Rationing Of Gasoline And Canned Goods Has Ended

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (AP)—OPA today announced immediate termination of the rationing of gasoline, canned fruits and vegetables, fuel oil and oil stoves.

Price Administrator Chester Bowles said that meats, fats and oils, butter, sugar, shoes and tires will stay on the ration list "until military cutbacks and increased production brings civilian supplies more nearly in balance with civilian demand."

"Nobody is any happier than we in OPA," Bowles said, "that as far as gasoline is concerned, the day is finally here when we can drive our cars whenever we please, when we please and as much as we please."

The OPA chief said "right now it's impossible to estimate when other commodities can be removed from rationing. He added: "It certainly can't come too soon as far as we are concerned. You can be sure that the other items will go off the list the minute we hear that supplies are anywhere near big enough to go around."

Bowles said that immediate removal of several major civilian commodities from rationing may mean local shortages for a while. "The supply agencies assure us that the return to normal channels of distribution will take care of these trouble spots promptly."

The Army-Navy petroleum board notified the petroleum administration for war that the services' petroleum requirements were now reduced approximately 565,000,000 gallons per month.

The total includes 305,000,000 gallons of aviation gasoline; 168,000,000 gallons of Navy special fuel oil, and 19,000,000 gallons of motor gasoline.

Release of these products, the board said, will make available substantial quantities of civilian gasoline and domestic heating oil as soon as PAW can make the necessary adjustments in refinery operations and distributions.

Aug. 31 Closing Date To Issue Canning Sugar

Issuance of sugar for home canning will stop August 31, Chairman Clay Randolph of the Local War Price and Rationing Board announced today.

Original plans were to continue issuance through October, but the local Board has been advised to issue the entire allotment for 1945 by the end of August so that the home canning sugar program can be completed, he stated.

"This simply means that issuance will be speeded up and what we have for canning purposes will be issued by the end of this month," Randolph said.

Most of the applicants in this county received only five pounds per person after the drastic cut in sugar rations was announced in the early summer. Randolph reports that all those who have received only 5 pounds of canning sugar thus far will be issued additional sugar on the original application some time in August.

Residents Here Celebrate Japan's Surrender, Local Businesses Close Two Days

Lamesans reacted excitedly Tuesday, August 14, to the Tokyo broadcast that Japan had decided to surrender unconditionally to the Allies. News of the Tokyo broadcast reached this city around 2 a. m. Tuesday morning and early morning celebrators began to show their relief of the war's end around 4 a. m., when the blow of the local fire whistle could be heard resounding throughout this area, mingled with the blair of horns honking, as they circled around town, and the popping of fire crackers.

After a few hours the city lapsed into quietude, awaiting the official announcement from the White House of the complete and final Japanese surrender. Business houses remained closed throughout the day, and flags were placed outside the downtown buildings.

At 6 p. m. Tuesday afternoon when the official announcement came through from Washington, Lamesans again gave expression to their pent up emotions, and the fire whistle again went off, mingled with the blasts from motor vehicle horns, cow bells, and some blasts from fire crackers.

A large crowd of Lamesans and Dawson County residents gathered on the square immediately after the announcement, and a musical concert was played by Richard Young and members of the school band. An appropriate talk was made by Judge Louis B. Reed.

Most of the crowd remained in town until late Tuesday night, circling the square and mingling with neighbors. Some boys and girls were singing as they drove around the square and other people sat in their cars parked around the square watching the crowd, while still other residents gathered on the courthouse lawn or walked around town.

Observance of peace was carried through Wednesday, when most of the stores remained closed throughout the day. Some of the local churches held special services Wednesday night.

Lt. Randals With Group Marking Up Another First

An article appearing in the Wednesday edition of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram which was written by Sam Kinch, mentioned the name of Second Lieutenant Joe S. Randals, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Loo Randals of this city. A portion of the article is printed below:

WITH THE 7TH AIR FORCE ADVANCED BOMB GROUP, Okinawa, August 6 (Delayed)— Cpl. Joseph R. Holzapfel's "Meat Ballers" have a lot of distinctions. They were the first medium bomber group in Africa, first group redeployed from the Mediterranean Theatre to the Pacific and the first to use the new A-26 attack bombers.

