Major Hoople Campaigns In Shamrock by Mistake

EGAD! CITIZENS OF THE FAIR CITY OF PAMPA, IT IS WITH LOFTY PRAISE FOR YOUR NOBILITY, WISDOM, GAGACITY AND DISCRIMINATION—HAR-RUMPH!—THAT I ACCEPT YOUR INVITATION TO RUN FOR MAYOR! (DRAT THAT BAND!) ELECT ME AND I'LL BY THE WAY, ISN'T IT ALMOST TIME FOR REFRESHMENTS?

BLAT BLAT—IT'S ALWAYS FAIR WEATHER WHEN GOOD FELLOWS SQUEAK

A REFRESHING CANDIDATE

Found at his modest cave in Moo, Alley Oop was invited to run for city commissioner in Pampa. He was overjoyed, posed for this picture and said, "I'll make the dagdumest race ye ever seen!"

Extension of Ceilings For Farm Wages Appears Likely

WASHINGTON, March 22.—(AP)—War Food Administrator Marvin Jones told the senate banking committee today that a policy of setting ceilings on farm wages in some areas may have to be extended this year "in the interest of production."

Pampa Fails To Achieve Quota

Pampa's Red Cross War Fund still lacked $1,232.50 of its $29,000 quota at noon today.

Fund officials had hoped the goal would be reached by today. Edgar W. Henshaw, publicity director for the drive, said this afternoon indications are that it will take the rest of the week to "clean it up."

"The last few dollars are coming in terribly slow," he said. "Too many people see the drive near the end and assume it is a push-over to get the rest. That's why it is so hard to get the last couple of thousand dollars."

The Rev. Mr. Henshaw said no money is being held back and that the fund actually is $1,232 short of its goal.

"If you haven't subscribed," he said, "do so at once and today—the Red Cross needs your money to put this drive over."

Contributions can be mailed to Red Cross headquarters in City Hall, they can be left at one of the downtown booths, or a solicitor will call at your home or place of business if you will call headquarters at telephone 900.

I SAW . . .

A preview of summer when H. Lee Harris, court house custodian, began overhauling ceiling fans in the grand jury room, on the third floor, and a dozen of the old fashioned pre-Pearl Harbor type on the first floor of the court house.

another year, Jones also said the government support prices for farm products "are an integral part of the war food production and have played their part in inducing" an out put in 1943 which was 32 per cent greater than the five-year pre-war average.

On farm wage ceilings, he said: "Farmers are likely to become increasingly interested in wage stabilization in 1944. Although farm wages were at a relatively low level when the war started, they have increased substantially."

"There have been some areas, especially during the largest season of certain perishable commodities, when the immediate pressing demands caused wages to reach prohibitive levels."

"We have put into effect several wage ceilings in such areas and there may be need for extending such measures this year, in the interest of production."

Before the hearing started, Senator Maybank (D-SC) asked the food administrator whether rationing was in prospect for any items not now listed. Jones mentioned milk as the only possibility in sight.

Another question which interested the senators was the chance for See FARM WAGES, Page 8

HOUSE

To amend the first deficiency bill (HR 4346) to increase the amount for community facilities to $127,500, 000, passed, 269 to 15. All Texas members voting were for it.

To recommit first deficiency bill, defeated, 156-128.

On resolution (HR 160) to investigate conditions of Indians, passed, 200 to 100. Against: Worley.

On adoption of conference report on soldiers vote bill, adopted, 275 to 144.

For: Worley.

Major Hoople said today he had no intention of withdrawing from the race for mayor of Pampa just because another candidate had entered the field.

"Egad," said the major, "I was in the race first. The people of Pampa drafted me when it looked like there would be no candidate at all, and now I choose to run."

So, that is what Parris Oden, Tom Cox, and Ewing Williams had to face as Hoople campaign headquarters went ahead with their plans to elect Hoople for mayor and Alley Oop and Lt. Abner as city commissioners.

Since Major Hoople did not tell who had drafted him, Oop and Abner for the Hoy party ticket, The Pampa News became curious and after a long and thorough investigation has learned that the silver-tongued brain-truster, Major Hoople, simply drafted himself and his two pals at no urging from anyone.

The major was out of town yesterday. He went to Shamrock to give Otis Coffey, Pampa's high school athletic director, pointers on the way his track team should train.

"In my youth," the major said, "I was four times Olympic decathlon champion, and so took on the 100-yard dash, the scientists named a new meteor after me, the Hoople-lamius."

"Jove, there's nothing like running for exercise—and that has connection with my campaign for mayor. I recall one world's record I made in the 100, along with countless other perishable commodities, dashed away and covered 90 yards in six seconds, but so rapidly did my feet pound the path that electric vibrations of such intensity were set up that the timers' watches stopped dead."

The major spoke for an hour on a downtown Shamrock street, on his campaign for mayor, before someone hauled him down and informed him his speech was for Pampa voters, not Shamrock's.

"I knew there was something wrong when I got no applause. Egad, it was good practice, anyhow."

O'Daniel Denies He Backs GOP

DALLAS, March 22.—(AP)—Senator W. Lee O'Daniel (D-Texas) says he's going to make a radio address tomorrow at Muskogee, Okla., but that it won't be in behalf of the Republican nominee for congress from that district.

"I'm not campaigning for any individual, Republican or Democrat. I don't even know who's running for congress up there. My talk will be about demoralized conditions on the home front caused by funking in Washington and advocating limiting the tenure of elected federal officials to six years. I'll urge selecting a better type of men for congress."

O'Daniel said in an interview with the Dallas News.

He made his statement in connection with reports that he had accepted an invitation to speak in behalf of E. O. Clark, Republican nominee for the second congressional district.

Patch Replaces General Patton

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, March 22.—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Alexander M. Patch, veteran of Guadalcanal and New Caledonia, has been given command of the U. S. Seventh Army, replacing Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., who led it to victory in Sicily and later was re-buffed by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower over the slapping of a soldier in a field hospital near Palermo.

(Patton, known in the field as "Old Blood and Guts" and "the general who never lost a battle, has been given command of "another army," the war department said in Washington, but the unit and the general's whereabouts were not disclosed. It was considered possible that his new duties might be connected with the invasion of western Europe.)

Japs Penetrate into India

Islands 580 Miles of Truk Are Captured

(By The Associated Press)

Japan's forces have taken another setback in the Southwest Pacific, where Allied invasion of the St. Matthias Islands seals the trap on more than 50,000 enemy, but have scored a limited success in the Burma fighting by driving across the Indian border.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur communicated today that the speedy occupation of Emirau and Elomusao islands 84 miles northwest of Kavieng, New Ireland, closes the noose around more than 50,000 Japanese soldiers still fighting in the Bismarck archipelago.

"This places us within bombing range of Truk," he said. Emirau island, flat and a potential air base, lies 580 miles south of the mighty Japanese naval, supply and air fortress in the Carolines.

Allied forces already hold one airfield in Eniwetok atoll in the Marshall Islands from which Truk bombers can be based. Eniwetok is 750 miles from Truk.

The Japanese drive into India, an Allied communique said, consisted merely of small raiding parties but it admitted the enemy has cooked up a major offensive in northern Burma starting from the Chindwin river. On other Burma fronts, Allied troops scored defensive successes.

In the St. Matthias group, both invaded islands are reportedly undeveloped. Emirau has two harbors. Air observers reported no enemy installations could be seen and the landings were completed without casualties.

Kavieng, major enemy stronghold in New Ireland, was virtually blown into oblivion while the St. Matthias invasion was on. Mighty U. S. battleships moved offshore for three and one-half hours and pumped 1,000 tons of shells into the one-mighty base.

