Snyder's retail sales figures continue to show up well, according to the latest city sales tax records announced by State Comptroller Bob Bullock. Cities may keep track of their retail business activity with more accuracy since Bullock began making the sales tax calculations and payments monthly, rather than quarterly.

For the last period, which extended to Aug. 29, Snyder's city sales tax amounted to $48,569.86. A prior balance in its account at the comptroller's office resulted in a total payment of $49,108.99.

By way of comparison, the sales tax for the past period showed Sweetwater with $33,119.44, Lamesa with $26,480.83, Levelland with $28,496.54, Monahans with $36,633.69 and Brownfield with $25,013.

So, it appears that Snyder's retail business activity still is among the leaders in its population bracket.

Some things we would like to see:

1. The consumer get a chance to watch out for himself occasionally. At present he has so many organizations and experts looking out for his interests that he is hard pressed to pay their salary, not to mention the increased cost of goods and services that result from the work of these protectors.

2. Some of the brethren in the "media' find some new questions to ask when they interview winners of the traditional beauty contests, such as Miss America, Miss USA, Miss World, etc.—something besides "What do you think of pre-marital sex and abortion?"

The first inclination when shortages occur is to look for more supplies, but sometimes there are simplier answers, according to recent studies. For example, a study conducted by one oil company indicated that about 20 per cent of the gasoline consumed by American drivers is for "non-essential" driving. This came at a time when we were being told that if we could reduce demand for gasoline by 10 percent, or increase supplies by that amount, we would be in good shape.

Other studies incidate that about two-thirds of all the oil discovered so far in this country still is underground because nobody has figured out a method of recovery that is economically feasible. It is said that some oil fields in this country have produced no more than 10 per cent of their potential simply because no effective method has been found to get the oil out of the ground. We have a lot of angles to consider in efforts to cope with our energy shortage.—-WACIL McNAIR

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, Sept. 17, the 260th day of 1975. There are 105 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1787, the Constitution of the United States was completed and signed by a majority of delegates attending the Constitutional Convention in Philadelphia.

On this date-

In 1665, a bubonic plague broke out in London.

In 1862, in the Civil War, Union forces hurled back a Confederate invasion of Maryland in the battle of Antietam.

In 1939, the debut of the radio program, Major Bowes Amateur Hour, started a trend toward talent contests in American radio programming.

In 1939, the Soviet Union invaded Poland in World War Two.

In 1964, the United States disclosed development of two weapons systems capable of intercepting and destroying armed satellites circling the earth.

In 1967, U.S. Air Force jets attacked a highway bridge in North Vietnam, only seven miles from the China border.

Ten years ago: Chiefs of the Arab League wound up a summit-meeting with a communique in which they agreed to refrain from interfering in each other's internal affairs.

Five years ago: The Viet Cong offered an eight-point peace plan which American negotiators labled "new wine in old bottles."

One year ago: The Government ordered the release of draft evaders from prison on 30-day furloughs while President Ford's new clemency board reviewed their cases.

NEW AT THE FAIR—One of the big attractions at any fair is the carnival, and the Scurry County Fair is no exception. Schafer Bros. 20th Century Shows have set up on the fair grounds and it has a new feature ride this year called "Paratrooper" shown here. The fair will open at noon Thursday.

11th Annual Scurry Fair To Open Here Thursday

The Scurry County Coliseum grounds were the scene of increased activity today as exhibits were being prepared for the 11th annual Scurry County Fair.

The fair, which will open officially at noon Thursday is expected to be the largest ever held here. Livestock exhibits will be restored this year for the first time since the fair moved from Towle Memorial Park to the coliseum. This was made possible by construction of the new livestock-agricultural building adjacent to the coliseum.

Also, fair officials report the heaviest demand ever for booths in commercial and educational divisions, and the annual art show held at the fair each year has attracted some 350 entries.

Work on the exhibits will continue this evening, and judging will take place Thursday morning.

The carnival, a traditional attraction at the fair, moved in this week, and a number of special features have been scheduled. One will be a "kid dies animal show," a special collection of farm animals especially for youngsters who have not had an opportunity to see them. Included will be milk cows (they hope to have demonstrations of cow-milking), calves, horses and colts, sheep and lambs, goats, etc., all presented so that young children may get a close-up view of them.

A new feature on the closing night of the fair Saturday will be a talent show. It will feature area entertainers who were auditioned recently and scheduled especially for the fair event.

Exhibits are expected to show a good representation of Scurry County agricultural products, along with other fair displays.

Dr. Rogers Won't Quit

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Students protesting the selection of Dr. Lorene Rogers as the new president of the University of Texas scheduled a noon rally today on what Dr. Rogers admits is a "troubled campus."

The faculty said it felt an obligation to hold classes, but added, "We pledge to inflict no reprisal of any kind upon students whose duties cause their absence from class."

More than 700 faculty members out of a total voting strength of 1,668 voted to ask Dr. Rogers' resignation. Officials said it may have been the largest general faculty meeting in UT-Austin history.

Following the meeting Dr. Rogers issued a brief statement saying:

"My decision was made before I took the position. I have no intention of resigning. I will be carrying on the university's business."

She told the faculty members before the vote that she thought she had done what was best for the school.

"I had to choose between these two situations," she said. "Start the search process over again, because the (faculty-student) advisory committee and (regent) selection committees could not arrive at a consensus, or accept the nomination of the selection committee without the approval of the advisory committee."

"The need for long-range direction was weighed against the knowledge of the dissension that would arise from choosing the second alternative.

The family has suggested memorials to the Dallas Salesmanship Club.

Snyder High School Has Two Merit Semifinalists

Snyder High School principal, Horrace Bostick, has announced that two SHS students have been named Semi-fianlists in the 1976 National Merit Scholarship Program. These students are among 15,000 who will continue in the competition for about 3,800 Merit Scholarships to be awarded next spring.

SHS students recognized include Gregory Arthur Kane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur V. Kane, 2708 Twenty-eighth, and Richard Michael Medford, son of Mr. and Mrs. O.C. Medford, 3606 Kerrville.

Kane is a member of the National Honor Society. For the third year in a row, he will be in Snyder High's One-Act play. This past summer Kane participated in Boys State in Austin. He is also a member of the Debate team.

Medford is a member of Snyder High School's talented tennis squad.

Over a million students from over 17,000 high schools entered the 1976 Merit Program by taking the 1974 Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test-National merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT-NMSQT). The Semifinalists are the highest-scoring students in each state; the number named in each state is proportional to the state's percentage of the nation's graduating high school class. The Semifinalists, most of whom will complete high school and enter college in 1976, represent the top half of one percent of the nation's most academically talented young people.

To continue in the competition, Semifinalists must advance to Finalist standing by meeting a number of requirments that include being fully endorsed and recommended for scholarship consideration by their secondary school principals, presenting school records that substantiate high academic standing, and confirming their high PSAT-NMSQT scores with equivalent scores on the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT). Over 90 percent of the Semifinalists are expected to qualify as Finalists and to receive Certificates of Merit next February. All winners of Merit Scholarships are chosen from the highly able group of Finalists.

Every finalist competes for one of the 1,000 National Merit $1000 Scholarships. A Finalist competes with all other Finalsits in the state for the scholarships allocated to the state. The allocation procedure is the same as the method used to name Semifinalists. The National Merit $1000 Schaolrships are one-time, nonrenewable awards supported by business and industrial sponsors and by NMSC's own funds. A Selection Committee or professionals in college admissions and counseling is convened to select the 1,000 winners nationwide.

25 DEAD, DAMAGE HEAVY

Eloise Hits Puerto Rico

By EDITH M. LEDERER
Associated Press Writer

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — Hurricane Eloise hit the north coast of the Dominican Republic today with 80-mile winds and heavy rains after killing at least 25 people and causing extensive damage in Puerto Rico.

Puerto Rican officials said the death toll could rise because of a large number of persons still reported missing. They said damage amounted to at least $40 million.

The National Hurricane Center in Miami said the storm was expected to strengthen. But "it's too far away to know whether or not it's going to hit the United States," forecaster Paul Hebert said.

"Torrential rain will occur over the Dominican Republic today and tonight, causing extensive flooding in many streams and rivers," the Miami center's 3 a.m. advisory said.

"Heavy rain will begin today over Haiti (which adjoins the Dominican Republic on the island of Hispaniola), creating a substantial threat of flooding."

The storm center was located early today about 80 miles north of Santo Domingo, the Dominican capital, and was moving west-northwest at about eight miles per hour.

More than 6,000 persons were reported driven from their homes in Puerto Rico. The dead included two persons crushed in the collapse of a building, two electrocuted, two drowned and an oil refinery worker burned to death when flood waters caused an electrical fire.

Utuado, a town of 35,000 in the central mountains, was hit hardest. Ponce, the island's second-largest city, was flooded, with 1,500 persons reported evacuated. Another 1,500 were evacuated in Mayaguez, on the west coast, and the collapse of two bridges isolated 25 persons. More than 3,000 squatters were moved from flooded shanties in San Juan's Carolina suburb, beside the flooding Rio Grande.

