With threee-fourths of the votes counted, Interior Minister Radolfo Martin Villa said candidates loyal to Suarez would win 170 of the 350 seats in the Chamber of Deputies, the lower house of the Cortes parliment.

Irish VotingToday

DUBLIN, Irland (AP)-Prime Minister Liam Cosgrave's Fine Gael-Labor coalition was given a slight edge today as Irish voters chose a government to face rampant economic woes and a guerrilla war next door in Northern Ireland.

A tight race was predicted, but most commentators expected Cosgrave's forces to nose out Jack Lynch's Finana Fail and become the first government in Irish history to win re-election.

PODGORNY REPLACED IN POWER SHUFFLE

Brezhnev New Soviet President

By THOMAS KENT
Associated Press Writer

MOSCOW (AP) — In the biggest Kremlin power shuffle since the overthrow of Nikita Khruschev in 1964, Soviet Communist party chief Leonid Brezhnev replaced Nikolai Podgorny today as president of the Soviet Union.

Brezhnev, 70, the nation's undisputed political boss, also continued as general secretary of the party. He is the first person in Soviet history to hold the posts simultaneously although he served as president before he took over the top party job. Lenin, Stalin and Khruschchev each was simultaneously party chief and premier.

The shift had been expected since May 24, when the 74-year-old Podgorny was removed from the Communist party's ruling Politburo without explanation.

An announcement to a joint session this morning of the nation's 1,500-member parliament, the Supreme Soviet, said Podgorny asked to be relieved of the presidency "in connection with his retirement on pension."

Podgorny was not present.

Following the parliament's approval of Podgorny's retirement, Brezhnev was proposed for the presidency by Mikhail Suslov, the party's top ideologist. The proposal was adopted unanimously.

"I would like to assure you, my dear comrades, that I will give all my forces to the achievements of the people in the construction of communism," Brezhnev said to enthusiastic applause.

"I will do my best in order that our country and peace on the globe may be strengthened and peace and cooperation among peoples may develop," he added.

Suslov praised Brezhnev for "organizational ability and dedication to the cause of the Communist party of the Soviet Union." He also lauded his "outstanding personal qualities" and "selfless labor for the sake of the motherland."

Under the proposed new Soviet constitution which a commission headed by Brezhnev drafted to replace Stalin's 1936 constitution, the president is entitled to a first deputy. Diplomatic observers speculate that this deputy will carry out the routine presidential functions while Brezhnev continues to give most of his time to more important matters.

Podgorny has been out of sight since he was ousted from the Politburo. The Kremlin told East European diplomats he was ill.

BIG SHIPMENT -- This massive reactor vessel for Texas Electric's Comanche Peak nuclear power plant arrived at the plant site Wednesday. The 347-ton vessel was transported by barge from Chattanooga to Houston and then by the special rail car to the plant near Glen Rose. Comanche Peak Unit 1 will begin operation in 1981.

Reactor Vessel At Plant Site

A 347-ton reactor vessel for Comanche Peak nuclear power plant arrived at the plant site yesterday on a specially designed rail car.

The giant carbon steel vessel rolled onto the plant site near Glen Rose after more than two years of construction and a month of travel.

The nuclear plant's atom-splitting process will take place inside the reactor vessel. The uranium fuel rods will be loaded into the reactor vessel shortly before the plant begins operation in 1981.

The reactor vessel is the single heaviest piece of equipment at the plant. It is 44 feet tall and 22 feet in diameter. Its walls are more than eight inches thick at the beltline.

Because of its size, transporting the vessel was a major undertaking. It traveled from its manufacturer in Chattanooga to Houston by barge, and from Houston to the plant by the special rail car.

The vessel that arrived yesterday is for Comanche Peak Unit 1. An identical vessel is now under construction and will be delivered next year for Unit 2, which begins operation in 1982.

Comanche Peak is owned jointly by Texas Electric, Texas Power & Light and Dallas Power & Light -- all subsidiaries of Texas Utilities Co. The utilities are building Comanche Peak and lignite-fired plants in East Texas to reduce their dependence on expensive and short-supplied natural gas.

Gulf Oil Admits Cartel Link

WASHINGTON (AP)-Gulf Oil Corp. officials today acknowledged the firm participated in an international uranium cartel that sought to fix uranium prices, but said its involvement was required by the government of Canada.

Jerry McAfee, Gulf's board chairman and chief executive officer, told a House investigations subcommittee that the Canadian government required Gulf's Canadian uranium corporation to join the cartel. "At no time did Gulf's Canadian subsidiary voluntarily seek to become part of any producers' arrangement. It was compelled to do so," McAfee said.

His testimony came as the panel released secret Gulf and Canadian government documents showing that officials of Gulf and its Canadian-based uranium-producing subsidiary actively participated in the cartel.

The documents show Gulf involvement with the organization since 1972. They include minutes of meetings by the cartel and groups of the cartel around the world in which Gulf officials are listed as attending.

McAfee denied that the arrangement violated any U. S. antitrust laws. He said the dramatic increase in the price of uranium over the past few years is due more to tough new environmental, health and safety regulations than to the cartel's actions.

Subcommittee chairman John E. Mos, D-Calif., said the documents released by the subcommittee remove any doubt about the existence of the cartel.

Moss claimed that Gulf, through its Canadian subsidiary, was an active participant in the cartel.

George Patterson brought back a sobering report from the annual meeting of the Texas City Managers Association in Austin.

One of the features on the convention program was a presentation on physical fitness and health. Part of it dealt with a review of the symptoms of heart disease. Patterson said one of the city managers from a South Central Texas town commented that he seemed to have all the symptoms that were enumerated.

Sure enough, he did.

That evening he suffered a fatal heart attack in his motel room.

Nunley Is Named RS&P President

In a meeting this morning in Snyder, directors of the Roscoe, Snyder and Pacific Railroad elected Mickey Nunley president of the railroad.

Nunley, who has been serving as vice president of the railroad for the past year, succeeds Roger B. Mize, who remains as chairman of the board.

The new RS&P president joined the firm on June 1, 1976, after serving as manager of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce for six years.

Nunley, a resident of Snyder for the past 19 years, is married and he and his wife Jo Ann have a daughter, Rhonda, a 1977 graduate of Snyder High School, and a son, Rollen, an SHS student.

"Mickey has done a fine job for us as vice president," said Mize, the board chairman. "We are looking forward to working with him in his new position."

BY SCHOOL BOARD

Dismissal Of Cafeteria Managers Is Upheld

Dismissal of two school cafeteria managers was upheld by the board of trustees last night following a hearing in the administration building.

The hearing had been requested by Mrs. Mary Beth Hicks and Mrs. Joyce Smith, who had received letters of dismissal citing failure to follow instructions.

Following the open hearing, the board went into executive session at 10:30 p.m. and shortly after 11:30 p.m. reconvened in open session and voted 4-2 to uphold the dismissals. Mrs. Vera McSpadden made the motion, which drew a second from Max von Roeder, with Bill Voss and Dillard Teal joining them in voting for it, while Jerry Rice and Bill Clayton voted against it.

In the hearing, Mrs. Hicks, who was manager of the cafeteria at West Elementary, and Mrs. Smith, who was manager of the cafeteria at East Elementary, asked for reconsideration, declaring that they felt they could work with the administration and that differences could be resolved. They said they felt that there had been some lack of communication and some misunderstanding.

Mrs. Hicks and Mrs. Smith both said instructions concerning scheduling of cafeteria employes which they received from Charles Ketchum, the school food service director, were confusing and both said they felt that they had complied with instructions as they understood them.

They said that some of their staff members were apprehensive, possibly because they, too, were confused, and that some had even threatened to walk out.

It was agreed that Ketchum had advised cafeteria personnel that his goal was 10 meals per labor hour. He had noted that the state average was some 12 to 14 meals per labor hour in school cafeterias, while the Snyder average was around 7½ to 8 meals per labor hour.

Mrs. Smith said her cafeteria at East Elementary achieved as many as 12.3 meals per hour toward the end of the spring term until the last week of school when cafeteria participation declined, because classes were having end-of-school picnics.

Mrs. Hicks said she had made out work schedules on four-by-five-inch cards and that Ketchum had told her they were acceptable.

Ketchum who had just returned from an out-of-town trip and did not arrive at the meeting until around 9:30 p.m., said that scheduling involved both the type of work and

IF WILLING TO PAY PRICE

Langdon Says US Could Become Self Sufficient

AUSTIN (AP) - The Texas Railroad Commission noted today that the United States is importing approximately 28 per cent of the crude oil it needs, but Commissioner Jim Langdon said the nation could become self sufficient if "it is willing to pay the price."

"If the nation undertakes to solve its own problems at home, we can do it," Langdon told the statewide monthly oil allowable hearing.

The commission set the July allowable at 100 per cent - the fifth consecutive month of all-out production.

It was noted that crude oil imports into the United States were 6,740,000 barrels per day in June.

As usual, the East Texas Field was restricted to 86 per cent to avoid possible waste.

Langdon also sketched for oil executives a proposal to store synthetic oils. He said he would spell it out in writing after talking to some of them.

Chairman Mack Wallace questioned the priorities of New York state in the national interest. He said the New York legislature had rejected a proposal to permit drilling for natural gas in Lake Erie but had overwhelmingly approved a proposal to allow establishment of gambling casinos to compete with New Jersey.

He said facetiously that he knew it would be comforting to the hundreds of thousands of people out of work in New York to know that they could gamble while they were looking for a job.

Three of 15 major Texas crude oil purchasers - Gulf, Exxon, Shell - lowered their nominations for July but spokesmen said it was merely an effort to keep the nominations in line with what they expected to receive.

Total nominations for crude oil in July were 3,915,851 barrels a day, a decrease of 26,543 from June.

Nominations by major purchasers for July, in barrels per day:

Amoco 335,000.

Exposure Case Reported Here

Topping the list of police activity is a reported incident of indecent exposure.

A woman told police officers Wednesday morning that a man had exposed himself to her near the intersection of 26th St. and College Ave.

When police arrived at the scene, the male subject was gone, officers said. Officers were, however, given the description of a vehicle the suspect is believed to have been driving.

Late Thursday morning officers reported they had not questioned any suspect in connection with the incident, but said they were continuing to investigate the matter. The incident was reported to police at 10:15 a.m. Wednesday.

