HALE COUNTY EXHIBIT IS WINNER STATE REOPENS REBECCA'S TRIAL OVER PROTEST

WITNESS SAYS STATE PLEA IS NOT ACCURATE

AUSTIN DOCTOR TELLS VERSION OF CASE UNWILLINGLY (By Associated Press) GEORGETOWN, Texas, Sept. 29.—Over vigorous protest of the defense, the state today reopened its case in the trial of Rebecca Bradley Rogers, former University of Texas co-ed, charged with arson in connection with the burning of a building in Round Rock, Texas, last December.

Dr. Joe S. Wooten of Austin was called to the stand by the prosecution in an effort to contradict defense testimony which tended to prove that Mrs. Rogers is "unbalanced" and suffering from dementia praecox. He testified that the defendant does not suffer from dementia praecox and that almost every person shows some symptom of it without being a victim.

Dr. Wooten testified emphatically. He told the court, when called, that information given him by Mrs. Rogers was in confidence. He said that Mrs. Rogers came to him for examination about January 1, a few weeks after her arrest in connection with the Buda bank robbery, which occurred on the day after the fire at Round Rock.

He said that he had given her eight examinations and had a forty page autobiography of her life. The defense is preparing a motion asking that they be allowed to reopen the case in order that two witnesses might be called from Fort Worth.

After the testimony of Dr. Wooten the defense filed a motion asking that they be allowed to reopen the case, but the motion was denied and the court charged the jury.

Arguments started two hours to each side was allowed for arguments which began about 10:20 o'clock. The charge, on 15 issues outlined, in addition to routine, the nature of an alibi, defined arson, explained the nature of circumstantial evidence necessary for conviction and said that insanity is a defense if the defendant was of such unsound mind at the time of the commission of her crime as to not know right from wrong.

Negress Near Death After Attack Here

Jimmie Jones, negress, lies in the colored ward of a local hospital with 9 bullet holes in her intestines and officers are searching for Pat Fisher, of Plainview, who shot her in an alleged family quarrel in the "flat", the negro section of Lubbock, last night.

Kellar Is Detailed For Duty At Odessa

John Kellar, highway inspector for this district, left last night for Odessa where he has been detailed by the state ranger commander for special duty in Winkler county oil fields. He is a private in the Texas ranger force and was detailed for service in Burger during the first of this year.

Small Craft Storm Warning Is Issued

HOUSTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—A small craft storm warning for the Texas coast from Port Arthur to Matamoros was issued here Thursday by the Houston weather bureau. Fresh to strong southerly winds today and tonight are indicated.

Beating goodwill and greetings from the Queen City of the Plains Amarillo citizens, 157 strong, rolled into Lubbock this morning at 10:15 on a special Santa Fe train for a visit with Lubbock and the fourteenth annual Panhandle-South Plains Fair which is attracting the attention of the entire section of West Texas.

REDUCTION IN KEY RATE HERE BELIEVED SURE

Lubbock will probably receive a reduction of from 8 to 10 cents in its fire insurance key rate by the first of the year, according to City Manager William H. Perkinson, who returned this morning from Austin where he conferred with G. C. Hawley, state engineer, and T. M. Campbell, state fire marshal.

Eighteen Hurt As Tornado Wrecks Two Small Towns

RUDY, Ark., Sept. 28.—Ten persons were injured, one probably fatally, in a tornado which struck here today, cutting a path through the village. Only ten buildings remained intact when the storm passed.

Victim Of Mystery Attack Is Buried

FREDERICKSBURG, Tex., Sept. 28 (AP)—All efforts at identification apparently having failed, the abused and battered body of a young girl found ten days ago in a crude pit near here, tomorrow will be returned to the earth from which it came but in a burnished casket with the benediction of four ministers and hymns from hundreds of throats.

Girl Swallows Toy And Is Suffocated

CHICAGO, Sept. 29 (AP)—Eight-year old Ruth Koehn is dead as a result of having swallowed a toy battleship, prize of a candy box. She suffocated while physicians at a hospital sought to remove it from her stomach.

Eight Injured In Oklahoma Town

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Sept. 29 (AP)—Eight persons were injured today in a small tornado which blew down two farmers' houses, three miles northwest of Checotah. The homes of William Conklin and Walter Berry were wrecked. Conklin and one son suffered broken legs. The other injured were taken to a Checotah hospital.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 29 (AP)—A terrific rain storm, accompanied by wind of eighty miles an hour velocity, struck St. Louis just before 1 p. m. today inflicting many persons and causing considerable property damage.

Twenty ambulance calls were received. The entire police department was ordered out for emergency duty.

ATTORNEYS OF ACCUSED NURSE SEE ACQUITTAL

ENID, Okla., Sept. 29.—Confident of the innocence of Mary Atkinson, 26 year old trained nurse, charged with murdering Mary Jane Bailey, daughter of Charles Bailey, Episcopal rector here, Harry O. Glasser and H. G. McKeever, Miss Atkinson's attorneys, issued a statement following the morning session of her preliminary hearing predicting acquittal.

Pathologists' Report Brings Statement From Counsel

W. H. Bailey, Oklahoma City pathologist has received his report to say that poison has not been found in lethal quantity in Miss Bailey's viscera. McKeever said, "The prosecution hasn't a leg to stand on."

Proved Only Her Love

"So far," said Glasser, "the state has proved only that Miss Atkinson loved Mr. Bailey. At the outset," Mr. Glasser continued, "we went to Miss Atkinson and told her to inform us correctly as to whether poison had been administered to Miss Bailey. We told her that her very life might depend upon her answer. She protested that she had not administered poison either to Miss Bailey or her mother, who died, physicians said, with symptoms similar to those of her daughter's fatal illness."

Meeting Is Reported

He traced the history of his father's meeting with Miss Atkinson at Gainesville, Texas, through the death of his mother and, several weeks later, his sister, Mary Jane. He told of Miss Atkinson's return to the Bailey home after he said his father had asked her to leave. Miss Atkinson, he said, appeared at the Bailey home on Monday morning preceding the Thursday of Miss Bailey's death, and helped to prepare the breakfast. During the day, John testified, he, his brother, Stuart and his two sisters, Mary Jane and Helen became ill.

Infant Near Death

The infant daughter of Mrs. Marvin Graham is believed fatally injured.

Hisses, Cat Calls Greet Demands of School Head in Compromise Race Row

GARY, Ind., Sept. 29.—Hisses, cat calls, and boos greeted William A. Wirt, superintendent of schools today when he warned 1,500 pupils of Emerson high school, that they would be expelled for the remainder of the semester unless they ended their strike, called Monday because of the presence of negroes in their classes, and returned at 8:15 a. m. tomorrow.

Strikers Would Not Return Unless

Some concessions were granted by the board of education which has maintained that it was an impossibility to remove the negroes, so strikers, backed in their demands by their parents, gave weight to the assertions of their leaders.

