Five High Officials And Two Civilians Hurt By Explosion

Failure of Assassin's Plot May Prevent Second World War

SHANGHAI, (Saturday), April 30. (AP)—Y. Kawabata, president of the Shanghai Japanese Residents association and one of the five high Japanese officials injured in a bomb explosion at Hongkew yesterday, died early this morning.

SHANGHAI, April 29.—Five leaders of Japan's Shanghai forces and two Japanese civilians lay torn by bomb fragments in hospitals tonight, one of them close to death, the victims of a Korean assassin who all but created a Sarajevo of the Far East.

The Korean youth's attempt to kill the heads of Japan's military, naval, diplomatic, and consular services in Shanghai failed only because one of his bombs was crudely made and another did not explode.

Aliens on Edge

Aghast at the outrage that might have been the spark kindling another world conflagration, American and other foreign residents of the international settlement were on tenterhooks tonight.

The high tension resulted in a clash between American infantrymen of the 31st regiment and Japanese soldiers at the barriers to the international settlement. It was with difficulty that settlemeat police prevented the fracas from growing into a serious incident.

Four Koreans, two Chinese, and the Russian keeper of Hongkew park where the bombing occurred were arrested. The bombs exploded while 5,000 Japanese troops stood at attention and 10,000 Japanese civilians bared their heads beneath drizzling rain while a band played the national anthem in honor of Emperor Hirohito's 31st birthday.

Negotiations Halted

Police say Im Fung Ki, 28-year-old Korean, is the actual assassin. His act will bring the Chino-Japanese peace negotiations to a definite halt. All Japan's principal representatives are among the wounded. They are:

Mamoru Shigemitsu, Japanese minister to China; seriously wounded in both legs. He may lose one leg and is expected to remain in the hospital from eight to 10 weeks.

Vice Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura, commander of the Japanese fleet in Shanghai waters; may lose right eye.

Gen. Yoshinori Shirakawa, commander of the Japanese army at Shanghai; face badly torn.

Gen. Kenkichi Uyeda, second in

Negro Fights Guards Before Death in Chair

EDDYVILLE, Ky., April 29. (US)—"Go ahead. You're going to kill me anyway. It might as well be here."

So saying, Walter Holmes, negro convicted of murder, threw a pail of hot water on his guards, brandished a lead pipe and held guards at bay for two hours before they led him to the electric chair today.

Holmes capitulated after a barrage of tear bombs, then walked jauntily to the execution room, smoked a cigaret, flipped the butt aside and sat down.

Preceding him to the chair today were two other negroes, Charles Rogers and A. B. Cooksey, all convicted of murders.

Bond Given Woman In Ax Slaying

MATADOR, Texas, April 29. (UP)—The story of an ax murder in which a young mother and her adolescent daughter are accused was told here in bare detail at a habeas corpus hearing today and led to a call for a special term of district court to consider the charges.

Mrs. Ruth McComas, 31, divorcee, was granted bail in the sum of $10,000 on a charge she slew J. A. Cunningham, elderly rancher for whom she was housekeeper, when she found him making improper advances to her 13-year-old daughter, Edith. Cunningham was slain Saturday night in his ranch home.

Mrs. McComas, ill but denied bond, was brought into court in the arms of her uncle, J. H. Newman, Wichita Falls, for the hearing. She lay on a cot and fainted when called on to testify, but was revived. After the hearing, she was remanded to county jail while her attorneys sought bondsmen.

Tonight, however, she was removed to a hotel under special guard and the care of a physician. Her mother, Mrs. H. H. Stephens, Graham, remained with her, but the daughter, Edith, who had been granted bond previously, went to Graham with her grandfather.

Meanwhile, Judge Kenneth E. Bain appointed a commission to select a special grand jury to consider

RURAL SCHOOL SALARIES CUT

State Board to Use Funds In Other Phases

DALLAS, April 29. (AP)—The state board of education today voted to reduce the salaries of approximately 11,300 teachers of rural and small schools $5 to $10 monthly. The cuts affected 3,191 schools.

Although reductions were made "very reluctantly," board members decided they were necessary in order to provide "better treatment" of other phases of the educational system under the rural aid law fund.

Burl Bryant, chief supervisor of the rural school division for the state department of education, said these "other phases" received but 50 per cent of their quotas last year because salaries were allowed to come first.

More consideration will be given next year to transportation, teaching of industrial subjects, financing certain types of high school districts, tuition under the Love bill and supplementing local taxes in poor districts.

The board announced that trustees, in making contracts with teachers, shall determine salaries to be paid, but the maximum salary which may be paid out of state and county funds in schools receiving rural aid will be in accordance with a fixed schedule.

The schedule:

One Teacher Schools—$85 a month.

Two Teacher Schools—Principal $95, assistants $80 each.

Three Teacher Schools—Principal $110, assistants $80 each.

Four Teacher Schools—Principal $120, primary teacher $85, other assistants $80.

Five Teacher Schools—Principal $130, primary teacher $90, other assistants $80.

Six Teacher Schools—Principal $135, primary teacher $95, other assistants $85.

Seven Teacher Schools—Principal

NEW YORK, April 29. (US)—Bishop William T. Manning of the Protestant Episcopal church today denounced governmental corruption in New York City as a "menace to our whole nation" and called upon Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt to take a vigorous stand "against this open wrong doing."

In one of his rare excursions into the field of politics, Bishop Manning spoke from the pulpit of St. Paul's chapel where George Washington prayed after his first inauguration as president. His address was in commemoration of this historic incident.

ANGLERS START MIGRATION TO LAKES TODAY

Fishing Army Moves Out For Opening Day And Annual Prize Contest

CONDITIONS GOOD

Record Crowds and Record Catches Expected In Wichita Lakes

With hopes of fair weather, dry roads and calm, clear waters, anglers of Wichita Falls and the entire Wichita territory will begin their annual migration to the three Wichita valley lakes Saturday.

At 12:01 a. m. Sunday morning the state season on game fish will open, and present indications are for excellent catches. The government forecast, an all-important matter to fishermen within the next few days, was for fair and warmer weather Saturday and Sunday. If such forecast holds true, it is almost a certainty that the hundreds who visit the three lakes will take all the fish they need.

Everything Ready

The trek to the lakes will start early Saturday morning and continue through the day and night and most of Sunday. Cars dragging boat trailers, cars loaded with motors, fishing poles, tackle of every sort and description, camping supplies and all the equipment and apparatus of fishing will crowd the roads to Lake Wichita, Diversion lake and Lake Kemp during the day.

At all three lakes, gate keepers and holders of concessions announced everything in readiness for the opening day. The Record News and Daily Times annual fishing contest will open simultaneously with the season and will close at 6 p. m. Monday.

Seven official weighing stations have been established for the convenience of fishermen who wish to enter their best fish in the contest. Prizes for the event total more than $150. Four weighing stations are at Lake Kemp, at the cabin of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Anglin in the Wichita colony; at the Moonshine en-

Original 'Alice in Wonderland' Finds New Wonderland on New York Arrival

By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK, April 29. (US)—"Curiouser and Curiouser," said Alice in Wonderland, experiencing a New York welcome, complete with sound movies, microphones and press.

The little old lady who was the original of Lewis Carroll's famous book, the Alice who went down the rabbit hole and through the looking glass, looked with amazement on the jostling crowd of news photographers, the efficient gentlemen with sound cameras, the battery of reporters who surrounded her this evening when the Berengaria reached quarantine.

Original "Alice"

Mrs. Alice Hargreaves, who was the 10-year-old Alice who listened wide-eyed to the marvelous stories of Lewis Carroll 70 years ago, has come to New York to take part in the ceremonies to be held at Columbia university next Wednesday celebrating the 100th anniversary of the master story-teller's birth.

She is 80 years old now but her big blue eyes are as bright with curiosity as they were on that far-off afternoon when, with her two sisters, she heard the beginning of "Alice in Wonderland," told for her own particular entertainment by Mr. Carroll, as they sailed lazily up the river to Godstow.

She didn't dream then that the story was to make her famous—that at 80 she would be placed ceremoniously before a microphone while a suave gentleman with a jutting chin inquired in his best radio voice:

"And tell me, Mrs. Hargreaves,

Girl Tells Story Like T. Dreiser's

LOS ANGELES, April 29. (UP)—Her scarred head, face and neck giving mute evidence of the fight she made for her life, 17-year-old Lois Wade today unfolded a story of "an American tragedy" while a courtroom listened in rapt silence.

She told how she had been beaten over the head with a club, thrown into an old, abandoned well and pushed under the water by her infuriated lover; how she managed to climb out of the well afterwards, and was picked up by a motorist.

Frank Newland, 19-year-old married golf caddie who is charged with attempting to kill the girl and with a statutory offense against her, sat with downcast eyes while she told her story to the jury. He has pleaded not guilty to both charges.

The story she related closely paralleled Theodore Dreiser's "an American tragedy." In the novel, "Roberta Alden" pleaded with her love, Floyd Griffiths "to marry her to save her reputation." "Griffiths" took her on a boat ride, struck her, and she was drowned.

Miss Wade, pretty Pomona High school senior, pleaded with Newland to divorce his wife and marry her, because she was to become a mother.

"We went for a ride," she testified, "and parked near the Meadow Brook Country club for half an

FOUR HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Condition of Mrs. Roop Is Reported Critical

Two Wichita Falls mothers and their children, who left the city more than 10 days ago, were injured Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in an automobile accident in Oklahoma City. One of the women, Mrs. John W. Roop, suffered a possible skull fracture and a broken back. Attendants at the Oklahoma General hospital described her condition as critical in a telephone conversation with Mr. Roop before he left at 5:30 p. m. Friday to go to his wife's bedside.

Children to Recover

Mr. Roop, who is caretaker at the Kemp Public library, moved his residence to the library basement after his wife went to Oklahoma City. The other woman, Mrs. L. T. Smith, sustained internal injuries, but was expected to recover as were the two children Clifton Roop, 4, and Betty Louise Smith, 3. The Smith child suffered a possible brain concussion and the Roop child sustained minor cuts and bruises.

Mr. Smith could not be located in Wichita Falls Friday night. The family recently moved from 1010 Fourteenth, and it was not known to former neighbors where Mr. Smith had been residing since. The Roop family formerly lived at 1105½ Sixteenth.

Charges Filed

Charles E. Dunning, 25, son of an Oklahoma City contractor, was charged with reckless driving late Friday in Oklahoma City as the result of the accident. The four victims were pinned beneath the car when their machine overturned after colliding with the Dunning roadster at a street intersection.

The two children were taken to the home of Mrs. A. O. Todd in Oklahoma City, a distant relative of Mrs. Smith, after receiving treatment at the hospital. Mrs. Todd said the two families were planning to move there from Wichita Falls.

HUEY LONG AND JOE ROBINSON PUT ON SHOW

Louisiana Senator Quits All Committee Posts In Rage

WOULD CUT INCOMES

Long Proposes Limit Of $1,000,000 Per Year for All Americans

WASHINGTON, April 29. (UP)—Angered by the defeat of his proposal limiting the income of any person to $1,000,000 a year, Senator Huey Long, red-haired "kingfish" from Louisiana, today resigned all his committee memberships as a climax to a bitter attack upon congress.

Politicians said Long's action was equivalent to a man locking himself outside his own house and throwing the key away. He was a member of the naval affairs, commerce, manufacturers and interoceanic canal committees. The incident brought to the surface the simmering quarrel between Long and Minority Leader Robinson of Arkansas who refused to support Long's resolution.

Republicans Chuckle

While Republicans chuckled at the strife in Democratic ranks, Robinson arose and sarcastically termed Long's resignation as "a comic opera performance unworthy of the great actor from Louisiana."

The senate floor was almost deserted when Long, equipped with a red handkerchief for style and a white one for brow-mopping purposes began to defense of his resolution. He quoted the Bible, the declaration of independence, and the writings of Lord Bacon in his attempt to prove no man was entitled to more than $1,000,000 a year.

Uses Acrobatics

Both the senate floor nad the galleries filled quickly as Long, his face as red as his hair, threw both arms in the air and jumped up and down beside his seat, shouting:

"If the United States falls—and God forbid—it will owe its fall to the congress of the United States, which has refused to do anything to sweat down the plutocratic fortunes until they come nearer the level of the people. Now take this sales tax. It is the program of the Baruchs, the Rockefellers and the Mellons. No such thing is going to be sponsored on this side of the chamber. How much do you want? Isn't a million dollars a year enough? You could pour wine in golden gobiets in every country but the United States with that money."

Robinson Arises

Throughout this speech Robinson sat reading a large book, but when Long finished, he took the floor.

"The senator from Louisiana," he said, "seems to think he must do something extraordinary to get publicity. He is a handsome and spectacular figure, but when the senators on this side of the chamber indorse his resolution, then they will have to have another leader."

Sarcastically, Robinson continued, describing Long as "my personal friend and rival for the empty honor of leadership."

Just what Long, who heretofore has been involved in such momentous national issues as whether it is proper to dunk corn-bread in pot-likker or to crumble it, hoped to gain was not made clear by himself or any one else.

Predicts Downfall

After his speech he told the United Press he had resigned the committee posts "out of fairness to Senator Robinson." Asked to elaborate that statement, he paced the corridor outside the senate chamber, perspiration pouring down his face while he puffed at a cigaret and said repeatedly:

"This country has about two years to live. Just about two years unless we start restricting some of these swollen incomes."

