Texas Flood Spreads To Rich Farm Lands

Forth Worth Counts 10 Persons Dead, Millions In Damage From High Water

(By The Associated Press)

THE FLOODING Trinity river sent its main force against fertile lowland areas south of Dallas Thursday night.

As the surging waters drained away from Fort Worth and Dallas they already had covered many bottomlands. They broke a levee at Hutchins, and another near Ferris. They threatened dykes at Rosser, protecting an estimated 40,000 to 50,000 acres of rich Ellis and Kaufman county farm lands.

The chief threat was to crops. Residents had plenty of warning as the flood drowned ten persons and caused $5,000,000 to $25,000,000 property damage at Fort Worth, then struck a light blow at Dallas.

Livestock Moved

All Wednesday night they labored clearing out livestock.

The threatened areas of Ellis and Kaufman counties are about 30 airline miles below Dallas—90 miles by the winding river. Cotton is about two inches high; wheat and small grains are about ready for harvest; corn is about a foot high.

Near Rosser, where the bankfull east ford of the Trinity pushed against the main stream, the rise was steady. Levees were good for 38 feet, insufficient to contain a 41-foot crest predicted for Saturday afternoon.

Fort Worth Busses

Late Thursday the river there was above 33 feet. Rosser storekeeper G. T. Sullivan estimated there were 15 000 acres threatened in the immediate Rosser vicinity.

Fort Worth buzzed with activity as it fought back toward normal. Restoration of water supply, cleaning up muck, and repair of broken levees were the major problems left by the flood that made 13,200 persons temporarily homeless.

Waters were fast dropping in the low areas flooded at Dallas.

Elsewhere in the state the Panhandle and South Plains, harassed by twisters and rain storms for more than a week, breathed easier.

West Texas Sunny

Amarillo reported a sunny, mild day extended across the entire Panhandle to Western Oklahoma and down into the Abilene-Big Spring area in Texas. The weather bureau at Amarillo said there would be the same sort of weather for 36 hours.

The Fort Worth Star Telegram sponsored a relief fund which already had reached $25,000 and was expected to go over $100,000.

Its publisher, Amon G. Carter, said "Outside of the water prob-

Area's Weather Outlook Improves

Fair weather, a most welcome sight to jittery South Plains residents, Thursday covered the area after two weeks of stormy conditions that had produced two tornadoes, two smaller twisters, a major flood, severe rain, hail and dust storms as well as many scattered showers.

Added good news came from the Lubbock Weather bureau. The forecaster said last night that fair and warm weather should continue today with only a slight possibility of scattered showers this afternoon. Saturday also probably will be fair and continued warm, he said.

Mercury Hits 88

Thursday marked up the second warmest day of the year when the mercury climbed to 88 degrees, three degrees below the 91 mark set on May 2.

While a mild cold front was reported last night hovering over much of Oklahoma and parts of Kansas the mass of air was stationary and not expected to move into Texas before Saturday if at all. Weather bureau forecasters said the front was expected to shift southeastward when it did begin to move.

South Plains' two-weeks of "weather" opened with scattered showers and then hit a quick cli-

Texas Solon Introduces New Federal Wage-Hour Bill In House

WASHINGTON, May 19. (AP)—A trimmed down wage and hour bill designed to pick up support of southern congressmen who have bucked the administration's proposals on the subject was introduced today by Rep. Combs (D-Texas).

He drafted his measure after talks with numerous other southern legislators.

The bill provides for a 75-cent minimum wage as proposed by the President, but would make it adjustable so that in case of a depression or other emergency situations the figure could be revised downward.

Tornado Hits In Oklahoma

(By The Associated Press)

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., May 19. Tornadoes were back in Oklahoma for the third straight night, dropping into at least two areas to do undetermined damage.

No injuries were reported.

The twister spiraled into a farm home two miles northeast of Dewey, a small town about five miles north of here in northeast Oklahoma.

The big blow also dipped into the rim of Wann, a town of 300 persons 20 miles northeast of here.

The funnel came from the southeast, passed over Barnsdall and Bartlesville.

It went back into the skies and passed over Copan about eight miles from Dewey.

From Copan the tornado traveled east to Wann.

KANSAS, MISSOURI SWEPT BY NEAR-TORNADIC WINDS

(By The International News Service)

High winds approaching tornadic velocity in some areas swept parts of Kansas and Missouri Thursday causing damage and at least one injury.

A small tornado struck Joplin, Mo., wrecking four tourist camp cabins, a restaurant and unroofing a small hotel.

Mrs. Alberta Cole, wife of the restaurant owner, was slightly injured when the high winds knocked her down.

Other Areas Hit

Weather observers expressed belief the Joplin twister was a "little brother" to the storms which swept Texas and Oklahoma earlier in the week.

Other storm areas Wednesday and Thursday were:

Chepota, Kan., where much damage was reported in the business district.

Coffeyville, Kan., where a severe electrical storm disabled power lines.

Salina, Kan., where Smoky Hill Air Force base said the wind velocity reached 65 miles an hour.

Floods Hit Oklahoma

At Chadron, Neb., the Weather bureau said a tornado sighted near the city had dissipated and there was no immediate report of damage.

Part of the tower of radio station KWBG at Goodland, Kan., was toppled.

Proposed Constitution Rejected By Bavaria

MUNICH, Friday, May 20. (AP)—The big American zone state of Bavaria rejected early today the constitution for a West German republic.

The state parliament, by a vote of 101 to 64, refused to ratify the constitution drawn up by the constituent assembly at Bonn. It was the first state in the western zones of occupation to vote against the charter.

Four states have already ratified the constitution in their state parliaments. Only the Communists in those states voted against.

Six more states in the British, American and French zones are to vote by the end of the week. It takes two thirds of the 11 states to ratify the charter.

"SO THAT'S WHERE OUR BRIDGE WENT"—That was the comment of the Oklahoma Highway department after a flash flood in the Whitebread creek near Gracemont, Okla. The 300-foot wooden span, left, was swept 100 feet from its moorings in the state's torrential rains which have hit parts of Oklahoma the past three days. Last night tornadoes struck in the state for the third straight night, this time near Bartlesville. See story in Column 2. (AP Wirephoto.)

'House Cleaning' Resolution Hits 11 Unions

CIO Asks Showdown On Left-Wing Chiefs

By PHILIPS J. PECK
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 19. — The CIO executive board today ordered leaders of its 11 left-wing unions to comply with the union's national policy or resign.

Earlier, the executive group called for immediate fourth-round wage boosts and an eight-point federal program to check declining business and resulting unemployment.

The anti-left wing resolution, approved by a 29 to 6 vote, was interpreted as a demand that the unions get rid of their leaders. There is said to be little expectation that the present leaders will comply with the majority's national policy.

Climaxes Campaign

The resolution informed memberships of the 11 unions that they must insist upon the resignations of leaders who resist CIO policy, and name new representatives to the board who will comply with the union's national program. CIO President Philip Murray told reporters:

"It is an obvious attempt by the national CIO leadership to legislate against Communist infiltration in our group."

Murray asserted that the left-wing leaders "do not reflect the real thinking of members of their unions."

Board action today climaxed a three-year campaign by the soft-spoken CIO president to clean house in his organization of 6,000,-

Two Veterans Face 'Life' For Failure To Pay Judgments

(By The Associated Press)

RUTLAND, Vt., May 19—Protests sounded in New England today, far beyond the iron bars of Rutland's jail where two former soldiers are under indefinite confinement for failure to pay judgments in civil suits.

A county official said it was possible, although "not probable" that Ralph J. Fugatt, 29, of Springfield, Mass., and Bernard J. Smith, 23, of Fair Haven, Vt., might spend the rest of their lives in jail.

County Clerk George Harmon added their only hope of freedom lay in establishing that they are paupers and hence unable to meet the judgments of approximately $2,000 against each awarded by juries after automobile accidents. Both have been locked up about two months.

Oil Production Slashed Again

CORPUS CHRISTI, May 19 (AP)—Texas' sixth consecutive cutback in crude oil production was ordered today by the State Railroad commission.

June's daily allowable was placed at 1,987,157 barrels, a decrease of 32,285 compared with May 14.

All fields except East Texas will produce on 18 days during June, East Texas on 16. The current statewide schedule is 19 days. For East Texas 17.

Six Cutbacks Ordered

Since Jan 1, the commission, in an effort to hold production to market demand, has ordered six cutbacks totaling approximately 840,000 barrels daily.

Members of the commission indicated, however, the June cutback reflects improved conditions in market demand and domestic crude and petroleum products stocks.

Commission Chairman William J. Murray, jr., emphasized the order was designed to maintain production at the approximate rate as of May 1.

Discovery Allowables Affected

The June allowable compares with a May 14 figure of 2,019,442 barrels daily and to a May 1 figure of 1,982,492. Murray said the 32,285 barrel daily cutback wipes out allowables granted new discovery wells since the May state-

Lubbock Man Faces Fine And Jail Term

A county court jury, of which L. L. Rowell was foreman, returned a verdict of guilty about 5:40 p. m. Thursday in the liquor law violation trial of Wesley Crecelius, 29, of Lubbock, and assessed a fine of $250 and court costs and a jail sentence of four months.

Crecelius was charged April 23 with possession for purpose of sale of a case of beer and 13 pints of whiskey. The filing of the charge followed a raid the previous night by members of the Texas Liquor Control board and city police.

Evidence in the case was started Wednesday afternoon before Judge Walter Davies. The jury retired about 5:15 p. m. yesterday, and returned about 25 minutes later with the guilty verdict.

County Attorney Waggoner Carr and Dudley Brummett, assistant county attorney, represented the state in the case. The defendant was represented by Robert Allen and Shelby Boling of the law firm of Boling, Smith & Allen.

Infant Victim Of Tornado Near Spur 'On Road To Recovery'

SPUR, May 19 (Special)—Larry Don Kittrell, 8-month-old victim of the tornado which struck north of here Tuesday, was reported by attendants at Nichols General hospital as "well on the road to recovery" late tonight.

X-rays today revealed that the child had suffered a broken arm when blown from his parents' demolished home by the twister.

A sister of the injured boy, Sue LeJune Kittrell, 8, was reported in satisfactory condition following an operation on her fractured hip at an Abilene Hospital, it was learned here. She also suffered a broken right elbow during the tornado.

Funeral services for Mrs. Charity Smith, 52, paternal grandmother of the children, were conducted this morning in the First Baptist church here. Burial was in Spur cemetery under direction of Campbell Funeral home.

Solon Fears Other Reds Hold Scholarships In Atomic Setup

By FREDERIC TUTTLE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 19—Chairman McMahon (D-Conn) of the Congressional Atomic Energy committee, said today that Hans Freistadt may not be the only Communist who has been granted a government atomic energy scholarship.

McMahon made this statement as Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) predicted that Congress will pass legislation requiring future applicants for scholarships to sign non-Communist affidavits.

Earlier, Chairman David E. Lilienthal of the Atomic Energy commission testified that he favors withdrawing the $1,600 scholarship awarded Freistadt.

Lilienthal told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee that he opposes using public money to educate "one who advocates overthrow of the government."

Dr. Detlev Bronk, chief of the National Research council which handles the scholarship fund, told newsmen that he shared Lilienthal's view.

U.S. To Continue Firm Policy With Russians

Soviets Lift Traffic Curbs

By THOMAS A. REEDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, May 19 — The Russians temporarily lifted their Helmstedt traffic restrictions tonight and permitted backlogged trucks from West Germany to flow again to West Berlin.

The Russians notified the British, however that the order applied for one night only and the restrictions will be reimposed tomorrow.

All three western military governors immediately protested to Gen. Vasily Chuikov, Soviet commander in Germany. They accused the Russians of violating the New York agreement which resulted in the lifting of the blockades last Thursday. The agreement restored conditions to those effective March 1, 1948.

Licenses Requested

The British conceded earlier, however, that the Russians have a right to license freight barges operating between West Germany and West Berlin on waters of the Soviet zone. They applied for such licenses for 100 barges.

The new procedure is a requirement that all western German trucks with cargoes for western Berlin carry approval papers from the Soviet zone.

Several hundred trucks carrying food for Berlin passed through Helmstedt in a little more than an hour. A dispatch from Helmstedt said that by 11 p.m. the checkpoint was quiet and deserted, except for guards.

Maj. Gen. George P. Hays, deputy U.S. military governor, said he was glad to hear that the Berlin-bound traffic was allowed to start up again at Helmstedt.

May Renew Curbs

"But the Russians informed me by telephone this afternoon they intended to allow through only the traffic that was backlogged and, after that, would insist on having Soviet zone documentation for each subsequent truck," Hays said.

"This may mean that the traffic will flow for about 10 hours and their restrictions will go in force again."

The Russians yanked open the checkpoint at 7 p.m.

Ford Faces New Union Demands

DETROIT, May 19 (INS)—The UAW-CIO threatened tonight to break off negotiations aimed at ending the 15-day-old Ford strike unless the company agrees to launch negotiations on a new contract next Monday.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther revealed at a rally of some 10,000 strikers that he directed the ultimatum to Ford labor relations chief John S. Bugas in a letter this afternoon.

Reuther told Bugas the union insists that strike negotiations and conferences on UAW contract demands be conducted concurrently.

U. S. Intervention Asked

This unexpected development occurred only a few hours after Ford bowed to persistent union demands for federal intervention in the strike which has idled 150,000 wage earners nationally and invited U. S. meditator Arthur B. Viat to sit in on tomorrow's session.

Reuther charged that Ford's refusal to enter contract negotiations would be a violation of both the contract and the national labor relations act. The 1948 pact expires July 15, but it provides that conversations on new union demands may begin two months in advance.

Two Plans Offered

Management served notice on the UAW less than a week ago that it prefers to postpone contract talks until the strike at the Rouge and Lincoln-Mercury plants are settled.

CITY'S TIME APPEARS SHORT

First Shells From Battlefront Fall In Red-Menaced Shanghai

By FRED HAMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

SHANGHAI Friday, May 20 — Shells from the battlefront fell in Shanghai today for the first time and it appeared time was drawing short for this greatest city in Asia.

Four high explosive shells, presumably from Communist batteries east of Shanghai, landed last night in the crowded Rue Lafayette, in the old French concession, killing six Chinese civilians and injuring 10 others.

Nationalists troops today abandoned the elaborate defense works they had built in Shanghai's southwestern suburbs.

Their movement into the city and other ominous developments did not jibe with garrison announcement of successes against the encircling Communists, particularly on the southeast six to eight miles from downtown Shanghai.

This city of more than 5,000,000 went uneasily into

Tanker Makes Port After Seamen Fight Over Girl Stowaway

(By The Associated Press)

MIAMI, Fla., May 19—A fight among three crewmen over a 22-year-old girl stowaway forced the British oil tanker, British Genius, to put into port today.

The ship was 17 days out of Southampton en route to Beaumont, Tex.

Capt. Herbert A. Scott said two of the seamen, Donald Hanford and Gerald E. Leech, were cooling off under police guard on the ship. The third seaman, Charles Piper, was nursing his wounds in the ship's hospital.

Wake Up In Locker

Captain Scott told this story to immigration authorities and harbor patrolman Robert Yancey:

The British Genius sailed from Southampton May 2 on the usual voyage for Texas oil. He was not aware that a plump girl stowaway, Miss Lavinia Ross, was aboard.

Miss Ross, of Southampton, said she met the three seamen in a tavern the night before the ship sailed got intoxicated and does not remember boarding the ship. She said she woke up in the ship's rope locker and was spirited from there to her three friends' cabin where she hid until May 14.

Kicked Through Door

Trouble developed among the three seamen and Leech tipped the skipper off. He promptly had Miss Ross Confined to the hospital cabin.

She kicked her way through the door, escaped and was confined again after the door was repaired.

This afternoon Hanford, Piper and Leech got into a free-for-all with fists and buckets. The skipper radioed Miami for police assistance and turned his ship toward port. Yancey met the ship at the buoy, three miles out.

Francis J. H. Dever, officer in charge, Miami port office of the immigration and naturalization service, said the Senate Rejects GOP Move To Cut Farm Program Fund

By MORGAN REYNOLDS
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 19—Administration forces halted a Republican-led economy drive for the third straight time today as the Senate rejected GOP moves to slash a $1,465,000,000 agriculture department appropriation.

Immediately after that action, Senator Tydings (D-Md) offered a counter proposal which he said might save the government a minimum of $2,500,000,000.

Tydings introduced a joint resolution which would direct the President to trim at least five percent off the total amount Congress appropriates to finance federal operations during the next fiscal year starting July 1. No one item, however, could be cut more than 20 percent.

Economy Bloc Defeated

This is the same percentage cut the Republicans have been trying—in vain thus far—to apply to the actual operating funds or cash appropriations in each new money bill as it comes up for Senate action.

After batting down two GOP moves to slash the agriculture bill, the Senate then approved the full sum by a voice vote.

The economy bloc first lost by a 52 to 32 count in an effort to suspend Senate rules to take up the reduction proposal. On the next round the coalition economy forces were on the short end of a 50 to 32 tally on a proposal by Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) to send the measure back to the appropriations committee with orders to trim off the $35,000,000.

Gain Talking Point

The measure now goes back to the House which had voted to give the Agriculture department $21,961,000 less than the Senate.

In previous tests this session, the Senate economyites lost in attempts to trim two big money bills—the Treasury-Postoffice and Labor-Federal Security appropria-

Reds Offer To Help Settle Greek War

LONDON, Friday, May 20. (AP)—Russia said today she had offered to help settle the civil war in Greece on condition that military aid by foreign powers to the Greek government be ended and new elections held.

The United States at present is giving both military and other aid to the Greek government as part of the Truman program to contain Communism. The British also have military personnel in Greece. Mr. Truman asked Congress only yesterday for $50,000,000 more to aid both Greece and Turkey during the current fiscal year ending June 30. This would be in addition to $625,000,000 already appropriated.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko gave the Soviet terms to U. S. assistant secretary of state Dean Rusk and British minister of state Hector McNeil when they approached him at the United Nations Assembly in New York April 26.

German Gains To Be Guarded

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 19 — On the eve of his departure for the Paris Big Four conference, Secretary of State Acheson sternly declared tonight he would refuse to "barter away" to Russia successes already scored by the West in rebuilding a democratic Germany

He warned the American people against "the luxury of either undue pessimism or premature optimism" as to the outcome of the new East-West talks. No one can tell now whether the Paris meeting will succeed or fail: he said.

No Compromise Planned

And he appealed for "steadiness and consistency" in American foreign policy, declaring it would be tragic if this nation should prematurely slacken its efforts to get the kind of world it wants at the first sign of success.

Acheson issued a statement on his Paris policy after a closed session with the Senate Foreign Relations committee to which he explained in detail what amounts to a "no compromise" attitude toward dealing with the Russians. His declaration made emphatically clear that he would not make concessions which in his opinion extend Russian influence into the western German zone.

Committee Chairman Connally (D-Tex) told reporters that he thought the committee was in complete agreement with Acheson's views.

The secretary of state, who will leave for the French capital tomorrow (11 a.m CST), summed up his approach to the new council of foreign ministers session in these words:

"We shall neglect no real opportunity for increasing the area of solution and tranquility in the world. At the same time we shall not barter away successes achieved for the sake of promises which might again prove to be illusory, as they too often have in the past."

He said that he thought that "perhaps we have a better opportunity" now to reach a workable agreement with the Soviet Union on Germany than had existed in prior meetings. But he added, "we most certainly are now in a better position to deal with the con-

Agriculture Department Okays Loans On Early Wheat Harvest

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 19 — The Agriculture department has arranged for price supporting loans to growers on 1948-crop wheat harvested before the start of the official marketing season, July 1.

The temporary loan rates average $1.93 a bushel nationally compared with last year's average of $2. The temporary rates for No. 2 hard winter wheat are $2.16 at Kansas City and Los Angeles, and $2.26 at Galveston.

Officials said the temporary rates are slightly below 90 percent of the current parity price. Farm law requires that the wheat be supported at 90 percent of the parity price at the start of the official marketing season.

The temporary rates were set about three cents a bushel below the 90 percent level to allow a "safety" margin for a possible further decline in the parity price between now and July 1. That date is used for setting the final loan rates for the 1949 crop.

If the final rates are higher than the temporary ones, the department will make adjustments to growers taking advantage of

ILSE KOCH CASE DEFENDED

Gen. Clay Says Democracy Is Gaining Foothold In Germany

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, May 19 — Before he left Germany I asked Gen. Lucius D. Clay two pertinent questions: (1). What made him so certain that the German who was yelling for Hitler only a few years ago now would make a good democratic citizen and (2). Why the General was so easy on Ilse Koch, the wretched woman accused of using human skins for her lampshades.

We were riding the air lift route from Frankfurt to Berlin in the General's personal plane. He weighed each question at some length while he sipped his coffee from a paper cup.

"I'm convinced that the German people were not so much the supporters of Hitler, and what he stood for, but tools of the man," he said.

No Excuse For Acts

"A dictatorship brings out the worst in a race. As far as I know there has never been a dictatorship which did not eventually get into mass murders. The German people who now have been given the opportunity to prove they can take their place in the family of nations were the victims of that dictatorship.

"I don't excuse any of those Germans who countenanced Hitler, knowing what he was doing. But few who were under the dictatorship of those gangsters knew what was going on.

"They didn't have a free press to inform them, or an independent voice on the air. Those who questioned the activities of their leaders felt a gun in their backs immediately. A lot of those who joined the Nazi party joined to protect themselves, their families and their businesses. They could see no other way out.

Took Stern Measures

"We had to break through a wall of apathy when we first came in, and that called for stern measures. I am not a vindictive man but I signed the death warrants of more than 200 Germans during my tour of duty, and many many more were sent to prison. I think we have got rid of most of the cancerous growth that formed on these people and that the rest of them will react properly to the chance we have given them to be free, decent men. I operate along the premise that man is a two-legged animal who must walk upright.

