PRESIDENT MACHADO IN HOME PROVINCE WHERE FIGHTING OCCURS

HAVANA, Aug. 15. (AP)—Fighting between revolutionists and government troops continued in Cuba (night) despite the arrests last night of Gen. Mario G. Menocal, Col. Carlos Mendieta and 28 other rebel leaders.

Although President Gerardo Machado remained in Santa Clara province, where he was born, and continued his attempts to bring about a truce, railroad stations in five small towns in the province were burned and robbed today and telephone wires were cut.

The towns include Baez, which was subjected to rebel raids last night, Sierra Morena and Corralillo.

Heavy concentration of insurgent forces in hidden points of mountains about Sierra Morena continued and there was further fighting in the neighborhood of Rancho Veloz, where government troops were routed by a band of rebels last night.

The government besides moving 400 troops into Santa Clara province, dispatched army trucks to that region late today with additional ammunition and other war supplies.

General Menocal, Colonel Mendieta and other captured leaders were on their way back to Havana tonight on a gunboat, as prisoners of war.

Gurley Defends
Self In Divorce

J. S. Gurley, acting as his own attorney in a divorce suit filed by his wife, Mrs. Alma Gurley, cross-examined the latter nine hours yesterday and Friday. Mr. Gurley is a plumber. He broke into the limelight last year as an investigating assistant to federal prohibition agents who have visited Pampa in the last year. Mrs. Gurley petitioned the court for a divorce and for custody of a 2-year-old daughter.

In a cross-action, Mr. Gurley also demanded custody of the child. Mrs. Gurley and other plaintiffs' witnesses testified that her husband had repeatedly "drawn a gun" on her and her friends.

Judge Clifford Braly frequently interrupted the questioning of Mrs. Gurley by her husband with comments that Gurley himself was doing most of the testifying and that he was asking the witness irrelevant and immaterial questions.

Through two defense witnesses placed on the stand late yesterday, Gurley introduced evidence intended to prove that he did not "draw a gun" and that he did not threaten the life of his wife. Defense testimony will be continued Monday in 114th district court.

W. N. U. Is Granted
Judgment In Suit

Judgment for the Western Newspaper Union was rendered in 114th district court late Friday in a suit against the Pampa Times Publishing company. The suit involved notes totaling $17,750.

On the same day, Brandtlin and Kluge, Inc. filed suit in 31st district court against J. D. Sugg and the Pampa Times Publishing company to collect notes, interest, and attorneys' fees totaling $150.

On Friday, Western Newspaper Union filed a suit of sequestration in justice court before W. H. Baxter against the Pampa Times Publishing company to foreclose on a chattel mortgage for four articles of printing equipment valued at $175. These included a casting box and gas heater, remodeling furnace, ladle and skimmer.

Complete Grade
For Test Road

The grade was completed yesterday by the city street department on the experimental all-weather road from the end of the West Post-er paying to the concrete on highway 33.

Application of a "mix" of caliche, gravel, and fuel oil will begin Monday morning. The purpose of the road is to determine the wearing qualities of a light type of construction. Such a type is needed on certain residential streets.

Much interest in the experiment has been aroused in nearby cities where, if successful, it will be adopted. Uncertainty of the route of the paving on highway 33 through the city, together with unwillingness to pay the price bidders wanted for concrete, led the city commission to authorize the experiment.

Be At Paris Farm

M. R. Bentley and A. K. Short of the extension division of Texas A. & M. college, will give a terracing demonstration on the Wheeler Paris farm at Laketon, Aug. 25. County Agent Ralph R. Thomas announced yesterday.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15. (AP)—The state of New Jersey today became officially interested in the shooting of a member of its senate, Roy T. Yates, with the disclosure he had placed on the state's payroll the blond young woman in whose apartment he was shot.

Gov. Morgan F. Larson of New Jersey said he would confer "as soon as possible" with the state pension survey commission to determine whether Miss Ruth Jayne Cramer, who is being held on a charge of shooting Senator Yates, was rightfully on the commission's pay sheet.

Miss Cramer, who at first described herself as "Ruth Jayne," was questioned about two checks, one for $123 and the other for $247, found in her apartment after the shooting early yesterday. She said she occasionally did part-time work for the commission.

Senator Yates, who is chairman of that body, told his colleagues recently he had hired the girl to do "dependency research work" and submitted a bill of $319 for her services.

It was a discussion of finances during an evening of drinking that preceded the shooting, the 27-year-old blond told police.

At Bellevue hospital, where the girl was taken to be treated for hysteria and later was reported suffering from a sprained ankle, she insisted she did not know who did the shooting, or how it occurred.

"We were both so intoxicated," she was quoted as saying, "that we didn't know what we were doing."

She denied she was aware that Senator Yates had a wife and three children.

Yates continued in a critical condition today with a bullet wound in his abdomen.

STATEMENT ON

Officers and directors of the First National bank announced last night that all of the business of the Pampa National bank had been transferred to the former, and that transfers of all assignments, accounts of individuals, notes, discount and bank property moves had been legally effected.

In a statement the bank said: "We believe the patrons and customers of both institutions have realized the importance of great caution and good judgment in closing such a far-reaching business transaction, and the many customers of both institutions are to be congratulated and assured of the hearty appreciation of the First National and all of its officers for the very hearty and helpful cooperation of this entire community and for the patience and genuine support during the last week of unusual business experience. The First National wants to render none but the most helpful assistance to all of the customers of both institutions and holds itself with its entire resources at the disposal of every legitimate and consistent enterprise in which the citizens of this community may become interested."

The officers of the First National, especially request all of the customers, both new and old, to call at the bank for a friendly visit and interview in order that a better understanding of all mutual interests may be obtained."

Canadian Tax Levy
Reduced This Year

CANADIAN, Aug. 15. (Special)—A reduction of ten cents in tax levy for the city of Canadian was voted by the city commission at its regular meeting this week. The levy for 1931 will be $1 instead of $1.10, the amount last year.

A report of the tax assessor, G. R. Nolen, read and approved at the meeting, showed the valuation of the city to be $2,148,000.

Edward C. Flener, mayor, announced that no tax is collected for the retirement of the bonds against the light plant, as the plant takes care of its own interest and sinking fund.

BULLETIN
SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 15. (AP)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh took off at 7:50 p. m. (C.S.T.) today from Karagin island, eastern Siberia, for Petropavlovsk, capital of Kamchatka.

SEATTLE, Aug. 15. (AP)—The Japan-bound monoplane of the flying Lindberghs was made ready for an early start tonight from isolated Karagin island off the Siberian coast for Petropavlovsk, 554 miles distant.

Rested after their long 1,067-mile flight from Alaska over the Bering sea, Mr. and Mrs. Lindbergh, radio operator and co-pilot for their celebrated husband, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, messaged the St. Paul island radio station they would take off between 8 and 9 p. m. (C.S.T.).

They arrived at the island, where a fuel supply was cached, at 5:40 p. m. Saturday (12:40 a. m. Saturday, C. S. T.). They left Nome at 9 a. m. Friday, (2 p. m. C.S.T.).

The naval radio station at St. Paul island in the Pribilof, which kept in constant communication with the Lindberghs during their flight down the Siberian coast, had not heard from them since they landed, as the radio antenna was reeled in at that time.

Only 1,900 miles remained of the originally scheduled vacation flight to Tokyo from New York, but after that lay flight around the rest of the world. The continuation of the trip was announced in Alaska. Slightly more than 5,000 miles have been covered since the colonel and his wife left New York.

The long jump from Nome was made in 10 hours and 48 minutes at an average speed of 190 miles an hour.

WALLACE RITES

Friends of Dr. George H. Wallace, 52, local physician, will pay last respects to him at 11 o'clock this morning in the First Methodist church when services will be preached by the Rev. Elmer Ridgeway Gadsden, pastor.

Dr. Wallace, pastor of the First Methodist church and the Rev. Tom W. Brabham, of Fort Worth, former pastor.

Members of the Pampa Lions club and the medical fraternity will attend the services.

The body will be sent to Durham, Okla., for burial. The Masonic lodge will have charge. Local arrangements will be in charge of the Stephenson Mortuary.

Dr. Wallace died in a local hospital Friday morning following an operation last week.

