners, relief in major disasters and other services.

Members of the committee are Don Vernon, chairman; Arthur Barker Jr., treasurer; Ms. June McDonald, Rev. Murle Rogers, Rev. Robert Kirk, Ms. M.A. Ulmer, Jack Covington, and Joe Zorger.

$500 cash reward offered in theft

A $500 cash reward is being offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the theft of a motor boat which was taken from Ready Marine located on South Main Street in Lockney. The theft occurred on or about October 15.

The owner, who is offering the reward, said that the boat was stolen after it had been repaired by the Lockney business.

The owner of the boat has offered a $500 cash reward to anyone who can give him information which will cause the perpetrators of this crime to be arrested and convicted.

The boat, a 1978 Del Magic which is two-tone cream colored, is on a white trailer and has a Mercury 115 horsepower motor on it. The boat has a walk through windshield. It was removed from the Lockney business after dark.

Anyone having information on the theft may call 296-7515 or 296-2312 and the caller may remain anonymous if he wishes.

Eight cross country runners vie Saturday in regional

By Patti Purser

The boys varsity team and one girl will compete at the Regional Cross Country meet this Saturday in Lubbock at Mae Simmons Park (19th and Quirt). The girls 2-A division will begin at 8:20 a.m. and Melinda Molina will represent Lockney High and try to finish in the top 10 to win a trip to state on November 15. Melinda is a sophomore letterman who competed very well all season. She will have to run extremely well and post her season best time to be able to continue at the state meet and I have every confidence in her doing so.

The boys team will be one of the favored teams in Saturday's competition. Finishing in the top 3 teams will capture a berth to Austin next week. Last year these men took second place at regionals and it looks very good for them to capture the title this year. Four runners on this year's team are returning from the last year 2-A state championship team.

Eddie Garza and Corny Luna, seniors, will probably be dominate top place contenders. They have recorded the best time in this region along with two Sudan boys and one Crosbyton boy. The other Lockney team members who are returning lettermen are juniors Albert Martinez and Javier Bernal. To complete our team we have two strong freshmen competitors in Mark Gatica and Jorge Bernal and one senior David Rodriguez.

These young men have competed well all season and placed above other 2A and 1A schools in every meet, however, this does not mean that their competition will not be strong for Saturday. The other districts in our region have turned in very impressive times from their district meets and it will take a great effort for us to maintain our current status. Strong competition will also come from Paducah, Spade, Eldorado

Tandi Gant earns I rating in UIL twirling contest

Tandi Gant, daughter of Ray and Linda Gant of Lockney, participated in the U.I.L. twirling contest held October 25 at Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

Gant received a I rating for her efforts but due to the fact that she is in junior high school will be unable to advance to any further competition.

Gant is serving as the twirler for the Lockney Longhorn band this year and is in the eighth grade at Lockney Junior High School.

This Week . . .

WORKSHOP

There will be a workshop for parents concerning the District Discipline Management Plan. The emphasis will be on home study skills and the new state laws affecting students.

It is scheduled for Monday, November 10th from 7:00 to 9:00 in the Lockney Elementary Cafeteria. All parents are invited to attend.

ADULT EDUCATION CLASSES

Adult Education Classes are now being held at Lockney Junior High School on Monday and Tuesday night each week at 7:00 p.m. Contact Don or Ethelyn Vernon for more information.

COMMODITIES DISTRIBUTION

Caprock Community Action Association will distribute commodities at the Lockney Community Center on Monday, Nov. 17, from 8 to 12 noon. No new applications will be taken after 11:30 a.m. on the distribution day.

REGIONAL QUALIFIERS—These eight Lockney High School students will be representing Lockney in the regional cross country meet this weekend in Lubbock. Pictured are [back] Javier Bernal, David Rodriguez, Eddie Garza, Corny Luna, and Melinda Molina, [front] Albert Martinez, Mark Gatica, and Jorge Bernal. Good Luck to these athletes.

Pair contend beef 'overproduction' really a fallacy

(Editor's note: Chad Edwards has submitted data to Floyd County newspapers for this article, which presents a view from the other side of the "overproduction" issue. Chad is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Craig Edwards.)

A pair of Virginia farmers-ranchers is tired of hearing about overproduction of beef and pork. They believe that is a fallacy, a myth and that U.S. agriculture is actually facing a production shortage.

That shortage — according to Mike Toner and Harold Beyeler of Stuarts Draft, Va. — is covered by importing beef and pork, so much imported meat that eventually the imports create an oversupply situation.

The Virginia men had heard for years that U.S. producers are growing too much beef, too much grain, too much milk — with domestic producers always shouldering the blame. The "over-production" idea has prompted the USDA to create set-aside programs, termination programs and surplus grain storage facilities.

