Reds Warn U.S. On Atom Program

Special Events Are Slated In Area Towns

By TOM DAVIS

IT'S ARMISTICE Day with all the trimmings for Lubbock and the South Plains today.

Bugles, airplanes, parades, special programs, speeches, dances, a holiday from school and work—and the No. 1 Texas high school football game of the week for Lubbock at Odessa.

An estimated 6,900 Lubbock fans—possibly one of the largest home town delegations ever to attend an out-of-town schoolboy game in the state—are scheduled to follow the Westerners for their afternoon game with the Odessa Bronchos.

District Title At Stake

It is a game which likely will decide the championship of District 3-AA, and approximately one-tenth of Lubbock's population will be on hand to see it while a goodly portion of those left behind will follow the radio play-by-play account.

On the weather slate, the forecaster drew a favorable picture, calling for partly cloudy skies, continued mild and southwesterly winds up to 25 miles an hour in the Lubbock vicinity. The same general weather was predicted for Odessa, with weaker winds of about 15 miles an hour. For Saturday, he predicted cloudy skies and slightly cooler temperatures.

All will not be football on the day set aside to honor the dead of both World Wars on the anniversary of the World War I peace date.

Special Activities Planned

Breakfasts and other special activities are planned in Lubbock. A parade under aircover will highlight the day at Plainview, and planes from Reese Air Force base will fly over Lubbock and other South Plains towns.

At Lamesa, a parade, a speech by Congressman George Mahon, a barbecue and a homecoming celebration for former Lamesa High school students will lead up to the District 3-AA afternoon football game between the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes and the Brownfield Cubs. O'Donnell also has planned a special homecoming program.

Special programs and football games will make it a special day in more than a dozen other South Plains towns.

Roads To Be Congested

Roads to Odessa promise to be congested with traffic, advance ticket sales show, with 6,890 of the precious admission ducats sold here and no more available. Of these, 1,100 went to students. A sellout crowd of 22,000, largest ever to see a high school game west of Fort Worth, has been assured for the contest in Odessa stadium at 2:30 p. m.

And with the heavy highway triffic expected, the Texas High-

Texas To Honor War Dead Today

(By The Associated Press)

Texas, observing Armistice Day in uneasy times, will pay respects to its war dead and display its military might today.

Parades will march and flags will fly in every area of the Lone Star state.

At Fort Worth, men of Carswell Air base will join Marines, sailors and veterans in a parade with National Guard planes providing an air cover. Maj. Gen. Roger M. Ramey, Eighth Air Force Commander, will address a reunion of fliers of the first World War.

Dies Will Speak

Fighter planes will provide an escort for a parade at Houston. Former U. S. Rep. Martin Dies will speak at a noon luncheon and the Rice-Texas A&M freshman football teams will play an afternoon game for the crippled children's fund.

There will be an Armistice high mass at St. Mary's cathedral at Austin and later a parade of 50 military and civilian units with seven bands and two drum and bugle corps. In the afternoon University of Texas war veterans will

Four Persons, Believed To Be Borger Residents, Are Killed

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio, Nov. 10. (AP)—Four persons were killed in a careening automobile west of here today, but a two-year-old boy escaped with only a bruised knee.

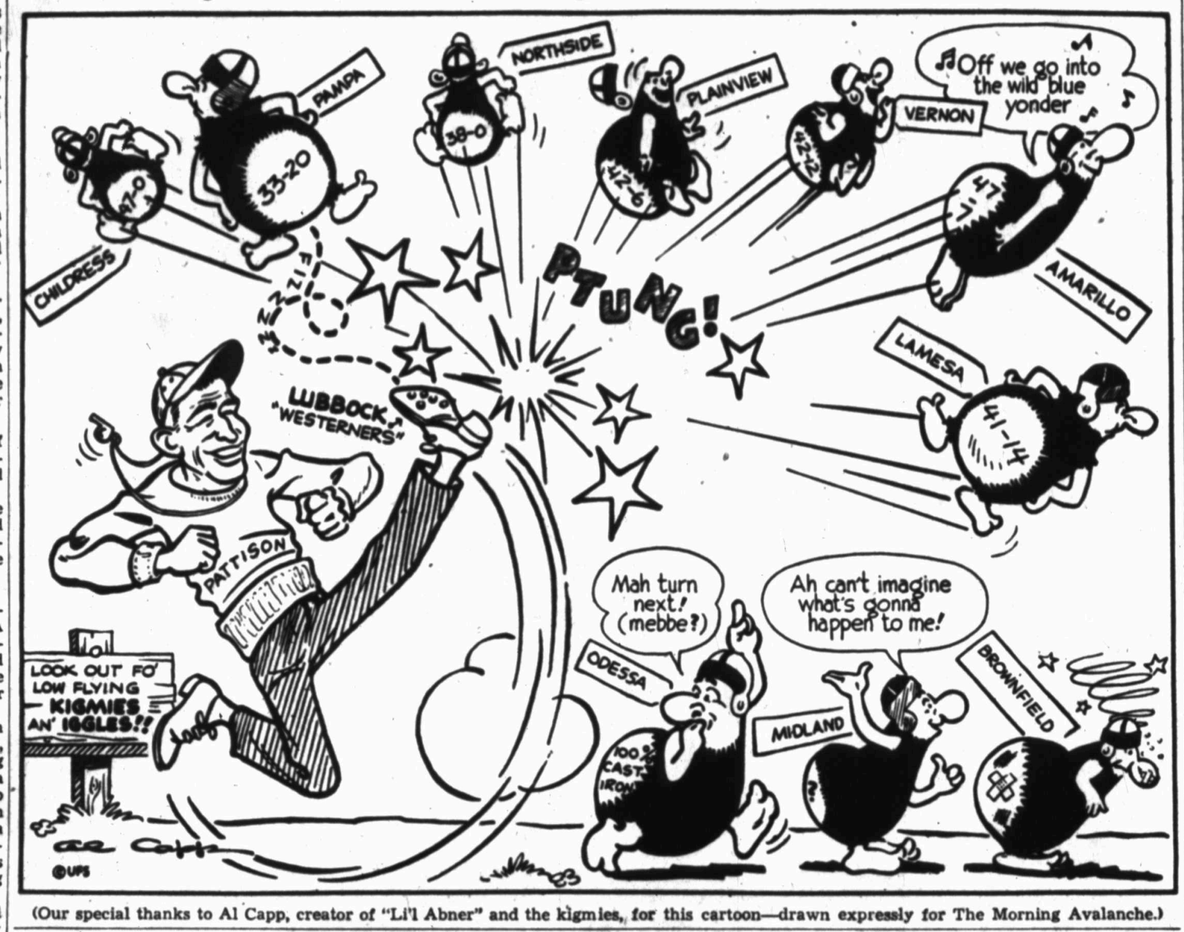

The State Highway patrol tentatively identified the dead as Herbert Kingham, 26, of Borger, Tex.; Anna Betts Kingham, 26, same address; Kenneth Neal Betts, same address and a woman believed to be Mrs. Betts.

The frightened, dazed little boy, was unable to give his name. Patrolmen said they had reason to believe he is the son of the Betts couple.

Lewis Ignores Strike Talks

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10—John L. Lewis snubbed the government by declining to attend soft coal talks today and the chief federal mediator promptly announced he is through with "futile meetings" in the dispute.

Lewis and the mine owners were called to Washington by mediation Director Cyrus Ching in an attempt to prevent a new coal strike Nov. 30 but the United Mine workers president wired Ching that next Monday was the earliest he could be present.

Ching immediately rejected this date because he will be tied up with another labor dispute at that time.

The mediation director had a union-industry meeting set for 11

$10,000,000 Increase Reported For City

Lubbock Valuations Show Record Boost

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

A RECORD-BREAKING $10,000,000 increase in assessed valuations in the city since last year was reported at the semi-monthly meeting of the city commission Thursday afternoon.

Valuations jumped from $59,406,000 in 1948 to the new total of $69,463,000 as shown in the tax rolls submitted by Harvey Austin, city tax-assessor collector.

The total and the increase were the largest in history and were due almost entirely to new building, and other improvements. Expansions of the city limits since last year and a closer assessment of personal property—automobiles in particular—accounted for relatively a small portion of the gain.

Over Budget Estimate

The amount is more than $9,000,000 larger than the estimate on which the current city budget is based and exceeds by approximately $5,000,000 the early-year estimate by the tax assessor-collector of the amount the valuations would total.

The valuations mean that the city will collect approximately $175,000 more in taxes than was estimated when the present city budget was prepared. This will be additional money for improvements of many kinds.

The total of the taxes the assessments might produce was placed at $1,215,601, if all can be collected. All naturally won't be collected, but Austin said approximately 98 per cent of the assessments on the 1948 roll have been paid—believed by officials to be an all-time record for any Texas city of comparable or larger population.

The nearest approach to the increase of last year was the gain between 1945 and 1946, when valuations jumped approximately $8,000,000. But the larger part of that increase was due to a reappraisal of valuations — which

U. S. Steel, CIO Map Peace Pact

(By The Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 10.— The great steel strike of 1949 tonight neared an end point as United States Steel corporation and the CIO United steelworkers put together terms for a settlement.

Lawyers for union and company worked all day polishing up the pension and insurance agreement which may be signed tomorrow.

One source who can't be quoted by name said flatly:

"It's the Bethlehem agreement here, too."

No high officials of the union would confirm his statement. But observers pointed out that five other large steel producers found the Bethlehem steel ompany's formula good enough for them.

Legal Aspects Studied

There were indications lawyers were struggling only with purely legal aspects of the agreement.

The union scheduled important sessions for what may be a significant Armistice day in the nation's most expensive steel strike:

1. The 35-man union negotiating team will convene at 8 a. m. (CST).

2. The full negotiating teams of

U. S. Protests 'Kidnapping'

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The United States today announced a second angry protest to Russia against the kidnapping and disappearance of two American officials being held in Communist-controlled North Korea.

The State department at the same time bared a new report by O. Edmund Clubb, U. S. consul general at Peiping, describing his unsuccessful attempts to obtain release of five consular officials held by Chinese Communists at Mukden.

The Korean incident revolves around the mutiny of a Korean crew aboard the American vessel "Kimball R. Smith," bound for Seoul in South Korea with Albert Willis, of Brooklyn, and Alfred T. Meschter, of Kinderhook, N. Y., both ECA officials, aboard. The mutinous crew took the vessel to a north Korean port.

An original exchange between the U. S. and Soviet governments in early October brought no results. The Moscow foreign office said it could not intervene because the matter was "within the competence" of the "people's republic" of North Korea.

Today, the State department reported that the U. S. embassy in Moscow had renewed the demand for assistance on Oct. 29—but as yet has received no reply.

Dallas Man Lands Plane In Field, Shoots Self To Death

DENNISON, Nov. 10. (AP).—Officers said a Dallas man landed a light plane in a field seven miles east of Denison today and shot himself to death.

Deputy Sheriff Bruce Barton identified him as Rudolph F. E. Weidemann of Dallas. He was 52.

Weidemann was found in the plane, the doors to its cabin locked tight, and a pistol in his lap. The shot had passed through his mouth and the top of his head, and out through the plane. Justice of the Peace Charles McKemy returned an inquest verdict of death from "self inflicted wounds."

Joe Washburn, a farmer, found Weidemann about 5:30 p. m. The plane had made a perfect landing in Washburn's field, and was undamaged.

Washburn told Barton he was painting his house when he saw a plane land in the field about 3 p. m. He said it remained there and he saw no one enter or leave it. After he had finished his work he went to see about the plane and found Weidemann dead.

W. L. Marr, Former Lamesa Mayor, Injured In Fall

LAMESA, Nov. 10 (Special) — W. L. Marr, 71, former mayor of Lamesa, suffered a skull fracture about 2 p.m., today, when he accidentally fell at the airfield eight miles north of town.

Hospital attendants at Lamesa General hospital late tonight described his condition as serious and said he was getting along as well as could be expected.

A farmer who was with Marr at the time of the accident said he tripped on a slack rope and struck his head on a concrete sidewalk. The farmer said they were inspecting grain stored in one of the hangers at the airfield.

Marr was rushed to the hospital in a private car.

Marr served as mayor from 1934 to 1942, and also has served a term as sheriff-tax assessor collector for Dawson county. He has bee.. operating the Plaza hotel in Lamesa since 1940.

Bolivian Pilot Denies Receiving Radio Warning Prior To Crash

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10—Eric Rios Bridoux swore today that he never received a warning which would have averted the collision between his P-38 fighter plane and an eastern airlines DC-4, which brought death to 55 persons.

The statement of the Bolivian airman, sole survivor of U.S. history's worst airplane disaster, was made public at the Civil Aeronautics board hearing on the tragedy.

Rios' story conflicted with the testimony of Washington airport control tower officials who declared that the Bolivian had acknowledged instructions ordering him to circle the field until the airliner had landed.

The Bolivian, who testified via a deposition taken at his hospital bedside, said the P-38 had radio and engine trouble and that he so informed the tower.

Rios said he asked for landing instructions. He asserted that the tower "didn't say anything" about the proximity of the Eastern airlines DC-4. Rios added:

U. S. Sets Out New Policies At Paris Meet

By KINGSBURY SMITH
European General Manager INS

PARIS, Nov. 10.—Reliable sources disclosed tonight that U. S. Secretary of State Acheson has made to the British and French foreign minister one of the most important and far-reaching declarations of American foreign policy issued since the war.

These sources said Acheson told British Foreign Secretary Bevin and French Foreign Minister Schuman in their Paris talks that American policy now is based on establishment of Western Europe's first line of denfense on the Elbe river (the Soviet occupation zone boundary in Germany).

Also, they said, the policy calls for eventual moderate rearmament of the West German state.

The informants said further that the United States government is prepared to support a gradual build-up of the French army to 30 divisions as a bulwark of western European land defense.

As a guaranty of French security Acheson is quoted as saying the United States is prepared to limit Western Germany's future army to three divisions for every 30 French divisions.

The three foreign ministers ended their two-day conference tonight and announced in a communique they have agreed on the "progressive integration" of Germany with Western Europe.

Acheson and the British and French ministers gave new powers and secret instructions on German plant dismantling to the Western high commissioners in Western Germany to safeguard the peace.

They proclaimed in an Armistice day communique their firm "resolve that no country shall be permitted to menace the peace and security of its neighbors."

International News Service is able to reveal exclusively the detailed play-by-play account of what occurred yesterday behind closed door in the French foreign office during the ultra-secret historic first session of the Big Three conference.

Final Returns On Texas Election Show Two Amendments Okayed

(By The Associated Press)

FINAL unofficial returns on Tuesday's statewide election showed Thursday night that voters made two amendments to the constitution and named 21 members to the new state board of education.

Eight proposed amendments were rejected.

An estimated 300,000 went to the polls.

Counting of the ballots was continued until Thursday night by the Texas Election bureau because of the close returns on one amendment and several district races for the board of education.

The final figures, with only about 15,000 votes over the state uncounted, showed the amendment to provide non-jury lunacy trials trailing by 10,176 votes. A total of 136,403 voted for it and 146,579, or 51.79 per cent, against it.

The last two races for the school board to be decided were in Districts 9 and 19.

In District 19 E. H. Boulter of Lubbock led by 4,403 over J. M. Rankin of Ralls with 4,151. About 450 votes have not been counted.

Truman To Lead In Annual Observance Of Armistice Day

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10—President Truman will lead the nation in observance of Armistice day tomorrow by laying a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown soldier in Arlington National cemetery.

The ceremonies in the famous burial ground will be sponsored by the American Legion. George N. Craig, national commander of the Legion, will deliver the principal address.

For countless people Armistice day, falling on Friday, will mean a three-day holiday. With balmy weather forecast for tomorrow in many sections, numerous people were planning out-of-town trips.

The public, it was indicated, had tapped its bank accounts hard to assure it plenty of cash for the long weekend. The Federal Reserve board reported a $146,000,000 increase in money in circulation during the week ended yesterday.

In a pre-Armistice day radio speech, Clyde A. Lewis, leader of the Veterans of Foreign Wars called on the three branches of the armed services to "stop bickering and sniping and join together in one hard-hitting team."

Krug Resigns Cabinet Post

By ROBERT G. NIXON
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 — The White House announced tonight that Interior Secretary Julius A. "Cap" Krug has resigned from the cabinet.

The Krug resignation was delivered to the President at his temporary Blair House residence at 4:55 p.m. CST, a few minutes after Mr. Truman returned from the executive offices.

This development came only 16 hours after International News Service disclosed exclusively that Krug would resign at the end of the month.

Chapman To Get Post

Top White House sources said Krug will be succeeded by Undersecretary Oscar Chapman, Democratic party wheelhorse.

A reliable Interior department source said Krug will relinquish his post on Dec. 1.

The White House announcement followed by minutes a brief statement issued on Krug's behalf by an Interior department spokesman. The statement said:

"I am leaving. I have been wanting to leave for a long time."

The White House described the letter of resignation as "very friendly." News Secretary Charles G. Ross said earlier that Mr. Truman had no hint that Krug would resign at this time.

Ross added that "the President had been aware for some time that Mr. Krug had this step under consideration."

UN Delegate Raps Baruch Control Plan

By PIERRE J. HUSS

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Nov 10. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky declared today that Russia can stockpile atom bombs at will but that Soviet atomic energy has been turned to vast peacetime development projects.

The Russian for the first time flatly said that Russia has an "atomic bomb."

Claim Startles UN

The startling Soviet claim, coming in the wake of recent Moscow reports that a valley 40 miles wide has been cleared in the Ural region by blasting away a mountain with an "atomic explosion," caused widespread excitement and speculation in UN.

A number of delegates are redrafting their speeches on atomic energy control, although Argentina tonight offered a new resolution calling on the six atomic powers to renounce atomic weapons for purposes of aggression. U. S. Representative John D. Hickerson said he would refer the Vishinsky statement to Washington and await instructions for a reply.

Economic Uses Stressed

The core of Vishinsky's atomic statement, translated by UN from the official Russian text, read as follows:

"We in the Soviet Union are utilizing atomic energy, but not in order to stockpile atomic bombs—although I am convinced that if, unfortunately and to our great regret, this were necessary, we should have as many of these as we should need — no more and no less.

"Right now we are utilizing atomic energy for our economic needs in our economic interests. We are razing mountains; we are spreading life, happiness, prosperity and welfare in places where the human footstep had not been seen for thousands of years.

"We are doing this because we are the masters of our great land under our own plan, and are required to account for this to no

Truman Repeats Hopes For Peace

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (INS)—President Truman today repeated his hopes for a peaceful end to the cold war but the U. S. at the same time imposed new restrictions on overseas shipments which might build up Russia's war-making ability.

Mr. Truman was asked at his news conference whether he is hopeful for improvement of relations with the Soviets. The chief executive said he is, and added that he always has been hopeful.

New Curbs Established

Almost simultaneously, the Commerce department established export controls over 60 more commodities—machinery and technical data—which could aid a foreign power bent on enlarging its war potential. The action brought to 170 the total of such items under control.

AEC Declares Japan Eligible To Receive By-Product Of A-Bomb

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (INS)—The U.S. Atomic Energy commission announced today that Japan, first and only nation to feel the destructive terror of the atomic bomb, has been declared eligible to receive radioisotopes, humanitarian by-product of the weapon.

The commission announcement said that Japan is the first occupied country to be admitted to America's isotope-sharing program. The Japanese will receive the A-bomb by-product for medical, biological and scientific research uses.

Wide Use Develops

Since the first A-bomb was detonated over Hiroshima in August, 1945, radioisotopes have been widely utilized in the detection and treatment of many diseases, including cancer.

At the same time the AEC announced that it is engaged in discussions which may result in U.S. acquisition of uranium from the Union of South Africa.

It said the talks, now going on in Johannesburg, resulted from the discovery over a year ago that uranium, the basis of A-bombs, occurs as a component of the gold ore found in the South African union.

The AEC said that isotope export to Japan will be handled through the office of General Douglas MacArthur in Japan. Personnel on the supreme commander's staff will be charged with surveillance to see that the isotopes are used "safely and effectively."

The AEC said that the admission of Japan brings to 30 the number of foreign nations eligible for receiving isotopes produced in the United States.

The agency added that isotopes going to Japan will be used in medicine and biology and as tools for research in the physical sciences." Japanese scientists using them will be required to comply with general regulations governing their foreign distribution. The AEC added:

"The Department of state has informed the commission that the sale of radio isotopes to the Japanese is in accord with the general principles of American foreign policy to extend such appropriate humanitarian assistance to occupied countries as will contribute toward the establishment in these countries of stable, democratic governments."

Nation Warned Of Critical Shortage Of Doctors, Hospitals In Case Of New War

By FELIX COTTEN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 — A National Security Resources board official sounded a sharp warning today that an atomic war would catch the nation with a critical shortage of doctors and hospital facilities.

Dr. Norvin C. Kiefer, director of the NSRB health resources division, declared that another war may bring "even more diabolical weapons" than atomic bombs and biological warfare, with consequences "almost too frightful to contemplate."

Kiefer, in an address before the convention of the Association of Military surgeons, said that if war comes "we may expect to see casualties — among civilians and military forces alike—on a scale without precedent in history." He declared:

Civilians May Suffer

"Certainly we must recognize that in another war our civilian population will probably be just as subject to enemy attack as will our military forces."

The possibility of widespread epidemics must be faced, he said, and "we must be prepared for unnatural outbreaks of disease resulting from biological warfare."

Kiefer said a shortage now exists in 20 categories of health personnel, including doctors, dentists, and nurses, and that the existing shortage of hospital beds is tragic."

He emphasized that these shortages would be greatly intensified in war, not merely by increased demand, but in the case of hospital facilities by possible "enemy destruction."

At the end of 1948, he said, the estimated shortage of hospital beds was 897,000, of which 225,000 were general hospital beds. Kiefer added:

"An extensive hospital construction program, supported in part by federal grants-in-aid, is now in progress. But the shortage is so great, and the construction expenses so huge, that the objective of an ample supply of hospital beds will not be reached for many years."

Besides doctors, dentists and nurses, Kiefer said health manpower shortages now exist in these categories:

Pharmacists, sanitary engineers, veterinarians, dental hygienists, dental technicians, dieticians and nutritionists, health educators, hospital administrators, medical social workers, medical technicians, nursing technicians, occupational therapists, physical therapists, psychiatric social workers, sanitarians, X-ray technicians and optometrists.

He conceded that the shortage estimates are based on numbers needed to provide "optimum services" for all, and that scant service must be expected in war. But he added:

"Remember that these are peacetime shortages and that they would be enormously exaggerated in wartime."

No, we haven't forgotten what you fought for...

How Time Flies!

It seems like yesterday . . .

that the First World War ended . . . that the curtain came down on the "War to end all wars." We paused then to give tribute to those who had given us a golden future.

It seems like this morning . . .

that we celebrated the end of World War II . . . and watched you boys come home again to enjoy the kind of world you fought for. There was little pause then . . . there was too much to be done. . . .

Thank You, Veterans of Both World Wars

This is your day . . . a day set aside to honor you who went off to battle that the rest of us might live to enjoy the privileges of peace and democracy. If on this day we all resolve to strive unceasingly for adherence to those principles for which you fought . . . then perhaps we shall have given purpose to those bitter years.

Germany's Part In Defense Of Europe Must Be Decided Soon

BY J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

The Allies seem to be approaching the time when they must decide whether Western Germany is to play any role in the defense of Europe and what it shall be.