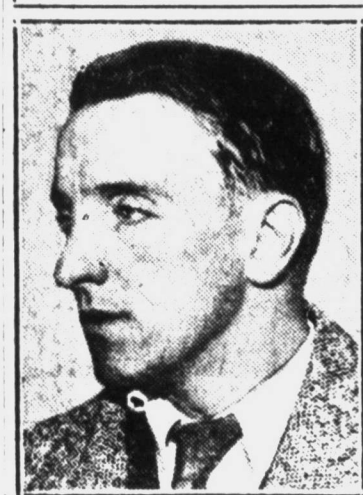

Dr. Wallace is survived by his widow, one son, George Robert Wallace, father, R. H. Wallace, Durham, Okla., and a sister, Mrs. E. E. Fox. Both father and sister were here when Dr. Wallace passed away.

Panhandle Starts
Fight On Utilities

PANHANDLE, Aug. 15. (Special)—Mayor D. C. Stone, backed by the city commission, has begun a fight for the reduction of telephone, gas and electric rates.

City officials have given the local gas company three more days in which to answer the request that rates be reduced. If the rates are not reduced, the city may install its own gas system. Telephone rates are too high, it is charged, and a petition asking for a reduction will be presented to the phone company officials.

Irving Kennedy, above, who thrilled many a feminine heart on the Pacific coast as a popular radio singer, is receiving his fan mail in jail while being held on a charge of murdering his fiancée, Mrs. Pauline Hopkins, at a "gin party."

PEDDLING TO BE REGULATEDFARMERS WILL NOT BE KEPT FROM SELLING
THEIR PRODUCTS

Cooperation of city officials and merchants is expected to result in better enforcement of the city ordinance governing peddling. W. H. Thomas was elected chairman Friday evening of a group which expects to call upon every merchant in the city hall. All merchants are invited to attend, since it is pointed out that peddlers are selling all types of merchandise.

While seeking to discourage certain types of peddling, the merchants are not seeking to cause inconvenience to farm producers. On the contrary, the merchants unanimously agreed to buy all the produce possible from the farmers. Under the city ordinance, produce must be sold by the order route. Merchants must be visited in advance and orders taken so that farm produce may be delivered in wholesale fashion instead of through barter and double parking.

It is believed that this plan will be a help, rather than a hindrance to their selling. They will know before marketing produce what they need to bring to the city. Licenses will be required of peddlers who do not produce the products they sell. The burden of proof of production will be placed upon the vendor.

Merchants yesterday expressed a desire to assist farmers to sell their produce and thereby to create a home market. Several farmers called at the office of City Manager P. M. Quinn. They seemed satisfied with the arrangement after learning of the reasons for making it. They were from the south part of the county and Donley county.

Under state law the city ordinance cannot govern peddling outside the business district by producers of the products sold.

Drilling Campaign
For Gas Is Denied

A rumor circulated here last week that Tex-Oma Oil & Gas company, operating company for the Chicago gas line would start a drilling campaign for gas in the Panhandle was found to be erroneous. A representative of the company at Amarillo declared that there was no such over-production in the gas industry as in the oil industry.

Many good producers in Gray county are still shut down for high prices. Purchasing agencies want to buy all the Gray county oil they can get but the trouble now is that the producing companies don't care to sell it at prevailing prices.

CORRUPTION IN PARTY

BY COMMITTEE

NEW YORK, Aug. 15. (AP)—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt today called the legislature into special session to consider giving more power to the committee whose investigation of the New York city government was branded a "cruxification of the democratic party" by the chairman of Tammany Hall yesterday.

The governor's action was a quick answer to a demand yesterday by the Tammany legislative committee for a bill giving the inquiry board the right to grant general immunity to witnesses.

In a letter which Samuel Seabury, chief counsel for the committee, sent with the request, the governor was told that the beneficiaries of a "vicious and corrupt" system had thrown every obstruction possible in the way of the Hofstadter committee.

Mr. Seabury wrote that the legislation requested would help establish the identity of such "sinister forces" and aid in breaking down the system. Then he added:

"I deeply regret to say, but truth compels the statement, that a faction of our (the Democratic) party now in control in the government of the City of New York has expressed its opposition to such a statute as we request."

Mr. Seabury is known as an independent Democrat not connected with the Tammany Hall organization. For hours yesterday he directed the questioning of John F. Curry, Tammany Hall leader, who charged Seabury and the Hofstadter committee with "persecuting" the "dominant party of New York."

COUNTY CRUDE
ASPECT GOODOPERATORS HOLD BACK
TILL EAST TEXAS IS SHUT DOWN

Gray county crude oil production took a right-about-face last week and increased several thousand barrels, after steadily showing a decline for two months.

Last week the daily average of Gray county's 156 wells was 41,127 barrels. The big increase in Gray was responsible for a gain of 4,229 barrels in the Panhandle district which produced 92,205 barrels from 1,961 wells.

The increase in Gray county totaled 2,459 barrels daily. Local operators are "sitting steady in the seat, marking time," as one expressed it. The general belief is that little will be done to renew activity until the East Texas picture has been cleared. However, because pipe lines and refineries are taking all of the oil that is being produced, and because none of the wells are suffering for connections as in the past, conditions in the Panhandle district continue to look better. The daily allowable is slightly more than the daily production. Another encouraging aspect of the situation was Bell Oil & Gas company's ten-cent raise in the price of crude.

Production of the various counties compared with the previous week follows:

Carson—242 wells, producing 5,360 barrels, a gain of 514 barrels.

Gray—756 wells, producing 41,127 barrels, a gain of 2,459 barrels.

Tulchinson—699 wells, producing 11,274 barrels, an increase of 1,502 barrels.

Moore—2 wells, producing 1,127 barrels, a loss of 334 barrels.

Wheeler—43 wells, producing 1,127 barrels, a gain of 44 barrels.

Total—1,961 barrels, producing 59,205 barrels, an increase of 4,229 barrels.

State Soldiers
Awaiting Call
To East Texas

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 15. (AP)—Gov. Ross S. Sterling, arriving here late tonight from Houston, said no proclamation would be issued tonight declaring martial law for the East Texas oil field.

The governor was asked whether a proclamation would be issued tomorrow. "I will answer that question in the morning," he said. "No proclamation has been drawn or is being drawn tonight," Governor Sterling said.

The governor said he had nothing to say tonight other than what he had said in Houston.

He phoned his office and told Pat Dougherty and Mark Wiginton, his secretaries who had waited for several hours, to go home for the night. They in turn notified Mrs. Irma Graham, assistant in the secretary of state's office that her presence in her office was no longer needed. A martial law proclamation must be filed in the secretary of state's office.

HOUSTON, Texas, Aug. 15. (AP)—Gov. Ross S. Sterling said here at 5 p. m., today as he left for Austin he would declare martial law in East Texas, placing the oil field under military rule with Gen. Jacob Wolters in command.

The necessary proclamation and papers will be issued upon arrival in Austin, to put the order into immediate effect, Governor Sterling said.

By The Associated Press.
National guardsmen were ready last night to move into the East Texas oil field to enforce a martial law shutdown of the wells in that area.

Troops in various sections of the state were mobilized awaiting the martial law order by Governor Ross S. Sterling, who was en route to Austin by automobile to draft the formal proclamation. Just before leaving Houston yesterday afternoon the governor said he would declare martial law on his arrival at Austin.

The proclamation was expected to cover oil producing territory in four counties, Smith, Upshur, Gregg, and Rusk.

Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters of the 56th brigade will be in command of the troops. Adj. Gen. William Sterling will be in active command of the rangers.

Military headquarters of the forces had not been made public last night. Unofficial reports varied as to Kilgore, Odessa and Arp. All of these are close to the center of the oil field. A preliminary survey to select headquarters was made a few days ago.

Units of the 56th were assembled tonight in full pack in Dallas, Tyler, Mineral Wells, San Antonio, Austin, Fort Worth, Midland, Houston and Brenham. Railroads had been given orders at many points to provide transportation for men and mounts while trucks in some sections stood by ready to move the armed forces into the field at an instant's notice.

Troops mobilized numbered nearly 1,000. Largest mobilization was in Dallas where 350 men under the command of Major S. J. Houghton were assembled at central points. Two hundred men were ready at Houston while smaller detachments had been mobilized at other points.

