Mobilizing Industry For War Planned

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—The war department has summoned about 100 officers to a conference Thursday and Friday on its program for mobilizing industry in event of war, thus lending new emphasis today to the administration's accelerated defense program.

Other armament developments included:

1. Secretary Woodring's urgent recommendation that the Panama canal be made "impregnable" hinted at new reinforcements for that vital link.

To Encounter Opposition

2. Senator Clark (D-Mo) served notice that advocates of an expanded armaments program would encounter critical and determined opposition in the new congress.

War department officials said the conference on industrial mobilization was the first of its kind nationally and would be attended by procurement planning specialists of the army, navy and marine corps. They are the men responsible for detailed arrangements to obtain munitions and supplies.

"M-Day" Plans Made

Complete even to contract forms to avoid confusion and delay, the "M-Day" (mobilization day) procurement plans have been in preparation since the World war. They include the specific functions to be performed by about 10,000 plants.

Woodring's plea for strengthening the Panama canal fortifications went to President Roosevelt in the sec-

Result Of Vote By Conference Announced

Selection Is Fifth Time For Trojans; T.C.U., Duke Or Tennessee East Choice

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 28.—Southern California was officially named today to represent the Far West in the Rose bowl football game January 2.

Hugh C. Willett, president of the Pacific coast conference, formally announced the result of the vote of the ten members of the conference.

California Other Candidate

The University of California was the other candidate for the honor the Golden Bears having tied U. S. C. for the conference title, both having won six and lost one conference game. U. S. C. defeated California, 13 to 7.

It will be the fifth trip to the Rose Bowl for the Trojans. They have never been defeated in Pasadena's famed post-season game. S. C. defeated Pittsburgh twice. Penn State and Tulane in its four bowl appearances.

An early announcement was expected on the team—probably Texas Christian, Duke or Tennessee—which will be invited west for the battle.

Approval Expected On Street Project

Belief that a proposition outlined by the city commission at a special meeting last Friday will insure the widening and improving of Thirteenth street by next summer was expressed this morning by property owners on the thoroughfare.

Letters to the property owners advising them of the proposition will be mailed without delay, officials at the city hall said.

To Widen Without Cost

The city proposed to set curbs back and widen paving from its present 30 to 55 feet from Avenue L to Avenue Q without cost to property owners. Thus would be provided a 55-foot strip of asphalt from the central business district to Q.

To obtain this improvement, the property owners will be required to supply the city with clear title to a 75-foot right-of-way between property lines. That will involve the procurement of a 15-foot strip of privately owned property for a distance of approximately half a block on the west side of Avenue Q.

To Call Meeting

Representative property owners said that a meeting of those affected will be called within the next few days so that a report can be made to the city commission at its next meeting Dec. 8.

If the work is done, officials pointed out, it will mean the elimination of a jog in the street between Avenues P and Q and the solution of a serious traffic problem which now results when cars are parked on Thirteenth west of Avenue L.

Will Involve Much Work

The project, however, will involve much work. Present brick paving will be removed and the bricks thus salvaged will be used in the paving of downtown alleys. Curbs then must be set back. Numbers of trees and shrubs will have to be removed and one house must be set back. Adjustments of grade of several filling stations also will be necessary.

Tentative plans are, should the project be approved, to have the street in readiness to receive asphalt topping the latter part of next March.

County Leads Area Now In Total Bales

Nearly 80,000 bales of cotton were ginned between Nov. 1 and Nov. 14, in 19 counties on the South Plains, to make the total for the year 331,508 bales. Ginnings for the 1937 crop were 229,385 bales more than for this year, up to the mid-month date.

Lubbock led the area with 48,156 bales, with Lynn, previously the leader, with 43,308 bales, as second.

Crosby Moves Up

Other county rankings were, Crosby, third; Dawson, fourth; Hockley, fifth; Lamb, sixth; Scurry, seventh and Dickens, eighth.

A year ago rankings were, Lubbock, Lynn, Dawson, Crosby, Lamb, Scurry, Hockley.

Ginnings apparently are 80 per cent complete for the season. It is not expected the total will exceed the 400,000 bale mark by many bales.

County 9th In Texas

Lubbock county ranked 9th in Texas, Lynn, 13th; Crosby, 21st; Dawson, 26th.

Good News In Business Seen

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 — Business, striding toward what it expects to be a prosperous Christmas trade, paused long enough last week to eat turkey and reflect over good news.

A commerce department survey of retail and wholesale trade indicated an increased pace of merchandise distribution. This is important to maintenance of advances in factory activity because failure of consumption to keep up with production might mean a temporary industrial setback in the next half year.

The department said nearly all of the surveyed cities had larger sales this week than in the preceding week and some of them reported passing the relatively good sales level of a year ago.

Bi-Partisan Support Of Farm Products Protection Is Seen

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—Bi-partisan support appeared in senatorial circles today for enactment of protective tariffs on farm products.

Senator Burke (D-Neb), a critic of the administration's farm program, said he believed a protective tariff is "No. 1 on the list of the things the farmer will demand from the next congress."

Senator McNary, of Oregon, the Republican leader, characterized such a proposal as the keystone of a farm program the Republicans expect to offer if there is no material change in the administration's method of dealing with low farm prices.

Storm Strikes East Again

(By The Associated Press)

Clear weather but cold settled over the eastern half of the country today in the wake of a double-barreled, two-blizzard "sneak" preview of the 1938 edition of winter.

Sub-freezing temperatures were general as far south as Georgia and as far west as Kansas City.

New England Digs Out

On top of the hard crust of ice and snow from the Thanksgiving blizzard lay anywhere from one to five inches of fresh weekend snow. In Virginia, where the total snowfall last year was only 1.7 inches, 7 1-2 inches of snow was on the ground.

New England dug out from five inches that pelted down in the second storm. New York only got about two inches, but New York City reckoned its snow removal cost at a million dollars already.

Hunters Are Marooned

Relief parties drove and tramped through the woods of northern Maine to reach 100 marooned hunters. Several new weather casualties were reported—a fisherman apparently lost at sea off Nantucket Island, Mass.; a man frozen near Charleston, W. Va.; a victim of a heart attack due to snow shovelling at Buffalo, N. Y.

In general, there were few auto accidents as motorists kept off ice-crusted highways.

Railroad and airplane schedules were not seriously disrupted.

Pope Takes Part In Prayers At Vatican

VATICAN CITY, Nov. 28 (AP) — The ailing Pope Pius took part in special prayers in the chapel of his official apartment this morning, opening a week of spiritual devotions at the Vatican.

He prayed with cardinals and other prelates for a half hour, when the service was suspended for 30 minutes to resume at 11:30.

The pope got out of bed after his physician, Dr. Aminta Milani, paid a morning visit and found his condition satisfactory.

The pope's physicians indicated that the injections which were administered after Friday's attack had been suspended, although Dr. Milani continues to visit his patient several times a day.

The pontiff still is on a liquid diet and drinks small amounts of coffee.

AUSTIN, Nov. 28 (AP) — Continuation of the Texas Planning board which expires by statute on March 16 will be discussed at a special meeting of the group in the near future.

Early Action To Decrease Idle Funds To Be Held Up By Fears

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—Federal Reserve board experts predicted today that fear of upsetting business improvement would prevent any early action to decrease the unprecedented volume of idle funds in the nation's banks.

Last week the banks' excess reserves—cash available for lending and investment because it exceeds the portion of deposits which by law must be set aside to protect depositors—reached the record high total of $3,350,000,000, enough to finance $25,000,000,000 worth of credit.

Danger Of Floods Heightened In California After Forest Fires

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 28 (AP) — Southern California's calamitous series of brush and forest fires, conquered after a loss of $5,000,000 in property and denuded watersheds, sharply heightened today the danger of floods this winter.

Approximately 37,000 acres were burned over in five counties since last Wednesday, the chief damage being in the Santa Monica and San Bernardino ranges.

Mythical Thrones Of Wheat And Oat 'King' Go To Canadian Brothers; Interest Now Centers On Selection Of Champ Steer

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 28 — The mythical thrones of wheat and oat "king" already occupied, judges of the international livestock exposition today dusted off another royal seat —for the corn "king".

