Morgan Revealed As A Powerful Financial Dictator

Long-Guarded Secrets Bared Before Public

Partnership Papers Of Morgan Firm Are Placed Into Record Of Inquiry By Pecora With New List Of Names

Objections Strong

Agreement Shows Morgan Could Compel Partners To Withdraw And Fix The Amount Of Cash Due

BY WILLIAM L. BEALE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 1.—In the midst of their soundings of the extent of the Morgan enterprises, senate investigators disclosed today that J. P. Morgan is the dictator who has final decision in any dispute among the partners of his banking house over policies of the firm.

The financier, who has sat silently during the last several days of the banking committee's investigation of his business transactions also was empowered by the partnership agreement drawn in March 31, 1916, after his father's death, to compel any of his partners to withdraw at any time and fix the amount of funds due him. Partners also were allowed to withdraw voluntarily.

Papers In Record

The long guarded partnership papers were placed into the record by Ferdinand Pecora, committee investigator, over the protest of John W. Davis, Morgan counsel, after the committee members so determined in closed session.

Original signers of the agreement, the capital contributed and the division of net profits and loses were omitted from the published document by the committee's decision.

Just before the partnership articles were made public, one of the partners — George Whitney — had agreed that on 1929 prices the banking house could have sold its United Corporation holdings at a profit of $122,508,000.

Tells Of Activities

Then a bit later, while Morgan smoked quietly, Whitney said Morgan & Company had participated to the extent of $48,000,000 in 1930 in $91,000,000 of unsecured loans arranged by his firm for utility companies in the United holding group.

These disclosures were brought out by Pecora during a day which added Harvey C. Couch of Arkansas, now a Reconstruction Corporation director, to the growing line of Morgan selected customers.

The day's testimony also brought out that the total income taxes for the Morgan partners from 1919 to 1929 inclusive was $51,538,000.

Pamphlet Is Issued

During the hearing, a pamphlet criticizing Pecora's handling of the "Dot" King murder in 1923 when he was a New York assistant district attorney was left with some of the committee members by John C. Hackett, who described himself as a former special police commissioner of New York.

Through newspapermen, Pecora invited Hackett to "go to the bottom" of his service.

Sherwood Tells Reasons Of 21 Months In Hiding

RUSSELL T. SHERWOOD

Mystery Man States He Fled Because Of His Loyalty

BY FRANCIS A. JAMIESON
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, June 1—Russell T. Sherwood, one of the "mystery men" of the Hofstadter investigation into New York City's government, sat in the basement of a Hoboken cafe today and told why he had hidden himself away for 21 months.

It was his "loyalty" to former Mayor James J. Walker, who resigned during the inquiry, that led him to disappear, Sherwood told newspapermen who had been led to the restaurant by William Druggan, collector of internal revenue.

Settlement Is Sought

"Mr. Sherwood has been in touch with me for about two months—to be exact, since about a week before Easter," said Druggan, who has been negotiating with the accountant for settlement of a $49,000 income tax claim.

His face ashen and his hands twitching nervously, Sherwood answered a fusillade of questions, but on his attorney's advice declined to go into the details of the charges made by Samuel Seabury during the investigation.

Asked why his presence at the hearings would have "embarrassed" Walker, Sherwood replied:

Loyalty Is Explained

"I was in the office where he had space for 15 years. I took care of matters of a purely personal nature. I didn't feel disposed to be called upon to answer to personal matters, out of a feeling of loyalty to him."

Sherwood said his refusal to respect a subpoena served on him in Mexico City was "a voluntary act on my part by reason of my association with Mr. Walker and my desire not to interfere with matters I regarded as personal affairs."

Repeating his "admiration" for the former mayor, Sherwood said he was "satisfied it was going to be a personal attack against Walker and I would not be a party to it, even as an unwilling witness."

Sherwood was asked if he handl-

Long Session Of Legislature Ends Thursday

Much Legislation Is Rushed Through In Closing Hours; 143-Day Gathering Shatters All Previous Records

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 1—The 43rd Texas legislature today finished the longest continuous term any lawmaking body ever has been in session in the state. The session was only one week short of five months in length.

The legislature cut the appropriations by one-fourth under the last legislature and liberalized blue laws to permit betting on horse races, made prize fights permissible and submitted propositions to legalize the manufacture and sale of 3.2 per cent beer and repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

Submitted On August 26

The prohibition propositions will be submitted to the electorate at a special election on August 26.

Among other proposals submitted at that election will be a $20,000,000 bond issue, proceeds of which would be used to relieve unemployment and to supplement funds of the United States Reconstruction Finance corporation.

In event the bond issue should carry it would be necessary for the legislature to meet in special session to pass legislation putting the relief legislation into effect.

Other Legislation Fails

A strong effort to modify or suspend operation of the Texas anti-trust laws to allow Texas industries greater freedom to participate in the proposed national program failed at this session. Fear that the action would have the effect of nullifying a suit filed by James V. Allred, attorney general, charging 15 oil companies and two oil associations with violation of the anti-trust laws was largely responsible for failure of the movement.

The legislature had planned to quit at noon, but was forced to resort to the custom of turning back the legislative clocks while the odds and ends incident to closing were gathered together. The house adjourned at 4:42 p. m. The senate adjourned shortly afterward. The legislature had been in session 143 days.

Fails To Meet Deficit

Although the legislature had made a cut of approximately 25 per cent in the costs of government, it had failed, according to Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, to provide sufficient revenue to meet a heavy

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., June 1—The treachery of fog and a desperate effort to escape from it which failed by a slim margin caused a crash of a transport plane of the United States army air corps against a mountain side in the Cajon pass today, killing three enlisted men.

Texas Moratorium Lew Held Unconstitutional By Court

EL PASO, June 1. (AP)—The Texas mortgage moratorium law, which has been much in the limelight since its enactment, was held unconstitutional today by the eighth court of appeals, so far as contracts executed before its effective date, May 1, are concerned.

