350 Are Expected For Annual Conference

South Plains Bankers To Meet Here Today

AT LEAST 350 bankers and their wives are expected here today for the annual meeting of the South Plains Bankers association.

Early delegates arrived late Wednesday in advance of today's all-day session. Practically all the early arrivals were from "big city" banks over the country, or banks on the outskirts of the South Plains district.

The district encompasses an area from Plainview on the north to the Texas and Pacific railroad on the south, and from Spur on the east to the New Mexico boundary on the west.

Dobbs Is President

Herman A. Dobbs, vice president of the First National bank of Odessa, is president of the association, but will be unable to attend the session. Bruce Zorns, vice president of the Brownfield State Bank & Trust company, who is vice president of the association, will preside in Dobbs' place.

B. T. Cardwell, vice president of the First State bank of Odessa, is secretary.

The Hilton hotel will be headquarters for the one-day meeting, which will open with registration from 8 to 10 a. m.

The day's program will open at 10 a. m. with Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor of the First Methodist church, giving the invocation. Address of welcome will be given by Walter S. Posey, president of the First National bank and response will be made by C. A. Hollingsworth, vice president of the Lamesa National bank.

Address Scheduled

Joe A. Clark, vice president of the Fort Worth National bank; Dr. J. W. Marshall, president of Wayland college at Plainview; and Tom Collins, publicity director of the City National Bank & Trust company, Kansas City, Mo., are scheduled for addresses on the morning program.

Clarke will talk on "Are We Machine Minded?"; Dr. Marshall will speak on "The Banker's Contribution," and Collins' subject will be "This Promising World."

Committee reports, election of officers and selection of the 1950 meeting place will close the day's meeting after which social activities will begin.

Visitors and their wives will be the guests of Charles E. Maed-

Drop In Factory Earnings Noted

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—The Labor department reported tonight that factory earnings and working hours, as well as non-farm employment, sagged significantly in March.

Ewan Clague, commissioner of labor statistics, told a news conference the lag means a cut in the public's purchasing power.

He said March normally should have reflected some spring upturn in non-farm employment, and now the April figures will have to be awaited for signs of any spring recovery.

Clague said durable goods, which had continued strong, also are showing slackening activity because of lowered employment, working hours and earnings.

Work Week Declines

Gross weekly earnings of factory workers decreased about $1 to $53.37 in March, or $1.66 below the December peak of $55.03. Clague said this is the most significant decline since December.

The average factory work week declined from 39.4 hours in February to 38.9 in March. Clague said this reflected elimination of overtime in many industries and working of less than 40 hours in others.

Non-farm employment dropped for the third straight month. Clague said it declined 150,000 during the month to 43,848,000. This compares with a 300,000 employment increase for March a year ago. The March decline this year is less than declines in January and February this year.

Contract Awarded To Light New Deal Athletic Field

MONROE, April 20 (Special)—The board of education of the New Deal Independent school district, meeting here tonight, awarded a project for lighting the school's athletic field to T and J Electric Co., of Abernathy, with a low bid of $3,096.

Four other electric companies submitted bids ranging from $3,250 to $4,325. Time of completion of the lighting project is 45 days.

The funds for lighting the combination football-softball field on the school grounds were raised through donation. Donations also are being received for a water well to be drilled on the school property.

At tonight's meeting, also, two board members who were recently elected, were installed. They included Bruce E. Gentry, sr., who was elected to the board for the first time; and M. J. Looney, who was re-elected.

Other board members are T. E. Snider, Flimm V. Dunn, B. B. Christie, F. H. Beaver, and O. L. Brownlow. A. L. Faubion is superintendent of the school system.

Basic Science Bill Opposed

By MAC ROY RASOR
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, April 20. — Midnight found the Senate still locked tight in filibuster on the basic science bill.

Senator Fred Harris of Dallas—helped by occasional questions—had held the floor in almost constant debate since 4:47 p. m.

Harris was still going strong as the Senate clock hands moved toward the morning hours.

There were other speakers scheduled to carry on the filibuster when he quits. Some senators guessed the filibuster could carry on until well past sunrise.

Appeal Is Made

He mixed serious arguments with comedy.

"It's the medical lobby that wants this bill, not the people," he hammered.

"I appeal to the press of Texas . . . to you reporters at the press table . . . Please let the people know about this vicious medical doctors' lobby and what that rich, powerful lobby has done to this legislature," he said.

He said he knew that those voting for the bill had pledged their vote to the medical lobby "regardless of any facts which may be presented on this floor."

The Senate gallery filled quickly shortly after 9 p.m. at the close of an address in the House of Representatives by Fundamental Baptist pastor Dr. J. Frank Norris of Fort Worth.

Quips To Crowd

"When two Baptists get together, they'll never let a crowd get away," he quipped.

When a Senate employe raised some windows, he pleaded:

"Don't get me in a draft so I'll catch cold because my days of getting medical attention have just passed!"

It was the first filibuster this week and the third this session.

They included Pat Bullock of Colorado City, D. P. Hardeman of San Angelo, R. A. Proffer of Justin, Hill Hudson of Pecos, Kyle Vick of Waco and John Bell of Cuero.

Proponents of the bill stubbornly resisted. They repeatedly re-

Solon Killed In Jet Plane Crash

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., April 20. (AP)—Rep. Robert Lewis Coffey, jr., of Pennsylvania, decorated wartime fighter pilot, was killed instantly at 4:40 p. m. today when his jet fighter crashed here

His P-80 Shooting Star crashed on the takeoff after a refueling stop at Kirtland Air Force base.

Crash crews worked more than 30 minutes pulling the body of the 30-year-old first term Democratic congressman from Johnstown, Pa., from the twisted wreckage.

Plane Loses Power

He was an air reserve pilot and was on a cross country proficiency flight when the accident occurred.

An Air Force announcement said he had refueled his P-80 Shooting Star at Albuquerque and was taking off when the accident occurred.

The plane had ascended about 25 feet, lost power and crashed.

He died instantly, the Air Force announcement said. The crash occurred at 6 p. m. (CST).

Coffey had taken off from neabry Andrews Field, Md., at 8 a. m. (CST) today and had refueled once at Detroit before landing at Albuquerque. He was enroute to Riverside, Calif.

Fliers Pass 874 Hour Mark On Record Endurance Flight

FULLERTON, Calif., April 20 (INS)—Endurance fliers Bill Burris and Dick Riedel approached their 874th hour aloft today on the last week of their goal of six straight weeks in the air.

The two expected to pass the 874-hour mark at 12 p.m. (CST).

Next Tuesday at exactly 11:44 p.m. (CST) they will land their light plane "Sunkist Lady" at Fullerton airport.

They cracked the world's record of 726 hours last Thursday. They wanted to remain aloft six weeks "just to give other pilots a mark to shoot at."

Bricker Leads Senate Battle Against Public Housing Plan

By ROSE McKEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 20 — Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) warned the Senate today that its housing bill may provide better homes for persons on relief than taxpayers can finance for themselves.

Bricker, in a speech urging defeat of the public housing provision of the bill, declared that five-room units costing as much as $12,500 could be built for persons of low incomes. He declared:

"We are authorizing public housing at a cost of up to $12,500 a unit. Thus, a five-room house could cost $12,500. We have had enough experience with federal projects to know how quickly maximum costs become minimum costs.

"We will be paying an average of $14,000 or $15,000 a unit for subsidized low-rent houses. That is more than the present value of homes of the majority of the people of the United States."

Bricker declared that in providing "better homes" for persons "in the welfare class" Congress will be "putting a penalty on thrift and a premium on indolence."

GIRL TELLS COURT OF THREATS

Daughter Of Slaying Victim Takes Stand In McGee Case

By EDWARD WELSH
Avalanche Staff Writer

"DON'T worry, honey, your daddy will take care of you." These were the last words spoken by R. L. Allston, Lubbock grocery executive, to his daughter Betty Jane. They were uttered just a few minutes before he was shot and killed on the afternoon of July 7, 1948.

This statement was revealed Wednesday afternoon when Betty Jane Allston, 18, took the witness stand to testify for the State of Texas in the murder trial of Richard W. McGee. McGee, 24, a former suitor and classmate of Miss Allston, is charged with the pistol slaying of Allston following a series of arguments with the girl's family.

Miss Allston broke down as she tearfully related her father's last words to her. The court ordered a short recess to allow the young woman to regain her composure so the examination of the witness could continue.

Defendant Shows No Emotion

While Miss Allston was giving her testimony the defendant sat glumly at the counsel table, his chin resting on his chest. Behind him, his mother, Mrs. H. H. Stull, sobbed and patted him occasionally. McGee showed no emotion but nervously toyed with pieces of paper and a knotted string. He showed no special attention to the proceedings but frequently asked Chief Deputy Sheriff George Eubank to get a glass of water for him. He was dressed in the same gray suit he has worn throughout the trial but was neatly groomed.

Miss Allston was also dressed in gray. She wore a one piece dress with no frills or trimmings, black shoes and no hat. A tall, attractive girl with dark eyes and chestnut hair, she spoke in a clear voice and made a good impression with her direct answers.

An overflow crowd jammed the courtroom for Wednesday's opening testimony.

Former Wife In Court

A surprise visitor to the courtroom Wednesday was Mrs. Richard W. McGee, now divorced from the defendant. She was the former Wanda Warrick of Plainview. The attractive young woman was married to the accused man on Jan. 13, 1948, and was divorced from him on June 19, 1948. The final decree was issued just 18 days before the alleged slaying.

The former Mrs. McGee is now residing in Dallas where she is employed by the Southwestern Bell Telephone company. It was not known whether or not she would be called as a witness.

Doctor Takes Stand

Miss Allston was the second witness called yesterday afternoon when Judge Dan Blair reconvened the 72nd District court. Earlier, District Attorney Lloyd Croslin and special assistant George Dupree, brought Dr. Lee E. Hale to the stand. Dr. Hale testified to the condition of the slain man on the afternoon of the shooting when he was brought to West Texas hospital. Dr. Hale stated that the bullet that struck Allston had passed through his neck and had caused him to lose excessive blood. Death, he stated, came as a result of the man literally drowning in his own blood. Death came about three hours after the shooting which occurred at the Colonial Apartments, 2020 Fifth.

Although Miss Allston and the accused man, Richard McGee had been keeping company from the time they met at Denton on March 9, 1948 until two days before the shooting, they had not had ser-

Light Drizzle Is Forecast

RAIN clouds continued to hang over the South Plains last night, and grey skies were expected for most of today but other than an occasional light drizzle no precipitation of consequence was received.

Light drizzle was forecast for this morning by the Lubbock Weather station. "There is some possibility of heavier showers in this area during the morning, but it appears that they will be widely scattered unless there is a sharp change in present conditions," the forecaster said.

Break In Overcast Seen

The overcast will begin to break up this afternoon, the station said, with partly cloudy skies predicted for tonight and Friday. Warmer temperatures this afternoon are foreseen. Wednesday's readings ranged from a low of 51 to a high of 57 degrees.

Today's temperatures will range from a low of 48 to a high in the low 70's, the station predicted. Little change in temperatures is expected Friday.

While only a "trace" of moisture was recorded at the Weather station yesterday, rainfall for the week totalled 1.22 inches.

Land In Top Shape

The precipitation came at an opportune time for much of the land over the South Plains which is devoted to row crops had been listed, or given other cultivation and was in top condition to receive and hold the moisture that fell, as a result little of the rain was lost despite the sudden heavy downpours Monday night.

Planting time will find most of the land in this area moist enough to sprout seed without farmers planting "dry" and hoping for a shower to bring it up.

In the language of the Texas wheat farmer, this week's rains may have "made" the crop, the Associated Press reported.

The rains—which continued falling Wednesday and may continue tomorrow—came just about in the nick of time.

Rain was falling late Wednesday at Houston, Galveston and Corpus Christi.

Afternoon temperatures ranged from the high 50's in the Panhandle to 85 degrees at Brownsville.

This has not been a drouth spring in Texas. But much of the

Britain Attacks Red Trials Of Clergymen In Protest To UN

LAKE SUCCESS, April 20. (AP)—Britain attacked the iron curtain trials of churchmen today as a fresh phase of Communist opposition to religion and free thought.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate, told the special political committee of the UN assembly that Britain joins the United States in supporting a Bolivian move to keep the cases before the UN until the September assembly.

This would permit the UN to act if nothing comes of proposals to settle the disputes over the religious trials through the peace treaties with Bulgaria and Hungary.

The committee is debating what to do about the trials of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty of Hungary and of 15 Protestant clergymen in Bulgaria.

Chinese Civil War Blazes On Yangtze

By SEYMOUR TOPPING
Associated Press Staff Writer

NANKING, April 20 — China's dormant civil war erupted today with a furious Communist offensive along more than 400 miles of the vital Yangtze valley.

The bubble of peace, afloat for three months, had burst. The Reds struck after the government rejected their latest peace offer. This "peace offer" amounted to total surrender.

Nanking, the capital, and Hankow, major supporting base 375 miles to the southwest, seemed the first objectives of Red armies 1,000,000 strong. To meet this shock the Nationalists had possibly 500,000 men.

Air Force Far Away

Nanking shook to artillery attacks from three points across the river. Communist veterans from the conquest of Manchuria were attacking on the plains before Hankow.

The first onset is designed to wipe out Nationalists bridgeheads on the north bank of the Yangtze. This great river divides the Communist north from the Nationalist south.

Nowhere, in the flood of battle reports, was there mention of a crossing attempt. Government gunboats duelled with Red shore artillery both above and below Nanking.

The Nationalist air force, which had helped before, was far away on the island of Formosa, a last-ditch government redoubt. There was no hint it would be thrown into the battle of the Yangtze.

Nanking In Peril

It apparently was in one of these duels that the British sloop Amethyst was hit by Red shells 60 miles down river from Nanking and went aground with a number of casualties. The British destroyer Consort also was hit trying to go to the sloop's aid. Both warships may have been mistaken by Red gunners for Chinese gunboats.

The peril to Nanking was great. At least two Red divisions were reported driving on Pukow, the railhead city on the north bank opposite Nanking.

Solons To Hear Armed Aid Plan

WASHINGTON, April 20 (INS)—Secretary of State Acheson and Secretary of Defense Johnson will present detailed plans for U. S. military aid to Western Europe to the Senate Foreign Relations committee tomorrow.

Arrangements were announced tonight for a joint appearance before the committee of the two government officials charged with chief responsibility for implementing the North Atlantic treaty.

They will take to the Capitol a "top secret" administration draft bill embodying terms approved by the White House for the proposed European arms program.

Acheson Seeks Advice

Acheson declared he also intends to seek the advice of the committee on the best method of presenting to Congress the legislation necessary to finance the arms plan which implements the North Atlantic defense pact.

Meanwhile, Chairman Taft (R-Ohio) of the Senate GOP policy committee, said Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich) told the group he was "confident" the program would be made public "before or at least when hearings begin."

Taft said the $15,300,000,000 U. S. defense program and the western European arms plan

Texas To Mark Anniversary Of Battle Of San Jacinto Today

HOUSTON, April 20 (AP) — Tomorrow marks the 113th anniversary of the battle of San Jacinto in which Sam Houston's ragged outnumbered volunteers caught Santa Ana asleep and assured the independence of Texas.

The anniversary will be observed with almost day-long ceremonies at the San Jacinto Battleground State park, southeast of Houston.

Hugh Roy Cullen, Houston oilman and philanthropist, will be principal speaker at a formal ceremony at 2 p.m. beneath the San Jacinto monument.

Activities at the battleground are to begin at 10:30 a.m. with a meeting of the Sons of the Republic of Texas. New officers will be named.

Afterward, some 250 members and guests of the Sons and Daughters of the Republic of Texas will eat lunch on the deck of the battleship Texas, now a Texas shrine.

Crippled Transport Plane Lands Safely After Sea Flight

(By The Associated Press)

FAIRFIELD, Calif., April 20 — A military transport plane carrying 23 persons to Hawaii, turned back 700 miles at sea by engine trouble and landed safely at its base here tonight.

The Marine aircraft was flying a military air transport service run to Honolulu. Three of its four engines brought it back to this base after one had failed late this afternoon.

Rescue planes had been dispatched when the four-engine transport radioed that first one, then a second, then a third of its engines were in trouble. The distress messages said cargo was being thrown overboard.

First reports said one engine had failed and a second was "very rough." A later radio dispatch said a third engine was developing trouble. The plane at that time was believed about 200 miles off San Francisco.

New Russian Offer Hinted

By THOMAS A. REEDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, April 20.—A high German official declared today Soviet Russia is ready to propose a German settlement, including lifting of the Berlin blockade, if the West will bar Germany from the North Atlantic alliance.

Confirmation was lacking. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American military governor, said he knew of no new Russian overtures. The Russians kept silence. A small power consular official, however, said he had heard the report and believed it.

The German source is about as well informed as any German in this divided city, which is seething with rumors of an impending break in the situation.

Russian Plan Reported

He said the Russian plan would provide for lifting the Soviet blockade of Western Berlin withdrawal of both Russian and Western Allied armies from Germany and formation of a central German government at a parley of the United States, British, French and Russian foreign ministers. He said the plan would be advanced by Russia herself, and not through a satellite.

The Russian aim, according to this source, is twofold:

1—To establish a "vacuum" Germany between the Rhine and Oder rivers, unlikely to represent a threat to the Soviet Union.

2—To retire from an untenable position and yet save face.

How such a proposal would be received by the West is conjectural.

The United States, Britain and France are agreed there will be no further four-power parleys on Germany until the Berlin blockade is lifted. They are committed also to a long occupation of Germany. Russia has sought before to get all troops out soon.

The Russians have built up a Communist police force in Eastern Germany which many western officials say is intended to continue the Communist rule begun with protection of Soviet bayonets.

SINGER SPEAKS AT 'PEACE' MEET

Robeson Says Negroes In U.S. Would Never Fight Soviet Union

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, April 20—Paul Robeson, American negro singer, told the Communist-inspired World Peace congress today that American negroes would never fight the Soviet Union.

His resonant voice injected the first fire into an otherwise monotonous opening session that heard repeated attacks on the Atlantic pact, the U.S. atomic policy, the Marshall plan and "Anglo-American capitalist imperialism" from a series of speakers.

Robeson brought the 2,000 delegates from 52 or more countries to their feet with his call for a "fight for friendship" with Russia, the 'eastern democracies and a free China."

He ended his appearance by singing a re-write of "Ole Man River" which substituted the words "show a little grit" for "git a little drunk."

"I bring you a message from the negro people of America that they do not want a war which would send them back into a new kind of slavery," Robeson told the congress.

He declared President Truman's program for colonial development,

Heavy Losses Are Reported Aboard Ships

By FRED HAMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

SHANGHAI, Thursday, April 21 Communist artillery shelled a third British warship in the Yangtze today. The attack on the sloop Black Swan raised British casualties for the past 24 hours to 64 with 26 known dead.

The British cruiser London was reported steaming toward the river area between Nanking and Shanghai where two sloops and a destroyer were bombarded. There was a possibility she might bring her big guns into action in her rescue attempt.

British naval sources said all three shellings definitely came from the Communist side of the great river. The Reds are known to have heavy concentrations of artillery in position to support a crossing of the Yangtze.

Casualties Reported

British naval sources said first reports indicated the Black Swan had suffered 15 or more casualties. The previous attacks totaled 26 known dead and 23 wounded.

The Black Swan was shelled, naval sources said, while trying to aid the stricken Amethyst, the first British ship caught as China's civil war broke out in full fury again along the great river.

The Black Swan was shelled between Nanking and Shanghai in the same area where Communist shore guns on the river's north bank pounded the Consort and the Amethyst.

Naval sources said they did not know whether any of the Black Swan's crew had been killed in the attack.

A spokesman for the British naval attache's office here said 17 men were known dead in the shelling of the Amethyst and 20 wounded.

The battered Consort arrived at Shanghai today and 16 wounded were removed by U. S. Navy and civilian ambulances. It was not known whether all these were Consort crewmen or whether she had picked up some of the Amethyst's wounded.

Fights Running Duel

Nine crewmen of the Consort were killed as the ship went to aid the Amethyst, aground on Rose island, 60 miles downstream from Nanking. Three aboard the Consort were wounded seriously, the spokesman said.

The destroyer carried on a running duel with the shore-based

Property Valued At $170 Stolen

A suitcase and its contents, valued collectively at about $170, were stolen Wednesday from the car of D. E. Glenn of Amarillo, while the vehicle was parked on a lot at Seventeenth and Texas Ave., police were told.

Included in the contents of the suitcase were several shirts, socks, ties, underclothing, a shaving kit and two photographs of members of Glenn's family, police records showed.

A 19-year-old Lubbock youth, arrested last night by police, admitted to detectives that he had stolen fender skirts from the car of Bill Williams of 2123 Eighteenth. The stolen skirts were on the suspect's car when the arrest was made, police said. The youth will be charged today in county court with misdemeanor theft.

Four Burglaries Probed

Four burglaries, in which loot totaled only $11.05 according to preliminary reports, and several thefts were under investigation of police Wednesday.

Singley Machinery company, at 1012 Nineteenth, was broken and entered by a rear window. H. E. Singley, jr., informed Pete Hubbard and Homer Harrison, police patrolmen, $7.05 that was in a drawer under a cash register was taken.

Singley pointed out a .38 pistol and a new 30.06 rifle that the burglar or burglars had moved but left in the store. The pistol was one his father had carried as sheriff at Wellington several years

PROSECUTOR DENIES CHARGES

Army Accused Before Congress Of Torturing Nazi Prisoners

By LEON SHLOSS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 20 — The Army was accused before Congress today of torturing confessions out of Nazi storm troopers convicted of slaughtering 80 American prisoners in the Malmedy massacre.

The charges were contained in a letter read before a Senate Armed Service subcommittee. They were immediately denied by Lt. Col. Burton F. Ellis, chief prosecutor at the trials.

Army Secretary Royall has stayed the execution of six Germans pending committee recommendations. Death sentences of six other Nazis have been commuted.

Accusing Letter Read

The Armed Services committee decided to investigate after repeated charges of mistreatment and unethical procedure were lodged against the Army prosecutors.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), read the accusing letter, written by James J. Bailey, a Pittsburgh court reporter who worked for the Army during the Malmedy investigation. Acting committee chairman Hunt (D-Wyo), ordered that Bailey be summoned to testify.

McCarthy, who said the Army methods "make me sick down inside," added that he was afraid the committee "was principally concerned with white-washing the Army."

He based his statement on the law firm association of Dwight Fanton, another Army prosecutor at Malmedy, with subcommittee Chairman Baldwin (R-Conn.)

"Torture" Is Described

Bailey in his letter said methods used in obtaining confessions "was such that after 10 weeks I could stomach it no longer." He assailed "mock trials" during which prisoners were "softened up."