While judges inspected thousands of ears, growers and spectators packed the long halls of grain exhibits anxiously awaiting their decision.

WINS THIRD TIME

CHICAGO, Nov. 28 (AP)—William H. Curry of Tipton, Ind., was named 1938 "corn king" at the International Grain and Hay show today. It was Curry's third successive title. He showed a sample of 10 ears of Reid's Yellow Dent.

Interest in the livestock judging also was heightened as open class competition started and a battery of experts cast appraising eyes in search of the eight finalists who will tramp the ring, probably Tuesday, when the beef baron, finest steer in the nation, will be selected.

Last year's grand champion was a Shorthorn steer owned by the Oklahoma A. and M. college which also won the 1936 championship with an Angus steer.

Brothers Win Award

Although all livestock judging was suspended yesterday, the grain judges worked throughout the day and announced the "kings" of wheat and oats.

The brothers Rigby, young Canadian farmers of Wembley, in the Peace River valley of Alberta, carried off the coveted premier grain awards.

F. Lloyd Rigby, 23, ascended the throne as "wheat king" and his younger brother, W. Justin Rigby,

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 28—President Roosevelt held his ambassadors to Germany and Italy here today for further discussions of the problems of oppressed racial and religious minorities abroad.

After a four-hour dinner conference at his isolated Pine Mountain cottage last night, he sent them to bed with instructions to come back to luncheon today to resume the interchange of views.

To Develop Policy

The conferences are expected to crystalize the developing American policy which thus far has embraced condemnation of persecutions of Jews, Catholics and Protestants in Europe, efforts to protect American citizens and property, and cooperation with other democracies to find foreign refuges for the mistreated.

The German ambassador, Hugh R. Wilson, who was summoned home from Berlin at the height of anti-Jewish violence following the murder of a German diplomat in Paris, and the envoy to Rome, William Phillips, who is home on leave, said they had a most enjoyable meeting with the president last night.

Beyond that they refused to talk for publication as they left the

Wm. Ferguson Apparent Heart Attack Victim

Autopsy Reveals Organs In Normal Condition; Found Early Sunday Morning

William F. Ferguson, 21-year-old Texas Technological college student from Iowa Park, was found lying dead on the bathroom floor of the garage apartment at which he lived at 2221 Fifteenth street about 5:30 o'clock Sunday morning.

Another occupant of the apartment had become alarmed when he found the bathroom door closed and when Ferguson failed to respond when his name was called.

Autopsy Is Requested

A partial autopsy was performed Sunday afternoon at the request of parents of Ferguson.

Dr. U. S. Marshall who performed the autopsy, said he found the stomach, liver, and intestines in normal condition. Death apparently was from a heart attack.

No Necessity For Inquest

S. E. McMillan, justice of peace, said he considered there was no necessity for an inquest after he was informed by Dr. J. P. Lattimore Sunday morning that death apparently was from natural causes. Stores At Olton Are Burglarized Again

OLTON, Nov. 28, (Special)—Early morning reports that an Olton store had been burglarized Sunday night of possibly $3,000 in merchandise apparently was not being borne out at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Robert L. Straw, proprietor of Western Drug store, told Bill Mabray, police identifications officer of the Lubbock department, checks had not revealed a loss of more than $600 or $700.

Checking of merchandise continued, however, and it was considered possible the loss might run much higher.

Entry to the building was made through a ventillator over a front door, said Mabray, who came here with Sgt. C. E. Tabor of the state police to investigate.

The fact money was not taken from cash registers or a safe, but was found in a hiding place supposedly known to few, made for one slant officials considered in their investigation.

None had been arrested early this afternoon, Mabray and Mrs. F. A. Loyd, Lamb county sheriff, said.

Property taken included watches and rings, they said.

The burglary was the fifth here in two weeks, four places earlier having been broken and entered.

War Minister Urges Arms Expansion

Armament Makers Of Japan Are Asked To Prepare For 'Inevitable Conflict'

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Nov. 28. — Declaring that United States does not recognize "the changed situation in the Far East" and that a "Soviet-Japanese conflict apparently is inevitable," Lt. Gen. Eiji Tojo, vice minister of war, urged upon munitions workers today a rapid expansion of arms industries.

General Tojo and Lt. Gen. Seishior Itacaki, war minister, addressed leading armaments makers summoned to Tokyo to hear government explanation of the necessity for expansion and for invocation of the national mobilization law—which has been invoked partially and which gives sweeping authority to the government in emergency.

War On Two Fronts

"Japan must have sufficient armaments to fight a vast war on two fronts," General Tojo said. "There is every possibility Russia and China may band together as soon as the Soviet completes preparations.

"There is no doubt that the Soviet is hastily replenishing heavy industries and bolstering armament in preparation for a Soviet-Japanese conflict that apparently is inevitable."

Charges Great Britain

He charged Great Britain with concealing enmity toward Japan and said "occasional gestures of friendship should be interpreted merely as protecting British rights and interests. They mean nothing."

While the United States attitude was neutral, he continued, "I must call attention to the fact that the United States government is standing to old treaties and is unwilling to recognize the changed situation in the Far East.

Good Ranking Made By Tech

Ninth place was won by the junior livestock judging team that represented Texas Technological college Saturday in the international livestock judging contest in Chicago and seventh place was won by the grain judging team representing the college Friday in an international contest in Chicago.

He made public a letter asking Secretary of State Hull to request justice department prosecution of the Communist party, the German-American bund and other groups for alleged violation of the law requiring agents of foreign principals to register here.

Dies asserted that testimony before his committee clearly shows the Communist party in this country to be an agent of the Communist Third International and indicated that the League for Peace and Democracy, the International Labor Defense, the Civil Liberties union and other groups had similar ties with Moscow.

License Tags For Bicycles Studied

City officials began to wonder this morning what kind of license plates to order for bicycles in the city.

Plates are available at approximately the same cost in several sizes, shapes and color combinations. They may be square, rectangular, round or oval in shapes.

Officials also wondered how many should be ordered, but the answer to that question will be supplied by a survey soon to be made.

Probabilities are that the plates will be about the same shape, although of course much smaller, as automobile license plates. They likely will bear the word, "Lubbock," the designation that they are for the year 1939, and the license number itself, starting with No. 1. The colors, whatever they may be, will be contrasting so that letters and figures will be conspicuous.

Provision for the ordering of plates was contained in an ordinance adopted by the city commission last week. The ordinance was published the first time Sunday, and will be published again next Sunday. Ten days later it will go into effect.

Although details are yet to be arranged, the owners of bicycles will be required to register them probably between Jan. 1 and Feb. 1. Cost will be 35 cents to the owners. Permanent record then will be kept of names of owners and manufacturers' numbers on various parts of the bicycle. When a bicycle is sold, a transfer must be obtained. Business concerns which buy second hand wheels will be required to make a detailed report of the transaction.

Law Infractions Are Varied Here During Week-End Period

Bond of $750 each was set this morning in drunk driving charges naming Omer W. Risenhoover, 21, of Shallowater and William Mowery.

S. E. McMillan, justice of peace in whose court the complaints were filed, said state police charged Risenhoover with operation of his car when intoxicated on highway 84 and that J. B. Matthews, constable of Stonewall county, of Aspermont, signed the complaint against Mowery.

A variety of law infractions was reported over the week-end.

A 31-year-old Roundup, Texas, man was held by police for investigation into informal charges of bootlegging "corn likker" in a small hotel here. He was reported to have been carrying a pistol, said police.

Whether he was wanted in Alabama on another charge was "open to conjecture," police said they had been informed.

An 18-year-old Lubbock youth was facing a possible charge of reckless driving.

A 17-year-old youth paid a fine for speeding.

Connie Wright, 48, of Lubbock pleaded guilty of shoplifting and was fined $15.

Twenty persons were arrested by police, most of them for drunkenness.

Two cases of canned oil, each containing 24 quarts, were stolen from the truck of Herman Jones of 2017 Fourteenth street.

Mrs. V. A. Fann of 1520 Seventeenth street reported 100 feet of garden hose had been stolen from her premises.

