Angry Dixie Senators Promise Red Hot Segregation Fight

Grim Warning Is Sounded On Military Plan

Right Of Enlisted Men To Serve With Own Race Sought

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 12—The Senate's military manpower bill bumped headon today into the explosive race segregation issue.

Even before the compromise measure blending a five-year draft revival with a voluntary training program for 18-year-olds hit the floor officially, angry southern senators promised a red hot fight.

And when southerners talk fight in the Senate they often mean filibuster.

Demand Segregation

What they want is a provision in the bill guaranteeing every enlisted man the right to serve only in a unit of "his own race."

Senator Russell (D-Ga) asked the armed services committee to approve such an amendment yesterday, but the committee turned him down, 7 to 4.

Senator Maybank (D-SC), who cast one of the losing votes, served this warning on his colleagues:

"The day that this bill comes to the Senate floor I will make speeches and offer amendments until the issue is cleared. It cannot be allowed to pass in its present form."

Active In Dixie Revolt

Maybank and Russell, along with Senators Byrd (D-Va) and Hill (D-Ala)—the others who voted for the segregation provisions—all have been active in the Dixie revolt against President Truman's civil rights program.

This was the first time, however, that the Democratic party strike spilled over into any phase of the preparedness program Mr. Truman laid before Congress in his St. Patrick's day speech.

The armed services committee has been wrestling ever since with the draft and universal military training requests the President outlined in that address.

Makes No Forecasts

Newsmen who asked Chairman Gurney (R-SD) whether the segregation question might jeopardize the compromise bill finally worked out were given this reply:

"I am not making any forecasts but I sincerely wish that issue never had been raised."

Russell strode from the committee session which rejected his amendment and shortly issued a crackling statement.

"The amendment did not en-

School Driving Course Urged

The proposal to establish an auto drivers' course in Lubbock High school was endorsed by representatives of several official agencies at a luncheon in the Hilton hotel at noon today.

The meeting was sponsored by the Lubbock New Car and Truck Dealers association through a committee composed of W. F. (Bill) Dean, W. G. Alderson and E. E. Louthan.

Would Provide Cars

The plan involves the provision of one or two automobiles with dual controls for driving tests and for classroom instructions which all students would be required to take. The association would provide for dual control cars.

The system, as suggested, would be modeled from one which has been in use in Crozier Technical High school, Dallas, several years. Students there not only receive driving and classroom instructions but operate their own traffic court for juvenile offenders, the meeting was informed.

System Is Effective

G. C. (Mule) Dowell, Lubbock school board member who has inspected the Crozier high facilities, said the system has been so effective that no graduate of the course there has been involved in a serious traffic accident in Dallas since the instructions were started in 1945.

A local group agreed to visit the Crozier school and the court there either this week-end or next under sponsorship of the local deal-

Telephone Walkout Now Is Threatened

Effort To Settle Pay Dispute Made

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 12 — A possible nationwide strike of long distance telephone operators hinges today on a new government try at settling the union-company wage dispute.

John J. Moran, president of the CIO American Telephone Workers union, said a strike date will be set if the government negotiations fail.

"Nobody pays much attention to you until you inconvenience them," Moran told a reporter. "I guess John L. Lewis has the right id-a."

To Hold Conference

Moran—whose union represents 22,000 long distance workers in 42 states—was due to meet with representatives of the American Telephone and Telegraph company and conciliators of the Federal Mediation Service at an afternoon conference.

The union wants a 30-cent wage boost, a shortened work week and larger pensions. It says workers now average $1.21 an hour.

A. T. & T.'s proposal for a two-year contract extension with no immediate wage increase was rejected. Moran said the country's economy now is stable and any wage increases would disrupt it.

Argue To Move

A. T. & T.—parent company of the Bell telephone system—at first informed the mediation service that transfer of the deadlocked negotiating sessions here from New York would be useless. But the service said the company later

Effort To Protect Husband Is Futile

LYNBROOK, N. Y., May 12 (U.P.) — Mrs. Albert G. Rockwell, 33, apparently tried to protect her husband from the gas fumes she used to kill herself, police said today.

She waited until he was asleep, they reported, then went into the kitchen and stuffed rags under the bedroom door before turning on the gas.

The fumes leaked through the door. Both were found dead.

TWO-YEAR SENTENCE AGAIN IS CUT

Third Commutation Given Dr. Newton

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 12—Dr. W. R. Newton of Cameron today was given a third commutation of sentence because he gave a blood transfusion to another prisoner.

Newton was convicted of assault to murder Dr. Roy L. Hunt of Littlefield in 1942.

Dr. Hunt and his wife were killed 18 months later in a crime which has not been solved.

Jester Approves

Gov. Beauford H. Jester today approved a recommendation of the board of pardons and paroles that 30 days be slashed from Dr. Newton's two-year penitentiary sentence for giving blood to another prison inmate.

On Jan. 15, Jester approved two similar recommendations by the board. He took this action after an investigation of the frequency with which other prisoners were allowed to be blood donors to gain commutations.

The usual practice is to grant a 30-day commutation for each blood donation.

If he earns all possible credits to reduce actual time served, Dr. Newton will now be released Aug. 6.

Bevin Claims Russia Blocks Peace Path

LONDON, May 12. (AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin told Parliament today only the Communists are standing in the way of world peace.

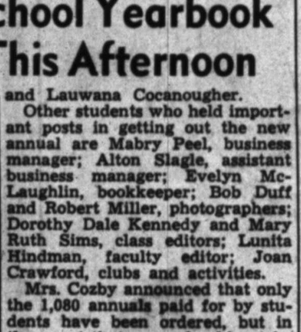

"I am anxious for peace; anxious for a settlement with Soviet Russia," he said.

He added that there could be no settlement until "the ground has been cleared."

Bevin was replying to a question by Anthony Eden, wartime foreign secretary. Eden had asked whether he could make a statement about the American-Russian diplomatic exchange which the Moscow radio disclosed early yesterday.

Italy's Chief To Be Sworn

ROME, May 12. (AP)—Luigi Einaudi, a mild 74-year-old banker who says he loves America, will be sworn in tonight as the first president of the infant Italian republic.

Soon after he takes office, for a seven-year term, he is expected to appoint Alcide De Gasperi premier. De Gasperi has been premier of the provisional government since December, 1945.

Ceremony Is Delayed

Einaudi, governor of the Bank of Italy, vice premier in De Gasperi's cabinet and budget minister, will take the oath of office as president at 6 p. m. (11 a. m. EST) before the senators and deputies who elected him yesterday.

The ceremony originally was set for this morning, but delayed, reportedly to give the new president time to prepare his inaugural address.

This day has been declared a national holiday.

Wallace Supporters In Riot

Club-Swinging Police Battle Angry Crowds

Catholic War Vet Group Is Involved In Picket Fight

(By The United Press)

NEW YORK, May 12—A rioting crowd of 14,000 Henry Wallace supporters and 3,000 anti-Communists was broken up by club-swinging police early today as they milled about a midtown theater which has scheduled the film, "The Iron Curtain."

The bulk of the crowd marched to the Roxy theater from a mass rally at Madison Square Garden last night where the third party presidential candidate read an open letter to Marshal Stalin calling for an "end to the cold war."

Calls For Picketing

The Communist newspaper, the Daily Worker, called yesterday for picketing of the movie which is based on the life story of Igor Gouzenko, a cipher clerk in the Russian embassy at Ottawa who helped Canadian authorities smash a Communist spy ring.

Some 1,600 anti-Communist Catholic war veterans showed up at the theater to protest the presence of the pro-Russian pickets. Fist fights broke out between the opposing groups and 100 patrolmen spearheaded by mounted police dashed into the crowd and broke up the demonstration. Five persons were arrested and charged with disorderly conduct.

Injunction Is Sought

In another move to prevent showing of the picture, which begins today, an attorney sought an injunction against 20th Century-Fox, the film's producers, in New York Supreme court on behalf of four noted Russian composers who charge their names and music are used in the film without their permission.

The Catholic war veterans were the first to appear at the theater. They organized a marching picket line, many carrying signs praising the motion picture.

Then picketing was begun by leftists led by City Councilman Eugene Connolly, New York labor party chief. They were augmented by crowds of sympathizers from the Wallace rally.

Fighting Break Out

A group of 1,000 lined up along the street chanting: "One, two, three, four—we don't want another war!" A second and slightly larger group lined up along another street shouting: "Keep away from Fascist films!"

Fighting broke out shortly after

Jet Plane Explosion Kills Houston Pilot

HOUSTON, May 12. (U.P.) — An explosion of an Army jet plane at Eglin field, Fla., claimed the life of a 31-year-old Houston war hero yesterday.

The flier who lost his life was Maj. Simon H. Johnson, winner of the Distinguished Flying cross.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Johnson, sr., parents of the dead pilot, received information that their son was killed when the jet plane exploded after the landing gear collapsed while the plane was landing at Eglin field.

Major Johnson was a P-51 fighter pilot during the war and flew 50 missions in the European theater.

Unions Await Court Decision On Strike

Judge Goldsborough Sets Hearing Next Week On Permanent Injunction Question

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 12—Union members under a court order to keep the nation's trains running for the Army today awaited the government's next move to settle their wage dispute.

When or in what form the move will come was not clear.

The government has a full week of grace before the threat of nationwide railroad strike may arise again.

During that week the three unions involved must decide whether to fight the anti-strike edict in court or simply leave the whole burden or proof up to Justice department lawyers.

Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough, who averted yesterday's threatened walkout by issuing a temporary restraining order after the government had seized the railroads, set a hearing for next Wednesday on whether the injunction should be made permanent.

Brotherhood attorneys said today the union strategy decision has not yet been reached.

Policy committees were standing by to pass on that and any other developments in the 11-month-old pay battle.

The union chiefs met with Secretary of the Army Royall yesterday and came away saying his authority to umpire the dispute remained a question.

Flood Warnings Go Out Over East Texas After Big Rains

West Texas Areas Get Light Showers

(By The United Press)

Flood warnings went out to scattered sectors of East Texas this morning, as the heavily-loaded Trinity river geared itself for a late spring rampage.

Torrential rains in the last 48 hours set up danger points at Rosser and Trinidad, south of Dallas, and at Rockwall and the west portion of Kaufman county.

Stream Is Rising

The Dallas weather bureau reported a level of 17.1 feet at Rockwall where the flood stage is 10 feet. The Trinity stood at 35.6 feet in Dallas early today, and Dallas weather bureau chief A. M. Hamrick said the stream was rising slowly at Dallas. Danger points, he added, would be further downstream.

A 28-foot bank-full level was predicted for Dallas sometime Thursday. At Trinidad the waters stood at 29 feet, but a new crest was expected from recent four-inch rains at Corsicana, in Navarro county, and in Kaufman county. Hamrick stated the general nature of the overflow, however, would be "moderate."

Warnings On Sabine

Flood warnings along the Sabine river in the East Texas oil field area were issued. A crest of around 34 feet by May 17 was forecast. This would be eight feet above flood stage. Rain in the Gladewater area since Monday has totaled 5.18 inches.

The heavy downpours in the north and eastern parts of the state tapered off into light showers and drizzles for drouth-stricken West Texas. Rain was reported early this morning at Wink and Midland, while drizzling rain sifted down on San Angelo, Big Spring and Abilene.

Rains of more than four inches at scattered points Tuesday eased somewhat during the last 24 hours, the weather bureau said, with 2.15 inches at Waco the heaviest. Bryan recorded 2.14 and

Union Raising Million Dollar Strike "Kitty"

Governor Asking Complaint Under New Labor Law

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, May 12.—The CIO's 75,000 Chrysler Corp. employes struck today for a third round of post-war wage increases.

Gov. Sigler immediately ordered a complaint against the strikers under Michigan's new Borine-Tripp labor law.

It requires that the state take a strike vote before workers can walk out. The CIO United Auto Workers contend it does not apply when a firm has plants outside of Michigan.

Complaint Is Asked

Sigler told reporters that he had asked the state labor mediation board to make a complain to Wayne county (Detroit) Prosecutor James McNally. Under the law, McNally then could ask a court injunction.

"Either the law is good or it isn't," Sigler said. "If it's constitutional, we might as well find out now."

Picket Cal Moorehead, parading before the big Dodge main plant, told reporters "it looks like a long strike."

"This will probably be tough," he added.

Picketing was quiet. Union headquarters said the first workers out were those at the Dodge truck plant. They jumped the gun by 30 minutes.

"Kitty" Is Raised

The union already is raising a million dollar "kitty" to finance the walkout.

The executive board of the union met in special session as picket lines were thrown about Chrysler's Detroit plants.

Negotiations broke down Tuesday night on wage demands of the CIO United Auto Workers. The union scaled its 30 cents an hour demand down to 17 cents without success. The best company offer was six cents an hour.

Average About $1.50

The Chrysler production workers in 16 plants average about $1.50 an hour now.

It was the auto industry's first major strike since November, 1945, when the UAW-CIO walked out at General Motors Corp. to begin a 113-day siege.

It was the first big strike at Chrysler since 1939.

Picketing began at one of the main gates of the Highland Park plant a few minutes before the 8

Marshall Says Action By UN Needed Rather Than "Talks"

Bitter Experience With Russia Cited

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Secretary of State Marshall said today that if Russia is seriously interested in improving world conditions there is urgent need for action through the United Nations.

In a news conference statement, Marshall ruled out the possibility of a direct two-nation settlement in the United States and Russia of general international problems also concerning other governments.

Marshall said in the statement that Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith had not asked Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov "for any general discussion or negotiation."

"Bitter Experience"

Molotov had said that Smith proposed discussion and negotiation and publicly announced that Russia had accepted. That was in a world-startling Russian broadcast Monday night (Moscow time).

"We have had a long and bitter experience with such efforts," Marshall said.

"This government had no intention of entering into bi-lateral negotiations with the Soviet government on matters relating to the interests of other governments.

"The discussion of any proposals in regard to outstanding issues which the Soviet government may have in mind, must, as a matter of course, be conducted in the body charged with responsibility for these questions."

Want Action

This was a clear reference to the United Nations and to the various allied bodies set up during and after the war for handling such problems as the future of Germany and Austria.

Marshall then presented the positive side of the American attitude. He asserted that "what we want is action in the fields where action is possible and urgently necessary at the present

Wilhelmina Will Abdicate In September

Netherlands Queen To Leave Throne In Favor Of Juliana

(By The United Press)

AMSTERDAM, May 12—Queen Wilhelmina of The Netherlands announced in a surprise radio broadcast today that she will abdicate the throne in September in favor of her daughter, Princess Juliana.

The queen, who will be 68 in August, spoke over radio Hilversum, telling her subjects that she had wished to abdicate some time ago, but that Juliana had persuaded her not to leave the throne until after the national jubilee for her late in August.

Wilhelmina

Only a few days ago, Queen Wilhelmina, who has been ill frequently of late, laid down her duties temporarily, turning them over to Juliana. It was the second time she had done so.

Plans for the jubilee are far advanced, and the queen said in her broadcast that she desired to let it be held before she abdicated.

She succeeded to the throne on August 30, 1898, at the age of 18, and has been revered by her subjects since that time.

Band Director Resigns Here

Lewis Stoelzing, Lubbock High school band director the last three years, will go to Canyon in August to become director of the orchestra at West Texas State Teachers college.

The director, who submitted his resignation here recently, will teach six weeks during Lubbock public schools summer term.

Expressing regret over leaving Lubbock and band work here, Stoelzing said the Canyon position will offer opportunity for string work, in which he is especially interested, in the only college in West Texas developing a string program.

Served In War

String work at the college at Canyon was abandoned during the war and is being resumed for the first time since 1942.

Stoelzing came to Lubbock after serving in the Army Air corps. Prior to military service, he had been band director at Pecos and previously in Kansas schools.

As band director of Lubbock High school, he has sought to open the band to girls as well as boys and that plan went into effect this year. Sixteen girls are in the band. He expressed belief band work is an educational opportunity which should be open to girls.

He also has stressed elementary band training to give students op-

Eager Heart, Sense Of Humor—And Man"

91-Year-Old Tells Youngsters How To Make Marriages Last

(By The United Press)

LYNN, Mass., May 12.—Mrs. Sarah Wilson said today on her 70th wedding anniversary that all a woman needs for a happy marriage is an eager heart, a sense of humor—and a man.

Mrs. Wilson, who is 91, said:

"Women are to blame for most marriages that fail. They don't work at being married. They don't realize love is a chore as well as a charm. Gracious, a modern girl thinks it's enough just to get herself glamourous and then sit around and get looked at."

She was so annoyed she punctuated each sentence with an emphatic bob of her head.

When she and her 87-year-old husband George were wed back in 1878, she said, women were more sensible.

"We tied our wedding knots with steel then," she said. "If a girl found her husband a problem she worked till she solved him. She didn't just shrug her shoulders and shop for another man like they do in Hollywood."

An outstanding fault of modern women is that they goldbrick, she said.

"Why, I've never been sick a day in my life because I've always

Mother Wins Custody Case

Judge G. V. Pardue this morning awarded custody of a 4-year-old Latin-American boy to the child's 18-year-old mother, but subsequent circumstances indicated possibility of further 99th district court action in the tangled action.

In the first place, the child is an incest product. The girl's father, serving three years in the penitentiary for the offense, is charged with its paternity. He also is said by the girl to have been the father of another child born to her, and which died when it was 11 months old.

Want To Keep Child

In the second, a Latin-American family living near Monroe had been caring for the child and has grown to love it so much that it wants to keep the boy. Judge Pardue, while following the pattern of the law in his award, nevertheless is convinced that welfare of the child would be served better by allowing it to be reared by the family.