When it was over, there wasn't much left. "Whole sections of the town were completely destroyed," MacArthur communicated. A day and night bombing set up the day's incendiary bombardment.

Other targets for Allied planes included Rabaul, New Britain, and enemy shipping along the New Guinea coast. After nine straight days of heavy attacks, Allied air forces passed over New Guinea, to hit Altipa airdrome 90 miles northwest with 152 tons of bombs and wreck parked planes.

Premier Tojo didn't come up with anything starting when he told the Japanese diet, according to the Berlin radio, that Japan's war situation has become grave in the past few months and the battles ahead will decide the empire's fate.

Contest Looms In School Race

What looked like a routine business, the election of two candidates for the two places on the board of education in the Pampa schools election of April 1, turned into a contest today with announcement of the filing of a third candidate for board member.

Filed at noon Tuesday with the business manager of the Pampa Independent School district was the name of Oscar B. (Judge) Grant, of the Texas company land department. Grant resides on the Harrah lease, 4 miles west of Pampa. He has lived in the Pampa area since 1926.

There are only two vacancies to be filled in the school board election.

Other candidates are M. Viri Ward, 916 N. Gray, cabinet shop and planning mill proprietor; Wellington D. (Bill) Kelley, 1228 Charles, oil well drilling contractor.

Mexico First In Latin Aviation

MEXICO CITY, March 22.—(AP)—Mexico, with 32,000 miles of air routes, has become the first Latin American nation in civil aviation. Gen. Maximino Avila Camacho, secretary of communications, reported today. Civil aviation activity in the nation has increased 300 per cent in two years, he told a press conference.

Mexico City now occupies first place among Latin American cities in the number of commercial plane landings, the secretary said. In the United States, only New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Boston and Washington surpass this capital, he added.

Hull's Statement Fails to Give Answer to Immediate Problems

WASHINGTON, March 22.—(AP)—A 17-point foreign policy statement by Secretary of State Hull today gave the United States a bid for postwar political leadership, and at the same time brought into sharper relief a half dozen questions of immediate diplomatic concern.

Hull's statement was viewed here as setting goals for long range international cooperation and security on a basis of sovereign equality of all countries, large or small, beyond the limits to which other world leaders have committed themselves.

The immediate questions for which his program furnishes a background are outside the scope of his statement, which is based on Hull's speeches over the past two years. But they may be decided in the light of the principles he laid down. They are:

1. What kind of relationship, military or diplomatic, is this government ready to extend to the French national committee or possibly other patriotic groups, in preparation for the liberation of France by Allied invasion armies?

2. Should the United States now break relations with Finland over Helsinki's rejection of Russia's peace terms, which official Washington considered lenient in view of Finland's inevitable defeat?

3. If Russia, whose armies are penetrating steadily deeper into Poland, decides finally against dealing with the Polish government in London, will the United States (and Britain as well) recognize a new Polish government?

4. What measures is the United States prepared to support for beginning the political reconstruction of Italy after Allied armies reach Rome, at which point the Badoglio government is supposed to relinquish control?

5. How long can the United States maintain its present policy of withholding recognition from Argentina?

Strong Soviet Drive Against Finns Expected

MOSCOW, March 22.—(AP)—Further peace conversations between Moscow and Helsinki appeared unlikely today in the wake of an official Soviet announcement warning Finland that she must bear responsibility for whatever may happen as a result of her failure to accept Russian armistice proposals.

The Finnish government's decision to reject a Soviet six-point plan was announced to the Russian people last night by the Moscow radio, which said "a negative reply" had been received from Helsinki on March 17.

There was no indication what the consequences would be, but they could take the form of an all-out Russian offensive against Finland coupled with air and sea action now that the Baltic fleet at Leningrad is freed from blockade.

(Dispatches from Stockholm reported Swedish press correspondents in Berlin as saying the Germans predicted the Russian advance would be followed by a new Red army offensive in Estonia designed to clean up the Baltic states, which—if successful—would place Finland in a hopeless military situation. These advances said the Russians were at once to have concentrated 100 divisions on the Narva front in preparation for such a drive.)

Amarillo Man Is Given Seven Years

DALLAS, March 22.—(AP)—A jury in criminal district court has convicted Ralph H. Campbell, 39, of Amarillo, a former Dallas resident, of burglary and sentenced him to seven years in the penitentiary. Twelve years is the maximum sentence in such a case.

Campbell, who previously had pleaded guilty to a burglary charge in Amarillo, where he was assessed 10 years, pleaded innocent to a charge of burglarizing the home of L. H. Miller in Dallas last May 15. Two other cases of burglary are pending against him in Dallas county.

New Zealanders Moving Slowly Across Cassino

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, March 22.—(AP)—New Zealand troops of the Fifth Army slugging it out with the enemy in savage hand-to-hand fighting, are making slow but steady progress in the southern section of Cassino. Allied headquarters announced today.

Fighting equally as bloody raged in the hills to the west from which an estimated 30 pieces of German artillery and many mortars continued to rain shells into the ruined town.

"Our efforts to clear the town of Cassino and occupy the eastern slopes of dominating Monte Cassino were pushed energetically against bitter enemy opposition and terrain difficulties Monday and Tuesday," a headquarters commentator said.

The hand-to-hand fighting in Cassino's southern portion was officially described as "very heavy."

German defense forces in Cassino were reinforced Monday by young Nazi parachute troops and units of an armored grenadier division. Official reports of fighting in the town's southern section indicated that they may have regained some ground there after recapturing the continental hotel wreckage.

On the Monte Cassino slopes, British troops made a determined attack on two German points last night and were making good progress until they ran into a minefield. The Germans meanwhile started infiltrating down a gulch toward the British-held hill, forcing the attackers to return to their base.

Allied troops retained two points southwest of Cassino under heavy enemy attacks. New Zealanders in the town have been attacking toward these points against strong infiltrating enemy opposition.

The Anzio beachhead sector was mostly quiet except for heavy German artillery fire near Padiglione. On the Adriatic side of the battle line, patrol clashes occurred, especially in the Orsogna region. Allied artillery scored direct hits on German-held houses near Tollo and mortars fired into moving German troops near Ariccia.

Flying for the second straight day in weather which grounded the four-engine bombers, Allied medium bombers yesterday again lashed at rail and port facilities north of Rome, knocking out two bridges and two viaducts, as well as harassing shipping along the Dalmatian coast.

Few Allied planes were lost during the day of approximately 800 sorties.

Vinson Studies Crude Subsidy

WASHINGTON, March 22.—(AP)—Fred M. Vinson, director of economic stabilization, has before him the office of price administration plan for a $50,000,000 yearly subsidy to boost crude oil production.

The plan was submitted to Vinson last night. A spokesman for OPA said it might take Vinson several days to complete study of the proposal, which provides for prepayment of 35 to 20 cents a barrel to operators of low-yield stripper and secondary recovery wells.

It was understood that payment of the subsidy was recommended at a rate of 35 cents a barrel above present ceilings for wells with a yield of less than five barrels a day, 25 cents for five to seven barrels and 20 cents for seven to nine barrels.

OPA estimates that about 200,000 of the nation's 404,000 wells would be eligible for benefits under the plan, aimed at maintaining low oil output wells in operation. They account for only 10 to 15 per cent of the nation's daily total production of more than 4,000,000 barrels of crude oil.

Baptists to Hold Meet in Atlanta

ATLANTA, March 22.—(AP)—Augusta has been forced to withdraw its invitation because of lack of facilities due to war conditions and the centennial session of the Southern Baptist convention will be held in Atlanta in 1945.

The Southern Baptist convention includes 5,000,000 white Baptists in 18 Southern states.

More Than 1250 Planes Take Part

LONDON, March 22.—(AP)—More than 1,000 American planes showered new destruction on Berlin today, returning to the German capital for the first time since March 9. They dropped probably 1,500 tons of bombs.

