Efforts To Cut European Aid Fund Beaten

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 1 — The Senate beat down tonight a proposal by Senators Taft (R-Ohio) and Russell (D-Ga) to slash 10 per cent off the new $5,580,000,000 fund asked for the next 15 months of the European recovery program.

The vote was 54 to 23.

The vote, regarded as the major test of efforts to whittle foreign aid spending, seemingly cleared the way for Senate approval of the full amount requested by President Truman's administration for western Europe.

However, many amendments still were pending. If all were formally offered, they could delay a final vote on the bill, perhaps for days.

The vote on the Taft amendment came after the Senate had rejected, 68 to 14, a proposal by Senator Wherry (R-Neb) to cut the fund 15 per cent.

Debate To Continue

After the vote on the Taft-Russell amendment, the Senate recessed at 10:03 p.m. CST until 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

Wherry told the Senate that the Taft-Russell amendment was merely a "token cut."

But Taft objected to this language. He pointed out that the 10 per cent cut would knock off more than $500,000,000, and he added "that ain't hay."

The vote on Wherry's proposal came after Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) urged the Senate to authorize the full $5,580,000,000 to carry out the second installment of the Marshall plan. He said the plan has "worked miracles" in halting the advance of communism in Europe.

Vandenberg Hails Plan

Just before the voting, Marshall plan administrator Paul G. Hoffman told newsmen that the recovery program would be virtually "out of business" tomorrow night if Congress failed to authorize new funds.

What he meant was that the Economic Co-operation adminis-

By BILL CLARK
Avalanche Staff Writer

PLAINVIEW, April 1 — Final judging begins Saturday morning in Plainview's 14th annual Fat Stock show with the virtual assurance that this will be one of the most successful exhibits in its history.

Beef cattle judging will begin at 9 a. m. Saturday, and at 1 p. m. loading of show livestock for shipment to Kansas City markets will start. Tonight approximately 25 boys had made reservations for a chaperoned bus which will carry them on a trip to watch the marketing and processing of the stock.

Ten-year-old Tom Acker, son of Jacob Acker of Nazareth community in Castro county, was grand champion winner in the swine division. He is a 4-H club boy.

Lockney Boy Winner

Harvey Meredith, 18-year-old Plainview FFA boy, won the reserve championship with a Poland China pig.

Jimmy McClure, Lockney 4-H club boy, won the grand championship in the lamb division with a cross-bred lamb. Reserve championship in that division was won by Bill John Hegi, a Petersburg 4-H club boy.

Hog judging was completed at noon by Ray C. Mowery, head of the animal industry department at Texas Technological college; hog judging at mid-afternoon by J. A. Gray of San Angelo.

Show officials and directors declare that the time and money spent in making the show a success was an investment in character building and would pay off worthwhile dividends in later years.

The show this year was open to boys and adults but the two di-

Butter Loses Round As House Votes To Repeal Oleo Taxes

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 1— Butter lost a major round in a spirited battle with a competing spread today as the House voted 287 to 89 to repeal the 63-year-old federal taxes on oleomargarine.

The House rejected all efforts to outlaw interstate shipment of oleomargarine, but the tax-repealing measure stipulates that yellow oleomargarine sold in public eating places must be triangular in shape and identified as oleomargarine.

Voting occurred after the House had heard complaints that the dairy industry is being destroyed, and demands, from the oleomargarine backers, that housewives should be free to buy any wholesome food they choose.

Sent To Senate

The House action sent the measure to the Senate, which hasn't acted on the question this year. The House approved an oleomargarine tax repealer last year, 260 to 106, but it died in the Senate. The Democratic platform calls for the tax repeal and the administration is supporting it.

The House-approved measure, sponsored by Rep. Poage (D-Tex), would not disturb the laws of 18 states that now prohibit the sale of yellow oleomargarine.

Treaty Protest Coldly Rejected

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—American and British spokesmen coldly rejected today Russia's charge that the Atlantic treaty is aggressive. They hailed it instead as a bulwark of peace.

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin said of the pact: "In its wise use it can be the greatest contributing factor to world peace ever known."

The U. S. State department declared it is strictly a defensive agreement and if the men in the Kremlin want to avoid trouble with the projected alliance all they need do is refrain from attacking any of the member nations.

Reply Considered

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee took that stand, too.

"If Russia does not meditate armed attacks, the treaty can not harm her," he said.

The State department's reaction to the protest which the Soviet Union delivered late yesterday was made known through a spokesman who declined use of his name. He made clear that the department considers the Soviet protest as being largely a propaganda move against the treaty. Department officials still are considering whether to make a formal reply to Moscow.

Bevin did not discuss the protest note directly, but in a speech at the National Press club here he did address himself to the

Two Arrested In Theft Cases

Although law violations of a serious nature were at a minimum Friday, several arrests on previous violations were announced by the sheriff's department.

Dean Andrews, 17, charged with theft by bailee of an automobile Thursday night from a car lot here, was reported by the sheriff's office here as in custody at Odessa. The car was recovered.

The complaint naming Andrews was filed Friday in the court of Justice of the Peace D. W. Robertson after A. E. Eden had sworn to the complaint before E. G. Pharr, assistant district attorney.

Theft Charge Filed

Bond of $1,000 was set by Robertson Friday for J. C. James, 41, of Lubbock, charged with desertion of two minor children on complaint of his wife before assistant District Attorney A. W. Salyars. The bond had not been posted late last night.

Louis Cruz, 46-year-old Mexican charged with theft Thursday night of four sacks of ornamental stucco from a church at Ninth and Ave. M, was arrested late Friday afternoon by Deputies Sheriff Tom Cannon and Raymond Land at a farm three miles southeast of Idalou.

Teacher, Janitor Injured In New Mexico School Explosion

PORTALES, N. M., April 1. (AP)—A teacher and a janitor were injured seriously today by an explosion that ripped the roof from a Portales first grade school room.

The blast happened an hour before school opened. None of the 35 pupils was in the room.

The roof collapsed after the explosion. Mrs. Alice Watson and janitor Joe Singleton were pinned under the wreckage.

Mrs. Watson was removed to Clovis Memorial hospital for treatment of a fractured back and damage to her spinal cord. Singleton is in a hospital here with serious chest injuries.

The explosion was attributed to an accumulation of gas from a floor furnace which went off when Singleton tried to light the furnace.

Stassen Asks 'MacArthur Plan' To Combat Communism In Asia

By JAMES F. KING
Associated Press Staff Writer

BOSTON, April 1 — Harold E. Stassen tonight called for a billion dollar-a-year "MacArthur plan" to fight Communism in Asia the same way the Marshall plan is checking the Reds in Europe.

The war-veteran president of the University of Pennsylvania told a distinguished group of scientists and educators here:

"We should move, and move promptly, to bolster the southern half of China."

Stassen offered his plan just 24 hours after Winston Churchill called the "collapse of China" under Communist attack the "worst disaster since our World War II victory."

Lashes Red Philosophy

The 42-year-old Stassen struck out at Stalin by name and the whole philosophy of Communism as he declared there was little difference between the "fuehrer principle of Hitler's system" and the "centralism of Stalin's."

Stassen spoke at the mid-century convocation of Massachusetts Institute of Technology as a last-minute substitute for President Truman, who sent word earlier that pressure of duties kept

$1,700 Taken By Bandit

(By The Associated Press)

WICHITA FALLS, April 1.—A lone bandit pulled a gun on a Byers, Tex., bank cashier in a downtown Wichita Falls alley today and robbed him of $1,700.

W. L. Graves, cashier of the First National bank of Byers, said he had just left the back entrance of the City National bank here and was taking a short cut through the alley to his car, parked a block away.

The bandit came upon Graves from behind, stopped him and stuck a gun in his face.

Man Is Described

Graves said the man was of dark complexion, about six feet tall, and slender. He said the man drove away in a black automobile.

Police said they located a witness who described the car as a 1946 black Pontiac coach with 1948 Texas licenses tags, and said the man was wearing a brown hat and a suit of blue work clothes. The witness said he used an automatic pistol.

His loot was $500 in five dollar bills, $500 in tens, $500 in twenties, and $200 in ones.

Patrols Set Up

Law enforcement officers immediately set up patrols of highways.

The holdup man was not masked. "If I ever saw him before I don't remember it," Graves told officers.

Graves had come from the small neighboring community to get cash for routine business at his bank on Saturday.

He told his employer:

"I got the money but I didn't get 100 yards until it was taken away from me."

He telephoned Leo J. Curtis, president of the Byers bank, from the Wichita Falls police station.

Paducah Man Held In Bank Embezzlement

WICHITA FALLS, April 1. (AP)—John Frederick Becker, 42, assistant cashier and teller of the First National bank at Paducah, was charged here today with embezzling $100,132.23.

Becker was charged before U. S. Commissioner E. T. Duff. He waived preliminary hearing and was released on $10,000 bond.

The complaint, signed by Federal Bureau of Investigation Agent William D. Griffith, charged Becker with "unlawfully and knowingly embezzling the sum of $100,132.23 from the First National bank of Paducah, Tex., while employed as assistant cashier and teller of said bank and converting the same to his own use and benefit."

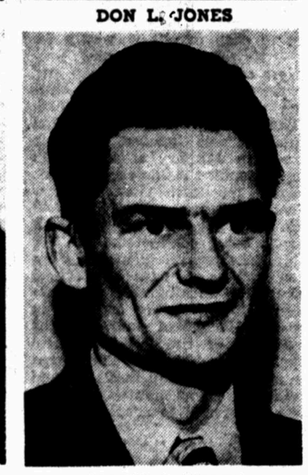

Clive Templeton, auditor of the National Surety corporation of Dallas, said there would be no loss to the bank or to depositors.

Becker has been employed by the bank since 1927, when he went to work as a bookkeeper.

Two Dead In Wrecks; Cold To Continue

APRIL began on a wintry note Friday as an unheralded cold front brought heavy snow flurries to the South Plains and Panhandle, sleet and rain to the Big Spring area, and windstorms and thundershowers to other sections of the state.

The freak weather brought heavy downpours to some points downstate. A heavy wind, hail and rainstorm caused a power failure at the Corpus Christi Naval Air Station and wind ripped off roofs near the city.

Snow was reported throughout most of the Panhandle and South Plains with sleet as far south as Big Spring. Two inches of snow was reported at Dalhart.