The latter qualifying clause, embodied in the opinion written by Chief Justice W. H. Pelphrey, is considered unimportant, for the reason that emergency measure extends only to Jan. 1, 1934. However it does mean, according to the court's opinion, that contracts entered into after the moratorium became a law are subject to its provisions.

Beer Question Being Revived

Subject Of Beer Legislation Would Be Submitted To The Special Session; Word From Murray Expected

(By The Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 1. — While the Oklahoma house continued to wrangle over distribution of revenue provided by the sales tax bill, the senate passed today a concurrent resolution requesting that the subject of beer legislation be submitted to the special session.

By a vote of 26 to 12, the senate approved the resolution and an early message of compliance was expected from Governor Murray. The resolution, passed previously by the house, was slightly amended.

Beer advocates hailed the vote as a certain indication the legislature would approve an appropriation for the special beer referendum July 11, which under the present law must be laid for by public contributions which apparently have been unequal to the cost.

Kansas Killer Recognized As Leader Of Mob

Six Men Loot Bank Of Chelsea, Oklahoma, And Escape In A Hail Of Bullets; $2,500 Is Total Lost To Gang

One Is Identified

Two Motor Convoy Drivers And Boy Safe; Officers Feared They Had Been Kidnaped By Desperado Crew

(By The Associated Press)

CHELSEA, Okla., June 1. — Six men, one of whom was identified as Wilbur Underhill, leader of a Kansas state prison break Tuesday, robbed the bank of Chelsea late today and escaped in a hail of bullets. Their loot was estimated at $2,500.

Two Vinita residents said that as they drove toward Chelsea from Vinita shortly after the robbery, an automobile answering the description of the car used in the robbery drove past them. One of the half dozen occupants of the car fired several shots, bullets striking the Vinitans' automobile, but not injuring them. The men were Floyd Torrey, hotel manager and Roy Warner, bank official.

Head Toward Hills

After robbing the Chelsea bank, the bandits fled southward. The report of the Vinita men indicated they circled around the town and headed toward the hilly section of northeastern Oklahoma and western Arkansas where the search for the eleven convicts who escaped from the Kansas prison has centered.

For several hours northeastern Oklahoma officers also searched for two motor car convoy drivers and a 13-year-old boy, believing their separation from the west-bound convoy meant they had been abducted by the Kansas convicts, who already have held a half dozen persons captive at various stages of their flight.

Delayed By Accident

However, it was established that the drivers, Charles Hall, Detroit, and Fred Baker, Ferndale, Mich., and the boy, Marshall Plankley, jr., had been delayed by repairs after a minor accident. Tonight Marshall was with his mother in Guthrie, Okla., and the drivers were hurrying to catch up with the remainder of the convoy.

The boy, whose father was a driver in the convoy, was taken to visit his mother.

Two men entered the Chelsea bank and forced bank officials and customers to lie on the floor while they entered the cage and took the money in sight. Two more stood guard at the door and two others remained in a dark blue sedan outside. The car used was not one of those driven by the convoy-driver.

Mite Of A Woman Raises Whale Of A Tempest When She Perches Herself On The Lap Of The Sultan Of Finance

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 1. — A mite of a woman raised a whale of a tempest in the serious-minded senate banking committee today—all because she was perched on the lap of J. P. Morgan.

Long an almost legendary figure in high finance, the broad - shouldered financier himself appeared mystified when Miss Lya Graf—a circus midget—was abruptly lifted by a man she said was a stranger to her to a seat on his knees to the delight of the crowd that had gathered for the investigation of the Morgan bank.

In another room nearby, the senatorial inquisitors were pondering over the inquiry that was about to resume.

Somehow word reached them of what went on. Forthwith photographers were notified they would be barred from future sessions if they used the pictures of the smiling midget being held by Morgan on his lap.

And at the afternoon session of the hearing all photographers were banned.

No senators were on hand when the banker in good humor had asked the blue-gowned Miss Graf where she lived and was told "in a tent, sir," while flashlights boomed.

The smile on his face faded for a while; but not until after he had told his visitor he had a "grandson bigger than you are."

"But I'm older," she said naively, and subsequently gave

YOU missed something by not going out and seeing the winning bedrooms in the contest among 4-H club girls of the county.

Besides missing the rooms, you missed an opportunity to meet the girls and their mothers and to have some idea what can be done if one has the will.

The tour we followed yesterday afternoon carried us to the homes of Louise Slater at Union, Myrel Carter at New Hope, Flora Cates and Dorothy Horton at Hurlwood.

We were sure that each room was the best because they were all so attractive. And if there was anyone in the party who didn't decide to renovate her bedroom, she must have a perfect room now. The girls had arranged sleeping, study and dressing units in the rooms and made of the whole quite simple bedrooms. They had followed color schemes and then several of the girls had dressed in the same colors to receive the visitors.

Louise Slater has a book case that was made from the side boards of an old bed and it would give you ideas on how to use up waste products. She had her room newly papered, too, and had traded canned food for the material and work.

The other three girls had used orange crates to fashion dressing tables and then hung mirrors over them. Dorothy had even covered her shelves with oil cloth to match the chintz she had used on the table.

The girls had made respectable pieces of furniture out of all sort of scraps by nailing them together and then smoothing them down and painting over it all.

One thing that we liked was that the girls had made their stools and desks substantial—so that they will not be falling to pieces after a few months. And their laundry bags and shelves would put many of your closets to shame they were so neat and convenient.

These 4-H club girls tried the barter system and it worked in improving their bedrooms. They traded off-size beds for those of the size they wanted. They traded canned goods for materials and old furniture for more used furniture.

Their mothers are proud of them, too. They took as much pleasure in showing off the bedrooms as their daughters did. However, the mothers stood back and let the daughters do the talking, since the rooms were theirs. Some of the mothers added to the general hospitality by serving cool drinks and cookies.

If you doubt the lasting good of these rooms, you should see the winning bedroom for last year. Guyrene Horton, Dorothy's sister was the winner. On our inspection trip yesterday her room was open, too, and looking as well as it did a year ago. It had been good for use as well as in looks. She could even let us inspect shelves and other parts of the interior of her closet.