Dozens of villages were flooded.

Civil Defense Director Edma Santiago said Utuado was "a total disaster," with at least four housing developments under water. Dozens of cars were swept away by overflowing rivers. She estimated damage there at $10 million.

Contestant Misses Only Two Picks

There was a clear-cut winner in the second Snyder Daily News Football Contest of the season. In fact, there were few serious challengers as Robert Bartlett, 2200 Forty-fourth Street, took the week's top prize with only two misses.

In the 27 contest games, his only incorrect selections were considered upsets of the first magnitude—University of Texas at Arlington's victory over Texas Christian and Rice's victory over Houston University.

All alone in second place was Larry A. Pruett, 3201 Fortieth Street, who missed four selections. He had the distinction of calling the shot on the UT-Arlington-TCU upset, but the Rice-Houston suprise along with three others.

Another contest begins today, and the list of games may be found in sponsors' advertisements on the football contest page of this issue of The Snyder Daily News.

IN MIDDLE EAST

US Will Study Missile Supply

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The United States has agreed to consider supplying Israel with sophisticated battlefield missiles capable of carrying nuclear weapons, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said today.

He strongly denied, however, that Israel has actually been promised delivery of the weapon system, known as the Pershing missile.

There has been constant speculation that the Israelis have developed nuclear weapons, but the government has neither confirmed nor denied it.

Kissinger told a news conference in Cincinnati the United States has "agreed to study supplying them (the Israelis) with the missiles."

But, he went on, "we have not agreed to supply the Pershings."

The United States has about 250 ground-to-ground Pershing missiles, most of them stationed in western Europe. The missiles can carry nuclear warheads of between 60 and 400 kilotons. The atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima at the end of World War II carried 20 kilotons of destructive power.

The question of supplying Pershing missiles as well as other American military supplies was raised after a Washington Post report detailed a memorandum of agreement between the United States and Israel and previously kept secret.

Highway 84 Plan Backed

ROSCOE—Widespread support for a proposal to reroute U.S. Highway 84 through Roscoe was expressed here Tuesday night at a public hearing conducted by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

The proposal calls for routing U.S. 84 around the north edge of town to an intersection with Interstate 20 and eliminating the grade crossings of railraods. City officials of Roscoe and landowners where right-of-way for the new project would be sought spoke up in favor of it at the hearing.

The Roscoe project is considered one of the early requirements for developing the proposed "Port-to-Plains" road from the Gulf Coast through Houston, Austin, Abilene, Snyder and on the Lubbock and the Panahndle.

Roger Welsch, District Highway Engineer of Abilene, presided at the hearing, which was attended by prepesentatives of several cities on the U.S. 84 route as well as Roscoe citizens. Representing Snyder at the hearing were Chamber of Commerce Manager Mickey Nunley and John Thomas.

TO FORD, CONGRESS

Durkin Claims Win Is Warning

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Democrat John A. Durkin says his smashing victory in New Hampshire's Senate runoff is a rejection of President Ford's economic policies and a warning to Congress to get to work.

"We have sent a message to Washington and I hope they listen," the 39-year-old Durkin told jubilant supporters in Manchester Tuesday night as his margin over Republican Louis C. Wyman swelled past the 20,000-vote mark.

The combative, wisecracking former state insurance commissioner, who will become the Senate's 62nd Democrat, pledged, "I am going to stand up, I am going to speak out and I am going to rock the boat in a responsible manner until Washington starts listening to the people again."

The decisive Durkin victory came in the unprecedented rerun of the closest Senate election in the nation's history and gave this once solidly Republican state two Democratic senators for the first time since 1855.

Both the turnout, more than 240,000, and the margin of Durkin's victory exceeded the preelection forecasts of both parties.

Unofficial returns from all of the state's 299 precincts gave Durkin 140,273 votes, or 54 per cent; Wyman 113,044, or 43 per cent; and Carmen Chimento of the American party 8,853, or 3 per cent.

In the original election last November, three different tallies produced three different outcomes, with Durkin and Wyman each polling more than 110,000 votes and Chimento just 1,372.

Feuding New Hampshire Republicans had united behind the 58-year-old Wyman, who noted that in addition President Ford had "put his name on the line" by staging an 11-hour, 118-mile motorcade through the southern part of the state in his behalf last Thursday.

When the votes were tallied, however, Durkin had improved his showing just about everywhere, doubling his earlier margins in the cities of Manchester and Portsmouth and demonstrating increased strength in normally Republican towns.

"The people have spoken," said the disappointed Wyman. "I accept it in the spirit of the majority way."

He said he didn't think New Hampshire voters "would elect an organized labor candidate," added he didn't know why he had lost and declared the outcome "indicates that next year's general thrust of politics is going to be the left of center."

McKelvey Opposes Feds In Oil Explorations

HOUSTON (AP) — The director of the U.S. Geological Survey said today a government monopoly does not include qualities that are required for successful petroleum explorations.

Dr. W. E. McKelvey said some proposals now before Congress would put the government squarely in the business of oil exploration. He said a matter of such immense significance deserves much more analysis than it has so far received.

McKelvey, in remarks prepared for an energy policy seminar, said he has no position on the matter but that successful petroleum exploration "demands the widely varied experience, the differing insights, the intuitive hunches, and the outright heresy that are available in a large group of participants."

"These qualities are not to be found in a government monopoly committed to its own programs and its own singular point of view," he said.

Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C., Tuesday advocated a new policy under which the government and oil operators would share profits, or losses, from offshore explorations.

Hollings said many are waiting in the wings to nationalize the petroleum industry.

Hollings said many are waiting in the wings to nationalize the petroleum industry.

"I think this would be a terrible mistake but what could be even worse is for us to become unrealistic and intransigent, resisting all change in policy even though the world itself is drastically changed," he said. "We have a good chance to work together now but if we don't take it, nationalization will result because America is getting mad."

McKelvey said the role of the private sector is not quite clear under some of the proposals now before Congress.

"But it obviously would be dramatically less significant than the dominant part it plays today, and has played over the lifetime of the petroleum industry," he said.

McKelvey said bright prospects have prompted an accelerated leasing program for federally owned offshore areas.

"We expect this program to be one of the major contributors to our energy supply over the critical years between now and the time when sources other than oil and gas can assume a larger role in the energy economy," he said.

McKelvey said formidable problems complicate the task of developing the offshore resources.

"These problems run the gamut of politics, economics, technology, and the slowly metamorphosing attitude of a society which increasingly views itself as emerging upon the post-industrial stage of its development," he said.

CARRILLO GOT MONEY

Couling Tells Of Phony Invoices

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — A former Benavides school official testified today that he prepared phony invoices, wrote school district checks for them, cashed them and gave most of the money to suspended District Court Judge O. P. Carrillo.

The former business manager and tax collector for the school district, Rodolfo Couling, gave the testimony in the income tax trial of judge Carrillo and his brother, Duval County Commissioner Ramiro Carrillo.

Couling testified that the Carrillo brothers brought him invoice forms from Zertuche's General Store. He said he also had some invoice forms from Olivera Implement Co., a firm that once had been operated by his father-in-law. The Carrillos are accused of using a non-existent store to sell merchandise to Duval County.

Couling testified that in 1968 he prepared a check for $3,017.75 to the Olivera Implement Co. because "O.P. Carrillo wanted some money and I made the check." Couling said he endorsed the check by signing Mrs. Elvira Olivera, his mother-in-law's name, and then endorsed it with his signature.

Asked what he did with the check, Couling told Asst. U.S. Atty. George Kelt he cashed it in a San Diego, Tex. bank. He said "I brought it (the money) back to Benavides and I gave it to O.P. Carrillo."

He also said he issued a check later in 1968 to Benavides General Store for $495.40. He said the check was marked "for school bus tire" but he said there was no actual sale involved. Couling said he signed the check "Benavides General Store" then also signed the signature of Arturo Zertuche and put his own signature on the back and cashed it.

Kelt asked where the money went and Couling said, "It went to O.P. Carrillo."

Couling said that on April 10, 1968 he prepared a phony invoice and issued a check for $934.26 to Olivera and noted the check was for building repairs. Couling said he endorsed the check himself, cashed it and brought it back to Benavides. He said he kept about $200 and gave the rest to Carrillo.

Asked by Kelt why he issued the check, Couling replied, "It was prepared because O.P. Carrillo needed some money."

Fanne Still Wants To Marry Mills

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Fanne Foxe says the reason she still wants to marry U.S. Rep. Wilbur Mills is that "he made me feel secure and important."

"I had felt low for many years. But being with him made me feel the way I felt when I was in school, or the way my father felt about me. I still want to marry Wilbur. The decision is up to him," she said here Tuesday.

The 39-year-old Miss Foxe, a stripper whose real name is Annabel Batistella, was here to promote her autobiography. She began to cry when she was asked if she really cared about Mills, 67, an Arkansas Democrat.

"I love him in my own way," she said. "I don't like to talk about it."