"Strong forces" of Liberators and Fortresses attacked industrial and military targets in Berlin. U. S. air headquarters announced, indicating that 500 to 750 heavy bombers made the 1,150-mile round trip. Many hundreds of Thunderbolt, Lightning and Mustang fighter planes accompanied them.

It was estimated that 750 to 1,000 fighter planes took part, making the total force between 1,250 and 1,750 planes.

This was the fifth U. S. heavy bomber attack against Berlin. The Mosquito bombers struck in western Germany last night.

The RAF's overnight operations, which included laying of mines in enemy waters, were carried out without the loss of a single plane, the air ministry said.

American Mustang pilots who strafed enemy airfields in a sweep yesterday over 450 miles of southwestern France almost bagged an average of one plane apiece.

A communique last night announced destruction of 20 German planes—11 in the air and nine on the ground—by the formation of swift Mustangs, estimated at about 25. Seven Mustangs were lost.

The Mustangs heretofore used chiefly as long-range bomber escorts, swept over the region from Paris to the Spanish border while American Liberators were taking another whack at the Pas de Calais invasion coast. The heavy bombers returned without loss.

About 100 German warplanes subjected London to a sharp attack last night, causing casualties and damage in a number of sections in the heaviest assault upon the city since the fire raid of March 17.

Bombs also were dropped at scattered points in East Anglia and southeast England by the raiders, a number of which were shot down, a communique said.

The planes which attacked London struck in three waves from the northeast and some were greeted by a thunderous barrage as they fled.

Nazis Say They Will Quit Rome

LONDON, March 22.—(AP)—The German-controlled Rome radio today announced that the Germans would withdraw all military installations from Rome and would divert all military traffic from the city, in an effort to place responsibility for bombings entirely on the Allies.

The broadcast apparently sought to declare Rome an open city. Such a unilateral declaration, of course, has no effect in international law, since it would have to be accepted by the Allies to make it binding. The Badoglio government of Italy sought to declare Rome an open city before Badoglio capitulated last September.

The broadcast said: "So that responsibility for the bombing of Rome will remain entirely with the Allies, the German command in the next few days will scrupulously withdraw from Rome every installation which could serve as the slightest pretext for air terror, and will divert further military transports from the Eternal City."

Wheat Insurance Bill Is Opposed

WASHINGTON, March 22.—(AP)—The new intracongress crop insurance bill providing for revival of government insurance on wheat and cotton next year and on tobacco, corn and rice beginning in 1948, apparently was slated for bi-partisan opposition in the house today.

Opposition to the bill, which was introduced by Chairman Fulmer (D-SC), was expressed by Representatives Ritzley (R-Okla.), Dirksen (R-Ill.), Tarver (D-Ga.), and Kieberg (D-Tex.).

Canteen Girl

Most PX's or canteens have girls working in them who see that soldiers are comfortable. These are "CANTEEN GIRLS," and some of them would make Earl Carroll sit up and take notice. When a particularly sumptuous one appears in a canteen the whole post knows about it in no time at all, thanks to the Army grapevine. What- ever she's selling suddenly becomes the most popular item in place. If it's orange pop, one or two G.I.'s are sure to drink enough to sink a corvette, just to be able to sit and watch her. If a G.I. works up enough nerve to ask for a date, and gets it, he is coked upon in the same way that a high school boy is regarded when he acquires a new car.

Dr. Poling, a major in the army chaplain corps and father of the Rev. Clark Poling, lost in a North Atlantic torpedoing, returned recently from a 70,000-mile tour of duty that took him to four active war fronts. He said he has "no fear of ultimate results over there; the nation's faith in her sons is justified."

"Whether they are right or wrong, men in the armed services are just about unanimous on two propositions, namely the principle of universal service and in support of a practical method for taking the soldier voting rights, or endanger their voting rights. Only forth-right action now meets this situation."

"Here the failure of the home front is a shame upon us all. Every Negro American citizen believes that the present bill was supported by many senators and representatives because it would keep Negro soldier boys from voting. Generally the man in uniform believes that this act is a disarming rather than enabling act."

"The universal service principle that now applies to men in uniform, men in uniform believe, should apply to every other American. The recognition of this principle on the home front and implementing it with law action is perhaps more important to morale on all fighting fronts than any other one thing. The possible effect upon strikes and lockouts is secondary and incidental."

FORT WORTH GRAIN

Oats, corn and barley at northern shipping point selling price plus freight.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, March 21—(AP)—The brisk trade which characterized the wheat and rye markets shortly after the opening was renewed just before the close today and prices showed substantial gains in reflection of tight cash markets and a bullish interpretation of the government's crop report on intentions to plant.

The rye market, however, was unsettled at times and commission houses sold the grain on bulges with the result that prices backed down at times. Firmness in wheat also was attributed to short covering and possible closing of spreads between this and other markets.

Closing at or near the day's high points, wheat finished 1 cent higher, May $1.69 1/2, oats up 1/2 to 3/4, May $1.16 1/2, rye 1/2 to 3/4 higher, May $1.30 1/2, and barley was up 1/2 to 1 cent, May $1.27.

Major Austin's Resignation
"I'll never be a smug Vermont again," Maj. Edward L. Austin wrote to his father, the senior senator from Vermont.

Major Austin made this resolution after seeing the tank-destroyer battalion which he commands in action on the American beachhead in Italy. The Associated Press has been told that the tank-destroyer battalion, which he commands in action on the American beachhead in Italy, is a "smug Vermont" in its attitude.

It seems likely that there are thousands of American soldiers who, consciously or otherwise, have taken a "smug Vermont" attitude. The army affords a wonderful opportunity to get over such insular attitudes. Dodging the same bullet, sharing the same ditch, facing the same foe, the soldiers learn to live and face the same dangers, they begin to judge each other according to character, rather than to race, religion, or social status.

There are many, of course, whose ingrained prejudices will not be touched by any of these factors. But if only a small minority of service men bring out of military life less prejudice than they took into it, there can still be cause for rejoicing.

We are going to need tolerance and understanding during our peacetime readjustment. The common purpose of war has not stilled our economic and religious and racial strife.

The returning veterans are going to be a great force in our civilian life. Their solidarity can work great good or great harm, depending upon how it is organized and directed. It does not seem too much to hope that there may be enough men like Major Austin who have lost that "smug Vermont" attitude to influence the organized and directed country to work less toward selfish and sectional aims, and more toward the common good.

The Army Rides Again
An army press release has introduced an old-fashioned note into the frightful, mechanized efficiency of modern war. It reveals that in the midst of bazookas, rocket guns, precision bombers, radar and robot tanks, horse cavalry is still operating in Italy.

Horse troops have carried out night reconnaissance, found outposts, removed human and natural obstacles for tanks and trucks, and once wiped out an enemy position.

HOW TO GET DIZZY ON SOUP
(The New York Sun)

On the opening day of the new session of Congress Representative Patman of Texas enlivened proceedings by relating some of the adventures of Uncle Sam with soup plates—plain white, thick, soup plates. Though not a thing of beauty, the white soup plate is a standard article, identified as No. 63-C-3255 in Federal procurement circles. Last spring the Army discovered a surplus of 50,000 of these plates in a Jersey City warehouse. Following routine procedure, the Army inquired whether the plates were needed by any other government department and received a negative answer. It therefore sold the surplus stock at 12 1/2 cents apiece. On May 17, 1943, just after this transaction, the Army ordered 30,000 of the same soup plates from the manufacturer at 17 1/2 cents apiece. Late in the summer War Department officials learned that the Army had a surplus of 187,000 soup plates. After the routine inquiries these surplus soup plates were sold at 8 and 9 cents apiece. In December the Navy Department placed an order for 110,000 soup plates at 18 cents apiece. That is as far as Representative Patman follows the merry-go-round.

