Tom McDowell came in Wednesday night with a Mexican horse thief in charge. The thief had taken one of Mr. McDowell's horses, leaving in its place a rode-down, foot sore pony, but it seems he got lost, and about ten o'clock next day he rode past the ranch. Mr. McDowell halted him and demanded the horse; the Mexican declined to give it up claiming it as his own, so Mr. McDowell very properly arrested him and he now has comfortable lodging at the Hotel de McConnell. The Mexican had a letter on him directed to Martin Martinas and is supposed to be a professional horse thief. He will be taken to Menardville as the theft was committed in Schuyler County.

The person who Sunday night pulled the plug out of the Wyatt tank and let all the water escape deserves to be kicked until he is blue between the shoulders. Such acts are not only wanton mischief, but may lead to very serious results.

Henry Cusenbary, our enterprising post master and druggist, left for Dallas Monday morning. Henry means to stock up with a first class line of drugs and fancy goods. That's the proper caper.

J. M. Taylor was in town Thursday for supplies. If the Paradise had a few more such go-ahead, level headed ranchmen, we would hear less talk of hard times.

N. T. Guest is in for the Paradise with a bunch of cattle which will be held at the Guest ranch below town. And still they come.

There is considerable talk among sheepmen just now regarding the herder question. They have soured on Mexican labor and are anxious to secure white men. Now is the time for somebody to start an employment agency. It could be made into a good thing for all parties.

Ozona Football Team Wins Bi-District Title Wednesday

The Ozona Lions hitherto "cousins" to all other teams in District 7-B, annexed the Bi-District title yesterday when they thrashed the Bronte Bulldogs of District 8-B, 19-6.

The Crockett County lads, who had gone through the regular season's play without a setback, racked up three quick touchdowns and never were in danger.

It was Coach Dan Patterson's charges first district title and broke the spell Eldorado had held over the district for several years.

A MAN'S THANKSGIVING

God of commonsense, I give Thee thanks for the heavy blows of pain that drive me back from perilous ways into harmony with the laws of my being.

For stinging whips or hunger and cold that urge to bitter strivings and glorious achievement;

For steepness and roughness of the way and staunch virtues gained by climbing over jagged rocks of hardship and stumbling through dark and pathless sloughs of discouragement;

For the acid blight of failure that has burned out of men all tought of easy victory and toughened my sinews for fiercer battle and greater triumphs;

For mistakes I have made, and the priceless lessons I have learned from them;

For disillusion and disappointment that have cleared my vision and spurred my desire;

For strong appetites and passions and the power they give when under pressure and control;

For my imperfections that give me the keen delight of striving toward perfection.

God of common good and human brotherhood, I give Thee thanks for siren songs of temptation that lure and entangle the understanding of other men they reveal;

For the weakness and failings of my neighbors and the joy of lending a helping hand;

For my own shortcomings, sorrows and loneliness, that give me a deeper sympathy for other;

For ingratitude and misunderstanding and the gladness of service without other reward than self-expression.

—Arthur W. Newscomb, from Elbert Hubbard's Scrap Book.

Mrs. Dan Cauthorn Bags 12-Point Buck As Best Lady Nimrod

A twelve-point buck, biggest of the thirty-eight deer killed this season by Sonorans and visitors, gave top honors to the ladies.

The big buck was bagged by Mrs. Dan Cauthorn. Sharing ladies' honors with Mrs. Cauthorn is Mrs. H. B. Harvey of San Antonio, who killed a seven-pointer.

Three young hunters of Sutton County also got their share of the venison, when Buddy Halbert, Frankie Bond and Tommy Bond killed bucks of seven, eight, and nine points.

John McDermott of St. Louis killed an eight-point buck, as did George Barrow. John Fields returned from a trip to the Presidio country where he killed a buck. Bill Field also brought back a buck.

Marvin Smith Cadet At Kelley Field

Kelly Fields, Tex., Nov. 28.—Along with 1972 other cadets, Marvin J. Smith, son of Mrs. Velma L. Shurley of Sonora is now a member of the first class of cadets in the new Air Corps Replacement Center (Aircrew) at Kelly Field, Texas. Induction began Nov. 12th with most of the cadets reporting on that day. Cadet Smith was graduated from Sonora High School in 1935. He was a member of the Sonora Bronco football squad. He graduated from A&M in 1939, where he was a member of the International Livestock Judging team.

At the Replacement Center he will go through five weeks of preliminary training before being sent to a primary flying school where he will start his flight training. This five week course will give Cadet Smith a thorough military background for becoming an officer in the Army of the United States on graduation from an advanced flying school thirty weeks later.