Two Persons Killed

In the Panhandle two persons lost their lives in highway accidents as the rapidly falling snow left a slick covering on pavement. An Arizona baby and a California engineer were killed in two automobile wrecks and several others were injured in accidents blamed upon the weather.

Snow began to fall on the South Plains at 6:50 a.m. as a cold front which had moved slowly across Arizona and New Mexico sliced into the upper atmosphere of West Texas. At 9:30 a.m. the mercury stood at 35 degrees, the high for the day, and the snow had grown heavier.

Cold Weather To Continue

A severe flurry at mid-afternoon limited visibility in downtown Lubbock to less than five blocks. The fall continued until 7:30 p.m. Weather bureau station records showed.

The 12 hour snowstorm brought .10 inch of measured precipitation to this area, the weather station said. The low for the day, 32 degrees, was recorded at 3:30 p.m. At 12:30 a.m. today the reading was 33 degrees with the mercury holding steady.

Cold weather will continue today, the forecaster said, with a minimum of 28 degrees forecast this morning. A high of 50 is expected this afternoon. A heavy overcast early today is expected to begin to break up this afternoon.

Heavy At Plainview

Sunday will be partly cloudy and slightly warmer, the station said.

Amarillo reported at 9:30 last night that the snow fall had increased there, but that flurries were continuing eastward to the Oklahoma-Texas line, and rain was falling southeastward in the Wichita Falls area. Precipitation was measured at .13 at Amarillo where flurries were recorded for almost 15 hours.

Plainview reported heavy snow flurries during the day with the fall letting up shortly after 5:30 p.m. No measurement of precipitation was given there.

Dalhart, in the Panhandle, reported two inches of snow on the ground. Childress, in the south-

Cerebral Palsy Treatments In City Give New Hope To Children

As aid in the treatment of their children has been made available, the light of human hope has spread forth its rays for numerous parents of Lubbock and the surrounding area in the last few years.

One of the mothers who has worked to secure treatment for children suffering cerebral palsy and has been a leader in developments of the last few years is Mrs. A. E. Jones of 2112 Sixteenth, president of West Texas Cerebral Palsy club.

Felt Alone In Problem

When parents of cerebral palsied children began meeting in Lubbock six years ago, there was no place to which they could take their children for regular treatment and training. Many of the parents knew no other victims of cerebral palsy and felt alone in their problem.

It is easier to understand the problem facing parents if one at some time has heard a parent consulting a doctor and making the anxious query, "When will he get over it." The answer must be, "There is no cure," Mrs. Jones pointed out.

The hope must lie in teaching the cerebral palsied child to develop potentialities to the fullest, learning to live with the handicap and make a useful life in spite of the handicap, which may be slight or may cripple the legs or the arms or the speech of the victim.

In the last few years, specialists in cerebral palsy have visited Lubbock. Parents have organized and through discussion have increased their understanding of cerebral palsy.

The School for Exceptional Children was established in Lubbock in 1946 and makes public school education in separate classes available to cerebral palsied children.

The Lubbock Cerebral Palsy Treatment center, sponsored by Lubbock Rotary club and Lubbock Crippled Children's society, was established last August, making regular, frequent treatment available to children and making information available to parents on care of children at home.

Just Means Everything

Such treatment is something parents "have wanted and needed and longed for. I don't have superlatives enough to say what it means," said Mrs. Jones.

Speaking of treatment now available and of expansion planned in the new Cerebral Palsy Treatment center building for which funds are being raised, Mrs. Jones said, "I suppose it is just every mother's dream come true. At least it is my dream come true."

Francis Elaine, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jones, receives treatment in the center at Dallas, prescribed by a specialist at Dallas. She is learning to stand by herself for the first time.

Sunday School Class Opened

One of the most recent developments was the establishment of an inter-denominational Sunday school class at Asbury Methodist church for cerebral palsied children. The class is one of few such classes in the nation.

Mrs. Jones is teacher of the class and is a former teacher in the School for Exceptional Children.

Modest and claiming no credit for the part she has had in securing recognition of the fact that hundreds of children in this area are handicapped as result of cerebral palsy and in promoting attention to need for treatment of those children, Mrs. Jones said, "I have done nothing except what a parent should do."

As early as 1943, she dreamed of possibility of a local treatment center, beginning with hopes for a visit to Lubbock of a noted cerebral palsy specialist, Dr. Earl R. Carlson of New York and Florida, who himself is a victim of cerebral palsy. He is author of the book, "Born That Way," in which he describes his own progress as a cerebral palsy victim.

Meeting Was Called

Mrs. Jones was anxious that Dr. Carlson might see her own daughter and, believing other parents would have the same desire for the specialist to see their children, she called a meeting, which was attended by a small group of parents. Publicity was given to plans to arrange for a visit to Lubbock of the specialist. Between 150 and 200 parents of Texas, Eastern New Mexico and Oklahoma communicated with Mrs. Jones and expressed interest.

Parents voted to pay $20 each to bring the specialist here. The specialist agreed to come for expenses only, making no charge for examination of children. The cost to each parent was only $8.

New Avenues Opened

New avenues for education and treatment of cerebral palsied children have since been opened.

The School for Exceptional Children was opened at Hub Homes in January of 1946, with Mrs. Josephine Ballenger and Mrs. Jones as teachers. The school was moved to Cottage school later and then to Dupre school, where it now is being conducted.

Mrs. Ballenger, principal, has been connected with the school since its opening. Mrs. Jones taught in the spring of 1946, in the 1946-47 school year and the beginning of the 1947-48 school year. Her daughter underwent hip surgery that fall in Dallas and was in bed seven months. Francis Elaine returned to school in January.

Early in 1946, the West Texas Cerebral Palsy club was formally organized.

Club officers, in addition to Mrs. Jones, are Mrs. Paul Warren of Lubbock, secretary; Mrs. James Postlewaite of Lubbock, first vice president; Mrs. George D. Harlan of Littlefield, treasurer, and Mrs. Haymes Wells of Plainview, historian.

DIRECT FEDERAL LOANS SCORED

Elimination Of U.S. Business Agencies Urged By Commission

By FELIX COTTEN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 1 — The Hoover commission recommended today that 30 government business agencies be eliminated and that direct federal lending be stopped except in "emergencies."

In the last of 18 reports to Congress on government reorganization, the 12-man group proposed a sweeping reshuffling of federal business functions which would do away with 30 of the agencies thus engaged. They would be merged with other bodies.

The commission, of which former President Hoover is chairman, said that if its program is adopted the taxpayer would be saved "large sums."

The group in particular lashed out at direct government loans, one of the biggest activities of the war and depression periods. Such loans still are being made by the Reconstruction Finance corporation and four other agencies. The commission said:

"Direct lending by the government to persons or enterprises opens up dangerous possibilities of waste and favoritism to individuals or enterprises. It invites political and private pressure, or even corruption.

"Emergencies may arise in depression, war, national defense or disaster which must be met in this way. But direct lending should be absolutely avoided except for emergencies."

The group recommended that Congress review the whole problem with a view to imposing legal restrictions which would insure maximum use of private lending channels or provide for government guarantee of private loans.

Secretary of State Acheson, vice chairman of the commission, and two other commissioners disagreed with a proposal by its task force that the RFC be abolished and said it should be reorganized instead to guarantee loans by private banks. It previously had recommended that the RFC should be transferred to the treasury.

The group side-stepped recommendations regarding government power activities. But Hoover and four other commissioners made minority proposals on this subject. Among them were:

Congress should consider in each case whether advantageous long-term contracts could not be made for sale of power at government generating plants before authorizing construction of transmission lines.

Congress should establish "a national policy as to power rates in federal projects," and the Federal Power commission should determine rates in conformity therewith.

The commission proposed that the numerous government housing agencies be merged into one agency "under a single administrator," who would have full authority over them.

It also recommended sweeping consolidations and changes among farm agencies, including liquidation of the Farmers' Home administration, one of the agencies engaged in making direct loans. In its place a "modest corporation" would be set up to operate on a reduced scale.

Howard Payne College Choir To Present Concert In Tahoka

TAHOKA, April 1. (Special)—The 40-voice A Cappella choir of Howard Payne college at Brownwood will be presented in formal concert in the auditorium of Tahoka First Baptist church at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night, according to announcement by Rev. C. T. Aly, pastor.

Regarded as one of the finest choirs in Texas, the choir rehearses two hours daily five days a week. Director is Woodrow Wall, a native of North Carolina, son of that state's leading Baptist minister, Dr. Zeno Wall.

Woodrow Wall holds a bachelor of arts degree from Wake Forest college in North Carolina. He spent two years in the school of music at the Southwestern seminary in Fort Worth, and later served with the U. S. Navy during World War II.

After release from the Navy, Wall entered the Westminster Choir college of Princeton, N. J., where he was graduated in 1947.

There will be no admission charge to the concert here. The public is invited to attend, Rev. Aly said. The concert is sponsored by the choir of the Tahoka Baptist church.

Lubbock Parents Of Lt. Altus B. Sansom Notified Of Death

Mr. and Mrs. Altus Sansom, 2507 Twenty-second, were officially notified Friday by Adjutant General of the Army Edward F. Witsell of the death of their son, First Lt. Altus B. Sansom, 24, in an airplane accident on Honshu, Japan, March 27.

Lt. Sansom had been reported missing for several days but official confirmation of his death was not received until Friday morning, although the Lubbock couple had learned Thursday via a short wave radio operator in California of their son's death.

"The secretary of the Army has asked me to express his deep regret that your son, First Lt. Altus B. Sansom was killed on Honshu, 27 March, 1949, in an airplane accident," the telegram to Mr. and Mrs. Sansom read. "He was previously reported missing; confirming letter follows." (Signed) Edward F. Witsell, adjutant general.

A short time later, Mr. and Mrs. Sansom received a telegram from Cong. Geo. H. Mahon as follows:

"Regret to report that Army officials advise your son was lost on the plane. You have no doubt received official message from the Army. Your son has given his life for our country and you have my deepest sympathy in your tragic loss. I will report further details which may become available."

Mr. Sansom Friday afternoon talked by phone to a nephew, Lt. Col. Silas Gassett, in Yokohama, Japan. Lt. Col. Gassett said no plans had yet been made to return the body to the United States. Rescue operations were still underway, it was said. Lt. Col. Gassett was on his way to Osaka to visit Lt. Sansom at the time the crash occurred.

Graduate Of Tech

Lt. Sansom, who was reared in Lubbock and graduated from Lubbock Senior High school with second highest honors; and from Texas Technological college. He graduated from the University of Texas Medical school at Galveston with high honors at the age of 21 years. While at the medical school he was a member of Phi Chi medical fraternity, which he served as president.