She first came to prominence when she left a car with Mills in it and jumped into the Tidal Basin in Washington, D.C.

October Oil Requests Fall

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — October requests for Texas crude oil have fallen far below September nominations because Exxon did not submit a complete total, the Railroad Commission announced Tuesday.

The commission said the nominations for October total 3,744,509 barrels a day, a decrease of 233,210 barrels from this month.

"This unusually large decrease in nominations is due to the fact that Exxon Co., U.S.A. did not submit an additional demand total as they have in previous months, the commission said in a statement.

It added that Exxon had stated, "The existing uncertainties resulting from the expiration of the Emergency Petroleum Allocation Act of 1973 and its possible extension or replacement do not allow us to estimate an 'additional demand' to be nominated by Exxon Co., U.S.A. for October."

Madame Chiang Coming To US

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Madame Chiang Kai-shek, widow of the former leader of Nationalist China, has left for the United States for medical treatment.

Madame Chiang, who is reported to be in her 70s, said in a formal statement, issued Tuesday that she has not been in good health for years. The nature of her ailment was not disclosed.

She is a 1917 graduate of Wellesley College and last visited the United States in 1965-66.

Two Fires Cause Heavy Damage

Fire caused considerable damage to the inside of Benny's Diner at Seventeenth Street and College Avenue at 4 a.m. today.

Firemen also answered a call to the residence of Isaac Thompson, Thirty-fourth Street at Avenue M, at 5:21 p.m. Tuesday. Thompson was taken by private vehicle to Cogdell Memorial Hospital for treatment of smoke inhalation. Hospital Authorities this morning described his condition as good. There was heavy damage to the inside of the house.

Firemen said the cause of both blazes has not been determined.

PREPARING FOR THE ANIMALS—Livestock will be exhibited at the Scurry County Fair this year for the first time since the fair moved to the coliseum. Here, J.A. Merritt, employe at the coliseum, checks one of the pens in the new livestock building. The 11th annual fair opens Thursday and will continue through Saturday night.

Ford Intends To Revamp CIA

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford's options for revamping the Central Intelligence Agency include possibly moving all its undercover operations to some other agency and naming an over-all intelligence coordinator, White House sources say.

Although Ford intends some reorganization of the CIA, administration sources caution not to expect major changes for several months.

An administration official said the coordinator, if one is decided upon, would not be the CIA director.

Ford told a news conference Tuesday that no matter what the fate of the CIA, American political action aimed at influencing events in other countries is likely to continue.

"I wouldn't rule out necessary political activities by the United States if it involves our security," the President said.

The administration official, who asked not to be identified, said that among options being considered by the President are separating CIA's current functions into two distinct agencies.

CIA might retain its analytical mission of openly collecting data and anylzing all available information, he said. But either or both of CIA's other functions, covert collection of intelligence and clandestine political operations overseas might be switched to another agency, or a combination of agencies.

The official also said an intelligence coordinator is another option being considered. CIA Director William Colby currently is responsible for the day-to-day operations of that agency and for over-all coordination of other intelligence organizations.

CIA critics say directors of the agency never have had the time or influence to adequately perform the over-all supervision.

Ford said his staff and appropriate federal agencies are studying recommendations made by the Murphy and Rockefeller Commissions, which have investigated the CIA.

From these and other sources Ford will make administrative changes in the agency and propose legislative recommendations to Congress on the nation's intelligence-gathering apparatus, he said.

On other subjects in the informal news conference in the Oval Office, Ford said:

—Federal courts apparently have not taken sufficient notice of 1974 legislation that would make forced busing of school children a last resort.

—The United States has made no firm commitment to supply F16 fighter bombers and Pershing missiles to Israel as part of a new Sinai agreement. "They are on the shopping list," and they will be discussed with the Israeli government, he said.

—He is disappointed in the House intelligence committee's release last week of classified information relating to events preceding the 1973 Arab-Israeli war. Such action by a private citizen would represent a "serious criminal offense," he said.

Indiana Teachers Strike

By The Associated Press

As New York's teachers were ending a week-long walkout in financially strapped New York City and preparing to resume classes Thursday in the 1.1 million-pupil system, their Fort Wayne, Ind., colleagues voted to strike this morning.

The Indiana city school administrators immediately announced the schools would be closed.

The executive board of the 1,500-member Fort Wayne Teachers Association ordered a strike today against the system which has about 30,000 pupils.

An all-night negotiating session ended about 4:30 a.m.

Town Marshal Is Charged In Slaying

HONDO, Tex. (AP) — Castroville town marshal Frank Hayes remained jailed in this South Texas city today while a funeral home 400 miles away arranged to return the body of the man Hayes is charged with slaying.

The body of Richard Morales, 26, of Castroville, just west of San Antonio, was recovered Tuesday night from a three-foot grave near Carthage in Panola County, deep in the Piney Woods of East Texas.

It was taken to the Hawthorne Funeral Home in Carthage pending arrangements to return it to Hondo.

A Panola County Sheriff's office spokeswoman said the body was buried near the Midyett community, about six miles from the Louisiana border. It was in a pasture about two miles from a road and was recovered by two Texas Rangers from South Texas and Panola County Sheriff Johnnie Bradley.

Hayes' wife, Dorothy, accompanied the Rangers to Carthage Tuesday. She led officers to the gravesite, which the spokeswoman said was on "Mrs. Hayes old homeplace," a farm now run by her brother.

The Rangers and Mrs. Hayes returned to South Texas Tuesday night.

Hayes is being held in the Medina County Jail under $50,000 bond.

Also charged in the shotgun slaying is Dennis Dunford, 17, of Geronimo Village. He was to marry Hayes' daughter Oct. 6.

Medina County Sheriff Charles Hitzfelder gave this account:

Castroville deputy marshal Donald McCall told Hitzfelder he arrested Morales Sunday for questioning in connection with a burglary.

McCall said he was ordered by Hayes to take Morales to a gravel road seven miles from Castroville.

Hayes then ordered Morales out of the deputy's car and that his handcuffs be removed.

McCall then told Hitzfelder that Hayes took a .12 guage shotgun from his vehicle and ordered McCall to leave.

McCall said he heard a muffled shot after he had driven about 200 yards down the road.

Hitzfelder said Dunford told him that he helped Hayes put the body in the trunk of the marshal's car.

Rangers found a 12-gauge shotgun at Hayes' home.

Hitzfelder said a car was stopped Tuesday near Llano and two shovels and a pick axe were found in the blood-stained trunk. In the car were Mrs. Hayes, 49, and her sister, Mrs. Alice Baldwin of San Antonio. The Hayes' 18-year-old daughter was located at a home on Lake Lyndon B. Johnson.

Mrs. Baldwin and the daughter were not held.

Roald Amundsen of Norway first sailed the Northwest Passage in 1903-06.

CLAIMS TO BE 1,000, BUTTERFLY

Kallinger Testifies In His Own Defense

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — A Philadelphia shoemaker who allegedly took his young son on a three-state crime rampage has testified that he's 1,000 years old and that he was once a butterfly.

Joseph Kallinger, 38, testified in his own defense Tuesday during his second trial on robbery charges. A mistrial was declared in the first trial last June.

Two other defense witnesses, a psychologist and a psychiatrist, testified in Dauphin County court Tuesday that Kallinger has mental problems, but they declined to classify him as legally insane.

There was no comic flavor to Kallinger's testimony, much of which he seemed extremely reluctant to give.

He is charged here with a Dec. 3, 1974, robbery he and his 12-year-old son, Michael, allegedly pulled at a suburban Harrisburg home. Michael, 13, is in a juvenile facility near Pittsburgh.

The father is also charged with one murder and other crimes in New Jersey and with assault and robbery in Baltimore. Authorities say most of the crimes, including sexual assaults, were committed by a man-and-boy team.

"I couldn't hurt anybody. . . . I have never hurt anybody," Kallinger said during his articulate testimony.

"There have been evil forces trying to prevent me from doing my work. I could no longer block them out."

Kallinger said the devil was the evil force and that his job of repairing shoes was directly assigned to him by God.

He gave details of a troubled life — a disastrous first marriage at the age of 16, the mysterious death of a son, the prolonged and fatal illness of his mother, a daughter born with a rare and severe skin malady, and other problems.

"How long have you been alive?" defense attorney Malcolm Berkowitz asked him.

"My body's been alive 39 years," Kallinger said. He said he was 39, although his birthdate was Dec. 11, 1936.

"And your soul?" Berkowitz asked.

"A thousand years," Kallinger answered.

Q. What were you before your present body came into being?

A. The son of God.

Q. Did you have a prior physical form?

A. Yes. . . . I don't see what that has to do with this.

Q. You must answer the question.

A. It was in the form of a butterfly.

Q. Who decided to place you on earth in your present form?

A. My father.

Q. Who is your father?

A. God.

Kallinger said it was his mission "to get people's feet under control before 1978." He said God will return to earth that year.

Montoya Trial Is Postponed

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The theft trial of state Rep. Greg Montoya was postponed today until Dec. 1 because of the absence of a material witness who had joined the Marines.

