Pound Is Bolstered

BASEL, Switzerland (AP) — The Bank of International Settlements today announced a new $2-billion credit to bolster the pound sterling.

The credit, which will make foreign currencies available any time holders of pounds want to exchange them in large quantities, will run for 10 years, with a three - year grace period after that before any repayments need be made.

Twelve countries will participate: Austria, Belgium, Canada, Denmark, West Germany, Italy, Japan, Holland, Norway, Sweden, Switzerland and the United States.

Ottmar Emminger No. 2 man in the West German federal bank, told newsmen that West Germany would make available $400 million of the amount.

Led by the United States and West Germany, the central banks of the 12 nations agreed on the credit at a meeting that lasted until after midnight Sunday. The purpose is to restore confidence in the pound, which once more has been badly weakened by Britain's persistent tendency to spend more abroad than it earns.

The credit also assures holders of pounds — chiefly the oil-rich Arabs of the Middle East - of other currencies into which they can convert their sterling holdings if they desire. But the British and the central bankers hope that the granting of the credit will engender so much confidence in the pound that much of the credit will not have to be used.

Suez Gun Battle Prompts UN Plea

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
Associated Press Writer

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council called on Israel and Egypt today to obey their 1967 cease-fire after 10 Israelis and 17 Egyptians were reported killed in a gun battle across the Suez Canal Sunday.

In a meeting that began Sunday and lasted past midnight, the 15-member council agreed on a 'statement of consensus" read by the council president, Canadian Ambassador George Ignatieff.

The meeting followed requests from both countries that, the council give its urgent attention to the battle that at one point reportedly ranged along most of the canal, from El Qantara in the north to Port Taufiq in the south.

A U.N. truce team finally arranged a cease-fire by early evening. One member of the team was reported wounded and two U.N. observation posts were hit. Israel said the Egyptians violated one agreement with the observers to stop the shooting.

The canal front was reported calm today.

The battle was the fourth and most serious incident along the canal since Aug. 26. An Israeli charge of Egyptian provocations was already before the Security Council; but the battle Sunday and the council's response put the earlier complaint on the shelf, at least for the time being.

Israel and Egypt each accused the other of starting the shooting. Lt. Gen. Odd Bull of Norway, chief of the U.N. cease-fire teams, said one of his groups reported the Israelis fired first in the team's area of observation, while three other observer teams said the Egyptians shot first in their areas.

Israeli Ambassador Yosef Tekoah told the council that Egyptian forces opened fire first on Israeli engineers who had just detonated an antivehicle mine the Egyptians had planted north of Port Taufie, on the east bank of the canal. Egyptian Ambassador Mohamed El-Kony said this was a fake charge to cover another act of premedifated aggression."

Israeli sources in Tel Aviv said the first Egyptian fire was returned and the exchange quickly escalated into an artillery duel that sent clouds of dust and smoke rolling over the 100-mile canal.

Israel reported 10 of its soldiers killed and 17 wounded. Israel also said two Arab civilians were injured and a church and two mosques damaged on the Israeli-occupied east side of the canal at El Qantara.

The Egyptian command said Israel began the battle by shelling Port Suez. It reported that five Egyptian soldiers and six civilians were killed and 22 Egyptians were wounded.

The Egyptians claimed they destroyed 14 Israeli tanks, 6 armored cars and 6 trucks and that "all Israeli control towers in the fighting areas were destroyed" along with 19 artillery batteries and an army barracks.

Israeli officials denied Egyptian claims that the Israelis used missiles during the firing. The Jordanians claimed the same thing following a recent Israeli attack, but Israeli sources said the Arabs were confusing missiles with long-range artillery.

Dedication Of Marker Held

Dedication ceremonies for a historical marker on U. S. 180 about twelve miles east of Snyder were held Saturday afternoon by the Scurry County Historical Survey Committee. The marker will direct the attention of travelers to Greene Springs about 1.5 miles southwest of the little roadside park where the marker was erected.

Presiding over the dedication ceremonies was Hugh Boren Jr., president of the Survey Committee. Invocation was given by Rev. William N. Parkey, and Donald Huddleston, president of the Archaeological Society, made a few comments concerning the history of the region. He also told about work by the Society, and he introduced officers of the group.

Mrs. Wayne Boren explained the "Ramps" program of the Survey Committee for "recording, appreciating, marking, preserving and surveying history."

Pat Bills gave a history of Greene Springs. These springs comprise the first running water that flows into the South Fork of the Clear Fork of the Brazos River. The waters, which collect in large potholes in a sandstone formation, have produced a constant flow since first discovered by settlers.

Indians were the first visitors to the springs. Explorations by the Scurry Chapter, South Plains Archaelogical Society, have uncovered many artifacts, including stone knives, scrapers, beads, potsherds and arrow points.

Military units under Capt. R. B. Marcy (1849) and Capt. Robert E. Lee (1856) camped at Greene Springs as did later buffalo hunters, freighters and emigrants moving west.

The springs were named for Jim Greene, a horse rancher, who moved here from Buffalo Gap in 1881. His family lived in two dugouts until their first home was built in 1890. Remains of the dugouts still are visible from a nearby hill.

Several descendants of the early settler were present for the ceremonies, including William Greene, who said his great - uncle "disappeared at the springs when he was two years of age." He either drowned or was carried off by Indians, Greene believes.

USDA Hikes Estimate Of Cotton Crop

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department estimated this year's cotton crop today at 11,197,000 bales, an increase of 50 per cent from the 7,455,000-bale crop of 1967.

Last month the department estimated the crop at 10,976,000 bales. The 1962-66 average is 13,986,000.

About 10,318,000 acres were available for harvest as of Aug. 1 the department said. The yield of cotton per acre was estimated at 521 pounds, compared with 447 last year and 500 for the average.

The Texas crop was estimated at 3,450,000 bales and the yield per acre was set at 397 pounds of lint.

The Census Bureau said 373,783 bales had been ginned prior to Sept. 1, compared to 631,701 a year earlier.

The estimated yield per acre and production, respectively, of cotton by states included:

Arkansas 515 and 1,100,000; Louisiana 620 and 530,000; Oklahoma 303 and 240,000; New Mexico 580 and 195,000; Arizona 1,033 and 635,000; and California 1,076 and 1,525,000.

MOVING OUT — Snyder's Jaycees and employes of W. K. Bigham and Sons, house movers, prepare to move four houses from Muriel Drive to west of Hermleigh. The houses replace ones that were destroyed during a tornado May 24. The Jaycees have raised over $5,000 of an original goal of $7,000 to pay for the houses, the cost of moving them, and the cost of new foundations.

Jaycees' Housing Project Climaxed

A giant stride in the Snyder Jaycees' project to aid the storm victims of Hermleigh was made today when the Jaycees and employes of the W. K. Bigham Moving Company moved four houses from Muriel Drive to Hermleigh.

The move was made this morning. The houses were placed on new foundations in Hermleigh to replace homes of Bob Lee, Wynn Lee, T. D. (Doc) Leech and Bob Neblett. Their homes were devastated in the storm that struck west of Hermleigh last May 24.

The Jaycees began a fund-raising project to provide homes for the disaster victims. A recent "radio - thon" brought in over $5,000 towards the original goal of $7,000. Contributions for the remainder of the goal still are being accepted at the Snyder National Bank and at West Texas State Bank.

Money raised by the Jaycees will pay for the four houses, the cost of moving them to Hermleigh, and the cost of the new foundations. The Jaycees purchased the houses on Muriel Drive from the FHA with Micky Nunley, Jaycee president, signing a note for $7,000 at the Snyder National Bank.

"We had (and have) faith that the people of Scurry County would help us help the tornado victims," explained Nunley. He said the support by local and area citizens has "been tremendous."

In addition to levelling the four homes, the powerful twister shredded cotton fields in the area, snapped utility poles and

Czech Industries See Slow Recovery

By PETER REHAK
Associated Press Writer

PRAGUE (AP) — Production from Czechoslovakia's heavy industry, the mainstay of the economy, may be curtailed for "a long time to come" as a result of the Soviet occupation, the Czechoslovak Communist party newspaper reported today.

Rude Pravo said that during the first week of the occupation production losses in heavy industry alone amounted to 1,626 million crowns, or $227,640,000.