In other police activity, Mary Gemes told officers her $75 poodle had been taken from her car while the vehicle was parked Sunday night at Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Approximately $51.50 was taken from the Snyder High School gym, Sue Sullivan told police. The theft, she said, occurred between 5 p.m. June 14 and 9 a.m. June 15.

A Lamesa woman, Nancy Renner, told officers this morning that her purse had been removed from her car while the vehicle was parked at 3706 Austin Ave. Wednesday afternoon. The purse, officers said, was later found in a near-by alley, but the woman's billfold was missing. The billfold contained about $5 in cash plus credit cards and personal papers, officers reported.

Officers also reported finding an abandoned vehicle at the scene of an accident in which the driver is alleged to fled on foot. Allegedly found in the car was a small amount of marijuana.

The car was in collision with a reflector pole Wednesday at 10:39 a.m. in the 1000 block of College Ave. Officers reported questioning a suspect in connection with the incident. Moderate damages were reported to the car, a 1971 Ford.

Earlier Wednesday morning, at 9:50, a two-vehicle accident was reported in the 3900 block of Muriel. Involved in the mishap were a 1974 GMC pickup truck and a 1976 Chevrolet driven by Tanya Culp Minton. Only minor damages were reported to the vehicles.

The parking lot of the Pioneer Furniture Store was the scene of a minor accident Wednesday at 11:34 a.m.

A 1972 Ford truck and trailer was in collision with a parked 1975 Oldsmobile owned by Joan Borum Halbert.

Odessa DA Files Suit On Paper

ODESSA (AP)—Ector County Dist. Atty. John Green has filed a $4.5 million libel suit against the Odessa American, bringing to $8 million the amount of damages he seeks in connection with articles printed about him by the newspaper.

Green filed his latest suit Wednesday and later told a new conference he looks "forward to the truth brought out in a court of law, not in a newspaper." He had earlier filed a $3.5 million libel suit against the American.

The West Texas newspaper and Green have been fueding since last year.

The district attorney's latest libel suit stemmed from publication in some of the American's Tuesday's editions of details of a civil rights suit filed against Green by Leroy Lafoon, a convicted murderer.

"The most recent article being published only yesterday (Tuesday) in some of the papers describes me and your sheriff Elton Faught as being involved in a conspiracy to commit murder," Green said Wednesday.

"The man they quoted has now managed to use, as so many of the criminals have used the Odessa American in the past, to accuse your D.A. and others of commiting crimes," he added. "It is common knowledge that the criminals we convict often sue us on frivilous allegations."

Lafoon alleged in his suit that Green and others had tried to coerce him into killing a man now in the state prison. He alleged they threatened to block any future parole unless he cooperated.

At the news conference Wednesday, Green, who said he had not been served with Lafoon's suit, denied all of the allegations.

He said that he felt that the cafeterias at West and East Elementary Schools had not made satisfactory progress in initiating scheduling for the purpose of determining staff needs for next year and that they had deliberately attempted to disrupt the scheduling plan for the entire system.

Bill Potts, a representative of Texas State Teachers Association from Plainview, attended the meeting in Mrs. Smith's behalf.

The student gasped when he saw the Professor go up with dummy's ace of spades at trick one. Here was a simple hand with success sure if either of two finesses were going to work. But here was the great expert refusing to take one of them!

The Professor led a club to his ace at trick two, cashed his ace and king of diamonds, noted the fall of the queen from West, entered dummy with a trump, discarded his last spade on the jack of diamonds that had become a lucky winner, lost the heart finesse but made his slam.

"How did you know that the spade finesse was wrong?" asked the student.

"I didn't," replied the Professor. "I couldn't lose the hand if the spade finesse was on and by refusing it I gave myself a slight extra chance."

That is just what the Professor had done. Give West the king of spades and the hand is cold without the queen of diamonds dropping because, after ruffing out dummy's jack of diamonds, South will lead a spade. If West holds the king he will be caught in an end play.

Strange Character In 'The Last Collection'

By Seymour Blicker.
Marrow. 269 pages. $8.95

Some men drink. Others chase women. Artie Kerner's hangup is buying. Artie will buy anything. Just so long as he's buying something. If Artie doesn't buy, he gets violently ill.

Naturally, it takes a lot of money to feed Artie's habit especially since the more an object costs the better Artie feels after buying it. Pretty weird? Not really, considering some of the other strange characters that populate Seymour Blicker's very funny novel, "The Last Collection."

There's Artie's psychiatrist, Dr. Lehman, who operates out of an automated office that includes a beach hut on an island in a pool. During consultations, Lehman is prone to duck into the hut, put on swim trucks and take a dip in the pool while the abused patient-usually Arite -tries to talk of his problem.

There's Morrie Hankleman. A really nasty sort, a novice loan shark who makes the mistake of loaning money to Artie. Morrie gets his kicks out of conning fat hitchhickers into running after his car in hope of getting a ride he has no intention of giving them.

And there's Solly "The Hawk" Weisskopf, an aging collector of loans from people who make the mistake of borrowing from a loan shark and are unable to pay back on time. Solly is the best collector in Montreal, so Morrie hires him to get back the loan he has made to Artie.

The result is a very funny story in which the double-cross is something only children would use. Consider: At one point you've got Morrie pulling a deal on Solly while Solly's doing the same thing to Morrie and Artie is crossing both of them up. Naturally, all of this chaos is straightened out at the end, and a shocker it is.

The confused plot gives author Blicker good opportunity to get in some satiric barbs at contemporary society and he does so with a vengeance.

House Calls By Nurses

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)-Nurses could easily replace doctors in the latter's diminishing role of making house calls, says Anne Zimmerman, president of the American Nurses' Association.

"A lot more people could get health care at home," she says, "and they need professional attention at home in many cases, as much as at the hospital."

Nurses providing care could be reimbursed by insurance companies, she explains. People with limited incomes who need care that could be administered at home often enter hospitals that are paid by Medicare of Medicaid, the ANA president points out, adding, "and that's an extravagant use of the dollars available.

Father's Day Time To Stop And Remember

This Father's Day, it might be a good thing for us to stop and remember the sacrifices made by the men who settled our country. Often times they, too, were fathers who spent long times away from their families in order to carve a better life somewhere else.

The settling of the West is a good example. Men from the Midwest and East struck out for a "land of opportunity," where they hoped to claim some land, build a house, get some cattle and send for the family. Sometimes this meant months, even years, away from home and loved ones.

For those families that made the journey together, life at first was often a series of hardships. But their strength and determination is what carved America out of the frontier wilderness.

Remembering the courage these men and women should help give this Father's Day deeper significance for every American family.

The first rotary steam engine was invented by British engineer James Watt in 1785.

NBA Lends Helping Hand

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) –The National Basketball Association Board of Governors announced Wednesday the adoption of a two-point program which should help the four teams which joined the league from the American Basketball Association one year ago–the Dever Nuggets, Indiana Pacers, New York Nets and San Antonio Spurs, whose combined debts total more than $30 million.

They agreed to extend until June, 1980, the deadline for payment of the final $200,000 of the $3.2 million entrance fee each team owed the league. That money had been due this month.

And they took a step which is expected to make it easier for the four teams to borrow money, agreeing to subordinate the league's security interest to that of any lending institution. This means that a bank would have first claim on the assets of a franchise ahead of the league, making the prospects for obtaining a loan more attractive.

"This shows that the other 18 teams in the league are aware of our problems and that they are trying to help us," said New York Nets executive Bill Melchionni.

EASTWICK SAYS HE WON'T SIGN

Seaver Shipped To Reds Club

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

The top names bartered away before baseball's trading deadline also were the biggest name-callers in recent weeks.

- Tom Seaver once called his boss "a lunatic."

- Dave Kingman said his employers were living in the dark ages.

- And Rawly Eastwick said his chiefs were good at back stabbing.

These players today work for different organizations, although it was ironic that Seaver now plays for the team Eastwick could not stand.

Seaver, perhaps the top pitcher in baseball the past 10 years, and Kingman, a boom-or-bust slugger, were traded by the New York Mets Wednesday night.

The right-handed Seaver went to the Cincinnati Reds for right-handed pitcher Pat Zachry, the National League's rookie of the year in 1976, infielder Doug Flynn and minor league out-fielders Steve Henderson and Dan Norman. Henderson, who swings a big bat, and Flynn, a versatile infielder, were unable to crack the Reds' talent-rich lineup.

Seaver's main complaint with his boss, M. Donald Grant, was that he was cheap. He would not lay out millions for last year's talented free agents and he would not renegotiate Seaver's three-year, $675,000 contract.

Bob Howsan, the Red's president, said Seaver's contract would not be renegotiated this year.

Kingman takes his all-or-nothing bat to San Diego, where he will be toiling for the Padres, who did spend millions on a couple of free agents last year. Kingman who is unsigned, also thought Grant was tight with money. It was not known whether Kingman would sign with the Padres, who sent reserve infielder Bobby Valentine and left-handed pitcher Paul Siebert to the Mets.

Eastwick also was unsigned, and he said that he does not intend to put his name on a St. Louis contract. The Cardinals, who now pack a potent one-two punch in Eastwick and Al Hrabosky out of the bullpen, sent minor league pitcher Doug Capilla to the Reds in the deal.

The fact that Kingman and Eastwick were unsigned will not invalidate those deals, although, exactly one year ago, Oakland owner Charles O. Finley sold two of his unsigned players, Rollie Fingers and Joe Rudi, for $1 million apiece to the Boston Red Sox, and commissioner Bowie Kuhn blocked the transactions.

In other transactions involving the Reds, Cincinnati dealt left-handed pitcher Mike Caldwell to the Milwaukee Brewers for a pair of minor leaguers, Richard O'Keefe, a left-handed pitcher, and shortstop Garry Pyka, and acquired the contract of utility infielder Rick Auerbach from the Texas Rangers.

The Mets did not stop when they had unloaded their stars. They traded infielder Mike Phillips to St. Louis for outfielder Joel Youngblood.

Rangers Blank Cleveland, 6-0

CLEVELAND (AP) - Mike Marshall, Adrian Devine and Darold Knowles combined on a four-hitter as Texas defeated Cleveland and handed the Indians their 4th straight loss, 6-0.

Marshall allowed three hits before tiring in his third start of the year. Devine pitched the eighth and Knowles the ninth for Texas, which swept the three-game series.

Brewers 6, Orioles 2

Don Money capped Milwaukee's six-run second inning with a two-run homer, and the Brewers went on to defeat Baltimore behind the combined seven-hit pitching of Jim Slaten and Sam Hinds.