James H. Alley of 704 Main street said his bicycle had been stolen.

retary's annual report. Defense of the canal, the means by which the navy undertakes to protect both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts with a single fleet, long has been a matter of personal concern to Mr. Roosevelt.

Within the last year, informed persons said, the chief executive directed that new protective measures be taken. In August, he made a detailed inspection of the canal fortifications en route home from a Pacific fishing trip

Military authorities said that during 1938 the army and navy have dispatched men, guns, planes and warships to make the 50-mile channel between the Atlantic and Pacific stronger than ever.

Woodring told the president it must be made even safer.

"Sudden war would find the troops in the Panama canal department in an especially precarious position," he reported.

Woodring also recommended augmented war stores and full equipment for the army and national guard, which together form the "initial protective force" of 400,000 men in the war department's defense scheme.

Anticipating a White House recommendation to congress that the army air corps be enlarged quickly, the secretary advised that extension of the existing mobile general headquarters air force "now appears essential."

Senator Clark expressed in an interview his personal opposition to a large part of "this talk about the need for more national defense." He charged that militarists and "supernavy" groups were using "war hysteria as a cover for another pump priming program designed to aid heavy industry."

The Missouri senator is a leader in a non-partisan senate bloc that has sponsored neutrality legislation and similar measures.

Tickets Still Available For New York Play

Twelve reservations were available at noon today for a proposed chartered bus trip to Amarillo for the play, "You Can't Take It With You," to be presented Tuesday night by the original New York cast. Charge of $3.15 includes transportation and ticket to the play. Reservations may be made by calling Miss Ruth Pirtle, head professor of speech at Texas Technological college.

More Space Is Given To CCC

Use of 25,000 additional square feet of ground was made available for the Civilian Conservation corps camp at the Panhandle-South Plains Fairgrounds by members of the fair association board of directors at a special meeting at the chamber of commerce this morning.

The additional ground adjoins the present CCC tract on the west. The camp now occupies a tract of land measuring 400 by 400 feet.

The additional ground is needed, directors were informed, for buildings contemplated for erection to house trucks and other equipment in use in Lubbock sub-district of the CCC.

Detailed report of just what is contemplated in the way of improvements at the camp was not immediately available. Capt. E. L. Modlin, sub-district commander, was in Hereford supervising the start of the dismantling of barracks and other buildings which were used for a camp there until it was discontinued more than a year ago.

Unofficial information to fair association directors was, however, that the materials salvaged from the Hereford camp probably will be used for the erection of additional buildings here.

The land, directors said, has not been needed for fair purposes and probably will not be needed for several years to come.

Warning To Contractors On High Prices Issued By Bull

FORT WORTH, Nov. 28. (AP)—George M. Bull, Public Works administration director in this region, has issued a warning to contractors and building supply houses that abnormally high prices would endanger the new PWA program.

Bull said that on an increasing number of projects bids are being filed above the amount available. Since all projects must be under construction by January 1, it may be impossible to readvertise for bids or to change specifications so that the work can be done for the money available, he commented.

Training Of Civilian Pilots And Mechanics Planned

Reserves Will Be Built Up

BY DEVON FRANCES
Associated Press Aviation Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 — A plan for training 100,000 civilian pilots and 125,000 mechanics at government expense during the next five years to buttress the national air defense has been agreed upon by the army air corps and the civil aeronautics authority.

It must hurdle the scrutiny of President Roosevelt, to whom the scheme is scheduled to be presented late this week, and obtain the approval of the new congress meeting in January before it could become effective.

Would Provide Reserves

Intended as part of the air rearmament program under contemplation by the administration, it would give the United States an air force reserve numerically approximating that which Germany is reliably reported to have at the present time.

Louis Johnson, assistant secretary of war, already has mentioned the figure of 12,000 airplanes as a likely goal toward which the army will build in the equipment aspect of the air rearmament program. A force of 3,000 planes for the navy was authorized by the last congress.

At Rate Of 45,000 Yearly

As worked out by the army and the CAA, the civilian training program would be carried out at the rate of 20,000 pilots and 25,000 mechanics a year at approved commercial schools, with the government footing the entire bill.

The more promising graduates would be offered the opportunity of continuing their training — learning to pilot faster and larger air corps planes, instrument flying and the finer points of engine and airplane upkeep — as a special class of reservists on active duty.

Some 35,000 persons hold "student" flying licenses now. About 5,000 mechanics are enrolled in commercial schools. The two groups would be culled over to obtain a nucleus for the proposed civilian air corps.

Two Convicts Are Wounded After Break In Arizona

FLORENCE, Ariz., Nov. 28 (AP) — Two convicts were in the Arizona state prison hospital suffering from gunshot wounds, another was in solitary confinement and a fourth was being sought today following a fantastic escape by means of a ladder mounted on a crude wagon.

G. W. Stewart, felled by a bullet in the prison yard as he and the three other convicts moved their mobile ladder toward the wall, and Alex Geneck, who fled over the wall after being shot but surrendered to an armed guard six hours later, were in the hospital. Warden John G. Eager described their condition as "not real bad."

Guard Stan Moore captured Geneck and Earl Nelson at gun-point in the Gila river bottoms about eight miles from here.

Still at large was Dewey Thurlo.

Thirteenth Step Brings Ill Luck For Man With Sack Of Coal

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 28 (AP) — The 13th step brought ill luck to Disney Morrissey.

Tyler-Lufkin Game Given Top Booking In Bi-District Contests

Two Unbeaten Teams Meet In Headliner

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Staff Writer

Tyler's battle with Lufkin gets the top spot in Interscholastic league football this week as the field of contenders for the state championship dwindles to eight teams.

It is the only game matching undefeated, untied clubs and many critics predict a finalist will eventually result from this engagement. Both have won ten games and both have impressive records.

Are Evenly-Matched

Ranking second in importance appears to be the Gainesville-Highland Park (Dallas) clash. Gainesville is undefeated and untied and Highland Park has lost only one game. Comparative records show the two clubs evenly-matched.

Lubbock's Westerners, who finally unseated Amarillo in the Panhandle, face a tough customer in Vernon but have the advantage of already holding a nonconference victory over the Lions, although by only one touchdown.

Masonic Home's iron men face the unbeaten Sunset Bisons in another feature game. The Masons, who have about 15 men on the squad, were beaten by Sherman in an upset nonconference struggle but otherwise have a fine record, including a 7-7 tie with the 1937 state runner-up Wichita Falls team that was pushed out of the race by Vernon.

Temple Is Favored

Temple's Wildcats, surprise conquerors of Waco's potent Tigers, apparently carry a slight edge over the Kerrville Antlers.

Corpus Christi, another unbeaten team, will be a heavy favorite to take out Pharr-San Juan-Alamo, which has lost two games and tied two.

Two district championships will be decided today. District committees have been called upon to select titlists where ties have resulted. Bowie (El Paso) and Odessa are deadlocked in district 4 and Conroe and John Reagan (Houston) are tied for the district 13 championship. Breckenridge meets the district 4 champion and Port Arthur engages the district 13 representative in bi-district play this week.

Dates and sites for six bi-district games have been arranged. The other two await selection of champions in districts 4 and 13.

The schedule:

Friday afternoon — Lubbock at Vernon, Gainesville at Highland Park, Lufkin at Tyler; Friday night —Pharr-San Juan-Alamo at Corpus Christi.

Saturday afternoon — Masonic Home vs. Sunset at Dallas, Temple vs. Kerrville at Austin.

TICKETS TO GO ON SALE

Tickets for Friday afternoon's bi-district football game at Vernon between Lubbock's Westerners and the Vernon Lions will go on sale Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock.

"Lubbock has been limited to 1,500 reserve tickets in addition to the student section," said R. W. Matthews, Senior high school principal. They will be sold at the usual places, at Hub Clothiers, Mark Halsey drug No. 2 and at Hotel drug.

The school this morning voted on whether specials would be run to Vernon, whether buses or train, but a report of findings will not be announced until Tuesday morning. "because we want students to discuss finances and other problems with their parents first," said Matthews.

