

Many New Events Added To Quail Fair This Year

Activities Of 2-Day Event Expected To Draw Record Crowds

With many new departments added, a record-breaking attendance is predicted for the annual Quail Fair and Project Show Thursday and Friday, October 5 and 6. A free gate and free admittance to all exhibits, to the baseball game Thursday afternoon and to the rodeo Friday is one of the star features of the show, which will be held at the Quail High School.

This fair, the outstanding community event of the year in the Quail school district, draws visitors from all parts of this and adjoining counties.

"Despite the fact that crop shortage, due to dry weather, has interfered with our plans and our exhibits, we can still assure the people of the county that this two day event will be the most outstanding in the history of the community," said Carl Chaudoin, general superintendent.

One new feature of this year will be a colorful fireworks display Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. All residents of Quail and the surrounding communities have been invited to gather to witness this event. Another outstanding feature will be the barbecue dinner, served Friday from 12 o'clock until 2 o'clock.

For the first time in the history of the fair, a carnival, The Dudley Show, is being brought to Quail for the duration of the event. This show will be at the Fair grounds from Tuesday night.

Poultry Breeders Win At Tri-State

Two Wellington poultry breeders were included in the list of winners at the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo, which closed Saturday, Sept. 23.

Mrs. Guy Clay, who has been breeding Cornish Game Chickens for several years, won sixteen places, including four sweepstakes. Mrs. Clay has shown her chickens at a large number of fairs over the country and has won many awards. She was recently invited to show at the Dallas Fair this fall.

In the Black Cochon bantam class, Mr. Lindsey placed first on cockerels; first and second on pullets. In the White Crested Black Polish bantams he placed first on the pens.

Mrs. Clay won the following awards in the open English class: Cocks, second and third; cockerel, first; hens, first, second and fourth; pullets, first and third; old pens, first, second, third and fourth; she won sweepstakes awards on the best twenty birds in the entire show; on the largest and best display in the English class; for the best parti-colored hen in the entire show and the best parti-colored pullet in the entire show.

The poultry exhibits were considered the best that have ever been shown at the Amarillo Fair.

Cotton Marketing Quota Referendum Announced

Resident Of 50 Years Ago Here

Mrs. Nonie Laune, who came to Collingsworth County almost fifty years ago, was a visitor here Friday night en route to her home in Washington, D. C., from California. She was a guest of Mrs. W. O. Richards.

Since the death of her husband several years ago, Mrs. Laune has made her home with her son-in-law, who is a captain in the United States Army, in Washington and New York.

She last visited in Wellington eight years ago.

Independence Host To Harmon County Singing Sat. - Sun.

The semi-annual Harmon County Singing Convention will be held Saturday night and Sunday, Sept. 30 and Oct. 1, at Independence, Lonnie Cooper, chairman of the singing announced here Tuesday.

This singing has in the past attracted a large number of singers from this county, and an even larger crowd from here is expected to attend this time, due to the nearness of Independence community to this county. Independence is located four miles west of Vinson on the highway.

"We are inviting especially all the Collingsworth County people, for they are our neighbors in reality as well as in singing. Come and make it a good time for all of us," urged Mr. Cooper.

Former School Teacher Describes

Mission Work In Waring China

War in Europe has shifted the American thought away from war in the Orient, but that war still is being waged, and the aftermath of invasion is being dealt with, as revealed graphically in a letter received recently from Miss Blanche Groves, a former teacher in this county, who is now a missionary from the Baptist Church at Soochow, China.

Miss Groves taught the Lillie School in 1915, and made many friends here at that time. She has visited here several times since. For the last nineteen years she has been doing mission work in China. Early in the Sino-Japanese war, she was in Shanghai, the first of the great cities of China to fall before the Japanese invasion. After a visit in America, she returned, and has been located

Conservation Program To Go On Despite Outcome Of Dec. 8 Election

Cotton farmers throughout the nation will again determine, by referendum vote, if the cotton marketing quotas will be continued for 1940. This vote will be taken on Saturday, December 9, and will be conducted in a manner similar to the referendum of last year and the year before, W. K. Cottingham, county agent, was notified this week.

The cotton marketing quota for 1940 has been set the same as for 1939, but unless the cotton raisers themselves vote for continuance of the quotas, they will not be in effect next year.

Collingsworth County farmers voted overwhelmingly for the quotas last December. Out of the 921 votes cast, 820 votes were in favor of the marketing quotas.

Regardless of the outcome of the referendum, conservation phases of the Agricultural Conservation program will be continued next year, the local conservation office has been notified.

The supply of cotton on hand on August 1 amounted to 25,500,000, according to the department.

Skyrockets Meet Wheeler In First Conference Tilt

Strong Mustangs Have 40 To 0 Win In Only Conference Game

The Wellington Skyrockets will play their first conference game Friday night, Sept. 29, when they meet the Wheeler Mustangs on the Mustang field.

Entering the game with one loss and one tie behind them, the Rockets will face a team which in its only conference game this season defeated the Lakeview Eagles 40 to 0. This is balanced somewhat by the fact that the Rockets met two teams as strong as any that will be met by class 3-A teams this year, one with the powerful Mangum, Okla., Tigers, and the other with the Class AA Quannah Indians. Wheeler, on the other hand, won over the smallest school and one of the weakest teams in this district.

But neither the Rockets, their coach, nor their fans are expecting the game to be an easy one. Coach Willard Hareum's mustangs are heavier, both in the line and backfield, than are the Rockets. Moreover, in the game with Lakeview, they scored on anything they wanted to, witnesses to the game report—on passes, around end, and through the center.

In the backfield, Wheeler is considered unusually strong, since they have two men who are large and powerful, working with two men who are small and fast.

