Judge Protests Land Acquisition for Refuge

BAY SHRIMP SEASON STILL CLOSED UNTIL AUGUST 15

Although there are still some large white shrimp left over from last year and some commercial-size brown shrimp from early spawns now in the bays, the bay shrimp season is closed from July 15 to Aug. 15 to protect the vast numbers of young, undersize white shrimp.

Adult white shrimp spawn in Gulf of Mexico waters from four to 20 fathoms in depth.

Runaway Youths Captured After 100-Mile-Hr. Chase

Two runaway youths from Shreveport, La., were captured here Saturday morning by Night Patrolman Joe Dominguez and Ray Brown, of the Texas Highway Patrol, after a chase in which speeds reached 100-miles-an-hour in downtown Rockport.

Alerted by radio from the Aransas Pass Police Department, Dominguez and Brown set up a road block on Highway 35, but the speeding automobile ran through the block at a speed exceeding 100 miles an hour, which was maintained on Austin Street in Rockport.

The youths, unfamiliar with the local streets, went south on Austin and at the dead end skidded and hit a power pole on King Street.

The 16-year-old boy driving the car was taken to the hospital in Aransas Pass and treated, and was later lodged in Aransas County jail. Later he was tried before Justice of the Peace G. D. Johnson. He was later released to his parents.

His passenger, a 15-year-old girl, at last report, was still in the hospital.

Driving Hazard In Process Of Elimination

One more driving hazard in Aransas County will be eliminated when State Highway Department crews finish their work on Farm-to-Market Road 881, starting at Highway 35 and extending west for 2.1 miles, almost to the William Parr home.

The road is being widened and paved for approximately 15 feet on the north; the south shoulder is being graded and filled.

Best of all, the right angled turn that has been such a traffic hazard for years is being straightened considerably, and should be much easier to negotiate. In the past, drivers not familiar with the road have collided with the oaks on one side of the curve, sometimes sustaining serious injury to themselves and damage to their cars.

ROTARIANS HEAR CLINICAL PSYCHOLOGIST

Dr. Frank Hovell, clinical psychologist from Corpus Christi, was the speaker at Wednesday's Rotary luncheon. He spoke comprehensively on drug addiction. Bob Morrison was program chairman.

Visitors were Thomas D. Green, Denver; Jim Sprouse, Phil Wieland, C. F. McSpadden, Ben Smith and Alex Johnson, Corpus Christi; J. C. Weaver, Sinton; Dr. R. C. Schumann, New Braunfels; Judge John H. Miller, Sinton, and Miss Sallie McCord, Rockport.

TWO LITTLE LEAGUE GAMES SCHEDULED

Friday night, July 24 there will be two little league games played beginning at 6 and then at 8 p.m.

After the games, awards will be given and an all star team will be announced.

All parents should attend these games if possible.

In early and middle summer, when about a quarter of an inch to one inch in length, the young shrimp enter the passes and move to "nursery areas" along the shores and shallow flats of low-salinity bays.

Temperatures and salt content of the water in nursery areas are vital to the survival of the delicate young shrimp. Drouth years with high salinities in these areas are usually low in production of white shrimp.

By July the shrimp from early spawns, having grown to about 2 or 2½ inches long, go to open bay waters. Their growth is fast. They often increase an inch or more in length and double their weight within a month. If taken in trawls at this time and culled because they are too small, these shrimp will die.

After Aug. 15, many of the shrimp have reached the minimum commercial size of about four inches. Commercial bay shrimp production goes into full swing in late summer and lasts until the first cold weather in winter which drives most of the white shrimp into deeper waters of the Gulf of Mexico.

Foreign Visitors See Art Gallery

Mrs. Grace Lentz, hostess at the Rockport Gallery of Fine Arts, says that although the gallery has been open less than two months, already there have been visitors from 15 to 20 states and two from foreign countries, in addition to others from all over Texas.

