MORAL TURPITUDE' HEARD IN TRIAL

HEIR TO OIL MILLIONS IS KILLED BY FRIEND

Reed Takes Final Blow At Dry Law

CROWDED GALLERY IN SENATE TODAY

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Before gallery crowds lured by the prospects of an oratorical conflict between two renowned debaters—Reed and Borah—Senator Reed of Missouri resumed today his farewell attack in the senate upon the prohibition law.

The senator began soon after the day's session opened, aware that Senator Borah of Idaho, contemplated delivering a reply. Borah sat silently as Reed opened with the same bitterness he employed Saturday in his criticism of the dry law. The immediate object of his fire was the pending Jones bill to increase maximum penalties for violations of the law.

Reed declared at the beginning of his address that "a remark made Saturday in jest seems to have caused some uneasiness." He referred to his statement that he might sometime make public the names of congressmen who vote dry but nevertheless drink.

Won't Violate Confidence

"I though I had made clear that it was a joke, but I suppose I should have labeled it so," the Missourian said with a smile. "I am not going to make those names public. I would not violate the confidence of friends. I may have made mistakes during my life but I have never sunk to the level of a prohibition informer."

"Force has been substituted for reason," he said. "The penitentiary for persuasion, cruelty for charity. We have abandoned the Bible and the prayer book and have taken to the lash, the prison, the gun, the bludgeon."

"The law has been the instrument of tyrants since time began. Despots have, by the law, sought to justify and cloak their deeds which have saturated the world with blood, filled the air with tears and groans of the dying.

"The law! What is the law? It is not something that merely springs from sommon consent. It is more, it must be founded

SLAYER THEN TURNS PISTOL UPON HIMSELF

MURDER-SUICIDE WAS ACT OF DEMENTED MAN, BELIEF

(By Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 18.—The slaying of Edward L. Doheny, Jr., heir to the Doheny oil millions, by his secretary and friend, Theodore Hugh Plunkett, who committed suicide, was looked upon today by investigating officials as the deed of a man temporarily deranged.

Doheny, 36 years old, was shot to death in his pretentious home here Saturday night as his family awaited the arrival of Dr. E. C. Fishbaugh, to treat Plunkett for a threatened nervous breakdown. confronted by the physician, Plunkett retreated to the room in which Doheny's body lay and shot himself through the head. The doctor found both men dead.

Several points regarding the murder and suicide remained to be cleared up, however. Whether there had been a struggle as Doheny had attempted to quiet Plunkett was uncertain. The furniture had been disarranged. An overturned bottle and several glasses were on a table.

Had Nervous Ailment.

Since Plunkett's wife obtained an uncontested divorce last October, investigators of the district attorney's

NEW NORTHER HEADING INTO PLAINS TODAY

SPRING WEATHER OF WEEK-END TO BE SHORT-LIVED

Following several days of comparatively warm weather, sub-freezing temperature and possibly snow are scheduled for Lubbock and the South Plains for tonight and tomorrow. A severe cold wave in the middle western states today is expected to cause a drop in the temperature here by tonight.

Decided drops in temperature were registered in corn belt states last night and continued cold was forecast for today. It was 12 below zero at Bismarck, N. D., and 10 below at Williston, N. D., last night while most cities in Minnesota reported zero or below. A heavy fall of snow accompanied the drop in southern Minnesota.

Monte Tennes, II, whose uncle of the same name is a power in a syndicate for dissemination of race track information, had quarreled with his 19 year old wife over "practically nothing."

"Mont and I had gone to a party at a friend's," Mrs. Tennes told police, "and I guess we had too many drinks. When we got home early yesterday morning we started to quarrel.

"I insisted that we retire and Monty said "won't.' He sat down and began to read. We quarrelled some more and I ran to the kitchen, got a butcher knife and rushed at Monty. I must have been crazy. Monte grabbed me and we tussled; then he went limp and gasped."

The condition of Tennes was regarded as critical today. His left lung had been punctured.

Prospective Thaws Now Menace Europe

LONDON, Feb. 18 (AP)—In prospective thaws a new danger appeared for Europe today. It is feared that eventually there will be floods, in which weeks' accumulation of ice and snow in the mountain areas will spread destruction as they seek outlet to the sea.

Meanwhile fierce snow storms were reported in Central Europe, ice conditions were as bad as ever in the Scandinavian countries, and still caused intense suffering in the Balkans.

In the British Isles the cold subsided somewhat. Along the Coast, particularly in London, the high wind was replaced with a heavy fog. Roads were clear in most sections where there was no more snow yesterday.

HOUSE KILLS HORSE RACING BILL MONDAY

CREATION OF BOARD TO SUPERVIZE SPORT IS RULED OUT

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 18.—By a vote of 74 to 55, the house today killed the Avis Bill creating a commission to supervise horse racing at Texas Fairs, after previously adopting an amendment by Rep. Cecil Storey of Vernon striking out betting features of the measure.

The house was in a tumult after the vote as opponents of the measure shouted and shook hands.

The ballot came after a two hour wrangle in which foes of the legalized betting on races attempted unsuccessfully for the second time to stage a public hearing. The house refused to open up the bill at a public hearing by a 94-26 vote.

Speaking in behalf of the measure without its contribution sections, Storey declared it provided for control of fairs by a commission and that it was sponsored by the State Cattle Raisers' association, Sheep and Goat Raisers association, and the majority of chambers of commerce and district fair associations over the state.

Representative H. N. Graves of Williamson, said "attempted betting will rear its ugly head in a bill to be presented two years from now if we do not kill it for all time."

Under the Avis bill, the fair commission would have been authorized to receive donations toward the entry of any horse. An amount not more than ten per cent would have been deducted from the winner's share, one-fifth of which would be given the commission and remainder distributed to counties for the encouragement of livestock and poultry raising and farming.

GANG MURDER PROBE DRAGS ALONG TODAY

FURTHER EVIDENCE TO THEORY KILLERS HAD UNIFORMS

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Feb. 18—The purple fades from the gang massacre picture, and the blue of police uniforms again tints the canvas.

The state's attorney's office expressed itself today as satisfied that the Purple gang of Detroit had no important part in last Thursday's septuple slaying. At the same time investigators were given further testimony that two of the slayers were dressed as police officers.

There was a discouraging lack of definite progress reported both by police and by the state's attorney. In the four days since the seven members of the George (Bugs) Moran gang were lined against a brick wall and slain there has been no arrest of a single suspect, it was pointed out by David Stansbury, in charge of the investigation for the state's attorney.

H. Bruce Caldwell, president of the board of education, volunteered new information last night which accelerated the investigation. Caldwell told of seeing an automobile which he thought at the time was a police squad car. The machine ran through a red light a few block north of the garage in which the murders were committed.

There were divergent statements concerning the early effect of the

IMPEACHMENT HEARING GOES ON NEW TRACK

CONFERENCE WAS HELD TO TALK OVER 'RELATIONS'

(By Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 18.—Dr. E. C. Mobley, Oklahoma City minister, told the Senate court of impeachment today that rumors of moral turpitude in connection with Governor Henry S. Johnston and Mrs. O. O. Hammonds, his confidential secretary, were discussed two years ago at a meeting of the Governor with a group of advisors.

Mr. Mobley did not explain the nature of the rumors, but said Johnston "made a speech" of considerable length defending the character of Mrs. Hammonds. The minister said the upshot of the conference, was that he and George D Key, democratic state chairman, were delegated to ask Mrs. Hammonds to transfer from the governor's office to another department.

Going to the capitol the next morning Dr. Mobley related, he and Key had a conference with Mrs. Hammonds in the "blue room" of the governor's suite.

"Before we said anything," Dr. Mobley said, "Mrs. Hammonds said she knew what we were there for—that 'they' were trying to build a fire under her and that she was determined to fight to a finish.

"We got our hats and left," the minister said.

The conference was told of Friday by Mose Anderson of Guthrie, secretary of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Oklahoma.

Dr. Mobley said today that the major purpose of the conference,

RIVER YIELDS WOMAN'S BODY

PERFUME SALESMAN IS HELD FOR KILLING AT HARRISBURG

(By Associated Press)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 18 — The Susquehanna river has given up the body of Miss Verna Klink, 31-year-old candy store manager, and the police today announced that Harry B. Bowman, perfume salesman, probably would be charged with her murder.

Bowman has been held in the county jail since his arrest on January 28, three days after Miss Klink disappeared, but the charges against him were those resulting only from his admissions that money found on him had belonged to the missing woman. He was successively accused of robbery, conspiracy to rob and larceny, as well as two charges involving Miss Ethel Miller, upon whom police claim he spent the money obtained from Miss Klink.