Each prisoner, Bailey related, "had a long, multi-colored robe thrown over him, and a black hood pulled down over his head, a rope knotted about his head, and he was marched into a cell to be interrogated." He continued:

"I have been present in cells where there was only a small table with a black cloth over the top, containing a crucifix and two candles, and when the prisoner was marched in, and the black hood suddenly jerked from his head, he fainted dead away, his nose striking the concrete cell floor, flattening his nose and making his face a bloody mess."

"Mock Trial" Defended

Ellis, who said his pre-war court experience was limited to divorce and probate cases, declared the storm troopers charged abuse "to get out from under their confessions."

He said several of the Germans have admitted "fabricating the story of their beatings." The prosecutor explained that the Nazis were held in solitary confinement and made to wear hoods when traveling to prevent them from exchanging notes to find out how much the American had learned from them individually.

Ellis defended the "mock trial" procedure. He said prisoners were never told they were on trial. He conceded that a prosecutor frequently pretended friendship for a prisoner "to get him to talk."

Baldwin was not present when McCarthy made his statement regarding Fanton. J. M. Chambers, committee staff member, denied any plans for a "whitewash."

He asserted that the group's strong desire for an impartial inquiry prompted the invitation to McCarthy—a bitter critic of the alleged brutality — to participate in the hearings.

Texas Farmers Reported Luring Mexican Labor By Radio Talks

MEXICO CITY, April 20 (U.P.)—Texas farmers are conducting an insidious radio campaign to induce Mexican laborers to cross into the United States for farm work, sources close to the foreign ministry reported here today.

They said that Mexican consuls in border towns from El Paso to Laredo have sent reports here on the situation. As yet no protest has been filed with the U. S. embassy, it was learned.

Meanwhile, the Mexican Workers confederation reported that some 40,000 Mexican nationals are working illegally in the United States.

The confederation, in a petition to President Aleman, asked the government to obtain "legal protection" for them.

According to reports from border regions, small radio stations along the border have been broadcasting programs emphasizing the high salaries offered for farm work in Texas and announcing points wherein employment could be obtained.

Oldest Texas Teachers College To Observe 70th Anniversary

HUNTSVILLE, Tex., April 20 (U.P.)—Sam Houston State Teachers college, the oldest teacher-training institution west of the Mississippi river, will observe its 70th birthday tomorrow.

Gov. Beauford Jester has proclaimed State Teachers' College Day in honor of the occasion. It was on April 21, 1879, that Gov. O. M. Roberts signed a legislative act creating Sam Houston Normal institute.

The college's anniversary coincides with the 113th celebration of the battle of San Jacinto.

Lorenzo Residents Plan Donations To Lubbock Blood Bank

Residents of Lorenzo, although living outside Lubbock county, are anxious to donate blood to the Lubbock county blood bank.

The Lubbock county Red Cross chapter, which sponsors the blood bank, reported Wednesday that upon request from Lorenzo Lions club members of blood bank personnel will go to Lorenzo tonight to type blood at Lorenzo Methodist church.

Meal To Be Served

Methodist women will serve a meal at 7:30 o'clock at the church to those wishing to donate blood. Approximately 100 persons are expected to be present, the Red Cross chapter was notified.

Mrs. W. B. Agee of Lubbock, co-chairman of the blood bank committee, will speak. A group of technicians headed by Bob Edwards, Tech student and blood bank technician, will be present to type blood. The blood will not be drawn tonight.

Druggist Makes Arrangements

Leon Pierot, druggist and member of the Lions club, is making arrangements for the gathering.

The chapter here was notified residents wished to donate blood in appreciation for immediate availability of blood to Lorenzo residents who have needed it.

In addition to serving Lubbock county residents, the blood bank provides blood for transfusions for persons from a wide area who receive treatment here. In such cases, friends or relatives of those receiving blood are encouraged to offer replacement. Several Lorenzo residents already have donated blood to the blood bank.

Defense Contempt Motion Denied In Colorado Co-Ed Slaying Case

BOULDER, Colo., April 20 (INS) Judge George Bradfield today denied a contempt petition in district court at Boulder which had been aimed at the Denver Post and two of its officials.

Palmer Hoyt, publisher of the Post, and E. Ray Campbell, president of the publishing company, were accused of contempt of court by attorneys for Joe Sam Walker.

The Boulder metal-worker, accused in the murder of 18-year-old University of Colorado co-ed Theresa Foster, charged in the petition that the Post had interfered with the processes of justice.

Judge Bradfield went through the 11-point affadavit section by section and said he could find no proof offered where facts of the case as reported by the Post had been distorted.

He ruled there was insufficient proof to indicate that the Post articles would hinder a fair and just trial for Walker.

The judge also denied defense attorneys attempt to have articles on the murder case ordered for use in evidence for the court trial which opens April 25.

Prominent Mexia Surgeon, Civic Leader, Claimed; Rites Set Today

MEXIA, April 20 (U.P.) — Dr. Marion M. Brown, prominent Texas surgeon and Mexia civic leader, died here today.

Funeral services are scheduled at 2 p.m. tomorrow in Mexia.

A nationally known figure in the medical profession, Brown was a fellow of the American College of Surgeons and held several state posts. He was past president of the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners and formerly was a member of the Texas State Board of Health.

The 65-year-old doctor moved to Mexia in 1914 from his native Grosbeck. He had started his medical practice seven years earlier in Wortham, Tex. In Mexia, he founded the Brown hospital in 1922 and had operated it since that time.

His medical studies took him from Tulane university in New Orleans to the University of Texas and Baylor university, and for post-graduate work, to London, Paris and Vienna.

In addition to his professional work, Brown was a past president of the Mexia Chamber of Commerce and Lions club. He was a Mason.

Midland County Sheriff 'Finds' Man Sought In Forgery Case

MIDLAND, April 20 (AP)—For almost three years Deputy Sheriff Ed Edwards has been looking for a man wanted in Midland county on forgery charges.

This week he spotted the man about to board a taxi here. Accosted, the man said:

"I was just heading for the sheriff's office to find out what this fuss is all about."

Drugless Health!
REGARDLESS of how long you have been a sufferer, and how many medicines you have tried before, you can now hope for relief if you try GEO-MINERAL, the wonderful mineral aid. Feel and enjoy the results one week after you start taking it. GEO-MINERAL comes from the earth — Nature's laboratory. Contains NO alcohol, NO preservatives, NO oil. NO harmful drugs, NO dope — is NOT habit forming. Contains ONLY Nature's minerals, the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments — highly recommended by the medical profession.
FOR THOUSANDS of years ever since Hipocrates was the father of medicine, minerals and other natural medicines were a reliable remedy for most of our common ailments. GEO-MINERAL will enrich your blood, help to make you strong, full of pep, life and energy. If you suffer from nutritional anemia, nervousness, lack of vitality and energy see what GEO-MINERAL will do for you.
Amazing Results
MEDICAL records show 65% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional mineral-iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, tired, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite, when your eyes lack that bright spark, and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and life seems not worth living, with worry wearing you down—it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. GEO-MINERAL is then what you need.
RHEUMATISM, arthritis are dreadful diseases. Acid condition in the blood is often their cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain and suffering of these ills. People, on the advice of their doctors, go to mineral springs to find cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Warm Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there twice a year.
Wonder Minerals
YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas, to drink and bathe in their miraculous water. We have all heard of the wondrous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece where, according to legend, Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.
GEO-MINERAL contains minerals you get at the world's best springs. Watch your elimination from your bowels a day or two after using it. The waste, black as the color of your shoes, will start to break away, and you will SEE it! Also examine your urine. You may see impurities — poisonous waste — coming out of your kidneys, relieving you. And then realize the priceless value of GEO-MINERAL.
Read What They Say!

"We wish to state that after selling Geo-Mineral for eight months, this product has broken all sales records in the medicine line in our drug store"—reports Jack Wright, owner of Economy Drug Co., Anderson, S. C. "Users report almost miraculous results helping sufferers with rheumatism, arthritis, weak kidneys, and various stomach ailments. We believe that there exist very few items on the druggists' shelf with the merit of this natural mineral medicine. Of thousands of bottles sold on guarantee basis, there have been very few refunds."
100% Guaranteed!
WE URGE everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money.
REGARDLESS of how long you have been suffering, and how many medicines you have tried before, GEO-MINERAL may be the remedy you need!
TRY it today! It may do wonders for you—and be the best investment for your health. Make you feel, eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better.

MOSCOW PEACE MOVE AWAITED

HST Names Vice Admiral Kirk As U.S. Ambassador To Russia

By FRANCIS J. KELLY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 20—Vice Admiral Alan G. Kirk, poker-faced sailor-diplomat, was named ambassador to Russia today as the United States held the door open for any real peace move by Moscow.

The assignment came in the midst of unconfirmed reports that the Russians are considering a deal which might lift the Berlin blockade.

Secretary Acheson declined to comment at his news conference today on the rumors of such Russian feelers.

Succeeds General Smith

Kirk, 60-year-old retired naval officer, has been serving as ambassador to Belgium and minister to Luxembourg. He succeeds Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, who asked to be relieved from the Moscow post and who now commands the First Army in New York.

In sending Kirk's nomination to the Senate, Presdent Truman confirmed predictions, current for two weeks or more, that the ticklish job of maintaining contact with the Soviets would go to the man who commanded naval units in the invasion of Sicily and who helped map out the cross-channel invasion of Normandy.

At Moscow, Kirk will not only have the advantage of more than three years diplomatic experience at Brussels, but also a record not identified with the touchiest phases of the cold war between the Soviets and the west. This latter element was believed to have been an important consideration in his appointment to a position where he may be called upon to handle delicate and lengthy negotiations.

At the age of 60, Kirk has a naval record extending back to 1911, when he was commissioned an ensign. After early service on the China station, he was advanced through the grades to rear admiral, a rank he achieved in 1941.

He retired from the Navy in 1946, accepting appointment as ambassador to Belgium the same year. He is a native of Philadelphia and now a legal resident of Connecticut.

Ex-Paymaster Held In $89,438 Embezzlement In Kansas City

LIBERTY, Mo., April 20 (U.P.)—A former paymaster today faced charges of embezzling $89-438 in "vacation pay" from the Corn Products company of North Kansas City, where he was employed for 25 years.

Sheriff Curtis Hay said company officials claimed a shortage of $197,000, but investigators found only evidence enough to indict Dewey Vest, 50, for the lesser amount. The indictment listed 405 payroll manipulations from Jan. 1, 1945 to Dec. 4 1948.

Hay said Vest allegedly had made up several vacation checks for various employes, sometimes for more than $600 over the amount the employe had coming, then forged an endorsement and cashed them himself.

Company authorities said they noted the shortage last December. An audit disclosed someone had been drawing and cashing fake duplicate checks over a period of the previous five years.

Vest, confronted with the checks, admitted something was wrong. He was fired. The National Surety company, a bonding concern, pressed the investigation.

Vest was arrested Monday by Hay at Delaware, O. He moved there several months ago and opened a service station and sandwich shop. He waived extradition.

Clay county officials said Vest refused to make a statement. He was jailed in default of $100,000 bond.

A Persian poem of Firdausi, called Shahnamah — The Book of Kings — containing 120,000 lines, brought $4,200 at a recent London auction.

5 doctors prove this plan breaks the laxative habit

If you take laxatives regularly—here's how you can stop!

Because 5 New York doctors now have proved you may break the laxative habit. And establish your natural powers of regularity. Eighty-three per cent of the cases tested did it. So can you.

Stop taking whatever you now take. Instead: Every night for one week take 2 Carter's Pills. Second week—one each night. Third week—one every other night. Then—nothing!

Every day: drink eight glasses of water; set a definite time for regularity.

Five New York doctors proved this plan can break the laxative habit.

How can a laxative break the laxative habit? Because Carter's Pills "unblock" the lower digestive tract and from then on let it make use of its own natural powers.

Further—Carter's Pills contain no habit-forming drugs.

Break the laxative habit . . . with Carter's Pills . . . and be regular naturally.

When worry, overeating, overwork make you irregular temporarily—take Carter's Pills temporarily. And never get the laxative habit.

Airline Officials To Arrive Here On Tour

Gen. Robert J. Smith, president of Pioneer Air Lines, and Harding L. Lawrence, company vice-president, will arrive in Lubbock tonight, Jack Boydston, company city manager, has announced.

The airline officials are making an annual trip in which cities served by Pioneer Air Lines are visited.

Five-Day Tour Planned

The five-day tour will cover San Angelo, Midland, Odessa, Big Spring and Lubbock, with the officials arriving here at 9:37 p.m. today.

Gen. Smith is also the commanding general of the 309th Bomb Division Reserve, and has been in civil and military aviation since 1917. He was formerly connected with American Airways, Braniff Airways, and was head of the aviation department of Dallas Chamber of Commerce, of which he is now a director.

During the war Gen. Smith was deputy commander of the North African Division of the ATC with headquarters in Cairo, Egypt.

Sister Kenny Plans Withdrawal From Paralysis Foundation

MINNEAPOLIS, April 20 (INS) — Sister Elizabeth Kenny, famed Australian nurse who introduced a new concept of polio treatment, was reported today withdrawing from an active part in the Kenny foundation.

The foundation made the announcement of Sister Kenny's withdrawal in Minneapolis. The foundation added that all medical aspects and treatments are being turned over in entirety to medical men headed by Dr. E. J. Huenekens, medical director of the foundation and clinical professor of pediatrics at the University of Minnesota.

Sister Kenny told International News Service she was withdrawing from the foundation because "I feel that my first mission in America—the scientific research concerning the new concept of infantile paralysis and its treatment —now has been established."

'Second Mission' Planned

The internationally prominent nurse disclosed at the same time that she has "much further knowledge which could be of benefit to the health and well-being of the people of the United States."

She added that giving this knowledge to health authorities will be "my second mission."

Sister Kenny said she had no plans for the future "other than helping wherever I am needed."

The foundation said she had assured the group of her availability for consultation "at any time."

Doctors Support Program

The nurse said she would make her home in Minneapolis, the city which furnished her a residence in gratitude for her efforts in the Minnesota infantile paralysis epidemic two years ago.

A foundation spokesman said the 62-year-old nurse considers her active work in America finished.

The spokesman, announcing that the polio program will be assumed fully by medical men, said it now has the support of the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis and the American Medical association. On occasion there have been differences of opinion between the organizations and the Australian polio nurse.

Kenny Method Described

Observers said one immediate result of the medical men's assumption of leadership in the foundation will be more bed-space for patients.

The Kenny polio treatment consists of attention to all muscles, not just those paralyzed by the disease. Hot packs are used, muscles and tendons are stimulated, and muscles and nerves "restrained." A stretching exercise is used on contracted muscles.

The Kenny treatment now is provided by technicians in Minneapolis, Chicago, Pontiac, Mich., Buffalo, N. Y., Jersey City, N.J., Los Angeles, and San Francisco.

The Woman's Angle
By Ellen Miller

HOME making experts say that spring house cleaning, or house cleaning for a full day or two at any time of the year, is unnecessary. A house should be spotless all the time, they say. They may be right.

However we are not so efficient but that the times seem to arrive at intervals when all the woodwork needs washing, all the windows are smudged, and dust has accumulated all over the house. The rooms need more attention than they can get in a quick hour or so, and we daresay that a number of other women find themselves in the same predicament.

In recent weeks, all manner of information has come into our hands on cleaning a house, and here are a few of the highlights:

Window washing is easier if done with a sponge or chamois dipped in clear warm water and wiped with a window squeegee, using continuous overlapping strokes from top to bottom. After each stroke wipe the frame below the stroke with the sponge, and also the rubber blade of the squeegee. Touch up the edges of the window frame with the sponge before proceeding to the next window.

If panes are grimy, add about 4 tablespoons of household ammonia to the water to help loosen the dirt. For windows which have many small panes, an easy method is to wash two or three panes at one time with the sponge and dry quickly with a chamois.

Grease spots may be removed from wall paper with a paste of Fuller's earth and a dry cleaning fluid. Paste should be allowed to dry and be removed with a soft dry cloth. If spots are fresh, bath powder may be applied and brushed off. Sometimes two or three applications will be necessary to remove stubborn spots.

Putting both hands to work is one way to speed up housework. When washing woodwork, for example, let one hand do the washing, while the other follows with a dry cloth. Both hands can be used to stack dishes in a cupboard. Make two dust mitts out of soft cloth and let hands work together to polish furniture.

AND remember, anyone who spends an entire day on housework needs plenty of good, substantial food. It frequently helps if a meat loaf or other one-dish meal is prepared on the night before, ready to be tossed into the oven and baked. It can be served with a quickly prepared salad, beverage and fruit dessert, for a wholesome meal.

Don't try to work all day on a couple of sandwiches, and don't dress in just any worn out dress—you'll feel better all day if you are wearing a crisp, perky frock or play suit.

Culture Capital Still In Ruin

Russia Is In Command

LINZ, Austria.—We have just returned from a four days' visit in Vienna and we have a confused but stimulating stack of memories of a city which was once the capital of culture of Europe and and whose gallant people appear to be stirring to build it back from the stubble of war ruin.

Vienna in April is awakening from the curse and cold of winter when unheated rooms and too few rations brought misery to thousands. We'd venture one sees fewer cars on its streets than in any city of over 2,000,000 population and the streets are swarmed with people, young, middle-aged and old, hurrying along, each carrying a brief case, which appears to be a mark of respectability, or a sachel; some as well dressed as crowds you'd see in Chicago or New York; others wearing rags.

As you know, Austria is divided into four zones with Vienna as the quadripartite capital and the American, English, French and Russian forces take month about in policing and running the international zone. It's Russia's turn in April.

In order to go through the Russian zone, our hostess, Mrs. Robert Smiley, obtained occupational force travel permits or "gray passes" and armed with these and our passports we started early Tuesday morning by car to Vienna. The check point is at Enns, slightly over six miles from Linz. We had a tinge of uneasiness when we saw a gigantic sign over the highway, "You are now leaving the American zone; all Army and allied personnel report to the American guard." That examination required only a minute, while the soldier checked our passports and travel permits and made a note of Mrs. Smiley's name and the number of her travel permit. Our uneasiness increased when we drove across the bridge and awaited the approach of the Russian guard.

The young Russian soldier had a slender face, steel gray eyes and wore an earth colored uniform, a fur cap, similar to those worn by northern hunters, and had a rifle strapped across his back. It may have been a sub-machine gun. As a matter of fact, when we handed him our passport we remembered our occupation was listed as "editor" and we wondered if he would make anything of it.

He glanced at the passports and permits, frowned slightly and waved us on.

FROM that point, to the entrance to Vienna where an American soldier of Latin descent checked us again, we were in Russian territory. The countryside was so beautiful and the day was so bright, we did not give much thought to that, but we were glad to see the soldier. By the same token, the flag of the United States, waving gaily in a strong wind on our return, was the prettiest sight imaginable.

As a matter of fact, Lt. Smiley says he has not heard of Americans being molested when they travel by daylight along the highway through the Russian zone. But just the same, we certainly hoped there would be no car trouble and those driving took extra caution.

The fields are awakening to spring. We thought of those plots as similar to the Mormons' farms in Utah and others thought the rolling hills and well laid out fields looked like Vermont.

We noted only one tractor. The other workers were planting by hand; the women working right along with the men.

In the far distance we could see numbers of small villages; each marked by churches bearing onion shaped domes.

ON the highway we met bicyclists, motorcyclists, peasants in wagons drawn by oxen; Russian soldiers in jeeps; small French cars and people walking, walking, walking.

At Prenzerdorf, where we stopped for a train a small Russian boy came out to the car and begged for "chockaw" and we gave him two pieces of chocolate candy.

WE arrived at the Bristol hotel, one of the hotels requisitioned by the American forces, without incident. We had engaged rooms at the Gruben hotel, which had resumed postwar operation only two weeks ago, but considered the Bristol our headquarters and enjoyed splendid American meals there from time to time, when we tired of the Viennese cuisine. The Gruben was clean, the rooms were large and what American conveniences were lacking were made up for by the care to which employes went to make us comfortable.

Today's Town Talk

THIS weekend marks the season's entertainment highlight for many Southwesterners, for four performances by the Metropolitan Grand Opera will be staged in the Dallas Fair Park auditorium Friday through Sunday.

Among the Lubbockites attending the program of the Eighth opera season in Dallas will be Mrs. A. C. ## Technique Calls For Two Brushes To Shine Up Hair

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Try the two-brush technique of enhancing luster if you want a close-cropped hair-do to make up in gleam what it lacks in length.

To the strokes of a short, stiff-bristled brush that most girls seem to favor for a brisk workout, add polishing strokes with a brush having longer, softer bristles. One brush will stimulate the circulation of the scalp and strip hair of soil. The other will work like a polishing cloth to put a shine on hair.

If you want to try out the method, grip your stiff-bristled brush in one hand, your brush of softer bristle in the other. Alternately stroke hair with first one brush, then the other. You'll know that the stiffer bristles are penetrating to the scalp when it begins to tingle. The test of efficiency of the "polishing" brush is a satiny sheen after you've given your hair the traditional 100 strokes.

Police Intervene As Free-For-All Threatens In Colorado Statehouse

DENVER, April 20 (INS) — The Denver police riot squad was summoned to the Colorado state capitol today when a general free-for-all threatened to develop between members of the House of Representatives and the state Senate.

The fight was over the possession of a bill increasing benefits for unemployment compensation.

Today's violent flare-up, as the state legislature was ready to adjourn, came as a climax to a series of bitter political wrangles between the Democratic-controlled House and the Republican Senate.

Riot Squad Summoned

The riot squad was summoned after two senators were barricaded in a committee room and the young Democrats were attempting to force their way in from the ledge of the second story window.

The House members, led by Reps. Marshall Quiat and Charles E. Bennett, both Denver Democrats, charged that the Senate had stolen the bill. The measure had been passed by both houses, and under normal legislative procedure, would automatically have gone to the governor.

Sen. Arthur H. Laws (R-Denver), principal in the flare-up, claimed that a previous Senate action had automatically put the bill into his committee on labor.

He and other Republicans objected to a joker which the Democratic minority had maneuvered into the Senate bill, which permits payment of benefits to strikers.

Reps. Quiat and Bennett, along with a dozen other legislators and hangers-on, approached Laws as the Senate recessed for lunch. Quiat asked Laws for the bill, and the Denver senator backed away.

Sen. Ed Whitaker (R-Fort Collins) who jumped between them, claimed he "was pushed around considerably." Laws and Whitaker then fled to the committee room and barricaded the door.

The Senate sergeant-at-arms was called, and then Whitaker summoned police, who delayed considerably while studying the legality of answering a call to the state capitol.