One American farmer is able to produce enough food to feed 75 people.

These are all statements the public has heard for many years. That is why the markets are weak, why the calf in which feeders invest time and money is not always assured of bringing enough to pay back the expense.

Toner and Beyeler have spent the "overproduction" statements with data they have compiled from various USDA (United States Department of Agriculture) sources. From this information, the pair have compiled a "Beef Facts Analysis" and from the analysis, an "application of statistics, a 'what if' supposition."

Their figures show a production shortage of 28,799,000,000 pounds of beef over a 16 year period, an average one-year production shortage of 1,954,000,000 pounds of beef after exports.

Computed in terms of live cattle, the two men said that the 16-year domestic beef production shortage of 31,267,000,000 pounds is the equivalent of 48,177,273 head of 1,100 pound average cattle. That, in turn, is equal to 3,011,080 additional slaughter cattle to meet the shortfall in production each year.

By following their Beef Facts Analysis chart, compiled with USDA data, the ranchers contend that "It is very easy to identify the source that replaces our domestic production shortage over 16 years."

Toner and Beyeler have computed a 16-year total import figure, combining live cattle with dressed beef, at 40,292,000,000 pounds, a 16-year domestic shortage of 31,267,000,000 pounds, a 16-year excess imports of 9,025,000,000 pounds, into a yearly average of excess imports of 564 million pounds of beef.

"This comparison reveals we are importing any surplus that exists," the men state.

They have gone one step further, in assuming their overproduction fallacy is accurate. "The additional grain required to feed 3,011,080 cattle from birth to slaughter is enormous.

ADDITIONAL GRAIN COULD BE CONSUMED

These cattle, the pair believe, would each require 305 bushels of corn, or approximately 918 million additional bushels of corn, expressed in "Equivalent Feeding Values," and official government information document.

The additional grain required to feed the cattle would, in turn, require "an additional 9,180,000 acres under cultivation, at an average of 100 bushels to the acre," the "Application of Statistics" states.

The Virginia men conclude that "the items required to serve the increased production" would include additional labor, transportation, manufacturing, equipment, fertilizer, seed, herbicides, chemicals and a list of other products.

Beyeler said he first began investigating the overproduction fallacy because, "I'm a lifetime farmer, my grandfather was a farmer, this is my livelihood and it really irked me to think that I believed all this time that our problem was overproduction, when that really isn't the case."

Beyeler said he began visiting the USDA searching for data to reinforce his suspicions. "I found two key words that USDA uses," he said. "Production and supply. Production is what this country produces and supply is the imports included. You really have to watch the way they use these two words; there is a whole lot of difference between them."

Duane Jewell of the Agricultural Statistics Board said he has "evaluated and reviewed the material and they (Beyeler and Toner) have used the correct figures."

Jewell added that he would not "endorse it or put a stamp of approval or disapproval on it. The data they have used, the basic raw data, is correct. It comes from official publications and they have used it correctly and they have done a lot of hard work. I think it would be an area that certainly bears looking at."

"I won't evaluate or attest to whether their premise is correct," he added. "Certainly there are many different ways to look at the data and I won't endorse any one approach."

Meanwhile, the two men, funding themselves, are mailing the manuscripts to various congressmen, organizations and gatherings.

"We've lobbied the hill and we have been trying to work with various congressmen," Beyeler explains. "We went to the farm and ranch congress in St. Louis and we have sent it to several states. I also expect to testify down at the agricultural committees whenever we have the chance again."

Control pasture weeds

Weeds rob bermudagrass pastures of a lot of grazing and hay potential each year, and producers can correct this problem with a fall herbicide application.

"The time to control weeds on bermudagrass pastures is now, not next spring," emphasizes Dr. Dave Weaver, weed specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Use of a preemergence herbicide to control annual weeds can release the true potential a pasture or hay meadow has for producing top quality forage."

Broadleaved and grassy weeds, such as little barley, cheat, henbit, ground-sels, Carolina geranium and seeding dock germinate and begin their growth during the winter season, Weaver explains. These weeds often go unnoticed until the spring when it's time to make a hay cutting or to put cattle on the pasture.

Applying simazine (Princep 80W or Caliber 90) before these winter weeds begin to germinate will eliminate 80 to 95 percent of the weed problems next spring, says the specialist. Since rain is needed to carry the herbicide into the soil where seed germinate, the herbicide should be applied early.

"If little barley or rescuegrass are potential problems, apply simazine between Nov. 1-20," recommends Weaver. "If spring germinating weeds such as sandburs, ragweed or croton (goat-weed) are the only problems in a pasture, then the herbicide can be applied in January or February."

