Council Discusses New City Airport

City officials Monday met with Federal Aviation Administration and Texas Aeronautical Commission officials to discuss the possibility of building a new and larger city airport closer into town than the existing facility, the city council was told Tuesday at the monthly city council meeting. City Manager James Campbell and Councilman J. O. Dockrey, along with Frank Derigibus and Chamber of Commerce manager Setton Pickens flew to Albuquerque, N.M. Sunday for a regional conference with FAA and TAC officials.

TAC and FAA are to send officials to Colorado City in the near future to examine the existing facility, Colorado City's airport needs and possible sites for a new airport.

Dockrey explained to the council that the airport now is too far from town and that its 3,000 foot runway is not long enough to accommodate aircraft people are flying in.

A traffic survey will be taken at the airport by FAA and TAC, Dockrey noted and the extent the airport is used will surprise a lot of people. He noted that pilots of large twin-engine planes get nervous about the safety factor of taking off from a 3,000-foot runway.

Due to the lay of the land, it would be very difficult to lengthen the runway and in addition, buildings at the airport are too close to the runway, Dockrey noted.

Discussion of the airport was one of many items discussed during the council meeting.

One of the problems with the existing airport, councilman Dr. Elton Berkman explained, is that neither the city nor county owns the land and without ownership, the city and county cannot get money from state and federal sources to improve the facility.

When the airport was built, it was decided to go on a lease basis because a bond issue would have been necessary to buy land and city fathers didn't feel at that time that a bond issue would pass, Dr. Berkman said.

There was quite a campaign about the airport at that time, Dr. Berkman said, as many people charged that an airport was being built just for the benefit of a few people who liked to fly. It was pointed out that the lease expires in 1980 to which councilwoman Jody Neff remarked, "It's time (for the council) to start thinking in the future."

Branch Offices Get Approval

Texas Savings and Loan Department has given final approval for Colorado City Savings & Loan to have a branch office in Sweetwater and Sweetwater Savings to have a branch office in Colorado City.

The two financial institutions are now working to get sites for their branch offices.

Bennett Reeves, an airport building specialist, who was meeting with the council on water pipe bids, noted that there is a lot of state and federal money available to build an airport. He said the federal government will supply 75% of the cost of buying land and building runways and the state will go 12 1/2% not to exceed $75,000 for their share.

Airports the size of Colorado City's now cost between $300,000 and $450,000, Reeves noted.

The council directed Campbell to pursue the matter with FAA and TAC officials.

In other matters the council discussed the possibility of creating a park on city owned land where city water wells are available between Chestnut and Walnut streets behind Claxton Lodge and in front of St. Ann's Catholic Church.

Request For Precinct Change Made To Court

Bob Tammen of Colorado City appeared before the commissioners' court Tuesday morning to request a boundary line change between precincts Two and Three which would include Bojo's concession facility to be changed from the present Precinct Three location to be in Precinct Two.

Bob and John Tammen are partners in Tammen Heating and Plumbing in Colorado City and in building the concession at the entrance to Lake Colorado City State Park.

With Tammen was Foy Webb, owner of the property which the Tammen brothers leased from him to build the concession. Webb told the commissioners that he had been at one time what was considered a "liner" and voted in various precincts through the years, including Spade, Westbrook and Colorado City.

The property in question has been a part of Precinct Three since commissioners were required to set the boundaries as near as possible to equalize the population in each precinct and that was done in an Aug. 14, 1969 meeting, effective Jan. 1, 1970.

Important to the request is the petition presently being circulated throughout Precinct Two, calling for a special election on deciding if alcoholic beverages, including mixed drinks, can be sold within Precinct Two.

Tammen backed the raising of the petition, he told County Judge Bill Carter after Carter asked, "You're not involved in that election, are you?" and Tammen responded, "Yes, I am. I put the money up. If Precinct Two went well and here I sit across the line, there's no way I can make any money."

A total of 89 registered Precinct Two voters, including voting precincts Two and Seven, are required to sign the petition before the commissioners will call a special election.

There were 234 registered voters in Precinct 7 before last week and 460 in Precinct Two, making a total of 694 registered voters in the two voting precincts, but a check with County Tax-Assessor-Collector C. G. "Skeet" Harkins revealed that about 20 more voters who have never registered to vote before in Precinct 7 have completed the necessary application in the past three days the courthouse has been open since the petition was made public.

According to legal requirements, Tammen put up the necessary fee of $173.50 in getting the petition circulated. The amount is based on 25 cents per registered voter in the two precincts concerned. The money is contributions to the FFA program not only in Colorado City and Mitchell County but also throughout the Area II region which stretches to El Paso and from the Panhandle to South Texas area.