Lillard Scores Easy Win In Hog Division At Fair

The Lillard Livestock Farms, Arlington, Texas, romped away with the prizes in the Duroc Jersey and Hampshire divisions of the swine department just as they did in the Poland China class yesterday. Douglas Pounds, of the Acuff community, superintendent of the swine division, said this morning after the awards were made.

38 Out of 43 Prizes

In the Duroc Jersey class the Lillard farms took 38 out of 43 prizes, losing two firsts, one second and two thirds places only in the entire judging. The two firsts were lost in the Senior Yearling Boar class, won by a Tech college animal, and in the Junior Sow Pig class, won by the Manning farms. Lillard pigs won first in Produce of Dam, Aged Boar, Junior Yearling Boar, Senior and Junior Pig, Aged Sow, Senior and Junior Yearling Sow, Senior Pig, Senior and Junior Champion Boar, Senior and Junior Champion Sow, Aged Head, Breeder, Aged Herd, Young Herd, Breeder's Young Herd, Get of Sire and Produce of Sow classes, in addition to all but one second and two thirds in the same divisions.

In the Hampshire class J. W. Lillard and the Lillard farms, both of Arlington and members of the same family, divided the prizes, running their share of cash awards for the fair here to over $500. Mr. Pounds estimated.

Many Lynn County Visitors Arrive

Hundreds of visitors from Lynn county, flooded into Lubbock this morning to share in the fair. At ten o'clock the Lubbock-Lynn county delegation, 75 cars strong, paraded over the downtown district, led by its well uniformed snappy band and a Lubbock fire truck.

Liner Docks With Old Glory Wreckage

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—The Red Cross liner Nerissa docked at Brooklyn today from Newfoundland with wreckage of the monoplane Old Glory, which was lost at sea with her three man crew while attempting a non-stop flight from Old Orchard, Maine, to Rome.

The wreckage, all that was ever found of the plane, consisted of 34 feet of the wing, to which was attached part of the fuselage. It was salvaged several hundred miles east of Newfoundland by the steamer Kyle and transferred to the Nerissa at St. Johns, N. F.

Drunks Are Fined

Four drunks were corralled at the fair grounds by officers of the sheriff's department last night and lodged in the city jail. They paid fines this morning.

The New Hope community, of Lubbock county, had easy sailing in the Community exhibit contests, piling up a total of 924 points while Acuff took second prize with 879 and Grovesville came third with 872. New Hope's winning award was $50 and $10 worth of trees donated by the Agricultural Experiment station. Acuff's second prize brought the community $35, while Grovesville received $25 for third position.

FREE ACTS AT FAIR TO OPEN EARLY TONIGHT

The free acts and fire works program at the Panhandle South Plains fair will begin at 7:30 tonight, officials of the fair announced today.

FIREWORKS AND OTHER ATTRACTIONS START AT 7:30 P. M.

The entertainment is offered free to all those who attend the fair. The acts are held in the football field before the bleachers.

The famous Blatherwick Kiddies will perform. This act scored a decided hit at the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show last year. It is claimed to be the greatest Juvenile Roping act in the world and people who have witnessed the act at the fair the past two days have given the act a hearty applause.

Mike Florence has aroused considerable applause with her act on a slim pole, seventy-five feet high with no nets or safety devices. Joe Hodgini with his horsemanship feats and clown stunts has also won the favor of the crowds.

The Lubbock Fire Department under the direction of Chief W. E. Twitty has offered a drill each night that has pleased the public. The stunt tonight will have added features and will show the skill of the fire fighters. Two of the trucks are used in the drill that takes place at the four story tower that has been constructed for this purpose.

The fire works set off each night by the Thearle-Duffield Fireworks company please young and old alike. The rockets that glare and shells that burst keep up a continuous display that is pleasing to the eye and blends in wonderfully with the clear blue sky above.

New Tech Building Excavation Starts

Following a preliminary ground breaking yesterday afternoon, excavation on the 53 by 136 foot basement of the new engineering building of Texas Technological college was started this morning. Ten teams and one steam shovel will be kept on duty during the next few days in order to rush the work. L. W. Sampson, contractor, said today.

Wife Of Rail Man Accused Of Murder

NEW CASTLE, Pa., Sept. 29 (AP)—Mrs. Ina Whitlock faced a charge of murder today following the death last night of her husband, William R. Whitlock, a railroad fireman, from bullet wounds alleged to have been inflicted by the wife in a jealous rage. Three small children were made fatherless by the shooting.

46,000 Tickets Given To Schools

A total of 46,000 fair tickets of various kinds, were issued to Lubbock county's 3,000 school children for use today. A. E. Davis, manager of the fair, announced this morning.

Practically every school in the county has closed its doors today to permit teachers, children and their parents to view the various exhibits and particularly to become familiar with the educational phases of the exposition.

SMUGGLED "DIAMONDS" NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—Herman J. Souts, known in pugilistic circles as Babe Herman, walked into police headquarters today with 23 small packages of chipped glass and told detectives he had paid three "friends" $2,500 for the lot as "smuggled diamonds."

Evening Gowns Shown In Style Show Draw Applause With Striking Beauty And Variety Of Models Displayed

The evening gowns shown in Grollman's style show last night and Tuesday evening at the Palace Theatre were of particular brilliancy and beauty in coloring and in variety of models to please the taste of different individuals to meet the needs of a diversity of occasions.

Heavy applause greeted these garments, which were worn in connection with wraps of squirrel, silk, seal and other furs. A striking gown of black transparent velvet was worn with grace by Miss Duvon Simmons. The model of uneven hemline, was combined with gold lace and a metallic hand made rose of pastel colors, was worn on the shoulder. Another dress combining the metallic materials was worn by Miss Maurine Hughes. This dress was of gold metallic fringe and a cascade of pink ruffles was worn at the shoulder. A metallic case to match completed this costume.

Metal Cloth Favored
Miss Aleta Easter appeared in a gown of silver metal cloth combined with mesh of shell pink. Two roses formed the shoulder corsage.

Adorning a dress of shell pink tulle, combined with maline, worn by Miss Agnes Brown, was embroidery of metallic cloth. Her shoulder corsage was of shell pink tulle. Miss Jane Mast modeled a frock, the blouse of which was in metal pastel colors. The skirt was of black sequin. A better corsage of gold shades adorned this dress.

Gold metallic cloth and roses were favored with another gown, Miss Winifred Stoker appearing in a gown of two-toned tulle in pink and gold.

Although metallic cloth and lace were popular in this group of costumes, other materials were favored as well. A white satin gown embroidered in white and silver beads with rhinestones combination and worn by Miss Ella Lenders received hearty applause. With this gown was a pink rose corsage.