Quiat Denies Threat

After 20 minutes, a squad of eight arrived and escorted Laws from the building. The Denver senator said he needed the protection because he had been threatened, but Quiat denied that he had attempted to use any force. Republicans contended that he had threatened to attack Laws.

Police took Laws home and he later declared: "I had possession of the bill at the time, but I don't have it now. It is in labor committee and is dead."

Democrats, thwarted in their attempt to seize the bill, began a quick search of law books in an effort to force the Senate to process the measure.

Mystery Clouds Resignation Of Ohio Marriage Clinic Head

COLUMBUS, O., April 20 (INS) — The question of why the head of Ohio State university's marriage counseling clinic resigned a few days before his wife brought suit for divorce was only partly answered today.

The only official explanation was that the action was "for reasons known only by this (the sociology) department."

Dr. John E. Cuber resigned his post several days ago. His wife, Esther, filed a divorce suit yesterday in the Franklin County Domestic Relations court.

Sociology department officials at the university said Cuber resigned only the clinic office and would continue his other teaching assignments.

Officials said Cuber has accepted a visiting professorship in California for the summer, but explained he would return to Columbus next year to resume his regular work.

National Jewish Hospital Head Claimed At Home In Denver

DENVER, April 20 (INS)—Samuel Schaefer, 54-year-old head of the National Jewish hospital in Denver for the last 25 years, died today in his home here.

Schaefer, one of the nation's prominent figures in Jewish affairs, had been at his office in the hospital Tuesday. He showed no indication of a sudden illness.

Death came only a few days after he had marked his 25th anniversary as head of the hospital.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Jenny Schaefer, and two sons, Robert of Denver, and Dr. Louis Schaefer of New York City.

Federal Power Project Opposed

SHREVEPORT, April 20. (AP)—The Red River Valley association opposes creation of a southwestern power administration to sell power like TVA.

Delegates from Louisiana, Arkansas, Texas and Oklahoma voted yesterday at their final session here to urge multi-purpose dams to supply such power.

But they said the power should be sold to electric utilities and savings passed on to consumers.

Group Opposes TVA

The association expressed opposition to both the existing TVA and the proposed SPA. It praised the Army Corps of Engineers, Mississippi River commission, Soil Conservation service and other agencies with which it deals.

The group called for extension of the proposed Overton lateral canal upstream from Shreveport.

The convention adopted a platform, which, among other things, included:

A resolution declaring that the Red river valley will be vulnerable to floods until all projects in the association's interim program have been completed.

Association Officers Elected

Officers elected yesterday included:

Executive vice-president A. G. Mayse, Paris, Texas.

C. D. Lennox, Clarksville; Tom Jeffus, Deport; Graves Pickering, Cooper; Clyde Palmer, Texarkana; F. H. Kohfeldt, Denison; Abe Bower, Jefferson; O. W. Boswell, Paris; W. C. Rochelle, Texarkana; Hugh Carny, Atlanta; N. G. Watts, Naples; Bruce Cunningham, Texarkana; W. S. Ford, Jefferson; Ashton Bywaters, Roxton; A. G. McRae, Denison; and Dan T. Smith, Texarkana.

Aly Khan Sprains Ankle, May Postpone Marriage To Actress

CANNES, France, April 20 (INS) — Aly Kahn sprained his ankle today and the prince's secretary said his marriage to screen actress Rita Hayworth probably will be postponed.

The wedding had been scheduled for May 7, but now may go over until June.

Aly's secretary said he received the injury "while doing physical exercises."

The Paris newspaper France Soir said the East Indian prince was injured while playing with his two sons and Miss Hayworth's daughter Rebecca. France Soir said the injured foot had been placed in a cast.

Auto Industry Experts See Poor Year For Foreign Sales

DETROIT, April 20 (AP) — The auto industry expects to increase car sales at home this year but its export prospects are not so good.

The same experts say the boom in the sale here of foreign-made cars also is levelling off.

Imports of foreign-made automobiles reached record proportions last year. Figures by the Automobile Manufacturers' association (AMA) show last year's shipments of motor vehicles into this country numbered 28,731 units. Before the war about 500 foreign cars entered the United States each year.

Meanwhile United States shipments to foreign markets continued to slump. Last year shipments abroad numbered 430,000 cars and trucks. In 1947 the total was 512,000.

Last year's total imports represented only slightly more than one day's full production of United States factories.

Hubbers Open Season With 10 To 9 Victory Over Clovis

Royce Mills Wins In Relief Role; Fowler Stars In Center

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

A lapse of memory by Shortstop Buster Harliss was all that the Lubbock Hubbers needed last night to push over the winning run in the eighth inning, Royce Mills protecting the margin for a 10 to 9 victory over the Clovis Pioneers.

Mills was nicked for a lone run in the ninth before a sensational catch by Chick Fowler in centerfield was turned into a game-ending double play. It sent approximately 1,500 well-chilled fans home happy.

Rogers Starts Series

Mayor W. H. Rodgers made his first bow on the mound a successful one, throwing six pitches to Steve Matthews, city manager. John King failed to reach one of them with his bat, although he trickled the last one at his feet. It was the only pitch that came close to going over the plate.

After the inaugural ceremonies were over, the Pioneers and Hubbers got down to the serious business of playing ball. And when it was over, it was exactly like last year. Twenty-five hits, six errors, 13 bases on balls, 16 strikeouts and 19 runs marked the opening of the WT-NM League season here.

Great Catch Made

Despite the chill wind blowing, and the wet diamond, some fine fielding was evident. But the top piece of work was Fowler's running catch in the ninth. The centerfielder made a breat running catch off Jim Sinovick's low-hit ball, diving forward to get it in his glove. He rolled over, jumped to his feet, and threw to Manager Jackie Sullivan at second to double up the amazed Buster Rogerson.

That was all for the Pioneers, who return tonight at 8 for the concluding game of the series. Cotton Russell will hurl for the Hubbers, while Manager Paul Dean's choice isn't known.

Nelson Davis, acquired Monday for third base, made an impressive debut. He made a boot in the third inning, but his three-run homer in the home half of the same frame acquitted him of the gilt. It was one of two fourmasters clouted, Chuck Novotney leading off the sixth with a blow for Clovis.

Hubbers Win Game

Lubbock won the game in the eighth inning, when Harliss went to sleep. Buddy McCallum, who took over shortstop capably in his initial appearance, walked to lead off the inning. Bubba Kaine dumped a bunt at the pitcher, with Third Baseman I. B. Palmer and First Baseman Novotney both converging on the ball. McCallum took off as though jet propelled and when Harliss went over to see what the ball looked like, McCallum scooted for third.

He made it without any throw being made and rode home a minute later on Sullivan's long pole to the centerfield fence.

Mills turned in a neat bit of relief hurling, although Don Hensiek, the starter, might have gone the route with better support.

Hubbers Option Pearson, Kuver

Oscar Kuver and Lloyd Pearson, two of the veterans on the Lubbock Hubber squad, last night were given new assignments on the eve of the West Texas-New Mexico League's opening here.

Kuver, a righthanded hurler, was claimed by Paul's Valley of the Class D Sooner League and Pearson, on option to the Hubbers from Greenville of the Class B Big State League, was optioned to Corpus Christi of the Class D Rio Grande Valley League.

Trained With Lubbock

Both players spent the spring with the Hubbers at Greenville and accompanied the team back to this city. Kuver was inclined to wildness, but showed promise of developing into a fine pitcher.

Pearson was a heavy-hitting outfielder good enough to play for Greenville last year. But Manager Jackie Sullivan, after long deliberation, decided to keep Chick Fowler. Pearson can be recalled at any moment and might be, before the season is over.

Still Two Over Limit

That leaves the Hubbers with two veterans still over the veteran limit, Frank McAlexander and Jackie Wilcox. Both players were taken off the active playing list Tuesday night so that the Hubbers would open the season with only six class men.

George Schepps, general manager of the Hubbers, did not know last night what disposition would be made of the two players. There still is a possibility that the league's class rule will be raised and that they will be retained here.

Kuver returns to the team for which he toiled last year. Lubbock drafted him during the winter, but under the terms of the National Association, Paul's Valley was entitled to place a claim for him. Thus, if Lubbock decided to cut him off, option him or sell him, Paul's Valley would be given first chance at his services. And the Oklahoma club claimed him immediately.

Dallas Chalks Up Seventh In Row

DALLAS, April 20 (AP) — The Dallas Eagles blanked the Fort Worth Cats, 5-0, here tonight for their seventh straight victory in the young Texas league baseball season.

The defeat dropped Fort Worth into third place, behind the San Antonio Missions.

SAN ANTONIO TAKES EASY WIN OVER SHREVEPORT

SHREVEPORT, La., April 20 (AP) — The San Antonio Missions clouted 12 hits off four Shreveport pitchers tonight to whip the Sports 5-3 in a Texas league game.

TULSA WINS, 3-1, AS INDIANS LOSE AGAIN

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 20 (AP) — The Oklahoma City Indians lost their eighth straight baseball game here tonight—again to Tulsa, 3-1.

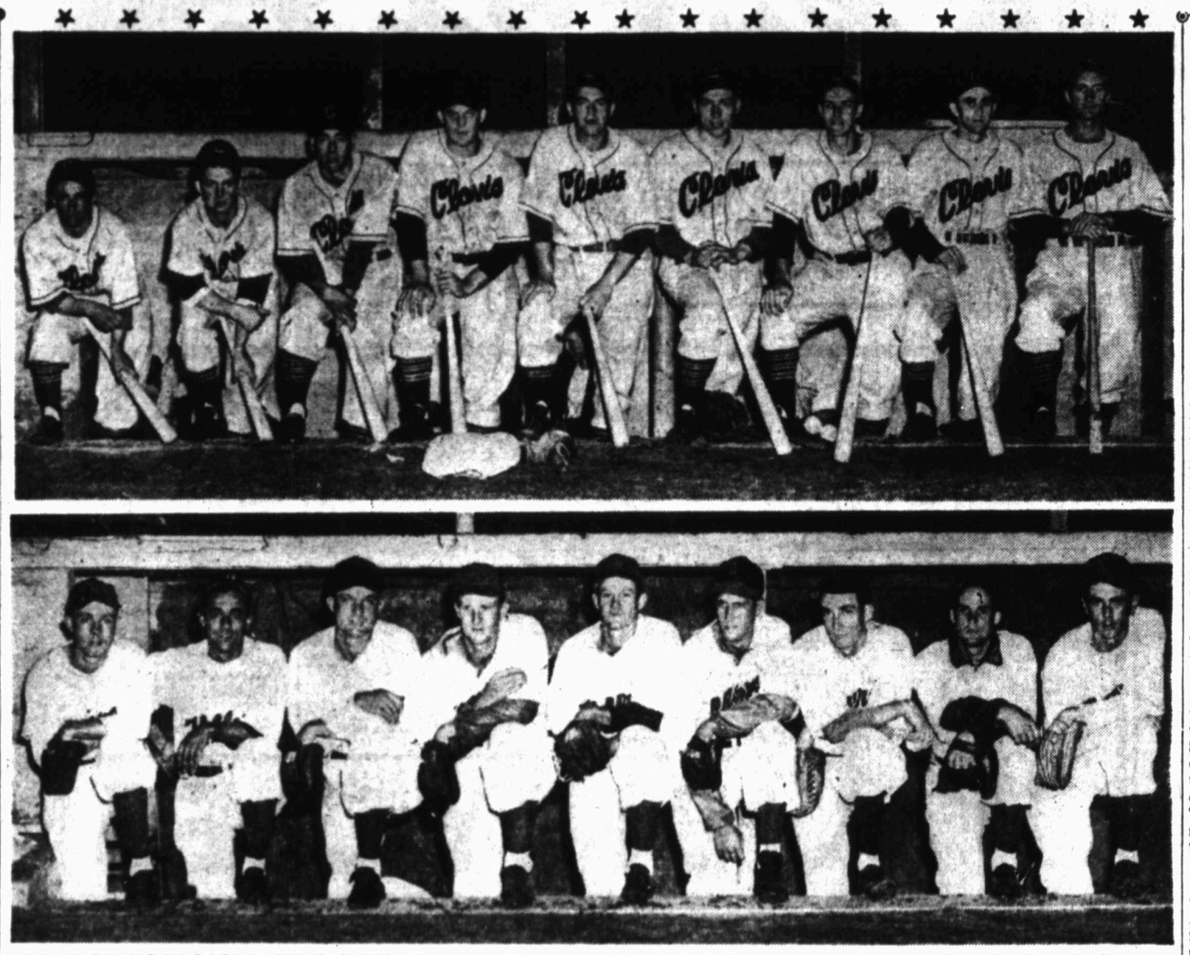

Joe Vosmik, Indian manager who quit playing regularly while a big leaguer several seasons back got into the lineup and scored the lone Oklahoma City run. His was a fifth-inning homer.

Honolulu Lightweight Boxer Dies From Brain Hemorrhage

HONOLULU, April 20 (INS)—A 130-pound boxer died in a Honolulu hospital today from a hemorrhage caused by a knockout blow in a bout last night.

Honolulu authorities listed the death of Freddie Sylvano as "excusable homicide" and said no charges will be placed against his opponent, Johnny Efhan.

Houston Tennis Halted By Rain

HOUSTON, April 20 (AP)—Rain washed out men's singles play in the River Oaks tennis tournament today but four California women stars managed to turn in victories before the downpour.

Second-seeded Dorothy Head, San Francisco, beat Ruth Pate, Fort Worth, 6-4, 6-3, in a tough match.

Virginia Kovacs, San Francisco, seeded first, and Barbara Schofield and Nancy Chaffee, both of Los Angeles, also moved into the semi-finals.

Mrs. Kovacs won from Ethel Norton, San Antonio, 6-0, 6-3; Miss Schofield defeated Peggy Eby, Houston school teacher, 6-3, 6-3; and Miss Chaffee eliminated Lucille Scoggins, Galveston, 6-1, 6-0.

Two men's singles matches halted yesterday by rain were completed. Bryan (Bitsy) Grant, Atlanta, Ga., defeated Henry Holden, Atlanta, 6-4, 6-2, and Bob Goldfarb, University of Texas, won from Ebbie Holden, Houston, 6-1, 6-4.

TECH TEAM RAINED OUT

Jake Broyles and Glen Ivy, Texas Tech, play Nick Carter, San Francisco, and Bobby Curtis, Denver, Colo., 5 p. m. tomorrow.

Officials Needed In Oil Belt League

With the opening of play in the Oil Belt league only three days away, more umpires are needed to officiate league games.

President Joe Holmes said Wednesday that a meeting of prospective officials would meet at the Sports Center tonight at 7:30 to go over rules and the league schedule. Anyone with experience wanting to umpire is urged to attend the meeting. Games will be played during the week on Thursday night and on Sunday afternoon.

Tahoka will open at Post this week, rather than at Tahoka as previously announced. Other opening day games are Slaton at Seagraves; Sundown at Denver City; and Levelland at Brownfield.

Strong teams are expected this year, and in pre-season games several of the teams have shown up well. Slaton, Post, Levelland, and Sundown are expected to have lights before the night games begin May 19.

Funds For Athletic Field Lights Nears Mark At Ropes

ROPESVILLE, April 20 (Special)—Funds for a $4,000 lighted athletic field here have come within $200 of the total necessary, and $3,800 has already been raised, Troy Morris, editor of the Plainsman said today.

The lighted field will be used both for baseball and football, and 10 year bonds are being issued to raise the necessary money. A person donating $25 gets a bond which matures after 10 years.

Extra police guarded Britain's Parliament buildings after an anonymous threat — believed to be a hoax — that the buildings would be blown up.

Mougin To Train Here For Fight

Fighters Are Arriving For Jaycee Bouts

Sparring will be one of the primary training practices of Bill Henderson the remainder of the week as he prepares for the coming lightweight bout with Jean Mougin April 26 at Chapman fieldhouse, with bouts beginning at 8 o'clock.

Mougin, his trainer, and Dickie Griffin, matchmaker, were supposed to arrive from El Paso Wednesday night and set up training camp here. Mougin handed Henderson his first professional defeat in El Paso last month, but the Texas Tech student thinks he will take this fight.

Henderson sparred with Chino Alonzo yesterday at O. C. Foster's gym, and today he is scheduled to go against Alonzo and Sammy Galvan in another workout. Galvan and Alonzo are scheduled to meet in the semi-final event of the five-bout fight card. Two four round bouts and two six-rounders will set the stage for the 10 round main event.

James Meets Brown

Gene James, Lubbock heavyweight, will meet Dickie Brown of Amarillo in the second of the four-round matches, and the fight should be a good one.

In 1948 after Brown had won the regional Golden Gloves title in Amarillo the two boxers met and James defeated Brown. But Brown's manager stated earlier this week that his fighter was ready and would stop James with a KO before the fight was over.

Two matches have not been made, but they should be completed over the weekend, and good fights are expected.

Only a limited number of tickets will be sold for the Jaycee sponsored fight card, and persons wanting to see the bouts are urged to buy their tickets early to avoid the rush that is sure to develop at the gate. Tickets are on sale at a box in the lobby of the Hilton hotel and may be reserved by phoning 6861.

Weaver Beaten In Mat Event

Steve Nenoff surprised everyone in the semi-final event of the doubleheader at Sled Allen's arena last night by downing Buck Weaver, but it took three falls to decide the contest.

In the main event Rod Fenton took two straight falls and the match from Pierre LaBell. After 20 minutes Fenton caught LaBell with a half nelson and arm stomp to win, and a full crab after six minutes of the second go decided the match. Both boys were trying hard, but Fenton had too much on the ball for LaBell.

The Nenoff-Weaver bout was packed with action and excitement. The baldheaded Bulgarian used an Irish whip and arm stomp to take the first fall after 11 minutes. Weaver came back to stop Nenoff with his famous Texas bulldogger in eight minutes of the second canto.

But in the third setto, Weaver's bulldogger slipped off Nenoff's bald head and he was downed with an arm stretch and stomp before he could recover.

In the preliminary event Hy Sharman won the match after 15 minutes with a reverse crab. McEuin could not match the skill of Sharman.

The third man in the ring for all bouts was Billy Sandow, and he kept the action from getting too rough.

A's Take Second In Row Over Boston; Dodgers Stop Giants

Red Sox Are Edged In Tenth, 3 To 2

PHILADELPHIA, April 20 (AP)—Sam Chapman and Elmer Valo combined today to give the Philadelphia Athletics their second straight 3-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox—the deciding tally crossing the plate in the tenth inning.

Chapman and Valo each connected with four singles for eight of the 11 blows the A's got off Ellis Kinder. The last of Chapman's hits sent Valo home with the winning run. Valo also scored the other two Philadelphia runs.

Boston scored first in the opening frame on singles by Dom DiMaggio and Pesky and Ted Williams long fly. They picked up the other in the fifth on DiMaggio's single, a walk to Pesky and Vern Stephens hit.

Branca's Four-Hit Job Wins, 6 To 2

BROOKLYN, April 20 (AP)—Taking advantage of four New York errors and a streak of wildness on the part of Pitcher Sheldon Jones, the Brooklyn Dodgers scored four unearned runs to defeat the Giants today, 6-2.

A crowd of 21,864 saw the Dodgers collect only four hits off three Giants pitchers. But the Dodgers were presented with seven bases on balls to register their second straight triumph over their interborough rivals.

Ralph Branca, going the route for the Dodgers, also gave up four hits including a home run to Sid Gordon in the sixth inning. The other marker off Branca came in the first on two walks and Johnny Mize's long single off the right field wall.

North All-Star Team Named

BEAUMONT, April 20 (AP) — The North All-Star football squad for the annual game of the Texas coaching school here in August was announced today to include an even dozen all-state school players.

The game, fifteenth of its kind, will be played August 5. Carl Snavely of North Carolina is the coach and the players were selected to fit into his single wingback offense.

From the Class AA ranks the north roster includes: James Garner, Amarillo, end; Ray Graves, Stephenville, back; and Wayne Ligon, Wichita Falls, and Don Thompson, Odessa, tackles. The Class A circles furnished some of the brightest stars in its history in 1948. The following will wear the north colors: Waldo Young, Monahans, and Malvin Fowler, Van, two of the finest backs in the entire state; Wayne Martin, Shamrock, and Jack Bell, Bowie, ends; and Jimmie Williams, the fine center from Phillips.

Lubbock's Rooker At End

Several others on the roster received state-wide recognition. On the Asociated Press' second team were: Charles Seiber, Amarillo, center; Ted Jones, Childress, and Harry Dean, Breckenridge, backs. Bill Crisler, Sweetwater back, was named on the third eleven, and Tom McMillan, Sweetwater's backfield ace was named on the fourth all-state team.

The complete north roster as announced by Paul Snow of Fort Worth's North Side, chairman of the committee to select them, follows:

Ends: Bob Rooker, Lubbock; Jack Bell, Bowie; Wayne Martin, Shamrock; James Garner, Amarillo.

Guards: Phillip Payne, Pampa; Louis Drozd, Crozier Tech; Bob Daniels, Denison; Joe Gray, Rising Star.

Centers: Bill O'Brien, Sherman; Jimmie Williams, Phillips; Charles Seiber, Amarillo.

Johnny Groth's Third Homer In Two Days Wins For Tigers

DETROIT, April 20 (AP)—Rookie Outfielder Johnny Groth hit a grand slam homer in the eighth inning today to give the Detroit Tigers a 5 to 2 win over the Chicago White Sox. It was his third homer in two days.

Lamesa Takes League Opener With 8-5 Victory Over Dukes

LAMESA, April 20. (Special)—Lamesa's Loboes showed surprising punch here today in a West Texas-New Mexico league opener, defeating highly regarded Albuquerque, 8-5, behind six-hit hurling of Righthander Stanley Grzywacz.

The Loboes upset the Dukes for the third time opening day in a row, pounding three hurlers for 13 safeties. The new Lamesa player-manager, Jay Haney, made an inspiring debut with three singles in as many trips, three runs, two stolen bases, and two runs batted-in. Third baseman Eddie Mellilo got two hits for the Loboes and drove in four markers.

Loboes Score In Fourth

Lamesa went in front with two runs in the fourth, and added a brace of tallies in the sixth and eighth frames.

Righthander Nino Banise was the losing hurler, allowing six runs and 12 hits in six innings. Mulcahy got three hits for the Dukes, half the number given up by Grzywacz who fanned two and walked six.

Pre-game ceremonies included introduction of both teams by J. R. (Dutch) Leuenberger. Mayor Sam Richardson threw out the first ball which was caught by City Manager J. D. Wilson.

The opening series will be concluded at 3 p.m. Thursday. Lefthander Tom Breisinger will pitch for the Dukes, and Southpaw Leon Hayes will start for Lamesa.