All of which is a good recommendation for the work. Lots of times we can fix something up to look well for a day of inspection. It makes a difference if we can live in the room for a year and then re-open it for inspection.

Several of the girls had built clothes closets in their rooms. They have proven that with some ingenuity and a little expense one may have a place for clothing that is convenient and neat. Some of the girls had been using curtains hung across the corners of their rooms and had thought there was not space enough for a closet. In this contest they found ways to build closets and make them a part of the general scheme.

And you and I would be surprised at the things they could arrange in so compact a space—simply because they went to work with a determination to see it through.

Mix a thin paste of Schilling Mustard and water in a cup. Do the same with some other kind. Smell the aroma from both. Note the difference in strength. The reason: A mustard seed contains two oils—one a flavor oil—the other flavorless. Most of the flavorless oil can be removed, leaving the flavor oil concentrated in the ground mustard. Schilling does it.

Three Minute Relief From Periodical Pains

It is so unnecessary to suffer month after month from inorganic pains, because "B. C." will bring soothing relief in three minutes. "B. C." is prepared by a registered pharmacist, compounded on a different principle from most relief-giving agencies in that it contains several ingredients, used by many physicians, so blended and proportioned as to accomplish in a few minutes what we believe no one drug formula can do in so short a time. "B. C." should also be used for the relief of common colds, headaches and neuralgia, muscular aches and pains, reducing fever and for quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs. Bonner Wins Medal Honors With Par 72 In West Texas Golf Tourney

Four Lubbock Linksmen Get To Top Flight

Two Others In Second Pairs; Local Country Club Fifth In Teamplay; Daniel Vice President Of Association

WICHITA FALLS, June 1. (AP)—Medal honors in the qualifying round of the West Texas Golf association's annual tournament went to Stayton Bonner of Wichita Falls as he turned in a par 72 score to lead a crack field. He had four birdies on his card.

Jimmie Phillips of Ranger, defending champion, was the runner up. He scored a 74.

The Wichita Falls Golf and Country club four-man team won the team trophy with an aggregate score of 307. Playing on the winning team were Morris Norton, Rufus King, Orlon Daniels, and L. T. Burns.

In the team event Wichita Falls entered two teams, Lubbock two, and Vernon, Big Spring, Abilene, Electra, and Graham one each.

Lubbock Team Active

Although Lubbock Country club's team failed to register better than fifth place in the team-play, Lubbock was the best represented member of the association, with the exception of the host club. Twenty-two Lubbock golfers registered for the qualifying round, although some of them fell out before completing the tour.

John Edmisson and Jo Dick Slaughter of Lubbock Country club qualified for the second flight with 85 and 86, respectively. An 83 was required for championship flight. Doyce Clark, John Bell, and Joe Bihl of Lubbock Meadowbrook Golf club qualified for the third flight with 89, 86 and 87, respectively. L. B. Vaughn of Lamesa made the fourth flight with 93. Cliff Dean of Lubbock Country club shot 100 for that flight, and Hershel Crawford and Roland Anderson had 98 and 95. Jesse Lockhart and Maurice Powell made the fifth flight with 100 and 108.

James Phillips, Ranger (74), vs. Ed Patton, Mineral Wells (80).

Play Off Necessitated

E. W. Merriott and Farrell landed in the championship flight after a playoff was found necessary to eliminate two others who had shot 83's. J. Dodson of Vernon and A. A. Murrell were the two eliminated. J. E. Gill of Wichita Falls shot the same score but did not participate in the playoff.

Allen Guinn of Mineral Wells was re-elected president of the West Texas Golf association at its annual meeting tonight. E. T. Daniel, of Lubbock Country Club, was named vice-president and awarded a lifetime membership in the association. Illness prevented his presence at the tournament, of which he was one of the originators.

Wilburn Creager, of Wichita Falls, was elected secretary. Rivercrest of Fort Worth, Abilene and Big Spring presented bids for the 1934 tournament, site of which will be selected at the spring meeting.

The Sports HORN

By BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer.

DEADER BALL

BOB COLEMAN, manager of the Beaumont Exporters, discussing with Vin Burke, sports editor of the Beaumont Enterprise, the ball being used in the Texas League this year, is sure the league is playing with a deader ball. Burke's "sport footnotes" column quotes Coleman's reasons for thinking so:

"The manufacturer has taken some of the zip out of it, or many experts are bady mistaken. It looks like we're going to get back the old-fashioned game," Coleman said. "Bunting and base running are returning. We're playing for one run at a time now—have to. Why, look at the way they're laying down sacrifices today. Last season if you tried to bunt you'd knock somebody down with a line drive. And how many balls have gone over the fence in our park this year? I don't mean that we knocked them over—that anybody did. The ball is deader, no mistake about that, and perhaps it's best, after all."

METZ'S SHOWING

TEXANS were interested to note that young Dick Metz finished third in the Metropolitan golf open which Willie McFarlane won.

Metz is a Texas boy although now assistant professional at the Hollywood Country club, Deal, N. J., where Craig Wood is head professional.

Many closely associated with Texas golf rank Metz the best playing professional from this state since Harry Cooper left to take a job near Chicago.

Metz finished with a card of 293, only two strokes behind McFarlane. He finished two strokes in front of Olin Dutra, defending champion, national P. G. A. champion and a member of the United States Ryder Cup team. Metz's showing may have been surprising to eastern critics, but not to the southland boys who know Metz and the promising golf career before him.

JIMMY PHILLIPS

PROMISING a record breaking entry field that may total 150 or more, the annual West Texas Golf association championship tournament at Wichita Falls June 1, 2 and 3, will have Jimmy Phillips as the defending champion.

Phillips is the Ranger youth who played Gus Moreland last week at Houston in the state championship and lost by the slender margin of one down. Phillips was four down to Moreland through the first five holes but rallied. He won three consecutive holes from the Texas champion, but could never overhaul Moreland's lead of one up. Phillips will be an outstanding contender in the West Texas event that will be held over the difficult Wichita Falls Country club course.