In Many Colors
Miss Bernice O'Neal modeled a frock of peach colored maline, tulle and Miss Virginia Mulliken was in one of coral, bonded in silver with shoulder corsage in a similar rose color. Miss O'Neal's frock was combined with black lace and embroidered in pearls, rhinestones and silver.

A peach colored corse remains gown worn by Miss Ella Brown was brilliant with embroidery in crystal and gold beads and in keeping with other embellishments the frock has a center buckle of emeralds and brilliants. The skirt was mermaid pleated and a self-colored rose was worn at the shoulder.

In contrast with many of the pastel shaded frocks, Miss Geraldine Smith appeared in a red velvet gown, plain except for brilliants and her striking slippers of red marked with brilliant beads.

Miss Eloise Speed modeled a frock of shell pink the fall skirt being made of maline in pastel shades with corsage of hand made flowers.

Judges Find Culinary Display Is Best Of Women's Department; Limited Space Is Handicap In Exhibiting

Saying that the culinary department displays are better in the Panhandle-South Plains fair this year than at any exposition in which she has judged and that this department stands above others in the women's department, Miss Mildred Horton, state home demonstration agent, completed her judging here and returned to her home in College Station today. Mrs. J. S. Johnson is superintendent of the culinary division.

She was accompanied by Miss Myrtle Murray, district home demonstration agent, who also judged. The girls' clubs and women's clubs exhibits at the fair this fall were of exceptionally high quality, these two judges said, pointing out as articles of particular merit a number of braided and bookend rugs that were submitted. These exhibits came from Lubbock county, of which Miss Louise Baird is agent; from Lynn county, of which Miss Millie Halsey is agent, and from Dawson county, of which Miss Jean Grimes is the agent.

Shows Educational Value
The number of entries in the culinary and food preservation department has increased, the exhibit being much larger than ever before. It is gratifying, too, that the quality has improved as the department has grown.

Miss Horton said this morning. The number of entries in the culinary and food preservation department has increased, the exhibit being much larger than ever before. It is gratifying, too, that the quality has improved as the department has grown.

She stated that the butter candy and cake displays were of unusual high quality and that judging was very close with these articles. The butter display had more than doubled in quantity this year, she said.

Entire Display Better
The entire display in the women's department is better this year than during previous ones, Mrs. R. Q. Pierce, superintendent, said this morning, expressing gratification that such a variety of articles of exceptionally high quality are being shown.

Displays in the culinary, art and textile departments are very crowded, precluding the proper display, Mrs. Pierce stated, pointing out that breads and cakes are stacked and that there is no space to hang any of the pictures.

Register Fifty-One Infants In U. D. C. Baby Show

as the smart world views it

(This store presents the New Fall Mode just as the Smart world Views it.)

In Appreciation—

We are taking this means of thanking the models in our Style exhibition, the Palace Theatre management, the Orchestra, our own employees and the public in general who so kindly assisted in making our Style Show a really worth-while affair.

It was our aim, which we believe was fulfilled, to inform the South Plains of the character and great diversity of merchandise this store handles.

To be of service to the people this store expects to profit—and in no other manner!

We think we have for Fall and Winter a stock that is very large and complete, correct in quality and style—priced reasonable enough to create a constantly growing volume which we so earnestly seek.

And in sincere appreciation of the public's recognition of our store—of its growth—we again thank you—every one!

Signed—Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Grollman.

GIANTS, WITH THE ONLY POSSIBILITY, BEAT PHILS; OTHERS IDLE

PIRATES NEED ONLY ONE GAME TO CINCH TIE

THREE GAMES REMAIN BUT POSSIBILITIES ARE YET MANY

Clinging to their almost negligible hope of setting a tie for first place in the National League standing, the New York Giants were in a slightly better attacking position today, the result of a 5 to 4 victory in 10 innings over Philadelphia. While the Pittsburgh Pirates and the St. Louis Cardinals were idle yesterday.

Still two full games in the lead, Pittsburgh needs only one more victory out of three games scheduled with Cincinnati to insure at least a tie.

Several Possibilities
There are several possibilities left in the National League race. Pittsburgh can clinch the pennant by winning two out of three. St. Louis can win the flag if Pittsburgh loses all three games while the Cards win their three remaining contests. The Pirates and Cardinals would end up in a tie for the lead if St. Louis won three and the Pirates took only one out of three. The Giants' chance for a tie rests in Pittsburgh losing three games while New York wins three. A triple would exist if the Pirates lost three while the Giants won three and St. Louis won two of three.

The possibilities appear to be far from probability. The Pirates ought to win at least two out of three from Cincinnati, baseball men agree. Pittsburgh, idle today, will enter the final series with plenty of rest.

New York trailed Philadelphia until the eighth inning yesterday when a two run rally tied the score. The Giants stepped out in front in the ninth by putting over the run, but Philadelphia tied the count again in the home half. In the tenth Hardy bunted safely, was sacrificed to second and scored on a single by Devore.

Washington closed its season series with the Boston Red Sox by taking both ends of a double header. Hadley pitched the Senators to a 2 to 1 verdict in the first. Boston drove Fred Marberry from the box in the second game but Garland Braxton stepped in and held them scoreless from the fifth on. Washington winning 6 to 4. Washington won 12 out of 22 games with Boston this year.

Other American league teams were idle.

Offensive Play Draws Stress Of Tech Grid Heads

Diligence in training an offense has been the watchword out at Tech while Coaches Freeland, Hill, Linbotham and Payne are drilling their charges in preparation for the game with the St. Edwards Saints to be played at the fair grounds here October 1.

Coach Jack Meagher of the Saints has a letter man returning from last year for every position, and since the Tech griders barely posed out the Saints by the point after touchdown last year, the Matador coaches realize that they are in for a tough session with the Catholic crew. The score in 1926 was 7 to 6 in favor of Tech.

The game is the last football attraction here on the 1927 fair schedule, and is the only college game slated, so that the largest attendance on record is expected for the event.

Roping Kiddies At Fair Hold Crowds

Old time cowhands, men who have thrown a lariat and a "Julian" in the years when the South Plains was a cattle country, have been forced to doff their Stetsons to the Blatherwick Kiddies, features of the free attractions at the fair, when it comes to roping of all kinds.

The kiddies, Maudie, 14, and Ray, 22, have been reared in Dalhart, DeWitt county and the things they can do with a rope have exceeded all expectations. Ray startled his audience at the exhibitor's banquet last night by twirling eight ropes at one time and the art of an older slater was just as astonishing.

New Attraction At Fair Is Pleasing

A new free attraction made its appearance at the fair last night when J. E. Virdell of Fort Worth, astonished crowds by escaping from handcuffs and a straight-jacket while suspended, head downward, from a pole in front of the grandstand.

Virdell's two sons, Royal and Carroll, 21 year-old twins, entertained the crowds between their father's act by singing.

