A RAINY NIGHT IN PLAINVIEW

Dwayne Culpenner, 30, above, breaks the 53-yard run behind a block from Dru Lacy, 71, that put Wellington in the lead and scored the Skyrockets only points in the regional game against Shallowater.

Below, more Wellington than Shallowater fans shivered through the rain and wind, although Wellington fans had 3 times the travel distance.

Mustangs Down Rockets in 20-6 Mudfight

The Shallowater Mustangs brought the Skyrocket-Cinderella season to an end with a 20-6 win over Wellington in the Regional Playoff Friday, November 26 on a rain-soaked field at Plainview.

But not before the Skyrockets had given Shallowater a run for their money.

In the fourth quarter with the score tied 6-6, Darvin Nix recovered a Shallowater fumble, but 3 plays later the Rockets fumbled the ball back to the Mustangs at Wellington's 17. Joe Maldonado scored for the Mustangs from the 14. And quarterback Rod Burgett put two extra points on the board with a run to make the score 14-6.

Some observers thought the 8-point lead might have put the Rockets out of the game, but Amarillo Globe News sports writer David

Stevens said "You can't count them out yet—they've made a believer out of me."

The Skyrockets came back with a 40-yard drive reminiscent of their 5 come-from-behind victories. But it was a bridge too far to cross for the Cardiac Kids—too many injuries, too much rain, wind and mud, and an excellent Shallowater team across the line of scrimmage.

With 6 minutes to play,

Mustang Dee Hohenberger brought the curtains down by intercepting Wade Williams' pass.

Shallowater's weight advantage took its toll and the Mustangs drove the ball 57 yards in 8 plays before Joe Alvarado scored on a 10-yard run to put the game away with 3:43 to play. An extra point pass failed, and the final score was 20-6.

Shallowater displayed a powerful ground game from their opening possession, moving to Wellington's 16 before James Benton knocked loose and recovered a Mustang fumble for the Rockets.

Neither Wellington nor Shallowater could put together another drive in the first period.

Wellington finally got its first first down with 52 seconds to play in the quarter, and with the help of

Methodist Dinner, Bazaar to be Saturday

Food and fellowship open Wellington's Christmas season as 1st United Methodist Church holds its traditional community Christmas dinner Saturday, Dec. 4, as it has for more than 25 years.

Along with this is a colorful bazaar, filled with crafts and other articles of beauty, almost everyone of them made by hand.

The dinner and bazaar will be held in Bura Handley

Community Center, Mrs. Gorman Owens, general chairman of the dinner, said.

Serving hours will be 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Advance tickets are on sale at $4 for adults and $2.50 for children and can be bought from any of the United Methodist Women.

"We will deliver only to those who cannot pick up their plates," said Mrs. Owens. In these cases, deliveries will be made by the senior high United Methodist Youth members.

Those wishing to come to the community building to pick up their plates may do this.

More than 500 people from throughout the Wellington area—and from out of town as well—are expected to attend the dinner.

Each year there are many who formerly lived here who return on the day of the Methodist dinner.

It will be a traditional turkey dinner with the traditional foods that accompany this holiday bird.

Seven whole turkeys and 11 turkey breasts will be baked to form the basis of the dinner, said Mrs. Owens.

The bazaar will begin at 9 a.m. and continue until 3 p.m. or until everything is sold, said Mrs. Cliff Campbell, chairman, adding that many rare and unusual hand-made articles will be offered. A speciality is Christmas tree ornaments. One member, Mrs. Donald Curry, has made four afghans especially for this bazaar. There will be a few pot plants.

As a special activity, a hand-made nativity scene will be given away. Mrs. Wayne Cudd is in charge of

County Gins 4535 Bales by Dec. 1

Collingsworth County cotton growers had delivered 4535 bales on the 1982 crop by Dec. 1, with wet weather during the last 6 days of November bringing the harvest to a halt.

Some of the better cotton is not turning out as good as the farmers thought it would. Cotton that looked like it would yield half a bale per acre, is, in fact, pulling 1/3 or even 1/4 bale. The situation exists county-wide. But there are bright spots in this crop.