In addition, the course is intended to prepare the cadet, mentally and physically, for the rigors of the actual flight training to come.

Smith will participate in many activities designed to improve his physical condition beyond even the high standard required for entrance. The course will also include the study of subjects ranging from military law to signal communications.

Upon completion of the course Cadet Smith will enter one of the 13 primary schools located in the Gulf Coast Air Corps Training Area, prepared to concentrate more fully on flying itself than was possible in the past.

The coldest weather of the year came early Monday when the thermometer dropped to levels from 23 to 29 degrees between 3 o'clock and dawn.

Pleads Guilty To Charges; Fined $78.

A San Antonio liquor salesman, who told arresting officers he "had to have some excitement," was arrested by Game Wardens Gainard and Shannon early Tuesday night and fined in Justice Court for shooting from the highway.

After his release, the man, who gave his name as H. A. Schlather, drove his car through the Border Patrol barricade seven miles from Sonora narrowly missing ya patrolman and demolishing the barricade. Turning around a few miles down the road, Schlather dove through the barricade again and this time was arrested by Highway Patrolmen Warner and Powell, who lodged him in jail. Total fines paid Wednesday morning were $75.80, including $18.80 damage to the barricade.

When first noticed by Game Warden Gainard, Schlather was seated on the bridge near the Glenn Reeves Station firing a deer rifle down the creek. After being ordered to stop shooting, he quickly drove off in his car, and was finally forced off the road by Gainard.

According to Border Patrolmen, Schlather was not fired upon either time he ran the barricade, but was stopped by them and formally arrested by Warner and Powell.

UNCLE SAM'S BOYS DON'T WORK LIKE THEY DID AT HOME—NOT QUITE

While receiving military training in the U. S. Army, Uncle Sam's "cream of the crop" boys, don't have to toil at strenuous tasks—like they did at home; they don't have to walk long blocks to work—like they did at home; and their hours or relaxation in the evening are nothing like those endured before they called his number, says Reggie Trainer in a letter this week to Guggle Marion here in Sonora.

Formerly bookkeeper for West Texas Utilities company here, Reggie recently was inducted into army service and despite the unfamiliar routine of activities, he likes it with Uncle Sam.

In his letter, Reggie says, "Gee I'm glad I'm not having to work like I was at home. This army is a cinch—when I was home I had to get to work at 8 a.m., sit around 'til noon—go and come back from lunch and then work 'til five. That was awful.

"Now I have it easy. I don't have to get up until 4:30 a.m. or 5:00 a.m. and just think, every morning I have a whole hour (sometimes a trifle more) to get up, dress, wash, answer roll call, eat, make-up my bed, sweep out from under my bed, and mop the floor under my bed.

"Never will I forget that early morning walk from home to the office. That was strenuous exercise. Now it is all simplified. Now all I have to do to get my morning exercise is to line up with a bunch of other guys. Our exercises aren't hard like walking from home to the office. They are all simple little exercises and simplest is to grab yourself by the hair of the head and hold yourself at arms-length then turn two flips backwards. Another one is to reach around behind you with one hand, and grab yourself by the other arm then with a slight twist of the wrist throw yourself at the next guy, who is trying to throw himself at you. At first we hit each other every time, but now we've learned to miss each other which simplifies things a whole lot.

"By the time we get through with these exercises it is 8 a.m. maybe.

"After this we don't have a thing in the world to do, but drill, attend classes, or work til lunch. After lunch we are apt to do almost any trivial thing such as pitch pup tents, hike, have rifle practice, and goodness knows what. All along, since so much of our time is unoccupied, we are amused by being vaccinated for everything from hog cholera to in-growing toe-nails.

"At 4:30 p.m. we get off and play non-fatiguing games such as football, baseball or basketball.

"We eat at 5:30. After that comes our recreation, such as shining our shoes, sewing on buttons, and cleaning equipment. All this recreation is free.

"But, sure enough, this army isn't so bad. It hasn't hurt me yet, and I know it won't."

Reggie, not unlike the other hundreds of West Texas boys now under military training, is taking his training with thumbs up. It's tough training compared to his civilian care-free routine, but it's doing him good and he likes it that way.

EVEN LOW-COST HOME MAY BE ATTRACTIVE AND CONTRIBUTE TO NEIGHBORHOOD GROWTH

Houses such as this, although of very low cost, are attractive enough to contribute to satisfactory neighborhood or municipal growth. The house is well-planned and provides complete facilities for a family of average size. The exterior appearance of the house will become more attractive after the plants and lawn have had an opportunity to attain growth. Valued at $2,900, this property was financed with a mortgage of $2,600 insured under Title VI of the National Housing Act, which is designed to facilitate financing of privately built defense housing. Cost of the property will vary in other localities.