And in the third, the mother, Margarita Arragon, was so upset by the child's weeping when she attempted to take him from Patsy Leos and others of the family that had been caring for him several months that she ran out of the courthouse and fainted.

British Troops Evacuate Holy City Amid The Roar Of Battle

By LEO TURNER
United Press Staff Writer

JERUSALEM, May 12.—British troops, who drove the Turks from Jerusalem 30 years ago, began evacuating the Holy City today amid the roar of battle from fighting Arab and Jewish forces.

A British convoy four blocks long pulled out this morning along the northern highway to Haifa, where two troop transports already were loading other thousands of Britons.

Take Three Days

Officials indicated the British evacuation of the Holy City will take three days. High Commissioner Sir Alan Cunningham, who had been scheduled to leave with the troops today, was reliably reported delaying his departure until Friday.

The British security zone of Jerusalem was in a confused state, resembling a massive moving day. Furniture was piled high in the streets to be loaded on trucks.

Signs of the chaos to come already were evident in Jersusalem. The city was beginning to smell after six days without water and electricity was cut off for five hours daily. The Jerusalem Electric corporation announced that service would be suspended entirely Friday for lack of fuel.

Heavy Firing Flares

Heavy firing flared in Jerusalem last night and early this morning but was replaced by an uneasy quiet when daylight came. There was heavy fighting on the Holy City's approaches to the west and south as the British drove out to the north.

To the west, Jews and Arabs were locked in battle on the lifeline road to Tel Aviv. Arabs reported they evacuated 4,500 civilians from the village of Beit Mahsir, two miles southeast of Bab El Wad, the main battle site 12 miles west of Jerusalem.

Arabs claimed another major battle was under way at Kfar Ezion, 10 miles south of Jerusalem. The Arabs claimed they had brought up artillery to shell the Jews out of the ridges overlooking roads leading to the Jewish settlements of Yalu and Nebri Samuel.

Arabs Blame Jews

The Arabs also claimed that Jews started the Jerusalem fighting despite the four-day truce enforced briefly by the British.

They said the Jews moved loudspeakers into the Katamon quarter and urged the Arabs to surrender. Arabs fired at the loudspeakers. The Jews replied, and the firing spread throughout southwestern Jerusalem during the night.

In Haifa, the huge British troopship Samaria was loading 3,000 troops for the voyage back to England while the smaller transport Empire Rest took 1,500 marines and soldiers aboard for return to Bengasi in North Africa.

Wealthy Woman Asks Divorce In Chicago

CHICAGO, May 12 (INS)—Mrs. Olivebelle H. Cooper Augsburger, 33, daughter of the late Jake Hamon, millionaire Oklahoma oilman, sued for divorce today from William H. Augsburger, 44, a Chicago commercial photographer.

The suit charged that Augsburger began using liquor constantly after their marriage on March 8, 1948.

The complaint also alleged that Augsburger constantly was on sprees and that he struck Mrs. Augsburger on two occasions.

Mrs. Augsburger's first husband, a musical instrument repairman, poisoned himself after she divorced him. He left a note which said "he had gambled his life on her love and had lost."

Mrs. Augsburger reportedly was left a "fabulous" fortune by her father, who was murdered in Okmulgee, Okla., 20 years ago.

BURGLARS HAVE HOT TIME

MILWAUKEE (U.P.) — Burglars got their fingers on everything but money when they tried to crack a safe here. When they knocked off the safe dial, tear gas squirted out at them. They left an unopened safe containing $50 and a comb laced with strands of singed hair.

Priceless Art Is Taken From Castle

COBURG, Germany, May 12 (AP)—Military government officials said today thieves have robbed historic Coburg castle of priceless art objects which German police valued at $200,000.

The loot included two silver clocks presented to the Duke of Coburg by Queen Victoria of Britain, and three paintings.

Military government officials said the thieves entered the castle—now an art museum—by removing the iron bars from a window. They cut the paintings from their frames. A solid silver ship model, apparently too heavy to abduct, was found lying outside the building.

Coburg castle, which dates back to the 13th century, once was the residence of the Dukes of Saxe-Coburg.

U. S. Offers Aid To China

WASHINGTON, May 12 (U.P.)—The United States offered China $36,500,000 worth of recovery aid under the foreign assistance act today, and specified that more than half of the goods would be purchased outside this country.

ECA Administrator Paul G. Hoffman announced that he had authorized for shipment to China stocks of cereals and rice, cotton, petroleum, fertilizer and "reserve." The later category, it was explained, was $500,000 for research into China's immediate needs on fixing up power dams, electric stations, and coal mines.

Mostly Food

More than three-fourths of the authorizations were for just plain living for China's multi-millions. For example, ECA authorized the purchase of $13,500,000 worth of cereals and rice. It also approved $13,000,000 worth of cotton to help clothe the population. It agreed that under the program of economic aid, China should now receive $8,000,000 worth of petroleum and products, and also some 1,500,000 worth of fertilizers to nurture her soil.

The Chinese authorizations were made possible by a $50,000,000 advance from the Reconstruction Finance corporation, a part of the China aid act of 1948.

They will cover, ECA said, a six week's period during which pipelines of major commodities to China can be maintained.

Colorado Uranium Ore Prices Hiked

WASHINGTON, May 12. (AP)—In a move to boost the nation's stockpile of uranium—the raw material from which atom bombs are made—the atomic energy commission today offered higher prices for certain types of Colorado ores.

The AEC announced that starting June 1 it will pay a 6-cents-a-ton-mile haulage allowance up to 100 miles from the purchasing depot. It also will pay a 50-cent-a-pound premium for uranium oxide contained in ores assaying .2 per cent or more.

The commission said the action was to stimulate reopening of closed mines in the Colorado plateau area. It noted that this should aid the region through more road construction and by attracting skilled miners to the area.

The price boosts will remain in effect until July 1, 1949.

LOST 47 POUNDS WITHOUT DIETING

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcentrate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful, in fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger.

Barcentrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here is Proof

"When I started taking Barcentrate, I weighed 212 pounds and wore size 46 dresses. Now I wear size 18 and weigh 165 pounds. I started taking Barcentrate in March and by June I had lost 47 pounds. I would have lost more weight had I left off fattening foods, but I was ashamed at that time and afraid to diet. People who knew me before I started taking Barcentrate are amazed at the weight I have lost. My flesh is firm; I have never become flabby or wrinkled and I am 40 years old.

"Before taking Barcentrate I couldn't do my house work without becoming exhausted; had dizzy spells and my head and back hurt me constantly. I was so short winded, I was miserable. But now all those things have gone and it is really a pleasure to do the chores I once dreaded.

"Three years ago I nearly died with Typhus fever and it left me anemic and I could never get my blood count up again or get back my energy. After taking Barcentrate my blood count started up and is now normal. So you see why I praise Barcentrate so highly and recommend it. Any praise I can give Barcentrate is small compared to the relief and happiness it has brought me."—Mrs. Dula Whitehead, 509 Harmon, Corpus Christi, Texas.

At All Druggists

The above is one of hundreds of amazing endorsements we have received.

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe, easy way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

FINES, JAIL TERMS PROVIDED

House Votes Today On 'Leak' Measure

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 12 — The House decides today whether members of Congress — and possibly newsmen — who divulge confidential congressional information shall be jailed or fined.

The question is posed in a resolution requiring executive agencies created by Congress to furnish information congressional committees say they need to do their jobs properly.

Condon Is Cause

This move resulted from the Commerce department's refusal to furnish the House un-American activities committee an FBI report on Dr. Edward U. Condon, head of the Bureau of Standards. The committee said it needed the report to complete an investigation of Condon, who has denied a subcommittee charge that he is one of the weakest links in the nation's atomic security.

Chairman Hoffman (R-Mich) of the House expenditures committee, which drafted the resolution, has conceded that it will not affect the Condon case now. The disputed FBI report was taken over by the White House and is thus exempt.

The resolution contains a provision making it a misdemeanor to divulge information a committee obtains from an executive agency and decides to keep confidential.

The maximum penalty for violation would be a year in prison and a fine of $1,000.

While ostensibly designed to protect information given in confidence, Hoffman said, the provision is broad enough to affect newsmen who cover congressional activities. He said they could be sent to prison for writing news stories based on leaks by committee members or committee employes.

But he said the provision was not intended to apply to newspaper reporters. He added that his committee would support an amendment specifying that news reporting of what goes on behind closed committee doors shall not be penalized.

Johnson To Disclose His Political Plans

AUSTIN, May 12. (U.P.)—Rep. Lyndon Johnson, D., Tex., said he will disclose his political plans before returning to Washington today or tomorrow.

Johnson has been rumored as a candidate for the U. S. Senate seat now held by Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel. If Johnson intends to run for re-election to the House, he would have to file by Monday. Otherwise, if he plans to enter the Senate race, he has a few more weeks left before he has to file.

Johnson ran for the U. S. Senate in 1941, losing to O'Daniel, who has not announced whether he will be a candidate for re-election.

Vicious Dog Shot After Long Fight

HOUSTON, May 12. (U.P.)—A large black chow dog that attacked a 68-year-old woman was shot to death last night after an hour-long battle with police and humane officers.

Mrs. Lulu Price was bitten twice in the left leg.

Nine officers fought with the growling dog in a bedroom. The dog was killed by a full blast of buckshot from a 12-gauge shotgun after the enraged animal failed to stay down after being shot six times, once by a 16-gauge shotgun, once by a .22 caliber rifle and four times by a .45 caliber pistol.

The dog's head was sent to Austin for a rabies test.

Six Negroes Denied Entrance To Hotel

SAN ANTONIO, May 12. (AP)—Six negro social work executives were prevented from entering a hotel banquet hall here yesterday when they tried to attend a luncheon of the Bexar county social welfare associaton. They had been invited to the luncheon.

Some 200 persons at the luncheon passed a resolution to protest to the hotel because the negroes were not admitted.

The hotel representative at the banquet hall entrance said it was against the hotel's policy to allow negroes to dine in that room.

Small Boy Is Hurt In Fall On Truck

Dwight Ford, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Ford of Spur, received severe head injuries Tuesday night in a fall at the Ford farm, and was reported still unconscious this morning by officials at Lubbock Memorial hospital. A diagnosis of the injuries was not available.

Young Ford was riding in a pickup with his father and uncle as they hauled barrels of water on the farm three miles southwest of Spur. Clutching to his uncle's trousers leg for safety, the child slipped and fell when the truck lurched suddenly.

He was brought to the hospital at 11:50 o'clock Tuesday night.

Fascination For Planes Brings Death To 15-Year-Old Farm Boy

MARSHALL, May 12. (AP)—Fascination for airplanes caused the death today of a 15-year-old farm youth after he wrecked two planes attempting to fly them yesterday.

This is the story told by W. S. Sanders, airport manager, and Deputy Sheriff Hulon Huffman:

Edward Corpier, who lived six miles from here, hung around the airport all yesterday afternoon and helped Sanders roll planes into the hangar. Shortly before Sanders left for the night, the lad disappeared. Apparently he was in the hangar, which can be opened from the inside.

Finds Planes Crashed

Later, Sanders' assistant, Bill Gurbetz, returned to the field and found two planes crashed, one on the runway, the other in a nearby field.

Young Corpier was found in the plane on the runway of the airport. He had managed to fly the plane a short distance before it crashed.

Huffman said Edward was identified at the hospital by a younger brother, Edward, 12, who has been living with a family in Marshall. The deputy said that the boys' mother was in a San Angelo hospital and that he was checking a report the boys' father, J. W. Corpier, went to a Shreveport, La., hospital yesterday.

Rainmaker Is Happy After Rain Falls

HARLINGEN, May 12 (U.P.) — Romulo Romeo Castillo the rainmaker was a happy man today.

After 90 hours of waiting for rain, his efforts paid off. And at midnight he went of work. He caught some of the skyjuice in a cup and went to get some coffee and hamburgers.

Castillo put on a raincoat, overshoes and opened his umbrella a few days ago. He plunked himself down in front of his cafe and bluntly said:

"I'll sit here until it rains. And it'll rain in 72 hours."

Castillo wouldn't say why the rain was a little late. He was only happy that it did come, bringing relief to the drought-stricken lower Rio Grande valley.

World Citizen No. 1 Title Is Refused

HAMBURG, Germany, May 12. (AP)—U. N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie has sent regrets to a German father that his newly-born son cannot become "world citizen No. 1."

The father is a Wilhelmshaven newspaper editor, Hans Wilhelm Ernst. He applied to the United Nations for world citizenship for his son before the boy was born.

Ernst said today Trygve Lie's reply was that he is at present without authority to grant world citizenships.

McAllen Request Is Refused By Court

AUSTIN, May 12. (AP)—The Supreme court today denied the city of McAllen's request to force Attorney General Price Daniel by mandamus to approve an issue of $925,000 in waterworks bonds.

Involved in the dispute was the city's method of retiring a series of 1945 bonds through the intervention of a financial house, Ransom-Davidson Co., Inc., before the sale of the 1948 series of waterworks improvement bonds.

Attorneys for the city had argued it faces an emergency water situation which it can remedy by paying off the old bond issue and issuing new bonds for improvements.

"We can not order the attorney general under the facts of this case to assume that adequate arrangements will be made to his reasonable satisfaction by Aug. 1, 1948," said Associate Justice W. St. John Garwood in his opinion.

"Neither can we assume that if such arrangements are made by that date, the attorney general will, neverthless, disapprove the bonds."

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL . . .

Widowed And Divorced Girl Is Crux Of Dispute Between Mother And Interfering Grandmother

DEAR MARY HAWORTH. Our daughter Jane, 26, is once a widow and once a divorcee; and she and her daughter, a lovely child, now almost two years old, live with us. Also we have a son Jimmie, now 16.

Six years ago Jane married John, who was then a bomber pilot. He was a wonderful lad, fine, understanding, kind, everything one could want in a son. Jane met him in college, and after they married, she started housekeeping near his training station, where they lived for six months.

John was killed on his first mission and Jane came home a brokenhearted girl. She went back to work; things seemed to go pretty well for a while; and then as her girl friends' husbands and beaux began drifting back from the service, she seemed more mixed up than ever.

SECOND HUSBAND DESERTED BRIDE

SHE started going out with boys, but none interested her until Bob came home. She'd known him in college, too, but he just wasn't good for her. He was everything that John wasn't, but despite our pleading and reasoning, she married him. Four months later Bob deserted her and again Jane came home, this time to get a divorce and await the birth of her child.

Now for my problem: At Christmas, an old school friend of Jane's in town for the holidays, came to call on her and took her to a show that evening. My husband's mother (Jane's grandmother) was here, and after Jane and her friend had gone out, Gran took me to task severely.

She said I was a terrible mother, allowing Jane to go out; asked me what kind of mother I am for my son, etc., and said that Jane never should be allowed out with another man. I disagreed with her and she is still provoked. Did I do wrong? Signed—V. N.

GRANDMOTHER'S BEING STUFFY

DEAR V. N.: Gran is a stuffy creature, it seems, whose concepts of social morals binding on womanhood are borrowed from 19th Century patterns of genteel conduct exemplified by royal queens of that era; hence her conviction that a granddaughter of hers should renounce the world and address herself wholly to family duties, related good works and spiritual pursuits, in the event of widowhood and/or a husband's desertion.

This is the kindest construction I can put on her rigid pronouncement that Jane never should be allowed out with a man again. Her agitation over Jane's casual outing with a friend in town for the holidays, which exploded in a scathing indictment of your character and judgment, is absurd.

On Jane's behalf may I say: The fact that John was killed in battle and that Bob deserted her and their unborn child can't be adduced as circumstantial evidence that she is fit subject for custodial restraint; As a divorced woman, 26 years old, Jane is legal mistress of her actions and eligible to court from interested eligible men; and Gran can't reasonably argue anything to the contrary.

MAYBE MOTHER CODDLES GIRL

AS for your position, it is my impression that you are an exceedingly conscientious mother, although it's possible you err on the side of coddling your children too much, perhaps loving them with more warmth than wisdom, with the result that, as long as you live, they may feel free to act foolhardily, on the theory that it's mother's pleasure to rush to the rescue and pick up the pieces if things go smash.

In any event, it was your privilege to defend yourself and Jane against Gran's censorious attack; she was grossly discourteous in precipitating the scene, and is behaving badly in seething about it since. All things considered, my advice is: Don't take her seriously. You're not under obligation to justify yourself to her, and when you realize that, you'll stop feeling defensive.—M. H.

Three Railroad Unions Are Now In Worse Spot Than They Were

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP) — At this point the three railroad unions, which threatened to strike, are on pretty much of a spot.

The big question for them is: Now what do they do?

At this point they probably don't know themselves.

They're in a box. One of the men connected with the unions admitted as much to this writer.

Strike Forbidden

The three unions — engineers, firemen, switchmen — marched steadily uphill to the point where they called a strike.

After all that buildup—it got the country into a kind of crisis mood—they had to call off the strike.

The railroads wouldn't give in to them. And the government took over the roads. It did more. It got a court order forbidding a strike.

That stopped it, at least for the time being. There wasn't anything for the unions to do but stay on the job, after the court order.

If they hadn't, they would have faced possible heavy fines for contempt of court, like the ones John L. Lewis got for not calling off his coal strikes.

Only Temporary

The railroad no-strike order is only temporary. It ends May 19. The unions could argue then against the court's issuing a permanent no-strike order. But it's not even clear they'll do that.

Since the unions have not been given what they wanted, they still want to argue or bargain for it. But with whom?

The railroads are sitting pretty. Their attitude can be "take it or leave it."

Although the government has seized the roads, the companies actually are running them.

And the court order is protecting the companies against a strike.

Secretary of the Army Royall doesn't seem in any hurry to talk business with the unions, either. Royall, who took over the roads for the government, told reporters as much yesterday.

