Voting Places for Election Announced

Realignment of Collingsworth County voting boxes for the June 2 Democratic Second Primary Election has been announced by Doug Seal, Democratic County Chairman.

There is no change in the two voting box boundaries in Commissioners Precinct 3, where incumbent Bill Lowe is opposed by Elvis Pitts for commissioner.

This contains two voting boxes, No. 8 at Quail and Voting Box 9 at Wellington Elementary School.

Those who voted at Quail in the first primary will vote there again Saturday. Those who voted at the Elementary School on May 5 will go there on June 2. Cary Don Neeley will be the election judge at Quail and Raymond Horton at the Elementary School.

Precinct 3 is the only one that votes on a local race Saturday, Names of the candidates for Commissioner of Precinct 3 will not appear on the ballots in the other precincts.

Seale explained that Texas Election Laws require that when there is a contested race in a precinct, its voting box boundaries must remain unchanged.

Combining some of the other voting boxes will result in considerable saving of money he said.

Voting Box 4 at Lutie and Voting Box 5-6 at Samnorwood were combined, and voters will cast their ballots at the Samnorwood School. Willie Knoll will be the election judge.

There will be one voting box in the court house in Wellington to serve all persons in Voting Box 1 (the high school), Voting Box 3 (the court house) and Voting Box 7 (community building). Willie Faye Patrick will be the election judge.

The boundaries of Voting Box 2 in Dodson is unchanged. All who voted at Dodson May 5 will go there to vote again June 2.

The election will be held in American Legion Building with Mrs. Olan Farris as election judge.

Voting hours will be 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Helen Gollihugh, county-district clerk, said at the close of absentee voting that 74 ballots were cast. This is considered a good number, as only one precinct in the county has a local election to be determined.

It is also an indication of the interest in the United States Senatorial race, as neither of the judgeships has aroused any interest here, Seal said.

The three state races as they appear on the ballot are:

United State Senator: Kent Hance and Lloyd Doggett.

Judge, Court of Criminal Appeals, Place 2, W.C. (Bill) Davis and Roy E. Greenwood.

Judge, Court of Criminal Appeals, Place 3; Thomas B. "Tom" Thorpe and Bill White.

Bloodmobile Needs 80 Units on June 7

The Bloodmobile from the Red River Region of the Red Cross Blood Services, Wichita Falls, will be in Wellington Thursday, June 7 and at least 100 Collingsworth County residents will be needed to fill the 80 unit quota.

Without the bloodmobile visit two or three times each year, Collingsworth General Hospital would be left without a source of blood and blood components so necessary for its patients, reminds Billye Owens, who is in charge of the visit.

The bloodmobile will be in Wellington from 2:30 to 6 p.m. with the blood donor station set up at Bura Handley Community Center.

The bloodmobile visit is sponsored by Collingsworth General Hospital Auxiliary with B&PW Club and other organizations responsible for furnishing the canteen and providing other services.

Ladell Maxwell, director of nursing in Collingsworth General Hospital, will provide the professional staff.

There has been a longer-than-usual time since the last bloodmobile visit, and this makes it even more urgent that the quota be filled, Mrs. Owens said.

It was also emphasized that this call for blood donors is county-wide.

"If you are between the ages of 17 and 66, and are generally in good health, you are needed to donate blood on this date, said Mrs. Owens. Questions concerning eligibility may be answered on site by staff nurses at the Bloodmobile.

In order to assure a safe, health and plentiful blood supply, it is important that new donors be recruited for each mobile operation. Regular donors are encouraged to bring a "first timer."

Teen-agers over 17 are urged to give, as are college students home for the summer.

"Donating blood is not something to fear. It takes approximately 45 minutes to go through the entire process. Those persons who need to have a special appointment time may do so by contacting Mrs. Owens, 447-2294.

Swimming Pool Opens On Saturday

Marian Airpark Swimming Pool will open Saturday, June 2, for the summer season, according to Glen Taylor, city manager.

Hours will be 1 to 6 p.m.

Taylor said that for the present, the pool will be open from Tuesday through Sunday.

Jody Coleman has been hired as swimming pool manager for the second summer, Taylor said, and assistants at the pool will be Sandy Morris, Liz Brewer, Belinda Crelia, and Jeanne Taylor.

