TELCOT

The Telcot screen shows cotton offered for sale through the Plains Cotton Cooperative Association by more than 100 member gins, including Farmers Co-op at Dodson and Farmers Co-op Gin at Wellington. Each line gives the time the offering was made, the town in which the gin is located, number of bales, grade and staple, as well as the current market and other pertinent information. Cotton buyers make purchases from the offerings as they appear on the screen. This is the Telcot screen in the Farmers Co-op Gin at Dodson.

Charges Filed Monday In Allsup's Burglary

Charges have been filed against one of two suspects in connection with the armed robbery of Allsup's Convenience which occurred about 4:00 a.m. Sunday, Nov. 20.

The two men, both from Ardmore, Okla., were arrested shortly before 9:00 a.m. that day at the home of relatives of one of them here.

Sheriff John Rainey said that Anthony Ray Abram was charged Monday morning with armed robbery, possession of a stolen vehicle and possession of a prohibited weapon, a felony.

His companion, Johnny O'Neill Dawkins, 21, was turned over to the sheriff's department at Ardmore, where he is wanted for car theft.

According to Sheriff Rainey, Sid Bell, an Allsup's clerk, was alone in the store when a man wearing a stocking over his head entered and held a gun to Bell's ear, demanding the money. However, before the cash register was opened, the robber forced Bell to the rear of the store where he made him stand with his hands on the wall. The man was unable to open the register and returned for Bell, who opened it, and was again taken to the back of the building.

The burglar then took the money and ran.

The loss has been estimated at between $100 and $200, the sheriff said. Mrs. Marie Black is the store manager.

Officers began their search for a car of which they were suspicious and located it about 8:45 a.m. at the home of Dawkins uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Houston Green.

Both men were asleep inside, Sheriff Rainey took a gun off Abram, and the two suspects offered no resistance, the Sheriff Rainey said.

Dawkins has worked here from time to time and was last known to be in Wellington about a month ago.

The two men are also suspects in an armed robbery which took place at Ardmore early Saturday, Love County, Okla., officials said.

Abram was released on parole from the Oklahoma Prison System six weeks ago, where he was serving time on an armed robbery charge. Sheriff Rainey said.

A considerable amount of money was recovered, but officers have not been able to determine how much is from the Allsup robbery. An additional $60 was found in a

County Gins 26,000 Bales of '77 Cotton; Crop Estimated Half Out

Approximately 26,000 bales of the county's cotton has been harvested, and it is estimated there will be that much more to come before the unusual 1977 crop is gathered.

In the southeast part of the county, as much as 60 per cent is estimated gathered in some communities, in other areas as little as 40 per cent.

Throughout much of the remainder of the county south of Salt Fork, around 50 per cent is believed still in the field.

In the north part of the county, however, Joe F. Knoll, Lutie Gin manager, estimates not more than one-third of the cotton has been gathered.

In all parts of the county, however, the crop remains much better than either ginners or growers thought it would be when they started stripping.

Veteran gin manager Alonzo Cartwright is comparing this crop to those of 1937 and 1949, and he has seen 46 crops ginned in Collingsworth county.

The one sour note is the price cotton is bringing.

Most ginners concede this crop is going to make some money for some farmers, but only because of the exceedingly high yields.

"A few will make money, some will break even and there will be some who lose money on this crop," Grover Graham, manager of Davis Gin at Dodson pointed out.

Yields in many instances are remarkable. There is probably more dry land cotton stripping two bales per acre than there has ever been in Collingsworth. This is in the area south of Wellington, the immediate Wellington vicinity and around Dodson.

For several years there has been a little land with this yield, and other irrigated land that is producing two bales. Most if not all of this cotton is fertilized and was sprayed for insects. There is much more dry land cotton that is yielding a bale per acre. Some of this, it is pointed out, is land that in normal years produces from a half to three quarters of a bale.

John Barton, manager of the Farmers Co-Op Gin at Dodson, said some of his customers have begun ricking their cotton in the field, and the same report came from Mrs. Don Jones of the Wellington Farmers Co-Op staff.

These are 20-bale ricks and in some fields as many as three may be seen--60 bales waiting to be carried to the gin.

