

FUTURE OF LUBBOCK ASSURED BY COMING OF THE DENVER RAILROAD, CITIZENS ASSERT

MRS. CHITWOOD TELLS AUDIENCE HOW TO REDUCE

SHE COUNTERACTS HER APPETIZERS WITH ADVICE

SCHOOL IS CLOSED

THIRD ANNUAL INSTRUCTION HAS PASSED INTO HISTORY

With a lesson on meats, a lecture on scientific reducing and a demonstration of the carving of an apple-rose to be used in the making of a salad, Mrs. M. Chitwood, nationally known home economist, closed the third annual Avalanche-Journal cooking school Friday afternoon in the Temple Ellis building. Alex McDonald, of the McDonald packing plant, talked on the methods of preparing meats and the quality that is essential in only whole meat is sold and the Bell Ice Cream company served ice cream to those in attendance.

The school was a success, as declared by the women in attendance, the Avalanche-Journal publishers and Mrs. Chitwood last evening. There was a growing attendance each afternoon of the school until no more chairs could be had for seating them and many women stood during the last day. Expressed opinions heard yesterday and during the week by representatives of this paper were that the Avalanche-Journal had brought a constructive program to the city in the cooking school.

Leaves for Amarillo
Mrs. Chitwood left yesterday afternoon for Amarillo. The school here closed the fall series conducted by the Amarillo school. Mrs. Chitwood serves in the spring, she announced yesterday.

Meat is Important Part of Diet
Meat is an important part of diet, since it is from them that we receive a large percentage of the iron in our bodies, and a small percentage of phosphorus, protein, calcium, fat, sugar and muscles. It comes nearer filling all requirements of the body than any other food taken into the body," Mrs. Chitwood said in introducing her lecture on meats yesterday afternoon. Many people have an erroneous idea of the value of meat in the diet, thinking that one may substitute other foods entirely, she said. It is a mistake to leave off all meats out of a child's diet until it has reached adolescence and some people have been misled as to the value of meats through poor judgment in selecting them, she continued.

Meat Nourishing
Meat is nourishing in a good quality and is selected and it is safe to eat in its selection, she stated. Mrs. Chitwood told how to broil a steak in such a way that the juices will be retained and that the steak will be tender.

With few exceptions, the women who came Friday brought tart apples and paring knives to learn to carve roses to be used in the making of salads as demonstrated earlier in the week.

Mrs. Chitwood explained a scientific method of reducing, saying that after using this method, one has no desire for more than 1500 calories daily, which will not admit of gaining extra weight. She said that she had tried many reducing methods and had told the women of Lubbock methods but that this was the only one of which she knows where one does not have to starve and continue to starve to keep from gaining more flesh.

French Vanilla
French vanilla, she said, which has cream was served to the group under the direction of R. L. McKnight, of the Bell Ice Cream company.

STILL AFTER MONEY
Pink Parrish Will Still Lead Red Cross Workers, Who Have Not Yet Collected Enough Funds

"We are going to work on," Pink Parrish, chairman of the 1927 Red Cross drive stated last night when only a small sum was reported collected by each team. Parrish is anxious to see the drive a success and will keep the men in the field until the quota of $5,000 is raised.

At the check-up meeting in the Red Cross office yesterday morning, no definite total was calculated but the amount is still more than $3,000 of the goal.

The men will make the business district again today and every citizen who has not been asked for a contribution is urged to give what he can for the good of the charities of Lubbock for the coming year.

PASTOR INDICTED
ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 19 (AP)—Barred from the pulpit and excluded from fellowship of the church, the Reverend George A. Nichols, assistant pastor and secretary of the fashionable South Hills Baptist Church here, tonight faced an indictment by a federal grand jury charging him with embezzling $4,594.35 of the church's funds and mission fund.

Gang Leader

—NEA, Chicago Bureau

Carl Shelton, shown above, who with his brother is credited with leading one of the two-gangs that have waged open warfare for weeks in the vicinity of Hottel, Ill., is blamed by Charles Birger, rival gang leader, for the airplane bombing of one of Birger's resorts. The move is believed to be in reprisal for Shelton's recent arrest in connection with a mail robbery—an arrest that he lays to Birger.

MOTHER TO PLEAD FOR VENGEANCE

MRS. ROBERTSON WILL PROTEST PARDON FOR MAYOR'S WIFE

(By The Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 19.—A mother, mourning for her slain son, Saturday will protest the proposed pardoning of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Collier of Wichita Falls, when Mrs. Robertson of Wichita Falls, who Mrs. Robertson is the mother of Marie (Buster) Robertson, the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Collier who was killed two years ago by Collier in connection with the slaying of their son-in-law, Collier was sentenced to three years from Wichita county for manslaughter and Mrs. Collier to ten years from Haskell county for murder. The state contended Mrs. Collier was the motive force of the offense.

Saw Him Killed
Mrs. Robertson was with her son the night he was killed. The slaying grew out of opposition of the Colliers to the marriage of their daughter to Robertson.

The court of criminal appeals here, which November fourth affirmed Mrs. Collier's sentence Friday issued a mandate provided for her delivery to the penitentiary, but her friends are hopeful Governor Ferguson will grant clemency before she is taken into custody by the Wichita county sheriff.

RICE GRADSTER HELD

Owl Star Cited on Statutory Charges On Complaint of Fifteen Year Old Girl

HOUSTON, Nov. 19 (AP)—Fred Cahnant, Texas City, Rice Institute sophomore, rated one of the best men on the Rice football team, was taken to Galveston Friday night to face statutory charges.

Cahnant was arrested here Friday on complaint of a 15 year old girl. Cahnant entered Rice Institute as a freshman in 1925. He was a member of the freshmen football squad and this year participated in every varsity contest.

MEXICO RESENTFUL
Southern Republic Doesn't Like Attitude of United States in Nicaraguan Dispute.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 19 (AP)—Mexicans generally and the newspapers continue to voice resentment over the announcement from Washington that the United States was concerned over outside interference in Nicaraguan affairs and that the new Nicaraguan President had made the direct charge that Mexico was involved in the revolutionary movement against the government.

Among those who take exception to the attitude of the United States is former President Obregon. "It is astounding," he said today, "to attempt to condemn Mexico for alleged interference in the domestic affairs of Nicaragua and ask the United States to aid in preventing such shameful interference when the United States is openly violating the sovereignty and dignity of Nicaragua."

(By The Associated Press)
FORT WORTH, Nov. 19.—Nearly 1,000 men will be at work within a month building two important railroad extensions into the fertile domain of West Texas.

Extension of the Quanah, Aerie & Pacific to Floydada, 27 miles will be completed before the end of 1927 and direct train service from Fort Worth to Lubbock and Plainview will be in operation early in 1928, through the two-way extensions of the Fort Worth and Denver.

Reports here tonight from the West Texas areas affected by today's Interstate Commerce Commission ruling granting the extensions told of widespread rejoicing and hasty plans for future celebration on a large scale. Frank W. Clarity, vice-president and general manager of the Fort Worth and Denver, said tonight that he will go Monday to Chicago in connection with his road's extension. There he will confer with President Hale Holden of the Burlington line of which the Fort Worth and Denver City is a subsidiary, and be on hand ready to launch plans when official transcripts of the Interstate Commerce Commission decision is received at headquarters.

Let Contracts Soon
Clarity said that the gradings contracts will be let immediately and that upwards of 500 men probably will be employed on the Fort Worth and Denver extension.

Cost of the Fort Worth and Denver south plains extensions from Estelline to Lubbock and from Estelline through Plainview to the heart of Castro county, will total $7,000,000, Clarity said.

All of the work will be completed in about two years, the officials hoping to operate the line to Cap Rock, Quitaque in time to handle all wheat, cotton and other crops in 1927.

When completed, the line will open extensive new territory, putting it in the Fort Worth trade area for the first time, with north and south roads only a few miles apart. It has been forced to give a majority of its trade to Kansas City, Oklahoma City and St. Louis.

The plains section has been on the alert for news of the I. C. C. authorization, its citizens realizing that a boom in development would follow, in agriculture as well as in industry. The section that will be tapped in recent years has become the largest grain belt in the southwest and has forced east Texas and central Texas to look to its laurels in cotton. Nevertheless, lack of rail facilities caused much hardship.

WICHITA FALLS CHOSEN

Baptists in Session at San Antonio Select Spudderville for Their Next Convention

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 19 (AP)—Wichita Falls was selected for the 1927 Baptist state convention at the night session of the convention here Friday. November 18 was set as the opening date of next year's meeting. Reverend E. P. West of Houston was selected to preach the 1927 convention sermon, with Reverend J. H. Pace of Beaumont as alternate. R. H. Coleman of Dallas will be director of music.

Members of the state executive board and trustee of nine Baptist schools and colleges, including Baylor University, were elected at the Friday night session.

SEND FOR MRS. COLLIER

Mandate is Issued Ordering Transfer of Wife of Former Wichita Falls Mayor to Penitentiary

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 19 (AP)—The mandate providing for the delivery to the penitentiary of Mrs. Frank Collier of Wichita Falls Friday was forwarded to the Haskell county district clerk by O. W. Finger, clerk of the court of criminal appeals here.

The Haskell county district clerk will issue commitment papers, ordering the Wichita county sheriff to take into custody, Mrs. Collier, who was sentenced in Haskell county to 10 years for murder in connection with the slaying at Wichita Falls of her son-in-law, Marie Robertson. The court of criminal appeals November 4, affirmed her sentence.

12,000 BALES COTTON GINNED IN FLOYD COUNTY

(Special to The Avalanche)
FLOYDADA, Nov. 19.—Over 12,000 bales of cotton have been ginned in Floyd county up to date, according to reports from eleven of the twelve gins in the county. Of this number approximately 8,275 bales have been ginned in Floydada and 4,000 in Lockney.

Every gin in the county has been rushed day and night, some having to do Sunday work.

First Letters to SKATES FAVORITES Santa Claus Here

They've started—those bright-eyed, red-cheeked boys and girls of Lubbock—with their annual letters to Santa Claus.

The editor of the Avalanche received the first two of the year yesterday afternoon, addressed to "Santa Claus, North Pole, Canada." The letters appear below:

Dear Santa Claus:
My Mother said I had been fairly good.

Santa, I do not want to ask too much, for all I want is a pair of skates and a harp.

Lots of candy and apples and oranges, and nuts and a pair of stockings.

Lots of love,
Madeline Maples

Dear Santa Claus:
My mother thinks I have been pretty good all year. I don't want to be selfish and ask too much. So I will ask for a suit of clothes, some apples oranges and a harp.

Lots of love,
Carl Maples Jr.

EYE-MEN FORM PERMANENT ZONE

OPTOMETRISTS TO START CLINIC IN LUBBOCK THIS MORNING

Organizing a permanent zone on the Plains, the members of the Texas Optometric association of this section met in the Lubbock Hotel yesterday at 3:30 in the first post graduate clinic of the profession on the Plains. Dr. Paul Owen of Snyder was chosen as zone leader and Dr. Millard P. Stewart of this city was chosen as assistant.

The entire session today will be devoted to a demonstration on the technique every optometrist should follow in his every day practice. Free examination and report will be given those in need by the doctor in their clinic starting at 8:30 this morning and all those who are not financially able or who need treatment badly are urged to get in touch with Dr. Millard P. Stewart.

The meeting closed last night with a banquet at the Lubbock Hotel, short talks being made by the various members of the zone.

Two-Fold Purpose

With a two-fold purpose, that of organizing a study zone in this section and to demonstrate in clinic the minimum technique of the optometric examination of the eye, the meeting was called to order yesterday at 1:30 in the private dining room of the Lubbock Hotel. Dr. J. E. Christian of Temple was the first speaker on the program and outlined the work and material to be studied in the clinic and the results of such effort.

He gave a few minutes to treatment of the future of optometry, calling special attention to the legislative demands of some of the eastern states demanding an examination of the eyes of the automobile driver before granting the driver's license. He also stressed the need of the examination of eyes of the school children.

He was followed by Dr. H. M. Block of Waco, who gave an address on the important functions of the eye and on the anatomy and physiology of the eye and their appendages. He laid emphasis on the structure and functions that are of interest to the optometrist.