"In many plants it may be possible to compensate the losses," the paper said.

The Soviet Union has given a half promise to compensate Czechoslovakia for all damages caused by the invasion, and a parliamentary committee is compiling a report.

Rude Pravo said failure by Moscow and some of its hardline allies to meet their supply obligations to Czechoslovakia was one of the adverse factors. It said five large export shipments could not be readied on schedule because supplies did not arrive from the Soviet Union, East Germany and Hungary.

At the same time, Rude Pravo added "the trade representatives of these countries insisted on adhering to delivery schedules" by Czechoslovakia in other industrial branches.

Meanwhile, reliable informants reported the country's embattled Communist leaders have agreed to the stationing of Soviet-bloc troops indefinitely along their country's border with West Germany.

Wheat Growers Ask Higher Support Price

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new president of the National Association of Wheat Growers wants the government to raise its wheat support price 20 cents a bushel to help offset depressed prices on the open market.

E. L. Hatcher, who was named association president Aug. 29, said his group favors raising the support price from the national average of $1.25 a bushel to the minimum levels provided by the International Grains Arrangement.

The IGA is a treaty specifying price ranges for wheat in world trade.

Heavy Fighting In South Highlands

By GEORGE ESPER

SAIGON (AP) — Heavy fighting returned to South Vietnam's central highlands over the weekend, and a South Vietnamese brigadier general was killed shortly after one of his battalions repulsed an attack on the Duc Lap Special Forces camp and killed 47 North Vietnamese.

Forty miles north of Duc Lap, near Ban Me Thuot, South Vietnamese militiamen backed by a U.S. armored column reported another 47 North Vietnamese killed. Other American forces claimed they killed 82 enemy in two battles south and northwest of Saigon.

The slain South Vietnamese commander, Brig. Gen. Truong Quang An, 36, was the first South Vietnamese general killed in combat since 1962. Three American generals have been killed in action since that time.

Gen. An, his wife, his two chief American advisers and two U.S. helicopter pilots were killed when their helicopter was shot out of the air by North Vietnamese gunners eight miles northeast of the Duc Lap camp. Two American door gunners were rescued from the burning wreckage.

The American advisers were a colonel and a sergeant major. Their identities were withheld.

Gen. An was on an inspection tour of the Green Beret camp at Duc Lap a few hours after a battalion from his 22nd Infantry Division had beaten back North Vietnamese troops on the camp's fringes. Two South Vietnamese were killed.

Duc Lap, a strategic watching post near the Cambodian border, withstood a siege by some 3,000 North Vietnamese soldiers two weeks ago. It is considered vital for observing enemy infiltration into the central highlands.

About 40 miles north of Duc Lap, South Vietnamese militiamen and an armored column from the U.S. 4th Infantry Division ran into a North Vietnamese force while opening a section of a highway north of Ban Me Thuot. The militiamen reported killing 47 of the enemy while suffering one dead and three wounded. No American casualties were reported.

Hanoi Outlines Counter Proposal

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON
Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — A Hanoi spokesman told the United States today a simple bombing halt will not be enough to insure peace in Vietnam. He said American spy flights, naval raids and artillery attacks against North Vietnam also must end.

North Vietnamese spokesman Nguyen Thanh Le made the statement at his weekly news conference when asked whether his government would accept a simple bombing halt as a green light for serious peace negotiations.

Earlier Le acknowledged "the positive" content of proposals made by Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield and by ex-Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg calling for an immediate cessation of bombing over North Vietnam.

"The United States must unconditionally stop all bombing raids and all other acts of war against the territory of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam," said Le.

Goldberg, who headed the U.S. delegation at the United Nations, and Mansfield have both advocated a bombing halt "to move forward to obtain an honorable political settlement of the war."

Mansfield also has proposed formation of a provisional government of national union in South Vietnam, including elements currently unacceptable to the Saigon Regime.

Demand For Water Gains Since July

Water consumption in August exceeded that of July, but is still fell slightly under August of 1967, production figures of the Colorado River Municipal Water District show.

The district delivered 1,352,767,000 gallons in August, the fourth consecutive month of more than a billion gallons. Of this amount, 974,138,300 went to the cities, a decline of 1.74 per cent from August a year ago. Odessa used 332,341,000, down 4.2 per cent; Big Spring 33,719,000, down 1.26; Snyder 6,844,000, up .1 of one per cent. Stanton, which is a new customer, used 10,834,300 gallons.

Oil companies with somewhat less allowable, decreased their volume to 378,280,009, or down 5.44 per cent from a year ago. The total August volume was 2.78 per cent less than last August, but it was about 113,000,000 more than for July of this year. This shaved one per centage point off the deficit for the year over the same period in 1967. The 8,386,53,906 gallons delivered through August is 7.97 per cent under the first eight months of 1967.

Local Angus Herd Is Put In Program

Rex Robinson, a registered Angus cattle breeder here, has enrolled his herd in the American Angus Association's beef improvement program. The herd is scheduled to be classified in October by an official representative of the American Angus Association.

The program, called Angus Herd Improvement Records (AHIR), is designed to help cattlemen do a more professional job of breeding by measuring and recording the type, production and carcass producing qualities of his herd. All AHIR records are kept by the American Angus Association on a Honeywell 400 computer. These records are sent regularly on special forms to each Angus breeder enrolled in the AHIR program.

The official classifier will compare every animal in the herd against the ideal Type Angus. Each integral part will be analyzed and a total score ranging down from an ideal of 100 points will be assigned to each heifer, cow and bull over one year of age.

When the classification is complete the American Angus Association's breed improvement department will compile a graph showing how the herd averaged on each part, such as feet and legs, head and neck, rump, loin, etc. A graph of each bull will also be made up on a transparent sheet of acetate. By placing the bull graph on top of the herd graph a breeder can quickly determine if his herd bulls can be expected to sire calves that are better on all points than the average of the herd.

No Word On Release Of Pueblo

SEOUL (AP) — North Korea continued to celebrate the 20th anniversary of its Communist regime today but gave no indication that it would release the 82 captive crewmen of the Pueblo in honor of the occasion.

Rumors had circulated in Seoul for several days that the Pyongyang Government would free the Americans captured aboard the U.S. Navy intelligence ship last Jan. 23, and North Korea's Central News Agency had promised "important reports" on a special Sunday broadcast. But there was no word of the Pueblo or its men from the Communists.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my mother-in-law. I have been married for 42 years and have never said a cross word to her, but I am at the end of my rope. She lives in another town, thank God, but she uses up all her old age pension just traveling around visiting the relatives. When she comes here, she insists on sleeping on our sofa where she can hear and see everything. And she snores so loud we can't hear the TV. We have a spare room—but she won't use it.

She complains about my cooking, my coffee, our children, grandchildren and friends. She puts her false teeth in my best china cups and when she leaves I have to throw the cup out. She won't go to church so one of us has to stay home and keep her company. We never know when she's coming. She'll get on a bus and travel 400 miles and call us from the bus depot to come and get her. Isn't that a lot of nerve? If we have plans, it's just too bad. Everyone has to change their schedules to suit her. I would rather be dead than have her again. What should I do?

PROVOKED

DEAR PROVOKED: After playing the shrinking violet for 42 years, it may be difficult to become a tiger lily, but try. Tell the crusty old lady where you want her to sleep, where to put her false teeth, and if she doesn't care to go to church, she can sit alone. Also let her know that unless you have some advance notice, you may not be home.

DEAR ABBY: When one telephones an office and asks for Mr. John Doe, frequently the receptionist asks, 'Who may I say is calling?" This gives the caller the impression that whether Mr. Doe is in or not will be decided when Mr. Doe learns who is calling him.

This is irritating to the caller. In your opinion, is it proper for the receptionist to ask this question?

E. P. K.

DEAR E. P. K.: The caller should first identify himself. If he doesn't, the receptionist may properly ask who is calling Mr. Doe, whose privilege it is to be either in or out to the caller.

DEAR ABBY: I am writing to you less than one week after tragedy has struck our family. We just lost a precious 8-month-old baby due to one of those all too frequent "freak accidents." While napping in her crib she strangled to death on the string attached to her beloved pacifier, which she had around her little neck.