On Spot

By going back a bit, you can see the spot the unions are on:

Nineteen other unions have settled with the roads for a pay raise of 15 1-2 cents an hour, or a $1.24 a day for an eight-hour day.

These three unions, arguing with the roads since last summer, have insisted on a 30 percent raise, with a minimum boost of $3 for all their 190,000 members.

In addition, these three unions wanted 23 changes in working rules.

That would mean an increase in pay—in addition to the $3 a day—for certain men doing certain jobs under certain conditions.

Months ago President Truman appointed a board of fact-finders to look into the dispute. The board recommended:

Recommendations Made

That the unions take 15 1-2 cents an hour, like the other 19 unions, and drop some of those demands for 23 changes in the rules.

The unions said "No." Over last weekend, as the strike drew near, the union leaders and company people were called to the White House.

Now, one of the union leaders says, at the White House the unions agreed to settle for 15 1-2 cents an hour but wanted more rule changes than the President's fact-finders had recommended.

The companies have issued a statement saying they'll accept the fact-finders-recommendations.

That's pretty much a "take it or leave it" proposition. The railroads can thus sit back and let the union leaders try to find a way out.

So, all in all, the unions find themselves in a lot worse bargaining position than before the deadline for the strike they called off.

HYPNOTIZED — Miss Josephine Park, 19, filed suit against Dr. Hyman Blumenthal, a Jersey City, N. J., dentist, charging he made her ill when he hypnotized her while she was his assistant. She seeks $75,000 damages and her mother is asking $25,000 for medical expenses and the loss of her daughter's services. Miss Clark claims Dr. Blumenthal carried on experiments from September, 1945, to August, 1946. She says they caused her moments of blindness and damaged her health.

Jitterbug Disappearing From American Scene, Bolger Says

BY BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, May 12—Shed a tear, friends—the jitterbug is disappearing from the American scene. This news comes from dance expert Ray Bolger.

"Jitterbugging was the product of depression and war," says Prof. Bolger, now displaying his footwork in "Silver Lining." "Such times of stress and strain bring out the primitive instinct and the desire for frantic expression of emotion.

"Now that things are getting more normal (that's what HE says), the trend is toward more graceful living. Girls are wearing clothes that flatter their charms, and they seek a style of dancing that accentuates their grace and dignity." So you'd better polish up that old maxixe, bud.

Death Valley Busy

Death valley is getting a big play from Hollywood these days, much to Arizona's disappointment. "Walking Hills," "Three Godfathers" and "Yellow Sky" are among the films being shot in the lower basin in the U. S. These pictures would probably have been made in Arizona, except for a dispute now going on about whether that state should assume liability risks for actors who work there on locations.

Censor trouble prompted a swift rewrite of the gangsterish "Chicago Story," which is now "Undercover Man," starring Glenn Ford. Originally based on the Capone story, it has been switched to a tale of a Treasury agent who solves a big income tax evasion case. The culprit is a composite of several bigtime evaders . . .

Dana Andrews heads for Texas after finishing his first production of his own, "No Minor Vices." He hopes to gather his seven brothers at their mother's home in Houston for their first reunion in many years . . .

"The Sainted sisters" (Par) is a pleasant fable about two confidence women (Veronica Lake, Joan Caufiel!) who are reformed by a small-town stone cutter (Barry Fitzgerald). It's nothing uproarious, but it scores high in chucklesome entertainment. Miss Lake shows a fine knack for comedy.

SOFTENED UP

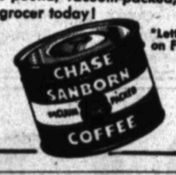

ASBURY PARK, N. J. (U.P.) — Mrs. Lillian Weinblatt applied to the city council for a liquor permit and installed two bars in her Metropolitan Hotel at a cost of $3,800. Then the council refused to issue the permit. She had to use the equipment to serve soft drinks only.

Evangelist Sees Black Picture In Present Day American Scene

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

America has been dying spiritually for a generation, Rev. Bernard C. Morris says.

Morris, who left the Salvation Army recently after 21 years as an officer, is now an evangelist and heads a movement called Texas for Christ, Inc.

"America's ideals," he told us, "reached a peak during the administration of Woodrow Wilson and have been going down steadily ever since."

To prove this, the 42-year-old Morris paints a bleak picture.

Black View

Here it is:

"We now have five million criminals in America and eight million mental defectives. All mental hospitals in the country are crowded and prisons and reformatories are overflowing. There are two million chronic alcoholics. Seventy million Americans drink.

"This is the most drunken nation in the world. In 1946 our people spent eight billion, seven hundred and seventy million dollars for alcoholic beverages and drank another eighteen million gallons of illegal liquor.

"If you will add to our national liquor bill a seventeen billion dollar annual crime bill and add to that ten billion for gambling, seven billion for movies and recreation, five billion for tobacco and another two billion for cosmetics, you have more than 40 billion dollars.

Churches Get Less

"In contrast, we generous Americans spent for churches of all faiths, for all private and benevolent institutions, for all charities and character building agencies of the community chest and for the American Red Cross —the sum of three billion dollars.

Eighty-seven per cent of our population do not go to church and seventy million Americans do not belong to any church. The divorce rate is appalling. Some one estimates there are more bar maids than college girls.

"We now have a murder every 40 minutes and a major crime every 22 seconds.

"The conditions that exist in America now caused the fall of Rome and the fall of France. I agree with Woodrow Wilson, who said: A nation cannot survive materially unless it is redeemed spiritually."

Mexico has a lower-rents campaign.

She Marries Four On Spur Of Moment

LOS ANGELES, May 12 (AP) Barbara Joyce Dardis Hendricks Decker Vaughan, 21-year-old stenographer, explained today that she has four husbands—three over par —because she is impulsive.

"I married them all in four years, just on the spur of the moment, from time to time," police quoted her. "I never divorced any of them, either."

She is being held in county jail on a bigamy charge.

Her fourth husband is Gerald C. Vaughn, 42-year-old machinist.

Police said she was married to Ernest Dardis, in El Monte, Calif., in March, 1944; to Leo M. Hendricks in Las Vegas, Nev., in September, 1946, and to Dean Decker in San Bernardino, Calif., in June 1947.

Art Exhibit Slated For Senior High

An open house of the art department of Senior High school for students, teachers and anyone else interested in seeing processes in different crafts is to be conducted from 3:40 to 4:30 o'clock this afternoon in the department.

The exhibit will be sponsored by Splash or Splatter, art club which meets each Thursday at noon at the school and is open to any student in the high school interested in art. Many take advantage of opportunity to work in the club, because art classes conflict with other work and the club offers the only chance for some to study art.

Various Displays Planned

Displays in today's open house will be those of regular art classes and of members of the club not in art classes.

Processes to be demonstrated include those in metalcraft, including etching, hammered effect and embossing of metal foil; pottery, including the coil method, cast method and probably others; wood carving, including carving in the round, relief carving and chip carving; leather tooling; water color paintings; drawing or sketching, and basketry.

Miss Claudia Neeley is coordinator of art in the public schools and art teacher in the high school. She also is sponsor of the art club.

Jack Crandall is art club president. Anne Lingle was president the first half of the school year.

Most Americans Eat Sugar To Excess

SUN VALLEY, Idaho, May 12 (INS) — Too much candy was blamed today for diabetes, tooth decay and malnutrition.

The blame was placed by Dr. Maury Massler, director of the Child Research clinic at the University of Illinois college of dentistry, speaking to the Idaho state dental association at Sun Valley.

Dr. Massler said the average American eats 115 pounds of sugar a year more than he needs. Much of it stays in the mouth, causing tooth decay, he claimed.

Tracing increases in sugar consumption, Dr. Massler said a person needs 25 pounds a year but the average American now eats about 135 pounds. Increases have come in candy and other sweets between meals, not in mealtime diets, he said.

Gold Is Taken From Airplane

BANGKOK, May 12 (AP)—The criminal investigation division announced between 20 and 30 armed bandits today stole an international gold shipment valued at $2,000,000.

The shipment was en route to Macao from India on a KLM (Dutch) plane that stopped at Bangkok overnight.

The bandits, disguised as Siamese police and soildiers, halted a truck carrying 120,000 grams of gold to the customs house for safe keeping.

Bandits Escaped

Nine guards were handcuffed. The bandits escaped.

International air traffic from Bangkok was suspended until noon while police searched planes to prevent the gold being flown abroad.

Dragnets were formed throughout the city.

An unconfirmed report said police recovered some of the gold but officials declined to comment.

Borger's Dream Shattered As WT-NM Race Tightens

Neel Turns In Third No-Hitter

Jackie Neel turned in his third no-hit no-run game of the year last night at Jumbo Webster field, as the Bluebonnet-Sunbeam Laundry softball team beat the second-place Thomas Jewelers nine, 5-0, in a South Plains Softball League tilt.

Cecil Hale almost joined Neel in the charmed circle last night, throwing a one-hitter in the second game of the doubleheader as the Golden Light Coffee crew beat the Cloverlake Dairy nine, 2-0.

G. W. Warden Loses

Neel out-pitched another no-hit specialist, G. W. Warden, in the first game, striking out 18 opposing batsmen and not coming close to giving up a safety.

Two men reached first for the losers, A. J. Collier getting a walk in the second inning and Jiggs Jackson also drawing an Annie Oakley in the third. Both men died on the initial sack.

Warden had to drop out of the game in the second inning when he complained of a sore arm. Willie Holder took over and gave up only one-hit over the final stretch, but six hits for five runs off Warden in the first two frames clinched the contest.

Floyd Lawhorn, Texas Tech athlete and Bluebonnet centerfielder, picked up a double and single to lead the laundry team to victory.

Dewey Carr and Hale hooked up in a tight pitcher's battle in the second ball game, with Hale coming out on top for the dairy nine.

J. R. Callahan, Golden Light left fielder, singled to spoil Hale's bid for a hitless tilt.

Single runs in the third and fifth innings were enough to win the game, as Hale picked up half of his team's four hits. The other two safeties were off the bat of Doc Blankenship.

Thursday night Cloverlake will play Thomas Jewelers and Golden Light will oppose Baldridge Bakery.

An exhibition game will be played Friday, with the 1945 Bluebonnet team playing the present laundry nine and the Thomas team meeting Southland. The 1945 Bluebonnet team won the city championship.

The line scores:

First Game
Thomas Jewelers	000 000 0	0	0	2
Bluebonnet-Sunbeam	140 000 x	5	7	0
Second Game
Golden Light	000 000 0	0	1	3

Frogs Keep Texas From Golfing Tie

FORT WORTH, May 12 (AP) — University of Texas golfers held a 4-2 victory over Texas Christian today, but it was soured a bit because the Frogs' two points kept Texas out of a tie for the Southwest conference championship.

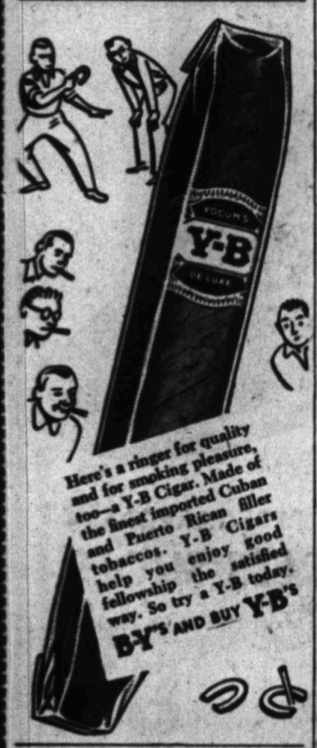

TCU's Jack Williams and Bobby Malone did Texas A. and M. the favor of spoiling Texas' last chance yesterday.

Williams beat Hugh Dahlberg, 3 and 1, and teamed with Malone to beat Morris Williams and Dahlberg, 3 and 2, in the number one low ball match.

Between . . . The Lines

— By JOE KELLY —

George Schepps, the astute former owner of the Dallas Rebels is in Lubbock, casting his shrewd brown eyes over the Hubbers with an appraising glance. And what he has seen so far has been pleasant to his optics. In fact, George is more than a little enthused over the 1948 Hubbers, enthused to the point that he believes they are stronger than the 1947 nine.

He has some company in that direction. Bill Chick of Abilene, formerly the baseball writer here, saw them crush the Blue Sox last Friday night and almost take their measure Saturday night. He says it is a better ball club than the 1947 bunting winners. Joe Kelly of Lubbock, who didn't see the 1947 club, doesn't see how last year's team could have hit any better, but does see how the pitching could have been better. Mrs. Sam Rosenthal thinks the hitting and fielding is better and that the club is stronger. Others agree, although the majority still say they will have to be shown.

Anyway, to get back to George, he likes the looks of this year's pennant contenders. He flatly states that the outfield is stronger in every position, both hitting and fielding, than the 1947 outfield of Pat Rooney, Zeke Wilemon and Jack Cerin. He declares that Chick Fowler is a better left fielder than Cerin will be in a year or two; that Charley Scarborough has one of the greatest throwing arms in organized ball, while being one of the few really Major league hitters in the league; and that Frank Boothe will hit and field over any other man in right field.

George also thinks that the pitching staff will come around in fine shape. Don Moore, of course, has made a tremendous difference already and will make even more in the games to come. Herby Pitts, optioned to Odessa, will make a good hurler in time. In his place, the Hubbers have picked up Red Ramsey and George guarantees that if he had had one more year of seasoning this spring, he would be pitching for Dallas right now. And, it seems, Dallas could use another Hinrichs, whom George says Ramsey favors in action and pitching ability.

The Lubbock infield is almost the same one that performed here last year, except that Bill Serena isn't at shortstop. The fans know that and so does George. He hopes that Jackie Wilcox will fill that void. If he doesn't, well, Lubbock will be given either a shortstop or second baseman to plug the gap, which would move Jackie Sullivan to short. Otherwise, don't look for any change in the infield.

George Schepps hasn't seen the West Texas-New Mexico league clubs in action this year, but he has studied scouting reports closely and he is an avid student of baseball. From the reports he gathers three things: 1, that pitching throughout the league generally is weaker overall than last year; 2, that every club has a better hitting team than last year; and 3, that every team has strengthened both the infield and outfield defensively.

Using this as a rule, George sees the Lubbock club at least as strong as the other seven teams, while the pitching staff is no weaker. That being the case—and with a smart catcher—the Hubbers will be in the thick of the pennant race all year.

George said yesterday that, so far as he himself is concerned, he has no plans at the present time. He related that he had been active in baseball since 1907, when he was a batboy for the Rebels. He grew up with the Dallas club, eventually becoming the owner. He said that it hurt his heart strings to sell, but the offer was so flattering that he couldn't turn it down. Now he intends to spend a month resting and taking it easy, before making any decision on the future.

• • •

"Clubs that might want to sell, I don't want to buy," George declared, "and clubs that I want to buy don't want to sell. And none of them want an old man like me hanging around in any other capacity. It will be hard to keep me out of baseball, but frankly, I don't know right now what I shall do next. Maybe if I wait around long enough I can buy the Rebels back again." George went on to say that he had no active ties with baseball now, that the only team he retained any great interest in was the Hubbers and that was why he was trying to field a strong club.

Cats, Indians Set Fast Pace

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Fort Worth's Cats and the Oklahoma City Indians set a blistering pace in the Texas league.

The Cats have been doing it all the time but Oklahoma City had to get a second wind. It has paid off with three straight wins over the Houston Buffs.

Cats Tighten On Top

Last night the Indians surged into the first division by downing Houston 4-2. Meanwhile Fort Worth was moving further out front by strapping Beaumont's Exporters in a double-header, 5-2 and 6-5. Beaumont fell down into a tie with Dallas for fifth.

Shreveport humiliated the Rebels at Dallas 11-1.

San Antonio and Tulsa couldn't play because of the weather.

Four fine pitching jobs were turned in for the four games played last night.

Bob Austin limited Beaumont to five hits in the first tilt at Fort Worth and Eddie Chandler twirled a six-hitter in the nightcap. A three-run homer by Bill Deininger in the eighth marred Chandler's efforts.

Buffs Limited To Six Hits

Jack Holland did an excellent mound job in Oklahoma City's decision over Houston. He limited the Buffs to six hits. Singles by Fred Marsh and R. J. Woldt with the bases filled in the seventh brought the Indians their winning runs.

Garth (Red) Mann, a Dallas resident, made the Rebels and their backers unhappy by pitching Shreveport to its lopsided win. The Rebels could get only four hits and Mann fanned seven. Mann ran to 13 a string of consecutive scoreless innings before Dallas could get to him rofa couple of safeties in the eighth.

The teams change stands tonight with Houston at Dallas, San Antonio at Fort Worth, Beaumont at Tulsa and Shreveport at Oklahoma City.

Pampa Beats Lamesa

Pampa turned back Lamesa last night 5-1, behind the great hurling of George Payte; Amarillo used Clovis for a stepping stone, 7-4; and the Lubbock Hubbers stepped themselves, going over the Abilene Blue Sox into third place by winning 10-6.

As a result of the scrambled doings in the league, seventh-place Albuquerque is only two and a half games behind the league leaders. Lubbock, in third roost, is a game out, with Abilene, Lamesa and Amarillo only half a game behind them.

Albuqueque is only a game and a half off Lubbock's pace.

So as the teams prepare to enter the fourth week of the league chase, no team has established itself as a pennant cinch. This year's race has no definite form and any team in the league has a chance, with the possible exception of Clovis, which is five games out.

Pampa Is Feature Game

The feature game last night was in Pampa, where Payte pitched the Oilers into a first-place tie with Borger. The slender right-hander, who had a 13 and 16 record last year, almost entered the Hall of Fame. For eight and one-third innings he didn't permit a safety off his slants.