Lemons was Mitchell County extension agent before going to City National Bank as vice president, and his work with the county's kids has not only continued but possibly even increased, according to Colorado City FFA chapter advisor Frank Brownfield.

"Bobby treats all the kids alike," Brownfield said, "whether they are in the FFA or 4-H and all he wants to do is help them."

Brownfield cited instances of Lemons' aid to the FFA boys, mentioning his efforts in helping to put up pens, take them down, work getting animals ready to

City Gets New Doctor

Colorado City will have a new doctor June 1.

He is Dr. Thomas Aguillon, a surgeon, now practicing medicine in Gladewater in East Texas.

Dr. Aguillon will do general practitioner medicine in Colorado City as well as surgery. He will open his offices in the clinic area of the hospital and will work there until new offices can be remodeled where the Soil Conservation Offices are now in the 100 block of East Third. SCS will be moving to the G-Kell Building June 1.

Dr. Aguillon graduated from medical school in Manila, Philippines and served four years residency in surgery at the C&O Hospital in Clifton Forge, Va. He practiced surgery for 7 1/2 years in Perry, Iowa, before moving to Gladewater some five months ago.

He and his wife, Brenda, a native of Kentucky, have three children, Thomas Aguillon Jr., 12, Tammy, 11 and Chris, 7.

Dr. Aguillon and his wife have visited Colorado City twice to see facilities at the hospital, visit with local doctors and see the community.

The hospital board of directors has been working closely with Hospital Administrator Charles Root to get Dr. Aguillon to come to Colorado City. Tuesday, Root went to Gladewater to make final preparations to bring Dr. Aguillon here.

Work has been underway for some time to get new doctors to Colorado City and these efforts were intensified recently when Dr. John Chinn announced he was closing his office here June 1 to teach in the Texas Tech medical school.

Dr. Chinn has been doing the bulk of the surgery locally and hospital officials as well as doctors had hoped a surgeon could be found for Colorado City.

All of the county's doctors have met Dr. Aguillon and have been impressed by what they found out about him, Root said. Dr. Aguillon is one of three doctors that have visited Colorado City within the last month and one of the other doctors that visited has written back that he was impressed with local facilities, the community and the friendliness of the people here and is considering coming here in about a year when he finishes his residency as specialist in internal medicine.

Jesse Bunch Sets VFW Retirement

Jesse Bunch, long-time leader in Veterans of Foreign Wars matters, both locally and throughout the area, will not seek re-election during the annual business session which will be held Sunday as the Eighth District Convention winds up.

Bunch has been active in leading VFW Wilson Wyatt Post 9178 in Colorado City for the past years. His health has caused him to give up some of his activities and following the convention, he will again check into the VFW hospital in Dallas for another skin operation.

The VFW Convention is being hosted by Wilson Wyatt Post in Colorado City this Saturday and Sunday, with a number of events scheduled.

City National Bank has set an Open House reception from 2-5 p.m. Sunday and invites friends and customers to come and tour the completed addition of office space and the Charles C. Thompson Community Room.

Construction began in mid-June last year. The facility includes three law offices and law library, basement storage area and a 4,100 square-foot community room with raised stage and kitchen facilities.

Virgil Stone Construction of Colorado City was the building contractor, Lydick-Hooks of Abilene the roofing contractor, Jimmy Harrison of Colorado City the painting contractor, and Don Hampton of the architectural firm of Hampton and Welch in Sweetwater was the architect for the project.

The plan was drawn in such a way as to utilize the basement excavation of the former Bernan Hotel which was torn down.

Cyclethon Starts 9 a.m. Saturday

The American Heart Association sponsored Cyclethon leaves from the G-Kell parking lot 9 a.m. Saturday.

Entry forms are still available from Better Cleaners and from Mrs. Fern Brown, 716 Vine Street in Colorado City. Mrs. Brown is president of the Mitchell County chapter of the American Heart Association.

Prizes in the contest will go to the person raising most money for the Heart Association by getting donors to make a pledge for each mile they ride.

A choice of first place prize has been provided; either a 10-speed bike donated by Zeno Smith of Ben Franklin Store or a portable 8-track stereo tape player from White's Auto Store.

Second place will be the remaining prize not chosen by the first place winner, third, an AM-FM digital clock radio and fourth, a pocket calculator. Drawings for other prizes will be held following the 20-mile ride to Loraine and back along the north access road of I-20.

Paul Hunter, Mitchell County commissioner and owner of Better Cleaners, issued a challenge to all adults, but especially to Lloyd McKee, Dr. Elton Berkman and Bob Rely, representing respectively the schools, city council and hospital district, saying he didn't think they could get any sponsors or even ride a bicycle.