And now one of the squadrons claim still another—the first two-story house built on Okinawa since American occupation.

Fliers off duty from missions were busy today finishing up their squadron mess hall and recreation room, which is on two levels. The lower level is in front of one of Okinawa's strange stone burial mounds and the second floor is even with the top of the tomb.

Stripped to shorts and shoes for the work was 2nd Lt. Joe S. Randals, former Lamesa lumber company manager, whose wife lives in San Antonio, and whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Loo Randals, live in Lamesa. Randals is a bombardier-navigator with five missions to his credit in the past three weeks of operations.

Sgt Roberts, Vet Of Pacific Action Is Discharged

Sergeant Harold Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Roberts, formerly Dawson County residents who now reside in Andrews, arrived in San Francisco July 31, and received his discharge from the Army last Friday at Fort Bliss.
Roberts had been overseas 3 years and 8 days, and in the Army for almost five years. He has the Infantryman's Badge and five campaign stars.
The toughest campaign, he stated, was the Aitape campaign in New Guinea where the 112 Cavalry bore the brunt of the attack of the 18th Japanese Imperial Army and was on the front line for 47 days. This army made four different attempts to break over the 112th which held the line and turned the Japs back with heavy losses.
The 112th figured in the Leyte Campaign and also in the landing on northern Luzon where mopping up operations are still in progress.

THE CHURCHES OF CHRIST SALUTE YOU. Rom. 16:16

When Does Faith Save A Person?

1. Abel Was Justified, By Faith, When He Offered a More Excellent Sacrifice Than Cain. Heb. 11:4. (He listened to God's word—Prepared an offering—offered it as directed)
2. Enoch, Was Translated, By Faith . . . For He Was Well-Pleasing Unto God. Heb. 11:5. (Before he was translated he walked with God, well-pleasing)
3. Noah, By Faith, Prepared An Ark To The Saving of His House. Heb. 11:7. (Before faith saved him he BUILT and ENTERED the ark)
4. Abraham, By Faith, Went Out Not Knowing Where he Was Going—At God's Command. Heb. 11:8. (Before faith saved him he AROSE—WENT OUT—FOLLOWED GOD'S ORDERS)
5. Namaan Was Cleansed from his Leporasy, By Faith, Josh. (Before faith saved him he DIPPED in JORDAN—IN WATER—SEVEN TIMES)
6. Children of Israel, Who Were Bitten By Serpents Were Healed, By Faith. (Before they were healed, by faith, they had to LOOK)
7. The Sinner, Is Saved, By Faith, When He Does What the Lord Commands. (Before he is justified, by faith, he must Repent of sins and BE BAPTIZED)

As ABEL, had to prepare and offer an acceptable offering to be justified, BY FAITH
As ENOCH, had to walk with God well-pleasing before he could be translated, BY FAITH;
As NOAH, had to build the ark according to pattern and then enter to be saved, BY FAITH;
As ABRAHAM, had to get out of his county and follow the Lord to be blessed, BY FAITH;
As NAMAAN, had to dip seven times in the river Jordan before he was cleansed, BY FAITH;
As The CHILDREN of Israel, had to lift their eyes to the brazen serpent to be healed, BY FAITH
JUST SO, the SINNER MUST BELIEVE, REPENT and BE BAPTIZED BEFORE he is saved, BY FAITH.
All who hear, Believe, Repent and are baptized are said to be SAVED BY FAITH.

"Sorry, but we're short on Coke today"

You and your own neighborhood store aren't the only ones hit by the Coca-Cola shortage. From coast to coast it's the same story.

The world-wide disorder and confusion caused by war have made the sugar shortage. Coke is short because sugar is short. But there's one thing you can always be sure of—the Coke you get is the real thing. The same quality you have always known.

So the next time you find yourself missing your Coca-Cola, don't blame your dealer. He is doing his best in a mighty tough situation. If he can't let you have Coke today, will you remember to try again tomorrow?