If simazine is applied too late and early germinating weeds show up before bermudagrass begins to green up in the spring, an application of paraquat (Gramoxone) may be needed, notes the weed specialist. Paraquat, a restricted-use herbicide, should be applied while bermudagrass is dormant.

Simazine should not be applied to coarse, sandy soils low in organic matter, including the more alkaline soils in the High Plains, cautions Weaver. Rate of application can range from 1 to 4 pounds per acre. Cattle should not graze treated pasture for 30 days, or for 60 days if the 4-pound rate is used. Also, hay should not be cut for 60 to 90 days when the 4-pound rate is used. However, with early application, these grazing restrictions should not be a problem.

"Simazine is registered only for use on bermudagrass pastures and should not be used on Kleingrass or other species," cautions Weaver.

He points out that atrazine, another preemergence herbicide, has a special "local needs label" for use on bermuda-grass to be grazed. Atrazine (Aatrex 80W, Aatrex 4L or Aatrex Nine-O) provided about the same degree of weed control as does simazine and should be applied in the spring.

Atrazine does provide some post-emergence weed control, Weaver points out. Treated pastures should not be grazed for 60 days, and the herbicide should be used on neutral or acid soils and should not be used in the High Plains, Trans Pecos or Far West Texas areas.

"Atrazine is less expensive per pound than simazine," notes Weaver. "The choice is dependent on whether the grass will be cut for hay or grazed. Also, if ryegrass or legumes have been seeded or if volunteer clover is valued in a particular pasture, then neither herbicide should be used."

Screwworm eradication successful in Mexico

One of the most successful integrated pest management programs ever undertaken in the United States is continuing to push southward to the southern reaches of Mexico and is also being targeted at Central America.

The Screwworm Eradication Program, launched some 25 years ago in Texas to battle the dreaded flesh-eating pest that was threatening the Southwest's livestock industry, stands as an example of a technological breakthrough that has meant millions of dollars to livestock producers.

The program, which involves the use of sterile male flies to breed the fertile screwworm fly population out of existence, was based at Mission, Texas, from 1961 to '75. After screwworms were eradicated in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, headquarters for the operation was moved to Mexico City, Mexico. A fly rearing plant was established at Tuxtla Gutierrez in the Ithmus of Tehuantepec in Mexico, the narrowest part of that country, so that a biological barrier zone could be established for battling screwworm flies moving northward from Central America.

Now the war on screwworms has virtually been won in Mexico, and program directors are working with the State Department to develop plans for battling the pest in Central America.

"No screwworm infestations have been detected in the U.S. in the past four years, and population numbers have been drastically reduced in Mexico," points out Dr. Cliff Hoelscher, entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

U.S. MILL USE OF COTTON CONTINUES UPWARD

The preliminary estimate of September's seasonally adjusted annual rate places U.S. mills' cotton consumption at 7.126 million bales, up almost 2% over the revised August rate of 7.001 million and equal to the July, 1976, rate.

National Cotton Council market research analyst James T. Howell said cotton's strength comes in part from the strong fashion appeal of cotton and cotton-blend knit apparel, fleece products and denim.

COTTON EXPORTS MOUNT

Total export sales commitments for U.S. upland and American Pima cotton reached 4,811,000 running bales by Oct. 2.

Hoelscher has been involved in the screwworm eradication effort for a number of years and has seen the massive benefits from the undertaking.

"The program, which requires the close cooperation of livestock owners, continues to pay dividends in Texas and Mexico and should have the same impact on livestock production in Central America," says the entomologist.

"The Screwworm Eradication Program has a major impact on people because it improves their food supply," Hoelscher points out. "Therefore, the eradication effort has a lot of beneficial aspects from a foreign policy standpoint."

Entomologists are working hard to expand the program to improve the quality of life for people in regions where the screwworms continue to be a livestock pest.

Part of meat preference determined by price

By Marilyn Brown
TAES Science Writer

America's falling per capita beef consumption often is blamed on the consumer conscience, proposing more and more often to buy a chicken for its lower saturated fat content.

But a new Texas Agricultural Experiment Station study indicates that at least one other consumer consideration is coming into play: the relatively lower cost for chicken.

Most Americans over 50 can remember when chicken was more expensive than beef, but technological advances have allowed poultry producers to cut costs by mass producing chickens in confinement. Today, whole chickens can commonly be bought for less than a dollar per pound; beef achieves that low price only for cheaper cuts and during special sales.

Michael W. Wohlgenant, an agricultural economist at Texas A&M University, recently studied the elasticity of (or variation in) demand for beef. He began with the assumption that long-term changes in consumption can be explained by changes in relative prices and real income.

An increase in the demand for beef until the early 1970s appears to be attributable mainly to growth in real income, Wohlgenant says. Since then, shifts in demand seem to be more related to the prices of competing meats.

