Solon's Wife To Seek Place In Congress

Rep. Thomas Begins Serving Jail Term

BY ARTHUR EDSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9. — Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R.-N.J.), was sentenced to six to 18 months in jail today and fined $10,000 for cheating the government. Before he was led away, his wife said she would seek his seat in Congress.

"As his wife," she said, "I can do no less."

(The convicted man late today was taken through the back gate of the federal prison at Danbury, Conn., where Warden Allen L. Shank said he will be treated "like any other prisoner," International News Service reported.)

The former head of the House un-American Activities committee will remain a congressman for the first three and a half weeks he is in prison. This will entitle him to $1,000 or more in federal pay. He made his resignation effective Jan. 2.

Sentencing Brief

Sentencing of the bald 54-year-old lawmaker, who had padded the government payroll with non-working employes and then collected more than $8,000 for himself, was brief.

Thomas, with his round, red face, stood almost inconspicuously beside his large lawyer, William H. Collins.

Collins talked only a minute. He referred to Thomas' serious stomach ailment, saying Thomas "is broken in body and in spirit."

Collins asked for probation asserting his client already has suffered enough.

Federal Judge Alexander Holtzoff said he knew Thomas had a good record in World War I (he was an infantry captain). Holtzoff added:

"There is no doubt he did much good work as head of the un-American Activities committee."

Not To Be Considered

But, Holtzoff said, "These can not properly be considered mitigating circumstances."

Actually, the judge continued, as chairman of so important a committee Thomas "had a duty to set an example of upright living."

Holtzoff said Thomas had taken more than $8,000 of government money and the government should be reimbursed.

Looking directly at Thomas, he pronounced the sentence.

Thomas could serve the time, the judge said, in the federal correctional institution at Danbury, Conn.

The whole thing took only six minutes.

Within an hour and a half he was on his way to prison.

Mrs. Thomas gave out copies of U. S. Debt Gets Additional Boost

By FELIX COTTEN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9. — The treasury disclosed today that the government deficit for the current fiscal year is nearly $4 billion, with the year only a little more than five months old.

On Dec. 7 expenditures had totaled $17,917,383,507 and net tax collections and other receipts $13,950,288,262, leaving the government $3,967,095,245 in the red.

Assuming a population of 150 million, this is $26.44 for every man, woman and child in the country.

Swift Pace Achieved

On the first five working days in December, the government ran up a deficit of $198,583,800, an average of $39,716,760 a day.

During the remainder of the month, this picture is expected to change somewhat. The regular quarterly income tax returns will pour into government coffers in considerable volume, but the treasury also will have to pay out hundreds of millions in interest on the public debt.

Officials said that, as a result, they do not know whether December will show a surplus or a deficit.

It is believed likely that the de-

Lubbock Man Injured In Wreck Near Roby

ROBY, Dec. 9 (Special)—Bryan Edwards, about 45, of Lubbock, was injured in a car-truck collision near here about 1:45 p. m. today.

He remained in Fisher Memorial hospital last night, where attendants said he was resting satisfactorily. He suffered scalp wounds. X-ray examinations have not been completed, attendants said; hence, extent of his injuries is not definitely known.

Edwards is owner of an electrical distributing firm in Lubbock.

The accident took place about eight miles west of Roby on Highway 180, main traffic thoroughfare between Roby and Snyder, R. L. Wilkins, Fisher county sheriff who investigated, said tonight.

Edwards was traveling eastward toward Roby at the time of the accident. His .949 Studebaker and a heavy gasoline truck owned by McKinney Brothers of Lamesa and driven by W. L. Watson were in collision at the top of a hill over which the highway passes.

Both drivers were alone. The gasoline transport truck was traveling toward Snyder, approximately 22 miles westward. Edwards' car was badly damaged. Watson was not injured.

Denver City Man Charged With Murder Put Under $5,000 Bond

HOBBS, N. M., Dec. 9. (AP)—Justice of the Peace Bob Bensing today ordered Fred Smith held under $5,000 bond for district court trial on a murder charge.

Smith, from Denver City, Texas, is accused in the shotgun slaying of his stepson, James Norman Akin, also of Denver City. Akin was shot Thanksgiving Day 40 miles west of here.

Witnesses testified at a hearing yesterday that Akin was in a surly mood that day after the two had attended public cockfights.

Jerusalem Is Placed Under Rule Of UN

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 — The UN assembly voted decisively tonight to put Jerusalem under supreme international rule of the United Nations.

Israel and Hashemite Jordan, with armed forces actually in possession of the city in separate sectors, both opposed the plan and said they would fight against it.

The vote on the whole resolution was 38 to 14, with 7 abstentions. This was well above the two-thirds margin required for approval. Loud cheers greeted the vote at 7:15 p.m. (CST).

U. S., Britain Lose

The United States and Britain took a beating by this vote. Both pointed out to the assembly the UN has no police force to carry out the decision and that it might eventually cost far more than the $40,000,000 annually required to run the UN itself.

A Swedish-Netherlands resolution for progressive demilitarization of Jerusalem and internationalization of only the holy places was not acted on.

The assembly adjourned at 7:17 p.m. until tomorrow. It still must approve the annual UN budget before final adjournment, expected some time after tomorrow noon.

The vote on the section relating to internationalization was 39 to 14, with 6 abstentions. It was greeted with cheers from the majority side, including Russia.

Earlier the assembly had beaten down a surprise move by Uruguay and Denmark to abandon consideration of the Jerusalem question at this assembly—scheduled to adjourn tomorrow—and to have a special session on Jerusalem some time next year. The vote was 21 in favor, 33 against and five abstentions.

The assembly defeated a Soviet proposal to dissolve its American-French-Turkish Palestine Conciliation commission. The vote was 5 in favor, 43 against. Only the Slav bloc was for it.

Uruguay and Denmark proposed formally early in the night that the assembly suspend debate on plans

Bands To Close Sessions Today

Visiting high school band members from throughout the Panhandle-South Plains will move into the second half of a two-day Texas Tech-Lubbock Public schools band clinic today, adjourning at 3 p.m.

More than 1,000 West Texas high school students are included in the group, with the best musicians among that number playing in one of four divisional bands and all of them attending a special performance both Friday and today from 1 to 3 p.m. as the Tech band plays contest music for 1950.

A dance for the visiting band members was staged Friday night at the Tech band hall and a smoker for the directors was given in the Hilton hotel by the Adair Music company.

Tech Band Plays Today

The final half of that music which will be required in Interscholastic competition next year will be played by the Tech band today; under direction of Prof. D. O. Wiley and visiting leaders from North and West Texas.

Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president of Texas Tech, officially welcomed the 'teen-agers Friday, following opening sessions at various points over the city at 9:30 a.m.

The four divisional bands will play from 9:30 to 11 a.m. today at the same places as Friday—the Class AA school representatives at the Lubbock Senior high school

Donors To West Texas Museum Honored; New Officers Named

By KENNETH MAY
Avalanche Staff Writer

THE West Texas museum became an official reality Friday night as the museum association gave a dinner on the second floor of the new structure, honoring all those who had a part in its building. The museum is located on the Texas Tech campus.

Electing officers for the next year and outlining future plans of operation and expansion, the association paid special tribute to all those who gave money, helped erect or in any other way aided in obtaining the new Spanish-architectured building now almost complete in the heart of the Tech campus.

Outgoing president Retha Martin acted as master of ceremonies for the tribute program and business session which followed a ranch-style dinner for those attending. The food was prepared in the museum's own kitchen.

Dr. Clifford B. Jones, president-emeritus of Texas Tech, was elected president of the association for the coming year and Dr. W. C. Holden, dean of the Tech graduate school, was named director of the local museum. Standing committees and other personnel

New Cold Wave May Hit Plains Area After Brief Warmup Today

WARMER weather and clearing skies are due on the South Plains today, the Weatherman said last night, but Sunday and Monday may be another story—a cold one.

A rip-snorting blizzard with snow was expected to blast Kansas and western Oklahoma tonight and Sunday—and Texas forecasters were shivering in anticipation last night.

The Lubbock Weatherman backed the Dallas weather bureau in saying:

"All we can do right now is point to the Kansas and Oklahoma forecasts and predict colder weather over most of the state late Sunday.

"However, this front could come roaring on down and give us some real weather," the forecasters said Friday night.

Fog considerably lighter than that which covered the Lubbock area late Thursday and early Friday was expected to return early this morning, but it should give way to clearing skies by mid-morning.

ELECTION YEAR BATTLE SEEN

HST May Ask Tax Hike To Match $45 Billion Budget

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
Associated Press Staff Writer

KEY WEST, Fla., Dec. 9.—President Truman got the ammunition today for an election year battle with the congressional "economy bloc" in the form of a budget calling for higher taxes or more government "red ink."

Budget Director Frank Pace said after talking to Mr. Truman on the proposed 1951 fiscal year spending program that without additional taxes, he could not see how the budget could be balanced.

Pace said the budget would not exceed $45,000,000,000 but he declined to say how much it might fall below that figure.

Deficit Could Vary

The extent of the 1951 deficit, in the absence of new taxes, would depend not only on the size of the budget but on how much Congress agreed to spend and whether revenue from existing levies increased or dropped.

A budget of $45,000,000,000, if voted, with revenue no higher than $38,000,000,000, would mean a difference of $7,000,000,000.

Other presidential advisors said privately that Mr. Truman will ask a hike on taxes on corporation profits.

Clash Indicated

The prospect of this request laid the grounds for a clash with members of both parties who have been demanding tax cuts and sharp curtailment on government spending instead.

Some of Mr. Truman's associates disclosed he is convinced General Dwight D. Eisenhower is actively campaigning for the presidency.

The proposed budget — Pace said he could not give the final figure—would finance the "fair deal" program to be pushed in a "state of the union" message expounding a political philosophy sharply at variance with the former chief of staffs' recent "hot dogs and beer" speech.

Eisenhower said in New York a great many Americans have lost respect for the virtues of thrift and independence in seeking the "illusion called security." He added "we want to wear fine shirts, have caviar and champagne" when we should be eating hot dogs and beer."

Mr. Truman, intimates say, has told them he considers Eisenhower's speechmaking a bid for the

Amarillo Youth Named To Top Post In Hi-Y Model Legislature

AUSTIN, Dec. 9. (AP).— Charlie Thompson, 17-year-old Amarillo high school senior, was elected governor of the third annual Hi-Y model legislature here today.

He campaigned strongly on a platform of taking action to cut down the high rate of traffic deaths in Texas.

"If this youth legislature trys to do something about it, maybe the real legislature will try," he told the 200 delegates from Texas high schools.

Thompson defeated Beach Mott of Houston in a runoff election. Mott automatically became secretary of state. Melvin Henderson of Fort Worth and Gordon Marshall of Corpus Christi, defeated in the initial election, became sergeant-at-arms of the House and Senate, respectively.

The model legislature will meet through Sunday morning.

Spy Hunters Probe Secret Uranium Deal

By FRANK B. ALLEN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—International uranium dealings were disclosed today to have been kept secret by a New York court at the State department's request and House spy hunters acted to uncover the records.

The dealings involve 1,000 pounds of Canadian uranium compounds sent to Russia in 1943 without the knowledge of Lt. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, then U. S. atomic chief working in utmost secrecy to develop the A-bomb.

The House Un-American Activities committee indicated that it will call as a witness Boris Pregel, a key figure in the uranium-to-Russia deal and an official of the Canadian Radium and Uranium Corp. of New York.

Suit Is Brought

Pregel's firm procured the 1,000 pounds of uranium shipped to Russia from Canada. Later, he was a defendant in a civil action growing out of the deal, which, according to information given the Canadian parliament, was "settled for two million dollars."

At the State department's request, papers in the lawsuit were "impounded" by a New York judge. In 1947, Canadian Trade Minister C. W. Howe told his parliament:

"The records contain information of a secret character affecting other governments as well as the government of Canada."

New Attempt Planned

The un-American activities committee failed in a previous effort to obtain the records of the Pregel suit. But a new attempt was decided upon in view of Major G. Racey Jordan's disclosures of wartime U. S. uranium shipments to Russia.

The suit against Pregel's firm was brought by Eldorado Mines, Ltd., whose uranium properties were taken over by the Canadian government in 1944.

The civil action was instituted after criminal conspiracy proceedings against Pregel and two other

Theft Suspect Arrested Here

A 28-year-old Abilene man, Charles Cecil Richardson, was charged Friday night with felony theft in connection with the disappearance from a warehouse here earlier of a large number of rock drilling bits.

The complaint against Richardson was signed by W. A. Watts, special investigator for the Hughes Tool company of Fort Worth, and sworn to before Assistant District Attorney A. W. Salyars in the Justice court of D. W. Robertson.

Officers Arrest Man

Richardson was arrested at Twenty-third and College by City Patrolman Ira E. Scott and City Detective Lee Rice jr., after Scott had stopped to investigate the cause of a traffic jam there. Scott said he found a car — with a flat tire—and a trailer, later learned to be Richardson's, obstructing traffic.

Examination of the trailer uncovered 98 rock drilling bits fitting the description of some re-

Extension Of Pioneer Lines Permit Favored

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9. (AP)—A five-year extension of operating rights for most of Pioneer Air lines' Texas routes was recommended today by Civil Aeronautics board examiner James M. Verner.

Verner recommended that the board suspend for five years the present operating rights of Continental airlines at Big Spring and American airlines at Big Springs and Abilene. That would leave Pioneer as the only airline serving those points.

He also proposed readjustment of the route pattern to increase available traffic and to eliminate a route from Amarillo to El Paso. He proposed a one-year extension of the Lubbock-Albuquerque route.

The five-year extensions, dating from last Nov. 14, were recommended for the routes between Houston and Dallas, between Houston and Amarillo and between Dallas and Midland-Odessa.

Verner also proposed that Pioneer be permitted to serve Bryan and Temple as an alternate to Austin on the route from Houston to San Angelo and Amarillo.

The proposed service to Bryan and Temple would be in addition to service they now receive on the Houston-Dallas route.

Woodruff Quits Post At Baylor

(By The Associated Press)

WACO, Dec. 9. — Coach Bob Woodruff resigned tonight as Baylor university football coach. He said he could not accept a compromise settlement by the university athletic committee on differences between himself and Athletic Director Ralph R. Wolf.

The resignation of Woodruff, for three years coach at Baylor, came as the aftermath of a meeting of the university athletic committee today at which time a new position of stadium director was created with the announcement that Wolf would fill the post.

Letter Given Board

Wolf, however, continued as athletic director.

Woodruff, in a statement tonight, said:

"Monday morning I presented to the authorities at Baylor a letter which made it clear that an intolerable situation existed in the athletic department which made it impossible for me to remain as head coach at Baylor university.

"I requested an immediate and clear cut decision in the U. S. Debates China Policy

By GEORGE DURNO
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Future U. S. China policy revolved today around ultimate recognition of the Communist regime if congressional leaders approve and a reported military decision to let the fortress island of Formosa fall.

State department officials are reluctant to discuss Chinese policy but there is some doubt in Washington that the U. S. embassy will follow the fleeing Nationalist government of Chiang Kai-Shek to its fifth successive capital at Taipeh, Formosa.

Michael J. McDermott, spokesman for the secretary of state, told a news conference that Washington has not yet been officially advised the Nationalists had evacuated Chengtu for Formosa.

Decision Expected

When and as the department is notified, McDermott said a decision will be made about sending diplomatic representatives to the final seat of the collapsing Nationalist government.

U. S. Charge D'Affaires Robert C. Strong currently is in the British crown colony of Hong Kong with the remnants of the embassy staff.

The top-level National Security board and the joint chiefs of staff during the past two days reportedly reached a final military-political agreement not to occupy Formosa, as some quarters have suggested.

Originally, many military men

Small Men Sought In Biggest Jewel Robbery In Panhandle

(By The Associated Press)

PERRYTON, Dec. 9.—The robbers who took a reported $150,000 in jewels from a drug store here apparently were little fellows.

Officers investigating the Texas Panhandle's biggest jewel robbery came to that conclusion today. They pointed out:

The hole in the ventilating shaft through which the intruders dropped is only 14 by 14 inches.

The opening on the roof itself — cut there by the robbers who staged the big theft early yesterday — is too small for an average size-man.

Ventilating Duct Used

Sheriff Ray Phagan said scratches and rubber heel marks inside the ventilating duct have convinced him it was the robbers' means of entry.

Officers also said the attempt to crack the safe was amateurish. Holes were bored around the hinges and in the combination knob.

Texas Ranger Frank Probst has been specially assigned to the case. He is working with highway patrolmen, police and the sheriff's department.

Groves Says 'Slip' Could Ruin Nation

By JACK LOTTO
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Dec. 9—Gen. Leslie R. Groves warned tonight that a "single vital slip" in America's security precautions could mean the signing of "our own death warrant."

The head of the wartime Manhatton district project, which developed the atomic bomb, declared that the American people must be so aroused that "no precautions, however small, will be omitted."

Groves made his remarks to International News Service in an exclusive interview before addressing the 54th annual Congress of Industry sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers.

(The retired officer warned that for the first time in history the United States is threatened with the possibility of "complete annihilation," The Associated Press reported.

(He said he wished to emphasize that the real security of the United States is "not as sound as I would like to have it."

("American people are not convinced in their hearts there is anything to worry about," he told the nation's top industrialists.

(But, he added, we should assume the recent explosion reported in Russia was an atom bomb.)

After the address, the general told newsmen Congress should continue its investigation of charges that Russia got America's secrets, including A-bomb material, during the war.

He said:

"If there have been any government mistakes in the past we ought to know who is responsible. This is not merely ghost-hunting but a precaution to avoid a repetition of previous mistakes, if they have been made.

"No American citizen ever wants a whitewash. We all want to know on matters of vital importance to the United States that the core is sound and well as the surface."

Southwest Hinted As Bomb Storage

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9. (INS)—The Defense department and the Atomic Energy commission declined comment today on a report that the United States is storing atomic bombs in caves in the Southwest.

AEC refused to confirm or deny the statement reportedly made by former Defense department Deputy Information Director Curtis Mitchell.

An AEC spokesman said the matter is under strict security classification and defense also said it could not comment on the report.

According to the Mexico, Mo., Ledger, Mitchell told the Mexico Kiwanis club on Nov. 29 that "most informed people" believe the major bombing attacks in event of a war with Russia would not be directed at New York or Washington. The newspaper quoted Mitchell as saying further:

Southwest Claimed Target

"Instead they believe the Russians will first attack the caves in the Southwest where our atom bombs are stored, the air fields from which our bombers plan to take off in their counter attack.

Hiss Accused Of Recruiting Reds

NEW YORK, Dec. 9. (INS)—Mrs. Hede Massing, former wife of fugitive Communist leader Gerhardt Eisler—barred from testifying at the first Alger Hiss perjury trial—said today Hiss "competed" with her to recruit members of a Communist "apparatus" in Washington.

The witness, whose testimony created a sensation at the trial, told how the former State department official in 1935 tried to get Noel Field, of Washington, D. C., out of her group into his own.

Early Meeting Reported

The Autsrian-born Mrs. Massing, who said she was affiliated with the Communist party since she was 19-years-old, told how she met Hiss in Field's home in Washington in the late summer or early fall of 1935.

The conversation, according to the witness, went like this:

"I said to Mr. Hiss: 'Understand you are trying to get Noel Field away from my organization into yours.' He said: 'So you are the famous girl who is trying to get Field away from me.' I said yes and he said: 'Well, we'll see who's going to win.' I said 'Mr. Hiss, you are competing with a woman.'"

Mrs. Massing added that she or Hiss—she wasn't sure—then remarked:

"Whoever is going to win, we are working for the same boss."

Field, at the time an official in the State department, went to Europe several months ago and disappeared behind the iron curtain. Whittaker Chambers, self-confessed former Communist courier, in previous testimony described Field as being in a "special category" in the Communist underground and that only Mrs. Massing was supposed to contact him.

Hiss is being tried on a two count perjury charge for denying to a federal grand jury that he gave government secrets to Chambers and that he never saw Chambers after Jan. 1, 1937.

Police Find No Clues To Infant Abandoned At Houston

HOUSTON, Dec. 9 (AP) — Police have found no clues as to the identity of the parents of a baby girl found yesterday in a parcel locker in a bus terminal.

The pug-nosed baby, about two weeks old, was found in a paper shopping bag in the locker.

Police were flooded with telephone calls from sympathetic Houstonians today. Many wanted only to make inquiry as to the child's condition. Others offered to adopt the baby.

The baby now is in the Strickland nursing home, after having undergone a medical examination at the city-county Jefferson Davis hospital nursery.

Hospital attendants said the child's physical condition was good.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP) — Cotton futures were irregular today. The market showed early steadiness on aggressive mill buying and covering against export sales, but subsequently weakened on hedge selling and profit taking. A trade commission house interest was estimated to have sold between 15,000 to 20,000 bales in several deliveries which was attributed by some quarters to hedging operations.

Cotton loan entries for the week ended December 1 were 275,766 bales, against 197,068 the previous week. The loans were at their highest weekly total so far this year. Loans through December 1 totaled 1,501,200 bales, against 3,183,106 the same date a year ago.

Cotton futures closed 65 cents a bale lower to 25 cents higher than the previous close.

STOCKS ARE ACTIVE

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—A lot of trading froth was whipped up in the stock market today but price movements were small.

Business was comfortably large, with turnover at 1,300,000 shares. This compared with 1,720,000 shares Thursday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped .1 of one point to 69.4, a dip in the rail group outweighed a slim rise in the utility section. Industrials were unchanged on average.

Columbia Gas was the most active issue, gaining ⅝ at 12¼. Armour and Co. took second place with an addition of ⅛ at 7⅜.

Benguet Consolidated mining was one of the few issues to dipp to its low for the year, losing ¼ at 1⅞.