Brother of Wichita Man Dies After Accident

MIAMI, Okla., April 29. (AP)—James Boyd, 44, Belleville, Ill., who suffered loss of both legs when he fell beneath a Frisco passenger train last Sunday, died in a Miami hospital late today. Boyd was riding the "blinds" when the accident occurred. He was en route to Wichita Falls, Texas, to visit a brother, Joe Boyd, who came here after the accident.

James Boyd who died Friday at a hospital in Miami, Okla., of injuries received Sunday when he fell beneath a passenger train, formerly was a resident of Wichita Falls and was associated here with his brother, Joseph H. Boyd, 2317 Grant, as distributor for medicinal products.

The brother, Joseph H. Boyd, and his family left here Wednesday for Miami after receiving notice of the accident. Funeral arrangements had not been announced here early Saturday morning.

Criminal Operations 'Industry' Thrives In Oklahoma, Probe Finds

Deaths of Ten Women Blamed on Malpractice; Woman Admits Treating Scores of Cases by Formula

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 29. (UP)—Details of a "thriving criminal operations industry" were revealed tonight as the sequel to the deaths of 10 women, including two Oklahoma university co-eds.

County Attorney Lewis Morris had in his possession evidence which he said "indicates at least 50 women and girls have died here the past year from illegal operations."

Additional evidence, gathered in the prosecutor's three-day investigation, revealed that scores of such operations had been performed. Many of the patients recovered.

Woman Gives Statement

A new sensation came today in the signed admission of Mrs. Leona Smith that she had "performed scores of abortions by a formula for which she had paid $500."

Mrs. Smith was one of several women questioned in connection with the investigation of convalescent homes. She was released but will be kept under surveilance. She said none of her patients died as a result of treatment administered over a seven year period.

"About seven years ago I procured a formula for the purpose of committing abortions and I paid $500 for this formula," her signed statement related. "I also took a course on how to care for the patients."

Five Per Month

She said that for the past three years she had performed an average of five treatments a month at her home near the state capitol building.

"Married women came to me as well as mothers with daughters. I charged $75 a case and all recovered," the statement said. Mrs. Smith said she remembered names of none of her patients.

SECOND CHOICE POLICY URGED

Garner First, Roosevelt Next, Is Plea

MEXIA, Texas, April 29. (AP)—A plea that Texas Democrats not become part of a movement to stop the nomination for president of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York was made today by T. W. Davidson of Dallas, former lieutenant governor.

Davidson was the principal speaker on the program for a meeting here of Democrats called in an effort to bring aobut instruction of the Texas delegation for Roosevelt as second choice, first choice having been conceded to John N. Garner, speaker of the house of representatives.

"We are for John Garner for president," Davidson said. "He is a Democrat and a Texan and we believe in him. If we cannot have him, though, who are we going to have?"

He warned that if the Garner forces fight to defeat Roosevelt "it may nominate a dark horse without the confidence of the public and defeat the Democratic party."

JURY REQUESTS LENIENCY FOR FOUR PERSONS

Defendants and Attorneys Present as Judge Inquires of Standing

REFUSE NEW EVIDENCE

Court Recessed Until 12 Peers Are Ready To Give Verdict

HONOLULU, April 29. (UP)—Four Americans were convicted of manslaughter here today in the honor slaying of Joseph Kahahawai a half-caste who assertedly assaulted Mrs. Thalia Fortescue Massie, attractive young wife of a naval officer.

Those found guilty on the charge were her husband, Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, who admitted he shot Kahahawai; her mother, Mrs. Grace Fortescue, society matron of Washington, D. C., and two enlisted seamen, A. O. Jones and E. J. Lord.

The jury returned its verdict almost 40 hours to the minute after it received the case. It recommended leniency for all the defendants.

There was no demonstration when the jury of mixed races announced its decision.

Mrs. Massie broke down as soon as she heard the jury find her husband guilty.

Under territorial law manslaughter carries a penalty of from one to 10 years imprisonment at hard labor.

Judge Davis, after receiving the verdict from the seven Caucasians, two Chinese and three islander half-castes on the jury, said he would consider the matter of the sentence until next Friday.

Verdict Is Compromise

Prosecutor John Kelley, middle-aged and bald, who achieved a great personal victory in getting the conviction, advised the court he was perfectly willing that the defendants be turned over to the custody of some responsible naval authority until the time of sentence.

The verdict was a compromise on the part of the jury, since the territory had indicted the four defendants on a charge of second degree murder.

The penalty for murder in the second degree is 20 years to life imprisonment.

The jury received the case at 4:25 p. m. Wednesday and the verdict was returned at 5:32 p. m., (10:12 p. m. central standard time) today.

Spectators Quiet

The racking sobs of Mrs. Massie were the only sounds to break the courtroom tension as the verdict was handed down.

There was no demonstration from spectators.

The defendants took the blow without flinching.

Lieutenant Massie did his best to soothe his wife.

He placed his arms around her as she cried hysterically.

Mrs. Massie's mother, Mrs. Fortescue, looked straight ahead as the verdict came in.

Darrow Shocked

Although Jones and Lord, the seamen, were happy and uncaring when they came into court, the solemn words of the clerk sobered them.

Clarence Darrow, the famous old warrior of the American bar, was visibly affected by the result. He came out of retirement to fight this last one fight as "counsel for defense."

"This is a terrible shock to me," he said.

Darrow would not comment immediately on what his next step might be. He looked pale and shaken, bearing out his statement that the verdict was a shock.

Prosecutor John Kelley, who earlier in the evening was snubbed by Mrs. Massie, said he regarded the jury decision as a "complete victory."

"The decision meets the ends of justice," he said.

Fearing that there might be an outbreak, police cleared the corridors before the jury came in. Radio patrol cars, carrying machine and riot guns, patrolled the district.

Last Bit of Bitterness

A last bit of the bitterness that has carried through all the trial came when the matter of bail or custody came up.

Kelley said it was agreeable to have the defendants turned over to a responsible naval officer if one was present.

Montgomery Winn, one of defense counsel, insisted that the defendants still were in custody of the court until the original court order to that effect was suspended.

Kelley said he did not know if this order still was in effect.

At this point he was interrupted by Capt. Ward Worthman, commander of the Pearl harbor submarine base.

"You know damn well it is," Captain Worthman said.

"I do not," Kelley retorted.

Judge Charles Davis, trial jurist, stopped the by-play.

Admiral Indignant

Rear Admiral Yates Stirling, commandant of this naval district, came to the courtroom late. He was at Pearl harbor when the jury reached its decision and raced six miles into the city in an automobile. Asked if he had any comment he said:

"Not a damned thing."

Hero Of World War Denounces Bonus Measure In Speech Before Committee

WASHINGTON, April 29. (UP)—Fourteen years ago Sergeant Richard O'Neill led an assaulting line in France, attacked 25 Germans single-handed and was removed from the battlefield badly wounded.

He was 20 years old and received the congressional medal of honor for his feat of valor.

Today, Richard O'Neil, of New York, salesman and private citizen, appeared calmly before the house ways and means committee, looked squarely into the eyes of others who had fought overseas and bitterly denounced the $2,000,000,000 soldier bonus measure as "discriminatory" and unnecessary.

"There are thousands of veterans like myself who do not need such aid," he said, "and on the other hand, there are thousands of unemployed, not veterans who deserve such assistance."

O'Neill said he was representing "no one but myself." At the war department his record overseas showed that in the first advance against the Germans he led the assaulting line, and received several pistol wounds. He continued to advance with great physical effort and remained in command of his detachment.

He was again wounded and because of loss of blood, had to be evacuated. O'Neill refused, however, to be taken to a hospital until he first had been brought before his battalion commander to give important information of the enemy position and of American troops.

Prof. Irving Fisher, Yale economist, who followed O'Neill as a witness, condemned the bonus, bill as a measure that would "jeopardize this country's confidence."

Assassin Plants Bomb On Speaker's Platform

command of the army; hit in right leg, face cut and bruised.

Kuramatsu Murai, consul general at Shanghai, right leg wounded.

Dr. Kawabata, president of the Japanese Citizens' association; serious body wounds. Not expected to live.

M. Tomono, secretary of the association, less seriously wounded.

Koreans Raided

The would-be emulator of the Serbian assassin whose bomb started the world war is an employe of a laundry in the French concession. Eighteen places in the concession where Koreans foregather were raided tonight by French police at the request of Japanese authorities.

Im Fung Ki, Japanese say, is a member of the Korean Independence party, a Communistic organization striving to free Korea from Japanese rule.

His sensational attempt was made just before noon under the noses of thousands of Japanese police and troops and in the presence of foreign military attaches, among them Col. Walter F. Drysdale, attache of the American legation.

Platform Crumbles

With the troops at attention, their eyes straight ahead, the civilians huddling under a sea of umbrellas, it was an easy matter for the Korean to slip out of the crowd, race to the reviewing platform on which stood his victims, place his bomb and dart back before the brash of the explosion.

Colonel Drysdale started toward the assassin, but Japanese police were quicker. They hauled him bleeding and beaten out of the crowd. Then through the haze of the smoke, those on the platform were seen to crumple and slump. Shigemitsu was moaning pitifully.

Officers jumped to the splintered platform and lifted the wounded to the ground, where they were stretched out in the mud with umbrellas held over them to keep off the rain until ambulances pushed through the mob to carry them to hospitals.

Martial Law Set Up

While all this was happening a reception was taking place in the Japanese consulate. Foreign consuls and diplomats clinked glasses of champagne to the emperor's health. They expected those at Hongkew park to join them after the review.

Japanese troops established martial law in the Hongkew park sector and put up barricades around the war-levelled Chapei native quarter, permitting residents neither to enter nor leave.

Numerous Chinese were arrested but with a few exceptions they were released. Among the Chinese still held is one arrested when he fled to the home of W. S. Hibbard, American employe of the Shanghai public works department.

American Arrested

Hibbard was also taken into custody when he refused to permit Japanese troops to enter his house. He was later released at the request of U. S. Consul-General Cunningham.

The Chinese government dispatched Samuel Chang, foreign ministry official, to the Japanese legation to offer official condolences. Quo Tai-Chi, foreign vice minister also sent official regrets. American Minister Johnson and Colonel Drysdale called at the Fumin hospital where Shigemitsu and Mural are patients.

Colonel Drysdale was about 15 feet away from the platform when the bomb exploded. He said:

"While the Japanese troops passed in review I had stood with General Shirakawa's staff. I stepped out when General Shirakawa and the others took their place on the platform to deliver speeches.

Saw Attempt

"The band was playing the Japanese national anthem and everybody was standing at attention when I saw an Oriental ease himself out of the thick of the crowd and walk to the edge of the platform.

"I saw him push something on the platform at the feet of General Shirakawa and Minister Shigemitsu. He did not throw it, but he had to reach high. He may have slid it two or three feet.

"He had scarcely stepped back to the crowd when there was a flash and an explosion. General Shirakawa tottered and slumped. Shigemitsu slowly crumpled up.

"I started for the assassin, but Japanese police grabbed him. His face streamed blood as he was led away.

"Near the platform I saw what I took to be a second bomb. It looked like a crude affair. Had the bomb on the platform been a high explosive it would have blown every one on the stage to bits and injured hundreds around it.

"The wounded men evidently owe their lives to the crudity of the bomb and the ignorance of the fanatic who placed it."

Escaped Convict Stops Sheriff To Borrow Pump—And Lands in Jail

"The most foolish thing I've ever done," was the way Henry Schuessler, escaped Texas convict, described his luck in stopping Sheriff Perry Browning and asking to borrow an automobile pump Friday afternoon. Sheriff Browning recognized Schuessler when he waved down officers three miles east of Henrietta on the Fort Worth highway and arrested him. Schuessler was placed in the Wichita county jail Friday night. Mr. Browning was riding with Henrietta officers at the time.

Notice that Schuessler had escaped from the Huntsville state prison was received two weeks ago. Mr. Browning recognized him from seeing him in the Wichita county jail in 1931 when has was sentenced to two years on a charge of burglary. Schuessler is also under a similar sentence from Fort Worth.

An automobile reported stolen in Oklahoma City was recovered by the arrest and Sheriff Browning believes the arrest will solve the theft of an automobile at Fort Worth and one in Wichita Falls. Schuessler told Mr. Browning he had stopped in Fort Worth and this city enroute to Oklahoma City.

Economy Bill Takes Battering At Hands Of Fractious Congressmen

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—An angry and fractious house ruthlessly battered the omnibus economy bill today, dealing fatal blows at some of its most controversial provisions.

Acrimonious debated flared to dangerous intensity as the chieftains of the rebel coalition swept out of the tottering measure provisions to abolish the army, navy and Panama transport services and to withdraw federal aid to vocational education.

Swayed by insurgent leaders in a two-hour wrangle over the elimination of the transport services, the house downed the provision 178 to 32, assuring continued life of the ship lines.

Action came after a bitter clash between Chairman McDuffie of the economy committee and Representative La Guardia of New York, fiery Republican independent. La Guardia charged the abolition of the services was "sponsored by a lot of rat steamship companies" in New York City.

The provision abolishing the transport was estimated to save $2,000,000 a year.

Tangling up again on the provision to have the federal government withdraw gradually its $7,367,000 annual appropriation to aid the states in vocational education beginning in 1934, the insurgents and regulars swung back and forth for an hour. Whipped into line by La Guardia, the rebel forces knocked it out by an overwhelming viva voce vote.