Cochet Leader In French Net Play As Field Narrows

AUTEUIL, France, June 1. (AP)—Henri Cochet, French Davis cup ace, leading the way in the defense of his singles title, the field in the French hard court tennis championships today was narrowed to eight players in each of the men and women's divisions.

Cochet won his way into the quarter-finals with an easy straight set victory over Elkichi Itoh, Japanese Davis cup player, 6-1, 6-2, 6-4. He will play Roderich Menzel, of Czechoslovakia, in the quarter finals.

Hagen, Dutra, And Other Ryder Cup Players In Open

ST. PAUL, June 1. (AP) — Except for the absence of a few stars, including Gene Sarazen, a preview of the big national open show of 1933 starts over the tricky Keller Fee course tomorrow as 108 golfers launch their drives for the $5,000 St. Paul open championship.

Five members of the American Ryder cup team, headed by Capt. Walter Hagen, were bracketed in the field for the 72-hole drive for gold. With him were Ed Dudley, Leo Diegel, Paul Runyan, and Olin Dutra, the national professional champion, who rated an even favorite with "The Haig." It was at Keller last year that Dutra romped through the field with a great subpar performance to win his national crown.

The Ryder cup players faced plenty of competition, however, from Harry Cooper of Chicago, winner of the St. Paul open over the same layout in 1930 with 280 strokes; George Von Elm, the big little businessman of golf from Akron, Ohio; "Wee Bobby" Cruickshank, the veteran Scot from Richmond, Va.; Johnny Revolta, the surprising young ace from Menominee, Mich.; Tony Manero, Greensboro, N. C.; Charlie Lacey, New York; Henry Picard, one of the big surprise packages of the winter gold rush from Charleston, S. C., "Jimmy" Johnston of St. Paul, former national amateur champion, and others.

Diegel turned in the best workout, breezing over the par 72 course in 69 yesterday.

Dizzy Dean Limits Bruins To Six Bingles And Red Birds Win 7th Straight, Ousting Idle Pirates From Front

CHICAGO, June 1. (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals mounted to first place in the National league today on the strength of a fine job of pitching by Dizzy Dean who held the Chicago Cubs to six hits, scoring a 6-to-1 triumph.

The victory was the high flying Cardinals' seventh straight and their twelfth in 13 starts, and hoisted them above the idle Pittsburgh Pirates by a margin of four percentage points.

Dean held the Cubs scoreless until the ninth inning. Three of the half dozen blows off him were made during the last two frames. Meanwhile, the Cardinals worked on Guy Bush and Roy Henshaw for 11 hits, and benefited by five fielding misplays.

Leo Durocher, not usually an important hitter, paced St. Louis with a double, two singles and a walk for a perfect day at the plate. He scored one run and drove in two.

Schmeling Floors Sparring Partner; Baer Clown No More As He Bores In

LAKE SWANNANOA, N. J., June 1. (AP)—Max Schmeling has his ear to the ground. He hears rumbles from the training camp of Max Baer, warning of a rollicking young 210-pound slugger Jack Dempsey has coached in the method of beating him. So he is guiding himself accordingly.

Today, just one week from the night he meets Baer in the Yankee stadium, the young Teuton started moulding his workouts along the line best suited to meet the plunging, headlong attack Dempsey says is the only fighting style that can whip Baer.

To add emphasis he hit Barney Baker, a sparring partner, with a straight right to the jaw that not only floored Barney but set the teeth of the more susceptible about the training ring to aching.

ATLANTIC CITY, June 1. (AP) — Forced indoors by a chilling rain, Max Baer, clouting California heavyweight who meets Max Schmeling in the Yankee stadium next Thursday night, went through a sizzling workout in Convention auditorium today.

Forgetting all notions of clowning, the Livermore Larruper once more went back to the style recommended by Promoter Jack Dempsey —that of just forcing in and whaling away with both hands. He gave Seal Harris and Pete Wistort a rocky time of it in five rounds of boxing.

After his workout Baer scaled 211 pounds, about four or five pounds more than he expects to scale the night of the fight.

BASEBALL'S BIG 6

(By The Associated Press)

Sam West of the St. Louis Browns got into action again yesterday, appearing as a hitless pinch hitter after a long absence because of an injury. Hodapp dropped two as he hit twice in six attempts in Boston's long game against Washington. Averages dropped all down the line. Al Simmons lost four points as he made one hit in four times up while Pepper Martin lost five and dropped into the Six cellar with one blow in five tries. The standing:

"Yoo-Hoo", Shouts The Princess As She Bobs Up And Down On Waters Of Harbor In Plane; Prince Also There

By MORRIS WATSON

NEW YORK, June 1 (AP) — "Yo-Hoo," said the princess as she bobbed up and down in the choppy waters of New York harbor, on which she alighted in an amphibian plane.

"Yoo-hoo," said the prince, leaning far out over the rail on the promenade deck of the liner Rex, inbound from Europe.

And that was the greeting of Prince Giroiamo Rosigliosi and his princess, the former Marion Snowden of Minneapolis, after a brief separation which rumor had whispered might be permanent.

At dawn the princess, whose recent arrival in this country without her husband gave rise to separation rumors, chartered a plane and set forth to meet the prince at quarantine. The plane alighted on the water near the liner and the princess began waving and calling. The prince saw her.

"Ah," he exclaimed in apparent rapture. "Proof that she loves me."

They waved. They shouted. They smiled and blew kisses. Conversation was impossible because of the distance and because of the roar of the amphibian's engine. The princess couldn't board the liner because of official regulations.

So when the liner moved on to its dock with the prince the princess soared aloft and preceded the ship to its mooring. And at the pier the prince and the princess fondly embraced.

Heavy Buying Now Recorded

Rising Markets And Excellent Ranges Have Brought Buyers To West Texas; Many Trades Being Reported

SAN ANGELO, June 1 (AP)—Rising markets and excellent ranges have caused a heavy wave of livestock buying in West Texas. More trades have been made in recent days than in a long time.