He served his interneship at Philadelphia General hospital, where he served as president of the Blackley Association of Internes.

In October, 1947, he entered the Air Force and after three months training at Randolph Field, he was sent to Japan in January, 1948. Since that time he has been serving as flight surgeon at the 45th General hospital and other points for the Fifth Air Force. He was to have received his captaincy this week.

He was a member of the First Baptist church and during his studies at Texas Tech served as president of the College club, men's social group.

Local short wave radio operators aided Mr. and Mrs. Sansom in receiving word of their son's fate and it was through their work that unofficial confirmation of his death was received from the California operator, who called Mr. Sansom by long-distance Thursday.

Also killed in the crash, according to the Associated Press, was First Lt. Everett P. Strauch, Santa Maria, Calif.; First Lt. Charles C. Lindley, son of Mr. Charles Lindley of Pecos, and Mrs. Alice O. Lindley of Alpine; and First Lieut. Thurman C. Emfinger whose wife, Bernice G. Emfinger is en route to Japan aboard the Army transport General Ainsworth. Lt. Emfinger is of Owens, Texas.

TAHOKA, April 1. (Special)—Reburial services for Marvin Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith of Tahoka, will be conducted at 4 p. m. Saturday in the First Baptist church.

Rev. C. T. Aly is to officiate.

Smith, a ship fitter third-class, was killed in action while with the Navy at Ie Shima island, just off the coast of Okinawa, on June 11, 1945.

He was born April 24, 1922, at Paluxy, Hood county, Texas, and moved to Lynn county with his parents in 1940.

He entered military service on Jan. 8, 1943, and served 18 months in the Aleutian islands before he was transferred to the Western Pacific area.

Graveside services Saturday in Tahoka cemetery will be directed by Stanley Funeral home, with members of American Legion Post

Grass Planting Project Is Held

By EDWARD WELSH
Avalanche Staff Writer

In spite of cold winds and snow flurries more than 50 interested farmers and ranchers gathered at the Howard Hampton ranch in southwest Crosby county yesterday afternoon to witness a grass planting demonstration.

The grass seeding was sponsored by the Crosby county soil conservation district. Technicians from the Soil Conservation Service of the USDA assisted in the demonstration.

One hundred fifty acres of the 25 section ranch were set aside for the experiment. The soil was mostly of the sandy type and was very shallow in spots. There were many outcroppings of rock where the soil was thin. Most of the land had sorghum stubble.

Kimbrough Directs Planting

A seed mixture consisting of side oats grama, blue grama, little bluestem, King Ranch bluestem, sand bluestem, sand lovegrass and weeping lovegrass was used. It was sown with a grass seed drill about ten pounds to the acre.

W. R. Kimbrough, Crosby county agent who directed the planting, said that Mr. Hampton had already undertaken extensive conservation work on his ranch. He was particularly interested in creating a cover for the sandy areas which are more subject to wind erosion. Kimbrough pointed out that many of the spectators yesterday were farmers and landowners who had land that presented problems similar to those on the Hampton place. One man came from as far off as Brownfield.

Another seeding demonstration has been set up for April 4. This experiment will be made on the farm of Leon Lawson, two miles southeast of Pettit in Hockley county. Hockley county agent Artie Forehand will supervise the seeding under the sponsorship of the Hockley County Soil Conservation district.

Hereford To Be Home For Two More New Industries

HEREFORD, April 1 (U.P.)—"The town without a toothache" boasted two new industries today.

Dick Bush and associates, lettuce growers of California and Arizona, will grow 600 acres of lettuce in Deaf Smith county this season to add some 2,400 acres for 1949 already planned in the Hereford vicinity.

H. Cooper and Mrs. Virginia Kiebert, co-owners of a new electrical weed eradication machine patent, have moved to Hereford from Walla Walla, Wash., to establish a Texas headquarters.

Hereford became known years ago as the "town without a toothache" because of minerals in the soil and water which tend to preserve teeth.

Longhorns Garner 16 Points To Take Lead In Texas Relays

Oklahoma Aggies, Nebraska Are Strongest Contenders

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUSTIN, April 1 — The University of Texas worked itself into position to lead the way in its own Texas Relays today by gathering 16 points in the eight final events run off and qualifying plentifully for tomorrow's half of the track and field show.

Oklahoma A. and M. which racked up 10 points today, and Nebraska, which topped the qualifying in two relays—the 880 and 440—are looked upon as strongest competitors for the Longhorns.

Rain, wind and cold hampered the runners and wiped out chances for records of any sort. There also was an alarming quota of pulled muscles, one coming to John Robertson, the Texas sprinter in the 880-yard relay. Texas appeared destined to finish first in its qualifying heat until the accident. Robertson dropped out and Texas failed to qualify.

Steers Win Javelin

Robertson had just won the broadjump with a leap of 24 feet 5¾ inches and it was lucky that he was in this event before the relay. He probably will be unable to run for Texas even in in the 440-yard relay tomorrow.

Texas also won first in the javelin throw and Ray Marek pitched the spear 183 feet 5 inches. Charles Kolh of George Pepperdine won the 3,000-meter run—the only other final in the university-college class—with a time of 8:55.2.

Perry Samuels of Texas and Paul Bienz of Tulane led the 100-yard dash qualifiers in the comparatively slow time of 10.1 but they were bucking a stiff north wind. Charley Parker, Texas sprint ace who would have been the favorite in the 100, did not run. He was held out of the relays because of a leg hurt.

Nebraska topped the 880-yard relay with a qualifying time of 1:28.3 and led the 440-yard relay in 42.5.

Kansas Wins Event

Oklahoma A. and M. won the sprint medley relay with a time of 3:34.4 while Kansas won the distance medley with 10:25.0.

A tight fight for the college division title was indicated as University of Houston, Southwest Texas State and Sam Houston State each qualified for two places in tomorrow's finals but with the major races—in which favored North Texas State is strongest—are to come.

Texas appears destined to dominate the junior college-freshman class. The Longhorn first-year men made five points in the lone final held in this division today, winning the sprint medley relay, and qualified plenty of men in tomorrow's finals.

Corpus Christi Liked

Corpus Christi looks like the class of the high school division.

August Erfurth of Rice led the 120-yard high hurdle qualifiers in the university-college division with a time of 14.9. Rollin Prather of Kansas State pitched the shot 50 feet 7 inches to lead in that event.

Two final events were held in the high school division. Jim Dimmitt of Beaumont and Johnny Jeanes of Milby (Houston) tied for first in the high jump at six feet, one inch. John Reagan of Houston won the sprint medley with a time of 3:42.0.

In the only final event of the Junior college-college freshman class, Texas won the sprint medley relay with a time of 3:35.5.

Red Raider Relay Team Qualifies

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

MEMORIAL STADIUM, Austin, April 1—Red Raider colors were not raised in token of victory here today, but Texas Tech won second place in the grueling sprint medley relay, and the 440-yard relay team won its heat to qualify for the finals Saturday.

Otherwise, Raider hopes took a licking on this cold, windy afternoon in which times were far from normal and a 10.1 won the university class 100-yard dash.

A 20-mile an hour wind beat into the faces of runners this afternoon, and the field events produced action worthy of the Texas Relays.

A bad pass of the baton cost Tech victory in the sprint medley relay. The Raiders, running in the second heat against time, made one poor pass that cost them five yards. It also cost them precious tenths of seconds. As it was, they ran the relay in a creditable 3:34.3, but the winning time was 3:32.4 turned in by Oklahoma A & M.

Wilson Runs 880

Running for the Raiders in this event were Costin Bufkin, Charley Reynolds, Moon Mullins, and Ben Wilson. Wilson ran anchor and pulled up from behind in his heat to shade Nebraska by a whisker. It was the first time this year that Wilson had run the 880.

Mullins and Reynolds came back to join with Seth Murphey and Ed Clepper in running a 43.2 race in the 440-yard relay to win the second heat. Reynolds, running anchor, took the baton from Clepper with a yard lead on the closest runner. When he broke the tape he was leading by 10 yards.

But Tech's time was fifth best. Nebraska won the first heat in 42.5, followed by Oklahoma in 42.6, Texas A&M in 42.8, and Texas in 42.9. Finals will be run Saturday, with Baylor and SMU also qualifying.

Clepper, Pinnell In High Jump

Joining the two relay teams tomorrow will be Clepper and Charley Pinnell in the high jump, with Clepper given an outside chance of winning. He faces his biggest competition in Vern McGrew of Rice.

Lack of decent weather in Lubbock showed its harmful touch today in both the 100-yard dash and the hurdles, with all Tech entrants failing to show.

Pinnell ran 15.0 race in the second heat of the preliminaries to qualify for the semi-finals, but in the semi-finals he met too much competition and finished fourth in the first heat. His time did not qualify him for the finals Saturday. Augie Erfurth of Rice turned in the best qualifying time of 14.9, a mark that Pinnell has met this year in practice. But the Tech runner wasn't up to it today. Clepper got off to a bad start in the hurdles and failed to qualify for the semi-finals.

Seth Murphey made two false starts in the century and was ruled off the track, cutting Tech's chances in half, and seconds later Mullins made a bad start and came in fourth in his heat, which was won by Paul Bienz of Tulane in 10.1. That equaled the best time for the day, shared by Bienz and Perry Samuels of Texas.

Two boys from the South Plains, running for Rice and Texas freshman squads respectively turned in winning times today. Bill Howton of Plainview qualified for the 120-yard high hurdle finals with a 15.4, best time of the division and Carl Mayes of Pampa qualified for the finals of the 100-yard dash with a 10.5 century, best time in the division.

Junior High Track And Field Meet Set Today

Twelve Schools Will Compete

A large field of young trackmen will enter the nineteenth annual Junior High School Track and Field meet today, with preliminaries getting underway at 10 o'clock at Chapman field.

Twelve schools, including three local, have entered, and four or five others are expected. E. J. Lowrey, athletic manager, estimated the total entrants at approximately 400. The meet is sponsored by Lubbock Public schools.

Competition will be held in three divisions — seventh, eighth, and ninth grades. A total of 29 events will be held in the three divisions, with six scheduled in the seventh grade, 19 in the eighth grade, and 13 in the ninth grade.