This is an open letter to ALL MOTHERS: Please, never put a string around your baby's neck! And remove all those pretty bright, but deadly ribbons from around the stuffed animals and other baby toys. Busy little fingers can undo the tightest of knots.

If you put this in your well-read column, Abby, maybe our misfortune will be the cause of some other baby's good fortune. Thank you.

Hot And Cold Thoughts

Summer's not too early to be thinking about that fireplace you've been planning to add to your home. Fireplaces today are available in variety to fit any pocketbook and fire - proof surfacing materials like ceramic tile make it possible to install them just about anywhere in the house. And thinking about chill fall evenings and cold winter days may be just the kind of psycological air-conditioning you need to get through the summer's heat.

SOLONS TO TRIM MORE

Spending Cuts Earmarked

By TOM STEWART
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration has decided where it will whittle and where it will hack to produce more than $6 billion in spending cuts imposed by Congress.

The agency-by-agency figures released Sunday add up not to $6 billion, but $3.5 billion.

The administration doesn't have to shoot for the full amount, Budget Bureau Director Charles J. Zwick said, because Congress in passing the cutback legislation reserved to itself the right to take the first bite.

And it appears, Zwick said, the lawmakers will make cuts totaling about $3.3 billion before adjourning.

The reductions made on Capitol Hill and those the administration intends to make total nearly $7 billion because amendments and re-estimates have added $900 million since January to proposals subject to reduction by the cutback law.

Agency heads have been told, Zwick said, that the $3.5 billion reduction will be made by cutting:

—$1 billion from defense expenditures, but without cutting into funds for the Vietnam war.

—$1 billion in loan programs of agencies such as the Small Business Administration, Farm Credit Administration and Export-Import Bank.

—$200 million from the federal-aid highway program, by delaying certain projects.

—$100 million from the space program, but without touching the Apollo man-on-the-Moon project.

—$1.2 billion from all other civilian agencies, but with high-priority social programs such as "safe streets," low-income housing and manpower training protected from cuts.

While the $989 million in cuts required of the Defense Department is the greatest for a single department, other agencies will be hit harder considering the size of their operations.

The $467 million reduction targeted for the Department of Agriculture and $380 million that will be cut at Health, Education and Welfare are "indeed big burdens," Zwick said.

The director enphasized that budgets of many departments and agencies will be trimmed both by Congress and the administration. The reduction the administration plans at the Agriculture Department, for instance, is in addition to $243 million in cuts by Congress.

The targets for the various departments, he said, may have to be revised further because of uncertainty about what Congress may do between now and adjournment.

"The longer they're here," he said, referring to Congress, "the harder our problems."

In his discussion of the budget in general, Zwick said the administration now estimates that the deficit when the year ends next June 30 will be $51 billion. The deficit for the fiscal year that closed June 30 was $25.4 billion.

The $5 billion estimate for fiscal year 1969, widely used by administration spokesmen in recent months, is $3 billion less than they estimated in January. Since then, estimates of expenditures have fallen $1.7 billion to $184.4 billion and estimates of receipts have gone up $1.3 billion to $179.4 billion.

GRADUATES — Marine Private Robert A. Sterling, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus H. Sterling, Star Route, Ira, has graduated from eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego, Calif. He will now undergo from two to four weeks of individual combat training and then, after leave at home, will report to his first Marine Corps assignment.

Eggers Lauds Panel Report

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — Republican gubernatorial nominee Paul Eggers says a report by the Governor's Committee on Public School Education was very encouraging.

Eggers said Sunday that the committee report incorporated many facets of a program he presented last week.

"Excellence in Texas education will help more citizens reach full potential," Eggers said. "Ignorance and those who condone it should be ever man's enemy."

The report calls for increased spending and various structural changes to put Texas in the national leadership in public education by 1980.

Eggers also said improved education in the state would lead to "a much stronger economic base and this adds millions of dollars in additional tax revenues."

More Talks In Teachers' Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Meetings between school and teachers' union officials continued today in an effort to open public schools for 1.1 million pupils.

No definite word came from the session.

Mayor John V. Lindsay said Sunday that the schools would open. So did Mrs. Rose Shapiro, president of the Board of Education.

But Albert Shanker, head of the 53,000-member teachers union which voted overwhelmingly to strike, said there would be "picket lines about every school" even if a settlement was reached. Opening of the schools today "would be impossible," he said.

Rhody McCoy, head of the governing board of the Ocean Hill- Brownsville demonstration school project in Brooklyn dismissed 10 teachers last spring for alleged insubordination and touched off the crisis, intimated Sunday there might be a compromise but added, "they're forcing it on us."

Shanker, president of the United Federation of Teachers, has demanded reinstatement of the 10 teachers to their original classroom duties.

McCoy countered, "They will be brought back against our wishes and will be reassigned," McCoy added the teachers would be given "appropriate work, including classroom duty."

The mayor intervened Saturday in the dispute, and conducted five hours of negotiations in City Hall Sunday.

Dr. Bernard E. Donovan, superintendent of schools, was asked Sunday whether the safety of the children might be endangered in the absence of the teachers and supervisors in event of a strike. The supervisors association said its members will not work if a strike occurs.

"We'll handle it tomorrow morning," Donovan replied. "If nobody shows up, obviously nobody shows up."

The 10 teachers who appealed their dismissals were cleared by a trial examiner.

Afterward, Donovan ordered the teachers' reinstatement. But the Brooklyn governing board balked.

Miss America Begins Reign In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—The newly crowned Miss America, Judith Anne Ford, arrived Sunday to begin a 10-day visit as part of her year's reign.

The 18-year-old blonde from Belvidere, Ill., will have a busy schedule of wardrobe fittings, interviews and conferences as she gets ready for the 200,000 miles of travel that go with her title.

Miss Ford can expect to earn about $85,000 in personal appearance fees during the year.

She is scheduled to hold a news conference Tuesday.

Meanwhile, a spokesman said, she will be in seclusion at Barclay Hotel, resting from her four nights of competition in Atlantic City, N.J.

After an acrobatic performance on a trampoline during the talent contest Saturday night, the 5-foot-7, 125-pound beauty fielded reporters' questions at a news conference Sunday morning following only two hours' sleep.

"Do blondes really have more fun?" she was asked.

"I've never been a brunette to compare it with," answered Miss America, who is 36-24-36.

Judi was a straight-A student in her freshman year at the University of Southern Illinois. She was the first coed in the school's 61-year history to win a varsity athletic letter.

As the only woman member of the school's trampoline team, she finished second in the junior national AAU championships this year.

Judi says she plans to finish her education at the University of Illinois and to become a physical education teacher.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Ford, live in Belvidere, where her father is a director of labor relations for the Sunstrand Corp. Her brother Don is a medical student.

Boling Crash Kills Five

BOLING, Tex. (AP) — Two automobiles collided east of here on Farm Road 422, killing three members of a Houston family and two Baytown residents.

Two other persons were injured in the crash late Saturday said the Department of Public Safety.

The dead in one automobile were identified as Joe G. Villareal, his wife, Lena, both 55, and a daughter, Carolyn, 16, all of Houston. A son Raul 17, was injured seriously.

Jesus Romero Jr., 22, and Jose Perez, 21, both of Baytown, also were killed. Jesus Perez, 19, brother of Jose and an occupant of the second automobile, was listed in critical condition at a Wharton hospital.

Officers said the vehicle driven by Romero apparently failed to make a curve one mile east of Boling and crossed the center stripe.

Coaches Say Scrimmage Beneficial

Both coaching staffs who witnessed the scrimmage between Snyder's junior varsity and the Hermleigh Cardinals here Saturday morning were generally pleased with the results.

Each team crossed the goal once.

"It was a pretty equal scrimmage," said W. C. Hodges, Hermleigh head coach. He said he thought the defense "looked better" than the offense, but pointed out the Cardinals have not had much time to work on offense.

Similar sentiments were expressed by Roy Carter of the Tiger junior varisty.

"We showed improvement," he said, "and we've got a long way to go. The defense is way ahead of the offense. We'll work hard on offense this week — especially passing."

Each team ran 20 plays trying to get a first down in three efforts, then for the next 40 minutes the drill was held under game conditions.