A check of the register in which visitors sign, discloses that there have been people from Columbus and Hattiesburg, Miss.; Miami, Tarpon Springs and Elgin Air Force Base, Fla.; Chicago, Ill.; Monterey, Mexico; Preston, Ontario, Can.; Ruidosa, N.M.; Elkin, North Carolina; Littleton and Radium, Col.; Edmund, Waurika and Ponca City, Okla.; Oneida and New York, N. Y.; Westerville, Ohio; Durham, Kans.; and Antioch, Calif.

Some are vacationing here; others are on their way through by car, and one couple, the Canadians, had flown down and were sampling fishing spots along the Texas coast, stopping at Rockport on their tour.

"We have lots of people every day," Mrs. Lentz said, "and would probably have more if people knew how to find the gallery. It's rather quite easy. All you have to do is head south on the business loop and watch for the Green Thumb Nursery on the right side of Church Street, about five or six blocks south of the post office. The nursery is on the corner of King and Church streets, and you turn west on King Street."

Water Board Hears Picton On Conference

Commissioners of the Aransas County Conservation and Reclamation District, at their regular meeting, listened as Board President Harold Picton outlined discussions he had recently held with members of the San Patricio Municipal Water Supply District, from which, it is expected, water for Aransas County will eventually come.

However, before an assured water supply for the district can be obtained, additional legislative action will be needed, in order to give the local district taxing powers to retire the bond issue that will be needed to construct the necessary lines and distribution system.

Picton told other members of the Board that the San Patricio District now has some 15,000,000 gallons of raw water as surplus, but that it is questionable whether this will still be available by the time we are ready locally to go ahead with plans.

Before the legislative action can be instigated, a survey of the county's necessities and possibilities must be completed, Picton said. Lockwood, Andrews and Newnam, the District's consulting engineers, are now in process of finalizing the needed engineering survey, he stated, while the District's financial advisor, Laddie Janicek, has almost completed preparation of a questionnaire that will be sent to people in the area. This questionnaire will, if properly answered by the recipients, give the Board the other information to go before the Legislature and ask for a change in the law, making it possible to obtain money.

As originally drafted, the bill that created the district asked for the power to make tax levies for retirement of needed bonds in amounts not to exceed 50 cents per $100 in valuation. This provision was acceptable to practically everyone, including the county's chief taxpayers, the oil companies.

However, determined opposition by Sid Richardson Estate lawyers was instrumental in gutting the legislation. Only one bond issue, of $70,000 was allowed, for purposes of a needed survey. No provision was made for installation of needed pipelines and equipment when the survey was completed. It is this provision of the law that must be changed, and commissioners are hopeful that they will have enough facts to secure the needed revision of the bill.

Commissioners Transact Routine Business Friday

The Aransas County Commissioners Court had a very short session at its regular meeting last Friday.

A plat of lots 21 through 45 in the Copano Cove subdivision Unit No. 10, being a subdivision of land out of part of tracts 90, 91, 92 and 93 in the Coleman-Fulton Pasture Company Subdivision, E. Kilpatrick Survey, was presented to the court for approval.

Commissioner Sparks moved same be approved for record. The motion was seconded by Commissioner A. L. Davis.

Commissioner Sparks then moved that the County Judge be authorized to draft a letter to Congressman Young and Senator Yarborough, protesting Federal government purchase of property in the amount of 32,500 acres, for an addition to the Aransas Wildlife Refuge and the motion was seconded by Commissioner W. B. Allen. The motion was passed unanimously.

School Would Lose $14,140, County $12,340 In Taxes Yearly, Yarborough Is Told

Odd Accident On Causeway Injuries Two

Two Aransas Pass residents were injured in a collision of a motorcycle and a trailer on the Copano Causeway at 7:20 p.m. Monday.

Roy Collins, 19, of Aransas Pass, the driver of the motorcycle, was treated for facial lacerations at Memorial Hospital in Corpus Christi and released.

Mary Curby, 15, of Aransas Pass, a passenger on the motorcycle, was admitted to Memorial Hospital with head and shoulder injuries.