Childress Sparks Odessa

Odessa will field a strong team, sparked by Joe Childress, sensational junior high runner who scored 19 and one-half points in the West Texas Relays last week. He finished first in the 50 and 100-yard dashes and the broad jump, anchored the 440-yard relay team, and placed third in the high jump —a very good afternoon's work.

The three local schools entering teams are O. L. Slaton, J. T. Hutchinson, and Carroll Thompson.

Standouts on the Slaton team are Duane Rampe and Bo Sexton in the ninth grade, Dick Lowrey and C. D. Walker in the eighth grade, and Bill Polk and Jimmy Stafford in the seventh.

Sexton Top Performer

Sexton has been a top performer in the 50-yard and 100-yard dashes, but only the 100-yard dash will be run today. In the Odessa meet he placed third behind Childress of Odessa in his heat. He will run the 220-yard dash today also. Rampe is expected to go in the hurdle events.

Lowrey will run in the hurdles and pole vault, and Walker, Polk, and Stafford will enter the 50 and 100-yard dashes.

Billy Presley has been outstanding in the discus and shot-put in the ninth grade division at J. T. Hutchinson Junior High, and Roy Middleton has shown up well in the 440-yard dash.

Two eight-graders, Will Ed Craddock and J. W. Hutcherson, have appeared strong. Craddock is tops in the dashes, and Hutcherson runs the low hurdles.

Noland Leads Graders

At Carroll Thompson, Maxwell Noland has led the seventh graders in several events. The eighth grade 440-yard relay team, composed of Allen Ross, Preston Hall, Tommy Yelvington, and Jerry Walden has made good times in practice. The 880-relay will be run by Richard Flanagan, Billy Biggs, Hall, and Gerald Lloyd.

In the ninth grade, the 440-relay team should be a contender with Charles Hodges, Don Jones, Billy Tucker, and Billy Smith running that event.

In addition to the teams mentioned above, Andrews, Denver City, Floydada, Littlefield, O'Donnell, Seminole, Slaton, and Whiteface are entered.

Bowling Tournament Deadline Set Today

Today is the last day that entries for the fifth annual West Texas-New Mexico Bowling association tournament will be accepted, and through Friday entries had been received from 43 teams outside of Lubbock.

Approximately 15 teams will be entered from here for the tournament which will be played on the weekends of April 23-24, April 30-May 1, and May 7-8. At present almost 250 bowlers from outside the city and 75 local kegling enthusiasts are scheduled to appear in the tournament which will be held at Lubbock Bowling. E. A. Christensen, owner of the local club, said that the schedule for the first week was complete.

The tournament is sponsored by The Avalanche-Journal, and trophies will be awarded to the winners in each division of team, singles, and doubles competition. Money prizes will be made to the individuals, depending on the number of entries and governed by the rules of the American Bowling Congress.

Entries have been received from several local leagues. In the Civic league the Kiwanis, Jaycees, and Lubbock Bowling club are entered. The College league entered the Press Bulls and Lucky Strikes.

All the eight teams comprising the Commercial league entered. They are Arthur Lay, Glassman's, S and Q Clothiers, Lester's, Jones Construction, Jaycees Number 2, Firestone, and Yellow Cab.

Lubbock Leaves For Track Meet

Twenty-one Westerner track hopefuls were scheduled to leave Lubbock at 6 o'clock this morning for the Big Spring Relays, the sixth annual event.

At least 100 athletes are expected to participate in the relays, and the strongest team appears to be Odessa. Both hurdle events are believed to be discontinued this year because of the condition of the hurdles, and this will hinder the Lubbock team, which had counted on picking up points in the low hurdles.

Instead the 880-yard relay and the mile medley will be run. In the medley relay, the first man runs 440 yards, the second two 220 yards, and the last man 880 yards.

Lubbock Chances Slight

Chances for a meet victory for the Westerners appear to be practically nil, but anything can happen at a track meet. Perhaps the breaks are due to come the way of Lubbock High, but judging from the hard luck in practice it seems that only bad things can happen to the team.

The weather made practice impossible Friday, but the boys went through a few calisthenics in Chapman fieldhouse to limber up their muscles and keep them from being tight tomorrow.

The preliminaries, which start at 9:30, will probably be run in near freezing weather, and it is hoped that the weatherman will order warmer weather for the finals in the afternoon.

With the elimination of the hurdles, most of the Westerner points will probably come in the field events. Alfred Adair should finish first in the pole vault and perhaps the high jump. He tied for first in the Odessa pole vault with W. J. Blake of Lubbock last week and placed second in the high jump.

Decker May Win Event

Danny Boone and Henry McDougal had good leaps in the broad jump last week and could very easily take that event, and Douglas Ross in the discus and Morris Moyers in the shot-put should finish in the money in those events.

With a little luck Donald Decker has a good chance of winning the 100-yard dash, but the other track events seem doubtful.

Making the trip with Coaches Fred Brown and Pat Farris and Managers Davis Hopper and Edwin Shipman are Malcolm Young, Cecil Caddell, Wayne Stroud, Decker, Boone, Moyers, Dale Young, Kent North, Eddie Goetze, McDougal, Ozell Westbrook, Blake, Deany McGuire, Ross, Donny Rawls, Teddy Vaught, Ray Thornton, Richard Allen, Douglas Weinke, Adair and Charlie Williams.

New Deal Wins District 7-B Interscholastic Track Meet

Slush and snow failed to halt the scheduled District 7-B Interscholastic league track meet Friday afternoon at Chapman field, but only four teams were entered of the eight expected.

New Deal shivered and slid to the team championship with 72 points, and Shallowater was 20 points behind with 52. Third place went to Cooper with 17 points, and Frenship followed with three points.

Most of the events were run in snow, and the boys kept their warm-up clothes on during the meet.

In the junior high division, New Deal again won first place with 19 and three-fourth points. Shallowater finished second with 17 and three-fourth; Cooper had 11 and three-fourth; and Frenship finished last with 6 and one-fourth points.

In winning the senior division title, New Deal took six first place events to five for Shallowater and that added to the New Deal point total.

Lusk of Shallowater won two first places in the 100-yard dash and 220-yard dash. Henry of New Deal took both hurdle events and tied for first place in the pole vault.

Westerner Golf Meet Scheduled

With prospects of warmer weather today, the annual Westerner invitational golf tournament will be played at Lubbock Country club, Supt. Floyd Honey said Friday night.

Odessa has entered the tournament to make a seven team field. Other schools are Lubbock, Plainview, Amarillo, Abilene, Midland, and Pampa.

Sportsmen's Meet Slated

BROWNWOOD, April 1 (Special) — The old Camp Bowie grounds are humming with activity as Brown county sports clubs get ready for Texas' first statewide championship meet for hunters and fishermen, the Texas Sportsmen's Competition in Brownwood April 7-10.

On the newly-constructed skeet and trap range, cries of "pull" and "mark" ring out, followed by shotgun blasts, as shooters test the equipment.

At the same time, the sound of hammers can be heard at the pistol and rifle range where members of the Brown County Rifle and Pistol club are re-building the ranges and constructing target frames.

Anglers Get Ready

Out at the settling basin of the water district, the Brownwood Sportsmen's Club is setting up platforms for Texas anglers who want to try their skill at hitting the targets in the plug and fly casting events.

And in the huge fieldhouse, which will serve as headquarters for the competition, preparations are underway to handle the bench shows for pointers, setters, coonhounds and foxhounds. The Brown County Fox Hunters' Association, the San Antonio Bird Dog and Quail club and the Brazos Coon Hunters' Association all are involved in that show.

Open To Club Members

The competition is open to all Texas sportsmen who are members of clubs affiliated with the Texas Wildlife Federation, sponsor of the meet. State champions will be selected in skeet and trap shooting, plug and fly casting, pistol and rifle marksmanship, and in the bench show for hunting dogs. Entries will be accepted on the grounds. Anyone wanting to enter but who is not a club member may join an affiliated club at the competition, according to Conrad Fath, general chairman of the competition.

Lockney Boxing Team Gains 8-7 Victory Over Pampa Fighters

Originally Lockney was scheduled to meet Lakeview High school. Tuesday night, April 5, Plainview will bring its team to Lockney for a night of leather slinging, and Plainview will be in for a rough time because Lockney has not lost a single team match in three starts.

Winter Weather Makes Return

east corner of the Panhandle, had light rain and drizzle mixed with light snow grains. Pampa also reported snow, the Associated Press said.

Skids On Highway

Despite freezing and near freezing temperatures during the day, most of the snow melted almost as fast as it fell. Amarillo's low for the day was 26, its high 32. A low of 28 is expected there this morning.

The baby killed in the Panhandle was the seven-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. McNealey of Phoenix. The child was thrown from his parents' car when it skidded on a strip of packed snow and overturned. The accident occurred 16 miles east of Amarillo. Mrs. McNealey, 26, was treated for shock at an Amarillo hospital. McNealey, 32, was not injured, the Associated Press said.

Kenneth D. Kahn, 57, of Hollywood, Calif., was fatally injured when his car skidded on snow and overturned 10 miles west of Vega. Mrs. Kahn was slightly injured. Kahn was a Lockheed aircraft chemical engineer.

Youths Are Injured

Carlton Buck, about 45, of Vega suffered slight injuries when his car overturned between Bushland and Amarillo. He was taken to an Amarillo hospital.

The highway patrol said all three accidents, in separate parts of the Panhandle, occurred within 10 or 15 minutes of each other.

Two teen age youths from Pampa, Jimmy Crouch and Joe Glaxner, were injured seriously in a head-on collision between Pampa and Clarendon.

A heavy wind, hail, and rainstorm caused a power failure at the Corpus Christi Naval Air station and the wind ripped off roofs in South Bluff community, 10 miles south of Corpus Christi, the Associated Press said.

Downtown Corpus Christi and its North Beach area were without power for 17 minutes after lightning damaged a power line.

A 1.48 inch rain that fell in 15 minutes drenched Kingsville. The 15-minute storm brought 1.2 inches of rain to an area three miles square at the Naval Air base. The fall was less heavy in Corpus Christi.

Navy aerologers had given 30 minutes warning of the storm at the station and no Navy planes were damaged. A small plane on pontoons was blown over in the bay. Two civilian planes at Corpus Christi airport were damaged slightly.

The King ranch reported light hail from Sarita to Norias in Kenedy county.