Ticket prices are unchanged from last year: children 75 cents, adults, single ticket $1.00 and season tickets $45.00.

Parties will be $25.00, if there is a responsible adult in charge who signs a release to the city. If a life guard is present, there is a $10.00 charge.

Lessons will be given if there is sufficient demand.

Eddie Davis, who heads the city's water department, said the entire premises have been cleaned up, the pool was scraped and painted, buildings at the pool site were repainted, pool joints calked, and the filter system and chlorinator system were reworked.

City council members are hoping for a repeat of last year's business at the pool, which was the best in years.

"We can count on the pool losing some money every year, for the city does not operate it with a profit in mind, but in the 1983 season, the pool lost less money than in many seasons. We considered it a successful year," Taylor said.

Tornado Season Peaks in Spring

COLLEGE STATION - As the site of the year's first confirmed tornado, the small town of Normangee was put on the map by nearly being blown off the map.

But the incident serves as a reminder that tornados can and will occur at any time of year in Texas, with peak activity coming in the months of April, May and June, according to data compiled by the State Climatologist's Office headquartered at Texas A&M University.

Because March, July, August and September also account for a significant number of twisters, the experts say citizens should always be alert during warm weather months for the possibility of a killer storm.

West New Club Golf Professional

Danny West has been hired as the new golf professional at Wellington Country Club, effective Tuesday, May 29.

Announcement of his hiring was made Tuesday morning, May 29, after a meeting of the board of directors Monday night, according to Eddie Orr, president.

This fills the place left open when Teddy Martin resigned to become golf pro at Childress Country Club.

West will be in charge of maintenance of the golf course and he will run the pro shop, Orr said.

West has been involved in the Country Club's golfing program as a member from the time the club was organized.

He is a life-long county resident.

''The board of directors is looking forward to working with Danny. We believe he will do a good job for us, Orr said.

With the watering that the golf course is receiving, it is beginning to look better, he added. The greens have been in better than expected condition but the fairways have suffered through the spring.

The club president also noted the hard work on the course this spring by club members since Martin left.

''The people are working hard on the swimming pool, too,'' Orr continued. ''Without the volunteer help of a lot of people, we wouldn't be as far along as we are.''

Cement will be poured for the baby pool this week and plumbing is being put in both the regular pool and baby pool. The project should be completed in only a few weeks.

West will begin immediately making plans for the Guys and Dolls tournament, slated for Saturday and Sunday, June 23 and 24.

Enlarging the membership is an ongoing project, and Orr noted the added attraction of the swimming pool should appeal to prospective members.

Since one vehicle is very much like another of the same make and model, it is not extraordinarily difficult to set insurance rates based on average values.

* * *

Customized vans, however, are another story. Each is unique, and insurance must be written to fit special needs.

* * *

Generally, the standard insurance is written on the underlying van or truck, and extra collision and comprehensive protection is tacked on for the customizing, including beds, carpeting, custom fenders, and the like.

* * *

Customizing is insured on a "stated amount basis." The value of the customized portion is stated in the policy as the maximum amount that will be paid for repair or replacement in case of loss. This part of the policy has its own deductible.

Man's triumph over a Menace to Life...

Sharks have always been man's enemies in the sea. They are a danger to the shipwrecked, and occasionally threaten the lives of swimmers along our coastal waters. Sharks are only one of the many dangers that man faces every day. The world, today, is in a turmoil and we must be alert and on guard for the enemies' moves. Now is the time to trust in the Lord and to seek His help.

"Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul. O my God, I trust in thee; let me not be ashamed, let not mine enemies triumph over me."
Psalm 25, 1-2

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Natural or Low-salt Cheeses Explained for the Homemaker

When it comes to salt, not all cheeses are created equal. So careful selection from among the many natural and "low-sodium" cheeses on the market is needed if you want to reduce your salt intake, says Texas A&M Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist Dr. Alice Hunt.

Salt has an important part in producing the distinctive flavors of many varieties of cheese, she explains. It may be added to curds during mixing, as it is with some soft cheeses, or it may be sprayed, sprinkled or rubbed on the rind of a cheese as it ages.

But not all natural cheeses are equally salty, says Hunt. For example, one ounce of swiss contains 74 milligrams of sodium while one ounce of edam has 274 milligrams. Cheeses produced in different dairies may also vary significantly in sodium content.

