LISTING WANTED

Committee Accents Rent Property Need

Housing committee of the Chamber of Commerce began this week a campaign to locate rent property for the workers expected for the Morgan Creek Power Plant addition.

Sims Palmer, chairman of the Housing committee, presided at a luncheon meeting in Rogers Villa Restaurant at noon Thursday.

Gus D. Chesney, Chamber president, and Mrs. Don Gutar, acting manager, were present for the discussion session.

Chesney estimated that 200 workers will be employed at the power plant site and will need a place to live. All Colorado City citizens are urged to help the Housing committee find rental listing.

"Let's accommodate them in Colorado City, if we possibly can," said Palmer. "People with houses, apartments, rooms or trailer space are urged to list their rental property with the Chamber of Commerce, with a real estate firm, with the radio station or with the Colorado City Record."

Lorraine residents and property owners in Westbrook and Silver are also requested to notify the Chamber here if they have living space for rent—house, housekeeping rooms, trailer space, bedrooms.

Citizens throughout this county with property vacant because of needed repairs are urged by the Housing committee to "fix up and rent."

The estimated 200 workers, and their families, will be part of the town for about two years and will be citizens on a "revolving basis" as workers for various sub-contractors finish and others move in.

The economy of town and county will be vastly improved if homes can be found for construction workers and engineers here for the giant project, Palmer pointed out.

"We need listings of all available and livable space," Palmer said, "and we earnestly ask full cooperation from everybody."

Now on display: the most beautiful Chrysler ever built.

This is Chrysler '65. The big one that delivers. Luxury that reflects your good taste, for one thing. A fast answer to your demands, for another.

Look at it. Clean-lined. Big. Beautiful. Eighteen feet of comfort. Two tons of security. Called Chrysler.

It's easier to get into and out of. There's lots of headroom, and legroom and hiproom.

Get in and drive it. The first thing you'll notice is best described as "scorch." Model 1965 is a very quick automobile.

And there's an improvement in ride you can really feel.

One more point. A Chrysler isn't all that expensive. Seven Newport models are actually priced just a few dollars a month more than some of the most popular smaller cars.

Visit your Chrysler dealer and see them all: economical Newport; sports-bred 300; and the luxurious New Yorker. Move up to Chrysler. Model 1965. The man who sells them will make it easy.

Seen in Bob Hope and The Chrysler Theatre, Friday evenings; NCAA Football, Saturday afternoons; and the World Series—all on NBC-TV.

Drive it!

For many years the carp congregated in an area. This was considered absolutely best done in fishing. Most worthless. It was rated as a popular system to simply to pest that contaminated our waters and did no good what soever.

Then an angler caught one of these bronze-colored scrapers on sport tackle. That incident shed new light on the carp's personality. Anticarp sentiment began to waver slightly. Maybe, just maybe, this carp wasn't as bad as most people led us to believe.

When it comes to public relations, the carp is about the sorriest fish that swims. It has carried this stigma of being a pest for so long that it doesn't know how to act in its newest role, that of a sport fish. But many people don't ruse the carp anymore. They're too busy having a ball catching it.

Five years ago it was rare to see anyone fishing for carp. Today carp fishermen are fairly commonplace on all our Texas lakes. There is good reason for this upsurge in popularity. A piscatorial survey in the Highland Lakes of Central Texas a few years back revealed, for instance, that the balance of fish population was something like 70 per cent rough fish and 30 per cent game fish.

This means, quite simply, that your odds of catching a rough fish are much better than a game fish.

Which brings us back to a much-debated question. Just what is a game fish? One that will hit an artificial bait? If this is the true goldstick, then the carp can't be classified as a game fish. But on the business end of a fishing line, this stubborn brawler does it self proud. It is a strong grudging scrapper that doesn't know what the word "quit" means.

But just because they are plentiful doesn't mean they are easy to catch. Quite the contrary. Carp, and its kinsman, the buffalo, can be just as ornery as a bass at times. The man who succeeds day in and day out, of course, is the person who knows his ABC's of carp-fishing technique.

You don't have to travel far to find a supply of catchable carp. They are literally everywhere. All of our man-made lakes carry an astronomical population. So do our streams. Only worry is getting them

When the carp is about the sorriest fish that swims. It has carried this stigma of being a pest for so long that it doesn't know how to act in its newest role, that of a sport fish. But many people don't ruse the carp anymore. They're too busy having a ball catching it.