GOVERNMENT PURCHASES OF WOOLEN MILITARY FABRICS INCREASING HEAVILY

GOVERNMENT BUYING of military fabrics continues to dominate the wool goods market with additional purchases of 33 million yards of worsted goods, the largest government order on record, scheduled for next week. Substantial contracts for woollen fabrics also are anticipated in the near future. While delivery of these goods will not be required until next spring and summer, early announcement of the Army's needs is permitting manufacturers to arrange production schedules and to line up their raw wool requirements during the current seasonal movement of the important Southern Hemisphere clips to market.

Wool mills meanwhile are operating virtually at capacity. A fairly steady demand for civilian piece goods, coupled with substantial government orders already at hand, assures active operations well through the first quarter of 1942. Cloth prices registered slight advances in October and are about 10 per cent higher than a year ago. Retail sales of clothing are holding up well notwithstanding the price increase that went into effect last month.

Raw wool prices have strengthened on a broad covering movement against future government orders. Quotations of fine apparel wool in Boston have advanced about three cents to $1.10 per pound, scoured basis, or the best level since 1937. Medium grades also have moved higher in response to the call for Army blankets while strength in coarse wools developed when the import duty on those grades were reduced under the new trade agreement with Argentina. More than 65 million pounds of new-clip Australian wools have already been purchased but interest in the South American market is lagging.

Total stocks of wool in the United States are two thirds larger than during last October and are at the highest level for this time of year since 1921. Imports, nevertheless, are expected to reach a near-record level of 400 to 500 million pounds during the winter owing to the need for protection against the uncertain shipping situation. In fact, the United States Government recently purchased the entire British-owned war-reserve stock of Australian wool aggregating about 125 million pounds which had been built up in this country. A similar quantity of South African wool will be accumulated by the British, provided it can be shipped here by the year's end.

Sonora Sul Ross Girl In Who's Who

Miss Grace Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Thomas, who will receive her B. A. degree from Sul Ross State Teachers College in June, 1943, is among those students who will be listed in the 1941-1942 issue of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." The book will be released in January or February.

This publication is published through the cooperation of over 600 American universities and colleges. It is the only means of national recognition for graduates which is devoid of politics, fees, and dues. Several students from accredited colleges are selected each year, by an unprejudiced committee, for their biographies to appear in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. These books are placed in the hands of hundreds of companies and others who annually recruit outstanding students for employment.

The purpose of Who's Who is to serve as an incentive for students to get the most out of their college careers, as a means of compensation to students for what they have already done, as a recommendation to the business world; and as a standard of measurement for students.

Miss Thomas is a member of Gamma Delta Kappa sorority at Sul Ross State Teachers College, is treasurer of the Junior class, is a member of the Sachers Literary Society, and was chosen for Junior membership in Alpha Chi, of which she is now secretary. In her first semester in college, she was the only Freshman to appear in the upper 2 percent on the honor roll. Upon achieving this honor, she was awarded the Freshman honor cup for girls.

Miss Thomas graduated from Sonora High School in the class of 1939 and was awarded a medal by the Lions' Club for being the highest ranking senior in that class.

Waco Methodist Home Launches Drive For Funds

Waco, Texas. (special).—Culminating one of the most outstanding years in more than half a century and launching the drive for funds to finance next year's $125,000 budget, the Methodist Home here will dedicate five new buildings on its campus Friday, November 28. Bishops A. Frank Smith of Houston and Ivan Lee Holt of Dallas will take leading roles on the program, and more than 2000 out-of-town visitors are expected from the six conferences of Texas and New Mexico which support the home.

The affair begins with a barbecue on the Home campus at noon, the dedicatory service following at 1:30 p. m. Each new building will then be opened, its donors and the boys and girls who are to live in it serving as welcoming committee and guides. Four of the new structures are residences, furthering Superintendent Hubert Johnson's long time dream of doing away with dormitories and transforming the orphanage into a group of homes, each with its own room mother, its own dining room, kitchen and bedrooms, so that children may be brought up in an atmosphere of actual home life.

Half the Home's 400 children are now living in cottages. The fifth building is an infirmary.

After the dedication, there will be an evening session of the 48 district superintendents of the Texas and New Mexico conferences. They will discuss the budget campaign, due to be held in all Methodist churches during the month of December. The Home, existing for more than half a century without endowment, has relied on free will offerings for support during its entire history. Because of the limited budget all buildings have been donated by private individuals, 1941 marking an all time high in gifts of this nature to the Home.

