"Childress County Crops Need Rain."

We kind smiled when we read the above headline in one of the daily papers last week.

Not that there is anything funny about crops needing rain. All of us can see that it's too serious to be funny.

But why cite one county's crops as needing rain? The same could have been said about Knox County's crops, Haskell County's crops, Baylor County's crops, Nolan County's crops, etc.

Just pick out any county in West Texas, or the great Southwest for that matter—and they are all needing rain.

It's kinda depressing to drive along the highways or country roads and see the burned up maize fields; the cotton plants that gave so much promise a few weeks ago, "if it'll just rain."

Now the cotton is drooping and turning brown, displaying a lone white bloom, right at the top, which means that "finis" is just about to be written.

And as we catch the weather reports on newscasts, they remain about the same. "Fair and continued hot today, tonight and tomorrow. Widely scattered thundershowers in some areas."

Water is very essential in the production of crops. Which brings us to the subject of irrigation.

Farmers with irrigation wells are the ones who hold continued hopes for a harvest this fall.

"Anything will wilt down in this weather, even with moisture," we opined the other day as the thermometer climbed above the 100-degree mark for another day.

We were standing beside an irrigation well that was belching forth a six-inch stream of water.

"Water makes the difference," a friend said. He waved his hand to the southeast and said: "Just look out yonder. You can see to the row where that cotton has been watered. That which has received plenty of water isn't wilting."

And we saw the difference. We saw it, too, in a patch of maize.

Water coming from the well flowed right down the middles in this maize field. The eye could follow to a row that which had been watered.

This was on the Hobert place north of town. The maize had been planted on wheat stubble. Without the irrigation water the feed would probably have never come up. At present, a bumper crop is in prospect.

A second well was being dug on the Hobert place, and materials were in place for a third well, but over on another Hobert farm.

The boys with the pretty crops are those who have applied the water and the work. There's lots of work to irrigation, they say.

The boys with the poor crops are those who have applied the work, and nature failed to supply the water.

In our opinion, better than 50 irrigation wells have been dug in the vicinity of Munday. Others have been dug in the Knox City, Goree areas and near Rochester, as well as other sections of Haskell County.

Several rigs have been kept busy for several weeks in Haskell and Knox Counties, as other farmers have become converted to the idea of supplying water themselves when nature fails.

Some wells are weaker than others, and irrigation is limited to fewer acres. But some farmers figure the difference in production of 50 or 60 acres of cotton where water is applied will more than pay for the expense (Continued on last page)

Moorhouse Buys Calves Recently In San Angelo Area

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moorhouse of Munday and Deaton Moorhouse of Seymour returned last Sunday from San Angelo where the Moorhouses had been receiving and shipping calves.

They loaded about 350 black Angus steer calves that weighed 500 pounds on cars at San Angelo, most of them being hauled from Concho County. These calves were about 85 to 100 lbs. lighter than usual, but were delivered some 60 days earlier than usual.

The Moorhouses bought about 600 more calves to be delivered this week, the Angus to go to northern feeders and the Hereford calves as stockers in this county.

Crops are almost a failure in that country and grass on the ranges is very short, as there has been very little rain there for three years.

Fire Destroys Barn On Johnson's Farm

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the barn on the Wylie B. Johnson farm last Thursday night. Together with the barn, about 500 bundles of hedges, some threshed maize and some cottonseed were also destroyed, resulting in quite a loss.

Neighbors and members of the Munday Fire Department battled the blaze, but the fire had gained much headway by the time they arrived. Their efforts did prevent the dry pasture land being burned, however.

Norma Lee Smith visited Joan Bryan of Haskell, who underwent surgery in the Clinic Hospital in Wichita Falls last week. Miss Bryan was brought home Sunday. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Beecher.

Names of Teachers Omitted Last Week

Through an error in our mechanical department, the names of two teachers in the Munday Public Schools were omitted in running the list of teachers last week.

Omitted were Mrs. Ina Cowan, and Mrs. Bronza Cox, first grade teachers in the elementary school.

We regret this omission and error, and are glad to make this correction.

M. H. S. Class Of 1949 Meet On Sunday For Their First Reunion

(By GWYNNE LEE SMITH)

The 49'ers got together last Sunday and talked over old times. They weren't talking about the Gold Rush of 1849, but they had a lot to say about members of Munday's Class of 1949.

Ten members were present at the Fellowship Hall in the First Baptist Church for their class first reunion. They looked through old annuals, scrap books and Tom Toms, and talked about classes, football games, parties, plays, graduations, and the senior trip.