Money had two singles in addition to his homer, giving him 12 hits in his last eight games.

Cecil Cooper had two hits as Milwaukee sent 11 batters to the plate in the second. After Cooper launched the rally with a single, Mike Flanagan walked two batters.

Tigers 9, Blue Jays 0

Fernando Arroyo fired a five-hitter for his first major league shutout as Detroit beat Toronto. Arroyo kept Toronto batters blasting the ball into the dirt most of the game, and Tigers first baseman Jason Thompson made 16 of the Tiger's 27 putouts.

Arroyo, 4-1 as a starter since being inserted into the rotation May 14, improved his season record to 3-3.

Twins 3, Angels 2

Rod Carew turned an ordinary double into a triple in the seventh inning, which eventually led to Craig Kusick's game winning sacrifice fly.

Dave Golts blanked the Angels after giving up two runs in the first inning. The right-hander scattered nine hits, struck out eight and walked two while going the distance for the fourth time this year.

Mariners 6, A's 5

Juan Bernhardt's two-out single in the 11th inning capped a two-run rally as Seattle edged Oakland. Mike Kekich, 4-1, pitched four innings of relief and picked up the victory.

Dave Collins opened the 11th for Seattle with an infield single, moved to second on Bill Stein's sacrifice and scored on Larry Milbourne's single, tying the score 5-5.

Dave Giusti then replaced Terrealba. Skip Jutze sacrificed Milbourne to second and Bernhardt then singled for the winning run.

Mets Edge Rallying Atlanta At The Wire

By BARRY WILNER
AP Sports Writer

The New York Mets lost Tom Seaver, Dave Kingman and Mike Phillips Wednesday night. The Mets also won a game Wednesday night.

While the team's front office was busy wheeling and dealing before the major league trading deadline, the Mets blew a 4-0 lead before rallying for a 6-5 victory over the Atlanta Braves.

Bruce Bejsclair hit a two-run homer and John Milner collected a single.., triple and three RBI in the triumph. For Milner, it was a happy homecoming.

Reds 8, Phillies 7, 10 Innings

George Foster's 15th homer of the season with two out in the ninth tied the score and Pete Rose singled home pinch runner Champ Summers in the 10th with the winner for the Reds. Home runs by Mike Schmidt, Greg Luzinski and Richie Hebner helped the Phillies build their early lead before the Reds scored four runs in the seventh to close in.

Expos 2, Astros 0

Brown won his third consecutive game for the Expos, who gained their eighth triumph in the last 12 games.

"I established my curve ball early and fooled the hitters in the late innings," said Brown. "I made a few bad pitches on occasion but the hitters got themselves out."

Dodgers 10, Pirates 1

Steve Garvey homered for the fourth consecutive game and Dusty Baker celebrated the signing of a new four-year contract with a homer and three runs batted in for Los Angeles. Rick Rhoden coasted to his ninth victory in 12 decisions with late relief from Mike Garman.

The Dodgers broke open the game with a seven-run sixth inning in which they sent 12 batters to the plate.

Cubs 2, Padres 0

Reuschel won his third straight game with a four-hitter as the surprising Cubs posted their sixth straight victory. Reuschel who struck out nine, has not allowed an earned run in his last 26 innings.

Manny Trille, the leading bitter in the National League with a .375 average, had three singles for the Cubs.

Cardinals 9, Giants 6

Ted Simmons hit his eighth homer and drove in three runs and Garry Templeton sent in the winning run with a single in the seventh inning as the Cardinals rallied to beat the Giants.

Jerry Mumphrey and Simmons had three hits apiece in pacing the 14-hit St. Louis attack. Darrel Thomas had four hits for the Giants and Maro Hill slugged a two-run home run.

Pate Confident For U. S. Open

TULSA, Okla. (AP)–Defending champion Jerry Pate had the rest of the U.S. Open field just where he wanted them today - "feeling sorry for me."

"I'm going to give everybody something to write about...ther's no reason why I can't win," said the 23-year-old former University of Alabama star who has been plagued with a shoulder injury since he won the Phoenix Open, the first tournament of the year.

With a field of 152 other players chasing Pate on the opening round of the 77th National Championship, the confident Georgian said: "I'm pain-free, both physcially and mentally. I was on the practice tee Wednesday and my shoulder and arms no longer hurt. I wasn't even thinking about it until somebody mentioned it."

Pate has abandoned the use of the drug butazelin which had helped ease the inflammation in his shoulder.

Chi Chi Rodriquez, said "Jerry is playing so well I wish he had taken another month off. He's really putting."

OILERS, BRAVES ON TOP

Bullets Drop League Lead

What looked like a possible clean sweep of Snyder Junior Teenage League first-round play for the Bullets was pushed under the rug this week after the fire-ower team lost to the Oilers and Braves, one-two.

The Bullets had reached the final two games without a loss, but fell to the Oilers 19-14, June 10, and to the Braves 5-4 on the 13th. The twin defeats dropped them to third place in the first-round play, with the Dodgers, Buffs and Rebels holding fourth, fifth and sixth spots.

Slapped into a tie for first place, the Oilers and Braves each have one lost to credit. The Braves were defeated in the season opener by the Oilers, 7-3. The Oiler loss is somewhat more humiliating. They dropped their second season game to the Rebels, 8-3, who now sit in the Snyder Teen League cellar.

Actually, the Buffs and Rebels both hold 1-4 records. The Buffs, however, defeated the Rebels 14-11 Tuesday night.

The Dodgers lurk in fourth place with a 2-3 record, having lost to all but the Rebels and Buffs.

Second-round play begins tonight, as the Dodgers meet the Buffs, and the Oilers face the Braves. Friday, the Bullets and Rebles fight it out. All games are played at Moffett Field.

Tonight's Oilder-Braves bout could go a long way in determining the Snyder champion. A win for either team would mean a quick edge, plus momenteum for the rest of the series.

Below are team records and pitchers, according to Teen League scorebooks.

OILERS 1-1

TALKS STALLED IN LONDON

Air Travel Between US, Great Britain May Halt

By HOWARD BENEDICT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most air travel between the United States and Great Britain could halt in less than a week unless the two countries break a stalemate delaying agreement on a new transportation treaty.

A halt in flights over the North Atlantic would disrupt vacation plans for thousands of summer travelers.

Transportation Secretary Brock Adams, described as "worried" about the situation, scheduled a news conference for today to discuss the talks underway in London, but later canceled the meeting with the press without explanation.

Adams met Tuesday and Wednesday with the presidents of Trans World Airlines, Pan American and Seaboard World Airways to consider alternate landing sites in Europe in case the carriers of the two nations have to stop service between the United States and Britain.

TWA and National Airlines, which flies between Miami and London, have filed proposals with the Civil Aeronautics Board to divert their London-bound flights to Paris.

Pan Am likely would shift flights to Brussels and Amsterdam. Pam Am also is proposing that its Tokyo-Hong Kong flights land at Taiwan because Hong Kong is British territory and falls under the agreement.

Seaboard, a cargo carrier, also is likely to change to Paris.

Some American officials have expressed optimism that an agreement in principle can be reached by the deadline next Wednesday. That would allow extension of the present treaty while details are made final.

The chief negotiators, Alan Boyd of the United States and Patrick Shovelton of Britain, said in May that "concrete progress" had been made. The talks, which began last September, are being held in secret.

Agreements reportedly have been made on some issues, but many stumbling blocks remain.

Britain last year renounced a 31-year-old air treaty between the two countries, seeking a larger share of the three-million-passenger market divided by the air carriers of the two nations.

Pan American and TWA carry nearly two-thirds of the North Atlantic traffic between the United States and Britain, compared with about one-third for the state-owned British Airways.

The British have asked that only one airline from each country be allowed to fly passengers between any two cities. They also have proposed the two nation's airlines share the lucrative New York-London route on a 50-50 basis.

Another complex issue is a British desire to eliminate the so-called "fifth freedom" rights of foreign airlines. These rights allow an airline to carry passengers from more distant points through London and Hong Kong to the United States.

Burns, Albertson In CBS Special

LOS ANGELES (AP)- George Burns and Jack Albertson, award winners for the same role in "The Sunshine Boys," will be apearing together in a CBS movie special, "The Comedy Shop."

Burns will make a guest appearance in the 2½-hour film to be produced by MGM Television. Albertson stars as the owner of a comedy night club that is saved from bankruptcy by a show starring Burns.

Albertson created the role of the aging comedian in "The Sunshine Boys" on Broadway, winning a Tony for his performance. Burns assumed the same role in the movie version and was awarded an Oscar as best supporting actor.

Gertrude's Hat Not Suitable

ASCOT, England (AP) -- Gertrude Shilling, notorious for 17 years for the startling hats she wears at the Royal Ascot, the ritziest meeting on the English horse racing calendar, went too far this time.

She was barred from the Royal Enclosure Tuesday when she turned up in a three-foot high, six-foot-wide creation, mostly of wire decorated with red, white and blue rosettes. Officials said it was "not suitable" for the comfort and viewing of other racegoers.

CCC Is Buying More Surplus Dairy Products

WASHINGTON (AP)-- As Agriculture Department experts predicted earlier this spring, government purchases of surplus dairy products are soaring because of higher federal milk price supports in effect since April 1.

The purchases, which involve butter, cheese and nonfat dry milk, are bought by USDA's Commodity Credit Corporation under a law requiring surplus commodities to be "removed" from the market to support the price of milk.

The department said that in May the CCC contracted to buy 35.4 million pounds of butter, compared with no purchase for the same month last year; 13.3 million pounds of cheese, compared with 3.5 million a year ago; and 63.2 million pounds of nonfat dry milk, compared with 25.3 million in May of 1976.

The department, under orders from the White House, boosted the price support of manufacturing-grade milk to $9 per 100 pounds from $8.26 per hundredweight. With milk production rising, prices have declined and thus have triggered the purchases.

By the end of May, the CCC had 141.9 million pounds of butter stockpiled without commitments for use and more than 50.2 million pounds of cheese. A year ago, the corporation had no uncommitted inventories of butter and cheese.

The uncommitted inventory of nonfat dry milk was 479.7 million pounds as of May 31, up 374.9 million a year ago.

Surplus products acquired by CCC can be donated to schools and other feeding programs and to overseas aid programs. Those also can be sold to the industry when market prices rise enough to justify it.

Department officials have estimated that purchases of butter, cheese and powdered milk under the price support program will total about 7.3 billion pounds of equivalent fluid milk at an estimated cost of $740 million during the 1976-77 market year, which will end next March 31.