The game will begin at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Hull-Daisetta Has Unique Record in Class B Play

(By The Associated Press)

When they start checking up on football records, Hull-Daisetta, a Texas class B team, can compare with any of them.

Over a period of three years Hull-Daisetta has won 33 games and there is not a tie or a loss on the Bobcats" record. In the last 50 games, Hull-Daisetta has won 44, lost five and tied one, scoring 1,209 points to 143 for the opposition.

The Bobcats will put that record on the block Saturday when they square off against Port Neches in a bi-district game in the Texas Interscholastic league class B campaign.

Start Regional Playoff

All 48 district representatives in the class B division have been named and this week marks the start of the play-off for reginal championships. Twelve such titles will be decided. Regional titles end play in this division of scholastic football.

The pairings by regions (districts in parentheses):

Region 1—(1) Tulia vs. (2) Panhandle, (3) Wellington vs. (4) Lockney.

Region 2—(5) Brownfield vs. (6) Rotan, (7) Wink vs. (8) McCamey.

TCU's Horned Frogs Staying Close To Telephone Today

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

FORT WORTH, Nov. 28—Undefeated Texas Christian's footballers, a massive bunch led by a wild Irish lad of 150 pounds, nursed a case of nerves today and wished the telephone would ring.

Their preference in the way of telephone calls was a long distance one from out Pasadena, Calif., way —and from their attitude, they would almost "chip in" and pay the tolls if it were a Rose Bowl invitation.

Waste No Words

Champions of the Southwest conference for the first time since 1932 after winding up second best the past three seasons, the Horned Frog band that finished its string of ten straight, run-away victories with a 20-7 rout of Southern Methodist Saturday, wasted no words about their hopes.

"Boy, we'd go out to that Rose bowl right now if they would have us," grinned Robert David O'Brien, the midget star of the team that gained 3,360 yards with its masterful aerial and ground attacks.

No Pro For Him

O'Brien, the durable boy who threw 19 touchdown passes and led backfield mates Connie Sparks, Earl Clark and Johnny Hall on running sprees that netted 1,933 yards, wants to play just one more game. After that, he'll be a spectator and a geologist, he hopes. No professional football for him, despite the fact his brilliant passing record this season surpassed that of Slingin' Sam Baugh, his predecessor, in his best collegiate season.

For that matter, only one of the burly band of Christians seemed interested in pro football. He was Ki Aldrich, the 198-pound center who rates as the finest pivot man in Southwest conference history.

Cotton Bowl Bid Extended

One invitation to a post-season classic already had been formally presented to the Christians—from the Cotton bowl in Dallas. But officials said it would lay unanswered until action by the Rose Bowl.

Coach Leo (Dutch) Meyer, who took his first head coaching job at Texas Christian in 1934 after 11 years as freshman coach at the same school and a brilliant athletic career of his own even before that, joined his boys in hoping for a Rose Bowl game—for the boys' sakes.

No definite action will be taken on any bowl game for another 24 hours, it was indicated. Reports were current that the New Orleans' attraction, the Sugar Bowl game sponsored by the Mid-Winter Athletic association, also had eyes on the Horned Frogs.

Eastern Team Lined Up

If it is not invited to the Rose Bowl game, Texas Christian, good unofficial sources said, would consider the bowl offering the stoutest opposing team. That is, if invitations are extended. It was reported from reliable quarters that the Sugar bowl had lined up one team—an Eastern eleven with a great record.

Only one more game remains in the Southwest conference—Southern Methodist's invasion of the Rice Owl camp at Houston next Saturday. The Methodists, despite their defeat by TCU, still have second place cinched. The Owls were whipped, 21-6, by Baylor Saturday.

Texas waited until its last game to score a victory, but it was a sweet one 7-6, over Texas A. and M. in their annual traditional game. Arkansas completed its schedule with a 6-6 tie at Tulsa.

TCU Grid Hero Taken On 'Ride'

Conflicting Reports Fill Air As Pacific Coast Prepares To Name Its Selection Today

BY ROBERT MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 28—Conflicting reports filled the air today that Texas Christian, Duke or Tennessee would get the coveted bid to the Rose bowl as the Pacific coast conference prepared to name its own entry in Pasadena's annual post-season gridiron battle.

Announcement was expected to be made around noon (2 p. m., c. s. t.) as to whether Southern California or the University of California would carry the somewhat tattered banners of the Far West into the big bowl next January 2.

Schools Are Tied

Southern California's Trojans, unbeaten in three appearances in the Rose Bowl, and California, victorious over Alabama at Pasadena last New Year's day, are tied for the conference championship, each having won six games and lost one—U. S. C. to Washington, California to U. S. C.

The ten members of the league—U. C. L. A., Washington, Washington State, Oregon, Oregon State, Idaho, Montana, Stanford, California and U. S. C.—voted on the Rose bowl selection.

Texans Make Promise

U. S. C. officials this morning met with stony silence reports that any team had been invited West. For weeks most of the Rose bowl talk has centered on Texas Christian, and today leaders of the Texas State society here promised that "10,000 Texans" would be on hand if the Horned Toads from Fort Worth were invited.

Duke's chances soared when the Blue Devils from Durham, N. C., edged out Pitt, 7-0, and kept intact their season's record of never having been scored upon. Tennessee, the last of the untied, undefeated trio most discussed, likewise kept in the running with a thumping 46-0 victory over Kentucky last week.

Bird Dog Has Great Time Now Retrieving Game With His Brand New Gold Molar

ARGOS, Ind., Nov. 28 (AP) — King, a bird dog owned by Dale Voreis, is having a great time retrieving game again now that he is sporting a gold tooth.

A nerve became exposed in one of King's teeth and his life was one of misery. A dentist soon fixed him up, however, with a gold crown.

Univ. Of New Mexico To Receive Bid To Sun Bowl Game Today

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 28. (AP)—An invitation to the University of New Mexico Lobos to represent the Border conference in the January 2 Sun Bowl football game at El Paso, Tex., was scheduled for action by the school's athletic council today.

Before the council met, informal comment among several of its members indicated the bid would be accepted and Dean S. P. Nanninga, council chairman, said acceptance was probable.

An opponent for the host team is yet to be selected. Most prominently discussed have been Western Reserve, Georgetown and Boston college.

CADETS SWEEP SERIES

ROSWELL, N. M., Nov. 28. (AP)—The New Mexico Military Institute cadets swept a two-game polo series with University of Oklahoma by an overtime 7-6 victory here Saturday.

Evans, Cadet star, banged in the winning goal in the seventh chukker after the regular play had ended 6-all. The Cadets won the first game Thursday, 7 to 2.

TRAINER OVER DRESSED

CHICAGO, Nov. 28 (AP) — Samuel Rinaldi, an over dressed horse trainer, fell asleep and when his automobile went over an embankment into two trees the car was demolished — but not Rinaldi.

Beneath his four sweaters, a leather coat, trousers, two suits of underwear and three shirts he had only slight bruises.

Monday Quarterbacks To Meet In Regular Session Tonight

Regular Monday night session of the Touchdown Club, local and sectional association of "downtown coaches" and other rabid football rooters (men only) will be held tonight at 8 o'clock, Hotel Lubbock ballroom.

Coaches Pete Cawthon and Dutchy Smith of Texas Tech will give a resume of highlights in the recent Tech-Marquette game, and will discuss plans and hopes for next Saturday's clash with the Centenary Gentlemen.

E. J. (Pinkey) Lowrey, business manager of athletics at Lubbock High school, and possibly Coach Weldon Chapman are expected to appear on the program and discuss plans for the Lubbock-Vernon interscholastic bi-district game to be played at Vernon next Friday afternoon.

Lowrey, a former T. C. U. gridder, also will discuss highlights of the Horned Frog-S. M. U. Mustang game played in Dallas last Saturday. Lowrey and the Lubbock High coaches attended the game, which saw T. C. U. win the Southwest conference championship.

Holders Of Season Tickets Get Option On Their Seats

Holders of season tickets during the regular football season of Texas Technological college have options on their seats for Saturday's game with Centenary college of Shreveport, La., Athletic Manager Hugh Williams announced today. Holders of these tickets have until Wednesday to redeem the seats.