A block of seats were reserved for the group in the morning service at the Baptist Church. Rev. Huron A. Polnac, pastor of the church, preached at this class' baccalaureate services.

After church, the group, which included the member's families and the class room mothers and sponsors, ate dinner in the Fellowship Hall. A business meeting followed, and the class decided to have a reunion every three years.

Officers elected during the business meeting were John H. McClaran, president; Jesse George Smith, vice president; and Mrs. Zane (Martha Bullington) Franklin, secretary-treasurer.

After the business meeting class members went through the high school and grammar school. Then they went by the A. L. Smith home for refreshments.

Members of the Class who attended were Mrs. Joseph (Hattie Phillips) Birden, Mrs. Delbert (Peggy Clough) Montgomery, Mrs. Zane Franklin, Mrs. Elwin (Betty Cumba) Darter, Gwynne Smith, Roy Bouldin, Durwood Scott, Jesse Smith, Joe Womble, and John H. McClaran.

Members' families, class room mothers and families who attended were Zane Franklin and daughter, Laura, Delbert Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Scott, and Jerry, Mr. and Mrs. Press Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Smith and Wayne and Waymon, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Wiggins, Mrs. Ann McClaran, Mrs. Roy Bullington, and Mrs. Don Boyles.

Howard Yandell To Return From Korea

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Yandell of Weinert have received word that their son, Sgt. Howard L. Yandell, is coming home from Korea.

Sgt. Yandell, who has been in Korea for ten months, called his wife from Japan last Tuesday. Mrs. Yandell is staying in Olton with her parents.

Yandell has been in the service since last March. His little daughter, Barbara Lynn, was born after he was shipped overseas. He will see his nine months old daughter for the first time when he gets home in the latter part of the month. He will receive his discharge in December.

Howard Collins Gets That Hole-In-One Shot

A former Munday resident is a new hole-in-one winner in Lubbock.

The new Lubbock ace is Howard Collins. He fired the golf rarity last week at the Meadowbrook Golf Club in Lubbock.

Collins, who is a special agent for the Floyd West Insurance Company, used a No. 8 iron on the 95-yard No. 2 hole to gain his hole-in-one. He was playing with Don L. Ratliff of Munday and Roy E. Thompson and C. E. Wood of Lubbock.

Mrs. J. E. McPherson of Plainview was a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Smith several days this week.

Cpl. Wayne Melton Visits His Parents

Cpl. Elmer Wayne Melton and Miss Anne Paddock of Corpus Christi came in recently for a few days when he was transferred. Parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Melton of Goree.

Melton was transferred to Kingsville, but was there only a few days when he was transferred back to Corpus Christi, where he is receiving treatment for his injured back. He has been assigned to duty as guard.

Robbins Named To Head Vera's School System

Don Robbins of Kirkland has been elected superintendent of the Vera schools for the 1952-53 school term.

Robbins served as principal and basketball coach at Kirkland, Childress County, during the past year. He previously served as coach and teacher in the Quanah school system for two years.

The new superintendent received his bachelor's degree from Midwestern University in Wichita Falls and has done graduate work in Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Robbins will move to Vera next week. He is replacing Warren Morton, who has accepted the superintendent's position at Chillicothe. Morton was in Vera for three years.

Munday Youth To Compete For World Model Plane Honors

DETROIT — Invitations sent out today to the "Olympic Games of Model Aviation", Plymouth Motor Corporation's Sixth International Model Plane contest, included the name of one youngster from Munday.

This contest, model aviation's greatest event, will be held at Detroit August 20-25 for a select group of 500 of the top model flyers from the United States and Canada whose outstanding flying records earned them the invitations. Some 25,000 youths sought bids to the meet through their attempts to qualify in one of the 200 elimination contests which were held earlier this year under the auspices of Plymouth, Dodge, DeSoto, and Chrysler dealers.

Awaiting those who receive invitations to the International are four days of flying in the stiffest competition America has to offer, a well-rounded schedule of sightseeing and entertainment in and around Detroit, prizes including $4,725 in U. S. Savings bonds, and 103 beautiful trophies for the winners.

Among those invited are Robert L. Bowden, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Bowden, sponsored by Munday Truck & Tractor Company, Robert left Munday for Detroit to enter the contest.

It won't take you long to vote Saturday—just as long as it took to get that chest x-ray recently! One of the shortest ballots in history will be presented voters next Saturday as they go to cast their ballots in the August primary. Most of the candidates in all offices won clear-cut majorities in the July election.

Holding chief interest in Knox County is the contest for County Commissioner of Precinct Two, which is the only county run-off. In this contest the names of W. W. Trainham and Ernest Allen are listed.