This is a grave problem, particularly for France, which has suffered German agression three times since 1870.

When Churchill, Stalin and Franklin D. Roosevelt conferred on Germany's future at Yalta five years ago they were tentatively agreed that Germany should be dismembered into its constituent states. When that was dropped it was decided to collect huge war reparations through dismantlement of German industries and their division among ravaged countries.

Stronger Germany Sought

Now every effort is being made to strengthen a new central German government embracing all of the territory controlled by the Allies. Russia is doing the same thing in her occupation zone.

Foreign ministers of the three western powers, although running into snags because of traditional Franco-German relations, seem to be working successfully toward inclusion of Western Germany in the Council of Europe, an advisory but powerful international forum. Dismantlement apparently is to be greatly curtailed or even abandoned. A Marshall aid treaty between Germany and the United States is in the offing which would put the new government on a par with other European countries in that field. This presumably will mean German inclusion in the organization for European Economic control.

Germany may soon be sending consuls to the western countries.

The Bonn government also wants a peace treaty. For a long time the German leaders shied away from this point, being unwilling to take steps which formally recognized the partition of Germany.

All this is bound to lead to the military question. To imagine the Germans as innocent bystanders if a war develops between East and West is to be unrealistic. They would be mobilized—if there were time—just as sure as fate.

Texas WCTU Quells Revolt Within Ranks

AUSTIN, Nov. 10 (AP) — The first active rebellion against leadership of the state Women's Christian Temperance union in its 66-year-old history was quelled today.

Mrs. Claude DeVan Watts of Austin was reelected to the presidency which she has held 27 years.

Squabbling between the minority and majority factions developed early as the WCTU's state convention began this morning and reached its climax with the reelection of all officers in closed session this afternoon.

Mrs. Watts told reporters after the meeting: "I received over a two-thirds majority, and I thank them—those who voted for me and those who voted for others—because everyone voted her convictions.

"However, I now am state president representing the entire membership of the Texas WCTU which will work united for our slogan for the coming year, 'forward out of error, forward into light'."

Mrs. William Rascoe of Corpus Christi, nominated by the rebel group, said in a prepared statement: "I did not seek the office of state president and only allowed my name to be used because I object to a 28-year tenure of office in such a fine and much needed organization. I appreciate the support given me."

The losers had attempted earlier to prevent adoption of convention rules, particularly one requiring all official business to be transacted by the executive committee. (As president Mrs. Watts is chairman of the executive committee.)

Other officers reelected were Mrs. Olivia Davis, Dallas, vice-president; Mrs. Thomas C. Jansen, Austin, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Mary R. Powell, Waxahachie, recording secretary; Mrs. Chris Walz, Harlingen, treasurer.

Fear Of Red Drive Through Middle East Expected To Boost Iranian Bid For Aid

By EDWARD V. ROBERTS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. — Foreign diplomatic circles today reported a rising fear that Russia will launch a major move within two years to take over the middle East.

That fear is said to be an important factor in next week's state visit to this country of the Shah of Iran. Given a measure of encouragement, the young monarch is expected to commit his country to the side of the West in any struggle with Russia. The Shah will be in this country for one month, beginning next Wednesday.

Many Middle Eastern diplomats fear that the cold war will end in hostilities and that the first step will be a Red Army move on Iran Russia's neighbor to the south.

Shift In Strategy Likely

They think Moscow might pick on Iran because it is the most vulnerable and convenient target. These diplomats believe that Greece or Turkey originally were first choice, but that Soviet strategy has shifted since American military aid strengthened those two countries.

Iranian leaders are fearful of the results if their country continues to be the weak point in the wall along Russia's southern boundary. They think this situation is an invitation to aggression.

The Shah is expected to stress that point in talks with President Truman and Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

Army Boost Possible

It is expected that Iran simultaneously may offer to build up its army from the present strength of 115,000 men—poorly-trained and poorly-equipped—to 1 million if it can count on U. S. military, economi and technical assistance.

Such a program would require a far greater program of American aid for Iran than at present. So far, Iran has received from the United States a $26 million credit to buy surplus arms. And the recently enacted foreign arms aid program includes a lump sum of $27,600,000 for Iran, Korea and the Philippines.

Some diplomats said that Iranian military leaders are under no illusions about their ability to halt the Red Army, even with 1,000,000 men.

Delaying Tactics Favored

The said the purpose of such an army would be to hamper, harass, and delay the Russians until such time as reinforcements could arrive. In other words, they said, it would be evidence of Iranian willingness to fight at the probable cost of having their country destroyed rather than submit to Russia and become a Soviet satellite.

The Shah reportedly also will seek to focus American attention on economic development of his oil-rich country. Iran is much interested in Mr. Truman's "point four" program for assisting underdeveloped areas with American capital.

The Shah's advisers have arranged for him to visit American industrial and agricultural centers during his stay here. This will serve a two-fold purpose. It will enable the Shah to report to his people on America's pre-eminence in those fields, and stimulate American interest in the possibilities of farm and factory development in Iran.

The Congress held its 1929 convention in Waco.

Members will begin asembling in Waco two days before the convention gets underway. The board of managers, the executive committee and several state standing commitees will meet to do a little preconvention spadework.

Dr. Cross To Speak At Bar Meet Here

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

GREATER love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.

Today in song, in prayer, in deed we remember once those who died for us in a war that was to "end all wars," a conflict that was "to bring democracy to the world."

"They shall grow not old, as we that are left grow old:

Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn.

At the going down of the sun and in the morning

We will remember them."

WE are remembering this morning that Lincoln said, "It is for us, the living, rather, to be dedicated . . . to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion . . . that government of the people, for the people, by the people, shall not perish from the earth."

THOSE words mean that our grief that has grown so dulled in the years that have elapsed, with another world war more horrible than the first in fresher memories, must be translated into a will to work for an organization to insure a just peace.

As we think once more of that first Armistice day 31 years ago we realize that loving people does not mean dying for them, but laying down life for them.

THOUGHT

ADD to your beautiful fall sights in Lubbock: The leaves on the walls of the Lindsey apartments on Ave. W between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets.

IMPORTANT SENSE

SOMEONE was wondering the other day which of the five senses was the most important. When it came right down to it, we were reluctant to give up any.

Most of us agreed that the sense of sight, perhaps was the greatest delight, aesthetically as well as practically. Then, hearing seemed pretty important.

Tasting and touching, too, were hestitatingly considered for elimination. But we finally concluded that the sense of smell (thought terribly tied to taste) was the one sense in living in today that we might consider least important.

Creatures of the wild depend upon their sense of smell for their very survival. We, too, were more skilled on that score once. Even yet, we are guided in countless ways by our sense of smell, though it is no longer to whiff the air for signs of danger.

AUTUMN PIES

PUMPKIN and mincemeat are tops for fall pastries. Never was there an easier time to serve refreshments than at present, although the rich fillings are never kind to the plump sisters.

We think pumpkin pie is pure pleasure, whether served in traditional wedges, or as tarts; whether made with molasses or without; whether garnished with whipped cream or served plain.

ON GETTING ALONG

LIFE is one continuous sales process. If you are a failure, it is usually because you can't sell yourself to the age in which you live.

Not long ago an industrial psychiatrist who had consulted with over 5,000 maladjusted workers, said their most frequent problem was inability to get along with other people.

Technical skill and mechanical ability must be supplemented with knowledge of applied psychology if one wishes to hold his job in this competitive age.

Town Talk

AN ARMISTICE theme dance was staged Wednesday night at the Lubbock Country club with Dr. and Mrs. M. D. Watkins, Dr. and Mrs. David Haymes and Messrs. and Mesdames Ira Dunlap, Harold Humphries and Gordon Thompson as hosts.

Music for dancing was by C. A. Rodgers orchestra, and approximately 450 guests attended the entertainment which began at 9 p. m., and continued until midnight.

The two mantels in the ballroom were decorated similarly with white carnations arranged on a shield-shaped holder against an arching blue background. Red tapers lighted the mantels, and red flags waved above the white floral pieces.

Red, white and blue decorations were used on the orchestra stand. In the dining room, the refreshment table was laid in red and centered by an arrangement of red, white and blue carnations circled by red flags. Napkins were also in patriotic colors.

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Jenkins, 2124 Thirtieth, left Thursday morning for California, where he will attend the American Academy of Pediatrics of San Francisco.

After the close of the medical meeting, the Lubbock couple will remain in California for a vacation. They plan to return home between the 20th and 25th of this month.

Mrs. L. G. H. Williams of 2023 Seventeenth, and her daughter, Mrs. Sarah Wilson of Corpus Christi, have left by automobile for a trip to Harlan, Iowa, where they will visit their daughter and sister, Mrs. Hector Thompson and family.

DIDN'T BELIEVE IT

Large Number Of Voters Think Truman To Run For Re-Election

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute Of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 10.—Although the White House has not committed itself, an increasingly large majority of voters think that President Truman is planning to run for re-election in 1952.

There has been much speculation in political circles about the President's plans, with a number of commentators professing to see evidence in his recent maneuvers that he is definitely laying the groundwork for 1952. To see how the nation's voters themselves feel about this, institute interviewers put this question to a balanced cross-section in all the 48 states:

"Do you think President Truman will be a candidate for re-election in 1952?"

A similar survey in June was conducted on the same question. The trend follows:

	June	TODAY
Think he will run	57%	65%
Think he will not	32	23
No opinion	11	12

Attitude By Parties

Interestingly enough, Republicans are more certain than Democrats are that he will run.

Here is the vote by party affiliation:

	Dems.	Reps.
Think he will run	65%	69%
Think he will not	24	22
No opinion	11	9

Could He Win?

No one can foresee, of course, whether the President would win if he ran again. It would depend on the popularity of his Republican opponent and on the course of events leading up to 1952.

But at this moment the voters who think he will run are pretty sure that he will win—quite a different attitude from that found in advance of the 1948 election, when the majority of voters thought Mr. Truman would lose.

Here is how those who think he will run answered the question, "If he is a candidate, do you think he will win?"

Think he will win	44%
Think he will lose	34
No opinion	22

Republican Choices

Among voters who classify themselves as Republicans, the most popular choice as G.O.P. nominee for 1952 is General Dwight D. Eisenhower, as the institute reported last month.

The Republicans were asked:

"Here is a list of men who have been mentioned as possible candidates for the Republican party. Which one would you like to see nominated as the Republican candidate for President?"

Dwight D. Eisenhower	25%
Harold E. Stassen	19
Sen. Robert Taft	15
Gov. Thomas Dewey	12
Gov. Earl Warren	10
Sen. Arthur Vandenberg	6
Sen. Leverett Saltonstall	3
Sen. John W. Bricker	3

Texans Warned Of Possible Disease In Poorly Cooked Pork

AUSTIN, Nov. 10. (INS)—"Please pass the pork" is a familiar sentence around dinner tables in Texas this winter.

A juicy pork roast or a big platter of pork chops are dishes that can't be beat, according to many connoiseurs of meat.

Por, however, can be deadly as well as delicious.

Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, advises Texans to make sure pork passes the test of thorough cooking before it's put on the table.

Disease May Result

A disease called trichinosis sometimes results from eating poorly-cooked pork, especially in the South.

The disease is easy to prevent. When pork is cooked enough for the pink color to turn to white, it is safe enough to eat.

Farmers who raise hogs for sale as meat, and who feed them garbage, have long been cautioned to cook the garbage first. If butchered pork is stored at a temperature of five degrees above zero for 20 days, Dr. Cox says, trichinosis parasites should die.

But a large amount of infected meat invariably reaches the public.

Worms Take Over

If a person eats a pork chop, for example, which contains trichinae, they are swallowed in the form of tiny capsules. In the intestines these capsules develop and discharge minute worms which are carried by the bloodstream to various parts of the body—settling in muscles, where after a period of time they become calcified and die. Dr. Cox lists some of the symptoms of trichinosis as stomach upsets and muscular pains, a feeling of chilliness, sore throat and sometimes considerable fever.

An acute attack of the illness lasts up to two weeks. The disease has a low death rate, but recovery is often slow.

Czech Music Lovers Hear Crosby Without Criticism

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Nov. 10 (AP) — Just two weeks ago a program of Bing Crosby recordings at the Gramoton Music theater was interrupted by boos and catcalls for a Communist commentator who criticized Crosby.

The commentator had said Crosby was a "greedy money grabber" and no real Democrat.

Today the same theater was filled again to standing room for another two-hour Crosby program from "Bells of St. Mary's" to "Birth of the Blues."

A new commentator kept his mouth shut about politics and confined himself to announcing song titles.

The crowd seemed to like it fine.

HARDEN WITH AGE

Until the antlers of a deer reach maturity, they are soft spongy, warm and full of blood. When they reach full growth, circulation ceases and the antlers become hard. The velvety covering then is shed and the deer becomes the owner of a polished pair of weapons.

State Revenue From Cigarettes Jumps As Liquor Income Drops

AUSTIN, Nov. 10 (INS) — The State of Texas collected more taexs on cigarettes and less on liquor last month than it did a year ago.

State Treasurer Jesse James reported that $2,071,022.89 was collected on cigarette stamps during October, while only $1,022,438.87 was taken in on "hard" liquor stamps.

In October 1948 the two collections were closed: $1,944,284.94 on cigarettes and $1,315,290.23 on liquor.

The state colected a grand total of $3,149,843.38 during October from stamp sales on cigarettes, liquor, prescriptions and wine. This was a decrease of $167,469.87 from the total collected a year ago, but was slightly above the September figure of $3,143,208.77.

Oil Reserves In West Texas Enough For U.S., Society Told

EL PASO, Nov. 10 (AP) — A West Texan said today that his area which produces a fifth of U. S. petroleum has plenty of reserves for the country.

In a talk to the 62nd convention of the Geological Society of America, T. S. Jones of the West Texas Geological society declared:

"One million barrels of oil are produced daily in the West Texas area and we are capable of larger output.

"West Texas is regarded as an area of reserve. When other supplies are gone, ours will still be here. And our oil supplies are in no immediate danger of exhaustion because of efficient production. We do not pump each well dry, but use our supply more consistently."

One of the first demonstrations of color television was presented by the Bell Telephone Laboratories June 27, 1929.

Staff College Study Offered Reservists

Organized Reserve corps officers in the Lubbock area now have an opportunity to take a three-months associate course at the Command General Staff college, Fort Leavenworth, Kans., beginning Jan. 4, 1950.

Col. Oscar B. Abbott, chief of Texas Military district in Austin, has announced these requirements: (1). Must have a minimum of seven years' commissioned service; (2). Must have indicated by actual performance of duty a potentiality for assignment to high command or staff position; (3). Must have completed or have credit for completion of an advanced or associated advanced school course; and (4). Must be under 51 years of age.

In general, candidates will be selected from the highest rated officers meeting the above qualifications.

All applications must reach the Austin headquarters of the Texas Military district by Nov. 13. Full information regarding the associate course may be obtained from Major James Samsel, Lubbock Organized Reserve corps instructor with offices in the Lubbock Cotton Exchange building.

Dallas Conral Expressway Brings Deluge Of Inquiries

AUSTIN, Nov. 10 (INS) — The ultra modern central expressway which is being biult in Dallas, is causing a deluge of inquiries at the State Highway department in Austin.

State highway Engineer D. C. Greer said one of the recent letters sent to the department was from the mayor of Kobe, Japan, who declared he was much inhpressed by the construction of the new highway.

A recent story in a Chicago newspaper carried a picture of the central expressway with the caption, "The Most Modern Highway in the United States."

Although the first section of the highway has just been opened in Dallas, Texas engineers are reluctant to call it the most modern in the nation.

Greer cautiously says:

"It is one of the most modern in design, and one of the most modern in its date of completion."

At any rate, widespread publicity of the project has caused road authorities throughout the country to sit up and take notice. And strange to say, Texans are the only ones who aren't bragging.

New Coplon Espionage Trial Scheduled To Begin Monday

Federal Judge William Bondy set the date today after another brief exchange with Gubitchev, who in court has claimed an off-again, on-again knowledge of the English language.

Westerners Face Odessa's Broncs In Crucial Clash Today

Crowd Of 22,000 Seen For Top Game In State At Odessa Field

By AL WILLIAMS
Avalanche Sports Writer

The District 3-AA football "title" is on the line today when the Lubbock Westerners invade Broncho stadium in Odessa at 2:30 p. m. in Texas' top schoolboy football battle of the week.

The loser can start thinking about basketball and other winter sports, but the winner of the tilt will be favored to take not only district but bi-district honors as well, with a good chance of advancing to the state finals.

Lubbock is the favorite by virtue of its unmarked record of seven straight victories this season, but the Bronchos are given a good chance to hold the Westerners in check.

Sellout Crowd Assured

A sellout crowd of 22,600 persons is expected for the district clash, the largest number of persons ever to witness a football game in Odessa.

Ticket sales in Lubbock have been excellent, and 6,890 ducats have been sold to Lubbock fans. Of this number more than 1,100 are student tickets.

The exodus for Odessa is expected to start early this morning, with some of the first units leaving from the high school. A total of 13 buses have been chartered for Lubbock students, according to Floyd Honey, principal at the high school, with the first leaving at 7:30 a.m. The team will leave from Chapman field around 8 o'clock, eat in Midland at midmorning, and then go on to Odessa. Fans will travel in eight buses and private cars.

Twice-beaten and once-tied this season but leading district play with two wins, the Bronchos are the only team given a chance to stop the Westerners in their drive for the flag. The Lamesa hurdle has been passed, and only Midland and Brownfield, both soft touches this year, are left on the Westerner schedule. Odessa has one game scheduled following the Lubbock game, that with Brownfield.

Reeves, Wright Lead Team

Ends Garnet Reeves and Billy Wright will co-captain the Bronc Busters today. Both boys are senior lettermen and have been important cogs in the Westerner machine thus far this season. Reeves has been the top pass catcher this year, with 10 receptions good for 198 yards and three touchdowns, two more scores being added on recovered fumbles. Wright has caught six passes for 90 yards, playing outstanding ball on defense.

Odessa's main scoring threat of the year has been Fullback Howard Dye, who has scored seven touchdowns good for 42 points. Halfback Bobby Jackson has pushed over six touchdowns for 36 points. Halfback Dawton Hughes has scored but three touchdowns, but he has converted 21 times to pile up 39 points. Halfback T. W. Harvey last week scored three times against Lamesa to run his total to 24 points.

Odessa Sparkplugs

On rushing plays Odessa is paced by Dye, Jackson, Hughes and Harvey, and passing star has been Mac Tyler, with Quarterback Charles Clover runner-up. Tyler was injured in the Lamesa game and may be called on for limited service this week.

One of the top ends in the state in pass reception has been Paul Erwin, and the 170-pound end has been on the end of 19 passes for 334 yards and two tallies.

Primarily the Odessa attack is a strong running game, but passes are thrown often where long yardage is needed.

After a week of drills on offense and defense to fit the Odessa style of play, Westerner Coach Pat Pattison said Friday that he hoped the team was ready. "It will be a hard game from start to finish," Pattison remarked, "and I hope we can come out on top."

Only two injuries on the Lubbock squad are serious enough to keep players out of the game, both to substitutes. Fullback Don Rawls is limping from an ankle injury, and End Wayne Noland suffered an injured hip in practice.

Displaying heads-up play in practice the past two weeks have been Guards Bob Newell and Curtis Roberts, and these two boys are certain to see action.

Coach Pattison is stringing along with the same starters who have been in the lineup in the first seven games of the season.

Seminole's Juniors Defeat Denver City

SEMINOLE, Nov. 10 (Special)—Paul Sublette's three-touchdown splurge here tonight brought the Seminole Junior High school football team its ninth consecutive South Plains Junior High school conference victory, a 26-0 victory over an outclassed Denver City eleven.

Coach Morris Southall's squad thus remains unbeaten in conference play and tonight clinched the championship of the north half.

Seminole will play Fort Stockton at Fort Stockton Thursday night for the district championsh'

The little Indians controlled the game completely, racking up 15 first downs to one for the losers, who gained that in the final minutes of the game on a long pass.

Sublette paced the offensive parade with touchdown runs of one, six and 10 yards. Brad Crawford accounted for the fourth score on an 80-yard run, best distance by any back in the game.

Extra points were added by James Jackson and Charles Hargrove.

In the line, which turned in an outstanding job all the way, Ends Marcus Crow and Lamoyne Livingston were particularly brilliant.

Game Fever Runs High At Odessa

ODESSA, Nov. 10—(Special)—Odessa football fever was reaching the white-heat stage Thursday afternoon as the largest throng in the city's history anxiously awaited the gridiron clash Friday between the battling Bronchos and Lubbock's mighty Westerners.

More then 22,000 lucky fans from both cities held tickets to the game, and it seemed that at least that many more were trying to purchase game ducats Thursday. Odessa school officials, however, have had the "sold out" sign up ever since the last 500 bleacher seats were grabbed up in 15 minutes Wednesday morning, and have released this word of caution: "Do not come to the Broncho stadium without a ticket—none will be available Friday."

Coach Joe Coleman sent Broncho hopes soaring after the Thursday practice session when he pronounced his squad "ready" for the game that will all but decide the District 3-AA championship, and send the winner winging into the state playoffs.

Perfect Pass Defense

Tapering off sharply after three long and rugged workouts earlier in the week, the Broncs Thursday ran through light signal drills and then devoted the remainder of their drill to perfecting their pass defense.

Coleman said the squad was in near-perfect shape, the only doubtful performer being second-string Quarterback Mac Tyler, who is slightly handicapped by a knee injury. Although relegated to part-time duty behind first-string Charles Clover, Tyler leads the Broncs in passing with 13 completions in 25 tosses for 288 yards.

Other than Tyler, all the Broncs are expected to be ready for full-scale action against the Westerners.

Surprise Backfield Starters

Clover will start at quarterback, and in the backfield with him will be two surprise starters. Coleman said today that Joe Childress, 152-pound sophomore speedster, would open at fullback, and that Bobby Jackson, 155, would get the nod at left halfback. Childress and Jackson replace two familiar starters, Seniors Howard Dye and Joe Howell.

T. W. Harvey, the only Broncho back slated to see duty on both offense and defense, will open at right halfback.

Dick Rice will team with Paul Erwin, the squad's top pass receiver, at the ends; Briscoe Cassity and Herb Miller will open at tackles; Roy Heard, a tackle last week, and Bobby Alread will man the guard slots, and Tiny Etheredge will be at center.

Jim Gerron, Tommy Salmon, Dawton Hughes and Harvey will form the defensive backfield, while Ralph Vaught is slated to take over for Rice in the defensive line.

Coleman, after dismissing the Broncs from their final practice before the game, had high praise for Lubbock, but also a note of encouragement for Odessa.

"Lubbock is, without question, the best team we'll see all season," the veteran Bronc mentor said. "They have a tremendously fine ball club—one of the best high school teams I have ever seen."

But Coleman was pretty optimistic regarding Broncho prospects.

"I think we can win," he said. for Lubbock in the game.

"In fact, I know we can if we play the brand of ball we're capable of playing. Lubbock has a great team, but any team can be beaten. We looked pretty good in practice this week, and if we have the fire and determination and hustle all the way, we'll make a real ball game out of it."

Rangers Win City Crown

J. T. Hutchinson's Rangers won the City Junior High school football championship last night at Chapman field by defeating O. L. Slaton's Redskins, 15-0.