"It looks like the Mustangs have a well balanced team, and they are pointing to the Rocket game," said Coach John Williams Wednesday morning.

As to the Rockets, Coach Williams reported that considerable improvement was shown by them in their game last week, however, they have been working during this week on the weak points which

Auxiliary Closes Innoculation Of Indigent Children

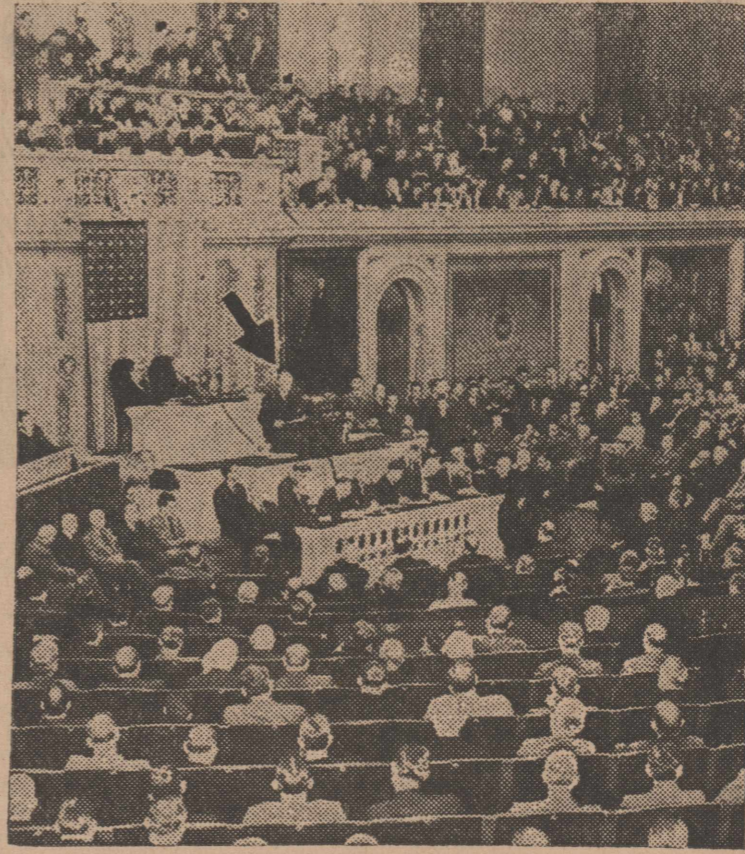

Administering of typhoid and diphtheria inoculations to indigent children has been completed by the St. Joseph's Auxiliary. This work, originally designed to run three weeks, has continued for seven weeks, due to the interest shown through the county.

During the time 293 boys and girls, including about 40 colored children, were treated, and a total of 953 shots for the typhoid and diphtheria were given.

"We wish to thank the people of the county for their co-operation and help in this most worthy work. At the beginning we had no idea that our work would extend so far, or that so many children would be reached," said Mrs. Chas. B. Jones, who has been in charge of the work.

80 Per Cent Of Parity Checks Here

So far, 2,198 checks have been received, totaling $149,821.74.

"As far as we can tell at present, the county will get approximately $195,000 in parity payments from the government for 1939," commented Clyde Emmert, county A.C.A. chairman.

The remaining thousand checks are expected to arrive during the next few weeks.

Skyrockets Hold Class AA Indians To Scoreless Tie

Strong Drive Threatens Deep In Indian Territory As Game Ends

By BILLIE RAINER
A smoother working Skyrocket eleven Friday night held the Class AA Quana Indians to a scoreless tie, and throughout most of the sixty minutes of play kept the ball in Indian territory.

Improved defense work was obvious to Rocket fans from the beginning of the game. That the offense was also better co-ordinated was proved after the Rockets made good gains through the strong Indian line, and three times penetrated beyond the opponent's 20-yard line.

Twice the Rockets proved a serious threat to the Quana boys. Denzil Ingram, taking the ball on the Indian 16-yard line, carried it to the 2-yard line, where he fumbled, and the ball was recovered over the goal line by the Indians. This automatically gave them a touchback and the ball on their own 20-yard line.

The Rockets were well on their way to a touchdown during the last minute of play, and had the ball on the Indians' 8-yard line as the whistle blew. Beginning this advance, Boyd Williams carried the ball from his own 39-yard line to the Quana 47. Ingram's pass to George Stafford was incomplete, but on the next play, Boyd Williams took Ingram's pass on the 25-yard stripe. The third play in this passing attack, this time from Ingram to Stafford, was good for 14 yards, putting the ball on the Indians' 11-yard line. Big Pete Moulton hit right tackle for three yards as the game ended.

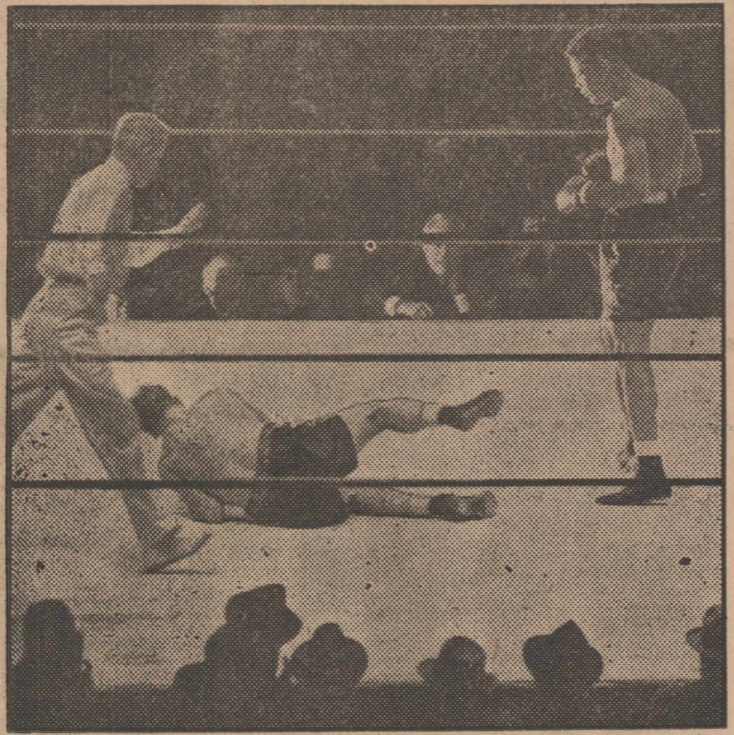

A summary of the game is as follows:

Wellington kicked to Quana, the ball being returned to their 41-yard line, where they fumbled and Bryan Williams covered for the Skyrockets. Three plays failed to gain through the Indian line, forcing the Rockets to punt. The Indians made three futile tries for a first down through the Rocket line but they also had to punt. Ingram passed to George Stafford for a first down on the Wellington 41-yard line. Three plays by Harper, Williams and Ingram failed to get the necessary yardage for a first down and the Rockets punted deep into Indian territory, but it was returned to the 39-yard line. On their first play Brewer intercepted a pass on the Quana 40-yard line. Then came the Rockets' biggest threat to score. Boyd picked up nine yards around right end. Ingram got a yard and a first down over center on the Indian 30-yard line. Boyd hit right tackle for seven yards. Ingram got another yard over center. Smith picked up six yards and a first down putting the ball on the Quana 16-yard stripe. On the next play, Ingram carried the pigskin down to the Indian 2-yard line where he fumbled. The ball rolled over the goal line and the Indians covered it there, automatically giving them a touchback and the ball on their own 20-yard line.

On the next two plays the Indians picked up nine yards to their 29-yard line. Moulton threw Wells for a three-yard loss. A pass from Wells to Tate was good for six yards and a first down on their own 33-yard line. On the next play Wells carried the ball to his 42-yard marker. Lowery picked up the necessary yardage for a first down to the 45.

SECOND QUARTER
The Indians failed to make enough yardage on the next three plays to get a first down, forcing them to punt to Smith on his own 20. Smith made a nice return of eleven yards. Three attempts at the Indian line by Williams and Harper failed and Ingram punted to the Quana 23. Forsythe, Wells and Lowery failed to gain a first down. Their greatest mistake in their plays was that all three of them tried to go over Pete Moulton. Wells punted to Bobby Genusa on the Wellington 36-yard line. Bobby fumbled and the Indians recovered. Pete Moulton stopped Wells twice for no gain, then Belov intercepted Forsythe's pass on the 39-yard line and returned it to the 36. A pass from Ingram to Stafford and two ground attacks failed to get a first down. Ingram punted out on the Indians' 24-yard line. Forsythe and Wells got six yards over each guard but Wells fumbled on the next play and lost two yards. Wells punted to Harper on his own 40, Harper returning to his 49, before he was pulled down by a whole tribe of Indians. Harper got three yards over left guard but Moulton fumbled on the next play and Quana recovered on their own 47-yard line. Wells fumbled and White recovered on the Indian 48. A pass to Williams from Ingram was good for seven yards as the half ended.

THIRD QUARTER

Wells kicked to Smith on the 20 and Smith returned to his 39-yard stripe. Two passes and a ground play failed to gain. Ingram punted out on the Quana 30-yard line. Moulton got Epps for a 5-yard loss and on the next play Boyd Williams threw him for a yard loss. Bryan Williams batted down the pass from Wells to Jolley. Wells punted to Smith on the 45 and Smith returned to mid-field. Harper, behind beautiful blocking, picked up 12 yards through left guard. Boyd got a yard at the line but fumbled on the next play and the Indians recovered on their own 29. The Indians then started an attack that carried the ball from their own 29-yard line to the Rockets' 46. They were then thrown back to their own 39 through a 5-yard setback executed by Moulton and Brewer, a yard by Cox and a 14-yard loss by the work of Pete Moulton. Epps punted to Smith on his 30-yard line, Smith returning to his 38. Smith picked up nine yards through center but Wellington drew a 15-yard penalty for clipping, putting the ball on the Rocket 32-yard line. Two passes were incomplete so Ingram punted out on the Quana 34. Lowery hit the Rocket line three times, gaining twenty yards, to the Rocket 46-yard line, where they drew a 15-yard penalty for holding. They failed to gain anymore and were forced to punt to Harper on his 40-yard line. He returned to the Quana 49. Boyd fumbled and Quana recovered on the Wellington 44. Wellington got the ball back on the next play when Ingram intercepted Epps' pass on the Indians' 42. A pass and three ground plays failed to get a first down for the Rockets after they received a 15-yard penalty so Ingram punted the ball over the Quana goal line, giving the ball to the Indians on their own 20-yard line. The Indians went backwards instead of advancing the oval on the next three plays. Fred Cox nailed Epps for a three-yard loss. Epps picked up two of it back off right tackle. Quana drew a five-yard penalty for offside. Big Pete Moulton stopped Epps for a 3-yard loss, putting the ball back on the Indian 9-yard line. Epps punted out to his 43-yard line where the ball was killed. Williams hit the line three times and Ingram tried it once but all was in vain so the Indians took the ball on downs on their 34. Epps hit both tackles and netted three yards at each but the pass from Epps to Crawford fell incomplete, forcing Epps to punt to Harper on the 40, who made a nice return of 10 yards. Boyd Williams lost five yards in a try at right end. A pass from Ingram to Stafford fell incomplete and Ingram's next pass was intercepted by Epps on the Quana 40 but the play was called back and the Indians drew a 15-yard penalty for unnecessary roughness. Bobby Genusa got six yards but fumbled and Quana recovered on their own 34. The Indians took to the air but failed to get first down. Epps to Crawford was good for three yards. Epps to Lowery fell incomplete. Epps to Jolley was good for six yards but lacked a yard of a first down. Epps punted to the Wellington 39 where the ball was killed. With one minute to play, the Rockets took to the air and again penetrated the Quana 20-yard line. Williams picked up 14 yards around right end to the Indians' 47. A pass from Ingram to Stafford fell incomplete; another pass from Ingram to Boyd Williams was good for 22 yards, putting the ball on the Quana 25. A pass from Ingram to Stafford was good for 14 yards to the enemy 11-yard marker. Powerhouse Moulton hit right tackle for three yards as the game ended.