Eli M. Alexander of Portland, the driver of a pick-up truck to which the trailer was attached was uninjured.

The trailer came loose while Alexander was driving across the causeway and swerved into the other lane in the path of the motorcycle, patrolmen said.

Highway Patrolmen Don Carr and Rayford Brown investigated.

LIBRARY RECEIVES BOOK DONATIONS FROM TWO PATRONS

The Aransas County Public Library has received two nice donations of books within the past month—one from Frank Wells, the other from Peter Sorenson.

The Wells collection contained many of the Life Publishing Company's World Library volumes. Among them were beautifully illustrated books on Germany, Canada, Russia, France, Israel, Britain, India, Africa, Scandinavia, Italy, Asia, Greece and Spain.

The books donated by Wells also included "The Secret Museum of Mankind," the "World's Great Spy Stories," "The Case of the Black-Eyed Blonde," a book on the oil industry, "A treasury of Stephen Foster," "Literary America" which contains capsule biographies of American authors, the Columbia Encyclopedia and an atlas.

Sorenson, a devotee of science fiction, gave the library many of these books, some 25 or 30 volumes in all, which filled in that portion of the library in a most satisfying manner, as there are many calls for this type of books.

Members of the Board said the library is always glad to get donations of any sort of books, because, until the new library is paid for, book buying funds will be at a minimum.

Chairman J. L. Baughman pointed out that many people have books of various sorts that they have given house room to for years that would be welcome on the library shelves.

Aransas County Judge John D. Wendell has written Congressman John Young and Senator Ralph Yarborough, protesting addition of 32,500 acres to Aransas Wildlife Refuge unless the county is recompensed in full for lost tax revenues.

Originally established in 1937 as the winter home of America's last flock of whooping cranes, the Refuge at present contains 47,000 acres on Black Jack Peninsula, in Aransas County.

Recently, Senator Ralph Yarborough announced that the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service was planning to add

Bob Shields Talks to Club

"Bob" Shields, manager of the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge, on Black Jack Peninsula, gave a most interesting program to 50 members and guests of the Rockport Sportsmen Conservation Association meeting Tuesday night at the Woman's Club building.

Colored slides of the habitat and of the many water birds here and in other states and Canada were shown and discussed. The trapping of geese by nets shot from specially equipped mortars, the illustrated four migratory flight paths from the north to the south travelled each way annually and the story illustrations of the known wild Whooping Cranes which winter here every year contributed to an informative and interesting program.

Those interested in seeing the wildlife in their native habitat will view the maximum number in the late afternoon and evening, and the gates of the Refuge are not closed until 7:30 these summer evenings, according to Mr. Shields.

More than 9,300 deer, according to the latest census are creating overcrowding of the Refuge. The success of the screw-worm eradication program state wide has increased the deer population to a point of an explosion so that there is no place to put the excess deer which previously were trapped on the Refuge and transplanted.

According to Mr. Shields, about 13,000 head have been removed from the Refuge during the last 12 years by the state and national game men. Plans are afoot to reduce the herd this year by 2,000 to 3,000 head.

Mr. Shields explained that Aransas County receives $8,000 annually from the grazing and royalty incomes to the Refuge, and that another $2,000 annually is in process of payment to the county. Further Mr. Shields explained the total purchase price of a half million dollars for the Refuge has been returned to the wildlife funds from the royalties and rentals received from this Aransas Wildlife Refuge.

LOCAL TEACHER AT WORK SHOP

Frank DeAngelis of Rockport is among 50 participants enrolled in a 10-day workshop at North Texas State University, at Denton.

The program on "Composition, Literature, Language" is sponsored for the eighth summer by the NTSU English department and is following trends set by the National Council of Teachers of English and the College Entrance Examination Board.

DeAngelis teaches English at Aransas High School.

32,500 acres to the sanctuary, and would recommend acquisition of the land to the Migratory Bird Conservation Commission.

However, when the senator was here on July 13, and was entertained at a coffee, concern was expressed by business leaders of the community, including the judge, over removal of this land from the county's tax rolls through acquisition by the Federal government.