The victory was a birthday gift for the Rangers coach, Roy Hendrix, and the youngsters won the game on their spirit and drive. Coach Bennie McWilliams' 'Skins could never get moving.

In first downs the Rangers led 10-3, as they drove for valuable yardage time and time again on off tackle slants by Fullback Jimmy Gafford and Halfbacks James Greer and Robert Johnson.

Quarterbacked by Dub James, the Hutchinson team drove 70 yards following the kickoff, but the drive fizzled out near the ed skin goal line.

Taking over at this point, Redskin Jimmy Welch galloped 60 yards to penetrate Ranger territory, but he was overtaken from behind and bumped to the ground, and that ended the threat.

Hutchinson scored in the third quarter to climax a 40-yard drive. After driving to the one, the Rangers were penalized back to the six. A line play lost a yard when the ball was fumbled, but on the next play Greer went off right tackle for seven yards. James passed to End Miers for the extra point.

Following the kickoff James intercepted a Dickey Lowrey Redskin pass, on the Redskin 40-yard line and the drive was climaxed with Greer going around left end from seven yards out. Pass for the point was blo ed.

Late in the fourth quarter a penalty moved the Redskins back to their three-yard line, and on an attempted punt the pass from center was high and allowed Jimmy Gafford to block the kick, the ball bounding out of the endzone for a safety to give the Rangers a 15-0 lead.

Welch and Buddy Farris were the powers in the Redskin attack. End Mikey Brady, James, Gafford, and Johnson paced the Ranger offense. Don Presley looked good on defense for the winners.

Ropesville Bows To Pioneers, 26 To 12

ROPESVILLE, Nov. 10. (Special)—Without the services of their star back, Kenneth Means, Ropesville fell to the Pioneers of Lubbock High school here tonight, losing by a 26-12 count.

Although outweighed, the Pioneers fought savagely to go out in front, 12-0, at the half, with two quick touchdowns in the second quarter.

Ropes rallied in the third quarter, taking the kickoff and marching all the way for a touchdown, with Billy Willis driving over from the one-foot line.

Two last-half Lubbock scores put the game on ice, and the final touchdown late in the fourth quarter by Ropesville meant little as far as winning the game was concerned.

In the second stanza C. D. Walker set up the first Lubbock tally with a 25-yard gallop to the Ropesville 10-yard line, and Halfback Billy Tucker carried over from that point on a quick-opener.

George Berry recovered a fumble for the Pioneers on Ropesville's 25 later in the quarter, and Jeff Jones carried the distance to the goal line on an end sweep.

Following the Ropesville score in the third quarter, Lubbock drove to the one-yard line before losing the ball. But on an attempted punt, Melvin Deardorff broke through to block the kick, with a Pioneer recovery resulting in a touchdown. Wesley Currie converted.

Walker broke loose on a 25-yard gallop for the last Lubbock score, and Currie again converted.

A fumble recovery by Ropesville on the Pioneer 15-yard line set up the final score, with Frank Condra sweeping end for 12 yards and the score.

Quarterback Sammy Sayers completed three of seven passes

TEXAS ROSE BOWL GAME

TYLER, Nov. 10. (AP)—Lloyd George, chairman of the Texas Rose Bowl committee, said today that efforts were being made to line up two outstanding junior colleges for the game Dec. 10.

Tinkers Defeat Boys Club Quintet, 69-42

Thomas Tinkers swept to an easy 69-42 victory over the Lubbock Boys club team last night in a basketball game at the Boys club court.

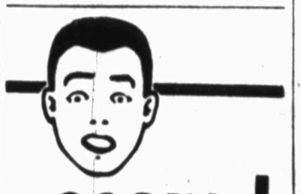

Bob Galey paced the winners with 15 points, while Bob Steely, Jimmy Clark and Jackie Cook each had seven points for the losers.

Midget and PeeWee Leagues were organized today with six teams in each. Junior and senior teams will be organized next Monday.

Teams in the Midget League, with team captains, include Palominos, Dale Ball; Eagles, Wesley Houston; Galloping Ghosts, Danny Tucker; The Raiders, James Butler; Five Little Angels, Dean Fawcett; and Alleyrat Five, Donnie Brown.

Teams in the PeeWee League, with team captains, are Maulers, Paul Sikes; Stampeders, Cricket Shirley; Roughies, Gene Calvert; Buffaloes, Ken Marmaduke; Wildcats, Buddy Robertson; and Mustangs, Jerry Etter.

In the Midget loop Monday, the Palominos play the Eagles, and in the PeeWee circuit, also on Monday, the Maulers play the Stampeders.

Picadors Seek Third Win Today

Tech Yearlings Meet H-SU Frosh

Coach Allie Whi and 35 Texas Tech freshmen football players this afternoon at 3 ill seek the third victory of the season in Abilene, where they meet the rong Hardin-Simmons first year men in a traditional freshman encounter.

The Picadors left Lubbock this morning by bus for the afternoon game and were to return tonight. It was the usual squad for traveling that Coach White has been taking all year.

The Buttons of Hardin-Simmons and the Picadors have similar records. The Buttons have won three and lost one, while the Picadors have won two and lost one. Only one of the games has been against a common opponent.

Raiders Are Favored

Hardin-Simmons and Texas Tech hold victories over West Texas State college's freshman squad. The Buttons turned in a 41-7 victory last week. The Picadors turned in a 59-7 victory early in the season.

On the basis of that game, the little Raiders will be favored, even though word from Canyon indicates that the Buff Frosh have improved considerably since the Picador contest.

The Picadors will be faced with the problem of stopping Jack Prichard, a 155-pounder from Denver City, who last week scored four touchdowns, one on a 91-yard gallop. Prichard took the thunder formerly held by Quarterback Charley McGuire, former Post star, whose strong right arm had accounted for most of the yardage gained by the Buttons.

Foes Stress Passing

Other top backs that Tech's freshmen will be called on to halt include Junior Malouf, former Post back, Scotty Holland and Bill Rapp. Weldon Boggus, former Monahans guard and captain of this year's freshman eleven, is the top extra point specialist. He has booted 12 of 14 attempts.

But the Raider frosh, who were upset 13-0 by Odessa junior college last week, are expected to rally from that licking. They will be led by Quarterbacks Don Seale and Carl Madison, Fullback Ronnie Miller and Halfbacks Waldo Young, W. H. Barker, Sandy Welton, Chuck Reynolds and Denton Lambert.

The passing attack that has aided the Picadors this year also will be unfurled extensively today with Ends Alton Linne and James Thames on the receiving end of Madison and Seale passes.

In preparation for the game, Coach White sent the Picador squad through an intensive workout yesterday on plays, both running and passing, with emphasis again on blocking assignments and timing.

LOCALS OUT FOR REVENGE

Dunbar's Panthers Tangle With San Angelo Leopards Here Today

Dunbar High's Panthers, battling to stay in the state negro schoolboy grid race, meet the powerful San Angelo Leopards at 2:30 p.m. today at Chapman field in the Panther's final regular-season game.

Coach Damon Hill's Dunbar team could throw the district chase into a three-way tie by upsetting the undefeated, untied Leopards. At present, San Angelo is leading the circuit, with Dunbar and Abilene tied for second.

A victory for San Angelo, which has rolled to six straight wins this season, would give the Leopards the title. They already have trounced Abilene, which earlier had beaten Dunbar.

Should the race end in a tie, a playoff series involving the three teams will be held.

In addition to its efforts to get back into championship contention, Dunbar will be out today to avenge a 45-0 shellacking suffered last year at the hands of the Leopards.

Coach Hill said Thursday that he expected to field his usual starting lineup, consisting of Arthur Jones and William Moore, ends; Dennis Sanders and Charles Harvey, tackles; Nathaniel Sampson and Charles Payne, guards; Odell Gary, center; Fred Wright, quarterback; Lawrence Robinson and Otis Walker, halfbacks; and Eddie Bullock, fullback.

Admission prices will be 74 cents for adults and 30 cents for children.

Gabrel Leads Border Conference Carriers

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 10. (AP)—One of the hardest men to stop in college football is Harvey (Pug) Gabrel of Texas Western.

Statistics of the Border Conference campaign show that Gabrel, leading the ball-carriers with 705 yards in 122 carries, has lost only five yards all season.

He is far ahead of Wilton Davis of Hardin-Simmons, the second-place man, who has 519 yards on 79 carries.

Sam McGowan of New Mexico A. and M. is the leading passer, having thrown 153 and completed 78 for 1114 yards. But the passer with the best percentage of completions is John Ford of Hardin-Simmons, who has tried 106 and connected 60 times for an average of .566. He has gained 1061 yards.

McGowan also is the total offense leader with 1060 yards with Ford second with 1030. In pass-receiving Bob McChesney of Hardin-Simmons is tops with 29 catches for 568 yards. Burr Reeves of New Mexico A. and M. is second with 23 receptions for 333.

Charles Styron of New Mexico A. and M. leads in punting with an average of 43.1 on 33 kicks. Frank Wise of West Texas State is second with 40.9 on 33 boots.

Arizona State of Tempe has played only six games but leads in total offense with 2962 yards—an average of 495 per game. Second is Texas Western with 2909 in eight games.

Rote Sets All-Time Record In Passing

DALLAS, Nov. 10. (AP)—Tobin Rote, Rice quarterback, has been credited with an all-time record of passing without interception in college football, James H. Stewart, secretary of the Southwest Conference, announced today.

Stewart reported that NCAA statistics showed Rote to have thrown 85 consecutive passes without having one intercepted. This broke the record of 70 set by Al Johnson of Hardin-Simmons in 1946.

The statistics also showed these rankings of Southwest Conference players and teams:

Total offense, Lindy Berry, Texas Christian, fifth. Forward passing (number of completions), Adrian Burk, Baylor, fourth; Lindy Berry, Texas Christian, fifth; Paul Campbell, Texas, tenth. Pass receiving (number caught), Ben Proctor, Texas, sixth; J. D. Ison, Baylor, seventh; Morris Baily, Texas Christian, ninth. Team offense, Rice, twelfth. Team passing, Texas Christian, second; Texas, sixth; Rice, twelfth. Team punting, Southern Methodist, seventh. Team defense, Baylor, sixth; Texas, ninth. Team pass defense, Texas, seventh. Team Punt returns, Texas Christian, fourth. Team kickoff returns, Rice, seventh.

Austria is so mountainous that some of its regions are almost completely blocked off from each other.

Virginia May Be In Cotton Bowl

DALLAS, Nov. 10. (AP)—Virginia has moved into the Cotton Bowl picture but Oklahoma, if it is available, still appears the No. 1 choice.

Cotton Bowl officials assembled today for the annual drawing to determine how 25,000 tickets can be distributed and not make 50,000 people mad. There are 78,000 requests.

None of the officials would talk except for personal preference, pointing out that no team yet has been contacted.

Right now it looks like Rice will be the host team but officials of that school won't even discuss the Cotton Bowl. Rice still has to play Texas A. and M., Texas Christian and Baylor and could be knocked out of the running or tied for the title. Baylor, in second place, has lost one game. Southern Methodist, in third, has lost one and tied one.

The Southwest conference picture can't possibly clear up sufficiently this week to start working out preferential lists. Baylor plays Wyoming in a non-conference game.

One Cotton Bowl head commented that Virginia looked like it would be a good bet and that from all indications it was a colorful team as well as being undefeated and untied. Michigan State would be a good choice, another observed, except that Michigan State is a member of the Big Ten now and that conference has a tie-up with the Rose Bowl.

"We know the Oklahoma people would like to come to the Cotton Bowl," said one official. "We understand there was considerable dissatisfaction last Jan. 1 over tickets and other things at the Sugar Bowl when Oklahoma played North Carolina."

Mason Furniture Of Levelland Downs Idalou Blue Flame Five

IDALOU, Nov. 10. (Special)—Mason Furniture's Ramblers of Levelland defeated Idalou Blue Flame, 73-45, here tonight in the first basketabl game of the season for the Ramblers.

Leading scorer of the night was Grady Cooper of the Ramblers with 16 points, and Fred Owen and Harold Thurman had 14 each for the winners.

Levelland's Junior Loboes Down Littlefield Squad, 18-7

LEVELLAND, Nov. 10 (Special) — Levelland's Junior High school Loboes dropped Littlefield's Junior Wildcats, 18-7, here today for their 10th win of the year.

Elmer Belk scored from the five-yard line for Levelland in the first quarter. Willie Henson pushed across a tally in the second stanza; and Eugene Bentley plunged for the third touchdown in the fourth quarter.

Littlefield tallied in the fourth period for its only score.

Sudan Romps On Sundown

SUNDOWN, Nov. 10. (Special)—Sudan's powerful Hornets romped to a 33-13 victory over Sundown's Roughnecks here tonight before a crowd of 600 fans, who watched the District 4-A (North) encounter under near perfect weather conditions.

The victory left Sudan with still a chance at the district title on four victories against one loss. If Levelland should beat Littlefield tonight, all three teams would be tied for the lead.

Coach Francis Smith's Hornets pushed over three quick touchdowns in the first quarter and those proved to be the deciding margin. Sundown rallied to play the Hornets on even terms, according to the scoreboard, for the final three quarters.

Sudan Gains 395 Yards

Sudan held a wide edge in the statistics, rolling up a total of 395 yards from scrimmage to 182 for the Roughnecks. The Hornets had 313 yards rushing and 82 passing compared to 169 yards rushing and only 13 passing for the losers.

Fullback Ross Hammock and End Don Whitmire each scored twice for the visiting eleven and Halfback Jack Crouch went over once.

Bobby Clark, Sundown ace, tallied twice for the Roughnecks, one of the scores coming on a spectacular 80-yard run on the first play from scrimmage after the second half kickoff.

Center Dickie Smith, Tackle Bowman Duckworth and End Troy King stood out in the line for the home team, while Tackle Toby Smith played a fine game in the line for the visitors.

Sudan lost little time gaining an advantage with Quarterback Tommy Sherrill hitting Whitmire on a pass play that carried 33 yards.

Crouch Goes Over

Crouch capped a sustained march down the field by racing five yards around Sudan's left end for the second score. And Whitemire took another pass from Sherrill to race 40 yards for the third touchdown of the quarter.

Hammock chalked up the final two Hornet tallies, first climaxing a downfield march with a three-yard plunge to pay dirt and later going 40 yards around Sundown's porous right end for the final tally.

Hammock plunged over for two extra points and Sherrill kicked one to complete Sudan scoring.

Meanwhile, Clark broke loose on a quick-opener through the line to travel 40 yards for Sundown's drought-breaking tally and finished the night's work with his 80-yard sprint in the third quarter.

Guard R. E. Hensley kicked the Sundown extra point.

Tech Works On Pass Defense And Offense

Pass offense and defense came in for attention at Texas Tech yesterday, followed by a short, but intense, scrimmage in Jones stadium.

The Red Raiders, with an open date tomorrow, have not had a full week's work, but it has been intensive. Coach Dell Morgan bears deep respect for a New Mexico eleven that Tech should beat easily and he has been working on the players to avoid mistakes that they have been making all season.

After the hard scrimmage, not satisfactory to the coaches, Coach Morgan gave the players the weekend off. Those that wanted to were given permission to go to Odessa, or to other games of their choice. All were told to report back in time for Saturday classes.

Players also were told to run over the weekend to keep their legs in condition. Serious practice will begin on Monday, when the Raiders settle down to prepare for their game with the Lobos Nov. 19 in Albuquerque.

Rice Faces Aggies In Top SWC Tussle

Steers, TCU In Consolation Tilt

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

The Southwest Conference has a crowded schedule Saturday, but nothing much is expected to come of it.

High and mighty Rice meets A. and M. at Houston in a game the Owls are expected to win without trouble.

Southern Methodist will be fighting for survival in the title race against Arkansas at Dallas. Defeat for SMU would kick the Methodists out of contention.

Cherry Burned Up

Texas and Texas Christian play a consolation game at Austin. It means nothing since both teams have been eliminated from championship consideration.

However, this one may generate more heat than any of the others in view of published statements from Coach Blair Cherry of Texas that he's burned up over the TCU practice of taking a week off before the Texas game.

Cherry contends it gives TCU an advantage, particularly since it allows Coach Dutch Meyer to personally scout Texas.

Baylor, beaten last week by Texas, will play an important intersectional game, meeting Wyoming at Waco. The Bears will be meeting an undefeated, untied team. However, they are top favorites to knock down the team from the west.

Aggies Improving

Rice, the only unbeaten team left in the conference race, will be clashing with an upsurging Aggie outfit that was able to play Southern Methodist to a 27-27 tie last week. However, no one expects the Aggies to repeat such a showing against the mighty Owls.

The Southern Methodist-Arkansas game should be a tough one. SMU still is badly crippled and will have trouble aplenty with the terrific Arkansas ground game. The Methodists have lost one and tied one and another defeat or tie would kick them mathematically out of the race.

Brownfield Faces Tornadoes Today

LAMESA, Nov. 10. (Special)—The Golden Tornadoes, still crippled but calmly confident hope to snap a three-game losing streak and annex their sixth victory of the grid season here Friday afternoon in a District 3-AA clash with the winless Brownfield Cubs.

Lamesa generally is rated at least a four-touchdown favorite over the oft-beaten Brownfield eleven, but the Tornado coaching staff has warned the locals that they are ripe for an upset loss at the hands of the lowly Cubs.

Two Regulars Injured

Two Tornado regulars, Center Bill Hart and End T. J. Womack, have bad leg injuries, but will see some action. Reserve Fullback Don Hackney still is below par with a broken hand, but the rest of the squad is in good shape, Coach Bob Harrell says.

The Tornadoes, who won five in a row before losing successive games to Pampa, Lubbock and Odessa are in good spirits, although tehy dropped out of contention for the district ttile after a 32-14 defeat by Odessa last Friday.

Probable starting lineup for Lamesa will include Womack and Jerry Phillips or Marshall Crawford, ends; Robert Adair and Jamie Pearson, tackles; Jim Bob Boothe and Keith Whie or Doyle Beck, guards; Hart, center; Bobby Hawkins or Ronald Chapman, quarterback; Dick Echols and Debert Dickenson, halfbacks; and Larry Lattimore, fullback.

Homecoming Day Set

Tomorrow will be Homecoming Day at Lamesa High school and will mark the final home game of the season for the Tornadoes. As many as 3,000 fans may be in the stands at Tornado Field for the contest, which starts at 2:30 p. m. Two old rivals are matched in district play for the first time in 10 years—and also the last.

Half-time ceremonies will be highlighted by the crowning of Miss Kay Wiggins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Wiggins, as high school queen.

The bands of both schools will perform at the half after taking part in the Armistice Day program here Friday morning.

Grid Changes Made

Brownfield Goes To District 4-A

LEVELLAND, Nov. 10. (Special) The membership of several South Plains high school athletic districts will be shuffled in 1950 as a result of a District 4-A executive committee meeting held here Wednesday night.

Major results of the meeting will be:

(1) Brownfield, now a member of District 3-AA, next year will compete in 4-A.

(2) Sudan, Seagraves and Sundown, all current 4-A members, will drop to B classification in 1950.

(3) District 4-A football play next season will be on a "full schedule" basis, rather than on the "split district" plan used in recent years.

Williams Confirms Action

Informed of the 4-A committee's action, Rhea Williams, Interscholastic league director in Austin, confirmed assignment of Brownfield to 4-A should the Terry county school drop from Class AA ranks. Asignment of Sudan, Seagraves and Sundown will be announced later this year, he said, with each in a B district suited to its location.

And, as always, there is possibility of realignment of other districts in the Interscholastic league. Brownfield's move from 3-AA, for example, might open the way for Big Spring's admittance to this circuit. Big Spring applied for 3-AA membership a year ago, and is understood to retain its desire to move into the conference now comprised of Lubbock, Odessa, Lamesa, Midland and Brownfield.

Brownfield's return to Class A standing was automatic. The Terry county school does not have the minimum requirement of 500 students needed to meet AA standards, and had remained in 3-AA this year only by special vote of other members.

S. P. Cowan, Brownfield superintendent of schools, discussed the move to Class A Wednesday by phone with Rhea Williams, Interscholastic league director in Austin. Williams informed Cowan that the Cubs would be assigned to District 4-A should the school drop from Double-A ranks.

O'Donnell Is Admitted

Cowan then attended the 4-A executive session, informing other school officials of Williams' action in assigning Brownfield to that conference.

Seagraves, Sudan, Sundown and O'Donnell, each with a high school enrollment below the 200 required for automatic Class A membership, all applied for special permission to remain in 4-A next year. The requests of the first three, each of which has fewer than 150 high school students, were denied. A unanimous vote was required to gain admittance for any of this group.

O'Donnell, with an enrollment in the 150-200 range, was granted permission to remain in 4-A by the required three-fourths majority.

As a result of the committee's action, District 4-A next year will include Brownfield, Littlefield, Morton, Muleshoe, Post, Slaton, Tahoka, Levelland and O'Donnell.

JOLLEY GETS FIRST DUCATS

DALLAS, Nov. 10 (AP) — H. B. Jolley of Dallas was the first person to get Cotton Bowl tickets at the annual drawing today. His name was picked from the box and he will receive four tickets to the Jan. 2 classic which will match the Southwest Conference champion against some team to be selected.

SPORTS Slants

BY CHOC HUTCHESON

"D-day" has arrived for Lubbock's Westerners, who today shove off for Odessa to meet the Bronchos in the game that will, for all practical purposes, decide the District 3-AA football championship.

The biggest crowd (22,000) ever to see a Texas high school game west of Fort Worth is expected at Odessa. The game has been sold out for days, and reserved seat tickets are as scarce as Communists on Wall street.

The anticipated record throng rounds out an otherwise perfect picture. Both teams are near peak physical form, and good football weather is predicted.

In short, the stage is set for battle — and battle there will be when those Westerners try to saddle the Bronchos!

Thursday night, Lubbock Coach Pat Pattison pronounced his team ready.

"No one's hurtin' except us coaches," Pat answered in reply a last-minute query regarding his squad's condition.

Then, reiterating the statement he made before the Amarillo game, he added, "If we lose, it will be because we are beaten by a better ball club."

In case you're wondering just how today's front-page "kigmy" cartoon came into being, here's the answer:

The cartoon was done by Al Capp, of Li'l Abner fame, who worked with the aid of a sketch by Avalanche Staff Artist Cliff Blackburn, a photograph of Coach Pattison, and some general information regarding the Westerners' 1949 season.

Capp graciously forwarded the cartoon by return air mail, in time for use in connection with today's Lubbock-Odessa classic. And I think most readers will agree that he has done a splendid job, down to the last detail.

The cartoon is published, of course, with tongue in cheek—and with hope that the Odessa kigmy won't kick back!

Redskins, Bears Top Pro Gainers

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 10. (Special)—Washington and the Chicago Bears continue to run one-two in total yards gained leadership in the National Football League despite a 482 yard surge by the Philadelphia Eagles last Sunday, according to latest league statistics.

Steve Van Buren, Bosh Pritchard, Tommy Thompson, and the rest of the offensive-minded Eagles enjoyed their second best day of the season but it was not enough to overcome the lead of the Redskins and Bears. The effort rolled its total to 2576 yards. Washington has 2750 yards and the Bears, 2674.