In return, Dr. Berkman, who will be gone on a business trip Saturday, said that if Hunter would ride even as far as the G-Kell building, he (Berkman) would donate $5 in his (Hunter's) name.

The outcome will be decided about noon Saturday as the bikers come in from their ride.

★ 8 p.m. Meeting

The Church Softball League will organize for another season of play in a meeting set for 8 o'clock tonight in the Fellowship Hall of First United Methodist Church.

Team managers, players and umpires are urged to attend.

The Record has a number of schedules of the Texas Rangers baseball team. They were obtained at the request of several people and are available free at the Record office.

The Junior Teenage Baseball League has expressed its appreciation to everyone for helping in the fund raising to help replace a light pole knocked down in a storm last year at the high school baseball field. The boys went house to house Saturday and raised some $250 plus the Jaycees donated $100.

I hope that Americans are tired enough of getting pushed around all over the world that they will encourage the President to go into Cambodia and get back the boat piloted by Cambodia Monday. Indications are that the President plans to do whatever needs to be done to get the boat back. We should have gone into North Korea and gotten back the Pueblo. This kind of thing has got to be stopped and the world should know that we won't put up with it.

It looks like Texas school teachers are going to get two pay raises, one from the legislature and one from the unemployment office.

Texas Attorney General John Hill ruled Tuesday that school teachers can draw special unemployment benefits during the months in between their school work.

How much of a pay raise the teachers will get from the legislature isn't certain as the matter is under great debate.

However, more people are concerned about what the Legislature is going to do regarding the overall education bill. As usual, the legislature has waited until the last minute to take care of the most pressing business.

And, as usual, you can expect a mess whenever a bill is passed. In two years, they'll have to go back and straighten it out and clarify many parts of the bill.

There are so many different forms of the education bill and so many different amendments being added and so many bills on other items being considered that there is no way all of the legislators can possibly know what they are voting on.

This same thing goes on in Congress at the national level, resulting in many bad laws and some pretty ridiculous amendments at times.

It would seem that state and federal governments are much too bulky and nobody has control. The whole thing needs to be slowed down so at least a few people will know what's going on.

Housing Survey Continues

Work is still under way to complete a housing survey to get a Fort Worth firm to build apartments in Colorado City for individuals and couples with an adjusted gross income of $11,400 or less.

Chamber of Commerce officials have urged everyone to turn in the survey forms as soon as possible as quick action is needed in order to get Farmers Home Administration approval of the project during the current fiscal year which ends June 30.

Officials of the Bright Co. of Fort Worth have said two applications from bona fide applicants is needed to build each apartment and there will have to be at least 12 units built.

However, it was stressed that applicants who fill out survey forms are not committed in any way. The survey is being conducted to show the need for local housing.

Local civic leaders have long considered the lack of housing, particularly rent housing, to be one of the major factors that is keeping Colorado City from continuing recent growth.

Survey forms should be turned in to the Chamber of Commerce office as soon as possible, preferably today or tomorrow.

The survey will determine whether one, two or three bedroom units are constructed. The survey is also being conducted in Loraine and Westbrook as there is a housing shortage throughout the county and anyone in the county who is interested in living in an apartment is asked to fill out one of the forms.

The apartments are expected to rent for between $100 to $120 a month not including utilities but including yard maintenance.

Crafts Artist Visits City

Colorado City was visited last week by Carol Zastoupil of Kansas City in response to a recent article in "Craft Horizons" magazine.

Miss Zastoupil is an artist specializing in commercial and residential fiber art. She has worked in handweaving, macramé, tapestry and other fiber forms, and is presently looking for a location for a full-time shop.

In the magazine article, Colorado City's newest industry, Iron Star Pottery, was mentioned and Miss Zastoupil visited the pottery factory.

Iron Star's owner Bob Creighton said that he also conducted Miss Zastoupil on a tour of the city as she looked over the housing situation here.

Creighton said she also looked at a number of downtown buildings that might accommodate her shop and met with as many local artists as her crowded schedule would permit.

He said that she had not yet made a decision as to whether or not to relocate in Colorado City, but she said she was very favorable impressed with several aspects of the town but somewhat worried about the housing shortage.

"She promised to give the matter careful attention and to keep in close touch until the final decision is made," Creighton said.

Miss Zastoupil is an honors graduate of the University of Kansas and studied at the Haystack Mountain School of Crafts in Deer Isle, Maine, plus many additional workshops.

In addition, she has done commission work for banks, architects, churches and individuals. She is also active in organizations, currently serving as president of the Midwest Weaver's Conference and the Weaver's Guild of Kansas City.

Creighton is heading an attempt to get artists and craftsmen to come to Colorado City and open up shops and start new industries here.