From The Sideline

The Wellington High School showed football power Friday night when the Skyrockets held the Quana Indians to a 0-0 score. The way the whole town of Quana was shouting after the game, you might have thought they had won a victory by holding a Class A team to a scoreless tie.

Nothing worked too good for the Skyrockets Friday night except their ground attack, which was sparked by Boyd Williams, totaling approximately 120 yards to 70 yards for the Indians on the ground. The Skyrockets also outnumbered the Indians in first downs, 7 to 5. The penetrations are unknown by Sidelines. The Skyrockets tried fourteen forward passes with only three completed for a total of 40 yards. The Indians tried fourteen forward passes with five completed, for a total distance of 39 yards. The Skyrockets had no passes intercepted while the Indians had three intercepted. The Rockets fumbled five times while the Indians fumbled only three times. Punts for the Skyrockets numbered ten, for the Indians, seven. The Skyrockets received four penalties which tied the Indians' penalties.

The game Friday night was a game for both the Skyrockets and the Indians. Both teams were playing under a handicap of a game from the past week end. And both teams came out with nothing to brag about. So we start the coming conference with one game lost and one tied.

Next Friday night the Skyrockets meet the Wheeler Mustangs on their stomping grounds for the first conference game for Wellington. After seeing the Rockets' first two games of the season, and checking the Mustangs' record for the season, I believe the Rockets are going to chalk up their first win of the season Friday night.

In the game Friday night with the Indians, Boyd Williams showed his ability as a hard fighting Rocket. Most of the yardage for the Rockets on rushing plays was picked up by this capable quarterback, while John Calvin Harper proved that he was just what Sidelines named him last week—TNT. Denzil Ingram, who is also in the Rocket backfield, played heads-up football in the Indian-Rocket game. Keith Smith has had some tough luck and had breaks in his two games of the season, but that boy has what it takes, and I will still hold to my prediction that he will be in the spotlight of outstanding plays during the coming games.

Getting into the Rocket line, Pete Moulton was the lad who was always last to his feet on the left end runs tried by the Indians Friday night. Never during the whole game did I see one man slip by his position. He manages to "get his man."

Getting around right end is another hopeless case for the ball carrier, because there is stationed the ever faithful George Stafford, who always "gets his man." George played a whale of a game against the Indians, stopping all of their right end plays.

Space in this column won't permit me to go into detail about the individual playing of the Rockets, but I can say that every member of the Rocket squad played his respective part in the Rocket-Indian game.

Now to look on the Quana side of the game. They were a hard team for any Class A team to expect to beat. Wells, who made most of the yardage for the Indians, was one of the greatest threats to the Rockets while he was in the backfield. He was moved to center when the regular pivot man was injured. He might have made the score different had he stayed in the backfield. His average was eleven yards gained per each try, while he was in the backfield position. Each of the other Indians were playing up to the pace set by him.

After Wells was shifted to center position, Epps filled his full-back berth and started slinging the pigskin. This had the Rockets somewhat on their toes, wondering what was really going to happen next. Goaded by the work of Brewer they proceeded to do a little bit of intercepting, which worked out very nicely to the Rockets' advantage.

All in all the Skyrockets have a nice working team this year. They have the cooperation which it takes to make a winning team and all they have to do is to go out on the field and win—and that is just what they are going to do this coming Friday night at Wheeler. Coach John Williams has done a very good job of getting the boys to work together and has instructed them well. What they have been waiting for is their first conference game and then they are going to show some real Skyrocket football. And when I say Skyrocket football I mean winning by a safe margin. If you don't get what I mean by a safe margin, check the Rocket scores made against their opponents last year, and the subject will be clarified.

Sidelines was unable to get the standings of the teams of this district this week, but next week it will be printed in his column for your information. After all, next week is when the Skyrockets play their first conference game and that is where we really want to know where they stand.

Extensive Game Migration Noted

The stringent manner in which Texas Game Laws are enforced were described this week by Austin O'Neil state game warden, who with L. C. Cole, game warden from Paducah, and Sheriff Lewis Cartwright of Benjamin, arrested a Knox County man charged with killing an elk.

"Elk aren't usually found in that county, and we are unable to tell just where it came from," the warden said.

"This year, however, there has been one of the greatest migration of game and game birds out of the Canadian River section, and in other parts of the state, that has been known in years.

"It may be a sign of an unusually severe winter ahead—animals are good weather prophets—or it may be that the sections they are now in are overstocked," he added.

The elk head, which was confiscated in Knox County, was placed in the Wellington Ice Co. house, and will be sent to the State Game Department at Austin.

A Satisfactory Year Is Ahead

For The Members Of The Farmers Co-op. Society Number 1

Since this gin belongs to its members, The Farmers Co-Op Gin is glad to report that a satisfactory year lies ahead. The gin started off the ginning season in 1939 $3,000 better off than it was at the beginning of the season a year ago. With the co-operation that we are now receiving and which we will continue to receive, you need have no uncertainty about receiving a substantial dividend at the end of the season.