Last year the purchases were equivalent to 3.4 billion pounds of milk and cost about $311 million. In 1975-76, a period of relative short supply, the CCC bought the equivalent of 900 million pounds of milk for $196 million.

With feed prices easing from their peaks of a year or two ago, farmers have stepped up milk production. Output in calendar 1976 was 120.4 billion pounds, up from 115.3 billion in 1975, and was the most since 1965.

Milk production is expected to rise another 2 to 3 per cent this year, mainly because of the "assurance of higher average farm milk prices," according to the department.

Heart attack facts

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am still a nervous wreck after losing my husband three months ago. He was only 49 years old and seemed to be in good health. He never complained about a thing.

We were watching the late movie on TV when he started having some pain under his breast bone. He went to the bathroom, collapsed and was unconscious.

I called the emergency ambulance as I didn't know what else to do. They came about 10 minutes later and immediately started trying to get his heart to beat again with chest pressure. They continued this and moved him to the hospital but it was too late and he was dead when he got to the hospital.

Since then I have had a thousand questions. He wasn't really fat but he had picked up some weight since he was in his early 30s. He didn't do much exercise and he did smoke. Shouldn't there have been some warning if his heart was really that bad?

The other thing that really bothers me is the nagging feeling that I might have been able to do something while I was waiting for the ambulance. Could I have saved his life? If so please say so. It might help some other wife and spare her the anguish and torment I have had since then. Do you have any information on what a person can do when something like that happens?

I thought I read someplace that in a city somewhere in the United States all the people know how to provide first aid to a heart attack victim and the number of people's lives that were saved was really quite remarkable.

DEAR READER — To begin with in most cases of heart attacks the first symptom of anything being wrong is the heart attack itself. Unfortunately about half of these people never make it to the hospital. They either drop dead with the onset of the attack or have a fatal irregularity of the heart before they can get any adequate treatment. About one-fourth of all deaths in the United States are caused by heart attacks.

Obviously if everyone knew what to do in the presence of such an emergency many lives could be saved. You are thinking of the public program in Seattle, Washington. Since so many people there know how to apply chest compression the death rate from heart attacks of that sort has dropped to half of what it used to be.

Yes, it is possible that you could have helped your husband. If you had known how to apply heart compression through the chest and provide artificial circulation and respiration you might have kept him in good condition until the emergency ambulance arrived.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 7-4, Save a Life: Heart and Lung Arrest so you can read about the emergency method you could have used. Others who want this information can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Just send your request to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

While you can read and understand about the method in this issue I would also recommend that you contact your local chapter of the American Heart Association and see if you can take a course in saving lives this way. Because of the frequency of heart attack deaths in our country I really think everyone should learn how to provide emergency assistance, and I urge all my readers to make the effort to learn how.

DRAWING OF NEW SNYDER ATHLETIC CENTER BUILDING

Snyder Athletic Center Planning New Building

The momentum of commercial development in Snyder continued this week with the announcement of a new site and building for Snyder Athletic Center.

Milton Ham, owner, said site work began Wednesday for the construction of his new 6,000 square foot sporting goods store.

Ham has purchased the tract of land on College Avenue south of Bell-Seale Funeral Home and across the street from the new Varsity Square Shopping Center -- also under construction.

The building will be of metal construction with rock trim finish. The building will front College Avenue with off-street-parking on both the north and south sides of the buildings. There will also be double-door entrances on the north and south sides of the buildings.

The Snyder Athletic Center building will be located on the south end of the tract at 3209 College. Ham has plans to develop the remaining 200-foot front of the commercial tract.

Ham said the new facility is being planned to accommodate the growth that his business has enjoyed since it was acquired five years ago.

The new store, featuring new fixtures and carpeted merchandise display area, will be departmentalized and will cater to retail shoppers.

Wadleigh Construction Co. of Snyder will be general contractor for the project.

Kiddie Park Attracting Attention These Days

Excitement '77 is happening in Towle Park these days. The Jaycees are making tremendous progress on the Kiddie Park. If you haven't driven by the area lately you may not recognize it. The huge Mark IV with all it's slides and climbing areas is finished. The glider swings are finished along with the dome merry-go-round. Miles of sidewalk with curves and hills has been poured and have become the "neatest" and most popular place for skateboards and even some big wheels and tricycles.

The Jaycees are still collecting donations for the park. The total cash received to date is $8,102. according to Lynn Smith, Jaycee President and Park Chairman. The cost of the Kiddie Park is estimated at $35,000.

At present, the park is about one-third finished.

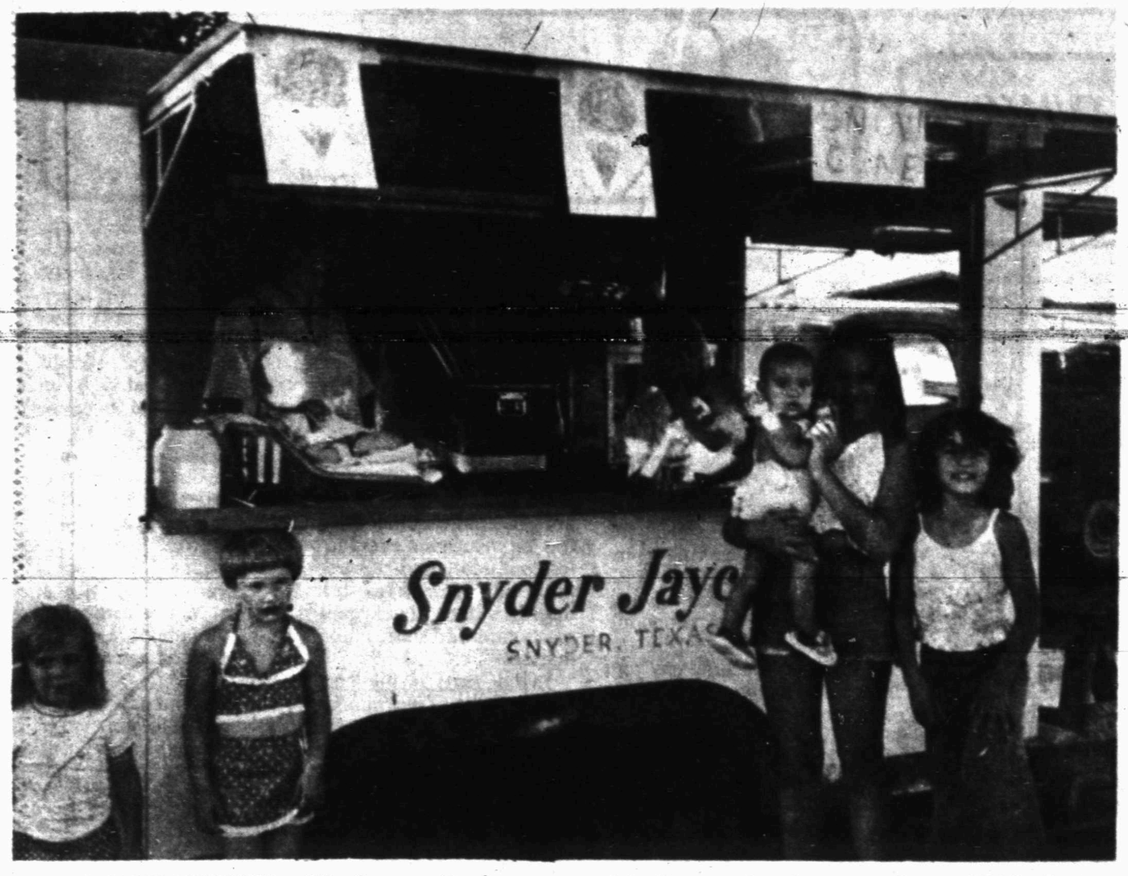
"We are in dire need of funds and workers to finish the park by the Fourth of July," reported Smith.

The Jaycees have set up a concession stand with Cokes, snowcones in addition to selling bumper stickers at the park site.

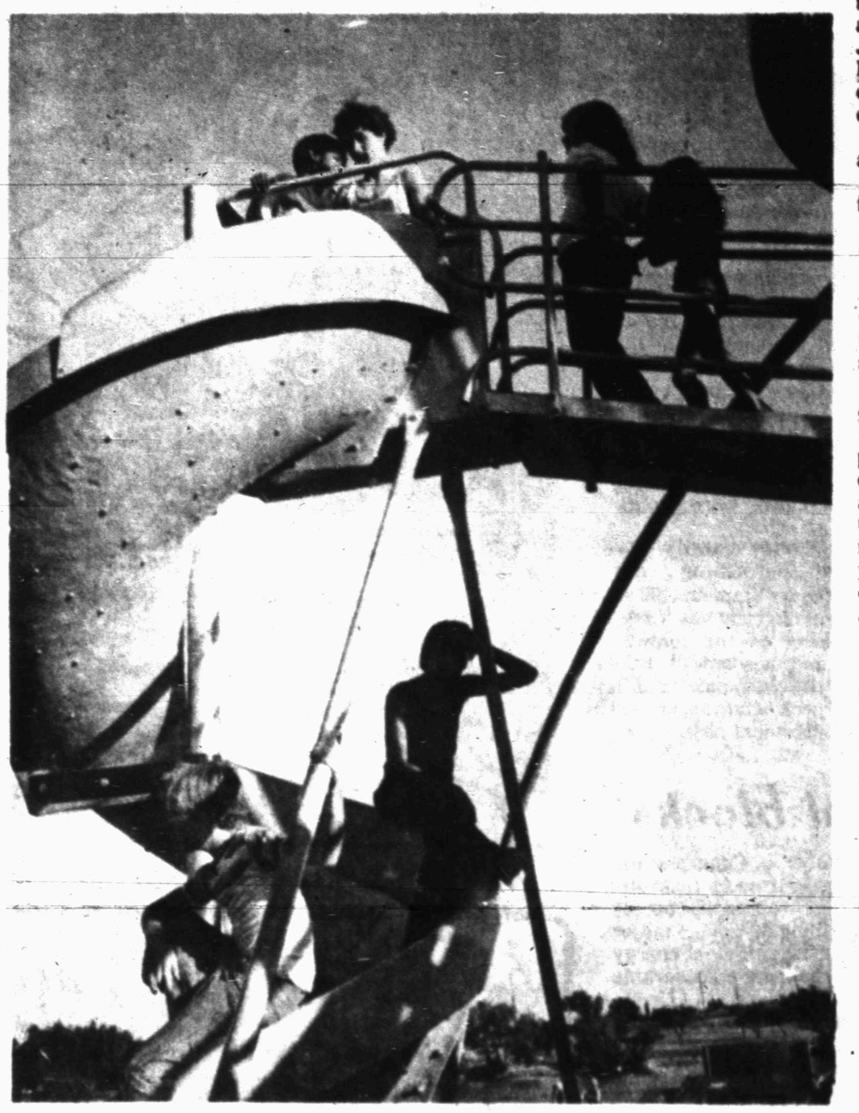
"We might even give you a job, said Smith.