The witness, Joel Garcia, is stationed in South Carolina and cannot be compelled to respond to a Texas subpoena.

In dismissing the jury, which had not received a word of testimony, state District Court Judge Mace Thurman said, "It is going to take some time to obtain the permission of the Marine Corps for him to come back here as a witness."

One of Montoya's lawyers, Rep. Craig Washington, D-Houston, said if Garcia declines to return to Texas a deposition will be taken from him.

Montoya is accused of stealing the services of persons on his legislative payroll.

45 Year Old GS Quilt Displayed

The Twentieth Century Club held its first meeting of the new year with a luncheon at the Martha Ann Woman's Club, with twelve members and two visitors present.

The president, Mrs. Bernard Bartals presided at the business meeting. The program was on federation. "A Nation of Nations" was presented by Mrs. Fred Davis. She noted that more than eighty years ago there appeared in our country an organization second to none in its ideals, its dedication, its democratic techniques, and its know-how. Its founders named it the General Federation of Womans Clubs. It members today come from all areas of the economy, of all degrees of education, of various interests, hobbies and talents combining themsleves into an organization.

Mrs. John Blum gave a bit of history on the first Girl Scout Troop organized in Snyder and displayed a quilt made by the girls.

Mrs. Blum stated that "in March 1930 Miss Elva Lemons and Miss Inez Caskey organized the first Girl Scout Troop in Snyder. After the first group of girls passed their Tenderfoot Tests they were inducted into Scouting on the school campus May 5, 1930. This troop was known as the "Lone Troop."

Mr. Reichardt, one of the scouts father, let us use a vacant filling station for a Lodge. It was between town and school across the street from the Citizens Ice Company. It was painted green, the Girl Scout Color. Many people of the community donated time and money to make it a Lodge to enjoy and be proud of. There were four Study Clubs that sponsored us, The Alpha Study Club, The Twentieth Century Club, The Altrurian Club and The Art Guild.

At that time there were only 252,000 Girl Scouts in the United States. The country was divided into regions. We were in the Cactus Region which consisted of Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona.

They had many activities besides the Girl Scout Program. One was making a bird quilt where each girl embroidered one block." The quilt was on exhibit for the club members to see along with Mrs. Blums Girl Scout book and a scrapbook Miss Lemons kept.

Amitie Club Has Educational Booth

Amitie Junior Study Club will have an educational booth at the Scurry County Fair on "Healthy Baby" in cooperation with the March of Dimes. Material will be available on nutrition, child care, prenatal care and genetics.

Legend has it that Santa Monica was given its name by Father Juan Crespi who arrived in Southern California in the 18th century.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Frank Schuld has just published a book called "The Simple Squeeze in Bridge." Today's hand is taken from an article about the book in the American Bridge Teacher's quarterly.

Frank points out that North could have bid three notrump and there wouldn't have been any problems. But that wasn't the case. West ruffs the third one and leads a club. North settled for four hearts. The defense starts with three rounds of diamonds. West ruffs the third one and leads a club.

It is apparent that East holds both the queen of clubs and king of spades as part of his weak opening bid so both finesses are wrong. This shouldn't bother South at all. The play involved here has the fancy name of "Vienna Coup", but it should be simple common sense.

South plays a couple of rounds of trumps and then establishes East's king as the high spade by cashing the ace. Then he runs off the rest of his trumps to come down to the 10 of spades and deuce of clubs in his hand and king-jack of clubs in dummy.

East will see that it is suicide to unguard his queen of clubs and will chuck the king of spades in the hope that West has the 10. The hope is futile and the game is scored.

Ask the Jacobys

A New Jersey reader wants to know what we bid after our right hand opponent opens one diamond. We hold: ♠ A K 10 9 6 4 ♥ A 6 5 ♦ 4 x x ♣ x x.

We simply overcall one spade. In modern bidding this may be a pretty good hand. Of course, if we played intermediate jump overcalls we could jump to two spades.

We do not make a takeout double with this type of hand, since it is not strong enough to double and then bid spades later on after our partner makes the expected minor suit response.

(Do you have a question for the Jacobys? Write "Ask the Jacobys" care of this newspaper. The most interesting questions will be used in this column and writers will receive copies of JACOBY MODERN.)

Terry Holt, Bill Halbert, and Ed Barkowsky. Guests were Ann Stapp, Judy Grimmett, Josie Sanders, Liz Blair and Lou Couffelt.

Dr. Tulley Presents Program

The Scurry County Retired Teachers Association met Thursday afternoon in the fellowship hall of Colonial Hill Baptist Church for their first regular meeting of the year. The yearbook committee composed of Effie Farmer, Gladys Spikes Martha Thompson, Opal Spikes, Nellie Smith and Lida Rhoades acted as hostesses. John Wiman gave the opening prayer.

Nellie smith, president, conducted a short business meeting. Mrs. Rhoades gave a resume of the Drive-In Workshop held recently at the Saint Paul Methodist Church in Abilene. Eight members attended. She announced that Audrey Brown, a student at WTC, had been awarded the association's scholarship.

The group voted to cooperate with AARP in sponsoring a Driver's Educational course, to be held in late September. Members not present were urged to get in touch with Rev. Vernon Parnell, pastor of Morning Side Baptist Church, if they are interested. Twenty-five participants are required to have the course given.

Plans for the TSTA Retired Teachers Luncheon to be held in Snyder October 27 was discussed.

Dr. James Tulley, Dean of the Learning Resource Center at WTC, presented the program "New Trends in Education." He stated that 25 years ago the only aid a teacher possessed outside the text book was a piece of chalk and a chalk board. Later audio visual aids came into existence. This was a major step on the educational ladder. Today a new theory has came to the fore front, Educational Technology.

This method has become a major step in creative education. It permits each student to advance at his own rate of speed. Here the slow learner advances and many are know to reach the top ten.

At this point Dr. Tulley showed a colored film with narrations to emphasize the new trend. The colored slides depicted "The Rain Forest in Mount Olympic. National Park in the state of Washington. It was the consensus of the group that this new method was profitable for it presented a new way of bringing the outside world into the classroom.

Final Action Completed On Pardon Of Pitts, Lee

By JOHN VAN GIESON
Associated Press Writer

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Two more nights in a cell and Freddie Lee Pitts and Wilbert Lee will be free at last after 12 years and 48 days in prison for murders another man confessed to nine years ago.

"I want to head out of here, crawl off by myself and unwind," the 31-year-old Pitts said Tuesday after he learned that final action had been completed on a pardon.

"I just want to see that pardon," said Lee, 40.

The two black men will walk out of the Florida State Prison at Raiford as free men on Friday, then they will be whisked into seclusion by supporters who fought for 10 years to free them.

"I feel a bittersweet sense of great joy and yet underlying sorrow," said Public Defender Phillip Hubbart of Miami. "Joy at this incredible victory after long, hard years and sorrow that it didn't come sooner."

Pitts and Lee were convicted by an all-white jury of the July 1963 execution-style murders of service station attendants Jesse Burkett and Grover Floyd Jr. at Port St. Joe.

They had confessed to the murders, but later claimed that they were coerced and beaten into confessing.

Sentenced to death in the electric chair, they spent most of their first nine years in prison confined to 6-by-9 foot Death Row cells.

Supporters of Pitts and Lee, including Hubbart and Pulitzer Prize-winning reporter Gene Miller of the Miami Herald, embarked on a crusade to free them.

But even after the 1966 confession by white convict Curtis "Boo" Adams to the Floyd-Burkett murders, the legal struggle to free Pitts and Lee was not over.

The two won a new trial in 1972, but were convicted a second time by another all-white jury when Circuit Judge D. R. Smith of Ocala ruled that Adams' confession was inadmissable hearsay evidence.

Gov. Reubin Askew issued a pardon last week after an 18-month investigation of his own, but under state law, such a pardon must be signed by the governor and three Cabinet members.

Askew, Atty. Gen. Robert Shevin and Treasurer Philip Ashler signed the pardon last week. Education Commissioner Ralph Turlington added his name Tuesday.

In Port St. Joe, Burkett's father, W.L. Burkett, commented angrily, "Oh, this was politics, pure and simple. Askew has obligated the NAACP to his political career."

The Rev. O.T. Stallworth, a spokesman for the town's blacks, called the pardon "very much overdue. We never have thought the boys were guilty. I think the police and all were just trying to pacify the white folks. They had the trial so quick. . . . Why, they found them guilty before they ever found the bodies of the two men."

Navy Cancels Plan To Use Matagorda

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has agreed to stop efforts to use Matagorda Island off the Texas coast, a wintering spot for whooping cranes, for pilot training purposes, Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said today.

In a prepared Senate speech, Proxmire also said the Interior Department now will move to turn the island into a wildlife management area and park.

The Air Force had used the island for bombing practice runs and refused to give it up, despite protests from congressmen and several agencies.

The secretary of defense reversed that decision, but the Navy last July put in a bid to use part of the island the Air Force had left.

In late August, however, Interior Department officials wrote Proxmire that they intend to request that all Matagorda land be declared excess property to the General Services Administration so they could acquire it for the park plan.