Then the Loboes finally broke the spell, busting out two hits and one run in the ninth inning to avoid a whitewashing. It was a neat bit of hurling.

Lubbock received some good hurling last night from Robert "Red" Ramsey, who made his first start on the hill for the Hubbers an impressive one. The slim righthander gave up nine hits, struckout five and gave definite indications of giving the Hubber hurling staff a badly-needed shot in the arm.

Three-Run Homers

Frank McAlexander and Chick Fowler each hit three-run circuit clouts to lead the Hubbers to a six-run first inning and a four-run third inning that spelled victory.

Tonight Marvin Alexander goes to the mound in search of the Hubbers' second straight victory over Abilene and an opportunity to make third place a little tighter for the local nine. And should either Pampa or Borger lose, the Hubbers could go into a second-place tie, while defeats for both Pampa and Borger would send them into a three-way deadlock.

Levelland Defeats Undefeated Bobcats

LEVELLAND, May 12 (Special) The Smyer Bobcats had their first baseball defeat of the season yesterday and it was no thanks to Bobby Hart, Levelland High school hurler, and his mates. The score was 17 to 0.

The Lobos pounded out 16 hits good for 17 runs, while Hart was hurling a two-hitter against the previously undefeated Bobcats. E. C. Seifert led the attack against Smyer, smashing out a home run with bases loaded and another with the sacks empty.

Larry Roberts also slammed a grand slam homer and J. T. Pugh added a circuit clout with two men on.

It was the first licking of the year for Smyer. W. A. Wise caught he entire game for Levelland.

Yank Jinx On Indians Still Holds; Athletics Take Top

LUBBOCK EVENING JOURNAL
SPORTS
PAGE EIGHT. LUBBOCK, TEX., WEDNESDAY, MAY 12, 1948

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

If the Cleveland Indians are to win their first pennant in 28 years, they had best learn to beat the New York Yankees.

One of the principal reasons the Indians have been pennantless since 1920 has been their inability to win their share of games from the Bronx Bombers.

Only four times in the last 27 seasons have the Indians won a majority of their games with the Yanks.

During the 27-year span, Cleveland finished in the runnerup spot three times. Always it was the Yankees who kept them from winning the flag.

Lose Again Yesterday

This habit of long standing continued to haunt the Indians yesterday. Facing the Yankees for the first time this season, the Tribe absorbed a 4-1 licking which not only ended a five-game winning streak but knocked the team out of first place in the American league race.

The Philadelphia Athletics nipped the St. Louis Browns, 3-2, in 11 innings to push past Cleveland into the top spot. The Yankees remained in third place in the tight race, a game away from the top.

In other American league games the Boston Red Sox snapped a five-game losing streak by shellacking the tail-end Chicago White Sox, 8-0, and Detroit whipped the Senators in a night game at Washington, 4-1.

One Game In National

Only one National league game was played. The Philadelphia Phillies came from behind to defeat the Reds in Cincinnati, 4-3, and make a sweep of the three-game series. New York at Chicago and Boston at St. Louis were rained out. Brooklyn and Pittsburgh were not scheduled.

Allie Reynolds, former Cleveland righthander, pitched the Yankees to victory over the Indians, allowing his former mates only nine hits as he registered his fifth straight triumph. The Indians' lone run resulted from Kenny Keltner's 10th home run in the fourth inning.

A night game Philadelphia crowd of 22,565 saw the Athletics win their ninth straight. The winning run came in the bottom half of the 11th when St. Louis pitcher Fred Sanford walked Pete Suder with the bases loaded and two out. Sam Chapman had sent the game into overtime when he exploded a ninth inning home run with two out and two strikes on him.

Stephens Homers Twice

Vern Stephens banged two home runs to lead the Red Sox attack. Bobby Doerr also homered. Jack Kramer scattered six singles to register his second win and his first shutout.

Virgil Trucks shut out the Senators until the ninth when Eddie Yost doubled to score Al Evans with Washington's only run. Vic Wertz drove in all Detroit's runs with a pair of two-run triples off Mickey Haefner.

Del Ennis, with a homer, two doubles and a single in four times at bat, was the ringleader in Philadelphia's victory over Cincinnati.

No Collegian Ever Left Greater Record

Layne Winding Up Meteoric Athletic Career At Texas U.

AUSTIN, May 12 (AP) — Friday or Saturday — or both — Bobby Layne is expected to wind up his athletic career at the University of Texas.

No collegian ever left a greater record.

One of the greatest passers of all time, one of the smartest quarterbacks Texas ever has known and possessor of the finest pitching record in Southwest conference history, Layne is destined to become a legend on the university's famed "Forty Acres."

Two Games Remain

Texas has two games to play in the conference baseball race. They are against arch-rival Texas A. and M. If the Longhorns win only one of them they will need to make up a game with Texas Christian that was postponed because of rain. If they win both they will be undisputed champions.

Layne, in four years has won 27 conference games and lost none. Against all opposition his record is 38 victories and seven losses. Five of those contests were dropped as a freshman.

His record in conference play has been: 232 1/3 innings pitched, 57 hits, 235 strike-outs and an earned run average of 1.47.

Against all opposition he has worked 369 2/3 innings ,given up 266 hits and fanned 375. His earned run average is 2.06.

He has gone the route in 19 conference games. Five times he was relieved without finishing a game. But the team always was ahead even then.

Average Ahead Of Baugh

In football his passing average was greater than even Sammy Baugh, Texas Christian's great flinger who is the model down hjere for any fellow who flips the ball around.

Layne will play professional football with the Chicago Bears, from whom he will receive one of the highest salaries in gridiron annals. He has said several times that he won't try pro baseball.

Martin Meets Ray Clements

Wayne Martin, the Southwestern Junior Heavyweight champion, will meet Ray "Big Train" Clements tonight at Sled Allen's wrestling arena in a bout that is expected to pack in the paying customers.

Walter Stratton will take on Jack Wentworth in the semi-final go and Billy Sandow will grapple Ace Abbott in the preliminary. In all, the three-match card promises to be one of the best attractions locally in a long time.

Allen had a lot of trouble getting Martin, who now holds the Southwestern Junior Heavyweight title and is hard to get—for the small arenas, that is. Martin is pretty particular about who he faces and how much mazuma is waiting for him. Clements says he isn't that particular and relishes the idea of meeting Martin. In fact, the local boy says that he may demand a title crack, if he turns in a good performance.

Wentworth and Stratton should put on a good show in the two out of three falls semi-final. Stratton is popular with the local fans, while Wentworth also has made good showings. Both are clean wrestlers and both have a complete knowledge of the game.

Sandow and Abbott round out the good card, with Abbott the more popular of the two men. Both are strong, both like it rough and both expect to give the crowd a good show.

Arizona Wildcats Win Border Title

TUCSON, May 12. (AP)—The University of Arizona Wildcats won the Border conference baseball title here last night when they turned back Arizona State at Tempe, 15-2, in the finals of the loop tournament.

Hardin-Simmons university of Abilene, Texas, won third place in the conference standings by defeating New Mexico university 8-6 in the consolation finals.

Keltner Setting Home Run Pace

BY OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 12 — Eleven days ahead of the schedule set by Babe Ruth when he hit his record 60 home runs, Ken Keltner of the Cleveland Indians was just swingin' down the lane today with absolutely no thought of shattering the mark compiled by the Bambino.

"I'm just having a little luck," the rugged third baseman allowed. "I don't have any big ideas."

Trailed By Titans

But while the accepted home run titans — Ted Williams, Ralph Kiner, Johnny Mize and such — wallowed in his wake, Keltner was denting the bleachers with riotous regularity. His 10 round trippers in 16 games was by far the best effort in the majors. By three as a matter of fact.

A change of scenery for the Cleveland club worked what amounted to a minor miracle for the Milwaukee man who, before the season started, was being written off as a has-been. The Tribe formerly played in league park with some of its games in Cleveland municipal stadium.

Keltner is a left field hitter. But that was a mighty poke at league park so he was ordered to swing for the short right field fence. But now the Indians play in Municipal stadium where all the walls are equi-distant.

What Comes Naturally

So Ken is doing what comes naturally, swinging away and pulling a lot of pitches right out of the park.

More, possibly, than he ever dreamed of. Because his best previous mark for an entire season was 26 in 1938, his first full season in the tepee. At the rate he's going it could be terrific.

That pace just about assures him of being the comeback kid of 1948.

For Keltner, although one of the best in the American league for years, had a rough time getting back into form after spending 1945 in the Navy. He hit a weak .241 in 1946 and belted only 13 homers —a figure he almost has matched in the first 16 games this year. And he raised that batting average to only .257 last season.

Whizz Is Boomed

So the Indians brought up this spring from Oklahoma City a sensational rookie named Al Rosen who batted an impressive .349, a fine marke even in the Epworth league. A lot of them were writing the Keltner obituary.

But Rosen is back in the minors now. The Indians found a guy named Keltner.

He has been slightly more than terrific. For in addition to those round trip blasts, the cigar-smoking infielder who dotes on golf and bowling is clipping the apple at a neat .365 clip.

Friends Not Surprised

To those who know him, it's no surprise that Keltner is roaring back. He always had the moxie. When he was in the American association the pitchers used to dust him off so much he began to think about putting sliding pads in the seat of his pants. But Ken stood right up there in the face of those blazing fast balls and continued to take his cut.

And he's taking it now, with a vengeance. They had the halter on him a long time, using him in the hit and run and ordering him to waste his power in a disdirected swing to right. It kept him off the all star team and it hurt his hitting.

But everything's all right now!

Big State Hoping For Good Weather

(By The Associated Press)

The Big State league tries to get in some games tonight and it's about time.

In two nights only two games have been played. Last night all four contests were postponed because of the inclemency of the weather. Monday night two were washed out.

Texarkana and Sherman-Denison transferred their three-game series to Sherman-Denison hoping to get to play but it didn't work.

Tonight Texarkana will be at Sherman - Denison, Waco at Gainesville, Austin at Wichita Falls and Paris at Greenville.

Lone Star Circuit Idled By Weather

(By The Associated Press)

The Lone Star league clubs all change stands tonight and they hope a shift in scenery also gives them a chance to play a little baseball.

Last night every game in the circuit was postponed because of rain.

Leading Longview moves into Bryan, second-place Tyler goes to Henderson, third-place Kilgore is at Marshall and Lufkin journeys to Gladewater.

Louise Suggs Holds U. S. Hopes In Play

LONDON, May 12. (AP)—Little Louise Suggs of Atlanta, Ga., the United States champion, is America's chief hope in the British women's amateur golf tournament beginning May 31.

The title was won last year by Mrs. Mildred (Babe) Didrikson Zaharias, who since has turned professional.

Over 225,000 tons of lemons were picked in Sicily in the 1947-48 season.

Pitts Picked Up By Odessa

Herby Pitts, 18-year-old rookie hurler with the Lubbock Hubbers, yesterday was sent to Odessa on option by the Hubber management.

Pitts, from Tulsa, already has joined the Odessa Oilers of the Longhorn league.

Ramsey, a 20-year-old hurler, from Texarkana, where he had reported to Lubbock on Monday been optioned by the Dallas Rebels. Ramsey was recalled by Dallas and sent to the Hubbers by Bobby Goff, Rebel business manager.

Pitts, since joining the Hubbers, has shown promise as a lefthander and experience in the Class D league should develop him into a winner. He has shown a tendency for wildness, but hurled a creditable game last wek, errors costing him the contest.

Had .500 Average

In three games, Pitts has pitched 12 innings, facing 27 batters, giving up 15 hits and 11 runs, of which nine were earned. He has given up two sacrifice hits, 14 bases on balls and has struckout three batters. Pitts leaves Lubbock with a record of one victory and one loss for a .500 average.

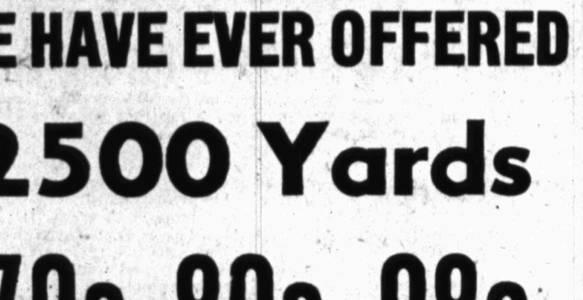

The Hubbers still are one player over the limit, with Jackie Wilcox, shortstop, here for a five-day look. Wilcox has signed a contract, but he can be turned loose if the Hubbers do not think he will help them. In that case they will be down to the league limit of 16 players.

LOBOES GIVE VETERAN GIL TURNER RELEASE

LAMESA, May 12 (Special) — The Lamesa Loboes announced today the outright release of veteran outfielder Gil Turner. Turner, who played at Waco last year, had been holding down right field for the Loboes, and had a .443 batting average in 16 games.

Return of Shortstop Walter Buckel forced the Loboes to part with Turner, in order to keep the number of class men on the roster down to five, the league limit.

Turner, who said he planned to join the Eldorado, Ark., club of the Cotton States league, played brilliantly in his final appearance here Monday night against Borger. He had a perfect night with five hits in five trips, including a home run, and drove in six counters.

Mother Goose Nests On Chicago Course

CHICAGO, May 12. (AP)—Golfers at the suburban Riverside Golf club are spinning mother goose tales at the 19th hole—and they're true ones.

A few weeks ago a mama and papa goose settled in the rough near the fairway of No. 12 hole, close to an inviting pond, or water hole. Recently golfers found five eggs in their nest.

The mother goose has been setting on the eggs almost continuously while her hubby swims around in the pond. Most golfers are passing the mother goose and her eggs at a safe distance and as a result their scores are higher.

Star-Studded Field Ready For Jamaica

NEW YORK, May 12. (AP) — A star-stubbed band of around 12 of the finest handicap horses in training will try to squelch Stymie's two-year monopoly in the rich Gallant Fox handicap at Jamaica Saturday.

The mile and three-sixteenths event offers $75,000 in added money as an inducement.

As of the moment, the field may line up with Mrs. Ethel D. Jacob's Stymie and the following luminaries of the turf:

Calumet Farm's Fervent and Faultless, C. V. Whitney's Phalanx, Ridgewood Stable's Double Jay, Jorge De Atucha's Endeavor 2nd, W. L. Brann's Gallorette, Mill River Stable's Miss Grillo, King Ranch's But Why Not, Deering Howe's Donr, Maine Chance Farm's Knockdown, Lazy F. Ranch's Calvados, and Joseph Tucci's Incline.

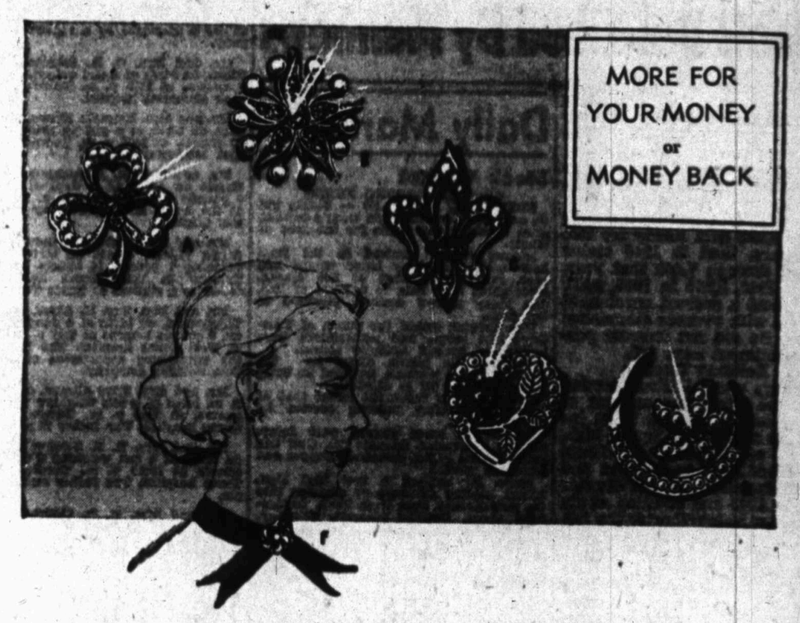

Recent discoveries indicate that the Gulf Stream is only about 15 miles wide and lows at a speed of about six miles an hour.

The effects of the Gulf Stream can be traced from the Gulf of Mexico to the ice-free harbor of Murmansk.

Enrollment Increase In Public Schools Described By Matthews

Rapid increase in enrollment in the Lubbock public school system since 1940, and efforts of the board of trustees to keep buildings space with needs, were discussed at the Rotary club luncheon today at the Hilton hotel by R. W. Matthews, superintendent.

Matthews said the 1941 enrollment of 6,900 held steady for two more years, then in 1944 stated climbing through 7,400 that year, 7,900 in 1945, 8,200 in 1946, 8,710 in 1947, and a current enrollment of 10,341, with average attendance of 9,200. He did not forecast possible enrollment next fall.

Building Cited

Buildings and additions erected during the time, and amount of bonds voted to provide them included an addition to Senior high, erection of Bean and Wilson schools, additions to Sanders and Dunbar, erection of McWhorter school in 1945 and addition of six more rooms at McWhorter the following year, purchase and finishing of buildings for Cottage school, and setting up of temporary buildings on East Broadway and Thirty-sixth street, where permanent structures are planned eventually.

This was a total of 75 classrooms added to the system, but old Central Ward with 12 rooms was lost by business encroachment, eight rooms in various buildings were converted to cafeterias, and four rooms were lost in remodeling of Junior High, for a net gain in classrooms of 51 "to car for 3,500 increase in enrollment."

Planned Expansions

Currently under construction are the O. L. Slaton and J. T. Hutchinson Junior High schools, a 12-room building at Twenty-ninth and Filmore to be known as Woodlawn school, a 12-room and cafeteria on Thirty-sixth street, and a six-room addition at Dunbar.