Twenty-eight men of the First Church of the Nazarene attended a dinner and meeting last night at the church. Main speaker was Rev. H. G. Bohannon, local evangelist. A quartet, composed of Carl Stephenson, Jack Polk, Roy Stephenson, and Byron Stephenson, sang several songs. In addition, Roy Stephenson sang a solo. The regular meeting of the group will be held at 7:30 o'clock next Friday evening. Last night's gathering originally was to have been held March 25, but was postponed.

W. R. Smith, vice president of Abilene Christian college, Abilene, in a meeting held last night at Broadway Church of Christ, outlined the proposed development and expansion program of the college. He pointed out the importance of education that includes the spirifual as well as the physical and intellectual. Three foreign students at the college also spoke, as did Charley Damron, director of the ACC development program. J. C. Rigney, president of the local ACC alumni chapter, was in charge of the meeting. Some 300 persons attended, although more were expected until inclement weather set in.

A total of 26,963 license registration receipts had been issued shortly before the midnight deadline last night for registering motor vehicles, J. B. Johnston, county tax assessor-collector, announced, a figure somewhat higher than the 23,713 issued last year before deadline time. Breakdown on the registrations showed the following: Passenger vehicles, 20,839; commercial vehicles, 3,200; farm trucks, 1,200; and other types, 1,724. Only about a dozen persons were in the tax office between 8 p. m. and midnight last night to register vehicles, Johnston said, indicating that people had avoided the last minute rush more than in previous years.

general charge of aggression.

"It is a fundamental principal of this pact," he said, "that w will never indulge in aggression. "But to the would-be aggressor we say: Think twice, think thrice."

The British cabinet officer, here to join in signing the 12-nation, 20-year alliance next Monday, predicted history will say "in that pact humanity took its great step to enthrone the great freedoms of the world."

After the press club talk, Bevin went to the State department building where he joined Secretary Acheson and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman. They talked over outstanding German problems, and Schuman told reporters they "made good progress."

Foreign Aid Debated

tration (ECA) would have obligated most of its present funds by then and would lack authority to go ahead on further buying contracts. However, actual shipments would continue on a large scale, under contracts previously made.

Throwing his powerful weight against a GOP-led economy drive, Vandenberg spoke out against the amendment by Taft.

But while Vandenberg made his plea against the cut, rumbles of discontent over the spending of billions in American dollars for Europe continued to swell in volume.

Ellender Seeks Slash

Senator Martin (R-Pa) told the Senate bluntly that the United States must halt its "drunken spending spree" or go broke.

And Senator Ellender (D-La) said that when the Senate Appropriations committee considers Marshall plan aid he will do everything possible "to trim this program and save as much as I can." Ellender is a member of the Appropriations committee.

"Reasonable" Cut Urged

The bill now before the Senate is an authorization bill, carrying no funds. It sets a sort of ceiling on the appropriation bill, which is to be considered later.

Vandenberg's position was that to cut the present measure now would be to "prejudice and circumscribe" the appropriation committee's action. He and other backers of the authorization bill have acknowledged some adjustments may be possible later, however.

The Michigan Senator also tartly suggested that the Senate quit talking and start voting. The Senate has talked for seven days, with a backlog of 27 amendments already piled up.

Rose Marie Buckles, 28, of 2523 N. Second, was fined $50 last night in corporation court after she pleaded guilty to failure to leave information in connection with the collision of a car she was driving with two other vehicles within a period, police said, of 20 minutes.

A car owned by Elton Plowman of 901 College Ave. was struck about 6:42 p. m. while parked in 2400-block Ninth street, and another belonging to and driven by E. F. Pavlicek of 2420 Seventh was hit about 7 p. m. near the intersection of Eighth and College.

Both parties were able to secure the license number of the car, which lead to the arrest some time later.

A. A. Hlavaty of south of Woodrow reported to the sheriff's department that his irrigation well had been stripped. Damage was assessed at $67.30.

A tricycle valued at $25 was reported stolen from the 1904 Twenty-seventh residence of R. A. May, police said.

him in Washington.

But the Republican Stassen—who lost a bid for the GOP presidential nomination in 1948—made clear he was speaking for himself alone and Mr. Truman was "not responsible for anything I say this evening."

Churchill was on the platform as Stassen spoke.

Asks Long Term Plan

"Clearly the Marshall plan in Europe has been the most significant single right thing we have done since the end of the war," Stassen said.

"It is high time that we have a parallel MacArthur plan in Asia.

"Supported in a major way, it should be long term in its vision, continuous in its execution, carrying the same flexibility of detailed application, and the same concept of objectives and requirement of self-help as the Marshall plan."

Stassen struck out at the idea "all thinking should begin and end upon this question of the prevention of a third world war."

This, he said, tends "to shackle our minds at the very moment in history when it is most essential that they be unfettered."

Jewelry Firm Here Observes Birthday

Along with the 27 other stores of the organization, the Zale Jewelery Co., store in Lubbock today begins celebration of the company's 25th anniversary, M. L. Zukav, local manager, announced today.

"The event has been in preparation for almost a full year," Mr. Zukav said, "and Zale designers have fashioned new watches and diamond rings to symbolize the company's Silver anniversary. The company's 25th anniversary emblem has been fashioned from the George Washington 25-cent piece, on display in all stores. Special decorations are in the company's colors, royal blue and silver."

Special souvenirs will be given all visitors to the store on Saturday, Mr. Zukav said.

The Zale Jewelry Co. was started with the opening of the first store in Wichita Falls in 1924 by Morris B. Zale, president. The second store opened in Tulsa, in 1928 and, peculiarly, the company's greatest expansion came during the "depressed 1930's." Zale now operates in five states: Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Iowa and Nebraska. William Zale, vice-president, joined the concern shortly after the first store was opened.

The company maintains a permanent European office at Antwerp, Belgium, capital of the diamond-cutting world, as well as in New York, where special designing is done.

The Zale store here is located at 1110 Texas avenue.

36 Lubbock Pupils Ride On Streamliner

Thirty-six students in the second grade room of Miss Trula Maud Jetton, Roscoe Wilson elementary school, studied transportation first hand Friday when they boarded a streamlined train in Lubbock and rode to Littlefield.

The trip was the culmination of a transportation unit studied by the students. Two other second grade rooms at Roscoe Wilson school are planning a transportation excursion later, Mrs. Ivy Savage, Wilson principal, said.

A large group of parents were on hand to see the second graders start on their trip. It was the first train ride for several of the students, who were seven to eight years old. An official of the railroad company conducted the students on a tour of the train, which included a visit to the dining car, the lounge, and pullman.

Visit Littlefield School

Upon arrival in Littlefield the students were met by parents who had made the trip by car and were taken to the Littlefield Elementary school where Miss Margaret Teal, principal, was waiting for them. The group was divided into five sections and visited each of the five second grade rooms in the Littlefield school. Mrs. Savage had made arrangements with Miss Teal for the visit, and second graders in Littlefield were prepared with welcoming speeches and a program of rhythms, songs, and stories. Lubbock youngsters were prepared with response speeches to the welcomes and also songs and speeches.

Three mothers accompanied Miss Jetton on the train trip with the students: They were Mrs. B. R. Dixon, Mrs. Oscar Holt, and Mrs. John Moxley. Parents who met the train in Littlefield and brought the students back to Lubbock were: Mrs. Aubrey Edwards, Mrs. James Kerr, Mrs. J. B. McCorkle, John Moxley, Mrs. G. A. Nystel, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Robertson, Mrs. Perry Roddy, Mrs. Marion Sanford, and Mrs. Grimes Stewart.

Hockley County Farm Terracing Project For Year Nears Completion, Report Shows

LEVELLAND, April 1, (Special) — Hockley County Soil Conservation district's terracing program for the spring of 1949 is almost over, B. Forman of Anton, chairman of the board, said today.

Approximately 20 large field diversions and 45 miles of standard terraces have already been completed in the district's program. An additional 10 miles of standard terraces and five more diversion terraces are yet to be completed on SCD co-operators' farms, Forman said.

Lines for the diversions and terraces were run by technicians of the Soil Conservation service, who work in co-operation with the Hockley district.

Terraces Divert Water

The diversion type terraces, Mr. Forman explained, are constructed for the purpose of diverting excess headwater. Standard terraces are built to prevent water erosion on land too steep for contour farming.

Terraces also store water in the soil, which will increase crop yields on the land, experimental station records show. Quoting from experiment station records, Forman said, "terraced land will produce about a third more per acre than that land where rows run down slopes."

Either diversions or standard terraces, and in some cases both, have been built according to district specifications since mid-February on the following farms in the Hockley district:

Farmers Warned

Continuing his discussion of work being carried out by farmer-co-operators of the Hockley Soil Conservation district, Forman had this to say concerning improved pasture and alfalfa planted by co-operators.

"SCD farmer-co-operators who planted their improved pasture and alfalfa planted in October and November are having a hard time getting a start, since the plants did not grow enough in the fall to become established and cover the ground. If the grass and alfalfa plants did not freeze out, the high winds are whipping them out now in the late planted areas.

"Any farmer who is thinking of planting alfalfa or pasture grasses this fall would do well to make plans now to prepare ground before September 1, so that the seed can be planted not later than September 15," Forman advised.

Jobless Total Drops In March

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 1. —The nation's employment problem took a brighter turn today as the government reported the jobless total fell off 54,000 in March for the first decline in five months.

At the same time the Census bureau said the number of people having jobs last month increased 480,000 over the February estimates.

(The increase in the number of persons having jobs was greater than the decrease in unemployment because there was a rise in the "labor force." The labor force, as defined by the government, consists of people having work, or looking for work. The number in this force rose from 60,388,000 in February to 60,814,000 in March).

Officials Pleased

These are the new totals of unemployed: Unemployed — 3,167,000; employed—57,647,000.

Government officials were surprised—and pleased—by the upturn in the work picture. Secretary of Commerce Sawyer told reporters after a White House cabinet meeting that he thinks the upward trend in unemployment has been stopped.

The census bureau itself spoke of the development as showing that the rising jobless trend has been halted "at least temporarily." Despite the decline last month it said the total still was 727,000 higher than in March, 1948.

Seasonal Expansion Cited

It explained the apparently favorable showing in these words:

"A seasonal expansion in employment in agriculture and some other industries apparently counterbalanced the effect of further layoffs in other sectors of the economy."

The Bureau of Employment Security, meanwhile, reported a drop in the number of workers drawing unemployment compensation.

It said that in the week ending March 26, the number of workers drawing jobless pay totaled 1,949,700—a drop of 6,000 below the figure for the previous week. The number of those filing their first claims for the insurance benefits decreased even more sharply—18,200 to bring the total down to 313,200.