FREE FOOD

(Los Angeles Examiner)
By Benjamin Casseres

Joe Stalin's head, like Hitler's of 1940, and Tojo's of 1941, has now swollen to such cosmic proportions that I doubt whether it will ever resume its normal size, if there is anything at all normal about a Communist dictator.

Drew Pearson in his column had an item some time ago the importance of which escaped general attention.

The Moscow crowd, getting a smell of free food and more maza-maza from America out of Herbert Lehman's UNRRA appointment, one Mike Menshikov to be a "Russian deputy" to Mr. Lehman. Mr. Lehman knew nothing about this appointment by Moscow to his staff. He had never been consulted. Stalin had appointed Mike M. with orders to be "in on the divvy."

Mr. Lehman, wondering, accepted Mike. What else could he

An Encouraging Sign

Not being able to read French and wanting to read Frederic Bastiat's "Protectionism and Communism" three years ago I employed Arthur Brooks Baker to translate and type this great treatise.

I recently lent this typed translation to Leonard E. Read, general manager of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Read thought so much of the translation that he had it mimeographed and put into book form.

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is devoting a great deal of effort in the attempt to get its own members to have a better understanding of free enterprise. Leonard Read expressed this idea in the forward to the recent book, "Do We Want Free Enterprise?" sponsored by the chamber, by saying, "We have come to the conclusion that the best contribution we can make to the thinking in our country is to improve our own thinking."

Would that every voter in the land could better understand free enterprise and realize that protection for one group leads to protection for other groups until we have, as we today are having more and more, a government of men under which prices are set arbitrarily by bureaucrats rather than by the government of impersonal laws under which all men help establish values.

Remember the story of God's promising Abraham that Sodom would be spared if there were fifty righteous people in the city. He promised that if there were even ten righteous people in the city it would be spared. The practical interpretation of the allegory is that if there are a few men of principles standing for justice and equality before the law, the rest of the people will rally to them, and they can save the country from the misery and poverty that is bound to follow an expediency government in which men do not respect the inherent rights of every other human soul.

It is a good sign when a business organization, like the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, employs a manager who sees the need of a limited government and gives him permission to make available for its members the words of liberty and freedom as Frederic Bastiat.

Practical Politicians

The trouble we have been in during the last thirty years and especially during the last decade is largely due to politicians who like to boast of being practical. What "practical" means to a politician is keeping himself on the payroll. A practical politician is more interested in his job than he is in principles. He will promise most anything and advocate most any bill in order to get elected.

A practical politician could write no impersonal rule of honesty, no impersonal rule of human relations. He makes one concession after another in order to appease the people without foresight. He will stifle initiative and rob creators of wealth to appease the second-handers. As a result the government becomes an exploiter and tyrant over men rather than a protector of property and the initiative of men. Our ten years of unemployment were a result of practical politicians. But practical politicians would not get very far if people at home really believed in honest principles and would not become a party to compromise. We are paying very dearly for electing politicians who boast of their "practical ideas."

do with Russia having Uncle Sam by the nose? The appointment of a Russian to the UNRRA without the courtesy of "is it O.K., Mr. Lehman?" is an indication of what the future holds in store for us in regard to Red Russia if Uncle Sam doesn't slap down on the hand from the Kremlin that's got him by the goatie.

I can even see a postwar Russia sending us a Mike Menshikov to sit in at Cabinet meetings.

THE ROOSEVELT-BARKLEY BREAK

(Orlando, Fla., Reporter-Star)

We are glad to see Sen. Barkley take the stand he did, for it shows that the Congress has not absolutely bowed to dictator rule, which seemed apparent in the past.

Mr. Roosevelt should realize it is time for him to come down to earth and stop asking the American people to continue pouring their hard earned dollars into a political barrel with the bung pulled out, and also of attempting to finance the whole world, both in peace and war, as his program calls for.

Looking back over the years, Mr. Roosevelt should realize it is easier to pull the American people down to the level of the Europeans than it is to raise the Europeans up to ours. Let's give our friends across the seas an opportunity to rise to our level. If they achieve it, they will then be a firm foundation. It is dangerous to pauperize any group of people into a false sense of security, and that is what would happen if the President's wishes were carried out. It is well that we lend a helping hand to our foreign neighbors, but it should be done with reason, something the President seems to lack when it comes to spending other people's money.

Around Hollywood

BY ERSKINE JOHNSON

Medical science, W. C. Fields reported sadly, is a fluff. The men in white saved his life a few years back, but now they can't do a thing with his nose.

"Look at it," Fields said. "Redder than it's been in 40 years." We couldn't keep our eyes off it. It was like a freshly butchered coffee shortage, too. It glowed like a forgotten traffic signal in a black-out.

"That's what I just brought back from the hospital," he groaned. "One of the best hospitals west of the Mississippi. Sure, they said, we'll fix it. Toned it down to a nice magenta or maybe a pale vermilion."

So they put him under some kind of ray, Bill said, and left him there all alone. Without a nurse or even a little glass of sherry. Then they came back after about an hour and said everything would be all right and sent him home.

"Look at it," Bill groaned. "Redder than ever. Like a black market in magenta. Ugh! Liver du Fields. And you should see the bill."

FIELDS THE GOURMET

It was our annual visit to W. C.'s big home up in the Hollywood hills. The Fields mansion was on a wartime basis. He was letting the cook worry about the food ration books. He had been reading up on food recipes featuring rum and sherry and liqueurs. Stuff he had around the house to save wear and tear on his car and ration books.

He had discovered a wonderful way to make rum omelettes. Also terrapin with sherry, truffles in champagne, Blanc Mange with liqueurs and plum pudding with brandy sauce. He had solved the problem of the big candle.

"Follow me," he whispered. We followed and hereby attest that there are no skeletons in W. C. Fields' closet. There just wasn't room. Every closet he showed us in that house was stacked to the ceiling with cases of beer, champagne and wine.

Just in case of a shortage," Bill said.

The war had come to W. C. in other ways, too. There was a huge candle about the thickness of a telephone pole and five feet high on a table beside his desk in the den. It was the biggest candle he had ever seen. "Cost me $40," he said. "I bought it for the black-out." In his bedroom down the hall there was a little candle on the nightstand.

"That little candle," Bill observed with the air of a great inventor, "gets me through the dark."

"SUPPLIES" EVERYWHERE
There were other precautionary measures in case of a blackout. These took the form of small electric refrigerators stocked with liquid refreshments, and almost every room on the 18-room house.

"Those," he said, "are so I won't have to walk far in the dark." Yes, Bill had been busy in front of the cameras, too. He had just completed roles in four pictures, he said.

There was producer Charles R. Rogers' "Song of the Open Road," in which he traded quips with Charley McCarthy, "Bedlam of 1944," and the all-star musical, "Follow the Boys."

"Follow the Nose," he thought, would be a much more appropriate title for the latter picture. They didn't have to use lights on the sets where he worked. The glow of the Fields proboscis was enough.

AAA, THE NO. 1 WHIPPING BOY

By PETER EDSON
The Pampa News Washington Correspondent

Public Whipping Boy Number 1 on the charge against government agencies organized to perpetuate the present administration has since 1934 been the triple-A, or Agricultural Adjustment Agency.

Triple-A, now heading into the third national election of its young life, is in a curious position. Its finances and the program for which it was originally created have both been cut approximately in half. But at a local administrative cost of $30,000,000 this fiscal year, $51,000,000 last.

Its soul and its 9000 state and county, 87,000 community committees now marching on at an average of $4.50 per day plus 3 cents a mile transportation in some western areas for every day they work for the government. Pay varies from $3 to $6 a day.