A number of the delegates were delayed in arriving here and only about one-third of them attended the session yesterday afternoon. Numbers of them arrived last night and many more are expected today.

SAYS CHEAPER TO PAY

Louis Moore Warns Delinquent Tax Payers to Save Money Before Judgments Issued

With Judge Clark Mulliken ready to render delinquent tax judgments against 500 in the 72nd district court today, District Clerk Louis Moore last night urged delinquents to come in and pay off before the court orders are issued, and thus save themselves additional expense. Mr. Moore points out that while some charges have already been added to the past due levies, the issuance of judgment which will be followed in 20 days by sale, will add to the costs.

Civic Leaders See Fresh Heights for Hub of Plains; Senator Bledsoe Says Ruling Means Complete Victory

Lubbock's future looked brighter than ever yesterday when the news flashed over the Associated Press wires that the Ft. Worth and Denver had been granted the right to build into this section, through Lubbock.

Optimistic comments from citizens included the prediction that Lubbock would have a population of 25,000 by 1930; that the coming of the Denver made certain that Lubbock would be the railroad center of the Plains; that the huge construction project would furnish lucrative employment for many farmers hit by the low price of cotton who could work with the railroad while other members of their families worked the crops.

Waits on Conference
G. L. Slaton, chairman of the railroad committee of the Chamber of Commerce, which has been working for years to bring about the consummation noted yesterday, said that any further move on Lubbock's part toward procuring right of way would wait on a conference of the railroad committee with officials of the Fort Worth and Denver.

C. E. Maedgen of the Citizens National bank said that the announcement of the I. C. C.'s favorable ruling would go far to offset any temporary depression which might be caused by the surplus of cotton, and said that farmers would be able to find employment on the building of the road.

Lower Freight Rates
Jed Rix of the Rix furniture company declared that the permission granted the Denver constituted the greatest event in the life of Lubbock since the Texas Technological college was located here, and said further that competition among the railroads would bring about a lower freight rate and a saving of thousands of dollars to the South Plains.

"Pink Parrish, mayor, said simply 'That's great,' when he was told the news. He then went on to point out that Lubbock's future as a railroad center was assured.

Senator W. H. Bledsoe, who with E. L. Klett represented the Amarillo railroad committee at the Amarillo hearing in the summer of 1925, when the evidence was first submitted to Examiner Boile who yesterday resulted in the final ruling allowing the Denver to enter this territory, declared, "This means complete victory for us."

Word of the I. C. C. ruling also reached the Chamber of Commerce by wire from Burlington, the Fort Worth and Denver, the United States chamber of commerce at Washington and agencies. The United States chamber of commerce notified the local organization that a full copy of the decision was mailed from Washington yesterday.

The decision came as a surprise to citizens, although the chamber of commerce here had been informed that the report would be made this month. Senator Bledsoe, who was at Washington several weeks ago checking up on the Mayfield bill and learned of the decision to be this month.

While away, Davis talked to Hale Holden, president of the Burlington lines, concerning the road here. The local organization has been intensely interested in the decision of the commission this month.

NO PICKERS NEEDED

Sledding of Cotton Obviates Need of Harvest Hands, Who Are Leaving South Plains

"As far as Lubbock county and immediate vicinity is concerned, no pickers are needed now in this section," W. R. Roach, special agent of the farm labor division of the United States department of labor stated last night on his departure for headquarters in Fort Worth. He pointed out that the sledding of cotton is throwing the pickers out of work and they are leaving this section in large numbers, every day.

Roach has been stationed here for the past two months to aid in the direction of pickers in this section. His office was maintained in the local chamber of commerce.

NO NEW TRIAL ASKED

Lennie Lowrance Acquiesces in Must File Motion Today or Sentence on Bigamy Charge Must Stand

Late last night no motion for new trial had been filed in the case of Lennie Lowrance, convicted in the 72nd district court of bigamy, and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. District Clerk Louis Moore said that if no motion is filed today the sentence must stand.

Mrs. J. U. Fields, president of the Texas Federation of women's clubs, blames the federal government for many of the country's crimes of violence. The government advises the sale of old army and navy revolvers, she says, and thus making it possible for criminals to arm themselves.

BANKS ORDERED TO LEND ON COTTON

INTERMEDIATE CREDIT FIRMS TOLD TO BACK FINANCE COMPANIES

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19 (AP)—Federal intermediate credit banks were instructed today by Commissioner A. C. Williams of the federal farm loan board, to discount notes offered by the newly created state cotton financing corporations.

The order resulted from the conference here last week between representatives of the finance corporation and federal officials seeking to outline a program for the orderly marketing of this year's record cotton crop.

Now Organized
The financing corporations have been organized with a capitalization and borrowing strength of $100,000, and are expected to finance the storage over an 18 months period of 4,000,000 surplus bales.

Notes of the finance corporations may be discounted, Mr. Williams said, "when it appears to the satisfaction of the banks that the proceeds of such notes have been advanced, or used in the first instance for financing the production of cotton or for financing indebtedness arising from such production, provided of course that this privilege shall not be extended to any person for financing the purchase of cotton for speculation therein."

INJURED RESTING WELL

Victims of Epidemic Accidents in Lubbock Are Getting Along as Well As Could Be Expected

The condition of Lubbock's various accident victims was reported last night as being satisfactory. Rose E. White and A. A. Behringer, of Wolfarth are recovering from injuries suffered in a bus collision near Post Thursday. Miss Mary Gene Littleton, aged three, has a broken leg from being struck by a car. R. J. Murray Jr. is suffering from a fractured skull after being run down by an automobile and G. W. Sullivan, is paralyzed from being run over by a wagon when a team became frightened at a turkey. Several others are in the hospital suffering from injuries.

INQUISITORS RECOMMEND CHANGES IN LUBBOCK BASTILE

The Lubbock county grand jury adjourned yesterday after returning thirteen indictments charging violations of the prohibition law, one charging theft of an automobile, one charging forgery, and one alleging pistol carrying. This brings their indictment total for the session to forty-five. They also inspected the county jail and reported that while the general condition was fairly good, they recommended to the county commission that certain changes be made, including the purchase of forty new mattresses, the same number of new blankets, twenty-five new towels and wash rags and some toilet soap to take the place of the laundry soap with which prisoners are now said to be washing their faces.

The Report
They recommended other changes in the jail and in the court house, all set forth in the following report:

To Honorable Clark M. Mulliken, District Judge, 72nd Judicial District, Lubbock, Texas.

We, the grand jury, for the October, 1926 term of court, beg permission to advise that we have diligently investigated all matters coming to our attention under our jurisdiction, and have returned forty-five bills of indictment. We have returned true bills in all cases where in our best judgment the evidence at hand or procurable warranted such action.

In our investigations we have found a very deplorable condition existing in respect to the sale of intoxicating liquors, and the possession of same for sale, and we have used every conceivable means to lift these matters out and bring about the punishment of the parties found guilty of such practices.

Drunk Drivers
We have also investigated the condition in respect to the driving of cars by persons while under the influence of intoxicating liquors, and have returned bills in all cases where the evidence considered was found to justify an indictment.

We have handled numerous other (Continued on Page Six)

Treasured Memories Laugh at Years

"I've had a wonderful time," says Mary Lord Harrison.

By VIRGINIA SWAIN

NEA Service Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—After the White House, what?

Seeking an answer to the question who might travel far up Fifth Avenue to the nineties, where, in a small apartment, a president's widow lives alone.

Mary Lord Harrison, widow of the 32d president of the United States, is setting the prologue of her life in the shadow of the wings, along with scores of other, gentler, widowed women on the upper avenue.

Once, she occupied the spotlight of a nation's attention. But the spot light shifted—to Mrs. Cleveland, Mrs. McKinley, Mrs. Roosevelt and the rest.

And today, Mary Lord Harrison lives utterly forgotten by the public that once thrilled to the press stories of her romantic life.

Once Drew Crowds

Not many blocks from her present home stands the Church of St. Thomas from which she walked away on her husband's arm, 30 years ago, between crowds that fought for a glimpse of her.

Today, she might attend services there without occasioning so much as a curious glance.

In place of the fetes which honored her as a bride, there is tea for two or three old friends in her living room. Half of the servants in the building where she lives do not know that they wait upon a president's widow.

How does she meet the change? With gallant courage and a wish for whatever experience the future has to offer.

"I am very happy," she says. "I do not regret the past, and I do not live in memory. I've had a rich life and a capacity for extracting flavor from every episode in it. I believe fate has left a good many dishes to set before me."

The pattern of Mrs. Harrison's life is woven of dark and light, and shot through with her bright courage and vitality.

Mid-Victorian Deb

There was her sheltered life as a daughter of the old Lord family of Pennsylvania. Mary Scott Lord was reared with the old-time graces and accomplishments, protected from the world and introduced as a debutante to a society of the most exquisite aristocracy.

But tragedy soon shattered the chrysalis of her sheltered life, when Walter Edmund, her young, attorney husband, died suddenly only six weeks after their wedding.

Caroline Scott Harrison, was reigning in the White House, as the wife of President Benjamin Harrison.

The first Mrs. Harrison died in 1882, her niece was married in New York to Benjamin Harrison, then a private citizen.

His Family Opposed

The marriage caused a great stir, because the children of General Harrison staunchly opposed it and refused to attend the ceremony.

But newspaper accounts of the wedding are unanimous in commenting on the beauty, poise, bearing and distinction of Harrison's young bride, who took her vows audibly, almost defiantly, before a small group of friends in St. Thomas's.

The wedding reception was given by Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, and the Harrisons left by carriage for New Jersey where a private train was waiting to take them to Indianapolis.

There followed years of travel and close companionship, of which Mrs. Harrison still speaks with eager enthusiasm. "I was a lucky woman," she says, "to have married a man whose cultural contacts were so wide and whose zest for life was as strong as my own. We met the most interesting personalities of the times, took eight trips abroad, enjoyed plays and concerts and books together."

"Among our most interesting experiences was the Venezuelan litigation in which the general had a part, and the Hague peace conference of 1898, at which he was American delegate."

But the happy marriage was cut short after five years by Harrison's death, which left his wife with one small daughter to rear.

She came to New York and has lived here ever since. Her daughter is now the wife of James Blaine Walker, and has a daughter of her own, Elizabeth, aged four.

"I Don't Feel Old"

"Why should I feel old?" asks Mary Lord Harrison. "I've had a wonderful time. I've known marriage and motherhood, travel and friendships and study and play. I love the theatre and I have pretty surroundings. I'm a good cook, too, and often cook dinners for my guests."

"I don't feel old and I don't feel lonely—except once in a while. The little apartment is a cheery place. It is decorated in modern taste, with rich colors and costly fabrics. There is some of the lavender-and-old-lace quaintness that other Fifth Avenue widows affect."

Not are there black veils and white stockings in Mrs. Harrison's wardrobe. The best French courtesies made those smart, distinctive gowns and wraps that hand in her house."

And the book lying open on the divan is a thumbed copy of "Fanny Hill."

Cudahy's

Puritan Ham

Finer Flavor because

ripened naturally

"The Taste Tells"

Cudahy's Puritan Ham is appreciated for its finer flavor and delicious tenderness.

These are characteristic Puritan qualities, the result of the special Cudahy method of "ripening naturally."

This precise method of preparing diffuses the rich juices of the selected meats in a natural way, without forcing or burying. Like fruit ripened on the tree Puritan is full flavored, tender, deliciously mild and tempting.

Puritan is "Ham at its best" for every purpose. It is easy to prepare because it requires no parboiling. High in nutritive value and easily digested, it is a food for muscle and tissue building.

Beds of Southwest Yielding New Potash

Discovery of a number of potash minerals in the Southwest similar to the famous deposits in France and Germany, two of which, langbeite and kainite, have never before been reported in the United States, was announced on November 14 by the department of the interior through the geologist survey. Four potash minerals were found in the Southwest, namely, langbeite, kainite, polyphosphate and langbeite. In addition, carnallite has been found in Texas and carnallite has been found in Utah.

