Twenty-Second Annual Soil Tour Slated September 28

The Northwest Texas Research Demonstration Program, will hold its 22nd annual soil and crops tour Thursday, Sept. 28.

Seven stops are planned during the three-hour tour, which begins at the south side of the court house square at 9:00 a.m. and ends with a barbecue lunch in Ellison Park at noon.

Sponsors again this year are the Agricultural Extension Service and Salt Fork Soil and Water Conservation District. Agricultural agent Don Reeves and Tommy Powell, Soil Conservation Service district conservationist, are heading the tour and directors of Salt Fork SCD are in charge of the barbecue.

Although hot dry weather has heavily damaged crops in the area, it provided a good testing ground for the crop experiments, showing which varieties can best endure the extreme conditions.

The tour is of interest to Wellington business men, as well as farmers and stock men, pointed out Reeves and Powell, and newcomers as well as regular tour visitors are urged to come. Buses, furnished by Wellington Schools, will carry tour members.

"We'd like to have a big crowd and we want you to feel welcome, all the regulars plus anyone else," Powell added. "Some make the tour every year, and we are glad of that."

Research plots to be visited include cotton variety tests, shinnery oak control, terracing and pasture improvement.

Specialists from the Texas Extension Service and Texas A&M Experiment Station will assist.

The first stop will be at the Troy Thomason farm immediately north of Wellington on First Street for a cotton variety demonstration.

Fourteen varieties are included, including some that have been used here several years and some new varieties, including a new variety from Texas A&M, according to yields.

"We are looking for yield and quality," he said. "We will look for drought resistance. Among all these cottons, we want to see the ones that will do the most for us." The varieties are all the medium maturity, upland cotton.

Dr. James Supak extension agronomist, Lubbock, or District 1 Extension Agent

Paul Gross, Amarillo, will discuss these varieties. Gross, a former county agent, has a broad background in cotton.

Rain to Four Inches Soaks County Tuesday

Drought-breaking rain that ranged up to 4 inches fell over Collingsworth County Tuesday night and in some areas was continuing at mid-morning Wednesday.

Wellington had two inches, according to the Weather Bureau's rain gauge on the court house lawn.

Amounts from 2.1 inches to 2.7 inches were measured in the south part of town.

Heaviest amounts were in the Quail and Marella areas. Paul Bell, Wellington State Bank vice-president, came from his place west of Marella Wednesday morning and said the rain measured almost four inches. There were reports of a little more than four inches at Quail. Bell said he believed most of that part of the county received from 3.5 to 4 inches. Rain was continuing to fall at mid-morning Wednesday.

Paul Fielding reported that he measured 3.7 inches at his home in Quail and at his farm a mile west of there.

Cotton in the sandy land area should be helped, he believes, as there is lots of cotton on which the bolls will be filled out.

Rain measuring almost four inches was measured at the J.L. Hartman farm west of Lutie, and there were a number of other reports in the area north of Salt Fork that received from two to three inches.

The McNett Ranch, in the extreme northeast part of the county received 2.8 inches in a 10-hour period Tuesday night and early Wednesday.

At Dodson, 1.5 inches was measured at the Tommy Hightower home.

South of Wellington, 1.5 inch also fell at the C.A. Wilbur farm, while farther west, 2.8 inches was reported at the Cliff Hartman place.

Extension Agent Don Reeves said he believes this moisture will help the cotton on which there are green bolls that will fill out.

Seal Delegate to National Democratic Mini-Convention

Collingsworth County farmer Doug Seal was elected as a Texas delegate to the national Democratic Party Mini-Convention at the state Democratic convention last weekend in Ft. Worth.

The national convention will be held December 8, 9 and 10 in Memphis, Tennessee.

Seal has been active in the American Agriculture movement during the past year, and served at the state convention as co-chairman of the Rural Ag Caucus.

Seal said the caucus was made up of about 600 of the 3,464 delegates at the state convention.

Seal said this week he would try to organize a rural agriculture caucus at the national convention.

Other delegates to the state convention from Collingsworth County were Kirby Campbell and Denzil Lacy. Alternates were Mrs. Charlotte Myrick, Tom Sanderson, and Denzil Phipps. Also attending the convention were Mrs. Denzil Lacy and Mrs. Doug Seal and Mr. and Mrs. John Coleman. Mrs. Coleman is county Democratic Party chairman.

Democratic candidate for governor John Hill personally appeared before the nominations committee to suggest that Seal be among the at-large delegates elected to the national convention, Mrs. Coleman said.

"We have never had a delegation that worked harder or that was more successful in gaining recognition for their ideas at a state convention," Mrs. Coleman said of the three delegates. Seal and Lacy have been active in the American Agriculture movement and Campbell is a past president of Collingsworth County Farmers Union.