Five years ago it was rare to see anyone fishing for carp. Today carp fishermen are fairly commonplace on all our Texas lakes. There is good reason for this upsurge in popularity. A piscatorial survey in the Highland Lakes of Central Texas a few years back revealed, for instance, that the balance of fish population was something like 70 per cent rough fish and 30 per cent game fish.

This means, quite simply, that your odds of catching a rough fish are much better than a game fish.

DISTINCTIVE STYLE—Pontiac's entry in the luxury sports car field is the Grand Prix sports coupe above. Completely restyled in 1965, this award-winning model features a new compartmented grille design in the front and three-bulb tail lamps recessed in horizontal grille bars in the rear. Floor console, bucket seats, new interiors and Pontiac's high performance V-8 engine are all standard on the Grand Prix.

CONVERSATION CORNER

THERE used to be a popular song long before music went mad—that had the appealing little title and the theme, "These Are the Things I Love."

A heart is happy, probably, in direct ratio to the number of things, places and people loved.

Because the word "love" has fallen into low estate since over-accents on its use for romance alone, think maybe we'd better substitute the more impersonal term, "enjoy."

What are the things you enjoy? Could you list them? It might lift the heart. And all hearts need lifting now and then.

THESE are the things... rain on the roof, on dripping wet leaves and on the windshield wipers as summer storms rippling toward the fall.

The sound of sudden laughter from usually solemn lips... The sound of singing when you're a little late for church... the sound of a violin... mewling sound Sheba's kittens make when she jumps back in their box after her stroll, early mornings.

THESE are things to enjoy... a sliver of a moon and the first star-light... crowds at a little county fair... the shrill rhythm of music from a merry-go-round.

And there is piano music played for yourself, by yourself, the "just a song at twilight" type... cosmetic counters with sample spray mists... magazine stands with time to browse.

There is going home... those quiet housecoat evenings... the special warm comfort of a cup of tea.

THESE, too... the toothless grin on a baby's face... the wag of a puppy dog's tail... record music, minds words... fireplace... coffee breaks... children coming home from school... waffles for Sunday... a surprise of any kind... rain-bows.

There is the joy of finding an unexpected little poem in the middle of some page... of talking to a bright teenager you're just getting to know.

There is that feel of being sheltered when night winds make the branches cry or thunder cuts across the stillness.

AND THEN there is the sound of the faithful postman putting letters in your box.

Monday brought a note from Luline Miles Minshew (Mrs. Charlie) of Odessa, Luline, daughter of Keith and Ida Miles, was saying among other things that the Minshew son Don works for Continental Trailways in Big D and frequently sees our Leoard Simon, a company president.

THIS WEEK there came, too, a card sent air mail from London. It bears a gorgeous picture of Queen Elizabeth and brings a quick note from Joe Earnest.

"Even a cat can—Joe begins (look at the queen, of course). "But though I was in Buckingham Palace I didn't see her. The weather is wonderful here and the countryside green and beautiful, with so many flowers."

A card to Annie Dixon noted that Joe is flying on to Amsterdam to see some friends.

THERE was once a poet who opined, remember, "The world is so full of a number of things, I'm sure we should all be as happy as kings."

Not sure just how happy kings are, in this generation. But there never was a day that the world was not so full of things to love, enjoy. The weather is just bound to suit you some of the time. Wouldn't you hate to live where it never changes? Seasons are things to love!

There's so much to enjoy. Things to love on this earth. When you take time to count them. And think what they're worth.

We can't all be kings or happy as such. But we can appreciate. We have so much!

HERE for the weekend in the home of Bitsie and Pete Humphreys were their newlywed son Tommy and his bride Henrietta. They are students in the University of Texas.

Saw Mary Post and Idalia Wood lunching together one rainy noontime... Connie Gomez, talking the Texas Baptist Crusade for Spanish speaking crusade... Monte Hardegree back at his desk in the tax back... Warren Costin our school board prexy.

HEAR TELL that the Atter Ellis family is back from New York state where they helped to organize a new Church of Christ.

Hear, too, that Central Baptists are planning formal opening for their beautiful new church building on Hickory St. upon its completion. Pastor is Rev. Sam Woolcock.

Shana Noble Bassinger (Mrs. Hubert) was headed Dallas last weekend to attend the wedding of her friend Sandy Landau.

VISITING relatives here and in Lorraine are Joe Mills and his wife Lorraine (Land) who lives in California. Mills was a well-known business man in C-City for many years before moving to the West Coast and is remembered here as longtime Chevy dealer before he sold his business interest. Mrs. Mills is the sister of our Anna Doss (Mrs. Henry).