From 1973 through 1983, real income per capita increased by about 7 percent, while beef prices declined about 25 percent, pork about 30 percent, and poultry almost 45 percent. Fish prices cycled during the period, increasing about 15 percent until 1978 and then declining by about the same amount.

"The fact that real prices of competing meat products—particularly poultry—have declined so much in the last decade provides the motivation for focusing attention on cross elasticities of demand for beef," Wohlgenant says.

In the study, he found that the price of pork had little effect on beef consumption. On the other hand, significant interaction between beef and poultry, beef and fish, and poultry and fish was found.

Using economic models, the researcher found that between 1975 and 1983, there has been a 20 percent decline in per capita beef consumption. He attributes 12 percent of that decline to poultry prices, 5 percent to increased pork prices, and 5 percent to increased fish prices.

Higher beef prices accounted for less than 3 percent of the decline in beef consumption over the period, he says.

The sensitivity to poultry prices that beef demand has developed over the last decade is important to the beef industry, the researcher says.

The beef industry should pay close attention to further reductions in poultry costs, which if not matched by decreases in beef production costs, could have strong adverse effects on the demand for beef.

"Therefore, it would seem advantageous for the industry to seek ways to further reduce beef production costs to remain competitive with poultry," Wohlgenant says.

TEXAS PECAN CROP SHORT BUT OF HIGH QUALITY

The 1986 pecan crop will be short in Texas as well as in other pecan-producing states, but the quality of the Texas crop will be the best in 10 years, says a horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The Texas crop should be between 25 and 30 million pounds, about 40 percent of normal. Prices to growers should be good due to the shorter crop, but consumer prices should be about the same as last year. New crop pecans should hit the market about the first of November. The lighter color of the kernel, the better the quality. Pecans should be stored in the home freezer to preserve quality

The Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986 makes every U.S. employer, including cotton producers, ginners and others in agriculture, an involuntary, unpaid and in most cases unwilling agent of the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS).

Beginning December 1, the legal status of every person employed in the U.S. will have to be established, not by INS, but by the employer on pain of severe fines and possible jail terms. Passage of the 1986 act marks the first time in history that employer sanctions have been imposed for the hiring of illegal aliens.

"It's a sad state of affairs," comments Donald Johnson, executive vice president of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., "but for the time being at least it's something we have to live with and we'd best be aware of the law's provisions."

Fortunately, Johnson says, there is a grace period before full enforcement. For the first six months the Border Patrol arm of INS will suspend enforcement while forms, information and final regulations on the act's provisions are disseminated. During the next year, citations will be issued but no penalties imposed.

Beginning May 1, 1988, the fine will be from $250 to $2,000 per illegal alien for a first violation, $2,000 to $5,000 for second offenses, and $3,000 to $10,000 per unauthorized alien for subsequent violations.

An employer who is deemed to have engaged in a pattern or practice of violations will be fined up to $3,000 per alien and jailed for not more than six months. INS can seek an injunction against employers if a pattern of employment, recruitment or referral of illegals is proved, and the employer would be found in contempt of court for future violations.

Specific documents are required by the act as proof of each worker's legality. The attorney general will supply a form, to be signed by employer and employee, attesting that employees are not illegal. This form, together with copies of required documents, must be kept available for INS inspection for three years.

Failure to maintain the form and documents leaves the employer subject to a $100 to $1,000 civil penalty per worker.

A U.S. passport, naturalization certificate or resident alien card with photograph are the only single documents acceptable as proof of status. Otherwise both a Social Security card or birth certificate and a driver's license with photograph are required.

Border Patrol officers and Department of Labor representatives will be authorized to check verification records and forms after June 1, 1987.

There's one plus for employers in the new law, Johnson notes. The Border Patrol may not enter the premises of a farm or other outdoor agricultural operation to interview workers without the employer's consent or a properly executed search warrant.

More things your electric company didn't tell you:

Heat pumps aren't so hot.

When it gets around freezing, heat pumps switch on their inefficient, expensive electric heating coils. That's why your electric bill heats you up when your heat pump won't.

On the other hand, today's super-efficient propane furnaces and space heaters heat your home quickly and comfortably. It's simple. These furnaces provide air that's about 40 degrees warmer than heat pumps deliver. And if you're still heating with non-heat pump electricity, you could save up to 60%, with propane. That's economy. So instead of bundling up indoors, save a bundle. Propane brings the comforts and energy savings of natural gas to homes beyond natural gas lines.

In times like these... By Mary Jo Fielding

Shortly after the Reagan-Gorbachev meetings in Iceland, a joke began making the rounds in Brussels. Question: What could possibly have been worse than the failure at Reykjavik? Answer: Success.