Airplanes will be used to facilitate enforcement of the shutdown, Adjutant General Sterling indicated at Austin.

Declaration by Governor Sterling he would invoke martial law followed by 24 hours a request of hundreds of independent oil men in a meeting at Tyler that such an order be issued.

A committee of five men presented the resolution of the independents to Governor Sterling at Houston yesterday morning. The governor was told the field was becoming restless and "a reign of terror" threatened unless immediate action was taken.

At their meeting Friday oil men asserted that approximately 15,000 barrels of oil were being taken from the East Texas field during the next 20 days by major oil companies. Operators at the meeting estimated it would take about that time for the new conservation law to become effective.

TYLER, Aug. 15. (AP)—Members of troop F of the 112th cavalry of the National guard were mobilized here this afternoon in preparation to en-train for Kilgore in the East Texas oil field between midnight and dawn.

About 50 troopers with full pack were assembled at the cavalry headquarters. Officers refused to say whether Governor Sterling had declared martial law in the oil area.

Unofficially it was reported the cavalry members would join a detachment of troop B of Dallas which would leave from that city tonight.

Major C. E. Parker will be in charge of the section scheduled to leave for Kilgore. At Kilgore the troops will be divided.

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 15. (AP)—Sixty-two non-commissioned officers and enlisted members of the 70th machine gun company, 124th cavalry brigade, Texas National guard were mobilized this afternoon at Exposition grounds, presumably awaiting orders to en-train for service in the oil fields of East Texas.

The Katy railroad was under orders to provide transportation for the mounts and equipment of the local unit and cars were to be put on the siding at the fair grounds for further orders.

Telegraphic orders did not disclose the destination should the close the oil field. The orders only directed that the local unit be mobilized and held in readiness to move.

PALESTINE, Aug. 15. (AP)—Seven Texas rangers were here today awaiting orders to move into the East Texas oil field. They arrived here late last night.

DALLAS, Aug. 15. (AP)—Three hundred and fifty National guardsmen were at the armory here this afternoon, completely mobilized, awaiting orders to move into the East Texas oil field. Orders were expected momentarily from Gen. J. F. Wolters of the National guard.

AUSTIN, Aug. 15. (AP)—William W. Sterling, adjutant general, said late today he had notified railroad officials at Palacios to be prepared for a quick movement of Texas National guard cavalry horses from there to the East Texas oil fields.

WICHITA, Kans., Aug. 15. (AP)—The Derby Oil company of Wichita announced today that effective August 16, it would pay 60 cents per barrel for Kansas crude of 44 gravity and above.

Derby is the first of the Kansas purchasers to increase the price from a top of 42 cents, following the ultimatum recently of the Kansas Public Service commission that unless crude were raised to at least 60 cents, the commission would order a hearing looking to the nature and extent of a general shutdown order. The new schedule ranges downward to 40 cents for oil of 29 gravity and below.

By The Associated Press.
The southwest took on a military appearance today as National guardsmen of Texas were mobilized to join their comrades in Oklahoma, and Nebraska troops faced the possible service at the order of their commander-in-chief.

Gov. Ross S. Sterling of Texas last night announced he would declare martial law in the great East Texas oil field and use state troops to enforce it. See MARTIAL LAW, Page 8

HARVESTER SQUAD REPORTS FOR PRACTICE WEDNESDAY

SCHEDULE FOR PAMPA ELEVEN IS RELEASED

AMARILLO WILL COME TO PAMPA FOR BIG SEASON GAME

HARRY E. HOARE
News-Post Sports Writer.
 Coach Odus Mitchell of the Pampa Harvester has completed his schedule for this season. The coach returned from Lubbock last night, where he attended a coaching school. Boys desiring to try out for positions on the 1931 Harvester squad will be given uniforms at the high school gymnasium at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night. First practice of the season will be held at Harvester park the following afternoon, the coach announced last night.

It has not been definitely decided whether the team will go to Camp Mel-B. Davis this summer. Funds are not available to make the trip, the coach said. If the camp is held the number of boys making the trip will not exceed 30, according to the coach. Assistant Coach Warren Moore and Argus M. Fox are expected to arrive here today.

The coach is anything but optimistic about his 1931 team. "We are a long way from being champions," the coach said last night. "We will have to fill the shoes left vacant by Albert Lard, Don Sautsbury and Harley Kennedy and it is almost an impossible undertaking," the coach said.

"We have a great line and a couple of real backfield men, also some promising substitutes, but a person can never tell what will happen to a football team," Coach Mitchell continued.

"It is going to be a hard fight this season and every man will have to work hard, play hard and train hard," Captain Ray Chastain said last night when asked about the 1931 Harvester team. "We are not going to have an easy time this season as other teams are strong," said Co-Captain Ralph Poe.

Coach Mitchell declared the coaching school at Lubbock one of the most successful he had ever attended. He said the lessons and exhibitions by Wallace Wade of Duke university, formerly of the Alabama Crimson Tide, and Jimmie Phelan of Oregon State, were received by the 300 coaches from 24 states with wonder. Sam Burton of Canyon and Jimmie Kitts of the Athens Hornets were also exhibitors of basketball. The Athens coach had his famous team at the meeting.

While at the school, the Pampa coach matched three more games for the season. The Clarendon college team will open the season here Sept. 12, the coach reported. The Harvester will play at Clarendon Oct. 24 while on Oct. 9 the Pampa team will play a night game with the West Texas State Teachers' freshman team at Buffalo stadium. The first conference game will see Amarillo here Oct. 17.

No game has been scheduled for Thanksgiving day.

The scheduled season follows:
 Sept. 12—Clarendon college here
 Sept. 18—Oklahoma City here
 Sept. 25—Memphis here
 Oct. 3—Wichita, Kan. here
 Oct. 9—West Texas State Teachers college freshmen at Canyon (night game)
 Oct. 17—Amarillo here
 Oct. 24—Clarendon at Clarendon
 Oct. 31—Lubbock here
 Nov. 11—Slaton here
 No. 20—Plainview at Plainview
 x—Conference games.

Drawn Illegally
 AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 15 (AP)—The Austin American says the special grand jury which recently investigated witness fees abuses was drawn illegally, and for that reason its investigations were halted before its work was completed.

A legal requirement that grand jury commissioners to select a grand jury must be done at the precinct term of court was not complied with, the American says.

Schools Scheduled To Open September 7
 WHITE DEER, Aug. 15 (Special)—Schools in the White Deer independent district will open Monday, Sept. 7, according to J. W. Wells, secretary Teachers for White Deer and Skellytown have been selected, most of them re-elected from last year. W. H. Brady was named as janitor of the school here by the school board.

Escaped Convict Is Identified As Man In Shooting Affray
 PUEBLO, Colo., Aug. 15 (AP)—Four witnesses to the shooting of two Pueblo police officers in a gun battle in the downtown business district today identified the gunman as Forest Genece, who escaped from the Colorado state prison early this week. Chief of Police J. Arthur Grady announced late today.

Police said one of the witnesses had talked to the man a short distance from the scene. In the exchange of shots after a 12-bolt automobile chase, Detective Joe E. Zeller was wounded in the right arm and right leg and Thomas E. Matthews was shot through the mouth. Their wounds are not serious.

AMERICAN AVIATORS ARE GIVEN MAXIMUM PENALTY FOR PHOTOS

TOKYO, Aug. 16 (Sunday)
 Recovering from their first shock at being fined $2,500 for violation of Japanese flying laws, Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon Jr., whose sky journey around the world was interrupted ten days ago by their trouble here, began to view the situation philosophically today.

"It could have been worse—I suppose," commented Pangborn, former circus flyer from Wenatchee, Wash., as he recalled the maximum penalty for violation of the civil aviation regulations was $3,000 ($1,500 for each offender).

"And don't forget," chipped in Herndon, the former Princeton student who was refused a flying license at first because of color blindness, "that the workhouse is just around the corner if we don't raise 2,000 bones within a week."

The aviators were reassured, however, by press dispatches saying their backers in New York had cabled the necessary money.

The men agreed the heavy fine was just about the biggest jolt they ever had experienced in their flying careers. Both had prepared for some punishment after they had seen translations of the reports of their case in Japanese vernacular newspapers, and heard of the activities of Japanese patriotic organizations clamoring for punishment of the two Americans who were alleged to have taken aerial photos with a motion picture camera of fortifications on the island of Hokkaido.