Lamesa Co-Op Prepared To Care For Your Ginning

County farmers have approximately 20,000 acres of good cotton to fall back on for the current year, which is the smallest acreage that has been planted in years. R. L. Jones, manager of the Lamesa Co-Operative Gin, says that even though the crop is somewhat short this year, Lamesa Co-Op Gin Number 1 has been put in first class condition for the ginning season by skilled labor.

He expresses the hope that executives of the gin will have opportunity to serve all of their members, customers, and friends, as well as new patrons during the season.

Mr. Jones says that the ginning season will not be rushed this year, as it has been in times past, and assures you that employees of the gin will give their patrons the very best of service.

He estimates that between 5 and

NEWLY HATCHED CHICKS ARE FLYING NOWADAYS

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Baby chicks are traveling farther and faster than ever before.

Put aboard planes in the usual cardboard shipping boxes containing 100 chicks, they can reach any point in the United States within the 72 hour limit during which a newly hatched chick is self-sustaining.

A typical hatchery in Windsor, Mo., which ranks with Iowa, Indiana and Ohio as primary producing areas in the nation, has shipped nearly 20,000 day-old chicks to the east coast this season.

Air shipments are in no way an experiment. For several years chicks have been flown from the United States to South America. This is the first season, however, that shipment of any size have been made regularly by air from Midwest hatcheries to the eastern market.

Sea water can be made drinkable by adding silicic oxide, and tartaric or citric acid.

10 thousand bales of cotton will be ginned in the county and stresses the possibility that the amount of ginning might rise above those figures. He says that prospects for a good grade of cotton look promising, pointing out that the crops do not seem to have been bothered by insects.

The Lamesa Co-Op Gin recently purchased a seed delinting plant, which will be put in operation during the proper season to serve the public manager. Jones says that cottonseed will be scarce and that delinting protects and saves the seed. The plant will be in full swing next Spring and the public will be benefited through the use of the delinting machinery.

Always progressive, and with the best interests of the people of this county in mind, Lamesa Co-Operative Gin holds membership with the National Cotton Council of America, an organization to promote the uses of cotton and to retain and improve prices for cotton raisers.

This cotton season when you take your crops to the gin, remember the Lamesa Co-Op and call on them. They can service you in a most capable manner and the courteous staff is always ready to help you in any way they can.

Dr. Simpson Advises That Horses Should Be Vaccinated In Order To Prevent Sleeping Sickness

Dr. A. M. Simpson, local veterinarian, states that this is the time of year when sleeping sickness often breaks out among horses over the country. He states, "Since the severe outbreak in 1944, and according to past knowledge we have of the disease, there will probably be another outbreak of sleeping sickness this year, though it may be more or less severe than in past history."

Dr. Simpson has already had two cases of the disease and reports that he has talked to veterinarians recently who have had from 10 to 25 cases of it.

He says, "Sleeping sickness is a deadly disease which kills about 50 per cent of the horses stricken with it. Out of the remaining number which survive, from 50 to 60 per cent remain 'dumbies'."

He continues, "It has always been known that the virus, which is the organism which causes the disease, is carried by mosquitoes and certain flies. The teatse fly is especially dangerous among horses."

Recently we have found that the chicken mite also carries and harbors the organism.

"Since the treatment for sleeping sickness is not very successful and a very, very small percentage of the horses which have been vaccinated contract the disease, it is advisable to vaccinate."

"So far, the records show that the only vaccinated horses which have contracted sleeping sickness are the ones which are vaccinated by the owner. This is due to the method which owners of horses use. Their method does not give the full immunity or the span of time that is received through vaccinating between the layers of the skin, as veterinarians are equipped to do."

Dr. Simpson who has his offices in the Blue Cross Hospital which is located on the Big Spring highway, is fully equipped and qualified to vaccinate your horses. Call on him and have your horses vaccinated before it is too late.