Convicted Bank Robber Weds Girl Companion After Sentence Passed

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., April 20.—Sentences of seven years each were imposed in district court here today on Glenn Wilkerson and Clyde Meadows after they had entered pleas of guilty to robbery with firearms in connection with the theft of an automobile from Pete Henderson.

The pair and a girl companion, Lottie DeWoody, are named in other charges of robbery with firearms in connection with the robbery of the Indiahoma State bank earlier in the week. The three were arrested at Rule, Texas, shortly after the bank robbery. Officers recovered $1,927, practically all of the loot. They were in Henderson's car when arrested.

Probable charges of kidnaping are pending. The trio allegedly kidnaped A. B. Moore, president of the bank, after holding him and his family captive at his home all night while waiting for the time lock of the bank safe to open the following morning.

A highlight of the conviction of the two youths appeared shortly after sentence had been passed, when Wilkerson and his girl companion and co-defendant in other charges against the three, were married. Justice of the Peace W. P. Conley performed the ceremony in his office. He donated his services while a large crowd that witnessed the wedding contributed the necessary $3 for the purchase of the license.

A statement of Wilkerson earlier in the week said that the attempt on the bank was made in an effort to secure money with which to marry and support the girl. Meadows had agreed to assist, he said.

ALICE ARRIVES IN NEW YORK

Lewis Carroll Anniversary To Be Celebrated

you were the original Alice in Wonderland, weren't you?"

"I am," smiled Alice.

"But that was a long time ago, and you were a little girl with curls, weren't you?"

"It was a very long time ago, but I never had curls," said Mrs. Hargreaves firmly.

Accompanying the highly bewildered and more than slightly amused Alice, gazing with bright eyes on this new and mad Wonderland, that is New York, was her son, Capt. Caryl Hargreaves of the Scots Guards, British, military and protective, and her younger sister, Miss Rhoda Liddell, beaming fondly and keeping in the background while the world gazed at Alice.

Press Interview

"That gag was O. K.—Let's have it again!" shouted a cameraman, and the eyes of the little old lady opened wider than ever.

Then came the press interview. That was formidable, too.

Scores of men and women reporters grouped around her in the salon, while her dignified son read a prepared list of questions, and answered them for her.

"What is your favorite verse in Alice in Wonderland?" she was asked.

"Her favorite verse," said Captain Hargreaves firmly, 'is 'soup of the evening, beautiful soup'."

Alice Not Sure

"Oh now, I don't know that it is, at all," interposed Mrs. Hargreaves.

"Yes," continued the captain—"it's 'soup of the evening.' It was written, you see, at the time when the popular song of the day was 'Star of the Evening, Beautiful Star.' My mother and her sisters and brothers used to sing it, only they sang it 'soup,' you see."

Alice's favorite character in the book that was written for her is the Cheshire cat—because he had such a nice smile.

For smiling is one of the things Alice likes best.

HAWAIIAN JURY CONVICTS FOUR

Manslaughter Verdict In Vengeance Slaying

stituted jury labored on the case. Then suddenly it was called into court by the presiding jurist, Circuit Judge Charles S. Davis. Its foreman, John Stone, American, reported there were prospects of reaching a decision "within a reasonable time," and the judge sent it back to work.

The courtroom scene dissolved into a fiery outburst by Mrs. Massie against public Prosecutor John C. Kelley. It was the second such encounter, the first having come when Mrs. Massie, alleged victim of a criminal attack by Kahahawai and four other men, was being cross-examined by the prosecutor.

Lord All Smiles

As the defendants were leaving the building Lord, always good natured, walked up to Kelley and began pumping the prosecutor's hand.

"No hard feelings," said Lord.

Massie, who was the object of a blistering attack by Kelley in the closing arguments to the jury, then stepped up and took the prosecutor's hand.

"If I had anything against you, Mr. Kelly—" Massie began.

"I haven't anything against you personally," said Kelley, "nor against your wife."

Blazing with anger Mrs. Massie burst out:

"No, you haven't anything against me!"

"Now, Thalia," said Massie leading her away. She burst into tears and Massie comforted her as she climbed into their automobile.

MALONE URGES HOOVER TO ACT

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—Dudley Field Malone, attorney who at first considered going to Honolulu with Clarence Darrow, tonight was informed of the Massie case verdict and immediately wired President Hoover urging the four defendants be "placed aboard a warship and brought to the first port of jurisdiction on the mainland, namely San Francisco."

His telegram read:

"To the president:

"I most respectfully submit that you do now what you should have done at the beginning, namely; order Lieutenant Massie, his wife, his mother-in-law and the two enlisted men on board a warship and bring them to the first port of jurisdiction on the mainland, namely San Francisco, where they can get a fair trial and the protection American citizens should be properly entitled to.

"Dudley Field Malone."

Major Granville Fortescue, husband of Mrs. Fortescue, received the news of the verdict as if it stunned him.

"What?" he asked after it had been read to him. A moment later he hung up the telephone receiver with a brief: "Nothing to say now—thanks."

VERDICT SURPRISE TO MASSIE'S MOTHER

WINCHESTER, Ky., April 29. (AP)—"Convicted of manslaughter—what does that mean?"

That was the only statement made by Mrs. W. S. Massie of Winchester when informed tonight her son, Lieut. Thomas Massie, 24, and his co-defendants in the Honolulu lynching case had been found guilty of manslaughter.

Mrs. Massie and her daughter, Dorothy Massie, were together when told of the verdict. They expressed surprise, not having expected a verdict tonight. They said they had been confident of an acquittal. Mrs. Massie said she had made no plans to go to her son and did not know just what she would do.

Rural School Salaries Cut

$145, primary teacher $95, high school assistants $95, other assistants $85.

Schools with more than seven teachers—Principal $155, primary teacher $95, high school assistants $95, other assistants $85.

Bryant, with reference to the Love tuition bill, said 14 schools of the state are charging more than $10 a month. With the exception of El Paso, most of them are in small districts.

Board members considered such charges as being discriminatory against schools participating to a less degree in benefits of the rural aid fund in this manner. A standard maximum charge, they decided, should be made.

The supreme court ruling to the effect that school districts have the right to charge outside pupils the amount it costs for their instruction was mentioned. The board then decided that schools charging $7.50 a month or less would be paid first. After that the higher charging school district will receive as much as the board can pay of their charges.

into the locked office of Dr. Richard E. Thacker, middle-aged fugitive physician charged with murder in the death of one girl.

Dr. A. C. Hirshfield, who accompanied the officers, said the physician had taken most of his surgical instruments with him when he left the city Sunday with his wife, Mrs. Ida Miller Thacker.

Search Widens

Search for Thacker, named by Frank Lee, University of Oklahoma football star, as the physician who performed a fatal illegal operation on his 17-year-old co-ed bride, was intensified.

A Fort Worth newspaper man wired Morris he had seen the fugitive physician and his wife in Fort Worth Tuesday. The Telegram said that the newsman knew Thacker and thought it unusual that he was going under the name of Miller. The Telegram said Thacker applied at a traveling bureau for two passengers to take to El Paso.

Morris pointed to the fact that the physician had taken his instruments and said it was evident Thacker intends to renew practice Perhaps in Mexico.

Osteopath in Jail

While state and federal operatives and the Mexican border patrol joined in the hunt for Thacker, John W. Eisminger, 50-year-old osteopath remained in jail, denied bond.

He is charged with murder in the death of Miss Virginia Lee Wyckoff, popular University of Oklahoma student. The osteopath admitted operating on the student but denied the operation was illegal. Hearing on a habeas corpus writ for him was set for Monday.

University of Oklahoma and state authorities found university officials blameless. State Operative R. E. Moxey absolved Lee in his report to Gov. W. H. Murray.

hour, making love. Then he suggested that we walk over to an old mill. When we got there, he began beating me on the head with a club. I fell to the ground and he continued hitting me, and kicked me. Then he took me by the feet and dragged me to the well.

"I screamed and fought. He threw me into the well. I went under the water, and when I came to the surface, I gasped an iron bar. He hit me over the head with an old railroad tie, pushing me under the water. I nearly lost consciousness. He hit me like that three or four times, then he went away, probably thinking I was dead.

"I waited until I heard him start the car, then I climbed out of the well.

"My shoes were gone. One stocking had been torn off. My clothes were torn and wet. My head and face were bleeding. I staggered over to the road. A motorist picked me up and took me to a hospital."

Miss Wade removed her black beret and exhibited her scarred head, neck and face to the jury.

"That's where he hit me," she said, as she pointed to Newland.

The girl and Newland had known each other about eight months.

Mrs. McComas Granted Bond

the charges May 9. The woman waived preliminary hearings. If indicted she probably will not be tried until July.

A crowded courtroom heard District Attorney Folley and Special Prosecutor Fish object strenuously to bail for Mrs. McComas. The state presented four witnesses—Dr. A. C. Trawick, who was called to the murder scene; Carrol Evans and his wife, renters on the Cunningham place, and Marvin S. Patton assistant cashier of the First National bank.

H. H. Stephens, the defendant's father, was the only defense witness to testify in reference to bond.

Both state and defense offered considerable evidence. The ax with which Cunningham was slain was one exhibit. C. C. McDonald, Wichita Falls, chief defense counsel, introduced a petition for divorce filed by the slain man's former wife, alleging adultry with a former housekeeper.

The court records here show the divorce was granted without contest by Cunningham.

Mrs. Evans testified Mrs. McComas had told her of insults to both her and her daughter before the killing.

"He has insulted me and Edith but I do not feel justified in killing him," the woman quoted Mrs. McComas as saying.

Part of Cunningham's will was read, showing he intended to leave his property to the accused woman, provided he died a natural death and she remained at his home until that time.

Thieves Renew Raids On Wichita Homes

Burglars renewed activity in Wichita Falls Friday night with residents of the city reporting losses early in the night. Mrs. Joe Garrard, 1302 Austin, told officers a five-gallon can of oil, valued at $2.95, was taken from her residence and Mrs. H. R. Strickland, 2011 Elisabeth, reported a clothesline stripped of three dresses and eight shirts between 7 and 9 o'clock.

Loss of an electric motor, valued at $46, was reported with its recovery. C. A. Fuhs, 1625 Elisabeth, had reported the loss. Dr. Edwards of Henrietta, told officers here 60 feet of garden hose had been taken from his residence.

FISH SEASON OPENS TONIGHT

Anglers Reminded to Aid Rearing Ponds

trance, in charge of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Wilkins; at the Seymour entrance, in charge of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Cox; and at the Flippen creek entrance in charge of Mr. Wilkinson. At Diversion lake, Glenn Cox will be in charge of the station at the north entrance gatehouse and at Lake Wichita Ray Walker will be in charge of the station located at the Lakeside park pavilion.

Funds Needed for Ponds

The annual contest is sponsored by The Record News and Daily Times and sporting goods dealers of Wichita Falls to foster an interest in fishing, to encourage good sportsmanship and to direct attention to the state laws for fish conservation. All entries in the contest must be fish caught in a legal manner, and the support and cooperation of anglers in upholding the state regulations is solicited.

Attention of anglers is also directed to the state fish hatchery cans which will be placed at each weighing station. Fishermen are asked to drop their contributions in these cans to provide a fund for repairing and restocking the rearing ponds at Lake Wichita and Lake Kemp.

The money will be expended by the Izaak Walton league, and is of vital importance to good fishing in the three Wichita Valley lakes. Because of the heavy loss of fry and eggs this year from late spawning and unfavorable weather, the fish supplied by these rearing ponds will do much to assure good fishing next year.

State Laws

State laws which regulate fishing are comparatively simple. Some of the more important rules follow:

A state license costing Texas residents $1.10 is necessary if artificial bait is used.

Non-residents may obtain a five-day visitors' license for $1.10 or a season license for $5, and payment of this license is necessary regardless of the type of bait used.

Fishermen must be able to produce license when asked by game warden.

Bass under 11 inches, crappie seven and bream five must be returned immediately to the water.

The limit for bass is 10 in number or 20 pounds in weight; for crappie 20 in number or 20 pounds in weight; or an aggregate weight of 30 pounds of both species.

Use of seins, explosives, poison and traps is unlawful.

Minnow seines must not be longer than 20 feet, nor of mesh more than one-sixth inch square. Use of these seines is limited to dragging for minnows to be used for bait.

It is unlawful to leave on the banks of the lakes, fish, minnows or any other animal matter, dead or alive.

These regulations apply not only to the lakes, but to their connecting canals and streams.

COTTON MEN IN CONVENTION

Legislation Charged With Strangling Industry

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 29. (AP)—A charge that "unwise governmental legislation" is strangling the cotton industry was made here today before the American Cotton Shippers association by the organization's president, D. W. Brooks of Memphis.

He termed the threat of foreign competition a "bugaboo," and said "the potential consumption of cotton in Russia far exceeds her ability to produce." Russia today, he added, "is a potential market for thousands of bales of American cotton when and if the channels of trade are cleared in that direction."

Blames Politics

He charged that control of cotton cooperative associations had been wrested from the hands of the individual farmers through "political combination."

Advocating opposition to any measure which might menace the welfare of the industry, he said: "The southern cotton farmer, unhampered by restrictive legislation and with the channels of trade left free from the formal disposition of his product, can produce quality cotton at a price cheaper than any other nation on earth and at the same time maintain a constantly increasing standard of living far beyond that enjoyed by any other agricultural worker in the world."

