

Saturday Is Last Day To Sign For Rural Phones

Saturday, June 10, is the deadline set for signing applications for rural telephone service with the proposed Poka-Lambro Rural Telephone co-operative, according to Tom Garrard, attorney for the organization.

Applications received after June 10 will likely of necessity be held over until some future time and be submitted in the fiscal year starting July 1st.

Right now primary concern of the co-operative officers and directors is in getting sufficient applications to assure a loan for construction of the system. Up until last Saturday, 825 applications had been received.

Persons having application forms are urged to fill them in and mail immediately to Poka-Lambro Rural Telephone co-operative in Tahoka, or turn them over to their county directors.

Lynnter Rural Electric co-operative, also with headquarters in Tahoka, is assisting in forming the telephone co-operative. Sam Allen of Lamesa is the president. Claude Wells is the Lynn county director, and Claude Thomas is the Garza county director.

Representatives of the organization will likely go to Washington next week with the applications and proposal to present the Rural Electrification Administration. The proposal must be presented before June 19.

Sheriff's Posse Plans Activities

Lynn County's 41-member Sheriff's Posse at a meeting here Monday night drafted future plans for the organization and enjoyed an interesting program.

Pictures of the 1940 Tahoka rodeo taken by L. C. Haney and also pictures of the 1950 rodeo and parades were shown by W. T. Kidwell and Calvin Edwards.

Randall wrote Coach Foust that he has been playing football at the Naval base and is on the first team. He hopes to go out for football at the Naval Academy.

He has many friends here who will be glad to learn of his success in gaining admittance to Annapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Botkin returned Monday night from their wedding trip to Colorado Springs, and Estes Park.

Otho Thomas Gives Legion Post, Pool Table, Silverware

A pool table was recently donated to the Marion G. Bradley Post of the American Legion by W. O. (Otho) Thomas. The table has been installed, and is available for use only by members of the Post.

Mr. Thomas also has contributed four dozen knives, forks and spoons to the Legion kitchen.

Members of the Post state that they greatly appreciate the contributions made by Mr. Thomas. Members are constantly improving the hall by their own work from the limited funds the post has for such work.

Recently, the grounds have been leveled off and grass planted. Interior decorations are about complete, but there still is some remodeling to do before the hall is complete as planned when the enlargement program was started at the end of the war.

Next Tuesday, June 13, is regular meeting night of the Legion and Auxiliary, and all members are urged to be present for the program and a barbecue supper.

Mrs. Borden Davis, who underwent a major operation recently, is able to be up again.

Mrs. Nicholson, 96 Former Citizen, Buried Saturday

Funeral services were conducted in the Tahoka Methodist Church at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Nancy Ann Nicholson, 96, widow of the late Alfred O. P. Nicholson and a former resident of Tahoka, though she had lived with various ones of her children most of the time since her husband's death 14 years ago and was living with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jaynes, in Lubbock, when death came at 1:30 p. m. last Friday.

Services were conducted by Rev. C. A. Holcomb, Jr., pastor of the Tahoka Methodist Church. Rev. A. O. Graydon, former Methodist pastor at New Lynn in this county, but now pastor of the Methodist Church at Maple near Littlefield, and Rev. Geo. A. Dale of Lubbock, former pastor of the First Baptist Church of Tahoka. Burial was made in the Tahoka cemetery under the direction of the McDonald Funeral Home of Lubbock.

There are two very remarkable facts connected with the life of this good woman. First she lived an unusually long life, 96 years, and second, she left surviving her 179 living descendants. We are sure that those figures have not been often matched since early Biblical times. These consist of five children, the oldest of whom is 80 years of age and could not attend the funeral services, his home being at Greenville, Texas; 50 grand-children, 90 great-grandchildren, and 34 great-great-grandchildren.

WINNIPEG, CANADA. — After almost a month of fighting the rampaging Red river, courageous Canadians have won their battle. Although much of the city is still under water, complete destruction of the city was avoided by the thousands of volunteer workers who fought the rushing water with only sandbags and shovels as weapons. All during the seige small boats like the one above powered by a Johnson outboard motor, patrolled the canal-like streets offering aid to the stranded and transportation and food to the workers.

Another Deep Oil Test For County Announced

Crop Prospects Looking Better

Rainfall totaling .40 of an inch fell in Tahoka Sunday night. Most of the county reported a similar amount.

Farmers have been very busy this week planting or scratching cotton that had already been planted.

Much cotton is up to a good stand, although many farmers have had to replant because of continued downpours. Others have not been able to get into their fields to get their crops planted because of the continued rains. Every section of the county now has had sufficient rain for a while, and the overall crop prospects are bright at this early date.

Devastating hailstorms last week end did severe damage to large areas of Dawson and Crosby counties, but no hail damage was reported in Lynn county.

Deadline Near For Candidates

County and precinct candidates this week are again reminded that June 17 is the last day on which they may make formal application to have their names placed on the Democratic primary ballot. Candidates are also reminded that June 22 is the date set for candidates and campaign managers to file expense accounts with the county clerk.