Ginners explain that in case of rain, there is less damage to cotton that is ricked than there is to cotton still on the stalk.

The trailer situation has become tight in all parts of the county. Farmers Co-Op at Wellington, with a capacity to gin 500 bales each 25 hours, had 3,500 bales parked on the yard Tuesday night.

Farmers Co-Op at Dodson is processing around 250 to 275 bales on an around the clock schedule.

Lutie Gin had 220 bales waiting Tuesday night.

The two gins in Dodson and the Co-Op in Wellington are running around the clock, Lutie Gin and Wellington Gin have one crew working long hours. Mr. Cartwright, in the business 53 years, has had to be his own ginner until Tuesday.

Both Barton and Cartwright point out that one serious problem is getting the green cards back because the cotton classing office in Memphis is running so far behind.

American Ag Supporters Firm Upcoming Events

Collingsworth County supporters of the American Agriculture movement met Thursday, Nov. 17 to discuss recent events and upcoming activities sponsored by the movement. American Agriculture is proposing a farm strike beginning December 14 if farmers do not receive 100% parity.

On December 1 and 2, American Agriculture is sponsoring a tractor parade in Dallas and a country-western concert at Texas Stadium benefitting the movement.

Several farmers had comments at the meeting regarding government price support policy and strike plans.

Doug Seale: "At present prices, a cotton farmer will lose money on an average year. The loan for cotton in 1978 will be less than this year. Our good yields are the only way we realized a profit this year."

David Caison: "We, the U.S.A., imported cattle, cotton and wheat in 1977. And now the government is using us, the farmers, to try to balance our trade deficit."

Tom Sanderson: "The Independent Trucks Association and the A.F.L.-C.I.O. have indicated their support.

The unions realize that without the farmer and his produce, they will have nothing to load or haul.

Denzil Lacy: "There are several things we can do: (1) Return all junk mail with a note that says Farm Strike Dec. 14. (2) It was suggested by Carroll Nunnellely that we require all hunters to have a bumper sticker or sign indicating they support the strike before they can hunt. (3) Don't buy production equipment or sell produce beginning December 14."

Lacy also said many farmers feel the strike threat has already made an impact on government policy. "The farmer still holds over 80% of the wheat and the price is going up. We feel the government is causing the price to rise in order to get the farmer to sell some of his wheat."

School Board Files Answer to Suit

Quail School Board filed an answer on Thursday, November 10 in 100th Judicial District Court to a suit that charges that the recent Quail schoolhouse bond election was illegal.

The suit was filed November 4 by a group of 31 Quail School District taxpayers and alleged numerous infractions of Texas election and education laws and codes.

The answer by the school board denies all the allegations. And it also says that the matters alleged in the suit are "irrelevant and immaterial, the will of the people having been expressed at the election."

The answer also says that some of the taxpayer contestants who filed the suit and who are not residents of the district have no "justifiable interest in the election," and asks the court to tell the school board which of the contestants are residents of the district.

Paul Lyle of Day, Owen, Lyle and Voss of Plainview is attorney for the school board.

A date for the trial has not been set.

Preston Smith To Visit County November 30

Former Governor Preston Smith, a candidate for the Governor's seat again next year, will make a campaign visit to Wellington Wednesday morning, Nov. 30.

Smith will be at the Cherokee Inn Restaurant from 7:30 to 8:00 Wednesday morning.

The public is invited to come by for coffee and discuss the issues in the Texas Governor's race.

VFW Gets Johnnie McBroom Award

Glynn Moore Post No. 6439, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be the host for the next District 13 convention, to be held February 19 and 20, 1978.

The designation was made at the quarterly meeting in Dimmitt during the weekend.

In-so-far as can be determined, Wellington has not hosted one of these meetings for more than 20 years, in the mid 1950s, according to Post commander Tony Stephens.

The Glynn Moore Post also received the "Johnnie McBroom Travel Award, earned by leading the other 15 posts of the district in membership, miles traveled, youth activities, community projects, and other work.

In awarding the plaque, the district commander commended Stephens for the job done here. This is the first time Wellington has received the plaque.