HOUSTON SPEAKER ATTACKS FEDERAL INTERFERENCE

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 29. (AP)—W. L. Clayton of Houston, Texas, nationally known cotton factor, today attacked what he termed government interference in the cotton industry in an address before the American Cotton Shippers association.

"The cotton trade properly denounces the agricultural marketing act as being extremely unsound and un-American," he said, "but how many of us realize that the agricultural marketing act and the federal farm board are legitimate progeny of the tariff?" He said the three were joint causes of a 68 per cent shrinkage in American exports for the first three months of 1932 as compared with the same period in 1929.

Tariff Hurts Trade

"Largely because of the tariff and our insistence on collecting the uncollectable war debts, our foreign trade is contracting at an alarming rate," he continued. "One class of our exports has increased heavily, however, and that is the export of branch factories to Canada and England and other counties in order to operate behind their tariff walls and make more work for foreign labor and less for American labor."

Asserting that no commodity "can profit from the tariff so long as it is produced in excess of domestic consumption," Clayton asked:

"Is there anybody left in Washington who still thinks the government can do a better job of cotton distribution than those of its citizens who developed a marketing system through the exercise of that individual initiative and vision and industry which have made our country great?"

Bakers Locked Out In Salary Dispute

DALLAS, April 29. (AP)—Otto E. Fischer of Chicago, representing the international organization, said today that the current disagreement between Dallas and Fort Worth bakers and their employers was not a strike but a lockout.

He said 15 Dallas bakers were deprived of employment last night and 10 per cent taken from their pay checks, though under the terms of the expiring contract no reduction could have become effective until midnight tomorrow.

Fischer told of conferences recently held between representatives of the union and the employers. He said the union agreed to a 10 per cent wage reduction but refused to accept 20 per cent. He also claimed that the union contract expiring tomorrow should have remained in operation until a new agreement was reached, its terms to be retroactive.

He estimated that 150 men were involved in the lockout.

St. Louis Southwestern Granted Finance Permit

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—The Interstate Commerce commission today issued a final order making it possible for the St. Louis Southwestern Railway company to complete financing of its loans due June 1.

The order closely followed an application by the Southern Pacific for permission to carry out a commission requirement that it unqualifiedly endorse a loan of $18,000,000 to the St. Louis Southwestern.

The company was authorized by the order to issue not to exceed $4,800,000 of promissory notes in payment of half of a series of bank loans due June 1. The issuance of promissory notes and pledging of security to the Reconstruction Finance corporation for other loans also was authorized.

SMALL READY TO ANNOUNCE

Amarilloan to Join Race If Sterling Not Run

AUSTIN, April 29. (AP)—Senator Clint C. Small of Amarillo revealed here today that he is prepared to announce for the Democratic nomination for governor of Texas immediately should Gov. R. S. Sterling decide not to ask for a second term.

Senator Small said he had completed his plans and was ready to "shoot from the hip" the minute the governor reached a decision.

"I shall not run against Governor Sterling, believing that he is entitled to the courtesy of a second term should he desire one," Senator Small said.

"But, if he does not make the race, I shall become a candidate the minute he announces such a decision, regardless of other aspirants."

In 1930 Race

Senator Small, who was third high man in the campaign for governor in the 1930 primary, said he did not intend to surrender whatever advantage he obtained through "hard work" in his race of two years ago.

"It does not matter to me who the administration would favor as a successor to Governor Sterling in the event he does not stand for re-election, I am all ready and prepared to shoot from the hip, the very minute Sterling says he will not be a candidate, if he does decide not to ask for a second term," Senator Small said.

In the first primary of 1930 Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson received the most votes, Governor Sterling was second and Small third, the latter running 32,000 votes behind Sterling.

Baby Prisoner Of San Quentin Keeps His Age A Secret

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Calif., April 29. (INS)—Jesus Borja, the youngest convict in California, climbed out of his cell bunk early today and went to work in the prison hospital.

He had a secret that he had hoped the 5,000 other prisoners wouldn't learn—today is his 16th birthday.

"Gosh, I hope nobody hears about it," the lithe, 120-pound boy remarked. "They'll make a baby out of me."

Behind the fortress-like walls, all eyes have centered upon the "kid" since the day he was incarcerated. He is the pet of the institution.

The youth is serving life imprisonment. Last August he stabbed to death in Kingsburg, Calif., Pedro Garcia, 22, an hour after Garcia's marriage to Rose Guerrero, 13, a girl who had jilted Borja.

PATROL ROUTS SANDINO BAND

10 Rebels Killed in Hot Nicaragua Skirmish

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, April 29. (AP)—A Nicaraguan national guard patrol under three United States marine officers reported today it had killed 10 insurgents, including Florencio Silvia, one of Augusto Sandino's chief lieutenants, and put 250 to flight in a skirmish near the Honduran frontier.

The battle, which occurred last Tuesday, came about near the main camp of the insurgents, the guard reported. The camp was destroyed, several insurgents wounded, and the rest put to flight.

The guard said it had captured much ammunition and some arms, and had suffered but a single casualty, a wounded man.

The three marine officers who led the attack were Lieut. John Hamas of Philadelphia; Lieut. Roy Vogel of Stockton, Calif.; and Lieut. John Burns of Burga, N. C.

Hoover Thinks In Terms Of Nation, Hurley Declares

NEW YORK, April 29. (INS)—President Hoover will never admit "that the American people can be licked," Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley told the members of the American Newspaper Publishers association.

"The man in the White House, who has not uttered a single partisan statement, or made a single partisan suggestion, will think in terms of the entire nation," he declared. "There are no forgotten Americans in the president's program."

Hurley spoke last night at the annual dinner of the association's bureau of advertising.

He declared that America, retained unimpaired the fundamental principles of freedom and individuality, had checked the "vicissitudes of the greatest economic chaos that has ever engulfed a whole world" and therefore need have no fears of the future.

Negro's Auto Fractures Texarkana Man's Skull

TEXARKANA, Ark., April 29. (INS)—Estes B. Kiser, 45, suffered a fractured skull today when struck by an automobile driven by D. Briley, a negro. Kiser, whose condition was described as critical, remained unconscious two hours later.

The negro was arrested and placed in jail pending the outcome of Kiser's injuries. The negro claimed Kiser was walking against the redlight on a downtown street corner. Two white men who saw the accident corroborated the negro's statement, officers said.

"B. C." Relieves Headaches and Quiets Nerves
Realizing that no one drug can relieve all headaches, as they come from so many causes, a North Carolina pharmacist has developed a combination of several ingredients, so blended and proportioned as to relieve almost any headache in a few minutes. You can get this formula wherever drugs are sold under the name "B. C." 10c and 25c packages, and when you have one of those violent, nerve-racking headaches, from inorganic causes, "B. C." will give you soothing relief in three minutes. "B. C." should also be used for the relief of muscular aches and pains, common colds and neuralgia, reducing fever, and for quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs. —Adv.

A Washington Bystander

By KIRKE SIMPSON

WASHINGTON, April 29.—To a man working on a two billion dollar government job perhaps the stock market may seem a mere "peanut stand" show, yet probably nobody among the big-wigs of Washington official life would think so to describe it but Charles D. Dawes.

CHARLES G. DAWES

Nor would anybody else who now comes to mind embroider his remarks with those sulphurous references of which Mr. Dawes is so fond.

Yet that was just a sideshow of Mr. Dawes' oration to the house ways and means committee.

His immediate business appeared to be to sock the impending bonus cash payment plan in the eye before it got anywhere. He socked it, sure enough; but whether it is going to stay socked is still to be seen.

Considering that all house members and upward of a third of the senate are up for re-election next November, the thorny aspects of the thing from the personal viewpoint of the ladies and gentlemen "on the hill" are easy to understand.

A Super Optimist

However, it seemed that Mr. Dawes had quite another mission when he accepted the invitation to say his say about the bonus.

He appeared in the role of super optimist as to the outlook for economic recovery.

Whether he was to be regarded as an administration spokesman, or merely as the prophet of his own interpretation of all he has been learning as head of the reconstruction finance corporation is not clear. But his message is heartening.

"Prosperity, as sure as the sun, will rise tomorrow morning, "Dawes thundered . . .

"We (in the corporation) realize there is a marked change for the better, in the situation, and we know more about it than those fellows sitting in that security peanut stand in Wall street."

Surveying the summary of finance corporation operations Mr. Dawes presented to the committee, it is hardly to be denied that he has had an unusual opportunity to get a close-up view of the crisis situation, "a cross section" as Dawes himself said.

Dramatics on Tap

Not so long ago, when the presidential anti-hoarding drive was launched, Dawes was drafted to dramatize the economic situation from quite a different point of view. It was his mission then, behind closed doors, to paint a black picture and he was going strong.

If his once cherished dream of the presidency had been realized, Dawes probably would have rivaled President Roosevelt in good, hot, front page news appeal.

Kansas has had speakeasies for 30 years, a speaker says. Well, it still votes bone dry, anyway.

Every vote cast in the average municipal election costs the taxpayers $1, says a political science expert. That's nothing to what they cost the candidates.

College Riots

TWO THOUSAND Harvard university students recently indulged in one of the wildest undergraduate demonstrations ever seen in the Boston district. The neighborhood of the university was in a turmoil for six hours, street car service was interrupted, automobile traffic was hopelessly jammed, three riot calls were sent in, one policeman was seriously hurt and 11 students were arrested. All in all, it was a tumultuous occasion.

And the reason for it all? Well, it seems that the clapper of a bell on one of the university's buildings had been stolen a couple of weeks before. On this particular day a group of freshmen found it and then lost track of it again; and the rioting grew out of this group's frenzied attempts to find the thing once more.

All of this, of course, is nothing particularly new in the annals of university life in the United States; but when you put the thing under the magnifying glass and take a long look at the ridiculously insignificant cause of it all, you are apt to have a dismal moment or two in which you wonder whether our universities are justifying their existence.

University riots are not unknown in Europe; but there they are different. The students are deeply involved, emotionally and intellectually, in the political and social developments of their time. When they riot, they riot for some national cause that touches their hearts. Any significant change in the national attitude is usually foreshadowed by effervescences in the universities.

But in the United States the university riots are nothing but outbreaks of hoodlumism; and the boys in one of the nation's greatest universities indicate their mental maturity by staging a six-hour fight over a missing bell clapper.

The present is rather a critical period in American life. Great things are in the air, great problems await solution, great changes lie just over the horizon. But the college boys don't seem to have heard about any of them.

Eyes North!

TOURISTS may flock to the Gulf coast, to California, to the Atlantic seaboard beaches during the coming summer; circulars and posters will describe the romantic allurements of sea breezes and moonlit sands; but North America's most genuine romance will be found far away in the subarctic stretches of western Canada upon the shores of a lake from which harsh winter will retreat but for a few weeks.

Through the discovery of radium and silver and copper and gold in the vicinity of Great Bear lake, America again has been provided with a frontier toward which daring souls already are driving. Terrific hardships form no barrier, but are converted by hopes of quick wealth into an irresistible challenge.

Minerals of great value have been discovered in the far Northwest at a time when many will be ready to answer the call. England stands in need of gold. Wealth is the one commodity of which there is a common shortage. No war is raging to absorb the burning energy of adventurers. Within the next few weeks, hundreds of prospectors will be working feverishly in the Great Bear lake country, intent upon making a "strike" before the brief summer ends.

A distinct atmosphere of modernity will characterize this summer's rush. Located more than 1,000 miles east of the Yukon valley in Alaska, and about the same distance north of Edmonton, the new mining area is isolated beyond a vast forest. Consequently, many of those who will explore the regions during the ensuing few months will be carried to the site by airplanes. Air service is now being organized to care for the army of prospectors.

Bathing-beach romance will have little color this summer compared to the thrilling romance of the Great Bear lake country.

The Debt Situation

THE recent declaration by Germany's finance minister, Herr Dietrich, that Germany will not pay any more reparations, would have caused an infinite sensation if it had been made two years ago. Now, although it ranks as an important international utterance, it occasions no surprise whatever.

It has been fairly clear for a good many months that the reparations cow has been milked dry. You cannot get blood out of a turnip, no matter how hard you try.

Sooner or later, of course, the whole problem will be dumped in the lap of Uncle Sam. By autumn we shall have a pretty clear idea of just what this German refusal to pay reparations is going to mean to us; and the horrid suspicion keeps growing that in the end Uncle Sam will be found holding a capacious, wide-mouthed and totally empty bag.

SO THEY SAY!

Mr. Hoover is our man. We trust he will not accept any wet or doubtful plank in the Republican platform.—Mrs. Henry W. Peabody, chairman, national committee for law enforcement.

Had the example of Washington been followed, the constitution which he guided into being would never have had a prohibition amendment.—Rev. Dr. Henry Darlington of New York.

International conditions are such today as to render it unwise, in my opinion, to make any further cuts in the operating forces of the navy.—Admiral W. V. Pratt, chief of naval operations.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE KING OF NONCHALANCE—Charles Holbert, the "Nonchalant Fall Guy," is a builder cleaner by trade. He was working at his calling on a scaffold off the 14th floor of the Union Trust building in Cincinnati, Ohio, on Dec. 8, 1931, when his foot slipped, precipitating him 14 stories to the ground. One of the ropes upholding the scaffold, which Holbert managed to grab in a gloved hand, broke the force of the fall. He made a perfect three-point landing upon a coil of hemp. When patrol No. 2 arrived in response to a frantic summons, to take him in to the hospital, Holbert, entirely unharmed, was puffing at a cigaret. He is an old hand at "falling," he said. On a previous occasion he had fallen from a yardarm 165 feet high onto a coalpile. Except for a few lumps of coal still imbedded in his back, the fall had no injurious consequences.