The full text of the announcement follows:

The Geological survey has received from its field men in New Mexico, Texas and Utah important information concerning potash—that a number of potash minerals have been found which afford increasing evidence of the similarity of American deposits to the famous deposits in France and Germany. Four of the potash minerals found in the Southwest have likewise been found in New Mexico and Texas—namely, langbeite, kainite, polyphosphate (both red and white) and langbeite. In addition, carnallite has been found and sent in from Utah.

Langbeite and kainite have not been previously reported in the United States. Carnallite, sylvite and kainite have furnished a basis for the German and Austrian potash industries. In 1925 according to figures compiled by the Bureau of Mines from the records of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, the United States imported chiefly from Germany and France 937,113 short tons of potassium salts, of these sources valued at more than $17,000,000.

The quantitative information necessary as a basis for commercial exploitation of the American potash deposits can be obtained only by core drilling. Fortunately, public interests in the commercial possibilities of these beds are making core tests at different points, and whenever possible, the government is cooperating with these organizations. Moreover, the last congress appropriated $100,000 for potash explorations during the current and fiscal year under the joint auspices of the departments of the interior and commerce.

The geological survey is to select the sites, make the analysis and the tests and report the results. The bureau of mines is to make the necessary contracts with mine owners, lease and drillers and to have the general direction of drilling operations. Core drilling will be done in the Texas and New Mexico areas, and the tests that will provide a means for determining the thickness and potash content of the beds penetrated and will show the problems to be met in mining.

The Morning Avalanche Menu for the Day

BREAKFAST—Baked apples, oatmeal, thin cream, fried cornmeal mush with brown sugar syrup, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Hungarian potatoes, apple-celery nut salad, bean bread, cranberry and rice pudding, milk, tea.

DINNER—Mutton chops, boiled potatoes in parsley butter, kohl rabi in golden sauce, jellyed right salad, orange cream pudding with coconut meringue, whole wheat bread, milk, coffee.

In this dinner menu the salad serves a two-fold purpose—it is a delicious salad and an ideal accompaniment for the chops.

Cucumber added to almost any meringue baked on a pudding is a delightful change but with an orange custard or cream pudding the combination is quite perfect. The food value of the dish is also appreciably increased.

Hungarian Potatoes

Three cups potato cubes, 2 onions, 2 tablespoons bacon fat or butter, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, 1-2 teaspoon pepper, 1 cup boiling water.

Melt fat in kettle. Add onions thinly sliced and simmer five minutes, taking care that the onions do not brown. Add remaining ingredients and simmer until potatoes are tender but not broken. The water cooks away so that the dish is not "soupy". The paprika makes the potatoes quite pink in color but does not greatly change their flavor.

COLLINS TAKES TY COBB'S PLACE AS GAME'S VET

With the departure of Ty Cobb from major league baseball after 21 years of participation, Eddie Collins, manager and second baseman of the Chicago White Sox, now ranks as the oldest player in point of service in the big tent.

Collins made his major league debut with the Athletics in 1905, the year after Cobb came up. Eddie came direct to the major company from ball and football.

Collins remained with the Athletics until the close of the 1914 campaign. When Connie Mack started his famous house cleaning program that fall, Collins, like most of the other Mackian stars was caught in the sweep-out, going to the White Sox at a reported sale price of $50,000. He was appointed manager at the close of the 1924 season.

Serve These New Prohibition Drinks They'll Please When Friends Arrive

When friends drop in for a game of bridge, or a visit before the fire in the evening, the hostess is sometimes puzzled as to just what "cup" to serve to produce that atmosphere of cheer and welcome.

Men seldom care for tea, the guests may be some of those persons who chafe coffee in the evening on the theory that it keeps them awake half the night and hot chocolate or cocoa may seem too rich and heavy for an evening beverage for grown-ups.

But did you ever consider the merits of hot fruit drinks such as hot lemonade, hot orange juice, punch and hot mulled cider? Any of these drinks served with a crisp baked cracker or hot tea sweet, people will prove popular. When 3-5 cups of your guest, a drink of hot lemonade you are giving him a drink of health. Lemon juice contains the "acid" substance in a marked degree and while it seems acid is really alkaline in its effects in the body.

Serve in Mugs
Of course these hot cups can't be served in glasses, but a trip through the "house furnishings" of a large department store will reveal attractive mugs at a moderate price worthy of

er, 2 lemons, 4 oranges, 1-2 cup sugar, 1-2 teaspoon whole cloves, 1 inch stick cinnamon.

Cut the rind of two lemons into thin slices squeezing out juice. Put lemon rind, sugar, spices and water into a smooth kettle and bring slowly to the boiling point. Simmer over a low fire for ten minutes. Add grape juice, lemon juice and orange juice and reheat but do not let boil. Strain into a big pitcher and serve.

These drinks are all delicious and very much worth while. They will not tax your digestion nor stimulate your nervous system. Try one at your next party with sandwiches or whatever you will and see how much it will be enjoyed.

SICK HEADACHE

No Pleasure, Says Ohio Lady,
to Go Places, Till She Took Black-Draught Which Brought Relief.

Langsville, Ohio.—"For years and years I suffered with severe headache," says Mrs. Jane Campbell, of this place. "It wasn't any pleasure for me to go places, for I came home with sick headache. If I went to church or to any social gathering or to town to shop, when I got back I would have these headaches and have to go to bed for a day or more, till I would just get out of heart and would not try to go."

"About 15 years ago I discovered that Black-Draught was good for these headaches. I began using it. I would take it two or three nights in succession if I felt the least bad, and it sure did wonders for me. It is about 14 years since I had sick headaches, and I can go places and really enjoy life. It surely is splendid."

Headache often is a symptom of constipation. The best relief is secured by treating the cause of the trouble and in such a case many people have been greatly helped by the use of Theodor's Black-Draught.

FLOYDADA IS VICTOR OVER LITTLEFIELD

(Special to The Avalanche).
LITTLEFIELD, Texas, Nov. 19.—The Floydada Whirlwinds mustered the Littlefield Wildcats here this afternoon with great ease and put over a sensational victory on the local gridsters defeating the Wildcats 30-0. This game entitled the Whirlwinds the privilege of meeting the Slaton Tigers on Thanksgiving for the championship of the Class B circle in the South Plains conference.

Although the game shows a easy victory for the "blowers" it was a game that was deserved through hard fighting and nothing else. Both clubs presented an array of dogged determination and never was there a moment lacking for interest for the fans, who had gathered to witness the clash. Littlefield burst forth several times with an array of brilliant plays, but never reached within scoring distance during the game.

Wester's Whirlwinds still maintain their old attack which has been the greatest feature of their victories, a passing game. This has been the Whirlwinds' best attack, since the diminutive mentor has had charge of the training of the westerners of the green and white. But even though they were strong on passes the Floydada club also presented a varied attack of end runs, off tackle plays, with the ability of netting good yardage.

A mighty offense machine is found in the combination of Eubanks, E. Carter, White, and Marshall of the green and white crew, and many dazzling encounters were registered by the leading eleven. Marshall, sticky built and with a powerful offense attack, plowed consistently through the strong defense of Tucker's crew, ripped and dashed into the Littlefield wall for good gains. Not only was Marshall stellar in his attacks, but there was the passing machine of Eubanks to White, E. Carter, and the end, J. Carter, as well. Eubanks is one of the surest passers in the South Plains conference; and also is capable of running a club with an excessive degree of smoothness; he is cool and often pulls heads plays.

Payne Woods, the flash of the Wildcats in all the game this season, who has been suffering with a sneezed down hip played a good game and was the only man capable of crashing the Green and White defense; however, he lacked the punch and power that he displayed against the Lubbock Westerners a few weeks ago. Eubanks, whose return of kicks has been a dazzling creation in previous games, was stopped occasionally but at intervals was able to bring the fans to cheer with a neat brokenfield run.

First Quarter
Swain, captain of Floydada won the toss and chose to receive. Littlefield elected to defend the south goal. Eubanks returned Littlefield's kick 15 yards to the Floydada 25 yard line; then held Marshall for no gain, another attempt by White netted 1 yard and Floydada was forced to kick. Marshall punted 31 yards. Eubanks who came back for 12 yards, to his 41 yard line.

Davenport and Timian made it first downs with 6 and 5 yards each; Marshall held Eubanks for no gain and Davenport hit right tackle for 3 yards. This was followed with a pass, Eubanks to Timian, for 6 yards; Timian failed and the ball went over. Three consecutive first downs were made by the Floydada club with a pass. Eubanks to Marshall for 14 yards; and an off tackle play by E. Carter for 16 yards; and another pass, Eubanks to J. Carter, for 16 yards. The Green and White were held for no gains on two attempts and Eubanks passed over the end zone.

Littlefield put the ball in play on the 40 yard line. On three attempts on the play Eubanks was forced to kick and punted 18 yards to the Wildcat 41 yard line. A pass, Eubanks to Bosley, netted 21 yards; and Marshall hit for 5 yards, and White for 2 yards. Marshall on a cut back play off right tackle ripped through for 5 yards and ended the quarter with a score of 6-0.

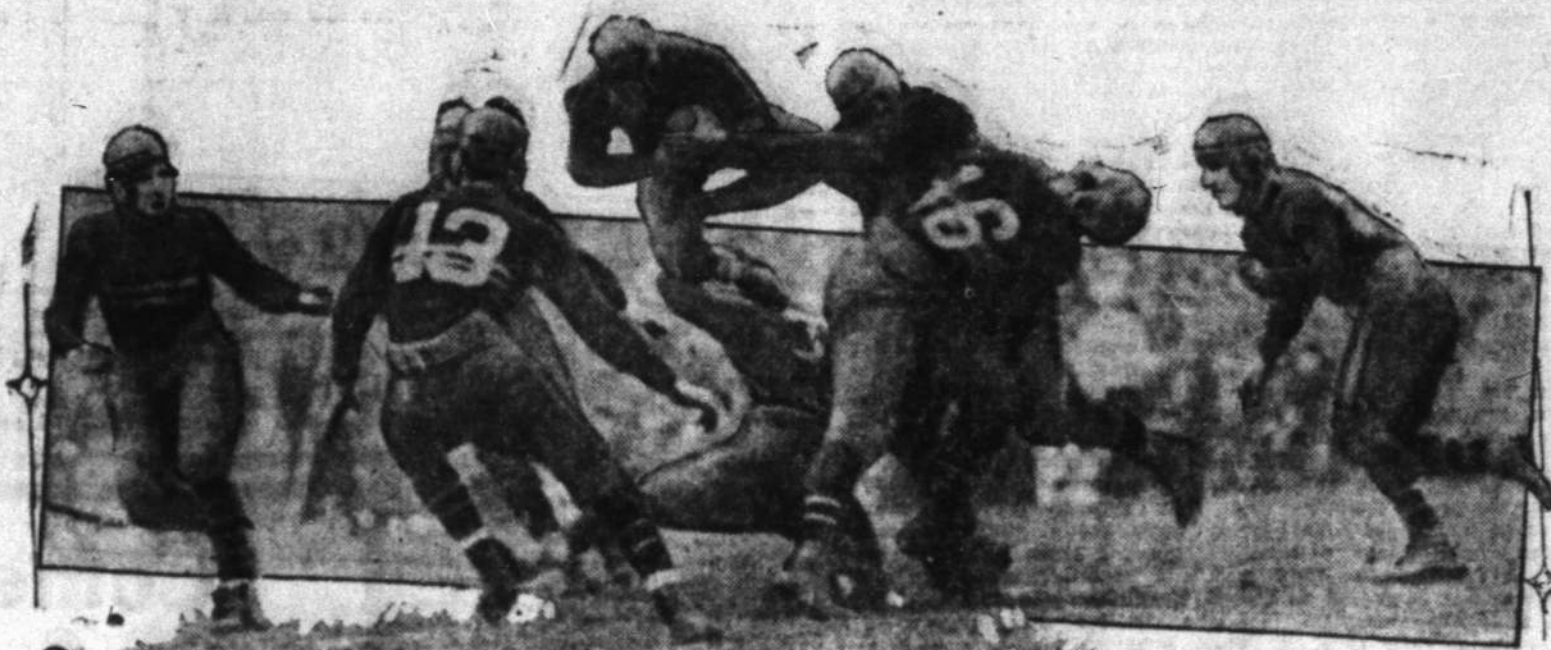

Second Quarter
Floydada's ball on the Littlefield 17 yard line. White on a drive at right tackle netted 2 yards; on a spread formation, White cracked the line for a first down, to put the ball on the Wildcat 2 yard line. Marshall drove through for a touchdown, and Bosley's kick was blocked. Score 6-6.