Yesterday after 23 days of futile dragging of the river near the spot where the woman was last seen, her body was found three miles down the stream. Caught against a rock 35 feet from shore, it was discovered by Michael Krzosiak, of Steelton.

REVEALED KNEES PASSE IN SPRING COSTUMES

By LUCY CLAIRE
Fashion Expert for Central Press and Journal

Interest is once more focused on skirt lengths. There's nothing new in this. The skirt length is ever ripe for discussion. Naturally fabric manufacturers would like to see the skirt lengthened considerably, as that would mean more yardage, but the consumer public seems to be of a different opinion. Much has been accomplished in the yardage line through the uneven hemline, which gives the effect of added length, but for the sports and street frocks the rule is still short, but not too short.

The new skirts are a few inches below the knee but not long enough to cut the calf line. Exposed knees are out of the picture. Smart women realize that while the short skirt is chic, it can still be ugly if too short. Brevity, as the soul of chic, can be overdone, and "too short" is applied to all skirts which reveal the knee. So this spring brings a compromise with slightly longer skirt length even for daytime frocks.

It is not a matter of so many inches below the knee however. It is a matter of the most becoming length, so long as the knees are covered. Of course the young girl will wear her skirts slightly shorter than the matron.

The photograph at the right shows a very good length for the average skirt. It covers the knee by about three inches at the front, and is slightly longer at the back. The frock is of figured silk in the three-color scheme, on a cream ground, with peplum and tiered effect, and a cape collar. White kid shoes and a large white straw hat appliqued with leaves complement the frock.

The frock at the left is of white pique, in a sports model. It is posed under a printed linen coat, not quite up to "Joseph's coat of many colors," but in the three color combination so popular in the new prints—a very Palm Beachy version, accompanied by beige kid shoes and a cute little beige hat.

The frock in the center is of indestructible chiffon, printed in a scattered design of two colors on a cream ground. It is simple in design, with its scarf neckline and slightly uneven hemline, cool and chic for the Palm Beach or summer season. White kid shoes, which are almost synonymous with the Palm Beach costume this season, are worn with this frock.

Living and Loving

BY MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

"All's fair in love and war," said someone a long time ago, and many people have salved their consciences when pursuing a not too honorable course by quoting it. Friends may be trusted except where love interests clash. Then the old saw's brought forth to prove that "vamping" a friend's sweetheart is all right.

Women are accused of having less honor about love affairs than men. Possibly the love side of women's lives has been overemphasized, and less stress laid on honor in such matters, but they by no means have a monopoly of the idea that it is all right to get the one you love by fair means or foul even when the one is the property of a friend.

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: My girl friend and I are very good friends in one way, but in another we are enemies. Every time I fall in love with a boy she uses any method to vamp him away from me, and I am not always sure that her methods are honorable. She has been very kind to me in many ways, and I feel I owe her a lot, but do you think I should allow her to ALWAYS take my boy friends away from me? Should I use her methods to take them back?

"UNDECIDED RETTIE."

I think you are entirely justified in "vamping" your own boy friend back, Rettie. She who vamps last may vamp best, you know. However, I'd do it in a perfectly good natured and honorable way. No man or boy—in fact, nothing—is worth lowering one's standard of honor for.

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: While home for my vacation this winter I was allowed to have dates for the first time. I, however, had a boy visiting me whom mother had always let me go with. This boy is eight or nine years older than I, and naturally I preferred to be with boys closer to my own age, even though I was very much in love with him. When he found out that I had several dates with a boy he disliked, he got very angry. He has always written to me very often, but this time he hasn't even written to thank me for having spent the vacation with me. I really owe him a letter. Should I write to him as though nothing had happened? Should I give up my other friends or him? One of the two must be done.

"BIG BROWN EYES."

If you were not discourteous to him, as your guest, he had no reason to be angry about the other boy, as you are young and not engaged to him. If you had slighted him he might reasonably be angry, but even then he should have been courteous enough to have written and thanked you for your hospitality. I wouldn't give up other friends if I were you. You might write a friendly letter, saying you had not heard from him and thought possibly he was ill, and if he doesn't answer, drop him.

"MY DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I am a girl of 17, but being the youngest of my family my parents have considered me a child and treated me as such. They have never allowed me to go out with boys except a neighbor whom I do not like particularly. I know I have done wrong, but lately, unable to resist their invitations, on other pretenses, I have gone with them. There is one with whom I am greatly in love, and I know that he loves me. We wish to become engaged, but we know no way of winning my parents' approval and consent. Can you advise me? HOPELESS."

I suppose I should scold, but I think you are the victim of short-sighted parents, Hopeless. I should certainly harp constantly on the subject that you are nearly of legal age and should have more liberty, and try to get them to let your boy friend come to the house and meet them. Try not to be silly, and keep the engagement idea out of it for awhile until your people have a chance to look the boy over and approve of him. You are pretty young to be thinking of an engagement, although I know how you feel—just can't live without one another, can you? If you have not the patience to follow out this plan, can't you tell your mother all about it, or your father—whichever you think best—and get them over to your side? They have got to get over the notion that you are a babe in arms some time, you know. Be as merciful as you can. It's usually a blow to learn that little daughter has been "stepping out."

THE TINYMITES

BY HAL COCHRAN

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tinies took the great big fish and Clowny promptly said, "I wish I could do the cooking. I am good, and that's no joke. Just keep the blaze aroaring high. My cooking art I then will try." Then Scouty cried, "Oh, no! The fish will all go up in smoke."

"Don't argue," cried the old Sea Man. "I'll cook it. I am sure I can. The rest of you just sit around and don't run shy on wood." He sealed the fish and did it slick, and then he hung it on a stick. The stick he held right o'er the fire and said, "'Twill be real good."

It wasn't long till all the bunch sat down to have a real good lunch. The Sea Man said, "Now watch this trick." He stood and shook his head, and then he waved his hands in air. What happened gave the lads a scare. All of a sudden, in his hand, appeared a loaf of bread.

They ate fish sandwiches galore and everyone cried out for more. When everyone had had enough, the Sea Man said, "Let's see. I think we'll rest awhile, and then I'll show you something new again. When I start out a-walking, you can all just follow me."

In just a little while he jumped and down the hill he gaily jumped. The Tinies and the Trouble Tots were close upon his heels. "Oh, this is great," one Tiny said. "The wind feels good upon my head, but I would rather travel in a little [illegible] on wheels."

DENY RUMORS OF OUTBREAK

CONCENTRATION BEING MADE OF TROOPS AT COLIMA

(By Associated Press)

NOGALES, Ariz., Feb. 18.—Mexican federal officials in Nogales, Sonora, today denied rumors of an impending revolutionary outbreak.

The rumors became current gossip on both sides of the international line when General Francisco Manzo, federal troop commander, arrived in Nogales with three automobiles carrying soldiers. The general's arrival in such fashion was looked upon by the inhabitants of the Mexican town as unusual. Manzo when entering Nogales on official business, ordinarily has done so by train.

The rumors were to the effect that Manzo had declined to accept orders from a higher command that he had dispatched part of his troops to other points in Mexico. He was said to have refused on the ground that troop concentration in Sonora was important because of the Yaqui Indian menace. Gossip was passed from mouth to mouth of a projected attempt at dawn tomorrow, on the part of Manzo, to take the federal customs house in Nogales, Sonora as the opening wedge of a revolutionary movement.

PREMATURE BOMB SAVES TRAIN

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 18 (AP)—El Universal says today that premature explosion of a dynamite bomb thwarted an attempt to blow up a train between Guadalajara and Colima yesterday.

Insurgents, the paper says, placed a bomb on the tracks between the stations of Manzano and Nicholas, in the state of Jalisco, but it exploded just before the train reached it. Later information said the train had arrived safely at Colima, capital of the state of that name.

Want To Be Godiva

COVENTRY, Eng.—There is a rush of applicants for the role of Lady Godiva in the triennial procession which next June will commemorate the legendary ride. The 1929 Godiva will wear more clothes than the original. Bobbed hair will be barred, however.

The Tots and Tinies waded in, and Scouty broke out in a grin. He walked up to the Sea Man and exclaimed, "You played a trick on us that we will ne'er forget. And, look at us! We're soaking wet. The way you made the ice all melt was really very slick."

"Oh, kindly don't get mad at me," replied the man. "Why, can't you see that I was merely having fun? And no one's harmed one bit. You're boat filled up just like a sponge and you all took a funny plunge. Come here upon the hillside. It's a comfy place to sit."