Stuffy McInnis Believes His Mark Of Perfect Fielding Hard To Beat

STUFFY MCINNIS DAY BY DAY IN EVERY WAY ETC. ETC. PLAYS 167 CONSECUTIVE GAMES WITHOUT MAKING AN ERROR

The playing days of "Stuffy" McInnis are over as far as active work, but the former star first baseman, now managing the Philadelphia Nationals, holds a record for fielding that will probably stand the test of time as well as Babe Ruth's 29 home runs.

Performing at first base in the American League during the seasons of 1921-22, McInnis, always a brilliant fielder, went 167 consecutive games without being charged with an error.

He started the long run of perfect fielding on Decoration Day, May 30, 1921. In the first game of the holiday bill he was charged with an error on a thrown ball from the catcher trying to pick a runner off first base. It was a questionable play. Had he escaped that error, his record for the faultless play in consecutive games would have run well over the 200 mark. It was the only error McInnis made during the 1921 season.

Starting with the second game of the holiday bill, McInnis, then with the Boston Red Sox, went the rest of the season, a matter of 119 games without a misplay.

During the winter he was traded to Cleveland. It was not until the 49th game of the 1922 season that he erred, bringing his run of no-error games to 167. No other infielder has ever come close to that mark.

During the long run of perfect play in the field, McInnis accepted 1,625 chances, 1,531 put-outs and 91 assists. Something for the boys to shoot at.

SAINTS BEING REVAMPED FOR MATADOR GAME

WEAKNESSES REVEALED IN SCORELESS TIE WITH SIMMONS

(Special To The Journal)
AUSTIN, Sept. 29.—Failure of the St. Edwards university football team to cross the Simmons university goal line in the scoreless game played at Abilene last Saturday, despite the fact that the Saints made twelve first downs, revealed to Coach Jack Meagher weaknesses that he will set about energetically to correct in preparation for the game with Texas Tech at Lubbock next Saturday.

Backfield Good
The backfield performed brilliantly at times, but at other times got into difficulties that led to disastrous penalties. Individually the backfield men showed power. Dyer carried the ball for substantial gains time after time, and Captain O'Shaughnessy ripped through the Cowboy line for some nifty gains. Schmitz, at quarterback, ran the team acceptably, and with more experience he should make a good field general. Stevens did not come up to all expectations at carrying the ball, but he did some consistent punting.

As was expected, the end positions were the weakest on the Saint team. The three men who played end, Brothman, Hannan and Frisch, are inexperienced as wing men. They showed to good advantage on the defense, but also showed the need of more experience on the offense. It is safe to say that Coach Meagher will give them some intensive work this week in an effort to put more punch into the Saint attack. He has always turned

Mustangs Clash With Brownwood Squad Saturday

(Special To The Journal)
DALLAS, Sept. 29.—Next Saturday at Owenby stadium the S. M. U. Mustangs are due for their second gallop of the season with the Howard Payne Yellow Jackets furnishing the opposition, although Daddy Amis has a habit of turning out winning teams at Brownwood. In 1926 his Jackets were potent enough to sting the Mustangs into defeat.

The Mustangs looked in their smashing 68 to 0 defeat of the Denton teachers in their opening game. Offensively the red and blue eleven looked as great, if not greater, than the powerful bull-toting aggregation which won the championship last season. The opposition furnished was not severe enough to give Morrison a real insight into the defensive strength of his men.

Many stars flashed in the red and blue backfield. There was Mann, the little red arrow, directing his team in the selfsame cool fashion of last season; Hame, a washing phantom; Lynch and Fincher with their dazzling speed together with such other players as Knieff, Love, Craig and Reed. As for the line, the lone weakness seemed to be at center, where the sub centers were off in passing the ball.

Morrison Getting Ready For Missouri

DALLAS, Sept. 29.—Although the Missouri-S. M. U. game will not be played until October 22, Coach Ray Morrison is planning the plays with which he hopes to defeat the strong Missouri valley team.

Morrison was not satisfied with the tie which he got at Columbia last year and is determined that it shall be a different story this season. His Mustangs are just as determined. They are rarin' to stomp the Missouri eleven into submission, and believe they can do just that.

TAHOKA MEETS LITTLEFIELD IN TODAY'S CLASH

SLATON TIGERS BEAT PLAINVIEW 6 TO 0 WEDNESDAY

Littlefield high school will meet the Tahoka high school football team here this afternoon in the third gridiron clash to be offered to patrons of the Panhandle and South Plains fair. The game is scheduled to begin at 3:30 o'clock. Both teams being in class B, the game will count in the conference percentage, and for this season, each team will make an especially determined effort to win.

Slaton Beats Plainview
In yesterday afternoon's game the Slaton high Tigers defeated the Plainview high Bulldogs by a score of 6 to 0 as the result of a lucky break in the early part of the game. Captain Hamilton, tackle for the Tigers, recovered a fumble by "Poe" Wee Macell, Bulldog captain, and ran 60 yards for the only score of the game.

Prior to this break, there had been only three plays. Plainview kicked off to Slaton. On the second line play by the Tigers, Owens fumbled and the ball was recovered by Plainview. Then Magill made his costly fumble.

Good Pass Combination
Slaton had a good passing combination, completing five heaves for a gain of 74 yards during the game. Plainview threatened to score twice but were unable to put over the counter necessary for victory. For the most part, however, the game was played in midfield, with many exchanges of punts.

Broken field running by Schroeder of the Bulldogs was a feature of the game. Captain Magill also played a good offensive game, and

Westerners Will Meet Whirlwinds In Fair Program

Coaches Henry Frnka and Del Morgan of the Westerners worked the local high school gridiron machine out this morning at the Merrill park in preparation for the Whirlwinds of Floydada high school in the fourth football grid contest of the fair program Friday. The boys were all taken to the game between the Littlefield and Tahoka machines at the fair park this afternoon.

The Westerners are being looked on as the underdogs for the Whirlwind-Lubbock game tomorrow afternoon as the Floydada eleven marched to victory over the Plainview Bulldogs at the Floyd county fair last week-end with a score of 6 to 0. With but four letter men back to wage battle against the strong weavers of the green and white Coaches Frnka and Morgan are looking hopefully towards victory.

The probable lineup for the fair will be: Whitesides and Kerr, ends; Wadell, Plainview fullback, showed plunging ability.

The play of Owens, Hamilton and Nichols stood out for the Slaton team.

The Lineup
Plainview—POS—Slaton
Sone L. E. Nichols
Simpson L. T. Greer
Cousineau L. G. Cooper
Stevens C. Wisnycer
Bond R. B. Shelby
Carter R. T. Hamilton (c)

Wadell F. B. Wooliver

Substitutes, Plainview—Laird for Terrell, Smith for Cross; Slaton—Covington for Bennett, McAtee for Shelby.