The district conventions are held quarterly, and five men from Glynn Moore post attended the Dimmitt event over the weekend. These were Commander Stephens, J.R. Bowen, quartermaster, Junior Castillo, Paul Gollighugh and Jim Larned.

The guest speaker was Past VFW state-commander Mel Stanley.

The Wellington post has a great deal of work ahead on its building, now being remodeled, but Commander Stephens said he was confident it would be finished by the time the town hosts the district meeting.

HARVESTING FOR A NEIGHBOR

gathered at the edge of one field. At the end of the day, 79 bales had been gathered. Dodson Farmers Co-op gin stopped all other ginning until the Powers crop had been processed.

There is a joke in the county that cotton farmers no longer say to each other in the morning, "Let's go drink coffee." They say "Let's go watch Telcot."

Two county cotton gins have installed Telcot, the electronic cotton merchandising method in which more than 130 southwestern gins are tied in with Plains Cotton Cooperative Association, based in Lubbock to sell the current cotton crop.

The two are Farmers Co-Op

Gin in Wellington and Farmers Co-Op Gin at Dodson.

The Wellington gin is the only one in the system that has installed two of the Telcot Cathode Ray Tubes (CRT) units, or terminals.

J.N. Glogow, manager of the gin office, says one screen is used strictly for transacting telcot sales. The second screen, located in the main office, is available for viewing by area producers.

Installing the second screen will also take care of handling the volume of Telcot traffic the gin is having at the height of the season.

Telcot screens look like small television screens, but they carry the cotton offerings of the day: the gin's identifying number, the town, number of bales offered, and such information that gives the grade and staple, also the market at that particular hour, indicating how many points the price is up or down.

Buyers who are tied into the system have 15 minutes to make an offer.

The bottom half of the Telcot screen also carries cotton offerings on which the growers have said they want a certain price. This offering can remain on the screen as long as the cotton is not sold. Buyers cannot bid at a price lower than that indicated by the cotton grower. This is known as the Firm Offer

Telcot is a word coined from telecommunications for marketing cotton, Mr. Glasgow points out.

It is an electronic marketing system that works from a central computer from its Lubbock office, feeding information from cotton gins and cotton buyers, and it puts producers instantly in touch with 25 buyers for their kind of cotton in a highly competitive buying situation.

This year, for the first time, Collingsworth cotton farmers can walk into either of these gin offices, look at the Telcot screen and see the whole market here in the southwest.

Glasgow points out that when a cotton merchant makes a bid, it is his best price. Telcot has made cotton buying that competitive.

This brings the cotton picture from Lubbock to Collingsworth. The other part of Telcot is a keyboard that looks much like that of an IBM typewriter with some keys added.

On this, the operator types out the information that is relayed instantly to the Lubbock headquarters. Moments later, that information comes back on the screen.

Telcot is in its third year, and the first two years, information was phoned to Lubbock over a Wats line.

During a ginning, Plains Cotton Cooperative Association runs a daily courier service to Oklahoma and Texas gins, picking up grower account data and quality data of cotton class card information in addition to delivering checks and invoices.

All information is brought into the Lubbock office and overnight it is encoded on magnetic tape. With various data programming, PCCA operators can key in certain code words so that when a gin calls in, the message can quickly be burned into a visual display on the CRT screen and relayed to inquiring gins.

Besides the 15-minute auction, the Firm Offer Option was begun late in the 1976 season.

The grower can put his own value on his cotton and offer it at that price over the network. In the firm offer, the cotton sells to the first merchant who offers that price and there is no time limit.

The producer can change his price by raising or lowering it at any time. He simply signs an agreement with the gin that says he will sell his cotton at that price in case he is gone when his firm offer is accepted.

A new dimension called "crop contracting" begun in July. Growers offer their crop much as they would in a firm offer, with PCCA merely acting as a pivot point for putting the producer in contact with the buyer.

This is a technical program at which lawyers are taking a look.

Friends Harvest Cotton for Andrew Powers

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Powers gathered at their farm northeast of Dodson Tuesday, Nov. 22, and in about six hours, gathered their entire cotton crop.

Mr. Powers is ill and has been receiving medical treatment for a number of months.