Then Clowny shouted, with a frown, "Oh, no! I'm not for sitting down. We'll all catch cold if we loaf 'round. We ought to dry our clothes. Let's build a fire and 'round it swarm and then we'll all get some good and warm. We need some sort of heat to take the chill off, goodness knows."

"A great idea," said the man. "And I will help you if I can. You Tots and Tinies get the wood and I'll prepare the blaze." The wood was soon piled good and high and shortly smoke rose toward the sky. It settled over head and made a rather pretty haze.

The bunch all sat down near the heat and Carpy sighed, "Ah, this is sweet. I'm getting dry already. And I'm hungry, too." The Sea Man quickly jumped and cried, "I know a plan that can be tried. I'll walk out in the water. Then just watch what I will do."

He waded in, not very far, and shortly shouted, "There you are! I've caught a fish. It's bigger than you've ever bought in town. Fix up some sticks to hang it by." Then Scouty shouted, "Me, oh, my! I'm sure we'll all enjoy it, when we've cooked it good and brown."

Weekly Review Of Business in Lubbock

Grocery Exchange Offered Farmers Here

Local Plant Has Good Patronage

Offering a new and different kind of medium to the farmers of the South Plains, the Farmers' Produce and Grocery company, 1312 Avenue H, gives the producers not only a chance to sell their products but to exchange them for groceries at the same time.

Basing the future of the company on the need of such a farmers' medium in a central point of this agricultural section, the produce and grocery company was established about eleven months ago. Business during this less than a year period has been splendid, placing the company as a positive institution on the South Plains.

G. R. White, for five years manager of the North Side Grocery, is in charge of the Farmers' Produce and Grocery company. Mr. White predicts that business during 1929 will be even better than during the past year.

In addition to handling a full line of produce, the company has cream, chickens, full stock of groceries and cow and chicken feed.

Brownfield, Tahoka, Slaton, Idalou and all sections of the South Plains furnish the produce for the company.

Carnett Electric Has Rapid Growth

Sensing the vast possibilities of Lubbock and the South Plains, J. D. Carnett came here about ten months ago from Oklahoma and opened up the Carnett's Electric Shop, 1209 Broadway.

Today Mr. Carnett claims that his company is beyond a doubt the biggest thing of its kind in the Southwest.

The local store deals with retail business only, drawing trade not only from all parts of the South Plains but from parts of New Mexico as well. Six employes are used to carry on the business.

The Carnett company does general electrical contracting, house wiring, in addition to being agent for Majestic radios, lamps and electrical appliances of all kinds.

Pave Quanah Road

QUANAH, Feb. 18—Work has started on grading and drainage structures on Highway No. 51 south from Quanah to Pease River, preparatory to paving.

Surveyors have about completed lines north from Quanah to Red River, and within the next few weeks it is expected bids will be asked and work will start on this part of the highway.

Houses Scarce

MULESHOE, Feb. 18—There is much development in progress in the vicinity of Muleshoe at this time. Many new settlers are moving in and building homes. A large amount of sod land is being broken and indications are there will be larger acreage put in cultivation this year than any previous year since the country became a farming section.

Many improvements are being made on the farms in the way of new houses, barns and other buildings.

Beauty Parlor In Rapid Growth Here

No better example of the rapid growth in popularity of beauty parlors scattered throughout the residential section of a city can be found than in the Charlotte Beauty Shop, 1914 16th.

Located in the center of a good residential section, this shop has developed a trade which draws patrons not only from all sections of the city but which attracts considerable out-of-town customers as well.

Coming here three months ago with nine years experience in beauty culture work, Mrs. Paul Moore opened the shop, and its success was immediate. Mrs. Moore previously was in the beauty parlor business in Fort Worth and New Mexico. In the shop here two assistants are employed.

A red and gold color combination is carried out by the decorations, including the red and gold drapes.

All kinds of beauty culture are done in the shop, which contains complete equipment of all kinds necessary for this work. Violet ray and numerous other bits of electrical apparatus are included in the equipment.

Federal Sales Continue Good

Federal tires and tubes continue to enjoy a good sale in Lubbock and throughout this territory, according to word from the J. F. Frye Rubber company here.

The Federal double blue pennant tire is proving about the most popular product in the line.

Considerable of the sales are residents living outside Lubbock. Service, not only one tires, but on all other wants of the motorist, is a feature at the Frye company.

The automobile accessory business, and the gasoline and oil end of the Frye trade continue big factors in the business.

Lockney Building

LOCKNEY, Feb. 18—Members of the local builders' fraternity predict a substantial increase in residence permits during 1929 over the preceding year. Two modern residences and one brick veneer duplex, costing $10,000, have been completed here during the past 10 days.

SILVERTON, Feb. 18—Contract for the new $100,000 school here will be let about March 5, according to the plans of the local school board. It is hoped to have the building ready for occupancy by Sept. 1. It is badly needed as the schools are overcrowded.

Plans for the erection of a Methodist church are being prepared by the building committee, composed of Rev. Marvin Brotherton, Ed Thomas, J. G. Fort and W. M. Gourley. The probable cost has not been determined.

BOUT TO DRAW BOXING ELITE

GLAMOR OF WEALTHY FANDOM LOOMS FOR MIAMI

By EDWARD J. NEIL
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 18 (AP)—Under blazing skies in the heart of a winter playground of the rich, two pugilists, incongruous in their surroundings, are making ready for the battle of the Everglades.

Stribling

There are wide stretches of creamy sands where the social elite flash the latest of seashore styles. There are costly homes, expensive automobiles, airs of beauty without thought of cost, and there is the raw pine structure of a fight arena, rising clamorously in the center of Flamingo Park.

Will Get "Best People."

The fight arena on the night of February 27 will hold most of the "best people". Tex Rickard sought always to lure to his fistic shows. Now that Tex is dead, Jack Dempsey, the man he made a millionaire, is luring them to the box offices with all the magnetism of the old master of the ballyhoo. They will be there that night, in all probability, because the battle of Jack Sharkey and Young Stribling for heavyweight recognition will be "the thing" for the night.

But for the time being, at least, the Boston strong boy and his Georgia rival are getting along without the patronage of society and wealth as far as their training periods are concerned. The small crowds which watch Sharkey in his training stunts in the sunny ring pitched beside the dog track Tex fashioned, are made up of the curious.

Stribling attracts an audience that would enjoy any vaudeville show in addition to a share of the fight faithful from the ranks. In a crumbly Casino by the sea, Stribling boxes sparring partners, other boxers work against each other, a former vaudeville comedian announces the attractions and contributes fire of jokes while Pa Stribling does a balancing act with the boxer's two-year-old son.

Despite all this, the heavyweight engagement Rickard planned as an advertisement for other ventures here promises to get the Madison Square Garden corporation a handsome return. When William E. Carey, railroad builder and vice-president of the Garden, took over promotion of the match with Jack Dempsey, he considered a loss of $100,000 a good investment in order to maintain the Corporation's prestige. With the fight still ten days away the match seems well on the way to $100,000 profit.

TARIFF ON SHOE LEATHER SOUGHT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—A concerted drive for a tariff of 20 per cent ad valorem on calf and kid leather for shoe manufacture was started today by a group of leather and shoe interests before the house ways and means committee.

This leather has been on the free list since 1913 but there is a duty of 20 per cent now levied against calf leather other than shoe leather. Declaring imports from Europe and Canada, chief competitors of the United States, had increased over 500 per cent since 1923, August Vogel, representing the Calf Tanners' Association, said that if there was any justice to be granted under the tariff, the leather industry was "one you have got to watch."

Asked by Representative Bacharach, republican, New Jersey, whether the industry would object to a duty being placed on hides also now free, Vogel said it was his individual opinion that if the cattlemen think they need protection "we are ready to grant it."

GAMES CLOSE SEASON FOR LOCAL SQUAD

WALKER AND FISHER IN SHAPE AND READY FOR HERD GO

On the home stretch and due to meet their most bitter rivals of the hardwood court, the basketeers of Texas Tech are scheduled for two fast practice sessions before going to Canyon Wednesday, where on Wednesday and Thursday nights they will make a supreme effort to avenge previous defeats suffered at the hands of the Thundering Herd. The series with Coach Burton's sharpshooters will incidentally close the season for the Paynemen.

Strengthened by the return of Ransom Walker and Leon Fisher to the lineup, the Matadors are in high spirits over the prospect of downing their arch foes. Following a layoff during the Sul Ross series, Walker is ready to go again, and Fisher has regained his speed after suffering a knee injury during the Abilene series.

Closing the Sul Ross series with their fourth straight victory after the disastrous Canyon invasion, the Tech cagers ran their season's average to .667, having won 12 of the 18 games played. A double win over the Buffaloes would end the season for the crimson with 14 wins and 6 defeats.