Other precincts in the county have no run-offs, and there will be only one contested race to be decided. This is for associate justice of the Supreme Court, place 1, in which the following are candidates: Spurgeon Bell of Harris County and Frank P. Culver of Tarrant County.

The name of Martin Dies, candidate for congressman at large, also appears on the ballot, although he failed to gain a majority in the July primary. John Lee Smith of Lubbock withdrew from the race.

Local election judges appeal to patriotic citizens to cast their votes, although there is little or no local interest in the election. "We don't want to just sit there and do nothing all day," they said.

4-H Pig Tour Is Set For August 28

A 4-H pig tour of Knox County will be held on Thursday, August 28, County Agent Bill Pallmeyer announced last Monday.

Making the tour will be all 4-H Club boys who are raising Sears pigs this year, their parents, and all others who are interested in hog raising.

All will meet in front of the Goree school at 2 p. m. Thursday and will visit boys who are raising pigs at Goree, Rhineland, Munday, Sunset and Knox City. "The purpose of this tour is to show the boys what they will have to do with their pigs to win in the county show which will be held in Munday about September 20," Pallmeyer said.

Programs Of Interest For P. T. A. Planned

A unit of the program committee of the Munday P. T. A. met in the home of Mrs. Margaret Porter, president, recently for the purpose of setting up action groups for each of the three school divisions.

It was decided that each P. T. A. program for the school year will begin with the total membership convening in one body. Five of the nine programs for the year will be traditional events in which the total membership will participate as one unit. For the remaining four programs—in November, January, March and April—the entire membership will convene briefly for dedication of purpose and fellowship. The group will then divide into three level meetings: Parents for high school action, parents for elementary action. All parents will have ample time to study the program to decide which level meeting will be most pertinent to their immediate concern, then attend the action meeting of their choice.

The program committee, acting upon plans outlined in the national P. T. A. manual, stated the purpose of organizing parent action groups is to place equal emphasis on each part of the school. They stressed that the aim is not to divide interests of parents of children in two or more schools, but to multiply their concern for the educational and social welfare of their offspring.

Parent and teacher chairman for the action groups are as follows: Elementary action: Mrs. Jerry Kane and Mrs. Maurye Blacklock; junior high action: Mrs. Winston Blacklock and Mrs. Irene Bardwell; high school action: Mrs. Leland Hannah and Mrs. Elizabeth Bowden.

ANOTHER BOY ARRIVES AT THE CROLEY HOME

It's another boy at the Croley's.

James Roger Croley made his first appearance at the Florence Nightingale Hospital in Dallas last Thursday, August 14, at 9:35 a. m., and there Dr. and Mrs. Croley and John waiting to welcome him into their family.

Oil Activities

The No. 1 J. C. Hawkins, Knox County wildcat, has been completed by Deep Rock Oil Corporation as a pumping producer. The well registered 150.17 barrels of oil on a 24-hour test. Gas-oil ratio was 166:1.

Production in the well, located 4½ miles east of Knox City is from perforations at 5775-94 feet with hole bottomed at 6095 feet.

A Knox wildcat failure was recently reported when E. B. Clark abandoned the No. 1 C. B. Yates 1½ miles east of Munday, at 6068 feet.

Oil and gas have been found on drillstem tests of the Burson sand between 4704 and 4719 feet at the Anderson-Pritchard Oil Corporation No. 1 Winchester, five miles north of Weinert.

One hour test from 4704 to 4719 feet recovered 1,440 feet of gas in drillpipe, plus 55 feet of heavily oil-cut mud. Shut-in bottomhole pressure was 1,850 pounds in 20 minutes.

Two hour test from 4710 to 4719 feet recovered 2,068 feet of gas in drillpipe and 62 feet of mud-cut oil. Shut-in bottomhole pressure was 860 pounds in 20 minutes. The hole has been deepened to 2,721 feet with 5½-inch casing set at 4,701 feet for completion attempt in open hole.

Good show of oil was revealed in a core of the Bend conglomerate at 5,782 to 5,795 feet in Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation No. 1 George Buchanan, 4½ miles east of Knox City. The well is an offset to the J. C. Hawkins well.