To speed up the operation, Farmers Co-Op Gin in Dodson shut down all other ginning and took care of Mr. Powers cotton as it came onto the yard, freeing the trailers to return for more, according to John Barton, manager.

"People really think a lot of Mr. Powers around here," he weather in late August and early September.

Knoll, whose Lutie Gin is the only one in the north half of the county, is also serving the area which was heavily damaged by hail in September.

He estimates this cost his gin at least a thousand bales for this season.

The 1977 crop is certain to make county cotton history. It is also certain it will not be out by Christmas.

Alexandre Eiffel not only built the tower that bears his name, he designed the framework of the Statue of Liberty and the locks on the Panama Canal.

added. The family has lived in the Dodson area many years--most of the years he has been a farmer.

It was shortly before 5:00 p.m. that the last bale was dumped in a trailer, and by then 79 bales had been harvested, Mr. Barton said.

Fourteen strippers were working in the two adjoining fields, which totaled 120 acres.

There were more trailers, some people sending these as they were emptied at the gin. Men who didn't have strippers or trailers came to trample the cotton or do other work.

At noon, wives of the men gathering the crop brought dinner and spread it at the edge of the field. That was the only time work stopped.

Gary Randall is credited with coordinating the plans that got the entire crop harvested in one day.

"All the neighbors came and worked. That's the good thing about this part of the country," he said.

An effort is being made to list those who worked. Most of them came from the Dodson, Arnett and Sandy areas, but several from Wellington were there.

Mr. Powers became ill just before time to plant his crop, and his neighbors also got together and did that for him, Mr. Randall said. Earlier this fall several took their combines and harvested his feed crop.

The name Calvin comes from the Latin word meaning "bald"

You can BANK on it!

By BILLY MOSELEY
President
CITY STATE BANK

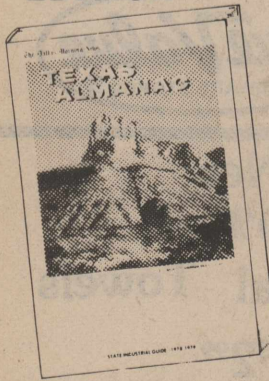

Understanding the energy facts of life can mean money in the bank for you. The cost of energy is soaring. And it will go higher. For instance, gas heat has gone up 60 per cent in the past five years and is expected to go up another 257 per cent in the next 10 years. Electric heat up 59 per cent, with another 193 per cent in 10 years. Fuel oil heat, up 110 per cent will rise another 184 per cent. Insulation is cheaper than oil or gas or electricity. A few hundred dollars worth of insulation now can mean savings of thousands on heating and air conditioning over the life of an average home. And your home will have a higher appraisal value now and bigger resale value later. If you would like information on a home improvement loan for insulation, talk to any of our officers. ## Brownies-Girl Scouts

BROWNIE TROOP 133 Girls of Brownie Troop No. 133 attended their first council event of the year, the Brownie Revel held at Camp Mel Davis recently.

Due to rain, most of the events scheduled could not be held, and those that were held took place indoors.

Nevertheless, it was an exciting day for the little second graders. Accompanying them were their leaders, Mrs. Mark Fires and Mrs. Carroll Nunnelley, along with these mothers, Mrs. Bill Lindsey, Mrs. Denzil Lacy and Mrs. Lyman Daniels. Fourteen girls attended.

The Brownies meet each Thursday at First Christian Church at 2:30 p.m.

"We have had a lot of fun thus far getting to know each other and learning the Brownie rules all over again," said Mrs. Nunnelley.

The girls voted to buy yellow windbreakers to wear to all Brownie events. Mrs. A.J. Fires, grandmother of Brownie Stacey Fires, made name tags for the jackets.

The girls will also display their earned patches and badges.

Two leaders, Mrs. Nunnelley and Mrs. Mark Fires suggested these windbreakers for both decorative and safety purposes, as it is easy to spot 15 little girls in yellow in the midst of 500 Brownies at council events and elsewhere.

The Brownies have completed their first craft, scarecrows.

Carla Nunnelley and Rhonda Gollighugh, two former Brownies, who are now Girl Scouts, met with the girls Nov. 17, to show some of the things they did when they were brownies. These included songs and games.