Price of tickets for the game are: $2.20 for reserved and $1.65 for end zone seats.

Old Man Pigskin Takes First Curtain Calls This Week-End; Tech One Of Stellar Players

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 — Old Man Pigskin, co-starred with Miss Upset in the 1938 football drama, takes a couple of curtain calls this week although the play itself ended with last Saturday's climactic scene.

The curtain dropped on a cast that had only eight important members whose performances throughout the two-months' show was perfect. Duke and Tennessee of the South, Georgetown of the East, Notre Dame and Oklahoma of the Mid West and Texas Christian of the Southwest were the principal actors who suffered neither a defeat nor a tie. In the main supporting roles were Western Reserve and Texas Tech, both with perfect records. Villanova was tied once but unbeaten.

Ten Others Unbeaten

Ten other teams had unbeaten, untied seasons, but theirs were only walk-on roles.

The main roles in this week's curtain piece will be played by Notre Dame, Tennessee, Oklahoma and Texas Tech.

The Fighting Irish, after a week off, go West to meet Southern California, co-champion of the Pacific coast conference and likely choice as western team to play in the Rose Bowl, Jan. 2. Oklahoma, winner of the Big Six title, meets an often-beaten Washington State team at Norman, Okla. Tennessee defends its Southeastern conference crown against Mississippi. The Vols can't be beaten methematically, but since the title is unofficial Coach Bob Neyland says he won't claim it unless the Vols beat Ole Miss. Texas Tech, 21-2 winner over Marquette, takes on Centenary.

Other Contests This Week

Other outstanding contests listed this week are today's South Carolina-Catholic university game at Washington, postponed Saturday because of snow; Miami-Georgia Friday and on Saturday Florida-Temple, Rice-Southern Methodist to wind up the Southwest conference season, and North Carolina State-Citadel in the Southern conference finale.

The next task is the selection of performers for Rose, Cotton, Sugar and other year-end "bowl" games. The Pacific coast conference will name its Rose Bowl representative today. That team then must choose its eastern rival.

For that choice it appears difficult now to overlook either Duke or Texas Christian, which completed remarkable seasons last Saturday.

Sports Roundup

BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—If all the red faces and crippled bank rolls were laid end to end, they'd stretch from Durham, N. C., to Rose Bowl, Calif., today . . . Yes sir, Mr. Wallace Wade's Dukes really have it, in case you haven't heard . . . Undefeated, untied, unscored upon and unrecognized 'till they put Pitt in mothballs . . . So let's have those "we told you so's," you boys down there . . . Also s'pose you noticed Oklahoma didn't mess with the Aggies when their running attack stymied . . . They just showed they could sail through the air with the greatest of ease, too . . . This corner could go for a "bowl" lineup like this: Notre Dame vs. Texas Christian, Duke vs. Oklahoma, Tennessee vs. Villanova, Texas Tech vs. Georgetown, and a Carnegie-Holy Cross rematch . . . Have you any others up your sleeve? . . . Speaking of bowls, Fordham has a good chance for the Sugar tilt after that shellacking of almy mammy N. Y. U. (Ouch!!) . . .

Dunno if you've heard, but Ceferino Garcia had to take 2 1-4 pounds off in three hours before the weigh-in for the Armstrong fight Friday . . . scaled 149 1-4 at 9 a. m. and had a raw-ther warm session in the Turkish baths . . . The grapevine still reports Terry will send Hank Leiber to Brooklyn for Buddy Hassett to cure the Giants' first base blues.

Oklahoma folks are peeved puhlenty because Sleepy Jim Crowley left the Sooners off his radio list of major unbeaten teams . . . Say Jim should be advised Oklahoma only has a 7,000 enrollment, compared to 3,000 for Notre Dame, where James was a four-horseman . . . Moon Mullins, Loyola of New Orleans coach, goes Bo McMillan one better in that suggestion to have coaches call plays on the field . . . Why not have the alumni do it, says Moon—then the wolves couldn't howl so much . . .

Add Kingsport, Tenn., (with Bobby Cifers); Little Rock, Ark.; Waco, Tex., and Gloucester, Mass., to the list of possibilities for the Baton Rouge New Year's eve high school game . . . And scouts are already making reservations.

Names Of Ticket Scalpers Are Taken By Federal Revenue Men

DALLAS, Nov. 28. (AP) — Federal agents from the office of Revenue Collector W. A. Thomas today took the names of at least 25 football ticket speculators who will be required to pay 10 per cent tax on their transactions.

Some of the "scalpers" at the Southern Methodist university-Texas Christian university game appeared voluntarily and paid taxes on their holdings.

"The government's share of the profits will be nominal," Thomas said. "However, it's a law, and we enjoy enforcing it because it helps the city and the university authorities who are trying to stage the right kind of game on the fair basis of everybody having a chance at the tickets at the regular price.."

Holy Cross Officia's Express Surprise At Anderson Action

WORCESTER, Mass., Nov. 28. (AP) —Holy Cross athletic officials, awaiting a bid to one of the post-season "bowl" games, today expressed surprise over Dr. Eddie Anderson's resignation, presumably in favor of a $12,500 football coaching contract at the University of Iowa.

"Dr. Anderson notified me last night by telephone that he wished to resign," Athletic Director Thomas J. McCabe said. "He gave no reason for the move, which comes as a distinct shock to me. Of course I had read accounts in the newspapers during the past week about Anderson's rumored resignation but felt he would consult me before accepting such propositions as have been carried in the press."

Stratton May Lose Leg In Amputation

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Nov. 28.—Four years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Largent, the couple who scout for the Chicago White Sox, got wind of a promising player buried in the mediocrity of the Red River Valley league down here in Texas.

Post-haste they went to Van Alstyne, host city that day for one of the league games.

The first peek at the player proved the tip was a bum steer. They were about to leave the park when Largent nudged his wife.

"Look," he whispered.

Saw Stringbean Pitcher

A stringbean pitcher was warming up for Van Alstyne. Two hundred pounds of flesh clung tightly to his bony frame which rose six feet, five inches in the air.

Something about his delivery struck the Largents. It was smooth, distinctive. It wasn't the delivery of a hick pitcher in a once-a-week semi-pro league.

The Van Alstyne manager didn't think much of the 21-year-oldster, for he was doing relief duty. The Largents didn't even see him pitch, but they signed him up anyway.

Facing Leg Amputation

On the contract he scribbled "Monty Stratton."

Last night Largent waited outside a hospital door. Monty Stratton, who in the four short years since the Largents found him had risen to the number one place on the White Sox pitching staff, was behind the door, facing a possible amputation of his right leg because of a hunting accident.

That, of course, meant his baseball career was over. Four short years of minor and major league baseball. Only 25 years old, he had been the ace pitcher of the Sox for two years. Last year he won 15 games in spite of being out a month with an arm injury.

Pistol Discharged

Stratton was returning alone from a rabbit hunt on his mother's farm near Greenville, about 60 miles from Dallas, yesterday, when a pistol in the scabbard at his side discharged. The bullet cut into his leg, severing the large vessel behind the knee.

He crawled almost to the house before one of his brothers saw him. When an emergency operation at a Greenville hospital failed to locate the bullet, he was rushed to Dallas.

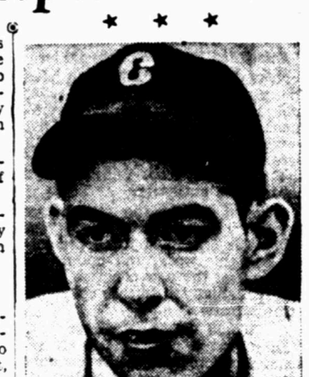

Dr. A. R. Thomasson, chief surgeon on the case, said it was "pretty certain" that Stratton would lose his leg.

Given Blood Transfusion

Last night the young hurler was given a blood transfusion, and Dr. Thomasson said the operation, if performed, would be made within 48 hours.

The accident was a shock to White Sox officials, who had counted on Stratton for a good year next season, Harry Grabiner, secretary, said in Chicago:

"It was most unfortunate, for Monty was one of the best pitchers in the American league. But baseball is secondary now. Our concern is about his health. We are all hoping nothing more serious develops."

