Do You Want Government Economy

It cannot be too often repeated that we will have economy in government when the people want it—and not until then.

What this means is that economy must begin with the taxpayer. It means that we must turn thumbs down on public spending for spending's sake.

It means that there must be an end to spending the tax money contributed by all the people for purposes which affect only the favored few.

People who talk most bitterly about excessive government spending are often the first to whoop is up in favor of an appropriation for their town or state. And the result is the greatest peace-time debt in the history of this or any other nation, and a tax burden that is crushing industries, to the detriment of employment, productive investment, and economic progress.

The cost of government can be cut. The budget can be balanced, and a program looking to the reduction of the national debt can be put into effect, if thrifty citizens demand it. But we will first have to make up our minds to the fact that it is impossible to get something for nothing from government. That may not be pleasant medicine to take, but it is the only way that national bankruptcy and the eventual collapse of our free country can be prevented. Help won't come from spendthrift politicians.

The Light Of Peace Going Out In Europe

Armageddon has come to Europe again. More ominously that ever, seem the words of Lord Grey, Premier of Britain, spoken on that fateful night in 1914 when the start of the first World War was but a few brief hours away: "The lights are going out one by one over Europe. They will not be lit again in our lifetime." And, uppermost in the mind of every American is the role that our nation can and should play in world affairs in this time of disaster abroad.

The President has appealed by radio to the people to maintain neutrality. He has officially proclaimed a state of neutrality, and has, as required by law, declared effective the general arms embargo imposed by the neutrality act. Going by all available evidence, the American people, sympathetic as the bulk of them are with the cause of Britain and France, are vigorously determined to remain neutral in fact if not in thought. The disillusioning lessons learned from our participation in the last war have not been forgotten. Press polls of members of Congress indicate practically unanimous opposition to again sending an A.E.F. to other lands. So do the editorial expressions of leading newspapers.

It is now certain that the President will call a special session of Congress to re-examine our neutrality legislation. The Administration firmly believes that we should sell arms and anything else to warring powers on a cash-and-carry basis, to be transported in their own ships. The principal conflict between White House and Congress last session was caused by this. The isolationists won and the in toto embargo was retained. Up to the very moment when Europe went to war, isolationist feeling was apparently on the increase. But in these tragic and stirring times change in sentiment can and does come with lightning-like rapidity. Late in formation indicates that a number of Senators and Representatives who opposed the Roosevelt-Hull plan have now changed their position. The vote was extremely close when the bill came to the floor last session, and it is possible that the cash-and-carry plan now has a majority.

Theoretically, the cash-and-carry system is a neutral one—any nation can come to our shores, get what it wants and take it home. In actual fact, as everyone knows, it would be of immense aid to the democracies. England absolutely dominates the seas and the trade lanes. In the first few days of the war England captured several German merchantmen, and forced others to seek haven in neutral harbors where they must remain indefinitely. British warships, in view of military experts, will make it possible for the allies to carry on trade with this country on a near normal basis. Any German ship seeking to make a run here and back would face almost certain destruction or capture.

There is one less favorable phase of the cash-and-carry plan so far as the British and French are concerned—and that lies in the belief held by a number of qualified men that we will be able to give the democracies relatively few military supplies—that our own rearmament program will swallow practically all the arms and munitions and planes we can produce. That remains to be seen.

Looking at the war generally, there is one note of hope—the opinion that it cannot last a very long time, because of Germany's great economic weakness, and the clear desire of the masses of her people for peace. One of the best experts says that Germany might last two years if the French fight a defensive war, and not more than one year if the French take the offensive. First reports indicate the French have chosen the latter course, and are carrying the war to the enemy on the Western Front.

Burkburnett History

As revealed by the files of The Star 10 years ago.

The Junior Band, with their instructor, E. L. Nichols, entered a contest for six month players Friday morning October 18th, at the State Fair at Dallas and received second place. The award was $75 in money. They won first place in appearance and uniforms.

According to the report of the gin operators there have been 3,991 bales of cotton ginned to date.