President Roosevelt Praises Red Cross Defense Efforts

American Red Cross is playing a major role in the national defense program, President Roosevelt stressed that success of this year's Roll Call for members "is a matter of vital concern to all of us as citizens of a free democracy."

The text of the Chief Executive's statement follows:

"The American Red Cross is about to begin its annual membership Roll Call. Its success, in this period of emergency, is a matter of vital concern to all of us as citizens of a free democracy."

"The quickening pace of our defense program shows that our strength can be tempered to meet steel with steel. And voluntary enlistment in Red Cross work—through membership—will prove that we have the heart as well as the sinews to keep ourselves strong and free."

"The Congress has charged our Red Cross with well-defined obligations to our soldiers and sailors, and to their families detained at home front. The vast expansion in our armed forces has increased the cost of this traditional Red Cross work more than we realize. For every member who supported these services to the armed forces two years ago, then are needed today."

"Red Cross contributions to our national defense extend far beyond the welfare problems of service men and their families. The Red Cross is playing a major role in civilian defense preparedness. Because of its long experience in community service through its 3,700 local Chapters, the gigantic task faced by civilian defense coordinators can be more easily achieved. The organization's long established work in disaster relief emergency first aid and other essential fields has played a large part in strengthening our home defenses."

"Our citizens make possible this work, so important to our national unity, both through their membership dollars and voluntary participation in Red Cross services. This support must be increased very substantially this year. As Chief Executive of the United States and President of the Red Cross I therefore strongly urge every American to enroll in the American Red Cross."

Harold Schwiening, who underwent an operation recently in a San Antonio hospital, is reported to be doing nicely.

UVALDE LEADER-NEWS THAT installation of a frozen food locker plant for the city was virtually assured last week when V. C. Myrick, district manager for the Central Power and Light Company, was advised that necessary appropriation had been made by his company and that he had been given the "go" signal on the project.

There is one final contingency in the matter, however, and that will be whether the company will be successful in its efforts to obtain necessary freezing units and other equipment needed for the installation. In making the announcement of the proposed construction, Myrick stated that he was very hopeful that the necessary equipment can be obtained from the manufacturers but at this time he is unable to state positively "when and if" it can be obtained. "We are ready and will award the contract for the construction work just as soon as we can hear from the manufacturers," Myrick said, in revealing that plans for the plant already have been drawn and were distributed to local contractors early this week.

INDICATING THE OPENING of a new producing area for Pecos county 24 miles West of Fort Stockton, Pure Oil Company No. 1-A Frazier, et al, was deepening Thursday with cable tools at 5,110 feet and level of free oil in the hole was rising. Oil was encountered in the test earlier in the week, and deepening continued as the level of oil rose in the hole. Thursday morning fluid, mostly oil, stood 3,750 to 4,000 feet, and the well was making a strong gas flow through the column of fluid.—Fort Stockton Pioneer.

HOPING TO REPEAT the 1938 4-H Judging Team's feat of winning the International title and prize for best livestock judging, Menard's team left Wednesday with County Agent Fred Walker for a trip to Chicago which will take in several other places on their way to the National Livestock Exposition in Chicago.

The boys have spent considerable time in the past few months practicing judging, under the tutelage of Walker, and will give a good account of their ability in Chicago we are sure. They won the chance to represent Texas at the International Show by winning state championship at College Station last summer. Two of the boys are brothers of two of the boys on the 1938 winning team and all are very capable of livestock judging on most all kinds of stock. Menard people are hopeful of the team's winning and have backed them well, recently raising enough money for their expenses to the show.

WITH ABOUT 17 CARS of turkeys shipped from Rockdale during the Thanksgiving market, turkey growers of this section realized approximately $68,850 from the sale of birds, according to estimates made here this week.

The Thanksgiving market opened at 15c and 17c, but most of the birds were sold later at prices of 17c and 19c as the season got off to a slow start. The average car holds 1500 turkeys, which gives an estimate of 25,500 turkeys shipped out of Rockdale.

Figuring on an average weight of 15 pounds per bird and using an 18-cent price as a basis, $68,850 worth of turkeys were included in the Rockdale shipments.—Rockdale Reporter.

FOR THE FIFTH consecutive year, cotton farmers of Nolan county will vote in a national cotton marketing quota referendum Saturday, December 13. Voting places, located at strategic places in the county, and names of referendum officials will be announced in a short time, according to George R. Pepper, vice chairman of the Nolan count AAA committee.