Carter, Love Travel To Austin To Compete In State Tennis Match

By Ken Burnam

A trip to Austin is a very exciting experience for a young person, especially if he is on his way to participate in one of the most spectacular events of his lifetime—the state tennis meet.

This particular trip carried two fine, young sophomore tennis players to their first encounter with state competition, gathered in Austin to determine who is the best in the state. Craig Carter and Chop Love had a few doubts, but at the same time, down deep, there was that desire and hope that they would be proven to be the best doubles team in the state. It is a frightening thought to even think of being this close to the title. There are only eight teams remaining, two from each of the four regions. One victory will leave only four teams as semi-finalists, and two victories lead to the finals. It sounds so easy, but the talent at Austin is so thick that it is unreal to untrained eyes.

After checking into the hotel Thursday, the boys needed to work out in preparation for the 9 a.m. match Friday. We located the courts and began our workout. It was true what we had been told about the effect of the climate on the tennis ball. The moist air caused the ball to act differently. It would travel slower and bounce differently. The ball could be hit a little harder and still stay in the court. A similarly hit ball would go sailing out of the court in the dry air of West Texas. It took only a short time to adjust to the handling of the ball, but the muggy weather really made you put forth the perspiration. We worked up a sweat just opening up the can of tennis balls. The humidity was 97% and no sign of rain. We were fooled as our workout was cut short by a small sprinkling of raindrops.

We later ate supper and then set out to look for the University's Intramural tennis courts. This was where the first match was to be played in Class B, A and AA. The class AAA were to play at Caswell and AAAA were to be held at the Penick courts. We soon located the site of the battlefield.

The Intramural courts were wet from the rain. There were tennis courts spread all over, almost as far as the eye could see. We could tell that the surface of the courts here would be faster than the ones we had just practiced on. That didn't matter as the two experienced players were ready for anything.

Friday morning came too soon but a good breakfast soon got the boys moving. Food can really do wonders for spirited athletes but they didn't enjoy it as much as they normally do. They told me they had butterflies in their stomach. I didn't remember them ordering that for breakfast, but I bet a lot of athletes had them that morning whether they wanted them or not.

The trip to the courts was at a leisurely pace as the night rain had surely postponed the matches. The delay was slightly nerve-racking, to say the least.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Carter and Mr. and Mrs. Wayman Love, relatives and friends were present to watch their favorite tennis team. They were slightly one-sided over which team was the best, but that was only natural.

The court assignments were made, and it was now time to show what all the hard work in the past had accomplished. There was nothing more that the coach or anyone else could do. It was now up to the players. A few last minute instructions, the placement of the towels and extra tennis racquets, a quick warm up and the match was about to begin. This same preparation was being made on all the courts. What a sight to see! Tension was at its peak.

The first game, always the important one, was won by Chop and Craig. This helped ease the boys and things went smoothly. They were playing a team from Gladewater. We were worried because Gladewater had brought two doubles and a singles team, a sign of a very good tennis program. A little relief came when the boys built up a five game lead. This lead gradually decreased, but then the first set was won. The second set was also won and the relief and joy of a victory was really apparent on the boys' faces. The disappointment and pain was felt by those all around the defeated team, but just the thought of being a participant in the state meet helped cut the pains of a defeat.

The second match was scheduled for the afternoon against San Saba. Lunch and a short rest back at the motel used the time and a trip was made back to the courts. The match began quickly enough and the play was even, but a sense of nervousness was seen in the local players. They lost the first set. They had been behind before, so all was not lost. Just as expected the boys came through and really tore into their opponents. It was now tied up one set apiece. In the third set we got behind 1-4, and it looked bad, but soon Craig and Chop came from behind and tied it up 4-4. The battle was on and soon it was 5-5. The winner only needed to be two games ahead. It wasn't our turn, as the San Saba boys won the next two games. It was all over and the disappointment was visible. It didn't last long, however, as the boys were told not once, but on many occasions, that it was a privilege to even be here, and to think of the players who never made it this far. There can only be one winner at the top and the people below have at one time lost. So they just lost a little sooner than they wanted.

There was no use in looking back, even though a victory would have put them into the finals. It was all over for the two Wolves. It was now time to relax and enjoy the wonder of the state trip. They had been part of the excitement, and now they were observers of the remainder of the day.

Little League Season Opens

"Strike Her Out," was the cry Monday night as Little League season got underway here.

Yes, Her.

For the first time in history, girls were competing in Little League baseball. The cry of "strike her out" took some getting used to by many of those who have been working in Little League for years.

Large crowds were on hand Monday and Tuesday nights for the first games of the season for the eight major league teams.