The girls registered in Troop 133 this year are Rusty Bawcom, Mary Binford, Leslie Black, Stephanie Barton, Ginger Daniel, Stacey Fires, Andra Ingram, Dena Lacy, DeJon Lindsey, Nicole Linville, Julie Mize, Janna and Paula Nunnelley, Janie Porter and Denise Wilks.

Dress Up Stuffing for That Holiday Bird

COLLEGE STATION--Dress up that "same ole' stuffing" this holiday with glamour--and nutrition, says Frances Reasonover, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Fruits, nuts, oysters and salt pork are among special ingredients in these nutritious stuffings for holiday turkey, chicken, goose or other fowl.

SAVORY BREAD STUFFING
3 tablespoons butter, margarine or poultry fat
¾ cup chopped celery
3 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 tablespoons chopped onion
4 cups soft bread crumbs
½ teaspoon savory seasoning
½ teaspoon salt

Pepper as desired
Melt fat in a frypan. Add celery, parsley and onion. Cook until tender. Add fat and vegetables to bread crumbs. Add seasonings. Mix lightly, but well. Makes 4 cups stuffing.
Variations:

Oyster stuffing: Omit celery and reduce parsley and onion to one tablespoon each. Add ½ pint oysters, heated in their own liquid and drained.

Nut stuffing: Omit parsley and savory seasoning and add ½ cup chopped nuts--pecans, roasted almonds, filberts or cooked chestnuts.

Cornbread stuffing: Omit bread crumbs and savory seasoning. Add 1 quart (4 cups) cornbread crumbs and ¼ to ½ teaspoon thyme.

SALT PORK STUFFING
(for 8-pound ready-to-cook turkey)

½ pound salt pork, finely diced
½ cup chopped giblets
¾ cup chopped onion
3 quarts (½-inch) soft bread cubes
½ teaspoon poultry seasoning

Dash of pepper
½ cup chopped parsley
2 eggs
½ cup water or chicken bouillon
Saute salt pork in skillet; add giblets and onion. Continue cooking until tender. Combine soft bread cubes, poultry seasoning, pepper and parsley. Add salt pork mixture and mix well. Beat eggs slightly. Blend into stuffing. Add water. Mix well.

Ice cream is easier to serve if it is transferred from the frozen food compartment to the refrigerator shortly before serving, about 10 minutes per pint.

Colonists, Immigrants, Bring Recipes to New Land

"When people move, they take their favorite recipes with them. Some are written, some are not, but the recipes are an important memory of home," Miss Rose Shadid told members of Excelsior Club Thursday evening, Nov. 17.

She was hostess as well as program leader.

"History books say a great deal about clearing land, building cities, or fighting battles, but very little about what was on the dinner table when these events occurred.

"Every family, whether colonist, pioneer or immigrant, hoped to cook in the new home just as they always had. Things seldom worked out that way. Food was either more scarce, more abundant, or just different from what they were used to. Coping meant trying new foods, changing recipes and generally adjusting to a new way of life. They liked the results.

"The recipes came from old manuscripts, travelers accounts ethnic celebrations, early cook books and family hand-me-downs," concluded the speaker.

Miss Dorothy Robertson, president, directed the business meeting when plans were made for the Christmas party.

A dessert plate was served to these guests and members: Mrs. Oma McKee of Houston, Miss Catherine Bryant of Orcas Island, Washington, and Miss Robertson, Miss Hattie D. Wells, Mrs. Russell Yates, Miss Bonnie Willis, Miss Rama Camp, Mrs. L.W. Wells, Miss Marie Shadid, and the hostess, Miss Rose Shadid.

Pickup - King of the Road

It's probably hard to understand until you try it but driving a pickup truck gives you a different viewpoint.

There are a lot of factors involved - that big cab which is wide enough for four people, the all around visibility, the high position which lets you see over the top of passenger cars. Perhaps it is having instruments which need to be read with intelligence instead of a bunch of "idiot lights" on the dash board.

But, for whatever reason people like them. The sale of pickup trucks is at an all time high. Chevrolet, for example, is now selling one truck for every 1.8 new cars. The ratio used to be one to six. And Ford's best seller is a pickup - outselling LTD's by more than two to one.

