'Joy Bus' Program Begins Here Sunday

The "Joy Bus" program for the Church of Christ in Hart will officially get its start Sunday, as the bus makes its first round at 9 a.m.

The program began as a dream during the Vacation Bible School program in July when the Olton church loaned the Hart church a bus for use during VBS.

After much thought and prayer the local congregation decided to initiate such a program and appointed Roy Shave, minister, Darryl McLain and James Jackson to the committee to purchase a bus.

Several sources were investigated and a bid was made on a bus to the Olton school system. A 60 passenger International was purchased from Bothwell Enterprises in Plainview and the same week, the church received notice that their bid was accepted by the Olton school board.

The bus will be driven alternately by the men of the congregation under the direction of Darryl McLain, and will run Sunday mornings, Sunday evenings at 5 and Wednesday evenings at 7. Those wishing to attend should call Roy Shave at 938-2267 or Darryl McLain at 938-2333.

Roy Shave will conduct the puppet time activities. Sunday morning classes will be conducted by Bea Cole, pre-school; Bessie Grensbery, first and second grades; Laverne McLain, third and fourth grades; Marguerite McLain, fifth and sixth; Rita Upton, teen age girls; and Roy Shave, adult class.

Sunday evening Bible hour classes will be conducted by Roy Shave, Debbie Jackson, Janet Mitchell and Marguerite McLain, with Linda McLain and Judy Findley doing the teaching on the Joy Bus.

Wednesday evening classes will be Jerry Horton and Jimmie Benton, pre-school; Dana Nelson, first and second grades; Jean Kennedy and Joyce Beavers, third and fourth grades; Nancy Shave, fifth and sixth, and Jack Burkhalter, adult class.

A special prayer session for the Joy Bus ministry will be held Saturday night in the Laurence McLains' home.

Boys and girls riding the Joy Bus will receive what is termed a bus "buck" for each time they ride, and will be given an opportunity, once each month, to spend it to purchase a Joy Bus item at the Bus Buck store. They may save their bus bucks to purchase a Bible, a Joy Bus T-shirt, some larger items or a smaller item of their choosing.

The Joy Busses will be getting a face lift about the last week in October when they are scheduled for an official paint job using the Longhorn colors of maroon and white.

The Joy Bus was used by the congregation on an outing to Palo Duro Canyon to see "Texas".

An invitation is extended to everyone to attend any or all of the scheduled services of the church to hear the gospel presented in truth and simplicity and receive a warm welcome.

Hart Band Parents Make Plans For Year

Hart Band Boosters met recently in called session. Resignation of Curtis Snitker as president was accepted and Duane Clevenger elected to the vacancy.

Members voted to change the organization's name from Band Boosters to Band Parents. Initial plans were made to sponsor an enchilada supper Nov. 10, preceding the Springlake-Earth and Longhorn football game.

Topics discussed included painting a Longhorn on the instrument trailer and sponsoring a band trip each year.

Each band student is expected to bring money before each game for the purchase of a Coke to be served after halftime.

Band Director Dennis Syring reported that band students had voted to purchase a garment bag for their uniform. The bags cost $7.50 each.

Band Parents voted to purchase hat boxes for each band student at a cost of $3.95 each. White gloves, required by each band student, will be stocked locally at The Company Store.

Next meeting is Oct. 2 in the band hall.

Enrollment Totals 629

Enrollment totals at Hart schools have climbed steadily upwards since beginning day, Aug. 24. Enrollment as of Thursday, Aug. 31, there were 629 students in the local schools.

Figures by grade show kindergarten, 51; first grade, 72; second, 52; third, 54; fourth, 49; fifth, 47; sixth, 49; seventh, 56 and eighth, 51.

High school enrollment shows ninth, 46; tenth, 44; eleventh, 41 and twelfth, 17.

HARVEST BEGINNING - One swath of the combine has been made in this field of corn as gathering time draws near. Fields are in varying degrees of readiness in the Hart area.

Gridiron Guessing Contest Underway

Gridiron guessing gets underway this week with the first week of competition in the annual Hart Beat football contest. Entries must be in by noon Friday in order to be eligible for the challenge and fun.

Contestants must use the official entry blank appearing on the contest pages of The Hart Beat. Anyone may enter and the contestant with the most correct picks for the season will win the grand prize, $50.

Weekly prizes of $5, $3 and $2 go to the three best predictors of the week. In the event of ties, the tie-breaker game will determine the winners.

The contest is fun and requires no "football expertise." Lucky guesses are the rule rather than exception.

Challenge a friend, compete with your family but enter today. Adopt the motto, "Never give up" and don't drop out of the contest if you are not at the top of the list of contestants.