As the series with Canyon ends the season for the local aggregation, a large number of Tech and town cage fans are expected to accompany the team to the home of the Buffaloes.

TRACK STARS RUN TONIGHT

OLYMPIC CONTESTANTS RENEW CONTEST IN GOTHAM EVENT

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 18—A score or so of the Olympic track and field stars who burned up the cinders in Holland seven months ago will be on hand for the annual games of the New York A. C. at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Interest centers in the Buermeyer 500 yards special in which Ray Barbuti and Jimmy Ball are to take up their duel where they left off at Amsterdam. On that occasion Barbuti, husky sprinter developed at Syracuse University but now competing for the New York A. C., beat Ball, the Canadian, by inches to capture the Olympic 400-meter championship, the only flat race won by a United States athlete.

Neither Barbuti nor Ball is an outstanding favorite to win tonight. Ball, unaccustomed to indoor running and a bit baffled when it comes to taking the banked turns, hardly figures to be a factor in a race where he must meet not only Barbuti but Joe Tierney, world's record holder at 500 yards; Bernie McCafferty, the Holy Cross freshman flash, and Frank Cuhel, the Iowa quarter miler and hurdler.

WILSON WINS COUNTY TITLE

RANGY BASKETEERS SWEEP THROUGH COMPETITION

(Special To The Journal)

TAHOKA, Feb. 18.—The rangy Wilson high school basketball team went through the county tage finals undefeated in the round robin tournament held here, winning over Free Lake, the rural school champion, O'Donnell and Tahoka for the Lynn county basketball championship.

Winning the championship of the county rural schools, Free Lake entered the finals here with the three class A schools of the county and was defeated in the opening game of the meet Friday afternoon when the O'Donnell quintet walked off with the long end of a 25 to 12 score. The six-footers from Wilson took Tahoka as their first victim in the second game of the tournament, defeating the county seat cagers 35 to 8.

Saturday, the fast-stepping Wilson five handed the Free Lake outfit a sound drubbing, 59 to 1. Tahoka followed with a 25 to 19 win over O'Donnell and a 42 to 8 win over Free Lake. Wilson met O'Donnell in the final and deciding contest of the meet, winning over Coach Dennison's basketeers 32 to 13.

Gurley of Tahoka, carried off scoring honors of the tournament, counting 32 points in the three games in which he appeared.

The Wilson team will represent Lynn county in the district meet to be held in Lubbock Feb. 22 and 23.

TEXAS LEAGUER MADE GOOD IN MID-SEASON

It is a legend of baseball that a pennant winner has to have at least one good left-handed pitcher. Almost every team that has won a championship in the past has had one great left-hander. John McGraw's Giants haven't had a great southpaw since Art Nehf was in his prime and if McGraw had had young Carl Hubbell through the entire season of 1928 his Giants might have won the National League flag.

Upon this young Hubbell a great part of the hopes for the New York victory in the National League race rest this year. "If he comes through as he promised," McGraw muses to himself and smiles.

McGraw called Hubbell up from Beaumont in the Texas League in mid-season last year and a few days later he stuck him in for his baptism against the St. Louis Cardinals. Hubbell held the Cards scoreless for ten innings, and lost in the eleventh but it was scored as a moral victory for the young pitcher.

Under the strain of a tough pennant battle he pitched the same courageous ball and finished with 10 victories and six defeats.

He learned a lot last year and he ought to be better this year. If he is the good southpaw that the Giants have needed for years, then look out for the Giants!

STEERS WILL BE STRONGER THIS SEASON

HOW MUCH STRONGER? THIS IS ISSUE IN DALLAS FANDOM

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This the first of a series on Texas League prospects written by sports editors of papers in league cities.)

BY GEORGE WHITE
(Written for the Associated Press)

DALLAS, Tex., Feb. 18 (AP)—Having turned over a new leaf with a complete executive staff starting its first full season on the job and with a new skipper imported to fit into the house-cleaning, Dallas has high hopes of going somewhere in the 1929 Texas League pennant race after two terribly disappointing seasons. At this stage the local situation is surrounded by uncertainties. Hope is coming. This much is definite. At least two players will be turned over to the Steers by the Chicago White Sox and one will come here from Pittsburgh. These deals are closed with the exception of naming the men and the formality of making the transfers But it is much as the men haven't been named as yet, too much can not be taken for granted.

Steers to Be Stronger

There is no doubt now but that the 1929 Steers will be stronger than last year's. The club already has undergone enough changes, bringing in sufficient new talent that one can safely predict better days. But, for that matter, anything that could have happened to the 1928 aggregation would have been an improvement. Frankly, the Herd looks about 25 or 30 per cent stronger than it was last season. It still doesn't have the resemblance of a pennant contending outfit. If it is, the league has slipped back as far if not farther than the Dallas club has improved.

To say that the catching staff has been strengthened is to assume that the improvement will come from a youngster who pastimed in Class B, last year. Don Benn, obtained from Akron of the Central League, or that the kick will be supplied by a man who probably has never put in 20 games behind the bat in his whole career, Dusty Boggess, all-around utility man obtained from San Antonio. Jack Mealey, who finished last season here and is now on the White Sox roster, is a "cover up" and he will be back. So will the veteran Josh Billings, while another hold-over, Oscar Siemer, is on the market and will not be asked to report to training camp.

Aside from a flock of rookies who are strong uncertainties, whatever strength that has been added to the pitching staff must be in the ancient wing of Joe Martina bought from New Orleans and Charlie Barnabe, who southpawed for Waco last year and has been obtained from the White Sox. It doesn't seem reasonable that Oyster Joe will improve with age. Barnabe can pitch, as he proved in 1928 but he probably had more help behind the bat at Waco than he'll have here. And Charlie is characteristically a front runner. If the club gets off to a flying start he may prove a sensation. If it slips into a rut he may go with it. Taking things as they are now, however, Martina and Barnabe are no cinches to equal, let alone better the performances of Charlie Robertson and Homer Blankenship of the 1928 staff.

Get Offensive Strength

In giving up Jim Oglesby to take Wilbur Davis from New Orleans, the Steers have sacrificed proven defensive ability for uncertain offensive strength at first base. At best it looks like a stand-off. The same is true of third base, where Bill Huber will succeed Jodie Tate. Second base will be in the same hands as last year with Happ Morse on patrol duty unless Milton Stock, the new skipper, takes the job away from him. At any rate, one will play the bag and the other will serve as utility man. In the event Morse is the regular in the lineup, the comparison will simmer down between Stock as a manager, utility player and pinch hitter, and Bert Ellison, last season's boss. Bert was a fairly dangerous hitter himself, perhaps more so than Stock. The latter may have an edge in the field.

The greatest improvement made in the Dallas club has been a shortstop, where Ray Flaskhamper, late of San Antonio and generally conceded the standout of the league at the position in 1928, has no competition. Unless one concedes that Turkey Gross was at his best when he came back from Minneapolis in 1926. Flash is the first real shortfielder Dallas has boasted in ten years, if not longer.

Randy Moore Joins

Si Rosenthal is the only hold-over for the outfield and he hasn't signed his contract. Another certainty is Jim Moore, a big fellow who hit .302 with Kansas City last year and who comes here tagged as the sheik of baseball. The third man no doubt will be Randy Moore, now with the White Sox and last year with Waco. Also there's a chance of getting Watwood from the Hose. Both of these would give the Herd a well balanced outfield with considerable offensive strength. The outfield seems certain to be stronger.

The club still needs pitching—at least two men can be counted upon to win. The middle of the infield and the outfield are acceptable but first and third base and the catching department could stand strengthening and Stock has yet to prove his managerial ability in the Texas League.

In the face of what appears to be an unusually well fortified club at Wichita Falls and the vast resources of the Houston Buffs as a part of the

DISTRICT MEET SET THIS WEEK

EIGHTEEN TITLE HOLDERS TO BATTLE FOR HONORS HERE

Eighteen county basketball champions will meet in Lubbock on Friday and Saturday of this week to participate in the district two tournament of the Interscholastic league. E. Y. Freeland, director of athletics at Texas Tech, is district chairman and will be in charge of the meet.

The following counties will be represented: Andrews, Bailey, Borden, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Dickens, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Martin, Perry and Yoakum.

In the majority of the counties in this district, the finals were played off last week, but in some instances, a playoff was necessary. These will be held during the early part of this week in order that the champion will be known before the district tournament begins here Friday.