Tarawa Became Atoll That Opened Way To Pacific

By LIEF ERICKSON AP Newsfeatures

The battle for Tarawa was one of the most heroic assaults in Marine Corps history. Victory cost the lives of 931 Marines in 76 hours, but it opened a quickening American offensive to Japan — to Kwajalein, Saipan, Iwo Jima and Okinawa.

The attack on Tarawa by the Second Marine Division in November, 1943, was the first seaborne assault on a fortified atoll. From the start it was a grim, murderous fight. Until late in the second day, it was more than possible that the Marines might have been driven off Betio Island's narrow beach. In the darkness before dawn of Nov. 20, the Japanese fired the first shots, opening fire with captured British coastal guns brought from Singapore. Shells splashed in the water near the transports.

In 20 minutes, fire from American battleships had silenced the big guns. But the fire had forced the transports to pull back. Their landing craft followed. The hour of assault had to be set back 30 minutes. It was a costly delay.

The first three assault waves made it across the lagoon reef against steadily increasing Japanese machinegun fire.

The fourth wave's landing boats stalled on the reef. By then the Japanese had recovered from the shock of the preparation carrier plane bombing and naval shelling and their automatic weapons fire grew thicker. Those who lived to reach the beach found the first waves crouching for protection behind a four-foot coconut log seawall 20 yards from the water's edge.

At dawn of the second day, after the Eighth Regiment's First Battalion landed on the central beach, the Marines attacked. The Japanese were driven off the airstrip. By noon they were committing suicide with grenades. The Eighth regiment's Second and Third Battalions secured the western end of the island.

On the third day, reinforcements landed on the western beach end of long narrow Betio. This Third Battalion of the Sixth Marines fought down the southern side of the airstrip through clusters of six pillboxes every 10 yards. By night all the airstrip was secure and the enemy was pinned back in Betio's eastern tail.

On the morning of the fourth day, the drive for the east end of the island was started. It was over in four and a half hours, and shortly thereafter Maj. Gen. Julian Smith, Second Division commander, declared Betio secured. In all 4,800 Japanese were killed. The Marines lost 931 men killed and 2,037 wounded—2,968 casualties in 76 hours.

While the Marines were winning Tarawa, the 27th Army division's 168th Regiment captured Makin island to the north. The next invasion struck Kwajalein atoll Feb. 1. At the northern end of the atoll, twin islands of Roi and Namur were taken in 26 hours. Kwajalein island was won in five days.

Even before the Kwajalein assault, the fine Majuro atoll naval anchorage was taken without a fight.

Most snakes have poor vision, and can hardly recognize anything standing still, but they can follow fairly well moving objects with their eyes.

Pull Up A Chair—At The Curb

AP Newsfeatures

PHILADELPHIA — Frank J. Kolbe, a soldier's father, plans to manufacture electric wheel chairs for handicapped veterans, and already has his first one going.

The construction of Kolbe's scooter became a neighborhood project when he ran into trouble getting parts. Neighbors sympathetic to the cause promptly contributed gears, batteries, chains, bearing and a tarpaulin.

Kolbe's idea was born when Pvt. Frank Kolbe, Jr., home on furlough, was pushing Freddie Engel, crippled since birth, in a wheel chair. "Sure would be nice to have one driven by electricity said Freddie. The Kolbe chair, with a top speed of 12 miles an hour, has two wheels in the rear and one in front, three speeds forward and one reverse, headlights, stoplight and horn.

A cargo of gifts from Elihu Yale during the first year of existence of the collegiate school at New Haven led the trustees to name the institution after its benefactor.

New Grade School Pupils Are Asked To Enroll Early

The Lamesa Elementary School principal, G. M. Roberts, reports that he will be in his office during the two weeks period preceding the opening of school, at which time he would like to talk with parents and enroll pupils who are coming to the Lamesa institution from rural schools of the county for the first time.

He reports that such pupils should present their book cards and report cards at this conference. Parents are urged to accompany their children on these calls.

"This announcement does not apply to any first grade children. Specific announcements for the enrollment of first grade children will be carried in this paper at a later date.