The Jaycees reminded parents that there is heavy equipment moving about at the park. Caution needs to be taken so that no one is hurt. Please do not leave your children unsupervised at the Park while the Jaycees are working, they urged.

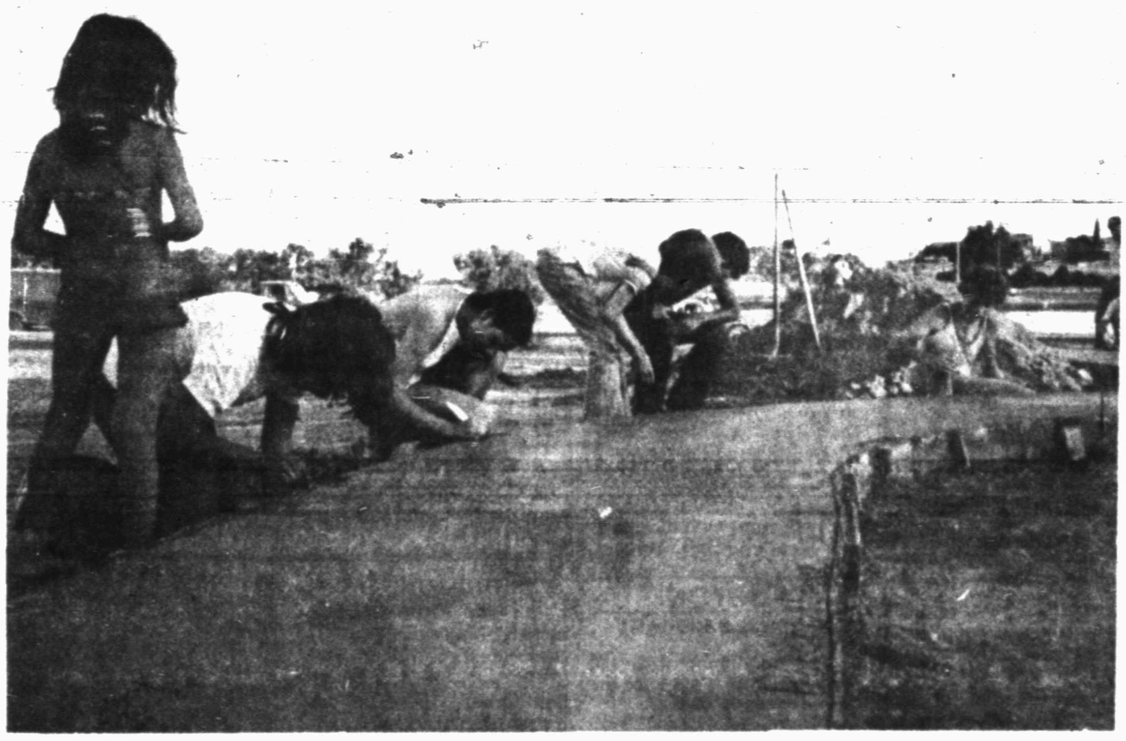
They expressed thanks to all who have donated to the park thus far. To those who would like to donate now, they may send a check to Jaycee Park Fund, P O. Box 622, Snyder, Texas 79549.



SNOW CONE ANYONE?? - The Jaycee-ettes have set up a concession stand at the Kiddie Park. Cokes and snow cones are sold along with bumper stickers with all proceeds going to the Jaycee Kiddie Park Fund. The concession is open each night.



WAITING TURNS - Hundreds of Snyder youth have been enjoying the huge Mark IV at the Kiddie Park. Youngsters pictured are patiently waiting their turn on the Tornado Slide. The Jaycees reminded parents that there is heavy equipment moving about at the park and that children should not be left unsupervised.



AUTOGRAPHS PLEASE - These youngsters are shown writing their names on the edge of the most recently finished stretch of sidewalk at the Kiddie Park.

Meterologists To Monitor Cloud Seeding

AUSTIN (AP)-Two state meterologists will swap off watching cloud seeding operations in 10 counties because of complaints that flights are seeding clouds outside that area, says the Texas Water Development Board.

The operations are being carried out under a June 2 board by Atmospheric Inc. in all or part of Castro, Swisher, Hale, Hockley, Lamb, Bailey, Parmer, Deaf Smith, Randall and Lubbock Counties.

The object is to increase rainfall and decrease hail, which damages crops.

Executive director James Rose said Wednesday the meterologists are observing flights over the target area and eight miles beyond.

"While we know of no violations of the provisions of the permit," Rose said in a statement, "there have been complaints by some who oppose cloud seeding operations that flights have seeded clouds beyond the permitted area, and we feel it is proper to have our staff monitor the operations."

Zero Plus Phone Service Coming

"Zero Plus" telephone called answers the telephone," said Witt.

"Zero Plus" telephone dialing is coming to Snyder this fall, Mike Witt, district manager for operator services, announced Wednesday.

Witt, who conferred with city, Chamber of Commerce and news media representatives, said the Zero Plus dialing enables patrons to dial collect toll calls just as they do paid calls now. As soon as the dialing process is completed, an operator will come on the wire and quickly obtain the information necessary for billing.

"In most cases, the operator will have all of the information she needs by the time the party being

The Zero dialing here is scheduled to become effective first on the Hermleigh exchange, which is due to get the new service in September. Zero Plus dialing in Snyder is scheduled to begin in October.

Witt said there had been numerous complaints in this area recently concerning operator service.

"They are justified," he said.

Witt said a shortage of personnel was largely responsible and that it was embarrasing to the phone company. However, he said that steps are being taken to improve the service.

Class Of '62 Invites Others To Dance

The Snyder High School graduating class of 1962 has invited members of other classes in SHS at the time they were attending to come to the dance Saturday night that will climax the Class of '62 reunion.

The dance will begin at 8:30 p.m. at the Snyder Country Club and will feature music by the Shade Trees. Admission fee is $10 per couple.

Efforts to locate a number of the members of the Class of '62 have been fruitless, said Mrs. Joe Fowler, who heads the group planning the reunion. However, they still expect to have many members of the class on hand for the reunion Saturday. She said that any class member who has not received an invitation to the reunion is asked to come because they were among those whose addresses were not learned by the planning committee.

"We sent notices to all whose adddresses could be found," said Mrs. Fowler. "But several members of the class no longer have families or relatives living here and we were not able to establish contact with them."

author-president

It sometimes seems as though President Carter has milked the media absolutely dry, but he keeps managing to come up with something new.

This time it is a book, A Government as Good as Its People which Simon & Schuster publish on Monday, June 13. The contents are as familiar as its title: They consist of previously published articles and interviews, plus excerpts from the Ford-Carter debates.

In his introduction, Carter writes that his intention is to remind the American people "of the commitments I made as a candidate and the standards to which I must be held accountable as long as I hold the office of President."

Some people may think it unseemly for a President to produce a book while still in office. The practice has ample precedent, however. Every President from Theodore Roosevelt to Franklin Roosevelt wrote and published at least one book during his time in the White House.

The first Roosevelt wrote three-- Outdoor Pastimes of an American Hunter (1905), Good Hunting (1907) and True Americanism (1907). In his lifetime, TR turned out more than 30 books. John Quincy Adams and Herbert Hoover were prolific authors, too.

Other members of the Carter family also are getting into the publishing act. The President's sister, Ruth Carter Stapleton, is an established author of inspirational religious texts.

A Carter family cookbook is on the market. Redneck Power: The wit and wisdom of Billy Carter, contains such choice Billyisms as, "I'm a real Southern boy, I got a red neck, white socks, and Blue Ribbon beer." Can the President possibly top that?

psychological blocks

Frank Ikard, one-time member of Congress and now president of the American Petroleum Institute, told a meeting of business and professional people in Kerrville that "doomsday thinking" is the major obstacle to finding and producing sufficient energy supplies to meet national needs for a considerable period in the future.

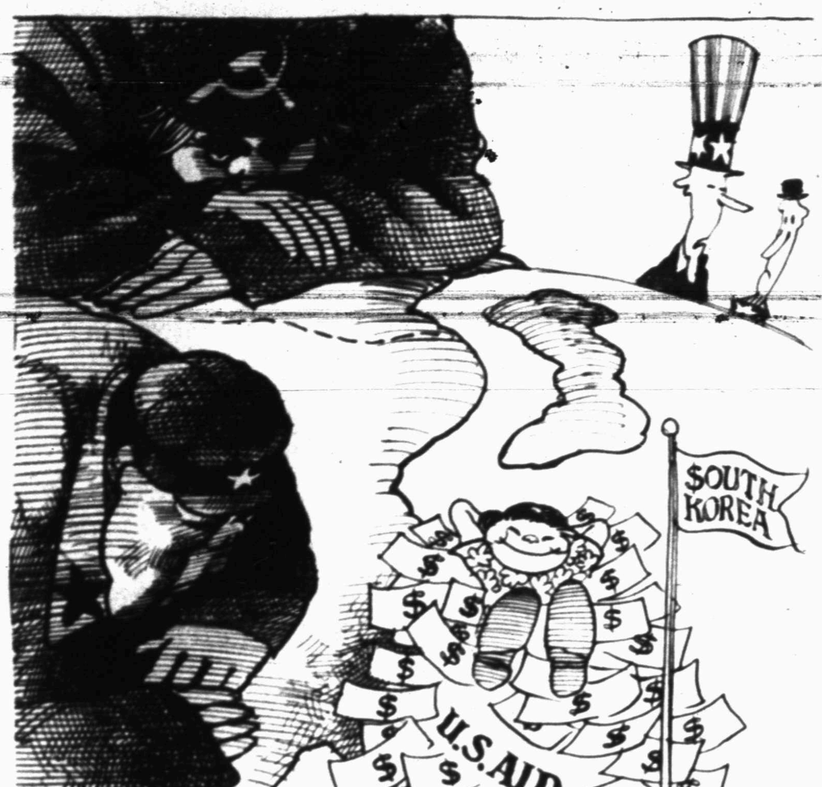
He described those who entertain his opinion as prophets of doom. They don't say it in so many words but their thinking seems to be that oil and natural gas in quantities adequate for survival of the American way of life is not to be had.