The Navy then cancelled its plan to seek portions of the island for practice landing and takeoff field and other pilot training, Proxmire said.

Concluding his speech, he wished the fewer than 50 cranes currently in the wild "a peaceful winter."

Gowon Wants To Study Politics

The Sunday Times said Gowon, 40, living with friends, has visited Warwick University, which has a strong political department.

RALPH McLAUGHLIN

Rotary Governor To Visit

Ralph McLaughlin of Big Spring, District Rotary Governor, was due here late today for the annual district governor's visit to the Snyder Rotary Club.

He will meet at 7:30 p.m. at the West Texas State Bank Community Room with local Rotary President Bassett Keller and other officers and committee heads of the local club in a report-recommendation session and to hear committee reports. He will make his official visit to the club at its noon luncheon meeting Thursday at the Country Club.

He will discuss the program of the coming year for the 45 Rotary clubs in the 573rd District of Rotary International, which covers most of Northwest Texas.

McLaughlin, a native of Ralls, is president and chairman of the board of Saunders Co., Inc., which sells plumbing, piping, valves and pumping equipment. He has been active in Rotary for 18 years and is a past president of the Big Spring club. He also has served on the Big Spring School Board, as president of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce and is now serving on the board of the industrial foundation there.

McLaughlin also is a member of IFFR (International Fellowship of Flying Rotarians). He and his wife recently flew their plane to the International Assembly at Boca Raton, Fla., on to the International Convention at Montreal, Canada, and back by way of the International Secretariat at Evanston, Ill.

'Squeaky' Takes Stand, Wins Reduction In Bail

By LINDA DEUTSCH
Associated Press Writer

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Lynette A. Fromme, wrapped in a hooded red robe, fought back tears as she pleaded from the witness stand for freedom to resume the "simple life" of a Charles Manson disciple.

Miss Fromme, charged with the attempted assassination of President Ford, made a surprise witness stand appearance at a pretrial hearing Tuesday but failed to win release from jail.

Instead, U.S. District Court Judge Thomas J. MacBride reduced bail from million to $350,000. Miss Fromme's roommate, Sandra Good, conceded outside court, "We don't have that kind of money."

Miss Fromme, her voice cracking with emotion, had asked to be set free on her word.

"Before the world at this time, my word to myself or anybody is my life," said the 26-year-old defendant.

MacBride did modify a gag order imposed on all officials connected with the case to allow Miss Fromme to speak freely with visitors, including reporters, as long as she doesn't discuss the court case.

MacBride is expected to rule Friday on a request by Miss Fromme that she be permitted to act as her own attorney. He indicated he might allow her to act as her own counsel, but only if a qualified attorney advises her on legal matters.

At Friday's hearing, Miss Fromme is scheduled to enter a plea to the charge that she tried to kill Ford as he walked across Capitol Park here on Sept. 5. A Secret Service agent said he wrestled a loaded .45-caliber gun from her hand as she stood two feet from Ford.

Authorities said there were four live rounds in the clip of the military semiautomatic but no cartridge in the firing chamber.

Manson, now 40, was convicted with three women followers in the 1969 murder of actress Sharon Tate and six others. He is serving a life sentence at San Quentin Prison.

During the bail hearing on Tuesday, Miss Fromme and the 30-year-old Miss Good, another Manson "family" member, said:

—They moved to Sacramento some 2½ years ago. Miss Fromme said they were emotionally troubled because they had broken a vow to camp outside the Los Angeles Hall of Justice until Manson was freed. They gave up after two years of living on the sidewalk.

—They and a new friend who shares their apartment, Susan "Heather" Murphy, have money problems.

Miss Good said she receives $200 a month from a trust fund, which will decrease to $100 a month next year. Miss Fromme said she had at times applied for food stamps and that she had received a $1,100 loan to attend Sacramento City College.

—They no longer are involved with drugs, although Miss Fromme said she smoked marijuana occasionally and took LSD "about once a year."

Chapin Asks Top Court Review

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dwight L. Chapin, appointments secretary to former President Richard M. Nixon, has asked for a Supreme Court review of his April 1974 conviction in connection with Watergate.

Chapin is serving a prison term of 10-30 months stemming from his grand jury testimony on so-called political "dirty tricks" during the 1972 presidential campaign.

In seeking the high court review, Chapin said questions asked of him before the grand jury were ambiguous.

He also questioned "whether any official in the Nixon administration, and especially one who served on the White House staff, could obtain a fair trial on any charge brought in the District of Columbia during the height of the Watergate crisis in 1974."

Connally Urges Defense Of System

HOUSTON (AP) — Former Texas Gov. John Connally says those who believe in the U.S. system of democracy "had better start defending it."

"Never before has our system been so in danger," he told a group of engineers, scientists and executives. "It's up to you and to me to defend our system."

Connally, speaking to some 800 members of the Gulf Coast section of the Society of Petroleum Engineers Tuesday, said he was alarmed that "the democracies which we helped to promote...have fallen slowly by the wayside."

"Show me a country that has no economic freedom and I'll show you a country that has no personal freedom," he said.

The former governor criticized Third World countries who have in recent days called on the United States to share its wealth with them.

To those countries who have been saying to the U.S., "You've got to deplete your strength," Connally declared, "I say nonsense."

He said the United States has "helped countries large and small" in the generation since World War II, giving away money, technology and exploring for natural resources.

He said the Third World countries now are "calling us exploiters because we helped, because we found the resources."

Connally said that oil companies have explored the outer reaches of the world and discovered oil "not just for us but for the world."

In return, he said, the oil-rich nations have boosted oil prices 400 per cent "not because of economics but because of political decisions."

He said this country needs a new generation of traders in its relations with other nations instead of generation of givers.

Connally said it may take a severe energy shortage this winter before Congress will deregulate the production of natural gas.

Connally answered numerous questions from the audience on a variety of topics. He said he hopes he never holds political office or an appointive office again but added, "you never know what the future holds."

Former CIA Chief To Be Quizzed On Records

By DAVID C. MARTIN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate intelligence committee is seeking to determine whether the CIA destroyed records relating to its stockpiling of deadly poisons.

"We have evidence that there are memos which one would think should exist which no longer exist," F. A. O. Schwarz, chief counsel for the committee said Tuesday at the end of the first day of public hearings on the CIA's Project Naomi.

Schwarz said that former CIA Director Richard M. Helms would be asked about the matter when he testifies before the committee today.

William E. Colby, the current CIA director, testified under oath Tuesday that some records on Project Naomi were destroyed in November 1972. Colby referred to a memo between Helms and Dr. Sidney Gottlieb, then one of the agency's top scientists, concerning the destruction.

However, Mitchell Rogovin, special counsel to the CIA, later informed reporters that Colby had been in error. According to Rogovin, there was no destruction of records relating to poisons and no such memo between Helms and Gottlieb.

Helms, now ambassador to Iran, sat in the audience as Colby told how the CIA spent $3 million between 1952 and 1970 to develop a variety of deadly poisons and sophisticated delivery systems, including a dart gun capable of killing without a trace.

Colby quoted Helms as saying that clear instructions were given to get rid of the agency's stockpile of poisons in 1970, after a presidential order to destroy chemical and biological warfare agents.

Nevertheless, Colby acknowledged that the agency had continued to keep a variety of lethal and incapacitating poisons, including a deadly shellfish toxin in which Chairman Frank Church, D-Idaho, said could kill many thousands of people.

Dr. Nathan Gordon, former head of the chemical branch of the agency's Technical Services Division, testified that he "was never aware of any CIA directive to seek out and destroy biological and chemical agents."

Gordon said he read about the presidential order in the newspaper and, along with two associates, decided that it did not apply to substances such as the shellfish toxin and in any case was directed at the Defense Department, not the CIA.

"We did not feel the necessity or the need to inform higher chains of command," Gordon said.

Under persistent questioning from Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., Gordon conceded that, "We may have misinterpreted" the order. Gordon added that he was willing to accept the blame for retaining the shellfish toxin.

"Perhaps you're overly generous in accepting the blame," said Church, who maintained that the incident represented a serious breakdown in the agency's internal controls.

Shingles linked to chicken pox

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—I wish you would tell us something about shingles. Are they caused by a virus? Could this be the fault of chemicals in the water we drink? I never knew they were under the skin, just a few appearing on the outside of the skin. They are very painful. Could shots or cortisone help the victim? How long do they last under medication? Is there any way to prevent attacks?

DEAR READER—This is a relatively common disorder in older people. It is said that about half of the people who reach 85 have had at least one attack.

No, shingles, technically called herpes zoster, is not caused by your drinking water, but by the same virus that causes chicken pox. The virus lies dormant in the nerves for years and then becomes active.

You have a nerve to each side of your body that comes out of the spinal cord at each level of the vertebrae. One part or main branch of this is the sensory nerve. It is the part usually affected. One of the nerves running along the rib is the one most commonly involved. A nerve to the face can also be affected.