In the planning stage, he said, are an addition of 12 rooms at senior high, and remodeling of junior high, along with erection of a gymnasium at Chapman Field that will relieve some congestion in high school.

He said the board envisions eventual removal, possibly within five years, of Hunt and K. Carter schools, because of business encroachment.

Bonds voted for expansion purposes since 1940 total $4,104,000. Of these $350,000 were voted in 1941, and $1,500,000 each on September, 1945 and August, 1947.

Program was in charge of Clyde Tatum, Rotarian and president of the school board. Club President Rex Webster was in the chair, with invocation by A. T. Cocanougher.

Visiting Rotarians included Bazy Baker of Cleveland, O., a director of Rotary International.

School Annual

sometime Monday.

Miss Kennedy and Miss Sims, who served as class editors and handled the majority of the copy for the junior and sophomore classes, were recently selected as co-editors for the 1948-49 Westerner by this year's editors and Mrs. Cozby.

The annual is dedicated to Miss Grace Padley, dean of girls and guidance director at the high school. The selection of Miss Padley was made by the editor and assistant editors of the yearbook through a secret vote taken earlier in the year.

Miss Claudia Neelley served as the sponsor of an extra-curricular arts class which did the student art work for the annual.

The Steck Lithographing company of Austin printed this year's Westerner.

In addition to the names of 18 students which appeared in today's Morning Avalanche as having been selected to occupy the coveted Who's Who pages in the 1947-49 Westerner, Lubbock Senior High school yearbook, the following members of the faculty have also been named to the Who's Who section: Omer R. Bantz, Mrs. R. T. Groves, N. J. Robnett and Mary Wilson.

Mounted police pressed into the crowd forcing the rival groups down side streets and away from the theater.

At the Madison Square Garden rally, where both Wallace and his third party running mate, Sen Glen Taylor of Idaho, spoke, some 19,000 persons paid $55,000 to hear Wallace praise the exchange notes between U. portunity to begin such training early and eventually lead to a stronger high school band."

Entered Festival

He took Lubbock High school band members to the Tri-State festival at Enid last year for the first time. A group went again this year and entered 10 events, winning five first and five second places.

Stoelzing and Harry Born, Junior High school director, will teach in summer school.

The elementary band program was conducted during summer school last year, during the present term and will be conducted this summer.

School officials have not announced Stoelzing's successor.

The resignation was presented Saturday to Supt. R. W. Matthews, who will present it to the board.

ANOTHER STRONG FINISH

NEW YORK, May 12 (AP) — Stocks put on another strong finish in today's market, some reaching new highs for the year or longer.

Buying support arrived in the final hour after irregularly lower trends had been in evidence most of the season. Most gains were held to a point or less, and many narrow declines persisted to the close.

The upswing lacked the punch of Tuesday's late surge, and transactions were limited to around 1,500,000 shares.

Chrysler, its plants closed by the strike of 75,000 workers, trimmed an early loss and closed off ¼ at 58¾.

The pace was somewhat under that of Tuesday, transfers totaling around 1,500,000 shares.

Staying in lower ground were International Harvester, Sinclair Oil, Gulf Oil, International Paper, Anaconda Copper and American Woolen.

Santa Fe touched a new 1948 high. Others holding advances or climbing into the plus division were U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Douglas Aircraft, Schenley, General Electric, Atlantic Coast Line, Westinghouse Electric, American Can and International Telephone.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 12 (AP) — Cotton futures turned firm today following early easiness. Old crop deliveries led the advance, influenced by reports that ECA will soon allocate a cotton credit to France to permit early buying of the staple by that country. Such buying would presumably come out of old crop supplies.

New crop deliveries advanced in sympathy, but rallying tendencies there were resisted in the face of favorable crop reports. There were 31 additional May transferable notices issued which induced further selling of May against purchases of later months.

Futures closed $1.90 a bale higher to 70 cents lower than the previous close.

Sec. Marshall

time."

He specified issues before the United Nations security council and other UN agencies, such as the Korean situation, as well as German issues before the Allied control council in Berlin and Austrian treaty negotiations.

After he read his statement, Marshall answered a series of questions from the 100 or more reporters in the State department auditorium.

In these he brought out ideas additional to those he had in his formal statement.

"Peace-Loving Policy"

He read at length from a paragraph of Molotov's May 9 statement to Ambassador Smith in which Molotov declared that the policy of the Russian government has always been "a peace-loving policy and one of collaboration with regard to the United States" and that the U. S. S. R. intends to carry out this policy "with complete consistency."

Marshall declared that he thought that the statement with reference to the future is extremely important; that the entire world will look on to see what will happen about it.

He was asked whether in view of this he thought the Soviet government might now be ready to take action which the United States considers necessary in the United Nations and other existing agencies.

Marshall replied that he has the hope that the world now will see evidence in those fields of the spirit of reaching an accord.

Evades Question

A reporter asked why it would not be possible to ask Premier Stalin to a meeting with President Truman in Washington if the Soviet government submits concrete proposals for negotiation with the United States. Marshall said he could not discuss that point; that it would be one for the President.

The secretary emphasized several times that while he has so far not determined on sending any further formal note or statement to Molotov, the United States will stand ready at any time to undertake normal diplomatic interchanges when there is hope for beneficial results.

The State department kept busy all day yesterday issuing the texts of various declarations to try to set the record straight on exactly what is what.

Texts Issued

The texts issued were these:

1. A statement which Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith made to Molotov in Moscow May 4.

The substance of this statement had been cabled to Smith by the State department although officials here said it was expressed in his own words. It was aimed, these officials said, at impressing on the Russians that the United States intends to go through with its policies for rebuilding western Europe but is not hostile or aggressive toward the Soviet union.

2. The statement which Molotov made to Smith in reply on May 9. In this the Soviet government assumed that what Smith had said on May 4 added up to a proposal to discuss a settlement of outstanding differences. Molotov said the Soviet union "is in agreement with the proposal."

Informal Comments Made

3. Informal comments Smith made to Molotov immediately after the ambassador had read over Molotov's reply. In this Smith reiterated substantially what he said in his first statement and sought to drive home the point that American policy had been compelled to develop as it has by what Smith called Russia's "expansionist policies" in Europe.

In between these releases, the White House issued a statement in which Mr. Truman declared that Smith's purpose in calling on Molotov in the first place had been to impress upon the Soviet government: (1) That the present policies of the United States, including European recovery, "will continue to be vigorously and firmly prosecuted" but (2) "the United States has no hostile or aggressive designs whatsoever with respect to the Soviet union."

force segregation," he said. "It only preserved freedom of choice to the individual as to the race of the military unit in which he is forced to serve."

As a substitute for original plans for a separate and compulsory UMT, the Senate bill would permit 18-year-old youths to volunteer for one year of training with the regular services. Men 19 through 25 would be liable for two-year terms with doctors, dentists and other medical specialists up to 45 also subject to induction.

Radio Station Shooting Scene

ORANGE, May 12 (UP)—Police detectives today checked the background of Mrs. Etta Mae Blum, attractive widow, to learn why she shot a pretty radio station bookkeeper and then committed suicide.

Her intended victim, Billie Jean Cordell, 27, could not explain the attack.

Miss Cordell was taken to a hospital immediately after the shooting yesterday. She was wounded in the right arm and right side, but hospital attendants said her condition was "good."

Went To Desk

Mary Elizabeth Brewer, a switchboard operator at radio station KOGT, said Mrs. Blum, who had been at the office before, entered the studios yesterday afternoon and went directly to Miss Cordell's desk.

"She didn't say a word. She reached into her purse and took out the gun," Miss Brewer said. "She fired twice at Miss Cordell, then shot herself."

Sam Leavitt, manager of the station, was broadcasting a sports show at the time of the shooting. The station remained on the air and none of its listeners heard the commotion.

Remained Conscious

Leavitt said he went to the business office as soon as he could leave the microphone. Miss Cordell was slumped at her desk, still conscious. Mrs. Blum died instantly.

Leavitt said Miss Cordell has been working for the station since last fall. He said the personnel policy there was strict and that she had been proved a "good clean-living girl, before she was hired."

men and Arthur J. Glover of the switchmen—contended to a news conference earlier that the government wanted to transform an emergency board's recommended settlement into compulsory arbitration.

They said that in the final stages of the wage talks before the government seizure order they had offered to cast aside their 30 percent wage increase demand. Instead, they said they had agreed to take the 15 1-2 cents an hour suggested by the presidential board plus a few operating rules changes which they said would not involve much money.

Economy Cited

In fact, the union heads argued, the rules changes actually would save management money by boosting operating efficiency.

Spokesmen for the railroads responded with a formal statement saying that the three unions had refused the same wage settlement which the 19 other rail unions had accepted, and "were determined to use the strike club to get (their demands), irrespective of consequences to others."

A. T. & T.'s contract with Moran's union expired at midnight Saturday. A strike could be called at any time.

Meanwhile, the Communications Workers of America (ind), a rival union, announced the settlement of its first 1948 contract dispute with a Bell system affiliate.

CWA said it agreed to submit to arbitration under state mediation machinery disputed issues, including wages, covering 12,000 employes of the New Jersey Bell Telephone company's traffic department.

Want Fair Shake

Joseph A. Beirne, CWA president, said his union will agree to similar binding arbitration in other states "where state regulations give unions a fair shake."

"But contracts or no contracts," Beirne said, "we shall continue to bargain until our convention the week of June 6 in Spokane, at which time we shall lay the matter before the convention for whatever action it cares to take."

Beirne's union is negotiating for replacement of about 50 contracts with Bell affiliates and independent telephone companies covering 217,000 workers. They have not fixed a definite wage demand.

"I Love America"

When interviewed at his home shortly after being elected, the new president had this brief comment for American reporters:

"You can say I love America. I think America holds the answer to Europe's recovery and the peace of the world.

"I have learned to admire America through my son, Mario."

Mario is a professor of political history at Cornell university.

Known for his tight credit and public spending policies, he was regarded as Italy's treasury watchdog. Economists generally credit him with having saved Italy from a wild period of inflation.

Norman Matthews, head of the UAW's Chrysler department, told union members last night that "since Chrysler has forced us into the position of striking, we will give them the damndest strike they have ever seen."

Chrysler, which has been hampered by a shortage of steel and other materials, reopened its production lines only yesterday after a four-day shutdown in most divisions.

Major Changes Are Expected In 1949 Model Automobiles To Be Seen Later This Year

DETROIT, May 12 (AP)—A lot of 1949 model automobiles are in prospect for the latter half of this year. Most of them will follow the general styling initiated by Studebaker, Packard and Kaiser-Fraser.

That means a lot of new vehicles with pontoon-type fenders in straight lines from headlamps to tail-lights.

Ford already is in production with its 1949 Ford line. The new Fords will be shown publicly early in June.

Most sources expect General Motors to have all its new models on the assembly lines by late October or early in November. Some time before the year's end Chrysler probably will make its first major changes since the war.

Of the new models to come during the latter half of the year the 1949 Chevrolet undoubtedly is being most talked about. Because Ford has developed an entirely new car it is quite generally assumed Chevrolet, too, will have a completely re-designed model.

Some sources even have suggested that, unlike Ford, Chevrolet will have a new type of self-functioning transmission ready to offer as optional equipment in its 1949 cars.

British General's Wife Averts Death By Mailed Bomb Package

COBHAM, England, May 12. (INS)—The wife of Lieut. Gen. Sir Evelyn Barker brushed against death today when suspicion prompted her to lay down unopened a deadly mail-bomb package.

Gen. Barker, former British commander in Palestine, had been marked for death by the Jewish Stern gang of Palestine which blamed him for executions of Jewish underground members and a 1946 order banning British fraternization with Jews.

The general, who had received a mail bomb in Italy last June, was in London today when the cylindrical mail-bomb-hidden in a rolled up American magazine—arrived at the Barker home at Long Orchard.

Quick Thinking

The general commended lady Barker's quick-thinking which apparently saved her life. He said tonight that his wife began slitting open the 12-inch by three-inch package, which later was found to contain gelignite, a powerful explosive.

The package, sent upstairs to Lady Barker's bedroom after being delivered in the morning mail, had a peculiar smell of disinfectant. It came from the adhesive tape insulating tiny wires leading to the explosive.

Her suspicions became even more aroused when she took a good look at the package and found a piece of the magazine had been torn away, apparently to make room for the wires.

Lady Barker immediately telephoned her husband's London headquarters and informed her husband's aide of the strange package. The aide notified police who then picked up the package for investigation. The postmark was being studied for a clue to its origin.

It was the second time in eight days that "parcel post bombs" were sent to prominent Britons who have been put on the Stern gang death list.

On May 3, one such bomb killed Rex Farran, brother of Capt. Roy Farran, who was high on the sternist death list.

Scotland Yard also is taking extra precautions to safeguard Princess Elizabeth on her trip to Paris next Friday. The French police have been alerted for a possible attempt on her life.

Neely Leading Holt In Race

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 12 (AP)—Matthew M. Neely commanded a strong lead in Democratic primary tabulations early today over his former Senate colleague and political rival, Rush D Holt.

Both the ex-senators are seeking to return to that body. Neely with 23,892 and Holt with 12,838 were pacing a field of five by the time unofficial returns were in from 579 of West Virginia's 2,788 precincts.

Senator Chapman Revercomb seemed likely to obtain renomination by the Republicans, with 23,450 votes from 561 precincts, as compared to 5,360 for his opponent, John A. Sinks of Charleston.

Choice Is Advisory

Only major presidential aspirant to appear on the ballot was Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota. Voters in the first 591 precincts to report gave him 21,710 votes, but their choice is purely advisory and will not bind convention delegates.

The final edition of the Charleston Gazette this morning conceded the Democratic nomination for governor of Okey L. Patterson, against whom the paper had waged a vigorous campaign.

Patterson, Governor Clarence W Meadows' choice of successor, gathered 36,919 votes in unofficial counts from 732 precincts. James Kay Thomas, former state attorney general who campaigned with strong party backing, had 21,585.

had suffered a recent attack, probably of her heart.

The mother—she will be 19 in September—said she had left the child with Patsy Leos "to hold for me," pending the mother's gaining employment and because "I was told she was a good woman."

She went to San Antonio. There she said she lived with one of four aunts who are resident there, and obtained a job that pays her $35 weekly, exclusive of tips, as a waitress. She admitted her father's paternity of the child, and said she has two brothers who also are in the penitentiary.

Loves Baby And Wants It

But—and her eyes flashed in her pretty face—she told the court she loves her baby and wants it. Under direct examination of E. G. Pharr, assistant district attorney who represented her without cost in a proceeding in which even costs of court were donated by sympathetic officials, she said she had only $25, but that she would guarantee her son's schooling and religious education and said she would be adequate to provide necessaries for him.

Jack M. Randal, representing Patsy Leos and others, had been informed this afternoon that the young mother, after inability to quieten her son following the separation, had indicated in broken English that she was considering transfer of formal custody to those who had been caring for the child.

Under such conditions, adoption procedure could be brought. That might entail the filing of a suit declaring the child is dependent and neglected.

Jack Wilson, Tech student of 2017 Fifteenth, assisted the court as interpreter at the hearing.

Bus Fare Hike Is Said Not Planned

Rumors that Lubbock Bus company plans to seek another increase in city buses fares are without foundation, J. A. Fortenberry, company president, said today.

"I think we can get along all right with fares as they are unless operating expenses are increased substantially," he commented.

The rumors apparently resulted from news dispatches pertaining to efforts to obtain increased bus fares in numerous cities. Base Lubbock fares, granted by the city commission last summer, are 10 cents cash or five tokens for 35 cents.

Fortenberry also announced the company plans to purchase three new buses in the near future. Twenty-seven now in operation handle up to 16,000 passengers daily, he added.

Man Is Rescued From River After Jump

NEW YORK, May 12 (UP) — Ethan Allen Whitney, 36, was suffering only from shock today after he leaped 300 feet off the Queensboro bridge into the East river. A passing tug-boat picked him up.

Whitney's leap was more than twice as high as Steve Brodie's famous 135-foot jump off the Brooklyn bridge in 1886.

Police said Whitney refused to tell why he jumped but his family said he had been in poor health.

Bulls Are Readied For Japanese Fight

TOKYO, May 12 (AP)—Four big bulls, decked out in fancy brocade robes and silken sashes, arrived today and went into training for Tokyo's first Japanese style bull fight.

The bulls will be put in a small ring Saturday with their horns locked. The first bull to shove his opponent out of the ring or to his knees wins.

American occupation authorities will witness the fights to determine if the sport constitutes cruelty to animals.

Youth Held In Assault Case

Elias Flores Garcia, 22, a Lubbock Latin-American, was held this morning in Lubbock county jail on an indictment charge of rape.

The indictment was issued from 99th district court. A capias was dated Jan. 6, the sheriff's department said.

The arrest was in Slaton, by Slaton police, officials said here.

Wanted For Swindling

A 54-year-old Lubbock man was released to custody of the sheriff of Upshur county, the sheriff's department said. It was announced that he, arrested by Raymond Waters, a Texas ranger, and George Eubank, a deputy sheriff, was wanted there for felony swindling.

A fine of $50 and county court costs were assessed against Cecil R. Johnson, listed by police as 38 and of Eldorado, Texas, on a charge of drunk driving.

Clothing Is Stolen

W. C. Stone informed officers that clothing valued at about $60 had been taken from his room at a local hotel. Missing was a pair of brown Nocona cowboy boots, slacks, and a belt.

Theft of a pair of shoes was reported by E. C. Thaxton, of Littlefield. The shoes, wrapped in a package, were taken from a counter in a Lubbock department store.