A good many ranchmen have orders for solid mouth ewes; there is some trading in yearling ewes and yearling muttons are selling up. The structure of the entire sheep business is improved and there is active inquiry for many classes.

Shorn mutton yearlings are going at 2 3-4 to 3 1-4 cents a pound on the range and there are few of them left. The demand for yearling ewes out of the wool at $3.50 a head is strong, but many ranchmen are refusing this price. The asking price is around $4.

Almost 4,000 head of cattle have changed hands at Sweetwater in recent days, bringing approximately $100,000 as the animals are shipped to the middle west. Chief among the deals was the purchase of 1,000 choice yearlings by Tom Donohue, buyer for middle west feeders, from Cap Newman of Sweetwater.

Hundreds of fat yearlings are moving out of Scurry and Borden counties. One of the biggest deals of the season was made there when Lewis Smithberger, jr., of Stanton, Neb., purchased 1,200 head of Hereford steer yearlings from four ranchmen, paying more than $1,000. The animals were shipped from Dermott at $26.50 a head.

Most of the steers in the Uvalde section have been bought or contracted. Many California buyers there now. Jess Elrod of San Angelo moved out recently 16 carloads of four and five-year-old steers to California.

A New Type Of Service

IN other parts of this morning's paper—in both news and advertising columns—will be found complete plans for and explanation of the Avalanche-Journal and Amarillo Globe-News Good Will trip to the Chicago World's fair.

Whether you are interested in making the trip or not, read of these plans and arrangements for this de luxe, all-expense tour, for it marks a new type of public service offered by the dominant newspapers of Northwest Texas.

Strictly as a service to readers and at their own promotional expense, The Avalanche-Journal and The Globe-News are offering the Chicago trip to the people of the area they serve—a luxurious tour at almost unbelievably low prices. The tour includes not only the fair, itself, but many other features impossible for the average exposition visitor to secure under other circumstances.

Probably there are other organizations of the Panhandle-Plains region capable of sponsoring a similar trip including the numerous side features offered by The Avalanche-Journal and Globe-News but no other organizations have offered to do it—either for profit or at their own promotional expense. The two morning and two evening papers which blanket the Panhandle-Plains region have assumed the responsibility and will put it across.

Times have sharply changed since the pre-war and war period until newspapers all over the country have discovered that they must be more than harbingers of news and portrayers of advertising. They must, to be successful, be servants of the public in many channels never before considered those of a newspaper.

In the World's fair trip, as in other lines, Lubbock and Amarillo papers are co-operating to benefit the areas they serve in as many ways as are humanly possible. If our efforts are appreciated, as we have reason to believe they are, we are satisfied.

We believe the all-expense fair tour is an opportunity for the people of Northwest Texas to see the fair at rock-bottom cost yet, at the same time, to enjoy all the conveniences available in transportation, hotel service and entertainment. An individual could not make the same trip, with all its services and features, for an expenditure of less than $250.

THE R. F. D.

The rural free delivery has become an indispensable service; how the cost compares with expense might leave an expert accountant in the dark. Direct receipts in postage on collections won't pay for it obviously; but it isn't always fair in a system of delivery to allocate receipts entirely to their source.

If it wasn't for the R. F. D., a considerable quantity of those newspapers, magazines, catalogues and articles of commerce wouldn't be sent. After the rent, salaries and expenses of the postoffices it displaced are deducted from the cost of the system, it is probable that the R. F. D. comes as near to paying for itself as a number of conveniences for city people do.

THE AGE OF NOISE

Between beats the heart rests, and between breaths the lungs and diaphragm have an instant's respite. All the nerves and muscles of the body have some time when they are relieved of duty except those of the ear in the noisy city. This unjust arrangement is pointed out by ear specialists, who say something must be done about it to lower the amount of deafness.

City noises going on day and night keep the ear drum and the tiny bones about it in a constant state of vibration. People accustomed to them sleep comfortably through normal night sounds because the nerves are adapted to something like a temporary disconnection with the brain centers.

To provide for utter inactivity in the ear it would be necessary to construct a sound-proof room. Ear specialists believe that they could relieve some ear troubles with such a room. In the case of ear inflamations it is thought that the constant vibrations of the city make complete rest impossible. Other organs benefit by rest. The ear certainly would.

Nocturnal periods of rest for the ear seem as remote for the average city dweller as the pot of gold at the foot of the rainbow. His days and nights are a bedlam of motor exhausts and horns, and the steps and voices of passersby, and the thousand and one other noises of the city street. There is no rest for the weary ear.

Los Angeles and San Francisco both had earthquakes on the same day. You can't beat those California towns when it comes to rivalry.

Reactions Are Numerous

WASHINGTON, June 1.—President Roosevelt's proposal of American participation in a "consultative pact" with the rest of the world is tentative, of course.

A vast amount of authority has been voted by congress to the White House in the last few weeks, but not the power to conclude, and then ratify treaties. Ratification still is up to the senate.

Just what a consultative pact might be, if entered into, is a problem.

Definitions enough are available, but no two of them are alike.

Secretary of State Hull's interpretation—to the effect that the United States is simply to "consult" with the world's other powers, if international peace is threatened — obviously is inadequate.

Ambassador-at-large Norman H. Davis, speaking for the president, certainly told the delegates at Geneva that Uncle Sam, IF so-and-so, is to be pledged to do considerably more than merely consult.

If There's Trouble—

IF there is a row—

And IF the U. S. is called into consultation concerning it—

And IF the other powers decide what country is to blame—

And IF the U. S. agrees with them—

Why, then, seemingly (judging from Ambassador-at-large Davis' remarks at Geneva) the U. S. more or less undertakes to abandon neutrality and join the rest of the outfit in doing something or other. It is not very clear what.

In fact, from the point where Uncle Sam abandons neutrality, interpretation of the plan begins (as they express it in the "delta") to "run hog wild".

League of Nations delegates at Geneva are even named as authorities for the assertion that the Roosevelt offer "goes farther than President Wilson was prepared to go in 1919."