June 24 is the last day for county and precinct officers to pay apportionate costs of the elections to the county chairman.

June 5 was the last date for candidates for state office to file with the state chairman requests to have names placed on the primary ballot.

The state chairman is to notify the state committee of all requests by June 9, today.

Sohio Will Drill Test In Western Part of County

Another deep wildcat, the third in two weeks, for Lynn county will be drilled 13 miles northwest of Tahoka, north of West-point and near Petty. Sohio Petroleum Company last Friday announced it had staked a location for a 10,000 foot wildcat test, the No. 1 W. T. Rodgers, 660 feet from the north and west lines of section 144, block 12, EL&RR survey.

The site is about 16 miles southeast of the Smyer-Ropes Hockley county discovery, about five miles northeast of the No. 1 Henson Terry county discovery but a little over three miles northeast of Fullerton No. 1 Reed failure, and about 33 miles northwest of the Magnolia No. 1 Garza Land & Cattle Co. discovery.

Some machinery was moved on the ground this week for the 9,500 foot Houston Oil Co. No. 1 H. B. Howell test at Redwine. Drilling is expected to start here within the next few days. This test is located 467 feet from the north and east lines of section 451, block 1, EL&RR survey. Seaboard, Humble, and Sinclair are participating in the test.

No information has been released as to when drilling will start on the Magnolia No. 1 W. W. Caswell offset to the Magnolia discovery well, but this is expected to be started in a few days. The Caswell location is west of the discovery on the center of the northeast quarter of the south-west quarter of section 451, block 9, EL&RR survey.

The J. H. Snowden et al. No. 1 Bryan Williams deep test on section 1407, block 1, EL&RR survey, northeast of Central Church, at last reports was drilling between 6,500 and 7,000 feet. Mr. Williams says promising shows of production were encountered in both the San Andres and Spraberry formations.

Rumor has it that one or two other deep tests will be announced in this area in the near future.

There will also be some entertaining musical numbers by a group of high school girls.

The dinner will be served under direction of Jack Fenton and Maurice Small. Harley Henderson has arranged the program.

All men of the community are welcome to this meeting.

Shape, Color Of Traffic Signs Should Have A Meaning To Texas Motorists

The shape and color of a highway sign should have a meaning for you, Mr. and Mrs. Motorist, even though there is no message or symbol on it. You have only a split second at high speed to read a written message or grasp the meaning of a symbol on a traffic sign. If you fail, you may be courting disaster. Is it not logical then that meaning should be assigned to shapes and colors of a sign as added assurance of your glance recognition? Wouldn't knowledge of both be added insurance for your safety?

From the shape and color of the sign, it is possible for you to tell whether it is a REGULATORY sign intended to inform you of a law or regulation enacted to promote safety and convenience upon the streets and highways, whether it is a WARNING sign erected to tell you of a hazardous condition either on or beside the road, or whether it is a GUIDE or DIRECTIONAL sign to lead you to your destination.

This is the fourth of a series of articles designed to make Mr. and Mrs. Average Driver more familiar with traffic control signs, which when properly understood and obeyed, make our highways a safer place to be. This is the story of the REGULATORY sign.

It is important enough to repeat that the REGULATORY sign is used to inform you of certain laws and regulations enacted to promote safety and convenience on streets and highways. A violation of these rules is a misdemeanor.

Generally, the REGULATORY sign is rectangular in shape, and it is mounted with the longer side up. The letters and border are black, and the background is white with only the following exceptions:

1. Night Speed signs which have white letters on a black background;
2. Parking signs which have red or green letters on a white background; and
3. Stop signs which are so important as to merit a full description.

The Stop sign is the outstanding exception to the usual shape and color combination of the REGULATORY sign group, and it needs no explanation to most motorists. It is the only standard sign which has an octagonal (eight-sided) shape, and it usually has black letters and border on a yellow background.

Unless they are illuminated by a fixed source of light, the REGULATORY signs are always reflectorized to improve night visibility by using reflector buttons to outline the message or symbol or by covering the entire background with a reflective material.

Remember the shape and colors of REGULATORY signs. Remember, too, that they inform you of laws or regulations that have been enacted for your safety and convenience. If you disregard them, you are not only endangering the life and property of others who use the highways, but also threatening the lives and property of yourself and loved ones who may be with you.

Letters To The Editor

ATTENTION, ALL VFW MEMBERS!

If you, a member of this organization, what have you done to improve it? True, you gave your $5.00 membership money. But, the organization needs you much more than your money.

All other towns Tahoka's size have a VFW home. With 78 members in the Tahoka Post, Tahoka could easily have a beautiful home. It takes team work, and only two nights a month is not asking too much. Tahoka could have a Post it could be proud of, so won't each member try to attend all regular meetings? Your presence is worth more than your membership money.

Seventy-eight members—and if it happens to be a convenient night MAYBE 10 will come. What is wrong? I'll tell you what. It's because YOU, its members, don't come. YOU alone can keep this Post going. The few members who do all the work are going Administration, U. S. Departmentalities need to be shifted to make the load lighter on the few who keep this organization going.