Mr. Ikard is right. As a matter of fact the program proposed to Congress earlier this year by President Carter is pretty close to that type of thinking.

Leaders in the petroleum industry insist there is convincing evidence that ample supplies of oil and natural gas sufficient for world needs for many years to come is hidden in areas yet to be explored.

To those who say the end is near for the motor age are those who declare there is plenty of everything now and all that needs to be done is to make the big oil companies release supplies they are holding for higher prices.

Persons learned in mysteries of the human mind say those who accept illusion as truth are afflicted with a psychological block. Whatever it is lots of people have it, especially in Washington.



"Don't worry. They can't afford him."

Economics has to be the most inexact science.

The rules considered inviolable for generations don't work any more.

What it means to you is: Houses used to depreciate, used to become worth less each year. Now they become worth more each year.

Raw land used to be a sure-fire investment. Now your profits from raw land appreciation can be consumed by increased taxes.

It used to be assumed that the best hedge against inflation --against cheaper dollars--was the stock market.

And that does not hold true any more!

John Maynard Keynes--who figured all those old rules were the last word, who created the sacrosanct economic orthodoxy which came to be known as "Keynesian economics"--and his followers would have no way to explain "stagflation."

New-school economists since 1926 have assumed that government had only to "tax and spend" in order to ensure prosperity and full employment.

But we are taxing and spending at a record pace--and we are still bedeviled by to much inflation and too much umemployment at the same time.

Keynesian economists had figured that when you have large numbers unemployed, they would lack buying power, and the result would depress business.

But today's unemployed may have more after-tax dollars to spend than many employed, thus, "stagflation."

Keynes' theories were somewhat more complex than I have described but, in essence, he led generations of us to assume that our economy, uncontrolled, is basically unstable--that high demand must be maintained regardless of its unbalancing effect on the budget.

Pay everybody enough money and the demand for goods and services would ensure prosperity.

Keynes had little respect for such virtues as "thrift" industry and diligence."

And he did not anticipate the manner in which continuing budget deficits would make money worth less, that heavier taxation would tend to stifle economic expansion.

Thus the Keynesians did not anticipate stagflation.

Thus we are turning back to the more conservative economics of laissez-faire with modifications to match entrenched government programs.

Thus it is that the Nobel Prize now goes to the most conservative economist--Milt Friedman.

He urges progressively less government interference with the marketplace.

He says Britain is doing so badly because the British government tried to spend itself rich. Governments, even as people, can only spend themselves poor.

He says Japan is doing well because Japan's government spending is one-third what Britain's is, one-half what ours is.

Where does he say you should invest any surplus money today?

He considers any fixed-value investment--such as United States Savings Bonds--"a ripoff."

He favors, instead, putting surplus private savings in "things." He suggests things such as art, which you can enjoy while it appreciates.

WASHINGTON -- (NEA) -- W. Michael Blumenthal, newly installed as Treasury Secretary, recently produced his first report on the continuing financial travail of New York City. Like his Republican predecessor, Blumenthal conveniently ignored the root causes of New York's plight.

The report, in the form of testimony prepared for the Senate Banking Committee, was replete with all the standard cliches about "urban economic decline" produced by the flight of businesses and middle-income households from the "older central cities."

The solemn rhetoric about the need for fiscal responsibility differed little from the pious proclamations of William E. Simon, whom Blumenthal succeeded.

Indeed, there is little indication that President Carter's Democratic administration is any more willing to confront the real problems of urban America than the Republicans were under President Gerald R. Ford.

For too many years, a fundamental cause of our cities' predicament has remained a well-kept secret, known for the most part only by the very people who have been among those most responsible for urban deterioration.

Just published, however, is a new book which bluntly identifies the men, the institutions and the schemes which brought debt, dysfunction and debilitation to the nation's biggest city: "The Abuse of Power" by Jack Newfield and Paul Du Brul.

It is an angry book, but its allegations are carefully documented by a pair of idealistic but cynical authors who share several decades of first-hand experience with New York's power structure. At the heart of their thesis is the permanent government," described in this fashion.

"Ultimate power over public policy in New York is invisible and unelected. It is exercised by a loose confederation of bankers, bond underwriters, members of public authorities, the big insurance companies, political fund-raisers, publishers, law firms, builders, judges, backroom politicians and some union leaders.

"Legal graft is the currency of the permanent government. Legal graft is finder's fees, title insurance, city contracts. It can be interest-free deposits of government funds, zoning variances, insurance premiums or condemnation awards.

"The power of this interlocking network of elites is based on the control of institutions, money, property and the lawmaking process. It endures no matter who the voters elect as mayor, governor or president. Its collective power, when organized, is greater than the elected, representative government.

"Legal graft is the currency of the permanent government. Legal graft is finder's fees, title insurance, city contracts. It can be interest-free deposits of government funds, zoning variances, insurance premiums or condemnation awards.

"It can be campaign contributions, bond sale commissions, public relations retainers. It can be real estate leases, mortgage closings or, most often, legal fees."

If that excerpt sounds familiar to residents of other cities, it's because the pattern is hardly unique to New York. Much of the material in the book, published by The Viking Press, is applicable also to those cities which already share New York's problems - Baltimore, Boston, Cleveland, Detroit, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, St. Louis and others.

The phenomenon may be less visible elsewhere, but the book ought to be read by residents of smaller cities and communities where:

-The county commissioners awarded a lucrative, non-competitive contract for new voting machines to the company which retained the "best connected" law firm in town.

-The city council suddenly and inexplicably rezoned a valuable tract of land for the benefit of the area's biggest developer.

-The franchise for the local cable television system is somehow controlled by a coalition of bankers, politicians and other "civic leaders" who already dominate much of the community's life.

The scale and scope of the permanent government's operations invariably are smaller elsewhere than in New York. But it's at work in every urban area of the nation.

impression not good

WASHINGTON, D.C.-- From the time schools close in May of June until they open again in the latter part of August or September, there is an influx of visitors to Washington. Included are large numbers of young people who come to view first-hand those things they have learned about during the school year. For many, this is their first trip away from home and, no doubt, will be long remembered.

It is a fine thing for people to see their Nation's Capital and, especially, the Congress is session. It must give a greater appreciation of what the seat of Government is about.

We have just had a group of Future Farmers of America who were here on an annual trip sponsored by the FFA and their schools. In a few days, we will have a large group of 4-H Clubbers and Government-in -Action students who will tour various Government buildings, including visits to the galleries of the House of Representatives and the Senate. This is also an annual occasion, as are a number of other groups of young people chosen from their organizations to come to Washington.

Those who have been here and observed the Sessions of Congress may have experienced disappointments in seeing the procedures on the Floors of the two bodies of Congress. Depending on the type of legislation being considered and at what state it is being debated, all to often the impression is left that there is not a total participation by Members. Oftentimes, a Member is up making a speech with few Members in their seats and apparently those not paying very close attention to what is being said. This impression is not good and, especially, for younger people who expect to see every Member in his seat and everything in order.

The fact is that it is virtually impossible for every Member to be in attendance at all times. There are Committee meeting where, in most instances, the real work on legislation is performed. Others are seeing Constituents, answering their telephones, responding to the multitude of letters which arrive daily or conferring with staff people. All sorts of demands are made on a Member's time and becomes a part of his daily duties.

Legislation is first debated under what is known as "general" debate. The time for general debate is set by the Rules Committee and can be from one hour to ten hours, depending on the particular legislation. During this period, time is yielded by the managers of the bill to other Members. When the time for a general debate has expired, rules permitting amendments follow. Members of the Committee from which legislation comes are first recognized for amendments, followed by other Members who wish to offer some change. In this period, the attendance is much greater since only three Committees, namely, the Ways and Means, Rules and Appropriations, can hold sessions during this time. It is necessary for a Member to be present to become informed before voting.

So a lot depends on what period a particular debate is in for visitors in the galleries to get a true impression. There are times when the conduct in the Chamber appears to be something like the New York Stock Exchange and, again, when it appears that no one is interested in what is taking place.

As often as possible this is explained to Constituents and, particularly, our young people. It seems important that they have an understanding of what goes on and why.

A young Pittsburgh couple has been in the news lately with their scheme of winning Pennsylvania's state lottery.

The couple has decided to spend its life savings on lottery tickets in the hopes of winning Pennsylvania's "instant millionaire" drawings to be concluded later this summer.

The couple has reportedly delved into savings and checking accounts to purchase the tickets and is now in the process of hocking personal belongings to raise more money.

They are working on the belief that the more tickets they purchase, the more likely they are to win the drawing. Both have reportedly quit their jobs to devote more time to the purchase of the tickets.

When asked recently by reporters of a national television network why they are doing it, the couple replied they felt it was their one big chance at life.

While I am not one to denigrate personal iniative, I cannot help but feel that a person's big chance at life can be found in scores of seemingly lesser tasks more immediately at hand.

Edwin Newman, a veteran National Broadcasting Corporation (NBC) newsman, has written two books on the English language.

Newman, a grammarian of the old school, laments the abuse, misuse, and verbal inflation of the language these days.

An example of what Newman speaks of is the manner in which some things are described. What used to be an evening college is now an innovative, interdisciplinary, transdisciplinary programming night school.

A person without "cashflow" is sometimes used to mean he is broke.

Journalism, of course, has its own clinches. I am just as guilty of then as the next reporter.

One of my favorites in journalese is the term "made off" used in referring to the booty taken by thieves or burglars.

I have heard the term "making out" before when used in describing the amorous activities of the young. But is "making out" anything like "making off"? I am inclined to doubt it.

government takes half

NEW YORK (AP)-The Tax Foundation, a publicly-supported, nonprofit, tax-exempt organization that hates to see money spent by the biggest nonprofit institution of all-government-has just published its biennial admonition.

"Government expenditures for 1977 are projected at $9,607 per U.S. household," writes chairman Willard Rockwell in the 1977 edition of Facts and Figures on Government Finance.

The chairman relates that the comparable figure for 1950 was only $1,615, but that comparison isn't quite cricket. In another part of the book you learn that the 1976 dollar stands for less than half the value of the 1950 dollar.