Recovery was two feet of conglomerate with good oil shows. 21 feet of lime, eight feet of conglomerate with an oil show, and two feet of shale. Hole was going conditioned to run a drillstem test.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. H. Bardwell returned Tuesday from a visit with Mr. Bardwell's mother, Mrs. Elsie Bardwell in Jacksonville and other relatives in east Texas.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

MANSFIELD, OHIO, NEWS-JOURNAL:

"When discussion turns to 'high prices,' as it so frequently does, it is well to keep in mind the extent to which the tremendous total of Federal spending—and resultant excessive taxes—enters into the price situation. On a loaf of bread the variety of taxes is estimated to be 36 per cent of the price to the consumer, and for gasoline the tax runs to more than half of the runs to more than half of the retail price paid. It is the same story with telephone service, electric and gas utilities, and whatever you need for convenient and comfortable living, as it is only by such extortionate and whatever you need for convenient and comfortable living that the billions of dollars can be produced—and it appears that the end cannot be sighted."

MANNING, S. C., TIMES: "In our great country, vacation time reminds even stay-at-homes that they are free to roam at will over a vast area 1,000 by 2,800 miles in size. Here are no 'secret police' to demand registration cards—no spies to eavesdrop on our private conversations and file reports. Except for a few quarantine regulations to prevent the spread of plant disease, there are no formalities at state borders. The New Yorker is welcome in Washington state—the tourist from Maine meets a friendly reception in Florida. That, among other things to do with liberty and freedom, is what it means to be an American."

IN THE AMERICAN TRADITION

A short time ago the Kansas Livestock Association held its annual meeting at Wichita. It passed a set of resolutions under the title "Freedom" which deserve national attention. In part, here is what it said:

"We frankly recognize the fact that the policies and acts of government, which we did heretofore and do now condemn, have been legalized ostensibly under the theory that, by promoting the economic security of the individual they would abolish want and fear. This, we assert, is the identical false theory on which rests the doctrine of communism, a belief which denies the nature of man, insults his Creator, desecrates our Constitution and violates the Ten Commandments. It has sapped the spirit and strength of every Christian nation that has indulged it."

"We are quite conscious of the pain that will attend the reversal of our present course. The transition from an untenable artificial economy to the law of supply and demand inexorably decreed by Nature; from the lavish spending of inflated dollars to the enforced exercise of public and private thrift in the use of honest currency; from dependence on the subsidies of socialism to the self-reliance of enlightened capitalism; this transition we know, will inflict upon each one of us heavy hardship and stern sacrifice."

"But upholding the old Constitution and honoring the Founders of the Republic, we demand its restoration . . ."

The people who deal in livestock, like people in a thousand diverse lines of endeavor, have had a full dose of the bitter medicine of government paternalism, government controls of almost every conceivable kind, and political dictation of our lives. Their resolution is in the finest American tradition.

NO SEVENTH HEAVEN

Factual reports from retailers of all types and sizes indicate that, as a general rule, sales are running at good levels—but profits are very low, in some cases dangerously so.

Various reasons are given for this—higher wages and taxes, unfair government regulations, and so on. In addition, competition is extremely keen, and on occasion has resulted in excessive price-cutting.

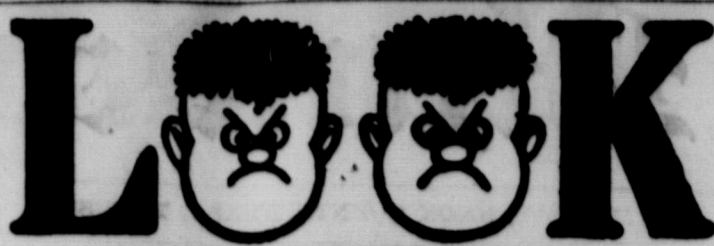

Here is the answer to those who believe that, because prices are high and a vast mass of goods is being funneled through the stores, retailing is in a seventh heaven. The fact is that the retailer's unavoidable operating costs have tended to outrun the rises in prices that have taken place in late years. The consequence is that in thousands of retailing operations, big and little, the owner's net—the money that's left after the bills and taxes and wages are paid—is less than it was in the days when prices were much lower and the dollar hadn't shrunk to the size of a fifty-cent piece.

In a free economy, where there are no brakes on competition, profits are always held to reasonable levels. At the same time, when profits become too low, the interest of the consumer as well as the interest of the storekeeper is endangered. No business can operate for any great length of time at peak efficiency unless it earns a fair profit. The health of any enterprise is largely measured by the profit figures—and a healthy, vigorous retailing industry is one of the cornerstones of our economy.

THE TRAVELER—MAN OF GOOD WILL

Travel promotion groups have long emphasized the importance of travel as an instrument of good will and better understanding. Here in our country it has helped to eliminate sectional barriers and to establish harmony and tolerance. It is also, we believe, serving as a positive force beyond our boundaries. The 400,000 Americans who are visiting Europe this year are gaining a better appreciation of the background and problems of their foreign hosts and at the same time helping Europeans to see us as we are and not as we have been pictured to be.