So, please come and make this a lively club. —A member.

JUST LIKE THE BOTTOM OF THE SEA—This deep sea pressure vessel at the Ordnance Environmental Laboratory at White Oak, Maryland, simulates one-half mile depth at sea. During the testing of under-water ordnance 15,000 gallons of water are pumped into the giant cylinder. A torpedo with cutaway side is shown prior to a test run. Beside the pressure tank facilities at the laboratory include a 100-foot airgun which can simulate the impact of a torpedo striking a ship, vibration laboratory, depth charge and mine testing equipment, etc. In this new department efforts are devoted to the scientific destruction of weapons and weapon components for the Navy's Bureau of Ordnance by testing within the laboratory rather than in the field. A heart specialist advised a group of Connecticut club women that dish-washing is good for their buddies' tickers. That's treason of the first water. The Doc was obviously playing to the gallery when he muttered, "If men would get up from the table and wash the dishes instead of settling comfortably in an easy chair they would gain less weight, delay the onset of hardening of the arteries of their vulnerable hearts, and live longer. Some fellows being pried out of that comfortable chair for K. P. duty may be wondering if it's worthwhile to live longer. Why save your heart just to break it?"

telephone calls!

What does it mean to make about 75 billion telephone calls in a year? Just this: By spreading the total equally over the nation's 40 million telephones, an average of over 120 calls per month will be made on each telephone!

This expected all-time high telephone traffic load is further evidence of the indispensable usefulness of the telephone to the American people. That's why we are working round-the-clock to give you fine service.

Pythian Sisters Greatly Expanding

Lynn Temple No. 45, Pythian Sisters, held its regular meeting Tuesday night with four officers absent. Elnora Curry filled in as Most Excellent Chief due to absence of Lou Calvery. She then appointed Ora Curry to act as Guard in the absence of Emma Halameek, Bernice Carter to fill Excellent Junior's station, vacated by resignation of Loyce McMahon. Vera Witt was appointed to fill Excellent Senior's station as the Excellent Senior was in Most Excellent Chief's station. Nina Short was appointed to fill past Chief's station in absence of Mildred Sherrill. There were twenty-two members present in all.

The Trustees were given the go-ahead sign on buying a lot for building purposes. We feel that we are progressing some just by being able to obtain a lot at this time.

The Ways and Means committee had a good report from their recent luncheon. We are very proud of this committee. They have really worked this six months.

We had received the First Official letter and First Monthly Letter from our new Grand Chief of Texas, Zelma W. Rhodes. Her motto for the year is "We Shall Build Here" and her slogan is "Great Expectations." Everyone is anxious to help her make this a good year. Her project for the year is to improve and re-furnish the girls dormitory at the Pythian Home in Waco.

All local Sisters will be especially interested in the fact that we have an invitation to a Banquet and Friendship meeting at Lamesa on June 15th at 8:30 at the Mesa Cafe. The plates are $1.50 and all who want to go must let Novis Curry know by Monday, June 12, so that she can send our reservations in.

Tommie Terry was moved up to the Excellent Junior station and Hannah Nordyke was elected as Manager. The office of Treasurer is to be filled at our next meeting. Pauline Warren has completed her three-year term in this office.

District Convention is to be in Big Spring on July 24, let's all start planning now to attend. Something else to be looking forward to is the State Convention which shall be held next year in Big Spring. We are glad to know that it is to be so close to home next time. Maybe more of us can go.

Nina Short attended the State Convention in Mineral Wells this year and gave a wonderful report on the work. She reported that our Scrap Book was second—we had 174 inches of news in ours and Lamesa took first with 249 inches. We are still proud of ours and intend to try again.

Refreshments were served by Dixie Payne, Floyce Sherrod and Helen Ellis. —Reporter.

Dairy foods step into the spotlight with the Scotfold Twins of Ice Follies fame when the dairy industry observes nationally in June its 14th Annual Dairy Month. The twins, Joanne and Joyce, whose skating skill is acclaimed from coast to coast, say: "We're healthy because our favorite foods are dairy products."

With the annual per capita use of milk and its products at 249 quarts, there is still need for a 40% higher consumption of milk and its products, according to scientists, who say Americans should consume 341 quarts a year.

Among the cooperators with the dairy industry in the June Dairy Month nationwide program to develop a better understanding of dairy foods are the nation's newspapers, magazines, radio and television stations, food, drug and variety stores, restaurants, hotels and the railroad industry.

Vacation Bible
School Closes

Closing exercises for the Vacation Bible School conducted in the First Baptist Church here during last week and this will be held at the Church tonight. Each department of the School will have a place on the program, and diplomas or certificates will be awarded to each pupil who has attended the required numbers of days and done the work assigned.

Up to Tuesday morning of this week, the enrollment had reached a total of 233, and it will not fall far short of the possibilities suggested last week, though a typographical error made the News say 350 instead of the 250 written in the copy.