Last year, Nolan county cotton growers voted 90.6 per cent favorable on quotas. Texas farmers approved quotas by 88 per cent.

Cotton acreage allotments, strengthened by marketing quotas, which made 85 per cent of parity loans possible, is the triple reason for increase in the price of cotton this year, he said.

THE FACT THAT government nondefense spending is holding to depressive levels at a time when employment and national income are approaching record heights, is a biting reflection on Congress.

It will be remembered that Secretary Morgenthau said some months ago that the normal cost of government could be cut by $1,000,000,000 a year. Other authorities have estimated that reductions of $2,000,000,000 or more are possible and practical.

The difference between government non-defense economy and continued prodigality, may prove to be the difference between a solvent and a bankrupt government in the future. Is Congress so preoccupied with "good politics" that it has totally forgotten the meaning and the obligations of "good government?"

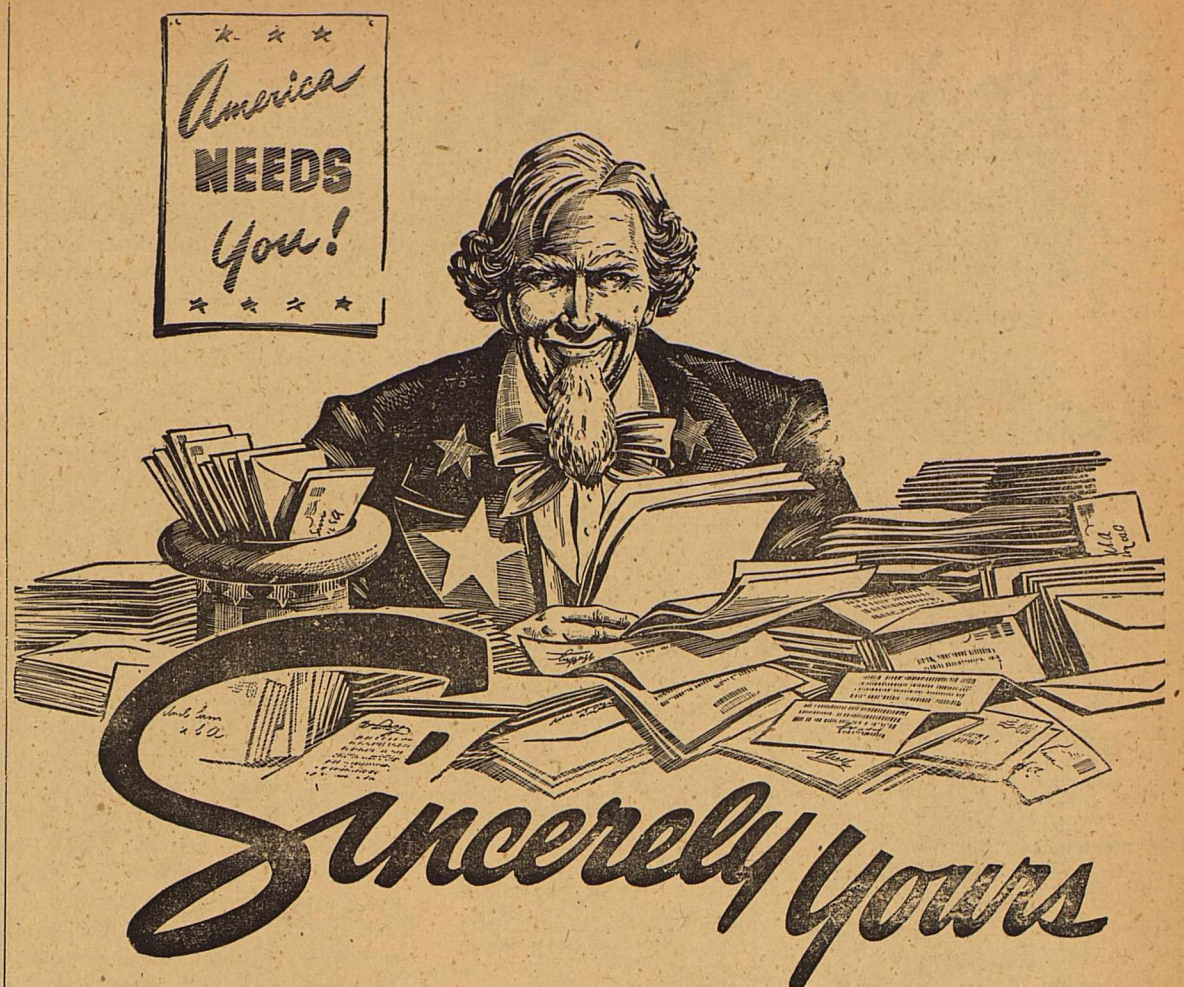

ESTIMATES WEDNESDAY MORNING established game casualties for the first three days of the 1941 hunting season at approximately 1,000 buck deer and 250 turkey gobblers in Kerr County. This total exceeds last year's fine record and reflects continued improvement in the range conditions and conservation methods as practiced throughout the area.