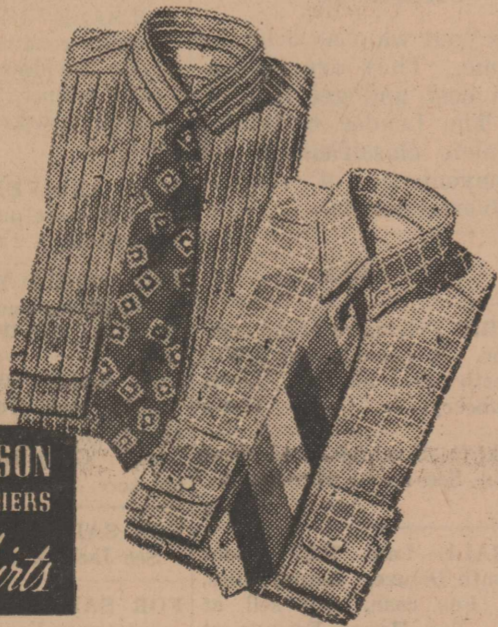

A nice dividend is assured, but since this is your business we want to point out this fact. You can make that dividend greater simply by telling other farmers of the advantages of this institution, which renders a superlative service on handling cottonseed, on caring for sample and turnout to benefit the grower, and which returns to each one of you the surplus profit in the form of a dividend at the end of the year.

This gin is yours and your neighbors. It is always at your service—courtesy to all—favors to none. We make every effort to live up to the ideals of Co-Operative Gins—promotional interests, improved ginning, honest and efficient service. The past record of this gin is evidence of the contribution this gin makes to the welfare of the community. We invite the continued co-operation of the cotton growers of this section, for this gin does not charge you money—it makes money for you.

Deck's DIDACTICS

By H. D. W.

On the front page of The Leader this week is a story based on a letter recently written by Miss Blanche Groves. Her letter was written from Soochow, which is occupied by the Japanese and all mail from there is under their censorship. Her letter reminds me of an item I read recently. An American in Japan wrote a letter to a friend in the United States. As a postscript he added: "The Japanese censor will probably open this letter and you may never get it." Two days later he received this letter from a Japanese official: "Honorable Sir, We beg to advise you that the Japanese Government does not open private mail."

Miss Groves could write a startling story, but it would not do us any good. The letter would never reach us.

Are you getting fed up on the obvious censorship of the war news? If so, then rejoice once again that you are an American. The people of Germany, Russia, Italy and Japan have been under such censorship for years.

Are you hungry. Still rejoice that you live in the United States. A WPA worker in this country gets about twice as much meat, bread, coffee, sugar and fats as the richest German can buy on his ration card.

Last Friday I saw a group of men crowded together in a drug store. I rushed over to join them, thinking that they might have heard some late inside dope on the digestive powers of the Russian bear. Do you know what they were arguing about? They were debating on whether or not my special quadruple pass from left to right would work. Three of those who were there were Tom Campbell, Robert Lucas and Kelly Pigg. Incidentally Logan Cummings says that it will work.

A lot of people think that it is not fair for John Williams to be the only coach for Wellington when Effie Lee Richards says that Shamrock has three coaches and that they practiced all summer. Personally I know that Shamrock does have two coaches, and for all I know they may have three. Since my quadruple pass play seems to be gaining in favor, I am waiting for Bud Manzer to send over and offer me the job of assistant coach.

Mr. Lehberg has not been around to see me lately, but I sat by Robert Lucas at the Quannah game and finally talked him into being in a good humor with me.

Space is short this week, so here is condensed copy: cottonseed are selling far above the market quotation in Wellington, one man brought cotton from Jackson county and had it ginned in Wellington last week, our Skyrocket line has been doing better than some of our backfield, the rains will soon fall and lots of wheat will be planted, George Clark says that no men who served in front line trenches want to see the United States send men to another European war regardless of whether they are grown sons or not.

Over at my mother in laws the wolves caught an old turkey hen and the young turkeys came to the house. The baby beef type gobbler which Mr. Atkins bought from Mrs. W. A. Morrow promptly took the young brood in charge. Before that he had been staying around the house closely. When he became a mother, he started getting bold and ranging wide. Each morning he took the young brood out and each evening he brought them back and they roosted in the locust tree by the windmill. But last week he took them out early in the morning and he didn't last as long as the Poles. To my mind the moral of this story is that Pappas should not try to be Mammias. The women of Wellington can fuss and fume about the heroic turkey hen who died weeks ago all they want to—I have finished my story. But sure enough now, ain't the story of the old gobbler dying sadder than the fact that the turkey hen died while nursing the same brood? At least it is much sadder to me, for I was hoping to eat the gobbler on the number 1 Thanksgiving.

OUR STUDENTS TRAIN FOR LIFE

After an era in which too many educational institutions spent their time training students for jobs, preferable of the white collar variety, it is a distinct relief to numberless parents and a good many others to see the schools direct their attention to what in the old-fashioned way might be called character-building.

Wellington's school directors realize that making money, although it is important, is less important than contributing something useful to one's community or neighbors, or living in harmony with one's associates. With this in view, actual situations where service may be rendered are being provided in the local high school this year through the various clubs and extra curricula organizations which have been formed.

What these clubs may do was outlined recently by W. F. Decker, assistant superintendent, to the students.

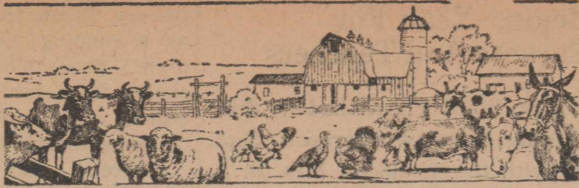

"The clubs are just as worthwhile as the students make them," he said. "Each organization must inculcate the idea of unselfish service to the student body and school, and must provide situations for the actual and constant rendering of such service. One of the functions of education is the training for citizenship. Students must take their places in the existing state of affairs and learn to do the desirable things better."