The school has been the most largely attended Vacation Bible School ever held in Tahoka and doubtless the most successful in many ways. The average daily attendance has run well above the 200 mark. Its success must be ascribed principally to the pastor, the Sunday School superintendent, and the faculty of teachers and officers, consisting almost wholly of the women of the church.

The general public is invited to attend the closing exercises tonight.

About twenty men of the church assembled at the Sweet Street Mission late Monday afternoon, armed with hoes, rakes, and other needed utensils and cleaned up the premises. The chief

"other utensils" was a tractor, which was used to do some leveling up of the grounds. A "drag" was used to smooth them off Tuesday. Grass seeds will probably be sown on the lawn soon.

CENTURY PLANT AT W. O. THOMAS HOME BEGINNING TO BLOOM

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Thomas have on the lawn of their home here a Century Plant, which is now beginning to bloom.

The Century Plant belongs to the amaryllis family of flowering plants which grow most luxuriantly in the American Southwest. The particular species is the Agave Americana; and in appearance it is much like the smaller plant known as Yucca or Spanish Dagger.

It was named the Century Plant because of the long period of growth which it undergoes before blooming. Rarely ever will it bloom before it is twelve or fifteen years old, and when it once blooms the upright stalk then dies, but usually puts out new sprouts from the roots a little later and starts all over again.

The Century Plant is a peculiar product of Nature. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas' plant, for example, is about twelve years old. It had been standing there on their lawn all that time, becoming a little greener and putting out a little of growth each spring, but otherwise showing little change. But the other day it took a notion to do its stuff, and before the Thomases had scarcely suspected anything unusual brewing, it had shot up a pole, or stalk, ten or twelve feet high, from the center of the mass of dagger-like leaves that point upward and outward from the ground, with numerous buds shooting out from the stalk and an especially large one topping it.

That entire stalk, as big around as the editor's ankle and rearing its head more than twelve feet above terra firma had grown up there in just two or three days time.

Now they tell us that this rapid growth came from the juices that were stored up in the leaves or daggers of that plant. Mother nature had been storing them up ever since Agave Americana was an infant. Then, all of a sudden, she began releasing them and they dropped down into the plant's main body at the ground and began building that pole.

Drained of their pulp or juices, those leaves will soon drop down and die, but they will be showing to the world at the same time a cluster of old Mother Nature's most luxurious and beautiful flowers.

This particular Century Plant is smaller than most of those seen growing in Southwest Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and Old Mexico. Many of them grow twenty feet tall, we are told, and some of them occasionally reach a height of forty feet.

This is not the only member of the Amaryllis family, however, that has done its stuff in Tahoka. Some fifteen years ago, the late Jim Weatherford had a beautiful specimen on the premises of his home here, as straight and symmetrical as a totem pole; and we believe that there was also one more recently at the former Leedy home in south Tahoka.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas have some other exquisitely beautiful shrubbery on their premises, several specimens of blue spruce, cypress, cedars, and other evergreens. They are helping to make Tahoka beautiful.

HELPFUL HINTS ON FREEZING VEGETABLES

Home freezers are fast becoming a part of the food preservation equipment in rural as well as City homes. This method of food preservation is enabling the homemaker to do a better job of providing the family with fresh vegetables the year-round. A good supply of vegetables is needed for balancing the diet and according to Louise Mason, extension foods and nutrition specialist of Texas A. & M. College, home freezing or using a freezer-locker box to store surplus vegetables for later use is one sure way to have them when they are needed.

Miss Mason says there are several factors that will have a bearing on the quality of the frozen vegetables and these should be kept in mind when vegetables are being prepared for freezing. Speed is important and there should be no delays from the time the vegetables are gathered until processed and stored.

She points out that vegetables begin to lose food value and flavor as soon as they are gathered. During the summer months, she says it is best to gather the vegetables early in the morning, but be sure they have reached their peak in flavor and texture, for freezing does not improve their quality.

It is necessary to scald vegetables in boiling water, before freezing, to prevent loss of quality and to preserve the vitamin content. Freezing alone does not stop the enzyme action in vegetables and if they are not scalded, this action will cause undesirable odors to develop along with the loss of flavor and color.

Each vegetable, she says, requires a different scalding time and she suggests that you see your local county home demonstration agent and get a copy of B-105, Frozen Food. This bulletin is new and instructions are given in detail on how each vegetable should be handled from the time it leaves the garden until it is ready for storage.

She says when vegetables are properly scalded, packaged, processed and stored at about 0 degrees F., they will retain their quality for one year. The vegetables that cannot be successfully frozen are tomatoes and salad greens, such as lettuce, parsley, endive, cabbage, celery, and onions.

Large areas of shin oaks on the plains and rolling hills of West Texas are called "pigmy forests."

Texas has three native pine—longleaf, shortleaf and loblolly. Slash pine has been introduced successfully throughout East Texas.