Good hunting conditions also contribute to the early season kill, however, the warm weather of the last day or so has slowed the slaughter somewhat. Cloudy skies and drizzle also have formed a potent ally to the deer and turkey, Game Warden J. J. Dent explained. — Kerrville Mountain Sun.

VEGETABLES WERE BEGINNING to move steadily this week by both rail and truck and most of the shippers were operating on part time schedule this week.

Demand has been strong by truckers and price has been high, especially on peppers and green beans. Most of the vegetable shipments so far have been by truck.

Most of the vegetable plants have been packing some tomatoes but there has been no heavy shipment yet. There is a heavy acreage but the crop is late. —Pharr Press.

THE washability of paint is an all-important consideration when restricted budgets make frequent redecoration impossible. This is particularly true of kitchens, pantries, workrooms and the like where frequent washing of painted areas is essential for cleanliness and sanitation.

Paints which stain permanently or contain soluble compounds are obviously unsuited to the task. The former defy cleaning while the latter inevitably wash away or smear after a comparatively few applications of brush, soap and water.

Since white lead in linseed oil forms an insoluble film which is impervious alike to the action of dirt and grease, white lead paint is the economical coating for floors, fixtures and walls subject to soiling. With the use of white lead paint, any stains which may result are readily removable by simple washing.

Q. Suggest an economical way for laying a driveway and small parking circle. We have some gravel on hand. Can this serve for topping and foundation as well?

A. Although cinders are generally recommended as the foundation material, your gravel should prove most effective as a top dressing.

Before laying the cinders, level the ground, graduating grades as much as possible.

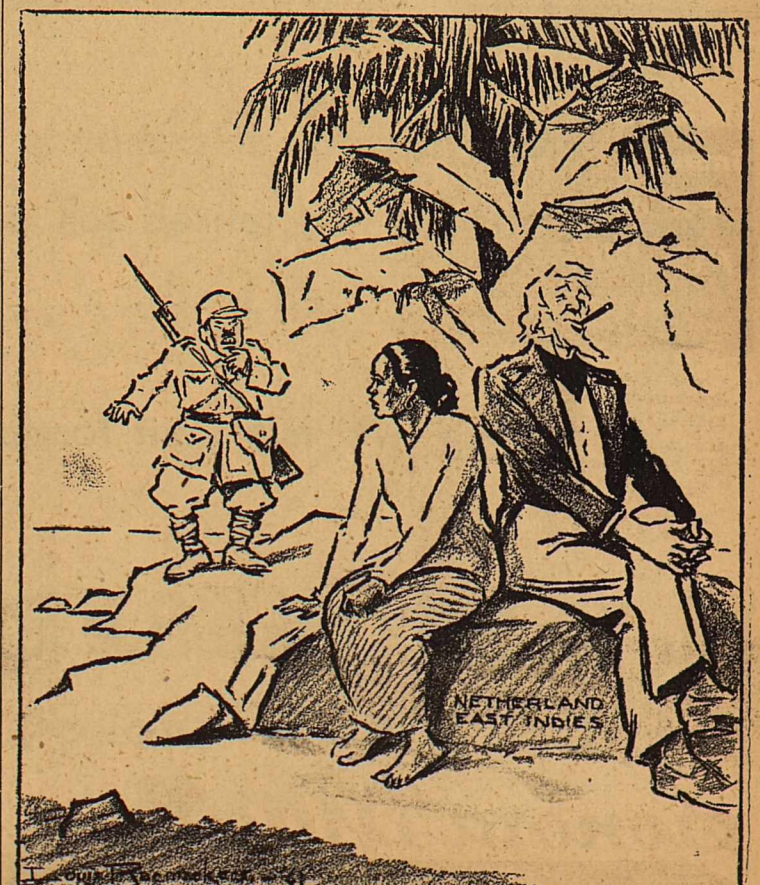

As the initial step, roll firmly in place an even layer of rough cinders about four inches thick. To complete the base, follow with a two-inch layer of fine cinders which in turn should be rolled thoroughly to assure a firm, homogeneous foundation.

A top dressing of either crushed stone or gravel will then suffice to produce a pleasing and serviceable driveway.