Mrs. Aubrey Gilbow is recovering from a shock received Monday when her car was badly damaged in a wreck near Walters. Mrs. Gilbow was enroute to Walters when she collided with a bus coming from that city. No one was critically injured.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Tevis attended the wedding of Mr. Tevis' sister in Wichita Falls Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Butler Westfield and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Browning and daughter, Pauline, attended the Dallas Fair last week-end.

Promotion of a paved highway from Lawton to the Burkburnett free bridge to connect with highways extending to El Paso and the coast will be undertaken by the junior division of the Lawton Chamber of Commerce, it was indicated today at the meeting of that organization.

I Give You Texas

By Boyce House

Eddie Cantor, on a recent visit in Fort Worth, wisecracked: "I'm not a Democrat or a Republican; in fact, I'm somewhat Socialistically inclined. I believe what's mine is mine, and what's yours I'd like to get half."

Alluding to the traditional rivalry between the two cities the comedian said, "I told Amon Carter I thought I'd run over to Dallas last night and he said he would fix it up and in about half an hour there was a knock on my hotel room door and two men came in, put me in a strait jacket, and kept me there all night."

On the subject of "jitterbugs" Cantor declared, "I'd rather the boys and girls would be hailing band leaders than heeling bund leaders."

Brann Garner runs the picture show in Ranger. He's more colorful than any of the actors he shows on the screen. Broad around the equator, somewhat resonant of voice and given to sweeping gestures, Garner has been named "Little Caesar" because of the role that the very assertive Edward G. Robinson made famous.

Garner's given name was bestowed in honor of the famous "Iconoclast" who ran a magazine in Waco 40 years ago. Garner has been something of a writer, too, as he formerly edited the newspaper at Woodson in Throckmorton county, then 25 miles from a railroad, yet he "scooped" all the papers in the United States. Remember back in 1927 when there were no wars and depressions and all we had to talk about was what Henry's new model car was going to look like? Well, Garner wrote an advance description. It began: "The new Ford will come in two styles, open and closed. It will have four wheels, one at each corner," and so on. The article was reprinted by nearly every paper in the country.

Garner has a keen sense of humor and enjoys getting a good joke on a friend. He used to carry on a "feud" with a Ranger cafe proprietor. One day, after ordering half a fried chicken, he mildly asked, "Jimmy, could I see your chickens?"

"Certainly," the restaurant man said and escorted the customer to the ice box.

"Oh, they're dressed," Garner said, in a tone of disappointment.

"Why?" queried the other, suspiciously.

"Well," Garner replied, "I ordered half a chicken and got two wings, two necks and two legs. I just wanted to see a whole, live chicken walking around with four wings, four necks and four legs. By the way, how much do I owe you?"

"Not a darn thing; get out and don't ever come back."

Garner was back that night for dinner.

If you visit Ranger, don't miss Brann Garner. In fact, I doubt if you could, anyway.

Do you love the glorious past of Texas and would you like to have a part in preserving the stories of the pioneers, warriors and statesmen? The Texas State Historical Association is seeking 3,000 new members. Dues are $3 a year and that includes a subscription to the Quarterly, ably edited by Dr. Walter Prescott Webb . . . R. K. Phillips, Weatherford Democrat publisher, has found time to write an interesting booklet on a trip back to his ancestral home in the Old South.

Another pamphlet just received is from Buck Taylor of Austin, giving the text of SJR 12 (the sales tax amendment) and a section-by-section analysis. The booklet sells for two-bits and is part of a book Taylor plans to bring out entitled, "Did You Say 'They Tried To Steal Texas'?" . . . And here's a letter from Pierce Brooks, president of the Texas Safety Council, enclosing an honorary membership for this columnist.

The people of Texas still run Texas. The old shutdown forced the price of oil back up, which means millions of dollars more for workers, business men and the public generally in our State. Flowers to Jerry Sadler, hard-hitting, young member of the State Railroad Commission, and his colleagues, Chairman Lon A. Smith and E. O. Thompson.

And about the oldest joke that comes to mind today is the one about the fellow who had a house with a leaky roof. He explained, "I haven't fixed it because when it's raining, I can't and when it ain't raining, I don't need to."