A bike was reported stolen from 2221 Eighteenth from Mrs. Alec McDonald. Described as a maroon-colored 'Rocket,' it was valued at $35.

Robert Leonard Wossum, jr., 18, was assessed $100 in fines last night following a 70-mile-an-hour chase on Main street about 9 p.m., city police reported.

Patrolmen Lynn Campbell and T. W. Dodson attempted to stop a motorcycle driven by Wossum on Avenue T between Broadway and Main. Riding with Wossum on the motorcycle was an 18-year-old girl, the patrolmen said.

According to police, the motorcycle turned west on Main, and the patrol car registered more than 70 miles per hour in the mad race to College Avenue. During the chase the two persons on the motorcycle had a narrow escape when they swerved between two cars traveling in opposite directions on Main.

The officers made the arrest at College Avenue. At the police station, a fine of $50 was paid on a charge of speeding 70 miles per hour, $25 on a reckless driving charge, and $25 on a charge of racing with a motorcycle. Wossum pleaded guilty to all charges, police stated.

Police said a $50 half-horse electric motor was reported stolen from Shirley Kizer, from 3100-block Twenty-second, where he is constructing a residence.

L. H. Johnson of 1924 Texas Ave. reported theft of two hub caps valued at $10 from his car.

Russia's Willingness To Talk Things Over Is Taken By Europeans As Ray Of Hope For Peace

By TOM WILLIAMS
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, May 12.—Europeans, official and unofficial, seized today upon Russia's announcement of her willingness to talk things over with the United States as a glint of hope for lasting peace.

The general reaction was that there may be much to gain and little to lose by such talks, no matter whose idea it was.

There still was no official British comment. It was learned that Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin was slightly annoyed that he was not informed in advance of the Soviet-American exchange of notes.

The French expressed optimism. Maurice Schumann, president of France's Popular Republican movement party, said:

"American firmness and the promptness with which the 16 (Marshall plan) nations pushed their efforts to union and organization, the Cominform's setback in France and Italy, all are beginning to bear fruit."

In Rome, Italian foreign minister Carlo Sforza declared:

"Silences are dangerous, and conversations never are. It is for this, holding peace above all else, that I am happy contact has been made between Washington and Moscow."

European newspapers echoed these views.

"America is big enough and strong enough and earnest enough in her will to peace to take up Mr. (Russian Foreign Minister V. M.) Molotov's offer without loss of face or prestige," the Daily Express said, and the same view was echoed in almost all other London papers.

Not All Propaganda

Their idea, and that of other quarters in western Europe, was that the fact Molotov in the early hours yesterday seized the opportunity to "accept" what he chose to interpret as an invitation for Soviet-American conferences could not be dismissed entirely as propaganda, even though his statement had all the trappings of propaganda.

The same air of cautious and wary optimism appeared over most of western Europe, but there was some downright pessimism, notably in Berlin.

Most of the papers seemed inclined to accept the American version of the American-Russian diplomatic exchange in Moscow last week.

President Truman said the two salient points made by Ambassador Walter B. Smith in his talk with Molotov last week were that the United States intended to pursue "vigorously and firmly" its policy of aiding western Europe; and that the United States "has no hostile or aggressive designs" toward Russia. He avoided any commitment concerning direct negotiations.

San Angelo Civic Leader Is Claimed

SAN ANGELO, Tex., May 12. (AP)—Banker, ranchman and civic leader, Abe Mayer, 70, died at his home here last night after a brief illness.

Mayer resigned last year as director and vice-president of the San Angelo National bank. He had held the positions 20 years.

He was a member of a family with large ranching interests in the San Angelo area. Mayer was a leader in staging the annual fat stock show here and was a former president of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers association.

Survivors include two daughters.

In winter, the mails between Chile and Argentina are carried by about 300 ski-runners, who work in relays.

VOTERS HELP THEMSELVES

CHICAGO. (U.P.)—Chicago voters may be honest in their political convictions but not otherwise. John S. Rusch, chief clerk of the election board, said they generally take about 4,000 polling booth curtains, 300 national flags and considerable other equipment at each election.

Area Still Has Good Cotton Prospects; Rain Needed Now

The South Plains still has chances for enough moisture for a good cotton crop in 1948, but rain is needed now.

That was emphasized by Don L. Jones, superintendent of the experiment station, who explained moisture needs for spring planting and for growth of plants.

Rain Needed Now

"We should have rainfall this month in order to plant the crops and to start them off," he said. One can't help but be concerned when planting time comes and there is not sufficient moisture to plant on, "but we wouldn't live in West Texas if we weren't optimists," he said. "We're ready to plant now, and we're waiting on the rain—under dry land conditions."

The prospects for a cotton crop are not as good as last year, when Lubbock county set the all time high for cotton production among Texas counties, but Lubbock county can't be counted out of the 1948 cotton picture.

Could Get By

"This year, we don't have the moisture carried over from the preceding year, so we don't have as good a prospect," Jones said. However, he added, with heavy rains this month and "good rainfall and well distributed" during the summer "we could get along without the sub-soil moisture."

Lubbock's precipitation from Jan. 1 to May 1 this year was 2.02 inches, which was 1.37 inches below the normal for that period.

However, in last year's record cotton production year, precipitation was only 2.5 inches in the same period. Soil was in good condition to yield the record cotton production because of sub-soil moisture carried over from the previous year and because of large amount of rainfall in May. The precipitation, as recorded by the U. S. Weather bureau station north of Lubbock was 6.35 inches, compared to the May normal of 2.59 inches.

From May 1 to May 10 last year, 4.48 inches of precipitation were recorded. From May 1 to May 10 this year, no precipitation was recorded.

Carry-Over Small

"It isn't so much the below normal rainfall through April, but the amount of moisture carried over from the previous year," Jones said. "Last year, we had a good sub-soil moisture, then heavy rainfall in May gave us sufficient moisture to go ahead and make a crop." A cotton crop, he reminded, depends on both rainfall and temperatures. Last year, this area had "both the right temperature and sufficient soil moisture."

Total precipitation as recorded by the weather bureau station near Lubbock since July 1, 1947 is 5.68 inches or 8.5 inches below normal, indicating lack of sub-soil moisture this year.

Cotton planting time is considered from the middle to the last of May.

Farmers are "concerned, but not too worried." The time is here for more rainfall for spring planting —but it is still possible.

"If we don't get May rainfall. there probably will be a large acreage in grain sorghums," said the experiment station superintendent.

Gene Autry May Attend Both Of National Political Conventions

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, May 12 (AP) — Gene Autry is trying to arrange his plans so he'll be able to visit the Republican and Democratic national conventions this summer.

An ardent sideline observer of politics, Gene will probably attend the conventions as representative of his newspaper and radio interests, but no doubt they'll ask him to sing. The guitar-plunking cowhand stresses his impartiality; he's a longtime friend of both the GOP's Harold Stassen and the Demo's Bob Hannegan.

Gene is currently making "Loaded Pistols" with Barbara Britton. She's the first leading laly to costar with him, but he isn't worried about gals stealing his thunder. "It hasn't hurt Crosby to have costars," he says.

Brent Not Happy

George Brent makes no secret of his lack of enthusiasm for his next film at U-I, "Wildfire." He's supposed to play Ann Blyth's father instead of the romantic lead. It's a Zane Grey story about the pursuit of a wild mustang across hundreds of miles of desert. "The only horses I'll be following," says George, "will be running at Hollywood park" . . .

Wanda Hendrix is becoming more interested in Robert Stack, confirming reports of her rift with Audie Murphy . . .

Rita Hayworth's next film is reportedly "Lona Hanson," a story of a city girl who inherits a Montana ranch. All the characters will be westerners except Rita. After "Lona," she'll probably enact "Anna Lucasta" . . .

Glenn Ford still has the inside track for the lead in "The AP Story." The script is now shaping up and it will cover the 100-year history of the Associated Press in three parts: from the beginning to the Spanish-American war, from there through World War I, and from there to the present. The first two will be treated briefly, in semi-documentary style; the third will portray a reporter (Ford) who is a composite of six AP figures.

War Bride Misses 26-Room Mansion

RAPID CITY, S. D., May 12 (INS)—Mrs. Rita Camarca Holmes, an Italian war bride, looked about her cluttered one-room tourist cabin in Rapid City today and sighed that only one thing is lacking to make her marriage to an American ex-GI "Heaven."

She said she missed her 26-room mansion in Foggia, Italy.

Mrs. Holmes, an opera singer who appeared in top roles in the San Carlo opera house in Naples and La Scala in Milan, married Pfc., John Holmes, now stationed at the Rapid City army air field. They have a small son, John, Jr.

Rita is quick to point out she has no regrets, except for the tight housing situation. She says:

"John, John, Jr., and the United States make up for everything."

Harris Services Are Set This Afternoon

Final rites will be held at 3 p. m. today at the Asbury Methodist church for Harvey Gibson Harris, 70, of 702 Ave. R. Rev. C. A. Bickley will officiate, and burial will be in Lubbock Memorial park under the direction of Bryan McDonald & Son Funeral home.

Harris, a resident of Lubbock for the past 15 years, died at 11:40 p. m. Monday in West Texas hospital.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. H. P. Pricer of Slaton; four sons, J. P., J. A., J. M. and Paul Harris of Lubbock; a brother, Ed Harris of Mt. Calm, 10 grandchildren and 5 great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Lloyd Lane, Erwin Koenzon, Wesley Merrett, William Wayne Adamson, Bryan Merrel, Charles Dorwood, Bud Peterson and Herman Burton.

Woman College Instructor Dancing Rhumba In Blue Silk Panties Figures In Divorce

LOS ANGELES, May 12. (AP)—A woman college instructor doing the rhumba in blue silk jersey panties figured today in the torridly contested divorce case of the Earl Morans.

Moran, 53-year-old artist who paints nudes for calendars, has sued Mura Moran, 36, his former model, for divorce. She is asking separate maintenance of $1,200 monthly. Both seek custody of their daughter, Sonia, 11.

Tells About Panties

Mrs. Moran broke down in sobs as she told the court yesterday about the woman in the blue panties, whom she identified as "Luba," a language teacher in an eastern university.

"First Luba hugged and kissed my husband," she testified. "Then she dropped her skirt, and she danced the rumba in her blue panties with my husband to three-quarter time, and very close together, indeed."

Mrs. Moran collapsed and court was recessed for 10 minutes after she told about entering a Hollywood house a week ago to find her husband and a woman, clad only in bathrobes.

Not Pleased

"You were pleased with what you saw, weren't you?" asked Moran's lawyer.

"No, I was wretched."

"But you were glad you had confirmed your suspicions that your husband associated with other women?"

"I will not be called a liar," Mrs. Moran shouted just before she collapsed.

Courtroom Attack Is Fatal For Lawyer

PAMPA, May 12. (AP)—A heart attack suffered in district court here yesterday proved fatal to former county Judge S. D. Stennis of Gray county.

He was one of the attorneys for the plaintiff in a $110,000 damage suit on trial before Judge Lewis M. Goodrich in 31st district court.

He is survived by his wife; a brother who is U. S. Senator from Mississippi; three sons, Samuel and Hampton of Amarillo, and Hugh, a student in a Philadelphia medical school, and a daughter, Mrs. H. E. Howard of Copeland, Tex.

Preview Of Farm Survey In Lubbock County Is Revealed

Evaluation Of Extension Work Over This Territory Is Made

Farms in Lubbock county are relatively large, and 47 per cent of them are tenant-occupied, but the farm population, described as "fairly-young" are reasonably stable and produce much of the food they eat.

This information is from a preview of expected early publication of results found in an evaluation study of work of the extension service in the county.

The evaluation was started several months ago with a questionnaire survey of a cross section of 336 farm families selected by a random sample method. Members of the families were asked 125 questions, and out of the answers the extension service drew a fairly accurate idea of its strong and weak points in bringing information to the rural population on agriculture and homemaking.

One Of "Guinea Pig" Counties Of State

This county was one of the few "guinea pig" counties in the state in which the survey was conducted, and the preview information has been released by Louis Franke, extension service editor, in his weekly column for the state press, "Check Plot."

Miss Kate Adele Hill, district agent in this area, said results of the study and conclusions drawn from it will soon be available in printed form. J. D. Prewit, acting director of the extension service, believes the study will be a big help in planning extension work.

This county has had the services of extension agents (county farm agents) for 32 years, and Franke points up many of the findings in this county as "a good picture of Texas agriculture and of the trend of the times."

Are Fairly Young

The study found, for instance, that farm people in this county are fairly young, with the men averaging 44.4 years of age, and women 41.8 years. Only 13 per cent of the men, and nine per cent of the women are 60 years of age or over. Almost one in three families have children under school age.

Farms are large, compared to other parts of the state and to other states. They average 262 acres, and although 47 per cent of them are occupied by tenants, the farm population is fairly stable with 56 per cent of the families having lived on the same place for five years or longer.

Living On High Plane

Rural living is on a relatively high plane. More than 90 per cent of the farm homes have radios; 88 per cent own automobiles, although 21 per cent of the farm women do not drive; 71 per cent have electric or gas refrigeration, 70 per cent have running water in the house, and 60 per cent have electricity.

Probably due in a large measure to circumstances beyond their control, more than 91 per cent of farm homes do not have telephones.

Nearly all families produce some of the food they eat, with 65 to 85 per cent producing all the milk, eggs, meat and poultry they use.

Attributed to the use of automobiles, improved roads, and consolidation of the public school system, the old-time community system has largely disappeared. Today seven large consolidated schools, with widely used bus service, have replaced the 30 small rural or community schools of ten years ago. More than half the families included in the survey were hard put to name the community to which they felt they belong.

On Trading Centers

Touching on trading centers, the survey found that only 46 of the 336 families interviewed went to only one town for their various activities — school, church, banking, cotton ginning, and shopping for groceries, clothing and farm supplies.

Conversely, 115 families went to at least two places, 125 to three, 41 to four, and nine of them to five or more centers.

It is of interest also that the church is the most important local institution, with 89 per cent of the families having one or more members at least fairly active in church work.

"The whole tone of farm life is progress," Miss Hill said in connection with the study. She sets out that "in general, the people are industrious and alert to changes in farming and homemaking."

It was found that work is highly regarded, that the people work hard when there is work to do, yet they enjoy life when there is time to do so. It is noted that "recreation, participation in local events, sociability, and vacations —including travel—are common among farm people."

Today they called it off. Three days of rain have done a better cleanup job than the ladies' brooms could hope to do, explained one club member.

HUMAN EPISODE OF SPRINGTIME IS BROUGHT TO LIFE

Tall Tale Of Romance Among City's Skyscrapers Is Told

His springtime wave . . .

Bob and Jean Riggins: Once there was a city street in between.

. . . Got a spring answer

EDITOR'S NOTE: By front page standards, the story below isn't news. It isn't even a story by Hollywood standards, for while boy meets girl and gets girl, he doesn't lose girl in between. But after the heavy diet of world tension that fills the headlines these days, this human episode of springtime is a pleasant reminder that a cold war between big powers hasn't chilled youth's warm romance, even among the skyscrapers.

By ROBERT JOHNSON
NEA Special Correspondent

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 12.—This is a tall tale of romance among city skyscrapers.

It was one of those wonderful days in the first spring after the war, early in the morning, when the streets begin to come alive with workers hurrying to be on time, and the dew is still on the grass in Court Square Park. Later, it will be hot, but now it is fresh and everyone is glad to be alive on a morning like this.

Eyes That Laugh

Young Bob Riggins—he was 25 and just becoming accustomed to the feel of civvies after two years in North Africa and Italy—whistled as the elevator in the First National Bank building soared with him to the 13th story. He is a pleasant-faced, dark young man, with eyes that look at everything and laugh at a lot of it. He is an architect.

He sat at his draftsman's board, in the window where there's a good light.

As the elevator carried Bob aloft, a pretty girl was flashing her way through the bustling crowd toward the Exchange Building, across the street, waiting for the stop light, hurrying when it changed, looking at the Exchange Building clock, hearing and loving the city noises without actually being aware of them, entering the elevator, watching the indicator progress upward floor by floor—9 . . . 10 . . . 11 . . . 12.

To Corner Office

She got off, walked to the corner office door, which had an impressive list of names and medical degrees. She went inside, took her place at the receptionist's desk, took off her hat, fluffed her hair. Her name was Jean Wall. She was 20.

The phone rang in an inner office. She went in to answer it. As she talked on the phone, she looked out at the June morning, out across the street to the many-windowed face of the First National Bank building.

Who, she wondered, was that young man making wig-wag movements over on the floor above? Was he waving at her? It did look like it.

A June Morning

It was a June morning. She felt as good as she looked. She smiled to herself as she talked on the phone. Then, because she couldn't help it the way things were, she waved back.

Bob Riggins, sitting at his table, ready to begin drafting plans for breakfast nooks and broom closets, had looked out the window to enjoy the view. There at the left was the Mississippi River, shining in the sun like a silver ribbon. In the distance a trail of smoke lazed from a factory smokestack. The trees of Court Square Park were a green invitation.

And then, there in the window, was the girl. Boy, oh boy, what a view. She was talking on the phone. He leaned out across his table and gave a tentative wave. She didn't see him. He waved again, more vigorously. And then, O lovely miracle, she looked up and saw him. The puzzlement in

Martin Test Is Abandoned

Humble Oil & Refining company No. 1-B Ellwood estate, North-Central Sterling county wildcat, 14 miles north of Sterling City, was on a total depth of 7,980 feet, in an unidentified lime, and was taking a drillstem test.

This development, located 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 56, block 18, SPRR survey, was started to go until it found the Ellenburger. It has not been revealed by the operator whether or not that formation has been reached.