Chrysler's truck sales manager says what is happening to pickups is like what happened to blue jeans - they used to be considered work items but now they are a natural part of the way of life.

It's only after driving a pickup a while that you begin to understand why a pickup truck is sometimes called a Cowboy Cadillac.

Chilling Thoughts

Who hasn't experienced the frustration of having a well-planned round of weekend activities ruined because the weather didn't follow your favorite weatherman's forecast?

The entire country may well find itself in a tight spot come winter if the weather doesn't cooperate and follow its predicted course of behavior.

At present, winter weather is predicted to be mild throughout the country. And that's good news for folks who endured last winter's debacle, particularly in the Midwest and Northeast. But a predicted weather forecast is precisely that: a prediction; a scientifically based guess. In short, it's not an iron-clad guarantee.

Based on the weather projections, Energy Department officials seem confident that the nation can make it through winter, 1977-78, without the myriad problems of last winter. Let's hope they're right. And let's pray the weathermen are correct.

But, considering the nation's lack of preparation in the energy field, wouldn't it be wise to get busy and do some drilling, along with the hoping and praying?

Roads Vital to Sunbelt Growth

The U.S. Census Bureau reports that for the 1970-75 period, 16 southern states gained 2.6 million people from migration and 13 western states gained 1.4 million, both at the expense of the north, which suffered a population loss.

At the same time, rural areas gained 1.5 million people, a reversal from the pattern of the 1960's, when they lost 3.2 million to cities. Large metropolitan areas, which had gained more than four million people in the '60's, lost 1.2 million in the early '70's.

These figures show that people are leaving areas traditionally less reliant on road transportation for areas which depend almost totally on roads and motor vehicles for personal transportation and goods movement.

In the northeast, per capita consumption of gasoline is about 369 gallons a year. In the south, it is 521 gallons a year, and in the west, 489 gallons a year. The reasons are obvious: distances routinely traveled are greater in the south and west, and there is little or no alternative to the automobile.

The 71,000-mile Texas highway system is being recognized as the major factor in making the Lone Star State a leading beneficiary of the Sunbelt migration. Adequate maintenance and improvement of the system is seen as essential to support the unprecedented growth likely to occur in the state in the coming years.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Now the Republicans as well as the Democrats have a battle on their hands in their gubernatorial primary. Dallas oil well drilling contractor William P. "Bill" Clements was a surprise entry into the GOP race last week. Former Republican State Chairman Ray Hutchison, who has planned to run all along, is due to enter November 29.

Other possibilities are former State Sen. Henry Grover of Houston, who came closer than any other Republican to winning the governor's office (in 1972), and former Ambassador Albert Del Fay, also of Houston.

Clements, 60, who is a former U.S. Deputy secretary of defense under Presidents Nixon and Ford, heads a major drilling firm. He said he expects to wage a multi-million-dollar campaign and feels that top Texas Republican leaders are enthusiastic about his candidacy.

Zeroing in on the energy issue, Clements said he thinks he can mobilize the public and industry to protect Texas interests in Washington. He claimed that Gov. Dolph Briscoe has done little to articulate Texas' side of the energy issue, and the state's senators lack expertise in the field.

Democratic gubernatorial candidates, meanwhile, are heating up their campaign. Gov. Briscoe, Atty. Gen. John Hill and former Gov. Preston Smith are out among the voters, beefing up their organizations and trying to get across their messages.

Appointments Announced

State Sen. Don Adams of Jasper will resign his senate seat to accept appointment as chief legal counsel to Gov. Briscoe effective January 1.

Briscoe appointed G. L. "Lynn" Tate of Corpus Christi as commissioner of the Texas Department of Labor and Standards.

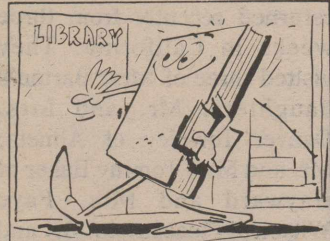

Jackie St. Clair of Round Rock, the man Tate succeeded, was promptly named a member of the Texas Industrial Commission.