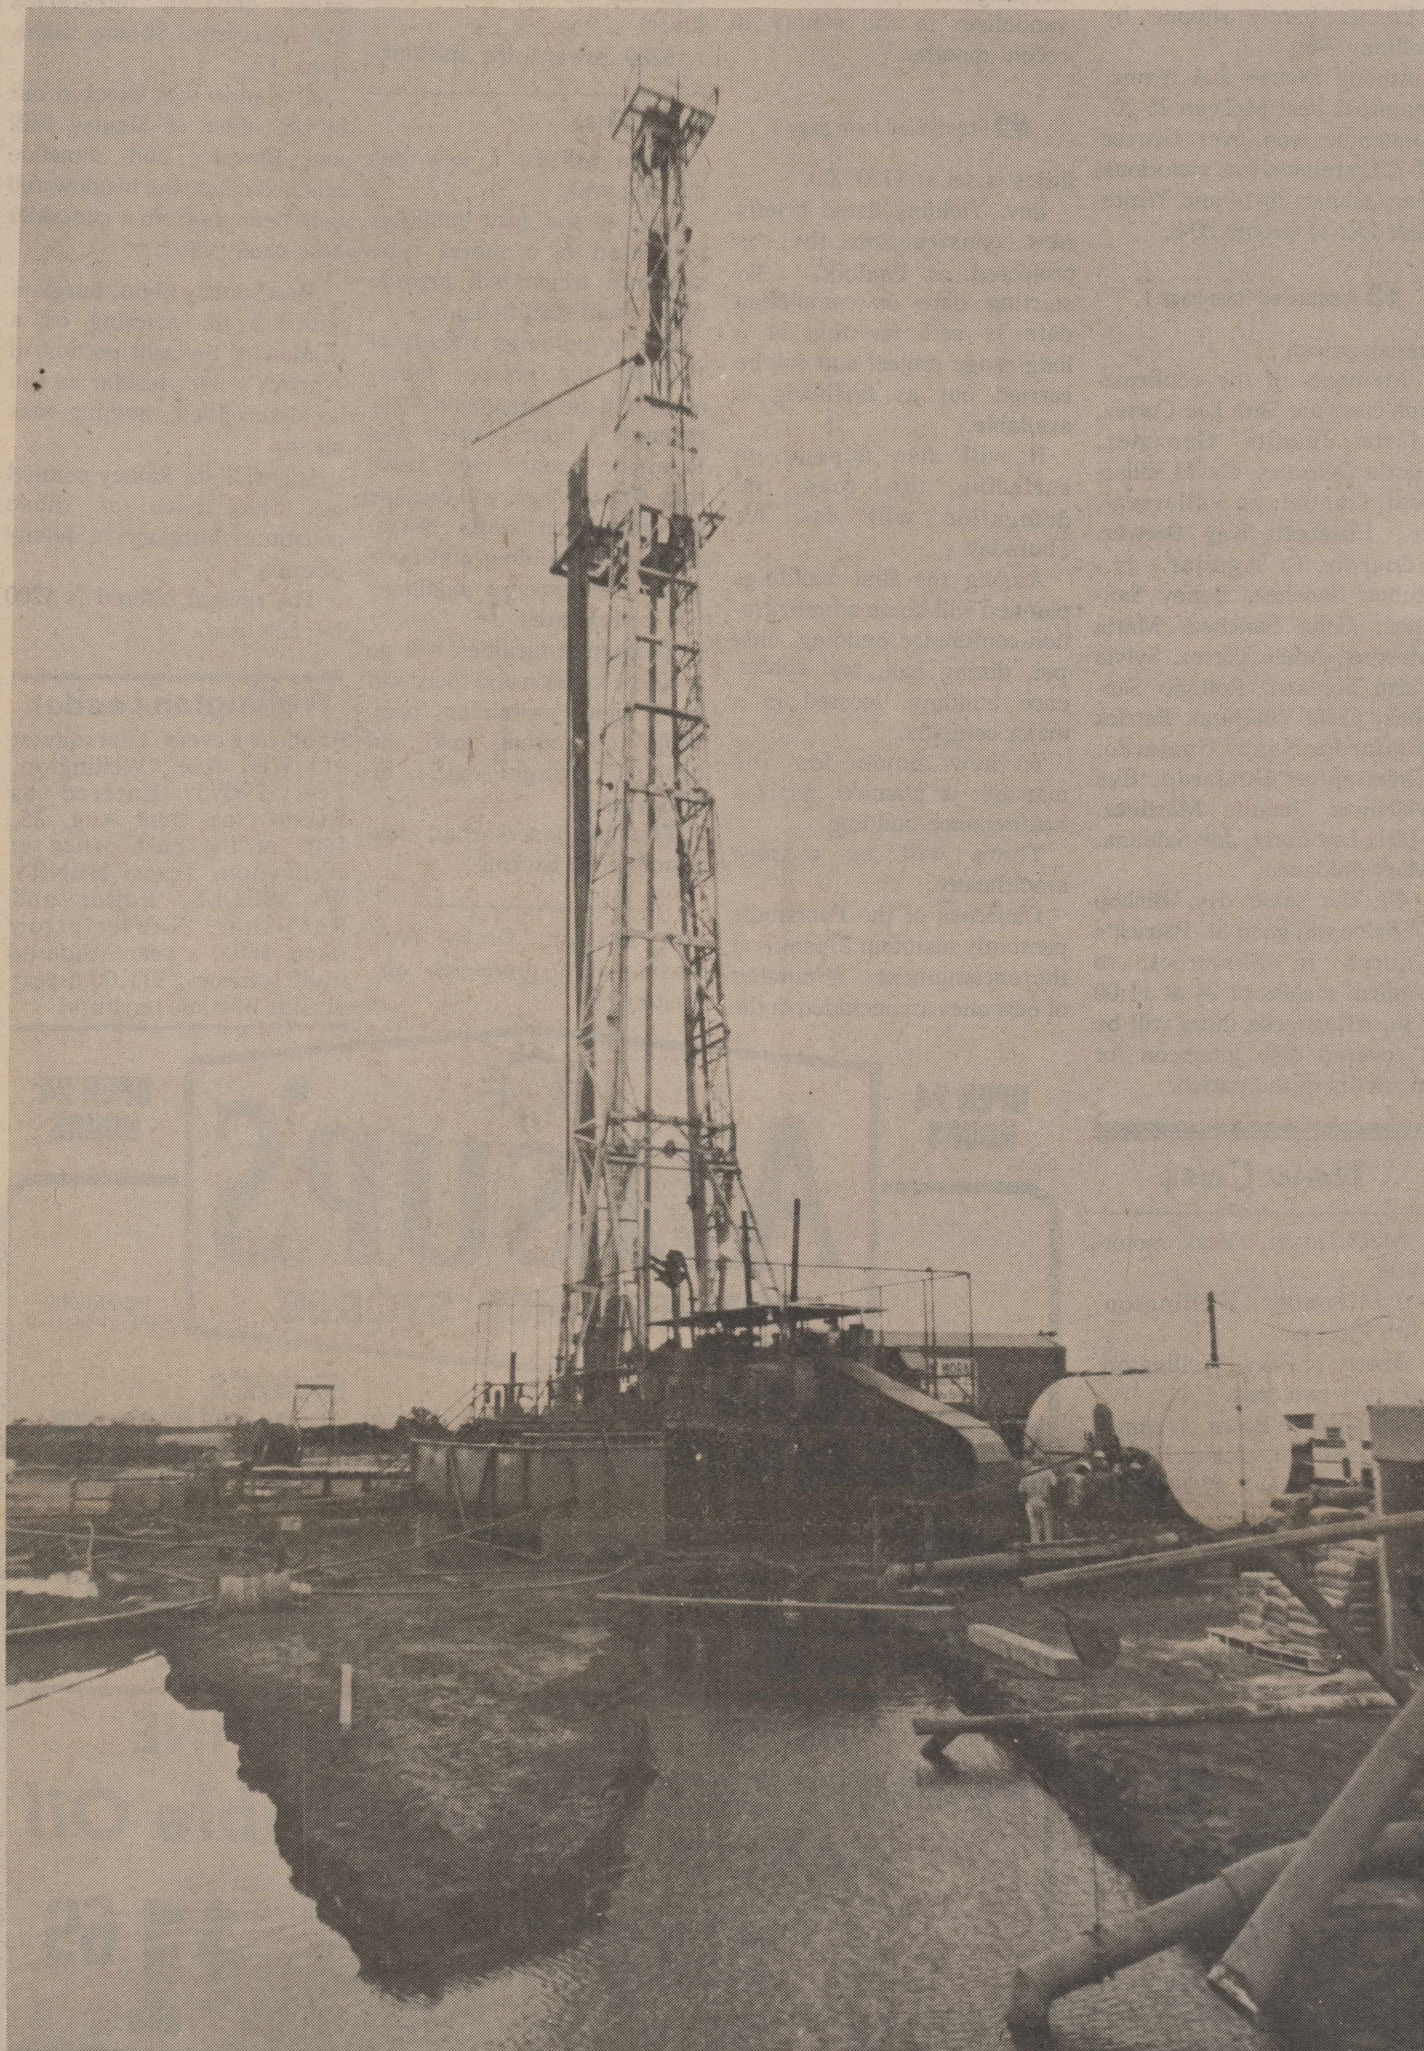

Sanderson and Phipps have also been active in American Agriculture and Mrs. Myrick has been a local leader in the anti-Equal Rights Amendment campaign.

"Our people were having to go to the state leaders," Mrs. Coleman said. "The party's leaders were coming to them."

Seal said the rural ag caucus succeeded in getting a new agriculture plank written into the state's Democratic platform. Seal said the platform included American Agriculture's five point plan based on 100% parity for farm products.

Seal also said the convention passed resolutions reprimanding U.S. Representative Jim Wright and President Jimmy Carter for their agriculture policies. Seal said the farmers booed Wright when he spoke to the convention.

Seal said that after his speech Wright asked for a meeting with farmers and that farmers told him they were unhappy with Wright because he had promised to support American Agriculture legislative proposals, then lobbied and voted against them.

DRILLING FOR OIL

A drilling crew repairs a pump Tuesday, Sept. 19 that recirculates "driller's mud" from the pit in foreground on John Eron Forbis' farm in Collingsworth County's block 10, section 27 on the Childress County line.

Forbis No. 1 Drilling Near 2,000' Depth

Visions of oil wells may be dancing in royalty owners heads this week, but it's too early to tell yet as the first new oil and gas well to be drilled in Collingsworth County in many years reaches the 2,000 foot depth.

Drilling operations were in their fifth day Tuesday, Sept. 19 as the bit neared 2,000 feet below the surface on John Eron Forbis' farm in Block 10, Section 27 on the Childress County line about six miles west of Dodson.

The well, named Forbis #1, is being drilled by E.W. Moran Drilling Co. of Wichita Falls for Petrotech, Inc. of St. Clair, Michigan.