HOME from a short stay in Ft. Worth is our F. P. (Favorite Person) Mary Lee wife of Ralph Lee. Mary still likes to see on occasion her college roommate from those days at Texas Christian University. Her old "roomie," by the way is a woman doctor who stands high in Texas medical circles.

Another hear tell has the Albert Janke, popular managers of Villa Inn here, leaving C-City for Abilene where they will manage Colonial Inn. The Jankes have made many friends in this town and will be missed. Al is a most active Lions Club member.

RAY Webb and his bride Jane (Pickens) are back.

Bear at the movies... Roy L. Holland, minister of 22nd & Austin St. Church of Christ... Harry Ratliff strolling along in the sprinkling rain... Don Benson... Jimmie Maddox and Raymond Fuller coffee breaking together at Doss Drug.

SAW two longtime Hospinian Study Club friends together... Mrs. Jim Watson and Mrs. Nat Thomas Sr., who was saying that the Thomas son T/Sgt. Nat Thomas Jr., is now stationed at Webb Air Base in Big Spring.

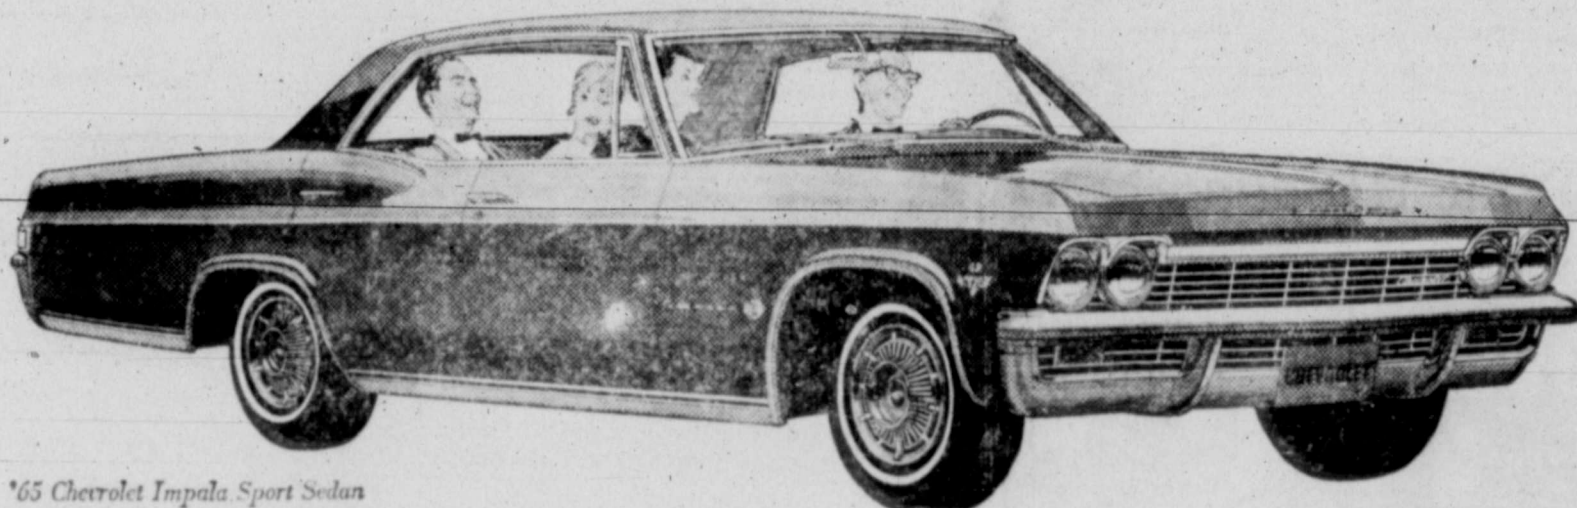

Sgt. Thomas, his wife Mona and their daughter Nina have always lived far, far away. First in Alaska and more recently in Washington D. C.

Ophelia (Mrs. Thomas) was also saying that Dana Merritt Carr, daughter of Jake and Eva, her husband Warren Carr (Sooter) and their children, Linda, Carol and David are moving from Durango, Colorado, to Holbrook, Arizona, where Sooter's been transferred.

THESE ARE the new teachers and principal this year at Colorado High. They are left to right Richard Lee, vocational agriculture, Miss Carolyn Baumann, physical education and civics, and Joe Burchard, principal.

DOING A MAN SIZED JOB...

People who always claim that this is a man's world just haven't met Freddie Guitar, maybe.

Mrs. Guitar, recently named acting manager for the C-City Chamber of Commerce, has been doing a man-sized job in that capacity for nearly a whole year now. She deserves a special tip of the hat along with some words of praise.