"The whole thing is a nutshell is that we came to Japan under a misapprehension," explained Pangborn to newspaper men.

"We came to Japan thinking our emergency permit was in order. We are the victims of circumstances, and now we find ourselves in one dickens of a fix. The question agitating us now is, when do we fly or don't we fly—that is, do we get a permit to use the plane again in starting a trans-Pacific flight?"

It was considered likely no official action on the application to fly the plane would be taken until the fines were paid—2,000 yen each for violating the civil aviation laws, and 50 yen each for violation of the fortification zone act. A yen is about half an American dollar.

Japanese officials intimated today no permit for the Seattle flight would be granted.

DECIDE ON TIME
TO SOW TURNIPS
ON VACANT LOT

The turnip committee of the Lions club, through its turnip specialist, George W. Briggs, announced yesterday that almost a block of vacant land near the city water wells will be sowed to turnips when the time comes to sow turnips.

It was artfully explained that if a drought besieges the turnips and attempts to stunt their growth, water from the city's wells will be used. A difference of opinion on the manner of sowing turnip seed and when almost disrupted the committee yesterday morning. It was finally agreed to sow the seed on the first Thursday night before the dark of the moon.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fields have as their guests, Mrs. W. F. Odum and Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Odum of Dallas. The visitors arrived Friday evening.

CHURCHES

THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Corner Kingsmill and West Sts. The services of the day will begin with Bible school at 9:45 followed by morning worship at 11:00. In the evening the Training Service will meet at 7:00 and evening worship at 8:00.

Rev. Milton Leach of Fort Worth will preach both hours Sunday in the absence of the pastor. The sermon for the morning service will be based on the text "How can we escape if we neglect so great a salvation?" and in the evening on this scripture "Christ sent me not to baptize but to preach the Gospel." Bro. Leach is an able speaker and has a grip on the Bible that is rare.

Special music will be rendered at each service by the choir, with Miss Loma Groom directing and Mrs. T. E. Rose at the piano. To everyone not in Bible school elsewhere and to everyone without a church home a welcome is extended.

EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN

Gray County Court House There will be services Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in the county court room under the direction of the Rev. H. Frerking of Amarillo.

The subject of the sermon will be "The Image of God in Man." We heartily invite the public to attend our services. Especially do we appeal to such as have no church affiliation and to all former Lutherans of the community.

The attendance at our first service on Aug. 2 was very good and we hope that it will be even better in the future. We preach a changeless Christ for a changing world.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

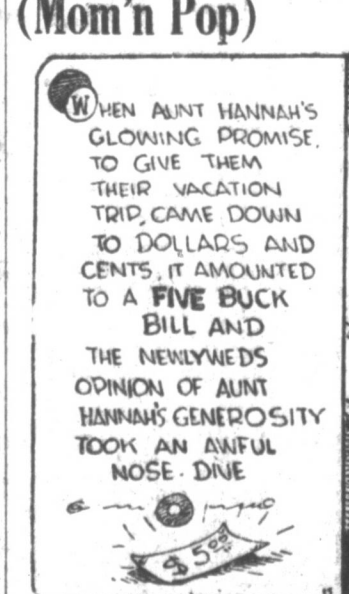

"Choose ye this day whom ye will serve." A life worth while is far more a matter of proper choice than it is a game of chance.

STEPS TO PROSPERITY

Most anyone who has kept up with the news of the day can sift from it the moves made to bring about the return of the much sought prosperity—the fleeting figure that seems always to be a jump or so ahead.

The big "noise" about the depression started after thousands of men had been laid off in factories, oil fields, shops, and numerous other places, including chorus girls and speakeasy waiters. The market came down with a crash that sent speculators tumbling from skyscraper windows by the dozens. The price of oil, wheat, cotton, beans, and manufactured goods fell accordingly. The whole financial structure seemed built on sand with a gigantic wave undercutting it.

Most of this has passed, piles have been driven through the sand to rest on bedrock. Business has taken on a firmer stand and is improving as rapidly as can be expected. Business travels in cycles and would have eventually improved but the restless world didn't want to wait.

Conference after conference has been held by business and political leaders to get to the bottom of this depression, and from them a few things have emerged to be adopted.

One of the most publicized steps was the granting of a moratorium to Germany on the reparations payments. This move affected the business of the whole world. In addition to the moratorium, Germany has received financial assistance to steady her tottering banking structure. That country has passed the crisis apparently.

Soon after the debt suspension had been agreed upon, the surplus wheat bugaboo appeared to worry the farmers, politicians and business men. The furor has died down but only because of the passing of the harvest season. The wheat market made new history. It pierced the old bottom level with ease. Wheat is still low but the public has dropped that subject in favor of oil.

From all indications, the oil problem, at least in the midcontinent area, is near stability. Governor Murray took charge of the oil business in Oklahoma. The Texas Legislature has improved regulation in this state, and Kansas had been watching oil activities in that commonwealth very closely.

Now cotton is edging in on the public's interest. There appears a huge surplus of cotton and a bumper crop in prospect. Governors of the southern states are racking their brains in an effort to work a way out of the miserable state. All sorts of suggestions have been made but none of them have been accepted by the majority. The cotton problem will probably be still with us till mid-winter and then forgotten for a while.

Thousands of men have been put back to work in the last few months and these have created additional demand for goods. The recovery of business varies in different localities but there is a general advance throughout the world, with, however, still an acute unemployment problem in prospect this winter. But confidence is returning and smiles have appeared on many faces that have traces of the orgy just passed. Working men have been getting their overalls dirty again. The store clerk is troubled with burning feet after sitting down for a long time. New oil well locations are being made. Railroads are being stretched across heretofore undisturbed prairies. Business is getting better!

Ex-Beer Baron August A. Busch quotes Hoover as saying in 1918 that there were jobs in beer. Looks like prohibition never got the idea of beer out of the Busches.

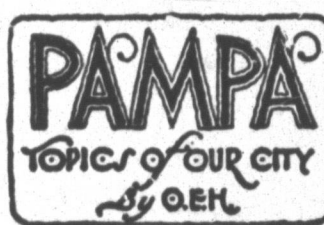

If even your best friend won't tell you, you might as well eat those onions and have the game as well as the name.

A Texas school teacher preferred one of her pupils to her principal and lost her job. The pupil was 19 and athletic. Yes, education is the hope of the world.

Al Smith is still being mentioned for the highest office in the country. He'll be a lot more comfortable in that highest building these days.

At least if those movie censors insist on cutting out scenes they think too hot for the public, they ought not to seek sympathy when they develop high blood pressure.

LET'S PUT HIM IN THE BAG!

Many things come to those who work while they wait. Before another Sunday, construction of the Pampa-Childress line of the Fort Worth & Denver Northern will be under way. This has long been a subject close to the heart of all enthusiastic Pampans. It is a sweet reward for a long and difficult battle.

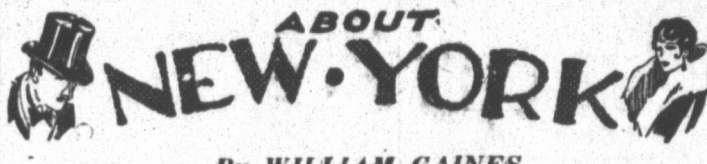

Work Never Finished
But city building is never finished. Continued growth and stability depend upon unflagging zeal on the part of those whose leadership determines the direction in which civic development is pointed. The right-of-way for the railroad must be bought and paid for. And when the railroad is completed, Pampa must go right on down the line seeking industries and wholesale houses which the new connection "with Texas" will make logical.

The Lubbock Avalanche remarks that crime news was never scarcer on first pages of newspapers than during the last year. Those who have in the past complained that business did not get a fair deal do not have that to growl about now. The newspapers have "top bannered" business news until it may be that the general public is tired of it. It takes a good murder to crowd aside such subjects as proration, oil tariff, cotton plans, and unemployment. Perhaps the men who judge the news have reached a saner viewpoint—but the public would like to be able to forget business troubles and to revel once more in the frothy news of the day.