Nevertheless, the point is made. Government spending is rising like June temperatures. It takes close to half of household income.

Rockwell asks: do we as citizens want our government units to spend that much? Do we know where all this spending is leading us? Is the money being raised in ways that best promote our national goals?

The Tax Foundation's answers to these questions are not provided, but based on past declarations we might assume them to be negative. Government spending, it feels, is often mindless, directionless and opposed to free enterprise goals.

But government spending also is misunderstood. True or false: Each year the federal government takes an increasingly larger percentage of total tax receipts, and state and local governments less.

The fact, as computed by the foundation, is that federal tax receipts in 1976 amounted to 63.7 per cent of the total, the lowest percentage since 58.1 was recorded in 1942.

At the same time, the percentage taken by state governments rose to 21.7 per cent, highest since 1942. Local governments took 15.1 per cent, a figure exceeded as recently as 1971, 1972 and 1973.

Ah, but that's not the full story. In fact, the recent trend of states to acquire an almost imperceptibly larger part of the receipts is almost insignificant when matched against the big change.

And what is that? Let some figures tell: In 1902, the percentage distribution of tax receipts was federal 37.4, state 11.4 and local 51.3.

As recently as 1940, local government received 31.6 per cent of receipts, but since then the numbers have seldom reached half that level. The low point was in 1944, at nine per cent. Match that against 1932's 53.6.

Since World War II, the federal percentage of receipts has ranged from nearly 80 per cent at the close of the war to the 1976 figure.

Lions from Loraine, Colorado City, Garden City, Sweetwater, Big Spring, Roscoe and Monahans attended the charter night meeting.

Howard Vote Set On BCD

BIG SPRING--Howard County Commissioners Court has voted unanimously to call an election on a proposal to create a Board of County Development.

Under state law, it was pointed out, counties are permitted to appropriate five cents of its tax rate to create a five-man board charged with promoting the industrial development of the county.

The special election is set for Aug. 13.

B-Spring CC Begins Drive

BIG SPRING--A membership drive by the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce is off to a fast start. Forty-two members were enlisted the first day of the drive and efforts were continuing by special teams.

Daily prizes are being offered individuals who lead in selling memberships and Charles Beil won a watch for his efforts the first day of the drive. He led the field by recruiting six business memberships and two personal memberships.

Nurses Resign Fisher Hospital

ROTAN--Two registered nurses at Fisher County Hospital have resigned, giving as their reason dissatisfaction with their pay scale.

The hospital board of directors was advised that the nurses said the pay for registered nurses was "about $50 too low." The hospital pays its registered nurses $925 per month.

The board agreed to continue to seek nurses at the present pay scale.

Mobile Homes Taxed In Fisher

ROBY--Fisher County Commissioners have voted unanimously to tax mobile homes and travel trailers. This type of property has not previously been on the county tax roll.

Approved was a proposal to tax mobil homes and travel trailers that have utilities connect on a value of $1 per square foot and to tax travel trailers not connected to utilities as personal property was approved.

LITERALLY SLING MUD

Politicians Gather For "Dirty Politics"

NEWINGTON, Conn. (AP)-Politicians are nothing but a bunch of mud-slingers, right?

Last Sunday afternoon a gang of politicians gathered in the park. They brought their families and picnic lunches and also hauled a load of fine red dirt from beside the road and piled it in the shade of a big maple tree.

They fetched buckets of water from the park pond and mixed it with the dirt. Their children helped, with obvious delight and anticipation. Soon it was mud. The kids squeezed it through their fingers and approved.

The politicians took up handfuls of the mud, stood back and let fly. They slung mud at one another, the children slung mud at the politicians, the politicians at the children. Everybody ran around slinging mud.

"Dirty politics," said Paul Ucello, Democrat.

"Muddy but unbowed," said Bill LaPorte, Republican.

When it was over the politicians clasped each other's slimy hands, slapped each other's splattered backs, laughed at each other's grimy faces and headed for the keg.

"Did you enjoy it?" asked LaPorte, toweling off his wristwatch. "Meet Bunny Husmer. She's the nut over whose kitchen table this crazy idea was hatched."

"I confess," Mrs. Husmer said, shaking mud out of her hair.

"We were sitting around trying to think up ways to get more people involved, to take an interest in the town. It was late, we were all tired, ready to go home, when suddenly we came up with the idea of a mud-slinging contest. It was so silly we figured it might work."

The challenge was issued forthwith to the Democrats and accepted grandly, not only to a mud-slinging contest but also to a tug-of-war across the park pond.

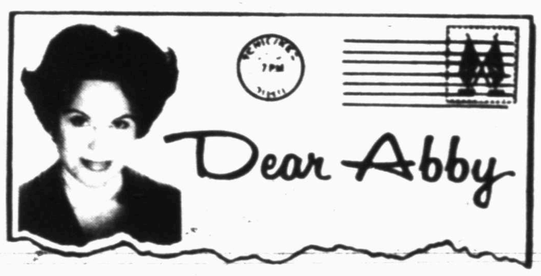
At a time when the dirt of less literal mudslinging, and worse, has not yet worn off the American politician's image, there they were, the town's councilmen, school board members, zoning commissioners and all their families out on a Sunday afternoon cooking hamburgers and playing in the mud.

Ludicrous? It was a joy to behold.

"In 15 years I've watched this town grow from 15,000 to about 28,000," said Councilman Ucello. "We not only grew fast, we grew apart. This is the sort of town event that can get us all together. I think it's a great idea-even if it was the Republicans."

Republican LaPorte laughed.

"In a small town, your political opponents are also your neighbors. Politics has never been dirty in Newington," LaPorte said. "We go after each other on issues, but we work together. I'd like to see us work together and make this an annual event."



He's The Only Thing Worth Talking About

By Abigail Van Buren

1977 by The Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc

DEAR ABBY: My husband is the greatest! I know it for a fact, because he's been telling me that for 36 years.

My problem is that's ALL he ever tells me. Other than that, there is no conversation between us. He never asks me a question or initiates any conversations with me.

We have just one thing in common, now that the kids are married and gone from home. He still likes sex. Sometimes I get so starved for conversation I will get his attention by turning on the music and doing a little strip tease—tossing my undies at him, one piece at a time. But that just leads to the bedroom, and he doesn't talk much in there.

If someone would have classes to teach men how to talk to their wives, I would drag him there.

Do other women have this problem? Or am I....

ALONE IN WASHINGTON?

DEAR ALONE: You're not alone, I'm sure. But why don't YOU initiate some conversation? Ask him what he thinks about the energy shortage or the chances for world peace, or how long he thinks Elizabeth Taylor will be happy down on the farm. The silence at your house is half your fault.

DEAR ABBY: I am an 18-year-old whose sister is married and has an 8-month-old baby. She's living with her in-laws while her husband is in the service. They don't treat her very well, but she is totally dependent upon them. She was married after the baby was born and is very unhappy in her marriage, but she's trapped.

I recently ran into the fellow she was once in love with. He told me he was still in love with sis and he asked me to give her his phone number because he couldn't very well call her where she now lives.

My sister has often expressed her regret at having turned him down, and I'm sure she would like to see him again. I've always thought these two were meant for each other. He never married.

Should I give her his message?

TORN OUT EAST

DEAR TORN: When in doubt, apply the "do unto others" principle. Give your sister the message.

DEAR ABBY: One more letter, please, on TALKS TOO MUCH. Mrs. Anonymous asked for tolerance on the part of those who had to listen to non-stop talkers.

I agree with you. People who talk too much should become conscious of what they're saying.

I, too, was a long-winded bore until a dear friend did me a tremendous favor and asked me if I had ever LISTENED to myself.

I was more shocked than hurt by her frankness, but I began to listen to myself. That cured me.

I still bless my friend for probably the most helpful suggestion I've ever received.

TALKS LESS, LISTENS MORE

DEAR TALKS LESS: The trick is to get a non-stop talker to LISTEN when you tell him he talks too much.

FOR UPGRADE DISCHARGED VETS

House Opposes Benefits

By Betty Anne Williams
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) Unhappy with President Carter's decision to upgrade less-than-honorable discharges of many Vietnam-era servicemen, the House wants to deny veterans benefits to those taking advantage of the program.

Debating a $70.2 billion money bill for several agencies, the House also voted Wednesday to order the Department of Housing and Urban Development to review a regulation that some feared would be used by homosexual couples to obtain federal housing assistance.

Both votes came as the House considered an appropriations measure for HUD, the Treasury Department, the Veterans Administration, the Environmental Protection Agency and 13 other federal agencies. The bill, which passed 374-32, now goes to the Senate.

Funding for the agencies is $488 million below the Carter administration request and $3 billion more than the fiscal year 1977 appropriation.

Rep. Robin Beard, R-Tenn., who offered the provision, said Carter's program to upgrade discharges does not provide an opportunity for considering each case on its merits.

"This is a slap in the face to the thousands who lived up to their full military commitments with honor," he said.

Rep. John P. Murtha, D-Pa., a former Marine Corps major who served in Korea and Vietnam and received numerous medals including a Bronze Star and two purple hearts, disagreed.

"I feel very strongly that this is another slap in the face of the young fellow who might have made a mistake," he said.

The administration program, announced April 5, makes an estimated 432,500 Vietnam-era servicemen and servicewomen eligible for a review of their discharges. They have until Oct. 4 to request the review under the program.

The amendment would not affect benefits for veterans who obtain higher grades of discharges through routine review procedures.

The housing amendment, offered by Rep. Edward Boland, D-Mass., is intended to give HUD a chance to study eligibility for housing assistance further before issuing final regulations.

Critics of the regulation pointed to a phrase saying that "two or more people," giving evidence of a stable family relationship would be eligible for benefits as an indication that homosexuals might qualify.

TV series may end up movies

By Dick Kleiner

DEAR DICK: I know there have been TV series made from movies, but have there ever been any movies made from TV series? If so, what series, what were the movie titles and what year were they made? LINDA OURS, Morgantown, W. Va.

There have been a few movies, designed to capitalize on hit TV series. The ones that come to mind are "Dragnet," in 1954, "Our Miss Brooks," in 1956 and "Batman," in 1966. And there continue to be hopes that there will yet be a "Star Trek" movie.

DEAR DICK: On NBC Saturday Night, sometime in April, I saw the Queen of England. My parents won't believe me. Was it really her? VERNON BAKER, Roseburg, Ore.

Always listen to mom and dad. It was a spoof, that's all, with one of the Not-Ready-For-Prime-Time-Players making like Her Majesty.