After office hours Freddie does a fine job of running her own woman's world, too. She's a homemaker, a wife and the mother of three daughters... and so four cheers for Freddie.

Letters To The Editor

Long ago there were some words that were in common use. Behind these words were ideas, principles, and convictions. Two of these words are "morality" and "integrity". Some folks think they have gone out of style. It may be old-fashioned to believe in and practice these truths, but they are timeless.

Integrity in daily life is a basic principle. The acceptance of another person's word, his rightness of motive, his essential honesty. When these simple elements of character are gone, everything worthwhile will be gone. Today there is gross disregard for truthfulness, integrity and honesty. This lack of basic morality has invaded just about every area of American life.

Nowhere is this return to integrity and morality needed more than in public life. Men in high office hold a sacred trust from the people who elect them to office. From the president down to the school board, they are responsible for the welfare of the people. It is their duty to be honest, to be fair, to be just, to be true. It is their duty to be men of integrity.

Refreshments of coffee, cakes, chocolate and lemon cakes were served from a lovely table with flower arrangement and candles and lace tablecloth. Members attending were Mrs. Wally Franklin, Jerry Smith, Larry Ransdale, Marie Brockett, Mae Key, R. H. Drennan, Wayne Whitcomb, Don Albright, Don Webb, John Turner, and John Denton.

practice these time-honored virtues, not out of expediency, but out of conscience.

Let us earnestly inquire into the character of the men who offer themselves for public office, and vote for those who will uphold the highest Christian principles. If we fail to support men of this kind, we will not only turn America over to corruption, but we will betray the ideals which Jesus taught his disciples to practice.

SOUTHWESTERN BELL

Ford Galaxie 500 TD

Improved performance with increased fuel economy for gas savings up to 15 per cent have been achieved in the tastefully restyled Ford Falcon for 1965. More powerful engines — including a redesigned 200-cubic-inch Six with seven main bearings for added smoothness — combine with three-speed Cruise-O-Matic or three-speed manual transmissions for the economy and performance improvement. New interiors and new instrument panel ornamentation; new low-profile tires; improved steering responsiveness; alternators and automatic chokes on all engines; and larger fuel tanks are other 1965 Falcon features.

The 13 new Falcon models including the Falcon Futura 2-door Hardtop (above), will be introduced in Ford dealer showrooms on Friday, September 25.

The Ford Galaxie 500 LTD series — a completely new line of super-luxury two- and four-door hardtop Fords for 1965 — features expensive interior fabrics. Simulated wood paneling is used in the instrument panel and door panels to provide a rich, warm atmosphere.

The new Ford suspension — more than 10 years in development — combines a unit-structure steel body with a torque box frame support and is cradled in the frame rather than sitting on top of it. Road shocks are absorbed by the suspension and torque frame rather than being transmitted to the body and its occupants.

New Look For '65 Chryslers

Chrysler cars for 1965 debuting Thursday in Colorado City at Frank Motor Co., are completely new automobiles with a longer wheelbase, increased interior room, more powerful engines and improved riding comfort.

The 1965 Chrysler is all new in its metal sculpture. Added to the line are three new entries: a Newport four-door Town Sedan, a New Yorker two-door hardtop and a New Yorker Town Sedan. These additions give Chrysler 17 models in 1965, according to Frank Derogibus of Frank Motor.

The 1965 Chrysler in three series—New Yorker, the Sports 300, including the 300L, and the Newport—has a wheelbase of 124 inches, an increase of two inches over 1964 models, and an overall length of 218.2 inches, an increase of 2.9 inches.

long and low. The lower part of the body has a long, gently arching shape. The Newport and 300 two-door hardtops have convertible-type roof lines. All models have full-length fender lines, accentuating the impression of lowness and sleekness.

Among the new styling features are extra side windows in the New Yorker and Newport four-door Town Sedans, giving them a total of six side windows. The two extra windows are in the rear roof gasoline, a 383-cubic inch distinctive styling appeal. All models have curved glass side windows.

The new models have increased interior room, large door openings and bigger glass area. The sedans have 13 inches greater front headroom and 15 inches greater rear seat legroom.

Twenty-one exterior colors are available in 1965. The new improved acrylic enamels feature 15 standard and six extra cost finishes. New colors include moss gold, silver mist, frost turquoise and mist blue metallic.