The grade, staple and mike are "real good," says J.N. Glasgow of Farmers Co-op Gin. Much of the cotton in the immediate Wellington area so far has graded 32-32 (middling light spot with 1" staple) and micronaire in the premium range of 3.5 to 4.9.

Better turnouts range as much as 25 percent of lint to seed cotton, although some still has lots of green bolls.

Drouth-burned cotton is appearing, with staples dropping to around 29/32".

Much of the cotton being ginned now can go into the loan at above 50 cents per pound, although this may change since the spell of wet weather, which amounted to around 1.5" in much of the county and up to 2".

Skyrocket Tournament Opens Thursday, Dec. 2

The second annual Skyrocket Basketball Tournament gets under way at 9 a.m. Thursday, Dec. 2, and will continue through Saturday evening, Dec. 5. Sixteen teams, 8 boys and 8 girls, will participate.

This tournament is being held just 6 days after Wellington Skyrockets closed out their football season, with little chance for practice and only one scheduled game behind them.

Memphis boys and girls are seeded first in the tournament, while Wellington boys and girls are seeded second, River Road boys and girls third, and McLean girls and Lakeview boys fourth.

It will include some of the strongest teams in the east and central Panhandle, points out Coach Dale Morris.

After dropping basketball tournaments for several years, Wellington High School returned last season with a four-team tournament. This year they are back to 16 teams.

Participants will be the boys and girls from

Memphis, Samsnorwood, River Road, McLean, Lakeview, Hedley, and Wellington. --See TOURNEY, page 8

Granite Escapee Caught in Kansas

A convicted murderer, who escaped last week from Oklahoma's Granite State Reformatory and made his way through north Childress County, was arrested Sunday, Nov. 28, in Newton, Kansas.

Nathan McGaha, 22, serving 40 years for murder, robbery with a firearm and escape from county jail, stole a prison pickup as the cotton stripping crew on which he had been working was coming back into the prison, Oklahoma officials said.

McGaha escaped around midnight Monday night, and the Collingsworth County Sheriff's office received notification of the escape early Tuesday.

On Wednesday Virgil Patterson told Billy Henard that some of Henard's horses were out near Patterson's house in north Childress County. When Henard went to check on the horses, he found the stolen prison pickup run through a fence across a dead-end county road and stuck in the sand at Buck Creek 1 mile south of Hwy. 62. Henard notified the Collingsworth County Sheriff's office.

Sheriff Kenneth Maxwell notified Harmon and Childress County officials, and a combined force of 2 men

Funeral services for Mrs. George (Dorothy) Scott will be conducted at 2:30 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 2, in the Church of the Nazarene. The Rev. Donald Bland will officiate and burial will be in Memorial Gardens under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Mrs. Scott died at 1:20 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 30 at the family home, 1700 Corsicana St., after an illness of several years.

For many years, until her health failed, Mrs. Scott worked with her husband in the grocery stores they owned and operated. She was widely known and highly respected in Wellington's business community, and even better known throughout the county by the people whom she had served for so long.

Next to her family and her place in the business community, Mrs. Scott's greatest devotion was to the Church of the Nazarene, in which she gave both her work and time. She was also a member of the Nazarene Women's Missionary Society.

Born at Wellington Sept. 6, 1913, she was the former Dorothy Jackson, daughter of the late J.N. and Grace Phipps Jackson. She attended the Wellington schools.

On Sept. 23, 1933, she and George Scott were married in Wellington.

Survivors, in addition to her husband, are two daughters, Mrs. Dale Pedigo of Amarillo and Mrs. Bill Bradley of Childress; three brothers, Walter Jackson of Olathe, Kan., Charley Jackson of Grandbury, and Sam Jackson of Independence, Mo.; four sisters, Mrs. Grace Loges of Grapevine, Mrs. Georgana Ribble of Portales, N.M., Mrs. Elizabeth Sammons of Ft. Worth and Mrs. Ruth Bounds of Shawnee Mission, Kan. There are 6 grandchildren.