Real Gentleman
The Pampans grieve for a friend, Dr. George H. Wallace, local physician who died Friday morning after a brief illness. Dr. Wallace was a fellow Lion and one of the most loved members of the organization. His gentlemanly qualities, his professional skill, and his sunny temperament were combined with a rugged dependability which made his services valued. He was a man who shed honor upon his club, his family, and his city.

The loss incurred through sale of millions of barrels of East Texas oil at as little as 15 cents per barrel has not been incurred by the major oil companies and some of the independent refiners. The loss is to the land, lease, and royalty owners, the state of Texas, and the southwest in general. Ordinarily, except when competition gets too keen, one does not find manufacturers complaining because of the low price of the raw product. Crude oil buyers are taking all the East Texas oil they can handle at a low figure and will continue to do so until the new law becomes effective. IN SPITE OF CLAIMED OVER-PRODUCTION. And it is logical to believe that when this cheap oil in large quantities is no longer available, the price will be hiked and cheap reserves will be drawn upon by the big refiners while the small ones pay the current price at a disadvantage.

Here's The Law
Many persons are unfamiliar with the new law on proration. Here it is in brief:
Empowers the state railroad commission to reduce or otherwise adjust oil production in areas where waste occurs and prorate the adjusted production among wells in the offending area.
Makes the commission's anti-waste orders prima facie valid until otherwise proved.
Sets up fines of $1,000 for each day of violation of a commission order.
Requires complainants of the See COLUMN, Page 7

NEW YORK—One of the hotel chains with a radio in every room is said to be considering a plan for intra-house hook-ups so that morning talks on "where to go and what to see today" may be offered guests while they dress.

Each hotel would employ a speaking guide. His voice, through a 'phone arrangement, would be "cut in" on the room radios.

In a French restaurant in the west Forties, the menu is headed by the names of the waiters and waitresses who are known in this personal fashion to the clientele.

They are listed as "La Brigade" and their names are Elsie, Mariette, Marianne, Madelon, Margia, Laura, Arthur and Georges.

Certain patrons always have Marianne wait on them, and others would not eat a meal there unless served by Madelon.

If it happens that all of Georges' steady customers come on a certain evening when otherwise it is quiet, Georges tears around trying to take care of all of them, even if it is almost more than he can manage, while Mariette, Elsie and the rest of "La Brigade" loaf and yarn.

Briefs And Grievs

August Heckscher wants New York to get a little sleep, even if desperate measures must be resorted to. He wants to silence all the sirens on fire engines making nocturnal runs. He suggests strong searchlights to play upon traffic as a warning, in place of the sirens. Wouldn't such headlights find their way through windows, right into your eye?

Ona Munson detests telephones. The wrong people are always getting her right number.

H. Bennett Abdy, the Sheffield, England, boy who came over here when 11 to grow up and be an author, looks like a continental boulevardier with that hirsute adornment—and has the impressive manner to go with the goatee.

When he leaves his California ranch to come to New York he makes his headquarters here at the Y. M. C. A.

Murray Roth, boss man at the Brooklyn studio where they make talkie shorts, is back on the job after a week of anguish. He fell for the tan skin fad and sunburn poisoning developed.

Beach Combings

A beach club with a membership "drive" on is a personality circus on a Sunday. A cameraman on the beach is as busy as a humming bird in a hot house.

During the time it took a cameraman to focus on Mrs. Barclay Warburton, Jr., and her two dogs, we saw strolling by, Otto Kahn, Joseph Urban, the scene painter; the L. G. Kaufmans (he is president of one of the larger banks), Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Chrysler; the Duke and Luchess Armand de Richelieu and Irene Delroy.

WASHINGTON—There may be more than first appears in the threat of blind Senator Schall of Minnesota to demand a congressional investigation of the manner in which the department of justice handled the case of Al Capone.

Schall hints of an "arrangement for leniency" in the sentence of the Chicago gangster. "Almost unbelievable" if true, he says.

The senator and Attorney General Mitchell are from the same state. Last January they became involved in a bitter feud over the appointment of a federal judge in Minnesota.

Mitchell refused to endorse Schall's man for the post. It irked the blind senator, especially the attorney general's statement that he didn't believe the people of Minnesota wanted "men appointed to pay political debts".

Schall hit back with the remark that Mitchell showed "less than good taste" in some of his assertions.

Oil Drilling Is Hazardous

EASY TO MISS EXPECTED PAY

MANY LEGAL DETAILS IN BIG CRUDE INDUSTRY

After the geologist determines areas worthy of exploration for oil the question of securing the legal right to drill arises. In the United States there are two general classes of land ownership—public and private.

Under the classification of private lands falls most of the developed and prospective oil territory. Here the owner of the land has title to the surface and to all petroleum underlying it which he reduces to possession. Usually the right to drill is secured by leasing only the oil and gas deposits under a given property, although sometimes the surface and sub-surface rights to a property are purchased.

Bonuses Run Into Big Money
The lessee (the oil producer) frequently pays a specified sum per acre, known as the bonus. This amount is not always large in unproved territory, but often it amounts to hundreds and even thousands of dollars an acre or plot in the vicinity of new discoveries if competition is keen. In return for this bonus he is given for a stipulated length of time the exclusive privilege of drilling for oil and gas on the property and, if oil and gas are found in paying quantities, the privilege of producing the same until such time as the wells are no longer subject to profitable operation.

If the lessee does not wish to drill immediately, he customarily postpones operations by payment to the lessor of an annual per acre rental in lieu of drilling. In some cases, however, immediate and continuous drilling is part of the contract.

An Oil Royalty Is Paid
If production is developed on the property, the lessor is customarily entitled, under the terms of the lease, to a stipulated per cent of the production or its equivalent in cash, based on the stipulated price of the oil at the well. This is known as a royalty. The amount is usually 12.5 per cent (one-eighth), although under some competitive conditions, and particularly in "town-lot" areas, larger royalties have been the rule.

Leases usually run for periods of three, five or ten years—unless production is secured; after which or longer tenures frequently obtain. When production is secured, rental payment ceases and royalty payment begins.

Drilling For Oil
The term "wildcat" (drilling as used in the oil industry means test operations in areas where the discovery of oil will probably mean the opening of a new field.

Before a well can be drilled on a lease, roads must be built, water lines laid, equipment hauled to the location, and the derrick or rig erected.

Modern machine drilling methods commonly fall under two heads; the percussion, or "cable system," and the "rotary" system.

Difficulties Encountered by the Drill
Drilling into the earth is attended by many difficulties. The driller may encounter large amounts of water or cavi formations; he may lose his rope and tools due to breakage, or meet with other obstacles which result in costly delays, and which sometimes threaten ruin to the well.

If a driller should lose his heavy string of tools at the bottom of a hole thousands of feet deep, to recover it he may resort to his "fishing tools," the unique and ingenious instruments devised to take care of such an emergency, but a "fishing job" is a very expensive operation.

What It Costs to Drill
In recent years drilling to greater depths has been the chief factor in increasing the average cost of producing oil. Forty years ago virtually all wells were shallow, few going to depths exceeding two thousand feet, and most of them not exceeding one thousand. The cost per well usually was less than $10,000. Today, in the principal oil producing areas, wells are being drilled to depths of four, five, six, seven thousand feet or more.

The estimated average cost of drilling a well in the United States is $22,000. More than twenty thousand wells are drilled every year; thus the annual bill for drilling for oil reaches the staggering total of nearly half a billion dollars.

Deep wildcat wells have cost in the neighborhood of $100,000 each; and in some remote sections a well may cost over $250,000.

2 Boys Arrested For Money Theft

Two children, about 8 and 10 years old, were arrested Friday afternoon by Traffic Officer Joe Persky, in connection with the theft of a small sum of money from the Kelley apartments. The money was taken from a purse in one of the apartments.

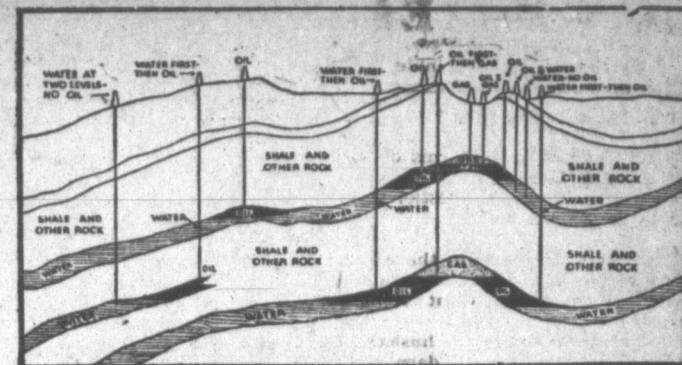

The boys were questioned by Chief of Police J. I. Downs who later sent them to their home. The chief said last night that he did not make up his mind what to do with the children.