STATE MEET MAY 6-7 IN AUSTIN

Eighteen Districts To Participate In Region One Track Meet

The door to the state track and field meet swings open for more than 80 South Plains and Panhandle high school athletes this weekend when the Region One meet is held at Texas Tech.

Three separate divisions—Class AA, A, and B — will be represented, and each of the classes will hold its own show at the Tech track. Eighteen districts of the Texas Interscholastic league will try to qualify boys for the big show in Austin May 6-7, and approximately 700 athletes will participate in the meet.

Well over 150 athletes are expected to jam the track here Saturday. Preliminaries begin at 9 a.m., and the finals start at 1 p.m. From Class AA, Districts 1, 2, and 3 will be represented. Class A has Districts 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5. The largest number of districts will come from Class B with Districts 1-10 scheduled to compete.

Last year for the first time the TIL took charge of the regional meets and set forth the requirements. Under the rules the first two men finishing in each event of every class are eligible for the state meet. Two days are set aside in Austin to limit the number of finalists from the large number of entrants.

The meet here Saturday will be similar to the one in Austin inasmuch as the three divisions will run their finals one after the other. In the 100-yard dash, for instance, the AA race will be held, then the A, and finally the B before another event begins. Starters will be working overtime to get each event started on time.

Lubbock has been the winner of the regional meet the past five years, but this has been a lean year for the Westerner trackmen.

Injuries, sickness, weather, and lack of strength in every event have rendered the team potentless. Several of the boys have shown up well, however.

Donald Decker has been the most consistent all season in the 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, and the 200-yard low hurdles. In the field events Alfred Adair and W. J. Blake have been doing a fine job in the pole vault, and Adair has usually placed in the high jump.

The AA bracket of the meet will probably go to Amarillo, a team that has depth in every event, strong relay teams, and exceptional weight men in the field events. The Sandy crew set four new records in the South Plains Relays last week.

Preliminary and final events will be run at Texas Tech. No charge will be made for admission to the morning trials, but for the finals in the afternoon an admission price of 60 cents for adults and 30 cents for children will be charged.

Lubbock Plays Bulldog Nine

The Westerners will be trying again today at 4 p.m. to open their 1949 District 1-AA baseball schedule, but this time it will be against the Plainview Bulldogs.

Rain postponed the first scheduled game with Brownfield Tuesday, and it was reset and washed out Wednesday, but this time Coach Fred Taylor hopes to be able to play.

Brownfield will come here Friday afternoon for a doubleheader, beginning at 3:15. Both games will be seven inning contests.

Against the Plainview nine Jimmy Hamilton is expected to start, and a tough battle is expected since Plainview leads the south half of the district by virtue of a victory over Brownfield.

Wednesday afternoon at practice the Westerners went through a light pepper and throwing practice to keep their arms in shape. The condition of the field curtailed an extensive practice.

Probable starting lineup today will be Hamilton, pitcher; Morris Turner, catcher; Jessie Fullerton, first base; Charles Galey, second base; Powell Hinson, third base; Bob Brown, shortstop; and Jimmy Richards, Garnet Reeves and Jimmy Sexton, outfielders.

Testimony To Continue Today In McGee Trial; Threats Revealed

ious altercations which had involved the family. This was brought out as the state and the two defense attorneys, Col. E. A. Simpson, Amarillo, and Burton S. Burks, Lubbock, questioned the girl on the stand.

Argument Took Place

On the evening of July 5, 1948 while McGee was a guest in her parent's home, they discussed possible plans for their marriage. The girl's father objected to his daughter marrying young McGee on the grounds that he would not be able to support her and that the income he did have came from the government in the form of a disability pension, it was brought out in questioning Miss Allston. The defense attorneys pointed out that this pension was for 100 per cent disability.

On the evening the father stated his objections to the boy, Betty Jane testified, Richard McGee become very angry, jumped up from his chair and shook his finger in Allston's face.

"That just shows you how much you know about it," he is alleged to have said. "You can't keep us from getting married because we are in love with each other."

Says She Was Struck

Betty Jane stated that she went outside with McGee in an effort to calm him down. While trying to reason with him, she said, he struck her several times. At the same time he cursed her family profusely and threatened their lives, she testified. Miss Allston said McGee threatened:

"If you don't marry me I'll kill you and your whole damn family."

In other testimony, Miss Allston said:

Richard did not return to the girl's home again until the morning of July 7, 1948 At that time the girl was in bed under a doctor's care for nervous shock. McGee came into her bedroom and shook her several times demanding that she answer his proposal at once. The girl remained silent, she said, because she had promised her mother she would not again speak to the boy.

Heard Shots Fired

Muttering more threats McGee left the Allston apartment just before Mr. Allston, the victim, arrived home for lunch. At the luncheon table were Mr. and Mrs. Allston, Betty Jane and her grandmother Mrs. B. C. Linn. It was at this luncheon that the girl's father heard her tell of the unpleasant incidents that had been taking place in her relationship with McGee; the blows, the unpleasant words and other unpleasant details she had tried to conceal from her family because of her love for the boy. Miss Allston told the court in her testimony Wednesday,

It was at this time Allston offered his young daughter the encouraging words which were to prove his last, the girl said.

The girl started to return to her bedroom when she heard a shot fired, she testified. She ran back down the stairs and saw her father stagger into the living room clutching his neck. He slumped into a chair and the girl could see blood streaming down her father's neck and onto his clothing. Her mother was screaming and neighbors had rushed in to offer aid, Miss Allston added.

Allston was rushed to the hospital where an emergency operation, transfusions and administrations of drugs and plasma, failed to save his life.

Both Studied Bible

The dramatic testimony was told to the jury by the young woman amidst a profusion of tears. The courtroom was packed with spectators who overflowed into the aisles and the halls. The audience listened attentively to every word the girl had to say. She answered each of the questions put to her in a clear, straight manner. Cross examination by the defense failed to find any discrepancies in her statements.

In addition to the more tragic details of the case, Betty Jane told of how she and the accused man spent much of their time together after they first met on the campus of North Texas State Teachers college at Denton. The girl stated that she had always been interested in religious matters and encouraged McGee to attend church and Bible studies with her. The two spent a lot of their time studying the Bible lessons and marking them with cross references.

Decided To Be Missionaries

Betty Jane stated on the stand that soon after the two met they decided they would like to be foreign missionaries and were planning their studies with that object in view. The only times McGee would deviate from this course was when he would become angry, the girl said. At these times, she said, he would swear violently and use the name of the Lord in vain. Each time she would patiently work with him to the point where he was apologetic and would try to mend his ways, she asserted.

On cross-examination Miss Allston said she had never been told by McGee's mother that the boy had been a mental patient and was a married man. Although the girl had been with Mrs. H. H. Stull, the boy's mother, on many occasions, she said there was never any mention that Richard was not normal except in the matter of drinking.

Had Been Warned

Betty Jane said that Mrs. Stull had warned her Richard was violent when drinking and was glad that she had been a good influence in getting him to stay away from alcohol. It was not until July 5, 1948, just two days before the fatal shooting, that she learned about Richard's past history in mental hospitals and the fact that his money was in a trusteeship with the Lubbock National bank. These things, she said, were revealed when her father and the boy had the heated argument which broke off their relationship.

During one of the arguments with the girl, McGee is alleged to have told her she wasn't good enough to marry him because she didn't stand on her own feet. During this argument McGee is said to have yanked off the engagement ring he gave her, flinging it into the street. The ring had been Mrs. Stull's and was later recovered.

Although the girl's father had told Betty Jane the young man was not able to support her in a proper way McGee kept insisting his $100 per month pension would be plenty for them to live on. Allston, according to the testimony, had objected mostly on the grounds of money matters but did so to spare his daughter of the other alleged facts that were hidden in McGee's life.

Defense Poses Questions

Col. Simpson, upon cross-examining the girl, asked;

"Did you know that Richard McGee had been a patient at the VA mental hospital at Waco? Had been in Darnell mental hospital in Kentucky and in two mental hospitals in Italy? Did you know Richard had been kept in a straitjacket in Italy and while coming back to the States on a hospital ship? Did you know he had been taking shock treatments?"

The girl said she did not know of these things and had never been told anything that would indicate treatments McGee was undergoing were for mental illness. Col. Simpson did not enlarge on his statements or say they were facts. He merely asked the questions.

The defense attorney also asked the girl if she had heard the story of McGee while he was in Italy standing up in the back end of a jeep and preaching to audiences in Italian villages. At such times, the story went, McGee was alleged to have told the crowds that he was Jesus Christ and God Himself. Another story in question form concerned McGee's alleged impersonation of General Marshall at which time he demanded the salutes from all who passed him. The girl denied hearing any of these tales.

Insanity Plea Offered

When the trial opened again after the selection of the last juror at 10:33 a.m. yesterday court was recessed until 1:30 p.m. At that time the defense attorneys removed their earlier conditional announcement and the trial was ready to continue. The district attorney read the charges.

"Murder with malice aforethought of R. L. Allston on July 8, 1948," the charge read in part.

Attorney Burks entered a plea of not guilty by reason of insanity. Attorney Simpson then asked the court to instruct the state that any peace officers they might call as witnesses should be required to refrain from introducing any testimony as to the past record, felony or misdemeanor, of the defendant. This motion was made with the proviso that the defense would not call Richard McGee to the witness stand to testify in his own behalf.

Jury Is Completed

Croslin said he had briefed the law and agreed to the terms of the motion. Croslin then called for the rule which demands that all witnesses in the case must be removed from the courtroom while the trial is going on until called in by the sheriff.

Judge Blair then warned the attorneys for both sides that they would lose their witnesses in the case if any of them should slip back into the courtroom in an illegal manner.

The last two jurymen to be selected were H. E. Pope, of Lubbock, and George W. Brassell,jr., of Slaton.

Others on the jury are:

A. G. Richardson, Route 6; M. P. Marchbanks, Route 1; Douglas A. Carlisle, 1516 Twenty-seventh; Albert Ellis, Route 6; Wade W. Hash, Route 5; A. Weir, Box 300, Route 2, Slaton; H. H. Murray, Route 1; Jack Bennett, 1508 Twenty-eighth; H. D. Stanley, 2107 Sixteenth; and H. L. Powell, Route 3.

Court was adjourned at 5:17 p.m. to reconvene this morning at 9 o'clock. The state will continue at that time with the introduction of their witnesses.

Drizzle Forecast

Panhandle and rolling plains wheat country had been hopeful for rain.

While the rain still was falling, the Abilene Reporter News had this to say:

"A more timely rain has seldom been recorded, and despite the suffering of the past 10 days, the wheat crop is due to make a remarkable comeback in the rolling plains area, while heavier downpours above the caprock virtually assured a bumper wheat crop."

It was good news, too, for the Rio Grande valley's cotton crop, which may set a record this year.

Grasslands Benefitted

Wheat and grasslands were highly benefitted in many areas, including Cochran, Haskell, Glasscock, Hale, Deaf Smith, Jones, Castro, Coleman and Throckmorton counties.

At Austin officials of the Lower Colorado River authority were jubilant. Two to three inches of rain had fallen over the Colorado river watershed. The officials said the moisture will be highly beneficial to crops, ranges and for storage on ranges and farms.

For the state as a whole, the U. S. Department of Agriculture was unwilling to size up the situation until all the reports were in. But the USDA crop reporting office at Austin said "it looks good."

An incidental benefit was seen by Travis county agent Elmo V. Cook of Austin. He said the hard cold rain would undoubtedly kill many young grasshoppers, scourge of the growing season.

The heaviest rainfall reported was at Brownwood, where the total since Monday night reached 5.20 inches, most of it Tuesday and Tuesday night. Fears that low-lying Brownwood residences would be flooded subsided as the high water receded.

Chinese War Erupts

parently was their closest approach.

But Red artillery shells, some of large calibre, were already bursting in Pukow. Observers on the south bank could see the flashes of the shell bursts. Wharves of Pukow shook to the concussion.

A number of fires broke out west of Pukow.

A second Red attack rolled up at Kiangpu, seven miles southwest of Nanking. A spokesman for the minister of national defense said gunboats were blazing away in support of the garrison.

The third attack broke east of Chinkiang, 45 miles northeast of Nanking. A number of Nationalists gunboats joined in the battle here. It was in this area that the British sloop was hit.

The streets of Nanking were filled with troops moving to the front. Earthworks were being dug along the south bank.

Heavy Fighting Explodes

The greatest threat to Nanking, however, appeared to be on the Wuhu front, 60 miles southwest of the capital.

Government military quarters said heavy fighting had exploded on the north bank opposite Wuhu. A top ranking general expressed fears that the Reds would cross there.

The Yangtze, two miles wide at most points, narrows to a mile near Wuhu. The south bank is a bald plain hard to defend.

Severe fighting also broke out east of Anking, north bank bridgehead city 150 miles southeast of Nanking.

The military news agency reported that the preliminary battle for the central China bastion of Hankow had begun.

Gen. Lin Piao's Red armies from Manchuria, estimated at 400,000 men, were attacking the town of Hsiaokan, 35 miles north of Hankow.

Nationalists Outnumbered

Here the troops of Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi, defender of Hankow, were strongly entrenched. But they were outnumbered two to one.

On a separate front 600 miles to the southwest, the Communists launched their heaviest attacks on China's "Pittsburgh," the military news agency said.

This is Taiyuan, long encircled capital of Shansi province. Red shells were said to be falling inside the city, causing heavy casualties. The Communists before have avoided artillery attacks because they did not want to damage Taiyuan's factories.

Housing Bill Scored

anti-segregation amendment, said that Congress has no right "to take money from all the people to build homes for a few."

Taft Defends Bill

Sen. Thye (R-Minn) replied that since there was no provision in the bill denying public housing to persons because of their race, he saw no reason for the amendment.

Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), who previously announced opposition to the civil rights amendment, said that there have been "no charges of unfairness or discrimination" in public housing units in his state. He added:

"On the whole more preference has been given to the colored people because they sometimes have the lowest incomes."

Bricker accused the Senate of "shadow-boxing" over civil rights and trying to put responsibility for this issue on one side of the aisle."

Thye argued that it was a question of "approving the civil rights amendment and killing the housing bill or defeating the amendment and approving the bill."

Bricker pointed out that the federal government will be subsidizing public housing for 40 years if the bill is passed unamended.

should be considered simultaneously to determine "if they can't be consolidated and reduced in overall total."

Taft reported that the committee also voiced "a general feeling of criticism" over the government's China policy, but did not adopt any program.

Grants Wide Authority

Acheson declined to give any estimate today at his news conference. Unofficial calculations, however, range from $1,200,000,000 to $2,000,000,000. This includes aid to Greece, Turkey and possibly Iran.

Although action by Congress on the arms program is expected to await the Senate ratification of the basic treaty, Acheson's presentation will give foreign policy leaders a preview of the total U. S. obligations under the pact signed on April 4.

Filibuster Rages On Medical Bill

fused to adjourn. They again — as in the last filibuster — ate supper in an adjoining committee room, filtering to and from the Senate chambers in relays.

They repeated their Monday night menu when Wardlow Lane was filibustering the oil unitization bill — barbecue, salad, baked beans, pickles, milk, coffee, pie.

The Senate was put on notice at 5 p.m. by Harris that there would be "extended debate until we inform the people of Texas what's going on."

Harris said he preferred not to call "the extended debate that we're going to put on a filibuster."

"But this is the most vicious, undemocratic piece of legislation that has ever been introduced in my 15 years in this legislature," he said.

"Yes, there's going to be some extended debate and it's beginning right here and now," he said.

To "Warn" People

"We intend to warn the people of Texas how the American Medical association lobby has high pressured this measure through the lower House of this legislature."

The Senate had voted 22-9 to take the bill up out of regular order and set an afternoon session for bebate.

The House-passed measure is by Rep. Edward Hughes of Newton. It would require all who practice any phase of any healing art to first pass a state-supervised examination in six basic sciences. The state medical association backs it and it is bitterly opposed by chiropractors.

In morning session the Senate passed 21-10 an amended House measure providing annual salaries of $3,600 and annual sessions for legislators.

Annual Sessions Explained

It is a proposed constitutional amendment, rewritten in the Senate by James Taylor of Kerens. It stemmed from two House proposals by Reps. John L. Crosthwait of Dallas and Vernon McDaniel of Wichita Falls.

Now it must go back to the House for approval before it could be submitted at the polls the last Saturday in September for final approval or rejection.

The measure would set up two regular sessions of each legislature, one each year beginning on the second Tuesday in January. The first would deal with customary legislative business. The second would be limited to matters of state finances and other matters approved by a four-fifths vote of each House.

Legislatures now meet each two years. Members are paid $10 a day for the first 120 days and $5 a day thereafter while in session.

Taylor told the Senate the change would encourage "good members" to stay in the legislature and keep them from having to take retainers and jobs from corporations interested in matters that might come before the legislature.

Courses Are Urged

An amendment by Howard Carney of Atlanta was adopted on the basic science bill. It would allow colleges to begin teaching the basic science subjects — public health and hygiene, chemistry, physiology, anatomy, pathology, and bacteriology — in the first year. The bill originally required that the subjects could not be taught until after the first year.

Searcy Bracewell of Houston wanted to accept 60 hours of college credit in courses including the basic sciences in lieu of the examinations. His amendment was tabled 16-12.

John Bell of Cuero wanted to direct all state-supported colleges to offer the basic sciences.

"You can't find a school on God's green earth in Texas that offers all those courses," he argued.

His amendment was tabled 18-11.

Harris hammered at physicians backing the bill.

"They're scared to death of socialized medicine. They say, 'don't put that on us.'

"But they come down here with this monstrosity and want to put it on somebody else."

FLIER IS SOUGHT

KETCHIKAN, Alaska, April 20 (INS) — Coast Guardsmen searched today for the body of a flier who was sucked out of the cargo hatch of his plane and fell 5000 feet near Ketchikan. The man, copilot of the C-47, was identified as David Huycke of Los Angeles.

David Niven To Leave Sam Goldwyn Studio; 'Hamlet' Draws Criticism From Professor

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, April 20.—I get it right straight that Sam Goldwyn and David Niven have had trouble. Of course, Sam is in the hospital in New York, but he's getting along beautifully, and is not too sick to have his way. Friends have tried to act as go-between, without any success.

Just what the trouble is I don't know. I do know David may not make that picture for Sir Alexander Korda—it's his last one under his Sam Goldwyn deal. His contract is up next year, and at that time he is definitely leaving the Goldwyn studios. He's been with Sam about 15 years, and in that time they have battled and made up — but this time the breach is too serious.

Shirley Temple Gets Role

Shirley Temple is the ideal girl, of course, to star in "A Kiss For Corliss," sequel to F. Hugh Herbert's "Kiss And Tell," which Shirley made with Jerome Courtland for Columbia. That's what Coke Miller says, who is producing it at General Service studio.

But he tells me that although he has been talking to Danny O'Shea at the Selznick studio, no deal has yet been made. He's also trying to get others who were in the cast, but being in the talking stage, nothing has been accomplished.

British Film Criticized

Charles Morton, Editor of Atlantic Monthly, sends me an advance article by John Ashworth, who teaches English composition at Columbia university. Professor Ashworth sides with many London critics in blasting Laurence Olivier's "Hamlet" — the Hollywood "Oscar-winning movie."

What is Arlene Dahl going to do when both of her attractive eastern suitors get here next week? Congressman John Kennedy (son of Joe) and air executive, Bonnie Bonnifay, are due here about the same time—and both are smitten with Arlene.

Paintings To Be Raffled

Gertrude Lawrence cabled Van Johnson asking for two or three of his original paintings to be raffled at the benefit for the British Actors orphanage in London. Van, very pleased, is sending four.

I've head those rumors that Cyd Charisse and Tony Martin are having trouble—but Cyd says there's nothing to the talk. She even called to tell me that Tony is going to Buffalo for a two weeks' singing engagement and that all is well between them. "Every time Tony leaves town without me, the talk crops up," Cyd said.

Jill Faulkner, daughter of author William Faulkner, tossed a "hot dog" party in honor of Claude Jarman, jr., and the rest of the "Intruder In The Dust" company in Mississippi.

Cleatus Caldwell leaves for Chicago the end of the week to be with Bob Hutton who is opening there in "Mr. Adam" on the stage.

It was her old beau, Phil Reed, buying Ann Miller's dinner at the Kings and not Bill O'Connor with whom she's been seen so much lately.

Don't get excited about Leo McCarey paying a visit to the 20th Century-Fox lot. It was for Mark Kelly's birthday lunch in the commissary and not to huddle with headman Zanuck about a movie.

Horace Schmidlapp is putting up the cash for "Brooklyn, U.S.A." on the London stage this summer. Wonder if Pat Smart, his new heart, will be around?

Andy Russell and his wife are driving the new car they bought in Detroit to the Kentucky Derby, lucky them.

Joan Caulfield and her ma have driven to San Francisco for two weeks to be with Betty who is playing with Lynn Fontanne and Alfred Lunt.

June Havoc and Bill Spier are trying to get their new home at Malibu furnished before they take off for New York and Europe.

Lana Turner's favorite hairdresser, Helen Young, is opening her own beauty parlor in Beverly Hills and will toss a cocktail party for the opening tomorrow.

Wheat Stockpile Urged For Nation

HARDIN, Mont., April 20. (INS)—Thomas D. Campbell, "wheat king" of Montana, suggested today that a stockpile of wheat and corn should be accumulated in the United States as a barrier against "severe depression" and hunger abroad.

Campbell said, "many people are talking huge surpluses, but there is no surplus of wheat provided transportation could be available and the foreign countries could pay for the grain."

He suggested that a stockpile of one-fourth million bushels of wheat and one-half million bushels of corn be set up.

The head of the Campbell Farming corporation pointed out that domestic consumption is about 800 million bushels of wheat, the Marshall Plan gets 300 million, and about 100 million bushels go to Japan and the Far East.

He said, "one normal crop of 865 million bushels would create a panic."

Campbell feels it is doubtful if present farm commodity prices can be maintained, but added, "it is fortunate that we have price supports based on parity. If we didn't a surplus would probably drop wheat to 75 cents a bushel and corn to 45 cents a bushel in Chicago."

He said that without the price supports "we would certainly have one of the most violent depressions and collapse of our national economy which we have ever experienced."

He obviously was referring to the multi-million dollar development scheme for Liberia being backed by Stettinius.

Robeson sang a verse about a Salt Lake City labor organizer named Joe Hill.

Communists Defended

He said Joe Hill typified the "12 brave men" who are defendants in the New York trial of Communist leaders, because he, like them, "was framed by the company cops."

He said he was going to testify in the Communists' defense.