Floydada kicked off to Eubanks who came back 14 yards to the Wildcat 34 yard line; Harris and Timian made a first down on off tackle play; Davenport and Timian on three attempts failed for a first down and Eubanks kicked 54 yards over the end zone.

White broke loose for 10 yards, then Marshall kicked out for 26 yards to Eubanks, who came back 8 yards to place the ball on his 49 yard line. After an attempt to charge the Green and White defense, Eubanks elected to pass and Eubanks intercepted for Floydada on the Littlefield 48 yard line. A first down was made by White and Marshall through the Red and White defense; and after Floydada advanced the ball to the Littlefield 18 yard line, Pate recovered a Floydada fumble and kicked out for 42 yards, with Eubanks returning to the Floydada 24 yard line. On straight football, White, Marshall and Carter netted another first down; and with a pass, Eubanks to Carter, for 9 yards and 2 yards at left tackle by Marshall, the Green and White chaled up another first down. This ended the first half with a score of 6-6 for Floydada.

Third Quarter
Floydada kicked off to Eubanks who fumbled and Timian recovered on his

Strolling Down Sport Lane

With James R. Dow

On to Amarillo is the cry of a flock of followers of the Westerners when the board the Westerner special train this morning. Still time for you to set on this train, provided, of course, you read this before 8:30.

This game today is in Amarillo—Westerners vs. Slaton. It will mean much to the fans of the high school should they win. It will be the first time that the Westerners have had the honor bestowed upon them.

Von Tunga and Franks will at least have a scrapping eleven on the gridiron in Amarillo this afternoon. Von does care for a game, but he thinks a lot of the kids if they fight a game as it should be fought and then lose.

What is thought to be the best that the high school coaches can find in the local high school will start against the Slaton this afternoon in the north plains city.

Last week Reynolds, a fast and shifty back, brought forth an excellent array of offense attack. His stride will mean much for the Westerners this afternoon.

We are of the opinion that Bassett, the flashy of the Slatons, will be a marked man this afternoon. Bassett is a triple threat, and a very brilliant high school grid performer. It was Bassett who scored the field goal on the Westerners a few weeks ago.

Thanks to the Plainview Bulldogs—they are the lads that gave the Von Tunga men another shot at the Panhandle title by defeating the Slatons a few weeks ago.

According to the dope, the Whirlwinds are favored over the Slaton Tigers on Turkey day. Floydada defeated the Lockney crew by four touchdowns while Slaton fought hard to

Sul Ross Loboes Beat Indians 39-12

(Special to The Avalanche)

ALPINE, Nov. 19.—With all business houses closed, Alpine had a deserted appearance this afternoon when the McMurry Indians and Sul Ross Loboes were in the last grid battle of the season, played on Jackson field in Alpine. A crowd that would do credit to either the size of El Paso or San Antonio was in attendance from all nearby towns and counties, and witnessed the peppy game which resulted in a score of 39 to 12 in favor of Sul Ross Loboes.

Withers of Sul Ross was hurt in the second quarter and Morelock substituted. Capt. Cowan was injured also, though not seriously. In spite of the fact that Kelly was taken out of the game with injuries last Saturday he was back in the game today after McNeill had started at fullback. Murphy and Hodges were outstanding stars among the Indians and Alf and Dyer starred for the Loboes. The Loboes made 23 first downs and the Indians 13. McMurry completed several passes for good gains.

Westphalinger of Westpoint refereed and was one of the most fair referees ever in Alpine. McKenzie umpired and headlineman was Ward Weckly. Clark, Cowan and Alf were the consistent ground gainers for Sul Ross. There was some halting from both the Indians and Loboes and although defeated the Indians were real sports and showed their metal throughout the game.

Someone has written an article entitled "The Psychology of Cheer Leading." Someone should write its sequel and call it "The Futility of Cheer Leading."

It is estimated that more than fifty millions was lost on horse racing in America last season. Not less than four-fifths of which was lost on inside tips that couldn't possibly go wrong.

TWO HUNDRED LUBBOCK FANS OFF TO AMARILLO TO SEE HOME TEAM BATTLE FOR PANHANDLE TITLE

This morning at 8:30 the Westerner special will leave Lubbock for an afternoon's stay in Amarillo; two hundred followers of the Westerners are expected to board the train this morning and will be in Amarillo to aid the high school crew in their title game with the Slatons. This game will mean much to Lubbock should she win as it will grant the Von Tunga men the right to go further into the state's heated high school grid championship circle.

Lubbock was defeated by the Slatons on October 29th in Lubbock by a score of 3-0; however, the game the Westerners presented against the Slatons was not of the same fight and punch that was given in both games played with Plainview, and Von Tunga is of the opinion, and as well numerous fans, that the Westerners have the better of the two clubs and is thankful for another chance with the Slatons. Yesterday morning the club left for Amarillo and the coach stated that he was quite sure that it would be no doubt that the Westerners will scrap the Slatons and show them a hard fight. "Further than this I can not say, but as the fans know it takes a scrapping eleven to win football games," he added.

Twenty-two men were carried to Amarillo for the game. These were:

200,000 to See West Close Grid Season

CHICAGO, Nov. 19. (AP)—Two hundred thousand persons will see the western conference football season of 1926 roll into history tomorrow and with an eye to its dramatic values, the gods of the gridiron will have saved the climax for the closing act. Michigan and Northwestern, playing the leads in the conference spotlight, will know by nightfall tomorrow whether they share the crown of championship jointly or whether one shall bear it alone.

Substitutes: Clark, Demma, Sharp, Smith, Terrell, Mitchell, Powell, Starnes, McNeill, Ledbetter, Morelock, Hodges, Hale.

Adkinson, Allen, Burton, Beard, Cummings, Brothers, Dollahite, Freedman, Hardberger, Hill, Leland, Magee, Powell, Parkinson, Reynolds, Rutledge, M. Smith, L. Smith, Teal, Whiteside and Wolfarth.

The club took a light workout on the gridiron yesterday afternoon and got themselves familiar with the lay of the field. Late last evening reports of the Westerners from Amarillo stated that the Westerners were in excellent shape and ready for the fight this afternoon.

The high school band and pep squad will be on hand this afternoon to give members of the Lubbock high school demonstrations at the game. Forty band will make the trip, according to E. J. Lowery, manager of athletics.

Cisco Celebrates Abilene Victory

CISCO, Texas, Nov. 18. (AP)—Cisco high big dam Loboes Friday night were celebrating with a big fireworks display their defeat of Abilene high here Friday afternoon, 7 to 3. Victory entitles the Loboes to meet Ranger high Bulldogs for the championship of this district. It is understood this game will be postponed until after Thanksgiving, since Ranger has a game Saturday with Breckenridge.

Friday's game was won by straight football, after the Eagles had scored by Osborne's field goal in the second quarter. Huestis, one of three Loboe regulars out on account of injuries, was rushed into the game.

Huestis and Meadows carried the ball down the field by end runs and Huestis bucked over the line for the touchdown. Blanton kicked goal.

The remainder of the game was a kicking battle, with Andrus and Sellers bearing the brunt. Abilene opened up a forward passing attack in the last quarter for long gains, but fumbles stopped their advance.

Temple Out Plays Waco in 0 to 0 Tie

TEMPLE, Nov. 19. (AP)—The eighth district interclub league title was still undecided Friday night after the Temple Wildcats and the Waco Tigers suspended hostilities after four periods of scoreless battling. Both eleven are undefeated and the contest will be renewed later at Waco.

STATE STACKS UP DETAILS TO MAKE MEXICAN'S STORY OF RAMSEY MURDER STAND UP; MUST CORROBORATE TALE

GEORGE WEST, Texas, Nov. 19.—Having deposited their weightiest evidence in the scales of justice Thursday, attorneys seeking to convict Harry J. Leahy, charged with the murder of J. A. Martinez, heaped the balance with a mass of details Friday in an effort to convince the jury that the alleged eye-witness story of the crime as told Thursday was true.

Herbert Martinez, took the stand Thursday and gave a detailed account of his alleged dealings with Leahy from the time he met him until shortly after the night on which he alleges Leahy clubbed and stabbed Ramsey to death.

Today the state presented several witnesses who had seen Leahy and Martinez together at times when Martinez testified they had been together, and one witness that saw Martinez and Ramsey together on the night of the murder, shortly before the state alleges the crime took place.

Herbert Smith, who runs a filling station near Matlis, testified that Ramsey stopped at his station for oil shortly before the time of the crime and that Martinez got out of the car and filled the radiator with water.

Another filling station man testified that Martinez, in Ramsey's car, had stopped for oil early the next morning. Martinez testified yesterday that he drove Ramsey's car to San Antonio and left it there in a parking station after the murder.

María Cortez, who described herself as Mrs. Leahy's common-law wife, testified that she had seen Martinez and Leahy together and that shortly after Ramsey disappeared, Leahy came to their quarters in Laredo and obtained the ticket for the automobile which Martinez had parked in San Antonio. She said that she got the ticket from Martinez and gave it to Leahy. She identified a ticket handed her by the prosecutor as being like the one she turned over to Leahy.

Martinez had testified that Leahy gave him $10 when he called for the ticket. His wife testified that she had seen the money change hands.

Mrs. Eupenia H. Lemos of Matlis said that Leahy had come to her home with Martinez and that the latter had obtained a room there. She identified belongings which Martinez had left there when he checked out, and fixed the time of his arrival as shortly before the murder, and his departure as the day of the murder.

Other witnesses supported other details of Martinez' story and the state is expected to continue the same tactics until it has put every possible bit of corroborative evidence into the record.

Under the law Martinez' testimony cannot stand alone because he has been indicted for the same offense, although he is not a defendant in the present trial.

GRAND JURY

matters of various nature and have tried to exercise our better judgment in every case returning true bills in all cases where we considered the facts governing the case sufficient evidence for conviction.

We have had very efficient co-operation of the various county officials, and we wish to commend them individually and collectively for their diligence and faithfulness. We also wish to call your attention to the untiring efforts of our district and county attorneys, in the manner in which they assisted this jury in giving advice, instruction and personal supervision at all times.

Inspected Jail

We have carefully inspected the county jail twice during this session, and although we find the general condition fairly good, we have the following recommendations to make, which in our judgment should be attended to by the county commissioners court at the very earliest possible moment:

The sanitary plumbing should be re-arranged at once, and installed in such manner as to prevent freezing and becoming obstructed, thereby causing unsanitary conditions to exist.

At least forty (40) new mattresses should be purchased and placed in service immediately.

At least forty (40) new blankets should be purchased and placed in service immediately.

At least twenty-five (25) new towels should be placed in service.

At least twenty-five (25) wash rags or bath rags should be available at all times.

Toilet soap for the use of the prisoners should be available. We find they have been using plain laundry soap for facial toilet.

A fund should be set aside sufficient to care for the proper laundrying of all the above mentioned toilet requisites and the proper cleaning and renovation of the bedding, so the county officers will not be forced to do this menial task when more important duties demand their time.

We recommend that immediately all the old bedding, blankets, etc., be thoroughly renovated, and repaired. This in addition to the above recommended purchase of new equipment.

We find that on account of the lack of repair of the equipment now within the building, at least one prisoner has not had a bath in over sixty days.

We feel that the officers directly in charge of the jail equipment are doing their best under the present conditions, and with the equipment now furnished, but they should be given additional equipment in order to facilitate the keeping of this jail strictly sanitary at all times.

We find the general condition of the county court house to be good, but do urgently recommend better drainage to the public toilet in the basement. The condition of this toilet is not only unsanitary, but it is disgraceful to the magnificent building within which it is contained.