Since that time, Judge Wendell has formulated another protest, embodied in his letter, saying:

"We wish to protest strongly against acquisition of this land by the Federal government unless county and school governments are recompensed each year in full for their annual tax loss, which will amount to more than $25,000.

"We are one of the smallest and poorest counties in Texas. If this land is added to the Aransas Wildlife Refuge, it will then have a total area of 79,500 acres, comprising 43.66% of all arable land in Aransas County.

"Last year (1963) the property in question, comprising all the lands of the Tatton Ranch in Aransas County, was assessed at $765,960 by the school district, and brought that agency $14,140.90 in revenue. The valuation amounts to 7.35% of all real and personal property in the Aransas County Independent School District.

County valuations (at 20% of the actual value instead of the 25% assessed by the school district) were $642,855, on which county, state, and navigation district taxes amounting to $12,342.82 were collected.

"If this land is acquired by the Federal government, it will mean a direct tax loss to local governmental agencies of at least $26,843 annually. In such case, it is definitely the feeling of officials of the various county and school district agencies that these agencies should be reimbursed in full each year for their tax loss.

"We would also like to point out that county, school and navigation districts have heavy commitments on outstanding bond issues which were voted on the assumption that our tax collections would continue at or about the present level. A sharp drop in taxes could cause one or more of these agencies to default, a thing that has never happened in the county's history.

"Another and less tangible liability is the loss in revenue to motels, guides for hunting and fishing, as well as sporting goods stores and service establishments in this area. The land in question fronts on two bays—St Charles and Copano—and sizable portions of these will no longer be available for hunting and fishing or other recreational purposes, as they have been in the past.

"Such loss, though considerable, is extremely difficult to compute, but is certain to work hardship on guides, charter boat operators and others, as well as motels throughout the region. There seems no reason to doubt this, or that St. Charles Bay Hunting and Fishing Club, which has many influential members throughout Texas, will be destroyed for all practical purposes.

"Another thing that should be brought to your attention is the fact that our population growth is toward the north and acquisition of this area as a Federal refuge would have (continued on page 8)

PRESCRIPTION MADE FROM HUMAN BONES

A 17th century nostrum called Goddard's Drops was made from human bones and was bought by King Charles II of England from Dr. Goddard for $25,000. To make Goddard's Drops, a distillate from well-dried human bones was buried in the ground for three months in a tightly covered container, and then heated gently for two weeks. The resultant oil, when separated, was recommended to be taken in a dosage of six to 12 drops.

It was recommended that the human bones be carefully chosen in keeping with the illness for which they were to be used.

For instance, if a person were to be treated for gout in the right leg, the prescription should be exclusively with healthy human bones from the right leg.

Mrs. C. R. Sparks, who was admitted to Spohn Hospital July 8, is expected home this week.

BASICALLY PADRE ISLAND IS UNINHABITED WASTE OF DUNES, SAND

Padre Island is, basically, an uninhabited waste of sand dunes, except at its northern and southern ends. At Padre Park on the northern end there is one motel about a mile from the beach, but there are other accommodations near the entrance to the causeway entering the island.

There is also a free, 1200-foot fishing pier, bait and tackle shops, a snack bar, first aid station, rest rooms, bath house, beach umbrellas, and cabanas available for rent.

On the south end, across from Port Isabel, development has been more rapid and accommodations range from plush motels to cabanas that may be rented from Cameron County, and even rustic fishing camps.

The county park has facilities for trailers, a fishing pier, bath house and a picnic area. Eighty miles of the 117-mile crescent island has been designated as a National Seashore, to preserve its unspoiled natural beauty—stark dunes and fine white sandy beach, that seem endless and uncounted.

In the island's sun-warmed immensity the few people that travel its beaches to fish or beachcomb seem tiny against the sea, sand and sky.

Only at the beginning and end are there crowds of fishermen and bathers.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Fisher and sons Richie, Jesse and Bobby of Petaluma, Calif., left Sunday after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Mullinax for two weeks.