Cashion-Cooper Community Club

The members of the Cashion-Cooper Community club met last Friday night at the Cashion school for a delightful meeting. P. B. Haynes, expert economist agricultural organizer of the extension service of A. and M. college was the principal speaker and his talk was very interesting as well as educational.

War Boom In Commodities Means Over $1,000,000,000 To Farmers

Chicago, Sept. 12.—The war boom in commodity prices has increased the potential value of principal farm products by at least $1,000,000,000, market experts estimated today.

Grains, livestock and produce have appreciated in value as a result of the sensational upward swing of prices the last few days. The most sensational price upturn has occurred in the corn market where values have appreciated 39 per cent to around 60 cents a bushel since the start of hostilities.

Up to the market opening today this was the extent to which important farm commodity prices have appreciated since Aug. 31: Corn, 39 per cent; wheat 30 per cent; hogs, 30 per cent; cotton, 13 per cent; sugar, 39 per cent; cattle, 14 per cent; lambs, 12 per cent; butter, 8 per cent; eggs, 7 per cent; soy beans, 27 per cent; oats 31 per cent; rye 37 per cent; barley, 32 per cent.

Dogies Upset
Hospital, 16-5

The Burkburnett Dogies took flying start in the Shaughnessy playoff for the Oil Belt baseball league title Sunday afternoon at Spudder park, blasting the State Hospital Mules, 16 to 5. The Mules lived up to their name, kicking the ball until 11 errors were charged up against them.

The game threatened in the second inning and later to flare into real battle and give the fans their quarter's worth with fists starting to fly, but Umpire Pat Ray qualified as a diplomat and no actual battle was done.

State Hospital got away to an early lead when a double by Homer Lewis, a single by Cecil Allison and a double by Bing Miller produced two runs in the first inning.

In the second inning the Dogies opened up on A. K. Sanders. Quillin opened with a single and scored on McCauley's double to center. After his slide a fight threatened between Quillin and Catcher Nelson, with Baumgardner later taking up the argument.

Sanders gave way to Homer Lewis in the fifth inning and Lewis fared little better, with the Dogies never in any danger of losing the long lead they continued to pile up.

The Burkburnett attack piled up only 13 hits with Potts, O'Neal and Quillin accounting for 10 of these between them while Quillin enjoyed a perfect day at the bat with two doubles, two singles, a walk and a sacrifice in six trips to the plate. Score:

Exhumation Fails
To Identify Woman
Found In Pond

Possibility that the body of the woman found in a farm pond northwest of Iowa Park last week was that of Viola Underwood, 15, missing Oklahoma City girl, was eliminated late Friday after the body had been exhumed and the teeth examined.

Drs. Harry Caughron and J. D. Mills of Oklahoma City, dentists, assisted by Dr. T. C. Lynch, county health officer, and Dr. W. L. Powers, examined the body to determine if it might be the Underwood girl.

The Oklahoma City dentists said there were wisdom teeth in the head, indicating the victim was about 35 years old, weighed about 135 pounds and had been about 5 feet 7 inches tall, Sheriff Pat Allen said. Mrs. Ethel Underwood, mother of the missing girl was satisfied the body was not that of her daughter after she found there were no irregularities as those on the feet of her child.

Sheriff Allen said, however, a 30-year-old coffee salesman held in county jail after being brought here from Oklahoma City would not be released immediately until further investigation has been made of the girl's disappearance.

Fire Destroyed
Iowa Park Gin

Fire of unknown origin, discovered about 1 o'clock Saturday morning, in five hours destroyed the Birk-King gin, business landmark at Iowa Park, located south of the Ft. Worth & Denver City railroad depot.

C. E. Birk, president, estimated the damage at $20,000. Insurance will partially cover the loss, he said.

Electra firemen who dashed to the scene joined Iowa Park fire fighters in keeping adjacent buildings soaked, as the fire was out of control when discovered.

Although the fire had spent itself by 6 o'clock Saturday morning, bales of cotton in the warehouse still smoldered at 11 o'clock. The warehouse was destroyed with the gin. Several bales of cotton on the loading platform rolled to safety.

Birk is the immediate past president of the district ginners division of the Texas Cotton Ginners association.