Throughout the NATO countries last week, there were second thoughts about the prospect of a nuclear-free world. For forty years nuclear weapons have been the backbone of the West's defense. For almost as long American presidents have virtually affirmed their device to see the world rid of them. Then suddenly Ronald Reagan and Mikhail Gorbachev came close to actually doing it.

What if the deal had gone through? On the one hand, Gorbachev would have returned to Moscow a hero. There is a belief in the United States that the Soviets need nuclear arms because nuclear weapons are what make them a superpower. However, according to Marxist-Leninist doctrine, capitalism's nuclear capability (unforeseen by Marx and Lenin) is the only thing that can prevent the inevitable triumph of communism.

On the other hand, Europeans fear a non-nuclear United States would be tempted to retreat into neoisolationism. Behind its 600-ship Navy and its Star Wars shield, Fortress America might be secure. But what would happen to Western Europe in the face of overwhelming Soviet conventional forces? Would West Germany and the Scandinavian countries retreat into a Finnish neutrality? Abolishing nuclear weapons would undo a deterrent that has foreclosed world war for 40 years.

In Reykjavik President Reagan seemed to forget one of his own favorite maxims weapons don't cause tensions; tensions cause weapons. The ideal, after all, is not the destruction of weapons for its own sake but the preservation of peace.

IS THIS A BUBBLE GUM ADVERTISEMENT or a pose for a candid camera? Could be just a young lady enjoying the all time favorite of gum chewing. Its Mary Poole and this is the pose that recently won her a photo space in the prestigious America's Calendar Girl of Houston. She was entered in the humorous category. Her photograph will be printed in the 1987 model's calendar along with the other winners across Texas. There were approximately two hundred contestants competing in various photogenic categories. For her honor Mary Lindsey will receive a plaque and portfolio exposure with the calendar being place with various children's talent and modeling agencies around the metropolitan areas of Dallas, Ft. Worth, and Houston. She is the nine year old daughter of James and Shelia Poole of Lockney. Photograph by Chuck Wilson of Lockney.

Free 'Don't Mess with Texas' litterbags, strips available

The state's tough-talking anti-litter program has made litterbags and bumper strips touting "Don't Mess with Texas" so popular that the highway department has trouble keeping them in stock.

Texans who missed getting a litterbag or bumper strip will now find them available free at all State Department of Highways and Public Transportation offices and Texas Tourist Bureaus.

"We distributed one million litterbags and 500,000 bumper strips in a two-month period when they were first introduced last spring. Initially, we expected that quantity to last us six to eight months, but we just couldn't keep them in stock," said Don Clark, director of travel and information with the highway department.

"We are encouraged by their popularity. Research indicates that states with active litterbag distribution, combined with a strong public awareness program, are making major progress in reducing litter," Clark said.

Last month, the highway department released figures showing that litter had declined 29 percent since the "Don't Mess with Texas" program was implemented.

The "Don't Mess with Texas" slogan has proved so popular that several entrepreneurs are now selling T-shirts and caps bearing the logo.

"We've even heard that some people are selling our free litterbags and bumper strips," Clark said. "But why buy what you can get free?"

Texas Tourist Bureaus are located in Amarillo, Anthony, Austin, Denison, Gainesville, Langtry, Laredo, Orange, Texarkana, Harlingen, Waskom, and Wichita Falls. Offices of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation are located throughout Texas, with at least one in most Texas counties.

Dianne's Diary

Another Halloween has passed us by here at the care center. It was a fun-filled day for us. Several staff members showed up in costume. We had a contest and the winner was Eloisa Gonzales who was dressed as a wino.

At Bingo time we had a little Halloween party with lots of goodies. After school the Daisy Girl Scouts and the Brownies came to visit with us. There were so many little girls all dressed in costumes. They sang songs and paraded up and down the halls. Then they passed out treats consisting of our favorite snack, cheese and peanut butter crackers and chocolate Reese's peanut butter cups. They also brought dainty, floral centerpieces for our dining room tables. They are so beautiful. Thank you so much ladies for remembering us and bringing such joy.

Our Resident of the Month for November is Mary Jo Fielding from Amarillo. Mary has three children. She enjoys doing such things as reading and dancing. She also stated that she loves guacamole salad. Our Employee of the Month is Pauline Monroe of Lockney voted upon by the residents. Congratulations Pauline.

We have a new face among us, Mrs. Dominga Morales of Lockney. We are proud to have her with us.

Our calendar of events for the month of November has been posted and is full of exciting events. We are going to be starting a Spanish class this month. Every Wednesday Patricia Reyes will be coming by to give us some lessons in Spanish. We are so looking forward to it. Now that the cold weather is beginning to set in, we are going to schedule more indoor activities so that we can stay near our fireplace.

That's all for this week. Stop by and see us soon.