The winner of the tournament held here will meet the champion of district one of which the center is Canyon. District one meet is to be held on the same days as the district two tournament here. Lubbock was the victor in last year's tournament, but after losing to Slaton in the county meet last week, the Westerners will be forced to sit by and look on this year. The Slaton Tigers went through the Round Robin schedule undefeated, proving to be the "dark horse" of the meet.

NINE DIE IN FIRE

CAIRO, Egypt, Feb 18 (AP).—Nine persons were killed and 20 severely injured in a fire in a large village near Zazazig yesterday. A total of 150 horses were destroyed.

St. Loius Cardinal's chain, one can't conscientiously pick the Steers for better than third place now and to do that might be under-rating five other clubs which are equally as intent on winning as is Dallas. Summed up, the club looks better. As it stands now it hasn't a first division certainty and only the future will tell what will come from the Sox and Pirates.

MANY FAMOUS STARS ENTER GOLF BATTLE

LEADING AMATEURS OF OTHER STATES VIE WITH TEXANS

(By Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Feb. 18.—Leading amateurs from outside of Texas today matched hooks, slices, and divots with the cream of Texas golfers in a final day of preparation for the Houston Country Club invitation which gets under way tomorrow.

Included in the array of entries from outside of the state were John Dawson, Walter Crowe, Ed Goldbeck and Don Armstrong of Chicago, all of whom have figured prominently in state and national competitions. Armstrong was the Pan-American titleholder in 1928 and Dawson and Crowe have been runner-up and winner of many tournaments in Illinois. Keefe Carter, Western amateur champion in 1925, and his brother Dorset were on hand from Oklahoma City and Earle Berry Hill of Tulsa, one of the leading Oklahoma amateurs, was with them.

The entry lists were to remain open until just before the pairings tonight for qualifying play Tuesday. Only sixteen players will be skimmed from the field for the championship flight. The matches in this flight will be 36-hole affairs. The 32 next best golfers will play 18-hole matches in the first flight, and the second and third flights will be conducted in the same manner.

The majority of the competitors, who will hail for the most part from Texas, were expected to arrive today Some of the state's best golfers, Ossie Carlton and Jack Speer of Houston and Lewis Levinson of San Antonio, have played practice rounds already. Speer is the state amateur champion and Carlton and Levinson are former titleholders.

Clarence Hubby of Waco, who has been runner-up for the title was a Sunday arrival, and Reuben Albaugh, one of the state's youngest stars, has been over the course frequently. Albaugh hails from San Antonio, but at present is attending Rice Institute here.

In England nearly 5,000,000 items of correspondence for places abroad are posted annually with insufficient postage, and over $200,000 a year is collected in surcharges from the addresses.

BRECKENRIDGE IS SNYDER CHAMP

SNYDER, Feb. 18.—Breckenridge maintained their record of victories here when they defeated Cisco in the finals of the West Texas Girls A. A. U. basketball tournament, 31 to 12. Superior pass work and defensive work of Breckenridge made scoring barely possible for the Lobo Queens. Cook and Freeman, forwards for the Breck Buckerettes maintained their goal shooting in face of the stiffest guarding of Captain Mary Powell and Ola Perdue of the Yobo Queens. Capt. Irene Sullivan, Running center and Ann Greenlee jumpink center with guards, Russell and Langford, uncorked united team play that was impossible to be downed.

Post and Colorado fought it out for third and fourth places with Post winning after an extra five minute period was played. At the end of the fourth quarter the score was 23 all but in the extra time Capt. Nita Wright who has distinguished herself all through the tournament registered five extra points to make the final score, 28 to 25.

The finals of the consolation series was won by Ira, a small high school in Surry county over Roscoe, 50 to 35.

MOGULS TALK ON SCHEDULE

LONG WRANGLE FAILS TO YIELD FRUIT SUNDAY NIGHT

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, Feb. 18—Rested and ready for further argument, Texas League club owners resumed today their protracted wrangle over adoption of a playing schedule for the approaching season. They adjourned last night after having been in session almost 14 hours without reaching an agreement.

Serious consideration was given the bids of bus companies to furnish transportation. A committee of three was in conference with bus company representatives for more than an hour. The committee was to meet with rail representatives today. The league heads have asked the railroads to give them a sizeable reduction.

A committee of three was appointed to handle business affairs of the league pending the recovery of

PORKERS ALL BUT CERTAIN FOR TITLIST

ONLY TWO GAMES WITH AGGIES REMAIN IN ARKANSAS PATH

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, Feb. 18.—A final splurge this week and another Southwest Conference basketball race will have passed into the limbo of forgotten things. So far as Texas College comprising the circuit are concerned there will be few pleasant memories of the 1926-29 cage scramble.

There will the schedule discloses be sporadic firing for another four nights, but the race for championship honors will be concluded this week. Arkansas University, in order to make certain its fourth straight conference title, will need to sweep its closing two-game series with the Texas Aggies Friday and Saturday nights at Fayetteville. The Porkers can be expected to do that very little thing.

If by any chance the scrappin Farmers should slip up on the lanky Osarkians and win one of their series, however, the Texas University Longhorns could finish in a tie with the three-time champions by winning all of their remaining four games.

The Rice Institute Owls, free from two overwhelming losses at Arkansas Friday and Saturday at Fayetteville, drop down through North Texas for a couple of cuffo bats on their way home, meeting Southern Methodist University here tonight and playing the Texas Christian Horned Frogs tomorrow night at Fort Worth. The lowly Owls scored only three field tosses in their 44 to 13 defeat by the Razorbacks Saturday.

The Texas Longhorns, who retained their slight chance at the title and practically assured second place by nosing out the aggies, 32 to 2 Saturday night, have two games booked on their home court at Austin this week. Tuesday night they engage the Baylor University Bears and Saturday meet Texas Christian. Southern Methodist and Baylor Saturday at Waco round out the week's card.

President J. Doak Roberts, who has been ill two months. It was emphasized that Roberts still is president of the league and will continue to be until he again is able to resume his duties.

PRESIDENT-ELECT OPENS JOURNEY MONDAY TO CAPITOL

BY JAMES L. WEST
Associated Press Staff Writer

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 18 — President-elect Hoover bade farewell today to this land of sunshine, headink for Washington in the frozen north on a special train which left here at 10:30 a. m.

The next president and Mrs. Hoover occupied a private car alone, but several of their friends had compartments in other cars of the long train.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoover left the James G. Penney home on Belle Isle less than half an hour before train time, motoring across Biscayne Bay to the Florida east coast station here where a sizeable crowd awaited them.

Before leaving Miami, President-elect Hoover stopped to express his appreciation to the manner in which the people welcomed him.

"I want to express my appreciation to the people of Miami and Florida," he said. "They have given us a very happy vacation and we hope to be able to come again.

Have Power to Change

"We have the power to change. It is our business to proceed in the right way to remedy whatever wrongs may exist. I have been speaking upon the theory that this is a bad, destructive law.

"It has introduced corruption into the political life of our country. If I should undertake to marshal all the facts at my command we would be here until the cock crows in the morning.

"This law was enacted at the demand of an organization. At the head of that organization was Wayne B. Wheeler."

Reed then read from a biography of the late counsel of the Anti-Saloon League:

"He was going to make the people believe in hell fire," continued Reed. "He preferred force. That is the spirit that was taking the place of the kindly ministrations of the temperance folks of a few years ago."

Embargo May Echo Tariff In Canada

VANCOUVER, B. C. Feb. 18 (AP)—A Victoria dispatch to the Province, a newspaper, says:

"Definite plans to shut out United States fruit and vegetables, especially importations from California, Washington and Oregon, in the event of the proposed Hoover tariff closing the United States markets to British Columbia forest products, are being given serious consideration in governmental circles, it is learned from semi-official circles.

"In effect the province itself may establish what virtually amounts to a provincial tariff to protect her industries."

DISARMAMENT TALK PUZZLE

SUBSTANTIAL AIRING IS GIVEN ENTIRE ENGLISH TOPIC

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, Feb. 18—England is inclined to wonder just what the new disarmament discussion with the United States is all about.

The entire incident—anonymous predictions of early renewal of disarmament efforts, statements of Sir Esme Howard, ambassador at Washington that such was in early prospect, and Saturday's disclaimer by the foreign office—has received an expansive airing in the Metropolitan press.

Reliable sources informed the Associated Press that no repudiation of Sir Esme was intended in the foreign office statement of Saturday. The foreign office, it was said, merely declared the time had not yet arrived for an official announcement regarding the next move contemplated.

Confused reports of the ambassador's intimation of progressive disarmament action made the communique necessary, it was said, it also being intended to forestall criticism in the house of commons.