It's possible to moderate your salt intake by selecting those cheeses naturally lower in sodium, suggests the nutritionist. A switch from creamed cottage cheese to ricotta, for example, or from edam to gruyere or swiss will save 100 milligrams or more of sodium per ounce. Dry curd cottage cheese and uncreamed farmer or pot cheese should also be low in sodium since the salt is usually added in the creaming mixture, she adds. adds.

Some natural cheeses are available in no-salt versions. But they will still contain small amounts of sodium, since that mineral is found in milk, says Hunt. Gouda, swiss cheddar, colby and a few other varieties made without salt generally have a sodium content of fewer than 10 mgs. per ounce.

A number of "low-sodium" and "reduced-sodium" cheeses are also on the market, she says. But because natural cheeses have different sodium levels to begin with, the variation in reduced sodium levels can be large. That's why it's helpful to read and compare the nutrition labels, cautions Hunt.

One market survey found that the sodium content of low-sodium products ranged from less than 10 mgs. per ounce to 200 mgs. per ounce.

Processed American cheese products are also sold at two levels of sodium reduction: 90 mgs. and 200 mgs. an ounce. However, the regular process cheeses, cheese foods and cheese spreads are high in sodium. So even when the salt is reduced, they will still contain more sodium than many natural cheeses, notes the nutritionist.

Their children and grandchildren hosted the event, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Myers. Ninety guests were registered from two-thirty to four o'clock.

The table was covered with a white lace table cloth over gold. Silver appointments were used. The centerpiece was a silver candelabra presented by Mr. and Mrs. Tate to the Myers' on their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. The cake was accented in gold. Kathy Tate, the only granddaughter, served punch and Rhonda Jennings served coffee. Julie Stokes and Lynette Miller, alternated serving cake. Don Sanderson, youngest grandson, registered guests.

The house party included Karon Tate, Harriett Schaub, Juajaun Stokes, Bernice Stice, Pat Breeding, Lois Knoll, and Connie Dwyer.

Mrs. Tate, the former Stella Butler, and the daughter of the late Tinnie and John Henry Butler, moved with her parents to the Buck Creek Community from the Sunshine Ranch near Erick, Oklahoma in 1931.

The Tates were married on May 10, 1934, in Erick, Oklahoma. They made their first home in the Abra Community on the A.E. Tate farm. Stella and Otis Tate are farmers and ranchers at Abra where they raised their children and are active in the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Tate were active in the Lone Mound Baptist Church until the church disbanded. He is a former member of the Enterprise School Board and the Samnorwood School Board.

Mrs. Tate was the secretary-treasurer of the Lone Mound Baptist Church and helped with school activities while their children attended school at Samnorwood.

The Tates have four children. Bonita Tate Myers lives and teaches in the Samnorwood Community; Butch Tate is employed at Mark 20, Inc. in Sunray; Jackie Tate Sanderson, a registered nurse, is employed at Collingsworth General Hospital; and Leon Tate of the home works and helps his father at their farm in the Abra Community.

Mr. and Mrs. Tate have four grandchildren. Bobby Myers is employed on the Hess Ranch; Dwayne Myers, self-employed, owns a machine shop and windmill service; Kathy Tate is employed as an assistant manager at the Dairy Queen in Shamrock and Don Sanderson attends Samnorwood School.

Home Bussinesses Subject of Family Living Seminar-PEP

Practical help for persons operating a business from their home will be provided here Thursday, May 10, during the annual Family Living Seminar of the Panhandle Economic Program (PEP). The meeting is at Amarillo.

"A home-based business can be a real asset to family financial management, strengthening family life, preparing for another career, and self-fulfillmen." said Mrs. Jean Everett of Stratford, program chairman.

The program is being presented by the Family Living-Youth Task Force of PEP. PEP is a regional program of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and is designed to help families in 20 counties attain a better way of life through better management of all resources, explained Mrs. Sue Farris, district Extension director and task force advisor.

The seminar on home-based businesses will be held from 1:30 to 4 p.m. at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center, 6500 Amarillo Blvd., west.

Factors to consider in deciding on a home-based business will be discussed by Mrs. Bonnie Piernot, Extension family resource management specialist from College Station. These will include self-evaluation, personal inventory, advantages and disadvantages, family considerations, realistic expectations, and decisions on the product or service to be provided.