Attention is called to the regulation requiring successful vaccination against smallpox for the admission of pupils into the Lamesa Public Schools, and first grade pupils will be required to submit evidence of their birth date unless their names are on the scholastic rolls of this or the district from which the pupil is contracted or transferred.

H. S. Fitzgerald, Lamesa High School principal, suggests that all pupils coming to the Lamesa High School for the first time from other high schools should obtain transcripts of work done in previous years in order that their subject assignments may be made promptly.

to arrange formal surrender. In addition, he announced plans for slashing Army draft calls from 80,000 to 50,000 a month and forecast the return of 5,000,000 to 5,500,000 soldiers to civilian life within 12 to 18 months.

As the great news became known, hundreds of Washingtonians raced to the White House to join hundreds already massed around the grounds.

Mr. Truman, accompanied by his wife, walked out on the porch and stepped up to a hastily erected microphone. He waved and smiled. Then spoke:

"Ladies and gentlemen, this is the great day. This is the day we have been looking for since December 7, 1941.

"This is the day when Fascism and police government ceases in the world.

"This is the day for the democracies.

"This is the day when we can start on our real task of implementation of free government in the world.

"We are faced with the greatest task we ever have faced with. The emergency is as great as it was on December 7, 1941.

"It is going to take the help of all of us to do it. I know we are going to do it.

For millions of Americans, for hundreds of millions of Allied people, this surrender announcement signified victory, peace and the even return of loved ones from war. To millions who sleep beneath stark white crosses, it meant their sacrifices had not been in vain.

For Japan, as for already vanquished Germany, it means the end of savage conquest and aggression, dismemberment of an empire won by blood-spilling, disarmament and occupation.

Those were the terms of the Allied Declaration of Potsdam, decreeing unconditional surrender, to which Japan acceded.

Once the Japanese sphere had stretched from Attu to Timor and Java and India, once Japan kept half a billion people enslaved under iron rule, and threatened to engulf half billion.

Now she is defeated—without invasion—but at a terrific cost.

PRICE OF VICTORY HIGH
For the United States, the price of victory in World War II was more than a million casualties and an expenditure of some $350,000,000,000.

The world counted its killed or wounded at perhaps 23,000,000 plus millions more slaughtered in air raids or dead of starvation.

Navy Announces Heavy Loss

Moments before Mr. Truman's news conference, news wires carried a Navy announcement that the Heavy Cruiser Indianapolis had been lost in the Philippine Sea as a result of enemy action, with all her complement of 1,196 officers and men dead, wounded or missing.

She had been carrying to Guam material for atomic bombs—the deadly new weapon that loosed the very forces of nature on now-humbled Japan and helped prod her toward peace.

And even while Japan's surrender note was on the way to Washington, the crash of bombs and clash of arms sounded on all Pacific fronts, signalling death almost at the moment of peace to enemies and Allies alike.

But for the moment the world forgot the horrors of a conflict which had its seeds in Japan's grab of Manchuria in 1931.

In Washington and the rest of the nation, screaming, whooping throngs let off steam in joyous celebration.

They'll Be Remembered

But in the soberer, peaceful tomorrows they will remember the heroes, living and dead—Kelly, Bong, O'Hare, Eisenhower, Doolittle, MacArthur, Nimitz. They will remember the hallowed places—Pearl Harbor, Corregidor, Bataan, Iwo Jima, Salerno, the Normandy beaches, St. Lo, the Ardennes. And they will remember Franklin Roosevelt, who died too soon to see even V-E Day.

Tomorrow they will come up against the problems of reconstruction and reconversion, to the perfecting of plans for seeing to it that never again shall war engulf the world.

Mr. Truman read the formal message relayed from Emperor Hirohito through the Swiss government in which the Japanese ruler pledged the surrender on the terms laid down by the Big Three conference at Potsdam.

President Truman made this statement:

"I have received this afternoon a message from the Japanese government in reply to the message forwarded to that government by the Secretary of State on August 11.

"I deem this reply a full acceptance of the Potsdam Declaration which specifies the unconditional surrender of Japan. In this reply there is no qualification.

