Junior Rodeo At Giles To Be Exciting

Two colts, quarterhorses, will be given away to the All-Around Cowboys in the junior and senior divisions of the Giles Junior Rodeo, at the conclusion of the rodeo Sunday afternoon, it was announced by Blackie Johnson.

The colts, donated by Dave Browder and Dick Morgan, are just a part of the awards to honor cowboys at the rodeo. Thirty trophies and four pairs of spurs will also be given away to winners of the events.

Early entries have come in from three states, Johnson said, and it looks like a big field of contestants will assemble for the first Giles Junior Rodeo to be held Saturday and Sunday afternoons beginning at 2 p. m.

The location of the rodeo arena is one-fourth mile east off U. S. Highway 287 on the Giles road. The arena, complete with catch pens, judges stand, and all necessary facilities for staging a real rodeo, was completed early this week.

Since it is a junior rodeo, only contestants under 19 years of age will be eligible for competition. However, officials announced, the stock being used is the wildest and roughest they could find. Bulls were leased from Tom Haslin of Kellerville and bronchos from Charlie Plummer of Elk City, Okla.

"We are expecting a large crowd to gather Saturday on the banks of Buck Creek for the annual Giles Picnic," Virginia Browder said this week.

Something new has been added to the event this year—a Junior Rodeo which will be held beginning at 2 p. m. Saturday and again on Sunday afternoon.

The picnic will get underway at 9 a. m. Saturday morning. Visiting and short speeches by some of the "old-timers" and prominent guests will be the order of the day. There will also be featured community singing, and "old time" fiddle music.

Flip Breedlove and Pete Land of Clarendon will officiate at the barbecue pits. Barbeque will be served at the noon hour with plenty of red beans, pickles, onions and bread as trimmings.

Mr. Breedlove and Mr. Land are known throughout this area as "barbeque kings" and they have cooked the barbeque at the Giles picnic since its beginning a number of years ago. Mr. Land was in charge of the barbeque at the annual Hall County Picnic in past years.

Mrs. Browder said as always the women are asked to bring salads and pastries to be served to those with a "sweet tooth".

All in all, it promises to be another good old-fashioned COUNTRY PICNIC, Mrs. Browder said. Everyone is cordially invited to come and join in the day's festivities.

Memorial Day, 1966

Monday, May 30, will be observed as Memorial Day with the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development setting aside May 30 as a holiday and the Simmons-Noel Post of the American Legion, No. 175, planning Memorial Day services in memory of those service men who gave their lives fighting for this nation.

Memorial Day, May 30, is the day set apart each year, first by custom and later by statute, for the purpose of honoring the memory of the soldiers who fought in the Civil War. The custom of Decoration Day, as it is otherwise called, originated with the Southern States in strewing flowers over the soldiers' graves, and this idea was adopted by a few States in the North. In May, 1868, Gen. John A. Logan, then commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, issued an order appointing May 30 of that year for Grand Army services in so decorating graves. The day possibly was chosen because it was the date of discharge of the last Union volunteer of the war.

Since this early beginning, almost one hundred years ago, citizens of the United States have had to bear arms and fight in many wars and police actions, many of them paying the supreme sacrifice.

It is fitting that the American Legion have a Memorial Service to honor our soldiers. The service will be held at 7:30 a. m. Monday on the northwest corner of the Courthouse lawn in Memphis. Flags will be put out, Explorer, Boy and Cub Scout units will be on hand, and grave decorations will be placed at the cemetery. We would urge residents to be on hand for this ceremony.

Give Credit To Those Who Serve

The beginning of vacation time which occurs as the schools of this county close, marks the end of certain group activities. Among those are the clubs and associations, whose members plan a regular nine-month program.

But we must remember, from the broad standpoint, most group efforts continue all year long. Busy men and women devote many, many hours of their time to worthwhile efforts. The combined result means progress in different areas of our community life, and the goals, whatever they may be, are attained and new ones set.

We hold to the belief that everybody should set aside part of his or her time to do those things which are outside of the regular routine of "making a living", or "keeping a house." It is said that there are those who work too much, and those who work too little. Be it as it may, there should be considered some kind of balance in our lives. We are advised that to have wholesome, healthy lives we must establish a routine of work, play and rest.