Growth Of Lubbock Postoffice Is Reflected In Employe Increases

Volume Of Mail Gain Is Marked

Substantial growth of the Lubbock postoffice during the past eight years, is evidenced by the increase in number of employes needed to handle the constantly growing volume of mail.

A 60 per cent increase in the number of employes is shown for the 8 years, and in some departments the number of new workers is double that of a decade ago.

Fifteen carriers now comprise the delivery staff, while in 1930 there were but eight, Postmaster Amos Howard said.

The night crew dispatching mail is composed of five men; in 1925 there were but two night workers. Besides the five men working in the office, a laborer is used to handle sacks and one man picks up mail from boxes over the business district.

Heaviest Mail At Night

"Our heaviest mail is handled between 5 and 9 o'clock," said the postmaster. "We have a mail that is dispatched north early in the night and it must be locked out at 8 o'clock. Then we lock out the night train mail at 9 o'clock. It takes all five of the employes to dispatch mail during those early hours.

"Just to show our steady increase in carriers, we have added one man a year for the past seven years."

Extra Service Established

Recently an extra parcel post job was opened, making a second man for that work. A third truck was secured for pick-up and parcel post work, giving one man time to relay mail to carriers on outlying routes, and to collect mail from boxes. The extra parcel post place is a 6-hour a day job at present.

During the fall additional employes are used in the general delivery department, to handle transients who call for their mail. More transients this fall than before, have called at the windows for mail, taking into consideration the large number of pickers here last fall.

Money orders issued this fall, especially to Mexicans, were in excess of those last year, on several succeeding Saturdays. There were more regular Mexican patrons of the office this year than last.

City Patrons Increased

During the past few years the number of patrons of the postoffice, on city carrier routes, has been increased several times, as additional free delivery areas were added. A year ago more than 400 families were included in new territory.

At the same time, increased home building in the residential sections has added to mail handled by carriers. The more than 700 homes built during the past year, has increased the number of patrons on all routes.

Can Work Faster

With heavier mail packs, it is necessary to have relay service, that is mail that a carrier is to deliver on the last half of his route, is placed in boxes at strategic points. This enables him to avoid carrying his entire mail over the first part of the route. He can thus work faster, with a lighter load, then carry the second part of his mail load with less effort.

Volume of outgoing mail is larger, as well as incoming mail. Stamp sales are heavier, three branches are now being maintained, as well as one at Texas Technological college, where stamps are sold and parcels can be mailed.

"Lubbock and this section has been in the 'white spot' of the nation's business map more than any other section during the past eight years," Howard explained. "That fact has been broadcast to all parts of the nation. The result is, we receive more circulars, letters and other direct mail, advertising than we have ever done. This, of course adds to our staff of workers."

Beware The Cough

From a common cold

That Hangs On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your common cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you may get relief now with Creomulsion. Creomulsion not only contains the soothing elements found in many cough remedies, such as Syrup of White Pine Compound with Tar, and fluid extract of Licorice Root, but it also has fluid extract of Ipecac for its powerful phlegm loosening effect, fluid extract of Cascara for its mild laxative effect, and most important of all, Beechwood Creosote nicely blended with all of these so that it will reach the source of the trouble from the inside.

Thousands of people, who really know their drugs, use Creomulsion in their own families, realizing that this excellent preparation aids nature to soothe the inflamed mucous membranes, to heal the irritated tissues, and to loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm. Druggists also know the effectiveness of Beechwood Creosote and they rank Creomulsion "tops" for coughs because in it you get a good dose of Creosote emulsified so that it is palatable, and may be taken frequently by both adults and children with remarkable results.

Creomulsion is generally found satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritation, especially those stubborn ones due to common colds that hang on for dreadful days and nights thereafter. Don't worry through another sleepless night—use Creomulsion. Even if other remedies have failed, your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not satisfied with the relief obtained.

Creomulsion is one word, ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product, and the relief you want. (Adv.)

HERE'S a story just now leaking out about the late, lamented and now historic Munich conference of Europe's four No. 1 guys, Hitler of Germany, Mussolini of Italy, Daladier of France and Chamberlain of England.

When the conference was arranged—at which, you'll remember, poor Czechoslovakia was the goat—the boys agreed among themselves that there would be no kibitzers present. Each Big Boss was to represent himself and his country without aid, moral or otherwise, from any of his henchmen.

But when they gathered at the international poker table, Herr Hitler, the host, had Nazi Diplomat von Ribbentrop standing behind his chair. He was trying to cross 'em up.

Daladier stepped to the door and signaled. He was joined by Francois-Poncet, French ambassador to Berlin.

Then Benny Mussolini strode to the door and flashed a sign. At his side appeared his son-in-law, Count Ciano, No. 1 Italian diplomat.

Then Premier Chamberlain wigwagged an SOS and in to his side sped an Englishman whom no one knew.

Hitler, seeing that his scheme didn't work, got up and said he wouldn't play unless all the stooges were kicked out.

They were—and the dismemberment of helpless little Czechoslovakia was attended to.

Aside from being an interesting commentary on an important gathering of bigwigs, it shows how the boys "trust" each other—and why they don't!

The meeting was held on German soil and Hitler was the guy who first insisted upon having no one there but the big four. He evidently figured that the other Bosses would come to the meeting unattended and that he'd be the only one with a henchman present.

But as can easily be seen, the other fellows didn't trust "Der Furcre" and figured—correctly—that he was likely to toss 'em a curve ball.

Hence, they all came loaded for bear!

What the average American will have a hard time understanding, however, is how one country will enter into agreements with another country when they have reason to believe that there's trickery in every move.

There sure is a lot of lying and skullduggery in Old World diplomacy!

That Man on Avenue Q says possibilities that television will soon be upon us holds no interest for him, because if static looks as bad as it sounds we're going to be in a heckuva shape!

"Hell is full of reckless automobile drivers," said an editorial in one of our exchanges.

We're sorry to hear this, because we hoped there was plenty of room down there for many more of them.

NOTE to the City Dads: Lubbock soon will have a licensing system for bicycles costing 35 cents per license.

Amarillo already has one, costing 25 cents per license.

Why not find out how Amarillo's licensing system works and if it's a good one, save each Lubbock kid a dime?

A dime is a lot of money to most kids—and to a lot of parents, and there must be at least 2,500 bicycle owners in Lubbock.

Speaking of the City Dads reminds us that the plan to widen Thirteenth street is a good one and The Plainsman is only one of thousands of our people who will cheer loudly over the administration's idea in that regard.

While interest is focused on Thirteenth street, we'd like to make a suggestion that will, if accepted at City hall, help things out a lot on that busy street.

Here it is:

Why not restrict parking on Thirteenth from Avenue L west to one side of the street?

THAT part of West Thirteenth outside the meter zone is a very popular parking place for citizens and visitors.

Frequently so many cars are parked on both sides of the thoroughfare that getting through is a task, indeed.

Especially if two cars, one going east and the other west, try to pass while parkers are cutting in or backing out, the traffic problem is a tough nut to crack.

Something really should be done along this line.

No picture show manager or owner has asked The Plainsman to make this comment, but he knows all of them—together with many movie patrons—will breathe an "amen" when they read it.

It has to do with those who loll in one theater seat and hang their feet over another in front or at the side, of them.

There's been an epidemic of that sort of thing in Lubbock of late and the young men who persist in doing that sort of thing should pull themselves up short and remember that, to say the least, such action is most ungentlemanly.

No one likes to sit in a seat along side of someone else's feet and—as is often the case—especially along side of dirty feet.

THIS column passed out the tip a couple of months ago that there was a possibility that dear, old Uncle Sam would, by next year, put out some 40 thousand bucks for the erection of a cotton pickers' concentration camp here in Lubbock.

We now pass on the further tip that the possibility has now become a probability and it's time for the folks here-abouts to be looking into the matter.

The Plainsman thinks it would be a bad thing for Lubbock.

Like everybody else, we are short-sighted enough to get excited over our grabbing off another $40,000 of federal pie (for which we'll eventually pay through the nose) but when we get to thinking about what might happen as a result we weren't so hot for the idea.