The Prince's Service

The Prince of Wales has never served his nation better than by his recent tour of inspection of the British mining areas. It makes a wierd, fascinating picture, this tale of the prince investigating poverty. There is the boyish slender heir to the throne, lonely and ill, stalking down muddy streets between tumble down shacks while underfed, hopeless people stand in door ways to see what message the next king of England has for the depths of woe. The trip is making all of England see the picture, focusing attention on an accumulation of misery that had gone too long unheeded.

There is not a great deal of hope for many of these British miners. Here are whole villages where no one has worked for months; where every inhabitant lives on the governments dole, dependent on charity for every bite of food and every rag of clothing; where mines have been shut down so long that weeds are growing on the slag heaps by the pit heads; where houses have been abandoned, never to be reoccupied again.

All of this has been true for quite a while, and England has known about it in a hazy sort of way; but it took the prince's visit to impress the facts on the general public. Whatever is eventually done to relieve the distress, much of it will be due to the prince's visit.

This, of course, does not touch us very closely on this side of the Atlantic. But the underlying principle is worth looking at, whether you live in England or Colorado.

England is not the only country that had festering sores but refused to look at them. The ostrich habit of burying the head in the sand and ignoring all unpleasant sights is as common in the new world as in the old.

In the United States, for instance, there are plenty of things that would shock us unutterably if we would look at them steadily.

Our own coal miners, as it happens, have troubles of their own. In Pennsylvania there are mining towns where conditions are nearly as bad as they are in England.

We have city slums, too, where vice and crime and misery exist in a degree to make the angels weep. We have certain textile manufacturing towns where hunger and unemployment are familiar, everyday acquaintances to most of the inhabitants. We have agricultural regions where honest, industrious men have seen poverty come upon them through no fault of their own.

But we don't get excited about any of these things. In a vague way we know that they exist, but we don't do anything about it. We haven't been jarred into activity.

Perhaps it would be a good thing for us if we had a young prince who could open our eyes to a few things. We always have good intentions; but too often it takes a catastrophe to get us into action.

Fining A Minister

A New Jersey minister, convicted of circulating the bogus "Knights of Columbus oath" during the recent presidential campaign, has been fined $250 for criminal libel. In addition, his congregation has forced him to resign.

In fining him, the judge told him: "You have borne false witness against your neighbor. People of your type should help to suppress religious intolerance and not stir it up."

That states the case pretty fairly. If you're not familiar with all the facts, however, you might remember this in addition:

That famous "oath" has been proved, before the Congress of the United States, by a committee of Masons. Anyone who circulates it is either ignorant or wilfully mischievous. There is no excuse for anyone paying any attention to the thing any longer.

The New Jersey pastor got exactly what he deserved.

THE PLAINSMAN

The Man on Avenue Q says that he for one would like to see something done toward clearing up all the legal difficulties which have unexpectedly arisen to block Lubbock's efforts for a new postoffice building.

A friendly injunction suit filed to test out legality of the county's effort to deed a plot of land given to the intangible "public", is pending in district court here.

A favorable decision in the local court would probably be sufficient to satisfy the exacting legal demands of any deed in which the federal government was involved. An unfavorable decision might mean a struggle in the higher tribunals.

Some bona fide opposition has arisen to the move for deeding of a part of the courthouse square to the federal government.

One of those who opposed the action by the county brought out this angle:

"Why is the county giving away a plot of property downtown which it will be impossible for us to replace? Park space is getting thinner and scarcer all of the time. The square with its grass and trees is one of the outstanding beauty spots of Lubbock. Its beauty would be marred by a building. It seems rather inconsistent that the county should be giving away park space at a time when the city is seeking to buy more recreation ground—especially when $50,000 has been appropriated by congress to purchase a site.

This column is not agreeing with the sentiment expressed above—it is merely attempting to set forth the "other side" of a question to which it is hard to see more than one side.

Something was said several weeks ago about home beautification.

Spring is just ahead. Sunday, indeed, was so much like a spring day that many of the embellishments of the season distinguished by flowers, puppy love and poetry—and in West Texas, by sandstorms—appeared on the streets of Lubbock.

Attractive lawns and flower beds are an invaluable asset for any community. They constitute an asset can not be calculated in dollars and cents.

There is no better time to start preparing for spring. Water the flowers and the gardens.

News dispatches tell of a projected railroad extension from San Angelo to Sonora.

Sonora is in the heart of the sheep and goat country of Texas.

West Texas—especially the Panhandle—has been the site for the greatest program of railroad construction in modern times.

The Panhandle is glad to see that the railroad extensions are not confined to her own immediate section.

It's not too early to start making plans for attending the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at El Paso.

There is a possibility that President Hoover and President Gil of Mexico will attend this convention.

Then there are lots of other attractions in and near El Paso, aside from the convention proper, which should draw a record crowd.

The dates come in mid-May.

Seubert Hinted As Stewart Successor

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—A copyrighted story in today's Herald-and-Examiner said that newspaper had reliable information that Edward G. Seubert, president of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, would become chairman of the board, in the event Col. Robert W. Stewart is defeated for re-election on March 7.

Seubert, as well as other directors, is backing Col. Stewart in the contest for proxies being conducted by Stewart on the one hand and JJohn D. Rockefeller, jr., on the other.

A Nebraska senator introduced a bill to put barber colleges on a plane with institutions of higher learning. Perhaps that's because barbers have so many heavy questions to settle.

Major Scandal May Be Uncovered Through Investigation Being Made By Congress Into U. S. Treatment of Indians

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Congress again is investigating the federal government's treatment of the Indians.

Preliminary evidence indicates the probability that a major scandal may be uncovered.

It has not attracted much public attention, partly because the business of robbing and mistreating Indians is an old story and especially because there are few pale faces who care. But from time to time indisputable evidence has been produced that many Indians were being subjected to what, in view of the treatment they were theoretically supposed to receive, might fairly be described as atrocities.

John Collier, executive secretary of the American Indian Defense association, has recently called the story an "agonizing tragedy," asserting that with some exceptions general conditions among the Indians were "marked by colossal loot and incidental race massacre induced by a homicidal indifference and ineffectualness from those charged with their care."

It developed at the senate committee's current Indian investigation that only the interposition of Secretary of the Interoir Work and Attorney General Sargent kept department of justice prosecutors from seeking an indictment against Burke, commissioner of Indian affairs, for his part in the famous Jackson Barnett case. Proposed action against Burke was called off in July and nothing was done about it until the first of this year. Following public testimony as to what happened, the case has been placed in other hands within the justice department and whether any more will be heard of it remains to be seen.

Burke has always received complete support from Secretary Work.

A recitation of cruelties inflicted upon the Indians, even for the last few years, would have no end. This writer could collect a barrel of evidence within a few hours. Aside from a host of individual horrible examples the general phases of the story include an almost systematic looting of Indian property, physical barbarities and malnutrition afflicted upon Indian children and encouragement of conditions under which 70,000 of the nation's 350,000 Indian wards are said to suffer from trachoma and more than 50,000 from tuberculosis.

Senator Pine of Oklahoma has been especially active on behalf of the Indians since the first phase of the committee's investigation. Pine points to Burke's recent annual report, in which one reads that "it is felt progress is being made" in fighting trachoma, tuberculosis and children's diseases.

"Either they don't know anything about the health of the Indians or they haven't wanted to show the figures," Pine says. "They say from data thus far received indications point to a decrease in the number of cases of trachoma and that the 'factors having to do with tuberculosis are so many and complicated that nothing can be determined regarding the facts of increase or decrease of the disease.' What wind of a report is that?"

Pine thinks the present investigation will result in a clean-up by congress. It will be up to congress to continue the investigation by further appropriation before March 4.

COUNTRY DOCTORS

So long as people live in lonely regions, far from help; so long as bitter winter weather isolates them and makes any illness a critical affair; so long as young medical graduates go out into the world with an eagerness to help their fellow men—just so long the country doctor will continue.—Sweetwater Reporter.

We truly hope so. Yet isn't it true that the so-called country doctors are now residents of the towns? The doctor who lived on a farm and practiced throughout the circumjacent countryside now is dead, and his son lives either at the county seat or at some county town. The rural physicians has become urban, mostly. This is his own business, certainly, and he is perhaps entirely justified in his change of residence. With his automobile he can cover three times as much territory as his father covered on horseback or with horse and buggy. It is no longer necessary for the medical practitioner to live on a farm in a farming community. The automobile makes the difference. It is true that the automobile has increased the cost of sickness. But it alone is not responsible. Everything has gone up on the sick man. Even pills. It has just gotten so that only the rich can afford ill health, and they are trying to avoid it by living in Florida when their home weather is cold, and in Canada when the domestic weather is hot. They don't seem to gain much by it, for they die just like the rest of us, some of them of complaints exactly like those poor folks die of. Some of the richest even die of such ordinary diseases they don't need high priced specialists. This doesn't look quite fair, but dying is personal business just like living is, and no matter how much money a man has, he is entitled to die cheaply if he chooses to. At least, State Press savers. He believes he is right, whether he shall be agreed with or not.—State Press, Dallas News.