We find sanitary conditions in the Red Cross room very bad, and we recommend a thorough renovation of the furniture and fittings, and a thorough cleaning of the toilet facilities. We believe there is quite a bit of surplus junk, unfit for further use stored or contained within the rooms assigned to this organization. We think this should be removed at the earliest opportunity so the personnel of this department shall be no longer handicapped by its presence.

In calling your attention to the undesirable and poor conditions as outlined heretofore in this report, we are not criticizing the various officials of the county for lack of duty, because we believe they have done all within their power to keep all things in the very best of sanitary condition, and we wish to commend them for doing as well as they have under the deplorable conditions as we find existing, but we do hope measures will be taken immediately to relieve such conditions, and make it easier for these officials to perform their duties. We find that several previous grand juries have made similar recommendations, but these have been ignored, and no improvement made in general conditions. We trust this shall not be the case at this time.

There being no further matters requiring our attention at this time, we now ask to be discharged for the term.

Respectfully submitted,
HUBERT L. ALLEN,
Foreman of the Grand Jury,
October, 1926, Term,
Lubbock County, Texas.

Worth and Dravner, the Santa Fe, the Texas Panhandle, and Gulf, the Frisco and Gulf, the Texas and Western. When the Texas Panhandle and Gulf applied to build from Seymour to Tucumcari, N. M., a hearing was held before the Texas Railroad commission in Austin which merely acted in behalf of the L. C. C. More than six years ago, the Denver's application was held at Plainview, with R. C. Nobles, examiner for the L. C. C. presiding.

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The long pioneer in extensive railroad construction in the south plains area of the Texas Panhandle was won today by the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and the St. Louis-San Francisco systems.

The interstate commerce commission authorized those two major lines to build 228 miles of new railroad at a cost of $5,132,000, but ruled that unless they proceed promptly with construction work, the Santa Fe and Texas Panhandle and Gulf railroads whose applications to build in the same territory were rejected, would be permitted to renew their requests. Several projects for additional railroad mileage in Texas have yet to be ruled upon.

$4,000,000 Project

Under the decision today, which came several months after the commission examined and approved a report recommending approval of certain applications with many other conditions, the Fort Worth and Denver, a subsidiary of the Colorado and Southern, which in turn is controlled by the Burlington, will be permitted to build 202 miles of line at an estimated cost of $4,000,000 the main portion of the new construction, 132 miles in length, will run from Estelline through Plainview to a point in Castro county. In addition the road will build two branch lines, one fifty miles long terminating at Lubbock and another 15 miles long terminating at Silverton. The project must be completed by December 31, 1929, the commission ruled.

The Frisco, through a subsidiary, the Quasah, Arco and Pacific, was authorized to build 27 miles of new line from McAllen to Floydada at a cost of $1,132,000. Construction by both systems would total approximately 228 miles, some of the work involving fractions of a mile over the even figure.

Question T. P. & G.

The Texas Panhandle and Gulf had proposed a new system, 302 miles long with terminals at Seymour and Fort Worth, Texas and Tucumcari, N. M., to cost $11,177,000. The commission questioned the ability of the company to finance the project and declared the estimated cost filed was lower than the anticipated cost of the complete system.

The Santa Fe, which operates the Texas and Western Texas, had planned to build several branch lines into the area and protested that the Burlington and Frisco should not be allowed to enter territory now tributary to the Santa Fe system. The commission ruled, however, as did the Texas railroad commission, which also investigated the cases, that the Burlington and Frisco railroads were entitled and financially able to proceed with their extensions.

Powell Says Nothing

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—C. H. Powell, president of the Texas Panhandle and Gulf railway company, a new corporation, reserved comment today in connection with the interstate commerce commission decision authorizing the Burlington and Frisco R.R. system to build extensions into West Texas, but denying petitions of the Santa Fe of the Texas Panhandle and Gulf to build into that territory.

"I shall have to await a perusal of the decision before I can say anything," said Mr. Powell.

BRINK HONORED WITH DINNER YESTERDAY

Wellington Brink, member of the staff of the Texas Farm and Ranch, was the honor guest at a dinner given in the home economics dining room yesterday for the various deans and department heads of the Tech. The faculty of the home economics school were hostesses for the dinner and the guests were served in a delicious meal.

Brink is here gathering data for a booklet to be published, telling of the advantages of the study of the textile industry. The booklet will contain all information concerning the school, giving complete data and pictures of every unit. One of the features will be the picture of a girl of the home economics school seated at the old-fashioned spinning wheel and a student of the textile department in a contrasting picture at the operation of one of the modern textile machines.

DR. HORN TO PREACH IN AMARILLO TOMORROW

President Paul W. Horn will fill the pulpit in the First Presbyterian church in Amarillo tomorrow morning, taking the place of Rev. Robinson, the pastor. Robinson was the man to deliver the opening union services at the Tech this year.

DIRECTORS TO HAVE PICTURES IN ANNUAL

One added feature to the La Ventana this year will be the section reserved for the board of directors of the college. Every director will have a picture in the annual this year and several of them have already sent the prints into the office of the staff here.

Work on the year book is progressing nicely and the staff have plans for one of the best college annuals in the south. Every unit of the book this year will be of the finest work,manship and skill and embody the great spirit of the school.

Sale of the books will start Monday, a club of girls of the college making the sales. Students by buying the book now may save fifty cents on each copy.

STUDENT COUNCIL TO SELECT TECH DELEGATE MONDAY

At the last meeting of the student council, it was voted to send a delegate to the National Student Federation Congress which meets in Ann Arbor, Michigan, December 2, 3 and 4. The student will be selected at a meeting of the student council Monday night.

WORK ON GYM PROGRESSING

The construction of the temporary gymnasium of the Tech is rapidly progressing; the walls being a number of feet high now. Contractors on the job expect to finish the building about January 1. Basketball training will start as soon as the building is finished. The court will be of regulation size and will provide for a goodly number of members.

Slaton Grid Team Wins From Lockney

SLATON, Oct. 19.—The Slaton Tigers asserted their claim to district championship in Class B competition interscholastic league when they outplayed Lockney on Tiger field here this afternoon 9 to 0 in one of the hardest contests that the Tigers have played this season. The Tigers now will meet Floydada next week-end for district championship.

The Tigers scored in the first quarter on a touchdown and kick for extra point and added the two other points with a safety in the last quarter. They had several chances to score, however, when fumbles cost them the ball in the shadow of the goal.

Lockney threatened several times, but after plunging the ball to the danger zone, did not possess the punch necessary to count. Numerous punts and fumbles cost many substitutions for Lockney, one member of the team suffering a dislocated ankle in the first quarter.

COMMUNISTS NEWS ALL ABOUT MASSES

RUSSIAN PAPERS PLAY UP SPEECHES OF LEADERS AND "CROWD" STUFF

MOSCOW, Nov. 19. (AP)—Russian newspapers differ from American and other foreign newspapers in two major respects.

First, none of them is privately owned. All are organs of the Soviet government, the Communist party, the various subsidiary communist organizations, the trade-unions, cooperative societies, and similar groups. Second, a free press, such as Americans understand that term does not exist. All publications, whether newspapers, magazines or books, are subject to constant government censorship.

Carry Little Advertising
The result of communist ownership and control of newspapers is that there is a great deal of "sameness" in all Russian publications. Carry little advertising they usually contain only from four to eight pages, and sell for about 2 1/2 cents.

Illustrations are used freely. As there is little private trading in Russia, only about 20 per cent of newspaper space is given up to advertisements, the rates for which are relatively high. The principal advertisers are government institutions and cooperative societies. "Want" advertisements are almost unknown.

Pages To Speeches
The bulk of the news matter is of domestic origin. While pages are given up to speeches on the domestic and international political situation by Stalin, Bukharin, Zinoviev, Trotsky, Tomsky, and other Bolshevik luminaries.

Considerable space is devoted to sports among the workers chess tournaments, and activities of factory clubs, but little or no notice is given to sporting events from abroad.

Foreign news, unless it is of a sensational character, usually is subordinated. Crimes, unless of an outstanding nature, are seldom even mentioned. Spontaneous news, such as earthquakes, fires, wrecks and accidents generally are usually dismissed with a few lines. Politics, economics, party polemics and social revolution are the chief stock-in-trade of the Soviet newspapers.

Village "Wall Gazette"
Stories of notable American technical, scientific or industrial progress, however, are always popular, largely because American technical standards are the ideal of the Bolsheviks.

Hand-printed or typewritten sheets known as "Wall Gazettes" play a vital part in village, factory and club life in Soviet Russia. These "Wall Papers" are made up by the workers themselves and usually contain news of local interest, crudely drawn cartoons, factory announcements and poetry. They are posted on the walls and doors of factories, government institutions, workers' clubs, and peasant centers, where workers and the rural population may freely read them. They have in many cases, supplanted the regular daily journals and have become enormously popular especially in the rural districts.

HORN WILL TALK TO TEXAS TEACHERS

TECH PRESIDENT IS SLATED TO TALK AT EL PASO MEETING
NOVEMBER 25

(Special to The Avalanche)
FORT WORTH, Texas, Nov. 19. — President F. W. Horn of the Texas Technological college, Lubbock, will speak Thursday night, November 23 before the general session of the Texas State Teachers association convention in El Paso. He has announced his subject as "Relationship of Higher Education to Democracy." Dr. Horn is one of the most popular speakers in Texas and many have expressed delight that he is accepting the place on the general program of the convention.

Demands Democracy
For several years, Dr. Horn has taken a stand directly opposed to some of the leading educators of America in his demands for absolute democracy in educational guidance. He has opposed the tendency toward developing in some college circles, to eliminate all but a "select" few from the privilege of university training.

He maintains that every American youth should enjoy the privileges of any educational facility afforded. His El Paso addresses are looked forward to with special interest in view of his well known demands for equality of educational opportunity.

Dayton to Talk
On the Thursday night program with Dr. Horn will appear Dr. Frank D. Dayton, superintendent of Lubbock, N. Y. city schools, and a member of the executive committee of the Department of Superintendence of the National Education association. Dr. Dayton, of like democratic ideas will Dr. Horn, has given his special attention to affording high school opportunities for children of every ethnic group. Dr. Edward P. Cullerley, of the department of education of Stanford university, California, and J. M. Hedden, Commerce, president of the Texas State Teachers association, will make short addresses.

Grand Jury Will Still Carry On

The Lubbock county grand jury which has been in actual investigation during the greater part of the year of district court, apparently will be re-elected despite the approach of the closing date of the court session for the term, and Friday closed again into new violations in the county for a two-day session that will wind up activity.

The nature of the investigations which were carried on Friday and those of some today have not been reported, but court officials said there is a probability of several new arrests that will swell the total already returned during the

PASTURE WHERE WRIGHTS FIRST FLEW TO BE GREATEST CENTER OF AVIATION

DAYTON, Ohio, Nov. 18.—The little pasture where Orville and Wilbur Wright conducted their early experiments in flying, year ago, is the nucleus for the greatest center of aviation activities in the United States now in the final stage of materialization.

Completion of a few buildings and the removal here from Washington of the headquarters of the material division of the U. S. army air corps, are all that are needed to bring the most gigantic peace time undertaking in the history of aviation to fruition. Air corps officials say it will be accomplished by July 1, 1927, although movement of certain sections from McCook field in the new field will begin at December.

New 5000 Acre Tract
The little pasture has grown to a 5000 acre tract which includes the new Wright field and the Fairfield air intermediate depot. Wright field, which was given to the war department by Congress in 1917, and surrounding territory, ranks today among the largest of the government's military projects.

All the engineering activities now at McCook field, and all the activities of the supply division at Washington will be transferred to Wright field, where they will operate under one head. Under a new alignment of activities in the air corps, the engineering and supply divisions are fused in the material division, which is made up of the engineering, procurement and field service sections.

To Do All Testing
The engineering section will be responsible for all experimental and development work, including testing. The procurement section will have charge of purchasing and production, and the field service section will direct the supply and maintenance of field units and the disposal of worn-out and salvaged equipment.

The repair and supply depots at Dayton, La. Fairfield, O., San Antonio and San Diego, the storage depot at Little Rock, the lighter-than-air depot at Scott Field, Ill., and the district procurement offices at New York, Akron, Seattle and Santa Monica, also will be supervised from Dayton.