The area of skin supplied by the sensory nerve will begin to hurt, burn or itch. It may then turn red and about four days later small blisters will break out on the surface of the skin. Although the blisters may disappear within 10 days, the pain and inflammation often last a month. And even worse, in about a third of patients over 40 years of age residual pain persists for months and even years.

Occasionally one may catch chicken pox from a patient with shingles. You can't catch the shingles from a person with the chicken pox, though, nor can you catch shingles from a person with shingles.

The treatment is pretty unsatisfactory. You can treat the pain in the short-term illnesses with symptomatic measures, including calamine lotion and analgesics. A lot of medicines that have been used have been proved to be of little or no benefit. These include antibiotics, vitamins, irradiation and gamma globulin.

Cortisone products are helpful in shortening the duration of the pain but the skin doesn't heal any faster. These agents may lead to spread of the virus. The prolonged pain that persists for months is particularly hard to treat. If you give narcotics you may have a patient who will become an addict, because you have to use so much for so long.

Local injections and even sectioning the involved nerve has proved to be useless in relieving the pain. Operation at the spinal cord level is done in severe cases.

How can you prevent the disease? Obviously the best way would be to prevent chicken pox. That way you wouldn't have the virus in your body that causes herpes zoster in later years. Unfortunately there is no vaccine to prevent it. Chicken pox can be modified by gamma globulin, but that won't protect you from shingles later.

Finally, if you have an attack of shingles and recover you are not immune and can have another attack at a later date.

Tigua Indians Offer To Buy New York City

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Smoke signals on the horizon here spell heap good news for financially-strapped New York.

Message say Tigua Indians will pay $24 and some beads for New York City, then get hell off island and take buildings with you.

"Yes, it's all tongue in cheek," admits Bill Newkirk, tourist coordinator for the Tiguas. But he adds the Tiguas will be happy to live up to their offer should New York Mayor Abraham Beame accept.

The Tiguas are a band of 550 Indians nestled among the foothills and sand along the Rio Grande. It is unlikely one has ever been to any of Texas' major cities, much less metropolitan New York.

"The Tiguas couldn't afford a pouch of tobacco," said Alton Griffin, consultant to the Texas Indian Commission.

"That's true," Newkirk said. "They are very poor. But the tribal council voted and decided they'd buy New York for the same price the Mohicans got for it. They figure that if New York is in such financial straits people up there would be happy to sell out and leave."

Newkirk quoted Jose Garnillo, the cicique, or tribal chief who speaks no English.

Manhattanites who might decide to stay behind after the sale should have no fear of the Tiguas.

The tribe moved into this area with the Spaniards in 1680 and maintained a pastoral lifestyle of farming and crafts.

"But many of them served as scouts with the 10th Cavalry in West Texas during the old days," Newkirk said. "And they served bravely."

Newkirk said the Tiguas, who earn a modest living through various handicrafts, do not want New York City as it now exists. "The people who live there can take all the buildings and other improvements with them. The Indians want to return it to its pristine, native state," he said.

The Tiguas are governed by the TIC, not the federal Bureau of Indian Affairs as are most Indian tribes therefore they receive no federal money, Newkirk said.

"They are very poor. They live in adobe houses and their income comes from jewelry, leather, silver, and pottery goods they make," he said.

Should the Tiguas succeed in buying Manhattan, dude ranch owner Dieter Gerzymisch wants to buy the Statue of Liberty to place as a tourist attraction at his ranch 35 miles from here.

"Unfortunately, it belongs to the U.S. government and I don't think they will sell," said Gerzymisch..

"If they should, however, I also own a moving company so there wouldn't be any problem in getting it out here," he added.

Postal Executives At Seminar

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Forty-two U.S. Postal Service executives from throughout the nation are attending the University of Texas Graduate School of Business to learn to be better business executives.

"This is the same kind of program that many private businesses have for their chosen executives," said E.G. Vorwerk, director of customer services at the Austin sectional center.

"These are men from the mid to top level, handpicked because of their particular responsibilities or future potential. It's quite an elite group," he said.

The Sept. 7-26 training session is the first one held in the Southwest but similar three-week seminars have been held at the University of Virginia and the University of Southern California. A second Southwest session will be held here next spring.

Robert Anderson, director of management development programs for the graduate school, said the program will "zero in" on problems peculiar to the Postal Service. Topics range from "creative acceptance of change in an organization to unusual aspects of capitol budgeting," Anderson said.

Serving as faculty for the seminar are UT scholars from the areas of management, finance, business communication, advertising, marketing, accounting and business law, among others.

"It will upgrade management skills with the latest thinking, for such as computer planning and organization development," Vorwerk said. "Generally these are men who are being trained for greater responsibility."

The participants come from 18 states and Canada, including the Postal Service's headquarters in Washington and various postal regional, district and sectional centers.

Chiropractic Course Is Completed

Mrs. John Salmon of the Butler Chiropractic office in Snyder returned this week from Dallas where she completed a four-day school at the Parker Chiropractic Research Foundation. She received instruction on how to care properly for chiropractic patients and office procedures.

Dr. Leslie Butler, whose new office will be completed soon, received instruction in recent development in X-ray detection of pathology and specialized instruction in chiropractic kinesiology, the science of muscle testing and adjusting to effect corrections of nerve irritation through the release of misaligned vertabrae. Also included was review work on physical, orthopedic and neuroligical examinations.

Dr. James W. Parker, founder and president of the Research Foundation, spoke to the closing banquet gathering of 1,200 DCs and assistants who attended from 50 states, Canada and a number of foreign countries.

Kidney Machine To Texas Hospital

ARDMORE, Okla. (AP) — A kidney dialysis machine, standing unused in an Ardmore hospital since 1971, will be donated to a Texas hospital, it was decided Monday.

The Ardmore Seventh-day Adventist Hospital Auxiliary voted to give the kidney-cleansing machine to the Reagan Clinic in Wichita Falls.

Alice Hembree, auxiliary president, said the organization decided to give the dialysis machine to the Texas hospital because of difficulties encountered here in complying with federal requirements for operation of such machines.

The auxiliary donated the machine to the Ardmore Memorial Hospital in 1971 after collecting more than 600,000 food company coupons to purchase it from the Kidney Foundation.

The machine has been unused because of strict federal qualifications for personnel permitted to operate it.

James Culpepper, administrator of the Ardmore hospital, said the dialysis machine will be transferred to the Wichita Falls hospital as soon as arrangements can be made.

Only New Voters Must Register

Secretary of State Mark White reminded Texans the deadline for filing new voter registrations for the upcoming Constitutional election is Oct. 3.

In a statement issued from his Capitol office, White said, "As the State's Chief Election Official, I sincerely urge you to participate in the electorial process. Your vote is your voice in government and it is your right and privilege to cast that vote."

"Our laws make it easier to register to vote in Texas than in any other state," stressed White.

"Bilingual instructions and forms are provided with each voter guide now being mailed to all postal patrons in Texas. When you receive the proposed charter, read the inside back cover carefully. If you have voted in Texas in the primary or general election of 1972, or anytime since then, you do not need to re-register," explained White.

Many County Tax Assessor-Collectors are receiving dual registrations due to this provision in the law. White added many citizens have applied prior to receiving the Constitution's material and are re-registering unnecessarily. They will receive voting certificates by mail in the near future he said.

Completed voter registration forms may be delivered in person or mailed to the tax assessor-collector in the county in which the applicant legally resides.

"The new voter registration mentioned by White applies only to those people who are not currently registered to vote and want to vote in the Nov. 4 election," said Don Adams, Scurry County tax assessor-collector.

"If you are not registered," he said, "You have until Oct. 3 to become a qualified voter by registering at the tax office.

"The voter registration application forms you will be receiving in the mail within the next two months are for the years of 1976-77. When you receive the application, please complete the form, sign it, and return it to the tax office. It will be processed and, after the first of the year, you will receive voter registration for the voting years of 1976-77."

Any voting certificate issued in 1972 or later is still valid for this year's election.

New Zealand, Australia and the United States are the only three countries in the world where kiwis have hatched. The pair of flightless birds in Washington's National Zoological Park produced a chick earlier this year.

Auburn, LSU Are Favored

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — For years, the so-called experts have been saying Ohio State plays a patsy schedule. For years, the so-called experts have been saying Penn State plays a patsy schedule.

So what happens when the twain shall meet? The answer is due Saturday when third-ranked Ohio State entertains seventh-ranked Penn State at Columbus in what promises to be one of the top college football games of the season.

This is the first meeting between Woody Hayes and Joe Paterno, two of the nation's winningest coaches, although Hayes went up against Penn State three times when Rip Engle was at the helm of the Nittany Lions and Paterno was an assistant coach.

The results may surprise you. Penn State won 7-6 in 1955, 10-7 in 1963 and 27-0 in 1964. And way back in 1912, Penn State beat Ohio State 37-0. Time for a change ... Ohio State 24-17.

But take heart, Joe Paterno. Last week's predictions suffered a horrible fate ... 33 right, 21 wrong, one tie for a percentage of only .611. For the season, 50-26-2—.658.