If the government puts a nice concentration camp on the edge of Lubbock—complete with hot and cold running water, chambermaid service and two-car garages, which is the government's way of spending money—the first thing you know we're going to have a camp full of pickers staying here all winter long.

Then will follow the responsibility of feeding, clothing, furnishing medical care and whatever else is necessary for a considerable number of winter guests. And of course that responsibility will fall smack, dab, upon the citizens of Lubbock.

As all and sundry know, this is not the right kind of wintering climate for poorly fed and clothed persons—especially those whose bodies are geared to the boiling suns of Scuth Texas.

And as all and sundry know, there's no sense in our being jockeyed into a position where we have to accept any responsibility additional to what we already have.

Now's the time to watch carefully any effort to "give" us a nice wintering spot for those who may become burdens on our hands.

As we see it, this is one gift horse we want to be sure of looking in the mouth before we accept it!

CAST OF CHARACTERS

MYRNA DOMBEY—heroine. Wife of the sensational swing band leader.

ROBERT TAIT—hero. Newspaper photographer—detective.

ANNE LESTER—Myrna's closest friend.

DANNIE FEELEY — officer assigned to investigate Ludden Dombey's murder.

Yesterday: Tait returns to his apartment to find Harris Rogers waiting for him. Rogers warns him to keep out of the Dombey case.

CHAPTER VIII

"Go ahead," Tait said.

"I've said that Dombey's financial affairs are in a mess. I won't go into that in detail, because you're welcome to look at the books at any time. And, if I may add it, they've been gone over regularly by a certified public accountant. For the moment, let me simply assure you that Ludden Dombey died a bankrupt, and that his band isn't worth a nickel without some smart managing from here on."

"I'll accept that," Tait said slowly. "Let's have the rest of it."

"Did you ever hear of a song called 'The Cat's Meow'?"

"Of course I've heard of it."

And who had not? "The Cat's Meow" might have been well called the theme song of the jitterbugs, the disciples of swing. It was on records in a dozen ways, always by permission of Ludden Dombey and the copyright owners. It popped up in radio programs, and it had been featured in a smash hit musical motio npicture. They whistled and sang "The Cat's Meow" from New York to Walla Walla and back again. The song had skyrocketed and, amazingly, retained most of its popularity. The leader-composers of other swing bands had tried to produce a song that would stick as well in the mad world of swing music—and had failed.

"You think, like everybody else, that Lud Dombey wrote that song," Harris Rogers said.

"If Dombey didn't, then who did?"

Rogers smiled. "It's been good business to keep that name a secret, and I think it still is good business. I'm telling you that Dombey didn't write it. It was brought to him by a broken-down musician who wanted Dombey to plug it in his band because he hadn't been able to sell it. Dombey could see that with a little fixing he might make it into a big hit—with its introduction by The Swingateers. He offered to buy it outright, but the man was just a little too cagey for that. So he did offer to turn it over to Lud on a royalty proposition. To the world it was to be Dombey's song—words and music. But the real author was to get a percentage of any and all types of revenue from 'The Cat's Meow'."

"Well, Dombey couldn't be hanged for that, Rogers. It was a business proposition—and with Dombey's name behind it the musician probably made hundreds of times what he would have made on his own."

"Yes," answered Rogers. "He would have—if Dombey had kept his affairs in decent shape. But Dombey was always broke. He let payment after payment slip. Time and again I've had to scrape up enough money to keep the fellow quiet. A thing like that would have cracked Dombey wide open, and this fellow began to realize it."

Tait moved impatiently, and Rogers hurried on. "I'm not quite finished. There is the matter of Lud's contract with the recording company. He was supposed to make records for them exclusively—but he got into a jam and needed quick money. He went out into a little venture of his own. He began getting a few of the boys in the band and making bootleg records for shipment into the foreign market. That's not according to his contract. I happen to know that the recording company is carrying on an investigation — and they'll sue." Rogers paused a moment. "Do you want to hear any more?"

"Make it snappy, then."

"A lot of women were in love with Dombey, you know. Some of them knew him pretty well. And extended investigation into his past is going to kick up some things that would wreck his reputation with the swing fans, and thereby make The Swingateers useless as a name to draw the crowds. I've managed to hold the Pacific-Plaza to its contract—but unless things quiet down and this business is forgotten, they won't renew. And if Pacific-Plaza doesn't renew, we couldn't get a job in a fourth-rate beer tavern tomorrow."

Tait turned his hand on the knob of the door, opened it. "I appreciate your telling me this," he said slowly.

Rogers picked up his hat. "You're going to forget your curiosity, then?"

"I'll think it over, anyhow."

The band manager seemed unsatisfied. "My advice is to do more than that, Tait. I'm not going to tell you any more than I have—but I've an idea that it isn't going to be very healthy to show too much interest in who killed Ludden Dombey."

Tait stiffened. "Listen, Rogers. I never did like to have guys tell me what was healthy for me. The way I figure it is this—I may quit trying to play detective, and then again I may not. But whichever it is, I won't worry too much about what you think of it. Is that clear enough?"

Rogers' expression did not change. "I never took you for a fool, Tait. I'm sorry now that I tried to give you a tip."

Tait watched him down the hallway. Then he went to his own front window to be sure that Rogers gained the street and started on his way. When he had made certain of this, he hurried down into the alley. Myrna and Anne were in the car, nervously puffing cigarets.

"We were just about to come up," Anne confessed, her voice heavy with relief.

"It's lucky you didn't. I had a visitor."

Myrna started. "The police?"

"No. Harris Rogers." He looked at her. "What do you know about him?"

"Only—only that I never quite liked him. But Lud seemed to think he was all right. He trusted him with everything."

Tait nodded. Poor Dombey, he told himself, had to trust Harris Rogers with everything. The band leader had got himself in too deep to do anything else. 'Come on," he told the girls. "The coast is clear now."

* * *

They went to Tait's apartment. "Myrna, I want you to hit that bed of mine in there. Anne's going to do some shopping—and I think I'll trot down to have a talk with Feeley. I don't want to get you down there at headquarters and have them spring the trap. I've known Dannie a long time and I think I

NON-EXISTANT MOLEHILL

The furore which has been aroused because a number of high school boys in Oklahoma City have organized some sort of club or society will impress most adult observers as making a considerable mountain out of a non-existant molehill.

The boys, it seems, have labeled their organization with the name, C?C." Just what the name might mean, just what the objectives of the group may be have not been made clear. Nor do they make any difference. Certainly they cannot make such difference as to justify the "scare" publicity which has been nation-wide.

No one with any sense of reasoning can attach any real importance to this trivia! thing that boys of high school age have done. It should have been treated for what it is—something a little bit foolish; something definitely amusing. Treating it seriously will tend to give sponsors of the group a false sense of their own importance and of their movement, and will encourage boys elsewhere to imitate them. Even that won't amount to anything except, perhaps, to cause a little irritation here and there for school authorities.

That, however, will run its course and will fade just as soon as the boys realize they are grandstanding without an audience.

U. S. Trade Pact With Britain O. K. As Far As It Goes--But It Doesn't Go Far Enough--Flynn

Until a successor to the late Rodney Dutcher is named, the column by John T. Flynn, noted economist, is being run in the space of "Behind the Scenes in Washington."

By JOHN T. FLYNN
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The reciprocal trade treaty with Great Britain and her self-governing dominions and her 50 colonies is rather too lengthy and is sprung upon the public in too much of a lump to allow any just appraisal.

FLYNN

One point is important to keep in mind. The British make much of what they call the political side of the pact. They are justified, after a fashion, for the American government set the stage to encourage this interpretation.

But this is a mistake. This is merely one of 19 reciprocal trade treaties — with Belgium, France, the Netherlands, Sweden and many South and Central American countries.

There was no political significance in these other treaties. There is none in this one.

It is a trade treaty pure and simple, adopted because each of the signatories believes it contains features which will help him.

Won't Help Wheat Farmers

The second point has to do with agriculture. We will have to hear from the agricultural interests before we can form an unbiased view of the effects of the treaty.

The most striking feature at first glance is the abolition of Britain's duty on wheat. But only at first glance. It will probably make no very great difference.