Roadbeds so constructed should drain well and provide indefinite service under normal usage, remaining unaffected by frost or weather.

You can now buy the Holland Spur Tie Clip at Barrow's Jewelry Store. Price $5.00-$10.00. 1t adv.

GEORGE NEILL'S COLONIAL HOME BUILT OF ASBESTOS SIDING

Asbestos siding is used on the exterior of the recently completed home for the George H. Neill family. Green shutters and roof lends a pleasing contrast against the whiteness of the colonial home.

A large porch, which is typical to this style of architecture, borders the front. In planing the home, Mrs. Neill took into consideration her two daughters, Nancy and Jane.

In the large entrance hall, which is papered with a vertical, shaded striped covering with a small peach design, the only furniture is a small table and mirror. There is also a large closet opening into the hall.

Early American furniture is featured in the living. Upon entering the living room from the hall, the first thing that one sees is a large fireplace, outlined in red tile and the hearth is also tile. On the east wall, is a radio and divan, which is upholstered in blue. On either side of the hall entrance, is a large secretary and piano. Grouped around the fireplace are two chairs and end tables. One chair and ottoman is covered in white material with large, blue and red flowers, and the occasional chair is rose with darker flowers. A beige rug covers the floor and the paper is white with shaded vertical stripes.

A sliding door separates the living room and dining room. This room is papered in blue with a scene in blue and pink, framed with white plumes. A walnut suite occupies this room. From the dining, a swinging door forms the entrance into the kitchen and small breakfast alcove.

Light pink, blue and white is the theme used in this room. All the cabinets and fixtures are white with chromeum trim. On the floors is blue, tan and the same design linoleum is used to cover the cabinets. The dining alcove is separated from the kitchen with a waist-high cabinet.

The small service porch is papered in light pink with figures of houses, ships, men and women and birds.

From the entrance hall, one may enter into a hall from which, the three bedrooms, kitchen and bath open.

The guest bedroom is furnished in walnut and the colonial poster bed is covered with a white chenille spread. The wall paper design is large bouquet of red, yellow and blue flowers on a white background.

Next is Nancy's and Jane's room. It is papered in pink with small white ovals framing bouquets. A white bed room suite is used and white organdy curtains are hung at the windows. Identical curtains are used in the guest room. Joining this room is an all-white bath.

The masters room is pink and blue. The wall paper is blue with lifelike rosebuds in pink forming the design. The poster bed is covered with a crocheted spread and a pink rug with pastel floral design covers the floor.

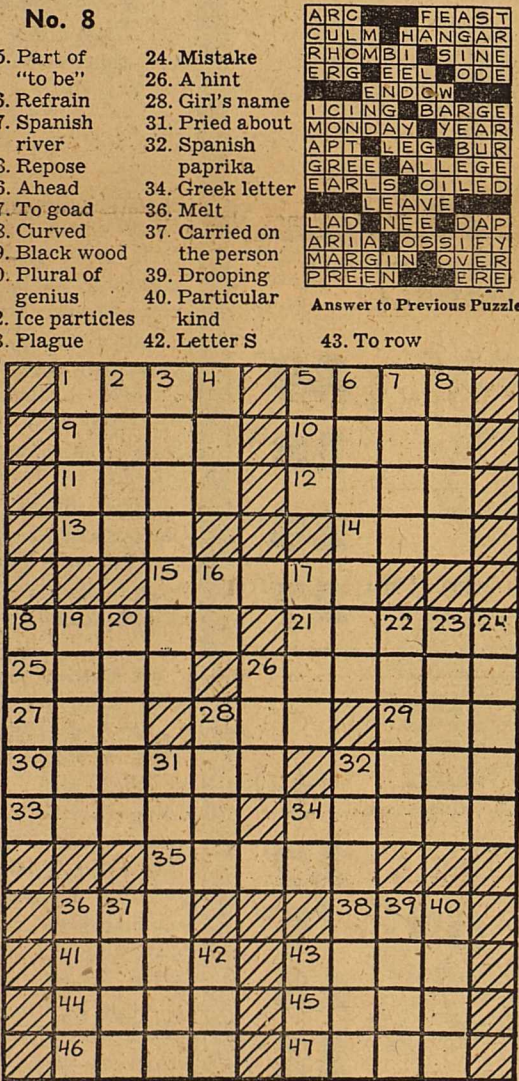

The furniture in this room is pecan. The adjoining bath is in blue and white. Birds, shaded in blue, on a white background papers the wall. All white fixtures are used.