This clearly will be a record year in foreign travel, with passports being issued in greater volume than ever before, with steamships and airlines clogged with pleasure-bent Americans. We are led to feel it will be a record year in global understanding as well; and is it fortunate that the nation's travelers can play a part in it.

BOYCE HOUSE
No doubt you've heard the expression many times, "I'll be there with bells on." Did you ever wonder about its origin?

The Houston Freight Carriers Association Magazine "Pickup," says that the expression originated with the covered wagon freighters of the 18th Century. Bronze bells hung from the horses' harness and when the tinkle of bells announced the safe arrival of the freighter in a town, it was music to the ears of the citizens.

The rugged drivers naturally were proud of getting over the rough, muddy roads of those days, past Indians, and reaching their destination "with bells on." But if a wagon broke down or bogged down and had to be pulled out, the driver had to give up bells to the rescuing driver and team, and his outfit had to come in without bells on.

A builder built a temple, he wrought it with grace and skill. Pillars, groins and arches, all fashioned to work his will. Men said when they saw its beauty, "It shall never know decay; Great is thy skill, O builder, thy fame shall endure for aye."

A teacher built a temple with loving and infinite care. Planning each arch with patience, laying each stone with prayer. None praised his unceasing effort.

forts; none knew of his wondrous plan. For the temple the teacher builded was unseen by the eyes of man.

Gone is the builder's temple, crumbled into the dust; Low lies each stately pillar, food for consuming rust. But the temples the teacher builded will last while the ages roll.

For this beautiful unseen temple is a child's immortal soul.

"The BEST for LESS"

MUNDAY, TEXAS

Released by Texas Department of AgricultureDECLINE OF TEXAS' SMALL FARMS

What has become of the "40 acres and a mule"?

Where are those small farms which were passed from father to son and worked by all members of the family? Why is the younger generation forsaking the land to seek a livelihood in large cities?

The modern trend towards a larger metropolitan population and a corresponding decrease in rural residents is being viewed with alarm by many persons. The question foremost in their minds is: "Will the declining rural population in Texas hurt the state's future agricultural productivity?"

A parallel arose about 150 years ago when Thomas Robert Malthus, a brilliant but rather short-sighted English economist, forecast starvation for the human race. The world population, warned the Englishman, is fast outstripping agricultural production.

But Malthus underestimated the farmer's ingenuity in constantly improving his crop raising methods. Because of this ability, and the advantages of mechanization, the present day farmer produces enough food for himself and 13 other persons, plus a vast quantity of goods for foreign export. In Malthus' day, however, it took three men on the farm to feed one man in the city.

The rural population may be declining in Texas but the land is not being abandoned. Instead, more land is being farmed by fewer people. While there has been a decrease of some 4,500 farms in the state since 1919, the total cultivated land has increased 31.38 acres.

Farm tenancy was 37 per cent in the state in 1945. Five short years later, the figure was reduced to 30 per cent by population shifts. Yet, during that same time, Texas farm crop average increased 4 million acres.

Mechanized farming is largely responsible. The tractor began replacing the mule more than 30 years ago. On 1920, there were 9,048 tractors on Texas farms. This year, the figure is around 250,000. The mule is becoming a part of the past.

We in Texas have nothing to fear in the present trend as long as the farmer continues to increase his per-acre yields. Improve his soil conservation practices and work for better plant and animal breeding.

McKinney Named Supervisor For Lone Star Gas Company

Appointment of Robert W. McKinney as West Texas division appliance service supervisor for the Lone Star Gas Company has been announced by R. H. Gray of Abilene, division superintendent. Mr. McKinney will be in charge of employee training on installing and servicing all types of gas burning equipment, Mr. Gary said, working with Lone Star personnel in the more than 90 towns comprising the company's West Texas distribution territory. He will have headquarters in Abilene.

Mr. McKinney joined Lone Star in 1949 as an industrial engineer after receiving a degree in mechanical engineering from Texas Technological College. Early in 1951 he was transferred to Wichita Falls in similar capacity and remained there until his division service supervisor assignment became effective August 1. During World War II he served 5½ years with the Army Air Force and was discharged in December, 1945 with a captain's commission.

A native of Sioux City, Iowa, Mr. McKinney is married to the former Miss Mary Lillian Harville of Baird. The McKinney children are Barbara Ann, age seven, and Sylvia Ray, age five years. He is a member of the Episcopal Church.