The real importance of forests, soil and other natural resources cannot be expressed entirely in dollars and cents, but rather must be measured in terms of the security and happiness of all people who depend upon these resources for the necessities of life.

KITCHEN MEMO

BY JANE CLARK

GROWNUP girls, too, can remind the family of the poem "Sugar and spice and all things nice," when these cookies are served. They're called Spice Meringue Bars and easy as breathing to make. Beat 2 egg whites until stiff. Then gradually beat in 1/4 cup sugar and 1/4 tsp. vanilla. Blend in 1 package spice cake mix (the prepared just-add-water kind) with 1 cup lukewarm water. Grease a 7x11-inch pan with unsalted shortening. Line with greased waxed paper. Pour batter into pan and spread meringue on top with spatula. Sprinkle with 1/2 cup chopped walnuts or blanched almonds and bake in preheated gas oven (350°F.) for 35-40 mins. Cool in pan for 10 mins. before turning out. When cold, cut down center lengthwise and across in 1-inch bars. Yield: 22 cookies.

Because of high cooking temperatures, a type of oxide coating forms on the aluminum burner heads of your gas range. Just shine them up with ordinary aluminum cleaner.

The smoky type of cheese lends piquant taste to broccoli or artichokes. Melt cheese in double boiler, pour over the vegetable.

If there's a slight odor when feather pillows are drying in your gas dryer, don't worry about it. Feathers are animal fibers and the odor is caused by the high temperature needed to get the pillows thoroughly dry.

Protein in fish are what makes it so nourishing a food and which can be retained by cooking over a low gentle flame, never over high heat.

'Low-Down' Given On Trout Fishing Trip to Northern New Mexico

So many of our readers (well, four or five, anyway) have asked about that trout fishing trip recently made by Jack Fenton, Calloway Huffaker, Hick Gibson, and The News' fishing editor, Frank Hill, that we are finally acceding to public demand (?) and giving our readers the low down.

For several years, Calloway and Hick had been bragging about the good fishing at K-Bar Ranch on Bull Creek in the Sangre de Christo Mountains of Northern New Mexico.

This year, Jack and the Fishing Editor called their hands, and the party left Tahoka in Calloway's pickup Thursday afternoon, May 25, and returned Sunday, getting in two and a half days of fishing.

Though Thursday was opening day of the trout season, we were the first fishermen on that part of the stream Friday morning. Nobody believes a fisherman anyway. And, since this is true, we'll just state (and our readers can either take it or leave it) that we caught all the low would allow, ate all we could, and brought home just what we could get past the game warden.

A large portion of the stream trout were 8 to 10 inches long, a few larger and a few smaller—nice size for stream trout in such a small stream. They were taking wet and dry flies, worms, and spinners. However, the water in the Northern New Mexico streams is very, very low this year, and good fishing there was not due.

Janet Collier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wynne Collier, flew from Lubbock to Dallas last Sunday and visited the H. A. Rawling family. Jackie Rawlings returned home with her by plane Wednesday to visit here a while. Janet and Jackie are cousins. Mrs. Collier and Mrs. Rawlings being sisters.

Miss Jane Ann Turner, who has been attending Abilene Christian College, has entered the University of Texas for the summer term. Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Turner, her parents, accompanied her to Austin the first of the week.

Texas ranks first in the South in the total area of tree growth, and eleventh in the area of commercial forest land.

Concentration of population in urban centers and the shortening of the work week has intensified the need for easily accessible recreational areas.

Tree growth is fairly uniform over most of the land area of the South. Texas and Oklahoma have their greatest rainfall and concentration of tree growth in their eastern portions.

irrigating the hay meadows.

However, we really suspect that her principal delight is in her cooking—and this feature of the visit is what really appealed to the Tahoka fishermen. Boy, can Mrs. Meredith dish out the food! Nearly all of it was home-raised and prepared, evidently, in a manner handed down by Swiss ancestors of many generations.

No one can stay at K-Bar three days without falling in love with the Merediths. But, again, we warn you the mountain trail is no place for a car, and stream fishing, especially on Bull Creek, is hard, hard work.

However, believe it or not, Calloway and Hick have not been underestimating the hospitality and the fishing.

Loblolly pine frequently called old field pine because of its tendency to invade and reclaim abandoned agricultural land in the South.

Keeping good forest cover on steep land has long been recognized as an important factor in reducing the flood load of rivers.

Miss Marjorie Tamplen - Clyde Boyd Nows Read At Wilson Church Sunday

Miss Marjorie Marlene Tamplen and Clyde Dale Boyd were united in marriage Sunday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock in the Wilson Methodist Church, with Rev. William MacReynolds, pastor, reading the double ring ceremony. The ceremony was read before a candle-lighted background of white gladioli and greenery.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Tamplen of Wilson, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white satin gown styled with a fitted bodice accented with a double berth and a yoke of Chantilly lace. The long sleeves tapered into points over the hands and the full skirt extended into a chapel length train. Her fingertip veil of illusion, edged in tiara of pearls and rhinestones, and her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of Easter Reed daisies and a white orchid.