Petrotech plans to drill to approximately 6,000 feet at this location, W.S. Wallace, consulting engineer, said. At about the 3,000 foot level, engineers will begin to study the rock formations that the bit is traveling through, Wallace said.

A rock sample will be taken every 10 feet and analyzed. And a machine that measures hydrocarbons in the drilling mud will alert engineers to the possibility of oil or gas at a certain level.

Drilling logs will be compared to logs of other wells in Childress County to determine how the subsurface formations rise or fall from one site to another.

Wallace estimated it would take drillers another 20 to 25 days to reach the 6,000 foot level.

The drilling rig requires three shifts of four crew members under the direction of tool pusher Jimmy Hamilton in addition to support personnel.

The crew has already installed 300 feet of casing just below the surface to protect the underground water supply as required by the Texas Department of Water Resources.

This week they will install a smaller casing down to the 2200 foot level to keep underground salts from contaminating the well.

The final operation in the drilling process, Wallace said, is a drill stem or formation test to see if the well will produce anything.

When this well is completed the same rig will be moved to Jimmy Langford's farm in northern Childress County to drill another well.

Bishop DeFalco To Confirm 22 Here Sunday

The Most Reverend Bishop Lawrence DeFalco, D.D., Bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Amarillo, will administer the sacrament of confirmation to a class of 22 Sunday, Sept. 24.

The service at Our Mother of Mercy Catholic Church will begin at 9:00 a.m., according to Father B.A. Erpen, the

Dodson Man Has First '78 Cotton

D.D. Miller brought the first bale of cotton for the 1978 season to Davis Gin in Dodson Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 19.

It was due to be ginned Wednesday morning, said Grover Graham, manager.

The bale weighed in a 2400 pounds of seed cotton.

"I'm sure it will be a good bale and it's surprising how good the cotton looks," Graham said.

The cotton, of Lankart 611 variety, was grown on a 8-acre tract across the street from the Dodson Church of the Nazarene, belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Murray Dodson.

"It's never had anything grown on it but a little alfalfa," said Graham.

About half the field was pulled to get this bale.

Graham said that like most of the cotton, this was damaged by dry weather, with the bolls smaller than they would have been with enough rain.

Miller is in charge of the Dodson Water Works and also farms land owned by Clyde Alexander and Mrs. Vey Hightower, in addition to that on which the first bale grew.

Area-Wide Delegation to Request Surfacing of Panfork Road Thursday

One of the largest delegations to originate in this county for the purpose of requesting road improvement will meet with the State Highways and Public Transportation Commission in Austin Thursday morning, Sept. 21.

They will ask for the surfacing of the road from US 83 a mile north of Salt Fork River east and south approximately four miles to Panfork Baptist Encampment.

County Judge Zook Thomas and member of the Commissioners court will head the delegation, which will also include several civic leaders and pastors and laymen of Baptist Churches throughout the eastern two-thirds of the Panhandle.

The latter represent the churches who send children and other visitors to Panfork encampment during its summer camping program, and who have said they will use it much more when its long-range improvement and expansion program is completed.

The Rev. S.L. Yielding, Panfork Encampment manager and also treasurer of Panfork Baptist Association, will attend, as will Alvin Horton and Dan Langford, representing First Baptist Church, Wellington.

Rev. Yielding told The Wellington Leader Tuesday afternoon that expansion of the encampment, which pours many thousands of dollars into Wellington's economy each season, depends on whether this road is paved.

It has been next in line on the county's Farm to Market road program, for several years, but Panfork expansion plans have made action on it more urgent.

"We are sitting pat until we find out something about the road," said Rev. Yielding. "If we can get the road approved, we can go ahead with construction more quickly than otherwise."

He said the camp handled over $30,000 in the last year and he estimates that approximately $20,000 of this is spent in Wellington for materials and supplies.

Approximately 1,000 youths and their adult advisors used Panfork during its 5-week camping period this year.

It is fast becoming a year-around facility, a goal Rev. Yielding hopes will be met next year.

Since the summer camp closed at the end of the first week in August, retreats and other religious activities have been held almost every Friday night and Saturday, and this will continue through September, Rev. Yielding said.

The present value of the 32-year-old encampment fac-

Rabies Vaccination Program Planned for All Dogs, Cats

Of the 14 rabid skunks reported to the Texas Department of Health from the upper 25 Panhandle counties over the last two years, Collingsworth had 7, Dr. John D. Galbreath, Public Health Region 1 Veterinarian, told a group Monday night Sept. 18.

The meeting was an outgrowth of finding a rabid skunk under a Dodson home, which bit a family pet dog. The dog, in turn, licked a small child, who received several of the painful rabies shots until it was determined the pet could not at that point have transmitted the rabies virus.

Conferring with Galbreath and Vic Whadford Public Health technician, were members of the city council, commissioners court, representatives of the sheriff's department and volunteer ambulance service, and several interested citizens.

The city, county and sheriff's department are due to announce plans soon for requiring vaccination of all pet dog and cats, in both the town and rural areas, and further plans to eliminate stray dogs and cats.

If it is believed necessary, to eliminate some of the skunk population these agencies can call on the Department of Fish and Wildlife for help, as it has jurisdiction over the state's wildlife.

Films explained to the group what to look for in a rabid animal, both domestic and wild, as well as the effects of rabies on humans.

Galbreath explained that the rabies incubation period in dogs is 14 days to 8 weeks, although it varies up to 6 months in other animals and may be as long as two years in bats.

He called skunks the greatest carriers of rabies. Among domestic animals in Texas, dogs are first and cattle second.

Because rabies can develop in both cattle and horses, Galbreath recommended that valuable animals be vaccinated.

The types of vaccine given persons bitten by a rabid animal was explained, including a more potent type not yet released by the Federal Drug Administration.

Modified live virus vaccine is used for domestic animals. No vaccine can guarantee immunity in wild animals, and Galbreath emphasized that a wild animal should never be kept as a pet, no matter how young or how cute it may be.

The live virus vaccine for domestic animals gives rabies to wild animals, the veterinarian said.

Galbreath said that County Judge Zook Thomas has copies of the attorney general's ruling whereby a vaccination program can be enforced.

Bouchelle place and shows how he is using summer forage along with love grass for year around grazing.

The tour directors have asked Bouchelle to tell his own story.

The final stop, at the Terry Beeson farm two miles west of Quail on Highway 203, is at a demonstration which will be watched regularly over the next few years.

Beeson, whose home is at Ft. Collins, Colo., acquired the shinnery-covered farm and recently had it deep plowed. He is now preparing to seed bed for a winter cover crop, with intentions to seed it to weeping love grass in the future.

The place will be cross-fenced and livestock water will be developed.

"Beeson plans to change it into a productive livestock enterprise, and this will be one that people can watch over the years, as we drive to and from Amarillo, and see how it develops," said Powell.

Other visiting experiment station and extension service personnel due to be here for the tour are Dr. Dale Loveless, agronomist from Vernon; Dr. Frank Petr, area agronomist, Amarillo and Dr. Tommy Welch, on a county tour for the first time, who is area brush control and range specialist from Vernon.

Dr. Dan Unsander of the Bushland Experiment Station will be on the tour. He is doing work on protein content of love grasses and is running protein tests in several sets of grass from this county. He is looking for fluctuations of the protein level in these grasses through the summer months.

Dr. Supak who will discuss the cotton variety tests, assisted in selecting the cotton varieties to use in the Northwest Texas Research Demonstration Program.

Skyrockets Have Open Date Friday

With an open date this week, Wellington Skyrockets are concentrating on their September 29 confrontation with the powerhouse Childress Bobcats.

Neither team has been scored on. Childress opened with a 34-0 win over Quanah and followed it with a 21-0 victory over Memphis, regarded as the second strongest team in District 2-A after Wellington. Childress is expected to win its game with Paducah this week.

The Rockets defeated Hollis 35-0 in their first game and came back to beat Elk City 14-0.