The Story of an Unemployed Girl

By Ethelda Bedford, Author of Broadway Bride

CHAPTER XL

"You both should put on more lipstick and eye make-up. You'll look like ghosts beside the other girls if you don't."

Lillian and Eve were getting dressed to go to the taxi-dance hall. And the girl who had proposed going—she said just to call her Sadie—sat on the couch in their room while they prepared to go.

"You should wear thin dresses. You know, soft like. And without any sleeves. Have you got any?"

"You can wear one of mine," Lillian told Eve.

"Gosh, have you more than one?" asked Sadie, surprised.

"Yes," Lillian answered, unstrapping her suitcase, "but you're not tall enough, I'm afraid, to wear my clothes. But if you want to try fastening up the skirt—"

"Naw—I got a dress to wear. I didn't mean that. How long you been without a job?"

"Quite a while, why?"

"Not so long, I guess. You would've hocked everything you could do without or sold 'em to a second-hand place. Gee—I did that months ago."

Her little eyes roved over the contents of Lillian's opened suit case. "Say—you musta had a swell job—to have those duds!"

When Lillian and Eve accompanied Sadie to her room and saw her collection of 10-cent-store cosmetics Lillian understood the girl's awe.

"Say, you'll get all the business tonight—and will the old timers be sore!"

Eve and Lillian wondered what she meant.

"With those dresses. They're the cat's!" She eyed the flame-chiffon Lillian wore and the black chiffon Eve had on. "You see, the depression has hit the taxi dance business, too. The fellows don't spend their money that way like they used to. And the girls that have been dancing at the same places for months sit out half the dances."

In Sadie's room, which was furnished similar to the one assigned to Lillian and Eve, only half as large, a few hooks screwed into the wooden panels of the white-painted door served as her only closet.

A blue sleeveless crepe, the type you see glaring from a Fourteenth street bankrupt sale window marked "three eighty-five," hung by a wrinkled shoulder strap.

The dress looked much more soiled, hanging against the white painted door than it did when Sadie had it stretched over her knotty little figure.

She leaned close to the small bureau mirror and covered her thick lips generously with a flaming lipstick, and then drew black lines at the roots of her eye lashes with a heavy lead pencil. She traced the lines of her eye brows, also. Her small face took on a hard, theatrical expression, clown-like.

"The lights are pretty dim," she explained, "and a heavy make-up looks swell on the floor.

"Do you go to this place often?" asked Eve.

"My sister used to be a regular there—that's how I know the manager. But she was too pretty. Some guy did a lot of sweet talking to her one night. And now—well, she doesn't bother about taxi-dancing anymore.

"Naw—that ain't what I mean. If you'd said that to me six months ago I'd cried . . . but I didn't knew then what a racket life is for a girl who has to have a job."

As Sadie pulled the tight-fitting dress down about her hips she said: "Our old man would beat her if she didn't bring home good money. He always said he wanted me to have an education, see? And sis had to pay for keeping me in school.

"But he changed his mind about that when sis got tired of him beating her. And when he turned on me I told him I wouldn't let him treat me like he had sis. And he told me I'd better get wise to myself—like sis."

She patted her hair back behind her ears and screwed on some bead earrings. "Well—well, maybe I will—"

As the three girls made their way up the windy street the chill from the Hudson swept through their coats and their undernourished bodies.

"Did you have any dinner?" Sadie asked.

"Some crackers," Lillian answered. "We weren't very hungry—"

"No—I guess not," said Sadie. "I had my last meal yesterday and had to wash two windows and clean a room before they'd give it to me. I'll bet you're not hungry—not much! But don't anybody tell me that charity is sweet!"

"I've a little money—you can get some coffee—" She motioned toward the lunch stand they were passing. The aroma of cooking food made their mouths water. Pans of baked apples and rice pudding in the window were magnets to their eyes.

"No—thanks a lot," Sadie sounded brave, "if we can get picked up I'll get a sandwich at the Gardens."

"Picked up?" asked Eve, surprised.

"You can't get in without an escort, see?" Sadie explained, "but we ought not to have a hard time getting some—we can tell 'em just so they'll take us they don't have to dance with us all evening."

They were nearing a dark street at the edge of the village. It was near the river and the sharp chill winds came in painful gusts.

Three sailors, their dinky white hats sitting like snow caps on their short cropped heads, turned out of a side street and came toward the girls.

"Sailors!" said Sadie, gleefully. "They might try us!"

The sailors' eyes roved over the girls. "The tall one for mine," said one.

"Hello, sailor!" said Sadie—and Lillian thought she would drop, her New England conscience got such a jolt.

The sailors stopped and their eyes were eager.

"Want to come along?" asked Sadie, smiling friendly, as if she had known them since childhood. Eve and Lillian tried to seem at ease.

"Maybe," said one sailor.

"Dance at the Dream Gardens?" Sadie informed and asked, too.

The gobs looked at each other and then the three of them pushed in among the girls.

Dream Gardens was less than a block away. The bright green and red and yellow lights over the entrance announced: "Girls! Music! Dancing!"

They could hear the music. And there were several girls dallying around near the entrance.

As they started up the steps a big man said to a girl with a vividly painted face: "Scram! You can't get in here without an escort, see? Now, how many times do I have to tell you that?"

"I'll betcha, Shanghai, I get somebody to dance with me," the girl said, lifting her face defiantly to the big man. "If you let me in."

"You ain't a regular, Rose. The boss ain't taking on no new girls. The others would get sore. Business is bad."

"Say, Shanghai, I wish you had a place of your own. I bet it would be a knockout—you being such a swell bouncer!" The girl laughed at her own humor.

"Scram, I tell you."

The girl shrugged her shoulders and looked impudently at Lillian, Eve and Sadie as they passed her up the stairs with the sailors. Her eyes followed them, enviously. As if to say, "You're good. You can go in where it's warm and there's music and a good time. . . ."

The sailor with Lillian had his little hat tilted on his ear. He held her tightly above the elbow when they started up the steps and by the time they had taken a few strides his arm fell about her waist.

A few weeks before she would have turned and slapped his smiling red face for that. But now, she marvelled at her own control. She wasn't thinking so much of the sailor's freshness, but that he was being nice to her. So, she didn't move his arm from her waist.

It was as Sadie said joyfully to Lillian and Eve in the tiny, dirty dressing room, where they went to hang their hats and coats and put on more make-up: "Gee, what a break we had! Say—have I hung around this place trying to get some boze to bring me in! Whew—have I? And Shanghai wouldn't let me through the door—even though he knows my sister used to be a regular here."

Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

Q.—What was the cost of the locks on the Ohio river?—J. J. H.

A.—The 50 locks on the Ohio river between Pittsburgh and Cairo were constructed at a cost exceeding $100,000,000.

Q.—What did Thomas Jefferson have to do with framing the constitution?—T. S.

A.—James M. Beck, writing on the subject of the constitution, says that "unfortunately Jefferson was in France and therefore could not attend the constitutional convention." He adds: "Although absent, he, Jefferson, rendered no inconsiderable service to the cause of constitutional government, for it was partly through his insistence that the bill of rights, consisting of the first 10 amendments, was adopted."

Q.—Should the same bed and table linen be kept in use, or should one's entire stock of linen be used in rotation?—J. P. Z.

A.—There is quite a difference of opinion among housekeepers as to whether the stock of supplies be used in rotation, by always drawing from the bottom and putting the clean on top, or whether a set of three or four of each type of linen be in constant use until worn out. On the whole, the former seems more desirable, as some fabrics deteriorate and yellow with age.

A.—In the days when capes were worn instead of coats, men frequently carried swords hung at the left side under the cape. The cape was held closed from left to right so that the right hand would be free to reach for the sword when necessary. When coats were substituted and swords were not necessary, the left side was still lapped over the right because men had become accustomed to it.

Q.—Please explain the English system of dealing with bequests of real estate to institutions.—L. D. G.

A.—The practice of bequeathing, or devising lands to the church had become from the early centuries after the Norman conquests an increasing burden. It was estimated at one time that practically half the land in England was owned either by the church or institutions. Agitation began in the English parliament as early as 1279 to deal with the evils arising from this transfer of land. In the reign of George II, 1736, the Mortmain (dead hand) act was passed and this was amended in the reign of Victoria 1888 by the Mortmain and Charitable acts combined, in which no bequest for a charitable use was to involve the acquisition of land. In 1891 the statute was revised to make it possible that land might be bequeathed, but must be sold within a year, unless released from the provisions of the act by a commission. There have been several modifications since.

Q.—What is the difference between clear and fair in a weather report?—S. D. T.

A.—Clear signifies not only no rain, snow, or sleet ahead, but a sky practically free from clouds, while fair, also promising no precipitation, does not exclude some clouds from the sky.

Q.—How much money is spent in drug stores by the average person?—R. E. K.

A.—Market Data says that there are 59,488 retail drug stores located in approximately 14,000 cities, towns and villages throughout the United States. This is approximately one drug store for every 2,000 persons. The average per capita expenditure in drug stores in this country is slightly over $14 and is said to be much higher in urban than in rural districts.

Q.—Is near beer made from the same materials that were used for beer before prohibition?—A. M.

A.—Near beer is beer from which the alcohol has been removed in denaturation plants. The alcohol removed from the beer is used as industrial alcohol. The same raw materials are used as in the making of the beer consumed prior to prohibition.

Q.—Who was the Lord Calvert after whom a number of things such as food products and hotels have been named?—D. H.

A.—There never has been a Lord Calvert. Calvert is the family name of the Lords Baltimore. Inasmuch as no Lord Baltimore ever was in America but sons or brothers of such lords who bore the name of Calvert represented them here, confusion has arisen and the title of lord has been attached to Calvert whereas it should only be attached to Baltimore.

What's Wrong With Your Shape?

During the course of my travels in a recent trip through Europe I took the opportunity of visiting some of the larger museums. I found of special interest the statues by the ancient Greek masters because they had succeeded in carving into cold stone perfections of line and form which we rarely see today. So perfect are the contours of some of the statues which have survived these hundreds of years that it seems as though the sculptors must have drawn their models from a superhuman race. In these finer statues I could discover no trace of spinal curvature, knock-knees, flat chests, or any of the other deformities which are so common today.

Looking Healthy or Sickly

From my experience as a physician I am thoroughly convinced that the shape of the figure has a very definite relation to the condition of health in the body. In describing the symptoms of disease, one creates a picture of ugliness, and, in describing perfect health, one is forced to draw from the imagination pictures which are very much like the Grecian statues of Apollo and Aphrodite. The alterations produced by disease are so pronounced that any competent diagnostician can distinguish a healthy person from a sick one simply by the general appearance. In many cases it is possible to recognize the principal disease with just a general inspection.

The next time you go swimming in a public beach or pool, glance about, and you will realize how much easier on the eyes many of your fellow swimmers would be if they had received the best dietetic and cultural care when they were children, and, if there were no disease among them, and none of them showed evidence of long-continued malnutrition, improperly balanced feeding or gluttony. If these swimmers had been properly raised with the right diet and exercises and according to the health rules which are known, we would not see the great variation of shapes which are now so common. Instead we would see Apollos and Dianas on every hand.

We are beginning to hear a great deal of controversy about what constitutes the proper size and shape of bathing suits. I would like to say here that I believe that the abbreviated bathing suit does a great deal of good, not only by permitting the healthful rays of the sun to reach the skin, but also by making us conscious of our own shortcomings and more desirous of attaining better looking and healthier figures. Just take one of the old prints of a woman in a mid-Victorian bathing suit where she wears long sleeves and a skirt that comes half way between the knees and ankles, and compare that with our modern bathing suits and you will see that there has been a vast improvement.

Occupational Causes

I know that the conditions under which we are forced to live are not conducive to the development of beautiful bodies, although our attitude seems to be improving in this respect. One who sits at a desk all day certainly has some disadvantages physically, as does one who toils in a factory or in the field. But I believe that many of these handicaps can be largely overcome if we have the desire and the willpower to do the things which are good for us in our spare time. One of the drawbacks in any civilized community is that it encourages specialization. An individual must be able to do something uncommonly well or he is liable to be dragged into the mire of failure. This specializing forces us to use some special muscles and some particular attitudes to the neglect of others. We are compelled to occupy only a limited number of positions during many hours and this interferes with our health and beauty unless we take special care to develop a hobby which will correct one-sided work.

I am often astounded at the remarkable changes many patients undergo while following the right diet, exercise and hygenic methods. Many of them blossom out into astounding beauties even in cases that looked exceedingly hopeless in the beginning.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Ear Noises

Question—Miss Ruth C. writes: "Have had whistling noises in my head for over one year, following a severe illness. Frequently get a tired feeling in the heart. Would it be injurious for me to work in a place where the air is filled with gold dust which is printed on labels? My lungs are not any too strong. I am 24 years old."

Answer—If you will write me again, giving me your full name and address, I will be glad to send you my article on ear noises, together with fasting and dieting instructions. The breathing of the air filled with the gold bronze can certainly not be healthful, especially if the lungs are affected, but I do not believe this would cause your ear noises.