News Behind The News

WATCHDOGS—Five western states recently achieved at least a temporary triumph in their fight to prevent destruction of the industrial empire which has been erected within their domain under the war's pressures. The clash marked the opening of a sectional battle which will have serious political and economic implications for many years.

The immediate dispute centered around a proposed construction of a new plant for the Geneva Steel Company in Utah, a subsidiary of the Republic Steel Corporation. But the struggle has far greater ramifications for the mountain and coastal regions are now dotted with steel, magnesium, aluminum and shipyard facilities built before and after Pearl Harbor.

Certain interests with tremendous influence in the Washington war agencies believe that these projects should be liquidated at once and the conflict, and that even unfinished factories should not be completed. According to the westerners proponents of this wipe-out scheme would be the loss of thousands of jobs now serving as dollar-a-year men in various branches of the Government.

In view of pledges given by F. D. R. when he sponsored the Bonneville and Grand Coulee power projects, promising that they would transform waste areas into Pittsburghs, Detroit and Chicagos, Congressmen from this section thought that they would protect their stake. But other duties have apparently prevented him from checking the far-flung activities of his subordinates.

So the Senate named a hard-boiled group to act as watchdogs, with Douglas MacCarran of Nevada as chairman. It bears the formidable title of "Special Committee to Investigate the Effects of the Centralization of Heavy Industry." The subcommittee now conducting investigations consists of Senators Guy M. Gillette of Iowa, Abe Murdock of Utah and Edward V. Robertson of Wyoming, the Republican member.

PROTESTED—The protesters were dawdling along quietly until the War Production Board issued an order halting work at Geneva. Although the seventy-million-dollar plant was virtually finished and awaiting installation of machinery, Donald M. Nelson's metallurgists intervened at the eleventh hour.

Industrial and official representatives of five states—California, Washington, Oregon, Utah, and Nevada, protested and petitioned against the arbitrary action, but achieved no results. Then they asked Chairman MacCarran to confer with them at Carson City. He held no formal hearings, simply listened to their story.

"We haven't investigated this case yet," he said, "but if things like this are going on, we will."

FINISHED—Mr. McCarran finished up some other business while on the home grounds, and had no opportunity to submit the matter to WPB. But almost before he returned to the Capital, Mr. Nelson's bright young man rescinded their ban. The Senator's mere threat was enough to force them to change their minds. Meanwhile, word reached Senator Murdock that the machinery, which represented a fifty-five-million-dollar investment, was to be shipped to Russia. A Soviet mission visited Geneva and made an inventory of the equipment there.

For a while the Utah man was given the rundown by officials of the Defense Plant Corporation, the WPB and Leo T. Crowley's Foreign Economic Administration. All professed ignorance of any plan to export the stuff to Moscow.

But Mr. Murdock persisted, and eventually Oscar Cox, WPB's general counsel, broke down. Though still denying that negotiations were afoot, he stopped them. The plant will be finished and fully equipped for the production and fabrication of steel.

HATES—Pessimists who believe that France is "done for" will be obliged to revise their opinions. So assert American reparations from the sorely tried country.

It was once said that the defeat of France was caused by the collapse of the French Republic. The French Republic, however, is now being rebuilt, and the French people are now being helped by the United States.

Delegates from the Continent explain that Laval hates them not so much because he likes the Germans but because he believes in French republicanism of an extreme rightist type. Marcel Dett, Jean-Henri Paquis and other reactionaries are moved by the same motives. They are determined to stamp out liberalism and they make use of the Nazis to accomplish their objectives.

MAYBE IT'S HERE:
Leaves From The Editor's Notebook

There seems to be considerable pessimism in the air lately. And that's all right. Maybe one of the things we needed was a good dose of pessimism to lead to worry, and real anxiety leads to action.

We Americans have taken the war and the state of the world too lightly. Pampa is no exception. It took us a long time to see what was going on, and even then we didn't realize how bad it was. The war grew in scope before our eyes, but what of that? We'd improve a big army, and ship it overseas, and it would "soon be over, over there," as it was last time when we landed on Europe.

Well, we landed in the South Seas and got busy in that sector, and so far our men, the few in number, have done a fine job there. Also in Africa. But in Europe, where the real job waits, it's not so good.

The Nazis didn't collapse when they learned that we had come. The Second Front, to match Russia's First Front, is still only something to talk about, so far as the pulse of the industrial world toward Germany, we somehow got bogged down in Italy, where we had no intention of going. It was a necessary task, no doubt, but it slowed us down, and we hardly started yet on the main job.

We are slowly and painfully learning the size and scope of that job, and beginning to realize that we will lose the war from overconfidence and delay. This is the beginning of wisdom and the way to victory.

It is a rough world now, filled with hardship and brutality for countless millions of people. And what shall we do about it? Make ourselves hard, and go around cursing and fighting and brutalizing ourselves and each other—not only in warfare, but at home and in our civilian life?

It isn't necessary, and isn't sensible. This is supposed to be a war to preserve civilization—which begins at home. It should be a strong civilization in these times, but not a brutal one. The necessities and amenities of life should be maintained as far as possible. The men now engaged in preserving our rights with their sweat and blood should have decent, self-respecting life to come back to when their fighting is over.

We were not surprised but were disappointed not to find major units of the Jap fleet at Truk. I believe the Japs are beginning to find maintenance of a fleet at Truk very difficult and perhaps they had decided to withdraw their major units long before we attacked. — Pacific Fleet Adm. Germany's seizure of Hungary—a move which is partly military and partly political—is smart tactics, although it's typical of the kind of ruthlessness against a country which has served the Axis well.

It is a logical step in the Nazi dictator's preparations for the final defense of his inner fortress towards which he is being steadily driven.

On its political side it's calculated to terrorize the Balkans and unhappily little Finland into sticking to the sinking ship.

From the military standpoint Hitler is aiming at two prime objectives: (1) He is establishing a barrier across the great Danubian gateway into his inner fortress, and (2) he is providing himself with a base from which to defend the Balkans against the crushing Red armies and to keep his allies in line.

One highly important aspect of the situation is the vital necessity of protecting Rumania's Ploesti oil fields.

Another point is that he must provide refuge for the host of soldiers in his shattered army on the Russian southern front. Some of these are now fleeing into Bessarabia in an effort to reach Rumania; others are struggling in the Red traps, and still further forces are cooped up in the Carpathians.

Hungary is the logical focal point for Hitler's operations in southeastern Europe. Not only are there prime rail connections with Germany and the Balkans, but the great Danube river forms one of the most important communications on the continent.

The Balkan crisis is in a state of flux. Beyond the fact that Hitler has occupied Hungary with troops, reports are confused.

There are indications that some Hungarians are trying to revolt against the Nazi gangster. It's possible that further Russian successes may inspire other resistance to Hitler in the Balkans, since there's small love for Germany on the peninsula.

So far as regards Hungary: While it is highly independent, there are considerable elements there which will support Hitler.

The P-38 sights land!

Shipping losses were up in March, 1942, and P-38 fighter planes were not getting to England in sufficient quantity. It is the story of a daring and novel project. Bombers had been flown over but never fighters. This is the story of how it was done.

A HOLE IN THE CLOUDS

IX
It was not unusual for the pilot of a P-38 to lose his bearings in the tremendous overcasts that swathed the North Atlantic. Ordinarily, it did not disturb him much. He could always radio the trusty Fortress that led the way for each flight and get back in position.

But when the second group, lost in the clouds between Iceland and destination, got a negative answer when they asked their B-17 whether he knew where they were, that was something else again. Lieutenant Rimke, leader of the fighters, decided they might as well continue on their course. They didn't know the way back to Iceland anyway, and a wrong guess might make them miss the island by hundreds of miles.