"Citizenship qualities generally become habits. Habits are acquired by doing and become fixed by constant practice. Extra curricular activities, when conducted properly, with the creation of such situations in mind are indeed rich in opportunities for such practice."

"Constant practice is necessary in the art of good living, raising standards of character, making happy social adjustments, acquiring correct attitudes, dispositions, emotions and self control, assuming responsibilities and carrying them out successfully, assuming one's self-direction, learning how to co-operate with his fellowman, using his initiative and ability in leadership."

"Straight thinking and correct living are important in any social arrangement."

GIVE THE COWS A REAL CHANCE

By T. C. Richardson, Associate Editor
Farm and Ranch
Breeder-Feeder Association

Most of the four-gallon cows are found in the classified "For Sale" columns of the daily and weekly newspapers. There's many a potential four-gallon cow growing up on Southwestern farms but a four-gallon cow is only a two-gallon cow when she is given the feed material from which to manufacture only two gallons. We have wonderful sunshine and a balmy climate in the Southwest, as compared with, say New York, Michigan or Wisconsin. But sunshine doesn't fill the milk pail, any more than moonshine does. It takes food and water, plenty of it at the right time, to bring out all the milk-making faculties of the cow, here or in the north.

Once a year on July 1 the Department of Agriculture asks its thousands of volunteer crop reporters—mostly farmers—throughout the country to report the average daily production of their cows. This date in the Southwest is in the heat of mid-summer, and after the flush milk flow of early summer has declined, while in the northern states the season corresponds more nearly to our May. The figures therefore are somewhat weighted in favor of the northern states.

The sad fact remains, however, that (with the sole exception of Mississippi) Texas and Arkansas stand at the foot of the class in daily production per cow, with 10.7 pounds. Even South Carolina bests this by a fraction. Oklahoma heads the class in the Southwest with 14.1 pounds daily per cow, or about six and a-half quarts. The most significant point is that Oklahoma has raised her average about a quart per cow during the past few years, while Texas and Arkansas have raised their average daily production only half a pound, or less than a pint per cow, during the same period.

Maybe we shouldn't expect to stand up by the side of Minnesota, (23.0 pounds) Wisconsin (22.5 pounds) New York (21.4 pounds) or Oregon (20.3 pounds) but there's something radically wrong when we fall so far below North Dakota (19.7 pounds) South Dakota (16.9 pounds) and Kansas (15.7 pounds).

Don't blame it on Old Bossy until you give her a chance to "do her stuff." We have some pretty poor cows in the Southwest, but we also have a high percentage with good Jersey blood, and we have some as good as the best anywhere in the United States. But we have been much more negligent in feeding than in breeding. The majority of our cows have never had a fair chance to prove themselves, because we have not furnished them enough of the right kind of feed and water for an entire lactation period to test their capacity for production. We have condemned many a cow as a poor producer without giving her the materials with which to produce.

There are a number of dairy cow testing associations in the Southwest, and ought to be a great many more. The average herd under test in Texas produced last year about 26 pounds of butterfat per cow in May and less than 22 pounds in September, October and November, averaging about 23 pounds per month for the year. One association (Central Plains) averaged 33 pounds in May and never fell below 24 pounds in the fall months, averaging 30 pounds for the year. It raised the average annual production per cow 16 pounds in one year, mostly by better feeding, though a few "culls" were sold after the first year's test proved they did not have the manufacturing capacity, even when supplied with the essential raw materials for milk and butterfat production.

The same association produced butterfat last year at an average feed cost of 13.4 cents per pound. Since home-grown feed constituted most of the feed cost, the feed was really "sold" to the cows on the farm, and hauled to towns in cans.

BIG GUNS OF THE WAR

Spearheading fighting forces in what may become the second World War are generals who rose from the ashes of the first to gain new fame in a rapidly rearming Europe.

General the Viscount Gort, commander of the British field units, won the Victoria Cross directing from a stretcher the successful Grenadier Guards attack at Canal du Nord. At 53, he is a comparative youth in so lofty a military position.

Known as "the tiger," Gort belongs to high London society. As a member of the Shanghai defense corps, he effected a thrilling rescue of nuns being pursued by Chinese bandits; after the last war, he directed military training in India.

A six-foot, 252-pound Scot—General Sir Edmund Ironside—best remembered as chief at Gibraltar during the recent Spanish War, is England's other top army man. The name aptly fits this 59-year-old veteran.

Ironside was the first English officer to reach France in the conflict which began 25 years ago. There he prepared trains for the first divisions of his nation's expeditionary forces. Ironside and his pet bulldog became familiar figures on the western front.

Colonel-General Wilhelm Keitel, 57-year-old chief of Germany's high command, was a World War captain and battery commander. He ascended with the Hitler regime, was formerly state secretary in the Reich ministry. A shrewd executive, Keitel is said to believe in overwhelming enemy by sheer numbers and superior mechanized units.

Nazi army commander is Colonel General Walther von Brauchitsch, 58, the son of a cavalry officer under the Kaiser's rule. His rise has been mostly by the seniority route. Schooled in the cadet corps, he served in the past war as a captain and a major. On several occasions, he has been an oratorical asset to the Fuehrer and his party.

Marshal Klementy Efremovich Voroshilov, as Soviet war commissar, is leader of the Russian troops which plunged into battle-torn Poland. Handsome, 58, he is a close friend of Stalin and perhaps the No. 2 man in Russia today. He once spread propaganda for Lenin, later led Bolsheviks in the revolution. Directing the French offensive on the western front, General Maurice Marie Gustave Gamelin, 67, is the eldest but probably the most tactical of all the commanders. After his graduation from Saint Cyr, the French West Point, he joined the Alger Rifles in Africa. A protégé of Marshall Joffre, he planned the winning strategy at the battle of the Marne, and in 1925, helped put down the Druse revolt in Syria. He knows every one of Napoleon's campaigns from memory.