Washington, second last week in yards gained on passes, moved into the lead by a single yard over the Bears, the Redskins totalling 1654. Los Angeles is third with 1393; Detroit fourth with 1271; the Giants with 1165 and the Bulldogs sixth with 1143.

In rushing Philadelphia is the best in the league with 1549 followed by Pittsburgh, the leader for several weeks, with 1420; Green Bay with 1367; the Cardinals with 1343; and Washington with 1096. The Cardinals are first in average gain with five yards per carry, with Green Bay and Washington tied with 4.4 and Pittsburgh fourth with 4.3.

The Giants for the second week lead in touchdowns with 28, followed by Philadelphia with 27, Washington with 23, and the Cardinals with 22. In points the Giants continue to lead with 207. The Eagles and Los Angeles are tied with 203.

Philadelphia has the best passing percentage with 51.9 while the Bulldogs have 51.3, the Giants 50, and Los Angeles 49.3. In kickoff returns the Giants continue their high average with 31 yards on each return. The Cardinals lead in punt return average with 19.5.

Philadelphia has allowed the smallest number of points, 90. Detroit has allowed only 40% of the passes thrown against it to be completed to lead in that respect. The Bears have allowed only 3 yards per rush by opposing teams, the best in the league.

Wallace High School Coach To Employ Strap For Mistakes

ORANGE, Nov. 10. (AP)—Coach W. R. Smith's famed "strap system" is paying off again.

The coach of Wallace High school of Orange, who will employ a strap when one of his boys doesn't follow the proper assignment, has just piloted his team to its fourth straight district championship and the position as favorite in the play-offs for the Class A championship of the Texas Negro Interscholastic League.

Special Events Slated In Area

way patrol called on fans to duplicate their sanity and safe driving that made the Amarillo expedition one without death or injury.

Capt. E. L. Posey of the Lubbock Highway patrol district said that eight patrol cars will ride herd on traffic throughout the day, while four or five cars from Midland and Odessa will aid in the safety patrol.

Patrol cars will work the roads on a staggered shift, with the first from the Lubbock station going out shortly before 8 a. m.

21 Buses To Make Trip

Chartered buses—21 of them—were scheduled to begin leaving Lubbock as early as 7:30 a. m. High school students will occupy 13 of the buses, while organized groups of fans have chartered an additional eight buses.

Alternate routes, by way of Seminole or Midland, will be taken by alternate buses to avoid highway congestion. Student buses were to leave from the Eighteenth street side of the school. Band members and cheerleaders will be in the group, and each student bus will be accompanied by a member of the faculty.

On arrival in Odessa, students will conduct a pep rally from 1 to 1:15 p. m. on the courthouse lawn. Buses will leave the field immediately after the game and are expected to arrive in Lubbock about 8:30 p. m.

Many Fans To Fly

While thousands of fans will go by automobile, nearly every private plane at Lubbock Municipal airport is slated to carry a full load to Odessa.

In addition, Pioneer Air Lines is sending a chartered airliner, leaving Lubbock at 11:30 a. m. and arriving at Odessa at 12:20 p. m. where transportation to town will be available. All but two of the 24 places on the plane had been reserved late last night. The return flight leaves Odessa at 6:45 p. m. and arrives here at 7:35 p. m.

At Plainview, an elaborate Armistice day program will include a parade staged under a formation of airplanes provided by Reese Air Force base.

Buglers To Tour City

In Lubbock, the day will open with buglers from the Veterans of Foreign Wars post touring the city blowing reveille beginning at 6 a. m.

At 7 a. m. the American Legion post will hold a breakfast in the east ballroom of Lubbock hotel, while the VFW will hold a concurrent breakfast at the post home, Thirty-fourth and Ave. N. The Legion Auxiliary breakfast will be at 7:30 a. m. in the junior ballroom of Lubbock hotel.

Most of Lubbock's retail business establishments will be closed during the day.

Planes Take To Air

Eighteen B-25 airplanes from Reese Air Force base will fly over Lubbock and other South Plains towns in connection with Armistice Day festivities. The formation is scheduled to fly over Lubbock at 11:37 a. m.

The same formation will pass over Plainview at 10:30 a. m. on the heels of two F-80 Lockheed jet fighters from Williams Air Force base, Chandler, Ariz. The jets are scheduled to make their speed run at 10:25 a. m. Lockney will see the B-25 formation about 10:25 a. m., with Hale Center on the flight schedule at 10:44 a. m.

The RAFB band, directed by Chief Warrant Officer Carmine Luce, will arrive in Plainview by bus at 9:30 a. m. to take part in the Armistice Day parade sponsored by the Ray Blakemore post of the American Legion. High school bands also will march in the parade.

In Lubbock, open house will be observed all day today at the Naval Reserve Training center, Eighth and College avenue, said Lt. J. E. Ruzic, USN, officer-in-charge.

The public will be welcomed during the day, Ruzic said. Hours will be 10 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 6 p. m. For the occasion the building will "dress ship" with colorful flags, the same as ships are dressed for special occasions.

Legion Plans Dance

A traditional Legion dance will be held in Hilton hotel beginning at 8:30 p. m. today, with admission charge of $1 per person. It is open to the public.

At 1 p. m. Thursday the Legion post presented a traditional Armistice Day program at a special assembly program for Senior High school students in the auditorium.

J. A. Raley and Joe Meador acted as masters of ceremonies. The Note-ables quartet performed, and Miss Maxine McCollum, Texas Tech student, danced and performed imitations. Members of the quartet are Jim Black, J. Ray Dickey, Dick Richards and Ivor "Tiny" Jones.

The main talk was made by Dr. Doyle D. Jackson on the subject "Democracy and Patriotism."

Olton To Send 300 Cars Of Fans To Game With Hale Center

HALE CENTER, Nov. 10 (Special) — Olton will send 300 cars of fans here for the Class 3-B football clash between Olton's Mustangs, undefeated in conference play, and the Hale Center Owls, Friday night, Nov. 11, the local school officials have been notified by Olton school men.

The season's biggest crowd is expected for the game, since it is scheduled as the annual Homecoming contest for former students. Joyce Nell Wright, a junior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wright, will be crowned as Football Queen of 1949 in a ceremony preceding the opening kick-off. Co-captains Edward Weil and Dwain Smith of the Owl squad, Kay Lamb, senior; Wanda Mae Darrell, sophomore; and Patsy Weil, freshman, will have parts in the coronation ceremonies.

800 Persons Attend Dawson Farm Meet

LAMESA, Nov. 10. (Special)—More than 800 attended the annual convention and barbecue of the Dawson county Farm Bureau here today, highlighted by a speech by Representative George Mahon.

Approximately 300 crowded into the district courtroom here to hear Congressman Mahon discuss the new acreage allotment plan scheduled to go into effect next year.

Sam Allen, bureau president, received a vote of confidence from the members on a drive to obtain government approval of open storage of cotton. At present, the Commodity Credit corporation will approve loans only to those whose cotton has been stored under shelter. But an acute shortage of storage space in Dawson county has made the movement for approval of open storage essential, Allen explained.

Other speakers on the program were L. O. Buchanan, of the Cotton Classing service in Lubbock, and C. H. Devaney of Coahoma, a district director of the Farm bureau.

New directors named to bring the bureau's board of directors to full strength at 22, were Fred Raney, Herbert Green, Wayne Taylor, Sam Allen, Ray Anderson, Jack Broyles, Dalton Meyers, G. Z. Sherman, Wayland Cox, H. L. Spruell, and Conley Esmond. The board will elect officers in December.

A drive to get the Dawson county bureau membership to 750, is continuing.

High School Club Honors Employers

Members of the Lubbock High school Distributive Education club honored their employers with a banquet at the Hilton hotel Thursday night.

The 53-member club, composed of students who combine part-time jobs with 35 Lubbock business firms with their regular school work, were hosts to their bosses for a night.

Roy L. Reinarz, district supervisor of distributive education, who was the principal speaker, spoke for the benefit of the youngsters. He reminded them that work is dignified and honorable, and that they were preparing themselves for high positions in the business world.

A pantomime was presented by students Mary Massingale, Jerry Wheeler, and Earon Cochran. Ardelle Rogers and Pat Givens sang. Bob DeSpain acted as master of ceremonies during this portion of the program.

Honor guests were R. W. Matthews, superintendent of schools, Floyd Honey, high school principal, and members of the advisory board of the distributive education department.

Mums were the main decoration theme, with Elwanda Ethridge and Patsy Zimmerman supervising decoration of the hall. A. B. Reese is sponsor of the club.

City Valuations Show Big Boost

meant that most property on the city rolls was taxed at a higher value in 1946 than in 1945.

This year there has been no change in appraisals.

However, a new appraisal now is being made jointly for the city and Lubbock independent school district.

The prospect borders upon certainty that the increase in valuations next year will be much larger than this year. Contributing to this prospect are the reappraisal, building permits which are a virtual certainty to exceed last year's record-breaking $15,000,000 total and large-scale expansions of the city limits which will place additional property on the city rolls.

Austin reported that more than $300,000 of the taxes on the new roll already have been paid.

The commission transacted much other business during a session lasting almost six hours.

Meeting Set Monday

Mayor W. H. Rodgers set a special meeting for 10 a.m. Monday to act on a call for an election on a proposed bond issue of $1,075,000 for expansions of the city sewage disposal plant and system and to buy rights-of-way for completion of the highway dispersal system. City Attorney Vaughn Wilson advised the commission that such a call can be issued only at a special meeting.

It seemed virtually assured, however, that the election will be set for Tuesday, Dec. 13, and will propose $550,000 for sewage disposal needs and $525,000 for highway dispersal rights of way.

Members of the commission also agreed to inspect new street sweepers Monday on which bids were opened Thursday.

To Buy New Machines

Plans are to buy two new sweepers which, according to City Manager Steve Matthews, will enable the city to do a much better sweeping job both in the business and residential areas than is possible with the two machines now available. Of the two the city now owns, Matthews added, one is badly worn.

Bidders for the contract to supply the two sweepers, the brands they offered and their net total cost to the city were:

Townsco Equipment company, Gutter-Snipe, $13,900; Fred Berryhill Equipment company, Austin-Western, $14,470; Gaddy Machinery company, Wayne, $16,399; and Rinehart-Texas company, Elgin, $18,000.

Sentiment expressed during Thursday's discussions appeared divided between the Austin-Western and the Elgin.

The commission authorized two expenditures of substantial size, including one of widespread interest in Lubbock.

To Buy Street Light Posts

The city manager was directed to buy 10,000 feet of 2-inch pipe from Morrison Supply company, Lubbock, for $2,865 to be used as posts for new street signs soon to be erected.

Matthews said he invited more than a dozen firms to bid on this proposal. All except one declined because they said they did not know when materials would be available, nor what they would cost, because of the steel strikes. The Morrison company, however, happened to have exactly the desired material on hand, available for immediate delivery.

The commission also placed a $22,534 order for water meters of the Calumet brand with the Well Machinery & Supply company, which submitted the lowest of three bids received.

Matthews said the purchase will expedite extensions of water service.

Okay Yule Broadcasts

Members of the commission gave their traditional approval of the broadcasting of Christmas carols and other appropriate music from the tops of the Hilton and Lubbock hotels during the approaching holiday season. A special permit is required for such programs.

The music is part of the program planned by the Christmas decorations committee of the chamber of commerce, of which O. W. Ribble and Ruel Martin are co-chairmen.

The city manager was directed to call bids on two street paving projects of approximately 50 blocks each. Matthews expressed the opinion that such projects can be financed more easily by private contractors if each is limited to about 50 blocks.

Under the plan, the successful bidders will be responsible for collections of the property owner's share of the cost of paving in front of his holdings. The owner will be allowed, if he desires, to pay his cost in three annual installments.

The city pays about 10 per cent of the total cost of pavement and the property owners the remainder in proportion to the front footage of their holdings. That cost to the property owner has averaged about $150 for a 50-foot lot.

Warning Is Given

Mayor Rodgers warned, however, that the work will not be done by private contractors if the costs run substantially higher than in the past.

He recalled that recent surveys have showed that average costs for comparable paving consistently have been substantially lower here than any city in Texas from which reports are available.

The commission rejected a proposal to trade a block of land in South Lubbock, purchased for a park site, for a nearby tract of equal area owned by C. N. Hodges.

Southeast Avenue Q cuts squarely through the park site and officials agreed it has become undesirable for park purposes. But Commissioner Clarence Whiteside argued that the frontage of the park property on Southeast Q—one of the most important thoroughfares in the highway dispersal system — has enhanced its value enormously. The tract Hodges proposed to trade is about two blocks east of the park site.

"I'm willing to make a trade, but I'm not willing to give two or three for one," Whiteside commented.

The implication in which members of the commission concurred was that they either will have to get a better deal from Hodges or they will buy another park site "somewhere else."

Present at the meeting were Commissioners E. K. Hufstedler and W. B. Price, City Director of Public Works R. L. Oldham, and the mayor, Whiteside, the city manager and city attorney.

Roberts Speaks At Inter-Club Council International Meet

About 50 members of the Texas Tech Inter-club council met Thursday night at the Mexican Inn for an International banquet, the first social activity of the group this season.

Principal speaker was H. N. Roberts, local consulting engineer, who spoke on Guatemala, and supplemented his talk with color slides taken in that country last year.

Special guests at the banquet, besides Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, were Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president of Texas Technological college; Mrs. E. N. Jones, wife of the vice-president of the college; Dr. C. B. Qualia, head of the foreign languages department at the college, and Mrs. Qualia; and Mrs. Roscoe Wilson, founder of the Roscoe Wilson Memorial scholarship in foreign languages.

Representatives of Sigma Delta Pi, national honorary Spanish fraternity; Capa y Espada, Spanish club; Liederkranz, German club; Le Cercle Francais, French club; and Cosmopolitan club, were present. Guillermo Perea, president of Capa y Espada, and Myrl Padfield, president of Le Cercle Francais, were present as representatives of their clubs.

Bill Bufkin, president of the Inter-club council, presided at the banquet.

The council plans to give a group of Christmas plays in Spanish, German, and French, shortly before the Christmas holiday.

Truman Hopes

tory will cause no change in the U. S. bi-partisan foreign policy as far as the Democratic party is concerned.

3. Mr. Truman was asked if he felt he had been given a "mandate" by the election victory. He said the Democrats have a platform, that he campaigned on that platform, and was elected. Therefore, he is trying to put that platform into effect because the people must have wanted that done when they voted for him.

4. The President said the U. S. government price of gold will never be changed as long as he is in the White House. Thus he slapped down repeated rumors of a contemplated change in the gold price.

5. The President dashed another report which said he was considering proposal of an increase in the size of the Supreme court.

Mr. Truman said it is ridiculous for anyone to suggest that Tuesday's election victory would have any effect on the long-standing policy of cooperation in foreign affairs by both American political parties.

The President inferred that any change would have to originate with the GOP when he was asked what he thought would be the effect of John Foster Dulles' defeat in the New York senatorial race. Dulles was one of the architects of the bi-partisan policy.

Mr. Truman replied that his questioner had better ask Dulles. Asked whether he would reappoint Dulles a delegate to the United Nations—the position he held before he entered the Senate—the President said he had given the matter no thought.

The chief executive said he is not personally handling the problem of dismantling of German industrial plants. This matter, he said, is being handled during the current Paris conference between Secretary of State Acheson, British Foreign Minister Bevin and French Foreign Minister Schuman.

The President also disclosed that Acheson is considering issuing an invitation to the premier of Pakistan to visit the U. S. and that he personally has been invited to visit Bolivia. Mr. Truman said he has no plans to accept.

USSR.

The document added that the U.S. government "once more urges the Soviet government, through its representatives in North Korea, to endeavor to ascertain and inform this government of the welfare and the whereabouts of these officials and to lend its assistance in arranging the departure of these officials and the cited vessel in order that they may proceed to the port of their original destination."

Clubb reported meanwhile that the Communists are deliberately blocking dispatch of official messages about the arrest of Angus Ward and his staff, sending them back to the Mukden consulate marked "not suitable for transmission."

One message did get through from Mukden today from a member of Ward's staff who is not in jail. It was dated Nov. 5 and merely reported that food and clothing are being sent to the Chinese jail on specific request, but that communication with Ward is not permitted.

Ward and his staff are accused by the Chinese Communists of having beaten up a former Chinese employe who sought severance pay.

Foreign Policy

ish colleagues spellbound with his blunt exposition of the policy the U. S. government has decided to pursue in Europe in view of the latest developments in the global power politics struggle with Russia.

This information was obtained from authoritive sources by this correspondent and Elie Maissi, another International News Service staff correspondent.

Acheson commenced his speech by stating he is fully aware of the difficulties the democratic governments face with their parliamentary handling of problems such as the world is confronted with today.

He said he has similar difficulties with Congress, and added he had the deepest respect for British and French public opinions and always is disposed to take them into account, but not at the expense of sacrificing the interests of the United States.

Reds Moves Discussed

The secretary of state then said the western powers must consider the existing situation in the light of Russia's possession of the atomic bomb as disclosed by President Truman and the fact that American intelligence reports indicate a gradual move westward of Soviet military power.

In connection with the latter point, he cited reports of Soviet armored divisions in Hungary and Soviet Marshal K. K. Rokossovsky's appointment as head of the Polish armed forces.

Incidentally Acheson added that American intelligence reports will be given to Atlantic pact defense chiefs, but not to the governments.

Points to Defense Lasts

Acheson pointed out the percentage of the American budget now being devoted to defense purposes and said the policy of the western powers must be viewed in conjunction with the military situation.

Acheson said that the plan of Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the U. S. joint chiefs of staff, for defense of Western Europe is based on the establishment of a first line of defense on the Elbe river in Germany.

Then he stressed his belief that defense of the Elbe would be impossible if there existed "a hostile German population behind us."

Acheson explained his emphasis on this point as essential to enable the ministers to understand the realities.

Emphasizes New Policy

Acheson said he wanted to make it clear that the policy he outlined was now the definite determined policy of the United States government.

Washington, said Acheson, was prepared to give Britain and France freedom of action to make whatever arrangements they wished in Europe within the framework of this policy.

How they wished to coordinate their policies with the American in this respect was their own affair. For example, he said, the United States is prepared to see France make her own direct arrangements with Western Germany, especially regarding the Saar.

Also, Acheson said, in connection with the eventual establishment of a moderate West German defense force the United States is prepared to wait until a strong Frech army is developed.

Liberalized Trade Favored

Referring to the economic integration of Western Europe, Acheson said the United States government attaches the greatest importance to the liberalization of commerce among Marshall plan countries.

He promised all possible American financial and economic support to assist realization of Western European economic unity. But he added he understood that he could not expect the present conference to reach decisions on fundamental problems in this respect.

When Acheson finished speaking Schuman thanked him in a friendly exposition of the French viewpoint which of course is bound up firmly with French Security fears.

Participants said that when Bevin arose to speak at last night's meeting he appeared to be deeply moved and spoke with difficulty.

They said Bevin referred to the momentous nature of Acheson's statement and cautioned against hasty decisions.

for trial appearance on a charge of aggravated assault, the shreiff's department said.

Alonzo Allen Hailey, 32, recently of San Diego, was arrested here today by state highway patrolmen and jailed on a warrant charging child desertion. He had been indicted on the charge here.

Payne Posts Bond

James Monroe Payne, 43, of 2910 North Fifth, who was jailed Monday on a charge of aggravated assault, was released after posting bond of $500 set in the county court by Judge Walter Davies.

Bond of $200 has been set by Claude Day, 24, of 1825 Ave. F, pending his appeal from conviction of a charge of failure to appear on a traffic ticket. Day, defended by E. A. Blair, Lubbock attorney, was fined $25 on the charge following his conviction in Corporation court.

An 18-year-old Lubbock youth and two companions, both 17, were fined $15 on their pleas of guilty to charges of shooting firecrackers within the city limits. The trio was taken into custody in a car at Main and Ave. F, shortly after they allegedly threw several lighted firecrackers in front of the Lindsey Theater at Main and Ave. J. All were lodged in jail pending payment of the fines, assessed on the youths' pleas of guilty to the charges.

A green bicycle valued at $30 was reported stolen from the 1000-block Main, Thursday night. Owner of the bike was identified as John Sandlin, of Thirty-fourth and Ave. H.

NEWS BRIEFS

Eleven women were fined $25 each following their arrest in three downtown hotels and a tourist court here last night, police said. All entered pleas of guilty.

Fred R. Collins, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Collins of Sudan, is serving as a crew member aboard the destroyer minesweeper USS Endicott, which is one of the units of Vice Admiral Gerald F. Bogan's Western Task Force, now engaged in the joint Army-Navy exercise "Miki."

Joe Dan St. Clair, 20, of Lawton, Okla., brother of Ernest F. St. Clair, jr., of 2712 Ave. U, is recovering from injuries suffered in an automobile accident several days ago. Mr. and Mrs. E. F. St. Clair have returned from his bedside. The young man suffered multiple fractures of the pelvis and brain concussion when the car in which he and two friends were riding overturned on a highway curve six miles north of Lawton.

"The Universal Elements in the Jewish Religion" will be the sermon topic of Rabbi Julisu Kerman in the Sabbath Eve service at 8 o'clock Friday night at Congregation Shaareth Israel, Twenty-third and Ave. Q.

Firemen who answered an alarm at 10:30 a. m. Thursday from Acme Mattress factory, at 506 East Thirty-fourth, said they found only a small amount of cotton burning and that loss was negligible.

Dennis A. Daniell of Lubbock will serve as guest caller for the Saturday night square dance at the Lubbock County club, program officials said Thursday. The dance is scheduled to begin at 8 p. m.

Steel Strike

both union and company are slated to meet at 9 a. m. (CST).

3. The union's powerful wage-policy committee is called to a 2 p. m. (CST) session.

The union's bargaining team met this afternoon but was dismissed by David J. McDonald, steelworker secretary-treasurer, who said:

"We simply released the committee until morning. The lawyers conferences are continuing. We won't have an agreement until we get the committee's approval."

Union President Philip Murray paid a casual visit to newsmen waiting in an anteroom at union headquarters.

"There will be no announcement tonight," Murray declared.

Asked if the 9 a. m. meeting ruled out the possibility of a peace announcement after the earlier session, the labor chieftain laughed and said:

"You are trying to negotiate a contract with me. You newsmen are too smart. You're a mile and a half ahead of me."

The union said officials of Inland Steel company were in Pittsburgh but insisted there were no developments pointing toward a settlement with that firm.

Only other development in negotiations was a report the union vetoed a proposed agreement with Wheeling (O.) Steel corporation employing 12,500 because it failed to follow the Bethlehem settlement pattern. Company and union sources withheld comment. Bargaining talks were recessed.

Peace between the union and U. S. Steel would mean the virtual end of the 41-day-old strike. Big Steel employs 150,000 and produces about one-third of the country's steel.

The corporation's huge capacity, added to that of the five large producers already agreed to strike demands and back at work, would return the industry's operating rate to near normal.

U. S. Steel has a limited company-paid pension plan for hourly workers which the union contends is grossly inadequate. Social insurance plans vary widely among the various subsidiaries.

All Big Steel producers signed up so far have agreed to free pensions and social insurance closely patterned after the Bethlehem Steel company's pact of Oct. 31.

Krug Resigns

correspondence between Krug and Mr. Truman will be made public on Friday.

It was expected that the date on which Krug will formally relinquish his cabinet post will become known when the correspondence is released.