SOUTH PLAINS NEWS

By Mrs. M. Julian

Oct. 24: Bertie Bradley celebrated her 100th birthday on October 13 at the Lockney Rest Home. A big birthday cake and ice cream were served to a huge crowd of relatives and friends. She also received many loved birthday gifts.

Bertie Bradley received a birthday card from President and Mrs. Ronald Reagan and cards from many other celebrities.

This coming Saturday and Sunday Bill Thomas was with the Hester family (Bill's sister) out at the Graham community at Graham's Chapel. This is near Post.

Mrs. M. Julian enjoyed Sunday school and church Sunday at the South Plains Baptist Church on October 26. She also had dinner with the Kendis Julians.

Bessie Jackson is up and around since Wednesday. She was ill with kidney infection for a week here at the rest home.

Bill Thomas recently went to Irving to see his nieces, Mary Cunningham and Lucille Anderson. They went by car.

Johnny Wilson has been in the hospital three weeks before coming home.

Visitor at church services at South Plains October 19 was Len Wood, who was visiting from Dallas.

Letha Mulder went to Littlefield and spent the week with her sister, Mrs. Inez Minyard, who was ill. Mrs. Minyard had undergone minor surgery in Anton last week, but is doing fine now.

Holt Fire 3600

By Bill Munger

At any time of night or day
And sometimes in between,
A call goes out to all of us
For help at an accident scene,
A twisted wreck, a burning house,
A fall or heart attack,
We're on the street awake and sure
Of a plan for our attack.
The senior person shouts to park,
For he is in command,
While on his face a worried look
Of a problem now at hand.
You can bet we'll do our best
At whatever is required,
To save a property, a life and hope
For the dreams we all desire.
Sometimes we win, sometimes we lose,
But we never stop at trying,
A house may burn or even worse,
A person ends up dying.
So shed a tear and say a prayer
And ask what moves us in;
We're here to protect our community,
We're volunteer firemen.

Longhorn JV nips Olton

By Mickey Crowe
The Lockney JV traveled to Olton Thursday and came away with a 7-0 victory. The game was a defensive struggle the whole night.

Lockney advanced the ball into Mustang territory on several occasions and could not come up with a score. Costly penalties and turnovers turned the Longhorns away each time.

In the middle of the second quarter Feliciano Mondragon bulled over from the one yard line and Ray Jimenez kicked the extra point. That ended scoring for the night.

The Longhorns had to stave off a late Mustang drive to end the game. JV will end its season here Thursday against the Abernathy Antelopes.

Shorthorns drop decision in Olton

By Randy Josey
The junior high Shorthorns went to Olton and were defeated by the Colts by a score of 20-0. The Colts are undefeated in district play with a very fine club. Lockney couldn't get much started offensively but played a strong defensive game. The Colts scored on two long runs in the first half and one in the second half.

The Shorthorns close the season at home Thursday against Abernathy. The seventh grade will start at 5:00 with the eighth grade following the seventh.

Copeland wins football contest

Winner of the football contest last week was Joe Copeland, who is one of four entries that missed three in the contest.

Copeland wins first for having missed three games and having the closest total score of 34 on the Lockney-Olton game. He will receive the first place prize money of $10.

Second place goes to Johnny Dorman who also missed three but had a total score of 35 on the tie breaker game. He will receive the $6.00 second place check.

Third place this week is split between Lisa Mosley and Benny Cates who also missed three games each on their entries and both had a tie breaker score of 48 and Lockney to win on the contest. They will each receive $2.00 for third place.

Leading the race for the Dallas Cowboys tickets is Kenneth Wofford who has 89 points. Following in second place is wife Retha Wofford with 87 points.

Others in contention for the tickets include Johnny Dorman and Gary Mangold who each have 84 points. With 83 points is Lisa Mosley and having 82 points are Glenda Wilson, Dickie McCarty, Willis Reynolds and Karla Josey. Those with 81 points include Cindy Means, Homer Ragland and Dwayne Wilson and having 79 points is Michael Means.

Coach's Corner

By Bob Purser

The Olton game was as difficult as we feared it could be. They played excellent defense and it took some big breaks and big plays for things to turn out in our favor.

We are proud of the win and proud of the fact that our seniors went out winners at home. All of them contributed to the cause and will have a winning memory of Mitchell Zimmerman field to last a life time.

Players of the week were Jimmy Ballejo, and Ron Cates on offense, David Rodriguez, Johnny Silva, and Allen Stallings on defense. The special teams player of the week was Joe Torre, and Allen Stallings was the MOE of the week.

Our final home game of the 1986 season has come and gone. It seems that time passes so fast. I know for the parents of our 14 seniors it must have been an emotional night. Many times we became too concerned with the outcome of the game and forgot the emotional aspect of it all.