Funeral Set Thursday for Clifton Sullivan

Funeral services for Clifton Dale Sullivan, 27, of Amarillo, will be conducted at 10 a.m. Thursday, Dec. 2, in Quail Baptist Church, with the Rev. Elvis Pitts, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery, under the direction of Guy Owens Funeral Home.

Active pall bearers will be Kenneth Foster, Gary Alston, Keith Derryberry, Lynn Derryberry, Calvin Green and Lynn Fulcher.

Honorary pall bearers will be Larry Reece, Pat O'Hair, Michale Finley, J.F. Isaacs, Monte Ferguson, Shorty Green, Terry Canada, Lee DeVoss, Gary Lemons, Wayne Cummings, Jimmy Green, Dale Green and Audie Watson.

Prayer services were conducted at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday in Schooler-Gordon Colonial Chapel, Amarillo with the Rev. Michael Pintacura of St. Anthony's Hospital officiating.

Mr. Sullivan died Friday, Nov. 26 in Amarillo.

He had spent his entire life at Quail and Wellington until he went to Amarillo 5 years ago. He was an employee of Beebe Lumber Company.

Born Dec. 28, 1954, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sullivan. He graduated from Quail High School in 1974, where he played basketball, and was a class officer and Future Farmers of America officer. Classmates and faculty awarded him many honors, including that of Mr. Quail High School.

He had worked for Pat O'Hair and Kenneth Foster Station.

He was a member of Quail Baptist Church.

Survivors are his wife, Danette, of the U.S. Navy, San Diego, Ca., his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan of Quail; two brothers, Rodney Hill of Floydada and Lynn Hill of Grand Island, Neb.; four sisters, Mrs. Jackie Maxwell and Mrs. Sandra Motsenbocker of Wellington, Pam Sullivan of Amarillo and Mrs. Betty Chandler of Vernon; and a grandmother, Mrs. Edna Sullivan of Wellington.

Rockettes Have 7 Letter Players

Experience is the key word to Wellington Rockettes this year, with 7 letter players picked for the varsity squad. Five are seniors, the other four are juniors.

"Height-wise, I think we will probably match with everyone in the district," said Coach Dale Morris.

"Experience wise, we should be matched with everyone except Shamrock, who returned all their girls from last year."

Coach Morris has four fairly tall girls, with Tresa Benton at 5-11. Renee Daniel is 5-9, Dee Ann Williams 5-8, and Belinda Crelia about the same height.

The five senior lettermen are:

-Belinda Crelia, forward, who started part time last year and is in her second year of varsity play. She had two years on the junior varsity.

-Carla Nunnelley, a 1981 starter and third year varsity player. She was on the JV as a freshman and did not play as a sophomore. She takes a guard position.

-Renee Daniel at post position, is a second year varsity player with two years of JV experience.

-Tresa Benton, post, started part time last year and is another second year varsity player with two years of JV.

Shanna Urban, forward, in her third year on the varsity team and played JV as a freshman.

Juniors on the team are: -Dee Ann Williams, post, started in part of last year's games and was a freshman JV player.

-Sandie Cobb, forward, is a second year varsity player and spent her freshman year on the JV.

Playing their first year on the varsity squad are:

Elaine Shrubs, a junior, who is playing for the first season since she was a freshman. She is a forward.

-Mary Torrez, a junior, at guard position who has two years of JV experience.

The Rockettes will run the point guard offense, running guard with two forwards and two posts.

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT REPORT

by Nancy Bigby

Achieving the best use of medicines depends on a three-way effort between your doctor, your pharmacist, and yourself. How you participate in this teamwork approach is vitally important.

Follow these basic medication guidelines for safe and effective medication use:

1. Take exactly the amount prescribed and on schedule.

2. Never take drugs prescribed for a friend or relative. They do not have the same effects on everyone.

2. Tell the doctor about any past problems with drugs, including over-the-counter items.

4. Keep a daily record, especially if taking more than one drug at a time.

5. If "child-proof" containers are hard to handle, ask the pharmacist for easy-to-open containers. Keep these away from children.

6. Be sure you understand the label directions and that the name of the medicine is printed clearly. Ask the pharmacist to use large type on the label if necessary.