"As for the Koch woman," he went on, "I'm aware of the things that have been written about this—and about me—in the states. That wasn't an easy case because we found in short order that we had what amounted to two cases on our hands—the evil of the woman herself and her status as a war criminal.

"There was sufficient evidence to show that she was a depraved person of the lowest morality, a wanton person who, among other things, took an unholy joy in dressing in her tightest clothes and parading up and down in front of men behind the barbed wire of Buchenwald.

Tried As War Criminal

"But she was not tried for such wickedness. She was tried as a war criminal. In line with this charge, she had to be tried on her record as one of the people who worked at Buchenwald. Seventeen others who worked there were hanged for just reason. The comparatively light sentence she received was justified under law, for it could never be proved to the satisfaction of even a court that deplored her shabby personal habits that she was a criminal deserving to be hanged.

"The story of her manufacture of the lampshades of human skin simply was never proved. The chief witness against her on that score was a former Buchenwald prisoner—a man—who once had worked in her home. His standing as a witness was knocked down by other inmates who testified that he had been fired from her house as a drunkard given to dressing up in clothes he took from her closets.

"In the emotional reaction to the case the public lost sight of the fact that there was testimony that the shades had been made by a storm troop doctor who had written a book on tattooing and who admitted taking tatooed skin from the dead in camp. The shades were found in a house she had not lived in for several years.

"On her record as a war criminal nothing was produced that warranted the death penalty or a life sentence. Subsequently, new evidence was presented before a senate investigating committee—some of it by persons who had every opportunity to present it before our court. But by this time she was in jail for her sentence, and there remains something in our law and ethics called double jeopardy.

"She was and may still be a wicked woman, but she was tried as a war criminal—and, as that, got only what she deserved." The General thought a bit before he finished. "It would have been quite easy to yield to the emotionalism involved, but we weren't running that type of trial."

Mississippi Man, 82, Surprised At 'Fuss' Over New Twin Sons

BATESVILLE, Miss., May 19. (U.P.)—An 82-year-old grandfather who is too old to work said today he couldn't see anything unusual about his 41-year-old wife's presenting him with hefty twin sons.

The proud father, W. T. Thompson, pointed out that he and his wife have three other children, haven't they? The oldest is 24. The youngest is two. The one in the middle is five.

Neighbors apparently didn't see anything unusual about the birth of the new twins either, because they were born at the Thompson home 15 miles from here last Saturday. The news just reached Batesville yesterday.

The boys were not even weighed in at birth, but today they tipped the scales at 5 pounds 8 ounces each.

A midwife delivered the first child at the rural home, and Thompson thought it was all over. But Mrs. Thompson announced that something was wrong.

So they sent for Dr. John Martin, who soon found out what the "trouble" was. It was another lusty son.

SHOW OPENS HERE ON SATURDAY

Famed Miniature Circus Will Be Presented By Lions Club

The circus is coming to town. The biggest show on earth in this case is close to being the smallest show on earth.

The Morris Miniature Circus will be presented to Lubbock beginning Saturday, May 21, at 1207 Main street. It will show for one week under the auspices of the Lubbock Lions' club. According to Lion President Wayne Henly, all proceeds from the show will go to the Girl Scout camp fund.

Working Scale Model

This miniature circus is a working scale model that required 15 years to build. Every detail is to accurate scale and is a complete circus layout. The three-ring show was built as a hobby by W. J. Morris in his basement workshop. Morris is an Amarillo wheat farmer and insurance man.

There are seven tents; the "big-top," the menagerie tent, dining and stable tents, blacksmith tent, dressing rooms and side show. In each case a section is removed to permit a full interior view.

This midget circus won honors and acclaim at the Tri-State Fair, Amarillo; the Minnesota State Fair, Oklahoma and Louisiana State Fairs, last year. It is said to be the most elaborate of its kind in existence. It is valued at more than $15,000.

Loads Into Train

Just like a real circus it loads into 67 wagons and the wagons load into a 25 car circus train. Some 1,600 workers, performers and spectators cover the circus lot and add realism to the highest degree. 135 horses and 25 elephants are included along with every variety of wild animal.

The show will be open to the young and the young at heart. Everyone is welcome to attend and the admission prices will be modest. The show room was formerly occupied by the Adair Music company and is being loaned to Lions Club by Bob Walker, RCA distributor.

New baby pants are of fine rayon jersey lined with plastic. They are available in white, pink and blue, lace and bow trims for girls, tailored models in white and blue for boys.

More Auto Makers May Shift To New Transmission System

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

DETROIT, May 19.—Automatic or semi-automatic transmissions still are among the hottest subjects in the auto industry.

A compilation by automotive news shows more than 2,000,000 cars now are equipped with these devices. That isn't a very high percentage out of a total of around 34,000,000 vehicles now in use, but more are coming—and fast.

There is better than an even chance, too, that by this year's end several more companies will adapt General Motors' hydramatic transmission to their cars. It already has been disclosed that Ford's Lincoln-Mercury division plans to offer hydramatic as optional equipment.

Other Firms Interested

Rumor has it, also, that at least two other auto makers may investigate its availability this year. Undoubtedly they can obtain it more reasonably than they could tool up for its production on their own account.

There isn't anything unusual about General Motors' offering its hydramatic transmission to rival concerns. There are few automobile companies that do not buy some equipment from GM.

Generally the motorcar makers do not want to talk, too far in advance, of their plans for introducing automatic transmissions or other mechanical advances. They fear it might affect present sales. Right now retail sales are booming for just about every car builder.

However, any motorist waiting for an automatic transmission before buying a new car isn't going to save money. The device is available only at extra cost—ranging up to more than $200. Even where it has been made standard its cost has been added to the list price.

Service Continues Despite San Marcos Phone Walkout

SAN MARCOS, May 19 (AP)—Telephone service was nearly back to normal here today despite the continuation of a strike of 18 operators against the San Marcos Telephone company.

Affiliated with Union Telephone operators' local No. 2423, Communication Workers of America, the operators walked out at 10 a. m. Tuesday, demanding higher wage scale and certain changes in working conditions.

W. P. Donaldson, Dallas, owner and manager of the company, said this morning "we're getting along just fine," and indicated that non-union operators were being employed. He said there has been no picketing thus far.

PULLING IN—After 15 years in the process of construction the Morris Miniature Circus is pulling into Lubbock for a week-long showing, beginning Saturday, May 21. In the scene above the last section of the exact scale model circus is shown in the railroad yard, (also a scale model), as it unloads to be moved into position. The show is open to the public at 1207 Main street. Started as a hobby by an Amarillo man, W. J. Morris, the midget circus has commanded nationwide attention.

New York Man Sentenced To Life Term In Slaying Of Texan

NEW YORK, May 19 (AP)—Thomas Caruso, 28, was sentenced to a life term in state prison today for the strangulation slaying of Kenneth Gray, Port Arthur, merchant seaman.

A general sessions court jury convicted Caruso of first-degree murder, but recommended leniency. Judge James G. Wallace said he accepted the recommendation because three other men involved in the case had escaped the electric chair.

Gray, 45, was robbed of $103 and strangled in his hotel room here Feb. 6 last year.

Two other defendants, Bruce Bowers, 28, of Camden, N. J., and Chester Grimtzack, 23, of Waterbury, Conn., recently pleaded guilty to first-degree manslaughter and were sentenced to seven and one-half to 20 years. The fourth man, Florio Peluso, 48, of New York, is awaiting sentence on his plea of guilty to second-degree murder.

Rites Conducted In Brownfield For Victim Of Highway Accident

BROWNFIELD, May 19. (Special)—Funeral services for Mrs. Troy E. Wright, 46, of Meadow, were held at 3 p.m. today in Brownfield First Baptist church.

Rev. A. A. Brian, pastor, assisted Rev. B. B. Huckaby, pastor of Meadow Baptist church, in the services.

Burial was in Terry County Memorial park, under the direction of Brownfield Funeral home.

Mrs. Wright died Wednesday in a Brownfield hospital of injuries received Monday when the automobile in which she was a passenger overturned four miles south of Meadow.

Mrs. Wright's husband received minor injuries in the mishap, and was dismissed from the hospital after treatment.

Group Ends Survey Of Underwater Lands

WASHINGTON, May 19. (AP) — The Navy, Army and Geological survey have completed the first detailed magnetic survey ever conducted over water.

Use of Shoran (short-range radio navigation aid) provided such accurate charts, they said, that a new technique for locating submerged oilfields may result.

The initial such over-water survey outlined the magnetic features of 9,000 square miles of the Gulf of Mexico off Texas and Louisiana.

Special Devices Used

Large sections of the nation's land surface already have been mapped magnetically from the air. Such studies involve use of an airborne magnetometer, an electronic device for measuring the earth's magnetic field.

James Balsley, Interior department pilot-engineer, said the device, registering variations in the magnetic lines emanating from the earth, "tells us roughly the kind of rock below us and how deep it is."

Balsley said water-mapping from a boat proved unsatisfactory.

"We think this technique may prove helpful in prospecting for submerged oil," Balsley said.

"It doesn't show us where the salt domes are, but because salt is less magnetic than ground rock, it locates the broad magnetic fissures that may affect the distribution of salt domes.

"In pointing to bulges in rock which might trap oil, it provides a hint that could guide other forms of exploration activity."

Burton's automobile collided with a cattle truck on highway 75.

Utility Companies Likely Target In Proposed 'Lobby' Investigation

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 19—Past statements indicate that power and other utility companies might be a major target if the Senate goes along on the House-passed proposal to investigate lobbying.

A Senate Judiciary subcommittee already has okayed an investigation and the full committee may consider it Monday.

Power and utility lobbyists have had many a verbal going over from House leaders and from President Truman. The chief executive went after them during the 1948 election campaign.

Rayburn Charge Recalled

House members recall that back in 1946 Speaker Rayburn said Washington was "seething" with utility lobbyists. He offered to take them on in "another fight" if they were spoiling for one.

Chairman Sabath (D-Ill) of the Rules committee told the House yesterday that power lobbyists spent more than $2,000,000 some years ago. He said he knows that in recent years "many more millions have been spent."

House Adopts Resolution

That was in debate that led up to House adoption of a resolution, by Rep. Buchanan (D-Pa). Approved by a loud voice vote, it would set up a special investigating committee of seven House members and seven senators.

The committee would be instructed to make a "full and complete investigation" of "all lobbying activities" and of all activities of government agencies "intended to influence, encourage, promote, or retard legislation."

It could recommend legislation, including changes in the present law requiring registration of lobbyists.

DANGER SIGNAL
Use Of Red Paint Advised In Home

COLLEGE STATION, May 19 (INS)—Who ever suspected a can of red paint would be so highly regarded as it is by Mrs. Bernice Claytor, extension home management specialist of Texas A&M college?

Mrs. Claytor has a yen these days for red paint.

In the first place, she says, it's an eye-catching color.

Also, it means danger and serves as a warning.

She suggests homemakers try painting the outdoor faucets and the handles of small garden tools red. The color shows up clearly against ground, grass, or foliage.

As a warning, use red paint on the containers of such poisonous materials as lye preparations for cleaning drains or for insecticides. She suggests that it be painted in a band around such containers.

The high shelf in the bathroom cabinet where medicines are kept out of children's reach may be painted red, she says, as a flag to other members of the family.

Bright red paint on the pail of sand and the fire extinguisher, the first-aid kit, the ice pick, all make those objects easily findable.

"In fact," Mrs. Claytor concludes, "a can of red paint may save lives as well as time and trouble."

Prospector Finds Arizona Gold Cache Undisturbed In 20 Years

QUARTZSITE, Ariz., May 19—Felix Buba is convinced a hole in the ground is a safe place to hide valuables.

While digging for gold near here in 1920, he buried his tools, blasting powder, caps and two bottles of placer gold several hundred yards from the Yum Yum mine.

He hid the articles because he was called on what he thought would be a short trip to the American river diggings in California.

He returned here nearly 20 years later and visited the camp site. Curiosity prompted him to see if the cache was where he had left it.

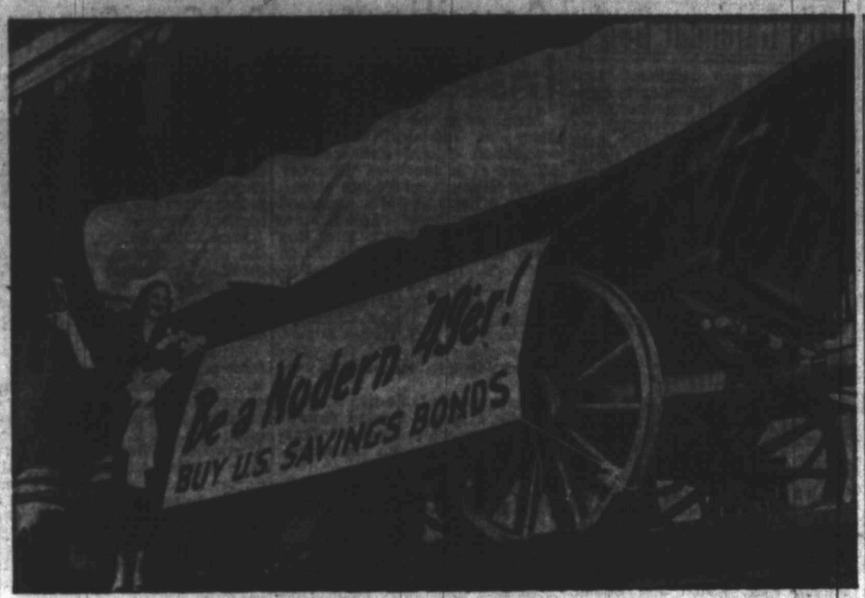

To his surprise he found all the articles, including the bottles of gold, intact.

Oregon Police Investigate Disappearance Of Students

MONMOUTH, Ore., May 19 (INS)—Disappearance of four students, all married men from the Oregon College of Education at Monmouth, had state police puzzled today.

Their anxious wives reported they have not heard from the war veterans since they left Monmouth for Salem to attend a basketball game last night.

Highways in the Salem area and particularly along the 15-mile stretch between Salem and Monmouth were searched in the chance the students had been victimes of an automobile accident.

Missing were Bert McConnell, Robert McKeever, Samuel Ramey and Wayne Hubbard, driver of the car.

A missing report was broadcast to all state and county prowl cars.

Bus Drivers Strike In Two Texas Cities

BEAUMONT, May 19 (AP)—Mayor Otho Plummer appealed to citizens to share rides today after city bus drivers went on strike in both Beaumont and Port Arthur.

The strike followed hopelessly deadlocked talks between the National City Line, Inc., and AFL representatives of the 150 drivers and mechanics.

At a meeting at 2 a. m. today the union voted 128 to 2 against the company's final proposal. The company offered to put a two-cent wage hike into effect if it is operating in the black by Sept. 2. If the company still were losing money, the two-cent boost would become effective a month after the first month the firm's books showed a profit.

The two-cent offer was in marked contrast to the union's demand for a wage increase of 25 cents an hour. Drivers were getting $1.10 an hour and mechanics $1.22 an hour. Working conditions also were in dispute.

Union officials planned no picket lines, and no further meetings with the company were scheduled.

Death Of Carrier Commander Aboard Ship Ruled Suicide

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19 (AP)—A coroner's jury held today that Commander Evertt Olin Rigsbee, jr., skipper of the aircraft carrier U.S.S. Antietam, committed suicide.

The verdict followed an inquest into the death of the Navy officer aboard the big carrier last Thursday at the Hunter's point naval drydock.

Rigsbee was found in his stateroom aboard the U.S.S. Antietam, a bullet wound in the right temple. A .38 revolver lay near his outstretched hand

Commander Carter Jennings, acting executive officer on the Antietam, testified that Rigsbee had been depressed since the carrier had been ordered deactivated.

Kiwanis Club Hears Rabbi Julius Kerman

"Communism is only an idea. It cannot be killed by bullets. It can be destroyed only by a better idea," Rabbi Julius Kerman told the kiwanis club Thursday. "That better idea is democracy."

Rabbi Kerman, of the congregation Shaareth Israel, went on to say that Communism is like a disease. It is no respecter of borders.

"Everything that is said of Soviet Russia is true," said the Rabbi, "and we don't know the half of it. But regardless of this guilt, war is not the solution. War fails to solve anything."

Leaders Are Replaced

"When we destroyed the Kaiser he was replaced by Hitler. When we destroyed Hitler we were faced with the lust for power of Stalin," Rabbi Kerman continued. "We can destroy one leader or nation and another springs up from the ashes."

"We must remember that discontent is the fertile soil in which Communism breeds. We must eliminate such discontent by eradicating want, prejudice and segregation."

Money Is Needed

"Waste in war is inevitable. We spent billions to fight a war to preserve democracy. We need to spend some of this kind of money to preserve the peace. That money would build homes, educate our children and do many other useful things," the Rabbi said.

"When we were at war we rightfully assumed the belief that the war was everybody's job. Now we want to take the attitude that peace is the job of the statesman. We should start now to work for peace as we did for war," Rabbi Kerman concluded.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. Paul T. Jones and President Fred Sparks presided over the meeting.

ONLY FIVE GRAMS IN EXISTENCE

Arthritis Pain-Relieving Drug Is Found After 20 Year Search

BY ROBERT N. SCHWARTZ
INS Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, May 19 — Experimental testing at five medical centers of a new drug for relief of arthritis which yields exciting results in from four to eight hours was announced today in Chicago by the Rheumatism and Arthritis foundation.

The drug, so rare that only five grams (five-twenty-eighths of an ounce) exist, was discovered and developed at the Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minn. Its existence was announced in Rochester several weeks ago.

The Rheumatism and Arthritis foundation said only one gram of the drug, known as "Compound E," a hormone secreted in the adrenal gland, is being allotted to each experimental center.

Patients Selected

Authorities at Michael Reese hospital, Chicago, one of the research sites selected, said its allotment of one gram would be used on six patients, who already have been selected. They will be kept in the hospital and under observation during the six to eight weeks the initial test is expected to last.

"Compound E" is being manufactured by Merck and Co., New York, which has been working three years to produce the present scanty supply.

At present, "Compound E" is said to cost about $1,000 a gram, but spokesmen for the Rheumatism and Arthritis foundation said the cost is expected to fall after the chemists devise "production line techniques." They pointed out that insulin, when first discovered cost about $1,500 an ounce.

Is Not A Cure

"Compound E" is not a cure for arthritis. It alleviates pain associated with the disease and holds it in check while it is being used, just as liver extract and insulin, relieve anemia or diabetes.

The drug is effective against only rheumatoid arthritis, the most prevalent form of the disease. It apparently is not effective against osteo arthritis, the form most common in elderly persons.

The mayor report on the drug said:

"In every case, the stiffness of the muscles and joints has relaxed markedly. Pain and tenderness have lessened and the use of both joints and muscles significantly facilitated."

The search for the drug reads like an exciting detective story. Some 20 years ago investigators noticed that some arthritis patients experienced relief of pain when they became pregnant or jaundiced. They began to hunt a cause.

Small Doses Used

The long search led eventually to the adrenal gland's outer layer, where it was found that a hormone, now called "Compound E" was produced at these times.

Then began the long and tedious work of extracting the hormone, which recently was completed, to mark another vital step forward in the never-ending battle against disease and pain.

The drug operates by stimulating the patient to produce an excess of "Compound E" in his own body. Present dosage is one-thousandth of a gram. Experiments will see to determine the toxicity of the drug and the most efficient dosage.

In addition to Chicago, the drug is being tested experimentally in the following cities:

New York, Boston, Tucson, Ariz., and Los Angeles.

Luther Scarborough, former Fort Worth schoolboy basketball star, is captain of the 1949 University of Texas freshman team.

Texas U. Students Sponsor Displaced Persons' Education

AUSTIN, May 19. (INS) — Student groups at the University of Texas—fraternities, sororities, religious groups — are sponsoring the education of three displaced person students in Austin.

About ten more DP students are expected at the university by fall. Local merchants have promised clothing to them when they arrive in Austin.

Two Yugoslavian sisters, Liliana Stankovich, 22, and Mrs. Zarica Zoprivnik, arrived this week. They became DP's when their family escaped Tito's Communist Yugoslavia.

The first such student to arrive was Anatol Falkowske, a Czech, who reached Austin two months ago.

The two sisters labeled Texas as "just fine" after being shown around Austin. They have been in the United States for four months through sponsorship of the committee to aid Heidelberg students.

They will enroll in the summer session at the university June 3. Miss Stankovich's father and Mrs. Koprivnik's husband are both in Switzerland awaiting an opportunity to come to the United States. Both are mechanical engineers and hold high hopes of securing visas soon.

The two sisters came to the United States from Switzerland, to which their families fled from Yugoslavia.

Bids To Be Called For Soon On Bridge Linking Texas, Louisiana

BATON ROUGE, La., May 19 (AP)—Louisiana's Department of Highways today notified contractors of a proposed $2,000,000 bridge on the Sabine river between Calcasieu parish and Orange, Texas.

James A. Kincaid, project control engineer for the department, said bids probably will be called for within the next two weeks. He said the bridge should be completed in "less than three years."

Slightly more than half of the cost of the project, Kincaid added, will be borne jointly by Texas and Louisiana, with the federal government putting up the remainder.

Louisiana additionally will construct a fill embankment from Toomey, connecting U. S. Highway 90 with the bridge, he said. The embankment will be built for four lanes at a cost of approximately $730,000, he explained, but probably only two lanes will be laid at the outset. Planned also, he added, are "relief openings" for drainage and secondary bridges on the road link.

Kincaid said the project has been submitted for approval to the Federal Public Roads administration. He said it probably will take about two years to complete after it has been let to a contractor.

Kincaid said the site has been surveyed and some work has been done on plans for the highway embankment on the Louisiana side. He said the department presently is seeking rights of way in the area.