Texas Pacific Land Trust stepped out on its own with a jump of 2⅞ to 86⅛. Universal Pictures was another stock posting a larger than average swing, ending 1⅜ up at 12¼.

Closing lower were U. S. Steel, Canadian Pacific, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, J. I. Case (down 1¾ at 59), Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, Du Pont, General Electric, United Air Lines, and Johns-Manville.

Higher were Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, Admiral Corp. (new), Warner Bros. Pictures, United Gas Corp., Commonwealth Edison, Dow Chemical, and Santa Fe.

Scoring losses in the curb were Babcock and Wilcox, Fairchild Engine, and Pantepec Oil. Higher were McClanahan Oil, United Light and Railways, Ceasna Aircraft, Humble Oil, and International Products. Sales of 320,000 shares compared with 430,000 yesterday.

Selective demand developed for railway and utility issues in the bond market. U. S. governments slipped a trifle in over-the-counter dealings.

Sorghums No. 2 yellow milo, per 100 lbs. 2.30-35.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Dec. 9 (AP) — A sharp rally at the close left all cereals with fair-sized gains on the board of trade today.

The rally got underway in the last 15 minutes of trading and brought to life a market which had drifted along without getting anywhere most of the day. It began in new crop wheat futures and spread to other pits.

In part the rally was attributed to local traders who had sold earlier in the day. When they went to cover late in the session they found very few offers around.

Wheat closed ⅝-1¼ higher, December $2.19⅝-⅞, corn was ⅛-1⅛ higher, December $1.29-$1.29⅝, oats were ⅛-1½ higher, December 77, rye was 1 to 1¼ higher, December $1.43¾-⅞, soybeans were ½-1½ higher, December $2.32¼-½, and lard was unchanged to 10 cents a hundred pounds lower, December $10.05.

Masons Install New Officers At Meeting

WACO, Dec. 9 (AP)—The Grand Lodge of Texas Masons installed new officers today to end the 114th communication of the lodge.

Elective officers named last night by the Blue lodge delegates were Albert de Lange of Houston, grand master; W. J. Burris, McAllen, deputy grand master; Henry M. Bell, Tyler, senior warden; Gibb Gilchrist, College Station, junior warden.

The Rev. J. Lawrence Plumley, Houston, chaplain; Walter M. Pierson, Houston, orator; George Moffett, Chillicothe, marshal; Ernest Medford, Lufkin, senior deacon; Dennis E. Clark, Crystal City, junior deacon; Carey Cannon, Waco, senior steward; Harry L. Boyer, College Station, junior steward; Oscar Burton, Tyler, pursuivant, and Lev. C. Hamblet, Houston, tiler.

John H. Crooker, Houston attorney and past grand master, was installing officer. In presiding Crooker used the gavel which Sam Houston held Dec. 20, 1838 when the Grand Lodge was organized in the Senate chamber of the capitol of the Republic of Texas at Houston. Then Anson Jones, last president of the Texas republic, was installed as first grand master.

U. S. Investment Bankers Decide To Increase Political Influence

By JAMES RUSSELL
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Fla., Dec. 9.—America's top investment bankers adjourned their 38th annual convention here today with a determination to exert more political influence for their industry and sell more stocks and bonds on a "grass roots" level.

The keynote of the Investment Bankers association's new program was sounded by the incoming president of the organization, Albert T. Armitage, who is head of Coffin and Burr, Inc., of Boston.

Political Aspects Stressed

Armitage urged his fellow bankers to give more attention to the "political aspect" of their work. He said:

"As we study our economy, almost everything now is found to have political ramifications. By proper means, therefore, we must find ways of making our influence felt in the congressional halls of Washington." He told the delegates it is their responsibility to keep congressmen informed of the industry's problems. He added:

"A painstaking study of the make-up of the Congress should be conducted by every investment house and efforts made...to acquaint these law-makers in Washington with the difficulties confronting the investment banking business."

New Trend Noted

The new IBA president, who replaces Hal H. Dewar, of San Antonio, also emphasized the new trend among the association's members to give more Americans a stake in private ownership of industry.

He said:

"We are trying to reach a new class of investor—one that is untrained and unfamiliar with the procedures incident to capital financing—and to teach them what investment means...

"This in turn may lead them to a number of convictions, namely that strikes hurt their investment, that unbalanced budgets and loose spending by municipalities and other governmental bodies drain their profits, that unearned pensions, handouts, and free services are likewise destructive."

The IBA public education committee was assigned the task of spearheading the drive to spread ownership of stocks and bonds among lower income levels.

Rites Slated In Aspermont For James W. Porter, 92, Lubbock

Continued Use Of Oily Medicine Cited As Possible Danger

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Long-time users of oily nose drops and sprays and mineral oil laxatives are running the risk of a sometimes fatal lung disease, the American Medical association was told today.

Dr. Theodore Winship of Washington said the oily medicines are not poisonous in themselves but they can get into the windpipe and be passed into the lungs.

This, he said, can result in the formation of a hardened, sinewy tissue in the lungs—a condition known medically as "lipid pneumonia."

In severe cases, Winship said, death results from asphyxiation.

Delegates to the association's meeting heard from Winship after a history-making session yesterday, highlighted by the establishment of compulsory membership dues to establish a fund for the AMA's campaign against "socialized medicine" and other activities.

The $25 dues are expected to bring in $3,050,000 a year.

With legislative issues out of the way, the delegates turned to strictly scientific matters. Winship reported on studies he and associates have made at Washington's Garfield hospital.

"Lipid pneumonia has been found most commonly in those who have used nose drops or spray over a long period of time and also in those who have taken mineral oil for constipation repeatedly," he said.

"The third most common cause of this disease is forced feeding of infants."

He said forced-feeding may cause the infant to vomit, thus pushing certain material in the food into the lungs.

"The most dangerous element in this material," he said, "is either one of the fish oils or butter fat from milk. Even small amounts of either of these oils cause a violent tissue reaction in the lungs.

"When the oil is repeatedly introduced into the lungs, death usually results."

On the question of dues, the next move is up to secretaries or treasurers of hundreds of county medical societies throughout the country.

They're the ones who'll have to bill an estimated 122,000 of AMA's total membership of 143,700.

The prospect is that retired doctors, those who are ill, those who may be having a hard time financially, and hospital interns will be exempt.

If any regular dues-payer falls in arrears for a year, he can expect a letter from the secretary of the AMA. If he doesn't pay up within 30 days after he gets his letter, he loses his membership in the world's largest medical organization.

He can get back in by paying up what he owes.

Texas U. Board Of Regents Open Meet On Building Work

GALVESTON, Dec. 9. (AP)—A two-day session of the University of Texas Board of regents opened here today with talk of financial and construction plans throughout the large system.

Contracts totaling $378,712 were awarded for additions to the power plant and laundry of the university's medical school here.

A mechanical contract for the addition was awarded the Farwell Co. Inc. of Dallas for $300,912. The structural and architectural contract, totaling $77,400, went to the O'Rourke Construction Co. of Houston.

The board passed a resolution approving an application to the federal government for a grant to help with construction of the proposed Ziegler Memorial Tuberculosis hospital. The estate funds for the building totals about $300,000. The same amount will be asked from the federal government.

Dr. T. S. Painter, university president, in a report on the residency training program, said that more than 70 of the 80 residents are being aided by the university. Five years ago only four or five were aided, he said.

The board is scheduled to hear reports from Dr. W. H. Elkins, president of Texas Western college in El Paso; Dr. Fred Elliott, dean of the Texas Dental college in Houston; Dr. W. L. Hart, head of the Southwestern Medical college in Dallas, and Dr. R. Lee Clark, head of the M. D. Anderson hospital for cancer research in Houston.

Dudley K. Woodward of Dallas, president of the board, notified R. L. Thomas, president of the Texas Society for Crippled children, in Dallas this afternoon that the regents approved a five-acre tract of land for a state school for cerebral palsied children. The tract would be granted out of the Southwestern Medical school campus.

A 200-bed, $80,000 hospital and training school for cerebral palsied children was approved by the last Legislature. Another $800,000 was granted for operation of the center. However, the actual building program was vetoed by the late Gov. Beauford H. Jester.

Thomas has suggested that the school would serve as a laboratory for medical students and that it could be used for training physical therapists.

In a verbal report to the board this morning Dr. Clark asked that the plans for the new cancer research hospital be revised. He said recent additions to the building fund had raised the total from $3 million to $4,100,000.

Clark said that he had been informed that the hospital will get a part of the proceeds of the Shamrock charity bowl football game on Dec. 17.

"Also Walter Winchell has informed that funds from the Damon Runyon fund will be available to our hospital," Clark said.

Yule Programs And Parties Held By Church Classes

End of the week news is that of Christmas programs and parties for various church classes and groups.

First Baptist Bethenian class gave a Christmas party at the Party house in Mackenzie State park Thursday night. Husbands were guests.

J. H. Cox offered prayer. Mrs. L. A. Ellis, class president, introduced the social committee, Mrs. F. M. Brookmole and Mrs. M. H. Branson who directed the following program: Reading of the Christmas story from the Bible by Mrs. Jack Shisler, interspersed with carol singing, led by Mrs. Cox, with Mrs. Roy Morris at the piano; reading, "The Drum Goes Dead," Mrs. J. J. Willingham.

Mrs. Ellis presented Mrs. Willingham with a gift on behalf of the class. Articles of clothing were brought, to be distributed to needy children.

Groups 2 and 3 served refreshments.

Meet For Lunch

Members of First Baptist Naomi class who attended a covered dish luncheon at the Activities center Thursday, voted to pack a Christmas basket for a needy family.

Mrs. R. D. Bumpass, a guest, offered the invocation and Mrs. H. V. Bigham gave a devotion on "Christian Living." The benediction was by Mrs. L. G. Haynes.

Thirteen members were present. Mrs. Mary L. Thompson presided for business.

Christmas Story Read

The Christmas story as recorded by Luke was read by Mrs. M. L. Eagle for Jane Bickley circle of Asbury Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service Thursda yafternoon at Mrs. A. S. Westbrook's, 1904 Ninth. Mrs. J. H. Rhea was co-hostess.

A review of a talk made by Dr. W. F. Faulkner at the Methodist National Seminar in Nashville, Tenn., last summer was given by Mrs. C. A. Bickley. Mrs. Bert Douglas offered a prayer and Mrs. Eagle presided.

The eight members attending made plans to help a needy family on Christmas.

Play Presented

Wesley Players presented a play, "Corn Husk Doll," at a Christmas dinner given by First Methodist Wesleyan Service guild in Hilton hotel Wednesday night. Forty members and guests attended.

Decorations were in the traditional Christmas motif.

Intermediates' Party

Intermediate girls and boys classes at College Avenue Baptist church attended a Christmas party Thursday night in the educational building. Hosts were the teachers, Mrs. L. H. Martin and Troy Edwards.

Gifts were brought to be placed in a basket for an unfortunate family.

After a series of games, refreshments were served.

Garden Club At Dinner

Lubbock Women's clubhouse, 2020 Broadway, was scene of the turkey dinner and Christmas party given by Bud to Blossom Garden club Thursday night. Mrs. O. B. Ratliff and Mrs. Larry Kennedy were hostesses.

Vacation movies and slides of flower arrangements and yards were shown by Mrs. Kennedy.

Gifts were exchanged by the following: Mesdames J. W. Harrison, Ira Owens, G. W. Tate, F. J. Batsell, Vernon Matheny, L. R. Harrison, Perry Adams, C. W. Trippe, C. N. McGhee, Voris Myatt, Jim Roberts, Roy Wheeler, Sam Hitch, E. B. Herriage, J. B. Marion, Foy Johnson, C. E. Connally, J. F. Bennett, T. E. Milam, Carl Sutton and Miss Zera Dopson, and the hostesses.

Potter County Court Held Unconstitutional

FORT WORTH, Dec. 9. (AP)—The second court of civil appeals today affirmed a trial court decision holding that creation of a domestic relations court in Potter county by the 51st Legislature was unconstitutional.

The original suit was brought by E. E. Jordan, county judge of Potter county. The suit was for mandamus because the order refused to approve vouchers and warrants for costs in the newly created court on the grounds that the court was not constitutional.

The trial court in Amarillo found that the domestic court "for all intents and purposes" was a district court, and that since it did not conform to the pattern of a constitutional district court, the act creating it was null and void.

The appellate court, on appeal from Jordan, affirmed the decision. Associate Justice Hall, who wrote the opinion, pointed out that the act creating the domestic relations court did not set out the qualification of the judge presiding and did not specify that the court must be held in the county seat of the county. Further, the opinion said, the judge of the domestic court was appointed, not elected, by a "small minority".

Pythian Sisters Meet At K-P Hall To Elect Officers

Officers elected by Pythian Sister Temple Thursday night at K-P hall are as follows:

Mesdames Jack Abbott, most excellent chief; S. C. Myers, excellent senior; Lillian Gothardt, excellent junior; J. G. Wilbanks, manager; J. R. McKinley, secretary; J. B. McManus, treasurer; R. B. Sampson, guard; George W. Crosby, protector; Glen Wolfe, degree staff captain; E. H. Bergman, installing officer; Victor Voegeli, grand representative; Perry Adams, alternate representative; and J. R. McKinley, press correspondent.

A Christmas party to be held jointly with the Knights of Pythias was planned for Dec. 21 at 7:30 p. m. at the K-P hall.

The next business meeting for the lodge will be held Dec. 29.

Shallowater Club Entertains With Christmas Dinner

One hundred two persons attended a Christmas dinner and gift exchange given by Shallowater Home Demonstration club Thursday night at the Shallowater clubhouse.

A large lighted Christmas tree was decorated with silver foil ornaments made by Mesdames G. L. Catlett, George Leftwich, Elmer Conger, John Redwine, Newman Casey, R. B. Sport and Bill Rodgers.

Evergreen trees, reindeer and snow decorated the dinner tables and Christmas scenes were arranged in the clubhouse windows. Salt and pepper shakers from the collection of Mrs. Rodgers were used on the tables, also.

Children's Gifts Are Given By Club

Mrs. C. T. Potts was hostess at a social and business meeting of As You Like It club Thursday in her home south of Lubbock. Gifts were exchanged, and gifts for children were brought for Milam's home. Games in the Christmas theme were played and refreshments were served to:

Mesdames L. C. Brown, Boyd Coleman, Tolbert Coleman, Ralph Guthrie, J. L. Haynes, Theo Lide, L. F. Lincecum, O. O. Mabry, Jimmy McDonald, W. M. McFarland, G. C. Pitts, W. H. Richardson, J. L. Sossoman, J. F. Sullivent and H. L. Wells.

Alumnae Meet For Exchange Of Gifts . .

An exchange of gifts featured the party given for Sans Souci Alumnae Thursday night in the pocket room at Womble Olds. Mrs. Ted Crager and Mis Elizabth Howard were hostesses.

Guests were Mesdames Wade Miller, Travis Shelton, Robert Williamson, Eldon Rawlings, Bob Myrtle, Bill Anthony, Misses Jean Newman and Ann Webb.

Forrest Lumber Company To Stage Formal Opening Of New Store Here Today, Sunday

Formal opening of a completely remodeled and new Forrest Lumber Company store at 1300 Fourth street will be held today between the hours of 10 a. m. and 9 p. m. and Sunday from 1 to 6 p. m.

Musical entertainment and movies will feature the program and coffee and doughnuts will be served visitors. Each adult person attending the opening will be given a pine seedling and there will also be souvenirs for the children.

The new building represents many years of planning and a long-standing aim of the company. When the Lubbock store was purchased in 1943, the company issued a statement to the Avalanche-Journal: "We are coming into Lubbock at this time because we believe in the future of Lubbock and the South Plains. We believe that when the war is won, Lubbock and the South Plains will resume its normal trend of growth, and we want to have a part in that development."

Back in 1906, the first Forrest Lumber company was established in Texico, N. M., by S. S. Forrest, sr. In 1908, he went to Clovis, N. M. and established the first retail store in that city, known as the Forrest Hardware Company, which he operated until 1920 when he entered the lumber business in Slaton.

In 1923, S. S. Forrest, sr., entered into partnership with his son, the late S. Lamar Forrest at Slaton and Lamesa. S. Lamarr Forrest was the founder of the present business known as the Forrest Lumber Co.

He began adding yards back in 1930, and established stores at Andrews, Seminole, Morton, and Whiteface between then and 1942. The Lubbock store was acquired in April 1943, when the company bought out the Builders Lumber Company from Sam H. Reid, Jr., and associates.

S. Lamar Forrest died in February 1948, and the presidency of the company was taken over by S. S. Forrest, Jr., who had been acting as general manager for several years.

S. S. Forrest, Jr., president of the company is a graduate of Texas Tech, and did post-graduate work at Northwestern University of Chicago. He moved to Lubbock in 1945, and presently makes his home at 3119 Nineteenth.

Covers 12,000 Square Feet

The growth which this company envisioned in 1943 has certainly come to Lubbock in 1949. The new store building covers an area of 12,000 square feet, and is constructed to carry a second store if needed. The district offices of the company are adjacent to this store. These offices occupy over 3,000 square feet and handles the operation of the various stores.

This store and the adjoining warehouses and five acres of land go to make this the largest retail building materials store in West Texas. It has a wide variety of departments, including a builders hardware department that in addition to a complete stock of residential hardware of every type, also has a contract hardware department to handle schools, churches, hotels and office buildings.

The store has a plumbing department which carries a complete stock of plumbing fixtures, water heaters and floor furnaces. The floor covering department handles linoleum, asphalt tile and rubber flooring in many patterns.

Other Departments Featured

The new store will feature one of the most complete stocks of paints and paint products in any retail building materials store. A new color arrangement makes it possible to match hundreds of shades of colors, while a new improved paint shaker assures a perfect mix of the pigments.

Outstanding in the store are the metal and wood kitchen cabinets on display in the cabinet department. These cabinets are factory-finished and constructed in units that can be arranged to fit any kitchen, regardless of size or shape.

Other Special Departments

Forrest has put in a Plywood Department that features plywoods from many beautiful native and imported woods. Philippine mahogany, Bird's Eye Maple, Figured Red Gum, Canadian Cedar, American Elm, American Walnut, and many other unusual woods are available from stock.

Another special feature is the special order hardwood department. This department features woods from far-away places like Borneo, Australia, France, Africa, India, South America, England, Guatemala, and the West Indies. Samples are on display, and each order placed separately.

Out in the lumber yard itself lumber is handled by means of a mechanical unloader, capable of lifting 15,000 pounds with ease. This type of handling means faster, more economical handling of all types of building materials, both in loading and unloading.

Power Tools Rented

Among the new features of the store are the power tool rental department, which rents power saws, sanders, hedgeshears, floor waxers and other power equipment by the hour or by the day.

Sam Lemons is in charge of the Home Planning Center of the store. He is also in charge of real estate, and handles the "one-stop" service that handles all of the home builder's problems in one office, including loans.

J. Ben Cole Manager

Personnel of the local store includes J. Ben Cole, Jr., manager, G. A. Martin, assistant manager, Mrs. Geraldine Spears, bookkeeping, Sam A Lemons, Home Planning and real estate, J. C. Ross, office manager, Larry Copenhaver, cabinets and built-ins, Winston Robertson, paints, Don Britt, merchandising, C. P. Strain, repair and remodeling, Bill B. Wheeler, shipping, H. A. Wyatt, hardware, Ed L. Cain, Manuel Aguilar, Elvin Levels, Fred McCrummen, W. D. Hale and M. F. Carr, sales and deliveries, Neal Williams and Jessie Aguilar, mechanical unloading.

Officers of the company are S. S. Forrest, Jr., president, Edwin L. Forrest of Slaton, vice-president, and Hark Hailey, secretary-treasurer. At the present time Forrest Lumber Company has stores at Andrews, Seminole, Lamesa, Morton, Whiteface, Anton, Snyder and Lubbock. After January 1 the firm will assume ownership and management of stores at Slaton and Post, giving the company a 10-store coverage of West Texas.

Tea Honors Ralls Girl

RALLS, Dec. 9 (Special) — Miss Betty Smith, bride elect of Dayne Norris, was honored at a pre-bridal gift tea given Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Bill Jones.

The line was made up of E. W. Smith, mother of the honoree; Miss Smith; Mrs. Elmer Norris, mother of the prospective bridegroom; and Mrs. Billy Fortenberry of Monroe, sister of the bride-elect.

Mrs. Virgil Chron registered guests.

Mrs. Joe Chron and Miss Minnie Nell Chron presided at the refreshment table, which was laid with a lace cloth over red and centered with a bridal doll sitting on a Christmas package. Large red candles, decorated with satin bows and bells accentuated the Christmas theme.

Holly and poinsettias were placed at vantage points about the rooms.

Others in the house party were Mesdames R. H. Moses, L. T. Bledsoe, R. E. Dodd, Will Marr, L. L. McDermett, Clarence Verett, John Tarleton, Jimmy Benton, W. E. McCauley, Miss Joyce McDermett and Miss Frances Ann McCauley.

Miss Wanda Demard and Mrs. W. P. McKee played piano selections.

Mass Movement Of Continents Indicated By Maryland Rocks

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—Are the continents of the world moving masses, like great ships? Or were they once such moving masses, now firmly anchored in place?

Dr. Vannevar Bush, president of Carnegie institution of Washington raised these question today because of rock formations his staff of scientists found in Maryland.

His annual report discloses that these rocks contain patterns of magnetization millions of years old. But these patterns are ones that apparently should be contained in rocks of South Africa, almost 8,000 miles away.

Reversed Poles Indicated

This is so because the pattern of magnetization, which is merely the compass direction implanted in the rocks at the time they were formed, indicates the magnetic poles were the reverse of what we have today.