It was said that Krug wishes to resume his engineering career at a higher salary than he has been receiving from the government. The Wisconsin native became interior secretary in 1946 after resignation of Harold L. Ickes. He was one of the youngest men ever appointed to a cabinet.

Krug, who held down a number of highly-important wartime jobs and was a commissioned officer in the Navy, has been in failing health for some time.

Suffers Heart Ailment

He has been suffering from a heart ailment but has refused to reduce the stern official pace he set for himself.

Chapman, a 52-year-old Virginia native, came to Washington in the early days of the New Deal and did yeoman service in the 1948 Democratic campaign as "advance man" in the West, where he lived prior to his government service.

Tech Professer Addresses Engineering Society Here

Prof. Cecil Horne, head of the journalism department of Texas Tech, was speaker at a meeting Thursday night of the South Plains chapter of the Texas Society of Professional engineers.

Approximately 25 members and guests attending the dinner meeting in the Yaqui room at the Hilton hotel herd Prof. Horne speak on the ethics of journalism.

W. L. Ducker, chapter president, presided. Out-of-town guests from Morton, Plainview, and Levelland were present. The next meeting will be Dec. 16.

Coal Talks Ignored

a.m. today in the coal dispute. He sent the mine owners home after an exchange of telegrams with Lewis and then reported developments to the White House.

Lewis, datelining his message "from the field," said he could not come to Washington because the union would be "fully occupied until Monday in securing maximum resumption of coal production" under the three week strike truce.

Miners Return To Pits

Throughout the bituminous areas, the 375,000 diggers streamed back into the pits grumbling and apparently dissatisfied at having nothing to show immediately for 52 days of idleness.

Ching told newsmen after an hour long huddle with presidential assistant John R. Steelman that he would call no more "futile meetings" in the coal controversy. Later he said he would determine by Saturday whether to try to bring the disputants together again.

When he left for the White House, Ching indicated he was turning the coal dispute over to President Truman for action but subsequently announced it is still in his hands and he is "not giving up."

The Ching-Steelman meeting apparently decided to continue mediation for a while. Ching refused to amplify his statement that he will decide his future course of action by Saturday. The "deadline" appeared significant, however.

Bivins of Amarillo. District 20, W. S. Jackson of San Antonio.

Ramey, Huff and Woodward were unopposed.

Two Amendments Okayed

The two constitutional amendments that passed will allow rural fire prevention districts and give the legislature more leeway in regulating the terms and sessions of district courts.

The district court proceedings amendment got 153,437 votes, or 55.23 per cent, and 124,350 against in the final unofficial returns.

The rural fire protection proposal was written in the constitution with 146,236, 52.17 per cent, for and 134,019 against.

The amendment proposing annual legislative sessions and hiking legislators pay went down to defeat the hardest. Returns show that 74.47 per cent of the voters were not in favor. The final count was 71,376 for and 209,247 against.

The amendment drawing the largest vote was the one giving women the right to serve on juries. A total of 285,300 cast their ballots —130,908 for and 154,392 against. A 54.11 per cent defeat.

Poll Tax Plan Rejected

A proposal to do away with the poll tax as a voting requirement was not favored by 56.59 per cent of the voters. Those for it were 127,200 and 160,012 against.

A plan to provide for county civil service was turned down 151,682 to 127,366, 54.35 per cent.

A provision setting up hospital districts went down 155,809 to 117,619, 56.98 per cent.

The city-county health units amendment was defeated 169,504 to 113,635, 59.86 per cent.

The plan for county employe pensions drew 91,378 votes for it and 189,366 against, 67.43.

The final unofficial figures came from 251 of 254 counties with 134 of them complete.

runway No. 2."

This indicated that a misunderstanding of instructions may have caused the tragedy. Tower operators testified they told Rios to land "No. 2," meaning second after the DC-4.

Rios said in his statement that he had trouble with the P-38's and with the engines before he took off.

He added that his right engine gave further trouble after the takeoff and that it was necessary for him to land as soon as possible. Rios said he told the tower:

"Bolivian P-38 I have engine trouble. I am ready to land."

It was then, he said, that he asked for instructions.

Earlier Testimony Given

Earlier, Donovan E. Davis, airport control tower supervisor, testified that Rios acknowledged with the airman's "Roger" an order to circle the field.

Davis said that in the hectic seconds just before the collision, Rios was ordered to "turn left." Davis admitted that this was a violation of civil air regulations which provide that a plane overtaking another must turn right.

Reds Warn U. S.

international organ of control. This is what these gentlemen want to thwart and wreck; they want to wreck it although they do not believe that their own plan is the panacea for salvation, the cornucopia of welfare as they would have us believe."

Control Measures Urged

Assistant U.S. Secretary of State John D. Hickerson promptly stressed to correspondents that if Vishinsky's claim to large-scale use in Russia of atomic energy is true, then there is all the more reason for assuring that any control is along absolutely fool-proof lines.

Hickerson said:

"It is known that nuclear fuel can be transformed from war to peace purposes in no time at all. Vishinsky today proved again that such conversion can take place without warning and without anyone in the outside world knowing about it.

"Thus, if the gentlemen in the Kremlin should ever decide to quit razing mountains and go to war, they can transform their peacetime use of atomic energy without warning into war weapons. Obviously the world would never be safe from sudden atomic attack anywhere.

"We insist, therefore, that our pledged word on any atomic control measure must be reinforced by absolute control safeguards—such as provided in the basic principles of the Baruch plan — and that these safeguards extend to the point where we or any other nation could not have free access to nuclear materials."

HST's Stand Reiterated

Hickerson reiterated President Truman's words that the United States will stand on the Baruch plan until a better one is offered.

A British spokesman said Vishinsky's speech was "bellicose saber-rattling" and added:

"The statement that the Soviet Union uses its atomic energy for peaceful purposes and at the same time that the Soviet Union could have as many bombs at it wants, simply does not tie up. The speech was sickeningly disappointing.

"For the most part, it had all the misrepresentations imaginable about U. S.-U. K. motives. There was no shred of evidence to support the allegations.

"There is no sign that the Soviet is any more ready to work for a real solution of the problem, and Mr. Vishinsky made no concessions whatever on state sovereignty."

Compromise Appears Remote

In general, the reaction at United Nations tonight was that the outlook for any compromise in the foreseeable future between Russia and the West on atomic control has become more remote than ever before.

The white-haired Russian, making his long-awaited reply to President Truman's UN headquarters dedication speech in New York on Oct. 24, denounced the "notorious" Baruch plan championed by Mr. Truman and said:

"The American illusion on the atom bomb monopoly has foundered. It is clear that the atomic bomb is at the disposal of another state."

Baruch Plan Assailed

A moment before Vishinsky assailed the Baruch plan and refuted western claims that no single nation has all raw materials within its own borders to permit full development of atomic energy. Then he told the 59-nation special UN political committee:

"This western claim is disavowed by a number of facts which have been accumulated by the experience of my country. Atomic energy has been used for important purposes. It has been used in the interests of peaceful construction."

Vishinsky criticized President Truman repeatedly for standing on the Baruch plan and said that it seems to "pervade" the President's mind. He lashed out at the assembly-approved control scheme as a "notorious" plan unacceptable to Russia.

The Russian cited President Truman's remarks of 1948 that he would not hesitate to use the atom bomb if compelled to by circumstances. Vishinsky commented:

"A pretext can always be found for the most evil measures. Even the highest authority has no qualms about throwing bombs on us."

Vishinsky ripped into the recent report of the five western atomic powers that Russia is to blame for failure to reach atomic agreement largely because the Soviet government refuses to yield an inch of national sovereignty. He said:

"Every word of this is a falsification and distortion of facts. What they mean is that we should abandon all sovereignty. These are old hackneyed Anglo-American demands for the adoption of the Baruch plan. The latter completely denies any sort of sovereignty to the governments."

Vishinsky's unannounced speech was plainly in direct reply to Mr. Truman's remarks on atomic energy at the UN headquarters dedication. Vishinsky made it a point to reject any hopes the President may have had that Russia would soon be in a more conciliatory mood on the atom control question.

Unification Of Armed Forces Urged By Reserve Officers Association President

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10—John P. Bracken is a Navy man who believes in unity in the services. He's big enough to back up his beliefs.

Bracken, a commander in the U. S. naval reserve, is 6 feet, 4 inches, and has the brawn to go with it.

He is president of the Reserve Officers association, composed of officers from all branches of the reserve services—only organization of its kind. Bracken's main purpose in life at the moment is dedicated to the "attainment of national security through a strong military reserve program."

John Bracken has had many a "main attainment."

Politics Entered Early

He's a lawyer of only 37, who can, like few others, boast 19 years in politics.

In high school and in college, he was a star debater and dabbled in school politics for practice. He was born in Carnegie, Pa., and attended the University of Pittsburgh. In 1939, he reecived a degree in law at the University of Pennsylvania.

The last war wasn't very old when the restless Navy man volunteered for active duty. He helped navigate the crippled USS Marblehead 9,000 miles back to New York after she had been nicked badly in the battle of Java sea.

Three Invasions Noted

After a tour of anti-submarine duty in the Caribbean, Bracken returned to the Pacific in time to take part in the invasion of the Philippines, Iwo Jima and Okinawa.

The other night in Pittsburgh, the Navy man-orator-lawyer had a chance to spout on his favorite subject—unification of the armed forces.

They must, he says, start from the bottom.

He got a little rougher than that. The reserve commander went so far as to suggest a plan which eventually would make Annapolis and West Point post-graduate schools.

"While real unification would be one beneficial result of this officer procurement plan," says he, "We now are more interested in the fact that, at far less cost to the taxpayer, it would provide a high calibre of regular career officers and a steady input of trained, young reserve officers."

Reserve Considered Vital

Bracken feels that the last is the most important. Our most potent military strength, he says, lies in our ready reserve and not in the standing forces.

"In the last war," he puts in for emphasis, "nine out of 10 officers in the Navy were reservists and the proportion was even higher in the Army and Air Force."

Bracken believes that high school grauates who spend a year as enlisted men should be picked competitively for two-year college scholarships. They'd take a normal course—with emphasis on the military. At the end of their second year, two-thirds of them would be given additional two-year scholarships, picking their own service. Plus summer months at camp, at sea, or at an air base. Upon completion of the last two years of college the kids again would be screened—one third to do graduate work.

Counterfeiting Ring Is Smashed

EDINBURG, Nov. 10 (AP) — Charges of making and passing counterfeit U. S. money were filed today against three Mexican aliens arrested in a house strewn with both good and bogus currency.

The three are Manuel Garza Moya, his wife Herminia Villarreal De Garza, and Felipe Garcia, the latter's brother, all from Camargo, Mexico.

At San Antonio, U. S. Secret service agent Charles A. Ellis said arrest of the three, along with apprehension of three other persons, has broken up an extensive counterfeiting ring which had been operating along the Texas-Mexico border.

Agents Search Home

The Moyas and Garcia were arrested last Thursday night at Rio Grande City, Tex. Two U.S. officers and three Mexican agents searched their home in Camargo, first finding eight $10 bills in a mattress.

"After that we found money all over the house," said chief Deputy Sheriff Fred Ellert. "Some of it was good, some of it was counterfeit. Part of it was U.S. currency, part of it was Mexican money tied up in large sacks. We all were surprised at the amount of money in the house."

Bond for Moya was set at $10,000. Bond for his wife and Garcia was set at $5,000 each. None made bond and all remained in jail today, The charges were filed this morning before U.S. Commissioner J. C. Hall here.

Chicago Man Arrested

Also charged today was Antonio Anaya, Chicago man arrested recently in El Paso in possession of both bogus money and narcotics. The charge against him, however, was making and passing counterfeit U.S. money.

Under arrest in Dallas are two young men, hitchhikers Anaya had picked up at Texarkana. One of the young men opened a suitcase he found in the back seat and extracted a bundle of money which he began spending when he and his companion left Anaya's car at Dallas. An alert Merchant learned money given him was counterfeit and tipped off Secret service agents who arrested the hitchhiker.

Ellis, the San Antonio Secret service agent, credited cooperation of Mexican officers in the arrests. He said the three arrested at Rio Grande City probably will be prosecuted at Brownsville.

At Rio Grande City, Deputy Ellert expressed belief the money was being made in Chicago and sold cheaply to persons traveling to the lower Rio Grande valley.

Ellert said Moya formerly lived in Rio Grande City but moved to Camargo about three years ago.

The first recorded use of formbent plywood was in the manufacture of railroad station seats in New York City in 1870.

Dr. Robert G. Lee To Deliver Famous Sermon At Revival Here

Dr. Robert G. Lee, president of the Southern Baptist convention, will deliver his famous sermon "Pay Day — Some Day," at revival services at 7:30 p.m. today at the First Baptist church.

It will be the 367th presentation of the sermon, and will reach approximately 1,500 persons expected to attend services tonight. A motion picture of Dr. Lee presenting the sermon has been made by the Sunday school board of the Southern Baptist convention.

Tonight also will be observed as Texas Technological college night. Students from the college are especially invited to attend.

Dr. Lee spoke on the theme, "Is It Nothing?" in Thursday night's service.

Many types of bulbs for flowers, such as the tulip, should be planted in the fall before the ground freezes.

State Conservation Trip To Start Sunday

FORT WORTH, Nov. 10 (U.P.) — The annual soil conservation "special" of the Burlington lines will leave here Sunday for a week's tour of Texas conservation areas.

The trip and conservation meetings are sponsored by the railroad, the Second National bank of Houston, U. S. Soil Conservation service, and Texas A. & M. Extension service.

The Texas Zephyr will carry members of the group making the trip to Childress, leaving here at 3 p.m. Special cars will be picked up in Childress for the remainder of the trip.

Conservation meetings and tours of projects will be made Monday at Shamrock; at Childress on Tuesday; at Quanah on Wednesday; at Henrietta and Spur on Thursday; and at Stamford on Friday.

R. Wright Armstrong, Burlington vice-president here, will head the railroad's Fort Worth group. The party also will include, besides representatives of the sponsoring agencies, members of newspapers from Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, Amarillo, Lubbock and Abilene.

KITTY NEEDS TRAINING

VERNON, Mich. (U.P.)—Mrs. B. W. Calkins has a cat that can turn on the lights in the living room by pulling a cord with its claws. She hopes to teach the cat economy so the light won't burn all day long.

Armistice Program Planned At Lamesa

LAMESA, Nov. 10. (Special)—A crowd of several thousand persons is expected here Friday for Dawson county's most elaborate Armistice Day observance in years.

Congressman George Mahon of Colorado City will be the speaker of the day and District Judge Louis B. Reed will act as master of ceremonies.

Parade Marshal Bryan Handley announced that the parade opening the day's program will begin at 10 a.m., forming at the First Methodist church and parading through the business section.

Bands To Lead March

The parade will include the Brownfield and Lamesa High school bands, local National Guard unit equipment, representatives of service organizations of Lamesa and Brownfield, and Boy and Girl Scout troops. Floats bearing placards prepared by John Fryburger, art instructor, also will be in the parade.

Sponsoring the program, which will be climaxed with a barbecue served on the courthouse lawn at noon, are the Lamesa Disabled American Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion and the chamber of commerce.

Program Is Announced

Preparing 700 pounds of barbecue are Dr. J. D. Burleson and F. Barfoot. Plates will be $1 each except to the guest list which will include Gold Star parents of both World Wars.

Six T-6 planes from Goodfellow field will give the event a flying salute at 11 a. m. The planes are slated to circle over the city three times.

The program will include an invocation by the Rev. Sam Thomas, a choral solo by Joe Landreth, a reading by Ageline Jobe, the reading of the names of Dawson county's World War I and II dead by Ed Dubose, trumpeting of taps by Richard Crawley and the joint playing of the National anthem by the Brownfield and Lamesa bands.

Mahon's address and the rest of the program will be held on the south side of the square.

All stores will close early for the holiday, which will be featured in the afternoon by a District 3-AA grid battle between Lamesa and Brownfield at Tornado field.

Ex-Students Return

An estimated 1,000 ex-students will visit the new high school building here in the two day homecoming that got underway Thursday night and which will reach its climax in the Golden Tornadoes final home game with the Brownfield Cubs Friday afternoon.

Registration of ex-students began this afternoon at 6:45 followed by a pep rally staged tonight at a bonfire near the school, under the direction of Earl Sears and Bill Atwood, high school teachers.

Following the game Friday afternoon a reception will be given in the school cafeteria with local teachers acting as hosts.

Superintendent of schools, G. B. Wadzeck and high school Principal Abe Holder will welcome the visitors. Josh Beckham, June Wright, Jerry Howell and Annelle Lovelady, members of the student council which is sponsoring the first homecoming will be in the receiving line.

Taking part on a musical program at the reception will be Mrs. N. H. Price, Mrs. Dorman Scott, Oatus Roberts, Richard and Bob Crawley, La Voy Miller, Carroll Futrell, Virginia Holder, Nancy Stuart and Patsy Clement.

Mrs. Robert Carter and Miss Jean Compton, teachers of homemaking, will be in charge of preparing refreshments for the occasion.

High School queens for the past ten years have been extended special invitations to attend the affair.

Court Asked To Determine Validity Of Hobbs Election

LOVINGTON, N.M., Nov. 10 (INS)—District court has been asked to determine whether the election in which Hobbs approved a commission-manager government was valid.

The petition asked that a vote canvass by the mayor and the city clerk be held up until it is decided if the leection was properly conducted.

Recently reinstated Mayor J. Paul Heard led the campaign against the change of government.

The challenge of the election was filed by Vernon Roberts, T. S. Holoman, Andy L. Stroud and H. C. Strickland.

Boulter Ahead In School Race

Belated returns from over the 25-county district continued to give E. H. Boulter of Lubbock a slight lead in the race for membership on the State Board of Education from the 19th district in Tuesday's election.

Anton Wreck Victims To Be Buried Today

ANTON, Nov. 10 (Special)—Graveside rites will be conducted here at 2 p. m., Friday for Juan Herrera, jr., 8, and his nine-months-old brother, Ricardo, who were injured fatally at 3:15 p. m., Wednesday when the cotton truck in which they were riding, was demolished when it was in collision with a Santa Fe freight train.

Meanwhile, three other members of the Herrera family injured in the wreck at a grade crossing three-fourths of a mile east of here remained in Littlefield hospital and clinic.

Attendants reported all three were "out of danger." However, X-ray examination showed that the father, Juan Herrera, sr., 50, received four fractured ribs, fractures in both feet and an ankle, and a factured hand.

A son, Airgrado, 3, received cuts and bruises, and a daughter, Lupe, 2, received two broken legs.

Funeral arrangements will be conducted by the Hammons Funeral home of Littlefield. Services probably will be conducted by the Rev. Higgins, Littlefield Catholic pastor.

Cottonseed Loans Extended By USDA

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (Special)—The U.S. Department of agriculture announced today that in addition to farm-storage loans on cottonseed, as previously announced under the cottonseed loan program, the Commodity Credit corporation also will make loans through Dec. 31 on warehouse cottonseed.

The loans will mature not later than April 30, 1950.

Loans on warehouse-stored cottonseed will be available to individual producers and to cooperative associations normally handling cottonseed for producer-members. The cottonseed will be covered by warehouse receipts acceptable to CCC and issued by warehousemen (including cooperative and private oil mills) who have entered into cottonseed storage contracts with CCC.

State and county PMA committees will be responsible for operation of the program.

Man Given Three-Year Prison Term For Kidnapping Priest

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 10.(U.P.)—Arthur A. Hancock, 23, who admitted kidnapping a Wichita, Kan., Catholic priest last July, was sentenced to three years in federal prison here today.

U. S. District Judge Edgar S. Vaught sentenced the Muskogee, Okla., man on his plea of guilty to charges of kidnapping.

It was a light sentence for so serious a federal crime. However, Hancock used only a toy pistol in forcing Father Frank N. Heyer to drive him from Wichita to Blackwell, Okla., the night of July 19. He released Heyer unharmed after robbing him of about $60, and gave him $2 to buy enough gasoline to get back to Wichita.

Hancock had been released from the Kansas state penitentiary only 11 days before the kidnapping. He served five years for grand larceny.

TO PUSH DEFENSE PROGRAMS

U. S. Sends Special Officials To Europe To Study Defenses

By FREDERIC TUTTLE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9. — The U. S. has announced assignment of special American representatives to Europe to speed defense programs of Atlantic pact powers fearful of Russian attack.

Acting Secretary of State Webb said that the picked representatives were leaving by plane Thursday for London, Rome and Oslo.

In a formal statement, Webb declared that the defense programs will have to await the signing of bilateral agreements with each recipient nation. Shipments of American arms are expected to start before the end of this year.

Travel Plans Announced

The U. S. representatives, composed of State and Defense department officials, will travel in three groups to their European destinations.

Members of the London group will discuss military problems with the Western European countries which formed the nucleus for the pact — Great Britain, France, Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands.

In Rome, defense problems will be discussed with the Italians, and presumably center upon how to make Italy's borders safe from possible invasion should war flare across her boundaries.

Defense Is Planned

The Oslo group reportedly will carry last-minute instructions on plans to defend the potential Atlantic pact line in Scandinavia.

Informed sources had predicted repeatedly that the Soviet armed juggernaut might start rolling across Norway, Sweden and possibly Denmark if the masters of the Kremlin should decide upon war.

Throughout Europe the working teams of representatives will operate with U. S. officials already representing the State department, the Defense department and the Economic Co-operation administration.

Funds To Be Allotted

Under close consideration in all the European talks is distribution of the $1,314,000,000 arms-aid program.

Another reportedly primary factor before the conferees is distribution of fighting manpower on instant notice should war come.

Explosive diplomatic situations —such as those existing between Russia and Yugoslavia— are said to be under study as possible sparks that might detonate World War III.

Five Lubbock Students Included On Record West Texas State Roll

CANYON, Nov. 10 (Sepcial)—Five students from Lubbock are included in the record enrollment of 2,004 students attending school at West Texas State college.

They are Miss Audrey Mahle, freshman; Charles SoRelle, senior; John Blake, freshman; J. W. Burgess, graduate; and Miss Joyce Russell, senior.

DOGGY ENSEMBLE — Women who go in for matching ensembles have nothing on "Butch," a Dalmatian owned by Don Yeager, 7, of Phoenix, Ariz. Don's father built this doghouse for Butch and painted it white with black spots to match the dog's coat.

College Religious Work To Be Celebrated In Austin Nov. 11-13

AUSTIN, Nov. 10 (INS) — A Golden Jubilee celebration of religious work among college students will be held in Austin Nov. 11-13 because of a Bible class taught 50 years ago.

Texas' capital city was chosen for the Presbyterian church in tribute to the first such work done among students on the campus of a state supported school. The class was taught half a century ago by Dr. Daniel A. Penick, University of Texas professor, in the University Presbyterian church.

Four national religious leaders will take part in the celebration. Colonel Francis Pickens Miller, former director of the World Student Christian federation and a recent candidate for election as governor of Virginia.

Other speakers on the three-day program will be as follows: Dr. Kenneth Reeves of Philadelphia, executive secretary in the department of student work, Presbyterian church Dr. Harry Goodykoontz of Louisville, national director of student work and Dr. Wade Boggs, also of Louisville, former director of work in Christian education.

Dr. Penick, widely known as a scholar and as the University of Texas' tennis coach, still teaches a Bible class at the University Presbyterian church and is chairman of that church's board of student work. Approximately 3,000 ex-students and parents of present students have been invited to return for the celebration.