According to the department's advance notice, the proposed bridge will be a four lane divided highway with two 26 foot roadways and will cross the river five miles northeast of Orange.

Fist Fights Break Up Session Of Jap House Of Representatives

TOKYO, May 19 (INS) — Fist fights between members of the Communist party and the majority Democratic-Liberal party broke up a session of the Japanese house of representatives today.

Communist Toshio Tachibana and Democratic-Liberal Toramatsu Konishi touched off the fight that quickly spread over the floor of the lower house of the diet (parliament.)

As parliamentary guards rushed in to break up the sparring the House speaker banged his gavel and shouted that the session was adjourned. A group of Americans in the gallery whistled and stomped as the battle raged.

Legislators were mum after the free for all, refusing to say who threw the first punch.

The squabble began shortly after an attempt by the Democratic-Liberals to withdraw a statement that Gen. Douglas MacArthur's occupation headquarters had ordered establishment of a national taxation board. The statement was questioned by Socialists because occupation headquarters had never announced support for such a board.

Clovis Defeats Hubs, 10-9

Fight Enlivens Thrilling Climax

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

It was the Hubbers turn to be generous last night at Rosenthal Field and they took advantage of it, giving the Clovis Pioneers a 10 to 9 victory, but not before they had scared the visitors to death with an eighth and ninth inning rally that fell short with the winning run on first base.

The Hubbers, and more particularly Pepper Martin, also gave the fans a strictly unscheduled Golden Gloves exhibition in the stormy ninth. Pepper laid Ray Bauer low with a solid right to the left eye that cut that player's eyebrow to the bone from the bridge of his nose to the opposite outside corner.

Runs Still Count

Home runs, which have not been much in evidence recently, played a big part in the victory and the loss. Bauer had one for the visitors in the third and I. B. Palmer hit for the circuit in the sixth. It was also the sixth that Martin hit one for Lubbock. And two in the ninth almost tied up the game.

In that frame, Manager Jackie Sullivan homered after George Mendoza had erred on Buddy McCallum's grounder. Mendoza promptly dittoed on Al Duarte's grounder and Prince stenciled another carbon copy home run.

That left the score 10-9 with nobody out. Martin bounced to Bauer at first and the fleet outfielder was beating him to the bag, so Bauer tossed to Raymond Drake. Martin, unable to stop short, collided with the pitcher and he tripped and fell.

Bauer ran over, accused Martin of intentionally knocking Drake to the ground and started to swing. Martin was faster, pumping a right, left and right to Bauer's face and cutting open his eyebrow. Palmer, an old buddy of Martin's grabbed him and players from both teams swarmed around first base.

Fans Happy Over Game

When the ruckus was over, Bauer was out and Pat Lorenzo was in. With one down, John Dempsey doubled to center, Nelson Davis fouled to the catcher and Mike Dooley walked to put the winning run on the bags. But Royce Mills, who had relieved loser John Myers in the second, had gotten his hit for the night and bounced out, pitcher to first, to end the game.

The 1,232 fans went home happy, though, over the thrilling finish and the unscheduled fight. The latter showed that at least the Hubber players haven't lost their punch.

Boston Braves Edge Pittsburgh, 3 To 2

Threatening Reds Halted By Giants

PITTSBURGH, May 19. (INS)—Pitcher Vern Bickford singled in the ninth today to drive in the winning run for the Boston Braves in a 3 to 2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

With two out, Bill Salkeld tied the score at two-all with a double which drove in Jim Russell after the latter had walked and advanced on a sacrifice by Marv Rickert.

Bickford then drove home Phil Masi, running for Salkeld, to clinch his fifth win of the season.

Elmer Riddle hurled for the Pirates into the ninth when he weakened and was relieved by Hugh Casey. Riddle was charged with his third defeat against no victories.

A base on balls to Salkeld, a sacrifice by Bickford and a single by Eddie Stanky gave the Braves a one-run lead in the third.

GIANTS GAIN 6 TO 2 WIN OVER CINCINNATI

CINCINNATI, May 19. (AP)—The New York Giants warded off the threatening Cincinnati Reds, 6-2, today to maintain their first place National league tie with the Boston Braves.

Johnny Mize slammed his ninth homer of the season with one on and Walker Cooper socked a two-run double to lead the Giants' 13 hit attack against Johnny Vander Meer, Ed Erautt and Kent Peterson.

The Reds, who now trail the co-leaders by two games, reached Sheldon Jones for 13 safeties, hitting in every inning except the ninth. The victory was Jones' fifth in eight decisions.

Pampa Gains 6-4 Win Over Borger

PAMPA, May 19. (AP)—A little mud puddle near first base gave the Pampa Oilers a 6 to 4 decision over the Borger Gassers here tonight. The puddle kept alive a four-run rally by the Oilers in the eighth inning.

Righthander Merlin Hubbard notched his fourth win of the season as he held the Gassers to seven hits, the three of which were combined in the fourth inning for three Gasser scores.

Meanwhile, the Oilers were pounding Hugh King for 11 hits, combining four for two runs in the second and four more for four runs in the eighth. The big blow was a home run by Ken Peacock in the second frame, which started the Oilers on the win trail.

Abilene, Amarillo Divide Twin Bill

ABILENE, May 19. (AP)—Abilene's Blue Sox remained in third place in the West Texas-New Mexico league standings after dividing a twin bill with the Amarillo Gold Sox here tonight.

The Blue Sox played flashily to win the first one, 7-3, but did some "Brooklyn" base running and committed errors afield to go with Darwin Dobbs' four-hit pitching for Amarillo and the Gold Sox took the nightcap, 7-4.

Home runs by George Sturdivant, chasing two mates home, and Joe Wessing, with none aboard, helped the Abilene cause in the first game. The Blue Sox worked on lefty Bob Glass and Jim Reynolds for six hits, but they came in bunches and were of extra base variety.

Amarillo took an early lead, and were ahead 3-0 in the first game when Sturdivant hit his homer in the last of the fourth to tie the score. A single by Perez, a walk and a two-base error provided an additional run in the fifth after Wessing homered. The extra two came in the sixth on a hit batsman, two walks and a pair of singles.

Dukes Nose Out Lamesa, 8 To 7

LAMESA, May 19 (Special)—The league - leading Albuquerque Dukes defeated the Lamesa Loboes by a one-run margin for the second night in a row, hammering three pitchers for 13 hits and an 8-7 victory.

Duke first baseman, Allen Maul, paced the Duke attack with four hits, including two doubles, in five trips and drove in three runs. Clifford McClain, Albuquerque right fielder, romped home from third on a wild pitch with the deciding tally in the fourth frame. Joe Beh', who took over the Duke mound chores in the fourth, received credit for the win. Stanley Grzywacz was charged with his first defeat of the season after six straight triumphs.

The Dukes scored twice in the first inning on two hits and an error by Wilcox and were never headed, although the Loboes kept pecking away and staged a final threat in the ninth. With one down Glenn Coats singled to right, moved to second on a passed ball, and scored on Jackie Wilcox's third hit of the evening. Leo Rheingans grounded out to end the inning.

Failure to hit in the pinches cost the Loboes heavily as they left 13 runners stranded on the sacks.

The two clubs will meet in the finale of the three-game series Friday night at 8:15. Duke Lefthander Virgil Butler will oppose Lamesa's Eulis Rosson who has won one and lost one.

Final 1-AA Playoff Tussle At Amarillo

The final game of the District 1-AA baseball playoff between Lubbock's Westerners and the Amarillo Golden Sandstorms is scheddled to be played at 4 p.m. today at Gold Sox park in Amarillo.

Lubbock evened the three game series at 1-1 Wednesday with a 15-8 drubbing of the Sandies in the first game of a scheduled double-header. Rain and hail intervened to stop the second game with the Westerners leading, 4-0, in the second inning with no outs and the bases loaded.

The winner of the 1-AA title will play Wichita Falls, District 2-AA champion, for the bi-district crown and the right to go to the state finals in Austin the first weekend in June.

Postponement of the third game made the fourth time that games in the playoff series had been reset. The first contest was set for Friday, May 13, but it was not played until Tuesday of this week.

Coach Fred Taylor said last night the team would probably leave Chapman fieldhouse at 9:30 a.m. This will allow plenty of time for a good batting practice before the game in Amarillo.

The team took the day off yesterday since Chapman field was being used for a District 4-A baseball game, and the boys were expected to benefit by the rest.

In the game Wednesday several of the Westerners looked very good at the plate. Leading the hit parade was Morris Turner with three hits in four trips to the plate, one a double.

Also potent with the big stick were Charles Galey and Jessie Fullerton with a homer and a single apiece Galey's round-tripper came with the sacks full, and Fullerton hit his with one man on.

The team looked much better in winning this game than they did in losing the one the day before although several errors were made in the winning game.

Red Sox Nine Wins Tussle

Both games of the doubleheader in Boys club baseball were played Thursday, and in the Pygmy game the Red Sox nosed the Dodgers, 12-11, with one hit—a home run by Gene Calvert with the bases loaded.

Leading the Dodgers was Jimmy Blair with a homer and a single in three trips. The Dodgers made six hits off of several pitchers.

The Dodgers in the Pee Wee league gained revenge for their younger namesakes, downing the Red Sox, 17-2. Delman Hilton had a triple and two walks in three appearances, driving in three runs with his three-ply wallop. The Red Sox were hitless before the efforts of three Dodger pitchers—Jack Richardson, Don Mullinix, and Ronald Burns.

Tomorrow's games will be between the White Sox and Indians.

THIRTY-FOURTH STREET WINS

In a sandlot softball game Thursday afternoon the Thirty-fourth Street team defeated the Forty-fourth Street nine, 10-9, behind the hurling of Leon Bostick who led hitting with four safe blows. Jimmy Crawford had three for three for the winners. Glen Akin was the loser.

Hutchinson Pitches And Helps Tigers Claw Senators, 10 To 1

Doby Big Gun In 3-2 Tribe Victory

WASHINGTON, May 19 (INS)—Freddie Hutchinson pitched and helped to bat the Detroit Tigers to a 10 to 1 victory over the Washington Senators today.

Hutchinson allowed only seven scattered hits and contributed a single, double and triple to the Tiger attack against Ray Scarborough, Forrest Thompson and Joe Haynes.

The Tigers made 10 hits and took advantage of Scarborough's wildness to bang out the one-sided victory.

The Tigers enjoyed a 4 to 1 lead going into the sixth and put over four runs in this frame.

NEW YORK, May 19 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians nosed out the New York Yankees, 3-2, today with Larry Doby driving in all three Tribal tallies, one of them on one of the longest homers ever clubbed in Yankee stadium. The victory snapped a five-game losing streak for the world champions, who entered the game with a revamped lineup.

Michigan State Will Join Big Nine Today

EVANSTON, Ill. May 19 (INS)—The Big Nine will become the Big Ten once more tomorrow morning with the formal recognition of Michigan State as a member of the Western Conference.

In the ensuing celebration and dispensation of cigars, the start of the Conference's 49th outdoor track and field championships, at Dyche stadium on the Northwestern University campus, may go relatively unnoticed.

Preliminary heats will be run off in nine different events and all 14 finals will be staged on Saturday. Minnesota, Indiana, Wisconsin and the defending champion, Ohio State, are co-favored to win the title.

The lineup is so mediocre, that only one conference record, Don Lash's 4:10.8 in the mile 13 years ago, is at all likely to fall. Donald Gehrmann of Wisconsin has done 4:10.1 outdoors this spring, and has done quite better than that in the past. If today's rain keeps up, however, the track will be slow, and nobody'll do nothin'.

Michigan State's admission to the Conference is going to pose some problems. Of course, the Spartans from East Lansing haven't yet made it, and anything can happen, but they can be safely assumed home free. A three-man investigating group looked over the MSC campus a month ago and, from all appearances, was satisfied that the Spartans will do.

Lamesa Players Get Suspensions

LAMESA, May 19. (Special) — Purchase of one player, suspension of two more and the release of two others was announced here today by Manager Jay Haney.

D. C. Miller, a first baseman-outfielder, has been purchased outright from Texarkana.

Walter Buckel, shortstop, has been suspended for 10 days, while Hawel Houck, righthanded pitcher, out of action since a knee operation, has been suspended indefinitely.

Larry Williams, a righthanded pitcher, and Bill Cunningham, a lefthanded pitcher, both have been given their outright releases.

Miller, who has been with Gladewater this year, hit .350 for Texarkana last season. He smashed 29 home runs for Texarkana and, with Wichita Falls in 1947, belted 57 fourmasters while hitting .360. Manager Haney hopes that he will solve the long ball problem for the Loboes, who have hit only four home runs in 27 games.

Jackie Wilcox, on a five-day look after his release by the Lubbock Hubbers, has been signed and will replace Buckel in the shortstop slot.

Houck was purchased during the winter from Mangum, Okla., and never recovered from a knee operation. He never joined the club and isn't expected to until late in the season.

Williams was a limited service righthander and Cunningham was a rookie southpaw.

Jacobs Fight Era Will End Tonight

NEW YORK, May 19 (AP)—The Mike Jacobs era in boxing ends tomorrow night in Madison Square Garden.

To Pete Meadow of Grand Rapids, Mich., and Robert Villemain of Paris, a pair of middleweights, go the honor of headlining the final Jacobs' production in the area.

Jacobs, ailing since he suffered a stroke late in 1946, recently sold his 20th Century Sporting club to the Garden. He steps down formally on June 1 after 12 years of promoting Garden bouts. No fight is scheduled there for next week.

A crowd of some 15,000 is expected to pay around $40,000 to watch the farewell fight, scheduled for ten rounds or less.

Both battlers are expected to come in under 160 pounds. The winner may get a shot at former world champion Rocky Graziano, recently reinstated in New York.

It will be Villemain's third appearance here. He lost a ten-rounder to Steve Belloise in his American debut Jan. 7. He fought Jake Lamotta on March 25 and lost a decision that was questioned by most of the customers and the State Athletic commission.

In Meadow's last appearance here, he knocked out Joey De John in the seventh round, Feb. 25. He has won 35 of his 44 pro fights, 12 of them by knockouts. Villemain has won 33 of 37 starts.

Post Nine Curbs Morton, 7 To 4

Post's Antelopes won the District 4-A baseball championship Thursday afternoon by defeating Morton, 7-4, in the final game of a three-game series.

The contest was played at Chapman field in perfect baseball weather, and a large number of fans turned out for the district clincher. In the bi-district tilt the Post team will play the District 3-A winner, Spur at a later date to be announced.

Billy Rammage was the winning pitcher for Post, and he limited the Morton batters to four hits. The victory was largely due to walks and errors on the part of Morton's defense, several being made by a couple of the losers.

Post stepped out into a 3-0 lead in the first inning, increased the margin to 5-0 in the third, and added runs in the fifth and sixth to pile up the total of seven.

A four-run outburst in the sixth by Morton was encouraging, but it fell short of the mark. Three of the runs came after Clifford Wall, Roy Smith, and Fred Stockdale loaded the bases. Jimmy Winder then poled a long triple to left-center field to score the runners ahead of him. The next man up, Derrell Bowman, sacrificed Winder home with the fourth and final tally. In the second inning Morton loaded the bases with one out but could not score. In that inning Wall doubled.

Billy McDaniels was on the hill for the losers.

Softball Leagues Play Full Slate

Play in the City Recreation softball league continued according to schedule Thursday, and in the Industrial league at Wagner park American Legion defeated First Methodist, 8-2, and The Avalanche-Journal downed First Baptist, 9-7.

Leland Branch pitched the winning game for the Legion team, also hitting a home run, and Pete Mills was the losing pitcher. For The Avalanche-Journal R. J. Matheny was the winner, and hitting was led by Roy Jones.

In play at Jumbo Webster park Lubbock Barber college defeated Economy Mills, 5-4, in the last of the seventh as David Lloyd singled with the bases loaded. Charlie Vandwenter had three singles and Leroy Breshear had two doubles and a single to lead the Barber's attack. The Millers were able to garner only six hits off pitcher J. White. Crow as the loser for Economy Mills.

Bennett Motors won a close decision from Sanders Motors, stopping them 4-3. Leading the Bennett attack were Herb Wilson, Joe Hall, and Jack Mills with two singles each. Joe Fralin and Bill Tibbets paced the losers with two hits each. C. B. Wright was the hurler for Sanders, and Sterling and Foster shared mound duty for Bennett.

All games are open to the public, and no admission is charged. Last night's crowd was estimated at 250 persons.

Bowie Defeats Lamesa, 9-1

LAMESA, May 19. (Special) — Bowie's Bears trounced the Golden Tornadoes, 9-1, here this afternoon at Lobo park before 400 fans in the first game of the high school bi-district baseball playoff.

Lamesa, champions of District 3-AA, made only three hits off Bear Righthander Rueben Porras, two of them by Ronald Chapman, second baseman.

The El Pasoans, District 4-AA titlists, collected nine hits, four of them doubles, off two Lamesa pitchers and benfitted immensely from eight errors by a shaky Tornado defense.

The Bears scored all their runs in the first three frames, counting four runs in the first inning on three hits, a pair of walks, and a trio of Tornado bobbles.

Hart Is Loser

Righthander Bill Hart was charged with the loss, yielding five hits and seven runs before going to the showers during Bowie's four-run outburst in the third. Lefty Royce King pitched creditable relief ball, but his mates couldn't produce offensively.

Porras struck out seven and held the Tornadoes scoreless until the seventh when two hits, three walks, and three stolen bases produced the lone Lamesa tally.

The Bears gave Porras stout support, committing only one error and making one double play. Porras and Left Fielder Jose Corona led the Bowie attack each with a single and a double.

Shortstop Lewis Duncan was charged with six of the errors made by Lamesa.

Meet Again Friday

The clubs meet in the second game of the best two out of three series here Friday afternoon at 2 p. m.

Coach Nemo Herrera named righthander Trini Guillen as the Bear starter. Probable starter for Lamesa will be Jerry Phillips, righthander, but Coach Jack Wetzel was undecided as to the choice.

Boudreau Orders Bob Feller To Take Two-Week Rest-Cure

NEW YORK, May 19 (INS) — Bob Feller was ordered to take a two-week rest-cure today by Cleveland Manager Lou Boudreau.

Feller will rejoin the club when the Indians return to Cleveland.

In his last appearance Tuesday, he was subject to a 12-hit Yankee barrage that included two home runs by Tommy Henrich.

Street cleaners at Wisbech, England, are paid a penny a mile for riding to work.

Sunbeamers Meet Crane

SAN ANGELO, May 19. (Special) — Leaders in both Eastern and Western divisions of the Texas Softball League clash in doubleheaders Saturday night.

The feature attraction will be the meeting at Crane of the Crane Gulfers and Lubbock's Bluebonnet-Sunbeamers. Each team has won five and lost one. In their last meeting Crane took the opener 8 to 3, and Lubbock won the nightcap, 1 to 0.

In the other Western division battle San Angelo's Maurice Shop goes to Fort Stockton. The host team is seeking its initial victory while San Angelo will be shooting at a challenging position behind the leaders.

Mackey of Abilene, surprise winner over Stamford in an Eastern division doubleheader last week, puts its unblemished record on the line against Howard Payne at Brownwood. Stamford entertains Dallas in an exhibition.

Big Joe Goodwin, member of the TSL all-star team in 1948, is leading the batting parade with a .529 average after collecting five hits last week. Byron Clark of Lubbock and Curly Hays of Stamford are next in line with .455 and .383 respectively.

Scholarships May Be Refused Reds

dent Truman to fire Lilienthal because of the Freistadt scholarship.

Rep. Holifield (D-Calif) replied that Lilienthal did not appoint Freistadt to the scholarship.

McMahon said that his unit will continue its investigation until "we become satisfied that there are no Communists in the atomic energy program."

Bronk said that in view of the congressional protest over the Freistadt affair, he thought the Austrian-born Communist's scholarship should be cancelled. Bronk, present as a spectator at today's hearing, made his statement to reporters.

To Require Affidavits

He added that if a question of breach of contract arises it may be necessary to raise $1,600 in private funds to give Freistadt, who admits being a Communist, the education he would have received under the fellowship.

After Lilienthal testified, subcommittee Chairman O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) served notice that Congress will demand that future applicants for atomic scholarships sign non-Communist affidavits.

O'Mahoney asserted that this stipulation will be written into the law to prevent any duplication of the Freistadt incident, which detonated an uproar in Congress.

Fear Too Close Check

Lilienthal testified before the Senate group in behalf of the Atomic Energy commission's request for more than $1,000,000,000 to operate AEC during the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Senators concentrated on questions about Freistadt, North Carolina university graduate student, who Wednesday told the congressional atomic committee "events" would decide whether he would fight for the U. S. in case of war with Russia.

Both Lilienthal and Bronk have shared the views of many top scientists who oppose Communism yet fear too close a check on political views might lead to state control of education.

Problem "Not Simple"

Sen. McKellar (D-Tenn), longtime foe of Lilienthal, questioned the AEC chief's statement that he favors withdrawing the Freistadt scholarship. McKellar snorted:

"It has been shown that Hans Freistadt received an atomic scholarship and that he is an admitted Communist. If you can justify what you just said with this award then you are a species of mental legerdermain like no one else in the country."

Lilienthal answered that the problem "was not simple." He added:

"We are entering a new and dangerous field and we ought to be careful of what we do."

The AEC chairman explained that he referred to federal aid to education of scientists. He said that he feared it might be a first step toward federal control of education.

Lubbock Store Hit By $25,000 Blaze

Fire which broke out at 8:05 a. m. Thursday at Freed's women's apparel shop at 913 Broadway, did damage estimated tentatively at between $25,000 and $30,000, according to L. Freed, owner of the store.

The blaze badly damaged the building from the edge of the balcony to the rear of the store. Freed said last night that he had made only a brief inspection of the store, and that more detailed estimate of damages would be made today or Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Freed were at market in Fort Worth and Dallas at the time of the fire. They returned to Lubbock late Thursday afternoon.