Dorcas Class Officers Installed
In Impressive Ceremonies At First Meeting Of Fiscal Year Tuesday

Officers of the Dorcas Sunday school class of the First Baptist church were installed in an impressive ceremony at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Glen Bear Tuesday evening. Assisting Mrs. Bear as hostess was Mrs. Walter Morris.

Mrs. A. H. Lohofener installed officers in a lovely Key Service ceremony which featured the presentation of each officer and the teacher of the class with a key to one of the rooms in the "Palace With A Hundred Rooms", the rooms representing various opportunities for service.

Beaver-Samsill
Wedding To Take Place Sunday

Reginald Beaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Beaver of Clara, and Miss Vera Samsill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Samsill of Seymour, Texas, have announced their engagement to culminate in marriage September 17 at the Church of Christ in Seymour. J. D. Rothwell will officiate.

Mr. Beaver is a graduate of the Clara high school, class of '36. At present he is co-owner of a local filling station.

Miss Samsill, now of Wichita Falls, is a graduate of Seymour high school.

The couple will make their home in Burkburnett.

BHS Seniors
Elect Officers

Thursday, September 7, was marked as election day for the Senior class of Burkburnett high school and class officers and sponsors were elected as follows:

Boyd Anderson, president; Evelyn Miller of Clara, vice-president; Jessie Mae Brady, secretary-treasurer; John H. Rigby, reporter; Howard Clement, cheer leader; Miss Gladys Wesbrooks and Carl Pommerening, sponsors.

Ninety-six seniors are enrolled for the 1939-40 term. This number includes students from the districts of Clara, Cashion and Evert.

A resolution was passed by the class and their sponsors thanking the mothers of the members for the picnic in their honor at the Water Works Friday evening.

Christian Science
Service

"Matter" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Sept. 17.

The Golden text is: "My flesh and my heart faileth: but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion for ever" (Psalms 73:26).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For the mountains shall depart, and the hills be removed; but my kindness shall not depart from thee, neither shall the covenant of my peace be removed, saith the Lord that hath mercy on thee" (Isaiah 54:10).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christianity causes men to turn naturally from matter to Spirit, as the flower turns from darkness to light. Man then appropriates those things which 'eye hath not seen or ear heard'" (page 458).

Texas Farmers
Improving Herds

The Texas farmer and dairyman are going earnestly about the business of improving blood lines and production records on the one and a half million cows in the State.

This is being accomplished by the organization of herd testing associations and the introduction of new and better sires. The farmers are coming to realize that acreage withdrawn from cotton must be replaced with a money crop if spending power is not to be curtailed.

The matter of feed supply is also receiving major attention as the number of trench silos on Texas farms increases by the thousands.

It would seem that the days of the "town bull" and dry bundle fodder are over in the Lone Star State.

Erwin Schweglers
Return From Wedding Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Schwegler, whose marriage took place in Vernon on September 2, returned to this city Tuesday from an extended wedding trip to cities in South Texas. They are at home at 309 West Main street.

The young couple were married at the St. Paul Lutheran church in Vernon at 7 o'clock Saturday evening, September 2. Rev. J. A. Birnbaum, pastor, officiated.

The bride was Miss Minnie Kathryn Lowke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lowke, pioneer residents of Vernon. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Helen Lowke. The bridegroom was attended by Herbert J. Hausler of Wichita Falls.

The bride is a graduate of the Vernon high school and has studied extensively in voice and music. She has always been prominent in Vernon musical circles and was a member of the Mozart club. She has also been very active in Waltham League work in the St. Paul Lutheran church in that city.

Mr. Schwegler is cashier of the Farmers' State bank of Burkburnett. He is treasurer of the Trinity Lutheran church at Clara and is very prominent in local civic activities. He is a graduate of Burkburnett high school and attended Oklahoma University at Norman. He is the son of Mrs. Pauline Schwegler and a member of one of the most prominent families in this area.

Clara Ladies
Met Thursday

The Ladies' Aid of the Clara Lutheran church had a very interesting meeting last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. R. Birnbaum. The chairman, Mrs. C. M. Gung, conducted the opening devotional exercises. Various matters were discussed in the business session, among these, the expansion of the Sunday school, the group voting an appropriation for materials and supplies for the use of this educational institution.