Two hours passed. They were still in the overcast. The Fortress pilot, Lieutenant Cronkhite, asked Rimke what should be done. Rimke, who at the moment was originally assigned to the unpaid county war boards—farm machinery rationing, off-highway tire and gas rationing, issuance of farm slaughter permits, distribution of oil-seed meal, granting of farm construction permits, certification of canners who contract to pay support prices, checking dairy feed subsidies paid to farmers.

It can be argued that all these things can be done by the county agents in their spare time, but still the triple-A people say it will be necessary to keep this organization together for post-war use, when the agricultural products which the United States used to import get back in competition, and the order of the day will be reduce supply to the then-current demand.

Was it England? Or had they missed England and gone into Norway or Denmark? Lieutenant Rimke glided down in his P-38 to investigate.

He checked the coastline with his charts. They were over the northern tip of Ireland. Beyond that, Rimke could not identify their position further.

A FEW minutes later two planes, strange aircraft, appeared out of the fog. The American pilots were reasonably sure that no enemy fighters would be found in that area, but nevertheless it was a relief when they recognized them as British Spitfires.

Radio contact was established, and the Spitfires, low on gas, promised to go into base and send up a twin-engine ship to guide them in. About that time, three different airdromes began sending the flight "homing" directions.

A short while ago, the four fighters and the Fortress were completely cut off from the rest of the world and thoroughly lost. Now there were more friendly "hands" to guide them to safety than they could use. Things grew more confusing by the minute.

After flying back and forth across the Irish Sea for half an hour, and getting nowhere in a hurry, they let down through the overcast and saw a British Beaufighter, which signalled and led the way in. When the planes approached the airfield, they still had to contend with a 300-foot ceiling, and a wall of impenetrable fog was rolling across the field.

Way by one, the P-38's felt their way in. Dazed and numb from the harrowing experience, the pilots pulled themselves out of cockpits that sloshed with water, jumped down, and literally kissed the ground.

THE B-17, however, was still airborne. Thundering about in the opaque mist above the field, the Fortress was executing 60 degree banks in an attempt to keep the "drome" in sight. Finally the pilot lost track of the field entirely, and went barging off into the fog. The Beaufighter took off and went after it, like a mother hen after a chick, only in this case the proportionate sizes were in reverse.

The Beaufighter finally caught up with the elusive B-17, got it in tow, and then took over the delicate problem of getting it onto the right approach to the runway through a fog that cut visibility down to a few feet.

A neat bit of air-to-air control was required, co-ordinating the speeds of both aircraft during the perilous approach. The B-17, following on the heels of the Beau, held it within visual contact by radioing the proper speed at which to fly.

"Flying 140 miles an hour..." "Going to let wheels down at 115 miles an hour..." "Flaps coming down; slow down to 100 miles an hour..." Adjusting its speed to every message from the Fortress, the Beaufighter led the big four-engine bomber down through the murk to the runway, which the Fortress saw when it was only 200 feet away.

As the bomber trundled to a stop at the far end of the tarmac, fog blotted out the field completely. None of the pilots could sleep that night.

Lutherans To Have Fifth Midweek Lenten Service

"The Drama of Hell's Fury" will be the topic of the address this evening at 8 o'clock in the fifth midweek Lenten service sponsored by Zion Lutheran church. The Rev. Henry G. Wolter is the speaker at these services which are conducted in the Dukenel-Carmichael chapel, 300 W. Browning.

The demonstration of human behavior depicted in Mark 14, 65 should for all of us" says Rev. Wolter, "whether we be members of a church or not, be a terrifying example. As the forces of evil take hold of us and make us the agents and instruments of their diabolical plans we can do such things to Christ, it means that we must live our lives carefully lest we be overpowered and made the minions of evil," he concluded.

Sugar for Canning Will Be Unchanged

WASHINGTON, March 22. (AP)—Sugar for home canning, the office of price administration advised, will be available to housewives at the same rate as last year—a maximum of 25 pounds for each family member.

Five pounds of the allotment can be obtained with sugar stamp 40 in war ration book 4, already validated. Beginning next Thursday local ration boards will grant certificates for an additional supply, up to 20 pounds a person.

OPA said the maximum supplementary ration will be allowed only to families who have large amounts of fresh fruits available.

Applications may be obtained and returned to local boards by mail, the agency said. But this year, instead of enclosing ration book with the application, spare stamp number 37 from ration book 4 must accompany the form.

OPA also provided that families that can and preserve food at home for sale may apply for a maximum of 250 pounds of sugar for this purpose.

We, the Women

"Can I take a $1,200 depreciation on my new car this year?" I asked an official in Indiana. And the official had a good laugh over the husband's use of "depreciation" instead of "exemption."

But actually, maybe the man was not so ignorant.

A wife either becomes more valuable to her husband every year—or she becomes less. She never stays the same.

Some wives work at the job of becoming more valuable to their husbands. Such a wife studies her husband's likes and dislikes so that the longer she lives with him the better she knows how to keep him happy, contented, and sure that he married the only woman in the world for him.

She becomes more efficient as a housekeeper, and easier to live with. And she studies her husband's business and profession to find some way in which she can be of help to him in his work. In addition to that, she pursues some worthwhile interests of her own, so that her husband finds her a stimulating companion.

Such a wife certainly increases in value. But the dumb little girl who had nothing but the prettiness of her face and figure to recommend herself to a man, and who thinks she can coast along on that prettiness all her life, certainly depreciates in value every year of her wedded life.

For as her beauty fades, her dumbness and inefficiency become less tolerable. Certainly that is depreciation.

Loose Disposition Of Materials Opposed

WASHINGTON, March 22. (AP)—W. L. Clayton, the newly appointed federal surplus procurement administrator, says he has the power and intended to use it to put a stop to loose disposition of excess government-owned materials, and to bring about coordination in this matter among the numerous agencies involved.

As an example, he said that when his agency is fully organized, he would see to it that one government unit does not throw a particular surplus on the market while some other agency is buying or trying to buy, the same thing.

Easter Leg o' Lamb Welcomes Spring

This combination of roasts and spring peas tastes as good as it looks. Most people prefer lamb roasted to the medium or well-done stage and peas cooked until just tender. A constant slow oven temperature is recommended for roasting meat to keep it tender and juicy.

Some women place an outside leaf of lettuce on the bottom of the pan in which peas are cooked. The lettuce supplies the moisture. Of course, heat should be applied slowly at first to prevent burning and the pan must be covered so that the moisture will not evaporate. "Covered and quick" is the rule for cooking most green vegetables. They should be cooked until just barely tender.

Lamb is always cooked to the medium or well-done stage. Use of low temperature keeps the meat tender and juicy through long cooking. If possible, meat should be cooked with the aid of the meat thermometer to tell when it is done.

Leg o' Lamb
Have the meat retailer leave the leg on the leg of lamb when it is purchased. Rub the meat with salt and pepper and place on a rack in an open roasting pan, with skin side down and cut surface up. (The cut side of lamb leg is the fat side). Insert meat thermometer so that bulb reaches center of the thick round of the leg. Place in a slow oven (300 F.). Do not cover, do not add water. For well-done lamb, remove from the oven when the meat thermometer registers 180 F. Allow about 30 to 35 minutes per pound. Place on a hot platter. An attractive garnish for the Easter leg of lamb is mashed potato nests filled with hot green peas.

Little bears sleep in their bear skin.
They sleep quite well, I am told. Bu, last night I slept in my bare skin.
And I caught a heck of a cold.