"All the back of the store has been burned out, all the shoe department, all the balcony. Practically all the stored merchandise has been burned," it was announced. "Much of the stock throughout the store has been damaged by smoke and water."

Damage by smoke was done to the JoAnn shop, women's apparel store next door to Freed's, officials of that store said yesterday. No estimate of damage was announced, however.

Firemen said there was indication that electric wiring may have caused the fire.

The new allowable is 440,627 barrels daily less than June purchaser nominations which totaled 2,427,884 barrels, a decline of 88,387 from May.

June natural gasoline and distillate production was estimated at 251,237 barrels daily, which, combined with the new crude allowable, would give the state a liquified petroleum production permissible totaling 2,238,394 barrels daily.

Actual Production Lags

The state's current actual crude production approximates 1,882,000 barrels daily, actual production normally running five or six percent below allowables.

The June crude schedule was signed by the commission after a brief statewide hearing during which testimony was presented from purchasers and operators in only three of the commission's 12 proration districts.

The July statewide hearing will be held at 9 a. m., June 17, at the Hotel Beaumont, Beaumont.

the union is prepared to assign separate committees to the strike and contract negotiations or to discuss each issue in alternate sessions, with the same bargaining teams participating in both.

Reuther told Bugas:

"If the company will not meet on any of the schedules suggested and declines to suggest some alternative arrangement . . . the union advises that it is unwilling to negotiate on either subject to the exclusion of the other."

The union's abrupt switch in bargaining policy matched Ford's sudden about-face earlier in the day, when Bugas appealed to the government to intervene in the strike.

John S. Bugas capped the day's conference with CIO United Auto Workers leaders by asking Arthur B. Viat, chief federal meditator in Detroit, to "sit in" on negotiations when they resume at 9 a.m. (CST) tomorrow.

another night of siege in a drizzling rain. Artillery fire provided "background music" in the distance.

While the Reds were pushing their circling drive on the Pootung sector on the southeast, it was abandonment of the southwest defenses on a quiet front that made Shanghai nervous.

Reds Said Thrown Back

Lunghwa airfield's control tower on the southern edge of the city reported it could hear mortar fire about five miles away.

It was impossible to confirm a report that airplanes of Nationalists big-shots had been warmed up at Lunghwa.

The garrison communique, however, said Reds had been beaten back on the Pootung front on the east side of the Whangpoo river six to eight miles from midtown Shanghai.

(A Communist broadcast from Peiping said 4,000 Nationalists had been killed and 6,000 captured in fighting "in the Pootung area" Sunday and Monday It gave the location as Chowpu, seven miles southeast of Shanghai.

tions.

Despite its setbacks, the economy-minded group gained a talking point as Senator Byrd (D-Va) said at least 500,000 workers could be lopped off the overall federal payroll "without impairment of a single essential function."

Byrd said an average of 322 employes had been added each day for 15 months until they now total 2,111,257. He figured this daily cost as adding $750,000 to the government's annual civilian payroll.

Dam Hurls Charge

Although he placed "first responsibility" on the executive branch to hold down the federal paylist, Byrd said Congress could help "by rejecting proposals for new functions, programs, policies and agencies."

Byrd made his remarks in a report as chairman of the joint committee on reduction of non-essential federal expenditures.

During debate on the agriculture money measure, Senator Tydings (D-Md) accused Republican senators of "demagoguery" and "politics" in their efforts to put a five percent "economy" clamp on all appropriation measures.

Senator Saltonstall (R-Mass) reported the Republicans were doing "the best thing we can do" to try to avoid higher taxes or a big government deficit.

Abilene Minister To Conduct Third Service Here Tonight

Services in the Christian and Missionary Alliance chapel, 1901 Twenty-first, will be conducted tonight by Dr. J. H. Hamblen of Abilene.

Dr. Hamblen, general superintendent of the Evangelical Methodist church, will have conducted a series of three services here with tonight's service.

Dr. Hamblen said he objects to modernism in the church and that the Evangelical Methodist church tries to avoid fanaticism on one hand and modernism on the other.

The Evangelical Methodist church was organized in 1946 in Memphis, Tenn., Dr. Hamblen said, and has grown to include 100 churches in the U.S., 14 churches in Mexico, and 27 churches in France.

Whether an Evangelical Methodist church will be organized in Lubbock, remains to be determined, Dr. Hamblen said.

max when a twister ripped through Sundown on the night of May 6 leaving two dead and a number injured. A part of what many believed to be the same storm swept Lubbock with a torrential rain that flooded homes and business buildings and forced several hundred to move to safety from the flood waters.

Rains Covered Wide Area

During the following week numerous hail and rainstorms crisscrossed the South Plains. Muleshoe and Sudan areas were hit by a heavy downpour that flooded several Muleshoe streets and high water poured into a number of homes. A dust storm lashed much of the area last Sunday as herald of Amarillo's terrific tornado.

Early Monday morning Lubbock and a large section of the Plains was hit by high winds and rain. Tuesday a twister bounced across the area above Wilson and skipped toward Southland. Floyd county was blasted by a severe hail storm and a downpour inundated a large section of country near Whiteflat in Motley county. Another twister hit Daugherty in Floyd county.

Then to cap off the days of turbulent weather, a tornado ripped across Soldier Mound, a few miles above Spur, leaving one person dead and at least nine injured. Approximately 15 homes and buildings in the path of the storm were destroyed or damaged.

Wednesday was dusty and threatening but only scattered showers were reported over the Plains. Then Thursday, fair weather, and 14-days of storm ended, at least temporarily.

000 union members.

The resolution is directed against these unions:

American Communications association; electrical workers; farm equipment workers; fishermen; food and tobacco workers; fur and leather workers; longshoremen; marine cooks and stewards; mine, mill and smelter workers; office and professional workers, and United Public workers.

The economic program included higher unemployment compensation, a boost in the minimum wage from 40 cents to $1 an hour, federal loans to new industries and small businesses and expanded social security benefits.

The board also demanded elimination of excise taxes and increases in income tax exemptions, federal supplements to present state unemployment benefits, federal aid to enable workers to transfer to job areas and location of public works projects in unemployment areas.

Leftists Defeated

The 11 unions fought almost all of Murray's program during the three-day executive meeting, which closed late today.

They unsuccessfully opposed a resolution which reaffirmed the CIO's support of the North Atlantic pact "as a necessary development of American foreign policy."

Murray told newsmen that if any of the left-wingers continued to defy CIO policy and refuse to quit the board he will ask the CIO convention in Cleveland Oct. 31 to remove them.

The CIO president was obviously elated by his smashing victory over the left-wingers at every turn in this week's session. He pointed out to newsmen that the 11 unions now constitute less than 10 percent of CIO's dues-paying membership.

Action Not "Purge"

He recalled that "when I took office along about 1940, the voting picture was quite different—it was about evenly divided (between right and left wings.)" Murray added:

"It is a Communistic situation and one that must be met and dealt with. I said it at the 1947 convention and, God willing, I'll say it again at the forthcoming Cleveland convention."

The resolution calling on left-wingers to resign from the executive board was tantamount to seeking their removal also from leadership in their own individual unions.

Murray pointed out that virtually all of the executive board members are presidents of their unions.

Murray insisted that the action "is not a purge" and explained that a man can be a member of the Communist party and the CIO executive board if he adheres to CIO policy. James B. Carey, CIO secretary-treasurer, interjected:

"He can be a Communist but he can't act like one."

House Group Says HST's Aide Can't Wear Argentine Medal

WASHINGTON, May 19. (AP) — With a stern rebuke to the Army, a House group refused today to let President Truman's military aide wear his controversial medal from Dictator Peron's Argentina.

If Washington generals don't have anything more important to do than worry about medals then they ought to be "sent out with the troops," said Rep. Vinson (D-Ga), chairman of the House Armed Services committee.

At Vinson's suggestion, a subcommittee voted unanimously to keep Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vanghan's medal on ice indefinitely. It did so by tabling a bill to let 67 Army officers accept 93 awards from 20 foreign governments.

When Vaughan was awarded the medal Feb. 4 at the Argentine embassy, it brought a campaign of criticism from Columnist Drew Pearson. Mr. Truman rushed to Vaughan's defense saying he was not going to fire any of his official family because some "S.O.B." makes a smart statement on the radio.

Assembly Cheers Dutra

Senators, representatives, cabinet members and robed justices of the Supreme court gave the Brazilian chief of state a standing ovation which for enthusiasm, has seldom been equaled on Capitol Hill.

Cheers and plaudits thundered in the House chamber as Mr. Truman strode forward to clasp Gen. Dutra's hand at the conclusion of the visiting president's address.

The soldier-president declared that, "in this moment fraught with ordeals for humanity," Brazil and the United States are united in the fight to spare the world "renewed bloodshed."

He said the two countries are working for peace and democracy with "perfect understanding" of each other's aims.

Tornadoes Again Hit Oklahoma

munities of Carthage, Webb City and Carl Junction.

In Oklahoma, where tornadoes have skipped for three nights in a row, prairie creeks and shallow rivers spilled their rain-swollen waters over the western flatlands.

The frenzied Washita river flooded an area 50 miles southwest of Oklahoma City. Fort Cobb and Anadarko were flooded half-a-story high and property damage was estimated at $1 million.

Heavy Rains Fall

The Fort Cobb area received a total of nine inches of rain—six inches in three hours. Norman and Purcell were warned of flood crests on the south Canadian.

At White Field, below the confluence of the north and south Canadian, residents were told to evacuate the river areas and remove their cattle.

Coyle and Perkins, neighboring towns, were flooded when a cloudburst dumped four inches of rain into the Cimarron river.

Red Cross workers said the entire business district of Coyle, population 500, was under water and that some 300 people were homeless.

The heavy rainfall swelled the Arkansas river to overflowing, flooding parts of Tulsa.

Tornado-battered Oklahoma was hit by four more twisters Wednesday night. One destroyed a hanger at the Hobart municipal airport.

Eight twisters peppered Texas last night and in Kellerville, tornadic winds uprooted trees, snapped utility lines and damaged homes. No deaths or injuries were reported.

'Roy Bean' Style Court Operated By Justice Of Peace

SAN ANTONIO, May 19. (INS) —"Jutice West of the Salado" is the order of the day northeast of San Antonio.

Judge Otto Marckwardt holds court out-doors sometimes. If the weather's bad he moves inside his wood-frame building several miles from San Antonio on the Austin highway.

Marckwardt is in his fourth term as judge of precinct number three. Last year he collected $6,000 in fines, more than the collections of any other justice of the peace in the area.

Marckwardt says that most of the fines are against transient violators, not residents.

Justice is swift and far from pompous.

Marckwardt tells the story of the time two couples, slightly inebriated, asked him to perform a double wedding.

They began arguing and one of the men swung at the other.

"I couldn't have anything like that going on, so I fined them all for disturbing the peace and sent them home," said the judge.

The judge's courtroom is 12 feet wide and 16 feet long, capable of holding 20 people. The jury sits on a long wooden bench.

A framed copy of Roy Bean occupies the place of honor on the wall behind the judge.

Signs on the front of the "courthouse" read, "Justice west of Salado" (creek), "Justice of the peace," "high constable," and "notary public."

New Mexico Opposes Expansion Of White Sands Proving Ground

SANTA FE, N. M., May 19. (INS) —New Mexico officials today accused the Defense department of creating a class of displaced persons in this state.

Attorney General Joe L. Martinez and Land Commissioner Guy Shepard also charged the Defense department with setting up "a new state or province within a state" in New Mexico.

These allegations were made in an amended answer filed by state officials in a suit to prevent the Defense department taking over additional land for the White Sands proving ground.

The land commissioner declared that the total acreage proposed to be taken in New Mexico is over four and one-half million acres, an area greater than the state of Rhode Island.

250,000 Persons Line Streets As New York Welcomes Gen. Clay

NEW YORK, May 19. (AP—Gen. Lucius D. Clay got a roaring hero's welcome today from 250,000 New Yorkers.

Ticker tape and torn paper floated down on the former American military governor of Germany as he rode up Broadway in an open car.

Police said a quarter of a million persons lined the route from the Battery to city hall, where Mayor William O'Dwyer offered the city's formal welcome to Clay.

Clay told an audience at the city hall plaza that "we could not and we did not" fail to meet the challenge offered by the Russians in the Berlin blockade.

President Truman honored Clay in Washington before the general came to New York last night.

SEAMAN'S FEUD STUDIED

AFL Leader Says Progress Made In Settling Canadian Dispute

CLEVELAND, May 19 (INS)—President William F. Green of the American Federation of Labor said today following a conference with Canadian union officials, that "progress has been made in settling our mutual problems."

Green, speaking at a news conference following the daily sessions of union AFL executive council in Cleveland, said both AFL and Canadian union officials arrived at the conclusion that "understanding and a co-operative relationship are necessary."

Dispute Is Studied

Although he said no specific action was taken at the afternoon-long conference, he added that the current jurisdiction battle between the AFL Seaman's union and the Canadian Seaman's union did come under discussion. He declared:

"The air now has been cleared and we both recognize the problems facing us. We are moving in the right direction."

Green conferred with Navy officials earlier in the day concerning common problems. No official action was taken at this conference either, he added. He pointed out, however, that the AFL "still is deeply interested in establishing and maintaining a strong national defense, with a powerful Navy as one of its components."

He said the executive council probably would wind up its sessions either tomorrow night or Saturday after taking action on pending resolutions.

Likely to come under scrutiny at final sessions, he said, are the Canadian jurisdictional problem and various phases of President Truman's legislative program, including minimum wages, housing and socialized medicine.

Survey Shows Over 16 Million Treated In U.S. Hospitals In '48

By PAUL F. ELLIS
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, May 19—More than 16,000,000 patients were treated in American hospitals during last year being admitted at a rate of one every 1.9 seconds, a survey showed today.

The length of stay per patient averaged 10.5 days, about a day less than in 1947, the survey also showed. In all, patient days in 6,335 hospitals added up to 445,428,364 days. Using a $10 a day for an average cost, hospitalization of the 16,422,774 patients probably cost around $4,500,000,000 during the year.

TB Hospitals Decrease

The survey, compiled and published by the American Medical association, further disclosed:

There are 1,423,520 hospital beds in the United States. That the average daily population in the hospitals is 1,217,154.

There are 664,399 persons in mental and nervous hospitals.

The number of tuberculosis hospitals is declining, an indication that more and more patients are being treated with streptomycin, reducing the necessity for hospitalization.

The use of hospitals for maternity care is increasing tremendously. During 1948, there were 2,794,261 hospital births as compared with 621,896 in 1929. The high mark, however, was set in 1947, with 2,837,139 hospital births.

Hospital 'Stay' Shortened

The trend for shorter hospital stay is continuing. In the government general hospitals, the average length of stay dropped from 9.15 days to 17.9 days in 1948. In the non-governmental general hospitals, the length of stay dropped from 8.7 days to 8.2 days.

The AMA reported that in the overall picture, the average length of hospital stay has dropped by 5.4 days in the last three years.

The survey further showed that the non-governmental hospitals, although having only 28.4 per cent of the hospital beds, admitted 12,132,283 patients during 1948. The governmental hospitals had 4,290,491 admissions, which included 428,932 in hospitals operated by the Veterans administration.

UAW, Deere Harvester Company Continue Contract Negotiations

MOLINE, Ill., May 19 (INS) — Contract negotiations between the CIO-United Auto workers and Deere Harvester works continued today as the number of men who have left jobs at the company's East Moline plant mounted to 400.

The union's contract which covers 15,000 employes in seven Deere plants in Illinois and Iowa expired two weeks ago. No actual strike has been called, but votes authorizing a strike have been taken in all the plants.

Negotiations in the dispute, which centers around piece rate prices, have been deadlocked since last March 23.

Neither the union or Deere Harvester would comment on the work stoppage at the East Moline plant. Neither was there any indication of how the negotiations are progressing.

Edward Pringle and Edward Jackson, federal mediators, have been sitting in on the talks in an effort to break the deadlock.

Professor Urges Courses In Adult Psychology For 'Bad Boys'

DETROIT, May 19 (AP)—Neighbors wouldn't complain so much about the boys in the neighborhood if the youths were given a course in adult psychology, according to a Wayne University professor.

William W. Wattenberg, associate professor of educational psychology, says that "some boys get in trouble over and over again, not so much because of what they do, but because they rub adults the wrong way."

After conducting research for a booklet on juvenile problems, Wattenberg said that some cases of "delinquency merely represents adult reaction to a youngster rather than the actual behavior of the youth.

"When a boy has a bad reputation or has created a poor impression, subsequent acts which might be excused in a 'good' child may be more noticed by adults . . . and be treated more seriously," the professor said.

Man Blocked In Attempt To Evade Fort Worth Hotel Bill

FORT WORTH, May 19 (INS)—A Fort Worth man in skipping out of a hotel skipped right into jail.

The 24-year-old man, three suitcases in hand, recently went through a window of his hotel room at 4 a.m. hoping to skip paying his bill.

His weight was too much for the fire escape ladder. It came off the supporting pulleys and clattered to the sidewalk.

Startled neighbors, awakened by the noise, phoned police. The skipper, a few minutes later, was arrested at a bus station.

Mexican Man Is Beheaded By Passenger Train Near Uvalde

UVALDE, May 19 (AP)—A 26-year-old Mexican identified as Trinidad Camacho was beheaded early today by a speeding Southern Pacific passenger train.

His 17-year-old companion, Leo Bravo Jiminez, said they lay down to sleep beside the track and that Camacho, awakened by the approaching train, sat upright and the overhanging section of the train struck his head.

Jiminez told officers that he and Camacho had slipped into this country illegally from Mexico and planned to walk to San Antonio.

Hollywood Takes Spotlight In France

Jennifer Jones, David Selznick Arrive For European Tour

By CHARLES A. SMITH
INS Staff Correspondent

CANNES, May 19 — The arrival today of beauteous Jennifer Jones and star-maker David Selznick at the finish line of the Aly Kahn-Rita Hayworth odyssey, makes is possible to say now that the season is officially open on Hollywood's roving romances.

Producer Selznick and the heart-faced actress, on a leisurely tour of France and Italy, confirmed rumors that they will marry sometime before sailing homeward at Christmas time.

Want Quiet Wedding

Like Aly and Rita, David and Jennie want a very quiet, very private wedding.

"We sort of regard ourselves as a plain ordinary couple wanting to get married without any fuss," said Selznick, taking the words right out of Aly Kahn's mouth.

In Paris a ministry of Justice official threw cold water all over Aly's plan to be married at home. French law decrees the civil ceremony must be performed in the town hall and dispensation is given only to the dying.

To Ban Newsmen

As an old combat man and headquarters staffer with the French, British and American armies during the war, Aly dusted off his best ccionel's manner and tactics today and arranged for his wedding to be covered like D-day.

Correspondents will be screened, and issued identification badges.

On the 27th they will be briefed by Miss Hayworth's business manager and Aly's man Friday, Lee Elroy, between the wedding and the reception.

Photographers will be allowed to take an official snap of them on the terrace. A world "pool" photographer as yet not selected will take pictures for general release during the wedding and the festivities. And a personal friend of the bride and groom, Helen Morgan of Hollywood, will represent the correspondents at both civil and Moslem ceremonies.

"This is a private wedding and those invited are restricted to our friends who are guests from many parts of the world including India," said the prince, confirming reports that several eastern potentates will be among those present. "Naturally we can't have the press charging around the chateau upsetting everyone."

The Indian government plans a bicycle factory to produce 2,000 bikes a day.

SERVICES ARE SET

DALLAS, May 19 (AP)—Funeral services will be held at Duncanville tomorrow for Clyde Arthur Jay of Duncanville, vice president and general manager of the Dallas Industrial Service, Inc., and executive vice-president of the Texas Industrial conference. Jay, who helped organize and establish the Southwest Vocational school here, died yesterday at his home following several weeks' illness.

Two Persons Claimed By Polio At Austin

AUSTIN, May 19 (AP)—Two persons died of polio at a local hospital today, bringing Austin's death total for this disease to four this year.

The victims were John David Schmid, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Schmid, and Aubrey Leon Carter, jr., 25, senior geology student at the University of Texas from Houston.

The Schmid child entered the hospital Tuesday and was placed in an iron lung yesterday.

Carter had been in an iron lung about a week.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Leon Carter, sr., of Houston and one brother, Thomas L. Carter, also a student at the university.

Half-Price Customer Sends Theater 'Conscience' Payment

TAYLORSVILLE, Ill., May 19 (AP) — Dominic Frisina, theater owner, received a letter containing a $5 bill and the following unsigned note:

"Sir: this money is in payment for the times I misrepresented my age in order to see the show for half-price. This just about covers the amount I owe you."

Frisina said if the writer identifies himself, he will be given theater passes worth $5 as a reward for his honesty.

Franchot Tone Prepares For Flying Trip To Paris To Close Deal For French Light Opera

(Louella O. Parsons is on special assignment in Europe, and will be away for a few weeks. During her absence, her column will be conducted by Dorothy Manners).

By DOROTHY MANNERS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, May 19.—Franchot Tone and Jean Wallace, who have been sulking around Hollywood trying to make up their minds whether or not to make up, ought to decide. Franchot is set for a flying trip back to Paris to close a deal for "La Vie Parisienne," one of the great French light operas.

Tone, and his producing partner, Irving Allen will definitely produce the glamorous musical in France within the year. When the Offenbach opera was first produced in the last century, men and women stormed the Palais Royale theater on the premiere night carrying stars and authors about on their shoulders.

One of the most important reasons for Franchot's trip is to try to talk ballet stars Alicia Markova and Anton Dolin into doing the elaborate ballet sequence in the film.

Singer Changes Mind

After swearing he never again wanted to sing on the screen, Dick Powell has changed his mind. He not only warbles in "Mrs. Mike," but he is now scouting around for a full-length musical.