"We felt fortunate to come out of the Elk City Game without getting anyone hurt," said Head Coach James Williams. "They had a physical ball team, and overall, we had a tremendous effort from all our kids, both offense and defense. Elk City has a good football team."

"As far as this week is concerned, we are getting over our bruises and preparing for Childress at the same time. We'll be working on fundamentals. We'll study what they do on offense and decide what we will do on defense. We'll scout them one more time, when they play Paducah this week."

"We have two weeks to prepare for Childress, and the way they've been playing ball, we may need three," declared Williams.

Wellington continues near the top of Class A standings in the state. Some polls rate the Rockets No. 2; the Associated Press Schoolboy Football Poll placed Wellington in No. 3 position, topped by Grapeland in No. 1 position and Farmersville, No. 2.

After Childress, Wellington will host the Class AA Electra team October 6. They will round out non-conference play against the Floydada Whirlwinds, another of the state's top teams, ranking No. 6 in AA play before they lost to Muleshoe 27-7 last week.

Electra barely slipped by Holliday 7-6.

Among District 2-A teams, Shamrock beat McLean 25-20, Panhandle won over Gruver 27-7, Clarendon was victorious over Quanah 28-14 and White Deer lost to Groom 20-8.

County Offers Rewards In Four Vandalism Cases

The Commissioners Court is posting rewards of $200 in each of four cases of vandalism or burglary, Judge Zook Thomas announced Tuesday, Sept. 19.

"This thing is ridiculous and it has got to stop," said the judge of repeated cases of vandalism in the county in recent months.

ilities is set at $150,000.

Rev. Yielding listed briefly new construction that is projected at Panfork. No starting date or completion date is set, for this is a long-range project and will be carried out as financing is available.

It will also depend on surfacing the road the delegation will ask for Thursday.

Among the first buildings planned will be an administration-conference building, chapel, dining hall, and conference building, located in a major complex.

A new home for the manager is planned, as is a maintenance building.

There will be a new amphitheatre.

Churches of the Panhandle presently maintain 27 cabins at the encampment. A number of new ones are included in the

The four cases for which rewards are offered are:

-$200 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for obscene drawings, theft and vandalism to the Collingsworth County Park Property (Pioneer Park at Highway 83 and Salt Fork River)
-$200 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who vandalized a tractor belonging to Ralph Owens, leaving the motor running so that it plowed into a butane truck belonging to him.

Rewards in the other two cases concern burglaries which occurred Sunday night, Sept. 17.

A window was knocked out of the office of Singley Mill and Elevator and someone reached inside the window and took peanuts from a container on a candy case.

Also Sunday night, burglars pulled a tin covering off a window of the mill portion of Warrick's, Inc. Insofar as can be determined, nothing was taken.

Sheriff John Rainey pointed out that both of these constitute burglary, a felony offense. The reward offered is $200 in each case.

future plans.

There will be a new bus parking area. One of the last buildings projected is a motel type structure which will provide faculty and staff housing.

Of the buildings already at Panfork, the present tabernacle will be remodeled. The manager's home, which was Riverside county club more than 40 years ago, will become a combination crafts house, concession building and book store. Conference pavillions will be relocated.

Recreation facilities will go to a new location and there will be a new swimming pool, while the softball field and archery range will be relocated.

The proposed road has county-wide backing.

TALKING COTTON

Adult vocational training classes in bookkeeping, typing, and shorthand will be held in Wellington if there are enough people interested in taking these courses.

The announcement was made jointly by Melvin Cardwell, high school principal, and Mrs. Tessie Burba, director of Collingsworth County Community Action.

This will be a cooperative effort of Wellington High School, Collingsworth County Community Action and Texas State Technical Institute, Midwestern Campus, Amarillo.

Classes will begin the week of October 2, and will continue until May of 1979. Those completing the course will receive continuing Education Credit from TSTI. They are open to anyone over 18 years of age regardless of whether they have completed their high school education.

Classes have been tentative set for Thursday evenings from 7:00 to 10:00 P.M. and the cost of the course will be $5.00 which will include the books to be used in class, said Mrs. Burba.

This is the eighth year that adult skill classes have been offered in Wellington and during that time several hundred people have either learned a new skill or have upgraded a present skill.

Wellington was the first town outside of Amarillo to take advantage of adult skill courses offered by TSTI but now there are over 2,000 people each year in the Texas Panhandle enrolled in this type of class.

Further information and enrollment forms may be secured at the Community Action Center at 612 East Avenue or phone 447-2840.

As many as 115 men and women have been enrolled in these classes during a single year. Many of these have gone on to get jobs in the field in which they studied, Mrs. Burba explained.

Seventh Grade Team Bows to Panhandle

The seventh grade football team bowed to a larger team at Panhandle, 34-14, Thursday, Sept. 14, to open their new season.

Panhandle led 28-0 at halftime. "Those little Wellington guys got after it and came strong in the second half, holding Panhandle to one touchdown and scoring two themselves," Coach Jimmy Chappell said.

Lynn Bartlett made the team's first score on a one-yard run in the fourth quarter try for extra point failed.

Later Dwayne Culpepper took the ball 30 yards for the second touchdown and Chad Holland, on a two-point conversion, ran the ball over.

Panhandle was able to score only once in this half.

"The defense looked a lot better the second half," said the coach. "A lot of people played well and the blocking improved."

Of 19 boys playing, 18 made the trip to Panhandle: Mark Hunnicutt, Bartlett, Holland, Jim Maxwell, Culpepper, Darvin Nix, Aaron Barton, Barry Moseley, Barry Long, Alfie Seeley, Mike Aguero, Phil Molina, Kirby Pennon, Jay Warrick, Joe Bill Munn, Bill Reeves, Scott Roberson, Shawn Kennedy.

Unable to go was Martin Benavidez.

M.D. Hanna, Peggy Hanna, and Machell of Mansfield were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hanna and Mrs. Lettie Hanna.

Mrs. Felix Hunt has her grandson Sp. 4 Robert Boyd visiting her for the past two weeks. He has been stationed at Panama and now is in Ft. Campbell, Kentucky. He will re-enlist October 26 for four more years.

Eighth Grade Rolls Over Panhandle 28-0

Using a strong defensive effort and ground-gobbling offense, the 1978 version of the Eighth Grade Firecrackers completely dominated the Panhandle Kittens in Panhandle Thursday Night, Sept. 14.

This opened the season for Wellington's team.

Led by the determined running of John Paul Munn and breakaway threat by Shane Cobb, the Crackers rolled to a 28-0 victory.

Quarterback Wade Williams led the Crackers as he consistently threw key third down passes and mixed his plays expertly.

Also turning in sterling performances were Greg Outley, Darren Hall, Scott Cochran, Ricky Martinez, Otis Lewis, Ben White, Roy Mote, Dru Lacy, and Billy Chandler, according to Coach Jim Yarnell.

The entire defensive unit also drew praise from Coach Yarnell as the Kittens were held to only two first downs in the entire game. Outstanding performances were turned in defensively by Tommy Baker, Munn and the remainder of the fighting Crackers.

UT Researchers Study Retarded

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.)-A small part of humanity - those with IQ's below 19 who exist at levels just a little above the animals - is the focus of studies by two University of Texas special education researchers.

Dr. Charles Cleland and William Rago are studying the emotional life of the profoundly mentally retarded (PMR) in the hope of discovering ways of relieving the boredom of the victim's existence.

The researchers say they have to remain open to facial expressions, grunts, gestures, tool usage and other types of behavior to try to reach some meaningful interpretation of PMR's needs.

Burglars Take Juke Box Money

Burglars entered the cafe belonging to Johnny Nash in Northeast Wellington Friday night and took an estimated $100 from the juke box, Sheriff John Rainey has reported.

Nash's cafe is located in the old Booker T. Washington School.

It has not been determined how entry was gained, the sheriff said.

Rocket JV Drops Game to Panhandle

Wellington Junior varsity dropped its opening game to Panhandle JV 13-6 Thursday, Sept. 14, on the Panthers field.