How oil is found and missed in typical fields

MOON of DELIGHT

by Margaret Bell Houston

SYNOPSIS The marquesa tells Nelly Belaise that her guest, Senorita Flores, is engaged to a nobleman. But this false story fails to prevent the senorita's falling in love with Nelly's grandson, Kirk, to whom she feels bound to confess her identity as Juanita Basara, cigarette girl in Divitt's gambling house. At Adrian Fouche's party she hears of Divitt's mystery girl, the veiled "Moon of Delight," so called by Eric Ledbetter, in his false boast, Eric, whose insulting remarks in Divitt's courtship Juanita recalls, is not present, but she is hurt when Kirk seems to believe the gossip about the Moon. Hearing of Juanita's engagement, Kirk tells her he'll not give her up. That night the marquesa, drunk despite a pledge given Divitt, tells her that Divitt doesn't want her to marry.

Chapter 28
THE MOON'S INFLUENCE?
Bobby Cranshaw's dinner was a glittering success, perhaps the most lavish thing in the way of favors and exclusive in the way of guests that Mrs. Cranshaw, addicted to lavishness and exclusiveness, had attempted that year.

She had intended that the party should repair to the ball room upstairs for an after-dinner dance, but Bobby had become involved in premises with La Petite Theatre du Vieux Carre. Perhaps it was just as well.

The Easter season was so crowded with dances that the musicians never did themselves justice, and she herself was due at another affair before the evening was over.

Mrs. Cranshaw looked in on Bobby's dinner as she went out, a sumptuous figure in white velvet and ermine cloak. Mr. Cranshaw just behind her. They came in ("Don't rise, my dear!"), speaking to the marquesa particularly, and to Juanita; making little general greetings.

"Pretty girl, the Senorita Flores," said Mrs. Cranshaw as they rode away. Mr. Cranshaw nodded. "But the marquesa," he added, "is a frump," said the lady.

The papers had heralded the Cranshaw dinner, and Molly had apparently read them, for a new dress awaited Juanita's return. There was no new dress for the marquesa, however, and no time for her to select one.

Kirk had delayed bringing them into town until almost the last minute. Juanita had not wavered in her refusal to marry him on Thursday, and he felt more content with her in Blot. The Tijen was in New Orleans, he reminded himself, and the marquesa had announced her intention of returning to it with Juanita.

"No," said Nelly. "You are to go to our house when you return. Pompey and Sadie (Sadie was Pompey's wife) have everything ready for you." The marquesa had expected to go there for the night, but later—

"Later," said Nelly, "you are to come back here. How do you expect me to stay without you?" "You'll be going back yourself, old dear," Kirk said. "You're nearly well."

Dirigible Invited To This Section

AMARILLO, Aug. 15. (P)—The navy's new dirigible, the U. S. S. Akron, may visit Texas on its maiden flight.

Mayor Ernest O. Thompson has wired Rear Admiral W. A. Moffett urging that Amarillo be placed on the itinerary for the big liner's initial journey.

"Since helium to inflate the big ship was furnished by Amarillo, our people are greatly interested in the Akron," said the mayor in invitation.

Mrs. and Mrs. Ernest Mesket of Dimmitt are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Browning.

FEMININE FANCIES

By Holly Sellers Hinkle

What is a modern man?

"One of those little worms dominated by the female sex," said a man of this city when the question was put to him.

And here are some of the answers given at a recent party and listed in the Independent Woman:

"A modern man is a husband who is not ashamed to darn his own socks."

"A modern man is one who can stand to see his wife succeed without himself getting an inferiority complex."

"A modern man is one who allows his wife to have as many love affairs as he himself indulges in."

Then from a lawyer: "A modern man is one who respects women as individuals in their own right, not creatures to be possessed in any sense of the word."

"In that case," the hostess sighed, "modern man is a myth, and like Plato's Republic, exists only in the skies."

The writer of the article added, "If the lady was right and there are no modern men to be found in America—then surely the genus does not exist, for it is a common-ly accepted truth that American men are more open-minded about women than the men of any other civilized country."

"Yes, when we read about men in other countries, we can appreciate American men. Only last week in Warsaw a delegation of wives protested to the prime minister against dismissal of married women employed by the government."

"The delegation," said an A. P. report, "had the sympathy of unmarried women employees, who regard their chances of matrimony as lessened by the government's course. The prime minister said it was necessary to safeguard the jobs of men who were dependent."

Whereupon the wives urged the dismissal of men employees who married women with dowries."

The same practice, to a smaller extent, is exercised in some of the public schools of the United States teachers the first year after their marriage. It is claimed by some that the barring of married women is to allow men with dependents to have jobs. But are the men who marry rich girls or who inherit sums of money asked to quit their employment? If they were, there would be as much discontent for them as there is for the girls who like their work and must give it up.

If the practice of barring married women permanently should be begun, women would drop backward while the men would continue to go forward. While a man would never think of going back to the plow, many a woman would go back spinning and coffee grinding—provided, of course, the male of the species did not invent everything needed both for women and men.

No woman is going to receive an education without a motive, and that motive may be lacking if she knows her career will be cut short upon marriage.

We are glad, however, that the modern American man, although he may have enough ego to consider himself superior to the "fairer sex," looks upon women as individuals and gives them credit for abilities as individuals.

"DEBS" DON'T MIND A TAN

Miss Jean Woodson is among the debutantes of Washington's winter season who refuse to let coming out plans interfere with summer's enjoyment. She's more interested now in hiking and swimming than in selecting gowns for the approaching social festivities.

SWIMMING AND HIKING HOLD INTEREST OF GIRLS TO HAVE "COMING OUT" AFFAIRS SOON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15. (AP)—Tan has no terrors for the capital girls looking forward to a debut next fall.

Th 1932 debutante places health and fun above mere white shoulders.

What she loses in the whiteness of her skin, she gains in poise, strength and grace with which to face her first Washington social season.

Rather than forego the outdoor joys of summer debs of the coming crop are letting tan and sunburn tint canola skins a deep maroon or brown.

The ballroom of a leading hotel has been engaged ever since last Christmas for the coming-out tea dance of Miss Jean Woodson next Christmas day.

But Miss Woodson is just now so engrossed in hiking, swimming and horseback riding in the Rocky mountains that she has not even selected the color of gown she will wear for the big event.

She is far more interested just now in—

A tricky riding outfit of brown linen and brown felt hat to which she adds variety with pastel tinted ties and handkerchiefs.

A pajama suit of white shantung silk with green polka dots—fine for picnics or swimming parties.

A quantity of simple one piece cotton dresses.

An evening dance frock of red chiffon the low cut back covered with ribbons of silver beads made over flesh colored chiffon.

The girl who will have Mrs. Arthur Hyde, wife of the secretary of agriculture, and Mrs. Richard Yates, wife of the former governor of Illinois, helping to receive at her debut party is now sleeping under stars and teaching a group of girls how to swim and ride.

She rode horseback from Colorado Springs to Cheyenne to attend the rodeo.

Miss Woodson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Woodson. She was born in the capital and educated at the Holton Arms school, where she specialized in international law.

Current Automobile Values Greatest Ever Offered By Local Firms

FULL STOCKS ARE DISPLAYED IN PAMPA NOW

INNOVATIONS AND WIDE TYPE RANGE
TO BE SEEN

Values asserted to be the best ever offered in motor cars are being stressed by Pampa automobile dealers in their early fall campaign.

Such claims are amply borne out by inspection of the many fine models on display here. Manufacturers, despite lower production in recent months, have kept their engineering departments a full personnel. As a result, the new cars are marvels of mechanical skill and artistic beauty.

All of the old refinements worthy of perpetuation have been retained, while new principles and a long list of optional equipment enable the purchaser to achieve individuality in his selection. Body types were never more varied, and commercial and industrial users will find the dealers able to provide special vehicles for any need.