Select a winner in each of the games appearing in the ads of sponsoring merchants. Circle the corresponding number on the entry blank. Fill in your prediction of the tie-breaker score and don't forget to fill in your name and address. Deposit your entry blank in contest envelopes at any of the sponsoring merchants.

Don't forget, those sponsors are the ones who make the contest possible. Let them know you appreciate their part.

Sponsoring merchants are Hart Oil and Butane, Hart Aerial Sprayers, Triple A Pump Company, Ed Harris Lumber, King's Blacksmith, Tide products, Smith Potato Company, Hi Plains Insurance, Sun Vue Fertilizer, Hiway Garage, Grain Handling Corporation, Farmers Grain Company, Pay-n-Save, Farmers State Bank and The Hart Beat.

Hart Lions Sponsor Blood Drive Sept. 11

Man, with all his technological achievements, has not yet made a substitute for blood!

Approximately 80 pints of blood per day are needed by the hospitals in a 22-county area served by South Plains Blood Service. Projected needs are that more than 2,100 pints per month will be needed by the end of the year and 2,500 pints per month by 1980.

South Plains Blood Service is a non-profit center depending on volunteer donors to supply the blood needed by persons in Hart and others in the South Plains and Eastern New Mexico.

The Lubbock based center will bring its mobile unit to Hart Monday, Sept. 11 to accept blood donations from persons who care enough to give the gift of life. The drive, sponsored by Hart Lions Club, will be conducted from 1 to 3 p.m. in the community room of Farmers State Bank.

City Council Calls Meeting

A called city council meeting was held Friday evening.

City ordinance #59, printed in last week's issue of The Hart Beat, was declared void by the council. Incorrect wording and figures on the ordinance led to the action.

No further action was taken on the rate increase as proposed by Southwestern Public Service.

America - Second Best?

There is no room for a second-best America in a world run by the Russians, according to Congressman Jim Collins of Texas.

"The United States if falling far behind the Soviet Union in terms of military strength, and it is becoming imperative that we restore our defense capabilities to their strongest positions," Collins declared.

According to the Texas Congressman the United States's military personnel are sorely outnumbered in comparison to the Soviets. There are 2.1 million active military personnel in our all-volunteer armed forces while the Russian armed forces number 4.1 million. "Even more alarming is the fact that our uniformed strength has been steadily declining since the inception of the volunteer military," Collins said.

"Liberals in Congress say that we are always spending too much on defense, but the fact is that we have been spending less and less on defense and more and more on domestic welfare services," Collins noted. "Since 1972 HEW's budget has exceeded that of the Department of Defense. In 1977, HEW received almost $40 billion more, last year they received $47 billion more than Defense, and this year they will receive nearly $60 billion more."

"Between 1952 and 1977 federal spending for welfare and other domestic purposes had risen from $12 billion to $244 billion, an increase of 2000%. However, during the same time span our defense spending has decreased," Collins said. "We now spend only 4% of our GNP on defense whereas the Soviet Union spends 12% of their GNP on defense."

According to Collins, in 1977 Congress voted to spend $108 billion for defense, while in Russia they were spending $130 billion.

"The Russians have 12,000 Surface-to-Air Missiles, we have 990. They have 64 Anti-Ballistic Missiles, we have none. They have 2,700 Interceptor Aircraft, we have 357. They have 45,000 tanks, we have 7,835. They have 942 Active Naval Fleets, we have 456. They have 1,549 Inter-Continental Ballistic Missiles, we have 1,054. They have 842 Submarine-Launched Ballistic Missiles, we have 656," Collins said.

According to the senior Texas Republican, the Soviets do have 200 less bombers, but their bombers have greater payload capacity and are far superior in unrefueled radius to any of our bombers.

Collins also noted that in the case of a nuclear attack the Russians would suffer less than 5% fatalities while the United States would suffer almost 50% fatalities.

GAYLE REED

Cook Of The Week

Recipes for mouth-watering hot rolls, tasty little treats called "Snickerdoodles" and a yummy dessert are shared this week by a young woman who readily admits she doesn't like to cook.

Gayle Reed, our Cook of the Week, was born and reared in Hart, the daughter of Clarice and Glyn Reed. She is a graduate of Hart High School and attended Southwest Business College before transferring to Lipperts. She graduated as a Lippert's court reporter.

Prior to joining the book-keeping staff of Grain Handling Corporation in August, she has worked in Dimmitt and Plainview. In Grain Handling's new office building, she is assigned to work with "Roscoe," the name given the firm's new computer by Grain Handling's staff.

Gayle enjoys playing golf and likes water and snow skiing. She is a Baptist.