Miss Oleta Carr of San Diego, Calif., maid of honor, was dressed in a yellow taffeta dress fashioned after the bride's. Her headpiece was of yellow net and white roses and her bouquet was of daisies. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Clyde McLaughlin of Lubbock, and Mrs. Lewis Perkins of Slaton, wore blue and orchid taffeta dress and headpieces of net and white roses. They carried daisies. Waymon and George Tamplen, brothers of the bride, were candlelighters.

W. G. Boyd, father of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Bill Henderson and Kenneth Hodges of Lubbock.

Mrs. Henry Heck of Idalou, pianist, accompanied the vocalist, Mrs. Claude James and Boswell Edwards, both of New Home, as they sang "Indian Love Call" and "I Love You Truly."

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the Tamplen home. The houseparty was composed of parents of the bride and bridegroom, members of the wedding party, Mrs. Joe Fralin of Lubbock, Mrs. Willa Wakeland and Miss Ellen James.

The bride's table was laid with an imported lace cloth and centered with a wedding ring cake embossed with pink roses. White candles burned in silver candleabra and the bridesmaids' bouquets were placed on the table.

Following a trip to Denver, Colo., the couple will be at home at Claton, N. M. For travel, she bride chose a navy blue shantung suit with navy and pink accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Wilson High school and a former student of Texas Technological college. Mr. Boyd holds a B. S. degree in animal husbandry from Tech, and is employed by the veterans vocational agriculture program.

Medical Society Adopts Short-Sighted Policy In Its Public Relations

The Lynn County News and other newspapers in this area recently received a notice to cease publication of the professional card being run by the Lubbock Memorial Hospital in this newspaper, the notice containing the following statement:

"All doctors who are members of the Lubbock-Crosby county Medical Society have agreed and voted some time ago that this practice should be discontinued by all members of the Society."

Of course The News and the other newspapers involved have complied with the request, and no longer will the professional card of the Lubbock Memorial Hospital giving its staff or physicians appear in this newspaper.

We recognize the fact that each and every individual, corporation, or institution engaged in any sort of business or professional enterprise has the right to advertise or not to advertise as each may see fit. We think most if not all newspaper publishers recognize that right.

But whenever associations of such individuals, corporations, or institutions are formed and the members thereof enter into an agreement not to advertise, then we feel that by such agreement such association and the members thereof are violating the spirit if not the letter of the anti-trust laws of Texas. The fact that the subject matter of the agreement is advertising of the professional skill and qualifications of the advertiser and does not pertain to the sale of goods, wares, and merchandise, nor to the prices to be charged, are about the only considerations that take such agreements outside the pale of the Texas anti-trust law.

But aside from the legal aspects of the agreement, it seems to us that the Medical Association is adopting a very short-sighted policy. Physicians have ever regarded it as "unethical" for a physician to do more than to insert merely a professional card in a newspaper, but like other individuals they are usually glad to get all the free publicity that newspapers may give them, and at this particular time and for the past two or three years they have been actively enlisting the aid of the newspapers in combating the growing sentiment in favor of "socialized medicine," so-called. News papers have given them much support in their fight.

Now, in the face of such favors extended them, they give the said newspapers a kick in the pants. They should have foreseen that newspaper publishers would not appreciate this, and now they should not be surprised if the newspapers give them the cold shoulder in the matter of free publicity.

AT MRS. DUNAGAN'S
Members of the Dixie H. D. Club met June 7 in the home of Mrs. A. L. Dunagan.

The members told of their accomplishments for the first half of the year. Mrs. Clifton Hamilton was nominated for PHDA chairman of Lynn county. The Soil Conservation District Law was read by Mr. E. R. Tunnell. Refreshments of jelly roll, frosted cakes, orange juice, and mints were served to eleven club members and three visitors, Mrs. W. T. Rhodes, Mrs. J. H. Cobb, and Mary Lou Liehey.

The time for the next meeting will be June 21, with Mrs. W. C. Huffaker, Sr. —Reporter.

name was Beakley, was born on February 14, 1854, in Decatur county, situated about half way between Memphis and Nashville, Tennessee. That was six years before the war between the states broke out.

On June 6, 1860, she was married to Alfred Nicholson in the town of Clifton, situated not far from Decaturville, on the Tennessee River. He was a native Texas, about ten years her senior, and he had enlisted in the Confederate Army from Texas and had served four years in that terrible conflict, including about 18 months spent in a Federal prison. After the War he met Nancy Ann Beakley in her home county in Tennessee and they were married as heretofore stated.

A little later they moved to Kansas City, Missouri, where he served on the police force for 12 years and where he came to know the notorious Jesse James, the outlaw. In the early 'eighties, he and family moved to the little town of Blue Ridge in Collin county, Texas, and from there to Brown county in 1888. Three years later they moved into Comanche county and came from that county to Jones county in 1918, settling near Merkel, which is just across the line in Taylor county. From Jones county they came to Tahoka in 1929.