Used car lots show no inflation of values, and provide extraordinary bargains for those interested in "buying mileage." And after purchasing a car or truck, the owner may be assured of the cheapest rubber of all time and reasonable mechanical upkeep costs.

MOTORING NOTES
A one-year survey of traffic on the main highways in the vicinity of Washington, D. C., is to be started early next month by the Bureau of Public Roads in collaboration with other interested bodies. It is announced. The purpose of the survey is to secure data for a comprehensive development of a system of motor arteries adequate for future traffic needs.

Sitting Posture, Important
Motorists planning summer vacation tours have been warned by Dr. Dudley B. Reed, Professor of Hygiene and director of health service at the University of Chicago, that their trips will do them more physical and mental harm than good unless they sit correctly while driving. Drivers who slump or slide about in their seats invite accidents to themselves and others by not being in immediate control of their cars, according to Dr. Reed. He also said

WHEAT RALLIES LITTLE

CHICAGO, Aug. 15. (AP)—Russian reports indicating possible abolition of the Soviet government's food rationing system, stirred up a lively advance in Chicago grain prices today. The reports, however, were not confirmed and the upturn failed to hold well. Selling credited to United States government sponsored agencies led to late setbacks.

Wheat closed unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 1-2 cent higher, corn 7-8 off to 5-8 up, oats 1-8 to 5-8 lower, and provisions showing 20 to 30 cents gain.

Moscow advices indicating chief officials of the Russian government had proposed to abandon completely the huge state monopoly of food distribution now enforced in Russia were taken by many grain traders here as meaning that the diet of Soviet consumers was likely to be that improper posture in an automobile seat keeps the spine from acting properly as the body's shock absorber, contributes to fatigue and mental strain and prevents proper breathing.

"Automobiles and Animals"
Consideration for animals on the road is the burden of a little essay recently written by Commissioner Robbins B. Stockel of the Motor Vehicle Department of Connecticut. The American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals found it "so timely and informative" that it has had it reprinted in folder form, copies of which it will mail to those requesting it from its headquarters, 50 Madison Avenue.

Radio Optional
The Studebaker Corporation announces that Philco transistor radio is optional equipment on their models. The radio set is attached under the dashboard.

U. S. Cars Win
Six American automobiles out of a total of 348 domestic and foreign cars won first prizes at the Concours d'Elegance held in Paris recently. It is reported. Cord front-drive cars won three prizes, an Auburn one, a Cadillac one and a Buick one. First prize for beauty of line was won by a Reo-Royale at the Concours d'Elegance in Vienna.

New Plymouth Popular
The Chrysler Corporation announces that the new Plymouth led all other makes of cars in registrations in Wayne county, Mich., during the month of July. This is the county in which Detroit is situated.

enlarged to a radical extent. An immediate effect looked for would be sharp restriction of Russian grain exports.

Acting as a decided drag at times on wheat and other cereals was weakness of September corn, which suffered from liquidating sales and grain outside the season's low price record. Oats were governed chiefly by the action of other grains.

Provisions advanced on account of scarcity of offerings. Wheat: Sept. 49 3-8; 49 1-2; 50 3-4; 50 7-8; Dec. 53 1-8; 54 3-8; May 57 518, 58 3-4. Corn: Sept. 44 7-8; 57 3-8; Dec. 39 3-8; 39 1-2; 40 5-8; May 44 45.

CATTLE PRICES HIGHER
KANSAS CITY, Aug. 15. (AP)—Livestock trade this week was featured by an active demand for grain fed steers and yearlings with prices advancing to new high levels for the season at 50-75 higher than a week ago. Better western grass steers and grass fat she stock were firm to 50 higher but low grade steers were little changed. Choice yearling steers in Chicago reached the 10.00 mark while all of the midwestern markets reported numerous sales of both matured steers and yearlings that were well above the 9.00 mark. Common to medium western grass steers bulk at $5.77 with short fed kinds upward to 6.00. Receipts were estimated at 193,400.

Hog prices at most markets are steady to 25 lower than a week ago. Chicago had a late top of 7.65. Offerings were around 326,200.

The sheep supply approximated 370,000. Fat lambs closed very active at 1.60 higher than a week ago. Off-quality lambs and slaughter cubs however, ruled steady to weak. Feeding lambs were strong to 25 higher.

COTTON BETTER
NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 15. (AP)—Considerable activity featured today's short session in the cotton market.

Prices, while a little irregular early owing to week-end liquidation, soon developed a good upward trend due to favorable cables, a firm stock market and too much rain in the eastern belt. Rather larger July domestic consumption than looked for also helped the upward trend. The census bureau made the July consumption 450,518 bales as against about 425,000 bales expected. After opening 6 to 7 points up the market eased off slightly but soon rallied and made highs 21 to 23 points above the previous close. Some realizing at the end caused a recession of 6 to 7 points but the market closed steady with prices showing net gains for the day of 14 to 17 points.

Liverpool cables came in 3 to 4 penny points better than due and private cables said there was an absence of selling pressure. Manchester cables there was a better cloth inquiry from the home trade and from South America.

Port receipts: 5,759, for season 42-868, last season 194,286; exports 10-175, for season 63,706, last season 83-958; port stock 2,738,472; last year 1,657,441; combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 31,823, last year 35,534; spot sales at southern markets 4,998; last year 24,935.

but maybe we can wait until Monday morning at 5 a. m. We will leave here and go to Clayton, N. M., to eat dinner and eat supper in Clayton. We will camp at the latter place the first night, and then move to the official camp the next day.

Every boy going must bring his bedding and luggage to Mr. Sackett's house to be loaded into the trucks. He also must take a few sandwiches for dinner in Clayton, where the whole council will stop. Many stops will be made to let us look at the scenery, and we hope to see many sights.

TAX LAWS TO BE EFFECTIVE NEXT FRIDAY

CIGARET TAX TO BEGIN AS WILL MANY NEW PERMIT LEVIES

More than 200 acts of the Texas legislature at its last regular session will become laws next Friday night. Of particular interest to Pampans will be the taxation and permit laws. Many business houses will have to take out permits to operate.

One of the most important taxes will be regarding cigarettes, the tax on which will be $1.50 a thousand. The $5 permit necessary to sell cigarettes in the past has been repealed.

Other permits will see the state getting twice as much revenue as the county. Where the state tax is $10, the county tax will be $5. All permits will be made through the tax collector in the court house. He expects to receive the necessary forms early this week.

Permits necessary in Pampa follow:

A peddler on foot must pay $3.50; by animal drawn vehicle, $6; by motor drawn vehicle $10. The county tax will be half the amount.

An auctioneer must pay $50 for a permit to operate with the county permit half that amount.

Theaters must pay $30 state tax and half that amount county tax.

To operate coin games of chance the permit will be $1.50 for state permit and half that amount for county.

Carnivals must pay $100 to the state and $50 to the county. Wrestling match promoters will be assessed $10 a performance by the state and $5 by the county.

To sell pistols a permit costing $10 a year must be purchased.

GIRL THOUGHT LOST RETURNS TO FOLKS

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 15. (AP)—Explaining she had been with friends, Miss Pauline Phillips, 24, Oklahoma City, reported missing at Agua Caliente, Mexico, yesterday and for whom a search on both sides of the international boundary line had been made, returned by airplane today to the home of relatives, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Hood in Santa Ana. Word Miss Phillips had returned was contained in a telephone conversation by Mrs. Hood to San Diego police.

Mrs. Hood explained to police here that Miss Phillips had stayed with other friends last night.

"We had had a misunderstanding while at Agua Caliente as to where we were to have met," Mrs. Hood said. "When Miss Phillips discovered we had missed one another she boarded an airplane for home."

Man Found Shot To Death Near Austin

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 15. (AP)—The body of a white man, identified as Tom L. Gray of Phoenix, Ariz., was found in a field south of Johnson City today.

He had been shot twice. Officers worked on the theory he was slain and was thrown from an automobile into the field.

His car was found wrecked at Oak Hill, eight miles from Austin.

Travis and Blanco county officers cooperated in searching for Gray's assailants. They had no clues other than a report of a disturbance at a tourist's camp at Johnson City last night during which pistol shots were heard.