North is where south should be in the rock pattern. This means the rock formation may have moved from one side of the world to the other at some prehistoric date.

Or the earth's magnetic field may have been reversed, or at least changed, in some prehistoric age. Once the north magnetic pole may have been where the south now is.

Pattern Change Possible

Another possibility is that some great electrical force within the earth may have changed the magnetic field pattern over a large area of the earth at some early date, but not throughout the whole earth.

Dr. Merle A. Tuve, internationally known director of the institution's department of terrestrial magnetium, says no bolt of lightning or similar event of comparatively weak force could have changed the natural pattern in the rocks of this particular area of Maryland.

The area is too large—at least 50 miles in length—to have been so affected, the report says. And similar patterns of magnetization have been found as far away as Birmingham, Ala.

Surprising Questions Opened

Dr. Tuve says the Maryland discovery has "opened surprising questions relating to the possibility of great movements of the earth's crust with respect to the core and geographic poles during ancient geological epochs."

And Dr. Bush, who headed the government's science research in the war, adds:

"For years discussion has been aroused by the theory that the continents of the earth as we know them may have drifted from some earlier configuration to their present pattern, and, indeed, that they may still be imperceptibly moving."

He says the Maryland rocks certainly contain evidence that bears on the question.

Sponsors' Chiding Backfires In Model Legislators' Vote

AUSTIN, Dec. 9. (AP)— When members of the Hi-Y model legislature cast initial ballots for governor today, Kyle Rote of Southern Methodist university received one vote.

One of the TMCA advisors rose to chide the model legislators: "We are down here for serious business."

There was a runoff election.

Kyle Rote received four votes.

Use Thought In Buying Presents

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeature Beauty Editor

It's an old American custom to "put on the dog." We seem always to be divided into two camps —people who live above their means and people who are so tight they squeak.

At Christmas time we find generous little girls who think twice about buying themselves much-needed hosiery, spending their last six months' allowance and their piggy bank accumulation on fabulous presents for friends and family. On the other hand, many of our well-heeled friends either ignore Christmas or brush it off matter-of-factly.

While it is fun to give, we do not have to exhaust our savings each Christmas. It is a little silly to save all year and then throw it all into the Yule knap-sack. You know perfectly well that your friends will love you even for that token gift, if you put a little thought and planning into the purchase of it. The way things go these days, every year you spend just a little bit more on each person, until finally you are in debt because you are too generous.

Plan your gifts before you start shopping. Figure out exactly how much you can afford to spend on each recipient. Then shop wisely to get the best value possible. If you do not put a leash on your list, you will find yourself settling for the first attractive gifts you see. Take your time and get your money's worth.

Keep in mind that the cosmetic counter is a good place for the budget shopper. There is something to be found there—from soap to compacts—to please every girl on your list.

Music Festival Is Held For P-T Unit

ACTION MAY BE DELAYED

Bitter Struggle Expected Over National Health Insurance Plan

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—You don't have to be a prophet to see what's coming: the endless, bitter arguments in 1950 over the President's national health insurance program.

If I had to bet, I'd bet it doesn't pass in Congress next year. There's support for it there, but a lot of opposition. Mr. Truman's friends may not even try to bring it up for action in Congress in 1950.

Instead, they may leave it in the talking stage and then make it a campaign issue in the congressional elections late in 1950. Just the same, there'll be no lack of talk about it. Just as there was no lack in 1949.

Coverage Would Be Broad

Mr. Truman had been urging a national health insurance plan for years. He handed it to Congress last April. Very briefly, this is an outline of it:

About 120,000,000 Americans would be covered. The bill says the program would be financed by a payroll tax of 3 per cent, split between employers and employes on the first $4,800 of a worker's pay.

And the government would chip in some money which, of course, would come from other taxes. Total cost a year? Trumanites say: Maybe $5 billion. Opponents say: a lot more than that.

Oscar Ewing, head of the Federal Security administration which includes the public health service, is in Europe now examining health programs there.

He'll have plenty to say when he returns in January—which is when Congress returns—since he's one of the main pluggers for the Truman program. And the President can be expected to say more in 1950.

Socialism Denied

But so will the American Medical association (AMA) have plenty to say, since it's the most vocal and active opponent of Mr. Truman's ideas on health. What the AMA did yesterday leaves no doubt of what it will do and say in 1950.

AMA officials call the Truman plan "socialized" medicine. (Trumanites deny there's anything socialistic about it at all. They say it's simply a long overdue plan for the country's general health.)

Pointing to the tax workers would have to pay for the program—if Congress approved it—AMA officials have called it an "extreme example of compulsory paternalism."

Yesterday the AMA decided to assess its members $25 each, per year, to fight the program. AMA officials called this a "voluntary assessment."

Most doctors are members of AMA although not all of them oppose the Truman plan. Those that won't pay will be expelled. No member has to pay dues now.

Some Doctors For Plan

It was estimated this method will raise around $3 million a year with which AMA can fight the Truman insurance program and do other things.

Some doctors have been critical of the AMA's fight against the program. But some of Mr. Truman's Democrats don't see eye to eye with him on all the details of his program.

For example, only two days ago Senator Douglas, Illinois Democrat, proposed a health program of his own and had this to say:

Supporters of Mr. Truman's plan and those who on the other hand support the AMA "are in a deadlock because they are more interested in hitting at each other than finding a solution to the very real problem of sickness costs."

Other senators who may be expected to fight for the Truman program have said a thorough study is needed. It's pretty certain that, before any health program is passed, if it's passed, it will get a searching going over, and that will take time.

Methodists Approve Funds For Missions

BUCK HILLS FALLS, Pa., Dec. 9. (U.P.) — Methodist missionary appropriations totaling $12,448,957 were approved today at the closing session of the annual meeting of the church's board of missions and church extension.

The board also pledged its "eager" co-operation to Chinese Methodists in their work in Communist-controlled China.

The pledge was cabled to China after receipt of a message from the China Central conference in Shanghai declaring that the "Methodist church in China lives in a period of new opportunities" under the "peoples government."

"At the center of the new democracy," the Shanghai conference said, "is an intense desire to improve the welfare of the masses of the people of China. This desire is one which the Christian church in China long has cherished."

The board, in its cabled message, stated that "we are eager to co-operate with Chinese Methodism in its ministry to the spiritual and physical good of the people."

It also appealed to American Methodists to "show faith in their 168 missionaries in China and in the Chinese Christians."

The allocation of funds for the fiscal year beginning next June includes $5,580,373 for the women's division of home and foreign Christian service; $4,467,329 for foreign missions and $2,401,255 for home missions.

It was announced at the closing session that nearly 1,000 new Methodist congregations were organized and new churches built for them during the past four years. Church extension missionary funds were given to almost all of these new churches.

At last night's session, 25 new missionaries were commissioned in the church.

Car-Truck Collision Results In $12,175 Damage Suit Here

Judgment in damages totaling $12,175 was asked in a suit filed by Ignacio Vega and others Friday afternoon in Judge G. V. Pardue's 99th district court.

The suit grew out of a collision of a car and a truck Nov. 26 on Fourth street, it was alleged.

Named defendants were J. S. Johnson and wife Ruth Johnson.

Vega brought the suit for himself, his wife and as father and next friend of two minor children, and asked $8,400 for car damages alleged and for personal injuries and impaired earning capacity of members of his family. Filiberto Garcia, another plaintiff, asked $3,775 in damages.

The petition, filed by the law firm of Boling, Smith and Allen, alleged that Vega was driver of the car, Mrs. Johnson of the truck.

Australia is studying a hydro-electric and water-conservation project on the Burdekin river to cost an estimated $96,000,000.

NEW 'ROUND THE WORLD CHAMP — Thomas G. Lanphier, jr., of Falls Church, Va., is congratulated by former record-holder Eddie Eagan, right, N. Y. State Athletic Commission chairman, as the former wartime aviator lands at La Guardia Field in New York City Lanphier's arrival completed a globe-girdling flight as a passenger aboard scheduled airlines in the record time of 119 hours and 47 minutes after his takeoff from the same field Dec. 2. Eagan claimed the previous record of 147 hours and 15 minutes. Lanphier's trip, made in connection with the 46th anniversary of the first Wright brothers flight at Kitty Hawk, N. C., Dec. 17, was sponsored by the Air Force Association. He carries a letter from President Truman to be delivered at Kitty Hawk. (AP Wirephoto.)

More Schools Block Red Attempt To Push Propaganda Bulletins

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP) — Communist Russia apparently is trying to get its propoganda magazine into American schools. This came to light today with reports that the attempt has been nipped in at least two cities.

School officials here disclosed the Soviet information bulletin—a slick paper magazine giving a rosy picture of the Soviet way of life — was mailed to city high school libraries at the beginning of the fall term.

The copies were impounded.

Bulletin Received Here

Several weeks ago the Soviet bulletin began arriving at high schools in Texas, including those at Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, Corpus Christi and Lubbock. School authorities in Texas said they were also impounding the literature.

At Springfield, Mass., Superintendent of Schools Alden H. Blankenship announced yesterday he had ordered the destruction of "propaganda magazines" sent by the Russian embassy to school libraries there.

Schools in other Massachusetts communities also have reported receiving the material.

Wide Distribution Reported

Norman J. Nelson, first assistant superintendent of schools here, said he had heard that the information bulletin had been distributed to California schools. It was Nelson who reported the action of school authorities here.

A query to the Soviet embassy on how extensively the magazine is being circulated to the schools brought this reply from second Secretary Valentin A. Sorokin:

"We do not divulge our subscribers to anyone. I'm afraid I couldn't answer that question."

Funeral For Robert L. Mimms, Auto Wreck Victim, Set Today

DICKENS, Dec. 9. (Special) — Funeral services for Robert Lee Mimms, 56, Robertson community farmer who died Thursday morning in the Crosbyton clinic-hospital of head injuries received Dec. 1 in an automobile accident west of Ralls, will be conducted at 2:30 p.m. Saturday in the Dickens Church of Christ.

Officiating will be Leonard Dennis of Crosbyton and R. N. Slack of Lorenzo. Burial will be in Dickens cemetery under direction of the Marr Funeral home of Ralls.

Mimms had been a resident of the Robertson community for the last two years, moving there from Dickens.

He is survived by his wife; three sons, Jerry Eugene, Donald Lee and Jacky; a daughter, Carolyn; two brothers; Roy of Stockton, Calif., and O. M. of Ralls; and five sisters, Mrs. Earl E. Bivins, 1520 Thirty-first, Lubbock; Mrs. O. E. Minix, Spur; Mrs. Harmon Folley and Mrs. Ozella Lee, both of Stockton; and Mrs. J. D. Graham of Dickens.

Jaycee Speaker Urges ABC To Fight U.S. Governmental Waste

Bill Tinney, a member of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce and an instructor in the dairy manufacturing department at Texas Tech, Friday asked support of the American Business club in combatting waste, duplication and corruption in government spending by adoption of the Hoover commission report findings and recommendations.

Speaking at a luncheon meeting in the Hilton hotel which was also attended by Congressman George Mahon, Tinney assured members they would lose no services from the government if the Hoover Commission suggestions are enacted into law.

Congressman Mahon said he was in favor of cutting wasteful government spending.

Carl Baily, chairman of the club's nomination committee, presided over a session for nomination for club offices. Only one new nomination was added to the list already prepared by the committee. A. C. Sanders was nominated for the office of president.

Bailey announced that W. D. McCarty and Grady Knight are the committee's choices for candidates as secretary-treasurer.

President George Dale announced formal opening of the Boy's club will be Dec. 16.

Coast Guard Rescues 18 From Yacht Threatened By Breakers

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 9 (U.P.) — A Coast Guard lifeboat from Sullivans Island near Charleston, S. C., rescued 18 men from the yacht Francis III today when it went aground on dangerous breakers off Charleston.

Coast Guard rescue control here said the yacht reported herself in trouble at 12:33 p.m. today.

A lifeboat put out immediately, took on the 18 men and returned to the Sullivans island station, the Coast Guard said.

A Coast Guard patrol boat was standing by the Francis III and put a working party aboard the craft to assist the captain and two crewmembers who stayed aboard when the passengers were removed.

RECORD DEER SHOT

POTSDAM, N. Y. (U.P.) — The largest deer ever known to have been killed in the Adirondack mountains was shot this year by Joe Baker. The 12-point buck weighed 326 pounds. Veteran hunters said the previous record was a 278-pound deer shot in 1931.

Three Tech Students Attend Austin Meet

Three students of Texas Tech left Friday for a meeting in Austin today of the executive council for the Texas Interscholastic Studendt association.

Purpose of the meeting is to discuss plans for the annual convention this spring at Baylor university. Today's sessions will be held in the University of Texas student union building.

Techsans making the trip included Sterling Curtis, Snyder, president of the Tech student council, Margaret Clark, Van Horn, secretary, and Bill McCasland, Lamesa, council member. They will return to Lubbock Sunday.

The TISA was organized last spring in a state-wide convention at North Texas State in Denton after that school's student council had set the machinery in motion for co-operation among the various colleges. Dick Barnebey of NT was selected first president.

Business meetings today will begin at 1:30 p.m., with the day's activities topped by a dance in the Texas union for all the delegates. Students from practically all the 26 charter members of the organization are expected to attend.

Topics to be discussed at the business session include stimulation of student interest in elections, cleaning up of undesirable eating places around the campuses, and getting a number of colleges to join together in an effort to get more and better artists for college programs.

Such topics as those will probably be set for panel discussions at the annual convention in 1950, Curtis said. Panels at Denton last spring were along the lines of student supreme courts, disciplinary committees, campus publications, and sanitation around the college grounds.

Students representing Tech at the North Texas convention were Sterling, Miss Clark, Marshall Gettys, Clint Formby, and Lamar Jackson.

Judge Declines Ruling Youth Delinquent In Fatal Shooting

FORT WORTH, Dec. 9. (U.P.) — District Judge Bob Young declined today to put a "delinquent" tag upon young Cabe Tatum, jr., who shot and killed his brother in an argument over the sale of a milk bottle.

The sobbing boy, Cabe, reluctantly told his story at a hearing on the fatal shooting of his brother, Raymond. Cabe said the shooting followed an argument over proceeds from the milk bottle sale—money for the movies.

Cabe, 14, also told the judge that Raymond teased him continually and ridiculed him over his deformed left hand.

Upon the recommendation of county Probation Officer Lynn Ross, Judge Young withheld a formal judgment. The judge did say, however, that he would not enter a delinquency judgment against the Arlington youth.

Judge Young said he would try to help Cabe by placing him in a good foster home and arranging for him to receive mechanics training.

Stalin Named Chief Of Indian Tribes, Moscow Radio Claims

LONDON, Dec. 9. (AP)—Now it's heap big chief Stalin, or so Moscow radio says.

A Moscow broadcast said Stalin had received the headdress of an honorary Indian chief, sent as a birthday gift. Stalin will be 70 on Dec. 21.

Accompanying the headdress, said the radio, was a greeting hailing "the greatest of warriors, Josef Stalin, elected honorary chief of the Indian tribes."

The broadcast did not say what Indians sent the gift, where they sent it from, or just when Stalin had been elected an honorary chief.

Littlefield Power Crushes Ballinger, 34 To 6

7,500 Fans Watch Big Red Unleash Smashing Attack

Triumph Moves Wildcats Into State Semi-Finals Against Garland Team

By CHOC HUTCHESON
Avalanche Sports Writer

BRONCHO STADIUM, Odessa, Dec. 9—Ballinger's Bearcats fell into the Littlefield sausage-grinder here today and were badly mangled as they dropped a 34-6 decision in the quarterfinals of the Texas Class A football playoffs.

Coach J. S. Fikes' "Big Red" team from Lamb county staged its most impressive performance of the 1949 campaign as it awed a crowd of 7,500 sun-splashed fans with one of the greatest ground attacks ever unreeled on a West Texas Class A gridiron.

The triumph, Littlefield's 12th in a row since an opening-game setback, moved the burly Wildcats into the state semi-finals, where next week they meet Garland at a site to be determined Saturday.

In Complete Command

Littlefield never gave Ballinger a chance today. From the opening whistle, the Wildcats were in complete command, thanks to a rugged line which bowled over Bearcat ball-carriers with monotonous regularity.

For one quarter, the outclassed 7-A champions held Littlefield scoreless. Then the dam burst and a flood of Wildcat touchdowns poured through.

The statistics give a true picture of the lop-sided affair. Littlefield, without completing a pass, surged to 27 first downs. Ballinger did not make a first down, or get into Wildcat territory, until the third quarter, and had only three first downs in the entire game. A "desperation" 42-yard touchdown pass in the fading moments of play saved Coach Wayman Wilson's Bearcats from a shutout.

Gage Leads Attack

Frank Gage, running from the tailback slot in Littlefield's winged T formation, was the big gun in the Wildcat offensive, but had ample assistance from Tom Bailes, Gene Renfro and Charles Askew. Gage averaged exactly seven yards per try with 182 yards net in 26 carries. Bailes, the team's top power runner and leading scorer this season, netted 114 yards in 27 carries. Renfro picked up 67 yards, and Askew produced 41.

Gage and Bailes scored two touchdowns each, with Renfro supplying the final counter. The extra points came on runs by Bailes, Gage, Renfro and Askew.

But with all due credit to the backs' shining performances, primary credit for the convincing triumph must go to the burly Wildcat line. From end to end—Johnny Edwards, Jim and John Fowler, Jerry Cotter, Dick Hopping, Floyd Pinkerton and Floyd Golf—it smacked down the lighter Ballinger forwards with frightening ease, opening gaping holes on offense, and smearing Bearcat backs time after time.

Penalties Stall Offensive

Seven penalties totaling 71 yards stalled the Wildcat attack on occasion, but the Big Red team always came roaring back, twice scoring after touchdown runs had been nullified by justified penalties.

The Fikemen piled up seven first downs to dominate play through the first quarter, but were unable to score as Ballinger scrapped gamely. But at the start of the second period Littlefield began a 45-yard march that ended with six points when Bailes cut over right tackle from six yards out on a fourth-down try. Gage's running attempt for the extra point failed.

The Wildcats scored again late in the second stanza on a 12-yard march made possible by Stephen Brock's interception and runback of a Jimmy Davenport pass. Gage rammed through right tackle for the last six yards, just 45 seconds before the end of the half. He then swept right end for the extra point.

Midway through the third period, Littlefield boosted its lead to 20-0 when Gage capped a 39-yard drive with a six-yard scoring run, and Bailes powered over right tackle for the extra point.

A hip-dipping 15-yard end sweep by Bailes in the fourth quarter produced Littlefield's next touchdown, with Renfro smashing over for the conversion.

Askew and Renfro teamed to spark a 47-yard march that gave the Wildcats their closing counter. Renfro went the final yard over left guard, with Askew sweeping left end for the extra point.

Ballinger's lone tally came two minutes later, when Davenport pegged a deep pass to End Richard Winchester, who had slipped behind the Littlefield secondary. Winchester took the pass on the Wildcat 18 and raced over standing. Davenport's placement try for point was low and to the right.

Daniel Hallmark, the heralded Ballinger halfback, was held well in check by the hard-charging Wildcat forwards. His longest run from scrimmage netted only eight yards, and he was nailed repeatedly for no gain or a short loss. While Davenport's passing gave Ballinger its only score, it also backfired frequently against the Bearcats. He completed only four of 17 tosses, although Littlefield employed a pass-vulnerable "eight-three" defense most of the time, and had three aerials intercepted.

Levelland Girls Top Ropesville, 32 To 20

LEVELLAND, Dec. 9 (Special) — Levelland High school's girls basketball tournament advanced to the semi-final and final rounds here tonight, with Sudan, Whiteface, Levelland and Smyer getting past the next to last hurdles.

Levelland girls beat Ropesville 30-20; Sudan beat Shallowater 22-14; Whiteface nosed out Bula 26-24; and Smyer swamped Sundown 44-24.

Sudan plays Whiteface at 10 a.m. in the first semi-final game and Levelland faces Smyer at 11 a.m. in the other tilt. The two losers meet for the consolation title at 7 p.m. Saturday and the two winners meet at 8 p.m for the championship.

A boys game, with Levelland playing either Smyer of Pettit, will round out the night schedule.

Williams' 14 points paced Sudan to victory; Marie Baldridge had nine points for Whiteface and Rita Angel had 14 for the losers; Phyllis Tipton paced Levelland's victory with 20 points, while Tibbets had seven for the losers; and Velma Schule topped all scorers with 22 as Smyer won, while Loquita Burns had 10 for Sundown.

Westerner Cagers Roll Over Big Spring, 56 To 31

POWER BLOCKING CLEARS THE WAY—An unidentified Ballinger Bearcat loses his grip on Littlefield scatback Charles Askew (40), as Askew rounds right end and scoots downfield early in the first quarter along a path cleared by Wildcat blockers. The play gained eight yards, and was good for the opening first down of the game, which the Wildcats won 34-6. Wingback Stephen Brock, left, has blocked out one man, while Bearcat Harlan Forbus (60), is upended by Floyd Golf, Littlefield end. Tackle John Fowler (59), rushes down field, while Fullback Tommy Bailes, right, blocks out an unidentified Bearcat linebacker. It was bone-crushing power all the way as Askew and his running mates piled up 401 yards net rushing for 27 first downs against the Bearcats. (Staff Photo by Emmett Shockley.)

Port Arthur Gains Semi-Finals Class B Regional Crowns Decided

(By The Associated Press)

Port Arthur, the team rated No. 1 in the state, crashed through to the semi-finals of Class AA in Texas schoolboy football Friday night with a 13-0 victory over Marshall.

The Yellow Jackets thus ran their victory string to 12 straight.

The other semi-finalists will be determined Saturday afternoon.