Mrs. James N. Walker and children, Billy George and Kay, of Fort Worth visited their mother and grandmother, Mrs. G. R. Eiland, several days last week. Kay remained for a longer visit.

Grady Weaver of Abilene visited relatives here last Sunday.

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK BY TED GOULD

FORT WORTH—Nothing new to report this week on the new hog plague called vesicular exanthema. Quarantines and embargoes are still in effect in many points of the middlewest and some relaxation is indicated in latest reports, since it appears the program for indemnity payments to hog producers is getting set up and disease is being localized.

Talking with the Texas State Sanitary Commission offices this morning, I learned that the nearest outbreak to the Texas border was still in Kansas—same as last week. The commission says there have not even been any suspected cases nearer Texas than that distance. Everything shipped to Fort Worth must go for slaughter still. No stockers or feeders allowed to go out.

Looks like the CIO Packing House Workers and Armour & Company may be squaring off for a strike. It was reported at some points that Armour and other packer buyers were slowing down Monday, but that was not the case at Fort Worth Monday. Rumors that the calf gang, the sheep killing gang and the hog gang walked out from the local plant were heard here, but lots of other packers, large and small, gobbled up the supplies of livestock at improved prices at Fort Worth.

Reading in the Bowie News (Montague County) a story with a cattle stampede! Seems that W. C. Gowan of Clay County was loading better than 400 steers on rail cars at Bellevue when the train frightened the cattle and they tore down the fence and spilled all over the place. He was delivering the steers to the Corbett Ranch of Breckenridge in Stephens County. Some of the cattle rampaged for ten miles before being rounded up again. Both Gowan and Corbett are well known in Fort Worth and ship many top quality cattle to market each year. The late Quincy Corbett, in addition to being a fine ranchman, was also one of the best cattle feeders in Texas before his death, annually topped the market with prime finished heifers or steer yearlings.

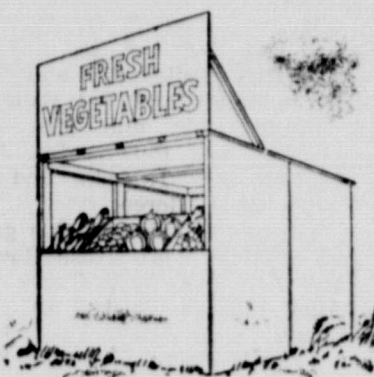

A government "specialist" this week asked an order buyer at Fort Worth why he paid $24.50 for some feeder steers, and some others brought $18. "Same reason I'd give more money for a Cadillac than I would for a Ford," was the terse reply.

Handy Jim's FIX-UP TIPS for farm and home

Profits in Roadside Stand

FARMERS will find it profitable to sell their produce directly to consumers, particularly if they are located adjacent to a well-traveled highway. There, in a roadside stand, they can offer for sale fresh fruit, vegetables, honey, nuts and other products which have an appeal to motorists.

Such a stand can be a steady source of income during the harvest season, whether it is operated daily or only on weekends. Appearance of the stand can spell the difference between a poor or good season, when the receipts are totaled.

A serviceable structure can be built easily by nailing Masonite 1/4" Tempered Presdwood to a framework of 2x4-inch lumber spaced 16 inches apart. For the display shelves, it's a good idea also to use Tempered Presdwood, because it can be kept clean easily and won't absorb food odors. It is moisture-resistant, too, and customers won't get splinters when they pick up an item for close inspection.

A let-down front can keep the stand closed securely overnight. Built as suggested, this stand may remain outdoors the year around. It should be given a "prime coat of paint and two coats of exterior quality. A well-constructed stand can be built at reasonable cost. It will soon pay for itself and should last many seasons.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Typhus fever continues to make its appearance in various counties of Texas, says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Like typhoid fever, most cases appear during the summer and fall and all citizens are urged to help control the spread of typhus by assisting in exterminating rats.

"There is only one way in which typhus can be controlled," Dr. Cox said, "and that is by, as nearly as possible, completely exterminating rats. Like typhoid fever, most cases appear during the summer and fall and all citizens are urged to help control the spread of typhus by assisting in exterminating rats.

The poisoning and trapping of rats throughout the State will help to control the spread of this disease although these are temporary measures. In order to be permanently rid of rats they will have to be starved out, which means that buildings housing food supplies must be rat proofed.

It should also be remembered that rats cost the householder millions of dollars each year in the amount of food they either eat or spill.

Wedding Of Miss Nancy Burton And Bailey Toliver To Be On August 31

Of interest to friends in this area is the recent announcement of the approaching marriage of Miss Nancy Burton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Burton of Haskell, and Bailey Toliver, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Toliver, Sr., of Weir. The marriage is to take place on August 31 in the First Baptist Church of Haskell.