Frederic Joliot-Curie, Communist head of the French Atomic commission, was named president of the congress. He opened the congress with a call for the formation of peace committees in every country to carry out the aims of the congress.

Joliot-Curie declared "we must ally ourselves with those who want to outlaw the atomic bomb."

One of the first acts of the congress was to endorse an "overflow" meeting at Prague, made up of delegates not permitted to enter France.

The Prague congress heard a number of speeches calling the French "bootlickers of Wall Street." It then adjourned until Friday.

Texas A. & M. Alumni To Hold Muster On Tech Campus Tonight

More than 100 former students of Texas A. and M. college residing in this area are expected to gather at the stock judging pavilion on the Texts Tech campus at 7:30 o'clock tonight for the annual A. and M. muster.

D. A. Sherrill, Lubbock county agent, is president of the South Plains group.

He urges that all former Aggies notify him at 9781 by noon today if they plan to attend, if they have not already done so. Barbecued chicken will be served Sherrill said.

Aggie musters will be held today in many parts of the nation and in numerous foreign countries for ex-students and graduates of Texas A. and M. college. The annual gatherings are held each year on April 21.

Victoria, Australia, reports that of 5,800 British emigrants who have gone there since the war, only 26 have returned home unhappy about their venture.

ago. Exit was through the same window that had been raised after a glass in it was smashed.

Kattmann's Fine Foods, at 1801 Nineteenth, was broken and entered through a window and $4 was taken from a cigar box, the police said. Efforts to open a cigaret vending machine failed, after the machine had been pulled out from the wall and a knife and a meat cleaver apparently had been used on it as tools.

The police were advised of the Kattmann burglary by Moore's Bonded patrol. Investigation into the case was being continued, police said.

Door Glass Broken

Nothing apparently was removed from John's Service station, at 1504 Thirteenth, burglary of which was reported by Moore's Bonded patrol. Glass in the front door had been broken, allowing manipulation of a night latch. That place had been ransacked, police said. The burglaries were links in a chain of breakings and enterings that included two narcotics jobs this week. Also, W. C. Davis, manager, said, nothing apparently was taken by burglars who broke into and ransacked Super Dog drive-in at 1102 Nineteenth.

A $50 pair of cowboy boots was stolen from the unlocked car of Sinclair Hughes of 2818 Twenty-second, investigators said.

R. Huber of 2416 Seventh informed police that a radio had been stripped from his car.

A bike valued at $45 was reported stolen from Melvin Conner of 1000-block Sanders.

An Amarillo man, R. L. McCreight, told police he had been robbed about 3:30 a. m. by a man he said he had met in a bus station and invited to his hotel room to "have a few drinks."

McCreight told officials the man, whose name he said he did not know, took a 54-point diamond ring valued at $300, a wrist watch valued at $105 and a billfold containing approximately $40 from him. Officials said he did not give much description of the alleged assailant.

Hit With Bottle

"The complainant had been hit with a bottle," officials said, and was cut about the face and head. Taken to the West Texas hospital for treatment, the witness later was released to return to his room.

McCreight told police the suspect had told him he (the unidentified man) was going to Plainview on the next bus. There apparently had been quite a scuffle in the hotel room, Sgt. L. D. Blakney said.

Capt. of Detectives Pat Davidson said two men, questioned in connection with the Saturday night robbery of Cleveland Ruff, 23, had been "eliminated" as suspects at Tahoka.

They were examined by L. L. Ford, proprietor of a dine and dance place near which Ruff told officials he was robbed of $150 and his wrist watch. Ford told officers the suspects definitely were not the men he had seen in his place of business prior to the robbery.

A new battery and battery cable were reported stolen from the irrigation well of John Reagan of two miles south and a half mile west of Monroe, the sheriff's office announced.

J. A. Fortenberry, of Levelland road, last night was reported "slightly improved," but still in serious condition in Lubbock Memorial hospital, where he has been receiving treatment since April 4 after suffering a heart attack. A hospital attendant said last night that he was resting well. Lung complications developed after he entered the hospital for treatment, then his condition improved until this past Tuesday, when he suffered another heart attack, it was reported.

Twenty-three persons attended the regular weekly meeting of the Lubbock 20-30 club last night in Hotel Lubbock. At the meeting, members voted to sponsor the forthcoming dance review of the Larrymore Dance studio. Part of the proceeds which will accrue to the 20-30 club for their sponsorship of the show will be given to the Lubbock Boys' club, officials said last night. # Price Of Season Football Tickets Raised At Oklahoma

NORMAN, Okla., April 20 (U.P.) —Season tickets to the University of Oklahoma home football games this season will cost $17.50—$4.25 more than in 1948.

Bill Cross, auditor for the OU department of intercollege athletics, said the increase was necessary because there are five home games next autumn instead of four as in 1948. The Norman contests include Texas Aggies, October 1; Kansas, October 15; Iowa State, October 29; Santa Clara, November 19, and Oklahoma A. and M., November 26.

$100,000 In Diamonds Taken In Bold Holdup In Chicago

CHICAGO, April 20 (INS) — Uncut diamonds worth $100,000 were reported stolen today from a Chicago jewelry salesman by two fast-working thieves.

The salesman, Benjamin M. Rubenstein, 52, employed by Baumgold Brothers, Inc., New York, told police the pair pushed into his car in front of a jewelry store where he had made a sale.

One of the two took the wheel of the car and the other got into the back seat. The man in the rear pressed a gun against Rubenstein's head and warned:

"Keep your head down. If you try to look at us you won't have any head."

Reds Turn Guns On British Ships

guns along a 50-mile stretch of the river. It is possible the Red gunners may have mistaken the British warships for Chinese Nationalist gunboats.

A report received from the Amethyst early this morning said she was refloated last night by her own efforts.

Official Statement Given

The British issued a press statement giving this official version of the international incident:

The Consort was dispatched at full speed from Nanking at 11 a.m. local time, yesterday, to aid the stricken 1,375-ton Amethyst.

The Consort encountered "serious resistance" when she came in sight of the sloop. The Amethyst signalled the Consort to turn back up-river because of the heavy fire from shore.

The Consort, however, continued. When the firing died down, she turned back from a position two miles below the Amethyst and closed to take the sloop in tow.

"On approaching the Amethyst the second time," the statement said, "she again came under heavy fire and was forced to withdraw.

Encounters Brisk Fire

"Steaming downriver, she encountered brisk fire as the result of which she sustained the majority of her casualties. Her coxswain was killed and the steering gear temporarily disabled.

"Her total casualties include nine dead and three seriously wounded."

The Consort returned the Red fire "with her entire armament."

The Communists shelled the Amethyst with medium artillery from 9:30 a.m. until noon yesterday, the British statement said, and "sniping continued during the afternoon."

"Casualties were about 17 killed and 20 wounded."

A message received by the British naval attache said about 60 of the Amethyst's crew—including four wounded — were making their way to the nearest largest town.

This message said the crewmen "could not return through land minefields," to their ship.

The Shanghai spokesman said this indicated most of the ship's complement of about 150 men apparently had been forced to evacuate the sloop temporarily to avoid casualties.

The spokesman said all who could returned to the ship yesterday evening.

Sir Ralph Stevenson, British ambassador in Nanking, has messaged the Communist high command at Pieping asking that the local Red artillery commander be instructed not to impede further rescue operations.

Medical assistance was being flown to the two damaged ships today on flying boats from Hong Kong.

Carries Supplies

In London, Lord Fraser, first sea lord, said the Consort "silenced the opposition for a bit" but was hit when she went up river to turn around.

The Consort had steamed out of Nanking to the relief of the Amethyst, which was the first to be fired on. The sloop had left Shanghai for Nanking with supplies for the British embassy.

The destroyer later met the frigate Black Swan, which put out from Shanghai with doctors and medical supplies for the Amethyst.

The rendezvous was at Kiangyin, government naval base midway between Nanking and Shanghai. The 10,000-ton British cruiser London was steaming to Kiangyin.

Aboard was Vice Adm. A. C. G. Madden, second in command of the British Far East station.

Had Flags On Sides

While a British naval source in Shanghai said "I do not know what Madden can do except use force," the fact that the ambassador is in contact with the Communists may ease the explosive situation.

The British emphasized that the Amethyst had large British flags painted on her sides.

Travelers from the area reaching Shanghai said four Chinese gunboats or possibly destroyers were operating in the vicinity of the Amethyst. They thought shore gunners mistook the Amethyst for another Nationalist warship.

Some foreign observers who flew over the scene from Nanking insisted, however, that the Consort also was attacked by small arms fire from the shore.

British markings were plainly visible and the Reds knew they were attacking a foreign ship, they asserted.

A British embassy spokesman in Nanking said the first word of the incident came this morning in a message from the Amethyst saying she was under attack and was sustaining heavy casualties.

British Seeking Proposal To Keep India In Commonwealth

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

The great question before the British commonwealth conference which begins in London Thursday is whether a means can be found for continued Indian membership.

Another is whether Pakistan and Ceylon can be far behind if the new Hindu republic pulls out in August.

India's new constitution requires an end to her allegiance to the crown, and some substitute for this tie must be found if she is not to go the way of Burma and Ireland.

May Start 'Chain Reaction'

Another thing that seems sure is that Pakistan, which does not seem agitated over the matter now, and Ceylon, which seems loyal to the crown, will not be able to accept for long any state of independence which is less complete than that of India.

Not that India is trying to get out of the commonwealth. There are many reasons, including security, why she wishes to stay in. She merely poses the question to Britain and the other members, "How do you propose to let us stay as the republic we are going to be?"

No Answer Found

The British are anxious to answer with an acceptable proposal, but there is no indication that they have been able to find it yet. They say the commonwealth idea itself was evolved to meet needs of the moment, and that it can be changed again. But suggestions have been somewhat vague.

They might work out a system whereby the commonwealth nations, instead of being bound together by allegiance to a common king, would adopt a system of interlocking treaties. Those desiring to retain the king as their symbol of unity could do so, making treaties with those who do not. Or the whole thing could be put on a strictly business basis through joint agreements.

It wouldn't make much difference to the king, or to Britain, since one is merely a symbol and the other merely the point of coordination, without ruling power.

Aircraft Company Marks End Of First Year In Texas Plant

DALLAS, April 20 (AP) — Connecticut Yankees who migrated to Texas to set up a multi-million-dollar aviation plant on the outskirts of Dallas celebrated their first anniversary today in typical Lone Star state fashion.

A Connecticut-born manager of Chance Vought Aircraft, George Franko, climaxed an afternoon of speechmaking by slapping a "Flying V" branding iron on the company's first Texas-produced fighter plane, an F4U-5, up-to-date version of the war-famed Corsair.

Employes Witness Ceremony

Some 5,300 employes crowded a ramp of the sprawling factory to witness the branding and hear talks by Rex B. Beisel, Chance Vought's general manager, and H. M. Horner, president of the parent organization, United Aircraft corporation.

Beisel recalled that a year ago today, the first workers arrived here from Stratford, Conn. the vanguard of one of the most unusual industrial moves ever made.

In the last 12 months, "we have moved 1,300 key employes from Connecticut to Texas. We have hired 4,000 other employes at Dallas. And we have moved 875 freight carloads of machinery and equipment 1,687 miles," Beisel said.

Eastern Plant To Close

"We kept on building airplanes at the Stratford plant until Dallas was ready to pick up and carry the full load," he continued. "Now we've reached the point where the Stratford plant is almost empty. We are preparing to lock the doors there June 30."

Horner called the southwestward migration "the greatest single private industrial move in history." He said the move was made to obtain efficient operations and reminded workers that their primary task in the future will consist of producing "the best fighter craft."

The employes, recipients of a $25,000,000 yearly payroll, were told that full production of the firm's newest plane, the radically designed XF7U-1 Cutlass, will begin next year.

BOARD GROUP NAMED

AUSTIN, April 20. (AP) — Gov. Beauford Jester today nominated five men for appointment to the Board of Pilot Commissioners of Galveston and Texas City. They were: Robert I. Cohen, III, Randolph Pierson and A. V. Stjepcevich, all of Galveston, and W. P. Tarpey, jr., and R. C. Rich, both of Texas City.

Hale County Legion Posts Hold Joint Meet

PETERSBURG, April 20. (Special) — Hale county's American Legion posts — Plainview, Hale Center, Abernathy and Petersburg — met jointly here Tuesday night.

Visiting Legionnaires and auxiliary members from Amarillo, Levelland and Lubbock raised attendance to more than 100 persons.

James H. Goodman, Lubbock attorney and Fifth division Child Welfare chairman reviewed the Legion area Child Welfare conference held last month at Jackson, Miss., and stressed that the program is one of service to needy veterans' children.

Program Is Outlined

District Commander-elect Bridges outlined his program for the next year. Dr. Lewis B. Cooper, member of the faculty of Texas Tech and the Americanism chairman for Allen Bros. American Legion post in Lubbock, spoke on the need of a program of education that takesc care of requirements of the individual rather than that of mass education. Major Samsell, USA, organized reserve instructor of the Lubbock district, spoke on opportunities for veterans to reenlist in the organized reserve. Roy Beard, veterans state affairs committtee representative stationed at the Veterans hospital in Amarillo reported on services offered war veterans there.

A chicken dinner was served by the host post.

Next Hale county joint meeting of the posts will be at Hale Center.

Drew Pearson Files Statement By 'Bookie' In Damage Suit

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—Drew Pearson filed in U. S. District court today a sworn statement from a Long Beach, Calif., man that he gave Attorney General Fred N. Howser of California $1,200 from a Long Beach bookmaker during the 1946 political campaign.

Howser denied the statement.

He is suing Pearson, columnist and radio commentator, for $300,000 damages. The suit charges Pearson made "untrue, false and defamatory" broadcasts about the California official.

In connection with the suit, Pearson's attorneys filed with the court clerk today a deposition by James Thomas Mulloy of Long Beach.

In California, Howser said: "the statement of Mr. Mulloy is the basis of my suit against Mr. Pearson. Its falsity is well known to Mr. Mulloy and Mr. Pearson likewise."

Floyd County Electric Co-Op Plans Meeting

FLOYDADA, April 20 (Special)—Heavy attendance is expected at the annual meeting of the Floyd County Electric Co-operative, Inc., here Saturday, L. W. Chapman, manager said this morning.

Floydada and Lockney merchants have contributed many electrical appliances which will be given as attendance awards, Chapman said. He estimated that three dozen awards, ranging from table lamps to toasters and other appliances, will be presented to members attending.

The program will open at 10 a. m with an open house at the new offices of the cooperative. Simultaneously, a display of labor-saving electrical equipment for farmers and farm homes will begin at the American Legion hall.

The business session will get under way at the Legion hall at 2 p. m. Reports of Mal Jarboe, president of the board of directors, Chapman and the secretary-treasurer will be heard.

An address by an REA official is also planned.

Election of new officers for the coming year will be one of the final items of business.

Skirmish With British May Give Clue To Aims Of Chinese Reds

By JAMES D. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20—Did the Chinese Reds know what they were shooting at when they fired on those two British warships in the Yangtze river?

A great deal depends on the answer to this question.

There is an outside chance that they did not know. They were shooting at Nationalist warships at the time. They may have thought the two British ships were just more Nationalist vessels flying British flags as a ruse. If a mistake was made, it can be cleared up in time.

But the probability is that the Communists knew what they were doing.

Serious Implications Arise

If they did, it means that they have decided to go all the way this time—liberate (as they call it) the rest of China by force if necessary, and not be considerate of foreign feelings in the process.

From their standpoint, foreign feelings don't matter yet because no foreign government recognizes them.

However, the implications of the step are still bigger.

In recent days the Red radio has harped on two themes. One is that the Reds are ready and determined to conquer the rest of China by arms if Nanking doesn't come to terms and surrender.

The second theme has been a series of broadcasts in which the Reds have sided more vehemently than ever before on Russia's side of the cold war. This has been done by attacking the Atlantic pact as a plot by the "aggressive American bloc" to foment a third world war.

The point of all this seems to be that the Reds have made their choice. They are going on. On the threshold of victory in a great Nationalist revolution in China, they are in no mood to be halted by complications involving foreign gunboats.

To their mind, the day of foreign gunboats in Chinese waters is about over. There is every likelihood that they intended the shots they fired to be heard round the world.

They are in that kind of mood.

Dallas Philanthropist, 'Father Of SMU,' Dies

DALLAS, April 20 (INS)—W. W. Caruth, sr., philanthropist, rancher and "father" of Southern Methodist university, died suddenly today at his Dallas home. He was 72.

Upon the death of his mother Caruth became owner of vast land holdings in the area that is now North Dallas and the city of University Park. With additional purchases his holdings at one time totaled nearly 10,000 acres.

He virtually cinched Dallas as the site of SMU during the bitter fight for the honor between Fort Worth and Dallas by donating outright 300 acres and giving a half interest in 700 other acres.

The $2 million Caruth Engineering building at the university, completed in 1948, was named in his honor.

State Exchange Club President To Speak At Luncheon Here

T. H. Rutherford, state Exchange club president, will be the featured speaker at next week's club luncheon, Charles Cathey announced at Wednesday's regular meeting in Hotel Lubbock.

Rutherford is president of Rutherford Business college in Dallas.

At Wednesday's luncheon, plans for securing sponsors for more than 300 boys entered in the 1949 Soap Box Derby were discussed. Bill Bartley, chairman of the committee in charge of obtaining sponsors, said approximately 100 have signed this year.

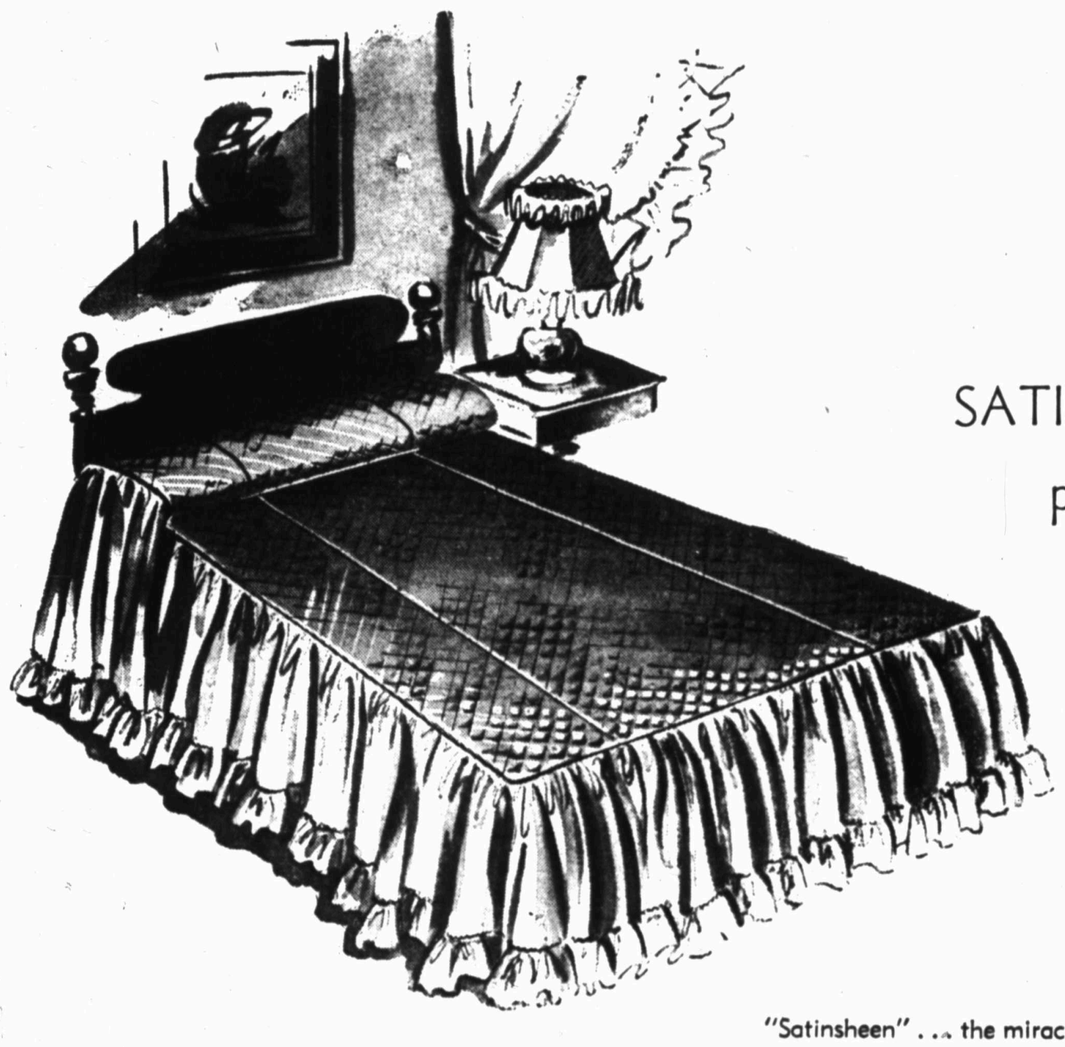

Cathey presided at the luncheon, with invocation by Glenn Lawson.

House Finally Passes First Gilmer-Aikin Measure

Walkout Fails To Halt Vote

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, April 20 — Foes of the Gilmer-Aikin school plan played for high stakes and lost today as the House finally passed the first bill 85 to 30.

Last-ditch strategy of opponents of Senator Jim Taylor's reorganization bill was a walkout that fizzled as a walk-back. They tried and failed to block final action on the red-hot legislation by breaking a quorum so that the House could not do business on pending bills.

Sergeant-at-arms sent scurrying after missing members hauled in some, others came back under their own steam. At 11:17 a.m. one hour and 17 minutes after the House met, the 100 necessary members were on hand.

Rules Are Suspended

With many opponents still absent, all backers of the reorganization bill had to do was move it swiftly. They succeeded 86 to 16 to suspend the rules to permit final action, beat down last-minute pleas against the bill, and rammed it through. Now it must go back to the senate for concurrence in or rejection of house amendments.

The risk taken by opponents in walking out came in the prospect that backers would adopt the tactics that won for the Taylor bill. Two other measures in the Gilmer-Aikin program were on tap when the House recessed for an afternoon session.

The House spent three hours debating the second Gilmer-Aikin bill before recessing until 10 a.m. tomorrow. It will go back to work then on Senator Ottis Lock's minimum foundation measure.

The Lock bill sets up minimum standards, provides for $2,400 minimum teacher salaries, undertakes to equalize sharing the cost of the school program between the various counties and the state through application of an economic index formula.

Opponents questioned it as a measure that would "bankrupt the state" and bring new tax levies. Proponents argued there would be plenty of money available for it, that it would balance costs between districts on a fair basis, and provide an equal educational opportunity in each county.

The Taylor bill abolishes the elective office of state school superintendent. It puts state supervision of the public school system under a 21-member elective state board of education which would name a commissioner of education as its chief executive officer to direct all phases of the school program on the state level.