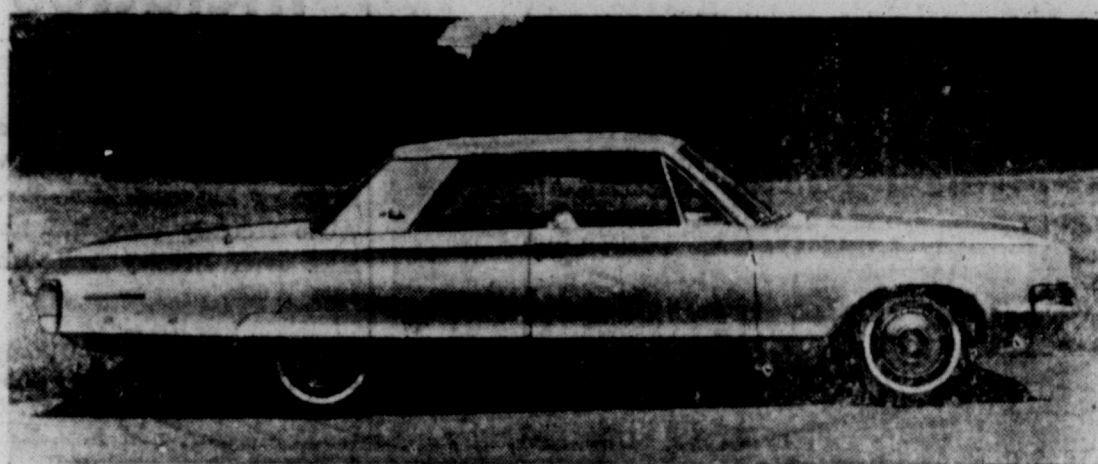

To provide improved performance on regular grade quarters panels, providing a engine with a 9.2 to 1 compression ratio and two barrel carburetor is standard in the Newport series, replacing the 361-cubic inch engine used in Newports. A high performance 383-cubic inch four-barrel premium fuel engine is available in the Newport.

The 300 series again has a 383-cubic inch engine with a four-barrel carburetor and a compression to 10 to 1, using premium fuel. The New Yorker has a refined version of the 413-cubic inch engine which improves car performance.

The 300L has a high performance version of the 413-cubic inch with a special camshaft and dual exhausts. The engine is also optional in the New Yorker and 300 series. All engines have refinements in carburetor control mechanisms, ignition systems and electrical components designed to extend reliability and provide quiet, trouble-free operation.

All engines have refined exceptional ride, resulting from extensive improvements of the Torsion-Aire suspension system and better sound isolation.

1965 Chrysler Look Is Long And Low

Front torsion bars are longer, with lower spring at the rear anchors isolate them from the car body. Sway rates, Rubber shear mounts bars are standard and shock absorbers are mounted vertically to minimize friction. Increased wheel travel in bounce and rebound comes with softer rubber bumpers to soften the ride.

Rear springs are longer and have lower spring rates. A separate rear shock absorber cross member attached to the longitudinal helps keep road noise out of the car and jounce travel is increased.

The 1965 Chrysler line consists of 17 models, in three series, nine of the models available with a reclining front passenger bucket seat, and optional front seat head rests.

The volume Newport economy series has a full range of body types—two-door and four-door hardtops, sedans and town sedans, two-seat and three-seat station wagons and a convertible.

The 300 sports series cars are available as two-door and four-door hardtops and as a convertible. The 300L is available as a two-door hardtop or convertible.

The New Yorker series, the luxury leader of the line, includes a new two-door hardtop, a town sedan, a four-door hardtop and two-seat and three-seat station wagons.

Bring out the beauty in your home...

with modern light for living...

The lighting in your home can do much more than merely dispel darkness. Good light in the living room, for example, can add an atmosphere of charm and cheer. It can bring out the beauty of your furnishings. It can make the room a hospitable background for entertaining... and an inviting center for your family's leisure hours.

To enjoy both beauty and eye comfort in the living room, you need three kinds of light: (1) general lighting for overall room illumination; (2) local lighting at chairs and sofas for close visual tasks; (3) accent lighting for decorative purposes. Your lighting dealer will gladly help you choose the lamps and fixtures you need for modern light for living. Or call our office and we'll send a lighting specialist to help you with suggestions.

TEXAS ELECTRIC SERVICE COMPANY
DON BENSON, Manager RA 8-2331

For close visual tasks, like reading or sewing, portable lamps should be a part of each furniture grouping. The average living room needs from three to five portable lamps.

Overall lighting adds glamour and spaciousness to rooms. A lighted valance like this provides indirect light on the ceiling plus dramatic down light on drapes and wall.

Accent lighting with recessed or exposed downlights brings out focal points of beauty. Lighted wall brackets may be used for the same purpose.