Miss Burton has completed her junior year at Baylor University, and has recently returned from a tour of Europe. Mr. Toliver is in the United States Air Force.

Miss Burton is being honored with a series of parties since her arrival home.

A coffee Saturday morning from 9:30 to 11:20 o'clock was given by her aunt, Mrs. Doris Rogers, in her home in Goree.

Assisting in receiving the guests were the honoree's mother, Mrs. R. L. Burton, and Miss Margaret Toliver, sister of the prospective bridegroom. Others assisting at the tea table were Mrs. Alice Wray and Mrs. Bernard Stodghill, aunts of the bride-elect, and Mrs. J. C. Harpham of Munday and Mrs. W. M. Taylor of Goree. At the guest book was Mrs. U. S. Rogers of Munday.

day, grandmother of Miss Burton.

The table was laid with a white antique Venice lace cloth with a colonial centerpiece of pink asters and pink roses. Dainty bisque figurines completed the arrangement.

G. L. Hunters Have Enjoyable Trip Through Ten States, And Into Canada

(By GWYNA LEE SMITH)

Some say you're never too old to learn. Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Hunter, whose ages are 88 and 76 respectively, have added to that old saying that you're never too old to travel.

They should know, too, because last month they and their son, M/Sgt. Wilson Hunter, who is stationed in Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Lela Smith of Knox City traveled through nine states and Texas. They went by the coastal route to Washington and Canada and returned home through northern states.

They saw sights which included Grand Canyon in Arizona, the Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco, the Oakland Bay Bridge in Oakland and the Redwood Forest in California.

When they reached Seattle,

Wash., they stayed with a son, Mr. A. W. Hunter and his family. Mrs. Smith is Mrs. A. W. Hunter's mother.

While they were in Seattle, they went on a sightseeing tour of the city which included a trip to Seattle's nationally famous zoo and drove across the world's longest suspension bridge which connects Fidalgo and Whidby Islands.

From Seattle the group went to Vancouver, B. C., Canada. They left Puget Sound in Washington and went to Vancouver on a ferry boat.

They then returned to Spokane, Wash., and went to see the Grand Coulee Dam. From there they went to Yellowstone National Park in Wyoming.

Mrs. Hunter remarked that they thought about their Monday friends suffering in the July heat while they threw snowballs at each other in Medicine Bow National Forest in Wyoming.

From Wyoming, they went to see the Garden of the Gods, which is located near Colorado Springs, Colo. They then drove to Canyon, Texas, where they visited the Hunters' daughter, Mrs. E. C. Hawes, and her family. On the way home, they stopped by Benjamin to visit another daughter, Mrs. Togo Moorhouse, and family.

Mr. Hunter remembers one unusual experience during the trip that he enjoys telling about. That was the day he fed a doughnut to a bear in Yellowstone Park.

The Hunters said: "We made the 22-day trip just fine." The only trouble they had was one flat tire. After the trip, their son, Wilson, returned to Washington where he is stationed at the Pentagon.

Mrs. Dixon and daughter were brought home from the Knox County Hospital last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Doris Rogers and son, Bill, of Goree, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Burton and daughter, Nancy and Bailey Toliver, of Haskell, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ketcherid, and their daughter, Susan, of Lubbock, who were accompanied by Mr. Ketcherid's father and daughter also of Lubbock.

NURSES RESPOND TO RED CROSS APPEAL TO SERVE IN CRITICAL POLIO AREAS

ST. LOUIS, MO.—Answering the Red Cross urgent appeal for 100 graduate nurses for immediate assignment as polio sores to 2200 new cases last week, nurses Helen and Catherine Lukachick, sisters of Farmington, Mo., receive their plane tickets from Miss Adelle Brimmler, (right), St. Louis Chapter nursing official, as they leave for Orange, Tex. They picked the polio ward there from six possible assignments when they learned one doctor and a nurse, the sole trained medical help, have been splitting 24 hour daily shifts to care for patients. The father of one iron lung patient comes in daily to relieve them so they can eat. "Let me have that tough one," Helen decided, and her younger sister Catherine agreed. Tips On Summer Swine Management

Neglecting the pig crop now can cause trouble this fall. Growing pigs need attention during the hot summer months if they are to be ready for the early fall market, says E. M. Regenbrecht, swine husbandman for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Plenty of shade, water and a balanced diet are musts for growing pigs in the summer time. But because of the rush of farm work and shortage of labor, the pigs are often not provided with even the essentials for proper growth. If shade is not available in the hog pasture in the form of trees, then it should be provided. A brush arbor type structure, provided it is large enough, is entirely satisfactory, says Regenbrecht or an upright frame covered with a thick layer of hay makes a good shade.