Much of the opposition to the

Rail Officials To Visit Here Today

L. R. Capron of Chicago, vice-president in charge of traffic of the Chicago, Burlington, and Quincy railroad, will arrive in Lubbock this afternoon for an inspection tour of the local properties of the Burlington Lines of Texas, it was announced Wednesday.

Accompanying the Chicago official to Lubbock will be R. Wright Armstrong of Fort Worth, vice-president of Burlington Lines of Texas; C. S. Edmonds of Fort Worth, freight traffic manager of Burlington Lines; and W. M. Gray of Amarillo, Burlington general agent.

Freight Study Planned

The Texas officials will meet Capron in Amarillo upon his arrival there from Chicago. The group will be met at Dimmitt by Guy Victory, local general agent of the Fort Worth and Denver railroad.

In addition to inspection of the local facilities and properties of the Burlington lines here, Capron will study the increased freight and traffic demands on the local line, a reflection of growth and expansion in Lubbock and the surrounding area.

The visiting officials will attend a dinner in Hotel Lubbock at 6 p.m. today, at which between 40 and 50 Lubbock business and civic leaders will be guests. The gathering will be informal, and Capron is expected to speak briefly.

The officials will return to Amarillo tonight.

Campaign Scheduled Here April 30-May 14

Plans Complete For City Cleanup Drive

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

Plans for trash-hauling on the largest scale in Lubbock history were completed at a meeting of representatives of local service clubs in the chamber of commerce Wednesday.

The undertaking will be another of the events of the citywide cleanup, paintup, fixup campaign scheduled here April 30 through May 14, according to E. F. St. Clair, jr., cleanup chairman.

In this phase of the campaign, St. Clair said, each of eight service clubs has accepted responsibility for the hauling of all trash from a district assigned to it on one day during the drive.

Sound Trucks To Be Used

The Rotary club, for example, has been assigned to a district in Southwest Lubbock and will attend to trash hauling from that area on May 4.

On May 3, sound trucks will be sent into the area to remind residents there to pile up their trash, except wet garbage, between their sidewalk and curb.

All available city trucks will be concentrated in that area the following day. In addition, the Rotarians are to provide any other trucks that may be required to move the trash.

This same routine will be repeated from day to day through May 12 until the entire city has been covered.

Collection Days Set

The service clubs participating and their trash collection dates are: Exchange, May 5; Kiwanis, May 6; Junior Chamber of Commerce, May 7;; ABC, May 9; Optimist, May 10; Lions, May 11; and 20-30, May 12.

As was the case last year, residents of the negro districts will conduct their own campaign under the direction of a committee made up of church and service club representatives. Dr. J. A. Chatman is general chairman. The negroes were credited with having done the best cleanup job in the city in last year's campaign and Dr. Chatman said they will strive to maintain that record this year.

Procedure Is Outlined

In each area the same procedure will be followed: The sound trucks will visit the district the day before trash is hauled; on the "hauling day," all available city trucks will be concentrated in the district, plus as many additional privately-owned trucks as are needed.

Each service club will rely chiefly on its members to supply privately-owned trucks without charge. Labor and gasoline will be furnished.

However, anyone not a member of one of the clubs and with a truck which can be used to haul trash on any days during the campaign is requested to get in touch with Jim Crook, assistant manager of the chamber of commerce, telephone 4666.

Paint "Blitz" Planned

Campaign officials emphasized, however, that they do not expect to rent trucks. They expect enough will be supplied without cost by civic-minded residents to take care of needs.

St. Clair also announced Wednesday that plans for a parade to open the cleanup campaign have been abandoned.

The kickoff feature, at 10 a.m. on Saturday morning, April 30, will be a paint "blitz" of the Milam orphanage on the Tahoka highway. About 100 painters, all members of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers local 342 plan to do the complete job in about 30 minutes. Participating in the sponsorship of the event will be the Lubbock chapter of the Painting and Decorating Contractors of America and associated dealers, who will supply the materials.

St. Clair said the Toastmasters club, headed by Dr. O. W. English, has volunteered to supply speakers to help publicize the campaign.

Club To Honor Woman Of Year

Lubbock's Outstanding Woman of the Year for 1948, chosen by Altrusa club from a list of candidates submitted by other clubs, will be recognized at the annual birthday dinner of Altrusa club at 7:30 o'clock tonight in Hilton hotel.

The dinner will be held to observe the 32nd anniversary of founding of the first Altrusa club in the United States on April 11, 1917, in Nashville, Tenn.

President To Announce Choice

Identity of the woman chosen for the honor will be announced by Miss Mary Boyd, president of the club.

The program will include invocation, by Mrs. R. S. Wilkinson; introduction of guests; two vocal solos by Mrs. Asher Thompson; and a talk on history, purpose and aims of Altrusa club by Mrs. Mary Moore.

Vancouver's Pint-Sized Baby Dies After 53 Hours Of Life

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 20. (INS)—Vancouver's pint-sized baby, Sharon Fordham, was dead tonight after 53 hours of life.

The child, born two months prematurely, weighed 17½ ounces at birth. She was one of a pair of twins born to Mrs. Roy Fordham, 27, wife of a mill worker. Her twin sister, who weighs three pounds, is in an incubator.

Counting Of Votes At Tech Underway

All indications showed that there was heavy voting in the runoff elections which were held at Texas Tech Wednesday according to Clint Formby, student body president. Final tabulation of the votes will not be completed until today.

Two campus wide offices, head boy and girl cheer leader, were to be chosen. Glenna Winston of Brownfield and Lam McKay of Lubbock were in the runoff for the head girl yell leader while Jimmy Carter of Big Spring and Bob Hogan of Terrell were in the contest for head boy yell leader.

Student representatives from each of the divisions at the college to the student council were to be chosen also. Formby said this year's election had been one of the most successful ever seen at the college.

The only office for which there was not at least one candidate was the editorship of the Toreador, student newspaper. The Publications committee will appoint one in the near future Formby said.

What with heavy Government spending, no tax cuts in sight and spotty profits, British business is reported to be showing signs of jitters.

New Hale County Well Completed

A commercial oil well has been completed in the Arick-Wolfcamp field of Southeast Hale county at General American Oil company No. 3-B-W E. M. Carmickle, 990 feet from south and 330 feet from west lines of the lease in section 18, block K, TTRR survey.

The project pumped 24 hours to make an official Railroad Commission potential of 243.12 barrels of oil, gravity 37.8 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was 250-1, with no water.

The Wolfcamp pay zone at 4,764-4,803 feet had been acidized with 4,000 gallons.

Well Is Deepened

The discovery well of the Wolfcamp pay in the Arick field, General American No. 2 Carmickle, has been deepened to attempt completion from the Pennsylvanian, original pay zone of the pool. At present, No. 3-B Carmickle is the only Wolfcamp producer in the area.

C. H. Murphy & Son have perforated lower in the San Andres-Permian for further testing at their No. 1 E. T. O'Daniel, central Gaines county wildcat, two miles southeast of Seminole and 660 feet from east, 1,980 feet from south lines of section 16, block C-44, psl survey.

After acidized perforations at 5,280-90 feet with 3,000 gallons and showing mostly water, the section of pipe at 5,310-25 feet was perforated with 60 shots.

With packer at 5,305 feet, operator was preparing to swab dry and re-acidize.

An unidentified lime and chert formation was drillstem tested at L ne Star Producing company No. 1 M. M. Maule, deep wildcat three miles east of Dermott in North-Central Scurry county.

The tool was open one hour at 8,036-8,077 feet, recovering 15 feet of slightly salt cut drilling mud, with no signs of oil or gas. The formation is thought by some to be Mississippian.

Drilling was continuing b e l o w 8,077 feet in lime and chert.

Scurry Test Set

The venture is located 660 feet from south and east lines of section 451, block 97, H&TC survey.

Humble Oil & Refining company was circulating mud preparatory to drillstem testing its No. 1 Edmondson, Northwest Scurry county wildcat, eight and one-half miles northwest of Snyder and 330 feet from north and east lines of section 437, block 97, H&TC survey.

The prospector was bottomed on 8,086 feet in a lime and chert horizon thought to be Mississippian.

Another well has been completed in the relatively new North Snyder field of North-Central

Exchange Club Announces 99 Sponsors For Derby Signed

Lubbock Exchange club members Thursday had signed a total of 99 sponsors, one-third of the amount needed, for youngsters who are to race in Lubbock's second Soap Box Derby on July 4.

Three hundred and eight boys have registered for the Derby and Exchange club members, who with The Avalanche - Journal and Kuykendall Chevrolet company are sponsoring the race, hope to have a sponsor for every boy's little racer.

Sponsors pay a fee of $17.50 which provides for the cost of wheel sets, steering gear and other incidentals to running the race. Each boy must build his own car and not pay more than $6 for materials he uses in its construction.

Sponsors Are Listed

Derby Director Bill Bartley said he hoped to be able to announce every boy with a sponsor by the close of this week.

Any firm, individual or organization can sponsor a boy's racer in the Derby. Name of the sponsor will be painted on each side of the car along with the driver's name so that spectators can keep up with entries in the race as it progresses.

Sponsors who have already paid their fees for the Derby are: Lubbock Printing Co., Shaw's Jewelry, Bestwick Motors, Inc., Anderson Bros. Jewelers, Wilkinson Radiator Shop, Dan Portwood Garage, Ferguson Auto Supply Co., McLain Oil Co., Hemphill-Wells Co., Lubbock Hardware & Supply Co., Lubbock Wood Works, Southwestern Public Service Co., Elms Equipment Co., B. & H. # Trial Decision Expected Today

Judge Walter Davies said last night that he would render a decision this morning on the new trial motion of Robert White, 43-year-old Slaton negro, who was assessed a fine of $500 and county court costs and sentenced to one year in jail Saturday after pleading guilty of a charge of possession of whiskey, beer and gin for the purpose of sale.

The hearing on the motion was concluded about 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. The motion, filed Monday by Buck McNeil of the law firm of Burks & McNeil, set up charges that, among other things, White got a "supersonic, jet-propelled trial held so quickly as to deprive him of the rights under the law."

Bond Is Forfeited

He was tried without any waiver of his rights to a jury trial, was not advised of his rights to bail, and Judge Davies took cognizance of inadmissible evidence, even before the trial started, the motion further said.

The state had asked for the enhanced penalty for White, setting out one previous conviction of the defendant on a liquor law violation charge.

Bond of E. J. Herbst, 40, of near Idalou, was ordered forfeited Wednesday afternoon when Herbst failed to answer when his drunk driving case was called for trial in county court.

Judge Davies ordered that the defendant's name be called three times at the courthouse door and, when there still was no answer, verbally ordered that bond be forfeited and a formal order so stating be prepared for his signature.

The order would become final at the next term of court, as is legally provided.

Chilean General Fails To Get 'Cowboy Suit' In Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, April 20 (U.P.)—Maj. Gen. Aurelto Celedon, chief of the Chilean air force, left Texas today with vivid impressions of the B-36 superbomber and the plant where it is built, but no cowboy suit.

The general, who had heard that Fort Worth was "the city where the west begins," announced promptly upon arrival last night that he wanted to go shopping for a cowboy suit—complete with six-shooter and ten-gallon hat.

But after Carswell Air Force base officers and Consolidated-Vultee officials finished showing him the B-36 and the plant where it is built, he didn't have time for shopping.

Gilmer-Aikin Bill

bill has centered on abolition of the school superintendent's job. Proponents argued the new plan would do away with friction, duplication and conflict under the present set-up.

The story of the walkout effort began last night when opponents who have succeeded in delaying a showdown for three weeks met at a downtown hotel. Some admitted they were not planning to show up when the House met this morning. Some said they were leaving town.

Ordered Brought In

The first record vote taken after the House met at 10 a.m. showed 96 members present—four short of a quorum. The next showed 90; the next 83. In the absence of a quorum, the House can adjourn or try to raise a quorum—nothing else.

Rep. George Noakes of Corsicana, a Gilmer-Aikin floor leader, moved a call of the House that would lock the doors against further walkouts and to pave the way for bringing in absentees. The House went with him 77 to 13.

Then Rep. George Richards of Lockhart moved that sergeant-at-arms Bob Murphy bring in the missing members.

"Arrest 'em, handcuff 'em—anything to get 'em in," Richards snapped.

The House approved 76 to 7, and Murphey and three aides began the manhunt. Two or three members drifted in. Some said they had been to the doctor.

Murphey reported he chased one member who got away in a muddy field. He did not identify the member. Others returned, some accompanied by assistants to the sergeant-at-arms, others alone. The word had gotten around.

Postponement Is Opposed

Rep. H. A. (Salty) Hull of Fort Worth told the House he was for the bills, but that he did not want final action on the Taylor measure until the other two related bills could be acted on.

Hull moved to postpone final action until next Wednesday, but the House voted 78 to 30 to go ahead. Passage came almost immediately for the Taylor bill.

House Chaplain James Clark's opening prayer included these words:

"Let us not turn cowards toward our difficulties or run away from our duties."

Noakes told a reporter: "Let that be my public comment" on the walkout.

Rep. Jack K. Wisener of Wells fired the closing blast against Taylor's bill.

He charged that the bill "never would have come out of the House education committee" if a constitutional rule had been observed.

"A member who has a personal interest in a bill is prohibited from voting on the measure," Wisener said. "The vote would have been 10 to 9 against the bill ever coming out of committee if that provision of the constitution had been upheld." He apparently referred to the fact that several members of the committee are school teachers.

Speaker Durwood Manford asked Wisener if he wished to speak on personal privilege. Wisener apologized to the House.

"The most viciour campaign has been conducted on this bill in the annals of the Texas legislature," he continued. "A lot of us are voting for this bill because we're afraid to vote against it. I'll tell you this. More people will be defeated for voting for Senate Bill 115 than for voting against it."

Well Completed

Scurry county by Standard Oil company of Texas.

It is the company's No. 4-3 J. W. Brown, 467 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 440, block 97, H&TC survey.

From the open hole pay section at 6,523-6,829 feet the well was finished for 438 barrels of oil per day, flowing natural through a 14/64-inch choke.

Gas-oil ratio was 972-1. There was no water.

Brief Bits Of Local News

O. R. (Ray) Wells was named president of the Lubbock chapter No. 1 of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America at a regular chapter meeting Tuesday evening. Other officers elected were R. E. Dunn, vice-president; C. A. White, secretary - treasurer; and G. P. (Pat) Cunningham, member of the board of directors of the district association. The chapter's next regular meeting and rehearsal is scheduled for May 3.

Don L. Jones, superintendent of the Texas Experiment sub-station east of Lubbock, left by plane early Wednesday for Milwaukee, Wisc., after receiving word of the death of a brother, C. A. Jones, in that city Tuesday night. The Milwaukee man died of a heart attack. Other survivors in addition to the Lubbock brother include the mother, Mrs. C. A. Jones, sr., and a sister, Miss Irene Jones, both of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom J. Boyd and three sons, Dick, Tom, jr., and Bill, have returned to their home in Fort Worth after spending the Easter holidays with Mrs. Boyd's mother, Mrs. Maude Bradley, of 1806 Ave. V.

Harry C. France, investment counselor, will speak to members of the Lubbock Knife and Fork club at their regular monthly dinner meeting at 7 o'clock this evening in Hilton hotel. France will give his audience here a "behind the scenes" account to explain many of the financial problems with which the country is faced. He is a former officer in the government loan organization of the United States treasury department.

Reburial services for Pvt. Matthew J. Spears, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Spears of Lubbock, were conducted at 2 p.m. Wednesday in the chapel of Bryan McDonald & Son Funeral home. Interment was in Lubbock Memorial Park cemetery, with graveside military rites conducted by the Anton American Legion post. Pvt. Spears was killed in action on Aug. 7, 1944, in Normandy.

WHAT MADE LINDA LOSE HER LOOKS?

*It may very well be a Borderline Anemia

It's no help to a happy marriage when a wife is forever fatigued and out of sorts—when a faded, forlorn look has taken the place of her youthful beauty.

Yes, and so often this loss of energy and color stems from faded red blood cells. If you're too pale and tired, you may have a Borderline Anemia, due to a ferro-nutritional blood deficiency. Medical studies show that up to 68% of women—many men and children—are the victims of this blood condition.

Weariness and pallor have many causes—always consult your doctor regularly. But if you have this Borderline Anemia, remember: Ironized Yeast Tablets can help you reclaim your vitality and healthy good looks. They are specially formulated to help build up faded and fagged-out blood cells. To feel better—look better—act alert and alive—try IRONIZED YEAST TABLETS!

*Due to a ferro-nutritional blood deficiency, a condition for which Ironized Yeast is specially formulated.

Solons Observe Filth, Disease In Tour Of Washington, D. C., Slums

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 20—"When you ain't got it, you ain't got it," the negro man said mildly, meaning money. He was leaning against a battered shack a few blocks from the capitol.

He was trying to explain why people live in the slums of Washington, thousands of people, whites and negroes, but mostly negroes. What kind of work did they do? "Mostly ketch as ketch can," the man said.

He was looking at senators, policemen, newspaper reporters and a doctor while raggedy negro children played around them and hit at one another with sticks.

Senator Conducts Tour

A negro girl got up and hobbled off the steps. Her legs were bent with rickets. She had a foolish, happy smile. She might have been 15 or 35. "An imbecile," the doctor told the others quietly.

The group was making a quick tour of the slums in Washington that spread out around the capitol. The slums start within 100 feet of the Senate office building.

They were being taken around by Senator Paul Douglas, Illinois Democrat. The others in the party were one Democrat, Senator Green of Rhode Island, and these Republican senators: Morse of Oregon, Ferguson of Michigan, and Baldwin of Connecticut.

They had just come from Senate debate on a bill to provide public housing and wipe out slums in the cities of America. They wanted to see slums first hand in the nation's capital.

Outside Plumbing Conspicuous

They went into a house where 13 people sleep in three beds in two rooms. . . A man, his wife, nine children, one grandchild, and the man's grandfather. . . No lights except an oil lamp, no heat except a coal stove in the kitchen . . . no running water. The water is in the yard. So is the toilet. The yard is heaped with rubbish.

The plaster was off the walls . . . the windows broken . . . the furniture was claptrap junk . . . outside in the yard the grandfather was lying on a bare bedspring, warming himself in the sun. One leg was off at the knee.

With his age and his one leg he couldn't work. He makes no money at all? No. How much does his son make? One buck yesterday, maybe no buck today. He delivers coal when he can.

How did the grandfather lose his leg? "T-B of the bone," the old man said.

"An awful lot of people die of tuberculosis in the slums," the doctor told the senators. "And there's a lot of venereal disease."

The party went from slum to slum, row after row of them. . . row after row of outside toilets and outside water pipes. . . yards heaped with rubbish. . .

I asked many negro men and women what was the highest pay anyone in their row of houses got. The highest I heard anyone say was $35 a week, when a man had regular work. . . the rent ran from $12 to $30 a month. . .

Dirty? Yes, a police sergeant said on the ride back to the bright and shining capitol. Bugs and lice and everything, he said.

"There's some kind of doctor works for the government," the sergeant said. "He makes a study of lice. Catalogues them. He told us any time we found any one dead in the alley to let him know.

"Two weeks ago we found a man, dead quite a while. We called the government man. He come down. He found 11 new kinds of lice on the man nobody ever heard of before. All brand new kinds, the doctor said."

The sergeant looked thoughtfully at the ancient houses of the slums.

"Just look at them," he said. "If someone with money bought them up, and fixed them, and painted them, and put a big brass knocker on the door, he'd have a real antique."

Lubbock Hospitals Send Blood Plasma To Aid Odessa Girl

In response to an appeal for blood plasma for a daughter of a veteran at Odessa, 12 units of Red Cross blood plasma which had been given to Lubbock hospitals at close of the war were placed on a bus Wednesday afternoon.

Blood plasma distributed at close of the war will expire in July of this year. Some hospitals already have used the supply issued to them. A physician recommended that 8-year-old Jackie Mae Gross of Odessa receive blood plasma within six days and when plasma could not be located in that area an appeal was sent to Lubbock. The girl, ill with a kidney ailment, is the daughter of Garland Gross.

The plasma was issued through state health officers to members of the American Hospital association. The plasma sent to Odessa has a commercial value of $420.

TEXAS LADY LOSES 47 POUNDS

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcentrate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger. Barcentrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here is what Mrs. H. P. Bishop, Route 3, Stamford, Texas, wrote us:

"I am very glad to endorse Barcentrate, so please accept my sincere thanks and appreciation for the great benefit I derived from its use. I not only lost weight, but also looked and felt better in every way.

"I had to have a very serious operation and was told that I must lose a lot of weight before the operation could be performed. I went on a diet and tried very hard to reduce, but wasn't losing much weight until I heard of Barcentrate. I began taking it and could soon tell the difference in the way I felt and the weight I was losing. I weighed 200 pounds when I started and I lost a total of 47 pounds and was able to undergo my operation. I can truthfully recommend it to others, since it did so much for me."

At all druggists

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Workers On UN, U.S. Carrier Must Be Confused By Events

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK, April 20—The Passing Show:

The most bewildered workers in the U. S. today must be those now riveting the basement of U. N.'s topless-towers-to-be and those hammering away at the keel of the world's most redundant warship, the U. S. S. United States.

We paid a visit to the U.N. site some time ago and found the men there—mainly diggers—in a state of scrambled bewilderment. Most of them seemed certain that what they were working on would never be finished. The rest said it'll with it, it was steady pay, wasn't it?

Project Is Costly

Recent events, including the signing of the Atlantic Pact and the demands in Congress for a "little U.N." composed of Pact nations, must now make the confusion at the U.N. site unanimous. There is bound to be similar distress at Newport News, Va., where the 65,000-ton carrier which nobody except the Navy seems to want is in its early embryo state.

The starting of work on the U. S. S. U. S. is a brutal mockery of 1. The legend of unification and 2. The sanctity of the American buck. Navy brass seemed to wish that the thing could start without public notice, and stayed away. The Air Force managed not to bomb the shipyard, but will continue to fight in Congress against what it says is a bold invasion of its sovereignty. The U.S.S.U.S., if finished, will be large enough to launch A-bomb carrying planes. Navy planes.

In the meantime, the people are paying the bills and probably wishing mightily that the boys at home and abroad would get together—if only for the sake of relieving what must be the chaotically twisted minds of the workmen.

Forecast Is Recalled

Speaking of the A-bomb, Winston Churchill sat himself down to his writing table in 1925, in the course of doing a book called "Thoughts and Reflections," and wrote:

"Might not a bomb no bigger than an orange be found to possess a secret power to destroy a whole block of buildings—nay, to concentrate the force of a thousand tons of cordite and blast a township at a stroke?"