The feature of the meeting was the debate conducted by the two divisions of the society on a vital subject, the group entering into the discussions in enlivened manner.

Mrs. Paul Kaiser presented several poems, partly humorous and partly serious in nature, which were thoroughly enjoyed.

The meeting was adjourned with the singing of a hymn and with prayer.

A delicious luncheon was served to the following members: Mesdames J. Siber, Della Ramming, Evert, Dorland, L. F. Ramming, A. Ramming, Heins, D. G. Holtzen, Kiesling, Mary Mertins, Mings, Obenhaus, Brockriede, E. Schroeder, Scott, Rev. and Mrs. Paul Kaiser, and the hostess, Mrs. Birnbaum.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. Brockriede.

Sudden Death

(Eighth in a series of Articles on Safety by Capt. J. C. Tappe of the Texas Safety Council.)

A majority of automobile accidents during June occurred at the time when there was the least excuse—broad daylight. Not only that but they occurred in clear weather, on straight, level roads of concrete or asphalt, in which there were no defects.

The explanation is that drivers lessened their vigilance on these long straight stretches, gazed at the countryside—or in some cases took a drink—and imagined they were secure.

Had it been night, a crooked road, or rainy weather, they would have been more vigilant, thus avoiding the clearly avoidable accidents which claimed lives and made cripples.

These facts are convincing proof that the human element still is the most important factor in motor transportation.

The summary for June, Pierce Brooks, president of the Texas Safety Council, and runner-up last year for Lieutenant-Governor, said, shows 654 accidents in daylight hours; 915 in clear weather; 797 on straight, level roads; 291 on concrete and 700 on asphalt; 927 where there were no defects in the roads; 608 at no intersection out of a total of 1,209 accidents.

Seeking to fix cause for the fatal accidents, Brooks pointed out it was found that of the 119 fatalities, 22 occurred with the collision of a motor vehicle with a pedestrian; 40 from the collision of two vehicles; one car collided with a horse drawn vehicle; 17 cars collided with fixed objects and 34 of the fatal accidents involved no collision. Further analysis showed 26 drivers had been drinking; 23 driving too fast; 12 were chargeable to pedestrians, while the others were bunched under a half under primary causes.

America's business women met at Kansas City. So far, though, nobody has thought up a convention for everybody's-business women, of which there are more than a few.

Hardin Grade School News

First Grades—

The first graders are being introduced into the mysteries of tests—the bugaboo of going to school. However, they aren't greatly concerned. To them the Detroit Intelligence test is nothing more than a highly interesting game. The tests are given for the purpose of ascertaining the native ability of the child, as well as his readiness to enter school, and to assist the teacher in better understanding of the needs of each child.

We are enjoying our first taste of school in the low first grade. In our room there are thirty-three boys and girls. Miss Annie Laurie Billinglea is our teacher. The attendance was good the first week with only one absent all day and two absent one-half day.

Second Grade—

The children in Mrs. Moore's room are making a museum. Seranton Peevey and John Wood have brought boxes and interesting racks. They plan to collect seeds, racks, shells, bird nests, leaves and souvenirs from their vacation trips for the museum.

Your child is poor without a musical education. Our school band offers a splendid opportunity for this musical training and we are in need of thirty new band members. Classes meet at 3:00 p. m. to 4:00 p. m. in the High school auditorium each day. Credit will be given band members. Wayne Lax has returned from New Mexico and entered school again. Big Rabbit Creek

This neighborhood was very much shocked Thursday when the news arrived that Mr. Joe McClusky was operated on for appendicitis in the General hospital in Wichita Falls late Thursday afternoon. The last report from the hospital late Saturday evening was that brother Joe was resting well as could be expected. It's hoped by his host of friends here in this community in fact, all over the county, that it won't be but a short time until he will be able to leave the hospital and come home. Brother Joe is state supervisor over the highway 270.

Library Receives Books From Red Cross County Unit

The Wichita County Chapter of the American Red Cross has contributed four of its textbooks to the Burkburnett Municipal Library. They are: "Life Saving and Water Safety," "Swimming and Diving," "American Red Cross First Aid Textbook," and "Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick."