Financial and legal considerations will be explained by Dr. Dennis Fisher, Extension economist and business development specialist from College Station. He will cover financing, record keeping, insurance, taxes, zoning and other laws and ordinances regulating home businesses.

A panel of Panhandle entrepreneurs who operate home-based businesses will advise about "do's and don'ts" they have discoved from their experience. Panelists will be Mrs. Barbara Kenney of Spearman, with Kenney Key; Martin Rhodes, with Service Masters of Amarillo; Mrs. Kate Gamble, who operates Wings and Things in Canyon, and Mrs. Janie Kotara of Janie's Custom Crafts in Panhandle. Joe Bryant, Extension communications specialist, will be moderator.

Here's a follow-up on the meaning of "kyoodle," which I couldn't find in a dictionary last week.

James Wolf brought in a Webster's Third New International Dictionary and Seven Language Dictionary that held the answer. Kyoodle means to make a loud, useless noise, to holler or yap. "The dogs waved their tails happily and sought out a rabbit and went kyoodling after it..." ---John Steinbeck. "...quit listening to all this kyoodling from behind the fence..."---Sinclair Lewis.

Kent Hance is the best chance conservative West Texans will have for a long time to elect to the United States Senate someone who understands this area and their philosophy of government.

This contest, perhaps more than any recent statewide race, will be determined simply by which candidate's voters turn out in the runoff. Runoffs traditionally garner far fewer voters than primaries, and a very small number of voters may make a big difference. Whether or not you voted in the primary, you're eligible to vote in the runoff. You have a chance this Saturday to voice your opinion and make a difference in how the nation is governed. Don't miss that opportunity.

Senator Bill Sarpalius Reports

COST NOT A CONDEMNING FACTOR

AUSTIN — Simply because vocational education costs more to teach than academics, we should not base criticism on that fact.

Costs can be reduced somewhat by combining many classes and increasing the teacher/pupil ratio.

Eliminating vocational education — as the Select Committee on Public Education is recommending through slashes in funding — because it costs more than academics will drive costs up and increase the burden on rehabilitation programs down the road.

There is no intent that vocational education should be a tracking system for anyone, regardless of race. Vocational education wants students who desire to be in the programs and can benefit from the instruction.

The Select Committee says that only 15 percent of vocational training graduates enter employment in the field for which they are trained. At the end of the 1982 school year, 72,000 high school students completed vocational training.

One year later when a required follow-up was conducted, 60 percent of those who completed the course of instruction were in the labor force; another 32 percent were pursuing additional education; 4 percent were in the military; and 4 percent were not in the labor force or pursuing further education.

Of just those students who were in the labor force, 67 percent were employed in a field for which they were trained; 24 percent were employed in a field unrelated to their training and 9 percent were unemployed.

When all 72,000 vocational graduates in that 1982 class are lumped together, which includes those in the labor force as well as those not in the labor force, but pursuing additional education or military service, then the statement could be made that only 36 percent of all completions took a job related to their training; 13 percent took jobs unrelated to their training; and 5 percent were unemployed.

If graduates are pursuing additional education or are in the military, then they are not in the labor force. Many, however, will eventually take jobs in the labor force and will relate back to their high school training.

We Want Your Letter

The Wellington Leader encourages readers to comment on issues of local, regional, state, national or international interest with letters to the editor. The best letters are brief and discuss only one topic. All letters to the editor must be signed. The letter must include the signer's address and phone number, although this information will not be published with the letter.

Letter From The People

Dear Editor:

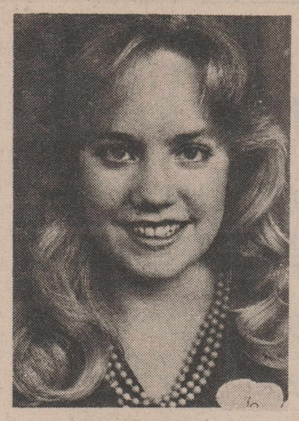

As a regular reader of the Leader, I enjoyed your column regarding the vote given Congressman Hance by Collingsworth County voters in the recent primary.

For those of us of voting age, we are probably given the last chance in the foreseeable future to elect a West Texan to the U.S. Senate.

I am hoping that Collingsworth County voters can give Kent Hance at least the same number of votes in the run-off. Hopefully those interested in Kent will redouble their efforts to get out the voters.