Red Party Organ Publishes U.S. Greetings To Russians

MOSCOW, Nov. 10. (AP)—U. S. greetings to the Russian people made the front page today in Pravda, the Communist party's official organ.

U. S. Ambassador Alan G. Kirk sent "best wishes" on the occasion of the 32nd anniversary last Monday of the 1917 Soviet revolution.

Pravda published 16 similiar messages from other foreign governments along with the American note.

Kirk addressed his message to Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko for transmittal to N. M. Shvernik, president of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet. The message said:

"On the occasion of the national holiday of the Union of the Soviet Socialistic Republics, my government has requested me to transmit to you that the people of the United States send their best wishes to the people of the Soviet Union."

James Mason Agrees To Make Movie Love To Swedish Girl In New Murder Mystery Film

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 10—Hard-to-get James Mason didn't succumb to the blandishments of Greta Garbo but he has consented to make love to another beautiful Swedish girl, Marta Toren. James has agreed to co-star with Marta in "Death on a Side Street," for William Goetz at Universal-International.

This is an original story by Lawrence Kimball, and gives Mason a chance he loves—to play a doctor who turns crooked. Even more interesting to me than Mason is this evidence that U-I is really going to give Marta a build up. What with Garbo making funny faces and pulling her hair over her face, and Ingrid retiring, well, I would say Marta is going to be our next big Swedish star.

Mexican Actress Signed

Looks like Ingrid Bergman is in for some competition. Maria Felix, Mexico's top ranking actress, has been signed by Rossellini. Senorita Felix is now on her way to Spain to make two pictures. Then she goes on to Rome to report to the man whose charm persuaded Bergman to leave home and family.

Apparently Rossellini is happy when he's in the center of feuding women, for Dolores Del Rio, another top ranking Mexican star, Senorita Felix' greatest rival, is also negotiating for a Rossellini picture.

First, of course, he will bring "The Life Of St. Francis Assisi" to the screen. A group of Milan bankers are financing this.

Hope May Win Honor

Robert Hope, whom you know better as Bob Hope, radio star, columnist, and motion picture comedian, will probably be named as the top box office attraction next year. I will tell you why:

"Sorrowful Jones," and "Paleface" have brought in over $12 million, so Paramount has decided to release "The Great Lover" at Thanksgiving time and get a little more gravy for Mr. Hope.

He gets his way about making another movie on the order of "Sorrowful Jones." Sidney Lanfield, who directed it, is preparing an original with the same sort of pathos and laughs. The "Always Work" Hope will start it in January.

Jane Wyman and Clark Hardwicke, Lew Ayres' double, were sitting cosily in a booth at the Beverly Tropics when guess who walked in? Lew, himself, with Arlene Dahl! Talk about life's most embarrassing moment—this was it.

Bette Grable, who has had two more songs added to "My Blue Heaven," and the changes she requested, glimpsed at Mocambo with Harry James. They were there to hear Vic Damone sing. Damone is certainly bringing them into Charlie Morrison's night spot.

Coleen Gray was reported cocktailing in New York with the town's most fabulous playboy Sherman Fairchild. Coleen's conversation is always her three-year-old daughter, however.

Must be true that all goes well with Lilli Palmer and Rex Harrison. They have just signed for a new apartment in the east 80's in New York.

Arthur Lake and his attractive wife, Patricia Van Cleve Lake and my godchild, Marion Rose, and Arthur Patrick were a great success when they appeared on television for the first time in Michael Darrin's show. The family idea is popular and Artie started it in "Blondie."

Charley Foy, whose ulcers have kept him out of his own show for three weeks, returns Tuesday as M. C.

Chili Williams, "The Polka Dot Girl," without her polka dots, was at Ciro's with Leo Freedman.

Texas Building Hit By Decline

AUSTIN, Nov. 10 (AP)—The residential building boom may be about finished in Texas. There was a 40-million-dollar decrease in small-home contracts last month compared with October a year ago.

"Some leaders are attributing the decrease in awards to the fact that government housing is scaring off the builders with prospects of constructing huge housing projects under the new national housing programs," the Texas Contractor, building trade journal, reported today, adding:

"However, prices have shown no apparent increases. If the truth were known, it is probable that the backlog of small homes has just about caught up with the demand and buyers pocketbooks."

Record Is Set

Awards of all types—residential, non-residential and engineering—totaled $49,599,384 in October, 1948, when an all-time monthly record of $107,033,214 was reported.

All classes of construction had decreases last month.

"Road construction has definitely tapered off from what it was a year ago," the Texas Contractor observed. But it said the slow down was only temporary, pending allotment of new funds by the Texas highway department early next year.

"Apartment construction is erratic," the report continued.

"Once the public housing projects get started many millions will be poured into this work throughout the state. The small cities as well as the large ones are making bids for loans under the government slum clearance program."

Week's Total Jumps

The accumulative total for 1949 stood at $790,350,821 at the end of October, slightly higher than the 10-month figure of $779,077,367 in 1948.

Should the next two months continue at about the same level as September and October, the grand total for 1949 will just about equal last year's figure.

"However, all hopes are lost for this year reaching the one-billion dollar mark," the magazine said.

Construction awards for this week amounted to $17,297,308, more than double last week's total.

Residential contracts reached $5,167,590; non-residential $7,441,936; engineering, $4,687,782.

German University Professor Teaches As Texas U. Guest

GALVESTON, Nov. 10 (INS)—Dr. Etienne Wolff, University of Strasburg professor, has been a guest worker this fall at the University of Texas medical branch at Galveston.

Prof. Wolff participated in research studies in the tissue culture laboratory under Dr. C. M. Pomerat's direction and gave a series of seminars on the influence of endocrine factors in sex differentiation.

The life span of the ant is between 10 and 15 years.

Baylor Day Dinners Slated In 200 Texas Communities

WACO, Nov. 10. (AP)—President W. R. White of Baylor University today announced plans for Baylor day dinners in 200 Texas communities Dec. 2.

Leaders of the $1,500,000 Baylor stadium campaign hope to raise $200,000 through the dinners to finish the drive.

"Contracts for construction of our stadium have been let," Dr. White said. "Our friends are supplying the money to pay for this magnificent new athletic center."

A. Grady Yates, president of the Baylor Ex-Students association, and Walter G. Lacy, jr., state chairman of the stadium campaign, are handling arrangements for the 200 meetings.

Yates said 100 recordings of Dr. White's Baylor day mesage will be sent to community chairman who request them.

Air Force Plane Lands Safely After Five Airmen Parachute

HILL AIR FORCE BASE, Utah, Nov. 10. (AP)—Five men bailed out of an Air Force C-47 near Bear River City, Utah, today. The pilot of the plane brought the ship in safely for a landing here a few minutes later.

A search was started immediately for the missing airmen.

The Hill field public relations office said the plane encountered heavy icing as it neared the end of a cross-country flight from Lowry Air Force base, Denver, Colo., to here. The plane was based at Lowry field.

Capt. Nicholas Evanco, pilot of the ship, ordered the other crew members to bail out. Then he succeeded in landing the ship, using automatic approach equipment. The ship was undamaged and Evanco was unhurt.

VICTORY CONSIDERED CERTAIN

Quirino Leads Rivals By Nearly 200,000 In Philippines Election

BY FRANK EMERY
INS Staff Correspondent

MANILA, Nov. 10—President Elpido Quirino extended his lead to nearly 200,000 votes today in his fight to remain in office as the second chief executive of the Phillipine republic.

The unofficial count of Tuesday's presidential balloting gave the president a plurality of 189,536 votes over his chief rival, Jose Laurel, who was president during the Japanese occupation.

Official Count Behind

The tally compiled by the Manila Chronicle, accounted for 2,608,280 of an estimated 4 million ballots cast. The official count by the election commission, running far behind the Chronicle's tabulations due to a personnel shortage, gave Quirino a plurality of 146,000.

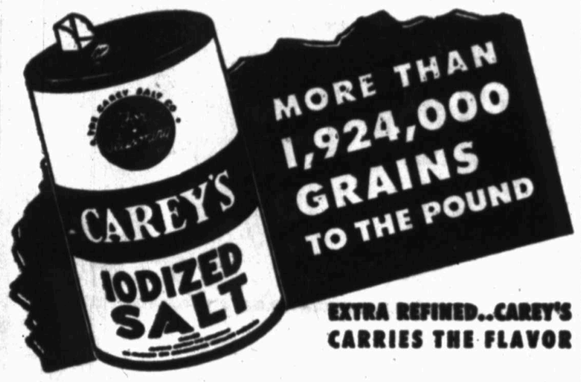

Although the mounting returns continued to point to a Quirino triumph, the president withheld any victory statement for the time being. His supporters and most political observers, however, asserted that he was definitely "in."

It will be Quirino's first term "on his own." He was elevated from the vice presidency to the office of president after the death of President Manuel Roxas, the first elected chief executive of the island republic.

The Chronicle's latest compilation gave Quirino 1,235,343 votes as against 1,045,797 for Laurel, whose Nacionalista party was supported by leftist groups.

Jose Avelino, candidate of a third group that broke away from Quirino's Liberal party, was running a poor third with only 327,140 votes.

Hungary's coal mining will be completely mechanized within the next few years.

Pilot To Appear In Court In Battle Of Duck Hunter, Flier

DENVER, Nov. 10. (INS)—The one-shot "battle of Weld" county" entered a new phase today but the ducks who started it all reserved comment.

The latest development was the arraignment of E. Gerard Tammany, Greeley photographer and pilot, before a U. S. commissioner in Denver on charges of frightening ducks with his airplane.

He was released under $1,000 bond pending a hearing for alleged violation of the federal migratory bird act.

Couple Flies Low

Nearly a month ago, "Jerry" and Marilyn McMillan, also of Greeley, were flying at a low altitude over Latham reservoir, six miles southeast of the city.

A shotgun roared—and the air force retreated to inspect the damage. Tammany said he counted 100 bullet holes in the plane's fabric. Some of the pellets, he said, narrowly missed Miss McMillan.

Meanwhile, Henry C. Van Schaack, jr., 37-year-old Denver socialite and real estate executive, told Weld county authorities he had fired at the aircraft.

Plane 'Bussing' Claimed

He claimed the plane was "buzzing" his hunting party, which included Robert Six, president of the Continental Air lines. He was forced to take cover behind his car, Van Schaack asserted, and in addition, the plane scared all the ducks out of shotgun range.

Van Schaack is scheduled to appear in Greeley court Nov. 21 to answer charges of assault with a deadly weapon.

The anti-aircraft shooting and Tammany's alleged assault against the dignity of the ducks took place Oct. 15, but federal authorities took no action until today.

State Health Officials Puzzled By Disease Found In East Texas

AUSTIN, Nov. 10 (INS)—A disease that has state health officials stumped has turned up in East Texas.

It is called Weil's disease or leptospirosis, and is not believed especially rare despite the fact that it is seldom diagonsed or reported in Texas.

A case of Weil's disease with laboratory confirmation was reported from a county in East Texas.

One of eight rats examined in Austin by the State Health department was positive for the disease. Labortory, diagnosis is based on demonstration of the leptospira germ by inocluation of the blood or urine into the guinea pig.

Tests can also be carried out with the patient's serum.

Health officials say the disease is hard to diagnose because some cases show jaundice and other do not.

It is claimed that non-jaundiced cases are more frequent when the infection is acquired from the dog. The urine of the animal is the usual source of infection.

One Dies, Six Escape In Navy Plane Crash

ARLINGTON, Ore., Nov. 10 (U.P.)—Four Navy airmen said today that they "held on and hoped" as they rode their big Privateer transport plane in a screaming 10,000 foot glide to a crash landing in a wheat field.

One man was killed among three others who parachuted on the pilot's orders as ice stalled the plane's engines. Two of the jumpers reached the ground safely and joined the four who stayed with the ship.

After an all-night search, the body of the third parachutist—apparently the last to leap—was found in the tangled chute in wheatlands near Mikkalo, Ore., 17 miles south of the Columbia river.

"We just held on and hoped," said Ensign C. C. Christenson, Omaha, Neb., pilot of the plane. "I don't ever want to do it again."

The plane, based at Whidbey Island Naval base, Wash., was on a routine navigation flight into north-central Oregon.

"I didn't know where we were—but I expected to hit a mountain. It was a toss-up whether the engines would thaw out before we hit the ground. I didn't think we would make it, so I gave the order for the crew to bail out.

"Three of the crew jumped. The others didn't have time to get out. We just held on and hoped. "

Mystery Mallow Cake- Mixed in just 3 minutes because SNOWDRIFT is Emulsorized!

ONLY AN EMULSORIZED SHORTENING GIVES YOU SUCH SPEEDY AND EASY CAKE SUCCESS!

MYSTERY MALLOW CAKE

Quick-method recipe

No creaming! No egg-beating! Mixing time 3 minutes!

Sift together into a large bowl:

2 cups sifted cake flour — 1 tsp. salt
¾ tsp. soda — 1½ cups sugar

Add:

½ cup Snowdrift (Emulsorized—quick-blending)
¾ cup milk

Mix enough to dampen flour. Beat 2 minutes. If by hand, count beating time only. With electric mixer, use "low speed"; scrape bowl often; scrape beaters after 2 minutes.

Add:

¼ cup milk — 3 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted and cooled
1 tsp. vanilla
2 eggs

Beat 1 minute for Snowdrift-smooth batter. Turn into 2 greased 8" layer pans, lined with plain paper. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) about 35 minutes. Cool and frost with—

MYSTERY MALLOW ICING: Combine 2 egg whites, 1½ cups sugar, ⅓ tsp. salt, ¼ tsp. cream of tartar and ⅓ cup water in top of double boiler over boiling water. Beat with rotary beater 7 minutes, or until icing peaks. Add 1 tsp. vanilla. Spread between layers. "Spike" 8 marshmallow halves on top with toothpicks, leaving enough toothpick exposed to remove easily. Then frost all over. Remove toothpicks. Melt 1 square chocolate with ¼ teaspoon Snowdrift and drip over top.

Compliments come thick and fast when folks taste this new Mystery Mallow Cake. So rich and chocolaty! Surprisingly different! Yet quick and easy to make with Emulsorized Snowdrift.

All ingredients mixed in the same bowl in just 3 minutes. No creaming! No egg-beating! Only an emulsorized shortening can blend these cakes so quickly and successfully—and Snowdrift is emulsorized. For finer-grained, richer-tasting cakes so moist they stay fresh for days, for fluffy biscuits and flaky pie crust, for crisp, digestible fried foods, rely on Snowdrift!

PLAIN SLAUGHTER

Our Terrible Record

TRAFFIC tragedies on the South Plains during recent weeks have been worse than shocking. They have been scandalous.

They are all the more frightening when contemplated with the fact that the most hazardous traffic weeks of the year are just ahead. Days are growing shorter. A good deal of bad weather is to be expected. The rush of the late cotton harvest will add largely to the volume and dangers of traffic for several weeks.

The conditions, however, will not be a justification for a continuation of this area's horrifying traffic accident record. Most future tragedies can be prevented by following simple rules of safety which every person should know.

The biggest contribution to accident prevention unquestionably would be made, now and at all times, if drivers would be more careful. Traffic safety, in gist, gets down to an individual proposition. If each driver were alert at all times, accidents seldom would occur. Naturally, nothing so ideal can be hoped for.

But practically all of us, whether driving or walking, could be more careful. The aggregate of many of us exercising just a little more care would be a substantial contribution to traffic safety.

THE careful driver has to look out both for his own car and all the others he may approach. He must have his car under sufficient control to avoid collision with those which are driven carelessly.

Careful driving on the South Plains requires consciousness of hazards which are aggravated at this season. Many large farm vehicles are on the highways. Cotton pickers' trucks are likely to be jammed with riders more interested in the sights of a new and strange land than the passing traffic. Traffic not only is exceedingly heavy, but it also includes a large proportion of vehicles of types which obscure the vision of other drivers and which are hazardous to overtake and pass.

The rules which undoubtedly would reduce the number and seriousness of accidents are simple and basic. The most important, probably, is to keep within speeds which enable the driver to control his own car. He should be able to stop, or maneuver, according to what the driver of the machine just ahead, approaching, or passing, may do without warning. One of the soundest rules of highway practice is not to get too close to another car and not to let another car get too close to you. The driver who has room to stop or swerve quickly and safely usually can avoid an accident.

THIS also is the season which demands special caution in going around other cars. Be doubly sure the way ahead is clear before attempting to pass another vehicle. Also sound your horn as a warning to the driver of the vehicle you wish to pass.

At night, never take any chances as to what may lie beyond the blinding lights of an approaching car. Be prepared to stop instantly if, as is likely to happen on practically any highway at this time of year, a car or truck is stalled just beyond the blinding lights.

More vigorous enforcement of traffic laws undoubtedly would help the situation, too. Officers who try to enforce these laws should have the support of everyone. Laxness in enforcement should not be tolerated. Willful offenders should be assessed penalties sufficiently severe to act as a restraint upon others of their kind.

But officers cannot be everywhere all the time. The best they can do is to apprehend an occasional offender.

Responsibility for greater safety on the highways rests, finally, with the individual. Unless more individuals begin to exercise more care, we must reconcile ourselves to the certainty of accidents in increasing numbers because of the enhanced hazards.

This is a situation which every driver can apply to himself and to every individual he might influence.

The aggregate of many individuals—particularly drivers—exercising more care unquestionably would mean fewer persons killed and injured during the months of extreme hazards just ahead.

Someone To Love

A HOSPITAL attendant motioned Tod in to see Ma, and her eyes opened as he reached the bed. She smiled faintly. He felt panicky and alone. He wanted to do something for her, but he didn't know what he could do. It was a terrible feeling, being so alone, and so ineffectual.

"Tod." She stopped between words, like a spent runner. He leaned closer, to hear what she said. "You ought to make up with Jenny."

"Hush, Ma, don't try to talk. I'll do that."

Her eyes fluttered shut. They let him stay there by her bed. The nurse brought a chair for him, and then they put up the usual screens.

After the funeral, the days passed monotonously, and he seemed to move in a vacuum, unknowing and uncaring. He took a room near his work. It was a dismal little place, but it didn't cost much, and it was all he needed, because he was generally in the tavern at the corner evenings.

Rick looked him up once and found him there. They talked for quite a while about different things, and then Rick said suddenly, "So it's all washed up between you and Liz Conover?"

"Sure. That's old news. You're behind the times," Tod said thickly.

"And you've found out you're still in love with Jenny, after all."

Tod's face tightened, and he downed his drink quickly. "What ever gave you that silly idea?"

A FEW nights later Rick had dinner with Jenny. He spoke of Tod, mentioning that he was drinking pretty heavily.

"That sounds like Tod," Jenny said lightly. He couldn't stand up to anything, she thought bitterly. He was always running away.

"You knew, of course, that he and Liz have split up?"

"I wondered why he didn't turn to her, when he needed help," Jenny said. "What's the matter, did she change her mind again?"

"No," Rick answered, "Tod discovered that he didn't love her after all. He quit the Conover agency too, in January. I don't think the new job he has amounts to much."

"Darling," Jenny whispered, "I'd much rather talk about us."

Rick reached across the table and put his hand on hers.

"I'll be so glad, Rick," she said, "when you and I are married and we're settled down with the babies."

The line of his jaw tightened and his eyes searched hers. "You think that once we're married you'll be free of him, that you won't think of him any more. Isn't that it, Jenny?"

His direct look confused her. "Nonsense!" She tried to laugh, but it was a failure.

"Jenny, in spite of all Tod's shortcomings, his foolishness in the past and his weaknesses, you still love him."

"No," she whispered then. "No, I don't want to love him, not ever again. I only want to marry you Rick. You're so fine and decent and—kind and generous."

"Quite a list of virtues, darling," Rick said gently.

"I mean it, Rick, when I say I want to marry you soon."

"If I though it would work, darling, there isn't anything I want more. But it won't. You and I had better face it."

She couldn't do anything but stare at him.

The waiter brought their food, but after he had left neither of them made a move to eat.

"I talked to Tod for a long time the other evening," Rick said at last. "He's miserable without you, Jenny."

"Then why—"

"But he'll never come to tell you so, or make a single move to get you back. I'm sure of that. He said one reason he had stopped going to see the children was that he wanted to make sure every tie between you was severed."

"If he has so much pride, then I'm sure—" Jenny began.

"He won't ever try to get you back because he has nothing to offer you. He's in debt up to his ears for his mother's funeral."

"But he's never missed a payment on the house. Why didn't he let me know it was working a hardship on him?"

"That's what I'm trying to tell you. He's so full of stubborn pride that he'd make those payments on the house if he had to sell a pound of his flesh every month to do it. I guess that day when he said he had no one to turn to but you, he really meant it."

Tears brimmed slowly into Jenny's eyes.

RICK went on talking in that low gentle voice of his, "If I thought he would make you unhappy again, Jenny, my darling, I would never dream of giving you up to him. But I think Tod's come a long way during these past few months. He's learned a lot of things the rest of us got through our thick skulls a long time ago. But he's got good stuff in him, and now that he's straightened out, if he could have you back, he'd be all right. Nobody ever needed anybody in this world any more than

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

HERE is a question which comes to my desk so often that I am sure the same problem is in the minds of thousands of others who don't write keep my faith in me.

BRANDEIS

"How can I my religion and in the efficacy of prayer, when God doesn't answer my prayers?

That is the gist of those letters of doubt—and usually the writers expect me to give them a clear-cut answer.

Faith is not a science like engineering, medicine or chemistry.

Faith is one of those indefinable characteristics that set the human being apart from the rest of the animal world.

Faith does not say "I know." It says "I believe."

The best answer I can give to those who tell me that God does not answer their prayers and that thus they have become shaky in their faith and their religion is: "Are you praying to God or are you trying to bribe him?"

Haven't you heard mothers tell their children to bribe God?

Nonsense, you say?

Well, let's see.

My own mother was a deeply religious woman.

She admonished me to say my prayers every night, and saw to it that I did.

Whenever I wanted something badly—a new toy, a gun, a train, a bicycle, she'd say to me:

"When you say your prayers tonight you tell the Lord that you will be a good boy and perhaps He'll bring you what you ask him for."

My mother was a good mother and she meant well.

But, like so many thousands of mothers — and fathers — she had the mistaken idea that God could be bribed with promises of goodness, or gifts.

These gifts are worthy, of course, but they don't open the doors of Heaven.

If you believe in God you certainly ought to know that prayer and bribery don't go together.

Almost a billion people in this world profess to believe in God. Just imagine every one of those people asking God for something for themselves—a new toy, a mink coat, an automobile, a better position! And, usually, the person who prays for something for himself, accompanies his prayer with the attempted bribe of "I'll be good," or "I'll never do it again," or "Here's my contribution."

That isn't prayer. That isn't faith. That isn't religion. That is a violation of the second Commandment.

Although not a Catholic, I want to quote a Pope, Sixtus I, who lived in the second century A. D.:

"Pray to God only for the things which you cannot obtain from man."

If you do that, your prayers will be heard.

ON SURPLUS PLANES

Aerial Safety Urged

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The most disastrous heavier-than-air tragedy in the history of aviation might have been avoided if the Army's high-pressure salesmen were required by Congress or the Civil Aeronautics Administration to enforce more strict regulations on the quality of planes which they sell to foreign governments, and to set a safer standard for the equipment of this kind of surplus before it can be taken on test flights.