The first quarter was scoreless.

In the second, Panhandle scored on a three-yard run which followed a pass completion good for four yards. The attempt to kick the extra point failed and Panhandle led 6-0 at half time.

Wellington's right half, Chris Lynch swept downfield 55 yards behind good blocking for the third-period score.

In attempting the extra point, the Rocket snap was fumbled and the game tied 6-6.

With a minute and 10 seconds left, of playing time Wellington fumbled the snap on a punt attempt, Panhandle recovered on the Rocket 10 yard line, and scored from there. This time the Panther JV kicked the extra point.

Most of the action was between the 40 yard lines, although Wellington made two penetrations into Panther territory which would have been good for points if the Rockets could have carried them through.

Coach Robert Hicks reminded that this was the team's first game and that it is probably the youngest B team he has had in Wellington.

"The lack of experience showed up. Usually we have quite a few sophomores with at least a year of experience, but this year we have a lot of freshmen with only junior high experience," he said.

Mr., Mrs. N.J. Turner Honored At 50th Anniversary Reception

A fiftieth anniversary reception, given by their children, honored Mr. and Mrs. N.J. (Doc) Turner Sunday, September 16, in Bura Handley Community Center.

Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Pat (Billie Jean) Hastings, of Idalou; Mr. and Mrs. Bob (Jaquetta) Whitely of Denver, Colo., and Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Turner.

Guests were received by the couple and their children.

Decorating the lace-covered reception table was the four-tiered wedding cake, decorated with swans and doves and a centerpiece of yellow gladiolas and daisies which surrounded two white candles and a gold Cana cross. Punch was ladeled from a gold bowl.

Coffee was served from an adjoining table decorated with a hand-painted 50th anniversary candle from Germany.

Presiding at these tables were granddaughters, Mrs. Jim Gibbons of Augsburg, West Germany, Patti Turner and Pam Zapata, and by a family friend, Mrs. Lorene Morris.

A decoupage of pictures of the couple's children, grandchildren and great granddaughter, centered the gift table, which also held a large display of gifts and flowers.

Friends registered at a table covered in white lace and accented with a bud vase holding yellow daisies.

Guests called between two and four in the afternoon.

Besides the festivities which traditionally accompany a golden wedding anniversary, this one had added happiness, for it was a milestone reached by Mrs. Turner, following her recovery from recent major surgery.

MR. AND MRS. TURNER

Mr. and Mrs. Turner married September 15, 1928. Their home for a number of years has been at 1009 Belton Street.

The former Mildred Harwell she was born at Forrester, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Harwell. They moved to Gilmer in 1916 and Collingsworth County in 1919. She attended Gilmer and Lillie schools.

Mr. Turner was born at Pikeville, Tenn., and came with his family to Shawnee, Indian Territory, in 1904. The following year they moved to Quanah, and he came to Wellington in 1927. He attended Chillicothe and Quanah schools.

The couple engaged in farming and ranching a number of years, then in 1949 entered the restaurant business in Wellington, which they continue until 1968.

They became members of Lillie Baptist Church in the 1920s and have belonged to First Baptist Church since 1959.

Mrs. Turner is a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club and has been active in the Red Cross, Cancer Crusade and Red Cross Bloodmobile drives. Fishing and hunting are Mr. Turner's hobbies, her's is volunteer work. Both say they chose to make Wellington their home because of the people living here.

New Brides Need to Change Many Records

College Station--New brides who change their names have many official records to change, says Lillian Chenoweth, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Place of employment is one of the first places to start. Employers need to know of a new status for pay check purposes and to avoid confusion with federal taxes.

When making name changes on insurance policies, consider any change in beneficiaries at the same time.

To change social security records, call the nearest office of the agency and request a name-change form.

After completing and returning the form, a new card will be issued. The number will remain the same.

Count Change at a store.

An honest mistake in the bill, with an over-charge or under-charge, can occur, says Linda McCormack, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Mrs. Carleton Thomson Addresses United Methodist Women Sunday

A General Meeting of God, express freedom through United Methodist Women was held Sunday September 17, in the sactuary of First United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Jack Davis, president, was in charge of the meeting. The group joined in singing the hymn "Lord Whose Love Through Humble Service" accompanied by Mrs. Lynn Emmert at the organ , and the Call to Worship was led by Mrs. Olean Leggett. A duet "Through It All", was sung by Kelly Covey and Beverly Orr with Mrs. Dan Henard, Jr. accompanist.

Mrs. Carleton Thomson of Plainview, district president of United Methodist Women, was the speaker.

She told of the purpose of United Methodist Women given in the Discipline of the United Methodist Church and beginning with the Words "To Know God".

"In knowing God, I have to daily listen to him. I have to pray and read the Bible in order to know him. There is plenty of room for knowing God in our United Methodist Women. We want to know and pray for one another."

She challenged the group to study, use their talents that God gives them and work together. The meeting closed with a prayer by Mrs. Mary Karnes.

She continued that each one should develop a creative attitude and seek how God would have her do things. The UMW should have a supportive fellowship and members need to be supportive of one another.

"Our Global Ministries begins locally. If we do anything locally it is a part of global ministries," the speaker pointed out.

"We should Confess, Commit, and Cooperate. Confess by admitting we cannot do it alone. We need God's help. Commit our opinions--God may want to change them, and cooperate with one another and with God. Pray to God

Results of a study on assault and homicide in general indicate that most family violence occurs on a weekend, and more occurs on Sunday than Saturday, reports Debby Johnson, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service

Pears are Ready Now, Delicious, Nutritious

College Station--Pears are a delicious and nutritious fruit that grow well in Texas, says Frances REasonover, a foods and nutrition specialist.

They're rich in fruit sugar and contain minerals and vitamins A, B and C needed for health.

Gather them at their peak of maturity and allow them to ripen at room temperature--they'll develop a finer flavor and smoother texture.

Pears ripen the middle of July and on into the fall, the specialist reports.

Miss Reasonover is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M university system.

Softer pear varieties are best for eating fresh and for such dishes as salads.

Those varieties that don't mellow are used in cooking, canning and preserving.

Try one of the less mellow varieties in this recipe for Pear Butter:

PEAR BUTTER

Wash pears, slice unpeeled and remove core.

Add small amount of water and cook until very soft. Press through sieve to obtain pulp.

To each cup of pulp, add one-half cup sugar. Add one-half teaspoon cinnamon to three cups pulp.

Cook until thick, stirring frequently to prevent scorching.

Pour into sterilized jars to within one-half inch of top. Close and process in boiling water for five minutes.

Indoor Heat Pushed Out

A heating system that's more than 200% efficient may seem like something out of the future. But it isn't. It's yours today, with the electric heat pump. Because when correctly installed in a properly insulated home, the heat pump produces two units of heat for each single unit of electricity it uses. It transfers heat that's always present in sun-warmed outside air into your home during the winter. And reverses the process, pumping heat outdoors during the summer.

If you have plans to buy, build, or remodel, or are looking for a new heating and cooling system for your home, call a local FACTORY CERTIFIED heat pump dealer or talk with WTU. We will arrange for a WTU heating and cooling specialist to contact you. The Courts Say "Yes" to Landmark Preservation

A milestone in the legal history of the movement to preserve historic buildings and landmarks came recently when the United States Supreme Court ruled that Penn Central Transportation Company cannot build a high-rise office tower on top of historic Grand Central Station in New York City.

This case for the first time tested the validity of landmark preservation laws nationwide and thereby it affects Texas.

The 65-year-old railroad station which Penn Central owns had earlier been designated a landmark by the NYC Landmarks Preservation Commission.

The court decision established that a government is not automatically "taking" property through a landmark ordinance.

It denied the railroad argument that regulation amounted to inequitable application of zoning to a selected group of buildings.

Texas has lost many fine landmarks as its cities expanded. This could deter further loss.