7. Throw away old medicines. They may have lost their potency.

8. Ask your doctor about possible side effects from prescribed medications, rules for storage, and about which foods or beverages, if any, to avoid.

9. Call your doctor right

Extension Service Slates Open House

The Collingsworth County Extension Service will hold its annual Information Day as an open house Monday, December 6, from 11:00 a.m. to 3 p.m. The day will start with a program building committee meeting at 10:00 a.m. in the County Extension office. Heading arrangements are Nancy Bigby and Don Reeves, Extension agents.

Members of the program building committee assist in the overall County Extension program by planning educational programs for the county. During the meeting, reports on activities held last year will be given as well as highlights for 1983. Committee members will also discuss the major problems in Collingsworth County and give suggestions for programs that could help the situation. Everyone is invited to sit in on the meeting, said Miss Bigby.

Afterwards the annual Information Day will begin as an open house. Refreshments will be served while you have the opportunity to see what the Extension Service has done in 1982.

The Collingsworth County Extension Service is an educational agency charged with the responsibility of providing programs and activities in agriculture, home economics, 4-H, and community development to all people regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Examples of information programs conducted by the Extension Service include: clothing, energy conservation, food and nutrition, health and safety, gardening, housing and home improvement, home landscaping, leadership development, community development, livestock production, crop production, 4-H and youth work, farm and family management, consumer education, soil testing, cotton production, and disease control.

Melanie Pendleton, Jacen Jeffrey Wed in Chapel Nov. 13

The chapel of First Baptist Church was the setting for the wedding of Melanie Ann Pendleton and Jacen Allen Jeffrey at two o'clock in the afternoon of Saturday, November 13. The Reverend Stanley Hughes, pastor, was the officiant.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ray (Dick) Pendleton, while the bridegroom's parents are Mrs. Mead Michael of Canyon and Roy Jeffrey, Jr., of Wellington.

Chapel decorations were a large 15-branched candelabra at center, holding white wedding tapers and decorated with foliage and burgundy carnations and white gladioli.

Brass candleholders in varying sizes, each with a white taper, were placed at the ends of the step leading to the altar area.

Mrs. Don Reeves, pianist, played the wedding selections and accompanied Mrs. Billy Wilkerson as she sang.

Mr. Pendleton gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride wore a formal length baroque gown of antique white brocade. It featured an off-the-shoulder sheer yoke of English net outlined with pearly Venise lace which cascaded onto the sculptured basque bodice. Souffle sleeves, topped with lace, had fitted under-sleeves of embroidered net. The full brocade skirt was edged in scalloped silk embroidered lace and flowed into a chapel length train.

Her fingertip length veil of illusion was edged in pearls and gathered into a scalloped tiara of pearls.

She carried a bouquet of burgundy and white carnations, green leaves and baby's breath, tied with satin streamers.

Jennifer Pendleton, the bride's sister, was her maid of honor. Her burgundy taffeta dress was designed with an off-the-shoulder neckline, and with short puffed sleeves, and empire waist. The full skirt was edged with a ruffle around the hemline. Her bouquet was of pink roses, white carnations and baby's breath.

The bridegroom's best man was Randy Cawthon, while Jeff Barnett and Scott Cochran ushered.

Robert Watts and Mindy Watts, nephew and niece of the bride, lighted the candles, and Tyra Vassey, the bridegroom's niece, was the flower girl. The little girls wore pink chiffon dresses with ruffle overlays on the bodices and ruffles near the bottom of the floor length skirts.

Debbie Bergvall of San Angelo registered the guests at a table on which candles in brass holders added a decorative note.

After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Pendleton were hosts at a reception in the church fellowship hall.

The bride's table was covered with a floor length white linen cloth, richly enhanced with hand em-

Goodbye, Cardiac Kids

Some of them were short. Some of them were skinny. Brown, black, white. When you saw them walk down the Wellington High School halls, you wondered that they were coordinated enough to open the book lockers.

An out-of-town visitor to last Friday's outdoor pep rally before the regional game asked, when they got off the bus to stand in front of the crowd, "Is that all of them?" The reply: "Yep, and they look bigger now with their down vests—you should see 'em in the summer."