In England, it appears, the interpretation placed on Ambassador-at-large Davis' Geneva speech is that President Roosevelt is ready, in Uncle Sam's behalf, to waive further insistence upon the principle of "freedom of the seas"—in John Bull's favor, that is to say.

These probably are extreme interpretations—or MIS-interpretations.

There undeniably were numerous qualifying clauses in Ambassador-at-large Davis' speech. Secretary of State Hull also emphasizes the explanation that the United States does not propose to surrender "freedom of action".

Own Interpretations

In their interpretations, however, the European representatives show their usual tendency, in such cases, to ignore all qualifications, and do their interpreting ad lib, to suit their own European advantage. It will be recalled by many folk, perhaps, that they frequently have done the same thing in the matter of war debts. Their interpretations can be disputed as to their accuracy, to be sure, but always with extreme difficulty—and ill-feeling on the mistaken interpreters' part, too.

At a guess, one may reasonably surmise that the administration is considerably surprised by more than a few of the interpretations placed on Ambassador-at-large Davis' words since he uttered them at Geneva, but it is too late to back up now.

The administration foot is in the quicksand and quicksand never lets go.

READY FOR A FIZZLE

Quite a few students of Roosevelt advinistration policies are beginning to think they see the reason for Assistant Secretary of State Moley's insistence upon the easy possibility of American prosperity, regardless of the rest of the world, in the face of his chief, Secretary Hull's insistence upon the theory that world prosperity must come first.

The students' notion is that the administration is not unmindful of the danger of a fizzle at the June International Economic conference in London, and wants Moley on record, to quote to the effect that failure there is of no consequence to this country, even if it occurs.

On the other hand, it is believed the White House places considerable reliance on Secretary Hull's croakings, in the meantime, to frighten overseas governments into better trading terms than the unquestionably bad ones of today.

Tokio dispatches describe the Japanese government as not entirely hopeless of an interpretation of President Roosevelt's consultative proposals in harmony with its Asiatic mainland program.

FRANCE SKEPTICAL

French press interpreters of President Roosevelt's appeal for arms reduction are mentioned in Paris cables as skeptical of any meaning in the utterance to justify faith in the security of Gallic interests.

LONDON'S INTERPRETATION

President Roosevelt's offer of American acquiescence in a consultation pact is interpreted by English newspapers, according to messages from London, as implying Uncle Sam's abandonment of historic demand for freedom of the seas.

HITLER PLEASED

Berlin reports speak of Chancellor Hitler as interpreting President Roosevelt's recent succession of peace broadcasts unmistakably in favor of military reduction by Germany's neighbor to a level with the fatherland's own status.

ITALY SATISFIED

Accounts from Rome says Premier Mussolini interprets President Roosevelt's arms reduction program in a light complementary to the pact which Italy's plenipotentiaries are urging at Geneva, and believes that the two can appropriately be combined.

Believe It Or Not — By Ripley

(This Daily Feature)

On request, sent with stamped, self-addressed envelope, Ripley will send proof and details of anything BY RIPLEY depicted by him.

I drew this picture last night in a city overlooking Lake Victoria in the heart of Africa. Not far away, near Lake Tanganyika, is the sacred mountain of Mwariye, where the celebrated chiefs of the Kibondo tribe are buried. This peak has been made taboo, and nobody is permitted to gaze at the mountain sepulchre of black royalty under pain of death.

The gangster, handcuffed around the neck, is a member of the Gang tribe of Uganda. (They have gangs in Africa.) This log, which is fastened around the gangster's neck, is made of ebony, and heavier than the man whom I sketched wearing it.

As I sat on the veranda of the hotel I saw a steamboat enter the harbor. Believe It Or Not this boat was built in England, over 8000 miles away, and was mailed in small pieces by parcel post to the center of Africa, where it was reassembled on the shore of this great lake.

FDR Speaks For Navy Graduates

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 1. (AP) — President Roosevelt today handed the commissions to the 1933 naval academy graduating class with an injunction to the new officers to make friends with their countrymen.

Departing from his brief prepared speech, Mr. Roosevelt disclosed to the cheering assemblage in Dahlgren hall that "I love the United States navy more than any other branch of the government."

The former assistant secretary of the navy beamed his interest in the occasion with a broad smile as he handed over the neatly rolled commissions to the white clad graduates. He recalled on his last visit here on a similar occasion as assistant secretary he had "disgraced" himself by "going sound asleep during the principal address."

As the president concluded his short talk, a cheer leader took the platform and the midshipmen roared a "navy" for him.

"Boze" Berger, former Maryland basketball star, will play second base for the New Orleans Pelicans this summer.

new alarm was spread immed- ly throughout the tri-state area. he trail of the fleeing desper- es led into Oklahoma from Ar- nsas this morning. Three men, eved to have been three of the aped prisoners, engaged Police ief Bob La Follette of Siloam rings, Ark., in a gun battle last ht after abandoning a car be- ging to the E. J. Wood family in nsas and stealing another.

The Wood car was stolen by the nvicts in Kansas Tuesday. The stolen here last night was found the end of a country lane north here where the men apparently ided to go on foot because of ndition of the roads.

A Siloam Springs posse trailed the , one of whom was believed to Underhill, to near Maysville, Ark., ere they lost the trail. It was ked up again later six miles across Oklahoma line where the men parently were heading toward the okson hills—a refuge since before tehood for outlaws.

This evening officers still were troling roads and armed citizens ove their cars over the country- e seeking trace of the men.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, June 1. (AP)—Reports that new inflationary developments at Washington were forthcoming brought about a sharp recovery of grain values today, and offset early losses.

KANSAS CITY REPORT

KANSAS CITY, June 1. (AP)—Steady to 15 higher prices predominated in trade for fed steers and yearlings around the eleven-market circuit, with receipts moderate to light at all points. A spread of $.25@6.25 secured the majority of consignments, with several loads of good to choice offerings at 6.50@7.50. Choice 1,365 lb. steers in Chicago cleared at 7.35, which marks a new high point considering the weight. Prices in vogue at present show that last week's losses on fed steers have been fully recovered in many instances. Receipts for the day at eleven markets numbered 24,100, as compared with 19,586 last Thursday and 22,107 the same day a year ago.