It is now believed that the radio system or some other vital part of the Bolivian-bought P-38, which killed fifty-five people when it crashed into an Eastern Air Lines ship over Washington's airport, was defective and directly responsible for the collision.

TUCKER

The pilot, Eric Rios Bridoux, has told interviewers that his "power was not constant," even though he had made minor repairs only a few days before. Inasmuch as he is described as "the Lindbergh of Bolivia," it is believed that he would have responded to air-tower warnings to move out of the commercial liner's path, if it had not been for some functional failure.

REASON: A possible reason for the defect is that foreign nations select the least expensive instead of the more modern planes because of the lack of sufficient funds in their treasuries. Frequently, they do not overhaul the engines or make necessary repairs that run into fairly large sums. In short, they look for bargain-basement stuff when they come shopping here.

Army salesmen, naturally, are only too happy to get rid of obsolete machines. It enables them to obtain larger appropriations from Congress for new materiel. It cuts down their maintenance costs.

Moreover, it is official policy to adhere to the wishes of foreign buyers to win the good will of their countries, especially South American. Otherwise, their diplomatic representatives would submit excited protests to Secretary Acheson.

The CAA has had many heated sessions and prolonged correspondence with Army Air Force officers on this subject. It has demanded the right to inspect these ancient planes before they are permitted to fly in such an aerially congested center as the National Capital and its environs.

But it has never been able to force the Army to agree to or comply with traffic safety regulations that apply to every automobile on the highway, where "wrecks" are barred by municipal or state laws.

REPUDIATION: The Truman-Boyle-Edwards strategy for pursuing the feminine vote amounts to a complete repudiation of the policy pursued by the Roosevelt Administration under the inspiration of Eleanor Roosevelt, the most active presidential wife in history.

The contrast in campaign technique in this field is as sharp as the differences in the behaviour of Mrs. R and Mrs. Truman, who is one of the most retiring of first ladies.

It is understood that Mrs. Roosevelt didn't like the change although she did not protest because she believes that she should keep out of politics on account of her United Nations assignment. But her old friends here have commented on the reversion to methods which she considered objectionable to her sex.

WOMEN: When the Roosevelt board of strategy met at Albany—Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mrs. Roosevelt, James A. Farley, the late Louis Howe and other insiders—to make plans for the 1932 battle, the male members decided to adopt orthodox techniques of campaigning and organizing. There would be vote-getting divisions for labor, farmers, veterans, the foreign-born etc.—and for women.

Mrs. Roosevelt demurred violently. She took the position that it would be an "insult" to womanhood to set them apart as a separate class of people. She wanted no appeal based on F.D.R.'s love of children, his plans for improvement of the kitchen, his supposed domesticity or his schemes to make easier the lot of the housewife.

She insisted that women be regarded as citizens in every respect, not as a special segment of the electorate to be treated as secondary citizens. She pleaded for an appeal to their intelligence as civic and economic entities, not to their emotions and prejudices.

She won out, although Jim Farley and Louis Howe frequently questioned the wisdom of her program as complaints rolled in from hinterland committees and clubhouses. There was no special political appeal along conventional lines.

WOO: President Truman, National Chairman Boyle and Women's Division Leader India Edwards apparently do not hold with such new-fangled nonsense. They are pitching political woo like any lovesick Romeo.

Mrs. Edwards whoops it up like a 1912-type suffragette in her wooing of the women. Mr. Truman has named more women to high office—federal judgeships, diplomatic posts, departmental jobs etc.—than even Mrs. R.'s husband. He may climax the courtship by appointing Frances Perkins as new chairman of the Civil Service Commission.

Whether they like it or not, women are women, politically, in the opinion of this Administration, and Mrs. Roosevelt to the contrary.

A man needs a kit of tools to do a job. A woman needs only a fingernail file.

Many a young girl spends a lot of time in order to dress sloppy in her dungarees.

Revised: An ounce of prevention is worth a five-ton bomb dropped too late.

GM GOOD EXAMPLE OF SYSTEM

Free Enterprise Doing 'Okay'

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The American free enterprise system seems to be doing very nicely despite the political Jeremiahs.

At least as respects its bigger units. This may be inferred fairly from one of the multibillion-dollar corporations, General Motors. It is paying to its common stockholders this year its largest annual dividend in 21 years, eight dollars a share—with a $3.75 dividend paid earlier this year now increased by the company's announcement of a $4.25 year-end dividend. This represents 20 percent of the $10 a share par value of the stock and about 12 percent of the present market value.

STOKES

General Motors is, indeed, a "welfare state" of its own for its 436,00 stockholders who get this melon, a grand total of $358,000,000, and for its officers, directors and top employees who are getting handsome salaries and big cash and stock bonuses as well. The workers are doing very well, too, with a total payroll for 401,930 employees of $1,130,000,000 for the first nine months of this year, as reported recently.

Sales Total Heavy

The corporation's total sales, which amounted to $4,458,079,585 for the first nine months of this year, should hit the six-billion mark or over for the year to make 1949 one of the most productive and profitable of its history.

This is a tribute to the management, as well as to the productive ability of the workers, and shows how big business still can make plenty of money for its stockholders despite "government interference" against which there now is such a clamor.

SOMEHOW or other the record of this giant corporation makes a bit silly all the frothing at the mouth about the "welfare state" and the "threat of liberty" from New Dealism and Fair Dealism of which there was so much in Congress and the New York election campaign.

Yet much of this revived campaign is generated from big business and finance.

They are powerful. These giant corporations are, in effect, private economic empires, which imposes upon them a responsibility for stewardship. They are on test these days, as likewise are the big labor unions which represent the hundreds of thousands of workers who are employed in each of them. This is evident now in the increased scrutiny, both within government and outside, of such mammoth industrial operations to ascertain their effect on the economy as a whole, on politics, and on small business. It is exemplified in renewed interest in concentration of industrial, financial and labor control and monopoly.

Stock Held By Du Pont

The industrial system ramifies in inter-corporate relationships. For example, 10,000,000 of the 44,000,000 shares of General Motors common stock is held by another giant corporation, Du Pont, which will receive nearly a fourth of the annual dividend.

The prosperous state of General Motors will be a factor in negotiations over renewal of its contract with C. I. O.'s United Automobile workers next spring. The present two-year contract expires May 31. General Motors does not now have a pension plan for its workers such as the union recently won from the Ford company, though it has a contributory system for its officers and directors, and this will be the chief demand of the union, as it has been in most recent negotiations. Already research committees representing both the U.A.W. and General Motors are busy delving into facts, figures and costs, preliminary to negotiations next year.

ANOTHER factor will be salary scales and bonuses of top corporation officials and employees. For instance, Charles E. Wilson, corporation president, received last year a salary of $186,000, with a cash bonus of $280,026 and a stock bonus of 1,180 shares, according to the company's report to the Securities and Exchange commission.

That report also showed that 31 directors received a combined total salary of $1,566,392, with $2,592,444 in cash bonuses and 10,920 shares in stock bonuses, while 26 officers got $1,481,836 in salary, $2,852,817 in cash bonuses and 12,010 in stock bonuses. Employees making over $20,000 a year, of which there are 950, received total combined salaries of $15,179,980, cash bonuses of $17,044,376, and stock bonuses of 71,309 shares.

Which is "welfare" of a substantial sort.

AEF WOUNDED ARE FORGOTTEN

World War II Virtually Ignored In Armistice Day Celebration

BY BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 10—Dear father, the winner of the bread, was awakened at the preposterous hour of 11:11 a.m. by the clatter of little flat feet Dear father had lost several decisions to the operatives of the Messrs. Shor, Billingsley and Perona the night before, and was greeting the hostile dawn with one red-white-and-blue eye.

"Can't a man sleep?" he asked, thickly.

Children Get Holiday

"No," said an especially cruel child thinly. "This is a holiday. No school." After a decent interval he added, "Hurray!"

The last holiday dear father was able to observe was his birthday, two or three eons ago, when he was stricken with a fortunate case of appendicitis. To commemorate that day he wrote only nine pieces.

"What holiday?" he asked the moppet, with the wit that has made him the toast of a continent (Antarctica.)

"Sister said it's Armistice day," the child explained. "The day the war ended."

Father Wonders Why

Reaching into his pajama vest-pocket for his almanac, dear father discovered that the lad was correct. It was a holiday. Then dear father fell back upon his couch with a quizative gasp and wondered why. In fact, he ask something along those lines.

"When did World War II end?" he snarled at the defenseless child, who, though five, is unmarried.

"I didn't know there was one," he said. "Tell me about it."

Dear father was in the process of assembling his thoughts, begining with Hitler's anger over the state of the Sudetans, when he suddenly realized that he didn't remember which day the last war with Germany had ended. Was it May 8, 1945, or the day the Russians say it was, May 9?

And when did it end in Japan? Was it August 9, 1945, when the second A-bomb, the clincher, fell? Or August 14? or September 2, on the USS Missouri?

Funny, how November 11 hangs on as the official Armistice day. It is observed in all states. the District of Columbia, Alaska, Canal Zone, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and Virgin Islands. It is called "Victory Day" in Colorado, Tennessee, Texas and Hawaii. Children who have no concept of that war, and adults, too, take the day off to play around—and, of course, never have time to go to church or synagogue to pray for the souls of the departed of W.W.I. It is, now, just an anachronistic holiday, except for a few routine blares of the trumpets at Arlington National cemetery and one or two other places. The wounded of that war remain ignored, except by the closest of relative. They were ignored during World War II, too.

364,800 Casualties

We mobilized 4,355,000 men for World War I. Of these, 126,000 were killed or died of contributory ailments. We had 234,000 wounded, 4,500 missing or taken prisoner, for a total of 364,800 casualties.

In World War II, whose vague endings we do not observe, we had 10,400,000 under arms. Of these 225,155 Army men (including Air Force) were killed, and 571,822 wounded. Our missing and prisoner of war lists (Army) amounted to 151,597, for a total of 948,574 casualties. This does not include 11,894 deaths of prisoners of war. In addition, 62,484 Navy men were killed or listed as missing, and 24,446 Marines and 1,912 Coast Guardsmen. Just 33,670 Navy men were wounded, plus 63,842 Marines and 968 members of the coast Guard.

World War II Ignored

However, the people still celebrate, if that is the word, the ending of World War I, but put in busy days at school and work on the anniversaries—whatever they are— of World War II.

For all the observance, as we almost got around to saying a moment ago, not much attention is paid—actually— to the wounded remnants of the AEF. My friend Paul McNamara, now working for a pittance of $9,000 a week in Hollywood, wrote a wonderful (and generally overlooked) story about that during the height and heat of World War II.

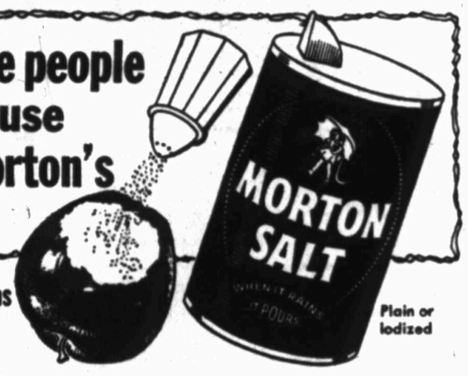

He told of a cute USO girl who, lost in a great Army hospital, where she was scheduled to entertain the wounded, happened upon a remote ward filled with gray-haired men. She realized that she had made a mistake and backed out, saying, "I'm sorry; wrong ward."

"You're wrong, Sis," an old timer spoke up from his bed. "You mean 'wrong War.'"

But it's still a holiday, including Puerto Rico . . . and the bigger, much more horrifying conflict goes (if not unwept) unhonored.

Undulant Fever Still Is Health Problem

AUSTIN, Nov. 10 (INS)—Undulant fever, despite more widespread sanitation measures, continues to be a major public health problem in Texas.

The State Health department says that 308 cases have been reported in Texas this year. Because of the difficulty of diagnosis, many more cases go unreported every week.

The pasteurization of milk and milk products for human consumption continues to be the only real bulwark against undulant fever, health officials say.

There is no effective practical method of immunizing persons against the disease.

Since the fever is a disease of domestic animals transmissible to man, health authorities believe the ultimate control rests with the elimination of the reservoir of infection.

They are more interested, then, in controlling the disease in cattle and other livestock.

Berry Urges National Guard Units To Enter Rifle Matches

AUSTIN, Nov. 10 (INS)—Major General K. L. Berry, adjutant general of Texas, has put out a call for Texas National Guard units to participate in the guard's indoor rifle tuornament.

The tourney will be held as soon as matches can be arranged.

Gen. Berry said he is anxious that as many units as possible take part, so that the best marksmen in the state can be selected. The tournament is small bore .22 caliber rifle of any make. All grades of guardsmen are eligible up to and including major. The state matches will be held shoulder to shoulder whenever possible. When distances are too great, postol matches will be held.

Gen. Berry defined a team as not less than five nor more than ten men. Units of company size through battalion will be permitted to enter teams.

The tournament will be held under the auspices of the National Rifle association. Later there will be tournaments under the direction of the adjutant general and the chief of the National Guard bureau.

Winners of the state tournament will meet the other state champions during March of next year, Gen. Berry said. He asked that applications be made to the state adjutant general in Austin by Nov. 15.

Educator Cites Need Of Nurses Explaining Training To Public

AUSTIN, Nov. 10 (INS)—A University of Texas educator stresses the need of informing the public of the professional skill required of nurses.

Dr. A. L. Chapman cited the need of better public relations at a joint meeting in Austin of the Institute of the Texas League of Nursing education and the state Organization for Public Health nursing.

Most people think of nurses as pretty, friendly and helpful. Dr. Chapman declared, but do not think of them in terms of professional skill. He believes nurses should learn the informative media to explain their work and impress the general public.

Other suggestions Dr. Chapman made included more nurse participation in public affairs, development of specialist nurse teamwork, encouragement of nurses to widen cultural horizons, and planned recruiting of high quality personnel.

"Nurses need to remember one nurse represents the whole profession in the eyes of some people. Her success or failure can raise or lower the estimate by groups and individuals of all nurses," Dr. Chapman declared.

Air Force B-29 Pilot Critically Hurt In Fort Worth Car Crash

FORT WORTH, Nov. 10. (AP)—An 8th Air Force B-29 pilot was critically injured and two youths narrowly escaped serious hurt here early today when the flier "crash-landed" his automobile into an entire business block.

City police said the car driven by Capt. Leroy E. Glass of Handley jumped a curb on White Settlement road, struck 15 bathroom fixtures in front of a hardware store, richocheted into a next-door sign, smashed five large steel drums farther down the sidewalk and then crashed into an ice company office.

Glass suffered a broken neck, ribs and brain concussion, Carswell air base hospital reported.

Farmers Face Lack Of Grain Storage

"Start the Day on the South Plains"
LUBBOCK MORNING AVALANCHE
Lubbock, Texas, Friday, November 11, 1949

VISITING AIR FORCE GENERAL — Major General James S. Stowell, with Colonel George W. Pardy and staff of Reese Air Force base, are shown above as they review the guard of honor that met the general when he arrived at the base Thursday morning. General Stowell, deputy commanding general of the Air Training command for flying training, has headquarters at Scott Field, Ill. He visited several housing projects in Lubbock and praised the progress being made. Shown here, from left to right in the front row are, General Stowell and Colonel Pardy, base commander. In the back row, from left to right, are Colonel George Blase, RAFB executive officer; Colonel Hugh Wallace, commanding officer of the pilot training group; Lt. Col. John N. Jones, base inspector general (behind General Stowell); Lt. Col. Andre R. Brousseau, base group commander (behind Colonel Pardy); Lt. Col. Robert L. Matthews, maintenance and supply group commander; and First Lt. Maxwell J. Ihrig, assistant public information officer. (Air Force Photo.)

Heavy Sorghum Crop In Danger

Already plagued with a critical labor shortage which has lowered cotton grades with resultant lower profit, South Plains farmers report a new problem facing them now.

There simply isn't any storage space for their grain sorghum crop, which in some sections of the area is reaching bumper proportions.

Elevators Clogged

Reports from Seagraves and Brownfield today told of long lines of grain trucks waiting to be unloaded at elevators, already clogged with grain because of the shortage of cars.

Grain was being piled on the ground by many farmers, especially in northwest Cochran county and southern Bailey, where more of the grain was planted this year.

Under the government price support program, farmers were offered added inducement this year for storage of the grain on farms. Loan price for farm storage is $2.03 per hundred while storage in elevators and other commercial storage nets approximately $1.87 per hundred. Both figures are considerably above the current cash market price, therefore most of the grain farmers are attempting to put their crop into the loan.

Farmers Are Fretting

Frank Matchett, Seagraves banker, reported long lines of trucks at elevators there today and there was difficulty in unloading. Farmers were fretting because their trucks were tied up in the lineup and not available for further use until unloaded.

At Brownfield, there was a line of trucks more than a half mile long late Wednesday and today, a telephone report from there said. The trucks were being unloaded as rapidly as possible.

Elsewhere over the area, grain receipts were surprisingly higher than expectations, grain men said.

The crop had not been expected to be as large as the harvest is indicating, dut to the fact that the largest cotton acreage in history is now being harvested on the South Plains.

O'Donnell Host For Homecoming

(Special To The Avalanche)

O'DONNELL, Nov. 10.—The O'Donnell High school band, under the baton of Bill King, makes its first appearance in new uniforms Friday during Homecoming activities here.

The band will parade through downtown O'Donnell beginning at 11 a. m., and will re-form in the afternoon to play at the O'Donnell-Tahoka football game scheduled to begin at 2 p. m., at Johnson field.

Queen to Be Crowned

Miss Janelle Lindsey, O'Donnell High school senior, will be crowned football queen between the halves of the game.

Alumni will gather at the school cafeteria at 7:30 p. m., for a homecoming banquet, which will end the day's program.

The band will begin its march in front of the Legion hall and will parade to the Ellis Chevrolet company and then to the Corner Drug store, where it will form a circle and play several numbers.

The new uniforms, which are tailored in West Point style and in the school colors, are gold with black trimmings.

Band Officers Named

All members of the 48-piece band are beginners. Band officers are Virginia Sanders, president; Alice Stinnett, who is drum majorette, vice president; and Carol Lambert, secretary.

Miss Lindley was one of four candidates for the football queen title. The other three candidates will be her attendants.

Patsy Edwards, last year's queen, will turn the crown over to football Captain Carroll Pearson, who will crown Miss Lindley in a colorful ceremony.

As a special feature of the coronation, a float introducing as many of the former football queens as possible is planned.

Since a complete list of queens is not available, school officials have asked that all former queens get in touch with them before the ceremony.

Tickets for the banquet will be $1.50 per plate, with ducats on sale at the two drug stores and the two tailor shops in town. All ex-students are invited to attend the Homecoming, to meet and renew old acquaintances.

Army To Sell 184 Horses, Mares At Oklahoma Base

FORT RENO, Okla., Nov. 10. (Special)—A sale of 184 picked Army horses and mares will be held here on Nov. 21, starting at 10 a.m., Col. Norris M. L'Abbe, of the Quartermaster corps, announced today.

The animals were chosen from a total of 1,600 purchased by the Army for shipment overseas. They are from 14 to 15 hands in height and are from four to eight years old. A number of the animals are broken and all are acclimated and immunized against tetanus, anthrax and sleeping sickness.

NOT NECESSARY

The United States Constitution does not require political parties to frame platforms, the practice growing out of the development of the party system in the nation.

Cotton Farmers To Hold Meeting

SHALLOWATER, Nov. 10 (Special)—Another meeting of cotton farmers will be held at 7:30 p. m. Saturday in the Shallowater clubhouse concerning their decision to cut bollpulling prices to $1.75 per hundred, George Leftwich, spokesman for the group, said Thursday.

Nearly 100 per cent co-operation has been indicated by farmers in the area with the decision made Monday night at a meeting here to cut the price from $2.25 currently paid, Leftwich said. The proposal is scheduled to go into effect the first of next week.

Frost Lowers Grade

The movement to slash pulling prices was precipitated earlier by frost and other conditions which have lowered the grade of cotton so that farmers can not break even at current labor wages, the farmers asserted.

"With much of the cotton worth only 15 cents per pound or $75 a bale at its present grade," Leftwich said earlier this week, "A tenant farmer who must pay $18.75 rent on that bale and $40.50 for its harvest will have left only $16.25 to compensate for his growing costs—higher this year than at any other time in history."

Farmers from all over the county are invited to the Saturday night meeting, Leftwich asserted.

New, Electrically Operated Smokehouse Erected At Tech

A pre-fabricated electrically operated smokehouse has been erected on the Texas Tech campus, Dean of Agriculture W. L. Stangel announced Thursday.

The building will allow students studying farm meats to hickory smoke cure meats in the style liked by most people, the dean said. Students have previously been able to only liquid cure meats, he said.

The smokehouse is located on the college farm.

METEORITES, NOT STARS

Shooting and falling stars are not stars at all, but meteorites, which are comparatively small masses of rac o rlron flying about in space.

New Fraternity To Be Initiated At Tech

Gamma chapter of Pi Epsilon Tau, national honorary petroleum fraternity, will be initiated on the Tex... Tech campus at 12:45 p.m. Saturday, President Bill Killingsworth said Thursday.

A pledge team of 12 men will arrive tonight from the University of Oklahoma, national headquarters, to perform the formal ceremonies, he said. A luncheon in the Hilton hotel at 2 p.m. will follow the initiation.

The national fraternity was founded at Oklahoma in 1947 with Paul Johnston, now a Tech professor, as the first president. Formal applications have been submitted for membership by both the University of California and Louisiana State, but Tech will become the third member Saturday behind Tulsa university, which was added last year.

There are 32 members in the Tech chapter, made up from the upper 25 per cent of the senior class and 17 per cent of the juniors, according to fraternity regulations.

No probationary period must be served by the Tech chapter before it is admitted to full membership, Killingsworth said.

USE OF INTEREST SUGGESTED

Legislator Proposes Increased State Funds Without Tax Boost

Representative Preston E. Smith Thursday called for a program of financing that would permit renovation of the state eleemosynary institutions without the necessity for raising new taxes.

The money, under Smith's plan, would come from the interest on state surplus funds.

These funds, now deposited in Texas banks, bring little or no return. But under the terms of a bill which Smith introduced at the last session of the legislature, they would be invested in government bonds.

Bank Interest Low

The interest thus earned would be sufficient to put through the state eleemosynary improvement and building program, Smith asserted.

"Interest received on $190 million held by the U. S. Government for the Texas Employment commission amounts to more than $4 million per year," the Lubbock representative asserted. "Banks pay the state less than $120,000 depository interest on a like amount. The state now has approximately $190 million in cash funds and suspense accounts."

Smith described conditions in the eleemosynary institutions as "deplorable" and recommended that they should be remedied efficiently—and at the same time economically.

Banks Collect From U. S.

"It does not make sense," he declared, "to impose new taxes on an overburdened citizenship when it is possible to achieve the desired result with the means already at our disposal." Smith added:

"There is no need for new taxes if we employ a business-like method of handling the state's finances.

"At the present time the banks have state money invested in U. S. bonds, and the banks collect the interest. There is no reason why the state should not itself invest the money in U. S. bonds, collect the interest and use the money thereby earned to pay for eleemosynary improvement program."