Handsome hulks they were not.

But come Friday nights in the fall of 1982 they were transformed. Metamorphosed into an incredible come-from-behind football team that pulled five games out of the fire in the closing minutes, and on two occasions, closing seconds of ball games.

The Skyrocks had been picked to finish fourth in district play, and when they dropped the opener to Hollis 28-6 it looked like it was going to be a long football season in Wellington. But the team never looked back.

The Skyrocks have a bumper-sticker slogan or nickname every season and this year's was "The Wrecking Crew of '82."

After the Rockets beat Quanah 19-14 in the first district game, though, another nickname began to appear. In that game the Skyrocks took the ball 74 yards, beginning with 1:10 in the game and finally put the winning touchdown on the board with 11 seconds to play.

The Quanah game had been enough to make some fans say they were having heart failure, and as the season progressed and the Skyrocks repeated their come-from-behind antics, they became known as the "Cardiac Kids."

Memphis had the Skyrocks down 17-14 in the fourth quarter, but they came back with a 27-17 win. Clarendon was ahead 9-6 at one point but the Skyrocks took that one 21-17. In the game that decided the district winner Panhandle held a 12-0 lead with 7:55 to play. But the Skyrocks came back again and won 15-12.

And at the Area Playoff against Crosbyton the Skyrocks were tied on the scoreboard and losing on first downs when they put the winning touchdown on the board with 3 seconds left to play.

The Wellington offense, which depended on pulling guards, nimble backs, and a never-fail passing attack needed good weather to operate.

But as any Collingsworth County farmer knows, Texas Panhandle weather is forgiving for only so long. The grace period, which had lasted for 12 games, ran out for the Skyrocks last Friday. Rain covered the area, and Wellington came up against a Shallowater team that could run power plays on a slick field.

There are those of us who will always think that on a dry field and under fair skies the Regional Playoff would have been a different ball game.

But as Coach James Williams said the next day,
"When they blow the whistle, it's time to line up and play." So we leave, the speculation to future holiday firesides.

And we remember this week a glorious football season that brought a good deal of sunshine to our community in the midst of a dismal economic and political year, and the night when the Cardiac Kids went down swinging in the mud and the cold, the rain and the wind on Thanksgiving Week, 1982.

Thanks for the memories.

LETTERS from the People

Dear Editor:

Last Friday night at the Rocket's Regional play-off game when Shallowater scored making the score 20-6, some Wellington fans got up and left with several minutes left in the game. I was outraged to say the least. If those KIDS can play in the rain, then the fans can sit under their umbrellas, blankets and raincoats until the finish! In other words, look at it this way, how would we have felt if the KIDS had walked off the field after that last touchdown.

Sunday School Revival Slated

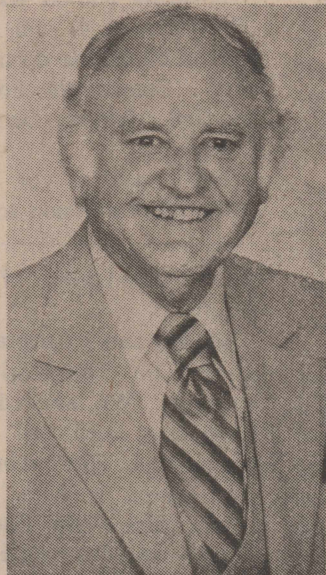

First Baptist Church will hold a Sunday School Revival, beginning Thursday and going through Sunday evening services, Dec. 5.

Services will be at 7:30 p.m. each night.

A layman, Leon Kilbreth, of Herring, Ill., will be the evangelist. He is known across America as "Mr. Sunday School USA". "God has used this layman to awaken and revive Sunday School programs as an important tool for the ministry of local churches," said Rev. Stanley Hughes, pastor.

Kilbreth comes from a background of forty years of experience: from a rural country church with 65 in Sunday School he has been used to lead some of the largest churches in America in successful over all church growth and development programs.