Our seniors have done a great job this year, it seems like yesterday that I came to Lockney for my first head coaching job and I was excited about the opportunity to see what we could do. At that time our seniors were in the eighth grade and as I remember wondering how they would turn out. I think they turned out plenty good.

Some of them have experienced two district championships and most of them have experienced one, but more than that, they have turned into young men, they have grown up and hopefully are more responsible, dependable and accountable than had they not participated. They are special to me because through all the good and bad, heartfelt victories, and the heartache of loss, they have always given great effort.

As we approach the final regular season game of 1986, I am proud of the fact that the '86 Horns have given us an opportunity to play for another gold football. Again I'm reminded of the saying that winning isn't everything but trying to win is and this bunch will always give everything they have to try to win.

Abernathy is an excellent football team, at this time. They are rated seventh in the state. They average about 240 on the line of scrimmage. They have excellent speed to go with their size and are without a doubt the most talented team we have faced this year, but I believe in Lockney and I believe in our kids.

I'm reminded again of a saying that goes something like this, "credit goes to the man who is actually in the arena who at best knows the joy and elation of victory, but at the worst knows that if he failed, he did it daringly."

That's the plan for Friday night. The Longhorns of 86 will dare greatly as they have all year. And whether we see victory or defeat, it will come in the spirit of champions and I'll be proud they call me coach. See you in Abernathy Friday night.

Horns win third in district play against Olton, 21-6

Lockney played its final home game of the 1986 season Friday night against Olton and added their third win in district play and are now 3 and 1 in district and are now 6-2-1 for the year.

Though no scoring action was seen in the first quarter the Lockney and Olton trainers and the Lockney ambulance crew was called on in the closing two minutes of the first period to prepare and transport an Olton player to the Lockney hospital where he was diagnosed as having a dislocated elbow.

Lockney scored first about halfway through the second quarter of the game when an Olton pass was intercepted and Lockney gained possession of the ball on their own 40 yard line. Javier Bernal carried on the first down for one yard and Jimmy Ballejo took a keeper around the end and down the field for a Lockney first down on the second play.

On the Olton 45 yard line Matt Mitchell carried on the first play, Dickie Hernandez was called on the second down and Ballejo again took a keeper on the third down play and moved the ball to the Mustangs 35 yard line. Hernandez, Bernal, and Ballejo all carried but on the fourth down Lockney was still five yards shy of the first down on the Olton 30 yard line.

On the fourth down Ballejo stepped back and hit Todd Hallmark in the endzone for a 30 yard pass and Ben Schuster booted the extra point. Lockney lead by a score of 7 to 0.

Two plays into the next drive Olton scored their only points of the night in a touchdown run. The extra point went wide and the score was 7 to 6 in the Horns' favor.

No score was posted in the third quarter and Lockney came up with two more touchdowns in the final period of the game.

The first of these touchdowns came with 8:24 left in the game. Lockney was forced to punt on the Mustang 41 yard line. Joe Torrez did an excellent job on the punt as it dropped just inside the Olton three yard line. An offsides penalty backed the opponent back another yard and an incomplete pass left them in a second and eleven situation on their own two yard line.

On the second down play the Mustangs fumbled and Ron Cates came up with the ball for the Horns. On the first down play Steven Cates took a keeper and went the two yards for the touchdown. The extra point was wide but Lockney was in the lead by a score of 13 to 6.

The final scoring drive for the Horns came just two minutes later when Olton again fumbled the ball after a quarterback sack. Rusty Teeter recovered the fumble for the Horns and they were again in scoring position on the Mustangs 17 yard line.

Hernandez took the first handoff and moved Lockney one yard closer to the goalline and Ballejo carried on the second down but was stopped after one yard. On the third down play, Ballejo took a keeper and ran in the 15 yards for the score. The extra point was a two point conversion pass from Ballejo to David Lemons in the endzone.

The final score was Lockney 21 and Olton 6. This week Lockney will travel to Abernathy to face the Antelopes in the final game of the regular season.

TRAVIS CURRY is pastor of Victory Baptist Church in Floydada. Pastor Curry is married to the former Ruby Louise Payne and they are the parents of three children, Julla, Eric and Pamela. Brother Curry is a native of Lubbock and a graduate of Baptist Bible College in Springfield, Missouri. This is Brother Curry's third pastorate, having also pastored in Fayetteville, Arkansas and Cushing Oklahoma. He is 41 years old.