Littlefield beat Ballinger 34-6 Friday to become the first team to reach the semi-finals of Class A.

Two undefeated and untied elevens met at Waco, with Mexia scoring a 26-6 victory over New Braunfels' Unicorns to advance to the semi-finals against Uvalde.

Uvalde had little trouble downing El Campo, taking an early lead and never relinquishing it to win, 33-13.

In the other Class A quarterfinals battle Friday, Garland and Mineola fought to a 7-7 deadlock, with Garland winning on penetrations to advance against Littlefield.

Saturday Austin (El Paso) will be at Wichita Falls, Abilene will meet Highland Park at Dallas and Austin will journey to Alice.

The state championship of the City Conftrence goes on the line at Dallas Saturday afternoon with Sunset (Dallas) playing Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio).

Regional Class B titles decided: Region 1—Kress 13, Olton 6.

SIX CLASS B ELEVENS COP REGIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS

Schools winning Class B Region titles included Kress, Granger, Van Alstyne, Port Lavaca, Lake Worth and Benavides.

Granger had to come from behind three times to win its 44th victory in 45 starts over Smithville for the Region 9 championship as Charles Carlson scored four touchdowns. The score was 26-18.

A blocked punt and 30-yard return by Center Charles McCleod with three minutes to go gave Lake Worth a 12-7 victory over Richardson and the Region 5 crown.

At Robstown a 40-yard pass play enabled Benavides to defeat Taft, 6-0, for the Region 11 title.

Champion of Region 4 is Van Alstyne by virture of an 18-6 victory over Richardson. Three long gallops of 56, 60 and 79 yards gave Van Alstyne its scores.

Winner of Region 10 was Port Lavaca. Friday, in a game played in mud, Port Lavaca outscored San Felipe, 28-19.

FIRST VICTORY IN FOUR STARTS

Red Raiders Come From Behind To Defeat Howard Payne, 60-59

BROWNWOOD, Dec. 9. (AP)—Texas Tech came from behind to win its first game in its last four starts, taking a 60-59 thriller from Howard Payne here tonight before almost 1,000 fans.

With the score tied at 58-all and three and a half minutes to go, Forward Jiggs Jackson hit a short shot from the side to send the Red Raiders into the lead. Herman Moore dropped a charity heave through the hoops with two minutes to go, but Tech got the ball and stalled.

The stall lasted until only 30 seconds remained, when the Yellowjackets gained possession. Three wild shot went astray and the Raiders clung to their one-point lead for the victory.

Prior to tonight, both teams had lost three straight. Tech's losses came at the hands of Rice, Trinity and Baylor. Howard Payne dropped games to TCU and Southwest Texas State, the latter taking two victories.

It was a tight ball game from start to finish, starting slowly, but finishing with a rush. The Raiders opened a fast break attack to wrest the lead away from the Yellowjackets late in the first half. The score was tied at 34-34.

Charley Pinnell and Jim Eddins each hit field goals and Gene Gibson, returned to a center position, dropped in a free throw to send the Raiders into a 39-34 advantage at the intermission.

Tech, which was controlling the backboard with its height, again failed to capitalize completely on its advantage, but Howard Payne was missing a lot of free throws to even matters.

Late in the game Tech, which had been leading ever since the half, lost the ball and the Yellowjackets caught up to tie the count at 58-58. That's when Jackson potted his important basket to give Tech its second victory of the year.

Kellow Relieved As Cubs' Coach

BROWNFIELD, Dec. 9. (Spl.).—Tracy Kellow, coach of the Brownfield Cubs, announced at tonight's annual football banquet that he had been notified that he is to be replaced as mentor of the team.

Kellow said he had been informed by Supt. S. P. Cowan that the board of trustees of the school district no longer desired his services as head coach. Kellow added, however, that he has not resigned, since his contract does not expire for a year and a half.

Informed sources said tonight that Kellow probably will be shifted to another position on the Brownfield High faculty, and that Toby Greer, assistant coach during the 1949 season, will become head mentor.

(The Morning Avalanche, attempting to contact Cowan for his comment on the situation, was unable to reach him by telephone late tonight.)

Kellow's statement was made to approximately 120 persons attending the banquet honoring the Cub grid team and its coaches.

Principal speaker was James H. Dallas, Brownfield postmaster, who spoke in place of Mike Brumbelow of Midland. Brumbelow was prevented from attending the banquet by illness.

The banquet was given by the Brownfield High school pep squad. Invocation was asked by Faris Nowell, Brownfield basketball coach. An address of welcome was made by Miss Jo Anne Machen.

Miss Ann Snedecker, Brownfield Harvest Festival queen, sang two songs, accompanied by Mrs. Richard Young.

At the gathering, Kellow, who served as toastmaster, introduced members of the football team and named lettermen. Team members presentd merchandise certificates to both Kellow and Greer for new suits of clothing.

Benediction was given by O. R. Douglas, high school principal.

Andrews Cagers Gain Twin Wins Over O'Donnell Teams

O'DONNELL, Dec. 9 (Special)—Andrews basketball teams copped twin wins here tonight over hard-fighting, but outclassed O'Donnell A and B quints.

O'Donnell varsity squadmen bowed to Andrews, 43 to 28, behind Jack Smith's 14 points. Darrell Brownlow and Billy Lane tied for high point man for the losers with six points each.

Andrews B team copped a 27 to 22 victory over O'Donnell B, with Singleton racking up 10 points. Don Sunrow led the losers with 10 points.

Roosevelt Moves Up In Tourney

Bynum and Roosevelt advanced to the finals in the girls state-wide basketball tournament being held at Roosevelt school and will meet tonight at 9 p. m. for the championship of the three-day tourney.

The Bynum sextet had little trouble in moving ahead, trouncing Idalou, 49-19, before a crowd of 800 persons as Joyce Younger poured 20 points through the hoops.

The winners held a 28-7 halftime margin and limited Roosevelt to a single point in each of the second and third quarters. Lawson and Butler made nine points each for Idalou.

Roosevelt had to come from behind to defeat East Chambers, doing so by a slim, 34-32 margin. Behind 13-8 at the end of the first quarter, Roosevelt rallied to trail 18-15 at halftime and 26-25 at the end of three periods. Margaret Rucker scored 22 points for Roosevelt, and Ryan had 19 for East Chambers.

Idalou and East Chambers meet at 7 p. m. for third place in the tourney.

In consolation play Meadow squeezed past Post, 35-34. Behind, 6-0, at the end of the first quarter, Post went ahead, 20-18, at halfhime and then trailed again after three quarters of play, 26-24.

For Meadow Henson tallied 17 points and Belew had 16, with Stewart and Johnson garnering 12 each for Post.

In another close consolation battle, Aledo led all the way to defeat Abernathy, 28-24. Head was high for Aledo, tying Abernathy's Watts with 10 points.

Meadow and Aledo open play at Roosevelt school's gym at 6 o'clock for the consolation championship.

An added attraction is an exhibition between Roosevelt boys and Shallowater at 8 o'clock.

Admission is 25 and 50 cents for all four contests.

Otho Nitcholas Named Manager Of Tyler Trojans For 1950

TYLER, Dec. 9 (AP)—Otho Nitcholas, grey haired righthander with Gladewater and Dallas last season, will manage the East Texas League Tyler Trojans in 1950.

Appointment of Nitcholas to the post was announced Friday by officials of the Class C club. Nitcholas, who had an 11 and one record with Gladewater, will be playing skipper for Tyler.

Austin High Gridders Want To Decorate Own Goal Posts

WICHITA FALLS, Dec. 9 (AP)—Maybe El Paso fans are superstitious.

Fans of El Paso's Austin high school have made a special request—that the El Paso goal post not be decorated by anyone in Wichita Falls prior to the Class AA quarter-finals game here tomorrow.

They want to do it themselves. They already have shipped a special package of crepe paper here.

It's customary for the host school to be responsible for the decorating of both the home and visiting goal posts.

J. T. HUTCHINSON WINS

J. T. Hutchinson's Ranchers defeated Boys club's Five Little Angels, 37-26, Friday at the Hutchinson gym as James Pope scored 12 points. Don Dunagan scored 10 for the Angels.

Powerful First Half Attack Gives Lubbock Early Lead

600 Fans See Locals Rack Up Fifth Straight Non-District Cage Victory

By AL WILLIAMS
Avalanche Sports Writer

Unleashing a powerful first half attack, the Lubbock Westerner cage team rolled up a 32-15 halftime lead and then went on to defeat Big Spring, 56-31, before approximately 600 basketball fans Friday night at Chapman fieldhouse.

The victory was the fifth straight in non-district play for Coach David Cook's quintet, which plays in Borger next Wednesday. The Steers suffered their second loss.

Offensive Works Well

The Lubbock offensive clicked with precision in the first two periods of the game, with center Jim Wilson and forwards Tom Cheatham and Jimmy Sexton having almost complete control of the backboard.

Big Spring could only score one field goal in the initial period as the defense kept them away from the hoop, and two shots from the field fell in the second quarter.

Meanwhile Westerner cagers were hitting easily to go ahead, 17-5, at the quarter and then almost doubling their own score while Big Spring helped its cause from the free throw line.

High scorer for the night was the Steers' Howard Jones with 17 points, 11 of which came on charity tosses. For Lubbock Guard Richard Allen garnered 12 tallies, Cheatham had 11, and Guard Carl Ince and Sexton had eight each. Seven of Cheatham's total were made on free throws.

Big Spring Scores First

Big Spring broke the scoring ice after one minute of play when Floyd Martin sank a free shot, and Wilson evened the count for the Westerners with a free throw.

Ince sent two goals through the hoop in quick succession to put Lubbock ahead, 5-1, but a goal by H. Jones, followed by a free throw, brought the Steers to within one point of Lubbock, the closest they were to be the rest of the evening. Baskets by Allen and Ince and charity tosses by Cheatham, Sexton and Allen pushed Lubbock 12 points into the lead before the quarter ended.

The second quarter was faster than the first, with Lubbock going ahead 26-8 after four minutes of the stanza.

Substitutes poured into the game with Center Walter Norton getting five points in less than three minutes and Bill Williams picking up one in relief of the regulars. Big Spring found the range momentarily in the closing minutes of the half, plunking in seven points to trail, 32-15.

Regulars played all the third quarter for Lubbock, but the hard-playing Big Spring team kept the scoring down in the period. However Lubbock scored 10 points to nine for the visitors in this frame.

With the score at 49-26 with more than five minutes remaining, Coach Cook called off the regulars, after Cheatham had fouled out, and a rough battle followed, with each team holding its own. What the reserves lacked in skill and polish they more than made up for in hustle and aggressiveness.

All points made by Big Spring in the final quarter were the result of fouls made by Lubbock players, most of them fresh from the football field, who could not curb their enthusiasm. Oddly enough all the points were made by Howard Jones.

Lubbock floorwork and passing were noticeably improved in this, their fifth conflict, and Ince and Allen deserve lots of praise for their ball-handling and defensive work, as do Cheatham, Sexton and Wilson, the three taller members of the starting five. The man-for-man defense was too much for Big Spring.

The Westerners hit 30 per cent of their shots during the game, with Ince having a .667 average with four goals in six shots. Allen had four of nine.

Steer shooting was poor, and the rebounds went mostly to Lubbock.

COWHANDS WIN "B" TEAM BATTLE EASILY, 41-23

Lubbock's Cowhands were easy winners over the Big Spring "B" at Chapman fieldhouse in the opener Friday night, winning by a 41-23 margin.

Sparked by Forward Sammy Adams, who scored 18 points, the Cowhands held a 16-2 halftime advantage, holding Big Spring scoreless in the second quarter.

Little Bobby Sexton, Cowhand guard, was a standout defensively and scored 10 points, matching Big Spring's R. Word who also had 10.

Strader Promises Wide-Open Shamrock Bowl Grid Battle

HOUSTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—The coach of the All-America Conference All-Star squad today promised a wide-open offensive battle for the Shamrock Bowl charity football game here December 17.

Coach Red Strader of the New York Yankees had his squad concentrating on passes with George Ratterman, former Notre Dame star, and Y. A. Tittle, a one-time Louisiana State great, doing the tossing.

RENFRO PICKS UP YARDAGE — By the fourth quarter, ground gaining was a familiar pattern for the Littlefield Wildcats in their game with Ballinger Friday at Odessa. Fullback Gene Renfro (42), arrow, breaks through off left tackle in the final period for six yards, as Guard Billy Frank Davis (50), moves downfield, and an unidentified Wildcat at right takes out Jimmy Endacott (11), Ballinger linebreaker. Littlefield players shown in the background are Center Dick Hopping (55), Tailback Charles Askew (40), and Tackle Arlen Wesley (56). Ballinger players Jack Fulcher (19), and Joe Vancil (30), also are shown. (Staff Photo by Emmett Shockley.)

Kress Kangaroos Defeat Fighting Olton Mustangs, 13 To 6, For Region One Title

3,200 See 'Roos Come From Behind In Second Quarter

Pounding Downfield Drives Prove Too Much For Outweighed Mustang Eleven

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

BULLDOG STADIUM, Plainview, Dec. 9—The Happy Cowboys were succeeded as Region One Class B football champions today by a power-laden Kress High school eleven that simply overpowered a game, fighting Olton High school team 13-6 before 3,200 fans here.

The Olton Mustangs drew first blood in the game, scoring on a neatly executed pass play early in the second quarter, but the Kangaroos took over at that point to control the game and the final score. They pounded downfield for the tying score after taking the kickoff and went into the lead on Tackle Charles Mason's conversion. They added the final score midway through the fourth stanza.

Outweighed Olton Fights

Olton, outweighed 35 to 40 pounds a man, fought like the Mustangs for which the team is named, but Kress gradually wore the losers down with their power plays up the middle. And when the Olton defense was set for the smashes of Halfbacks Buster Dorrough and Benny George, Quarterback G. C. Freeman stepped back to toss effective passes that hurt.

In fact, the tying touchdown came via the air lanes, with Freeman passing to Fullback Grady Borum in the end zone, the play covering the final 21-yards needed. The tally capped a 57-yard march downfield that was broken only by a five yard penalty on the Olton 39-yard line for backfield in motion.

Olton's score came with a suddenness that caught most of the crowd with surprise. End Joe Ratcliff, whose booming left-footed punts helped to keep Olton bottled up in its own end of the field most of the afternoon, got off a short kick that went out on the Kangaroo 43.

Burrus Goes Over

Fullback Huck Nichols pounded the line for three yards and Quarterback Jimmy Millsap, a heady signal-caller, hit End Don Franks on the Kangaroo 30, the wingman going forward to the 25 for a first down. Halfback Ed Burrus picked up three yards through the Kress team on a reverse and Halfback Gerald Allcorn picked up another yard.

A third down pass was incomplete when Franks, who was in the clear on the 10-yard line, couldn't make a fingertip catch of Millsap's aerial. But on the fourth down, Millsap hit Burrus on the five and he rambled over for the score.

Millsap's attempted conversion was no good, but Kress was offside. On the next attempt, Allcorn plunged over, but Olton was guilty of backfield in motion. On the third attempt, Millsap's conversion effore was low and wide.

Kress took the ensuing kickoff and marched 2 yards, including a penalty, to score in 12 plays. George simply kept pounding, pounding, pounding the center of the Olton line down to the Mustang 40. A tricky double lateral, Freeman to Borum to Ken Garrett moved Kress to a first down on the Olton 31.

Freeman hit George with an aerial for three yards and George went through center to the 21. He barely made the yardage necessary for a first down, but it didn't matter. Freeman found Borum wide open in the end zone on the next play and the score was tied. Mason converted and Kress led, 7-6.

Fumbles Hurt Mustangs

Olton got past the midfield stripe only once after that, reaching the Kress 41 early in the second half, where one of numerous Mustang fumbles, all of which hurt the losers, ended the drive. After that it was all Kress.

The winning touchdown came midway through the fourth quarter after Borum recovered Frank's fumble on the Olton 42-yard line. The pattern, for Olton fans, was monotonous. Freeman called on George and Dorrough to hit the center of the Pony forward wall and they did, alternating on the carries.

Weight Advantage Counts

The Mustangs fought back, but they could not offset the tremendous weight advantage against them and the Kangaroos literally swept the Ponies out of their way. Finally, with the ball on the two-yard marker, Freeman bucked over on a sneak.

It didn't matter that Center Kenneth Gullett blocked the extra point attempt, for the Mustangs could get the ball only to the 48-yard line before George intercepted a Millsap pass seconds before the game ended.

It was a hard-fought battle, colorless most of the time, and the longest run from scrimmage was a 19-yard jaunt by Allcorn early in the second half. Nichols had a 31-yard kickoff return and Borum chalked up a 33-yard kickoff return.

Outside of that, most of the suspense was built around how the outweighed Olton team could hold Kress, a task that they accomplished in far better style than the score indicates.

Standouts Plentiful

Standouts for Kress included Mason, Rateliff, Guard Dean Ferrell and all the backfield men. Olton, too, had its share of men. Franks, Guard Max LaDuke, End Garland Rose, Center Sammy McAdams, the outstanding defensive man on the field, and all the backfield men.

Immediately after the game, Jack Payne, vice president of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce, presented awards to each team. Capt. Mason accepted the football trophy emblematic of Region I champions and the Olton captains accepted a smaller trophy as runners-up

OLTON DRAWS FIRST BLOOD—Halfback Edd Burrus (13) is shown taking a 16-yard pass from Quarterback Jimmy Millsap early in the second quarter of the Region One Class B championship game at Plainview between Olton's Mustangs and the Kress Kangaroos. Burrus snagged the perfect pass and twisted to his right, going over with Olton's lone score of the game. Kress took the ensuing kickoff and marched down the field to tie the score and go ahead on Tackle Charles Mason's extra point, eventually winning 13-6. Olton players in the picture in addition to Burrus are, left to right, Halfback Gerald Allcorn (19), partially hidden by Burrus and End Don Franks (15), Kress players are, left to right, Fullback Grady Borum, Guard Aaron Stark (66), Halfback Benny George (20) and Guard Dean Ferrell (65). Pro Grid Loops Agree To Merge

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 9. (AP).—Professional football's four-year war was settled across a conference table today. The All-America Conference merged into the National Football League.

Thus ended one of the most costly wars in the history of athletics. Losses to clubowners soared to upward of two million dollars in the protracted battle for players and attendance.

The new league is to be called the National-American football league — the NAF. It is to be made up of 13 teams: the complete 10-club NFL and three from the fledgling AAC.

Bert Bell, the chubby, affable Philadelphia main liner, remains at the helm of the new loop as commissioner. He signed for a new 10-year pact at an undisclosed salary. Bell had been commissioner of the NFL.

O. O. Kessing, commissioner of the AAC, resigns at the close of the current season. He tendered his resignation some weeks ago.

If there is one man responsible for the merger, it is Horace Stoneham, ruddy-faced owner of the New York baseball Giants.

Stoneham is owner of the Polo Grounds, where two New York AFL teams played in 1949 and lost a considerable amount of money.

Bell and J. Arthur Friedlund, representing the AAC, told newsmen that Stoneham started the merger move by summoning Bell and Friedlund to New York last Friday.

Stampeders Rack Up Boys Club Cage Win

Busy Boys Club basketball leagues played five games Friday with the Stampeders, Raiders, Five Fools, Sorry Lot Five and Golden Gophers racking up victories.

In the Pee Wee loop affair, the Stampeders managed to gain a 7 to 3 win over the Roughies. Cricket Shirley led the winners with five points and Tyke Pemberton made a field goal for the Roughies.

The Midget league Raiders gained an impressive 46 to 17 victory over the Eagles behind the sure-shooting of Jim Hawkins and Roy Day. Hawkins made 21 and Day 18 points. Wesley Houston led the losers with eight.

Two games were played in the Junior League. In the first, Five Fools overpowered the Basketeers, 32 to 23. Dennis Calvert was high point man for the Fools with 10 and Jimmy Washington paced the losing five with 11 points. The Sorry Lot team gained a 44 to 12 win over the Fancy Five in the second Junior loop tilt. Bobby Tollison led the winners with 18 points. Leon Bostick paced the losers with eight.

The Golden Gopher quintet rolled over the Unconscious Five, 36 to 29, in the Senior tussle. Billy Diamond made 14 points for the Gophers and J. R. Bradford made 14 points for the Unconscious squadmen.

Farwell Wins Basketball Twin Bill From Whiteface Quintets

FARWELL, Dec. 9 (Special) — Farwell took a basketball doubleheader from Whiteface here tonight before 100 persons, winning the varsity game, 44-27, and the reserve battle, 49-22.

Melvin Terry with 10 points and Bob Poteet with nine led the Farwell regulars, while Plunket was getting eight for Whiteface. In the opening tussle, Bob Gerias scored 19 points for Farwell and Gilbert had 16 for Whiteface.

EDEN BEATS MARFA

MARFA, Dec. 9 (AP)—Eden defeated Marfa, 19-14, this afternoon to win the Region 2-B high school football championship. The victors rolled up a first half-lead and then hung on.

RIDE 'EM COWBOY — It's a question of who's riding who here, but it looks like an unidentified Olton Mustang is taking a free ride on End Kenneth Garrett, Kress Kangaroo ball carrier. This bit of unusual action, with both players off the ground, was taken during a second quarter drive by Kress that ended in it's first touchdown. Quarterback G. C. Freeman handed off to Fullback Grady Borum, who later lateralled to Garrett. Garrett kept on around Olton's left end for a first down, shaking off this tackler on the 35-yard line and getting down to the 30, good for a first down. Four plays later Kress scored to tie up the game at 6-6 and the extra point put the Kangaroos into a lead which they never gave up. The game was for the championship of Region One Class B. Port Arthur Downs Marshall, 13 To 0

PORT ARTHUR, Dec. 9. (AP).—The Port Arthur Yellow Jackets advanced to the Class AA football semi-finals here tonight, using a 65-yard pass play and a 72-yard run to scuttle the Marshall Mavericks, 13-0 before 14,000.