Learn what a difference six cylinders make in smoothness

quietness
flexibility handling ease riding comfort dependability economy
long life

Step out of any other low-priced car, step into a Chevrolet, and you'll learn what a difference six cylinders make.

"Idle" the engine—and the whole car remains steady. Open the throttle—the power flows evenly. Accelerate—throttle down—go fifteen or fifty—and this smoothness stays with you whatever you do. For six-cylinder smoothness is built into the motor—and objectionable vibration never even starts!

Yet smoothness is only part of your six-cylinder experience. There's greater quietness, because noisy vibration is gone. There's greater comfort, because built-in smoothness doesn't tire the driver or passengers. There's greater flexibility, because the power impulses of a six overlap. And response is more positive, performance more elastic. A six is much easier to handle!

And particularly, if you raise the hood of a Chevrolet and watch the engine running smoothly and steadily, you'll realize that six cylinders also mean greater dependability.

You owe it to yourself—to see and drive a Chevrolet today. And remember when you do—that no other car is so economical to operate as the powerful Chevrolet Six!

Twenty beautiful models, at prices ranging from $475 to $675
All prices f.o.b. Flint, Michigan, special equipment extra. Low delivered prices and easy G. M. A. C. terms.

BILL MURRAY TALKS BEFORE LARGE GROUP

FINANCIAL HISTORY IS REVIEWED BY CHIEF OF OKLAHOMA

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 15. (AP)—Thousands by the thousands thronged the state fairgrounds here tonight to hear Gov. William H. Murray of Oklahoma, "The Sage of Tishomingo," set forth his creed for saving "the common people" from governmental ills.

"The farmer must be able to turn at the end of the furrow with a profit," was the underlying theme of his discourse. "Civilization begins and ends with the plow. When the plow is junked at the end of the furrow, that will end commerce and the nation."

Crumbs of economic advice were sprinkled liberally to the audience by the man-of-action governor who only last week sent troops to shut down oil wells in his state "until the price of oil is raised to $1 a barrel."

Even as he was speaking tonight, Gov. Ross S. Sterling was hurrying to Austin to take similar action in the East Texas oil fields by martial law proclamation, but Governor Murray avoided any mention of the Texas situation.

His address tonight dealt largely with a careful analysis of national financial history and his plea "not for a new creed but for a return to constitutional government in the United States."

"What I am crying for," he explained, "is that the surplus wealth in the country shall pay for its surplus protection and not throw it on the woodhead."

He explained that he opened the Red river bridges with troops and closed Oklahoma oil wells by martial law in defiance of federal court injunctions "and was prepared to go to jail for contempt or fight them to the supreme court of the United States."

"What has brought about the evils that confront us?" he demanded. "We cannot deal with great combinations of wealth by ordinary processes. We've got to deal with them as you would deal with ordinary criminals."

"We have today more millionaires than the world has ever had at any time in its history, and likewise more paupers. The same banking laws made them both."

He advocated a reorganization of the credit system, to grant the farmer producer more liberal and longer-term credits. "Commerce begins with the farm."

He declared he hoped that when the people of the United States went into their next national political conventions—"particularly the Democratic convention"—they would "stop voting by geography." "I hope there will be no New Yorker nominated," he shouted. "A Wall Street can no more grasp the plight of the farmer than the devil can grasp the conception of the savior of men. My greatest fear is that the people will not see in time."

Here's Why Eddie Was so Shy!

New Orleans girls now know why Eddie Flynn, world champion amateur welterweight boxer and a student at Loyola university, has seemed so shy. Recently, an amateur champion disclosed that two years ago, while a senior in the Jesuit High School at Tampa, Fla., he married Miss Olive Triche, senior in another Tampa high school. Eleven months ago their daughter was born. Meantime, Eddie had gone to New Orleans to study dentistry. Lonesome, Eddie went to Father John W. Hynes, president of Loyola, and told him about the marriage. Now the Flynns are reunited in New Orleans.

MARTIAL LAW

force an order against wasteful production.

Oklahoma guardsmen, acting under the orders of Gov. W. H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray, are successfully enforcing a complete shutdown of all flush wells in the state. Governor Murray declared martial law in an effort to improve the ailing midcontinent oil industry, suffering from overproduction.

Gov. Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska last night announced he would call out the guard there if such was necessary to enforce irrigation laws.

In a proclamation, the Nebraska executive said he had learned "that some irrigation districts may attempt to interfere with the state bureau of irrigation in the enforcement of the irrigation laws as to priority of water rights."

Irrigation ditches of the state were reported dry and crops facing destruction.

TRUMPET CREEPERS HELP TO BEAUTIFY SLOAN HOME HERE

By Archer Fullington

Of all the blossoms surrounding the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Sloan at 711 East Browning, none is now more beautiful than a trellis of trumpet creepers. The vine on which the blooms are growing profusely is 25 years old and was planted by Mrs. Sloan when the family first moved to the site. The blossoms are about five inches long and are shaped like a trumpet. Their color is midway between saffron-red and burnt orange.

The trumpet creeper at the Sloan home covers a trellis 10 feet high and six feet wide. It blooms during July and August. Mrs. Sloan has many flowers in bloom now—zinnias of many varieties, golden glow, touch-me-not, hyacinth, marigolds, canterbury bells, geraniums, perennial sweet peas, a splendid Tiger Lily bachelor buttons, four o'clocks, dahlias.

A bed of red button zinnias, and pure white zinnias, are unusual and pleasant variations. Mrs. Sloan has a veritable hedge of dahlias at the rear of the house. These have a few small blossoms on them now but will be splendid with color in September. A large bed of pansies have been in bloom for two months and look good for another month. A few roses were blossoming.

A bed of young zinnias will provide plenty of color in September and October. Mrs. Sloan's geraniums are growing in a pattern at the front, and they have clusters of blossoms that are as big as the perennial pinks nearby.

Mrs. Sloan said she is more proud of her walnut trees than anything on the place. These number a dozen. They are 20 years old and have attained considerable height and trunk. They bear nuts every year. These trees are growing in a row on the west boundary of the lot.

Later on, Mrs. Sloan will have asters, chrysanthemums, and bleeding heart. The frost killed most of her best gladiol but several fruitful ones survived the freeze late last spring. Last year, Mrs. Sloan's California poppies were the admiration and talk of that end of the town.

But back to dahlias. The flower terrace around the city hall produced a reddish-brown dahlia this week that has not yet been surpassed this season. In this connection, the courthouse and city hall grounds have become beauty spots of the town. The lawn, catalpas and cannas at the courthouse form a beautiful picture, and at the city hall the dahlias, zinnias, petunias, grass, trees, and especially the arrangement of all these bring delight to the lover of flowers.

A home that is resplendent throughout the summer with flowers is that of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Alexander, also on East Browning. Meses of zinnias, petunias, four o'clocks are now in bloom in Mrs. Alexander's yard. Her elm trees and grass lawn are kept in excellent condition all the time.

Mrs. C. L. McKinney and children left Seattle for Tulsa to join Mr. McKinney, who has been there for the last two months.

MANY REGISTER FOR LABOR

Mrs. W. H. Davis, manager of the Pampa Welfare board, believes everyone in Pampa and Gray county reads the Pampa MORNING POST. Her reason for that belief is the rush of unemployed men who registered yesterday for work on the new Fort Worth and Denver railroad following an announcement in the POST yesterday morning.

When Mrs. Davis closed her office at 5 o'clock yesterday 90 unemployed men had registered. There were more than a dozen men at the office to register when Mrs. Davis arrived yesterday morning. Only men who are bona-fide residents of Gray county will be given work on the line which is scheduled to start the latter part of this week, according to a statement made Friday night by H. H. Durston, general executive officer of the Fort Worth and Denver railroad company.

When Mrs. Davis takes the application she asks the men how long they have resided in Gray county. She also takes references and each man will be checked before he is given a job. No floaters will be given work on the line.

Most of the men who registered yesterday were known to have been residents of this county more than a year.

Harold Baer transacted business in Clarendon yesterday.

County Court To Convene Tomorrow

County court will convene tomorrow morning for a three-week term. Judge S. D. Stennis will preside. The docket will be read tomorrow. A jury has been called for Tuesday morning when criminal cases will be heard.

There are 21 criminal cases on the docket and a larger number of civil suits. The 114th district court will be in session during the entire term.