It must be driving him crazy sitting around listening to the disc jockeys plugging "I've Got My Love To Keep Me Warm," and "I Only Have Eyes For You"—or had you forgotten that Richard introduced both these hits years ago?

The musical he really wants to get his hands on is "Wunderbar" which Al Jolson and Dick made a long time ago for Warners.

'Detective' Gets Part

Jack Webb, who plays "Pat Novak, Detective" on the air and scares me out of my wits Sunday nights, takes another whirl into the movies. He's been assigned the part of Bill Holden's pal in "Sunset Boulevard" for Brackett and Wilder on the Paramount lot.

Webb's voice has been described as the "most softly horrifying" on the radio—but he doesn't want to carry that over to his screen work. He didn't in "He Walked By Night," his first movie.

Martha Raye 'Banned'

Just as everybody was getting excited about Kirk Douglas and Gloria De Haven, he shows up with Patricia Neal at the Bantam Cock.

When Martha Raye's first for Discovery records, "Ooh, Doctor Kinsey" was banned from the radio, she took great care in selecting her second "Miss Otis Regrets." This Cole Porter elegantoldie has been banned by four major networks for the past 16 years!

Mark Robson was offered $30,000 straight salary to direct "Champion," or a percentage. He settled for the cut which will net him roughly about four times what his salary would have been.

Al Teitelbaum contributed a broadtail coat trimmed in ermine for Loretta Young's pet charity project—the St. Anne's auction at the Goldenberg galleries on June 14.

Helen Gilbert was dining with Sir Charles Hubbard, British five-and-dime heir, when her about-to-be ex John Valentine, walked in with Ann Sterling.

Singer To Return

Tina Rome who wowed 'em in London when she introduced "Nature Boy," is coming here for Samuel Fuller's "Baron Of Arizona," her first movie fling.

Mary K. Dodson, the soo attractive Paramount designer, won't say whether her Paris dinner dates with Anatole Litvak were on the serious side or not Dimitri Tiomkin's magnificent scoring of "Champion" is getting special reviews from music critics who seldom stoop to the lowly cinema.

The Nelson Eddys are in Santa Barbara for a week.

A famous comic (not Milton Berle) has been told to take it easy because of a serious heart condition.

Love that Bill Boyd. After thrilling Tod Faulkner's 750 Signal hill kids out of their boots two weeks ago, he played a repeat with his boss, last Saturday.

A toy balloon released at Sadbury, England, recently reached Tournai, Belgium.

Santa Fe Group To Remove Billboards, 'Restore' Scenery

SANTA FE, N M., May 19. (INS)—It may be that New Mexicans will get a chance to take a passing look at their famous scenery again.

In Santa Fe, members of the Automobile Dealers' association have agreed to tear down all their billboards on approaches to the the "city different."

"We found we like to look at the scenery too," a spokesman for the association said.

Kansas Gas Field May Eventually Have 4,000 Wells, Official Says

WASHINGTON, May 19. (AP)—The huge Hugoton, Kan., gas field may have an estimated 4,000 wells before it is fully developed, Jett A. Robertson, chairman of the Kansas Corporation commission, said today.

Approximately 1,600 wells have already been drilled.

Robertson, who appeared before a Senate Interstate Commerce subcommittee yesterday in behalf of legislation prohibiting the Federal Power commission from taking jurisdiction over gathering and production of gas by independents, said in a statement.

"Gas from this field is now serving homes and factories in many states, west to Denver, north to Minneapolis, east to Pittsburgh and Detroit.

"We are presently permitting, under our conservation laws, the withdrawal of approximately 700,000,000 cubic feet a day. The best available estimates of markets to be supplied in the future indicate that the daily withdrawal will exceed 1,000,000,000 cubic feet."

Even at this increased rate of withdrawal, he said, deliveries can be maintained for more than 20 years.

They will go south on Ave. G to Seventeenth; east on Seventeenth to Ave. A; south on Ave. A to Slaton highway; east on Slaton highway to the curve, and will return by the same route. They will operate from 6:25 a. m. to 9:25 a. m. and from 12:55 p. m. to 6:55 p. m.

State Asked To Grant Property Tax Remissions To Amarillo

AUSTIN, May 19 (AP)—The state asked today to grant property tax remissions to Amarillo to help the city repair damage from a tornado which struck May 15.

Rep. Blake Timmons of Amarillo received permission to introduce the bill in the House.

Timmons estimated that the remissions would provide $125,000 from Potter county and $15,000 from Randall county next year. The funds would be split so that $38,875 would go to the city, $31,375 to the school district, $62,750 to Potter county and $7,500 to Randall county.

The remissions would be granted from the present time until Jan. 31, 1951.

Wichita Falls Woman Artist Dies After Prolonged Illness

WICHITA FALLS, May 19 (AP)—Mrs. Polly Hoffman, 59, widely known as a painter and wife of Luther Hoffman, attorney, died today at her home. She had been ill several months.

A native of Bryan, Mrs. Hoffman taught at the College of Industrial Arts (now Texas State College for Women) at Denton before her marriage in 1917. She exhibited her work many times with the Texas Fine Arts association and the Southern States Art league.

New Wood County Oil Field Indicated

TYLER, May 19. (AP)—The ninth oil field for Wood county and the fifth pool to be discovered by Bobby Manziel, Tyler independent operator, was indicated today.

Recovery of an estimated 30 to 40 barrels hourly by swabbing was made from the No. 1 Maude Thompson, two miles northwest of Mineola in the Swanson Yarbrough survey.

The discovery now gives every major town in Wood county a nearby oil field. Mineola, largest city in the county, was without a nearby pool until the new discovery.

Production was through perforations in the sub-Clarksville between 4,692-704 and 4,712-24 feet. There was no water after wash water was removed.

The well, originally drilled to the Woodbine formation, which tested dry, was plugged back to the sub-Clarksville. It had been shut in for about two weeks.

Manziel is installing a pumping unit preparatory to completion of the well. He also is moving equipment onto the second location for the new area, on the W. D. Cain farm north of the discovery well.

Nuernberg Trials Seen As Basis For Justice In World Relations

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Brig. Gen. Telford Taylor, chief American prosecutor at the Nuernberg trials of Nazi war criminals, assails in the following signed article the contention that the proceedings "established a dangerous precedent." The soldier-jurist, now in Washington to write an analysis of the trials for the Army, emphasizes that the United States and the other participating powers now are "deeply committed to the standards and principles enforced" at Nuernberg. This, however, he says, need alarm no American "as long as our country retains its freedom." He terms Nuernberg a precedent which will be welcomed by all who believe in "world order under the rule of law.")

By BRIG. GEN. TELFORD TAYLOR
(Written Exclusively for International News Special Service)

WASHINGTON, May 19 — The last Nuernberg judgment, handed down a few weeks ago, focussed public attention once more on the principles and purposes of the war crimes trials. Except at occasions especially dramatic moments, the Nuernberg trials have not proved particularly "good copy," partly because the average American likes to look toward a cheerful future rather than brood over disagreeable memories and partly because his attention has been increasingly concentrated on the new tensions generated by the East-West split.

So few people will regret that the Nuernberg trials have ended, and many will find it easy to forget them entirely. And yet I venture to predict that as time goes on we will all hear more about Nuernberg rather than less, and that in a very real sense the conclusion of the trials marks the beginning and not the end, of Nuernberg as a force in politics, law and morals.

Rulings Live On

For the Nuernberg trials, like all judicial trials, must be something more than an episode—they must be part of a process. Nuernberg was part of the process of enforcing law—law that long antedated the trials, and that will endure into the future; law that binds not only Germans and Japanese, but all men. As the Nuernberg tribunal itself declared in the last judgment:

"We may not, in justice, apply to these defendants because they are German, standards of duty and responsibility which are not equally applicable to the officials of the allied powers and to those of all nations. Nor should Germans be convicted for acts or conduct which, if committed by Americans, British, French or Russians would not subject them to legal trial and conviction."

By undertaking to judge and punish Germans at Nuernberg, the United States and other participating governments are deeply committed to the standards and principles which were enforced there. And it is awareness of this fact which lies at the root of the controversies engendered by Nuernberg—controversies which, I believe, are largely based on misunderstandings and which often open with the mark that "Neurnberg has established a dangerous precedent."

As a rule, these anxieties spring from the notion that at Nuernberg the Nazi diplomats were punished for drafting notes, the generals for making military plans, and the business men for manufacturing war materials — things that were done by our own diplomats and generals and business men. But a glance at the Nuernberg records and judgments will at once dispel these illusory fears, and the only real problem is how to make people generally aware of the true facts.

Action Not Unusual

No Neurnberg defendant was accused or convicted merely because he held a high position or performed a particular function, but only upon a showing that he used or abused his position, authority, or skill in a criminal manner.

American doctors do not perform stupid and murderous medical experiments on unwilling human guinea pigs; American business men do not engage in rounding up millions of foreign civilians, deporting them thousands of miles and setting them to forced labor under inhumane conditions; American generals and diplomats do not participate in the extermination of racial and religious minorities.

But it was these and other such acts that underlie the Nuernberg judgments, and the only precedent that Nuernberg has established is that these crimes may be punished by internationally-constituted courts. It is a precedent that need alarm no American as long as our country retains its freedom, and our government maintains its devotion to humanitarianism and the cause of peace. It is a precedent which will be welcomed by all who believe that peace and human dignity will find their surest guarantees in the establishment of "world order under the rule of law."

Howard Rites To Be Held Here Saturday

Funeral services for James D. Howard, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Howard of 1916 Eighth, will be held Saturday at 3 p. m. in the First Baptist church with Rev. J. Ralph Grant officiating.

HOWARD

Howard died at 11:30 p. m. Tuesday night in a Columbia, Miss. hospital. He had received a fractured skull in an automobile accident near Columbia Saturday night. He failed to regain consciousness before he died. His body is being sent overland and will arrive at the Bryan McDonald and Son funeral home early Saturday morning.

Howard was employed by the United Geophysical company in Columbia at the time of the accident. He graduated from Lubbock High school in 1944. Following his graduation, Howard served in the U. S. Navy for a short period. He attended Texas Tech during the 1947-48 school year.

Survivors include, besides his parents, one sister, Mrs. Louise Chapman of 3108 Twenty-ninth. Burial will be in the Lubbock Memorial cemetery under the direction of the Bryan McDonald and Son funeral home.

Men Who Helped Rescue Kathy To Get From $200 To $1,500

SAN MARINO, Calif., May 19 (AP)—The men who dug for little Kathy Fiscus will get from $200 to $1,500 for their heroism. And the money will be theirs to do with what they wish.

Those points stood out today after a meeting of some 40 of these rescuers to air a few gripes and discuss publicly-subscribed funds of nearly $44,000 which is awaiting distribution.

The fund committee announced yesterday that 111 men had been named to share the pennies and dollars sent in by a grateful nation. The world waited through two agonizing days and nights last month before three-year-old Kathy was brought up dead from a 120 foot abandoned well into which she had fallen while at play.

Large Shipment Of Guinea Pigs Arrives In Japan From U. S.

TOKYO, May 19 (INS)—The first of 10,000 guinea pigs arrived in Tokyo from the United States today.

The 2,400 squealing little animals comprising today's shipment arrived on a chartered plane which also carried 6,000 pounds of fresh cabbage to feed the pigs en route.

Japan's supply of guinea pigs had been exhausted. The new supply was ordered for testing Japanese-made biologics after 64 youngsters died and 900 developed severe reactions out of 7,500 children innoculated in Kyoto against diphtheria.

One-Third In Survey Indicate Dissatisfaction With Housing

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute Of Public Opinion

Princeton, N. J., May 19—With the House scheduled to start debate soon on the bill for Federal aid to housing, a national survey on housing needs and attitudes among home owners and renters brings out the following points:

1. Approximately one-fifth of the families questioned say they would move tomorrow if they could, while another 13 percent say that their present housing situation is not satisfactory but will do for a year or so.

2. The remaining two-thirds of those questioned say that they have no intention of moving.

3. In larger cities, those with 500,000 population or more, half of the persons questioned indicated dissatisfaction in some degree with their present housing, while the other half indicated no desire to move.

4. Persons in the younger age groups, those under 30 years of age, show the greatest dissatisfaction with their housing and the greatest urge to move.

The survey, conducted by the American Institute of Public Opinion asked persons from all walks of life throughout the 48 states: "How do you feel about your present housing situation?" Each person was then handed a card asking him to state which of the items on the card most closely described his own housing situation.

The items on the card and the vote follow:

A. I'd move tomorrow if I could	21%
B. It isn't very satisfactory, but will do me for a year or so	13
C. At present I have no intention of moving	66

The survey results are subject to the margin of error found in all sampling surveys, which has averaged 4 percentage points over a 13-year period in election forecasting.

A total of 1 percent in today's survey said that their present housing situation did not fall into any of the three categories shown on the card. They are not included in the present tabulation.

A sharp contrast in attitude between owners and renters is seen in the following tabulation:

	Tomorrow	Tempo-rarily Satisfied	Satisfied
Owners	6%	6%	88%
Renters	37	21	42

These results do not necessarily mean that 58 percent of renters are suffering because of the shortage of housing. Many other factors enter into the situation besides inadequate size of living quarters. These other factors would include dissatisfaction with the neighborhood, living too far away from place of work, inability to pay present rent, dissatisfaction with the service or upkeep provided by the building owners, desire to own a home, etc.

The survey results differ markedly by size of community and by age groups, as follows:

	Tomorrow	Tempo-rarily Satisfied	Satisfied
By Size of Town
Farms	8%	8%	84%
Under 10,000	15	13	72
10,000 - 100,000	22	15	63
100,000 - 500,000	22	15	63
500,000 & Over	35	15	50
By Age
21-29	27	18	55
30 - 49	22	15	63
50 & Over	14	9	77

Contrast With England

A similar survey was conducted in England last March by the British Institute of Public Opinion. The British results compare closely with those of the United States, as the following table shows:

ENGLAND

I'd move tomorrow if I could	21%
Unsatisfactory but will do for a year or so	16
No intention of moving	63

Betty Hutton To Replace Judy Garland In Expensive Movie

HOLLYWOOD, May 19 (INS) — Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio decided today to scrap $1,250,000 worth of camera work on the musical extravaganza "Annie Get Your Gun" and substitute actress Betty Hutton for Judy Garland.

Production of the expensive musical comedy was shut down last week when Judy refused to report for work. The star was immediately placed on suspension.

Miss Hutton was borrowed by M-G-M from its rival company, Paramount pictures, for the coveted part in the multi-million dollar musical.

Judy Garland, one of M-G-M's brightest stars, was placed on suspension for a month when she failed to return to the set from lunch. No future plans have been announced for the actress.

TRIAL AGAIN POSTPONED

VAN HORN, May 19 (AP)—County Judge James A. Terrell has granted another postponment, this time to June 16, in the trial of Alvin Logan. The Greyhound bus driver is charged with aggravated assault with a motor vehicle. The charges grew out of a Feb. 2 auto-bus crash near here in which golfer Ben Hogan was injured.

Center Man Released On Bond $1,000 After Negro Is Shot

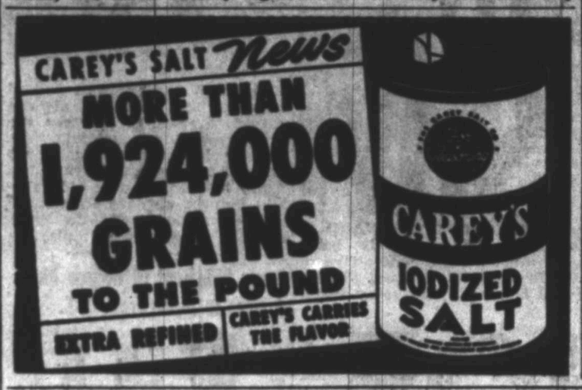

CARTHAGE, May 19 (AP)—Chic Pipes, Center, pulpwood hauler charged in the shotgun slaying of a Carthage negro, has been released on $1,000 bond.

Panola County Sheriff Corbett Aikin said the negro, John L. Thomas, 22, driver of one of Pipes' trucks, was killed Tuesday night by a shotgun blast fired from an auto containing four white men.

He said Pipes was charged last night, and made bond.

Aikin gave this account: Pipes reported a fight to city officers. E. E. Henry, policeman; Thomas Birmingham, nightwatchman; Pipes, and service station operator Bill Barnett, got in an auto. The sheriff said they told him they found the negro on the roadside, the city officers called on Thomas to halt, but he began running backward and turned as if to make a break; then the shot was fired.

Government Rests Case In Conspiracy Trial Of 11 U. S. Communists; Defendant Charges 'Frame Up'

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 19.—The government rested its case today in the 18-week old conspiracy trial of the nation's 11 top-ranking Communist officials and one of the defendants charged a "frame-up" during the tumultuous session.

The dispute between the bench and the defense lawyers became so bitter that presiding Judge Harold R. Medina abruptly called a five minute recess.

Charges Are Hurled

Medina accused one of the defense lawyers of "insulting conduct" and was charged himself with being "unfair and prejudiced."

During the angry exchange, Eugene Dennis, national secretary of the Communist party and one of the defendants, jumped up and shouted:

"The government has no case. It has only a frame-up case. What is happening here should not be permitted in the United States."

The prosecution's decision was announced in New York's federal court after the defense had finished its cross-examination of the 13th government witness.

He is Balmes Hidalgo, jr., a bank clerk and FBI undercover agent in the party.

Directed Verdict Sought

United States Attorney John F. X. McGohey arose and announced: "The government rests."

Medina agreed to hear defense motions tomorrow.

The defense said it will ask a directed verdict of tcquittal for the Communist national board members.

They will contend the defendants have the constitutional right to preach revolution and that their stand was upheld by a decision of the United States supreme court this week.

The defense will ask also that the testimony of all FBI undercover agents presented during the trial be stricken from the record.

Tahoka Student Is Given Scholarship Award At Baylor

WACO, May 19 (Special)—Miss Eudania McCormick, Baylor senior student from Tahoka, was recently named winner of Baylor 1914 Class scholarship.

In naming Miss McCormick, the selecting committee said that its decision was based on general superiority of character, scholarship, and student activities.

Miss McCormick, a drama major and member of the Peer, Neophyte, and West Texas clubs, plans to enter professional art on graduation.

The scholarship, which is awarded annually, consists of the income from a gift of the Class of 1914, and covers one year's college tuition.

MOP, SWEET MOP—For a while there seemed to be a question of who would get the mop—the people who owned it or the robin who built a nest on it. But the Columbus, O., family moved away and left the mop. So Mrs. Robin is all set. And she even has the blessings of the new tenant, Mrs. Ralph Kaminsky.

Korea Requests American Arms

SEOUL, May 19 (INS)—The South Korean government declared today that the United States has an "obligation" to supply South Korea with at least as much arms as Russia is allegedly providing North Korea.

Foreign Minister Ben C. Limb and Defense Minister Shin Sung Mo said in a joint statement that "according to dependable information" Russia has agreed to supply arms to the "puppet government" of Communist-controlled North Korea.

The statement said the Soviets will completely arm six divisions of infantry and three divisions of motorized troops, provide 20 patrol boats (fast destroyers), 100 fighters, 20 bombers and 100 reconnaissance planes, and fully arm the North Korean police.

The ministers added that the United States "should at least provide corresponding measures for the republic of Korea."

They sought support for the demand by citing that the United States made the 38th parallel boundary with Russia, dividing north and south Korea, and "therefore the United States must feel the responsibility of guaranteeing protection" before withdrawing its occupation troops from South Korea.

At the same time Foreign Minister Limb sent a letter to Henri Constilhes of France, chairman of the United Nations commission for Korea, protesting a rumored commission plan to arrange a meeting between leaders of North Korea and South Korea in an attempt to work out a way of unifying the country.

Michigan State has three national collegiate champions and six members of last year's U. S. Olympic team gracing its lineups in various sports.

Gene Bearden of the Indians beat every American League team except the Yankees as a freshman pitcher last season. The Yankees topped him twice.

Fort Worth Residents And Officials Turn To Task Of Cleaning Up After Waters Subside

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

FORT WORTH, May 19—All Fort Worth needs is a good bath.

That's the cry of the day: "I need a bath."

There's no discouragement in this spunky city. The big flood this week that drowned 10 persons, left 13,200 temporarily homeless and wreaked $5,000,000 to $25,000,000 in property damage is over.

Downtown Fort Worth buzzed with activity today. Stores were crowded.

Relief Setup Underway

Relief was functioning smoothly. Water was being doled out to thousands at 44 stations throughout the city. Fort Worth waits now only for restoration of its crippled water supply—and a full tub.

Amon G. Carter, Fort Worth publisher and "Mr. Fort Worth," to Texans, said: "The Texas spirit of our people is undaunted. They have accepted their losses philosophically. The flood was a bad break. But better breaks are on the way."

Carter slapped at telegrams and mail piled a foot high all across his big desk and went on:

"We have plenty of friends. Other cities are wanting to organize campaigns to help us. Well, we don't need organized aid. But checks and clothing are coming from individuals over the country and we are accepting—and will continue to accept—such contributions with gratitude.

Industrial Losses Heavy

"Fort Worth, in this pinch, can take care of its own. But Fort Worth has given help to others in the past and will itself accept help now that it can use it.

"Outside of the water problem, most of Fort Worth was not affected by the flood. The greatest distress is in the loss of lives, homes and personal belongings. The greatest financial loss was to industries and businesses.

"But on the basis of population, not more than two or three percent of Fort Worth's citizens were touched by this disaster. It is true that 10 percent of the Fort Worth area was inundated—but it was a sparsely-settled area.

Fund Is Boosted

"Folks who weren't hit are helping folks who were. That's the way Fort Worth does things. It's still the best city in this country."