If the first four games of the year are any indication, the competition is going to be stiff this year.

In the first game of the year, the Tigers defeated last year's champion Dodgers 11-6 behind strong pitching by Tim Nobles and good hitting from the entire team.

In the second game Monday, the Indians, a strong contender last year, defeated the Giants

8-3 behind the pitching of Lee Wallace and Victor Jackson.

Tuesday night, the Yankees defeated the Pirates 17-11 and last year's cellar dweller, the Astros, defeated the Rangers

11-10 in a close game decided in the last of the sixth inning. The Rangers were also contenders for the championship last year.

Thursday night, the Dodgers will play the Giants at 6 p.m. and the Indians take on the Tigers at 8 p.m. Friday, the Yankees will play the Rangers at 6 p.m. followed at 8 by a game between the Pirates and Astros.

Saturday night, Farm League action will get underway with all teams expected to give the Colts, last year's champions, strong competition in their bid to repeat as league champions.

First game is at 4 p.m. between the Steers and Lions with the Colts playing the Mets at 6 and the Cubs playing the Blue Sox at 8 p.m.

Teenage Season To Open

Opening ceremonies for the Junior Teenage League baseball season will be held at 6 p.m. Monday at Wolf Baseball field.

Members of the four Junior Teenage teams will be in uniform for the opening and two games will follow.

Team sponsors are as follows:

 - Braves, Matlock Farm Supply.
 - White Sox, VFW.
 - Colts, Whiteway Motel.
- Monday's opening schedule will see the Braves vs. Lions in the 6:30 p.m. game and the White Sox take on the Colts in the second 8:30 game.

Athletes Honored At Awards Supper

The annual Sports Supper at Colorado High School was held in the cafeteria Tuesday night and a large crowd of CHS athletes attended the informal covered dish event.

Girls athletic director and coach Carol Dakan was first on the program, presenting the basketball, volleyball and track teams who participated during the 1974-75 season.

She gave special recognition to seniors Patty Whitley and Connie Spann for their faithfulness and hard work in volleyball and said they would be missed next year.

Ken Burnam, CHS tennis coach, then presented the various tennis teams and entertained with a line of patter that tickled the crowd.

Special recognition went to the doubles team of Craig Carter and Chop Love who recently returned from participating in the state tennis tournament in Austin, losing in the semi-finals of that tourney.

Tennis Sweetheart Sharon Coldevey was presented to the crowd, along with Tennis's Number One Fan, County Judge Bill Carter, Craig's father.

Mike Farda, head coach and athletic director, who coached the golf team this year, presented the golf team members and gave special recognition to District Medalist Hobbie Bolin, saying he would be a contender again next year as he is presently a sophomore.

Basketball teams were then presented, Coach Mike Easterwood introducing the Freshmen, Lonnie Ellis introducing the Junior Varsity and Mike Hart presenting the Varsity teams.

Wolves Don Boger and Dan Smith presented Hart with a gift from the team, Smith saying in his presentation, "Since you like to fish so well, we decided to get you a little old bass catching fish."

Hart gave special recognition to Sharon Matthews for her hard work in decorating the lockers before each game for the basketball team.

Varsity track team members were presented by Robert Dameron and Junior Varsity track coach Lonnie Ellis was very emotional in his recognition of the young track team, saying it was an experience to see them put out such effort in the district track meet, which they almost won.

Farda also recognized the cheerleaders for their hard work during the year, naming Sheila Shaw, Tina Johnston, Jackie Palmer, Kelly Moore and Patty Whitley.

Sefton Pickens, executive vice president of the Chamber of Commerce, next presented the Outstanding Senior Athlete Award to Nolan Russell.

The awards program ended with CHS principal Bill Everett presenting special trophies to both girls athletics and boys athletics, Mrs. Dakan accepting for the girls and Farda accepting for the boys.

Carl Devorce, holder of the CHS record for shot put and football player for Oklahoma State University since his graduation from CHS, attended the program and was introduced.

Spring Band Concert Tonight

An ice cream and cake supper will start at 6:30 tonight in Wolves Gym, followed at 7:30 with the annual Spring Concert of Junior High, High School and Stage bands.

The Junior High band is under the direction of Bob Newman, while Kent Holder directs both Stage and CHS concert bands.

Twirlers Janice Kimmel, Lesa Wilkinson, Penny Cooley, Beth Hanks, Kathy Ratliff, Shari Lewis and Beverly Fuller will present a routine during the Stage band's part of the program.

They were informed this week, Holder said, that they were chosen as the outstanding twirling ensemble at the Great Southwest Music Festival held in Amarillo recently.