Officials: Davis (Texas A. and M.) referee; McMillan (Texas A. and M.) umpire; Lowery (T.C.U.) field judge.

Billiard Champ To Attempt Comeback

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Another former world's champion will attempt a comeback when Walter Cochran of Hollywood, Calif., defends his 18.2 ball line Billiard title against Eric Hagenlacher of Germany in a 1,500 point match starting tonight.

The match will be played in three blocks of 500 points, each, ending Saturday night.

Cochran won the championship in the world's tournament at Washington last spring with five victories and one defeat. He defeated Jake Schaefer Hagenlacher, Edouard Moreman, Felix Grange and Matsuyama and lost to Willis Hopper, Hagenlacher, who once held the title, finished second with two defeats, thus earning the right to challenge.

Amarillo Sports Writer Sees Tech Warriors Today

Charley Hall, sports editor of the Amarillo News-Globe, was numbered among the 150 Amarillo boosters and is down primarily to take a glimpse of Ewing Y. Freeland's Texas Tech Matadors. Mr. Hall stated that the interest is growing tense among the Amarillo and Panhandle fans for the Texas Tech-Texas A. and M. football game, to be played on Friday, October 28, at the Matador gridiron.

"I know that I will be here and I am of the opinion that some 500 more Amarillo football bugs will be along to witness in almost classic gridiron event of West Texas," Mr. Hall stated. Arrangements have been made by the officers of the Texas A. and M. Panhandle club for 500 reservations for the game October 28.

The Matadors play one of their games of the 1927 calendar on the Amarillo field this season, the game with Sul Ross Teachers college of Alpin will be battled at Amarillo on October 22.

Livestock Exhibit Is Best In History

Two "huge successes" of the fair cannot be overlooked in the livestock department. If you ask the hundreds of interested visitors who have availed themselves of the opportunity of seeing the best and largest livestock exhibitions in the history of West Texas. They are "Forever-An-Age," a six-year old Poland China hog, and "Bonnie Prince," a Hereford bull.

"Forever-An-Age," owned by the Lillard farms, occupies a box stall large enough to house an ordinary sized horse and weighs 1,084 pounds, while "Bonnie Prince," shown and owned by the Gist farms, tips the scales at 2,700 pounds. The big honed Poland China hog has won 39 grand championships, including one at the Missouri State fair, the sign above his stall says. Both surpass anything of their kind ever shown here.

Billy Evans Says:

"How many home runs are you going to make this year?" I put that question to Babe Ruth at St. Petersburg, Fla., about the middle of last March, as I sat on the Yankee bench watching the New York club work out in spring training.

The Babe had just returned from the plate after his customary time-out during the practice session in three swings at the ball, two of his efforts resulted in long drives to right that would have landed far up in that section of the Yankee stadium bleachers.

"I'm in great shape," he replied. "I would like to break my record of 59 but I don't think I will be able to do it. However, I am positive I will make 50 home runs this year. You can quote me as strong as you want to on that one."

Despite my knowledge of Ruth's extraordinary slugging power, I doubted his ability to make good on his boast of 50 home runs. It struck me as if he was biting off entirely too much.

On September 11, exactly three weeks before the close of the 1927 American League season, with 17 games still to play, Ruth made good his spring prediction of 50 home runs or bust.

It was in a game that also had another unusual angle in connection with it, wholly aside from the fact that Ruth reached the half century mark in circuit clouts. This game marked the first victory the St. Louis Browns scored over the Yanks in 22 starts.

Ruth made his 50th home run off Pitcher Mill Gaston, one of the best right handers in the American League, who allowed only five hits to register the sole win that St. Louis was able to score over New York all season.

Since the major league schedules consist of 154 games, in order to make 50 home runs in the season, it meant Ruth must hit a home run every third game. That's quite some task, but he proved equal to it.

Now the momentous question, relative to Ruth's 1927 home run spree, is what chance has he to break his record of 59 made in 1927? I doubt if he can do it.

If Ruth is to break his remarkable performance of 1927, it means that he must average one home run every other game, which, with 19 to go, would make his total for the year an even 60, breaking the old mark by one homer.

As a matter of fact, Ruth's 50 home runs of this year is practically as meritorious a feat as his 59, made seven years ago. The fact is lost sight of that Ruth in 1921 benefitted by a rule that has since been changed. Until July of 1921, the umpire judged the ball fair or foul, according to where it was when it passed out of the playing field. The old rule, to which baseball has returned, makes it compulsory for the umpire to watch the ball until it finally passes from his view in determining whether it is fair or foul.

As far as I am able to learn from a canvass of the American League umpires, Ruth, in 1921, profited to the extent of eight home runs on drives that would merely be foul balls this year.

Camel

Climbing to new heights of popularity

Government figures show that more Camels are being smoked today than ever before. One after another Camels passed them all.

If all cigarettes were as good as Camel you wouldn't hear anything about special treatments to make cigarettes good for the throat. Nothing takes the place of choice tobaccos.

Plague Victims Are Honored By Annual Ceremony

(By Associated Press)
 EYAM, England, Sept. 27—Unlike Oberammergau, in the Bavarian Alps, Eyam was not spared from the plague. It has no Passion play, but holds a service annually to commemorate the spirit of the brave villagers who fought to contain the disease which in 1665 carried off 230 of the 350 inhabitants of the little Yorkshire hamlet.

Ten thousand persons attended the services this year. They were held on the very grassy hillside, beside Pulpit Rock, where two and a half centuries ago William Mompesson, the rector of the village church, preached every Sunday to the plague-stricken congregation. The rector's wife died with the plague. But he and the surviving members of the parish kept up the fight to prevent the disease from spreading to the neighboring territory.

The disease reached Eyam from London in a box of clothing sent to George Vicars, a local tailor. When it began taking its toll of death the vicar exhorted the villagers not to flee from the village and spread it to the surrounding country. He led his parishioners in caring for the sick.

Jack Lockwill's Forest Rangers

(Creator of Frank Merriwell)

By Gilbert Patten

It was mid-afternoon when Jack Lockwill and his two companions, Willie Darling and Tom McNally, came into a clearing in the depths of the big woods. Dressed in khaki-colored woollens and wearing heavy face-boots, they had been pressing northward into the virgin forest for three days. "Hooryay!" cried Willie, pointing at an old log hut. "Here's a camp for us!"

"The place looks deserted," said Jack as they approached the hut. "Anyhow, maybe we can reach Enchanted Mountain before dark." "Look!" said Tom, pointing at the door.

"Now that's what I call rank inhospitality!" barked Willie, after he had grasped the meaning of the warning sign on the door. "I'm tired, and I'm going to stop here."