The Yellow Jackets, in negotiating their 12th straight victory, will meet the winner of Saturday afternoon's Austin-Alice quarterfinal game at Alice.

Port Arthur broke the tight defensive duel wide open late in the second quarter on a 65-yard aerial from Frank Eidom to Mickey Cappadonna, who pulled in the ball on the Marshall 30 and raced the remaining distance unmolested. Billy Whaley's placement was blocked by End James Gist.

Backed up to their own nine early in the third period, the Jackets used Cotton Mills and Eidom to move to the 28, from where Mills broke over left tackle, shook loose a tackled at midfield and scooted all the way in a mild lope, Whaley converted.

The Yellow Jackets engineered three more serious drives, one reaching the Marshall one in the first quarter, another carrying to the Mavericks nine, but the play by Gist and Center James Duncan scotched both marches.

Statistically, Port Arthur had a wide edge with a net of 270 on the ground to 79 for the Mavericks.

Three Local Fighters Are Crowned District Champs

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

Eight fighters, only three from Lubbock, were crowned district TAAF boxing champions last night at Sled Allen's arena in the wind up of the local tournament.

The winners will receive an all-expense paid trip to Fort Worth to compete in the state TAAF tournament later this month. In the finals last night, two of the winners, Light Heavyweight Dan Williams of Lubbock and Welterweight James Forbes of Brownfield, won by knockouts. There were no technical knockouts.

Williams Beats Meredith

Williams, apparently the best of the light heavyweights in this area, had no trouble chilling Harvey Meredith of Plainview in one minute and two seconds of the first round.

Forbes had more trouble rocking Pritchard to sleep, but finally sent a crashing right to the jaw that laid him away at 1:04 of the second canto.

But the best fight of the night was between Pat McCarty of Lubbock and Bill Gillespie of Plainview in a lightweight scrap. Both boys punched hard and traded blows willingly, with McCarty's zooming rights carrying more weight and authority. He bloodied Gillespie's nose in the first round and kept a crimson tide flowing down his face.

McCarty's two-fisted attack in the first round caught Gillespie off balance and the fighting Irishman kept him there. The Plainview lad socked back and shook McCarty several times, but he never did much more than slow him down momentarily.

Lewis Loses Title

Bill Lewis of Lubbock lost the featherweight title when Gerald Reeves of Odessa, who later beat a novice teammate for the crown, punched out a decision. Lewis went down once in the first round, but returned to stagger the Odessan. Reeves, a lefthanded fighter, had too much reach for the game Lewis, who kept trying and opened a bad cut over Reeves' right eye.

Reeves wrestled a lot during the fight, getting booed by the crowd, but his efforts kept Lewis tied up pretty well and the Lubbock boy, although trying, weakened. He went down three times in the final round and there was no question of the winner.

Charles Robinson of Reese Air Force Base pecked away at Nickie Flood of Lubbock to hammer him into complete submission. Flood tried, but even though he had a reach advantage, he could not use it. Robinson easily won this fight and then beat a teammate, Jack Rodrique, in a colorless final event.

Ken Nunley of Odessa beat little Ray Thornton of Lubbock in a bantamweight bout that was an exhibition. Thornton was outweighed and gave away reach that he could not overcome. It was a pretty good little scrap.

Forbes and Pritchard fought along with the end coming suddenly. Pritchard had used his ranginess to carry the fight, with Forbes ducking and holding on. Suddenly Forbes uncorked a right that found Pritchard's jaw. The Lubbock boxer went down like a poled steer and Referee Bo Sexton didn't even toll the unnecessary count.

All winners were presented with miniature trophies after the last bout by Edd Sides, who arranged the bouts on behalf of the sponsoring Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Nation Warned To Be Vigilant

tional News Service. Groves said the American public "must see that no information of any kind that might be helpful to a potential enemy gets abroad."

The 53-year-old general, now vice president in charge of advanced research for the Remington Rand company, emphasized:

"America must remain powerful. Every little step we take to help any potential opponent to overtake us is a grave mistake. We must not help them one iota. Those little steps, one at a time, could spell disaster for us."

Groves asserted that a "grave responsibility" rests on the shoulders of officials who administer America's aid programs to foreign nations. He explained it this way:

"At all times we must remember that every attempt to uplift the rest of the world through our aid, supplies and particularly our know-how should be considered to see if we in fact are strengthening a potential enemy.

"This means the officials who supervise these programs must select their subordinates with the utmost care, because they will be depending on the integrity and intelligence and ament of the people working under them to see that nothing gets out of the country which could in any way undermine our security—and with it the security of all the peace-loving nations of the world."

The general said that Russia and the United States now occupy comparable military positions and likened the two countries to two runners in a cross-country race of indefinite duration, with the U. S. leading by "a couple of hundred miles."

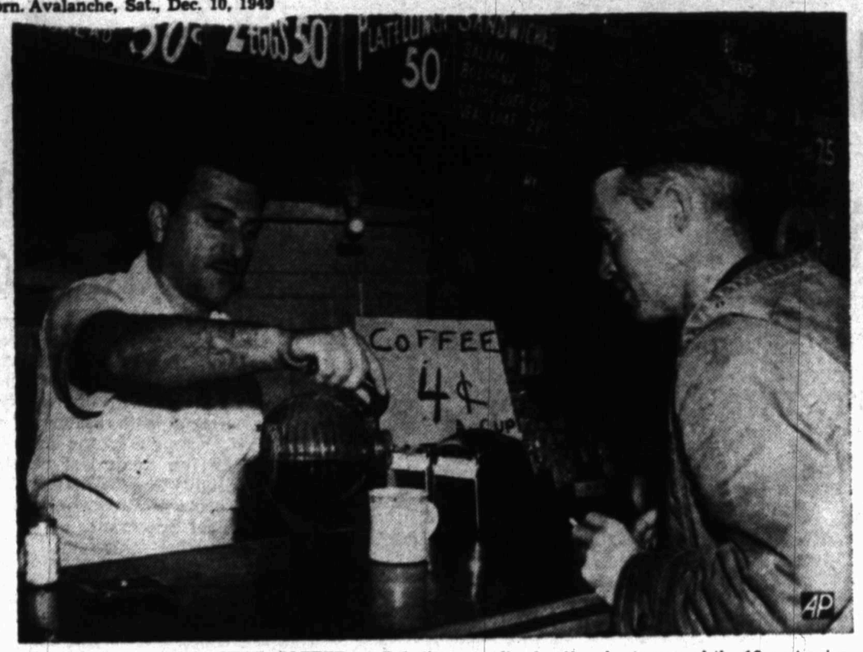

He reiterated that to help the opponent "catch up and overtake us would be a grave mistake."

Groves pointed to a recent message from General Douglas MacArthur to the Army football team before it played Navy in which MacArthur said:

"'There is no substitute for victory.'"

Groves asserted that while this advice was given to a football team "it is advice which should be engraved on the mind and soul of the American people as a guiding motive in all their actions," adding:

"If this advice is not ignored then we need have no fear as to the future of our country."

U. S. Debates Policy

viewed Formosa as an essential link in the West's periphery of island defenses. Technically, the U. S. could send troops because the island is Japanese territory until a peace treaty has been signed with Tokyo. Morally, however, the western powers long ago gave Formosa back to Nationalist administration.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek reportedly has about 250,000 troops on Formosa — approximately a 100 miles off the Chinese mainland—plus several hundred million dollars in gold.

Intelligence reports indicate, however, that the 5,000,000 inhabitants of the crowded island are subject to graft and misrule.

The current best thought of the joint chiefs of staff is that the Communists will be able to infiltrate and take over the disgruntled Formosans without much trouble.

It would take at least two U. S. Army divisions to occupy Formosa. They are not available. Also, the position the United States has taken in the United Nations on China would make such an occupation almost impossible.

REDS SEAL OFF ESCAPE PORTS FOR NATIONALISTS

HONG KONG, Dec. 9. (INS) — Chinese Communist troops spread out along the French Indo-Chinese frontier tonight and seized Kwangtung port cities in their pursuit of the fleeing Nationalists.

Reports from southern China said the Communists had sealed off all ports except the Luichow peninsula one at Paksha where Nationalists were seizing junks and boats to their Hainan island refuge.

It is estimated that Moslem Nationalist Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi, who grabbed a remnant of his Kwangsi forces, and Chen Chi-Tang of Kwangtung province, have more than 100,000 troops left from the Nationalist debacle.

In western China another sizable Nationalist force was retreating from Chengtu in Szechuan province toward Sichang, in Sikang province adjoining Tibet.

Air service between Chengtu and Hong Kong was suspended. All the planes belonging to the company operated by Maj. Gen. Clare Chennault, former U. S. Air Force commander, have been flown out along with the staff.

Man Confesses Texas Mail Box Thefts To California Sheriff

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., Dec. 9. (AP)—Marvin Elliott Mathews, 37, surrendered today to Sheriff James W. Stocker and said he is wanted in Dallas and Big Spring, Texas, for mail box thefts.

The sheriff said Mathews related taking some $1,500 in government checks from boxes on Jackson street in Dallas about four months ago. A former locksmith, Mathews said he fashioned ten keys with which he opened the boxes. He was booked for postal authorities on theft charges.

Unable To Throw Bull, Dallas Police Finally Shoot Animal

DALLAS, Dec. 9. (AP)—Three squads of police chased 15 blocks today after a big, angry brahma bull which jumped out of a pen at a packing house.

Enroute, the bull knocked one man down, but didn't seriously injure him.

Finally the cops cornered the rebel behind a house. Unable to throw the bull, they shot him.

Villemain Drops LaMotta In Bout

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (INS)—A wildly-dancing Frenchman named Robert Villemain took a unanimous ten-round decision over Jake Lamotta tonight, to win a virtually-certain shot at Jake's middleweight title.

Villemain, who lost a scandalous split decision to Lamotta in the same Madison Square Garden nine months ago, bounced into the ring as a one-to-three underdog tonight. Some of the bettors among the 9,599 crowd were laying 4 to 1, Lamotta.

By the time the wold, smashing episode was over, however, the Branx champion, fighting for the first time since he wrested the title from the late Marcel Cerdan in Detroit last June, was a battered beaten man, leaning against the ropes for breath and solace.

Judges Arthur Suskind and Joe Agnello and referee Ruby Goldstein were undoubtedly mindful of the fact that the last Lamotta-Villemain bout resulted in the suspension of the two officials who called Lamotta the winner. Tonight there was precious little room for doubt.

Suskind and Agnello scored the fight the same—seven rounds for Villemain, three for Lamotta. Goldstein had five for Villemain, three for Jake, two even.

Villemain, who looks something like a frantic squash player, took about three rounds to come into command. Lamotta, a flabbyish 165 pounds in the weigh-in to the Frenchman's trim 162, scored early with his peculiar type of windmill punch to the lowest rib.

Jury Acquits Man Of Traffic Charge Here

Lonnie H. Johnson, 28-year-old Shallowater used-car dealer, was acquitted by a county court jury Friday of a charge of reckless driving.

The case, based on an Aug. 24 traffic ticket issued by city police had been appealed from a corporation court conviction. The jury, headed by Foreman L. C. Carpenter, deliberated less than 15 minutes before delivering its verdict to Judge Walter Davies.

Johnson's arrest in August was reviewed by the City Civil Service commission after the defendant had complained of irregularities in the handling of his case. Police had arrested Johnson after he allegedly refused to sign the ticket, then, in keeping with a policy of the department, had refused to accept his cash bond.

The commission absolved all officers concerned of any misconduct in connection with the case, and took action to make cash bonds acceptable in police court on pleas of not guilty.

Johnson was defended by Winston Brummett. County Attorney Waggoner Carr and James Moore, assistant city attorney, prosecuted.

Near Copenhagen, Denmark, a 6-foot 4-inch Dane saved two men, drowning where he could touch bottom.

Salvation Army Seeks Christmas Baskets For Needy

Even though there has been much employment on the South Plains, many families will be unable to provide Christmas "extras" because of their low income, the Salvation Army reported today as investigations of needs were disclosed. Members of the sociology classes at Texas Technological college were investigating the needs of all persons who are reported to the Salvation Army for Christmas baskets.

Fund Totals $795

Last night, Captain W. Thomas Gregory, commander of the Salvation Army in this area, reported that the Army's Christmas fund totaled $795. This was an increase of $159.00 over the previous total given. The goal for the Christmas program is $3,250 and it is anticipated this sum of money will provide for more than 400 families in this community. The Salvation Army's Christmas kettles will remain on the street each day, except when the weather makes it inadvisable.

Captain Gregory said the average retail value of the Army's food baskets will be between $12 and $15, but because the food can be bought at wholesale prices the baskets will cost a little less than $10 each.

Toy Shop Opening Set

The toy shop to be operated by the Salvation Army will open Dec. 19 and parents in families to be assisted will visit the toy shop to select toys for their children. The toys will be wrapped and the parents will take them home. "This will save a great deal of inconvenience and embarrassment on the part of those concerned," according to the captain.

Each family whose name is referred to the Army for help at Christmas time will receive food and other gifts according to their individual needs. "It is our desire," stated Captain Gregory, "to see that every family in this community enjoys the Christmas holiday season. If we can possibly help it, no one will be left out." The captain urged that anyone knowing of a family who will not be able to have a well balanced Christmas dinner without the help of "Santa Claus" report that family to the Salvation Army now.

NEWS BRIEFS

J. P. Graham, 25, of Lubbock, changed his plea from innocent to guilty of drunk driving, Friday in county court, and was fined $75 and costs by Judge Walter Davies, a judgment showed.

H. H. Willeford, charged by indictment here with theft by bailee, is held for Lubbock county by Bakersfield, Calif., Kern County, Calif., Sheriff J. E. Loustalot said in a telegram to Sheriff Grady Harrist of Lubbock county.

The city fire department extinguished a minor blaze at a garage in the 900-block Seventeenth shortly before 1:30 p. m. Friday, records showed. The blaze reportedly was caused when gas dripping from a faulty tank soaked a pile of rags and was ignited.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Klein, of 2414 Twenty-seventh, and daughter, Mary Genevieve, three, were reported to be "resting comfortably" in West Texas hospital last night. The family was transferred here from a Snyder hospital Thursday where the trio had been receiving treatment for injuries suffered Sunday, Dec. 4, in a wreck near Justiceburg. All are recovering satisfactorily, attendants said.

U. S. Debt Climbs

ficit may not vary greatly from the present level until after the fiscal year reaches the half-year point on Jan. 1.

Deficit Estimated

Budget Director Pace has estimated a deficit of $5.5 billion for the current fiscal year. But Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), and some other fiscal leaders in Congress insist that it will be seven billion.

The deficit on Dec. 7 compares with $1,491,804,327 for the same period last year. The government wound up the previous fiscal year with a red ink figure of $1,811,440,047.

Due to the slack in business this year, receipts on Dec. 7 were $401,008,342 below the total for the same date last year. But expenditures were $2,074,282,576 higher, under the impact of increased spending for defense, foreign aid, farm price supports and other purposes.

The greatest spending increase over last year was in outlays for the Air Force, which totaled $1,336,791,396, or more than twice the $618,073,135 spent up to the same date last year.

FORMER OFFICIAL SLAIN

CHICAGO, Dec. 9.(INS)—Frank Christenson, 40, former assistant state's attorney, was slain tonight by unknown gunmen as he stepped from an automobile near his suburban Cicero, Ill., hame. Christensen, who served under former state's attorney Thomas Courtney, was pronounced dead at the Loretto hospital. Cicero has long been a notorious area where gunmen of the Ricca-Guzik-Capone mob have been operating their rackets for years.

Woodruff Resigns

best interests of Baylor. I also made it clear that a compromise solution would not work because I felt that the welfare of Baylor could not be served that way.

"Today, the athletic committee met to decide the issue. I was not requested to attend the meeting and was informed after the meeting that a compromise solution to this problem had been endorsed by the committee.

"I am sure that the committee acted in the best interest of Baylor, and since I do not feel that I can do the job expected of me under those conditions. I feel it necessary to ask them to accept my resignation."

Woodruff, when contacted tonight, said he had nothing further to say than that statement. He said he "hated it for Baylor."

"I am now looking for another job," Woodruff declared. "I understand Barnhill (John Barnhill, Arkansas coach who has been talking about changes in the athletic department) has an opening."

Dr. W. R. White, president of Baylor, said he would call a meeting of the board of trustees and would recommend to the board that Woodruff's resignation be accepted. "We will secure one of the best coaches in the land," Dr. White added.

Wolf would make no statement.

C. E. Bryan, head of the Baylor publicity department, said Woodruff was through immediately although he has a new five-year contract that began Jan. 1, 1950. His present three-year contract expires this year. Woodruff reportedly was to receive $12,000 a year under the new contract.

Woodruff reportedly was contacted by Barnhill about coming to Arkansas, but that at that time he turned the offer down.

Dr. White said he would call a meeting of Baylor trustees early next week to recommend that Woodruff's resignation be accepted.

"I regret exceedingly that Coach Bob Woodruff has seen fit to resign through the newspapers," Dr. White said in a statement, "particularly since he agreed with me to work out a statement in conference and release it jointly."

White said that Woodruff brought him a written statement last Sunday in which he said the present athletic arrangement was intolerable. He said that a meeting of the athletic committee this afternoon removed Woodruff from the supervision to which he objected in his written request.

White said Woodruff later made oral demands that "we could not in good conscience make such a drastic concession."

Earlier tonight the Baylor athletic committee created a new position of stadium director and indications were athletic director Ralph R. Wolf would fill the post.

The committee announced its action after a lengthy meeting, in which it decided to "more clearly define the duties" of Wolf and football Coach Bob Woodruff. Woodruff's action came later.

Dr. White and Wolf said that Wolf was still athletic director. White said Wolf would take the job as stadium director eventually, but until he does he is still athletic director.

The stadium director would promote the sale of options and bonds sufficient to cover the cost of the new football stadium; generally direct activities at the stadium, handle ticket sales and actively further the enlargement of the Bear club.

A sudden outbreak of rumors in Waco reported friction between Wolf and Woodruff. Anonymous handbills distributed on the campus of Baylor and in Waco Wednesday night alleged such friction. One rumor had the two men resorting to blows.

White yesterday said that there had been no violence, no personal rancor. He said the two men had divergent views on the concepts of the duties of the athletic director.

were also appointed and elected.

Completion of the museum early next year will mark the end of a dream 20 years in the making, Dean of Men James G. Allen pointed out in giving a history of the museum movement as the night's first speaker.

"The idea for this building was born Feb. 28, 1929," Dean Allen secretary of the association, declared, "when Mrs. Mary Doak, then dean of women, described her visit to the British museum in England."

Entire Movement Outlined

He then outlined the entire movement, putting particular emphasis on the year 1935 when the first $25,000 was obtained from the legislature which resulted in construction of the new building's basement. That basement served as the muesum until this year.

In 1938, Dean Allen said, the museum could have been built with government help, but the association could not raise its amount of money. Subsequent money drives in 1940, 1943, and 1948 resulted in $50,000, the amount contributed by the association. A state appropriation and action of the Tech Board of directors furnished the remainder needed to build the structure.

Dr. Holden followed Dean Allen at the speaker's platform, outlining objectives of the museum and giving its plan of operation. The ground floor east wing will be used to tell the comprehensive history of this area, he said, with the north gallery enlarging upon those ideas.

Plaques To Honor Men

The east gallery on the second floor will be utilized for temporary art exhibits and the north wing for permanent works and as an auditorium for musical and other programs to be staged from time to time. Twelve plaques memorializing 12 men instrumental in South Plains history will adorn the ground floor, while 16 murals painted by 16 outstanding artists of the Southwest will decorate the walls. The 12 men are yet to be determined.

Future plans, he asserted, call for additions to the present building in order to house a children's museum, a room for natural resource exhibitions, another for textile manufacturing, and still another for more works of art. Ultimate hopes are to establish a planetorium and observatory on the campus.

Among guests particularly honored at the dinner were the four members of the Tech Board of directors, Charles C. Thompson, Colorado City, Charles W. Woodridge, Dallas, Raymond Pfluger, Eden and C. T. McLaughlin, Snyder. Others were O. B. Ratliff, Lubbock, recent member of the board, Rep. Preston Smith of Lubbock, Architect O. R. Walker, Building Contractor Bill McMillan, Construction Superintendent R. B. Smith, and W. R. Anthony, plumbing contractor and all the carpenters, painters and others aiding in erection of the building.

Other Officers Named

Officers elected besides Jones and Holden included Jake D. Hassell, first vice-president; Mrs. Roscoe Wilson, second vice-president, Chas. A. Guy, third vice-president; Roy Furr, fourth; and Sam G. Dunn, fifth; Dean Allen, secretary; Mrs. C. D. Eaves, treasurer, W. M. Pearce, jr., assistant director; W. G. McMillan, curator of natural history; Mrs. R. A. Mills, curator of old glass; and Mrs. A. B. Cunningham, curator of periodic furnishings.

Standing committees, with chairmen, included: pioneer rotunda, James H. Milam; accessions, Mrs. W. P. Clement; donor, Roy Furr; murals, W. C. O'Mara; musical programs, Dr. Gene Hemmle; ceramics and objects of art, F. A. Kleinschmidt; lecturers and special programs, Dr. E. N. Jones and committee to plan the formal opening, Dean Allen.

The museum will be opened to the public early in 1950, according to Curator Holden, with the formal opening to be staged next fall in conjunction with the college's Silver Anniversary celebrations.

ing planes and troops."