Servers Headquarters Grouping
Removal of the cavalry division headquarters here from Washington is in itself a revolutionary step, and the air corps is the first branch of the army to thus sever its procurement services from army headquarters.

The results of the move are expected to be far-reaching. The great program in the project were economy and efficiency. Wright field will cost the government more than $5,000,000, according to the program outlined. Already $1,500,000 has been appropriated, and the work is being pushed by a small army of engineers and workmen.

Two huge hangars will provide housing facilities for airplanes. An immense laboratory building is being erected. An administration building in assembly and machine shop, provided.

Church Prepares to Welcome Wanderers

AUSTIN, Nov. 18.—The university Presbyterian church is making elaborate plans for the annual homecoming of University of Texas students and former students. Thanksgiving day, the day of the Texas University-Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college, football game. The homecoming will be in the new education building of the church. At 10 a. m. Thanksgiving services will be held in the church and the new education building will be open for inspection. An informal reception to honor of the former students will be held in the evening.

The new building has just been completed at a cost of $120,000. It contains assembly and class rooms for the student department of the church school, and for several lower department, church office, ladies parlors, recreation room, and ample kitchen facilities. The student assembly room, which is used for church services, has a seating capacity of about seven hundred.

LEARNS THREE R's

At Worth, Fireman Who 11 Months Ago Was Illiterate Can Now Read and Speak Correctly

FORT WORTH, Texas, Nov. 18.—There is a fireman here, who eleven months ago could neither read, write nor figure. Now he peruses the newspapers, manipulated the multiplication table and punned the King's English into submission.

This fireman, Walker, Davis, 26, bestirred himself to acquisition of the "three R's" when he saw fellow firemen being promoted to lieutenantcies through examinations whose questions he could not read. Accordingly he set himself up on a one-man school, day and night.

Last week examinations were held again for lieutenancies. Davis made a grade of 52.5 per cent. Although not promoted, because three other men made even better grades, Davis, undaunted, expects to hit 'em for a commission, next time.

A remarkably retentive memory is the secret mostly responsible for Davis' rapid fire education. Several years ago, as a dayman, he could remember and deliver correctly 60 packages whose addresses were read to him when pitched into his wagon. Besides that, examining officials say Davis answers readily catch questions requiring quick, independent thinking.

OBSERVATORY TESTS TO SEE IF EARTH SHRINKS

LONDON, Nov. 17. (AP)—An attempt to accurately determine whether the earth is shrinking is to be made by scientists of the world who have begun tests to detect and measure possible moves of the earth's crust. The principal observatories in various parts of the globe are cooperating with the Royal Observatory at Greenwich.

The first experiments consisted of wireless signals sent by stations in the United States and on the Continent at the rate of 41 rhythmic signals per minute. The time of the signals were registered by observatories at San Diego, California, Algiers, Shanghai, Paris, Washington, Berlin and Australia.

Old fashioned plows vied with modern tractors at a ploughing match held at Middlesbrough, England, recently.

ACCUSED TRIO TO GIVE TESTIMONY

HALL-MILLS DEFENDANTS WILL TAKE WITNESS STAND

IN CASE
SOMERVILLE, N. J. (AP)—An announcement that the three defendants will testify and that their attorneys expect to establish an alibi for each, was made in the opening case for the defense in the Hall-Mills trial here today. The announcement came on the heels of the closing of the state's case, at the afternoon session of the court, after seven witnesses during the day had increased the total for the thirteen court days to eighty-four.

Henry Stevens, who is charged with his brother, Willie Stevens and his sister, Mrs. Frances Noel Stevens Hall, with the murder of Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills, will be the first witness tomorrow. He will say that he was at his home at Lavallette, N. J., when his brother-in-law, the Reverend Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Mills were slain on the night of September 14, 1922.

The defense expectations were outlined by Clarence E. Case this afternoon in a 45 minute presentation to the jury, illustrating his address by a large map of De Runsey's lane and vicinity, the defense lawyer used a large common school pointer to indicate the crabapple tree, under which the bodies were found, the cedar tree, where Mrs. Jane Gibson, the state's star witness, says she tied her male, Phillips Jane and other names made familiar by the trial.

As soon as the state rested, the defense produced its map. It was pinned to the wall near the jury, and Justice Charles W. Parker, presiding, took a seat among counsel to get an unobstructed view of a fine map representation of the now famed De Runsey's lane. The jury also showed renewed interest.

"We will show you what is known as an 'alibi' for each of the defendants," declared Case, in his opening address. "We will prove—and we believe to your satisfaction—that each defendant was elsewhere at the time this crime was committed."

Henry Stevens was at his home at Lavallette, he said, and Willie Stevens and Mrs. Hall were at their New Brunswick home until an early hour in the morning, when Mrs. Hall, alarmed at the continued and explained absence of her husband, awakened her brother and accompanied by him, visited the church to see if he could have fallen asleep there.

Her husband had told Mrs. Hall, the lawyer pointed out, on leaving home that he was going to "see about Mrs. Mills' hospital bill," and when the church was found dark, Mrs. Hall and Willie Stevens continued to the Mills home to find it also dark.

In addition to establishing an alibi for the three defendants on trial, it was claimed that an alibi will be set up also for Henry Carpenter, cousin of the defendants held in jail here under indictment on the same charges of murder but not tried with them. It will be shown, the jury was told, that he was the guest of friends in New Brunswick at the hour fixed for the crime.

"None of the defendants was there," said Mr. Case. "None knew anything about it."

Henry Stevens did not know of the existence of such a person as Mrs. Mills, his lawyer said. Willie Stevens knew of her but she did not come into his life.

Mrs. Hall had no thought that Mrs. Mills had any place in her husband's heart other than as an earnest church worker, said Mr. Case. He pictured Mrs. Hall as living her husband's life and thinking that he lived hers.

"He was to her," he said, "the perfect husband to the day of his death and for years after."

An attack was made in the address on the state's contention that the finger print of Willie Stevens appears on a calling card of the Reverend Mr. Hall found near his body. "We will show you," Mr. Case told the jury, "that the whole card business is bogus—pious and that it is not the finger print of Willie Stevens."

ELECTRIFIED EGGS GOOD FOR YEARS, ON MARKET
LIVERPOOL, Ev. 19 (AP)—Electrified eggs, guaranteed to keep for years and designed to aid in keeping down the cost of living, have been placed on the British market.

This invention by which eggs are sterilized by means of an electrical heating oil bath makes it possible, it is claimed, to keep eggs almost indefinitely.

Death Hovers Over Mussolini at Bologna

An hour before he narrowly escaped death from a bullet fired at him by a 15-year-old boy, Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy addressed a multitudinous gathering of his Fascist followers at the Littoriale in Bologna. This photograph of him haranguing the Black Shirts is the first to reach the United States.

BLAST SUNDERS NORWEGIAN SHIP AT BALTIMORE; DEATH TOLL MAY REACH MORE THAN TWENTY IT IS FEARED

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 19.—A blast of fire which cut sundered the Norwegian tanker Mantilla, exacted an undetermined toll of lives as the vessel lay in dry dock at the Sparrows Point plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation today. Scores of workmen were caught in a flaming rain of death as an amidship oil tank exploded with a deafening report, to spew burning oil and twisted steel over the decks and surrounding scaffolding.

Official estimates of the dead ranged from eight to twenty. So great was the havoc wrought that even the number of bodies recovered was subject to estimate. At least eight bodies had been assembled in a morgue at the plant tonight. Some had gathered from the smoking bulk would represent more than eight individuals. No definite count of the injured had been possible. The more seriously hurt had been scattered to every available hospital. Scores were treated at the plant first aid station and allowed to go.

Mercer screams from the ship's decks and its interior only partly perceived volunteer rescue workers for the spectacle which greeted them when they rushed upon the reeling vessel a few minutes after the blast. Men whose arms or legs had been torn off dragged themselves over blood-spattered planks, vainly endeavoring to extinguish flaming clothing. Billows of flame and smoke shot through ragged cuts in the Mantilla's steel plates.

Windows in nearby factory buildings were blown out and steel was rained about the neighborhood. A piece of steel thirty feet long and eight feet wide, weighing several tons, was hurled into an adjacent dry dock to crash down on the deck of the steamer Mount Clary. No one was aboard the Mount Clary.

Firemen who fought for nearly four hours to control the fire before workmen could carry out the dead, were forced to trample over bodies and parts of bodies strewn about the ship.

John Erickson, a member of the Mantilla's crew, said "The boat heaved and shook with a terrific roar. I saw steel plates and pieces of men flying through the air. Some of them flew by my head. Then smoke began to blind me, but not before I saw the deck was covered with men and parts of men. The clothing of most of them was on fire."

Another eye witness, Matthew Prucha, a workman described how the ship "reared and plunged like a horse and seemed to lift ten feet from the dock."

Prucha was in the engine room. "I made my way to the deck," he said, "and saw men running around with their clothing on fire and crying. Some of them had their arms off and one lay on the deck with legs and head cut off."

Prucha said he was cut off by flames when he went into the bow to try to help some of the injured. He found a rope and slid down it to the deck. "I thought about the poor fellows still back there in the Mantilla with the fire coming toward them," he said. "There wasn't anything anybody could do for them."

WANT MOTORISTS TO REPORT VIOLATIONS

A scant half dozen cops can't hope to successfully guard three thousand drivers when half the number are more or less inclined to enjoy violating the law. It's impossible, officers say, and for that reason they are going to ask law-abiding, traffic-law-respecting, citizens to help them.

Advance by Chief of Police T. E. May Here is the plan: A kind of Safety Drivers' League will be organized, and every car owner in the city that respects the law and wants others to do likewise will be accepted as a member. Then suitable stickers will be placed on the windshields of members cars, and when they see a traffic violation it will immediately be reported to the police. They will not arrest the offender—just get his car number and make the report. Officers will then serve papers on the offender, and it will be a difficult task to "beat" a case.

A meeting for the purpose of organization will be called early next week.

When Aimee Heard the Verdict

Aimee Semple McPherson's expression bordered on a scowl as she heard Judge Samuel Blake order her held for formal trial at the end of her long preliminary hearing in Los Angeles. Then she went to her chambers to appeal to her followers for a second $100,000 defense fund. In the picture, taken as the hearing closed, Aimee is seen over the shoulder of her attorney, W. I. Gilbert.

CHINESE NEWSPAPERS CARRY NO REPORTERS

PEKING, Nov. 19 (AP)—China, the scene of perhaps the most ancient effort at newspaper publication, is struggling along in the rear of modern journalistic development.

For instance, the papers have editors, but no reporters. Such news as is not furnished by the scores of subsidized native agencies and a dozen foreign purveyors, just filters in to the papers or is furnished by retained underlings in government offices, military headquarters, tea-houses, restaurants and theaters. Occasionally an editor will "cover" an event, but approaching American methods of news gathering obtain in China. Besides leading daily editorials generally dealing with some phase of current political or military affairs, longer editorials appear in odd corners of the various sheets and frequently are appended to news stories.

Mohammedans are now employing as clerks, Hindus, who once were their religious enemies.

More than 12,000,000 radio sets are in operation in the world, according to the latest estimate.

BRITISHERS FIGHT AMERICAN FILMS

ENGLISH DOMINIONS WANT ALL MOVIES MADE BY J BULL AND SONS

LONDON, Nov. 19 (AP)—After studying the problem of formulation of a common film policy for the British empire with a view to replacing American moving pictures with British-made films, the imperial conference found it impossible to reach an agreement. This was because the views of the various dominions were so conflicting and their film needs so widely divergent.

An official report issued tonight contains a resolution recognizing that it is of great importance that the larger proportion of films exhibited throughout the empire should be of empire production, and urging the dominions to deal with the problem.

American movies at present constitute from 90 to 95 per cent of all films shown in the British empire. To boost empire movies, the film committee of the conference suggested the following methods:

Effective customs duties of foreign films, preference or free entry for films produced within the empire, legislation for the prevention of "blind" or "black" booking, and the fixing of a quota of empire films to be shown with others.