Hermleigh goes to Loraine for an 8 p.m. test Friday while the Tiger junior varsity inaugurates the season at 10 a.m. Saturday in Tiger Stadium with Big Spring's junior varsity providing the opposition.

Player Wins On 4th Extra Hole

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Little Gary Player, who has amassed more than a half million dollars in an illustrious 15-year career as a golf professional, picked up his check for $50,000 and headed for home.

"I'm anxious to get home. I miss my family," the 5-foot-7 South African said after he added the prestige-packed World Series of Golf title to his British Open Championship.

The 32-year-old Johannesburg star calmly rolled in an eight-foot birdie putt on the fourth extra hole of a sudden death playoff Sunday to wrest the big priize from Bob Goalby.

Only a month ago on this same tough par 70, 7,180-yard Firestone Country Club layout, Jack Nicklaus edged Lee Elder on the fifth hole of a playoff in the drama-filled American Golf Classic.

Player, who won this event in 1965, and Masters champ Goalby had deadlocked at 143, three over-par, for the regulation 36-holes before the South African won it all with his only birdie of the day.

Veteran Julius Boros, the PGA king, had a chance to forge a three-way tie but blew it when he missed a four-foot putt on the final hole.

"It's my own fault, I never gave it a chance," the 48-year-old popular pro said after he finished with his second straight 72 for a 144 total.

Goalby carried a one-stroke edge over Player and a two-stroke bulge over Boros to the 16th hole Sunday but put his second shot in the pond that fronts the green for a bogey.

Boros curled in a six-footer for a birdie that created a three-way deadlock but stumbled with his bogey on No. 18 to fall out of the chase. He took $7,500 for third place.

U. S. Open winner Lee Trevino, who dropped out of contention Saturday with a 79, added a 74 for a 153 score, 13 over par. He won $5,000. Player had rounds of 71-72 and Goalby 72-71.

Goalby, who earned $15,000 for his runner-up finish, said, "I had my chances but couldn't take advantage of them. I guess I was choking a bit."

The 31-year-old Belleville, Ill. pro missed a golden opportunity to end it all on the first extra hole, the par 3, 230-yard No. 15, when he misread the green and three-putted from 35 feet.

Player, one of only four golfers ever to cop the U.S. and British Opens, the PGA championship and the Masters, trapped his tee shot, needed two to get on and two to hole out and also bogeyed 15.

Both parred 16 and 17 before the 150-pound Player sealed it on No. 18 as darkness closed in.

Speed Boat Disintegrates

DETROIT (AP) — A high speed showdown between powerboating's top two drivers ended abruptly on the Detroit River Sunday when the 5,600 pound craft of Lt. Col. Warner Gardner, a retired Air Force officer, was virtually ripped to pieces in a stunning moment during the Gold Cup race.

The 52-year-old Gardner of Bay City, Mich. was critically injured when his 30-foot speedboat suddenly became airborne, flipped on its side and disintegrated as it smacked against the water.

Gardner's No. 1 rival, defending champion Bill Schumacher of Seattle, was about to make an effort to help rescue Gardner until he saw a Coast Guard amphibious helicopter swooping in to pluck the unconscious driver from the river.

'I got out of the way in a hurry for I knew they could be of more help to the colonel than I could," the shaken Schumacher said later.

After a delay for regrouping of boats, the third and championship heat in which Gardner and Schumacher had been dueling was run over again.

Schumacher, who had a runaway in his first two heats of the day, had a rougher time in the rescheduled final heat but he won it to retain the Gold Cup championship he won last year.

Schoolboy Grid Greats Honored

BRECKENRIDGE, Tex. (AP) — The Texas High School Football Hall of Fame will enshrine five former schoolboy greats Dec. 2 according to Putt Powell, chairman of the selection committee.

One of the players will be inducted posthumously, Boody Johnson, a star on the 1922 Waco team, judged one of the best high school teams in Texas history by sports historians.

Others include Boyce Magness, quarterback of the Breckenridge Buckaroos in 1929; Leo Baldwins, a back for Wichita Falls in 1923; Buster Mills, kicking great of Ranger in 1926; and Blue Smith, a back on the 1920 Cleburne team.

The 1920 Cleburne team tied Houston Heights for the first state championship of the University Interscholastic League.

19th Hole Mishap?

HONOLULU (AP) — Pro golfer Ted Makalena was injured critically Sunday when he dived into shallow water while swimming off Kuhio Beach in Waikiki.

Life guards said Makalena apparently hit his head on hard-packed sand. He was pulled out unconscious by his brother, Gary, and another man.

An American doctor, J. Jeffries, and Jean Blanchard corssed the English channel from Dover to a forest 12 miles from Calais, France, in 1785 in a free balloon.

Oilers, Chiefs Collide Tonight

HOUSTON (AP) — The defense-minded Houston Oilers and the Kansas City Chiefs get their first regular season test tonight in a nationally televised American Football League game.

A sellout crowd of 50,000 in the Astrodome is expected for the contest, which will be televised (NBC) at 8 p.m.

The Oilers, defending AFL Eastern Division champion, and the Chiefs, a Western Division favorite, compiled 4-1 exhibition records.

Both teams won two exhibition games against National Football League opposition and two against AFL foes. Each lost one game to an NFL opponent.

Kansas City finished second in the western division last year with a 9-5 record while the Oilers were 9-4-1.

The Chiefs hold a 10-6 series edge with Houston, including a 25-10 opening game victory last year.

Pete Beathard, starting Oiler quarterback, is expected to unleash a passing attack that appeared during the exhibition games.

Beathard completed 60 of 129 aerial attempts for 659 yards. Understudy Bob Davis hit on 17 of 35 passes for 279 yards, and both threw five touchdown passes.

The Oilers gave up the fewest points in the league last season while its offense had the best running attack.

The passing of veteran Len Dawson and the running of Mike Garrett, Wendell Hayes and Curtis McClinton spearhead the Chiefs' varied offense.

Dawson is the No. 1 passer in AFL history, the season leader in 1962-64-66 and the runnerup last year. Garrett, the 1965 Heisman Trophy winner, gained 1,087 yards rushing last year and accounted for 10 touchdowns.

Sid Blanks and Hoyle Granger led the Houston pre-season rushing attack, which collected 698 yards. Granger had a 5.1 average with 279 yards.

Haney Retiring After 50 Years

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — Bob Scheffing and Dick Walsh were mentioned Sunday as possible successors to California Angel General Manager Fred Haney, retiring after 50 years in baseball.

Scheffing currently serves with the Mets and Walsh, a former Dodger executive, is now commissioner of professional soccer.

Haney's retirement, effective Jan. 1, was announced Saturday. He'll continue as a club adviser.

Booster Club Meeting Set

Members of the Tiger Booster Club were urged to attend the next meeting of the Club at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the high school cafeteria.

Coah Wayne Tyrone will give a report on Lubbock Dunbar — defending champion in 3-AAA and the Tigers' opponent in the season and district opening clash here Friday night. Results of the scrimmage last week with Midland also will be reviewed.

Vonnie Black, club president, reminded local residents that club memberships still are availble.

"Help us boost the Tigers," he suggested.

Mustangs Are Rebuilding

By DENNE H. FREEMAN

DALLAS (AP) — It's a rebuilding year at Southern Methodist University, but if the football team hits as hard as some of its television commercials the Mustangs could spring a surprise or two.

Entitled "Excitement 68", the SMU propaganda mills have flooded newspapers and billboards and the airways with the theme that the Mustangs plan a return to the aerial circus of yore.

As if the Mustangs didn't throw a lot of passes last season. One advertisement points out that SMU threw more passes "than any team in Dallas County."

This of course refers to the Dallas Cowboys. And that's the point of the news media blitz.

SMU has decided to campaign hard for the football dollar, stretched very thin in Dallas. And the Mustangs don't have hosses this year.

So SMU is building up the fact it plays exciting football even if the scoreboard doesn't always ring true.

SMU does have a genuine All-American threat on its team this year—mercurial Jerry Levias, who made The Associated Press second team All-American squad his junior year.

Coach Hayden Fry calls Levias "the most exciting player at SMU since Doak Walker."

Levias is stationed mostly at split end. But he returns kicks, throws the running pass, and sweeps the flanks with daring for a 170-pounder.

'You'll probably see Levias everywhere," said Fry.