William Frye, Defense's information chief, said "I have no knowledge of the basis of Mr. Mitchell's remarks, but I can say that at no time during his service in the department did he have access to atomic energy information."

Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, chief of naval operations, said that the joint chiefs of staff know how many atomic bombs this country has in its possession but when asked if he knew where they were located he said:

"I am sorry I can't tell you."

An AEC spokesman said he doubted whether the security classification had been broken under the circumstances but said that he could not comment whether the agency would look into the matter.

Idalou, Spring Lake Cagers Play Saturday

PETERSBURG, Dec. 9. (Spl.).—Idalou and Spring Lake boys basketball teams will meet for the championship of the Petersburg High school basketball tournament here Saturday night.

Idalou went into the finals by Petersburg 23-18 and Spring Lake overwhelmed Olton 26-9 to enter the last rung. Petersburg and Olton will collide in the consolation championship game.

In the girls bracket, Spring Lake B coasted to a 30-17 victory over Idalou B and will meet Petersburg girls, victors over Idalou 23-18, in the championship. The two losers will meet in the consolation title game.

The consolation girls game will begin at 6 p.m. Saturday, followed by the boys consolation at 7, the girls championship game at 8 and the boys title game at 9.

Congratulations to:

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Yanes of Wilson on birth of twins, a daughter weighing 4 pounds 12 ounces at 1:09 p. m., and a son weighing 5 pounds 1 ounce at 1:12 p. m. Friday in West Texas hospital. The father is a farm worker.

Mr and Mrs. Ollie Burns of Sundown on birth of a daughter weighing 6 pounds 14½ ounces at 4:18 p. m. Friday in West Texas hospital. The father manages a service station.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Wright of Sundown on birth of a daughter weighing 8 pounds 8 ounces at 11:35 p. m. Friday in West Texas hospital. The father is an oilfield worker.

UN Takes Control

to internationalize Jerusalem and hold a session on that problem some time next year.

They had suggested that the secretary-general fix the place and date but the assembly batted down the whole resolution.

Move Started Privately

Uruguay and Mexico started privately the move for postponement of the Jerusalem problem as the assembly struggled toward the end of a long debate on a committee-approved plan for supreme international rule over Jerusalem.

The United States and Britain spearheaded a fight against the committee proposal. Some high delegates said it would be opposed in Jerusalem and would cost human lives in a vain attempt to enforce it.

The plan for complete internationalization was approved Wednesday by the assembly's special political committee, 35 to 13, with 11 countries abstaining.

Sweden and the Netherlands put up again today their proposal for UN supervision over the holy places only and for step-by-step demilitarization of the Holy City —now occupied in separate sectors by forces of Israel and Hashemite Jordan.

John C. Ross, United States, told the assembly UN rule would cost at least $8,000,000 per year and the UN would in fact be committed to a financial burden which would grow and might exceed its entire budget.

New Cold Wave

Afternoon temperatures at Lubbock should reach the middle to high 50's, the forecaster said, after a fairly warm minimum this morning seen in the middle to upper 30's.

Slightly cooler temperatures were predicted for Saturday night and Sunday morning.

The forecaster saw little chance for more than light drizzles or brief showers today and Sunday—and even this much moisture was doubtful.

The West Texas forecast called for partly cloudy and warmer today except showers

SKY SHOW BLOCKED

Cloudy skies in the Lubbock area last night prevented star-gazers from viewing the scheduled display of flaming meteors between 8 p. m. and midnight. However, the second act of the four-night show may be visible tonight, the Weatherman said, with chances good for clear skies.

and colder in the Panhandle tonight, with Sunday mostly cloudy with showers and colder.

The Oklahoma forecast indicated that the cold front bearing down toward the Southwest was riding in on strong winds that could sweep it easily on down into the Texas Panhandle and South Plains. The forecast for that state called for cloudy weather with intermittent rain today, changing to snow and much colder with strong northerly winds from 40 to 50 miles per hour in the northwest portion late tonight.

The forecast also called for snow in the west and north and rain changing to snow in southeast Sunday with strong northerly winds and much colder over all of Oklahoma.

High temperature in Lubbock on Friday was 47 degrees. Low was 21. At 11:30 p.m. Friday, the reading was 45.

It was a bit chilly at Wichita Falls and Mineral Wells Friday, with both reporting maximums of 44, the Associated Press said. Highest state readings were 80 at both Brownsville and Beaumont.

Republican presidential nomination.

Pace met reporters after an hour's conference with Mr. Truman.

"In my judgment," he told them, "it is improbable that you will have expenditures and income balancing in the fiscal year 1951, lacking new taxes."

Defense and foreign aid comprise half of the budget. He said the budget for the year starting next July 1 will not exceed $45,000,000,000, but he said no final figure had been arrived at.

This year's spending, he said, is estimated at $43,500,000,000 and it's prospective deficit at $5,500,000,000.

The President has promised a tight budget, which he said Congress wouldn't be able to cut.

Hearing On Injunction Against Knapp Hotel Reset For Jan. 4

Hearing on the state's application for an injunction restraining operation of Knapp hotel as an alleged bawdy house was moved up from Dec. 13 to Jan. 4, in an order or 99th District Judge G. V. Pardue on file Friday.

The court took cognizance of an amended petition, which named Gene Sitz as a new party defendant. Roscoe Taylor, a negro porter, and others had been named defendants in the original application. Sitz is described as lessee of the building.

The petition, drawn by A. W. Salyars, assistant district attorney, charges that the place, at 1105½ Ave. G, is operated so as to constitute a nuisance, and asks that the court, upon final hearing, make the injunction permanent and, in addition, close the hotel a year unless bond in the penal sum of $5,000 is posted.

Secret Uranium Deal

men were dropped.

Committee investigators said they had been informed that the State department's action which resulted in "impounding" of the court records was taken at Canada's request "and in the interests of Canadian security."

Probers In Canada

Louis J. Russell and Courtney Owens, both of the committee investigating staff, are in Canada attempting to determine why the shipments went to Russia under circumstances so secret that the Manhattan project was ignorant of it until long afterward.

It was disclosed that Chematar, Inc., the New York firm which obtained uranium sent to Russia in 1943 under U. S. export licenses, bought the Canadian uranium from Pregel's firm and resold it to the Russians.

Committee members are hopeful that the records will be available when the inquiry into Jordan's charges is resumed Dec. 19.

To Renew Inquiry

At that time, the committee is expected to re-explore charges that ex-Vice President Henry A. Wallace and the late Harry Hopkins figured in "pressure" moves to obtain vital atomic materials for the Soviet Union.

Groves, who earlier this week denied that Wallace or Hopkins ever "pressured" him, probably will return to the witness stand. In statements after the hearing, Groves implied that he was not given an opportunity to tell the full story of Russia's wartime atomic espionage attempts.

In another development, the Army said that 12 Russians were given radar training at Fort Monmouth, N. J., in 1944.

The announcement was made in connection with Jordan's charge that Russia obtained wartime radar equipment which at the time was secret.

Russians Trained Here

Signal Corps records showed that the 12 Russians were instructed at Fort Monmouth, N. J., in three types of radar operation—use against "buzz bombs" and strafing, use in gun-laying and fire control, and in "identification, friend or foe."

At Los Angeles, Col. L. Ponton D'Arce, who commanded the Great Falls (Mont.) Air base when Jordan was stationed there as lend-lease liaison officer, observed:

"It was not our duty to know what was being sent to Russia Our duty was to get it there as fast as possible."

D'Arce said he could not verify or deny Jordan's story that secret atomic materials went to Russia, but added:

"Major Jordan is not the type of man to make up a story out of whole cloth."

Thomas will not be eligible for parole until at least six months

He also must satisfy the government about the $10,000 before he's released, although if he takes the pauper's oath, he could serve an additional 30 days in place of the fine.

Asked if the fine would be paid, Collins turned it aside with: "That's the $64 question."

As head of the un-American Activities committee, Thomas presided over the stormy Hiss-Chambers investigation and over the spectacular study of Communism in Hollywood.

The FBI dug out another side of the story — payroll padding they traced back to 1940.

When the charges first were drawn up, before the 1948 elections, Thomas cried: "Cheap Pendergast politics!"

But when the case finally came to trial, two weeks ago, Thomas listened to the FBI's evidence for two days and a half — and gave up.

He threw himself on the mercy of the court.

The government had accused Thomas and his former secretary, Miss Helen Campbell, of cheating the taxpayers by putting two women on the office payroll who would do no work but would kick back their salary checks to the congressman.

Formosa May Hold Key Position In U. S. Attitude Toward China

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

Removal of the Chinese Nationalist government to the island of Formosa brings the State department face to face with reconsideration of what has been just about its only positive policy on China during the last few months.

That was the decision that nothing was to be gained by further aid to the Nationalists led by Chiang Kai-shek.

There is still no indication that the policy will be changed, but the situation suggests that it might be.

Formosa Is Important

Formosa is strategically important to the United States, lying as it does across the routes between Japan and Southeast Asia, and near enough to the Philippines so that Communists once located on the island could aid the rebels on Luzon.

John Hightower, Associated Press diplomatic correspondent, reports from the State department that the question is whether the U. S. might be able to "neutralize" Formosa at not too high a price, or turn it into an active and cooperative part of the American defense system.

The idea of military intervention, even through supplying American advisors, seems to be out of favor in Washington.

Revolution Possible

The State department has been convinced for a long time that Chiang cannot hold the island against a concerted Communist effort. They think the population would probably go against him, even stage a revolution, because of their treatment at the hands of his administrators since the Japanese war.

I know people who disagree violently. One American business man who recently visited the island was convinced that, unless they are supplied with Russian ships and planes, the Communists cannot stage a successful invasion.

Chiang Has U. S. Arms

He says Chiang, in addition to reinforcements from the mainland which have come recently, has four American-equipped divisions in Formosa organized under the former American military mission.

He derides talk of Formosan rebellion. He pointed out that he saw no guards whatever around Chiang's home or on the approaching roads, which would indeed be strange if there was a serious, organized defection of the Formosan people.

How ever the State department finally resolves this problem, Chiang's tactics seem designed to stave off American recognition of the Communist conquerors as long as possible. The Communists themselves proved how long guerrilla warfare can be conducted by determined groups, and that is what Chiang now plans in southwestern China.

Oklahoma Wildcat Near Texas Line Sets Off Leasing Flurry

TULSA, Dec. 9. (AP)—A rank wildcat well in Coal county, 60 miles north of Texas, set off a flurry of lease speculation and attracted the interest of Oklahoma oil operators this week.

It was Britton Oil company's No. 1 Jim Polk—SE SE SW of 23-2N 10E near the county seat of Coalgate which was said in field reports to have flowed 115 barrels of crude on initial test from a plug-back depth of 2,661 feet.

Completions and exploration were steady, the Tulsa World reports. There were 80 finals—a drop from last week's 92—including 49 producers and 31 dry holes. No initial gas production was reported. The average daily oil output was 4,359 barrels. Footage drilled totaled 270,315.

New locations were up slightly to 98 in 25 counties. Seminole county led with 10 starts.

Texan Wins Newspaper Contest By Naming Ranch 'Bonnie Lea'

PARIS, Tex., Dec. 9 (AP) — A brawny, six-foot rancher in Lamar county, with a Scotch burr in his voice, is $150 richer today.

His entry—"Bonnie Lea Ranch" —in the $500 cash "Name Your Farm and Ranch" contest sponsored by the Paris News won him the first prize among hundreds of entries from Northeast Texas and Southeast Oklahoma.

The rancher, Leroy R. Hanks, says he gave the name to his 357-acre place in the Unity community because "Bonnie" has always been a choice word with him and the "Lea" part, which he got while working a crossword puzzle, ties in with his improved meadows and pastures.

He gave the $150 check to his wife when it was handed to him this week by A. G. (Pat) Mayse, Paris News publisher who sponsored the contest to promote greater pride in farm and ranch ownership in Northeast Texas and Southeast Oklahoma.

Buck Rader, a Lamar county dairyman, won the $100 second prize with his entry "Milky Way Farm."

"Pleasant View Farm" entered by Mrs. Mabel Threadgill of Paris route 2 took the $75 third prize, and "Square Acres," entered by Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Dennis of Sumner, Lamar county, won the fourth prize of $50.

Insurance Payments To Vets Face Snag

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP) — The Veterans Administration has run into some problems in its plans to pay veterans a $2,800,000,000 insurance dividend in order of their serial numbers.

Some World War II veterans, it develops, never had a serial number. Some had more than one. Of those with more than one serial number, some had more than one insurance policy.

The first two problems have been solved, with only one hitch: The veterans involved can't tell when they will receive their money. Officials are still trying to decide what to do about vets with multiple serial numbers and policies.

For most veterans, the checks will start going out in January.

Youths Held At Mineral Well's Tell Of Crime Trail In Texas

MINERAL WELLS, Dec. 9 (AP)— Three teen-aged Jacksboro boys and a fourth from Oklahoma were being questioned here today after three of them admitted robbing a lone attendant at a Weatherford service station late Thursday night.

The youths, two 16, one 17 and one 19, told Chief of Police Jack Granbury and other officers that they had burglarized two places in Decatur, one at Bridgeport, one in Bowie, the Perrin school and a sporting goods store at Graford in the last several weeks.

Granbury said that most of their loot had been recovered.

Broderick Crawford To Play Part Of District Attorney In 'One Way Out'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 9.—Before the cameras so much as turn on "Born Yesterday," Broderick Crawford will make still another picture for Columbia.

Starting Monday, he and Glenn Ford will be co-starred in "One Way Out," in which Brod plays a district attorney and Glenn one of the people he sends to prison on a manslaughter charge. Sounds to me like a re-make of "Criminal Code."

In any event, Henry Levin, who produced "Jolson Sings Again," is the producer, and Jerry Bressler is named as director. You can see, although this has a high powered cast, it is going to be made in a hurry, since "Born Yesterday" is due to start Feb. 15 with Brod and Jan Sterling in the leads.

Script To Be Read

If Ann Sheridan accepts John Farrow's offer to star in "White Rose for Julie," it will not have any effect on her lawsuit against RKO, according to her manager, Andrew Hickok. Johnny is doing "White Rose" for RKO, and he makes good pictures.

Hickok says Miss Sheridan has not yet read the script, although he has sent it to her. Ava Gardner was given "Carriage Entrance," which Ann claims was promised to her and that's what all the shooting's about.

P.S. If Ann does accept, it will be the first time an actress ever sued a company for whom she is making a picture.

Actress Tests For Role

The greatest surprise testing of 1949 is the news that Sylvia Sidney is on the MGM lot testing for Cary Grant's next picture, "Crisis." Not that Sylvia isn't just one of the swellest actresses in the whole world, but she's been out of the movies for so long.

Almost since she married Carlton Alsop she has been touring the country in successful stage shows. But she is back here now, and I reckon wants to stay.

"Crisis" is the story of a South American dictator who has a girl friend prominent in his private life, and that's the lady Sylvia may play.

U.S. Auto Firms To Reopen More Assembly Lines Monday

DETROIT, Dec. 9. (AP) — More automobile assembly lines will reopen Monday, bringing additional thousands of workers back to their jobs.

Most of the lines were closed down Nov. 23 for model changeovers or because of steel shortages. Many factories recalled employes last Monday. Generally they were assigned to building up stockpiles for final assembly work.

Among the plants resuming final assemblies or attempting to increase them will be General Motors' Buick, Oldsmobile and Pontiac divisions, all the Chrysler companies, and Nash and Studebaker.

Chevrolet will get some truck output next week and will continue building up parts stock for passenger car output. The latter is scheduled to start on Dec. 19. When these new 1950 models are introduced soon after Jan. 1, Chevrolet's torque converter transmission also will be announced.

Traditional "bugs" in new model production may hold back output volume next week, but the week's total should show some increase over this week's 55,850 vehicles—less than two days' average production.

Users Of Oily Nose Drops Warned Of Possible Harm

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9. (AP) — Longtime users of oily nose drops and sprays and mineral oil laxatives are running the risk of a sometimes fatal lung disease, the American Medical association was told today.

Dr. Theodore Winship of Washington said the oily medicines are not poisonous in themselves but they can get into the windpipe and be passed into the lungs.

This, he said, can result in the formation of a hardened, sinewy tissue in the lungs—a condition known medically as "lipid pneumonia."

In severe cases, Winship said, death results from asphyxiation.

Delegates to the association's meeting heard from Winship after a history-making session yesterday, highlighted by the establishment of compulsory membership dues to establish a fund for the AMA's campaign against "socialized medicine" and other activities.

West Bengal, India, is planning to build 13,250 miles of new roads.

Coastal Farmers To Contest Cotton Quotas

Court Suit To Be Filed By Group

(By The Associated Press)

CORPUS CHRISTI, Dec. 9—Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan and a group of U. S. Department of Agriculture officials are going to be called into court to answer complaints filed by coastal bend farmers.

The farmers will charge inequities in the distribution of approximately 145,000 acres of cotton land because of "the unlawful and unauthorized acts of the defendants."

William H. Shireman left here tonight by plane for Washington, where he will file action tomorrow in the U. S. district court for the District of Columbia. If the case cannot be filed tomorrow, Shireman will file it Monday.

To Charge Top Officials

Among those to be named defendants in the action, along with Brannan are Ralph S. Trigg, administrator of the Production and Marketing administration; Frank Wooley, deputy administrator of the PMA; and E. D. Bell, chief of the production program division of the PMA.

The suit will ask that the defendants be enjoined from setting cotton acreage allotments in such a manner so as to deprive the farmers of their proper and lawful share of the war crop credits guaranteed under Public Law No. 12 of the 79th Congress and Public Law No. 272 of the 81st Congress.

The farmers also will ask that he defendants be compelled to administer provision of Public Law 172 so as to distribute to the coastal bend counties their proper distributive shares of the cotton acreage allotment as provided and guaranteed under provisions of Public Laws 12 and 272.

Lamesa Funeral To Be Held Sunday For Roy David Smith

LAMESA, Dec. 9 (Special) — Funeral services for Roy David Smith, 42, a resident of the Woody community near Lamesa, who was fatally injured in a car-truck collision six miles south of here Thursday, will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday in the Higginbotham Funeral Home chapel.

Rev. Ray of the Woody community will officiate. Burial will be in Lamesa Memorial Park cemetery under direction of the Higginbotham Funeral home. Veteran's groups will direct graveside services.

Smith was killed when the 1947 Plymouth he was driving sideswiped a large truck loaded with cotton. He died several minutes later enroute to the hospital.

Smith had been employed as a nightwatchman for the Bill White gin in Lamesa. He was a Purple Heart veteran of World War II.

Terry Test Also Makes Showing In Deep Drilling

Scurry, Gaines Wells Assured

Flowing production from the lower Strawn lime in west-central Scurry county has been assured at Sun Oil company No. 2 Lemons, on the southwest side of the northwest sector of the Kelley-Canyon field, five miles west of the town of Snyder.

This development was low on the Canyon reef lime, and was dry in that horizon. Operator drilled it deeper to explore lower sections of the Pennsylvanian.

The zone at 7,665-80 feet developed free oil in drillstem tests and a string of 7-inch casing was cemented at 7,665 feet.

After the plug was drilled the open hole was swabbed and the well kicked off and in 24 hours of flowing, ending at 8 a. m. Thursday it produced 129.29 barrels of high-gravity dark oil, and no water, through a one-quarter inch tubing choke.

During the last seven hours of the 24 hours of flowing the production averaged 6.9 barrels of oil per hour.

The well was shutin at 8 a. m. Thursday to move off the drilling rig and prepare the discovery for completion.

Location is 853 feet from south and 1,787 feet from east lines of the southwest quarter of section 205, block 97, H&TC survey.

GAINES TEST IS ALSO ASSURED AS PRODUCER

Natural, flowing production from the Devonian ha been assured at Samedan Oil Corporation and Anderson Brothers No. 1-E-A Andrews, central-south Gaines county wildcat, about 12 miles south and a little west of Seminole.

This exploration had previously flowed at the rate of seven barrels of oil per hour from the Ellenburger, through casing perforations at 11,900-960 feet.

That zone is now shutoff from the Devonian with a retainer and the Devonian has been tested through perforations in the pipe at 10,056-070 feet.

After swabbing an average of 20 barrels of new oil per hour for a short period, the well kicked off and started flowing with the swab still in the hole.

It flowed for 17 hours, through open two inch tubing and made 284 barrels of oil. Following that 17 hours operator then pulled the swab once each hour to agitate the flow and the well produced an average of 21 1/2 barrels of oil per hour for six hours, with a shakeout of four per cent drilling mud and two-tenths of one per cent drilling water.

In a subsequent one hour flow the well made 31 barrels of oil without swabbing. Operators are now preparing to wash the Devonian perforations at 10,056-070 feet with 500 gallons of mud acid, and then test further.

It is expected that the well will be dually completed as a discovery and a producer from both the Devonian and from the Ellenburger.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 19, block A-24, psl survey, and on the northwest side of the Robertson field where the production which has previously been developed is from the middle and lower Permian lime.

More than 100 feet of oil and gas producing formation has been penetrated at Tide Water Associated Oil Company, and others No. 1 Nystel, prospective discovery in Southeast Terry county, and the prospector is coring deeper.

The latest show for production came in a four hour and 15 minute drillstem test at 11,511-595 feet.

Reds' Possession Of Atom Bomb Makes War Likely, Many Believe

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute Of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J. Dec. 9—Russia's possession of the atom bomb makes another war more likely, in the opinion of one-half of the people expressing a view on the subject in a nation wide public opinion survey.

The other half either think that Russia's development of her own atomic weapons will make war less likely, or that it will neither increase no decrease the chances of war.

In general Americans who have had the most education tend to be the most optimistic about a peaceful future despite Russia's bomb. This is probably because they believe that scientists will develop a successful defense against the bomb.