Jesus In Infancy

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Oct. 1.

Text. Matthew 2:13-23.

We begin our study of the kingdom of Heaven with a lesson on the infancy of Jesus and the preservation of His earthly life. The Messiahship of Jesus was grounded in Old Testament prophecies. Jesus himself would have denied that for a future Messiah, situated as it was on the brow of a great hill where the very location suggested vision, and near enough to the great lanes of trade for contact with the teeming world of business, industry, and toil.

We shall study this kingdom of God for which we daily pray in the words that Jesus taught His disciples: "Thy kingdom come." The petition for the coming of the kingdom is inextricably associated with the petition that follows it: "Thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven."

Some commentators see in the kingdom of God the rule of God in the hearts of men and His sovereignty over human lives. It is also stressed that this kingdom of God is an internal kingdom rather than an external one. But is it not both? The doing of the will of God on earth as in Heaven is not a thing confined to the inward life. It is external in its results and it has to do with acts and relationships among men. Thus, the kingdom of God is social as well as individual. It is in time as well as in eternity, and it is earthly as well as heavenly.

ROMANCE IN NAMES (Using 61 names of Wellington people.)

George and Mary were a loving couple. To Mary he was a perfect King and he thought her a beautiful Bell. When he proposed marriage she began to Trimble, for said she, "I'm afraid I'll be a Burden as I'm not a good Cook." Said he, "Oh, Goodnight, we will eat at the Bakers, Orr at the Renner's where the Porter gives Service." Mary was Strong for this, so they went to the Parsons, and years of age.

It was under these circumstances that Joseph took Mary and the child and fled into Egypt, to remain there until after Herod's death when they returned to the homeland and dwelt in the city called Nazareth. It was from this that Jesus was to be known as "the Nazarene." Nazareth was the fitting home for a future Messiah, situated as it was on the brow of a great hill where the very location suggested vision, and near enough to the great lanes of trade for contact with the teeming world of business, industry, and toil.

We shall study this kingdom of God for which we daily pray in the words that Jesus taught His disciples: "Thy kingdom come." The petition for the coming of the kingdom is inextricably associated with the petition that follows it: "Thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven."

Some commentators see in the kingdom of God the rule of God in the hearts of men and His sovereignty over human lives. ## I SAW

By V. A. R.

If it weren't for the weather, honestly what would we do? Besides being a good thing to blame a lot of our troubles on, financial and otherwise, it's the best source of conversation we've got. As another change in temperature brought coats and jackets out of summer storage, I SAW

Donald Curry riding down town on a bicycle, with his niece, Betty Evelyn Curry, on behind. Donald, going all right as long as he was going straight, warned traffic to get out of his way.

Mrs. Allard Vandiver with the problem of making 800 book covers for the Future Homemakers meeting, and just a week to do it in, wondering where on earth she could get a clever idea for designs, claiming she'd exhausted all of her own.

Goldie Johnson showing a skinned and stiff knee, got when she fell down while skating.

Rene Thompson, highly excited as only a two-and-a-half year old can be, over the prospects of a whole week end off visiting without her daddy and mama. It was her first trip without them.

Junior Montague, so terribly sleepy Saturday after the trip to Quannah with the band that he went sound to sleep in a downtown store while waiting for a friend.

Cora Elizabeth Clark, dressed out in new bustle-back fall dress.

Effie Jean and Marshall Nunn, small children of Mr. and Mrs. George Nunn, in a friendly but heated argument as they played on the sidewalk Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Bryan and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Price eating watermelon out in the shade of the Price house late Sunday evening.

Mrs. Fred Walker stopping to visit with a friend and saying that she really never had much business in town and sometimes she didn't get in over once every month or two.

Jo Owens of Quail, sitting in a car in the shade and watching all the other people who were passing by in the hot sun.

Louise Young stopping suddenly to window shop at a store full of pretty new fall clothes.

Mrs. W. R. Breeding hurrying to catch up with her husband and small son who were walking down the street ahead of her.

Small Acreage Of Allotments Keep Number Of Policies Down

Saturday, September 30, is the final date for making application for government wheat crop insurance, wheat growers here were warned Tuesday morning. The applications are made through the

"Premiums may be paid in two ways," explained Clyde Emmert, county A.C.A. chairman. "The grower may pay cash at the time the application is made, or he may make an assignment and the premium will be taken out of the government wheat payment when it is made."

All farmers who have taken out this form of insurance in this county have preferred the latter method. To date only fifteen govern-

Drivers Warned Of School Bus Law Violations

All School Buses In County Inspected And Drivers Tested

Drivers of all school buses in the county were tested and all buses were checked Saturday under the direction of the State Highway Patrol. At the same time, the patrolmen warned the drivers, as well as members of the county school board, that violations of the school bus law must be stopped, and enlisted their aid in this.

"You have the best group of buses, as a whole, and the best drivers, that we have yet tested in our area of twelve counties," Patrolmen Louie Pingenot and Sam Gardner, told the board members. This county has twenty buses.

Concerning violations of the school bus law, Logan Cummings, county superintendent, stated that there had already come in a number of complaints that motorists were passing school buses during the time they were stopped to take on or discharge pupils. Since this is in violation of the law, Mr. Cummings asked the drivers to take the license number of each car failing to comply with the law, and that action will be taken.

Driving on smooth, badly worn tires is as dangerous as handling a loaded revolver to a child. Smooth tires, like a thief in the night, slip up on you when you least expect them.