Everywhere that is but quarterback. And therein lies a big Mustang problem.

Fry must depend on a redshirt sophomore—whether it be Chuck Hixson or Wayne Delemater to move the team—and get the ball to Levias.

"A quarterback to a team is just like a carburetor is to a car," said Fry. "No matter how fine a car you have, it's not going to run good if you don't have a good carburetor."

SMU will continue to use the "I" formation and variations of the pro set.

The Mustangs should have an improved running game with veterans Mike Richardson at tailback and Pinky Clements at fullback.

The Mustangs will have a rather light offensive line, averaging about 200 pounds per man. Keith Cupples, starting offensive right guard, was moved to tackle to anchor the offensive line. He joins Terry May, a two-year letterman and one of the top blocking linemen in the conference. Regular Que Brittain is back at right guard along with squadmen Kemp McMillan at left guard and Stan Poulos or sophomore Bill Hart at center.

The defensive line, which will weigh 207 pounds from end to end, will show R. D. Crenshaw at noseguard and Mike Mitchell at left end. Both are veterans. Letterman linebacker Tommy Fraser was moved to right end and sophs Bill Wright, Bill Line and Jim Johnston rate as top tackle prospects.

At linebacker Bruce Portillo, called by Fry "the second best in the Southwest Conference," returns along with Joe Stutts, Don White and Mike Armstrong. The top secondary men include Daryl Doggett, switched from offensive halfback to safety, and Albon Head. A scramble should ensue during fall training for the other jobs.

Fry said SMU on defense "will stunt 90 per cent of the time this year. We just don't have the people to play it straight."

SMU has the capability to be an explosive team this year, but should be rated in the second division.

However, Fry sounded this warning to opponents who might not take the Mustangs seriously: 'There's not a gimme in major college football any more."

Graig Gives Tigers Trouble

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Graig Nettles keeps hitting home runs, people are going to learn the proper spelling of his first name in a hurry.

It's Graig, not Craig and not Greg. And the Minnesota rookie spelled nothing but trouble for Detroit's pennant express over the weekend.

Nettles slammed a three-run homer—his fourth in three days against the Tigers—accounting for all of Minnesota's runs in the Twins' 3-1 victory over the American League leaders Sunday.

The loss combined with Baltimore's 3-2 victory over Chicago, cut the Tigers' lead to seven games over the Orioles. Detroit's magic number for clinching the flag remained at 12.

In other AL action Sunday, New York rapped Washington 7-2, California edged Boston 3-2 and Oakland walloped Cleveland 10-2.

In the National League, St. Louis reduced its magic number for clinching the pennant to seven by shipping San Francisco 3-2 in 11 innings, Pittsburgh blanked New York 3-0, Atlanta topped Houston 4-1, Chicago bombed Philadelphia 10-3 and Los Angeles edged Cincinnati 3-2.

Nettles was called up from Denver of the Pacific Coast League on Sept. 1 when the roster limit was increased to 40 men. He hit his first major league homer Friday night against Tiger ace Denny McLain, walloped two for both Twins runs in a 2-1 victory Saturday night and then unloaded a No. 4 against Earl Wilson Sunday.

'When I hit homers," explained Nettles, "I hit them in bunches."

Nettles' sixth inning homer followed singles by Cesar Tovar and Frank Kostro and gave Dean Chance the victory over Wilson. Chance, touched for a fifth inning homer by Gates Brown, allowed six hits and struck out seven, squaring his record at 14-14. Wilson is 12-12.

Baltimore picked up ground when Dave McNally stopped Chicago on four hits for his 20th victory and 12th straight since the All Star break.

The Orioles scored all their runs with two out in the first inning when Brooks Robinson tripled, Frank Robinson and Elrod Hendricks followed with doubles and Dave Johnson singled.

That was enough for McNally, 20-8, who has not lost since July 5. He gave up a run in the fifth and another in the eighth but went the route to become the Orioles' second 20-game winner since the club returned to the major leagues in 1954. The other was Steve Barber in 1963.

The Yankees, who had scored 26 runs on 27 hits sweeping a Saturday doubleheader from Washington, kept the offense rolling with 11 more hits and beat the Senators again for Stan Bahnsen's 15th victory.

Bahnsen allowed four hits—two of them homers by Gene Martin and Mike Epstein—and coasted after the Yankees scored three runs with two out in the third inning on a walk, Joe Pepitone's triple, and consecutive doubles by Tom Tresh and Bill Robinson.

The victory moved the Yankees three games over .500—the first time sine 1964 that they've had that good a record so late in the season. New York is tied for fifth place with Oakland, one game back of fourth place Cleveland.

The Athletics clubbed the Indians for the third time in a row with Danny Cater, Bert Campaneris and Dave Duncan leading an 18-hit attack.

Cater had four hits, raising his batting average to .289. Duncan and Campaneris had three each with Campaneris scoring twice on two doubles and a triple.

California scored all its runs in the first inning and then hung on to beat Boston.

Rookies Jarvis Tatum and Jim Spencer each singled in the first inning uprising with Spencer's single driving in what turned out to be the Angels' winning run.

Clyde Wright pitched 6 2-3 innings of relief to earn his ninth victory after Angel starter Jim McGlothlin was forced to leave the game when he was struck on the left wrist by Carl Yastrzemski's line drive.

No Olympic Revolt Expected

CHICAGO (AP) — The U.S. Olympic Committee does not expect any revolutionary action by Negro athletes at the Olympic Games in Mexico City next month.

The committee met Sunday and selected Los Angeles over San Francisco as the U.S. city to officially bid for the 1976 Games before the International Olympic Committee when it meets in Amsterdam in May.

The committee then followed with a brief discussion on the possibility of Negro athletes wearing black armbands as a display of protest or refusing to take ascent to the victory stand in acknowledgements of triumphs.

Stewardesses Lending Hand

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
AP Special Correspondent

JEWALAKAL, Nepal (AP) — Kathy Anderson, a stewardess on round-the-world flights, used to gaze out the lounge window at the passing Himalayan range, snow-choked and forbidding, and wonder what life was like in one of those tiny villages below.

On a recent rainy morning in the mountain kingdom of Nepal, Kathy got on her bike and rode nine muddy, winding miles to Jewalakal, a village inhabited entirely by refugees from Communist Tibet.

As she passed through the gates of the refugee settlement, 40 to 50 Tibetan moppets ran out to meet her with excited laughter, much pushing and shoving, and, sang one chorus, in English, of:

"Are you sleeping?

"Brother John, Brother John. "Morning bells are ringing."

For Kathy Anderson, a Pan-American Airways stewardess from Brimingham, Mich., another day had begun in her three-month stint as a volunteer worker with the Thomas A. Dooley Foundation's stewardess program.

In the mornings, Kathy ran a day nursery for the children of the Tibetan rug weavers, who before her arrival accompanied their parents into the factory and were constantly under foot and in danger of injury from the machinery. In the afternoon, Kathy taught English and put on puppet shows for the children in an orphanage in Katmandu, the capital of Nepal.

Her companions in this far-off mountain kingdom were a TWA stewardess who did orthopedic therapy at a leprosarium a few miles out of town, a Braniff girl with a nursing background who worked at the Bir Hospital, the largest in Nepal, two United Air Lines stewardesses who helped out at the orphanage, a girl from American Airlines who was involved in a health survey of Nepal, and Stella Saint, a Northeast Airlines stewardess from New Bedford, Mass., who more or less served as boss.

All had come to Nepal on a nonpaid leave of absence from their airline to volunteer for three months of social work and nursing with the Dooley Foundation, named for the American doctor who dedicated his life to the health problems of Asia.

Other stewardesses were operating a combination showboat and hospital boat on the Mekong River in Laos, coaxing the natives into taking plague shots and into undergoing medical examinations—using a beguiling mixture of showmanship and professional knowhow. Still others were helping out at hospitals and orphanages in Vientiane, the capital city of Laos. In all, about 120 stewardesses from more than 40 foreign and American air carriers had volunteered for the program. Pan-American had flown them out free on a space available basis, and would fly them back the same way when their three-month hitch was over.

"It's not nearly long enough," complained Kathy, in between attempts at organizing her Tibetan charges into a marching game. "Even girls who give up their vacations and accumulated leave time to come out feeling they are getting a lot more out of it than the people we have come to help. I'm coming back again in January for another three-month tour if I can swing the time."