Interviewers who conducted the survey put two questions to each person polled. The first was:

Now that Russia has the atom bomb, do you think another war is more likely or less likely?"

Here is the national vote:

More likely	45%
Les likely	28
Will make no difference	17
No opinion	10

The rather marked difference of opinion according to education is shown in the following table:

	College	High Sch'l	Grade Sch'l
More likely	36%	44%	50%
Less likely	35	28	26
No difference	23	19	12
No opinion	6	9	12

Some scientists have offered the opinion that a defense against the worst effects of atom bombing will be developed, while others have disputed this, claiming that victims of atom bombing will be powerless against the ravages of the bomb. The report issued by David Lilienthal shortly before his resignation from the Atomic Energy Commission painted a lurid picture of what the bomb could do to a city like Washington, D. C.

The man in the street, of course, knows nothing about the scientific aspects of defense against the bomb. But he has long held the belief, mixed perhaps with a generous portion of pure hope, that scientists will be able to develop a good defense.

The maojrity of voters felt that way after Hiroshima and still feel that way today, as the following table shows:

"Do you think scientists will be able to develop any defense against the atom bomb within, say, the next ten years?"

Yes	60%
No	19
No opinion	21

Here is the vote on the question according to degree of education:

	College	High Sch'l	Grade Sch'l
Yes	65%	67%	53%
No	23	18	18
No opinion	12	15	29

Tech Directors Studying Plans

Texas Tech's board of directors will discuss recommendations to be made by its construction committee regarding erection of four new buildings on the campus at a meeting in the president's office at 9 a. m. today.

Two members of the committee, Chanslor E. Weymouth, Amarillo and Leon Ince, Houston, met with the architects for engineering, music, science and home economics buildings Friday afternoon and will present their recommendations to the full board this morning.

Okay Of Plans Expected

It is expected that drawings for the new buildings will be approved and that the board members will call for construction bids on them. All except the home economics building will be completely new, while additions to that structure will more than triple its present size.

The proposed buildings are part of a 20-year master plan worked out by college officials for expansion of Tech. Two wings to the Administration building are currently under construction, a museum edifice is nearing completion and a student union hall and additions to the petroleum engineering building are in the planning stage now.

Besides the report of the construction committee, the directors will hear a report from the utilities committee concerning expansion of electrical and water facilities to take care of the new buildings when complete. Ince, Charles W. Woolridge, Dallas, and Raymond Pfluger, Eden, compose that body.

Mrs. Mathilda Coppin, of St. Leonards-on-Sea, just had her 107th birthday and is believed to be England's oldest woman.

Austin Girl Named To Spearhead 1950 Polio Fund Drive

NEW YORK, Dec. 9. (U.P.)—Wistful-faced Wanda Wiley, 8, of Austin, was named the 1950 March of Dimes girl today by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Wanda, who was stricken by polio in July, 1948, and still needs a wheelchair and crutches, will spearhead the March of Dimes drive Jan. 16 to 31 by appearing at rallies in several cities.

Her picture will appear on millions of posters, coin cards and collection cans during the drive to symbolize the help extended by the national foundation through the March of Dimes to thousands of polio victims who, like Wanda, are fighting their way back from the ravages of the disease.

Selection of Wanda as next year's March of Dimes poster girl was announced by Basil O'Connor, president of the national foundation, who said the 1950 fund-raising campaign will be the most urgent in the foundation's 12-year history, "coming in the wake of the severest polio epidemic in our history, which struck down well over 40,000 children and adults."

Wanda, second poster girl from Texas, is one of six children of Mr. and Mrs. Earl

AMBULANCE PROVIDES REALISM

Tech Official To Face 'Murder' Charge In Mock 'Trial' Monday

By KENNETH MAY
Avalanche Staff Writer

The mock trial of a Texas Tech professor accused of "murdering" a senior student will be staged by the Pre-Law club in the chemistry building auditorium at 7 p. m. Monday.

Fake murder of Marshall Gettys, senior football tackle at Tech, by Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, professor of education, was pulled off with much fanfare at 11 a. m. Friday. The "victim" was supposedly slugged with a book end.

A screaming Rix Funeral home ambulance arrived minutes later to cart off the "body" as a city police patrol car sped to the scene to give an air of realism to the "murder."

Stunt Impresses Co-Eds

An annual stunt of the Pre-Law club to provide a basis for a practice trial, the fake killing impressed many co-eds as the real thing as they lined the stairs and hallways leading from Jackson's office on the second floor of the administration building.

Max Osborne, senior Pre-Law student from Pampa, will act as prosecuting attorney in the mock trial, while Jerry Wilson, Lubbock, will defend Dr. Jackson.

"We will 'prove' that the events leading up to this tragic occurance are part of a Communist-inspired plot to discredit Dr. Jackson and the entire educational set-up at Texas Tech," Wilson asserted in a press interview Friday afternoon.

Victim Claimed 'Eager'

Counseling the defendant to say nothing except through his lawyer, the defense attorney asserted that Gettys has been too eager in his quest for knowledge.

"It was a case of justifiable homicide," he said, "What man wouldn't get tired of grading long papers turned in by an over-zealous student."

The prosecuting attorney could not be reached for a statement Friday night, but indications were that he will ask the "supreme penalty" for the defendant. Jackson is charged in a fake paper with "wilful and pre-meditated murder of Marshall Gettys."

Literature Exerts Power

Although several "witnesses" were sitting in the anteroom to the professor's office they did not look up, according to reports. Said Bob Steely, Lubbock assistant defense attorney, "They were all too engrossed in a "Thrilling Romance" magazine to notice the

COTTON RESEARCH

Neglected In Texas

STATE Sen. George Moffett, of Chillicothe, chairman of the Senate Agriculture committee, was eminently correct in commenting the other day that Texas is spending "only pocket change" for research which seeks new and increased uses for cotton and cotton products.

The figures which emphasize this neglect are startling. Texas this year is producing a cotton crop conservatively estimated at 5,500,000 bales and worth more than $800,000,000. Yet only about $200,000 has been allotted for research this year about $2 out of each $8,000 the crop will bring into the State.

This peanut provision for research has been made in the face of competition from other fibers and vegetable fats of such increasing intensity that the survival of the cotton industry may be at stake. This unquestionably is a broad and alarming statement—but cotton authorities are almost unanimous in declaring its truth.

Indeed, more liberal provision for research should be made. And Senator Moffett, as chairman of the Senate Agriculture committee, is in an excellent position for leadership in the effort to see that this is done.

The Coffee Squeeze

CROP failures due to drouth in Brazil were blamed when coffee prices began to skyrocket recently. This claim now is being branded as "baloney." American experts told a Senate subcommittee this week that there still is a lot of coffee in Brazil—even more than last year.

The evidence has become increasingly convincing that, whatever the causes may have been for the rise in prices, they do not include crop failures. Given additional emphasis as the more logical explanation are panic and hoard buying and the control by the government of Brazil, which nation produces most of the world's coffee, over exports. The Brazilian government is under something stronger than suspicion of being the chief factor in forcing prices upward by restricting exports so sharply as to create worldwide shortages.

If this is an important factor in the price spiral, it may continue to pay off for a time. But the recent testimony before the Senate subcommittee strengthened the supposition that an awful lot of coffee may be piling up in Brazil.

If so, it isn't helping the U. S. consumer now and probably won't for some time to come. But it recalls a somewhat similar condition in the rubber-producing regions of British Malaya and the Dutch East Indies a good many years ago. With control of most of the world supply, the British and Dutch governments forced the price of rubber higher and higher—finally to more than $1 a pound. But, in doing it, they accumulated huge surpluses which eventually were dumped on the market, much of them illegally. Prices took a nose-dive. The rubber producers found themselves in a worse financial plight—many of them bankrupt—than if they had been satisfied with a reasonable price and profit.

The thought is intriguing that the coffee manipulators and profiteers may be headed for a similar experience.

Americans can help the prospect by continuing to do as many already are doing. They can add to the surpluses by buying only enough coffee for current needs and by stretching it as far as possible.

America's population is being concentrated in the cities. The problem now is in keeping the boys down on the farm after they have drawn welfare aid.

The American scene: Wife wants to use car; husband wants to use car. They compromise. Wife uses car.

The one-track mind usually does not permit a streamlined train of thought to have the right-of-way.

The stagecoach couldn't last. They didn't offer family rates for mid-week transportation.

The Soviets contend another "blood bath of war will destroy capitalism." It will if capitalism has to finance it.

It's Later Than You Think

The Cameo

By VIRGINIA TEALE
Distributed By NEA, Inc.

(THE STORY: A valuable cameo has been mixed up in the murders of Martin Falter, blackmailer and artist, and Nell O'Neill, wife of Tom O'Neill, a pottery maker. The cameo now is in the possession of Stephanie Smith, recently revealed as Nell's niece. Numbers in the box containing the cameo seem to be a clue in the mystery. Stephanie has found out how to open the locket of the cameo, in which are the pictures of her dead parents. Arnold Pfieffer, another suspect in the case, had been commissioned earlier by Falter to sell the cameo.)

XXIV

ARNOLD PFIEFFER paced the floor of his studio. He paused now and then to stare down at the evening paper which lay unfolded on the floor, its large, black headlines revealing that Hagar Blair had been jailed on suspicion of murder.

Not that he gave a tinker's dam about Hagar, he told himself. Not that old witch! But it was the principle of the thing. He could go down to the police station—appalling as the idea was—and tell the ruffians the story, or he could wait until they summoned him.

He chewed off a sliver of fingernail as a dreadful thought struck his brain: What would happen if certain people should suspect he had put two and two together?

He peeled off his smock and threw it on the floor. He shrugged on a jacket and started for the hall, only to be stopped in his tracks by the clacking of the knocker on his front door.

He stood motionless for a few minutes, his eyes darting from side to side as he considered how to escape. The knocker sounded again, violently this time.

Arnold snatched up his sandals and dashed to the window that overlooked the back yard. He opened it carefully, fearful of every small squeak. Throwing his sandals out first, he climbed over the sill and took the short jump to the ground.

Mesmerized by their private disturbing thoughts, neither Arnold Pfieffer nor Andrey Yakov noticed each other when their routes crossed briefly on Magnolia street. And neither noticed a third man whom they both knew—a stockily built man distinguished by a totally bald head and a half-empty coat sleeve that was pinned up neatly below the elbow.

The bald man glanced curiously at each of them for a few seconds from the opposite side of the street, then turned and walked back briskly in the direction from which he had come.

YAKOV turned into the drive beside Hagar Blair's gray-shingled house. With luck, he thought, he could conclude his mission tonight. He glanced at the lighted windows: Perhaps within the next hour!

Stephanie answered his ring promptly, her smile fading as she recognized him.

Yakov's chuckle sounded sympathetic: "You were expecting someone else? I am so sorry."

Stephanie stared at him doubtfully then unhooked the screen door and pushed it open.

Yakov stepped inside. "Thank you, Miss—Serenov!"

Stephanie sank onto a hassock in front of the fireplace, her wide eyes fixed on Yakov's face:

"Who are you?" she whispered. "How did you learn my name?"

Yakov laughed shortly. "Who am I? You ask the question as though possibly I were a ghost. I am Andrey Yakov, of course, an artist and a collector of cameos."

Stephanie stared at him in silence, watching him tilt his head and blow smoke toward the ceiling.

"As for your name," he paused and smiled triumphantly, "it was a guess. I am surprised that poor Nellya did not guess that you were her sister's child. If you will pardon the unkindness—she was a thoroughly stupid woman."

He leaned forward to search her face: "You are Russian, my dear Miss Serenov . . ."

Stephanie had jumped up and now stood before him, her eyes like blue flame: "I am an American citizen!"

Yakov nodded patiently: "I, too, can lay legal claim to that designation. However, the mother country sometimes finds it advisable to reclaim her children.

make it impossible for me to re- Things have developed which sist her gathering arm."

HE took not of Stephanie's recoil. "Do not trouble yourself over this. Russia is no longer interested in the Serenovs, except for one small matter. I have come here to negotiate with you, to the benefit of both of us, and Miss Blair. I have certain papers, letters, which will prove that Miss Blair had nothing to do with the murders of Martin Falter and Nellya. I am prepared to give you these letters in exchange for the cameo. Not permanently. I ask it for only a few hours, and promise to return it to you in perfect condition."

She shook her head slowly. "I can't let you have my locket."

"Locket? You have opened it then? You know what is inside?"

"I've always known what is inside. My mother's picture and my father's. I'll not give it to you for even a few hours."

Yakov sank back. "Pictures? That is all, you are sure. No writing of any kind?"

"Writing? What kind of writing?"

"An engraving, or perhaps a bit of paper with writing?"

The girl shook her head.

Yakov fingered his mustache thoughtfully. "You must be mistaken," he said slowly. "There must be something. Will you allow me to examine the locket?"

"No."

"Not even to get Miss Blair out of jail?"

"Would you give me the letters you say you have if I let you look at the cameo here?"

"Yes." He met her glance squarely.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

ONE of my favorite hangouts is Joe Colgan's drug store.

In the first place Joe, or his assistant, "Doc" Culhane, is always good for some funny yarn.

But what I like to do most is to play around with some of the million gadets that durg stores have to carry nowadays — like combination pencils and safety razors, or alarm clocks that not only ring but hit you over the head in the head in the morning.

BRANDEIS

The other day I wasn't feeling so well.

So I asked Joe Colgan what he thought of vitamin capsules. I had heard they were good for that run-down feeling.

"What will they do for me?" I asked Joe.

"Well, I don't know what they'll do for you," he replied drily, "but I'm sure they'll help me. I make a good profit on those things, you know."

Well, I bought a bottle of a hundred of "those things" and took them faithfully for about a week.

Then I forgot al about them, and now they are in the medicine cabinet with all the other forgotten bottles.

Here is one Joe told me a couple of days ago.

One of our local ministers had gone to his doctor with some minor kind of ailment.

The doctor charged him three dollars and gave him a prescription.

He took it to Joe's store to be filled, but said to Joe that he didn't think that doctor would do him any good.

"Well, why do you go to him?" asked Joe.

"Oh, he has to live, too," said the minister and asked Joe to fill the prescription, remarking, however, "I'm sure that stuff won't help me any."

"Why do you have the prescription filled if you are so sure it won't help you?" Joe asked.

"Oh, you have to live, too," said the minister.

ON FEDERAL CONTRACTS

Small Firms Complain

BY RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON: — The heads of the Army, Navy and Air have extremely peculior notions as to what constitutes "small business," in the opinion of members of the House committee charged with devising methods under which more government contracts would be awarded to relatively small firms.

When representatives of little companies complained to Committee Chairman Wright Patman that they were not getting their share of federal work, he forwarded their indictment to the three agencies. He also asked them to give him a list of contracts which would support their contention that they were neglecting the "little fellows."

TUCKER

When the committee submits a preliminary report to Congress next month, Mr. Patman will rely on the services' own purchasing records in support of his House Resolution No. 4760.

This makes it mandatory for all federal agencies, including corporations in which Uncle Sam owns more than half of the stock, to see that "small business shall receive a fair share of government procurements."

"SMALL": Here are a few of the contracts listed as having been awarded to "small business" by the Army:

$64,000 worth of meat from Wilson & Co., one of the "big four" packing firms; $65,000 of dye from the American Aniline Co., a subsidiary of the giant Celanese Corporation; $6,000 worth of drinking cups from the Dixie Cup Company, which has 2,600 employees; $6,900 of plywood from the United States Plywood Company.

Some of the Navy's listed "small" outfits are even more peculiar, to wit:

A $20,000 order for compressors from the American Brake & Shoe Co.; $14,000 of turkeys and chickens from Armour & Co., another of the packers' "big four;" $25,000 of electrical equipment from the General Electric Supply Co.; $30,000 to the General Tire & Rubber Co.; 513,800 of provisions from the H. J. Heinz Co.; $90,000 worth of cushions from a du Pont firm.

INFLUENCE: The armed services have thrown their powerful influence against the Patman measure. Although it was introduced last May, the House Expenditures Subcommittee headed by Representative Frank M. Karsten, Missouri Democrat, has not yet held hearings on it.

The bill would require federal procurement agencies to "issue regulations and prescribe conditions to the end that small business concerns will be assured of a fair and substantial portion of any procurement of such supplies and services."

It defines a "small business concern" as one which does not have more than 500 employees. It must also be independently owned and operated, and its position in its particular trade or industry must not be "dominant."

FUN: Federal officials admit privately that they prefer to do business with large industrial units. It is easier to work with them, according to procurement officers, because the volume of their federal transactions enables them to maintain offices and local representatives here. Policing or making over night changes in a contract becomes much easier that way.

There is also the human-nature factor. The bigger firms can afford large "entertainment expenses" here and at their plant, where Washington officials must make periodical inspections. Although "the brass" has been more circumspect since the revelations of jitterbugging generals and highballing colonels in the May-Garsson trials, they still like their fun on the side.

Moreover, they have a fairly sensible answer to charges that they favor the "big fellows." They point out, as the World War II record shows, that the major, prime contractors let out work to hundreds of the "small fellows," who benefit from this "trickle down" operation. The so-called "huge corporations," according to this theory, are merely assembly plants.

RETALIATION: Dean Acheson is becoming slightly bored at demands that he adopt a strong-arm policy toward the Chinese Communists because of their shanghaiing and mistreatment of American diplomats, sailors and marines.

When the Secretary of State recently rejected the theory that we were "losing face" from these insults, his normally suave and untroubled demeanour vanished like the sun behind a mass of summertime clouds.

He is particularly upset over newspaper insistence that he resort to Theodore Roosevelt's "big stick" policy of the early 1900's, when Moroccan bandits kidnapped an American business man named Perdicaris. T. R. notified the Sultan of Morocco that he wanted "Perdicaris alive or Raisuli (the bandit leader) dead." He ordered a naval squadron to the Mediterranean to back his ultimatum.

The Sultan paid the required ramson, and delivered Perdicaris to American authorities. But Mr. Acheson points out that we were dealing with a government which the U.S. recognized, whereas we have not accorded that honor to the Chinese Commies. In fact, the anti-American reprisals are regarded as a form of retaliation.

FACE: Even more important than the technical differences, the Secretary of State notes that the Moroccan difficulty was an isolated incident, whereas any aggressive intervention in China might precipitate a World War III. He doubts if the American people or Congress prefer that alternative.

His friends admit, however, that he was not at his best when he said that "saving face" was an "Oriental conception" which he would not import into this country. "Saving face" is regarded on Capitol Hill as equivalent to national honor and prestige, and members believe that these qualities are definite assets in the "cold war" with Russia.

Down Memory Lane

(Taken from the files of The Lubbock Morning Avalanche, Dec. 10, 1928.)

R. E. Overstreet of Lubbock, W. H. Hames of Crosbyton, C. A. Barron of Lamesa, and M. S. Hudson, Hale Center, all state directors of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton association, left Lubbock Sunday night for Memphis, Tenn., to attend a meeting of leading cooperative farm organization heads of the south.

Following a recommendation of the board of deacons, members of the First Baptist church of Lubbock Sunday night unanimously voted to elect Dr. R. G. Lee, pastor of the Bellevue Baptist church of Memphis, Tenn., as successor to Dr. W. R. White. Dr. White recently resigned as pastor of the church to accept a position as state secretary of the Baptist Board of Texas.

Dr. Lee was informed immediately after his election and was invited to pay a visit to the church.

THE ROSE YOU GAVE ME
By James J. Metcalfe

I took the rose you gave me and . . . I put it in a vase . . . Along with all the memories . . . I never could erase . . . And it was red and beautiful . . . And fragrant as could be . . . And happily I told myself . . . That you remembered me . . . But one by one the petals fell . . . As shadows touched the dawn . . . And in the purple of the sky . . . I knew that you were gone . . . And now the day is lonely and . . . I wonder in my heart . . . Why you and I were meant to meet . . . And why we had to part . . . And now I save the petals of . . . The rose you gave to me . . . And each is soft and gentle as . . . A loving memory.

THE officers of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce labored here throughout most of Wednesday and, in full keeping with tradition of the organization, brought forth a mouse. They gave the WTCC's perennial general manager, D. A. Bandeen, a "vote of confidence," then wound up by approving a "realignment of a program of work"—whatever that may be.

What actually happened was that Manager Bandeen's 20-year reign was threatened by a general collapse of staff personnel which finally forced the organization's high command to take notice of the deterioration which has been going on slowly for years. But "taking notice" apparently was all that they did. If the officers worked out any plan to reorganize, revitalize and generally bolster up the WTCC, they kept quiet about it.

But even if nothing forward-looking was done at the Wednesday meeting in Lubbock, the occurrence, itself, may prove valuable to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Publicity attendant upon the meeting, and upon the events which forced it, has further drawn attention of members and directors, alike, that all is not well within the WTCC—and hasn't been for a considerable length of time.

Perhaps it is too much to hope for, but it is within the realm of possibility that recent explosive events inside the WTCC could result in a new deal at the next convention in late November of 1950.

REGARDLESS of whatever else the next convention of the WTCC does, or doesn't do, its constitution, or bylaws, should be changed.

Under present regulations, a general manager is selected by the convention and no matter what he does, or doesn't, do, he cannot be removed except by action of the next convention. The board of directors, or its executive board, is powerless to act.

That certainly doesn't make sense. There should be some authority, somewhere, greater than that of an employe. It should set it up as soon as legally possible.

Between now and next November, it is to be hoped that the elected leaders of the WTCC—the non-paid group—will give more thought to the organization and its needs than has been given in the past and will either put the WTCC back on a sound, productive basis, or disband it once and for all.

"What kind of a guy is Willie Smith?" one friend asked another.

"Well, the best way I can describe him," came the answer, "is that he's the kind of guy who would drink beer through a straw!"