Darling strode forward with the bold air of a lion, and rapped on the door. "I guess there's nobody home," said Jack, "and I don't like the looks of this place anyway. Let's keep on to Enchanted." "I'm going to take a peek inside," declared Willie, grasping the door and yanking it open. The roar of a gun came from within the hut, and Darling went down! (To Be Continued)

Know that the foods you serve are safe

Frigidaire prevents the unseen mold that imperils health

NOT for a minute would you think of risking the health of yourself and family by serving food on which mold appears. But do you realize that mold is often present from ten to twelve hours before it is visible to the naked eye? The microscope reveals that this is true.

The only protection against this unseen danger is to keep perishable foods in a dry atmosphere and in a refrigerating temperature of less than 50°. Frigidaire electric refrigeration meets both these requirements.

With all its advantages, Frigidaire is low in price. It can now be bought for as small a sum as $180 f. o. b. Dayton. And terms are so convenient that it is easily within your family budget. See a demonstration now.

THE PLAINSMAN

Says:

That Girl on Broadway says she can't understand why the 1927 Panhandle-South Plains exposition is called a "fair".

With her far the greatest livestock, agriculture and women's exhibits in the fourteen years history of the fair you'd be surprised how many people go out to the grounds, watch the fireworks and other free attractions, walk around the carnival midway and then go home, saying "oh well, I suppose it's a pretty good fair but never cared much for 'em anyway."

It is incidents like those above that discourage the men and women who have worked, slaved, hoped and prayed for the success of the fair and it is people like those who fail to see the really important parts which prevent it from being in one big jump the greatest sectional fair in the United States.

People will go to a museum or a circus and stand for hours looking at some kind of a fake, painted species of animal which is not and never has been of any use under the sun but they'll go to an educational fair which displays wonderful, useful animals, raised by men in their own territory and see nothing interesting in them.

President Left Three Pounds And Some Of Nasal Twang In Black Hills, Says Dutcher, From Nation's Capital

By RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—According to the most common method of determining whether a man had a good vacation, Calvin Coolidge did not.

The president was away long enough to pick up a thick coat of tan on his many features, but apparently one is protected from the sun's rays when he wears a cowboy hat and so the president has little to show for his trip.

There is some argument as to whether Mr. Coolidge is fatter or thinner and as to whether he looks better or worse than when he went away, but the truth seems to be that he took off perhaps something like three pounds and that his waistline circumference is slightly shorter.

After looking the president over at his first press conference since his return, one also decides that he looks a little healthier if anything. The visit out west seems to have taken a little more Yankee twang out of the Coolidge speech. Not that he came back talking like a plainsman is supposed to talk according to the movies, but the president doesn't talk nearly so much like a rural area as when he first came to Washington.

What impressed the correspondents most of all, however, was the fifty suit in which the president blossomed out to greet them. It was a very light gray which looked as if it might have been borrowed from son John's wardrobe. Perhaps the suit was not quite as devilish as that of some of John's suits, but the outfit was in vivid contrast to the black or otherwise dark and formal clothes in which Washington great lights are accustomed to seeing the president.

Some of the correspondents who were west with Mr. Coolidge claimed to have noted that he was much more talkative than he used to be in Washington. They say that on trips out of Rapid City, notably the Yellowstone trip, he burst into a series of extemporaneous speeches from the rear platform and other vantage points which surprised everyone who knew him.

Of course the president isn't supposed to do any talking at the press conference, but the untanned gentleman in the light gray suit who spoke for him certainly was loquacious as compared with the popular idea of the presidential silence. As a matter of fact, "Silent Cal" tradition has always been something of a myth anyway. Often the president is taciturn, but on other occasions he talks and talks.

Apparently many humorous incidents which occurred at Rapid City and the state game lodge of South Dakota haven't got into print. One of the correspondents threatens to write a magazine story about them under an assumed name, however.

One of the experiences which stands out in the minds of the returning correspondents is the five-mile climb up an almost perpendicular hill to the McKelvie ranch, when the buckboard wagon bearing the president and his party, under this rain-moistened sky, This, then, is the picture of Manhattan which seems to me most worth carrying away and if ever you are in New York I invite you to this rock of summer that you may feel your insignificance and, contemplating the glacial rock beneath your feet, the insignificance of the city itself.

Underfoot is a great boulder. At some time in the vast faraway, a glacier moved slowly and inexorably over the spot on which I stand, heaving up the earth, tumbling up rocks and carrying rivers. So long ago that no one remembers or tries to—Least of all the sailor and his sweetie who sit in the attic thatched bench place and do not know that the sun is setting and do not care.

Once a giant of ice escaped from some Arctic mooring and crept by—A thing mightier even than the city. A thing that could have crushed and broken the city as though it were so much frosting upon a cake.

And from the boulder the city seems to move down, slowly, slowly crowding out its people. There is something glacial about it.

LAW VIOLATES THE LAW

A motorist in Hartford, Conn., is arrested for driving without a windshield wiper, where this appliance is demanded by law. But the policeman who made the arrest had no windshield wiper on his car, neither did most of the other police cars in the city.

However, the motorist was fined and thus converted to the ever-growing doctrine that "preachers must, all others may not."

That this applies to the traffic police in practically all cities of the country may be ascertained by merely watching them in their daily rounds.

A traffic policeman in a speedy roadster scoots out of a side street, where any other driver has to stop first. A motorcycle cop rushes through traffic, winding in and out of lines recklessly, where any other motorist would soon be apprehended for reckless driving.

Acts like these are unnecessary, even in the case of the high and mighty "police," except when they are rushing to a fire, to a hospital or after a prospective victim. Reckless driving and inattention to the motor laws, they are assigned to see respected not only add to the dangers of motoring but set a poor example to the citizenry.

The preacher, above all, must be stigma-proof. The traffic policeman is the preacher of the highways. He cannot gain respect while he himself shows no respect for the traffic laws—Amarillo News.

In all towns it seems that the condition is very much the same. The general public is required to track the rules of the roads and the streets, but the man in "authority" gets by with a lot of things. We look upon it that a fellow who is enforcing the laws should be living, walking or riding examples of the things they are expecting the other fellows to do. We have noticed however that the majority of the men who take the jobs as traffic cops, policemen and other authoritative jobs, that the job usually goes quickly to their head, and before long they are thinking more about sticking the other fellow than obeying the laws of the land themselves. We are absolutely in favor of law enforcement, but there is no use to try to enforce the laws with men who violate them every day themselves.

This is what is the trouble with the exhibition laws of this country today. They are trying to enforce them with men who "drink" and this cannot be done. No respect for the laws can be demanded if those in authority do not live it themselves.

TALE SPINNERS FORM LIARS' CLUB

By NEA Service
PANA, Ill.—While motoring through Oklahoma recently, Carl H. Preine was attacked by a band of hostile Indians, but he seized a tomahawk from one and slew 45 of them.