All four of these books are available to the public at the local library. However, the first three books named will be the only ones available to be checked out of the library. The last book, "Home Hygiene and the Care of the Sick" will be kept in the library for reference exclusively.

The aforementioned books are the authorized textbooks of the American Red Cross. The first three of them are used in the training schools of that organization, and the last one is used in Red Cross nursing circles.

We feel sure that these books can be used to advantage by anyone who cares to learn the fundamentals on first aid, swimming and diving, and water safety. Also, it is quite possible that the book on "Home Hygiene and the Care of the Sick" might be helpful sometime or another.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ashton arrived home late Friday evening from our capital city, Oklahoma City, where he had been transacting business.

Hawkeye and his better half and Miss Winnie June Martin, accompanied a Mr. Howard Anderson Saturday morning over to Our Friendly Little City. They all attended the big trades day event and arrived back home about 5:30 p. m. They report having a fine time, especially by attending the Palace and seeing just a real fine picture.

Say, folks, everyone wants to prepare themselves to visit and to attend the big Festival and trades day event next Friday and Saturday in Burkburnett as there will be thousands of people there on both days. If it's possible that you have ever lost any loved ones or friends by not knowing their whereabouts, it will be a cinch that you will find them amongst the thousands that will be in Our Friendly Little City Friday and Saturday, the 15th and 16th.

The big Holiness meeting over at Riverland is still going on and the meeting is having a great success. There have been over 100 converted and baptized.

Hawkeye has been informed that a Mr. J. W. Fowler who has been living in John Ashton's farm house on the old Henry Baber place for over a year, has bought a house up in Randlett and will move to their new home in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Kinnaird and family attended the big revival meeting Sunday night over at Riverland school house.

J. E. Wood and family were over in our Friendly Little City Saturday shopping. They also attended the big trades day event as everybody near and far meet each other on the streets and in the big stores of all kinds. Everyone had the time of their lives visiting each other.

The oldest son (Arland) of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Kinnaird who five months ago joined the CCC camp and who is stationed out in Colorado, wrote home that his time will be out the first of next month.

Editor Receives Book Entitled "Our Common Herd"

The Star is in receipt this week of a volume entitled "Our Common Herd," by Sue Sanders. The book is published by the Country Life Press Corp., Garden City, New York, and the price in cloth binding is $1.00.

The thing that distinguishes "Our Common Herd" is that without any disguises whatever it comes straight up from the good American earth. It is an authentic story, done without affectation, and its honesty and variety commend it at once. Some true stories are so dressed up that we doubt them from the start. This book wears its every-day clothes.

It is the story of one woman's struggle with poverty down in Texas and in oil fields of several other western states: of a woman proud enough and strong enough to stand on her own feet and earn her way, cooking, waiting on tables in a restaurant, running a boarding house or drilling an oil well.

It is what is called a "Success" story, but it is different. As a story it is built up out of homely details in such a way that you live it yourself as you read; and you identify yourself with Sue and her struggles with daily problems, unable to lay the book aside until you know how she won her way to freedom.

"Our Common Herd" is way off the beaten track where professional and conventional books are to be found; and it calls for a wide reading. Personally, I wish it could be read by all those enfeebled folk who hold that the world owes them a living, just because they have favored the world by having been born in it.

College Professor: "What is the name of that song that was so popular last spring? I can't quite remember, but it was something about three diminutive aquatic animals in a miniature aquarium."

Freshman: "O. Yes, 'Three Little Fishes in a Bitty Pool'."

School Children Killed Last Year

Sept. 14—Department of Safety officers today renewed activity as increased and public became more numerous that the pedestrian rose disastereously to last September to June others were seriously injured. Police warned that of that toll is likely walking precautions are taken down by vehicles in school age. This, safety officials show the need for increased pedestrian drills among students, on the part of increased pedestrian vigilance. In its autumn, spring campaign for pedestrian safety state police offered rules for the walking public, violations of which have caused the greatest number of deaths and injuries. The rules are:

1. Cross only at intersections and then only when the signal light favors you and vehicular traffic has cleared.
2. Look in all directions while crossing streets and highways.
3. Discharge passengers at curbs and have them alight from the side of the vehicle nearest the curb. Discharge school children at the curb on school sides of streets so they will not have to cross streets.
4. Do not stand off of curbs but remain on sidewalks.
5. Face oncoming traffic when necessary to walk on streets or highways.
6. Pedestrians should carry flashlights at night to warn approaching vehicles of their presence.