Extra effort by Kent's supporters could truly make the difference on June 2nd.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—The chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission last week said all-out war in the Persian Gulf would trigger new drilling in Texas.

"You don't have to go to Yale to figure out that if the supply is interrupted, then there's less oil, then there's less oil available, the price will go up and, as the price goes up, there's more domestic production."

Those simple words of wisdom from Mack Wallace put the finger on a situation being watched by Texans for several reasons, particularly officials in state government.

One thing Wallace could have tacked onto the end of his truism would have linked the Iran-Iraq conflict to Texas government: as domestic production increases, so do revenues for state coffers.

For months now, the dwindling state revenues have been blamed on the slump in oil production. In Texas, it has contributed to state losses from the severance taxes, and from sales taxes from petroleum industry related products. In cities dependent on that industry, such as Houston, Midland, Odessa, and several coastal towns, the slump contributed to unemployment and more loss of sales and tax monies.

Along the border, the devaluation of Mexico's peso due to the declining oil production also contributed to the economic slump.

For years Texans have taken the petroleum industry for granted, and now that it's missing do we really feel it? That's why legislators are expected to convene in Austin for a special session to raise taxes next month.

Sad Severances

A recent report by State Comptroller Bob Bullock explained some of the reasons for the drop in tax collections. For a decade, tax collections surged upward at a pace of 10 percent or more above the prior fiscal year.

The growth of oil and gas severance taxes paralleled the rise in energy prices until 1982, when oil and gas tax income accounted for 27.4 percent of state tax income. Last year, for the first time in 20 years, tax collections from the two sources declined by 5.2 percent. Bullock's report indicates the severance tax will grow slowly at best, and probably will decline slowly with the drop in statewide oil and gas production.

In many parts of the world, spiders are a sign of good luck.

Dozier Exes Hold Reunion, Plan 1985 Event

When former students of the Dozier School gathered for their first reunion Saturday, May 26, some of those present were seeing classmates for the first time since the Dozier high school transferred to Samnorwood 50 years ago.

In the short business meeting Saturday afternoon, they agreed to hold the reunion again next year, with a voice vote of a loud "Amen."

They re-elected the same committee that had put together this reunion: Dorothy Sechrist Darrow, Willie Massey Turner of Amarillo, Shorty Sechrist of Wheeler, Bart Martindale, David Clark, and Goldie McCracken Barnett.

The speaker was D.V. Biggers of Pampa, one of the last teachers before consolidation, teaching under Clyde C. Brown, principal, who was present. Earlier Biggers had been one of Browns students at Dozier.

Biggers completed a 43-year teaching career before he retired 10 years ago. He recalled years at Dozier, paid tribute to those no longer living, and in the humorous portion of his talk did a song and dance routine.

A catered barbecue lunch was served at noon but most of the day was given over to visiting and reminiscing.

Between 135 and 150 attended, although a number of these failed to register.

Those who did register were:

Mr. and Mrs. C.E. Stephens of Amarillo; David and Virginia Clark, Dozier; Nolda Sechrist Bonds of Shamrock;

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Kirklin of Amarillo;

State's Longhorns Win Show Honors

At a recent longhorn show held during the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show here, several entries owned by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department won ribbons. They are part of the official state herd which is distributed in seven state parks.

Herd Manager Lester Galbreath of Albany said the state longhorn herd was established at Lake Corpus Christi State Park in the late 1930s, and was moved to Ft. Griffin in 1948.

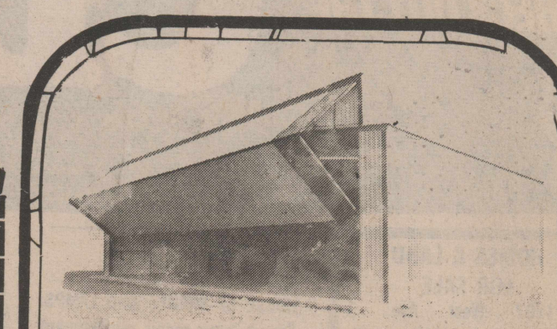

Possum Kingdom State Park currently has the largest herd, at 46 adult animals, followed by Ft. Griffin, 37, Dinosaur Valley and Copper Breaks, both with eight, Abilene and Palo Duro Canyon, both with four, and Lyndon B. Johnson, one.