The committee's report emphasized that no legislation action would be effective if a quota system were maintained unless there was a far greater output of empire films than at present. It was pointed out also that films must be of real competitive exhibition value, producers must show enterprise, resourcefulness and adaptability and an effective distributing arrangement.

must be established throughout the empire.

STORY OF VAUDEVILLE IS STORY OF CYCLES

NEW YORK, Nov. 19 (AP)—Vaudeville programs, since America's first organized variety performance a hundred years ago have reflected, and sometimes anticipated, the life and fashions of the times.

They promise for the present to "go Spanish," the Keith-Albee exchange reports. And there is a French "vogue" just around the corner. The vaudeville managers find these fads profitable, because of the theatergoers' desire for something new or novel.

The story of vaudeville from its establishment in this country at the old Lafayette theater on December 18, 1836, has been a story of cycles. Their average life has been about four years, although in many instances, the best acts of a mode became more or less standardized. Thus the piano act, the song and dance team, the monologist, and the comedy sketch are familiar features of the modern program.

Sometimes an event furnishes the motif for a new mode in vaudeville, and sometimes it is an outstanding personality. Of the former were the cycles of the Irish, German, Jewish, Italian, blackface and "rube" comedians. Each type had its heyday as the Irish, the Germans, and the others successively became factors in American life.

Personality entered into vaudeville fashions when Lydia Yamans, Tins decided to do her songs and impersonations in variety. She decided her husband, Fred Tins, should play the piano for her. For a long time the act had the field to itself. Then came a veritable landslide of piano acts. Maurice Barrymore was another personality who marked a turning point in the history of variety.

ENDORSE MOVE FOR TAX SURVEY

MINERAL WELLS C. OF C. BACK
WEST TEXAS BODY IN VETOED PLAN

(Special to The Avalanche)
MINERAL WELLS, Nov. 18.—Endorsement of the efforts of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to secure passage of a resolution by the Fortieth Legislature authorizing a tax survey of Texas, and appointment of a committee to help the regional organization in this matter, were made at the regular meeting of the Mineral Wells Chamber of Commerce
on November 8.

County Judge E. L. Pitts of Palo
Pinto, John W. Birdwell, and S. E.
Miller of Mineral Wells were appointed on the special committee by the Mineral Wells chamber to offer assistance to the West Texas body in bringing about the appointment of a tax survey committee, looking forward to the enacting of adequate laws for equality and uniformity of taxes in Texas.

The resolutions passed at the Mineral Wells Chamber of Commerce
meeting stated that the organization joined with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the authors of the Legislative Act, providing for the tax survey, and the newspapers of the State in criticizing Governor Ferguson for vetoing the bill by the recent called-session of the Texas Legislature for a tax survey committee. Further resolutions commended the stand taken by President Arthur P. Duggan and Manager Homer D. Wade of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in their determination to urge that the Fortieth legislature authorize a tax survey in Texas, and named the local committee to confer with West Texas Chamber of Commerce officials in co-operation with furtherance of the cause.

In answer to correspondence of the Mineral Wells special committee with President Arthur P. Duggan, the officials of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce wrote that he knew of no better time to correct the existing tax inequality evils. When 99 counties in Texas draw out something like $5-$6,000,000 more a year for the education of children in their rural districts
than they pay into the state treasury for all purposes, it seems to me that there is something radically wrong in our present system." President Duggan wrote to Judge Pitts.

Stating that the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is squarely behind the matter in the belief that they can render a real service to West Texas and the state as a whole Duggan said that the organization expected to continue the fight until results are obtained and until there is a decided improvement in the present method of assessing property taxes in Texas.

SLATON C. OF C. TO HOLD BANQUET

BIG ATTENDANCE EXPECTED AT ANNUAL MEMBERSHIP MEETING

(Special to The Avalanche)
SLATON, Nov. 18.—A record attendance is expected at the annual membership banquet of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce which will be held Tuesday, Nov. 23, at 8 p. m. at the high school building. Tickets to the banquet have been selling rapidly and the interest in the event is general
among the citizens of the town and community.

The program committee has finished arrangement of the program for the evening and it is announced that
R. A. Updegraff, of Plainview, president banker and business man, will be one of the speakers.

Seven new directors are to be named for 1927 board of directors of the Slaton Chamber at the banquet Tuesday evening. They will replace those whose terms have expired, and will serve with eight others who remain in office another year.

The banquet will be served by the ladies of the Presbyterian church.

Meet Maudine! She's College Beauty Queen

Students of Ohio State University at Columbus might with all propriety
have chosen Miss Katherine Porter left, as their beauty queen. Few, if any, would have criticized had they picked Miss Margery Rutledge, right.
Equally unanimous might have been a vote in favor of Miss Wileen Ladd below. But did any of these three exemplars of pulchritude win?
No—not a bit of it. The winner, red-der, was lovely Maudine Ormsby, whose map appears in the center. Maudine is the prize cow of the university's agricultural department.

Fire Fighters Fight Big Turkey Dinner

All is not worry in the life of a fireman, even though he at times takes his life in his own hands in an effort to save the other fellow's property from destruction, and this was demonstrated Thursday night at the regular semi-monthly meeting of the fire department here when the boys enjoyed a turkey dinner and listened to very encouraging remarks made by both city officials and officials of the state department who were here
for the occasion.

Speakers included Mayor Pink L.
Parrish, W. H. Williams of the state fire marshal's office and Chas. E.
Maulin, southwestern representative of the flameless Fire and Police Telegraph company of Dallas.

Mayor Parrish praised the work of the department here, pledged co-operation of city officials in efforts of the department to keep losses to a minimum, and said that in the near future certain additional heating and equipment probably will be added whereby Lubbock citizens may secure a big reduction on insurance rates.
This program includes the installation of a fire alarm system.

Mr. Williams spoke briefly on safeguards against fires, and urged adherence to the regulations laid down
by national and state boards in connection with electric wiring of houses.
Mr. Maulin told of the advantages of a standard fire alarm system, and its function, saying that nearly 2,000
cities and towns now have these systems in operation. By such means he said, the city can reduce the rate for fire insurance by four cents, and the system will pay for itself under normal conditions in a period of two years.

Thanksgiving Birds Rush Floydada

FLOYDADA, Nov. 18.—Floydada
will not suffer from lack of turkeys
for Thanksgiving and Christmas unless the supply of local producers fall.
More than $25,000 worth of turkeys were marketed in Floydada in four days of last week, the four dealers having worked day and night weighing and shipping turkeys. The best prices were paid these days being from 24 to 25 1/2 c per pound.
The quality and size of the turkeys
were extraordinary, many of them weighing in weight from twenty to thirty pounds. One gobble weighed 47 pounds.

Solemnity Erases "Jimmy's" Smile

LITTLE THEATRE STARTED LIFE POOR

DALLAS TROUPE HAS RISEN TO TOP NOTCH DURING SIX

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 18. (AP)—The
"rough West" hungered for good plays.
It was far removed from the main travelled roads of the best dramatic companies. The so-called spoken drama was only a whisper out here where the wide open spaces are reputed to begin.

Then came the Dallas Little Theatre
born in the house of the dead and fostered in a restaurant, but despite this humile nativity, within six years of its birth it had three times captured the east's most coveted Little Theatre
prize, the Belasco cup.

Hungry for Drama
Now the capital of the Little Theatre movement may be said to have settled for the time being at the edge of the great cow country of Texas, and persons dramatically inclined are wondering why it is so.

Director Oliver Hensdell's one of the reasons. He attributes the success to hunger for good drama and the character-building work necessary to overcome many obstacles here.

Six years ago a group of Dallas
people, not satisfied with the scraps of drama they had been getting, decided to manufacture their own. They held their first meeting in an undertaker's chapel and there the movement was organized. The first play was given in a high school, their second in a restaurant, where after the evening meal, the proprietor permitted
them to push back the chairs and tables and present their play.

To Build Own Home
After the movement had gone along for three years, Oliver Hensdell came from New Orleans, where he had built a $25,000 Little Theatre. He had been a successful professional stage actor and lecturer. The Dallas Theatre had its troubles. In the beginning the men stayed away. Now the men are among its clearest actors. It had no theatre building, no money, but these obstacles too, have been overcome.

The Theatre is now housed in a frame building on a side street. A campaign to raise $25,000 for a new building is under way. Anyone is considered a member who buys a season ticket.

All walks of life are represented in the casts. A society woman may play in the same cast with her gardener.
In a season a hundred or more actors are used.

"Judge Lynch" by William Rogers.

As a member of the Little Theatre
and a former Dallas newspaperman,
was the first play taken to New York.
It won the Belasco cup. In 1925 they won with "The No Count Boy," by Paul Green. Last winter they captured the trophy with "El Cristo."

Dramatic Reader in Lubbock Monday

Edwin M. Whitney, dramatic interpreter from Boston, will appear here Monday evening in the high school auditorium as the second attraction of the Tech artists course. Mr. Whitney's repertoire of plays is unusually large and interesting and it is said that his ability is such that he can,
with fine taste, discrimination and nuance, portray intelligently and dramatically a cast of a dozen types, making the drama live and move for his audience in a fascinating, whimsical and tense way. "His solo and tears, his laughs and drooleries, his prankiness and wholehearted goodness
are his elsewhere is only one Edwin M. Whitney," one critic said of him.

AVANCEH-JOURNAL

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 19. (AP)—The cotton market was a quiet pre-bureau affair today with thin trading and narrow actions. The trend of prices was downward but there was no pronounced selling pressure. After opening slightly lower, prices eased off on some pre-bureau liquidation and later declined further on bearish weekly statistics, particularly mill takings which were only 452,000 bales, against 533,000 last year. Around noon prices were nine to ten points below yesterday's close and although the market ruled rather steady during the afternoon, prices lost a point or two more, easing to levels 11 points under the previous close. There was a rally of four to 5 points in the final trading on some trade buying and covering by early sellers. The close showed net losses for the day of 7 to 11 points. The market opened one point up to four down and gradually eased off until near noon December traded at 12.24, January at 12.80 and March 12.32. The market during the afternoon eased off to 12.53 for December, 12.58 for January and 12.72 for March. The market rallied 4 to 5 points in the late trading and held the rally to the end. Exports for the day totaled 49,413 and for the week 472,945 bales.

SUGAR

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. (AP)—The raw sugar market was quiet today, and as no sales were reported, prices were unchanged at 4.17 for Cuban, duty paid.

The firm spot market and the reduced world's sugar crop estimated by a prominent statistical bureau, to 25,353,000 tons, from 24,944,443 tons last year, led to renewed general buying in raw sugar futures, all deliveries selling into the new ground for the narrow futures. The trend of prices to 12 points above the previous night's close, but not heavily realizing and reacted 7 to 8 points, closing with net gains of 7 to 8 points. Sales were the largest on record, aggregating 255,750 tons.

December closed 2.58; January 3.17; March 3.01; May 2.69; July 3.17.

Refined sugar was firmer and unchanged to 10 points higher, but quotations now ranging from 5.35 to 6.10 for fine granulated, with good inquiry reported.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO, Nov. 19. (AP)—Cattle 3,000; steers barely steady with week's uneven 20 cent to 43 decline; bulk 7.00 @ 8.25; bulls unchanged.

Hogs, 18,000; active, 15 to 25 cents advance; top 11.55; pigs 11.75 @ 12.00; sows 10.25 @ 11.00; estimated hold-over, 1,500.

Sheep, 4,000; fat lambs steady to strong, top 12.32; bulk 12.12 @ 12.00; sheep steady; ewes 5.25 @ 5.50; feeding lambs 25 cents higher, top 13.25; bulk 12.00 @ 12.25.

MOVE R. R. OFFICES

PHOENIX, Nov. 19. (AP)—A telegram today to the Herald from San Blas, state of Sinaloa, Mexico, said the general office for the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad in Mexico had been moved from El Fuerte to San Blas to facilitate the handling of construction materials, and he nearer to the seat of operations.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 19. (AP)—Wheat tumbled down today to a new all-around low price record for the season, but rallied to a fair extent later. Better weather in Argentina, drying out of export demand for shipments from North America and signs of free selling on the part of the Canadian growers' pool were largely responsible. Closing quotations here for wheat, were unsettled, 2 to 2.5 cents off lower, with corn unchanged to 3-5 cents up, oats at 1-5 cent decline to 1 shade advance, provisions unchanged to a rise of 30 cents.