Briscoe also reappointed W. Grogan Lord of Georgetown to the State Securities Board and J. C. Dingwall of Austin to the State Depository Board.

Gas Rate Examined

Texas Railroad Commission turned down Pioneer Natural Gas Company's attempt to limit an inquiry into the Amarillo utility's proposed natural gas rate increase to 41 industrial contract customers in northwest Texas.

The commissions' gas utilities division was directed to reschedule a hearing for January 16 on Pioneer's statement of intent to boost gas service rates two cents per thousand cubic feet. The increase has been suspended for 120 days.

Pioneer was directed to produce all facts, evidence, information and data necessary to determine fair rates for the industrial customers.

Meanwhile, the commission ended a hearing before a team of examiners into whether Good Hope Refineries Inc., a major gas operator in South Texas, is overproducing in violation of RRC production allowables. Good Hope denied the allegations. Also at issue is whether the over-production, if it occurred, contributed to an increase in natural gas prices charged South and Central Texas cities by Lovaca Gathering Company.

State Courts Speak

Contrary to a federal court's ruling, the Third Court of Civil Appeals said the state does not have a constitutional obligation to provide free education to aliens' children.

The same court upheld state regulation of child care facilities operated by religious groups.

The State Supreme Court took under review the question whether Texas judges can give deadlocked juries "dynamite charges" to keep open minds and consider each other's opinions on cases to prevent mistrials.

Wellington teams Open With Three Victories

Wellington basketball teams opened their season with a triple win over Class AA Quanah Monday night, November 21. Games were on the Indians court.

The Skyrockets took a close 50-47 victory, while the Rockettes won 55-37. The Rocket JV was a 33-18 victor.

"The boys played real good basketball for three quarters, then got a little tired in the fourth, but overall, I was real pleased with the way they played their first game," said Coach Robert Hicks.

The Rockettes never let the Indians get ahead. They maintained a 19-12 lead at the first quarter then scored 8 points in the second while they held their opponents to two, giving a half-time margin of 27-14. The third quarter score was 38-28.

"In the second quarter we had a chance to pull out a little bit. We were playing real good defense and allowed Quanah only one field goal. We played evenly through the third, but in the fourth it began to tell on us a little bit. Our boys are not in the top condition they will be later on. But they held together and did a real good job," the coach pointed out.

Wellington made 14 of 23 free throws, which for the first game of the year, is extremely good, Coach Hicks said. Quanah hit three of 12.

George Darton and Ricky Jones ties for high point honors with 13 each. Carl Taylor had 10, Jon Sessions 8 and Charles McIntosh 6.

"That shows we had good balanced scoring," Hicks added. Cummings scored 17 points for Quanah and Halton 16.

ROCKETTES

Wellington Rockettes' 55-37 victory over Quanah girls had an extra flourish. Their coach, Miss Debbie Chisum, has been hospitalized, and on the day of the game, saw the girls for the first time in a week and a half.

Miss Chisum is the first woman to be in charge of girls basketball here in recent years, and the game showed the results of her work earlier with the girls.

The Rockettes led 14-11 at the end of the first quarter, 31-24 at halftime and 41-33 at the third. In the final period, the Wellington girls got everything together and went on to score 14 points and held their opponent to four.

Quanah had a height advantage in this game, with all six of the starters being 5-10 or taller, and this hurt the Rockettes

Mrs. Alta McCann, Nov. 19.

Mrs. Eunice Hagan, Nov. 19.

Early season nervousness on the part of both teams was indicated by the 29 fouls Wellington accumulated and the 19 Quanah got.

The Rockettes made 22 free throws and Quanah 32. From the floor, Wellington girls shot 52 times and made 22 field goals for 42 per cent, while Quanah made 13 goals in 23 attempts for 57 per cent.

Wellington's high point player was Suzy Chandler with 30 points, while Pam Ingram had 14 and Kathleen Reeves 11. Carpenter scored 20 for Quanah.

BOYS' JV

Coach Ronnie Glenn's Skyrocket junior varsity scored 33 points, a comfortable margin over the 18 made by their Quanah opponents.

"I'm pretty proud of the boys. They started off real slow and were nervous. The Quanah gym has fan shaped goals, compared to our rectangular goals, and that hurt us. But we came out in the second half and really outscored them," Coach Glenn said.