Robert C. Goodwin, director of the security bureau, said this marked the first weekly decline since last November.

THIEF GETS SHOCK

DENVER, (U.P.) — A woman approached a parked car on a downtown street, opened the back door and stole a shoe box. She vanished into the powder room of a nearby department store. A few moments later there was a loud shriek. The box contained a dead cat, which the driver, of the car had taken with her to dispose of.

Congress May Okay Texas VA Hospitals

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—Veterans administration hospital projects in El Paso and Houston, cancelled when President Truman trimmed the VA construction budget, may be built after all.

Members of a House Appropriations subcommittee reported privately today they have agreed to restore the Veterans hospital program to the original figure.

The subcommittee action is subject to approval or rejection of the full appropriations committee, but normally the full committee backs up its subcommittees.

The effect of the action as explained by members is to reject the President's request to cancel $237,000,000 in contract authorizations already approved by Congress. The actual money has never been appropriated.

The President ordered the VA to curtail the program by approximately 16,000 beds.

The Veterans administration subsequently cancelled 24 hospital projects and reduced the planned capacity of 14 others.

Schools Conduct Special Programs

At least three Lubbock schools solved the April Fool's day attendance problem Friday.

They simply made school so attractive—by means of staging specials "days" featuring unusual costumes—that the students wanted to attend.

Consequently, "slightly above normal" attendance was reported for the day at Lubbock Senior High school, and O. L. Slaton and Carroll Thompson Junior High schools.

"Kids Day" Held

The high school staged its traditional "Kids Day," while Slaton school held "Frontier Day" and Carroll Thompson came up with a "Pageant of America."

The "Kids Day" idea, first used here about 10 years ago with an eye to keeping April 1 "hookey-playing" at a minimum, achieved its goal again this year, Principal Floyd Honey reported. Attendance Friday was "about normal" he said, in spite of chilling weather.

For the "Kids Day" program, seniors at the school dressed as pre-teen age youngsters — complete with dolls, marbles, tops and other such accessories. Approximately 95 per cent of the school's 300 seniors took active part in the event.

Assembly Staged

At Carroll Thompson Junior High, Mrs. DeAlva Roberts was in charge of a program climaxed by a two-hour afternoon assembly. Some 500 students wore costumes and participated in the assembly event, which also featured quartet singing by four faculty members.

"Very few absentees" were reported for the day at the school.

The "Pageant of America" assembly program featured costumed groups of performers. These, and their respective sponsors, included:

Indians (Mrs. Pearl Watson); historical American characters (Mrs. DeAlva Roberts); Spaniards (Mrs. Minnie Swofford); clowns (Mrs. Vera Harrell); negroes (Mrs. Elois Elliott); hoboes (Homer Franklin and Miss Evelyn Jones); pioneers (Mrs. Wynona Shaw, Mrs. Alma Rea, and Mrs. Ruby Holloway); hillbillies (Dewitt A. Tech Western Days Program Set Today

By JERRY HALL
Avalanche Staff Writer

Severe weather and fear of damage to the turf of Jones Stadium has caused the fourth annual Texas Tech Rodeo and Western Days to be postponed until today, officials of the rodeo committee announced Friday afternoon.

Original plans called for a parade through downtown Lubbock Friday afternoon and the first rodeo performance at 8 p.m. Friday. However falling snow and sleet caused the Rodeo association and the Block and Bridle club, who are sponsoring the event, to decide to wait until today to complete the program.

Breakfast Is Success

The parade, which will be led by President D. M. Wiggins of Tech riding Sir Chubby I, will form at Jones Stadium at 12:30 p.m. today and proceed around the circle in front of the Administration building and down Broadway to the business district. It will cross to Main at Avenue G and then return to the starting point.

The big chuck wagon breakfast that was scheduled for Friday morning at 6:30 came off as planned. Clinton Ritter, president of Block and Bridle club termed the breakfast a success, and said it was held in the agricultural pavilion at the college.

Students Wear Western Clothes

Western clothing was popular on the campus with most of the students garbed in 10-gallon hats, levis and cowboy boots. Many of the coeds were also dressed in western attire. Girls were not to be denied in rodeo contests either. Two events, goat tying and a cloverleaf barrel racing, will be entered by the cowgirls. All of the contestants in the rodeo will be college students.

The rodeo this afternoon will be officially opened by President Wiggins with a dedication to the oldtimers of the South Plains. This year's rodeo will be in their honor. This is the first year the event has been held in Jones Stadium and Rodeo Manager Red Heath said, "it will be one to remember."

The grand entry will open the show. It will be followed by a bare back bronc riding contest. Next up are calf roping and girls goat tying. This will be followed by saddle bronc riding and ribbon roping. Then comes the clover leaf barrel race and team tying. Buddy Heaton, nationally known rodeo star from Kansas, will be the next event on the program. Brahma bull riding will be the

The price of standard basic iron was lowered from $50 to $46 per gross ton. Number 2 foundry, low phosphorous southern grade, was reduced from $50.50 to $46.50 per gross ton.

Lone Star also posted export rates of $50.50 for standard basic iron and $51 for its Number 2 foundry, low phosphorous southern grade delivered shipside at Gulf ports.

E. B. Germany, president, said large quantities of Lone Star pig iron will soon begin moving to Great Britain. He said his company has been granted an export license on 40,000 tons of basic iron. The British order will be filled in April, May and June.

Session At Tech To Close Today

The final day of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers convention which will get underway at Texas Tech this morning with the sponsors of the ASME chapters of the various schools attending a breakfast in the Hilton hotel.

D. J. Helmers, sponsor of the Tech chapter, said approximately 100 mechanical engineers attended the opening events of the convention Friday. Sixty of those were from colleges and universities, other than Texas Tech.

A technical session was conducted Friday morning in the engineering auditorium and was followed by a barbecue at noon in the mechanical engineering laboratory. Cold weather caused change in original plan to hold the barbecue in Mackenzie State park.

Inspection Tour Held

An inspection tour of the textile engineering department was to be conducted following the barbecue

Carl J. Eckhardt of Austin, vice president of region 8 of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, attended Friday's session. He also was principal speaker at a banquet conducted Friday night in Hilton hotel. His subject was "Engineering Success in a Changing World." Eckhardt is superintendent of utilities at the University of Texas.

Schools Represented

The Tech chapter of the ASME is host to the convention. Colleges and universities represented, in addition to Texas Tech, are Southern Methodist university, Texas A. & M. college, Louisiana Polytechnic institute, the University of Texas, Rice institute and Louisiana State university. The only school in the southern zone of region 8 not represented is Tulane university.

In the technical sessions, first of which was held Friday and the second of which is scheduled for 9 o'clock this morning, students representing the different schools are delivering 15-minute speeches on different phases of engineering. A $100 first prize and several smaller prizes will be awarded to winners at a banquet which will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight at Cactus Inn.

Test Indicates New Discovery

Faint indications of a new discovery in North-Central Scurry county were developed at J. L. Collins, et al, No. 1 G. E. Parks, wildcat eight miles north of Snyder and 1,980 feet from north and 330 feet from west lines of section 442, block 97, H&TC survey.

A drillstem test was run for one hour and 45 minutes at 6,208-25 feet in a Pennsylvanian shale and sand formation above the Canyon reef. The zone is tentatively identified as Cisco.

A steady blow of air held at the surface throughout the investigation. Recovery was 90 feet of heavily oil cut mud. The prospector was preparing to core ahead for further examination of the current horizon, which has made no signs of water.

Possibilities Fade

Possibilities of a Glorieta-Permian discovery in South-Central Gaines county have evidently completely faded out for the Texas company No. 1 Wharton, wildcat in the northeast corner of the west three-quarters of section 3, block A-22, psl survey.

The exploration indicated a possible pay zone above 5,990 feet, total depth. After extended swabbing tests, a pump was installed.

The last pumping gauge showed recovery of 100 per cent water at the rate of five barrels per hour. Further plans of the operator have not been revealed.

Prepare Swabbing Tests

In the Wasson field of Southwest Yoakum county, Murchison & Fikes were preparing to start swabbing tests prior to completion at their No. 17-C Elliott, failure as a deep wildcat in the area.

It drilled to granite at 11,209 feet, reduced hole to 9,776 feet to examine possibilities of a Devonian discovery. It has now been plugged back further to 5,240 feet to attempt completion in the San Andres-Permian.

Operator has perforated at 5,050-90 feet. Through those perforations, a 1,500-gallon acid treatment was injected. Tubing was being run preparatory to swabbing on last report.

Location is 1,312 feet from south and 1,070 feet from east lines of section 832, block D, John H. Gibson survey.

More Hole Scheduled

More hole was to be made deep in Northeast Gaines county by Stanolind Oil & Gas company No. 15 American Warehouse, wildcat in the Cedar Lake area surrounded by shallow production.

The prospector was bottomed on 12,580 feet, in lime and shale, conditioning mud preparatory to drilling ahead. No recent tests have been run.

It is 1,650 feet from south and east lines of section 5, block H, D&W survey.

SERMON IN SONG

The Tech Glee Club

THAT Texas Tech can do almost anything it wants to do — providing there's someone with the will to do it —is being proved over and over again these days by the Men's Glee club of the college.

A fine singing group of 40 voices under the direction of Dick Richards, accompanied at the piano by Miss Margaret Wilson, a co-ed, and joined in pecial numbers by Mrs. Stuart Shafner, the Glee club, although young, is a dandy. When it goes on its first tour this month it will be a fine advertising medium for Texas Tech and will take to the communities it visits a type of entertainment both needed and appreciated.

For years, Tech has needed a Glee club. But those who suggested such an organization were met first by lethargy, then by stubborn opposition. "We can't have one," was the first ery. "There's no demand for one," was another. But now everybody knows that Tech can have a Glee club—and a good one; and that there is a great deal of demand for its fine talents.

Director Dick Richards, who is a Lubbock business man and former member of Fred Waring's Pennsylvanians, is contributing much to the college by working with the Glee club. An anonymous business man who furnished uniforms for the singers likewise has made a worthwhile contribution. But most important is that the members of the club are giving their time and talents to entertaining others—and advertising Tech—with no remuneration, no college "letters," or awards, and with no credits toward graduation.

The success of the Tech Glee club may well be remembered in the future when someone says "We can't do it," or "There's no demand for it."

Not So Dumb!