Carter's Star-Telegram is sponsoring a relief fund that already has reached $25,000 and is expected to go over $100,000. Sid Richardson, Fort Worth oil man, contributed $10,000 of the fund and Carter another $10,000. Jesse Jones of Houston gave $2,500 and Fred Florence, Dallas banker, $1,000.

"Everything is under control," W. O. Jones, tough, square-jawed city manager said. "Barring accidents, we'll have our water supply completely normal by Saturday morning. We are really cleaning up the flooded area and rehabilitation will come later. The Red Cross and Salvation Army, Carswell Air Base, National Guardsmen, city employes and others have done a wonderful job.

RIO PACT NATIONS SEEK 'ASSURANCES'

U.S. Urged By Cuban Ambassador To Supplement Hemispheric Defense Treaty With Arms Clause

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Cuban ambassador to Washington urges in the following signed article that the United States supplement the Rio De Janeiro Hemispheric Defense treaty with an arms clause such as is now being considered for western Europe. Ambassador Oscar Gans proposes, too, the adoption of a "little Marshall plan" to bolster the economies of the Latin-American nations as part of an overall plan for forging a democratic chain of mutual aid pacts against possible aggression. The ambassador emphasizes that the Rio pact nations are as strongly committed in the cold war as the members of the North Atlantic alliance but lack the economic and arms assurances given the European countries.

By OSCAR GANS

(Written Expressly for INS)

WASHINGTON, May 19—Soviet expansion suffered a far-reaching setback in the Latin-American view when the Rio De Janeiro Mutual Defense treaty was broadened and strengthened by the North Atlantic alliance.

The two pacts, plus President Truman's statement to Greece and Turkey that their security is assured by the Atlantic pact, lines up 34 North and South American, European and Near East countries pledged to resist aggression mutually.

Cuba Plays Vital Part

The keynote of this epoch-making merging of old Europe and the New World in a sole, interlocked, sinewy security system—the first in all history—is fittingly: an attack against one is an attack against all.

Cuba played a vital part in drafting the Rio treaty and the Bogota charter, which served to formalize a succession of inter-American treaties based on community of interests and the solidarity of the western hemisphere.

At Rio, it is worth recalling, the American republics sketched a map of their security zone that extends from Greenland to the South Pole. The nations of the western hemisphere pledged themselves then to act in concert if an outside aggressor should launch an attack on any one of them.

Treaties Are Similar

Now let us take a brief look at the North Atlantic pact which was signed by twelve nations, including the U. S., in Washington.

Under Article 3 of the North Atlantic pact, the parties agree to pledge themselves to "self-help and mutual aid" in maintaining and developing their capacity to resist attack.

Provisions for co-operative aid, acording to individual constitutional processes and meetings of consultation by the twenty-one foreign ministers, under the Rio document and under the North Atlantic alliance by the twelve foreign ministers in the event of aggression.

Security Zones Defined

In case of an attack by one American state upon another, the Rio treaty calls for immediate consultation by the twenty-one foreign ministers.

Both defensive treaties carve out definite security zones. What is highly significant, however—insofar as the U. S. is concerned—is that these security zones overlap.

Hence, if the U. S. is attacked by an overseas power, if her territory is violated, if her aircraft or naval or merchant vessels are bombed or torpedoed, compelling her to mobilize her tremendous forces and dynamic power for defense, Cuba and the other American republics—gearing their combined efforts with the eleven other North Atlantic nations—will spring to the defense of their ally.

Pacts Act Simultaneously

Thereupon both the Rio and North Atlantic pacts simultaneously come into action. Consequently to all intents and purposes they are one.

But let us suppose another case. Let us suppose that Denmark is the target of an aggressor. Immediately the U. S. would be compelled to react under the North Atlantic pact since "an attack upon one is an attack upon all."

Note in this connection that Greenland lies within the security zone demarcated by both the Rio and North Atlantic pacts and that Greenland is a Danish possession.

In this connection, let us further recall the circumstances under which Denmark finally decided to join the North Atlantic alliance.

Danes Approve Action

The Danish decision to participate in the North Atlantic treaty followed a five-day visit of foreign minister Rasmussen to Washington in mid-March. The Danish parliament approved the action March 25, after Rasmussen had assured it that no foreign bases would be established in Denmark under the treaty.

But Rasmussen added most pointedly — and this is the crux of my thesis— that both treaties supplement each other and coalesce. The defense of Greenland would become of interest to all the North Atlantic powers instead of to the U. S. alone.

In its white paper of January 29, which Soviet Russia in substance memorialized to the U. S., Great Britain, France, Canada and the Benelux countries, it was charged that "both as regards its aggressive aims this treaty (North Atlantic) . . . contradicts the principles and aims of the United Nations organization."

This charge is flagrantly unfounded. The size and extent of regionalism are not defined in the UN charter. Since the Rio treaty and the Bogota charter are faithful to the UN, so is the North Atlantic alliance. And the conclusion is inescapable: the Rio treaty and the North Atlantic alliance are in effect a single, extended, widely-embracing political, economic and military union of free states in the western world.

Let us now return to Article 3 of the North Atlantic treaty. It pledges the signatories to "effective self-help and mutual aid" in order to develop and maintain capacity to resist attack. The U. S. has based its $1,130,000,000 arms program on that clause.

Arms Clause Urged

Latin-American nations, while realizing U. S. obligations in Europe, believe that Soviet Russia's first staggering setback was the Rio conference in September 1947.

That is why the Soviet radio fulminanted so bitterly against it at the time. The magnificent Berlin airlift was proof of the determination of the western nations not to abandon the German capital. The North Atlantic pact followed the Marshall plan. Europe was saved. Even Tito rebelled against the Kremlin.

The time has come, I believe, to mend democratic fences in the western hemisphere: to draft an arms clause as an amendment to the Rio treaty; and to bulwark the Bogota charter by an ECA clause for Central and South America. The Inter-American Economic conference slated for Buenos Aires later this year will offer an excellent occasion for bolstering the economics of the Latin-American countries who are now hitless "arsenals" in defense of the West.

INDIAN POSTAL REPORT

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—With only 10 per cent of her 325 million people literate, India in 1948 handled 226,300,000 letters and post cards. Indian post offices sold stamps and stationery last year to the value of 46 million dollars.

Bill Allowing Army Men To Accept Foreign Medals Is Tabled

WASHINGTON, May 19. (AP)—Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, the President's top military aide, will have to wait awhile longer to wear the highly-publicized medal he received from Argentina.

A House Armed Services subcommittee voted unanimously today to table a bill which would have let him and 15 other Army officers accept decorations of the Order of General San Martin from the Argentine government.

It was Vaughan's medal that indirectly touched off President Truman's now-famous "S.O.B." remark. Columnist Drew Pearson criticized Vaughan for accepting a medal from President Peron whom Pearson described as a totalitarian dictator.

That brought a retort from Mr. Truman that he wasn't going to let any "S.O.B." tell him whom he should name to government posts.

PROPOSAL THROWS MEETING INTO NOISY UPROAR

Southern Baptist Convention Defeats Attempt To Bar Affiliation With Federal Council Of Churches

By HOWARD COWAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 19—An unsuccessful attempt to bar Baptists from affiliation with the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America today threw the Southern Baptist convention into a noisy uproar.

Dr. E. P. Alldredge, Nashville, Tenn., started the ruckus.

Convention officials privately blamed Dr. J. Frank Norris, head of a minority faction which is in simultaneous session.

Amendment Tabled

Stray cries of "throw him out" echoed across the municipal auditorium as Alldredge stood on the platform, clamoring for a vote on his proposed amendment to the convention's constitution.

It would have prohibited any Baptist connected with the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, directly or indirectly, from serving on any board, agency or institution sponsored by the Southern Baptists.

The amendment finally was tabled at the request of Dr. Robert G. Lee, Memphis, Tenn., the convention president, on a voice vote. There was little opposition.

Federal Council Blasted

During the debate that followed it developed that Baptist churches in the District of Columbia, affiliated with the Southern Baptist convention, also are affiliated with the Northern Baptist convention.

The Northern Baptist convention is affiliated with the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

The Federal council itself wasn't discussed on the convention floor. Norris lambasted it in his meeting last night as an organization "whose purpose is to permeate our institutions with modernism."

Church modernists were described as those who question the Bible.

Dr. Louie D. Newton, Atlanta, and immediate past president of the convention, identified Alldredge as a "paid servant" of the only agency in the Southern Baptist convention affiliated with the Federal council.

The convention unanimously elected Dr. Lee to another one-year term as president.

Nominated for the two vice president posts were Dr. Homer G. Lindsey, Jacksonville, Fla.; Dr. E. Herman Westmoreland, Houston; Dr. J. D. Grey, New Orleans, and U. S. Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla).

Results of the balloting were not announced immediately.

Glorietta, N. M., won out over Harrison, Ark., as the site for a new summer camp the Baptists plan to establish in 1951.

Austin Cancer Victim Now Able To Speak Without Vocal Cords

AUSTIN, May 19 (INS)—"Butch" Archer was afflicted with a cancerous larynx. He fought the cancer—and won.

To win, he had to learn to speak again without his vocal cords or voice box. Now as appeals examiner for the Texas Employment commission in Austin, W. E. "Butch" Archer literally talks for a living.

He speaks by breathing in air through a hole in his throat and forming words with that breath as it is exhaled.

An operation successfully removed Archer's larynx. It saved him from death.

Operation Performed

He could communicate only by signs and writing just after the delicate operation. Then he heard of a Victoria doctor who had undergone an operation which allowed him to swallow air and exhale it suddenly in words.

"Butch" underwent the same operation and today explains the Texas employment law to witnesses in spite of the absence of his voice box and his vocal cords and the necessity of his breathing through a hole in his neck.

Folks who don't know him think he just has a bad cold or a sore throat.

Fellow employes of the Texas employment commission recently declared a "Butch Archer" day in honor of the spunky examiner.

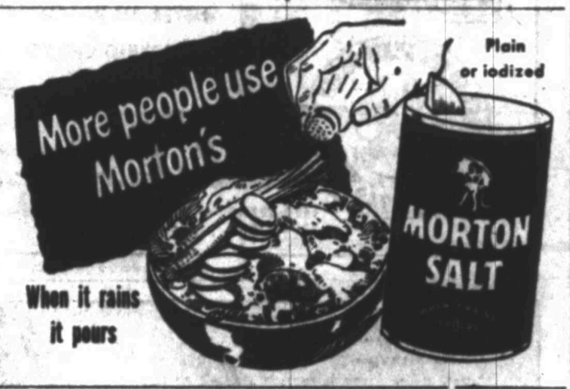

Two co-workers made the rounds of 398 people who contributed $458 as a tribute to Archer.

They issued a formal proclamation that said:

"All of us know Butch Archer for the smiling, courageous battler that he is. We invite the hearty co-operation with him in making a day a signal success in the drive against cancer."

The $458 was donated to the American Cancer society drive for funds.

Panicky buying of sugar recently caused Paraguay to ration it to retailers.

Solons Urge Funds For Flood Control Projects On Trinity

By TEX EASLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 19—Spurred by the Trinity river flood which has swept over a part of Fort Worth and is threatening areas below Dallas, Texas, members of Congress pressed today for appropriations to pay for works designed to prevent future floods.

Army engineers and executives of various congressional committees handling flood control measures were called into conferences by Senators Connally and Johnson and Reps. Lucas and Wilson, Democrats.

The Texans urged speed in action on appropriations to extend and strengthen levees.

The legislators received a wire from William Holden, executive manager of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce, asking that $500,000 be added to an Army civil functions appropriation bill for work on the levees in that city.

The bill has been passed by the House. Lucas said if the Senate added the requested $500,000 he would endeavor to get the House to agree.

The engineers plan a $1,388,000 levee improvement project, and have received $128,000 for surveys and drafting of plans.

The board of engineers did not request any funds in the pending civil functions bill for actual construction. They planned to ask next year for $24,000 to complete their planning.

Funds In Other Bills

Two other measures contain funds which could be used for flood control on the Trinity.

The first deficiency appropriation bill now awaiting the President's signature contains $10,000,000 to be used by Army engineers for emergency flood control work.

The Senate yesterday increased from $8,975,000 to $10,000,000 the amount in an Agriculture department appropriation bill for soil conservation work on the watersheds of 11 major rivers in the nation, including the Trinity.

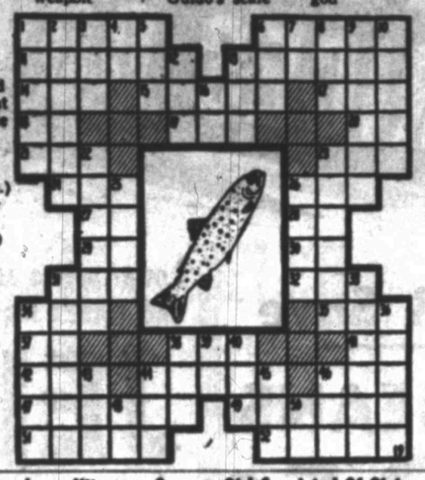

According to the department's plans, if the full $10,000,000 is granted, $1,988,000 will be used for check dams, terracing and other soil conservation and flood control works on the Trinity river watershed.

Residents Of H. W. Stanton Subdivision To Meet Tonight

A meeting of residents of H. W. Stanton subdivision who own property not yet in Lubbock city limits has been called for 8 o'clock tonight in Overton school.

City Engineer R. L. Oldham and Assistant Engineer C. J. Griggs will meet with the group.

Possible extension of city limits to include the area will be discussed. Some portions of the area are bounded on two sides by residential areas within city limits and others, on three sides.

In order to meet requirements for being taken into city limits, residents of the area have been told by the city engineer's office they will need to have plats made and get streets and alleys cleared and dedicated for public use.

Fire Hazards Bared At Medical School

Buildings Lack Proper Escapes

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 19 — The State Fire Insurance commissioner reported to Gov. Beauford H. Jester today a list of "glaring deficiencies" in fire prevention methods at the Galveston Medical school.

The report showed six buildings —all three and four-story structures—without any fire escapes. One was the Crippled Children's hospital.

Earlier this week the commissioner reported a long list of fire hazards existing in other state supported hospitals and institutions.

Jester Asks Report

Jester asked Fire Insurance Commissioner Paul H. Brown on April 18 to report on fire hazards at the Galveston medical branch of the University of Texas.

The building-by-building inspection was made by Galveston Fire Marshal J. C. Kelso and Fire Chief W. J. Henderson under the supervision of Eugene Sanders, state fire prevention chief.

Some of the "glaring deficiencies" reported were:

Women's building—Four-story, three outside fire escapes with no guide signs or lights.

Fire Escapes Checked

John Sealy hospital — Three-story, three outside escapes, "insufficient number of escapes to comply with the fire escape law." Electrical wiring bad.

Dormitory building — "Wiring very bad, defective extension cords."

Psychopathic building — Four-story, only one outside fire escape. "Window to fire escape kept locked because of mental patients."

Negro hospital — Four-story, no fire escapes.

Crippled Children's hospital—Three-story, no fire escapes.

State Psychopathic hospital—Four-story, no fire escapes.

Out patient building — Four-story, no fire escapes.

Auto Parking Lot Project Is Total Failure In Kansas Town

GREAT BEND, Kan., May 19 (U.P.) —In most American towns, where parking is a problem, motorists welcome parking lots. But in Great Bend, they shun them like the plague.

Poseph Nolan, a short-time parking lot owner and operator, vouched for the reaction.

Nolan opened his lot in the heart of the downtown district. In eight days his gross income was only and exactly $1.20.

He tried advertising and sales promotion and provided an "introductory offer" of free parking to his first five cars each day.

It took him three days to get the first five cars in the lot.

Capt. Morris, co-pilot of Lucky Lady II, the B-50 bomber which flew non-stop around the world, will arrive by military aircraft today and will depart Monday, H. B. Virgil Crawford of Brownfield, commander of the VFW in District Seven, was advised.

Flew B-17s In Europe

Capt. Morris was born at Brady and graduated from Brady High in 1934, moving then to San Antonio, his present home town. He entered the Air Force in 1943 and flew 35 combat missions in B-17 bombers in the European theatre. His decorations include the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with five clusters.

The "Lucky Lady II" took off from Fort Worth Feb. 28 and landed March 2 after a 94 hour nonstop flight around the world. The "Lady" and her crew are from the 43rd bomb wing (M) stationed at Davis-Monthan Air Force base, Tucson, Ariz., an Eighth Air Force Strategic Air command unit.

Legislature Halts Work For Weekend

Shivers Target Of House Resolutions

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, May 19.—Representatives and senators went home for another long weekend today as the 51st legislature dragged toward its 20th week.

In the House two members let fly with separate resolutions interpreted as blasts at Lt. Gov. Allan Shivers.

The Senate approved a House bill under which state hospitals would be removed from Board of Control management, and placed under a separate eleemosynary board. The eleemosynary bill was amended by the Senate and must be reconsidered by the House.

Recall Attempt Fails

The House continued debate on a bill designed to saddle automobile drivers with financial responsibility, and adjourned until Monday at 10:30 a.m.—the same hour the Senate will come back.

House members refused to come back at 10 a.m.—even half an hour earlier than the Senate. They have been irked at the Senate's delay in taking up appropriation bills that must be passed before the session can end.

Rep. Jack Bryan of Buffalo tried to recall the million dollar Lamar college bill from the Senate. It is a measure in which Shivers is interested. Bryan was turned down on a point of order, but he may renew his effort. Bryan previously had charged Shivers with holding up the big money bills because of his interest in pushing the Lamar measure ahead of the "must" bills.

Resolution Introduced

Recall of the Lamar college bill would be a slap at Shivers.

Rep. C. S. McLellan of Eagle Lake introduced a resolution demanding that no state official promote a compromise between Texas and the federal government on the tidelands issue. Shivers said in Washington this week he favored some such compromise.

Other legislative action today:

The Senate passed 27 to 1 a bill setting up local option control of underground water by districts. The measure goes back to the House for conference on amendments.

The House State Affairs committee recommended passage of a bill remitting an estimated $365,000 in state property taxes to Tarrant county for each of the next two years. The money would be earmarked for flood control in the water-damaged Fort Worth area. Rep. Blake Timmons of Amarillo was given House permission to introduce a tax remission bill totalling $140,000 a year to help that Panhandle area repair tornado damage.

The House voted 60 to 41 to re-

Health Department Gets Many Reports Of 'Dog Bite' Cases

Reports from Lubbock residents that they have been bitten by dogs are received almost every day in the City-County Department of Public Health, Gerald Jarvis, director of the department, said Thursday.

In the last two months, approximately 25 dogs have been placed under observation after biting persons and that number is below the average for a two-month period, he said.

Woman Is Bitten

Mrs. F. V. Williams of 2405 Tenth reported Thursday she had been bitten by a dog that day and J. C. Thompson of 2808 Twenty-seventh reported he had been bitten by a dog Wednesday.

Owners of dogs that have bitten persons, breaking the skin, have the choice of sending their dogs to a veterinarian at their own expense or letting them be placed in the city dog pound for the required 12-day observation.

Because of seriousness of rabies, close records are kept on such cases. If the dog is normal at the end of the 12-day period, the person bitten is safe, said Jarvis.

A case of rabies has not occurred in Lubbock in at least four years, he said.

In event a dog should prove to have rabies, the person bitten would have time to begin Pasteur treatment, or rabies vaccine, to guard against the dread disease.

Wildcat Staked In Garza County

An 8,500-foot wildcat has been staked in the Garza field of Central Garza county, where production is from the San Andres-Permian around 3,000 feet.

The venture is to be Comanche Corporation, et al, No. 1-A-Garza-Deep Montgomery - Davies. The drillsite is 660 feet from south and 910 feet from west lines of section 5, block 5, K. Aycock survey, about one mile south of Post.

Rotary tool drilling is scheduled to begin by June 1. The contract depth should carry the prospector at least into the Pennsylvania and possibly into the Ellenburger.

Outpost Is Slated

Approximately three - quarters of a mile southeast outpost to the Flanagan pool in South-Central Gaines County is slated by Magnolia Petroleum Company.

It will be the concern's No. 2 Flanagan estate, staked 660 feet from south and west lines of section 9, block A-23, psl survey, 10 miles south of Seminole.

With rotary tools, the venture is starting by May 22 toward 13,000 feet to test into the Ellenburger, pay formation of the ope-producer field.

Testing prior to completion was continuing at Hiawatha Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Wilson, approximately one-mile southeast extension to Canyon - Pennsylvanian production in the Diamond M field of West-Central Scurry County.

The well was flowing from open hole at 6,745-6,761 feet through a 3/16-inch choke. Last 24-hour flowing gauge showed 138 barrels of oil, with tubing pressure 520 pounds and casing pressure 920 pounds.

Test Is Slated

It is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 183, block 97, H & TC survey.

Magnolia Petroleum Company was preparing to go in and test the Fusselman section of the Silurian with its No. 18-B Cowden, prospective discovery from that horizon and from the Devonian in the area two miles southeast of the Dollarhide field of Southwest Andrews County.

Operator has perforated casing opposite the Fusselman at 11,056-82 feet with four shots per foot. Testing is to be made of that zone before perforating and testing in the Devonian. Dual completion is to be attempted. Total depth is 11,244 feet.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 12, block A-55, psl survey.

Stewed tomatoes may be varied by adding diced sauteed eggplant to them; sprinkle crisp buttered croutons over the top.

MANY WOULD COME TO AMERICA

Lubbock Travelers In Europe Find Appreciation For U. S.

By OPAL DIXON
Avalanche Staff Writer

IF YOU'RE an American, you're rich," Miss Margaret Turner, woman's editor of The Avalanche-Journal, said Thursday afternoon upon her return from Europe.

"We decided an American passport was the most wonderful thing you could possess. It's a passport to freedom," said Miss Ruth E. Ford, a vice president of Citizens National bank.