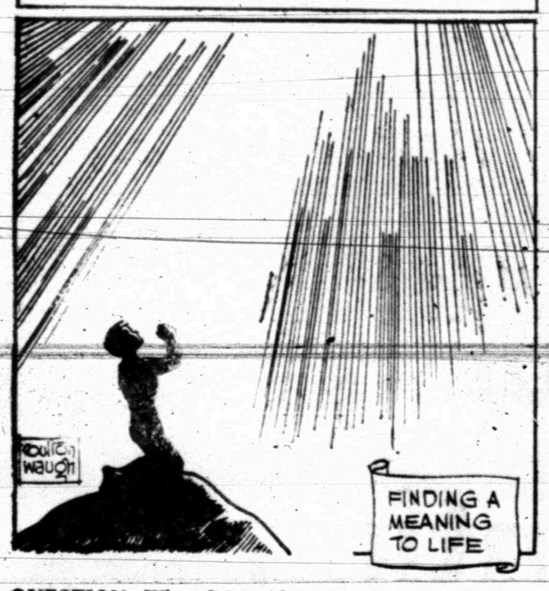

The Tibetans who came down from the high mountain passes after the Red Chinese took over and the Dalai Lama fled 10 years ago find difficulty adjusting to the milder, damper climate of Nepal's lovely Katmandu valley.

"For one thing they wear too many clothes," said Kathy. "They still wrap themselves up in woolens and furs, like they used to wear in their home village, and as a result they seem to be susceptible to every disease that comes along."

Kathy has tried to solve the problem by coaxing one of the Tibetan tailors in the refugee settlement into stitching up some tuburs, Tibetan native costumes, for the children, from old uniforms donated by the various airlines. She herself has designed some playsuits and dresses for the younger children.

"It's a good thing the miniskirt uniform came along," said Kathy. "Now we have lots and lots of obsolete uniforms available for making into tuburs."

Junior Editors Quiz on WORSHIP

QUESTION: When did worship begin?

* * * *

ANSWER: It would be impossible to give details about this, for the beginning of man's thought and feeling are shrouded in time now long past. Yet there are records, from many lands and peoples, which show that as far back as man has left a trace, he has felt the presence of a vast force greater than himself. People of different civilizations have called this force by different names. We usually use the word God. Religious people agree that men gain the greatest good by relating themselves to this mightiest power in the universe. They may belong to separate faiths, but religious people agree on a Creator who is just and good, and they agree that His commandment to us is to serve and help our fellow men. Science is extremely valuable since it uncovers facts about the world around us and the functioning of our bodies. But most people feel that religion is necessary too, because it searches for the values in life rather than just for the facts. And they feel that this search toward God-like qualities gives our lives a purpose and a meaning.

Bulletins From Boyle's Mailbag

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Americans now gulp 30 pounds of aspirin every minute around the clock—more than 21½ tons daily—to cure headaches and calm jittery nerves. Is all that worry really worthwhile?

The United States now has more than 100 million telephones, or one for every two persons. This nearly half of all the telephones in the world. What would it sound like if, at a given moment, all the telephones everywhere rang at once?

Speeding costs money as well as increasing the possibility of accidents. Checks show that a car that gets 20 miles a gallon at 40 miles an hour gets only 12 miles a gallon at 80.

Time has outdated the idea that women must choose between matrimony and a career. Some 15 million U.S. married women now hold jobs outside the home.

Looking for an interesting new hobby? Why not take up dendrochronology, the science of dating past events by the growth rings of dead and living trees? The idea of using trees as calendars of history goes back to Leonardo da Vinci, the Italian universal genius of the 15th and 16th centuries.

Our cat-and-dog lovers now spend $1.5 million a day for pet foods, double the amount spent for prepared baby foods. It's nice we don't keep elephants instead of watchdogs. An elephant can munch 800 pounds of fodder between dawn and dusk.

Quotable notables: "The fear of ridicule causes our worst cowardice."—Andre Gide.

No bull: If you get bored with all the sophisticated chatter at a cocktail party, you can break it up by standing on a chair and asking how many guests know whether a cow's ears are in front or behind its horns. Just to keep you from tossing restlessly tonight yourself, the answer is—behind the horns.

Geographical oddities: Long before paleface politicians pitched their marble tepees in Washington, D.C., the Algonquin Indians gave an apt name to the Potomac river. Potomac means "trading place."

Sh-h-h-h: Medical science has found that too much noise can make you ill physically as well as tire you mentally. It is estimated that more than six million Americans work in areas so noisy they are a health hazard.

Have a drink: Water isn't usually regarded as a food but, broadly speaking it is. As a matter of fact, it is one of the two most important nutrients the body needs. The other is oxygen.

Worth remembering: "A sense of humor is what makes you laugh at something which would make you mad if it happened to you."

Black Panthers' Leader Convicted

By JACK SCHREIBMAN
Associated Press Writer

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Black Panther leader Huey Newton, 26, was convicted Sunday night of voluntary manslaughter in the killing of a white policeman. The jury took four days to reach a verdict.

Newton's attorney, Charles R. Garry, moved immediately for an arrest of judgment and a new trial, and said later he would appeal the conviction to the U.S. Supreme Court if necessary.

The verdict "didn't make any sense," Garry told newsmen.

The defense contended that the dead policeman hated Negroes and harassed them.

Newton could be imprisoned from two to 15 years. A hearing was set for Thursday on Garry's motions.

The jury of seven women and five men found Newton guilty of shooting patrolman John Frey last Oct. 28 in a West Oakland Negro district.

The prosecution said the killing occurred after Frey stopped a car containing Newton and another Negro for questioning about traffic tickets. Frey was shot five times and bled to death. Another officer, Herbert Heanes, was critically wounded, and Newton was shot once.

The verdict ended a eight-week trial conducted in the atmosphere of an armed camp.

Dozens of policemen were in the courthourse during the trial and spectators were searched daily before entering the courtroom.

Negro militants had predicted trouble if the verdict went against Newton but the city was quiet today.

Newton stared expressionless when the verdict was read. As the jury was dismissed, an unidentified person among the spectators shouted, "Black Power."

The jury found Newton innocent of a second count, assault and battery with a deadly weapon on Heanes. It ruled, too, that Newton's 1964 knifing conviction was a felony and that therefore the current manslaughter conviction could carry a penalty of two to 15 years in prison instead of one to 15.

The jury contained one Negro, its foreman.

CAPTURED BIAFRAN CITY

Nigerians Distributing Food

By ARNOLD ZETTLIN
Associated Press Writer

ABA, Nigeria (AP) — The Nigerian army, in an effort to show it is not intent on wiping out the rebellious Ibo tribe, rounded up 300 persons in this nearly deserted city and handed over food to them.

The distribution Sunday was made three days after federal troops captured Aba, which had been the largest city left to secessionist Biafra in eastern Nigeria.

The Ibos, the predominant tribe of Biafra, claim the federal troops are waging a war of genocide against them. Virtually none of the 300 were Ibos.

They were some of the thousands the army believes remain in Aba, which before the war was a trading center of 131,000 inhabitants. But as the trucks and armored cars deposited food at the town hall, the streets were almost empty except for those collected by the troops in the roundup.

Troops gruffly hustled weakened men to unload sacks of rice, beans, and dried and smoked fish from Norway.

The stinking fish crawled with vermin. One bone-thin man took his ration, climbed to the roof of the modern two-story town hall and chewed at his fish.

Some men were too weak from hunger to carry back the food. Children stared listlessly, but with wide eyes. The very young had pale, golden hair, symptomatic of protein starvation.

From an Italian-built administration carrier, civilians picked cartons of condensed milk, perhaps suitably for children short of protein.

On the second floor of the town hall a 3-year-old boy, the size of a year-old toddler, sucked on a sour green pickle.

Col. Benjamin Adekunle, commander of the 3rd Marine Commando Division, said his troops —not the Red Cross —would handle relief in the area because "They know what Nigerians need, not milk but rice, beans and such solid foods." He has refused to permit the International Red Cross and its cartons of dried milk into the front.