DEAR DICK: I would like to know why the first half of "The Wizard of Oz" is filmed in black and white and the rest filmed in color. I could never figure that out. BARBRA SCHMOLZE, Philadelphia, Pa.

That was producer Mervyn LeRoy's idea, and I think it was a good one. The film magically turned into color when Dorothy landed in Oz, and it helped establish the mood of the film.

DEAR DICK: My hairdresser tells me that Farrah Fawcett-Major's hair is a $5,000 wig from France. She says no human hair could hold up so perfectly at all times. Is this true? DEBBIE CHRISTIE, Lethbridge, Alta., Can.

In this case, even your hairdresser doesn't know. Farrah's friends insist that that is all her own hair, that she does everything in it, even swims with it, and doesn't wear a wig. Just lucky in the hair department.

DEAR DICK: Is Vivien Leigh, who played Scarlett O'Hara in "Gone With the Wind," still alive? Is there a book that tells everything about Clark Gable and where could I purchase it? CHRIS BAYER, Columbus, Ohio.

Vivien Leigh died in 1967. There are several good biographies of Clark Gable around. Your local bookstore probably has one or more of them, or can order them for you.

DEAR DICK: I saw "Something For Joey," the story of John Cappelletti and his younger brother. Could you please tell me who played John Cappelletti. LORI HOPPER, Stafford, Mo.

That was Marc Singer, and a fine performance it was, too.

DEAR DICK: What is Kevin Tighe's real occupation? He plays Roy DeSoto on Emergency. LINDA SCHLARMAN, Dubuque, Iowa

Strange how so many people wonder about Kevin and his Emergency partner, Randy Mantooth. They are both actors, of course, and not real firemen.

DEAR DICK: I just heard that The Bionic Woman is being cancelled. Could you please tell me why, since the show had such good ratings? Is Lindsay Wagner going to be doing another series or any feature films? WENDY BANHAM, Powell River, B.C., Can.

ABC decided on a major shake-up of its programs, and The Bionic Woman was sacrificed on that altar. But be of good cheer -- NBC snapped the show up, so it will still be on next season, although on a different network.

DEAR DICK: Was Janet Gaynor or Mitzi Gaynor married to clothes designer Adrian? ELEANOR WILLIAMS, Stockton, Calif.

That was Janet.

DEAR DICK: Do you happen to know what has happened to the singer, Gary Puckett? He used to be with a group called The Union Gap, then he was on his own, but I haven't heard of him lately. Is he still in the business? HELEN MUNROE, Sparks, Nev.

My musical sources tell me that Puckett is still singing, doing mostly club dates in and around Portland, Ore., and Las Vegas.

GNC Four Post Bond

AUSTIN (AP)-Manuel Garza, director of the Texas Good Neighbor Commission, and three others have been freed after posting bond on charges of allegedly dipping into the Texas Education Agency's till.

Garza and his wife, Evangelina, surrendered Wednesday along with Sharon Flippen of the commission and W.L. Jones, a lodge owner at Kingsland. Their bonds was set at $5,000 on each of three Travis County grand jury indictments.

Robert Avina, director of the Bexar County adult and continuing education program, and his wife, Josephine, were also indicted Tuesday. They had not turned themselves in by late Wednesday.

The six indictments stemmed from a $50,000 study of educational needs in South Texas, which was prepared by the Greater South Texas Cultural Basin Commission for the TEA at a cost of $642 a page.

There were reportedly only 10 pages of new material in the study, which TEA auditors called a "sham."

Garza arranged for the study when he was director of interagency coordination for the TEA. Ms. Flippen, former employe of the cultural basin commission, now works under Garza at the Good Neighbor Commission.

The indictments accused all except Ms. Flippen of accepting a total of $7,000 in TEA grant money two years ago for phony consultant fees.

Reduced Legal Fees Are Urged

HOUSTON (AP)-A California attorney says reduced lawyer fees would open the door to middle and lower middle class citizens who have been under-represented legally because of the high costs.

Jay G. Foonberg of Beverly Hills, Calif., said legal fees could be reduced 10 to 15 per cent in the next five years if attorneys would better manage their practices.

Foonberg told a meeting of the State Bar of Texas Tuesday that middle and lower middle class citizens are not poor enough to receive aid from public defenders or wealthy enough to hire the better attorneys.

He said a lawyer, through sound economics, could lower a $100 charge to $75 and raise his profits from $10 to $15.

He said one way this could be accomplished is by attorneys integrating with banks and financial institutions so the lawyer can be paid fees while rendering services, and the client can pay over a longer period of time.

"About 46,000 persons graduated from law school last year and there were jobs for only about half," he said.

Those left, he said, will have to go into business for themselves and serve the unrepresented portion of the community.

Nell Gwyn was an English actress of the 17th century and the mistress of Charles II.

Hill Confident He'd Make Better Governor

AUSTIN, (AP)-Atty. Gen. John Hill, a man of millions of words in a legal-political career spanning 30 years, muttered only two when asked why Gov. Dolph Briscoe wants to be governor again-"Beats me."

Hill, who won his office from the late Crawford Martin by campaigning with damn-the-friendship zeal, is the shadow on Briscoe's sunny path to a third term as governor.

One more poll, one more plea for money-probably at a September dinner here-and Hill will say whether he will challenge Briscoe in the 1978 Democratic primary.

With the confidence of one who usually gets what he wants, Hill, 53, says, "You can be certain that if I announce for governor, I will win and be sworn in."

He says he has received 5,000 letters encouraging him to run.

Asked if governor was the only job he wanted Hill's East Texas twang softened to a whisper in replying "That's right."

What's right for John Luke Hill Jr., he believes is right for Texas. There is no doubt, he says, that he would be a better governor.

Briscoe's armor of no-new-taxes appears Hill-proof, but Hill is searching for chinks as diligently as he sought legal precedents while a Houston lawyer in big-money trials.

As the probable challenger, Hill has become a magazine cover boy; political writers interview him endlessly, and his campaign-if there is one-takes shape during those sessions.

"I think the no-new-taxes issue is phony," he says for starters, in an interview.

"People are certainly intelligent enough to understand that $1 billion in additional property taxes that have been placed upon the backs of our people at the local level does not square with the slogan of 'no new taxes.'"

Hill and Briscoe made premature bids for governor in 1968, with Briscoe finishing fourth among 10 candidates with 225,686 votes-75,000 more than Hill, who was sixth. Briscoe won in 1972, and Hill-"stunned" and "hangdoggish" over his defeat for months-lowered his sights that year to attorney general, barely beating Martin, the six-year incumbent.

Hill backed off from a possible race against Briscoe in 1974, reportedly because polls showed that he could count only 20 per cent of the vote.

Hill, however, is caught up this time by visions of leading Texas-the nation's second-fastest growing state-into the gleaming Sunbelt era.

"We are on the very threshold of a lot of fantastic growth in Texas, and we have to be on our toes and ready for it," he says. "our government has to be a model of efficiency and effectiveness. It would be a very good climate for my kind of public service."

Hill is especially critical of Briscoe's statement that Texas might cut off its natural gas flow to other states if parts of President Carter's energy plan are enacted.

Hill referred to such statements as "sword-rattling ultimatums."

Persuading moderate senators and House members to accept Texas' view on energy "would be much more effective," Hill says, "than just racing to Washington delivering yourself of some kind of emotional pitch that is primarily being delivered for home consumption."

Hill was asked if he would like to try such persuasion.

"Yes," he replied, without hesitation. "I think I would be excellent at that undertaking."

Hill's own projected planks as a gubernatorial candidate rank education and law enforcement one-two. He thinks Congress-not the legislature-will be the "battleground" for energy.

Aside from issues, Hill says, "I'd like to live long enough for people to feel that most people in politics can be trusted and that they are good people who are genuinely interested in the public good."

And Texans can start, he hopes, with John Hill.

Sounds like a campaign slogan.

Elkins Resigns UM Post

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)-Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, University of Maryland president for the last 23 years, has announced his retirement.

Elkins said Wednesday he will step down from the post July 1, 1978, just days before he reaches the mandatory retirement age of 70.

A university spokesman said that by the time he retires, Elkins will have served longer than any other current president of a major state university in the nation.

No decision has been made on a successor, but the spokesman said an acting president will probably be appointed for at least a year after Elkins leaves.

Dr. B. Herbert Brown, president of the university's Board of Regents, said Elkins had been a "tremendous motivating force" and that the university had grown in size and academic ranking "under his strong,scholarly guidance."

A Medina, Tex., native an football, basketball and track star at the University of Texas, Elkins was a Rhodes scholar and history professor who served as president of Texas Western College before coming to Maryland.

During his tenure here, the university's enrollment has multiplied five times, to nearly 40,000 students, and its budget has increased almost 14-fold.

It has added a campus in Baltimore County, taken over Maryland State College in Princess Anne and created a part-time University College at its main campus here.

ASTRO-GRAPH

Bernice Bede Osol

Your Birthday

June 17, 1977

Some mysterious circumstances could enliven your material potential this year. However, there is a possibility you might be a little too extravagant.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Allocate funds at hand today so as to give you the best return. Indulging in extravagant whims would be rather foolish. If you're having trouble finding a career send for your copy of Astro-Graph Letter. Mail 50 cents for each and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify your birth sign.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Before extending invitations to come to a happening at your house, be sure to consult your mate. He or she may have other plans.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) What may not appear to be logical at first glance today could be your best course of action. Overanalysis might cause you to scrap an ambitious plan.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Share your wisdom, experience and advice with a friend who might seek your counsel today. However, think twice before opening your wallet.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Be decisive and a person of action today in a situation that could lead to a profit. Vacillating at a crucial moment could be a mistake.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Judge for yourself the character of a person whose merits are well known to you if you hear something derogatory about him or her today.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Substantial gains are probable today in work that is a labor of love. Where you are indifferent, your returns will be likewise.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Be attentive today to those of proven loyalty, rather than cater to someone of rank who may turn out to be a foul ball.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Domestic matters should take precedence today over your outside interests. Tending to those under your roof should be your prime concern.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Today you're highly appealing to members of the opposite sex. A little harmless flirtation won't hurt you, but don't overdo it.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You're very protective of those you love today — your family in particular — and you'll take any measures to guard their interests. They may decry your tactics.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You can be a whiz at artistic or creative pursuits today, provided you're not encumbered by unimaginative assistants. Don't let them get in your way.