Churchill, by the way, takes no open pride in the achievements of the U.S.-British airlift into Berlin. He says it's a case of showing Joe Stalin how long we can stand on our heads while he sits in a comfortable rocker.

He believes we made a great mistake at the start of the blockade by not stating, firmly, that Russian surface ships could no longer use the ports of Le Havre, Southampton and New York. When the police states throw out a diplomatic representative of the U.S. or Britain, Churchill states, we should in turn give the tramp's toss to their counterparts. But immediately.

Wildlife Depleting In Texas, Expert Says

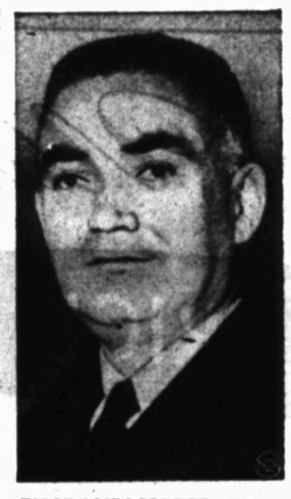

Texas' supply of game birds, furbearers and fish is depleting due to predatory game, lack of food and protection and over-hunting, R. E. Calender, wildlife specialist of the Texas Extension service, declared in a talk at the luncheon of the Lubbock Rotary club in the Hilton hotel Wednesday.

Calender, who exhibited stuffed species of various game birds and animals, said Texas wildlife is a crop of the land and its farmers and ranchers but thereafter it belongs to the state. The only authority the landowners has is the trespass law and then he must have his land enclosed.

Game resources are on a downward trend but may be corrected if game protection measures are taken, Calender said.

Leroy Land was program chairman and introduced Calender. S. E. Cone was presented an honorary membership in the club in token of the group's appreciation of his recent contribution to the Lubbock Cerebral Palsey clinic.

Dave Duncan, Big Spring; Taylor McCasland, Portales, N. M.; N. S. Griggs and Herman Ford, Amarillo; Sam Hord, Fort Worth; Harriman Watson and Sam Davis, Ralls; Ed Hearn, Little Rock, Ark., and Lamar Young, Dallas, were out-of-town visitors.

FIRST AMBASSADOR—Elihu Elath is the first Israeli ambassador to the U.S. The new Jewish state representative is pictured as he called at the White House recently to present his credentials.

Reserve Unit Of 707th Bomb Squadron Sets Drill Tonight

The reserve unit of the 707th Bombing Squadron (VH) will hold its regular drill pay meeting tonight at 7:30 p.m. in building 62 at LAAF, according to Capt. C. E. Jennings, assistant operations officer of the squadron.

Some training films and two short lectures will be on the program. Capt. Jennings also said a schedule for night flying that is required of all active reservists would be worked out.

The ladies auxiliary will hold its regular meeting at the same time in the squadron club house at the field.

Capt. Jennings said the unit would hold a dance in the officers club at the base Saturday night at 9 p.m. All members, their wives and dates are invited.

Suspect Involved In Lonely Hearts Slayings Is Held

AUSTIN, April 20. (AP)—Texas Ranger Zeno Smith today arrested George A. Brennan, 19, as an accessory to murder in one of the Delaware "lonely hearts" slayings.

Brennan was a trainee at Lackland Air Force base near San Antonio, where the arrest was made, State Police Director Homer Garrison announced.

Garrison said the formal charge was "accessory after the fact to murder in the first degree of Wade Wooldridge." Brennan was identified as a son of Mrs. Inez Brennan, whom Delaware authorities have charged with first degree murder in the killing of Wooldridge.

Young Texas Acrobat, Run Over By Car, Misses Circus Opening

GAINESVILLE, April 20 (AP)—Twelve-year-old Roddy Osborne was missing tonight as the Gainesville Community circus opened its annual three-day stand.

The Gainesville youth, scheduled as one of the main acrobats, was run over last night by a truck driven by his father, Tim Osborne, manager of the Gainesville airport. He suffered internal injuries.

Streets were gaily decorated with streamers for the sixth annual event. The annual parade, including eight bands, decorated floats and several saddle clubs, was held this afternoon.

Levelland Group Opens Drive To Raise Funds For New Hotel

LEVELLAND, April 20 (Special)—Intensive efforts toward financing a new hotel here will begin Monday, Harry H. Mann and John Potts, leaders of the New Hotel campaign, announced.

A "Kick-Off" dinner at the Methodist church will mark the opening drive, and will be followed each day, until May 3, by a luncheon meeting at which progress will be reported.

New hotel campaign headquarters announced that a large scoreboard would be erected on the Courthouse square to post the public on progress of the drive.

DECLINE BLAMED ON PRICE DROP

Government Warns Farmers Of Smaller Incomes During 1949

By JOHN BOOTH
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 20—The government told farmers today that their 1949 profits are likely to be considerably smaller than the $17,400,000,000 they took in last year.

The Agriculture department, in making this prediction, estimated cash farm receipts for the first four months of this year will be about $8 billion—four per cent less than in the same period last year.

But for the year as a whole, government experts expect the drop to be nearer 10 per cent.

Farm Prices Lower

Farmers will be moving a volume of products about as heavy as last year. The drop in income, therefore, will be due primarily to lower average prices.

The Agriculture department also reported that farm values are declining for the first time in 10 years with western states bearing the brunt.

Department officials blamed this trend, too, on slumping farm incomes, along with a general easing of the entire economic situation, including smaller production in some industries and increased unemployment.

Huge Wheat Crop Seen

Still another indication that the edge is coming off record farm prosperity was the government forecast that the wheat surplus may reach half a billion bushels in about a year.

Agriculture officials admit this year's wheat crop, estimated second largest in history, will more than satisfy all domestic and foreign demand. They hinted that production controls will be sought for next year's crop.

Production costs are expected to come down too, but not very much. Agriculture experts think the average may be five per cent with livestock feeds leading the way.

Cash Receipts Steady

The department commented that "other charges are relatively fixed, and a few may actually increase further."

Under such circumstances, a decline of about 10 per cent in farmers' gross income would result in a larger drop in their net income.

For the current month, cash receipts from marketings are estimated at $1,900,000,000. This is practically the same as March but about four per cent below April a year ago.

Since January 1, farmers have received about six per cent less from sales of meat animals than in the first four months of 1948.

On the other hand, receipts from crop sales in the same period will be slightly higher than last year.

This is because corn and cotton are being marketed in much larger quantities. Also the vast stocks of these commodities placed under government loan are counted as part of gross receipts.

Cash receipts from wheat will be much smaller than last year because of smaller marketings and lower prices.

The 364 million bushels of wheat placed under loan from the 1948 crop is the largest amount pledged for price support purposes since 1942.

Government officials also expect that loans on cotton will be close to the record amount of 1937 and that more corn will go under loan than any previous year.

TRUMAN URGED TO HALT ERP AID

Senators Ask Enforcement Of UN Resolutions Against Dutch

By ALLAN J. FUNCH
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 20. — Twenty-three Republican senators today demanded that President Truman act immediately to enforce United Nations' resolutions against the Netherlands in the Indonesian dispute.

The Senators, in a letter to the White House, urged Mr. Truman to:

1. Cut off $355 million earmarked for the Netherlands under the recently-enacted Marshall plan extension act.

2. Direct Secretary Acheson and the U. S. delegation to the UN "to take immediately those steps necessary to assure United Nations enforcement of its resolutions pertaining to the Dutch-Indonesian conflict."

Sanctions May Be Urged

Presumably, this would call for economic or military sanctions against the Netherlands by all UN members.

A spokesman said the State department would have no comment on the letter pending its receipt and study.

It was indicated that action must be forthcoming from the White House before the department would be in a position to make a statement.

Signatures on the letter included such well-known Republicans as Knowland, Calif.; Morse, Ore.; Langer, N. D.; Ives, N. Y.; Cain, Wash.; Capehart, Ind.; Brewster, Me.; Wherry, Neb.; Bridges, N. H.; Tobey, N. H.; Aiken, Vt. and McCarthy, Wis.

Point To Amendment

The senators told the chief executive:

"The Senate has amended the Economic Cooperation administration act to provide that assistance shall not be given to any state 'against which the United Nations is taking preventive or enforcement action.'

"In the debate preceding the passage of this amendment, it was the overwhelming expression of the Senate that the Netherlands government has acted improperly and against the interests of world peace and security in the employment of military force in Indonesia. . . "

The group of Republican senators also charged the Netherlands with "consistent refusal to comply with Security Council resolutions calling for cessation of hostilities and other steps for peaceful settlement of the dispute in Indonesia." The letter concluded:

Immediate Action Asked

"In view of these facts, we . . . respectfully urge that you direct the secretary of state and the United States delegation to the United Nations to take immediately those steps necessary to assure enforcement of its resolutions pertaining to the Dutch-Indonesian conflict."

The 11 other senators signing the letter were Hendrickson, N. J.; Schoeppel, Kan.; Ecton, Mont.; Jenner, Ind.; Baldwin, Conn.; Malone, Nev.; Butler, Neb.; Smith, Me.; Thye, Minn.; Cordon, Ore., and Flanders, Vt.

Reburial Services For Post Vet To Be Conducted Today

POST, April 20. (Special)—Reburial services for Pfc. Delma Ray Meeks, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Meeks of Post, who was killed on Leyte, P. I., Oct. 7, 1945, are to be conducted at 2:30 p.m. Thursday in the First Baptist church here.

Rev. J. T. Clinton of Lubbock, Rev. A. T. Nix of Pleasant Valley, and Rev. George Dale of Lubbock are to officiate at the services.

A military service will be conducted by the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars posts here. Mason and company Funeral home will direct burial in Terrace cemetery here.

Survivors in addition to the parents include a brother, Jack Meeks; and four sisters, Mrs. Arthur Wilson of Slaton, Mrs. Ed Dye of Post, Mrs. Charlie Brown of Post, and Mrs. Claude Miller of Lubbock.

Pallbearers will be Harold Morrison, Demos Altman, Raymond McGhee, Bob Turney, Truman Riddle, and Ralph Cockrell.

Bureau Of Standards Tests Range From Dish Breakage To Wear On Seat Of Junior's Pants

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 20. — The Bureau of Standards will tackle anything that will benefit mankind.

Anything from research to determine how hard you can drop a dish before it breaks to how hard you can paddle Junior before the back of his pants give out.

In the dish-breaking department, scientists are busting up pieces of China to see how much kicking around dishes will take in restaurants and homes. They use a little gadget that drops an iron ball onto a plate or cup until it finally cracks.

Dish Designs Tested

Across the room is a thing that looks like a modern washing machine. It's trying to find out how much washing a platter will take before the design wears off. A Mr. G. R. Shelton told me he had a salad plate made of China which has worked "15 years" and still is going strong.

He explained that 48 hours in the hopped-up swish-swish washer is equivalent to 15 years of actual service.

The technicians learn how long a certain piece of dinnerware will hold its gloss without cracking. Also how much hot water it will take. There are ugly looking knives in the laboratory which mechanically go over a plate and act like people cutting a hunk of tough steak. That shows how much knifing a dinner plate or a big china platter will take without scratching.

Now about pants. The dignified National Bureau of Standards doesn't stoop to using a mechanical paddling machine. But it does have a new, rapid and sensitive laboratory method for measuring the wear in textiles.

The work going on is under the direction of Dr. Herbert F. Schiefer, a pleasant, gray-haired man. It's under the sponsorship of the quartermaster general, Department of the Army. The Army, naturally, is more interested in making the seat of GI's pants last longer than in prolonging the life of Junior's britches.

The seat of the pants, incidentally, does not get all of the attention. Tests are being made on elbows and knees.

Results Of Tests Studied

Dr. Schiefer and his helpers use a little oblong machine which looks something like a table model television set without a light. It gives the textiles a good rubbing and then science steps in and makes a set of maps of what has happened.

No conclusions have been drawn yet. But some day the bureau will be able to advise manufacturers what weave of cloth is best for what wear, be it for a small boy on his knees playing marbles or a soldier crawling through a barbed wire entanglement.

The machines themselves are interesting. You can step them up to imitate what happens when a kid hits a nail head going down a slide. Or slow them down to learn how well a vice-president's pants will stand 45 wiggles on his chair under 200 pounds of pressure during a five-hour day.

Sentencing Date Set For Former Texan In New York Shooting

TROY, N.Y., April 20 (AP) — Richard Perry 19-year-old freshman, will be sentenced next Tuesday for illegal possession of a gun in the fatal shooting of a class mate at Rensselaer Polytechnic institute.

Perry is accused in connection with the death of Manfred Lowen, 23, who was found dead in his dormitory room April 3.

District attorney Earle J. Wiley said Perry had made a verbal statement that his gun, a .22 calibre target pistol, had discharged accidentally while he was examining it in his room.

Perry is accused in connection with the death of Manfred Lowen, 23, who was found dead in his dormitory room April 3.

Release Of Mrs. Wilma Ybarbo 'Amazes' Dead Husband's Family

VICTORIA, Tex., April 20 (AP)—The family of Sgt. John Ybarbo today expressed bitterness and amazement at the release of the sergeant's wife from the German prison where she was serving a sentence for killing him.

"Her conviction had already been upheld twice and then suddenly General Clay releases her," commented Mrs. Josephine Zapeda, sister of the slain sergeant.

"Probably if she had killed a dog she would have been forced to pay for it but since it was only a man they set her free," Mrs. Zapeda said.

"We hope at least to be able to have the body returned for burial in Victoria but so far have received no answer from the authorities."

Mrs. Ybarbo was sentenced last December to 20 years in prison by a Frankfurt military court for the slaying. The sentence was reduced to five years by an appeals court and then Gen. Lucius D. Clay vacated it.

Mrs. Ybarbo was reunited Monday at New Bedford, Mass., with her son, Jimmy, six.

Texas Gubernatorial Candidate To Address NTSTC Student Group

DENTON, April 20 (AP)—Caso March, candidate for governor in 1950 elections, will address Texas college students here April 23 on "the role of students in state political life."

The Baylor university law professor will address the first annual conference of the Texas Intercollegiate Student association at North Texas State Teachers college. About 140 delegates from 27 Texas colleges and universities are expected.

India expects a food price drop.

Fort Worth Property Owners Face U.S. Rent Overcharge Suits

FORT WORTH, April 20. (U.P.)—Government housing attorneys today sought triple damages from two Fort Worth property owners in the first suits filed here under the new rent control law.

The attorneys ask that James McPeak and Pinkey Lee Floyd be required to pay the government three times the amounts which they are accused of overcharging during the past year.

The new rent act permits the government to seek triple damages.

McSpeak is accused of overcharges of $172.53 for an apartment, and Floyd is charged with collection of $132 in excess rent for a house.

Housing officials also ask injunctions prohibiting the property owners from making future overcharges.

Churchill Warns Of Dangers In Excessive European Nationalism

LONDON, April 20 (AP)—Winston Churchill said today Europeans must curb excessive nationalism or become "paupers or slaves."

"We must think and plan and toil, not only as patriots in our own countries, but as Europeans," he told the Economic Conference of the European Movements.

Churchill is honorary president of the European Movement, an organization of leading public figures seeking to unify the countries of Europe.

Final Arrangements Completed For Tech Engineers' Open House

Final arrangements and preparations for the 17th annual Texas Tech Engineering show have been completed and the show will open Friday at 2 p.m. according to Francis Miller, general chairman of the show.

An even larger crowd than the 4,000 persons which attended last year's show is anticipated. The Engineering show is held at the college each year in conjunction with the Home Economics Open House, the Regional Interscholastic league meet and the Vocational Agriculture judging contests in order that as many high school students and teachers as possible may attend.

Various Exhibits Prepared

Tech's engineering division has opened its doors to visitors in order that the public might see just what an engineer does to obtain his degree. Eight departments in the engineering division as well as the departments of geology, physics and military science have combined to produce this year's show.

Demonstrations and exhibits have been planned to give interesting and educational facts to the public. They will range from those of a strict technical nature to those which are purely for amusement.

The mechanical engineering department will present such exhibits as a mechanical hula-hula girl, a cut-away section of a six cylinger Ford engine and an air-powered starter. Class rooms and equipment used for teaching purposes will be open in this as well as in all of the departments.

Radio Contest Scheduled

Plans have been made for a "ham" radio connection with students at Texas A&M. If the contact can be made, a chess game by radio will be carried on by students from each school. This will be one of the highlights of the electrical engineering department. The department will also feature an electric train which can be controlled by voice.

The newly-reorganized petroleum engineering department will move into its new building and will have all of the most modern oil producing equipment on display. A model rig showing drilling operations will be featured by that department.

Some of the interesting oddities that have arisen from the science of chemistry will be featured in a magic show to be presented by the chemical engineers. The magic show has been designed to show the serious side of chemistry and some of the important advances which have been made in that field.

Weapons To Be Displayed

A display of modern weapons featuring the new .57 millimeter recoil-less rifle and several bridge models used by the Army Corps of Engineers will highlight the military science part of the show. The Signal corps unit of the R.O.T.C. will show the various means of radio and visual communication. The department will stress the close relation of some phases of the military to the engineering profession.

Exhibits and displays from the departments of architecture and allied arts, civil engineering, industrial engineering and textile engineering will also be open for inspection.

The doors will remain open from 2 p.m. until 10 p.m. both days. Some of the exhibits will be outside if the weather permits.

Ex-Comal County Sheriff Free On $2,000 Bond In Bribe Case

NEW BRAUNFELS, April 20 (AP)—Former Comal County Sheriff W. A. School is under $2,000 bond today on a complaint charging he accepted a bribe.

Justice of the Peace H. R. Voges yesterday bound S... the next grand jury. He overruled a defense motion for dismissal.

School, sheriff for eight years prior to Jan. 1, is charged with accepting a bribe from Albert O. Smith of San Antonio last Friday.

Smith testified in an examining trial yesterday he gave School a bribe to dissuade the ex-sheriff from testifying in a cattle theft case.

REALISTIC VIEW

Poll Tax Repeal

THE Texas Legislature seems to be taking the realistic view of the involved question pertaining to poll taxes. The Senate has approved, 25 to 2, a constitutional amendment providing for repeal of the levy. Indications are the House will do likewise, giving people of the State an opportunity to vote on the proposition.

Just what the citizenship may do about the matter, if given the opportunity to vote upon it, remains to be seen. Many undoubtedly will vote for it because of their conviction that indivual states either must abolish the tax themselves or become reconciled to the certainty that, sooner or later, it will be abolished for them by the federal government.

But a vote for such an amendment will not be a confession that the poll tax is discriminatory. This charge, frequently made by racial agitators, is totally false. Every qualified citizen, regardless of race, color or creed, is eligible to pay a poll tax. If he fails to pay one and thus becomes ineligible to vote in the elections that occur, he has himself alone to blame. The contention that the $1.75 tax once a year—all of which goes to public schools and highways—bars any considerable number of people from voting is absurd on the face of it.

If the amendment is submitted, as seems likely, Texans should consider that revenues shut off from this source will have to be made up in other ways. Many other angles will require consideration, too.

It is a matter which people of the State should be given an opportunity to decide—once and for all, it is hoped. The Legislature will risk little criticism by its provision of such an opportunity.

Carrier Insurance

WHEN experts disagree as to the need and possible value of the super-aircraft carrier, United States, for which the keel was laid this week, the masses of Americans will not pretend to know whether the huge investment is justified. Present estimates are that the carrier will cost $186,000,000. The final figure probably will run considerably higher since the navy, in common with other military branches and most governmental departments, rarely keeps anything within original financial estimates.

But if the average John Q. Citizen lacks expert qualifications in such matters, he is adept in applying plain horse sense to any problem or question confronting him. Frequently he makes mistakes. Usually he comes up with a pretty good answer, based upon sound logic.

He is told the new carrier will handle planes far larger than any such craft ever built. Common sense tells him that the closer any plane can be carried toward its target, the greater its effective range will be. To get down to cases, it seems reasonable such a carrier will make targets of all kind in deepest Russia more vulnerable to attack than if we were forced to rely on land-based planes operating from longer distances.

Possibly there are elements of validity in charges that the real purpose of the carrier is to make more jobs for navy brass hats; that it will duplicate expensively functions which should be entrusted to the air forces and army. The average citizen can't evaluate such criticisms because he does not know whether they are inspired by sincerity or jealousy.

But many Americans are likely to feel the investment is cheap insurance, thoroughly justified by the possibility of what the carrier might accomplish if this nation again should be forced to fight for its life.

TRIM moved a hand to the horn button and turned off the car lights. Then they rolled slowly down the incline toward the rambling shadow of the Bar C Ranch. Beyond the gallows-like archway, the low ranch house showed no lights.

"Looks like Faye's still here," Sin said, speaking in an unnecessary whisper from the back seat. The Mercury still lowered inanimate before the house. The only cloud in the sky had floated mischievously before the moon, a cottony mask.

Trim coaxed the sedan to a quiet halt. He ceased listening to night sounds from the surrounding desert. "Still want to go through with it?" he inquired.

"Sure," Sin said, pretending she meant it.

They opened the doors and got out. John Henry caressed the automatic pressed against his stomach.

Trim led the way across the graveled lot. The cloud chose to drift from in front of the moon and the three furtive figures seemed to spring into focus. Sin was regretting her insistence on the expedition. Her white blouse made a distinctive target under the gleaming moon.

When John Henry veered toward the front door, Trim caught his sleeve with a quick hand. He shook his head. "Never mind stirring up trouble we don't have to. Where are the horses?"

"The stable, I suppose."

"Can you two ride?"

"Well—we've ridden."

"Lead the way," said the Federal man and stood aside. Hoping he was going in the right direction, John Henry tiptoed cautiously along the front of the silent house and turned the corner. He was. The boxlike building, a half-story higher than the house, loomed in sharp outline a hundred yards away.

THE horses in their stalls were restless. They tossed their heads and reared and neighed when the men approached. Sin huddled on a bale of hay by the doorway while Trim and her husband first pacified and then saddled three mounts. John Henry had a good deal of trouble subduing his steed, but the wizened FBI man proved surprisingly adept at the job and finished two saddlings while John Henry struggled with one.

Trim carried the last of the saddles and bridles into the feed room and banged the wooden door to behind him. Then he wedged the huge rusty padlock shut and jammed it with one blow of an old stirrup iron. "That'll slow up anybody who's going our way," he remarked, his smile satisfied. He tossed the stirrup iron down and dusted his hands.

"THIS is Walking Skull," said Trim. "And that's the start of the Badlands." He gestured into the night.

The Conovers looked it over. Walking Skull was a rough bowl-shaped depression in the desert, several hundred yards across. It was littered with huge boulders and dotted with a few stunted palms.

"Why?" Sin wanted to know.