No definite information has been released regarding any petroleum indications which might have been logged.

Is Drilling Ahead

Gulf Oil Corporation, and M. A and T. F. Grisham No. 1 Grisham-Hunter Corporation fee, deep prospector in East-Central Culberson county, and 1,834 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 16, block 54, psl survey, was drilling ahead below 10,510 feet, in an unidentified lime.

This venture ran a one hour drillstem test at 10,1370-435 feet. Recovery was 10,055 feet of salty, sulphur water and 300 feet of drilling mud.

Another drillstem test was run at 10,435-510 feet. The tool was open for one hour and 30 minutes. There was a good blow of air throughout the period.

Recovery was 10,420 feet of salty, sulphur water and 300 feet of drilling mud. There were no shows of oil or gas.

This project is slated to go to around 12,500 feet — if necessary —to explore into the Ellenburger.

Test Being Taken

Gulf and Byrd and Frost No. 1 1-J Tippett, a flanker to wells producing from the Wolfcamp, in the Tippett field in extreme Northwest Crockett county, and 481 feet from the northwest line, and 5,983 feet from the northeast lines of section 40, block 31, H&TC survey, had reached 7,238 feet, in a sand and shale section, and was taking a drillstem test of the Waddell gas sand zone of the Simpson.

G. W. Strake, of Houston, and American Republics Corporation have filed an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas requesting permission to start drilling in the near future on their No. 1 Foster Rust, as a 5,500-foot wildcat to test into the Ellenburger in Southeast Tom Green county.

It will be 663 feet from south and 2,130 feet from east lines of section 179, district 11, SPRR survey, abstract 2,068. That puts it five miles south of Vancourt. This project was announced as a location several months ago.

Twelve Beauties At Texas Tech Chosen

Girls Are Presented Each Night At Tech Varsity Show; Top Winner Not Revealed

Names of the 12 top beauties of Texas Technological college for the 1947-48 school year have been announced and are being presented to the public each night of the annual Tech Varsity Show at Lubbock Senior high school.

Selection of the most beautiful co-eds at the college is made each year by a process of double elimination with the final selections being featured on the pages of La Ventana, Texas Tech yearbook.

For the final beauty selections, some impartial outside source is called in to judge the candidates. This year the staff of the West Texas State Teachers college year book assisted the Texas Tech year book staff in the selections.

As revealed by Tech officials, the twelve winners include:

Beverly Zelany of Lubbock, the former Beverly Bescancon, who was named the top beauty at the college in 1947; Judy Pollard, of Lubbock, who was Texas Tech's candidate for Sun Bowl queen at the El Paso Sun Carnival New Year's Day; Delight Hardin, Lubbock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Hardin of 2221 Twenty-sixth street; Charisa Mann of Colorado City; Patti Jo Musson, Lubbock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Charles E. Musson of 3012 Twentieth street; Joan Brown of Greggston; Loreit Plummer of Houston; Jan Riley of Wichita Falls; Evangeline Theis of Midland; Nancy Walker of Lamesa; Marjorie Williams of Abilene, and Glenna Fay Winston of Brownfield.

The top winner among those named above will not be revealed until the La Ventana is issued sometime near the first of June.

The group was presented both Monday and Tuesday nights during performances of "The Phenomena," the Tech Varsity Show at Lubbock High school. Another near-sellout crowd attended the second night's program last night. Third and final performance of the musical comedy is slated tonight at 8:15 p. m.

Carnivorous Bird's Remains Exhibited

The skeleton of a giant carnivorous bird, Mesembriornis Inceotis, approximately five feet in height has been assembled and put on display at the West Texas museum at Texas Technological college by Wann Langston, geology instructor.

The skeleton is a cast of the original speciman and was obtained from the Chicago Natural History museum acquired by Texas Tech through an exchange of specimens. This is one of two mounted skeletons of the bird in existence, the other being the original at the Chicago museum, Langston said.

The giant bird was of a flightless variety that is known to have inhabited Argentina during the Pliocene epoch of the Tertiary period. It depended on its running ability for locomotion and is thought to have been capable of very high speeds. Possessed of a huge, sharp beak, it subsisted on small mammals and snakes for its livelihood. It belonged to an almost extinct family of giant flightless birds, only two varieties of which are in existence at the present time, these being the ostrich and the gassowary.

Road Projects Get Approval

Low bids totaling $200,291 for construction work in three South Plains and area counties were among six million dollars worth of low bids on road improvement projects tabulated by the State Highway commission Tuesday ,according to an Associated Press report from Austin.

El Paso Propect Okayed

Tuesday's tabulation was featured by a $1,365,164 low bid by R. E. McKee of El Paso on a big downtown railroad crossing elimination project in El Paso.

Bids on the area construction projects were as follows:

M. E. Worrell of Abilene and Worrell & Watkins of Hillsboro made the low bid of $76,878 for construction of a Colorado River bridge and approaches to the bridge on state highway 350, located 20 miles southwest of Snyder in Scurry county.

Low bid of $43,956 was made by Fred Hall & Son of Valley Mills for 5.9 miles of grading, structures, flexible base and double asphalt surface treatment on farm road 651 from Crobyston to Big Four school in Crosby county.

Floyd Davis, Albuquerque, submitted the low bid of $79,457 for 10 miles of grading, structures, base and double asphalt surface treatment on farm road 145 in Swisher county from five miles west of Kress to five miles east of Kress.

NEWSPAPERMEN like to think of themselves as being wise to the wiles of the world, cynical, and of the "you-gotta-show-me" school. Yet it is a matter of record that they are frequently "slicked up," as the kids say, by conniving smart-alecks.

Two fine examples of how news editors continue to fall for old, worn-out gags broke on the front pages of many a Texas paper last week. One had to do with the appearance on the SMU campus of a strip-tease artist. The other recounted the arrest and "mistreatment" in Birmingham, Ala., of Idaho Sen. Glenn Taylor.

At least 9,715 show girls of one kind or another have employed the "appearance within the sacred halls of learning" gag to get tons of free advertising for their acts. Somewhere are 27 million peanut politicians and "bleeding hearts" have gotten themselves pinched for the same reason.

Yet the "you-gotta-show-me" boys on the copy desk of many Texas newspapers took the hook from the Dallas strip-teaser and Wallace's guitar-plunking running-mate and plumb swallowed 'em down.

Phooey!

Every community has its share of people who make it their business to attend to things which are not their business.

IF there ever was a business whose practitioners lifted it up by its own bootstraps it's the insurance business.

The gentlemen who sell policies of one kind or another—covering from the loss of a hat to the loss of a life—have, in a relatively few years, yanked their calling from one of general public disdain to one which now exacts the respect, if not the downright admiration, of thinking people.

What used to be among the worst of the hit-and miss, catch-as-catch-can hodge-podges of commercial endeavor now has become a sound business which attracts into it sound, well trained, intelligent people—or they can't keep the pace and stay in it.

Even the younger readers of this stint can remember when a majority of the men selling insurance had failed at almost everything else, or who followed the trade mainly because they could loaf when they wanted to.

Even the younger readers can remember, too, when a lot of the people selling insurance were "part-timers," who worked at something else during the day and then trespassed upon the time of their friends at night, trying to pick up a little extra change via the sympathy route.

A lot of people can remember, too, when many an insurance policy was "taken out" simply because Joe Smith felt sorry for Bill Brown, who sold the insurance, or because Joe felt indebted to Bill, one way or another.

But today, the purchase of insurance is just like ithe purchase of any other necessity—it's on a sound business basis and it is good business to buy it.

THE insurance gentry today are, on the whole, quite amazing in the knowledge they have about every other type of business; in the way they can map out an entire insurance program for a whole family, or a business concern with tens, hundreds, or even thousands of employes and millions of dollars in varied investments.

They, the insurance men, prepare themselves before they see a prospect and they know what they're talking about when they sit down across the desk from the prospective purchaser. Their field long since has surpassed merely the field of salesmanship. Today they are spending much or more time counselling customers and prospects regarding their insurance needs as they are in actual sales work.

As a result of the elevation of the insurance business to its present high point of public regard and acceptance, and also as a result of its attracting generally high class, intelligent practitioners, business men who used to run a mile to keep from meeting an insurance man today are calling him up and inviting him to come around.

In recent casual conversations with insurance men—and without letting them know why we wanted to know—we have asked them what percentage of their new business now "comes to them" and what percentage of it they get by going after it.

Several life insurance men have told us that from 30 to 40 per cent of their new business is coming to them; several others, in general lines—including fire, auto, theft, storm, etc.—have said that as much as 60 per cent of their new business "walks in the door," or comes as a result of their being invited to call on a prospect.

Whether these percentages will hold good, generally speaking, or not, we wouldn't know. But they came to us as result of at least 10 casual conversations over recent weeks—maybe as many as 12 or 14.

OF Course, the insurance business should be what it has become; a sound business generally manned by sound men of intelligence as well as of energy. Insurance in a business is just as essential as advertising, as fixtures and equipment, as stock-on-hand. Insurance to an individual rapidly is becoming almost as essential as food, clothes and housing.

But in the spirit of "flowers to the living," we can't help out give three cheers to the few oldtimers who laid the foundation stones for the insurance business of today and to those who followed them by helping build the balance of a strong structure.

It shows what men can do, if they just want to.

Arabs Plot Invasion With Eye On King Abdullah

WASHINGTON.—Arab leaders have been meeting secretly to plan for the invasion of Palestine, and some of them are not too happy. They don't particularly trust King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan, the central figure of the proposed invasion.

PEARSON

King Farouk of Egypt, Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia, and the Syrian government fear Abdullah will promote his own greater-Syrian ambitions by annexing part of Palestine for himself and then quit. These fears were increased by a recent secret meeting at Amman between Abdullah and his nephew, Prince Abdul-Ilah, the regent of Iraq. Arab leaders have also got wind of a secret British understanding with Abdullah, giving Trans-Jordan a permanent corridor to the Mediterranean, in the vicinity of Gaza.

Final agreement on Arab invasion plans was reached at a secret meeting at Serka, Trans-Jordan, on April 23, attended by representatives of all the Arab states and the Arab higher committee, including the Mufti. The main points of the agreement were:

The invasion army to be known as the "Arab league Palestine army of liberation." It will comprise the Arab legion, supplemented by contingents from the regular forces of Egypt, Iraq, Syria, Lebanon, and Saudi Arabia. The contingent from each country will number between 2,000 and 3,500 men. In addition, Egypt and Iraq agreed to supply air force units.

Abdullah was appointed supreme commander, with a general from each Arab state and two Palestine Arab commanders under him General Ismail Safurt, British-trained commander-in-chief of the volunteer "liberation army," and Fawzi Al Kawkji, present field commander of Arab forces are to be absorbed in the new headquarters at Jericho. Abdullah and the Mufti have already moved to Jericho. The Mufti's assignment is to watch Abdullah.

Arab states agreed at the secret meeting to finance the operation in proportion to their national resources, not in proportion to their contingents. Egypt is to bear the largest share; Iraq, which gets most of its money from England, is next.

D-day was set for May 16, on which day a Palestine Arab provisional government is to be proclaimed and recognized by the Arab governments.

One significant statement at the meeting was made by the grand mufti, who interpreted the State department's and United Nations' failure to become alarmed at previous Arab aggression as a guarantee they would not become excited over the invasion.

If the United States or the United Nations stiffened its attitude, however, it was agreed that Arab strategy might have to be changed.

Note—Since then, Arab leaders are reported worried over the Jews' ability to defend themselves. This may affect their ardor for invasion.

No 49th State

The Hawaiian statehood bill, which passed the House by a big majority, was secretly scuttled 7 to 5 by the Senate interior and insular affairs committee. Republican Sen. Guy Cordon of Oregon and Democratic Sen. Joseph O'Mahoney of Wyoming led the fight for making Hawaii the 49th state, but were overridden behind closed doors by Senators Hugh Butler of Nebraska, the committee chairman, Eugene Millikin of Colorado, and other Republicans.

However, here is the payoff. After voting down the statehood bill, the same Senators decided on another congressional junket to Hawaii—the 14th in the last five years—this time to investigate alleged Communism in the islands.

Butler and GOP colleagues apparently were more interested in getting a vacation on the sands of Waikiki at the expense of taxpayers than in granting Hawaii's rightful claim to statehood.

Note—One unfortunate aftermath of the Senate action is that Hawaii's able delegate to Congress, Joseph Farrington, who was chiefly responsible for piloting the statehood measure through the House, faces defeat in the next election because his own political party knifed the bill in the Senate. Farrington is a Republican.

* * *

WASHINGTON'S real-estate spokesman, Sen. Harry Cain, who tried to scuttle public housing in the Senate the other day, blew up a verbal hailstorm on the Senate floor.

In the thick of it were two fellow Republicans, Charles Tobey of New Hampshire and Ralph Flanders of Vermont.

"Last Friday," thundered Tobey, "he (Cain) stated that if we adopted his amendment, it would lessen the chances of the House adopting the general housing bill which the Senate passed unanimously."

Then, lifting his eyes to the rafters, Tobey appealed: "Are we going to commit hara-kiri? I ask you, sir!"

"Is it hara-kiri," cut in Flanders dryly, "or Harry Cain?"

Note—Republican leaders in Washington state say that Cain has already committed political hara-kiri.

Picketing A Congressman

Congressman Aime Forand, Rhode Island Democrat, has finally taken the wind out of the ever-flowing speeches of amiable Congressman Bud Gearhart, California Republican.

Gearhart has been assailing his colleagues with tirades against the reciprocal trade treaties, so every time Gearhart preaches for more than 15 minutes, Forand pickets him.

Gearhart is chairman of the House ways and means subcommittee which is considering whether to continue Cordell Hull's reciprocal trade agreements, and he claims that the reason for secret hearings is to discourage grandstand speeches. Yet he has been the worst offender.

Last week he agreed to cut out all speeches and limit the discussion to questions and answers. Still his lengthy dissertations continued.

Finally, Forand painted a homemade sign which he flashes every time Gearhart exceeds 15 minutes. The sign reads: "Remember your agreement."

"How's Business?"

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

THE white-haired grandmother was trying to explain why she found the company of one of her contemporaries so unbearably dull.

"It's just," she finally summed up, "that she's so settled."

The white-haired grandmother, though in her late sixties, isn't "settled." She keeps up with what is going on in the world instead of living in the past or trying to live the lives of her grown children and grandchildren.

MILLETT

She can pick up and take off on a moment's notice—and frequently does. She isn't hog-tied to her home. If her husband asks how about going along with him on a business trip, she locks the doors of her house and leaves with him.

She has friends of all ages instead of clinging to a little circle of friends, all her own age and all "settled."

WHY NOT ENJOY LIFE?

ALL of which goes to show that a woman doesn't have to settle down to a dull existence at any age or stage in her life.

Lots of women let themselves become "settled" as soon as they get a house to manage.

Others keep up fairly well until their children leave home and then they settle back to grow old, as though their lives were over.

But the woman who goes on enjoying life through the years, taking all that each age has to offer, is the woman who refuses to settle down.

"Try And Stop Me"

A man and his wife sought out Jack Straus, the president of R. H. Macy and Company, and asked, "What'll you take for the whole store?" "Ninty-seven million dollars cash," said Mr. Straus promptly. "If that's your best offer," said the man, "my wife and I will have to talk it over privately. I'll be back in 15 minutes and give you our decision.

Straus never expected to see the man again, but sure enough, he walked in fifteen minutes later to the dot. "I'm sorry," he reported, "but we've decided not to make the deal." "What's the matter?" scoffed Mr. Straus. "The price too steep for you?" "Not at all," the man assured him. "But my wife and I made a careful examination, and discovered there's no place to live in the back of the store."

WHAT ABOUT MACKENZIE?

The new budget proposed by the State Parks board includes items for buildings to provide sleeping and sanitation facilities for groups up to 100 individuals in six state parks, at Bastrop, Bonham, Brownwood, Caddo Lake, Cleburne and Lake Corpus Christi.

Gordon K. Shearer, executive secretary of the board, writes that the board "cannot provide group buildings in all of the 40 State parks and we have tried to spot the six geographically to serve all parts of the state." The need for the buildings doubtless does exist and probably they are desirable if they don't cost too much. Mr. Shearer's communication to The Avalanche-Journal editor did not include a cost estimate.

However, we do feel that, if such buildings are to be erected, Mackenzie State park in Lubbock certainly should be included in the program. It is difficult to see how the board could omit Mackenzie in view of the fact that it has been visited annually, according to the State board's own figures during this past 10 years by more persons than all other state parks combined.

This record should be considered most seriously by the board and the Legislature before any budget is given final approval.

Shadow Of Police State Looms In Hoffman's New Legislation

WASHINGTON — That shadow across the sky, if you are at all interested, is the shadow of the police state. It is growing darker as the suspicious men on Capitol Hill let their fears and their prejudices spur them on.

CHILDS

The latest move originates with Rep. Clare Hoffman of Michigan, whose prejudice-suspicion rating is as high as any in the House. Under a bill introduced by Hoffman, anyone divulging confidential information from a committee of Congress could be put in jail for a year and fined $1,000.

Quickly the House rules committee gave this strange measure a green light. The little group of men on the rules committee, who sit at the toll gate telling the House what it can and cannot consider, shut the gate on many important legislative matters. But this they voted worthy of admission.

Faces were red when it was realized that the Hoffman bill would cover newspaper men as well as Congressmen and committee aides. Reddest face of all was that of Rep. Clarence Brown of Ohio, a member of the rules committee, who is a newspaper publisher. He says he will amend the bill on the floor to exempt newspaper men from its provisions.

Those who think that this will remove the threat to freedom inherent in the bill are incurable optimists. To apply criminal penalties to anyone in this connection is to take a olng step toward the police state.