The vacation season is upon us, but for many, this is a season of hard work. Farmers must plant and cultivate their crops. Some businesses prosper in the summer due to the nature of their products and services.

However, for some, the summer season has some free time, slack periods in which business isn't so busy. To these, we would advise spending some time in yard work, home repairs, working with youngsters in scouting, church, or sport programs, and above all, get in some recreation and exercise.

To those men and women who work with the Boy and Girl Scouts, the Little League, or any of the numerous summer programs and projects, let us say, you are to be commended. Memphis and the entire area is better for and because of your efforts.

It may be mentioned here, we believe, that the annual vacation should be planned—and carried out. The change of scenery alone is "tonic for the soul" as one writer put it. Then there is the pleasure of coming home and the unconscious desire to become more active and aggressive in all undertakings—everything from housekeeping, business, church and other group efforts.

In the complexity of the three months ahead, there are those busy persons who will be carrying on in our organizations. Someone must do it; so let's give them credit for their efforts.

Russia A New Twist

In the West the latest dance fads popular with the younger generation provoke their elders to condemnation or limitation. With ranks of the adult world unable to present a united front, youth dances on in accord with its own inclinations.

In the East, despite the ideological jargon, the situation is remarkably the same. Those party stalwarts who, let's face it, just aren't with it, view with horror what is happening to Soviet youth. They see a whole generation, twisting and frugging their way down the road of "modern bourgeois decadence," heedless of the high ideals of socialist realism.

Now consider for a moment modern bourgeois parents who, once the ideological trimmings have been stripped away, would thoroughly agree with their Soviet counterparts that "decadence" is just the right word to describe current teen-age concepts of the dance.

But where does this leave those Soviet citizens who prefer the Western imports to the party-approved songs and dances designed to call forth "deep great feelings, capable of inspiring labor and heroic deeds"? Unable to argue, for the Western product as such, they have ingeniously predicted dire effects would stem from banning and maintained that "it would be more sensible to show young people how these fashionable dances should be performed properly."

They have their task cut out for them. But so do their opponents. We do not envy Soviet officialdom. To attempt to stamp out Western-inspired "art forms" would only serve to prejudice youth against the regime and its ideals. Yet a generation committed to the frug and the twist is hardly a generation about to build socialism on the basis of Marxist-Leninist principles.—Christian Science Monitor.

WTU NOTEBOOK—PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

. . . its benefit to you

Economic development means developing all of the basic economic resources of a community or area to their fullest potentials, creating new wealth in the area and attracting wealth from outside the area. It CAUSES a higher standard of living for all of the people, making the community a better place to live, work and play. It PROVIDES improved community facilities, increases job opportunities, especially for the young people, and attracts new people to the town.

FIVE BASIC SOURCES FOR ECONOMIC IMPROVEMENT

- INDUSTRY—creates new jobs, utilizing and increasing the labor force's value to the community plus helping to share the tax burden for improved community facilities.
- TOURISM—adds wealth to the community that was created outside of the area, and makes a favorable impression on tourists as a good place to live. Tourists' dollars circulate many times within a community.
- AGRICULTURE—improvement of product yields and quality of products produced plus further processing of the products can add greatly to the economy of an area.
- NATURAL RESOURCES—developed in an area change and increase the wealth as well as providing job opportunities. Depletion of the natural resources can cause adverse effects on the economy.
- GOVERNMENT—local, state and federal institutions and agencies keep tax money in the area and in some cases, bring in additional wealth from the outside.

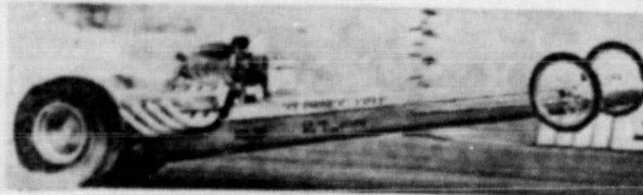

An object of a sound economic development program is to balance the economy of a community or area from all five sources. ATTENTION and EFFORT should be given to the ones which present the best possible chances for economic development and improvement. Attracting new industries, or the expansion of existing industries, usually provide an excellent opportunity for economic development.

Ask your WTU local manager for additional information and services available.

NEW CHURCH—Pictured above is the Sacred Heart Catholic Church which has recently been constructed in Memphis and is located at Brice and Third Streets. Shown in the background is the rectory, home of Father Juan Jose Magana, who moved to Memphis from Clarendon.