THE U. S. State department gave the appearance of inconsistency in allowing a large Communist delegation to attend the so-called "Cultural and Scientific Conference for World Peace" in New York this week after terming it for what it was—a "sounding board for Cummunist propaganda." The department could have denied entry to the U. S. by the Reds and was criticized for not doing it.

Perhaps the criticisms were just. On the other hand, maybe the State department did the smart thing.

The presence of the widely publicized Communist agitators was a big drawing card for the conference. Press dispatches estimated the crowd at the final session at 18,700 persons. And don't think for an instant that Uncle Sam neglected the conference. It's a lead-pipe cinch that plenty of his agents were on hand to look, listen and make pictures.

The conference could not have done much harm, in the sense of converting loyal Americans to the doctrines of Communism. On the contrary, the exhibitions probably did the Reds more harm than good in this country by deepening the patriotic conscience of most Americans. And the sessions brought clearly into the open thousands of radicals who will bear watching—and undoubtedly will be watched—if war should come closer. Many of these might have remained in position to work safely as undercover agents for an enemy if the conference had not identified them for what they actually are.

Even with these considerations, it could be the State department deserves criticism for the course it followed. But there is more logic in the belief that it played a mighty smart hand.

You can tell when business returns to normalcy. An executive will have time to put his feet on top of the desk.

When money burns a fellows pockets, someone will always come along and relieve him of his trousers.

A jack of all trades nowadays certainly makes the jack.

When it comes to shooting off their mouths, some men shoot a blank.

In order to stand firm like a rock you must also have plenty of sand in you.

A boom is a period when suckers are born in pairs every minute.

One-Minute Sermon

America's Shame

Pop Goes The Queen

By BOB WADE and BILL MILLER
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Quiz Show Winners John Henry and Sin Conover, on an expense-paid vacation at a swank resort owned by Mr. Barselou, witness a murder. When they find themselves deeply involved, they try to unravel the mystery. But Sin is nearly kidnaped by Gayner and Vernon, two of Barselou's employes, and Johnny is drugged at a gambling ranch where he was taken by Faye Jordan. When they are brought together again by Mr. Trim, representative of the quiz show sponsor, Johnny says, "That does it! That's enough for us, Sin."

MR. TRIM bade them goodbye on the cement walk that led through the palms to the front entrance of the Las Dunas. Sin flatly refused to enter the lobby where Gayner or Vernon might be waiting. After a moment's thought, John Henry agreed.

So the Conovers sauntered innocently along the front of the hotel's south wing. Then, with a hurried backward glance, they turned the corner and plunged into the shrubbery that fringed the building.

"Do you think anybody saw us, Johnny?"

"Hope not," muttered John Henry. He pushed a path through the clawing branches for his wife.

"We'll get the baggage to our car and beat it," he outlined. "I'll phone what we know to Lay from some other town. The main thing is to get you safe, Sin."

Within view was the curving path which would guide them to the cottages. It was silent and deserted.

Suddenly Sin stopped in her tracks and squeezed his arm hard. "Johnny—look!"

Slouched on the porch of Cottage 14 was a familiar uniformed figure. It was Vernon. He was watching the path and his mournful face split into a pitying grin at the sight of the Conovers. He got to his feet.

JOHN HENRY hesitated only a second. Then he grabbed Sin by the elbow and whirled her around. "Back to the hotel," he said under his breath. "Keep going!"

"Gayner," she panted. "He might be there!"

"The car then—" decide John Henry.

They shifted direction and trotted along the north wing of the hotel between a square-cut hedge and the stucco wall. When the hedge ended there was some clawing shrubbery and then they burst suddenly into the Las Dunas parking lot to run for their car. The Chevrolet was beautiful in familiarity.

John Henry halted his glad reach for the door handle. He felt in his left-hand trousers pocket, then rummaged through all his other pockets.

"What is it?" cried Sin.

"The keys. When Faye searched me, she stole the keys to our car!"

Sin let out a wail of panic. John Henry gnawed his lips. Then he pulled her along the silent row of automobiles.

"Let's look for one with the keys in it," he snapped.

The Conovers galloped down the double-parked row, glancing nervously in through car windows. They had rounded the row and were starting back toward the shrubbery on the other side when the shout came.

They stopped as if rooted. It was Gayner's voice and it came from the opposite side of the gallery of automobiles.

"Vernon," he was calling, "get a move on. They must be around here somewhere!"

SIN gave a little moan and sank toward the ground as if her legs had melted. John Henry held her up with one hand. After a final look around at the uncooperative surroundings, he opened the car door nearest his hand —a convertible coupe with the top up—and thrust his trembling wife inside. He crept after her and shut the door quietly behind him.

"See 'em?" Vernon's question came from four or five cars away. Gayner replied something that John Henry couldn't make out. Sin was curled along the red-leather seat, breathing in little whimpers.

"Okay," Vernon's voice came again. "I'll look over here, but it's no use."

"Johnny—" Sin began in a loud whisper. "The keys—"

John Henry jumped and turned cold. He jabbed her. "Quiet!" he breathed. Then he whipped his head around. "What's that about keys?"

Sin pointed a finger. From the dashboard, a chain with several keys trailed down from another key which was half-buried in the ignition switch. The feeling surged over Johnny that he had been here before. He craned his head at the registration slip and his lips tightened. The name on the white slip of paper was Faye Jordan.

"I might have known," he muttered. Sin squeezed his arm. Gravel ground against gravel as shoes crunched closer to them. Somebody—either Vernon or Gayner or both—was coming slowly up the column of cars. John Henry cautiously wormed under the steering wheel and turned the ignition on.

The coupe jolted as a body leaned against it and a freckled hand trailed along the window ledge. John Henry made a lightning caluculation and went into motion before his reason had time to argue. His right foot kicked at the starter. His shoulders shoved into view and he drove his left fist straight at Vernon's startled face.

Vernon's profane surprise was just a squawk as he fell with a crash into the fender of the next car.

The engine exploded in life with a confident roar. Sin, hunched on the floor, was scrabbling for the emergency brake. John Henry threw in the clutch and the Mercury leaped forward, gravel spurting from its rear wheels.

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

WHEN I wrote about the moles in my garden some time ago I got letters from all over the country telling me how to get rid of the darn beasts.

I tried everything. The moles stayed on.

In desperation I even stuffed some of the letters down the mole runs hoping that the vermin would have decency enough to realize that they were not wanted as house guests.

BRANDEIS

Then somebody told me that moles were blind and couldn't read.

Here Spring is just a baby, but my 1949 crop of moles has already started to sprout.

A few weeks ago I complained that my wife's popovers didn't pop.

Shame on your wife, wrote a lot of readers and sent more than a hundred recipes for popovers that are guaranteed to pop.

She tried most of them until I felt like a walking popover. Now she knows how to make them pop, but I am so fed up with popovers that I can't even look at them any more, let alone eat any.

I am telling you all this because I have another problem. I hope you can help me again.

As I said above, it's Spring again, and, as usual in Spring, I have itchy feet.

I want to get up and go.

The doctor told me to take it easy — and I was all prepared to follow his orders for the rest of my life.

I quit my job in New York and just sat.

I sat until I got middle-aged spread.

I even told you folks how one can enjoy life by just staying at home and watching the birds and the bees and the flowers and the blue sky.

THEN, gosh darn it, Cecil Horne, head of the Journalism Department of Texas Technological College, sent me a telegram and invited me to be one of the speakers at the Southwestern Journalism Congress to be held the last days of April.

First I tried to be strong and say "No." But I couldn't get my precious visit to Lubbock out of my mind.

Then came a letter from Charlie Guy, editor of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal.

"The Clifford Joneses, the Bill Prices, the Curry Holdens, the Retha Martins and Sam Dunns have already begun beating their brains trying to figure ways and means of making your stay here a pleasant one," he wrote.

Charlie knows that I am supposed to take it easy. But what they call a quiet time in Texas, would be a riot of hospitality anywhere else.

We are getting all ready to go. And since California is only 1000 miles from Lubbock, we'll probably go there, too.

That's my problem. Do you know anything that's good for itching feet? I hope not.

HST STRATEGY SCORED

Lucas Balks At Plans

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Senate Majority Leader Scott W. Lucas has become so fed up with White House handling of legislative matters and presidential recalcitrancy on several key measures he has threatened to resign his post, as Vice President Barkley once did during a similar clash with Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Two considerations may keep him from carrying out his threat at this time. He is a loyal and enthusiastic party member, and he would not want to embarrass the head man.

TUCKER

Even more important, there are signs that Mr. Truman, largely because of protests from Mr. Barkley and Speaker Rayburn, may not ask the Democrats on Capitol Hill to do the impossible on social and economic proposals.

CAUTION: The tall, handsome Illinoisan's friends counsel caution. In their opinion, Leader Lucas should hold on until Mr. Truman renews the attack he has delivered against the Democrat-controlled Congress for failing to enact his ultra-liberal program. A resignation under such circumstances, they believe, would be more timely and effective.

The Democratic caucus would then register its faith in Mr. Lucas by reelecting him unanimously, as it did when Mr. Barkley tried to quit. Such an expression of confidence, the Lucas bloc feels, would disillusion Mr. Truman about that "mandate" he thinks he received from the American people last November.

COMPLICATED: Top members of Congress and the State Department are keeping their fingers crossed with respect to the contract which American oil interests, headed by Edwin W. Pauley, have signed with the government of Mexico.

It marks the first and only interest which American petroleum companies have shown in Mexican exploration and drilling since old-line corporations' interests were expropriated just ten years ago.

The new setup embraces several seemingly incongruous members. A Pauley associate, Ralph K. Davies, former vice president of Standard Oil of California, is a participant. Mr. Davies was a wartime aide to Harold L. Ickes, then Secretary of the Interior, when the latter resigned from the cabinet in protest against President Truman's nomination of Mr. Pauley as Under Secretary of the Navy.

Mr. Ickes charged then that he could not stomach the Pauley appointment because the California oil executive had promised to fatten his contribution to the Democratic treasury if the Interior Department would withdraw its suit maintaining that tideland oil properties belonged to the federal government instead of the states. The Senate refused to confirm Mr. Pauley.

To make the deal more complicated, Raymond Wilmarth Ickes, stepson of Mr. Ickes, is understood to be one of Mr. Pauley's lawyers, although the official papers do not mention him.

VENTURE: Senator Antonio J. Bermudez, director general of Petroleos Mexicanos, a government agency, signed for the Aleman Administration. As a not so humorous sidelight to his part in negotiations at Washington, he interrupted them to fly back to Mexico City to be on hand for the official celebration of the tenth anniversary of "Expropriation Day," March 18, 1949.