Colonial light fixtures and venetian blinds regulate the lighting effects. White wood work and hardwood floors are in every room with the exception of the baths and kitchen. The home was planned by Mrs. Neill for the comfort and convenience of her family.

THE "TWO-PIECE LOOK"

Whether it's an evening gown with skirt falling in graceful elegance to the floor, or a street-length afternoon frock—it's the "two-piece look" that's top fashion today. The tunic, so popular this season, gives it to the pearl grey dinner gown with its slit skirt and silver studded coral belt. The other New York creation, an afternoon dress, grey-green in two tones, has smoothly fitting jumper top with side lacings, and a tucked skirt.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Taylor had as their guest over the week-end, Dr. K. B. Round of San Angelo.

Present were Mesdames I. B. Boughton, W. R. Cusenbary, Thomas Espy, Howard Espy, Lloyd Earwood, John Lee Nisbet, J. W. Trainer and C. A. Tyler.

Connally Condemns Labor Strikes; Bill Urges Full Retaliatory Measures By President

BELIEVING THAT the real spirit of the mass of American labor ought to be and is "Defense and not Defiance," and believing that the time has come when the Senate and House must decide who is running the country, John L. Lewis or the Congress and the President, Senator Tom Connally last week introduced legislation to assist the President in topping strikes affecting the national defense.

The bill represents a continuation of Senator Connally's effort to bring a halt to strikes slowing down the country's production of defense material; in June the Senate adopted the Connally amendment authorizing the President to take over plants halted by strikes, but the amendment was knocked out by the House of Representatives.

Connally requested that his bill go to the Judiciary Committee, of which he is a member, where hearings on the bill have already begun. The Texas Senior Senator was named chairman of the subcommittee in charge of the legislation.

The bill provides that whenever plants, facilities, or mines are impeded or hindered by strikes or labor difficulties the President shall have authority to take them over. It further provides that when the Government exercises such power the labor conditions, excepting wages, shall be frozen; a labor board would be set up to see that the workers receive a fair wage for their work in plants operated by the government.

Provisions are already on the law books for the government to take over when employers refuse to operate their plants for our national defense.

In introducing the bill, Senator Connally stated to the Senate, "I do not believe that the great mass of the laboring men in the United States sympathize with the effort to use the strike as a weapon against the government in this critical hour of the nation's history, at a time when other men are being called to training camps at $21 per month."

Dance Artists Are Presented In Recital

Elsa Jordan was presented by the Sonora Music Club in a Modern dance Recital Monday evening at the High School auditorium. Miss Jordan was accompanied by Becky Almond at the piano. All the dances were original compositions of Miss Jordan, and original compositions were especially written for the movement of the dance by Margaret Smith Beecher.

The program was opened by Miss Jordans imitation of the songs of the season, Spring, Summer, Autumn and Winter. This was followed by Becky Almond playing, "Lullaby" by Beecher and "Sorcerer" by Percussion. Other dances before intermission were "Melody" by Rachmaninoff, "Viennese Dance No. 2" by Friedman-Gartner and "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 6" by Liszt.

After intermission, Miss Jordan danced the "Sinister Design" from the Trilogy of the Night by Percussion then "Two Tangos" by Milhaud, "Romance" by Moszkowski and to close the program interpreted "Polka in the Modern Style" by Shostakovich.

The costumes of Miss Jordan were designed by V. L. Mathews and executed by Maurie Nielson. The proceeds of the recital were given to the Junior Class.

Mr. and Mrs. Merton Shurley, Billy Shurley, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Aldwell, Mr. and Mrs. John Lee Nisbet, Mr. and Mrs. Bill McGilvary, and Miss Marjory Reba Nisbet will be among the Sonorans to attend the Thanksgiving game in College Station.

Let's Be THANKFUL

WE in West Texas have much to be thankful for . . . bountiful crops, great herds of cattle, sheep and goats, the world's greatest reserve of gas and oil, a plentiful supply of cheap electric light and power, good schools and good highways. Our homes are modern and we enjoy an exceptionally high standard of living.

Yes, no part of the nation has benefited more from the American way of living, or enjoyed more fully the FREEDOM and DEMOCRACY that we now are waging a war to retain.

But West Texas' future prosperity, growth and development depend on what we do today.

Let us look ahead, then, and encourage tax-producing industries with which to pay the tremendous burden of debt now accumulating in astronomical figures and as a means of providing jobs for the many thousands of men and women left jobless when defense projects are at an end. Let's not forget that somebody must "pay the piper" for the years of boondoggling when this country should have been preparing for a war that long ago appeared inevitable.

On this Thanksgiving Day let's be thankful for the taxpayer too!