Stimson To Meet With Japan Chief

TOKYO, Feb 18 (AP)—Baron Tanaka, prime minister, today cabled Colonel Henry L. Stimson at Manila an invitation to take dinner with him March 4 when he is expected to be in Japan enroute to the United States.

The Japanese press assumes the appointment of Colonel Stimson as secretary of state in Mr. Hoover's cabinet is assured and considers his visit to Tokyo as most important.

The Tokyo Asahi, one of the largest papers, says Baron Tanaka and the naval ministry will seize the opportunity to discuss naval limitation, and will apprise the future chief of America's foreign affairs of Japanese disarmament desires.

Financing Change Planned By Orient

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. (AP)—A rearrangement of corporate structure of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad was proposed today to the interstate commerce commission. The road was recently purchased by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, which undertakes to meet all of its debts.

The Orient asked authority to deliver $2,500,000 in bonds to the Atchison, and in addition to issue to the owning corporation 55,000 shares of Orient stock. The bonds will evidence the payment of an Orient debt for money advanced by the government during federal control.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Manhattan snapshots: Subway straphanger absorbed in book on bee farming.... And a checker game under way in a barber shop, even as in Sorghum Flats.... A last year's baseball score board seems to me the height of something or other.... Perhaps futility.

The sandwich man who wheels about a baby.... And thus attracts plenty of attention.... They tell me he rents a different baby every day.... But you know how "they" talk.... Raymond Hitchcock, the comic, exchanging gags with the hat check boy in the Algonquin.... The hat boy, by the way, is a future artist holding his job to make a living while.... Many of the hotel paintings were done by this lad.... And the pretty girl at the same check stand writes quite well and is always engrossed in the classics.... What a world!

Wonder what happened to the tightwad man who used to roam Broadway on stilts and sit down on top a taxicab for rest.... For years I waited to see a taxi start off with him, a la the firm comedies.... But I never did.... Somehow, I always wanted him to wind up in a romance with a stenographer and carry on his courtship through a second story window.... But he never did.... He probably went back to Bridgeport, Conn., from whence, I was told, he came.... They say Peaches Browning made more than a quarter of a million out of her stage exploits.

The editor of one of those "art" magazine groups which prints pictures of naked young women, is an attractive young wife who told me she took the job to get money "for a vine covered cottage in the country, where I can have lots of babies."... Which should provide sufficient irony for one day.

Along Fourteenth street, which is on of the most conglomerate thoroughfares linking the East Side with the West, have grown a healthy and expanding group of department stores.

They are quite unlike any other stores in town, in many respects and their trade is drawn from the peoples of every land, thousands of whom have never learned to speak English. Employes belong to a dozen nationalities and are called in as interpreters upon occasions.

There is a certain store in this district where no salesgirls are retained. A customers picks an article from a rack which carries the price. The store stands ready to take back the garment if the sale tag and price are intact. Furthermore, if two shoppers get together over the back fence and find that one purchased a garment for less money than the other, a refund will be given. One store advertised a sale and the police and fire departments had to be called. The street was roped off for hours.

Huge Sums Talked As Total Germany Must Pay Allies

PARIS, Feb. 18 (AP).—The experts committee on reparations convened promptly at eleven o'clock this morning to begin the second week's discussion of one of the greatest economic problems growing out of the World War. The meeting was the first since last Friday.

Since adjournment then the delegates have had time to do some figuring with facts and figues pesented them duing last week by Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, Reichsbank president, as a bisis.

Unofficially, sums, varying from thirty to a hundred billion gold marks were mentioned today as possible extremes in the totals which the various delegations will ask to have Germany pay.

It was the opinion in certain quarters today that France and Belgium would ask 100,000,000,000 marks (about $23,720,000,000) while Germany probably would offer to pay 35,000,000,000 marks (about $8,302,000,000). The British were said to be ready to take an intermediate stand.

YOUTHFUL COMPLEXION FARES BEST ON DIET LOW IN FATS, SUGARS

BY LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.
Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

"For several years I have been having complexion trouble and some how I can't understand why. My diet seems to be quite well balanced and my general hygiene is good. Furthermore, I rarely have indigestion or constipation. My skin is of the oily type. Do you think that may be the cause? I have tried cleansing my face nightly with cold cream but it seems to give me no results. "E."

During adolescence the oil glands of the skin are frequently over-active. Pimples in all degrees may result (acne.) You shouldn't use cold cream on your face at all, as it is oily, E. Scrub it twice daily with soap and hot water followed by cold, and then apply a glycerine solution. You can put a few drops of the pure glycerine in your palm and apply it on your face while it is still wet. Glycerine must be very diluted to be effective.

The diet should be low in starches and sugars and fatty foods.

You are fortunate not to have acne. We have an article on the subject if you want it.

"After reading both your books on diet and health, I have reduced 43 pounds in three months. I still have about 20 pounds to lose and I hope to keep up the good work. I feel fine and look very much better.

"I have lost as high as four pounds a week and I did not feel so well then, for I would get cold and weak and I looked bad. But now I am losing about one and one-half pounds a week and feel stronger and better. I walk about two miles three times a week and find it important along with the exercises you advise. I eat almost everything, but take only small helpings. At noon, I take some raw vegetables or fruit. We have an early supper, at 4 p. m. I don't eat anything after that and I don't feel hunger, either. "MRS.

When one reduces as high as pounds a week, there must be great limitation of the essentials the diet, and naturally one becom under par. However, it is a goo plan in the beginning—but not nec sary—to go on a liquid or semi-liquid diet, not over 500 to 800 calories a day, for three or four days, order to shrink the stomach an clean up the intestinal tract. Dur ing this period, from five to te pounds may be lost, but after thi one by one, half to two pounds week is enough (unless being super vised by a physician.)

Another reason for not reducin too rapidly is that the reducer mus continue his new modes of eatin all his life; that is, he has to re educate his tastes; otherwise, afte reducing the weight will gradually accumulate again.

A brisk walk of two miles a da is a great help.

It too often happens that thos who are overweight feel that the must get rid of their excess righ away, and because they cannot d that, they get discouraged. If they would realize that even though bu one-half pound a week is lost o the average, it means a loss of 2 pounds a year, which is considerable. And further realize that one doesn't try to lose somethin the probability is that at the end of the year there will be a slight ga instead of a loss.

I am glad you had such splendid results, Mrs. S.

The World And All

BY CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

SOMETHING TO FIGHT ABOUT

American ships should be more prominent on the seven or eight seas. All Americans agree to that. We would like to see American ships going everywhere, coming in from everywhere, and carrying Americans and American goods to and from all ports of the world.

What difference does it make who owns the ships we travel in and ship our goods in? This is a question sometimes asked by the practical American.

It makes quite a little difference. The American who traveles or ships goods abroad would like to have the conditions of his traveling and shipping dictated by his own country, in the making of which he has some voice, rather than by a foreign country, however friendly.

But this is not the real reason for the national policy of encouraging American shipping. As a matter of fact, very many Americans prefer to travel on foreign ships. Even the American Bar association traveled on an English ship when it went abroad to a convention. Many Americans like to be on a ship on which they are free from certain American laws, of which they do not approve. That's the other side of it.

The real reason why our governmental officials wish to encourage the operation of ships by American owners is that a nation that trains seamen and has many of its citizens in sea-faring life aboard their own ships is at a great advantage in war.

For this reason the British government has always nourished its shipping interests, even at the expense of other legitimate interests. The British Empire wants to be there with the powder and shot when the war starts, whenever and wherever that is.

As a result of this time-honored policy, the British Empire came out of the last war with its trade-mark on nearly all the islands, colonies and "mandates" that were the material prizes of the victors.

The United States, on the other hand, went into the war with lots of idealism, but very few ships. The United States made the victory possible, and when the Feats of the Grab Bag was celebrated, the United States drew out a surprise package containing this mystic sentence: "No, you can't have Yap."

So we are training a merchant marine. We are encouraging American shipping. Our government helps our American passenger lines by operating a big ship to Havana to compete with a big British ship.

There is talk of taking the choice piers at New York away from the foreign lines and giving them to the American lines. There is talk of heavy taxes on foreign ships entering American ports. But we must be careful, lest, in prearing our shipping for the next war, we bring on that war prematurely.