Garnish Platter In Simple Way For Easter Dinner

EASTER DINNER
Roast Leg o' Lamb
Washed Potatoes Sprig Parsley
Julienne Carrots Pear Salad
Cucumber Rolls
Peppermint Ice Cream

Since Easter is the official welcome to spring, it is entirely suitable that Easter dinner should feature that favorite springtime treat, roast lamb. Fortunately, lamb is available during the entire year, but it still enjoys special prestige as the main course for dinner on Easter day.

The platter should be garnished on this festive day. Mashed potato "Easter baskets" filled with spring peas could be placed around the roast. Sprigs of parsley on the platter would pick up the green color again. These garnishes are edible and conserve food.

To make the dinner a success, everything must taste as good as it looks. To roast a leg of lamb properly is one of the simplest cookery procedures.

Meat is best when roasted in a slow oven. Three hundred degrees is right for lamb. The fat (thin paper-like skin) should not be removed before roasting the leg of lamb. The skin side is placed down when the leg of lamb is roasted. Leaving the skin on helps to hold the shape of the roast. Meat should be roasted on a rack in an open pan with no cover and no water added. This method brings out the best flavor of roast meat.

Use Little Water
As little water as possible should be used in cooking vegetables too.

Mrs. Howard Sues Simmons' Estate

TULSA, Okla., March 22.—(AP)—Mrs. Ella B. Howard, 45-year-old Fort Worth, divorcee, has filed a claim against the estate of T. Karl Simmons, Tulsa oil man, for $10,350 to pay the expense of a trial in which she was acquitted on a manslaughter charge in the slaying of Simmons's wife.

Mrs. Howard alleged in her claim that Simmons had promised to pay all of her trial costs if she would marry him. She said she agreed but Simmons died last October before they could be married.

Mrs. Howard was charged with murder after Mrs. Simmons was shot to death in a room at the fashionable Mayo hotel. The charge was reduced to manslaughter and she was acquitted by a district court jury last June 9.

Five days after the trial, Mrs. Howard's claim said, Simmons asked her to marry him and they made an "oral agreement" under which the oil man would pay her legal debts. The claim must be approved by the executor of the estate and the county court.

Mrs. Howard Sues Simmons' Estate

TULSA, Okla., March 22.—(AP)—Mrs. Ella B. Howard, 45-year-old Fort Worth, divorcee, has filed a claim against the estate of T. Karl Simmons, Tulsa oil man, for $10,350 to pay the expense of a trial in which she was acquitted on a manslaughter charge in the slaying of Simmons's wife.

Mrs. Howard alleged in her claim that Simmons had promised to pay all of her trial costs if she would marry him. She said she agreed but Simmons died last October before they could be married.

Mrs. Howard was charged with murder after Mrs. Simmons was shot to death in a room at the fashionable Mayo hotel. The charge was reduced to manslaughter and she was acquitted by a district court jury last June 9.

Five days after the trial, Mrs. Howard's claim said, Simmons asked her to marry him and they made an "oral agreement" under which the oil man would pay her legal debts. The claim must be approved by the executor of the estate and the county court.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. — Sheriff Joseph M. Schmucker has accomplished what he set out to do when he took office last January. He's talked Locomotive county into moving a pole which has served as a ladder for escaping county jail prisoners since a horse thief first used it in 1898.

Demon Cagers Favored Over Oklahoma Ags

NEW YORK, March 22 (AP)—The DePaul Demons, of Chicago, were established an eight-point favorite to beat the Oklahoma Aggies in their feature semi-final game in the national invitation basketball tournament at Madison Square Garden tonight.

The game, which pitting seven-foot Bob Kurland, of the Aggies, against 6-9 George Mikan, of the Demons, is the second of a double-header expected to draw more than 18,000. In the first semi-final game Kentucky played St. John's of Brooklyn. Kentucky ruled a seven-point favorite.

In reaching the round of four DePaul whipped Muhlenberg, 68-45, with Mikan scoring 27 points; the Aggies beat Canisius, 43-29, with Kurland getting 13 points; Kentucky defeated Utah, 46-38, and St. John's eliminated Bowling Green, 44-40.

The two winners tonight will meet for the championship Sunday night with the two losers meeting in a consolation game.

By a strange twist, Utah, although eliminated by Kentucky, was named the winner of the Garden tourney for the recognized national championship on March 30. The Utes have replaced Arkansas in the Western NCAA playoffs that open at Kansas City Friday. If they win there, then beat the Eastern NCAA champion next Tuesday, they will qualify for the March 30 game.

Big Mort Cooper Balks At Signing Redbird Contract

NEW YORK, March 22 (AP)—It's official now—Big Mort Cooper, whose 21 victories last year sparked the St. Louis Cardinals to their second straight National League pennant and who was the only Card hurler to beat the Yankees in the World Series, is a holdout.

Fans knew Big Mort hadn't signed a contract, but previous reports that he was a holdout were laughed off. However, Sam Breadon, president of the Cards, disclosed last night Cooper had rejected a second contract offered him and that the action definitely classed the tall right-hander as a holdout.

Cooper's brother, catcher Walker Cooper, signed a contract a few days ago.

Pampa Beats Celtic Tracksters 73 1/2-39 1/2

With two straight wins over the Shamrock Irish in their track meet, Pampa High School Harvester track team starts preparing today for the biggest meet to date this season for the Green and Gold, to be held here at 3:30 p. m. Friday when tracksters of Pampa, White Deer and Canadian stage a triangular tourney here.

The Harvesters' second win over the Celts occurred yesterday afternoon at the Shamrock Field in Shamrock, where the Pampa team rolled up 73 1/2 points to Shamrock's 39 1/2. In the original meet here, Pampa scored 65 points to the Shamrock's 46.

Gene Robbins, the Pampa boy who is such a natural athlete that he could start badminton, bull fighting, fencing or jai alai, tomorrow and in a week's time, perform like an old timer, continued to roll up high points, duplicating the number he made in the first meet against Shamrock.

Robbins, who was on the football team last year, and who was captain of the 1943 basketball team, at Shamrock yesterday scored five first places for 25 points, an exact duplication of his feat in the Harvester-Irish track contest here.

The highpoint man added a new role to his track endeavors yesterday when he won the 120-yard-high hurdles. This is the first time he ever ran the hurdles, low or high.

Yesterday, the Harvesters won 12 out of 14 first places. In the first meet, the contest did not include the low hurdles and the 220-yard dash. Pampa and Shamrock split even on these this time.

The last time Pampa lost both relays but the Harvesters won both relays Tuesday. Shamrock won the 100-yard dash in the first meet; this time the race went to Pampa. On the reverse side, the Harvesters won the 880 in the first meet, but lost it this time.

Results of the track meet at Shamrock yesterday:
100-Yard Dash—G. Robbins, Pampa, first; Anderson, Shamrock, second; time, 10 4/5 seconds.
220-Yard Dash—G. Robbins, Pampa, first; Kilman, Shamrock, second; time, 10 4/5 seconds.
440-Yard Dash—G. Robbins, Pampa, first; Nolan, Shamrock, second; time, 58 seconds.
880-Yard Dash—G. Robbins, Pampa, first; R. Clay, Pampa, second; time 2 minutes 15 seconds.
1760-Yard Dash—G. Robbins, Pampa, first; Kilman, Shamrock, second; time, 2:04.
3520-Yard Dash—G. Robbins, Pampa, first; Cole, Shamrock, second; time, 2:04.
7040-Yard Dash—G. Robbins, Pampa, first; Cole, Shamrock, second; time, 2:04.
14080-Yard Dash—G. Robbins, Pampa, first; Cole, Shamrock, second; time, 2:04.

MAYBE... Sliding Doors on safe cars tomorrow

BUT... OIL-PLATING YOUR ENGINE is like outdoing the future—today

"A bird in the hand" is worth a whole flock of 1950 cars with wings—or even more moderate 1945 models that aren't here yet either. Better grasp the big advancement that's ready now... Better have your engine OIL-PLATED!