Catholic Church Is Erected In Memphis; Father Magana Moves Here

By VIRGINIA BROWDER

In 1540, a Spanish explorer, Francisco Vasquez de Coronado landed in the "New World". Protected by a coat of mail, a lance, and riding a charger, in the name of his Queen he went in search of the golden city of Quivira. Eventually, his quest led him across the plains country which was later to be called the Panhandle of Texas.

In 1958, another gentleman from Spain landed in Florida. Armed with a cross, a prayer book and a master's degree in philosophy in the name of his Lord he went in search of souls to save. Eventually, his quest brought him, too, to the Panhandle of Texas.

Father Juan Jose Magana (Maganya) born in Spain was ordained in the teaching order of priesthood, a Parish priest, before coming to America with the intention to study the English language. However, a decision to enter the mission field and work among the Spanish-American peoples of this county has kept him so busy he has little time for more than a knowledge of the language through observation and absorption.

From Florida, Father Magana was called to the Catholic diocese of Amarillo and, by the way of Post, Snyder, Dimmit, and Plainview came to Clarendon three years ago. His studies of French, Italian and Spanish secured for him a teaching position in Clarendon College before his decision to improve the spiritual and material welfare of the latin-Americans in Hall County materialized. There seemed to be a real need for a shepherd for the flock of Spanish migrant workers who had settled in and around Memphis.

In the history of Memphis, this church was in pieces which he carefully repaired and restored to its original beauty. The stained glass windows of the church are from Germany, but he designed and built the outside doors. The restoration of the rectory is of his own making as are the lily pond the sidewalks and the meticulous landscaping of the premises.

FATHER JUAN MAGANA

Following the gift of a church house from the parishioners at Groom, Texas, Father Magana spent six months negotiating with the utility firms and highway department before clearance could be made for the moving of the church and a small rectory given him by the Amarillo parish.

At long last, arrangements were completed and the buildings were transported, more or less piece-meal, in the late winter. Through perseverance and the help of local parishioners, the structures were put together again to form the very attractive complex on the corner of Brice and Third Streets by name "The Sacred Heart Church" designed as a mission of the church of Clarendon.

Father Magana and his facilities for nurturing the spiritual well being of the Spanish speaking people of this vicinity are a commendable addition to the community and fit admirably into the "beautification" program" currently sponsored by the Memphis Chamber of Commerce.

A man of purpose and industry, Father Magana has made the most of the materials given him. The crucifix suspended to the east outside wall of the

More than 5½ million American are victims of alcoholism. And since it's estimated that every alcoholic affects profoundly the lives of five others, well over a tenth of our population is caught up in some way in this disastrous problem.

Today, we know it's a disease of the mind, the body, and, perhaps most important, of the spirit. There are hundreds of thousands of alcoholics who are living proof that the disease can be overcome. And few, if any, of them will tell you it can be done without a complete renewal of spirit.

Your minister, priest, or rabbi can help you if you or someone you know is fighting a battle with alcohol. Not only will you be directed to the organizations and professional who have had the greatest success in healing the alcoholic—you may also find the spiritual help for which you've been searching. The spiritual help you'll need.

You've tried everything else, haven't you? Try this and see.

A noon luncheon Friday, May 20, ended the club year of the Bluebonnet Club. The fete was held in the home of Margaret Phillips.

Members were seated around the large dining table which was laid with a pink linen cloth and centered with a large arrangement of beautiful pink roses. The entertaining rooms were decorated with spring flowers.

Following the invocation by Winnie Johnson, the food which was prepared by each member of the club was then served.

After the meal, a short business session was conducted by Emma Hill in the absence of the president, Mrs. Henry Hays.

The meeting then adjourned for the summer.

Members enjoying the feast were Mmes. Iva Smith, Hucie Lindsey, Emma Hill, Osie Scott, Bety Goodall, Christine Hays, Winnie Johnson, Fern Boone, Gussie Jones, Mary Bownds, Sally Reeves and the hostess, Margaret Phillips.

1913 Study Club Concludes Club Year With Luncheon In Baldwin Home Wed.

Mmes. Byron Baldwin and M. G. Tarver were co-hostesses for the final meeting of the club year of the 1913 Study Club, in the home of Mrs. Byron Baldwin, Wednesday, May 18, with a salad luncheon and installation of officers program.