Reducing Fat Arms

Question—Mr. H. writes: "Can you tell me why most of my weight goes to my arms? I am five feet, 4½ inches tall and weigh 180 pounds. My arms are enormous. Do you think it is my glands that do not work right? I will be glad to get your opinion on it."

Answer—Glandular deficiency sometimes cause fatty deposits in localized areas; however, you are a great deal overweight and probably not only in your arms. I would advise you to take the fasting and dieting instructions on reducing which appeared a short time ago in this newspaper and also use vigorous exercises to improve the circulation as this will tend to distribute the deposits more evenly over the body. The use of the vibrator and massage over the enlarged areas is also advisable.

PRESSNELL HURLS SEVEN-HIT GAME TO DEFEAT PIRATES, 4-2

COX AND RYE CLOUT HOMERS

San Antonio Tribe Opens Series Here Today

By FRED THOMPSON

Tot Pressnell registered his first victory of the season in impressive fashion at Athletic park yesterday afternoon, holding the Galveston Buccaneers to seven scattered hits as the Spudders won the lone contest with the Pirates, 4 to 2.

Pressnell received immaculate support and never was in danger. Galveston's two runs came as the result of home run wallops by Larry Cox and Gene Rye, Cox blasting his out to start the seventh inning and Rye following suit after two were out in the ninth.

The Pirates were not able to continue the scoring after the two four-base hits, however, and another rally, in the eighth inning, which started with Hungling's rap to left, was nipped in the bud by Pressnell, who fanned the next two batters and forced the third to pop up.

The Big Inning

Carroll, big right-hander who was with the Pirates last year and whose pitching has much improved, did a fine job for his club with the exception of the fifth inning, his one bad frame, in which the locals tallied three times when Scharein tripled with the bases loaded.

Carroll went out for a pinch hitter in the eighth after allowing only seven hits, and the Spudders registered their other run off Tubbs in the eighth when Fuss doubled and Badgro singled.

Bear Allday, Galveston second baseman, and Bud Hungling, Pirate catcher, both with Wichita Falls last year, got a big hand from a ladies' day crowd of about 600.

Today the Spudders open a three-game series with the San Antonio Indians.

Art Steals Second

After Allday had popped to Green in the first Fausett lined a single through the box but Bell hit into a double play, Scharein to Clift to Green. After Garms had flied to center in the home half Scharein singled and stole second but was stranded when Fuss and Badgro were retired on rollers to Carroll and Allday, respectively.

The Bucs went down in order in the second, Cox hoisting to center, and Euller and Scharein handling successive grounders by Rye and Molesworth. In the home half, Severeid singled but Euller flied to Bell and Clift popped to Fausett.

McGhee rolled out to the box to start the third. Hungling walked but was forced at second by Carroll, Euller to Scharein, and Allday grounded out, Clift to Green. Carroll retired the Spuds in order in the home half, Pressnell hoisting to Rye in center, Garms to Cox in left, and Scharein to Bell in right.

With one out in the fourth Bell beat out an infield hit to short, but both Cox and Rye dribbled out, pitcher to first. Carroll got out of a hole in the home half. Fuss opened with a single to right. Badgro flied to left. Green lined a single through the box, Fuss taking second, but Severeid flied to Cox in left and Fuss was doubled off second, Cox to Allday.

Spuds Take Lead

With one out in the fifth, McGhee singled to left but Hungling hit into a double play, Scharein to Clift to Green. The Spuds took the lead in their half. Euller singled to left. Clift bunted to the box. Carroll threw wild making a play for Euller at second, and both runners were safe. Pressnell was out bunting the third strike foul. Garms walked, loading the bases. Scharein tripled against the left field fence, scoring Euller, Clift and Garms. Scharein was out at home when Carroll pitched out as Fuss intended to bunt. Fuss flied to left, retiring the side.

Carroll fanned to start the sixth. Allday lined a single over Green's head but the next two went out, Fausett hoisting to Garms and Bell to Fuss. Badgro singled to start the home half but Green hit into a double play, Fausett to Allday to McGhee, and Severeid struck out.

Cox started the seventh with a home run wallop over the center field fence. The next three went down, Rye fouling out to Green, Molesworth hoisting to Badgro in left, and McGhee to Garms in center. With two out in the home half, Pressnell reached second when Molesworth threw wild after recovering his grounder to short, but Garms flied out to Rye for the third out.

Rye Hts Homer

Hungling singled to left to open the eighth. Thurman went in to run for him. Ballew batted for Carroll and fanned. Allday also whiffed and Fausett popped to Scharein. In the home half Tubbs went to the mound for the Bucs, with Allen catching. Scharein, first up, fouled out to Allen. Fuss doubled down the left field foul line and scored on Badgro's single to center. Badgro took second on the throw-in. Green skied to center and Severeid popped up to Molesworth, retiring the side.

In the ninth, Bell and Cox both popped to Clift. Rye slammed a home run over the scoreboard on the centerfield wall, but Molesworth grounded out, Clift to Green, and the game was over.

Chisox Acquire Catcher in Trade With Red Sox

BOSTON, April 29. (AP)—The Boston Red Sox management tonight announced it had traded Charley Berry, first string catcher, to the Chicago White Sox for Outfielders Johnny Watwood and Smead Jolley and Benny Tate, a catcher. In another deal with the White Sox, Jack Rothrock, Red Sox utility outfielder for the past five seasons, was sold for the $7,500 waiver price.

Swedish Prince Named Motion Picture Official

Prince Sigvard was instrumental in bringing about the friendship between Greta Garbo, Swedish Hollywood star, and Wilhelm Sorensen, Stockholm author, to whom Miss Garbo was recently reported engaged. Both Sorensen and Miss Garbo issued denials.

Beaumont Pilot Protests Game Blaming Ump

DALLAS, April 29. (AP)—The Dallas Steers won a protested ball game from Beaumont here today, 7 to 1. Manager Del Baker of Beaumont protested the game after Umpire Kober allowed Loepp to score in the second inning on Styles' batted ball that hit Kober on the leg and bounced into the outfield. Manager Baker claimed the ball should have counted for a hit and that all runners should have held their bases since first base was' open for a runner. Loepp scored and Holman moved from second to third on the play.

George Murray, Dallas right-hander, pitched a fine four-hit game. Greenberg socked him for a home run in the ninth for Beaumont's lone run. Catches by Loepp in center field and James at second featured the game. Zeke Bonur hit a home run for Dallas to start the second. Loepp hit a home run in the third with three runners on. Score:

Fordham Youth Wins Steeplechase

By ALAN GOULD

FRANKLIN FIELD, Philadelphia, April 29. (AP)—The first major offensive along the eastern track and field fronts today developed Joe McCluskey of Fordham university as the foremost American candidate for 1932 Olympic steeplechase running honors.

McCluskey overcame J. C. Watson, Indiana star, and carried the Fordham youth to a new American record for the 3,000-meter steeplechase. McCluskey's time of 9 minutes, 28.6 seconds, not only wiped out his own best previous mark of 9:38, made in last year's carnival, but camec lose to the unofficial world decord of 9:21 4-5 set by the Finnish runner, Loukola,' at the 1928 Olympic games.

The 400-meter hurdle record was topped by Eugene Beatty, negro star from Michigan normal. Beatty skimmed the barriers in the fine time of 53.3 seconds to surpass the American collegiate carnival mark of 54.4 seconds made in 1924 by Ivan Riley of Kansas State.

The decathlon, usually one of the carnival's most spectacular features drew only four entries and resulted in a dicisive victory for George Munger of Pennsylvania over his outstanding rival, Joseph Hall of the University of Florida.

Hall led for the first seven events but fell off badly in the last three, the pole vault, discus and 1,500-meter run. Munger, growing better as the grind proceeded, wound up with a winning total of 7324.5995 points. This was more than 250 points higher than Hall's final total of 7057.8625 but it fell more than 400 points shrort of touching the carnival record set last year by Barney Berlinger of Pennsylvania.

The third record performance in major relay events was credited to schoolboy runners from Hamilton Collegiate Institute of Canada, who beat a huge field of 40 teams, covering the distance medley relay route, 1¾ miles, in 7 minutes, 47.4 seconds, to capture interscholastic honors. They displaced the former record of 7.48.8 set by Lakewood, Ohio, High school in 1929.

Walker, Floored in First Round, Comes Back to Whip Levinsky

CHICAGO STADIUM, CHICAGO, April 29. (AP)—Mickey Walker, floored in the first round, came back to win a 10-round decision over King Levinsky, in their battle fought before a crowd of 18,000 or more in the Chicago stadium tonight.

Walker earned the decision by his everlasting charging into Levinsky, and punishing him with left hooks and rights to the body. Walker was floored in the first with a left hook to the chin, but he jumped up just as the count was getting started.

The verdict however, was not unanimous. Referee Eddie Purdy voted for Levinsky, with the two judges declaring for Walker.

Walker was outweighed 23 pounds scaling 172 to 195 for Levinsky.

Walker won because of his experience, ring-craft and ability to sink a murderous left hook deep in the pit of the Kingfish's stomach.

Levinsky had trouble getting away from Mickey's left to the stomach and Walker's ceaseless body punching gradually slowed him up, so the swinging Kingfish fought only in spurts in the closing rounds.

In the eighth, however, after Walker had stung Levinsky with two left hooks to the head, the Kingfish knocked Micked spinning half way across the ring. Walker, however, kept to his feet and came back to trade punches.

In the seventh round some of the spectators thought Walker had scored a knockdown, when Levinsky hit the canvas, as the result of a wild swing. He jumped up, however, grinning sheepishly.

The fight by rounds:

Round One

Walker poked his left to the body at the very start. Walker swung a right that was high to the head after an exchange of body punches and then began pumping lefts to the body. Levinsky nailed walker with two right uppercuts to the jaw. Levinsky floored mickey with a left hook to the jaw but he jumped to his feet instantly. He chased Mickey into a corner with the crowd in an uproar. Walker was so dazed that he went to Levinsky's corner instead of his own.

Round Two

Round Three

They traded punches to the head in mid-ring before Levinsky brought a heavy right uppercut crashing against Mickey's jaw. Mickey hooked a hard left to the body and caught a hard right in return. Levinsky motioned Walker to come on and fight and drove both fists to the body. Walker then ripped a left to the body with Levinsky swinging a right to the head.

Round Four

Walker crowded in to hook a left to the jaw. And then Levinsky nailed him with a right and left to the head. Levinsky dug two lefts and two rights to the body with Walker boxing cautiously. Walker drove two rights under the heart, and caught a right to the head in return.

Round Five

Walker centered his attack to the body with left hooks at the start of the fifth with Levinsky throwing punches to the head. Suddenly Walker lashed out with four left hooks to the stomach, the last of which made Levinsky wince. Walker drove a right to the body without a return. Levinsky backed away from the bulldog's heavy assault. They slugged toe to toe in mid ring as the round ended.

Round Six

Mickey waded in, but fell into a right uppercut to the jaw. Mickey punished Levinsky around the body as they came together, connecting with left hooks. Levinsky landed two rights to the head. Walker staggered Levinsky for a second with a left blast to the jaw, but Levinsky continued to slug as the round ended.

Round Seven

Mickey lashed in with a left hook to the chin and ducked a wild right to the head. They whaled away at the body at close range with Walker scoring effectively. Levinsky missed a wild right, falling to the floor. He crowded to the ropes. Then he suddenly dashed to mid ring throwing punches to the head in a furious rally. Walker hooked a left to the head after they got into the open and then whipped a left to the body.

Round Eight

Mickey walked out to throw left hooks to the body. Levinsky seemed to be unable to get away from those blows. They exchanged rights to the head. Walker stung Levinsky with two lefts to the head and the infuriated kingfish swung a heavy right to the jaw and knocked Mickey half way across the ring. Walker however came right back to trade punches.

Round Nine

Walker stung Levinsky with two lefts to the jaw. Levinsky motioned for Walker to come on and they slugged viciously landing with both hands to the head and body. Levinsky was wild with some of his shots. Walker poked two lefts and rights to the head with Levinsky missing.

Round 10

Walker forced the fighting by ripping lefts and rights to the body. Levinsky then chased him to a corner connecting with a heavy right to the head. Walker scored effectively in the infighting with Levinsky trying to connect to the jaw. Levinsky suddenly lashed out with both hands as Mickey backed into the ropes. Walker drove a left hook to the jaw and Levinsky swung desperately to the head as the fight ended.

U. S. Netters Enter Second Round Of Davis Cup Play

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—A headlong attack by the national doubles champions — black-haired Johnny van Ryn and blond Wilmer Allison—carried the United States into the second round of American zone Davis cup competition today with a decisive victory over Canada.

Living up to their reputation as one of the greatest doubles teams in the world, the hard-hitting Americans dynamited their way to a 6-2, 6-1, 6-2, triumph over Dr. Jack Wright and Marcel Rainville, Canada's first and second ranking players.

The victory gave the home forces the necessary three victories out of five as Allison and Ellsworth Vines, the young national champion, beat Rainville and Wright in the opening singles matches yesterday. Tomorrow's two singles matches cannot affect the result.

Off to a good start in the chase for international tennis supremacy the young American team will meet Mexico next month at New Orleans with a prospect of facing Australia later at Philadelphia, if successful.

Giant-Killing Senators Plaster Philadelphia Champs Again, 2-1

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—The giant-killing pastime of the Washington Senators advanced today with Philadelphia falling, 2 to 1, before the five-hit pitching of Monte Weaver, sensational young right-hander.