Conoco Nth motor oil, for your needed Spring change, at once brings your engine internal OIL-PLATING—the foe of cursed engine acids. These unavoidable "leftovers" of combustion were a menace even when partly driven off by the steady heat of long trips. But rationing brought short jumps, with overcool operation that magnified acid attacks.

It's high time now—in any car, under any conditions—to check rampant acids. And you'll succeed with Conoco Nth oil, containing an advanced synthetic. This acts "magnet-like"...

makes metals attract and hold their acid-resistant shield of OIL-PLATING.

Though your engine's cool or hot—running or not—the OIL-PLATING doesn't all promptly drain down to the crankcase. And where there's OIL-PLATING, the acids that want to destroy are told to "Keep Off!" That's how Conoco Nth oil can advance your car's chance to keep going. Change for Spring today at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company

Braniff Lists 1943 Earnings

DALLAS, March 22. (P)—Braniff Airways, Inc., reported a net profit of $958,002.22 for 1943 after provision for federal and state income taxes, according to the annual financial statement and letter to stockholders released by T. E. Braniff, president.

This amount has been subsequently reduced by approximately $347,000 as the result of a decision by the civil aeronautics board on March 13, 1944, adjusting the air mail pay of the company to 3 mill per pound mile, retroactive to Feb. 1, 1943, which is the same rate as that set by the board for many other carriers. The adjusted net profit of approximately $611,000 is equal to 61 cents per share and is 19 per cent above 1942 net earnings of $512,882.

At the close of the year the company was flying 12,740 daily scheduled miles as compared to 9,985 at the close of 1942.

During the year, with the approval of the civil aeronautics board, Braniff expanded its daily operations by increasing its service between Dallas and Chicago to four round trips daily; inaugurating service on two route extensions, one between San Antonio and Laredo, and the other north of Amarillo through Pueblo and Colorado Springs to Denver.

In the company's annual report, Braniff explained the organization of Aerovias Braniff, S. A., a Mexican corporation granted approximately 4,600 miles of air routes in Mexico by the Mexican government.

The permits of Aerovias Braniff, S. A., cover most of the principal communities of Mexico, including among others Mexico City, Monterrey, Tampico, Vera Cruz, Merida, Victoria, Chihuahua, Hermosillo, Cuernavaca, Tapachula, Matamoros, Nuevo Laredo, Nogales, Mexicali, and Tijuana.

FALSE ALARM
STERLING, Colo.—Coroner A. D. Jackson, Sheriff Frank L. Long and a deputy district attorney raced 30 miles out into the prairie to investigate a newly made grave.

They found a man's dress coat, then a canvas-covered object the size of a small child.

But it was only the body of a Boston bull terrier, which evidently came to a peaceful end and a gentle burial.

Neel Kearby Was Leading Airman

COL. KEARBY

ALLIED AIRFORCE HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, March 22. (P)—Lieut. Gen. George C. Kenney has announced the disappearance of Col. Neel Kearby, army fighter pilot from Dallas and San Antonio, who has 21 Japanese planes to his credit and who won the Congressional Medal of Honor for downing six enemy planes in one day last year.

At the same time, the death of Lt. Col. Thomas Lynch, a Calasaguaga, Pa., army fighter pilot credited with 19 planes, was reported from an advanced air base somewhere in New Guinea.

At Dallas, Dr. J. G. Kearby, father of the flyer, said the war department had advised the family that Col. Kearby has been unreported since March 5.

Col. Kearby's record of 21 planes had placed him in a tie for top fighter honors in the Southwest Pacific with Capt. Richard I. Bong, Poplar, Wis.

(Higher records have been set by such fighter pilots as Marine Major Joe Foss in the South Pacific.)

Kearby had been decorated 11 times. In addition to the Congressional Medal of Honor, he wore the Air Medal and four Oak Leaf Clusters, the Distinguished Flying Cross and three Oak Leaf Clusters and the Silver Star.

He came to the Southwest Pacific June 15, 1943, as commanding officer of a P-47 unit. Kearby first broke into the headlines Oct. 11, 1943, when over Wewak he shot down six enemy planes in one whirlwind dog fight. A seventh plane he engaged was so good a "probable" that many wanted him to claim it although Kearby himself refused because pictures taken by his nose camera didn't catch the plane being destroyed.

without actively implementing its dislike of the present regime through economic measures?

Will the United States in collaboration with Britain further tighten restrictions on pro-Axis Spain and pro-Axis Turkey if those neutrals do not sever trade relations with Germany and on neutral Ireland if it persists in harboring Axis officials?

Several of the secretary's 17 points were considered pertinent to current problems even though in the main he was concerned with clarifying American policy for the postwar period. He declared that "at the present time, the paramount aim of our foreign policy is to defeat our enemies as quickly as possible."

Other points known to be applicable to current situations, such as the French recognition problem, include a statement that each nation "should be free to decide for itself the forms and details of its governmental organization," a basic belief which prevents this government from committing itself to the support of any political force in occupied European countries before the peoples of those countries have a chance to express their will.

On the long range questions of international organization, the secretary called for creation of an international agency backed by adequate force to maintain peace, the settlement of dangerous political differences by negotiation, the organization of an international court to solve legal disputes, and the reduction of armaments so far as they may be reduced without endangering the force necessary to maintain peace.

Along with a reaffirmation of faith in the Atlantic Charter, the secretary placed full reliance in the declaration signed by the Soviet Union, Great Britain, the United States and China at Moscow last fall as an instrument of laying the foundation for successful cooperation once the war is won.

In London, Prime Minister Churchill told common today that there would be "renewed consultation between the principal Allies" on the application of the Atlantic Charter under the changing phases of the war.

Churchill did not elaborate whether these consultations might take the form of a new meeting of the Allied "big three"—as has been rumored.

His reference to the Atlantic Charter—on which Churchill only last week refused to schedule an open debate in common—arose when Member Daniel Lipson asked for a clarification statement "in view of the doubts which existed as to what territories the principles of the Atlantic Charter were to apply."

"It is evident that as the changing phases of the war succeed one another, some further clarifications will be required of the position under the document which has become honorably known as the Atlantic Charter," Churchill replied, "and that this must be a subject for renewed consultation between the principal Allies."

separating meat and butter rationing, with butter becoming ration-free.

Two house members—representatives Rieley (R-Okla.) and Harness (R-Ind)—charge that farmers are being coerced into signing up for federal agricultural programs under threat of military induction and deprivation of gas coupons and farm machinery. And chairman of two house committees announced they probably would conduct separate investigations into the charges.

President Roosevelt meanwhile has given some indication that highly-trained, young, key technicians and experts employed in war industry may be given special consideration by selective service despite the rush to build up fighting force manpower rolls. The induction of certain of them, said the president, would "deter the conduct of the war."

House banking committee members announce they are working on legislation to provide for the disposal of surplus war property and to provide for the superseding of the surplus war property administration created by an executive order of President Roosevelt. Rep. Patman (D-Texas) said there is a definite purpose to establish the disposal agency "by law" and not by executive order.

GERMANS

The Red flag was raised above 330 more liberated towns and villages yesterday as the Russians continued to pound the Germans back along the 500-mile front from old Poland to the Black sea. The Soviet bulletin said the forces striking for Lwow, big Nazi communications hub in old Poland, had crashed into Lwow province. The Russians were within 56 miles of Lwow itself.

A battle of "unparalleled ferocity" was declared by the Germans to be raging around Kovel, an important rail junction 100 miles north of Lwow on the road to Warsaw, but the report was without Soviet confirmation. Kovel is 500 miles from Berlin.