Wellington has two buildings designated by the Texas Historical Commission and there are a number of others in the Panhandle. It is well to set up guidelines now by which those remaining historic buildings in the nation can be preserved.

Other Editors Say...

What Crisis?

Five years after the oil embargo began in October, 1973, a large segment of the American public remains unconvinced that an "energy crisis" exists.

Visitors to Yellowstone National Park this year, as an example, set a new record for attendance. Crowds were so great at Yellowstone that entry to the park was restricted with park rangers counting the vehicles to be sure that some came out before others were let in.

There were times when vehicles along the paved roads inside the park were stacked up for as many as seven miles at a time, bumper to bumper.

They came in automobiles, motor homes, campers, trailers, vans, pickups, and stations, all burning gasoline.

Yellowstone National Park is almost 500 miles away from any population center, and the people who visit it do so with that purpose in mind.

They don't mind using up gasoline for this purpose, and why not?

There is no apparent shortage of gasoline, and after the shock of seeing gasoline jump from 30 cents a gallon to 60 then 70 cents after the embargo, it seems to have leveled off and people are accustomed to the fact that they must now pay more for gasoline.

The number of American families with two cars is increasing rather than decreasing. A casual drive around the residential area of Perryton will disclose that the average family has at least two vehicles, often more.

Despite a doubling of the price, the use of oil has continued to rise and oil imports make up about half of the oil consumed here. This has caused a drain on the dollar value, our balance of payments have suffered and inflation has continued.

Most Americans don't understand this kind of international economics and have apparently decided that since they don't understand it, they don't need to worry about it. They are willing to let somebody else, preferably those in high places, worry about the energy crisis.

Dear Editor:
I oppose the Equal Rights Amendment because:

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Now the State Board of Insurance has approved a 3.2 per cent statewide average increase in auto insurance rates effective November 1.

The latest raise will boost insurance premiums $35 million overall for private passenger vehicle coverage.

A 26.6 per cent statewide average increase was also approved by the board in commercial coverages which will raise those premiums another $27 million. The industry had sought a 28.9 per cent boost in that category.

Statewide auto insurance rates have not changed since October 1, 1976.

Companies then asked for a 17.4 per cent raise and the board staff recommended a 10.1 per cent increase.

But insurance board chairmen refused to approve increases at the time.

Interest Up

State Treasurer Warren G. Harding said interest income from investment of state funds during his first year in office will amount to more than $130 million.

Harding said the percentage of funds invested has increased steadily from 84.8 per cent to an unprecedented average monthly percentage of 93.5 per cent during the month of August 1978.

Interest rates have increased from six per cent to seven per cent, and total interest earned on the state's operating funds amounted to nearly $117.8 million during the last 11 months—an increase of 30.8 per cent over the previous 11 months.

Interest earned from state funds amounted to $13.4 million last month, an all time record.

Exports Climb

Exports by Texas farmers and ranchers increased 16 per cent during 1977, according to Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

Brown predicted Texas will provide a large share of the $26.6 billion in agricultural exports the U.S. will originate this year.

Texas exports increased an estimated 16 per cent last year over 1976. Value of 16 selected major commodities totalled nearly $1.2 billion, Brown said.

Brown reported Texas farmers now harvest one in every three acres for the export market.

Cotton led exports from Texas last year, with a total of nearly $560 million.

Texas cotton production may drop to 3.7 million bales this year, however, from 5.5 million bales in 1977.

Grain sorghum was the second big money maker, with a value estimated at $191 million.

GOP Wants Primary

Texas Republicans revised their party rules to provide for a presidential preference primary in 1980.

In effect, the GOP defied the Democratic-controlled legislature which is not expected to approve a preference primary due to opposition from all Demo factions.

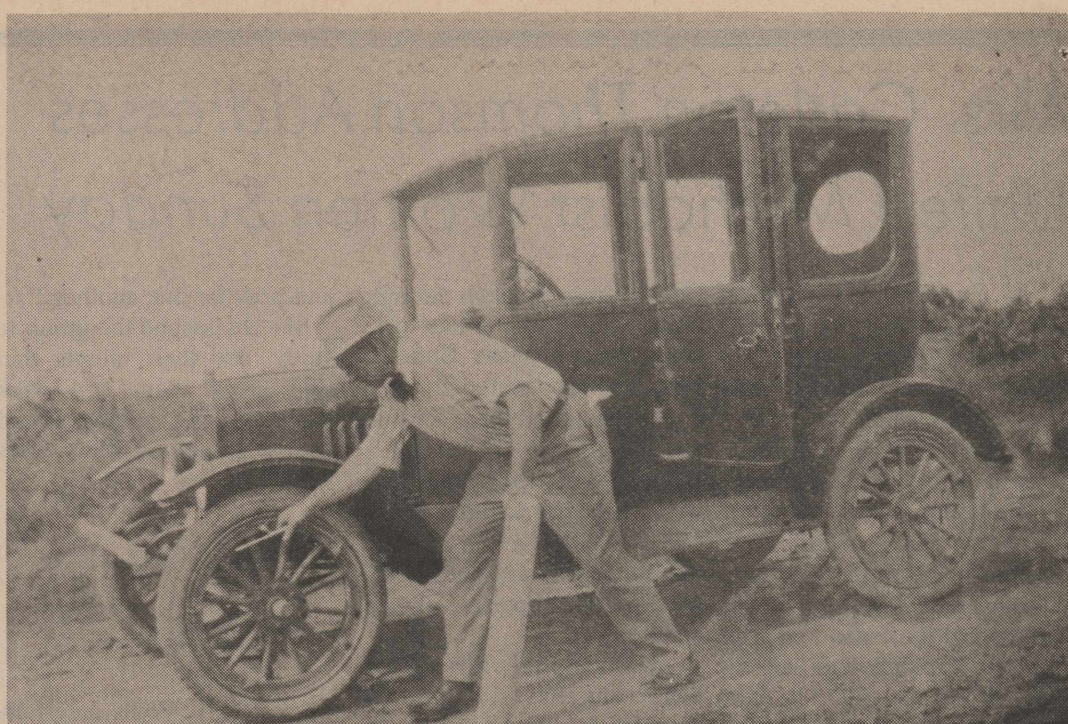

Republican leaders, in their state convention, said they are prepared to go to court if necessary to protect their right to choose presidential nominating delegates in a direct election.

Texas has had only one experience with a presidential preference primary for both parties—in 1976. That primary was approved in 1975, but the legislature inserted a self-destruct provision which provided that the authorization would not extend beyond the 1976 election year.

Lawmakers tried to revive the primary bill in 1977, but the effort died in the Senate.

That means the employees won't get as big a pay raise as they anticipated this fiscal year.

The legislature voted to give the employees an across the board pay boost of 3.4 per cent in 1977 and to assume the 5.85 per cent contribution (on the first $16,500 of salary) to Social Security.

Lawmakers attempted to make the contribution tax free in a special law approved during the August special session, but IRS wouldn't go along.

PUBLIC NOTICE SUMMARY OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS GENERAL ELECTION NOV. 7, 1978

"The Tax Relief Amendment"

(H.J.R. 1)

H.J.R. 1 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution allowing the legislature to exempt intangible personal property, requiring the legislature to exempt certain household goods and personal effects, and allowing the legislature to exempt all or part of the personal property homestead from state and local property taxation.

The amendment requires the legislature to provide for the taxation of farm and ranch land on the basis of its productive capacity instead of its market value and allows the legislature to provide for the taxation of timber land on its productive capacity.

The amendment permits local governments to extend the present exemption of not less than $3,000 of the residence homestead of persons 65 and older to include certain disabled persons.

The amendment grants an exemption from public school property taxes of $5,000 of the market value of the residence homestead. It authorizes the legislature to grant an additional exemption from public school property taxes of an amount not to exceed $10,000 of the market value of the residence homestead of persons 65 years of age or older and certain disabled persons. If a person 65 years of age or older qualifies for this exemption, the total amount of public school taxes imposed on that person's homestead may not be increased.