It was Weaver's fourth straight victory of the year and the Senators' fifth defeat of the befuddled champions.

Defeated in eight of their last nine starts, the Athletics played errorless ball behind Earnshaw's good pitching today but were unable to break through Weaver and his fast support which chalked up three double plays.

They scored their only run in the sixth after Bishop walked, Haas singled, Cochrane walked, and Simmons flied to Manush, scoring Bishop. With two on and one out, however, Foxx hit into a fast double play, Cronin to Myer to Judge.

The Senators scored one run in the first on Reynolds' double to left and Judge's line single to center. Weaver aided in winning his own game in the next inning when he singled to center advanced to second on Myer's grounder to the pitcher and scored on Cronin's single to left.

Simmons opened the ninth by singling to right but the next three men went out. Roettger, pinch-hitting for Dykes, ended the game with a grounder to Cronin. Score:

YANKS WIN FIFTH STRAIGHT

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—The Yankees won their fifth straight game today, downing the Boston Red Sox, 8 to 7, despite the poor support they gave to Ivy Paul Andrews, rookie right-hander.

The Yanks piled up a six-run lead off Russell, Moore and Weiland in the first three innings, then lost most of it when they made two errors in the fifth while Andrews gave three hits, a walk and a wild pitch that netted the Sox five runs. Score:

Wichita Hardware Wins Over Highway, 6 to 3

Wichita Hardware staged a last inning rally to nose out the Highway Garage, 6 to 3, Friday afternoon on Debus field in a Commercial league game. Red Reid let the automobile doctors down with only four hits, all of which were bunched in the fifth inning for the three tallies. Skipper Willard Norris' long triple in the sixth inning proved the deciding factor after the game appeared to be lost. A triple by Lawerence had proven to be the big punch in the Highway Garage's one big inning. Score:

COLLEGE RELAY RECORD FALLS

Indiana Team Sets Mark At Drake Classic

By DON M'GUIRE

DRAKE STADIUM, DES Moines, Iowa, April 29. (AP)—Athletes of the Western conference contributed three new marks to the Drake relays today in the opening rounds of the 23rd annual classic.

Indiana's medley relay team shattered the intercollegiate record in that event, while George Saling, University of Iowa hurdler, and John Brooks, Chicago university negro broad jumper, set new marks in their individual specialties.

The Hoosiers, anchored by the driving Henry Brocksmith, raced the 10 laps of the medley relay in the impressive time of 10:19.1, which bettered by nine-tenths of a second the intercolegiate mark made by a Yale quartet in 1915. The time likewise improved the old Drake mark of 10:21.6 made by Iowa State last year.

Brocksmith was clocked in 4:17 for his mile and finished 120 yards ahead of Howery, Notre Dame star.

Fast on Hurdles

The record breaking performance of Saling was the first event on the program. He raced the 120-yard high hurdles in 14.6 seconds. The old mark was 14.7 made by Hager of Iowa State last year. Saling finished well in front of Roden of Wisconsin.

Brooks in the broad jump leaped 24 feet 8 3-8 inches, to better by 5⅝ inches a record set by Dehart Hubbard of Michigan in 1924.

In the 100-yard dash preliminaries, Thompson, University of Minnesota ace who won the event at the Kansas relays last week, tangled with Klainer of Kansas and Tierney of Marquette in the fastest heat and finished third, out of the qualifiers. Time, 9.9 seconds.

Ralpeh Metcalfe, Marquette, won the second heat. He and Tierney also collaborated in giving Marquette victories in their heats of the 440 and 800-yard relays.

Fail to Qualify

The University of Iowa half mile quartet, winners at Kansas last week, hooked up with Illinois and Nebraska in one heat and failed to qualify. The Hawkeyes, however, came through to qualify in the mile relay along with two other Iowa teams, Iowa State and Grinnell. Michigan and Missouri were the winners in the two heats of this race.

Except for Brooks' performance in the broad jump, the field events failed to provide any particular sensations. The best performance was that of Hugh Rhea of Nebraska, who put the shot 50 feet ½ inch to begin defense of his title in this event. Rhea also qualified in discus throw.

High jumping display was the poorest in any event, only four men being able to clear the qualifying height of 6 feet 1⅝ inches.

Quanah Indians Beat Football Exes, 6 to 0

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, April 29.—The 1932 Indian football squad held the Exes to a lone touchdown in the first practice game of the year played Thursday afternoon.

Handicapped by a wet field, the game was slowed down and spin plays and reverses were ineffective.

The lone touchdown was made in the second quarter when Mitchell, Indian right half, butter-fingered the ball while making a wild dash to sack it. Norman, Exes left end, took the ball, raced down the side line for half the length of the field for the tally.

The new Indian '32 squad has prospects for another bid at the district championship. Jones, filling the position of fullback, turned in a game equal to Rogers, the triple threat man of the district champions of '31. Barnett, center, out-punted the Exes. Folsom, at end, shows the best prospects in that position yet displayed on the squad.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—More active and general selling developed in cotton today with prices breaking $1.50 or more per bale under the pressure, attributed largely to liquidation of long accounts after weakness in wheat and stocks, reports of beneficial rains in the South, and talk of a probable increase in domestic mill curtailment.

Prices for all active months made new low records for the life of the present contract, with July selling off to 5.81 or 31 points net lower. That delivery closed at 5.86 with the general market closing barely steady at net declines of 25 to 33 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 3 to 7 points under renewed liquidation and commission house selling influenced by relatively easy Liverpool cables. Initial offerings were quite readily absorbed by covering and trade buying, but the selling became more active after the call on reports of rains in the western belt.

Some stop orders were uncovered as prices worked off and while there was enough demand to establish a temporary point of resistance around the 6-cent level for July, it was supplied on slight bulges, with the market soon showing renewed weakness. May sold off to 5.68 and December to 6.15, during the afternoon, making net losses of 29 to 38 points, and while the pressure subsided somewhat at these figures, closing quotations were within 4 to 7 points of the lowest for the day.

Some of the selling on the afternoon decline appeared to come from the South and was rumored to be partly for the account of southern mills supposed to be influenced by a continued poor demand for goods.

There was also a good deal of wire or commission house selling attributed to liquidation of tired or discouraged long accounts, and business was more active than for some time past. A good part of the buying was said to be on old resting orders from the trade, while the decline brought in a good deal of covering.

Liverpool cables reported hedging and liquidation in that market and said there was no improvement in the demand for cotton goods at Manchester. Exports today 22,640 making 7,451,527 so far this season. Port receipts 12,153. U. S. port stocks 4,103,759.

Futures closed barely steady, 25-33 lower. Spot quiet; middling 5.85.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, April 29. (AP)—Cotton was active today but prices declined sharply being at one time more than a dollar and a half a bale down. Weakness in stocks and wheat and good rains both in cotton and wheat belts caused general liquidation and prices closed barely steady, showing net losses for the day of 26 to 31 points.

Rains in the cotton belt had a depressing influence.

In the early afternoon and July dropped to 5.78, October to 6.01 and Decemeber to 6.17, down 3 to 33 points from the previous close.

The market rallied around the middle of the afternoon on satisfied shorts covering and on some trade buying at the decline and July advanced to 5.91, up 13 points from the low. The market however eased off again near the end, losing 6 points of the recovery and the close showed a net loss of 26 points on July, 27 points on October and 31 on December for the day.

Liverpool is due tomorrow on New Orleans 9 to 10 penny points down.

Port receipts 10,359, for week 86,624, for season 9,454,465, last season 8,699,129. Exports 24,193, for week 101,217, for season 7,307,446, last season 5,830,428. Price Decline Continues While Utilities Shares Find New Lows

By BRODAN WALL

NEW YORK, April 29. (US)—Prices continued to decline today for stocks and bonds. Industrial and public utility shares slumped to brand new lows for the entire bear market and this performance was also duplicated in the average bond prices. Strangely, railroad shares on the average held above the previous bottom, though by such margin as to remove any possible significance to their performance for the day.

The selling had all the earmarks of continued liquidation; there were some observers estimating that the total short interest in the market as of the close of April will be disclosed as the smallest on record. A small St. Louis brokerage failure had little or no effect on the general list; the bankruptcy resulted chiefly from the frozen condition of "local" securities.

The persistency of offering in preferred stocks indicated that institutional selling was in the market, and from the character of the preferred shares in supply it was deduced that insurance companies were the major sellers. This would confirm the opinion previously expressed here that latest official "suggestions" from insurance authorities to the companies under their jurisdiction are responsible for part of this selling.

Weakness of preferred shares could be coupled with the offerings of many bonds, so far as the explanation of insurance selling is concerned. Insurance companies are enormous holders of securities; fire insurance companies are virtually "investment trusts."

Such selling as now to exert the same depressing effect on responsible sentiment as it might have occasioned not so many weeks back. The existence of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, liberalization of federal reserve requirements and the reserve system's credit-expansion policy, combined form a formidable cushion against just such eventualities.

Regardless of the current action of the securities markets, underneath the surface there is tremendous activity in investment circles. Most of this activity is being directed toward uncovering bonds of attraction. The great banks are slowly realizing that the enormous glut of funds makes it almost imperative that they begin to consider bonds as investments. One of the outstanding bankers of the day privately remarked: "It is but a question of time for the banks to make handsomep profits out of bond purchases."

There was little cheer in the day's developments, but the observant noted genuine constructive thought in the Interstate Commerce commission's approval of aid to the St. Louis-San Francisco railway. The commission ratified immediate assistance to the road, but major financial aid will depend upon the Frisco's ability to convince the I. C. C. that it has been able to effect a "reduction in fixed charges." The commission bluntly asserted that the road is over-capitalized. This is the difficulty confronting almost the entire railroad structure: Excessive capitalization. If this depression results in permanent scaling down of the railroad capital this development will mark a distinct and far-reaching benefit to be derived by the entire country.

The brokerage failure afforded additional evidence of the stubbornness with which certain interests still resist natural tendencies pricewise. International Shoe, in which St. Louis interests held dominant position, was heavily sold, but the stock remained "pegged" at $36 or better. This same issue on several occasions has shown evidence of similar pegging. It was officially revealed that 250,000 of its own shares had been purchased by the company. This practice of repurchasing their own stock has proven costly to many companies. Brown Shoe, another issue affected by the failure, dropped more than six points.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 29. (AP)—Executing a quick right-about-face, wheat values late today rallied completely from a stop-loss selling rush to the lowest figures in a month.

Big buying of wheat developed near the end of the day, largely owing to re-appearance of good export demand for United States hard winter wheat, the first time in three weeks. A further stimulating influence was late announcement that Germany's import duty on wheat had been reduced.

Wheat closed irregular, ¼ of a cent off to ⅛c up compared with yesterday's finish, corn ⅝@¾c down, oats unchanged to ⅝c lower and provisions varying from 12c decline to a rise of 3c.

Late recovery of wheat was attributed to a first-hand unofficial report confirming recent low estimates of the 1932 domestic winter wheat crop southwest, and especially emphasizing that a large part of the planted acreage was beyond any help by recent rains. There was also particular notice taken of an authoritative private summary showing that United States spring wheat seeding was much later than last year and considerably later than the average. On the other hand, moisture was reported as pretty general over the spring wheat country, assuring satisfactory germinating conditions.

Indications were that a liberal amount of United States hard winter wheat had been bought today for export. This was deemed more than usually significant in connection with the fact that Germany had reduced her import duty from 250 to 180 marks a ton until June 1. Advices of a renewal of dust storms in parts of the southwest were also a late element of strength, whereas earlier the market had been bearishly affected by weakness of [illegible] downturn in wheat quotations at Liverpool, and a drop to new bottom price records for cotton, together with heavy shipments of wheat from below the equator.

All deliveries of corn, oats and rye except [illegible] oats sold today at a new low for the season, with corn outdoing the bottom record since 1898 and oats since 1897. Weakness was ascribed to a wave of general liquidating sales, with rallies later owing to the recovery of wheat.

Provisions sympathised with grain market instability, and went at one stage to a new 1932 low level both for lard and meats.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—May 52½c, 54¼c; July 55½@55⅝c, 57⅝@57¾c; Sept. 57⅞@58c, 60@60⅛c; Dec. 61⅛c, bids. Corn—May 28⅝c; 29⅝c; July 32⅞c; 33⅝@33¾c; Sept. 35c, 35½@36c.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, April 29. (US)—Action of the wheat market today suggested that much of the liquidation was over, at least for the time being. Tomorrow's session is the last before the May delivery. The open interest in that contract has been reduced to around 20,000,000 bushels, which is not large for the first of May. Eastern selling of the July appeared to run its course Thursday, while the last of the local bulls was said to have liquidated today.

More bullish crop news consisted of reports that many western sections of the winter belt were not greatly benefited by the recent rains. This led to speculation as to what the private reports will reveal. They are to be given to the trade Tuesday morning, it is understood.

Spring planting operations in the United States average about 10 days later than a year ago and about five days later than a normal year, Nat C. Murray says.

Weather in Europe has turned warmer and is now favorable for crop development, Broomhall says. Growth is rather backward, owing to a long spell of cool weather, but seasonable temperatures from now on would put the crop in excellent condition, private cables assert.

SCHOOL TAXES DUE SATURDAY

Penalties Take Effect After April 30

Approximately 30 receipts for school tax payments were issued Friday, a check by Supt. H. D. Fillers revealed. Saturday, May 30, is the last day school taxes may be paid without a delinquent penalty attached and the public of Wichita Falls is urged by school authorities to respond to the definite need of the schools for financial aid at this time.