Motivation Seen

It is important to look at the motivation for this newest move. President Truman has refused to give to the un-American activities committee the loyalty file on Dr. Edward Condon of the Bureau of Standards. Basing his refusal on a long series of precedents, the President holds that it is the prereogative of the executive department of the government to withhold confidential papers pertaining to the work of that department.

But another element is involved. The Department of Commerce carefully surveyed the charges brought against Condon. Using the machinery authorized under the President's loyalty order, the department found that Condon was loyal. Part of the evidence considered was a letter from J. Edgar Hoover, giving the FBI finding on Condon.

To turn the Condon file over to a committee of Congress would violate the terms of the loyalty test as defined by the White House. There is the risk that the material, which contains hearsay reports, rumors and gossip, would become public.

In order to lessen that risk, Rep. Hoffman proposes to apply criminal penalties to those "leaking" confidential information. It is precisely in this way that the encroachments of the police state grow and multiply. One step leads to another step, as in this instance.

The question of the freedom of newspaper reporters to report information is in a sense irrelevant. The tradition of a free press, backed by the very great power of the American press, insures the elimination of any threat to free reporting insofar as the present move is concerned.

HOFFMAN was remarkably frank in arguing that newspaper men had no all-inclusive right of "disclosing information." In wartime, he said, the publication of information giving aid and comfort to the enemy was punishable as treason. He seemed to be implying that we needed some such law in peacetime.

There are some irresponsible men in the newspaper business. Rep. Hoffman might have pointed out that the newspaper which most noisily and vociferously supports him published at a critical moment in World War II information which might have given enormous aid and comfort to the enemy.

But to violate a fundamental canon of freedom in order to punish a few offenders is the equivalent of burning down the house to destroy a few rats. When our freedom is gone, it will be too late to study the way in which, step by step, it was taken from us.

Why the un-American activities committee wants the Condon report is fairly clear. They want to buttress their own findings, which are not too substantial, with J. Edgar Hoover's opinion.

This is to give to the FBI a power it has never sought—a power that it does not want. It gives to a police agency, which is essentially what the FBI is, the power to make policy and pass on the fitness, or the lack of it, of candidates for high office. That is the real meaning of the controversy between Capitol Hill and the White House.

Romantic Tale

her face changed to a smile, and she waved back.

Stole Sidelong Glance

When Jean went near the window next, she couldn't help stealing a sidelong glance at the window across the street. Yes, he was still there, still looking. She permitted herself a small blush and an inner glow and looked hastily away.

He waved. No dice. She didn't look his way.

But later in the morning, when it wasn't really necessary, she found herself near the window again, and this time she let her glance flick across and meet his.

That went on for about a week. Then Bob had a flash of genius. He waited till he caught her eye. Then he held up the telephone book where she could see it and wigwagged like mad. Her smile reached clear across and climbed in the window beside him. She held up her hands and let him count the fingers. Then she changed the number of fingers she held up.

Had Phone Number

He had it—her phone number. He charged across the office to a phone, dialed, breathlessly began to speak . . . "Hey, there . . ."

Five minutes later they were looking at each other over a cup of coffee in the drug store—and liking what they saw. That night they went dancing.

Music and stars in a June night. Almost unbelievingly, he found out she would be happy to accompany him to the ball game, that she didn't mind his cigars.

"But what really sold me was when I found out she liked to fish," he said. He fell in love harder than ever when they went fishing.

Baited Own Hook

Oh, to be 25 and have a girl who baits her own hook.

"We hit it off right from the first," she said. "We liked the same books, the same movies. We could talk to each other. We agreed on almost everything."

Almost a year later, they became engaged, last June 28, to be exact.

And, Bob Riggins says, last week they came back from their honeymoon. When he talks about it he sounds like a man who has just made a million-dollar deal.

These days Bob is using his drafting pencil to put on paper a ranch house which will go up on a lot already purchased.

And when he gets tired, he can look across the window and give a wave which says:

"Hi, there, sweetheart."

And she waves back.

"Hello, Bob, old love."

And down on the street below city life goes on. Sometimes seems almost as if you could set it to music.

Pigeons Aren't So Dumb, Visitor Finds

LOS ANGELES, May 12. (AP)—For a while W. H. Smith thought Los Angeles had the craziest pigeons he ever saw. Today, the visitor from Chicago is convinced they're pretty smart.

Smith left his hotel, went around the corner and bought some handkerchiefs. As he started across the street two pigeons started following him. They kept at his heels like two bird dogs. If he stopped, they did, too.

Smith reached an intersection, was halted by traffic. The pigeons circled him several times, looking up at him. People began to laugh. Smith felt absurd. He returned to his hotel. There, a bellhop explained everything.

People are forever feeding pigeons in a square near the hotel. Smith had his handkerchiefs in a little paper sack. The pigeons thought he was carrying popcorn or peanuts.

FATALITIES UNNERVING

NEW YORK (U.P.) — Solomon Milich, 63, had been driving a cab for 37 years when he had his first accident, running over and killing a 9-year-old boy. A week later he had his second accident, killing a 55-year-old man. In the auto accident court, he tearfully told the judge that he would never drive again. "I'm through for good," he said. "You can have my license."

Youth Free Of Murder Count

MARSHALL, Mich., May 12. (AP)—Earl Kent, 20-year-old farmer, was free today of a charge of murdering his high school sweetheart, Flavian Watkins.

A circuit court jury of seven women and five men acquitted young Kent early today after more than seven hours deliberation. The decision—returned at 1 a. m. (EST)—was greeted with cheers by a packed courthouse.

During Kent's week-long trial the defense had contended the pretty 16-year-old girl took her own life with a rifle blast March 24.

Visit Described

Kent testified he had visited Flavian at her farm home near Burlington and had broken their engagement shortly before she was found fatally wounded. He insisted he left her unharmed but hysterical.

The dark, curley-haired defendant took the verdict calmly.

Then he went with his father to the family's new home in Marengo township near here.

None of the Watkins family was present when the verdict was announced. Judge Blaine W. Hatch had warned the crowd against any demonstration, and when cheering began he quickly silenced the spectators.

Knockout Blow For Paternity Suit Due

CULLMAN, Ala., May 12. (AP)—Attorneys for Gov. James E. Folsom hope to swing a knockout blow today at the paternity suit brought against the newly-married executive by an attractive red-haired divorcee.

They were prepared to argue before Circuit Judge J. H. Crow, jr., that Mrs. Christine Putman Johnston's complaint is legally invalid and should be thrown out of court.

Mrs. Johnston, 30-year-old former Birmingham hotel employe, charges that the six-foot eight-inch governor is her common-law husband and the father of her two-year-old son, James Douglas.

Folsom, married just a week ago to a pretty state employe, Jamelle Moore, was not expected to appear in court for today's technical arguments. Neither was Mrs. Johnston.

Today's hearing was the first since the paternity suit was filed on March 2, only five weeks after Folsom announced his candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination. The governor at that time branded the court action as "politics."

Folsom has neither admitted nor denied the charges. He has contended simply that Mrs. Johnston has no cause for action and that the equity division of circuit court in which the suit was filed has no jurisdiction over the complaint.

Man Is Acquitted Of Firing Store

BROWNWOOD, May 12 (AP) — Jessie Lee Reneau, 39, yesterday was acquitted of arson by a 35th district court jury which decided he was temporarily insane when his store was fired last year.

Reneau was charged with burning his Burds store building on the north shore of Lake Brownwood last Dec. 3.

Oil News

kins, four and one half miles west of Christoval, in South Tom Green county, and 660 feet from north and east lines of the R. Smith survey, No. 98, abstract 1634, had a slight show of gas in sandy lime 3,020-30 feet. Operator was to check the drilling samples, and was then scheduled to possible run a drillstem test.

Gulf No. 1-E Wilson Bryant, deep wildcat in Central Midland county, 14 miles south of the city of Midland, had reached 9,590 feet, in lime and shale, and was drilling ahead. It has not yet reported having logged any shows of oil or gas.

Robert W. Atha, et al, No. 1 M. L. Musgrave, wildcat in North-Central Howard county, eight miles northeast of Big-Spring, and 330 feet from south and east lines of the northwest quarter of section 9, block 311 TP survey, T-1-N, had reached 3,750 feet in hard, dry lime, and was making more hole.

Elevation of this project is 2,511 feet. Top of the anhydrite was picked at 978 feet; top of the Yates was at 1,520 feet and top of the San Andres was at 2,717 feet. Up to now it has not logged any signs of possible petroleum production.

Plugged And Abandoned

Stanolind Oil & Gac company No. 1 J. E. Mabee, deep wildcat in Northwest Martin county, 35 miles northwest of Stanton, 30 miles north of Midland, and 660 feet from south and west lines of tract 87, league 258, Briscoe County School lands, is being plugged and abandoned on a total depth of 13,416 feet in Ellenburger dolomite.

That formation was entered at 12,310 feet. The venture had no oil in that formation. None of the higher zones showed any possibilities of production. The Ellenburger had several water zones.

Bankline Oil company No. 1 F. L. Butler, Southeast Terry county prospector into the San Andres-Permian lime, recovered a lost swab and then treated the open hole section at 4,910-67 feet, with 2,500 gallons of acid.

After swabbing out the load, operator swabbed an estimated five to six barrels of free oil, in an unreported length of time, and then started preparations to re-acidize.

Girl Gets 20 Year Sentence

EMINENCE, Mo., May 12. (AP)—Seventeen-year-old Betty Jane Kroeger was sentenced last night to 20 years in the state penitentiary for the fatal shooting of her father.

The girl told the jury, which returned the guilty verdict, that she watched her father fatally shoot her mother, then later shot her father in self defense.

"I told him I was going to tell police," she testified. "He got white around the eyes and said if I wanted to see the light of another day I'd better not. I told him I didn't care what happened after Mom died. I pulled a gun from my purse. He started toward me. There was nothing to throw. I fired."

A written statement signed by the girl following her arrest March 8 was admitted as evidence by circuit Judge Gordon Dorris. It said she killed both her parents. Judge Dorris dismissed a charge of murder in the death of her mother at the prosecution's request.

U. S.-Russian Talks Would Do Little Good At Present Time

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Further elucidation of the American bid for "decent and reasonable" relations with Russia shows that Washington didn't propose any conference but merely restated American policy and added that the door is always open for discussions.

In short, if the Russians have any special proposals there can be discussions between the two governments. However, highly placed American officials say that if the Muscovites have no proposals, there seems to be no ground for conversations.

Truman Clarifies

President Truman himself took a hand in the clarification yesterday. He said the statement made to Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov by American Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith represented no departure in American policy. The present international policies will be vigorously and firmly prosecuted. On the other hand, America wants to make it unmistakably clear that she has no hostile designs with respect to Russia.

Now this doesn't mean that the United States wouldn't be pleased to have Moscow initiate conversations, for she would. Still it is well that the matter be cleared up lest anybody get the wrong notion that America is hitting the appeasement trail. Furthermore, European nations are watching this development eagerly and some show an inclination to be over-optimistic.

Since Molotov has chosen to construe the American move as an invitation, it is possible that a meeting of some sort might develop. Appropos of this, there appears to be no thought in Washington that it might be staged between President Truman and Marshal Stalin, although the former has said he would be glad to see the generalissimo in America.

Value Problematical

The value of such a conference is, of course, problematical. It might have the virtue of urther clarifying the positions of the two governments. Still it must be said that the post-war allied conferences in Europe not only haven't helped matters but have made them worse.

As indicated in yesterday's column, the only thing which would help relations between the Democracies and Russia very much would be Soviet abandonment of a policy of world revolution for the spread of Communism. That is the crux of the whole trouble. So long as the Muscovites are bent on jamming the Red ism down the unwilling throats of all nations, there can be no peace.

The United States government in effect recognized that thesis by withholding recognition from the new Soviet government for 16 years — until 1933. America wouldn't stand the Bolshevist propaganda. Britain had similar difficulties. Finally F.D.R. accorded recognition when Moscow promised to stop pushing Communism in this country.

Didn't Stop

However, Moscow didn't stop pushing world revolution. Finally along came World War II and created exactly the conditions the Soviet needed to further its crusade. Since then the Bolshevists have boldly pushed their aggression in Europe and Asia and the western hemisphere. Only yesterday the U. S. House of Representatives committee on un-American affairs formally accused the Communist party in this country of advocating "the overthrow of our government by force and violence."

Considering all these things do you believe for one moment that Russia is prepared to abandon its world revolution? Of course you don't. Such a supposition would be absurd. And on that basis any American-Russian conference couldn't get very far toward settling their main differences.

Farmers Urged To Sell 1947 Cotton

Following announcement by the U. S. Department of Agriculture that all 1947-loan cotton still in the loan on Aug. 1 will be pooled by the Commodity Credit corporation, the Texas Extension service has urged producers to give serious consideration to marketing the loan cotton before that time.

It is pointed out that at present market prices, farmers should be able to dispose of most of this cotton at prices that will net them good profits above the loan and any accumulated charges.

Loans on the cotton mature July 31, and prior to that time producers may either sell their "equity" in the loan cotton or redeem the staple from the loan and sell it on the open market.

On last March 26 loans were outstanding on nearly 170,000 bales of 1947-crop cotton from the 269,000 bales placed under loans to that date.

The USDA announcement said that at the time the cotton is pooled on Aug. 1 no payment will be made to producers, and after July 31 producers will not be privileged to order sale of the cotton. After pooling, the cotton is sold in an orderly manner by the Commodity Credit Corp., and on final liquidation, net proceeds, if any, will be distributed among producers in the pool in proportion to amount of loans on cotton placed in such pools.

Mrs. Howard Hawks To Seek Divorce

HOLLYWOOD, May 12. (AP)—Movie Director Howard Hawks' wife, Nancy, planned to file a divorce suit today.

Her lawyer, Laurence Beilenson, said she would allege cruelty.

The former Nancy Gross, Mrs. Hawks several times has been voted one of the best-dressed women. She first brought Lauren Bacall to the attention of her husband after seeing her picture on a magazine cover.

Mrs. Hawks' counsel said she would ask for custody of three-year-old Kitty Hawks. Hawks has custody of his daughter by a previous marriage to Athol Shearer and of her grown son by a previous marriage. She is ill in a sanitarium.

Army Contributes Large Field Piece

PARIS, Ill., May 12. (AP)—The Army more than obliged Paris legionnaires with its contribution to the city's war memorial.

The veterans' group had requested a field piece suitable for mounting on the public square. The gift arrived—a 23-ton howitzer used by General Rommel's forces during the North African campaign.

Legion Commander Elbert Bogart didn't even try to have the 35-foot weapon moved from the flat car it monopolized. He wired Army ordnance that the howitzer wasn't at all what the Legion men had in mind.

The Army took his order for two light 75 millemeter guns to be placed on either side of a flagpole, and authorized re-shipment of the original gift to the Terre Haute ordnance plant.

SMITHS UNTANGLED

NEWARK, N. J. (U.P.) — Two Thomas Smiths, both with wives named Era, appeared in court with marital troubles. When the first Thomas Smith showed up, the judge mistook him for the second and put him on five years' probation for desertion. That should have been the second Thomas Smith's sentence. The first was supposed to be held for grand jury action on a non-support charge. Things got straightened out when the second Thomas Smith appeared and wanted to know what his sentence was.

Wonder Minerals
RHEUMATISM, arthritis are dreadful diseases. Acid condition in the blood is often their cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain and suffering of these ills. People, on the advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to find cure, or relief. The most important of our people, including doctors, go to mineral springs. They would not patronize regularly these springs without any benefit.
YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas, to drink and bathe in their miraculous water. We have all heard of the wondrous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece where, according to legend Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

Amazing Results
GEO-MINERAL contains minerals found in the world's best springs. Watch the results a day or two after using it. The housecleaning it will do in your body, the poisons it will bring out. When you see this, do not get alarmed—thank Nature who created Geo-Mineral as a sign that the medicine is working on you, and realize its priceless value.
GEO-MINERAL is not a physic and does not interfere with the foods in the stomach. It cleans and purifies the intestines, thoroughly relieving gas, toxins, acids, and bloating. After these poisons are out of the system and the kidneys purified, we begin to feel the arthritis, rheumatism leaving as Nature starts to complete the recovery.

Read What They Say!
Pharmacists, like doctors, know medicine best. Thousands of druggists of high reputation, who now sell Geo-Mineral, report amazing results by its users.

"We have sold Geo-Mineral for the last six months and it has been one of the best selling drug items we have ever handled"—say Porter Bros., pharmacists of Concord, N. C. "Users report amazing results in many instances, and we personally believe Geo-Mineral is a good medicine for purposes as indicated, and recommend it to sufferers who have tried other medicines with little if any results. They may discover that Geo-Mineral is what they have probably been needing and looking for — we unhesitatingly recommend it."

"We wish to state that after selling Geo-Mineral for eight months, this product has broken all sales records in the medicine line in our drug store"—reports Jack Wright, owner of Economy Drug Co., Anderson, S. C. "Users report almost miraculous results, helping sufferers with rheumatism, arthritis, weak kidneys, and various stomach ailments. We believe that there exist very few items on the druggists' shelf with the merit of this natural mineral medicine. Of thousands of bottles sold on guarantee basis, there have been very few refunds.

"We not only sell Geo-Mineral"—says G. A. Littlefield, Manager of Smith's Drug Store, Gastonia, N. C.—"but as pharmacists, we know good medicine, and we believe there is none better than Geo-Mineral as a supplement for mineral deficiency. Doctors, hospitals, sanatoriums know the value of natural minerals. We are not surprised at the many users who came back to buy more and told us stories of amazing benefit. We recommend it to our friends, relatives, and beloved ones, and to every one wishing for better health."