Regenbrecht recommends running the pigs on a legume pasture if possible. If legumes are not available, he likes sudan. Pigs on good pasture are not likely to become infested with worms and will be healthy. Protein requirements, too, can be cut in half by using pasture.

The easiest and surest way to have water in the hog lot at all times is with an automatic watering system. Pigs need much water during the summer months and unless plenty of good, clean and preferably cool water is available at all times, they will not do good.

The use of self-feeders will save time, feed and labor and will insure that the pigs get their feed when they need it. The feeders can be filled during slack times or between other farm jobs. Growing pigs also need a supplement along with the grain. This can be fed free-choice or mixed with the grain as can minerals if needed.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Looks For The Flying Saucers But Has His Sky-Gazing Very Badly Interrupted

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has fallen victim of the summer craze, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

I was out here the other night lookin for flyin saucers, there's one thing I've noticed about the things, there are more of em in the summer time when it's convenient to be outside sittin in your yard lookin skyward. I guess for the same reason there are more sick people in hospitals than hotels. Also, more people see em over Washington than anywhere else, on account of a guilt complex, I suppose. I'd been lookin for some time but hadn't seen anything worth more than a paragraph or two in a newspaper when my wife spoke up and said she wanted the front gate fixed, along with the leaking sink, the whole in the roof, the floor on the back porch, the wallpaper in the living room, the steps to the front porch, the screen door to the kitchen, the window panes on the north side of the house, the stuck door in the hall, and a few other things which trailed off in a flow of words like the tail streak of a comet.

I do not like to have my scientific studies interrupted by such matters, but I took my eyes off the sky, left the saucers to the Associated Press, and explained to her it is not sound business to undertake any modernization, improvement or financial venture until after the election.

Naturally things are in a state of flux and uncertainty, awaiting the outcome of the election in November, and it don't behoove nobody to take any important steps until the economic roads for the next four years are well defined. Big business follows this pattern frequently. Personally, I do not intend to fix my sagging gate after the election either, or the sink or the back porch, or the roof or anything else anybody can think of, but if you can't use an election to postpone naggin on the topic, you ain't usin your head.

If you want to know what I think of flying saucers, they're as real as political promises and about as hard to put your finger on after they flash by.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

You Need This Man—He Needs Your Support—

In the July primary, Frank P. Culver, Jr., of Tarrant County (For Worth) asked the endorsement and support of the voters of Texas for the highest office they can confer—a justice of the Supreme Court of Texas. Very properly, he asked for this vital post in our state government solely on the record he had established as a lawyer and a citizen.

From a large group of able men, he led in that first primary. Now he is before you for the final decision of the primary election of next Saturday.

For a place on the highest court your state possesses, you need a man with the experience and qualities Frank Culver offers you. If you do not know him personally, rely in his Fort Worth and Tarrant County neighbors who do. They gave him an overwhelming endorsement in that first July primary.

He wants and asks your support. So on Saturday—

Programs Of—

(Continued from Page One) that these parent-teacher teams are planning unique and absorbing approaches to sharing and using research information pertinent to the needs of tomorrow's citizens—our children of today. They hope to get every patron of the local school to participate spontaneously in these action groups.

Mrs. Margaret Porter stated that much interest has already been shown in P. T. A. work from many parents, in the form of program suggestions and goals for the year. One suggestion most unanimously expressed by interested parents is to have our school evaluated by an expert to secure authentic criticism which would serve as a planning guide whereby a good school could be made better.

Enter Service
During October

AUSTIN, TEXAS, Aug. 14—State Selective Service headquarters was called on Thursday to furnish 2,733 men for the armed forces in October, the state's share of a national call of 47,000 men. This is the heaviest call placed on Texas since March 1951 and all inductees will be utilized by the Army.

Lt. Col. Morris S. Schwartz, deputy state Selective Service director, said quotas for local boards will be compiled and put in the mail next week.

The October quota will be filled with men 20 years old or older. State Selective Service headquarters said that at present it appears Texas can furnish around 400 men in October who will be 21 or older. The remainder of the quota will have to come from the 20-year-old group.

The local boards will not be able to send any man for induction in October below the age of 20 with the exception of delinquents and volunteers.

The October call compares with a September call of 1,188, previously announced. The October call was for only 807 men.

Be careful. Obey state and local traffic rules.