"This wide experience in

all churches has equipped him with an understanding and foresight that enables him to help churches of all sizes. His natural humor and wit adds a sparkle to his messages and gives him the ability to hold the attention of his audience," Hughes continued.

"We of First Baptist Church invite you to come share this experience of spiritual growth and renewal with us," said the pastor.

School Test Results Available to Parents

Results of tests given earlier to four grades in the Wellington Schools have been received, Louis Graham, counselor, announced.

These include the achievement tests for the 2nd grade and 4th grade which gives the achievement level in reading, mathematics, language arts and a composite score.

An educational abilities series test was given to show if the student is performing at the level he would be expected to perform.

These will be shown to parents for interpretation, and Graham can be contacted by calling the Elementary school, 447-2353, from 2 to 3:30 p.m.

The 7th grade received a complete battery of the SRA (Science Research Associate) achievement series and the educational abilities series.

The 9th grade received a SRA series in reading, math and language arts, with a composite score.

They also took an interest inventory of interests in 10 levels. These will be used for counseling the students through the four years in high school.

The 9th grade test will be interpreted to the individual students as well as to the parents.

"We encourage the parents to see the information," Graham urged. All results will be available any time during the school year, but we encourage and urge the parents to come in soon, before they forget about these tests."

Parents of 7th and 9th grade students wishing to contact Graham for an interpretation should call the High School, 447-2527.

PASSING ATTACK

Otis Lewis, 23, left, catches a pass on the drive that gave the Rockets their TD. Right, Wade Williams unloads a pass to Darren Hall for a 13-yard gain in the second quarter.

a roughing the kicker penalty against Shallowater, the Rockets moved to their own 47. There Dwayne Culpepper broke around left end, cut upfield and outran 3 Mustang defenders for a 53-yard TD with 9:31 to play in the first half. The extra point kick fell wide left and Wellington led 6-0.

Dwayne Culpepper, who scored Wellington's only points for the night, received a lip and tooth injury on the next series and he didn't return to the game until late in the third quarter. He joined two other Skyrockets on the ailing list: Quarterback Wade Williams and center and linebacker Ricky Martinez whose leg injuries hobbled them progressively as the game continued.

With Culpepper out, the Rockets fumbled a couple of downs later and Jordon Cox recovered for Shallowater at the Rocket 40. They lost a yard, and then Mustang quarterback Rod Burgett threw a soaring pass that hit Joe Alvarado right on the numbers. Alvarado went in for the 41-yard touchdown to tie the score at 6-6 with 4:33 to play in the half. A high snap from center on Shallowater's extra point kick kept the score tied.

A Skyrocket drive just before halftime, including a Shallowater interference penalty, and an 18-yard halfback pass from James Benton to Otis Lewis (who tipped the ball and came up with it on the second try) moved the Rockets to midfield.

But at the Shallowater 47, the Skyrockets' fake punt, which hadn't failed them all year, fell shy of the mark and the teams went into halftime tied 6-6.

The north wind, which had been constant, increased, and the rain, which had been a drizzle, became heavy as the teams went in at halftime. It never let up before the final horn.

The Rockets had their moments throughout the game: Shane Cobb boomed a 74-yard punt in the third quarter that sent Shallowater back to their own 16.

And the cool determination that the Skyrockets exhibited throughout the season never deserted them, even when the chips were down in the final quarter.

The loss ended Wellington's 9-game winning streak, five of them come-from-behind victories, and left the Rockets with a 10-2-1 season.

It's Time to Write Santa

Santa Claus' message from the North Pole blew in with the snow the day before Thanksgiving, and this is his word for the children of the Wellington area—or those who ever lived here.

It's time for the boys and girls to write their letters to Santa, to let him know what they want for Christmas.

The letters will be printed in the Christmas issue of The Wellington Leader.

The deadline for mailing or bringing the letters to the newspaper is 12 noon Thursday, Dec. 16.

The Wellington Leader has published the Children's letters to Santa Claus for approximately 55 years, yet some of the toys requested today are little changed—cars, dolls, airplanes, tractors, books and teddy bears.

Santa needs to know what you want right away, so he can begin packing his sleigh (he'll need every inch of space).