Pitt at Oklahoma: Barry Switzer and Johnny Majors were on the staff at Arkansas in the 1960s and opposed each other in the 1974 Coaches' All-American Game. Switzer won that one ... and Switzer wins this one ... Oklahoma 41-14.

Tennessee at UCLA: The pollsters say this is an even match with Tennessee ranked 10th and UCLA 12th. One hesitant vote for jet lag ... UCLA 28-24.

Notre Dame at Purdue: Dan Devine isn't happy about playing two road games in five days. Alex Agase isn't happy about losing to Northwestern and then facing Notre Dame and Southern Cal back-to-back. One of them will be happy Saturday ... Notre Dame 17-7.

Missouri at Illinois: Mizzou pulled the season's first big upset, whipping Alabama 20-7. Turnabout is fair play. Upset Special of the Week ... Illinois 20-13.

Texas A&M at Louisiana State: Has anyone seen the Aggies' offense? Second Upset Special ... LSU 13-10.

Stanford at Michigan: Cardinals gave the Wolverines a tough game last year in California. This one's in ... Michigan 28-7.

Texas at Washington: Quickie Quiz — Who was Washington's coach in 1956? Darrell Royal, that's who. Welcome back, Darrell ... Texas 40-14.

Oregon State at Southern California: If the Beavers couldn't score against San Diego State, how can they score on the Trojans? Southern Cal 34-0.

Indiana at Nebraska: Indiana may be better than people think, Nebraska not as good, both of which are lucky for the Hoosiers. Nebraska 31-14.

Clemson at Alabama: Bear Bryant hails from Fordyce, Ark., and Clemson's Red Parker once coached there. Clemson's no Missouri ... Alabama 38-10.

Auburn at Baylor: Auburn lost its defense but Baylor lost its quarterback ... Auburn 14-13.

Texas Ranked 8th, A&M Slips To 11th

By The Associated Press

Mighty Oklahoma maintained its hold on the top spot in the weekly Associated Press college football rankings today by an overwhelming margin, but there's an interesting battle shaping for runner-up honors between Big 10 powers Michigan and Ohio State.

The defending champion Sooners, on the strength of 53 first-place votes in the Top Twenty balloting released Tuesday, compiled 1,130 of a possible 1,140 points from a nationwide panel of 57 sports writers and broadcasters. Oklahoma was impressive Saturday in whipping Oregon 62-7.

A scant nine points separate second-ranked Michigan and No. 3-rated Ohio State. The Wolverines have amassed 931 points and the Buckeyes 922 with each team collecting a pair of first-place votes. Michigan topped Wisconsin 23-6 and Ohio State disposed of Michigan State 21-0 last weekend.

Oklahoma, Michigan and Ohio St. were ranked 1-2-3 a week ago. Also repeating from last week in the fourth through sixth spots were Southern California, Missouri and Nebraska. Fourth-ranked USC has 685 points after beating Duke 35-7, idle Missouri, No. 5, polled 632 points and sixth-rated Nebraska received 478 as a result of a 10-7 victory over LSU.

Penn State climbed to seventh from 10th with 433 points after defeating Stanford 34-14, and Texas and Tennessee moved into the Top Ten for the first time this season.

Texas, 12th last week, advanced to eighth with 427 points by beating Colorado State 46-0 and Tennessee jumped from 20th to 10th with 310 after downing Maryland, which had been 14th, 26-8.

Notre Dame, 17-3 winner over Boston College Monday night, remained ninth with 392 points.

Auburn, Michigan State, Maryland and North Carolina State suffered a lost weekend and all dropped out of the Top Twenty.

The AP's Second Ten lists of Texas A&M, UCLA, Florida, Alabama, Pitt, Arkansas, Arizona, Arizona State, Miami of Ohio and West Virginia.

Volleyball Girls Lose To Cooper

ABILENE—Host Abilene Cooper defeated the Snyder High School varsity and junior varsity volleyball girls here last night. The Tiger varsity lost 15-13, 15-17, 9-15 while the JV lost its first match of the season, 12-15, 15-8, 13-15.

Della Braziel scored 12 points for the varsity, Susan Walker 8, Pam Head 8, Paula Falls 6, Pam Kohl 2, Kim Nicholson 2, and Mitzi Autry 1.

The matches were all close with the lead changing hands several times. In the first game, Della Braziel put Snyder ahead 7-2, but Cooper slowly closed the gap. The lead see-sawed until Pam Head scored the 15th point.

In the second game, Cooper took an early lead, but neither team was abled to go ahead by more than 3 points. Tied at 14-all with time running out, Snyder missed a crucial score and failed to get its defense rallying again.

In the third game, Snyder took an early lead, but Cooper tied it up at 6-all. The hosts took advantage of several mistakes by Snyder on defense to take command of the game and win the match.

Paula Falls and Della Braziel both were outstanding on defense for Snyder, and Susan Walker looked good on offense.

"I was well satisfied with the improvement we've made," said Coach Joyce Elrod. "Our defense against the spike and the serve have improved tremendously."

The two Snyder teams will be at at Midland Thursday with the JV to play at 5:30 p.m., followed by the varsity match at 6:30 p.m. Friday morning, the varsity will be in the Monahans Tournament, meeting Big Spring in the first round at 8:30.

Kittens, Cubs Win Matches

In 7th grade volleyball action yesterday, the Kittens bested the Bengals 15-8, 15-12, and the Cubs beat the Cats, 15-8, 18-16.

Tigers Put Forth A Great Effort

"The Tigers put out a great effort at Midland Lee Friday night," declared Coach Maurice (Mo) Hodges.

He spoke last night at the Tiger Booster Club meeting, held in the high school cafeteria. The Snyder High School team takes on Big Spring there at 8 o'clock Friday night.

Concerning the Tigers' inability to get the ball across the goal in the 3rd quarter of the Lee game, Coach Hodges said the boys were "over anxious near the goal."

He said he had been concerned about the defense the previous week, but stated they did well against Lee.

"They played well together as a team and held a good team to only seven points,' said Hodges. "Overall, I'm pleased with the effort. We're getting the fundamentals down now and we may be more versatile in the next game. The Tigers will be seasoned by the time district play begins because there are no 'patsies' on the schedule."

Hodges said Richard Balderamma, starting defensive tackle, sustained a torn knee ligament in the Lee game and probably will be out about eight weeks. He's due to have surgery this week. The Tiger head mentor praised the play of David Rice and Dusty Land, both of whom played some at defensive tackle after Balderamma was taken out of the game.

Coach Hodges also noted that David Kruger, senior strong tackle, will be out four to six weeks due to a shoulder separating. One piece of good news, Hodges said, is the fact that senior strong tackle Richard Huddleston again is working out with the team. He was operated on for a torn knee ligament last July, but should be ready for action in a couple of weeks.

"It was a hard-hitting game (the contest with Midland Lee), and they also lost a tailback to injuries," the coach said.

Hodges admitted Big Spring, this week's opponent, is a worthy foe, although the Tigers have beaten them for three years straight.

Coach Winfred Shipp gave the scouting report on Big Spring. He said they throw the ball a lot this year and have a good passing quarterback and a big, tough fullback. He said their defense has good speed, and they have good receivers.

"They've won two games this season, and we've lost two," he cautioned.

Shipp said the Steers looked weak against Andrews in their opener, but he said the following week "they came alive" against Hobbs. Offensively, Big Spring employs a pro set with a split backfield. Defensively, they use a 5-2 alignment similar to the Tigers' defense.

"They look impressive, but personally I'll take the Tigers," Coach Shipp concluded.

Films of the tussle with Midland Lee were monitored by Coach Jim Bartlett.

Bill Sikes, president of the club, presided over the meeting. He said he felt like the Tigers won the game at Midland Lee because of their great effort, and he expressed the belief they will win Friday night at Big Spring.

Maxine Ragland, club secretary, reported there now are 192 members in the Booster Club. Memberships are still available at the rate of $5 for an individual or $6 for a family.

Wilber To Scout For Rangers

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Del Wilber, longtime Triple-A manager, has been named a special assignment scout for the Texas Rangers of the American League.

In 1973 and 1974, Wilber's Spokane clubs won Pacific Coast League titles. Ranger General Manager Dan O'Brien said the Rangers will name a new manager for their Spokane farm club later.

Signs With Spurs

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Rick Suttle, who was top scorer for the University of Kansas Jayhawks last season, has signed a multiyear contract with the San Antonio Spurs.

Officials of the American Basketball Association team refused to disclose terms of the pact. Suttle, 6-10, 200 pounds, was the Spurs' second round ABA collegiate draft selection.

Bank Offers Course To Aid Small Businesses

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — There's an old chestnut, slightly marinated in cynicism, that banks are eager to lend money only to those who don't need it. A lot of struggling entrepreneurs believe this to be so.

Seattle-First National Bank didn't set out to disprove the notion when it began a course in financial management and controls for small businesses, but that's been the effect. It won some customers for itself.