"Arrangements are now being made for the formal signing of surrender terms at the earliest possible moment.

"General Douglas MacArthur has been appointed the Supreme Allied commander to receive the Japanese surrender.

Allies To Be Represented
"Great Britain, Russia and China will be represented by high ranking officers.

"Meantime, the Allied armed forces have been ordered to suspend offensive action.

"The proclamation of V-J Day must wait upon the formal signing of the surrender terms by Japan."

Simultaneously Mr. Truman disclosed that Selective Service is taking immediate steps to slash inductions from 80,000 to 50,000 a month henceforth. Mr. Truman said, only those men under 26 will be drafted for the reduced quotas.

The White House made public the Japanese government message accepting that ended the war which started December 7, 1941.

The message was delivered by the Swiss charge d'affaires, Max Grassli. The President made the historic announcement to a huge crowd of reporters who had been virtually living in the White House for days in anticipation of just such a development.

Everybody Smiles Broadly
Smiling and surrounded by his staff, the President told the press that the Japanese had decided to accept the unconditional surrender and mentioned that the reporters would not have to take any notes.

Mr. Truman said prepared statements would be available as they left and three were issued, one detailing MacArthur's appointment and containing the Japanese note, a second disclosing the immediate cutback in the draft and the third in which Mr. Truman congratulated "one of the hardest working groups of war workers"—the federal employees who were on the job for the past four years.

The President said they were entitled to a holiday tomorrow and Thursday with pay and only skeleton forces should be maintained. Literally beaming with pleasure, close associates of the President around his desk when the announcement was made included Admiral of the Fleet William D. Leahy, personal Chief of Staff; Secretary of State Brynes, Commodore James Vardaman, the President's Naval aide; Brig. Gen. Harry Vaughan, his military aide; Secretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal, Secretary of the Treasury Fred M. Vinson; Leo T. Crowley, Foreign Economic administrator; David K. Niles, special assistant; Maj. Gen. Phillip B. Fleming, Public Work administrator; Mathew Connelly, private secretary.

Byrnes, who played a major role in working out the surrender, sat at the President's right.

Newsreel cameras buzzed to record the momentous occasion, and flashlight bulbs flickered.

Conference Starts On Dot

The conference got started on the dot of 7:00 and was one of the shortest on record. Mr. Truman wasted no time nor words making the announcement.

In less than two minutes the conference was over and reporters dashed for telephones.

One of the late comers to the conference was Cordell Hull, Secretary of State 12 years under Franklin Roosevelt and a prime mover in the creation of the United Nations organization.

Hull slipped in unnoticed but in much better health than he was a few months ago when he had to leave office and retire to the Bethesda Naval hospital for a complete rest.

He remained behind a moment to chat with the President when the crowd left.

Shortly before 7:30 p. m., the President strode out on the lawn of the White House and the big crowd assembled before the north fence cheered, whistled and a few broke into song.

The President waved his right hand and the crowd waved wildly back.

Hundreds of people crowded the sidewalk immediately in front of the executive mansion where the broad vista opens across the wooded lawn upon the familiar portico which most of America knows as the "Front Door."

Horns of scores of cars let loose with all the noise they could make. People shouted, screamed and threw all sorts of things into the air. Sweating military police in the hot August evening had a strenuous time trying to keep the crowd back from the high iron fence which surrounds the lawn. The crowd spilled over into the street and blocked traffic into a thick mass of screaming hoists.

Lubricate your fan Regularly!

ELECTRIC FANS have been working overtime in recent weeks. The chances are they need a little oil or cup grease to protect bearings and prolong their useful life. Take care of this lubrication job now.

Some Fans Need Oil
For fans which have oil holes, use lubricating oil, such as automobile engine oil. Be careful not to use too much, for it may run out and rot rubber insulation.

Some Fans Need Grease
Some fans have grease cups instead of oil holes. These cups, containing a small wick and coil spring, should be filled with cup grease; not oil.

If you are in doubt as to how to lubricate your fans, take them to an electric shop for oiling and greasing.