The Pauley group seeks no American money to finance its venture. They have organized a million-dollar corporation for preliminary exploration. If they strike it rich, and geological tests suggest that possibility, they will be allowed a fifty per cent return until their original expenditures are reimbursed. Thereafter, their payment will approximate fifteen per cent on oil production.

In their official and private statements, the American promoters emphasize that prospective Mexican production will strengthen our national defense position. They also claim that they are implementing President Truman's "bold, new program" for development of backward countries.

SUSPICION: Senator Bermudez, however, is now asking the State Department and Congress to advance many millions for promotion of other oil properties, not the Pauley property.

His arguments have impressed New Jersey Representative Charles A. Wolverton, former chairman of the House Interstate Foreign and Domestic Commerce committee, but Chairman Robert Crosser of Ohio is understood to be skeptical.

The general suspicion is that, even though the Pauley interests may cash in on their "plunge," the Mexicans hope to use this presidential friend to obtain White House approval for a big loan.

In view of our other foreign commitments now totalling almost ten billion dollars annually, Congress will give this latest request, especially in view of the circumstances and personalities, a long, hard look.

SPAATZ: Moscow papers should copy this report on the postwar behaviour of General Carl (Tooey) Spaatz, former commander of the American Air Force. As dramatized in one of Hollywood's best war films, he advocated and fought for the kind of incessant bombing of industrial targets that flattened Germany, even though the costs were terrific.

General Spaatz recently resigned, and became military aviation expert for a weekly magazine. He belongs to many military clubs at the Capital, and is an influential member of Army and Navy in town and its country subsidiary in a Virginia suburb. Lunching at those places, he would be deferred to and saluted by retired veterans of his own rank and by youngsters in the Air Force.

But General Spaatz has not worn a uniform or sported his medals except when official attendance at formal affairs requires it. And, as a magazine correspondent, he prefers to spend his time and have lunch at the National Press club.

Down Memory Lane

(Taken from the files of The Lubbock Morning Avalanche April 2, 1928.)

An April Fool social was given in the home of Rev. and Mrs. C. J. McCarty, 1805 Twentieth street, for members of the Nineteenth Street Baptist W. M. S. Christmas and Hallow'en decorations were used in the house. April Fool stunts were played and other diversions added to the gaiety of the occasion. As more serious parts of the entertainment readings were given by Gertrude Osburne, Tech student; and Edna Muriel Lewis; Erma Lois Harris played a piano solo and Chester Harris and Aubrey McCarty sang a duet. Hostesses for this affair were Mrs. McCarty, Mrs. John H. Ritchie, Mrs. W. V. Lewis and Mrs. R. D. Harris. Guests were Mesdames W A. Terrell, B. E. Reeves, H. R. Sprawles, J. A. Alred, Ed McDaniel, C. A. Flippo, W. A. Carrell, N. O. Vincent, A. S. Eads, Gus Schantz, Stevenson, Myrtle Jones, M. C. McCrummen, Miss Gertrude Osburne, and Rev. C. J. McCarty.

DEMOS LOOK TO NEXT SESSION

Compromise On Demo Plans Seen

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — In the last few days there has been at the White House and among administration lieutenants in Congress a readjustment to what the practical politician calls "the realities."

This is sometimes a polite name for surrender. Sometimes it means the application of patience and compromise, which is the purpose in this particular readjustment.

President Truman currently is in a conciliatory and co-operative mood toward Congress and is ready to use equal parts of patience and kindness for a time to see how things go with his program. He is sticking close to his desk and making room on his daily calendar for visits by members of Congress to pour out their troubles, little and big, a process which has the added virtue of helping him and his fellow Democrats to get better acquainted with each other. Mr. Truman has a charm of his own which can be very effective.

STOKES

Several Changes Seen

Beyond his personal readjustments to the realities, there is another readjustment relating to his program.

His congressional leaders have advised him, after a canvass of the temper of Congress and an analysis of its various factions as they have now shaken down, that there must be a downward revision in his objectives at this first session of the 81st Congress. As Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, an old Congress hand, puts it in party strategy councils: "This isn't the only session of this Congress there'll be another."

This means a weeding out and a concentration of emphasis on certain selected measures. Not only will the program be reduced, but it is anticipated that measures selected for enactment will be revised below what the president asked in the usual and natural process of compromise.

As now contemplated, the social and economic welfare program will include a labor bill to supplant the Taft-Hartley act which, however, is not expected to be altogether what the President requested, a bill to increase the 40-cents-an-hour minimum in the wage-hour act but not to extend its coverage as widely as the President recommended, and a housing bill somewhat reduced below administration aims in the number of public housing units provided.

Expansion of social security is questionable for this session. Federal aid to education is more questionable. Health insurance is out but, instead, there will be a hospital and medical education program which is presented as a necessary prerequisite to health insurance.

The domestic program calls also for an oleomargarine bill at this session, but no new farm parity and price measure. Decision on a tax bill must await a later analysis of the general fiscal situation, which will take into account the general business situation and its effect on revenue. Incidentally, the fear of increased taxes will be exploited to reduce the scope of measures in the President's social-welfare program selected for enactment and an argument against the inclusion of others.

Civil Rights Plan Doubtful

The status of civil-rights is very doubtful for this session, though not hopeless. Current compromise maneuvers may bear some fruit. It has been suggested that President Truman call a special session later this year for civil-rights legislation, but it is not known what his decision will be.

Aside from universal military training, which presumably is to be abandoned, the objectives in the military and foreign economic aid program remain as planned, including continuation of European Recovery appropriations, arms for Western Europe and, for Senate action, ratification of the Atlantic pact.

The program for this session as projected in its reduced form will represent substantial accomplishment. It will not, of course, be what the public seemingly was led to expect of this first session in the optimistic reports after election victory, though realists expected no more, and some less, after they had analyzed the Congress and saw the familiar southern conservative Democrat-Republican coalition reform once again to try to check the Truman program which the voters ratified.

It usually takes 4.6 bushels of corn or its equal to put an additional 50 pounds on a 225-pound hog.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP) — Cotton futures were easy today in dull trading. Scattered hedging and liquidation were offset by mill buying and short covering. New crop months sagged on a private survey pointing to a substantial increase in cotton acreage this season.

Cotton futures moved irregularly higher in late dealings, with short covering and trade buying in new crop deliveries. Old crop months lagged on the return on trade liquidation and hedging.

Futures closed 30 cents a bale higher to 15 cents lower than the previous close.

Wall Street

STOCKS AGAIN SLUMP

NEW YORK, April 1. (AP)—A sudden surge of demand for gold stocks just before the close of trading, ran against the main trend in the market today.

Interest in the golds was evidently stimulated by even stronger demand in the London, Toronto, and Johannesburg stock exchanges.

The main body of stocks declined fractions to around a point in the first hour of business and stayed at about the same levels most of the day.

Closing prices generally were at or very near the lows of the day.

Volume shrank still further after contracting yesterday to 980,000 shares from almost 2,000,000 on Tuesday and Wednesday.

The declines of today and yesterday just about eliminated the gains of Tuesday and Wednesday. Tuesday's advance was one of the sharpest of the past year.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped .4 of one point to 63.5. This compared with 63.3 at the close Monday, just before the Tuesday spurt.

Business Activity During Month May Give Key To Future Outlook

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP)—This is the month to watch. All the business seers have been saying so.

If the usual April pick-up in industry and trade develops in lusty fashion, business is making its comeback. If the traditional spring quickening doesn't occur at all or only feebly, the much-discussed business recession will be with us for a while.

Or so the experts have been saying.

The things to watch this month:

Whether auto sales burgeon, both in the dealer's show room and in the used car lots. Car orders have been disappointing in recent weeks. And whether the allied products do, too—gasoline, and batteries and tires, and the weekend resort business.

Recent Trade Watched

Whether retail trade revives—remembering, of course, that Easter is a movable feast, and since it comes late this year, trade statistics will not be strictly comparable with last year when Easter came early. Department store sales charts should soon show how much the recent downtrend is reversed.

Whether the recent price cuts will pull people back into the stores, whether inventories continue to dwindle, or start climbing once more—that is, you will want to see just where goods are backing up along the line between producer and user and just where they are moving.

Whether employment gains, with the return of seasonal agricultural workers to the fields, and the return to the factories and mills of workers who hope to be called back should spring trade revive demand for their products. This will show in unemployment charts and in the industrial production index.

Whether Wall Street gets busy trading stocks, now that easier margin rules require buyers to put up only half the price in their own money.

Liquor Law Violation Charges Filed Here

Three charges of liquor law violation were filed here Friday against David (Pete) Moncrief, 24, after police and members of the Liquor Control board here raided his place in 200-block North Ave. H late Friday night.

In addition, the liquor board invoked vagrancy statutes and arrested six persons, five men and a woman, who were found in Moncrief's place at the time of the raid. Fines of $15 were levied in corporation court against those who entered guilty pleas of the vagrancy charges.

Officers obtained statements from two youths, 19 and 18, that they had purchased alcoholics from Moncrief, it was revealed.

Moncrief posted three bonds, of $500 each, after pleading innocent of the charges. He demanded trial before a county court jury.

Clarence Ellison, 48, of Abilene was charged with possession of beer. He allegedly had 20 cases and 22 cans of beer when raided at a tourist court here.

Three other pleas were entered in county court. W. L. Chappell, about 42, was fined $10 and costs for check law violation. Eugene O. Worsham, 38, was fined $75 and costs for drunken driving. His operator's license was revoked six months. J. A. McKee, 32, of Symer, was fined $5 and costs for check law violation.

Texan Proposes Issuance Of Special Christmas Stamp

VICTORIA, April 1 (AP) — The Victoria postmaster, in a lengthy open letter to the Postmaster General of the United States, today urged issuance of a special three-cent Christmas stamp.

Postmaster Leopold Morris said he believed the stamps would be widely used, help reduce the postoffice deficit, and stop destruction of thousands of pieces of undelivered mail.

Morris said his postoffice alone had to dispose of 10,000 pieces of mail last Christmas season because poorly - addressed letters with third class postage (two cents) are denied directory service.

The young race horse named Illini is owned by S. E. Pershell, a graduate of the University of Illinois.

The first Orange Bowl football game drew a crowd of 5,134; the last one was witnessed by more than 60,000 people.