That is the story told from a speaker's platform here by Preine himself. The statement may be explained by the fact that he is secretary of the Central Illinois Liars' Association.

Business and professional men organized the club because they wanted a social organization that would be "different." Once a month they get together for a session of well-told falsehoods, and the ones who tell the biggest whoppers are made officers. Members point out that they never mix their pleasure with business affairs.

TUNNEY SET BACK BY HIS LET-DOWNS, says a headline. We suppose Dempsey came back by his speed-up.

Flapper Fanny

We heard some of the Seattle people had canceled their reservations for the Dempsey-Tunney spectacle in Illinois. That's the advantage of having Mt. Rainier.

The way some of these Republican candidates have been acting of late, when convention time comes around there'll be nobody to attend.

ing ex-Governor McKelvie and the Coolidge became so heavy on the horses that the president of the United States got out and pushed. A ponderous movie photographer who weighs at least twice as much as the president then clambered into the wagon to grind away at the countless perspiring Mr. Coolidge.

The correspondents, plodding some ten feet behind, began to tire. A loud argument began as to whether the president was pulling or just hanging on.

All that dresses leave to the imagination is what makes them so expensive.

Women's Clubs To Study Bible More

Leader Believes

(By Associated Press)
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 25.—A more widespread study of the Bible in women's clubs is predicted by Mrs. H. S. Godfrey, director of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, who believes in the Bible both as literature and as a source of moral teaching.

"To frequently one hears that the interest in Bible study is waning," says Mrs. Godfrey. "On the contrary, I see a very vital modern interest in its study. This is evidenced by current publications and movements for religious education buildings. One needs to be reminded that our government rests upon the Bible."

There are many attractive methods of presenting the Bible in its relation to art, music, drama, pageantry and motion pictures.

"In answer to alleged criticism that Bible study intensifies discord," I wish to say that such study has quite the opposite effect. Bible study offers the opportunity for learning the spirit of tolerance when the rule of stressing the spiritual rather than the material prevails.

Missing Heir To Fortune Found In Quiet Restaurant

(By Associated Press)
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 28.—Search for the missing heir to the Reynolds tobacco millionaires ended here last night in a quiet restaurant.

Private detectives found Reynolds dining with a pretty young woman who later vanished, and a man who identified himself as Hanshaw Jones.

The $250,000 race track account of Reynolds, who tipped Hargrave detective agency to Reynolds whereabouts. Earlier in the day Jones offered to produce Reynolds for $3,000. The agency, after getting in touch with the trustees of the Reynolds estate, agreed to pay the money.

The finding of young Reynolds closed a search which had spread from New York to Chicago, St. Louis, southern Illinois and to Florida. At first, when one of the detectives asked him if he were not the missing president of the Reynolds Airways, Inc., Reynolds made denial. When the questioner persisted, Reynolds acknowledged his identity. He said he merely had been on vacation and had been living under an assumed name to prevent being "bothered."

Outraged Reporters
After being questioned at the office of the detective, Reynolds left in an automobile with such speed that a pursuing newspaperman's car was easily outdistanced. He said he was leaving for New York today.

"I told Captain Manville Davis, where I was going," he expostulated. "I haven't done anything criminal. If a man in New York whom I told where I was going had merely delivered a message, this wouldn't have happened."

If seemed perturbed over the publicity his vacation was drawing. Reynolds, who is 21 years old, explained that he had come to Chicago to see the Tunney-Dempsey fight. From there he came to St. Louis.

The detective agency said, "Some more investigating would be done before the $3,000 is paid to Jones."

MAKE-BELIEVE-PIE
Children too young to have party, may have fruit baked in a piepan, covered with bread crumbs, which looks like pie to them.

WINDOW BOXES
Before filling with dirt, window boxes should be whitewashed inside, as this discourages insects and prevents the boxes from rotting.

Gilbert Swan To Write For Journal From French And English Capitals

Gilbert Swan—perceives the zestful things of life.

GILBERT SWAN, whose "In New York" column is a daily delight to readers of the Journal, has said good-bye to Broadway for a few weeks. He has gone abroad.

You soon will be reveling in a new series of Gilbert Swan word photos—"A New Yorker in Paris." And then—"A New Yorker in London."

ODD bits of life, queer incidents, strange places, interesting people in these two great cities of Europe will be silhouetted by Swan in his Paris and London columns just as he has cross-sectioned life in New York in the past—and will do again when he returns.

That this keenest of observers is to write about life in the French and English capitals from the vantage point of long and intimate familiarity with New York—our own greatest human mosaic—spells a promise of captivating articles to come. Swan is a student of humanity.

find limitless fields of "human interest" in Paris and London he will "return" to roam.

MANY-SIDED is Swan's faculty of perceiving the zestful things of life. Rare is his talent for sketching, for the enjoyment of others, the things and the personalities he perceives.

These traits set him apart from ordinary writers. He fills in the printed record of mankind's sun-to-gun work and play with intimate details, with sharp highlights, with colorful backgrounds that other eyes and minds have failed to mirror.

Through Swan, during his visit to Europe, you will become acquainted with Paris and London as you have not had an opportunity to before.

Preston Slated For Presidency Of Bankers Ass'n

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—Thomas Ross Preston, successively a farm boy, Tennessee school teacher and runner for a bank, becomes president of the American Bankers Association this fall.

Preston, now first vice-president of that association, is unopposed for the presidency and according to custom is slated to succeed to that office. The retiring president is Melvin A. Taylor, head of the First Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago.

The career is typically American. While teaching in the free country schools of Tennessee he took up the study of law in the office of an attorney who was president of a bank. He soon developed the desire to be a banker and volunteered to work without compensation for the experience.

Afterward he became runner for the Traders National Bank of Tulsa, Okla., Tenn., augmenting his wages by working nights in the freight office of a railroad. He is now a director of the road.

From bookkeeper to cashier and finally to president was his order of promotion with the Hamilton Trust and Savings bank of Chattanooga. Still retaining his position, he, with others, organized the Hamilton National bank of Chattanooga and he became president of this bank also.

The annual convention of the Bankers' association will be held at Houston, Texas, October 24 to 27.

A $40,000,000 PLANT

Behind Budweiser Real Hop Malt Syrup is the finest plant of its kind in the world, a $40,000,000 structure comprising more than 110 separate buildings and covering more than 70 city blocks. A million-dollar unit is devoted just to sorting, grading, cleaning and malting the natural barley grains.

This entire plant is designed, built and equipped for malting. Facilities for the proper storage of barleys and hops are provided. Every operation is done by automatic machines built to standards set by Anheuser-Busch. And every step of manufacture is under the watchful guidance of the world's foremost maltsters.

It takes a plant like this—an organization like that of Anheuser-Busch—and the experience of Anheuser-Busch—to produce a malt as good as Budweiser Real Hop Malt Syrup. Do you know of any other place on earth where such a combination can be found?