Corn and oats derived their strength from victory in the corn belt, and smallness of each receipt, together with improved shipping demand for corn.

Provisions were responsive to an upturn in the value of hogs.

"BRADSTREETS WILL SAY"

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. (AP)—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say: Numerous cross currents are revealed in the week's trade and industrial reports with surface developments as regards trade making a slightly more favorable appearance, owing to cooler weather in wide areas, helping retail trade. As most of the improvement visible seems to have been at the south it is probable that the steeper tone of cotton prices, including larger marketing of that staple, was an additional helpful factor. Reports from the central west showed little change or advance by rains or snows, which had a dulling effect on the country trade, upon which had roads naturally improved.

Weekly bank clearings $10,000,000, a decrease of $7 per cent from last year.

COTTON GOODS

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. (AP)—Cotton goods were steady today. Durages were easier at Calcutta and quiet here. Raw silk was unchanged here and quiet. Trade in wool goods remained quiet.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, Nov. 19. (AP)—Generally steady rates were made in livestock sales here today. Receipts were posted at 1,500 grown cattle, six calves, 500 hogs, and 600 sheep.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. (AP)—The cotton market was rather easier today under realizing and a little more selling for southern account. January contracts which had advanced to 12.51 early yesterday, sold off to 12.57 this afternoon, or 14 points below yesterday's close, and the market closed at 12.50. The general market closed hardly steady at net decline of 9 to 12 points.

The opening was barely steady at a decline of 2 to 5 points under overnight selling from the south and local selling probably promoted by easier Liverpool cables, and disappointment over the bulk of the certified stock of about 17,000 bales already here, would be tendered on the first notice day of next week.

Spot house brokers bought the December contracts at a discount of 5 to 7 points under January, however, partly against sales of later deliveries.

Another private crop report estimated the indicated yield at 18,295,000 bales and ginlings prior to December 14 at 18,542,000 bales.

A canvass today of New York cotton exchange members pointed on the average to a government estimate next Monday of 18,061,000 bales. The high individual estimate in this average was 18,600,000 and the lowest 17,600,000 bales.

Exports for the day 33,473 making 3,511,465 so far this season. Port receipts 34,735; U. S. port stocks 2,675,571.

WOOL

BOSTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—Wool demand is falling off somewhat, a less keen inquiry for new supplies is now manifest as compared with earlier in the week, when trading was stimulated more or less by the renewed confidence in values. Firm local prices at that time and strengthening foreign markets have mills greater assurance of stabilized value, and buyers began to operate, taking orders for stock to piece out present holdings and to carry new orders for crop recently booked.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By DR. J. E. NUNN

Topic—Joshua Renewing the Covenant.

Scripture Lesson: Joshua, 24:14-25.

14. Now therefore fear Jehovah,

and serve him in sincerity and in truth; and put away the gods which your fathers served beyond the River,

and in Egypt; and serve ye Jehovah.

15. And if it seem evil unto you to serve Jehovah, choose you this day

whom ye will serve: whether the gods which your fathers served that were beyond the River, or the gods of the Amorites, in whose land ye dwell:

but as for me and my house, we will serve Jehovah.

16. And the people answered and said, Far be it from us that we should forsake Jehovah, to serve other gods:

17. For Jehovah our God, he it is that brought us and our fathers up out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage, and that did those great signs in our sight, and preserved us in all the way wherein we went,

and among all the peoples through the midst of whom we passed:

18. And Jehovah drove out from before us all the peoples, even the Amorites that dwell in the land: therefore we also will serve Jehovah:

19. If it seem evil unto you to serve Jehovah, forsake Jehovah, and serve foreign gods, then he will turn

and do you evil, and consume you,

after that he hath done you good.

20. And the people said unto

Jehovah, Nay; but we will serve

Jehovah.

21. And Joshua said unto the people, Ye are witnesses against yourselves that ye have chosen ye Jehovah, to serve him. And they said, We are witnesses.

22. Now therefore put away, said he, the foreign gods which are among

you, and incline your heart unto Jehovah, the God of Israel.

23. And the people said unto

Jehovah, our God will we serve,

and unto his voice will we hearken.

24. So Joshua made a covenant with the people that day, and set them a statute and an ordinance in Shechem.

Gospel Text: Choose you this day

whom ye will serve, but as for me and my house, we will serve Jehovah.

Josh. 24:15.

Time: B. C. 1451. Joshua may have died the next year.

Place: Shechem in Mamaria, thirty

one and a half miles north of Jerusalem.

Introduction

Joshua had become an old man and he knew that his long and tremendous task was at an end. He convened a national assembly at Shechem, where,

at the outset of the war of conquest

(Josh. 8: 30-35), he had the people

renew their covenant with Jehovah.

half of them standing over against

Mount Ebal, and half over against

Mount Gerizim, and shouting their Amen's, Joshua's words, so perfect are the acoustic properties of the valley,

could be heard by all the people as they crowded the slopes of the two mountains.

Joshua's Farewell Address.

Joshua began by recalling to the people of his people the origin of the nation in the glorious migration of Abraham from the land of Chaldeans

over the desert to Canaan, that he might make a home for the pure religion of Jehovah. Then followed in swift succession the story of Isaac,

child of the promise, and that of Jacob, who became Israel, prince of God. The sad experience in Egypt ended in the marvelous rescue under

Moses and Aaron. The crossing of the Red Sea was brought vividly to mind, that scene always appermost

in Hebrew memories. Guidance through the wilderness, conquest of the Amorites, Rahab's blessings, the fall of Jericho, the defeat of one heathen tribe after another—all this was set before the finished throne in graphic phrases, glowing with a vivid picture of the noble land which had become their possession. It was not a land earned by their labor or captured by their valor or bought with their money, but it was given them

freely by Jehovah. That great truth

which the Israelites above all needed to learn for their welfare in the future.

The Value of Retrospects

There is nothing more salutary than to stand on the eminence of the years in life's sudden evening and review the way by which our God has led us. The far-away home, where faces glimmer out in the dusk of life's morning, on which we shall not look again till the veil of eternity

rings, the hard bondage of early life,

the many straits and deliverances,

guiding cloud of the pilgrimage,

which have followed all our days: Al-me! What a romance lies behind the mearest life, of sin and forgiveness,

of provocation and pity, of grace and gift! Not one of us that shall not hold his own history to be the most wonderful of all when we exchange experiences in that land which we shall not get by our own sword or how dwelling in mansions we did not build, sitting of vineyards and olive-

yards we did not plant.

"Fear Jehovah," v. 14.

Now, therefore fear Jehovah.

Therefore, in view of the long course of providential guidance which Joshua

had just unfolded before them, in view of God's unfailing goodness and wisdom and power, Fear of God is the best we can do, when the divine power

is signally manifest, and it is in

nobly fear, it will lead to obedience,

and then to trust, and then to reverence and love. "And serve him in sincerity and in truth." Sincerity of faith to our mother in serving God,

they are to be unshaken with selfishness or pride of vainglory or any other worldly aim. Only such service is true service, acceptable to God.

Nothing less than this is what we owe to God in return for his absolute giving of himself to us, the perfect outpouring of his kindness upon us.

"Choose You This Day," v. 15.

Choose you this day whom ye will serve. This, centuries later, was the challenge of Elijah in the heroic scene on Mount Carmel (I Kings, 18, 21). In spite of all the goodness that God had shown to them, discrediting

his infinite power which would so easily compel their submission to Jehovah, it was the divine will to leave

men absolutely free in their choice.

Thus it is today, every soul has the perfect power of rejecting God completely, the superb power of accepting God with all that God is and does for his chosen, that the choice must be made. It is impossible to serve God and mammon. And the choice must be made at some definite time, today

while God is calling. It is presumption and folly to hold him off and trust to later chances while we go on

in our course of self-will and obstinate self-indulgence.

Family Religion, v. 15.

But as for me and my house, we will serve Jehovah. That is what

Jehovah said of Abraham (Gen. 18:

19), that the patriarch, his children,

and his household would keep the way of the Lord. Whatever the people might decide—and their decision

could not be forced—Joshua's declaration was already firmly made for God,

and would carry with it that of his family. Joshua was a true head of a household. He did not, like too many modern men, merely provide food and clothing and shelter and allow the eternal interests of his children to go neglected. "A resolution this worthy of a hoary-headed saint, who had had large experience, from his youth up, of the goodness of the Master to those who had devoted himself

and the advantages of his service."

"Joshua Made a Covenant," v. 25.

So Joshua made a covenant with the people that day. A covenant is a solemn agreement between two parties. In this case, between the people on the one side and Jehovah, represented by Joshua, on the other. Joshua had been present at the two former covenants, and perhaps this one was ratified with somewhat similar ceremonies. The first covenant, at Sinai

(Ex. 19, 20), was ratified with sacrifices, the reading of the whole law,

and the sprinkling of half the blood of the sacrifices on the people and the other half on the roll containing the conditions of the covenant and on the altars. The covenant was renewed by

Moses and the people in Moses' Tent

before the death of Moses (Deut. 29:1).

NEW YORK MAN TO ADDRESS TEACHERS

ROGERS OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATION WILL TELL OF HIS WORK

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 19. (AP.)

James Edward Rogers, of New York,

director of the national physical education service, and one of the most widely known leaders in physical education and recreation in the United States, will be one of the principal speakers at the physical education

section of the Texas State Teachers'

association meeting to be held in El Paso on Nov. 25. Dr. Rogers will also speak before the Texas state physical education association, which will convene in El Paso on the same day. John

R. Bender, professor of physical education at the A. and M. college of Texas, and president of the latter association has announced.

More than 100 physical and recreation directors are expected to attend

the meeting of the Texas state physical education association. Mr. Bender said. Dr. David K. Bruce, whose book

"Measuring Motor Ability," has just been published will be among the speakers at the meeting. Members of the association are to attend the meeting of the physical education section of the state teachers' association.

Dr. Rogers' address before the physical education section of the state teachers' association will be "Education Through Physical Education." He is a graduate of the University of California, and has been engaged in society civic and educational work for 21 years. He was formerly director of the state recreation commission

of California, and has founded boys'

clubs and boys' camps. He is the author of the book "Boys' Self-Government Camps." He trained 2,000 recreation leaders during the world war

and has been connected with the playground recreation association of America since 1912.

After speaking in El Paso, Dr. Rogers

will work in cooperation with physical education directors of Texas and other states in order to enlarge and strengthen the activity of physical education departments in promoting physical fitness among boys and girls.

MARIE ABANDONHS TOUR SATURDAY

QUEEN, MARIE'S TRAIN EN ROUTE TO LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov.

19. (AP.)—Queen Marie will abandon her

American tour at Detroit on Saturday

because of the serious turn in the condition of King Ferdinand. She will arrive in New York Sunday morning and expects to sail on November

24 on the Berengaria. Marie authorized this statement early today.

Summoning Colonel John H. Carroll

in charge of the train, she said the news from Bucharest was discouraging. The Rumanian queen spends today in Louisville and tomorrow in Cincinnati and then goes to Detroit.

Not Seriously Ill

BUCHARIST, Rumania, Nov. 19. (AP.)

King Ferdinand's condition causes

no anxiety, Premier Averescu told parliament last evening, but his malady is of long standing, the cure

is necessarily slow.

(Ferdinand's ailment has been designated as sigmoiditis, or inflammation of the large intestine.)

Cancels Engagements

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 19. (AP.)—Queen

Marie today canceled all official and social functions scheduled for the remainder of her tour. The cancellation will be effective until the queen has definite and official word from Bucharest that the condition of King Ferdinand is not as serious as reported to her last night. She announced previously that most of the remainder of the tour would be abandoned.

The Netherlands and Curacao, Dutch

West Indies, will soon be connected by a wireless service.

Canadian National Railway will add

1,000 automobile freight cars for use in the United States.</