Various wheat-raising countries—Argentina and Canada chiefly—have immense wheat surpluses and have been dumping wheat on the British market.

The U. S. has been dumping too, selling wheat below the world price in England and subsidizing wheat farmers on that dumped part of their surplus. Thus, while the abolition of the tariff will deprive the British government of that revenue, it will as things now stand have no very great effect upon wheat exports to England.

It will aid corn and fruit growers, how much, of course, remains to be seen.

Not Commanding

It will be interesting to watch the effect of the reduction of tariffs on textiles upon American cotton growers and producers. The argument for admitting British textiles is that they are limited to very high grade cotton textiles which do not come into competition with lower-grade American goods.

This part of the treaty will doubtless not affect so severely southern cotton textile plants, but it may be resisted by New England plants which go in for the higher grades of textiles.

A third point is this: there is no sound argument that can be made against the principle of reciprocal trade treaties.

Even the most confirmed tariff advocates have been for reciprocal duties for years. William McKinley, whose career was founded on protection, was the great apostle of reciprocity and the last speech he made before his assassination at Buffalo was for that principle.

The whole idea is sound.

What is dangerous is to delude the people into supposing that the economic effect will be greater than it can hope to be.

A hasty examination of the new schedules would seem to justify the belief that the actual effect of the treaty upon the trade of both countries will not be very great—beneficial but not commanding.

"Little White House" in the frigid atmosphere to be overnight guests of Will Moore of New York, veteran infantile paralysis patient at the Warm Springs foundation.

Before the conference officials repeated that Mr. Roosevelt was not only concerned with economic and physical measures against Jews in Germany, but he was just as anxious over the fate of Catholic and Protestant minorities there and in other countries.

It was generally believed, therefore, that this was made plain to the envoys to the totalitarian states, and that the conference also touched on the progress of efforts to find havens for minorities fleeing from oppressive tactics.

Besides his second conference today on the acute foreign situation, the president planned to see Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, and Governor Carl E. Bailey of Arkansas. The purposes of their calls were not announced.

Later, in an address commemorating the Soviet Union's 21st anniversary, Browder advocated a Washington-Moscow axis to offset the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo pact. Touching on the United States' defense program, he said that Communists, although traditionally opposed to armaments, would support the program "if it is used to stop fascism."

Grote, who lives on a 960-acre livestock farm, has fed baby beeves exclusively for six consecutive years, handling 52 head in all and making a record as a feeder, fitter and exhibitor which club officials said was unequalled by any boy in the nation.

His total gross income for the six years was $1,471 from prizes and $7,994 from sales. He won second award in the national competition, a $200 scholarship, and southern sectional honors.

Mullinix' successful record was based on six years of club work.

Nazis Put Pressure On Press Of Greece

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign Writer

ATHENS, Greece, Nov. 28—I understand from a well informed source that the Greek government the other day issued an order to the newspapers that they were not to publish any further news regarding the anti-semitic activities in Germany unless it came from German sources.

This action, I am further told, came after the German minister had made representations to the Greek foreign office.

The enforcement of this order would mean, of course, that the Greek press wouldn't publish anything that the German government didn't like, since the Nazi authorities absolutely control the publications of the reich.

Later this order was relaxed somewhat and papers were permitted to publish not only news from German sources but that carried by two conservative agencies of other European countries.

This order is notable for several reasons.

First off, it shows that the Nazi authorities don't like the adverse publicity they have been getting because of anti-semitism.

More important it marks a new development in diplomacy between totalitarian states as concerns the press.

Say it—with a Clear Skin

OUR SKIN frequently reflects how we feel. In business and social contacts we like our friends to tell us how well we look.

The laity now recognizes—as physicians and scientists have for years—the vital importance of rich, red blood, as the foundation of strength, energy, and a clear healthy skin.

for that tired-let-down feeling

It is well known how worry, overwork and undue strain take their toll of the precious red cells of the blood.

S.S.S. Tonic brings you new strength and vitality by restoring your blood to a healthy state, and its benefits are cumulative and enduring in the absence of an organic trouble.

improves the appetite

Further, S.S.S. Tonic whets the appetite . . . foods taste better . . . natural digestive juices are stimulated, and finally, the food you eat is of more value . . . a very important step back to health.

Buy and use with complete confidence, and we believe you, like thousands of others, will be enthusiastic in your praise of S.S.S. Tonic for its part in making "you feel like yourself again."

At all drug stores in two sizes. You will find the larger size more economical.

S.S.S. Tonic stimulates the appetite and helps change weak blood cells to strong ones.

Hope Given Up By Oil Men

AUSTIN, Nov. 28 (Special)—The hope of Texas oil men for an early settlement of the problem of expropriation of $400,000,000 of American and British oil properties by the Mexican government, which would remove the menace of dumping of cut price Mexican oil upon the Texas market, was virtually abandoned here this week, following announcement of the formula for a settlement of the claims growing out of expropriated American farm lands in Mexico.

The land claim settlement, as announced from Washington and Mexico City, was reached nearly 15 years after the first farm lands were seized by the Mexican government. It provides for an international commission of two members, who will fix values of the seized lands, claimed by their former owners to be worth about $12,000,000. Mexico agreed to deposit $1,000,000 cash as a "token" payment when negotiations begin, and promises to pay another $1,000,000 annually over a period of several years, until the agreed amount has been paid.

Would Obviously Be Impossible

Oil men here pointed out that such a principle could hardly be used in settlement of the oil claims, since American oil properties seized are valued at $150,000,000 and other foreign oil properties at another $250,000,000. On the land claim basis, it would obviously be impossible for Mexico to meet payments for the confiscated properties.

Many Texas oil men expressed the belief that Mexico, having failed to realize any considerable revenue from operation of the seized oil properties, and having lost even the substantial tax and royalty payments which were regularly made by the foreign concessionaires, may now turn to the alternative of turning the properties over to German or Italian interests to operate on a percentage basis.

Such a step, they point out, would result in serious international complications, since the Mexican oil holdings represented one of the vital factors in Great Britain's preparedness program.

Would Result In Disruption

They further pointed out that exploitation of the Mexican oil fields by German or Italian interests would probably result in disruption of the Texas market, as the "dumping" process which has already affected the Texas crude market with comparatively small imports coming in under Mexican government operation, would likely be greatly accelerated under more efficient management, and transport facilities, such as European nations could supply.

"Secretary of State Cordell Hull has insisted that under international law, expropriated properties must be paid for, in full and in cash, at the time of the seizure. The Mexican oil holdings were seized eight months ago" said one prominent oil operator. "No indication even of a promise to pay has come from Mexican officials. The nation obviously couldn't pay for the oil properties, even if it promised to do so, and the unbroken record of the Mexican government for defaulting on every external financial obligation it has ever contracted, is not encouraging. It now seems the Mexican government can do only one of two things — either return the properties to their owners, or let some other foreign nation take them over and operate them. The prospect that they will be returned to the owners is not encouraging."

McAdoo One-Variety Plan Is Successful

DICKENS, Nov. 28 — More than 4,000 acres of cotton land, worked by between 50 and 60 farmers in the McAdoo community this year, produced over 2,000 bales of cotton that averaged in staple length from 15-16 inch to 29-32 inch.

Yield has been close to three quarters of a bale per acre, according to J. Walter Grist. Paymaster cotton, a plains developed type, was used.

Cotton has been ginned at two gins at McAdoo. Ginners kept the seed pure and it is being distributed over the county.

The cotton graded mostly middling, although a number of strict middling bales were graded.

Grist is vocational agriculture instructor at the high school. He is in his second year there and is a graduate of the division of agriculture at Texas Technological college. Grist worked with farmers in the one variety project.

DEFICIT AT NEW PEAK

AUSTIN, Nov. 28 (AP) — The deficit in the state's general revenue fund hit a new peak of $20,056,471 today.

The previous peak was $19,182,838 on Nov. 19.

Take Calotabs to Help Nature Throw off Colds

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fourth night if needed.

How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminants, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of any virus-laden mucus and toxins. Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the blood. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which may be needed in the treatment of colds.

Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package.—(adv.)