Ford's His Tractor

Jack Long Featured

The quarterly publication sent to Ford tractor dealers throughout the nation contains an article about Colorado City's Jack Long.

Along with a small detailed picture of Long, he is also shown driving a Ford 5000 at work, with the following written material:

"There's quite a lot of soil variation in my fields," says Mr. Long, "so I make good use of the Dual Power in my Ford 5000. Just flip the lever up when I want more power on-the-go. Then flip it down when I'm past the tough spot."

"Mr. Long farms about 1,000 acres, primarily cotton. He has three Ford 5000s, one 6000 and one 8600. He also has some older models, including a 1920 Fordson that he keeps in running condition as an antique. 'Fords are good tractors,'

Mr. Long declares. "Ford builds an excellent product. The tractors handle nicely and the service is exceptionally good."

New Policeman

New city policeman Kenneth Abbott is now on duty with the Colorado City police force. The 25-year old Cleburne native is married and the father of two children. He is presently enrolled in the Law Enforcement course at Western Texas College in Snyder. Abbott has had 14 months experience with the state park system, the past few months at Lake Colorado City State Park.

talk while J. W. Borders of Rolling Plains Cotton Compress presented slides on the Six Regional Co-ops.

Guest speaker for the evening was Vernon Lewis, district manager of Farmland Industries in Amarillo. He spoke on "The Importance of the Co-ops Working Together."

Joe Morren, CPA, gave the financial report which showed that the fuel and merchandise division of the co-op a $20,000 profit and the gin division a $72,000 profit. This was the first time since the store has been established that there has been a profit made.

Jackie Pylant, manager, was glad to announce that this profit was to be given back to the co-op members.

To conclude the program, checks were presented to the co-op members who had patronized the China Grove Co-op this past year.

A display of all the items that the co-op carries was setup for the members to look at and to get some idea of the many, many things that are available at this farm supply co-op.

Councilwoman Marion Bassham said she had been approached by a member of St. Ann's wanting something done to commemorate the work of Father Kennelly who spearheaded the effort to build the new Catholic Church.

Mrs. Bassham asked if it would be possible to designate an area for a park.

Mayor Larry Hamner said the area between Chestnut and Walnut would be ideal as it would provide a park for residents in that area of town as well as a place for residents of Claxton Lodge to go.

The council directed Campbell to study the matter.

Campbell reported that he is working with West Central Texas Council of Governments to get more state money to help update equipment at the police department and the council approved a contract with the Texas Highway Department to build a new street in front of the high school now under construction. The city was asked to pay $44,000 in advance to pay for curb and gutter work on the street with the rest of the project to be paid for by state and federal monies.

The council also designated the first week in June as clean-up week with the city answering calls to pick up anything that is not normally picked up by trash crews.

The council also discussed mowing vacant lots and billing the owners.

The council also accepted the low bid of $10,522.70 for 820 feet of 14-inch pipe from American Cast Iron Pipe in Dallas to replace the water pipe over the west river bridge. The bid was some $3,000 less than expected and delivery is expected within a month, a shorter time than the council anticipated. There were two other bids.

The board set July 1 as the date for the tax equalization board hearing at City Hall with Wayne Griffin, R. B. Baker and Henry Bilberry to be on the board for which they'll receive $25.

The council also heard a request for the second time in two years from Mrs. Marie Jackson to do something about East Central Street in front of her house to keep the dust down during the church league softball season with several hundred cars passing her house every day. The council said they'd look into the matter.

The council also directed Campbell to adjust the city's new sanitation rates to take into consideration small businesses that don't have much trash.

The council also directed Campbell to advertise for bids for junk iron the city has and for a tilt-bed trailer the city purchased about a year ago at the price of $4,444 and has only used once. The county recently purchased one for more than $6,000.

Cultural Program Being Planned

Mrs. George Witten and Mrs. Jolyn Mikow, heading the Chamber of Commerce Cultural Committee this year, have tentatively set May 22 as the date for the next meeting and program for the committee.

Their report was presented during the monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors held recently in the Civic Center.

Sefton Pickens, executive vice president of the Chamber, said that tentative plans call for the meeting to be held in the new Charles C. Thompson meeting room at City National Bank annex.

Details of the program are still being worked out, Mrs. Witten said, and will be made public at a later date.

Aviation Committee director representative J. O. Dockrey Jr. informed directors that he has already made arrangements for sky divers, acrobatic planes and a radio-controlled model airplane show to be on hand for the Fourth of July Fly-In. Cornerstone of the new Colorado High School will be laid by members of the Masonic Lodge in Texas during an impressive ceremony Saturday, May 24, reported Education Committee director representative S. L. (Mac) Morris and the Chamber will host a reception following the ceremony.