Places were designated at the dining table for the incoming officers and at four tables for the other members. Garden flowers were used throughout the entertaining rooms, creating a festive atmosphere. After a delightful luncheon, a brief business session was conducted by the retiring president, Mrs. Tarver. Receipt of certificate of membership in the local Chamber of Commerce was announced, to be filed in the club history book. The president announced newly elected officers assume duties June 1st each year. Pending projects will be pursued through the next club year, Mrs. Tarver concluded.

Under the banner title of "End of the Rainbow", the final meeting of the club year was brought to a very pleasant close. Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard, as club delegate to the TFWC convention in Lubbock, May 10-12, gave a detailed and inspirational report of the "Federation Highlights" while there. Her account of the constructive club activities and social functions stirred her listeners with a feeling of personal pride to be a part of such a worthwhile organization.

Mrs. R. S. Greene conducted the installation of officers for the next club year, meetings to begin the third Wednesday in September.

Reading a graphology analysis as deduced by Mr. R. E. Roark, from the handwriting of each officer by way of giving clues as to whom each might be, club members found humor in guessing their identity, before they were called forward. Each officer was given an Hawaiian lei of rainbow hues. When all had been duly recognized, Virginia Browder likened their assuming duties to the discovery of the pot-of-gold at the end of the rainbow.

Congratulations were extended to the following officers: president, Mrs. Herschel Combs; vice-president, Mrs. O. L. Helm; recording secretary, Miss Neville Wrenn; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Edd Hutcherson; parliamentarian and critic, Mrs. Byron Baldwin; press reporter and press book custodian, Mrs. F. W. Foxhall.

Before adjournment, Mrs. Tarver announced "there is a surprise in store for us" and Mrs. O. L. Helm, newly elected program chairman, was happy to pass out the year books for the club year 66-67, and expressed grateful thanks to her committee for their untiring efforts in making this accomplishment possible.

Twenty-two members thoroughly enjoyed the feast, festivities and fellowship of the meeting.

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS
Representative, 18th
Congressional District

THE RIGHT TO KNOW

Secrecy in public affairs misunderstands and weakens the proper functioning of government. Democracy depends upon the ability to make wise decisions. An informed electorate is essential to a democratic government. The right of the people to have access to a steady flow of information on the activities of their government, has become a constant challenge through history and will continue to free access to government information to the maximum extent consistent with security. Freedom of the Press includes not only the written word but also the spoken word; electronic press as well as the printed press. The Constitutional protection permits the press to serve a free people by printing such information as it wishes to print, to make such comment as it wishes to make without fear of reprisal. In order to pass information along the press must be able to obtain it—and efforts to insure greater access to government information bring the continuing attention of Congress. The objective is not only to serve the public by insuring access by the professional reporters of press media to government information but also to insure that the individual citizen, if he so chooses, can obtain the information he seeks.

First Amendment to the Constitution is perhaps the most quoted of all the provisions of the Bill of Rights because it is absolutely vital to freedom of institutions. It states, "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the right of people to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances." The guarantee of "freedom of the press" in the First Amendment is the same as the question of "freedom of information" or

Under the provisions of a new bill pending in the House and Senate, the test of who shall have access to public records is revised so that the great majority of records shall be available to "any person," not merely to those who (as now spelled out in existing law) are "properly and directly concerned." The bill also sets up standards for categories of records which may be exempt from public disclosure, replacing vague phrases with specific definitions of information which may be withheld. Some of the specific categories cover information necessary to protect the national security; others cover such material as FBI files. The bill also gives citizens the right to go to U. S. District court in an effort to obtain access to information being denied them. The bill, in effect, spells out in greater detail than ever written into law before the responsibilities of government administrators in making information available.

Meanwhile, I am continuing to battle against attempts being made to turn over to a Federal bureau the right to tell an American citizen that he can or cannot receive on his radio or television set. Proposals now before our Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce would have this effect, and I am doing my best to see that they do not become law. The Communications Act expressly prohibits broadcast censorship. However, Federal bureaus are constantly seeking to control the information the citizens can receive—and, in my view, it is essential that Congress stand off these threats.

Mrs. Theo Swift had as visitors Sunday Mrs. Ray Hartlett and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Swift of Childress and Mrs. Frank Decker of Childress.