Visited Several Countries

Miss Turner and Miss Ford returned to Lubbock Thursday afternoon, after landing in New York on the Nieuw Amsterdam last Friday. They were gone from Lubbock two months. Accompanied by Mrs. John D. Lynch of Grosse Pointe, Mich., they traveled in France, Austria, Germany, Italy, Switzerland, England and Scotland.

They came home with a vast appreciation for the beauties of Europe and also a tremendous appreciation for the privileges of being an American.

Many of the residents of Europe and especially the youth with whom they talked think of America in glowing terms.

"And do they want to come to America!" said Miss Turner. "This is still the mecca to them.

Would Work Hard

"They don't think of America in terms of what they might have seen in picture shows—in terms of the rich or of someone to wait on them. They don't think in terms of riding in a helicopter or living in penthouses. The ones we talked to said if they could come to America they would work hard night and day."

The travelers talked with many residents of France, Italy and Austria and their conversations indicated residents of those countries "still live under the shadow of war and they think there will be another war." In Switzerland, the shadow of war fears seemed absent. In Germany, the travelers made only a brief visit.

"We felt that Austria was the poorest of all the countries," said Miss Ford. The people of Austria for the most part wear tattered clothing. Few of the men have complete matching suits, but instead wear odd bits of clothing garnered where they could find them.

No Mechanization Noted

"It has been 10 years since they have had many clothes in Europe," Miss Ford pointed out. Although the travelers saw some of the wealthy of Europe and saw some of the beautiful clothing in shops, they saw the peasants in the various countries dressed in clothing which had seen many years of wear or which had been sent from America.

Both Miss Ford and Miss Turner expressed an appreciation for simplified means of performing work in the home, in industry and in agriculture in America. "From

Foreign Oil Need Cited

(By The Associated Press)

CORPUS CHRISTI, May 19.—If war came the United States would need to import a large amount of oil, Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson said today.

In a letter to Senator Johnson of Texas read at a statewide oil proration hearing today, the Defense secretary said:

"Our national security in time of a major war, from the petroleum standpoint, is still dependent upon availability of large amounts of foreign oil."

Thompson Reads Letter

Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson read the letter. He had asked the senator for an answer to the question of how much additional reserve oil producing ability is needed for national security.

Although the Western hemisphere petroleum picture is relatively sound, the Defense secretary said, "the fact remains that if a major five years' war were to start today, total Western hemisphere production must be expanded by 15 percent by the end of the five-year period."

Thompson's request pointed out Texas, as a result of production cutbacks, has reserve ability to produce as much as 750,000 barrels of crude petroleum. In his reply, Johnson said all the surplus cutbacks would be available for mobilization needs.

Bus Postal Service Launched At Dallas

DALLAS, May 19 (INS)—A 35-foot red, white and blue bus, the first vehicle of the Dallas Highway Postal service, is carrying the mail to rural areas these days.

A. C. Hanan, director of transportation of the Post Office department in Washington, hailed the Highway Postal service as one of the most significant postal developments of modern times.

Postal Progress Cited

Hanan pointed out that the mail service has developed through several eras via the Pony Express and the use of waterways, airways, and railways. "And now we are moving into a new era," he observed.

The railroad tendency to develop long, nonstop runs has forced the Postal department to seek new means of distributing mail to small communities, he said.

Other speakers at the inauguration of the service were C. G. Stubbs, mayor pro tem of Dallas; Ben Critz, vice president and general manager of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce; and L. C. Burch, general manager of the Continental Southern lines, possessors of the postal delivery contract.

Letters Seeking Data On Wheat Harvest Flood TEC Office Here

"Our office has been flooded recently with requests for information concerning the wheat harvest in the Panhandle and Plains area," Vernon O'Farrell, farm placement representative for the Texas Employment commission, said Thursday.

"Most of these requests come from combine owners and operators, harvest hands and truckers," O'Farrell said. "The letters have come from as far away as Florida and from points along the Canadian border. They want to know what the situation is here and what it will be like at harvest time.

Temporary Office Set Up

"We have set up a number of temporary employment offices in our district to facilitate the handling of the crop," O'Farrell stated. "We hope to open more offices as the season progresses.

"While we don't have much wheat to harvest in Lubbock county or the immediate vicinity, Lubbock has become a sort of headquarters for some of the larger operators," O'Farrell continued.

"For instance," he said, "we have more than 60 custom combines in Lubbock whose owners, for the most part, live here. They go all over the wheat belt following the season as it moves north and some even get into Canada.

Crop Damage Unknown

"According to my records there are some 40 combines in Hockley county and another 35 in Crosby county. Crosby county has a fair acreage in wheat but not so much as last year. Lots of the combine operators also have a truck or a fleet of trucks to haul the grain to the elevators," the TEC man said.

O'Farrell said that it was impossible at this time to give any figures on the extent of damage to the wheat crop.

"We know that there has been considerable hail damage in some sections, such as Deaf Smith county, but because of impaired communications it will be several days yet before we can get an accurate report compiled.

"Other Panhandle counties have suffered some losses but I doubt if they will be as high as some of the original rumors would have us believe," O'Farrell said.

"Excluding the effects of the storms, most of the signs have been favorable. Everything points to heavy production on the large acreage planting.

"What we need now is some good warm weather. If we can get the amount we should logically expect at this time of the year we may yet have a record crop," O'Farrell concluded.

Valparaiso and Santiago, Chile, have increased their port charges by 10 per cent.

LIEUT. GOV. SHIVERS IS ASSAILED IN HOUSE ACTION

AUSTIN, May 19 (AP)—Lt. Gov. Allan Shivers came under fire in a House resolution today urging that no state official encourage a compromise with the federal government on the tidelands issue.

Shivers was not specifically named in the resolution introduced by Rep. C. S. McLellan of Eagle Lake, but he obviously was the target. Shivers said Tuesday in Washington that a compromise appeared to be the practical solution of the squabble over ownership of the tidelands.

The state school land board—composed of the governor, attorney general, and land commissioner—previously has gone on record opposing compromise. Land Commissioner Bascom Giles yesterday said it was difficult for him "to understand why some of our officials are apparently so eager to engage in compromise talk that would barter away the legal heritage of our school children."

Joint Action Suggested

McLellan's resolution was sent to a House State Affairs subcommittee for study.

It declared that "the state officials of Texas should maintain a united front against the action of federal officials" in the tidelands fight.

Copies of the resolution were ordered sent to the governor, lieutenant governor, the attorney general and the land commissioner.

The compromise plan which Shivers discussed informally with Texas congressmen is one put forth by Rep. John Lyle (D-Tex.)

It would establish joint administration of the tidelands by state and federal authorities.

The states would give the federal treasury half of the proceeds from royalties on oil produced under their jurisdiction—three miles in all states but Texas, where the limit would be three leagues or 10 and one-half miles as provided in the annexation treaty between Texas and the U. S. in 1845.

In turn, the government would give the states half the proceeds from oil produced outside the state limit seaward to the continental shelf.

Warden Fooled By 'Cow Hoof' Boots Worn By Game Poacher

CHEYENNE, Wyo., May 19. (AP)—Wyoming game officials have uncovered evidence of an ingenious beaver poacher.

The case of declining beaver population on Fish Creek remained a puzzler because game men could find no human signs at the spot — only tracks made by cow hooves.

A game warden finally surprised the poacher and gave chase. The poacher escaped but lost a boot in his flight. The warden got his surprise when he examined the lost footgear.

The boot had been fitted with cow hooves on the soles.

Pilot Says Long Flights Show Value Of Planes To Businessmen

DALLAS, May 19 (INS) — The man who holds the non-stop world record for light-place distance flying believes his record flight has awakened the average U. S. businessman to the possibilities of the small plane in day-to-day transactions.

William P. (Bill) Odom flew to Dallas recently in a non-stop flight from New York that lasted eight hours and ten minutes. He was piloting the same Bonanza in which he set his world's mark: 4,957 miles of continuous flying.

Small wingtip gas tanks and extra equipment installed for the marathon flight were still attached to the plane when Odom arrived here.

He believes the small plane is a new business vehicle, and that the era of widespread use of the small plane is already under way.

Lubbock Travelers

what me saw," said Miss Turner, "they are still doing everything the hard way. They haven't mechanized. We saw men sowing seed by hand; women working in the field along with the men; plows drawn by oxen." It was "the way they did it in Bible times," said Miss Ford. "They sow and they reap by hand."

Along with the aftermath of war and the indications of a hovering cloud of fear of another war, the travelers also saw the beauties of Europe.

Nation Was Beautiful

Since Europe experienced an early spring, they saw the early blossoming fruit trees, the tulips, the pansies and the forget-me-nots in each country they visited; the flowering chestnuts and the flower stalls in Paris; the lake country in Scotland near Edinburgh; the majesty of the Swiss Alps.

They rode by gondola in the moonlight down the Grand Canal in Venice. They saw the operas "Toca" and "A Night in Venice" in Vienna. In Munich, they saw the opera "Carmen" and in Paris they saw "La Traviata."

In Switzerland, they saw modern cities comparable to those in America; cows grazing on the hillsides with huge bells around their necks; beautiful Swiss chalets; the mountainside dotted with thick carpets of wild flowers creating a gay patchwork of color.

Visited Relatives In Austria

They were enthusiastic concerning the beauty they saw.

The countries of Europe, they found, are getting ready for an influx of tourists. The travelers from Lubbock and Grosse Pointe were the first American tourists some of the Europeans had seen since before the war and especially was that true in Austria, where tourists still are barred unless they have military permits. Miss Ford's sister and brother-in-law, Lt. and Mrs. Robert M. Smiley were in Austria when the travelers visited there. The Smileys since have returned to America.

"Where we went, they were painting hotels. They are getting ready for a bumper crop of tourists this summer," said Miss Turner. "That's one harvest they will have," Miss Ford added.

The travelers had to do fast arithmetic in their minds frequently to determine how much various items were costing them in American money. In France, 320 francs were equivalent to a dollar. In Switzerland, four francs were equivalent to the dollar, Swiss money being more nearly equal American money in value than the money in any country visited. In Italy, approximately 600 lira were equivalent to a dollar and in Austria, about 20 Schillings. Miss Ford's experience as a banker sometimes was convenient in the figuring necessary in deciding cost.

Miss Ford expressed appreciation that, "We don't have any black market in money in America. Our money is stable. We can't go around the corner and get $10 for $1 on the black market.

"Their money system is improving in all of those countries due to the American dollars which have been brought in there under the Marshall plan," she said.

Miss Turner, who wrote accounts of travels in Europe while still there, will write further accounts for the Woman's Angle, her column on the woman's page of the Morning Avalanche.

Kansas Artist Takes Pleasure In Denying Report Of Death

MANHATTAN, Kan., May 19. (AP)—A Manhattan newspaper in an article about Kansas artists referred to Charles B. Rogers, professor of art at Bethany College, Lindsborg.

"Charles Rogers," the article read, "was another outstanding man in the art world during his lifetime".

Not long afterward came a reply from Rogers.

"I've been in this art profession 20 years, which is long enough to kill most people," he wrote, "and some of my enemies claim I am dead in part. Others wish I were. But my friends insist I'm very much alive."

Rogers said he wouldn't mind the report if it resulted in an immediate demand for his work—at high prices. But, he said, such was not the case.

Due to recent heavy rains in Lubbock private well owners are urged to Test Water for Contamination!

RAW WATER IS DANGEROUS!
Chlorinate With SURECLOR

RAW WATER is water from any source—surface, streams, lakes, tanks, shallow or deep wells. Any water that has not been tested for purity at least every 30 days, or treated by Health Department approved methods, is not safe for human or farm animal consumption. Many human and animal diseases such as typhoid, dysentary, cholera, hook worm, summer complaint, tuberculosis, anthrax, glanders, and stomach intestinal worms are often caused by contaminated water. Don't take chances—RAW WATER IS DANGEROUS.

INEXPENSIVE: SURECLOR, the automatic water operated hypo-feeder, is especially designed to sterilize contaminated or questionable domestic pressure water supplies, and small community water systems. Lowest Cost. Easy to Install. Simple to Operate.

LOW MAINTENANCE: Fabricated of transparent plastics. Complete operation visible through unit. Resists corrosive action of chlorine and water. With exception of ball check valves, no moving parts to wear out. Chlorinating agent—household bleach (Sodium Hypochlorite 5.25% available chlorine). Available at most any grocery store. Cost less than 1½c per 1000 gallons water sterilized. The lowest of chlorine usually required is between a trace and 1 part per million, to make water safe for human or animal consumption without boiling or other treatment.

DEPENDABLE: Operates by water pressure. Fully automatic and on the job 24 hours a day. Positive check on correct chlorine content is quickly and easily determined by a color density test. Built-in test set with each SURECLOR. Many municipal water works install SURECLOR, as emergency standby unit for gaseous chlorinators.

Freistadt Case Is One Of Many Major Problems U. S. Must Face

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

Perhaps the most confusing public question in the United States today is how to defend the country against those who seek to tear down everything for which the flag stands without at the same time infringing the rights of everyone.

Do you bar a boy from education in a field which he is obviously fitted and in which he may one day prove invaluable because he is a Communist and, as such, might one day betray a national trust?

Hans Freistadt's atomic energy fellowship at the University of North Carolina has created a stink. Hans is a member of the Communist party. Permitted to pursue his chosen line of work, he might some day be in a position to betray atomic secrets. He says he never would. He says he is a loyal American, just following ideas he thinks will improve his country.

Not "Good" Communist

Hans, by his own statements, really is just an idealistic boy fumbling his way around in a maze of problems for which no one has found any complete solution. By his statements, he isn't really a good party member and doesn't even know what the Communist movement really stands for. He doesn't know that it is controlled from Moscow, that it believes it must establish itself in the United States through violence. He's thinking about Marxist theory, not the 1949 offspring of the wedding of Communism with Russia's ancient imperialism.

Paul Hoffman, director of the Economic Cooperation administration, recently explained very succinctly why this confusion exists:

"We must not be deceived by the Communist trappings with which this (Russian) power drive (a force he described as ruthless as Genghis Khan) is clothed. Basically, Communism is a rather idealistic concept, carrying with it connotations of sharing and universal brotherhood. In its pure form, almost the worst thing that can be said about Communism is that it won't work.

"But the ideology which the Russian Cominform is trying to spread is something very different indeed. It is the philosophy of power in its most wicked form; a way of life that enslaves bodies withers minds and distorts all values.

Hans Freistadt has the company of many more experienced and supposedly wiser people who have been confused throughout all time by evil hiding under the guise of do goodism. But he and others like him are a problem. In their idealism they say "my country — if right. But not if wrong." They thus set themselves up as judges for a nation of 140,000,000 people.

Former Texas Minister Is Indicted In Death Of Wife

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 19 (AP)—The Rev. George P. Hetenyi, 40, of Amherst, was indicted today on a charge of first degree murder in the slaying of his wife, the former Joan Garels of Oakland, Calif. He formerly was minister at Texarkana and El Paso, Tex.

The clergyman is in Rochester state hospital. He was committed by court order for sanity tests.

The bullet-pierced body of Mrs. Hetenyi was found in the Genesee river in suburban Brighton April 23.

Her husband, a Hungarian-born Episcopal supply clergyman, was taken into custody April 26 after identification of the body of the 25-year-old woman had been made through fingerprints.

NEAR DALLAS

New Highway Is Used As Runway

DALLAS, May 19 (U.P.)—The new $20,000,000 central boulevard expressway, not yet opened to automobile traffic, was put to emergency use last night by an airplane.

Pilot Clyde Peabody, flying over the city at 3,000 feet, found himself in the embarrasing position of being able to go no further up or forward.

"I was out of gas," he exclaimed, "so I slipped her down."

Central boulevard's gleaming white concrete looked inviting, and Peabody made a good landing. Police took a trial run down the boulevard to investigate the airplane. They helped Peabody shove it off onto the grass-covered shoulder beside the strip.

This morning, Parker-Huett Air service, owner of the ship, sent pilot Dale Webb, 25-year-old Air Force veteran, to fly out the single-engined plane.

Webb put gasoline in the tank and turned over the propellor. He roared away—still on the grass shoulder.

"It was like riding in a feather bed," he said after landing at White Rock Airport, from where Peabody had taken off yesterday.

Senate Group Okays Funds To Fight 'Citrus Blackfly'

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP)—The Senate Agriculture committee approved a plan today to spend $450,000 in Mexico against the "citrus blackfly." The full Senate will now consider the measure.

The Secretary of Agriculture has said the pest threatens important citrus areas in Texas and Arizona. It has appeared in Mexico within a few hundred miles of the border.

WALLY'S CHOICE—Rusty, a cairn terrier pup, waits in the radio room of a cargo plane in New York for his flight to Paris and his new mistress, the Duchess of Windsor. Brazos River Plays 'Dirty Trick' On Army Engineers

HILLSBORO, May 19 (AP)—In a way it was a dirty trick.

When Brazos river flood waters threatened, Army engineers at the Whitney dam project 18 miles west of here opened the gates and deliberately flooded the concrete work area inside the coffer dam.

They figured less damage would be done that way than if they waited for the flood waters to rise high enough to go over the coffer dam.

But the Brazos didn't get that high—though it came within 18 inches of it.

As it was, there was almost no interruption of work on the $42,000,000 project which will back up the biggest man-made lake in Texas. Concrete pouring on higher work areas continued.

Reported Cousin Of British Army Leader Is Killed In Galveston

GALVESTON, May 19. (AP)—L. L. Montgomery, 62, who said he was a first cousin of Viscount Montgomery, Britain's wartime field marshal, was fatally injured when he was struck by a car last night.

Montgomery died in St. Mary's infirmary here at 8:35 a. m. today of injuries suffered when he was struck by a car as he crossed a street.

Lad Vogas, 42, of Galveston, was charged with negligent homicide as a result of the accident.

Montgomery, an efficiency engineer, had been in Galveston since May 12, when he registered at the Buccaneer hotel. He lived in Atlantic City, N. J.

Man And Woman Are Charged With Aiding Prisoner To Escape

BROWNWOOD, May 19 (AP)—Sheriff Otis Shaw said today William H. Franks, 28, and Stella Yarbrough, arrested at Salem, Ore., were charged at Comanche with aiding a prisoner to escape.

He said Franks also is charged in Brown county in four felony complaints. The arrests were made last night.

Shaw said the couple was accused of smuggling a pistol into the Comanche county jail to the brother of Stella May Yarbrough—Charles Gilbert Cleary, under 15-year sentence for armed robbery from Waco.

The sheriff said this happened April 23: Cleary was being taken to Huntsville prison by Comanche Sheriff Gaston Boykin and Constable Joe Fritts. Near Bremond they stopped the car when Cleary, alone on the back seat, pulled a pistol and shot Fritts through the finger; but Boykin disarmed Cleary and he was taken on to prison.

Arrest warrants for Franks and Stella May Yarbrough were issued at Comanche the next day, Shaw said.

Senate Group Okays Bill Placing Fruit Under Marketing Orders

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP)—A bill to bring canned and processed fruits under federal marketing orders and agreements was approved today by the Senate Agriculture committee.

At present orders control citrus for the fresh fruit market. The bill, designed to lift prices and incomes for producers, also adds almonds and filberts to marketing orders covering pecans and walnuts.

Injured Boy Unconscious For 10th Day In Tyler Hospital

TYLER, May 19 (U.P.)—Little Gary Wright's long, deep sleep continued today and his anxious father kept unbroken vigil at his bedside.

Gary was in a coma for the 10th straight day. He has been unconscious since a truck struck him May 9 as he rode a bicycle near his home at Lindale, 14 miles north of Tyler.

Doctors said the nine-year-old boy's brain was damaged at the base of the skull. Otherwise, he appeared in normal condition, except for a slight fever.

A. D. Wright, his 56-year-old father, has been at Gary's bedside, day and night.

"BY ANY NAME . . ."

A Raise For Solons

MEMBERS of the U.S. House of Representatives invited public condemnation—and appear to be getting it—when they voted themselves an additional $3,500 a year for clerk hire and telephone and telegraph expense a few days ago while talking sanctimoniously about "economies."

The total amount is not large when measured by governmental extravagances. But it is almost $300 a month additional for each House member—and $300 a month is real money to most taxpayers. Many congressmen will manage, in one way or another, to pocket most of the extra cash if they get it—and they don't have it yet.

True, some members need and deserve additional expense money.

They are the conscientious few who often dig into their own pockets to attend to their jobs properly. They are the exceptions. For most, the additional allowances would be a thinly disguised raise in salary.

The manner of getting the increase further condemns the proposal. Members did not have the courage to put themselves on record by name as approving it. They did it by "voice vote" with less than 100 members present. Some members said they had no notice of what was contemplated.

These members have announced they intend to force a recorded vote when an appropriation is proposed for the new allowances. This should be done. Many voters may be interested in having such information for consideration when they ballot for congressmen next year.

There also is a possibility that such a showdown might persuade many representatives to apply to themselves the governmental economies which most of them preach but seldom practice.

Worth Looking Into

A VALANCHE-JOURNAL newspapers had the pleasure and satisfaction about 11 years ago of joining in the sponsorship of one of the first and by far the largest learn-to-swim courses ever offered on the South Plains to that time. Nearly 400 persons enrolled, ranging in ages from 6 to 60-plus. Most of them learned to swim at least a little.

The course was unusual because then, places to swim were few on the South Plains. But all this has changed, now. Most places on the South Plains now have one or more swimming pools.

In practically all communities, opportunities now are provided regularly to learn to swim. The instructions are available at negligible cost and, in many instances, are entirely free.

Classes now are in the process of organization in most localities. Practically every person on the South Plains who would like to learn to swim will have the opportunity to do so. In each community, a few inquiries usually will ascertain the details of instruction plans there.

We earnestly advise all non-swimmers and unskilled swimmers to try to remedy their deficiency. It will open a new avenue for pleasure and exercise. And no one knows when the ability of the individual to keep head above water for even a few seconds might mean the difference between life and death.