Mrs. Charlie Domaschk has received word that her son Archie Wayne, who is in the Navy, stationed at San Francisco, Calif., was married July 9.

SALT WATER CORROSION WILL LITERALLY DESTROY YOUR CAR. (YOU DON'T SEE TOO MANY OLD CARS RUNNING AROUND THESE PARTS, DO YOU?)

So — Why not keep your cars and boats clean and free from brine at the KWIK Car Wash for only 25¢! (Gosh, that's cheap.)

Its located behind the Basin Drive In, across from the Rockport Boat Basin.

(If you don't have any cars or boats, come by anyway—and have a water fight, with your friends. That's fun too.)

Gas - who needs it ?

If you have money to burn, the economy of clean efficient natural gas isn't important to you.

But if you have to get 100 cents worth from every dollar you spend, you ought to know that natural gas costs far less than anything else for cooking . . . for refrigeration . . . for water heating . . . for heating and air conditioning . . . for clothes drying.

And even if you don't have to worry about money, you ought also to know that gas does all these jobs far better. Who needs gas? You do!

JUDGE PROTESTS—

directly inhibiting effects on development of the county in that direction.

"It also seems questionable to most of us familiar with the situation that land which has been posted for years, almost as tightly as the refuge itself, should suddenly need to become part of the Federal holdings in order to protect the wildlife of the salt flats which make up most of the Tatton range.

"The Aransas Wildlife Refuge has always been a liability from the standpoint of the school district and county government, both of which have to furnish services for which there is little recompense in the way of taxes.

"For instance, in 1961, the two agencies received only $5,368.78 from grazing leases; in 1962 the amount was up to $7,311.38; in 1963 it amounted to $8,431.38. In each case, half the total went to the county; the other half went to the school district, but in neither case was it sufficient to defray the expenses of the agency involved in furnishing service to the Refuge area.

"Nor is there any other income from the Refuge, as the population there is too small for a school district to receive impact pay, even though it must maintain a special bus to take the children back and forth 20 or more miles a day. These children, although in the local district, have to be taken to the Tivoli-Austwell schools with which an arrangement has been made for their attendance. Otherwise the bus trip would be nearly 80 miles daily.

"If the 47,000 acres now in the Refuge had paid taxes at the same annual rate of the land under consideration (about 82.6 cents an acre) the annual income from this source would have been an additional $37,822. Thus, since the Refuge was established 27 years ago, Aransas County has lost money at the rate of $37,822 a year because the land under Federal control paid no taxes.

"Five thousand acres of the 47,000 were state school land. Deduct the taxes represented by that acreage, and the loss to Aransas County has still been $37,409 yearly. And, to be fair, grazing money has averaged around $7,000 annually, at least during the last three years. This still leaves slightly over $30,000 in revenue the county has lost every year since 1937, or a total of around $810,000 we have contributed to the welfare of the whooping cranes.

"Now, if the other land is acquired, we will be contributing roughly $55,000 a year to this cause.

"When Senator Yarborough was here, he said a number of northern states had passed laws preventing further acquisition of land under the duck stamp program of the Federal government, simply because such acquisition was removing too much property from county, school and state tax rolls, to the detriment of these agencies which had no other source to replace the funds thus lost.

"When the original 47,000 acres was purchased for the Refuge, 5,000 of it was school land, but the other 42,000 acres belonged to a San Antonio attorney who used it for ranching, and it is our understanding that he retained the grazing rights as one of the conditions of the sale. Of course, he pays a small grazing fee, but this is infinitesimal compared to what the taxes would be—roughly $7,000 against $37,000.

"While details of the present transaction are not available to us, it seems that it may allow the owner to retain usage of the land on a sort of perpetual lease without payment of other taxes than the grazing fees. If so, it can set a real and dangerous precedent, not only in Aransas County, but also in the rest of the state. If this is possible, it is conceivable that in time many great holdings in Texas will be transferred to the Federal government, with the former owners enjoying what will amount to a 99-year lease at an extremely low rate—far less than the taxes.