TOP BANDSMAN—Recently, Miss Amy Hillhouse, shown above, was awarded the John Phillip Sousa Award as the top senior band student in MHS. She holds the permanent plaque which remains in the Band Hall and her name has been added to the plaque. She also received a small individual award.

Drivers Ed Class Begins Here Wednesday

Classes began at 9 a. m. Wednesday in the annual Driver's Education Class being taught by C. L. Chambliss and Bert Glascock. Forty students have signed up for the course of instruction so far, it was announced.

Any beginner driver who would be interested in the course is asked to be at Junior High School at 9 a. m. any morning the next few days and sign up for the course.

Students taking the course will spend 30 hours in classroom work and 12 hours of driving.

"One of the advantages of successfully completing this drivers education course," the instructors said, "is an insurance refund allowed on young drivers. Parents should ask their insurance agents about this so they understand what refund is allowed and what paperwork is necessary."

The following have already signed up for the drivers education course: Bill Smith, Joe Edd Godfrey, Bobby Philpot, Ronnie Bradshaw, Jimmy Bland, Merle Kilpatrick, Spencer Gilliam, Rhonda Davis, Susan Gold-night, Dene Hargrove, Pieta Cold-iron, Joe Glover, Ronnie Phillips, Russell Smith, Otis Jones, Jane Dunbar, Irene Foxhall, Donna Johnson, Karla Richardson, JoEllis Possey, Randy Jennings, Tommy Greene, Jo Ann Scott, Lynette Spiecer, Roger Sargent, Davis Schussler, Mike Stevens, Vicki Rose, Florence Crutchfield, David Hutcherson, Dennis Taylor, Carroll Bland, Stephen Smith, Bobby Richards, Rex Rowe, Nancy Voyles, Tammy Fowler, Skipper Murdock, Sharon Gaston and Raymond Jones.

Swimming Pool At City Park Opens Saturday

The City of Memphis Swimming Pool will open at 1:30 p. m. Saturday, May 28, with John Lemons, manager, it was announced this week by City Alderman Homer Tribble.

The pool is located on the south side of the Memphis City Park, located one mile south of Memphis on 6th Street.

Rounding out the staff at the pool this year will be Mrs. John Lemons as cashier and Jim Edd Wines as life guard.

Hours and days the pool will be open include: Tuesday through Saturdays, 1:30 p. m. until there are no swimmers, and Sundays, 1:30 p. m. until 6 p. m. The pool is closed on Mondays.

Admission charges are adults 50 cents, children 25 cents with season tickets selling for $12 for adults and $10 for children. Tickets are on sale at the pool.

It was announced that the program during the months ahead for swimmers will be the same as it has been in past years.

It was pointed out that everything has been put in top shape for the swimming season, and that the filtered water is an item which is noted and appreciated by many swimmers.

Harrison Philpot Is Seriously Burned Saturday

Country Club To Have Low-Ball Tourney Monday

The Memphis Country Club tournament committee announced this week the club will have an 18-hole low-ball tournament beginning at 9 a. m. Monday, May 30 (Memorial Day).

The tournament will be run off under the same rules and regulations as the last low-ball tournament held by the club three weeks ago.

Good, medium, and weak golfers will be selected by drawing names to play as either a foursome or fivesome, depending on the number of entries.

Each team selects the best ball hit from each position in trying to break par figures.

Entry fee is $1 per player. Players are urged to submit their names and entry fees by 8:30 Monday so the tournament committee can draw up teams with the teams getting off to a shotgun start at 9 a. m. sharp.

"We feel that the 18-hole tournament can be played off rather quickly Monday morning if all the golfers entering are ready to go at 9 a. m." Charlie Brown, chairman, said.

The tournament is open to men and women golfers and has proved to be one of the most popular and entertaining tournaments held at the club.

Spectators are welcome so long as they don't interfere with golfers hitting their shots on the compact nine-hole course.

remember the intense interest of the citizens of Hall County. They were active. We sent dedicated delegates to the state convention, and we worked for what we believed was for the best interest of this area and the state. Of course, all this is past history, but I sometimes wonder if the Legislature did not make a mistake in setting up the first primary in Texas to May, instead of the traditional date in July. . . . Besides, it seems to me that another mistake was made when the Legislature passed the bill which extended the terms of most public offices from two years to four years.