Mr. Nicholson died in Tahoka on February 8, 1936, at the ripe old age of 91, and his body was interred in the cemetery here. In 1938 Mrs. Nicholson and her son Dewey and his family, with whom she was living at that time, moved to Lubbock. She has lived around with her different children most of the time since then. Restless and desirous of making a change now and then, she lived several months in Tahoka on two separate occasions, the last time at Minnie's place in South Tahoka in 1948. Later, in 1949, she lived with one of the daughters in this county for a number of months, going back to the J. A. Jaynes home in Lubbock several months before her death.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson were the parents of twelve children, seven of whom predeceased her in death. The living sons are E. M. Nicholson of Greenville and D. L. (Dewey) Nicholson of Lubbock; the daughters, Mrs. W. P. Meeks, Mrs. J. T. McGee, and Mrs. J. A. Jaynes, all of Lubbock, and all formerly of this county. The grand-children and other descendants are too numerous to mention. Six of the grandsons served as pall bearers at the funeral services.

She has been a member of the Methodist Church since childhood and was a noble Christian character. Besides the devoted children, grand-children, and other deendants, she leaves hosts of friends in this county to mourn her departure.

Slaton To Celebrate 39th Birthday June 17; Roping Contest Is Planned

Rev. Longino Is New O'Donnell Methodist Pastor

Rev. H. A. Longino, new Methodist pastor at O'Donnell, filled the pulpit there last Sunday for the first time. He came from Higgins to O'Donnell, and in recent years has been pastor of the Munday and McLean churches. He and his wife have three sons and a daughter, but only one son still at home.

A member of the O'Donnell Church told The News that the congregation seems exceedingly well pleased with the new pastor.

However, the Church was greatly disappointed in losing Rev. Alby Cockrell, who was moved to Petersburg after spending three years at O'Donnell.

Rev. Cockrell was active in all O'Donnell civic affairs for the good of the community. The Index-Press states that during his pastorate "the church has made rapid strides in a building program which includes the building of an educational building, furnishing and decorating the church auditorium, and the building of a beautiful $15,000 parsonage."

TWO MEN INJURED

Two Tahoka Latin Americans, Roy Gonzales and Steve Salves, were injured when the car Gonzales was drivin hit a soft shoulder and crashed into a culvert on the highway south of Lamesa Sunday night. Both were hospitalized at Lamesa because of facial lacerations, but were later released.

EDWARDS ON TOUR

Melvin Edwards, New Lynn 4-H club boy, who won first place in 4-H achievement contests to become a member of the Talent Club, will return this Friday from a tour of Texas with other 4-H club boys from this section. The tour is their prizes for being winners in their respective counties.

SLATON, June 7— Sammie Baugh, top flight roper, former T. C. Other attractions will consist of a giant parade at 10:00 in the morning in which will be many floats of considerable beauty, horses with riders, the Lubbock County Sheriff's Posse, the Post Stampede and many others. A prize of $50.00 each will be given to the winning display from within Slaton and the winner from outside the city.

The roping contest will be held promptly at 1:30 P. M., after which a square dance clinic is being conducted by the instructors of the Western Square Dance Association for those who wish to add to their square dancing by learning some new and fancy steps.

An old time fiddling contest will be held during the late afternoon, after which those who were present at the time of the founding of the city and all distinguished visitors and guests will be publicly recognized.

Prizes will be awarded to the winners in the beard-growing contests, in which there are many contestants, and every type beard heretofore seen is being produced.

Odin Echols and his melody boys will furnish the entertainment for the expected visitors from 7 to 8, after which the "Annual Outdoor Square Dance" will be held on Garza street, which is being conducted by The Westerners Square Dance Association, of which Vernon Carr of Brooksmith, is the president.

ODds AND EndS

(By E. I. The Elder)

The people of Tahoka were just a bit disappointed that Tahoka's population has not yet quite reached the 3,000 mark, according to the report made by the census enumerator. Tahoka people are not alone in their disappointment, for most small towns failed to show the increase in population that their inhabitants expected.

Tahoka has shown quite a healthy growth during the past decade, however. Its increase in population is just slightly less than 33-1/3 percent. The enumerators counted 2124 people here in 1940 while they counted 2823 here this year, an increase of 699, or 32.91 percent. This total will be increased slightly when a few omissions are added.

This columnist does not have the returns for the entire county as this is being written but he is prepared to hear that the county population has actually decreased. That has been true of many counties recently heard from; the larger towns and the cities have shown considerable increases as a rule but the population of the rural districts has shrunk up so much in many counties as to show an actual decrease of the entire county population.

This shifting of the population from the country to the towns is obviously due to the revolution that has come about in farming operations. Tractors, during the past ten years, have displaced mules almost entirely; and with a tractor one man can cultivate twice as much land as he could cultivate when mules were his main reliance.

There is also a very reasonable explanation as to why the towns did not show as much increase as the number of new residences indicated. Families are by no means as large as they were even ten years ago. Many of the elderly people who retired from their occupation of farming and moved into town consist now of the parents alone, their children having acquired families and homes of their own.