TWO-TREAD SEIBERLING tires Never Wear Smooth! When the first tread wears off, the second tread appears, thus, the danger point in ordinary tires becomes the new safety point in TWO-TREAD Seiberlings.

Above is a scale which represents the life of an ordinary one tread tire. Notice the tread has worn smooth at 20,000 miles. "Too good to throw away," the tire enters the danger zone of accidents. The patented TWO-TREAD Seiberling tire on the right has just run through to its second tread at 20,000 miles. It remains safe and tractive to the last mile!

Seiberling also makes a complete line of single tread tires. While they do not have the second tread air-cooled features, they are as good as any single tread tire can be made. They are priced to meet the stiffest competition.

All plans to entertain 800 girls at the regular district meeting of the Future Homemakers of Texas at Quail Saturday, Sept. 30, have been completed, Miss Alice Strawn, sponsor of the Quail chapter, announced early this week. These girls will represent 70 schools over the entire Panhandle.

Chief speaker of the day will be Miss Josephine Pazdral, who will discuss with the group, "The F. H. T. as a Youth Organization." Miss Pazdral will speak at the opening session.

Theme of the entire session will be "Play for All, and All for Play," and the entire program will be devoted to recreational purposes, including athletic and folk games.

The program, as announced by Mrs. Allard Vandiver, includes the registration, which begins at 9 o'clock, to precede the morning program.

Presiding at the session will be Annabelle Lard of Pampa, while Betty Guthrie of Canyon will be in charge of the roll call. Zonetta Moore, president of the Wellington F. H. T. chapter, will preside at the introductions, which will be followed by the welcome address, to be given by Carl Chaudoin, superintendent of the Quail Schools. Jo Ann Smith of Clarendon will give the response. Mrs. Carl Chaudoin will give accordion selections during the program.

Miss Pazdral's talk will come at this time, and will be followed by area songs, under the direction of the Pampa chapter.

A play period will follow immediately after the morning session, under the direction of the Wheeler, Quail, Groom, Floydada, McLean, Wellington, Dodson, White Deer, Memphis, Lockney, Lakeview, and Estelline chapters. Lunch will be served chuck wagon style.

Delegates to the session will meet directly after dinner. Those not included in this group will participate in games, under the direction of the chapters from Shamrock, Briscoe, Wellington and Canadian.

The general assembly will convene at 2:30 o'clock. The Tullia chapter will be in charge of piano selections for the program. A tumbling exhibition, under the direction of John Lee of Wellington, will be given, to be followed by business announcements for the group.

Group singing will conclude the day's program.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Warren of Hot Springs, N. M., were guests Wednesday of Mr. Warren's sister, Mrs. Fletcher Curry, and family.

Club Boys, Girls To Hear Plans For Unity With FFA And FHT

Plans for a possible combining of the FFA, FHT and the Boys' and Girls' 4-H clubs into a unified group in this county will be presented members of the 4-H clubs at the county-wide 4-H club meeting to be held Saturday, September 30, in Wellington.

Although no definite action has been taken in this direction, the advantages of such a combination will be discussed Tuesday evening when vocational agriculture teachers and representatives of the extension service meet.

In addition to the explanation of this program, singing and a short recreational program will complete Saturday's meeting.

All 4-H Club boys and girls are urged to attend this meeting.

In charge of the agricultural exhibits is J. W. Carreker, assisted by Edward Mitchell. This will include community and individual displays of grain, cotton, bundle forage, vegetables and fruits.

Miss Alice Strawn will have charge of the homemaking division, which will include community booths and individual exhibits of clothing, handwork, and canned fruits and vegetables. Miss Strawn will also have charge of the exhibits of the summer projects of the homemaking classes of the school.

Superintendent of the Livestock division is Homer Crawford, and this division will include dairy and beef cattle, horses, mules, sheep, hogs and goats. Charley Amereson is superintendent of the poultry division and all varieties of poultry will be shown.

The baby show is under the direction of Mrs. J. W. Carreker, and will include three divisions, according to the ages of the entrants.

The school exhibits will be under the direction of L. A. Carter and the commercial exhibits under the direction of Carl Chaudoin.

Mrs. Walter Starr will conduct the flower show, which is open to any amateur grower in the county.

The baseball game, between Wellington and Quail, is under the direction of O. B. Currin, and will be played Thursday afternoon at 2:30.

Local Students Given Positions

That Keith Thomas and Miss Louise Wells have been given student positions at John Tarleton College was the announcement received here Wednesday. Outstanding boys and girls are selected for positions and are placed at jobs related to their studies. Some of the enterprises run by student labor are: operating the College Dairy which has a herd of one hundred registered jerseys, the 500 acre demonstration farm with all the fine livestock, the college dining hall where 800 students are fed, the poultry plant and many other enterprises of the college.

"While the financial aid has enabled many worthy students to obtain an education," said Dean J. Thomas Davis, "the experiences these working students obtain are invaluable."

In addition to the October 28 session, other meetings for the year will be held December 14, January 21, February 17, and April 4. All these meetings will be held here.

church program. But very few schools above higher primary work have re-opened in 'occupied territory.' We Baptists in Sochow have opened three primary schools with more than a thousand children.

"Our latest project is child welfare work. We began in June with 100 undernourished children. We teach them from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. and give them the noon meal of good hot nourishing food. An hour's nap follows and then Bible stories and lessons and teaching hymns. We can almost see them gaining in weight!"

"In our six mission clinics of the city, we see at least a thousand or twelve hundred patients daily. Much personal work is being done in these clinics and a pastor or evangelist brings daily gospel messages at each clinic. I've been made to fully realize that suffering, distress, persecution and hardships do bring believers closer to God, and unbelievers to seek some power higher than man."