"In the present instance, Aransas County will have lost 43.66% of its arable land and its various agencies will have lost the revenue from this property. As stated, we are one of the smallest and poorest counties in the state. We have practically no agriculture with the exception of this and one other big ranch. To lose the income from the Tatton properties will work hardship on both school and county. For instance, the sum in question is sufficient to pay for our entire sheriff's department.

"We have no desire to interfere with the Aransas Wildlife Refuge or the whooping cranes, but we are vitally concerned with our revenues and development, as we are a rapidly-growing community, perpetually short of funds for things like roads, streets, a water supply and similar items.

"We are perfectly willing to see the whooping cranes and deer multiply until they populate all of Aransas County, if the Federal government is willing to pay for it. The Refuge and the cranes are the nation's heritage; let the nation foot the bill and return the $55,000 or $60,000 in annual tax money—approximately $8.50 for every man, woman and child in Aransas County—that the Refuge will cost after enlargement, and which Aransas County, its schools and people cannot afford."

Mrs. Hagar Makes The Headlines In Boston Paper

Mrs. Connie Hagar has made the headlines again, this time in an article written by Virginia Williamson, of Kansas City, written for the Christian Science Monitor, one of the country's leading newspapers, and brought to our attention by Mr. and Mrs. Max Gardner.

While Mrs. Williamson's statement that Rockport has only about a thousand people is somewhat startling to those of us who have laboring under the impression that the population in this area was pushing 6,000, the rest of her story is most interesting, particularly about Mrs. Hagar.

The story of Mrs. Hagar and the birds of Rockport has been told so often and is so well known that it is part of Rockport's every day life, but it is always refreshing to see it through new eyes.

It is when Mrs. Williamson leaves the subject of Mrs. Hagar and the birds and begins to talk of all other interests and honors accumulated by the Rockport woman that her story becomes most interesting.

Mrs. Williamson says of Mrs. Hagar:

"But her accomplishments are not limited to one field. She is expert in other subjects: shells, stars, wildflowers, rocks and conservation. She shares her knowledge by lecturing to biology classes in high schools and colleges throughout the state. Once a month she talks to the grade school children of Rockport.

"She is also an accomplished musician. The sharing of her talents has brought Mrs. Hagar appreciation and many honors, such as a special award from the Parent Teacher Association of Texas and life membership in the National Council of State Garden Clubs.

"She is an honorary life member of the Texas Ornithological Society, the Outdoor Nature Club of Corpus Christi, and the Corpus Christi Garden Club.

"Culmination of these and other honors came in November, 1962, when the Audubon Society had its National Convention in Corpus Christi. Before 900 members, Mrs. Hagar was presented with a scroll which said, in part:

"The National Audubon Society awards this citation to Conger Neblett Hagar, ornithologist and conservationist, good citizenship of Rockport she helped make famous, friend and mentor to three generations of field students of birds."

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Kaczmarek, Paul and Monica, of Kirby, Texas, were weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hogue.

Views From Hewes

By Police Chief Robert Hewes

The accident rate in Rockport is steadily climbing. Chief of Police Bob Hewes reported the eighth accident of the month.

It happened at the intersection of Austin and Cornwall Street. Involved were Miss Janet Grant and Rinzie Boone both of Rockport. No injuries were reported and approximately $400 worth of damage was done to the automobiles.

Minors With Alcohol

Two teenage youths, one from Fulton and one from Kansas were taken before Corporation Court Judge G. D. Johnson this week for intoxication and Minor in Possession of Alcoholic Beverages charge. Both were fined $25 and released. As is the case in most instances, both boys denied knowing who bought the liquor for them.

In a statement to the Rockport Pilot, Chief of Police Bob Hewes said this is the reason it is so hard to stop teen-age drinking. Most youths are hesitant to name the person who buys for them because they do not want to get someone else in trouble. Only by stopping the source of the alcoholic beverages will we be able to control this rising problem of teen-age drinking.