The amendment prevents local governments from increasing property taxes unless the governing body provides public notice and conducts a public hearing. The amendment requires the legislature to provide by law for each property owner to receive notice of the revaluation of his property and the amount taxes will be increased.

The amendment limits appropriations from state tax revenue to an amount not to exceed Texas' estimated economic growth rate, with the legislature authorized to make exceptions for emergencies.

The amendment prohibits the statewide appraisal of real property for property tax purposes. Enforcement of uniform standards and procedures for appraisal of property for property tax purposes is required to originate in the taxing authority where the property tax is imposed.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to provide that the legislature may permit political subdivisions to issue revenue bonds to develop employment opportunities for its citizens."

NUMBER THREE (S.J.R. 44)

S.J.R. 44 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution which would allow the legislature to authorize cities and towns to issue tax increment bonds to finance the redevelopment of blighted areas. The bonds are to be paid solely from revenue from municipal tax increments. Payment cannot be made from the revenue of municipal taxes, utilities, or other services.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to give the legislature the power to authorize cities and towns to issue bonds to finance the redevelopment of blighted areas and prohibiting any city or town from granting its money or lending its credit for such purposes."

NUMBER FOUR (S.J.R. 53)

S.J.R. 53 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution to allow the legislature to exempt from taxation solar or wind-powered energy devices.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to exempt from taxation solar and wind-powered energy devices."

NUMBER FIVE (H.J.R. 37)

H.J.R. 37 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution to grant exclusive jurisdiction to justices of the peace in civil cases where the amount in controversy does not exceed $200, except where the legislature gives exclusive jurisdiction to another court.

The amendment grants justices of the peace concurrent jurisdiction with county courts where the amount in controversy is between $200 and $500, except where the legislature gives the county court exclusive jurisdiction.

The amendment also grants justices of the peace concurrent jurisdiction

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to extend the jurisdiction of justices of the peace in civil cases."

NUMBER SIX (S.J.R. 45)

S.J.R. 45 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution to allow the legislature to expand the number of judges on any court of civil appeals. Presently courts of civil appeals are limited to a chief justice and two associate justices. The amendment also would allow the courts to sit in sections, with the concurrence of a majority of the judges sitting in the section necessary to decide a case.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment permitting the legislature to increase the number of justices on a court of civil appeals, permitting a court of civil appeals to sit in sections, and requiring a concurrence of a majority of justices to decide a case."

NUMBER SEVEN (S.J.R. 48)

S.J.R. 48 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution eliminating the State Building Commission and the State Building Fund. The authority of the State Building Commission has been transferred by law to the State Board of Control.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to repeal the constitutional authority for the State Building Commission and the State Building Fund."

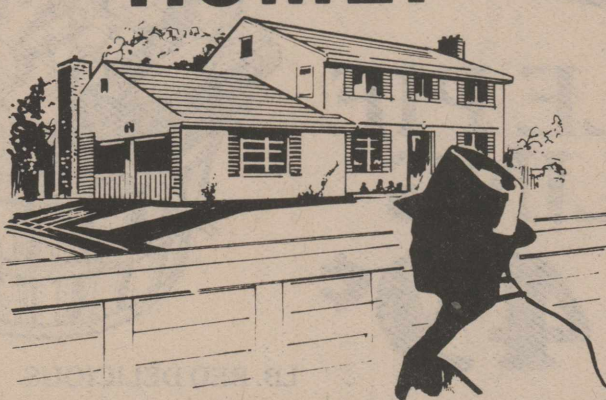

NUMBER EIGHT (H.J.R. 42)

H.J.R. 42 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution allowing certain political subdivisions or districts in the state that can presently issue bonds or otherwise lend its credit to engage in fire-fighting activities and to issue bonds or otherwise lend its credit to support such activities.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendments authorizing certain districts to engage in fire-fighting activities and to issue bonds or to issue bonds or otherwise lend their credit for fire-fighting purposes."

Group Appeals Argentine Ban On Witnesses

Many of Jehovah's Witnesses in the Collingsworth County area will be writing letters of appeal to government officials in Argentina, where their Christian society is currently under ban.

P.L. Trka, spokesman of the Shamrock Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, explained that a concerted effort in sending letters of appeal was being instituted by the group now. This is because all efforts of legal recourse have failed in Argentina to return freedom of worship which the Constitution of Argentina guarantees.

"In September of 1976," Trka explained, "The Argentine government announced that Jehovah's Witnesses were banned from practicing their religion. Time-consuming legal proceedings followed as Jehovah's Witnesses appealed the ban through the Argentine court system. Finally, though, in February 1978, news sources in Argentina declared: 'SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS EXECUTIVE DECREE BANNING JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES.' The ban has continued in effect ever since."

Trka said, "A report from our New York Headquarters indicated that the ban has resulted in persecution of Jehovah's Witnesses in Argentina. Their meeting places for Bible study have been closed down, children have been expelled from schools, adult Witnesses suffered loss of government employment, their private homes have been raided, arrests, and even physical assaults have taken place."

Calling the ban unjust, Trka went on to describe the activity of Jehovah's Witnesses in Argentina. "Jehovah's Witnesses," he related, "are a society of peaceful Christians."

City Council Affirms Lease On Southwestern Steel Mill

The city council Monday night approved a motion which affirmed the city's relation with Southwestern Rail Products, Inc., in construction of a new steel plant in Wellington.

City Manager Glen Taylor reviewed plans.

If the city's application for a $750,000 UDAG grant is approved, it will purchase land on which Southwestern has an option, construct the required plant buildings, complete with permanent fixtures such as electric hoists, and run utilities to the site.

Upon a motion by Tom Wilkins and second by Willie Gragson, the council approved leasing this facility to Southwestern Rail products, Inc. for $1.00 per year. Southwestern will be responsible for installing the furnaces and all other equipment required in the mill.

Taylor pointed out that the UDAG funding the city is seeking would be a grant and will not have to be repaid.

Lyndon Crelia was the third member present at this point in the council meeting.

Mayor Bill Hatch presided.

The council, upon a motion by Wilkins and second by Gragson, with Crelia concurring, voted to work with the Wellington Country Club in providing emergency water to get the grass on the golf course started.

The charge for making water and sewer taps was raised from $36.25 each to $50.00. The city makes sewer taps only when a plumber is not available. Taylor said the actual cost of materials in making a water tap is $47.00 and this does not include the meter, which cost an additional $30.

Charges for machine hire were raised.

"I do not solicit this work," Taylor told the group, adding that some equipment the city has is not otherwise available here.

New charges on a hourly basis are: backhoe, $30; compressor, $15 (minimum one hour); maintainer, $35;

Caterpillar $50; loader $35; and dirt, $10 per load at the city landfill.

Councilman Ralph Owens said he has received complaints of the garbage truck arriving at Elementary School, where the cafeteria is located, between 8:00 and 8:30 a.m., when school traffic is heaviest.

Power Outage Not Related To Newscast

The Greenbelt Electric Cooperative power shut-off Tuesday, Sept. 12, was not related to a television news story on Quail School that evening, Greenbelt manager David Pruitt said this week.

The electric co-op cut off power to many Collingsworth County residents for about an hour last week to repair a transformer at the north edge of Wellington that had been vandalized.

"We had to take an outage to make repairs or more serious problems might have developed," Pruitt said. "We were trying to pick a time that was least inconvenient for our customers, and we sincerely apologize for any inconvenience to our customers."

The electricity was cut off just minutes before a KVII-TV new report on Quail School was scheduled to air. Pruitt said the co-op received numerous complaints, and he asked KVII to run the segment again on Wednesday night. The station did run the segment again Wednesday and aired a longer version on their news magazine program on Sunday.

The annual farm and ranch tour gives everyone a chance to see the latest developments in soil conservation and improved crop varieties.

And there's something new on the ag tour this year---a couple of shinnery control projects that could help put hundreds of Collingsworth County acres into higher production.