It is up to the individual taxpayer to make every effort to meet his own obligation and with such action the board hopes to close the current term free of debt. At present instructors in the schools are several weeks behind in salary payments and other debts run the total well above the $100,000 mark, Mr. Fillers pointed out.

In view of the slashed budget for the 1932-33 session, cut $130,000 under the current year's budget, the importance of opening the schools next September without a debt from the present session can not be over emphasized, board members declared.

Mr. Bradford will be one of the featured speakers at the Texas Commercial Executives association convention at Mineral Wells May 4-6, and Secretary Wilburn Page of the junior chamber will attend the convention May 5 to return Mr. Bradford to this city.

Manager John Boswell of the Wichita Falls chamber will be a speaker at the executives' meeting and will read a paper and conduct a discussion of program of work activity. Mr. Boswell is regarded as a leading authority in the United States on program of work study.

Two Men Charged With Robbing of Farmer

HOUSTON, April 29. (AP)—Joe Monigolia, 39, and Jack Ventimiglia, 48, were held today on charges of robbery and impersonating an officer in connection with the robbery of T. J. Lowery at his farm home near here.

Lowery identified them as two of three men who entered his home Wednesday night, posing as "Binford's (Sheriff T. A. Binford's) men," and took $9 from him.

A third man was being sought.

Ventimiglia said he formerly lived in St. Louis.

The arrests were made by Binford's deputies.

Rail Employe Freed In Houston Killing

HOUSTON, April 29. (AP)—Walter B. May, 49, railroad employe, was free under $1,500 bail today in the killings yesterday of H. B. Crowder, 42, former convict. May, charged with murder, said he shot in self-defense.

"Crowder had been slipping it over on the police, but he couldn't do it on me," May said. He added that Crowder had caused him financial loss by defaulting on notes.

LOCAL GROCERS DISPLAYING NEW SHREDDED BISCUIT

Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit One of Most Improved Foods Introduced in Recent Years

Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuits offer many new and outstanding features which appeal to the housewife. For one thing, the biscuits are toasted a golden brown on both top and bottom—not just one side. That seems to double the crispness.

The new Kellogg biscuit is also baked in a more convenient, economical size. Two biscuits just fit the cereal bowl—and you get 15 to the package instead of a dozen.

Mothers will especially be interested in the fact that every package is certified for food value by the Medical Arts Laboratory of Philadelphia. These new biscuits are considered a splendid food for both adults and children. With hot or cold milk or cream, they supply a healthful variety of vitamins, minerals, proteins and carbohydrates.

In baking these improved biscuits, the Kellogg Company uses a special process of "pressure-cooking" which retains all the food value of the whole wheat and makes it very easy to digest. At the same time it develops a tempting, delicious flavor.

These improved biscuits can be identified by the name, Kellogg's, and the familiar red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Drug-Crazed Woman Killed in Gun Battle With Police

Officers Return Fire as Divorcee Forced Out by Tear Gas

LOS ANGELES, April 29. (US)—Driven from her house by tear gas bombs after she had shot and fatally wounded Patrolman Paul Donath and had emerged with her gun blazing wildly, Ella May Thompson, 30, was instantly killed today by the fire of half a dozen police guns.

Hundreds of spectators were held back by police lines about the little house during the brief but desperate siege, while Donath, who had gone with Patrolman P. D. Gunby, to investigate a complaint that Mrs. Thompson had fired a shot at a neighbor, lay dying on the sidewalk and the woman, believed crazed with disease and drugs, was shouting defiance at the officers.

Donath went to the door and Mrs. Thompson, also known as Ella May Alger, refused to admit him. When he again demanded admittance, Mrs. Thompson suddenly began firing. A bullet struck Donath in the chest, and he stumbled back, to collapse on the sidewalk.

Police hurled tear gas bombs into the house. Choking in the fumes, Mrs. Thompson ran out of the back door, her gun in her black-gloved right hand, and a large picture of J. W. Baldwin, wealthy auto dealer for whom she formerly worked, clasped in her left hand.

She was shooting wildly as she came, bullets whizzing past the heads of police officers and citizens.

Police, some armed with sawed-off shotguns, turned their fire upon the woman knowing that a score of persons were in imminent danger from her bullets.

Mrs. Thompson collapsed under the hail of bullets, and fell dead.

Seeking to question Baldwin concerning what he might know of the woman, Chief of Detectives Joe Taylor was told, he said, that Baldwin was "out of town for a few days."

A suit filed Oct. 16, 1931, by Roy Luther Alger, charged that shortly after he and the woman were married in May, 1931, Baldwin began attentions which eventually caused her to leave her husband.

Mother Poisons Baby And Shoots Herself

FORT SCOTT, Kan., April 29. (UP)—Authorities today inclined to the belief that Mrs. Joseph W. Hutchinson, 27-year-old mother, had poisoned her 20-month old son, and then shot herself.

Bodies of the two were found on a bed in the woman's home early today. They had been dead at least two days. At first police had believed there was a possibility a double murder had been committed.

The husband and father recently had filed suit for divorce, it was said, and it was believed grief over this domestic trouble was responsible for the woman's action.

Twenty Patients Saved In Fire at Hospital

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 29. (INS)—Twenty patients, including three infants, were carried to safety when flames swept the x-ray annex of the South Highland infirmary this afternoon.

Use of non-inflammable films saved probable disaster, fire authorities said. The fire originated in the infirmary kitchen. No one was injured.

MAGNOLIA, Miss., April 29. (INS)—Two factories and a dozen residences were damaged by violent windstorms that struck here shortly before noon today.

No deaths or injuries were reported.

Montague Citizens Give Data On Road Project As Warrants Election Nears

Special to The Record News.

NOCONA, Texas, April 29.—Increasing interest is evident in the coming election to determine whether or not Montague county shall issue warrants totaling $40,000 to improve state highway 5 through the county.

The election is slated for Saturday, May 14. If the issue carries funds will be provided for the purchase of right of way, after which, according to an agreement with the highway commission, the state will construct the road.

A Nocona citizens committee has prepared data in connection with the construction of the road and the election as follows:

State to Do Work

Work on the route across the county is divided into two units, after the righ of way has been secured. Unit one provides for the construction of the road with state funds. Unit two provides for hard surfacing.

The state's agreement is that the highway commission will construct only unit one of the project.

Under the proposed plan of financing the project, the Bowie and Forestburg precincts will have none of the expense to bear, the total cost to be borne by the two precincts in the northern part of the county, through which the route extends.

Liberal Agreement

The agreement with the highway department places the county under no obligation to ever expend funds in the construction of unit two, which is the hard surfacing or paving of the road. The project, as it now stands, does not involve the completion of unit two for the immediate future.

It is estimated that the right of way will cost $25,000 or less. About $2,500 per year would be required to provide interest and sinking fund sufficient to retire the warrants in 15 years. The two precincts involved would be required to divide this expense evenly, each paying about $1,250 per year.

No Tax Increase

Each precinct has available annually about $16,000 for road funds. On April 13, this year, each had received $13,285.84 of this amount for the current year. Advocates of the warrant issue cite these figures with the declaration that it would be a simple matter for each precinct to pay its allotted $1,250 annually from this fund.

It is the further contention of the committee that paying for the warrants from the road and bridge fund, which is the plan of the county commissioners court, would involve no increase in taxes and would cause no increase in valuations of property.

Important Project

The construction of highway 5 through the county, linking the state from east to west, is considered one of the foremost and most essential road projects of the state. It is one of the few strips of unimproved highway in this section of Texas and its completion is anticipated as a major benefit to the residents of this section.

The committee compiling data relative to the cost of the highway is composed of G. W. Humphreys, J. A. Fooshee, W. J. Stone, Cad McCall, T. B. Wilkes and Joe Janeway.

Saturday Last Day to Render City Property

Warning that all real and personal property not rendered for taxation by owners before Saturday night, April 30, will be placed on the unrendered roll was given again Friday by V. R. Smitham, city manager.

Owners of property placed on the unrendered roll are not privileged to seek adjustments in valuation before the equalization board, it was announced. A general cut of 15 per cent in real estate values is being applied to taxable valuations this year, it was said, but only owners who make renditions before Saturday night will have the right of appeal to the equalization board.

Mother and Daughter Released in Slaying

BROWNWOOD, Texas, April 29. (INS)—A mother and daughter, held on murder charges in connection with the death of the husband and father, were released on $10,000 bond each today at the conclusion of their examining trial.

The two women, Mrs. Willie Meichinger, 45, and her daughter, Nell, 17, are charged with shooting to death Joe Meichinger, prominent Brown county farmer, at their home Wednesday night.

In a statement before Sheriff M. H. Denman, the women said the shooting climaxed a family quarrel during which Meichinger had mistreated his wife.

Child, 4, Quits Car When Mother Stops For Traffic Light

One 4-year-old daughter of a Wichita Falls family is an ardent believer in President Hoover's anti-hoarding campaign and Friday afternoon lost no time in spending two pennies her mother gave her. The young lady had begged her mother all the way to town for some money of her own to spend, and she finally passed two pennies to the daughter on the back seat of a large sedan, meanwhile stopping for a traffic light at Tenth and Lamar. Driving a half block further the mother noticed the absence of sounds from the rear seat and looked around. Daughter was missing!

When Police Officer F. M. Dowdy arrived at the scene the young daughter had been located en route to a drug store with her pennies after noiselessly leaving the car when it had stopped for the traffic light.

BYBEE PLACED IN JAIL HERE

Paducah Man Waits Appeal Of Death Sentence

Pending action of state appellate courts on his petitions, Milton Bybee was placed in the Wichita county jail Friday after being brought here from Paducah by Sheriff A. A. Payne of Cottle county.

Bybee is under death sentence in Cottle county on a charge of robbery with firearms. He was convicted in connection with the robbery and shooting of a hijacking victim who was paralyzed by a bullet wound in the neck. The offense was committed last Feb. 28.

A life term was imposed upon Bybee at Breckenridge recently for murder, the charge resulting from the fatal shooting of Deputy Constable Ollie Parks at a dance hall several weeks ago. The prisoner also is under a 20-year sentence in Shackelford county for hijacking.

One-Act Play Given by Reagan Dramatic Club

"Sauce for the Goslings," a clever one-act play of domestic comedy, was presented at the chapel exercises of the Reagan Junior High school Friday by members of the Dramatic Art club. The club is sponsored by Miss Lennie Mangum of the English department, who will be one of the dramatic art counselors at Camp Waldemar, Kerrville, in the summer.

The cast included David Ashcraft as the father, Richard Taylor; Mary Evelyn Lewis, his wife; James Barnett, their son; Margaret Staniforth, their daughter; Lavaughana Roberts, the grandmother; Charles Protho, the son's friend; and Frances Courtney, a maid. The play was well staged and effectively presented by the cast.

Action was in the living room of the Taylor home, as a typical American home, with the father and mother placing their children in an embarassing social situation at the climax.

AUCTION SALES CLOSED HERE

Farm Market Discontinued Until Fall

Auction sales sponsored by the Valley Development association, opened in January, were discontinued Friday with the April sale until next fall, County Agent G. C. McGown announced. The sales are expected to be resumed in September.

Less interest than in previous sales was shown by farmers of the Wichita Falls area Friday. Farmers are now busy with cultivation and preparation for the summer harvest and the demand for trading or need for farm items is not as great as during the winter, Mr. McGown said.

The top price for dairy cows at the sale Friday was $30, with mules going at $57.50 and hogs at $4. Other livestock was offered as were a few plows and other machinery. A number of private trades were reported which did not go through the auction ring conducted by J. R. Ray with Roy King as clerk.

Eskimo Boy Drags Sled 160 Miles To Save Sick Mother

OTTAWA, April 29. (AP)—A 12-year-old Eskimo boy took a high place today in the long roster of heroes of the far north.

Harnessed to a sled with two ailing dogs, he saved his sick mother's life by pulling her over 160 miles of ice and snow to safety at Wager Inlet post.

The feat, performed in the midst of winter, the wildest time of the year, was described by Constable J. W. McCormack of the Cherfield Inlet post in the annual report of the Royal Canadian Mounted police.

Eladenac, father of the unnamed boy, died in 1930. His wife, Kudluk, stuck to her oath not to remarry and her soon took up the task of hunting food. But his luck was bad, meat was scarce and his mother became seriously ill.

Then the dogs began to die of distemper, until only two were left. So when he saw his mother was getting no better, he put her and his 3-year-old brother on the sled and started the terrible journey, from Igloo to the post.

Kudluk got well, but she is still unmarried. She had rejoined her tribe and accepted the only alternative. She has become the camp drudge.

NEW TELETYPE MAKES DEBUT

Merchants Install Machine For Communications

Use of teletype communication machines for transaction of private business instead of long distance telephone service has appeared in Wichita Falls. Teletype machines first appeared in newspaper offices several years ago, replacing telegraph operators.

The first such machine for private use to be used in this city has recently been installed by the retail merchants association in the Kemp hotel and is used in supplying written confirmation of business, previously handled by telephone. The teletype, one of the latest models, is part of the distribution system of the Bell Telephone company and connections with distant cities are handled through the local exchange.

Miss Thelma Swain, employe of the merchants association, is operator of the new teletype in the office here. Communication over the teletype is available with any city in the nation where similar machines are installed.