It also earned respect and business from other banks around the country which seek to duplicate the goal of aiding small businesses run their affairs properly, at least insofar as bankers are concerned, and that's very, very important.

"We were teaching at a community college in the Greater Seattle area," said David Duryee, vice president, referring to himself and associate David Enger. "As the course became more popular the college became less enthusiastic."

Since both men worked for the bank, they moved the course — 10 classroom meetings one night a week, 7 to 9:30 and often beyond — to the bank's headquarters.

"We had room for 30 people, but 120 signed up," said Duryee.

Demand has been that way ever since, and many students have been turned away. The bank is now preparing to offer the $95 course statewide, and for $5,000 it is offering banks throughout the country the rights to certain geographical areas.

What they had done was to discover what apparently few other banks realized — that small businesses are eager for practical, immediately useable financial information straight from the banker's mouth.

"We don't have anything to do with theory or implications," said Duryee. "We say, 'Here it is, use it, and don't worry about where it came from,'" Case studies are used. Students contribute their own experiences to discussions.

The biggest single weakness of the small businessman, Duryee finds, is a lack of detailed and sophisticated planning, even prior to beginning the business, and then right on through — "Literally, they don't know what is happening."

The minimum planning of any business should include a pro forma income statement — sales, expenses and net income — and a cash budget for the next 12 months, he maintains.

The importance of the budget forecast is especially important to the small businessman in dealing with his bank.

"Sometime during the year you're going to need cash," Duryee tells the students. "It can be very critical."

Bankers, who sometimes are considered enemies by small businessmen who keep poor records, like to be able to look a year ahead and anticipate the business' needs and plan on credit. They don't like to be surprised and mystified.

The other big problem of small businessmen, Duryee believes, is that fast as a business grows, its cash needs always grow faster than the cash comes in.

"Cash needs always exceed cash sources in a growth situation," he states.

Without sound planning, this situation eventually leads to a crisis.

Four New Shows In Top Twenty

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Last week, 18 new shows began their fall season runs. Now, the national Nielsens are in, bringing the new folks the traditional good and bad news of "premiere week" on the networks.

Only four newcomers — CBS' "Phyllis" and "Switch" and ABC's "Starsky and Hutch" and "When Things Were Rotten" — wound up among the 20 top-rated shows in the week ending Sept. 14.

"Phyllis" got off to a nice third-place start, while "Switch" copped seventh place, "Starsky and Hutch" took 10th place and "When Things Were Rotten" was rated 20th in viewer popularity.

Four other new shows — NBC's "Joe Forrester," ABC's "On the Rocks," CBS' "Joe and Sons" and ABC's "Welcome Back, Kotter" — got good, fairly good and passing marks in the Nielsen audience samples.

There were ranked 23rd, 28th, 36th and 37th, respectively, in viewer popularity out of 66 network shows rated last week.

But 10 other new shows got sub-marginal to disaster grades in the ratings, most notably CBS' "Three for the Road" on Sunday. It was the lowest-rated of all network prime-time shows last week.

The nine other slow-starting newcomers, in order of their descending ratings, were NBC's "Invisible Man," "Ellery Queen" and "Doctor's Hospital," CBS' "Doc," ABC's "Swiss Family Robinson," CBS' "Kate McShane," NBC's "Medical Story" and ABC's "Barbary Coast" and "Mobile One."

Keep in mind that the estimated "premiere week" ratings for new and returning shows — and more importantly, how they did against the competition in their time periods — may change markedly in coming weeks.

Viewers now only are sampling the new-season wares, and it may be a month until any real viewing patterns emerge.

Consider CBS' highly-publicized "Beacon Hill." It premiered on a Monday three weeks ago against a "Lizzie Borden" rerun on ABC and baseball on NBC. It won its time period and was the week's top-rated show.

The next week, it again won its time period, starting in its regular Tuesday time period against TV movie reruns on ABC and NBC.

Last Tuesday, facing its first real test against NBC's new "Joe Forrester" and ABC's returning "Marcus Welby," it was third in its time period, getting a 27 per cent share of the estimated national audience against the winning 36 per cent share copped by NBC's entry.

Whether this will continue probably won't be known until mid-October. But even if such is the case, CBS may stick with it to see what happens, as it did with "The Waltons," which now is in its fourth season.

For the record, CBS' "All in the Family," an instant hit when it premiered, is back at it again, despite its shift from Saturday to Monday nights this season.

It reopened last week as the nation's top-rated show.

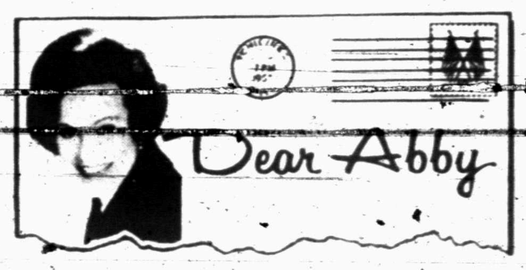
SNYDER IS A TOUGH TOWN

(That's Where the Tigers Hang Out)



Don't Play Shrink to Spouse's Sleep-talking

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1975 by Chicago Tribune N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Do you know anything about dreams? My husband calls out his ex-wife's name in his sleep, so he must be dreaming about her, right?

When I tell him that he was calling her name in his sleep, he says he must have been dreaming—but he never can remember what he has dreamed. (Is this possible?)

Abby, if a person dreams about someone, doesn't it mean that that someone must be on that person's subconscious mind?

My husband swears that he loves me and that he never even thinks about his ex-wife, but if that's true, why is he dreaming about her? And if he's not dreaming about her, why is he calling her name?

He says he can't help what he dreams or what he says in his sleep. I can't believe that, can you?

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Yes. And if you're wise, you'll lay off and quit reminding him of his ex-wife while he's awake.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to tell "Philadelphia," whose Jewish cousin passed away, not to worry about whether she goes to heaven or not. As a good person, her goodness will precede her no matter where she goes.

I came across an article by a reverend in which he said: "Adolph Eichmann had a better chance of going to heaven then his millions of victims because he believed in Jesus."

I cannot imagine myself being in heaven with Eichmann and his co-murderers.

If believing in Jesus is the only condition to getting into heaven, I refuse to go there!

CONNECTICUT CHRISTIAN

DEAR CHRISTIAN: I wonder where that reverend thinks the millions of Buddhists and Islams go?

DEAR ABBY: I work in a bank where there are 21 employees.

One of the girls was getting married. The hat was passed and I was asked to give a certain amount. I felt I couldn't afford that much, so I gave what I could.

The next day I left on my break, and when I returned, the amount I had contributed was in an envelope on my desk. I had no idea who placed it there. Everyone I asked denied it.

Finally, one of the girls told me who had put it there. It was the office troublemaker.

I asked her what her idea was in returning my money, and she said she did it for "a purpose." What the purpose was she never did tell me.

Was she right in returning my money? Or did she just show her ignorance? And how should I treat her in the future?

HURT

DEAR HURT: She showed not only her ignorance but also her rudeness and meanness. Avoid her.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "E" IN MILWAUKEE: Regret is the cancer of life. Forget it.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212, for Abby's booklet "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20¢) envelope.

Cattle Feeding Industry Lags

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cattle feeding industry continues to lag despite some signs that producers still show interest in boosting output of grain-fed beef.

Feedlots in seven major beef states as of Sept. 1 had 5,949,000 cattle in their inventories, down 13 per cent from the same date last year, the Agriculture Department said Monday. The year-earlier gap has persisted for about two years, largely because of high grain costs in relation to cattle prices.

But during August, officials said, about 1,259,000 new cattle were placed in feeding pens for marketing later this year or early in 1976. Those were up 4 per cent from the placement rate in August of last year.

Nonsexist Bible May Develop

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Some Christians are taking the "Him" out of the hymnals.

They say if humans were in the image and likeness of God," then God must be both masculine and feminine.

"Unfortunately, some folks are attempting to see this as 'neuterizing' God," said the Rev. Robert Young, chaplain at Duke University. "It's more positive than that."

Under the Rev. Mr. Young's guidance, a group of male and female Duke students are rewriting not only hymns and prayers but passages of Scripture. Ultimately, an entire "nonsexist" Bible may develop.

For instance, in a standard translation, John 15:13 reads: "Greater love hath no man than this that a man should lay down his life for his friends."

The Duke group has converted that passage to: "Greater love has no one than this that one should lay down one's life for a friend."

The Rev. Mr. Young said there has been no major opposition.

"We aren't making total breaks, anyhow. We still use the 'Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Ghost,' and, of course, the Lord's Prayer, starting, 'Our Father, who art in heaven ...,'" he said.

In the main, he said, the Duke group has been substituting "God" for the pronoun "Him" whenever possible and, in some instances, praying, "Oh God, our Father-Mother."

So far, the group has left intact the masculine pronouns referring to Jesus Christ.

"Jesus was more than a man. He was the fulfillment of 'personhood,' for all persons, both men and women," the Rev. Mr. Young said.

However, he said: "There are students and some faculty who in their own private [illegible] ers are referring to God as 'She' or 'Her'. But that kind of thing is still very personal, not public."