At City State Bank, we're keeping the best of the old and adding some new things too, to bring you the best banking service. If you haven't been in lately, come see us. And join the ag tour busses that leave the courthouse square at 9 a.m. Sept. 28---it'll be worth your time.

Skyrockets Shut Out Elk City, 14-0

Wellington Skyrockets put on a tough defensive display and put together two scoring drives to shut out their second opponent of the season and post a 14-0 win over highly-rated Elk City, Oklahoma, Friday, Sept. 15.

The Rockets scored on their first possession from their own 29-yard line. The big gainer of the series came when quarterback Carl Taylor faked right on the Elk's 48 and took the ball left behind downfield blocking that prevented a defender from touching him until he reached the 28-yard line.

Wellington's aerial attack bombed out as it did for most of the game, but a combination of Taylor, full-back Ricky Jones and halfback James Thomas behind beautiful blocking moved the ball smoothly to the two yard line where Taylor followed a block by center Joe Thomas over for the score.

Taylor's extra-point kick put the Rockets in the lead 7-0 with 5:47 remaining in the first quarter. In addition to extra-point kicks, Taylor handled the kick-off chores for the Rockets this week.

Junior punter Stacy Urban did a good job of getting the Rockets out of the hole on several occasions in the face of a strong due-south wind.

Danny Wischkaemper dropped the Elk City ballcarrier for five yards behind scrimmage on third down to squash the Elk's next offensive attempt.

On the Elks third possession Joe Thomas blitzed Elk quarterback Jerry Holley twice and Holley's third pass of the series was picked off by Ricky Jones on the Rocket 25-yard line.

Woman Held In Jail Here

Mrs. Betty Winingham, wanted here on a charge of swindling, was picked up in Amarillo and is being held without bond in county jail, Sheriff John Rainey reported.

She is also wanted in Mississippi for jumping bail and for removal of mortgaged property, he said.

The Mississippi items which included television sets and a stock trailer were at first believed to have been stolen, but were not and are now in possession of the sheriff's department.

They also have CB equipment and rifles belonging to the woman, which they will keep pending disposition of the case.

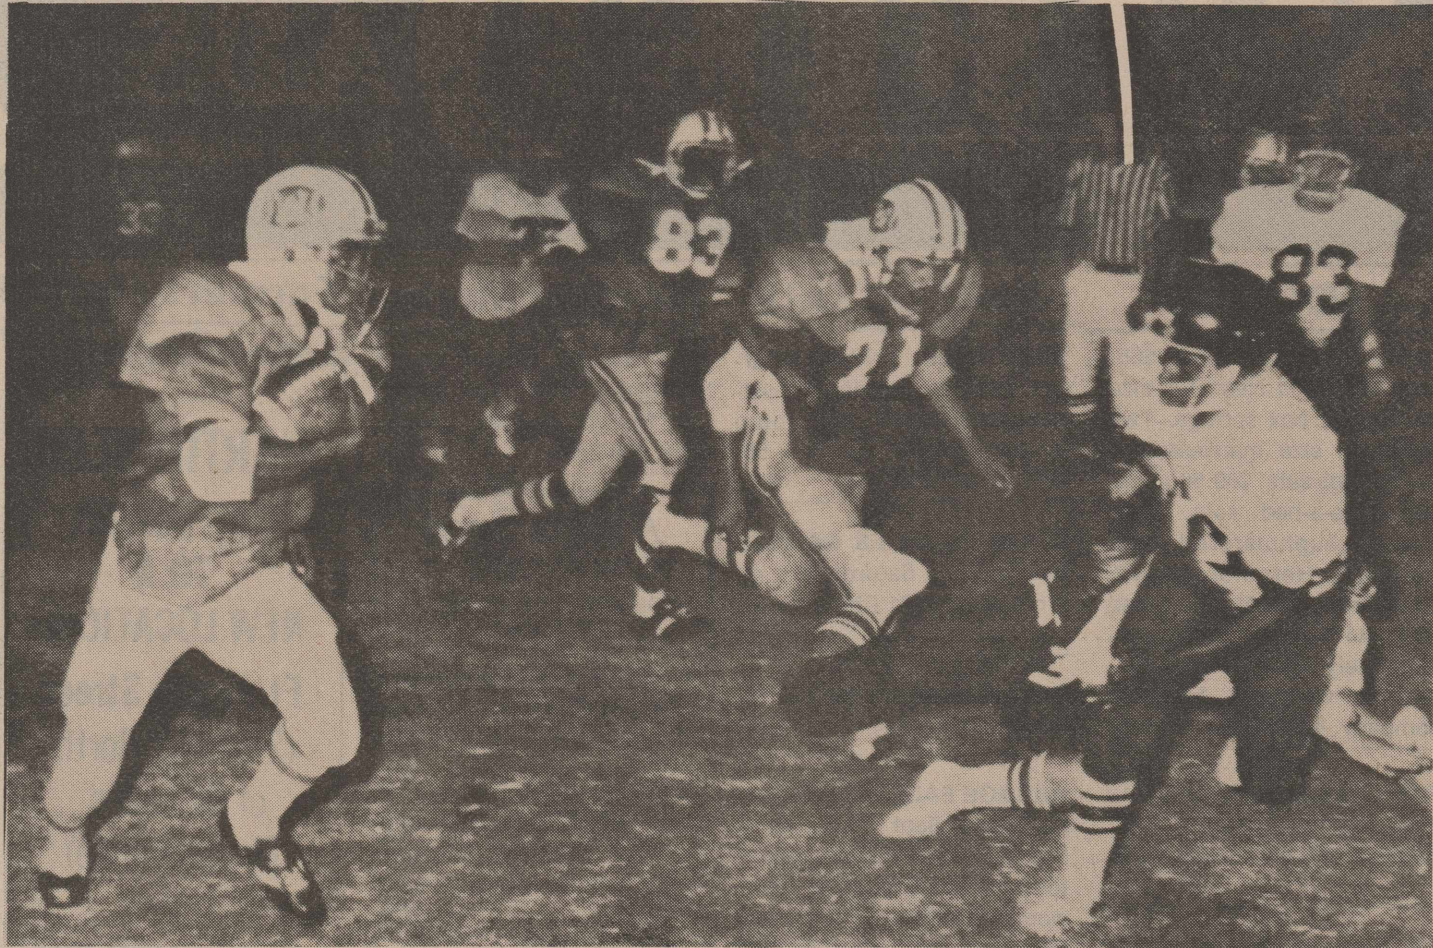

The woman, her husband and five children had been living in the Samnorwood community.

Winingham, who Rainey said is disabled, and the children have returned to their former home in Mississippi.

WELLINGTON LEADER

GAINER

James Thomas, left, turns the corner against Elk City Friday, September 15 as Robert Powell, 83 and Richard Garcia, 71 move in for downfield blocks.

Twice before halftime the Elks faced fourth down and short yardage and went for the first down. Both times Rocket defenders held them short and the ball went over.

The Rockets had their way on defense after halftime too. Robert Powell recovered an Elk fumble to kill their first drive and Robert Chambers intercepted a pass to stop the second.

In the fourth quarter the Elk looked like they were moving when Charles McIntosh, James Thomas and Joe Thomas teamed up to drop them for a 9-yard loss.

On the next play Robert Powell knocked the ball loose and McIntosh recovered for the Rockets.

On the Rockets first play after the fumble, James Thomas took off from the 45 yard line and followed good blocks by Terry Manuel and Richard Garcia to the 7 yard line.

Two plays later Ricky Jones plunged from the 2 yard line for the final score of the game. Carl Taylor's kick made the score 14-0.

On the Elks last possession Joe Thomas dropped the carrier for an 8-yard loss, Richard Garcia and Danny Wischkaemper for a 10-yard loss, and Robert Powell flew across the field for a bone-jarring tackle that knocked Elk David Britton out of action. Powell got in on the final three tackles as the game ended 14-0.