STOCKS HAVE FIRMER TONE

STRONG BUYING TREND MARKS OPENING ON WALL STREET

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Strong buying support came into the stock market over the week-end, giving opening prices today a firm undertone. International combustion opened 2 12 points higher, American Smelting 2 and Wright Aeronautical, Westingrouse Electric and Warner Bros. Pictures showed initial gains of a point or more. General Railway Signal opened a point lower.

Last week's drastic shakeout apparently had strengthened the technical position of the market which had been weakened by the wild speculation in many of the high priced specialties, coppers and public utilities.

Radio quickly ran up 7 points and United Electric Coal, which broke 20 1-4 points last week, snapped back 5. Recoveries of 2 to 5 points also took place in Johns Manville, International Telephone, U. S. Steel Common, American & Foreign Power, A. M. Byers and Allied Chemical. Several others, including Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Aanconda and Columbia Graphophone, rallied a point or more in the early outburst of buying.

Foreign exchanges opened steady, with cables 1-16 of a cent higher at $4.85 11-32.

COLDER WEATHER BOOSTS MARKET

CHICAGO, Feb. 18 (AP)—Severe drops in temperature over domestic winter wheat territory, 60 degrees fall in some cases, led to a sharp early upturn in wheat prices today. Decided decrease of the amount of wheat on ocean passage tended also to strengthen wheat values.

Starting unchanged to 1-2c higher Chicago wheat afterward scored a material advance all around. Corn ruled easier, opening unchanged to 3-8c off, but subsequently hardening somewhat. Oats were firm. Provisions likewise had an upward slant.

Steamship Is Sunk After Hitting Reef

MELBOURNE, Australia, Feb. 18 (AP)—The Interstate steamship Kanowna sank today with a cargo valued at $500,000 and the baggage of its passengers, after running ashore in a heavy fog seven miles west of Wilson Promontory, the southernmost tip of Australia.

The steamer was bound from Sydney to Melbourne. The passengers had been transferred to the steamer Mayarra and the crew reached safety before the Kanowna sank.

COTTON OPENS WITH ADVANCE

STOCKS SHOW TREND UPWARD DUE TO STEADY CABLE

(By Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 18—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 1 to 4 points in response to higher Liverpool cables than expected.

March sold up to 19.39, May to 19.51 and July to 19.53, or 6 to 7 points above Saturday's close. At the end of the first hour the market was steady and at the highs.

The market ruled steady most of the morning being supported by the small fertilizer sales and the better cotton goods reports as well as the outlook for unfavorable weather in the belt. May traded up to 19.52 and active position generally to levels 8 points above Saturday's close but the improvement brought out some realizing and prices eased off.

Near noon all months except March rallied to within 2 points of the early highs and the undertone was steady.

NEW YORK MARKET OPENING STEADY

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—Cotton opened steady at an advance of 2 to 6 points. Active months soon showed net gains of 4 to 9 points on covering, believed to be combined with a little trade buying and some rebuying by recent sellers.

May sold up to 20.13 and the new October contract to 19.57.

Prices were a point or two off from the best at the end of the first half hour.

The market was rather irregular later in the morning, with considerable March liquidation in evidence. This sent the price off to 19.99, or 1 point net lower and about 9 points under way, which held 2 or 3 points above Saturday's closing.

General business was quiet. The market was fairly steady at midday, with active months about net unchanged to 5 points higher.

LIVERPOOL SPOTS

LIVERPOOL, Feb. 18 (AP)—Cotton spot quiet; easier; American strict good middling 11.27; good middling 10.87; strict middling 10.67; middling 10.47; strict low middling 10.22; low middling 9.97; strict good ordinary 9.57; good ordinary 9.17. SAN ANTONIO FIRM ROBBED

Bandit Called Away All Of Attendants Before Raid

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 18 (AP).—A man entered the office of the Merchants Transfer company here early today, after making a call that sent all the spare drivers out of the building, held Al Barrett, night man, at bay with his pistol, and robbed the cash drawer of between $1,000 and $1,600.

Shortly before the man entered, Barrett received a telephone call to send three taxi cabs to carry a party from an apartment to a road house. There were only three drivers in the building at the time, and they were sent by Barrett.

IMPEACHMENT

which was participated in by the governor and nine of his friends, was to urge Johnston to remove Mrs. Hammonds from his department. It was understood, the minister said, that a resolution asking the removal of Mrs. Hammonds was being prepared in the house of representatives and it also was wished to discuss the rumors of moral turpitude.

The resolution was never introduced in the house, but one of the same nature was introduced and overwhelmingly defeated in the senate.

Johnston said nothing until his friends had finished. Dr. Mobley said, and then made a speech.

Asked to repeat the speech, the minister said it would "take about an hour."

"When boiled down, what was the nature of the speech?" asked H Tom Kight, member of the house board of managers which is prosecuting the governor's impeachment trial.

"He defended the character of Mrs. Hammonds," Dr. Mobley replied, "and said it was without reproach. He said she was exceedingly bright ,thoroughly loyal, and of wonderful service to him."

Johnston told the conference he felt he could not dispense with his secretary's services and didn't think a chivalrous man would remove a woman under fire, the minister said.

No agreement was reached until 3 a. m., when it was suggested that Mrs. Hammonds be transferred to another department. Dr. Mobley said. Key said he felt sure he could have the change made and Johnston said such an arrangement would be satisfactory to him if it could be effected, the minister testified. Key then was delegated to make the attempt, and Johnston himself asked the minister to accompany Key, Dr. Mobley said.

DOHENY SLAIN

office said, young Doheny's secretary had developed a nervous ailment which had become serious.

Dr. Fishbaugh, the Doheny family physician for ten years, at the request of Doheny, Jr., had attended Plunkett.

Saturday afternoon, a few hours before the double tragedy, a family conference had been held over Plunkett's condition, which had become worse as the result of his refusal to abide by the physician's instructions. The conferees attempted to induce Plunkett, who was living at "Greystone," the home of young Doheny, to go to a sanitorium for rest and treatment. They said Plunkett had refused to go.

Young Doheny was clad in night clothing and a robe when his body was found on the floor of Plunkett's room.

Dr. Fishbaugh, the first to see the bodies, expressed the opinion that Doheny had gone to Plunkett's room late in the evening to observe his condition and that he had found the secretary to be in a mentally serious condition.

A pillow, from one of the twin beds, had been neatly placed upon a chaise lounge, indicating to the officials that Doheny had tried to quiet Plunkett by having him lie down. That Plunkett refused was indicated by the unruffled pillow.

Edward L. Doheny, founder of the huge oil business, which he had put largely in the hands of his son, collapsed when called from his home across the street. He recovered quickly, however, and assured his friends he would face the situation stoically. He is 72 years old. His wife, mother of the younger Doheny, remained at home.

R. A. Begley Well Known Employee Simms Oil Co., Says His Wife Is Now Like Different Woman Since Taking Orgatone

Among the many well-known Lubbock people who have given their endorsements for Orgatone is R. A. Begley, for the past three years employed by the Simms Oil Company and residing at 1720 Nineteenth St. Mr. Begley came in Bowen's Drug Store recently for more Orgatone for his wife and in telling of the benefits she has derived from its use said:

"My wife has taken Orgatone about five weeks now, but I can see a big change in her in every way and several of her friends have told her she looks better than she has in months. She had been in a general run-down condition, weak and nervous for three years or more and was gradually getting worse all the time. She suffered from stomach trouble and indigestion and had fearful gas pains at times, which would often cause attacks of acute indigestion. She would have these attacks of gas so bad at times that she would become unconscious and when we called the doctors they said this was caused from acute indigestion. She would get up in the mornings all tired out and couldn't get through with her work without stopping to rest. Her cheeks were getting hollow and I could see she was losing ground all the time.

"I had become uneasy and worried about her condition, because we had never been able to get anything to check her troubles. So when a friend of ours claimed to get so much benefits from the use of Orgatone I decided to see what it would do for my wife. Well I'm glad to be able to say she already looks like a new woman and seems better in every way than she has since her troubles began. She has little or no trouble after eating now and the gas pains has disappeared entirely. Her nervousness is about all gone, she sleeps well at night and doesn't complain of feeling tired and worn out like she did. Orgatone seems to be exactly what she needed and is giving her back her health and strength as fast as we could expect. I am glad to recommend Orgatone for it is the only medicine that has ever done my wife any real good and I can't say too much for it."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Lubbock exclusively by the Bowen's Drug Store, under the personal direction of the special Orgatone representative. adv.