A FEW minutes after noon last Saturday we were wending our way from the office toward Connie Hilton's boardinghouse, along with C. W. Ratliff and Jasper Wayne (Mickey) Henly.

Just as the three of us were trudging westward across Texas avenue, between Ward's and the Citizens bank, we noticed the traffic cop working the corner. The light had changed, a car had started into the intersection and its driver was attempting to make a right turn, usually permitted at that intersection, but not permitted at that particular time due to heavy traffic.

The cop blew a blast on his whistle, then started bawling at the confused driver. Then the cop strode over toward the car, marooned in the intersection, simply exuding aggression as he walked.

The three of us stopped and watched the proceeding.

The cop reached the car on the driver's side and, conversationally, "went to work" on him. We couldn't hear what the cop was saying. But we could see his face and we could see all his gestures.

He was giving the driver "the works"—and all because the guy got caught in a light change and didn't understand that a right turn temporarily was prohibited.

Last Saturday afternoon was a very busy time in Lubbock.

The streets were loaded with cars. The sidewalks were jammed with people.

Beyond doubt, the policeman at Broadway and Texas had a job on his hands. Very probably he'd had 407 instances of exasperation prior to the time the motorist in question aroused his ire. Being human, probably the cop was "fed up." But being a policeman, on the job, he made a mistake of showing it—and of adding further to the confusion of the luckless driver in question.

BUSY on his job, the policeman probably didn't stop to think that by the way he handled that particular incident he (1) built up in the minds of the driver and those of his family a psychological dislike for and distrust of all policemen; and (2) that he built up a similar dislike and distrust in the minds of those scores of pedestrians who saw the thing happen. Further, he didn't stop to think that the people for whom he is working—the taxpayers of Lubbock—weren't paying him to confuse and berate anybody, nor were they paying him to handle his job so he would drive people away from our city.

But in less than five minutes time, the policeman in question contributed first to lessening the respect for law and all the law's representatives, as well as acted in a way to drive business away from the city that employs him—and which probably wouldn't be employing him if it didn't have as many drivers and pedestrians on its streets as it luckily has.

As we said before, the policeman is a human being and probably had plenty of reason to be exasperated after several hours rassling with recalcitrant pedestrians and drivers on that busy intersection.

We don't think he should be fired, or even too harshly reprimanded, because his job certainly is no bed of roses.

But we do think—and we believe most people think—that Lubbock policemen should be trained not to disport themselves in such fashion; so it is second nature with them not to "blow up," and by "blowing up" engender enmity and general dissatisfaction.

Tennessee Milk Delivered Fresh In Modern Refrigerated Trucks

Don't let the name fool you. Tennessee Milk company is a Texas institution and has been since 1907.

And since May 1, 1949, Tennessee milk products have become a by-word for freshness and high quality in Lubbock and on the South Plains.

A Tennessee farm boy came to Dallas, began marketing his hay crop as milk, and called the new business Tennessee Farm Boy's Dairy. Later, the name was shortened to Tennessee Dairies.

Headquarters are still in Dallas —and the milk distributed daily in the Lubbock area comes from the territory known as the Dallas milkshed.

In spite of the distance, the milk is just as fresh when distributed here as if it had been produced locally.

Here is how it works as the company follows the policy of first getting a quality product from the producer and then providing the highest protection possible in getting that product to the consumer.

Milk is picked up in the Dallas milkshed in refrigerated trucks this morning, pasteurized, cooled and bottled in the Dallas plant. By noon, the milk, in cartons, is loaded into huge refrigerated transport trucks.

These trucks actually are refrigerated vaults on wheels, which arrive in Lubbock around midnight, ready for home and store distribution early the next morning.

If the milk were produced locally, it would sit all night in refrigerated vaults. Instead, it is in vaults on wheels, enroute to Lubbock from Dallas.

Manager of the local distribution plant, located on the Idalou highway at Fourth street, is M. F. Cowan. All seven employes, including Cowan, are Lubbock residents.

Three wholesale trucks service stores in Lubbock, New Deal, Abernathy, Levelland, Sundown, Wolfforth, Ropesville, Brownfield, O'Donnell and Tahoka.

Two retail trucks are used in providing delivery service to Lubbock homes. And here is a point of pride for the Tennessee Milk company.

The two retail trucks are the only two of their type in all of Texas, Cowan said, and absolutely the latest thing for distribution of packaged milk products.

The trucks have self-refrigerating units which chill the heavily insulated interior. At night, the unit is plugged in to an electric switch, and coils in the top of the truck build up cold in storage plates which last through the day.

What's the advantage? Dry refrigeration eliminates the mess and wetness of the old method of using ice to cool milk. Further, the truck is sealed, keeping dust and sand off the products.

All the milk is kept uniformly cold. The route men put their carriers loaded with milk and other products back into the refrigerated compartment after each house stop, preventing warmups and a bacterial buildup. Ordinary ice can't keep milk temperatures uniformly below 50 degrees. The new Tennessee trucks keeps it all around 40 degrees.

Milk isn't the only product protected by the Tennessee Milk company's careful handling and refrigeration. Here is the complete list of products carried by the friendly and courteous Tennessee route men:

Homogenized and cream-line milk, buttermilk, whipping cream, half-and-half, cottage cheese, sweet cream butter and eggs.

Lubbock home deliveries are made every other day to individual customers. Wholesale deliveries to stores are made daily. If your grocery doesn't have Tennessee milk, ask for it. And if you are missing the high quality and freshness of Tennessee milk in your home—dial 2-3311. That's the Tennessee Milk Company—a Texas institution.

The Lubbock Bag company at 304-310 Ave. L buys second hand bags.

C. H. Scales Implement Co. Has Quality Farm Machinery

It's the Christmas shopping season, to be sure, but it also is time for South Plains farmers to get their farm machinery. The C. H. Scales Implement company at 2214-16 Ave. G is a good place to start.

This company, owned by C. H. Scales, completed its tenth year in Lubbock this month.

Here the farmer can find J. I. Case farm machinery, irrigation supplies, milking machines, Mayrath grain loaders, Shafer one-way plows and Jeffroy chisel plows, along with many other essential items of farm equipment.

Whatever crop the farmer specializes in, the C. H. Scales Implement company has the right machine for the right job.

In addition to new machinery, the company has a complete stock of parts and offers shop service on those makes of merchandise sold by the dealership.

While in Lubbock, farmers should go by the C. H. Scales Implement company at 2214-16 Ave. G to see the complete line of quality farm machinery.

Scurry, Gaines Wells Assured As Good Showings Are Reported

covery was 1,122 feet of free gas at the surface during the entire period.

No fluid came out at the top while the tester was open. Recovery was 1,222 feet of free gas in the drill pipe, 2,350 feet of clean, 35.3 gravity oil, and 1,030 feet of heavily oil and gas cut water blanket.

There were no signs of formation water. Open flowing bottom hole pressure was between 600 pounds, and 1,300 pounds. Shutin bottom hole pressure was 3,450 pounds, after 15 minutes.

The prospect is to core 45 feet deeper to 11,640 feet, and then run another drillstem test.

The first signs of oil and gas in the current lime formation, which most geologists now think is the Fusselman zone of the Silurian, was at 11,475 feet, just after the base of the Woodford shale had been drilled through.

The section from 11,475 feet to 11,595 feet has shown considerable amounts of free oil in a series of three drillstem tests.

No fluid has come to the surface during any of those tests — but interested operators think that a washing of the pay zone with acid would clean that horizon of the drilling mud which is caked on it, to where the oil and gas would kick off and flow.

This indicated new discovery is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 9, block C-38, psl survey. It is four miles east of the shallow Adair-San Andres field, and 14 miles south and east of Brownfield.

The project is contracted to go to the Ellenburger — and irregardless of the value of the shows for production which may be encountered in the current zone, it is to continue until it does carry out its original objective.

EXTENSION PLANNED IN NORTH SNYDER FIELD

A stepout to production from the Canyon reef has been planned on the east side of the North Snyder field of North Central Scurry county by Johnston & Johnston of Houston.

The venture, No. 2 Una Hart Wade, will be located 467 feet from north and west lines of the south half of section 159, block 3, H&GN survey and four miles north of Snyder.

Operations are to begin at once. Slated depth is 7,000 feet.

Sunray Oil Corporation has completed its No. 8-B Brown in the North Snyder field for a 24-hour calculated flowing potential of 1,024 barrels of 44-gravity oil.

Gas-oil ratio was 659-1.

The flow was natural through a one-half inch tubing choke from pay between the 5½ inch oil string cemented at 6,735 feet and total depth of 6,893 feet.

Flowing tubing pressure was 410 pounds. Shutin casing pressure was 925 pounds.

The new source of petroleum is 467 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 21, block 1, J. P. Smith survey.

LOCATION FOR NEW TEST IN SCURRY IS STAKED

W. A. Moncrief and associates have staked location on the northeast side of the Kelley field of Central Scurry county for their No. 1 J. A. Joyce, to be located 467 feet from north end west lines of a 240-acre lease in section 15, block 1, J. P. Smith survey.

Contracted depth is 6,950 feet.

The drillsite will be one mile northwest of Snyder.

Moncrief and associates have also planned their No. 2 J. S. Griffin in the Kelley field.

No. 2 Griffin wil be 467 feet from south and west lines of the northwest quarter of section 208, block 97, H&TC survey, and three miles west of Snyder.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 2 S. E. McCowen will be a 6,900-foot exploration in the Kelley field.

It will be 660 feet from north and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 208, block 97, H&TC survey.

That makes it two miles west of Snyder.

Tide Water Associated Oil company No. 2 Claud H. Miller will be a new operation on the northeast extension to the Kelley field.

The drillsite will be 3,037 feet from east and 467 fet from north lines of section 251, block, H&TC survey.

DRILLING TO START ON GARZA COUNTY TEST

Kenneth A. Meredith has staked location near the shallow depleted Justiceburg field of Southeast Garza county for a 2,600-foot venture.

The operation, No. 1 J. S. Reed, will be 330 feet from north and west lines of section 117, block 5, H&GN survey, and five miles east of Justiceburg.

Drilling is to begin immediately.

Austin Girl Chosen

Wiley. She was stricken one week after her 16-year-old sister came down with polio.

"Wanda Wiley," O'Connor said, "is only one of the thousands who have been helped by the March of Dimes. The American people can guarantee that help like this will continue only by contributing with renewed generosity to the campaign when it gets under way next month."

POLIO NEARLY FATAL FOR MARCH OF DIMES GIRL

AUSTIN, Dec. 9. (AP)—Dark-haired, wistful Wanda Wiley, the 1950 March of Dimes poster girl, was stricken with polio in the summer of last year.

She nearly died.

Today Wanda is back in school, in the second grade. She uses braces and crutches, and doctors say she may be able to walk with the aid of only one cane by the time she is grown. She is only 8.

Wanda was hit by polio two weeks after an older sister, Joyce, 16, was struck by the crippler. They both went to Warm Springs Ga., in October last year, and returned to Texas in May. Joyce is now at the Gonzales Warm Springs foundation.

Last year's March of Dimes poster girl was also from Texas. Ordinarily the national foundation would have chosen the new poster girl from another state, but Basil O'Connor, foundation president, saw Wanda at Warm Springs, Ga. He couldn't get the memory of her wistful little face out of his mind. That was largely the reason for Wanda's choice.

Wanda will leave Austin Jan. 10 for Washington and then will proceed to New York City to open the March of Dimes drive Jan. 16.

Suspended Sentence Given Airman For El Paso Killing

EL PASO, Dec. 9 (AP) — A district court jury tonight convicted Air Force Capt. Joseph Phillips of shooting bartender Vernon Hopper of El Paso to death. Phillips was given a five-year suspended sentence.

The Biggs Air Force base officer testified he shot Hopper Sept. 6 after the bartender admitted dating Mrs. Phillips. "I had to remove the man who was destroying my family," the captain said.

Phillips' home town is Alton, Ill.

NEWS BRIEFS

Fourth in a series of farm meetings being conducted in Lubbock county communities will be held at the New Deal school tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Sponsored by the Lubbock County Agricultural Conservation association and the Texas Extension Service, the meetings are being held for the purpose of giving a thorough discussion of the cotton allotments and marketing quotas for 1950. Walter Y. Wells, Lubbock county Production and Marketing administration official, and County Agent D. W. Sherrill are speaking at the meetings. A film on livestock raising is also being shown. Refreshments are being served by the Lubbock County Farm Bureau. A fifth meeting will be conducted at Frenship school at Wolfforth Monday night.

The weekly breakfast and spiritual feast of the Lubbock camp of Gideons International, will be held in Hilton hotel from 7:30 to 8:30 a. m. Sunday. W. L. Mead, former Big Spring resident who recently moved to Lubbock, will bring the devotional. All Gideons are cordially invited to attend.

A 20-year-old Fort Worth man who informed the sheriff's department early Thursday night that he didn't know how he got here—that he last remembered being on a Fort Worth city bus 13 hours earlier—was released to custody of his father Friday morning. The father said his son had been ill.

A singing convention will be conducted at the Acuff Church of Christ Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Glenn H. Annear, minister, announced Friday. Horace Coffman of the Broadway Church of Christ staff will direct the singing. Annear said anyone interested in singing is invited to attend.

Grocer Goes To Check Robbery, Finds He Got There Too Early

SEATTLE, Dec. 9. (AP)—P. L. Hymas hurried down to his Georgetown district grocery store at 5:45 a.m. today when he received a call from a man identifying himself as a policeman who reported the store had been robbed.

He was greeted at the door by a man dressed in police uniform.

"The sergeant is in the back checking," he told Hymas. "You'd better go in there and look at the safe."

Hymas found the safe undisturbed but turned to find he was looking down a gun barrel.

"Open the safe," he was told. He did.

The "policeman" and an accomplice walked out with $2,300 after binding and gagging the grocer.

Finding Of Wife's Body Fails To Interest Minister, Is Claim

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Dec. 9 (AP) A police officer testified today that when the Rev. George P. Hetenyi was informed of the finding of his wife's body, he expressed complete lack of interest.

The 40-year-old Episcopal supply minister is on trial on a charge of first degree murder in the fatal shooting of his wife, Jean, 26, last April.

Detective John C. Rapp of the Buffalo police department testified that he accompanied Rochester authorities to the Hetenyi apartment in the town of Amherst, a Buffalo suburb. The time, he said, was about 2:30 a.m. April 26, shortly after Mrs. Hetenyi's body was identified.

When Hetenyi was informed that his wife's body had been found April 23 in the Genesee river near Rochester, Rapp said the clergyman replied:

"It doesn't interest me. I've nothing to do with it. She left me."

In cross-examining Rapp and other police officers, defense Attorney George J. Skivington, sr., brought out that the Hetenyi apartment was searched thoroughly for the weapon, said by ballistics experts to be a .25 caliber pistol. Two .25 caliber slugs were removed from Mrs. Hetenyi's body. The weapon has not been found.

Bishop Kevenhoester, Catholic Prelate Of Bahamas, Claimed

NASSAU, Bahamas, Dec. 9. (AP)—The Most Rev. Bernard Kevenhoester, bishop of Nassau, died here tonight. He was 80.

Bishop Bernard was born in Alten-Essen, Germany, Nov. 1, 1869. During the prosecution of the Catholic church by Bismarck his parents were forced to flee the country and escaped into Holland on horseback under cover of darkness when Bernard was seven years old.

Soon afterward the family settled in Minnesota and Bernard was ordained a priest at St. Johns Abbey, Minnesota, in June, 1896.

He was pastor of St. Anslem's church, the Bronx, N. Y., about 17 years and built the present St. Anslem's.

He was appointed prefect apostolic of the Bahamas in May, 1931, and made titular bishop of Camuliana in 1933. He was appointed vicar apostolic in 1941 and on the golden jubilee of his ordination in 1946 Pope Pius made him an assistant at the pontifical throne.

San Angelo Man Re-Elected To Office By Wool Growers

DENVER, Dec. 9 (AP)—Ray W. Willoughby of San Angelo, Texas, was one of three vice presidents re-elected by the National Wool Growers association today.

The association's 85th annual convention drew to a close today. Howard Vaughn of Dixon, Calif., was re-elected president; J. M. Jones of Salt Lake City, secretary-treasurer, and E. E. Marsch, Salt Lake City, assistant secretary.

John A. Reed of Kemmerer, Wyo., and A. R. Bohofkey of Yakima, Wash., were also renamed vice presidents.

Yugoslav Court Sentences 10 Russians Accused Of Spying

By ALEX H. SINGLETON
Associated Press Staff Writer

SARAJEVO, Yugoslavia, Dec. 9 — A Yugoslav court sentenced 10 White Russians today to imprisonment at hard labor on charges of aiding Nazi Germany during World War II and spying since against Premier Marshal Tito's regime for Russia.

Terms ranged from three to 20 years.

A grey-bearded Russian Orthodox priest, the Rev. Aleksei Krishko, who once served in general headquarters of the czarist Russian army, was sentenced to 11 years and six months. He is 64.

Former Judge Sentenced

Arson Boremovic, a small and poker-faced man who was a judge and state prosecutor under the pro-Nazi wartime government in Croatia, received a 20-year sentence.

Vladimir Ogniev, angular one-time captain in the czarist army and chairman of the White Russian colony in Sarajevo, got six years.

The silver-haired Ksenia Komad, once a Russian Orthodox nun and later a school teacher, who is still trim and attractive, was sentenced to three years.

Others and their sentences were: Anatoliy Polaykov, 10 years; Ilya Kostryukov, five years; Vadim Zherebkov, six years; Vasiliyo Gesler, five years; Peter Sokolov, four years, six months; and Georg Olyshevski, four years.

All except Krishko and Boremovic testified they were guilty. The priest denied the charges. Boremovic presented the most vigorous defense.

The defendants, pale and nervous, were led into the crowded courtroom to hear their sentences. They were a group of displaced persons of the Russian revolution of 1917 who had sought asylum under Yugoslavia's monarchy before World War II.

As the prosecution in the trial put it, they were led "step by step" through the process of becoming, consciously or unconsciously, spies and propaganda agents for Russia, despite their previous collaboration with the German Nazis.

The keynote of the trial was the indictment not so much of the defendants themselves as of Russia. To foreign observers the trial showed that Russia was willing to use former German collaborators in her feud with Marshal Tita.

The trial also was seen as Tito's answer to trials in the Cominform countries in which he has been accused of seeking to supplant Russian influence over the Soviet satellites.

Looking At Life

"For heaven's sake," exclaimed Joe, "what did you do that for?"

"Well," said the minister with a smile, "I've got to live, too."

Now please don't think that I am making fun of doctors or the medicine they prescribe. I am not. I am a very good customer of both.

But several doctors have told me that they have to prescribe very much more medicine, in all forms, than their patients really need.

Many an imaginary sick person would get well in a jiffy if he'd get more fresh air, more sunshine, more exercise.

But that would be asking too much. That would be too much trouble. That wouldn't be nearly as easy as swallowing a pink pill.

And that's why Joe Colgan is one of the most comfortably fixed men in our town.

Services Slated Sunday For James T. Donaldson, Slaton

SLATON, Dec. 9 (Special) — Funeral services for James T. Donaldson, 43-year-old Slaton service station employe who died at his residence Thursday night of a heart attack, will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the Slaton First Baptist church. Rev. J. C. Bolting, pastor, will officiate.

Burial will be in Slaton cemetery under direction of the Williams Funeral home.

Donaldson had been a resident of Slaton for the last three years.

BRIDE BELIEVES IN HUBBY — A New Orleans socialite Virginia Kirk, right, 36, says she doesn't believe a newspaper "exposure" of her 26-year-old husband, left, self-styled Prince Otto Wilhelm Hohenzollern. "I love him and believe in him," she declared in Mexico City during interview. The Prince, who married his attractive bride in New Orleans, claims to be the youngest born of Kaiser Wilhelm II. He strikes a defiant pose at his wife's elbow during the interview. (NEA Telephoto.)

Agents For Big Counterfeit Ring Draws Prison Sentences

BROWNSVILLE, Dec. 9. (AP)— Two men were sentenced to prison yesterday after pleading guilty to charges of being border agents for a million dollar counterfeit ring.

Federal Judge James V. Allred sentenced Felipe Garcia to 13 months in prison and Manuel Garza Moya to five years.

The two men were indicted along with Mrs. Garza Moya, Antonio Anaya and Frank G. Tovar. Anya and Tovar, of Chicago, are free on bonds of $5,000 each.

The government yesterday moved to drop charges against Mrs. Garza Moya. She is the 38-year-old mother of eight children and expecting another.

Graveside Services Slated Today For Lubbock Infant

Graveside funeral services for Jerry D. Overbay, five-hour-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Overbay, 707 Ave. D, who died in the Porter Clinic hospital this morning at 6 o'clock, will be conducted this afternoon at 2 o'clock in Lubbock cemetery.

Rev. Scott Mitchell, Assembly of God church minister, will officiate. Rix Funeral Home will direct arrangements.

Besides his parents, the infant is survived by a sister, Viola Overbay; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Raymer, Plainview; and paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Overbay, Gentry, Mo.

Former Top Airman Fails To Get Parole

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9. (INS).— Former Air Force Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers was denied parole today after serving about 21 months of a prison term for subornation of perjury.

Meyers, now 53, is serving a 20 months to five years term at the Lorton (Va.) reformatory.

The District of Columbia Parole board denied parole "without prejudice," meaning that Meyers may renew his application for release at the board's November, 1950, session.

Meyers, a top Air Force procurement officer in wartime, was connected with a so-called "dummy" firm — Aviation Electric Corp., at Dayton, Ohio.

He was convicted on charges that he induced another official of the firm to testify falsely before a congressional committee that Meyers had no financial interest in the company.