Lt. Col. Godwin Ally, the 3rd Division chief of staff, said that once his troops marched to within five miles of Asia, resistance melted. The troops now stand across the narrow Aba River and the destroyed bridge to the opposite hill where the Biafrans were believed silently forming defensive positions, burying their scarce ammunition.

The federals said they were waiting for more troops from Umuahia, headquarters of the Biafran chief of state, Lt. Col. Odumegwu Ojukwu, 30 miles to the north.

Attack Fatal To Recipient Of Kidneys

HOUSTON (AP) — The 41-year-old Odessa, Tex., chemical engineer who received kidneys from two heart transplant donors died Sunday.

William C. Kaiser, a recipient in a historic mass organ transplant operation Aug. 31, suffered a fatal heart attack before dawn, said a spokesman at Methodist Hospital.

The three other men who received a heart, lung and kidney from the donor, a 20-year-old shooting victim, were reported in satisfactory condition.

At the time of death, Kaiser's kidney was functioning satisfactorily but wasn't functioning as well as a person's natural kidney, the spokesman said.

Kaiser, admitted to the hospital April 18, received on May 5 the kidney of a teen-age accident victim whose heart was transplanted to another man. The heart recipient died three days later.

Doctors said Kaiser's first kidney operation was unsuccessful. He was aided by a kidney machine until the Aug. 31 transplant surgery.

The other recipients in the multiple operation were William C. Carroll, 50, Scottsdale, Ariz., heart; William J. Whaley, 39, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., lung and Thomas A. Stevenson, 22, Houston, kidney.

James E. Singleton, 47, Fort Worth, Tex., who is the 12th and latest heart recipient here, also was progressing satisfactorily. The spokesman said Singleton underwent surgery Sept. 5.

Nine of Houston's heart recipients survive.

Havana Residents Donate Silver

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Residents of Havana have donated $65,000 worth of silver to the Cuban government in a drive to provide the Communist regime with hard currency for world trade, Radio Havana said Sunday.

The radio broadcast was the first report on the month-long national campaign. The announcement said there is no report yet on donations from outside Havana.

Drives Churchill Limousine

By DAYTON BLAIR
Associated Press Writer

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP) — Jim Leake grew up on a central Oklahoma farm and dreamed of the day he could own and drive a fancy car—perhaps a 1924 Buick like a neighbor owned.

Today Leake owns not only a 1924 Buick—"a real smooth running one"—but also 74 other vintage cars—including 23 Rolls Royces.

There's his personal favorite, a 1911 Rolls Royce Silver Wraith ceremonal phaeton bult for the maharaja of Mysore in India. Another is his Humber Pullman limousine used by Winston Churchill until his death.

Others include a 1934 Packard formal sedan delivered to the White House in 1934 and used by the Roosevelt administration until after World War II, and a 1900 De Dion Bouton that had the first high speed engine with the De Dion rear end assembly that still is the format of types used in racing cars today.

"I drive them all whenever I can, to keep them loose," says Leake, now president of three television stations and other business interests.

The Churchill car always is the subject of many questions.

Leake and a fellow townsman, Bill Hays, learned it could be bought in England. Lady Churchill, whom he did not see during the negotiations, had two requirements. One was that it be taken out of England to avoid commercialization and the other was that its price would not be disclosed.

No one knows what Leake and Hays, paid, but, Leake said, "We've got the original title signed by Sir Winston himself that would probably be worth $5,000 or $6,000 to collectors."

He first learned the maharaja's car was for sale while it still was in India. A price of $15,000 for the car in its unrestored state was too much. But later when he heard it was to be auctioned at Earl's Court in London, he and his wife flew there. He bought the car, now fully restored, on a bid of 9,600 pounds—about $27,900.

The favorite of Leake's wife is a 1923 Ford speedster which the couple's daughter, Nancy, also likes to drive. Their son, John Griffin Leake, and another daughter Jean, also drive the antique cars around Muskogee frequently.

There's a 1935 Duesenberg delivered to Da Topping, the former owner of baseball's New York Yankees. It had been driven 135 miles per hour before it was turned over to him. "It still just loafs along at 60," says Leake who drove it to Tulsa this summer for an exhibition.

He owns a 1901 Oldsmobile, one of only 300 or 400 made. "That's the car that inspired the song, 'My Merry Oldsmobile,'" said Leake.

There is a one-cylinder 1904 Reo that he keeps in England for the annual London-to-Brighton run for cars of 1905 and older. "Mine is about the newest car that will ever be in that race," Leake explained.

There are three Bentleys in the collection and a prize 1920 Minerva from Belgium.

Although most cars are British he has rounded up a broad section of American motorcar history.

He has four Packards, a 1925 Locomobile, a 1919 Pierce Arrow, 1917 Dodge, 1918 Reo, 1925 Marmon speedster, 1912 Hupmobile, 1902 two-cylinder Maxwell, 1912 Argo Electric touring car, 1935 Alvis touring, 1936 Cord phaeton, 1924 Hudson sedan and a total of five Fords—all collected with a bit of history in mind.

One of the Fords is a 1928 popcorn wagon that still works.

A 1928 Model A town car is "the epitome of a fine car of that era," he says. "It is the finest of the Model A's."

Leake has a 1911 Model T delivery wagon, complete with cut glass windows on the side. "It's patterned after the old horse drawn delivery wagons and is a fine bit of history," he said.

But parked in the middle of the fleet of big cars—and ready to be taken out for a spin—is a 1929 Austin Roadster.

"It's the first car I ever owned," he said. "I bought it for $85 while I was in college."

Leake now is president of Griffin-Leake TV Inc., which owns stations KTUL-TV in Tulsa, Okla.; KWTV in Oklahoma City and KATV in Little Rock, Ark. He is vice president of the Griffin Grocery Co. at Muskogee and president of the Denison Peanut Co., Denison, Tex.

AMERICA'S ASTRONAUTS READY

Will 1969 Be Year Of The Moon?

by HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — America's astronauts are ready once more to challenge space in an atmosphere of quiet confidence that 1969 will be the "Year of the Moon." But in the background lurks a lingering shadow of uncertainty about the next decade in space.

The United States has marched a long road back from the Apollo 1 fire that killed the first three Apollo astronauts on a Cape Kennedy launching pad in January 1967. Management, hardware and safety procedures have been overhauled, and the program now pulses with a tremendous momentum as manned space flight is about the resume after nearly two years.

A towering, powerful Saturn 1B rocket stands on a launch pad here, awaiting an October signal to blast a three-man Apollo crew into earth orbit for the first flight test of the spaceship that one day may transport a team of astronauts on an historic voyage to the moon.

If the October mission and a series of subsequent manned flights are successful, American astronauts could plant the Stars and Stripes on the moon late next year, fulfilling President John F. Kennedy's dramatic 1961 pledge that U.S. spacemen would be on the lunar surface in this decade.

But enthusiasm for reaching this grand goal is dampened by an underlying concern that the first landing on the moon could be a dead end for the great capacity developed in the U.S. space program.

With the Vietnam war and domestic problems demanding more and more money, few new funds are available to establish another national space goal—or even to start significant new unmanned space projects.

Congress gradually has sliced the budget of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration—NASA—from a high of $5.9 billion in fiscal year 1966 to an anticipated level of below $4 billion for 1969. In the same period, the number of persons working on the program throughout the country has dropped rapidly from 420,000 to just over 200,000.

As more and more people are laid off in industry and in NASA, skilled engineers and technicians are seeking jobs in other industries before they, too, get the axe. The losses of key personnel are leaving big holes in the competence of the space flight team.

NASA Administrator James E. Webb, who has fought hard for space funds, said: "These are uncertain and unusual times, not only for the space program and for our work in aeronautics but also for almost every other mportant natonal activity. The war in Vietnam, the peace talks in Paris, the problems faced by our cities, the economic problems of inflation, of balance of payments, and the uncertainties of an election year—taken together and interacting—place us all in a prosition from which it is most difficult to chart a clear and certain course for the future."

Especially hurt by the budget cuts were NASA's plans to have a continuing series of manned flights to the moon and in earth orbiting space stations at the rate of several launchings a year well into the 1970s, with the possibility of an eventual astronaut landing on Mars.

Webb now foresees large gaps of several years between astronaut missions after the initial moon landing.