CHURCH PRESS STILL MIGHTY FORCE, CLAIM

STIRS ENTIRE NATION WITH HOPEFUL NEWS PASTOR ASSERTS

By REV. FRED BROWN HARRIS
Pastor Foundry Methodist Episcopal Church, Washington, D. C., and President of the Washington Federation of Churches

In spite of the fact that in this vociferous age there are so many voices in the air, it is a matter of rejoicing that the voice of the religious press is still mighty.

Early Training
A government official recently appointed to an important task, in giving an interview referred to the early background of his life. He said that he was born in a poor neighborhood in the middle west where the last word about most questions could not be said until a certain religious weekly had been received and they had heard from Buckley. Granted, times have changed since the versatile editor of the Christian Advocate was the arbiter of so many breakfast tables, still the number of those whose views are colored by hearing from the editor of some religious publication is legion.

When one thinks of the 5,920,000 Methodists, the 4,397,000 Baptists, the 2,446,000 Lutherans the 2,561,000 Presbyterians, the 1,844,000 Episcopalians, and many others, and considers the number of those whose opinions are affected by the impressions that come to them from some religious journal, it is evident that there are a good many bottles of choleraic ink per week hurled at devils more real than any Latin or Greek.

Owe Much to Press
The great story of pastors and church members owes much to the ministry of the church press. It feeds their minds, encourages their efforts, stretches out their horizons, saves them from provincialism, turns the currents of world affairs and world thought through their own tiny parishes. It sounds lyrics of prophecy and progress that in local fields often changeeringly compromise into militant marches. It brings an antidote for the poison that seeps into many homes from the unwholesome literature.

Need Reassuring Voice
Nothing is more needed in the present situation than that, with so many snoring and cynical voices, there should be a reassuring voice. At the recent meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce in Washington, two speakers made statements with regard to the success of prohibition which were startling in their vindication of this great moral experiment. The public press did not broadcast the statement.

But such news as that, however, the religious press is constantly sending out.

The shortest war was that declared by the Sultan of Zanzibar against Great Britain in 1893. It lasted 46 minutes.

Fair Exhibitors Of Other Towns Banqueted Here

Out-of-town exhibitors at the 1927 Panhandle-South Plains Fair were guests last night at a banquet given at Hotel Lubbock by the fair association in celebration of the phenomenal success which has greeted the efforts of the association this far.

There were approximately 80 men from Lubbock and surrounding communities present, and quite a few out-of-town ladies.

Dr. I. E. Burr, president of the fair board, acted as toastmaster. The banquet was begun at 6:30 o'clock with invocation by James L. Dow, editor of the Morning Avalanche. Spencer A. Wells, president of the Board of City Development, pledged the support of that organization to the welfare of this section. Mayor Pink L. Parrish welcomed the visitors in behalf of the citizens of Lubbock.

The Hitherwick Kiddies of Dallas, featured performers at the fair, were presented by Manager A. H. Davis of the fair, and entertained with dancing and rope acts. Piano accompaniment was given by C. M. Reese local music dealer.

Introduction of all the guests followed.

Enough heat comes from the sun each day to melt a cake of ice 5,000 feet thick.

Three little girls playing in a field near Monson, Mass., picked 107 four and five leaf clovers.

Snakes, Bullfrogs Great English Pets

LONDON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Quaint pets that Londoners keep in town flats are part of the exhibition of the British Aquarists association.

A small, heated conservatory in an apartment will suffice for a six-foot python in a small case, or a family of baby alligators, exhibits demonstrate. Lizards, chameleons, bullfrogs and balloon frogs are among the strange pets.

One of the pets is "Gecko," a small lizard which eats nothing but bananas. Fish on display include "bubble" fish, which build bubble nurseries for the breeding of their young amphibians which carry eggs and young in their mouths, and fish which eat the larvae of mosquitoes.

Sunshine Welcomed By Fair Visitors

Sunshine weather, welcomed alike by fair officials and by cotton farmers greeted Lubbock yesterday and this morning. Yesterday's maximum temperature was 75 degrees, reached in the afternoon, the mercury rising from a minimum of 43 degrees registered early Wednesday morning.

Hot weather is the greatest need of the cotton now, it is believed, as such weather is necessary for maturing the lint.

Bible Union For City Incorporated

Incorporation of the Laymen's Bible Union of Lubbock was granted by the department of state at Austin yesterday, according to advisors received here. The union is inter-denominational, and will encourage evangelistic work.

Directors of the organization are: Judge Hill Stewart, W. R. Kelley, Dr. W. M. Leonard, Dr. J. R. Carver, H. J. Lowery, W. R. Perry, Otto Geisler, Ed. F. Mann, W. E. Curtis, C. E. Cole, A. L. Page, W. C. Wood, Dell Williams, Paul Barber and John L. Vaughan.

Much Speed Shown In Fair Fire Drill

Speed in the last degree was registered by the members of the Lubbock Fire Department in their fire drills at the fair grounds during the past two nights. Four streams of water were turned on the drill tower exactly 60 seconds after the drill had started. In thirty seconds more a man had scaled the tower.

Two supposed victims were rescued from the tower much to the relief of a number of the spectators who could be heard to utter exciting cries when the fake flames began to envelop them.

A partridge flew through a 400 plate glass window at Banff, Alberta and dropped dead among the fragments.

Thieves Take Three Overcoats In City

Three overcoats were reported stolen here yesterday, following the recent cold snap, according to reports to the police department.

D. N. Ehrlick of the Little Hotel reported that his dark blue coat was stolen from his car, and offers a $20 reward for its recovery. C. R. Enyart suffered a similar loss; and W. S. Jackson of the Lidel hotel said that he saw a man take his coat from his car while it was parked. He offers a $15 reward for return of the coat.

INJURED BY AUTO

Miss Wray Hobgood of Route A, Lubbock, was painfully injured when struck by a car backing out of the fair grounds yesterday afternoon. Her foot was badly sprained and bruised, but no bones broken.

Said Elmer Wood to Frank Stone while on a hunting trip in the Canadian Rockies.

Martin Johnson, Famous African Explorer, writes:

"While trailing big game in Africa, I have never been without my Lucky Strike Cigarette. Once on the Abyssinian border my shipment of them from America missed us, and I was miserable until the natives followed our tracks across the Kaisout desert to Nairobi with my precious cargo of Luckies. After 4 years of smoking Luckies in wildest Africa, I find my voice in perfect condition for my lecture tour in America."

Martin Johnson

You, too, will find that Lucky Strikes are mild and mellow—the finest cigarettes you ever smoked, made of the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—"It's toasted"—no harshness, not a bit of bite.

"It's toasted"

No Throat Irritation—No Cough.