"Good thing the Bureau made me into a guide book before I came down," Trim said. He explained that a weathered skeleton had been found leaning against one of the rocks years before, looking as if it were still trying to take the few steps that separated it from the tiny water hole. Of course, the bones were all gone now—carried home as souvenirs by tourists. But the skull had never been discovered. "The legend is that the skull still roams these parts at night searching for water."

"Oh no!" Sin said.

"You shouldn't have told her," was John Henry's reaction.

To the south and to the west, the smooth desert had been carved into a twisted labyrinth of narrow, deep canyons, writhing snakes that turned here and there, joining and separating and losing themselves in the night shadows. A single canyon cracked the side of the rough bowl on the southwestern edge.

"I can see why you'd need a combination to find your shadow in a place like this," John Henry observed. "I feel lost already."

"That one canyon that cuts into Walking Skull—that must be the starting point. From then on it's up to your wife."

"How about it, Sin? What's the first move?"

Sin wrinkled her tan forehead and concentrated, summoning the long list of R's and L's up before her eyes. On the ride from the Bar C Ranch, they had all agreed that these must stand for right and left and the number indicated the canyon to be followed.

"R dash one," she announced triumphantly.

Trim nudged his horse forward and the Conovers followed. At the mouth of the canyon that led from Walking Skull into the Badlands, the pirate hat was outlined briefly and ludicrously against the sky for a moment.

The dark jagged walls rose higher and higher on both sides. They rode down an incline until the sky was a crooked slit of comparatively pale blue overhead, then the canyon floor leveled somewhat.

"Here we are," Trim announced. "I'm turning right."

Sin's eyes were becoming more accustomed to the reduced light. She could see the bay rump of the lead horse as the little man reined it into the first side canyon. Vegetation was sparse and scrawny in the gulley they traveled. The floor was sand and smooth stones of all sizes. At the sides leaned great sheets of shale that had evidently crashed down from above.

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

A sense of humor is one of the great treasures that have pulled our country out of many a pinch.

BRANDEIS

A sense of humor helps us to laugh at trouble—and once you laugh at trouble you are converting it simply into another task that has to be tackled and licked.

Sometimes when I look at my mail, I pity the people who have no sense of humor and who take all my stuff so seriously.

Other columnists apparently have the same experience, as Paul Gallico said in his farewell letter to his readers on the eve of sailing for a fiction-writing vacation in Europe.

Would you consider it possible, for instance, that several people took my Electroman column at its face value?

Would you believe that they believed I was actually working on a mechanical human being to take the place of what we now have under that name?

One woman called down everlasting punishment upon me for trying to do better than God. She not only called me names, but asked me to read several chapters and verses in the Bible which would prove that I was committing an unforgivable sin.

Another person—a college girl—stamped me a frightful monster because I had dared to make fun of some of the things called poetry. Just because I had dared to imply that a piece of junk is not necessarily poetry because dove rhymes with love or am with ham, she told me that I was killing literature and dragging everything that is beautiful into the dust.

Then when I wrote her a sweet personal note telling her to keep her romantic ideals but please not to be a romantic ass, she came back with the supreme insult.

"I picture you as a salty old cadger," she wrote, "but, of course, chivalry is dead. You of the older generation are too deep-rooted in your beliefs, and therefore, cannot grasp the worth-while things in life."

That to me—when only this morning a lovely little blonde carried on a shameless flirtation with me!

I admit that the beautiful little blonde was only three years old and that I had a piece of candy in my hand. But she flirted with me just the same, thus proving that I am not old.

HERE is another one.

A lady told me that she did not like my column at all but that she reads it every day.

"Life is pretty monotonous," she wrote, "what with two children and a husband to take care

DESPITE ALL CLAIMS

Heavy Spending Seen

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Congress is heading for approval of a record, peacetime, federal budget on the basis of the five, relatively minor appropriation measures already through the House and before the Senate Appropriations committee. Still awaiting action are provisions for more than twenty billion dollars for national defense, the veterans establishment and agricultural food subsidies.

The five bills whooped through the House carry $390,000,000 less than the President requested in his budget message, but they exceed 1949 totals by almost a billion dollars. Although the savings on the White House figure look good on paper, they do not stand up under close examination.

TUCKER

The House okayed almost $400,000,000 in contract authorizations, or $35,000,000 more than the budget provisions. Moreover, at least $100,000,000 of the cuts derive from the fact that two fairly sizable projects have been completed, and do not require any more funds.

APPROPRIATIONS: House Appropriations Chairman Clarence Cannon of Missouri also scraped the barrel in order to make a good showing on paper.

He forced downtown departments to use unexpended balances, which consist of surpluses held over from previous years' appropriations. Inasmuch as the work for which that money was set aside is still in progress, the legislative financiers may have to provide the same amount they have saved during the 1950 fiscal year.

SLASH: Mr. Cannon also ordered a flat, arbitrary slash of fifteen per cent in funds for irrigation, power and conservation work. He justified this cut with the statement that costs of building material should drop by that amount during 1950.

But if this forecast is not borne out, he told departmental budget officers that the necessary money would be forthcoming through deficiency appropriations.

Ironically, despite the paper economy of almost $400,000,000 below the White House estimates, almost 10,000 additional federal employees have been provided for to perform less work on federal projects.

SHOW: National Defense Secretary Louis A. Johnson intends to run his establishment as a one-man show, with the full sanction of President Truman.

The head man is bored and wearied from handling the service squabbles which landed on his desk during ex-Secretary James V. Forrestal's more tolerant regime.

Mr. Forrestal felt that he had to proceed slowly and cautiously toward unification of the Army, Navy and Air Force because the idea of an organic merger was so new and so repellent to important members of "the brass."

He might have endangered eventual acceptance of the reform, he explained to the White House, if he had knocked heads together too violently, and thereby sharpened existing enmities.

HANDICAPPED: Secretary Johnson does not suffer from such compunction. He went through the same sort of battle in 1939-1940, when the professional soldiers did not appreciate the importance of his drive for all-out, industrial mobilization.

Then he was handicapped by former Secretary Woodring, Congressional caution and Franklin D. Roosevelt's fear that preparing industry for war might prove politically dangerous in the 1940 campaign.

Now he has been given complete authority by Mr. Truman, and he means to use it to the utmost. He tipped his hand with his appointments of General Joseph T. McNarney as general reorganizer, and by his selection of Stephen Early, F.D.R.'s former press secretary, as office manager in the post of Under Secretary.

When clothed with sufficient authority, and backed by their higherups, McNarney and Early can be "two tough Joes."

CENTRALIZING: Secretary Johnson's plan to abolish sixty-two boards fits into his program for centralizing authority from himself down to every key officer in the three services.

It is understood that this idea was inspired by General McNarney, whose experience as Deputy Chief of Staff early in the war convinced him that most of these three and five-man bodies were inclined to dodge responsibility for action and to resolve themselves into debating societies.

A "board," in the Secretary's opinion, is the last refuge of men of indecision. When Army, Navy and Airmen sought to avoid or defer a solution of a problem, they referred the question to a "board," where it died a slow death after a lingering illness.

Hereafter the hard-boiled, West Virginia lawyer will assign these matters to a single officer, and hold him individually responsible.

COMEDOWN: Navy men, naturally, think that their branch of the national defense is due for a comedown under the Johnsonian realignment.

President Truman's background is Army, as is Secretary Johnson's. General McNarney started out as an airman. Mr. Early's experience was infantry, and his closest friends now and in the past have been drawn from that service.

But the Navy stood to suffer under the latest development of strategy and weapons, regardless of the prejudices or personalities of the top men in the defense setup. There will always be need for a fleet, but it will have a rather restricted role in future warfare.

Down Memory Lane

(Taken from the files of The Lubbock Morning Avalanche, April 21, 1928.)

A dozen or more Lubbock citizens, members of the Scottish Rite and Shrine Masonic organizations, have gone to El Paso, where they will attend the semi-annual Scottish Rite reunion, which starts Monday and ends late Thursday. Among these are C. E. Maedgen, H. T. Boyd, and D. N. Leaverton, who, with Dorrance D. Roderick, to be counted as one from Lubbock, will be given the Scottish Rite degree during the reunion of the El Paso consistory.

Some of the others to go include John Dalrymple, Joe Hilton, L. M. Evans, and H. G. Love.

NEW FRIENDLINESS TO REDS SEEN

German Growth Poses Problem

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—There's been a tendency, in reaction to the agreement among the United States, Great Britain and France for a new Western German government, to emphasize the protests of the Germans against this arrangement and to go on from there and point out that it is not too hard on the Germans, a defensive sort of psychology.

This is, indeed, a queer sort of attitude toward a nation about which most of us so few years ago had no reason to feel kindly. The path to Berlin, after all, was strewn with the bodies of American boys who thought they knew what they were fighting against.

STOKES

At least we told them they were fighting a system devised by a ring of powerful financiers and industrialists who picked the dyamic demagogue Adolf Hitler as their stooge, used him for their purposes, appropriated themselves the German military machine which they fitted out for war, and exploited the German people to spread their system all over Europe and, if possible, all over the world. They looted Europe for their own private empire.

Should Show Tolerance

We called the system Fascism. In Germany it went by the name of Naziism. We should not forget all that.

Our purpose, after we won the war, was to see that this system never rose again. To this end our aim was to inculcate the Democratic spirit among the people, to encourage Democratic movements and to establish Democratic procedures, so that the people could decide their own destiny and prevent their future enslavement in such a system.

Tolerance toward the Germans, insofar as it is devoted to these aims, is a fine thing, and this ideal has been kept in mind by some people—though far too few. Unfortunately, the tolerance in our policy as it has developed has been toward those interests and influences that brought on the war.

This is manifest, for example, in permitting them to have too great a voice in policy; in virtual abndonment of the program to break up the great industrial cartels, or monopolies, that supplied the munitions of war; in adopting a policy of turning the Ruhr, the arsenal of Naziism, back to its former owners and directors, and, most recently, in abandoning the Potsdam agreement for dismantling German industrial plants and retaining in Germany some 151 steel plants that were supposed to be distributed to the victorious allies. This was on recommendation of a special committee of big American industrialists, some of whom have interests in Germany.

All this was, ostensibly, to rebuild a "strong Germany" as a bulwark to Russia. At least that is the excuse under which the old system is being restored in Germany, just as it was, some may remember, after the first World War.

Warning Is Given

Some persons warned of the possibility that once a "strong Germany" existed there is no guarantee that the old gang would not make a deal with Russia, and throw Germany in with Russia. Such a deal is still fresh in memory in the Hitler-Stalin pact of 1939.

Now news dispatches from Germany over the weekend report that very project is being discussed among some Germans in powerful places who have been talking with the Russians about such a treaty as the famous "Rapallo treaty" of 1922 after the first World War, which came as a surprise to the rest of the world.

The leading spirit in the negotiations with Russia is Rudolf Nadolny, 75-year-old former ambassador to Russia, who has been cleverly playing both sides against each other in a now-familiar game. Associated with him are businessmen and financiers, including Herman Abs, a former official of the Deutsche Bank who was accused in a special report of General Lucius D. Clay, American military governor, as having been an influential figure in that bank when it operated as an "economic arm of the Wehrmacht in exploiting the resources of occupied Europe." Herr Abs has wormed his way back into power along with other associates in the Nazi onslaught on Europe and the world. Paradoxically enough, it is the Rightist element embodied in the Christian Democrat party which is participating in this "snuggle-up" toward Russia policy. Industrialists collaborating with this party are reported disturbed, among other things, about the growing strength of labor unions in the Ruhr, which is one favorable result of the democratization policy.

GOLD IS MISSING

VANCOUVER, B. C. April 19 (INS) — Partially processed gold valued at $14.000 vanished today while it was in transit from the Bralorne gold mine. Officials at the mine, in the Caribou district 80 miles from Vancouver, told provincial police that the gold disappeared this afternoon while it was being taken from one section of the workings to another.

Tech Foreign Language Clubs To Sponsor 'International' Dance

Jointly sponsoring an "International" dance Friday night at Larrymore studios, are five Texas Tech foreign language clubs.

The clubs Le Cercle Francais, Liederkranze, Capa y Espada, Cosmopolitan and Sigma Delta Pi, have announced that the affair will be open to the public, and a door charge of 75 cents will be made.

The Rainbow Playboys Mariachi band will provide music for dancing and for the floorshow featuring Guido Rodriguez, Jack Wilson and Darrel Kilpatrick dancing "La Bomba," Deana Young, songstress, and Sally Witte, dancer.

Decorations committee includes Su Walker, Leslie Stone and Socorro Rangel. Refreshment committee includes Ruth Cowart and Stanley Dendy. James Block is chairman of the group.

Chaperones will be Dean and Mrs. James Allen, and Mr. and Mrs. Theodor Alexander.

In 1491, the Scottish Parliament provided penalties of a fine and imprisonment for anyone playing golf or allowing his land to be used for golf; parliament felt golfers were taking too much time from their required archery.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 20 (AP) — Cotton futures were firm today in active dealings, with buying stimulated by the signing of the ECA bill. The bill provides large credits for cotton exports over the next 15 months.

Some shippers anticipated new ECA credits will be announced shortly, covering possibly upward to 400,000 bales of cotton exports to the end of the current season, July 31. In the next crop season ECA is expected to finance upward of 3,500,000 bales of cotton exports.

Prices declined in the final hour on profit taking and liquidation in May contracts.

Futures closed 30 cents a bale lower to 5 cents a bale higher than the previous close.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, April 20 (AP) — A very pessimistic report on wheat in the eastern third of Nebraska, plus less encouraging news from Kansas, spurred buying in new crop wheat futures on the board of trade today. Prices advanced more than 2 cents at one time, but were later reduced.

May wheat also showed strength, but profit-taking toward the close wiped out its gains. At one time May wheat, selling at $2.26⅛, was at a new high since last January 13.

Wheat closed 1⅛ lower to ¾ higher, May $2.23⅝-¾, corn was ¾ lower to ⅝ higher, May $1.34⅝-⅞ lower, May 69⅝-⅞, rye was ¾ lower to ¼ higher, May $1.29, soybeans were unchanged to ⅛ lower, May $2.24¾-$2.25, and lard was unchanged to 10 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $11.50.

Wall Street

MARKET AGAIN SLUMPS

NEW YORK, April 20. ¾—American Telephone and Telegraph common stock, and a couple of other issues, provided the action in today's stock market.

The run-of-the market didn't do much of anything.

AT&T droppe dto a net loss of 1⅛ points at 144 following stockholder approval of the biggest financial deal in the history of private industry. The final price was only a point from the 1949 low of 143 which in turn was a low since 1943.

Several substantial blocks of the big communications company's stock changed hands, including one of 4,500 shares.

Stockholders approved a plan for raising $395,000,000 by sale to stockholders of debentures which could be converted into capital stock. Issuance of additional capital stock would dilute the equity of present stockholders.

An increase in volume to 970,000 shares, largest since March 31, was due in large part to heavy trading in low-priced Commonwealth and Southern, either at the unchanged price of 3¾, also the close, or down ⅛ point. A total of 102,000 shares were traded, including one block of 23,000 shares.

Total sales yesterday amounted to 830,000 shares.

Hudson Motors advanced ¾ to 13 following news that directors had boosted the quarterly dividend to 25 cents a share from 10 cents and voted an extra of 25 cents.

Richfield Oil gained 2½ at 33⅝. The issue, second most active on the exchange, reached a new high for the year during the day but later fell back a trifle.

Non-ferrous metal stocks made a good showing. Anaconda and Kennecott were each unchanged, Phelps Dodge gained ¼ at 40½ and American Smelting lost ⅛ at 46.

Liggett and Myers Tobacco advanced 1¼ to 75¼.

Closing a trifle lower were Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Chrysler, Firestone, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Southern California Edison, Westinghouse Electric, Dow Chemical, Du Pont, Texas Co., and Superior Oil of California.

General Electric, which dropped ⅝ yesterday, came back today for a gain of ⅛ at 37¼.

Others high included Goodrich, United Aircraft, North American Co., Consolidated Natural Gas, American Can, Southern Pacific, Pan American Airways, and Loew's.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped .2 of one point to 63.5, equal to the low point of the month established on April 1. The industrial component took the widest swing with a loss of .4 of one point at 88.6. Utilities were a trifle lower and rails up a bit.

Of the 967 issues which traded, 414 lost ground and 276 advanced.

Higher in the curb were Imperial Oil and moving lower was Southern California Edison $4.56 preference.

Sales of 170,000 shares compared with 200,000 yesterday.

Being the gentleman that I am, I wrote her a sweet little letter. In closing I expressed the hope that my column would grow on her as she got used to it.

And it is growing on her. Because today I got this reply:

"Yes, your column is growing on me. Just like a wart."

Union Of South Africa Discussed At Church Of Christ Meeting

Waymon D. Miller, evangelist to the Union of South Africa, addressed a meeting Wednesday evening in Pioneer Park Church of Christ.

Advocating an increase in foreign evangelistic work, he stated that the Union of South Africa is now the most fertile field in the world for missionaries.

The Millers and several other evangelists plan to sail for Johannesburg next July. Miller is a former minister of Walnut Street Church of Christ here.

Jester Asks Bill To Assure Power Of Automatic Tax Board

AUSTIN, April 20 (AP) — Gov. Beauford H. Jester today asked the legislature to pass a bill which would assure the Automatic Tax board of its authority to levy a full general ad valorem tax.

Jester said it was generally agreed the full tax would be needed for the next two years.

"All doubt as to his board's authority to levy this needed tax, in full, for each of the next two years, should be resolved by appropriate legislation," Jester said.

Poland hopes to build 12,000 tractor units a year by 1955.

Rabbit Show Here To Represent Wide Area

"Bugs" Bunny won't be there, or Peter Rabbit, or that long-legged Texas rouge known as Jack, but the elite of rabbitdom will have things hopping Friday at the Fairgrounds.

Rabbits from seven states have already been entered in the Rabbit show, jointly sponsored by West Texas-New Mexico Show circuit and the South Plains Rabbit and Cavy Breeders Assn., being held Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Seven States Represented

Over three hundred rabbits had been entered by Wednesday night, Guy Trow, president of the show said. Entries are coming from Kansas, New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and from all parts of Texas.

The show is expected to draw large crowds of visitors in addition to those interested in the technical aspects of rabbit growing.

"There's a lot more to it," said V. N. Burleson, show superintendent, "than laying in a supply of carrots."

R. E. Callender, wild life specialist of Texas Extension service, will give two talks on rabbits, and there will be many exhibits concerned with the raising of rabbits and cavies.

Cavies, commonly called "guinea pigs," will have a part in the show.

U. S. Protestant Churches Plan Evangelistic 'Crusade' In Fall

NEW YORK, April 20 (AP) — The biggest evangelistic campaign ever undertaken by the Protestant churches of America will begin next October.

Plans for the campaign, to be known as the Nationwide Christian crusade, were announced today. Sponsors are the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America and 15 non-member denominations with a total of 35,-000,000 members.

The plans envisage participation of more than 150,000 local churches and more than 50 colleges. The crusade will continue for 15 months through 1950.

A Federal Council spokesman, Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, pastor of the First Baptist church, Syracuse, N. Y., said this is one of the basic ideas behind the campaign.

"We will not have a better America until we have better Americans."

Stainless steel can be drawn into wire so fine that one pound will stretch out for 25 miles.

Court Battle Seen Over Beery Estate

HOLLYWOOD, April 20 (INS)—A court battle over the division of actor Wallace Beery's $2,000,-000 estate was indicated today by attorneys of Hollywood extra Gloria Schumm after Beery reiterated in his will that he was not the father of the child.

Mrs. Schumm appeared with her attorney, Maurice Rose, shortly after the Beery will was filed for probate and was granted letters of guardianship for Johann Schumm, the 13-months-old boy she declared is the son of the actor.

Rose said that he planned to file a claim for $100,000 against the estate for support of the child and Mrs. Schumm's hospital expenses. If the claim is denied, he said he would file civil action for that amount.

Beery denied last year following Mrs. Schumm's paternity suit that he was the boy's father and in his will filed for probate today not only reiterated the denial but stated "under no circumstances is the baby to inherit any part of my estate."

Attorneys for the actor said that he wrote a new will only last March 22 to care for all contingencies, including the paternity suit. In the petition for probate the value of Beery's estate was set at $500,000, although other sources estimated it at close to $2,000,000.

The estate was divided into three major shares going to Carol Ann Beery, the actor's 18-year-old adopted daughter; Will Beery, his elder brother, and Noah Beery, jr., actor-son of Beery's late brother. Besides the three shares, Beery left $10,000 to Matt Gilman, brother of his divorced wife, Mrs. Rita Berry Foyt.

Daily Crude Oil Output In U.S. Drops In Past Week

NEW YORK, April 20 (AP) — Daily average crude oil production dropped 4,450 barrels last week, the American Petroleum institute reported today.

The daily average for the week totalled 4,911,600 barrels. This compared with 5,390,650 a year ago. Refineries operated at 80.5 per cent of daily potential compared with 79.8 per cent of capacity a year ago.

The refineries ran 5,143,000 barrels of crude oil to the stills daily last week, against 5,521,000 a year ago.

Heavy fuel oil production last week was estimated at 8,282,000 barrels, compared with 7,954,000 the previous week and 8,755,000 a year ago. Light fuel oil production last week was 5,983,000 barrels against 6,410,000 the previous week and 7,091,000 a year ago.

Total estimated gasoline production in the United States was 16,919,000 barrels last week compared with 17,176,000 the previous week.

Will L. Clayton Sued For Divorce

HOUSTON, April 20 (AP)—William L. Clayton, former undersecretary of state, and a member of the cotton firm of Anderson, Clayton and company, world's premier cotton merchants, was sued today for divorce by Mrs. Susan Vaughan Clayton, whom he married more than 46 years ago in Clinton, Ky.

The petition was filed in the office of District Clerk J. W. Mills by Mrs. Clayton's attorney, Dillon Anderson of the law firm of Kaker, Botts, Andrews and Parish.

Cruel Treatment Charged

It charged Clayton with "neglectful, unkind and cruel treatment" over a period of the past two years.

Claytons conduct, the petition said, has rendered their living together insupportable. It charged that during the two-year period, Mrs. Clayton has suffered long periods of anxiety and mental anguish as well as severe embarrassment and chargin.

The court also was told that as a result, her health and well-being have been impaired.

The Claytons were married on August 14, 1902. They have four grown children. One child died in infancy.

Since the separation on April 4, the petition recited, they have, with the assistance of their attorneys, reached an amicable agreement on the partition of their community property.

The agreement will be submitted for approval of the court if the divorce is granted, it was stated.

The suit was filed in the court of District Judge Dan W. Jackson, who will hear the case.