"Out of fiscal 1969 funds, we'll accomplish the lunar landing after a reasonable number of preliminary manned flights," the administrator said. "After that we'll consider the value of a second lunar landing and whether we'll have the money to do it. It cannot be attempted until at least late 1971."

Meanwhile, he said, NASA slowly and steadily will prepare for three flights involving a three-man space station called a workshop. The first launching, originally scheduled this year, has been delayed three years because of the money pinch.

"Presently," Webb said, "we have no money for additional workshop flights. So after the first three missions we'll sit back and consider the next step. We could go to an interim step like the Saturn 5 workshop or we could begin planning for a multiman space station, once again depending on money available."

A Saturn 5 workshop, also for three men, would be outfitted on the ground and would be launched by the larger rocket. Earliest possible launching date would be 1975, three years after the last Saturn 1B workshop mission. If a decision is made to proceed to the large station which would be assembled by astronauts in orbit, civilian man-in-space launchings could have a gap of perhaps five years, until 1977.

The Defense Department, meanwhile, will commence astronaut flights in 1971 or 1972, sending its two-man Manned Orbiting Laboratory—MOL—into orbit to determine if man can conduct useful military tasks in space. The pilots will evaluate their ability in such fields as reconnaissance, commnuinatcios, connaissance, communications, navigation and satellite inspection and interception.

The MOL program envisions between three and five flights before decisions can be made to move to an operational military man-in-space system. The program already is three years behind schedule and some officials are concerned it may be too little and too late to match a strong Soviet effort.

There are critics, many in Congress, who contend the workshop and MOL have duplicating features and that they should be combined. Some suggest that NASA should stick to unmanned exploration of space and let the Defense Department develop a military man-in-space force.

Nevertheless, Webb said he and Secretary of Defense Clark Clifford have met to discuss common interests in space. Emphasis has been on development of a new, relatively-inexpensive space rocket that could be used by both agencies.

Parties Differ On Petroleum Issues

By MAX B. SKELTON
AP Oil Writer

HOUSTON (AP)—The Republican and Democratic national platforms differ rather sharply on two major issues affecting the petroleum industry.

The Republicans once again have endorsed depletion tax allowances as a means to encourage the discovery and development of vital minerals and fuels.

The Democrats, as was the case in 1964, ignored depletion allowances except possibly by indirection when the platform called for a rigorous evaluation of all corporate and individual tax "preferences."

The Republicans said imports should not be permitted to capture excessive portions of the American market. The Democratic platform said there is a need "to lessen the hardships suffered by industries and workers as a result of trade liberalization." The Democrats said provisions of law to remedy unfair and destructive import competition should be reviewed and strengthened.

As in the past, neither platform makes use of the words "oil" or "petroleum."

Both national platform committees had been asked to spell out support for the petroleum industry's 27½ per cent depletion tax allowance and to call for stricter oil import controls.

The late President John F. Kennedy, then a senator, and Richard M. Nixon, then vice president, debated the depletion tax allowance controversy during their 1960 presidential campaign.

Kennedy, who had opposed oil's maximum 27½ per cent allowance as a senator, was campaigning on a Democratic platform that branded inequitable depletion allowances as among the more conspicuous loopholes under which 'certain privileged groups legally escape their fair share of taxation." Nixon backed the Republican platform's pledge of continued support of incentives to encourage "exploration for domestic sources of minerals and metals, with reasonable depletion allowances."

President Lyndon B. Johnson may be responsible for the failure of the 1964 and 1968 Democratic platforms to include direct attacks on depletion allowances. Johnson, as a senator, was a strong advocate of the maximum allowance.

Nixon has given no indication of having changed his position since 1960. The 1968 campaign once again finds him facing an opponent who has advocated that the allowance for oil and gas be reduced.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic nominee, voted consistently against depletion while in the Senate.

Humphrey and his vice presidential running mate, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, cast identical votes on at least four occasions in 1962 and 1964 when the Senate rejected proposals to reduce oil's percentage depletion.

There were roll call votes both years on two different reduction proposals.

Humphrey and Muskie were on the losing side when a plan to cut the 27½ per cent to 20 per cent over a three-year period was rejected by votes of 57-30 and 61-33. They also were on the losing side when a plan for a graduated reduction to 15 per cent was turned down by votes of 50-23 and 57-35.

The 1968 Democratic platform section on taxes says that all corporate and individual "preferences" that do not serve the national interest should be removed.

'Tax preferences, like expenditures, must be rigorously evaluated to assure that the benefit to the nation is worth the cost," the Democrats said.

The Republican platform says a national minerals and fuels policy is essential to maintain production needed for the nation's economy and security.

"Present economic incentives, including depletion allowances, to encourage the discovery and development of vital minerals and fuels must be continued," the Republicans said.

Bishop Stirs Controversy

LONDON (AP) — A Roman Catholic bishop's reported remarks that killing birds with a shotgun is his favorite sport threatens to set off a controversy among British animal lovers.

The Catholic Herald, a weekly newspaper, quoted the Rt. Rev. David Cashman, 55-year-old bishop of Arundel and Brighton, as saying, "I'm mad about" shooting birds and animals. "It's the nearest thing to heaven, in human terms, that I know."

Bishop Cashman, who lists shooting as his recreation in Who's Who, later told other newsmen that he regretted saying the words "but I am not going to deny them."

Ark, a Catholic animal welfare organization, was considering a protest over the remarks. A vice president said, "This amounts to a scandal."

Noble Auto Service Carries Quality Stabilizers, Brakes

Noble Auto Service, 809 Twenty-fifth Street, is headquarters for new magic power spring stabilizers that can add months to the life of your tires and your car.

'Many people don't realize it," said Johnny Noble, the owner, "but sagging springs can cause a lot of damage to many different parts on a car and reduce tire mileage by 75 per cent.

He pointed out that sagging springs sometimes occur on relatively new cars that have only about 10,000 miles on them.

When the springs sag, it causes wear on the shock absorbers, idler arms, ball joints and wheel bearings. Really it's dangerous to drive with sagging springs because the car isn't level and is more easily overturned especially after a sudden jolt on a bumpy road.

Noble Auto Service can solve your sagging spring problems with its new magic power spring stabilizers. They only cost $29.96, which also ncludes a front end elignment. Moreover, these new springs come with a 5-year or 50,000 mile guarantee. Noble's experienced mechanics will make a free inspection of the stabilizers every 5,000 miles and, if an alignment is needed, they will do that at no cost.

The 5,000 mile inspections include adjustments to the coil spring stabilizers and torsion bar for proper height and stabilization. In addition, the mechanics will check and set the camber, caster and toe-in, the steerng mechansm, and the wheel bearings.

As a courtesy service over and above the warranty agreement, the mechanics also will make a safety inspection, not forgetting to look at the tie rod ends, ball joints, idler arm, shock absorbers and wheel balance. They include a check of your tire valves and air pressure and clean the windshield.

The new spring stabilizers are a big improvement over the old wedge type stabilizers for they maintain the proper tension and distance between coils.

Noble's Auto Service has available the Super Sioux (14-guage, heavy duty) mufflers that are guaranteed in writing for as long as the individual owns the car. There are no costs for labor if the muffler should burn out, according to Johnny Noble, who said he has only had to replace a couple of them in the past five years. At $18.95, which includes installation, these durable mufflers are only about $2 higher than regular equipment mufflers prices for most American cars.

Noble also handles Star ventilated brakes, and they are guaranteed for as long as the individual owns his automobile. A special grooved surface with rivet holes in the lining itself carries heat off of the brake and prevents dirt from building up and acting like sandpaper on the drum. The only charge for replacements is the cost of the labor, and the brake lining is replaced at no extra charge.

A good supply of rebuilt and used batteries also are available at Nobles, and he is distributor for Gould national batteries. You can get a 12-volt battery for as loy as $8.95 and a 6-volt battery for only $6.95.

Noble's motto is "Always at your service — day or night." You can get complete auto air conditioning service, wheel balancng, complete tune-up service, major motor overhayls, complete transmission service, wheel straightening, etc. at Nobles. The company also is an official inspection station. You can beat the last minute rush by gettng your 1969 stcker now. J. R. Jones and Wendell Pinkerton, both qualified mechanics to serve your every need, will be glad to assist you.