SNICKERDOODLES

1/2 c soft shortening
1/4 c sugar
1 egg
1 1/2 c sifted flour

1 t cream of tarter
1/2 t soda
1/8 t salt

Mix all ingredients together. Roll into balls, roll the balls in a mixture of 1 T sugar and 1 t cinnamon. Place on cookie sheet. They will puff up then fall. Bake 8 to 10 min. Be sure to time them.

HOT ROLLS

1 Pkg. Fleischmanns active dry yeast dissolved in 1/2 c warm water. Set aside. Add 1/2 c Crisco to one c water, let boil about 1/2 min. Cool. Beat 2 eggs real good. Add 1/2 c sugar, 1 t salt. Mix well. Add to cooled Crisco and water then add yeast. Add 5 cups flour, mix well (not with mixer). Let stand 30 min. Place dough on board and knead real good several minutes. Place dough in greased bowl, cover and let rise till double in bulk. Mash dough down and knead again. Shape into loaves or rolls. Let rise till double. Bake till done.

RURAL PUBLIC NOTICE

Pioneer Natural Gas Company, a division of Pioneer Corporation, hereby gives notice of its intent to implement new rates for residential and commercial type, small industrial and large gas air conditioning and/or electric generating gas service customers in the rural environs of the 63 cities and towns on its West Texas Distribution System, effective upon the date and to the extent that such rates are finally approved for the said cities and towns. It is anticipated that the new rates will result in a 1.7% increase in Pioneer's gross revenues on its West Texas Distribution System. The increase in Pioneer's aggregate revenues will not constitute a "major change" as defined in Section 43(b) of Article 1446c, V.A.T.C.S.

A Statement of Intent to change said rates was filed with the Railroad Commission of Texas about August 18, 1978, and is available for inspection at the Company's Amarillo office, 301 S. Taylor Street.

New Meal Patterns Being Tested By Schools

Schools were authorized August 24 to voluntarily test new meal patterns for the school lunch program.

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, Carol Foreman, said, "The purpose of the interim meal patterns is to more accurately meet the nutritional requirements of children and to bring the lunch requirements into conformance with the 1974 revisions of the Recommended Dietary Allowances published by the National Academy of Science.

"The interim meal patterns reflect changes recommended in 2,000 public comments to our proposed regulations published Sept. 6, 1977, as well as testimony received in public hearings the Department held in eight major cities," she said.

The interim meal patterns announced today contain several major changes from the proposed meal patterns: They are:

- The milk portion size has been increased from four to six ounces for one and two-year-old children (who may participate in the lunch program in residential child care institutions). The milk portions for children ages five, six, seven and eight has been increased from six to eight ounces so that there is one 8 oz. serving size for all children in elementary and senior high schools.

- Five year olds will be served lunch in one sitting, while children ages 1 through 4 will be served at two sittings, as proposed.

- Meat alternates such as dry beans, peas, eggs or peanut butter may be served alone, or in combination, to fulfill the meat/meat alternate requirement of lunches. The proposed meal patterns required that these alternates be served either in combination with one another or with meat, poultry, fish or cheese.

Schools wanting to participate in interim meal testing must first obtain approval from the state administering agency. States are responsible for overseeing the test and providing guidance to schools. The test will end Feb. 2, 1979. At that time, schools may choose to continue to use the interim lunch patterns or revert to the present meal pattern, until final regulations are developed, she said.

In addition to the field test, the Department plans a comprehensive evaluation which includes three demonstration projects to assess how the revised meal patterns affect student participation and acceptance of the program, as well as food costs and school administrative activities. This evaluation began last spring and covers the following subjects: involving students, faculty and parents in the school lunch program; controlling sugar, fat and salt in school lunches; and evaluating the use of second helpings to meet the high energy needs of certain children.

Comments are invited and should be sent by Feb. 15, 1979, to Margaret O'K Glavin, Director, School Programs Division, Food and Nutrition Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250. Those who comment should indicate if they are directly involved in the field testing.

College Costs

Most people believe that the person receiving a benefit should be the one to pay for it.

Except, of course, in the case of a gift.

If you want to give your child a college education, that's fine.

But you shouldn't be forced to contribute to the college education of other people's children.

At present, your taxes help support state colleges. Only a small part of the student's education is paid by tuition. Most of it is paid by state and federal grants.

Many more dollars have to be collected from the taxpayers than the number of dollars that reach the ultimate beneficiary.

The costs of collecting the money, running it through government records and paying it out have to be paid. And the salaries of many bureaucrats have to be paid.

The suggestion has been made that college students should be permitted to borrow their college costs from the government.

Repayment would be required. Two percent of the student's adjusted gross income would be due when he filed his tax return each year after he finished school. Payments would continue until his debt, plus interest, was paid in full.

The loans would be available only after the student had completed his freshman year on his own.

The idea is better than the present system where the taxpayers foot the bill. But private enterprise could do a better job.