Furthermore, most of the young people who have entered the marriage stage are not raising large families. Most of them content themselves with only one or two or three children. The day of the large family has passed almost entirely out of existence. Hence, the number of telephones, or electric light connections, or water hydrants is not a very accurate criterion by which to figure the population unless all these changed conditions are taken into consideration.

We want to say this about Tahoka, also. And the same thing might be said truly of most other growing towns. The number of Tahoka's substantial business houses has increased out of all proportion to the increase in population. So have the size and the attractiveness of these business houses also greatly increased, as have also its churches and other public buildings. The new residences, as a rule, are much larger and more attractive than were the average residences of any previous period of the town's history. And the premises are better kept.

And possibly, the one factor that has added most to the attractiveness of our town and to the convenience of our people is the paving program that has been under way for the past year.

So, we think that Tahoka will continue to grow for years to come whether an oil field is developed near by or not.

The most remarkable thing that has been taking place in Texas the past ten years has been the growth of our larger cities. Dallas, it has been announced, has a population of near 450,000, not counting some independent municipalities within its boundaries and some of the suburbs. Dallas county will probably pass the half million mark.

Houston will probably show a population of more than 500,000 and Harris county will doubtless approximate 600,000.

Texas is rapidly becoming industrialized; and lumber, oil, and Houston's proximity to the sea with excellent shipping facilities have made it the metropolis of Texas, and some of these days it will surpass New Orleans and become the metropolis of the South.

This shifting of population which has taken place not only during the past decade but which has been taking place for the past three decades will have great political significance in this state.

Although the Constitution provides that the state shall be subdivided into senatorial districts and representative districts following each decennial census, the state has not been so redistricted since the early '20s. Legislatures have steadfastly refused or failed to pass any redistricting bill, until finally a constitutional amendment was adopted in 1948 setting up a commission to redistrict the state following each decennial census hereafter if the legislature fails to do so.

So, next year, the legislature must re-district or leave it up to a commission to do the job.

There are 150 members of the lower house of the legislature.

If the population of Texas turns out to be around 7,200,000, that will mean one representative for each block of approximately 48,000 people. Districts will be framed, however, on the county basis. If any one county has anywhere in the neighborhood of 48,000 people, it will be declared to constitute a single representative district. If it takes two or three or a half dozen counties in the more sparsely settled sections of the state to mark up a population of around 48,000 people, then those counties in the required number will be thrown together to constitute one district.

If a county like Dallas, for example, has a population of around 500,000, it would be entitled on the above basis to have ten representatives in the legislature, but, no county is allowed to have more than seven representatives in the lower house unless and until its population reaches 700,000, then it may have one additional representative for each 100,000 population.

So, it looks now as if Harris county, Dallas county, and possibly Bexar and Tarrant counties will have six or seven representatives each in the next legislature. Some east Texas districts will be torn up and larger and fewer districts formed and quite a bunch of East Texas politicians bid fair to be out of a job after 1953. Yes, sir, the tall pines will begin singing mournful requiems over the ashes of many politically dead statesmen come 1952.

But in the Panhandle-Plains area it is going to be different. During all these years 53 Panhandle-Plains counties, rich in wheat and maize and cotton and cattle, gas and oil, have been represented in the upper house by only two senators. After redistricting, we should have four.

Fifty counties covering practically the same area have had only nine representatives in the lower house. After re-districting, we should have twice that many. And we probably will. Lubbock county alone will have two. Potter county will likewise have two. Lynn county and three or four others like it can constitute another district. And so it will go throughout all Northwest Texas if we can get a fair apportionment, which I feel sure we will get. At any rate, Northwest Texas is going to have far more voting strength in the legislature hereafter than it has had heretofore.

Now we do not expect all these representatives to see eye to eye and vote alike on all important matters that may come before the legislature for action. We hope that most of them at least may have heads of their own and exercise a proper degree of independence. We do not think they would be worth much unless they should be men who think and act for themselves. But there will be occasions when they probably can stand together as a solid phalanx in favor of matters that will be for the good of the state at large and for this section of the state in particular.

Now, one other word.

While we have had a number of good strong men in the legislature from time to time from this (Cont'd. On Back Page, Sec. 2) section of the state, yet, feeling that we had little strength in that body at any time respecting any matter coming before the body, we have not been as careful at all times as we should have been to encourage good, strong men to announce their willingness to serve in our legislative body.

It is our contention that we should put forth the very ablest and most influential men among us to fill these positions—men who can make their power felt on the floor of the house whenever any important matter arises and who are willing to do assiduous work in the committees to which they may be assigned.

No man can serve honestly in either house of the legislature and make money at the job, but he can make a reputation for ability and devotion to duty if he is good legislative timber, and might pave the way for service in some higher station. At any rate, it is worth a lot to gain the consciousness of having done one's duty as a servant of the people and of having made Texas a better place in which to live.

When the state is redistricted, let's send a group of our best and strongest men from northwest Texas to Austin, folks.