Generally speaking, prices of hogs carried a steady to 10 lower trend, with Chicago securing an early top of 4.95, although at a late hour that market was deadlocked with around 12,000 to 15,000 hogs unsold.

Steady to 25 higher rates were tabulated on lambs and yearlings in the day's business. Most lambs cleared around 7.00 @8.00, while the majority of shorn yearlings made 5.50@6.65.

Stocks

WALL STREET REPORT

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, June 1. (AP)—Financial markets quieted today. Stocks were a bit choppy in the morning, but buyers again polished up the metal shares and later the rails, with the result that final prices were higher, though moderately so in many cases.

Wheat took an early slide, then hardened and finished virtually unchanged. Cotton was mixed, closing with small losses. The bond market averages made a new high.

Business news maintained its recent reputation for cheerfulness. It included a rise in electric power production of almost 5 per cent compared with a year ago, car loadings for several railroads that were larger than a year ago, appearance of 8 cent copper and the optimistic trade association reports to Secretary Roper. Stocks were much more lively on advances than on declines but turnover was reduced to 4,783,300 shares.

Metal issues flourished nearly all day.

A $72,000,000 jump in brokers' loans bespoke speculative activity in markets. The increase followed a drop of $55,000,000 in the preceding week and was, with one exception, the largest rise of the spring "bull market." Margin buying of shares, brokers report, has picked up appreciably.

Plane Crash

ed to him after the crash, about 30 miles up in the mountains here, that he had been flying low and following the railroad tracks which wind through the pass and out the the Mojave desert to the east.

Heads For Upper Air

Suddenly he saw what he thought was a hole in the fog. It appeared to be between two foothills. Opening the throttles of his motors, he headed for upper air. The big ship crawled past the first foothill, but not the second. The motors could not pull the ship to sufficient altitude quickly enough and the plane tore into the earth and was wrecked.

The accident today at first brought confusing reports of a mid-air collision between two planes. Later this was disproved when the second March Field plane in the air, an observation ship flown by Lieut. William Trible, was located safely at its destination, Las Vegas, Nev.

sons to whom were sold for $75 by Drexel & campany 90,061 units of United Corporation securities which soon thereafter commanded a public market price of $99 and those to whom were sold by Morgan & company 56,500 units of Niagara Hudson Power at $35 when the market listing was approximately $36.

Sales Were In 1929

Sales of both were in 1929—before Couch, who was down for 500 Niagara Hudson, entered the government service and before Owen J. Roberts, who was listed for 100 United, became a supreme court justice.

Along with Couch on the Niagara list were R. B. Mellon, J. Henry Roraback and O. P. Van Sweringen. Among those getting United were W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, and Pennsylvania Supreme Court Justices John W. Kephart and William O. Schaffer. Governor Pinchot already had demanded their resignation for being on a previous list.

Before this sixth day of the investigation began, spectators crowding into the committee room saw a circus midget—Lya Graf— plumped down into the lap of Morgan.

Although the banker chatted with the midget when she first was presented to him, he frowned as pictures were made and Chairman Fletcher, who had been absent in an executive hearing of the committee at the time of the incident, protested against it later as against the "dignity" of the committee.

Lubbock Motorcycle Club Is Invited To Play At Chicago

E. C. Smith, secretary of American Motorcycle association of Columbus, Ohio, has suggested to Roy Lynch of Lubbock that the Lubbock motorcycle polo club meet the Aurora, Ill., team in a game played at the Century of Progress in Chicago.

Smith refers to the Lubbock club as "the outstanding club in Texas."

The lowest first loss in 19 years was reported in Cincinnati in 1932.

Santa Fe Special Officer Tells Of Problems Facing Railroads Today

"Bull" Jones (W. B. Jones to a few persons on the Panhandle-Plains who don't know him) of Amarillo was here last night. Now superintendent of the Santa Fe special service for the Southern district of Western Santa Fe lines, Jones has been with the railway company since 1912.

Handling of transients who ride freight trains, damage to railway property, and looting of loaded cars were some of the subjects Jones discussed informally in the sheriff's office.

The railways can keep "hoboes" from free rides, but the problem is nation-wide and all railroads must move together to end the imposition, Jones said. He said he expected some action within 90 days.

Some of the so-called "white-collar" class are riding the cars. Two traveling salesmen, leaving Amarillo on a Sunday night, were removed from a freight between here and the Panhandle metropolis recently. Indignant, they told the trainman it was their practice to leave Amarillo every Sunday night on a freight train. A jeweler a few days ago was ejected from a box car. He was wearing coveralls over his business suit.

Destruction of railway property has been heavy during the past 60 days, especially setting fire to box cars, Jones said. Looting of cars has been "below normal," he reported.

Jones, who formerly lived in Slaton, is enroute from San Angelo to his home. With him last night were Zeke Bates, Santa Fe special officer of San Angelo, and Louie Ares and Fent Stallings, special officers of Slaton.

deficit and place the state on its feet financially.

Much legislation was rushed through in the closing hours.

Both houses adopted a free conference report to combine the offices of tax assessor and tax collector, the change having been authorized by a constitutional amendment adopted last November.

Report Is Adopted

A conference committee report on a bill to pay miscellaneous claims was adopted after an appropriation of $500,000 to reimburse West Texas farmers for loses incurred in pink boll worm eradication, another $500,000 to pay East Texas counties for money expended in cattle tick eradication and $122,000 to pay farmers in Galveston, Harris and Chambers counties had been eliminated.

Conference reports on bills to increase tuition fees at state institutions of higher education and to permit the institutions to retain their local funds also were adopted.

Only one major piece of tax legislation was passed. This levied a tax of two cents per barrel on the production of oil and placed oil pipe lines under the intangible assets tax law. It was estimated the law would yield between 12 and 14 million dollars.

Sales Tax Rejected

The legislature rejected the administration's proposal to levy a sales tax.