Two reasons private enterprise isn't doing the job are inflation and the bankruptcy laws.

People are hesitant to loan money at six or seven percent when inflation is running eight or ten percent.

The money they get back, including interest, will buy less than the money they loaned would have bought at the time they made the loan.

One answer to this is a gold clause contract. Such contracts have been illegal for many years but are now legal again.

The other problem is the bankruptcy laws.

A student could borrow many thousands of dollars. He could get an education that would result in ten times as much additional income during his lifetime as the amount he borrowed. Yet, because he had no tangible assets, he could go through bankruptcy and wipe out the debt.

If you could buy a house, get a loan on it for $50,000, then wipe out the debt in bankruptcy and keep the house, no one would loan you money on it.

That's what happens with an education loan. Students borrow money for an education. They keep the education but repudiate the loan.

The bankruptcy laws need to be changed so that debts for education (or any other asset that the bankrupt keeps that cannot be attached) could not be wiped out by taking bankruptcy.

Supplement stalks the safe, efficient, easy way: CLS[®] Controlled Release

The safe liquid

Cargill researchers tested Nutrena CLS Controlled Release against a conventional urea-based liquid supplement, both fed directly into the rumen. Five pounds of the conventional liquid produced toxicity. Eleven pounds of CLS Controlled Release produced no toxicity. CLS Controlled Release is safe for free-choice feeding!

53% more efficient

Nitrogen-retention studies showed patented Controlled Release to be 53% more efficient in protein-building power than a conventional urea-based liquid.

HEAT PUMP

"THE ELECTRIC SAVINGS MACHINE"

SAVING FOR THE FUTURE

Coin banks help teach children how to save for the future. You can save for the future, too, with the electric heat pump. That's why we call it the electric savings machine. This efficient heating/cooling system can deliver as much as two units of heat for every one heat unit of electricity it uses. But the savings don't stop there. With fuel costs expected to rise during the next two decades, the electric heat pump is a smart investment that will save energy today and in the future.

It's never too soon to start saving . . . with the electric heat pump. Start today before your future gets here. You'll be glad you did.

LIBERTY LINES

Spending the Cause—Taxation the Effect!

Robert M. Bartell

WASHINGTON (Liberty Lobby News Service)—A meeting in Washington recently added impetus toward passing H.J. Res. 23, which would get the government out of the business of competing with private enterprise and do away with the federal income tax. The sponsor, the "Yes on 23" Committee, expects to get some 23 million signatures on petitions before November which they'll use in state capitals and here in Washington.

One participant was Dr. Martin Larson, tax policy consultant for Liberty Lobby, who is interviewed for today's column. Dr. Larson, what did you think of the Yes on 23 meeting?

LARSON: After attending and participating in a great many tax protest meetings I have concluded that the time is ripe to push Yes on 23, which calls for repeal of the 16th Amendment and the personal income tax. It's my conviction that the many taxes on productive corporations should also be terminated.

BARTELL: If 23 million signatures are obtained on petitions which call for repealing the 16th Amendment and ratification by the states, will this force Congress to take that step?

LARSON: Yes, if the politicians believe they'll be defeated at the next election unless they do so. It's as simple as that. The income tax is the most uneconomic of all possible taxes. The producers are taxed at the point of production. This becomes a built-in element of cost and must be added to the price paid by consumers. But since all costs escalate as goods pass through the channels of production, and distribution, the consumers actually pay three times as much as the government collects. A 5% general transaction tax would produce the same revenue —at one-third the cost to the people.

BARTELL: Are Americans pushing too hard and going too fast on cutting taxes?

LARSON: No, sir! The passage of Proposition 13 in California was long overdue. It heralds a new day in which politicians and bureaucrats will learn to serve the people and not rule, exploit and destroy them.

BARTELL: Did the Proposition 13 victory surprise you?

LARSON: No, I've been feeling the pulse of the taxpaying public for many years . . . but I confess the overwhelming victory margin was a most pleasant surprise. Two or three other states have already enacted tax-limitation statutes and I understand that plans are under way for similar legislation in at least 20 more.

BARTELL: How about the prophets of doom who say tax cutting isn't the right way to go about it—that it might well lead to disaster?

LARSON: The only ones who face any disaster, and in my opinion that would be a blessing, will be the lush-loving bureaucrats and able-bodied parasites on relief. It's time that both began facing reality and stopped sucking the blood of our useful, hardworking producers. Remember that taxes are not the cause of our problems basically. Government spending is the cause; taxation is the effect. Cut spending and you can cut taxes; it's that simple.

BARTELL: That concludes our interview today. If you want information about the Yes on 23 Committee, write to Box 2386, El Cajon, Calif. 92021.