Wellington trailed three points at the end of the first period, 8-5, but in the second period they got over their nervousness and scored 12 points while keeping their opponents to two, and the half-time score was 17-10. The margin was widened to 25-16 by the third quarter, and held their opponents to two.

Herbie Johnson scored 13 points for Wellington, Stacy Urban 10, Danny Wischaemper four; Alvin Pennon, Kevin Culpepper, Mike Thomas and Darryl Thomas two each. Wallace scored 10 points for Quanah JV and Kennon made the remaining 8.

Firecrackers Play First Game Dec. 1

Wellington Firecrackers began basketball practice last week. And will play their first game Thursday, Dec. 1 in the Childress Junior High tournament, Coach Bruce Dollar said this week.

Approximately 20 eighth graders are out for practice, and from this group, the team of 12 to 15 will be chosen, according to their coach.

Only three of the boys played junior high basketball last year, Coach Dollar said.

Although the others are new to basketball, they are catching on quickly.

"We have no height this year, and average speed and quickness. But they are pretty smart boys and are learning fast."

Bond Sales for Two Months Reported

August and September sales of Series E and H United Savings Bonds in Collingsworth county have been reported by the office of the state Savings bonds director.

County residents bought bonds totaling $2,219 in August and $8,903 in September, to bring total sales for the first three quarters to $24,263, according to Billy Mosely, county chairman.

This is 30 percent of the 1977 goal of $80,000.

Texas sales during the two months amounted to $46,444, 391, while sales for the first 9 months of 1977 totaled $209,908 with 76% of the yearly sales goal of 276.9 million achieved.

Breads & Desserts: Carla Caison, Dana Thomas, Patricia Fourmentin, Kim Castleberry and Cindy Barton. Snacks and Beverages: Cheryl Birkey and Karen Mote.

Knowledge of food counts heavily in the judging, according to Miss Jean Chandler, Extension Agent, Home Economics.

In the Senior division, this category determines 60 points on the girls scores. Fifteen percent depends on the food itself, 20 percent of the worksheet she must turn in, and 5 percent on her menu.

In the Junior division, the interview each contestant has with the judges, count 50 percent, the food itself 25 percent and her menu counts 25 percent.

Judging were Miss Becky Cochran and Mrs. Larry Henard, both homemaking teachers in Collingsworth County.

Church Music Team At First Baptist

Conwell (Connie) Ware, who is in full time music evangelism, and his wife, Allison, will present a program of vocal music at First Baptist Church Sunday, Nov. 27, during the evening worship hour, beginning at 7:00 p.m.

Ware reared in a well-known Baptist family, received a bachelor's degree in music education from Baylor University and a master of church music degree from Southwestern Seminary.

During his Baylor days, Ware worked throughout Texas and adjoining states in youth revivals, with much of his work under the direction of the Student department of the Baptist General Convention of Texas. In 1969, he worked with Dr. Chester Swor in a series of meetings from South Texas to Maryland. He has led music and been soloist in about 200 revivals and crusades.

Following his graduation from the seminary, he became minister of music and youth at First Baptist Church, Waynesville, N.C. He began full-time work in music evangelism July 15, 1973.

He is the son of the Rev. J.W. Ware, long-time minister who was Texas Baptists' "Father of the Year" a few years ago.

Allison Ware began accompanying graded choirs at Northway Baptist Church while of junior high age and later included youth choir tours for three years.

She attended Oklahoma Baptist University two years and graduated from Baylor University with a bachelor's degree in music education with a voice emphasis.

Services Held For Mrs. Pyles

A long-time Childress woman, Mrs. Lura Ava Pyles, 63, died Thursday, Nov. 17. She was in ill health about a year.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday at the First Assembly of God Church in Childress. Officiating were the Rev. A. R. Vaughan, pastor of the Wellington church, and the Rev. James Tynes, Childress pastor. Burial was in Childress cemetery.

Mrs. Pyles was born Oct. 18, 1914, in Jacksboro and moved to Childress in 1928. She was married to Robert Frank Pyles in April, 1930. He preceded her in death March 12, 1954.