SAN ANGELO MAN CLAIMED

SAN ANGELO, Nov. 10. (AP).—Dr. Joseph Owen McKeon, 58, civilian physician at Goodfellow Air Force base here and formerly mayor of Montgomery, Minn., for ten years, died today after a heart attack. He had served on hospital staffs at Faribault, Minn., and Minneapolis.

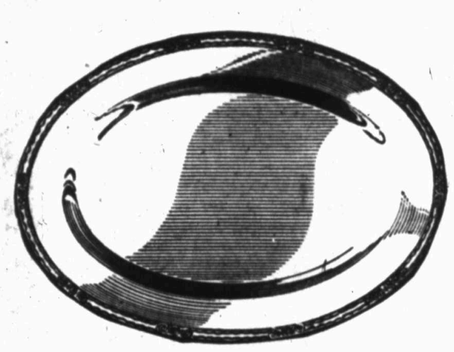

'Move To Rear, Please' Brings Punch In Nose For Bus Driver

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10. (AP)—The bus was jammed with standees.

"Move to the rear, please," implored the driver, William J. Donohue, 28.

An exasperated patron leaned over and punched Donohue in the nose, then vanished in the crowd.

Donohue was treated at Mission Emergency hospital for a possible nose fracture.

JET ADAPTED TO FOOT SOLDIER

New Weapons Give Infantrymen Power Of Mobile Artillery Units

By LEON SHLOSS
INS Staff Correspondent

FORT BENNING, Ga., Nov. 10 — The infantry is out of the trenches—it's now carrying the artillery on its shoulder.

'Mid all the recent who-struck-John about unification, one of the most amazing advances in military art since world war II has gone unnoticed—the transformation of the doughfoot into an artillery-man.

The story really came out here last week when the joint chiefs of staff watched the infantry shoot its new bolt—the without-recoil cannon aimed and fired from the shoulder.

Army Adapts Weapon

The weapon is the 57 millimeter rifle, not a new thing, but recently adapted to the infantry.

The joint chiefs during the last week "unification party" watched one solitary soldier lift the "57" to his shoulder and puts its load through a 4-foot-by-four-foot target 500 yards away without flinching.

Actually the "57" will carry two miles, but not with the deadly accuracy it possesses at shorter ranges.

The "57" has made a partner of the jet principle in aviation to outlaw re-coil, the enemy of gunman's precision. It has vents built into its breach to let the hot gases caused by the explosion escape rearward.

This offsets the forward movement of the gun barrel when the weapon is fired.

Infantry Explains Method

The downtrodden infantry — downtrodden by the fly-boys of the Air Force and Navy—showed their compatriots today how it works.

They hung a "57" on a piece of rope from an extra-high sawhorse and pressed the button. The concussion rocked 500 people witnessing the demonstration—but didn't move the rifle two inches backward.

Then just to show that it came from jet, the foot soldiers put a wooden ammunition box five feet behind the rifle and fired again. They won't find that box. It has a 75 millimeter job which is still a little too heavy to heist and a 105 millimeter dream. The doughfoots fired both today. They're down to a light, aluminum tripod, and hit that same 4 by 4 target 1,000 yards away.

Maj. Gen. Withers Burress, commander of the infantry school, put it this way:

"The atom bomb is outside our bailwick. Until we hear differently, we will just have to go on figuring that the infantry's last victory over any enemy determined to fight will be on land."

Lubbock Sailor Serves Aboard Ship In U.S. Navy Maneuvers

GREAT LAKES, Ill., Nov. 10. (Special) — Alvin Ray Rucker, commissarymen, third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Stephenson of 2010 Fifth, Lubbock, is serving as a crew member aboard the general supply issue ship USS Pollux, which is one of the units of Vice Admiral G. F. Bogan's Western Task force, now engaged in the joint Army-Navy exercise "Miki."

The exercise, using 90 ships and 40,000 men, is "retaking" the Hawaiian Islands.

Prior to his entrance in the Navy, Rucker graduated from high school in Lubbock.

Army Adopts Preparedness Plan For Use Of Medical Personnel

AUSTIN, Nov. 10 (Special)—A newly-adopted preparedness plan which would result in greater economy in the use of scarce professional personnel in military field hospitals in wartime theaters of operations has been announced by Maj. Gen. R. W. Bliss, Army surgeon general.

"Under this plan," said Col. Oscar B. Abbott, chief of the Texas Military district, "fewer physicians, dentists and nurses will be ordered to active duty with Army medical units until those units are ready to move into a theater of operations. This should allow each doctor to remain in active practice in his community until the Army has an actual need for his services with troops in combat."

The new plan is the result of intensive study of experience of the Army Medical department during World War II.

The first known manufacturer of plywood used it in 1867 to make forms for sewing machine cabinets, says the Georgia-Pacific Educational Foundation.

Tuberculin Tests Show 27 'Positive'

Twenty-seven of 834 first, sixth and 12th grade students receiving tuberculin tests in Lubbock county schools last week were positive reactors, indicating the tuberculosis germ has entered their bodies, according to a survey results announced Thursday.

The percentage of positive reactors was lower than that of last year, when 92 showed positive reaction of a total of 1,640 taking tests.

Test results were read by Dr. Roy Riddel, Dr. J. B. Rountree, Dr. O. Brandon Hull and Dr. Tennie Mae Lunceford in county schools other than Slaton, where Slaton doctors read results.

Parents of the 27 showing positive reaction were advised to take their children to doctors for chest x-ray examinations. Six students who showed doubtful reaction were asked to report to the Lubbock County Tuberculosis association Saturday for another test.

Plasto tests were given in the schools, said Mrs. John L. McLeod, tuberculosis association nurse.

Bomb Detonator, Found By Boy, Set Off By Experts

WICHITA FALLS, Nov. 10. (AP)—A bomb detonator was set off by experts last night after a boy found it and gave it to his dad.

The father, Wayne McCormick, told police that the detonator was ticking when the boy brought it to him.

He threw it as far as he could and stopped the ticking sound, he said.

The detonator was a type used to explode 500-pound aerial bombs. When set off outside the city, the explosion rattled windows on the west side of town.

Officials said the detonator may have fallen from an airplane.

RUSSIA WITHIN REACH OF GERMAN BASES

Air Force Gets First Of 30 Plane Armada Capable Of Flying Infantry Division 850 Miles In Single Day

By LEON SHLOSS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 — The Air Force today announced completion of the first of 30 giant transport planes able to fly an entire infantry division 850 miles within 24 hours.

Such a troop movement could span the terrain between western Germany and westernmost Russia or the Soviet satellites.

It also could thrust deep into Arctic Russia from a base in Alaska or the Aleutians.

The plane is the 175,000-pound Douglas C-124 Globemaster II. It is expected to make its first flight before the end of the month.

30 Planes Ordered

The Air Force disclosed it has ordered 30 of the mammoth troop and cargo carriers as another step in the rapidly-evolving technique of lightning war.

The Globemaster, fully loaded, can fly 850 miles, unload, and return to base without fueling. Its range would be greatly increased with lighter loadings but today's announcement heavily emphasized the plane's ability over the 850-mile distance.

Only last week at Fort Benning, Ga., another phase of any new war was previewed when the infantry unveiled its latest weapons—light in weight to permit quick air movement of heavy concentrations, but devastating in effect.

Troop Mobility Increased

The 30 new Globemasters could pick up in the American zone of Germany the division which demonstrated last week, with its weapons, and fly it into westernmost Russia, or into the Soviet satellites, between two nightfalls.

The 30 planes would make three 1,700-mile round trips, carrying a total of 5,000 men and their equipment on each trip. On each trip they could unload and return without being forced to refuel.

Huge clamshell doors in the nose of the aircraft permit tanks, field guns, bulldozers and fully-loaded trucks to be driven in and out.

The C-124 is the largest American military transport which has been ordered in quantity. Its 87½ tons total nearly two and one-half times the weight of the C-54, which is currently providing the bulk of air life for the Air Force.

Plane Size Given

Its wingspan is 173 feet, wider than a football field, it is 127 feet long and stands 48 feet high—taller than a three-story building.

The plane is powered by four Pratt and Whitney engines, totaling 14,000 horsepower. The engines employ water injection for speed bursts in emergency and two-speed superchargers for maximum performance at great altitudes.

Its four Curtiss propellers are completely reversible, to permit faster stopping on the ground.

Well-informed military sources say Russia has in operation no transport approaching the capabilities of the C-124, despite the fact that the Soviet's war technique is aimed at high speed movement of large ground forces armed with new, lightweight weapons.

The Air Force announcement withheld rate of production but aircraft manufacturing experts predict that all 30 planes can be built within six months.

Special electric cables have been developed for use in hot beds.

Texas Boosts Total Cotton Consumption

AUSTIN, Nov. 10 (INS)— A five percent increase in cotton consumption in Texas in September was reported by the University of Texas bureau of business research in Austin.

The total of 12,898 running bales leading to the increase was however 16 percent down from the September figure of last year.

The bureau also noted that 1949 consumption of cotton linters, totaling 3,219 running bales, rose 12 percent from August. In comparison with September 1948, consumption of cotton linters increased 36 percent.

August-to-September active cotton spindles decreased 31 percent, while average spindle hours increased one percent.

Compared with September of last year, active spindles declined 13 percent, while average spindle hours were up 18 percent.

Jewish Foundation Cornerstone To Be Laid At Texas U. Nov. 13

AUSTIN, Nov. 10—(INS)—The cornerstone of a new B'nai B'rith Foundation building for Jewish students at the University of Texas will be laid Sunday Nov. 13.

The ceremony will be held in connection with Homecoming weekend at the university. Parents, ex-students, state officials, faculty members and other friends have been invited to attend by Dr. H. J. Ettlinger, professor of pure mathematics and building committee chairman.

The foundation of the new building, located one block from the university campus, has been under construction for some two and a half months.

Colombia Clamps On Heavy Guard

BOGOTA Colombia, Nov. 10. (AP)—The conservative government clamped a heavy army and police guard on most of Colombia tonight and its own party called for a Nov. 27 election as scheduled.

The country, in the midst of a bloody presidential election campaign was under a state of siege—a modified form of martial law.

Conservative President Mariano Ospina Perez decreed the state of siege last night after the Congress, controlled by the rival liberal party, threatened to impeach him. The president's action suspended congressional proceedings.

Leaders Hold Session

Liberal party leaders, who asked their followers to boycott the Nov. 27 election, were in conference.

The Conservative party called upon its members to proceed with plans for the Nov. 27 national election. Its statement appealed to all Colombians to maintain law and order, then took this slap at the liberals:

"The violence against authorities and citizens now has found the necessary dike."

If the state of siege continues some difficulty may be experienced in holding the election at the regular time. Under a state of siege political assemblies and similar activities are banned.

Police Guard Streets

Congress is suspended. The Congress building, the presidential palace, the banks, railway station, city hall and other public buildings of Bogota are cordoned off by heavily armed troops. Reinforced police patrol the streets. The press is under strict censorship. Bogota is under a 9 p.m. to 4 a.m. curfew.

Censorship and curfew regulations are in effect in such provincial centers as Baranquilla, Cartagena, and Santa Maria.

Rumors of a forthcoming general strike persisted. These reports said such a strike might be called to force postponement of the elections, which the liberal party has vowed to boycott.

This is a liberal-conservative fight. These are the only factions of any consequence in this country.

Colombia has been in a state of turmoil ever since April, 1948, when the assassination of liberal leader Jorge Eliecer Gaitan touched off riots which resulted in 1,-200 deaths and which interrupted the Inter-American Congress, then in session here.

MARKET REPORTS

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—Cotton futures moved lower in slow trading today. Most of the activity centered on switching operations from nearby December to later months, particularly March and May 1950 deliveries, anticipating first notice day for December contracts on Nov. 25. Local traders were on both sides of the market. Mill buying about offset light hedging. Trading in futures was restricted partly by holiday influences, with the New York cotton exchange to be closed Friday, Armistice day.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 10. (AP)—Cotton futures advanced a few points in the early trading here today but gradually eased off under long liquidation and hedge selling.

Closing prices were steady 10 cents to 20 cents a bale lower.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 10. (AP)—Corn and oats punched their way into new high territory on the board of trade today. The rest of the market was steady, but lacked the aggressive demand shown for the feed grains. A brick trade was conducted in all pits.

December corn rose to its best price since last February while all other deliveries made new highs since trading in them started. All oats deliveries established new highs.

Wheat closed ⅛-½ lower. December $2.11⅜, corn was ⅛-½ higher. December $1.20⅜-⅞, oats were ⅛ lower to ⅜ higher. December 75, rye was unchanged to ½ lower, December $1.34-1.34½.

GOLD SHARES TAKE LACING

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—Gold shares took a lacing in an erratic stock market today.

Losses outnumbered gains for the market as a whole but price currents were thoroughly snarled as traders picked and chose their stocks.

Turnover topped the 1,000,000-share mark once more but was nothing to get excited about. Sales of 1,170,000 shares compared with 1,510,000 Wednesday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped .1 of one-point to 67.9. The industrial group held unchanged but rails and utilities slipped.

A total of 1,083 issues changed hands, of which 480 declined and 321 advanced.

Gold shares weakened after President Truman came out with strong words to the effect that the administration was not considering raising the present $35 an ounce for gold price. As long as he is President of the United States, he stated, the value of gold is fixed.

Homestake dropped 3½ to 45¼ and McIntyre Porcupine lost 2 at 58. Fractionally off were Alaska Juneau at 3¾ and Dome at 16½.

Studebaker, the most active issue, was a strong spot with a rise of ⅞ to 26. Demand was evidently lined with hopes for favorable dividend action.

Other motors had a little trouble, with small losses posted for GM at 71¼, Chrysler 56, and Packard 3½.

Du Pont, a substantial beneficiary of GM's $4.25 dividend because of its 10,-000,000-share ownership of GM common, was the second most active issue. The price moved up 1⅝ to 62.

Copper and smelting and radio and television issues did fairly well. A major exception, though, was U. S. Smelting, down 2 at 37¾.

Fractionally up were Admiral Corp. 29, Philco 30¼, Radio Corp. 12⅝, Kennecott 50¼, American Smelting 48¼, and Phelps Dodge 46¾.

Also up were North American Co., Youngstown Sheet, U. S. Rubber, American Telephone, Union Carbide, United Air Lines, and Johns-Manville.

Lower were Bethlehem Steel, Montgomery Ward, United Aircraft, Consolidated Edison, Dow Chemical, General Electric, Coca-Cola, Standard Oil (NJ), Gulf Oil, Amerada Petroleum (off 4 at 113½), and U. S. Gypsum.

Lower in the curb were Hollinger Gold, Goldfield Consolidated, Bunker Hill Mining, Babcock and Wilcox, Lake Shore Mines, Mining Corp. of Canada, New Mexico and Arizona Land, Imperial Oil, and Calgary and Edmonton.

Higher were Cities Service, Duval Texas Sulphur, Kirby Petroleum, and Creole Petroleum. Sales of 250,000 shares compared with 380,000 Wednesday.

Corporate bonds followed an uneven price route. U. S. governments slipped a trifle in early over-the-counter dealings but closed with little or no change.

MEMBERS PROTEST RESOLUTION

State Baptist Missionary Group Divided By Walkout Of Delegates

DALLAS, Nov. 10 (AP)—The Baptist Missionary association of Texas was divided today when a large group of delegates walked out of the annual meeting.

The walkout was in protest to an association resolution barring from membership "all churches which are non-operative with BMA principles and practices."

The Rev. Vernon L. Barr of the South Harwood Baptist church of Dallas, which was suspended from the BMA yesterday, led the walkout. The group gathered at the South Harwood Baptist church and held a rump session.

Different Opinions Given

There was a difference of opinion on the number of persons who walked out. The Rev. Roy B. Flippo of Amarillo, one of the BMA recording secretaries said about 50 persons left. The Rev. Barr said 70 preachers, 93 delegates and 43 visitors left with him.

"We left the meeting because we felt the BMA resolution, limiting the social and recreational activities of church members, was entirely unfair and against the best interests and welfare of Baptists throughout Texas," Rev. Barr said.

Rev. Barr said the BMA objects particularly to dancing and athletic activities by church members in church buildings an church supported institutions. He said the group leaving the Dallasmeeting feels such activity is "entirely wholesome and beneficial" to church members.

About 850 delegates from churches throughout Texas were at the meeting. Yesterday the convention barred the Bethel Baptist church of Jacksonville from its membership for the second year.

BMA split from the Southern Baptist convention about 50 years ago.

Woman In Shooting Affray Identified

SAN ANGELO, Nov. 10. (AP)—A woman police say killed a man and herself on a San Angelo street was identified today by officers as Mrs. Geneva Mathews, 30.

Gwinn R. Medders, 39, and Mrs. Mathews died last night. Officers said Mrs. Mathews, a widow with one child, left a note.

Police Officer Bill Martin said Medders died of three .22 caliber bullets in his chest. The woman was shot once in the heart.

Justice of the Peace Bob Aycock said he would return a verdict of "murder and suicide."

Bob Wells and Harold Shields witnessed the shooting on a street just outside the downtown section. Medders had left work at a combination garage and filling station.

The witnesses said they heard a man call for help. They saw a man and woman scuffle briefly and heard four shots.

Medders fell first, they said. Medders is survived by his wife, Mrs. Helen Medders, and three children.

In her note, Mrs. Mathews said she had worried recently over "domestic trouble," officers said.

Mrs. Jim Allen, 64, Of Slaton, Claimed

Pallbearers will be John Burton, Herbert Gaither, Lloyd Tucker, Roscoe Dooley, A. E. Clark, and Jim Wolf.

Survivors include a son, M. D. Barry of Slaton; two stepsons, Grady Allen of Clovis, N. M., and Carl Allen of Waxahachie; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Charlene Tidwell of Abilene; two brothers, John Barry of Plainview, and Bill Barry of Slaton; and five sisters, Mrs. George Jones of Slaton, and Mrs. Lee Bowman, Mrs. Mattie Harris, Mrs. M. Possible Murder Considered Connection With Human Skull

HOUSTON, Nov. 10. (U.P.)— A fire-blackened, weather beaten human skull was placed before deputy sheriff's today, who considered the possibility of a first-class murder mystery.

Deputies were summoned late yesterday to the East Houston community by S. B. Seabourne, who found the skull near a fence, partly covered by a brown paper sack.

Deputy A. K. Shipley said the skull had been badly burned and was partly charred.

Capt. Loyd Frazer of the identification department confirmed that the skull was that of a small human. He ruled out the possibility that it may have been a laboratory exhibit piece, noting that the skull had not been scientifically prepared and cleaned for laboratory use.

Officers found no other traces of bones in the vicinity. The skull was to be turned over to Baylor medical school here for expert examination.

Minimum Wage Law Expected To Boost Southern Economy

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (Special)—The new minimum wage law will increase buying power, "particularly in the South," Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin said here today. The law provides 75-cent minimums.

This therefore should "boost the general economy," he added.

"It will benefit farmers and merchants and will establish for many workers some sort of relationship between earning power and living costs. It will not only serve to raise sub-standard wage levels, but provide a fresh foundation on which organized workers can build their security. President Truman was amply justified in saying that the 1949 fair labor standards amendments represent a marked social advance."

He emphasized that the coverage under the new law is not satisfactory because Congress exempted some workers who were covered under the old law and that a great body of poorly paid workers who belong under the umbrella of the fair labor standards act have been left out in the cold. "This means that much remains to be done to broaden the coverage of the law," he said.

He said efforts may begin shortly to get a higher minimum wage for some industries. He believes this can best be done through restoration of industry committees, which operated under the old law.

He also said he thinks the new law should be amended to provide for similar committees acting as escalators to lift the minimum wage from 75 cents to $1.

The Labor department pointed out that among southern industries where employes are expected to benefit by the new law are furniture, leather, tobacco and lumber. Sawmill workers under 12 in number who carry certain job descriptions will not benefit.

Unusual Growth Of Austrian Crops Reported At Hale Center

HALE CENTER, Nov. 10. (Special)—Seventy-two acres of Austrian winter peas and vetch on the farm of Earl and W. G. Laney, district soil conservation service cooperators, five miles northwest of here, is making phenomenal growth.

The plantings were made on Sept. 10, and within four weeks both the peas and vetch had made a good stand, Earl Laney reported. The two intend to turn the crop under next spring for green fertilizer and follow with cotton as a part of their crop rotation plan.

Tech Students Hear Southern Baptist Convention Head Here

"No one likes the person who does things half way," Dr. Robert G. Lee told some 127 Tech students who jammed into the Baptist Student center, 2401 Thirteenth, to hear the president of the Southern Baptist convention Thursday night.

Basing his talk on First Corinthians 14, Dr. Lee spoke on the subject "Are You in Love With Love?" to a joint meeting of the college Baptist Brotherhood and YWA.

"Our greatest menace today is mediocrity," Dr. Lee said to the students as he lauded the way young people are today developing physically, but neglecting mental and spiritual development.

He closed challenging the young people to examine themselves to see if they are living at a maximum.

Preceding Dr. Lee's talk, Euell Porter of the voice department of Hardin-Simmons sang for the group. The two are carrying on a revival at the First Baptist church here.

All students present were invited to the Friday night revival service, Tech night, at which time Dr. Lee will give for the 367th time his sermon "Pay Day—Someday."

Covered highway bridges still are in use. One at Woodstock, Windsor county, Vermont, recently was rebuilt as a preservative measure.

Kaiser Contemplates Texas Metal Plant

DALLAS, Nov. 10 (AP)—Henry J. Kaiser today said he is considering building an aluminum plant in Texas.

He called for an expanded national economy with more liberal depreciation provisions for capital.

"What this country needs is a $300,000,000,000 economy and an accelerated depreciation law. Then this nation's industries will really go places," Kaiser said in an interview.

The industrialist stopped in Dallas en route to Oakland, Calif.

Kaiser said Texas had three essential requirements for an aluminum plant. He listed raw materials, power and demand. If business conditions turn out as bright as he believes, the Kaiser company will have to build a plant here, he said.

Kaiser said his company and others would be helped immeasurably if Congress would enact an "accelerated depreciation law."

He said a 20 year period for depreciation is now required. A flexible depreciation period similar to the wartime five-year period, he said, would tend to increase risk capital and permit industrial expansion.

Kaiser commented that eventually Texas will not only produce Kaiser automobiles for its own market, but would also produce in quantity for shipment to other parts of the country.

NOVEL EXCUSE ANYWAY

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (U.P.)—The courtroom rocked with laughter when the smartly-dressed young woman gave her excuse on a speeding charge. "I'd just bought a new pair of shoes," she said. "They are these platform type and I couldn't tell how far down I had my foot on the gas feed."

TEXAS LADY LOSES 47 POUNDS

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcentrate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger. Barcentrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here is proof

Here is what Mrs. H. P. Bishop, Route 2, Stamford, Texas, wrote us:

"I am very glad to endorse Barcentrate, so please accept my sincere thanks and appreciation for the great benefit I derived from its use. I not only lost weight, but also looked and felt better in every way.

"I had to have a very serious operation and was told that I must lose a lot of weight before the operation could be performed. I went on a diet and tried very hard to reduce, but wasn't losing much weight until I heard of Barcentrate. I began taking it and could soon tell the difference in the way I felt and the weight I was losing. I weighed 200 pounds when I started and I lost a total of 47 pounds and was able to undergo my operation. I can truthfully recommend it to others, since it did so much for me."

At all druggists

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.