It also declined to pass bills to establish an elective highway commission and to establish a natural resources commission to relieve the Texas railroad commission of its duties in that respect.

In addition to the questions that will be submitted August 26, the legislature had approved eight other proposed constitutional amendments to be decided at the general election in 1934.

Relief legislation played a prominent part in the session. Banks, insurance companies and mortgaged property owners were the recipients of moratoria legislation.

Adjournment of the session left Mrs. Ferguson free to appoint a chairman of the Texas highway commission without submitting her appointee to the senate for confirmation unless a special session is called. Her appointment of Frank L. Denison of Temple as chairman was twice rejected by the senate.

The case was appealed to the courts and the supreme court yesterday decided Denison did not have any right to the office.

her age variously as 20, 22 and 31.

Before long, she was escorted away by the unnamed man in brown who brought her and put her on Morgan's lap, having told her— as she said, that he would introduce her "to the richest man in the world."

Jocose remarks were bantered by the spectators about the scene having a "circus touch," which Senator Carter Glass had insisted last week was the case save for "peanuts and pink lemonade."

The impression was that the midget's escort was a circus press agent. This was disavowed, however, after a receipt of the committee protest.

"We didn't have anything to do with that," said Frank Braden, a circus representative, raising his hands in depreciation. "It was a 'natural' and you can't beat a 'natural.'"

Haresfoot, You Say?

Here we have pictures of a football player and—what's that? Not Joe Cook imitating four Hawaiians! No, it's the same football player, Mickey McGuire, putting on the hula-hula for the boys at the University of Wisconsin. Mickey, an Irishman born in Hawaii, and an All Big Ten halfback last fall, indicated how the hula-hula is performed for the benefit of the Haresfoot (what's that you say?) club at the university.

Present Costs Of Traveling Higher Professor States

Present transportation costs are more than twice as high as they were in 1911, according to figures obtained by Carl Henninger, associate professor of French and German at Texas Technological college.

Professor Henninger, who made a trip to Europe in 1911, plans to leave soon for Geneva to study several weeks at the University of Geneva. The steamship fare on the first trip for second class, was $120.00, including $57.50 for the round trip and $3.40 for meals and berth. The present second class cost is $265. Tourist class fare is $191.

Railway fare from Lubbock to New York and return is $118, while in 1911 Professor Henninger said the round trip fare from Grand Forks, N. D., to New York was $55. The distance is approximately the same, he said. Passports were not required and taxes were not collected on trans-Atlantic trips at the time of his first voyage, he explained.

Total cost of the 1911 trip, including a six-week stay in Germany, was about $240, while a similar trip today would cost more than twice that amount despite reductions in steamship fares of about $100 in the last three years, Professor Henninger said.

BUY NEW MEXICO LAND

Southern Cotton Farmers Are Poorer, According To Survey

Cotton Largely Produced During 1931 For Health And Amusement; Losses Shown By List Of States

UNIVERSITY, Va., June 1 (AP)—The southern farmer's complete subservience to "King Cotton" has made him worse off economically than the farmer of any other large section of the nation, and has resulted, for many decades, in the impoverishment of the section, it is asserted in a study of the cotton cooperatives in the southeast soon to be published for the institute for research in the social sciences of the University of Virginia.

Among the leading cotton states of the United States, the study shows, 48.5 per cent of the aggregate value of all crops for the ten year period 1920-1930 was made up of cotton and cotton seed. In Mississippi approximately 65 per cent of the crop emphasis was upon cotton, and Texas was not far behind with 62.4 per cent. Arkansas, Alabama and South Carolina showed more than half of their aggregate crop values over the ten year period in cotton.

More Than 40 Per Cent

On the acreage basis, the study shows that 40 per cent of the total acreage devoted to chrops in the south was planted in cotton. Texas and Mississippi showed more than 50 per cent, and Arkansas and South Carolina averaged more than 40 per cent.

Using data available for the year 1930, the conclusion was drawn that the average annual net cash income of the southern farmer was more than 50 per cent below the national acreage devoted to crops in the this figure is added the value of food production and consumed on the farm, and the interest on farm investment at 5 per cent is deducted, the conclusion is reached that farmers of the South Atlantic states received $177 less than nothing, and those of the south central states $69 less than nothing for their hours and days of toil.

Poor Farmers Predominate

"Unfortunately," the study says, "the poorer farmers greatly preponderate in the south due to the large amount of tenacy which prevails. Under present conditions, even the best farmers, in spite of their resourcefulness, are weathering the storm with extreme difficulty, and they are doing so only at the expense of severe retrenchments in living standards or increased mortgage indebtedness.

Thirteen states are to be found among the fourteen lowest ranking states in per capita wealth. A large correspondence is to be found between the amounts of accumulated wealth and the rank of these states in farm income. Since the south is the predominantly rural section of the United States, its prosperity is still preponderantly the reflection of the farmers wealth and income. Much of this is the result of the prolonged era of unprofitable cotton farming."

Cost Is Shown

Turning to the cost of producing cotton, the study shows that in 1931 not a single producing state so much as broke even on its cotton production, losses ranging from $5 per bale in Missouri to $29.50 a bale in Oklahoma. In that year, it was shown, the United States produced 17,096,000 bales at a net loss of $282,084,000, or an average loss of $16.50 per bale.

By states, the losses were, Alabama, $17.50 per bale; Arkansas $15; Florida $27.50; Georgia, $16.50; Louisiana $16; Mississippi $13; Missouri $5; North Carolina $10; Oklahoma $29.50; South Carolina $15; Tennessee $12.50; Texas $27.50, and Virginia, $11.

Explaining how such a situation is possible, the authors pointed out that total production costs include rent and labor, and that therefore "the southern cotton farmer in 1931 produced cotton largely for his health and amusement."

WASHINGTON, June 1. (AP) — Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh today came to the defense of lighter-than-air ships as a vital phase in the general development of aviation in testimony before a joint congressional committee investigating the Akron disaster.

Asked his opinion of the cause of the Akron disaster, the colonel criticised the naval policy of restricting continuation of command.