"Where There Is No Vision"

By Pastor Travis Curry

"Where there is no vision, the people perish: but he that keepeth the law, happy is he." Proverbs 29:18

The usual interpretation of this verse is as follows: "Where there is no dream, the people achieve nothing or die." Churches and men alike perish if they have no goals or no dreams. Now there is some truth in this teaching. Few men ever live up to what they dream, but men that never dream seldom accomplish anything at all. If we do not expect great things from God, we are not likely to attempt great things for Him either. One of the greatest needs of Christians today is to get a vision of a world of lost souls headed for hell. We need to see what Jesus saw in Matthew 9:36: "But when He saw the multitudes, He was moved with compassion on them, because they fainted, and were scattered abroad, as sheep having no shepherd."

However, we need to realize that the primary teaching of Proverbs 29:18 is NOT that we need a dream or a goal in life. The Hebrew word translated "vision" can mean a mental sight or a dream, but it is also one of the primary words used for a REVELATION FROM GOD. In the context of Proverbs 29:18 it is speaking of prophecy in general and the WORD OF GOD in particular. That is why the rest of that verse reads, "but he that keepeth the law (the Word of God), happy is he." So then the dreams that we have must fit in and harmonize with the Word of God. It is where there is no vision that comes from the Word of God and upholds the Word of God that the people perish. Mere man without the Word of God is in terrible trouble. People without the Word of God perish.

The Hebrew word translated "perish" is also a very interesting word. There is a primary meaning of this word and two secondary meanings, all of which fit quite well into Proverbs 29:18. The primary meaning of the word translated "perish" is "to loosen." This "loosening" could refer to the soul departing from the body to which the word "perish" would well agree. Some prefer the idea of "loosening the clothes" from which we get the secondary meaning of "to make naked or to expose." Still others prefer the idea of loosening restraint or casting off restraint and therefore becoming "ungovernable." The exact same word is found in Exodus 32:25 and is twice translated "naked."

"And when Moses saw that the people were NAKED; (for Aaron had made them NAKED unto their shame among their enemies)." Exodus 32:25.

The truth is that all three definitions fit very well into Proverbs 29:18:

1. Where the people get no vision, no revelation from God, they perish in the sense of dying an eternal death.
2. Where there is no Word from God, the people are naked and exposed. They may gather a few fig leaves, but their nakedness will still be there. They will need the robes of Christ's righteousness when they stand before Almighty God.
3. Where there is no vision, where people are operating outside the Word of God, the people cast off restraint and become ungodly. They become lawless and ungovernable.

Much the same truth is found in Hosea 4:6, "My people are destroyed for LACK OF KNOWLEDGE..." Despite the contentions of many today, we had better hang on to the Word of God and also give diligent heed to it. "Where there is no vision, the people perish."

Williams elected delegate to 103rd annual angus meeting

Jerry Williams of Lockney has been elected as a delegate to the 103rd annual meeting of the American Angus Association, November 16-18 in Louisville, Kentucky, reports Richard Spader, executive vice president of the American Angus Association.

Williams is one of some 350 Angus breeders who have been elected by fellow members of their state association to serve as a representative at the annual meeting.

At this time, the state delegates will participate in the business meeting and elect a new president, vice president and five directors to the American Angus Association board.

The annual meeting is held in conjunction with the annual convention and banquet, and the Angus show during the North American International Livestock Exposition.

The American Angus Association has more than 24,000 active members and is the largest beef breed organization in the world.

FNB features Montandon in Nov.

Mary Lois Montandon has been selected as the artist of the month for November at the First National Bank of Lockney.

Montandon has "had an interest in art from a very early age and has been painting for more than 25 years." She began taking lessons from Henrietta Ludeman when her youngest son began school. Her favorite subject matter includes portraiture. She also enjoys painting Central Texas landscapes and still life.

For many years she has tried to participate in at least one workshop a year under the direction of an outstanding artist which she admires. Among those with whom she has studied are Lonnie Mason, Ben Konis, Connie Martin, William Henry Earle, Ramon Froman, Daniel Green, Toni Arnett and Albert Handell.

Montandon has exhibited her works at the First National Bank of Floydada, the Llano Estacado Museum in Plainview, and the Office of the Dean of Arts and Sciences at Texas Tech University. She is a member of the Plains Art Association and the Lubbock Art Association.

ARTIST OF THE MONTH—Mary Lois Montandon is pictured with one of the many works of art which she has on display at the First National Bank of Lockney this month. This portrait of Donnie Bybee is one of those works. Montandon commented that Bybee has posed for many of her art classes and most of the time in his famous "old hat," but in one particular class he posed for this portrait without the hat.

"This ad has already saved you money."
 If you paid for this newspaper, we have something in common. We paid for it too. In fact every advertiser you see in these pages paid handsomely for the privilege of being here. And what we paid went toward the cost of producing the newspaper. How much cheaper? Well, if you took all the advertising away, the average newspaper would cost you about five times as much. And offer you about half as much.

Go Horns!