VOICE-TEXAS

By Pierce Brooks

"He has kept us out of war" was the battle cry in the Woodrow Wilson re-election campaign. It is now hoped that this will be the same message carried in the next presidential election, namely, that both major parties, the Democrats and the Republicans are responsible for the U. S. not being drawn into the orgy of wholesale murder called War and they are pledged to keep us out of war.

The Texas department of the American Legion held its State convention recently in Waco. It was common to hear high notes of patriotism there, and in the same breath you could hear old front line veterans declare that they do not want any more of it, "for ourselves, or for our sons, or for the sons of our fellow citizens, if future wars can be honorably avoided."

With the sound of war ringing in Europe and with a memory of the last war in which Texas boys participated alongside of their buddies from neighboring and all other states of the Union, our country should continue its policy of not permitting loans to any nation which is at present in default in its indebtedness to America. We should not make the mistake of loaning billions to other countries at war, in order to enable them to purchase various commodities from this country, thus creating a false prosperity.

accompanied by inflation, and followed by disastrous deflation, with the extended credit probably destined never to be repaid.

the rules that promote peace and goodwill.

In the meantime, let's not forget our old folk and lend a helping hand to Adam Johnson, the recently appointed head of State Welfare Work in Texas. He has a big job to keep our aged fathers and mothers out of the war against want.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

AUTUMN PICTURES

The changing foliage and pleasant weather of autumn make it an ideal season for outdoor snapshooting—whether in black-and-white or full-color.

AUTUMN, with its bright hues, pleasant weather, and feeling of seasonal change, is one of the most delightful times of the year to be outdoors. And it is a time rich in picture material—a perfect season to load up your camera, climb in the car or put on hiking boots, and go afield with an eye alert for picture chances.

Look for these picture opportunities in harvest scenes . . . on the farms . . . wherever there is rural activity. Watch the skies for cloud formations that will add glory to your landscape shots. As leaves begin to fall, and bonfires are burning, look for atmospheric effects—sunbursts slanting through trees and smoke—for these too will make fine pictures.

If your camera can be loaded with full-color film, by all means plan to take advantage of the brilliant colors as leaves begin to change and assume their autumnal hues. And look for color-film opportunities in the orchards where bright-colored fruit hangs against the green of trees. If you go on group hikes at this ideal hiking season, see that members of your crowd wear suitable costumes—with bright touches of color that will add appeal to your full-color shots.

In black-and-white shooting, keep a color filter on your lens to bring out the clouds in landscape shots and harvest scenes. Don't confine yourself to general scenes and views—keep an eye open for close-ups that reflect the spirit of the season. Let your pictures show people at work . . . plucking fruit, husking corn, perhaps sowing winter cover crops . . . so that your autumn record will really portray this time of year, and its typical activities.

If you picnic at this season—and you should—you'll find the camera an ideal means of recording your outdoor fun. Wherever you go . . . whatever you do . . . picture opportunities are waiting—and the wise snapshooter will try to utilize them all.

John van Guilder

PHOTO-TIP: On outings, hikes or picnics, carry a roll of high speed film—the kind for night snapshots. It's four times as fast as regular daylight film, and comes in handy for snaps in late afternoon, or in shady spots such as the picnic grove.

The Terrapin Derby, which has become an annual presentation, will be one of the big drawing cards of the whole Festival and will be held at 5:30 Saturday afternoon on Main street. An entirely new set-up for the Derby has been arranged for this year and ought to prove more interesting than ever before.

Other special events have been arranged which will be open to everyone and will also be appealing from a spectacular point. Two blocks of Main street will be roped off for concert that area; the tentative plan being to route the parade from Avenue D to 4th street, south back to Main street.