There are Monday mornings when we feel as blue and discouraged as a centipede on his last leg.

Balancing Bear

Island Of Escape

By HUGH LAWRENCE NELSON
Disributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: Fred Sillwell, small movie producer, and three members of his company are shipwrecked on Speare Island, where Henry Gough Harding is testing four women candidates for worth to become his bride and found a "New Eden" on the isle. Learning that one of the candidates, Lilly Warren, has been stealing liquor for Sillwell, Harding sends his niece by his funicular railway to the storehouse at beach level. Bea Cosgrove, riding in the car, sees Lilly in the car approaching her. Lilly is dead, shot through the head and in her lap is the automatic pistol Bea had smuggled onto the isle. On the sand of the beach is a single footprint, immediately destroyed by a wave.)

XIV

THE noon sun was hot on the assembled Speare Islanders. On the flat top of the veranda rail, Mabel sat with her arm around Mollie Stark's shoulders. Agnes and Nona McGuire whispered together, and George Bascombe and Fred Sillwell stared straight ahead without apparent consciousness of their surroundings.

At a table brought from the main room for the occasion, Harding wrote on a single sheet of paper, while Bea Cosgrove sharpened a pencil in preparation for duty as official Speare Island court stenographer.

He finished his notes, looked up to face the row of people before him. He rapped gently on the table with a claw hammer from the toolroom. "Speare Island Court is now in session," he intoned.

Bea poised her pencil over the blank notebook. The words transformed this sunny veranda into dingy, well remembered courtrooms.

"We are here," Harding went on, "to inquire into the death of Mrs. Lilly Warren. By force of circumstance, the proceedings and subsequent burial of the deceased must be expedited. This court, though informal, will be completely impartial in considering the facts. All present will consider themselves the jury. Now then, do any of you know anything of this unfortunate occurrence?"

Miss Cosgrove finished writing. She looked up at the silent row. Their blank faces, their expectant waiting, told of their unwillingness to venture into words until a pattern became clear.

Mollie Stark began crying. The clinging black of the dress she wore outlined the convulsive movements of her body. "I didn't do anything bad," she whimpered. "I don't want to be put on any old jury."

"There, there," Harding soothed, abandoning his official tone of voice. "We all know you wouldn't do anything bad."

"Oh brother," Nona murmured.

HARDING heard. He scowled, pounded the table with his hammer. "I'll have order in this court!"

"I'm a good girl," Mollie recited through her sobs. "I'm a good girl."

"If you'd just tell us in your own words," Harding said kindly. "Tell us what you know of this happening."

Mollie looked at Sillwell, then shook her head. "But Mollie doesn't know anything," she insisted.

Nona winked at Miss Cosgrove.

"Thank you," Henry Harding said. ""Mrs. Jones, will you take Miss Stark in the house? Perhaps she can get a little rest while we continue."

"Of course," Mabel said. "Come, child."

Mollie clung to her, was led away limping.

"We will wait Mrs. Jones's return," Harding decided.

"How much of that conversation do you want in the record?" Bea asked.

Harding frowned. "Put down that when questioned Miss Stark had no knowledge of the occurrence."

Miss Cosgrove crossed out several lines, wrote the sentence as dictated.

Nona McGuire kicked her heels against the stone. She whispered something to Agnes. Miss Firth giggled. Harding ignored them until Mrs. Jones returned.

"She went right to sleep like a sweet child," the woman said.

HARDING beamed at her. He looked down at the paper before him, cleared his throat harshly, banged on the table. "We will now proceed. I have examined the body carefully and I would judge Mrs. Warren met her death between eight and nine o'clock. For the record, I must ask where each of you were during that hour."

Sillwell stared as if trying to find a meaning behind the words. "All right. The last time I saw Mrs. Warren was when she flounced into the kitchen. That was just after you left the table."

"Did anyone see her after that?" There were only negatives.

"That was about seven-thirty," Harding said. "It would give her plenty of time to make the 15-minute trip down to the dock by way of the trail."

"Why should she go?" Fred asked.

Harding showed his resentment at the question, but he answered. "Mrs. Warren knew of my decision

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

You all know about the late P. T. Barnum, of course, and how he fooled the public by hanging a sign marked "This way to the Egress" over one of the doors of his exhibit, when he couldn't get the audience to leave.

BRANDEIS

Many of those attending his show, not knowing that "Egress" meant "Exit," thought it was another freak of some kind, found themselves out in the open air.

Barnum had the reputation of being somewhat of a faker, but the public wanted to be fooled, and Barnum died rich.

Perhaps it is a good thing he isn't alive today.

He would probably feel like a rank amateur if he could see what is being done to the public in some of the country's most famous restaurants and night clubs.

Mind you, I like New York. I think it has everything in the way of culture, entertainment, thrills and opportunity.

But, as the old saying goes, "I love to visit it but wouldn't live there if you gave it to me."

Now back to Barnum and why he would feel like a piker today.

A few nights ago a friend who thought he owed us a dinner took us to one of New York's most exclusive restaurants.

By the way, "exclusive" in this case means that you can't get in unless you have a sackful of money and are fully prepared to spend every bit o' it. They will leave you the sack, however.

I am not going to name the place, because I don't want you to blame me if you ever go there.

There were four of us.

I started off with a bit of sea food on the half-shell. Coquille Gratinee, they called it. Two dollars for that.

My wife had some pea soup. Seventy-five cents. But the croutons (bread cubes) were free.

Veal kidneys (Les Rognons de Veau) for the hostess were five dollars. My wife and the host had pompano. Four dollars each. Potatoes souffle were extra. One dollar an order. No vegetables came with the entree.

We had two orders of ripe olives and celery, by the way, which came to three dollars. (Coeurde Celeriet Olives Noires, they called them on the menu.)

The hostess and I had some California asparagus with hollandaise sauce. The menu showed no price, and the host didn't let me see the check. But I was informed that this succulent dish was $2.50 per person.

Only two of us had dessert—crepes Suzette. Price $2.50 each.

The coffee was 40 cents each, the tip for the two waiters who waited on us, $8.00; and another tip to the captain who obsequiously scraped and bowed but did nothing else, $5.00.

(By the way, this same captain, who used to work in a cheaper place and knew me from my reporter days, whispered to me that he was sick and tired of seeing a lot of so-called smart people making fools of themselves and paying five dollars for an order of kidneys.)

After dinner we went to a hot and stuffy little night club where we saw a most mediocre show.

We had one pot of awful coffee, one of weak tea, an orangeade and a lemonade, and four regular drinks. The bill was $22.35.

There was no sign "This way to the Egress."

But the effect was the same, only a hundred times more so.

WASTE IS DENIED

Potato Battle Rages

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Squawks over the potato purchase program, which has frequently been highlighted as the most wasteful example of the federal government's support of high food prices, have begun to irritate the potato politicians and growers. They have undertaken a concerted defense of the humble spud lest it become an unpopular dish.

TUCKER

Senator Owen Brewster of Maine recently spent almost a whole Senate afternoon in explaining and defending the system under which the Commodity Credit Corporation buys his state's principal product at approximately $1.75 a bushel, and then sells them, destroys them or processes them into flour or livestock feed, while housewives pay a high, scarcity price for other spuds.

SUBSIDY: The National Potato Council, quiescent until a short time ago, has begun a bombardment of Congressmen and Washington correspondents with publicity designed to answer attacks on the potato-buying program.

Mr. Brewster seems to have the impression that Maine's Republican voting record is partially responsible for the fact that Secretary Brannan "singled out" potatoes as evidence of the present cost of the government support scheme.

In the Senator's opinion, Mr. Brannan has created the opinion that the bill for 1949 alone will be $400,000,000, whereas that has been the charge over an eight or ten-year period. The 1949 subsidy will total about $225,000,000 on the basis of present estimates of production.

PROGRAM: Regardless of the merits of the plan for maintaining the price of potatoes, the money expended by the government in absorbing a constantly growing surplus of this product may help to prevent passage of the Brannan two-price program at this session of Congress.

Many other crops—wheat, meat, peanuts, flaxseed, tobacco—enjoy the same support system applied to potatoes. But for some reason these subsidies do not seem to affect public, political or Congressional thinking so sensationally or so dynamically as Uncle Sam's outlay to keep up the cost of this democratic dish.

HANDICAPS: Potatoes suffer under several special handicaps. Although the farmers have reduced acreage under Department of Agriculture control decrees, improvement in planting methods and insecticides has resulted in steadily increasing production. Normal requirements are estimated at 350,000,000 bushels annually, but the crops have been averaging 400,000,000 bushels.

Moreover, a decline in retail price does not lend to sharply increased consumption, as it does with meat, fruits, vegetables etc. A family can eat only so many spuds, and thus there is a ceiling on overall purchases.

EXAMPLE: Senator Brewster also blames the State department for the heavy cost of the program. Under an agreement with Canada, State permitted large amounts of our northern neighbor's spuds to be imported at low duty.

Although they were supposed to be used only for seed purposes, they somehow got into channels of trade for human use, thus displacing potatoes grown in Florida and North Carolina.

Together with Congressmen from those states, he placed the problem before State, Agriculture and Commerce, but got no action or satisfaction in any of those departments.

Thus, if the new Brannan scheme fails of enactment or undergoes serious modification, it will be because of the "potato crisis" which he has helped to aggravate by holding it up as a "horrible example."

SIDESWIPE: While Secretary Johnson plans a triumphant tour of the United States by key operators of the Berlin airlift, important friends of the Navy have taken a sideswipe at the performance in supplying a city of 2,000,000 people with fuel and food by air.

Current bulletin of the Navy League, which describes itself as "the civilian arm of the Navy" minimizes the accomplishment.

"This operation," it says, "proves that where expense is not a consideration, bulk transport by air is feasible. The experiment does not prove that we are nearing an age of aerial transport for bulk commodities. The net cost for every ton of cargo flown into Berlin is well over $100.

"One liberty ship could easily transport the equivalent load of a minimum day's Berlin airlift delivery. Many American freight trains carry a load equivalent to the airfleet's total daily load.

COMBINATION: "The Berlin operation is necessitated by political conditions. It is serving a vital purpose and is worth the billion dollars a year, but it does not presage an era of air freight. The military needs of the foreseeable future, like the economic needs, can only be sanely met by a sensible combination of air, land and sea transport."

In a letter to its far-flung and influential membership, the Navy League praises former Secretary Forrestal in fulsome terms. Then it expresses the hope that Mr. Johnson "will be guided by logic, reason and demonstrated experiences, and that he will not be influenced by the unsupported claims of self-seekers, who would disregard the lessons of history and place reliance upon untried weapons."

INVESTIGATION: "Before repealing or amending the Taft-Hartley act," suggests M. A. of San Diego, Cal., "why doesn't Congress make a general investigation of the labor problem?"

Answer: That solution has been proposed by several members of both House and Senate. But it amounts to an attempt to avoid the hard task of legislation at this session.

The "labor problem" has been investigated almost every year, off and on, since 1933. It is doubtful if a new inquiry would develop any new or helpful information.

SITUATION: Here is the situation as Washington sees it:

In the midst of depression, with millions unemployed and labor in an extremely unfavorable bargaining position, the very pro-labor Wagner Act was enacted. The unions took tremendous advantage of that statute, and with a friendly President and Attorney General—Frank Murphy—egging them on, indulged in excessive demonstrations against management.

The Taft-Hartley Act, which was passed in a period of peak prosperity, sought to redress the balance as between labor and management. In certain respects it was too hard on labor, although not nearly so anti-labor as the professional leaders and spokesmen maintain.

The Congressional problem now is to enact legislation which will be eminently fair to both groups. Industrial peace and production is the country's greatest need today

PATTERN OF POLITICS UNCHANGED

'Economy' Cry Blocks Reforms

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The longer you watch what goes on here in Washington, the more the design of politics remains the same.

Here four and a half months ago, for example, we had a president go into office—not the one, of course, most of us expected—to carry out a program he had pledged in the campaign. It is a reform program in that it embodies expansion or extension of reforms previously effected in large measure, with little new added.

This is just about the time, according to the design, that opponents of reform presidents adopt familiar strategy to checkmate him and, sure enough, we are beginning to get it now, and seductively as usual. The words and the music are the same. There are pleas for "economy" and for the President to be "reasonable" about reforms, to drop some of them, to wait until a more appropriate time.

STOKES

Situation Not Settled

Just now opponents of the Truman program are able to capitalize upon economic conditions, upon a slowdown which may be temporary or not. There is no intention here to diagnose current conditions. The experts, themselves, disagree. Anyhow, the situation lends itself readily to arguments against new ventures.

There is a close parallel with the period when the late President Roosevelt inaugurated his New Deal reform program. This parallel concerns tactics but not economic conditions, for we were then in the midst of depression. Then the cry, as some will remember, was "recovery first, reform later." President Roosevelt went right ahead, much more slowly, because of resistance, than some people now recall, but still surely. And a good thing it turned out to be, not only because some of the "reforms" helped "recovery," but also because we got on the books a number of statutes that will be very useful if we run into another depression. These are basic measures to protect workers and farmers, and a pattern for public works to provide jobs.

Some people are getting annoyed with President Truman, as they did then with President Roosevelt, because he wants to go ahead. He is "stubborn" and unrealistic."

"Economy" then became a slogan of those who wanted to stop reforms. This is not to disparage economy. It's always a good thing and we could use more of it of the right sort. It has sincere advocates. But, if you've watched the show here long enough, you learn that the "economy" for which some interests and their spokesmen call so loudly is something else. "Economy" can be used as a cover for cutting appropriations for purposes which they don't like, as, for example, in the 80th Congress, when funds for reclamation and public power were reduced. This raised a clamor from the West that reacted for President Truman in the election. Also, certain functions of the Labor department and other departments and agencies were sharply curtailed or stopped entirely by withholding appropriations.

Government Handicapped

In so many cases of the latter type, it was not "economy" at all, for the amounts involved were small. The aim was to hamstring or stop certain functions of government. It is so now with such measures as housing, education, and health, in which the amounts involved are very small compared with the total budget. Furthermore, housing, education, and protection to health are things we need whether there is a depression or not. We can afford them.

Some of those who promoted "economy" of the sort mentioned in the last Congress and are clamoring for it now are those who benefited largely from tax reduction in the last Congress and also from the Taft-Hartley labor law.

Modification of the Taft-Hartley law, on which President Truman is standing solidly, also has a depression angle, incidentally. The law as it stands has worked to make union organization more difficult and in a depression this would militate against labor. Labor unions always have suffered in depressions, as the economic history of our country shows, and there is now a law that could be used to help that along.

President Truman's "stubbornness" on some points has its wisdom.

Tourist 'Treed' By Bears Simply Telephones For Help

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 19. (U.P.)—Bart Leiper believes he holds the record of being the only man ever able to telephone for help when "treed" by a bear.

While visiting the Smoky Mountains national park, Leiper climbed a forest fire control tower to get a better view. When he began climbing down he saw a mother bear and her cub awaiting him.

Leiper waited "a long while" for the bears to leave. They wouldn't. Finally an idea came to him. He climbed back up into the tower booth, picked up the telephone there and called for help.

Michigan Man Still Enjoys Singing After 75 Years In Choir

COLDWATER, Mich., May 19. (U.P.)—Finn H. Gripman, 93, says he has as much fun singing in the church choir today as he did 75 years ago.

Members of the Coldwater Congregational Church believe that the 93-year-old former music teacher has the richest baritone voice in the choir.

He began singing in the alto section of the chorus when he was seven years old and switched to the bass section when his voice changed a few years later.

U. S. ASKS PERMISSION TO FIRE MISSILES OVER BAHAMAS—Map at right shows how the proposed 3000-mile-long guided missile test range across the South Atlantic would cross the Bahamas, a British possession. The U. S. is now negotiating with Britain for permission to fire supersonic missiles across the islands. This development indicates that the U. S. will settle on the Banana River, Fla., Naval Air Station, map at left, as the launching site of the proposed $200,000,000 test center. Plans call for observation posts along the first 500 miles of the 3000-mile range to track flight and performance of missiles.

lo send the whiskey to the lower storeroom where it would not be so accessible. She knew Miss Cosgrove would be apt to go for the day's supplies at once so she would be discovered. I noticed there was an empty whiskey bottle in the kitchen. I am sure you all noticed her extreme intoxication. I offer as a suggestion she might have gone down to wait for the whiskey."

"I'll buy that," Sillwell said. "It's the sort of thing that'd seem like a good idea to a drunk."

"An expert opinion?" Nona asked sweetly.

"If it takes 15 minutes to get down" Bascombe put in, "it'd take longer for anyone to come up. That should make it easier to check."

Harding pounded furiously. "I am unaware of asking for an open discussion. For the present, limit yourselves to answering questions as to your whereabouts."

Texas University Adds Mexican 'Possum' To Museum Collection

AUSTIN, May 19. (INS)—A Mexican "possum" that braved the waters of the Rio Grande river now lies in the University of Texas zoology museum.

Dr. W. Frank Blair, professor of zoology, says the animal is the first one of its type to be added to the collection. He returned recently from a field trip into the Rio Grande valley.

The first bridle weasle was also captured for the collection in an area where brush is being cleared to make way for truck farms.

The university trekkers brought back specimens representing 30 species of colorful birds and numerous animals.

Kentucky Youth Loses In Fight For Life

DENVER, May 19 (INS)—James (Buddy) Willett, 18-year-old Kentucky hero who waged a valiant battle for life, died this afternoon at 3:30 at the National Jewish hospital in Denver.

Buddy was sped to the Denver hospital on May 4 on a mercy plane which had picked up the desperately ill youth at Paducah, Ky., near his home town of Fancy Farm.

The Chicago Herald-American had heard of his inability to receive treatment at hospitals in his own community, and arranged for the special flight.

The boy was near death from virus pneumonia and tuberculosis.

The National Jewish hospital immediately accepted Buddy's application for admittance, and another bed was placed in an already crowded emergency ward.

The hospital's action was an example of interdenominational tolerance, as Buddy, who could not gain admittance to hospitals in his own community, was not a Jewish boy, but a Catholic.

The rough, 1,000-mile flight to Denver was not the first dramatic incident in Buddy's life. The Illinois Central railroad awarded him a medal in 1942 after he, his older brother, and a friend, Richard Dubin, found a broken rail near Fancy Farm and notified authorities.

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, will have $4,600,000 worth of new docks by 1951.

MARKET CONTINUES LOSSES

NEW YORK, May 19. (AP)—A slowly declining stock market picked up speed on the downgrade in late trading today.

Final prices showed losses of fractions to 3 points or more, with most at the day's lowest levels.

The overall drop in prices was the largest in nearly a month. The decline stood out, though because of recent extremely narrow price movements.

The steel, motors, and railroad groups were among the most sensitive areas of the market.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost .5 of one point at 63.2. The industrial section showed the largest setback with the rails a runner-up and utilities number three.

Today's setback, plus the slight declines of Tuesday and Wednesday, wiped out gains that started last week and carried through Monday. Last since April 25 has the market posted a larger average loss.

American Woolen was one of the few stocks to move strongly against the trend. It was up more than a point at one time before closing ⅝ higher at 28½. Selling yesterday developed prior to a dividend meeting and the price dropped ⅞.

Bethlehem and Republic Steel each touched new lows for 1949 during the day although Beth Steel came back a trifle to end ⅜ down at 37½. Republic was ⅛ lower at 20½.

Others down included U. S. Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Studebaker, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Frisco, Firestone, Montgomery Ward, Lockheed, Consolidated Edison, Anaconda Copper, Kennecott Copper, General Electric, Dow Chemical, International Paper, United Fruit, Texas Pacific Land Trust, Sinclair Oil, Texas Co, Richfield Oil, and Transcontinental and Western Air.

Bonds tended lower with stocks. U. S. government issues moved narrowly.

Lower in the curb were N. J. Zinc, Raytheon Mfg, American Gas, Cities Service, Humble Oil, Kaiser-Frazier, and Lone Star Gas.

Solons To Inspect Problems Of Hoof, Mouth Disease In Mexico

WASHINGTON, May 19. (AP)—A Senate Agriculture subcommittee will leave by plane Monday for Mexico City to make a general inspection of the hoof and mouth disease problem among cattle.

A joint United States-Mexican commission has been at work for some time attempting to eradicate the disease through injections of vaccine.

Senator Thye (R-Minn), chairman of the subcommittee, told a reporter "Congress is vitally interested in this problem."

He said Mexico has suffered a "great loss" by the disease and its "ranchers and farmers have been greatly affected by the restricted market."

Cattle Sent To U. S.

Prior to a quarantine being put into operation to halt the disease, Thye said Mexican cattle were sent to the better grasses of Arizona and Texas to be "finished off" before heading for market.

He said Congress is confronted with making an appropriation for this work and "it will make it easier to have first hand knowledge of the conditions."

The committee will go to Mexico City which is the headquarters for the commission and the vaccine laboratories and then to the boundary zone separating the clean from the infected cattle.

Thye said some members of the Senate Appropriations committee may make the trip although it will depend upon legislation before the Senate at the time. The legislation also will decide what members of the Agriculture subcommittee will go.

Thye said, however, that he expected Senators Holland (D-Fla), Gillette (D-Iowa), Ellender (D-La), Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) and Kem (R-Mo) to make the trip. Thye will head the group. They will be gone a week.

Mexicans In U.S. Use Fake Birth Papers To Avoid Deportation

PHOENIX, Ariz., May 19. (U.P.)—Federal agents have revealed the existence of a widespread racket which they say some Mexican nationals illegally in this country have been using to avoid deportation.

U. S. immigration and naturalization service officials say scores of Mexicans have been obtaining false birth certificates and baptismal records for as little as $2.

The documents, originally issued to other persons, are peddled to the Mexicans, who use them as proof of their U. S. citizenship.

If detected the Mexicans are charged with falsely representing themselves as United States citizens and given jail terms if convicted