Co-chairmen of the Chamber's Bicentennial Committee, Bobbie Steakley and Shirley Delaney, reported on a meeting they attended in Abilene recently on Bicentennial proceedings. Also attending the meeting were Mitchell County Bicentennial Chairman Mrs. Charles Thompson, George Womack and Pickens.

The directors also discussed the housing survey currently being conducted in the city, with a view to getting Farmers Home Administration funding for building an apartment complex.

Other business was of a routine nature, presided over by president of the Chamber, B. B. Hardee.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir,

I am writing this to show my appreciation for your service to Colorado City. You see, I have been gone for nearly seven years now and have been over about half the free world. I am a career military.

During the long hours put in your though inevitable turn to home and things you remember best. Rodeos, football games and just general doin's. About once a week sometimes later, I'll get a small roll of paper at mail call.

These few minutes I take from my work are minutes looked forward to. Most people probably will find that hard to believe. But not to me. You can kind of keep up with what's what.

I ain't the only one to read them either. There are several old boys here from Texas and that little paper brings them a little closer to home. For this small gift I am proud to give.

Next to snuff and letters from home, I count your paper next in line.

Well, I reckon I bent your ear long enough. Looking forward to later additions. Keep up the good work. Respectfully, Craighead AMH-2.

Colorado Jr. Hi. Chatter

Colorado Jr. High P.E. Students had a real treat Monday. Mrs. Edward Roach, our Merle Norman representative, came to give the girls and boys in P.E. a demonstration of how to use her products. In each P.E. class, a girl was chosen for Mrs. Roach to demonstrate the proper use of make-up. She showed us how to use the make-up and how to help our complexion. Mrs. Roach handed out booklets to everyone and some samples of her make-up. It was really something to watch her put this make-up on. We're very glad Mrs. Roach came Monday, and we would all like to thank her again.

Miss Phillips and the Jamborees would like to thank the public for giving them such tremendous support in their Bake Sale last Saturday. Due to your cooperation and support, we were able to make $43.00. Our thanks again to everyone who bought from us. We would also like to thank Vernon Lewis, for letting us have our sale at the E-Z Way.

Friday, May 16, the seventh graders and a few 8th graders will be inducted into the National Honor Society.

Several 8th grade students will participate by giving speeches and leading the pledge of allegiance.

The induction will be at 1:30 and there will be a reception afterwards in the cafeteria. Invitations have been sent out.

to all of the parents of members. We hope they will all be there.

Miss Phillips says that her students in Plan A are getting better everyday. Some of the things they do are Spelling, Reading, English, Math, and History. They develop more skills for reading and math. They play games to learn how to spell; use Flash Cards to learn math; read comic books about jobs and careers to get them more interested in work. About once every week they have a "free day", so they can read and play games.

The 7th grade class of 1974-75 is almost over and we will soon become 8th graders.

The band members are looking forward to a thrilling and worth while year of going to contest and so forth as are the choir members.

The 7th grade athletes are looking ahead to a successful and exciting year in sports while the Jamborees cheer them on. And, of course, the rest of the student body is hoping for a fun and educational year in our new Middle School. The 7th grade class that will become 8th graders next year won't be the youngest in the building any more, they will then be the oldest and should try to set a good example for the two younger classes following close behind.

We are really excited about the coming Middle School next year.

The eighth graders will be leaving Colorado Junior High in a short while to become the 1975-1976 Freshmen Wolf Pack. Most students are really bubbling with excitement. We are really going to make decisions that will change our lives. We'll choose courses and plan ahead for our future.

I think we've had a couple of really fabulous years at Colorado Junior High. Our teams have excelled in football, basketball, track, and tennis, bringing home several trophies. I believe our Freshman team next year will leave all other competitors open-mouthed and choking in our dust!! Our band has achieved much. Our 7th grade year was the first time our school band had participated at UIL marching contest. We made a 3 our first try and a 2 our second. I'm looking forward, and predicting, that next year's Junior Wolf Band will make a 1. At High School, competition will be great, but I don't think we'll disappoint any of those who'll have 1, 2, and 3, years on us.

Our school organizations: House of Representatives, Honor Society, Annual Staff, and Chatter Staff have worked with pride and, I'm sure, we'll be the leaders of tomorrow. We thank our sponsors for this experience.

The many supporters of the team, band, Jamborees, cheerleaders and twirlers have led us to victory and eased the defeats with their personality and ability to find the bright side. We thank them and will be fortunate to have their support throughout our high school years.

All I can say is we've worked hard this year and will strive to achieve and be worthy of the title we will gain next year. Farewell, and Good Luck future 8th graders! Greetings Colorado High School!!

The news staff sponsors would like to express their appreciation to the staff for doing such an outstanding job of reporting the news this year. We also thank our guest reporters who helped us so graciously whenever called upon.

This is the last edition of Jr. Hi Chatter. The sponsors and staff would like to take this opportunity to thank Mr. McKinnon for making this column possible. Have a happy summer, and we'll see you next school year!

Ann Holbert Gives Club Program

The Beta Epsilon Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma met Monday evening, May 5, in the parlor of the First Baptist Church for the Founder's Day program.

After the invocation by Mabel Merritt, Ann Holbert gave the Founder's Day Ceremony, with Flo McShan at the piano and Frances Furlow lighting the candles in tribute to each of the charter women who started the organization.

At the business meeting, it was voted to send a retarded child to Camp Putman in July.

Since higher fuel costs are pushing the price of electricity up, it's important to use it wisely.

These two simple tools can help.

Proper insulation and weatherstripping will help you use electricity more efficiently for air conditioning. You can check the insulation and weatherstripping in your home with just a ruler and a flashlight.

Inadequate insulation is the single biggest cause of energy loss in most homes—in both summer and winter. Experts recommend about six inches of insulation in your attic.

If your attic insulation doesn't measure up, you can add more of either loose blown-in insulation or "batts" (long strips). The loose kind of insulation settles, so it may be necessary to add more after several years.

To check the weatherstripping around exterior doors, have someone shine a flashlight around the edges of each closed door. If you can see light, it means you may have to add or replace worn weatherstripping.

Saving electric energy takes very little energy on your part, and, since electricity is costing more, it's worth the effort.

NOTICE OF HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENT

The Texas Highway Department is planning to proceed with the development of the proposed reconstruction of the Texas and Pacific Railroad Overpass on Interstate Highway 20 at Lorraine in Mitchell County. Since the Federal Highway Administration has accepted the location and public notification process employed in its development, the Texas Highway Department will begin work on the next phase of engineering necessary for the development of the project.

The proposed project is to repair and widen the existing Texas and Pacific Railroad Overpass and approaches on I.H. 20 at Lorraine to conform to current geometric standards. Widening the structure will require relocation of the north frontage road and the acquisition of approximately two acres of additional right of way.

show, not only by helping do the actual grooming but by supplying equipment.

"He does just about anything he can to help out," Brownfield said.

Lemons has helped the FFA boys with financing their projects and has taught special short courses to the FFA classes on finance.
He aids with the annual 4-H and FFA Stock Show and with the Mitchell County Fair each year, is a member of the Chamber of Commerce Agriculture Committee and superintendent of a division of the Panhandle-South Plains Fair held in Lubbock each fall.
"He was treasurer of the Stock Show Association this year and helps with fund raising for prizes for the show winners," Brownfield added.

"In addition to all his other work, he judges shows all over the area and is well known to any of the FFA teachers and 4-H advisors," Brownfield noted.
Lemons was nominated for the honor by the Colorado City chapter of FFA and received the award at the Area II meeting, one of seven recipients of the honor.

"This means that he will be nominated by Area II for the award on a state-wide basis," Brownfield explained, "and results of the voting will be made public during the state convention."

used to partially defray cost of the special election if one should be called.

The petition of at least 89 names must be filed in the County Clerk's office and a check Wednesday morning showed that it has not yet been filed.

Commissioners delayed making any definite decision in changing the boundary to include Tammen's leased property, Section 69, in Precinct Two. However, according to some of the discussion, most of the commissioners were not in favor of making such a move.

Precinct One Commissioner Marcus Vest said, "More than likely if it wasn't for the (proposed) election, you could change the lines and nobody would say anything about it. I'd personally rather see the court stay neutral on changing the lines." Judge Carter also said if the change was made, it would set a precedent that the court would have to consider in hearing any other requests for boundary changes.

The commissioners and judge also discussed the question of whether such a change would be legal, since the proposed election might make a change unconstitutional and open to challenge.

Tammen did state that even if it were not for the election, he would rather the property be included as a part of Precinct Two, pointing out that most of the lake properties are in Precinct Two, but the commissioners in turn pointed out that only the west side of the lake is in Precinct Two. They also noted that Tammen lives in the city in Precinct Three.

Commissioners Johnny Shackelford, Precinct Two, and Paul Hunter, Precinct Three, had no comments or questions on the matter and Precinct Four commissioner Robert Bruce of Lorraine did not comment.

Other matters on the commissioners' court agenda were largely of a routine nature, including monthly reports and county road discussion, official approval of the Emergency Operations Plan for Mitchell County for emergency action in cases of natural disaster, and agreeing to pay for the cost of painting the Western Riding Club arena, which the county leases to the club.
